

Still Smoldering

AFTERMATH—Wrecked railroad cars continue to smolder after a train loaded with 250-pound bombs exploded in suburban Sacramento (Calif.) Saturday. Of the original 21 cars carrying bombs, three cars were pulled out of the yard and 18 other were destroyed in the continuing blasts following the first explosion. No deaths have been reported. (AP Wirephoto)

Missouri River's Crest Moving On

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Major sandbagging efforts on levees along the Mississippi River north of the St. Louis area have halted for the first time in days as the mighty river began "flattening out" along southeastern Missouri and cresting southward.

More than 10 million acres of land, much of it prime farmland, remained under water along the Mississippi's 1,500-mile route and thousands of families were left homeless.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Small Business Administration, the Internal Revenue Service and other federal agencies moved in to assist families and businesses displaced by flood waters.

The Army Corps of Engineers said 35,000 persons had been evacuated along the Mississippi from the area between Hannibal, Mo., to the Gulf of Mexico. Some were being placed in federal and state housing projects.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz is scheduled to make an aerial tour of the flood areas Tuesday.

The National Weather Service said the Mississippi River would crest at most points in the southern part of Missouri by today while continuing to fall slowly at St. Louis and points to the north.

The river stood at 43 feet late Sunday at St. Louis after hitting a record crest of 43.3 feet late Saturday, 13.3 feet above flood stage and breaking the previous record of 42 feet set in 1785.

The weather service said "without appreciable rainfall" the river will drop below flood levels at Hannibal on May 9 and St. Louis on May 14.

In Louisiana, sunshine and receding waters eased flooding threats but officials were reported "guardedly optimistic."

Positive Signs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers today said that "notwithstanding the violations...there is a good possibility the cease-fire will become effective in Vietnam."

The secretary told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee there are several encouraging signs in Vietnam despite continued breaches of the Jan. 27 cease-fire agreement by Hanoi and its allies.

He listed these positive signs: —Fighting in South Vietnam "is at about its lowest point since the cease-fire."

—The two Vietnamese sides are discussing in Paris a political settlement for the South, and this "provides some hope" for a peaceful determination of the South Vietnamese people's future.

—Exchanges of civilian prisoners by the two sides continue to be carried out.

"Generally," Rogers said, "the feeling on my part" is that peace can be obtained in the area.

south of New Orleans, emergency construction of a 700-foot section of Mississippi River levee was completed Sunday. The levee had been sloughed off into the river Thursday. A breakthrough of the levee would have flooded all towns between Nairn and the Gulf of Mexico.

Lt. Gov. James E. Fitzmorris Jr., the state's chief official in the absence of Gov. Edwin Edwards, who is in Asia, made an aerial inspection Sunday of Morgan City, 80 miles southwest of New Orleans.

Near Beardstown, Ill., some 200 National Guardsmen worked into the night Sunday to build up the McGee Levee, which protects several thousand acres of farmland.

The Illinois is expected to crest there Tuesday at 27.2 feet, 13.2 feet above flood stage.

Girl Run Over By School Bus

MOORESVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A 13-year-old girl, stooping to pick up books she had dropped while running to catch her school bus, was run over and seriously injured this morning, the state Highway Patrol said.

Trooper C. E. Ward said Wandola Loraine Morgan was taken to a Charlotte hospital. Ward said the bus driver, a substitute for the regular operator, picked up three of four children who normally get on at the location, about two miles north of Mooresville on a rural paved road. He said the last one was the Morgan girl.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today the resignations of Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and three key White House aides.

Nixon named Secretary of Defense Elliot Richardson to be acting attorney general and top coordinator of all federal investigations of the Watergate conspiracy.

Resigning from the White House staff were chief of staff H. R. Haldeman, domestic policy assistant John D. Ehrlichman and presidential counsel John Dean III.

After making these announcements, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon has asked for nationwide radio and television time to talk to the nation on the Watergate case at 9 p.m. EDT.

Nixon said in a statement that Kleindienst "asked to be relieved as attorney general because he felt that he could not appropriately continue as head of the Justice Department now that it appears its investigation of the Watergate and related cases may implicate individuals with whom he has had a close personal and professional association."

Saying he would nominate Richardson as attorney general, Nixon said that pending Senate action to confirm his choice, "I have asked him to involve himself immediately in the investigative process surrounding the Watergate matter."

He went on: "As attorney general, Mr. Richardson will assume full responsibility and authority for coordinating all federal agencies in uncovering the whole truth about this matter and recommending appropriate changes in the law to prevent future campaign abuses of the sort recently uncovered. He will have total support from me in getting this job done."

The Watergate case stemmed from the break-in and bugging of Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate complex here last summer. It has widened into broader charges of political espionage.

The President drew a distinction in describing the resignations of Ehrlichman and Haldeman—"two of my closest friends and trusted assistants in the White House"—and that of White House counsel Dean.

Nixon said he had "today requested and accepted" Dean's resignation but made no reference to having forced the departure of Ehrlichman and Haldeman. In fact his statement suggested they had initiated the step. He said:

"I know that their decision to resign was difficult; my decision to accept it was difficult; but I respect and appreciate the attitude that led them to it."

Effective immediately, Nixon said, special consultant Leonard Garment will "take on additional duties as counsel to the President and will continue acting in this capacity until a permanent successor to Mr. Dean is named."

The chief executive said Garment "will represent the White House in all matters relating to the Watergate investigation and will report directly to me."

Ziegler said Haldeman and Ehrlichman had asked to confer with Nixon at Camp David, where the President has been since Friday evening, and met with him there Sunday afternoon.

The press secretary said Kleindienst and Garment also met with Nixon at Camp David on Sunday.

In discussing the departures of Ehrlichman and Haldeman, Nixon said:

"I emphasize that neither the submission nor the acceptance of their resignations at this time should be seen by anyone as evidence of any wrongdoing by either one. Such an assumption would be both unfair and unfounded."

"Throughout our association each of these men has demonstrated a spirit of selflessness and dedication that I have seldom seen equalled. Their contributions to the work of this administration have been enormous. I greatly regret their departure."

Speaking of Kleindienst, Nixon said the former attorney general "acted in accordance with the highest standards of public service and legal ethics." He said, "I am accepting his resignation with regret and with deep appreciation for his dedicated service to this administration."

The 52-year-old Richardson, once a law clerk to the late Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, served as U.S. attorney for Massachusetts and as that state's elected attorney general.

He had moved to the Pentagon just a few weeks ago after serving as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

In his letter of resignation, Kleindienst said he acted "with deep regret and after long and searching thought."

Package Tax Reform Plan Submitted To Congress

By R. GREGORY NOKES

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration today unveiled a tax-reform program that would tighten loopholes to "remove the spectacle of high-income taxpayers who pay no tax by parlaying tax deductions and exclusions."

One proposal would establish a minimum taxable income. Another would limit what the administration called "artificial accounting losses."

The package also would provide property-tax relief for the elderly, an investment tax credit for oil and gas exploration to meet the energy crisis, and a tuition credit for students in nonpublic schools.

It includes a simplified tax form called 1040s which is designed to make tax time easier for about 20 million Americans. The new form includes an over-65 credit and liberalized deductions for child care.

Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz presented the administration's long-awaited tax-reform plan to the House Ways and Means Committee, which isn't expected to act on it for several months.

The administration is not asking for a general tax increase, which Shultz said is both "unnecessary and undesirable."

The government expects to gain $800 million in tax revenue by closing the two loopholes, but would lose $1.1 billion through the other changes, including $500 million on a property-tax credit for the elderly and $400 million on tax simplification.

Shultz told the committee the tax-reform measures are designed to "collect a reasonable amount of income taxes from those citizens who are not now paying a fair share of the tax burden."

The "widespread tax-shelter market introduces significant distortions into our economy," Shultz said. It also has "a dangerously demoralizing effect on the operation of our revenue system."

The minimum-taxable-income proposal would prevent a taxpayer's exclusions and deductions from offsetting more than one-half of his income. Thus, he would have to pay taxes on at least half his revenues.

Shultz said the great majority of high-income persons are responsible taxpayers, but "taxpayers who have large income and pay little or no tax do exist in limited, but significant, numbers."

The limitation on artificial accounting losses is designed to eliminate the practice of using losses from one business activity to offset earnings of another.

Shultz said that, if Congress approves the package, losses on income-producing property henceforth could only be deducted from future earnings on the property that lost money.

The loss "may not be used to offset or shelter other unrelated income of the taxpayer," Shultz said.

"Taxpayers may still purchase investments on which the income can be tax-free for substantial periods, but the tax system will no longer pay them to buy such investments," he said.

The changes apply to individuals, except for farmers. They do not apply to corporations.

Low- and middle-income elderly persons would receive a refundable credit for property-tax payments exceeding 5 per cent of household income, up to a maximum $500.

Equivalent relief would be provided for elderly renters, with the credit based on the amount of rent assessed by the

Highlights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are highlights of the Nixon administration's tax-reform package proposed to Congress today:

—A requirement that taxpayers pay taxes on at least one-half of their income, despite the amount of exclusions and deductions they might claim.

—A limitation on artificial accounting losses to prevent individuals from using a loss on one business as a tax offset against other, unrelated income.

—A simplified income-tax return called 1040s for the approximately 20 million taxpayers with simple family and financial transactions.

—A miscellaneous-deduction allowance of $500 per taxpayer to replace some existing deductions considered difficult to itemize.

—An age credit for persons 65 and over to replace the existing retirement-income credit.

—A liberalized child-care deduction to include all child-care expenses up to $4,800.

—A tax credit for the elderly for realty-tax payments exceeding 5 per cent of household income to a maximum $500, with equivalent relief for elderly renters.

—A tax credit for tuition payments to nonprofit, nonpublic elementary and secondary schools equal to 50 per cent of tuition to a maximum $200 per child.

—An interest subsidy of 30 per cent for state or local securities on which the state or locality has elected to pay federally taxable interest.

—An investment tax credit of 7 per cent for exploratory drilling of new oil and gas wells in the United States.

—New regulations for commercial preparers of incometax returns, including civil penalties in cases of negligent or intentional disregard of the law.

Wage-Price Controls To Die At Midnight Unless Congress Acts

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Wage-price controls die at midnight unless Congress agrees today on a compromise bill to extend presidential authority to regulate the economy.

If that authority is to be renewed for one year, both houses must act on the controls bill. But the Senate-floor route has been blocked by maneuvering over a postcard-voter-registration bill.

A minority of Southern and conservative senators has stalled the registration bill, sponsored by Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo. A vote to close off debate on the registration bill was set for this afternoon.

However, McGee, according to aides, will not budge from his position of holding off wage-price action until he gets a final vote on his measure. He had blocked action on the controls bill when Congress recessed 10 days ago.

Meanwhile, there was apprehension over what might happen if President Nixon's largely voluntary Phase 3 controls are allowed to lapse.

"In just one day prices could go up and they would be very, very difficult to roll back," says Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

But other congressmen suggested that meat prices—which cannot exceed a ceiling ordered by Nixon—could be rolled back if raised, should presidential control authority expire. Mandatory controls also affect the food, construction and health-care industries.

Republicans dislike several Senate wage-price amendments that survived the House-Senate conference called to reconcile the different versions of the bill.

Couple Terrorized By Narcotics Squad Raid On Wrong House

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A man and his wife who were terrorized in their bedroom by federal agents say they will decide today whether to file criminal charges against members of a narcotics squad who have admitted they raided the wrong address.

"Imagine how horrible it was to have my wife having to watch me beg for my life," said Herbert Giglotto, a 29-year-old Collinsville boilermaker, of the raid last Monday night.

He and his 28-year-old wife, Louise, said on Sunday that they would meet with their attorney today in St. Louis.

Another couple victimized by a similar raid the same night at their home a few miles north of the Giglottos' apartment filed a $100,000 damage suit Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Springfield.

Donald Askew, 40, and his wife, Virginia, 37, said that, as in the raid the same night on the Giglotto apartment, agents did not show search warrants but simply smashed through doors. St. Louis officials of the federal Drug Abuse Enforcement Program have declined comment.

But Myles J. Ambrose, director of the program and a special assistant attorney general, said on Sunday that an investigation is being conducted.

Contacted at his home in Chevy Chase, Md., Ambrose said he understood that the agents involved in the raid were from the program's St. Louis office.

Giglotto said that after the agents smashed through the front door they handcuffed him and his wife "and shoved us face down on the bed."

He added: "There was a crew-cut psychopath who held a cocked pistol at my head and kept saying, 'You're a dead man, you son-of-a-bitch. I'm going to kill you.'"

Lifting a short, lime-colored negligee, Giglotto said: "My wife only had this on. They kept gawking at her, and they wouldn't let her get something to cover herself."

He estimated 15 agents were in his bedroom at one time, pulling open drawers and chests, tossing clothes onto the floor. Other rooms also were rifled.

Giglotto said he pleaded for 15 minutes for the agents to check his identification before one of the men came upstairs and said, "We have the wrong people."

Two FBI agents visited the Giglottos on Wednesday to apologize.

Mrs. Giglotto said the FBI men told her they had received previous complaints about certain narcotics agents.

Collinsville Police Chief Paul Cigliana later confirmed for the Giglottos and Askews that the raiders were federal agents.

Couple Weds In Sunday Ceremony

Miss Deborah Elaine Tetterton and Clifton Jones Moss were united in marriage in Parkers Chapel Free Will Baptist Church Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the afternoon. The Rev. Harley C. Brown officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Carl Tetterton of Greenville. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Hazel F. Moss of Greenville.

A program of music was presented by Phillip Cooper, organist, and Mrs. Jean Cannon, soloist, who sang, "We've Only Just Begun," "April Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The vows were spoken before a chancel background of palms centered with a fifteen branch candelabra. From each side spiral candelabra were used, each flanked with baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and jade greenery. To the right of the officiating minister, a three branch candelabra was used with one burning taper, symbolic of the couple being united. The couple knelt for prayer on a prie-dieu of white satin. Family pews were marked with satin bows and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional white floor length empire gown of taffeta overlaid with organza with a Victorian neckline and later sleeves. The bodice, sleeves and A-line skirt were enhanced with daisy appliques.

She wore a lace and pearl headpiece attached to a silk illusion elbow length veil which was designed by her mother. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, white pom pons and baby's breath.

Miss Diane Gayle Tetterton of Greenville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her floor length powder blue crepe gown was styled with a princess line skirt which fell from a gathered empire bodice featuring lace Juliet sleeves. She wore a powder blue picture hat with matching streamers and carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies, pom pons and baby's breath with white and blue satin streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sandra Daniels and Mrs. Stephen Bailey, both of Greenville. Mrs. Mac Edwards of Ayden, Miss Kathy Brinson of Greensboro, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Stanley A. Moore of Lincoln. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the honor attendant.

Miss Lisa Carraway of Greenville, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a floor length white crepe empire gown featuring a blue satin sash. Her headpiece was a blue satin bow and she carried a white basket filled with daisies.

The bridegroom's cousin, Eric Whichard of Stokes, served as best man. Ushers were John Vernelson and Pete Forlines, both of Winterville, Ola Porter of Greenville, Bill Zachman of Washington and Ricky Whichard of Stokes.

Greg Brinson of Greensboro, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. He carried a gold band on a white satin pillow with sprays of minature flowers tyed with white bows.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Tetterton selected a yellow A-line crepe with a full length yellow lace knit coat. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Moss, mother of the bridegroom, chose a pink crepe with a sleeveless pink lace coat. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. B. W. Brinson, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. C. T. Fornes, grandmother of the bridegroom, were honored with corsages of white carnations.

Mrs. DeWitt Landen of Greenville directed the wedding. The bride is a graduate of Rose High School and Pitt Technical Institute. She is presently employed by East Carolina University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Rose High School and Pitt Technical Institute. He is presently employed by Pitt Technical Institute.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride selected a blue knit ensemble with white accessories. She wore her mother's corsage.

The couple will reside near Winterville.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at their home.

Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Larry E. Tetterton of Louisburg, aunt and uncle of the bride.

The reception table was covered with a white linen cloth edged with embroidered lace and centered with an arrangement of carnations, snapdragons, daisies and baby's breath.

After the bride and bridegroom cut the three tiered wedding cake, guests were served by Mrs. Kathleen Brinson of Greensboro, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Lee R. Manning of Danville, Va., aunt of the bride, poured punch.

Miss Gwyn Glisson of Stokes presided at the guest register. Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Meacomes of Bailey, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hazel Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Whichard, Mrs. V. Brinson and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Benton entertained the Moss-Tetterton wedding party at an after-rehearsal party in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a linen cloth with a wide lace border and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers interspersed with candles.

Household Hints

By United Press International
With spring cleaning at hand, homemaker consultants of National Family Opinion Inc., a consumer research firm in Toledo, Ohio, pass on the following hints:

—Use a small amount of baking soda on a damp cloth to disinfect your formica top counters and keep them looking fresh.

—Use window cleaner to brighten window pulls and metal counter pulls in your kitchen.

—Dye odor will disappear from clothing if the garment is aired on clothes line for several hours.

—Pencil and ball point ink marks can be removed from cloth with hair spray. Spray on spot, rub, then wash as usual. Repeat if necessary.

—Ketchup is an excellent cleaner for brass and copper if you run out of your commercial polish. Salt and vinegar—two ingredients in ketchup—cleans brass.

—Crumpled newspaper is good for cleaning mirrors, windows, glass doors. Use any spray cleaner or simply water with a bit of ammonia and wipe off with the newspaper.

—To scour pans, use a piece of fine emery cloth. The pans scour up bright and there are no scratches.

—Use turpentine for removing gum from cloth and for removing tape glue from appliances and other metallic surfaces.

—For a plate and pot scraper that does not sour or wear out easily, cut nylon mesh citrus bags into four-inch lengths and gather into a bundle. Either tie or wrap a bread tie lightly around the middle.

Barrett-Hall Vows Spoken Saturday

Lana Kay Hall and Curtis G. Barrett were united in marriage Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Ray Keys.

Eldress Laura Ann Dixon conducted the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Betty R. Dixon of Ayden, and Mr. Raymond Hall of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Barrett of Bell Arthur.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lavender polyester and organza gown fashioned with a low neckline, puffed sleeves with lace edged cuffs. The empire waistline was accented with lace.

Her veil was of lavender organza and the bride carried a bouquet of lilly-of-the-valley, daisies and lavender pom pons.

Miss Betty Jo Dixon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She carried a bouquet of white lilies and daisies.

Miss La Tonya Edwards, daughter of the bride was flower girl. She wore a lavender polyester empire gown with lace around the waistline and sleeves. She carried a basket of lavender pom pons.

George Carmon served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of South Ayden High School and attended Pitt Technical Institute. The bridegroom graduate from Eppes High School.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside in Washington, D.C.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home.

Upholstered Pieces

Upholstery is a long-term investment, and the problem is compounded by the fact that the most important part of your purchase is hidden. The value is the unseen construction—frame, springs, fillings—and the workmanship with which it is put together. For this you must rely on your dealer's recommendation. Number one, look for a reputable dealer. Naturally, check all visible details with care. Note the trimness of workmanship, the firmness of welting, the sturdiness of stitching, the placement of nailheads, and the meticulous matching of fabrics.

Oakley-Lemnah Vows Exchanged Appeal Charge To Higher Authority

Miss Eraine Mary Lemnah and Larry G. Oakley were united in marriage Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in St. Peters Church. Father Maurice Spillane conducted the double ring ceremony.

Altar boys were Timothy Baker and Jesse Baker. A program of wedding music was presented by Bruce Evans, organist, and Miss Helen Posey, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lemnah of Greenville. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Oakley Sr. of Roxboro.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length white organza gown designed with a high neckline encircled with re-embroidered lace. Panels of lace edged in ruffled organza extended from the shoulders to the empire waistline. The long full sleeves featured ruffled cuffs banded in matching lace. The modified A-line skirt was accented with borders of re-embroidered lace. Ruffled organza and lace edged the hemline and attached chapel length train.

She wore a re-embroidered lace Juliet cap featuring profile lace flowers with an elbow length illusion veil edged in lace matching the gown. She carried a bouquet of daisies centered with an orchid.

Miss Mattie Moye King of Greenville was maid of honor. She wore a formal length violet crepe dress designed with an open collar of white crepe edged in white crocheted lace. The cuffs of the long sleeves were also of white crepe edged in lace. The natural waistline was enhanced by a self-tie with long streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Pam Riddick of Greenville, Miss Donna Gaskins of Ocracoke, and Mrs. Rebecca L. Oakley of Roxboro. The bridesmaids wore gowns designed like that of the honor attendant in orchid crepe. They wore white ruffled straw hats trimmed in ribbon to match their gowns and carried bouquets of assorted spring flowers.

The father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Clyde T. Oakley Jr. and Gary M. Oakley of Roxboro, brothers of the bridegroom, and Joseph B. Meeks Jr. of Greenville.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride is a graduate of Pitt Technical Institute, where she is now employed as a secretary. The bridegroom is attending Pitt Tech and will graduate in May.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the St. Peters fellowship hall.

Miss Virginia Baker and Miss Coleen Lemnah, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Don Dempsey poured punch and Mrs. George Tertont served wedding cake. Mrs. Robert Leith assisted in serving.

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Oakley Sr., parents of the bridegroom, for members of the wedding party at the Beef Barn.

Mrs. Porter Gives CW-I Program

Mrs. Mildred Porter presented the program at the meeting of Greenville Credit Women-International held Tuesday evening.

Her program topic was "Credit Bureaus, Leadership, Credit and Collections, Properly Opened Accounts and Employer-Employee Relations." Mrs. Porter is second vice president of the local club.

She pointed out that the credit bureau is a bank of information—a neutral storehouse, a supplier of factual information about millions of good names, serving the consumer and the credit granter equally.

Mrs. Porter said that a leader is one who gets things done through other people. Some of the leadership functions should be: planning; controlling; setting standards; motivating; communicating; and evaluation.

"One very important function not mentioned is, the ability to get along with people. Everyone needs to learn this skill," she added.

In discussing good employer-employee relations, Mrs. Porter commented, "This is possible when a feeling of mutual trust, respect and understanding exists on the part of both parties."

She discussed the six important traits of a good employer and told of the desirable characteristics of a good employee.

Special guests for the meeting were Jo Ann White and Paye Adams.

President Clara Seago appointed Mary Roberson, Lynn Brown and Peggy Smith to a committee to obtain favors for the state convention which will be held in Greensboro May 20-21.

Mrs. Pat Elks, first vice president, presented the Miss Seago a 15 year pin for perfect attendance in the Greenville CW-I.

Stretch that beef!
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon sherry
1 garlic clove, minced
1 teaspoon sugar

1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 pound flank or sirloin beef, diagonally and thinly sliced across
1 cup corn oil
1 pound asparagus, diagonally and thinly sliced into 2-inch long pieces
1 cup beef broth
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
Mix together soy sauce, sherry, garlic, sugar and ginger; add beef; stir well; cover and marinate at least 1 hour. If meat has not absorbed marinade, drain it and reserve. In a large heavy skillet over moderate heat, heat corn oil. Add beef and cook, turning it over with a wide spatula, until it loses its red color. Add asparagus and stir quickly for about 3 minutes. Mix together broth, cornstarch and any marinade; stir into beef mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is clear, thickened and boiling. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

NOTE: With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare outer covering from asparagus spears up to bud before slicing.

Potatoes and onions should be kept in a cool dark place with plenty of air circulation to discourage sprouting.

DEAR ABBY: During a history test, my friend, who sits across from me, said, "Gee, this is hard." I replied, "I know."

Just then the teacher came up the aisle and accused us of cheating. Then he said, "I am going to add your two scores together and divide by two."

When we got our papers back, I had only one wrong and my friend had three wrong, but instead of getting 90 like I deserved and my friend getting 70 like he deserved, we both got 80. I don't think this is fair.

Should I go to the counselor?

MAD IN NEW CANAAN, CONN.

DEAR MAD: If you feel falsely accused and don't want it on your record, appeal the charge to a higher authority. You have "rights," too.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SEARCHING FOR HAPPINESS" IN MINNEAPOLIS: Why search when you can create it?

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, who will be 18 in a few months, "disappeared" last month. We reported this to the police. Then we found out that she is living with a man out of state.

Should we try to bring her back and file charges with the FBI against this man for contributing to the delinquency of a minor [Mann Act, etc.] since he either took her out of the state or provided funds for her to go? What if we go thru all this only to have her move out and resume living with him the day she turns 18? She claims she loves him.

URGENT IN CLEVELAND

DEAR URGENT: There are many unanswered questions: Why did she leave in the first place? If she wasn't kidnapped by this man, chances are she was "delinquent" before she left. What would you accomplish by pressing charges against him? If you want to punish your daughter and this man, you are holding all the aces now. But if you want a better relationship with your daughter, don't try to bring her home against her will. Unless she's one in a million, you'll hear from her when she needs a friend, which I suspect will be soon.

DEAR ABBY: For nearly two years I've been the secretary to the world's cheapest man.

I like my job, but I don't like the way my boss takes advantage of me. A refreshment cart comes around twice a day, and each time he asks me to get a cup of coffee for him. It costs 25 cents a cup, which I pay for because he never has anything smaller than a $20 bill. He has never offered to pay me back, and it's been running me about $2.50 a week.

He's cheap in other ways, too. He gave me a lift twice and both times we went over a toll bridge he asked me for the money to pay the toll. He has also bumbled dimes from me to use a public telephone. Please print this. He may see it and recognize himself.

BROKE IN BROOKLYN

DEAR BROKE: He's probably too cheap to buy a newspaper. Carry change for a twenty and produce it when he says he has no change. If that fails, TELL him you can't afford to support his coffee habit any more.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Music At Night Causes Split

ZURICH, Switzerland (WNS) — Gretel Birmann, 29, has left her husband rather than lose her secretarial job because she falls asleep at the typewriter. "I get no rest at night on account of his reading in bed until three in the morning," she explained. "The trouble is that he doesn't read books like normal men. He reads music and plays the saxophone."

Double Burden On The Parent

It has to be a matter of concern for all parents that an extortion ring on the third grade level has been in exposed in North Carolina.

Three third-graders were charged with extorting nearly $1,000 from two classmates in a Forsyth school and they were adjudged delinquent in a juvenile court hearing.

Two boys, 9 and 11, will be placed in a detention center and the third, ten years old, was put on probation for a maximum of two years.

The scheme was reportedly uncovered when the father of one of the victims missed $100 from his wallet.

This is a shocking situation which must make all parents stop and consider what their children are doing. Certainly no parents wants their child to be a victim of this and it would be heartbreaking to find out that one's child was the perpetrator of such a scheme.

Once again parents have a double burden to know at all time what their juvenile aged children are doing. If they come up with money or goods that they should not have they should be questioned immediately. If a child's belongings begin to disappear then the situation should be investigated without delay.

Children of that age very much look to their parents for guidance. They can, however, be frightened to the point where they will not confide in their parents. If anything suspicious is going on, the parents should make sure that their child is encouraged to discuss the problem with them. This could save a lot of heartbreak later on.

Charles Street Work To Help Traffic Flow

Bids have been received for improvements to Charles Street.

Barrus Construction Co. was low bidder at $504,625 and if all goes well the bids should be approved at the May meeting of the State Highway Commission.

Charles Street will be widened from Greenville Boulevard northward to five lanes. It will cut across to Cotanche at Tenth.

The project is badly needed to move traffic north and south locally.

Can Haldeman Survive Gales?

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—Operating in a brooding, tomblike White House where presidential aides fear to speak out loud in the White House mess about the spreading ramifications of Watergate, President Nixon has now reached a key decision, the effect of which is to reject most of the advice pouring in on him from his few old and trusted friends.

The decision: not to fire White House staff chief H.R. (Bob) Haldeman and not to attempt the grand overhaul of the White House staff which most leaders of his party insist on if there is to be any restoration of confidence.

Mr. Nixon, according to one of the very few intimates who enjoy his trust today, has thus decided, as of now, to ride out the storm as best he can with Haldeman still at his side.

If Haldeman is indicted by the Watergate grand jury, this presidential decision will obviously not survive. Mr. Nixon has said that any aide indicted would be suspended and any aide convicted would be fired.

But quite apart from the possible indictment or conviction of tough, crewcut staff boss Haldeman, Mr. Nixon's tentative decision to keep him as top presidential aide is certain to multiply Republican party wrath over the mushy way in which Mr. Nixon has dealt with the Watergate crisis thus far.

For it has long been a well-established political fact in Mr. Nixon's Washington that Haldeman, more than any other White House aide, is the symbol of everything that Republican politicians loathe about the President's secretive, autocratic, suspicious and politically ignorant inner staff.

Precisely for that reason, the President has been strongly advised by old friends (whom he has been consulting nonstop since he went to Key Biscayne last week) that any post-Watergate fresh start must begin with a cleaning-out of his White House staff, with Haldeman the first to go.

One wise purveyor of just such advice has been Secretary of State William P. Rogers, the suave old pal who helped Mr. Nixon through some of his other self-styled "crisis." Rogers has argued for a thorough housecleaning, not just to satisfy the immediate legal and political requirements of Watergate but to attempt a long-overdue change in bitter antagonisms of Republican Congressmen toward the White House.

Similar advice has come to the President from trusted Manhattan lawyers to whom he occasionally turns for counsel, and from Robert Finch, an intimate political colleague who prelates the Nixon-Haldeman relationship.

Finch was driven out of the first Nixon administration partly by Haldeman himself.

Moverover, Mr. Nixon is beginning to learn that his White House staff, particularly Haldeman and the network of eager Haldeman men in and beyond the White House, are feared and hated throughout the federal bureaucracy for the same reasons they are loathed on Capitol Hill: dictatorial decisions, lack of comprehension about the rudiments of good politics, and contempt for everyone

Await 'Crisis' In Closing Days

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH—Republican leaders see a crisis developing in the closing days of the current legislative session over attempts to erode executive authority.

In the hopper are a batch of what Sen. Charles Taylor of Transylvania calls "stripping bills" which would take away to some degree power now exercised by the governor in affairs of state.

While they owe their origin to the partisan confrontation of a GOP governor and a Democratic legislature, Taylor said, the danger in the bills is not just to the administration of Gov. Jim Holshouser but to the office itself.

The crucial question, he said, "is whether we are going to so emasculate the office that future executives will be unable to act, or make state government responsive to the will of the people who elect them."

That could apply to a Democrat elected in the years ahead, he noted. "If the Democrats think the General Assembly will take power away from a Republican governor and then give it back to a Democrat, they will find that just ain't the case," he insisted.

Public Interest Involved

The public has a vital interest in the outcome, but remains largely unaware of the impact of the legislation, added Sen. Taylor, minority leader in the upper chamber.

"The people who elected Gov. Holshouser expected him to have all the power of the office at the time they voted for him," he said. "To diminish that authority amounts to an effort to thwart the public will."

Surface cordiality has prevailed most of the session between Democrats in the legislature and Holshouser as the first Republican governor in this century.

In fact, Democratic sponsors of the measures cited by Taylor disclaim partisan motives. They argue the changes are ones which should have been made regardless of the party affiliation of the incumbent in the governor's office.

Taylor said an element of the majority party, particularly in the Senate, has shown "a mature attitude of cooperation for the best interests of the state."

House More Politicized

The atmosphere has been more highly politicized in the House, he observed. "From the beginning, there has been a group which chose to take the second pathway to do its best in highly partisan manner to strip away power from the executive," he asserted.

"One jarring discord came earlier in the session with the introduction in the House of a bill to take away the governor's right to appoint election boards. The move aroused a bipartisan public outcry, and the bill was allowed to sink quietly out of sight."

The impending collision over the so-called "stripping bills" could have more serious consequences than the elections board measure, Taylor said. "They could throw executive power in disarray and disrupt the efficient operation of state government," he said.

Legislation identified by Taylor as "stripping bills" included:

Personnel Bill Cited

1. A measure to give state employees an avenue of appeal to keep their jobs if they felt they were fired without just cause. It passed the House last week in a vote hewing closely to party lines.

2. Some provisions in the highway reorganization bill, which Taylor said would amount to "line-item budgeting" by the legislature and thus reduce the administration's in-pot for highway programs. It also has passed the House.

3. A Senate bill which would place full-time employees of county boards of election under the executive secretary of the state board. The result would be to protect the jobs of present employees in the the turnover to Republican control.

4. A proposal to transfer probations to the courts system, out from under direct control by the administration.

5. A move to transfer the corrections system to the justice department under the attorney general, an elected official like the governor.

6. Expanding Advisory Budget Commission membership, giving more representation to legislators and diluting administration influence.

"There are others," said Sen. Taylor. "They range from broad to petty. Taken together, they represent a substantial effort to strip away the governor's power and could lead to administrative chaos."

A Blow Against Castro

WASHINGTON—The forgotten men of the Watergate Affair are the four Cuban refugees who were among the seven men convicted of bugging the Democratic headquarters on June 17, 1972. To this day, these men think they were hired to strike a blow against Fidel Castro.

At this very moment, they are probably sitting in their Washington D. C., jail cells discussing how they had contributed to Castro's downfall.

"Well, amigos, it will just be a matter of time until we will be back home in Havana."

"That is true, dear friends. Even though we have been caught, Castro must be shaking in his boots knowing we could get into the Watergate without his stopping us."

"I spoke to G. Gordon Liddy in the mess hall yesterday and he told me the President is very proud of us for what we did to halt communism from spreading to South America."

"Si, he told me the same thing. He said if it hadn't been for us Cubans, Fidel would now be sleeping in the Watergate Hotel."

"I must be dumb, amigos, but I still don't understand what we were doing in the Democratic national headquarters."

"Stupido! We were putting in a bug so we could listen in on the Democrats' telephone line to Havana. Mr. Liddy said the Democrats did nothing during the election without first checking with Fidel. It was essential to the Republicans to know what the Democrats were cooking up."

"But who paid us all the money?"

"The Committee to Re-Elect the President and to Defeat Castro. They had a special espionage fund set aside for this purpose."

"It was in cash because the committee was afraid that if

To The Editor:

Mr. J. E. Johnson's letter the April 28th edition would have been much more effective if replaced by a picture of the following: three monkeys (remember "see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil"?) with folded arms covered by a cloak concealing a dagger. This substitute would have pointed out more clearly the complacency, false optimism, and look-the-other-way attitude Mr. Johnson's letter implies.

The complacency is shown by "And I figure it's none of my business." If you are a Greenville citizen interested in helping to improve the city's educational system, why isn't it your business?

False optimism appears in his words, "Neither do I know the names of the present school board members, but I am sure they are well-educated, highly regarded citizens of Greenville and Pitt County or else they would not have been appointed or elected to the high position they now hold. I feel absolutely sure that any decision the Board makes regarding the affairs of the schools is, or will be done in the best interest of the schools." If one does not know the school board members, how can he realistically say they are well-educated, highly regarded citizens? Furthermore, how could such an uninformed person maintain that these people's decisions are fair and in the best interests of the schools? You see, I don't know Dr. Cleetwood or any School Board members either. And, until I do, I will not assume that I am sufficiently aware to comment on these people's qualifications and methods of carrying out their duties.

And finally the cloak and dagger. Some Greenville citizens have used this allusion in commenting on the school board's method of firing Dr. Cleetwood. As others have already asked, I now also ask, "Why?" If we the taxpayers are paying the superintendent? Thus, the cloak and dagger allusion seems quite reasonable. But not to Mr. Johnson! He says we should "shut up and sit down or sit down and shut up." Since the school board's decision not to rehire Dr. Cleetwood, they have definitely sat down and shut up. I think it's time they stood and spoke.

Change In The Role

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — I agreed to stand by him in sickness and in health—but nobody said anything about high cholesterol.

Though it wasn't spelled out in the marriage contract, when the doctor put my husband on a strict diet I became a chemist instead of a cook.

I may forget how to make sauce bearnaise, but I can remember the fat content and ratio of polyunsaturates to saturates of every edible from consommé to peanuts.

I no longer look at prices at the grocery — I look at labels. I am more delighted to find an item that contains the proper diglycerides and propylene glycol monostearates than I would be to find filet mignon at 73 cents a pound.

An otherwise likely candidate for our larder goes back on the shelf when my magnifying glass reveals that the forbidden hydrogenated vegetable oil lurks among such innocuous ingredients as ferric orthophosphate, isopropyl citrate, pyridoxine and lecithin.

Fortunately, the food industry knows which side its shortening-free bread is margined on, and has come up with look-alikes for some of the items that are off limits in low cholesterol diets.

Cream, a definite no-no, has all sorts of stand-ins, from pale powders that come in jars to liquids that hang out in small cardboard cartons and try to emulate their fatty cousins in looks and coffee-lightening activities.

Since egg yolks are packed chock full of cholesterol milligrams, my husband's over-easy breakfast piece de resistance has been eliminated.

However, all has not been lost. A substitute egg, which resembles the real thing in every way except cholesterol content, has appeared on the market. Thaw it, shake it, scramble it and, according to my resident

Strength For Today

PEOPLE WE DON'T LIKE

You say you don't like such and such a person. Have you ever stopped to ask the reason why? You may say that you dislike his selfishness, his stubbornness, his insincerity, his vacillating and unstable disposition. But it might just be that his trouble is that he is not feeding you ego.

We can be quite tolerant of people's faults, but often what really irritates us is that they make no effort to defer to us or flatter us. We like people who cheer us, who tell us that we are better than we really are, who by their attitudes give us a sense of self-sufficiency. But such people are not very helpful. What we need is to face the truth, and the friend is a friend indeed who can hold the looking glass before our faces and ask us to take a look.

Good friends often leave scars, but these scars are badges indicating that they are friends indeed.

Recently, District Solicitor Eli Bloom failed to convince the Pitt County Grand Jury that it should indict former state highway commissioner Arthur Tripp of Greenville on charges that he violated a state law which prohibits a highway commissioner from furnishing or selling "any supplies or materials, directly or indirectly," to the state.

Arthur Tripp's guilt or innocence is for the courts to determine. I find it hard to believe, however, that Solicitor Bloom was unable to bring sufficient evidence to the Grand Jury to support an indictment and trial of the charges. Mr. Tripp was reported by the press to have said last summer that he "might have negotiated" the sale of material to state highway contractors, and an SBI investigation of the matter prompted Governor Bob Scott to demand Tripp's resignation. Surely, had Bloom been so inclined, he could have persuaded a jury of laymen to allow him to take the case to trial. Quite frankly, I am afraid that in this situation the prominence of the suspect prevented full enforcement of the law.

When asked by the press about the lengthy delay in bringing the Tripp matter before the Grand Jury, Solicitor Bloom replied that the case was an important one which could "not be handled in the normal manner." The meaning of his words is now quite clear.

I am a teacher and in that capacity I am urged from time to time to instill respect for law in my students. I do urge respect for the law. But students are not fools. They soon realize that while judges, prosecutors, even U. S. Presidents frequently speak of the need to respect the law, they often show by their actions that merely mean that some people should respect some laws.

Travel Plans Are In High Gear

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Piercing through the somber, droning monotone of grumbling and discontent over the high cost of living, each year there is heard the shrill laughter of America at play.

Which is to say that despite constant concern about making ends meet, Americans never lose their enthusiasm for a good time. This year they plan the best times yet, costs notwithstanding.

Not even the dollar devaluation is likely to slow travel, and early estimates based on surveys and passport applications indicate more than eight million Americans will travel abroad in 1973, compared with 7.4 million last year.

Such an increase would not be unusual. Between 1960 and 1971 foreign travel by Americans rose 153 per cent, and together with domestic travel now accounts for expenditures of roughly $45 billion a year, says the Conference Board.

While some people are traveling from place to place, others will occupy their free time riding up and sliding down hills or boating or chasing balls. Skiing has grown from 50,000 participants in the 1940s to 4.5 million now.

More people than ever before will be bicycling, unless those 9.6 million bikes sold in 1972 — an increase of 13 per cent over 1971 — represents more the resolution than the execution of those who planned to exercise.

Others will be taking to the road in larger vehicles. Camping is growing in popularity, which probably accounts for the fact that there are now about four million campers, motor homes, trailers and related vehicles on the road.

Most of these figures are from a study by the Conference Board, a nonprofit research organization largely supported by business, which reports that Americans are in the midst of a leisure boom.

Recreational and leisure time spending, it claims, now exceeds $80 billion a year, and is rising each year. These are some of the percentage increases between 1960 and 1971:

Radio, television, records and musical instruments 186; books and magazines 185; personal consumption expenditures 104; admittances to legitimate theater, opera and entertainment of nonprofit institutions 101.

The study shows that more than 80 million Americans participate in picnicking, more than 70 million in swimming, 60 million in games and sports, and a like number in attending sports events and concerts.

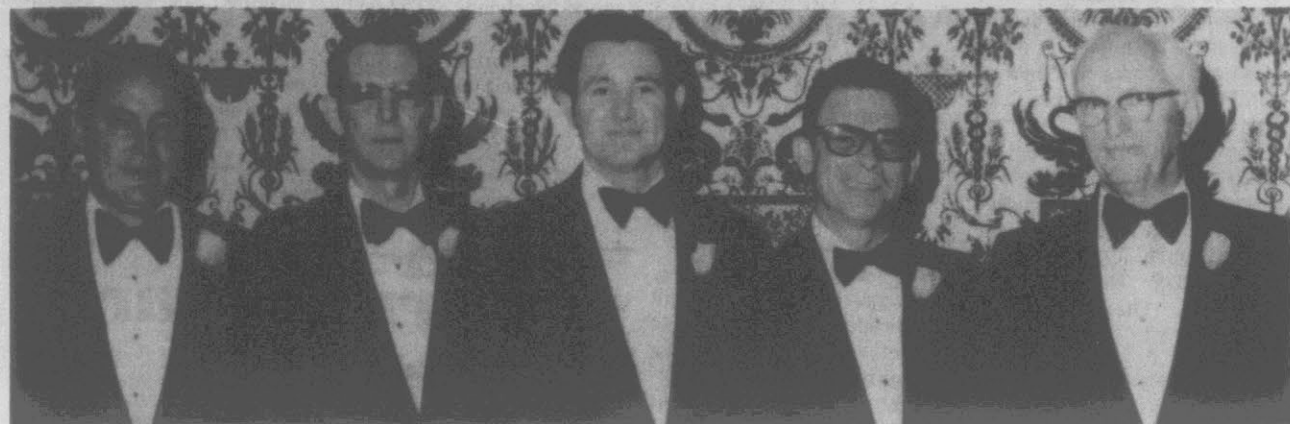

Rising incomes and more usable leisure time are making such pursuits possible.

Nearly 25 per cent of families have incomes of $15,000 or more, the Conference Board says, and the number of families in the 25- to 34-year-old age group who make that amount is growing rapidly.

The leisure time is made available not so much by changes in the length of the work week, which has remained stable in the past decade, but by an increase in the length of the average vacation from 1.8 weeks to 2.2 weeks, and to recent federal legislation assuring five long holiday weekends.

Always looking for trends, especially those that can be turned to profit, Wall Street stock analysts are promoting shares of some of the well known scheduled and charter airlines and many of the hotel-motel corporations.

"Why shouldn't they be? They hate Fidel as much as we do. Mr. Liddy told me the White House got reports on everything that happened at the Watergate. He said once they got enough information, the President was going to launch an attack at the Bay of Pigs."
"But if the White House approved of what we were doing, why are we still in jail?"
"To lull Castro into a false sense of security. He thinks the Justice Department is mad at us for what we did. Once Castro lets his guard down, they will fly us to Southern Florida and let us lead the invasion against the beaches."

Arch T. Allen Plans To Retire

RALEIGH (AP) — Longtime member of the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina, Arch T. Allen, said Saturday he plans to retire.
In a letter to the chairmen of the legislative committees on University Trustees, Allen said he has served on the board "for a period longer than 30 years...In view of the length of service that I have enjoyed, I respectfully request that my name not be considered for nomination or re-election as a member of the Board of Governors."
Allen, 62, is a Raleigh attorney, a former member of the state House and a former secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

else.
In short, the rising Republican anger at Haldeman—though still on the level of private communications—is directed against the very excesses inside the White House that permitted Watergate to be conceived and directed in the first place.
Why, then, has Mr. Nixon tentatively decided to hang on to Haldeman? The answer may lie in the failure to find a substitute, such as Melvin R. Laird or John B. Connally, neither of whom would take the top White House job. Possibly the answer is to be found in the President's notorious resistance to any avoidable staff change.
There is one other hypothesis: that Mr. Nixon is planning a secret, wholly unexpected strategy in dealing with Watergate, a strategy of counterattack in which Haldeman's continued presence by his side is necessary.
The real answer is concealed in the silent, brooding White House, with many other still unanswered questions. It will probably stay concealed until Mr. Nixon gives his own version of Watergate to the American people, now planned for next week.

Secretary Edwin Baldree.
In accepting the Governorship, Beddard expressed his appreciation to the members for their trust and asked for their continuing cooperation toward further accomplishments.
The installation ceremony was further marked by presentation of a Life Membership to Richard Barnes, as a token of appreciation for his years of extraordinary service to the Greenville lodge.
A dance followed the official formalities.
Appointive officers for the year, announced by Governor Beddard, are: O. J. Smith, Sgt. at Arms, and Willie Bailey, assistant Sgt. at Arms; John Simonowich, Inner Guard, and Edward Holland, ass't Sgt. at Arms; Douglas H. Ross, Outer Guard, and Van Stokes, ass't Outer Guard.

Art Linkletter To Speak Here

Art Linkletter will be in Greenville sometime in the fall, according to plans of the Turning Point Steering Committee of Greenville. He will be here to help promote the need for drug controls, rehabilitation measures, and to raise funds for local projects, it was announced by Harry Allen steering committee chairman.

Allen said that plans for the Art Linkletter program are very basic at this time, but that dates and details should be announced within the next few weeks.

The local committee is composed of interested lay and church leaders. Art Linkletter's appearance was planned at the second organizational meeting since March, when Glenn and Barbara Bondurant, founders and codirectors of a coffee house ministry and drug rehabilitation center in Pompano Beach, Fla.

They spoke to the group on how to establish such an operation here, beginning with a coffee house program.

Members of the steering committee made contact with Linkletter when he appeared in Goldsboro recently. A subcommittee was appointed to head up the plans for the Linkletter program. They are John Grier, chairman, Herb Lee, Mrs. Evelyn Warner, James Rooks, John Brown, and Dr. Ed Hooks.

Other subcommittees were begun with initial appointments to a house sub-committee to investigate possible locations for the coffee house facility and a personnel subcommittee to seek qualified personnel as directors. The finance and publicity committees were also enlarged.

The committee also announced that a speakers panel is available to speak to interested groups. The Turning Point story was presented last week to the American Association of University Women and will appear before the women's group of St. James Methodist Church Monday. Representatives of the group will also appear on the television program, Hospitality House on WITN in May.

Win Refund On Apartment Rent

GREENSBORO (AP) — Two apartment complexes in Durham have agreed to refund more than $8,000 in excess rents, after the Internal Revenue Service found they had violated Phase 1 and Phase 11 rent controls, the IRS said Saturday.

Palomino Apartments and Palm Park Apartments were charged with failing to give tenants proper notice of rent increases and with raising rents more than allowed under Phase 1 and Phase 11 guidelines of the Economic Stabilization Program.

The group incorporated as a non-profit organization and to obtain certification from the state drug authority to deal with drug addicts.

The local committee is trying to raise funds and obtain public support to assist in the establishment of the coffee house, tentatively named the "Starting Point" in Greenville. Approximately $1,000 per month in operating expenses will be required for the operation. Contributions may be made by contacting the committee's treasurer, Hap Moyer.

"I was certainly glad that I had my Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection, when it happened.

At least I didn't have to worry about paying. I'd had heart surgery before.

Then, traveling in Mississippi in 1972, I just collapsed.

I got emergency treatment and got back to Durham.

I spent five days in the hospital...in critical condition.

All in all, my Blue Cross and Blue Shield plan has paid more than $15,000 in hospital and doctor bills for me. And

I've had over $1,600 in extended benefits alone...you know, outpatient care, prescriptions, and such...paid for by my coverage. I'd never be without it, anywhere."

NEW YORK (AP) — Reflecting continued fears about inflation and disillusionment produced by Watergate news, stock market prices were sharply lower today, continuing last week's trend of heavy declines. Trading was moderate.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at 11:30 a.m. was down 9.86 at 912.33. Declining issues held more than a 2 to 1 lead over advances on the Big Board.

Martin I. Good friend of Bruns, Nordeman & Co., said the market reflected continued investor uncertainty about inflation and would remain down until action to tighten price controls was taken by the Nixon administration.

Center Corp. was the Big Board's volume leader, down 1 1/4 at 12, followed by International Telephone, down 3/4 at 32 1/4.

Among the movers was Texas Oil & Gas, down 2 to 23. Barron's magazine said the company's future growth might be adversely affected by a proposed federal change in natural gas pricing.

On the American Stock Exchange, Teleprompter was the leader, down 1/4 at 20 1/2. Action Industries, which reported Friday a second-quarter operating net income of $460,000 compared with a loss of $283,000 for the same period the previous year, was up 3/4 at 4 3/4.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common shares was down .49 at 56.37. The Amex's price-change index was down .05 at 23.52.

landlord to pay his property taxes. Usually this is about 15 per cent of rent, the administration said.

The elderly, as well as working mothers, also would benefit from the proposed simplified tax form.

A taxpayer over 65 would receive a special credit. From a $1,500 base amount, the taxpayer would deduct Social Security and railroad retirement benefits and could subtract 15 per cent of the difference from his tax bill.

The age credit would replace the complex retirement-income credit and would result in an over-all tax reduction for the elderly of about $200 million.

Proposed Form 1040S also would streamline deductions by providing a miscellaneous deduction allowance of $500 for every taxpayer who itemizes deductions.

Not everyone would qualify for Form 1040S, Shultz said, but it would benefit "the more than 20 million taxpayers with simple family and financial transactions."

Pirates Face 6 League Games In Next 5 Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

palachian State's Mountaineers suddenly find themselves in the driver's seat.

The Mountaineers, rained out of a doubleheader both Friday and Saturday against Richmond's defending champion Spiders, got some breathing room at the top Saturday when The Citadel's Bulldogs avenged a 16-1 setback a week earlier by upsetting East Carolina 2-1.

The defeat not only dropped East Carolina to 6-2 and a tie with Richmond for second place behind Appalachian at 7-1, but the Pirates lost their No. 2 pitcher, Dave LaRussa, who suffered a fractured thumb on his pitching hand when hit by a line drive.

East Carolina was scheduled for a game today at Richmond that was crucial to the hopes of both clubs, and the Pirates have a twin bill at home Wednesday against Virginia Military's Keydets, a single game Thursday at William and Mary and a twin bill Saturday at Appalachian.

The Mountaineers, meanwhile, were scheduled at home today against Davidson and travel Wednesday to Davidson before the home stand against East Carolina.

Richmond had been due to wind up its schedule today, but the Spiders are faced with the necessity of making up at least the doubleheader at Appalachian—probably some time over the weekend. No definite date has been set.

Trailing the leaders in the race are The Citadel at 6-4. Furman's Paladins at 5-6 after a 9-1 romp Saturday over Davidson's Wildcats, William and Mary's Indians at 4-5. Davidson at 1-8 and VMI at 0-7.

Furman was scheduled to play host to Furman today and William and Mary was to be at VMI to round out a complete league schedule. The Indians and Keydets were rained out Saturday in a scheduled game at Williamsburg.

Singles by Warren Compton and winning pitcher Rusty Booth, a wild pitch, an error and Ken Feaster's single accounted for The Citadel's two runs in the fifth inning Saturday at East Carolina. The Pirates' only run came on Mike Hogan's homer in the eighth.

Appalachian dropped a 5-1 nonleague decision Sunday to Western Carolina that left the Mountaineers 10-6 over-all, while William and Mary took a 9-1 shellacking from Virginia's Cavaliers of the Atlantic Coast Conference and fell to 8-12.

Dean Pallotta walloped a bases-loaded triple as the Cavaliers scored four runs in the first inning and hit a two-run homer in the fifth. The victory raised Virginia's over-all record to 14-11-2.

David Pearson Wins Virginia 500 After Fighting All The Way

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — "Good Lord," said David Pearson. "There ought to be an easier way of making a living."

Pearson, 38, had manhandled a 3,800-pound Mercury stock car for 3 hours, 44 minutes and 22 seconds, battled close friend Cale Yarborough tooth and nail every minute of it, and finally won the 18th annual Virginia 500 Sunday before a standing room only crowd variously estimated at 27,000 to 29,000 at Martinsville Speedway.

"I'm not knocking the race track," said the dog-tired Pearson, rubbing blistered hands. "But running 500 laps here is harder than trucking 500 miles at a bigger track, say Talladega or Daytona."

The Martinsville oval, measuring just over half a mile around and almost as flat as a pancake, is a key stop on the Winston Cup Grand National circuit of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR).

He and Yarborough had hooked up in a rib-snorting duel for the final 125 miles in Sunday's race. They ran much of that distance either side by side or front bumper to rear bumper. And they appeared headed for a sizzling finish until Yarborough sealed his own fate with only about six laps remaining.

The 36-year-old Yarborough, wheeling Junior Johnson's Chevrolet, cut inside Pearson in a frantic effort to get around the leader and spun around in the fourth turn. That miscue gave the wily Pearson the breather he needed, and he cruised home to pick up the $11,000 first place check.

U.S. Basketballers Top Russians, But Coach Warns Team

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — Uncle Sam appears to have built a truly formidable national basketball team this year after the disappointing performance of 1972, yet Coach Bob Cousy says his squad must be tougher to continue whipping the Russians.

The international series continues here tonight following Sunday's 83-65 victory for the United States, a triumph at the Forum in Inglewood, Calif., which was the first meeting between the nations since the Olympic finale at Munich.

The Russians won that time 51-50 in the super-controversial ending where the U.S. claimed the USSR was given three seconds of additional time after the game ended.

Tonight there was doubt that Bill Walton, UCLA's national player of the year for both 1971 and 1972, could play because of an injury, but he wants to try because San Diego is his hometown.

Walton suffered strained ligaments in his left knee when he was knocked down near the end of the first half.

Although the revenge factor has been soft pedaled, this game was rough throughout, and the Russians had absolutely nothing to say after it was over.

Vladimir Khudoleev, leader of the visiting delegation, came to the dressing room door to tell newsmen: "We lost the game and there is no need to comment further."

Cousy, coach of the Kansas City-Omaha pro team now handling the national squad, said: "I think the kids underestimated them a little bit. But I certainly didn't. We've got to execute better. We've got to be more physical."

"It's mayhem out there, especially under the basket. The international game is very, very physical, especially inside."

The USA and USSR play a six-game series this time from coast to coast.

Down To The Last Inning

FARMVILLE — Ayden-Grifton's Eddie McCullen just missed a perfect game against the Farmville Central Jaguars Saturday night.

McCullen struck out 14 batters and was down to two strikes on what would have been the last batter in the seventh inning when Barry Johnson cracked a single through the middle. The ball was booted and Johnson went all the way to third on the play. Bobby Wooten then doubled to drive in Johnson and spoil the shutout too.

Ayden-Grifton pushed into the lead in the game in the first inning. Ronnie Salmon walked and was sacrificed up. A wild pitch put him on third and Don Phillips grounded out, scoring him.

The fourth saw the winning run come over. Ned Craft walked and also was sacrificed up. He also moved to third on a wild pitch and Horace Tripp singled him over.

Rally Wins For Greene

SNOW HILL—Greene Central rallied from three runs down Saturday to claim an important eight-inning 5-4 Eastern Carolina Conference win over Eastern Wayne.

The Rams took a 1-0 lead in the second inning but Eastern Wayne used the home-run bat in the third to grab a 4-1 cushion. Long socked a three-run shot to lead the attack.

Greene Central picked up two in the fifth to close the gap and then tied the game with a single run in the sixth. The Rams won the game with another run in the eighth.

Prigden picked up the win for Greene Central while Price took the loss. The Rams now stand 9-7 overall and 7-5 in conference play.

If you choose the Marines, maybe you'll choose Computers, too.

The Marine Corps believes that every young man wants to point himself in the right direction — toward the kind of work that will suit him best, the kind of skills that will stick with him for life.

So if you've got what it takes to be a Marine, and you can qualify for our new option programs, we'll let you choose the right direction. If it's computer programming and operations, you'll be on your way as soon as you complete recruit training.

There's also electronics, combat support, aviation technology, food services...and many other directions you can go. Come in and look over the list. You tell us what you're interested in. We'll tell you if we can get you there.

We're looking for a few good men...to choose their own directions.

Floundering Pittsburgh Hands One To Dodgers

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
You really have to hand it to the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Pittsburgh Pirates did Sunday. "We aren't playing well," admitted Pittsburgh Manager Bill Virdon in an obvious understatement after his floundering Pirates lost a doubleheader for their fifth straight setback.

"It's too early to worry about the standings," said Virdon after the three-time National League East champions dropped a 9-8 decision in 13 innings in the first game and 2-1 in the second. The Pirates, who opened as one of the hottest teams in baseball with an 8-1 record, dropped to third place at 8-6, one game off the pace of the East-leading New York Mets. It isn't Panicsville yet, though, said Virdon. "There's no reason to panic," said the Pirate manager. "I think we'll eventually play well." In the other National League games Sunday, the Chicago Cubs walloped the San Diego

Padres 10-4; the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the San Francisco Giants 8-3; the New York Mets beat the Atlanta Braves 1-0; the Cincinnati Reds stopped the Philadelphia Phillies 8-0 and the Houston Astros defeated the Montreal Expos 4-3. In the American League, the New York Yankees took a doubleheader from the Minnesota Twins 6-3 and 11-1; the Chicago White Sox downed the Boston Red Sox 5-0; the Detroit Tigers turned back the Kansas City Royals 6-1; the Oakland A's beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-3; the Cleveland Indians nipped the California Angels 3-2 and the Texas Rangers edged the Milwaukee Brewers 2-1. One of the Pittsburgh mistakes Sunday was a fat pitch by reliever Ramon Hernandez. He laid it down the middle for Tom Paciorek and the Dodger youngster drilled it for a double to knock in the winning run in the 13th inning of the four-hour opener. Another was an error by first baseman Bob Robertson allowed the Dodgers to score their first run in the nightcap and Willie Davis drove in the deciding run with a triple. Pinch-hitter Paul Popovich delivered a two-run single in a four-run, sixth-inning flurry as Chicago downed San Diego. The win was the second of the year for Ferguson Jenkins. Lou Brock's bases-loaded triple following a two-out error by San Francisco third baseman Ed Goodson capped a six-run rally in the sixth inning to pull St. Louis past the Giants. The Cardinals are currently buried in the NL East cellar with a 3-15 record. Unbeaten Jerry Koosman hurled a four-hitter and notched his fourth victory of the year in New York's success over Atlanta. The Mets scored the only run of the game in the second inning on Jerry Grote's sacrifice fly. Jack Billingham pitched a five-hitter and struck out nine and Bobby Tolan drove in five runs with two doubles and a single as Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia. Billingham had a perfect game until Mike Schmidt lashed a two-out single in the fifth inning. Cesar Cedeño scored the winning run on a balk by Montreal pitcher Tom Walker with two out in the ninth inning as Houston rallied for a pair of runs to beat nip the Expos.

North-South Tourney Opening Rounds Start Today At Pinehurst

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Writer
PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—The 73rd North and South Amateur Golf Tournament for men opened today with 64 first round matches and more than just the championship was at stake. For several players this was a golden opportunity to do well and further their chances of making the U.S. Walker Cup team that will meet the British Aug. 24-25 at Brookline, Mass. The field included veteran Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.; Bill Hyndman of Huntington Valley, Pa.; and Jim Gabrielsen of Atlanta, Ga.; all members of the 1971 team that lost to the British at St. Andrews in Scotland. Taking aim on the cup team here this week are such line threats as Danny Edwards of Edmond, Okla., the defending champion; Bill Mallon of Duke University and Marlboro, Mass., the New England amateur champion; and Dick Siderow of Westport, Conn. In addition to Edwards, Hyndman and Campbell, former North and South champions in the field are Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., and Tom Draper of Boca Raton, Fla. The yearly threat from Wake Forest University is absent this week. Coach Jess Haddock's Deacons are busy hitting the books. Three Wake Forest products, Jack Lewis, Joe Inman and Eddie Pearce, have won the event in the last five years. All are now pros. Thirty-seven of the 128 players gained places in today's opening round by virtue of their performances here or in other select events. The remainder of the field came from 36 holes of qualifying play over the week-end. A double round Wednesday will leave quarterfinalists for Thursday play. The 36-hole finals will be played Saturday over the 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Byron Nelson Classic Won By Wadkins

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS (AP) — "I just knew Lanny was going to win it. I just knew it. He told me so. He was so confident. And I'm so proud of him." So spoke the pretty young blonde who television viewers across the country watched run across the green Sunday grab and hug Lanny Wadkins. Her name is Rachel. She is 23. And Mrs. Wadkins. Her husband had just won the $150,000 Byron Nelson Classic, a bizarre victory, perhaps more lost by Dan Sikes than won by Lanny Wadkins. But that's debatable. When you birdie five of the last seven holes, including a super clutch 15-footer on 18 it's hard to argue that the $30,000 was a gift, not a prize of the highest order. He won it with a par on the first hole of a sudden death playoff, a duel brought about by a dramatic 40-foot par putt by Sikes at the final hole. Then Sikes, 42, by two decades Wadkins's elder, three-putted the par 5 playoff hole, missing a two-foot par putt he admitted "I jerked." Sikes started the final round tied with Bob Dickson for the lead at four under par, three shots ahead of Bert Yancey and four strokes in front of Wadkins, Tom Weiskopf, Bruce Crampton, and five others. Wadkins' final round of three-under-par 67 gave him a 277 total, three under par which matched Sikes' 72-hole card. Sikes shot a one-over-par 71 in the final round Sunday. Dickson took third at 279, one under, shooting a closing 73, and Crampton nailed the fourth spot with a par 70 for 280.

Four Seasons Wins Pre-SeasonTourney

Four Seasons edged Grace Free Will Baptist 4-3 Sunday to claim the Greenville Recreation Department's Pre-Season tournament title. Grace grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second inning but Four Seasons rebounded with two in the third and two in the fourth to gain the edge. Grace pushed over one run in the sixth but could do no more damage as they dropped the one-run game. In games leading up to the finals Sunday, Four Seasons blasted Greenville Utilities 30-3 and Trinity topped Parkers 13-10. Then Four Seasons eliminated Trinity 29-4 to gain the finals of the single elimination tourney. Grace beat the Salvation Army 14-8 to advance in the winners's bracket while Dainty Maid topped Oakmont 11-6 to narrow the field. Grace then scored all of their runs in the last three innings to slip by Dainty Maid 5-4 and set up the confrontation with Four Seasons.

Chimney Rock Sees Seven Records Fall

CHIMNEY ROCK, N.C. (AP)—Seven records in the Chimney Rock Hillclimb fell during the 27th running of the event before a record crowd of 6,000. National sports car class champion John Finger bettered the course record Sunday by almost two seconds in route to winning his second straight Sports Car Club of America-sanctioned event. Finger, 28, of Greenville, S.C., drove a formula super vee sports car to a new mark of 1 minute, 55 seconds. The old record was held by Harry Ingle of Charlotte, N.C. Tom Pumpelly of Alexandria, Va., broke a class record in formula vee competition with a 1 minute, 57 seconds clocking. Larry Gordon of Asheville, N.C. broke the formula Ford record with a time of 2 minutes. Ted Tidwell of Augusta, Ga., was the third driver to break two minutes and set a formula A production record with a time of 1 minute, 59 seconds. Other records were set by Frank Harmstad of Aiken, S.C., in a production; Radley Rice of Northampton, Pa., in F production; and Bob Desloge of Charlotte, N.C., in D production.

Sessions Takes 40-Lap Sprint

ROSSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Sam Sessions of Nashville, Mich., 1972 USAC champion, won the USAC 40-lap sprint car feature at Eldora Speedway Sunday. Rollie Beale of Toledo, Ohio, took second place and Lee Kunzman of Guttenberg, Iowa, came in third followed by Billy Cassella of Weirton, W. Va., and Don Nordhorn of Wadsworth, Ind. Kunzman still leads the sprint driving standings with 202 points.

Bertie Takes 5-4 Win Against Robersonville

WINDSOR—Bertie handed Martin County Conference champs Robersonville its third loss of the season as they turned back the Eagles 5-4 here Saturday night.

Doug Warren slapped a three-run homer in the third inning to give Robersonville a 3-0 lead but Bertie fought back with three in the sixth to tie it up. The Eagles took the lead in the eighth inning as Matt Wilson singled and Larry Jackson sacrificed him to second. After Loyal Corey was hit by a pitch, Kim Knot grounded into a fielder's choice which caught Wilson at third. Mike Matthews then delivered a double to sore Corey.

In Bertie's half of the inning, Owens walked and Goldstein grounded to the short stop where the ball was misplayed, leaving Owens on third and Goldstein on second. Walks to Williford and Corey forced in the tying run and an error by the Eagles' centerfielder on a fly ball allowed the winning run to score.

Marshall Williford had three hits to pace Bertie and was the only player to collect more than one.

Robersonville's record slipped to 13-3 for the season while Bertie's slate now stands at 10-5. The Eagles travel to Oak City Tuesday for a 3:30 p.m. game. Bertie 000 003 02—5 7 2 Robersonville 003 000 01—4 5 9 Farmer and Jackson; Thomas and Corey.

Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants has an 18-20 record against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Quick Finish In 'Sudden Death'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "The minute I hit the last putt I knew it was in the hole," said Gloria Ehret Sunday after winning the Ladies Professional Golf Association's $33,000 Birmingham Classic on the first hole of a sudden death playoff. Miss Ehret won the championship with a 20-foot downhill putt to defeat defending champion Betty Burfeindt and Clifford Ann Creed after the three finished in a tie after 54 holes. The putt gave Miss Ehret $4,950 while Miss Burfeindt and Miss Creed collected $3,300 each.

Bantam Champ Defends Crown

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Romeo Anaya, a left-hooking specialist from Tuxtla Gutierrez, Mex., became the first bantamweight boxing champion to successfully defend his crown in 13 months, but he had to overcome a rugged foe to do it. Anaya, 26, who stopped Panama's Enrique Pinder in January to win the World Boxing Association 118-pound title, weighed at the limit and it took the limit of his ability Saturday night to outpoint fellow countryman Rogelio Lara in a 15-round title bout at the Forum.

The 'Worry Clinic' Alcohol Often Masks A Fear

Alan's confession may shock many of you women. But if you'll adopt his wife's strategy, you may soon make your mate desert John Barleycorn and hasten home to your seductive arms. For liquor is often a "red herring" to divert attention from the victim's inner problem!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D. MD.

CASE W-591: Alan B., aged 37, offers some startling ideas.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "It was 10 years ago that I began to drink heavily."

"For I was under a lot of pressure at the office."

"Maybe that's what contributed to my platonic behavior in the bedroom."

"At any rate, I got scared that I was becoming erotically senile and tried to hide my impotence from my wife."

"So I'd stop at taverns en route home from the office and not stagger home til midnight."

"This diverted my wife's attention and made her solicitous about me."

"Previously, I had dreaded that she would get tired of me, due to my platonic condition, so now I secretly enjoyed retaining at least her maternal concern."

"She tried to get me to join Alcoholic Anonymous (A.A.) but I stalled around for a long time, since I felt I didn't dare, for whiskey was the shield behind which I kept hiding my sexual decline."

"For if I ever quit liquor, I figured she'd then find out about my impotence and lose all respect for me."

"She often cried, as he pleaded with me to join A.A., and I'd promise to do so, just to mollify her, but I realized I had to remain an alcoholic."

"Then one day she sent for your booklet on 'How to Break the Liquor Habit.'

"Luckily, she read it first, for that's when she learned that men rush into alcoholism to camouflage their platonic condition."

"Dr. Crane, you said that if a wife will become seductively aggressive and demolish her husband's fear of the boudoir, then he usually will no longer need to hide behind the whiskey flask."

"Well, my wife must have diagnosed my secret reason for staggering home drunk."

"For she began a deliberate campaign to seduce me."

"She bought some diaphanous nighties, and changed her perfume."

"And, finally took an aggressively erotic role in our boudoir."

"Well, it worked! She banished my imagined impotence."

"Thereafter, no normal man will prefer a bottle of liquor to a seductive siren in his own boudoir!"

"So my motivation to stall around and avoid coming home to my wife, thus dissolved."

"My morale also shot back up to normal and I even began to zoom my sales record at the office."

"However, the mere habit of wanting to drink something with a bite to it, had become entrenched, so I now substituted carbonated soft drinks, like the cola beverages."

"And then I had little trouble cutting out alcohol entirely."

"So tell the wives of heavily drinking husbands, that they can probably solve their family problem if they'll just imitate my wife's method."

"The fine work of the A. A. deserves support but it is largely palliative."

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—You open with one spade, partner responds two hearts, and you hold:

AKQ94 ♠ 75 ♠ AJ5 ♣ QJ7

What do you bid now?

A.—You must deliberately avoid the rebid of two spades, inasmuch as such a rebid denotes a mediocre opening. It is distinctly more important to describe the strength of your hand rather than the solidity of your suit, so that your very good major suit should be suppressed in favor of a two no trump rebid.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

AK63 ♥ A10753 ♠ 853 ♣ Q2

The bidding has proceeded: South North East South Pass Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—Two hearts. Any desire to take drastic action could only have been induced by possession of the fifth trump, which may be good to the eye but has little practical value. If you transposed the three of hearts into the diamond section you wouldn't be at all impressed with your holding, and yet it would be virtually as good.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

A105 ♥ AKQ4 ♠ Q1073 ♣ Q5

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 NT Pass Pass Dble. Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. What do you think of your chances of going game? A moment's reflection should make it clear that they are practically nonexistent. A smattering of high card strength from partner would be required, but if he had that smattering that you are looking for he would have left in the double of one no trump. If he has nothing but length in hearts, a raise by you to three of the suit could very readily push him overboard.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

AKJ32 ♥ K7 ♠ 82 ♣ 8532

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Partner is not attempting to go places. He is merely trying to buy the hand as cheaply as possible rather than permit the opposition to play for the part score. If he had even the mildest ambitions he would have entered the auction immediately over the opening bid of one diamond, at which point it would have been very easy for him to compete.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

AKQ94 ♠ 75 ♠ AJ5 ♣ QJ7

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You should be very much alert to the possibilities of a slam. You have more than an opening bid and partner has more than an opening bid, in view of the fact that he raised you to the three level. The proper procedure is to bid four clubs.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

AKJ1042 ♥ A5 ♠ QJ43 ♣ 952

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. With a passing partner you must realize that game is out of the question and you might as well try for the part score in the suit partner has chosen.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

AKJ1042 ♥ A5 ♠ QJ43 ♣ 952

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♥ 2 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You dare not bid two spades. If you do, partner is forced to speak again and may have to bid three hearts or two no trump, neither of which will leave you in an especially comfortable position. Great caution is indicated in making free bids in a suit higher in rank than partner's suit.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

AK762 ♥ AKQJ2 ♠ 8 ♣ 95

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ 2 ♣ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—While this is a penalty double and you can no doubt defeat the contract, it may not be worthwhile. You have surely a game and perhaps even a slam in the other suit and you should take the double out. However, the proper call is three hearts, a jump. If you bid only two hearts partner may gain the impression that your hand is simply unimpaired defensively and he will be under no obligation to proceed.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have an excellent chance now to gain good health and well-being by taking treatments for this specific purpose. You will be able to put in motion an advanced plan that brings you closer to your objectives and mental expansion.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) The planets are most favorable and you can now accomplish a great deal, particularly during the daytime hours. Do what you can to improve your appearance. Become more style-conscious.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A good day to discuss with a clever friend the right ideas to employ for future advancement. Get the backing you need. Show more ingenuity where the romantic side of life is concerned.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get in touch with good friends who can help you achieve a personal ambition.

"For I know from experience that an unsolved inner problem is the major goad that drives people into fleeing from reality via whiskey."

"If the victims of John Barleycorn can banish their inner shame and humiliation, they will no longer need liquor as an escape device."

Send for my booklet "How to Break the Tobacco and Liquor Habits," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents, and imitate Alan's wife! Holding Line On College Fees

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some good news: The line is being held on fees for major college entrance tests.

Trustees of the College Entrance Examination Board voted to keep fees at the present level instead of hiking them, despite rising costs. The most well-known of the board's tests is the SAT—Scholastic Aptitude Test—taken by high school juniors in preparation for college entrance. The fee is $6.50. Last year 1.5 million students took the SAT.

Attending social gatherings is fine for furthering your advancement. Avoid one who impedes progress.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you work with more vitality, you make a better impression on higher-ups. Join civic groups that are progressive and have altruistic goals. Show you have a logical mind.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Fine day for changing the conditions around that are distasteful. Make decisions early and then full speed ahead. A new associate has fine suggestions. Make use of the best of these. Be wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have a new system for handling your obligations that should be put in operation without delay. Show more devotion to loved one and give a nice gift that will be appreciated. Be happy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A change of attitude toward an associate can make a big difference now with excellent results. Taking part in a civic activity is helpful. Show more appreciation for the favors of others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to work up more enthusiasm to handle those duties ahead of you efficiently. Go shopping for the right clothing items that will improve your appearance. Relax at home tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get out of rut you are in and be in the company of congenials with a healthy outlook. Look into new outlets that are profitable. More happiness with mate is possible with little effort.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study problems at home in an objective way and then you can solve them wisely. Go along with ideas of kin where recreation is concerned. Avoid a troublemaker. Express happiness.

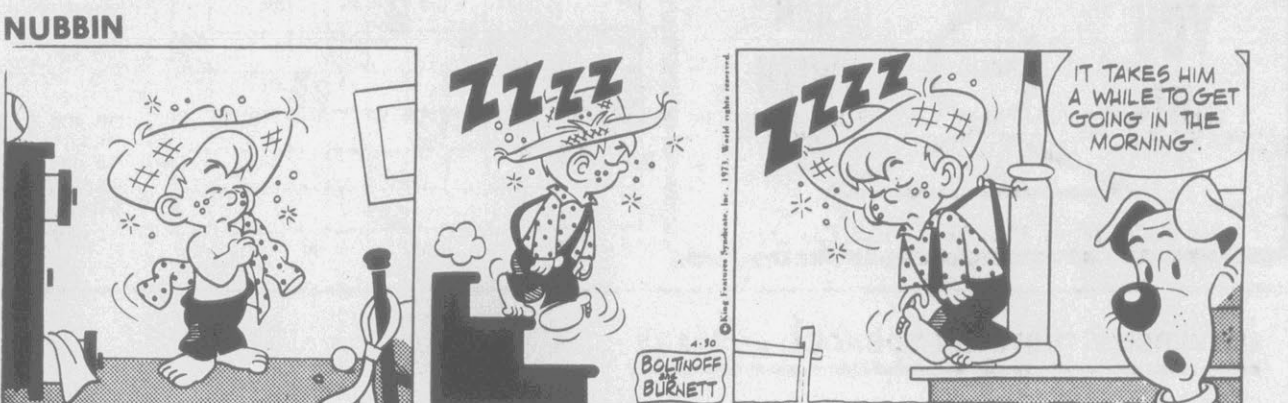

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are thinking very cleverly now and can easily put your ideas across to the right people. Communicating with higher-ups now brings fine results. Know exactly what you are doing.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can improve your financial position at this time if you are alert to the opportunities around. Talk matters over with a business expert and find new avenues of expression. Be poised.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who needs to feel secure early in life. Opportunities will be numerous later on. A

Tree Insects & Disease

This is the time of year that Extension Agents get a lot of calls about tree problems. People are particularly alert to possible invasion of the Gypsy Moth. A discussion of a few of these problems and their treatment follows:

The Gypsy Moth has not been a problem in Eastern North Carolina, however, a few egg masses and some adult moths have been found along the major North-South highways. The Gypsy Moth caterpillar does damage by eating the leaves of forest and shade trees. These caterpillars hatch in late April or early May and immediately start eating. The Gypsy Moth caterpillar can easily be identified by five (5) pairs of blue dots followed by six pairs of red dots beginning at the head extending down the back. The adult (moth) is not as easily identified and usually requires an expert to do so. Any person finding what is suspected to be a Gypsy Moth caterpillar or adult is encouraged to call the Agricultural Extension Office.

Maple trees often become infested with scale insects. Young trees can be stunted or killed by these pests. At this time of the year they appear as a small scale on the trunk or limbs of the tree. In late May and early June they develop a "crawler" stage and begin to move. During this crawler stage insecticide control is most effective. A bulletin on Scale insects and their control is available at the Extension Office.

Needle Cast of pines is a fungus disease that causes many pines to turn brown in the spring. It makes the tree look bad for a time but generally does no significant damage since the tree puts out new needles. Pine should be inspected, however, for evidence of beetles or other damage when they turn brown. The canker on pines which forms an orange powder is called fusiform rust. It is common in this area especially on native grown loblolly pines.

It usually won't kill a tree but when it occurs on the trunk of a pine it creates a weak spot that may cause the tree to break off in high winds. The best measure in this case is to remove the diseased tree and replace it with a healthy one. If the canker occurs on a limb, cut the limb off the treat the wound with a tree paint. Fusiform is not spread from pine to pine but depends on oak trees as an intermediate host. It doesn't damage the oak but simply grows there and is blown by wind to pines where the damage is done.

For more information on diseases and insects of forest and shade trees, and their control, contact the Agricultural Extension Office, 203 W. 3rd St. P.O. Box 1427, or call 758-1196.

At Least 10 Die In N.C. Traffic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 10 persons were killed in North Carolina traffic accidents over the weekend, including three persons who were riding on motorcycles.

The state Highway Patrol said the weekend fatalities brought the total for 1973 to 515, which is 55 fewer than were killed in the same period last year.

Two servicemen—George Nelson and Steven Rhodes, both 19—were killed on U.S. 258 near Jacksonville when they were thrown from their motorcycle into the path of a vehicle. The patrol said Nelson was stationed at Norfolk, Va., and Rhodes at Camp Lejeune. Hometowns were not available.

Paul Franklin Brendle, 46, of Rt. 3, Vale, N.C., died when he fell from his motorcycle in front of oncoming traffic on N.C. 18 about 16 miles west of Lincolnton, the patrol said.

Flora Adams, age unknown, of Rt. 1, Rocky Mount, was killed when she was riding in pulled into the path of another vehicle at the intersection of U.S. 401 and N.C. 98 seven miles south of Louisville, the patrol said. Seven other persons were hurt in the two-car collision.

Franklin Roosevelt Bennett, 31, of Rt. 1, Lilesville, died when the car he was driving crossed the center line and collided with another vehicle on U.S. 74 about two miles east of Wadesboro in Anson County.

Evelyn Fisher Tipton, 54, of Rt. 1, Columbus, was killed in a head-on crash on N.C. 108 about a half mile east of Columbus in Polk County. The patrol said the Tipton woman's car crossed the center line and struck the other vehicle.

Thomas Darin McGee, 5, of Rt. 1, Trinity, was killed on a rural road five miles south of Whitesville when he walked into the path of a vehicle.

Six-year-old Kenneth King of Ramseur died when he stepped in front of a car on N.C. 49 one mile north of his hometown in Randolph County, the patrol said.

James Earl Leggett, 23, of Rt. 1, Winnabow, was killed when his speeding car ran off N.C. 133 about 17 miles north of Southport and hit a tree, troopers reported.

Jack McDaris, 45, of Asheville, was killed when the car in which he was riding pulled in front of another vehicle on U.S. 74 three miles east of Asheville.

The Associated Press counts weekend traffic fatalities from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

UNIVERSITY TESTS ON TOBACCO AVERAGE

3 cents a pound more net using Enide® 50w for weed control

Six on-farm herbicide and cultivation tests were conducted on flue-cured tobacco in 1971 by The North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service and Cooperating Growers with the following results:

Average yield and value per acre were highest where Enide 50w was used with two cultivations (second and, layby) when compared with the use of no herbicide and two cultivations. The tests were conducted under a wide range of environmental and management conditions. Herbicide use was the only variable in cultural practices at each location. These data were obtained from North Carolina State miscellaneous publication No. 73, 12/71.

Net profits were increased 3 cents per pound ($70/A) by using Enide 50w. Calculations based on $56 per pound production costs and $10 per acre for costs of herbicide.

Average of 6 on-farm tests 1971	No herbicide, 2 cultivations	Enide 50w 2 cultivations (2nd & layby)	Increase
Pounds per acre	2,212	2,387	175
Value per acre	$1,732.00	$1,873.00	$141.00
Production costs per acre	$ 774.20	$ 845.45	$ 71.25
Income per acre	$ 957.80	$1,027.55	$ 69.75

COST-CUTTING TIP

apply Enide® 50w during your transplanting operation

The fact that Enide 50w can be applied to tobacco at transplanting will provide extra savings to profit-oriented growers. You apply Enide "over the top" during transplanting with a spray rig on the transplanter and reduce your application costs to practically nothing. The operator of the tractor pulling the transplanter controls the Enide spray. For a single-row planter, only one nozzle is needed. For multiple-row planters, a boom with one nozzle per row does the trick. (Be sure to use the proper nozzle.) The Enide spray is directed right "over the top" of the tobacco plants as they are transplanted. There is no need for extra labor. There is no need for a second trip through the field to apply herbicide. Cost of material, $6 to $10 an acre, is the only cost of getting weed protection when you need it most. For more information, see your farm store dealer today.

Plant Idled By Oil Spill

LINCOLNTON, N.C. (AP)—A water purification plant that supplies about 20 per cent of Lincolnton's water remained closed today because of an oil spill, according to city clerk David Lowe.

Lowe said Sunday an undetermined amount of diesel fuel spilled Saturday night into Walker Branch out of an Edmos Knitting Mill storage tank.

Ray Small, sanitarian for the Lincoln County Health Department, estimated the spill at 4,000-5,000 gallons.

But Luke Fenwell, an Edmos plant engineer, said that estimate was grossly exaggerated. He said "not more than 400" gallons of fuel spilled.

Lowe expected the water plant shutdown to force four mills, employing 500-600 people, to close.

Fenwell said a crew of about 30 Edmos employees used chicken wire booms and hay again today to clean up the water.

The hay, dumped into the water, absorbed the oil and was caught by the wire booms.

Blue Mold Reappearing

RALEIGH (AP)—A North Carolina State University expert on tobacco diseases said Sunday a fungus disease known as blue mold has been identified in some eastern North Carolina counties.

Prof. Furney A. Todd said the "sneak attack" has caused only slight damage thus far, but urged farmers to start treating their plants immediately.

Blue mold, a disease which has appeared in North Carolina every year since 1931, Todd noted, usually strikes first in southeastern counties and gradually spreads across eastern North Carolina and into the Piedmont area. This year, he said, the disease appears to have hit farms over a wide area at about the same time.

"Blue mold may kill small plants, but the greatest effect may be to slow down plant growth and delay transplanting of the crop to the field," Todd said.

Found Hanging In Prison Room

RALEIGH (AP)—Central Prison officials said Sunday they found Floyd James, 18, a native of Rhode Island, hanging with a sheet around his neck in his prison room Friday night.

James was pronounced dead at 8 p.m. by the doctor on duty. Officials said there was no indication of foul play.

He had been sent to the prison by the sentencing judge in Davidson County for pre-sentencing diagnostic study after being convicted of non-felonious breaking and entering.
