

Two More B52s Are Lost In Air Strikes

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Punishing U.S. air blows battered Hanoi and Haiphong without any indication of a letup today, and American casualties soared to their highest level in 19 months.

The U.S. Command reported the loss Thursday of two more B52 heavy bombers and two more fighter-bombers, with 16 more crewmen missing. This raised the toll since the massive attack began Monday night to eight B52, four fighter-bombers and 43 airmen.

It was the heaviest toll in U.S. personnel since the week of May 23-29, 1971, when 56 Americans were reported killed in action or missing.

Radio Hanoi claimed a total of 34 American planes downed, including three more B52s and two fighter-bombers at dawn today. It has reported a number of airmen captured but has given no total.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency said that air strikes Wednesday and Thursday damaged the main American prisoner of war camp which the POWs have nicknamed the "Hanoi Hilton." The report said a number of the prisoners were injured and added that many U.S. airmen captured this week had been sent to the camp.

The broadcast said singer Joan Baez, attorney Telford Taylor and two other American peace activists now in Hanoi visited the camp and inspected the damage.

Communist China claimed that one of its merchant ships was damaged in Haiphong harbor during a raid Wednesday and its crew "gravely endangered." The Peking government said it "strongly protests this provocation on the part of U.S. imperialism and is closely watching the development of expanding U.S. war activities."

Hanoi reported earlier that the bombing damaged the Cuban and Egyptian embassies in Hanoi, sank a Polish ship in Haiphong and damaged a Soviet ship.

North Vietnam has reported sections of Hanoi and Haiphong leveled, entire villages wiped out and hundreds of civilians killed or wounded. Although the Pentagon and the U.S. Command maintain that only military targets are being hit, American officials have acknowledged that some of these are in close proximity to population centers. In addition, the B52s drop their bomb loads — 30 tons each — in a saturation, carpet-type pattern aiming at widespread devastation rather than pinpoint accuracy.

Prison Reform Priority Urged By Gov. Scott

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott says recommendations for major changes in North Carolina's prison system should be given top priority in the 1973 General Assembly.

"The time for action is now," the outgoing governor said Thursday in a prepared talk to a panel study committee of the North Carolina Bar Association.

The committee presented its second interim report in which it called for major changes to remedy deficiencies in the state's prison system.

Scott recommended that serious consideration be given to the creation of a corrections commission similar to the courts commission to make a continuing study of the prison system.

"It is simply not fair," Scott said, "to request further study efforts by the bar or the Richardson Foundation until the people, through the General Assembly, indicated their commitment to meaningful prison reform for North Carolina."

He added, "While further and continuing study may now be and perhaps always will be needed in many areas, I firmly believe that not another dime should be spent or valued lawyer man-hour devoted to study until a maximum effort has been made by you to see that your interim reports have been implemented fully by our General Assembly."

The bar committee, operating under a $50,000 grant from the Smith Richardson Foundation, has devoted more than two years to a study of the state's penal system.

Committee chairman Isaac Avery said in the report Thursday progress has been slow in eliminating "the bullpen type dormitory" in prison units. He said custodial care was still underpaid, understaffed and inadequately trained.

"Although departmental reorganization has occurred," Avery said, "persons on probation, parole or conditional release still are not supervised by one system."

He noted that "the caseload of probation officers remains entirely too heavy for proper supervision of those on probation."

"Persons who are convicted of felonies and who are mentally retarded continue to be incarcerated with the criminally insane," Avery reported.

Armed Robbery

The Pitt County Sheriff's Department and agents of the State Bureau of Investigation are investigating the mid-afternoon armed robbery Thursday of a local cab driver near here.

According to Sheriff Ralph Tyson, the driver, Clarence Harper of 2501 Memorial Drive, reported that he picked up three black males at the bus station and at their request drove them to rural unpaved road 1529 about half way between Greenville and Stokes.

There, Harper told officers, one of the men pulled a small pistol and he was robbed of approximately $40 and a small change pouch. During the incident, the victim reported, the pistol was shot into the air several times. Harper was not injured in the robbery, it was pointed out.

Harper, according to the sheriff, told deputies the men also took a set of car keys and after leaving the site, entered nearby woods.

Sheriff Tyson said that the incident, reported at 3:30, occurred around 3 p.m.

Gov't Offices Plan Holiday

Greenville, Pitt County and North Carolina offices here will be closed for Christmas from this afternoon until Wednesday morning at the regular opening hour of each.

Federal offices will reopen Tuesday morning.

KENNETH CANNON, (above) five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cannon (shown below) will be separated from his parents this Christmas. All three will spend the holidays in Pitt Memorial Hospital, where they are recovering from injuries received in a Nov. 28 auto accident.

Pitt Family Will Not Be Together For Christmas

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

Laid up in the hospital is not the best way to spend Christmas, but Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cannon of Rt. 1, Ayden count themselves blessed to be alive and together and looking forward to going home within the next few weeks.

Though the Pitt Memorial Hospital administration has arranged for the couple, injured in the Nov. 28 nine-car pileup near Ayden, to share a room, they are separated from their five-year-old son, Kenneth Wayne, who will spend Christmas on the pediatric floor of the hospital.

"We hear from Kenneth every day," his mother said, "and they tell us his room looks like a dime store, so many toys have been given to him. I haven't seen him since we've been in here, though, and I just can't wait to actually hold him again."

Cannon has hopes of going home soon after Christmas. He is now in traction with a broken leg and a crushed hip, but is promised he may be allowed to sit up in a day or two. Kenneth and Mrs. Cannon probably will be hospitalized for three or four more weeks she says their doctors tell her. She has lost her left eye and has a crushed leg. Having her mouth wired nearly shut keeps her from eating anything but pureed food.

Kenneth has a cracked vertebra in his neck and is in traction which keeps his head in one place, though he can turn it from side to side. He expects daily visits from his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Jean Harris, and looks forward to visits from other relatives and friends. A student nurse said he seems to have perked up considerably since he has been placed in a semi-private room. "He's a remarkable little fellow to have done so well not being able to see his

Rep. Rountree Chosen To Serve On New House Policy Committee

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

Rep. H. Horton Rountree, representing Pitt and Greene Counties in the 1973 General Assembly, has been appointed to a new House committee—the Policy Committee—by House Speaker James Ramsey.

Rountree is one of 11 members of the committee to be chaired by Billy Watkins, speaker pro-tem of the House, designed to oversee most of the major legislation in the state.

According to Rountree, who has represented Pitt in the State House since 1967, the House Policies Committee will work in conjunction with the seven-member Senate policy group to "over-ride the general Democratic plans and programs for the coming General Assembly."

He said the new committees,

"set up because of the fact that the Governor is not in the chair to formulate and determine policy of the state," will oversee "all major legislation affecting the state as a whole."

He said the committees would deal with such questions as "the necessity for tax relief; the expenditure of any surplus in the budget; determination of policy with regard to annual General Assembly sessions; the proposing of an annual budget; reviewing the governor's budget; and the question of no fault auto insurance."

In addition to Chairman Watkins and Rountree, the House Policies Committee members include: Jimmy Green of Clarkston; Sneed High of Fayetteville; Howard Twigs of Raleigh; Henry Frye of Greensboro; Craig Lawing of Charlotte; Carl Stewart of Gastonia; Liston Ramsey of Marshall and Jack Stevens of Asheville.

Members of the Senate Policy group include: Gordon Allen of Roxboro (chairman); J.J. "Monk" Harrington of Lewiston; Fred Folger Jr. of Mt. Airy; Kenneth C. Royal of Durham; John Henley of Hope Mills; Ralph H. Scott of Haw River and James Garrison of Albemarle.

A Farmville native, Rountree graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and has practiced law in Greenville for a number of years. He was a Farmville town commissioner for two years; served as solicitor for the Pitt County Records Court for two years; and was an assistant Attorney General of North Carolina from 1959 to 1962.

He has served as a member of the State Courts Commission; the Governor's Advisory Committee on Law and Order; the Legislative Research Commission Subcommittee on study of the shortage of Rural Doctors and General Health Affairs; the Legislative Committee to Rewrite the A.B.C. Laws; and the Governor's Task Force Committee on Apprehension and Suppression.

Living Costs Inch Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices climbed another three-tenths of one per cent in November, virtually erasing President Nixon's hope of bringing the inflation rate down to three per cent or less in 1973.

The Labor Department's announcement said two-thirds of the rise was contributed by higher prices for food, clothing and residential gas.

Beef prices rose instead of declining substantially, as they usually do. Nixon yesterday extended into 1973 the suspension of meat import quotas in hope of curbing the rise of beef on the hoof and in meat markets.

The November living cost index at 126.9 per cent of the 1967 average, was 3.5 per cent above a year ago. The actual increase in November was two-tenths of one per cent, but when adjusted for normal seasonal trends, the rise was three-tenths of one per cent and matched the increase of a month earlier.

Prices in the last three months, instead of declining to levels between two and three per cent—as would have been required to meet the anti-inflation goals—rose at a 4.2 per cent rate, the department reported. This compared with 2.9 per cent in the preceding three months.

The more rapid rise this fall was blamed on food prices; they rose 1.4 per cent in No-

Strategy Session

KEY BISCAJNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon convened a bayside strategy session today with his top two Vietnam advisers, Henry A. Kissinger and Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr.

The meeting at the President's island compound began a few hours after Haig returned from a four-day trip to Southeast Asia to confer with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu and other Indochinese leaders.

Haig brought back with him Thieu's response to a reported threat from Nixon to cut off all U.S. aid to Saigon if Thieu refuses to sign an agreement to end the war.

As the meeting began at midmorning, White House officials refused to discuss any communications between the two presidents.

Haig arrived at Homestead Air Force Base shortly after 7 a.m. and immediately boarded a helicopter for the short flight to the Florida White House where Nixon and his wife are spending the Christmas holidays.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers and other warplanes are braving more than 850 missile launchers and antiaircraft guns in striking the vital Hanoi-Haiphong area of North Vietnam.

These figures, obtained from Pentagon sources, show what that area is called "the most heavily defended piece of area in the history of warfare."

The Air Force lost eight of the huge B52s in the first four days of the great raids.

"We knew it was going to be rough, and it has been," said one senior officer.

The loss rate for the eight-jet heavy bombers worked out to about two planes for each 100 sorties. A sortie is a single flight by a single plane.

"The loss rates are not out of line with expectations," said one official who indicated the Air Force had calculated the probable cost before President Nixon ordered the new and massive bombing operation.

Records show that the loss rate for B52s over North Vietnam is not far off from the Air Force experience in World War II when, on the average, one plane was lost for each 64 sorties.

In Korea, where American planes faced thin air defenses, the Air Force loss rate averaged one plane per 358 sorties.

A senior officer suggested that the North Vietnamese defenders have an advantage because the strikes are aimed at a limited number of military targets which he said could be anticipated from the pattern of past U.S. raids in the Vietnam war.

Experts noted that the SAM2, one of North Vietnam's principal air defense weapons, was designed by the Russians originally to defend the Soviet Union specifically against the B52, which was the main U.S. strategic threat to Russia before the advent of long-range missiles.

Intelligence reports say there are 26 battalions of SAM2s in the Haiphong area comprising a total of 156 missile launchers. In the first three days of the new raids, the Pentagon has said, these launchers sent about 300 SAMs aloft against American warplanes.

In addition, there are more than 360 antiaircraft guns, most of them radar-controlled, around Hanoi and nearly 340 shielding the Haiphong area, according to intelligence information.

So far as American intelligence can determine, the North Vietnamese are using standard surface-to-air missiles and radar, as they have throughout the years of the air war. Experts say they're not aware of any improved weapons being aimed at American bombers.

The North Vietnamese are firing antiaircraft missiles in salvos, which increases the burden on U.S. electronic countermeasure devices and increases the threat to the heavy B52s, which are much less maneuverable than smaller fighter bombers.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Saturday Ceremony

Miss Linda Faye Lee and Joseph Sheridan Gaddis were married on Saturday in a double ring ceremony at the Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church chapel.

The Rev. Tommy Payne performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyett Wilson Lee of Clayton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon Gaddis of Asheboro.

The chapel was decorated with tiered candelabra holding 20 candles, greenery and white chrysanthemums. At the altar was a prie-dieu where the bride and bridegroom knelt for the closing prayer and benediction. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Paul Toll of Greenville provided organ music for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal length white gown designed with a fitted bodice of chantilly lace featuring a scoop neckline and long sleeves. The A-line skirt of sate peau was designed with a deep ruffled flounce overlaid with a scalloped border of chantilly lace at the hemline which extended into an attached chapel train.

She carried a nosegay of miniature red and white carnations with tips of holy tied with red velvet.

The bride's mother wore a blue cotton brocade coat and dress ensemble accented with a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected an aqua shantung A-line dress accented with an orchid corsage.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Mike McCormac of Clayton and Miss Marinda Moore of Tar Heel. They wore formal length royal blue dresses designed with an open collar of white crepe edged in crocheted lace. The cuffs of the long sleeves were also of white crepe edged in lace.

They carried white fur muffs with a spray of red carnations and holly leaves tied with white velvet. They also wore white fur headpieces.

Mrs. Randolph A. Shockley of Raleigh was the bridesmaid. Her attire was identical to that of the honor attendants.

Honorary bridesmaids were

MRS. JOSEPH SHERIDAN GADDIS

Miss Linda Crowder of Charlotte, Miss Jan Gray of Clinton, and Miss Patricia Castleberry of Hampton, Va.

They wore formal length red velvet dresses with a ruffled scoop neckline and ruffled sleeves. They carried pink roses.

The best man was Thomas Dixon Gaddis. Ushers were Mike Gaddis of Raleigh, and Gene Rackley of Greenville.

Following a reception buffet given by Mrs. Miriam Erickson, aunt of the bride, and Jesse Castleberry, uncle of the bride, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va.

The bride is a senior at East Carolina University. The bridegroom is a graduate of East Carolina University and is the business for the ECU Division of Continuing Education.

The couple will make their home in Greenville.

Shower Honors Miss Kelsey

Miss Suzanne Kelsey, bride-elect, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Chambliss on Rosewood Drive.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Amos Clark and Mrs. Hugh Wease.

Upon arrival, the honoree was presented a corsage of white mums surrounded by tulle and white satin ribbons.

The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of greenery flanked by silver candlesticks. A silver and white wedding bell marked the gift table. A place setting of silver in the bride's pattern was presented to the honoree by the hostesses.

Guests included the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Clarence Kelsey, and Mrs. Carl R. Woxman Sr. Miss Kelsey and Carol R. Woxman Jr., will be married Jan. 6 in St. James Methodist Church.

Pick Up Gift And Forget The Note

By Abigail Van Buren

(c. 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Hilda, my neighbor's daughter, became engaged and her aunts gave her a shower, which was a huge success. She received more than 50 beautiful and expensive gifts. [I saw them myself.]

A week later, the wedding was called off. Hilda made no secret that the boy asked for his ring back.

Her mother told me that Hilda was sending out notes saying, "Thank you for the shower gift. The wedding has been called off. If you can't come by and pick up your shower gift, let me know and I will get it back to you."

A whole month has passed and I have received no such note. Since I live right next door, all she'd have to do is TELL me, and I'd go over and pick up my gift. I think she is waiting for me [and others who gave her a gift] to tell her to keep it, which I am not going to do!

As far as I know, not one person who gave her a shower gift has had a note from Hilda, nor has she returned one gift. I gave her a pair of good pillows which I could use myself. What should I do? ANGRY IN BUFFALO

DEAR ANGRY: Tell Hilda she needn't bother to send you a note—that you've come for your pillows.

DEAR ABBY: My husband was the "quiet type"—the last person in the world anyone would suspect capable of infidelity. Nevertheless, he was.

I later learned he had been having an affair in our home, right in our own bed! I discovered this when I came home unexpectedly and found them there. Only one who has been thru this can know the anguish I felt.

After I filed for divorce, three of my neighbors told me that for the last year they had seen this young woman entering and leaving my home many times after I had left for work.

I wanted to scream, "Why didn't you tell me? You could have spared me all this!"

Then I realized that they probably thought they were doing "the right thing" by keeping quiet. Abby, had I been told, perhaps it could have been ironed out by counseling; or just knowing would have caused me to file for divorce and been spared the humiliation of walking in on such a scene.

I pray that at least one neighbor who is aware of such goings on will read this and tell the wronged spouse, so he won't be subjected to what I experienced. Thank you.

THE LAST TO KNOW

DEAR LAST: I would not advise anyone to inform on his neighbors. There is too much margin for error. The "wronged spouse" usually knows that something is amiss, and a report from the neighbors would serve only to humiliate.

DEAR ABBY: Should a wife withhold sex to punish her husband? Well, that is what my wife has been doing lately and I am sick of it. Whenever we have a little spat, I always apologize whether I think I'm wrong or not, but she refuses to accept my apologies. I get over being mad in 30 minutes, but it takes her anywhere from two to three weeks!

I don't drink or mess around with other women. If I did, I might deserve this kind of punishment, but she gives me the cold treatment for every little thing.

What do YOU think about a wife like mine? HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: She's unfair, unwise, and unfulfilled. But more significant, sex is obviously no pleasure for her or she wouldn't deny herself a treat in an effort to punish you. When you are on good terms why not discuss it with her and try to improve the situation?

Secretaries Can't Spell, Take Course

BRUSSELS, Belgium (WNS) — According to the Belgian National Employment Office, 80 per cent of the country's secretaries cannot write a letter without making a mistake in spelling. As a result of the report, the national TV network will present a season of spelling lessons for secretaries every workday afternoon at 3:30. Employers have agreed to give secretaries time off to watch the half-hour programs.

Five Gunmen Surrender 3 Hostages And Selves

By JIM PIERSON
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Five gunmen who fled an abortive supermarket robbery in Chattanooga, Tenn., with three hostages surrendered early today and released their captives unharmed.

One of the men, identified as Felix Bernard Lundy, 21, surrendered after the getaway car was stopped on U. S. 41 about 35 miles north of Atlanta.

The other four gave up after authorities had their car towed, with them and their hostages still inside, to the Fulton County jail.

They were identified as Oliver Peterson, 18; Paul Wesley Berry, 25; Willie Lewis Combs 23; and Homer Lee Barnes, 23. All the men gave Atlanta addresses.

Leo E. Conroy, special FBI agent in Atlanta, announced that the five men were charged with violating the federal kidnapping statute and interstate transportation of three hostages from Chattanooga.

Conroy said that the five men charged would be taken before U.S. Magistrate Allen L. Chaney in Atlanta later in the day for arraignment. He said conviction for the offenses charged could result in a life sentence.

The hostages were identified as Clarence Turner, 20, and his daughter, Sinetra, 4, and Vance Dobbins Jr. 41, a Chattanooga, Tenn., ambulance driver who offered himself in place of a woman the bandits planned to take with them.

The bizarre drama began at Willie's Supermarket in Chattanooga Thursday night. At one point, the bandits, surrounded by authorities, held about 20 hostages in a back storeroom at the store.

They released most of their captives after Chattanooga police agreed to provide them with an unmarked car. It was pulled into an alleyway behind the store.

Dobbins said he was at the scene because an ambulance had been called. He said he saw the men taking a woman.

"I told them to let the woman go and I would drive them out of the alleyway," Dobbins said. "They did and then they didn't let me go. They had a 12-gauge shotgun at my neck all the way."

Both Dobbins and Turner said they were afraid at first, but later decided they would not be killed.

"They didn't beat us or threaten us or anything," Dobbins said.

"I never really feared for my life," Turner said. "They weren't hostile. At first I was a little scared, but after awhile, I knew they weren't going to kill us."

The bandits left Chattanooga enroute toward Atlanta but their car was stopped by police roadblocks about five miles south of Cartersville, Ga.

They sat on Pumpkintown Creek Bridge on U. S. 41 in the bright glare of spotlights and surrounded by officers for four and a half hours before the agreement on federal charges was reached.

Lull For Quota On Meat Imports Lifted

BELFAST (AP) — The Roman Catholic guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army were reported ready to suspend offensive operations from midnight tonight until midnight Christmas despite a wave of violence that has taken nine lives in the past 48 hours.

Eight of the nine dead were Catholics, and there was no indication of any Christmas letup by Protestant extremists.

IRA sources said the organization would not declare a formal cease-fire. They said the guerrillas would resume operations if the British Army takes advantage of the lull to conduct search and arrest operations.

The IRA halted bombing and other offensive operations for 72 hours last Christmas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has suspended meat import quotas for 1973 in an effort to stop the rise in supermarket meat prices.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, who announced the decision Thursday, cautioned that consumers should not expect a reduction in meat prices.

He said the action hopefully will halt the current rise and stabilize the price.

The nation has been operating without import quotas since July when Nixon removed the quotas then in effect. Shultz said some countries, notably Australia, responded to the July action by shipping larger quantities of meat.

Only about seven per cent of the meat on American markets comes from foreign sources. Shultz said this percentage probably would increase to eight per cent because of the suspension.

The total supply of meat available in America is expected to increase by three per cent.

Dies In Mobile Home's Fire

SHELBY, N.C. (AP)—A 75-year-old Rutherford County man died early today in a fire that destroyed his mobile home in the community of Gilkey.

The victim, Thad Russell Keeter, was reportedly asleep when the fire broke out. Fire Department officials said his half-sister, Eva Keeter Martin, 65, awoke to find the trailer engulfed in flames and managed to escape. She was reported in satisfactory condition at Rutherford County Memorial Hospital.

1,000 Pounds Of Cakes, Cookies

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Claxton Foods Co. advertisements have always urged people to sample their Christmas fruit cakes and cookies, but police say someone carried it to the extreme.

About 1,000 pounds of the cakes and cookies were carted away from a Claxton truck parked in Nashville.

Brief Cardiac Instability

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman's doctors reported he went through a period of dangerous cardiac instability early today, triggered by a decrease in blood pressure and a fluttering pulse. They said the dangerous period apparently had ended and he remained in very serious condition.

John Dreves, Research Hospital and Medical Center public relations director, said doctors had considered placing the 88-year-old former president on the critical list, but after the morning's period of heightened concern "in their opinion he is not critical."

The kidney function continues to improve under the influence of a special essential amino acid diet, Dreves said, but with such improvement "potentially dangerous changes in body chemistry may occur." Because of that, he said, the early morning irregularities were anticipated.

mother and daddy for such a long time," she said.

The Cannons have two older sons at home. "We're depending on our oldest son, Elmer Ray, to take care of himself," Mrs. Cannon said, "and the nine-year-old, Michael Ben, is staying with Dorothy Jean."

The Cannons were on their way to work at Fieldcrest Mill here when they drove into the smog-shrouded multiple-car accident on the dual-laned N.C. 11 about 6:30 a.m. the last Tuesday in November. They were planning to leave Kenneth at Dorothy Jean's home, where he usually stays while they work.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cannon admit they were extremely depressed when they first entered the hospital, but Mrs. Cannon says she knows now it all has a purpose. She has been converted since she has been a patient and gives the credit to the Rev. Louis Joyner, pastor of Hopewell Pentecostal Holiness Church.

"My finding Christ, the prayers of the churches and all the people is what pulled me through," says Mrs. Cannon, who was in the critical care unit of the hospital for more than a week.

Motioning to the wall she faces constantly, she said, "I didn't know we did have so many friends. We've practically covered that wall with cards, haven't we? And many are from people we barely know. We sure do appreciate everyone more now."

"And I thank everyone for being so good to our baby. They say Kenneth has got gifts and cards from people near and far who don't even know him."

"Yes, we'll be right here Christmas morning, but we'll be smiling. Our fine treatment, the kindness of our well-wishers, and Christ, whose birthday we'll be celebrating, have given us reason to smile."

Bombs Underline Peace Points

It is regrettable that U.S. bombers have returned to heavy raids over North Vietnam, but in our opinion the blame lies squarely with the North Vietnamese.

From what we can read, it appeared that the very best of peace terms were offered to North Vietnam by Henry Kissinger and it seemed at long last a basis had been reached for a cease fire.

New Emphasis On Prisoners

By FRED MORRISON
President, N.C. Jaycees

RALEIGH — Someone wise has said it is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness.

It is dark in prison. The Christmas glow outside with colorful decorations, families together, and the exchange of gifts among friends only makes the season more bleak for those confined to the shadows inside.

Bringing some brightness into that drab world is a goal of the North Carolina Jaycees.

From chapters across the state, Jaycees this week will go to every unit of the state's corrections systme to put on Christmas parties for inmates. There will be carols sung, religious services, refreshments and fellowship shared in all our 77 prison units.

The message we will take is good cheer and hope. We want to say to those who have run afoul of society, for whatever reason, that they are not forgotten and there is a way back if they really care and want to help themselves.

A part of the Christmas project, which is being carried out under Bill Lester of Henderson as state chairman, is the distribution of $2 to all 10,000 inmates in our prisons. This money comes from the inmate welfare fund, derived from canteen profits, and it provides a gift for everyone. We have handled this distribution now for three years, and corrections officials tell us it works well.

Year-Round Project

Our interest in the corrections system gets emphasis at Christmas, but it continues all year long. I am proud that our organization has taken a lead in the cause of corrections reform.

As legal counsel to Gov. Bob Scott, I have seen directly his keen interest in the effort to make the corrections system truly serve the purpose of rehabilitation. He has truly opened the door and brought a ray of light where darkness too long prevailed.

I am confident that the progress initiated will move forward under James E. Holshouser Jr., the incoming governor. Incidentally, both Bob Scott and Jim Holshouser are phased-out Jaycees who made their contribution to the organization during their periods of membership.

Among the many persons who have worked to improve corrections, inside and out of state government, the late George Randall stood tall as a leader. During his long career, he was a pioneer in programs to turn the emphasis from just punishment to rehabilitation. His recent untimely death was a real loss to our state, the inmates of the system, Jaycees, and all citizens.

Randall Memorial Planned

As a memorial to him, the North Carolina Jaycees plan to establish the George W. Randall Award to be presented each year to the outstanding officer in the corrections system.

The Jaycees have recognized that human factors are critical in reforming the system. The prison darkness is psychological as well as actual, when inmates feel they are cut off from a world that rejects them.

To show them there is a place, we have gone unto units and set up Jaycee chapters. We have seen young men respond to the opportunity for constructive activity with interest and enthusiasm.

North Carolina has 35 prison chapters; more than any other state. More than 700 young inmates between the ages of 18 and 35 are involved in our programs of leadership.

On Jan. 6, institutional chapters and sponsors will meet in Raleigh. We will dedicate the session to the memory of George Randall. We hope that Gov. Holshouser, who will then be inaugurated, will be able to attend.

Reform Touches People

Much has been said and written in recent years about the need for prison reform. The Jaycees feel that what is really meant and intended is "prisoner reform."

We want to help people and most of all offer them the opportunity to help themselves. We are not talking about "coddling criminals." We are talking about fighting crime and protecting our citizens by seeking to see that inmates are better, not worse, upon their return to society.

We are under no delusions that all inmates can be rehabilitated. However, we don't feel that the 90 per cent or more who can benefit should be sacrificed for the 10 per cent or less who cannot. This would not be exercising good sense or good citizenship.

Jaycees firmly believe that government should be of laws rather than of men. We believe that no man is or should ever be above the law. We then go one step further and believe that a person should be given every opportunity to correct his life and mend his ways.

After all, isn't that what the spirit of Christmas is all about? — love for and concern for our fellow man, regardless of his station in life.

In this spirit, the North Carolina Jaycees say "Merry Christmas!" to all citizens of our great state!

For some reason things changed in the talks and the settlement does not at this point seem imminent.

U.S. ground troops are virtually out of the war. The only thing we have left is our superior air power. The bombings can be ended tomorrow with a settlement which is reasonable and acceptable to both sides. It is tragic that we have to make that point with bombs, but it appears that this is the only thing the tight little group which rules North Vietnam understands.

Why Do Taxpayers Pay Union Election Costs?

There is probably a law covering the circumstances of the recent United Mine Workers Union election. (After all, we have laws for everything covering people before they are born until after they're dead.) But there is plenty of room to question — and time to do it in—regarding the government's role in that union election.

In its simplest terms, it was an election determining selection of officers of a modest-sized and exclusive organization.

The federal involvement, we are told, cost in the neighborhood of millions of dollars and required the services of thousands of federal employees.

That "smells" wrong.

It seems only logical the UMW should be handed a bill requiring it to repay the government the cost of the election.

But don't anybody hold their breath for that day.

Hanoi Is Given 'Clear' Signal

By ROWLAND EVANS
and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON

President Nixon's difficult decision, reached last Friday, to resume mining Haiphong harbor the following day and unleash full-scale bombing of North Vietnam's heartland Monday morning, exactly fits the tough war strategy he has followed at every climactic point since he took office four years ago.

The President, reacting typically to Hanoi's apparent judgment that he was in a domestic political bind and simple had to produce a peace agreement, scarcely hesitated. He slipped both Moscow and Peking advance word—but not advance enough to permit interference with his decision—and then sent his bombers and minelayers into action.

The quick result of this typical Nixonian response to what he and Henry Kissinger regard as Hanoi's calculated foot-dragging is the resumption of full-scale aerial warfare for the first time in two months.

Although the long-run result is unpredictable, Mr. Nixon hopes that reopening the war in all its fury will purge the Hanoi politburo of misconceptions that the U.S. will permit the war to end on the cheap. The resumed full-scale bombing, which may be even more destructive than last fall's record level of aerial devastation, is intended by Mr. Nixon as the clearest possible signal to Hanoi.

This hard-line Nixonian response naturally follows his earlier hard-line decisions to carry the war into both Cambodia and Laos and to mine Haiphong harbor on the eve of his Moscow visit. Those decisions were taken in full consideration of possible violent political reactions at home and in the capitals of international Communism.

Now that his domestic political position has been strongly fortified with a record election plurality and no U.S. infantry units or draftees serving in Vietnam, he is relaxed about domestic upheavals. As for Moscow and Peking, Mr. Nixon counts on screams of protest but not much more than that. Having decided to use force to break the enemy's will, his problem is not Moscow and Peking but whether he now will be trapped in open-ended aerial warfare, further swelling his runaway budget.

When Hanoi made the offer that produced Kissinger's Oct. 26 "peace is at hand" prediction," Mr. Nixon had two options:

The first option: make a quick spectacular peace without nailing down every looseend of the policing machinery, counting instead on the mood of world peace to restrain Hanoi's worst impulses in the delicate post-ceasefire period.

The second option: acting more cautiously and insisting on prior agreement from Hanoi on the post-ceasefire arrangements—the precise role, size, mobility and powers of the four-nation policing force.

What tipped Mr. Nixon toward taking the second option was the scream of protest from President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam. Thieu's rising popularity as the South Vietnamese patriot willing to battle both Hanoi and Washington suddenly transformed him into a far more dangerous antagonist.

Had Kissinger managed to pin Hanoi down to an equitable ceasefire guarantee, Mr. Nixon was prepared to shove it down Thieu's throat. But Thieu's new stature at home forced Mr. Nixon to confront these delicate guarantees in the agreement itself, not after the ceasefire took effect.

Even so, the Paris negotiations were going so smoothly as of Dec. 10 that

Strength For Today

SO WE ALL BELIEVE

Many years ago in Denmark there was a saintly scholar who had served the Church for more than forty years but who in the last days of his life fell into poverty. A Christian woman of noble birth took him into her home. To this home leaders of several religious faiths were accustomed to foregather, and this ailing scholar found himself in the most stimulating and inspiring society he had ever been privileged to enter. His mind and spirit also touched the other members of the cultured circle and during the few years that he lived he became an honored member of their discussion groups.

When he died these men of different religious faiths gathered together to write his epitaph. At last they decided upon the simple declaration, "Here lies a Christian man." Those who have read the works of this great Danish scholar feel that a better epitaph could have been written. And, of course, the significant thing about it is that men of different beliefs united in this declaration. They appreciated the fact that in spite of differences between us because of our differing ecclesiastical allegiances, there are certain basic matters on which we all agree.

Why then cannot all men of good will live together in peace? Why should believers in the one true God regard one another with suspicion?

Why The Talks Failed

WASHINGTON — Everyone has his own theory as to why the Paris peace talks bogged down so badly. My theory is they failed because they were held in Paris.

If anyone is to blame for the disastrous course the peace negotiations have taken, it's the French. When France invited all parties to Paris to work out a settlement of the war in Indochina, she unknowingly set the stage for one of the longest stalemates in history.

This is what happened: As soon as the French made their offer, both sides accepted with alacrity. Is there a peace negotiator alive who wouldn't want to work out a just and honorable end to a war, any war, in Paris?

Where else are there so many diversions when the talks get tough and the going is hard? Where else can you invite the enemy to your villa for dinner and then go to his chateau for lunch the next day? What other city offers three-star restaurants to discuss the finer points of a treaty, and plush hotel suites to button down the conditions for a cease-fire?

Other Editors Say Painless Revenue?

(Greensboro Daily News)

On November 13, Michigan became the seventh state to start a state lottery in search of more revenue. Supporters of such state-sponsored lotteries claim it is the only known form of "painless taxation."

Michigan citizens responded enthusiastically; there was an opening day stampede for tickets. The totals for the first day's sales aren't in yet, but observers close to the scene estimate that about one million 50-cent tickets were sold on that day.

New Hampshire started the first American state lottery in this century in 1963. The lottery in that state has never lived up to the expectations of its backers and the same has been true in most of the other states that have since adopted lotteries. New Jersey has been an exception in that its lottery had produced more revenue than its sponsors claimed it would.

Perhaps Michigan's lottery will outdo New Jersey's if the ticket buyers maintain their interest. But the experience of most other states in the business has been that the ticket buyers cool off fast after the first drawing. Sponsors of the Michigan lottery are hoping it will yield the state $100 million net annually. Most estimates of the profit to the state, however, range from $40 million to $60 million.

Even $40 million is not to be sneezed at if you have no objection to the state government's being in the gambling business. The subject has even been discussed briefly in the North Carolina General Assembly. A few of the younger statesmen foresaw the day when North Carolinians, who are given to complaining about their taxes, will find a state lottery acceptable.

But the consensus was to the opposite direction. We are inclined to agree. The outlook is that it will be a long time before the idea of a state lottery catches on here. That is because a majority of North Carolinians are Fundamentalists or of Scottish ancestry, or both. Fundamentalists are too sanctimonious to gamble in public view and the Scotch are too tight.

Why Social Security Is Rising

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Because our life mode has changed in recent decades, the elderly often have found themselves denied the respect that used to honor age, and the comfort and security that should reward a lifetime of effort.

Consider only one change that led to this predicament: The tremendous migration from country to city has, in the past 20 years, increased the ratio of urban to rural population to 3 to 1 from 2 to 1.

In cities, unlike on farms and in rural areas, space is at a minimum and its price at a premium. And, therefore, there is sometimes no room in the family for the older generation, especially if they can't pay their way.

For decades now the nation has been attempting to remedy this sad development of affairs. Government agencies have been offering more health, financial and social aid. Private groups have promoted pensions and retirement homes.

Efforts so far might seem momentous when compared to what had been done, but they seem small in relation to the continuing problem. It is not so much the miserliness of the income-producing generation as of certain other factors.

Two of these in particular made the great effort of one year seem meager a year later. Inflation has steadily decreased buying power; the span of life, though not growing at present, has greatly enlarged over the decades.

All of which helps explain why Social Security benefits have risen in recent years and are projected to continue growing for a decade ahead, and why it is likely that when election time comes again they will be raised again.

But it is Christmas now and not a time for politics, and it is appropriate to look at some of the benefits upcoming at the turn of the year for Social Security recipients.

While more Americans each year receive an adequate wage, this was not so in the past. Wages often were paid without regard to minimum needs, and so many retirees now are consequently receiving inadequate pensions, too.

Beginning in January, a special minimum benefit will aid such people. The special payment will range from $80 a month to as much as $170 a month for workers with 30 years of coverage.

Experience has shown that a worker forced into inactivity at age 65 might not be prepared, psychologically or financially, for idleness. Many are still vigorous and productive. And because of inflation, they can always use more money.

Beginning in 1973, these

Books For A Friend

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Looking for a last-minute Christmas present for an overlooked friend?

HAL BOYLE

Then why not give him that most splendid of all gifts, a good book? A book is a gift from one heart to another heart, from one kindred spirit to another.

A book has many advantages. Its upkeep is minimal, since it needs neither fuel nor repairs. It doesn't wear out, and often can help inspire the receiver for a lifetime. It even can be handed down from generation to generation. It can refresh or renew many minds, not just one.

Books are always acceptable and always in fashion. In many homes a new book is placed atop the television set now and then just to let visitors know that some members of the family still remain literate even in the heyday of the picture tube.

Finally, you always get more than your money's worth in a good book. It is a thing of recognized value in all civilizations. In terms of the inspiration it may possibly provide, that value at time can be priceless.

Of course, when giving books as presents, it is highly important that the right book be given to the right person. Each should suit the other.

Here, for example, and all in fun, is a selection from current titles of some books that might be fitting to give to some well known people:

"Open Marriage" — Zsa Zsa Gabor.
"Jonathan Livingston Seagull" — Your parrot or parakeet.
"5000 Nights at the Opera" — to Aristotle Onassis from Maria Callas.
"Semi-Tough" — Henry A.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until midnight you have a good chance to have a happy time at entertainments or whatever recreation you like the most, also to prepare for the coming Christmas holiday, and to make big plans for the future. Complimenting and aiding others brings you much benefit in return. Late night finds arguments likely. Refrain.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can easily repay that social debt that has been on your mind for some time and show more devotion to mate today. You are highly creative and can express yourself most delightfully. Add to goodwill you now enjoy.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your home should be the sphere of endeavor today so that you have more comfort and pleasure there and add to happiness of those who dwell with you. Plan the future more carefully. Put finishing touches to Christmas decorations.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Keep active at shopping, doing errands, making your home more attractive, and this will be a happy and productive day. Put some new system to work for the days ahead. Enjoy that favorite hobby tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan how to use money you have better and get advice from experts where big expenditures are concerned, or you could lose your shirt. They are in a fine mood to help you now. Buy the right gift for your mate, one that will really be appreciated.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Fine day to start the social ball rolling to make the holiday more pleasurable. Don't forget to invite those who are lonely. Try to get to bed by midnight, since aspects are not very good after that time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can sit down early and plan well for the future and for the holidays. You get fine ideas from experts in your field. Avoid one who has peculiar ideas.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good day to contact both new and old friends and reach a better understanding with them, cement better relations. Repay some social debt of long standing. Avoid one who likes to start arguments, though.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get out into the active world and show you are philanthropic and civic minded. This can improve your public image considerably. Gain the approval of influential persons you like.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have fine ideas for the future and should do something positive about them so you can advance more quickly. Work enthusiastically and then take time for social activities in p.m., but try to get to bed by midnight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There is much work for you to wind up before starting the holiday preparations that are important also. Cooperate with mate who has duties for you to perform in p.m. Get into the right spirit of things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Cooperate more with associates and reach right understanding during this holiday season. Get into the recreation that pleases you, also avoid one who is a real pest and could take up much of your time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Show others you appreciate their loyalty and favors of the past and do something particularly nice for them. Plan time for shopping and buying new clothing for yourself so you are at your best for the holidays.

Opening lead: Four of ♥ South's rebid of two no trump after his partner's single club raise is somewhat unorthodox, inasmuch as he lacks a stopper in spades. However, holding 20 high card points and completely even distribution, there is no entirely satisfactory call and the final contract was a reasonable undertaking.

West opened the four of hearts against three no trump and when the dummy was spread, declarer paused to appraise his prospects. The opening lead assured him of three heart tricks. He had four top diamonds and in order to bring the total up to nine, it would be necessary to dislodge the ace of clubs.

There was a risk involved, however, in surrendering the lead. If West has the ace of clubs, a spade shift thru dummy's king may submerge the contract before South can regain control. In order to improve his chances, declarer decided to resort to a little subterfuge to throw the enemy off the track.

The ten of hearts was played from dummy at trick one, however, when East followed with the deuce, South put on the king from his hand. His stratagem was to give West the impression that he held the lone ace of hearts, and that the play of the ten from dummy was made to induce East to cover if he had the queen.

At trick two the king of clubs was led and West played the ace. It appeared that another heart lead would dislodge the ace and establish the entire suit for West. He accordingly returned the three of hearts. To his astonishment, South won the trick with the nine and the latter proceeded to run for cover with 10 tricks.

If declarer had permitted North's ten of hearts to win the first trick, West would have been alerted to the futility of continuing the attack in that suit when he regained the lead with the ace of clubs. A spade shift would then become obvious and the defense cashes five tricks in spades to send South down to a two trick defeat.

Ayden-Grifton Girls Hope To Challenge North Pitt's Reign

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer
(One of a series)

LITTLEFIELD — If any team in the Eastern Carolina Conference has a chance of beating the Big-Orange Machine, North Pitt's girls, it just may well be the Chargerettes of Ayden-Grifton.

The first meeting between the two this year saw the Pant-HERS come away with a seven-point win, one of two over A-G, but Coach Debra Pfiel believes her team, "... put it all together" in that one and have been playing very good since. They have five wins to their credit and should have six. Says Miss Pfiel, "We lost the first game we played but we should have won it because we had four or five chances to go ahead on free throws but couldn't do it."

Against North Pitt, Miss Pfiel feels that they Chargerettes lost it in the first four minutes. "We played poor and they got some easy baskets but we played good the rest of the game." The coach is pleased with her team's progress and things they may be a little stronger than she had hoped they would be at this point.

"We are moving the ball pretty good. We try to play for the good shot." They must have gotten some good opportunities; the A-G girls have scored over 50 points three times already and once they poured 72 through the nets.

One of the team sparkplugs is Decia Little. Call a good all-around player by her coach, she is a good shooter and has good hustle. Miss Little is also good to have under the boards to pull down rebounds. Currently, she is jumping center for the Chargerettes.

Senior Maude Babington is back from last year's team. The coach considers Maude a good player "...going both ways." She injured her knee last year and this may limit her some. But Miss Pfiel pointed out that, "Her knee slows her down but she is the kind of player that can recover from being a little slow and she knows how and where to move. She just hasn't been able to get her shots to fall."

Terry Wooten, another returnee, may be the most improved player on the team. She is playing center for A-G but is not scoring the way she feels she should. Miss Pfiel considers the Havelock game Miss Wooten's best. "She can get in double figures if she can get the right touch on the ball."

These three have been playing along the baseline. The two guards are Nancy Sugg and Connie Carter, who is playing about equal time with Wanda Wheless. Both Sugg and Carter can shoot from inside and the side as well as hit from outside. Wheless may have lost a little of her confidence in scoring but is staring to come around.

One area that is lacking in the Chargerette offense is rebounding. Misses Little and Wooten seem to carry the team here. "We have played several easy teams and tough competition will force us to rebound better," Miss Pfiel noted.

Against the press, Miss Pfiel's girls have "... come through and I'm pleased." The only trouble they have had was against North Pitt. The Chargerettes have also been able to run a press of their own with good results.

As far as speed is concerned, Miss Little may be one of the quicker ones on the team. Misses Sugg, Babington, and Wooten impress the coach with their ability to run the fast break fairly well. "I think our quickness is above average."

Defensively, the Chargerettes are at a point where they can recover from their mistakes and keep scoring as well as forcing their opponents to the outside and the corners. Commented Miss Pfiel, "We are pretty strong on defense."

On the bench, Miss Pfiel has Mary Mac Stroud. "She is not too quick but her shooting has improved," Miss Pfiel pointed out. When Miss Babington needs a rest, she is replaced by either Emily Herring or Hazel Coles. The coach feels, "The rest of the team is coming along real well playing together. They are better than last year and this means a lot."

Miss Pfiel is not worried about next year yet. She will lose three players off this year but has plenty of material to make up for them. "I want to play the other girls but I have to play my starters, too. We'll play next year's ball when the time comes."

Miss Pfiel thinks her girls will have a good shot at beating the Pant-HERS if they can keep down the injuries and keep working real hard they'll have a good chance. "I'm not taking anything away from North Pitt but eventually you have to lose. It will be an important game as well as being a conference game."

The coach still feels that North Pitt is the team to beat. She also feels that Southern Wayne and C.B. Aycock will push the Big Orange. Ayden-Grifton will make things hot for the Lady Panthers, also.

Eight Teams Open Quest For Trip To Super Bowl; Bradshaw Ready

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Steelers jump into the pool for the first time but it's the Miami Dolphins with the strongest kick as the National Football League playoffs open this weekend.

The Steelers, title-winners for the first time in their 40-year history, take on the Oakland Raiders in one of two games Saturday while the heavily-favored, hard-running Dolphins meet the Cleveland Browns on Sunday.

Saturday's other match pits the defending World Champion Dallas Cowboys against the San Francisco 49ers while the Green Bay Packers tackle the Washington Redskins in Sunday's other game.

Survivors in the opening round will meet on Sunday Dec. 31 for the respective championships of the National and American conferences. The conference winners will play in the Super Bowl in Los Angeles on Jan. 14.

The Steelers are slight favorites in their battle in Pittsburgh but the Raiders have had more experience in these playoff games. They've appeared in the affairs five times, in the last six years.

Oakland, winner of the American Conference's Western Division, will have to contain Pittsburgh's hard-hitting attack led by quarterback Terry Bradshaw.

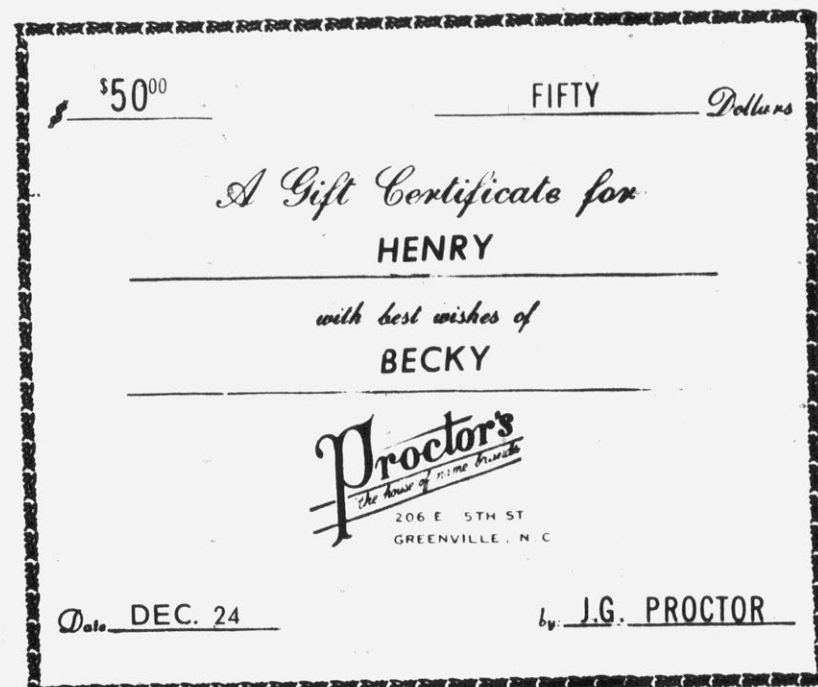

Tide Table

Tides for the 48-hour period beginning at midnight at Topsail Island:

Pirate Wrestlers After Second Title

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
(One of a series)

With another Thanksgiving Open and North Carolina Collegiate title safely tucked under their belts, the East Carolina University wrestling team is taking aim on their second straight Southern Conference title next spring.

And Coach John Welborn is looking for another good year as far as dual meets are concerned.

"We should have another real good year," Welborn said. "But a lot depends on how some of our young wrestlers come along. We have two freshmen wrestling on the first string right now. It really looks like we could have a real good year."

The Pirates, however, have a tough schedule, which includes several four-way meets where durability means much. And among their opponents are tough West Chester, East Stroudsburg, and the Athletics in Action, one of the top non-collegiate wrestling teams in the country.

"We also have some of our traditional toughies, William & Mary, Appalachian and N.C. State," the coach added.

In the Southern Conference race, Welborn looks for a three-team race. "It should be between us, William & Mary and Appalachian. I really don't believe that Appalachian can win the title, but they'll certainly have a lot to say about who does. And of course, if things fall just right for them, they could win it. The tournament is also at William & Mary, so that gives them a big advantage too."

The Bucs have had only one dual meet so far this year, and they won that one handily, beating the University of North Carolina, 48-0. They have also participated in two meets, including the Thanksgiving Open at Norfolk, and the N.C. Collegiate at Chapel Hill, "winning" both. While no official team standings are kept, they are unofficially, and the Pirates "won" them both. They had five individual champions in the Thanksgiving Open and eight in the state.

Last year, the Pirates were ranked among the best in the South, and this year, Welborn feels they should be as highly ranked. "I don't know of anyone south of here who would be any better," Welborn said. "But how far north you go in defining 'South' could bring in some mighty good teams." These would include the rival Indians and Mountaineers, along with ACC powerhouse Maryland. "But we'd be in the top three or four at any rate," Welborn said.

He feels he has four good prospects to advance well in the nationals. They include 126-pound junior Danny Monroe, 134-pound senior Jim McCloe, 142-pound junior Milt Sherman, and 177-pound junior Bill Hill.

"We have some others who could also make it, but it would take some work," Welborn added.

At 118, Welborn has two working, junior Glenn Baker, the defending Southern champ, and Bob Vroom, a junior who beat Baker in the state meet for the title. Baker was second in the Thanksgiving Open also. "We should have the edge in this weight in the conference," Welborn said.

At 125 is Monroe, twice Southern Conference champ, and winner in both meets so far this year. "He must rate as one of the conference favorites," the coach said.

McCloe, at 134, won the state title for his class for the second time this year. He was second at the Thanksgiving meet and is the defending Southern champ. "He's going to have some tough competition, but since he's the champ, he'll be the favorite."

Sherman, a transfer from Troy State, is the 142-pound wrestler. So far, he's won both the state and Thanksgiving titles. "He also has to be the favorite in his class," Welborn said.

At 150 is a freshman, Tom Marriott, who was third in the Thanksgiving and won the state. "He stands a possibility of winning but has some stiff competition. It depends on how fast he comes," Welborn said.

At 158 is Bruce Hall, a junior, and Jack Stortz, a sophomore. Hall won the Thanksgiving and was second in the state. He was also second in the conference last year. Stortz beat him in the state, and Welborn feels that this weight class is really up for grabs come the conference meet.

Another freshman, Ron Whitcomb is the 167-pounder. He was second at Thanksgiving and won the state. "He's gonna be a good wrestler, but it might be awfully tough to win here this year. Scott Moyer of William & Mary, if he wrestles in this class, will be favorite."

At 177 is Hill, who was third in the Thanksgiving and won the state. He has won the state three times and has twice won the Southern. At the last state meet, he was named the "Outstanding Wrestler." Welborn says that he must be rated the favorite in his class.

At 190, Welborn has three fairly good men. They include John Huber, a junior who was third in Thanksgiving and second in the state and was second in the conference as a heavyweight last year; Mike Radford and John Williams, both freshmen who have been impressive so far.

The heavyweight for the Bucs is Mark Pohren, a senior. He won the Thanksgiving and was third in the state. "He's got to go up against William & Mary's defending champ and a tough one from Appalachian, but he has a chance," Welborn said.

"Of the 10 classes, I think we have possibilities in all of them. We'll be favored in a lot of them, but it would be foolish to think we could win them all. It just doesn't happen that way. Personally, I'd be tickled if we could win five championships."

Those five, however, would probably be just enough to power the Bucs to another title, one they badly want.

Green Bay Gets Nod Over Skins

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe Washington's pro football elders are tiring, so I'll pick Green Bay's recycled Packers to outthump the Redskins.

It's the "second season" and Santa Claus arrives early for the nation's NFL nutties—two Saturday playoff games and two more on Christmas Eve.

"Don't bug me, son, these are the ones that count," will be heard from Coos Bay to Key Largo.

Now that the National Football League dead wood has packed it in, the prediction business gets a bit slimy. My .724 percentage from 93 right, 34 wrong in the regular season could take a bruising.

But, away we go.

PACKERS 24, REDSKINS 21—Rookie Chester Marcol's hoof may well decide a spirited matchup Sunday at Washington. Dan Devine doesn't want to be "another Vince Lombardi." He seeks his own identity and a victory over Washington, Lombardi's second team, would do wonders.

Washington's best chances lie with a heady, graybeard defense. Linebackers like Jack Pardee and Chris Hanburger are capable of heroics that can unnerve a sophomore quarterback like Scott Hunter.

As far as the running backs go, it seems dead even despite the presence of Redskin dazzer Larry Brown. He and partner Charlie Harraway seem no better than the John Brockington-MacArthur Lane duo.

FORTY-NINERS 28, COWBOYS 21—Dallas may refine some of the spirit that made the Cowboys world champs a year ago, but John Brodie's miracle rescue against Minnesota last week has San Francisco moving.

The Cowboys' "Doomsday Defense" isn't what it was, the 49ers can match it. Offensively, it's still hard to think a Craig Morton-led team can keep from running off the Super Bowl road.

DOLPHINS 24, BROWNS 10—Miami is unbeaten and untied, but the Dolphins still find themselves trying to prove to the far reaches of the NFL that they're for real. They are, friends.

Cleveland will be afire over being made an 11½-point underdog, not to mention 35-to-1 to win the Super Bowl. But, it won't be enough. Miami should win this one with Earl Morrall, Bob Griese or Jim Del Gaudio.

STEELERS 17, OAKLAND 13—Pittsburgh's defense is the key. It should muffle the Marv Hubbard-Charlie Smith running threat and Daryle Lamonica can't elude Mean Joe Greene all day.

More than one wise gentleman has said that a good defense will usually whip a good offense. I'm a believer.

UCLA Chases 50th Victory

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

No more banana splits or chili dishes for UCLA's Johnny Wooden, the winningest active coach in college basketball.

The 62-year-old Wooden returns to the sidelines tonight as his national champion Bruins take on the Pitt Panthers in quest of their 50th straight victory.

Wooden missed his first game in nearly 25 years last week because he was in the hospital with a mild heart condition. His doctors have given permission for his return provided he takes things easy.

"No more chili dishes or banana splits after the game for me," said Wooden on the eve of the Pitt game and Saturday night's meeting with Notre Dame. "The doctors have ruled those goodies out, but I can still eat plenty of fruit and I like that."

"I've always told my players to be quick, but don't hurry," Wooden continued. "But my doctors have told me that I can't follow my own advice. I can't be quick or hurry."

The Minnesota Gophers, the only team in the Associated Press rankings to see action on a slim Thursday night program, rallied in the second half for a 67-53 victory over Corpus Christi.

It was the sixth in a row for the fifth-ranked unbeaten Gophers, paced by Ron Behagen's 26 points and 19 from Jim Brewer, who hit for 16 in the second half.

"It's the toughest thing there is in basketball, to go through a season undefeated," said Minnesota Coach Bill Musselman. "Now let's try to do it."

Allan Horniak tossed in 31 points to lead Ohio State in a 112-80 rout of Ohio U. and two free throws by Steve Reid with 15 seconds left gave Boston College a 96-95 overtime triumph over St. John's of New York.

A 26-point output by Lionel Billings sparked Duquesne over San Jose State and James "The Fly" Williams tallied 21 to lead Austin Peay over Bellarmine 94-82.

Creighton's Bluejays upped their record to 5-1 by defeating Denver 93-71 and a 20-foot hook shot by Richard Reid with eight seconds to go gave Cal Poly-Pomona a 81-79 squeaker over Northern Arizona.

Elsewhere it was Butler over Toledo 72-68, Wyoming over Fresno State 80-59, San Diego State over Northern Illinois 85-74, Hardin-Simmons over Oklahoma Christian 90-65 and Nevada-Reno over Portland State 100-81.

Oakland's World Series hero Gino Tenace played seven games at first base during the regular season. He played that position in the seventh and final World Series game.

Indochina, we have to move the talks out of Paris and hold them either in the Arctic Circle or the Sahara Desert.

We must make the scene of the negotiations as primitive and as uncomfortable as possible. The negotiators should be exposed to extreme cold or extreme heat, with despicable food, bug-ridden accommodations and the threat of frostbite or malaria hanging over them every day.

Instead of long, black limousines to take them to and from the conference, they should be supplied with dog sleds or camels and their own camps should be 50 miles from the site of the talks.

Instead of meeting once a week in the ballroom of the Majestic Hotel, they should be required to sit in an igloo or a tent seven days a week, 16 hours a day, exposed to each other's body odors.

No more comfortable wiks in the garden in the Paris suburbs for Le Duc Tho and Henry Kissinger. Let them sit in the middle of a sandstorm and work out their differences. Or, if they prefer, let them squat over a hole in the ice in the Arctic and talk while they're fishing for their supper.

It is time world pressure is put on the French to kick the peace talks out of Paris. We can thank them for their hospitality and their good intentions, but now it is obvious to everyone that ever since the talks began in the French capital neither side has had any sense of urgency to reach a final agreement.

The North and South Vietnamese, the Viet Cong and the American delegations may protest at being so unceremoniously booted out, but it is now clear they'll never see a light at the end of the tunnel as long as they have so many lights in Paree.

around the corner. I'm looking forward to a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year. Christmas is a time for giving and receiving but with a kind heart and thankful thoughts.

Ron Braxton and his students are keeping busy doing skits about famous men in science. The students try to guess who is being imitated. Student of the week is Sarah Musselwhite and most improved student is Eddie Langley.

Kissinger sent his deputy, Gen. Alexander Haig, to Washington to discuss one major sticking point with the President. Tentative arrangements had already been made to send Haig and a top-level U.S. delegation to Saigon this week with the complete agreement for Thieu's inspection.

What happened is now history. At the negotiation session on Monday, Dec. 11, Le Duc Tho, Hanoi's chief negotiator, showed suspicious signs of stalling. On Tuesday, he produced a new set of protocols for the post-ceasefire machinery that would have made a mockery of any serious policing of the agreement. On Wednesday, Tho added still other demands.

To Mr. Nixon, this sudden change meant one thing: Hanoi had decided that the American President was tied to a peace-at-any-price pledge and would have to knuckle under.

Whether right or wrong in that judgment, Mr. Nixon reacted characteristically by unleashing his bombers and mine-layers. Now it is Hanoi's move.

trip to make an evaluation on what the class has been doing. His information was helpful and interesting.

The Farm Management class presented our principal, J.R. Caraway, and the class teacher, Sutton Austin, with a surprise gift for their leadership, cooperation and success. Plans are incomplete at this time for organizing the Pitt County FFA Federation.

Sutton Austin gave his class a surprise party for being such helpful students.

The Future Farmers of America have organized a basketball team. They are planning to play against the "Explorers", a church group from Kinston. FFA was given a cook-out by the people of this community for their excellent work. They have contributed quite a lot to this community as well as out school.

Cadet Raymond Sykes of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., met with a group of prospective applicants on Wednesday, at the Pitt County Board of Education Conference room.

He will also visit each of the county schools beginning January 2, to speak with students about West Point and its program.

Debra Daniels, news editor for the Conley paper, is going to write a column in the AYDEN NEWS-LEADER about Winterville news.

Our Christmas edition of the school newspaper, THE SHIELD, was circulated Tuesday. We really put forth effort and I am proud of the paper. Mrs. McClanahan really knows how to make it great!

Future Business Leaders of America gave a party to the first grade class at Grimesland. The members and club sponsors enjoyed it as much as the students did. A coloring book and box of crayons were distributed to each of the students by Joe Tucker, who played Santa Claus.

Melvin Suggs, bricklaying class instructor, would like to show his thanks to God by writing all of you this prayer.

Dear Almighty God,

I would like to talk to you concerning this Christmas season. First, though, I would like to recognize You as the only living God, Righteous Holy Jesus, long-suffering, generous God. When Your name is mentioned, every knee should bow, every tongue should confess You as the only God of the universe and a whole lot more that we haven't seen. Blessed Lord, let me try to thank You for all Your wonderful blessings to American as well as the whole world. God, in Your Holy Word you said that all nations would be blessed or cursed through Abraham, the Jewish father. God, most Americans don't even realize where blessings came from. Right now, let me beg for forgiveness on behalf of us sinful people. Lord, please put up with it a little longer that we might be revived, especially our president and other leaders. Oh, God help them! God, help me to live closer to You in 1973. Lord, in concluding this prayer, I pray that your spirit will be strong, so the American people will always be thankful and by all means keep Christ on Christmas this year.

Amen

I would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Don't forget we have a game on Dec. 29 with Havelock. Good luck Vikings! See you soon!

CAIRO (AP) — The senior American diplomat in Egypt today expressed his own and his government's regret at the damage to the Egyptian Embassy in Hanoi during an American bombing raid Thursday.

Retiring Midwife Honored; 2 Left

Pitt County's population of midwives is down to two now with the retirement Wednesday of Mrs. Bessie Harris, the area's senior practitioner of the ancient art of baby-delivering.

At a combination Christmas party, retirement ceremony held in the lounge of the Pitt County Community Health Department, Mrs. Harris, of Rt. 5, Greenville, was honored for dedicated services in this field.

She was first licensed as a midwife in February, 1940 and had previously been a midwife in Greene County from 1938 until coming to Pitt County.

Dr. Robert May, Director, Pitt County Community Health Department, presented a certificate of appreciation for Mrs. Harris' services, in the name of the Moye Midwife Club, the name by which that Pitt County midwives are known.

Mrs. Harris was also presented gifts by nurses and friends attending the event.

The two remaining licensed Pitt County mid-wives are Mrs. Beatrice Harper and Mrs. Queenie Gardner, both of Ayden. Mrs. Gardner has served more than 20 years as a mid-wife and Mrs. Harper has been on duty for about ten years in that capacity.

Mid-wives in Pitt County are required to take a full one-year instructional course and in addition must attend classes once a month for nine months of each year. Mrs. Addie (Ed) Griffith heads the mid-wife instructional course.

Mrs. Griffith indicated the Health Department is interested in attracting candidates in details should contact Dr. May.

Ombudsman Car Plowed Into School Children

CHARLOTTE (AP)—The NAACP wants to put an educational ombudsman in the Charlotte and Mecklenburg County school system, to work on solutions to racial grievances and other student problems.

Kelly Alexander Jr., state coordinator of youth and college affairs for the NAACP, said he had submitted the plan to School Supt. Rolland W. Jones.

The ombudsman—a go-between to handle gripes—would be employed by the NAACP and would operate out of an office in the school system. Alexander said his purpose would be "the investigation of grievances and the opening of atrophied lines of communication."

The ombudsman's only powers would be to conduct investigations, ask questions, make suggestions, and call attention to problems.

Alexander said the NAACP hopes to obtain funds for the ombudsman from the federal government and from private educational and charitable foundations.

CANCELLATION
ASHEVILLE (AP) — The National Weather Service canceled at 2:30 a.m. today the flash-flood watch it had put into effect 24 hours before for the North Carolina mountains and Piedmont.

CHARLOTTE (AP)—An elementary school Christmas outing ended in tragedy Thursday as one child was killed and nine others and their teacher were injured as a car plowed into their midst at a shopping center.

Police said the car jumped the curb at the underground escalator landing at South Park, plunging into a group of 27 children and three chaperones. They were lined up at the glass-enclosed landing awaiting their school bus.

Over Half Inch Of Rainfall Here

A total of .71 inches of rainfall has been recorded for the Greenville area within the last 24 hours.

According to the Greenville Utilities Commission weather station, the Tar River level was reported at 11.4 feet and rising. According to a utilities spokesman, the river has risen .8 feet within the last 24 hours.

The low temperature for the period ending this morning at 8 a.m. was recorded at 45 degrees while the high for that period was set at 69 degrees. The temperature at 8 a.m. today was 67 degrees.

Leaned To 'More Jail'

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Judge William H. Abernathy, who sent eight mothers to jail for a weekend while they awaited trial on charges of welfare fraud, says, "There would have been more weekends in jail for that crowd" if they had fewer children at home.

The judge made his comment in an interview Thursday, a day after three of the mother filed a civil suit against him in federal court. They seek to have declared unconstitutional his action of last month in sending them to jail and lecturing them on morals for not telling welfare officials they had outside employment to supplement their welfare benefits. Had they told, the benefits would have been reduced. The women said they needed the extra money to care for their children.

In the interview, Abernathy, chief state District Court judge of Mecklenburg County, said, "I think I was sued because I did the right thing."

The suit was filed by George S. Daly, a civil rights lawyer. He said no monetary damages were sought because the Supreme Court has ruled that a judge has complete immunity against damages.

Abernathy said he had never heard of such a suit before. He added, "They pleaded guilty; I rendered judgment."

Local Guardsmen At Inauguration

RALEIGH — Nearly two thousand members of the North Carolina National Guard, including both Army and Air units, will participate in the Jan. 5 inauguration of Governor-Elect James E. Holshouser, Jr.

The troops will consist of three composite battalions representing Guard units from the western, central and eastern regions of North Carolina.

One of the representatives from the Eastern Battalion is the 514th MP Company of Greenville.

Awards Received By Two Cadets

East Carolina University Air Force ROTC cadets George T. Miller and James A. Steele have received awards for outstanding performance.

Both are recipients of the AFOTC Distinguished Cadet Award, given to cadets who demonstrate an unusual degree of ability, initiative and other leadership qualities.

Miller, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Miller of Concord, is currently serving as Group Commander of ECU's AFOTC Detachment 600.

Steele, current Deputy Commander, is the son of Carroll R. Steele of 104 Holly Road, Goldsboro.

Selected For '73 Publication

Mrs. Claudia Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bland of Greenville, has been selected for inclusion in the 1973 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Mrs. Harris, a senior at Free Will Baptist Bible College in Nashville, Tenn., is one of 10 students chosen by the faculty from among more than 500 enrollees for the honor.

Mrs. Harris graduated from J.H. Rose High school in 1969 and attended the 1970 summer session at East Carolina University. She also was a member of the Maranatha Free Will Baptist Church.

The college administration will present a certificate to Mrs. Harris at commencement exercises in May honoring her selection for Who's Who.

Black Pastors Sponsor Service

The Black Pastors' Conference of Greenville will sponsor a Christmas day service Christmas morning at 6 a.m. at Selvia Chapel F.W.B. Church, Greene St.

Bishop W. L. Jones will be in charge of the service.

The Rev. B.B. Felder is chairman of the conference.

That's what the Wisemen were—foreigners! They came from distant countries. They were not Christ's own countrymen.

And yet they knelt before the manger. They offered precious gifts—gold, frankincense and myrrh.

The world had found its Center—a Life and a Love to bring men together.

The visit of the Wisemen is the first step in the universal mission of the Church—to bring the whole of humanity into the Kingdom.

But man has been a long time accepting the lesson of the Wisemen. We are still suspicious of strangers, of foreigners, of our new neighbors.

Before our day, the peoples of the earth lived in many mansions. Now we are all under one roof—drawn together by modern communication and travel.

With the transformation of today's world the decision over the Wisemen can no longer be postponed. All of us, human beings from every corner of the globe, must realize our need for one another, our need for love and understanding. Together we must kneel down before the manger.

The Worry Clinic The Aged Need Mental Tonic

Velma raised the I.Q. of her aged parents by at least 10 points! So heed this advice! It may postpone their entrance into a Nursing Home by 5 years.

And meanwhile give them far more happiness at their family gatherings!

CASE V-577: Velma D., aged 34, faces a growing tragedy. "Dr. Crane," she began, "both my parents are still living, though now nearly 70. "Alas, they are growing prematurely aged. "I think it may be due to their failure to read the daily newspaper or follow the TV programs.

"We make sure they get the newspaper and also try to encourage them to turn on their TV.

"But they are growing more childish and forgetful all the time. "And they don't seem to take an interest in conversation when they are in a group. "Instead, they break in with an irrelevant complaint, such as 'I want to go home' or 'My back hurts' or 'Are you going to stay with me tonight, I'm afraid to be alone!'"

"What can I do to help exercise their brains and maybe raise their I.Q. a few points?"

Mental Tonics
Here are a few medicopsychological tonics by which to perk up your elderly parents and grandparents:

(1) Be sure they have an eye examination and then give them new eye glasses for their birthday or Christmas.

(2) Take them down to an ear clinic and have an audiometer test of their hearing.

If hearing aids can permit them to stay in contact with conversation, by all means give them a hearing aid as a gift.

And the reason I urge you children to finance such aids is the universal tendency of most Senior Citizens to hold on to their money.

They may be generous with grandchildren, but they seldom will lay our money for new eye glasses, hearing aids, newly fitted false teeth or for a cataract examination.

Most people even though multimillionaires, grow rather stingy about spending their funds.

For they have a subconscious fear that they will never have enough to last them throughout life.

So they tend to become misers and hoarders, at least regarding themselves.

(3) Since false teeth need replacement every 7 years, on the average, don't let your aged relatives succumb to a "mashed potatoes and gravy" menu or dunking of doughnuts just because of poorly fitting dentures.

After the age of 45, most people are somewhat anemic, largely due to poor teeth.

So they fail to eat steak and carrots or other raw vegetables that are rich in iron.

We call this "secondary anemia" of Senior Citizens.

(4) If cataracts (cloudy lens) prevent their reading the newspaper or enjoying TV, take them at once to an eye surgeon (Ophthalmologist).

Cataracts are easy to remove and the patient doesn't lose ONE drop of blood.

Yet such a formerly half blind person may later read fine print of the newspaper or thread a needle and sew.

(5) Prod your elderly relatives with daily mental tonics, such as frequent phone calls, visits to restaurants, if only for a hamburger, plus "Junk" mail, as well as personal notes, just to perk them up regarding the mailman's visit.

(6) Also, get them to Sunday School and church each week, for the familiar hymns and Bible discussions revive their youth-

Phillips For New Policy

RALEIGH (AP) — The superintendent of North Carolina's public schools says the National Teacher Examination "has no validity whatsoever in the measurement of the quality" of teaching.

Dr. Craig Phillips made the statement Thursday as he strongly defended changes made by the state Board of Education in the process for certifying school teachers.

He denied vigorously that academic standards will drop when the new procedure goes into operation next July 1.

Under the new policy, such factors as professional performance and personality characteristics will be used along with the score on the National Teacher Examination in certifying a teacher. At present, only the NTE score is considered.

Phillips admitted at a briefing for newsmen that the new policy would make possible the certification of a teacher who failed the NTE, but he said "academic measures have not been downplayed, but put in a better perspective."

The state board adopted the policy change by an 8-3 vote at its last meeting.

Two ex officio members of the board, State Treasurer Edwin Gill and Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor, want the board to reconsider its action. Both were absent when it was adopted.

The new plan has the support of the North Carolina Association of Educators.

Gov. Elect Jim Holshouser said he does not entirely approve of the new policy and implied that a compromise plan should be adopted.

The three board members who voted against the policy would like to have it reconsidered.

A GIFT PACKAGE FOR YOUR CHURCH

We suggest:

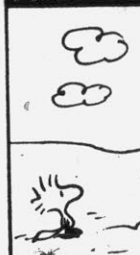

1. A NEW YAMAHA OR WURLITZER STUDIO PIANO, or a NEW CONN OR WURLITZER ORGAN in a finish to blend with your Church furniture.
2. A New Leslie Tone cabinet, to match your present Organ. (We'll GIVE you the installation FREE if purchased by Christmas)
3. A New Public Address system, to match your needs.
4. A Paging system, with up to 24 individual points, separately controlled, helps your secretary to reach up to 24 rooms individually, or collectively.

For complete information, ask for Mr. H. D. Taunton, Manager, today.

Three Injured In 2 Accidents

Three persons were reported injured and an estimated $4,200 property damage caused in two collisions investigated in Greenville yesterday.

Police reported heaviest damage resulted from a three-vehicle collision at the intersection of Tenth and Washington Streets about 7:20 p.m.

Drivers of the cars involved in the mishap were identified as Virginia Smith Ellison, Route 1, Winterville; William Stanley Highsmith Jr., 16, of 313 Kirkland Dr.; and Fannie Mayo Sharp of Route 6, Greenville.

Police, who said Mrs. Ellison, Highsmith and a passenger in the Highsmith auto were injured, set damage at $800 to the Ellison car, $1,600 to the Highsmith auto and $200 to the Sharp vehicle.

Highsmith was charged with failing to stop for a red light. Sue Carol Coggins, 16, of Route 6, Greenville, was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of an 8 a.m. mishap at the intersection of Greene Street and Mumford Road.

Officers reported the Coggins car collided with a vehicle driven by Rose Atkinson Prayer of Route 1, Ayden causing an estimated $650 damage to the Coggins auto and $950 damage to the Prayer vehicle.

No injuries were reported in that mishap.

Smugglers Of Hashish Nabbed

BEAUFORT, S.C. (AP)—Bonds totalling $1.5 million have been set for six young men charged with handling illegal hashish that government agents said would be worth $4 million in street sales.

Bond for the six, arrested by U.S. Customs agents who confiscated 11-duffel bags stuffed with hashish in a stake-out on a sea island spit, were set Thursday by U.S. Commissioner Waring Howe at Charleston.

Howe also ordered a preliminary hearing, at which bonds could be reduced, for 11 a.m. Dec. 29 before the U. S. magistrate.

And he appointed two attorneys to represent the men when they said they had no lawyer. Vernon D. Acree, U.S. Commissioner of Customs set the value on the 879 pounds of the drug that is a product of the marijuana plant, identified the six as:

Patrick Giordano, 27, of Frogmore; Kenneth Wayne Browning, 25, of Fripp Island; Neil Patrick Sawyer, no address given; and three Californians, Arthur Harold Fancee, 25, of Los Angeles; Alan Whitney Adolph, 23, of Encino; and Richard Allen Stacy, 25, of Redondo.

Acree said a fisherman tipped officers to the bags hidden in some brush on a spit of Bay Point Island in Port Royal Sound, just north of Hilton Head Island, posh resort area.

He said officers stalked out the area and intercepted four men as they began loading the bags in a 16-foot outboard motorboat Wednesday night to take them to a 40-foot sloop waiting offshore in the deeper water of the sound.

The Customs commissioner said two other men were arrested later on Fripp Island.

another posh barrier island resort north of Bay Point Island.

Scout Earns Eagle Badge

Michael Lemon Tetterton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton L. Tetterton of Bethel, received the highest rank in scouting Sunday morning at Bethel Baptist Church. Carey Hammond, Scoutmaster of Troop 15, presented the candidate for the Eagle Award.

Hilt Tetterton, brother of the candidate, and also an Eagle Scout, gave the charge. Joe Hunnicutt, member of the East Carolina Council, presented the Awards. David Perry, an Eagle Scout, read a letter of congratulations from Norton Clapp and Alden G. Barber, president of the Boy Scouts of America and Chief Scout Executive.

Michael is a student at Fork Union Military Academy, where he is Senior Patrol Leader of the Junior School Scout Troop.
