Lumber River To Crest Today

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP)—Police estimate that between 200 and 250 persons have been evacuated in the Lumberton area of southeastern North Carolina because of flood waters of the Lumber River.

Some are staying with friends or relatives, but most are in Red Cross shelters.

The river was still rising but was expected to crest today. It was at 14.23 feet Wednesday night, five feet above flood stage. A crest of between 14.5 and 15 feet was expected.

Elsewhere in North Carolina, lowland flooding continued on the Cape Fear River from below Fayetteville downstream to Elizabethtown, and on the Neuse River from east of Raleigh down through the Kinston area. The Tar River crested at Rocky Mount just below flood stage on Tuesday. But downstream it was expected to be one foot in flood at Tarboro on Friday and one or two feet in flood at Greenville on Saturday.

Another Sharp Rise In Wholesale Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices soared 2.2 per cent in March, posting for the second month in a row the sharpest climb in 22 years, the government reported today.

The surge in prices, led by a 4.6 per cent jump in the wholesale costs of farm products and processed foods, offered no letup in consumer prices at the retail level for at least the next several months. It also forecast further troubles for President Nixon's efforts to curb inflation.

Industrial commodities shot up 1.2 per cent last month, the steepest rate since January 1951. Wholesale prices of finished manufactured goods jumped 2.1 per cent, a rate unmatched since August 1951, the Labor Department's (Continued on Page 10)

Rountree Cool To Voting On Bonds For Med School

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Rep. Horton Rountree of Pitt County said this morning that he hopes the General Assembly will be able to provide for a medical school at East Carolina University rather than through a statewide bond referendum as proposed by a fellow representative.

Rountree said in Raleigh that the bill Rep. Larry Eagles, D-Edgecombe, says he will introduce authorizing a statewide vote on a $50 million bond issue to finance the medical facility here "was something that was sort of his (Eagles) idea."

"In the past we have been short of money in the General Assembly to establish a medical school," Rountree commented. Eagles, he noted, apparently now feels the "bond issued might be the proper procedure to follow."

"We are more interested in doing something prior to any kind of bond election," Rountree continued. "This might appear to be some sort of delay when in fact we are trying to do something sooner. By his bond referendum he is leaving it up to the governor to call the election and the governor has indicated that he is leaving the matter up to the Board of Governors."

The Pitt representative said that, "We had rather take care of it in the General Assembly," noting that the word is out that there will be some $300 million in surplus money in the biennium.

Most of the money will go to support teacher salary increases and other pay raises, in addition to other needs, Rountree noted, but he added, "We are hoping that there will be enough to withhold for the medical school."

Eagles indicated that he will probably introduce his bill Friday morning. The bill would bypass the Board of Governors, which the legislature created in 1971 and vested with the authority for decisions on the state's 16 universities.

The board has appointed a committee of five consultants to study the issue of whether the state should expand ECU's one-year medical school to a degree granting institution.

Eagles noted, "I don't think the General Assembly or the people need a committee to tell us whether or not we need more physicians and where they should be trained."

Dr. Edwin Monroe, vice chancellor for Health Affairs at ECU, said that he had no comment at this time on the proposed bill.

New Economic Controls Bill Moving Into Arena

WASHINGTON (AP) — Directly challenging President Nixon, the House Banking Committee is recommending that prices, rents and interest rates be turned to levels of Jan. 10, the day before President ended Phase 2 economic controls.

The issue is headed for a House floor fight, probably about April 17.

Nixon wants only an extension of his discretionary control powers, which expire at the end of this month.

Democrats, denouncing the President's Phase 3 program as a failure, want stiff controls. Under the bill approved 21 to 9 by the committee Wednesday night there would be no general exceptions—such as raw food prices—and interest would be brought under mandatory controls for the first time. The president, however, would be allowed to make exceptions to the ceilings to avoid "gross inequities."

Mandatory controls on wages, salaries, dividends and similar payments would be triggered when inflation reached specified levels.

The rent rollback would allow the president to permit increases to the extent that a landlord's costs actually increase.

Other provisions of the bill would exempt wages of $3.50 an hour or less from controls; limit the export of softwood logs and lumber; extend the basic control authority, and establish an office to represent consumer interests, backed by power to take court action.

The committee vote sending the bill to the House floor after an 11-hour session was largely along party lines. It followed a vote rescinding a day-old decision to set food-price limits at the level of May 1, 1972, and other prices and interest at March 16, 1973.

The May 1 food-price level was supported by Republican strategists who said they wanted to produce a bill so drastic it would be rejected by the House.

Sideline

RALEIGH (AP)—Over protests of supporters that they were being made the victims of a parliamentary maneuver, the House Finance Committee packed off to a subcommittee today a bill to remove North Carolina's one cent soft drink tax.

After a lengthy debate the committee voted 29-23 to approve the subcommittee motion made by Rep. Foyle Hightower, D-Anson.

Twenty-Two Business Items Are Awaiting City Council Tonight

Twenty-two items, eight under old business and 14 under new, are on top for the April meeting of the Greenville City Council tonight at 8:00 p.m. at City Hall.

Under new business, three public hearings are scheduled for rezoning—the Dallas McPerson property on East Tenth Street; a portion of Oakmont Professional Plaza on N. C. 43, and the Simon Moye property on N. C. 11.

Also under old business, action on engaging legal counsel for defendants in the suit filed on behalf of the estate of the late Mr. Connie James will be considered. This subject has twice before come before the council.

Other matters to be considered include recommendations by the Municipal Board of Elections and a proposed city policy providing for the defense of employees and officers.

A request for renewal of a mobile home permit by Mrs. P. O. Allen at 107 Church Street will be taken up.

Under new business, the first agenda item deals with contract for architectural services in developing proposed modifications for City Hall and Headquarters Fire Station buildings. A proposal by the Pitt County 4-H Clubs for a Summer Urban Boys Program will be discussed; and consideration of each time ending in non-action.

Equipment will cover four items. Changes in traffic patterns for sections of seven streets will be taken up. These are West Fourth Street; First Street; Evans Street; Latham Street; Holly Street; West Sixth Street; and West Fifth Street.

Consideration of bids will be made for park improvements covering chain link fences and backstops at six ball fields in the city. Two requests for mobile home permits—Oakwood Mobile Homes on U. S. 264 bypass West and ABC Mobile homes on U. S. 264 bypass West; and a request for rezoning Staton Acres Subdivision from unoffensive industry to R-9 are on the agenda.

Five additional requests for rezoning include: Pinegrove Subdivision from RA-20 to R-9; Knox Subdivision from RA-20 to R-15; Red Banks Subdivision from RA-20 to R-15; the Dr. James M. Williamson property from R-6 to Medical Arts and office and Institutional; the old Fire Tower property on Greenville Boulevard from R-15 to highway commercial.

The final two items are about overtime pay in the amount of $537.44 for Fire Department personnel as a result of the February snowstorm; and policy on advertisement of unpaid 1972 property taxes.

Nine High School Juniors Selected For Governor's School

CINDY ALLEN

Nine high school juniors from the Greenville and Pitt County Schools have been selected to attend Governor's School in Winston-Salem this summer.

Each year, several hundred students with outstanding achievement and scholastic records are selected from high schools in North Carolina to attend the Governor's School at the North Carolina School of the Arts.

This year five juniors from Rose High School and two juniors each from North Pitt and D.H. Conley High Schools have recently been notified of their selection for the governor's school. The school will be held June 17 through August 4.

The five girls and four boys selected are: Cindy Carole Allen, Pam Edmondson, Richard Lee Edwards, George Robert Franke, Glendolyn Joy Jones, Carol Sue Ostrow, Milton Earl Tucker, Stanley Marc Walter, and Teresa Elaine Wells.

Miss Allen, the daughter of Mrs. Coleen W. Allen of Greenville, plans to study in the area of social science during the summer.

The Rose High junior is a member of the French Club and was recipient of the French II Award last year, the National Honor Society, VISA yearbook staff for three years (she will serve as editor next year); and Health Careers Club.

Miss Allen was named "most outstanding female student at E.B. Aycock Junior High" during her freshman year. She has studied drama under Stuart Aronson and was chosen to take the National French Exam. She expresses an interest in consumer affairs and children.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Edmondson of Bethel, Miss Edmondson is a member of the Honor Society, Teen Dem Club, Sophomore Council, North Pitt Task Force, the Pitt County Council, Future Homemakers of America, PEP Club, and was named homecoming princess during her freshman year. The North Pitt student served as a pageette in the 1973 session of the General Assembly for Sen. Julian Allsbrook.

A member of the Bethel Baptist Church, Miss Edmondson is active in the Youth Fellowship Program, the Youth Council, and serves as pianist for the Sunday School.

Her field of study at Governor's School will be English.

Edwards, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonnie F. Edwards of Greenville, plans to study social sciences at the summer session. His activities at Rose High include membership in the National Honor Society, Latin Club, Spanish Club, Science Ecology Club, Health Careers Club, Math Club, Mu Alpha Theta national math club and the North Carolina Junior Classical League.

Winner of the North Carolina Junior Classical League's academic Latin contest held in Chapel Hill, Edwards is the author of the Rose High Latin Club constitution. A member of Fatih Pentecostal Holiness Church where he serves as treasurer of his Sunday School class and past secretary-treasurer of the church youth group. Edwards also does volunteer work as a hospital aide at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franke of Rt. 1, Winterville, Franke's school activities at Conley include membership in the Honor Society, co-overall chairman of his English class, president of the Conley Chess Club.

Franke, who plans to study in the area of French, is very active in his church and has won several awards at 4-H camp, including superior camper, swimming awards, and second place in a regatta. He is currently taking karate lessons and piano lessons.

He has served on the annual staff for two years, president of his class for two years, co-captain of the junior varsity football team for one year. He is a member of the Science Club and is currently participating in a National Science Foundation math class outside the regular school hours.

The daughter of Mrs. Johnnie Mae Jones of Bethel, Miss Jones will study math. During her junior year at North Pitt, Miss Jones has served as class president, a member of the Student Government Association, secretary of the Honor Society, and as homecoming princess. Her sophomore activities include serving as secretary of the SIC, a member of the Library Club, the Honor Society, and reporter for the Future Homemakers of America.

Active in her church, Miss Jones has been a member of the church choir, secretary of the Sunday School and a Sunday School teacher.

A 16-year-old junior at Rose High School, Miss Ostrow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ostrow of Greenville. She will be attending Governor's School to study in the area of drama.

Her school activities include serving as assistant editor of the Rose High newspaper, "Rampant Lines," member of the National Honor Society, and the Quill and Scroll.

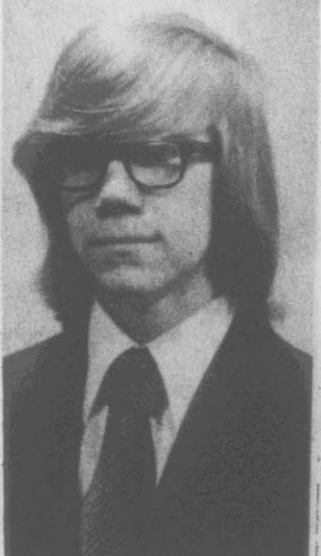

She is presently serving as secretary-treasurer for the Rose High Science Ecology Club. She also holds membership in the (Continued on page 10)

Friedan, Goldberg To Debate Pros And Cons Of Women's Lib

The pros and cons of the Women's Liberation Movement is to be debated on Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. at Wright Auditorium in the final event of the Student Union sponsored Lecture Committee in the 1972-73 Lecture Series.

Betty Friedan, organizer of the first important women's group in America, NOW (The National Organization for Women), will be the pro advocate for Women's Lib with Lucianne Goldberg taking the opposing viewpoint.

Mrs. Friedan, who has been referred to as "the High Priestess" and "Mother Superior" of the Women's Liberation Movement, is the author of the well-known book, The Feminine Mystique. She is also the organizer of the movement that resulted in the August 26, 1970 Women's Strike for Equality, which was a national venture.

The mother of three children, two sons and a daughter, at one time she worked in New York City for a news service and for labor newspapers. In 1970 she and her husband of 20 years, Carl Friedan, were divorced. In 1963 The Feminine Mystique was published with a first printing of 3,000 copies. It has since, however, sold over 60,000 hard-bound copies and about one and a half million paperback versions.

Mrs. Goldberg, who is one of the co-founders with novelist-screenwriter Jeannie Sakol of the Pussycat League, has been quoted as saying that "every woman has the option to lead her life as she sees it. . . . New life styles encourage women to make their own decisions—to marry, stay single, have a career, bear children or not. The choice is theirs."

"Nosy militants," the Pussycat League founders have stated, "do not speak for the millions of married women who find home and motherhood gratifying, nor for the millions of single women who enjoy the challenge of taking care of themselves."

The two co-founders of Pussycat League have also published a successful book, Purr, Baby, Purr.

Mrs. Goldberg is the wife of Sidney Goldberg, Editor of the North American Newspaper Alliance. They are parents of two small sons, Joshua and Jonah.

The topic of their Tuesday debate is The Female Identify Crisis. Admission is by season tickets or individual tickets at $2.00 each, or $1.50 each for groups of 20 or more people. Tickets are now available from the Central Ticket Office.

ECU Will Host State Debaters' Tournament

East Carolina University will host the state's collegiate debate teams this weekend for the annual State Debate Championship Tournament.

The tournament will feature teams from UNC-Chapel Hill, Duke, Wake Forest, Davidson, Lenoir-Rhyne, Pfeiffer, UNC-

Asheville, NCSU, UNC-Greensboro, Appalachian, and ECU.

At last year's tournament at Wake Forest University, the Wake Forest team won the championship, with ECU coming in second.

ECU Debate Coach Nathan

Weevil noted that this year's tournament will probably attract twice as many of the state's collegiate debate teams. The tournament will feature rounds in a varsity division, for experienced debaters, and in the novice division, for first year debaters.

All rounds will take place in the ECU Social Sciences Building, and are free and open to all interested spectators. A guide in the building lobby will be available Friday afternoon and all day Saturday to direct visitors to the various rounds.

The tournament debates will focus on this year's official query:

"Resolved" That federal government should provide a program of comprehensive medical care for all U.S. citizens."

Board Talks Budget Items

GRIFTON — The Grifton Recreation Commission met recently to complete their budget for the coming fiscal year and to plan activities for the summer months.

Major items included in the budget were equipment for the Little League football and baseball teams, Small Fry and Babe Ruth programs, salaries and materials for the summer crafts program and the spring tennis program.

Minipark and Town Park maintenance and electricity for the park building, tennis courts and ball programs were also considered.

New items discussed included equipment for the Grifton Giants and the Grifton Cubs semi-pro teams.

Mrs. Janet Haseley, recreation chairman, reported that Mrs. Nancy Davis had been hired to direct the summer crafts program and that Richard McLawhorn would teach beginning tennis to adults and youth.

Other recreation members include Gene Coley, Helen Butler, Mattie Dixon, Gene Fulford, Leslie Thorbs, Raymond Battle, Jack Hodge and Carr Tucker.

'Abandoned' Cars Will Be Towed Away

Police Chief Glenn Cannon yesterday said Greenville officers will begin towing vehicles found "abandoned" on local streets and parking lots and vehicles parked in violation of restrictions recently placed on parking and drive areas of the Post Office Department's East Carolina University sub-station on East Tenth Street.

According to the police official, the city code provides that cars abandoned on local streets and parking lots may be removed by the city, and Cannon emphasized the vehicles will be towed away.

Vehicles, under the code, are considered "abandoned" after being parked and left unattended for more than 24 hours; when they fail to display a valid registration plate; when they are partially dismantled or wrecked; and when they are found on private property without the consent of the owner of the property.

Speaking of the situation at the Post Office sub-station, Cannon said signs have been erected limiting parking of the lot to 10 minutes. He quoted postal officials as saying persons patronizing area businesses, have been obstructing the lot. Cannon noted that vehicles found parked on the lot more than 10 minutes are subjected to be towed away.

Center Marked Active Week

Operation Sunshine girls last week were invited to watch the Ragsdale Dormitory residents' play softball, and were treated to refreshments at the dorm afterwards.

Some 21 of them attended the Jaycee Magic Show last Thursday night, thanks to several Greenville merchants who bought the tickets for them.

They were treated to a cake by Mrs. Marcia Anderson, the new manager of West End Bakery, following the precedent set by Mrs. E. F. Congleton, the former manager, who gave the Sunshine Center one cake a month to use to celebrate holidays and all the girls' birthdays that fell in that particular month.

Oklahoma has had 42 Rhodes Scholars since 1904.

Corey

Mrs. Minnie Rebecca Corey, 34, died in Wilson Hospital Sunday night. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. at English Chapel F.W.B. Church with Bishop W. L. Phillips officiating. Burial will follow in the Brown Hill Cemetery.

She was born and reared in Pitt County and attended the Pitt County Schools.

Counted 35 County Fires

For the month of March in Pitt County, a total of 35 fires were reported by Pitt County Fire Marshal Bobby Joyner.

In his monthly report, Joyner shows that grass or woods fires led the month's list with a total of 12. House fires accounted for nine of the 35 fires.

Other fires occurring during March included four buildings (other than houses); five auto fires; two cases of mutual aid; three miscellaneous fires; and two false alarms.

An estimated $15,900 was lost in the 35 fires, which involved exposure of property, directly and indirectly, totaling approximately $544,100 in estimated value.

Ayden Fire Department answered nine calls during the month to rank as the most active of the county's 18 rural fire departments.

Clean-Up Day

GRIFTON — The second clean-up day for the town of Grifton will be held Saturday.

Sponsored by the Grifton Resources Improvement Program, the event will begin at 9 a.m. at the town water tower. Hot dogs and drinks will be served at lunchtime by the Grifton Giants semi-pro baseball team and the Grifton Lions Club.

Drivers and pick up trucks will be needed to haul the trash away.

Forty-five persons participated in the first clean-up day on March 24 and a two-ton truck was filled with trash.

Annual Azalea Festival Opens

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — The 26th annual North Carolina Azalea Festival began today with the arrival of Queen Azalea, TV actress Joan Van Ark, at the downtown waterfront in a Coast Guard cutter. The blonde, blue-eyed actress appears in the "Temperatures Rising" television series.

Three former prisoners of war will be grand marshals for the festival parade on Saturday. They are Capt. Barry Bridger of Bladenboro, Lt. Col. James E. Hiteshew of Goldsboro, and Maj. Raymond Schrupp of Fayetteville.

Several other North Carolina POWs have been invited. If they attend, they also will be parade marshals.

The festival will end Sunday afternoon with a performance by the Air Force Thunderbirds precision flying team.

There will be a free show tonight and the queen's coronation and pageant Friday

Rod Steiger And Secretary Wed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Rod Steiger and secretary Sherry Nelson have applied for a marriage license.

Steiger, 47, and Miss Nelson, 36, submitted the application at the Santa Monica County Building on Wednesday. The marriage will be Steiger's fourth and Miss Nelson's third.

No marriage date was announced.

Steiger has appeared in numerous motion pictures, among them "The Pawnbroker," "In the Heat of the Night," and "No Way to Treat a Lady."

Next Course Is Scheduled

The next course in the "Activities for Young Children" series will begin Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Meadowbrook Center, Mumfords Road.

This is an 18-hour workshop which will meet once a week for six weeks. There will be no lectures during the workshop. Participants will work to make inexpensive toys and games for use in a group situation.

All finished products will belong to the participants for use in their respective classes.

There is no charge for the course, although some supplies might have to be purchased by students to make some of the toys.

No advance registration is necessary. Persons who have not attended any of the other sessions are eligible to participate in the class.

The program is offered as an opportunity for Day Care Centers, Kindergartens and Nurseries to enlarge their supply of teaching materials and toys at a nominal cost.

American Legion Auxiliary District Officers Installed

New officers for District Three of the American Legion Auxiliary were named here yesterday at the annual spring meeting.

Mrs. Lois Dail of the Greenville Unit was named president for another year and Mrs. Grace Martin of Washington will serve as the alternate district president.

The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Florence Mohler of Washington.

Mrs. J. Frank Ray of Hillsborough, N.C. Department president, was the guest speaker and her program topic was "Think."

"Think ladies, today we are living in an ever changing world and unless you and I are willing to accept changes and challenges—opportunity will never knock for us again. We shall remain stagnant while the world around us progresses onward and upward to greater heights," said Mrs. Ray.

Other guests for the day's meeting were Mrs. W. A. Watson of Henderson, First Division president, and Miss Notie Wood of Salisbury, Department vice president.

The morning business session was conducted by Mrs. Dail. The Rev. Roy L. Turnage Jr., pastor of Holy Trinity United Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Ernest L. Avery, adjutant of American Legion Post No. 39, gave the welcome. Mrs. Mildred McGrath, Greenville City Councilwoman, brought greetings to the group with the response by Mrs. W. A. Watson.

Family Reunion Is Planned

JASON—The Parrott Mewborn II family reunion will be held Sunday, April 15, at the Mewborn Church, located in Greene County near here.

Dinner will be served at 1 p.m. after which Dr. Ansel C. Mewborn from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, will speak.

The reunion day will be in honor of Temesia Ann Mewborn. Old articles of the family will be on display and pamphlets on family history will be distributed.

Families planning to attend are asked to bring a picnic basket. All visitors and descendants of Parrott Mewborn I are invited to attend.

Unit reports were given by Aurora No. 313, Ayden No. 289, Belhaven No. 249, Englehard No. 211, Farmville No. 151 and No. 372, Greenville, Washington No. 15 and No. 263.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jackson, Grifton, a son, Michael Cornelius, on March 31, 1973, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Lemons
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Alton W. Lemons, Rt. 4, Greenville, a daughter, Kelly Belinda, on March 31, 1973, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Becket
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Becket, Rt. 7, Greenville, a son, Jonathan Rudolph, on April 1, 1973, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Murphy
Born to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Murphy, Rt. 3, Ayden, a daughter, Kisha Coleen, on April 1, 1973, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Dail recognized Gold Star mothers, wives, daughters and sisters in addition to Department officers and chairmen.

It was announced that the fall First Division meeting would be held in Tarboro and the spring district meeting was scheduled for Washington.

Following luncheon, a memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Dail and members of representing units. Candles were lighted in memory of deceased members in the Third District.

Cold Feet Wedding Day

SHANNON, Ireland (WNS)—Joyce Shank, who was widowed three years ago, joined a lonely hearts club last year and accepted the marriage proposal of Cecil Carter, 53, two months ago. The wedding date was set for February 9, but the 49-year-old widow got cold feet the morning of the scheduled ceremony and went off with another 53-year-old suitor, Charles Warne, instead. Now she has got cold feet about Charles and gone back to Cecil. "Tis a woman's privilege to change her mind once," she said. "I won't do it again."

Europeans Given
BRUSSELS, Belgium (WNS)—Lucille Delmas, 32, has completed a survey on housewives within the European Common Market. "If you were given $500 for new furnishings, which room would you spend it on? was the first question she asked. The majority of French and Belgian women selected the kitchen."

Mrs. Billica Gives Program

Mrs. Harry Billiea was guest speaker at the meeting of the Seira Book Club held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. Fred Baumann.

She spoke on raising orchids, which is a hobby shared with her husband. Their interest in orchids began 17 years ago when they were recipients of an orchid plant as a gift.

The Billicias now have over 400 hundred plants and two greenhouses. Mrs. Billica showed plants which were representative examples of different tribes of orchids including cattleya, cymbidium, dendrobium, epidendrum, phalaenopsis and laelia.

She discussed the many species and their native habitats, how to propagate and care for the plants.

Following the program, a business meeting was conducted by the President, Mrs. Baumann. The club voted to make a contribution to the UCYM Community Ambassador Fund.

Personal

John D. Murphy, a former resident of Greenville, is a patient in Carteret General Hospital, Morehead City.

Wins A Husband
AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (WNS)—Anna van Beek, 21, won singer Tom Bastet, 24, in a Valentine's Day raffle at a college dance. "I was only entitled to have Tom for 24 hours, but now it looks like a lifetime deal," beamed the Dutch girl.

She Feels Nursing Home Is Best Place

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: You printed a letter from a woman who felt guilty because she had put her senile, incontinent father in a nursing home. Her guilt was reinforced when she was reminded how her father had diapered her and put up with her childish babbling. To compare a child with an elderly person is ridiculous.

A child can be diapered in public in a stroller. An elderly person cannot. A child can be left in a playpen. An elderly person cannot. A child learns and matures in time. An older person becomes worse. The old person who can get around thinks he is capable of "cooking" and using matches and has to be watched every moment.

It's easy to get a baby sitter. Try to get someone to sit with an old person. Relatives won't even help. So, after eight years when I couldn't take it anymore, I found the nicest, cleanest nursing home I could afford and I took my elderly father there. I said goodbye with tears in my eyes to someone who didn't even know me.

Then I went home and started to be a wife and mother again. I looked at my husband with grateful eyes for his willingness to pay for the care of my father in a nursing home. [It isn't cheap.]

Then the letters started to come from my brothers and sisters who had never offered to keep Dad for one day. They said, "YOU put Dad in a nursing home. How could you?"

I'll sign myself what my father always called me. "PRINCESS"

DEAR ABBY: Tell me if I am out of order. I have asked our two daughters, ages 18 and 20 to kindly wear bras when they are home. They both say they don't like to wear them and they refuse to do so. Their 15-year-old sister [who lives at home] has picked up the no-bra style from the older girls and she sneaks out of the house without one even tho I have told her time and time again that I did not want her going to school without a bra.

This no-bra business has practically ruined our home. All my daughters need bras, and I think they look terrible without them. Should I insist, or drop the whole thing?

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Drop the whole thing. That's what THEY'RE doing.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 15 and have wonderful parents, or so I thought until about a week ago.

My mother and father both leave for work before I go to school and while I was looking thru my mother's drawer for some nylons I noticed her diary hidden in the corner. Abby, I know I shouldn't have done this, but I was curious and I began to read.

Now I wish I had never seen it because I found out my mom is having an affair with another man. This has caused me to lose all respect for her, and now I am wondering whether I should tell my father.

Please help me as it is too embarrassing to talk over with my friends. BAFFLED IN MYRTLE CREEK

DEAR BAFFLED: Don't tell your father. And let this be a lesson to you. The price one usually pays for violating the privacy of another is learning that which he was happier not knowing.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Charity Ball Reports Given At Monday Meet

Members of the Greenville Service League, meeting Monday at Elm Street Recreation Center, heard reports on their annual Charity Ball, which was held in late February.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. Louis Clark and members of her committee for the success of the Charity Ball.

Results of the March visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile were heard by members. Mrs. Herbert Carter reported that during the two-day visit, 58 Service League members worked 188 hours to assist the Red Cross and Moose Lodge in the collection of 391 pints of blood.

Two visits of the Bloodmobile were announced for May 1-2 at East Carolina University and on May 22 at the Moose Lodge. Volunteers signed up for the visits.

Other committee reports were given and members were told that four layettes had been supplied for new babies, the Lending Chest answered calls for two wheelchairs, one hospital bed, a commode and a walker. Four calls for Emergency Chairty were answered and a memorial was received for the Laughinghouse Hospital Fund.

Members voted to supply the Psychiatric Ward Ward at Pitt Memorial Hospital with needed card tables, games, puzzles and other recreational equipment.

It was announced that Aycock Junior High needs volunteer helpers for its reading program and several members agreed to assist. Mrs. Thelma Lanier also acquired assistance for clerical help in the Mental Health office.

Mrs. Leon Moore, program chairman, reported that the annual Service League luncheon will be held at the Greenville Country Club on May 16.

In closing the meeting, Mrs. Charles Stevens, president, recited one of her original poems.

Party Honors Miss Richmond

Miss Rita Ann Richmond, April 21 bride-elect of Robert B. Crawford II, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Saturday at the home of Miss Jane McAndrews.

Hostess for the occasion with Miss McAndrew was Miss Tyra Ross.

Upon arrival, Miss Richmond, and her mother, Mrs. Billy Richmond of Burlington, were presented corsages of daisies. Miss Richmond chose a navy and white dress for the occasion.

The party table was covered with a white linen table cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers.

The hostesses remembered the bride-elect with a place setting in her chosen pattern.

Let's Drop New Mansion Talk

We would be just as happy to see the idea of a new governor's mansion forgotten.

A study commission has come up with plans for a new residence which would cost $500,000.

The Executive Residence Building Committee estimated that it would cost $575,000 to completely renovate and modernize the present executive mansion.

We agree that the present mansion needs considerable work if it is to be maintained as the governor's residence, but we doubt if the differences in cost should be a factor.

The executive mansion is of historic value to North Carolinians. It is well located within the government complex of buildings and it seems to have adequate land to provide privacy and security for the state's first family.

Even though the commission recommends retaining the present mansion if a new governor's residence is built, it would seem to us to be a rather useless gesture to maintain the mansion without the governor's living there.

Gov. Jim Holshouser has made it clear that he does not desire to replace the present mansion and we are in full agreement on that. The mansion can be remodeled to make it comfortable for the first family and, after all, nobody has it for more than four years.

New Stress In Independence

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH — Democratic leadership is evolving a role of greater independence for the legislative branch which can shape the future of North Carolina government and politics.

The impact of change will reach beyond the present Republican state administration, predicted Rep. William T. Watkins of Granville, House majority leader.

in caucus. On occasion, he serves as a partisan spokesman.

"We are not in a rope-pulling contest with the governor to see who can pull the other into the creek," insisted Watkins. The caucus has a constructive function in fixing the position around which legislators of the party can rally, he said, and will be continued in coming sessions even should a Democrat sit in the governor's chair.

In fact, it may take a firmer line with a governor of the same party. For example Watkins said, if a Democrat succeeds Holshouser there is a good possibility for revival of a proposal to take away the governor's power to name the state and county boards of election.

The caucus backed off that one recently after a loud outcry that it would be unfair to Gov. Holshouser.

Elections Bill Retreat

Heated debate in caucus and an obvious wide division among Democrats led Rep. Gerald Arnold of Harnett to drop his bill which would have tied election board appointments to the party with the edge in voter registration a device which would have kept Democrats in control.

The fairness doctrine would not be in question, Watkins observed, if the governor and the legislative majority were of the same party.

"Personally, I think the approach taken by Rep. Arnold's bill is fair. It's the way it should be in the future, and the way it should have been in the past," Watkins said.

Observers scored the outcome as one up for Gov. Holshouser in the tugging between executive and legislative.

Watkins said he didn't think Democrats came out of the incident with smudges on the party image. "If anything, it enhanced the standing of the Democratic party," he argued. "They said we were being unfair. We said, 'All right, we won't be unfair.'"

Two factors will keep the party caucus a force in the legislative process, Watkins said. One is the need to further independence from the executive. The other is the changing legislative life-style.

"Some years back, virtually all legislators lived at the same hotel. It was not as formal, but they had a caucus every night. Now they are dispersed, and have little contact outside the session and committee meetings. They need to go to the caucus to maintain continuity and communication with each other," he explained.

Billy Graham Wise In Retracting His Remark

Fortunately Evangelist Billy Graham has expressed regret for suggesting castration for convicted rapists.

He called it an "offhand, hasty, spontaneous remark" which he said he regretted almost as soon as he said it. The comment was made in South Africa where the Rev. Graham made an appearance.

He could not believe Billy Graham literally meant what he was quoted as saying at the time. We think he was wise to express regrets for the off-hand remark.

At 61, Accepts New Challenge

By JOHN KILGO

CHARLOTTE—Look for the age of 61 you don't look for men to go out searching for new challenges, but that's exactly what has befallen Warner G. (Bud) Maupin, who is taking over as State ABC Law Enforcement Chief.

"I'd been reading about all the problems in the ABC system," Maupin told me in an interview. "and I asked Dr. (L.C.) Holshouser if it was really that bad. He said it was worse."

Dr. Holshouser, chairman of the State ABC Board, is the man who officially named Maupin to head up the law enforcement division. But it was board member Marcus Hickman, a Charlotte lawyer, who really convinced Maupin to take the job.

When Maupin was first offered the job, he turned it down.

"I went up to Raleigh to talk when it became known the job was open," Maupin said. "I didn't think much more about it. Then they called me back to Raleigh and offered me the job. Frankly, I thought it was too much of a job for the money they were offering—and it meant, of course, that I'd have to relocate."

Maupin told Dr. Holshouser he didn't think he'd take the post—but when he got back to Charlotte he had a couple of men waiting for him.

One was State ABC Board member Hickman, the man credited with building the Republican Party in Mecklenburg County.

The other was Donald Stahl, a Republican and a former FBI agent who had wrestled control of the Sheriff's office away from Democrats in Mecklenburg County.

Stahl and Hickman talked with Maupin and when they finished he decided he should take the ABC post and move to Raleigh.

"I don't know a single soul in the State ABC system," says Maupin, who will take office on April 16. "I don't even know all of the State ABC laws yet. I'll know them by the time I get to Raleigh, but I will be going in cold, as far as knowing anything about the personnel."

I tried to get Maupin to talk about liquor-by-the-drink, but he said he wouldn't "since legislation on the matter is pending in the General Assembly."

"I will say this, however," Maupin said, "if liquor-by-the-drink passes, it will change the whole ballgame. It would increase the number of potential problems and I would suppose call for an increase in the number of State ABC agents."

Maupin will go to Raleigh and direct a law enforcement squad of about 100 agents scattered across the state.

The man is no rookie when it comes to law enforcement. He received his law degree from the University of (Continued on page 5)

To the Editor:

On Friday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Damone of the Pizza Hut on East Tenth Street were hosts to the Trainable Classes of E. B. Aycock Junior High School at a Pizza Feast.

The students and teachers were treated to all the pizzas they could eat, soft drinks, and a candy treat for dessert.

The Damone family and their capable assistants provided a very delightful atmosphere for the occasion and students and teachers of the two classes agreed that it was one of the nicest experiences they could remember.

We would like to publicly thank them for their generosity.

Strength For Today

A BREACH IN THE WALLS Throughout the whole of his reign King David left a breach in the walls of Jerusalem. He did it to show his faith in God. Through it an invading army might come at any time, but that breach stood as an eternal symbol that David trusted God for protection.

In a similar way every one of us living today has a breach in his personality or in his moral life, more likely in both. It is a breach through which assaulting armies of anger, temptation, financial reverses, sickness, or sorrow may devastate our lives. Nothing that we can do will completely close that breach.

The Bible teaches us no to rely upon our own powers alone to close that breach. They simply are not sufficient for the task. If we put our trust in God and not spend our time frantically trying to protect ourselves from every harm that might beset us—certainly a futile effort—the power of the Eternal will be our wall and our protection.

TOUGH NEIGHBORHOOD TO GO THROUGH!

By J.J. KILPATRICK

This Is Only A Beginning

Leading Republicans finally are coming to life, after months of uncomfortable silence, on the political issue that is shaping up like a Texas tornado. The issue is "Watergate," and all that embracing word is coming to mean. Republican National Chairman George Bush, speaking to a Young Republican Leadership Conference, recently denounced the Watergate affair as "grubby." He warned that unless the charges of scandal are "promptly and fully cleared up," it could cost the party heavily in next year's elections.

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott said he was "deeply disturbed." Senators William Roth of Delaware, Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, and John Tower of Texas appealed to the White House for more visible cooperation. Senator Robert Packwood of Oregon labeled Watergate "the most odious issue since Teapot Dome." Senator Jacob Javits of New York and Senator Charles McC. Mathias of Maryland took to the Senate floor to demand a restoration of public trust in public office. Senator Lowell Weicker of Connecticut publicly demanded an accounting from H. R. Haldeman, the President's closest aide.

Meanwhile, such conservative columnists as Holmes Alexander, Ralph de Toledano and William S. White, normally sympathetic to the administration, are voicing deep concern at the drifting situation. Adverse reaction also is developing among party workers: In Minnesota, two members of the state Republican finance committee have resigned in protest against the Watergate scandal.

This is only the beginning. Public reaction, as distinguished from professional reaction, thus far has been marked by a curious combination of cynicism and apathy. George McGovern did his utmost, throughout the autumn campaign, to exploit the Watergate affair. He got nowhere. The crowds reacted with no more than snickers, nudges, and winks. So the Democrats had bugged the Democratic national headquarters? So what? The Democrats, it was supposed, would do the same thing if they thought they could pull it off.

This complacency is wearing thin. Once the Ervin investigating committee gets into its daily televised hearings, it will be a different story. The senior senator from North Carolina is not only a great constitutionalist; he is also a great actor, with the rubicund face of an aging pixie. He has the same keen sense of drama that we saw some 20 years ago in another aging pixie, Joseph Welch, special counsel in the Senate Army-McCarthy hearings. No one who saw those hearings will minimize their impact.

All this, one hopes, will not be lost on Richard Nixon. Thinking of the President, one is remembered of the lamentation that Gibbon attributed to Diocletian: "How often," the emperor was accustomed to say, "is it the interest of four or five ministers to combine together to deceive their sovereign. Secluded from mankind by his exalted dignity, the truth is concealed from his knowledge; he can see only with their eyes; he hears nothing but their misrepresentations." Nixon is equally insulated from unpleasant truths. For months he has been basted like a roasting goose with the juices of sweet-smelling advice: Disdain Watergate, and it will all go away.

Things Remain Undone

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — For everything a man does in this world there are a thousand things he leaves undone or never gets around to trying. So when you meet anyone who is bored because he feels he's seen everything, done everything worth doing and met everybody worth knowing, you know he's awfully ignorant — or he's an awful liar.

HAL BOYLE

If a fellow feels a bit jaded or fed up with what he does and how he spends his time, he might make a list of things he hasn't got around to doing. It might get him to try to do something new.

Here — right off the top of his head — are a few things one man hasn't got around to doing, for one reason or another:

- Put out the fire in a dragon's boiler.
- Played the "Moonlight Sonata" on a harmonica.
- Written an anonymous letter. Begged the issue.
- Tried to make a living as a crying towel salesman in Utopia.
- Hidden behind a woman's slacks.
- Raised or lowered the Federal Reserve Bank's discount rate.
- Rescued a horse from a banker's runaway daughter.
- Made love in a helicopter.
- Salted an abandoned gold mine.
- Woke up dewy-eyed.
- Been able to tell the vintage of a bottle of French wine — or cola, for that matter — with eyes closed.
- Sold anything under the counter.
- Cast a pearl before swine.
- Barked up the wrong tree.
- Traded recipes with a cannibal.
- Decided a national election with a last-minute vote.
- Taken Dracula to lunch during National Brotherhood Week.

The new athletic field at Third Street School will be dedicated and formally thrown open to the public next Friday afternoon, it was announced today by J. H. Rose, superintendent of Greenville city schools. In addition to opening exercises, the high school baseball team will play New Bern. Mayor R. C. Flanagan has been chosen to hurl the first ball from the grandstand putting the game in motion and throwing the field open to the public. This will be preceded by flag raising exercises, a band concert and inspection of the field and clubhouse.

Playing at the State Theatre tonight is "Private Jones" starring Lee Tracy and Gloria Stuart.

Businessman Back On Campus

Editor's Note — This is the first of two columns describing the experiences of a top executive, who returns to a college campus after a 40-year absence.

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, chairman and chief executive of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., is a self-described mossback conservative, a man of many prejudices, a righteously indignant critic of business' critics.

He believes religiously in the work ethic. The key to success? "Hard work and thrift." His entire career has been with Metropolitan, and he still puts in 75 to 80 hours a week. "I can't wait to get to work," he says.

Despite this, Fitzhugh, 63, recently stole 3 1/2 weeks from work to accept a "professorship" at the University of Oklahoma, at Norman, in "the heartland of America." The confrontation, as some of Fitzhugh's associates might have thought it would be, was part of the Businessman in Residence Program of the Institute of Life Insurance.

These are some of his observations: "It was a real pleasant engagement. It's different there than in the East. New York is the most provincial place in the country. You have to get 100 miles out of New York to know what the country is like.

"Why did I do it? I always believe in getting the facts. Partly it was to see if I was right, partly to see if I was wrong. I love a debate. I found the campus much less skewed to the left than I had thought. I was encouraged. "I thought I was going to be able to take it easy, but I had classes that began at eight, with an hour off for lunch, and continued into the evening. I gave them all the same lecture, a 35-second introduction in which I told them:

"You see before you, No. 1, a real live member of the establishment, and No. 2, an old-fashioned mossback conservative." I gave them a wide opening and they moved right in.

"They didn't throw a low curve at all. The questions were direct and penetrating, about social responsibility, profits and the like. None of the 'beating your wife' type of questions. "Sometimes I was righteously indignant and felt like saying you should withhold your comments until you learn something about business. But I didn't lose my temper."

Sitting on a couch in his dark-paneled office, Fitzhugh, a sharpfeatured man with a surprising sense of humor, was asked what he told them about the expanding social responsibilities of business. (Continued on page 5)

Open House Saturday At Burroughs Wellcome

Burroughs Wellcome Co. officials reminded area citizens that the company will hold an open house Saturday at the manufacturing plant here.

Officials reported that the full day of open house activities is being planned for the public in response to increased requests by area residents for an opportunity to see the plant in operation.

G. Henry Leslie, plant manager, announced that the facility will be open from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. Various departments of the pharmaceutical plant will be in operation to allow visitors a first hand look at the manufacturing concept employed by Burroughs Wellcome.

Personnel will be on hand to conduct the tours and answer questions, it was noted.

Burroughs Wellcome conducts all of its U.S. production operations here and most of its products are sold chiefly by prescription. The company reported that with sales volume continually increasing, BW found it necessary to obtain new quarters in 1969 and moved here from Tuckahoe, N.Y.

The Greenville site, it was noted, was found to offer many advantages, as a working and living environment and as the seat of East Carolina University.

Chess Meeting Friday Night

Friday night at 7:30 at the Elm Street Recreation Center, the third in a series of meetings for persons interested in chess will be held. Players of all levels of skill are invited to attend.

Basic instruction will be available to those who consider themselves novices or have limited experience. Plans are also being formulated to hold a Swiss System Chess Tournament involving point accumulation based on an individual's record of wins and losses in a number of matches over a period of play.

Alcoholism Workshop

NEWBERN — Approximately 50 alcoholism program professionals from across North Carolina will attend a three-day workshop on "Community Alcoholism Programs" at the Ramada Inn here beginning Friday at 11 a.m.

Focus of the workshop will be on law enforcement, education, business and industry and community hospitals and their role in providing services to alcoholic people in the community. It is being sponsored by the Eastern Region Alcoholism Programs and conducted by the ECU-based Alcoholism Training Program of North Carolina, with Jerry Lotterhos as director.

Riley Regan, Alcoholism Program director of Maryland, will be a featured speaker. N. C. officials participating include Dr. R. J. Blackley, State Deputy Commissioner for Alcoholism; Wade H. Williams Jr., Eastern Region Alcoholism Program coordinator; and Dick Rhyne, state occupational program consultant.

"Sixty-four years ago in 1909 we set up a health and welfare division. We have a stake in the health of the country. We proved in a program at Framingham, Mass., in the 1920s that the tuberculosis death rate could be cut.

"We didn't need these critics, and I wanted to disabuse these kids of the idea we needed to be pushed into it. Business has changed, and some of the kids recognize it. In many ways they're ahead of the professors.

"The kids have come along way, but some of the professors don't realize times have changed. Some think business is just grasping for profits. It bothered me that some of the professors haven't kept up with the times.

"I was disappointed in some of the economic and business professors. Too left wing. They don't understand what's going on in the world.

"As our discussions went on, the students asked more about practical things like what they should be getting out of education and what they should do when they graduate. I like that. It shows they're thinking the right way.

"Too many students say that hard work and thrift isn't what life is about. They say it's not their idea of life. But more of them are thinking that way. They realize they're going to have to work.

"While they're in college, I told them, they should have an inquiring mind about everything, an open mind. They should try to know everything they can. They should develop the ability to

Nixon cannot afford to temporize longer. Watergate threatens to become his party's Chappaquiddick. The situation demands his personal leadership; it demands full disclosure and total cooperation; it demands that he abandon any notions of "executive privilege" and order his aides to report on the double when Senator Ervin sends a summons. The

Highway Commission Reform Bill Plans Outlined

Detective's Wreck Injuries Were Fatal

The late John Martin, a 24 year old native of Pitt County who was a detective on the force of the Miami, Florida Metro police vice squad, assisted in a narcotics raid several weeks before his death despite an injury received enroute to the arrest scene.

According to a report published in the Miami Herald, on February 9 Martin was on his way to meet a narcotics informant when his motorcycle was hit by a dump truck.

Refusing major treatment at Baptist Hospital, the young detective kept his appointment, helped in the arrest of two suspects, and seized $67,000 in small bills and $200,000 worth of heroin in the raid.

Martin died March 27 of injuries received in a motorcycle accident the previous day, Sunday, March 26, while taking part in a competition sponsored by the Hialeah Jaycees at Amelia Earhart Field.

His paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin live in Bethel. His maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wlater Tripp, are residents of Stokes.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Democrats in the North Carolina General Assembly have gotten the first word on reorganization of the state Highway Commission.

In identical speeches delivered on the floor of the House and Senate Wednesday, Rep. James C. Green, D-Bladen, and Sen. J. J. Harrington, D-Bertie, outlined the provisions of a bill scheduled for introduction within the next few days.

The bill, product of an all-Democrat sub-subcommittee of the joint Roads committees, would implement some of the reforms suggested by Gov. Jim Holshouser.

But it takes some different tacks from the direction Holshouser has moved in since taking office and from the highway reorganization bill his administration has been working on but has yet to introduce in the General Assembly.

The most significant departure is in the role of the Secretary of Transportation. Holshouser's appointees to the Highway Commission voluntarily vested their authority in Secretary of Transportation Bruce Lentz.

That was a departure from the practice of previous Democratic administrations in which the Highway Commission effectively controlled road-building policy.

Holshouser is expected to ask for legislation to keep the primary authority in the hands of his cabinet appointee.

The Democrats' bill, however, as outlined by Green and Harrington, provides for a Board of Transportation which would have authority over the staff of the highway department and roads policy.

Three of the members would be appointed by the legislature; nine would be appointed by the governor; and the Secretary of Transportation would be ex-officio chairman.

Secondary roads would be under the control of a 14-member Secondary Roads Council which would be obliged to seek input from county officials; the Board of Transportation would have a review power over its decisions.

Green and Harrington said their proposal would make the highway system more accountable to the governor, to the General Assembly, and to the people.

They said that failure to enact it would mean that the governor would have a $475 million (the state highway budget) "slush fund" with full discretion as to how and where it should be spent.

Senate minority leader Charles Taylor, R-Transylvania, voiced the GOP reaction to the bill after Harrington's speech. He said it encompassed many of the changes Holshouser would like to make—reducing the size of the board from the present 23 members to 13 and mandating local input on secondary roads decisions.

Taylor said that administration opposition to the bill would probably center around the amount of power vested in the commission, with Holshouser seeking more power vested directly in the Secretary of Transportation.

One of the Democrats who are drafting the legislation, Sen. Herman Moore, D-Mecklenburg, countered that argument by saying the governor could appoint commission members with the understanding that they would delegate some or all of their authority to the Secretary of Transportation.

Michigan Agricultural College (now Michigan State University) became the nation's first land-grant college in 1855.

Special Service Sunday Night

Special services will be held at Warren Chapel Church Sunday at 7:30 p.m., with Elder P. D. Blount and his congregation in charge.

Members are urged to be present and the public is invited, according to the pastor, Elder A. L. Miller. The church is located eight miles from Greenville on Highway 264 West.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina hens: Prices weaker on heavy types and about steady on light types. Supplies adequate and demand fair to good. Heavies, at farm, 23-24 cents; f.o.b. plants 26-27. Light type, at farm, 12.

North Carolina f.o.b. dock broilers: Market stronger. Supplies adequate demand good. Weights desirable. F.O.B. dock weighted average price for less than truck lot sales of sized plant grade A broilers to be picked up at docks next week is 44.57 cents per pound. Estimated slaughter today 1,204,000.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices dropped for the fifth straight session today as investors continued to worry that inflation was on the upswing.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials had slid 3.62 to 921.43. The blue-chip indicator piled up a 34-point loss during the four previous sessions and its intrasession decline today brought it below the 1973 closing low of 922.71, set March 23.

Declines held more than 2-to-1 lead over advances in fairly lively trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks, which closed Wednesday at its lowest level since Feb. 1, 1972, had fallen another .34 to 57.70 at 11 a.m. The price-change index on the American Stock Exchange was off .04 to 24.12.

Brown Group, the most-active issue on the big board, was heavily traded after a negative assessment of the footwear industry that appeared in the Wall Street Journal. Brown held steady at 28, but other footwear companies declined.

Sedco, the second-most active, fell 1 3/4 to 38 1/4, and AT&T warrants, the third most active, fell 1/4 to 6 1/4.

Continental Oil, which has plummeted in the wake of a brokerage house's lowered estimate of its earnings, dropped

An estimated $350 in damages to the Rowe car resulted and damages to the truck driven by Little were set at $5. Officers, who reported no injuries, charged Rowe with failing to reduce his speed to avoid an accident.

Sandra Lee Brewer of 902 Circle Drive, Monroe, was charged with failing to see a safe move could be made following a 7:30 a.m. accident Wednesday on Seventh Street near its intersection with James Street.

Officers said that the accident involved a car driven by Miss Brewer and a parked vehicle owned by Hilda Kern Kivett of 1109 Pamlico Drive, Greensboro. Damage was set at $200 to the Brewer car and $75 to the parked vehicle. No injuries resulted.

Gasoline Sales Limit Imposed

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Sears is limiting motorists to 10 gallons of gasoline at its stores in Charlotte.

But a spokesman hesitated to call it rationing. "That implies a tremendous shortage, and I don't believe that's the case," he said.

Meanwhile, the Texas City Refining Co. said it was discontinuing operations in North Carolina and South Carolina, and would cancel 370 contracts with independent jobbers April 30. The district manager for the company, Gene Hartsell, said, "Our refinery has been unable to acquire the proper crude oil to operate. It's going to get worse. It's just started."

USHER UNION

BETHEL—The Pitt County Usher Union will meet at Mayo Chapel Baptist Church Sunday at 6 p.m.

Following the meeting, the Rev. Jessie E. Williams of Goldsboro will preach.

Carpentry Course Soon

A new curriculum — carpentry — will be offered at Pitt Technical Institute in the very near future. Classes will begin as soon as 10 or more adults, 18 years of age or older, are enrolled.

The carpentry program is being sponsored in cooperation with the Employment Security Commission and is a Manpower Development Training Act program.

Veterans or underemployed or unemployed persons will be given first opportunity to enroll. Students who are selected for the program will receive a weekly stipend.

Interested persons should contact the Employment Security Commission office here about enrolling in the classes. Classes will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (40 hours per week) and will meet for 24 weeks.

The primary objective of the program is the introduction to fundamentals of basic carpentry. The students will be acquiring skills that will permit them to enter the carpentry trade.

For further information, interested persons may contact either the Employment office or Pitt Tech.

W.C. Smith At Montreal Meet

East Carolina University corrections specialist W. C. Smith is in Montreal, Canada, where he is scheduled to address the annual Adult Education Research Conference.

About 100 participants from the U.S. and Canada are attending the conference, which is designed to improve the quality of adult education research by providing researchers opportunities for interaction with their colleagues.

Holidays

Some confusion about Easter holidays for the Greenville City Schools has arisen, according to Dr. Clet C. Cleetwood, superintendent of the Greenville City Schools.

For the Greenville City Schools, the Easter vacation this year will be on Friday, April 20, and Monday, April 23.

Other school dates of interest include the Baccalaureate program on Sunday, May 27; and graduation day, Friday, June 1. June 1 is also the last day of the school year for the Greenville City Schools.

Price Index . . .

Bureau of Labor statistics said.

Nearly everything in the government's wholesale prices index was up, with processed foods rising 4.6 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis, the highest rate on record.

Big increases were posted for livestock, poultry, eggs, petroleum products, lumber and various textile products.

The continued rise in prices seems virtually certain to bring further pressure on the administration to clamp tighter controls on the economy. Nixon last week put a ceiling on meat prices but organized labor and congressional Democrats are pressing for even further controls.

The House Banking Committee has approved a bill to roll back prices, interest rates and rents to the levels of Jan. 10.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics' gloomy report came on the fifth day of a nationwide consumer boycott against meat but the figures did not reflect the effects of the drive.

The 2.2 per cent jump in the wholesale price index for March works out to an annual rate of 26.4 per cent.

The index for farm products and processed foods moved up at an annual rate of 53.1 per cent from December 1972 to March, after rising at a rate of 30.1 per cent in the previous three months and at rates of 17.4 and 4.8 per cent in the quarters that ended in September and June respectively, the government said.

American Classic Track Resuming

The Greenville American Classic Track and Field team will hold its first workout Saturday from 10 a.m. until 12 noon, according to Coach Clem Williams.

All boys and girls from six to twelve are urged to try out for the team. Teams will be broken down into three different age groups, by sex, 6-7, 8-9, and 10-12.

The American Classic Track and Field program is sponsored by the Buster Brown Company and Belk-Tyler Stores in Eastern North Carolina. Individual programs will be held in various cities across this part of the state to pick city champions and to form teams for the overall competition to be held at East Carolina University on May 26.

Workouts will be held each Saturday at East Carolina for the Greenville-Pitt County team, and each of the young athletes will receive instruction on the proper fundamentals of the sport. The local championship will be held on May 5.

Boys and girls in the 6-7, and 8-9 groups will compete in the 50-yard dash. Boys 10-12 may compete in the 100-yard dash, the 440-yard dash, the 880-yard run, the mile run, the 440-yard relay, the high jump and the long jump.

Girls of that age group will compete in the 50-yard dash, the 200 yard dash, the 440-yard relay, the standing long jump and the high jump.

Summer League Baseball Set

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — With six teams in the fold, plans have been completed for the third season of play in the North Carolina Collegiate Summer Baseball League.

League officers and team representatives met Sunday in Chapel Hill and approved the schedule which calls for each team to play 35 regular season games. The season opens on June 5 and closes on Aug. 3.

Newest member of the league will be Pembroke State, a team which will be based in Red Springs, N.C., for the Summer League play. All Pembroke home games will be played in Red Springs.

Other teams, all charter members of the league, are Louisville College, East Carolina University, the University of North Carolina, Campbell and UNC-Wilmington. Wilmington won the championship last season, finishing fourth in the regular season play, but coming back to capture the playoff crown. The University of North Carolina had finished first during regular season play.

Plans call for the season to open on June 5 with North Carolina at East Carolina, Louisville at Campbell and Pembroke at UNC-Wilmington. Second night games on June 6 will find Louisville at North Carolina, East Carolina at UNC-Wilmington and Campbell at Pembroke.

Following the completion of regular season play, the championship playoffs will be staged on Aug. 6, 7, and 8.

League officers are as follows: President, Jim Mallory of East Carolina; Vice President, Walter McDonald of Louisville; Secretary, Calvin Doss of UNC-Wilmington; and Treasurer, Jim Tucker of East Carolina.

Knicks Nearing Series Sweep

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Knicks had balanced scoring and their trademark, team defense; Baltimore had Elvin Hayes, but little else.

As a result, New York is one game away from sweeping its first-round National Basketball Association playoff series with Baltimore, and Knicks Coach Red Holzman, a master of moderation, is saying things like, "We're in a good spot now."

Each of the five Knick starters scored 16 points or better, more than offsetting a brilliant 36-point performance by Hayes, as New York grabbed a 3-0 lead in the playoff series by beating the Bullets in Baltimore 103-96 Wednesday night.

Bill Bradley was high scorer for New York with 23 points, followed by Dave DeBusschere, 19; Earl Monroe, 18, and Willis Reed and Walt Frazier, 16 apiece. Hayes, meanwhile, was a one-man gang, hitting 16 of 26 shots from the field and also grabbing 14 rebounds.

The key to the victory, in addition to New York's balanced scoring, was the team defense played by the Knicks—and not by the Bullets. Time and again Knick players would elude their defenders and break free for clear shots, while at the other end of the court the Knicks' switching tactics blanketed the Bullets.

In other playoff games, the Boston Celtics took a 2-0 lead in their first-round NBA series with Atlanta by beating the Hawks 126-113 in Atlanta, while in the American Basketball Association, Utah beat San Diego 103-92 to take a 2-0 lead. All series are best-of-seven.

John Havlicek, who scored 54 points in the series opener, led Boston with 29 points. Jo Jo White added 24 points, Dave Cowens had 20 points and 25 rebounds and Paul Silas added 17 rebounds.

Boston led 29-13 after the first quarter, then shook off an Atlanta comeback with a 10-0 spurt in the second period.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn, emulating Holzman, also was not ready to claim victory in the series, despite his team's second consecutive impressive triumph.

"It's not over yet," he warned. "They're capable of playing better than they have. We just played real good defense."

Atlanta was led by Pete Maravich with 30 points and Lou Hudson with 27. Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons observed, "We're better than we have looked. We know we have to slow them down to win, but when you're behind you can't play a slow-down. But Boston played with confidence...they were awesome."

Willie Wise scored 29 points to lead Utah past the expansion Conquistadors. Utah led most of the first half, San Diego grabbed a brief lead in the third period, then Wise and Ron Boone moved Utah out to a 99-88 lead with four minutes to play.

THEY'RE BOTH LOOKING FOR A WIN—Golfing greats Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are shown Wednesday on the course of Augusta National Golf Club in Augusta, Ga., home of the Masters. Both are hoping for victory in the first of four major golf championships. The two are the only four-time winners of the Masters, and each would like to be the first to claim their fifth. (AP Wirephoto)

Saints Capture Meet From Jaguar Thinclads

DUDLEY—Southern Wayne High School gained a track victory over Farmville Central and Eastern Wayne here yesterday. The Saints rolled up a total of 83½ points to capture first in the meet.

Second place went to Farmville Central, which picked up 47½ points, while Eastern Wayne finished third with 28.

There was only one double winner during the afternoon, Southern Wayne's Cobb, who won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Overall, Southern won six individual events, while Eastern captured four and Farmville won three. Southern won both of the relay events. Farmville's greater depth also helped to beat out Eastern.

Farmville travels to Greene Central on Monday for its next meet.

Duke Tops Pirates

DURHAM—Duke University's lacrosse team rolled to a 17-3 victory over the East Carolina University stickers here yesterday.

Duke jumped on the Pirates for five goals in the opening period and the Blue Devils were never in trouble after that. They outscored East Carolina, 5-2, in the second period to lead, 10-2, at the half.

In the second half, they held a 7-1 advantage to wrap up the match.

The loss dropped the Pirates record to 1-3 on the season, while Duke climbed to 5-4.

Bill Harrington scored two of the Pirate goals, while Andy Stanick got the other. Sammis and Brodsky led Duke with four each.

The Pirates next match is Saturday, when they entertain Guilford College.

Star Of The Future Will Learn Quickly

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A cluster of giggling girls strained against the ropes around the Augusta National practice putting green and thrust pencils, tickets and scraps of paper at the harried golfer on the other side.

"Please, sign here."
"May I have your autograph?"
"Just make it 'Love to Susan,' would you please?"

The target of the onslaught wasn't Arnold Palmer. It wasn't golden-haired Jack Nicklaus, slim and modish Johnny Miller nor the chatterbox Lee Trevino.

It was Ben Crenshaw, 20, from Austin, Tex., and don't take his name in vain. He's golf's new Mr. Personality, the Charisma Kid, the fuff-faced collegian who many are predicting is the game's super star of the future.

When Palmer is tired of missing three-foot putts and Nicklaus has become bored with $50,000 checks and Grand Slam talk, young Crenshaw may be the player who sends galleries busting through restraining ropes and going into wild hysterics.

That's what they're saying here at the 37th Masters Tournament, starting today. Crenshaw, an amateur, may find out quickly. He's paired at 11:06 a.m. EST with the old king himself, Arnold Palmer, four times winner and the man whose personal magnetism sent the game on a dizzying spiral in the 1960s.

"He's one hell of a player," said Palmer.

"I rate him one of the 10 best players in the world, pro or amateur," said Australia's David Graham. "You can tell he's destined to be a great champion by the way he grips a club.

"Few men possess a strong, almost infallible grip. Sam Snead does. Ben Hogan did. And of course, Palmer and Nicklaus. So does Crenshaw. He could win here—make no mistake about it."

No amateur has ever won the Masters, although some have come close. The spectacular Billie Joe Patton missed by a stroke in 1954. Two years later Ken Venturi had the title almost secured but blew nine shots in the last round. Charles Coe lost by a stroke to Gary Player in 1961.

Crenshaw is one of two strong amateur threats this year in a tournament that makes Nicklaus heavily favored at 4-1 odds. The other is Vinnie Giles, a 30-year-old lawyer, investment banker and management representative from Richmond, Va., who is the current National Amateur champion.

Giles is a rarity in that he failed to follow such contemporaries as Lanny Wadkins and Jim Simons into the pursuit of pro golf's $8.6 million pot of gold.

"I am basically lazy, says Vinnie. "I love golf but it would be a drudgery if it became nothing but a job. My only regret is that I'll never be able to prove to myself whether I could have cut it as a pro."

Giles was paired with Nick-laus, leaving the first tee at 12:02 p.m. EST.

The select, hand-picked field consists of 59 American pros, 15 foreign pros, six U.S. and two foreign amateurs.

Those veterans of another age, Jock Hutchinson and Fred McLeod, lead the parade as honorary starters at 8:45 a.m. EST and the game's great and near-great follow in pairs over the 6,980-yard, par-72 layout, starting at 9 a.m.

Single rounds are played daily through Sunday, with Columbia Broadcasting System televising the final two rounds. The gate is a sellout, no more tickets available. The prize money, modest by tour standards, is fixed by the Masters sponsors. The champion can count on about $25,000.

But pride takes precedent over money in this prestigious event, with Nicklaus seeking his fifth Masters and a 14th major crown which would set him a rung above the late Bob Jones.

For young Crenshaw, it is an opportunity to strike a blow for almost certain future stardom. He is co-champion of the college kids and winner of numerous sectional events.

A stocky, athletic-built youngster with a healthy head of copper-colored hair that falls over his ears and a strong, Palmer-

Cunningham Glad Now Giants, Reds Opening Season He's With The Cougars

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Cunningham has found a fountain of youth at 29. It's called winning.

"March 28 was the biggest day of my life," recalled Cunningham. Carolina's star forward who will lead the Cougars against the New York Nets in the fourth game of their first-round American Basketball Association playoff series tonight. The Cougars hold a 2-1 edge, with the fifth game to be played at Greensboro, N.C. Friday night.

On March 28, 1972, Cunningham played his final game with the Philadelphia 76ers. Following the season he left that National Basketball Association club to play for Carolina.

"If anything, I'm younger this year," declared Cunningham. "Last year was the kind of season that ages a man. I was on a loser for the first time in my life. I couldn't wait for the buzzer to end the game and the 76ers season.

"Everything feels great when you win," he added. "You may get tired, but you still feel great."

If the Nets are to even their best-of-seven series at the Nassau Coliseum tonight, they'll have to stop Cunningham, or at least contain him.

In Tuesday night's 101-91 Carolina victory, Cunningham picked up three quick fouls and played just eight minutes in the first half, scoring four points. The Nets led by as much as 11 points in the third period, but Cunningham provided the spark down the stretch, finishing with 17 points as the Cougars won going away.

"He got some big, big baskets," sighed Nets Coach Lou Carnesecca. "He's a game-winner."

"When the game's in doubt, it's just a matter of getting the ball to the big guy," explained Carolina playmaker Mack Calvin, pointing to Cunningham. "It's as simple as that."

Other problems for the Nets to worry about include Calvin, the high scorer Tuesday with 28 points; forward Joe Caldwell, who shot 7-of-11 for 18 points, and center Tom Owens, who came back from two sub-par games to score 17 points and grab nine rebounds.

For New York, rookie Brian Taylor scored 25 points, but the team's four other backcourt-men combined to score just nine. Center Billy Paultz scored 17 points and hauled down 11 rebounds, forwards George Carter and John Baum scored 18 and 17, respectively.

An ominous warning to the Nets was issued by Calvin following Tuesday's win.

"We haven't played a good game yet," he said. "But we're due. And when we finally get it together, we're going to blow them right out of the playoffs."

Japanese Golfer 'Is Good Enough'

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "He's good enough to win the Masters—but he won't."

Orville Moody was talking about Jumbo Ozaki, a hard-hitting former baseball player and one of Japan's most famous athletes. The 25-year-old Ozaki made his second appearance in a Masters tournament when he teed off with Moody as a partner in today's first round of the annual classic.

"He's a super player," said Moody, who spent much of his 14-year U.S. Army career in the Far East. "I've played with and against him a lot of times."

"He's easily the best in Japan. He just walks all over everybody else over there. He won eight or nine tournaments there last year. He's good enough—and long enough—to win here but he won't because of lack of confidence."

"If this tournament was in Japan, he'd have a real good chance. He'd have the confidence."

Ozaki, speaking through an interpreter, agreed.

"I have confidence when I am playing in Japan. In this country I do not. I just hope to play well enough to be a credit to my country," he said.

"He's a very good player, certainly good enough to play the American tour," said Billy Casper. Casper, winner of more than 40 American tour titles including two U.S. Opens, tied with Ozaki for the individual low in the Miki Gold Cup, a team competition in Japan a year ago.

"I played an exhibition with him in Hawaii early this year," said Arnold Palmer. "He's very strong, a good driver and just a good player. But he kind of had an off day when we played."

Palmer beat him 67-77. Ozaki has been a pro golfer only three years. He was a pitcher in Japanese professional baseball leagues for several seasons before turning to golf, a fantastically popular sport in Japan.

And why the shift? "I like golf better," he said.

He's dominated the game in Japan, but has had indifferent success in brief appearances in the United States. He missed the cut for the final two rounds in last year's Masters but was a strong, 15th-place finisher in the Hawaiian Open in February.

"I doubt that he'll ever play the American tour regularly," said Moody. "He'd do it only if he wanted to prove to himself he can compete with the world's best."

"But if he just wants to make a living for his family, he'll stay right where he is. He makes a ton of money in Japan. A ton of it. He's just about the most famous athlete in Japan—maybe a couple of baseball players and sumo wrestlers are ahead of him—and he really cleans up on appearances and television and so on."

"And they've got a pretty good tour going in Japan and Asia. The monies is getting better all the time."

"He's so big (6 feet, 200 pounds) compared with the rest of them, nobody has a chance against him. I think he'll stay right where he is."

Cincinnati's Don Gullett was scheduled to deliver the first pitch of the 1973 baseball season today, giving the major leagues a two-week jump on last year.

You remember last year, when opening day was a little late—15 days late to be exact—because of the first player strike in history.

The only strikes this opening day were to be thrown by Gullett of the Reds and San Francisco's Juan Marichal, the opposing pitchers in today's only scheduled game.

The American League and its revolutionary designated player rule gets going Friday with five games scheduled. The remaining five NL openers, following Cincinnati's traditional early start, are also set for Friday and the final AL opener will be played Saturday.

Gullett, Cincinnati's babyfaced left-hander and Marichal, the grizzled ace of the San Francisco staff, had the starting jobs for today's opener between the Reds and Giants. But gloomy weather threatened the game with cloudy skies and showers predicted, possibly mixed with light snow.

Along with today's opener, the Texas Rangers and Cleveland Indians close out the exhibition season with a game at San Antonio, Tex.

In Wednesday night's exhibition action, the Indians stopped the Rangers 4-3 as Walt Williams collected four hits and Leo Cardenas knocked in two runs.

Elsewhere, the Los Angeles Dodgers stopped the Oakland A's 6-3; the Chicago Cubs beat the San Diego Padres 5-0; the California Angels nipped the Milwaukee Brewers 2-1; the New York Yankees clipped the New York Mets 3-2 and the Minnesota Twins topped the Houston Astros 6-4.

Rain washed out games between Baltimore and Atlanta, Montreal and Boston, St. Louis and Kansas City and the Chicago White Sox vs. the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Home runs by Steve Garvey and Willie Davis carried Los Angeles over Oakland. The consecutive shots off reliever Rollie Fingers in the sixth inning wiped out a 2-1 A's lead and the Dodgers later scored two more runs over Oakland's No. 1 fireman.

Vikings Delayed

Both D. H. Conley and Ayden-Grifton had track meets rained out yesterday.

They have been rescheduled as a single meet, to be held at South Lenoir on Friday. Visiting teams will include Conley, Ayden-Grifton and North Lenoir.

When the Big Ten basketball season reached the half-way mark, 17 freshmen had seen varsity action in conference games. Three of the men were fulltime starters.

Yonkers, N.Y., Raceway will have a 52-night harness racing meeting. It runs from May 25 through July 24.

Frank Robinson's Santurce Crabbers won the 1972-73 Puerto Rican League baseball title by beating Ponce, four games to one.

Bill Bonham, Bob Locker and Rick Reuschel combined for a five-hit shutout as the Cubs beat the Padres. Bonham allowed no hits in three innings, Locker one hit in four and Reuschel four hits in four.

Eighth-inning throwing errors by outfielder Ollie Brown and pitcher Bill Parsons enabled California to score two unearned runs and beat Milwaukee.

Reliever Fred Beene pitched out of a one-out, bases-loaded jam in the ninth inning to help the Yankees trim the Mets. Gerry Moses knocked in two runs for the Yankees, including one with a ninth-inning homer.

Bob Darwin drilled a three-run homer in the fifth inning to power Minnesota over Houston. In off-the-field action, Montreal sold infielder Hector Torres to Houston and Boston sent relief pitchers Ken Tatum and Don Newhauser.

Rookies, Vets Vie For Position

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Five established stars and two promising rookies were among drivers who opened practice at North Wilkesboro Speedway today for Sunday's Gwyn Staley 400 stock car race.

Among the older hands were Richard Petty, one of the great short-track performers of all time; Bobby Allison, Bobby Isaac, Cale Yarborough and Buddy Baker.

Yarborough, Baker and Allison figured to be the prime candidates for the front row pole position in Friday's first round of qualifying, when 15 drivers will earn starting positions in the 30-car field.

Petty, winner of nine races at the five-eighths of a mile banked oval in 23 starts, including the last three, almost never earns the pole position at Wilkesboro. "I just like to qualify well enough to keep the front row boys in sight," Petty has said many times. "At Wilkesboro and some of the shorter tracks, the idea is to never get so far behind that you can't draw a bead on first place."

The 250-mile race, worth $32,400 for three days of work, drew more than 40 entries. Only the 30 fastest will start. The prominent rookies are Lennie Pond of Petersburg, Va., and Canadian Vic Parsons.

Pond will be in a Chevrolet, Parsons in a Ford.

Also on hand to make his debut in stock car racing was Yvon DuHamel, a French-Canadian who has won the world motorcycle championship twice and is the reigning titleholder in snowmobiles.

DuHamel, a 5-5, 150-pounder, will drive a Ford owned by Junie Donlavey of Richmond, Va. Donlavey's car was driven last year by nine different drivers, including international Formula 1 star Jackie Oliver of Britain.

Yarborough will be making his first start at Wilkesboro in a Chevrolet owned by Junior Johnson, whose shops are located at Ronda, a few miles east of the track. Allison, breaking in his own Chevrolet team this year, drove for Johnson in 1972 and won $284,000.

Baker has a Dodge and Isaac a Ford powered by a 351 cubic inch engine, smallest on the Winston Cup Grand National circuit. It is expected to be a match for the larger engine machines on Wilkesboro's tricky banks and short straights, where sheer horsepower is a secondary factor.

Friday's qualifiers will shoot for Charlie Glotzbach's one-lap record of 107.558 miles per hour set in the spring of 1971.

Jaguars Rip Vikes

TARBORO — Farmville Central High School's tennis team rolled to a 9-0 victory over Tarboro High School yesterday. The Jaguars, in winning, boosted their record to 4-4 for the year.

Farmville completely dominated the match, not allowing a single set loss, and losing only a total of 12 games in the nine matches.

Farmville's next outing will be Monday, when they travel to Ahoskie.

Summary:
Chuck Finklea (FC) defeated David Cashwell, 6-0, 6-1.
Steve Warren (FC) defeated Joe Hunter, 6-2, 6-1.

Tommy Holloman (FC) defeated James Pate, 6-3, 6-0.
David Patterson (FC) defeated Robert Brock, 6-0, 6-0.
Bill Johnston (FC) defeated John Brooks, 6-0, 6-2.

Bill Skinner (FC) defeated Bryan Hargrove, 6-0, 6-1.

Finklea-Patterson (FC) defeated Hunter-Brock, 8-0.
Johnston-Barnett (FC) defeated Brooks-Pate, 8-0.

Holloman-Nate Fields (FC) defeated Leo Fanny-John Kemp, 8-2.

type' face, Crenshaw already has begun assembling an army of his own. Some predicted it might even out-yell Arnie's legions.

Palmer, 43, balding, bespectacled but still hypnotizing golf fans with his charm, acknowledged that he was relaxed, and hopeful.

"I feel good," said the jet-flying millionaire from Latrobe, Pa., winner of the Bob Hope Classic earlier this year. "I'm striking the ball well. Now if I can only putt."

Putting nerves have been Arnie's greatest hindrance.

Palmer strode onto the practice green with his long time rival, Nicklaus, and posed for pictures after Wednesday's final round.

"How are you playing?" Palmer asked.

"Just adequately," replied Nicklaus, with a grin.

"I've been doing something wrong," Palmer said, showing callouses on his left hand. "But I think I've fixed it."

Billy Casper, the 1970 winner, wasn't sure he'd fixed the pull in his back which forced him to stop practice abruptly Tuesday. "I'll try to play, but I can't guarantee anything," he said.

Trevino, British Open champion and the year's leading money winner, couldn't guarantee anything either.

"I just can't play this course," he moaned. "I've had two straight rounds of 78 in practice. The last eight rounds I've played, I haven't had one round under par."

Speculation on who, outside of Nicklaus, might win this time was limited. Bruce Crampton, the adopted Australian, has two tournament victories under his belt and is playing well. Tennessee's Lou Graham has missed first prize in the last three tournaments by a single stroke. Tom Weiskopf always plays well in the Masters but finds it hard to put a stopper on his temper fuse.

With Gary Player of South Africa for the first time in 16 years, the top foreign threats are Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina, Liang-Huan Lu, or Mr. Lu, of Taiwan and Peter Oosterhuis of England.

NOTICE

The Pitt County Board of Equalization and Review will meet in the commissioner's room in the Pitt County Courthouse, Monday, April 16, 1973 at 10:00 A.M. This is for the purpose of reviewing the assessed value placed on property in 1973 as determined by the revaluation conducted in accordance with the Laws of North Carolina. (G.S. 105-283-286-317) The board will hold additional meetings Monday, April 23 and Monday, April 30, 1973 and expects to complete its hearings at the April 30th meeting. In the event of a later adjournment, notice to that effect will be published in this paper.

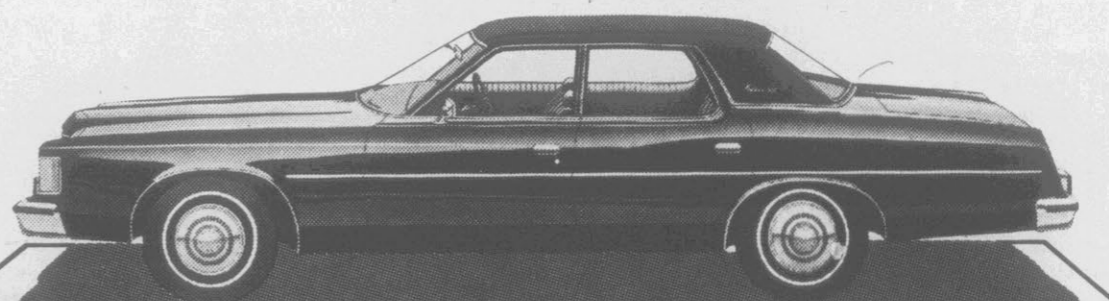

You may examine your appraisal on file in the office of the Tax Supervisor prior to the meeting of the board. If you feel the value placed on your property is not comparable with the value of similar property in the county, or that the value does not represent current market value, you may appear before the board and present your case.

For the convenience of you, the taxpayer, it is suggested you call the Tax Supervisor's Office, 752-4711, for an appointment with the Board of Equalization and Review. This will enable the tax department to have your records available with the least possible delay.

Very truly yours,
R. S. Moye
Tax Supervisor

The Effect On You Of No-Fault Insurance Plan

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — If North Carolina's General Assembly passes a no fault auto insurance plan this year, what will it mean to you and me?

In the first place the fine print in our auto liability insurance policies next year will read a little differently to reflect the no fault provisions.

If you or I have an accident, that's when we will see the real effect of the shift to the no fault concept.

If the General Assembly passes the no fault bill recommended by the Governor's Advisory Commission on Automobile Insurance and Rates this is what would happen:

We would report our troubles to our own insurance agents, and our own insurance company would pay regardless of who was at fault in the accident:

Up to $5,000 for medical expenses, lost income, and the cost of hiring someone to look after any children in the family while their parents were in the hospital.

Under the commission bill, you would not have the right to sue unless your total loss amounted to more than $5,000 or your medical expenses totaled more than $1,000.

If the General Assembly enacts the no fault plan recommended by the North Carolina Bar Association, you would be able to collect up to $6,000, regardless of who was at fault, for medical expenses, lost income, and the cost of hiring someone to look after the children while their parents were in the hospital.

Unlike the commission plan, a person could sue at any time under the bar association bill.

Sen. Gordon Allen, D-Person, a member of the study commission, said the commission bill is the only one that offers any prospect of reducing liability insurance rates.

"For a no fault bill to be a no fault bill you must remove some portion of the right to sue in order to eliminate lawyers' fees and to eliminate the overpayments of small claims," Allen said.

"The bar bill gives you everything you have now, that is the right to sue from the first dollar plus the $6,000," he added. "Therefore you cannot retain everything you have now plus $6,000 and expect a rate reduction."

"The study commission considered the bar plan plus the other versions of no fault, modified no fault and add on plans such as the bar plan and rejected them in favor of the North Carolina plan which is similar to the Florida plan that has worked so well."

Rep. R. C. Soles Jr., D-Columbus, who sponsored the bar plan said he considers it superior to the commission plan "and I was aware of the commission plan before I introduced the bar plan."

"In my opinion, none of the plans before the General Assembly are going to reduce the premiums," he added. "I think the premium rate with the bar plan will be substantially the same as the premium rate with the commission plan because I feel there will be no more suits brought under the bar plan than the commission plan ..."

"However, there are from time to time cases where justice requires from have his day in court no matter whether he has a $50 hospital bill or a $2,500 hospital bill."

Soles added. "Therefore, the bar plan is more advantageous because it never deprives the injured party of the inherent right to have his loss considered by a jury."

Three From Pitt Among Honored

GREENSBORO — Three students from Pitt County were among the 396 juniors honored at a special Junior Scholar Reception on campus Thursday at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

They were: Pamela A. Carter, early childhood education major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Carter of Greenville; Laura S. Robbins, English major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Robbins, Greenville; and Rebecca J. Bosley, major undecided, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Bosley, Grifton.

The junior scholars were invited to the reception on the basis of their academic achievements at UNC-G. The students were informed of the opportunities for graduate level studies.

Prominent Role At Annual Meet

Dr. John R. Ball, chairman of the East Carolina University Department of Social Work and Correctional Services, was prominent in the program at a recent Council on Social Work Education meeting in San Francisco.

The meeting, an annual convention of the Council's House of Delegates, featured an address by Dr. Ball on "Undergraduate Job Development and Certification," and a panel discussion which he moderated.

Experiences Of POW Brought Him Closer To God

By Capt. Jeremiah A. Denton Jr., USN
Associated Press Writer

In looking back over all the challenges and trials of my experience as a POW, I believe the spiritual sustenance attained through others' prayers, and my own, was the most important factor in my survival.

There was a time in October 1966, while I was at the Zoo (a POW camp) in torture, when I just turned myself over to God and I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life.

A persuasive but sinister officer had put pressure on me to stop inciting the others. He finally gave up on the soft approach and had me put in a torture rig for five days. It was very painful. He wanted me to write something about the communications system between the prisoners in the camp.

At the end of five days I wrote something harmless about communications which I knew wouldn't give away anything they already didn't know. I hoped they would accept it because they would have saved face by getting me to write just something. But they didn't buy it.

They put me back in the same rig for five more days and that was the time at which I simply told God He would just have to take over.

I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life. As soon as I got that prayer out, this mantle of comfort came over me and I couldn't feel any more pain. Even when they beat the hell out of me and tightened up right to the maximum, I was just as comfortable as if I were sitting in a plush auto.

Despite all the torture and mistreatment we received as prisoners of war, I would not now personally oppose reconstruction aid to North Vietnam, as I understand it is envisioned by the president.

I think that such aid would be world-recognized as an act taken in the interests of peace, containing some element of Christian forgiveness.

And I regret that we did not use more shock in the initial application of military force during the war.

By escalating slowly as we did, we simply conditioned the North Vietnamese rather than shocking them with the full import of our resolve and the fullness of belief in our cause.

I believe they value quite highly the aid they might get from the United States, which could remove the stimulus that the DRV government may feel to grab aggressively for some necessities.

If they didn't have that necessity, I doubt that, even with the tight security situation, the people would support a DRV government effort to rouse the people to more bloodletting, especially with U.S. resolve finally having been demonstrated.

Also in many respects the prospects of Southeast Asian war seem to have been overcome by events through the establishment of rapport between the United States and China and better U.S.-Russian relations.

The 'Worry Clinic' The Difference In Definitions

Andy is a Hungarian immigrant who was 3 times imprisoned in Nazi concentration camps. So be sure all teen-agers get his valuable distinction between "Liberals" vs. "Conservatives." For European liberals should become American conservatives!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D.
CASE W-570: Andy R., aged 44, is a sales engineer. "Dr. Crane" he began, "I came to America 25 years ago from Budapest in Hungary.

"During World War II, I was imprisoned 3 times by the Nazis in concentration camps but escaped twice.

"That third time I would have been killed except for the end of the war.

"But I now notice a vast difference concerning the terms 'liberal' and 'conservative' here in America.

"For in Europe, the liberals are trying to wrest freedom of speech, freedom of religion and freedom of public assembly from their dictator governments. "Over there, the conservatives work to maintain those dictatorships.

"So when immigrants reach America, they seem to think they should still be liberals!" "Yet here in the U. S. A. the meanings of those terms are exactly reversed.

"For American conservatives are really trying to preserve those inalienable rights and liberties codified in the Constitution.

"But the American liberals, alas, are trying to destroy the very freedoms that the European liberals were so eager to obtain!

"Dr. Crane, please warn your readers that American conservatives are dedicated to preserve our liberties while American liberals are leading us to the Russian and Red Chinese types of dictatorships!"

"Conserve" Means "Preserve" Andy's explanation should help explain to millions of Americans the illogical behavior of many minority groups.

For they came to America to enjoy those unique freedoms codified in our Constitution.

"And the American Constitution," said brilliant British Prime Minister Gladstone, "is the greatest document ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man!"

It offers the major hope of mankind in the political realm! Coerced residents of East Berlin and other oppressed peoples behind the Iron Curtain, as well as the Bamboo Curtain, look to America as the Mecca of their hopes and dreams.

Yet many of the ringleaders of the liberals who now promote riots and sabotage, are immigrants or the first generation children thereof!

"Dr. Crane," I am often asked, "why shouldn't every immigrant be rabid in trying to conserve our Constitution's famous freedoms?"

Well, Andy has neatly explained the basic reason!

For "Liberal" in Europe means exactly the same as "conservative" in America.

Alas, the European "conservative" is an advocate of monarchy or dictatorship and oppression.

So let's get our high schoolers properly straightened out on this point.

Which means we must also remind them that this is a Republic and not a democracy, as former Chief Justice John Marshall so ably warned us.

"Democracy," said John Marshall, "is mobocracy." In the "Salute to the Flag" we thus pledge allegiance to the Republic for which that flag stands (not to a democracy)!

So send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. Get it into all high schools!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Twenty Entries For Shad Queen

GRIFTON — Twenty Grifton girls will compete for the title of Shad Queen at the third annual Shad Queen Pageant Friday, April 13.

The pageant will be the opening event of the three-day shad festival in Grifton and will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the Grifton School gymnasium.

A Queen's Ball will follow from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 a.m. in the school auditorium. The ball is limited to adults and older student couples. Music will be furnished by the Pride and Joy Band.

Candidates and their sponsors are: Kelly Reeves, Grifton Sport Shop; Judy Paget, J. A. Rogers

Furniture, Inc.; Jane Howes, Grifton Extension Homemakers; Jessica Fleming, Lorraine's Hairstyling; Lucretia Waters, Grifton Insurance Agency; Judy Rose, Grifton Rescue Squad; Emily Herring, Cameron's Pharmacy; Geva Davis, Grifton Pioneer 4-H Club; Jackie Carson, Piggly Wiggly; Debra Wiley, Avery Exterminating;

Bunny Davis, Hart Brothers; Kay Bright, First Federal Savings and Loan Association; Bettye Carol Chapman, Grifton Giants; Lynn Carraway, First Citizens Bank and Trust Co.; Sue Haseley, Grifton Auto Parts; Jackie Pilkington, Red and White; Wanda Adams, Grifton

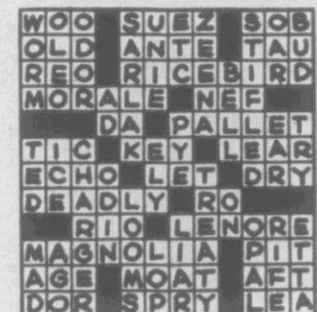

Plumbing, Heating and Gas Co.; Gloria Nelson, Grifton Disciples of Christ Church; Pam Campbell, H & H Drug Co.; and Loeda Harper, A&H Automotive and Horton Engineering.

The candidates, between the ages of 16 and 21, will appear in casual attire and in formal wear for the pageant. The queen will officially open all other festival events and will be awarded a crown, cash prize and a trophy. Trophies will be presented to first and second runners-up and to Miss Congeniality.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A marvelous day to extend your activities beyond their present range. Almost anything you do can have a successful termination by using good judgment. You now have an abundance of energy and logical reasoning power.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Meet with regular associates and state your aims. This will bring mutual advancement. Make the appointments early for best results where business contacts are concerned.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get together early with business experts and find the right way to advance more quickly in the future. Use good judgment and get the right results. You can benefit from today's activity.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you adopt a different attitude, you can gain the personal aims that have been difficult in the past. Show that you have true intelligence. Know what you want and then take the right steps.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listen to what experts have to say and have greater progress in the near future. Don't confide your good ideas to questionable people. Follow your intuitive hunches for best results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can easily gain the aid of allies so that you become more successful. Attend the social which can be helpful to your particular ambitions. Avoid one who has an axe to grind.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Higher-ups are looking kindly toward your work and you could be in line for a raise if you are especially conscientious. Study your position well and do whatever will improve it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are now able to go after your highest aspirations and in a most decisive way. Distant events give you an opportunity to get ahead fast. Don't lose your temper with others. Be calm.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Know what it is that kin expect of you and carry through cheerfully so they are pleased. Improve your interests by looking into the future and taking the right steps now. State your aims.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Talk with associates and gain mutual aims with ease. Get busy on that paper work that is vital to your future progress. Don't permit others to waste your valuable time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A new attitude toward finances can bring you the fine success you want, so put your intellect to work. If you are in doubt about handling a problem, talk it over with an expert.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can get started on any new outlet that appeals to you and has a promise of success. Put that special talent of yours to work and you win out. Turn bad luck into good luck.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) After a confusing day in the outside world, closet yourself where you can make notes of good ideas and think about the future. Suggestions from others can help you get ahead faster.

ace, led a small heart to the jack and then played dummy's queen of spades. When the jack and nine dropped, he had nine tricks—four spades, two hearts, two diamonds and one club.

At the other table, everything started out the same—declarer held off on the first round of diamonds, won the continuation and then cashed the ace of spades. West had been doing some thinking, however, and observing that his opponent would routinely bring in the spade suit if left to his own resources, West decided that desperate measures were in order to steer South off the course.

He dropped the king of spades under the ace to create the impression that he had a singleton. It appeared to declarer that there was no future in spades inasmuch as the suit seemed to be divided five-one. He looked elsewhere for the required tricks and clubs offered a reasonable chance. Six tricks can be counted in the other suits—two each in spades, hearts and diamonds. Repeated finesse thru East will secure three more in clubs, provided that the latter holds either the king or jack.

A heart was led to the ten and ducked by East. The nine of clubs was returned for a finesse. West was in with the jack and cleared the diamond suit. Another heart was led, and this time East played the ace and came back with a club. South put in the ten and West won with the king and cashed the eight of diamonds for the setting trick.

The bidding:

East South West North

Pass 1 ♦ Pass 1 ♠

Pass 2 NT Pass 3 NT

Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♦

Today's hand produced a rather surprising swing when it was dealt in a recent team-of-four contest. The bidding was identical at both tables and South became declarer at a final contract of three no trump.

At one table, West opened the ten of diamonds and after this was covered by dummy's jack and East's queen, the latter was permitted to hold the trick when South followed with the deuce. A diamond was continued by East and declarer played the king which won.

The ace of spades was cashed followed by a small spade. West put up the king on the second round and returned the nine of diamonds to dislodge South's ace.

A small heart was led to dummy's ten and East was in with the ace. He shifted to a club. South put up the

THE PHANTOM
YOU SAY YOUR MOTHER HATES THE JUNGLE PATROL?
HMM... DID YOU KNOW YOUR FATHER, SPIKE?
ER... NO. HE WAS A SAILOR—MOTHER SAID—
A SAILOR?—WHAT ELSE ABOUT HIM?
SIR... WHAT'S ALL THIS—GOT TO DO WITH ME—IN THE PATROL?
EVERYTHING, ANSWER!
NOT HATES, SHE JUST ACTED STRANGE ABOUT IT...

JULIET JONES
AND YOU THINK THAT IF YOU START ALL OVER AGAIN... ONE DAY YOU WILL FIGHT AGAIN?
LOOK... I FACE EL TORO... MY HAND DOES NOT SHAKE... I LOOK HIM IN THE EYE...
... I TURN MY BACK... AND MY KNEES DO NOT TURN TO WATER... SHAKE? YES... THEY SHAKE... BUT SOON... PERHAPS THEY WILL STOP SHAKING.

Linda Hargrove Found Nashville Success No Snap

By ALAN WILSON
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "I came here thinking it'd be a snap. Boy, I got snapped down."

When Linda Hargrove recalled those hard times of three years ago it was like drawing a verbal picture of what happens time and again to those wandering souls who trudge into Music City USA every day from all over the country. Of course, all of them just know they're going to be stars overnight.

Linda isn't rare in the sense that she's stuck it out. Many music artists like herself have done that. And, like herself, many of them had to do it without money.

What does make her rare is a brand of singing and song-writing which mixes simple lyrics with a deep narrative message.

"When I write a song, I try to write what I feel, but in relation to what somebody else might identify with," said Linda, who three years ago came to Nashville from Tallahassee, Fla.

"There's nobody in the world that doesn't feel some kind of music. Even a deaf person can keep his own beat," the 24-year-old brunette said as she rhythmically tapped her leg.

"You can't be selfish with songs. Creating them for yourself is like getting wrapped up in your own ego. I just want to make people smile or laugh or cry."

For a brush with all three emotions, try listening to her latest song, "When He Leads His Lambs Away," a story about Jesus and what Linda hopes are brighter days to come. It'll be on her first album, to be released sometime in May on the Electra label.

"I read the Bible a lot," said Linda. Beside her was her leather purse, which carried a miniature Bible.

"I just love Jesus Christ. I was reading a book of the Prophets and that song came to me. That's one I didn't have to write. It just came through me."

"I used to write between the lines," she went on. "But as I've developed as a writer I found people don't like to have to think hard about a song. The simpler the better."

"That's the influence of country music because country music has always laid it on the line. My influence, lyrically, has come from country music."

Linda, whose upbringing was "regular ole middle class," was first inspired musically through a rock band in which her brother played in Tallahassee.

"I'd written a few songs, but I wasn't really serious about it," she reminisced. Her brother took one of her songs and, after putting music to it, his group cut it. Later, when the band made its first album, Linda had written lyrics to five of the songs and music to two others.

"I was still living at home then," she said. "So, it all seemed so easy. I said, 'Boy, if you can get songs cut like that, it'll be a snap.'"

The next step, naturally, was to come to Nashville and give it a go.

"I came here thinking it's be a snap. Boy, I got a waitress and I was really depressed. I didn't want to do it, but it's part of paying dues," she said, noting that a short time later she got a clerk job.

"When the hard realities of the music business started striking me, I began to doubt myself. But everyone said, 'You gotta pay your dues.'"

"I got sick of hearing that. But I found out it's the truth. I guess I'll be paying dues for the rest of my life."

Linda's realistic attitude has as much to do with the impact of her writing as anything else, but so do her friends.

"Mainly I get my song ideas just from people around me. I try to put myself in their place and feel as they feel," she said. No matter where her inspiration comes from, one thing's for certain. Linda represents a new breed of female artists in Nashville, the kind that have a lot to offer in a world of music that many say already has been exploited to its fullest.

"Just by the thinnest of threads I've always managed to hold on," she said. "And, of course, faith in the good Lord helped me through."

Post Office Has Carrier Opening

The U. S. Post Office is now accepting applications for the position of substitute rural carrier for the Greenville Post Office.

A written examination is required in order to establish a register of eligible persons from which future part-time vacancies will be filled.

Applications for the examination can be obtained at the main post office on W. Second Street and must be submitted no later than April 11.

For further information, interested persons may contact the local post office.
