Tornado Hit Several Points

Storm Damages Stokes Area

STOKES—Several houses and a number of tobacco barns were damaged in the Stokes area yesterday afternoon when a tornado touched down at several points in the area, between 3:30 and 4 o'clock.

Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson said at least five houses suffered damaged—primarily to their roofs—from the wind, while ten or twelve tobacco barns were damaged.

Financial Bind

RALEIGH (AP) — Phase III economic controls have hospitals in a financial bind and patient care is imperiled, a North Carolina hospital spokesman said Tuesday.

Marion J. Foster, executive vice president of the North Carolina Hospital Association, said many hospitals are short on operating funds because the prices they must pay for goods and services are going up while hospitals must limit their charges under Phase III controls.

"It is apparent that both voluntary and mandatory controls are not working properly," Foster said. "Our hospitals have experienced increased costs in food, fuel, medical and surgical supplies and equipment beyond the permissible 5.5 increases. In many cases increases levied by vendors are in excess of wageprice guidelines, some as high as 14 per cent."

Pitt County Agricultural Extension chairman Ed Yancey said at mid-morning today that his office had had no "real calls about it," and noted "we don't know what the situation is," but said agents from his office had gone to the Stokes area to survey the situation.

Charles Horne, Greenville Utilities Commission director said wind damage was experienced on lines in several areas in the north-central section of the county during the storm, but reported most of the damage was centered in the area around Stokes.

He said one pole was blown down near Belvoir and several lines were downed by wind and falling trees in the Stokes area. Horne explained the first calls of trouble came about 4 p.m. and noted that Utilities crews had corrected their trouble by seven or eight o'clock.

Horne said no estimate of the damage was available, but noted the trouble was "not a major thing, but more than minor..."

Dollar Plunges Again

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar plunged to a record low in Paris today and sank sharply in other European centers.

Gold moved back toward record highs. But dealers said trading volume was light, well below levels of past runs on the dollar.

They said the Watergate affair still played a role in undermining confidence in the U.S. currency, but also pointed out that a number of other factors were affecting individual markets.

In Paris, the dollar hit a new low of 4.3850 commercial francs, down from 4.4062 Tuesday. Dealers there said uncertainties over the summit meeting in Iceland Thursday between Presidents Nixon and Pompidou affected Paris markets that closed early in anticipation of Thursday's Ascension Day holiday.

Hopes Revisit China

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told the new Chinese Communist envoy today that he hopes to go to China again.

"This is very good news," beamed Ambassador Huang Chen, the chief of the People's Republic of China liaison office which opened formally Tuesday upon his arrival here from Peking.

The President received Huang one hour before his scheduled departure for Iceland and a summit meeting with French President Georges Pompidou.

Huang met with Presidential Adviser Henry A. Kissinger promptly after arriving.

Limit Gas Allocation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two major oil companies say they're limiting the amount of gasoline they will sell their service stations this summer to about last year's level.

Exxon Co. U.S.A. and Gulf Oil Co. said on Tuesday they were taking the step because of fuel shortages.

"Current assessments indicate the company's supplies of gasoline this year will enable it to provide volumes to each group of customers as a whole equal to the 1972 sales plus some allowance for growth in 1973," the Exxon announcement said.

Gulf said allocations of its premium and regular grades of gasoline in June and July would be limited to the amounts sold in the corresponding months of 1972.

Gulf announced May 9 that it was cutting back allocations of its low octane Gulfthane, limiting dealers to the monthly averages for the first quarter of 1973.

Boost Coffee Prices

RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP) — Brazil, the world's No. 1 coffee grower, is making an all-out effort to raise world prices. Its main intended victims are coffee-drinkers in the United States, the world's biggest consumer of the product.

Brazil announced a 2-cents-a-pound price hike this week. From the way coffee policy people in the government are talking, prices seem likely to go up more.

A 10-year international agreement that controlled coffee prices and placed quotas on exports fell apart last year, mainly because of disagreement between Brazil and the United States.

Neither Maxwell House nor Folger's would predict what retail prices might result.

Buying U.S. Fighters

BRASILIA (AP) — Brazil's air force has decided to buy $100 million worth of American jet fighters, military sources say.

The deal would give the United States a major victory in its arms sales competition with France in Latin America.

The air force is recommending the purchase of 48 Northrop F5Es, which it chose over McDonnell Douglas' F4 Phantoms, France's Mirage 5 and Italy's Fiat 6914, the sources said.

The deal is awaiting the approval of President Emilio Garrastazu Medici and the finance ministry. The sources said the government wants the use locally of Northrop technical advice as part of the purchase agreement and details of financing must be worked out also.

The order is approximately double Brazil's two most recent orders for arms from France.

HONORARY DEGREE
SEOUL (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham Tuesday received an honorary doctorate in theology from Yonsei University here.

Nixon Leaves For Pompidou Parleys

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flew to Iceland today for talks with French President Georges Pompidou, hoping to dispel any fear of Uncle Sam's playing a bully-boy role in Western Europe.

While Pompidou will be pressing for quick action on monetary problems, Nixon will emphasize a quest for a new "Atlantic charter"—a set of broad principles and goals for the Atlantic community as it moves toward detailed negotiations in areas of economic, defense and foreign policy.

The two presidents, after arriving in the Icelandic capital of Reykjavik, plan separate meetings with leaders of the host country. Their own two days of talks are to begin Thursday.

Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's foreign-policy assistant, acknowledged to newsmen Tuesday that there is concern in France and other European capitals that the United States might try to blackmail its Atlantic partners by using its participation in the defense of Western Europe as a club to gain economic concessions.

The Iceland summit is the last in a series of consultations aimed at paving the way for a presidential visit to Europe, probably sometime after mid-October. Nixon has met in Washington in recent months with the leaders of Britain, West Germany and Italy.

Soviet Pilot Is Given Asylum

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Willy Brandt's government announced today it has granted political asylum to a Soviet fighter pilot whose plane crashed inside West Germany.

An Interior Ministry spokesman said the Federal Office for the Recognition of Foreign Refugees decided to grant the request for asylum by Lt. Yevgeny Vronsky, 20.

Vronsky's SU7 fighter crashed and burned Sunday 25 miles inside West Germany after a flight across East German border.

German officials said Vronsky's plane had no fuel left when it plunged to earth.

Revenue-Sharing Funds Aimed At 'Nuts And Bolts'

City Manager William H. Carstarphen today released the City's Revenue Sharing Planned Use Report for the entitlement period beginning January 1, 1973 and ending June 30, 1973.

The report, issued in compliance with provisions of the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972, contains an explanation of the items upon which the City plans to expend a total of $359,386 in Federal Revenue Sharing Funds.

In issuing the report, Carstarphen praised the decision by City Council to expend the funds on what he described as "basic nuts and bolts needs of the City".

"The City had a backlog of equipment replacement needs within the Police and Fire Departments and the Sanitation, Street Maintenance, and Sanitary Landfill Divisions of the Public Works Department, and most of these needs are being met with the Shared Revenue Dollars," Carstarphen said.

The City Manager also pointed to the Council's decision to invest $150,000 in construction of a public swimming pool; $45,000 in Phase I of a three-year street resurfacing program; and, $10,000 in construction of an Animal Shelter for the new Animal Control Program as "solid investments in the improvement of public services and facilities for the citizens of Greenville".

He emphasized that the expression of views and opinions by interested citizens on the proposed expenditures would be welcomed by the City Administration.

The proposed expenditures were approved at the City Council's meeting of May 3, following receipt of the City Manager's recommendations at the Council's meeting of March 8.

Interested citizens are invited to express their views and opinions on the planned expenditures. Suggestions should be addressed to: Revenue Sharing Expenditures, Post Office Box 1905, Greenville, North Carolina 27834.

Counties To Have Stronger Voice In Road-Paving, Says Rountree

RALEIGH — Rep. Horton Rountree of Greenville said the newly enacted highway reorganization bill "will assure the counties a strong voice in road-paving, toss out the slush fund and provide a heavy penalty for those who exceed the legal bounds of their office."

Rountree was referring to House Bill 1063, enacted to become effective July 1, 1973, and reorganizing the Department of Transportation and Highway Safety as it relates to highways.

He said the new law "is a great stride for North Carolina, its people and its roads system."

He called attention to the provision calling for representatives of the Department of Transportation and Secondary Roads Council to meet with boards of county commissioners at a regular or special meeting.

A notice will be available to the newspapers once a week for two succeeding weeks prior to the meeting. County citizens and their commissioners will discuss road needs and commissioners will make a written recommendation to the Secondary Roads Council.

The Democrat said, too, the law provides that development plans of a county and maintenance and improvement of all existing roads in the county will be given due consideration.

Provision is made whereby commissioners can appeal a decision of the Secondary Roads Council to the Department of Transportation.

A uniformly applicable formula for the allocation of roads funds will be based on a study of all State-maintained unpaved roads before July 1 in each calendar year. The number of miles of unpaved roads in each county will be spelled out.

State funds appropriated for secondary roads shall not be transferred or used except for the construction and maintenance of secondary roads in the county for which they are allocated.

The "slush fund," unallocated funds that have been used at the discretion of Governors in the past, ends under the reorganization bill.

Under the new law, any excesses in the highway fund "shall be allocated by the Director of the Budget to the Board of Transportation for school and industrial access roads and emergencies, with 50 per cent of the balance allocated to the State Secondary Roads Program on the basis of need as determined by the Department of Transportation."

The law specifies that no member of the Secondary Roads Council, Department (Continued on Page 7)

N.C. Medical Resources Largely Concentrated In Urban Areas

By WOODY DOSTER
Associated Press Writer

From 1965 until 1971, Dr. Robert Albanese was the only physician in Tyrell County on the North Carolina coast.

"The psychological pressure was kind of heavy," said Albanese, of Tuxedo Park, N.Y. "We have a small proprietary hospital in Columbia, and I was responsible for those patients 24 hours a day, seven days a week. I could never get away unless I found someone to come and cover for me. I was considering leaving, but then another doctor (Dr. Arturo DeLeon) came in."

With the entry of Dr. DeLeon, Tyrell County moved off the list of North Carolina counties with only one doctor; but Hyde, Camden, Greene, Caswell and Clay counties remain. Their problem results from the growing concentration of the state's medical resources in urban areas, leaving rural areas without doctors.

According to the North Carolina Medical Care Commission, the problem is one of distribution. "The seven largest cities in North Carolina have only 30 per cent of the state's population, but 50 per cent of the practicing doctors," said former commission director William Henderson. The problem of distribution has always been with us, but it's getting worse as the older doctors end their practice. The younger doctors need to be more specialized. They have also learned to lean more on medical hardware that is unavailable in small towns."

In addition, according to the 1970 census, North Carolina only has 94 doctors per 100,000 population while the national average is 126 per 100,000.

The commission says the situation is getting worse. In 60 of 100 counties, there were more people per physician in 1970 than in 1963. In 1963, Greene County's one doctor served an area with a population of 8,082. In 1970, the county's population had grown to 14,967, but still there was only one doctor.

Contrast this with Multi-County Planning Region J, which includes Chatham, Durham, Johnston, Lee, Orange and Wake counties, housing two of the state's three medical schools. A report to the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina found that this area had 293.3 doctors per 100,000 population.

"In Russia and China, there is no medical personnel distribution problem," said Dr. Christopher C. Fordham III, dean of UNC's medical school. "But in a free society, there's no way you can force them to live out there." (Continued On Page 5)

You Should Have Complained Earlier

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I invited a friend to dine with us at a family restaurant to celebrate her birthday. Across from us sat a couple, their son, who looked about 4 years old, and another adult.

The child talked loudly and incessantly. At one point he amused himself by loudly saying the ABC's over and over, making it impossible for us to converse.

When our guest went to the restroom, the boy followed her and tried to get in. Fortunately the door was locked. The boy's parents witnessed the whole thing and didn't say a word. After our guest vacated the restroom, the boy didn't go in, which indicated he didn't have to use it, he only wanted to annoy her.

That child ruined our evening. When we left we spoke to the owner about it and he said the parents and that child ate there often and there was nothing he could do about it.

Please print this to let parents know that they should either train their children to behave in public or leave them home. They have no right spoiling an evening out for others.

DEAR NAMELESS: Parents of ill-mannered children don't care whose evening they spoil. You should have complained directly to the parents or to the management earlier in the evening, and when it became clear that nobody cared, you should have gone elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a married man. It began two years ago when I went to work for him. I am married and have two children, six and eight. My husband is a nice guy, but nothing special. We don't communicate at all anymore. His whole life is sports.

Abby, I want more than anything else in the world to have my lover's child because I know I can never have him. He says he loves me, but he will never leave his wife because he loves her, too—in a different way. Also, he says having an affair is one thing, but he doesn't believe in breaking up another man's home.

I have expressed my desire to have his child, but he says it would be the worst thing I could do to myself. I don't agree with him. I feel that if our affair ends—as most affairs do, at least I will have a part of him to remember him by. Who would that be hurting as long as nobody but us knew it?

DEAR MY: Your "dream" sounds like a plot for a grade "B" movie. Wake up! You're courting disaster with such hazardous notions.

DEAR ABBY: A woman signed "IGNORED" wrote to complain that her husband made it plain that he preferred the TV set to her, and you replied: "Maybe it's because he can turn off the TV when he wants to."

You should have added that he can also turn the TV "ON" when he wants to.

DEAR ROBERT: I would have, had I thought of it. Thanks for the assist!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GOT THE BLUES": Chin up, honey. A big disappointment today could be a blessing in disguise tomorrow.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the housewife who said her husband got all kinds of offers from willing women to have coffee and "something" while making a delivery: I've been installing phones for five years, and the most I've ever been offered was a cup of coffee and a piece of cake.

I hope all wives whose husbands make deliveries and service calls don't think their husbands are fooling around. They aren't. Believe me, I know.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOREN: Superstar misses you. Please call your mother collect immediately.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Could Be Our Catch-Up Budget

The General Assembly has approved a 1973-74 fiscal year budget of $2.9 billion, the first single year budget for the state.

The budget does much for education, providing funds for a kindergarten system and limiting class size. Some $33.4 million was appropriated for extending the working period for public school teachers from 187 to 200 days. The budget provides funds to limit classes to 26 students in grades one through three, 33 students in grades four through eight and 35 per class or 150 per day teacher in the high school grades.

The budget also provides $25.4 million for capital construction and $14.3 million to expand programs for the community colleges and technical institutes. There will also be $2.2 million to provide salary increase over and above the five percent general increase.

In higher education $66.2 million was set aside for matching funds for private colleges and $7.5 million was set up as a reserve fund for a new medical school.

There is $4.5 million in the budget for a new State Art Museum and $575,000 to renovate the governor's mansion.

In the state parks system $11.5 million was provided for land acquisition and $2.5 million for improvements and new facilities at present parks.

Enrichment funds were provided in the fields of criminal justice and law enforcement including the authorization for 100 new highway patrolmen and the hiring of 50 process servers which will free 50 patrolmen for other duties.

Five percent pay raises were provided for state employees and public school teachers.

In the health and social services field there were additional funds for mental health care, aid to local health departments and incentive funds to encourage physicians to locate in rural areas.

The Legislators will come back next year and develop a budget for 1974-75. It is expected that budget will run $2.75 billion and it will embrace the salary increases authorized in this year's budget.

All-in-all the legislators took care of some major deficiencies in public education and in other areas with the huge surplus this year. While a tax cut would have been nice we could not really say that the state was rich as long as legitimate needs were not being met.

Thus we feel the legislators did the right thing to resist temptations for major tax cuts. This is particularly true with the uncertainty of the federal revenue sharing program. We also have to face the possibility that the economy will not always be so rosy from year-to-year and a tax cut made now would have to be reinstated in the future.

Unfortunately the Legislature made some specific cuts in taxes in various areas. While there might have been reasons for such cuts, we doubt the wisdom of them at a time when the general tax payer is being required to continue to carry his full load.

On the whole, however, it is a good budget. Perhaps it might be described as a catch up budget in the general field of education and the reserve fund for a new medical school and the kindergarten program will help chart the future course of the state into new areas of service.

North Carolina should see much improvement in several services because of the funds available in the 1974-75 budget.

Plans Training Of Politicians

By BRYAN HAISLIP
DURHAM, N.C. — You're bright, young and interested in politics. How do you learn the campaign skills and mass communication techniques that make for political success?

BRYAN HAISLIP

The answer for you could be a school for politicians getting started at Duke University.

The idea for the two-year program, said Dr. Walter De Vries, is to identify potential leaders for the state and to instruct them in the proven modern methods for getting elected to office.

If it works as well in North Carolina as in other parts of the South, he said, it could graduate candidates on the ballot in the class of 1974 and 1976.

Nationally noted as a political scientist, theoretician and author, Dr Vries came to North Carolina as a practitioner. He was the polling expert and strategy advisor on the staff of Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles Jr., defeated Democratic candidate for governor.

Transplanted Tar Heel His client lost, but the state won over De Vries. He left the faculty of the University of Michigan and moved his residence and consulting firm to Wrightsville Beach.

Now as associate professor of Duke's Institute of Policy Sciences and Public Affairs, he will direct the North Carolina Institute of Politics which begins operation July 1.

The Institute's basic purpose, said Dr. De Vries, is to "improve the quality of political life in North Carolina through educational programs in practical politics."

The students won't pay tuition. Their selection as Institute fellows will be subject to a screening by an advisory board through written applications and personal interviews. The choice will be based on individual leadership potential and political motivation, Dr Vries said, without regard to race, sex or party affiliation.

Twenty To Be Chosen

Twenty fellows will be picked this summer from a statewide list of about 100 applicants. They will be between 25 and 35 years of age, and reflect a variety of professional backgrounds.

The core of the Institute program will be a series of weekend seminars held in the Durham area, from September to June, De Vries said.

The range of subjects covered in the ten-month period will include the political culture of North Carolina and its cities, current problems and issues affecting state and local governments, campaign techniques, polling, political organization, communications, national political trends, and the profession of politics.

Faculty for the seminars will be drawn from the state's own top elected leadership, said De Vries, and also will include national and local political analysts. For example, among those the group will hear are Joe Napolitan, campaign consultant; David Broder, Washington Post reporter; and Richard Scammon, election analyst.

Time Is Ripe Timing should make North Carolina ripe for the program. The election of the state's first Republican governor of the century last fall clearly indicated a changing political order.

One result will be renewed candidate recruitment by the GOP, searching to extend its victory reach, and Democratic efforts to locate leaders to recapture waning voter favor.

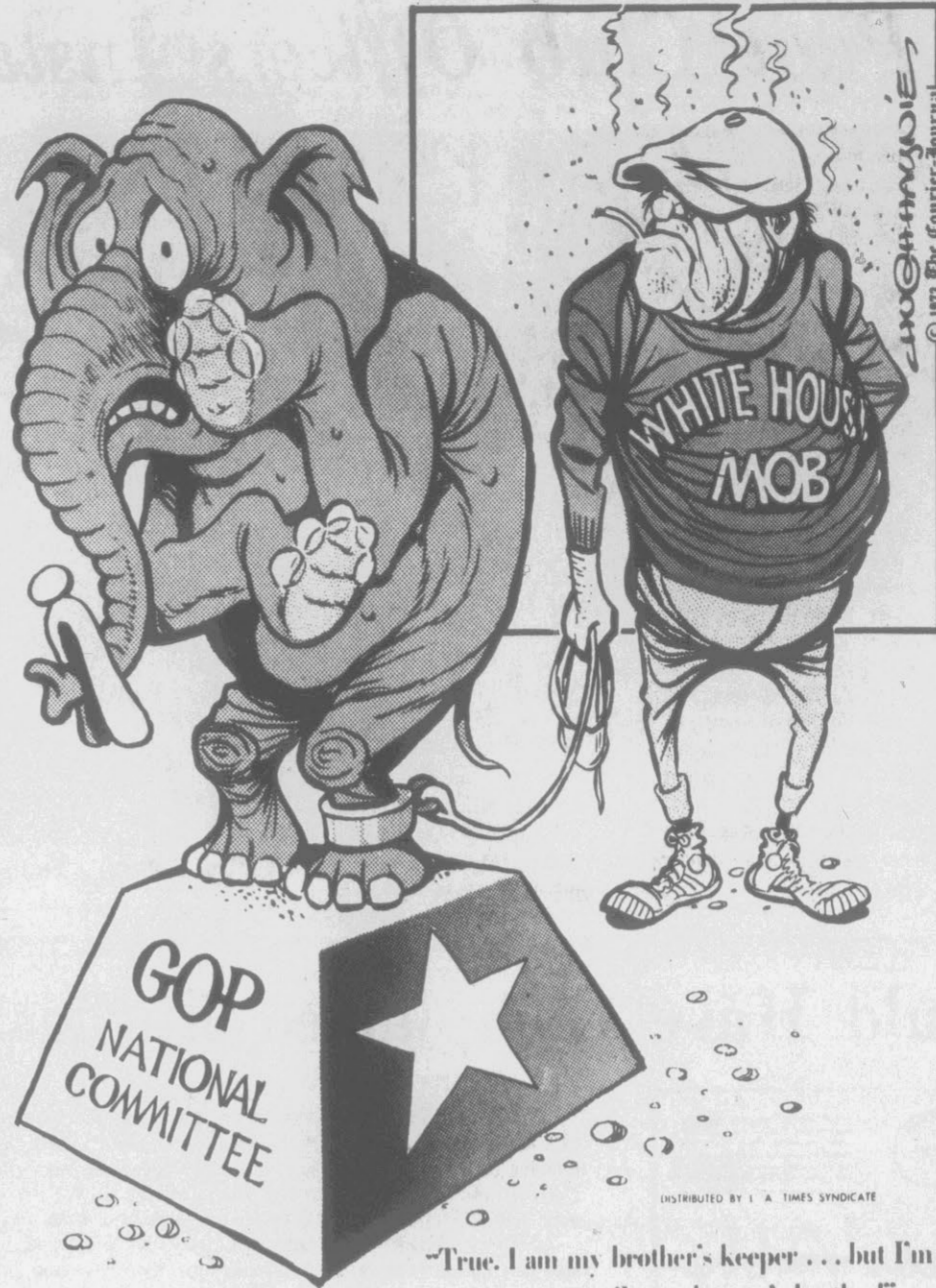

Ticket splitting as a phenomenon of voter behavior is a factor in weakening parties as the traditional training ground for talent. The old way of working up through the ranks has been eroded by public favor for new faces, and the disinclination of voters to respond to the party label.

De Vries is an authority on trends in voting patterns. He is co-author of "The Ticket-Splitter: A New Force in American Politics," a book which had a wide impact on campaign strategy.

The North Carolina Institute of Politics will be the fourth of its kind in the nation. The pioneer institute was launched in New Orleans in 1968. Its success led to the establishment of a Mississippi program in 1970, and one in Arkansas in 1972.

De Vries said that 80 per cent of the fellows who attended the institutes in New Orleans or Mississippi have either "run for public office or become involved in political campaigns." The Tar Heel program, he added, should be as successful as those operating in other southern states.

Fund-raising to support the Institute is now in progress. De Vries said most of the money will be raised within North Carolina, although some outside foundation sources also may be approached. The funds for the North Carolina program will be channeled through the Southern Regional Institute of Politics in New Orleans, a tax-exempt organization which coordinates the activities of the four programs in the South.

The Poor U.S. Tourist

LONDON — Probably no one has suffered more from the Watergate scandal than the American tourist.

Every time a new revelation comes out, the dollar is attacked by money speculators in Europe, and by the end of the day it's worth less than it was in the morning.

The other day I was standing in a London bank trying to cash a $50 traveler's check. In front of me was an Arab sheik with a porter's trolley on which were 10 large bales of American dollars valued at $10 million.

"It looks like you're going to have a pretty wild weekend," I said, trying to strike up a conversation.

"Oh, no," he said. "This is just some petty cash I found around the house, and I was afraid of being stuck with it. Tell me, do you think this Watergate business is serious?"

"One never knows," I said guardedly. "Why do you ask?"

"I have $30 million in the Rolls outside, and I didn't know if this would be the best time to sell them. Actually I hadn't intended to come to the bank today, but then I read in the newspapers that John Mitchell said he wouldn't be the fall guy in the Watergate. I decided that if he refused to be the fall guy, then President Nixon would have to be the fall guy, and if that happened, heaven knows what will happen to the American dollar."

"I'm sure President Nixon had nothing to do with the scandal," I said, trying to protect my 150 traveler's check.

"I'm not so sure," the sheik replied. "I've been watching the hearings on the BBC, and I've been very impressed with McCord's testimony. One of my wives said to me last night, 'Abdul, I think you should get out of dollars and into something more comfortable.'"

"That's silly," I said. "The Watergate will blow over, and then you'll be sorry you sold all those dollars."

"I thought that way myself until I read the John Dean III interview in Newsweek. If he can substantiate his charges, the dollar could go right through the floor. I have 100 million of them in my garage, and I would hate to be saddled with them just before I go on summer vacation."

"Sir," I said, holding on tightly to my traveler's checks. "I live in Washington, and I can assure you that the dollar has never been stronger. If I had the gold, I would buy your dollars from you right now."

"Perhaps," said the sheik, "but I have a rich friend, the Sheik of Quait, and he advised me to get rid of all my American money while I could. We small sheiks can't gamble with the few dollars we have."

The man behind us, who turned out to be the treasurer of a large multinational company, asked, "Would you mind moving up? I have to buy 20 million British pounds by noon or my president will have my head."

Things Worth Doing

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — There are 1,001 things to do today, and there isn't one I want to do.

HAL BOYLE

Not the largest, not the smallest — no, not a single one. Duty calls but the call falls on deaf ears. The necessary seems needless, the essential palls and becomes trivial. Everything loses its importance.

The common satisfactions that stud the ordinary day seem bland and unpleasing.

When life becomes that way, it is time for every soul to declare itself a holiday of its own — a day on which every man on earth is free to do as he pleases, and nothing is required or compulsive.

And if today were such a day, I'd like to — Hold a picnic in the middle of Times Square.

Plant a redwood tree.

Take a Brownie to lunch.

Dance a jog among the stones at Stonehenge.

Spend a day on Pitcairn Island talking to the descendants of the mutineers of the Bounty.

Stroll hand in hand through Hyde Park with Julie Andrews.

Skip rocks in the Mediterranean.

Send a CARE package to H.L. Hunt or Aristotle Onassis.

Judge a beauty contest in Bali and take the winner home as the door prize.

A New Gas Tax Is Considered

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Confidential talks between the Nixon administration and powerful congressional Democrats now point toward possible agreement soon on a five-to-ten-cents a-gallon federal tax on gasoline designed both to brake inflation and reduce demand for scarce gasoline.

Whether this still tenuous agreement includes President Nixon is unclear. What is not unclear is that the growing pressure for raising between $5 billion and $10 billion a year in higher taxes — despite Mr. Nixon's explicit pledge not to raise taxes — now has powerful adherents in the White House (presidential consultant John B. Connolly), the Congress (Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee) and the Treasury Department.

No one at Treasury is saying anything publicly, partly because Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz presumably opposes any tax hike. But the growing number of backers of an anti-inflation tax increase is now believed to embrace important Treasury officials, including Deputy Secretary William E. Simon, who is taking a more aggressive anti-inflation line than Shultz.

Also pushing a far more activist anti-inflation policy is Connolly, who spent more than two hours with Shultz and Simon on the question of inflation, a possible tax hike and related economic matters two weeks ago.

The tax under consideration is a flat five to ten cents on each gallon of gas. In addition to sponging inflationary consumer spending, such a tax would also reduce demand for gas. With the energy squeeze now threatening a major crisis, gasoline is already drying up at some gas stations across the country and "voluntary" rationing appears probable in the heavy driving season just ahead.

Moreover, any reduction in gasoline consumption might have a favorable impact on the balance of payments, reducing the import of both crude oil and refined products.

But the primary target of top-level officials now eyeing the gas tax is not balance of payments but the imperative requirement for President Nixon to make a psychological breakthrough on the inflation front. A tax calculated to raise around $8 billion, more than enough to balance the federal budget in the year starting July 1, would be dramatic evidence abroad — and for inflation —

Other Editors Say A First For Admen

(Jacksonville Daily News)

The great gasoline crisis — or threatened crisis — has resulted in at least one noteworthy change in the American way of doing things:

This has to be the first time in advertising history that an industry is asking its customers NOT to use its product, or to use as little of it as possible.

Only a few years ago the major oil companies were sponsoring campaigns aimed at encouraging Americans to get out on the road and see the country and drive, drive, drive.

Today, some of them are running ads not only telling drivers how to cut down on gas consumption by adopting better recommending that they leave their cars at home and take public transportation when they can or join a car pool.

All of this, of course, is good public relations as well as a public service, for the oil companies can sell every drop of gasoline that can refine today.

Not surprisingly, automobile advertising has begun to latch onto the same theme, particularly by the makers of small foreign cars who are touting the miserly consumption characteristics of their models. Knowing a trend when they spot one, the sellers of all kinds of other products and services can be expected to join the crowd if the fuel shortage persists.

Imagine, for instance, a conservation-oriented ad campaign for a cigarette: "If you'd walk a mile for a Gasper, then walk it! Don't drive. Help save gasoline."

Or a transportation company: "It's such a pleasure to take the bus and leave the driving to us and know you aren't contributing to the fuel shortage."

All levity aside, current gasoline advertising is not only something new under the American sun but a portent of what may lie ahead of us as minerals and resources shortages, the end of food surpluses, the need for pollution control and concern over the environment all combine to move the nation from an economy of abundance to, if not an economy of scarcity, at least of frugality.

Instead of "Use it up, throw it away, get another," it's going to be "Use it sparingly, make it last, do without."

Strength For Today

STAIR BUILDING A carpenter to whom I once talked noted that stairs are particularly hard to build. "In fact," said the carpenter, "stair building is an art in itself."

Stair building is also a very difficult, but very rewarding art if we conceive of it as a means of lifting ourselves to something higher and better. Some people believe that they can take the elevator and go from the clerkship to the presidency of their company. Other people hope that influential friends will take them on their backs and carry them upstairs. But these illusions usually have little substance and leave the people who hold them at the bottom of the staircase.

Whether it be in the field of career, morals, or education, if we want to be better next year than the last, we will have to build our own stairs to our objective and them mount them. And this is the only procedure which will give any sense of achievement once we have reached the top.

Banks Look To Small Investor

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As Wall Street begins to get frantic over its loss of the small investor, who was unceremoniously showed to the door four or five years ago, other institutions are thinking of moving into the breach.

Commercial banks, for example, have long been able to provide a stock-buying service for their customers, although none of the prominent ones broadcast the fact.

As a courtesy, more or less, the bank merely processed the order for the customer and charged a small fee for doing so. It sent the order on through a broker at the unusual commission.

Now that the small investor is wary of Wall Street and often suspicious of brokers, some banks are thinking of expanding the service. A few have.

This month the Chase Manhattan of New York and the Security Pacific National of Los Angeles offered to deduct as little as $20 or as much as $500 from its customers' checking accounts in order to buy stock.

The money deducted will be pooled for the purchase of any of 25 securities each month, with the customer paying the brokerage fee and a bank charge of 5 per cent of the amount purchased. The customer selects the stock.

While this seems to be just another middleman between the small investor and the market, it does offer a partial remedy to some of the biggest problems encountered by individual stock buyers.

Poor record-keeping, for example, has been one of the great weaknesses of the securities industry and probably has done as much as anything to scare away investors.

Banks, however, are clearly better record-keepers than brokers. The banks, moreover, can demand service. Being institutions — which Wall Street today doesn't know whether to love, fear or just respect — they can demand efficiencies of service and discount prices by volume buying.

Many investors will recall that this arrangement sounds very much like the old Monthly Investment Plan once heavily promoted by brokers as the route to people's capitalism.

For as little as $40 a month or a quarter, the MIP permitted individuals to buy shares or fractions of shares on a regular basis and thus, it was said, to participate in the great American wealth-making machine.

For this opportunity, brokers charged a fraction of a point more than other, larger investors paid for the same stock, an amount probably equal to what the banks now will charge for their services.

N.C. Medical . . .

Dr. Albanese decided to live "out there" despite the fact he was used to the facilities of Georgetown University in Washington D.C., where he received his degree. "When I left Georgetown I went into the Navy and I was stationed at Norfolk. After I got out, I heard about this place and I just kind of stayed here."

To keep up with the demand, Dr. Albanese keeps longer office hours than many doctors: 9-5 Monday through Friday and 9-12 on Saturday.

"With the hospital here, most of the people are conditioned to coming in here when they are sick rather than calling me to come out," Dr. Albanese said. "The hospital has good nurses and when the people get there, I can treat a lot of things over the telephone. If they're really sick, I can get out of bed and go to the hospital myself."

Dr. Wallace Woolee, dean of the East Carolina University one-year medical school, says there is "only one way to get more doctors, and that's to create more places in our medical schools. If we educate our own men and women, there is a greater tendency for them to come back to their home areas to practice."

The report to UNC's Board of Governors agreed in part with Woolee: ". . . It must be recognized that the doctor is an indispensable member of the medical team, the key member. Unless institutions in North Carolina are training a substantial number of doctors, there will be a continuing risk that too few of our residents will study medicine. . . . More than half of all the doctors in the country practice in the state where they lived prior to undertaking medical training." However, said the report, "it is clear that the problem of health care delivery is not simply one of the production of additional doctors. The problem is also one of the distribution of doctors and of getting a sufficient number to go into primary care fields" such as general practice, pediatrics, internal medicine and obstetrics-gynecology.

A second solution to the shortage proposed in the report is the expansion of state aid to private medical schools. "In 1969," said the report, "recognizing the important contributions made to the medical care of North Carolinians by the Bowman Gray and Duke Medical Schools, and recognizing also the serious problems being encountered by these institutions because of the rapidly rising costs of medical education, the North Carolina General Assembly for the first time provided public funds to assist in the education of North Carolina at these institutions. For the 1969-71 biennium, there was an appropriation of $2,500 for each newly enrolled North Carolina student at each institution."

The report recommends that the appropriation be increased to $6,000 for each North Carolina student enrolled at Duke and Bowman Gray beginning in 1975-76.

In addition, an appropriation of $65,000 was granted in the last biennium to Meharry Medical School in Nashville, Tenn., for the enrollment of 20 North Carolina students. This program was begun in 1949.

The Medical Care Commission loans medical students up to $2,000 yearly, which the students are encouraged to pay back with one year of service after graduation in an area defined by the commission as medically deprived. However, the loans may be repaid with money.

UNC's Dr. Fordham said he believes the program is beneficial, but not enough students are repaying their medical education in medical service. "You can't force them to pay it back in service, because if you do most of them will borrow from a bank instead at higher interest rates," he said.

The new doctor is then even further in debt when he graduates, explained Fordham, and is more likely to practice in an urban area where he can make more money.

He added that a recent program at UNC enables first-year students to spend at least one day at a clinic in Tarboro. During the summer between their first and second year, some students help at rural clinics in Appalachia. Third and fourth year students rotate through the state's community hospital system.

Duke University was the first medical school in the nation to develop a major program for training physician's assistants, which can be turned out in two years. Duke and Bowman Gray certify about 60 physician's assistants yearly, many of whom practice in rural areas.

Gov. Jim Holshouser has recommended to the General Assembly that direct grants be provided to doctors who will agree to set up practice in an area short of physicians. Sen. Charles Taylor, R-Transylvania, introduced such a bill which is now in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Whether the scarcity of doctors results from having too few, or is simply a problem of distribution doesn't matter, says Dr. Wayne Montgomery, president of the Buncombe County Medical Society. "You can get statistics on either side of the fence, but if you're sick you don't care about statistics, you want a doctor."

Appointed

RALEIGH (AP)—The appointment of Brig. Gen. William M. Buck as North Carolina's adjutant general was announced Tuesday by Gov. Jim Holshouser.

Buck has been serving as acting adjutant general since Major Gen. Ferd Davis resigned in February. Before that he had been assistant adjutant general since September, 1971.

The adjutant general is the senior military officer for all North Carolina's National Guard troops. The post carries the rank of major general.

Buck, 57, is a Rowland native who enlisted in the Army during World War II and was commissioned a second lieutenant after attending officer candidate school. He saw service in the Pacific Theater and was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

Before becoming assistant adjutant general, Buck owned and operated tobacco warehouses in North Carolina and Georgia.

Fired Into School Bus

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Police say a 14-year-old boy stuck a shotgun through a window of a loaded school bus Tuesday morning and fired at a fellow student he had been arguing with.

No one was hit. Lt. B.J. Smith, commander of the police Youth Bureau, said the angle of the shotgun through the window prevented anyone from getting hit. Most of the shot went through the roof.

The bus was filled with screams. Many of the 25 to 30 students tried to jump out the doors. Several got out before the driver was able to drive to a telephone a block away and call police.

The youth who allegedly did the shooting was held for a hearing Friday in Juvenile Court.

Police said the 15-year-old youth he reportedly shot at was charged with pulling a butcher knife on him shortly before.

"I'm not buying them with rubles," he said rather huffily.

The man behind him, who was three feet tall, said in a Swiss accent, "Vat's mit the walk? Move along."

"Who's he?" I asked the treasurer.

"He's a gnome from Switzerland. Every time there's a new development in the Watergate, he flies over here to buy German marks. With dollars."

"Why doesn't he buy them in Switzerland?" I asked.

"He's afraid if he does the Swiss will find out the dollar is in trouble."

"Will you hold my place in the line?" the Arab sheik asked. "I think I'll go out to the car and get the other $30 million."

"Certainly," I said, "but I have a favor to ask of you in return. I'm an American tourist and I was wondering if I could buy pounds with my $50 traveler's check before you cash in your dollars. I'm afraid if you cash in first, I might not be able to pay for my hotel room tonight."

The sheik said, "Are you crazy? What happens if they devalue the dollar before I get to the cashier's window?"

"Nixon wouldn't do that," I said.

"Aha, but what about President Agnew?"

minded American consumers—that one of the worst waves of inflation ever to wash over the American economy was at last being stemmed.

In addition to the gasoline tax, Connally and Mills, supported by the influential Dr. Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve System, are also pushing both Shultz and the White House hard for tighter anti-inflation controls.

Instead of following the lead of White House economists and interpreting the huge increase in the April consumer price index (nearly 8 per cent annually) as a victory in the anti-inflation battle because it was slightly less than the March increase, Burns, Connally and Mills were deeply disturbed by it.

The problem they face is named Shultz, and since Shultz's own future is part of that problem, it is as much political as it is economic. Shultz is wedded to a free-market economy and has never had more than minimum low regard for price controls.

Thus, if the powerful political firm of Connally-Mills & Burns, Inc., backed by some of Shultz's own Treasury aides, wins the battle for a tax hike and newly toughened anti-inflation controls, Shultz might resign. Whatever positive effect that would have on Wall Street, around the country it might be viewed as just one more sign of chaos and disorder in the Watergated Nixon administration.

But if Mr. Nixon could find time to persuade Shultz to endorse this anti-inflation tax, and a price control program with teeth, he could be certain that Mills and other Democrats truly frightened by runaway inflation would help enact it.

Mills, say intimates, has made that very clear to Mr. Nixon through private intermediaries.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After a slow start you find the latter part of the day is fine to think out a new course of action under which you can operate in the days ahead. Fine time for gaining the information you need. Take care of communications.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Handle your obligations in a most intelligent way and plan to make the future more profitable. State your ideas to others and gain their cooperation so they can be more successful.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Talks with monetary experts can bring the advice you need and will require careful study later on. Make plans to improve whatever property you may own. Take it easy tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are thinking very clearly now and can solve puzzling matters quickly. Attend the social affairs that can help you meet those persons who can help you advance in your career.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make plans how to properly channel your increased business affairs. You need to be alone with mate more if you are to have harmony. Make repairs in your home.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Showing good friends that you really like them is important now, since they need bolstering up. Repaying social obligations is wise. Show others you are a worthwhile person to know.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Engage in civic work that can bring you the goodwill of bigwigs who can help in your business. Learn to say no to whatever is wrong and against your wishes. Be resolute.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Find the right ways and means through which to advance in the near future. You can easily obtain the data you need from a new contact. Make the evening a happy one with close ties.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have unusual vision now and should use it to advance in your career. Come to a better understanding with mate so that there can be greater happiness and prosperity in the future.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ask associates questions and know what is expected of you and then try to please them. Discuss past agreements so there is better understanding. Do something thoughtful for mate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't permit others to take you away from the important work you have to do today. Persevere and you win. Do some shopping for apparel that will improve your appearance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Schedule your time cleverly so you can get your work done quickly and well. Use those talents you possess and become a very popular person. Taking health treatments is wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) The morning could be dreary but later you will feel more enthused and bright-eyed. Take time to plan a wiser foundation for your life. Do some entertaining in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those intelligent young people who needs careful guidance and should be taught to complete whatever tasks that have been started, otherwise your progeny could become a jack of all trades and master of none. Send to the right schools, and then this becomes a most successful chart. Give the right kind of spiritual training.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Yorty Unseated As L.A. Mayor

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thomas Bradley, a black whose Texas sharecropper parents came to Los Angeles 48 years ago seeking "a better life," has unseated Mayor Sam Yorty.

The soft-spoken Bradley, 55, will take office in July for a four-year term and, in the process, will become the first Negro mayor of the nation's third largest city.

Los Angeles will become the largest U.S. city ever to have a Negro as chief executive. About 16 per cent of Los Angeles' three million residents are black.

Bradley termed his victory in Tuesday's election "the fulfillment of a dream." He said he was told while growing up that, as a Negro, "you can't do this, you can't go there, you cannot achieve this position."

But he overwhelmed Yorty with more than 56 per cent of the vote, reversing the outcome of their bitter fight four years ago. Although the election was nonpartisan, both men are Democrats.

With all but one of the city's 3,169 precincts reporting, it was Bradley 431,222, or 56.3 per cent, and Yorty 334,297, or 43.7 per cent.

Yorty, who was seeking a fourth term, went to bed and refused to concede defeat.

Although Yorty won election as a state legislator, congressman and mayor, he lost in his bids for governor of California, U.S. senator and the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination. "Let us move forward," Bradley, a 6-foot-4 former track star and police lieutenant, told a victory celebration. "Let us save Los Angeles from the kind of decay that has overcome so many cities in our country."

As in 1969, Bradley and Yorty emerged 1-2 from this year's April primary, and Bradley went into the runoff leading in the polls. He blamed his 1969 loss on alleged racial attacks by Yorty.

There were similar charges this year; and as Yorty went to bed, he declared that the change to a Bradley administration "will be a very radical one and there will be a lot of people who wish they got out to vote."

His aides blamed his loss on a low voter turnout, particularly in the sprawling middle-class areas of the San Fernando Valley.

City Bus Served As Ambulance

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A city bus became an ambulance to get Mrs. Nellie Lee to a hospital in time.

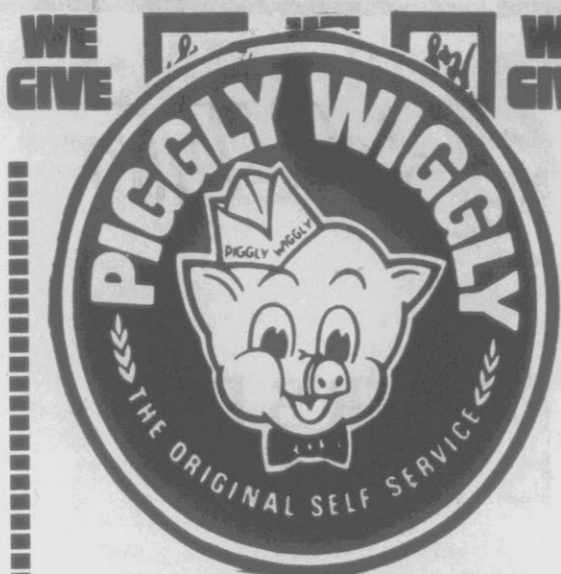

Bus driver Jerry Perrini spotted Mrs. Lee apparently ill at a downtown bus stop. His bus became her ambulance and the passengers served as attendants as Perrini plowed through morning rush hour traffic to Deaconess Hospital.

Mrs. Lee's doctor said she had suffered a mild heart attack and was "doing fine."

Winterville Bd. OKs $356,280 Budget In Meet

WINTERVILLE — The Winterville Board of Aldermen accepted the 1973-74 budget during a special meeting Monday night.

Adoption of the budget, which totals $356,280, is expected sometime in July. The budget for the coming fiscal year shows an increase of $86,630 over last year's figure of $269,650.

One reason for the increase is the fact that Winterville now has a full time police officer.

One of the largest expenditures in the tentative budget is for street improvements (funds coming from the federal revenue sharing program) in the amount of $27,340.

A special budget hearing, required by law, will be held Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the municipal building. The hearing will be held in conjunction with the monthly board of aldermen meeting.

A copy of the budget is available in the town clerk's office for anyone interested in reviewing it. The budget will be open for review for 30 days before final approval can be given.

A new tax rate has also been approved for Winterville. The new rate of $1.15 per $100 valuation has been lowered from the current $1.25 per $100 valuation. The decrease is due to the recent revaluation of property.

Contaminated Drugs Charged

RALEIGH (AP) — A federal grand jury here has indicted Abbott Laboratories of North Chicago, Ill., and five present and former executives on charges of shipping contaminated drugs from its Rocky Mount plant.

The 60-count indictment named: Herbert M. Gross, president of the hospital products division, and a vice president of Abbott Laboratories; Clarence J. Endicott, vice president of scientific and quality affairs, hospital products division; Robert T. O'Donnell, former director of quality assurance, hospital products division, now a stockbroker trainee in Chicago; Robert H. Otto, former plant manager, hospital products division, Rocky Mount; and Harry W. Howell, former quality assurance manager, hospital products division, Rocky Mount.

The indictment charges that the defendants caused various intravenous solution drugs that contained "viable micro-organisms" to be shipped in interstate commerce between Sept. 1, 1970, and April 1971.

Electricity Rates Rising

WINTERVILLE — New electrical rates will go into effect for residents of the town of Winterville, beginning with the June 1 billings.

According to Town Clerk Elwood Nobles, the bills will show an increase of 12 percent since February. A five percent increase was added in February and an additional seven percent will be included in June, making a total increase of 12 percent.

The Winterville Board of Aldermen adopted the schedule that is being used by VEPCO and Greenville Utilities for the months of July through October.

The new residential rate for 60 kilowatts is $3.45 as compared with $3, showing an increase of 45 cents. Commercial and industrial rates begin with a minimum of 80 kilowatts for $4.96 as compared with the old rate of $4.40, an increase of 56 cents.

Awards Won By Auxiliary

A spring luncheon meeting was held for the Auxiliary to the Pitt County Medical Society Thursday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Murad.

Mrs. Steven White, president, announced that the Pitt County Auxiliary had won two first place awards at the state meetings held in Pinehurst.

A first place award was given for having contributed the largest amount of money per member of the AMA-ERF. This is a fund (national) from which money is made available for loans to medical students who need assistance.

The second award was for having contributed the largest amount per member in the chapter having 60-100 members.

Officers nominated and elected for the 1973-74 year are: Mrs. Lee West, president; Mrs. Mrs. Skip Rand, president-elect; Mrs. Jack Koontz, secretary; and Mrs. William McConnell, treasurer.

Mrs. Elliot Dixon of Ayden, a member of the local organization, is N.C. State President this year.

Attend Brownie Day At Camp

More than 70 Brownies and their families attended Brownie Day at Camp Hardee Saturday.

Troop No. 97, with their leader Mrs. Floyd Mattheis, led the members in games during the morning. After a picnic lunch, Ann Fleming, assisted by Selma Wheelers, led the Brownies in songs.

Following clean-up, a friendship circle was formed and taps sung. The group was dismissed by Mrs. Wyatt Brown, Brownie consultant.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — Charlotte spot cotton report for Tuesday for staple lengths of 1, 1-32 and 1-16 inches, respectively:

Strict Middling: 42.50, 47.50, 49.00; Middling: 42.00, 47.00, 48.50; Strict Low Middling: 40.25, 44.00, 45.50; Low Middling: 37.75, 40.50, 42.00.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets steady Tuesday.

Supplies adequate, demand fair to good.

Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A, large whites: 58.65; medium whites: 54.72; small whites: 48.13.

Trading was light. "The market is still groping for a bottom," said Martin I. Goodfriend, analyst with Bruns, Nordemann & Co.

News that economic indicators were down last month for the first time in 2½ years, weakness in the dollar in foreign money markets, and the lingering effects of Watergate were all market depressants, brokers said.

Big Board prices included Southwest Airmotive, up 2 to 11 after a delayed opening; Ponderosa Systems, which reported a sharp rise in quarterly income, off 2½ to 5¼; Kresge, off ¼ to 39; Litton, down ¼ to 8%; and Gulf, off ½ to 24½.

Inch-Long Plea Netted $30,000

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A space filler in a church women's magazine has brought in $30,000 for relief in Bangladesh.

An inch-long filler was needed next to an article on human suffering in the Asian country in the June 1972 issue of Scope, magazine of the American Lutheran Church Women.

Mrs. Audrey Teeple, magazine designer, inserted a plea that, if each subscriber would donate 25 cents, about $80,000 could be raised for Lutheran World Relief for Bangladesh.

Beside a flood of quarters, "quite a few" gave $300 or $400, and one gave $1,000, said Mrs. Irene Sagebiel, director of stewardship.

Crumpler Southern's Athlete Of Year

Carlester Crumpler, East Carolina's highly regarded running back, has added another laurel to his fast-growing collection, as he was named the Southern Conference's Athlete of the Year.

Crumpler, who set records all over the football field last fall, was earlier named as the Conference's Player of the Year in the sport.

The 6-4, 203 junior was an easy winner in the balloting by the Southern Conference Sportswriters and Broadcasters Association. He polled 24 votes out of a total of 50 cast, easily outdistancing Aron Stewart of Richmond, who was the conference's Player of the Year in basketball. Stewart had 13 votes.

Crumpler set four new league records during the season, rushing 340 times for 1,309 yards, 17 touchdowns and 102 points. These placed him among the national leaders in rushing, all-purpose rushing and scoring.

Along the way, he helped the Pirates to their first outright Southern Conference football title and a 9-2 season. His coach, Sonny Randle, was also named Coach of the Year to complete a sweep of football honors.

Crumpler is the first East Carolina athlete to receive the Athlete of the Year honors in the Southern Conference.

In addition to his football abilities, Crumpler is also a member of the ECU track team, running the hurdles and relays. He just failed to qualify in the high hurdles event for the NCAA finals, running a :14.2. Qualification time was :14.0.

"We are extremely pleased to have Crump receive this honor," Randle said. "It is a fine tribute to an excellent football player who has shown everyone that he is a genuine All American performer. Of course, our staff looks forward with great pleasure to having him back for another year."

Optimists In Upset Victory

The Optimists knocked off one of the top teams in the North State Little League for the second time in as many weeks yesterday, as they bombed the Kiwanis, 19-1.

The loss knocked the Kiwanis out of a share of first place as their record tumbled to 4-3. The Optimists are now 3-4.

The Optimists started their scoring in the second inning, scoring three runs. David O'Brien walked and moved up on a wild pitch. Patrick Wilson singled and Jim Kern reached on an error, scoring O'Brien. Glenn Moore walked to load the bases. Mac Stokes singled in Wilson and Jim O'Brien walked forcing in Kern.

In the third, the Optimists broke it wide open, scoring seven runs. Bernie Campbell led off with a single and took second on a passed ball. David O'Brien was hit by a pitch as was Sammy Hodges. Wilson hit a sacrifice fly to score Campbell, and Kern reached on an error, bringing in O'Brien. Stokes then cracked out a three-run homer. They weren't through, however, picking up two more before the side was retired. Jim O'Brien doubled as did Billy Dough. Campbell was hit by a pitch and David O'Brien walked, forcing in Jim O'Brien. Hodges then singled in Dough with the 10th Optimist run.

The lone Kiwanis run came in the third. Skip Hill walked and moved up when Ben Miller walked. Both moved up on a passed ball and walked to Stuart Motsinger and Tom Brown brought in Hill.

The Optimists added another run in the fourth. Moore walked and Stokes doubled. Jim O'Brien reached on an error, scoring Moore.

They picked up four more in the fifth. Keith Ward singled and Kern reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Ward. Moore walked and Stokes hit his second homer of the game.

An additional four scored in the sixth. Stokes hurled the victory, allowing only one hit by the Kiwanis. He struck out 14 and walked eight. The one hit was a lead-off double by Hill.

Cards Win Seventh To Climb Out Of Cellar

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer April brought nothing but showers for the St. Louis Cardinals but seven days in May have the Redbirds flying high again.

The Cardinals, who dropped 12 of their first 13 starts and left April with a 3-15 mark and a solid hold on last place in the National League East, ran their winning streak to seven games Tuesday night with a 2-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds as Scipio Spinks and Diego Segui combined for a 12-strikeout five-hitter.

It also was their 10th triumph in 11 games and lifted them out of the cellar for the first time since April 8. They climbed one-half game ahead of Philadelphia when the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the Phillies 9-3.

Elsewhere, Tom Seaver fired a three-hitter and struck out 16 as the New York Mets downed San Francisco 5-2 and cut the Giants' lead to one-half game over Los Angeles in the NL West, the Chicago Cubs trimmed ex-boss Leo Durocher's Houston Astros 7-1 and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Atlanta Braves 6-1.

American League scores: New York 7, Oakland 1; Baltimore 3, Kansas City 2; Boston 2, California 1; Minnesota 1, Milwaukee 0; Cleveland 9, Texas 7. The Detroit-Chicago game was rained out.

Stargell's 13th home run of the season helped the Pirates beat the Braves. Pittsburgh tagged loser Carl Morton for an unearned run in the second and added two more runs in the third on a pair of walks, a run-scoring single by Stargell and an infield out.

Joe Ferguson drove in four runs with a pair of two-run doubles, leading a 15-hit attack as the Dodgers whipped Philadelphia for their fifth straight victory.

The Dodgers have won 10 of their last 13 games and are 18-8 in May. They started the month in fourth place in the NL West, six games behind San Francisco.

Felix Millan's tie-breaking two-run single highlighted a four-run rally in the ninth inning that lifted the Mets over the Giants.

Seaver hit the sixth home run of his career in the fifth inning to give the Mets a 1-0 lead. He had a one-hitter entering the sixth but Tito Fuentes doubled and Willie McCovey broke a 2or-34 slump with his 10th home run of the season and first since May 12.

Jose Cardenal and Randy Hundley hit two-run singles in a four-run first inning and Rick Reuschel scattered five hits in the Cubs' triumph over the Astros, spilling the first Chicago visit of Houston Manager Leo Durocher since he resigned as Cub pilot last July 24. Rick Monday homered in the fourth.

Luke Walker and Jim Rooker scattered seven hits and Willie

Greenville Legion In 5-1 Win Over Brunswick

Greenville's American Legion baseball team, still taking a good look at its players, evened its record at 2-2 last night with a 5-1 victory over Brunswick County.

Randy Potter tossed the victory, scattering four hits. One of them was a homer, however, shattering his shutout hopes in the eighth inning.

Greenville, meanwhile, using 14 different players, came up with 11 hits, but condensed all its scoring into two innings, the third and sixth. Brunswick County's two pitchers, both finding the plate with regularity, recorded a total of 12 strikeouts, keeping Greenville's runners awake.

Brunswick had the first threat, in the opening inning. With two down, Rabon walked and stole second to reach scoring position, but died there. Again in the second, they threatened, as Mercer walked and Burney singled before an infield grounder got them out.

They also put up a threat in the third as Hunt walked and Rabon singled. But again, the Greenville defense came to the rescue to halt things.

In the bottom of the third, Greenville got its first baserunner of the evening as Al Heath singled. Dickie Johnson reached on a fielder's choice that was too late at second, leaving both safe. Potter then sided his own cause with a hit, loading the bases. Duncan Charlton followed with a double, driving in two runs as Heath and Johnson both scored. Potter, however, was cut down trying to third on the play and came home easily on J. C. Daniels' double.

Greenville had another threat in the fourth as both Griff Garner and Heath singled, but advanced no further. In the fifth, Charlton singled and stole second, but couldn't be brought around.

Then, in the sixth, Greenville added two more runs for its 5-0 lead. Stanley Cobb led off with a double. Then after one was out, Garner walked. Johnson singled, driving in Cobb, and moving Garner to third. Johnson moved on to second on the relay on the play. The two runners then pulled a double steal, with Garner scoring the fifth Greenville run.

Two more chances went by the boards in the seventh and eighth. In the former, Gil Whitford singled and stole second, only to die there, while in the eighth, Johnny Barwick singled, stole second and took third on a passed ball.

From the third to the fifth, Brunswick County didn't put a man past first, but they did in the sixth. Smith singled and was safe at second when Mercer's grounder was errored.

Then, in the eighth, they got their only run as Lang hit a one-out pitch out of the ball park. He was the last man for Brunswick to reach base.

After four games in as many days, the Greenville team takes some time off now, returning to action on Saturday when they entertain Wilmington Post 10 at 8 p.m. at Harrington Field.

Georgian Team Wins

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP)—Georgia Southern whipped Miami of Florida 4-1 Tuesday in the final game of the NCAA District 3 playoffs to move into the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., starting June 8.

It was the second time Georgia Southern had beaten Miami in the district tourney. In their first game last week, Miami was shut out 1-0.

Ranked sixth nationally, Georgia Southern lost its first game to Vanderbilt last week, then came back to win three consecutive games.

Georgia Southern scored three runs in the fourth inning when a single by shorstop Jorge Perez sent two home and the other made it in on a Miami error.

In the seventh inning, left fielder Carl Person knocked a homer over the fence, although it first tipped the glove of Miami right fielder Vaughn Flick.

Ernie Venet pitched the first seven innings and was credited with his 12th consecutive victory.

Georgia Southern had 11 hits, paced by centerfielder George Butler's three singles in four bats.

Graniteers In Upset Of Pepsi

The Graniteers, with only one previous victory, pulled off the upset of the year yesterday in the Tar Heel Little League, handing Pepsi-Cola its first loss of the season, 3-2.

The defeat left Pepsi still in first place in the league, but dipped their record to 6-1 on the season. The Graniteers are now 2-5.

Pepsi started the scoring in the first inning, pushing over a run. Mark Shank walked and was wild pitched to second. He took third on a passed ball and scored on Perry Worthington's single for a 1-0 lead.

The second Pepsi run came over in the second. Fred Matney walked and moved up on an out. He was wild pitched to third and Jeff Wilson walked. MacDonald Avery reached on a two-base error, allowing Matney to score for a 2-0 edge.

But that was all Pepsi was to get as Mike Moye allowed them only two hits the rest of the way, ending up with a three-hitter. He struck out seven along the way.

The Graniteers were also having trouble with Avery, getting only five hits the entire game. But they took advantage of what they got.

In the fourth inning, they pushed over their first run. H. L. Austin singled and moved to third on a wild pitch. Wade Dean reached on an error, scoring Austin.

In the sixth, the Graniteers struck for the winning runs. Moye opened the inning with a home run, tying it at 2-2. Austin followed with a walk and moved up when Henry Wooten reached on a fielder's choice and Dean grounded out. Mike Jones then lay down a perfect bunt to score Austin with the game-winning run.

DeBusschere To Join New York?

UNIONDALE N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets of the American Basketball Association have called a press conference today, apparently to announce the naming of Dave DeBusschere, star forward for the New York Knicks, as the Nets' general manager beginning with the 1974-75 season.

DeBusschere, who helped the Knicks to the National Basketball Association title this past season, is expected to play one more season for the NBA club.

The Associated Press learned that DeBusschere has signed a 10-year contract at $75,000 per year.

The 32-year-old DeBusschere was not available for comment TUESDAY.

Asked about the anticipated move of DeBusschere, Red Holzman, general manager and coach of the Knicks said, "I doubt if it will happen this year. Who knows?" The 6-foot-6 DeBusschere was selected for the fifth consecutive time last season to the NBA All-Defensive team, and it was his rebounding ability which provided possibly the winning edge for New York in the championship series against Los Angeles, which the Knicks won in five games.

He also has played in the league's All-Star game seven times.

DeBusschere joined the Knicks in December 1968 when he was traded by the Detroit Pistons for Walt Bellamy and Butch Komives.

In only his third NBA season, DeBusschere's leadership ability was recognized, and during the 1964-65 season, he was named Pistons' coach, replacing Charlie Wolf. He remained coach until midway through the 1966-67 campaign.

Yankee Power Makes Comeback

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Yankee power!

That long-absent commodity reappeared in New York Tuesday night, battering the Oakland A's 7-1 with four home runs, two of them by Graig Nettles.

Roy White and Bobby Murcer hit the other Yankee homers and Ron Blomberg, baseball's leading hitter, raised his average to .404 with two hits.

The offensive show against the World Champion A's raised the Yankees' team batting average to .268, third best in the American League. Besides Blomberg, the Yanks have Jim Ray Hart (.323) and Thurman Munson (.305) among the top 10 batters.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Boston edged California 2-1, Baltimore trimmed Kansas City 3-2. Minnesota shut out Milwaukee 1-0, and Cleveland outslugged Texas 9-7. Detroit's game at Chicago was rained out.

In the National League, Chicago defeated Houston 7-1, Pittsburgh beat Atlanta 6-1, St. Louis shut out Cincinnati 2-0, Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia 9-3 and New York beat San Francisco 5-2.

Boston's designated hitter, Orlando Cepeda, spoiled a five-hit, 10-strikeout show by Nolan Ryan, booming his seventh homer to beat California's fireballing right-hander.

Baltimore squeezed past Kansas City with Brooks Robinson singling home Paul Blair with the deciding run in the eighth inning. Blair had doubled and moved to third on a wild pitch before Robinson's hit brought him home.

Bobby Darwin boomed a leadoff homer in the seventh inning and that was all Bert Blyleven needed to pitch Minnesota past Milwaukee. Blyleven allowed just six hits.

Cleveland outlasted Texas in a slugfest. George Hendrick had three hits and three runs batted in for the Indians while Alex Johnson had three hits for the Rangers, who lost their 17th game in the last 23 starts.

Reliever Tom Hilgendorf earned the victory with 5 2-3 innings of two-hit relief. Jerry Johnson finished up.

Indianapolis Race Postponed For Second Time By Rainfall

By MIKE HARRIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Frustration ... gray, dismal frustration.

It was the overriding emotion during two futile days of attempting to get past the pace lap for the Indianapolis 500 mile race.

A steady drizzle Tuesday washed out the classic race for the second straight day, the first time in the 57-year history of the event that it has happened.

The race was rescheduled for 10 a.m. EDT today.

Thirty-one of the 32 remaining cars in the starting field managed to get in a parade and pace lap Tuesday before the rain returned.

One of the original starting field of 33—David "Salt" Walther's No. 77—was missing from the lineup then. It was the only car damaged seriously enough in Monday's multiple-car wreck to be missing Tuesday. Walther was seriously injured in the accident—a scant nine seconds after the false start of the race.

Speedway officials and drivers were apologetic in their remarks about the second wash-out.

Chief Steward Harlan Fenger told the second-day crowd of more than 175,000 that he waited for 4 1/2 hours before calling the race, hoping conditions would improve. They didn't.

"We have a very dangerous situation here. The track is not safe," Fenger said. The powerful, turbocharged championship cars cannot run safely on a wet track.

A.J. Foyt, looking for his fourth Indy win, was one of three drivers fined $100 each Tuesday for improving their positions before Monday's aborted start. The others were Steve Krisloff and Peter Revson.

The first rain delay Tuesday wasn't bad for everyone.

A braue hose on John Martin's McLaren had been seared in the Monday wreck and gave out on the parade lap Tuesday.

Martin had to go into the pits and would have missed the start of the race. The repair was made with the help of pole-sitter Johnny Rutherford's chief mechanic, Hughie Absalom, and some USAC officials, who helped Martin's crew get a new hose.

Martin was asked if the delays made him edgy. His reply apparently expressed the sentiment of most of the drivers, some of whom sailed a Frisbee in the pit area or napped during the long wait.

"I don't get nervous," Martin said, "I just get sleepy."

Two Foyts Seek Indy Victory

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —

There were two A.J. Foyts in garage No. 29 on the Speedway's Gasoline Row, and it was hard to detect which was more determined to win an unprecedented fourth championship in the Indianapolis 500.

"I don't see why we can't win it," said Anthony Joseph Foyt, Sr., better known as Tony, as rain peppered down on the metal roof after a second day's postponement of the big race. "Being in the eighth row means nothing to A.J. He could make that up in the first 50 laps."

The father of the auto racing star, a three-time Indianapolis winner, is a youngish-looking man of 60 who plays nursemaid to A.J.'s Coyote and that of George Snider, another member of the Jim Gilmore team. He is the head mechanic.

He was one of those most disturbed by the two days of rain-outs and the frustrating on-again, off-again starts, although his 38-year-old son took it in stride.

"It's exasperating," he complained. "Up every morning at five, getting the car ready, hauling it back and fourth between the track and the garage, fighting the rain. Pretty soon you get all whipped out. The younger Foyt holds numerous Indianapolis records. Besides winning in 1961, 1964 and 1967, he leads all active drivers in the number of miles driven in competition, 5,410; most Indy points, 4,950, and most leading laps, 324. He is the only driver to have started the last 15 races.

The father said he had learned to accept accidents such as the one on the opening lap Monday, in which A.J. was mildly involved but not hurt, but the same was not true of A.J.'s mother.

"She gets nervous—she'd like for him to quit," he said.

Bad Pitch Fouled Off

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Pitching coach Al Worthington of the Minnesota Twins pitched against the late Roberto Clemente as a Giant and a Red. But when it comes to Clemente, Worthington best remembers his early days as a New York Giant.

"One day in the Polo Grounds a pitch got away from me and I yelled 'look out' at Robert," says Worthington. "It was a high fast ball. Clemente just put his bat up and fouled off the pitch. I thought it had hit him in the head. He was an amazing hitter."

Wins Are His Chief Goals

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Ryun, world record holder for the indoor and outdoor mile runs and the outdoor 1,500-meter event, no longer runs for records. His primary concern is winning.

Ryun's new philosophy and approach to running was prompted by the introduction of the International Track Association pro tour last February.

"There haven't been the great peaks in my career this year," he said Tuesday, "but then there haven't been the valleys either. In a sense, my whole perspective has been lifted by pro track."

Ryun, admittedly now more at ease with himself after "years of pressure," is "running and finding it fun."

"It's a completely different feeling now," explained the former University of Kansas star. "My career could go another four or five years."

Ryun, in New York to promote the ITA's final meet of the season, June 6 at Madison Square Garden, has won nine of his 11 races—including the last seven—as a pro and earned $5,400. He could win twice that amount in the tour's final three meets—at Louisville, Ky., Friday night, at Richmond, Va., Saturday night and at Madison Square Garden next Wednesday.

So Ryun, whose fastest mile time in the indoor pro season has been 3:59.8—compared to his 3:56.4 record and his 3:51.1 outdoor mark—will be running to finish first, not necessarily to set a record. "I've got to concentrate on winning first," he emphasized.

Chi Chi Avoids Jack's Tourneys

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus isn't here—which means Chi Chi Rodriguez is.

"At the start of the year," Rodriguez explained, "I try to find out which tournaments he's going to play. I skip those and play in the rest of them. That's the only way you can make any money."

Rodriguez was out of action last week when Nicklaus scored his fourth victory of the season in the Atlanta Classic, but the little Puerto Rican was one of the early arrivals for the $200,000 Kemper Open, which begins

Thursday. Rodriguez, a winner in the Greater Greensboro Open a couple of months ago, stamped himself one of the leading contenders for the $40,000 first prize here when he toured the long, tough, 7,278-yard par 72 Quail Hollow Country Club course in 67 in a practice round Tuesday.

The co-favorites, however, are Lee Trevino and Australian Bruce Crampton, both among the missing when Nicklaus took over the No. 1 money winning spot last week with a $176,064 total.

Pinch Increasingly Felt In Bulk Gasoline Sales

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
The fuel shortage has ended bidding battles by major oil companies for bulk contracts, and some states and cities around the country are having difficulty getting supplies, even at higher prices.

Urban transit authorities also are feeling the crunch. About 30 have received notices of fuel curtailment, and at least two face the threat of having to cut back service.

Spokesmen said motorists in North Carolina likely will have enough gasoline to carry them through the peak-driving summer months and beyond. They said the greatest supply problem now is low-lead gas, which costs less and is less polluting. Bill Hunter, Charlotte service station owner and former president of the North Carolina Service Station Association, said, "You're going to see fewer stations, but there'll be enough gasoline. The driver may have to buy a different brand, but he'll have enough."

Bulk buyers traditionally have purchased surplus fuel the major companies had left after supplying their stations. They got annual contracts and bargain prices.

Now the shortage has created a seller's market. The companies say they don't want to bid because they don't have the supply to meet the over-all demand. Observers note they also make more money on their retail trade.

New Jersey invited 24 firms to bid on a bulk gas contract and got one response. Frank M. Papale Jr., director of the state's Division of Purchase and Property, said the bill will be $384,000 more than last year.

Dallas County in Texas will pay 50 per cent more for fuel under its new contract and Los Angeles County, 67 per cent.

Linwood F. Ross, state purchasing agent for Maine, feels "we were lucky to get even one bid" on a new fuel contract. The price per gallon jumped six cents and will cost the state an additional $500,000.

The American Transit Association surveyed 90 city transit companies and found one-third reported that they had received fuel curtailment notices. But it noted most had not had to reduce services yet.

The Metropolitan Transit Commission in Minneapolis needs about six million gallons of fuel annually for the 720 buses it operates in a seven-county area. It accepted its only bid—for 3.8 million gallons at 14.9 cents, compared with 11.88 last year.

"We'll have to go out and try to hustle the rest," said executive director Camille Andrus. Unless more fuel is made available, he said, the prospect now is for curtailment of routes.

"The industry simply is not soliciting this kind of (bulk) business," notes Jack Rehberg, director of the Montana Petroleum Association. Would-be buyers will have to compete in the market place for fuel just like everybody else, he said.

Escapee Is Shot In Bid

RALEIGH (AP) — A prison escapee suffered minor leg wounds when he was shot while being recaptured Tuesday, the state Department of Corrections reported.

Area Corrections Administrator H. M. Lily said Larry Wayne Carroll, 20, of Durham, was in good condition in Central Prison Hospital.

Lily said a corrections officer shot Carroll when he broke and ran while a corrections officer was attempting to handcuff him near Chapel Hill.

Carroll was one of three inmates who escaped from the Orange County prison unit at Hillsborough Monday evening. One of the others, James Lane, 22, of Fayetteville, was caught near where Carroll was apprehended. The third, Charlie Davis, 50, of Hillsborough, was still at large.

Carroll is serving two years for assault, Lane 2 to 4 years for conspiracy to distribute heroin, and Davis 12 months for drunken driving.

Carowinds Soon To Be Open Daily

CHARLOTTE — Two exciting new attractions, a 2½-mile monorail system and a multi-media Carolina Heritage Show, will premiere on Saturday, June 2, when CAROWINDS begins its daily summer operation.

The Governors of North Carolina and South Carolina also will be among the special guests at the Grand Opening ceremony that morning at 9 o'clock.

The pageantry heralding the new summer season will include music by bands from both Carolinas, appearances by Miss North Carolina and Miss South Carolina and area congressmen and, of course, the launching of thousands of balloons.

Following the ceremony, at 10 a.m., the new 73-acre park will be officially open for the summer with daily operating hours extended from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. The summer schedule will continue through Labor Day, when weekend operations will resume through Thanksgiving.

More than a quarter-million guests have enjoyed the 100 rides, live shows, shops and other attractions during the Spring weekend operation which began March 31.

This summer four sleek electric trains will be taking 100 passengers each on a 2½-mile monorail trip over the entire 1,000-acre CAROWINDS complex. The ride will take guests from the Contemporary Carolina section of the park across the parking lot, through the hotel site near I-77, then along the Avenue of the Carolinas, over a five-acre lake and back into the park. A charge of 75 cents will be made for the monorail tour, the only attraction not included in CAROWINDS one-price ticket.

The summer opening also marks the premiere of the Carolina Heritage Show, a spectacular multi-media description of three centuries of Carolina history. The show is produced with the use of 30 slide projectors, five 16mm movie projectors and a huge screen in the 260-seat Heritage Theatre. CAROWINDS' 73 acres of fun is located on Interstate 77, midway between Charlotte, North Carolina and Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Still Time To Join Tour

Ed Yancey, Pitt County agricultural service extension chairman, said today "There is still time for you to reserve your place on the Pitt County Livestock Tour" scheduled for June 7 and 8.

The tour is sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, Pitt County Livestock Development Association and Southern Railway.

Bus transportation for the two-day trip is being provided at no cost to the participants, Yancey said, "and several stops in southeastern North Carolina are planned."

Pork production (including a visit to the N.C. All American pork producer's farm), steer feeding, soybean processing, costal bermuda processing and cow-calf operations will be featured on the tour, with time being provided for viewing the operations and visiting with managers and owners about points of interest, Yancey explained.

The tour participants will assemble at the Pitt County fairgrounds with the bus scheduled to leave at 8 a.m. June 7. Return is scheduled for 5 p.m. June 8. The tour will spend the night in Lumberton.

Steve Riccick, assistant agricultural extension agent said farmers, businessmen and others interested in making the tour should call 758-1196 as soon as possible.

Ape Responded To Kissing Film

LONDON (AP) — London's Chessington Zoo says it showed a movie of chimpanzees kissing and cuddling to a chimp named Cressida and she was "overcome with passion."

"Apes seem to respond in much the same way as humans to sex shows," said zoo official Andy Bowen after the experiment with a television documentary made four years ago by the British Broadcasting Corp.

Bowen said the zoo plans to show its chimps "more explicit" monkey movies and "we hope to have the patter of tiny chimpanzee feet here very soon."

The 'Worry Clinic' So Many Just Need Sympathy

Dr. Rundle has neatly diagnosed a major problem of medicine. Taxes would drop and church budgets would thus be much easier to meet, if we could divert 50,000 psychosomatic patients from physicians to clergymen and church organizations!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

CASE X-520: Dr. Frank Rundle is an astute physician. "Dr. Crane," a prison official informed me, "Dr. Rundle recently diagnosed one of the most crucial problems of our inmates.

"For he said that most men in prison are incredibly in need of psychological attention.

"They yearn for human warmth and concern.

THORNSBY by Fred McLaren

"For your gracious acceptance of my coffee this morning I'm giving you the Bobby Fischer Charm Award."

"Dr. Crane, isn't that also a chief reason why older people make it a habit to descend on physicians regularly for placebos and a little fatherly advice?"

For wives (as well as husbands) learn to lean upon their mates for companionship, conversation, compliments and comfort.

Widows thus feel an overwhelming urge to be consoled and uplifted by masculine words.

Clergymen and physicians are the two major professions that such lonely oldsters feel they can consult.

But they realize they dare not impose on the preacher every week.

If they develop psychosomatic ailments, however, then it will seem legitimate to schedule a weekly appointment with a physician.

For they pay him his fee, so they are not embarrassed by the sense of unrequited obligation they would suffer if they barged in upon their clergyman chronically.

Besides, they grow unduly apprehensive about their health after they have lost their mate.

For now they may be all alone in the house.

"Suppose I should fall and break my hip!" they wonder.

"Or maybe I might have a heart attack or a stroke!"

These worries are magnified because they realize nobody else is in their home to look after them or phone the doctor.

So they grow increasingly obsessed with their "innards."

For marriage extroverts a person by making him focus at least part of the time on his mate.

But when the latter is gone, this external object for affection,

Opening lead: King of ♠
Altho North had six-card trump support for South's one heart opening bid, his remaining distribution was not especially attractive, and his attempt to buy the hand at any cost resulted in a sound trouncing on the deal.

South opened the bidding with one heart and West overcalled with one spade. North did not hold the singleton usually stipulated for an immediate raise to four hearts, but we would not object to this call in the present instance, for by so doing, he would have spoken his piece with one bid and could leave any subsequent decisions to his partner's discretion.

East recognized that, with good trumps and a near solid suit of his own, he had an excellent fit for his partner, so he jumped directly to four spades. South and West passed and North persisted to five hearts, a highly doubtful call. His distribution is too balanced despite the fact that he holds six trumps, and the sacrifice could exceed the value of the opponents' game.

East passed and West chose to carry on to five spades. North refused to give in gracefully, however. His decision to bid six hearts was not far removed from madness and could only serve to offer the opponents a fielder's choice on the deal. East was not inclined to carry the contest any further, and he doubled to extract a full measure of compensation.

West led the king of spades on which East signalled encouragement with the nine. West continued with a low spade, since he wanted his partner in to return a club. East put up the ace of spades and dutifully shifted to the nine of clubs. South played the ten and West was in with the jack.

West exited with a diamond and East cashed two tricks in that suit. Another club came back and South had to lose one more trick in clubs. The total damages on the deal amounted to 900 points. This was a little less than it would have been had East and West carried on to six spades, which cannot be defeated, however, it was considerably more than the opposition would have scored had they been permitted to buy the contract at a lower level.

"priceless"
There are some things in life that have no price. At Stratford Arms we try to create an atmosphere that makes it a happy place to live.

Even though our apartments are reasonably priced some people think the attitude and atmosphere are priceless. Come and see and feel it. Serry we're all booked on 3-bedrooms but our 1 and 2 bedroom apartments are a delight.
