Protest No Top Level Parleys Set

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH Associated Press Writer PARIS (AP) — The North Vietnamese Embassy threw cold water today on U.S. talk of a meeting between Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho, saying it knew nothing about such a meeting to discuss enforcement of the Vietnamese cease-fire.

The embassy issued a statement saying news about such a meeting had been issued unilaterally by the United States.

The North Vietnamese statement was issued as William Sullivan, U.S. deputy assistant secretary of state, and Nguyen Co Thach, Hanoi's deputy foreign minister, began talks on ways to carry out the cease-fire agreement signed in Paris three months ago today.

Those negotiations had been announced simultaneously Wednesday by the United States and North Vietnam. The announcements said nothing about a meeting between President Nixon's national security adviser and the North Vietnamese Politburo member with whom he negotiated the cease-fire agreement, but sources at the White House then said the talks between Sullivan and Thach would be a preliminary to a Kissinger-Tho meeting in mid-May.

The North Vietnamese communique today said: "According to Western news agency dispatches, the White House has announced that there would be a meeting between special counsellor Le Duc Tho and Dr. Kissinger around mid-May 1973. This is a report made unilaterally by the United States. The Embassy of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam does not yet have any information on the subject of this meeting."

North Vietnamese sources in Paris hinted on Thursday that Tho would not return to Paris unless Washington agreed to resume the clearing of U. S. mines from North Vietnamese waters and discussions of U.S. economic aid to Hanoi.

Close Committee Vote On Governors Succeeding Selves

RALEIGH (AP) — A bill that would let the people decide whether North Carolina governors shall succeed themselves narrowly failed to win the blessing of the House Constitution Committee today.

The committee divided 6-5 on a motion by Rep. Norwood Bryan, D-Cumberland, to give the bill a favorable report. Committee Chairman Kitchin Josey, D-Halifax, then announced that he would vote to create a tie.

Josey then ruled that with a tie vote "the motion to give the bill a favorable report fails." Earlier, a motion by Rep. Sam Bundy, D-Pitt, to give the bill an unfavorable report failed.

The committee is expected to meet again next week to see if it can decide on the bill sponsored by Rep. Thomas Gilmore, D-Guilford. Before taking up the bill, the committee voted 6-4 to approved tentatively a bill that would amend the state constitution to disqualify persons adjudged mentally incompetent from voting.

The vote on Gilmore's bill followed a lively discussion of whether North Carolina governors should be allowed to succeed themselves.

"I think by having a new governor every four years they bring a certain freshness to office that we would not otherwise have," said Rep. Howard Twigg, D-Wake, in opposing the bill.

"I think a man who has a program cannot carry it out in four years," said Rep. H. M. Michaux, D-Durham in favoring the measure. "... I think the people ought to be given a chance to decide whether they want to keep a man in office in order to give his programs time to operate."

Magruder Quits Commerce Post

By BROOKS JACKSON Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The sudden, unexplained resignation of former Nixon campaign deputy Jeb S. Magruder from the Commerce Department adds a new dimension to the Watergate scandal.

It was the first resignation of any high administration official involved in the widening wire-tap affair.

In another development, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., said his friend L. Patrick Gray, acting head of the FBI, had destroyed politically sensitive documents taken from the White House safe of Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt.

Weicker said Gray acted on orders of White House aides John D. Ehrlichman and John W. Dean III. Ehrlichman confirmed that he gave such materials to Gray, but denied ordering them destroyed. Dean couldn't be reached. Gray worked in his office today and avoided newsmen.

The destroyed files, taken from Hunt's office after last summer's Watergate raid, reportedly contained fake State Department cables purporting to implicate the late President John F. Kennedy in the 1963 assassination of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Magruder reportedly had been both an accuser and an accused in the case. He left his $36,000-a-year job as Commerce Department director of policy development without formal notice. His lawyer, James J. Bierbower, was asked late Thursday night for an explanation, and said flatly, "There will be none."

Recent news reports have quoted Magruder as telling federal prosecutors that Mitchell and Dean, the White House counsel, approved and helped plan last summer's wiretapping of Democratic offices. Magruder also reportedly said the pair later arranged payoffs to silence the defendants in the case.

Dean has said publicly he won't be a scapegoat and has vowed privately to implicate others. News reports say Magruder broke down only after Dean made accusations of his own to prosecutors.

Magruder has declined to speak to newsmen since reports of his accusations broke into print. His lawyer has said he advised him not to make public statements.

Joins Tribute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flew south in heavy rain today to pay tribute to Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss. The President's route will take him over the record Mississippi River flood.

The President and Mrs. Nixon join Secretary of Defense Elliot L. Richardson and other Pentagon luminaries in naming an education center for Navy enlisted men at Meridian, Miss., for the long-time Democratic senator who is chairman of the Senate Armed Services and Ethics committees.

The center, on the grounds of a naval air station at Meridian, will offer training in skills that could be useful to them in civilian life.

Stennis, 71, was critically wounded Jan. 30 by two young men who robbed him outside his Washington home. Three arrests have been made in the case.

Cairo Dimming Its Lights As 'War' Gesture

CAIRO (AP) — Street lights in this city of six million persons will be dimmed by 25 percent beginning tonight as part of Egypt's stepped-up preparations for "total confrontation" with Israel.

There was speculation Egypt may time a military attack to coincide with Israel's 25th anniversary celebrations, but according to reports from Tel Aviv, President Anwar Sadat has been warned by Western diplomats in Cairo to be cautious or he will run the risk of an Israeli invasion across the Suez Canal.

Government technical groups also will begin visiting some 4,000 buildings erected since 1968 to insure they have air raid shelters, newspapers reported.

The government has resorted to dimouts in the past to heighten the public's defense consciousness.

Many Cairo windows and headlights remain painted blue from blackouts first ordered in 1969 when Israeli jets ranged unchecked over Egypt.

In another development, the Saudi state radio reported that Gen. Ahmed Ismail, Egyptian war minister and commander of Arab armies facing Israel, was visiting the oil-rich desert kingdom and held talks Thursday with King Faisal and Defense Minister Prince Sultan.

Although the purpose of the visit was not disclosed, military cooperation between the two Arab states figured high on the agenda.

ADMIRAL DIES

Lose An Hour

Most of the nation will lose an hour this weekend to make summer days seem longer. Daylight Saving Time goes into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday. Those who remember will set their clocks ahead one hour.

The conversion applies throughout or in parts of 48 states, with Hawaii and Arizona the last complete holdouts. In Indiana and Michigan, on the border between Central and Eastern time, the situation varies among different counties.

Communists Call For Riots Against Lon Nol

By EDITH LEDERER Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH (AP) — With enemy forces as close as two miles from this capital, Cambodia's Communist rebels called today for riots and protests to overthrow the government of President Lon Nol. They said their artillery now can hit any point in Phnom Penh.

The Khmer Rouge—Cambodian Reds—urged in a clandestine radio broadcast that Cambodians living in government-controlled areas rise up against the president who earlier in the week agreed to the creation of a four-man High Political Council, including himself and three non-Communist oppositionists, to rule the republic.

The broadcast claimed government leaders, including those Lon Nol agreed to bring into a new government, were in

Interim Role?

RALEIGH (AP)—The presiding officer of the state Senate has suggested that nine standing committees operate between the 1973 and 1974 sessions of the General Assembly.

The legislature will begin annual sessions next January, breaking with its biennial tradition.

Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt recommended to the Senate Rules Committee that appropriations, commerce, courts and law enforcement, education and health, finance, judiciary I, judiciary II, natural and economic resources, and state and local government committees serve during the interim period.

Abandon 'Quotas'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party reformers today consider recommendations that include shedding a delegate "quota system" that figured in Sen. George McGovern's presidential nomination.

Lumped together as the Commission on Delegate Selection and Party Structure, the reformers were told by the 1972 convention to study the McGovern rules and recommend changes or improvements. He initially chaired the group.

On the eve of the commission's first meeting, a group of middle-of-the-roads called for major revision of the McGovern guidelines.

The Coalition for a Democratic Majority recommended a revision of the rule which resulted in the so-called "quotas" for women, minorities and youth in convention delegations.

Mixed Views On ECU Med School

By STUART SAVAGE Reflector Staff Writer

A report submitted to officials at East Carolina University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill regarding the accreditation of the medical schools at both institutions indicates the one-year program at ECU is "seriously lacking" in acceptable quality in its present form, but suggests that expansion of the school—or closer cooperation and control by the UNC-Chapel Hill school—could improve its standing.

The accreditation report—scheduled to be discussed by the UNC Board of Governors at their May 11 meeting in Chapel Hill—was leaked to reporters in Raleigh and in Greensboro yesterday. It gives accreditation to the one-year program at ECU for seven years through the Greenville schools ties with Chapel Hill, but criticizes both schools for working against, rather than with, each other.

The confidential report was made by a committee of the Association of American Medical Schools and the American Medical Association.

The accreditation to both schools was extended to seven years provided certain guidelines are met.

Those guidelines include: better cooperation between the two schools; strengthening the ECU one-year program by improving faculty, equipment and library facilities; settlement of the controversy over the need for another four-year medical school and where it should be located; and limit the enrollment of the ECU one-year program to 20 students.

If accreditation of the ECU one-year program is maintained, it must operate under the school at Chapel Hill. Accreditation is not granted by AAMS and AMA to one-year schools operating independently.

The UNC school, "if it is to bear the responsibility for the ECU program," the report noted, "must have adequate quality control over..." admission and promotion of students; assurance of integration of the curriculum; selection of the faculty; and planning, including budgetary and space plans.

"In fact," the report noted, "the ECU one-year program represents a generic national problem in that this type of arrangement portends the 'open university' if parent organizations or medical schools can develop an unlimited number of satellites without real quality control and supervision."

The accreditation report said a "notable feature of the faculty (of the ECU medical program) is the relatively low morale in the school at this time. This," the report continued, "has clearly been a direct outgrowth of the uncertainty of the future plans for the school."

The original faculty leaders, the report indicated, "came with the expectation that they would be given an opportunity to develop a new two-year basic science school and found when they arrived that it would be only a one-year program with, in their view, a very uncertain future. Hope now is openly expressed for a full medical degree granting program instead of the one-year program which is an extension of the UNC-Chapel Hill. However, this range of uncertainty makes it very difficult to recruit additional faculty since it is not clear what career opportunities actually exist. In addition, it appears to

Set Procedures For Hiring New Superintendent

By JERRY RAYNOR Reflector Staff Writer

Consensus on a basic procedure to follow in hiring a superintendent for the Greenville City Schools was reached Thursday night at a special call meeting of the City School Board.

Guided by Dr. Ralph Brimley, Educational Administrator and Supervisor, Education-Psychology Department of the School of Education, East Carolina University, board members explored a wide range of facts to consider for incorporating into a procedural policy in selecting a person for the top supervisory-administrative position in the city schools.

Basically, the tentative plan agreed on will follow a step-by-step pattern, with final approval of an instrument of procedure to be formulated at another school board meeting scheduled for Tuesday, May 1.

The current plan of operation is:

1. Send notices of the vacancy to key administrative personnel in the State Department of Public Instruction, other educational agencies and to appropriate departments in colleges and universities. The purpose of this action is to get early notification to as many available applicants as possible. Dr. Brimley received the board's permission to accomplish this as quickly as possible, including the use of telephone calls.

2. Place advertisements for the vacancy in large state newspapers and in large city newspapers of states bordering North Carolina.

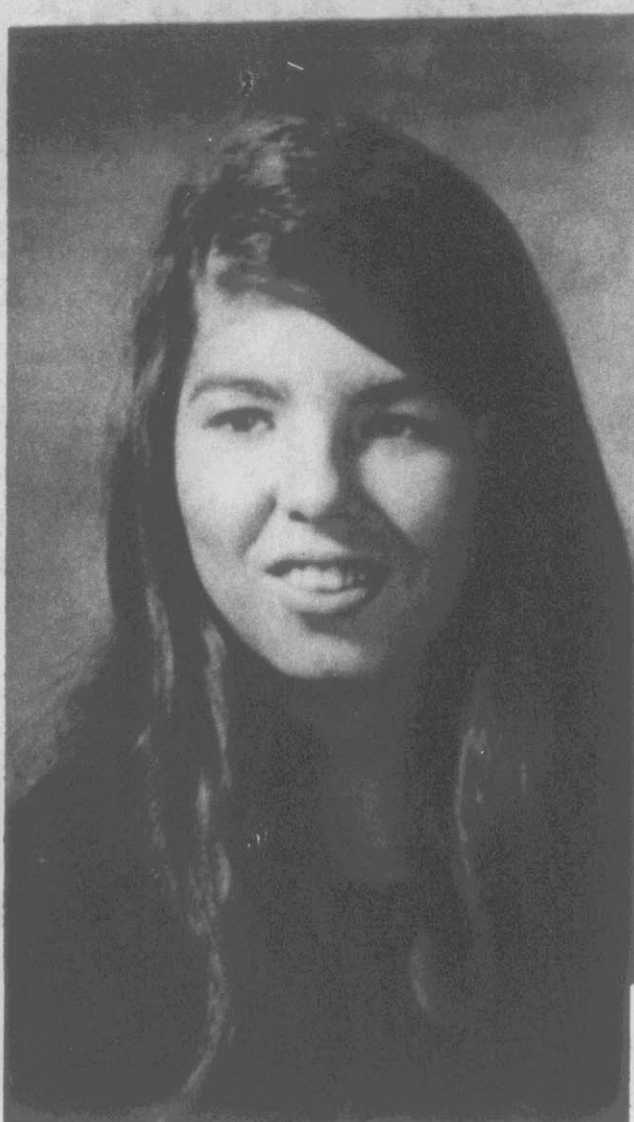

3. Forge ahead on preparation of a revised application form that will incorporate basic information desired from applicants for the position. Dr. Brimley has agreed to begin work today on this, in conjunction with personnel in the Greenville City School Administrative Office. At the same time, members of the Citizens Advisory Committee and school teachers in the city school system are being asked to submit suggestions to be considered in drafting the application form to be approved on May 1.

4. Once revised and printed, the new form will be sent to persons recommended by key personnel in state level agencies, to those responding to newspaper advertisements, and to any other applicant existing. (Continued on page 8)

Leave Children With Trustworthy People

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am divorced with an 8-month-old son, Timmy. Last weekend my boy friend invited me to go to Las Vegas with him, so I left Timmy with a friend I'll call Carol. Carol has no children of her own, but she has practically raised her younger brothers and sisters so I thought my baby would be in good hands.

When I came home and went to pick up Timmy, I was shocked and heartsick. He was all bruised and black and blue. I asked Carol what happened to him, and she said he fell off a chair. Abby, he can hardly sit up, and what would an 8-month-old child be doing on a chair? He looked as if he had been beaten.

I took Timmy home, and now he cries all the time and seems so weak and unhappy. What should I do? Carol won't admit to having beaten him, if that's what she did. I'm so nervous and upset and have no one to talk to. Help me.

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Take the baby to a pediatrician for a thorough examination to determine whether he has suffered internal injuries. You could file charges against Carol for abusing your child, but you would have to prove it, which would be virtually impossible. Next time, leave your baby only with one you are sure you can trust.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six years and have two children. My problem is a husband who never likes to go out, and I do.

Well, one evening my husband's brother came over with his wife. The brother wanted to go out, but his wife didn't. The wife herself suggested that HE take me. My husband told me to go ahead, so I went. I hadn't been out in such a long time I jumped at the chance. We went dancing and goofing around, and had a good time. We got home around midnight.

I asked a couple of my friends what they thought of this and one said, "You're lucky to have such an understanding husband."

Another said, "Any man who lets his wife go out with another man can't love her. He must be seeing another woman."

What is your opinion? And do you see anything wrong with what I did?
BEWILDERED

DEAR BEE: I'd agree with the first friend. [P. S. An occasional night out with your brother in law is all right, but don't make a habit of it.]

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I had a child out of wedlock. Because I was pregnant, unable to work, and unmarried, I filed for public aid. After the baby came I was advised to file a paternity suit against Roy, the baby's father. Roy admitted paternity, and the court ordered him to pay me child support every month, which he does.

Roy is marrying a girl who lives about 50 miles away. He says his fiancée knows nothing about the child and he has no intentions of telling her. I think he should. The child carries Roy's last name and if anything should happen to me, he would have to take the child. Roy is 30 years old, makes a very good living, and this will be his first marriage.

Would I be out of line to let Roy's fiancée know about our child? If I were in her place, I'd want someone to tell me.

CONSIDERING IT

DEAR CONSIDERING: Tell Roy he is unrealistic, unfair, and kidding himself if he thinks he can keep this illegitimate child a secret from his wife forever. I would not tell the girl, but I would advise you to urge Roy to before the wedding.

Mrs. White Attends Meet In Raleigh

RALEIGH — Mrs. Vernon White, wife of State Senator Vernon White, attended Tuesday's meeting of the Sir Walter Cabinet at the Woman's Club and had members of her book club as her guests.

Mrs. Graham Olive, Mrs. L. H. Ellis, Mrs. J. D. McArthur, Mrs. Paul Hunsucker and Mrs. R. M. Abbott attended the meeting and luncheon afterwards.

The Sir Walter Cabinet is a unique organization of wives of legislative and state government officials and women in state government. It was formed in 1923 and has been active during each regular session of the General Assembly since that time. Members meet from mid-January to mid-May for special musical programs and top speakers.

Tuesday's program featured a talk by James C. Wallace, past president of Conservation Council of North Carolina on "The State of the State's Environment." The musical program was presented by the Needham Broughton School Choral Ensemble, directed by Mrs. J. F. Freeman.

Cabinet members will not their golden anniversary with a 50th Anniversary Gala Monday, April 30, at 8 p.m. at the Sir Walter Hotel when husbands of members, past presidents and charter members will be special guests for a buffet dinner and entertainment.

Before broiling a steak, slash the fatty edges at intervals with a sharp knife. This will keep the edges of the steak from curling up.

Southern Pines will be the site for the annual state convention of North Carolina Alpha Delta Kappa.

Several hundred members of the international sorority for women educators will convene for the three-day meeting today through Sunday.

Five chapters in the Southern Pines area will host the convention with State Vice President Mrs. N. J. Glenn of Southern Pines as convention chairman. Mrs. J. C. Dunn of Asheville is state president. "An appreciation of North Carolina Alpha Delta Kappa Heritage" will be the theme of the convention.

In addition to business meetings Friday and Saturday, a luncheon and a 6:30 banquet on Saturday will be held at Southern Pines Country Club. The guest speaker from Wheeling, W. Va., will be Mrs. Billie Kernell, who is Southeast Regional grand vice president. Closing the convention will be a Sunday breakfast at Sheraton Motor Inn.

An arts display featuring paintings, crafts, books written by sorority members, and other original creations will be an additional feature of the weekend meeting.

Members attending from Alpha Iota will be Mrs. Elizabeth Savage, Mrs. Mildred West, Mrs. Lilah Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson and Mrs. Vivian Mills.

When you are making an omelet, you can use a fork to break the yolks and blend them with the whites.

Those from Alpha Nu will be Mrs. Jeanette Clapp, Mrs. Cleve Wallace, and Miss Alya Ray Taylor.

The group, all members of the ECU Symphony Orchestra, will appear on the program North Carolina: The Arts, which is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. ECU Symphony conductor Robert Hause will conduct the performance.

The performers include Marilyn Gibson Secor, violin; Sherry Jones Sievers, bass viol; Ronald Rudkin, clarinet; Craig Mills, bassoon; Jesse Nelson, trumpet; Douglas Adams, trombone; and Marion Sievers, percussion.

The Stravinsky work, considered technically difficult to perform, includes a variety of tunes of international origin, such as two marches, a fiddling dance, a tango, a waltz and a ragtime.

Crises Benefit Mental Health?

By PATRICIA McCORMACK NEW YORK (UPI) — Been through a crisis lately? If not, try to get involved in one. For mental health's sake.

You see, if you don't recognize a crisis or become involved in one, well, maybe you're not having normal experiences as you go through life.

Dr. Roy Menninger, president of the famed Menninger Foundation and a third-generation psychiatrist (his grandfather and father were psychiatrists, too), talked about crises during an interview. The talk settled on crises of middle age—from 30 to 55, a somewhat depressing age for men and women in this youth-oriented society. "Don't trust anyone over 30," and all that.

"The most important point to recognize is that it is normal to have crises," the Topeka, Kans., doctor said. He was in New York in connection with a symposium on the normal crises of middle years. The big crisis of the middle years for everyone is the fear that the end of productive life is nearing, psychologists have reported.

Menninger said crises are good. "A crisis," he said, "is an event that challenges entrenched ways of thinking of things. A crisis produces a teachable moment—time when a person is open to a new idea. It is an excellent learning situation."

The psychiatrist said husbands and wives can help one another through the middle-age crisis episodes by talking together about their goals and values and priorities.

Where the family is concerned—parents and children, Menninger said there should be a regular opportunity for family members to say what they are thinking. In an atmosphere of emotional honesty. If you're angry, be angry. If you're sad at such a speak-out, be sad. Don't mask your feelings.

The psychiatrist cited some ground rules for such regular discussions. They included: —All members of the family must agree to listen and be quiet and fair without interfering with what a person is saying.

—Each discussant gets equal time. —All participants must recognize that a good argument is therapeutic from a mental health standpoint. It helps get things out in the open.

"It can be a first step to honesty in family relations," Dr. Menninger said.

100 Million Trees Coming

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — In an effort to ensure that America's grandchildren will have sufficient lumber supplies, Weyerhaeuser Co. has begun planting a record 100 million new trees this year.

The company, one of the nation's largest forest products firms, is planting the seedlings in Arkansas, Alabama, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Mississippi, Washington and Oregon.

Weyerhaeuser foresters are using extensive forest practices such as this year's massive planting to keep pace with America's growing appetite for wood supplies — nearly 200 million tons each year, or twice the annual production of steel in the U.S.

Business-As-Usual Prevailing

As the "guardians" of the purse, Congress should bear the burden of combatting the inflationary trend which seems to be getting further and further out of control.

If we are to accept the premise that inflation is simply the amount of money in circulation exceeds a permissible limit, we should look at a couple of indicators as to a sound approach to the problem.

For instance, in the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee there's a bill poised for unleashing that could boost the pay of top leaders in Congress by another $5,000 to $10,000.

The Speaker we're told now gets $62,500 (plus $10,000 for expenses), and the president pro tem and majority and minority leaders get $49,500, plus chauffeured limousines. Members receive $42,500, plus allowances, perquisites and other benefits that alone make median income levels look like the lower echelons of poverty.

We shouldn't complain...after all, this same Congress is even now seriously considering raising the minimum wage to $2.60 an hour. The untrained, unskilled, under-educated and inexperienced may cheer; but it's a sure-fire way to make consumer goods and services more expensive.

And Congress' generosity to self should also be taken in the light that the Tax Foundation, Inc. warns the total tax burden on each of the nation's households will jump about $341 on average to an estimated $5,070 in fiscal 1973.... we can take some pride in the knowledge our lawmakers look after their own.

In the past decade, the Foundation notes the number of civilian workers on federal, state and local government payrolls jumped about 60 per cent. The total is now 13 million employed, and the cost per month of paying them runs to $8.9 billion. Total government spending in the coming fiscal year, we're told, should reach $442 billion compared to only $151 billion in 1960.

There's a wealth of little irritating details in the Foundation's report. Sadly enough, however, there's no prediction where and how it will all end. Bitterness is not in our hearts at the moment, only awe. Perhaps it is only that we are being governed not wisely but too well.

One Lingering Wonder: Why?

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

When the web of involvement in the Watergate affair finally is untangled, a question will remain to haunt the Nixon White House: Why did they do it?

Why, while President Nixon's re-election prospects soared and his early Democratic rivals floundered, did men in his campaign organization deem it necessary to try wiretapping?

And why the earlier attempts at spying and apparent political sabotage against Democratic candidates who seemed to need no assistance in bungling their campaigns?

For all the investigations into who acted and who knew of Republican political spying in 1972, there may never be a clear answer as to motive.

"What really hurts in matters of this sort is not the fact that they occur, because overzealous people in campaigns do things that are wrong," Nixon said last Aug. 29. "What really hurts is if you try to cover it up."

That is hurting now as Watergate accuses point to men high in the White House, while Nixon's spokesmen deny the President had any knowledge of what was going on.

There has been a claim that political surveillance originally was ordered because of a risk of demonstrations against Republican campaigners.

But that could hardly be a motive for the wiretapping-burglary at Democratic headquarters last June 17, or for the abortive attempt to bug the campaign offices of Sen. George McGovern three weeks earlier.

It seems more likely that Watergate happened because the Committee for the Re-election of the President was unleashed to do what its title said, with more money to spend than any candidate could really need.

Jeb Stuart Magruder, who actually ran that committee in its early days, before John N. Mitchell resigned as attorney general for his stint as chairman, has testified that the organization spent some $48 million on the campaign. It had $4 million left over after Nixon's landslide reelection.

So there was plenty of money to pay substantial sums to a college student recruited to infiltrate the campaigns of McGovern and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, and to finance alleged sabotage efforts.

And there are charges now that the same treasury financed efforts to buy the silence of the seven men convicted in the Watergate raid.

Republicans now say that the Nixon campaign operation functioned with ample latitude to plot and do what was done, and without the knowledge of the President.

"You need only know the players involved," said Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, the former Republican chairman, who never cared much for the CRP operators anyhow.

What the Nixon campaign committee seems to have had was a budget and a license for political overkill, both of which it used.

By the time the Watergate raid occurred, McGovern, the Democratic candidate Nixon men were said to have feared least among the opposition prospects, was clearly on his way to nomination.

The campaign for Muskie, who once as towering front-runner had led Nixon in 1971 public-opinion polls, had collapsed. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey was still trying, but with scant hope of nomination.

There was no evidence any covert CRP operation had significantly affected that Democratic situation.

On June 16, the day before the Watergate burglary, George Gallup's pollsters began three days of soundings which found that Nixon had a 60-per-cent-approval rating as president. That polling also discovered that in a two-man race, Nixon led McGovern 53 per cent to 37 per cent.

Ultimately, Nixon won with 61 per cent of the vote to McGovern's 38 per cent.

So the President was in firm command of the presidential campaign, if not his own staff and organization.

There is another irony in the fact that the Watergate crew had bugged a Democratic headquarters that actually had little to do with what was happening in the presidential campaign. It was managing the debt, scheduling the convention, and dealing with party leaders who had lost their clout to the McGovern newcomers.

McGovern hammered the Watergate issue throughout his campaign—but a month before the election, a Gallup Poll reported that 80 per cent of those interviewed did not consider the wiretapping case a strong reason to vote for the Democratic nominee.

The White House was denying all charges, standing on a Nixon statement that no one in the administration was involved. That statement has now been overtaken by events, and pronounced inoperative.

And the latest Gallup Poll indicates that 41 per cent of the American people believe Nixon knew in advance of the Watergate bugging.

Infighting Has Nixon Tied Up

By ROWLAND EVANS
and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—The seemingly bottomless pit of political dangers besetting Richard M. Nixon on Watergate, etc., can be glimpsed from the savage infighting now going on between those who want him to "go to the country" and those, now in the ascendancy, who insist he courts disaster if he speaks out before knowing all the facts about Watergate.

One of the President's oldest political colleagues, far removed from the slightest taint of Watergate or the backslashing effort to cover up White House involvement in Watergate, has bluntly warned him to "say nothing more until you see the bottom line."

Therein lies the danger. The "bottom line" (a Wall Street phrase signifying the final profit-or-loss figure) may not be visible for weeks or even months. To delay "going to the county" until grand juries, federal courts and congressional investigating committees have all had their say is to run the risk that the poison now permeating the White House will spread and threaten the entire executive branch with neurotic civil war and eventual stalemate.

The effect of this civil war now raging inside the White House is far more destructive to the President—and to his party—than generally understood. As one ranking Republican leader in the Midwest told us: "They look like a bunch of rats snitching on each other."

Yet, if Mr. Nixon attempts the full and complete explanation to the American people some Republican politicians are begging him for, later disclosures not now imagined could give the lie to whatever it is that Mr. Nixon has to say in his own defense on Watergate, etc.

Time and again since the Republican buggers were sent scurrying into the Watergate last June, the President's escape-scenario has seemed to come a cropper, overtaken by damning—but unexpected—events.

For example, the apparently airtight financial arrangement worked out to assure the silence of the convicted Watergate criminals turned out not to be airtight at all. It exploded in the face of the White House when James W. McCord, Jr., one of the Watergate seven, decided to tell the truth.

Likewise, the careful advance preparations of White House counsel John W. Dean II to pave the way for massive "executive privilege" claims by White House aides under Senate challenge also evaporated in thin air. Once McCord started to sing, the White House plan to forbid "former and present" aides from testifying before any congressional committee collapsed like a house of cards—which it always had been.

There are, moreover, shrewd White House students of Watergate who are convinced Mr. Nixon made a mistake April 17 when he pinpointed March 21 as the precise date on which "serious charges came to my attention" involving Watergate, which led to his "intensive new inquiries" into the matter.

How can Mr. Nixon be certain, these aides are asking, that a grand jury, a congressional committee or some other investigative body won't obtain a sworn statement that the President was forewarned long before March 21 of the Watergate involvement by certain members of his own inner staff? But dwarfing this are possible new revelations, frightening to Republican politicians, which may well expose a whole new set of illegalities before the end of the investigations into Watergate.

Thus some party operatives with ties close to the White House are now certain that high officials of the Committee to Reelect the President or White House aides are vulnerable on campaign mail-fraud charges, wholesale violations of campaign spending laws and other political embarrassments.

Hence, Mr. Nixon's dilemma is clear. If he heeds the voices of caution and says nothing to the American

Strength For Today

WATCHFUL WAITING
We hear very little in the church at large today about the second coming of our Lord. There are groups within every church which dwell at length on this teaching, and there are some churches where it constitutes almost the outstanding Christian doctrine. But in the church at large one does not often hear a sermon on this topic.

Yet it is one of the things upon which our Lord himself laid great emphasis. He frankly said that he did not know when it would occur.

This knowledge, he declared, was in the counsel of the Heavenly Father only. What he did say, however, with a directness and earnestness we should never forget, was that we should always keep ourselves in readiness for his return. No matter on what hour this would occur, we should be ready.

Counseling his apostles, he said that they were to be like servants awaiting their Lord when he returns from the marriage feast. They were to watch, for they knew not the time or the hour.

Don't Give Up The Ship

WASHINGTON—The Naval Court of Inquiry into the sinking of the SS Watergate was held in executive session here last week.

On the stand was Capt. Richard M. Nixon who commanded the ship at the time it went down.

Here is a partial transcript of the hearings which do not violate national security.

"Capt. Nixon, the SS Watergate sprang a leak on the morning of June 17, 1972. What did you do about it at the time?"

"I didn't think much of it. I was told by my executive officer that seven men had been fooling around in the shower room and the nozzle broke off."

"Did you order an investigation of the incident?"
"Yes, I did, and it was the most thorough investigation ever held on the high seas. I told my officers I wanted to know if anyone on my staff had anything to do with the leak. They reported back to me categorically that no one in the crew except for the seven men was involved in the incident. I accepted this as fact."

"Did you try to repair the damage at the time?"
"There was nothing to repair as far as I was concerned. The seven men were court-martialed and that was the end of it."

"But isn't it true that during the court-martial of the seven, there were hints that other people were involved in the leak?"

"It was only hearsay. A captain has many enemies on a ship, and I was not about to put credence in a lot of gossip and rumor."

"Now, Capt. Nixon, since the leak was not repaired, the lower compartments of the ship began to flood. Didn't you feel at that time you should take some action?"
"I sent my people down to inspect the damage and they said the ship was completely dry below decks."

"You didn't go down to inspect the damage yourself?"

"I had to stay on the bridge. It is a mistake for a captain to know too much about what is going on in the crew's quarters. Besides, I had great faith in my officers and their ability to judge whether the ship was in jeopardy or not."

"Is it true that your communications officer Lt. Ronald Ziegler kept announcing over the loudspeaker that there was nothing wrong with the ship?"
"Yes, he did it on my orders."

"Then Lt. Ziegler hadn't gone below to inspect the damage either?"
"Not to my knowledge. We were getting continual reports from our legal officer, Lt. John Dean III, and he assured us that we were safe and our crew was clean."

"But didn't you get suspicious when the water rose to the main deck?"
"I didn't like it, but I didn't consider it my problem I've been instorm before, six tobe exact, and I've always been able to weather them. Besides, my staff told me not to pay any attention because the ship was built to withstand any kind of pressure."

"When did you decide that you were really in danger?"
"On March 21, 1973, I received some startling information from my officers that the leak did not come from a shower, but that we had really hit an iceberg."

"Then you decided to take action?"
"Yes, I went on the loudspeaker myself and said that anyone responsible for hitting the iceberg would be immediately removed from the crew."

"And when did you decide to abandon ship?"
"When the water got up to my hips and I noted all my officers starting to take to the lifeboats."

"How did you feel about losing so many of your crew?"
"I felt bad about it, but by that time it was every man for himself."

Aussie Desert Train

By GORDON TAIT
Associated Press Writer
MUNDABRILLA, Australia

(AP) — Mundabrilla is a collection of cottages occupied by maintenance men for Australia's transcontinental railway. It's 775 miles east of Perth and 1,687 miles west of Sydney—the two cities that a train called the Indian-Pacific links in a trip that takes the best part of three days and three nights.

The train is air-conditioned and has a club car, dining car, single and twin roomettes, showers and easy chairs. Most of the time it's booked months in advance.

The Indian-Pacific is so named because it is a link between those two oceans.

Out from Mundabrilla, going east, the stunted mulga and mallee trees become fewer as the train rolls toward the Nullarbor plain at a steady 60 miles an hour.

Nullarbor is Latin for "not any trees" and the rail track runs for 420 miles across this limestone plain with never a tree in sight—perfectly flat with only saltbush or spinifex grass as far as one can see.

There's no town in this area, only occasional groupings of railroad workers' cottages and places which watered the locomotives before diesel-electrics took over from steam.

The express stops at few of these settlements. They are served by the affectionately named Tea and Sugar, a train that includes clothing and grocery stores, a butcher, correspondence course teachers for the children, a nurse, and at times a doctor and a dentist.

The trans-Australia railroad is single track much of the 2,461 miles, but there are side-tracks for the Indian-Pacific to slip past freight trains a mile long.

The meals in the dining car, of tourist ship standard, are included in the price of the ticket, and as on ships people quickly become friendly.

The one-way fare of $151.87 first class, $115.44 economy compares with the air fare of $220.24 first or $184.32 economy.

Running of the Indian-Pacific became possible in 1970 with the completion of standard-gauge tracks from Perth to Fremantle, and on the "missing link" between Port Pirie in south Australia and Broken Hill in western New South Wales. There used to be different gauges.

40 Years Ago Today

By GWYN COHILL
April 27, 1933

A sweeping investigation of the affairs of Pitt County was revealed yesterday when the six months Grand Jury filed its report. Covering nineteen typewritten pages, the report was one of the most comprehensive and voluminous ever compiled.

Lou Gehrig, the Yankees' first baseman, started the baseball season on its merry way with a homer the first time up. He holds the record for runs batted in, 184 in one season. Since June 1925 he has played over 1200 games in succession. The major league record is 1307 consecutive games.

It's All In Your Point Of View

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) —

Whether you believe that these are among the best of economic times, or the worst, depends upon your point of view. The division of viewpoints is becoming more apparent daily.

James McLane, deputy director of the Cost of Living Council, believes in a positive outlook. Writing in the National Association of Manufacturers' "Reports" he plugs optimism.

Optimism permits him to reflect that "Wage increases are no longer being eaten up by sizeable price increases," unaware that a page or so before, the NAM's own economist, George Hagedorn, notes that farm products prices rose 25.1 per cent in a year.

"Workers will not have to sing that old catch-up song," says McLane, alluding to the increase in buying power during the past year, an increase which labor leaders say has ended abruptly and must be corrected by pay raises.

A deep gulch now separates the administration view that price stability is a goal obtainable in months from that of business economists who are increasingly taking a less firm position.

Under ideal circumstances, they point out, greater supplies of food could be expected to satisfy demand and bring about lower prices late this year. But weather has been far from ideal, and fall shortages could develop. Moreover, union leaders are hardly in a mood to remain pacified. Last year they settled for average increases well below the rates of 1970 and 1971. This year they feel compelled to resume their demands.

If they succeed, the result will be higher prices for a great number of manufactured products. Gains in productivity, or output per manhour, would decline if wages rise sharply, and that means inflation.

If you are in the stock market you hardly know to whom you should listen. There is considerable wonderment among many investors as they watch profits soar and stock prices fall. Many investors clearly don't believe the economy is gaining every day.

For the first three months of the year, compared with the like period a year earlier, automobile and automotive parts companies showed an 88 per cent profit gain. Overall, 490 manufacturers averaged a gain of 31 per cent.

But — you can find many analysts, some close to the White House, who fear that the statistics provide merely an illusion of strength and that the economic giant is really suffering internally for its excesses.

Like a human being who over-extends himself, it is feared that a letdown is bound to follow. The heavy consumer buying of automobiles now, for example, could be at the expense of next year's sales.

Analyzing the results of their surveys during the past few weeks and months, consumer samplers arrive at a curious finding: Incomes are high but spirits are falling.

Director Of Nat'l Commission On Accrediting To Speak May 27

Dr. Frank Graves Dickey, executive director of the National Commission on Accrediting and former president of the University of Kentucky, will be the speaker for the 64th Commencement at East Carolina University May 27.

Degree will be conferred on approximately 2,000 graduates during the formal Sunday afternoon ceremonies.

One of the most distinguished names in higher education, Dr. Dickey has served as executive director of the national secondary school accrediting body since 1965. He was formerly executive director of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, 1963-1965, and fifth president of the University of Kentucky, 1956-63.

"We are highly gratified to have an educator of such distinction as our commencement speaker," Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, East Carolina chancellor, said.

"Dr. Dickey is known far and wide as 'Mr. Accreditation' in higher education in this country, and this is of great importance in this day of accountability," Jenkins said. "He has a keen insight into the problems and the dreams of institutions such as ours."

Dickey completed his undergraduate education at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky., with majors in English and history and a minor in music. He was awarded a master of Arts degree with a major in English literature by the University of Kentucky in 1942, and received the Doctor of Education degree with a major in administration from the University of Kentucky in 1947.

He was president of the Southern Association of Land Grant colleges and state universities, president of the Southeastern conference, president of the Southern Association of Public Institutions of Higher Education, and president of several state professional organizations.

He is a former chairman of the

Three Vehicles In Collision

A three-vehicle collision here yesterday caused an estimated $1,200 property damage, according to Police Department investigators.

Officers identified the drivers involved in the 8:30 a.m. mishap on Elm Street just North of the Treemont Drive intersection as Rosalind Gallops Thompson, 29 of Kingston; Michael Dean Tyson, 16 of 123 Greenwood Dr.; and Janet Leigh Mills, 20 of 1106 Overlook Dr.

Damage was set at $100 to the Thompson vehicle, $800 to the Tyson car and $300 to the Mills auto.

Miss Mills was charged with failing to reduce her speed enough to avoid an accident.

Falkland PTA Meets Monday

FALKLAND—The Falkland Elementary School PTA will hold its last meeting of the year Monday at 8 p.m. in the school library.

Important business will be discussed. Plans will be made for the second annual PTA banquet to be held on May 25. New officers will also be installed.

College Talk Tom Reese Is Elected New Jaycee President

High school juniors and seniors have been invited to attend a Career-College Day Exposition, sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority pledges and Trika of East Carolina University, beginning Saturday at 12 noon.

The program, held at Moyewood Social Service Center located at 1710 W. Third St., will consist of informative speeches and rap sessions on opportunities for the future.

Representatives from ECU, Elizabeth City State University, and Winston-Salem State University will speak on admission policies, the advantages offered by college in general, and the advantages of their schools in particular.

Alternatives to going to college will also be presented. Other designated persons will lead rap sessions on the fears and fantasies of college life, technical institutes, military life and human relations.

Refreshments will be served.

Tom Reese has been elected president of the Greenville Jaycees.

Reese was one of eight new officers selected by the Jaycee body Thursday night to head the local organization for the coming year. Six new directors were also named to serve on the board.

In addition to Reese, who succeeds outgoing president Don Brady, other officers elected during the annual Elections Night activities at the Elks Lodge included: Mike Peters, first vice president; Mark Meltzer, second vice president; Ray Manuel, third vice president; Roger Collins III, state director; Baxter Powell, secretary; Wes Measamer, treasurer; and Jim Hall, assistant treasurer.

Five directors were elected for new two-year terms on the board and a sixth man was named to fill the term of a resigning board member. New directors are Hal Smith, Jerry Cox, Melvin Hoot, Ray Landon, and Bill Turcotte. They join Duanne Long, Dick Kiernan, Jerry Creech, Marty Goldfarb, and Les Meekins who will complete their terms in 1974.

The new president, employed by Union Carbide Corporation here as chief inspector, is a native of Rocky Mount. He attended city schools there and then graduated from East Carolina University with an A.B. degree in business administration.

The 32-year-old business man has been a member of the Jaycees for seven years and has served as a director, second vice president, and parliamentarian during his tenure with the organization. Reese was chairman of the 1969 Boys' Home All Star Game and was state chairman of the Community Health Area for 1972.

Hussein Cheered By His Subjects

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—King Hussein has returned home after three weeks in the hospital with flu, and his subjects showed their happiness over his recovery by cheering and dancing outside the hospital.

Bedouin chieftains along the three-kilometer route from the hospital to the royal palace on Thursday showed their pleasure by slaughtering camels and sheep in the king's honor.

Find No Support Of Kidnapping

BOONE, N.C. (AP)—Police Chief Clyde Tester says his department "can find no evidence to support" a report by the 18-year-old wife of a policeman that she was kidnaped and raped early Wednesday.

The chief quoted the husband as saying his wife had been undergoing treatment "for a nervous condition."

Mrs. Fern Mercer, of Third Street School, and Mrs. Jacqueline Berbert, of Sadie Sauter School. There are about 50 tutors in the city schools who are volunteers and work with more than 100 children. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Spring Revival Begins Sunday

AYDEN — Evangelist Walt Hoover will conduct Spring Revival services at the Community Baptist Church at 11 E. College Street here, beginning Sunday and continuing through the following Sunday.

The evangelist is co-pastor of Community Baptist Church and Youth Center in Butler, Tenn. He attended Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C. and Tennessee Temple Schools in Chattanooga, Tenn.

The services will begin at 7:30 each evening. There will be congregational singing, special music, and a welcome for anyone who takes part, according to the pastor, the Rev. Stanley E. Wingard.

Choir To Mark Its Anniversary

The Senior Choir of Warren Chapel Church will observe its 48th anniversary Sunday at 5 p.m.

Various choirs and music groups will participate. Dinner will be served following the service.

Collided With A Police Car

Emily Mae Adams of Laurinburg was charged with failing to yield the right of way following an early-morning collision today at the intersection of Fifth and Holly Streets involving a Greenville Police Department patrol car.

Officers reported the Adams vehicle collided with a police car driven by officer Wilbur Ray Perry about 2:15 a.m.

Damage to each vehicle was set at $200. No injuries were reported.

Pitt Tech Hosts Nine Visitors From SACS

This week Pitt Technical Institute has as its guests a nine-member visiting committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The committee's visit is a part of the reaffirmation process of accreditation at the Institute.

Pitt Tech received its first accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in 1969 and is now seeking re-accreditation for a period of ten years, effective this year.

Prior to the visiting committee's appearance, Pitt Tech conducted a comprehensive "Institutional Self-Study" which took two years to complete. The self-study involved an in-depth look at the Institute's past, present, and future. For any weaknesses or needs that were uncovered, ways and means were developed for overcoming them. The Pitt Tech faculty, administration, students, and board of trustees assisted in the preparation of the study report.

During its visit, the SACS committee will assist in determining Pitt Tech's readiness for reaffirmation of accreditation. The committee is making a thorough evaluative study of the Institute, based upon certain predetermined standards of the SACS.

Some of the reasons given by Dr. William E. Fulford, Jr., Pitt Tech President, for seeking accreditation and its reaffirmation are: (1) for the mark of excellence it indicates; (2) for what it means to the students who graduate from such a school; (3) for what it means to the public and board of trustees in additional pride and interest in an accredited school; and (4) for the impetus it provides for a more effective institution.

The visiting committee is headed by Curtis Davis from the Gulf Coast Junior College, Jackson County Campus, Gautier, Miss.

Other members of the committee are Dr. Raymond Cleveland, president, Lee College, Baytown, Tex.; Lovell

Pillow, Texas State Technical Institute, Amarillo, Tex.; Mrs. Louise Davidson, Ashland Community College, Ashland, Ky.; Howard Gates and Ms. Beverly J. Gardner, Angelina College, Lufkin, Tex.; Dr. George Panos, Midlands Technical Education Center, Columbia, S. C.; H. David Blackwell, Dalton Junior College, Dalton, Ga.; Frederick L. Howell, Chipola Junior College, Marianna, Fla.

The committee will be completing its work and leaving on Friday of this week.

Actress Irene Ryan Is Dead

IRENE RYAN

AS "GRANNY"

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — To millions of viewers who watched "The Beverly Hillbillies" during its nine-year run on television, diminutive Irene Ryan was the "Granny" who kept her backwoods kin in line with her sometimes-shrill voice.

She once said, "That's how most people recognize me, through my voice. I'd lot rather be known as 'The Body,' but I guess I'll have to be content with what I got."

The veteran actress, who recently made her Broadway debut in "Pippin," died Thursday night at a Santa Monica hospital after suffering a stroke. She was 70.

She was flown here after being stricken on the "Pippin" stage March 10.

Miss Ryan had become a millionaire through savings and investments from "The Beverly Hillbillies," a comedy about a family that struck it rich on oil.

She had endowed a foundation bearing her name with more than $1 million in scholarships for promising students in theater arts. She was scheduled to be present Sunday at this year's presentations at the John F. Kennedy Center for Performing Arts in Washington.

Her career began at age 11 when she sang "Pretty Baby" as loudly as she could in winning $3 in an amateur contest at San Francisco's old Valencia Theater.

With her late first husband, Tim Ryan, the comedy team of "Tim and Irene" toured vaudeville for years, then made it to radio.

Starting in 1962, on "The Beverly Hillbillies" she became known as the forceful "Granny" who liked to puff a pipe, tote a rifle and try to put good sense into Beverly Hills when the television family moved from hillbilly country after striking oil.

Her role in "Pippin" had earned her a Tony nomination and her song from the show, "No Time At All," was a recording hit.

Walked Off; Back Again

RALEIGH (AP)—Southern Bell Telephone Company said Thursday all employees who had walked off the job Tuesday were back at work.

Nearly 200 Raleigh workers staged an unauthorized walkout protesting the two-day suspension of 23 workers who called in sick last month to object to an employer's promotion over a co-worker with more seniority.

The workers reached their decision Wednesday night at a meeting called by Robert Whitley, local president of the Communication Workers of America union.

Whitley said he and other union officials urged the workers to end the unauthorized walkout or face the possibility of disciplinary action by the company.

Robert Wood, district manager for Southern Bell, said Thursday all employees were back on the job, including some Winston-Salem and Lumberton workers who walked out Wednesday in sympathy with the Raleigh workers.

Church To Mark Anniversary Of Serving Deaf

"A Day For The Deaf—A Celebration" is planned for families and friends of Arlington Street Baptist Church Sunday. The church will celebrate the seventh anniversary of their ministry to the deaf in this area.

Sunday School will begin at 9:45. The Rev. Neal Payton will teach and the Rev. Jerry Potter will preach at the 11 o'clock worship service.

Peyton and Potter are missionaries to the deaf in North Carolina, supported jointly by the North Carolina Baptist State Convention and the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

A picnic dinner will be served following the morning services. Friends of the deaf are invited.

Plan Sunday Homecoming

Annual homecoming will be observed Sunday at the Faith Pentecostal Holiness Church, located on 14th Street Extension. Sunday School will begin at 10 a.m., Daylight Time, and the worship service at 11 o'clock with the Rev. B. C. Horrell delivering the homecoming message.

The Rev. Horrell is a former pastor of the St. Paul Pentecostal Holiness Church here. He is presently pastoring the Roanoke Rapids Pentecostal Holiness Church.

Lunch will be held on the church grounds immediately after the morning worship service. Arrangements have been made to hold the lunch in a warehouse in the event of inclement weather.

There will be an old-fashioned gospel sing in the church sanctuary at 2 p.m. There will be several groups participating: Sheldermine Quartet; Faith Quartet; Williams Trio; Happy Gospel Singers; and Pleasant Hill Choir.

The public is invited to attend the homecoming services.

Begin Week Of Services

GRIFTON—The Rev. Coy C. Privette, pastor of the North Kannapolis Baptist Church and president of the N. C. Christian Action League, will conduct revival services at the First Baptist Church here beginning Sunday night.

Services will continue through the week at 7:30 p.m. nightly.

A native of Statesville, Privette is a graduate of the Statesville public schools, Wake Forest University, and Southeastern Seminary.

He attended the School of Pastoral Care at the N. C. Baptist Hospital, and the Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism, American University, Washington, D. C. He has received a number of awards, including being named "Man of the Year" in 1961 by the Ellerbe, N. C., Lions Club. In 1966 he was named "Young Man of the Year" for Kannapolis.

During the revival, special music will be presented each night. A nursery for small children, three years and under, will be open.

I should have known everything would be all right when I took Bob home to the ranch during spring break. One of the nicest things about our falling in love has been finding that we agree about almost everything under the sun.

Bob won Mom's heart the minute we got there. Laurie, my little sister, asked, "Come see my bird's nest?" "Sure," Bob said, and away they went. Mom beamed. She thinks anyone who likes children and birds is all right.

Later, Bob played basketball with my brothers and tinkered with the tractor, getting black and greasy right along with Dad. Everybody loved him.

Sunday we all went to church. Standing there, singing with Bob, my family close by, I thanked God for His goodness.

I'm glad that God and his church have been an important part of my life and of Bob's. Our life together will be enriched by this shared reverence.

Your church offers joyous fellowship. Why don't you go—and take your family with you?

Not Everybody Rushing To Wed

STILL SINGLE—Bernice Buresh, left, bureau chief for Newsweek magazine in Boston, and Kay Bailey, a Texas legislator, are unmarried career women. Neither are uptight about being single. (AP Wirephoto)

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer

At 29, Texas legislator Kay Bailey is single, not uptight about it and, in fact, says, "I'm not anxious to get married."

Andria Knapp, an economist at 24, just quit her government job to spend four months working in England. "I don't want to get married now," she says.

Kay and Andria are among an increasing number of women who want to get married someday, but ask, "What's the hurry?"

Census figures show that in the past decade the number of single women between the ages of 20 and 24 rose to 36.4 per cent, an eight per cent increase. In the 25-to 29-year age group, the number of single women increased by two percentage points to 12.2 per cent. These figures were adjusted to discount the effects of population growth.

"The same has been true for men," a Census Bureau official said. "More young people are pursuing advanced careers and advanced educational opportunities. Also, there are fewer constraints these days. There's more latitude and flexibility."

In interviews with two dozen female college graduates, all career-oriented and between the ages of 22 and 35, most said "their ideas about when to get married have changed markedly since they graduated from college."

Influencing them, they said, were better job opportunities and salaries, more relaxed sexual morality and reliable birth control methods, legalization of abortion in many states, a steadily rising divorce rate and a new sense of self-worth.

Dr. Zella Luria, professor of psychology at Tufts University, cited another factor influencing the delay to marry.

"The notion that if you get married, your problems are solved, has gone by the wayside. Women have more options now," she said.

"I won't close the door on anything," said Miss Bailey, an attractive blonde member of the Texas state legislature and $15,000-a-year corporate lawyer in House. "But I'm not just bidding my time."

"With all the pressures in my job, I sometimes look for a way not to have to face the cold, cruel world every day. I think it might be nice to go to luncheons, chauffeur the kids, take care of the house."

"But when I get right down to the core of it, I don't know if I could be the complete housewife. I'm not sure."

Most of the women interviewed said that ultimately they did not want to shun marriage, but rather sought to fit it into their lives.

"It's not a matter of not wanting to get married, but of figuring out where it will fit," said a 28-year-old stockbroker trainee who requested anonymity.

"When I got out of college in '69, all my friends were getting married," she said. "I had tremendous guilt feelings. I wondered, what's the matter with me?"

do with their careers if they have children?

"Then I went to California and met happy people who had careers and friends and a good sense of family, people who were content with themselves. I no longer disappointing to my parents. Disappointing to myself."

Most of the women had quick, articulate answers to questions about marriage, indicating they had given it considerable thought, but almost all stumbled over one: What to do with their careers if they have children?

"In this job, they'd be impossible," said Bernice Buresh, 31, recently named Newsweek magazine's first woman bureau chief and transferred to Boston.

A Noise Nuisance Tax On Airplane Passengers

By ELIAS ANTAR
Associated Press Writer

ROISSY, France (AP) — The French are building Europe's largest airport in this flatlands of beet fields and peaceful villages near Paris. If you pass through on vacation, you'll have to pay a tax to protect the villagers from jet roar.

A government decree, said by officials to be the first for a major airport anywhere in the world, provides for the tax on every departing passenger to help pay for relocating people who don't want to live near the airport or for soundproofing the homes of those who want to stay.

The government imposed the tax because of pressure from groups in the Roissy area and in Villeneuve le Roi, a town at the end of the main runway at Orly Airport south of Paris.

Villeneuve residents have been living under the roar for a dozen years, with a jet taking off or landing at Orly every 90 seconds at peak periods.

"We don't want to end up like the poor people at Villeneuve," says Pierre Bories, a 43-year-old lawyer who heads a community organization in the Roissy area 17 miles north of Paris.

He estimates a quarter of a million people in 45 towns and villages around Roissy will suffer "noise nuisance" when the airport takes over from Orly as France's chief gateway.

Some villages such as Le Mesnil Amelot date from the 15th century. Its 560 inhabitants will be less than a mile from the end of a runway, and the village may have to be abandoned.

The Roissy airport is a sprawling complex one-third the area of the city of Paris and much larger than Kennedy International Airport in New York. It has futuristic architecture and by 1985 will be able to handle 60 million passengers a year.

The $355-million first stage going into operation next spring will handle 10 million passengers a year by 1977, officials predict, with a plane landing or taking off on an average of every three minutes around the clock.

The noise tax began last February for travelers from Orly and the third major Paris airport, Le Bourget. It will be collected at Roissy as soon as the airport opens next spring.

Unofficial estimates show the tax—22 cents a passenger for interior flights and 66 cents for international travel—will bring in about $3½ million in 1973. With air traffic in France increasing about 14 per cent a year, the fund will grow proportionately.

Nobody professes to know how the money will be distributed. Bories and other anti-noise leaders suspect it will not be enough and fear government noise leaders suspect it will not be enough and fear government red tape will slow the expected relief anyway.

"There are 800 houses in five villages and towns where the din from Roissy will be the most intense, plus schools and other public buildings," Bories said. "To soundproof them or relocate those who want to leave will cost at least $44 million."

Bories wants a law imposing strict noise limits on all airlines using the new airport. So far, parliament has not acted.

He also wants a ban on night flights, but officials say this is out of the question. However, the mayor of Villeneuve near Orly led demonstrations in 1966 that forced the government to cancel Orly's flights between 11:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m.

Low Road Bids By Barrus Co.

RALEIGH—Barrus Construction Company of Kinston was the apparent low bidder for two road improvement projects in Pitt County.

The bid for the major project, 1.15 miles of improvements on Cotanche and Charles Streets in Greenville from Tenth Street southeasterly to the U.S. 264 bypass, was $504,625.73.

That project includes the widening of Cotanche Street between 10 and 11th Streets, a relocation from Cotanche Street to Charles Street between 11th and 12th Streets and the widening of Charles Street from 12 Street to the U.S. 264 bypass.

The other Pitt County project will involve .175 miles of improvements on secondary road 1147 from secondary road 1131, southeasterly to N.C. 11 south of Greenville. That project bid totaled $49,164.10 and is expected to be completed by Oct. 1.

Another project involving Pitt and Beaufort Counties is 14.2 miles of surfacing of three sections of secondary roads and resurfacing three sections of primary roads and one section of secondary road.

The low bidder for that project was Cumberland Paving Company of Fayetteville for a bid of $133,842.70. Completion date for that project is Oct. 1.

Sales Rose, But Earnings Down

EDEN, N.C. (AP)—Fidelitycrest Mills, Inc., reported Thursday that its earnings were down for the first quarter of 1973, although sales were up by 13 per cent.

Sales for the quarter totaled $7,440,000, the company reported. Net earnings for the quarter were $676,000, compared to $1,056,000 for the same quarter in 1972. Earnings per share were 19 cents, compared to 30 cents last year.

William C. Battle, president and chief executive officer, said the earnings drop "was occasioned by a continuation of the trends of the fourth quarter of 1972 through January and February of this year."

Public opinion picked Sachs Tuebingen, Germany (AP)—Gunther Sachs, millionaire playboy and ex-husband of Brigitte Bardot, is West Germany's most prominent socialite, according to a nationwide public opinion poll.

The Carpenters Will Entertain

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon will entertain West German chancellor Willy Brandt with the "soft rock" music of the Carpenters next Tuesday at a White House state dinner.

Richard Carpenter, a 27-year-old pianist, and his vocalist sister, 23-year-old Karen will perform in the East Room following the dinner in Brandt's honor.

Michigan extended suffrage to women in 1919, a year before their right to vote was guaranteed by the federal constitution.

CAREER SALES OPPORTUNITY

Would you like to earn $10,000 to $25,000 a year (and more) as a salesman? You can do it right here in beautiful eastern North Carolina. No overnight travel is required. We offer a comprehensive three year training program. You will receive excellent fringe benefits. There is an opportunity for rapid advancement.

Of the six men in sales positions in our Raleigh, North Carolina office, three earn in excess of $25,000 a year and three others earn between $10,000 and $25,000 a year. In recent years our top salesmen have qualified for meetings in San Francisco, California; Miami Beach, Florida; Grand Bahama Island; Hilton Head, South Carolina; and Acapulco, Mexico.

We pay a guaranteed starting salary of up to $1,000 a month. A bonus plan makes it possible to earn in excess of $20,000 in the first year and in excess of $30,000 in the second year. We can prove that this has been done. After the initial three year training period, our men are self-employed and completely independent.

A sales background and a college degree are desirable but certainly not essential. Several of our men have college degrees, others are only high school graduates. We have successful men under 25 years of age. Other successful men in our organization are grandfathers. We have no particular requirements - we are looking for honest, hard-working men (and possibly women) who meet people well and who will work very hard and follow our proven sales system exactly.

Take five minutes to investigate this challenging, satisfying and rewarding career. Call Raleigh 919-787-9570 or 787-9519 on Friday, April 27th, between 4:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. or Saturday, April 28th, between 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets were weaker Thursday. Supplies adequate, demand fair. Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites: 54.30; medium whites: 49.38; small whites: 39.43.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina hogs are steady to 25 cents lower. Tops of 32.75-33.75 Siler City and Denton; 32.50-33.50 Kinston, New Bern, Benson and Lumberton; 33.00-33.50 Tarboro and Bethel; 31.75-33.25 Wilson and High Falls; 33.00 Salisbury and Mount Olive.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina f.o.b. dock broilers: market steady at current price level, supplies fully adequate for a fair to good demand. Weights desirable to heavy.

North Carolina hens: Market tone remains firm for next week. Offerings of both heavy and light type hens are adequate and the demand is good. Too few sources reporting to release prices.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices fell sharply today after the momentum behind Thursday's mild rally fizzled.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up minimally near the opening, was down 8.58 to 929.18 at 11:30 a.m.

Declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by 3 to 2. Earlier, advances led by 2 to 1.

"Inflation, rising interest rates, and all the associated problems are pulling the market down," said Martin I. Goodfirmed, analyst with Bruns, Nordman & Co.

"Confidence is shaken," he continued. "The investment community requires some forthright measures from the Nixon administration indicating that it won't let inflation continue to run rampant."

Analysts noted that the meeting between President Nixon and his top economic advisers this weekend, cited as one factor behind Thursday's 7-point rally on the Dow, was not expected to produce any concrete results.

On the Big Board, International Telephone was down 1/4 to 33 3/4. Texaco fell 7/8 to 39 1/4. Exxon was off 1/2 to 98. Chrysler was down 3/4 to 32 3/4, and Tenneco fell 3/4 to 24 1/4.

Offer Test For Clerk-Carrier

Postmaster H. Lloyd Mills has announced that the examination for the position of substitute clerk-carrier has been reopened for the Greenville post office. Anyone desiring to apply may get their application at the Main Post Office here. Final date for applying is May 10.

Procedures . . .

pressing interest in being considered for the position. In asking the school board members to enumerate specific attributes they seek in a superintendent, board members agreed on several that should be primary.

These were—dedication to quality education for all students; good character; leadership ability; ability to get along well with others; the ability to communicate verbally and in writing; initiative; and stamina and health.

Several of these key considerations, Dr. Brimley said, need to be incorporated into requests for information included in letters to character references furnished by applicants. He stressed the need to be selective, to keep in mind that persons providing references would not want to comment on an applicant's qualifications on an overly long list of characteristics. Each applicant to be considered after the initial stage of scanning applications will be asked to furnish a minimum of five references.

A deadline of June 1 has been set for the receipt of applications. Dr. Brimley told the board members that early action is necessary if the board expects to have access to the best qualified candidates.

The application form will be a composite of the current form; suggestions offered by CAC, teachers, school board members; and evaluation characteristics developed by Dr. Brimley on a form he uses in his work at East Carolina University.

At the conclusion of reaching this procedural agreement, the school board went into executive question to consider the resolutions passed Wednesday night by the Citizens Advisory Committee.

The three resolutions included a request that the school board "advise Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood of the reasons why he was not reelected for another term."

Other resolutions passed on Wednesday by the CAC—that the board examine in depth its procedure for selection, etc., of a superintendent; and that the board utilize the CAC in an advisory capacity in the selection of a new superintendent, were in effect incorporated into the procedural pattern agreed on by the school board.

In response to a resolution made by the Citizens Advisory Committee, requesting that the Greenville City School Board advise Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood of reasons for not reelecting him, board members have asked board chairman Dr. Dr. Badger Clark to write a letter to the CAC.

"This was the decision reached at the executive session of the school board," Dr. Clark commented this morning. School board members went into executive session following adjournment of the special call meeting Thursday night to consider the CAC request.

"I was asked to write a letter to members of the advisory committee," Clark said, "and am in the process of doing so. I was able to tell a few CAC members still around when the executive session ended that a letter will be sent to them soon."

Med School . . .

the survey team that incentive for joining the faculty in Greenville is very limited."

Commenting on the report this morning, Dr. Edwin Monroe, vice-chancellor for health affairs at ECU said a formal complaint to the liaison committee (which made the report) is being prepared.

"The liaison committee did not evaluate only East Carolina's one year program as affiliated with Chapel Hill," Dr. Monroe said. "Instead, it chose to evaluate East Carolina as if it were now beginning the operation of a four-year medical school. Everybody knows that this is not true," he emphasized.

"The one-year program has been described as a 'weak medical school' in news stories related to this survey report, and is said to be lacking in quality. We simply ask, as compared to what or to whom?"

"Is this comparison with other one year programs of which there are only a small handful in the country? We do not think so. We think that the comparison was made to established medical schools and particularly to the well established medical school at Chapel Hill.

According to Monroe, the operating budget and resources for the ECU program, including faculty, "were dictated by the Board of Higher Education and of far less than we ourselves estimated were needed to operate a sound one year program."

He noted too, that "cooperative agreements have been negotiated three times with Chapel Hill in the past 18 months and each time have been deemed satisfactory by both institutions and most recently were signed by the heads of both institutions and submitted to the medical study committee and the board of Governors and President Friday (UNC President Dr. William Friday)."

"If they were not satisfied, why did they sign the agreements?"

According to Monroe, "we have fought for eight years now to establish a medical school to meet the needs of the people of North Carolina. We are willing to continue this struggle until the people's needs are met. But until the State of North Carolina makes a decision that there is to be a four year medical school at

Cooperating In Survey

The Greenville Chamber of Commerce-Merchants Association is one of several organizations cooperating in conducting a survey to determine the need for commuter air service between Greenville and the Raleigh-Durham Airport.

According to Harold Creech, manager of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, the Coastal Plains Regional Development Commission and the State of North Carolina have announced that a reasonable market or need exists and there is a strong possibility that commuter air service can be established between the Greenville and Raleigh-Durham airports.

"Such a development would afford a number of advantages including the opportunity to make more convenient connections with flights into and out of the Raleigh-Durham facility," Creech explained.

"Local interest, support and participation in completing the survey are greatly needed and appreciated," Creech said.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N. C.
Partly cloudy and cool Sunday. A chance of rain in the west Monday and across the state Tuesday. Continuing cool, with daytime highs in the 60s.

East Carolina University, we can continue to expect this kind of prejudicial treatment from the medical school establishment and from some newspapers in the state.

"We simply ask when someone other than ourselves will speak up for the needs of the people," he said.

Carries Gun Into The White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Normally even state police officers accompanying governors are required to leave their guns at the White House door. But press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler says Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan carries a side-arm when he comes to call.

Brennan was recently sworn in as a deputy U.S. marshal, which gives him authority to carry his gun across state lines.

Errors Let Rocky Mount Down Rose, 4-1

By WOODY PEELE

Reflector Sports Editor
Costly mistakes ended Rose II baseball's hopes of a Division II baseball title last night as Rocky Mount virtually eliminated the Rampants from a chance at it with 4-1 victory.

The Rampants committed four errors and a couple of mental ones that allowed Rocky Mount to score three of their runs, and kept the Rose diamonders from scoring more than one of their own.

A key injury also kept them in trouble, as Jerry Griffin hurt his hand in the third inning and had to leave the game. Thereafter, every Gryphon who reached first base with second unoccupied, stole up.

Lee Cherry absorbed the loss, but hurled a good game. He was tagged for five hits, but only one of them was a solid blast, a sixth inning riple that helped account for the final two runs by the Gryphons. Nonetheless, three of the four runs were unearned. Cherry struck out nine and walked only one.

Winning pitcher Randy Warrick had more trouble, walking 10 while fanning seven, and allowing four hits. But when his back was to the wall, he came up with the stuff it took to get Rose. Three times he found the bases loaded against him, and only once did a run come in, and that was not his fault.

Rose had a threat in the first, when Al Heath walked and took second on a passed ball, only to die there. Rocky Mount pushed ahead in the second. Sonny Wooten grounded back to first, but Cherry, making the play on the base, missed it and Wooten reached safely. Cherry then tried to pick him off first, but was wide of the target, and Wooten raced all the way to third on the play. He scored when Tommy Crocker singled to left.

Pirates Face Tough Schedule

Seven games in eight days will tell the story for East Carolina baseball fortunes beginning Saturday afternoon at Harrington Field.

Then the Pirates host The Citadel at 3 p.m., to start a period of seven conference games in eight days which at the end will determine the Southern Conference representative at the NCAA District III Playoffs in Starkville, Miss.

East Carolina was scheduled to play William & Mary last Thursday at Williamsburg, Va., but were rained out. The game was rescheduled for next Thursday.

The Pirates open the seven game series Saturday with The Citadel, then travel to Richmond on Monday. On Wednesday, Coach Jim Mallory's squad returns home for a doubleheader with Appalachian on Saturday.

Going into the home stretch the Pirates carry a 12-5 record along with a 6-1 conference mark.

The Pirates, who were ranked 15th nationally in the last Collegiate Baseball Poll, just finished a four-day Easter trip where they won two of four games. The Pirates stopped The Citadel 16-1, but lost twice to UNC-Wilmington by identical 4-3 scores and then beat Pembroke State 8-2 in 14 innings.

Falcons Stop Conley By 2-0

PIKEVILLE—Charles B. Aycock High School nipped D.H. Conley 2-0, in a key Eastern Carolina Conference baseball game yesterday.

The victory kept Aycock atop the conference and gave them a two-game cushion as the season end draws near.

The game was a pitching duel between Vic Corey of Conley and Terry Durham of the Falcons. Corey scattered five hits in losing, while walking one and striking out five. Durham walked two and struck out nine and allowed four hits in the shutout.

Aycock scored his first run in the opening frame. David Pittman walked and Richard Lancaster sacrificed him up. Terry Durham reached on an error, scoring Pittman.

In the fifth, Aycock picked up its other run. Lancaster singled and moved to third on a pair of errors. Durham then singled him across.

Conley never moved a man as far as third in the game, but did put men into scoring position in the first, second, fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

The Vikings are scheduled to face Southern Nash today. Conley 000 000 0-0 4 5 C.B. Aycock 100 010 x-2 5 2 Corey and Forrest; Durham and McFatter.

Game Is Rained Out

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — East Carolina University's Southern Conference baseball game with William & Mary was postponed Thursday afternoon because of rain.

The contest was rescheduled for Williamsburg on Thursday, May 3.

East Carolina is scheduled to entertain The Citadel on Saturday at 2 p.m. at Harrington Field. They have four other games remaining, a Monday date in Richmond against the Spiders; a doubleheader here Wednesday with VMI, and a doubleheader in Boone against Appalachian on Saturday, May 5.

Appalachian currently leads the league with a 7-1 record, while East Carolina is a half-game back at 6-1.

Jaguars Top Southern Nash

SPRING HOPE—Farmville Central High School scored early then held off a rally by Southern Nash to take a 7-5 Eastern Carolina Conference victory yesterday.

The Jaguars took the lead with three runs in the first inning. Glenn Dwyer led off with a single and Phil Lewis unloaded a two-run homer. But Farmville Central wasn't through yet. Tommy Cobb doubled, and an error on the play let him come the rest of the way to score and make it 3-0.

In the third, the Jaguars added another, as Bobby Wooten cracked out their second homer of the day, this one a solo shot.

Southern scored its first run of the day in the bottom of the third. Bobby Harrison singled and Steve Hicks got a hit. Glenn Wood added another hit to score Harrison.

In the fourth, the Firebirds scored two more to trim the lead to 4-3. Claudius Elmore doubled and Ed Bass singled him in. He moved to second on the throw to the plate, and when the ball was relayed back, it was errored, and Bass came the rest of the way.

In the fifth, Farmville picked up two more. Lewis singled and Cobb walked. Wooten singled and Tony Oakley hit a sacrifice fly to score Lewis. Jeff Cobb then singled to score Tommy Cobb.

In the seventh, Farmville added another on Wooten's second homer of the game.

Southern got two more in the bottom of the inning. Hicks singled and Kirk Bass hit a two-run homer.

Wooten had three hits for Farmville, while Lewis had two. Hicks and Wood each had three and Bass had two for Southern.

The Jaguars go to North Lenoir today. Farmville C. 301 020 1-7 9 1 Southern Nash 001 200 2-5 11 3 Wells and Oakley; Perkinson and Elmore.

Gryphons Take Meet

Rocky Mount's tennis team rolled to an 8-1 victory over the Rose High School Rampants yesterday.

The Rampants won only one match, the final doubles event, as the Gryphons wrapped it up before allowing their lone loss.

Rose is scheduled to host Goldsboro on Monday. Summary:

Steve Bennett (RM) defeated David Walton, 12-10, 7-5. Louis Lucas (RM) defeated Mont Wooten, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Jay Carter (RM) defeated Joe Thurber, 6-4, 6-4. Bob Bennett (RM) defeated Jack Warren, 6-3, 6-3.

Jerry Felton (RM) defeated Howard Adams, 6-3, 6-8, 6-1. Frank Incoe (RM) defeated Tim Toates, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Bennett-Lucas (RM) defeated David Diehl-Tracy Finch, 8-1. Scott Willis-Jimmy Couch (RM) defeated Adams-Bob Higgins, 8-1.

Walton-Thurber (R) defeated Gay-Gones, 8-1.

Chicod In Victory

GRIFTON—Chicod Junior High School rolled to a 14-1 victory over Grifton Junior High yesterday.

Chicod is now 2-1 within the league.

LeRoy Wrenn led the Chicod hitting with three, while Waverly Thomas, Randy Eden and Craig Buck each had a pair.

Chicod 352 112 —14 11 2 Grifton 000 100 —1 2 5 Morris, Adams (5) and Bailey; Davis and Spikes, Rivenbark (2).

Buc Golfers Finish Third

FLORENCE, S. C. (AP)—Rusty Boyd of Davidson is the new individual champion of Southern Conference golf and Furman holds the team crown, succeeding East Carolina.

Boyd, the second round leader, shot a two under par 70 in Thursday's final round and finished the 54-hole tournament with a 215.

Six strokes back in second place was Dean Sigmon of Appalachian State, who finished with a 75 and 221.

Furman, staging a last round rush that nudged Davidson, the second round leader, had three players among the first five finishers.

Bo Leslie was third at 224 after a closing 76 and two Paladins. Tom Posey and Bryan Persons, were tied at 226. Persons closed with a 72 and Posey had a 75.

Jim Brown of East Carolina, also at 226, had the tournament's best round when he carded a closing four under par 68 over the exacting 6,800-yard par 72 Country Club of South Carolina layout.

Furman won team honors with a score of 1,144. Davidson followed with 1,152, and other team finishes were East Carolina 1,157, Appalachian State 1,175, Richmond 1,200, The Citadel 1,202, William and Mary 1,233, and Virginia Military 1,275.

Eddie Pinnix, defending individual champion from East Carolina, was well back at 237 after a closing 83.

Furman's Frank Ford, although finishing with a par 72 and a 233 total, was credited with inspiring the Paladins' fast finish. Ford, grandson of Charleston's Frank Ford, four-time South Carolina Amateur champion, started the final round with five birdies on the first six holes.

He was three under par 33 at the turn and still going strong until the last four holes, where he picked up three bogeys.

East Carolina In Sixth Tie

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Davidson and Furman lived up to the expectations of their fans yesterday by winning all of their matches in the opening round of the Southern Conference Tennis Tournament.

Leading with nine points each the teams smashed through singles and doubles competition. In second place was Appalachian with 7 points, while William and Mary had 6 and the Citadel 5.

East Carolina, Richmond and VMI failed to win a match in Thursday's play.

Keith Richardson of Appalachian State knocked out Tom Kerbo of The Citadel 6-4, 6-1, and is meeting Furman's David Holly, a 6-0, 6-1 victor over Jack Neff of VMI, in the semifinals today.

Defending champion David Weaver of Davidson, the second-seeded player, blitzed Richmond's Dave Snidow 6-0, 6-0 and plays Ford Robinette of William and Mary in the semifinals.

One surprise occurred in the No. 5 singles where William and Mary's Joe McGurrian up-ended favored David Richardson of Appalachian State 6-3, 6-3.

ECU Basketball Camp Scheduled

Aspiring area basketball players, aged 10 to 18, once again will have the opportunity this summer to refine their basketball skills in the Sixth Annual Buccaneer Basketball School on the campus of East Carolina University. All boys in the 10-18 age group who have not yet entered their senior year in high school will be eligible to attend.

The school will be under the direction of Pirate head basketball coach Tom Quinn, founder of the school back in 1968.

The staff, in addition to Quinn, will include ECU assistants Dave Patton and Ed Green, former ECU and Southern Conference great Tom Miller, West Carter High School coach Rodney Kemp, and Ernie Pope, a senior member of the 1972-73 Pirates.

Visiting Lecturer will be Steve Vacendak, former Duke star and All-Atlantic Coast Conference performer.

Also on hand as instructors will be two professional basketball players who will be named at a later date.

Unlike most basketball schools, which concentrate on mass instruction, the Buccaneer camp will be limited to 100 students for each session with an emphasis on individual instruction in the fundamentals. This effective approach to teaching the techniques of basketball has brought the Buccaneer Basketball School national acclaim as the top school on basketball fundamentals in the East.

Minges Coliseum will be used

ECU Basketball Camp Scheduled

for all instruction and games with each camper receiving a minimum of 42 hours of personal instruction in a one-week session. All University recreational facilities, including the Coliseum's olympic swimming pool, will be available to the students also.

Three sessions will be held, two in June and one in August. The dates will be June 10-16, June 17-23, and August 5-11.

Applications for the school can be obtained by writing to: Coach Tom Quinn's Buccaneer Basketball School, Minges Coliseum, East Carolina University, Greenville, N. C. 27834.

Williamston Is Still Unbeaten

WILLIAMSTON—Williamston High School rolled to a 7-2 victory over Northampton High School yesterday in the Albemarle Conference.

The win boosted the league record to 9-0 for the Albemarle leaders.

Williamston took the lead in the first inning, scoring a pair of runs. Mike Bundy singled and was sacrificed to third. Mike Weaver walked and stole second. Joe Roberson then singled in Bundy, and Keith Brown sacrificed Weaver across.

The Tigers broke it open in the second with five more runs to take a 7-0 lead. Vann Andrews singled and Hubert Smith got a hit. Tim Jackson singled in Andrews and then stole second. Bundy was hit by a pitch and Phil Selby came on as a courtesy runner. Dwight Ange singled in both Smith and Jackson, and Roberson sacrificed Selby over. Passed balls then allowed Ange to come the rest of the way with the fifth run of the frame.

It remained that way until the sixth, when Northampton avoided the shutout with a pair. Lassister reached on a two-base error and Edwards was safe on a fielder's choice. He stole second and Beasley walked to load them up. Mitchell then singled in Lassister and Edwards.

Roberson led the Williamston hitting with two.

The Tigers host Scotland Neck

on Tuesday. Northampton 000 002 0-2 3 0 Williamston 250 000 x-7 8 3 Mitchell and Beasley; Bundy, Roberson (3), Weaver (6) and Brown.

Baby Tigs Get A Win

ROBERSONVILLE—Williamston's "B" team rolled to a 7-0 victory over the Robersonville "B" team yesterday.

Relief pitcher Ray Lilly, who came on in the first inning and got the win, combined with starter Eric Godard for a two-hit effort. Godard faced only four men, walking two and giving up a hit, while getting one out. Lilly then came in and went the rest of the way, allowing one hit, walking one and fanning six.

George Brown, Tim Widenhouse and Roger Manning each had two hits for Williamston, which won its 10th game of the year without a loss.

W'ston B 002 032 0-7 9 0 R'ville B 000 000 0-0 2 3 Godard, Lilly (1) and Widenhouse; Williams and Bullock.

Knicks Seek To End War With The Celtics

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Silas and Dave DeBusschere, two of the best rebounders and defensive forwards in basketball, will resume their private war within a war tonight when the New York Knicks seek to end their National Basketball Association playoff series against the Boston Celtics.

The Knicks lead the Celtics 3-2 in the best-of-7 Eastern Conference finals and a victory in tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) game would move them into the NBA finals against the defending champion Los Angeles Lakers, who beat Golden State 4-1 in the West.

Meanwhile, the American Basketball Association's championship playoff series between the Kentucky Colonels and Indiana Pacers gets under way Saturday in a nationally televised game at Louisville, Ky.

Both teams finished second during the regular season, but Kentucky defeated Carolina 4-3 for the East Division title and Indiana took Utah 4-2 for the West Division crown. Silas, the 6-foot-7 veteran who came to the Celtics from Phoenix following last season in exchange for the rights to Charlie Scott, was an unlikely hero in Boston's 98-97 victory in Game No. 5 Wednesday night. He scored just nine points—but they included a 30-foot bank shot that was the Celtics' only basket in the final eight minutes, and two free throws with seven seconds left on the clock which put the Celtics on top for good.

DeBusschere, meanwhile, has done his usual workmanlike job, which has been good enough to earn him All-Star and All-NBA defensive team honors. He's averaging 17.8 points and 9.4 rebounds per game against Boston, and knows he'll have to concentrate on keeping Silas away from the boards.

If the Celtics win, the seventh and deciding game will be played in Boston Sunday afternoon. If not, the Knicks go on to meet Los Angeles—and Boston, the team with the best regular-season record in the NBA, will go home.

McGraw's Fastball Did Trick For The Mets

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's a good thing that Tug McGraw doesn't listen to his catcher, Duffy Dyer said, "screwball" and McGraw replied, "fastball."

The New York Mets' star relief pitcher then threw the pitch of his choice past Cesar Cedeño for a key strikeout that helped preserve a 2-1 victory over the Houston Astros Thursday night.

"I shook off Dyer three times before he called the fastball," said McGraw about a tense ninth-inning situation. "I had thrown screwball, screwball and curveball. I just felt that I could get the fastball past him, and that's what happened."

McGraw, who had entered the game after starter Jim McAndrew pitched seven innings, gave up a leadoff single in the ninth to ex-Met Tommie Agee that put the potential winning run at the plate.

McGraw got Tommy Helms on a fly ball before striking out the heavy-hitting Cedeño. Then Bob Watson bounced out and McGraw had his fourth save of the young season.

The San Francisco Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-3 in the only other National League game played Thursday. In the American League, the Detroit Tigers beat the Texas Rangers 3-2; the Milwaukee Brewers notched a 7-3 victory over the Kansas City Royals and the Oakland A's nipped the Cleveland Indians 3-2.

Chris Speier and Gary Thomsen batted in two runs each as San Francisco won its fourth straight game and ninth in the last 10. The victory put the high-riding Giants 2½ games up over Cincinnati in the NL West.

"I can't remember when we swept a series over the Cubs in Wrigley Field," said San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox. "But it's a good, good feeling to come in here and win three in a row."

Aurelio Rodriguez capped a three-run rally in the ninth inning with a two-run triple, powering the Tigers over the Rangers. Just an inning before, the Rangers had broken up a scoreless pitching duel between Detroit's Woody Fryman and Texas' Pete Broberg with a run on Ken Suarez' double.

Dave May topped a five-run rally in the ninth inning with a grand slam home run as Milwaukee beat Kansas City. May's dramatic blast came after Kansas City pitcher Bruce Dal Canton had intentionally walked Pedro Garcia to load the bases.

"I wasn't thinking 'home run'—I just wanted to get the ball in the air," said May. "I didn't think it was going out. The ball hit down on the lower part of the bat, very low. I've hit lots of balls better."

Bert Campaneris' bases-loaded single provided the winning run as the A's rallied in the ninth to beat the Indians. Campaneris' hit to right-center scored pinch-runner John Odom from third base to give the victory to relief pitcher Darold Knowles.

ROCKY MOUNT—E. B. Aycock Junior High School gained a 4-2 victory over the Rocky Mount Blue Devils yesterday.

Aycock scored first, with two in the third. David Dixon reached on an error and Mack Nunn and Curtis Keys both reached on fielder's choices. Ed Connolly then doubled, driving in both Dixon and Nunn.

The Blue Devils came back with two in the fourth to tie it up. Martin singled and stole second. Taylor reached on an error and both advanced on a wild pitch.

Another allowed Martin to score and Mason walked. Another wild pitch caught Taylor at the plate, but Robinson singled in Mason with the tying run.

In the sixth, Aycock came back with two more to win it. David Davis singled and moved to third on errors. Lee Shearin walked and Jim Wilkerson squeezed in Davis: Dixon then singled to score Shearin with the insurance run.

Dixon led the Aycock hitting with two.

The Phantoms play host to the Rocky Mount Thunderbirds on Tuesday, seeking their sixth win against no losses.

Pearson Choice To Grab Pole

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — David Pearson was favored to win the pole position today as qualifying got under way for the Virginia 500, the nation's richest short-track auto race.

Pearson, who drives the Wood brothers Mercury based at nearby Stuart, Va., has captured the No. 1 starting position in four races this year and goes into Sunday's $61,000 Grand National stock car event with a string of three straight 500-mile tryouts.

This will be Pearson's first effort on a short oval this year.

Six other drivers were considered reasonably good bets for the pole position—Ford's Bobby Isaac, Dodge-driving Buddy Baker and Richard Petty, Chevrolet aces Bobby Allison and Kale Yarborough, and Dave Marcis, whose American Motors Matador is the only factory-sponsored machine in stock car racing.

They were shooting at Allison's single-lap record of 84.163 miles an hour for the almost-flat Martinsville Speedway that measures .525 miles around.

Marcis, shaking down a new car, had the track for a private practice session Wednesday and was clocked at 84.691 m.p.h. just under Allison's year-old mark.

The first 20 positions in the 36-car field were at stake and at least 30 drivers were expected to take part in the "beat the clock" session.

Petty, winner of nine of his last 11 starts at Martinsville and 12 overall in 13 years of competition at the Virginia oval, seldom is a pole winner on short tracks.

FARMVILLE — Farmville Central's tennis team gained a 6-3 victory over Williamston High School yesterday.

Farmville took four of the six individual matches, then won the final two doubles by forfeit when Williamston had to leave.

The victory left Farmville with a 7-6 record. They travel to Tarboro for the next match, on Monday.

Summary:
Chuck Finklea (FC) defeated Stuart Spruill, 6-4, 6-0.
Benny Hopkins (W) defeated Tommy Holloman, 7-5, 6-1.
Jeffrey Mangum (W) defeated David Patterson, 5-7, 7-5, 6-2.

Steve Warren (FC) defeated Glenn Rollins, 3-6, 6-0, 6-1.
Mangum-Jenkins (W) defeated Johnston-Burnette, 8-5.

Bears Nip Oak City

BEAR GRASS — Bear Grass High school came up with three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to nip Oak City, 9-8, yesterday.

Oak City took the lead with five in the first, then picked up one in the third. Bear Grass scored two in the second, two in the third and two more in the fifth to tie it at 6-6.

Oak City pushed back ahead in the seventh with two runs, but the Bears came back with three to win it.

In the bottom of the frame, David Hodges led off with a single and Richard Harrison got a hit. With two away, Keith Wynne singled in Hodges, and Danny Peaks got another hit to score both Harrison and Wynne and win the game.

Secretariat Is Not Big Choice

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy "the Greek" Snyder scribbled the numbers and the numbers kept coming out Secretariat, but Jimmy's inner hunch spoke a different tune.

"I just don't like Secretariat—I don't know why, I just don't like Secretariat," the country's most renowned odds-maker said as he sought to fix an early line on the May 5 Kentucky Derby.

"I said before the Wood Memorial that this horse had no right to be a 1-5 odds-on choice. The race bore me out."

The winter book Derby favorite finished a disappointing third in the Wood behind his stable mate, Angle Light, and Sham.

"With Secretariat bracketed with Angle Light (Jimmy pronounced it 'Angel' as an object with wings rather than 'Angle' as what every good odds-maker should have)," the Greek said, "you still have to make the entry a favorite at Louisville."

"But I can't see the entry any better than 2-1, certainly not 4-5 as they're quoting. I've said it before and I'll say it again—I still think they're putting ice packs on Secretariat's knees."

Jimmy the Greek stopped in New York overnight on his way overseas on a business trip. With phones ringing every minute, he found it almost impossible to relax in his seventh floor suite at a Park Avenue Hotel.

Jimmy's raven hair is beginning to show flakes of snow around the edges. He is a massive man with massive energy, always on the move with his public relations and odds-making enterprises in Las Vegas, TV commercials and public appearances.

"I'd make Sham 3-1 second choice in the Derby," he said, "and the rest of it is a scramble with the picture thrown into further confusion by My Gallant's win the Blue Grass Stakes at Lexington Thursday."

Quickly scanning the sports horizon, the Las Vegas Wizard of Odds picked Bobby Riggs 7-5 over Margaret Court in their forthcoming tennis Battle of the Sexes; the Los Angeles Lakers 8-5 over the Knicks and 13-10 over the Celtics in the NBA basketball playoffs; Pittsburgh and Baltimore to clash in the baseball World Series, the Miami Dolphins to win the football Super Bowl again and Jack Nicklaus a 3-1 favorite every time he tees up the ball in golf.

With these predictions, Jimmy took off across the Atlantic. Where would Jimmy the Greek be going? Greece, naturally.

Aim Fire Safety Drive At Greenville Children

The Greenville Fire Department and the Greenville Jaycees have launched a new fire safety program here called Operation Red Ball.

Operation Red Ball stickers, along with bulletins explaining the program, are being distributed to youngsters in kindergarten through the sixth grade in Greenville.

Greenville Fire Chief Ray Smith noted that the stickers will also be available at the local fire station and two sub-stations for distribution to children to put on their bedroom windows.

Smith explained that the Red Ball stickers indicate the room of a child or invalid. In case of a fire, or other emergency, firemen, recognizing the red emblem, can go directly to these rooms, speeding rescue operations by life-saving seconds.

The Jaycees and American Red Ball Transit Co., world-wide movers headquartered in Indianapolis, Ind., are providing the Red Ball stickers to the fire stations as a community service, according to Jaycee project chairman Russell Fleming.

Endorsed by Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood, superintendent of Greenville City Schools, some 3,000 Greenville children will receive the stickers and bulletins in kindergarten and elementary school. Children will also be given an Operation Red Ball diagram sheet that is meant to be used by parents and children to draw up an emergency evacuation plan for their houses.

Parents are urged to assist children in placing a Red Ball sticker in the upper left hand corner of the child's bedroom window. If more than one child occupies the same bedroom, the stickers should be applied next to each other.

Fleming and Jaycee president Don Brady presented some 11,000 of the stickers to Smith for overall distribution.

Also participating in the kick-off activities were deputy fire marshal Jimmy Smith and fire marshal Jerry McLahorn.

Present Young Layman Award

The Greenville Jaycees' 1973 Outstanding Young Layman Award was presented Thursday night to Don Parrott; local Certified Public Accountant with John C. Proctor Co.

Parrott received the coveted award during the Jaycees annual elections night at the Elks Lodge.

The OYL recipient, a native of Oxford, is the fourth young Greenville man to be selected for the award, initiated in 1970 with David Gordon receiving the first OYL recognition. Dick Ullom received the award in 1971 and Andy Warren was selected last year.

A member of Oakmont Baptist Church where he currently serves on the Board of Deacons, Parrott was active as a member of the committee to refinance the church and instrumental in the project that involved the recalling of first mortgage bonds and negotiations for a new mortgage.

Currently chairman of the church's finance committee, he has been a member of that body for three years and also served as treasurer for a three year period. Other church activities include membership on the building and grounds committee and as a sub-Sunday school teacher.

Parrott served on the pulpit supply committee when Oakmont Baptist was selecting a minister. He was president of the couples class for one year.

Active in the church's athletic program, he participates in church softball and basketball and coached the basketball team for one year.

Parrott was also cited for his participation and leadership in community activities. A director of the Boys Club, he worked in the 1972 United Fund campaign.

He is a member of the East Carolina University Alumni Association and both the North Carolina and American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Parrott is also a member of the Coastal Plains CPA Association.

Active in the Greenville Jaycees; he has served as a director and is immediate past internal vice president. He was co-chairman of the 1972 Carolina Cougar basketball game and publicity chairman of last year's successful July 4th celebration. Parrott will co-shair the event this year.

Married to the former Helen Saunders of Sanford, the Parrotts have three daughters, Lisa, Vicki and Gina. They make their home at 303 Glasgow Lane.

Baxter Powell, who served as chairman of the OYL project this year, pointed out that persons considered for the award must be a Greenville resident or a Greenville church member between the ages of 21 and 36. They do not have to be a member of the Jaycees to be nominated, he noted. Nominees are judged on the basis of their church and community activities, with 80 per cent of the award based on church qualifications. Judges this year were Tommy Payne, David Gordon and Andy Warren.

Parrott received an engraved plaque and a copy of The Living Bible in recognition of his selection as OYL.

Gold Ownership Ban Is Inching Nearer Repeal

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since 1934, U.S. citizens have been forbidden by law to own or trade in gold as an investment. For all that time varying numbers of them have been trying to have the ban repealed.

Now, in the wake of two devaluations of the dollar, opponents of the gold-ownership ban may be closer than ever to achieving their goal. But the odds still appear to be against any permission in the near future for private individuals in this country to operate freely in the gold market.

Legislation to formalize the second dollar devaluation carried out during President Nixon's administration gave the gold-ownership forces a chance to press their cause. Before the Senate passed the devaluation bill, they succeeded in attaching an amendment repealing the gold-ownership ban as of Dec. 31, 1973.

The legislation is not as far along in the House, where the Banking Committee still has to pass it. A subcommittee has approved a provision repealing the prohibition—but effective only when the president makes a finding that the international monetary situation has been stabilized enough to make such a move advisable. Unless this provision is changed by the full committee or the entire House to conform with the Senate language, it will be up to a conference committee—and ultimately the two chambers—to agree on the terms that finally become effective.

Both Nixon's administration and the autonomous Federal Reserve Board contend that, while there no longer is any long-range justification for maintaining the rigid prohibition on gold ownership, a change now could hamper forthcoming international discussions aimed at stabilizing the world monetary system and set up another speculative assault against the dollar.

Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-Ill., who tried unsuccessfully to persuade the House Banking subcommittee to adopt the language of the Senate amendment, and Sen. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, author of the amendment, have argued that the Treasury's own announced policy of diminishing the importance of gold in the world monetary system is an argument for permitting private ownership.

Hilo Shaken By Tremors

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — An earthquake which shook the Hawaiian island chain did moderate damage to structures in Hilo, the state's second largest city. Police said eight persons were injured, but no deaths were reported.

The tremor struck Thursday with its epicenter located a dozen miles north of Hilo—a sea coast town of 26,000 persons—at a depth of about 25 miles, said Bob Shanks, chief of the state civil defense agency in Honolulu.

"Had it been under Hilo, there would have been greater damage, and probably some loss of life," Shanks said.

Scientists at the U.S. Geological Survey at Volcanoes National Park said the tremor registered 6.0 on the Richter scale of earthquake intensity. It lasted a total of 15 minutes, beginning at 10:26 a.m.

No-Fault Bill Is Given Cool House Reception

RALEIGH (AP) — A House insurance subcommittee gave a cool reception Thursday to Senate-passed no-fault auto insurance legislation.

This was evidenced in questions committee members asked Sen. Gordon Allen, D-Person, who guided the no-fault bill through the Senate, when he undertook to explain the measure to the subcommittee.

Allen began his presentation by offering exhibits aimed at convincing the subcommittee the no-fault measure is constitutional. Some opponents have contended the measure is unconstitutional because it would take away the right to sue for minor auto accident injuries.

One of those who has questioned constitutionality of the measure is Rep. Gerald Arnold, D-Harnett, the subcommittee chairman.

Allen noted that courts in Illinois have declared a no-fault law there unconstitutional, but he said this did not apply to North Carolina. He said a court in Massachusetts ruled that state's no-fault law was constitutional "because an adequate substitute to the right to sue was granted."

Allen was reminded by Rep. Ed Davenport, D-Nash, that the North Carolina and Massachusetts constitutions are different.

Davenport also asked Allen if the no-fault bill should not have provisions for a liability insurance law to fall back on in case the no-fault bill became law and then was declared unconstitutional. Allen said that might be a good idea.

Allen was peppered with questions dealing with property damage provisions of the no-fault bill.

At one time, Rep. Kitchin Josey, D-Halifax, took note of statements that no-fault would result either in stable insurance rates in North Carolina or in rate reductions.

"I just believe that what I pay for that coverage will be more than what I pay now," said Josey. "I just don't believe they will give me something for nothing."

Preparing New Phone Directory

Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company directory representatives are now in the area working on a new directory for Greenville, Ayden, Bethel, Farmville, Fountain, and Snow Hill. Scheduled for delivery, July 26, 1973, it will be the largest telephone directory ever published in this area.

Don A. Collier, District Manager, said that these representatives will remain in this area through May 25, 1973. A large majority of business customers will be contacted concerning yellow page representation.

Telephone customers who wish to change or add directory listings should call the business office promptly.

Collier says the new telephone directory is a good yardstick for measuring this area's progress and growth. 54,750 copies will be distributed this year. This is an increase of 3,250 over last year's distribution. The new directory will contain more listings than ever before as a result of the approximately 3,243 additional telephones that have been installed since the current directory was compiled last August.

Slated OK Tax's End

RALEIGH (AP) — Legislation which would allow the manufacturers' inventory tax in North Carolina to be phased out over a five-year period was expected to receive final Senate approval today.

The measure, which faces House action, was approved tentatively by the Senate Thursday. Under the bill, manufacturers would continue to pay property taxes on their inventories to counties and cities.

However, they would be allowed to claim a portion of the tax as credit against their income taxes. The amount of credit they would be allowed to claim would rise by 20 per cent a year until 1976 when it would reach 100 per cent.

State Revenue Commissioner Andrew Jones says the measure would reduce state revenues by $4 million next fiscal year. This would increase by $6 million a year until it reached $30 million a year in 1978-79, Jones said.

The legislation is backed by North Carolina's industry hunters. They contend the state has lost many industrial prospects to states which do not tax manufacturers' inventories.

Darvon Poison Caused Death Of Visiting Proff

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — The death of a visiting professor of history at Wake Forest University was caused by Darvon poisoning, a medical examiner says.

Dr. Charles Andrew Domson, 28, of Mahanoy, Pa., was found dead in his apartment here Monday night.

Dr. John Daly, associate chief medical examiner for the state, said Thursday that a toxicology study showed Domson "appeared to have at least 20 pills in him." All of the pills appeared to have been taken within a matter of hours, Daly said from his office in Chapel Hill.

Domson taught at Wake Forest during the spring term. He had been a teaching fellow at Yale.

Income Tax Refunds are ready-made savings.

Your income tax refund is ready-made savings—ready to be tucked away as a nice lump-sum payment on tomorrow. It's probably what you've had in mind all along, isn't it? Getting this far without missing the money, and then making sort of a giant step toward whatever it is you're saving for.

One of the easiest ways to make sure you really do it, of course, is to take your refund check and turn it into a Series E Savings Bond. (Or maybe several Savings Bonds!)

Series E Bonds earn 5½% interest, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Your money is guaranteed safe—Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen. And, speaking of income tax, you may defer the payment of Federal tax on your E Bond interest until you cash your Bonds or they finally mature. (And the interest is exempt from state and local income taxes!) So don't miss such an ideal opportunity to add to your savings. Turn your tax refund check into growing Savings Bonds dollars today. You'll be doing something nice for your future.

Abandoned Chief Seeks Payment

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian native chief who married American freelance writer and photographer Wyn Sargent last year is demanding compensation for the 25 pigs killed for the wedding.

Miss Sargent claimed the wedding heralded an era of peace among three hostile tribes, but she was expelled by the Indonesian government on the ground that she had violated government regulations.

In addition to compensation for the pigs, the chief of the stone age tribe in West Irian, Obaharok, also wants return of all traditional dresses and other native handicraft taken by Miss Sargent to the United States.

The 'Worry Clinic' Women Delight In The Prelude

Ada has absorbed some of the false notions abetted by some recent books on sex. Those authors are ignorant when they say women are as passionate as men! You normal wives know better. Women relish dillydallying erotic prelude, but men crave the main event!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
 Ph.D., M.D.

CASE W-589: Ada Z., aged 39, is protesting. "Dr. Crane," she demanded, "why do you say that women are not organically and psychologically as passionate as men?"

"For I personally know many wives who are far more ardent than their husbands. A neighbor of mine, for example, plays around with different men and tells me she has 2 or 3 affairs every week, though her husband is ignorant of this fact. Isn't she thus more erotic than her mate?"

Sex Vs. Salesmanship
 No; this promiscuous wife is merely delighted with the male salesmanship that preludes each new affair!

For you women must distinguish between erotic sales palaver vs. erotic union!

For women, being weaker in their basic sexual passion, thus require a much longer psychological build-up. The latter consists of gay (and after suggestive) repartee, plus dinner dates, moonlight drives, X-rated movies, etc. Remember, women relish dillydallying, even regarding gastric menu items. So they scallip the edges of the grapefruit and vie with each other for intricate recipes and garnishments for their menu items. A virile males wants satisfaction FAST, whether at the dinner table or in the

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to get at all of the small chores that take time, that bring little joy, but that have to be done before you are able to go forward to the soon-to-be-big opportunities. However, the best aspects are for handling activities or interests having to do with art, music, painting, sculpture, etc.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get at all those small accumulated chores that have to be done sometime and get them behind you quickly. Schedule fun for evening. Make sure you help one who has been a good friend in the past.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Much work is needed on that personal plan you have if you want to be a success. Look into that plan a pal that can prove to be very good. Labor late into the evening, if necessary.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you put real effort into it, you find you gain the information you need just at this time. If you bolster the ego of a higher-up who needs loyalty right now, you get fine benefits later. Try to retire early in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get the information you need so you can push a plan through in a most efficient way. Do what persons of wisdom suggest and forget all that emotionalism. Do not act on impulse.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Attempt to get all of your obligations met to the best of your ability. Some particular kindness to mate can bring fine results. Try to make your life easier in some way so you can enjoy it more.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy doing whatever will please those who are vital to your welfare; insure your position for the future. Do work on that important civic affair that crops up. A nice person you know can do you a big favor.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Add the bric-a-brac, furniture, or whatever will make your surroundings far more attractive and comfortable. Take the health treatments you feel will make you more dynamic. Show more spunk at home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can handle recreational affairs very wisely now after you get your regular work done. Buy a nice present for one who is in real trouble, not feeling well, and bring cheer.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Find out what is wrong at home and right it, even if you have to forego some pleasure. Plan to have a sturdier foundation for the future. The evening is best spent at home with family. Have fun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get that problem solved nicely during the day that has been difficult to do before. Make your home more attractive and scrupulously clean. The evening is fine for enjoying hobbies with friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Put your energy into improving your property and making it more valuable now. Find some way to add to present income. Make sure some person is not working against you while you think just the opposite.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do some remodeling today that could make you happier. Evening is then fine for entertaining or going out with friends. You can be happier than you have been for a long time. Avoid one who is boring.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people with much sensitivity who should be encouraged to get out of that subjective mood and to solve problems objectively. Ideal chart for professions that require precision and handling of details. Make sure to compliment for any particularly fine work that is done to strengthen your child's ego. Give the sports that build up the physique and develop courage to meet life's problems wisely. Send to right schools.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

boudoir. On a birthday or a wedding anniversary, however, a dutiful husband may reluctantly consent to a fancy dinner and dance at a distant exotic restaurant. But that's the exception, for the usual virile male doesn't want to waste time driving 50 miles to a restaurant. "Steak is steak," is a husband's usual attitude. But when men are romancing a new potential conquest, they realize they must endure this gastric prelude, in order to sample her boudoir cheeseecake about 2 a.m. Once the conquest has been made however notice how quickly the usual male reverts to normalcy! You wives can attest to this fact without my detailed elaboration of the reluctance of your mate to go dancing, dining and theatering! Most wives have never been properly initiated into eroticism.

re a woman's great erotic passion, those writers don't know whereof they speak! Any experienced wife can tell them they are way out in left field. And every experienced physician can likewise inform them that a woman is anatomically deficient in erotic erictile tissue, which furnishes the organic fuel for true sexual passion. Women were apparently created by the Almighty to be 75 percent maternal and only 25 percent erotic! So sent for my medical booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing along stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. It can show that promiscuous wife's mate how to stop her infidelity! fully bent on making it clear to his partner that he had the situation "well under control" and, in order to relieve East of any anxiety in discarding, West played the ten of spades on the third round of clubs followed by the eight of diamonds on the next club.

As the suit was continued, West found the discarding much less to his liking. He had only one spare card left, the eight of spades, and when the last club was led he was in serious trouble. He did not wish to give up one of his hearts, for they represented the setting tricks, so he reluctantly parted with the three of diamonds.

South was fully tuned in on his opponent's performance, and when a diamond was led from dummy, he promptly played the ace from his hand—dropping West's king and establishing both the queen and jack for his ninth and tenth tricks.

At the other table, West adopted a more blasé attitude. Once the heart was cleared, he was aware that East had fulfilled his role in the defense and would be a mere spectator for the balance of the deal. There was no reason then for West to inform anyone of his own holding.

As the club suit was run, West discarded in an impressive manner—first the eight of spades, then the three of diamonds, the eight of diamonds and, finally, the ten of spades. When the jack of diamonds was led from dummy, declarer had nothing to go on and he elected to take the finesse. West finally came to life, spreading his hand and claiming the last four tricks, to pin a 200 point defeat on South.

The bidding was identical at both tables and against South's three no trump contract, the six of hearts was opened. East put up the ace and returned the deuce. South's jack was covered by West's king and a third round cleared the suit.

With only eight top tricks available, both declarers decided to run the club suit first in order to apply the maximum pressure against the defenders. One West was

 When declarer is running a long suit at no trump, a stoical attitude is an essential characteristic for the defenders, since they may be subjected to considerable pressure in discarding.

In the above hand taken from a team-of-four match, one West gave away the whole show to the declarer, while his counterpart at the other table overcame adversity by maintaining a stiff upper lip and not revealing his discomfort to his opponent.
