

Cease-Fire Participants Gird For Roles

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With a Vietnam cease-fire fast approaching, major participants are hurrying to gird for a complicated peace settlement and the uncertain days that lie ahead.

In Washington, the Pentagon issued a stop order late Wednesday on virtually all pending movements of GIs to Vietnam. Only some personnel with special skills will be shipped over to help in U.S. withdrawal, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird announced.

Under the war-ending pact to be signed in Paris Saturday, all U.S. forces are to be pulled out of South Vietnam within 60 days of the internationally supervised cease-fire that will go into effect at 7 p.m. EST Saturday.

In Ottawa, Foreign Secretary Mitchell Sharp of Canada, one of four countries slated to help police the cease-fire, said the first contingent of Canada's observer force will be heading for the scene right after the signing.

From Hanoi came word that Nguyen Duy Trinh, North Vietnam's foreign minister, is en route to Paris to join his Washington, Saigon and Viet Cong counterparts in Saturday's formal conclusion of the agreement.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers plans to leave for the French capital Friday.

The fast-moving diplomatic and military moves fit into the intricate scenario set forth Wednesday in a 12-page peace agreement, plus four side accords, made public by Washington and Hanoi.

Exuberation over the prospective windup of the long war was mixed with caution over whether the settlement will stick in a land where the fighting has been going on for a generation.

President Nixon spoke to congressional leaders of "a peace, however fragile, which we have hopes will endure."

Negotiator Henry A. Kissinger pledged a major U.S. effort for a permanently peaceful Indochina but cautioned that the success of the agreement rests also "on the spirit in which it is implemented."

Joy soared among the families of U.S. prisoners of war. The first batch of American prisoners is due to be airlifted out of Hanoi within 15 days of the peace signing.

Under the far-ranging peace agreement:

—All Americans held throughout Indochina—587 servicemen and 51 civilians by U.S. count—are to be set free within 60 days of the cease-fire as the 23,000 GIs in South Vietnam are brought home.

—Infiltration of fresh troops and military supplies into South Vietnam is banned.

—All foreign troops in Laos and Cambodia, now heavily infested with North Vietnamese soldiers, are to be withdrawn.

—South Vietnam's political future is to be determined by the South Vietnamese, with President Nguyen Van Thieu's government remaining intact at least until after an election.

—Any reunification of Vietnam is to come about only through peaceful means, not the use of force.

—The United States will help in postwar reconstruction efforts throughout Indochina and will enter into a new, peaceful relationship with North Vietnam.

—A four-nation International Control Commission of 1,160 men will supervise the truce deal. The countries are Canada, Indonesia, Poland and Hungary.

—An international conference including the great powers will be convened within 30 days to guarantee the ending of the war and the maintenance of peace in Vietnam.

No withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from South Vietnam is specified in the peace agreement.

Instead, the cease-fire calls for a staying-in-place of the rival Vietnamese forces in the South pending agreement on a mutual reduction at some unspecified time.

Kissinger told a nationally telecast news conference Wednesday that the agreement had to reflect battlefield realities. And he predicted the North Vietnamese forces in the South, 145,000 by U.S. estimate, should in time dwindle because of the pact's ban against reinforcement.

The agreement carries with it no simultaneous cease-fire in neighboring Laos and Cambodia, a goal set forth last May 8 by Nixon in his conditions for a peace deal.

In Laos, high diplomatic sources said a cease-fire will be announced Feb. 11. Cambodian Premier Hang Thun Hak said Phnom Penh's forces will stop all offensive actions against the Communists following the South Vietnam truce.

Red Attacks Intensified

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Communist attacks in South Vietnam soared to a total of more than 100 in 24 hours and claimed nearly 600 Vietnamese casualties, the Saigon command reported today.

There were no casualties reported among the 23,700 Americans still in Vietnam, but the U.S. 7th Fleet said the guided missile frigate Preble was hit Wednesday by one round of North Vietnamese artillery and shrapnel from four other rounds while operating off Quang Tri province, just below the demilitarized zone. The Navy said the ship's torpedo tubes were pierced with holes and three antennae were damaged.

U.S. fighter-bomber strikes against North Vietnamese positions in South Vietnam dropped 15 per cent to 298 during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m., the U.S. Command said.

U.S. B52 bombers made 90 strikes across South Vietnam, concentrating half of them along the Saigon River corridor northwest of the South Vietnamese capital and in the Mekong Delta to the south.

The Saigon command reported 112 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks against South Vietnamese positions during the 24-hours ending at 6 a.m., the highest in three weeks. Three-fourths of the attacks were carried out with rockets and mortars.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, chief spokesman for the Saigon command, said the Communists were intensifying their attacks right up to the final hours before the cease-fire takes effect in a land-grab effort aimed at strengthening the military and political base.

Hien said that 58 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 282 wounded during the 24-hours ending at 6 a.m. During the same period, South Vietnamese forces killed 242 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops, Hien said.

The cease-fire agreement was announced by the United States, North Vietnamese and South Vietnamese governments simultaneously at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Saigon time, five hours after the start of the reporting period. Hien said most of the casualties occurred after the announcement.

President Nguyen Van Thieu, speaking at a national police convention, warned the 550 delegates to protect our territory even at the risk of further killings until the cease-fire. The coming six months will be difficult — a six-month do-or-die struggle. You must not lower your vigil and enjoy the illusion of peace. This is a cease-fire, not peace."

"We believe in our strength and vigilance, in our allies' assistance, especially the Americans," Thieu said. "We will continue to protect our territory even at the risk of further killings until the cease-fire. The coming six months will be difficult — a six-month do-or-die struggle. You must not lower your vigil and enjoy the illusion of peace. This is a cease-fire, not peace."

Bills Propose Revamping Of Highway Body

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — A raft of bills introduced in the North Carolina House Wednesday included two measures to revamp the state Highway Commission and Transportation Department even as the House passed a resolution calling for a study of problems of the two state agencies.

Other new legislation included a bill to phase in a statewide kindergarten program during a five-year period. Rep. Richard Lane Brown III, D-Stanly, was joined by 86 other House members in introducing the bill.

Rep. Foye Hightower Jr., D-Anson, sponsored a measure to give highway commission members, who now serve at the will of the governor, four-year terms.

Hightower also sent up a bill to amend the state constitution to combine the offices of highway commission chairman and secretary of transportation and to have the holder of the post elected by the people.

Hightower explained that the second measure was intended to give the people of the state more say-so in highway matters.

Rep. Ernest Messer, D-Haywood, introduced a bill in the House and Sen. William W. Stanton, D-Lee, offered an identical measure in the Senate to establish a Teacher Licensing and Practices Commission.

The 16-member commission would be charged with making recommendations to the state Board of Education on (1) Standards and procedures for teacher licensing, (2) teacher training programs in the colleges and universities, and (3) standards of teacher conduct and performance.

Also introduced in the House and Senate were bills creating a Judicial Nominating Commission which would recommend nominees to the governor for appointment as judges of all state courts. Rep. Sam Johnson, D-Wake, sponsored the bill in the House while Sen. Eddie Knox, D-Mecklenburg, offered it in the Senate.

Sen. William Mills, D-Onslow, introduced a bill making it a crime for public officials to reveal the names of rape victims and allowing judges to clear spectators from courts during rape trials. Mills said the measure was designed to protect the privacy and reputation of rape victims and to encourage them to report rapes to police.

The resolution passed by the House with little discussion would direct its Roads Committee to conduct a study of the problems of the Highway Commission and Department of Transportation and to make recommendations for changes to enable the agency "to better carry out its duties and be more responsive to the needs of the people of the state of North Carolina."

Rep. William T. Watkins, D-Granville, the House speaker pro tem, offered a resolution instructing the House Rules Committee to draft ethical standards legislation for public officials.

Another resolution by Watkins called for a House committee to study and recommend changes if they are needed in the state Wildlife Resources Commission.

Nation's Capital Bidding Its Farewell To Johnson

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The coffin of President Lyndon B. Johnson was carried in radiant sunshine today from the halls of his beloved Congress to a farewell service in his church.

Four bursts of ruffles and flourishes and a final "Hail to the Chief" from a Coast Guard band signaled the slow, doleful procession down the marble steps and to a motorcade that bore the body to the National City Christian Church.

Ladybird Johnson, smiling serenely and with her head held high, walked 15 paces behind the coffin. Behind her were the Johnson daughters, Luci Nugent and Lynda Robb, cousins and close friends.

The 38th President's five-year-old grandson, Patrick Lyndon Nugent, 5, raised his hand to his forehead in salute, blinking his eyes in the sun. Nine years ago, another small boy, John-John, flashed a similar salute on the funeral of his father, President John F. Kennedy.

Some 2,000 people, bundled up in the cold, stood in total silence on the Capitol grounds and watched as the coffin was placed in a hearse for the half-mile drive to the church.

Another few hundred people waited there.

Through the long night the coffin had lain in the Capitol Rotunda, between the House, where Johnson served a Texas district from 1937 to 1949, and the Senate, where he represented the state from 1949 until his election as vice president in 1960. Thousands of ordinary Americans, many dressed casually, shuffled past the coffin to say a simple goodbye.

Many Rezoning Pleas Approved By Zoning, Planning Commission

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Approvals were the order of the day for agenda items facing the Joint City-County and the Greenville Planning and Zoning Commissions at their January meetings at City Hall on Wednesday night.

As usual, much of the business at hand represented rezoning requests. For the joint meeting, held first, all three agenda items were on rezoning.

The first request was that of David A. Evans, Sr., requesting rezoning action on three tracts in North River Estates. The property is located east of Greenville State Road 1419 and south of Greenville Terrace. All three tracts were previously zoned RA-20, rural residential. The approved rezoning changed the areas from RA-20 to R-9 residential for tract number 2 and to R-6 residential for tracts numbers 3 and 4.

The second request, that of the J. Leo Hawkins Subdivision located west and adjacent to Evans' North River Estates, involved two tracts. The first was rezoned from RA-20 to R-6. A second tract, one with 1800 feet of footage along Belvoir Road, was rezoned from RA-20 to shopping center.

It was pointed out that the development being carried out in the Evans and Hawkins subdivisions have been designed as one basic plan, with the two developers working together to provide a coordinated unit.

The final joint commission request for rezoning covered a portion of the Nelson Hopkins property. Attorney W.W. Speight, representing the owners, said this was land acquired by Greenville Industries, for the specific intent of bringing industries into the area. He mentioned that a firm was interested in a tract of 100 acres with no non-industrial encumbrances attached. The joint commission approved rezoning the area from RA-20 to industrial zoning.

In the meeting of the Greenville commission following adjournment of the joint commission, the first item considered was a request for rezoning by E.L. Harrington, Jr.

The commission approved rezoning from RA-20 to neighborhood commercial a lot of 150 by 150 feet on Hooker Road at the southeast quadrant of the intersection of Hooker Road and Arlington Boulevard. This is similar to the action approved a couple of years ago to provide for the Quick-Pik located several hundred yards north of the Harrington site also on Hooker Road.

Three plats were considered and approved. The first, a final plat, was for Section I of the Lake Ellsworth Subdivision on U.S. 264 west, a project being developed by W.E. Dansey. This section consists of 59 lots.

The second and third plats considered were both preliminary ones. Phillip E. Carroll's plat was for Section II of the Arlington Plaza Subdivision, south of Arlington Boulevard and east of Evans Street.

The Cambridge Subdivision, Section I preliminary plat is for a development east of Hooker (Continued on page 8)

Billica Installed As President Of Scout Council

Harry Billica of Greenville was installed as president of the East Carolina Council, Boy Scouts of America, for a second term of one year at the annual council recognition meeting in Kinston Wednesday night.

Prior to becoming president, Billica served as Scoutmaster, chairman of the camping and activities committee, council commissioner, member of the council executive board and as vice president of the council. He is an Eagle Scout and the father of three Eagle Scouts. Billica is employed by the E.I. Dupont Co. as a research manager of the Fiber Surface Research Section. Textile Fiber Department.

Walter Hood of Kinston was installed as council commissioner and Douglas Tabb of Wilson as council treasurer.

The Silver Beaver, the East Carolina Council's highest award to men for service to scouting, was presented to: Thomas Butts, Greenville; A.J. deKeyser, Wilson; Oscar Greene, Kinston, Council Renfrow, Morehead City; Otis Smith Jr., Williamston; and Clyde Young, Morehead City.

Butts attends Pentecostal Holiness Church and is a past officer in the church school. He is a member of the Loyal Order of Moose and vice president of the Pitt County Association for Retarded Children.

He was Cubmaster of Pack 200 for two years, Scoutmaster of Troop 362 for five years and district commissioner for two years. He is a Vigil Member of the Order of the Arrow and Lay Advisor to the Pitt County chapter. Butts received the Scouter Training Award in 1967, the Green Band Award in 1968 and the Compass Award in 1971.

The recipient is married to the former Mavis Andrews and they have a son, Gary, who is an Eagle Scout, and a son Terry, a Cub Scout.

The highest award presented to the Council to women, the Silver Fawn, was presented to Ellen G. Battle of Kinston, and Ruth Mertz of Havelock.

The National Spencer

Award, which is presented to districts that have met all of their Boypower Goals for a minimum of seven months was awarded to six districts, Carteret, Caswell, H.M. Fitts, Onslow, Tar River and Wilson.

The president discussed some of the problems currently facing the council. He said that these included the need for a council office, funds to complete the council's camping facilities and a director of exploring to work with boys and girls 14 through 20 years of age.

The following officers and members of the council executive board from the Pitt area were installed for 1973: Heber Adams, Fred Baumann, Dr. Andrew A. Best, Dr. Harry Billica, Dr. James Bowman, Thomas Butts, Wyatt Brown, Dr. Ed Clement, J.B. Congleton, Jack Farrior, Dr. Herbert Hadley, Calvin Henderson, Dr. Ed Hooks, William Heymann, Harry Leslie, Knott Proctor Jr., E.E. Rawl Jr., Frank Saunders, Frank Steinbeck, Dr. Allen Taylor, the Rev. John Taylor, and Dr. Earl Trevathan.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Through Next Monday

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale by the Girl Scout Council of Coastal Carolina began Friday and will continue through next Monday. Junior, Cadette, and Senior Girl Scouts will begin to take orders for the cookies which will be delivered between February 21 and March 5.

Mrs. Robert Deyton is the local Cookie Chairman. Mrs. Gray Whitford of Goldsboro is the Council Chairman.

Profit from the annual cookie sale is used to buy and maintain camping facilities to be used by Girl Scouts throughout Coastal Carolina. Last years profits were used to purchase a camping site in Franklin County to serve girls primarily in the northern section of the council.

The Pamlico River Bank was stabilized and additional jetties were constructed at Camp Hardee in Washington. Also, kitchen and outdoor equipment were added and a parking area was fixed at Camp Hardee, along with the reseeding of the grounds there. Improvements were also made at Camp Pretty Pond near Wilmington.

The varieties of cookies available this year will include peanut butter, chocolate mint, butter shorties assorted creme sandwich, and chocolate chip'n nut. They are baked by the Southern Biscuit Company and will be sold for $1 for a double box. Orders will be taken in advance to assure that everyone will be able to get his favorite.

Anyone wishing to buy cookies who has not been contacted is asked to call the local cookie chairman.

Charges Plan Is Being 'Foisted'

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The president of the North Carolina Academy of Trial Lawyers says that no-fault insurance is being foisted upon the public by the insurance industry and the news media.

Eugene H. Phillips of Winston Salem, in a statement Wednesday said that the industry and the media have engaged in a "slick, Madison Avenue" campaign "organized and lavishly funded."

He complained that "trial lawyers have been periodically and persistently denounced in many articles, commentaries and editorials." Phillips maintained that trial lawyers are "virtually the only group that can defend the rights of the injured."

Phillips was particularly critical of an Associated Press dispatch of Jan. 15, which he said was "an example of the distortions and misrepresentations that have been given the public for years," on the no-fault question.

He said the article contained

"two glaring inexcusable falsehoods." One, he said, was a statement attributed to a U.S. Senate committee that legal fees and administrative expenses eat up 58 cents of every premium dollar in the present system.

Phillips said that "everyone knows" that "Washington and other bureaucrats" are unreliable sources of information.

He criticized the article for pointing out that 10 cents or less of every premium dollar paid for medical insurance is used up in administrative and legal expenses. He said this was only true of non-profit programs like Blue Cross and Medicare.

Phillips said that insurance figures show that 37 cents of every premium dollar pay for administrative and legal expenses.

He said the article erred in saying that to collect in a liability system a motorist or his insurance company must prove fault in court, pointing out that the majority of cases are settled out of court.

Take Boy From Parental 'Care'

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)

— An 11-year-old boy has been ordered taken from his parents' custody because they refused to allow him to have medical treatment, basing their objection on religious convictions.

Newport News Circuit Court Judge Henry D. Garnett Wednesday ordered that Solomon Crocker be taken from the custody of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Crocker, and admitted to a hospital for examination, diagnosis and treatment.

A Riverside hospital intern said the child had been referred to the hospital's family practice section by a dentist on Nov. 22.

The intern said the boy's symptoms indicated the possibility of cancer, and despite extensive efforts to have the boy admitted for a complete examination the only test given to him at the time was a blood test. The court was told Mr. and Mrs. Crocker consistently refused to bring the child to the hospital. Crocker said he could find no reference in the Bible to patronage of doctors by Christ.

Dr. G. S. Mitchell, head of Riverside's family practice section, said on the basis of an observation made in the courtroom, he believed the child was having difficulty breathing.

Noting the swollen places on both sides of the child's neck, Mitchell said he never had heard of a case in which such symptoms were allowed to go untreated. He emphasized there was no guarantee the child would survive even if admitted to a hospital.

Cases in other states were cited sustaining the right of the state to intervene where parents refused medical treatment for juveniles on religious grounds.

Voices Concern About Nursery Center Risks

A note of concern about safety in loading and unloading children at the day care centers in Greenville was voiced on Wednesday night by Earl E. Howell.

Howell, a member of the Greenville Planning and Zoning Commission, brought the subject up following the regular agenda items at the meeting. "It's a very dangerous situation," he said, "one that needs immediate attention. I see parents stop on busy Tenth Street and on Cedar Lane to unload or pick up their children."

In further discussions, it was noted that when the Greenville Board of Adjustments grants a special use permit for operating a day care or nursery center within an area, certain off street parking requirements are supposedly stipulated in order for the centers to meet requirements of city ordinances.

Building inspector Alton Warren noted that under new state regulations, requirements for day care centers were being tightened up. "We are inspecting and will re-inspect these centers," he commented. "And although we don't have the authority to close them down if they are not following regulations, we can recommend such action to the executive director of the State Day Care Center."

City Planner Dillon Watson said it might very well be a matter of law enforcement to carry out city laws. He was asked to make a check with police with a view to erecting no-stopping signs along the streets in front of the day care centers to insure that patrons of the centers abide by city traffic regulations in loading and unloading.

As a final action, commission chairman Louis Clark appointed a committee of two, Howell and Mrs. Ruth Trevathan, to work with Dillon on the possibility of making recommendations for changing the current off-street parking requirements in ordinances to ones that would provide more space than that now required by city ordinances.

Oregon Okays Acupuncture

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Acupuncture may be practiced in Oregon by licensed physicians and persons licensed in other healing arts, including dentistry and podiatry, Atty. Gen. Lee Johnson has ruled.

Johnson said a chiropractic or naturopathic physician may use acupuncture for anesthetic purposes for minor surgery but not for treatment.

Acupuncture is a method of relieving pain and treating certain ailments by inserting needles into the body at specified points.

Seeking To Censor Network Television

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Irked by a network televised movie, the Memphis Board of Review is seeking censor powers over network television programs coming into the city on local affiliates.

"I don't see why city council can't pass laws prohibiting that type of stuff from coming over tv," said George Morrow, a board member, referring to the film "I Love My Wife" shown Monday night on WMC-TV, and NBC affiliate.

"If children can be stopped from paying to see that kind of stuff at movies, then why let them see it for free at home," said Morrow, whose agency watchdogs movies shown in Memphis and literature on city magazine stands.

A spokesman for the television station said the film had been edited prior to showing, but board member Mrs. J. L. Pampuro said a movie can be on an adult level, even if the most frank scenes are removed.

Nunn-Whitehurst Vows Exchanged On Sunday

The wedding of Miss Wanda Arlene Whitehurst and James Edward Nunn II was solemnized Sunday at 3:00 p.m. at the Grace Free Will Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Chester Phillips. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Carter, organist, and Cathy Wilson, soloist.

The church was decorated with a background of bridal palms and candelabra. A fifteen branch arch candelabra centered the altar where the couple knelt for their vows on a gold and white profile priedieu. Standing baskets of mixed flowers in shades of blue and white were placed on each side of the altar.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Whitehurst of Greenville, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal length white organza gown designed with a high neckline encircled with a chain of Venise lace daisies. The gown front featured a panel of Schiffl embroidered daisies with an embroidered lattice pattern threaded with blue satin ribbon. A matching border extended down the long sheer sleeves and banded the cuffs. The Venise lace daisies banded the empire waistline and the attached chapel train featured a panel of embroidery and ribbon.

She wore a formal length white illusion mantilla edged in Venise lace attached to a tiara headpiece of Venise lace threaded with blue satin ribbon. The bride carried a cascade of white pixie carnations and pom poms with miniature star flowers and fur puffs tied with streamers of blue and white satin and tulle. The bridegroom is the son of

Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Nunn of Greenville.

Mrs. Brenda Avery of Greenville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was dressed in a royal blue velvet floor length dress with long full sleeves with cuffs and an empire waistline. She carried a white fur muff with a cluster of miniature pixie carnations and pom poms in shades of lavender, blue and orchid with streamers of white velvet tied with fur balls. She wore a white fur band headpiece.

Bridesmaids were Colene Kelly, Deann Riggs, Chezenne Kelly, Helen Posey and Kathy Williams, all of Greenville. They were dressed like that of the honor attendant.

Flower girl was Miss Tammy Riggs of Greenville. She wore a royal blue velvet dress designed with long sleeves with gathered cuffs and empire waistline. She carried an arm basket of miniature flowers in matching shades.

Dalton Ray Umphlett of Rt. 8, Greenville, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a Samaron rose chiffon gown trimmed in matching rose Venise lace beaded in iridescent jewels. She wore a matching rose floral headpiece and veil. The mother of the bridegroom selected a light blue dress with a blue and white coat and blue floral headpiece and veil. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

The father of the bridegroom was best man and ushers were Lonnie Foreman, Ronnie Avery, brother-in-law of the bride, Bruce Gray, Milton Sawyer and Jimmy Paige, all of Greenville,

WALNUT MUFFINS
Serve these hot from the oven.

1 1/2 cups unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup butter, melted
1/2 cup broken (medium coarse) walnuts

In a medium mixing bowl, with a fork, thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. In a small mixing bowl beat the egg and milk until combined; stir in butter; add to flour mixture; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened; stir in walnuts with last strokes. Drop batter into 12 buttered muffin-pan cups (each 1-3rd cup capacity) filling about 2-3rd full. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and tops are lightly browned—20 to 25 minutes. Loosen edges and remove; serve at once with butter. Makes 12.

ECU Coeds Inducted Into Local Sorority

The Iota Kappa Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. inducted seven East Carolina University students into the sorority during their meeting Saturday night.

Miss Helen Johnson, newly elected basileus to the chapter, presided during the activities of the meeting.

New undergraduate sorority members are: Annie Morris, Havelock; Claudia McCullen, Fayetteville; Valeria Olliver, Goldsboro; Djuana Ballentine, Raleigh; Faye Bellamy, Winabow; Shirley Smallwood, Windsor; and Willie Settle Brown Summit.

Miss Addie Gore, past basileus of the chapter, was awarded a plaque for her services to the sorority.

Mrs. Sue May Gives Program

"Take A Look At Youth And You" was the program topic for the meeting of the Stokes Extension Homemakers held Monday at the home of Mrs. Daniel Boone.

Mrs. Sue B. May presented the program. The devotional was given by Mrs. Boone.

Mrs. Annie Nelson president conducted the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Thankfulness, Not Jubilation

It is over.
The nation's longest and most agonizing war should come to an end with formal signing of a peace treaty Saturday.
It did not seem odd that the president's announcement of the cease-fire agreement Tuesday night did not set off a period of celebration in our country. Instead it was not difficult to sense a feeling of quiet thankfulness among our citizens. The war, which had dominated our lives for a decade, is at last over and that is what matters most now.

Even the end to this strange war came slowly. It appeared that an agreement had been reached last October, but it took another break-off of the talks and another round of bombings to bring about the final conclusion.
As the end was reached, Nixon said, "The people of South Vietnam have been guaranteed the right to determine their own future, without outside interference." Accordingly, he called it a peace with honor.
It will still be events of the future which determine if we accomplished anything. If South Vietnam can now stand on its own, our original and almost forgotten purposes will have been carried out. If it is quickly gobbled up by North Vietnam it will all have been for naught.

How the long war affected relations between the Communist and non-Communist worlds will also be debated for many years into the future. We do know that a new spirit of cooperation between the U.S. and Red China prevails. This cooperative spirit also extends to other countries, even to nations split between Communism and capitalism. A case could be made that the United States long and lonely military stand in Vietnam was a major reason that Communist nations decided to try cooperation. It will be up to history to determine this.

From a human standpoint, certainly one of the great satisfactions of this settlement will be the fact that U. S. prisoners of war, so long separated from their family and nation will at last be returned. It is something that all of us had hoped for.

The world is going to be better off because this tragic war is ended. The shooting could start again; however there is reason to hope that once the guns are silenced the war weary people of Southeast Asia will do everything possible to see that the destruction does not begin anew.

Conflict Will Shape Future

By BRYAN HAISLIP
GREENVILLE — Confrontation and conflict between the interests of the economy and the environment will shape the future growth of North Carolina.

"How we face and resolve the issues which collide at this point will influence our life styles, economic well-being, and social situations this year and in the next decade," said Dr. James H. Bearden.

The focus for decision is sharper in eastern North Carolina, he added, simply because it is the region that has further to go in reaching its potential for development.

He feels a close involvement with the economic destiny of the east. As dean of business at East Carolina University, he sees a role for the institution in fostering conditions for expanding business activity and assuring prosperity for the area.

"Industrial development" has become almost a dirty phrase in the lexicon of ardent environmentalists, Dr. Bearden observed wryly.

"And yet, if we have the goal of raising per capita income for our people, we have not other route to follow in reaching that objective," he said.

Clean, But Jobless
The extreme position favoring protection of the environment, he said, seems to be saying "Keep eastern North Carolina green and clean, and we're sorry we can't help you find a job."

That's hardly realistic, he added, for people who still must eke out a livelihood in an area where economic options are limited by the delayed transition to an industrial society.

While he can see both sides of the issue, if he had to choose at the moment, Bearden would place himself on the side of advocates of growth. In any event, he said, the public debate which will lead to decisions must examine fully all facets of the questions.

"It appears at the present time that spokesmen for protection of the environment are more vocal, as opposed to advocates of growth. I would hope to see a turn of events in which both points of view are given prominence," he said.

Key Issues Cited
Dr. Bearden identified some of the key issues to be resolved in setting the pace for economic development in the east.

1. The siting of nuclear power plants, in the search for sources to meet the energy crisis.

2. The leasing of off-shore oil rights, another critical decision in meeting energy needs of the future.

3. Land-use control and planning, which can set the pattern to encourage or retard the location of industry and the development of natural resources for recreation and tourist traffic.

4. The concept of rural development, as a means of maintaining a stable agriculture and sound rural communities.

In each instance, he noted there is conflict between the impact on the environment and benefits to the economy.

"I hope North Carolina is up to the tasks and challenges it faces in reconing with environmental protection and balance growth," Dr. Bearden said. Gov. Jim Holshouser has indicated, he observed, that he will lend his personal efforts to the attraction of new industry to the state.

Forum For Debate

Dr. Bearden served as vice chairman of Governor's Advisory Committee on Economy and Environment appointed by former Gov. Bob Scott. Somehow, the group phased out in the final period of the preceding administration. It ought to be revived, he suggested, as a forum for full consideration of all factors involved in healthy growth.
An Alabamian native, Dr. Bearden has a 15-year perspective on the transition of the east from basically agricultural to a diversified economy. He came to Fort Bragg as a soldier, married an eastern girl and joined ECU in 1958.

"The big reason the east hasn't grown economically, in comparison with the piedmont, is that it has been left out of the transportation network," he said.

Development began in the east, because it was first settled. Waterways which were assets in the beginning became barriers, and it fell behind.

The overriding question, as Dr. Bearden sees it, is who will make the decisions in reconciling the claims for environment versus economic development. "Will it be the people who live within the area, or those outside?" he asked.

To share in their own destiny, he said, citizens should use every avenue of politics, education and civic activity to assure ultimate decisions for a higher quality of life.

Wets And Drys Flex Muscles

By JOHN KILGO
RALEIGH — The wets and drys of North Carolina are getting ready for a fight they both feel they'll win.
This battle would come not in the legislative halls, but out on the campaign trail before the people.

Strangely enough, both sides seem to want Rep. Sam Johnson's liquor-by-the-drink bill to make it through the General Assembly. The Johnson bill would put liquor-by-the-drink to a statewide vote, and give the people a chance to be the judge.

Marse Grant, editor of the Biblical Recorder, tells me: "We think we'd win this vote statewide by a margin of 55-45."

Grant, of course, is a dry. Hugh Morton of Wilmington, who twice led efforts of wets to get mixed drink legislation passed, has other ideas.

"I think liquor-by-the-drink would pass a statewide vote," Morton told me.

Morton says he isn't active in the current campaign, but he would be if the measure goes before the people in a vote.

I asked Morton what measures he thought the Christian Action League would take to defeat liquor-by-the-drink in a statewide referendum.

"I think they're a lot of hot air," Morton said, referring to the League. "I think they're in for a rude awakening."

"I had a couple of polls run on the subject when I was a candidate for Governor. It showed an overwhelming majority of the people wanted the opportunity to vote on liquor-by-the-drink. And it also showed that a majority of people from coast to coast favored liquor-by-the-drink."

"I think North Carolina is much more advanced in its thinking than the Christian Action League gives it credit for being."

Morton says the secret to "liquor drinking" is moderation.

"And in North Carolina now," he said, "we say we'll be glad to sell you a gallon, but we can't sell you one drink. That hardly lends itself to moderation."

Grant takes an entirely different view of the circumstances. He says he thinks chances are 50-50 that Rep. Johnson's liquor bill will pass the Legislature.

If the question then goes to the voters, Grant leaves no doubt that the Christian Action League will be ready with thousands of volunteer workers and a heavily-financed war chest.

"Just the Baptist churches alone in North Carolina raised $105 million to support Baptist causes last year," Grant said. "I'm sure many of these people would work diligently against liquor-by-the-drink and they could raise a lot of money."

Grant says the drys would wage "an educational campaign" should the measure go to the polls in a statewide vote.

"We would point out that when we're dealing with alcoholism, we're dealing with the second or third most serious disease in America," Grant said. "I don't think the educational message has been fully understood. You can rest assured the Christian Action League will do its part to educate the five million people in North Carolina about this problem."

Grant also takes issue with those who say liquor-by-the-drink would be better than brown-bagging.

"The same forces who crammed brown-bagging through the Legislature in 1967 are trying to push liquor-by-the-drink now," he said. "So don't go hanging brown-bagging around the neck of the Christian Action League."

Add A Few Sour Grapes

WASHINGTON — Richard Nixon's inaugural address last Saturday was vintage stuff. Once again we heard the old Nixon, embracing old conservative doctrines: federalism, self-reliance, limited government. At least in the conservative view, it was an altogether superlative speech.

There are signs, moreover, that in his second term the President means to put these principles to work. He seems determined, even at the risk of further alienating a hostile Congress, to keep a firm lid on federal spending. He has won approval of his general revenue sharing plan, and while the plan has a major flaw — it gives local governments the authority to spend money without the responsibility of raising it — the program may be a useful step toward reversing the flow of political power.

"The time has come," said Mr. Nixon on Saturday, "to turn away from the condescending policies of paternalism — of 'Washington knows best.'"

Yet his staff summaries of the first four years indicates that time after time, in first one area and then another, the administration fostered paternalistic policies. In such fields as automotive safety, family planning, community planning, aid to education, and the reduction of pollution, Washington knew best. The staff study boasts of increased federal spending on consumer protection and guidance. Here we learn that, thanks to the Nixon administration, 10,000 nutrition aides are at work in low-income neighborhoods.

"Let us encourage individuals at home," said the President, "to do more for themselves, to decide more for themselves."

Between 1969 and 1973, the staff study tells us, loans to small business leaped from $820 million to $3 billion. The number of persons receiving food stamps increased from 3 million to 13 million. Federal subsidy of the arts climbed from $8 million to $38 million. Housing subsidies almost doubled, from $635 million to $1.1 billion. Under Mr. Nixon, publicly assisted housing units reached a record level of 429,000 in 1971.

"In trusting too much to government," said Mr. Nixon, "we have asked of it more than it can deliver." He urged us to remember "that America was built not by government but by people."

Yet the staff study bursts with pride at the creation, in the first four years, of such agencies as the Office of Child Development, Parent and Child Center Program, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, Council of Environmental Quality, Environmental Protection Agency, Office of Drug Abuse Protection, Rural Telephone Bank, Office of Consumer Affairs, Consumer Product Information Coordinating Center.

To the Editor:

The message below was received by the Humane Society:
And I would have been such a good pet — anyway, I know I would have tried real hard.

We all would. There was eight of us — just 10 weeks old — and they said we looked like little balls of black and white fur. And the others yapped to get out as much as I did, so I know they wanted you to come, too.

We were left at the dog pound just a few days before Christmas. I knew we were lucky — and that you and others would get us as a present. And everytime somebody came we just yapped and yapped — because we thought it was you. But they smiled — and said we were pretty — and cute — but then they went away. And there were four more, a little older than us, in the next pen. They looked just alike, and everybody said they were pretty, too. And boy-y-y — could they yap!

But I really felt sorry for Brownie. He was full grown — and real handsome. He seemed to be waiting patiently — for he just knew that his little master would come get him. But he didn't hear the dog catcher when he said that the mother of Brownie's master said she couldn't afford the nine dollars tax.

We waited, 'til two or three days after Christmas. And it sure did get cold out there — on that bare cement — but the worst part was when it rained, 'cause we couldn't stay dry, or warm — in fact, some of us got real sick.

But we would have kept on waiting — if they would have let us I'm sorry you didn't come.

Strength For Today

ACCEPT IT AND LIKE IT
One of the things that makes life interesting and at the same time turbulent is the prevalence of different viewpoints. The two-party system is an illustration of this matter of different viewpoints.

We think that a house in which there is no difference of opinion is a happy home. Nothing could be further from the truth. A home in which everybody agrees and all seem to defer to one person (usually a father; is a tyranny (almost said glorious), but not too glorious at that.

One of the outstanding evils of communism is that it admits of only one point of view. Anything other than the views advanced by the Soviet system is an evidence of treason. And this of course is just as wrong as a thing can be.

Both left wing and right wing tyrannies are built on such a philosophy.

So let us rejoice in the diversity of views which prevail in every good home in every true friendship. There are at least a few people in the world beside ourselves who may be right — not many, of course, but at least a few.

If you want to see dejection and hopelessness at their worst go into any circle where divergent views are not tolerated. There you will find misery galore. There is a tolerance that works harm, such as one's tolerance toward evil. One of the things that gives spice to life is the ability to accept diversity and like it.

How It Used To Be

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a haunted house.

But it is a friendly house. Yesterday's voices echo in the rooms, cheerfully retelling the good news of yesterday. Yesterday's people walk up its stairs, exchanging hellos and talking of things that happened long ago, and warming their hands by the glow of vanished fires on the dusty old hearth.

Some think of it as a strange and eerie place, this haunted house of memory, and perhaps it is wise not to dwell therein too long or visit too often. But few who go in there and stay a while emerge without feeling more refreshed and somewhat less lonely than before.

And all who live must spend part of their lives in that house.

There is probably quite a bit of traffic in your own house of memory if you can look back and remember when:

Most people were kind of glad to have dandelions in their lawn. They made the spring seem more cheerful.

There was always one tightwad old uncle in the family, and when you and poor folks sometimes dropped by his house on a Sunday afternoon to cheer him up when he was feeling low, he'd pour a single small round of drinks for all — then put the bottle back in the closet for good. Only an act of God could make him pour a second round — and God never acted.

Maurice Chevalier, fresh from Paris with his bow tie, easy smile and jaunty straw hat, brightened the American theatrical scene. He made us think and feel that all Frenchmen were that way — full-spirited, happy and affable.

A juvenile delinquent was a kid who picked a second scab off a skinned knee after his mother had told him not to pick it off the first time.

Whatever you ran out of in your own house, you knew you could always run next door and borrow a cup of it from a neighbor lady. The exception was gin.

The musical instruments of choice among boys were the saxophone and the drums. Whoever heard of anybody wanting to play the guitar? The banjo? Si. The guitar? Never.

There was one thing that would always draw a crowd anywhere in America — a dog fight. And you could usually see one at least every other week while simply going about your business.

Pleasures were more innocent. Every member of the family was home most nights, and all had fun simply making fudge in the kitchen or toasting marshmallows in the fireplace.

Those were the days — remember?

Peace Through Trade Possible?

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Since it now appears that war can be halted by negotiation, more focus soon may be placed on another step in President Nixon's schema, the negotiation of a lasting peace through world trade.

Considerable progress already has been made in this direction, of course. China trade has been reopened not just to the United States but to Japan, too. And the Soviet Union appears to be intensely interested in American goods.

So far, however, that trade has not developed to the point where it might be said that the world's major powers have a vested interest in keeping the peace — a mutual dependency on trade that would be ruined by war.

A study completed well before the cease-fire suggests that the President will have strong backing for his peace-through-trade doctrine.

The massive, highly detailed survey was conducted for Finance magazine among 149 academic authorities on international relations, the social and behavioral sciences, and computer-simulated "peace game" methodology.

The group turned out to be predominantly young, or under 40, and politically inclined to the left. Sixty per cent described themselves as liberal or ultraliberal, while only 16 per cent claimed to be conservative. The academicians were inclined to believe that a balance of power among nations was necessary to world peace, with only 14 per cent maintaining that the greatest hope for peace lay in disarmament.

But interestingly, they felt economic considerations would be a very strong ingredient of that balance. Some 74 per cent said "economic development, trade, technical cooperation and foreign aid" were either "highly important" or "important" as an incentive to peace.

In contrast, the same group gave a 52 per cent rating to "education and culture" as an incentive to peace and only 39 per cent to a category listed as "strengthening international institutes like the United Nations...."

What emerges clearly from the study is that these authorities — although the names are confidential, it is known that many are considered experts — expect peace, especially where the United States is directly involved, and feel strongly that a major element in that peace will be our international economic initiatives.

Trade between the United States and China, for example, was expected by 45 per cent of the respondents to reach a proportion that by 1976 will "constitute a significant factor in establishing a lasting world peace."

Commission OKs Southside Urban Renewal Plans

JOHNSON GRAVE SITE — Markers in foreground mark the location of the grave to be dug for Former President Lyndon B.

The proposed plan for the Southside Urban Renewal Area, Project N.C. R-134, was approved by members of the Planning and Zoning Commission Wednesday night and is being sent to the City Council, which will hold a public hearing on the plan on February 8.

Joe Laney, Executive Director of the Greenville Redevelopment Commission, told commissioners about the results of the recent Mid-Plan Conference, one that involved local, state and federal officials in surveying the proposals for the urban renewal plan.

A few recommendations for changes, which Laney recommended the commission accept, and which they adopted in their approved recommendation for the City Council, includes zoning small businesses in the area to neighborhood business rather than zoning as non-conforming.

The Southside Urban Renewal Area covers an irregular area beginning near Hooker Road and following the southern boundary of Seaboard Railway Eastward to Evans Street, with a small area extending east beyond Evans Street.

Generally, the major portion of the area has been designated R-6 residential, with a strip along the railroad designated unoffensive industry. Small areas within that the unoffensive industry are to remain intact to provide for certain industries already located there, i.e., a meat packing plant.

Officials of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Laney noted, were adamant to zoning a strip along Evans street south of 14th Street as highway commercial. Their reason is that such a zoning would encourage strip zoning and result in a jumble of unsightly commercial establishments on the Evans Street approach into town.

Another HUD recommendation is that an area designated in the original plan as shopping center not at this time be so designated, as it is HUD's contention that currently there is no justification to plan a shopping center within the area under study.

City Planner Dillon Watson revealed that in four small covered by the study plan, there is some contradiction in zoning due to flood plains.

"The city manager has already sent a letter seeking to get this resolved, so we should be on the way to having this problem solved," Watson said.

Laney noted the flood plain for the city had been established by Corps of Engineer studies only to Evans Street. "If we have flood plains in the area, they should be designated," he said.

"All the points mentioned at the Planning and Zoning Commission meeting last night will be the subject of further review at the public hearing to be conducted by the City Council early in February.

Fayetteville Is Murder Capital

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — Fayetteville, home of Ft. Bragg and Pope Air Force Base, has become the murder capital of North Carolina with a rate of almost 43 murders per 100,000 residents in 1972.

Charlotte was second and Winston-Salem was third, missing second by only .04.

In numbers of murders with regard to population figures, Charlotte led with 60, Winston-Salem was second with 33 and Raleigh third with 25.

The figures are from a study by the Winston-Salem Journal.

Fayetteville Detective Lt. Rudy Studer said some of the murders in the Fayetteville area were committed by drug addicts during robberies.

CULLOWHEE — Academic honors at Western Carolina University have been conferred upon three Pitt County students.

They are among 1,183 university students on the dean's list for the fall quarter of the current academic year.

Students on the dean's list must earn a quality point ratio of 3.0 on a scale of 4.0 for a regular quarter's work of not less than 12 quarter hours.

The Pitt County students are: Greenville — Baxter G. Allen, 1614 Longwood Dr.; and Raymond P. Grady, 1703 Sulgrave Rd.

Ayden — William R. Holland, III, 312 S. Lee St.

For all his fervent insistence on limited government, the President has presided over an administration so bloated with bureaucracy that the White House staff must now be cut by half. By half! For all his talk of the work ethic, the President has sponsored a plan of guaranteed annual income with built-in guarantees against work.

Too much reliance on government, said Mr. Nixon, "leads only to inflated expectations, to reduced individual effort, and to disappointment and frustration." He could have found a sad example of this failing in a $100 million program (listed by the staff among his accomplishments) intended to provide one hot meal a day for lonely old persons. At that level of funding, the program at most can serve 1 out of 20. The other 19 can dine on inflated expectations.

But one recalls a Bible Belt hymn about the light in the window: "While the lamp holds out to burn, the vilest sinner may return." We have hope. The President's political, social and economic principles are altogether sound. All we conservatives could ask, this second time around, is that he consistently apply them.

However, he noted as landfills become more expensive, technology will develop to make recycling cheaper.

We were against it when it was passed."

Wouldn't liquor-by-the-drink increase tourism and convention trade in North Carolina?

"Conventioneers don't have trouble getting liquor," Grant said, "and a family from Ohio who wants to come to North Carolina for a nice summer vacation, doesn't worry that Nags Head or Cherokee doesn't have liquor-by-the drink. The come to enjoy the state's great beauty."

Both sides seem to be willing to take Johnson's bill. The wets because they feel they can't get anything else out of the Legislature. And the dries because they feel they could win the resulting election.

Sunday School Revival Slated

A "Sunday School Revival" will be held at Grace Church here beginning Sunday and continuing through Wednesday, at 7:30 each evening.

According to the pastor, the Rev. Chester Phillips, Keith Kenemer, a Portsmouth, Va. evangelist, began this ministry among Free Will Baptists. The four-day revival has as its aim to motivate the laymen of the church to take the Great Commission personally.

The Rev. Phillips says there will be special music each evening and that the nursery will be open.

Panel Discussion On Disposal Of Solid Waste Held Tuesday

As part of its continuing effort to keep citizens informed on matters of public policy, the Greenville-Pitt County League of Women Voters sponsored a panel discussion on solid waste disposal Tuesday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Mrs. C. A. Webber moderated, and Mrs. E. J. Brankin and Mrs. Delbert Roscoe were hostesses for the evening.

Mayo Allen, Greenville's Director of Public Works for the past ten months, compared the new landfill with the old city dump in the same location. Whereas the former reeked and harbored rats, the landfill has neither odor nor rats as refused is buried in layers with dirt and then tightly packed. Located near the Tar River east of Greenville, the landfill does not threaten the river with pollution, according to Raleigh experts. However, Greenville continues testing the water to detect any leakage into the river that might develop.

"Our biggest problem, a health hazard is not the landfill but the way garbage is handled at home and is transported privately to the landfill," Allen said.

He requested that citizens use sturdy 24 gallon metal containers with tight fitting lids and place these where dogs cannot upset them. Transporters should make sure that their garbage cannot spill on the roads.

Phillip Michaels, Pitt County's planner, described the proposed county-wide procedure for disposing solid waste. Consisting of a central landfill and conveniently located "greenboxes" or dumpsters along highways and stationary compactors in towns, the new system will require the close cooperation of county and municipal governments throughout Pitt.

Trucks, like the ones now serving Greenville, will periodically empty the dumpsters and compactors into the landfill. The plan also calls for franchisers to handle industrial waste.

Michaels pointed out that the proposed system will satisfy all state standards which all solid waste disposal systems must meet by 1974. He stressed that the advantages of the county-wide system lie in "centralization to make use of economies of scale" and in the opportunity central landfill method provides for taking advantage of technological advances in recycling.

Dr. Fred Mangum, state extension economist, discussed the need to encourage recycling since the volume of solid waste is steadily increasing. Although the amount of material recycled over the years has increased, the percent of waste that is recycled has decreased.

According to Dr. Mangum, the September Vote Said Unfeasible

RALEIGH (AP) — The House Committee on Elections and Election Laws was told Wednesday it would not be "feasible" to hold North Carolina's primary elections in September.

State Elections Director Alex Brock told the legislators that it might be feasible to hold primaries in August but that "is certainly the latest date you could consider."

There have been proposals to shift the primary elections, now held in May, to a later date in order to shorten the length of election campaigns.

The committee has before it a bill by Rep. Roy Spoon, R-Mecklenburg, to shift the primary from early May to early September.

Perry Is Named To Ass'n Board

RALEIGH — Delton Perry of Bethel was named to the board of directors of the North Carolina Pork Producers Association at a meeting at the Hilton Inn here recently.

Two Greene County men were named to serve as officers for the coming year. They are: Junius Radford of Snow Hill, vice president; and Frank Barnhill of Walstonburg, also a vice president.

in Business

● IF BOYHOOD business enterprise is any indication of a successful adult career, there's a top-flight future in store for your hustling young newspaper carrier. Already he is acquiring and showing so many of the qualities which make for leadership and good citizenship.

As a young fellow in business for himself, your carrier is making spare time pay four-way dividends. He's earning a steady income, saving money, learning business methods, and serving the community at the same time.

ALL OF which, added to his regular schooling, is making him a popular and responsible young businessman today — and giving him a head start toward success in whatever life work he may undertake tomorrow! Does YOUR son have a newspaper route?

The business leader of the future is the carrier-boy of today.

If you're going to spend the kind of money that can put you in an immaculate, fully equipped, late-model Continental . . . don't settle for less. Move up to the prestige, luxury and pride of ownership that is uniquely Continental.

There's no better time than now. Unprecedented sales of 1973 Continentals have resulted in an outstanding selection of previously owned models. You'll be impressed with the cars and the relative cost of moving up.

However you look at it, a nearly new classic Continental makes good sense. Think it over, then talk it over with the dealer nearest you . . . before you buy a lesser car.

Dismantling 'Great Society' Programs Of LBJ

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of what remains of the Great Society of Lyndon B. Johnson may not long survive him.

Many of the domestic programs and agencies by which the 36th president hoped to abolish poverty and rebuild the ghettos are sentenced to death or dismemberment under President Nixon's budget ax.

Government sources said privately the Office of Economic Opportunity, conceived by Johnson as a major weapon of his "war on poverty," would be broken up and its remaining functions shifted to other agencies if Congress concurs.

That would be a relatively small increase from this year's $250-billion target, considering economic and population growth and the fact that defense spending may rise despite the peace agreement in Vietnam.

Holding down the budget is made possible, officials said, by Nixon's heavy ax work on funds for housing, health, education and social programs, subsidized public-service jobs, work training and community services.

Some of the targeted programs, such as the Rural Electrification Administration, date back to Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal, but many of the housing and urban programs are legacies of the "Great Society" hopes of the man who was being buried today in his native Texas.

An 18-month moratorium on new approvals of subsidized housing for low-income families was announced Jan. 5 by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The budget reportedly will provide no funds for new approvals in fiscal 1974, starting July 1.

Officials said the budget will reflect a theme of the President's inaugural address last Saturday, that Americans henceforth can expect less from their government: "Let each of us remember that America was built not by government, but by people—not by welfare, but by work—not by shirking responsibility, but by seeking responsibility."

Science, technology, space and atomic-energy programs also reportedly are due for paring. The White House Office of Science and Technology is being abolished; its functions will be moved to the National Science Foundation.

The rise in federal financing of civilian research and development, which was a priority item a year ago in Nixon's campaign to rebuild U.S. competitiveness in world trade, is expected to level off or decline. But the economy blade will fall most drastically on the urban programs by which past administrations have tried to cope with poverty, unemployment, overcrowding, inferior schooling, disease and other big-city ills.

Onassis Told Doctors To Let Injured Son Die

By PAUL ANASTASSIADES
Associated Press Writer
ATHENS (AP) — "His brain was destroyed and his features completely disfigured." So Aristotle Onassis told the doctors not to keep his only son alive for a few more days.

Alexandros Onassis, 24, died Tuesday of injuries suffered when his new amphibious plane crashed as it was taking off from Athens airport. A battery of surgeons declared him beyond recovery although his heart was beating faintly, but they said he could be kept alive for three or four days.

"We decided it was in vain," the Greek shipping magnate told a news conference Wednesday night. "We weren't killing him. We were just letting him die. There is no question of mercy killing here."

Onassis said even if his son had lived, he would have been "dead as a human being ... His brain was destroyed and his features completely disfigured. Nothing could be done for him."

"We all have a certain life span," the 67-year-old father observed with a sigh. "What we don't know is when this span will end."

Onassis' voice dragged, and it was difficult to hear him. Heavy pouches were under his eyes. Sources close to the family said he had cried all night and had left the house twice to wander about the neighborhood.

Onassis also took issue with an official announcement that his son was piloting the 10-seat Italian Piaggio.

"I don't give a damn what the officials said," Onassis declared. "The truth is that Donald MacCusker was at the controls with Alexandros sitting by his side. Alexandros was not at the controls as stated.

"If Alexandros had been at the controls, maybe the accident would not have happened. Alexandros made the mistake of trusting MacCusker's immense flying experience without considering that this was the first time MacCusker would be taking up this kind of plane."

MacCusker, 50, is from Columbus, Ohio. He and a British pilot who was also aboard, Donald MacGregor, were seriously injured.

Alexandros headed the helicopter and light craft division of Olympic Airways, which his father owns.

Dairy Farmers Win Increase In Their Prices

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina dairy farmers have won an increase of 45 cents per hundred pounds for their fluid milk from the state Milk Commission. The increase is expected to cost retail consumers about a penny per quart.

The increase was granted Tuesday by the milk commission after 500 farmers crowded a public hearing to complain about the rising cost of feed for their cows. They asked for increases of 80 cents to one dollar on 100 lbs. of wholesale milk.

The increase, which will take effect Feb. 5, was the second granted by the commission in recent months. In November the farmers got a 28 cent raise, which resulted in an additional penny per retail quart.

Plan Bipartisan Praise Of Nixon

RALEIGH (AP) — House Speaker Jim Ramsey and Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt have named a bipartisan committee to draft a resolution praising President Nixon's settlement of the Vietnam war.

This came after Sen. Charles Taylor, R-Transylvania, rose in the Senate Wednesday to praise the President's effort to gain "an honorable peace," and Rep. Hunter Warlick, R-Catawba, made similar remarks to the House.

At Taylor's request, Hunt named Sens. Hamilton Horton, R-Forsyth, A. B. Coleman, D-Orange, and J. Russell Kirby, D-Wilson, to a committee to draft a resolution.

Ramsey named Reps. J. F. Mohn, D-Onslow, David Blackwell, D-Rockingham and Warlick to the committee.

Elect Owens To District Post

WILLIAMSTON — Mark W. Owens, Jr. of Fountain was elected vice president of District Two of the North Carolina School Boards Association at the annual district meeting in Williamston last week.

Owens, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Education and will serve a two-year term.

District Two includes Beaufort, Hyde, Martin, Pitt, Tyrell, and Washington County Boards of Education, and Greenville and Washington City Boards of Education.

Nixes School Permissiveness

NEW YORK (UPI) — Permissiveness—allowing students to decide what and how much they are to learn—has produced not the hoped for "free and happy student," but truants, dropouts and vandals, behaviorist B.F. Skinner said in New York.

He was in Manhattan to accept the 1972 Award for Creative Leadership in Education from the New York University School of Education. The professor of psychology from Harvard University said the great wave of freedom engulfing schools has given society results that are not reassuring. "A sheer love of learning does not seem to induce the student to apply himself ... he plays truant as never before ... he drops out of high school ... he drops out of the world, too," the professor said.

Local Vigil-Keeper Say Their Protest Not Ended

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

All who kept the weekly Wednesday noon Vietnam War vigil at the Post Office this week said, while they were delighted at the end of the war, the vigil will not end.

"We see this as a small way we can make people aware of the wrongs our country is doing, so we'll continue," said the Rev. H.V. Lofquist.

"Two things I'm still protesting are the draft, calling up 19-year-olds to make them go and either kill or support others who do, and the government's attitude toward those who have refused to put themselves in this position. There are many Jehovah's Witnesses and other conscientious objectors in prison right now for their beliefs. The Witnesses say any one of them who believes is a minister of his father. The government refuses to accept this definition, though they'll take the word of a man like me with Rev. in front of his name.

"Also, as long as the military-industrial complex continues in power, I'll be here if I'm able," he said.

Artemis Kares said, "I am delighted that the Vietnam Peace appears about to be signed, but I agree with Mr. Lofquist. I'll be here right on.

The Christmas bombing is still a disgrace."

"I'm thrilled to death that the President announced peace in Vietnam last night," said first-time vigil-keeper Chris Schimberg. "I called the wife of the prisoner of war whose name is on my POW bracelet last night soon after I heard that the prisoners should be home in 60 days. She's Mrs. Thomas Parrott of Dalton, Ga. She and

No Jubilation

DALLAS, N.C. (AP)—This textile community of 4,000 which has lost nine sons in the Vietnam war took the news of the peace agreement in silence.

It was in contrast to the end of World War II 27 years ago, when a group of Dallasites liberated the town's fire truck and rode across half of Gaston County with the siren screaming and the lights flashing.

They were greeted in nearby Gastonia by the sight of thousands of people lining the main Airline Avenue, yelling, hugging, beating on pots and pans.

But no one lined the streets of Gastonia on Wednesday, a beautiful, mild, winter's day, and Dallas was even quieter than normal.

Charge Youth With Break-In

Pitt County deputies have arrested an area youth on charges stemming from a Tuesday break-in at Rt. 1 Winterville home.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that Linwood Earl Barrett 16 of Rt. 1 Box 111 Winterville was arrested and charged with the break-in and larceny of the Kenneth Moore Jr. home around 1:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Sheriff Tyson, who said that the owner reported a radio missing from his home following the incident, noted that a radio was recovered at the time of the arrest. The break-in, he said occurred while Moore was away from home.

Barrett was jailed under $500 bond and scheduled for a District Court hearing on Feb. 26.

Hawkins' Home Entered, Robbed

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a former North Carolina gubernatorial candidate, was broken into Wednesday and family members report that goods worth $400 were taken.

Hawkins was in Washington where his daughter Bibi Khaalis, 24, is hospitalized following the Jan. 18 attack on the national headquarters of the Hanfi Muslim sect. Seven persons—including five children—were killed in the attack. The woman's condition is described as "guarded."

The break-in was discovered by a member of the Hawkins family at 6 p.m. Wednesday and reported to police.

Contractor For ECU Building

Dawson Construction Company of Kinston is the general contractor for the new East Carolina University School of Art building, having gained the job with a bid of $978,500.

According to James J. Lowery, director of the physical plant, follows: for plumbing, Kinston Plumbing and Heating — $81,700; for heating, air conditioning, and exhaust systems, Southern Piping Company of Wilson — $206,924; for electrical systems, Watson Electric Construction Company of Wilson — $161,416; and for elevators, Southern Elevator Company of Greensboro — $14,420.

Arrest Two On Narcotics Count

Michael Andrew Gard 21 of Nags Head and James Patton Preston 20 of Kill Devil Hill were arrested Tuesday at Lawson's Trailer Park on narcotics possession charges according to Pitt Sheriff Ralph Tyson.

Sheriff Tyson said that both men were charged with possession of a controlled substance. Deputies he added, confiscated a quantity of marijuana.

Bond for each man was set at $500, the sheriff reported, and a hearing in District Court here was scheduled for Feb. 26.

plus the secrecy in our government today and the awesome power of the President. I think it's a scary thing that Nixon doesn't consult Congress any more than he does, but uses a few advisers like Kissinger almost exclusively.

"We just have to do something to make people think—the fact that Nixon could win by such a large majority in light of the Watergate incident and the 'coincidence' of Kissinger's announcing 'Peace is at hand' just before the election is proof enough that most of us don't think."

Judy Moore said she believes it is "an ominous portent for the future that the President could announce the peace without expressing regret for all the harm the United States has done in Indochina."

"If he still believes so strongly in the cause, he could lead us into another war very soon," she said.

Hal Hinson, when asked what he thinks of the Vietnam peace, answered, "I'm just glad that Old Brother Dick Gregory will be able to eat." Hinson said he jogged five miles with Gregory the morning after the black entertainer and fasting war protestor spoke at ECU.

"I'll continue the vigil," Hinson said. "The Vietnam War has been our important issue, but it's only one symptom of our country's poor condition."

Asked if he has been faced with the draft, Hinson said he has not because he is a student.

"I do have a low lottery number, though. It's 54. I would not go in the Army, though. I would never kill anyone nor support a machine or an organization that would. I wouldn't go to prison, either. I'd leave the country."

Judy Willis and Carolyn Beierschmitt said they'll be back. They and several of the others said they participated in the peaceful protesting at the inauguration this past weekend. About 80 ECU and Greenville people were part of a march from the Lincoln Memorial to the Washington Monument, they said, and they attended various political and religious meetings and stayed with Washington area people who had volunteered to house the protesters.

Tennala Gross said she'll continue to be a regular at the vigil "until peace is a way of life for this nation."

"People in my church have asked me why I came here," she said. "I believe we have to speak out for our Christian principles and this is one way for me."

Mrs. Gross also spoke out for what she calls a responsible amnesty. "I would like to see each case of draft evasion or refusal to fight dealt with individually in the light of the person's convictions. I think it's wrong to say that those who cannot bring themselves to take part in a war are dishonoring those who do fight and die. To me they are only making a state that this kind of thing should not happen again.

Wilson Dulls Rose Rally For 84-64 Win

WHO CAN I TURN TO? — Rose High School's Phil Ragazzo (55) might well ask himself that as he tries to make a pass out from under the basket last night during action against Wilson. All he can see are Wilson defenders, including Thomas Blue (51), Freddie Sutton (33), Tony Fields (45) and Lee Williams (43). Wilson won the game, 84-64. (Reflector Photo)

WILSON — Rose High School's Rampants put on a final period rally last night to come from 20 points behind to as little as eight, but they ran out of steam there and finally lost by 20 anyway, 84-64.

The Rampants fell behind right at the start and never led in the game as they went down to their fifth straight Division III game, their 13th straight of the year, and their 15th since they last won, late in the season last year.

They did manage to pull off one tie, however, 15-15, in the first period. Late in the second period, however, Wilson began to pull away from Rose, and held a nine-point edge at halftime.

In the third period, they ripped the Rampants, pushing in 16 points while holding the Rampants to just four to build their lead out to 21, the biggest of the night.

But the Rampants did manage their rally, only to see it fail to keep going when it really got close.

Turnovers were again the big problem of the game. While the rebounding was almost even, Wilson managed more shots at the baskets than did the Rampants because of the poor ballhandling. In the first half, alone, the Titans took 13 more shots at the basket than did the Rampants, scoring on five more.

About the best weapon the Rampants had was the foul, as the Titans continually got inside their zone, and usually were able to handle their press. Wilson made good on only 10 of 33 shots at the line, as compared to 14 of 26 for the Rampants.

Wilson grabbed the lead on a free throw by Tony Fields after 30 seconds of play. They quickly went on to hit two field goals, both by Freddie Sutton to go out to a 5-0 lead before Jackie Savage drove in for the first Rose basket after over two minutes had gone by.

Wilson countered with two more, by Fields and Sutton to up their lead to 9-2, but Rose came back with three in a row, two by Herb Bynum and the other by Phil Ragazzo to cut it to 9-8.

The Rampants couldn't push ahead however as Wilson went back to a five point lead, 15-10. Rose got a free throw from Al Hunter, and a tap-in by Leroy Daniels, and then a baseline jumper by Harvey Tucker to knot it at 15-15.

But that was as close as they were to come to the lead. Lee Williams put Wilson back up with a tap, and Thomas Blue hit three straight from the floor, while Rose got only a jumper from Bynum to end the period with the Titans ahead, 23-17.

The second period remained fairly close, although Wilson led by as much as eight early in the frame. They scored after only four seconds, on a jumper by Gee Sauls, making it 25-17.

But Rose came back and trimmed it to six on drive by Hunter and then two free throws by Bynum made it 27-23. After a swap of baskets, Dennis Taylor drove in to hit and Rose had cut it back to two, 29-27 with 3:45 left.

Rose and Wilson swapped baskets once more, to make it 31-39, but after that, the Titans pushed in nine points in the remaining three minutes, while Rose was held to just two.

Sutton got the ball rolling for the Titans with a jumper, and Blue followed with a shot from underneath. Sutton hit on a fast break and William Plyler hit from the line. He missed his second shot, but Blue put it back in for a 40-24 lead with 34 seconds left. Only George Price's basket with two seconds left made it 40-31 at halftime.

In the third period, Wilson pulled away and made it appear to be a runaway. After swapping shots at the opening of the period, Wilson ran from a nine point bluge out to 21. Williams got it going with two baskets and Sutton followed with two more for a 50-33 lead after three minutes.

The two swapped buckets again twice more, then two free throws by Williams and a jumper from the circle by Blue ran it to 58-37 with 2:52 left.

Rose tried to fight back, but could only cut it to 18 by the end of the period, 62-44.

Sauls hit to open the final period to put it back up to 20, but then Rose came alive. Savage made two free throws to cut it back to 18 and then Bynum scored on a baseline jumper to make it 16. He followed that with two free throws and Price got another to make it 64-51. After Wilson scored once more, Ragazzo hit and Hunter made a free throw to cut it to 12, 66-54.

Wilson went back out by 15, but Savage scored on a drive and Hunter again hit from the line. Taylor then was credited with a basket by goaltending, and two free throws by Taylor made it 69-61 with 2:54 left.

But the Rampants ran out their string right their. They got only three more points the rest of the night, while Wilson popped in 17 more.

Michael Parks got it back to 10 with a jumper, and Sutton and Blue each followed with three-point plays to run it back to 16. Fields followed with a free throw before Rose scored again, on a charity shot, and Blue, came back with two more baskets to make it 82-62 with 1:18 to go. That did it as each finished with one more basket.

Blue finished high from Wilson with 23 points, while Sutton had 21. Williams had 14 and Fields had 11. For the Rampants, Bynum had 15 and Ragazzo had 12.

In the junior varsity game, the Rampant Cubs faced the same fate, bowing 85-61.

They fell behind at the start as Wilson ran out a 19-14 lead in the first period. In the second frame, however, the real clincher came. The Baby Titans outthit the Cubs, 26-13, and ran the lead out to 45-27.

Rose was never able to dent that lead although they stayed close to it the rest of the way. They just outthit the Titans, 18-15, in the third period, and cut the lead back to 60-45 with a period to play. But Wilson came back with a 25-16 scoring advantage in the final period to wrap it up.

Jarvis Edmondson led Wilson with 23 points, while Tony Burks had 17 and Tab Broome had 16. Rose was paced by Lindberg Morris with 18, while William Taylor had 16 and Ronnie Barrett had 13.

The Rampants return home Friday to host Jacksonville.

Austin Peay Packing Them In To Basketball

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Austin Peay basketball gymnasium seats only 2,305 and it used to be enough for home games until this year.

Now, they miraculously squeeze 1,500 more fans into the postage-stamp arena and the overflow carries into the school cafeteria to watch on closed circuit television.

The big attraction is the "Super Fly."

The nation's leading scorer, James "Fly" Williams, continued to pack them in and continued to throw them in Wednesday night with 38 points that helped Austin Peay beat North Carolina-Charlotte 85-76.

"Fly" hasn't yet hit as well as he's going to hit from the field," said Austin Peay Coach Lake Kelly.

Perhaps not, but he's not doing too badly so far. He had a 33-point average going into Wednesday night's game. That was almost two points better than runnerup Raymond Lewis of Los Angeles State.

And his charismatic presence has juiced up the home attendance. The line outside the gym usually starts forming about four hours before game time.

In other action Wednesday night, ninth-ranked Alabama trimmed Florida 82-74; No. 14 Providence turned back Massachusetts 91-78; 15th-ranked St. John's, N.Y., crushed Seton Hall 107-77; Dayton stopped Miami, Ohio 68-61; Duke clipped Richmond 70-66; Boston University beat Holy Cross 75-66; Buffalo edged Cornell 72-69; Fairfield defeated Boston College 69-65; Morehead nudged Marshall 81-80; Fordham clouted Army 77-68; St. Joseph's, Pa., withstood Georgetown 70-59; St. Bonaventure breezed over Canisius 68-58; Clemson drubbed the Citadel 72-54; Temple blasted Pittsburgh 71-50 and Penn notched a 57-45 decision over LaSalle.

The "Fly" scored 14 of his points in the last four minutes to help Austin Peay pull away from North Carolina-Charlotte. The sensational freshman came through with two free throws late in the game to break a 67-67 tie and get his team untracked.

Alabama used only six players to beat Florida. All six scored in double figures, led by Wendall Hudson's 17. Florida guard Tony Miller led all scorers with 25 points.

Providence went on a 16-4 scoring binge midway through the second half to beat Massachusetts. During that game-breaking span, Kevin Stacom scored seven points for the Friars.

St. John's took the lead after the opening minute and had an easy time with Seton Hall. The Redmen dominated the game at both ends of the court, shooting 54 per cent from the field and out-rebounding Seton Hall 56-39.

HITS .450 IN SERIES

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals are counting on Hal McRae, obtained from the Cincinnati Reds, to play regularly in 1973. He will play third base or right field.

In getting McRae from the Reds, the Royals obtained a .450 World Series hitter. In 1970 McRae made five hits in 11 at bats against Baltimore. Last October he made four hits in nine games against Oakland. That's nine for 20 in World Series competition or .450.

P. Grove Takes Win

Piney Grove downed St. Paul's, 68-52, last night in the lone Church League basketball game.

Piney Grove is now 3-3 in the league, while St. Paul's is 0-6.

Piney Grove moved out into an early lead, and held a 34-21 advantage in the first half of play. Then, in the second half, they outscored St. Paul's, 34-31, to insure the victory.

W. Avery led Piney Grove with 16 points, while R. Langley had 14, J. Mills had 12 and D. Nichols had 11. Jack Wall led St. Paul's with 17, while Jeff Daniel had 12 and Larry Land had 10.

Skillet, Proctor Move Into First

The Skillet knocked off Coca-Cola, 63-59, last night, and Proctor's beat the Book Exchange, 94-75, to move those two teams into a tie for first place in the City Basketball League. In the other game, Piggly Wiggly beat the Buccaneer Club, 106-28.

The Skillet and Proctor's are both 6-1 in the league now, while Coke falls off to 6-2.

In the lone Elm Street game, Proctor's jumped off to an early lead, building up a 45-34 lead in the first half. They continued to pull away, outshooting the Book Exchange, 49-41, in the final period to finish the win.

Gene Rackley led Proctor's with 22 points, while Greg Copeland, Joe Gaddis and Wayne King each had 14. Bruce Tucker had 11 and Gary Hess had 10. For the Exchange, Allen Jackson was high with 26, while Dave Stevenson had 16 and Carr Tucker had 10.

In the first game at the other court, Piggly Wiggly had little trouble in rolling to an easy victory. They zoomed out to a 51-14 lead in the first half of the game. In the second, they again completely dominated play, holding a 55-14 advantage in scoring.

Lonnie Payton led Piggly Wiggly with 27, while Bobby Short had 20, Leon Johnson and Robert Pettus each had 12, Charles Norfleet had 11, and William Ward and Red Joyner each had 10. Gary Coggins led the Buccaneer Club with 11.

In the final game, The Skillet fashioned a 30-26 lead in the first half, then matched the scoring of Coca-Cola in the second half. Both teams pushed through 33 points through in the final frame.

Charlie Harris led the Skillet with 21, while Reginald Gatlin had 16 and Moses Joyner had 14. For Coke, Jim Modlin had 28 and Jack Warner had 10.

COME BACK, BALL! — Wilson Fike High School's Tony Fields reaches out for the basketball after tumbling to the floor with Rose High School's Jackie Savage (25) and Titan Michael Parks during the game between the two schools last night. Wilson held off a Rose rally in the final period and then streaked in the final two minutes to take an 84-64 victory. (Reflector Photo)

Spahn Easily Joins Greats

By HUBERT MIZELL ... Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — A Hall of Fame twinkle appeared in Eddie Spahn's 77-year-old eyes. He taught his boy how to pitch and now Warren was headed for Cooperstown.

"That twinkle was reward enough," said Warren.

Spahn pitched heroically for the Braves of both Boston and Milwaukee, winning a left-handed record 363 games with 13 seasons of 20 or more victories.

"It was almost midnight Tuesday when the call came," he said. "We were at my dad's house in Buffalo, N.Y. Suddenly I was in the Baseball Hall of Fame. I almost cried."

Spahn was an overwhelming choice with 316 of 380 votes from the Baseball Writers Association of America. A 75 percent approval was needed, and he had received 83 in his first year of eligibility.

"The emotions flowed and I couldn't take my eyes off my father," he said. "He was the one who taught me to pitch instead of simply throw ... the high leg kick, the style ... everything."

The 51-year-old Spahn will be enshrined next summer at the Baseball Hall in Cooperstown, N.Y. "Right up there with Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb and Walter Johnson," he said.

Whitey Ford, one-time clutch left-hander of the New York Yankees, fell 29 votes short of the required 284 in his first shot at the Hall. By chance, he ran into Spahn at a restaurant after Wednesday's announcement.

"Nice going, Spahn," he said. "Maybe Mickey and I can make it as a two-man entry next year." Mickey Mantle, the old Yankee slugger, becomes eligible in 1964.

Spahn is bald, but athletically trim at age 51. He pitched in the major leagues until he was 44 and still wings a few in batting practice for Cleveland as the Indians' pitching coach.

Bill Meyers, a scout for the Boston Braves, signed Spahn to an $80-a-month contract to play for Bradford, Pa., of the Pony League in 1940. Two seasons later, he was called up to Boston for the end of the season.

World War II horned in, taking 3½ seasons from him, and Spahn didn't win his first major league game until 1946 at the age of 25.

After that, it was gangbusters. Spahn was a 20-game winner 13 times in a 17-year stretch and wound up with a record of 363-245 plus a bushel of personal records.

Ram Owner Wants To Win—And In A Hurry

By JACK STEVENSON ... Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — In a couple of breaths, Carroll Rosenbloom put both his new coach Chuck Knox and his quarterback Roman Gabriel on the spot.

The owner of the Los Angeles Rams wants to win—now.

Rosenbloom fired Tommy Prothro on Wednesday and appointed the 40-year-old Knox, who has been an assistant with the Detroit Lions for six years following tenure with the New York Jets.

"What I know of the Los Angeles Rams, we should have gone to the Super Bowl," said Rosenbloom at the news conference introducing Knox to Los Angeles. "I think we should have gone to the Super Bowl this year."

So out went Prothro with three years left on a contract of $90,000 give or take some thousands. In comes Knox who says, "The people I admire the most are consistent winners. I think football should be coached with enthusiasm."

"I think the players reflect what the coaches do. You can't stand on the sidelines with your hands in your pockets."

Criticized during the Rams' 6-7-1 season was the motivation by Prothro and the throwing by Gabriel, the veteran quarterback who suffered tendonitis of the right elbow.

Knox skirted the question of what would be the quarterback situation, but Rosenbloom didn't.

"We think Gabriel can be a fine quarterback," the owner told the news conference. "But we have to go with more than one. We do need another proven quarterback and we're out to get one."

And perhaps shaking up more of the Rams organization, the owner said. "Everything we can do to improve ourselves, we will do, and we have other things in mind."

Prothro, 52, said he hadn't heard of his firing until his wife heard it at her dentist's.

"As soon as I heard the news, I called my attorney and turned the whole thing over to him. That's all I have to say at this time."

Prothro was signed after the Rams fired George Allen following the 1970 season. Allen subsequently signed with the Washington Redskins and took that team to the Super Bowl last Jan. 14.

In 1971, the Rams of Prothro posted an 8-5-1 record, just missing the league playoffs. But in 1972, they were 6-7-1.

Critics of Prothro said he didn't show sufficient enthusiasm in his coaching although he was technically one of the best in the business. He had been successful at both Oregon State and UCLA before signing with the Rams.

UCLA Goes For Record 61st Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Top-ranked UCLA's seemingly invincible Bruins tonight launch an historic two-game Midwest invasion which should gild their already phenomenal dynasty with collegiate basketball's longest skein of consecutive victories.

Against Chicago Loyola in the finale of a Chicago Stadium doubleheader, Coach Johnny Wooden's six-time NCAA champion Bruins are heavily favored to rack up their 60th straight victory since 1971 and match the record set by Bill Russell-paced San Francisco from 1955 through 1957.

The West Coast wonder club, 14-0 this season, Saturday afternoon presumably will try for record-breaking No. 61 at South Bend, Ind., against Notre Dame the last team to defeat UCLA with an 89-82 triumph on Jan. 23, 1971, on the Irish court.

Notre Dame (6-7) is also on tonight's Chicago Stadium card, facing Illinois (7-4), the club which gave UCLA its toughest tussle to date this season, bowing by only seven points, 71-64, in the Sugar Bowl tourney.

Wooden sent the Bruins through a brisk hour workout at De Paul University's gym after deplaning from the West Coast yesterday afternoon.

UCLA will face both Loyola and Notre Dame without guard, Tommy Curtis, who failed to make the trip because of the flu.

However, Bruin kingpin, 6-11 All-American Bill Walton, practiced snappily and showed no effects of a slight ankle sprain suffered Saturday night as UCLA made it No. 59 in a row with a 101-77 waltz over Providence.

Curtis will be replaced by Greg Lee, whose 4.9 point average is slightly under Curtis' 5.7.

Hi waymen Rip GUCo

State Highway won its sixth game in seven starts this year, downing Greenville Utilities last night, 95-88, in the lone Industrial Basketball League game of the evening.

Greenville Utilities is now 4-3 on the year.

The Highwaymen did most of their damage in the first half of play, pushing through an amazing 62 points: They held GUCo to just 32. Then, in the second half, GUCo put on a rally, outscoring the Highwaymen, 56-33, but they weren't able to overcome the 30-point deficit.

Bobby Edwards led State Highway with a season's high of 43 points, while Smith Worthington and Fred Mills each had 14 and Leonard Jenkins had 13.

For GUCo, Zeno Smith had 28, Donald Chase had 26, James Ward had 16 and Henry Crumble had 12.

Duke Tops Richmond; Clemson Downs 'Dogs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The third-ranked North Carolina basketball Tar Heels will be seeking their 24th home victory when they play Virginia tonight.

They haven't lost in Carmichael Auditorium since South Carolina beat them at the tail end of the 1969-70 season. The game will start at 9 p.m. and will be televised regionally.

North Carolina, 15-1, have won its last nine games. Its only loss this season has been to unbeaten North Carolina State, ranked second nationally. That game, in the finals of the Big Four Tournament, was an extra contest in the Atlantic Coast Conference and did not count in the conference standings.

North Carolina is 3-0 in the conference. Virginia is 2-2 in the league and 6-4 in all games. Virginia has been off for exams for the last two weeks. Just before the exam break, the Cavaliers lost to N.C. State and to fourth-ranked Maryland.

Barry Parkhill, last year's Player of the Year in the ACC, sparked a near-upset against N.C. State. But he scored only two points against Maryland.

The only other ACC team to play tonight, Wake Forest should beat William and Mary of the Southern Conference and surpass last season's total of eight victories. The Wake Forest Deacons, led by guards Tony Byers, second leading scorer in the league, and Eddie Payne, are 103 in the conference and 8-6 in all games.

Two conference teams, Duke and Clemson, played Wednesday night and both defeated

Southern Conference teams.

Duke, sparked by Gary Melchioni, overcame an eight-point deficit late in the game and defeated Richmond 70-66. Melchioni scored 10 of the Blue Devils' 19 points in the last 9:54 of play, and was Duke's leading scorer with 16 points. Duke now is 8-8 and Richmond 3-10.

Clemson defeated The Citadel 72-54, for its sixth victory against nine defeats. The Citadel also is 6-9.

Chris Redding of Duke was seeking his seventh consecutive 20-point game, but he scored only six points.

Jeff Reisinger had 14 points and Bud Martin and Terrell Suit 13 apiece for Clemson. Steve Fishel of The Citadel had 20.

Casey Explains His Donation

DETROIT (AP) — Missouri-born Casey Stengel, former baseball manager of New York's Yankees and Mets, chose Detroit's United Fund as the recipient of a $10 contribution so a San Mateo, Calif., industrial psychologist could have his autograph.

Preston E. Smith, 29, said in a phone conversation he saw Stengel at Los Angeles International Airport and asked for his autograph.

"I knew how Ted Williams used to give autographs on checks," the industrial psychologist said. "Then he told people to send checks to charities."

He made the offer to Stengel and Stengel accepted. But why did it wind up in Detroit?

"Billy Martin, he played for me, and the owner of the ball club I would say in Detroit is a very good friend of mine, and I used to manage years ago in Toledo for six years, and when I was in the major leagues, why Detroit on numerous occasions were the Yankee's best rivals because of the fact they had Red Rolfe running the club at one time, and also had some very prominent players," said Stengel, from a New York hotel room, unabashed by the English language.

Is that why Detroit? "Well, I suppose so," Stengel mused. "It's got my name on it, hasn't it?"

All Responding ToClementeFund

By GARY MIHOCES ... Associated Press Sports Writer PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pennies, poems and pictures from children, as well as checks and deeply personal letters from adults, are flooding the Pittsburgh Pirate office in memory of the late baseball great Roberto Clemente.

"As a housewife whose family lives from payday to payday, I can't send more ... but I wish I could," wrote a woman from Kingston, R.I., who gave $1.

The donations, ranging from six tarnished pennies to $100,000, have come from every state in the union, as well as Puerto Rico, Germany, England and Ireland.

Nearly $350,000 has been received since Clemente and four others were killed in a Dec. 31 plane crash while flying relief supplies to earthquake-torn Nicaragua.

The money will be used to continue the earthquake relief and help fulfill Clemente's dream of a sports camp for boys in Puerto Rico.

"I only wish this check could reflect the many thrilling moments Roberto has given me," said the brief note from Larry Buckwalter of Pittsburgh.

Children at St. Luke's School in New York sent crayon drawings. One portrayed a body falling from a plane and carried the words, "Roberto Clemente was brave."

Jacqueline Torres, another student at the school, drew a Pirate cap and added a poem. She wrote:

"This is a cap, it's worn on a head,

"the man wore it, and now he is dead.

We felt sorry for him because he was good.

He taught us how to have brotherhood."

Children at St. Vincent's elementary school in Latrobe, Pa., sent pennies taped to paper in the shape of Clemente's uniform number: 21.

John Hissrich, 12, of Pittsburgh, offered a mass that he said "all of St. James School will attend."

"I'm a top baseball fan and an even bigger fan of Roberto," he added. "I even cried when he died."

A total of $15.75 was received in another bulky envelope from Waynesboro, Va. The note with it was signed in inch-high letters by "Dan, Catie, Carie, Susie, Steve, Mark and Caskey."

The gifts included $100,000 each from the Pirates and the Richard K. Mellon Foundation, plus $25,000 each from a Puerto Rican bank and newspaper.

PROFIT SQUEEZE

MANY BUSINESSMEN ARE CAUGHT in a "profit squeeze" these days. The cost of operating a business is going up. Credit and collection problems may actually mean a loss in earnings.

ONE LOCAL BUSINESSMAN who operates his (or her) own business in your neighborhood is affected by the profit squeeze. The young carrier-salesman who delivers your newspaper every day can have collection problems too.

IT'S IMPORTANT TO your carrier to collect in full from every customer. When a customer is slow in paying, or asks the carrier to come back time after time, there's that much less profit for the carrier.

YOU CAN HELP these young businessmen avoid the "profit squeeze" by having your payment ready for your carrier on the very first call.

THANKS FOR HELPING.

The 'Worry Clinic' It's Easier To Pass The Buck

Madame "X" claims there are more frigid husbands than there are frigid wives. And she argues that most fat women get that way, due to impotent mates! This is like the argument as to which comes first—the hen or the egg. Read the true facts below!

A fat, waddling wife may be a jolly homemaker. But she reminds her mate of a good and motherly soul; not a siren! Starting at the time of the honeymoon, the usual husband is far more erotically aggressive than is his bride. But by the age of 40, he is often platonic! Then his plump wife begins to show the perversity of the female. For when he was excessively ardent, she tried to hold him at arms length and ration their love making. But when he grew cold (due to continual rebuffs), then she may grumble at his lack of romantic ardor. If you corpulent wives try to pass the buck and blame your mates for your platonic marriage, try this prescription:

- (1) Diet till you get back within 10 to 15 pounds of your honeymoon weight.
- (2) Meanwhile, cut out your cigarettes!
- (3) For many supposedly platonic men tell us doctors they can't stand to kiss their wives because of the stale tobacco halitosis that kills any romantic notions!
- (4) If you formerly obese women will thus slenderize and eliminate your halitosis, your husbands will revive in their ardor.
- (5) And learn how to disrobe SEDUCTIVELY!

It would be very profitable if a group of you fat, maternal dowagers would visit a local burlesque show, just to see the technique that professionals employ to arouse the male libido! It is true that many men chemically emasculate themselves via cigarettes. But that's often due to the evasion and avoidance of boudoir romancing at home. If you wives would focus on serving your mates more boudoir cheesecake, and spend less time on roast beef in the dining room, you'd not need to worry about impotent husbands. The trouble with most of you women is the fact you are "dining room oriented" instead of boudoir oriented. You concoct myriad recipes to tempt your mates to indulge in excessive gastric calORIES. Yet you do little to make him ask for second helpings of boudoir calories!

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Platonic Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. (Always write to Dr Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you sent for one of his booklets.)

RESILIENT HOUSES
MENLO PARK, Calif. (UPI) — A house that grows and shrinks could be in common use within 20 years, says Stanford Research Institute. The Institute said such a house would be built out of detachable components bolted on a steel frame and could be assembled and disassembled with ease.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.
CASE W-508: Madame "X" recently wrote a caustic letter to the Indianapolis STAR. "Dr. Crane," she began, "is ill informed on the subjects of sex and women!" "Wives know that there are more frigid men than there are frigid women."

"Most fat women become that way because of impotent husbands!"
Hen Vs. Egg
You have heard the old debate as to which came first—the hen or the egg. Madame "X" transfers that argument into the boudoir. We physicians know that many husbands are platonic with their wives. Yet can function easily with seductive sirens.

The bidding:

Pass 1 ♦ 4 ♠ Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♠

After North passed as dealer and East opened the bidding with one diamond, South gave up on any hope for slam and overcalled directly with four spades. If partner was short in diamonds and had some mild fit for spades, taking 10 tricks would prove routine and by proceeding directly to game, South hoped to inhibit the opposition from finding a fit in another suit.

West opened the five of diamonds, the ten was played from dummy and East followed with the three. It was not safe to lead a second diamond thru East with trumps outstanding, so South proceeded to cash his three high spades. When the jack remained outstanding, West was given his trump trick.

West shifted to the four of clubs, East cashed the king and ace and then led a third round which South ruffed. A heart was led to the ace and the jack of diamonds was led and covered by East's queen and declarer's king. South was unable to gain access to the dummy to take another finesse against the nine of diamonds, and he ended up one trick short on the deal.

East made a fine play in ducking the first round of diamonds; however, declarer had it in his power to assure his contract against any defense. All he has to do is to play the deuce of diamonds from the dummy instead of the ten.

If East covers the deuce with the nine, South wins the trick with the king. Trumps are drawn in four rounds and the ace of hearts provides reentry to the dummy subsequently to repeat the diamond finesse against East's queen.

If East puts in the six of diamonds at trick one permitting South to win with the eight, the final outcome will be the same. The key to victory for South is to take the deep finesse against the nine of diamonds originally. The queen can be picked up just as conveniently later in the play.

D'VEVER NOTICE? ALL GAS PUMPS HAVE TWO METERS ...

THEN HOW COME ONE ALWAYS GOES SO MUCH FASTER THAN THE OTHER?

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can gain much headway today by carefully studying an important item you have in mind. See where it fits into the jigsaw puzzle of your life. You can also gain the goodwill of those you wish to be allied with in the future by doing something that pleases them very much.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Handle business and other important obligations well and make big headway right now. Listen carefully to what mate has to suggest. Cooperate willingly and make your lives more happy together.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Talk with associates and find out how to make your joint project more successful. You can now handle a civic matter in a clever way. Put that fine plan you have to work. Show that you have poise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have much work ahead of you so don't delay giving it your prompt attention. Pay more attention to your diet and have better health. Avoid one who wants to take you away from the practical.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You want to enjoy yourself but you must stick to the tried and proven, otherwise you could get into trouble. Show thoughtfulness for mate. Courtesy doesn't cost anything. Use more of it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You need to improve fundamental affairs and now is just the time for that. Although kin may seem demanding, it is only because they love and believe in you. Don't go off any tangents at this time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Use all that extra energy you have to make routine work more efficient and derive more benefits from it. Don't neglect to handle important correspondence. Evening is best spent at home with mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan how to have a larger income and be more comfortable throughout the rest of the winter. Fix your budget so that you can save more money. Cut down on expenses wherever you can. Be wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take stock of yourself and see how to improve your state of health and increase your personal charm. Engage in the social affairs that will bring you the data you need. Be tactful at all times.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Prepare well now for making greater advancement in the business world in the near future. Your hunches are good and should be followed for good results in dealing with others. Be cheerful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get together with good friends so that you can have not only a good time, but gain the information you want and need. Listen to what a determined friend has to say. This can be very helpful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can get into civic and vocational duties and make big headway right now. Pay an important bill and build up your credit. Show mate much affection in the evening. Think kindly, act kindly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have certain ideas that should be discussed with those of experience before you try to put them in operation. Handling correspondence now is wise. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those magnetic young people who knows exactly what goal to strive for and how to go after it. Make sure you teach right tenets so that your progeny will be a capable person and a respected citizen. Give the right discipline which will help develop a strong character, plus good religious training. Sports are a fine outlet here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

UNMANNED RECONNAISSANCE — The Boeing Co. has disclosed a high-altitude long-endurance unmanned reconnaissance aircraft it developed for the Air Force. The first of two aircraft is inspected in a company facility in Seattle. The aircraft which has a 90-foot wing span, is a new generation of craft using advance communications systems to allow a pilot on the ground to fly it. Being explained the technology involved in digital communications is similar in nature to that used in television transmission. (AP Wirephoto)

Certificates Go To Attended Program Graduates Conference

On Friday evening, 52 homemakers enrolled in the Expanded Food Nutrition Education Program received their graduation certificates for their successful work in the program.

Welcoming remarks were given by Edwin Yancey, county chairman, Mrs. Jean Holmes and Mrs. Lilli Claxton, program aides, did the devotion and recognition of special guests. Mrs. Jean Dawson gave the address of "Why We Are Here," followed by a slide presentation by Miss Addie R. Gore, home economics extension agent.

Certificates were presented to the graduating homemakers by Mrs. Allie Washington. Remarks were given by Mrs. Audrey Jenkins, area home economics extension agent.

Dr. M. W. Aldridge and Mike Aldridge attended a men's conference at The Way International Research and Teaching Headquarters near New Knoxville, Ohio last weekend.

The purpose of the event according to the Rev. Ross Tracy, director of The Way of Michigan, is to encourage the men afresh to "run and not be weary" in holding forth God's Word in their homes, communities, and the world.

Dr. Aldridge, a Greenville dentist, taught from God's Word Sunday morning on "the abundant life and committed work to which we as Christian men have been called."

Many Way advances are held each year across the country for men, women, and youth. The Way is a worldwide Christian organization dedicated to the research and teaching of the accuracy of the Word of God. Locally fellowships of The Way meet each Sunday night at 7:30 at the American Legion Building here and each Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Way Home at 2007 E. Fifth Street here. Doug Emerson is the Greenville Way director.

Newsman's Bill Is Offered In Senate 'Coffee Day' Is Tomorrow

RALEIGH (AP) — A "shield" bill to protect newsmen from questioning about their sources in state court and grand jury proceedings has been introduced in the North Carolina Senate.

The bill, authored by Sen. A. B. Coleman Jr., D-Orange, would exempt newspaper, radio, magazine, and broadcast reporters from being required to reveal confidential sources with one stipulation.

The newsmen, under the terms of Coleman's bill, must have agreed with the source beforehand that the source was giving his information on a confidential basis and that the newsman would not reveal the identity of the source.

In effect, the bill gives the relationship between a newsman and his source the same legal status as that between doctor and patient or lawyer and client.

Coleman, a freshman from Hillsborough, said he had tried to write a "broad" bill that would at least serve as a springboard for debate on the issue.

Under a recent Supreme Court ruling, several newsmen have been jailed for refusing to reveal their sources. Coleman said his bill would protect them in state courts but not in federal proceedings. Coleman said he had "no idea" how the bill would fare. It was referred to Senate Judiciary Committee No. 2, whose chairman, Luther Britt of Robeson, said he was "not familiar with the issue" and would have to study the bill.

Woman Killed In African Raid

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — A middle-aged white woman was killed and her husband wounded Wednesday night in an attack by Africans on their tobacco farm in the Centenary area about 90 miles northeast of Salisbury, reliable sources reported today.

The attack was blamed on black rebels who have launched a campaign of terrorism and guerrilla warfare against the white minority government.

No official confirmation was immediately available, but it was believed that Ida Kleynhans, a South African, was killed by a grenade, and that her husband had been flown to a hospital in Salisbury. His condition was not known.

The farm is in an area where terrorists have been active for several weeks.

Mrs. Kleynhans is the first civilian killed in the fighting.

Friday is "Coffee Day" in Greenville as about 70 businesses throughout town take part in the Jaycette sponsored project to raise funds for the 1973 March of Dimes Campaign.

Co-chaired by Mrs. Gaynor Mills and Mrs. Joyce Jackson, the all-day coffee treat is the third successive annual coffee day sponsored by the Greenville Jaycettes on behalf of the March of Dimes.

In the one-day coffee day drive last year, coffee drinkers contributed approximately $250 to the March of Dimes funds.

Beginning early in the morning, about 30 Jaycettes will be taking the collection canisters to the participating businesses, and will pick them up at the end of the day.

All sections of town are to be represented in Friday's Coffee Day — Pitt Plaza, West End, Colonial Heights, downtown Greenville, Meadowbrook and other points have had merchants sign up to provide coffee.

QUIETWEEK SAIGON (AP) — No Americans were reported killed in action in Indochina fighting last week but four fliers listed previously as missing were changed to killed in action, the U.S. Command said today.

THE PILL IS HERE HERE'S THE PILL FOR YOUR AUTOMOBILE
 No more motor oil additives and carburetor cleaners to buy, no more piston slap, no more ring and valve jobs to worry about. We have a breakthrough product that does all this and more. Simply drop four pills into fuel tank and microscopic particles instantly begin to fill scored cylinder walls, save fuel, restore lost power and compression, improve valve action, stop oil leaking past rings. Our product has been thoroughly tested. Laboratory test results available on request. We offer you a ground-floor opportunity exclusive distributorship for your area? We will invest three dollars to you one if you qualify in your area. Distributorship can be run on full or part time basis. We furnish you all your accounts by name and address. All trucks, auto parts, service stations, auto dealers, garages, and farm implements are big users. To qualify you need $5,000 to $10,000 investment depending on size of territory. This is a guaranteed sale secured by inventory, and is not a franchise fee. With this distributorship you will be allowed to handle other Sun Chemical lines. For complete details phone (904) 396-5856, Mr. Warry Hoize, Sun Chemical and Refining, 754 Gulf Life Tower, Jacksonville, Florida 32207. This may never repeat itself again. Territory going fast! See our introductory ad elsewhere in this newspaper.

Highlights Of Basic Vietnam Terms To Be Signed

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the highlights of the basic Vietnam agreement that will be signed Saturday in Paris:

Military Provisions:
An internationally supervised cease-fire will go into effect at 7 p.m. EST, Saturday, Jan. 27. The cease-fire will apply in both North and South Vietnam. Upon the cease-fire going into effect, the United States will begin withdrawal of all its forces and military personnel from South Vietnam to be completed within 60 days.

Concurrently with the American withdrawal the North Vietnamese and its allies will begin the release of all American servicemen and civilians captured throughout Indochina. There will be the "fullest possible accounting for missing in action."

The infiltration of troops and war supplies into South Vietnam is banned. The government of South Vietnam, however, has the right to unlimited military replacement aid.

All sides pledge respect for the Demilitarized Zone at the 17th Parallel. The goal of reunification of North and South Vietnam is recognized but will be achieved only through negotiation between the two Vietnams.

There is no specific mention of North Vietnamese troops in the South but both sides agree to the reduction and demobilization of Communist and government forces in the South.

All foreign troops will be withdrawn from Laos and Cambodia and there is a ban on use of base areas in those two nations for the purpose of attacking or threatening the security of South Vietnam.

Political Provisions
The United States and North Vietnam agree that the South Vietnamese people have a right to self-determination. The government of the Republic of Vietnam in Saigon continues in existence with its current leadership intact and unchanged.

The Saigon government continues the right to unlimited economic aid.

A non-governmental National Council of National Reconciliation and Concord will be formed to organize elections and to promote implementation of the agreement.

The council will be composed of elements from the Viet Cong, otherwise known as the Provisional Revolutionary Government of South Vietnam, neutralists and the current South Vietnamese government. The council also will make all decisions on the basis of unanimity.

Control and Supervision

An international commission composed of Canada, Poland, Hungary and Indonesia will supervise the cease-fire and the elections. The commission will be composed of 1,160.

An international conference including both the Vietnamese nations, the United States, the Soviet Union and mainland China will be convened within 30 days to guarantee the agreement.

In addition, joint military commissions made up of the Vietnamese parties will be organized to implement other provisions of the agreement.

Laos and Cambodia
The independence, sovereignty, unity, territorial integrity and neutrality of Cambodia and Laos will be respected. The Geneva agreements of 1954 and 1962 are reaffirmed.

The infiltration of troops and war supplies into Cambodia and Laos are prohibited as is the use of bases in those countries to encroach upon the sovereignty and security of one another and of other nations.

All foreign troops are to be withdrawn from Laos and Cambodia.

Reconstruction:
The United States will participate in postwar reconstruction efforts throughout Indochina, including North Vietnam.

The ending of the war is to bring a new basis for U.S. relations with North Vietnam.

Smith Attended Conference At Raleigh

Pitt County Farm Bureau President David H. Smith of Rt. 2, Ayden attended the annual conference for county Farm Bureau presidents in Raleigh Tuesday and Wednesday.

The meeting, held at the Holiday Inn Downtown, Raleigh, was for the presidents of the 100 county organizations in the state. Plans were made for the program of work in their respective counties for 1973.

B. C. Mangum, state Farm Bureau president, said the annual meeting serves as a forum for discussion of Farm Bureau programs and activities at the county, state and national levels.

The county presidents also studied current trends in agriculture and made recommendations to help meet the demands of a rapidly changing farm economy.

Contribution To Learning Center

The Greenville Jaycees have made a contribution to the Aycock Learning Center.

The Center was established in 1972 and serves the E. B. Aycock Junior High as a diagnostic center.

According to Ann Bennett, director of the center, students are accepted for individual and group counseling on an individual, teacher or parent referral basis.

The center provides information to teachers to help them plan meaningful educational experiences for students.

"Students gain an insight into their behavior and receive assistance in initiating individual contracts to be used in the classroom," Miss Bennett said.

Addicts Ride An Old Ferryboat

NEW YORK (UPI) — An old ferryboat is helping former drug addicts take a new trip to a better life.

The General William H. Hart, docked at the foot of Fulton Street and the East River here, was donated to the South Street Seaport, which converted the vessel into a school where ex-addicts receive training in marine industry skills and, upon graduation, are placed in jobs that pay about $3.50 per hour.

During the first year of the school, which opened last fall, some 60 students are expected to be trained and placed in jobs, according to David Brink, program director. Former addicts referred to the non-profit school by New York City's Addiction Service Agency compete for enrollment through tests and a strict screening process. The program has the support of many companies in the marine industry.
