SEARCH FOR SUB — The Norwegian frigate Trondheim and a search plane from the Norwegian air force scour Sognefjord in Norway, Thursday, for what some believe to be a foreign submarine trapped in the 3,900-foot deep inlet. The hunt is shrouded in official secrecy but the Norwegian defense command said Thursday that the Trondheim had fired an antisubmarine missile at a "moving, submerged object", but declined to say what it was. Charge Man In Holdup Slaying

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP)—A South Carolina man was charged with murder today in the shooting death this week of 18-year-old Amy Clare Breedlove of Rocky Mount.

Nash County Sheriff Glenn Womble said South Carolina authorities arrested Colley Thompson, 17, of Box 182, Essingham, Thursday afternoon about eight miles from Florence.

Womble said he returned Thompson to Nash County this morning. He said the suspect was being held without bond at the county jail in Nashville and would receive a preliminary hearing Tuesday.

The sheriff said Thompson would be charged later with armed robbery in the Wednesday shooting of Miss Breedlove. The Rocky Mount girl was working alone at a self-service gas station.

Miss Breedlove's body was found Wednesday afternoon in a storage shed near the gas station, located on a connector road between Interstate 95 and U.S. 301 about three miles north of Rocky Mount.

Authorities said she had been shot once in the back of the head with her own pistol and about $200 had been taken from the station's cash register.

'Businesslike' Second Meeting

GENEVA (AP) — U.S. and Soviet negotiators met for 95 minutes today in the second meeting of their new strategic arms limitation talks designed to put a permanent ceiling on nuclear offensive systems.

A conference source said the secret meeting got "right down to business."

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday at the Soviet Mission.

Kissinger, Tho Confer Today

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho met for an hour today at a suburban rendezvous after putting out word that the meeting had been called off.

A television crew of the Columbia Broadcasting System tracked Kissinger to the secret meeting place in Chousy-le-Roi, not far from the North Vietnamese delegation headquarters.

Kissinger told a CBS reporter on the spot that he planned to meet Tho again Saturday.

In Washington, the White House confirmed that the two men would meet Saturday in Paris. A spokesman gave no details.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler also said Kissinger paid a call in Paris after his meeting with Tho to fill in French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann on the talks so far. Ziegler described it as a courtesy call to thank the French government for courtesies extended to the Vietnam peace negotiators during their meetings there.

The North Vietnamese delegation earlier announced that there would be no meeting today, and American sources tacitly confirmed the announcement.

It appeared that the two delegations were trying to throw newsmen and photographers off the track after the earlier meeting place at Gif-sur-Yvette was discovered — also by a CBS television crew.

The one-hour meeting was the shortest since Kissinger and Tho began their current session Monday in an effort to complete the peace agreement they drafted last month.

President Nixon's security adviser and the Hanoi politburo member conferred for six hours at Gif-sur-Yvette Thursday.

Chousy is 10 miles south of Paris. Gif-sur-Yvette is 15 miles southwest of Paris.

The French news agency Agence France Presse quoted reliable sources as saying Kissinger and Tho had run into serious difficulties.

On Monday they met for 5½ hours, Tuesday for 4½ hours and Wednesday for 3½ hours. The Thursday session continued the relaxed mood of the secret talks.

The two delegations lunched together, and Kissinger and Tho emerged several times into the walled garden, walking up and down in animated and apparently friendly conversation.

They punctuated their remarks with sweeping gestures and at one point Tho grasped Kissinger's arm in a friendly manner.

The two came to the garden gate after lunch and allowed themselves to be photographed together. Photographers shouted for them to pose shaking hands, but they ignored the request.

Kissinger, as usual, left first after the meeting and drove back to the U.S. Embassy to report to President Nixon. Tho, as usual, arrived first and left last. The villa is owned by the French Communist party.

Earlier in the day, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's security adviser, Nguyen Phu Duc, arrived from Saigon. Thieu presumably sent Duc to Paris to reaffirm his objections to some parts of the draft, particularly the failure to require the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam and re-establishment of the demilitarized zone.

Supply Bases Again Hit

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American B52s blasted supply targets for a third straight day in their heaviest raids of the war in North Vietnam, the U.S. Command said today. Meanwhile, a Navy fighter-bomber disabled in a landing mishap became the 9th U.S. aircraft lost in Southeast Asia in the last five days.

The Command said 14 missions by the Air Force strato-fortresses, each with three planes, struck at military supply concentrations near the coastal cities of Vinh and Dong Hoi in the 24 hours ending at noon today.

The big bombers have flown 41 missions in the area below the 20th parallel in the last three days in efforts to knock out supplies being marshaled for shipment into Laos and southward into South Vietnam. Hanoi and Haiphong are above the 20th parallel and are currently off limits to U.S. warplanes.

While bad weather continued to curtail tactical air strikes north of the demilitarized zone, Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers were active in support of government forces in South Vietnam.

A Navy A7 Corsair, attempting a hazardous night landing aboard the carrier USS Saratoga, misjudged the approach and smashed into the deck. Despite major structural damage, the pilot, Lt. Cmdr. David Edwards, managed to get the crippled jet back into the air. He headed for Da Nang but was forced to abandon the aircraft when his controls failed.

Edwards ejected from the plane and was plucked from the water by a rescue helicopter, the Command said.

His hometown was not immediately available.

In ground action, South Vietnamese forces battled Communist troops near Quang Tri, in the central highlands, and near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon. They claimed 38 enemy killed, mostly by air and artillery strikes, in the latter engagement near the district town of Go Dau Ha, 45 miles west of the capital.

At Da Nang, military sources reported a South Vietnamese helicopter crashed, apparently from enemy fire, south of the city, killing the four crewmen.

Another report said coastal fishermen recovered 280 bags of rice, bearing Chinese Communist markings, from the waters offshore. The rice was presumably being floated ashore for use by Communist troops, sources said.

Clash In Lebanon

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli military command reported a clash with Palestinian guerrillas inside Lebanon today, but refused to confirm Lebanese reports of an assault by helicopter-borne commando forces.

Military spokesmen said only that an Israeli unit patrolling inside Lebanon clashed with a band of Palestinian guerrillas Thursday night and early today near the cease-fire line where air and tank battles with Syria raged three days ago.

Reports from Lebanon said Israeli troops landed in helicopters, blew up houses and burned tents at a guerrilla base at Khreibeh on the foothills of Mt. Hermon, and withdrew two hours later.

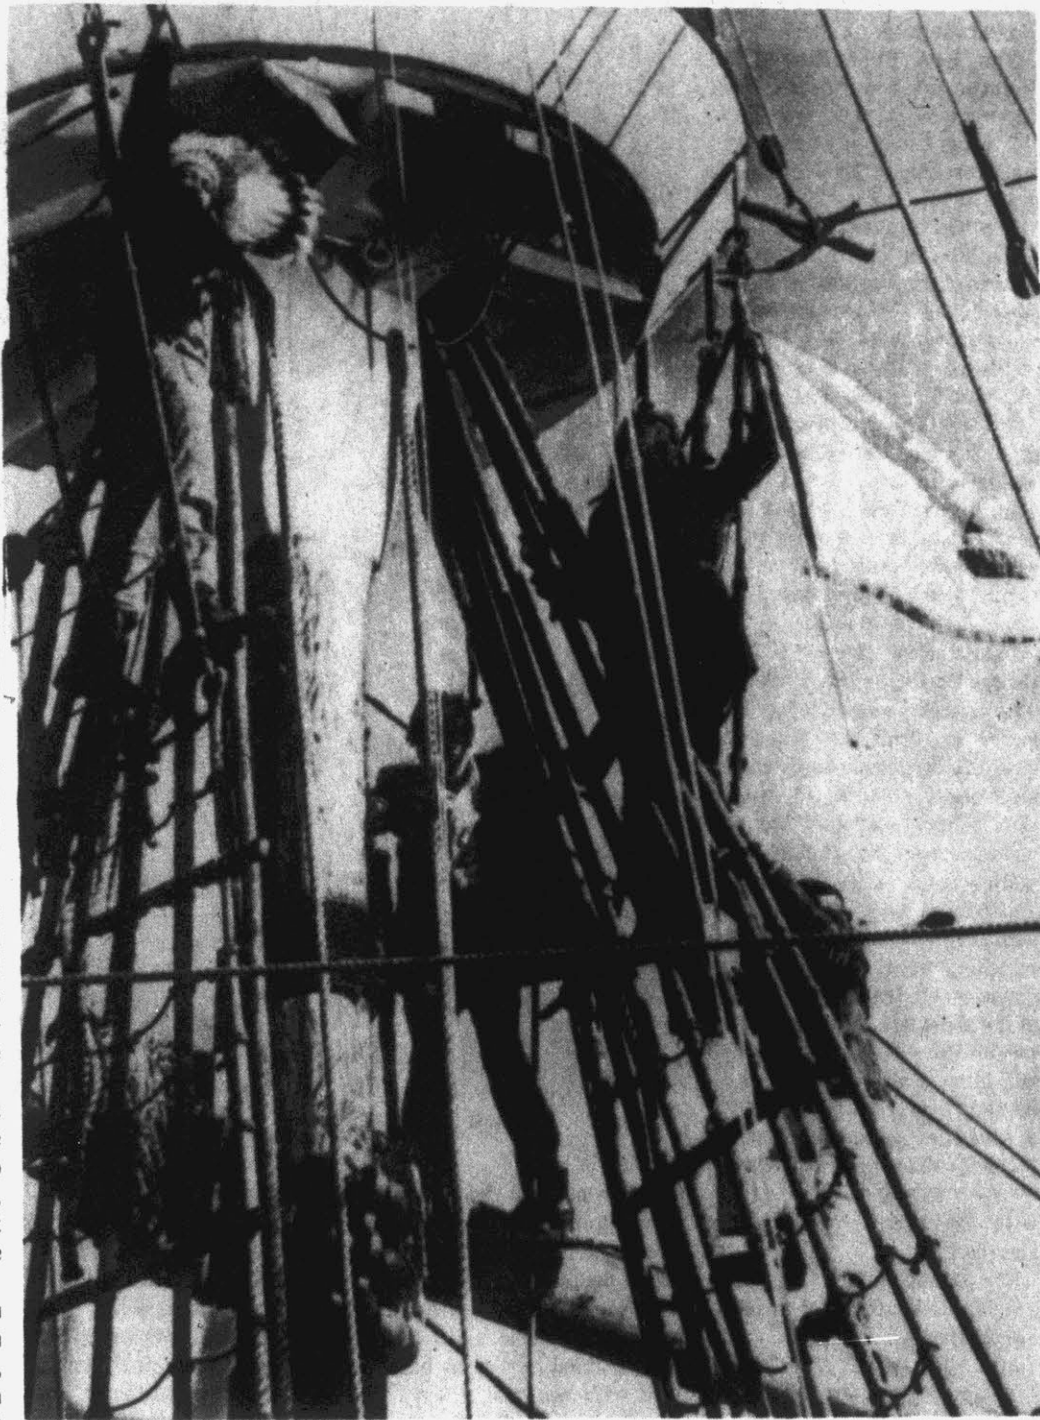

"One Israeli soldier was wounded and a number of terrorists were hit," a Tel Aviv spokesman said.

In Beirut, the Lebanese army command issued a statement saying that an Israeli patrol had infiltrated into an area east of the Hasbani River and clashed with Palestinian guerrillas.

The Palestinian news agency WAFA said only four guerrillas were wounded.

Thanksgiving Day For 10 Children; But Their Mother Wasn't There

MIAMI (AP) — When Inora Wright's 10 children sat down to Thanksgiving dinner, their mother wasn't with them. The woman who worked three jobs as the sole support of her family was shot to death four days before.

Police said Mrs. Wright, 48, and a friend, Isiah Woodside, 24, got in an argument at her home Monday evening. Both reached for a pistol, the gun went off, and Mrs. Wright died on the operating table at Jackson Memorial Hospital a few hours later with a bullet wound in her neck.

Police said they have not yet determined if charges will be filed.

Last July, Mrs. Wright received a $1,500 reward for helping police track down two youths who killed a security guard during a robbery at the Eagle Army-Navy surplus store where she worked.

Actor's Case Illustrates Plight Of Italian Courts

By ODETTE MENGIN
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — A prominent French movie actor has spent 16 months in prison since police arrested him in a friend's house where drugs were found. Seven months of that time elapsed before he even came to trial.

Pierre Clementi filed an appeal nine months ago but his case was not heard despite pleas from a committee of international movie and stage personalities. A date has finally been set for Dec. 6.

The Frenchman's case illustrates the plight of scores of Italians and foreigners arrested on drug charges.

Italy, a stopover on the hard drug trial from the Middle East to America, is punishing possession of narcotics as severely as their sale. Freedom on bail does not exist.

Recently, there has been pressure to revise the 18-year old narcotics law and to consider only drug peddlers as criminals.

Clementi was sentenced last February to two years in jail for possession of drugs. Police found 20 grams of cocaine, several capsules of LSD and pipes containing marijuana in the house of Annamaria Lauricella where the actor was staying. Miss Lauricella also received a two-year sentence.

Clementi denied any knowledge of the drugs. However, the prosecutor described the actor as a known drug user.

Reports circulated that Clementi's health and morale seriously deteriorated during his imprisonment. His lawyer, Paolo Appella, said the actor refused to leave his cell and had rejected all visits, including his lawyer's.

Clementi, 30, was considered one of the most promising young actors in Europe at the time of his arrest. Among his recent film credits was a starring role in "Belle de Jour."

Midwest's Rain And Snow Damaged Crops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Weeks of rain and snow in the Midwest have bogged down what otherwise would have been a good year for cash crops.

The United States Department of Agriculture had estimated that November's corn crop would be 5.4 billion bushels, a 3 per cent increase over 1971 production. The estimate for soybean yield was 1.35 billion bushels, a 15 per cent increase.

Then the rains came. Precipitation in the Chicago area, typical of the Midwest, has been 6.42 inches since Oct. 1, compared to a norm of 4.04 inches, according to the National Weather Service.

The storms have left fields too wet to harvest and unable to bear the weight of heavy farm equipment.

Last year, Warren Langdon's grain elevator in Wabash, Ind., processed 100,000 bushels of soybeans and 150,000 bushels of corn in November. This year, Langdon said, his Richvalley Cooperative Elevator handled 30,000 bushels of corn and just 100 bushels of soybeans through mid-November.

Farm officials in Indiana say corn and soybean farmers lose an estimated $1 million for each day those cash crops go unharvested.

In Minnesota, 18 counties have been declared disaster areas, and the Farm Home Administration has received nearly 2,000 applications for emergency loans from farmers.

The Minnesota Crop and Livestock Reporting Service still estimates the corn crop at 3 per cent above last year and the soybean yield at a whopping 41 per cent above 1971 — if the farmers can get them out of the fields.

In Nebraska, excellent fall harvest weather led to predictions of record corn, soybean, grain sorghum and sugar beet crops. But early last week, a snowstorm dumped up to nine inches on the mature crops, driving sorghum heads to the ground and making them more difficult to harvest.

Some farmers say a freeze would enable them to get their heavy equipment onto the rainsoftened fields. Others say that if the sun shines and the wind blows, the fields may dry enough for a break-even year in all but the most severely damaged areas.

"All we need is some sunshine, three weeks of it," said Milo Thurston, a soybean farmer whose home Pulaski County in southern Illinois has had only nine days of full or partial sunshine in the last six weeks.

Hall-Simmons Vows Said Miss Roberta Lee Langley Weds On Thursday In Ceremony On Thursday

In a formal ceremony Thursday at 3:00 p.m. Miss Roberta Lee Langley became the bride of Marion Hall Jr. in the sanctuary of Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Troy Barrett officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Paul Toll, organist.

The two altar vases were filled to overflowing with white bridal flowers of snapdragons and pom poms flanked by two seventeen brass tree candelabras holding cathedral candles interspersed with wedding greenery.

At the altar was a profile prie-dieu where the bride and bridegroom knelt facing each other for the closing prayer and benediction. The family pews were marked with white bridal satin and tulle tied with stephanotis garlands.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Carl Simmons, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride wore a formal gown of silk organza and alencon lace designed with an A-line skirt, short scalloped sleeves and scoop neckline. The princess bodice was accented with appliques of lace reembrodered with seed pearls. The skirt had matching motifs of lace and the chapel length train was attached at the shoulders with scallops of lace. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace and pearl tiara. She carried a cascade nosegay of white butterfly roses centered with a lavender hybrid orchid and tied with lavender and white streamers.

The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hall Sr. of Greenville.

Mrs. Betty S. Brooks of Raleigh, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a formal length gown of moss green knit designed with a mock dirndle bodice of jersey in a purple, white and orange print. Matching print fabric banded the cuffs of the long sleeves. She wore a double bow headpiece of purple streamers which extended to the floor.

She carried a natural basket filled with seasonal flowers of lavender and purple with a touch of yellow.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lula H. Joyner, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Sandra J. Danies, both of Greenville. Their dresses were identical to that of the matron of honor and they carried similar baskets.

The junior bridesmaid was Miss Lori Garrish of Greenville. She wore a formal length gown of lavender polyester crepe tied at the empire bodice with matching satin ribbon. She wore a double bow headpiece of matching ribbon. She carried a natural basket of yellow and mixed seasonal flowers tied with purple streamers.

Christopher Joyner, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. He carried a white satin pillow with a spray of miniature flowers tied with a white bow. William R. Hall of Greenville, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Ralph H. Brooks Jr. of Raleigh, brother-in-law of the bride, Donald C. Joyner, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Alton P. Stocks, cousin of the bridegroom, and Van Johnson III, all of Greenville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Simmons chose a baby blue coat-dress ensemble with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a mint green two-piece ensemble with matching accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Gentry Mills of Greenville presided at the guest register. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the ladies parlor of the church.

For a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va. the bride changed into a three-piece camel pants suit with matching brown accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her bouquet.

The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of J.H. Rose High School and attended East Carolina University. The bride is employed by Moseley Brothers Inc. and the bridegroom is employed by H. L. Hodges and Co. Inc.

The couple will reside in Greenville.

AYDEN — The marriage of Miss Roberta Lee Langley and William Dalrymple Johnson III was solemnized Thursday afternoon at three o'clock at the First Christian Church. The Rev. James Henry Trader officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wlater James Langley of Ayden and the late Mr. Langley. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Johnson Jr. of Ayden.

A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Virginia Belle Cooper, organist, and Mrs. Thomas Bullock, soloist, who sang "Through the Years," "We've Only Just Begun," and "O Perfect Love."

The chancel of the church was centered with a fifteen branched candelabra interlaced with foliage of jade. Eight branched tree candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli completed the decorations. The couple knelt for the benediction on white satin silhouette prie-dieu. The pews were marked with white bridal bows and greenery.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Lloyd Langley, of Stedman, the bride wore her maternal grandmother's sixty-eight year old wedding dress. The dress is made of imported silk and silk alencon lace. The high neckline, sheerd ruffled yoke, leg-of-mutton sleeves, wide skirt with sheerd ruffle featured the style of the early 1900's.

Her floor length veil was of imported silk illusion completely encircled with alencon lace. The veil of silk illusion fell from a sheerd silk bandeau trimmed with lilies-of-the valley. The bride wore an antique gold wedding bracelet belonging to her grandmother. She carried a white fireside basket of white spider chrysanthemums, lilies-of-the valley, baby's breath, and ivy.

The maid of honor was Miss Sarah F. Johnson, sister of the bridegroom, of Kinston. She wore a formal gown of lilac crepe with leg-of-mutton sleeves accented with ecru Venician lace. Her headdress was lilac illusion trimmed with lilac silk flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Freddie Barrett of Farmville, Mrs. Kenneth Garrish of Grifton, Mrs. Lawrence Speight of New Bern, and Mrs. Charles Fulcher of Wilson. Their dresses and bandeaus were identical to that of the maid of honor.

Miss Leslie Garrish of Grifton and Miss Claire Bullock of Farmville, were flower girls. They wore dresses similar to the bridesmaid's. Their headpieces were of lilac illusion and forget-me-nots with illusion and blossom streamers. They carried white wicker fireside baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The ring bearer was Ken Garrish of Grifton. He carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

William D. Johnson Jr. served as his son's best man. Ushers were Kenneth Garrish of Grifton, Lawrence Speight of New Bern, Ardie Stroud, and Bob Harrington, both of Ayden.

Mrs. Langley chose for her daughter's wedding, an ensemble of rose crepe and lace featuring long sleeves with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom selected an aqua crepe and lace dress featuring a scalloped neckline with empire waistline. She also wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of East Carolina University. Until her marriage she was employed by the Tarboro City Schools.

The bridegroom is a graduate of East Carolina University. He is employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Savannah, Ga.

For traveling, the bride wore a knit cape ensemble of plum with matching accessories.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points the couple will reside in Savannah, Ga.

Reception Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the fellowship hall of the church.

Guests were welcomed by

Mrs. William Shelton and introduced to the receiving line composed of the parents, the bridal couple, and the bride's attendants.

The bride's table was overlaid with a formal lace cloth. The table was centered with lavender and white chrysanthemums flanked with silver candelabra. From opposite ends of the table, Mrs. Kenneth Barnes of Raleigh poured punch. Mrs. C. L. Langley of Union, S.C., and Mrs. Stamey Worthington served the wedding cake.

Mrs. Lloyd Langley of Stedman and Mrs. Ronald Garrish presided over the register. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Decker of Silver Springs, Md.

Pre-nuptial events honoring the Johnson-Langley wedding party and out-of-town guests included an after-rehearsal party held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Johnson Jr. Co-host and hostesses were Miss Sarah Johnson of Kinston and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Garrish.

Prior to the rehearsal a buffet dinner was held at the Ayden Golf and Country Club.

Co-hosts and hostesses were Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Gooding, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Stroud, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gwyn, Mrs. William Shelton, Mrs. Wesley Harvey, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stillman.

Miss Langley and her attendants were entertained at a breakfast given on Nov. 18 by Mrs. F. C. Darden, Mrs. Thomas Bullock, Mrs. Stamey Worthington, and Mrs. Adelaide Barrett at the Shamrock in Farmville.

The Wedding Bells 'Ring;' She Gets Wrong Number

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Wow, this is a problem like I'll bet you've never had before! My fiancé, who I haven't known very long but I know well enough to marry, "surprised" me with a set of rings which he and his mother picked out.

I'm crazy about the guy, but I don't like those rings. They are absolutely nothing like I would have picked out if I had been along. They are so ornate and gaudy. All I wanted was a simple solitaire diamond and a wide golden band. I guess the problem is that when he gave them to me I was so thrilled [not with the rings, but at being officially engaged] I said I "loved" the rings.

Now what am I going to do? Am I stuck with these rings? Or should I wait until he's in a good mood and ask him if he can exchange them for another set? He must have spent a fortune on them.

ENGAGED AND DISAPPOINTED

DEAR ENGAGED: Tell him the truth. But don't wait too long.

DEAR ABBY: I am a grown woman, married for 20 years, and I have had this problem ever since I can remember.

Nobody wants to listen to me! They just want ME to listen to THEM! It seems that whenever I am talking, somebody interrupts me. I make it a point never to interrupt people when they are talking, but I am interrupted all the time. In fact, I'm a very good listener. Abby, I can be right in the middle of a very interesting story and the person to whom I am talking will suddenly turn to someone else and start up a conversation. It is simply infuriating. I am not dull or stupid. I read a lot and have much to contribute to a conversation.

What on earth is the matter with people? Nobody, but absolutely nobody, wants to listen to me. All they want to do is talk themselves. This happens to me even on the telephone.

NOT LISTENED TO

DEAR NOT: If absolutely nobody listens to you, there must be a reason for it. Do you speak distinctly, clearly and in an audible voice? How much do you talk? And do you go into a lot of extraneous detail? Some people can listen to a point—then they become weary. You claim to be a very good listener. Listen to yourself sometimes. If you are interesting, and pause occasionally to give others a chance to talk, you should have no problem.

Don't hesitate to cook a frozen roast in its frozen state. Its eating quality and yield will be comparable to that of a cooked fresh or thawed roast.

Gravesite Thefts Rise

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Charlotte cemetery owners report that they are experiencing an increase in thefts from gravesites.

The robbers seem to specialize in artificial flowers, trees and vases, which are reusable.

Mrs. Bobby Monteith of Charlotte said Thursday that she believes the thieves who steal objects of value from the graves of her husband and son at the city's Sharon Memorial Park aren't youthful vandals.

She said she is convinced the thefts are the work of older persons who resell what they steal.

Mrs. Monteith said they only take expensive items—such as the $30 arrangement she placed on her husband's grave on their anniversary—and items which can be re-used—like the two artificial pine trees that thieves dug up and used wire cutters to free from the spot.

She added that friends who visit graves in Charlotte have experienced similar thefts.

Alumni Will Hold Dinner

Pitt County alumni of East Carolina University will gather Thursday, Nov. 30 in the campus South Dining Hall for a buffet dinner meeting.

Robert C. Young, president of the Pitt County alumni chapter, said the keynote speaker for the event will be Curtis Hendrix, president of the ECU Alumni Association.

He will discuss the alumni tour of Hawaii this past summer, and show color slides taken during the trip. Plans for a 1973 alumni tour will be announced.

Tickets for the dinner are $2.75 each and may be purchased from the Alumni Affairs Office or the campus Central Ticket Office. Mail or telephone orders are encouraged for those who cannot visit the campus personally to buy tickets.

No tickets will be sold at the door, said Young, as the Dining Hall management must know in advance how many persons will be present.

There are more than 50 kinds of bats found in Australia.

Somebody Trying Start Fight?

No doubt it is a matter of concern to the committee which the Universities board of governors set up to study medical education that it is already being second-guessed.

It has been indicated that members of the committee were not happy with speculation in state newspapers that the fight for the ECU medical school would be carried to next year's Legislature. The committee, in fact, came into being because of the ECU request to expand its one year program to two years during the next biennium. The committee is also to study the entire question of medical education, including grants to the two private schools or expansion of the Chapel Hill School.

Yet, before the committee could hardly begin its work one newspaper with close ties to the University system office said there seemed to be no chance that the board of governors will approve expansion of the ECU medical school to two years.

More recently other papers have indicated that there will be a major fight in this year's Legislature for expansion of the medical school.

What frightens us is that maybe these newspapers do have inside information on the thinking of the board. Perhaps minds were already closed before the study committee was appointed and the ECU medical school expansion is in fact, not to be considered on its merits.

We certainly hope this is not the case. The board of governors appointed a committee to make recommendations on this important matter and we have to believe that the representatives on the board will await the full evidence before making a decision.

The fact is that the study committee is now at work on its recommendations. These recommendations will go to the full board for action and if expansion of the ECU school is recommended then it has been indicated that the necessary funds can be made available.

Unless they have inside information, those who speculate that it will be necessary to carry the matter of the ECU medical expansion to the Legislature are themselves bypassing the board of governors. The result could be to start a fight which should not be necessary.

Claims Defeat Due Coat-Tails

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH—State races ought to be run separate from national campaigns to avoid the coat-tail impact of a strong presidential candidate, according to a leading political theorist and practitioner.

President Nixon's pull at the top of the ticket was cited by Walter De Vries as the principal reason North Carolina now is preparing to inaugurate its first Republican governor in 72 years.

Democrat Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles Jr. would have won, insisted De Vries, had his battle with Republican James E. Holzhouser Jr. been decided on its own without the influence of the election of a President and U.S. Senator.

Other post mortem observations on the election by De Vries, a University of Michigan political science professor and a top consultant to the Bowles campaign:

— Issues of change and fresh faces in Raleigh, developed by Bowles in winning the Democratic nomination, rebounded to aid Holzhouser in the general election. "In the end, we were caught in our own campaign themes," remarked De Vries. "Voters who thought it was time for a change went all the way over to the Republican side of the ticket."

No Break On Undecideds — Undecided votes flowed one-way in the final week or 10 days, giving the GOP victory margin. "We thought we'd get an even break on the undecideds, and we didn't," he noted.

— The campaign went on too long. "People were sick of politics before it was over," he said.

De Vries, now a North North Carolina resident, has a national reputation as an opinion research expert and analyst of political trends. He did the polling and gave the advice on media strategy that shaped the Bowles campaign.

To his regret, the outcome demonstrated his theory on the phenomenon of ticket-splitting—that it begins at the top and moves downward.

Though Democratic by tradition and voter registration, North Carolina has counted a rising number of GOP ballots in recent years. President Nixon carried the state in 1968. This year, ticket-splitters also elected a GOP governor and a U.S. Senator.

Winning Streak Broken As a campaign consultant,

De Vries has been on the side of the splitters in the past. The loss was his first, as well as the first time he has worked for a Democratic candidate. The results suggested, he agreed, that in these times it is easier to encourage voters to split than to stick with the party in power.

The De Vries opinion research firm is going to the source to find out what happened at the polls. A survey of voters, soon to be completed, will be made available to the Democratic party as a tool to understand trends and plan for the future, he said.

His own 20-20 hindsight, De Vries said, failed to show anything Bowles did wrong or might have done differently to reverse the verdict. Polls never showed him trailing, although in final weeks a switch of support to Holzhouser became apparent.

Meanwhile, President Nixon was holding steady at nearly 70 per cent and Republican Jesse Helms was gaining about five percentage points per week in the Senate race. "Skipper couldn't take that kind of splitting at the top," De Vries said.

Separate Elections Argument Cross currents between races illustrate the argument for separating elections for state and national offices, De Vries said.

"It makes no sense to mix them up," he contended. "Voters should be allowed to concentrate on each in one election."

Neighboring Virginia is among the states which now vote for a governor and other state offices in the off-year between presidential elections. North Carolina would do well to follow that example, he indicated.

Limits on campaign expenditures, among innovations proposed in the general election aftermath, drew a negative response from De Vries. He described it as a limitation on a candidate's ability to communicate with voters, and an infringement of the constitutional right of free speech.

Spending by Bowles, which went well past the $1 million mark, did not figure as a factor in his defeat, De Vries contended. "When you asked people specifically about the point, very few seemed to be concerned," he reported.

Complete accounting for expenditures and contributions, plus fixing the candidate's personal responsibility for reporting, would be the best approach to follow, De Vries said.

Spending limits simply the incumbent, who has identity and access to the media, while handicapping the political newcomer, who must have exposure, he asserted.

Nixon Devises Direct Control

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Concealed in the forests of Camp David, President Nixon is quietly but stubbornly designing a radically new Federal bureaucracy which will centralize power inside the White House to a degree never before attempted.

Many details await final presidential determination, but the intent of the drastic reorganization has now become inescapably clear: to devise lines of power and authority which will centralize all decision-making in the White House to about the same extent that Henry Kissinger now controls every aspect of foreign policy.

In blueprint form is a proposal to create four or five new Kissinger-type master bureaucrats working directly under the President. They would exercise fully as much control over their old-line departments as Kissinger now exercises over the State Department through the National Security Council (NSC).

What this means is that Mr. Nixon intends to take direct control of the sprawling and often immovable bureaucracy into his own hands, operating through his new master bureaucrats.

The categories of departments, agencies and programs that will be under the supervision of each of the new master bureaucrats has not been decided. Likewise, the enormously complex problem of staffing these NSC-type operations is wide open.

What is not wide open is Mr. Nixon's intention to use Kissinger's extraordinarily effective NSC operation as the prototype for gaining real White House control over the huge domestic agencies and make them more responsive to his own personal command.

One predictable result of this: a further decline in the Cabinet, a process started under President Kennedy and accelerated under Mr. Nixon. The President complains to intimates that he does not have the time or inclination to deal directly with the 11 members of his Cabinet. His first term made that insultingly clear to Walter Hickel, fired as Secretary of the Interior, and George Romney, now resigning after four unhappy years as Secretary of the Housing and Urban Development Department.

Thus, the new blueprint fits Mr. Nixon's well-known distaste for dealing directly with officials outside the White House, making the White House Oval Office off-limits to mere Cabinet members. Dealings with the Cabinet—at least until Congress approves the basic reorganization plan it has refused to consider thus far—will be held to a minimum.

That March 1971 reorganization plan would have taken seven of the present 11 Cabinet-level departments and regrouped them into four conglomerate departments dealing with human resources, natural resources, economic affairs and community development. Only the State, Defense, Justice and Treasury departments would have survived, reducing Cabinet-level departments to eight.

Some such functional regrouping is still a key part of the President's second-term reorganization plans. With or without congressional consent, say White House aides, Mr. Nixon feels he can accomplish the purpose of his March 1971 plan.

Accordingly, the new Kissinger-type master

Explaining The Holiday

WASHINGTON — As has been our custom through the ages, we always honor Thanksgiving Day by explaining it to the French people, who through no fault of their own, have no holiday to compare with it.

One of our most important holidays is Thanksgiving

Day, known in France as le jour de merci donnant. "Le jour de merci donnant" was first started by a group of Pilgrims (pelerins) who fled from l'Angleterre before the McCarran Act to found a colony in the New World (le nouveau monde) where they could shoot Indians (les Peaux-Rouges) and eat turkey (dinde) to their heart's content. They landed at a place called Plymouth (now a famous voiture Americaine) in a wooden sailing ship called the Mayflower (or Fleur de Mai) in 1920. But while the pelerins were killing the dindes, the Peaux-Rouges were killing the pelerins, and there were several hard winters ahead for both of them. The only way the Peaux-Rouges helped the pelerins was when they taught them to grow corn (mais.). The reason they did this was because they liked corn with their pelerins.

Other Editors Say Bureaucracy Battle

(The Wilson Times)

President Nixon, who pledged in 1968 to end the war in South Vietnam now seems to have the achievement within his grasp although there could be a slip 'twixt cup and lip.

Now, Nixon has declared another war. The "enemy" this time is a bloated federal bureaucracy — quite a formidable foe, as other presidents have learned.

Although the President has lopped 200,000 civilians off government payrolls during the past four years, civilian personnel costs in the fiscal year that began in July will total $35 billion for a record 2.7 million workers.

Nixon laid the groundwork for this new "war" during his first term. He proposed merger of seven Cabinet departments into four superagencies, but the plan was buried in Congress.

To avoid a repetition, the presidential panel that devised the defeated merger is back at the White House with the objective of coming up with a plan that won't require congressional approval.

A basic feature of the President's strategy is to shake up the Cabinet and sub-cabinet. As a preliminary step he has requested pro forma resignations for most of the 18,000 political appointees in government, including his own White House staff.

Prime targets for wholesale head-lappings are said to be the departments of state, defense, housing and health, education and welfare.

Efforts at reducing the federal bureaucracy are no new story. In the past, cuts have only been temporary, and within a short period, "severed" federal employees were back on the job and additional personnel were being hired.

Nixon is a more determined man than some of his predecessors — more prone to pursue an objective with bulldog tenacity. On the other hand, he faces an opposition Congress, many bureaucrats enjoy civil service protection, and there are some 3,000 government-employee bargaining units to be dealt with.

In spite of the President's skill at maneuvering to win his way, he faces an uphill fight and the "smart money" is on the bureaucrats.

In 1623, after another harsh year, the pelerins' crops were so good that they decided to have a celebration and give thanks because more mais was raised by the pelerins than pelerins were killed by Peaux-Rouges.

Every year on the jour de merci donnant, parents tell their children an amusing story about the first celebration.

It concerns a brave capitaine named Miles Standish (known in France as kilometres Deboutish) and a young, shy lieutenant named Jean Alden. Both of them were in love with a flower of Plymouth called Priscilla Mullens (no translation). The vieux capitaine said to the jeune lieutenant:

"Go to the damsel Priscilla, the loveliest maiden of Plymouth (la plus jolie demoiselle de Plymouth). Say that a blunt

Year-End Rally Possibly Here

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is this the "yearend rally" that is pushing the stock market into record high ground? It depends upon how you define the term, but by at least one definition this seems to be the case.

The broadest perimeters of the yearend rally are October and January, the narrowest are the four final days of December into the first two of January.

If you prefer to use the broad definition, this is indeed the yearend rally. Since 1949, the final quarter of the year, from Oct. 1 to January, the stock market has failed to advance in only two years.

What causes the rally? For one thing, a lot of portfolio-shifting by institutions as they discard poor performers and buy others — and more. In addition, a lot of pension fund money descends upon the market at this time.

Evidence of the yearend rally is even more pronounced by restricting the boundaries to only November and December.

In each month, the records show, the average gain has been 1.7 per cent, compared with the next best months of April and July, each with gains of 1.5 per cent.

By the narrowest definition, the yearend rally this year will occur from the day after Christmas to the day after New Year's. Only three times in the past 20 years has it failed to develop.

That is why Yale Hirsch, who compiles the Stock Trader's Almanac, which supplied these figures, calls it the Santa Claus rally.

You might think it has something to do with the Christmas spirit — and to an extent it does — but the most widely accepted reason is that it has a lot to do with tax switching. In addition, it is the time for bonuses, for resolutions, for a new commitment to goals.

Whatever the reason, the odds are that the yearend rally will show itself this year if you keep the definition broad enough. In any mass activity such as the market you can find patterns if you look hard enough.

This year, however, one of those analysts who remains confident about yearend expectations is becoming a bit suspicious that the Federal Reserve Board is going to endanger the market in months to follow.

John Wright, the head of Wright Investors' Service, which has as customers hundreds of bank trusts, notes that the Fed has been restricting the money supply at a time when he claims the expanding economy demands more.

Realism About Shakeup

By LEWIS GULICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department's top administrative officer says improvements are needed in the government's foreign-affairs machinery. He said the U.S. diplomatic corps already has been cut to a lean level.

"We are not dismayed" by the prospects of change as President Nixon looks into potential federal reforms, said William B. Macomber, deputy undersecretary of State for management.

"Everyone in or out of the State Department who wants to see some progress should welcome this," he said.

And in disputing charges that "we are too fat overseas," he said secret studies show that only 13 per cent of U.S. officials assigned abroad are working for the State Department.

Macomber spoke in an interview as Nixon's continuing review of the executive branch sent rumor waves across Washington.

There has been speculation of impending shifts in top government posts, of shakeups in the various agencies, of job cuts and—in the foreign-affairs establishment—of streamlining to tighten executive control over far-flung federal activities on the international scene.

One frequent conversation piece in the capital is Henry A. Kissinger's prominent foreign-policy role as a presidential adviser, and whether William P. Rogers will stay on as secretary of State.

Macomber, a Republican who has submitted his change-of-term resignation along with other presidential appointees, saw the issue not as who holds what post but as one of adapting to the increased complexities of a modern world.

"This is an infinitely more profound problem than the President and the government is struggling with than simply personalities—Kissinger versus Rogers or whatever," Macomber said.

Macomber said the State Department itself has been developing ideas over the past four years, aimed partly at speeding up its responses to presidential needs while still carrying out the look-at-all-aspects function of professional diplomats.

He said these include sorting out government priorities and using modern communications systems to get the department's product to the White House "in time to do the president some good."

As for the multiplication of U.S. agencies now doing business overseas—ranging from the narcotics bureau to the Smithsonian Institution—Macomber said such activities are warranted by the expanded range of international contacts today.

But he strongly denied that the State Department, whose employment rolls he said had been cut one-fifth over the past four years, has a "swollen bureaucracy" at home or abroad.

Macomber said the State Department is now the smallest of the regular federal departments, with a total of about 10,000 Americans on the payroll at home and abroad and with a budget this year of nearly $600 million.

"We are about the size of the Library of Congress," he said.

Strength For Today

TRUE SUCCESS Achievement is thrilling. Defeat is depressing. Mediocre achievement is, to say the least, disappointing. Yet the lives of most of us are a conglomerate, as it were, of a few victories, a few stunning defeats, and year after year of mediocre accomplishment.

Yet this is not defeating, and should not be, if we have the right spirit supporting us. Some people come to the end of a successful business career with a feeling of failure. Others come to retirement without any great achievement and yet are filled with the assurance of a job well done. What we need to get out of our minds is the conviction that we were made to fulfill that divine destiny. Well over ninety-nine per cent of the men and women of this wonderful country of ours die without having achieved much distinction. Some have to be taken care of by more "successful" members of their family. Others are thrown upon the resources of the state. We never can tell with any accuracy what a person's success in life has been by looking at his bank balance.

Success is an illusory and baffling matter, not to be judged by any one standard save that we are sons and daughters of the living God and as such should behave accordingly. One aspect of our life is spiritual, the other physical. They must be made to work together if we are to be successful in any true sense of the term.

bureaucrats would be given jurisdictions inside the White House roughly paralleling the 1971 reorganization, with responsibilities cutting across existing departments and agencies just as Kissinger's own responsibilities routinely cut into the State, Defense, and Treasury departments.
That would abolish the Domestic Council, created with high hopes in 1970 under John Ehrlichman, Mr. Nixon's top domestic policy adviser. Ehrlichman himself concedes to intimates that the council has been an abysmal failure for one reason: the reach of its jurisdiction across the whole range of domestic affairs, from poverty to peanuts, was far beyond its grasp.
The new plan being worked over at Camp David would split the council into manageable units, each of them under one Kissinger-type master bureaucrat.
With these White House super-aides no more answerable to Congress, than Kissinger himself, the President's drastic reorganization is certain to collide with the Democrats who control Capitol Hill. But Mr. Nixon seems more than willing to risk that encounter in trying to achieve his real goal: a Federal bureaucracy responsive to Mr. Nixon.

CAN WE WORK TOGETHER?

In our town a factory employs most of us. But we live under the pall of smoky chemical fumes.

Both labor and management attend our church—and they are concerned about pollution and our environment. They know it is a human dilemma. We must have jobs; we must have the products we make. And taxes from the factories support schools, clinics and public works. These are realities.

But we cannot continue destroying in the process of creating. It is God's world and we are the caretakers. That's also a reality.

As Christians we will seek the answer under God in His Church. We will work together and build a better world. Will you be in church next Sunday?

NOTICE
NORTH CAROLINA
PITT COUNTY
The following described lands and timber will be offered for sale to the highest bidder for cash by the undersigned at the door of the Pitt County Courthouse, Greenville, North Carolina, at twelve o'clock, noon, on Friday, December 1, 1972, with such sales being subject to the conditions hereinafter stated.
The lands are generally described as being located on the Smith Road (N.C. Secondary Road No. 1212) at or near Site "C", Voice of America, in Arthur Township, Pitt County, containing approximately 79.06 acres, including approximately 29 acres of cropland and the balance being woodland in two tracts. This farm has two tobacco barns in good condition and includes two sets of tobacco burners: one pack barn (or tenant house).
This farm is identified by Pitt County ASCS Farm Serial No. C-4636 and the 1972 crop allotments were 13 acres corn base, 1.1 acres cotton and 3.32 acres of tobacco, with base poundage of 6,693 pounds.
All timber upon said farm will first be offered for sale to the highest bidder for cash with the timber to be clean-cut (including pulpwood) with the buyer to have one year to cut and remove all such timber. The land will then be offered for sale to the highest bidder for cash and the highest bidder or bidder at this sale will be immediately notified at the sale whether their bid is accepted.
This sale will be free and clear of any and all liens and encumbrances, including Ad Valorem Taxes for 1972 and the highest bidder will be required to make a deposit of 10 per cent of his bid if his bid is accepted and thereafter be given thirty days time within which time to complete the transaction.
The timber land and the farm may be inspected by any prospective bidder by contacting Mark Smith, Telephone 752-7877, Greenville, North Carolina.

Stock And Market Reports

(Raleigh)—(NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today are mostly steady to .75 higher. Tops of 28.50-29.00 in Rocky Mount; 27.50-28.50 in Tarboro; 29.00 in Mount Olive; 27.75 in (Raleigh)—(NCDA)—The North Carolina Poultry market today is mostly firm on heavy type hens. Supplies adequate and demand good. Too few sources reporting to release prices.

NEW YORK (AP) — Blue-chips strengthened today, but trading was slow due to the absence of many investors who were on an extended Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 2.04 to 1022.58.

Declines and advances were running about even among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Robert Stovall, research director for Reynolds Securities Inc., said the market had a number of excuses to embark on profit-taking — which he said was overdue after the market's sharp rise — including the increased margin minimum cash requirements and the pause in the Paris cease-fire negotiations.

"However, the volume is light, and the market is almost on even keel, which communicates a message of overt plus latent power," Stovall said.

Steels, utilities, metals, and oils showed strength, while motors and airlines were weak.

Westinghouse was active and up 1 1/4 to 44 1/2. The company was chosen as the lead reactor maker for the nation's first big demonstration breeder nuclear electric power plant.

The New York Stock Exchange index of more than 1,400 common stocks was off .01 to 63.93 at noon. On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was up .01 at 26.29.

New Jersey began selling daily lottery tickets today, becoming the first of six Northeastern states with lotteries to take on their major competition, organized crime, in dollar-to-dollar combat.

For the first time since the modern public lottery began in New Hampshire in 1964, lottery officials hope to make their system competitive with the illegal numbers racket.

The first of New Jersey's daily drawings will be on Wednesday and daily lotteries should be in operation in the other five states by next spring. The main objective for the states is to raise revenues, but the motive is even more basic. Gov. William T. Cahill of her children to a better home.

"Inora tried raising those children under the most extremely trying circumstances," said Miami Beach Police Chief Rocky Pomerance, who employed Mrs. Wright as a week-end maid. "She wanted a decent home for her kids."

"She was a fine woman who got involved and did the right thing."

Police said that Mrs. Wright received threatening and malicious telephone calls for months after she helped police find the slayers.

Her youngest child, daughter Jackie, 10, also witnessed the guard's killing and was attacked and beaten with a pipe.

"I don't remember much of that," Jackie said. "Mamma said we should do the right thing, so we told police. Mamma said we should always do the right thing, no matter what."

Abraham Rahming, manager of the store where Mrs. Wright worked as a cashier for four years, said she was a "back-breakingly hard worker."

In addition to her job at the store and her weekend work as a maid, Mrs. Wright also worked as a babysitter to make ends meet, Rahming said.

The children, eight girls and two boys, had Thanksgiving dinner Thursday at a friend's house, and police said they would now live in the custody of Bobby Wright, 30, oldest of Mrs. Wright's children.

Jackie went to the store where her mother used to work to wish everyone a happy Thanksgiving.

She told customers and employees about the big meal she and her brothers and sisters were going to have. Then she added, "But mama won't be there."

New Jersey said his state — in addition to continuing its weekly lottery which eventually culminates in a $1 million drawing — will offer a 26-to-1 chance of winning on the daily tickets.

"We know of no other lottery — legal or illegal — now in existence that can match those odds," he said. "Even if you lose, your money is going for a good purpose, rather than an evil purpose."

There is yet another reason for the daily drawings: the hopes of state officials to sustain the public's interest in lotteries.

New Hampshire began with a schedule of several drawings a year and sold $3 tickets. The initial response was good, but Sweepstakes officials soon found that the system needed constant revision and special drawings to spark a renewed public interest.

New York climbed on the lottery bandwagon in 1967. Within the past two years, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts joined the ranks.

As the competition between states grew stiffer, new twists and exotic prizes were added.

Semiannual drawings became monthly, biweekly and weekly drawings. Ticket prices were cut to 50 cents and top prizes varied from $1 million cash to $50,000 a year for life.

Officials say the weekly lottery has proven the most popular because lower ticket prices and weekly payoffs are more attractive to the bettor. Still, state lotteries failed to make an appreciable dent in the take of the numbers game.

"It would appear to me that, for the lottery to have any substantial impact on the illegal numbers business, you would need a drawing every day," said Edward F. Harrington, head of the Justice Department's Organized Crime Strike Force in New England.

Ann-Margret Is Planning Return

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress-singer Ann-Margret is rehearsing for an opening next Tuesday in Las Vegas which will be her first appearance after recovering from injuries from a fall during a performance.

The Swedish-born beauty recently had the wires removed from her jaw and a plaster cast taken from her left arm.

She suffered facial bone fractures, including a broken jaw, a broken arm and a broken knee cap in the 30-foot fall before the curtain went up on her nightclub act nine weeks ago at Lake Tahoe, Nev.

six states are pleased with the results to date.

While the lotteries roll on in the Northeast, Michigan holds the first drawing of its new state lottery today and several other states are investigating the possibility of getting into the field.

"A drawing only once a week stimulates the bettor to deal with his bookmaker the other six days a week."

In general, law enforcement authorities who commented agreed that the original lotteries could not hurt organized crime because they did not offer the simplicity, action and aura of illegal numbers.

Regardless of whether the lotteries become an effective tool in the fight against illegal gambling, budget officials in

Arrest Man In Marijuana Raid

Greenville police officers and Pitt County ABC enforcement agents raided a Play Meadows dwelling Wednesday night and arrested a man after finding two bags of marijuana concealed in his car.

Chief Glenn Cannon said Barry Glenn Maxwell, 23, of 14 Play Meadows was charged with possessing marijuana with intent to distribute and placed under $2,500 bond after about 40 grams of the illegals "grass" was found in his car.

Maxwell was identified as being a student at Pitt Technical Institute.

The raid was conducted about 9 p.m.

"I am a maker of war (je suis un fabricant de la guerre) and not a maker of phrases. You, bred as a scholar (vous, qui etes pain comme un student), can say it in elegant language, such as you read in your books of the pleadings and wooings of lovers, such as you think best adapted to win the heart of the maiden."

Although Jean was fit to be tied (convenable a etre emalle), friendship prevailed over love and he went to his duty. But instead of using elegant language, he blurted out his mission. Priscilla was muted with amazement and sorrow (rendue muette par l'etonnement et la tristesse).

At length she exclaimed, interrupting the ominous silence: "If the great captain of Plymouth is so very eager to wed me, why does he not come himself and take the trouble to woo me?" (Ou est-il; le vieux Kilometres? Pourquoi ne vient-il pas aupres de moi pour tenter sa chance?)

Jean said that Kilometres Deboutish was very busy and didn't have time for those things. He staggered on, telling what a wonderful husband Kilometres would make. Finally Priscilla arched her eyebrows and said in a tremulous voice: "Why don't you speak for yourself, Jean?" (a chacun son gout).

And so, on the fourth Thursday in November, American families sit down at a large table brimming with tasty dishes, and for the only time during the year eat better than the French do.

No one can deny that le jour de merci donnait is a grand fete and no matter how well fed American families are, they never forget to give thanks to Kilometres Deboutish who made this great day possible.

Bucs Go 'Bowling' Against Tar Heels

Linebacker Jim Post

Michigan, Ohio State In Battle

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Even before the dust has a chance to settle in Lincoln, Neb. following Thursday's Big Eight triumph by Oklahoma's Sooners over the defending national champion Nebraska Cornhuskers, a couple of Big Ten teams are expected to raise some dust of their own Saturday in Columbus, Ohio.

That's where third-ranked Michigan, 10-0, will square off against ninth-rated Ohio State, 8-1, in a game which will decide the Big Ten championship and also the league's representative for the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl against No. 1 Southern Cal.

"The team that makes the least mistakes has the best chance of winning," declared Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler, logically enough. "We've got to play out best game, and we expect Ohio State to play its best."

The Wolverines have already clinched a share of the Big Ten title, with a 7-0 mark, but need either a win or a tie Saturday to gain the Rose Bowl berth. If Ohio State wins the nationally televised contest, the Buckeyes will tie Michigan for the Big Ten crown and earn the trip to Pasadena.

Oklahoma, meanwhile, gained a measure of revenge by coming from a 14-0 deficit to defeat Nebraska 17-14. In last year's Turkey Day classic, No. 1 Nebraska outscored No. 2 Oklahoma 35-31 at Norman, Okla. and went on to the national championship. The visiting team won again this year, as the fourth-ranked Sooners toppled the fifth-ranked Cornhuskers, who had been favored by about a touchdown.

Defenses dominated the first half, with the only score coming as a result of a fumble. Oklahoma's Kenneth Pope couldn't handle a Nebraska punt, the Cornhuskers recovered, and went on to score on a 14-yard run by Bill Olds.

Another fumbled punt set up Nebraska's other touchdown. In the third period, Jerry List of Nebraska took the ball away from Oklahoma's Joe Wylie on the Sooner 24, and Dave Goeller scored from the one.

Then Oklahoma quarterback Dave Robertson went to a weapon the Sooners did not have to use very much in their first nine games—the forward pass.

With the Cornhuskers keeping Oklahoma's nationally top-ranked rushing attack in check, Robertson took to the air to spark a 76-yard scoring drive that took 11 plays. He then connected with freshman Tinker Owens—brother of former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens—on a 22-yard scoring pass to tie the score 14-14.

A fumble by Nebraska QB Dave Humm set up Rick Fulcher's game-winning field goal in the final period. Oklahoma's Derland Moore recovered on the Nebraska 27, and four plays later Fulcher split the uprights from 41 yards out to give Oklahoma the victory.

In the other big Turkey Day battle, Cotton Bowl-bound Texas overpowered traditional rival Texas A&M 38-3 as quarterback Alan Lowry threw his first touchdown pass of the season and ran for two more scores to lead the Longhorns to victory in the Southwest Conference game.

With Texas trailing 3-0, Lowry connected with Jimmy Moore on passes of 39 and 29 yards to set up touchdowns.

It would seem that after all the hard work, druggery, pain and sorrow of a long football season that having a 9-1 year going into the final game would have proven something.

Apparently it has not. For Saturday afternoon, the young men who make up the East Carolina University football team have to prove something else—that they are a team deserving of a bowl bid, even though there is no chance that they will get one.

The Pirates, after forging that 9-1 season, their best since 1965, won the Southern Conference championship, their first without a tie. They felt they deserved a bowl bid in a chance for some post-season honors. The Tangerine Bowl was interested, but it proved to be not interested enough.

So there will be no bowl bid for the Pirates. Whether they were

Keydets Might Escape Cellar

by WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
(One of a series)

Two years ago, when Virginia Military Institute had the best freshman team in years, the Keydets got ambitious and decided to play a tough schedule by the time these youngsters reached their junior year.

That is this year. Things haven't quite come around like Mike Schueler, then the VMI coach planned. But he wasn't worried. "Some other dumb s.o.b. will be the head coach here by then," he told assistant Bill Blair. Blair thought it was going to be a big joke on whoever that might be.

But when Schueler left at the end of last year, Blair was upped to the head coaching position. "And it looks like I'm that dumb s.o.b.," he said.

Things are looking brighter for the Keydets, however, and this may be the year that they escape from the Southern Conference cellar.

"We have almost everyone back," Blair said. "Our leading scorer, our rebounder and one of the finest guards in the conference. And we have some depth too."

The top returnee is the smallest man on the team, 5-10, 147-pound David Lester, a junior. He averaged 9.3 points a game last year, but his worth is more than just his scoring. He's a fine defensive ball player and one of the best ball-handlers in the league.

"We went after guards in recruiting, and we got a couple we think are going to be pretty good," Blair said. They are 6-1, 160 pound Gordie Rawlwk and 6-0, 180-pound Curt Reppart.

Another freshman coming in is 6-6, 190-pound Tom Watjen. "Watjen is a fine shooter, and could get into the lineup during the year," Blair said. "One of the guards, I don't know which one now, probably will be a starter."

At the post position, the top candidate is sophomore Steve Chapin, a 6-7, 215-pounder. "He's a tough, strong, mean kid" the coach said. "He is going to help us a great deal."

Chapin's top opposition will probably come from Fred Allison, 6-7, 225-pound senior; Bob Benninger, 6-6, 200-pound junior; or Bob Frank, a 6-6 200-pound junior.

Out on the wings, it'll be Charlie Tyler, a 6-4, 205-pound junior, who led the scoring with a 12.6 average last year. "He could be real good if he could get consistent," Blair said.

Joining him will be 6-5, 180-pound junior Steve Wolf. "He is a great leaper, and potentially might be our greatest player," the coach said.

Blair feels that he has one thing in his favor — quickness. "We'll be the quickest team in the conference," he said. "We are going to make up for it with the quickness."

Blair said that the Keydets would be running and pressing more. "I'll be a lot more wide open," he promised. "This may hurt us early, but we'll be very representative later in the year."

He also feels that the Keydets will have an improved shooting percentage and that will go a long way toward solving some of the VMI problems.

"We've had a difficult time in VMI recently in getting our program going again. We're going to be going after big people in our recruiting this year, and I feel that we're just a big player away from being a good basketball team," Blair said.

"If we can run, we can win," he said. "Because our limited height, we'll have to get our breaks off the press since we won't be able to get much off the boards. From game to game, this may change, but I can't say for sure how."

For now however, VMI will be happy to get out of the cellar. Then maybe next year....

felt unworthy is immaterial. Three North Carolina teams are headed for bowl games. East Carolina has a chance to win Saturday in Chapel Hill against North Carolina. If they do, they'll finish with a 10-1 record, the best of any team in the state—and they'll sit at home over the holidays while the rest play in the bowls.

It all boils down to pride. The Pirates want to beat North Carolina for one reason. To show the officials of the Tangerine Bowl, and perhaps the officials of some others that they made a mistake.

But it isn't going to be an easy task to beat the Tar Heels. Nobody in the Atlantic Coast Conference has been able to do so for two years as Billy Dooley has guided his team to two straight Atlantic Coast Conference titles.

For all practical purposes, the game is for the championship of North Carolina. The champion of the ACC and the Southern clash for it. It's East Carolina's version of the Super Bowl.

"It's the greatest challenge of the year for us," Buc Coach Sonny Randle said. "North Carolina is the best team any East Carolina team has ever faced."

Randle feels that the Tar Heels have all the right combinations. "They just don't have any weaknesses," he said. "They are so deep in every position. They are so strong, so physical, so everything. It just awes you to think about it."

"We're going to have to play our best ball game—a perfect ball game. We just can't afford to make any mistakes against them. Carolina will also have to be down, and I just can't foresee that happening. They have too much pride to be down."

But probably the thing that worries Randle the most is the attitude of his players. They were crushed when they were overlooked in the bowl-picking. From the lowest depth of the season, they have to come to the highest in just over four days.

The reaction from the Pirates may be stronger than earlier hoped, since they now have something to really fight for—recognition.

"This is our bowl game—as Bill Dooley pointed out," Randle said. "It's for the state championship. And the two best teams in the state are playing for it."

Randle has the greatest respect for the Tar Heels, pointing to their 8-1 record going into the game. The Tar Heels have lost only to strong Ohio State, 29-14. They've rolled over Richmond, Maryland, N.C. State, Kentucky, Wake Forest, Clemson, Virginia, and Duke. They have one more date left after the Pirates, meeting Florida on December 9. After that, it's the Sun Bowl for the Tar Heels.

Quarterback Nick Vidnovic is the leading ground gainer for the Tar Heels, picking up 764 through the air, and 140 on the ground for a total of 904 yards. He's hit on 50 of 110 passes, but has had only four intercepted this year.

The leading rusher is halfback Ike Oglesby, who's rushed for 521 yards in 112 carries. Billy Hite, another halfback had 448 yards, while Sammy Johnson had 319 and Tim Kirkpatrick has 313 running from the flanker position.

Vidnovic's leading receiver is Jimmy Jerome, a wing back, who caught 18 for 272 yards. Ken Taylor had 16 for 214 and Earle Bethea had 11 for 236.

East Carolina, meanwhile, is led by Carl Summerell, its quarterback, who has picked up 1,575 yards so far. He's rushed for 393 yards and passed for 1,182, hitting 78 of 176, with 11 picked off. He's thrown for a school record tying 12 touchdowns. Carlester Crumpler who has already snapped the school record for rushing is the top man on the ground. He's picked up 1,174 yards and needs only 112 to break the Southern Conference's single year mark. He also need only two touchdowns to break the school and conference scoring records for a year.

Defensively, the Tar Heels have allowed 149.4 yards per game rushing as compared to 90.5 for the Pirates. Through the air, the Bucs have given up 134.0 yards a game, compared to 148.6 for Carolina.

The Tar Heels have scored 222 points in nine games as compared to 250 for the Bucs in 10. East Carolina has allowed 134 while the Heels have given up 139.

So Saturday afternoon it all comes together. For Carolina there is nothing to gain except a win. For the Bucs, it's their "bowl" title.

Final Battle For The Title

There's quite a battle going on at the top and the bottom of the standings as our predictions column goes into its final week of the season.

Jack Whichard is holding a one-game edge over Sandra Spivey for first place. Jack's record last week of 8-4 lost ground on Sandra, who was 9-3. That closed the gap between them to 103-28 for Jack and 102-29 for Sandra. So this week will decide the championship.

At the bottom of the pile, George Holland had a 9-3 week, bringing his record to 92-39, while John Trotman was 8-4, and is just one game ahead, 93-38.

Unfortunately, I'm not much better. My 8-4 week left me with a 94-37 record and in jeopardy of being caught myself.

Tom Baines appears to be the safest. He was 8-4, and is 97-34 going into this final week. Apparently he'll finish in third.

The biggest game of the week, of course, is the East Carolina-North Carolina contest. It's ECU's only chance at a bowl game since they were overlooked, and this just might be the biggest asset they have going for them.

The Tar Heels haven't lost to an ACC team in two years, and Lord only knows when they've lost to a Southern Conference team. But it stacks up as the championship, not only of North Carolina, but of Virginia and South Carolina and Maryland too, since the two conferences cover these areas.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

North Carolina, of course, has faced the tougher schedule, and has come out on top, with an 8-1 record. The Pirates, however, may have come further, since they weren't even figured to have a winning season, let alone win the conference title and have only one loss going into this game.

Emotion could play a big role in the outcome.

But the panel isn't very emotional. Two weeks ago, all but Jack and I picked William & Mary to win over the Bucs. Jack and I proved right. This week, it's nearly the same. Everyone is picking the Tar Heels—except me.

And I'm keeping my fingers crossed that I'll be the only one right.

Clemson-USC A Toss-Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Clemson and South Carolina will be seeking to soften the disappointment of losing seasons in their 70th football meeting Saturday.

South Carolina has a better record, 4-6 against 3-7, but Clemson has the home-field advantage and the game is considered a toss-up.

South Carolina upset Florida State 24-21 last week and knocked the Seminoles out of the Peach Bowl.

However, Clemson has a 16-point victory over Virginia, which defeated South Carolina.

Clemson runs from the wishbone and split backfield formations.

The ground attack is led by fullback Wade Hughes, second leading rusher in the Atlantic Coast Conference with 735 yards and four touchdowns. However, the Tigers also have a passing attack. Quarterback Ken Pengitore has passed for 798 yards.

South Carolina quarterback Dobby Grossman has thrown for 837 yards and 11 touchdowns. And Tailback Jay Lynn Hodgins has rushed for 584 yards and seven touchdowns. Both are sophomores.

Atlantic Coast Conference teams will play three other games Saturday, also against outsiders. League champion North Carolina is home to East Carolina, the Southern Conference champion. Wake Forest plays its last game under Coach Tom Harper, who is being dismissed in his first year after a losing season. The Deacons are home to Virginia Tech. And Maryland is at Miami, Fla. in a night game. Maryland, 5-4-1, will have a chance for its first winning season in 10 years.

Then there will be one more regular-season game, on Dec. 9 when North Carolina plays Florida at Jacksonville, and two bowl games.

North Carolina, 8-1, plays Texas Tech, 8-2, in the Sun Bowl Dec. 30 at El Paso, Tex.

ACC runnerup North Carolina State, 7-3-1, will play West Virginia, 8-3, Dec. 29 in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta.

In its first game after the announcement that Harper would be dismissed, an inspired Wake Forest team upset Duke 9-7 two weeks ago to clinch the league title for North Carolina.

Redskins Benefit From 31-10 Defeat Of Dallas

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — George Allen and his Washington Redskins, sitting all comfy in their living rooms, were the recipients of a Thanksgiving Day present from San Francisco, which shattered a succession of jinxes with a 31-10 rout of defending Super Bowl champion Dallas.

Of course, the 49ers had purely selfish motives as they surged a half game ahead of Los Angeles in the National Conference West with the sweet victory on a 6-4-1 record.

However, the Redskins can clinch the host spot in the NFC East with victories in two out of their last four games, leaving the Cowboys to scramble for the "wild card" berth.

Dallas is 8-3 and 1½ games behind the Redskins. The "wild card" spot in the National Football League playoffs is given to the division runnerup with the best record. Right now, that's Dallas in the NFC.

In Thursday's other NFL clash, Detroit quarterback Greg Landry tossed for one touchdown and scored two others on quarterback sneaks as the Lions beat the New York Jets 37-20. The expected passing duel between Landry and New York's Joe Namath never materialized as three players broke 100 yards rushing—Albie Taylor of the Lions and John Riggins and Cliff McClain of the Jets.

Taylor scored on a 38-yard touchdown run with 1:49 left after linebacker Charlie Weaver intercepted a Namath pass.

San Francisco linebacker Skip Vanderbunt ran 73 yards with a recovered fumble and 21 yards with an intercepted pass for touchdowns and quarterback Steve Spurrier turned in a poised performance as the 49ers blasted the Cowboys.

It was the first victory for 49er Coach Dick Nolan over Landry, his former boss and old teammate, and marked the first time in 15 games Dallas had lost in Texas Stadium, its plush $21 million football palace.

With Dallas leading 7-0 and driving, Dave Wilcox and Vanderbunt teamed for a spectacular play that turned the nationally televised game around in the second quarter.

Wilcox clobbered Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton.

Vanderbunt said, "The ball took one bounce and there it was. I just scooped it up and ran. It may have looked as if I was trotting, but I was running for my life."

Spurrier, playing in place of the injured John Brodie, hit 16 of 24 passes for 177 yards, including a 12-yard touchdown pass to tight end Ted Kwalick. Spurrier took the 49ers on a 94-yard touchdown drive to open the third quarter and hit eight consecutive passes in one stretch.

Besides the fumble, Morton suffered two interceptions before he was roundly booed and replaced by Roger Staubach.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening so long as you sidestep the urge to get into arguments or disputes at your residence or with other members of your family or make unfortunate commitments where your property is concerned, so put on a warm and understanding smile and use all that generated energy to delight others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are full of energy and can enjoy recreations this Saturday that have been difficult for you to do for some time. Keep poised when others are trying to pressure you in some way, though Give a little party at home tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Spend a happy day at home with kin and friends and avoid those who are unfriendly to you, or demanding associates. Make some improvements to home that add to its beauty and charm. Dress attractively.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) There are a number of duties to be handled that can make your home more charming, or bring you pleasure in the future. Do whatever will make you a more dynamic person. Entertain some in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Forget expensive pleasure and do the things at home that are important, will make kin happier, bring more comfort. A clever adviser has fine ideas for you. Accept the best of these.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can easily enjoy hobbies and have a good time provided you do not disturb kin or associates. Take time to improve your appearance in some way. Show others you are an excellent conversationalist.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A fine day to attend to private matters, but be very careful while out driving. Show advisers you appreciate them. Follow your intuition so you know how to make your life more successful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You now know what your position is with good pals and how to get mutual projects rolling nicely, so don't let money anxieties bother you. The

Dr. Zee played a game that was 3 times as dangerous as Russian roulette! Alas, so do many other men and women of high intelligence. Don't let your emotions becloud your brain when Cupid calls! The SMF can prevent Dr. Zee's disaster!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
 Ph.D., M.D.

CASE V-553: Dr. Zee, aged 30, is moody, blue and bankrupt. "Dr. Crane," he confessed, "I played what you might call Russian roulette when I married."

"For while I was in college I fell in love with a cute blonde waitress at the school cafeteria. In my senior year, we got married."

"But soon we were fighting like cats and dogs. After 5 years of this matrimonial warfare, she finally sued me for divorce. "And she took everything I had, for she cleaned out our bank account as well as our home. "Luckily, we had no children. "And I wouldn't have been able to remain in practice except for the fact that several doctor classmates staked me to a new start."

"Dr. Crane, despite my first marriage, I would like to find a congenial girl and begin all over. "So could you help me via your famous Scientific Marriage Foundation?"

Russian Roulette
 Most of you readers have heard of the stupid game called Russian roulette.

evening is fine for personal matters. Add much to present happiness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Avoid the personal and get into those career and civic matters that are vital and can improve your image immensely. Make sure you build up your credit. Don't lose out where it counts the most.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to find the right people with whom to have an alliance in the near future, so get an early start on this Fussing over what you can do nothing about would not be wise and could cause you to lose out in vital opportunities around you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Listen to what new acquaintances have to say and avoid intimacies as much as you can, since they are not in a good mood now. Build up ego of mate and much good comes of this. You have not been very affectionate of late.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) An associate will now give you the cooperation you want for some plan you have, but avoid bigwigs who are not in a receptive mood now. Follow every regulation that applies to you. Show you are a logical thinker.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have to study further into those new ideas you have before putting them into successful operation. Not a good day for travel or starting on a trip of length. Handle responsibilities that are important though it is a Saturday.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who can see the overall picture of any situation very clearly and should be encouraged to put some big and comprehensive plan to work quickly instead of deliberating so much that even the enthusiasm for it will be lost. Then success in life can start very quickly and early, otherwise very little will be accomplished. Much creativity and independence here. Higher education is a must.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Opening lead: King of ♦ Adverse distribution in the major suits apparently spelled defeat for South's six club contract, however the later diagnosed his difficulties in time to take appropriate counter-measures.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace which declarer ruffed. There appeared little more to the hand than to draw trump and run the spade suit. If no one held more than four spades, then South had 12 tricks — six clubs, five spades and one heart. If dummy's suit divided badly, then declarer could ruff out the last spade and fall back on the heart finesse.

On the second round of trumps, East showed out discarding a diamond. This was somewhat of a surprise to South for, West surely held five or six diamonds for his vulnerable overcall at the two level and since he was now revealed to have four clubs, he was obviously short in both major suits.

With East apparently marked for length in both spades and hearts, an alternative line of play suggested itself which might succeed even if neither major suit responded favorably. At trick three, South abandoned trumps temporarily and led the jack of hearts. When West followed with the five, declarer put up dummy's ace, reentered his hand with the king of spades and drew two more rounds of clubs reducing all hands to the following five card position:

NORTH

 ♣ Void

EAST
 ♠ 10 8 4 3

SOUTH
 ♠ 7
 ♥ 10 4 3

 ♣ 10

The last trump was led and the queen of hearts was discarded from dummy. East could not afford to part with a spade or else North's entire suit would become established. He, therefore, gave up the king of hearts, however South now produced the ten for the fulfilling trick.

Observe that it is essential for declarer to cash dummy's ace of hearts before running the clubs, or else the suit will block up, and East can safely unguard his king in the end position.

If the hammer happen to fall on that one live cartridge, he dies.

But he has 5 chances of surviving.

Alsa, many otherwise brilliant men and women park their brains and play a marital form of Russian roulette, except they figuratively place 3 bullets in the 6-shot cylinder.

For only 50 percent of modern weddings are really happy ones. This doesn't mean our tragic divorce rate has hit 50 percent (except possibly in California and New York).

But over 25 percent of all weddings terminate in divorce. And another 25 per cent consist of cat-and-dog couples who feud and quarrel, but stay together because their religion vetoes divorce.

Or because they have young children and decide they better stick it out till the kiddies finish high school.

If you are sincerely interested in a truly happy, permanent marriage, then don't play marital Russian roulette.

Instead, write to our Scientific Marriage Foundation, which is an interfaith, charitable foundation to introduce you to certified members of the opposite sex who are congenial on 10 basic personality traits.

We employ the IBM computer and rely on some 3,000 volunteer rabbis, priests and ministers to interview each applicant.

Our advisory Board consists of outstanding leaders of the major religions and includes Rabbi Samuel Silver (Conn.); Monsignor Henry Ward (Ind.); Bishop Gerald Kennedy (Calif.); Dr. Norman Vincent Peale (N.Y.); Moderator Myron Cole (Calif.); and a dozen other eminent American clergymen.

We introduce Dr. Zee to the proper type of girl, pretty, talented, and an active church member of his religious denomination.

Author To Conduct Mission Of Prayer

Mrs. Agnes Sanford, author of numerous books on prayer and spiritual healing, as well as several novels, will conduct a Mission on Prayer at St. Paul Episcopal Church here Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

There will be sessions at 8 p.m. each of the three evenings and also two morning sessions at 10 o'clock Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Sanford was born on the mission field in China and met her late husband, the Rev. Edgar Lewis Sanford, when he was a young missionary there.

She has a North Carolina connection in that she attended Peace Institute in Raleigh when she was sent back to the United States for secondary school and college. After mission work in China was ended, the Sanfords spent 23 years in Moorestown, N.J., where the Rev. Sanford was rector of Trinity Church there.

Mrs. Sandorf became interested in spiritual healing, at first for her own need and later to help others. The Sanfords started a School of Pastoral Care for the purpose of passing on to other ministers and church leaders what they had learned of prayer and healing. Although the Rev. Sanford died in 1960, the school continues, both at a retreat center called Lasell House in Western Massachusetts and at other places throughout the world by invitation.

Mrs. Sanford says she is careful not to establish herself as any kind of healer. She says she is merely one who has learned something about how to pray and it is her desire to pass on to the churches the benefit of what she has learned. It is her hope, she says, to see the work of healing revived and given its natural place in all Christian churches.

Several of her books are available at Sheppard Memorial Library here.

George Meany In Hospital Care

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany has been admitted to Phelps Memorial Hospital as a precautionary move after suffering slight chest pains. "We have no definite evidence of a coronary attack," Dr. Raymond Phillips, a local physician, said after Meany was admitted Thursday. "His condition is stable. He is good and well."

Meany, 78, and his wife had been staying at a motel, where he suffered the chest pains, while on a visit here to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with their daughter and son-in-law at nearby Briarcliff Manor.
