Phillips Complains

Asks Restore School Funds

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina School Supt. Craig Phillips asked the General Assembly's Joint Appropriations Committee today to restore $204 million in school requests turned down by the Advisory Budget Commission for the next biennium.

The requests included $69 million to lengthen the teacher work year to 10 months and $18 million to expand the public kindergarten program.

The budget commission recommended only $3 million to expand the kindergarten program during the coming biennium.

Phillips told the appropriations committee the work year expansion was the department's top priority request. He said it would result in some 6.5 million more work hours for "the people who work with our children in the schools."

The budget commission did not recommend any money for an expanded work year.

At present, school teachers work approximately 9.3 months, or 187 days. Phillips said the $69 million appropriation would add 13 more work days. He said that in effect this would mean a 1.69 per cent pay increase for teachers. The budget commission has recommended a 5 per cent pay raise for teachers each year of the biennium.

Phillips said the expanded school year also would apply to some 327 non-teaching staffers and 518 principals, all of whom would move from a 12-month to a 12-month work year.

The school official said the additional $18 million for kindergartens would mean that approximately one-third of the state's 5-year-olds could participate in the present kindergarten system established by the 1971 General Assembly.

Phillips said the $18 million would be a big step toward the day in the late 1970s when all 87,000 five-year-olds in the state hopefully will be included in the kindergarten system.

He asked for $44 million for occupation education programs in grades one through 12.

Other requests he outlined include:

—$26 million for hiring additional teachers.

—$6.8 million for purchasing additional instructional material.

—$700,000 to provide supplements to assistant principals in the state. The supplements would be approximately $660 for the first year of the biennium and $840 for the second.

—$13.4 million more for operational costs, including $6.6 million to start a dual system of bus transportation. The second system would serve elementary pupils who now have to double up on bus use with other pupils.

—$400,000 to expand the duca-tion television system.

—$13.8 million for increased clerical, food service and custodial cost.

—$9 million for research and development and management improvements in the Department of Public Instruction.

Report New Flu Vaccine

PARIS (AP)—The Pasteur Institute says it has developed a vaccine against all types of influenza that are expected to develop in the next five years.

Prof. Claude Hannoun, head of the institute's ecology unit, said Tuesday that previous flu vaccines have been developed only after each new type of virus appeared. But by transforming the virus into all the forms it is expected to take between now and 1978, he said the institute's doctors formulated a vaccine against all of them.

Hannoun said the vaccine also is effective against the types of flu that developed from the 1969 "Hong Kong" virus. He said the vaccine is in production and will become available generally as soon as the government approves.

The vaccine resulted from a process in which forms of flu virus yet to come were artificially created in the laboratory, Hannoun said.

Hannoun explained that flu virus undergoes a basic change about once every 10 years. Within this 10-year span, it undergoes variations, that regularly defeat existing flu vaccines.

The Pasteur Institute took the basic 1969 Hong Kong strain of virus, fought it with antibodies that forced it to undergo variations, and isolated the ultimate stage of variation.

Ulster Tied Up

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A 24-hour general strike, called as a show of Protestant muscle and enforced by threats, paralyzed Northern Ireland today.

Labor sources claimed only 100,000 of the province's 600,000 work force reported for work.

The stoppage caused widespread power blackouts, disrupted transport, closed factories, newspapers and shops and hit milk and bread supplies.

The strike was originally planned to protest the detention of two Protestants after a Belfast grenade attack on a busload of Roman Catholics. But its aim widened to include a demand for the restoration of the provincial Parliament suspended last March when Britain imposed direct rule.

Militants claimed the stoppage was a warning to the British government not to handle the majority Protestant community roughly in the search for a settlement to Northern Ireland's nationalist and sectarian strife.

Thousands of workers said they had been intimidated into observing the strike.

Pickets were on duty outside major factories.

Proposed Amending Of Town Charter Tabled By Farmville Board

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

FARMVILLE — The Farmville Board tabled last night a proposed amendment to the town charter which would have made it necessary for any leasing, selling, or giving away of parkland to be approved by a two-thirds vote of the citizenry. The proposed amendment was drawn up by Town Attorney Jack Lewis at the request of the Board. Parkland was defined as "any real property owned by the Town of Farmville which has been in the last five years or is now used or has been dedicated to the recreation, relaxation, or enjoyment of the people of the Town of Farmville as a park." It would have stipulated that three months' notice be given the election and that the description of the property, the grantees, the amount to be paid, and the use to which the property would be put. According to the League of Municipalities, the amendment would have been the first of its kind in the state, Lewis said.

Confusion Over Release Timing

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A senior U.S. official said today the United States is planning to receive 20 to 40 American prisoners of war from jungle camps along the Cambodian border north of Saigon on Saturday.

The official, who is a member of the U.S. team planning the repatriation of American prisoners, said the first group of prisoners in North Vietnam probably won't be released until the early part of next week, perhaps Sunday or Monday, coinciding with the visit there of U.S. presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

The official said the first prisoners would be released at An Loc, a provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon and 10 miles from the border. He said American helicopters will pick up the men there, fly them to Tan Son Nhut Air Base in Saigon, and they will be transferred to a C9 medical evacuation plane for the 1 hour and 45 minute flight to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines.

Meanwhile, prisoner recovery teams of the four-nation International Commission of Control and Supervision were making plans for their part in the POW releases. Three eight-man teams—two each from Canada, Indonesia, Poland and Hungary—are standing by in Saigon, ready to move out on two hours' notice. They spent the morning at their headquarters at Tan Son Nhut Air Base discussing operational procedures. Twelve members of the Canadian Red Cross were flying to Vietnam today to join representatives of the Polish Red Cross in touring the prison camps. An annex to the Paris cease-fire peace agreement says at least two Red Cross societies will be designated to visit all places where prisoners are held "to contribute to improving the living conditions."

The Board approved Mayor Will Joyner's appointment of Cleve Whately and Robert May as members of the Town Planning Board and George C. Moye to the Board of Directors of the Farmville Housing Authority. It was agreed to investigate the possibility of obtaining the Huffin property next to Bennett Park on South Main Street for additional park land. Purchasing and renovating the Boy Scout Hut for recreational purposes was discussed, but no action was taken. The Board approved Tax Collector W.A. Martin's directing members of the Farmville Police Department and the Pitt County Sheriff Department to serve attachments and foreclosure proceedings on delinquent taxes. Kissinger Is On His Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger headed for Bangkok today on the first leg of an epic Vietnam postwar journey to Hanoi and Peking.

The presidential adviser smiled and waved to reporters, but said nothing, as he boarded an Air Force jetliner at Andrews Air Force Base.

Kissinger got last-minute instructions from President Nixon as he took off at 10:50 am EST on his 11-day mission aimed at ushering in a new era of post-war relations with America's Vietnam adversary.

The presidential assistant, who conferred with Nixon three hours Tuesday, will be proceeding from Bangkok to Vientiane, Laos, on his way to Hanoi.

Crossing Collision Survivor Says 'Everybody In The Bus Screamed'

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (AP) — "Everybody in the bus screamed that the train was coming," a young survivor said in describing the final moments of horror before a freight train rammed into a school bus. Seven were killed, 17 were injured.

stunned this Texas Panhandle community of 7,000 on Tuesday that the Santa Fe freight train was going 58 miles an hour when it slammed into the rear of the bus which was carrying 29 persons.

"The train hit the left rear side of the bus near the wheels and ripped it off," he said.

C.O. Heinrich, a Santa Fe employee, said red signal lights at the rail-highway crossing where the accident occurred were working and that all warning signs were visible.

The driver, Artis Johnson, 68, was among the injured. Most of the dead and the injured were from Fieldton, a small, nearby farming community from which children are bused to the four schools in Littlefield. Jesse Diaz, 15, said he was sitting in the middle of the bus when it stopped at a rail crossing on U.S. 385 just four blocks from the Littlefield business district.

"Then it went on," the boy said. "I saw the train coming in before the bus started after it stopped. Anita Martinez (one of the victims) screamed at Mr. Johnson to stop."

Raul Ortiz, 11, said he saw the train coming. "When the bus stopped, everybody yelled that the train was coming. Everybody yelled and turned. He (the driver) tried to make it across."

Mrs. Jean Patterson, a substitute bus driver who had stopped her vehicle behind Johnson's, said: "He pulled up there and stopped. Then he kept creeping across the tracks and all of a sudden the train came up from behind the depot."

Mrs. Patterson, whose children ride the Littlefield school buses, said she crawled underneath the boxcars when the train stopped.

"At first I thought my own kids were in that bus," she said, "but they had gone in the first one. A little girl was crying and saying, 'That's my brother.' And I could see that the kid was dead."

Anita Martinez was a school dropout who had decided to return to school. There are a few basic differences between the two

Army's Winning Culinary Team Helps Dispel Wartime Cooking Image

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Remember recurring posters that said "Join the Navy and see the world"? Now add "Join the Army and learn to cook." One facet of contemporary recruiting involves a prizewinning culinary team from the Army Quartermaster School at Fort Lee, Va. Its aims include interesting men and women in army careers as chefs—not just for chow line cookery but also fancy fare of the sort served in fine restaurants and hotels.

quartermaster school courses. The salon they took part in was co-sponsored by Washington's Epicurean Club and the Metropolitan Restaurant Association.

Judges were White House chef Henry Haller, Harmon Rusche, owner and head chef of the Greenbriar in West Virginia, and John Seter, master chef for research for a leading supplier of food bases to industry.

The winning entries ranged from Specialist 5 Kevin Haar's gimmicky Cool Chick to classics of French buffet design, including whole fish in aspic and turkey in chaudi-froid sauce. The latter is cold turkey covered with a gelatin glaze containing mayonnaise and usually decorated with fancy cut-outs made from vegetables.

Haar's entry was a baked chicken with vegetable head and hat fishing in a tallow pond filled with carrot and radish fish and turtles suspended in green gelatin.

The "Mulligan Stew" series is presented by the Agricultural Extension Service at N.C. State University in cooperation with the television stations.

"Most people have a World War II and Korean War image of army food," said Col. James T. Moore in a telephone interview. Moore is director of the Subsistence and Food Service Department at the school.

The culinary team helps dispel the wartime image by showing off its skills in cooking contests, such as the recent 8th Salon of Culinary Art in Washington, D.C. They won eight out of 14 prizes in competition with chefs from restaurants and the food service industry.

The team gets lots of questions from observers at such shows, said Moore. Many of the questioners ask about learning chefs' skills in the army.

The team is chosen from among the 100 military instructors who train more than 3,000 service personnel a year at the Army post outside Washington. They learn some cooking techniques from industry, Moore said, but most of their know-how is gained in the

'Mulligan Stew' Program Set For Television

The first 4-H TV "Mulligan Stew" program will be telecast in Pitt County, Feb. 17 at 1:00 p.m. over station WITN, Channel 7.

The program can also be seen on the North Carolina Educational Television Network, Channel 25, Thur., Feb. 8, at 1:00 p.m.

According to Miss Addie R. Gore, home economics extension agent, this will be the first of six 30-minute programs on the wonderful world of food.

The "Mulligan Stew" series features a five-piece kids' rock group and does a takeoff on Mission Impossible when Wilbur Doright brings assignments from "upstairis."

The series is designed for fourth, fifth and sixth graders. Youngsters who would like to "Retired Army men are in demand for such jobs," he said. Like most of his colleagues, he learned to cook in the Army. Three levels of classes are provided for enlisted men and women at the Fort Lee school.

A basic one is for persons who have never cooked before and who want to learn everything about the subject. Another basic course is for non-commissioned officers who want to learn both cookery and management and merchandising of food. The third is an advanced course for non-coms who want to learn management of multiple facilities on an Army post. Moore said the last course also includes demonstrations such as the work entered in culinary arts contests.

"We don't want to compete with industry (in training chefs and managers)," Moore added. "We want to help ourselves and them."

"We would like to get the 500 to 600 students that the Culinary Institute of America has to turn away each year because it hasn't room and others from City College of San Francisco, which has a three year waiting list for its hotel school."

Although the course is open to Wacs, only eight are enrolled now, five in basic and three in the first cooks and dining facility management level.

At least once a month, the post gets a taste of civilian-type banqueting—or what Moore calls "super supper."

It consists of a large buffet meal of elaborately prepared food displayed with ice carvings and candle-lit tables. It's good exercise for students and instructors. Moore said: "We think the soldier deserves this attention."

More Women Are Returning To College Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Increasing numbers of women between 25 and 55 years of age are returning to college to fulfill academic goals.

John W. Kneller, president of Brooklyn College, said that more than 1,500 women in the 25-55 age group are enrolled in that institution to pursue varied higher education courses.

In many instances the women — some of whom have sons and daughters also in college — are working toward a baccalaureate degree while attending day and evening classes.

"Many women, because of early marriage or economic problems, missed the first chance to go to college in their youth. They need, want and seek an education. We are providing that second start. Furthermore, we find that many marriages have been strengthened when a wife goes to college. Even though it is hard work, the fulfillment of education makes for happier people," Dr. Kneller said.

A survey at Brooklyn College shows that the older woman generally does very well in pursuit of academic achievement. Insofar as grades are concerned, returning women score high, often better than their teen-age counterparts.

"To encourage the older woman to return to college, a variety of special programs, individualized counseling and faculty especially interested and experienced in teaching adults is offered," Kneller added.

"A woman coming back at this stage of her life is very serious about her studies, perhaps more so than the young freshman."

One program gives credit toward an academic degree for life experiences. For example, a student who lived with an Indian tribe received credit for several anthropology courses, and a dancer was given credit for physical education.

Cleanliness Yes: Germ Phobia, No

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Cleanliness can be overdone, you know. I once had a neighbor who bathed every morning, noon and night. And after each bath, she washed every garment she had worn. She used so much detergent [to kill the germs] she blocked up the plumbing, so her husband, out of guilt and remorse, actually called the landlord and offered to raise his own rent!

This superclean screwball always carried a bottle of disinfectant and a wash cloth in a plastic bag in her purse in case she touched something "dirty." [Someone once asked her what she did with all her old dirty paper money.]

She also carried a bottle of sweet-smelling cologne with which she literally drenched herself. She became more moderate in its use after a swarming bunch of bees surrounded her, forcing her to run inside for cover.

Now, do you still think women can't bathe enough?

JUST A STINKER

DEAR STINKER: Your neighbor had an abnormal obsession [for phobia] of germs, which is a far cry from my suggestion that every woman should invest about five minutes and a little soap and water to insure freshness and fragrance before intimate contact. [P. S. And the mail from men who said "thank you" in eight different languages for my suggestions—nearly broke my mailman's back!]

DEAR ABBY: I recently read a letter in your column from a woman who asked if she could join Parents Without Partners. She admitted she was married but she said her husband was a rotten father, and if she could meet someone better she would gladly make a quick change. You gave her good advice when you told her she wasn't eligible to join.

That brings up the following problem. I belong to Parents Without Partners, and I keep seeing a man there who I know is married, but he is very deceitful about his marital status. I don't think this is fair, but I don't want to be the one to turn him in, so what do you suggest?

SCHENECTADY

DEAR SCHENECTADY: Tell him he had better discontinue the charade or you will report him. Then do so, if he doesn't drop out. You would be doing the organization a service, and the heel doesn't deserve to be protected.

DEAR ABBY: "Depressed Up North" sounds like my husband. Why is it always the wife's fault if a couple's sex life is unsatisfactory? I admit I let myself get fat and I'm not proud of it.

Magazines are filled with articles telling women to stay slim and attractive if they want to keep their husbands. I have yet to see an article that informs men that women are not exactly turned on at the sight of a 260-lb. mass of flab. Aside from the fact that it's just plain revolting, a physical encounter is more like an endurance contest with a steam roller.

Frankly, I feel frustrated and cheated, too. HE was slim and handsome when we were married.

ALSO DEPRESSED UP NORTH

DEAR ALSO: What are you waiting for? Join Weight Watchers together; you have a lot to lose, and everything to gain!

DEAR ABBY: You seemed to sympathize with the hostess who served venison to a guest, and received an anti-hunting lecture when the guest learned she had been served deer meat.

The hostess claimed, as most hunters do, that hunting is necessary to thin out the over-populated herds. If this is actually the case, wouldn't this duty be far better left to trained government hunters who would eliminate the old and weak as nature intended rather than to kill the biggest and strongest as trophies as most sportsmen do?

The feeble arguments in favor of hunting are mere rationalizations. If there is any animal that needs thinning out because of over-population and doing violence to the world, it is man. Perhaps one day sniping at old drunks in the ghetto will become a wonderful new sport!

Recipe For Yam Quick Bread Is Great

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Of the dozens or so cookbooks on my shelves devoted to making all kinds of breads, only two of these volumes give recipes for baking Yam Quick Bread — the kind made with baking powder and/or baking soda. And these two books are of recent vintage. Bread books before this neglect this delicious and truly American bread, although one of them does suggest recipes for making yam biscuits, yam yeast bread, yam muffins and yam pone.

To rectify this omission, here's a delightful recipe that's quickly and easily put together. This yam loaf cuts well shortly after cooling and is beautifully moist — two attributes that not all quick breads can boast. If you are going to keep it as long as a week, it would probably be best to refrigerate it after a couple of days (because the yam flavor may change slightly unless the bread is kept cold) and then bring the loaf to room temperature before serving. We think you'll be as enthusiastic about this Yam Quick Bread as were our tasters.

YAM QUICK BREAD
 1½ cups unsifted flour
 1½ teaspoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 ¾ teaspoon salt
 ½ teaspoon cinnamon
 ½ teaspoon cloves
 ¾ cup sugar
 1-3rd cup salad (not olive) oil
 2 eggs
 1 cup mashed cooked yams, firmly packed
 3 tablespoons water
 ½ cup finely chopped walnuts
 ¼ cup finely cut pitted dates
 On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and cloves.
 In a medium mixing bowl beat together the sugar and oil until blended. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add mashed yams, a spoonful at a time, beating until smooth. Add flour mixture and water; stir just until dry ingredients are almost moistened. Add walnuts and dates; stir just until dry ingredients are completely moistened.

Turn into a well greased loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean — about 1 hour.

With a small metal spatula loosen edges and turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

Serve warm or cold with butter.
 Note: For the 1 cup mashed yams called for, you will need 2 good-size fresh yams (cooked and peeled) or almost all of the contents of a 16-ounce can of whole yams (drained).

Four hundred recipes are given in the illustrated "Cecily Brownstone's Associated Press Cookbook" available by sending $4.95 (check or money order made payable to "The Associated Press") to this newspaper in care of AP COOKBOOK, Box G4, Teaneck, N.J. 07666

It's a good idea to rinse a serving plate with cold water before unmolding a gelatin salad or dessert onto it. Dry the edges of the serving plate with a paper towel after the unmolding.

A Most Ridiculous Situation

Americans are being told the "energy crisis" is not only coming, but here...now...with us today. At least one major oil firm has set up a rationing of fuel supplies in the northeast. The federal government has lowered its limitations on importing of foreign oil, and agents are even today in overseas offices trying to buy uncommitted supplies for use in the United States.

effect, America's economy and perhaps its survival is being pushed into the very uncertain mercies of Arab governments. The overall picture is ridiculous. Everybody knows there is almost unlimited resources in oil just waiting to be tapped and moved out of Alaska to where it is needed. Everybody knows there is another vast oil resource in deposits of shale (also in North America) only awaiting the magic touch of engineering ingenuity and its movement to refineries and the marketplace.

Has Doubts On 'Professionals'

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — Citizen in-put has served North Carolina well in the legislative process and should be maintained as its cornerstone. Twenty-two years' experience in the system is the basis for that opinion, said Rep. Dwight W. Quinn of Cabarrus.

for it, Quinn is convinced the Speakership should change hands each session.

It makes for better legislation, he explained, when the Speaker can attend to the duties of appointing committees and presiding without having in the back of his mind holding onto the job.

"The speaker should not succeed himself. I feel the same way about the office of governor," Quinn said.

Leadership continuity is one of the innovations discussed in legislative circles. Ramsey has let it be known he is open to another term, and his friends are sounding out support for the idea.

Already sentiment seems strong for the General Assembly to meet again in 1974, breaking the tradition of biennial sessions.

That could be done, Quinn noted, without embracing the annual session concept. "Under the Constitution, we now can adjourn to a date certain rather than sine die," he pointed out.

"I favor a compromise, to this extent. We could adjourn to meet early in 1974 for a very limited time to consider only matters of an emergency nature," he said. An agenda could be fixed by a committee so that items to be taken up would represent some consensus, he said.

In any event, Rep. Quinn said he strongly favors retaining the budget process on a two-year basis. Making up a budget every year, he said, would tie up the time of agency heads in its preparation and subject lawmakers to greater spending pressures.

"Taxpayers would be better off under a biennial budget," he said. Serving on the Advisory Budget Commission gave him an insight into the mechanics, he observed, and convinced him the job is best handled every two years.

As a budget commission member, Quinn participated in its tax reduction recommendations. As a legislator, he said, he will vote with an open mind and without commitment to a specific proposal.

His in-put for the budget commission package was a one-time, 10 per cent income tax credit which would give taxpayers relief without eroding the revenue base, he noted.

Higher education is a major assignment for Quinn this session, as chairman of the House committee dealing with the subject. He had a role in putting together the new structure, and he will guard against any premature tampering with it.

"If we don't give it a chance to work, we're sunk," he said. "Where would we go from here?"

The world has known for decades that nuclear energy was the ultimate answer to power needs...and the United States was and is in the forefront of the development of that energy. Yet, only a very small fraction of power supplied in this country come from nuclear plants.

In view of these simple unadorned facts, we wish with all our might that someone in government or in the business of meeting energy needs would give an equally unadorned explanation of why this country should ever face a "power crisis".

And please, gentlemen, don't use such words as "difficulties", "hamstrung" or "obstructionism" or "costs". You've had a lot of time in which to overcome the impossible...and this problem is not impossible of solution, nor unexpected, nor beyond your grasp.

Projections pointing toward our present plight have been widely known for many years; and because John Doe presumed the powers-that-be would be doing their job, he just shrugged it off.

John Doe isn't so smug now. He has every reason to be impatient, irascible, and maybe even a little bit scared.

GOP Chairman Is Given Push

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — The uniquely lofty role designed for George Bush as the new Republican national chairman was intentionally signalled by No. 1 Republican Richard M. Nixon during his recent closed-door meeting on the budget with the Republican congressional leadership.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the Senate Republican leader, noticed Bush sitting against the wall with the usual assortment of White House flunkies — symbolic of the national chairmanship's decline under President Nixon. Scott whispered to Mr. Nixon.

Turning in his seat, the President summoned Bush and placed him at the cabinet table. A few minutes later when budget talk ended, Mr. Nixon devoted five minutes to praise of Bush.

That went a long way to explain what had stunned the political world in December: Bush, a former congressman and twice — defeated Senate candidate from Texas, leaving his prestigious post as United Nations ambassador to take the no-win job of party chairman.

In his five-minute eulogy, the President explained he had "twisted the arm" of George Bush to persuade him to leave the UN, and he wanted all Republicans leaders to know the following facts:

Bush would have an office in the Executive Office Building near Mr. Nixon's own hideaway there; now that Harry Dent, resident White House patronage and political aide had gone home to Columbia, S. C., to practice law, Bush would be in charge of all strictly political patronage matters, speaking for the White House; finally, "I want you to know that everything of a political nature I am asking him to handle, as well as the national committee."

The vivid contrast between chairman Bush and his predecessors is complete.

The talented outgoing chairman, Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, was privately ridiculed in the White House (his acceptance speech as chairman on Jan. 16, 1971, was written by then Atty. Gen. John Mitchell); his predecessor, Rogers Morton (now Secretary of the Interior), was treated only slightly less cavalierly; his predecessor, nuts-and-bolts expert Ray C. Bliss, was run out of the chairmanship by Mr. Nixon in January 1969.

There are skeptics who feel Bush ultimately must choose between total subservience to the White House palace guard that would undermine his chairmanship or an independence that would make him ineffective.

But the President is making public signs he means what he privately says about strengthening a Bush-led Republican party.

For example, Mr. Nixon himself is playing hangman against Rep. Bog Wilson of California, chairman of the House Republican Campaign Committee since 1961. For party image and candidate recruitment, the President wants him replaced by youth.

Public Forum

To the editor:
Feb. 1 at a meeting of the Democratic Women of Pitt County, the tenets of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment were read. As a group we voted to support the amendment. There was an error in the newspaper account.

We did not approve unanimously. The fact is there was a large vote of opposition. I truly hope that all who oppose this ERA will let our representatives know your wishes. As for me, I think women of our state do not need provisions of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Strength For Today

SEND YOUR ROOTS DOWN
We who live on the North American continent are continually on the move. We do not stay put. The policy of modern industry is to move administrative officials from one part of the country to another. People are constantly packing up and taking off to distant parts, sure that they will find what they are looking for at the end of the rainbow.

This is not all bad. It is an essential part of the industrial and commercial civilization we have created. But it easily becomes bad. Without our realizing it our times tend to make us restless. Recently we encountered a person who had made five changes of jobs and residences within the past five years. Our grandparents, for the most part, died in the homes which their forebears had built fifty or more years before. Sometimes much against his will a man is transferred by his company from on place to another until his family life is disturbed and disrupted. But generally people get into the habit of wandering because they are restless, unsettled, sometimes lazy, or a bit fuzzy in their thinking.

Send your roots down. Your "acres of diamonds" are in your own backyard. We can easily enough wander into the desert of over the precipice. Wandering is good only if it is the working-out of a definite purpose.

Adding Up Peace Costs

WASHINGTON — If all goes well with the peace accords, it will just be a matter of time before the United States sends a team of damage experts to Hanoi to estimate what it will cost to rebuild North Vietnam. The price tag last year was $2.5 billion, but this was before the carpet bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong at Christmas.

I can see the U.S. team of experts arriving at the Hanoi airport and being greeted by Ho Gap, the North Vietnamese Minister for Reconstruction.

The minister says, "Welcome to our humble country. Forgive us for the condition of our airport which unfortunately was destroyed by your excellent and talented Air Force."

"We did all this?" one of the damage experts asks.

"Yes, but please do not apologize. We know the airport you will build us will more than make up for it. What we think we'd like is something on the order of Dulles near Washington, D.C."

Our engineers estimate that with Communist labor it should not cost more than $40 million, give or take $10 million, for what I believe you people refer to as "Overruns."

"Can't we talk about this later?" one of the U.S. damage experts asks us.

"We'd like to go to our hotel and get cleaned up."

ART BUCHWALD

"Of course," the minister replies, "forgive me for thoughtlessness. Please get in the trucks and we will take you there."

"Trucks?"
"Alas," the minister says, "our private automobiles were all destroyed in your protective-reaction strikes of Dec. 15. But we have plans to build a new automobile factory to produce the 4-door 'Ho Chi Minh' with a Wankel engine. We think we can undersell the Japanese in America by $500 a car. Here you can study the plans in your spare time."

The U.S. Damage Control team climbs on board the trucks.

"How far is it into town?" one of the Americans asks.

"Ordinarily, 20 minutes. But, unfortunately, the Bridge of Peace and Conciliation Heartbreak was hit by a 'smart bomb' from one of your B-52s and, therefore, it will take two hours," the minister says.

"I suppose you want us to pay for the bridge, too," a damage control expert says.

"We thought you might build us a tunnel instead. Something like the Lincoln or

"How's the veterinary business these days — going to the dogs?"

HAL BOYLE

"If a cat and a dog in your hospital get in a fight, which side are you on?"

"Hey doc, how about me sleeping in your hospital for a week? I've got the flu, and I can't afford to pay what they charge at a human hospital."

"Yes, our cat is caught up in a tree again and won't climb down. Can you come rescue her? I'd call the Fire Department, but I called them twice last week and we're no longer on speaking terms."

"You don't have to be afraid of Sport, Doc. He only likes to bite the mailman."

"Do you make house calls, doctor? The reason I'm asking is that our cat needs a checkup, but I've never been able to get him to go to an animal hospital since I took him to one as a young kitten and they changed him overnight from a back fence baritone to a living room soprano."

"Why does it cost so much get a cat or dog fixed? Ten years ago I paid less for my kid to get a tonsillectomy."

"Before we leave our Pekinese with your kennels during our trip to Europe, Doctor, I'm afraid that I must ask for your written assurance that you board only purebreds here. Our Peke has been champion of her breed in five different shows."

Stubborn Fight With The IRS

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The merits of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Long's case against the Internal Revenue Service will have to be decided by the courts, but in the meantime he is giving them an irritating, frustrating and costly time of it.

It is only fair, says Long, a Bellevue, Wash., real estate man, because that same technique has become one of the specialties of the IRS and it shouldn't be so. He's out not only to prove his case but to restrain the IRS.

Ever since he and his wife, a 30-year-old graduate student who specializes in analyzing data, were informed by the IRS more than three years ago that they owed an additional $38,144 in taxes, they have been on the trail of the IRS.

"It's all we do," the Longs said in an interview. "It's bad to happen to us today or to you today but it is worse for it to happen to anybody tomorrow." And so they are determined to make a case for themselves and the public.

In pursuit of their goal they have already spent $10,000 of their own money in publicizing the case, in newspaper ads, in research, in trips to Washington, in postage for letters to others "clobbered by the IRS," and in digging information about the IRS from its own files.

Their research in IRS files followed a court ruling in favor of the Longs last September that opened sections of the internal procedures manual to public scrutiny. The Longs had earlier been denied the information.

In their research, the Longs have already revealed IRS procedures and practices that could pose serious future problems, such as:

—In contested cases, the amount on the dollar settled for in different districts varied widely in 1971. How you fare may depend upon where you live. In Newark, N.J., settlements averaged 50 cents on the dollar; in Washington, 24.

—On average, settlements with individuals were for 34 cents on the dollar in 1971 compared to only 27 cents on the dollar for corporations. Long is an outraged man. He claims the IRS as a matter of policy challenges many individual and small business returns, "not because there is a question of them being wrong but simply to obtain additional funds for the IRS."

In doing so, he claims, they use arbitrary interpretations of IRS rules and then attempt to deny the taxpayer access to those rules. They harass, and might even threaten jeopardy assessments, he says. That was so in his case, he adds.

Long, slight and graying at 56, owns, rents or manages duplex houses that were built mostly by his father. To do so, he has set up corporations. As an officer in the corporations, he has for the past 12 years or so been paying himself $600 a month. In addition, he has been deducting such costs as insurance, telephone charges, subscriptions to financial publications and the like.

The IRS viewed two of these corporations as personal holding companies, which are subject to high taxes because they often are used, in the words of an IRS spokesman, "as incorporated pocketbooks," mainly by the wealthy.

Long claims that in restating his tax return as they viewed it, IRS agents reduced his wages to $150 a month and denied him many of his deductions. In addition, he said, they threatened to seize his property if he didn't agree.

Amplification of the details must await a court case, but the basic dispute appears to be Long's decision as head of the corporation to set his own salary and then use it as a deduction on his corporate taxes.

And what about the threat of a jeopardy assessment, or seizure? "The last thing we try to ever do is seize property, levy a bank account or things like that. We do it only as a last resort," IRS said.

ful Rep. Clarence (Bud) Brown of Ohio, Wilson survived a purge attempt last month, but after the congressional fund-raising dinner of May 9, with praise from the White House, he is expected to "resign" in favor of Brown.

If, working in tandem with Bush, Mr. Nixon now means to reverse four years of inattention to party affairs, the shock to party operatives around the country will be profound. They still don't dare believe it.

Bush himself believes it and has moved fast, risking intraparty controversy. During the inauguration weekend, the influential contingent of Southern state chairmen, headed by Clarke Reed of Mississippi, warned Bush that his appointment of a strong advocate of party reform — Rep. William Steiger of Wisconsin — to head a new delegate-reform committee was unacceptable to the conservatives.

In reply, Bush promised that Steiger could not change the party's delegate formula adopted at the 1972 convention and that his appointment would be ideologically balanced.

The most important balancing will be the all but certain replacement of Fred C. Scribner, longtime national committee counsel, by Dent. The Reed-led Southerners have been after Eastern Republican Scribner's scalp ever since his refusal last summer to fight liberal reformers. Furthermore, Bush is leaning toward California national committeewoman Janet Johnson, closely tied to Gov. Ronald Reagan, as party co-chairman.

Hazardous though walking the ideological tightrope between left and right may be for Bush, it is less critical than retaining Mr. Nixon's personal patronage. If the President reverts to form and turns his back on Bush and his obligations as the leader of his party, Bush could go the way of Bliss, Morton and Dole.

USO In Saigon Has Shut Down

SAIGON (AP) — "The USO Is Closed."
The red, white and blue sign on the door spelled the end of an era for the hundreds of thousands of war-weary GIs who wandered inside looking for a hamburger or a friendly face.
After nearly 10 years of trying to provide a bit of America in an unfamiliar land of rice paddies and conical hats, the last USO in South Vietnam posted the notice today.

There was no music, no formal announcement, not even free chili dogs or milkshakes to mark the occasion. Just a few startled civilians and soldiers who came to have a snack, play pool or just hang around for a while.

"I don't believe it," said Sgt. Jack Rains of Miami, Fla. "I got down here after 10 months and it's closed! I guess that's the way things go."

Though all the food and entertainment facilities are closed, USO director Michelle M. Chalfont said the building will be open for information and stateside phone calls until all the American servicemen are out of South Vietnam March 28.
Mrs. Chalfont, whose parents live in Eau Claire, Wis., said the U.S. Command had asked the USO to close "to keep the troops out of the downtown Saigon area," where the two-story club is located.
In recent daily bulletins, the Command has warned that assaults and armed robberies in Saigon are occurring at "an alarming rate." The Command is urging American personnel "to stay out of Saigon unless on official business and not to travel in groups of less than three persons."

A handful of servicemen showed up at the club today, some for its last sightseeing tour of the city and cruise down the Saigon River.
"They told me this was the last day," said Spec. 5 Paul Fulton of Atlantic City, N.J., as he shot a final game of pool before taking off on the cruise.
"That's too bad, because it's a pretty nice place—a lot nicer than the USOs in the states."
"Are we the last patrons?" asked Sgt. Frank C. Wainright of Alexandria, La. "I think it's awful. Well, as they say, 'We'll miss you beaucoup!'"
The first USO in South Vietnam opened in April 1963 in the heart of downtown Saigon. At the height of American involvement in the war, in 1969, between 75,000 and 100,000 servicemen trooped through its doors every month, Mrs. Chalfont said.

Holland tunnels, which we understand work quite well."
"Was that the only bridge destroyed?"
"Oh, dear, I wish it was! According to your own Air Force estimates, you destroyed 3,457 bridges, all of which were listed as military targets."

"But you people don't have that many bridges in all of North Vietnam!"
"That's what we kept telling the U.S. Air Force. But they kept destroying them anyway."

The truck passed a building with only the walls standing.
"What was that?" one of the damage experts asks.
"That was the Anti-Imperialist Shirt and Textile Factory. Your intelligence people kept referring to it as an ammunition dump."

"What's that going to cost us?" one of the Americans asks.
"Well," says the minister, "we thought as long as we have to rebuild the factory, we'd go in for automation and work in synthetic fibers. We believe that with American help we could be producing Arrow-type shirts for the United States in less than three years. I think we put you down for $80 million for a new plant."

"Damn," says one of the damage experts, "we haven't even gotten to the hotel yet and with the bridges they're up to $2 billion."
Finally the truck pulls up in front of the ruins of a dilapidated building with boarded-up windows and sides held up by scaffolding.
"Here we are, gentlemen," the minister says.

"This is the hotel?" one of the damage men asks incredulously.
"This is it," the minister says. "It was hit by a rocket on Christmas Day. As soon as you wash up in the river over there, we'd like to discuss with you our fantastic plans for a new super Kissinger Hilton."

New, Better Blood Test Being Used

The American Red Cross has announced that it is now using a new and more effective testing method to detect the presence of hepatitis B antigen, which has been found to have a close association with transusion hepatitis.

According to the Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Biologies, which licensed the new method in July 1972, the "radioimmunoassay" (RIA) test "is approximately 1000 times more sensitive than existing procedures. The introduction of this technique into general use should more than double the detection of blood, plasma or serum units harboring hepatitis virus."

The B form of hepatitis is a severe and sometimes fatal liver disease which can be transmitted through blood transfusions. Experience has shown that blood given by volunteer donors is much less likely to carry the disease than that of paid donors.

The time schedule for implementation of the new testing method calls for the 25 largest Red Cross regional blood centers, which account for roughly 75 percent of the 3,500,000 units of blood collected annually by the Red Cross, to begin utilization of the test as soon as possible.

Mrs. Ruth Taylor, executive director of the local Red Cross chapter, has announced that the Red Cross office is in a new location, at 313 Cotanche Street. This is next door to the old location. The telephone number remains unchanged.

Convert To Coal-Burner

NORFOLK, Va. — Virginia Electric and Power Company has converted its Reeves Avenue Power Station in downtown Norfolk from No. 2 oil back to coal in view of the current shortage of home heating oil.

Stanley Ragone, Vepco vice president, said the Reeves Avenue facility was designed to burn coal when it was built in 1941. Vepco converted the power station to oil in 1971 in order to meet new air quality standards. Normal oil use at the station is about 1.5 million gallons a month.

Ragone said that Vepco is buying premium quality — low sulfur and low ash — coal in order to minimize environmental effects because of the reconversion.

The Vepco spokesman said that a variance from particulate emission and opacity standards is being sought from the Virginia Air Pollution Control Board for the duration of the oil shortage. "We are hopeful that oil supplies will be sufficiently adequate by May to switch the station back to oil," Ragone said.

Home Trade Show Feb. 21

LUMBERTON — With 90 exhibit spaces already assigned and more to be set up, preparations for the Southeastern Farm and Home Trade Show here February 21-22 are moving ahead on schedule.

The newest in labor-saving equipment for farm and home will be put on view.

A one-man, automatic tobacco harvester is one of the latest devices to be added to the farm machinery display in the Cooperative Warehouse, which shelters other exhibits as big as mobile homes and prefabricated farm buildings.

Sponsors are the Lumberton Rotary Club, Robeson County Agricultural Extension Service and Robeson County Crop Promotion Association, with assistance by the Lumberton Chamber of Commerce, Lumberton Tobacco Board of Trade and exhibitors from several states.

WHAT IS TRASH?

New Adhesives, Techniques In Today's Dentistry

By WILLIAM J. STANFIELD
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The next time your child knocks out a tooth while biting down on a piece of rock-hard candy your dentist might just glue it back in place.

Or instead of drilling deep into a cavity to prepare it for a filling, just flush out the decay, rough up the edges of the cavity a little and fill it with a light-colored adhesive instead of silver or gold, at much less cost.

And to get rid of an ugly stain on a tooth, he could just "paint" over it with a similar adhesive.

The new techniques became possible only in recent years with the development, largely through research in the space industry, of specialized epoxy resins—superglues that will hold virtually anything.

It took nearly 10 years of research by a former space industry scientist, Dr. Henry Lee, to develop an adhesive that would meet the requirements of dentistry—one that was quick-setting in a moist environment (the mouth) at body temperature and also pleasing to look at. Dr. Lee, head of Lee Pharmaceuticals, now is one of the world's foremost authorities on adhesives.

Used The System Method
When the National Institute of Dental Research funded a program 10 years ago to develop adhesives for dentistry, Lee took part and brought a new dimension to the field of dental research.

"The problem was that the field of research in dentistry was inbred," Lee said in an interview. "Dentists learned from dentists. The usual pattern was for a professor to work with several graduate students who did research based on what the field of dentistry has been practicing for 200 years."

"There was no knowledge of other fields such as plastics and adhesives."

"We took the systems approach to dentistry just as an industrial or an aerospace engineer would."

Lee formed his own pharmaceutical company two years ago and soon had an acceptable adhesive filling material on the market. Within the last year he has begun marketing a bonding agent that can hold teeth in place and can be used as an alternative to the more traditional type of bridgework.

The bonding adhesive was demonstrated to an interested but cautious group of dentists late last year at the American Dental Association's annual convention in San Francisco by a Santa Maria, Calif., dentist, Dr. Robert L. Ibsen.

Ibsen had made some 3,000 adhesive restorations—fillings and other repairs—on approximately 1,200 patients with little or no drilling.

Sticky Tooth Measures
But he had never tried to bond a tooth into place until six months ago when one of his patients lost a tooth and didn't have the money to pay for bridgework.

Ibsen cut off the base of the tooth to make it fit the gumline, filled the root canal to prevent decay and, using Lee's bonding adhesive, put the tooth back in the patient's mouth.

The tooth is still in place and since then, Ibsen has bonded teeth—either natural or plastic—into a number of patients' mouths.

Ibsen credits Lee and the development of the new adhesives with making possible what he calls "adhesive restorative dentistry," which includes not only the bonding process but also cavity filling, repairs and the sealing of pits and fissures.

Before adhesives came along, the standard procedure for repairing caries—cavities—was for the dentist to drill deep enough into the inner part of the tooth, the dentin, the part that hurts, to get a firm anchor for a silver or gold filling, because the enamel of the tooth is too fragile to hold a filling.

And for missing teeth, the only acceptable method for adults was permanent bridgework. For children, either the space was left blank or the patient was fitted with a temporary plate until he was old enough to be fitted with permanent bridgework.

"You Can Eat Anything"
One of Ibsen's patients is a 15-year-old girl who had been wearing a single tooth partial for five years and normally could have expected to wear it another three or four years before her teeth were developed, sufficiently for a permanent bridgework.

He bonded in a plastic tooth three months ago. The girl lost the bonded tooth once—when she bit down too hard on a piece of candy. But glueing the tooth back in place took only 20 minutes.

While bonded teeth are not as strong as fixed bridges, Ibsen said they are strong enough for most purposes.

"With normal usage you can eat anything," he said. "It will take normal chewing stresses—even corn on the cob—if you get a good bond. But even if it comes loose in six months or so, we can put it right back in a few minutes."

Ibsen is enthusiastic about the future of adhesives in dentistry but he cautions that bonding teeth into place is still a temporary solution.

"I would not consider it a substitute yet for a metallic fixed bridgework even though it could become one some day."

Ibsen began working with adhesives as fillings and to repair blemishes in teeth several months before he bonded the first tooth in a patient. One of the first uses of adhesives was as a sealant for the pits and fissures of the chewing surfaces of teeth, particularly molars.

The fissures, which are natural, frequently are so small that a dentist can't probe for decay but they can fill with bacteria and become a site for decay.

Flushing and Sealing

Using materials developed by Lee and others, many dentists have for some time been flushing out the pits and fissures and then sealing the chewing surfaces with an adhesive.

The rate of success has been high in some cases. The ADA's Guide to Dental Materials and Devices reports that in one study, there was a 91.5 per cent reduction in caries six months after application of the sealant and an 85.6 per cent reduction after two years. A second study showed an 84.3 per cent reduction but a third study showed no significant reduction.

Ibsen estimates that among his patients, the reduction of caries has been a "minimum of 50 per cent."

"What we're doing is painting on an adhesive material that prevents food from getting down into the pits and fissures," Ibsen said.

From using sealants, Ibsen said, it was only a short step to using adhesives to repair cavities and he has been doing that for a year.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite a tendency to think you can get more done than is actually possible, make sure you move forward to desirable goals in such a manner that others are not inclined to think you are too pushy. Use your present cleverness to forge ahead.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr. 19) Work on personal aims now and make great progress, but keep out of the way of irate higher-ups. Engage in activities that improve relations with friends who are helpful and mean much to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Find the right means that will gain you the favor of higher-ups that you desire very much. An adviser can give you suggestions that are most valuable. Don't take anything for granted, though.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Know what your true personal aims are and go after them in a clever fashion and you get the right results. A fine evening for a party and bringing good friends together. This can bring much goodwill.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) It is best to see a higher-up alone instead of with associates and get the backing you need quickly. You can now obtain the information you need to make the future brighter.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A day for much activity, such as making changes, planning a trip and getting routines out of the way. A new contact can be most helpful to you in the future. Show that you appreciate the assistance.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Aspects are excellent for getting much of that important work ahead of you out of the way quickly, so get busy early. Wise individuals can be most helpful to you. Contact them without delay.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can accomplish more in the business world today than you can at home, so get an early start. Discuss policy matters with associates and iron out all problems nicely. Relax at home tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle all that work ahead of you and be sure to cooperate with fellow workers more than you have in the past. Invest in new appliances that make your work easier and more efficient.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have an opportunity to have a delightful time today, but be certain you don't spoil it by being too extravagant. Try to please friends who accompany you. Show you have poise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) It's better to listen to what kin have to suggest today since your judgment is not as good as usual, and the planets are in their favor. Seek those who can be helpful. Avoid one who bickers.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contacting those persons who are able to assist you to gain your aims more quickly is wise. You are able to obtain the information you need for advancement. Perseverance wins for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can make advances along financial lines now and should pursue such a course instead of wasting time with friends who want to have fun. Make sure you invest wisely and add to what you possess.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she may appear to have a big ego, but since there is much ability in this nature, it would be well to give the finest education possible. Fine success is possible during lifetime and there will be the desire to help others climb the latter of success. Give the right spiritual training early as well as some discipline for best results. Sports are a natural and a must here.

Pitt Countians Attend Program

FAYETTEVILLE — Several Pitt County persons attended a Preventive Dentistry Workshop in Fayetteville Saturday.

Dr. M. W. Aldridge of Greenville presented the philosophy of the preventive concept, to open the day-long program, and told some techniques he uses to help patients see the vitalness of flossing and brushing correctly each day.

Dr. Fred Miller of New Bern explained how he and his partner, Dr. Ken Gibbs, have incorporated the teaching of flossing and brushing into their office routine. He made the point that only a formal program of teaching the technique and having the patient come back to check whether he is practicing it correctly is usually effective.

For many dentists, making such a program a part of a busy practice would mean adding an extra employee, but he showed how it has been profitable in his practice, both financially and in terms of service to the patient.

After lunch in the cafeteria of Johnson Library at Fayetteville Technical Institute, where the workshop was held, those attending broke into four groups. Each person had half his teeth flossed by a teaching dentist, then did the other half himself with a dentist checking to see if it were done correctly. There was then a demonstration of the phase microscope as a tool to show patients bacteria in plaque in their own mouths. Dr. Carle Mason of Wilson told in a final session how his office has incorporated a nutrition program into its practice. He and several other dentists throughout the state have begun to make a planned effort to advise patients on nutrition, urging them to cut out refined carbohydrates (mostly anything with sugar in it) and to eat a balanced diet to prevent dental and other health problems.

Attending the seminar from Greenville were Dr. D. H. Taylor, the State Board of Health dentist now working in the Pitt County Schools; Mrs. Linda Gambill, Dr. Taylor's assistant in his limited private practice; and Mrs. Carol Tyer of The Daily Reflector. From Farmville were Dr. Bert Warren and his dental assistants, Mrs. Catherine Speight and Mrs. Diana Norville.

Hotel Free To POW Families

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The owner of a local hotel says families of prisoners of war arriving at nearby Travis Air Force Base can have free rooms as long as needed.

William H. Bird of Bird and Sons said on Monday he is offering use of the Leamington Hotel because he wants to "do something for the people who fought the war."

"I only have 232 rooms," Bird said. "But they're all available for as long as they want to use them, no strings attached."

Bird, who is involved in construction and air transport in Southeast Asia, said another reason for opening the hotel to POW families is because a company pilot was captured in Laos in 1965.

AID SUBWAY FIRE COMMUTER — Hospital attendant gives subway fire victim oxygen while fire fighters carry him to ambulance after being rescued from South Station, Boston, tunnel late Tuesday. (AP Wirephoto)

One Man Died In Subway Fire

BOSTON (AP) — Hundreds aboard a subway train packed with dinner-hour passengers groped their way to safety through a smoke-filled tunnel after one of the cars caught fire. One man died, scores suffered smoke inhalation.

Boston area hospitals reported treating 94 persons after the blaze sent billows of acrid smoke through Boston's South Street Station at the height of the rush hour Tuesday evening. Fifty were admitted and 14 were placed on the danger list.

Fire Chief George Paul said it appeared the fire started in the braking system underneath the first car of the four-car train just after the train left the boarding platform. The blaze quickly spread to grease and oil on the undercarriage of the car and on the tracks below, he said.

Joseph Kelly, general manager of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, said it appeared that a short circuit might have caused the fire. He said an investigation would be made.

"It was just a small bit of a fire and very smoky. Smoke caused all of the trouble," Paul said. He estimated damage at $7,000.

Lou Goodman of Randolph said he boarded the train at Washington Street, one stop from the point where the fire occurred.

"I said to the driver, 'The train is sparking underneath,' but he said 'everything was all right.' About 100 yards later the train was smoking and burning," Goodman said.

As smoke flooded the tunnel, the passengers fled the cars and started making their way toward fresh air. Firemen and MBTA employees carried some passengers to safety, including a number felled by the smoke.

Goodman said he remembers clambering out of the second car and hearing shouted orders to stay to the left — away from the third, live rail.

"We had to feel our way back to the station platform" — a distance of about 60 yards, he said.

Such items as tractors, combines, plows, cultivators, household articles and other miscellaneous items will be offered for sale.

Ray Oglesby will serve as the auctioneer.

Club members will sell hot dogs, doughnuts, hot coffee, drinks and snacks on the site.

Persons who purchased barbecue tickets for last week's sale will be served barbecue chicken. According to club members, the barbecue purchased for last week's sale was sold although the auction was called off.

State Tax Help At Office Here Every Monday

E. R. Carraway, local revenue collector for the North Carolina Department of Revenue, advises that personnel to assist in the filing of state income and intangibles tax returns will be available on Mondays of each week through April 16.

Carraway said that persons desiring assistance in filing these returns are requested to contact the office which is located on the third floor of the county courthouse, room 303. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

He requested that taxpayers bring with them the pre-addressed forms which were mailed to them from Raleigh. Completed returns should be mailed directly to North Carolina Department of Revenue, Raleigh, N. C., 27611.

Auditions Set By Playhouse

The East Carolina Playhouse will hold auditions for Brendan Behan's contemporary comedy The Hostage on Sunday and Monday from 7:30-10:00 p.m. in McGinnis Auditorium. The play has roles for 11 men and 7 women and will be presented March 28-31.

Set in the current Irish-English conflict, The Hostage often resembles a vaudeville show with its comic exchanges, songs, and slapstick humour. The New York Post critic wrote of the New York premiere, "Brimming with magnificent exuberance, wild, unruly, satirical, mocking... Trobs with vitality and an instinct for dramatic richness."

John Cannon of ECU's Department of Drama and Speech will direct the production.

Dr. Best Speaks To Lenoir Class

Dr. Andrew Best, Greenville physician, spoke this morning to the Sixth Grade at Contentnea Elementary School in Lenoir County on the history of medicine.

The talk by Dr. Best at 8:30 this morning is part of the class' study of medicine.

The physician, a graduate of Adkin High School in Kinston, earned his undergraduate degree at A&T State University in Greensboro. He completed requirements for his medical degree at Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tenn.

He is currently a member of the University Board of Governors.

Hunt School Fire Bodies

PARIS (AP) — Firemen searched the smouldering ruins of a two-year-old school building today, seeking more victims of a flash fire that took at least 18 lives, 15 of them children. Five other persons were missing.

"I don't understand what happened. I didn't notice anything," said a music teacher after the fire Tuesday night. "There was no explosion, no odor and no flames."

The teacher said that he had 13 young children in his evening class when another child opened the door and warned of the fire.

He said he led his class to both stairways in the four-story building but both were blocked by thick smoke. So he led them back to the classroom, broke open the windows and all but two of the children escaped down fire ladders. The teacher said he had no idea what happened to his other two pupils.

A woman living nearby reported: "I saw a little flame at the level of the first floor and I called to my husband...I went back to the window three or four minutes later and the whole floor was in flames. I couldn't watch."

California is the nation's leading producer of 46 different farm crops.

Looks Forward To Returning To Home In Thailand

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Small and trim, with a warm smile that frequently lights her face while she talks in English and colored by her native Thai tongue. Mrs. Kamontip Marikatat admits she'll be glad to get back home. "I have two daughters," she revealed. "Rampaiporn and Monthira." The older is eight, the younger seven. Now on a visit to East Carolina University, the biology teacher and druggist also indicated it would be a happy day to see her husband Theera Marikatat once more. "I departed Thailand in June 1972 for eight months. I have many letters, but I am ready to return."

A native of Songkhla, a port town of 30,000 inhabitants in the long narrow strip of Thailand that sweeps down to join neighboring Malaysia, Mrs. Marikatat teaches at Songkhla Teacher's College. Her husband, who teaches at Songkhla Technical Institute "is a native of northeast Thailand, from the town of Udonthani." She says they met while both were teachers at the technical institute. After eight years there she began teaching at the teacher's college, where she has been for the past seven years. "I am one of three teachers from Thailand on a Fulbright Fellowship," she explained, adding that the 60 teachers on this current tour come from 19 different countries.

"My purpose is to observe ways of teaching, new methods of teaching to use at my school," Mrs. Marikatat uses few visual aids in teaching her biology classes. "We have a high content of textbook work. On this trip I learn much I can use to improve my teaching methods."

The teaching regimen for Thai teachers is probably heavier than their American counterparts. "I teach day classes and night classes," she explained. As chairman of the Science Department at Songkhla Teacher's College, she heads a teaching staff of 17. "Our day classes have 2,000 students, our night classes 2,500. It is a co-ed college, with some few more girls than boys." Other departments at the college include ones in mathematics, English, education, health, music, art, home economics and social studies.

A graduate of both Chulalongkorn University and the University of Medicine in Bangkok, Mrs. Marikatat is also a licensed druggist, a profession she follows on week-ends. "It makes for a busy time for me, every day," she smiled. She admits it would not be possible except for the fact she had a good cook and other household help.

In a land where 96 percent of the people are Buddhist, Mrs. Marikatat says her husband "will go next year for four months to be a monk in a temple, then return to his teaching."

This is a common practice among male Buddhists. "My husband has been before," she smiled. Asked if women in Thailand had objections to this practice as a point of excessive male privileges, Mrs. Marikatat said "No. It is the custom. But,

"it is more the mothers who want their sons to keep this custom than the wives." She pointed out her husband had not objected to her being away eight months for her educational pilgrimage.

New ideas about education are not the only things Mrs. Marikatat has acquired in the U.S. "I have learned to love beefsteak very much," she commented. "When I first came I had a little problem with the food. Then I would eat only chicken. Now I think the beefsteak is much better. I have been busy to learn the ways to cook it."

Naturally, rice as a daily part of her diet is something she misses. "And also our special Thai fruits, some different from what you have here. She named the rambutan, durian, mango, and mangosteen as favorites. "The banana, pineapple and watermelon, which I love, you have here also."

On the subject of Western culture, "It's very well," Mrs. Marikatat tactfully answered, "but I still prefer native Thai music, the dance and theater." She acknowledged that she is one of the Thai women who as a young girl did not learn the graceful, expressive dances for which her country is so famous.

Western dress is her personal preference, and is the style of clothing she wears on most occasions, here or in Thailand. "I only wear the traditional costume on special occasions. The color I like best in this is pink." She named special Buddhist services at the time of the festive Lunar New Year and similar times as one for wearing the colorful Thai silk costumes.

Most of her fellowship work has been at Oregon State University where she spent five months. "For three months I have studied English at Georgetown University in Washington. This (East Carolina University) is the third university where I have studied."

Mrs. Marikatat's tour at ECU has been one of only a few days, for observing teaching methods here. Tomorrow she leaves Greenville, and will return to Washington. Soon, on February 26, she departs the U.S. for the homeward trip to husband, daughters and the routine of teaching two sessions daily.

"I hope so much," she smiled, "to make the return by way of London, Paris and Rome."

MRS. KAMONTIP MARIKATAT . . . will soon return to Thailand where she teaches at Songkhla Teacher's College in Songkhla. On an eight months Fulbright Fellowship grant to the U.S. she has been at ECU for several days observing teaching methods. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Next— Gasoline Shortage This Summer 'Possible'

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation that runs on oil ran short this winter, and might just run short of gasoline this summer.

Shortages already have forced a partial lifting of oil-import limits, and the Nixon administration is known to be considering changes that would lift the lid even higher.

Official explanations of this winter's fuel shortages emphasized increasing oil usage because of cold weather, Midwest grain-drying and a jump in gasoline consumption.

But industry and government spokesmen admit so far more basic problems: practical production limits in the oil fields and a deep stagnation of refinery construction.

The domestic oil industry's reply can't keep up with demand; in 1972 it concentrated on gasoline, and the fuel oil ran short.

Efforts to rebuild the fuel-oil stocks make a gasoline shortage this summer "entirely possible," a major-oil-company spokesman said in a recent interview.

"We may be advertising to get people to increase gasoline mileage, instead of to buy more gasoline," he said.

George A. Lincoln, former director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, noted recently that when the industry let its fuel-oil reserve slide last summer, gasoline prices were higher than fuel-oil prices. Under those circumstances, Lincoln said, "any sensible computer will tell its refiner to make gasoline"

American Petroleum Institute President Frank N. Icard stated, "In order to keep up with the demand, refineries boosted production of gasoline and this delayed a buildup of heating-oil inventories."

By Aug. 1, according to Bureau of Mines statistics, stocks of light oils east of the Rocky Mountains were more than 11 per cent lower than a year earlier.

But that was just what the industry had planned, according to estimates on file with the oil-regulating Texas Railroad Commission.

"We thought we could make it up," said one oil-company spokesman, "and we almost did. We were not too far short."

But some oil deliveries were cut 20 to 30 per cent when cold weather hit. Companies that had reserve supplies became tight-fisted with them, to get through the winter.

Low-priority customers whose natural gas was cut off found it difficult to buy oil as a substitute. Oil suppliers accustomed to purchasing stocks on the open market saw that market dry up.

On Jan. 17, the Nixon administration moved to get more oil from abroad, lifting controls on imports of light heating oil and increasing general import quotas for the rest of 1973.

One company spokesman said in an interview, "We have been running some refineries slightly above their rated capacity and things are getting a lot better now. What we ought to be looking forward to, is what do we do next year?"

Government and industry spokesmen say domestic oil fields are producing at maximum efficiency and cannot be pumped faster without ruining future productivity.

Development of a huge new oil field in Alaska is blocked by an environmental lawsuit, and oil exploration off the untouched Atlantic coast is stalled by a state-federal dispute over jurisdiction.

Pressing for permits and tax incentives to increase exploration and development, the API has conducted a massive publicity campaign for more than a year, on the slogan "The nation that runs on oil can't afford to run short."

"The problem today is primarily due to the fact that we have a shortage of refinery capacity," said one API specialist.

As late as 1961, government figures show, domestic refineries could handle all U.S. demand for petroleum products. Ten years later, demand was 16 per cent higher than domestic refinery capacity.

A summary last December by the Interior Department's Office of Oil and Gas showed only one new refinery due for completion in 1973 in the eastern United States, none expected in 1974, none in 1975.

Nine proposed refineries were listed as "uncertain" projects because of environmental or economic problems.

Why this stagnation? Uncertainty over federal import policies, the Alaska pipeline and offshore oil exploration are often cited, but an API economist suggested a novel reason: uncertainty whether the unusual new Wankel rotary automobile engine would gain wide acceptance with U.S. auto-buyers.

"There is uncertainty over future gasoline specifications," said this source. "The Wankel engine can run on 87-octane gasoline, and refineries are not very flexible in their production. You don't turn out a full range."

Today's American cars generally require at least 90-or-92-octane fuel. If U.S. refineries cannot handle the growing demand for oil and gasoline, even increased imports of crude oil won't help, and the nation may have to import more finished products—if it can get them

Sale Of Silver Dollars A Flop

By JANET STAIHAR
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Remember those uncirculated Carson City silver dollars the federal government was trying to peddle as collectors' items? Most of them are still uncirculated.

The "Great Silver Dollar Sale" really wasn't.

Only 700,000 cartwheels were sold. That leaves about 1.6 million still on the auction block.

So to get rid of the unsold silver dollars, the General Services Administration, which is handling the sale, will reopen bids for 90 days, beginning Feb. 15.

The rules will be the same: A minimum bid of $30 on each 1882, 1883 or 1884 silver dollar—one coin per customer from each of those years. If a bidder got one in the previous bidding, he is ineligible for more coins in the year he has.

Despite the lack of bidders, Richard Q. Vawter, GSA public information director, said the Great Silver Dollar Sale was not a bust. "We were very happy about it," he said. "We have 700,000 people who have coins and we think these people are going to be salesmen for us."

When the auction was announced, officials said they expected the average bid would be around $40 a coin. But since the coins were not sold out, each went for $30.

Vawter said one person bid $1,000 for each of the three coins. He got back $2,910.

But what may have taken the edge off the sale were complaints from coin dealers of "governmental hucksterism." Many dealers and coin magazines claimed a flood of Carson City silver dollars would devalue the coins as investments.

The dollars from the Comstock silver lode in Nevada were salted away and forgotten for over 60 years in the musty cellar of the Treasury Building. A GSA audit in 1964 led to the discovery of the money.

Morgan For Crime Bill

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan says he will support the no-knock search and the wiretap provisions in a 185-page bill revising the state criminal code.

Morgan has been a long-time foe of no-knock and wiretapping. But he said Tuesday night that these sections are drawn so carefully in the bill that he can live with them to get the entire package.

He made the disclosure in an interview after a speech to the Winston Salem Estate Planning Council.

The criminal-code bill has been drafted by a commission appointed by the 1969 General Assembly. It would allow electric surveillance in an investigation of organized crime or of official corruption. The privilege to wiretap would be granted only to the attorney general with approval by a Superior Court judge, or to a district solicitor with approval of the attorney general and a judge. Approval would be for up to 30 days, with 15-day extensions allowed.

Morgan said that he would give all possible support to passage of the bill.

Farmville Bd. . .

They have had complaints of disturbance, damage to property, endangerment of children, and the like. Heretofore, about the only thing the police could do was "punish the dog," Chief Carl Tanner said. The Board agreed his department needs the authority to deal with the dog owners. It was also made against the law for dogs to run at large.

The Board agreed to set a public hearing for the rezoning of property on Highway 264 West for use as a subdivision to be known as Marlboro Forest. A corporation known as Marlboro, Inc. and made of local people has been formed. The Board considered a request for electrical, water, and sewer services to the development that would contain approximately 25 homes. No action was taken.

Street Department director E.P. Freuler was appointed to act as Farmville's representative at the Pitt County Planning Board meeting to discuss a countywide landfill.

A committee was appointed to approve this year's Christmas decorations for the town.

The town's mobile home ordinance—whether parks should be larger and the homes further apart—was discussed.

Town Administrator Martin and Town Attorney Jack Lewis were asked to attend an election seminar in Wilmington Feb. 9.

J.A. Joyner of Joyner's Mortuary on Wallace Street was granted two No Parking places in front of his funeral home.

The Commissioners decided they need more information about what is intended before they consider a request from the Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District for funds for preparing a special soil report of the Farmville area.

A motion was made authorizing engineers Rose, Pridden, and Freeman to continue with their schedule for the town's new sewage disposal system.

Attorney Lewis read a resolution for a bond issue for new water lines that will be coming up in the near future.

It was agreed to have Town Engineer Jack McDavid fix a map designating proposed extensions of the city limits and to discuss it in a call meeting at the same time the Commissioners discuss revenue sharing requests of the town departments.

Water and Light Department director J.A. "Bud" Wooten told of the need to lower two wells and to extend sewer lines across the 264 Bypass. He also told of considerable trouble recently with the breaking of street lights and electric meters with air rifle shot. The police department is investigating, he said.

Mayor Joyner signed a proclamation that Feb. 17 will be Rescue Squad Day in Farmville. This is the day the Farmville Rescue Squad is to dedicate a new building.

The teeth of a snake point inward to prevent prey from escaping.

'Refresher' For Drivers

A drivers license refresher course is being sponsored by the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. beginning Thursday.

According to Bobby Congleton, driver education representative with the DMV, the four-hour course, is designed to help drivers who will be renewing their licenses become better acquainted with motor vehicle laws and good driving practices and changes in laws that have been made over the past several years.

The second session of the two-part refresher course will be held February 15 from 7 to 9 p.m. The two class sessions will be held at Highway Patrol Troop A headquarters at the intersection of Fifth and Tenth Streets in Greenville.

The sessions are opened to the public at no charge, Congleton emphasized.

State Offering $5,000 Reward

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Jim Holshouser offered a $5,000 reward Tuesday for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for a triple murder in Raleigh last month.

Grover Broadwell, Michael Collins, and Della Murray were found dead of suffocation and strangulation in an apartment Jan. 15.

Fred Morrison, the governor's legal aide, said the reward was offered following a written request by Raleigh Police Chief Robert Goodwin.

River Level Is Up And Rising

The Tar River level was reported at 11.7 feet this morning and rising, according to the Greenville Utilities Commission weather station.

The high river level is a result of heavy rainfall in Eastern North Carolina over the past week.

A total of .11 of an inch of rainfall was recorded in the Greenville area yesterday.

The high temperature for the 24-hour period ending this morning at 8 a.m. was 65 degrees while the low for that same period was 39 degrees. The temperature this morning at 8 a.m. was 42 degrees.

Kinston Gains 60-44 Win Over Rampants

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

Kinston High School Vikings, playing not much better than the hapless Rose High Rampants, managed to gain a 60-44 victory last night and moved closer to clinching the Division II regular season championship.

The Rampants, plagued by their inability to handle the ball, made countless turnovers against the quicker Vikings, and they also were not much better on the boards, as Kinston hauled in the majority of the missed shots.

That allowed the Vikings to get off more shots and the basket, and even when they shot poorly, they still were able to hold off the Rampants.

Rose wasn't able to hit from the outside, and when they were able to get the ball inside, the Kinston defense collapsed around the ball, and the Rampants still were forced to take too many poor percentage shots.

Kinston, meanwhile, after shooting out to a 12-point lead, seemed to fall into the Rampant beat and fritter away chances. The lead hung right around 12 for over eight minutes in the first and second period, then stalled at 18 in the second half for a long period of time.

And it wasn't so much because of what the Rampants were doing as it was what the Vikings were not hitting the basket.

Reggie Jones put Kinston into the lead just seconds into the game, and Chris Thompson hit a jumper to run it out to 4-0. Colin McDuffie added another Kinston basket before Phil Ragazzo hit from the baseline to put the Rampants on the scoreboard.

From the 6-2 lead, however, the Vikings ran their lead out to 11 before the Rampants could hit again. Thompson scored on a steal and Cedric Maxwell hit from the charity stripe. Jones and McDuffie each added field goals for a 13-2 lead with 2:37 left. Ragazzo hit a three-point play to cut it back eight, but baskets by Jones and Thompson quickly ran it back to 12, 17-5. The two teams each hit one basket the rest of the quarter to make it 91-7 at the horn.

After an exchange of baskets to open the second period, Al Hunter hit and Ragazzo followed with a baseline jumper to trim the lead to eight, 21-13 with 5:06 to go.

Kinston came back with a free throw by Maxwell and baskets by Demetrius Beltont and Maxwell to run the lead out to 13. Maxwell added another free throw with 2:59 showing to give Kinston its biggest lead of the half, 14 at 27-13.

Rose had the opportunity to trim it below 12 on several occasions, and Kinston had the chance to blow it over 14, but neither could shake the other, and it ended up the same 14-point margin at halftime, 31-71.

The Vikings hit the first two baskets of the second half and upped their lead to 18 points. McDuffie and Ted Pattison got the two baskets and it was 35-17 with 7:31 to go.

Then, for the next five minutes, the two exchanged baskets until a jumper by Jones finally made it 45-35 with 2:44 left in the quarter. After Hunter made a free throw, James King's jumper ran the lead out to 21, 47-26, the biggest Viking lead of the night.

Rose came back with a short jumper by Herb Bynum and a three-point play by Jackie Savage to cut the lead to 16, but a drive by Jones put it back to 18, 49-31, as the period ended.

Kinston got the lead back as high as 21 on a three-point play by King, but Rose was able to trim it back to as little as 14 with 1:51 left to go, 57-43, but there just wasn't enough time left for the Rampants to really draw close.

Kinston's effort was led by Jones with 18 points, while Hunter had 15 to pace Rose. They were the only ones to hit double figures in the game.

The Vikings are now 7-1 in league play, while the Rampants are 0-8.

In the junior varsity preliminary, Kinston also gained a victory, 70-55.

The Rampant Cubs gained the early lead, and held a slim 14-12 margin after a tight first half. But in the second period, Kinston began to get control of the game and finally outthit the Rampants, 24-15 during the frame. That put Kinston into a 36-29 lead at intermission.

During the third periods, the Baby Vikings continued to pull away from the Cubs, outshelling the 20-13, to up their lead to 56-42. They coasted through the final period with a 14-13 edge to wrap it up.

James Freeman led Kinston with 15, while Martin Dale had 14. Rose was led by William Taylor with 22, while Ronnie Barrett added 10.

Rose plays host to Washington Tuesday and Goldsboro on Friday.

Greene Central Drops Jaguars

SNOW HILL — Greene Central held onto its share of first place in the Eastern Carolina conference with a 67-47 victory over Farmville Central last night. But the Ewes bowed to the Lady Jaguars and that insured them of a last place finish, 50-37.

Greene Central's boys are now 13-4 in the league with one game left. The Jaguars are 5-12. In the girls' standings, Farmville is 3-13 and Greene Central, 1-16.

In the opener, Farmville inched out into an 8-7 lead in the first period of play. They came back with a 14-6 advantage in the second quarter and built up a 22-13 halftime lead.

During the third quarter, the Ewes tried to get a rally going, but could only come up with a 12-11 advantage, cutting the lead to 33-25. Farmville then finished them off with a 17-12 final period.

Linda Anderson led Farmville with 14 points, while Jackie McLawhorn was high for Greene with 12.

The Rams however, gained the lead in the first period, although they had to struggle to do it. They finally opened up a 10-8 lead at the horn. By the end of the second stanza, however, they had posted 21 more points, while the Jaguars had had to settle for 13. That left the Rams ahead, 31-21, at the break.

Farmville tried for a rally in the third quarter, cutting the lead in half as they pumped in 15 points to 10 for the Rams. That trimmed it to 41-36. But Greene ran away in the final period, 26-11, to insure the win and keep their grip on no worse than a quarter-share of first.

Kenny Williams led the Rams with 14, while Ervin Spivey added 10. Phil Lewis paced Farmville with 16, while McCoy Williams has 13.

Chargers Hold To Share Of 1st

DUDLEY — Ayden-Grifton's Chargers held onto their quarter-share of first place in the Eastern Carolina Conference last night with a 49-43 victory over Southern Wayne. And the Chargerettes upset Southern to tie them for second place, 44-40.

The Chargers have one game left during the regular season, traveling to Charles B. Aycock on Friday. Victories by the teams would assure no worse than ties for their positions.

In the girls' game, Ayden-Grifton edged out into a 12-9 lead in the first period. The two teams swapped points in the second quarter, each hitting nine. That left the Chargerettes ahead at halftime, 21-18.

Southern Wayne put on a rally in the third quarter, dumping in 16 points while Ayden-Grifton got 12. That eased the Saintes into a 34-33 lead as the final frame opened. But Ayden-Grifton came back to outthit them 11-6, and push back ahead to win it.

Decia Little and Nancy Sugg led Ayden-Grifton with 11 points each, while Maude Babington added 10. Terry Bryant had 18 and Jaxie Bryant had 13 for Southern.

In the boys' game, the Chargers had their hands full with the last place team. The Saints wound up ahead at the first horn, holding a 10-9 advantage. Ayden-Grifton came back to outthit them, 13-11, in the second period, but could manage only a 22-21 lead at the half.

In the third quarter, the two teams traded baskets, both hitting 12 points to carry the score out to 34-33. But in the final period, the Chargers were finally able to open a little daylight, outshooting Southern, 15-10, to win it.

Willie Stewart led Ayden-Grifton with 17 points, while Milton Brown had 15 and Jesse Brown had 12. James Murray had 15 and Larry Pearsall had 14 for Southern Wayne.

Bucs Host Richmond

East Carolina and Richmond battle tonight in Minges Coliseum at 8 p.m., and a victory for the Pirates could move them into sole possession of third place in the league.

The Bucs, currently 5-5 in Southern Conference play, could move out of a tie with The Citadel, 4-1, by stopping the Spiders, who come in with a 4-6 mark.

The Citadel, alone in third place until last night, dropped an 83-74 decision to William & Mary. In other league action, Davidson ripped VMI, 105-88.

To gain the victory, however, the Bucs will have to find some way to stop Aaron Stewart, and the Southern's leading scorer, and his teammates.

There is no junior varsity preliminary.

Pant-HERS Get Title; Conley Holds Tie

By CHIP LAMBETH
 Reflector Sports Writer
HOLLYWOOD — D.H. Conley moved a step closer to a possible four-way tie for first place in the Eastern Carolina Conference last night as they blasted the Panthers of North Pitt, 64-39.

North Pitt was able to swallow the loss a little easier knowing that with their girls' 54-25 rout of the Valkyries, the Pant-HERS had won their second straight conference title.

The Conley girls gave the Big Orange a run for it in the first quarter as the lead was never in control of the Pant-HERS until almost two minutes were left in the first period. Two steals that led to buckets by Phyllis Jenkins gave them the boost they needed to send them on their way.

Wanda Whichard broke the ice to put the Pant-HERS on the boards first as she scored from the corner. Linda Loyd lofted a high shot that carressed the nets for the first Conley points and to tie it at 2-2.

Whichard hit again from her corner and Loyd did likewise at the opposite end of the court for a 4-4 score with 6:35 to go in the frame. Minnie Hillis scored from the lane giving the Big Orange the lead again but it was matched by a jumper by Annel Worthington. Then Jenkins made her move and swiped the ball resulting in a lay-up. A few seconds later she did it again and the basket she scored on that one put the North Pitt girls in

 North Pitt reeled off eight points in the first two minutes of the second period to go out by 18-6. Free throws by Linda James and Joy James and a basket by Whichard boosted the Big O to a 22-6 lead before the Valkyries had even scratched in the frame. Worthington kept the Conley girls from being shut out in the period as she made a four point play but it did little to affect the score.

The Pant-HERS rolled up 18 more points in the third quarter while Conley could only find three. Conley took the last quarter, however, 11-8, but North Pitt had it wrapped up.

Hollis and Whichard led the defending State Champs with 14 points each. Jenkins added 10.

The Viking boys had more on their hands than the score implies. It was not until Mike Sutton copped a lay-up with three seconds left in the first quarter did the Vikings get the lead. Although the Panthers never got the lead, they tied it up three times in the period.

North Pitt hung close to Conley through the second period until the Vikings' two big men, Larry Daniels and Kervin Hawkins, began to clear the boards and tap in shots to give the Vikings the points they needed to open the game up. Daniels' base line jumper with 4:46 left in the half was the first of five field goals by Conley and a free shot that spread the scores out and gave the Vikings a lead they constantly built up.

The Panthers scored first on a Carlton Hardy corner jumper. Baskets by Daniels and Sutton put the Vikings ahead, 4-2, but Billy Perkins hit a field goal to tie it at 4-4.

Hawkins sank a jumper from the lane to put Conley back in front only to have Hardy slip one through from the top of the circle to knot the score at 6-6. Sutton copped a long blast from outside putting the Vikes back on top. David Brown, however, countered with a swish at the corner, 8-8, with 3:35 to go in the period.

Daniels and Hawkins combined scores to give the Vikings a four-point gap, 12-8. The Panthers fought back on two buckets by Brown and one by Phillip Brown squeezed around one by Conley's Sutton to pull back into a tie at 14-14. With just :03 on the clock Sutton took an inbound pass all the way in for the score that put the Vikings ahead for good, 16-14.

Ricky Mobley hit from the lane putting Conley up by four, 18-14 and a pair of charity shots by Buddy Phillips gave them a six-point spread. The Panthers came back on two quick scores by David Brown as he scored from the corner to cut the gap to two, 20-18. That was the last Panther score for the next three minutes. Daniels boomed one in from the lane to start the fire. Clennel Streeter added the kindling with a 25-foot jumper through, 24-18 and Hawkins added the fuel with a tap to make it 26-18.

Daniels made a three-point play for an 11-point spread and Phillips followed with a score from the baseline to give the Vikings their biggest lead yet, 31-18. Ben Johnson hit for North Pitt but it did not stop Conley and the Vikings added three more points before the half ended to lead 34-20.

The Panthers cut it down by two in the third period scoring 10 points to the Vikings' eight. The second quarter fire that gave the Vikings command came alive again in the fourth period and the Vikings poured 22 points through and at one point led by 22.

The Panthers cut that by six as David Brown popped in a pair from the corner and Perkins made a free shot but baskets by Willie Streeter, Orlander Lewis and two by Hawkins erased the points by North Pitt and gave the Vikings their 13 win.

The Vikes played almost errorless ball in the first half, being charged with only three personal fouls. The first string had played the whole game with the exception of a half minute in the third period, until the game was out of reach for the Panthers.

David Brown, hanging in the corner all the game, blasted through nine field goals from that spot and added four free shots for 22 points. Hawkins paced the Vikings with 18, Daniels had 15 and Sutton scored 10.

Eastern Carolina Mat Title Is Up For Grabs

HOLLYWOOD — The second annual Eastern Carolina Conference wrestling tournament will be held Thursday at D.H. Conley High School with three teams picked to battle for the league's title.

Defending champion Conley will be after its second title, but the Vikings are expected to get stiff competition from Farmville Central and North Pitt.

Also joining in the competition will be Ayden-Griffon and Southern Wayne. The other five members of the 10-team league have not fielded wrestling teams as yet.

Competition in the tournament will get underway at 11 a.m., with preliminary matches. Weigh-ins will be held from 8 to 10 a.m., with the seedings set from 10 to 11 a.m.

Semifinals will be held at 1 p.m., with the consolation getting underway at 6 p.m. The championship matches are scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded each individual champion in each weight class, and the winning and runner-up teams. A trophy will also be awarded to the meet's Outstanding Wrestler.

"The team title looks to be a three-way battle," Conley coach

Steve Morgan said. He feels his defending champs have a good shot at the title, but at the same time he warns that both Farmville Central and North Pitt could easily upset the Vikings.

Morgan gave a rundown of the top contenders in each classification.

In the 98-pound class, Ronald House of Farmville Central, third last year in another class, is favored. Conley's Eric Moore is expected to give him his toughest competition.

At 105, North Pitt's Wesley Manning, runner-up last year, and Farmville's Tony Jordan are rated the two to beat and either of them could be called the favorite.

David Brown of North Pitt comes in unbeaten in league competition and is the 112-pound favorite. Clarence Swinson might be the top challenger to Brown, runner-up last year.

Defending champion Linwood Brown of North Pitt is the man to beat at 119. Frank Swinson of Conley or Keith Oakley of Farmville Central could be his top competition.

At 126 is Farmville Central's Bobby Locust. Kyle Edwards of Conley or North Pitt's Ronnie Howell, the defending champion, could come in here, however.

Wayne Maness of Conley is the defending champ at 132 and is favored to win again. Gerald Smith of North Pitt and James Gorham of Farmville Central could challenge.

Another defending champion, Jimmy Swinson of Conley is favored at 138. He'll have to beat out Morris Williams of Farmville Central to win it.

Also defending his crown will be Alton Nicholson at 145. Unbeaten in the league this year, he'll face Johnny Dixon of North Pitt and George Loftin of Southern Wayne in his stiffest battle.

At 155, Billy Justice of Conley returns a champion, and is also unbeaten in the league this year. Skipper Kemp of Southern and Joe Murchison of North Pitt will be his toughest competition.

In the 167-pound class, More Sports

Sterling Moore of Southern Wayne is unbeaten this year and favored to win. James Boone of North Pitt or Stencil Hines of Conley could knock him off, however.

Leaders Get Wins

The two leaders in the Industrial Basketball League each picked up victories last night. State Highway nipped Empire Brush, 52-50, and Wachovia ripped Vermont American, 61-44.

The highwaymen lead the league with a 9-1 record, while Wachovia is 8-1.

In the opener, State Highway eased out into a 26-24 lead after the first half of play. For the next half, the two teams swapped baskets, each scoring 26 points, and that enabled the Highwaymen to just hold off Empire Brush and win.

Bobby Edwards and Preston Mills each scored 10 points to lead State Highway. Curtis Barrett had 15, Edward Coburn had 13 and Doug Nichols had 10 to pace Empire Brush.

In the other game, Wachovia built up a steady lead and held a 30-20 advantage at halftime. They came back to outwit Vermont American, 31-24, to gain the victory and stay close to State Highway.

Bert Stevenson led Wachovia with 18 points, while Bill Baggett had 15 and Spencer Hill had 12. For Vermont American, Connie McGowan had 13 and Richard Hill had 10.

Williamston In Sweep Of Pair

WILLIAMSTON — The Williamston Tigers ripped Murfreesboro for a pair of wins last night. The boys rolled to an 83-70 victory, while the girls came out on the long end of a 59-33 win.

In the girls' game, the Tigerettes had a little trouble getting started, but after they did, there was little doubt as to the outcome. In the first period, Murfreesboro held the lead at the end, 9-8. But after that, Williamston came to life and dumped in 21 points during the second frame. Murfreesboro got only 10, and that put Williamston into a 29-19 halftime lead.

Williamston again outthit their guests, 20-6 in the third quarter, building their lead out to 49-25. They finished it up with 10-8 advantage in the final frame.

Sissy Taylor led Williamston with 18 points, while Bett Brandon added 13. For Murfreesboro, Denise Burke had 15.

In the boys' game, Williamston didn't wait for the second period, but shot away right at the beginning. By the end of the first frame, they held a 20-6 lead, and they outthit Murfreesboro again in the second, 22-16. That pushed the Tigers into a 42-22 lead at the half.

The third quarter saw the Tigers continued to pull away, 22-12, building the margin out to 64-34. The reserves came in to finish off the game, and Murfreesboro managed a 36-19 advantage in the final quarter, but the Tigers were too far ahead to worry.

Dwight Ange led Williamston with 24 points, while Henry Wiggins had 17, Joe Savage had 12 and Ernest Evans had 11. For Murfreesboro, Jackie Vaughn had 21 and Dwelton Sawyer had 17.

The Tigers travel to Scotland Neck for a make-up game on Thursday.

Oakmont Regains Tie For Church

Oakmont Baptist pulled back into a tie with Immanuel Baptist for first place in the Church Basketball League last night with a 45-39 victory over Piney Grove. In the other games, Presbyterian downed Trinity, 59-38, and St. James nipped Grace, 54-52.

Oakmont and Immanuel are now both 8-1 in the league. The losses eliminated Trinity and Grace from any chance at the title.

In the opener, Oakmont built up a 23-18 lead over Piney Grove in the first half of play. In the second half, Oakmont again outshot Piney Grove, 22-21, to claim the win.

Bob Hall led Oakmont with 15, while Paul Alston had 10. Ricky Langley had 13 and William Nichols had 10 for Piney Grove. Presbyterian had little trouble in the first half, running out to a 28-8 lead over Trinity. They outthit them again in the second, 33-30, to win it.

Larry Graham led Presbyterian with 15 points, while Ron Barnes had 11. For Trinity, John Banks and Jim Adams each had 12.

In the final game of the evening, St. James inched out into a 25-22 lead at halftime. They then held off Grace, which outthit St. James, 30-29, to nearly pull off the comeback.

Mike Board led St. James with 20 points, while Curtis Sutton had 22 and Lewis Hardee had 18 for Grace.

Pirates Can Take Over Third With Victory Over Richmond

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
East Carolina's defending champion Pirates get an unexpected opportunity tonight to take over third place in the Southern Conference basketball standings behind Furman and Davidson.

The Pirates, 5-5 in league play, play host to Richmond's Spiders, 4-6, in the only action involving league teams and must reverse an earlier 84-75 setback at Richmond to climb up in the standings.

William and Mary's Indians gave the Pirates their chance with a surprise 83-74 triumph Tuesday night over The Citadel that dropped the Bulldogs to 4-4 and a tie with East Carolina for third.

In Tuesday night's only other game, Davidson's Wildcats tightened their grip on second place with a 105-88 romp over Virginia Military's Keydets. The victory boosted Davidson to 6-1 in the conference behind Furman's front-running Paladins, 8-1.

By winning, William and Mary added its record to 3-5 and avoided a drop into a tie for the last three spots. VMI, however, fell to 2-6 and a deadlock with Appalachian State for seventh and eighth.

East Carolina's big task tonight is stopping Richmond's Aron Stewart, a 6-foot-5 junior college transfer who Tuesday was named conference player of the week for the third time this season.

Stewart, who became eligible only after Richmond had played and lost its first five games, scored 31 points in the Spiders' earlier victory over East Carolina and has averaged 30.9 points per game in his 12 starts for a healthy lead in the league scoring race. It was William and Mary's "Kiddie Korps" which did in The Citadel with three freshmen and a sophomore in the starring roles.

Freshman Rod Musselman hit a 17-footer that snapped a 56-56 tie with 12½ minutes left to put the Indians ahead for good and also did a standout defensive job the second half on The Citadel's Chuck Cordell, who had 19 of his game-high 29 points before intermission.

Two other freshmen, Mike Arizin with 23 points and Matt Courage with 18, led the William and Mary attack and sophomore Tom Pfingst chipped in with 16. Steve Fisher, The Citadel's top point-maker, was ejected for a flagrant foul after scoring only 12 points.

It wasn't much of a contest at VMI after Davidson overcame a 10-6 deficit by scoring 13 straight points. The Wildcats pushed their lead to 21 points at one stage in the first half, led by 17 at intermission and never let the Keydets get closer than 15.

Sophomore Greg Dunn had 20 points for Davidson. All-Southern junior John Falconi 17 and Mike Sorrentino 15 as the Wildcats shot 59 per cent from the floor. Steve Chapin had 22 points and freshman Curt Reppart 19 for the Keydets.

Robersonville Gals Win Title

ROBERSONVILLE — The Robersonville High School girls' clinched the Martin County Conference title with a victory over Oak City last night, 55-39.

And Oak City set the stage for a possible three-way tie in the boys' standings with a 53-52 squeaker over the Golden Eagles.

The Robersonville girls, now 7-1, in league play with one game left, continued their sway over the league. They ran out to a 19-12 lead in the first period of the game, then slowed down but still held a 10-7 advantage in the second frame. That left the Eaglettes in a 29-19 halftime edge.

Oak City tried for a slight comeback in the third period, with a 14-13 advantage, but they still trailed, 42-33. Robersonville finished off the Trojanettes with a 13-6 last period.

Elaine Forrest led Robersonville with a 25 point spree, while Beth Green added 13. But they had to take a back seat to Sylvia Jones of Oak City, who tossed in a fantastic 34 points in the losing effort.

Oak City's boys, meanwhile, raised their record to 5-2 in the league, tying Jamesville for the top. Robersonville slipped to a 5-3 mark. Should the three teams hit the right combination of wins and losses in the games remaining, each could end up with a 6-3 mark. Jamesville must beat Oak City and Robersonville top Jamesville for it to happen.

Oak City eased out into a 12-10 lead in the first period of the game, but Robersonville came back with a 16-13 advantage in the second frame to gain a 26-25 halftime edge.

But the Trojans roared back during the third period to dump in 16 points, twice as many as the Eagles, and push out into a 41-34 edge. Robersonville came back, however, and finally pushed into a 52-51 lead during the final minute of play.

Then, with 17 seconds left in the game, Russel Cotten hit two free throws to put Oak City back ahead, 53-52. Robersonville got off one more shot in the time remaining, but missed.

Cotten and Billy Green each dumped in 17 points for the Trojans, while Ronald Duggins finished with 12. Ernest Crandall led Robersonville with 18, while Masonic Stokes had 15 and Jeffrey Spruill had 11.

Oak City travels to Jamesville on Thursday, then returns home Friday to close the regular season against Bear Grass. Robersonville entertains Jamesville on Friday.

AYCOCK IN FIFTH WIN
E. B. Aycock Junior High School won its fourth straight game last night, taking a 53-48 victory over Southern Nash Junior High.

The victory evened the Phantom record off at 5-5 with four games left to play. Aycock doubled the score on Southern in the first period, 14-7, but had to struggle against a comeback by their visitors in the second. Southern outthit them, 14-9, and cut the lead to only 23-21 at halftime.

Southern erased that in the third period, outscoring Aycock, 12-10, to know it at 33-33 at the end of the frame. But Aycock came back with a 20-15 advantage in the final period to gain the victory.

Mike Brewington led the Phants with 15 points, while Donnie Shields had 13 and Dennis Walston had 11. Marshon led Southern Nash with 12 points.

Aycock travels to meet the Rocky Mount Blue Devils on Friday.

Duke Looks For Repeat Showing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Duke basketball fans would like to see another performance of the Gary Melchionni Show in tonight's home game against Wake Forest.

Melchionni, a senior, had a career-high 39 points as the Blue Devils upset Maryland 85-81 last Wednesday, also at home. At that time, Maryland was ranked third nationally, but since has fallen to ninth.

In previous years, Melchionni has been frustrated by illness and injuries. But this season he has scored 21 points against second-ranked North Carolina State, and 20 each against North Carolina and Wake Forest in the North Carolina Big Four Tournament. He was named to the all-tournament team for that performance.

Against Maryland he hit on drives and on 10-foot jumpers. He connected on 17 of 25 field goal attempts, and on five of six free throws. Late in the game he scored 10 consecutive points in two minutes and 20 seconds.

Melchionni was named this week's ACC Player of the Week. His 39 points was the best scoring night for a Duke player since All-American Art Heyman hit 40 against North Carolina 10 years ago.

The Wake Forest at Duke game, the only one tonight for Atlantic Coast Conference teams, will be the third this season between the clubs. Duke defeated Wake Forest 80-67 in the Big Four Tournament in Greensboro, but Wake Forest won 83-80 at home in Winston-Salem.

Each team is 9-9 in all games. Duke is 2-4 in the ACC and Wake Forest is 1-4.

Besides Melchionni, Duke's best scorer is Chris Redding, who has an 18.6 average.

Wake Forest is led by Tony Byers, averaging nearly 25 points, and Eddie Payne, around 15 points.

ACC teams played two outsiders Tuesday night and won both games.

Virginia, led by Jim Hobbard's 20 points, outclassed Navy 67-51. And Clemson, getting 20-point performances from Jeff Reisinger and reserve Jive Brown, rolled over Stetson 89-68. Brown started in place of Bud Martin, who was hurt in practice Monday night and did not play.

The records of the teams are Virginia 9-7, Navy 9-9, Clemson 9-9, Stetson 10-8.

West Rallies To Gain 123-111 ABA Star Win

By LARRY KURTZ
Associated Press Writer
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Turnabout is fair play. For the West All-Stars of the American Basketball Association, truer words were never spoken.

Victims of a 45-point East outburst in the final quarter last year, and down by 19 points in the third period Tuesday night, the vengeful West suddenly exploded—leaving the confident East broken, bewildered and beaten.

A partisan crowd of 12,556 screamed with delight as the West smashed its favored foe 39-19 in the fourth period and claimed a 123-111 victory. That squared the six-game series and gave the Westerners a full measure of revenge for the 142-115 humiliation suffered in 1972.

Warren Jabali, Denver's stocky guard, won the most valuable player award—to the dismay of Utah partisans who thought their own Willie Wise deserved it.

Wise led the scorers with 26 points, tallying 12 of 15 unanswered West points that turned a 92-82 deficit into a 97-92 lead over a 3½-minute span reaching into the final period.

But Jabali helped make it possible, feeding others and scoring 11 points in the third period as the West whittled down an East lead that had reached 71-52 soon after the halftime tipoff.

Jabali tied the game at 92 with a three-point play and wound up with 16 points.

"We lost the momentum," sighed East Coach Larry Brown of Carolina.

Winning Coach LaDell Andersen of Utah agreed, saying his team "just kept moving out" once the ball started bouncing the West's way.

A West victory seemed impossible after the East rolled up a 65-52 halftime lead and twice built the margin to 19 in the third period.

Farmville Central and Dwight Bass of Southern Wayne.

Billy Bullock of Farmville Central appears to be the 195-pound favorite, but Kyle Parks of Southern, Bobby Bryant of Conley and John Griggs of North Pitt all could knock him off.

Danny Bass, the 320-pound Southern Wayne heavyweight, is the solid favorite in the class, with his stiffest competition probably coming from 230-pound Eddie McGowan of Conley.

Lakers Gain 11th Straight Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The game belonged to Jim McMillian—but all he and the rest of the Los Angeles Lakers could talk about was the man who wasn't there.

"Playing New York is always a tough match, especially when Walt Frazier's there," McMillian said after pumping in 27 points, six of them in a clutch fourth-quarter drive that carried the Lakers to their 11th successive victory, a 95-90 squeaker over the Knicks.

Frazier wasn't there Tuesday night—not on the court, anyway. The Knicks' scoring leader and playmaker, who injured his right heel last Sunday night in Cleveland, sat on the bench in his flashy street clothes and watched his teammates lose only their second game in 29 at Madison Square Garden this season.

In other NBA action, Cleveland beat Boston 110-105, Houston turned back Philadelphia 123-117, Milwaukee defeated Phoenix 128-111, Chicago clipped Kansas City-Omaha 114-107, Detroit edged Buffalo 107-105, Atlanta topped Baltimore 112-106 and Seattle nipped Portland 118-117. In the American Basketball Association All-Star Game, the West beat the East 123-111.

Without Frazier to keep the team running, the Knicks scored a meager 10 points in the first period, their worst single quarter of the season.

"We had them out of it in the first quarter," said Wilt Chamberlain, who hauled in 24 rebounds and prevented the Knicks from driving to the hoop. "It should have been over then but we didn't take advantage of them. What finally won it for us was that we forced them to shoot out of their still, the Lakers were only able to open a 23-10 lead early in the second period before long-range bombs by Jerry Lucas and Phil Jackson brought New York back within three at 29-26. Then McMillian and Gail Goodrich, who added 24 points to the Los Angeles total, took charge, combining for the next 14 Laker points that mushroomed the margin to 43-31 just before the half ended.

But again the Knicks scrambled back, finally going ahead 68-67 early in the final quarter. The lead bounced back and forth until McMillian clicked with six straight points—on a 10-foot jump shot, a blazing lay-up and a pair of free throws—that put the Lakers ahead to stay at 80-76 with 5:50 to go. Goodrich's well-timed baskets kept New York at bay the rest of the way.

The Celtics, who remained a game ahead of runnerup New York in the Atlantic Division, also played without their key man, injured John Havlicek.

What pulled Cleveland away from Boston was Lenny Wilkens, who ignored a painfully turned left ankle to score 31 points, pull down nine rebounds and hand out 11 assists. The Cavaliers put the game away in the third period when they outscored the Celts 26-11 in one span to take an 89-74 lead into the final quarter.

Philadelphia's sad-sack 76ers suffered through their 17th straight loss which tied the NBA mark for futility. Rudy Tomjanovich did not of the damage for the Rockets, pouring in a career-high 35 points.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 35 points and collected 19 rebounds for Milwaukee but it was Bob Dandridge, with 26, who keyed a second-period burst in which the Bucks outscored Phoenix 17-4 for a 58-37 lead. Charlie Scott had 16 of his 29 points for the Suns in the third period but they never got closer than nine points.

Bob Love, who had scored 49 points against Milwaukee on Sunday, matched that against Kansas City-Omaha. And 38 of them came in the second half when the Bulls, who had led by 25 points, fought off a rally by the Kings.

The second half was the turning point for the Pistons, too, as they wiped out Buffalo's 10-point halftime lead. Dave Bing, Bob Lanier and Curtis Rowe, who teamed for 69 points, got 45 of them in the decisive periods.

The Hawks, clipping Baltimore's Central Division lead to four games, built a 110-94 lead with 4:29 to play, then scored just two more points the rest of the way. But the margin was enough to hold off the Bulls. Lou Hudson's 36 points topped Atlanta.

For-Men-Only Club Now A Dwindling Institution

By ANDREW L. LLUBERES
 United Press International
 If you are male chauvinist, or just a man who likes a quiet corner to eat, drink and talk without the presence of ladies, there still are places in this land where you can be accommodated. But they are diminishing. And soon, they may be no more.
 Remember what happened, for instance, to the Oak Room and McSorley's saloon.
 Those two venerable New York establishments—one an elegant, high-ceilinged restaurant at the Plaza Hotel and the other the last surviving alehouse complete with sawdust-covered floor—yielded to the wave of the future in 1970 when Mayor John V. Lindsay signed an antidiscrimination law for public accommodations.
 The ladies, in these two cases the National Organization of Women (NOW), lost several battles but won the war precisely because these two bastions were public. In fact, women always were welcome in the Oak Room any time after 3 p.m.

 That, sadly or fortunately depending on your point of view, probably will be the scenario for all remaining male-only restaurants and clubs.
 Some still do survive, and if you are willing to wait and have the right "credentials," a survey by United Press International showed that at least the trappings of male sanctity persist in the U.S.A. in 1973. Practically every major city in the country still has at least one private men's club, some have several.
 These havens of red leather chairs, 25-year-old brandy and imported cigars, once primarily the exclusive domain of well-heeled conservative WASP types, slowly have been opening their memberships to Catholics, Jews and blacks, while continuing to bar women. And despite the assaults of women's libbers, for many the greatest immediate threat is not the ladies, surprisingly, but money problems.

Used for Business
 "Today a club is used primarily for the entertainment of business associates who do not belong," said Gurdon F. Flagg, secretary-treasurer of Pittsburgh's Duquesne Club for the past 42 years.
 "But clubs in general will be driven to the wall by the escalation of wages and the prohibition of expense accounts. Memberships (dues) in a club in some cities are very high—$900, $1,000, $1,100, $1,200 a year and some as high as $3,000. Companies can't afford to provide this kind of money. And if you don't have the dues, the establishment is too expensive to operate without a subsidy.

 "What we're seeing here is the start of the deterioration of this kind of facility all over the country. Clubs are going to be driven to open their membership in order to get more people and in doing so they're going to lower their standards."
 "It is a businessman's club," manager Robert Appleton of the Algonquin Club in Boston's Back Bay section told UPI, "but we do not seek publicity." That extended to not permitting photographers.
 The Algonquin has had no encounters with the women's liberation movement and when asked if a businesswoman could join the club on her own, Appleton said, "I don't think it's ever come up." And it is not likely since one must be sponsored by two members to join.
 Across the country in Los Angeles, the California and Jonathan clubs rank as exclusive. Built in 1887 at a reputed cost of $3.25 million, the California maintains quarters in an eight-story building. Marble staircases and ornate Italian chandeliers lend elegance to the 45 rooms and six suites, exercise room, squash court, Turkish bath and gymnasium. The financial giants of the West lunch there and it is said there is no distinction between a member worth $5 million and one worth $20 million. A woman permitted to enter must use a side door and take a special elevator to the second-floor dining room.

 To join the 1,700-member California, one has to pay a $4,000 initiation fee and monthly dues of $60. Even if you can afford it, there is a one-year waiting list.
 The 82-year-old Jonathan, housed in a 13-story building, once was the tallest in its area and members used to avail themselves of the roof for nude sunbathing. That had to be discontinued when sky scrapers afforded secretaries the opportunity for sightseeing. Women are permitted on some floors of the Jonathan, but only for family occasions. Neither the California nor the Jonathan has been troubled by women's liberation.

S.F. Clubs Unchanging
 To the north, San Francisco has a half-dozen exclusive clubs, with the Pacific Union and Bohemian the most prestigious. Neither shows any signs of changing its restrictions against the fair sex.
 Two Gold Rush age clubs, the Pacific and the Union, were merged in 1889 to form the Pacific Union. After the 1906 earthquake and fire destroyed its facilities, the club bought a Nob Hill mansion and refurbished it with Italian Renaissance pieces for $500,000.

 Actress Helen Hayes made history of sorts in 1963 when she became the first woman to enter the Bohemian Club's dining room. The occasion was a luncheon in her honor. The four-story, ivy-covered downtown sanctuary was founded in 1872 by newspapermen—a membership which has long since changed in favor of a business and professional elite—and bought a 240-acre retreat in a redwood grove near Monte Rio on the Russian River six years later. There are an estimated 900 Bohemian Club members—Richard M. Nixon is an honorary—and associate members come from persons in the arts.
 The Metropolitan Club is the only such establishment left in the nation's capital. Club president John M. Lynham said it has about 2,000 members including "roughly" 25 Jews and one black. "Our only discrimination is we don't have women," Lynham said.

 The Metropolitan has such a long waiting list that one Washington news bureau chief, after being on the list for more than six years, asked that his application be dropped as he was retiring.
 Philadelphia's most widely known and prestigious male bastion is the Union League Club, founded in 1862 to "support Lincoln and the federal government." That support apparently has not changed since. According to Flagg of Pittsburgh's Duquesne Club, "the Union League is strictly Republican. If you're not a Republican, you're looked at with disdain although there are Democrats," Flagg said.
 The only birds that can drink by suction are pigeons.

Pre-History
Timetable
Worked Out

CHICAGO (UPI) — If you're wondering what happened before you arrived, scientists have worked out a timetable that covers the high spots of the last half-billion years.

It encompasses the last three eras of earth's history, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, and begins with marine invertebrates from 550 to 570 million years ago.

The first primitive fishes showed up about 70 to 90 million years later and the earliest land plants and animals appeared 45 million years after that, according to fossil evidence. The amphibians came along about 405 million years ago, 75 million years after the fish.

The fish, including sharks, now were beginning to become abundant but it wasn't until about 100 million years later that the first reptiles appeared. Then, about 225 million years ago, came everybody's favorite—the dinosaur. Primitive birds and small mammals came along about 45 million years later, when the dinosaur was at his zenith. The dinosaur lasted only about 95 million years, becoming extinct approximately 130 million years ago. The first placental mammals appeared 65 to 70 million years ago, according to Britannica, about 10 to 15 million years before the rise of flowering plants.

Large browsing mammals made the scene about 38 million years ago and whales and apes appeared 11 million years later. Approximately 17 million years after that, some 10 million years ago, came the large carnivores.

The last item on the timetable—the appearance of early man—has been fixed by the paleontologists at "slightly" more than 2 million years ago.

This accounts for only about 10 per cent of what's been happening, since the earth is estimated to be several billion years old, but you may have to wait awhile for more details on what preceded the marine invertebrates.

During their period, Britannica says, there occurred numerous and varied forms representing full-fledged members of almost every major animal group in the fossil record. But in deposits older than 500 to 570 million years there are almost no animal fossils—just trails and burrows attributed to worms, possible fragments of arthropods and little more.

The major problem — the seemingly abrupt appearance of complex organisms after the earth was, say, 4 billion years old—long has puzzled students of fossils. But the scientific community was heartened a few years ago by the discovery on Victoria Island, Canada, of a clamlike brachiopod fossil in strata more than 720 million years old.

Paleontologists are convinced equally advanced fossils will be found, allowing them to move their timetable backward a few million more years, or even beyond.

See Comeback Of The Horse

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Michigan's horse population will more than double by 1985, increasing to 400,000—about 75 per cent being used for pleasure, predict scientists at Michigan State University's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The remainder will be used for breeding and racing. The reason for the horse boom, say the scientists, is more leisure time, the trend toward suburban living and emphasis on family togetherness.

Could Reverse
Vasectomies

DALLAS (UPI) — Dr. Raymond G. Bunge, an Iowa University Hospital urologist, says vasectomies may be reversed to permit in a safe and "relatively simple" procedure to permit conception.

Bunge told a clinical session at the Southwestern Gynecologic Assembly studies of an estimated 3 million men who have undergone vasectomies indicate the operation is both safe and effective.

Plantings Will Assure Wood Supply

By ELDON BARRETT
TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — The largest single private forest planting effort in history is taking place this winter with plans by Weyerhaeuser Co. to plant more than 100 million seedling trees on its lands in the Pacific Northwest, the South and in Oklahoma.

"The aim," said George Weyerhaeuser, company president, "is to help us make sure America never runs out of wood."

C.W. Bingham, senior vice president of the forest products firm, said the company would plant trees in Arkansas, North Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Oregon, Washington and Oklahoma.

"This massive regeneration effort," Bingham said, "is exemplary of the efforts being made by industry to use fully the productivity of its lands and insure there will always be timber for our use."

"Wood is one major renewable resource and we must not only protect the delicate balance of the forest environment by replacing what we have taken for man's use with new growing young trees, but we also must manage that new growth intensively."

Bingham said about 80 per cent of the seedling would come from six company nurseries while the rest would be purchased from nurseries near the planting areas.

Weyerhaeuser nurseries can produce upwards of 85 million seedlings a year.

The trees are planted in the winter months and early springs because the seedlings are dormant and can be moved with little damage.

Hand Planting Most of the tiny trees will be planted by hand to help insure their survival. Under normal circumstances, one man can plant one acre of about approximately 700 trees a day.

During the 1971-72 planting season the firm placed about 75 million seedlings in the ground and the season before that 65 million were planted.

Of the 100 million to be set out this year, 38 million will be planted in the Douglas fir region of western Washington and western Oregon; 3 million will be put out in the Ponderosa pine region of Southern Oregon and 59 million pine seedlings will be planted in the South.

Seedlings which die before next season will be replaced next year. This procedure will be repeated until the new forest is fully established.

Weyerhaeuser said it was investing about $28 million in the program which it calls the "most intensive forest management program in the world."

Most of the trees planted now can be harvested for lumber, plywood or other uses within 50 years.

Bingham cited statistics which show that more than 200 million tons of wood products are consumed in the United States each year. That's about twice the amount of steel produced in the United States annually. In fact, every American will require the equivalent of one 100-foot tree, or approximately one ton of wood, each year.

81-Year-Old Drops Diving

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Joe Matranga has been in the habit of celebrating his birthdays with a vigorous swim and some high diving. But this year doctors have told the 81-year-old retired painter "to take it easy on his diving."

Last year, he celebrated his 80th birthday with 36 laps and 36 high dives. But last Saturday — the day before his birthday — Matranga woke up in a hospital bed after passing out while taking a shower at the YMCA.

Apparently the hot shower had caused his blood vessels to dilate and the blood suddenly drained from his head, causing him to faint, said Dr. David Ferrara, an intern.

"We were all remarking about how good his condition was," Ferrara said.

But, he added, "We told him to take it easy on his diving."

CLICKETY CAT—When he's not snoozing by the oil stove at the Salem, Oregon freight depot this tiny kitten gets exercise walking nearby railroad tracks. The kitten, apparently abandoned, was found by Burlington Northern employees who now feed and care for the stray. (AP Wirephoto.)

Over 700,000 Tickets Ignored

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Of all the traffic and parking tickets issued by Philadelphia Police last year more than a third went unpaid. Scofflaws, according to a traffic court judge, cost the city $4 million in 1972. Police issued about 2 million violations and more than 700,000 were never heard from again. "They just don't give a damn," the judge said.

Personal Mailings To Vietnam To End

Beginning on March 1, post offices will no longer accept personal letter mail addressed for delivery to military post offices in Vietnam. Carl C. Ulsaker, regional Postmaster General of the South, said he has been requested by the Department of Defense in Washington to announce the embargo on personal mail to American military personnel on duty in that Southeast Asian country. American military personnel in Vietnam, affected by these address changes, have been told to notify their families and friends of new addresses as they become known. In addition to personal letter mail, the Department of Defense advisory also imposes an embargo on airborne parcels, effective Feb. 5. Other types of mail to Vietnam that have already been embargoed by the postal service include second-class mail, third-class mail and surface parcels addressed to Vietnam military post offices. The announcement said that mail for FPO 96626 (fleet post for Navy and Marine personnel may be accepted until further notice. HUMPHREY TO SPEAK RALEIGH (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., will speak here Feb. 13 at the opening of a three-day meeting of the N.C. Electric Membership Corporation.

The 'Worry Clinic' Scrapbook Can Be Education

Howard's boss paid high tuition at Northwestern University to receive the same practical psychology that your newspaper offers you daily via this "Worry Clinic." Become your own "professor" by scrapbooking this column. Index it as per the headings below!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.
 CASE W-520: Howard T., aged 34, invited me to address the sales convention of his state association.
 "Dr. Crane," he said afterwards, "from the rousing ovation our group gave you at the end of your speech, you can realize how well they liked you."
 "But my boss says the folks who live in cities where your column appears, don't realize its value!

member of my "Compliment Club," but his suggestion concerning scrapbooks is already widely adopted.

A survey of Wisconsin doctors showed that 58 percent had their secretaries clip this column every day and scrapbook it.

Thousands of clergymen and school teachers do likewise.

And college coeds routinely tell me their mothers cut out this column and mail it to them at their campus dormitories.

A number of parents have compiled handy textbooks of Applied Psychology by thus scrapbooking this column and classifying the cases annually under these general headings:

- Child Rearing Problems
 - Love Before Marriage
 - Post-Marital Problems
 - Personality Improvement
 - Psychosomatic Medicine
 - Business-Professional Cases
- Each year I thus offer you 52 Child Rearing cases, which amounts to a small textbook on Child Psychology, courtesy of this newspaper.

 You also receive 52 Love Problems facing the unmarried, such as dating dilemmas, dangers of promiscuity, venereal disease, unwed pregnancy, etc.
 The 52 Marital Problems deal with the crises after the wedding, such as the "ghosts" in the boudoir, as described yesterday.
 Another 52 cases show how to carry on easy conversation, win friends, avoid social taboos, such as "B.O.," obesity, etc.
 You also obtain 52 cases on Psychosomatic Medicine, which is a broad term covering the 85 per cent of human ailments that include malingering, neuroses, insomnia, etc.
 The remaining 53 (313 weekdays per year) involve advertising, sales, public speaking, teaching and dozens of other acute dilemmas of those involved in earning a living or zooming their income.
 Be your own "professor," therefor, and don't wait to pay high tuition to a college to make yourself learn the practical psychology contained herein.

 Send for my booklet "How to Improve Memory and Study Efficiently," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.
 (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

IMPROVEMENT SINGAPORE (UPI) — Singapore traffic police booked more than 2,000 vehicles for smoking exhausts from July to September, 1972. This was nearly 630 less than in the corresponding period of 1971.

College-Bound Pick Sciences

The sciences outrank other academic fields of study in the preference of outstanding college-bound high school students, according to data compiled by East Carolina University.

The data is based on surveys of the 144 National Merit Exam semi-finalists and other superior high school students who visited East Carolina University last fall.

The sciences (biology, chemistry, mathematics, geology, physics and psychology) were most numerous among the first choices cited by the students in the survey. The predominance of science continues a trend set several years ago on similar surveys.

The students were campus guests for ECU's annual Scholarship Weekend, held Oct.

Other areas of prime interest were in descending order, professional studies, humanities, fine arts and social sciences.

The single disciplines most preferred by the students were mathematics (31 first, second or third choices), English and journalism (17), political science (14), biology (13), psychology (11), medicine (11) and music (11).

One-third of the vehicles in the world are produced by the United States, says the National Automobile Club.

Stack-Blowing To Test Smoke

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — The Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission blows its stack about three times a year with puffs of black and white smoke.

The commission uses a portable smokstack to test varieties of black and white smoke in its effort to combat air pollution. The tests are used to measure smoke shades to enable pollution control experts determine when the amount of pollution exceeds permissible limits.

hinges on the location of the ace of diamonds. If East holds that card, declarer can establish a trick by leading toward the king.

If West holds the ace of diamonds, however, a diamond play will deal a fatal blow to South's cause. There is one other hope. If the clubs divide evenly, declarer can establish North's long card in that suit for a discard. It might be essential in the process, to keep East out of the lead, and South directed his efforts toward that end.

The jack of spades was led at trick three and when West covered with the queen, the five was played from dummy. A trump was returned, taken by North's jack and the ace of spades was cashed on which South discarded a club.

A club was led to the king and another one back to the ace. A third round of the suit was ruffed with the ten of hearts as both opponents followed, thereby establishing dummy's long card—the eight. A heart to the ace drew the remaining trump and South discarded a diamond on North's long club.

The losses on the deal consisted of two spade tricks and one diamond. By transferring his club loser to the spade suit, declarer prevented East from obtaining the lead to make the fatal diamond shift.
