Dorms Face Closing

It looks now as if Slay and Ragsdale Dormitories at East Carolina University will be closed next fall, Vice Chancellor of Business Affairs Clifton Moore said.

"There are just too many vacancies to warrant the continued operations of these dorms," Moore said. "Dormitory operation has to be paid for out of room rent money and it would be a waste to continue to maintain the utilities and salaries needed to keep these dorms open."

Slay, built in 1949, is now a men's resident, though it has been a women's dorm most of its years. Ragsdale, built in 1923 and renovated in 1953, is a women's resident. Both are near the center of campus.

Moore said there are no immediate plans for either building. "Dormitory use is a flexible thing," he said, "so there's always the possibility we'll have to bring Ragsdale and Slay in service later on."

In Recycling Business

RALEIGH (AP)—The 17 Anheuser-Busch beer distributors in North Carolina soon will be in the recycling business.

Reynolds Metals Co. is building a recycling plant in Richmond, Va., to weight and shred aluminum cans. After May 1, the public will be asked to redeem cans at the 17 Anheuser-Busch wholesalers, which will act as collection points for the recycling network.

Bob Holloway, Southeastern public relations man for Reynolds, said a pound of aluminum, about 25 cans, will bring 10 cents.

The wholesalers are in Charlotte, Durham, Elizabeth City, Fayetteville, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Hickory, New Bern, North Wilkesboro, Raleigh, Rockingham, Salisbury, Sanford, Tarboro, Wilmington, Wilson and Winston-Salem.

Gasoline Supply Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government spokesman says gasoline inventories have dropped to their lowest point this year and hinted of possible shortages this summer if refineries do not increase production.

He said there is "an extremely tight inventory situation" developing on the East Coast and in Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast areas where gasoline stocks last week were 15 per cent below a year ago.

Darrell M. Trent, acting director of the president's Office of Emergency Preparedness, Thursday said gasoline inventories dropped to 212 million barrels and added that U.S. refinery operations last week dropped to 88.7 per cent of capacity.

"If significant localized shortages and market disruptions are to be minimized, it is imperative that refineries increase production to a level closer to operating capacities and to concentrate a larger share of the yield to gasoline," he said.

Pioneer II To Jupiter

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Pioneer 11 spacecraft raced on a near-perfect course today for Jupiter, with a chance it later might explore the ringed planet Saturn.

The 570-pound, $48 million payload rocketed away from Cape Kennedy Thursday night on a 620-million-mile interplanetary trail which its twin, Pioneer 10, started blazing 13 months ago.

year later is to scout a different area of this largest planet in the solar system.

Scientists hope they will find support for a theory that Jupiter has hidden beneath its swirling clouds chemical elements which constitute the building blocks of life.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported after Thursday night's launch that the nation's newest space probe would require only a brief motor firing on Monday to put it on target.

Set Education Policy

RALEIGH (AP)—The state Board of Education has approved the concept of career education as official policy. But at the same time it emphasized the importance of teaching basic academic skills.

The chairman of a career education task force, George Kahdy, said the Department of Public Instruction would now work with the concept in a "careful and deliberate way, on an experimental basis."

While endorsing the concept Thursday, the board approved a special resolution written by its chairman, Dallas Herring. It emphasized that teaching of occupational skills should be supplementary to basic academic training in career education.

Occupational training should not "permeate the entire curriculum as some national leaders have suggested," Herring said.

Legal Defense Ordinance Argued Council Votes Policy Measures

An ordinance to establish a policy for the city to provide defense of city employees and officers subject to specified conditions and approval of legal counsel for defendants in a current suit against the city were both passed at the April meeting of the City Council Thursday night.

The action followed some rather stormy moments, first denying Rev. Elbert Williams permission to make statements, then relenting and giving Williams five minutes to speak.

As on past occasions, Williams challenged the right of the City Council to spend taxpayer's money for such defense. City Attorney David Reid said that general statutes of North Carolina made this action legal, with or without a written policy statement.

The policy adopted last night defines the city's role to provide defense for employees and officers on actions proceeding directly or indirectly from an act or omission made, or allegedly made, while the employee is acting in an official capacity. The policy also covers former employees or officers.

The inclusion of former employees or officers was questioned by councilman John Taylor. Taylor said he interpreted this inclusion as meaning that a situation could conceivably arise where the city would be furnishing defense to an employee whom the city had fired for some violation. Taylor asked for clarification of this point.

Mayor West said "These same questions have come up meeting after meeting. I'm getting tired of it. I believe we have enough people here ready to pass it."

The mayor then called for a vote. The ordinance was approved by a vote of four for and three against. Voting for the ordinance were Mayor S. Eugene West, councilwoman Mrs. Mildred McGrath, and councilmen Dr. Frank Fuller and Percy Cox. Two councilmen, William Dansey and Clarence Gray, cast no votes; and councilman John Taylor abstained.

The qualifying condition in the ordinance reads: "Nothing, however, in this section shall be deemed to require the City to provide for the defense... of any nature when the city is directly or indirectly an adverse party or where the City's interest is adverse to that of such employee or officer so as to create a conflict of interest between the City and such employee or officer."

Approval of city funds to engage legal counsel for the defense of Police Chief Glenn Cannon and Officers Charles Williamson and David Bullock in the suit filed on behalf of the estate of the late Mr. Connie James was also approved with a split vote. On this motion, Gray cast a vote and Taylor abstained.

One of the three defendants, Williamson, resigned from the Greenville Police Department effective March 17 and is now employed with the Beaufort County Sheriff's Department. Attorneys Louis W. Gaylord, Jr. and M.E. Cavendish have been retained for the defense.

In reconsidering the matter of municipal elections, the council voted to rescind its former decision based on Plan A, which would provide for the city handling its own elections, with office space and a full time permanent registrar.

In adopting Plan D, under which the city will still conduct its own elections, a stipulation was made that a full time registrar be employed at City Hall until the time of the fall 1973 elections.

Some of the reasons given for wanting a registrar in city hall in the immediate future are that some citizens would be reluctant to register in the building now earmarked by the county as a future registration office—the ABC building on the corner of Second and Cotanche Street. It is feared that the "image" of going to a building that formerly housed an ABC establishment would deter some citizens from registering. Councilman Taylor added that other citizens entertain the same "image" about the Court House and would not go there to register.

Scheduled Raleigh Flights Proffered

Officials of the State of North Carolina met here Thursday with the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and city, county and industry leaders to discuss the possibility of commuter air service between Raleigh and Greenville.

J.T. Snowden Jr., chairman of the Transportation and the Pitt-Greenville Airport Authority, James T. Little Jr., commented, "This is one of the most significant events to transpire at our airport since its construction. The Airport Authority is prepared to offer its services in any manner possible to support such an important service to this area."

Warren Wheeler, president of the airline, explained that initially two round trips a day are proposed, but he noted that if a market study to be conducted by the Chamber of Commerce indicates a demand, more flights would be added to the schedule.

Snowden said that, "We were pleased at the response at the meeting Thursday. Pending the results of the survey, we hope to start this commuter service in the very near future."

James Shaw, representing the state, and Burt Zimbrich of the Coastal Plains Regional Commission, told the group that if a reasonable market exists, Wheeler Airlines of Raleigh could be offered commission assistance to demonstrate the feasibility of a commuter air service between the two cities.

Rumors Fly Over Next Nominee For FBI Job

By TOM SEPPY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Justice Department official, a former Illinois governor and a Los Angeles judge are among those being rumored as possible successors to L. Patrick Gray III as director of the FBI.

President Nixon concluded Thursday night that the Senate would not accept Gray, his first choice, who apparently fell victim to the Watergate bugging case.

Nixon announced from the Western White House that he acceded to a request by Gray and withdrew his name because "it is obvious that Mr. Gray's nomination will not be confirmed by the Senate."

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon has not decided on a successor and that the preliminary screening of possible nominees has not even begun.

Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, who expressed deep disappointment that Gray was not confirmed, was quoted as saying that the administration has no names lined up as alternative choices.

But during Gray's month-long appearances before the Senate Judiciary Committee, several names were mentioned in Washington rumor mills.

More Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total number of Americans at work increased sharply in March while the unemployment rate dropped slightly, as the economy continued to expand, the Labor Department reported today.

Total employment rose by 700,000 over the month to an all-time high of 83.9 million on a seasonally adjusted basis, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The total number of unemployed workers edged down to 4.37 million for a seasonally adjusted rate of 5 per cent of the work force. This was down one-tenth of one per cent from February's level, the report said.

The report said the number of workers without jobs last month declined about in line with usual February-to-March movements. The rate has been basically unchanged since last November but had declined by about 700,000 from a year ago.

Board Post To Prescott

C. Eugene (Gene) Prescott was approved as the new member of the Greenville Utilities Commission following two rounds of voting at the City Council's meeting Thursday night.

C. EUGENE PRESCOTT

The appointment of new commissioner opened when Councilman John Taylor asked that the matter be taken off the table. At March's meeting, council members had been unable to come to a decision, with three candidates nominated and none receiving a majority vote.

The three—who were again voted on at last night's meeting are: Prescott, Miss Gwen Potter, and Frederick Phillips.

On the first round of voting, Prescott received three votes—from council members Clarence Gray, William Dansey and Percy Cox; Miss Potter received two—from D. Frank Fuller and Mrs. Mildred McGrath; and Phillips received the vote of John Taylor.

On the second round, Taylor cast his vote for Prescott, giving Prescott the majority vote needed for approval for the five year term.

Prescott, a certified public accountant with the firm of Worsley, Farley and Prescott, is a native of Snow Hill. He is a graduate of East Carolina University with a BA degree on accounting.

Prescott served with the 11th Airborne Infantry Division in the U. S. Army from 1954 to 1957, and is married to the former Adell Taylor of Richlands. The Prescotts are the parents of three young children, Jeff, 9, Gina, 7, and Jason, 3.

A member of the Greenville Jaycees since 1961, he has held a number of posts in that organization, including president in 1968-69. In 1966 he was recipient of the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award and the same year was recognized as one of the three most outstanding young men in North Carolina in Jaycee work. The new utilities commissioner is a member of Memorial Baptist Church; a member of the Board of Trustees of the Boys Home at Lake Waccamaw; of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchant's Association, and the Board of Directors of the ECU Pirates Club.

In professional circles he is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the N. C. Association of Certified Public Accountants, and other professional organizations.

A second appointment approved at last night's meeting was that of William E. Fuqua, Jr. as a member of the Greenville Parking Authority for a five year period. Fuqua fills the unexpired term of Robert R. Browning, who resigned after receiving an appointment to the State Highway Commission. Browning had served only a short time after his appointment.

ECU Med School Referendum Bill Is Introduced

RALEIGH—Edgecombe County Representative Larry Eagles yesterday introduced a bill in the State House of Representatives calling for a statewide referendum on the proposed four-year medical school at East Carolina University.

cellor, Dr. Leo Jenkins or other officials of the school.

"This," he said, "is something that I've done because I feel that more doctors are needed in the state and this is one way of getting them."

"It's not a regional bill, but a statewide bill," Eagles said, adding that in his opinion, the proposal would get the support of Piedmont and Western voters as well as those in the East.

University of North Carolina has asked the General Assembly to delay any action on a second state-supported four-year medical school until a study is completed on the question.

A five-member board of experts is currently conducting a study for the Board of Governors on the question of need for a second state-supported medical school and on where it should be located if one is needed.

That report is due in September.

Eagles' bill would allow the governor to pick a date in 1973 or 1974 for a statewide referendum on a $50 million bond issue to finance expansion of the one-year referendum on a $50 million bond issue to finance expansion of the one-year program to a four-year medical school.

Signers of the bill, in addition to Eagles, include: Representatives Gerald Arnold, D-Harnett; Chris Barker, D-Craven; A. Hartwell Campbell, D-Wilson; Nancy Chase, D-Wayne; J.M. Gardner, D-Johnston; Fred Hutchins, R-Forsyth; and Richard James, D-Onslow.

The Board of Governors of the South Vietnamese government today reported more attacks on the defenses around Hue, an artillery attack in the Mekong Delta and continued shelling of a ranger base 50 miles north of Saigon.

Among those killed was a regimental commander, hit during a rocket and mortar attack at Kien Hung, in the delta 120 miles southwest of Saigon. Five other officers and 16 enlisted men were wounded when a barrage slammed into the regimental headquarters.

In the northern part of the country, more than 300 mortar rounds hit government positions west, northwest and southwest of Hue in a day-long barrage Thursday.

siege for six weeks, and the command has stopped reporting casualties there. But the last figures given were at least 14 killed and more than 100 wounded.

It was the first bill introduced during this session of the General Assembly on the controversial question.

Other House members signing the measure were: Vernon James, D-Pasquotank; W. P. Kemp, D-Wayne; Daneil Lilly, D-Lenoir; James Love, D-Lee; J.F. Mohn, D-Onslow; Liston Ramsey, D-Madison; Guy Revelle, D-Northampton; Bobby Rogers, D-Vance; Gus Speros, D-Robeson; and William Watkins, D-Granville.

South Vietnamese casualties of 100 dead and 434 wounded were reported for the past two days. Communist losses were not reported.

Among those killed was a regimental commander, hit during a rocket and mortar attack at Kien Hung, in the delta 120 miles southwest of Saigon. Five other officers and 16 enlisted men were wounded when a barrage slammed into the regimental headquarters.

The ranger camp at Tong le Chan, 50 miles north of Saigon, was pounded with nearly 250 artillery and mortar rounds during the past 24 hours, the command reported. It has been under the International Commission of Control and Supervision discussed the situation at Tong le Chan during a marathon session Thursday. Afterward one source said there appeared to be no way the group could agree to act to stop the Communist attack.

Mrs. Hathaway Is Named Outstanding Clubwoman

Mrs. Melvin Hathaway, a member of the Junior Woman's Club of Greenville, was named "Outstanding Junior Clubwoman of the Year" for District 15.

The award was made Wednesday in Rocky Mount during annual Junior Day. Mrs. Hathaway was presented a silver bowl by Mrs. Stuart Savage in recognition of the honor.

Mrs. Hathaway will compete on state level at Junior Day to be held during the NCFWC Convention, May 8-11, in Asheville. She is immediate past, first vice president of the Greenville Club and was named as the club's outstanding member last year. She was overall chairman of the club sponsored Antique Show and Sale held last October.

The announcement of the award was also made at the Wednesday night meeting of the local club.

Attending Junior Day from Greenville were Mrs. Bill Fugua, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. Bill James, Mrs. Bob Swinson and Mrs. Hathaway.

Mrs. Frances Crawley, East District supervisor for Children's Home Society, presented the program. A film was shown entitled "Each One Is Special," which was sponsored by Junior Women's Clubs throughout the state.

Mrs. James Shirley introduces the speaker and announced that the club was giving $25 to Children's Home Society. A question and answer period followed the film.

Mrs. Swanson, president, presided during the dinner meeting, which was held at Peppi's Pizza Den. She welcomed new members and the following guests were introduced, Mrs. Arthur Fletcher, Mrs. Jim O'Brien, Mrs. David Wamak and Miss Diana Williams.

DISTRICT AWARD . . . is presented to Mrs. Melvin Hathaway, right, by Mrs. Stuart Savage.

The following department reports were given: Home Life, Mrs. Shirley, who said that the evenings film had also been shown to county school guidance counselors and that an Easter party will be held at Caswell Center, Kinston, on Saturday, April 21, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Matt Gustafson, Education, announced that Elbert Tien, son of Mrs. Hsia-Fen Tien, won the National Library Week poster contest, which was sponsored for children of club members;

International Affairs, Mrs. James, reported that a bridge-canasta benefit for CARE had been planned for Wednesday, April 11, at 8 p.m. at the Woman's Club building. The admission will be $1.00 per person;

Mrs. Samuel Cos, Conservation, welcomed new department members and told the members that three dogwood trees had been planted in Green Springs Park. Public Affairs, Mrs. W. H. Collier, told of members delivering various articles to ARC and of taking magazines to the Pitt County Jail and to a T. B. Hospital in South Carolina.

In reporting for the Arts Department, Mrs. Swinson told of attending the State Arts Festival in Winston-Salem. A special projects report was presented by Mrs. Vuga.

Mrs. Bill Bruner, overall chairman of the "To Greenville, With Love" follies, called for reports from the following: Mrs. James Card; Mrs. James Taylor; Mrs. Collier; Mrs. Swinson; Mrs. C. S. Coggins; Mrs. Scrappy Proctor; Mrs. Gustafson; Mrs. Paul Breitman; Billy Jenkins; and Mrs. Bob Darlington.

Mrs. Swinson announced that a call meeting would be held Wednesday, April 25, at the Woman's Club building beginning at 8 p.m.

Overeater Finds Someone Who Cares

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My name is Albert and I am a compulsive overeater. Three years ago I weighed 305 pounds. I was in debt to the tune of $8,000, my marriage was on the rocks, and I was about to lose my job. Overeating was the cause of all my problems, but I didn't know it then.

I had tried reducing clubs three times, diet doctors, quack doctors, shots, pills, and even hypnosis. One diet doctor put me on pills and shots and I lost 100 pounds in seven months. In less than six months I had put it all back on again. [It cost me $1,500.]

Then someone told me about Overeaters Anonymous and I went to a meeting. There were signs all over the place saying, "WE CARE."

Abby, I have never met a more loving, caring bunch of people in my life. I couldn't believe it. The only requirement to join "O.A." is a desire to stop eating compulsively. There are no dues, and nobody is weighed in, or humiliated. You don't even have to attend meetings if you don't want to. I can only tell you that after that first meeting I felt that God had sent me there.

Today, I weigh 180 pounds, am debt free, have money in the bank, and my marriage is more secure than ever. I've even returned to my church where I was ashamed to go for years because I felt so unworthy.

Overeaters Anonymous is strictly that. No last names are used, but I will sign mine and you may check me out. That organization has done so much for me I want to let others know about it so they can be born again. Because that's what happened to me. ALBERT IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR ALBERT: Not only did I check you out, I personally spoke with several members of "O. A." and every word you wrote is true. Anyone interested in learning more about this wonderful organization [there are chapters all over the U. S.] may write to: Overeaters Anonymous, P.O. Box 2613, Hollywood, Calif., 90028.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has made it plain that he prefers the television set to me. Several of my women friends have the same complaint. What could be the reason for this? IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Maybe it's because he can turn off the television when he wants to.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married for 26 years. My wife works by choice, not because she has to. Every morning she gets up at 5 a. m. Her office hours do not begin until 8 a. m. and we live only 20 minutes from her office, so you see there is no need for her to get up at that hour.

Here is the clincher: She bathes, dresses, and sits in the kitchen playing solitaire from 5:40 until it's time to leave for the office.

It's been the same every morning with the exception of Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. Am I married to some kind of nut? OHIO

DEAR OHIO: What's nutty about your wife's routine if she isn't able to sleep beyond 5 a. m.? If she doesn't disturb you, why complain?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PUZZLED IN HOPE, ARKANSAS:" You are under no obligation to send the price of a gift instead of a gift. People who ask for CASH instead of wedding gifts are presumptuous. [Suggestion: Why don't you and six other people get together and send Amy Vanderbilt's new book on etiquette? I can think of no gift more appropriate.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Author's Luncheon Speaker Selected

The 37th annual Author's Luncheon, sponsored by the Greenville Woman's Club, will be held at the club house on Saturday, April 28, beginning at 1 p.m.

Sixteen traveling awards in the Creative Writing Contest will be presented to this year's winners. Four new awards have been added this year.

Mrs. Ruby Paschall Shackleford, professor of English and teacher of creative writing at Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Shackleford has published articles in several educational magazines and has had four books of poems published. She is active in Delta Kappa Gamma, Eastern Star and NCAE.

Mrs. Ruby P. Shackleford

Her program topic will be entitled "The Capital T."

Book clubs planning to attend the luncheon should purchase tickets from Mrs. J. Con Lanier, 405 Lewis St., telephone, 758-1727, no later than April 23.

Award winners and others desiring to attend may purchase tickets from Mrs. Dink James or Mrs. Lanier by April 23. Tickets will not be available at the door.

N. Greenville Improvement Funds Chance Slim

Chances of getting federal funds in the future to improve a deteriorated section of North Greenville seem very slim, if not altogether out of the question. This was revealed at the April meeting of the City Council on Thursday night when City Manager William Carstarphen noted that Councilman Percy Cox had indicated to him that a number of people in North Greenville have expressed a strong interest in street improvements.

At the present time, the area in question, located between the west side of North Greene Street and the Pitt County Fair Grounds, is one with narrow, ill-defined unpaved streets.

In the past couple of years, hopes have been expressed that this area would become eligible for a federal assistance program.

"When we brought the area into the city, we were planning on it as a rehabilitation area," Cox said. "That now seems a good way off. It looks like the city will have to start street improvements on its own."

City engineers C.A. Holliday says "Storm drainage is a major factor in that area. Of the estimated $300,000 plus that will be needed to improve streets, some $78,000 of that amount is required for storm drainage."

Mayor S. Eugene West revealed he had talked to government officials in Washington (D.C.) on Tuesday. "I was told," the mayor commented, "that the Southside Project would likely be the last project we'd get approved."

"There's no need to kid ourselves," Mayor West continued, "Chances of getting federal assistance for North Greenville are just nil. But we're going to keep trying, anyway."

Cox said, "It's going to be a big expense, but it's needed very badly. We want to get streets paved."

Holliday remarked that plans for improving the streets in the area have been afoot since 1958. Some of the problems he cited include limited right of ways that would make standard 36 foot back to back street almost impossible to construct. In some instances there might be a necessity to set houses back; in others, the street would come up to doorsteps. The projected cost of $300,000 plus for street improvements, Holliday said, does not include utilities. "This is for street construction only." Holliday and Carstarphen, as well as Mayor West and possibly some members of the council, will meet with residents of the area within a week to come up with more facts about right-of-ways as well as the attitudes of people living in the area relative to their share of the costs involved.

Spokesmen from the delegation from North Greenville area expressed willingness to do everything possible to work with city officials in coming up with the best solution to working out a feasible street improvement project for the area.

Disputed Reform Plan Submitted

RALEIGH (AP) — A Democratic plan to reform the North Carolina Highway Commission has been introduced in the state legislature, amid accusations that it was conceived by a "secret, rump session" of the House and Senate Roads committees.

The plan is sponsored by the chairmen of those committees, Rep. James Green, D-Bladen, and Sen. J. J. "Monk" Harrington, D-Bertie. It was written, they said, by an ad hoc committee of five Democrats who met at a series of unannounced working breakfasts.

Sen. Charles Taylor, R-Transylvania, the Senate minority leader, told the Senate Thursday that "if the Democrats want to grandstand on the issues, they shouldn't abuse a public body by holding illegal meetings."

Green called Taylor's charges "utterly ridiculous."

The bill would create a 13-member Board of Transportation to replace the current 23-member Highway Commission. It would have authority over primary roads.

There would also be a 14-member Secondary Roads Council, which would, with input from county officials, govern smaller roads, under the review of the Board of Transportation.

Gov. Jim Holshouser is expected soon to introduce a rival plan which would vest more authority in the Secretary of Transportation.

To Make 'Book Worms'

The making of "book worms" will be the center of activity at Saturday's Children Program to be held from 10:00 a.m. until noon at Sheppard Memorial Library.

Miss Helen Parker, Children's Librarian, says that most of the material to make the worms will be furnished by the library — to include felt scraps, pipe cleaners, tissue paper, glue, etc.

Egg cartons, of any size and composition, are needed, however, and children are asked to bring one or two if possible.

In addition to book worms, the children will be shown how to make Easter baskets out of construction paper and artificial flowers from crepe paper.

The Saturday program is designed for elementary age children, who are invited to attend.

Dr. Gray Speaks At Annual Event

Dr. Wellington B. Gray, dean of the School of Art at East Carolina University, was featured speaker Tuesday at the annual Mother Daughter Banquet of the D. H. Conley Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America.

Dr. Gray spoke of his experiences while being a judge for the 1972-73 Miss America Pageant, at the banquet at the D. H. Conley cafeteria.

The dinner was served by students from G. R. Whitfield and Chicod Elementary Schools. Following the dinner, FHA degrees were awarded and the president, Debra Daniels, was presented a gift and gavel for her services.

Maryland's first settlers landed on St. Clement's Island near the mouth of the Potomac River in 1634.

Barking Up The Wrong Tree

We're sorry about that meat boycott. It shouldn't have happened. Some people let emotionalism prevail over reason and the voice of experience. The result could play mischief with the "system".

That system has worked awfully well over the years. Because of it, America has been known as a land of plenty. But we've observed that tampering with the system committed in the name of good intentions, almost inevitably results in shortages and disproportionate higher prices.

In the course of a national (more truly, an international) trend of inflation, prices on everything rise. To try to dam the current (by boycott or "controls") on any given item, is to simply discourage its production—creating shortages. And where there is a shortage, costs and prices inevitably rise.

Now about meat. By every rule of logic, the price had to rise; by every rule of reason and experience, attempts to discourage or control that rise will dampen the incentive to produce. With the cooling of incentive there looms the spectre of shortages, and everyone knows what happens to prices of items in heavy demand and short supply.

In the interests of space, our picture is overly-simplified; but that is the way it works.

We haven't seen a lot of impact on the local markets by meat-boycotters; and frankly, we didn't expect to. Our part of the state is still farm-oriented; and what some of our people don't know about the laws of economics from studying textbooks, they know from experience. That's part of the schooling learned from farming.

Sure, we are disturbed by rising food prices, furniture prices, housing prices, automobile prices, haircut prices, fuel prices, ... prices on everything. Just the same, it's part of a general pattern.

It's the pattern we should be mostly concerned about, not the price of individual products or services. Our boycotters are barking up the wrong tree.

Denial Of Civil Rights Exists

By BRIAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — Whenever the civil rights of any citizen or group are abridged, the rights of all are threatened. "If we don't move out to protect the rights of one, our own rights are precarious," said the Rev. W. W. Finlator of Raleigh.

BRYAN HAISLIP

That makes every Tar Heel a partner, he said, in the struggle for Indians to gain full participation in political and economic life.

As chairman of the state's advisory committee to the U.S. Commissions on Civil Rights, Finlator last week released a report which offered evidence of discrimination and exclusion encountered by Lumbees in Robeson County.

Testimony at hearings in the county last fall, the report said, indicated that although Indians and black comprise 57 per cent of the population "they are still controlled economically and politically by the white structure." It recommended a number of steps by state and local government and private business to open opportunities for education, employment and access to political power.

Finlator, a Baptist minister active in liberal causes, said he is optimistic the report will command serious attention and prompt constructive action.

Governor Responds

"I received a nice letter from Gov. Jim Holshouser, expressing appreciation for the report and saying he plans to study it very carefully," Finlator noted.

Denial of civil rights exists today in North Carolina, in spite of progress, Finlator affirmed.

"If I were Indian or black, I would say the sun climbs slowly, how slowly," he said. "An overall picture, as I see it, shows we are making material progress all the time in every area."

Even when laws which discriminate are changed, tradition and custom can preserve discrimination, he noted. The committee's function, he said, is to "sit in judgment on government and society to see that the laws are obeyed."

What was found in Robeson was a pattern in which Indians and blacks were systematically relegated to a lower place in community life, Finlator said.

Fair Treatment Denied.

"The problems faced by the Lumbees and all American Indians often results in the final analysis in denials of justice and fair treatment under the law," stated the report issued by the committee.

"...It is hoped that effective action on the part of federal, state and local government, private citizens and organizations, will provide opportunity for and inclusion of the Lumbee Indian in the political process and employment opportunities."

The civil rights study group has been in existence over the past two decades, an outgrowth of the black movement for equal rights. President Eisenhower created the federal commission which in turn names the state advisory committees.

The commission decided last year that 1973 would focus on Indian problems, Finlator said, and asked state committees to look into the status of Indian citizens in their own areas.

Indian Demands Spotlights

Since then, events at Wounded Knee, S.D., and demonstrations among Indians activists in Robeson County have given the spotlight to Indian demands for change.

The topical developments led the committee to the decision to release preliminary findings and recommendations, Finlator said. A final report is due later in the spring.

About a dozen citizens, broadly representative, serve on the state committee including Indians and blacks. Finlator has been chairman the past four years.

The Committee has no clout. It throws the searchlight of public inquiry on deprivation of civil rights, but it can only suggest remedies. It can invite persons as witnesses before it, but cannot require their appearance to testimony.

Subpoena powers are available only when at least two of the five members of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission sit with the state committee.

Chairman Finlator said Indian spokesman, who felt the Establishment avoided the hearing last fall, have requested such a session. "It's debatable whether further hearings will be held," he added.

Commission members serve without pay, he observed. Demands on their time make a trip to North Carolina "a moot question," he said.

Badly Needed Project Being Given Attention

The Department of Transportation has called for bids on 1.15 miles of improvements to Cotanche and Charles Streets from Tenth to Greenville Boulevard.

The street will be 64 feet wide and it will provide a thoroughfare between the shopping centers on Greenville Boulevard and the downtown area. It will also be a major artery to move traffic to and from Minges Coliseum and Ficklen Stadium.

Bids for this badly needed project will be open April 24 and we hope to see work underway shortly thereafter.

Benefactor Is Rudely Treated

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Growing indications that Prime Minister George Papadopoulos, the Greek strongman, is now running into serious political troubles at home derive not so much from the unprecedented outbreak of student riots in Athens as from the intentionally arrogant way Col. Papadopoulos has lately been treating President Nixon and the United States.

Anti-government students demonstrations are hardly unique in today's political world, but what Col. Papadopoulos did earlier this year with his abrupt cancellation of direct U.S. military aid — with no prior word to Mr. Nixon, his long-time benefactor — had no precedent in this country's long postwar history of military aid.

Papadopoulos leaked his decision to cancel U.S. military grant aid to the controlled Greek press on Jan. 15, with major headline play and maximum public exposure on the radio and television. The reason for handling the decision that way, as perceived here, is a desire to cater to growing anti-Americanism in Greece. That anti-American feeling, in turn, has been the direct result of the cozy relationship between the Nixon administration and the military dictatorship installed by the Papadopoulos-dominated Greek junta almost exactly six years ago.

Particularly infuriating to the Greek people was the deal between Papadopoulos and the U.S. to permit "homeporting" of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Athens area.

In view of the political risks Mr. Nixon had taken to extend military aid to Papadopoulos, the abrupt cancellation of that aid early this year — an event scarcely noted in Washington — set something of a record for incivility.

Consider the background. In the summer of 1971, by an overwhelming majority, the House passed an amendment to the foreign aid bill authored by Rep. Wayne Hays of Ohio, no soft-liner, barring all U.S. military aid to Greece. That limitation on arms aid finally found its way into the foreign aid law — but with a proviso permitting the President to extend the aid if he found "overriding requirements of the national security of the United States."

On Feb. 17, 1972, Mr. Nixon made just such a finding — and ordered the Pentagon to send some $10 million of direct military aid to Greece.

Moreover, the White House had been making secret but hardhitting attempts to persuade Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany also to extend military aid to the Greek dictatorship. Mr. Nixon's reason for what was obvious: under attack in the U.S. Congress for playing footsie with the military junta, he wanted at least one other member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to join the U.S. In fact, all NATO nations except the U.S. were beginning to treat the Papadopoulos regime as the leper of Europe.

The West German government, in a series of secret agreements never fully made public, did finally

Strength For Today

ACHIEVING THROUGH MISFORTUNE

We sometimes win the greatest victories of our lives amid circumstances of reversal and sorrow. No normal person would choose trouble if he could avoid it. Yet the fact is that the things we like the least in life often contribute in the end to our peace and happiness. Lincoln's character was fashioned for great responsibilities by a series of misfortunes. We are told even of our Lord that He was made perfect through suffering.

We would not choose suffering as the way to learn if the choice were left with us. Yet sometimes it can be the most effective way. When trouble comes upon you, accept it as a test of character. All things will work together for good if we love God. A man's happiness is measured not by the extent to which he has avoided trouble, but by the extent to which he has met it with courage and faith. Victory often lies within the man rather than within his achievements.

An Endangered Species

WASHINGTON — The energy crisis has reached the point where it is quite possible that Americans will be asked to make great sacrifices to conserve the power we need to maintain the highest standard of living in the world.

A group of wise old men met in Washington, D. C., last week to discuss what electrical appliances could be eliminated from the American home to guarantee an adequate energy supply for our future years.

"Gentlemen, we are here today to discuss the elimination of certain electrical appliances from the American scene. The president has asked us to present him with a list of those appliances that will have to be sacrificed to conserve our power supplies. Are there any suggestions?"

"I think the electric toothbrush should go," one of the wise men suggested.

"Are you out of your mind?" another said. "You can't expect Americans to brush their teeth by hand. It would cause tremendous hardship on the average middle-income citizen who has no one to brush his teeth for him. Gentlemen, I'm as much for power conservation as the next person, but let's not lose our heads."

"All right. What about abolishing electric hair curlers?"

"Ridiculous," a wise man rumbled. "The American women in this country would be up in arms if he took their electric curlers away from them. How can we expect them to support our energy policies if they have no easy way of setting their hair?"

"Good point," said the chairman. "We can't throw out the baby with the bath water."

"I have a suggestion as to how we could save some power," another wise man said. "Why don't we ban the electric pencil sharpener?"

There was dead silence. Finally a man shouted, "No way! The electric pencil sharpener is the key to the entire capitalist system. Do you know why the Russians are behind us in their schools? Because their students are still sharpening their pencils by hand. Besides, our gross national product depends on electric pencil sharpeners. It takes a Russian secretary a full minute to sharpen her pencil by the antiquated nonelectric method. Our secretaries can do it in 10 seconds. Gentlemen, once you allow the Soviets to close the pencil sharpener gap, you can kiss our economy goodby."

The chairman said, "Then we're all in agreement that the electric pencil sharpener stays."

"What about the electric can opener?"

"Absolutely essential. You can't ask an American citizen to open a can by hand. We'll have a revolution on our hands."

"I imagine that would go for electric orange juice squeezers also?"

"No President would be

Maybe you weren't aware of it, preoccupied as you were with international monetary problems, rising food prices and the squabble over executive privilege and the congressional responsibility.

But spring is here and once again this year the swallows returned on time to Capistrano. Even before San Juan Capistrano mission was established in 1776, the birds have returned there and to other sites throughout Southern California every March 19 (St. Joseph's Day).

And while they used to depart almost as promptly on Oct. 23, now they are likely to migrate anytime from August on, to spend the winter months in the warmth of Argentina, Italy, Spain or wherever it is they come from.

There is probably an easy explanation for this seeming miracle of migration, of course.

So is there probably a ready explanation why hordes of migrating lemmings follow one another in mass suicidal plunges over Norway's steep cliffs into the seas.

And a ready explanation why grunion invade Southern California by the thousands on the two highest tides of the month, bury their eggs in sand, and slither back into the receding waters to await their hatching 15 days later at the spring tide.

There are no doubt good reasons why nightingales sing variations of 24 basic songs, why Panama's piliated tinamou sings every three hours night and day, why meadowlarks arrange their 300-note repertoire in phrases of three to six notes.

Botanists know that plants have self-sustaining internal biological rhythms that repeat at approximately 24-hour intervals, allowing them to measure the passage of time accurately.

Found Campus Life Exciting

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

Editor's Note: This is the second and concluding column based on an interview with Gilbert Fitzhugh, chairman of Metropolitan Life Insurance.

NEW YORK (AP) — When he accepted a 3½-week "professorship" at the University of Oklahoma last month, Gilbert Fitzhugh, chairman of Metropolitan Life Insurance, really didn't know what lay ahead.

In its first year, the industry's Businessman in Residence program was untested. Fitzhugh, an intense conservative, and the students, aligned to his left, were separated by age and ideology. But distrust evolved into respect.

A week after returning, he received four or five letters from professors with whom he had his biggest arguments, generally liberals. "While they told me they didn't necessarily believe as I do, they thought it was good I was there."

The students expressed similar feelings, and one paid him an unwitting compliment: "We were glad you came so we could learn what a conservative is," the youth said. "One thing, you're consistent, maybe because you're a conservative."

Said Fitzhugh, head of a company with $180 billion of life insurance in force: "They really couldn't believe I'd be interested in coming, in listening to them. They were really surprised."

Here he was, not fossil but man. Here were they, not intellectual embryos but mature, thinking human beings. Fitzhugh also was surprised.

"My prejudice told me that university faculties generally lean to the left and I still think so, but it's not as bad as I thought. They're less liberal than I had realized."

"My prejudice told me that youths went to universities to teach their elders what they had to learn. Now I think the kids have found it doesn't pay to have that attitude."

"My prejudice told me the kids are getting better than they were four years ago. I

Unexpected Powers Of Prayer Sensed In North Viet Prisons

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
In the isolation of the Vietnam war prisons, minds and consciousness turned inward, and there, cut off from the ordinary distractions of life, the American captives made a discovery.

and similar accounts by many others of the returned prisoners of war regularly cited unexpected powers of faith and prayer that welled up to sustain them.

surprising strength found in faith came from Capt. Jeremiah A. Denton in Atlanta. He tells of escalating torture to get him to betray communication methods used among prisoners. After five days in a "torture rig" he says, he wrote something useless for his captors "but they didn't buy it." He goes on:

He and others say they believe that spiritual help, attained through prayer, was the basic element in bringing them through their ordeal. "I was able to sustain life and hope through the faith I have in God," Capt. Howard Rutledge told his home Baptist congregation at Clairemont, Calif.

You are the parents God has given him!
He is the child God has given you!
For a while you will be moulding his character... building his faith... enriching his soul...
After that, these spiritual responsibilities will be up to him.
But while the trust is yours to fulfill, remember he's a trusting soul.
So you and he need what the Church exists to provide.

"I know people can't live without electric blankets, but might we forbid the future manufacturing of electric bed vibrators—at least until the crisis is over?"

"Bite your tongue," someone shouted. "The bed vibrator is a priority item in this country, particularly for people with bad backs. I will resign from the commission if you take any action against the electric vibrator."

"Well, gentlemen, we still don't have a list for the President. Surely there is some electrical appliance that we can all agree is nonessential."

"The heated swimming pool?"

"Impossible. If Benjamin Franklin ever thought that someday we'd eliminate the heated swimming pool he never would have discovered electricity."

(Continued from page 4) consent to go along with President Nixon and the U.S. and send token aid to Greece. As a guid pro quo, Papadopoulos agreed—again with no public announcement—to free several score political prisoners held in Greek jails ever since the 1967 coup d'etat.

As it turned out, only one such political prisoner was in fact spirited out of Greece; the deal came a cropper, and Bonn not only did not carry out its part of the arrangement but its ambassador was declared persona non grata.

Yet, despite Mr. Nixon going out on several limbs for Papadopoulos, the Colonel never informed Washington in advance of his decision to renounce all American military aid on Jan. 15. Instead of letting Mr. Nixon get credit with Congress for cancelling the aid, Papadopoulos took full credit himself and in such a way that the U.S. State Department had to duck a question on whether the U.S. had been consulted.

The end of military aid, however, won't soften anti-Papadopoulos sentiment in Congress. Thus, two days later Democratic Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal of New York, chairman of a key house Foreign Affairs subcommittee, wrote Greek exile leader Elias Demetrapoulos that because of its continuing "moral support" of the Greek government, the U.S. "bears responsibility" for the plight of political prisoners. That was as strong an indictment of American policy toward Greece as any Congressman has ever made.

I'm for it. I'm in favor of a reasoned prejudice, but not all prejudice."

Sometimes, Fitzhugh all but conceded, those prejudices lead him astray. He told of his surprise about fraternity life.

"I had never been in a frat house in my life; they had clubs at Princeton. My prejudice told me they were places for social gatherings ... but those fellows took life seriously. They said grace before dinner, and as a mossback, I admire any tradition."

In his classes, Fitzhugh permitted discussion to drift with student interest. He found that, after first talking about matters of social obligations and equality, the questions became personal and practical.

"They were interested in how I got where I am and I told them I once worked for $20 a week. They asked what courses I took to get into the business world to get a $) Yes, they recognize the incentive system."

Fitzhugh, of course, does. "I believe in the Horatio Alger Story. One of the things this country is greatest for is the Horatio Alger Story." He tried to convey its message to them.

He found the students good listeners, and from Fitzhugh, this is a very high compliment.

"The Lord gives you two ears and one mouth and intends you to use them in that proportion. Listen with a desire to know what the other guy is saying. Not necessarily to agree, but to understand."

He found the students did understand his viewpoint. He concluded that he and they were equally aware of social responsibilities and that they shared some of the same objectives, if not the same approaches. Exhilarated by his adventure, Fitzhugh, who feels

"very often I am a voice crying in the wilderness," now hopes to teach when he retires. He found campus life to his liking. He found that students sometimes listen.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets were steady to stronger Thursday. Supplies adequate, demand good.

Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites: 56.57; medium whites: 53.63; small whites: 39.43.

RALEIGH—(NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets are mostly 50 cents to a dollar lower. Tops of 33.75-34.75 at Kinston, New Bern, Benson and Lumberton; 34.00-34.50 Rocky Mount; 33.00-34.00 Siler City and Denton; 33.00-33.50 Tarboro and Bethel; and 35.00 Mount Olive.

RALEIGH—(NCDA)—North Carolina f.o.b. dock broilers: Prices steady, supplies adequate, and demand good. Estimated slaughter today is 1,177,000. Average live weight for April 4 is 3.80 pounds.

North Carolina hens: Prices slightly weaker on heavy type and steady on light type. Supplies adequate, demand fair to good. Prices paid per pound for hens over seven pounds at farm 23 cents; f.o.b plants 26 to 27 cents. Light type at farm 12 cents.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rebounded from a five-day string of losses today as investors hoped for fresh action by the Nixon administration to combat inflation.

At 11:30 a.m. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials had climbed 6.63 points to 930.09. Advances led declines by nearly 7 to 3 in slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks had gained .23 to 58.05 at 11 a.m., while the price change index on the American Stock Exchange was up .02 to 24.07.

Santa Fe Industries, up 1/2 to 26 3/4, topped the active issues Friday on the Big Board after a block of 71,400 shares moved at 26. Continental Oil, which has been sliding in the wake of a lowered brokerage house estimate of its earnings, fell 1 to 33 1/4.

Atlantic Richfield, gained 7/8 to 73 3/4, after news President Nixon had asked the interior secretary to clear the way for construction of the trans-Alaska pipeline. Atlantic and other oils involved in the project had plummeted earlier this week after the Supreme Court refused to overturn a lower court ban on the project.

City Council . . . Liquor Bill To Floor

(Continued from page 1) the Greenville Board of Elections, said that she had been informed by State Chairman of Elections Alex Brock that Brock felt certain there would be no problem in the fact that Greenville is changing its decision after the stipulated deadline of March 1.

Mayor West cast a vote against the motion adopted, saying he wanted it recorded that "I am in favor of turning the whole thing over to the county election board to save taxpayer's money."

Unanimous approval was given to a request made by the Pitt County 4-H Clubs. Michael Davis, Pitt County 4-H agent, explained that a contract between N.C. State University and Greenville was needed whereby the city would provide about $3,000 in funds to finance a Summer Urban Boys Program.

The funds, he said would be 100 percent reimbursable. Funds are appropriated for this project, but cannot be secured until late summer, too late to carry out the program.

No public opposition appeared, and the council approved three rezoning requests. These were on rezoning a wedge-shaped piece of land on East Tenth Street from office and institutional to shopping center for Dallas McPherson; rezoning two tracts of Oakmont Professional Plaza on the west side of N.C. 43 one from shopping center, the other from RA-20, both rezoned to office and institutional; and Simon Moye property across from Pitt Technical Institute on N.C. 11 from RA-20 to highway commercial.

A request for renewal of a mobile home permit for Mrs. P.O. Allen at 107 Church Street was approved; as was a contract with Smart, Woodall, Isley and Herring, Inc. for architectural services in analyzing space needs for city hall and main fire station.

The following recommendations of the Traffic Commission for traffic and parking patterns were approved:

- West Fourth Street, from South Greene Street to South Washington Street: initiate two-way traffic following completion of widening on south side.
- First Street, from Jarvis Street to Holly Street; remove on-street parking.
- Evans Street, from Eastern Construction Company to Sixteenth Street: remove on-street parking.
- Latham Street, from Ward Street to Fourth Street: remove existing parking on east side.
- Holly Street, from Fifth Street to rear of Methodist Student Center: establish 30-minute parking limit.
- West Sixth Street at Medical Pavilion: establish loading zone.
- West Fifth Street at Bus Station: establish reserve parking for taxicabs.

The second lowest bid for a new car for the Fire Department was approved for $3,265. The bid goes to F and D Motor Company for a 1973 Ford Custom 500. F and D Motor Company was also the lowest bidder at $3,028.22 for a 1973 Ford Torino. City Manager William Carstarphel explained that the heavier car was needed as this will be the car to be used by Fire Department personnel on long trips throughout the state.

In another bid action, one covering improvements in chain link fences and backstops at six Recreation Department locations, approval was given to the low bid of $5,460 submitted by C and S.

Public hearings in May were set for several agenda items. These are: requests for mobile home permits for Oakwood Mobile Homes, Inc. on U.S. 264 bypass west and ABC Mobile homes on U.S. 264 bypass west; a rezoning request for Station Acres Subdivision; and a rezoning request for Dr. James M. Williamson for property on Red Banks Road and N.C. 43.

No action was taken on three rezoning requests—those for Pinegrove Subdivisions; Knox Subdivision; and Red Banks Subdivision. For all three of these, the Planning and Zoning Commission ruled at its March meeting that the preliminary plans needed reworking to meet specifications.

Overtime pay in the amount of $537.44 for seven Fire Department personnel as a result of extra work during the snow on February 10 and 11 was approved.

The final action of last night's meeting was approval of the City Tax Collector's request to advertise on May 14, 21, and 28, and June 4, real property for which 1972 taxes remain unpaid. A tax lien sale is scheduled for June 11, 1973.

Agreement At Wounded Knee

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — An entourage of Indians and attorneys left for Washington today to meet with federal officials under provisions of a peace agreement that brought an end to the 37-day siege of Wounded Knee. Indians who held the village are scheduled to lay down their arms Saturday.

Protest leader Russell Means, free on $25,000 bond after being charged Thursday in connection with the takeover, was accompanied by American Indian Movement spiritual leader Leonard Crow Dog, AIM attorney Ramon Roubideaux, and Torrenzo Bad Cobb, one of the traditional chiefs of the Oglala Sioux.

HIS AND HERS
NEW YORK (AP) — Two New York state auto dealers are offering for sale "his and hers" Rolls Royce limousines. The asking price: $250,000 the pair.

Poll Shows Opposition To Tobacco Tax Repeal

RALEIGH (AP) — Legislation to allow North Carolinians to vote on liquor by the drink has cleared the House Alcoholic Beverage Control Committee.

In an unrecorded voice vote Thursday, the committee sent the bill to the floor of the House, where it will probably be considered next week.

North Carolina is currently the only state east of the Mississippi which does not permit the sale of mixed drinks.

The bill approved Thursday was a committee substitute for a measure introduced by Rep. Sam Johnson, D-Wake. It would provide for two referenda.

The first would be a statewide vote on liquor, to be held next November 6. If it passed, each county that wished to authorize mixed drinks would have a local referendum.

Johnson's original bill would have permitted sale of drinks in "mini-bottles" similar to the system started in South Carolina this month.

It was changed by the committee to provide that drinks—which would only be served in Class A restaurants—would be poured from regular bottles.

When it reaches the floor of the House, the bill will be opposed by the Christian Action League, a fundamental Protestant organization which claims hundreds of thousand of adherents in the state.

Its president, Rev. Coy Privette, a Baptist minister from Kannapolis, Thursday said the bill was "totally unacceptable" and unsuccessfully asked the committee to delay action on it.

Privette has predicted that his anti-liquor forces have more than enough strength in the House to kill the bill, as it has in many past legislatures. He had predicted, however, that the bill would never get out of committee.

Artificial Reefs

RALEIGH (AP) — Sport fishermen off the North Carolina coast may soon be catching fish lured to the area by artificial reefs made of junk tires and automobiles.

A bill to authorize and finance the reefs was enacted by the General Assembly Thursday.

It authorizes the state to spend up to $300,000 per year from the gasoline tax to construct, maintain, and mark the reefs, which wildlife experts say provide good habitats for fish.

The money would be drawn from a special fund—unrebated taxes collected on fuel sold for use in motorboats. Boat owners are entitled to ask for rebates on the gas taxes they pay, but rarely do.

Poll Shows Opposition To Tobacco Tax Repeal

By REESE HART
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — A poll conducted by a state senator in an area of North Carolina where tobacco is king showed strong opposition to repeal of the state's tax on cigarettes and soft drinks.

Sen. Dallas Alford, D-Nash, placed ads in six newspapers and provided a ballot for constituents to express their opinion on several questions.

Alford, who represents Nash, Wilson, Warren, Franklin and ## Prescott . . .

He is married to the former Betty Borden of Atlanta, Ga., and they are the parents of two young children, Traye, 6, and Christopher, 2.

A member of the Greenville Jaycees, Fuqua is co-owner of Larry's Carpetland and the Linen Closet, both in Greenville.

Fuqua is a member of the First Presbyterian Church and is a graduate of East Carolina University with a BA degree in business. This is Fuqua's first appointment to a city board.

Vance counties, said "the response was terrific. I got over 1,000 replies."

The poll showed 65.3 per cent against repeal of the one-cent tax on soft drinks and two-cent per package tax on cigarettes.

Alford said 28.9 per cent favored repeal and 5.9 per cent were undecided.

On other issues, the results showed:

- Capital punishment: 86.3 per cent for, 8 per cent against and 5.7 per cent undecided.
- Annual legislative sessions: 57.7 per cent for, 26 per cent against and 16.2 per cent undecided.
- Liquor by the drink: 52.9 per cent for, 38.9 per cent against, 8.2 per cent undecided.
- No fault auto liability insurance: 70 per cent for, 11 per cent against and 19 per cent undecided.

"The most surprising thing was the big opposition to repeal of the cigarette and soft drink tax," Alford said in an interview.

He added, "The tremendous response showed that people are interested in state government," he added. "Some families who take only one newspaper went to the trouble of preparing extra ballots so that several members of the family could express their opinion."

Alford said many of the ballots contained comment on other legislative issues. One reader said, "I'm opposed to two terms for a governor because I think one term is enough."

The Nash senator said he sent a reply to each person, thanking them for sending in the ballot.

Rampant Runners Slip Past Goldsboro Team

Rose High School held off a stiff Goldsboro challenge to remain unbeaten in track yesterday, taking a close victory over the Cougars.

The Rampants finished the meet with 82 points, while Goldsboro was right behind behind with 70. Kinston finished a token third with six points.

The Rose thinclads had three double winners in the meet to lead their victory. Al Hunter took the 100 and 220-yard dashes, while Matthew Clark won both of the hurdles events. Calvin Moore won the long and triple jumps.

One other double winner came from Goldsboro, as Riddle won the shot and discus.

Overall, Rose won eight events, while Goldsboro won five, plus the two relays. No pole vault competition was held.

The Rampants are scheduled to take part in the Mid-South Relays at Southern Pines Saturday.

Rose High School's Stanley Cobb and Bertie's Kent Williford wrapped up in a pitching duel that was only decided by the men behind them yesterday as the Rampants pulled out a 4-1 victory.

The win was the fourth in five starts for the Rampants, who hadn't played in nearly two weeks.

All five of the runs scored in the game were unearned. Rose committed two errors, one of which led to the lone Bertie run, while the Falcons had six miscues, four of which led to Rampant runs.

Cobb, although he got into trouble a couple of times, did a pretty good job of getting out of it for the most part and he allowed only one hit, and that was a lucky one.

The hit came in the sixth inning, when a sharp grounder went off Cobb's glove and bounced toward third. By the time it could be chased down, it was Williford who got the hit.

Rose got only five hits, and two of those, coming in the first inning, were just misjudged fly balls.

Cobb ended up with 14 strikeouts and five walks, while Williford walked four and fanned nine.

Rose threatened in both the first and second inning but failed to get anyone around. Al Heath led off with a bloop double that was misjudged by the left fielder and fell it. Robert Brinkley followed with a walk, and with one out, Stanley Cobb sent a pop fly to center that was again misjudged, falling to load the bases. But Ron Hunt hit into a fielder's choice that got Heath going home, and a strikeout ended the inning.

In the second, Mike Wallace walked with one away, and stole both second and third, only to die there.

In the third, however, the Rampants finally took advantage of Falcon mistakes and pushed over three runs. With one down, John Barwick walked. Stanley Cobb grounded back to the infield, but the ball, played to second, was errored, and both runners were safe. Then, with two away, Harding Sugg singled, scoring Barwick. Bobby Dough was running for Cobb and Dickie Johnson came on for Sugg. Fred Lemmond grounded to third, but the ball was errored on the throw to first, and it allowed both Dough and Johnson to come around, making it 3-0 for the Rampants.

Bertie got off its first threat in the top of the fourth, loading the bases with only one out. Thornton Flood walked and was safe at second on an error on Marshall Williford's grounder. Kent Williford walked to load them up, with one down, but a popup and a strikeout ended the frame with no damage.

Bertie got its lone run in the sixth. With one down, Marshall Williford fanned, but reached first when Sugg dropped the ball. Then underthrew first. Irving Holly walked and Kent Williford got the lone hit of the game, loading the bases. A wild pitch then let Marshall Williford score, making it 3-1. Cobb ended it there, striking out the next two batters.

Rose, after threats in the fourth and fifth, scored again in the bottom of the sixth. Heath reached second on a two-base error in the fourth, and moved to third on an out, dying there. Sugg reached on a fielder's choice in the fifth, and Lemmond was hit by a pitch and Jerry Griffin walked, loading them up with two away, but again Bertie held Rose in check.

But in the sixth, two more errors helped Rose to another run. With one down, Brinkley singled to right and moved up when the ball was kicked away by the fielder. With two away, Cobb reached on an error, scoring Brinkley. Ron Hunt followed with a hit, but the scoring was over.

Rose travels to Tarboro today for another non-conference contest, then goes to Rocky Mount on Tuesday for a Division II contest.

Buc Oarsmen Host Carolina

The East Carolina University crew team will host their first home meet of the season Saturday when they take on the rowers from UNC-Chapel Hill on the Tar River. The races will begin at 2:00 p.m.

The Greene Street Bridge will mark the finishing point for each of the races while the starting point will be 2000 meters downriver.

The Pirate oarsmen have competed in two previous meets. Against the University of Virginia they won the varsity lightweight eight-man event while losing the junior varsity eight and varsity and junior varsity four-man races.

The Pirates fared a little better against George Washington University, however, as they swept every event except the varsity heavyweight eight.

ECU crew coach Al Hearn rates his team's chances against UNC as "pretty good."

"We should do well against North Carolina," he said. "There's quite a rivalry between us so that should give us plenty of incentive."

After this weekend's counter with the Tar Heels, the Pirates will have one more home meet the following Saturday against the Citadel. Then they will travel to Chapel Hill for a return match with UNC on April 21. The Pirate rowers close their season April 27-28 at the Southern Inter-collegiate Rowing Association Regatta at Stone Mountain, Georgia.

Golfers Are Tied

GREENVILLE, S. C.—Wake Forest's tough golfers lead the Furman Invitational Golf Tournament after one round, while East Carolina's Pirates are tied with Furman for 11th place.

The Deacons combined for a team score of 370 to lead the event, while South Carolina is right on their heels with a 373. Tennessee is third at 378.

Georgia and Georgia Southern are tied for fourth at 380, followed by Maryland and Columbus (Ga.) at 388, and Clemson, East Tennessee and Woodford at 389.

East Carolina and Furman have 391 each. Other Southern Conference teams in the meet include Appalachian, 393; Davidson, 395, and The Citadel, 408.

Individually, Eddie Pinnix and Harry Helmer each fired 76's while Bebo Batts had 79, and Jim Ward and Carl Bell had 80's. Jim Brown's 83 did not count in the team total.

Play continues today and Saturday in the three-day event.

Bear Grass In First Victory

BEAR GRASS—Bear Grass High School won its first game of the season yesterday, downing cross-county rival Oak City, 5-0, in a non-conference encounter.

The Bears scored all five runs in the bottom of the first inning, chasing starter Walter Lyons. Thompson came in after the damage had been done, and allowed the Bears only one hit the rest of the way.

Keith Williams tossed the shutout, striking out six and walking one, while scattering four hits. Thompson, in relief, went 5 2-3 innings, striking out two, walking one and allowing a hit.

Bear Grass got it all in the first. Jimmy Peaks led off, reaching on an error. Keith Wynne then doubled to drive in Peaks. Williams followed with a walk, and Randy Peele and James Harrison also got free tickets, forcing in Wynne. A pickoff attempt was errored, allowing Williams to score, and Danny Peaks singled to score Peele and Harrison for the 5-0 score.

The Bears got men as far as second a couple of other times in the game, but couldn't score.

Ronald Duggins tripled in the first inning for the Trojans, but didn't score, and two more threats later in the game were also stifled without damage.

The Bears host Robersonville in a league game on Tuesday, while Oak City hosts Jamesville.

The leopard was made by a taxidermist. Its coat is a modacrylic textile fiber made by Union Carbide from several basic chemicals. It's called Dynel.

For versatility, Dynel probably has no equal. We can make it as soft and warm as fur. Or almost as tough as steel.

You'll find it in blankets, work clothes, toys, jewelry, in carpets, towels, drapes, paint rollers.

And since Dynel is chemical-resistant, durable and virtually nonflammable, it's used for laminated boat decks. For tents. As overlays for storage tanks and air ducts.

But Dynel is most famous for something else. It's great for making wigs. For blondes and brunettes and redheads.

Remarkable fiber? We think so. But haven't you found that a lot of remarkable things come from Union Carbide?

Come closer. It's only a modacrylic.

Aaron Grabs Opening Lead In Master's Golf

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Tommy Aaron, a slump-ridden perennial runner-up, takes a one-stroke lead over Jack Nicklaus and a 190-pound former baseball pitcher from Japan today into the second round of the Masters, shaken by another controversy.

The latest fuss was ignited by a 120-pound peppercorn from Puerto Rico, Chi Chi Rodriguez, who contends he and some others are getting a bad deal on caddies. He wants a fairer system.

His complaint carried extra bite because it seemed aimed at such Masters untouchables as Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer. "They get the more knowledgeable caddies," Chi Chi argued. "We should be allowed to use our tour caddies or at least have a blind draw."

Nicklaus and Palmer reacted. They said they make all their decisions, the caddies just carry the bags.

All Augusta National caddies are black. Many of the tour caddies, including Chi Chi Tommy Mascari, are white. The prestigious tournament here has just finished defending itself from pressure by 18 Congressmen demanding that a special invitation be extended to a black player, Lee Elder, because a black has never played in the Masters.

Aaron, a tall, bespectacled Georgian who has won only one official title while finishing second at least a dozen times, grabbed the first round lead Monday by shooting a four-under-par 68, which included three 15-foot putts.

"I've been playing badly," Aaron said. "I've been hitting everything good but my woods and irons."

Nicklaus, the 5-2 favorite seeking his fifth Masters crown, came in close pursuit with a rallying 69, that included near-misses for eagles on the long 13th and 15th holes. Then, almost at the end of the day, Masahi Ozaki, a strapping crew-cut Oriental with a broad smile, came charging in with a matching 69 to tie Big Jack for second place.

"Considering the wind and the fact I wasn't sure what would come out of the bag, I must say I was happy with my round," said Nicklaus.

Ozaki doesn't speak much English so he passed along his personal reactions through an interpreter. "I believe I have some luck today," he said. "I have good spirit now."

He started out, he explained, by driving the ball into a trash bag. "It was a great help for my second shot." Under further interrogation, he said he meant he got a free drop.

Aaron, Nicklaus and Ozaki were the only players under 70 over the wind-whipped, 6,980-yard Augusta National course and only four others managed to crack the par 72.

They were Bob Dickson and J. C. Snead, with 70s; Grier Jones and the veteran Phil Rodgers, tied at 71. Others in the hand-picked international field of 82 fell back to scores reaching as high as 88, posted by the amazing 71-year-old Gene Sarazen.

Briefs

There have been six playoffs in the history of the Masters golf title.

New Philadelphia Phillie manager, Danny Ozark, once was regarded as the successor to manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Among the major leaguers who played for new Phillie manager Danny Ozark are Jim Lefebvre, Ken Mcgmillen and Pete Richert.

Former Syracuse trainer, Gene Monahan, is the new trainer for the New York Yankees. He succeeds Joe Soares who retired after holding the post since 1961.

The President deferred throwing out the first ball to Maj. Luna of nearby Orange, who pitched the first no-hitter on record at Orange High School in 1958.

The Angels, under new Manager Bobby Winkles, will send fireballing Nolan Ryan, the major leagues' strikeout leader with 329 last year, against Kansas City rookie Steve Busby, the choice of Jack McKeon, the Royals' new skipper.

The most emotional opener will be in Pittsburgh, where the Pirates will open without the late and legendary Hall of Famer Roberto Clemente in right field but with Willie Stargell surprisingly back in left.

Catcher Manny Sanguillen, a close pal of Clemente's, will be in right field for the Pirates with Clemente's widow, mother and children in the stands.

Williamston Is Third In Meet

PLYMOUTH—Edenton High School won only one event, and tied for first in another, but put together enough points to win a five-way track meet here yesterday.

The Aces finished the meet with 44 points, while Northampton was a close second with 41. Williamston was third with 38½, followed by Perquimans with 35 and Plymouth with 31.

Williamston and Northampton each had three outright winners, while Northampton tied with Edenton for first in one event. Perquimans won two and Plymouth won just one.

Edenton's depth managed to carry it through, winning enough points with second through fifth place finishes.

The lone double winner of the meet was Williamston's Elbert Highsmith, who took the long jump and high jump.

Williamston's next action will be next Thursday at Northampton.

The New York Nets are on the brink and the Carolina Cougars are ready to push them over tonight.

Lou Carneseca isn't jumping yet, but it doesn't look good for his club in the American Basketball Association playoffs.

Are the Nets finished? "Let's first win one—and then we'll see," says the New York coach whose club is down 3-1 to the Cougars in their best-of-7 East Division semifinals.

The Nets were beaten 112-108 Thursday night in New York for their third defeat of the series, one of three professional playoff games during the evening.

In another ABA game, the Indiana Pacers defeated the Denver Rockets 97-95 to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-7 West Division semifinal set.

In the National Basketball Association, the Milwaukee

Bucks trimmed the Golden State Warriors 113-93 to take a 2-1 lead in their Western Conference series.

Along with the Carolina-New York game tonight, Kentucky plays Virginia at Hampton, Va., in the other East semifinal. The Colonels are in the driver's seat with a 2-1 lead in that series.

In the NBA tonight, Atlanta plays Boston and New York meets Baltimore in Eastern Conference series and Los Angeles takes on Chicago in the West. Boston and Los Angeles hold 2-0 edges in their best-of-7 sets and New York is in front of Baltimore 3-0 in theirs.

Carolina's victory Thursday night was helped by an unexpected source, according to Carneseca—Joe Caldwell's outside shooting.

"You expect Billy Cunningham to kill you, but you don't expect Caldwell to beat you from the outside," said Carneseca. "The book is that he's weak from far out, so look for him to drive and score underneath."

Caldwell, who scored 22 points, combined with Cunningham's 29 points and 23 by Mack Calvin to help the Cougars withstand a last-quarter comeback by the Nets.

Indiana came back from a nine-point halftime deficit to beat Denver and virtually sew up their series. Billy Keller hit a three-point field goal with 14 seconds left to give the Pacers 96-95 lead, their first lead of the game since then opening minute.

Oscar Robertson scored 10 straight field goal attempts, and scored 34 points to help Milwaukee beat Golden State. The Big O started his shooting streak in the first period when the game was still close and didn't miss a shot until the final quarter, when Milwaukee led by more than 20 points.

Runners Go To Relay Events

With the addition of a football speedster Carlester Crumpler to the 400-relay team and the possible return of both Les Strayhorn and Maurice Huntley, who have been sidelined by hamstring injuries, East Carolina could make a strong bid for the 400-yard relay title in Saturday's State Record Relays in Columbia, S.C., according to Pirate track coach Bill Carson.

These three sprinters, along with Charlie Lovelace, comprise what Carson calls "the best 440 combination we could put together."

"Strayhorn and Crumpler will definitely compete," said Carson. "and if Huntley continues to recover at the rate he's recovering he might be able to compete also."

Carson also expects his team to be strong in the jumping events.

"Walter Davenport and Larry Malone represent a pretty good combination in the long jump and triple jump. They've both turned in some real good performances lately," he said. "Roy Quick could be a factor in the high jump too."

Davenport won the triple jump in last Saturday's rain-soaked Atlantic Coast Relays with a leap of 51 feet and 3¼ inches. Davenport is the defending triple jump champion at the State Relays.

Other ECU hopes rest mainly with a strong sprint medley relay team of Barry Johnson, Larry Hines, Gary Tiffany and Lanny Davis, and an improved mile relay team of Lovelace, Johnson, Palmer Lisane and Sam Phillips, according to Carson.

Pirates Chase League Leaders

East Carolina's high-flying Pirates aren't flying as high as they were, but Sunday they hope to get back off the ground when they travel to Boone for a doubleheader with Appalachian.

Appalachian currently leads the Southern Conference with a 2-0 record after sweeping a doubleheader from The Citadel on Monday afternoon.

The Pirates are now in third place in the conference with a 2-1 record after losing a heart-breaker to Richmond Monday by a 1-0 margin.

Righthander Tommy Toms pitched the distance for the Pirates in Monday's game and allowed only six hits and struck out 11. But, it was Toms own game when he balked in the only run.

"We were flying too high," said Jim Mallory, the Pirates' coach. "I think that loss will bring us back to reality. I hope the team realizes we must get to work if we are to be successful in the conference race."

Monday's win pushed Richmond into second place in the conference race with a 1-0 record. Furman stands fourth with a 2-2 record while William & Mary and Davidson follow with 1-1 records. VMI and The Citadel bring up the rear in the conference standing with -02 marks.

Following the road trip this weekend, the Pirates will return home on Wednesday hosting the North Carolina State.

Netters In Upset Win

East Carolina University's tennis team pulled off a 5-4 upset of North Carolina Wesleyan College here yesterday.

The Bucs, in winning the match, snapped a 28 game winning streak by Wesleyan, handing them their first loss of the season. It was only the second win for the Pirates in nine outings. Wesleyan is now 8-1.

East Carolina dropped the first three singles matches, then came back to take the final three. They won two out of the three doubles events to edge out Wesleyan for the victory.

East Carolina was scheduled to play host to Atlantic Christian today.

"The Royal Kangaroos"

Wrestling Matches On Thursday Night

The Greenville Jaycees are sponsoring a night of Mid-Atlantic Championship Wrestling, featuring the same wrestlers who are seen on television each week, at the ECU Memorial Gym, on East Tenth Street, on Thursday at 8:30 p.m. Proceeds will go to the Greenville-Pitt County Boys Club.

Tag team action is scheduled for the main event as Thunderbolt Patterson and Jerry Brisco join forces to clash with The Royal Kangaroos, Lord Jonathan Boyd and Norman Fredrick Charles III., wrestlers. Patterson and Brisco will have to be on top guard in this match as The Royal Kangaroos have proven in the past they will not hesitate to use their dangerous boomerangs tactics on their opponents.

Winners of this main event will be the team that can execute best of three falls with an hour time limit.

In another tag team bout the Alaskans, Frank Monte and Mike York, met the team of Klondike Bill and Big Boy Brown. Big Boy Brown weighs almost 300 pounds and his partner, Klondike Bill, weighs nearly 350 pounds. Even with their tremendous size they are two very agile men in the ring.

In a singles bout Mike Hall meets Jim Grabmire.

To open the evenings action Chuck Richards faces Tony Romano.

Trio Attend YR Meeting

Three local delegates of the Pitt County Young Republicans will be in Raleigh tonight and Saturday attending the state YR convention.

According to Bill Grantmeyer of Greenville, Pitt YR chairman, Randy and Mary Hunt of Greenville will attend, as will Miss Janie Barnes, a student at East Carolina University.

Grantmeyer said the Miss Barnes will be a contestant in the Miss Young Republican contest scheduled for Saturday night.

Charles Neely, president of the North Carolina Federation of Young Republicans, reported that most of the events will take place at the Sir Walter Hotel. A highlight of the convention, he said, will be the legislative reception Friday evening at the governor's mansion.

Gov. James Holshouser will be the guest speaker at the Awards Banquet on Saturday night, the president said, while Sen. Jesse Helms will be at the keynote convention speaker Saturday afternoon.

Neely, noting that over 70 YR clubs should be represented along with legislators and other officials, said that the state convention of the Teen-Age Republicans (TARS) will be held simultaneously with the YR activities.

RALEIGH—One of Pitt County's best known civic and business figures next week fills a "command performance."

The civic and business personality is W.M. (Booger) Scales of Greenville, star agent with Integon Life Insurance Company. The "command performance" will be with the 1973 Sales Congress of the N.C. Association of Life Underwriters.

"It's time old-timers as well as the newcomers among career life underwriters have a chance to hear from this highly successful North Carolinian," says Bob G. Gibson of Raleigh, chairman of the 1973 Sales Congress.

"When it comes to salesmen Booger Scales has few peers," Gibson says. "Moreover, he proves that you can be deeply involved in your community and still be a top producer."

The 1973 Sales Congress will be the 27th presented by the N.C. Association of Life Underwriters. The three-day event opens Wednesday, April 11 in Charlotte and moves to Winston-Salem the following day. The concluding session is scheduled at the Cinema I & II in Raleigh on Friday, April 13.

Scales will be sharing the speakers platform with two other nationally-known life insurance industry figures...Sydnor W. Brizendine, Jr., of Roanoke, Va., and Raymond E. King Jr., of Atlanta. The schedule at each of the three stops begins at 9:15 a.m. and concludes at 12:30 p.m.

Scales holds Greenville's "Golden Deed Award" and is a recipient of the Jaycee "Man of the Year Award". The field house at East Carolina University was named after Scales in recognition of his contributions to the community. For 13 years he has been Integon's top producer.

W. M. SCALES

Mrs. Mildred McGrath, the lone female member of the Greenville City Council, continues her lonely battle against the monthly hearing on rezoning requests, which she says is in violation of the ordinance covering rezoning.

At the April meeting of the City Council on Thursday night, Mrs. McGrath abstained from voting on all agenda items dealing with rezoning.

Grant McCord Immunity Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — McCord appeared Thursday before the grand jury investigating the affair and again invoked the Fifth Amendment in response to such questions as whether he had tried to plant bugs in the campaign headquarters of Democratic presidential candidate, Sen. George S. McGovern.

McCord and four men from Miami were arrested in Democratic headquarters early in the morning of last June 17. They had in their possession electronic eavesdropping equipment.

After the morning session, McCord was taken before U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica who granted McCord immunity and ordered him to answer all questions before the grand jury. He then returned to testify before the panel and is expected to continue testifying today.

Train Runs At Elm St. Park

With warm weather here, the Greenville Recreation has announced the spring opening of the miniature train at Elm Street Park.

On Sunday, between the hours of one and five in the afternoon, the little train will be put back into service.

A three lap ride is being offered at 15 cents per traveler. The train, which follows a scenic route, will accommodate 20 passengers. Designed primarily for children, adults who can comfortably seat themselves in the small seats can also ride, especially if accompanying young children.

"We are not supposed to vote on rezoning until May," she said in explaining her abstaining on each rezoning issue.

Mrs. McGrath for several months has reminded her fellow council members that the City Council is consistently violating official ordinance intaking action on rezoning requests on months not listed for such action in the ordinance.

The rezoning ordinance specifies that except in cases of emergency, rezoning requests will be heard by the City Council only at regular meetings in February, May, August and October.

It has been a long time policy of the council to schedule rezoning requests and public hearings on rezoning each month.

Following the final item on last night's agenda, Mrs. McGrath made another pitch, asking that a review of the policy on rezoning be put on the May agenda.

Mrs. McGrath received male smiles in recognition of her request—but no commitment that a review will be made on the matter of next month's meeting.

IRS Office Is Open Saturday

Hilton E. Boyd, supervisor of the Greenville Internal Revenue Service office, said the office will be open Saturday April 7, and April 14, from 8 until 12 noon, to provide taxpayer assistance to taxpayers filing 1972 tax returns.

These extra assistance hours are being provided to accommodate those taxpayers who have been unable to visit an IRS office during the normal five day work week, Boyd said.

Taxpayers needing assistance should bring their Forms W-2, along with other pertinent receipts and records necessary to complete the returns. Information should be organized and concise.

The Greenville office is located at 211 Evans Street.

Baez Again Withholds Tax

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Singer Joan Baez will refuse to pay part of her federal income taxes again this year to protest military spending even though American troops have left Vietnam, her business manager says.

"She's a pacifist and she's always protested the amount spent on arms," Roy Kepler of Menlo Park, Calif., said Wednesday in a telephone interview.

He said Miss Baez has refused for the past eight years to pay the percentage of her income tax she figures corresponds to the amount of military spending in the federal budget.

In past years, the Internal Revenue Service has collected the amount it figures is owed by Miss Baez, usually by attaching her bank account, he said.

MOSCOW AFTER DARK

As the long winter settles in over Moscow, the days dwindle to a few pale hours, and night comes sooner and lingers longer. But the city lights itself up to ward off the encroaching darkness, and life in the streets and squares goes on as the seven million Muscovites bustle about their business and pleasure under a glow of man-made illumination.

From Red Square to Gorky and Kalinin Streets, the Soviet capital's residents, wrapped up against the cold in overcoats, hats and boots, come and go under the glare of floodlights or the gleam of the street lamps. Shop windows and office buildings shine out, brightly lit, into the night. The landmarks of Red Square and the Kremlin, and other famous monuments, are floodlit for evening sightseeing. And, uncowed by winter, Muscovites stroll, shop, window shop — or stand in line to visit Lenin's Tomb — much as they do at any time of the year.

Opening lead: Queen of ♥
Also presenting declarer with a ruff and discard usually indicates the presence of a neophyte at the bridge table, it can occasionally reveal the hand of a highly seasoned performer—as witness the technique of East in defending against South's four spade contract today.

East was not well-heeled in high card strength for his takeout double of North's opening one diamond bid, but his distribution was attractive. South redoubled, and after West made the obvious one heart call, East passed to show that he had no additional values. South bid one spade, which his partner raised. When South bid three clubs next, North's hand took on added luster, since he had fitting values in both suits which he indicated by jumping to four spades.

West opened the queen of hearts, on which his partner signaled encouragement by playing the eight, and West won the first trick. The seven of hearts was continued at trick two and East put up the king.

On the basis of the auction and the appearance of dummy, the outlook was quite pessimistic for the defense, for, unless West held the ace of clubs—which appeared extremely remote—the only other trick in sight was East's high spade.

Presently East observed a method for developing a setting trick which hinged on nothing more remote than declarer's having only a four card spade suit. In pursuance of his plan, East returned a third round of hearts—deliberately giving his opponent a ruff and discard. South shuffled a diamond from his hand and accepted the force in dummy.

The king of spades was led and ducked. North continued with a second round. East held off again and, when South put in the ten and West showed out, the subtle purpose behind East's tactics was revealed.

If declarer led a third round of trumps, East would play the ace and lead a fourth round of hearts and force out declarer's remaining spade. This would establish East's lone spade as a second trump trick for the defense.

South abandoned spades and began running the diamonds. East trumped in on the second round, however, and cashed the ace of spades for the setting trick.

The 'Worry Clinic' Get Attention And Hold It

Luella's idea fulfills the first law of advertising, namely, "Attract attention." But many originally enticing girls then marry but fail to "hold the attention" of their mates. So memorize this case. And use the SMF to widen your marriage prospects!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE W-571: Luella S., aged 27, teaches high school science. "Dr. Crane," she began, "I recall some of your newspaper columns about the vital importance of perfume as a sexual attractor.

"Well, you are probably aware that agriculturists have learned to set sex traps for objectional insects.

"Recently, for example, I read that South African experimenters are enticing objectionable species of moths in this manner.

"They have developed a chemical that attracts male moths, just like the natural substance which the female moths produce to lure males.

"And they say the male moths are drawn to these sex traps from as far as 30 miles away!

"Why don't perfume manufacturers do as well for us isolated school teachers?

"For I am stuck in a village of 800 people, where all the eligible men are already married or have fled to the big cities!"

SMF Vs. Scent
Luella's idea is not as far-fetched as some might wonder. For perfumes have been a means by which girls have always attracted suitors.

And you fat, stodgy wives might perk up the enthusiasm of your jaded mates, if you'd take a lesson from Biblical Esther.

When Queen Vashti launched the Women's Lib Movement by refusing to perform a strip-tease dance for the assembled nobles and princes, the king panicked.

But his wise men urged him to punish Vashti for thus disobeying his royal command.

So the king banished her and ordered a National Beauty Contest, from which he would pick a new queen.

Esther was one of the most beautiful women of the empire. And she, as well as the other contestants, then became steeped in various perfumes for an entire year!

For the Bible states (Esther 2:12) that she spent: "... six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours and with other things for the purifying of the women."

Esther thus had the benefit of a 12-month modern "bubble bath" with all its sundry perfumes!

And Esther won first place, so she became the new queen.

Sirens have long realized the wisdom of using sweet scents, for these are male fetishes that have been linked with attractive femininity since infancy.

Their influence is often subconscious, often having been absorbed from their mothers while the baby boys were nursing at the breast.

They are some of the "hidden persuaders" that Vance Packard describes.

Meanwhile, our SMF (Scientific Marriage Foundation) is an ideal method by which isolated women, as well as men, can be matched with toptotch members of the opposite sex.

This charitable foundation uses 3,000 volunteer clergymen of the Jewish, Catholic and Protestant faiths as "grass roots" Counselors.

Via an IBM Computer, it matches applicants on 10 basic personality traits, so you have

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Friday, April 6, 1973—13 little cause for quarreling after marriage.

Its divorce rate after 17 years is far under ONE per cent!

So send for the "SMF Questionnaire," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. If you know of any person of good moral character and congenial personality, who'd like a wider range of marriage prospects.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, ad-

No Lasting Effect Seen From Boycott

By CHET CURRIER
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dramatic gesture though it may be, leading economists see little chance the nationwide meat boycott can have much lasting effect on prices.

The week-long protest would have to continue in some extended form to carry much weight among the major supply and demand forces at work around the world, many economic observers agree.

"It may make a lot of people feel better because they're doing something," says Dr. A. James Miegs, economist at New York's Argus Research Corp.

"But to have a significant impact on the price of beef, you would have to bring about a pretty fundamental change in American buying habits — and I don't believe that's likely to happen."

"This thing is like a prairie fire," observes Walter Heller, University of Minnesota professor and former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

"The spontaneity of it is as impressive as its magnitude. One reason why I like it is that I think the consumer should rattle his saber occasionally."

"But I don't think the long-run effect on demand will be very tangible. I believe people are going to go back eventually to their basic eating habits."

"Prices went up in the first place because of the tremendous demand for beef in this country," noted Leif Olsen, chief economist at First National City Bank of New York, the nation's second largest bank.

Olsen said massive consumer responses to economic problems are not new in the United States. "Normally these things are rather temporary," he said.

However, he also pointed to the possibility that the boycott "may represent a peaking of demand. The whole purpose of prices is to balance supply and demand. This boycott suggests that we could have a leveling off of demand for, say, the rest of the year."

"If the consumer buys less this week and then makes up for it next week, it all washes out," said Paul Samuelson, Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor who won the 1970 Nobel Prize in economics.

"It's very dramatic," said another knowledgeable economist who declined to be identified. "But a one-shot kind of boycott can at best have a temporary effect."

"It might be a different story if there were a continued campaign — like for instance 'meatless Monday' or 'meatless Friday' every week."

Robert Johnson, economist at the large brokerage firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, saw a chance that the boycott could actually work against the consumer.

"The most that could be hoped for is some psychological effect in terms of consumer resistance to higher prices. And with some farm groups holding back from the market in response to the boycott, it's conceivable the longer term result might be still higher prices," Johnson said.

Taxes Explained Via TV Feature

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There basically are three kinds of forms at tax-paying time: the long form, the short form and the prone form. The last is that of the citizen after he totes up his taxes.

If mothers don't quite know how to tell their young who old dad is prone at this time of year, they might plop the kids in front of the TV set at 1 p.m. EST Saturday.

At that time, CBS News will have a pretty fair explanation in a show called "What Are Taxes All About," one of CBS' consistently good "What Are" programs that try to decipher adult matters for small children.

Saturday's show is narrated by Christopher Glenn, who, with his wife and two young daughters, tries to illustrate how local, state and federal taxes affect one family and what those taxes provide in return.

It starts with Glenn presenting himself at the CBS paymaster's window to collect an oversized weekly paycheck of $200, which he admits isn't really what he earns and only is an example.

Nearly $40 in taxes is missing from the check. And off he goes to show where the missing money went, pausing en route to point out that every business and citizen earning a living pays taxes.

It's a leisurely trip that speeds up as he briefly explains the history of taxation and gets to the year 1913, when real taxation in the U.S. took root and grew. Boy, did it grow: That's when Congress passed the income tax law.

Glenn also covers the countless forms taxpayers now must fill out and the fact that "a few wealthy people actually pay no taxes at all because they can take advantage of certain provisions in the tax law ... called loopholes."

The show's only flaw is that it seems to be a bit too cursory about why people gripe about taxes. I suspect kids today are a lot more hip on this point than their elders realize.

But no matter. It's a good primer and parents can provide greater details if their children's curiosity is aroused by the show. And we hope it is.

You've got a lot to live

Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started. You've got a lot to live.
