By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 17's astronauts, their last major prelaunch test behind them, today rehearsed blasting off from the moon and docking their two spaceships, America and Challenger.

Commander Eugene A. Cernan and geologist Harrison H. Schmitt worked in the lunar module simulator and Ronald E. Evans operated the command ship trainer as they ran through the complex lunar lift-off procedures which they have practiced scores of times.

Involved is the precisely timed takeoff from the moon and two hours of maneuvers by Cernan and Schmitt to catch and link up with Evans in the command vehicle.

All three astronauts boarded the command ship America atop a Saturn 5 rocket Tuesday night for the final 2½ hours of a trial countdown which ended successfully with simulated launching of the rocket at 9:53 p.m. EST.

That's the same time scheduled for the liftoff of the big booster Dec. 6 on the final Apollo moon-landing journey. It will be the first after-dark launching of a U.S. manned space flight and is expected to attract nearly one million spectators to the area.

Launch Director Walter Kapryan termed Tuesday night's test "perfectly normal. We have no problems whatsoever to report."

Crews now will concentrate on preparing the rocket and two spaceships for the actual countdown, a six-day exercise slated to start Nov. 30.

The space agency said on Thanksgiving the three astronauts will have turkey and all the trimmings, prepared by their crew quarters cook. They are in preflight medical isolation, which restricts their contacts and limits them to certain areas at the space center.

All Incandescent Street Lighting Fixtures Are Now Replaced In City

All incandescent street lighting fixtures have been replaced in the city with mercury vapor fixtures. Utilities Director Charles Horne reported to the commission Tuesday night.

The work has been done over a period of about a year and it means that the old series-wired system of street lights has been eliminated, with the exception of a small area downtown.

With series wiring, when a line went down during a storm all the street lights on the circuit were out until the break was repaired.

With the new mercury vapor system each fixture is individually wired and the unit is turned on at dusk by a photo electric cell. The unit automatically turns off at dawn. Thus, even if a unit goes off, nearby ones will continue to function so long as there is power on the line.

Horne said 392 units were changed in the modernization of the street lighting system and more than a hundred new units were added. Utilities crews had been installing mercury vapor units in new installations for a number of years.

Horne reported that the street lighting system expenses were $40,326.44 last year and payments from the city were $45,511. Net investment in the system is $165,846.86.

Commissioners last night approved a contract for construction of a water main along U.S. 264 east from Brook Valley.

The low bidder was Hendrix-Barnhill at $18,285. Other bids were received were from So-Par Utilities, $18,695.54 and Hilco, Inc. $20,470.

Hastings Ford had the low bid for trading of four half ton pick-up trucks. Hastings bid was $9,374.16. The only other bid received was from Phelps Chevrolet at $10,755.04.

Commissioners heard of plans for utilities improvements in the Southside project area. The Utilities Christmas party was set for December 14 at the Moose Lodge.

Hospital Board Hears Reports

The Board of Trustees of Pitt County Memorial Hospital Tuesday heard a report from the business office manager and a synopsis of his responsibilities.

Craig Quick, business office manager at the hospital, gave a detailed description of his office and employees. He stated that he had 35 employees working under him. Those employees serve such functions as the handling of pre-admission hospital forms, manning the outpatient emergency area, operating the switchboard, and the control of visitation privileges.

Quick also noted that the business office implemented the use of the Greenville Collection Service to help with the collection of standing debts. Quick stated that the service received a commission of 47 per cent on a collection of $92,000. He also said the business office has established a medically indigent and bad debt file to be discussed at a monthly credit meetings. "These debts are one which the administration feels the hospital could not have otherwise collected," Quick commented.

In other business, Jack Richardson, hospital administrator, presented a report on the auditors report, a study on the environmental aspects of the construction of the new hospital, and the Mid-East Economic Commission Approval of the new hospital project. Richardson also told the board that the number of patient days at Pitt Memorial Hospital in October were the most of any month so far this year.

In presenting the environmental assessment, Richardson stated that the hospital was one of the first that was requested to make such a report to the North Carolina Medical Care Commission.

Dr. Earl Trevathan, chief of the medical staff, recognized three medical staff members recently certified by the accreditation agencies of their respective fields of medicine. They are Dr. Dan Heizer of Farmville, certified by the American Academy of Family Physicians; Dr. Alex Weimer, by the American Board of Anesthesiology; and Dr. William Monroe, by the American Board of Ophthalmology.

Report Cards

A survey of report cards at the end of the first six weeks at Rose High School reveals more B's than any other grade were received by students.

In presenting the report to the school board Monday night, Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood, Superintendent of the Greenville City Schools, noted that the information was being reported although grading and reporting are not now being emphasized in schools as much as it had once been.

A breakdown by grades shows the following number of grades received by students at Rose High for the six week period:

Grade	Number
A (Excellent)	1494
B (Good)	2070
C (Average)	1805
D (Below Average)	1928
E (Failure)	903
I (Incomplete)	183
In addition to the grade listing, the report revealed the current status of 441 graduates from the 1972 class, including summer graduates. The tabulation shows where the 1972 students have gone:
Public senior colleges and universities	153
Private senior colleges and universities	37
Community colleges and technical institutes	75
Private junior colleges	34
Private trade, business, nursing schools, etc	28
Military	9
Employment (full time)	51

Kissinger And Suharto Talk

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger resumed his Vietnam peace talks with Hanoi's top negotiators today after an overnight trip to Brussels and an hour-long talk with President Suharto of Indonesia.

President Nixon's security adviser and the North Vietnamese Politburo member, Le Duc Tho went into the third meeting of their secret peace talks.

Indonesia is one of four countries that have been asked to supervise the cease-fire Kissinger and Tho are trying to work out. Presumably the U.S. presidential adviser went to Brussels to discuss this with Suharto, who is on a tour of European capitals.

Kissinger flew to Brussels Tuesday night after his second meeting with Tho. He returned to Paris in the middle of the morning.

Kissinger and Tho met for more than four hours Tuesday at a suburban villa owned by the French Communist party.

As usual there was no concrete information on their discussions. But during one 15-minute break they could be seen walking together in the garden, conversing animatedly and occasionally laughing loudly. This jovial atmosphere aroused speculation that the talks were going well.

Kissinger also took time out

Tuesday to lunch with the beautiful blonde wife of banker Freddy Cushing, who is with Lehman Bros. in Paris. Friends said the Cushings have invited Kissinger to have Thanksgiving dinner with them, an indication that his talks with Tho may continue into the weekend.

North Vietnam meanwhile sounded its daily blast with a "special communique" demanding that the United States halt its bombing and "sign with equal speed the peace agreement." Kissinger and Tho worked out in Paris in October. South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's senior adviser on national security, Nguyen Phu Duc, left Saigon Tuesday night for Paris, presumably to put new pressure on Kissinger to hold out for a peace agreement conforming to Thieu's demands.

Border Now Quiet, Tense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Israeli Army sealed off the Golan Heights again today and kept its troops there on full alert in the wake of their big battle with Syrian forces Tuesday.

The Israeli command said the plateau, which Israel seized from Syria in the 1967 war, was "quiet but tense."

An Israeli commander admitted shelling six civilian villages to make examples of them during the battle with Syrian forces Tuesday. He said he was acting on orders from higher up.

The shelling was intended "to give the Syrians a signal that they should stop shelling our civilian settlements," a senior commander told newsmen visiting the battle zone on the Golan Heights.

"We made about 20 to 30 hits inside the villages. Who lives in them? Poor people."

Israel hit the villages after Syria fired on two Israeli civilian outposts, killing one civilian and injuring three, the officer said. One Israeli soldier also was wounded. The Syrians later shelled a third Israeli settlement.

The eight-hour air, tank and artillery battle along the Golan plateau Tuesday ended at dusk. It was the second this month and one of the heaviest exchanges along the frontier since the 1967 war.

Israel claimed it shot down six Syrian jets and destroyed 15 tanks. It also reported direct hits on three guerrilla encampments and two division headquarters as deep as 50 miles inside Syrian territory.

Syria acknowledged the loss of two aircraft.

Gasolina Tanks Explode

CARROLLTON, Ga. (AP) —

An explosion ripped through a gasoline storage plant in the middle of a residential area early today, setting two huge tanks on fire. No injuries were reported but the neighborhood was evacuated.

As residents left their homes, firemen fought to keep flames from spreading to four other gasoline tanks at the storage facility.

Authorities said a truck was unloading fuel at the depot when the blast let go and a 25,000-gallon gasoline storage tank caught fire. The driver pulled the truck away from the plant and escaped injury.

An elementary school which was about 300 yards from the Standard Oil bulk plant was ordered closed for the day.

The nearest house was within 50 yards of the bulk plant. One other building, occupied by Superior Sample Co. was destroyed by fire.

Spokesmen said the tanks were of a capacity of 25,000 gallons each, and the two which caught fire contained gasoline.

Three of the other four tanks also contain gasoline, and the fourth contains fuel oil, the spokesmen said.

Fire trucks from the nearby towns of Bremen, Villa Rica and Bowdon were called in to fight the blaze. Authorities said their main concern was to prevent the fire from spreading to the other four tanks.

Witnesses said flames were shooting 300 feet in the air and the blaze could be seen miles away from this west Georgia town.

Report Peron Targeted For 'Kidnap Plot'

By HORACIO FINOLI
Associated Press Writer

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's military government reported late Tuesday that there was a plot against former dictator Juan D. Peron. It sent police and troops to clear the street in front of his suburban residence.

Some 1,500 Peronists who had gathered in front of the house, newsmen and 30 self-styled Peronist bodyguards were driven from the tree-lined street by several hundred police carrying gas-grenade rifles.

Neighbors were advised to remain in their homes. Early today more than 50 heavily armed police were stationed in front of Peron's house and nearly 500 more were patrolling the neighborhood.

The presidential press office said in a communique that "elements infiltrated the Peronist youth movement and are prepared to make a direct attempt against the ex-president before any unfavorable change could affect their own factional goals."

There was no immediate comment from Peronist officials. They charged Saturday that Peron was a prisoner of the army when he was held under tight military security at the airport hotel for one night after arriving Friday to end 17 years in exile. He was permitted to leave the airport Saturday morning for his house and later that day all police were removed from the immediate area.

More than 100,000 Peronists streamed by the house over the weekend to welcome their leader home, but police roadblocks set up Monday permitted only small groups to pass. Police also authorized the group of 30 Peronist youths to remain behind barricade at the house as a "symbolic" delegation.

Meanwhile, Ricardo Balbin, head of the Radical party, came to Peron's house Tuesday for their third conference. The Peronists are the largest party in Argentina and the Radicals the second largest. Together they are believed to control nearly 65 per cent of the votes that might be cast in elections scheduled next March 11 by the military government.

President Reelected And Given Control

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park thanked the South Koreans today for their 12-to-1 vote approving a new constitution that allows him to remain in office indefinitely with more power.

Returns from 97 per cent of the estimated 14 million ballots cast in Tuesday's referendum were 12,863,468 in favor of the new constitution and 1,087,965 opposed. About 1.6 million persons did not vote.

The new constitution extends the presidential term from four to six years, ends the three-term limit on presidential tenure and gives the president control of the National Assembly.

Holiday

All city, county, state and federal offices will be closed for Thanksgiving Day.

City and County School offices will be closed from Thursday until Monday morning.

According to a Chamber of Commerce Merchants Association, it is up to individual stores as to whether they will be closed or open for business.

The Daily Reflector will publish as usual, with the news room being open from 8:30 to 11 a.m. All other departments will be closed.

Coastal Development Control Bill Is Prepared

By ROBERT B. CULLEN
Associated Press Writer

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The 1973 General Assembly will be presented with a bill giving the state sweeping powers to control future development of the North Carolina coast.

A draft version of the bill was presented to newsmen at Duke University Tuesday at a briefing on the coastal environment conducted by three Duke environmental scientists and Assistant Attorney General Thomas Kane.

The trio of scientists presented a gloomy picture of a North Carolina coast resembling Miami Beach, the New Jersey shore, or the Texas Gulf coast unless the bill is passed in the next session. "If it isn't, it will be too late," said Dr. John Costlow, a marine biologist.

The bill, entitled the Coastal Management Act of 1973, would create a nine-member commission appointed by the governor, with guaranteed representation to various groups with an interest in the coastal region.

That commission would be charged with formulating a land use plan that would divide the coastal land into three classes—urban areas, rural areas, and "areas of particular environmental concern."

In the urban areas, local governments would exercise the same zoning and planning power they do not, unrestricted by the state.

In rural areas, the local governments would still have zoning power, but it would be circumscribed by environmental guidelines established by the commission for land use.

The bill's provision for "areas of environmental concern" is certain to be most controversial. In those areas, no development could take place without a special permit from the commission.

"Areas of environmental concern," as defined by the bill, would include beaches, dunelands, marshes and estuarine waters; areas containing "unique or fragile ecosystems;" waterways, floodplains and duneland which are likely to require public maintenance or support if subjected to development; and

"areas containing, or having a significant impact on, environmental historical, or natural resources of regional or statewide importance."

The commission could deny a permit for development of any sort in such areas if, after a hearing, it found that the development would damage the environment, exceed the capacity of the area to absorb development, or lead to a situation likely to require expenditure of public for beach protection or other foreseeable needs.

The bill was drafted by a committee which included Kane and Dr. Thomas Linton, commissioner of sport and commercial fisheries in the state Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

On the copy presented to newsmen Tuesday was a covering letter from Linton indicating that revisions would probably be made by Kane before the bill is introduced in the legislature in January.

Sutton-Page Vows Solemnized In Ceremony On Tuesday Night

Miss Brenda Louise Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey L. Page, and Robert Warren Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sutton, were united in marriage Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. in the Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Chapel.

The Rev. Charles Smith performed the wedding ceremony with only relative present.

The chapel was decorated with standards of white mums, snapdragons and pom poms designed in pyramidal candleabra with woodwardia greenery. At the altar was a prie-dieu where the ceremony took place.

Grandparents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Page and Mrs. Mrs. Sutton. The bride and bridegroom entered the chapel together. She wore a formal length candlelight gown of satin organza designed with a high ruffled neckline trimmed in Venice lace threaded with velvet ribbon. Matching trim accentuated the ruffled bodice, the empire waistline and the cuffs of the long bishop sleeves. The ruffled flounce also featured the lace and ribbon trim.

She wore an ivory satin double bow profile headpiece and carried a nosegay of yellow roses and white pom poms tied with yellow and white streamers.

The bride's mother wore a pink crepe formal with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a blue chiffon formal. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The bride graduated from Rose High School and attended East Carolina University where she is presently employed in the business office. The bridegroom received his education at Rose High School and is now attending Pitt Technical Institute.

After a wedding trip to the mountains, the couple will reside in Greenville.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridegroom's parents entertained at a cake cutting and a dinner party at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

A Happy Marriage But No Children

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for 25 years, and he is the dearest thing on this earth to me. I have tried in every way to be a good wife, but I have failed him in the most important way of all. For some mysterious reason I have not been able to give him children.

I was never able to get him to consider adoption. He hasn't complained, but I can see the hurt in his eyes when he sees his friends with their children and grandchildren, and my heart aches so.

What can I do to make it up to him?

HURTING

DEAR HURTING: If you've had a good marriage [and you obviously have], what is there to "make up?" Don't assume that YOU weren't able to give HIM children. [Perhaps HE wasn't able to give YOU children.] It's history now, so stop grieving for something you never had. God in his infinite wisdom gives and withholds both happiness and tragedy. Accept HIS decision, and don't question it.

DEAR ABBY: You are the only person I feel I can ask this question. I have reasons to believe our 9-year-old son may be ahead of himself in his sexual development.

Please don't think I have a dirty attitude about sex, because I haven't. My question: Can lightly tickling a boy's neck, arms, and legs arouse him sexually? From what I have observed I think it can and it disturbs me.

A relative [a maiden lady of 55] delights in tickling our boy whenever she is near him. He seems to enjoy it immensely as he sits close to her whenever she is here, probably anticipating it. She makes a kind of game or joke of it.

I don't approve of exciting [consciously or otherwise] a young boy in this manner, and for reasons I won't mention here, I think that is what is happening.

Can this actually happen to a normal boy, age 9? If I am on the wrong track, please tell me. I don't want to make a fool of myself. Please tell me what you know about this sort of thing. Thank you.

CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your concern is well-founded. Sexual responses are not uncommon in 9-year-old boys [and younger]. I advise you to tell your relative to keep her hands to herself. And if she doesn't understand why, be more specific.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for eight years to a man who is nearly perfect. He's a good provider, a wonderful father and an excellent lover, but he positively refuses to go out in public with me.

He has no reason to be ashamed of me. After three children I still wear a size 10. I'm no raving beauty, but I keep myself looking nice and wear clothes well.

I am at a loss to know why he has refused to take me to dinner or on a show in the past three years. He used to take me out for dinner twice a year—on our anniversary and Christmas, but no more.

The children and I always go alone, on vacations, to church, visiting, whatever.

Abby, what could be wrong? The only time we ever spend together is in bed. But that's not enough. He's a fine looking man and I would be so proud to be seen with him, but no amount of teasing, begging or nagging will move him.

Any help you can give me on this problem will be appreciated. Or should I just give up and keep quiet?

SOMETHING MISSING

DEAR SOMETHING: Something is missing all right. An explanation from your husband. It's almost as if he were "hiding" from someone. If I were you, I would not give up neither would I keep quiet.

TO "CONFIDENTIALLY": Your daughter is over 21 and shouldn't need parental consent to go on a skiing trip with a group of her friends. Don't assume that everyone who goes skiing is necessarily "he-ing" and "she-ing."

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Leader, Reports Given At Meet

Three leader reports highlighted the Thursday meeting of the Sweet Gum Grove Extension Homemakers held at the home of Mrs. Sam Alexander.

EXOTIC FLAVOR — Claudia Roden, author of "A Book of Middle Eastern Food"

She's Gathered Mideast Favors

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor Of all the young cookbook writers I have met Claudia Roden, author of the newly published "A Book of Middle Eastern Food" (Knopf) has the most fascinating background. On her mother's side Claudia is descended from Sephardic Jews who centuries ago came to the Middle East. Her father's family, also long residents of the Mideast, finally settled in Syria.

Claudia was born in Cairo and lived there with her family—except for three years in South America—until she was 15 years old. She attended, as a day pupil, an English Public School in the ancient desert city of Heliopolis on the outskirts of Cairo, and she became a champion Egyptian swimmer. Then she went to boarding school in Paris—she had been brought up with French as her mother tongue. At 19 she was studying art in London and living in a flat there with her two brothers, one studying medicine, the other chemistry.

Even at 15 in Paris, Claudia—out of nostalgia—began collecting Mideast recipes, and when she kept house with her brothers in England she tried the dishes on the many young people from different countries who came to their home. In her middle 20s she married an Englishman, Paul Roden, and they have two daughters and a son, ages 7, 11 and 13. The Rodens live in a London suburb. "My children love to bake bread, make ice cream in an electric freezer and help me prepare such Middle Eastern dishes as stuffed vine leaves and filafastries," Claudia told me.

Slim and of middle height, with an olive skin and a beguiling heart-shaped face, Claudia's quick smile and her large brown eyes reflect her great warmth. "Oriental Jews have a wonderful tradition of enjoying life," she says, "and food is a large part of it."

It took her two years—days, nights and weekends—to write her cookbook and it is full of lore plus a fine variety of recipes and accompanying notes. Her fluency in five languages—English, Arabic, French, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese—enabled her to do wide research. The book covers Syria, Lebanon, Egypt, Iran, Turkey, Greece, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, the Yemen, the Sudan, Algeria, Tunisia, Morocco and Israel. "All these countries are inextricably linked culinary-wise," Claudia explains.

Every recipe in the book is tested. "Food is one of the lovely things of life and one should make the most of it," Claudia says. "I am lucky to be living in Hampstead Gardens in a Square that holds a good quota of families with children because I had a lot of tasters." Now her neighbors are sold on many of her Mideast recipes and often prepare them.

"A Book of Middle Eastern Food" was first published in England and has attracted a great many young people there. "I think this happened," Claudia concludes, "because the recipes stress inexpensive cuts of meat and such 'health' foods as fresh vegetables, lentils, fresh and dried fruit, yogurt, nuts and herbs." The main dining hall at Cambridge University now serves Melokhia, an ancient peasant soup that is an Egyptian national dish, at the students' request, and the chef was guided by Claudia's recipe.

Her favorite dessert in her cookbook is a chocolate cake. It's a delicious offering, made with nuts instead of flour, and here is our adaptation of the recipe.

Elegant Fashion Returns In Mens Wear

By JOSEPH YUSIF NEW YORK (AP)—The elegant international man with conservative tastes is back in vogue for 1973 if recent fashion previews are an indication.

British designer Hardy Amies previewed his International Menswear Trend Collection for the fall of 1973. There are no way-out presentations in the new Amies line. His collection, aimed mainly at the upper crust of the mass volume market, is restrained and in step with the creations of other international men's designers. This means that next year's fashionable male should expect to find that very dark and sombre colors are in; wide knits are in; wide and peaked lapels are in; waistcoats are in; pleats and wide cuffs are in.

The look remains long, lean, and flattering. Suits and sportswear of charcoal browns and deep dark greens will give prominence to brighter accessory colors and emphasize the importance of cut and styling.

Jackets will remain long, close fitting, shaped at the waist, and slightly shaped at the shoulder with two-button fastening. Many will have center vents or no vents at all. Lapels will remain very wide, featuring different reverse and top collar treatments. The wide lapels are balanced by wide trousers.

The trouser look is very important. They'll be pleated, fit snugly over the hips and taper out to feature deep cuffs that are generally 25 inches wide and 2 inches deep. Legs will be longer, breaking slightly at the front of the shoe.

Suits will be complemented with 4 to 5-button waistcoats, some of which will be sewn-off at the waist. The vests will generally show more shirt and more tie than their classic predecessors.

Amies emphasizes that accessories must complement the total look since balance is the basis for styling.

Shirts will continue with the elongated collar points to balance the wide lapels. The collar spread will be slightly wider to accommodate wider ties.

A most important accessory to the new look is the high-heeled shoe. Amies believes that a heel 2 to 2½ inches high is most comfortable for walking and balancing the wide-cuffed trousers.

As for casual clothes, Hardy Amies says his approach is uncontrived and "very functional—pockets to put hands in, gloves in. Collars that button up, zip up, and stay up."

The look is relaxed. Blouson jackets and tailored raglan sleeves balanced by wide, wide trousers with turn-ups (cuffs). The garments are two-piece, in matching or coordinated fabrics, using different weights for jackets and trousers and widely different construction and textures.

Straight-legged pants are taking the lead in school fashions. On the jeans front, the cuffed version is making fashion waves. The turned-up cuff usually shows plaid lining, so you can roll up the cuffs more than once. Just below-knee seems the best roll-up height.

Lay Evangelist Session Sunday

Representatives from churches in the Greenville-Pitt County area will meet Sunday at 3 p.m. at St. James United Methodist Church for an enlistment meeting, leading to the Evangelism Explosion Campaign for Key 73.

The keynote speaker for the enlistment meeting, preliminary to the Lay Witness Project scheduled for January 12, 13 and 14, will be the Rev. Archie B. Parrish, minister of evangelism at the Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Rev. Parrish, a native of Bethany, Oklahoma, was educated at Southeastern Bible College, Birmingham, Ala., and received the B.D. degree from Gordon Divinity School, Wenham, Mass. A U.S. Navy veteran, he served in the medical corps attached to the First Marine Division during the Korean War.

The speaker has served in the pastorate of churches in Massachusetts, Alabama, and Maryland before becoming minister of evangelism at the Coral Ridge Church.

Among his responsibilities at Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church, are the enlistment and training and lay evangelists and the responsibility for the annual clinic.

He is married to the former Jean Stancill of Huntsville, Ala., and the couple has two children.

Preparation for this lay evangelism project have been under way for several weeks under the direction of several committees headed by the Rev. Howard McLamb, Methodist minister, and John D. Grier, Presbyterian laymen.

SCS Careers Are Offered Students

Career opportunities with the USDA-Soil Conservation Service are open to college undergraduates in a variety of fields, it was announced today by State Conservationist Jesse L. Hicks in Raleigh.

"Those working toward degrees in agriculture, forestry, wildlife, biology, agricultural engineering or civil engineering are eligible to apply for the jobs. Openings exist for freshmen, sophomores and juniors," the state conservationist said.

"The careers begin with summer jobs as student trainees majoring in the disciplines mentioned, but they step into full-time professional jobs as soil conservationists, soil scientists and civil engineers when they graduate," Hicks pointed out.

To qualify for employment students must qualify in a federal Civil Service Examination."

Those interested should write or visit the state administrative officer of the USDA-Soil Conservation Service in Room 534 of the Federal Building at 310 New Bern Avenue, Raleigh. The mailing address is Post Office Box 27307, Raleigh, N.C., 27611. Students may also get information and assistance from their college placement officer.

Reinstated Visitor Ban

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A ban against unauthorized visitors has been reinstated for East Mecklenburg High School in suburban Charlotte.

The ban had first been imposed by Superior Court Judge Frank Snapp for all schools in Charlotte and Mecklenburg County following racial disturbances a month ago at East Mecklenburg.

Then, U.S. District Judge James McMillan lifted the ban as an unconstitutional limitation of the rights of free speech and peaceful assembly.

But another appeal was undertaken, this time to U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Braxton Craven. He was faced with the disagreement between the state and federal judges, and he split it down the middle in a ruling Tuesday.

Craven reinstated Snapp's order for the ban at East Mecklenburg High School, but found that it might have been too broad in covering other schools.

Organizers of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) had challenged Snapp's injunction on the ground they needed access to the schools.

Dr. Plyler To Speak Sunday

GRIMESLAND — The Grimesland United Methodist Church will have as guest speaker, Dr. L. P. Plyler on Sunday.

He will speak at 9:45 at the Chocowinity United Methodist Church, at Warren Chapel United Methodist Church, Blounts Creek, at 11 a.m., and at 7:30 at the Grimesland United Methodist Church.

Each church will also celebrate Holy Communion. Dr. Plyler is chairman of the Religion and Philosophy Department, Methodist College, Fayetteville.

The Rev. Eddie A. Walker is pastor of the Grimesland Charge.

Revival Series Now Underway

Revival services are in progress at the Oak Grove Holiness Church, located on Bonners Lane. The Rev. E. B. Howard is the guest speaker.

The eight o'clock nightly services will continue through Sunday.

Special musical programs have been planned for three and seven o'clock Sunday. Several groups from Beaufort will be appearing as well as the Consolators of Greenville Sunday night.

Elder Lucille Chance is the pastor.

Talk Cut Short By Egg-Timer

MIAMI (AP) — Every Tuesday, just like clockwork, Dade County Mayor Jack Orr shows up at commission meetings with his egg timer, tests its "ting," then starts it ticking.

Orr uses the ordinary kitchen timer to limit citizens' testimony before the county commission to five minutes and cut down on time-consuming, long-winded arguments.

At the time of the ting, talk's up.

A Trend Toward Managed News

The Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism society had very properly condemned "judicial repression" of the media and government attempts to impede the flow of information to the public.

The society cited the Pentagon Papers case and the imprisonment of Peter Bridge, a reporter, among the examples of reporters' problems in gathering the news.

"The power to know is the only means by which the people may govern themselves effectively," the report said. "When the courts coerce the media with contempt orders they assume power which they should not. When petty, despotic bureaucrats withhold news, when executive privilege is asserted, when legislators confer in secret, all are usurping power from the citizens and all are lessening the public's ability to make effective collective judgments and decisions."

The Sigma Delta Chi is hitting on a problem that working news men face every day. More and more there seems to be a tendency on the part of government officials to manage the news. Information that makes governmental units look bad is withheld while the favorable stuff is advanced by press agents and government officials.

Add to this the problem journalists have in protecting their confidential sources and you have a situation where much information which should be available to the public is not going to be.

This should not be the journalists' problem alone. While the reporter should bear the brunt of the effort to obtain information which the public is due, it is that same public which will suffer most if withheld information is not uncovered.

Government in our nation is more complicated than it has been before. It is going to take an alert press and an aroused public to insure that the avenues of communication are kept open so the people have adequate information available to them.

Season Brings Us Persimmons

By PETE IVEY
(Editors Note: The Thanksgiving season brings the autumn bounty of the persimmon, from pudding to beer. Pete Ivey, an authority on this Tar Heel native botanical marvel, advances a modest proposal for its proper recognition in the following guest column.)

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — If the 1973 North Carolina General Assembly should make the persimmon the state's official berry, it would be a "first" and a milestone — but perhaps controversial.

The first astonishing thing owes to the misconception on the part of many people that the persimmon is a fruit. Botanically, although it grows on a tree, the persimmon is a genuine berry.

The next obstacle to anointing the persimmon as the authoritative and recognized berry of 5½ million Tar Heels is the prominence of other berries — the strawberry, huckleberry, blackberry, blueberry, dewberry. Their devotees perhaps would oppose legislative preference for the persimmon.

Political and horticultural analysts may hark back to 1963 when the pine was adopted as the state's official tree.

There was more to it than met the eye. It was well known that persuasive individuals were intent upon introducing the persimmon as the official tree. Hon. John W. Umstead, the late, great legislator from Orange County, had been approached about sponsoring the bill. He was considering it.

Persimmon Fans Balked
Abruptly, the North Carolina Garden Club ignited and expedited a bill in favor of the pine tree. It hastened through the Assembly on a suspension of the rules. Persimmon partisans were balked.

To remedy that failure 10 years ago to properly consider the persimmon, the legislature now is given another chance to recognize the value of the persimmon. It can do so by making the delicious edible product of this tree North Carolina's official berry.

Points in favor of the persimmon (with no attempt to black the blackberry or derogate other varieties, but only to state the virtues of diospyros virginianus) are:

1. The persimmon is one of the original hardwoods of North Carolina. Its tasty appeal as food has a long and honorable history from the time the first settlers came to Roanoke Island and the state of Virginia.

Tempting, Tasty Morsel
2. The ripe persimmon is a tempting and rewarding morsel, good for eating when plucked, splendid for making persimmon pudding, or marmalade, pie, cake, ice cream — and persimmon beer.

3. The green persimmon is useful as a medicinal herb, and the astringency of the persimmon has its values — as a palliative and a remedy for sore throat. The bark and leaves have other medical potential.

4. The persimmon stays on trees from August to February, a long season, providing sustenance to birds through the worst part of the winter — thus contributing to the balance of nature, ecology, and the environment.

5. The wood of the tree, being especially durable, has industrial uses. In textiles, North Carolina's largest industry, shuttles for looms are made of persimmon wood. The toughness and durability of the wood likewise makes it invaluable in other products — such as shoe lasts, and gold club driver heads.

6. The persimmon has the magical quality of putting sustenance back into the soil. When agriculturalists want to restore eroded land and make it fertile again, they know that planting persimmon roots in the worn-out soil is the surest way to make the ground gain fat for crops.

Sobering Virtue
7. Research undertaken in Japan indicates that persimmon juice taken prior to drinking alcohol has the effect of keeping rabbits sober. The Food Fermentation Division of the school of agriculture at North Carolina State University in Raleigh is working on similar experiments, to find out why persimmon beer, although exhilarating, is non-intoxicating.

These are some of the positive reason why the persimmon deserves respect, appreciation and protection. Many people — telephone linesmen, construction crews, those prejudiced against green persimmons that pucker, and those who witness only the messy ground where ripe persimmons fall — often declare the persimmon tree is expendable, and can be cut down with impunity.

However, if the legislature should accentuate the positive aspects and declare the persimmon the state's official berry, the way is open to implement this by defending the tree and its abundance from its human predators.

George Keeps Mailing Lists

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Although Sen. George McGovern now refers to the invaluable mailing list of 600,000 names developed during his campaign as his "personal" property, McGovern's handpicked selection for national party treasurer thought he turned the list over to the Democratic party nearly three months ago.

Donald Petrie, the former Avis executive selected by McGovern to become party treasurer last summer, drafted a Sept. 1 agreement transferring McGovern's mailing list to the party as of election day, Nov. 7. Whether the McGovern for President committee actually agreed to this is now disputed. But there was little doubt at the time in Democratic circles that names generated by McGovern's campaign would become the party's property.

Accordingly, Democratic politicians—including some middle-level McGovern campaign officials—are appalled by these post-election threats from McGovern and his key lieutenants: the party will be denied use of mailing lists unless the Democratic national chairman is acceptable to McGovern.

Much more than mailing lists are at stake. Since the Nov. 7 Nixon landslide, McGovern's inner circle has been making clear it regards itself as an ideological movement undeterred by meerelectoraldefeat. Unique among defeated Presidential candidates, McGovern feels his movement takes priority over his party.

This attitude was tipped off Nov. 9 when Jean Westwood, McGovern-selected Democratic national chairman, hinted the mailing list might be denied the national committee if she were dumped as chairman. In an interview with the Washington Star-News last week, McGovern declared the "list belongs to me. It's a personal list." Since then, McGovern has privately informed associates that he intends using the list for selected candidates, antiwar campaigns and other liberal causes—but not necessarily, the Democratic party.

Democratic politicians, assuming the list would be the McGovern campaign's one tangible asset bequeathed to the party, were flabbergasted. Their amazement is bolstered by Petrie's Sept. 1 letter to Morris Dees, the brilliant young direct-mail technician and McGovern fund-raiser.

Petrie's letter called it "desirable to become a bit more formal in dealing with these valuable properties and therefore the purpose of this letter is to set forth the entire transaction upon which you (Dees) and Henry Kimelman (McGovern finance chairman) in behalf of the McGovern of President Committee and Jean Westwood and I in behalf of the Democratic National Committee have agreed."

This agreement followed: "The McGovern for President Committee has agreed that on Nov. 7 it will transfer to the Democratic National Committee its present list of approximately 140,000 names augmented by accretions to Nov. 7, 1972, which mailing list will thereafter by the property of the Democratic National Committee."

Petrie then thought this settled the matter. But Dees now says he never agreed to a physical transfer of the list. Nevertheless, Dees feels the Democratic National Committee has a right to use the list as many times as it wants even though the McGovern Committee retains legal possession. "I would insist on this even if George Wallace were national chairman," Dees, a liberal Alabaman, told us.

But Petrie and Dees are Democrats first, McGovernites second. The authentic McGovernite position comes from the Senator's top adviser, Frank Mankiewicz, who told us he would keep the list from the Democratic National Committee if its chairman is unacceptable. Absolutely

Strength For Today

TOO SAD TO DESCRIBE
A girl fifteen years of age got mixed up recently with a gang that committed murder. The judge sent her to jail for life. Now there's what you call misfortune. She will literally grow up in prison, and if she has an average life span she will die an old woman who was compelled to spend her life among the worst elements of her generation.

When she appeared on television recently she wept, and well she might for, like all the rest of us, she has only one life to live and the prospect before her is indescribably dreary.

To have let her go free would have involved injustice to society. To shut her up like an animal is to ruin her life and make it a thing of weeping. It is hard to say what the Bible teaches about matters of this sort except to warn against their occurrence. There are some problems in life too hard to solve. There are some people confronted either with difficult choices or no choices at all, and we can only murmur to ourselves: "Judge not that ye be not judged."

But it made every television viewer overwhelmingly sad to hear her relate her story and to know what lay before the youngster. We had better leave matters of this sort in the hands of the Lord and pray God for a plentiful pouring-out of his mercy.

The Big Intelligence Gap

WASHINGTON — The U. S. State Department has been in a swivel for the past several months. It has been unable to get any information as to what the intentions of the United States are. An emergency meeting of high-level State Department officials was called the other night at Foggy Bottom and from what our sources told us, it was very tense.

"Gentlemen, the Secretary is very disturbed. He feels it is impossible to make foreign policy for the United States when he has no idea what the enemy is thinking."

"You mean Hanoi?" someone asked.

"No, dammit, I mean Kissinger," the official said. "How can we set up any counterthrusts when we have no idea what Kissinger plans to do? I don't mind telling you, gentlemen, out intelligence on the White House stinks."

"The only solution," said an assistant secretary, "is to plant our own man in the White House. We could equip him with the latest radio equipment, and he could transmit to us every day, by code, what Nixon and Kissinger are up to."

"It's too dangerous," the chief of intelligence operations said. "We've already lost three agents in two months. They seem to know everything we're doing."

"What about planting a woman on Kissinger? Maybe we could find out something that way."

"It won't work," said the intelligence officer. "The last woman we tried to plant on him fell in love with him, defeated and is now writing a book about him. She took all our photographs of Kissinger."

An assistant secretary asked, "Why can't we get someone in the White House to defect and come over to our side?"

"We've been working on that," the intelligence officer said, "but it's almost impossible. The defense Department is in the same shape we are, and they have a lot more money to bid for defectors than we do."

"I've never heard of a situation like this," another assistant secretary said. "We know what's going on in Peking, we know what's going on in Havana, we know what's going on in Cairo, but we have no idea what's going on 10 blocks from here."

"Has anyone checked with the CIA lately?"

"They know as much as we do," the intelligence officer replied.

"You mean they haven't been able to get a man into the White House?" someone asked.

"The only way they've been able to follow Kissinger's movements is by monitoring 'Voice of America.'"

One of the lower high-level officials finally spoke up. "I know this sounds farfetched, but what if the State Department asked for diplomatic relations with the United States? We could set up an embassy here with an American ambassador."

"What good would that do?" someone asked.

"Well, it appears that the White House usually briefs ambassadors of foreign

Learn How To Say No

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "A feel of safety kills ambition," said Henry Ford, genius of the assembly line.

HAL BOYLE

On the other hand, there are few things more life-sustaining than a well-developed feeling of caution in places where a fellow doesn't feel sure of himself.

Now that we are being swept along by the overpowering wave of the future — whatever that is — the ability to swim with the tide, or at least to tread water successfully, has become a test of survival.

Another survival test is a strong desire to avoid needless trouble. The best way to stay out of trouble is not to get into it. To keep from getting into trouble, the wise man learns fairly early in life when and how to say no.

Here, for example, are some invitations which, if accepted, generally lead only to pain, woe, discomfort or disaster:

"Because you are my friend, I trust you. Please tell me honestly what you think my worst faults are."

"Yes, I know it's a pretty bad neighborhood. But it's a great night out for pub-crawling. Let's try just a couple of more spots before we give up."

"Yes, it's a lot heavier than I thought, but all we have to do is carry it up three more flights of stairs, and we'll be there. I'll take the front end, and you take the back end. Okay?"

"All you have to do is take the tablecloth in your hand and give it a quick, clean snap—and it'll come out and leave the pyramid of glasses standing there intact. Are you ready to give it a try?"

"No, I haven't seen her in years, but I thought that as a kid she was the cutest cousin in my family. She'll just be visiting us for this weekend. Shall I put you down to be her escort Saturday night as well as Fri-

It was announced at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club last night that Charles Cobb has been selected as the Junior Rotarian for the month of December. Junior Rotarians are chosen from the student body each month from those showing the most outstanding ability during the month.

While hundreds of people will be away to the gridirons and hunting fields Thanksgiving Day, many of those remaining in Greenville will attend the annual union Thanksgiving service at Immanuel Baptist Church. The service is held in a different church each year and members of all denominations are invited to take part in the service.

Not All Fearful Over Inflation

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Opinions about the future of the American economy are as diverse as you would find in any random sampling, but there does seem to be a rough division into two classes: those who fear inflation and those who don't.

The fear is explainable partly as a bad memory of the past few years when the nation lived under the triple curse of rising prices, recession and high unemployment.

Some economists remain convinced that the nation so far has failed to come up with the answer to stable jobs and prices, and they fully expect that by this time next year we will still be dealing inadequately with both.

Ironically, those who believe that inflation has safely been taken care of for the time being, cite the fact of 4.5 million unemployed as a cushion against big price increases.

It is mainly when jobs are scarce that labor rates rise and force prices higher also, they say. With so many workers available, they explain, that likelihood is distant.

Others are not so sure. That 4.5 million figure may hide a scarcity of some blue-collar skills, they fear. The unemployment rate among some skilled worker categories is actually under 2 per cent.

Moreover, with 5 million workers coming up for new contracts in 1973 — double the 1972 number — some economists foresee a reversal of the 1972 experience, when contract benefits decreased.

In 1972, to illustrate, wage and benefit increases in union collective bargaining contracts — averaged out over the life of contracts—came to about 9 per cent. In the first half of this year the figure dropped to 7.6 per cent.

In addition, the fearful ones say, the productivity surge that the nation enjoyed during 1972 is likely to peter out slowly as the recovery continues. In 1972 the increase was 4.5 per cent. Next year it might be only 3.5.

The explanation, in part, is that during the earlier stages of economic expansion the best workers and the most efficient machinery and facilities are used. As the recovery continues, less efficient workers and equipment are used and the increase in productivity diminishes.

This would mean that higher production costs would be added to the pressure for higher wages.

Some of these added expenses might be absorbed in greater volume, but some of necessity will be passed on as higher prices.

A larger amount of unused plant capacity is cited by the optimists as further security against inflation. Some estimates place at only 80 per cent the amount of manufacturing capacity now being used.

If that figures were above 90 per cent, it would mean that shortages of some products might develop. As it is, few industries but the automotive, lumber and rubber industries are operating at peak capacity.

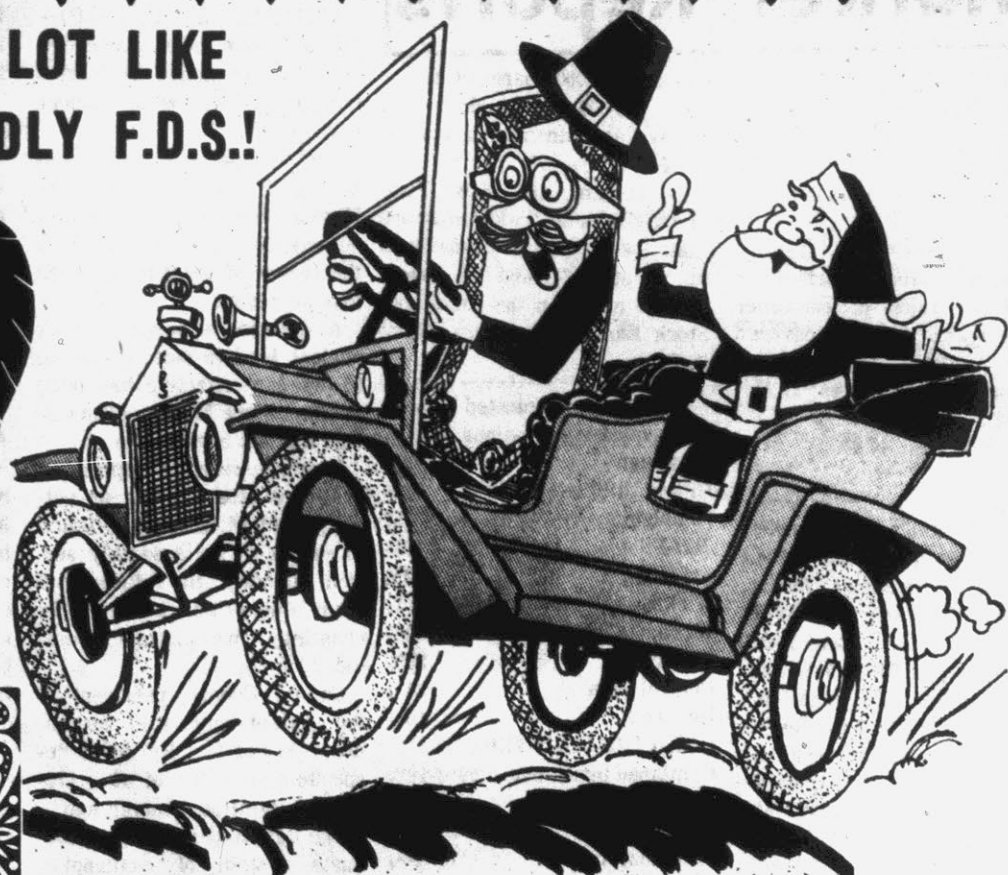

Other economists who view the same figures have, however, adopted a wait-and-see attitude. A lot of that idle capacity, they say, is really not available for use because it is obsolete or inefficient or in poor repair.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices inched upward in active trading today as investors reacted to a continuing flow of favorable economic news.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 4.81 to 1018.06.

Among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, advances led declines by better than 7 to 5.

A block of 143,000 shares of Chrysler at 40, up 1/4, pushed the auto stock to the top of the Big Board active list.

American Medical International opened late on the Big Board at 39 1/2, up 2 1/2. The stock fell 5 1/2 Tuesday. After the close of trading Tuesday, American Medical said it expected its growth to be on target for the fiscal year, which began Sept. 1.

El Paso Natural Gas was the second-most active issue, up 1/4 to 19 1/4. Trading included a

Poison Dog And Kill Militiaman

BELFAST (AP) — Guerrillas poisoned a militiaman's German Shepherd dog early today, then killed the part-time soldier when he returned home from duty.

The man's wife heard shots and found her husband slumped at the side of his car. He was in uniform, but police said he had had no chance to draw his revolver.

The police attributed the murder at Maghera, in county Londonderry, to the Roman Catholics of the Irish Republican Army. It was the 638th confirmed killing in more than three years of communal violence in Northern Ireland.

Halt Classes Due Boycott

SUMTER, S. C. (AP)—Classes have been suspended until further notice at Morris College because of a student boycott.

The suspension was announced Tuesday by Dr. Henry Hardin, president of the predominantly black college and the target of student demands that he resign.

A classroom boycott which student leaders said was 90 to 95 per cent effective had been in effect since Monday. The college has 481 students.

Hardin, recently appointed president after serving as acting president, was again asked to resign at an assembly session Tuesday. He refused and many student left the assembly chanting, "We will not be divided."

Carroll Cooper, president of the student body, said the students do not feel Hardin is responding to a list of 15 grievances submitted a month ago.

The demands include an adequate system of challenging grades received by students, that students be given meal cards on credit and improvements in the physical facilities of the school.

Ate 51 Boiled Eggs In 2 Hours

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) —Gerald Plotz, 6-foot-2 Davidson College freshman premedical student, ate 51 hardboiled eggs in two hours Tuesday night.

He said $122 was wagered on his capacity to beat the 50 consumed by Paul Newman in the movie "Cool Hand Luke." Plotz, 18, of Winston-Salem, calmed his stomach with a post-contest pint of chocolate ice cream.

"I kinda specialize in marathon activity," said Plotz, a 169-pounder who once ate 50 meatballs in the college cafeteria.

Reelected By A Flip Of Coin

GABBS, Nev. (AP) — The flip of a silver dollar has reelected Dorothy Wilson as justice of the peace in this rural mining town.

She and Billy Wyer each got 146 votes in the recent general election.

But rather than go through a recount, they agreed to the coin toss to decide the race.

Obituaries

Arrington
VANCEBORO — Mr. Raymond L. Arrington, 54, died in Raleigh early Tuesday morning.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 3 p.m. at Juniper Chapel Free Will Baptist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Willie E. Stilley, assisted by the Rev. Henry Armstrong of Dunn. Burial will be in the church cemetery. The body will be taken from the home to the church one hour prior to the service.

A Halifax County native, Mr. Arrington served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Since his marriage to Miss Dora Leigh Morris of Vanceboro in 1940, he had lived in the Vanceboro community. He was a member of Ebenezer Methodist Church near Roanoke Rapids and had been a superintendent for Bowers Construction Company of Raleigh for many years.

Surviving him are his wife; two sons, Bill M. and Raymond L. Arrington Jr., both of Vanceboro; a daughter, Miss Gloria Jean Arrington of the home; four grandchildren; a brother, George E. Arrington of Roanoke Rapids; three sisters, Miss Rebekah Arrington of Roanoke Rapids, Mrs. William Keeter of Littleton, and Mrs. Herman Lipitz of Irvington, Va.; two stepbrothers, Robert and Hubert Faucette of Roanoke Rapids; and a stepister, Mrs. Hazel Edwards of Weldon.

Blind Woman's Dinner Stolen

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) —Thieves swooped down on the home of sightless Carlotta Castillo and took the ingredients of her Thanksgiving dinner Tuesday, police said.

Mrs. Castillo told police burglars entered her house while she was at a doctor's office. They took a turkey and trimmings she purchased with her November aid-to-the-blind check, she said.

She said her next assistance check, her only income, is not due until the second week of December.

Money Inspired Frisbee Champ

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) —Paul Wilson, 16, who said he turned from traditional high school sports to frisbee "because there's a lot of money in it," flipped himself to first place in the fourth annual junior frisbee championship and a $1,000 savings bond.

Wilson said after the contest Tuesday that he spent up to eight hours a day practicing for the tournament in an alley behind his Charleston, W. Va., home. "I just kept thinking about all that money," drawled the youth.

Skinner
Mr. J.T. "Tab" Skinner, 82, died in Pitt Memorial Hospital this morning at 4 o'clock.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 11 a.m. at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Robert L. Parsons, Methodist minister of Hampton, Va. Burial will be in Pinewood Memorial Park.

A Greene County native, Mr. Skinner had been a Greenville resident for the past 46 years, residing at 308 Student Street. He was an employee of Brown-Wood Inc. for a number of years.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Bettie Owens Skinner; a son, Gene T. Skinner of Greenville; a brother, E.G. Skinner of Farmville; two sisters, Mrs. Frank B. Manning of Greenville and Mrs. Preston Phillips of Wilson; four half brothers, Marvin Skinner of Dublin, A.C. Skinner of Watha, Carlton Skinner of Halifax, and Sterling Skinner of Hampton, Va.; and four half sisters, Mrs. Joe Ashley of Rex, Ga., Mrs. Elbert Averett and Mrs. Selma Avery, both of Greenville, and Mrs. Percy Davis of Hampton, Va.

The family will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene T. Skinner, 3002 S. Elm Street.

HOOKERTON — Lum Edward Moore, 69, died early Tuesday morning at the Greenville Nursing and Convalescent Center.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Norman Funeral Chapel by the Rev. J.C. Keecce. Burial will be in Snow Hill Cemetery.

A retired farmer, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lula Gray Keel of Elton; three sons, Eddie Ray Moore of Hookerton, Dalton Roger Moore of Clayton, and Louis Moore of Robersonville; four sisters, Mrs. Esther Brantley and Mrs. Diana Beaman, both of Snow Hill, Mrs. Lillian Tracey of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Ruth Eason of Hookerton; and 12 grandchildren.

Wyche
WELDON — G. Vincent Wyche died suddenly at his home here Tuesday night.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Episcopal Church here.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Ernestine T. Wyche; a son, G. Vincent Wyche Jr.; a daughter, Miss Jane Curtis Wyche; three sisters, Mrs. Sam B. Underwood Jr. of Greenville, Miss Elizabeth Wyche of Weldon, and Mrs. Mary W. Cochran of Jackson; two brothers, John I. Wyche Jr. and Ben W. Wyche, both of Weldon.

Nixon Meeting Many Visitors

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
THURMONT, Md. (AP) —Advisers from the first Nixon administration and possible candidates for top jobs in the second continued to line up outside the President's door today, even as a long-time Nixon associate was reported in line to become secretary of Defense.

Kenneth Rush, the present deputy secretary of Defense, was among seven officials who conferred with the President Tuesday at Camp David, Md., where a fresh schedule of meetings was set for today.

Meanwhile, sandwiched in between the week's conferences on reorganizing the administration, will be a strictly-family White House Thanksgiving dinner undisturbed by presidential business.

Nixon scheduled meetings today with Labor Secretary James C. Hodgson, NATO Ambassador David Kennedy and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. Goldwater is the first member of Congress to be shuttled to the mountaintop retreat where Nixon has spent most of the time since his landslide re-election.

Sources have sought to squelch reports that New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, one of the seven meeting with Nixon Tuesday, would be in the second Nixon Cabinet.

They said Rockefeller had shown no interest in leaving Albany for Washington, and that he would not be on the administration's Cabinet roster when Nixon begins his second term Jan. 20.

But there were no White House disclaimers that Rush is a top candidate for the Pentagon's premier post. Melvin Laird has announced plans to step aside after four years as secretary of Defense.

"Personally, I don't think I'm the type of girl who can settle down with one guy and be happy all her life. Are you sure you want to marry me?"

"Frankly, I think we can make $100,000 on this deal—to say the least. How about a contract that'll give me the first $10,000 profit, and you get 75 per cent of the rest. You could make a big killing."

"Do you mind if I put a teentsy-weentsy long distance call on your phone? It's to my husband, who wants me to agree to a reconciliation. But don't worry—I'll keep it brief."

Rush, a former ambassador whose acquaintance with Nixon goes back to their years at Duke University Law School, came to Camp David to confer with the President "on matters relating to a second term," press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said.

Others meeting with Nixon on Tuesday were Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton; Chairman Herbert Stein of the President's Council of Economic Advisers; communications director Herbert Klein.

countries before they brief us. If we had an American ambassador stationed in Washington, Nixon might tell him what he's up to and the ambassador could transmit the information to us."

"That's not such a crazy idea," an assistant secretary of state said. "If we had our own embassy in Washington we could give a dinner party for Kissinger and probably learn what's going on."

"I'll take it up with the Secretary this afternoon," an executive assistant said. In the meantime, no matter what you hear and no matter how inconsequential you think it is, report it right away. Perhaps, if we have enough clues from different sources, some pattern will emerge as to what their foreign policy is, and then we'll beat the S. O. B.s at their own game."

Indians May Look To Several Freshmen To Help Rebuilding

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
(One of a series)

This year, freshmen are eligible to play for the varsity for the first time in major college teams, and William & Mary's new coach, Ed Ashnault is one man who's glad of it.

In fact, he may be playing as many as three freshmen on his starting unit at William & Mary this year.

"We have only three returning seniors this year," the new Indian coach said, "but all three of them were starters." They include 6-6, 210-pound Jeff Trammell; 5-10, 160-pound George Spack; and 6-4, 185-pound Steve Seward.

"Trammell is about 17 pounds under his playing weight from last year, and this is going to improve him," Ashnault said. "One of our juniors, Mark Ritter (6-6, 205) is down about 15 pounds."

All this is because of a slogan Ashnault has: "If you can't be a horse, be a pony."

"We're going to go to our sophomore heavily," he said. The top man there appears to be Tom Pfingst, a 6-4, 180-pounder. "He's an excellent second guard," the coach said.

They also have a transfer in Gary Byrd, a 6-6, 195 pounder, whom Ashnault says is a little erratic right now. "He keeps after until he gets it in," Ashnault added. Another sophomore to watch out for is Bob Panzenback, a 6-4, 196-pounder. "Right now, he's taking bad shots, but he rebounds well and plays a good defense."

Ashnault says that he can't single out any of the freshmen yet, but he definitely expects to start two. One of these is almost certainly to be Matt Courage, a 6-11½, 205-pounder. "He's the second or third fastest man on the squad," the coach said.

Another top freshman could be 6-5, 190-pound Mike Arizin. "He'll eventually be a guard, but he's looked so good in the corner that we may play him there this year. He won't excel in any area, but he's very sound in all areas. He's consistent and has no negative points," the coach said.

Of the 15 men on the team, Ashnault feels that 11 will definitely help the team. "But seven have never played one minute of college varsity basketball. We have more talent than I had last year at Colgate, but it's still underdeveloped."

Ashnault said that he was pleased with the offensive performance in the team's first scrimmage, but not with the defense. "But I want to get our offense going first. I don't know if we can be ready to represent ourselves at the start of the year; we have a tough opening." The Indians open against conference favorite Furman, then face Jacksonville, Duke and Wake Forest.

"We do have a little excitement being generated at Williamsburg," Ashnault said. "If we can involve the student body, I think we can get the area involved too."

If he had to start today, Ashnault would probably start Spack, and Pfingst at the guards, Courage at center, and either Arzin, Byrd, Ritter or Trammell in the corners.

"If we get whalloped all year, whatever we learn will be beneficial. We won't be shocked with the outcome either way. We have to re-educate our students to show that we gave them a quality program. Our opening is tough, but I'm not going to worry about it in the first year. If it was the third or fourth year, I might be worried if we didn't produce.

"But for now," Ashnault said, "our program is in the future."

Bucs Wrestlers Opening Season

East Carolina's wrestling team faces what Coach John Welborn describes as "our toughest schedule ever," for the 1972-73 season which begins Friday and Saturday in the Southern Open at Chattanooga, Tennessee.

The Pirates, Southern Conference champions and nationally ranked a year ago, face a list of opponents which includes such perennial powers as West Chester, East Stroudsburg and Athletes in Action, in addition to traditional conference rivals William & Mary and Appalachian State.

Returning from last year's squad are eleven lettermen, four of whom were individual conference champions. Also returning are four conference runners-up, as well as several others who placed high in various other tournaments.

The returning conference champions are Glen Baker at 128 pounds, Dan Monroe at 126 pounds, Jim McCloe at 134 pounds and Bill Hill at 177 pounds. Monroe and Hill were also conference champions two years ago while McCloe was National Junior College Champion before transferring to ECU from Delhi, (New York) Junior College.

In addition, Roger Lundy, at 142 pounds, Bruce Hall at 158 pounds and John Huber at 190 pounds were conference runners-up a year ago, while heavyweight Mark Pohlen was a runner-up two years ago.

Other returning letterment include Bob Vroom who won third place in the North Carolina Collegiate Tournament at 118 pounds, Jim Cox who finished third place in the Thanksgiving Open at 167 pounds and Joe Daversa who placed second in the Thanksgiving Open also at 167 pounds.

The Pirates overall success, however, will depend on how quickly a host of highly potent newcomers develop according to Welborn.

Among them are transfer Milt Sherman at 142 pounds, who won numerous tournaments as a wrestler at Troy State, and freshman Stu Gillette, New York State High School champion at 150 pounds and Tom Marriott,

New York State High School runner-up at 142 pounds.

Other "highly talented" newcomers, according to Welborn, are Mike Stagliano and Mike Haymen at 126 pounds, Buck Baker, Phil Hagan and Whitey Martin at 134 pounds, Tom McAteer at 150 pounds, Ron Pierce and Paul Prewitt at 158 pounds, Ron Whitcomb at 167 pounds and John Williams and Mike Radford at 190 pounds.

Chocowinity In Win Over Bears

CHOCOWINITY—Chocowinity High School rolled to a pair of victories over Bear Grass High School last night. The boys took a 51-31 win, while the girls collected a 27-15 victory.

The two teams were close during the first period of the girls' game, with Chocowinity inching out into a 6-4 lead at the horn. But for the next two quarters, Bear Grass failed to score and that cost them the game. Chocowinity added four points in the second period and held a 10-4 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter, Chocowinity continued to pull away, dumping in 11 points to run its lead to 21-4. Bear Grass finally got going in the final period, outhitting Chocowinity, 11-6, but it wasn't enough.

N. Tetterton led Chocowinity with 13 points.

The boys game saw Bear Grass also go through a scoreless period, and that helped propel Chocowinity into a healthy lead. The shutout came in the first frame, when Chocowinity was putting in 18 points. Bear Grass came back in the second period, scoring 12 points while holding Chocowinity to just four, but they still trailed, 22-12 at halftime.

In the third period, the Bears again outlaid Chocowinity, but by only 10-8 and trailed, 30-22. Then, in the final frame, Chocowinity pulled away again, outhitting the Bears, 21-9, to win going away.

Crumpler, Summerell Ranked As Defense Slips To Fifth Overall

East Carolina University's defense took a tumble following last Saturday's 24-22 victory over Dayton, but the Bucs still rank high among the national leaders, according to the National Collegiate Sports Service.

And running back Carlester Crumpler continued to move up in the rushing and scoring columns.

Crumpler, averaging 117.4 yards per game, moved up to seventh in the nation in rushing. Bob Hitchens of Miami of Ohio leads the country with a 137.0 average.

Crumpler, who has wrapped up the Southern Conference scoring championship, stands ninth in the nation in scoring with a 9.0 average per game. Harold Henson of Ohio State leads with a 12.7 average, while Stan Fritts of N.C. State, a former Buc opponent is fifth with a 9.6 average.

Crumpler also ranks 15th among all-purpose running, which includes punt, kickoff and interception returns, along with rushing and pass receiving. He's averaging 136.0 yards per game. Howard Stevens of Louisville continues to pace the nation with a 221.4 average.

Carl Summerell, quarterback of the Pirates, ranks 25th among total offense leaders with a 157.5 average. Tony Adams of Utah State is the national leader with a 290.6 average, while Bruce Shaw of N.C. State is 24th at 159.9.

Several other former Buc opponents are among national leaders in other categories. They include Tom Schultze of VMI, 24th in passing with 10.9 completions per game; Jay Jones of Richmond, 21st in punting with a 40.4 yard average; Jim Hughes of The Citadel, 23rd in punting with a 40.1 average; Dwight Mosley of Dayton, ninth in interceptions with an 0.7 per game average; Mike Stultz of State, 14th in punt returns with a 13.3 yards per return average; and Roland Hooks of N.C. State, 14th in kickoff returns with a 22.8 average.

The Pirate defense fell off to fifth in the nation in total defense with a 224.5 yards per game allowed average. Nebraska leads with a 208.4 average.

In rushing defense, the Bucs are fourth with a 90.5 average. Southern California leads with an 87.5 average, just three yards less than the Bucs. Western Michigan is next at 89.1, while Louisville is allowing 89.4.

N.C. State continues to rank in total offense, sixth at 432.5; passing offense, 13th at 207.8, and scoring, seventh at 32.7. William & Mary is 15th in rushing offense with a 265.1 average.

Jamesville In First Defeat

AURORA — Aurora High School took a pair of victories over Jamesville High School last night. The boys won, 61-56, handing the Bullets their first loss of the year. The girls took a 38-24 decision.

In the girls game, Aurora jumped off to a 12-4 lead in the first period and were never headed after that. They outlaid Jamesville, 8-6, in the second frame, building up a 20-10 lead at the half.

Both teams pushed through 12 points in the third period, leaving Aurora with a 10-point edge, 32-22, as the final period began. Aurora then outscored the Bullets once again, 6-2, to wrap it up.

Edith Moore led Aurora with 11 points, while Johnnie Smith and Sherry Smithwick each had 10. Donna Williams led Jamesville with eight points.

Aurora pulled away in the first period, building up a 20-15 lead over the Jamesville boys. But Jamesville came back in the second period, outscoring their hosts, 17-9. That put the Bullets into a 32-29 lead at intermission.

But Aurora came back with a 17-10 advantage in the third period and that spelled the end for the Jamesville win streak.

By the end of the frame, Aurora held a 46-42 lead, and then outlaid Jamesville, 15-14, down the stretch to hold on and win.

Moore led Aurora with 20 points, while Fulford had 14, and Coffey and Hooker each had 10. Larry Modlin led Jamesville with 17 points, while Tommy Mizelle had 14 and Alvin Grimes had 12.

Jamesville hosts Chocowinity on Tuesday.

May Tournament Deadline Near

The fourth annual Reynolds May Four Ball Golf Championship is scheduled for Brook Valley Country Club on December 2-3.

Entries for the tournament close Sunday, and all entries must be in the pro shop by this day, tournament coordinator Simon Moye said today.

Moye said that Brook Valley is looking for the largest field in the short history of the tournament. The format of the tournament is a partnership between two men, using their best ball score.

Several entries have been received from out-of-state golfers as well as from several of the top flight amateur players from the eastern part of the state.

"The format of the tournament should be very well liked by the average club golfer due to the fact that it is the type golf match that he usually plays everyday anyway," Moye said. "All they have to do is to pick a partner of their choice and enter."

Moye said that several flights will be set up and prizes will be awarded to the first and second teams in each flight.

The entry fee for the tournament is $40 per team and interested golfers are urged to contact the pro shop at Brook Valley, 756-5500, by Sunday if they wish to participate.

Final Shot Saves Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

George McGinnis only had a second but it was enough time to keep two years of momentum going for the Indiana Pacers over the Memphis Tams.

McGinnis hit a turn-around jump shot with time running out as the Pacers stopped Memphis Tuesday night 121-120 for the 13th straight time in the American Basketball Association.

Only four seconds before McGinnis' big shot, Warren Davis had scored a field goal for Memphis, giving the Tams hopes of breaking Indiana's long spell.

In the other ABA games Tuesday night, it was: Denver 106, Utah 100 and San Diego 105, Dallas 101.

Memphis had a five-point lead with 1:33 to play but Indiana's Freddie Lewis made a free throw, two three-pointers and a 14-foot jump shot to give the Pacers a 119-118 lead with 23 seconds left.

THE END FOR FOSTER — Muhammad Ali backs into the corner as Bob Foster tries to get up from the canvas after being knocked out in the eighth round of their scheduled 12-round bout at the Sahara Tahoe

Hotel in Stateline, Nev., last night. Ali dumped Frazier seven times before the final countout. (AP Wirephoto)

Ali, After Knocking Out Foster, Calls For Rematch With Frazier

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali still charges that Joe Frazier, the only man who has beaten him, is wearing a crown "too heavy for his brow."

But Bob Foster, who lost by an eighth-round knockout to Ali Tuesday night, landed a left jab that cut the ex-champ early in the fight and later cut Ali with his remarks.

"I don't think he can punch like Frazier," said Foster, the reigning light heavy champion who was knocked out in the second round by Frazier in a 1970 heavyweight title match. "I don't think he can beat him."

Ali sat quietly, holding an ice pack to the swelling left side of his face as he listened to Foster's comments during a post-fight conference. Then he repeated what he's been saying since losing a 15-round decision 20 months ago in the biggest money event in boxing history: "I want Frazier. I don't want the division to die because the champion is killing it."

Frazier has fought just two unranked opponents, for a total of eight rounds, since beating Ali, who has gone into the ring nine times for a total of 86 rounds in that period.

The 33-year-old Foster, who at 180 was outweighed by 41 pounds, gave Ali some of the roughest rounds in his 41-fight pro career despite being knocked down seven times. Foster went down the final time 40 seconds into the eighth round.

"He's a great, great fighter," said Ali. "I've got a cut and a bruise. That's something that Joe Frazier nor anyone else could do to me."

"But it's worth the $250,000," Ali said.

He was guaranteed the quarter million for the scheduled 12-round fight in the theater room of the Sahara-Tahoe Hotel. Foster, whose ring record is now 49-6, received $125,000.

The live crowd was 1,941—the smallest ever to see Ali as a pro—and the gate was announced as $165,000. The fight was seen elsewhere on closed circuit television.

The heavyweight division spotlight now shifts from this ski and gambling resort area to the island of Jamaica, where Frazier is scheduled to meet unbeaten George Foreman, ranked the No. 2 contender behind Ali, on Jan. 22.

"If he fights George Foreman and whups him, that will make up for his idleness," Ali said. "He's fighting a good man—the best besides me."

Foster said he was bothered by the weight difference but more by Ali's quick and constant lefts that kept him from scoring with his own dangerous left hooks.

Dooley: Bucs Deserved Bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina Coach Bill Dooley, whose 8-1 team has won a bowl bid, says that Saturday's opponent, East Carolina, is a bowl-type team that deserved a bid.

The East Carolina Pirates, 9-1, had been mentioned for the Tangerine Bowl against Kent State, but the invitation went to Tampa.

The game at Chapel Hill will be the first time North Carolina of the Atlantic Coast Conference has met East Carolina of the Southern Conference.

Dooley told his weekly news luncheon Tuesday, "I'm sure Sonny Randle and his players are disappointed they did not receive a bid. I'm afraid that's going to make them an even tougher opponent for us."

After East Carolina, the Tar Heels will finish the regular season with a game at Florida the following Saturday. They will play Texas Tech of the Southwest Conference in the Sub Bowl at El Paso on Dec. 30.

Virginia, which has finished the season with a 4-7 record, has announced that Coach Don Lawrence will be retained for the final season of a three-year contract.

Virginia's sophomore tackle Dick Ambrose has been named the ACC Rookie of the week for his play in the 15-12 victory over Wake Forest. He was part of a defensive effort which kept Wake Forest from completing a single pass, and was in on numerous tackles.

Coach Hootie Ingram praised the defensive work of his Clemson squad, which is preparing for its season-ending home game against South Carolina. "We seemed to recognize most of the things South Carolina likes to do," he said. The reserves simulated South Carolina plays. There were no injuries from the full-speed workout. Ingram said he expects his squad to be at full strength.

At South Carolina, Paul Dietzel said his squad also appeared at full strength. Wake Forest, which finished in a tie for the ACC cellar at 1-5 with Virginia, ends the season in a home game against Virginia Tech.

Tech is an independent with a 5-4-1 record that was doing well into it was gobbled up 52-13 by Alabama last week.

Nebraska, Michigan, Tar Heels Given Favorites' Role By AP

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — What a difference a year makes!

Just one Thanksgiving ago, the Nebraska-Oklahoma game at Norman, Okla., was being touted as the Game of the Century, featuring as it did the 1-2 teams in the country.

This time, just the Big Eight championship—and a lot of personal pride—is at stake at Lincoln, Neb., since 8-1 Oklahoma is only ranked fourth and defending two-time national champion Nebraska, 8-1-1, is no better than fifth.

Nevertheless, Oklahoma's

Chuck Fairbanks says it "doesn't look a lot different than last year. Nebraska's style of play, though, is a little bit different. Their offense is more wide open. Last year, there were times when they'd just keep running straight at you and it was difficult to get the ball away from them. Now, they're more of a big play type of team and they're utilizing Johnny Rodgers in many different ways."

"Defensively, the thing that's so impressive about them is their great team speed. At times, you'll see an opening, but if you don't hit it right away, suddenly it's not there any more."

As for Oklahoma, the Sooners "have been kinda stopping ourselves," Fairbanks says. "We move the ball up and down the field, but we're not putting it in the end zone like we're capable of doing. But over-all we're so much more balanced than a year ago. Our defense is vastly improved."

Oklahoma ranks second nationally in total offense, first in rushing, fifth in scoring, eighth in total defense, fifth in rushing defense and second in points against.

Nebraska is third in total offense, fourth in passing, second in scoring, tops in total defense, eighth in rushing defense and third in scoring defense.

What do you know ... it just might be another Game of the Century. But it's also Coach Bob Devaney's last home game and it says here ... just like it did last year ... Nebraska.

Michigan at Ohio State—Another one of those all-out wars for the Big Ten crown and the honor (?) of facing top-ranked Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl. Defense usually tells the story in this match-up and no one's scored more than nine points on Michigan all year; four opponents didn't score at all. The banged-up Buckeyes, on the other hand, have yielded 20 points to Wisconsin, 19 to Minnesota and Michigan State and 14 to Northwestern in their last four outings. Despite the home field advantage ... Michigan.

Texas A&M at Texas—A&M's Emory Ballard devised much of the Wishbone offense while coaching under Darrell Royal for five years at ... Texas.

Louisiana State at Florida—It took LSU three periods last Saturday night against lowly Mississippi State to recover from the emotion-packed loss a week earlier to Alabama. Now, with a bowl bid assured, the Tigers might be ripe for an upset against the improving Gators. Resisting the temptation ... LSU.

East Carolina at North Carolina—Meeting of once-beaten teams, but UNC's Atlantic Coast Conference champs are Sun Bowl-bound while ECU's Southern Conference kings are staying home for the holidays. North Carolina.

Kansas at Missouri—Four of Kansas' last five opponents have been ranking teams: Nebraska, Iowa State, Colorado and Oklahoma. But five of Mizzou's last six foes were Nebraska, Notre Dame, Colorado, Oklahoma and Iowa State. Missouri.

Iowa State at Oklahoma State—Pooped-out Cyclones have just come through an Oklahoma-Nebraska-Missouri stretch without a win, but Oklahoma State's looking ahead to Oklahoma. Iowa State.

Arizona State at Arizona—Last week, it didn't look as though Arizona State could win the Western Athletic Conference title. But Arizona and Utah obligingly lost last Saturday and all the Sun Devils need is one more win. They should get it. Arizona State.

Dartmouth at Penn—A Dartmouth triumph means the Ivy League crown for the Big Green. A Penn win assures the Quakers of at least a share of the championship, depending on what Yale does against Harvard. Frank Navarro of Columbia, an impartial observer, likes Dartmouth, but Navarro's having an off year. Upset Special of the Week ... Pennsylvania.

Yale at Harvard—Ellis' two defeats were on the road at Cornell at Penn, both of which have artificial turf. Harvard at least has grass. Yale.

Other games: South-Tennessee over Kentucky, South Carolina over Clemson, Louisville over Drake, Maryland over Miami, Fla., Mississippi over Mississippi State, Tampa over Vanderbilt, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest.

Names Missing From Heritage

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — The glamour names are missing—for one reason or another—and the marginal players are pressing as the long, long pro golf tour begins to wind down this week in the $125,000 Heritage Golf Classic.

Only one more official event remains after this Thursday-through-Sunday affair on this spectacularly beautiful resort island, and most of the playing pros' interest centers on those who are fighting for a spot on that all-important list of the top 60 money winners.

Those are the players who will be exempt from qualifying for next year's tournaments, and that exemption ranks as the most important possession a player can own.

"If you don't have that exemption," said Lanny Wadkins, a rookie and recent winner, "you simply can't plan your life."

Almost all the players around the No. 60 spot on the money list are included in the field of 156, but the tournament is lacking Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

Celtics Hold Lead By Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Let's face it," said Dave DeBusschere, "the Portland Trail Blazers are not the Boston Celtics. Portland tries to run like Boston, but the Celtics have stronger horses."

The New York Knicks' forward sized up the potential of both teams after an easy 108-80 National Basketball Association victory over the Trail Blazers Tuesday night.

While the Knicks were running over Portland, the Celtics' "horses" were also doing some running—with a 116-102 decision over the Milwaukee Bucks.

The Celtics' victory kept them in first place over the Knicks in the NBA's Atlantic Division, but not by much. The Celts, with a 15-2 record, lead the division by percentage points over the Knicks, who are 17-3.

In the other NBA games Tuesday night, it was: Baltimore 124, Buffalo 88; Kansas City-Omaha 101, Phoenix 96; Cleveland 98, Seattle 88; Chicago 113, Houston 105 and Detroit 113, Atlanta 110.

DeBusschere scored 25 points and Bill Bradley netted 22 to pace New York's easy triumph. The Knicks had it sewn up by the second period, when they bolted into a 48-31 lead with the help of rookie center John Gianelli.

Gianelli scored a career-high 12 points and several key rebounds in the second period, when the Knicks broke it open.

A blistering fast break, led by John Havlicek's 27 points and 23 by Dave Cowens, powered Boston over Milwaukee. It was the fourth defeat in five games for the powerful Bucks, who fell out of first place in the Midwest Division.

Baltimore, 10 points behind Buffalo in the third period, rallied behind Phil Chenier to hand the Braves their eighth straight defeat.

Nate Archibald set an NBA record for assists in consecutive games as Kansas City-Omaha stopped Phoenix. Archibald, who led the winners with 37 points, had 11 assists. It was a record 10th game that Archibald posted 10 or more assists.

Austin Carr and Lenny Wilkens teamed for 58 points to pace Cleveland's victory; Clifford Ray and Garfield Heard led a fourth-quarter rally for Chicago and Detroit's victory was fashioned on a three-point play by Bob Lanier and Dave Bing's basket with 65 seconds left in overtime.

Harge Back On Cougars

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association announced Tuesday they have given future draft considerations to the Utah Suns in exchange for Ira Harge, a player the Cougars cast away 23 months ago.

Six-foot-nine Harge, 31, is a 1964 graduate of New Mexico. The Cougars sent him to the Floridians in 1970, and Utah acquired him last January.

With starting center Mike Lewis out for the season after heel surgery, Carolina desperately needs a big man to replace him.

"WHAT'S UP, DOC?"

A PETER BOGDANOVICH PRODUCTION
TECHNICOLOR® From Warner Bros.
A Warner Communications Company

"Dr. Crane," she began, "we have been very happy. "But we have never been able to have any children.

"However, the doctors say my husband and I are both normal, so they see no reason why I should not have become pregnant.

"I have a cousin who was apparently sterile till she was 34, but then she says she got pregnant by following your suggestions.

"Could you please repeat them for my benefit, for we are crazy to have a baby?"

Pregnancy Facts

In such cases as Alma's, 4 common medical facts can often give the couple a baby, such as:

(1) Locating the likely time of conception in the wife's menstrual month.

When an ovum (egg) ruptures 'free from the ovary, it can be fertilized for possibly only 12 to 24 hours.

After that length of time, it may have deteriorated till it cannot be fertilized, even by a potent sperm.

The usual date for conception is regarded as the 15th day before the onset of the next menstrual period.

But even normal wives vary from 24 to 32 days in the length of their monthly cycle, though the average may run 28 days.

So a wife should keep an exact record of her monthly cycles for at least 6 months to a year.

Now subtract 15 days from your expected next menstrual onset and mark that as your most likely day to get pregnant. But allot 3 extra days on each side of that date, which will give you what we medics call your usual "pregnancy week."

Marital relations within this week should lead to conception in normal married couples.

(2) Since the male sperm likewise loses much of its vigor after possibly just 6 hours (and may be unable to fertilize the egg after more than 12 hours), then coitus should occur morning and night during this pregnancy week.

For thousands of apparently normal couples by chance alone may thus miss this brief 6 to 12 hour overlapping time for conception.

They may thus go childless for 15 or even 20 years; then easily procreate a baby by use of the forementioned facts.

(3) Since the feminine secretions in the vagina are acid, and some women have a more acid condition than others, they can profitably employ a baking soda douche just prior to each coitus.

Use a heaping teaspoonful of baking soda to a quart of warm water.

Acid paralyzes the sperm cells, but a mildly alkaline environment not only permits them to remain vigorous.

But it even seems to add greatly to the likelihood of a male baby!

Farmers know that a 3 percent lactic acid douche produces far more heifer calves, whereas the alkaline douche causes the cow to produce far male (bull) calves!

(4) Udder tension and fretting about sterility also seem to thwart pregnancy, may be due to a wife's increase in acidity!

So adopt a baby or pray to God and relax, as did Biblical Hannah.

Send for my medical booklet, "Facts About Pregnancy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. Give it to all married couples! (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

SIGH!

WE CAME ALL THIS WAY FOR NOTHING...NOW HE WANTS TO GO HOME...IT SEEMS TO ME IF WE'VE COME THIS FAR, WE SHOULD AT LEAST LOOK AROUND A LITTLE..

THERE'S NO REAL HURRY TO GET HOME...THAT ROUNDCHEEDED KID CAN GET ALONG WITHOUT ME..

BESIDES, I HAVE THREE WEEKS' SICK LEAVE COMING!
SIGH!

B.C.

GO TO SLEEP...IF ANYBODY COMES, I'LL HISS.

NOW I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP, I PRAY THE LORD MY SOUL TO KEEP.

IF I SHOULD DIE BEFORE I WAKE, THEN BLAME IT ON THE SNAKE.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠

In order to land his vulnerable game contract in spades, South found it necessary to effect an endplay against one of the defenders before trumps were drawn.

When North doubled West's opening bid of one heart, South jumped to two spades to show a good hand—his holding being worth 10 points counting high cards and distribution. With 17 points in support, North put no further pressure on partner and proceeded directly to game.

West opened the queen of clubs and South won the trick in his hand with the king. The jack of spades was led for a finesse and East was in with the king. The latter shifted to a small heart. Inasmuch as West was marked with every missing high card to warrant his opening bid, declarer did not waste the queen of hearts on this trick. He played the seven instead, and West covered with the eight to dislodge dummy's ace.

Declarer cashed the ace of clubs and led a small club which he ruffed with the nine of spades. A trump was led to the queen, as West showed out, and the remaining club was trumped with a small spade after East discarded a heart. Altho there was still one spade out, South refrained from drawing trump, because he had laid the groundwork for an endplay against West.

The carefully preserved queen of hearts was led putting West in with the king. The latter was naturally reluctant to play a heart for fear of presenting his opponent with a ruff and discard. He therefore cashed the ace of diamonds and continued with the jack, in the hope that East held the queen. When South turned up with that card, the contest was over. He drew the remaining trump and claimed his contract, having lost one trick each in spades, hearts and diamonds.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

North Carolina
Pitt County

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust executed by William Alford Carver and wife, Dianne M. Carver, to C.W. Everett, Trustee, dated the 31st day of August, 1972, and recorded in Book B 41, page 511, of the Pitt County Public Registry, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured and the said deed of trust being by its terms the subject to foreclosure and the holder of the indebtedness thereby secured having demanded a foreclosure thereof for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness, the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, at the courthouse door in Greenville, North Carolina, at 12:00 Noon, on the 15th day of December, 1972, the following tract or parcel of land conveyed in said deed of trust and described as follows:

LYING and being in the Town of Bethel, Bethel Township, Pitt County, State of North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows: Located on the North side of Jefferson Street between James and Pitt Streets and beginning in the northern right of way of Jefferson Street at the Southeast corner of the Bertha Crane lot and running thence easterly along the northern right of way line of Jefferson Street, a corner, thence northwardly and perpendicular to Jefferson Street at the line of W.T. Carson lot (now Robert Joseph Station Lot), a corner, thence southwardly with the line of the Bertha Crane lot, a corner, and thence southwardly with the line of the Bertha Crane lot to the point of beginning, being the western end of that lot shown and designated on the tax map of the Town of Bethel as Lot No. 16, Block

Map 306, as the same appears of record in the office of the Tax Supervisor of Pitt County, and being a part of that lot conveyed to Clarence L. Warren and wife, Mary Rebecca L. Warren by deed recorded in the Public Registry of Pitt County in Book N 32, page 80, and being the same lot conveyed to the Grantors herein by deed of Clarence L. Warren et al dated the 2nd day of August, 1972 and recorded in Book B 41, page 509 of the Pitt County Public Registry.

The successful bidder at said sale will be required to deposit with the Trustee, ten percent (10 percent) of the amount of his bid as evidence of good faith pending the confirmation of said sale.

NOTICE OF SUBMISSION OF PROPOSED IMPROVEMENT OF US 13 & NC 11 FROM WEST THIRD STREET TO NC 903 TO THE FEDERAL HIGHWAY ADMINISTRATION FOR APPROVAL

Project 6-80327, 9-8022038
Greenville
Pitt County

The above submission by the North Carolina State Highway Commission consists of adding two additional lanes with a 30 feet or 44 feet median to the west side of the existing lanes. All intersections will be at grade. The right of way will vary and will be necessary to contain the construction. The proposed design is the same as presented at the public hearing on March 28, 1972, in Greenville, North Carolina.

A set of prints setting forth the above and a copy of the Environmental Impact Statement Negative Declaration is available for public review and copying at the Division Office of the North Carolina State Highway Commission, Greenville, North Carolina. Additional copies of the state may be ordered from the Clearinghouse and Information Center, 116 West Jones Street, Raleigh, North Carolina 27603, at a cost of $0.05 per page.

Price Tag Can Be Phony Claim

NEW YORK (UPI)—Watch out for phony price tags when doing your Christmas shopping. The same for retailers who continually claim they are selling things at wholesale prices. In both cases there is one price that appears to have been slashed—giving you the impression that you are getting a huge bargain.

The Better Business Bureau says don't believe retailers who continually make such claims. What's phony about the price tag before it's slashed? The price. Usually it's been hiked a lot for your benefit so the real price—much less—would seem like a bargain too great to pass up.

The city of Shreveport, La., was founded in 1837.

"priceless"

There are some things in life that have no price.

At Stratford Arms we try to create an atmosphere that makes it a happy place to live.

Even though our apartments are reasonably priced some people think the attitude and atmosphere are priceless. Come and see and feel it. Sorry we're all booked on 3-bedrooms but our 1 and 2 bedroom apartments are a delight.

Appeals Judge Overturns Conviction Of Activists

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Declaring that the trial judge took an "often antagonistic attitude toward the defense," a federal appeals court has overturned the conviction of five antiwar activists in the case of the Chicago 7. The ruling Tuesday by the U.S. 7th Circuit Court of Appeals climaxed a controversial case which stems from street rioting during the week of the Democratic National Convention here in 1968.

The five antiwar activists who were convicted two years ago of inciting the rioting were David T. Dellinger, 56; Rennie C. Davis, 32; Abbot "Abbie" Hoffman, 33; Jerry C. Rubin, 33; and Thomas E. Hayden, 32.

They were sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000 each.

But the appeals court ruled that their constitutional rights may have been violated in the bitter four-month trial before U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman.

The appeals court ruled that the government could retry the defendants. But it added: "There is evidence in the record, which, if believed, and inferences favorable to the defendants drawn, would lead a jury to acquit."

Two other defendants in the case, Lee Weiner, 33, and John R. Froines, 32, were acquitted by the jury. All of the seven were acquitted of conspiring to incite the rioting.

An eighth defendant, Black Panther leader Bobby Seale, was severed from the case because of outbursts in the courtroom and the government declined to bring him to trial again.

The defense contended from the start that no conspiracy was involved. Abbie Hoffman often remarked, "How could we conspire to do anything? We couldn't even agree on lunch."

The trial began Sept. 24, 1969. Before it ended there were insults, the gagging and binding in court of Seale, the stoic testimony of Mayor Richard J. Daley, the sarcastic comments of the judge, the theatrics of poet Allan Ginsberg, the insults by defense attorney William Kunstler and the obscenities and comedies staged by the defendants.

By Feb. 18, 1970, the jury of 10 women and two men — weary of the long trial during which they had been sequestered in a Chicago hotel — convicted the five men of actually inciting rioting.

Judge Hoffman immediately passed sentence. A few days before, after the jury had been sent to deliberate, he had imposed contempt sentences on all the defendants and their lawyers.

Those citations were set aside earlier this year by the federal appeals court and the government says it plans to bring the nine men to trial on the contempt charges.

The decision Tuesday by the appeals court held that Judge

Hoffman erred in several areas during the trial and displayed "a deprecatory and often antagonistic attitude toward the defense ... from the very beginning."

Judges Walter Cummings, Thomas Fairchild and Wilbur F. Pell said that Judge Hoffman erred in failing to allow sufficient questioning of potential jurors as to their attitudes about the defendants' long hair and lifestyles; that he did not properly inquire into the effect of pretrial news coverage; and that he erred in communicating with the jury through a U.S. marshal.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman declined to comment on a possible retrial until the appeals court decision is analyzed.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Most everyone is pretty emotional so try to say and do nothing that would hurt anyone's feelings or upset anyone in any way. Most of us are now thinking in terms of security, so make a point of letting others know you realize this and of helping them build up more of it.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Listen to what family members have to say since this could help you solve problems properly now. Make repairs to appliances, etc., that make your home more functional. Take it easy tonight.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Associates extend fine favors in a.m., so be sure to show your appreciation later in some way. You can solve that long-time problem through ingenuity now. Save yourself both money and trouble in this way.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) The planets are favorable and you can do much to add to present income, which is necessary owing to the rising cost of living. Listen to the suggestions of financial experts. Being alert is most important now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are now able to enjoy the recreational activities that most appeal to you and to be most sociable. Talk your aims and ambitions over with good friends and get their views, ideas. Study them well tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have to closet yourself in your study if you are to reach the right decision where some important matter is concerned. Spend some time later with the one you love. You can forget worries now.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept. 22) Trust that emotional but good friend who can be of assistance to you now and vice versa. Out to some group affair that is helpful to your particular aims. Use that fine smile and win others over to your way of thinking.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good day to contact that person of influence who can assist you in accomplishing something that means a great deal to you. Involve yourself in some civic affair that will improve your image within the community in which you reside.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Tackle that annoying problem from a different angle and you find you solve it properly now. Someone you met recently can be turned into a good friend by contacting this person. A fine p.m. for correspondence whether by letter or telephone.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) There are some clever ways through which to handle that obligation that has had you much disturbed, so be sure to use the best. More affection toward mate gets right results now. Don't play around with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can reach that associate who has been difficult of late via the emotions now, and he understands your ideas, views. Cement for better relations. Discuss deals for the future that are important. Avoid troublemakers.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) There are many duties ahead of you and you barely know where to begin, but so long as you delve right in, you accomplish much through sheer perseverance. Take some exercise that improves health. Fix wardrobe tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you entertain others, you find you can regain their goodwill which has been lacking because you have been too busy to do so. Confide in mate and have a far better understanding. Some time spent at reading is good.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY — he or she will be one of those slow-acting young people who is so busy watching and wanting to know what is going on in the surroundings that this could get on the nerves of those raising this interesting child. But be patient and there will be such success upon reaching maturity that everyone will be very surprised. Plan to give as fine an education as you can afford, even though your youngster could get on the nerves of teachers also.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Cox Reports On Outlook For ESAE

Associate Superintendent of Greenville City Schools Glenn Cox reported "good news" and "bad news" from his recent trip to Atlanta in connection with an educators meeting on the Emergency School Assistance Act (ESAE).

Cox spoke informally to members of the local Emergency School Assistance Program (ESAP) Advisory Committee members at their meeting Tuesday night at the Central Administrative Office.

The bad news, he noted, is that apparently prospects are now dim for continued funding of the present project beyond the expiration date of January. The school board had hoped to have the program continue after the January date.

The good news, according to Cox, involves a brighter prospect for funding, under the provisions of the new act, some new projects later in the present school year, or failing that, for the 1973-74 school year.

O.J. Rooks, chairman of the ESAP Advisory Committee, conducted the meeting which was attended by members Mrs. Katherine Cottle, George Garrett and Don McGlohon. Four members were absent.

Committee members present discussed a plan for the establishment of priority needs and strategy for developing and presenting a new project proposal. The committee is hopeful to be able to obtain continuation of the present project which involves federal assistance in providing for 12 teachers aides.

Town Offices To Observe Holiday

The town offices of Winterville, Ayden and Grifton and their various departments will be closed Thursday in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

The offices will resume their normal operations on Friday.

Cite Help From Salvation Army

The Salvation Army Advisory Board was told yesterday that 1,744 persons were assisted by the Army in Pitt County during the month of October.

According to the report, 14 food orders were given during the month, 78 pieces of furniture were distributed, 8,764 garments were distributed and 513 pairs of shoes given.

In addition, three persons were helped to find jobs, four light bills were paid, seven fuel orders given and two prescriptions filled for those in need.

Twelve transients were given lodging during the month and 26 meals were given to those passing through town. One bus ticket was purchased for a transient.

The advisory board was also told that work is progressing on a large metal building to be constructed behind the Salvation Army Citadel on Dickinson Avenue.

The structure is needed to house clothing, toys and other items donated to the Army for distribution to those in need.

Plan Service Of Thanksgiving

CHOCOWINITY — The Grimesland United Methodist Charge will have a special Thanksgiving service tonight at the Chocowinity United Methodist Church at 7:30.

The sermon will be given by the pastor, Rev. Eddie A. Walker, on the topic "Let Us Give Thanks."

Grimesland, Chocowinity and Warren Chapel United Methodist Churches are included in the charge.

The public is invited to attend.

Thanksgiving Program Is Set

A special Thanksgiving program will be presented at Brown Chapel Church Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The sermon will be delivered by Missionary Novella Maye of Ft. Meade, Md.
