

Simple Funeral For Truman Today

Two More B52's Lost In Raids

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. bombers kept up saturation air attacks against the Hanoi and Haiphong areas today, and the U.S. Command announced the loss of two more B52 bombers and a big rescue helicopter. Six men were reported missing in one of the B52s, raising to at least 81 the total number of Americans missing, killed or captured in the air attack on the North Vietnamese heartland that began Dec. 18. Two other Americans were killed aboard a Navy destroyer hit by shore fire.

The attack on the heavily defended Hanoi and Haiphong areas resulted in the heaviest weekly American casualties in nearly two years. The U.S. Command's weekly casualty summary today said seven Americans were killed in action last week, 73 were missing and 29 were wounded. Four of the dead were killed in air operations in Laos, the Command said.

North Vietnam said again that it would not yield to the heaviest air assaults of the war, which have left much of greater Hanoi and Haiphong in flames and rubble, according to a bomb-damage report by the U.S. Command.

The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said waves of B52 bombers and fighter-bombers carried out more "extermination" raids Wednesday night against many densely populated areas, including Hanoi and Haiphong and their suburbs.

Novosti, a Soviet press agency, said in Moscow that its office in Hanoi was destroyed during a raid Wednesday. The agency said it did not know if any of its employees were killed or injured.

Hanoi claimed five more B52 bombers were shot down, including four in the Hanoi area, and several crewmen were captured.

The U.S. Command said one B52 was hit over North Vietnam and crashed early today near the Nakhon Phanom Air Base in northeastern Thailand. The six crewmen parachuted and were rescued.

Another B52 was shot down in the Hanoi area Tuesday, the Command said. The six crewmen were listed as missing.

The Air Force CH53 helicopter crashed in Laos Wednesday after it was hit during a rescue operation in North Vietnam, the command said. The crew was rescued, but one man was wounded.

The U.S. Command now has admitted the loss of 23 aircraft in the Hanoi-Haiphong blitz, including 14 of the Strategic Air Command's $8 million B52 bombers. Hanoi claims it has shot down 71 U.S. planes, including 31 B52s.

U.S. military sources said the fliers that the helicopter was trying to rescue apparently had been captured and the North Vietnamese tricked the helicopter crew into flying into an ambush.

Arab Terrorists Agree To Free Israelis Held In Thai Embassy

By PETER O'LOUGHLIN
Associated Press Writer

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Four Arab terrorists took over the Israeli embassy today, seizing six hostages, but government sources said the invaders agreed nine hours later to release the hostages in return for a safe conduct out of Thailand.

The hostages included Shimon Avimor, Israeli ambassador to Cambodia.

Thai police entered the embassy tonight.

The government negotiated with Pan American World Airways to take the Arabs to their unknown destination.

In the first of today's events, the Arabs gained access to the compound. Two wore formal white tie and tails, as if they were going to attend today's investiture of Prince Vajiralongkorn as heir to the throne.

They were granted ready access and were joined by two other armed Arabs, who climbed a wall.

The invaders threatened to kill the hostages and blow up the embassy unless 36 Palestinian prisoners were released from Israeli prisons.

About 400 Thai police and army troops with guard dogs surrounded the compound.

The terrorists earlier had vowed to "fight to the end" rather than release the hostages.

The Thai government offered the Arabs safe conduct out of the country if they would release the hostages.

Details of what evolved from this were not immediately clear.

One report was that Thai officials and the Egyptian ambassador reached agreement with the Black September terrorists guaranteeing them safe passage if they released the hostages unharmed. But Pan American had refused to carry the Arabs if they were armed, police said.

The Israeli government had said it would not submit to blackmail and release prisoners.

Two of the terrorists wore white tie and tails, posing as diplomats returning from the investiture today of the crown prince of Thailand.

They walked through the embassy gate and "bowed and smiled to me," said Pvt. Sunchai Pienkana, the policeman on guard there.

Sunchai said he then saw two other men climb over a side wall of the embassy compound. "They had leather-type jackets on that looked like bulletproof jackets we use in the police force," he reported.

These two were carrying sub-machine guns, and the two in evening dress apparently had guns under their coats.

Sunchai said the four men ordered him into the embassy building, rounded up all the Thai employees and shouted "Go! Go!" in English. When the Thais fled, the Arabs bolted the front door and shut all the windows.

Sunchai ran to a telephone outside the compound and called the local police station.

More than 300 police and troops rushed to the compound and surrounded the embassy building.

The Israeli government said five Israelis were being held inside, including First Secretary Nitzhan Hadass, his wife and the wife of a clerk.

The terrorists threw out two notes containing a list of the 36 Palestinians for whom freedom was demanded and seven other demands.

The other demands were not made public immediately.

Family's Holiday Spoiled By Fire

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

Santa Claus came early to visit the children of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Jenkins of Lot 1, Shady Knoll Mobile Estates near here because he knew they were leaving Christmas Day to spend the rest of the holiday with relatives in Salisbury.

By noon Christmas Day all that was left of Santa's presents was four-year-old Susan's bicycle left outside under the carport and 12-year-old Jesse's watch he was wearing. A fire had destroyed their home and all their belongings except the clothes worn by each of the five members of the family there at the time and a family Bible grabbed by Mrs. Jenkins as they escaped the blaze.

"We think it must have started from the furnace," Mrs. Jenkins said. "We had just been out to call Grandma Lambeth in Salisbury to tell her we'd be there by late afternoon. I was cooking breakfast and Jesse was dressing the baby (two-year-old Chuckie).

Susan came running to me saying, 'Mama, my room's hot.' The room, located next to the furnace, was ablaze when we got there. Johnny tried at first to put out a mattress that was burning, but then he realized it was hopeless and he got us all out. I was crazy to get some of our things out, but the firemen and Johnny kept me back. I just kept thinking of all our family pictures that couldn't be replaced.

"In less than 15 minutes everything was gone. We called Mama and told her what had happened and then we went over to Linda's to stay." Linda is Mrs. Wayne, the Jenkins' daughter, who lives in Stancill's Trailer Park on the Belvoir Road near here.

Yesterday the Jenkins' moved into an eight by 35-foot trailer in Riverside Trailer Park next to the Pitt County Fairgrounds. They will stay here until the man who owned the burned mobile home can locate them in another mobile home. The one in Shady Knoll had just been rented from him 11 days before it burned, when Jenkins, a brickmason, moved his family here from Salisbury. A grown son is living in Salisbury and 10-year-old Johnny Ray arrived only after Christmas. He has all his clothes because he had been staying with his grandmother in Salisbury until Christmas.

Of course, the Jenkins are having to start over in acquiring household goods and clothing for their family. Yesterday, they had been given dishes, some towels, some cleaning supplies and a few groceries, clothes, and toys. Much more is needed, however. The children's sizes are as follows: Jesse — 15 boys'; Susan, 6; and Chuckie, 3 or 4.

When asked if she would accept gifts, Mrs. Jenkins said she would be thankful and she added, "Any items we are given that we can't use, I'll see that the Salvation Army gets so someone else in trouble can use them."

Gifts may be carried to the Shady Knoll Grocery located on the far east street in Shady Knoll Mobile Estates.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — After simple funeral services devoid of eulogy, former President Harry S. Truman is to be buried today in the courtyard of the Truman Library.

Only 250 guests were invited, few of them of national renown, in keeping with the unpretentious solemnity that has marked the days since his death Tuesday.

Truman's widow, Bess, who had been secluded in her grief in the house they shared for 53 years, was to be at the final rite for the nation's 33rd president and to receive the flag that draped the coffin.

As the nation began a day of mourning proclaimed by President Nixon, thousands still were paying their respects to Truman, lying in state in the marble lobby of the library.

They had lined up on the drives leading to the hillside building before military pallbearers placed the coffin on a catafalque draped in black silk.

Richard M. Nixon and Lyndon B. Johnson had separate, private moments at the coffin of the man who had preceded them in the nation's highest of-

Once the doors were opened, people of all ages streamed past the coffin in eloquent, silent tribute. They moved through at the rate of nearly 2,000 per hour, and the line still stretched for a quarter mile after midnight.

Margaret Truman Daniel, her husband, Clifton, and their four boys were at the brief ceremonies that preceded the lying-in-state. So were 60 others who had been part of Truman's unofficial life—such as the family maid, a long-time guard and Rose Conway, who for many years was Truman's secretary.

Truman's gravesite is just outside the library office where the former president wrote his three books, prepared the lectures he delivered on college campuses and where he received diplomats and school-boys.

Official Washington and the international community will have a memorial service Jan. 5 in the National Cathedral. And there was to be another service in nearby Kansas City today for those who wanted but could not get into the courtyard in Independence.

Medical School Gets Large Gift

The ECU Foundation for Health Affairs received its largest contribution to date, a gift of $100,000 given by the Brody brothers, who operate department stores in Greenville and Kinston and Columbia, S.C.

The funds provided through the contribution by Morris Brody of Greenville, Leo Brody of Kinston, and J. S. Brody of Columbia, S.C. will be used to establish The Brody Brothers Professorship, ECU Medical School Dean Wallace Wooles said.

Chancellor Leo W. Jenkins, who announced the gift, said, "This is an historic event in the brief history of our School of Medicine and is additional evidence of the friendship and support that East Carolina University has enjoyed from the Brody family who have been so important in the business and community affairs of the East.

The Vice chancellor for Health Affairs and President of the Foundation, Dr. Edwin W. Monroe, said, "We deeply appreciate the support and generosity shown by the Brody brothers in manifesting their desire to see our School of Medicine strengthened and expanded. They truly are pioneers in our beginning efforts to solicit this kind of aid and support, which we all know is so vital to every medical school to supplement regular state operating funds."

Dean Wooles indicated that a faculty position in the School of Medicine will be entitled The Brody Brothers Professorship. He added, "The Brody gift will assist us greatly in attracting and retaining the highly qualified faculty so necessary for our sound future development. Actions such as this one are tremendously encouraging to all of us who have been responsible for planning and beginning our present medical school programs."

According to Dr. Monroe, the Health Affairs Foundation was established about a year and a half ago. Its objective, he said, is "to provide to the East Carolina University Schools of Medicine, Nursing, and Allied Health and Social Professions the resources necessary for the continued development of those schools above and beyond what the state operating budget provides."

Gifts are welcomed from groups, businesses, families, and individuals interested in the improvement of medical care in Eastern North Carolina.

Former Canadian Leader Is Dead

OTTAWA (AP) — Lester B. Pearson—the quiet, likeable diplomat who won the Nobel Peace Prize and was prime minister of Canada for five years, died Wednesday night of cancer at his Ottawa home. He was 75.

The government made plans for a state funeral in Ottawa's Christ Church Anglican Cathedral, with burial at Wakefield, Que., near the summer home of Canada's prime ministers.

A state funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. EST in Christ Church Cathedral (Anglican). The body will lie in state Saturday in the Parliament Building.

Pearson and his wife, Maryon, were in Florida shortly before Christmas but flew home when his condition worsened. Cancer caused removal of one eye in 1970, and doctors said the disease spread to his liver.

"He was a man of ability and good will who worked a greater part of his life to make the world a better place for others," said his successor, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

Pearson's diplomatic career reached its high point when he received Canada's only Nobel Peace Prize for his work in forging the U.N. Peacekeeping Force in the Middle East in 1956. The uneasy peace collapsed in the six-day war of 1967 shortly before Pearson retired from politics.

As prime minister of a Liberal party government that lacked a majority in the Canadian House of Commons, Pearson still put through a succession of welfare and reform measures. They included national medical-care insurance, special recognition for Quebec, trial abolition of capital punishment and adoption of the red-and-white Canadian maple leaf flag replacing the Red Ensign bearing the British Union Jack.

The new flag emphasized Canada's emergence as a middle power, more independent from both Britain and the United States, although political foes charged Pearson was subservient to Washington.

He also was attacked for advocating nuclear arms for Canada but replied the country must live up to its commitments in the Atlantic Alliance.

Born April 23, 1897, in Toronto, Pearson studied at the University of Toronto and at Oxford. He served in an ambulance unit in World War I, then transferred to the flying corps.

He married Maryon Ellsworth Moody of Winnipeg in 1925, then began a career in diplomacy when he joined the government's external affairs department in 1928.

He held diplomatic posts across western Europe, served as Canadian ambassador to Washington in 1945-46 and was an adviser at the San Francisco conference that wrote the U.N. charter.

He entered politics in 1948 with election to parliament and was sworn in as foreign secretary on Sept. 10, 1948. He remained in the post until mid-1957 when a minority Conservative government took over.

At the United Nations, he headed a committee that led to creation of the state of Israel, helped prevent the spread of the Korean War into Communist China and was president of the General Assembly when the Korean armistice was negotiated in 1953.

Will Not Oppose

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina Gov. Elect Jim Holshouser indicated today he would not oppose legislation calling for statewide referendums on the death penalty and the sale of liquor by the drink.

Asked for comment on the proposed bills, Holshouser said, "I would rarely oppose a public referendum."

He also said he is still considering the possibility of retaining the governor's working office in the Administration Building.

"We're still up in the air about it," he said.

Black Officer Said Beaten

By LEE MARGULIES
Associated Press Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A defense witness for a black sailor accused of participating in a race riot aboard the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk says he saw a group of white crewmen beating the ship's black executive officer the night the fracas broke out.

The testimony ended a pre-trial hearing Wednesday. The hearing officer, Lt. Cmdr. Don E. Elbert, is reviewing the testimony and evidence and will recommend to higher Navy legal officers whether Airman Appren. Terry V. Avinger should face a court-martial.

Elbert's recommendation may not be made public since it will take the form of a report and is not binding, a Navy spokesman said. Avinger is charged with six counts of rioting and two of assault.

Avinger, 18, of Philadelphia, took the stand in his own defense Wednesday and said he was innocent. He did not testify under oath and, therefore, was not subject to cross-examination.

Avinger's civilian attorney, Willard Anthony, avoided asking him any questions about the Oct. 12-13 riot or what involvement he may have had.

Avinger is one of 21 black Kitty Hawk crewmen facing charges stemming from the brawl in which the Navy said 100 men participated and 46 were injured. Nineteen of the 21 are awaiting special court-martial, less serious than the general court-martial which Avinger could receive and which has been recommended for John L. Rowe of Anniston, Ala.

Defense witness Willie J. Faison testified under oath that he saw a group of white sailors beat Cmdr. Ben Cloud the night the riot broke out.

Faison, 24, a seaman apprentice from Los Angeles, said he and several other black sailors ran to Cloud's assistance when they saw him surrounded by whites in a passageway, aboard the carrier.

THEY'RE SAFE... but all their clothes and other belongings burned in the J. L. Jenkins family home Christmas Day. Jesse, 12, Chuckie, two, and Susan, four, pose at their sister's home.

Alarm Does Not Ruffle Guard

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — A malfunction in the fire alarm system early today sent four fire trucks racing to the Truman Library where the body of former President Harry S. Truman lies-in-state in the foyer.

Observers said that throughout the brief flurry of activity the honor guard stationed around the flag-draped casket remained in place as though nothing had happened.

Secret Service agents and other guards quickly went through the building and the front doors leading to the foyer were closed for a few minutes.

Fire Inspector Larry Gann said the malfunction, at 5:56 a.m. CST, apparently was caused by an overload as a result of additional television cameras being set up at the Library around 5 a.m.

Epidemics, Starvation Likely Outflanked By Nicaraguan Relief

By JOHN PLATERO
Associated Press Writer
MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Foreign doctors say enough medical personnel and supplies are on hand to ward off any typhoid or typhus epidemic in the earthquake-devastated Nicaraguan capital.

"There is no epidemic in Managua today," said Dr. Juan Jose Chiari of Panama. "We are probably going to avoid an outbreak of diseases."

U.S. relief officials expressed satisfaction with the arrival of tons of grain, flour and powdered milk. Nicaraguan officials said more trucks were needed to get the food to 19 distribution points set up outside the city to draw persons away from the ruins.

They said supplies were piled up at the airport and even in the front yard of Gen. Anastasio Somoza, the country's ruler.

Lt. Col. Frank Simons, in charge of the U.S. relief program, praised the food distribution plan set up by Somoza.

"We would have had the same problems if this happened in any country in the world," he said. "The Nicaraguans are doing a marvelous job."

Maj. Dennis Bulger, commander of the U.S. 518th Combat Engineer Co., said although many of the city's water lines had been ruptured and some of the cisterns around the city had been cracked by the quake Saturday, some 20 million gallons a day could still be provided for the greater Managua area.

He said about 78,000 gallons were brought into the city Wednesday, "enough to provide each person with half a gallon."

This indicated that about 150,000 persons—or half the normal population—were still in the city despite orders for everyone to evacuate the area. Authorities continued to appeal at frequent intervals for evacuation, but many obviously were ignoring the effort.

Residents were warned to avoid an area of 450 blocks in the hardest hit sector that was designated an epidemic zone. Doctors said the title was precautionary and did not indicate presence of an epidemic. Somoza, whose family has run Nicaragua for 35 years, said in a statement broadcast hourly that looters were being arrested and some had been shot.

The latest official estimate of casualties from the quake is 3,000 to 6,000 dead and up to 20,000 seriously injured.

Disaster Loans To Farmers Cut

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has shut off emergency disaster loans to farmers in another move to hold federal spending to the $250-billion ceiling the President has imposed.

The Farmers Home Administration was ordered Wednesday to halt the flow of loans to farmers in counties designated disaster areas as a result of severe weather damage to crops, livestock and other property.

The Agriculture Department said FHA field offices were instructed to stop accepting applications for aid in counties where the loans had been available for 60 days or more, and in other counties, when the two-month deadline expires.

George C. Knappl, an FHA assistant administrator, said he had no idea how much money the government might save by the order.

Emergency FHA loans since July 1 totaled $79 million to 15,855 borrowers as of Nov. 30. A total of $140 million in emergency assistance had been projected for the fiscal year ending June 30.

But other USDA sources put the figure much higher, perhaps near $600 million by next summer.

Farmers throughout much of the nation, including the Corn Belt, have suffered extensive crop losses this fall because of poor harvest weather.

FHA officials said agency field officers in the stricken harvest areas were told weeks ago to stall making formal aid requests until officials were certain of the size of losses.

The order Wednesday, however, virtually eliminated chances for new relief actions for counties not on the government's disaster list.

Counties can get disaster status either from President Nixon or Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz. But the order said "no other secretarial designations are expected for the balance of 1973" and that all disaster designations by Nixon will expire automatically June 30.

But the cutoff will be much earlier, Jan. 15, for loans in some areas designated by Nixon on this year, including much of the Eastern seaboard hit by Tropical Storm Agnes and the flood-swept Rapid City, S.D., area.

In its brief announcement, USDA said the loan shutdown "was taken to counteract inflationary pressures" and to keep the federal budget within a $250-billion limit set by Nixon for the current fiscal year.

STILL OPEN
NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The New Orleans French Market, first used by Indians as a bartering place, is still an open air market place for farmers.

Bridge Was Due For Replacement

FORT SUMNER, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexico Highway Commission has disclosed that the narrow bridge on which 19 persons died and 16 others injured in a bus-truck crash had been scheduled for replacement since 1965 but lack of money pushed the replacement date to 1974.

Fort Sumner Mayor V. J. Rogers said the collision near here should be on the conscience of Highway Commission members.

"The Highway Department took a survey through here four years ago, and they declared it unsafe," he said.

The accident occurred Tuesday night when a cattle truck driven by Erby Wilmeth, 52, of Clovis, N. M., sideswiped the bridge railing as the truck and bus passed on the 20-foot-wide bridge. The truck's trailer then slammed into the bus.

Wilmeth was released from a hospital Wednesday but declined to talk with newsmen.

The chartered bus was carrying members of a church youth group from Austin, Tex.

Nine of those injured on the bus were still hospitalized today. Others suffering injuries were able to return to Austin.

Bodies of the dead were taken to Austin by an Air Force plane.

Those who died were on one of two buses carrying about 60 from a youth group at the Woodland Baptist Church in Austin to an outing and religious retreat in the mountains of northern New Mexico.

The department made public a list of the 10 most dangerous bridges in the state. The Fort Sumner bridge was No. 9.

Miss Nancy Wilson Weds Sunday

MRS. TONY MARVIN EVANS

Miss Nancy Louise Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John David Wilson of Greenville, became the bride of Tony Marvin Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Evans of Rt. 1, Grimesland, on Sunday at 3:00 p.m.

The Rev. Dave Nobles performed the double ring ceremony in the Belvoir Free Will Baptist Church.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Melondy James, pianist, and Louise Hardee, who sang "A Time For Us" and "Wedding Prayer." Bobby Harris sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "Theme From Love Story."

The church was decorated with traditional green and white, using all brass wedding accessories. Pyramidal candleabra with white poinsettia, seven branched and tall standards of greenery complimented the church.

The bows were spoken under a wedding arch entwined with holly with white poinsettias on either side. Under the arch was a prie-dieu where the couple exchanged rings and knelt for the wedding prayer and benediction. Pews were marked with white satin bows and white carpet was rolled out as the bridal party entered the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of traditional white silk organza and beaded peau d'ange lace with a chapel train. The gown featured a high neckline with an illusion yoke and full length tapered sleeves with an A-line skirt. Peau d'ange lace with clusters of seed pearls applied the organza bodice, sleeves and skirt and encircled the hemline of the gown. The lace motifs graced the organza tubular chapel train attached beneath a butterfly bow.

She chose a peau d'ange lace chapel length mantilla with a lace applique blusher attached to face frame design headpiece of peau d'ange lace petals with satin loops. The bride carried a formal bouquet of white cattleya orchids with a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids tied with burgundy and white satin.

Mrs. Jean Evans of Rt. 1, Grimesland, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and maid of honor was Sherry Francis of Greenville. They wore formal length pink organza gowns designed with a high neckline encircled with a band of ruby Venise lace flowers. The empire bodice featured a mock weskit of ruby chantilly lace over pink organza edged in ruby Venise lace flowers. The long sleeves were banded with ruby lace and ruby satin cording laced the dirndl bodice.

They wore ruby picture hats trimmed with ruby satin ribbon with long streamers. They carried white princess baskets filled with Christmas holly, shade of burgandy and pink miniature carnations with baby's breath tied with burgandy satin with long streamers.

Bridesmaids were Judy Sawyer and Peggy Barber, cousin of the bride, both of Greenville, Sandra Langley of Stokes, Louise Hardee of Rt. 3, Greenville, Sally Hardee of Rt. 9, Greenville, Beth Whitehurst of Bethel, and Ariene Evans of Rt. 1, Grimesland, sister of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaids wore gowns designed as the honor attendants with hats trimmed with pink satin ribbon. Their baskets were designed after those of the honor attendants.

Flower girls were Audrey Ross of Rt. 6, Greenville, cousin of the bride, and Pam Evans of Rt. 1, Grimesland, niece of the bridegroom. Their gowns were designed like those of the honor attendants and they wore ruby floor length ribbons in their hair. They carried baskets filled with pink petals tied with burgandy bows.

Mac Jr. Ross of Rt. 6, Greenville, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. He carried a heart shaped pillow with sprays of pink carnations tied with burgandy satin.

Both mothers and grandmothers wore white orchid corsages.

Ronald Evans of Rt. 1, Grimesland, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Billy Evans of Greenville, Mike Cannon, cousin of the bridegroom, and Steve Porter, both of Rt. 9, Greenville, Richard Reel of Simpson, Stanley and Steven Hliva of Byram, Conn., cousins of the bride, Jerry Lain Mills of Rt. 3, Greenville, cousin of the bride, and Jessie Lily of Greenville.

After a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina, the couple will reside near Greenville. For traveling, the bride changed into a pink dress with a ruby vest and matching accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Rose High School and Pitt Technical Institute. She is now a licensed practical nurse in Greenville.

The bridegroom is a graduate of D.H. Conley High School and is employed by Bilbro Wholesale, Greenville.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride.

The house was decorated with a Christmas theme. The refreshment table was covered with a white satin cloth and white lace centered with miniature poinsettias and holly with candles.

The four tiered wedding cake was served by Sherri Frances. Mrs. Elizabeth Hliva and Mrs. Audrey Barber, aunts of the bride, poured punch.

The bride's portrait was displayed on the register table which was covered with a white linen cloth and decorated with a white candle and holly.

An after-rehearsal party was held at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Dave Nobles.

The bride's table was covered with a pink linen cloth and cetered with a miniature Christmas tree and gifts for the attendants.

The mothers of the bridal couple assisted in serving.

MR. AND MRS. F. H. MEBANE

Couple Honored On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mebane of Greenville celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a reception Saturday at the Bachelor Benedict Club.

Hostess for the reception was their daughter, Miss Gracie LaNell Mebane. Miss Addie R. Gore was coordinator for the event.

It's All Over An Ugly Refrigerator

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Six months ago a married couple we know split up. The wife sold all the furniture, so we bought their large new refrigerator, and I let her have my older, smaller one.

Five weeks later this couple went back together again. The wife had told her husband that we had agreed to return their refrigerator if they ever decided to reconcile. [This is not true.]

Well, we didn't want to make a big stink, so we agreed to return their refrigerator and take our old one back.

I had theirs delivered, and when ours arrived I was horrified! The wife had painted, "I AM UGLY" on the door of the refrigerator in bright blue enamel!

I called her up and asked her about it. She said, "Go to h—, you fat b—!"

Abby, we didn't have to sell her refrigerator back to her, we did it as a favor to her. Now, we've been getting vulgar letters and crank phone calls from her, and when we pass her on the road she makes obscene gestures. [She's 22 years old.]

The police suggest we sign a complaint against her. We are easy-going people and don't want to cause trouble. We just want to be left alone. Don't say, "talk to the husband." He's henpecked.

Any suggestions?

MRS. M.

DEAR MRS. M.: If she's annoying you, by all means sign a complaint. The poor woman sounds disturbed to me.

DEAR ABBY: Something has bugged me for a long time. Maybe you can put me straight on it.

It irritates me when my grown, married children who have their own homes just walk right in without knocking or calling—and sometimes without even speaking.

I would not do that to them as I respect their privacy enough to knock on their door.

Am I just a selfish person to resent this invasion of my privacy? And why do grown children do this?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: It's habit. Since your home was once THEIR home, even though they have their own homes now, they feel that what's yours is still theirs.

If you are bugged by their lack of consideration for your privacy, why not lay it on the line and get it over with?

DEAR ABBY: I have an experience I would like to share with other frustrated parents.

When our kids were in high school we were quite strict. There were places they couldn't go, and things they couldn't do. They gave us the old line, "Everybody else is." We spent many uneasy hours wondering if perhaps we were depriving them of some harmless fun, but we stuck to our guns.

Now our children are grown and have families of their own, and each of them has come to me and said, "I'm glad you held us down when we were kids. If we didn't go along with the other kids we were chicken, but if Pop said "No," that settled it, and we were off the hook."

I asked, "Then why did you gripe so much because you couldn't do what the other kids could do?" They said, "Well, sometimes we didn't think we ought to, but we half wanted to. We would have done it if you had let us—and if we got in trouble, we would have blamed you, because you let us do it. Thanks, Mother, for not letting us get in trouble."

MRS. C. IN LISBON, N. H.

DEAR MRS. C.: Well said.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S. J. IN HONOLULU: Some wives insist that their husbands wear wedding rings because they think it will stop the circulation.

Revenue Sharing New Concept

Revenue sharing is a new concept and state and local authorities are still not entirely certain where they stand with these new found federal funds.

Robert P. Strauss, an assistant professor of economics at UNC, helped clear up some of the questions at a recent press briefing. He worked in Washington on the revenue sharing legislation while on leave of absence from UNC.

Strauss pointed out that the funds must be placed in a special trust and then appropriated by the appropriate governing body. The state can use its funds for any public purpose. Localities are somewhat restricted, however. There is no limitation on local capital expenditures, but in the maintenance and operating area allowable expenditures include: public safety, environmental protection, public transportation, health, recreation, libraries, social services for the poor or aged and financial administration.

Neither the state nor the local governments may use the funds for matching other federal grant programs and the state must maintain its level of transfers to localities.

Then comes a requirement we like. Strauss said that both state and local governments must report to the Treasury Department on the uses made of the general revenue sharing funds and must publish in newspapers of general circulation the same report. After the first period state and local governments must also prepare plans on how they expect to use the funds and publish these in local newspapers, as well as reporting them to the Treasury Department.

"I would like to emphasize that the provisions that the funds be appropriated and that there be publicity about the planned and actual use of the funds should do much to enhance local accountability in the spending of these revenue sharing dollars," Strauss states. "These provisions were absent in all of the earlier revenue sharing proposals and represent in my mind the most constructive compromise between the pressures of Federal second guessing of local decisions, our current system, and unrestricted aid without any scrutiny—naive revenue sharing. I would hope that the additional information that citizens will have about what their government wants to do will encourage them to participate more than ever before in the democratic process."

It is important to us that the law requires that spending plans for the revenue funds be made public locally. Local citizens should have an accounting of how these funds are spent, just as they should for local tax dollars.

People Show History Interest

By H.G. JONES

RALEIGH, N.C. — Who said North Carolinians aren't interested in their history? Activities across the state in 1972 belie that allegation.

There was a time—back in the decades following the Civil War—when North Carolinians seemed to spend more time deprecating the "distortions" of northern historians than in saving Tar Heel heritage, but with the publication of a spate of scholarly monographs around the turn of the century, our people became more determined to remedy the historical lethargy characteristic of our ancestors.

developed in the last decade. The Office of Archives and History now administers seventeen state historic sites, and more than two dozen locally sponsored restoration projects have been completed or are underway.

Revises of '72 Progress

Here are but a few examples of the activity during 1972:

Archives and History continued its program of upgrading the state-owned historic sites by carrying on restoration work at Bath, Halifax, the House in the Horseshoe, the James Iredell House, and the Zebulon B. Vance Birthplace. Plans were drawn up for the development of Reed Gold Mine, the site of the first discovery of gold in the United States. A new visitor center was opened at the C.S.S. Neuse in Kinston, and plans were begun for one at Halifax. Perhaps the most spectacular accomplishment was the exterior restoration of the State Capitol.

Major projects were completed with the opening of the John Wright Stanly House at New Bern by the Tryon Palace Commission, the Roberts House at Murfreesboro by that town's historical commission, Hope Plantation by the Historic Hope Foundation, and the Mordecai House in Raleigh by the capital city Historic Sites Commission.

Work continued on local projects such as the Cupola and Barker houses at Edenton, the Hezekiah Alexander House at Charlotte, Wright Tavern at Wentworth, Fort Defiance in Caldwell County, the Joel Lane House in Raleigh, the Van Der Veer House at Bath, the Josiah Bell House in Beaufort, Buck Spring (the Nathaniel Macon House) in Warren County, Blandwood (the Governor John Motley Morehead Mansion) in Greensboro, the Burwell School in Hillsborough, and Old Wilkes Jail in Wilkesboro.

Fund-Raising Started

Other local groups began their fund-raising campaigns for new projects, such as the Newbold-White House in Perquimans County, Thalian Hall in Wilmington, and St. John's Rectory in Flat Rock.

An archaeological salvage operation was conducted at the site of the Fayetteville Arsenal.

A scenic foot trail was opened at the Bunker Hill Covered Bridge in Catawba County.

Uncle Says Jim Will Be Good

By JOHN KILGO

RALEIGH — Sen. Ralph Scott, the uncle of Gov. Bob Scott and a staunch Democrat, predicts flat out that Republican Jim Holshouser will make "a real good Governor."

"As far as we Democrats are concerned," Sen. Scott told me in an interview, "we needed Jim Gardner in there for the Republicans. That would have fixed the Republicans for another hundred years. But I'm interested in what's good for North Carolina and I think Holshouser will be fair and do real good."

Scott, who will be serving his 10th term for Alamance, says the Democratic Legislature is going to have to be extremely active in '73.

"We used to sit around and take things for granted," Scott said. "But now we're going to have to be careful what we do. We're going to have to prepare good legislation and develop workable programs."

"A lot of us do take too much for granted, assuming we'd always have a Democratic Governor. People who hold those political jobs were really guilty of this. I guess they know by now that Santa Claus didn't come this year."

While Scott is confident Holshouser will do a good job as Governor, he adds this warning: "The man's a Republican. He'll be appointing Republicans to top jobs. That means the Democrats in the legislature must act as a unit."

Sen. Scott says he wasn't shocked that Holshouser was able to beat Skipper Bowles for Governor.

"Skipper's crowd beat anything I ever saw," Scott said. "They never did invite the (Pat) Taylor people in up here in Alamance. Skipper kept jumping on the Governor and convinced people they needed a change in Raleigh. They gave him a change.

"I don't care who the Governor is," Sen. Scott said, "he's bound to have some friends. It doesn't make sense to make all of them mad."

"I'm convinced Skipper felt there was no way he could lose. He was firing people and hiring people and I think the voters resented it and voted against him."

As for the coming session of the Legislature, Sen. Scott said automobile insurance would be the most controversial issue to confront the lawmakers.

"I'm for some form of no-fault, but I'm not sure what just yet," Scott said. "Some changes need to be made in our assigned risk system. I don't think it's fair to put people on assigned risk just because they've reached 65 years. And I don't think it's right to charge young drivers higher rates just because they're young. We ought to give them a safe driving goal to shoot for. If they have wrecks, then charge them. But not in advance. That's my thinking."

Sen. Scott also feels the Legislature must keep its hands off higher education and let the newly-appointed Board of Governors do the job it was appointed to do.

"We'd better give the Board of Governors a year or two to do their own thing," Scott said. "If we start messing with it, putting our two cents worth in here and there, then we're going to ruin what we set up. I think the people are going to watch us on this thing."

Scott says he feels annual session of the Legislature are virtually upon us.

"It's probably needed," Scott said. "Under the present set-up, I'm amazed at how little people know about state government and how it works. Hell, most of the people I talk to think we're in session now."

Strength For Today

WE CAN EASILY BE FOOLED

Most people are at one and the same time both better and worse than they appear.

Have you ever come in contact with a coarse, cynical, unpleasant and perhaps dissolute person in whose personality you felt there was practically no pleasant characteristic? Sometimes such people fool you. There comes a season of trial, and these people often meet issues with courage. In a day when men need to stand up and be counted some person who seemed to have no character whatsoever rises up in wrath against injustice. Not always, of course—perhaps not as a rule—but sometimes it happens. And we never know when it is going to happen or with whom. So put the brakes on your predictions and the muzzle on your expressions of disgust and distrust. This guy may fool you and if so God Almighty may be provoked with you.

And of course we have all seen the people—the good people—who have failed us in the hour of need. The Apostle Peter failed Jesus the night Jesus needed him most and because of his declaration on that tragic occasion Peter has become the saint nearest to the heart of all of us. We see ourselves mirrored in his cowardice and inconsistency of moral character.

Watch out for those pitfalls which lie along life's pathway and endanger both the saint and the sinner.

Weather Thou Goest

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON — Something is happening to the weather in this country and it's causing tremendous anxiety amongst the people. In the days before television, nobody really cared what about weather. You got up in the morning and looked out the window. If it was raining, you put on rubbers — if it was snowing, you put on boots. If it was a lousy day, you always figured that tomorrow the sun would shine.

But now, thanks to the miracle of television, people worry about the weather all the time. We are told what weather to expect in our neck of the woods, but also what's happening in Billings, Mont., and Pitchfork, Newfoundland.

This not only causes traumas in most American households, it also polarizes the country.

For example, the other night a group of friends were watching the weather on the local news. The jolly newscaster was standing in front of a map of the North American continent chucking as he informed us that we could expect rain, sleet and fog for the next 48 hours. Had he let it go at that, nobody would have been too upset, but he decided to go into a long explanation about what caused it.

Using his pointer he said, "As you can see, there is mass of cold air coming in from Canada..."

"Canada always keeps sending us cold masses of air," my friend Harry Dalinsky said. "If Nixon has any guts he'll tell them to knock it off or else."

"Or else what?" Collins Bird asked.

"We'll send them masses of cold air that will make their masses of cold air look like a trade wind," Dalinsky said.

"I wouldn't fool with Canada when it comes to cold air masses," Bird said. "They have a cold air superiority over us of five to one."

The announcer continued his chalk talk.

"This cold air mass from Canada is expected to meet with this warm air mass coming up from the South, which will cause the rain, sleet and fog that will arrive in our area tomorrow morning."

"There is you problem," said Carey Winston. "It isn't cold air coming from Canada that is causing the trouble, it's the warm air from the South. They shouldn't allow the South to send up any warm air at the same time Canada is sending down cold

New Year Problem

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We have a different problem this New Year's.

Usually that is the day when everyone does a lot of soul-searching, and decides what to give up. Usually, if we are honest, we find much to give up.

This year, inflation and the course of events already have taken from us more than we feel we can afford to lose. The problem is to find something we can hold on to with both hands. However, despite the uneasy feeling I have that I am being robbed in some mysterious way — a feeling I suppose you have, too — I find there are still left to me a few things I might be better off without. They are mostly some picaresque faults and bad habits — things we all have in plentiful supply.

So help me Hannah, I hereby resolve in 1973 to:

—Quit having so many late dates with Phyllis Diller. They are only making her yawn and putting dark circles under her bright eyes.

—Offer fewer possible winning plays to the Green Bay Packers pro football team. They are only helping the other teams to victory.

—Go to night clubs only during matinees. Then I can get home at dusk instead of dawn.

—Stop reading the last pages of mystery novels first. This only leaves me more confused when I get around to reading the whole book.

—Compose no more puppy love poems while under the influence martinis. They only make my cat sick when I read them to her.

—Write my congressman more short letters and fewer long telegrams.

—Make no phone calls of free advice except to people who are glad to take them collect.

—Quit asking the check girl at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, "What's a pretty girl like

Other Editors Say Duke Sets Example

(Kinston Daily Free Press)

The new plan to double the available family physicians to the people of the Durham area, which has evolved at Duke University Medical School, is a practical example of using available personnel where it can render more effective medical service.

The first six young men to enter the program at Duke last July 1 have been performing residency duties at Watts Hospital in Durham. In January they will begin learning how to run a family practice in a model office bought from a retiring doctor for that purpose. It will be open to the public, the same as any private doctor's office. The young trainees hope to attract a cross-section of clients, including many indigents as well as regular paying patients.

Dr. Lyndon Jordan, head of the new residency program, says it is designed to deliver health care to ambulatory patients and teach the young medical men how to run an office. It is said to be the only medical specialty that deals with families as units and people as vertical entities, according to Dr. Jordan. All other specialists deal with horizontal care while the family physician is more concerned with preventive care.

The program is designed to meet the changing patterns in medical care and to cope with the fact that more and more patients, due to Medicare and affluence, seek more care for less serious complaints. Four of the men in the program are first-year students, two are second-year students. Next July six or eight more will be added and in three years the total will reach 24.

It is a program in doctor-scarce North Carolina that will be watched with hope and growing interest by all. Some of the state-supported medical units might also look at it with the hope of rendering greater service to the people.

"Or else what?" Collins Bird asked.

"We'll send them masses of cold air that will make their masses of cold air look like a trade wind," Dalinsky said.

"I wouldn't fool with Canada when it comes to cold air masses," Bird said. "They have a cold air superiority over us of five to one."

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club helped the sixth and seventh divisions of Kiwanis play Santa Claus during the holidays to be youthful inmates of the Eastern Carolina Training School at Rocky Mount. The club carried presents for the boys in addition to a donation to the athletic fund.

The finance committee of the Chamber of Commerce met this morning and set the amount of dues to be charged for membership. The committee agreed to make the yearly dues $20.

Image Helps Make The Sales

By JOHN CUNNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — All things considered, the company that projects an identifiable image collects the sale. It is for this reason that so many companies today attempt to sell not just their product but a concept with it.

Cigarettes are identified with fresh air. Soft-drink makers associate themselves with healthy, constructive youngsters. Beer and hard liquors are sold as symbols of hospitality and conviviality.

Many companies like to remind you that they are the biggest, the suggestion being that they got that way because their products are so good.

The most subtle and sometimes most effective image-conjuror is understatement. A country club in the Boston area has for years assumed a haughty and unwarranted dominance by calling itself "The Country Club."

And now the New York Stock Exchange, the largest but only one of many securities exchanges around the country, has begun referring to itself as The Exchange. There has been no official name change, only the suggestion of it.

A couple of weeks ago the statements emanating from the NYSE news bureau referred to it as the New York Stock Exchange or NYSE. A recent 12-paragraph release used "The Exchange" or "Exchange" 19 times. Moreover, a new logotype has been "especially handcrafted by Lippincott & Margulies," a firm that has designed many of the most popular trademarks and developed many corporate identity programs.

In explanation, the Big Board stated that after extensive research and testing, "It was discovered that hardly anyone says 'NY-SE.' They say 'New York Stock Exchange,' or just 'The Exchange.'"

But there is more to the story. As the NYSE commented in its announcement, "The insignia is progressive, yet it retains the feeling of stability. And it illustrates an awareness of the challenges of the future."

To explain further: There is currently under way a vast shakeup of the securities markets, the outcome of which might be one vast central market for stocks and bonds. It would be a monumental change from the present.

As of now, there are exchanges spotted in various parts of the country—in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, for example. Someday, it is foreseen, they will be more closely tied to each other.

Whether or not these ties actually will bind them into one exchange is at this time hypothetical. While it might happen, all that can be stated positively is that they will at least be more interrelated.

There is, therefore, a good deal of jockeying for position. The NYSE is by far the biggest, most powerful of these exchanges and it hopes to stay that way in any reshuffling. It is, in its own view, The Exchange among exchanges.

The view is vigorously disputed by the so-called regional and by the American Stock Exchange, who maintain that many innovations originated with them and were later accepted by NYSE.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Plainclothes policemen armed with sawed-off shotguns have been stationed by the Police Department at various businesses in an effort to curb holiday season robberies. Deputy Chief Carl Johnson said more than a dozen policemen will remain stationed at various city liquor stores, grocery stores and all-night gas stations through the first of the year.

The weatherman was still talking away. "The Midwest can expect heavy snow which is blowing in from the Rockies."
"I'll bet you the people in the Midwest are really mad at the Rockies," Collins Bird said.
"They shouldn't have settled so near the Rockies," Carey Winston said. "I have no sympathy for them."
"Why do you say that?" I asked.
"Because the Midwest sends us all their bad weather. They get furious because they have all that snow dumped on them, so they want to dump it on someone else," Winston replied. "I'll start feeling sorry for people who live in the Middle West when they stop dropping their snow on us."
The announcer continued. "The thunderstorms are expected in Texas and Oklahoma."
"They'll probably get a tax depletion allowance for them," Symington said.
"Now," said the weatherman, "let's look at our satellite map on the United States. As you can see, there is a cloud cover over the entire United States except for Key Biscayne, Fla., where the President is spending his holidays."

Hughes May Have To Show Himself

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — The U.S. Embassy said today reclusive billionaire Howard Hughes will have to emerge from the privacy of a tightly guarded London hotel suite if he wants a new passport.

The 67-year-old tycoon doesn't need a passport to stay in Britain, and he doesn't need one to get back into the United States. But an embassy spokesman said Hughes' passport had expired some time ago and Washington officials advised that he had asked for a new one.

"As far as we're concerned," the spokesman said, "he will have to call personally, fill in the usual application form and pay a $12 fee. That's what every American traveling without a passport has to do, and it will be the same for Mr. Hughes."

If the embassy enforces the regulation, it will be the first time in memory that the U.S. government has treated Hughes as an ordinary citizen. He has been living for months in Managua, Nicaragua, apparently without any question being raised about his passport. He flew in and out of the United States after the earthquake last weekend drove him from Managua, and apparently no objection was made to his not having a passport. And the embassy sought to expedite his admission to Britain by telling the Home Office that he was coming without a valid passport.

British immigration rules allow the admission of foreigners without passports so long as they carry documents establishing their identity and nationality. Sources close to Hughes said he planned to stay in Britain for six months, possibly longer. A Home Office spokesman said he could remain "as long as it suits him." Hughes and his entourage landed at Gatwick Airport south of London shortly after midnight Wednesday. They were held up for at least half an hour while officials checked the mysterious billionaire's identity. After considerable telephoning, he was allowed to enter the country.

Four curtained Rolls Royces brought the party to the nine-story Inn at the Park, overlooking Hyde Park, and Hughes moved into the west wing on the top floor, at $2,500 a day.

The wing was sealed off, and an intercom system was installed at the main door. Police with walkie-talkies patrolled the streets below, and guards manned all doors to the wing.

Choose Best Color

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Highway officials in Illinois and Iowa wanted area residents to be happy with the new Interstate 280 bridge spanning the Mississippi River between Rock Island, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa.

So they let the voters choose its color.

A spokesman for the Illinois Department of Public Transportation announced Wednesday that "interstate blue and yellow" was picked by 8,300 voters who cast ballots in a poll sponsored by the Illinois department and the Iowa Highway Commission.

"Interstate blue" and "interstate orange" were the second and third preferences. And "interstate green" came in a poor fourth.

The blue and yellow bridge is scheduled to open next fall.

Nixon Appointee Is Object Of Libel Suit

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—An Argentine businessman has filed a $15 million libel suit against William P. Clements, nominated by President Nixon for the No. 2 job in the Pentagon.

Antonio A. Diaz, who helped arrange a lucrative oil drilling contract for Sedco, Inc., filed suit Wednesday naming the corporation and Clements, board chairman, as defendants.

Diaz alleges in his petition that Clements made "grossly defamatory" statements about him in a news conference Dec. 18 at Dallas headquarters of Sedco.

Clements had called in newsmen to answer published reports that his company might have hidden profits amounting to millions of dollars in commissions allegedly due Diaz and two Americans who also helped to set up the drilling deal.

At the time Clements described the two Americans — Charles R. O'Neill and William N. Dillin — as malcontents who cannot return to this country because the Internal Revenue Service has obtained tax liens against profits they made in

Break-In At Bethel

BETHEL — Investigation by the Pitt County Sheriff's Department into a break-in and larceny early yesterday at a business near here is continuing.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that the incident at W. W. Carson Peanut Co., located about a half-mile west of Bethel on Highway 64 resulted in the theft of an estimated $2,000 worth of office equipment.

The sheriff said that the missing equipment, according to company officials, included three electronic calculators, a typewriter, and customer files, as well as an air conditioner that was removed from a window.

He said that entrance to the office was gained after a window on the front door was broken. The break-in, reported around 7:50 Wednesday morning, occurred sometime after midnight, he added.

Argentina.

The Dallas millionaire said O'Neill and Dillin renounced their U.S. citizenship to avoid paying taxes on their share of the Argentine drilling contract.

Referring to the two Americans and Diaz, Clements asserted at the news conference, "I think that if any of these three characters had anything to say that was legitimate, they wouldn't have waited 10 years to do it."

Diaz said in his libel suit, "The whole tenor and tone of the statements issued by defendant Clements are to discredit the honesty, reputation, character and integrity of Antonio A. Diaz . . ."

Pirates Set For N.E. Louisiana Tourney

East Carolina University's Pirates return to action tonight at 10 p.m. (EST) seeking to win their first holiday tournament.

The Bucs will be in Monroe, La. participating in the Northeast Louisiana Classic, and will meet the host school,

Northeast Louisiana, in the evening's second game. Mississippi State and North Texas State tangle in the opener. Friday night, the winners meet for the championship in the 10 p.m. game, while the two losers vie for the consolation crown at 8 p.m. All East Carolina games will be carried over WITN AM and FM, and in Greenville over WOOW, which is carrying all of the ECU games this year.

The Pirates-go into the game with a disappointing 3-3 record on the season, which includes a 1-2 Southern Conference mark. The slow start, however, goes along with Pirate fortunes during the past few years when the wins began piling up later in the year.

The Bulldogs for the third straight year in Charleston, S.C., 55-54.

Earl Quash currently leads the Pirate scoring with a 14.0 average. He's been out of double figures only once this year, against Davidson. Tom Marsh, who has been out of action since the first game with a knee injury actually has a 15.0 mark to be best among the Bucs. He is not expected to rejoin the team until after the first of the year.

Nicky White at 9.0, Roger Atkinson at 8.8 and Jerome Owens at 8.0.

The Bucs have been fantastic on the boards so far this year, and that one factor may be the reason they have won as many as they have. They've completely dominated things getting 56.2 per cent of the loose balls.

Their shooting is also fairly good, a 45.9 clip, but they have been eighter red hot, hitting over 50 percent, or ice cold, falling to 40 or below. In few games have they hit the median.

The Pirate free throw shooting is improved somewhat, but also has run hot and cold. They're hitting at a 74.6 percentage.

The tournament picks up the trail for the Pirates of a road trip that sees only two home dates during the last half of December and the end of January. Only on January 6 and January 20 do the Pirates appear at home; the rest of the time, they are on the road. Their next game after the two tournament games will be on January 4, when they travel to meet the Spiders of the University of Richmond in the Virginia capital city. They are then at home on the sixth against a much-improved Virginia Military Institute.

Allen Declares He Was Misinterpreted On Quote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach George Allen says the crackback block applied on Washington Redskins line-backer Jack Pardee by a Dallas Cowboy player was legal.

Allen was talking about the controversial block Dallas wide receiver Lance Alworth threw at Pardee in the first quarter of a game in Dallas three weeks ago. The block helped spring Cowboy running back Calvin Hill around right end for 10 yards and a Dallas touchdown. After the 34-24 Dallas victory, Allen was quoted as saying the block was a "vicious and illegal play."

Pardee said Alworth "was out to hurt my leg." The veteran linebacker missed the Redskins final regular season contest against the Buffalo Bills with an injury to the knee.

Allen attempted to play down the controversy shortly after the Skins finished their two hour practice session Wednesday.

"That's the least of our worries," he said.

The Redskins coach earlier said he expected Roger Staubach to start for Dallas, but noted Wednesday it wouldn't change the Washington defense.

"If you worry about a scramble, it takes away from your defense," he said. "You have to remember there's a big risk in it for him, too. Let him scramble if he wants to."

Steelers Look For Tough Game

By GARY MIHOCS Associated Press Sports Writer PITTSBURGH (AP) — "The Dolphins surround you," says Pittsburgh Steeler center Ray Mansfield, "and it's tough to break anything big when you're surrounded."

ond, permitting 175. Pittsburgh played Miami once last season and led 21-3 before Bob Griese threw three touchdown passes to Paul Warfield that gave Miami a 24-21 triumph.

Thus, Mansfield figures Pittsburgh will have to claw for every inch Sunday against the swarming Miami Dolphin defense in the American Football Conference title game.

Dooley Buttering Up Texas Raiders

"Some teams, like Oakland, play a charging defense," noted the 255-pound Mansfield.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Un-ranked Texas Tech arrives today for its Sun Bowl clash with North Carolina Saturday.

The Tar Heels arrived Wednesday on this city by the banks of the Rio Grande and Coach Bill Dooley immediately heaped praise on the Red Raiders, who finished in a tie for second place in the Southwest Conference.

"Charging teams can make you look bad at times," he said. "But once in a while you can break something by them for big yardage."

"Miami uses a reading type of defense," he said Wednesday. "They play down the line and follow the ball. It's just great team defense and nothing comes easily against them."

Tech finished with an 8-3 record compared to the 10-1 mark compiled by the Atlantic Coast Conference champion Tar Heels, who lost only to Rose Bowl-bound Ohio State.

Mansfield, a 10-year veteran from Washington, will do some blocking Sunday on Nick Buoniconti, the 220-pound middle linebacker of the Dolphins.

"Texas Tech is a much better team than its record shows and if it wasn't for injuries they would have finished in the top 10 and won the Southwest Conference championship," Dooley said.

When Miami uses a five-man defensive front, Mansfield will go nose-to-nose with tackle Manny Fernandez, a 6-foot-2, 250-pounder.

Dooley said Barnes "is especially quick the option. He looks like he'll be hard to stop."

"Buoniconti isn't big, but he is so quick. And he's very smart and aggressive," Mansfield said.

Tech has been something of a snakebite victim in previous Sun Bowls, losing six out of seven. Dooley was an assistant at Georgia under brother Vince in 1964 when the Bulldogs edged the Red Raiders 7-0.

The Dolphin defense was the stingiest in the AFC during the regular season, allowing 171 points. Pittsburgh finished second.

Dooley, looking back over the Tar Heel season, said without a doubt Ohio State was the toughest.

(One of a series)

SNOW HILL — Each time the Rams of Greene Central go on the court this year, the key to the outcome of their game will depend on their readiness.

The Rams got off to a slow start at first but have come around and have developed into a team to be reckoned with. They have seven off last season's team back this year and five of them lettered. Three of the starters got the opening calls for Greene Central last year and this is where their strength lies.

The offense is not what Coach Jerry Fulghum has wanted but the defense makes up where the offense is lacking. The Rams are shooting better this year.

As far as height goes, the Rams are, "...holding their own," says Fulghum. "Our tallest man is 6-4 — but we are not very big. "Scoring is "balanced". One of last year's starters, Stevie Williamson is a guard and does a lot of the ball handling for the Rams. Here, Fulghum feels they need improvement. Kenny Williams, another player back from last season is the Greene Central center. At 6-2, he averaged 9.8 rebounds last year. The Rams also have Ervin Spivey under the boards. James Sherrill, 6-4 and Curtis Bryant are sharing the other forward spot.

At one point in the season, the Rams had seven players hitting in double figures. Spivey is averaging about 12.2 and Williamson 11.6. "Inside Kenny (Williams) is doing better now than last year," noted Fulghum. During the first weeks of the season, the outside Ram shooting was "spotty" but recently has started to come around. "We've shot 63, 54, and 48 per cent in some of our last ball games," said Fulghum. The type of offense the Rams run generally depends on the type of defense they have to face. Fulghum likes to run a pattern and if the situation arises, the Rams will take the fast break. "We don't try to force it but we'll take the break if it is there."

Defensively, Fulghum feels, "We could stand to get better. We run a zone and a man-to-man with the zone about 60 per cent of the time." The rebounding department here is holding its own, too.

Another of the Rams' assets may lie in its speed but ball handling is burr in their fleece. In the first games, Spivey, a guard last year, brought the ball downcourt but now shares the duties with Williamson. Spivey is used now as a swing man.

The Rams have not had much trouble with the press yet. "I think they like to see it," says Fulghum, "we really don't think about it. Turning things around, the Rams have not had to use a press that much either. They used it a lot towards the last part of the year but have not called on it much this year. This is because Fulghum's defense had improved. The Rams have had only one major injury so far and that was to Lonnie Carraway, who played football. He tore some ligaments in his knee and is expected to be out for the year.

Greene Central has good depth as another strong point. Stated Fulghum, "We had ten playing equal time at first but now we have five that we call starters and vie that we can go to without hesitation." Those other players are Tim Butts, Lafan Forbes, Lonnie Artis, Jerome Sheppard, Anthony Holmes, George Hardison, Jerry Jones, and Louis Edwards.

Fulghum feels that the team to take the title (again) this year will be Ayden-Griston. "They have good shooters and rebounders. We'll have to be ready to play. Behind the Chargers it will be a rat race and most anybody could be a challenger."

Still, Greene Central will be in the thick of things as the season progresses.

McGuire Wants Streak To End

"I'll tell you something that might shock you. I personally wish the streak had ended."

Al McGuire, coach of nationally third-ranked Marquette in college basketball, made the comment after the Warriors had won their 77th straight at the Milwaukee Arena by edging unranked Northwestern 89-85 in overtime Wednesday night.

"Everybody talks about our winning streak at home," McGuire said. "But we've won 26 of our last 29 on the road and that's what I'm proud of. As long as we won this was the best thing that can happen to us."

"You know the heads get out of proportion sometimes, even my own, when we keep winning."

The Warriors, one of the few major unbeaten, won their sixth of the season on four free throws each by Allie McGuire and George Frazier in the extra period. Northwestern, 1-7, missed its chance for a major upset when Rick Sund's long shot fell short at the buzzer ending the regulation game 81-81.

Larry McNeill led Marquette with 32 points and made a key interception with 17 seconds left. The Warriors led by only 87-85 at the time and Frazier's two charity tosses with six seconds to go sewed things up. Sund sparked the Wildcats from the Big Ten with 22 points.

Minnesota, Long Beach State and Missouri, ranked fifth, sixth and seventh, respectively, in The Associated Press poll, kept their slates clean, but Cincinnati knocked No. 8 Pennsylvania out of the unbeaten ranks 71-65.

Minnesota won its seventh straight by beating Washington State 41-35 in the first round of the Far West Classic, one of the many holiday tournaments that got under way.

Long Beach made it nine in a row with an 87-68 romp over Mississippi in the All-College and Missouri also made it nine

ACC Teams Showing Up All Around The Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Atlantic Coast Conference basketball coaches are making good on one of their recruiting promises. Their players are getting to travel.

It's Christmas and New Year's tournament time, and all seven ACC teams but North Carolina State are in tournaments.

North Carolina, 7-1, went out West to beat California last Friday, and now is in Hawaii. The Tar Heels play Utah at 9 p.m. Honolulu time tonight, 2 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday, in the Rainbow Classic Tournament in Honolulu.

That game will follow right after a meeting between the University of Washington and SubPac (Submarine Pacific) of the Hawaii Service League. The National Collegiate Athletic Association has decreed that games against SubPac will be rated as exhibitions and won't count in the standings of major colleges. Only games against other four-year institutions will count. Also in the Rainbow Classic, which started Wednesday night and runs through Saturday night, are Fordham, Louisville, Colorado State-Fort Collins unit, and the host and defending champion University of Hawaii. In the opening game Wednesday, Louisville defeated Fordham 100-73. Then Hawaii, which had won all its six games this season, met Colorado State.

Clemson, 3-3, opens the Pointsettia Classic in Greenville, S.C., tonight against Pepperdine College of Los Angeles. Furman, favored to win the tournament, meets Texas in the other first-round game.

Wake Forest, 3-4, plays Tulane tonight in the opening game of the Palmetto Classic in Charleston, S.C. The Citadel and Brown meet in the second game.

Maryland, 5-0, meets Georgia Tech Friday night in the game closing the first round of its Maryland Invitational in College Park. Syracuse and Bowling Green of Ohio play in the opening game.

Virginia beat Georgetown 72-58 Wednesday night in the first round of the St. Louis University Holiday Tournament. Sophomore center Dan Gerard scored 21 points and senior Barry Parkhill 18 for the Cavaliers, who stretched their record to 5-1. Georgetown is 3-4.

Duke lost 89-83 to host University of Nevada-Las Vegas Wednesday night in the first round of the Las Vegas Classic. Duke now is 4-3. Purdue and Arizona also are in the classic. The teams in this tournament have an open date tonight, and finish up Friday night.

Explosive Teams Meet In Peach

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — The fifth annual Peach Bowl Friday night between high-scoring West Virginia and North Carolina State is expected to be explosive, and super sophomore Dan "Lightning" Buggs hopes to provide the spark.

"West Virginia is as explosive a team as there is in America," says Coach Lou Holtz of his 7-3-1 Atlantic Coast Conference Wolfpack. "They are blessed with great talent and have a large number of outstanding individuals, including Danny Buggs, who I think is one of the finest football players in the nation."

Buggs, who lives in Avondale, Ga., only a stone's throw from Atlanta Stadium, where kickoff is expected at 8 p.m. for the nationally televised contest, helped West Virginia to its 8-3 mark by averaging 20 yards each time he touched the football.

In 11 games, Buggs, a 6-foot-3, 190-pound flanker, caught 33 passes for 740 yards—a 22.4 average—and seven touchdowns and rushed 20 times for 405 yards—a 20.3 average—and four touchdowns.

The fleet 19-year-old also has returned two punts for scores. "I never can tell what I'm going to do when I get the ball. I can't concentrate on my moves. I just do them when I get there," says Buggs.

"The main thing is just running around those guys out there instead of trying to run over them."

And Buggs has done just that.

Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse said after Buggs scored three times in a 43-12 rout, "He's the most spectacular sophomore we have ever played against."

William and Mary Coach Jim Root added after another three-TD performance by Buggs in a 49-34 loss to the Mountaineers: "Buggs really 'bugged' us."

And he's not all West Virginia and Coach Bobby Bowden have to offer North Carolina State.

There's Bernie Galiffa, the quarterback who tossed 16 touchdowns in gaining 2,312 yards, averaging 227.8 per game to rank fifth in the nation in offense, and Kerry Marbury, who rushed for 706 yards and scored 18 TDs.

West Virginia averaged 411 yards per contest and 36.5 points while the Wolfpack gained 432 yards and 32.7 points.

North Carolina State can boast an all-ACC backfield with Bruce Shaw at quarterback and running backs Stan Fritts and Willie Burden. Fritts, however, is injured and is questionable. In his place is Charley Young, who raced for 611 yards and seven touchdowns.

Shaw, who broke a bone in his left arm, hit on 91 of 175 passes for 1,708 yards and nine TDs while Fritts rushed for 689 yards and 17 scores, with Burden picking up 605 yards and seven touchdowns.

Pat Kenney, an all-ACC flanker caught 38 passes for 832 yards and five TDs while other all-conference players were guard Bill Yost, tackle Rick Druschel and cornerback Mike Stutz.

Five SC Teams Into Tourneys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One Southern Conference basketball team goes after a holiday tournament championship tonight and four others begin tourney play, two as playoff hosts.

William and Mary's Indians won their way Wednesday night to the title game of the Scranton Invitational tourney with a 77-66 victory over Lehigh. The Indians tonight take on City College of New York, which knocked off host Scranton 73-64 in the other semifinal.

Serving as host teams tonight are The Citadel's Bulldogs for the annual Palmetto Classic and Furman's Paladins for the annual Pointsettia Classic.

The Bulldogs, 3-1 over-all, take on Brown and Wake Forest goes against Tulane in the Palmetto Classic. The Pointsettia Classic matches Furman, 4-2, against Texas and Clemson against Pepperdine.

Appalachian State's Mountaineers, 1-6, take on American U. in the opening game of the Roanoke, Va., Invitational. Roanoke's host Maroons, 6-1 and the nation's fourth-ranked small college team, play Delaware in the other game.

Defending conference champion East Carolina meets host Northeast Louisiana in the Northeast Louisiana tourney, while Mississippi State takes on North Texas State in the other game. The Pirates are 3-3.

Virginia Military's Keydets finished third last weekend in the Road Runner Classic at New Mexico State and Davidson's Wildcats open in the Charlotte, N. C., Invitational Friday night. Only Richmond's Spiders are not scheduled to play in at least one tournament.

Sophomore Tom Pfingst, hitting 13 in a row at the foul line, scored 25 points and freshman Mike Arizin added 19 as William and Mary advanced to the finals at Scranton.

The Indians built an 11-point lead in the first half and at one time after intermission held a 47-28 bulge before Lehigh narrowed the gap to 56-51 with 8½ minutes left. But the Indians never let the Engineers, led by Hank Wisniewski with 24 points, get any closer.

Food Prices Still Baffle Government

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is planning changes in its wage-price controls, but it still doesn't know what to do about rising food costs.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said Wednesday that if it weren't for rising food prices, inflation would have subsided enough to justify a wage increase guideline lower than the current 5.5 per cent. Economics officials said the administration probably will change the profit-margin rule, phase out rent controls and change the coverage of the wage-price control program.

Administration officials are consulting with labor and business leaders in advance of the changes.

But rising food prices apparently have everyone baffled. "If you had to pick one theme running through the consultations, there were three problems mentioned—food, food and food," said Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Cost of Living Council.

A high council source said that whatever decisions were made on food costs, controls on farm products probably would be avoided.

Shultz said the administration would try to increase food supplies while keeping farm incomes steady.

Among the measures being considered, a source said, are increased acreage allotments, revised farm subsidy policies, and changes in tariffs and import quotas.

Shultz said any single action would not solve the problem.

How the profit-margin rule will be changed was not disclosed, but the council source said the existing rule can't be retained.

It provides that a company cannot exceed its percentage of profit recorded during the best two of the three fiscal years prior to the August 1971 wage-price freeze.

Businessmen have complained that profits were not good in those years, which leaves them in a low profit position now.

While profit margins may become a little more liberal, the administration is reluctant to do anything about controlling interest rates, Shultz told newsmen.

Shultz said the administration is looking into some measures to moderate interest rates should they continue climbing. But he said the best way to control them is through reducing inflation.

Commission, Insurance Reform Top Demo Agenda

RALEIGH (AP) — In a meeting closed to newsmen, Democratic members of the 1973 state Senate have adopted a legislative agenda that calls for reform of the state highway commission and its auto insurance program.

Sen. Gordon Allen, D-Person, reported the results of the meeting to newsmen after excluding them from it "in the best interest of the people of North Carolina."

Allen said the caucus approved resolutions calling for enough laws and studies to constitute a Democratic alternative to the proposals which will be directed at the legislature by Republican Gov.-elect Jim Holshouser, the first member of his party to occupy governor's chair in 72 years.

Among other ideas endorsed by the Democrats Wednesday were extension of the kindergarten program to all eligible students, annual sessions of the legislature, a code of ethics for public officials and a study of the legislative retirement system, and a study of crime deterrents, including capital punishment.

House Democrats will hold a similar caucus Saturday and are expected to approve most of the same proposals, Democrats control the Senate 35-15 and the House 85-35.

Allen said the resolution on the controversial Highway Commission would direct a Senate committee to do an "in-depth" study and prepare legislation to reorganize the commission during the 1973 session. He said the form of reorganization was uncertain, but it was likely that "the whole basket will be lifted."

Allen said the commission had become so big and unwieldy that it was no longer responsive to the needs of the people.

Allen excluded two newsmen and a photographer at the start of the caucus, saying, "We're going to decide policy and posture of the Democratic party for the 1973 session. For that reason, we feel it would be in the best interests of the people of North Carolina for the press to leave."

Asked to elaborate on the statement, Allen said he felt the Senators would speak more frankly if the press were not present.

It was the second time this year that Democrats have excluded newsmen from a caucus. House Democrats did so earlier this month when they caucused after electing James Ramsey as Speaker of the House in a public session.

Fire Kills Marines

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Two Marines were killed and at least three other persons injured late Wednesday when fire swept through a massage parlor in downtown Jacksonville.

The victims, according to identification found on them, were Pvt. Thomas J. Hoyer and William E. Annibale, both 19, and both stationed at nearby Camp Lejeune. Hometowns were not available immediately.

Authorities said the fire broke out shortly before 11 p.m. in the two-story International Massage Parlor. Witnesses said several people jumped from the second floor to escape flames which were shooting about 10 feet above the roof.

A newsmen on the scene said two other Marines and a female employee were taken to a hospital. Their injuries were not believed serious.

Massage parlor manager Michael Hawkins said there were about nine people in the building when the flames erupted. The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. The state fire marshal was called to investigate the fire.

Dance Team Divorcing

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The popular dance team of Marge and Gower Champion—which thrilled stage, television and movie fans for a quarter century—is being dissolved by divorce.

Marge Champion filed for divorce from her husband of 24 years Wednesday in a Superior Court suit, citing "irreconcilable differences." The action ended a storybook romance and a career that made them the top dance team in America.

The Champions, both 53, separated last August, and the suit said a property settlement was being worked out. Mrs. Champion will get custody of sons Gregg, 16, and Blake, 10.

The couple married in 1947 and began a rise to fame that ended in 1961 when Marge retired as a performer. Both then made names for themselves as choreographers. Gower recently staged dance numbers for "The Happy Time," "Bye, Bye Birdie," and "Hello, Dolly!"

Named Chairman

RALEIGH (AP) — The editor emeritus of the High Point Enterprise, Holt McPherson, has been named chairman of the North Carolina Medical Care Commission.

McPherson succeeds Edwin S. Brower of Hope Mills, who did not accept reappointment to the commission.

Meeting Time Is Changed

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Discuss the future more intelligently with associates and get rid of opposition trended your way. Join with close ties at the recreations that are mutually enjoyed. Come to a better understanding.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Complete duties that you left undone because of the holiday just past and then figure out how to make the new year more profitable. Co-workers have excellent ideas. Listen carefully and benefit.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have an opportunity to have a good time with congenials so drop your routine work for awhile and enjoy yourself. Engage in favorite hobby that renews your vigor. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) Plan how to improve conditions at your home so that there can be more harmony and comfort there in the future. Get rid of a situation that is causing most of the trouble. Give more care to diet.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) You can now improve your own state of affairs and bolster the ego of others. Open new doors of opportunity for yourself by attending social affairs you enjoy. Think positively. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Plan this day for quiet analysis of your present position in life and how to get ahead in the future. Make the right arrangements. Evening is fine for showing more devotion to mate.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) A clever friend does not approve of the manner in which you are going after your ambitions, so ask for advice and profit from it. More sociability is the keynote now. Attend the social tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) You can do much to get career affairs improved, so get started by getting in the right frame of mind. A public project is fine for making quick headway. Evening is ideal for the social side.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar 20) You are very enthused on how to gain your aspirations cautiously and wisely. Follow through on the plans you have in mind. Listen to advice you get from experts and benefit. Relax at home tonight.

HACKENKOFF FINALLY RESOLVED TO KICK THE HABIT...

SO GUESS WHAT HE GOT FOR CHRISTMAS...

The Worry Clinic
Sweeten Desire For Good Books

Notice how "Tremendous" Jones changed his 14-year-old son into an avid reader of books! He modified the old adage that said "You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink!" For believers motivation merely involves "salting the oats."

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D.
CASE B-581: Charles "Tremendous" Jones shared the speakers' platform with Gen. Lewis B. Hersey and me in Flagtown, U. S. A.

"I know he'd be wanting to drive a car by the time he was 16," "Tremendous" explained. "So I sat down with him and told him I'd help him get his own auto."

"I'll furnish you the money, but I'll not give you the car." "Instead, I'll pay you $10 for every book I prescribe for you if you'll also give me a digest of it after you finish reading it!"

The boy perked up instantly at this "salting" of the reading process.

"And within the next 2 years" his dad smiled broadly, "he had completed 22 books!"

"Did he buy himself a car when he reached 16?" I asked. "Tremendous" shook his

The bidding:
South West North East
1NT Pass 6NT Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠
A shrewd false card by East induced South, the declarer at six no trump, into digging his own grave in today's hand.

The slam was a sound undertaking. North had 17 high card points and a five card suit, and realizing that the partnership was assured of the 33 required for a slam undertaking after South's one no trump bid, he proceeded directly to six no trump.

West opened the ten of spades and declarer won the trick in his hand with the queen. A diamond was led, West followed with the deuce and dummy's jack was finessed. East followed smoothly with the six, in the manner of one who held only small cards in the suit.

The closed hand was reentered with the king of clubs and declarer led the queen of diamonds next in the expectation that West would cover with the king. If the latter held all the missing diamonds, then declarer's play would restrict him to one trick in the suit—the ten. If West has three diamonds and East two, including the ten, the lead of the queen smother the opposing honors and enables declarer to pick up the entire suit.

The one possibility that South did not allow for was that East might have false-carded on the first diamond lead. When West showed out on the queen of diamonds, there was no way he could avoid losing two tricks in the suit. In a desperate attempt to recover, South played the ace and another club in the hope that the suit was divided three-three and West would be obliged to win the trick. But East was in on the third round with the queen and he cashed the king and ten of diamonds to set declarer down by two.

Altho East merits our praise for pulling a "fast one," there was no reason for South to be hoodwinked. Instead of leading the queen of diamonds on the second round of the suit, he can just as well play a small one. If West follows with the three, then declarer plays the nine from dummy, intending to concede the trick if East has the ten. In that case the king must succumb on the next round.

If East shows out on the nine of diamonds, revealing that West started with four, then the latter is restricted to one trick—the king. The play of a small diamond from the closed hand on the second lead of the suit provides for all contingencies. When West actually shows out, North goes up with the ace and returns a diamond toward the queen in the closed hand. East can do no better than take the king—which was all he was entitled to in the first place.

Seeking Privileges

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP)—Dr. Kenneth Lawrence plans to subpoena two trustees of McLeod Memorial Hospital when a hearing resumes this week on his effort to regain full staff privileges at the hospital. He lost them when he was convicted in October of performing an illegal abortion.

He plans to subpoena former Mayor David McLeod and Boone Aiken as hostile witnesses. In testimony last Tuesday, he accused them of prejudice in the hospital board's expulsion of him from the staff. He said they opposed a plan, which he endorsed, to make McLeod the central hospital in a six-county regional complex of hospitals. Lawrence also said he planned to call other doctors as witnesses in his behalf.

Puerto Rican Tourism Booms

SAN JUAN (UPI)—The budget for Puerto Rico's Development Company (TDC) was almost doubled this year, going from $2.8 billion the year before to $5.2 billion now. At the same time, says TDC, visitors to the island during fiscal year 1972 increased 10.3 per cent over the previous year.
