Highway Collision Kills 5 People From Williamston

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

WILLIAMSTON—Five persons were killed near here last night on U. S. 64 when a speeding car, driven by a 15-year-old, went out of control and crashed into another car about 11:40 p.m.

Highway Patrolman B. W. Parker, who witnessed the crash, said Charles Roscoe, 15, and a passenger in the car, 14-year-old Ernest Lee Cutler were both killed in the crash, two miles west of Williamston.

Also killed were Samuel Scott, 47, driver of the second car involved, and two passengers in the Scott auto, 22-year-old Gloria Ward and 39-year-old Louise Purvis.

All of the dead were from Williamston.

Another passenger in the Scott auto, Cora Roberson Barnes, 52, was admitted to Pitt Memorial Hospital in critical condition, Trooper Parker said.

Ptl. Parker reported he met the east-bound car driven by Roscoe, east of Robersonville and turned around to stop the car when Roscoe failed to dim his headlights and then ran off the roadway.

The officer, who reported the car Roscoe was driving had been stolen earlier in the evening from a Williamston automobile dealer lot, said Roscoe failed to stop for his blue light and siren and noted that Roscoe attempted to force him (Parker) off the road several times during the chase.

Trooper Parker said after he called for a road block in Williamston, the Roscoe car, traveling about 100 miles per hour, went out of control and skidded sideways into the path of the Scott vehicle, and the two collided.

Rescue workers labored for about two hours to free the trapped wreck victims, the Highway Patrolman noted. At one point, according to Ptl. Parker, a fire erupted in one of the autos and he extinguished the blaze with a fire extinguisher.

He said Roscoe, Cutler, Scott and Purvis apparently died immediately from injuries they received, while Mrs. Ward, conscious following the crash, died within about 30 minutes, still trapped in the twisted wreckage.

"It was the worst wreck I've ever witnessed," Trooper Parker said. He was about one-tenth of a mile behind the Roscoe car at the time of the crash.

Speight Is Named 'Citizen Of Year'

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector Managing Editor

Pitt County Attorney William W. Speight Wednesday night received the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association Citizen of the Year Award.

Speight was cited for his work in bringing industry to the area and civic activities during his 20 years in Greenville.

The award was presented by Jack Richardson, administrator of Pitt Memorial Hospital, who told the approximately 150 people present that Speight had been "effective in efforts to bring new industry."

Richardson also pointed out that Speight had worked on the successful project to bring the rehabilitation center to Greenville. The center will be constructed along with the new Pitt Memorial Hospital which is currently being designed.

Speight is a graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill and he served in the U.S. Navy from 1942 until 1946, attaining the rank of lieutenant commander.

He has been chairman of the USO, president of the Lions Club and president of the Chamber of Commerce-Merchants Association.

Speight, in accepting the award, said, "I appreciate this award and assure you I will treasure it."

The award was presented at the annual meeting of the Chamber-Merchants Association.

Thomas B. Broughton, administrator of the Department of Commerce and Industry in the N.C. Department of Natural and Economic Resources, told the group, "Industry is an institution that has brought us to where we are today. It has brought a new way of life to so many people who otherwise would have had no new way of life.

"I wonder how often we credit this institution with what it has really done—in the south, in North Carolina, in the East and Pitt County.

"We should take stock of what industry has done. . .and then we should get down on our knees and give thanks."

Henry G. Leslie, manager of Burroughs-Wellcome, recognized three new industries which have located here recently. He recognized guests from F and E South, Coopers USA, Inc. and Merrimack Marine, Inc.

Chamber-Merchants Association President Bill McDonald presented a check for $2,360 to Police Chief Glenn Cannon. The funds

$564,747 In Building Here

Building permits totaling $564,747 were issued in Greenville during the month of April, according to State Labor Commissioner Billy Creel.

Creel said that the total was part of $66,995,650 in building permits issued during April by 36 North Carolina cities of more than 10,000 population.

For the first four months of the year, Creel reported, Greenville issued permits totaling $5,267,180.

Other eastern cities, their building totals for April and their four month figures include: Elizabeth City, $181,950 (April), $907,800 (four months); Goldsboro, $1,754,075, $4,979,665; Jacksonville, $210,994, $1,332,922; Kinston, $1,120,474, $2,823,511;

New Bern, $78,400, $1,954,327; Roanoke Rapids, $577,050, $1,339,178; Rocky Mount, $848,004, $4,060,149; Wilmington, $554,068, $8,825,887; and Wilson, $3,737,331, $5,528,935.

Creel said that the April building total was up 20.9 per cent from the $55.3 million reported for April of last year. He added that the $244,432,500 in permits issued during the first four months represented a 22.4 per cent gain over the $199.7 million reported for the same period in 1972.

Raleigh topped the list with April permits totaling $8,983,976.

Let Grandma Know Of Need

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who is in her middle seventies, has made her home with us for nearly 20 years, since Dad died. She has her own room, and we built a private bathroom just for her.

Grandma enjoys "helping" around the house. She can't hear very well so she gets the phone messages all wrong. She can't see very well so when she mops or makes a bed, I do it over when she's not looking.

Grandma hasn't been in a grocery store in years so she has no idea how high groceries are. In fact, she hasn't spent any of her own money in years, which is what I'm getting at.

She draws around $200 a month, which she puts in the bank. The only checks she ever writes are for Christmas and birthday presents, and those are very modest, considering what Grandma is worth.

She keeps telling us she's leaving everything to us—but we need some help now. Is there a way to ask Grandma to kick in with some loot without sounding grabby?

NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: Try this: "Grandma, the cost of living has gone up skyhigh these last 10 years, and it's still climbing. We could use a little money every month to help cut the mustard. Do you think you could spare it?" If she asks how much you had in mind, tell her.

DEAR ABBY: The other morning while doing the dishes, my wedding ring came off. The water was running, and I didn't realize the ring was gone until it had already gone down the drain.

I called a plumber right away. He said the ring was already in the sewer and it couldn't be retrieved.

Abby, that was my husband's grandmother's wedding ring, and if he knew I was doing the dishes in it he would kill me. I bandaged up my hand and told him I had burned it. I can't go on wearing this bandage forever. Please tell me what to do.

BUTTERFINGERS

DEAR BUTTERFINGERS: Remove the bandage and tell your husband the truth. It's an unfortunate loss, but if that's the worst thing that ever happens to either one of you, you'll be lucky.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have reached a stalemate. We have been arguing about something unrelated to us, but which has become a sore point. For about three years we have observed a neighbor carrying on. [I'll call her "Mrs. X."]

We have seen Mrs. X and her children pack up the car during the summer months, pull out of the driveway, and minutes later a young woman pull into the driveway and stay with the husband for hours.

When Mrs. X attended night classes, we have seen this "friend" leave by the back door, creeping across the lawn just seconds before Mrs. X's car came down the road. My wife has also seen the husband and this woman dining out in local eating spots.

The problem: My wife wants to tell Mrs. X about these goings-on. Not to tip her off, but because she dislikes her. She says Mrs. X puts on airs and is always talking about how "happily married" she is, and how she has "trained her husband right," etc.

These neighbors will be moving in another month, and I have begged my wife to leave it alone.

I am turning to you because my wife reads your column daily, respects your opinion, and has agreed to abide by your opinion.

WEARY HUSBAND

DEAR WEARY: I say: "Leave it alone."

Shower Held Monday Night

AYDEN—Miss Wendy Leland, bride-elect of Cherry Stokes, was honored at a miscellaneous floating shower Monday night at the home of Mrs. Otis Stokes.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Bruce Stokes and Mrs. Alton Gardner.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies and mums flanked by yellow burning tapers.

Approximately 25 guests called druing the evening.

Movie 'Smell' Sells Perfume

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Hollywood may play a return engagement as a glamor center. But, unlike the '30s when women were emulating the clothes, hairdos and makeup of Harlow, Crawford and other favorite stars, the current trend is being designed by manufactuers.

Even if a moviegoer doesn't like the movie she sees or the actors who play in it, chances are the movie will make money as a result of the merchandising effort. It isn't exactly a new idea — one movie company has had more than 20,000 licenses for tie-in products around the world in the last 17 years — but it has a better chance to succeed as Hollywood's scintillating image reemerges.

For example, fragrances being launched in connection with "Lost Horizon" do not smell like a lost horizon and the line isn't called by that name, but it should sell like crazy, predicts Al Schervone of Philadelphia, who developed the products. He is marketing them with Columbia Pictures, which will get royalties, he says. A pattern company is also involved in the promotion to the tune of 15 million patterns. Pillows, lamps and men's kimonos will also tie in.

"Even if it doesn't win critically (it didn't) it should win at the box office," Schervone remarked. "If you want to see the effect of such merchandising, notice the trend to Gatsby fashions even though "The Great Gatsby" is about a year and a half away from release."

In his opinion there is no chance "The Great Gatsby" film will go in the red, even if the picture is a dud. And the same goes for "Lost Horizon." Presumably a girl using the bath oil or dusting powder dreams of her own private lost horizon — a Shangri-la. The idea has psychological impact.

Such projects aren't as easy for participants as they sound, however, Schervone insists. He had to find the just-right name, "design" a scent that has a "simpatico" relationship with the mystical quality of the movie, and then get the approval of the picture's director, Ross Hunter, whose name appears on the package. And that's another thing — the package itself must be suitable. You can't have an old drugstore-type bottle representing a lost horizon.

There were sleepless nights thinking about the name. After submitting 40 names to his lawyers who invariably retorted "yuk..." or some such, Schervone finally doodled the name Rijir (envision Rajar). With its three dots and curly lettering it has the right look. He pronounces the world Rijeer, but at the movie premiere it was already being given a French accent by the guests who walked off with the free perfume.

"But the right people got it," says Schervone, who claims he knows how to peg his market. "Actually we are doing a man's and woman's line with the same name but different scents." Two names would have meant double promotion, he explained, in pointing out how uncomplicated complicated things can be. The woman's scent is sort of musky-floral (ladies like musk these days) and the man's is citrus-y masculine, but not lemon-y. "You don't need to turn around to tell whether a man or woman is wearing which," he added. And there are scented candles — "they go with the mystical effect..." he observed.

It isn't Schervone's first experience in this sort of merchandising — he tied in to "The Godfather," presumbably because it was felt the Don presented a virile image. But he is stuck now with the prices set on his newest venture even though meanwhile the essential oils have risen in price from countries he imports them from.

He doesn't manufacture what he personally likes.

He calls in his chemist and he explains what kind of scent he would like "designed." He doesn't know how to put the fragrances together, but he knows how to design a fragrance and what it will do scents-wise and dollar-wise.

Now in his early 30s, Schervone was a scholarship student at Temple University where he received a degree as a management major. He went into the insurance and brokerage business and became interested in fragrance when he researched black cosmetics for a client, and founded his present company.

He has been so encouraged by his latest effort that he is now thinking in terms of a fragrance-of-the-year award. After all, he observed, there are awards for fashion designs, why not one for fragrance designs?

Early Learning Gets Boost

By EVE SHARBUTT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pleasant Rowland is like her name — smiling, attractive and charming. But her intensely blue eyes gleam most when she discusses a favorite topic — children and learning.

For five years, Pleasant taught kindergarten. The more places she taught, the more she felt she was juggling too many different things to be an effective teacher.

So she developed a multisensory reading program called "Beginning to Read, Write and Listen," as an answer to her frustration over the task of organizing a kindergarten curriculum.

"New television programs like "Sesame Street" help children prepare for school. They're ready to learn more based on knowledge they've acquired from television. They have lots of curiosity and an immense desire to learn to read," Pleasant said.

The program she developed is strong on phonic reading, tying in auditory skills and art.

"They're all things any good teacher could do, given lots of time and good intentions, I thought, too, that the alphabet was lost in curriculum limbo. Kindergarten teachers assumed it would be taught in first grade and first grade teachers were certain children learned it in kindergarten. So lots of kids were trying to learn to read without any foundation."

To give children an alphabet awareness, Pleasant deised 24 alphabet books that have letters you can feel, glittery to the touch; bright colored workbooks with pop-outs and cutouts, a paper slate that is color-cued to help children form and position letters. There is alos a cassette tape with sound effects for each letter, music selections and phonic dictations.

"Each book builds on the one before. Each reviews skills taught in preceding books. The child can assign one sound to each letter, and learns to blend the sounds together to form words," she added.

"Writing in those simple terms, not using a sound or letter that hadn't been learned already, was the most difficult part.

"But the results are immediate. The child is learning to read words, sentences and stories. There are handwriting exercises, coloring, pastin; and folding. The child learns by doing," the young teacher said.

Along with working to make colors for the books bright and true, Pleasant developed a "sniffie," a picture to be scratched and sniffed. It smells of strawberries, pickles or oranges.

She says the best part of the workbook is that it can be taken home to share with parents, giving them an opportunity to help children learn.

"I've tried to do what any teacher would if she was able to do what she wanted. Teachers are good, but they don't have enough time," Pleasant said.

A Chicago native, Pleasant attended Wells College and taught in four states. She worked as a television reporter in San Francisco, which, she says, gave her an added appreciation of visual communication.

"I learned, too, that it shouldn't be so horrible if a child makes a mistake. Things can be erased, done over. It makes life easier if everything doesn't have to be perfect," she said.

Urban Areas Enjoy The Votes

An obviously badly split North Carolina Medical Society has approved an ill advised report calling for the abolishment of the one year school of medicine at East Carolina University.

That, to us, proves only that the physician-rich urban areas of our state can outvote the doctors who chose to practice in the small towns and cities and rural areas of our state.

To the everlasting credit of a large number of physicians at the society meeting we note with pleasure that they waged an intensive battle against powerful forces to head off adoption of this unwarranted report. Among those who attempted to steer the Medical Society in a more sensible direction were a former president of the group, Dr. Edgar Beddingfield, a former secretary of the N. C. Department of Human Resources, Dr. Lennox Baker, and a member of the State Legislature, Dr. John Gamble. It was also reported that the reference committee which recommended adoption of the report, was split 2-1 on the recommendation.

Despite the clear calls for prudence in this matter from men of such stature, the report was declared policy of the State Medical Society on a voice vote.

Obviously adoption of this recommendation means nothing under the circumstances, but in the months ahead it will be heralded as the gospel by those who oppose the ECU medical school development.

We can be thankful for these eminent physicians who stood up and opposed this report. They have the interest of the people at heart. They could have sat quietly by and let this recommendation slide through, but instead they chose to voice their convictions and, as a result, this establishment recommendation carries little weight.

N.C. Assembly Provided Hope

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH —Hope is the big thing North Carolina consumers got out of the 1973 General Assembly.

BRYAN HAISLIP

If the record is scanty on legislation enacted, issues were raised which may come to fruition in 1974, said Mrs. Lillain Woo, president and lobbyist of the North Carolina Consumers Council.

Tax reform and no-fault auto liability insurance are among the major consumer-oriented items carried over on the agenda for next January, she noted.

Laws dealing with interest payments on revolving charge accounts and tenant security deposits, and measures to promote competitive pricing of milk, also were put on the shelf for the next session, she said.

That the proposals failed of passage this time did not reflect total defeat for consumer interests, she said. "Hopefully, with opportunity for further study and sufficient demonstration of public support, the climate will be right next year for some positive action," she said.

Some Gain Noted

The record had a constructive side. Broad tax repeal recommended by the Advisory Budget Commission , weighted towards special interests, was resisted in favor of a budget expanding services for all the people particularly in education, Mrs. Woo observed.

A bill to raise small loan limits with some increases in interests rates was defeated, she added, although there were late efforts for a revival.

An inportant plus in comsumer protection was the approval of a new law to permit a judge to award attorney fees in suits against unfair and deceptive trade practices. It had the support of Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan as a measure to help citizens of limited income have their day in court.

It has a safegaurd for the legitimate businessman, Mrs. Woo said. The person bringing the suit would have to pay his own lawyer if the action was found to be frivilous. "It's very fair to both sides," she said.

A trained economist and a Raleigh housewife, Mrs. Woo took to the legislative halls as a volunteer lobbyist for the consumers council. She found lawmakers coridal and receptive, she said, if not always convinced.

Fills Lobby Gap

Lacking research staff, legislators lean on lobbyists for technical information on many bills, she pointed out. Special interests have the resources and manpower to tell their side; her aim is to fill in the gap for the consumer.

"Hopefully, we will continue to do this and provide a balancing in this area," she said.

Recent years have made consumerism a popular topic in politics, Mrs. Woo said. "Politicians want to go out and hug consumers instead of babies. Unfortunately, many are not quite ready to put their vote where their mouth is," she said.

Legislative sentiment in '73 veered conservative on consumer issues after gains of the past two sessions, said Mrs. Ruth Cook, executive director of the State Council for Social Legislation, and another activists for the cause.

Champion Lacking

What was lacking, she said, was a strong consumer advocate within the legislature of the stature of Rep. Richard Clark of Union. He left General Assembly ranks for an unsuccessful 1972 race for Congress. "No one stepped forward to fill his shoes," Mrs. Cook remarked.

On the whole, Mrs. Woo figured the consumers council did "not too badly" on its legislative program. "We could have done a lot worse," she said, philosophically.

Tax reform is a high priority and long range council goal. It supported a package with the basic features of repealing the sales tax on food and raising rates at upper levels of the income tax.

The movement would be away from a regressive structive to a more progressive approach in line with ability to pay, explained Mrs. Woo. She did research on the reform package as an economist advisor to Wilber Hobby, state AFL-CIO chief, in his unsuccessful campaign for governor last year. Sen. NcNeill Smith of Guilford sponsored bills to implement the reforms.

"We never seriously felt it could be enacted the first year," said Mrs Woo. "It is a large package of broad concepts, and a rather drastic departure from the normal manner of considering legislation."

She has hopes, she added, that the practical values of tax reform will become apparent to legislators as they continue to struggle with problems of balancing services and revenue sources.

Crisis Time In Work Of FBI

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—The angry resignations last week of three veteran officials close to J. Egar Hoover, while denuding the troubled Federal Bureau of Investigation of top leadership, was an essential first step toward breaking the FBI's present paralysis.

Experts who recognize the bureau's crisis have long believed that removal of the Hoover clique was step No. 1. That suddenly is well along the road. Step No. 2, the belated installation of a permanent successor to Hoover, may be long delayed as another result of the Watergate scandal's general immobilization of government.

In the meantime, the malaise of the FBI carries severe implications for national security. This menace is posed by a former FBI official: would not a hostile foreign power greatly expand espionage here when both the FBI and CIA are wracked by demoralization and paralyzed leadership?

The problem any FBI director will face as long as the bureau's headquaters are infested by Hoover proteges was brought home a month ago shortly after William D. Ruckelshaus bowed to President Nixon's virtual command to become interim director. To show he is more than a caretaker, Ruckelshaus called special agents-in-charge from the FBI's 59 field offices to Washington.

Ruckelshaus spoke for about 20 minutes, then left the room. The floor was next held for two hours by the FBI's No. 2 man, acting Associate Director W. Mark Felt, who made no secret of his comtempt for his new boss. Felt noted that Ruckelshaus complained about paper work passing over his desk—yet Mr. Hoover, he went on, could do three times that much work any old day. That set the tone for the meeting.

An agency once famed for loyalty and secrecy has become a center of insubordination and discloser. Ruckelshaus found that out in attempting to stop news leaks from the FBI, ordinarily intolerable in law enforcement. Although it is common knowledge that the leaks have flowed from the 13 assistant directors, they have nonchalantly informed their new chief that the information leaked from elsewhere in government.

Both the self-assured Ruckelshaus and the unfortunate, inept L. Patrick Gray before him inherited a staff purged in Hoover's last days of all his critics. The survivors were sycophantic Hooverites, predictably hostile to any non-Hoover successor. Felt's reputation at FBI headquaters was that of a hatchman carrying out Hoover's purges.

Consequently, last week's quiet resignation fo the 60-year-old Felt and two assistant directors also closely aligned with Hoover, while stripping the FBI of experienced leadership at a critical period, permits a new high command loyal to a new director. But Felt's successor as associate director can scarcely be appointed until a permanent director is named, and that day is far off.

Ruckelshaus, who may have blighted his bright political future in Indiana by accepting Mr. Nixon's command appointment, definitely does not want the job permanently. But chances now are that he will not be replaced until the distant end of Watergate investigation.

The selection may well involve a long process conducted by a presidential panel headed by a judge. Although mute publicly, Ruckelshaus is known to believe Hoover's successor cannot be a partisan politician—neither blindly loyal Nixon operative such as Pat Gray, an independent political figure such as Bill Ruckelshaus, nor even a Democratic politician. He does not rule out an FBI agent, but no senior agent seems sufficiently removed from the bureau's recent seamy history to win Senate confirmation.

The malaise of the FBI was revealed recently when Ruckelshaus ordered the FBI to locate the now famous 1969-70 wire taps, then believed destroyed. His subordinates, confused by the politicization of the bureau under Gray, asked whether he really wanted to find out where they were (in other words, was he asking merley to have the records show he had asked?) His answer: find the files.

When the files were discovered in the White House (as FBI officials probably expected), Ruckelshaus announced that fact without first contacting the President's office. Although the White House said nothing, presidential aides were miffed that he had added to Mr. Nixon's problems.

To figures close to the situation, the incident underlines the need to restore self-esteem, independence and discipline to the once

Unresponsive Ellsberg

Daniel Ellsberg, the chief purloiner of the Pentagon Papers, turned up in Washington last Sunday as a guest on Meet the Press. Carl Stern of NBC and David Kraslow of the Washington Star-News promptly took him over the jumps on the matter of morality, high and low.

It was an interesting exhibition. Ellsberg repeatedly balked, refused, and ran around the gates. Some of us had come to the studio expecting to encounter a philosopher of noble purpose, a licensed and certified martyr. We left with the impression of a bafflegab artist, recently shingled by a second-rate school of the law. He would not grapple with the questions that mattered. It was as if the sainted Joan, tied to the stake, had demanded a stay of execution by virtue of the law that prohibited open-air fires before five o'clock.

The essential facts of the Ellsberg case are not in dispute. Ellsberg gained surreptitious access to a set of the famous Pentagon Papers, a top secret study of the U.S. role in Indochina. He sneaked off to a Xerox machine, copied the papers, and two years ago gave them to the New York Times. Subsequently he was indicted, and after a fiasco of a trial — a trial aborted by the government's criminal bungling — he went scot free. The question of his guilt or innocence remains unanswered.

What of the moral issue Ellsbery conceded, in response to a question, that he thought he was breaking a law when he first took the papers and began making copies of them. He then assumed, as almost all of us did at the time, that the U.S. Criminal Code contained some simple statute declaring it a felony to make public, without proper authorization, a top secret document.

It wasn't until later that it turned out, to Ellsberg's relief and the government's chagrin, that no such law existed. He had to be tried under the old Espionage Act, a gauzy statute with holes as big as barn doors. The important thing is that Ellsberg, in doing "what I thought was right," thought he was doing an unlawful act. He did it anyway, in response to his own compelling obedience to a higher law.

Stern and Kraslow gave him a hard time. How could an orderly government function, asked Kraslow, if every person with access to top secret documents obeyed the same inner voices Ellsberg responded irrelevantly that a government that sanctioned the Watergate offenses was disorderly and didn't deserve to operate. Stern got no better responsea.

The questions cry out for clear answers. Granted, we have heard these questions in other contexts before. Antigone challenged what seemed to her an unjust law. Henry Mencken deliberately purchased a banned book on the Boston Common. Martin Luther King put on his go-to-jail clothes and breached the laws of Birmingham. The Watergate Seven saw themselves as patriotic burglars. In such cases, the laws and the risks of punishment were clear.

In the context of "government documents," the issues are far more complex. The person who leaks a top secret document to The Times or to Jack Anderson is not exactly engaged in "stealing property." If he is stealing anything, he is stealing information. Who owns the information? Who has a right to it? Obviously, there is such a thing as public property; a park bench is public property, and the man who steals it can be sent to jail. Is copied information lesser or greater than a park bench? Where do considerations of national security enter in?

As Kraslow's question plainly implied, no government can tolerate the helter-skelter leaking of documents that for valid reasons — reasons that need no explication — must be kept in confidence for a time. Persons who violate this common-sense requirement must

To the editor:

I was delighted to see the article Wednesday publicizing the Department of Human Resources "HOTLINE" 800-662-7950.

Unfortunately, the article left the impression that this free service primarily was to assist in the problems of children and youth, in solving a wide range of problems concerning mental health, welfare assistance, Medicaid and related subjects. Certainly one of the most important uses of this free service is to enable recipients of various social services to communicate to Raleigh problems they may encounter in the delivery of these services by the local agencies.

As "Hotlines" apparently will be offered by several state departments, I suggest that the Reflector would make a valuable contribution by providing a permanent box ad with these numbers for fast citizen reference.

Sincerely yours,

Worse Jobs Abound

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — At least one in five Americans thinks he would do better in a different job.

HAL BOYLE

He feels his present one cramps him too much, is too confining or simply beneath his dignity or his ability.

So he shirks and daydreams how nice it would be if he had a better, higher-paying job and could afford the goodies of life his wife and children clamor for.

What many of these men don't appreciate is the fact they are lucky to have the job they do.

There are a lot worse jobs than the one you have.

For example:

Tester in a revolving door factory...going around in circles 40 hours a week.

Chief taster in a cod liver oil plant.

A bullfighter with arthritis.

A seed salesman in Siberia.

Song leader in the Timbuktu Rotary Club.

White House contact man for the CIA.

Salesman for a correspondence school course in wiretapping.

An electric razor demonstrator in a hippie commune.

A bomb hole repairer in Vietnam — with a broken shovel.

A voice instructor in a firm that makes talking dolls.

Entertainment chairman of a Woman's Christian Temperance Union — WCTU — convention.

Dietician for a society of Egyptian and Greek belly dancers.

Yes, when a fellow thinks of some of the jobs he might have to work at, it makes him want to kiss the paycheck he gets for what he does now.

A meeting of the Greenville Baseball Club of the Coastal Plain League was held last night to receive reports of Milton Harrington, recently elected manager of the local club. If everything turns out as expected, the manager said practice would actually get under way at Third Street School grounds the beginning of next week and will continue daily until the league opens June 7th.

A full fledged drive by the administration was under way today to repeal the prohibition law. So far six states have signed the ratification for repeal. They are Michigan, Wisconsin, Wyoming, New Jersey, Rhode Island and New York.

Strength For Today

PUTTING ONE'S SELF LAST

Today cataract operations are performed successfully on the eyes in well over 90 per cent of cases, but in the late nineteenth century the operation was much riskier.

A cataract operation was performed on both eyes of the great English statesman, William Gladstone, in the 1890's. Unfortunately it was not successful. The surgeon who performed the operation came to Gladstone's daughter and asked her if she would break the sad news to her father that he would never see again. When she did so Gladstone was silent a minute, and then said quitely, "I feel so sorry for the doctor."

Through the years he had learned to think always of other people and to put himself last. Unselfishness had become automatic with him. He had learned what it means to find one's life by losing it.

Lower Vegetable Prices Seen

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Housewives can look forward to lower vegetable prices this summer despite damagingly wet winter weather in the nation's "salad bowl," California growers say.

"Between the middle of June and the beginning of July, production should get back to normal, and we'll have some pretty cheap stuff," said Leslie Hubbard of the Western Growers Association.

But until July 1, prices are expected to remain at the high levels that have prevailed all spring in the wake of a disastrous siege of winter weather in California.

California grows 70 per cent of the country's lettuce, 78 per cent of the canning tomatoes, 35 per cent of the fresh tomatoes, 90 per cent of the broccoli, 40 per cent of the carrots, 75 per cent of the cauliflower, 65 per cent of the celery and 80 per cent of the cantaloupes.

Vegetable growers were late getting their winter crops planted, and production was severely curtailed.

Lettuce is particularly sensitive to weather conditions.

Cold weather means a shorter growing day, smaller heads and smaller yields per acre. Wet weather delays planting. In a dry year, the grower must pay more for a greater amount of irrigation water. Hot and humid weather brings bigger insecticide bills.

Lettuce hit a peak of more than 50 cents a head in some stores this spring but is likely to drop to 29-39 cents, according to growers. The same trend is forecast for most other vegetables.

A decrease in vegetable prices would be welcome relief to housewives who have been faced with record high food prices since last April. According to a Bureau of Labor Statistics report issued Tuesday, fish and poultry jumped 23.4 per cent and fruits and vegetables climbed 16.1 per cent in the one-year period.

By the end of the year, food prices may be 10 per cent over what they were on Jan. 1, government analysts predict. But they say most of the increases already have taken place.

The Agriculture Department said prices received by farmers for fresh vegetables in the first quarter of this year were 37 per cent higher than in the similar period of 1972 and in March were 59 per cent above March 1972.

In Arizona, the winter and spring lettuce deal was described as "almost a washout" with most of the crop being plowed under.

Nationally, smaller crops of onions, celery, lettuce, corn and cucumbers are expected, the growers say. On the other hand, a sharply larger supply of tomatoes is due, and there probably will be more carrots and cabbage.

Enact Reinsurance Plan

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina's controversial assigned risk auto insurance plan will be replaced by a reinsurance facility for high-risk drivers.

This became certain Wednesday when the House reluctantly accepted recommendations of a conference committee and enacted the measure creating the reinsurance facility plan.

The House was reluctant because of the Senate conferees insisted on the elimination of collision insurance from the reinsurance plan.

When the new law goes into effect next January, it will enable a high risk motorist to go to the insurance agent of his choice and obtain immediate liability insurance coverage from the company of his choice. The company could reinsure the policy later thus spreading the risk among all insurance companies operating in the state.

Under the conference committee settlement, the bill retained in a revised form an amendment by Sen. Jack Rhyne, D-Gaston. Under this amendment no insurance company could refuse to sell a motorist collision insurance because he had obtained his liability coverage through the reinsurance plan. In addition, the company could not charge an increased rate for collision insurance because the motorist had obtained his liability coverage through the reinsurance facility.

Rep. Sneed High, D-Cumberland, chairman of the House insurance committee, made it plain he was not happy over the elimination of collision insurance from the reinsurance plan. He said that "those making excessive profits from those least able to pay are the ones who are profiting" from the elimination of collision insurance.

Rep. H. M. Michaux, D-Durham, said that "we are doing the people of North Carolina a great injustice by not including collision" insurance in the bill.

Oil Jobbers To Talk Shortage

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—The gasoline shortage and the energy crisis will dominate discussions at the annual spring meeting of the North Carolina Oil Jobbers Association which opened today.

The vice president for marketing of the Cities Service Oil Co., Robert C. Moore of Tulsa, Okla., will speak Friday on "Facing the Energy Crisis."

The meeting will close with a banquet and dance Saturday night.

Estimate 20 To Die On Weekend

CHARLOTTE (AP)—The N.C. State Motor Club estimates that 20 persons will die in traffic accidents in the state during the Memorial Day weekend.

The count will be kept for 78 hours, from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday. Twenty-one died over the Memorial Day holiday last year.

Big July Fourth Set In Belhaven

BELHAVEN: This seaport town of 2,359 is getting ready for another Independence Day celebration and the thousands of visitors expected on Wednesday, July 4.

The day-long observance starts with a water-show and ends with a street dance from 10:00 p.m. until the early morning hours of the following day. In between there will be a series of events for all ages. A mile-long parade of bands, floats and pretty girls; local industry exhibits, art shows, displays of the N. C. Fisheries patrol boat "The Raleigh Bay" a Float Plane, band concert, fish fry, ball game, greased-pig and pole-climbing contests; beauty contest and boat races.

The Belhaven Community welcomes everyone to join their celebration July 4.

Election Board Measure Will BeCarried Over

RALEIGH (AP) — A Senate-passed bill which would have protected the jobs of 100 Democratic executive secretaries of county boards of election in North Carolina will be carried over until 1974.

The House voted 55-49 Wednesday to send the bill back to committee for further study.

The House's 35 Republicans voted as a block in favor of referring the bill to committee.

The measure would have required the unanimous consent of the members of an elections board before the executive secretary could be fired.

Republicans will gain control of the three-member boards later this year when Gov. Jim Holshouser appoints the members of the state Board of Elections.

Demos Raise $1 Million At Banquet

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Watergate on their minds and "waterbugs" on their tables, Democrats raised $1 million for 1974 congressional races at a Wednesday night banquet.

The event marked the first time the Democrats outstripped the Republicans at such a fund-raiser. The GOP affair held two weeks ago brought in only $750,000—less than half the amount the Republicans hoped to raise.

And the evening was capped by a visit from President Nixon—or rather comedian David Frye who imitated Nixon and kept the audience of more than 2,000 laughing for about 20 minutes.

Mrs. Eugene Wyman, chairman of the $500-a-plate affair Wednesday night, said receipts had passed the $1-million mark for the first time in history.

Virtually every speaker and entertainer made references to the Watergate scandal enveloping Nixon's Republican administration, and party officials said Watergate had definitely helped the record ticket sale.

Each guest received a gold plastic "waterbug" attached to a pencil with an inscription "Harry Truman said it, Dick—'The bug stops here.'" This was a parody on the late president's view of his office that "The buck stops here."

Although the evening had been billed as a "fun night" with as few speeches as possible, each of the party leaders presented to the crowd had a few words to say.

In the main speech, Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., outgoing chairman of the Senate Democratic campaign committee, said Nixon has endangered the nation's entire political system through the Watergate affair.

This means an even more important role for Democrats because, he said, "In view of the disintegration of the closed and distrustful Nixon administration and by our loyalty to democratic self-government, we become the custodians of our political system."

Break-In, Theft At Brook Valley Home Reported

The Pitt County Sheriff's Department is investigating a break-in at a Brook Valley home that resulted in some $700 worth of personal items being reported missing.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that Mrs. Clara Squires of 204 Hampton Circle reported the break-in at her home at 1:29 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Squires told officers the items were removed from a bedroom on the front of the house.

Reported stolen were a color television set, a 16 gauge shotgun, a .22 caliber rifle and a trumpet, the sheriff said.

He noted that entrance to the house was apparently gained through the bedroom window. Two panes and a window sash were broken, he said.

be punished, and a reasonable law, capable of being enforced, must be enacted to make this clear.

Meanwhile, in this particular context, forgive me if I am not much impressed by self-justifying talk of a higher law. The man who accepts a high position in government—a position of public trust— gives his word of honor that he will not disclose the top secret material entrusted to him. If he then discloses it, he has done a dishonoroable thing. Whatever the questions of law may be, for me at least, the issue of morality stops right there.

Damage By Winds In Jamesville Area

An estimated $50,000 in damage resulted from high winds in the Barber Town Section of Jamesville Township Wednesday afternoon. The major portion of the damage centered on damaged buildings in this area, including four tobacco barns, a car shed, and a pig parlor.

Hail damage in this area of Martin County was slight.

A considerable number of people joined in efforts to help the owner of the pig parlor round up stray residents of the parlor following the storm.

A spokesman of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation said that from reports received by mid-morning Thursday, indications are that hail damage will be fairly extensive in three sections of the county—the Flat Swamp area west of Robersonville in the vicinity of the Pitt County-Martin County line; at Church's Cross Roads between Everetts and Bear Grass; and in the Macedonia area about ten miles south of Williamston along U.S. 17.

Most of the tobacco, according to a spokesman for the local county agriculture office, can be replanted at this early date if sufficient plants can be found.

Attorney Asks For Early Trial

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Lawyer F. Lee Bailey has asked for a speedy trial on mail fraud charges because "this action is the most important part of my life."

He also asked U.S. Magistrate Donald Dietrich on Wednesday that he be tried separately from codefendant Glenn W. Turner. Bailey's attorney, William Colson of Miami, said this request was made to avoid compromising the lawyer-client relationship between Bailey and Turner.

Bailey, Turner and eight others were named in a federal grand jury's 28-count mail fraud indictment returned May 18. Three firms controlled by Turner also were named in the indictment.

Coed Dorm

East Carolina University housing office spokesmen today said about 100 students—half men and half women—have signed up so far for rooms in Garrett Hall for the 1973-74 school year.

The university's Board of Trustees last week voted to operate Garrett as a co-educational dorm for the coming year. However, if enough students don't sign up, the idea may be scrapped.

According to the housing office, the dorm will house about 300 students. At least two-third occupancy is needed to keep the dorm open, it was noted.

The sign-up period for those interested in rooms in Garrett for the coming year is being held open and a decision on whether or not to operate the co-ed facility will probably be made next week.

In order for students to sign up for housing in Garrett, they must have written parental permission and be a sophomore, junior or senior& freshmen are not eligible.

House Once Again Upholds Veto By President

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his hour of Watergate crisis, most House Republicans are standing by President Nixon, helping him stretch his streak of showdown veto victories over the Democrat-dominated Congress.

Nixon won the votes of 167 Republicans Wednesday and scored a 40-vote victory as the House upheld his veto of a bill that would have required Senate approval of his two chief budget officers.

Eighteen Republicans lined up with 218 Democrats against Nixon but the 236-178 vote favoring the override was not enough to beat him. Thus, for the third time in the year's three veto battles between Nixon and Congress, his opponents failed to muster the two-thirds majority necessary to override.

As a result, a 62-22 Senate vote for overriding has no effect.

This legislation would have abolished the jobs of Director Roy Ash and Deputy Director Frederic Malek of Nixon's Office of Management and Budget, and then re-establish the posts with the new step of requiring Senate confirmation of presidential nominees. Nixon termed it unconstitutional.

Before the recent disclosures on Watergate, Nixon had won the year's previous veto tests—by four votes as the Senate sustained his rejection of a $2.6-billion authorization bill for rehabilitating the handicapped, and by 51 votes as the House upheld his veto of a $120-million rural water sewer grant bill.

The President's supporters sought to direct attention toward the goals of the bill and away from Watergate. Rep. Frank Horton, R-N.Y., for example, never mentioned Watergate by name but noted debate was coming "in an atmosphere where there is great and justified public concern about the use and abuse of power."

"If there is to be any return to rational and open democracy in the aftermath of the current crisis," Horton said, "it will only be by demonstration that Congress and the executive can and will abide by the legal and constitutional guideposts which are the foundation of our system of government."

Teacher Named Participant In June Seminar

CHARLOTTE—William W. Gordon of Greenville has been selected as a participant in the Robert A. Taft Institute of Government seminar at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte June 10-22.

Gordon, of 29-C Stratford Arms Apts., is a teacher at Greene Central High School in Snow Hill.

The seminar is open to 35 teachers from public schools who have responsibility in the areas in Government, civics, or social studies.

The program offers teachers an experience in practical politics, the two-party system and constitutional government. It features state, local and national political figures talking candidly about their experiences.

Burns To Death In Trailer Fire

MAIDEN, N.C. (AP)—A textile worker got his two children and his mother-in-law out of their burning house trailer early today, but couldn't save his father-in-law, a semi-invalid.

Albert Stines, who was in his 60s, burned to death in the fire in a trailer park just outside Maiden in Catawba County.

James Greene rescued his two children and Mrs. Stines, but was driven back by the heat before he could get to Stines.

Mrs. Greene was at work in a textile mill at the time.

No Charges In Auto Collision

A 2:15 p.m. mishap yesterday at the intersection of Fourth Steet and Rotary Avenue resulted in an estimated $1,400 property damage Greenville Police Department investigators reported.

Officers said cars driven by Constance Ann Harrell of 2007 B. East Fourth St. and Vera Williams Congleton of Stokes were involved in the mishap.

Damage was estimated at $600 to the Harrell auto and $800 to the Congleton car.

No charges were reported.

Asks Turn-In Of Walkers' Funds

Mark Carpenter, chairman of the Walk for Development program that took place in Greenville on Saturday, May 5, has issued an appeal for last minute turn in of funds.

Carpentar said that most of the funds have been received and deposited, but that a few of the walkers have not yet taken their contributions in to the collection center, or have sought to deliver the funds to him directly.

"The proper place to take the contributions is to Wachovia Bank on Fifth Street," he said. "This is where funds raised for the project are being deposited."

Guerrillas Demand, Get $1 Million From Ford Co.

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
Associated Press Writer

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. agreed to a demand from leftist guerrillas for $1 million in hospital aid as officials gathered for the inauguration of the country's first civilian president in seven years.

A communique from the Trotskyite People's Revolutionary Army warned that if its demand on Ford was not met, executives of the company could be kidnaped or killed. Two employes of a Ford plant in a Buenos Aires suburb were wounded Monday in an attempt to kidnap one of them.

An official at the company's headquarters in Dearborn, Mich., said Wednesday night that Ford would supply 154 ambulances and donations to Argentine hospitals as stipulated by the guerrillas.

Two other U.S. firms, Eastman Kodak and the First National Bank of Boston, paid a total of $2.5 million in April to ransom two executives kidnaped by leftist guerrillas. In March 1972, Fiat, the Italian automobile company, agreed to a demand for $1 million to buy school supplies for needy children after the People's Revolutionary Army kidnaped the head of its Argentine subsidiary. But the government rejected a simultaneous demand for the release of 50 imprisoned terrorists, and the guerrillas killed the Fiat executive as the police closed in on the gang's hideout.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State William P. Rogers arrived to head the U. S. delegation for the inauguration Friday of Peronist Hector J. Campora as Argentina's president.

Rogers, on an eight-nation Latin American tour, and his delegation were the 26th of the 63 official delegations to arrive. The American secretary is outranked at the festivities by the presidents of Chile, Cuba and Uruguay, the premier of Peru and the vice presidents of 11 countries.

Observers were particularly interested in whether there would be any contact between the U. S. cabinet member and Chile's Marxist president, Salvador Allende Gossens, whose leftist administration has been openly hostile to U. S. interests in Chile and U. S. policy in Latin America.

Light Impact By Drug Law

RALEIGH (AP) — A newly enacted law revising North Carolina's laws covering possession of marijuana and hard drugs will have only a limited effect on prosecutors' success in obtaining convictions, former Asst. Atty. Gen. Burley Mitchell said today.

Mitchell, a specialist in drug cases for the attorney general's office until he resigned to become Wake County solicitor, said prosecutors will not be "greatly aided or impaired" by the bill.

The law was enacted Friday when the House routinely accepted a Senate amendment authorizing courts to grant immunity to first offenders if they would disclose the source of their drug supply.

The law also increased from five grams to one ounce—28 grams—the amount of marijuana a person could possess without being guilty of a felony.

It also makes a first conviction of selling heroin and other hard drugs punishable by up to 10 years in prison, a second offense punishable by up to 20 years and a third offense up to 30 years. Fines of from $10,000 to $30,000 also could be levied.

Sponsors of the law said it was requested by solicitors to make it easier to convict dealers in marijuana.

Mitchell said in an interview, however, that the law "will not be a major breakthrough" for prosecutors.

"We've either got our cases or we haven't," he said. "I don't believe we'll see much effect one way or the other."

Nonfarm Job Count Is Up

Nonfarm employment increased 3,100 in North Carolina during April, rising to 1,884,700, according to State Labor Commissioner Billy Creel.

Creel said that seasonal job increases in services, trade and construction offset employment decreases in textiles, tobacco and other industries during April.

The commissioner reported that total nonfarm employment was 53,300 higher than a year ago. Factory jobs, totaling 744,400 last month, dropped some 2,500 from the March fighure but increased 16,900 compared with a year ago.

Employment in nonmanufacturing groups, totaling 1,140,300, gained 5,600 over the month and was 36,400 higher than a year ago, he said.

Hourly earnings of factory production workers climbed two cents in April to a $2.94 average, Creel reported. The workweek held firm at 40.5 hours, while weekly earings increased 81 cents to average $119.07.

Hates Politics And 'Label' Says John Wayne

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "I hate politics. I hate politicians. I hate being labeled as a right-wing extremist," John Wayne says.

"I have openly supported six people running for office and three of them were Democrats. I go with the man not his label," the actor told newsmen on his arrival here Wednesday.

"I don't like the label of superpatriot," he added. "I think I feel just like about 160 million other people do out of the 200 million people in the U.S. I'm talking about the middle class. If it weren't for them, this country would collapse. I'm glad to be associated with the middle class."

Wayne was to fly to Washington for tonight's presidential banquet for former U.S. prisoners of war in Vietnam.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets were steady Wednesday.

Supplies adequate, demand fair to good.

Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites: 57.65; medium whites: 54.70; small whites: 41.18.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina hogs are steady to 25 cents higher today. Tops of 36.50-37.00 at Rocky Mount: 35.75-36.75 Kinston, New Bern, Benson and Lumberton; 35.00-36.50 Wilson and High Falls; 35.50-36.00 Tarboro and Bethel; 35.00-36.00 Siler City and Denton; 36.25 Mt. Olive; 36.00 Salibury.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina f.o.b. dock broilers: market weak; supplies fully adequate to ample for a fair demand; weights trending heavy. F.O.B. weighted average price for less than truck lot sales of sized plant grade A broilers to be picked up at docks next week is too unsettled today to release prices.

North Carolina hens: market weak; supplies of both heavy and light types fully adequate to ample for slow to fair demand. Too few sales reported today to release prices.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, continuing its pattern of Tuesday and Wednesday, climbed slowly today.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 3.23 at 898.25. Advancing issues moved out to a 606 to 486 edge over those declining on the New York Stock Exchange.

Morton-Norwich, a producer of drugs and household products, was the Big Board's most-active stock, down ¼ at 14⅞. A block of 112,900 Morton-Norwich shares changed hands at 14¾.

Gimbel Brothers dipped 1⅝ to 13⅞. Officials told the company's annual meeting Wednesday that rising expenses and "unsatisfactory" sales increases were responsible for the first-quarter loss it reported earlier in the week.

Glamour issues showed some broad gains. IBM rose 2¾ to 392½, Polaroid was up 1¼ at 131⅜, and Xerox added ⅞ to 149⅛.

At the American Stock Exchange, Kaiser Industries, down ⅛ at 4⅛, was the most-active issue. The Amex's 11 a.m. price-change index was up .02 at 22.45.

The Big Board's 11 a.m. index of more than 1,500 common stocks showed a 0.08 rise at highway commission and setting up a state Board of Transportation and Secondary Roads Council.

Also enacted was a measure under which tax relief will be provided for certain farmland.

The General Assembly rejected an Equal Rights Amendment to the federal constitution—an issue that evoked considerable attention early in the session.

The lawmakers decided to move into annual sessions and will reconvene next Jan. 16.

Many issues were carried over to the 1974 session. These include no-fault auto insurance, a change in the primary elections date, an ethics code for legislators, a bill to remove the state Highway Patrol from under the command of Gov. Jim Holshouser, and a bulky bill to amend the state's laws on pretrial criminal procedure.

Observers agreed that legislators did more talking this session than perhaps ever before.

House Speaker Jim Ramsey said the major reason for this was that lawmakers wanted to have their "input" on bills, either in committee or on the House and Senate floor.

Approval was also given to final plats. The first, the Cambridge Subdivision, Section I, is the former Hugh Winslow property on Hooker Road. City Engineer Charles Holliday noted two residents on Fairlane Drive had expressed concern about additional run-off that would result from the Cambridge Subdivision, and noted that the State Highway Commission would have a need to install a larger pipe to take care of additional run-off that would take place.

The second final plat, Oakgrove Estates, Section III, is for a small development of eight lots, formerly known as Staton Acres.

A scheduled consideration of rerouting drainage easement on a lot of the Oakmont Addition, Fairview Way section, was tabled in the absence of a representative for the project.

Heath Cabinet Member Resigns As Name Linked With Call Girls

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Lord Jellicoe, son of a World War I naval hero, godson of a British king and bearer of one of this country's most distinguised names, quit his Cabinet post today as government leader in the House of Lords because of "some casual affairs" with prostitutes.

Jellicoe, 55, was the second member of Prime Minister Edward Heath's Conservative government to admit consorting with call girls and to resign.

Security checks touched off by the disclosure of Lambton's indiscretions turned up the evidence against Lord Jellicoe.

British newspapers buzzed with speculation today that yet more top names would be linked to vice rings. Some suggested a duke was involved but refused to name him.

Government sources said, however, that they believed no other members of the administration were involved.

In a letter to Heath, released to newsmen, Jellicoe said:

"When you told me yesterday that my name was being linked with allegations about a ring of call girls, I thought it best to tell you that unhappily there was justification for this because I had some casual affairs which if publicized would have been the subject of criticism."

It was the juiciest scandal to hit Britain since War Minister John Profumo got caught in Christine Keeler's bedroom 10 years ago and nearly brought down another Conservative government.

Most newspapers declared that a judicial inquiry, or at the least a thorough investigation, was necessary to clear the air. Government informants said Heath already had such an investigation under way, with the counter-espionage agency MI5 checking to see if national security had been compromised. The informants said the prime minister was not likely to agree to a judicial inquiry.

Government sources stressed that Heath did not believe Lord Lambton's association with call girls, and presumably similar conduct by any other officials, had endangered security.

Lord Lambton, a 50-year-old millionaire and the member of one of Britain's oldest aristocratic families, resigned Tuesday, pleading ill health, and went into seclusion in Scotland.

But on Wednesday he issued a statement confessing his association with call girls.

Later in the day he was charged with possessing drugs — marijuana and amphetamine pep pills — but said in a telephone interview: "I'm no drug addict."

Lambton in his confessional statement said his conduct had caused no security risk, he hadn't been blackmailed, he hadn't discussed his government job with the call girls, and "as far as I know no politician of any party is remotely connected with these events."

American Classic Sets Second Annual Affair For Saturday Here

Best times recorded during competitions for berths on local American Classic Championship teams were announced today by officials of Belk Tyler-Buster Brown Textiles sponsored event.

Based on performances in the fifteen participating cities, host city Greenville and last year's team winner, Elizabeth City, are rated as the two strongest contenders for individual and team trophies.

Elizabeth City, coached by Paul Winslow, Jr,, out-distanced its closest opponent in last year's inaugural event by 27 to 18 team points. Only two points separated four teams—Farmville, Wilson, Kinston, and Tarboro—for second place.

Greenville, coached by Clem Williams, is favored in the 6-7 year old girls' 50, with Sharon Johnson running a local final's time of 7.6 seconds; 10-12 boys' 100 with Donnie Daniels turning an 11.5 time; and Daniels again, a strong favorite in the 10-12 boys' broad jump. His 16' 11" leap, if repeated in the Finals, will surpass last year's record by over a foot.

Rodney Smith, Greenville, is slightly favored in the 6-7 boys' 50 after his 7.9 second time beat by a tenth of a second that recorded by Rusty Rawls, Ahoskie, and Joel McLendon, Elizabeth City.

In the 8-9 year old 50 dash, the favorites are Steve Peterson, Mt. Olive, and Darlene Beasley, Elizabeth City. Both recorded local winning times of 7-1 seconds. Beasley's time in the girls' event makes her a heavy favorite.

Several 10-12 year old events promise to be closely contested. Maria Deathrage, Washington, with her 7' 2" leap, is slightly favored over Sandra Randle, Greenville, in the broad jump.

The girls' 50 yard dash Joyce McCullen, Elizabeth City, with a 6.6 second time, a slight favorite over Antoinette Bailey, Washington, and Sandra Randle, Greenville.

Other girls' events see Dianne Whinn, Murfreesboro, favored in the high jump and Vickie Heusome, Ahoskie, favored in the 440 yard dash. The girls' 440 relay should be a close contest between the teams from Washington and Mt. Olive, both within a second of a :61 time. Mt. Olive is also favored in the boys 10-12 relay with 53.2 second time.

Murfreesboro's Don Williams is a strong favorite in the high-jump for his 5' 2" jump in the local finals. Chris Dale, Elizabeth City, turned in a :63.5 time for the 440 yard dash to grab the favored role in that event. Linwood Doyle, also of Elizabeth City, is favored in the 880.

Ahoskie's Mike Rogers is a very strong favorite to win the inaugural mile run. His time of 5:25 was nearly :30 better than the closest competitor. This is the first year the mile has been included in the American Classic.

The American Classic gets underway Saturday at 2 p.m. in the ECU track stadium. All winners will receive trophies at an awards banquet that night. First, second and third place finishers will be awarded gold, silver and bronze medals immediately after the meet.

East Carolina Completes Cage Recruiting With 6-9 All-Star

East Carolina's 1973 basketball recruiting campaign came to a conclusion Wednesday with the announcement by Tom Quinn, Pirate head coach, that Gerald Long has accepted a grant-in-aid to attend ECU.

Long, a native of Washington, D.C., averaged 18 points and 14 rebounds per game last season and helped to propel Coach Frank McDuffie's Laurinburg Institute team to a 17-4 record against a schedule which included the junior varsity teams of many major colleges. Also among the wins was a post-season victory in New York's Nassau Coliseum over a team composed of the star players from St. John's and other colleges in the New York area.

Laurinburg's McDuffie had words of praise for the lanky 6-9 leaper.

"Long has as much potential as Charlie Scott and some of the other great ones who played here at Laurinburg," he said. "He was highly sought after by a number of schools including Western Kentucky, Marquette, Niagara and St. John's. I'm delighted that he's going to East Carolina."

Jerome Owens, a senior starter on last season's Pirate team, and Ken Edmonds, who saw considerable action with both the varsity and junior varsity, also are alumni of Laurinburg Institute.

The versatile Long is the seventh recipient of an ECU basketball grant-in-aid in what Quinn describes as "the most successful recruiting campaign we've had in the seven years I've been at East Carolina.

"Gerald has as much talent as any frontcourt man we have ever recruited," said Quinn in making the announcement. "We anticipate playing him at forward because in addition to being a good jumper he is also an excellent ballhandler."

Other ECU signees have included three players each from the high school and junior college ranks.

The prep stars who will be attending ECU, in addition to Long, are 6-8 Larry Hunt, Shelby; 6-3 Buzzy Braman, Springbrook, Md.; and 6-3 Reggie Lee, Kensington, Md.

The junior college transfers are 6-6 Robert Geter, Columbia, S.C.; 6-5 Bob Hurst, Covington, Ky.; and 6-1 Donnie Owens, Etoile, Ky.

Coach Chester Caddas' Pacific College football team showed a five-game gain with their 1972 record of 8-3. The team had a 3-8 record in 1971.

Chips and putts from area golf courses:

Brook Valley

A number of golfers have turned in some of their better, if not their best rounds lately at Brook Valley Country Club.

Ed Harris shot a 38-41—79 for his best round of the year while playing with Willie Hathaway, Les Garner and a guest. Kelly Kee had a 79 for his best round.

Cletus Jackson broke 90 for the first time, firing an 89. John Cleetwood, who has just turned 13, broke 100 for the first time, carding a 44-48—92.

Sandy Barnhill turned in one of her better rounds, a 36-33—69. Her best was a 65 several months ago.

The Club Championship continues, with the third round due to be completed this weekend.

Farmville

The Farmville Golf and Country Club is making plans for the annual Pitt County Championship, to be held at the club June 8-9. Entries are now being accepted.

Greenville

A boys tournament for youths 15 and under was held last week at the Greenville Golf and Country Club. Scott Hill took the low gross with a 89. Sandy Abbott won low net with a 71, while Molt Massey III was second in low net with a 76. Hill also won the most birdies.

In Ladies Day last Friday, a nine-hole Better Ball of Pair with Handicap Tournament was held. Eleanor Ruffin and Betty Lou Howard took first place with a 29. Harriette White and Mary Dale White were second with 30. Dot Aldridge and Joan Hooper tied with Mavis Lupton and Dardie Longino for third with 31.

A Girls Tournament, for those 18 and younger will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. Prizes in the nine-hole tourney will be given for low gross and low net.

A Ladies Day Captain's Choice tournament will be held Friday with a 9:30 a.m. shotgun start. A 12:30 p.m. luncheon will follow.

Saturday at 1 p.m. a Captain's Choice tourney will be held for mixed couples, over 18 holes.

Signups for these three tournaments are now under way.

Grifton

A Member-Member Tournament was held at the club last weekend. Cecil Lilly and George Saleeby won with a 136 total over the 36 holes. Tom Reilly and Frankie Harris were second with a 141.

The first flight title went to Mike Gentry and Raymond Wilkerson with a 137, while Cliff Gentry and Milton Garris were second at 164. In the second flight, Ron Hardison and Gib Chauncey won with a 172, while Roger Davenport and Rex Thorne were second.

The President's Cup Tournament will be held at the club May 27 through June 10.

Robersonville

Betty Ann Jenkins aced the eighth hole at Robersonville Golf and Country Club. She used a seven-iron on the 100-yard hole while playing with Jean Ross, Marguerite Smith and Elsie House.

The Roanoke League team from Robersonville lost to Plymouth last week in a nine-hole match, shorted from 18 by rain. The Robersonville team will host Edenton on Sunday.

Optimists In Upset Victory

The Optimists surprised Coca-Cola yesterday in the North State Little League, handing the league-leaders their first loss of the year, 16-3.

The loss still left Coke in first place with a 4-1 record, while the Optimists climbed to 2-3.

Coke pushed over a run in the first to take the lead. Will Sanderson walked and moved up on a passed ball. He scored on Marshall Crumpler's single.

The Optimists scored twice in the second to tie it up. Billy Dough walked as did Liles Stott. Both moved up on a wild pitch and another scored Dough. An error then allowed Stott to score.

In the third, Coke pushed over two to regain the lead, 3-2. Sanderson singled and Crumpler cracked a home run.

After that, however, it was all Optimists, as they came up with 11 runs in the fifth inning to take the lead for good. Glenn Moore opened the inning with a home run. Mac Stokes then doubled and took third on an error. Jim O'Brien was hit by a pitch and stole second. Stanley Nichols walked, loading them up. Dough doubled in Stokes and O'Brien and Jeff Porter singled to score Nichols. An error let Dough come in, but Porter was picked off. David O'Brien walked and Patrick Wilson singled. Jim Kernen walked and Moore hit his second homer of the day, this time a grand slam. Stokes walked and took second on a wild pitch and Jim O'Brien singled him in, advancing on an error to score on Dough's singled with the 11th run of the frame.

They added three more in the sixth. David O'Brien walked and Wilson singled. They moved up on a passed ball and scored on Stokes' double. An error allowed Stokes to come the rest of the way to end the scoring.

Integon Holds On For Victory

Integon outlasted the Graniteers to take a 15-12 victory yesterday in the Tar Heel Little League. The victory pulled Integon out of a tie for last place with a 2-3 record, while the Graniteers are now 1-4.

Integon came up with five runs in the first inning to take the lead. Bobby Wiggins singled and Mark Barber reached on an error. Both stole up a base and Mike Walker reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Wiggins. A wild pitch scored Barber and another brought in Walker. Howard Tucker reached on an error and stole second. William Barrett walked and a wild pitch moved them up. Blair Smith singled, driving both runners in.

The Graniteers scored two in the bottom of the frame. Wayne Stokes walked and Miccah Dixon reached on an error. Both moved up on a passed ball and Stuart Satterthwaite walked. Mike Moye singled to score both Stokes and Dixon.

Integon came back with four more in the second and one in the third to hold a 10-2 lead. But the Graniteers weren't through and came back with eight in the fourth to tie it up.

Moye led off with a walk and Henry Wooten singled. Both advanced on a passed ball and Mike James was hit by a pitch. Wade Dean then cracked out a grand-slam home run. But the Graniteers weren't through yet. Stokes reached on an error and took second on a passed ball. Dixon doubled him in and scored on Satterthwaite's single. He was thrown out, however, trying to stretch it. H.L. Austin singled and Moye doubled. Wooten singled, scoring both Austin and Moye to tie it up.

Integon came right back with five in the top of the fifth to regain the lead. Todd Galloway singled and Walker walked. Tucker singled, and Barrett doubled in both Galloway and Walker. Tucker and Barnett were both out, however, on Blair Smith's fielder's choice. Junior Neal singled in Smith and Drew Smith walked. A wild pitch

Dainty Maid Handed First Loss In City

The last of the unbeatens in the City Softball League bit the dust last night as inter-divisional play got underway. Dainty Maid was handed a 4-3 defeat at the hands of Burger King.

That contest led off the trio of contests at Evans Two. Burger King got all four of their runs in the top of the first inning. Larry Smith singled and Lange doubled. Brock doubled and Boisseau tripled. A passed ball let him score what proved to be the winning run. Dainty Maid tried to rally in the seventh, but could only score three runs.

In the second contest, Hardee's whipped the Daily Reflector, 28-0. They scored six in the first, for all they needed. Mann reached on a fielder's choice and Grant doubled. Byrd and Bolick singled and Morgan cracked a double. Sugg walked, as did Long. Eldridge finished things off with a single, scoring Sugg to make it 6-0. They went on to add five in the second, three in the third, with Grant homering; 10 in the fourth, and four in the fifth, with Bolick homering.

The third game saw Proctor's nip Hallow's, 14-13. Proctor's pushed over four in the first, but Hallow's came back with seven in their half of the frame. Proctor's scored two in the second, then got two more in the third to push ahead by a run. Hallow's came back to score two in the bottom of the third and regain the lead. Proctor's scored five in the fourth, while Hallow's came up with three. Proctor's got what proved to be the winning run in the sixth inning when King hit a solo homer to lead off the inning. Hallow's got on emore in the seventh, but was a run short.

In the first game at Field One, Parker's took a 20-2 victory over Greenville Utilities. Parker's pushed over four in the first to take the lead for good. J. Evans tripled and W. Avery singled. J. Boswell singled and L. Wells got a hit. He scored on T. Meeks' hit for a 4-0 lead. Parker's added two in the second, one in the third, four in the fourth with R. Nichols homering; four more in the fifth, and five in the sixth. Greenville Utilities scored once in the fifth and again in the sixth.

The second game saw Four Seasons rolled to a 19-4 win over the Jaycees. Four Seasons pushed over four in the first, with T. Jordan homering, then scored three in the second to win it. J. Childers walked and R. Vincent got a hit. C. Meeks doubled and scored on W. Moye's two-bagger for a 7-0 lead. Four Seasons added one in the third, three in the fourth with Moye homering, two in the fifth and six in the seventh with both Meeks and Jordan homering. The Jaycees got two in the third and two in the sixth.

Play closed out with Balantine's scoring a 14-6 win over Union Carbide. Balentine's pushed over one in the first, then added three in the second. Union Carbide scored two in the bottom of the second, then got two more in the fourth and another in the fifth to lead, 6-4. But Balentine's scored five in the sixth to take the lead. J. Briley singled and J. Phillips doubled. B. Angle doubled and M. Briley tripled. H. Haddock doubled and scored on M. Sawyer's hit to push Balentine's into a 9-6 lead. They added five more in the seventh to wrap it up.

College View Edges Builders

College View broke into the momentary lead in the Babe Ruth League last night by defeating Home Builders, 5-3. It was the sixth win in seven games for College View.

Keith Jones picked up the victory for CV, though he only struck out four batters. Mike Belton was the loser for Home Builders, but he struck out 11 College View batters.

The difference in the opposing pitchers was that Jones' fielders committed one error, while Belton's fielders made seven errors, all at key times to allow runners to score.

For College View in the first, Jimmy Averette doubled to center and scored on Conner Merritt's single. After Merritt stole second, he came around to score when Ross Hawkins reached on an error.

Home Builders made it close in the second. Jim Wilkerson singled, stole second and third, and scored on Mark Conway's fielder's choice and error.

College View got all it needed in the fifth when it tallied two more. With one down, Averette reached second on a fielding error, and scored when Jay Chenier singled to right, and the right fielder's relay was over everyone's head. Chenier advanced to second on that error, moved to third on the catcher's throwing error to first, and scored on Lee Shearin's double down the line to right.

Home Builders countered with one run in the bottom of the inning. Mark Conway singled, reached second on Carlton Walls' base hit, stole third, and scored on an infield out.

Both teams scored one run each in the sixth, with a mild threat by Home Builders in the seventh which died on a steal attempt after a double by Mike Belton.

Eagles To Play Here

Robersonville's Golden Eagles, the defending State Class A Champions will meet Saratoga at Harrington Field in Greenville Thursday night.

The game, for the Eastern title, will be held at 8 p.m.

The winner will advance into the fianls of the Class A Playoffs to be held next week. The finals are a best-of-three series.

The two teams met earlier this year, splitting their two games. Robersonville won its home game, 1-0, and then lost at the Saratoga field, 2-1.

Basketball coach Ken Hayes of Tulsa entered the 1972-73 season with a 70-39 record for three seasons in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Designated Hitters Have A Good Night

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The DH's did OK in the AL Wednesday night.

Three-run homers by Carlos May and Sal Bando featured a bangup night for designated hitters in the American League.

May's blast helped the Chicago White Sox defeat the California Angels 5-3 and Sal Bando's homer led the Oakland A's to an 8-6 victory over the Texas Rangers.

May's three-run homer capped a four-run seventh inning for the White Sox. Chicago's DH hit the shot off a pretty tough pitcher, Bill Singer.

Designated hitters totaled 11 hits in 31 at-bats in the five AL games, an excellent average of .355.

In the other games, the New York Yankees beat the Detroit Tigers 6-5 as designated hitter Jim Ray Hart collected one hit in three appearances; the Boston Red Sox tripped the Milwaukee Brewers 5-3 as DH Orlando Cepeda had one hit in two at-bats and Minnesota's DH, Tony Oliva, had two hits in four times at bat to help the Twins whip the Kansas City Royals 8-6.

The other American League game between the Cleveland Indians and Baltimore Orioles was postponed by rain.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs beat the Montreal Expos 4-2 in 10 innings; the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Houston Astros 4-3 and the San Diego Padres stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3. Three games were called by rain—St. Louis at New York, Pittsburgh at Philadelphia and San Francisco at Atlanta.

Bando slammed a three-run homer in a four-run second inning in Oakland's triumph over Texas. Reliever Horacio Pina gave up only one run in five innings of relief to gain the victory.

Matty Alou delivered a two-out double in the inning, driving home the tie-breaking run in New York's victory. Detroit Manager Billy Martin was so mad about the loss that he refused to speak tp newspapermen.

Rico Petrocelli knocked in two runs and had a hand in two others, leading Boston over Milwaukee. The damaging blow by the Red Sox' third baseman was a two-run single in a four-run fourth.

Harmon Killebrew drove in three runs, helping Minnesota rally for its victory over Kansas City.

Track Awards Are Presented

Walter Davenport, a long and triple jump standout, and Barry Johnson, a quarter-miler, were named recently as the recipients of the two highest honors given to track performers at East Carolina University.

Davenport was chosen as the Most Valuable Performer while Johnson was named the Most Outstanding Performer. The awards were presented by Bill Carson, head track coach, at the annual track banquet.

The Most Valuable Award is based on track performance and the Most Outstanding Award is based on all characteristics in addition to track performance.

Davenport, a senior, holds the school and Southern Conference record in the triple jump and has represented East Carolina at the NCAA Nationals for the past four years.

Johnson, also a senior, is the record holder in the 440-yard dash and is the anchor man on the record holding mile-relay team.

Also at the banquet the team chose tri-captains for next season. Ivy Peacock, Roy Quick, and Larry Malone were chosen by their teamates as captains for the 1973-74 season.

Peacock is the school record holder in the hammer and discus while Quick holds the school outdoor record in the high jump. Malone, meanwhile, is the school record holder in the outdoor long jump.

Fire Fighters Bow In Opener

NEW BERN — Morris Body Shop rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to take a 4-3 victory over the Fire Fighters in the opening game for the two teams in the Senior Babe Ruth League.

The game completed the first round of play for the eight teams in the Tri-County League.

The Fire Fighters did all of their scoring in the fourth inning, picking up three runs. Keith Gould walked and William Carraway got a single. Danny Norris singled, loading the bases. Donny Haddock hit a sacrifice to score Gould, and Mike Reilly walked, reloading the bases. Walter Salisbury reached on an error, scoring Carraway, but Norris was cut down trying to score. Mike McCormick then singled to drive in Reilly for the 3-0 lead.

Morris finally broke the ice with a run in the fifth inning. J. Hathaway walked and scored on K. Connor's double, making it 3-1.

Then, in the seventh inning, Morris came up with three runs to squeeze out the win. Hathaway led off with a single and Connor walked. S. Bengal doubled, scoring both Hathaway and Connor. He moved to third on the relay and W. Lamm walked. K. Laughinghouse then laid down a squeeze but to Bengal with the game-ending run.

Three games are on tap tonight. Moore-King-Sullivan is at Kinston, While Morris meets Taff Office at 7 p.m. and Little Mint takes on the Fire Fighters at 9 p.m. at Guy Smith Stadium.

Stasavich To Speak At Lenoir Rhyne

HICKORY—Highlighting plans for Lenoir Rhyne College's annual alumni day, May 26, is an address by Clarence Stasavich, former head football coach and athletic director at the college, during the buffet banquet that night.

"Stas", as the former Lenoir Rhyne coach and athletic director is known to his many friends, is director of athletics at East Carolina University. He built his fame during his nearly 30 years as a student and teacher at Lenoir Rhyne.

Stasavich was head football coach and athletic director at Lenoir Rhyne from 1946 to 1961 and built the school into the small college football powerhouse. His Bruin teams won nine Carolinas Conference titles and captured the National Intercollegiate Athletics national title in 1960.

The Lenoir Rhyne football wizard's string of successes continued when he moved to ECU. Three of his Pirate teams in succession posted 9-1 records and won three games. His overall record at ECU was 50-25-1 and marked the most successful period in the school's 38-year gridiron history.

Stasavich has been honored as national coach of the year twice and district coach of the year five times.

Assistance Told Board

A total of 1,176 local residents and 51 transients were assisted during the past month by the Salvation Army in Pitt County, SA Advisory Board members were told yesterday.

According to a report presented to members of the Salvation Army advisory group yesterday, two families wre helped with utility bills during the month while nine families were given assistance with fuel orders; 14 food orders were given; two were aided with rent and two burned-out families were aided; 54 pieces of furniture given; 438 pairs of shoes distributed and 5,483 garmets distributed those in need.

Twenty transients were provided a night's lodging while 47 meals were provided for tansients during the month.

Capt. Al Smith told board members that the local Salvation Army now ranks ninth among units in the 15 Southern states in Sunday School attendance.

Arrested 2 For Break-In

Pitt County deputies have arrested two men in connection with a Monday night break-in at a country store in the Pactolus Township.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said the deputies arrested Benjamin Franklin Langley, 18, of Rt. 5, Greenville and Leon Rogers, 31, of Washington, on charges of breaking, entering and larceny of the Abron Best Store.

The sheriff said that Best reported the break-in around 11 p.m. Monday. Entrance had been gained by breaking open a lock on the front door and an assortment of merchandise, valued at approximately $50 was reported stolen.

Sheriff Tyson said that some of the merchandise has been recovered.

He added that Rogers is also being charged with the Dec. 28, 1972 break-in of the Best store during which some $198 worth of merchandise and a cash register was reported stolen.

Hearings for both men, who are under $2,000 bond each, have been scheduled for June 6 in District Court here.

Nixons Hosting Former POWs

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With fanfare and flourishes, President Nixon and his family are going all out today to give returned prisoners of war a homecoming party that includes the biggest dinner ever held at the White House.

The White House staff, with scores of volunteers and extra help, labored all night to get ready for the 1,214 guests who will dine on the south lawn under an orange-and-yellow striped tent bigger than the mansion itself.

Nixon spent the night at his mountaintop retreat at Camp David, Md., working on the speeches he will give to the war heroes he has waited several weeks to salute personally.

Nixon's first remarks to the repatriated POWs will come at a State Department briefing this afternoon. While he is meeting the men, Mrs. Nixon and daughters Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Cox will receive the POW wives and family members in the State Department drawing rooms.

Each of the 682 military men and civilians who were captives of the North Vietnamese or Viet Cong received engraved White House invitations, and all but about 90 planned to be on hand with wives and family guests. In addition, there will be members of the House and Senate Appropriations and Armed Services committees, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and chief peace negotiator Henry A. Kissinger.

The White House says the Defense Department is footing the bill for the big dinner party for the nation's heroes. But civilian donors have jumped in to contribute everything from floral decorations to three kinds of California wines that will be cooled in two big aluminum canoes supplied by the Navy.

Nixon wanted the POW dinner to have all the elegance of a state dinner for a visiting king or foreign dignitary.

And it will be a culinary tour de force, under the direction of Swiss-born White House chef Henry Haller, who gathered chefs from around the town to help carve the 1,200 pounds of roast sirloin of beef that will be the main course. It will take 480 pounds of assorted seafood to provide the first course and 200 pints of fresh strawberries for the strawberry mousse dessert.

The hour-long after-dinner entertainment with veteran Vietnam entertainer Bob Hope as master of ceremonies will include 12 featured actors and musical groups, and will be followed by dancing in the East Room. And composer Irving Berlin will be on hand for a spectacular finale when everyone joins in singing his song, "God Bless America."

Couple Charged On Marijuana Counts

A Rt. 1, Box 21-B, Greenville couple was arrested Tuesday night and charged with manufacturing marijuana and possession of marijuana with intent to distribute.

Pitt Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that Robert Wayne Hardison, 18, and his wife, Marjorie Licinda Hardison, 18, were arrested aroung 9:45 p.m. approximately two miles of Greenville on Highway 43.

Sheriff Tyson said that officers confiscated some four pounds of marijuana and several marijuana plants. Total value was set at approximately $800, he said.

Bond was set at $5,000 each for possession of marijuana and $2,500 each for manufacturing marijuana. A hearing will be scheduled in District Court here.

Pitt deputies, State Bureau of Investigation agents and Greenville police officers assisted in the arrests.

Rev. Spain Will Conduct Revival

The Rev. Thurmon Spain of Washington,D.C., will conduct revival services Monday through Friday at the Nazarene FWB Church here.

Services, beginning each night at eight 0'clock, will include music form various local choirs.

Holy Communion will be held Saturday, June 2, at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. George Chapman in charge.

Sunday, June 3, services include Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., and services by the Rev. J.E. Swinson at 3 p.m.

The church is located at 219 W. Eighth St. and the Rev. L. G. Harris serves as pastor.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Very confusing and difficult influences are in effect today and tonight, and you would certainly be wise to avoid getting a chip-on-the-shoulder attitude that most everyone is likely to be expressing now. Instead show you have understanding and compassion for whomever you meet who needs your help.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't think that others are imposing on you when it is only the conditions around you that are limiting. Lend a helping hand to those who have less than you. Talk some plan over with a prominent person you know.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't try to force a good friend to see things as you do, but give a chance to express self in own fashion. Avoid that party that could be a real bore. Do what pleases you the most in evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make the corrections that are necessary where career is concerned. Make sure you observe every law and regulation that applies to you. Being careful with your accounts improves your credit.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You think you have good ideas, but some phase of them could be very bad and you could lose a great deal by putting them in operation hastily. Stick to the tried and true. Steer clear of a troublemaker.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use your best judgment instead of relying on intuition which is apt to be somewhat off now. Show more generosity with mate. Reach a far better understanding for the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Listen to that associate who is rather critical since it could be constructive criticism. That outside matter should be avoided as you do not understand all the facts. Do some studying tonight that is helpful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Now that you know exactly what your duties are, handle them in an even more correct fashion than you had thought possible. Give more attention to your diet. Avoid activities that may be injurious to your health.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to have pleasure but make certain you do not go beyond the norm and regret it later on. Make sure you get that hobby perfected. Save time for one who has a good plan to talk over with you. Advance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Postpone that talk with kin, or you could get into a big argument now. Know what the bone of contention is and quietly remove it. Evening is fine for light entertainment at home. Make it a musical evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have much shopping to do as well as appointments to keep today, so be sure you do not lose your purse or get shortchanged in your hurry. Show you are an ingenious person. Don't be talkative.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your monetary matters may be in a rather precarious position, so do something constructive about it now. Improve your property in some way and make it more attractive, valuable. Do something kind for a friend tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study yourself well and see where you can make improvements, especially dietwise and healthwise. Accept invitations to group affairs and be sure you do not speak out of turn because of the confusion of conversations.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people with a definite flair for the artistic, but should be taught early to strive for perfection instead of being happy with what is once done. Teach also awareness of modern trends so as to keep abreast or ahead of others. Much need for the right philosophy of life here. The field of religion could be very good. This child will need careful handling early, since the nature is highly sensitive.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for June is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast (name of newspaper), Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

Martin Tech Exercises Set

Final plamns have been completed for conducting graduation exercises at Martin Technical Institute on Friday , at 8:00 P.M. in the foyer of the main campus building of the Instituite on Kehukee Park Road, near Williamston.

The principal speaker for the occasion is North Carolina Attorney General Robert Morgan .

Following Morgan's address, Chapman Hutchinson, of Plymouth, Vice Chairman of the Martin Technical Institute Board of Trustees, will present the graduates.

Approximately sixty students will receive their diplomas from Dr. E. M. Hunt, President of Martin Technical Institute. Those completing two-year technical programs will receive the Associate of Applied Science Degree. Graduates of vocational programs will receive diplomas.

Harold J. Briley, Director of the Learning Resources Center, will recognize some 60 persons who have recently completed their requirements for the High School Equivalency Certificate.

Special awards will be presented by Clarence E. Biggs, Director of Student Personnel, to several outstanding graduates. Awards include those for service, leadership, curriculum achievement and recognition of members of "Who's Who in American Junior Colleges".

After the ceremony, a reception will be held in the Student Lounge for graduates, their families and guests.

The public is invited to attend both the Commencement Exercises and the reception immediately following.

Band Entertains At Senior Club Meet

Under the direction of Johnny Wooten, The Aycock Junior High School Band gave the program at the Elm Street Senior Citizens Club meeting held last Thursday.

Th regular meeting was preceeded by a covered dish luncheon, with 51 members and seven guests present. Hostesses were Miss Louises Tucker, Mrs. Jessie Little, Mrs. Pattie Mizell, Mrs. Nan Nobles, and Mrs. Virginia Strickland.

Rev. Adrian Brown conducted the devotional followed by a memorial moment for Mrs. Neta Barker, who died May 13.

During the session of business, conducted by Mrs. W. E. Roseveare, president Mrs. Nell Moore was appointed to serve as secretary until the end of the year. A report of the convention held in Wilmington was given by Sam Whitehead, and a proclamation by Mayor Eugene West designating May as Senior Citizens Month were highlights of the session. The club also received an invitation to attend Holy Trinity United Methodist Church as a club on Sunday July 15.

Mrs. Pattie Mizell was appointed chairman of a bake sale to be announced later. A district party will also be held in the fall with Rev. Henry Lofquist as chairman.

The Sunshine Offering, by note of the club, is to be sent to the United Christian Youth Movement Fund.

Reader's Digest Reduces Price

PLEASANTVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Reader's Digest says its newsstand price will be reduced from 60 to 50 cents in an anti-inflation effort starting with the July issue.

"This price decrease follows the steady growth in newsstand sales," the Digest said Tuesday.

The magazine, which originally sold for 25 cents an issue, reached the 60-cent peak in 1971. Two previous hikes led to other past cover prices of 35 cents and 50 cents.

The 'Worry Clinic'

Camouflaging A 'Yes' Vote

Dr. Milo's experience is duplicated hundreds of times as I lecture nationwide. For women crave to learn the psychology of men. "We already know the woman's viewpoint," they add, "but a woman can't give us the man's outlook." Don't take their "No" at face value!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D.

CASE X-516: Dr. Milo T., aged 40, invited me to address a Methodist Men's Meeting.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "we shall have 1,000 men from several counties.

"We'd like for you to speak to them in the afternoon and also address our banquet session.

"But unforeseen problems now complicate matters.

"Since your 'Worry Clinic' runs in the local newspaper, women have been swamping us with demands to attend the banquet, too.

"But there is barely seating room even for our 1,000 men, so we firmly informed them they couldn't dine with us.

"Besides, it is supposed to be strictly a men's meeting!

"But they kept insisting on being admitted, so we have found that there is a balcony at the far end of the gymnasium where the dinner is to take place.

"Do you object if we let it be filled with men?"

Psychology Adults

No, I gladly gave my O.K. to let the women flood the balcony.

For women are psychology addicts.

And they doubly relish gaining the male point of view.

"Being women, we already know the woman's outlook," many of them protest, "so what we desire is to learn how men think!"

And that has been true all over America.

Despite the fact many wives grow irate when I mention that they are usually 50 percent to blame for divorce, due to their sins of omission, they secretly realize I am telling them the truth.

So they may protest violently to their local editor and even demand that he drop this "Worry Clinic" column.

Then, having appeased their prudish conscience, they eagerly grab the next day's issue of the newspaper, to see what my next case describes.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk," a typical 55-year-old spinster recently telephoned her editor, "that AWFUL Dr. Crane!

"Why do you print his column?

"If you don't drop it at once, I shall cancel my subscription immediately."

But do you experienced readers actually believe she meant what she said?

"Dr. Crane," this astute editor smilingly informed me, "she has phoned me 3 times in the past year and made the very same damand.

"Yet when I asked our Circulation Manager to check on her, I found that she never cancelled her subscription!

"Apparently, she was trying to soothe her own conscience but couldn't wait to see what else you might cover the next day!"

And many surveys have revealed this identical result.

The women who write and telephone and demand that this column be dropped, are usually avid readers.

For woman's "No" is notoriously a camouflage to cover up a secret or subconscious "Yes."

That's also why women swarm into the lecture halls where I am scheduled for an address.

Most of them are most cordial and complimentary, but those who are irate are generally devoted readers!

For it is true that women know women, but don't understand men, so they are naturally alert to the dissection of masculine psychology.

Women want to remain free from divorce and predatory outside sirens, so they are hungry for sound psychiatric advice.

Send for my "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents, and learn man's viewpoint.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing along stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Dble.	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

A consistent performance thru four sessions enabled Ann Economidy of Manchester, Mo. and Mrs. W. F. Williamson of Roswell, New Mexico to win the National Women Pairs recently held in St. Louis. Second were Pamela Eckhard, Tucson, Ariz. and Mary Anderson, Los Angeles, Calif.

The powerhouse dealt to West provided little cheer to those women who held this hand during a qualifying round of the event. Altho she held half the deck—20 high card points—not a single West emerged with a plus score on the deal.

The best East-West result was obtained at the table where the bidding proceeded as indicated above. South opened with one spade, West doubled and North jumped to three spades. This call was a preemptive measure designed to make it difficult for the vulnerable opponents to get together. Holding five trumps and attractive distribution, we would not consider it unduly bold for North to go the limit herself and bid four spades.

South had enough in reserve to go on to game, and West decided that the time had come for a realistic appraisal of the situation. It was obvious from the aggressive bidding of her opponents, that they held the outstanding high-card strength and a very fine fit, so that a penalty double of four spades was not an attractive prospect. To bid on, however, might lead to disaster. East was marked with little or nothing, and if West undertook to fulfill an 11-trick contract, the loss might far exceed the value of the opponents' game.

West passed and her discretion paid a handsome reward, for South took 12 tricks with relative ease. North's six of diamonds was discarded on the king of hearts, and declarer subsequently ruffed out her losers in the red suits. West was held to a single trump trick for what proved to be a mild deficit on the deal of 680 points [180 for the trick score and 500 for a vulnerable game].

At several tables, West felt that she had been insulted when the opponents proceeded to four spades, and she registered her protest by making a penalty double. The bonus for the two extra tricks swelled North-South's profit to 1,190 points.

One West was subject to the humiliation of having her opponents bid a small slam in spades, and her double proved equally futile, for there was no defense to upset the contract. North-South's score at this table amounted to 1,660 points.

The most extreme disaster was suffered by one player who was unwilling to defend against four spades. This West persisted to five clubs, North doubled — and West was held to five tricks for a stinging 1,700 point setback.

Declares Seaway Best Highway

TORONTO (AP) — The St. Lawrence Seaway is the quietest, cleanest and cheapest highway in Canada.

An engineering report by Ken Gilbert of the Toronto Harbor Commission said that the cost of the full 2,000-mile route was no greater than the cost of building 29 miles of expressway.

Sir Winston Churchill died Jan. 24, 1965, at 90.

Common Market To Hassle Over Farm Program

By RICHARD C. LONGWORTH

BRUSSELS (UPI) — One of the two pillars of the European Common Market is beginning to crumble.

This is the much-praised, much-ridiculed farm program called the Common Agricultural Policy, or CAP. Along with the customs union, the CAP is the Market's only major completed accomplishment in its 15-year history.

But hard times have hit the CAP. Sniping from Washington, opposition from Britain, protests from inflation-worried housewives and a built-in bent toward scandal and nonsense have made the once-sacrosanct program look surprisingly vulnerable.

Most politicians still echo French President Georges Pompidou, who said recently, "without the CAP, there is no Common Market."

A growing band of others, however, would agree with German Agricultural Minister Josef Ertl. Although German farmers are among the big winners from the CAP's maze of supports, levies and subsidies, the burly Bavarian said the whole system was "idiotic."

No country—not even the United States, which detests the CAP—is calling for an end to the system, because that could bring the Common Market crashing down. But agreement is growing daily that some major changes, including the financing of the CAP, cannot be long delayed if the policy is not to collapse of its own weight.

The purpose behind the CAP is to have food prices uniform throughout Europe — and to have them high enough so that European farmers earn as much money as factory and office workers.

Food prices are kept high by two means—a shifting tariff on cheaper imports from the United States and other outside nations to make sure that they always cost more than European farm produce, and a price-fixing system, backed by supports, that keeps food budgets for European households well above the American level.

Prices Still High

It has not worked. Prices remain high, but a Common Market survey this spring showed farm incomes still lagging behind city wages. The policy works so unevenly in fact, that farming incomes vary widely. Dutch farmers earn nearly three times as much as those in Ireland.

Ertl's explosion against CAP as "idiotic" came just after a 20-hour, all-night session of European farm ministers to fix prices for the coming season. That meeting failed and it was left to a later, 24-hour meeting to reach an agreement that satisfied no one—particularly not consumers who ended up paying higher prices.

Since 1958, farm ministers have been setting both prices and policies in these marathons. Often, decisions reached in exhaustion are so badly scrambled that they must be revised later.

There are other signs that the CAP is getting out of hand.

The whole system is based on a stable relationship between the nine European currencies. So when European currencies were revalued or floated in February, the Common Market commission had to send out a teleprinter message 25 yards long just to inform governments of new prices.

Bad Butter Deal

Even in normal times, commission bureaucrats must make 70 separate calculations on each of 300 different price-controlled products every week.

More embarrassingly, the CAP made headlines recently when the Market sold 200 million pounds of butter—half the surplus stock amassed because of high price supports —to the Soviet Union at a bargain price of 21 cents per pound. This is only one-sixth the normal price charged to shoppers in European supermarkets. The Market defended the Russian sale on grounds that it was more economical than storing the stuff.

The Financial Times of London called the CAP "simply unworkable," but the bureaucratic wheels could turn forever were it not for outside pressure. Part of this pressure comes from the United States. A secret study by the White House estimated that the Common Market tariffs against imports — particularly wheat— cost America billions of dollars each year. When world trade talks begin later this year, the Nixon administration will say it is subsidizing European farmers and will demand more access to European markets.

Market officials have agreed publicly that Europe must be willing to negotiate on the "instruments" of CAP, while leaving the "principles" intact. Both Americans and Europeans agree that the battle will be to separate the instruments from the principles.

RESOLUTION

At the regular meeting of the Pitt County Insurance Exchange on the 10th of May, 1973, the following Resolution was unanimously adopted:

THAT, WHEREAS, Swan Charles Ives, Sr. was a loyal and faithful member of the Pitt County Insurance Exchange and was unselfish in his devotion to the ideals, goals and ethics of the Pitt County Insurance Exchange and took an active part in every worthwhile effort in its behalf in improving the ethics and public service of the insurance profession in Pitt County and the State; and

WHEREAS, he was a man of the highest integrity and character and, by his straightforward and unaffected devotion to his family, church, and to his profession, by his kindness and consideration for others, made life more pleasant for all who came in contact with him; and

WHEREAS, he gave his untiring service to all civic and public service projects in Bethel and Pitt County:

NOW, THEREFORE, be it RESOLVED that this RESOLUTION be passed out of respect for Swan Charles Ives, Sr. and out of the deepest sympathy for his family and friends, and to express to them the gratitude for his service and devotion, and that this RESOLUTION be spread on the minutes of the Pitt County Insurance Exchange; that a copy be forwarded to his son, Swan Charles Ives, Jr., a copy to the Daily Reflector, a copy to the Ayden Newsletter and a copy to the Bethel paper.

Pope, Trustee, dated the 19th day of December, 1969, and recorded in Book W-38 at page 678 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County; and under and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned as substituted trustee by an instrument of writing dated the 6th day of March, 1973, and recorded in Book R-41 at page 473 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured and the said deed of trust being by the terms thereof subject to foreclosure, and the holder of the indebtedness thereby secured having demanded a foreclosure thereof for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness, the undersigned substituted trustee will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash

AT THE COURTHOUSE DOOR IN GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, AT 11:30 A. M. ON THE 11TH DAY OF JUNE, 1973, the land conveyed in said deed of trust, the same lying and being in the City of Greenville, County of Pitt, State of North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows:

Located in the City of Greenville, County of Pitt, State of North Carolina, being all of Lot No. 24, Block "B", Village Grove Sub., Third Addition, as shown on map dated June 1, 1955, prepared by Thomas W. Rivers, C. E., recorded in Map Book 6 at page 139 of the Pitt County Registry. Also being the identical property conveyed by deed dated July 13, 1962, from Jessie T. Worthington and wife, Augusta O. Worthington, to Loyd W. Stokes, Sr. and wife, Doris L. Stokes, of record in Book F-33 at page 466 of the Pitt County Registry, N. C.

There is included wall to wall carpet in the living room and hall.

The above property is to be sold subject to unpaid taxes and assessments, if any.

This 10th day of May, 1973.
