TOBACCO GOES INTO BARN — Under the shade of a shelter between two barns, the Stencil family of Gardnerville begins to put their harvested tobacco into the barns for curing. Alton Stencil said that he set out his tobacco April 11 and started harvesting it yesterday. Stencil said the recent hail storms did little damage to his 25-acre crop. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Food Prices To Run 12 Per Cent Higher Even With 'Freeze'

By DON KENDALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail food prices will average 12 per cent higher this year, even with the 60-day freeze and a promise of new Phase 4 controls by President Nixon, says the Agriculture Department.

Further, the department reported Tuesday, farmers may not produce as much meat, milk and poultry as it predicted earlier this year.

Production of such key crops as corn and soybeans also could be reduced by late planting this spring, lower yields and shortages of fuel and fertilizer, the report said.

The analysis, by the department's Outlook and Situation Board, spells further trouble for consumers and administration economic planners.

"The imposition June 13 of price ceilings on all retail and wholesale prices means that retail food prices for 1973 will probably average about 12 per cent above last year," the report said.

"In the absence of price ceilings, retail food prices, would probably have advanced further the next few months," the board said.

In the report officials said farmers are not increasing output of some items as much as believed earlier.

Although indicating that record crop production is still possible, the report expressed some doubt as to whether as much livestock feed will be grown as indicated earlier.

Farmers have said they planned to plant 74 million acres of corn, up 12 per cent from 1972. On that basis, the department projected earlier a record corn crop of about 6.0 billion bushels.

"However, the lateness of the planting season raises questions about both acreage and yields," the new report said.

Corn, along with soybeans, is the key to production of meat, milk and eggs. If those crops are short next fall, further rounds of high feed prices and cutbacks in food production are probable.

The report, although indefinite about corn and other fall-harvested crops said a record wheat crop is likely. Winter wheat, estimated at a record 1.3 billion bushels or 11 per cent above 1972, is being harvested now in the southern plains.

Hospital Plans Okayed By Medical Care Commission

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

Plans for the new Pitt Memorial Hospital have been approved by the N.C. Medical Care Commission. It is hoped that the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare will approve the indenture agreement for the $2 million loan soon, so bids may be let this summer. Hospital Administrator Jack Richardson told the Hospital Trustees.

The committee to rewrite the Trustee's bylaws has done its work, but the results will not be presented until County Attorney W.W. Speight has finished reviewing them. Bylaws Committee Chairman Dr. Don Tucker reported.

Trustees Leroy James and Glenn Strickland were asked to serve on a committee to think of ways to improve working conditions and improve morale among hospital employees.

Eugene James was appointed parliamentarian for the Trustees' meetings.

Business office and medical records personnel were commended for getting accounts receivable down so much in the past few months.

Dr. Lee West reported that several students trained in the hospital laboratory have decided to work here, seeming to bear out the Trustees' hope that participating in training programs increases the chances of having qualified help available.

John Stallings, director of the Hospital Pharmacy, told of the work of the pharmacy, which is open each weekday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and each Saturday and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

He explained that many items are bid on a yearly basis, so the hospital gets a price much lower than wholesale. Unit packaging is used for convenience and safety, but also so medications not used can be returned to the pharmacy and reused, saving the patient's money. Pricing is done on a set rate of markup for each classification of drugs, the injectables being the highest. There is a $5 maximum markup on any item. Pitt Memorial's prices are lower than those of most hospitals in the area, he said.

A medication profile is kept on each patient, for accurate billing, as well as a way to help prevent allergy and interaction of problems. There is a complex system of controlling dangerous drugs to prevent pilferage, Stallings said.

Doctor Reports Skylab Crew Is In Fine Shape

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin, the first physician to fly in space, reported today all three Skylab 1 crewmen are in excellent condition and "this gives me tremendous encouragement about future long-duration flights."

After 26 days in orbit, Kerwin said "right now the score is: man 3, space 0. But the game isn't over. Let's wait 'till we get home and look at the results."

Flying high above the earth in the space station, Kerwin, Charles Conrad Jr. and Paul J. Weitz answered questions from newsmen relayed to them by radio by mission control.

The conference, as they neared the end of their 28-day mission, was televised to the control center.

Questions focused on the medical condition of the crew, who have spent more time in space on a single flight than any other humans.

Kerwin, who has conducted exhaustive tests on all three crewmen in his onboard medical laboratory, said as a result of long exposure to weightlessness "there seems to be some body changes in some areas and none in others."

Conrad said, "The doctors may make me eat my words later, but I feel I'll be in better physical condition when I get back than I did on any of my previous three flights."

He said he felt riding a bicycle device for exercise throughout the mission "has left me in as good a shape as when I was launched May 25."

The commander said he thought their most significant accomplishment after all the initial Skylab trouble "is that we're turning over a 90 per cent operating space station to the next crew."

He referred to a number of problems that the Skylab 1 crew were able to fix with repair missions, including erection of a makeshift sun shade and freeing a stuck solar panel.

They planned to hold their third and fourth days of summit talks in the woodsy seclusion guaranteed by Marine guards and barbed-wire fences surrounding the compound in the Catoctin Mountains.

The two leaders spent about five and one-half hours together Tuesday, concentrating on the thorny issues of trade and economics. Two hours of meetings took place at the White House, the rest aboard the presidential yacht, on Nixon's helicopter or in the President's limousine.

Details of the face-to-face Nixon-Brezhnev discussions were not disclosed.

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Nixon and Leonid I. Brezhnev switched their summit talks to this hideaway retreat today after the Soviet leader sought in an extraordinary session with top senators to break down congressional barriers to expanded U.S.-Soviet trade.

Spokesmen said international issues and nuclear disarmament negotiations were on today's agenda, but by mid-morning the talks had not officially started. One official said there was no set starting time, and reported that Nixon was conferring with aides and advisers.

Nixon and Brezhnev flew here by helicopter Tuesday night after joining their top aides for a leisurely dinner cruise on the potomac aboard the presidential yacht Sequoia.

They planned to hold their third and fourth days of summit talks in the woodsy seclusion guaranteed by Marine guards and barbed-wire fences surrounding the compound in the Catoctin Mountains.

The senators said after the three and one-half hour luncheon of caviar, baked salmon, vodka and champagne that Brezhnev denied there was a "Jewish problem" in his country.

The husky 66-year-old general secretary of the Soviet Communist Party talked for nearly two hours at the meeting, then fielded questions from the 20 senators present.

At one point, the senators said, it appeared Brezhnev was seeking understanding from fellow politicians accustomed to dealing with tough problems. "I'm doing the best I can," the Soviet leader was quoted as saying in one discussion of the Jewish emigration situation.

One committee member, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said Soviet leaders such as Brezhnev "are not as hard as they used to be but they still are pretty tough."

Several hours later, after the White House meeting with Nixon and the cruise on the presidential yacht, the Soviet leader was at the Maryland retreat where his predecessor, Nikita S. Krushchev, joined President Dwight D. Eisenhower in summit talks 13½ years ago that led to the short-lived cold war thaw known as the "spirit of Camp David."

Blood Bank Nets 110 More Pints

At the final American Red Cross Pitt County Bloodmobile drive for the current fiscal year, 110 pints of blood were collected Tuesday at Burroughs Wellcome Company just north of Greenville.

"I want to thank the people at Burroughs-Wellcome who made this visit possible and I want also to express our appreciation to all who donated," Billy Ross, chairman of the Pitt County Bloodmobile stated.

Ross said there were 29 rejects during the one day drive at Burroughs-Wellcome. "The 110 units yesterday brings our grand total for the year collected to 1,988 pints against a quota of 2,380 pints."

Ross said the county this year fell short 392 pints of meeting its quota, and that a total of 359 rejects were recorded during the 12 months period.

The next Bloodmobile collection drive will be held at the Greenville Moose Lodge on July 11 and 12. It will be sponsored by the Boys' Club of Pitt County-Greenville.

Little Impact On VOA Operations, Says Jones

First District Congressman Walter Jones, following what he describes as "a rather extensive investigation", reports that any reductions in funding for the United States Information Agency should have little effect on the operations of the Voice of America — a USIA agency — in the Greenville area.

According to Jones, a house committee chairman — Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the State Department Organization and Foreign Operations Subcommittee — has proposed a 10 per cent reduction in the authorization for appropriations while the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has recommended a seven per cent reduction in funding.

Jones emphasized "even though shop personnel could be affected to a small degree by the reductions, it is not anticipated that any major reduction in force will be implemented."

The congressman indicated the construction of a new VOA transmitter — to replace an existing site located Okinawa — "will not be affected by the reduction." He explained that the new transmitter site is necessary because the Okinawa site will be returned to the Japanese within the next three years.

Sea-Going Pig Threatened By Regulations

MIAMI (AP) — A mysterious pig that survived a swim in the Atlantic Ocean may not survive government regulations — the U.S. Department of Agriculture has ordered it killed.

The pig, as yet unnamed was found by fishermen Sunday in the Gulf Stream, 15 miles off Miami. Other than being sunburned, salt encrusted and tired, it was apparently in good shape.

After news stories appeared about the animal, offers poured in from persons wanting to adopt it as a pet.

A doctor offered to let the animal roam his 15-acre farm in Broward County. The administrators of a school for exceptional children said they wanted to adopt the animal as a school mascot.

But the U.S. Department of Agriculture said that since it cannot be determined where the pig came from, government regulations say it must be killed.

An Agriculture Department inspector Tuesday took the animal from Mike Leadeley, one of the fishermen who found it and said it would be destroyed today.

An official of the Florida

Department of Agriculture earlier had said that pig would only have to be quarantined for 30 days.

"For all we know, he may have drifted up from Cuba," the official said. "I see no reason why the school can't have him."

But Dr. John Downard, head of the USDA's Miami office said that some months back, a shipment of pigs from Cuban to Canada had been found to be carrying hoof and mouth disease.

This has made officials extremely wary about letting suspect animals ashore Downard said.

The animal has one small chance for a reprieve, Downard said, if inspectors can find any markings that might indicate the pig came from the United States, he will not be destroyed, Downard said.

INSTALLING ANTENNA . . . Workmen yesterday installed two antennas near the top of a 150-foot tall tower erected several weeks ago beside the Pitt County Court House. The antenna will serve a new base station for the Pitt County Sheriff's Department and a new inter-city police communications relay station. Antenna now atop the court house dome will be removed when the new transmitters are placed in operation.

Couple Weds Saturday Afternoon

AYDEN — Ayden Little Creek Original FWB Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jacqua Susan McLawhorn of Rt. 1, Hookerton, and Ted Allen Harris, of Rt. 1, Snow Hill, Saturday at 3:00.

The Rev. C. L. Patrick, pastor of the bridegroom, and the Rev. David C. Hansley, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony. A program of organ music was presented by Ralph Bowen. Miss Pat Cox of Walstonburg, soloist, sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "Wedding Prayer" as the benediction.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Beddard McLawhorn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris.

The church was decorated with wedding greenery and a nine branch tree candelabra.

The altar was centered with a basket of white mixed summer flowers and a gold and white peu-deu, where the couple knelt for prayer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length white satin organza gown designed with a high neckline encircled with miniature scalloped floral Venice lace. Matching lace extended over the sheer yoke to the empire bodice. Appliques of Venice lace flowers with embroidered pearls in a scroll pattern also enhanced the bodice. Matching lace and pearls were featured on the silhouette skirt which was edged at the hemline with a double row of scalloped Venice lace. The lace was also featured on the cuffs of the long bishop sleeves.

The lace trimmed chapel length train extended from a bow of satin organza at the waist. She wore an elbow length illusion veil attached to a headpiece of Venice lace flowers banded with white satin ribbon. The bride carried a white satin and lace covered Bible centered with a white orchid, tiny streamers of white satin and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Kimberly Jean Harris, niece of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a formal length blue organza gown designed with a tucked bodice outlined in Cluny lace and centered with miniature blue covered buttons. Matching Cluny lace accentuated the empire bodice. She wore a picture hat of blue with white satin ribbons. She carried a white garden basket of mixed summer flowers with multi-colored satin streamers with shades of blue, lavenders, yellows, and pinks.

Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Carol Cahoon, cousin of the bride, Miss Paula Kay Hardy, Miss Debbie Ray Cunningham, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss Misty Gayle Lang. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor and also carried garden baskets.

Bobby F. Harris, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were John Beddard McLawhorn, Jr. and Shea Fields McLawhorn, brothers of the bride, Frank Patrick Harris, nephew of the bridegroom, and Dennis Lee Beam.

Flower girl was Miss Helen Allison Dail, cousin of the bride. She wore a formal length gown similar to the bridesmaids and carried a white basket filled with flower petals. Jamie E. Lang III was ring bearer.

At the beginning of the ceremony two separate candles were lighted within a group of three candles. At the close of the benediction, the couple together lit a single taper to signify their holy union in marriage.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughters wedding, a pink silk knit dress with a matching full length sleeveless coat. She wore a Georgianna orchid.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of turquoise imported silk with jeweled neckline and long sheer sleeves, with matching accessories and a white Georgianna orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Greene Central High School and plans to attend Wayne Community College in the fall.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Greene Central High School and is engaged in farming.

The couple will make their home at Rt. 1, Snow Hill.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. James Blanchard, of Rt. 1, Hookerton.

Reception

A reception was given by the brides parents immediately after the wedding in the church annex.

The reception hall was decorated in the blue and white colors chosen by the bride.

Mr and Mrs. Gene McLawhorn of Ayden greeted the guest and introduced them to the receiving line, consisting of the bride's parents, bridegroom's parents, the bride, groom, best man, maid of honor and bridesmaids.

The guests were then directed to the refreshment table, covered with a blue cloth overlaid with a lace cloth, accented with bows and greenery at the corner. The centerpiece was of mixed blue and white flowers with white burning tapers.

Mrs. Loede Cahoon, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake after the bride and groom had cut the first slice. Mrs. Jean Cunningham, sister of the bridegroom, poured punch.

Miss Norma Howell presided at the register and the good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby McLawhorn.

Those assisting with the serving were Miss Kay Cahoon, Mrs. Jean Harris, Mrs. Kay

Stocks, Miss Paula Sue Wooten, and Miss Jackie Murphy. Assisting the kitchen was Mrs. Josie Hagans and Mrs. Louise Harrison.

Pre-nuptial events honoring the Harris-McLawn wedding party included an after-rehearsal party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McLawhorn. Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Lang, Jr., assisted in serving.

On Friday night, the couple was entertained at a rehearsal dinner in the Banquet Room at the King's Restaurant, Kinston. Hosts and hostesses were the Wednesday. Hostesses were bridegroom's parents and his Mrs. Kay Stocks, Mrs. Peggy sister and brother-in-law, Mr. Stocks, Mrs. Rose Askew, Mrs. and Mrs. Ray Cunningham. Hagar Blanchard and Miss Lorraine Vandiford.

Arrangements of mixed spring flowers decorated the tables.

The honoree was presented a corsage of yellow pom poms.

For the occasion, the bride was wearing a formal gown of floral organza complemented by a white flower corsage.

During the evening, the bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Miss Jacqua McLawhorn was which the honoree has been honored at a surprise kitchen pianist.

Couple Speaks Vows Recently

MARLBORO—Miss Shirley Jean Butts became the bride of Hubert Dalma Hines Sunday, June 10, in the Marlboro Free Will Baptist Church.

The Rev. Bruce Barrow performed the double ring ceremony at 4:00 p.m. A program of wedding music was presented by Susan Parker, organist, and Nancy Parker, soloist, both of Farmville.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Thomas Butts of Rt. 2, Farmville, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of white bridal satin with a chantilly lace front. The gown was designed with a Queen Anne collar, long sleeves and detachable train. Covered buttons were used on the front of the gown and cuffs. The gown was designed by the bride and made by her grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Beaman.

She wore a mantilla of bridal illusion edged in chantilly lace with an elbow length blusher attached. The bride carried a Dutch colonial nosegay of daisies.

The honor attendant was Diane Mazingo of Farmville. The father of the bridegroom was best man and ushers were Wayne Butts of Wilson, cousin of the bride, and Tommy Butts of Farmville, brother of the bride.

After a wedding trip to the coast, the couple will reside in Fayetteville.

The bride is a graduate of Farmville Central High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Farmville Central High School and is serving with the 82nd Airborne Division, stationed at Fort Bragg.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church community building.

An after-rehearsal party was held in the community building for members of the wedding party and families.

Mrs. Bruce Barrow directed the wedding.

A Security Guard Is Safer Than A Gun

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I own a small grocery store in a very rough neighborhood. We have been here for many years and make a good living. Two years ago we were held up twice in 6 months. The robbers tied us up and cleaned out the register, but no real harm came to us. After that, my husband hired a security guard. Since then nobody has bothered us.

A few months ago someone told my husband he was foolish to pay a security guard—he should let the security guard go and keep a loaded gun under the counter. Abby, my husband has never fired a gun in his life—but he took his friend's advice.

I told my husband I wouldn't go in the store as long as he kept the gun there. He said I could stay home — he didn't need me. After working side by side with him for 35 years, I am hurt and heartsick. I am so afraid that if a robber comes in my husband will get excited and reach for the gun and the robber will kill him. That's the way it always happens.

Am I wrong to believe we are in more danger keeping the gun in the store? Or am I right? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You are right. Statistics show that guns kill more innocent people than robbers. And law enforcement experts would strongly advise against keeping a loaded gun handy. The security guard is a far better idea.

DEAR ABBY: Do you see anything wrong with entertaining a boy friend in your bedroom? I am 15 and Mike is 17, and I entertain him in my bedroom because that's where the stereo is and all we do is listen to records and talk. Besides, I have two little brats for brothers and if Mike and I didn't lock ourselves in the bedroom those kids would be running in and out and bothering us.

When my mother found my bedroom door locked with Mike inside, she had a cow. We weren't doing anything wrong. I don't know why she doesn't trust me. I've never gotten into any trouble with dudes.

What's wrong with listening to records in my bedroom? Please make your answer short because I don't like long boring answers. OKAY GIRL

DEAR OKAY: A bedroom is not an appropriate place to entertain your boy friend. Move your stereo to another room, don't lock any doors, and ask your mother to please discipline the kids.

DEAR ABBY: I am a grown woman but I am so ashamed I just can't tell the truth about something, and that is my problem. The daughter of a friend was recently married and I sent her a luncheon cloth and matching napkins for a wedding gift. She called me and told me the color doesn't go with her decorating scheme and she'd like to return it for another color.

Abby, I bought it on sale and was told it was not returnable. So what should I tell her? ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: Tell her the gift is not returnable. What else? And don't be ashamed. There is nothing shameful about taking advantage of a sale.

System Of Priorities Needed

Last week Sen. Jesse Helms said the Nixon administration had assured him tobacco farmers would get top priority, with other farm producers, in any allocation of gasoline and other fuels.

Made Changes In Labor Law

By BILLY CREEL
State Labor Commissioner
RALEIGH—The 1973 General Assembly enacted substantial changes in the state's minimum wage, maximum hour, and child labor statutes, and for the first time added an overtime pay requirement for North Carolina employees.

BRYAN HANSLIP

These important changes in the state's basic labor laws will go into effect on July 1, Sept. 2, and Oct. 1 of this year.

Starting July 1, employers of four or more employees in any one place of business are governed by maximum working hours of 10 hours per day, 56 hours per week, and 12 days in any period of 14 consecutive days. These maximum hours apply equally to men and women workers.

This section of the law has been changed so that several types of employees who formerly were exempt from maximum hours requirements are now covered. These include employees in motion picture theaters, hotels, male clerks in mercantile establishments, and auto mechanics working on a commission basis or on a combination of salary and commission, provided the establishment in which they are working is not covered by, or in compliance with, the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Sex Equality Noted
Several sections of the Maximum Hour Law were repealed or deleted from the law, either to eliminate discriminatory provisions based on sex or to remove requirements no longer relevant to current conditions in business and industry.

For example, businesses are no longer required to furnish seats for the use of female employees. Businesses may no longer apply to the Commissioner of Labor for special permission to work employees 60 hours per week in 'emergency' situations.

Employees 18 years of age and over who are "covered by, or in compliance with, the federal Fair Labor Standards Act," are still exempt from the daily and weekly hours provisions for the Maximum Hour Law. In actual effect, this means that the law has an impact only upon businesses not covered by the federal law.

Exempted Employees
If any business pays the currently applicable federal minimum wage, and pays time and a half for overtime after 40 hours per week in cases where the federal overtime provision applies, it does not have to limit employees working time to 10 hours per day, 56 hours per week, and 12 days in any period of 14 consecutive days. This provision of the law automatically eliminates approximately 1,100,000 North Carolina employees from coverage by the Maximum Hour Law.

A new section added to the Maximum Hour Law, also effective July 1, requires that covered employees be paid time and a half their regular rate of pay for hours worked in excess of 50 hours in any one week.

This overtime pay provision will apply to establishments have four or more employees and which are exempt by virtue of being "covered by or in compliance with" the Fair Labor standards Act, or otherwise specifically exempt from the Maximum Hour Law.

No realistic estimate of the number of employees who will be affected by this provision is currently available. Its principal impact will be upon retail and service establishments have four or more employees but not covered by the federal law because they are doing less than $250,000 gross annual volume of business.

Minimum Wage Up
Approximately 50,000 North Carolina employees will be directly affected by the increase in the state minimum wage from $1.60 per hour to $1.80 per hour on Sept. 2.

No other changes in the Minimum Wage Law were made by the legislature. All of the former exemptions remain in effect. Most of the 50,000 workers who will benefit from the $1.80 minimum are employed by small and medium sized retail and service businesses.

For the time being, at least until Sept. 2, the special student-learners minimum of not less than $1.40 per hour permitted by regulation of the Commissioner of Labor will be the approval of the State Apprenticeship Council, will remain unchanged.

Effective Oct. 1, minors (under 18 years of age) will no longer have to obtain a new employment certificate from their county department of social services each time they change from one job to another.

The new certification requirement makes the minor's original employment certificate good for the job described in the "promise of employment" and for any and all subsequent employment. Hazardous occupations, prohibited for minors by the State Child Labor Law or by the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, are still prohibited and will be indicated as being prohibited on the minor's employment certificate.

The new law makes the minor responsible for obtaining the employment certificate. This responsibility was formerly that of the minor's employer or parent.

The following day, however, the North Carolina Oil Jobbers Association said fuel for curing tobacco may be short this summer.

M.W. Stancil of Selma, president of the association, reported a recent survey showed North Carolina "could be several million gallons short in respect to heating oil for tobacco curing."

"We are quite alarmed over the fact that certain oil wholesalers have no prospects for fuel, and their customers could suffer."

Well we can accept the fact that there is a shortage of fuels in this country, but it is impossible for us to understand why a priority system cannot be established so that gas and oil will be available for essential purposes first.

Essential to us means any purpose which makes a living for a farmer or businessman or furnishes jobs in a given community. These needs should be taken care of before gas is used indiscriminately for joy riding, as so much of it is in this country.

Not only is the tobacco farmer facing the prospect of short supplies of curing oil but there have been reports of wheat growers running out of fuel for their harvesters.

This should not be. A farmer who cannot cure his tobacco or run his harvesting equipment and tractors is virtually out of business, with losses of huge proportions.

It would hurt none of us to do a few miles less pleasure driving each week; yet if this were done for every car in the nation there would be adequate fuel for farming and other essential needs.

The gas companies should see that the essential needs are met first. If the companies do not do it, then it must be obvious that the government will have to.

Daley Machine Is Now At Bay

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
CHICAGO — Besieged by two persistent young Republican prosecutors, the battered political machine of Mayor Richard J. Daley now faces yet another potential calamity: the prospect that Gov. Dan Walker will back a full slate of reform candidates in next year's Cook County (Chicago) Democratic primary.

Such an unprecedented move by the newly elected Democratic governor against the state's most powerful Democrat for 20 years would heighten the Daley machine's sense of being surrounded by bipartisan enemies. It has been hurt badly by investigations and indictments at the hands of those two aggressive Republicans: James Thompson, 37, U.S. attorney for northern Illinois, and Bernard Carey, 38, state's attorney for Cook County. For Walker now to make his own move against the organization would confirm the belief by Daley lieutenants that Walker is in league with the Republicans.

Although Walker's political operatives claim their current polls show Daley slipping, almost all politicians feel the 71-year-old mayor is still popular and probably unbeatable for a sixth term in 1975. His organization is another matter, however. There are signs of irreversible decline with far-reaching consequences for state and national politics.

A major contributor to that decline has been U.S. Atty. Thompson, probably the next Republican candidate for mayor. His high body count of indicted Democratic politicians has badly gummed up the machine. But, whereas Thompson supplies "the heavy bombers" smashing the machine, says one anti-Daley reformer, State's Atty. Carey provides "the infantry" to mop up. Carey's policing of the courts and polling procedures substantially erodes the organization's control of the vote.

As a result, ward committeemen in the Daley organization worry about next year's county elections. Some are pressing for purges of incumbents, particularly scandal-stained County Assessor P.J. Cullerton. Without new faces as regular candidates, they fear the reformers could come close in the primary. But such demands are inimical to the Daley system. Moreover, reform Democrats confide they will back moderate Republicans in the general election if they lose the primary elections.

For the governor to join this assault is intolerable to old-line Democrats. Even though Walker won the nomination for governor on an anti-Daley platform, the regulars expected him to cooperate with the mayor once in office in order to court the Daley bloc in the state legislature. But Walker, uninterested in legislative programs, has nurtured his anti-machine posture.

Contrary to rumors that it produced a secret accord, a May 22 closed-door meeting here between the mayor and the governor was an exercise in non-communication. Daley complained about Walker's patronage policy; Walker replied he has no interest whatever in patronage. Daley responded he ought to have a large interest in patronage.

The cold war in Springfield between Walker and Lt. Gov. Neal Hartigan, 35, a bright comer in the Daley organization, further illuminates the governor's attitude. Hartigan is totally frozen out of the state administration. He cannot get appointments to see Walker's top aides, much less the governor himself.

When Hartigan asked Walker for meaningful duties, he was informed that would require his resignation as a ward committeeman in the Daley organization. Hartigan refused, contending a resignation would repudiate everything he and his father, a Daley stalwart, had always stood for in politics.

In return, Hartigan has seized every chance to criticize Walker. Although Hartigan is acting on his own, (Continued on page 5)

The Great Liddy Plan

WASHINGTON — One of the proposals G. Gordon Liddy is supposed to have made to the Committee for the Re-Election of the President was to hire call girls during the Democratic National Convention and moor them on a yacht off Miami Beach. Liddy's plan, according to Jeb Magruder, was to lure Democratic politicians on board and photograph them in compromising positions.

The plan was vetoed by John Mitchell as being too expensive, but it probably wouldn't have worked anyway.

I talked to several Democratic politicians who attended the convention in Miami Beach and they were appalled to think that anyone would believe that they would fall for such an obvious ploy. One senator told me, "If we saw a yacht with a bevy of girl volunteers on board, we would have known right away it was one of theirs. Hell, we didn't even have enough money for bumper stickers."

An aide to one of the presidential candidates said, "We heard the Republicans were planning something like that so we gave instructions to our staff to stick only to each other."

"I've heard of some dirty political tricks in my time," a Southern politician told me, "but putting beautiful, young fresh, enticing, irresistible women at the disposal of the opposition party beats all. It is frightening to think that anyone in this country would use sex to pervert the great American political system. I hope we have learned a lesson from all of this, and that is when you try to buy an election with the bodies of voluptuous, breathtaking, willing women, you are making a mockery of the Constitution of the United States."

"Then," I said, "even if they had done it, you wouldn't have gotten involved?"

"I'm not saying that. If I saw a nice-looking yacht with some attractive ladies on board and they waved to me, I might have stopped by for a drink just to be sociable. After all, it was a damn hot convention. But if one of those lovely things asked me to go below deck to see the cabins, I would have replied, 'I would love to, young lady, but unfortunately I have to go and vote for Scoop Jackson.'"

A White House correspondent said he didn't think the Liddy plan would have succeeded without being exposed.

"Two hours after the yacht was moored, the word would have gone out that there was a hospitality suite serving more than drinks on the beach, and you would have had people standing in line all the way up to Fort Lauderdale. Somebody would have gotten suspicious and broken the story."

Another reason why he thought the plan would have failed is that the Liddy forces were so bad at electronics that they probably would have never been able to compromise the Democratic politicians on the first go-round. This meant the politicians would have to come back a second time, which for

Saving Rainy Days

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Children and grownups never seem to know what to do when it rains. rains.

HAL BOYLE

It is amazing what a little precipitation does to the world. Rocks and stones shine and vegetation grows when it rains. But otherwise it is hard to say much in favor of rain.

Rain makes the day darker, rivers flood their banks, traffic snarls, children whine, the dog refuses to go outside, horses stand forlorn on hills, people steal each other's umbrellas, husbands complain to their wives about the quality of the morning coffee, taxis disappear, trains run late, bus drivers deepen their usual scowls, lovers suspect the durability of love, secretaries sniff at executive commands, the boss pushes all the buttons on his desk panel so he can bawl out everybody at once, and even philosophers sneer and say they knew all along that life is only a snare and a delusion of grandeur.

All this just because it rained!

But the worst thing about rain is that it seems to numb and nullify all forms of human creativity. People just don't know what to do with themselves.

Actually, there are a lot of constructive things you can do.

Here is a list of them you might keep handy in case it rains tomorrow:

Stay in bed all day.
Get sick — if you feel like it. There is no better time to be sick than on a rainy day.

Do something mean — like calling up all your enemies and giving them hell.

If that doesn't get all the poi-

Credit of the first cotton blossom this year goes to R. E. Harris and Company, operators of the Pollard farm in Beaver Dam township. The first blossom last year was also produced on one of the Harris farms.

The public swimming pool movement inaugurated in Greenville last week, today hit a snag, and that snag is a financial one. It was stated by leaders of the movement today that unless financial assistance is forthcoming within the next 24 hours, the plan would have to be abandoned.

Strength For Today

REMOVING THE CRUTCHES

A woman who had apparently lost the ability to walk unaided and had for a long time used crutches was going upstairs one day when suddenly she fell, and her crutches rolled to the bottom of the stairs. She called for help, but there was no one else in the house. She knew then that if she was to rise at all she would have to do it unaided. So with much agonizing effort she finally managed to pull herself to her feet and descend the stairs.

Most of us have some type of crutches which we use day in and day out. Perhaps they are in the form of an undue dependence on other people, or a need for constant reassurance that we are needed and wanted. Or perhaps it is the feeling that we are exerting power over other people. With many people the crutches take the physical form of alcohol or drugs. If our crutches are suddenly snatched away from us it might seem at first like a catastrophe, but it might actually be a great stroke of good fortune. At last we have an opportunity to walk alone and unaided on our own two feet.

By Earl Douglass

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — T. Rowe Price of Baltimore knows how to make money in the stock market. For each $100 he invested in 1934 he has a "total investment accomplishment" of $8,274.20, made up of both income and market appreciation.

This is no "on paper" dream such as is indulged in by timid people. It is in paper, the kind you and I use to buy things we need. It is real and it has been accomplished through conservative, long-term investing rather than trading.

The sum is really quite modest compared to what could have been. Price earned liberal income from his investments, some $1,225.74 for each $100 invested. Had he reinvested those dividends each $100 would have grown to $27,120.11.

Many investors will recognize Price as the man who founded some of the most successful mutual funds in recent years, a man who was described this week by Michael Lipper, a fund analyst, as "more right than almost anyone else for a long time."

But what Price did with his funds, from which he is now retired at 75, was nothing but what he was doing with his own family portfolios. "We'd cry together and we'd be happy together," he said in an interview.

Price's success began after 10 years experience in investments when, he said, he learned "I did not have the ability to correctly forecast the trends in the stock market."

This led him to concentrate on shares of "those companies which were still growing in size and profitability and stay with them for as long as they were operating in fertile fields and benefiting from capable management."

That was the beginning of his "Growth Stock Theory of Investment," which he practices successfully to this day, still insisting "it is not necessary to guess the stock market trends to be a successful investor."

The amateur, he states, "can be successful without benefit of experience and research," if he recognizes some basic market factors, of which these three seem as pertinent as any:

1. Most corporations, like people, pass through a life cycle of growth, maturity and decline.
2. "Earnings growth per share is the most important factor determining what a share in a business is worth."
3. "Change is the investor's only certainty." Change in social, political and economic trends, and changes in industry and company life cycles, requires changes in portfolios.

Price would sell some of his one-time growth stocks if it weren't for the large capital gains taxes he would have to pay. The companies, generally considered blue chips, are mature, beyond their growth stage.

Today's climate of inflation, "socialization of basic industries," mounting welfare costs and overpricing of some growth stocks has caused him to shift the industries he picks.

Prominent in his 1937 portfolios were automotive, building, chemical, electric equipping, public utilities, and mining/stocking stocks. Today he has added cosmetics, food and beverage, and pharmaceutical and health, all consumer industries, eliminating autos and building, and reducing chemical, metal and public utility stocks. He also owns considerable gold stock.

He is greatly concerned about world affairs, particularly the absence of an international monetary system and the acceptance of inflation. He feels that continued prosperity is unlikely without a return to gold-based currencies.

Price's views and a detailed record are included in a new, privately printed booklet "for friends and a few people in the financial world," called "A Successful Investment Philosophy Based on the Growth Stock Theory of Investing."

Asked why it was written he replied: "It had been my ambition for a long time to convince investors you don't have to know a lot about the stock market to make money."

Martha Hits, Abuses Reporter

By JUDY YABLONKY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Fury got the best of Martha Mitchell Tuesday night when she struck a reporter outside her Fifth Avenue apartment building after chastising the newswoman for crowding her freedom.

"You know you're disgusting because you are imposing on me," Mrs. Mitchell said in the first of two trips downstairs to tell off the Associated Press reporter.

"When I get out of this, the press is going down the line!" she vowed.

In her second appearance, Mrs. Mitchell hit the reporter twice on the top of the head with her open hand and then threatened to "thump the hell" out of her if the reporter set foot on her doorstep.

Minutes earlier, the wife of the former U.S. attorney general grabbed her doorman's hat and flung it at the reporter, hitting her in the face. The reporter was unhurt.

Mrs. Mitchell returned inside nearly an hour later, after her daughter and another young woman arrived in a chauffeured car and led her, still shouting, into the building.

During her two outings, Mrs. Mitchell sprinkled obscenities through her accusations that reporters camped outside her building, sometimes around the clock, had invaded her privacy and made her a prisoner. At the time the reporter was hit Tuesday night, she was the only newswoman at the Mitchell residence.

"I have never done anything wrong in my life, ever," Mrs. Mitchell said. "I wasn't even sent to the principal's office when I was in school. Go away and forget it."

Vote Action On 'Little Cigars'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Commerce Committee approved 19-10 Tuesday a bill to ban advertising of little cigars on television and radio.

The bill, already passed by the Senate, would take effect 30 days after enactment.

The committee rejected 19-8 a bid to rewrite the definition of a little cigar so not all of them would be subject to the broadcast ban.

The legislation would cover such little cigars as Omega, Winchester and Dutch Treats.

Evans-Novak

(Continued from page 4) there is no doubt that the mayor would stop the young lieutenant governor if he chose. He does not so choose. "Daley doesn't dislike Walker," a major Democratic leader told us. "He dispises him."

Indeed Daley is widely described as increasingly bitter—angry at Walker, angry at the Republican prosecutors, angry at press criticism. Although his political genius survives in part and the awe he inspires here is genuine, some friends say he grows testy as the day wears on, and has become intolerant of unpleasant advice.

But what most irritates Daley and his stalwarts is a combination of his Democratic foes with the Republican prosecutors.

Reform Democratic alderman William S. Singer, a key Walker backer in 1972 and the man who shoved Daley out of the Miami Beach convention, recently held a fund-raising tent party. Among the guests was that omnipresent Republican, big (6-foot-6) Jim Thompson, who joked that he and Singer should flip a coin to decide who runs against Daley in 1975. To Daley stalwarts, the quip symbolized the serious bipartisan assault on the nation's last great city machine.

Newspaper, television and radio reporters have been seeking comment from her husband, John N. Mitchell, since last Thursday when his name was linked in a Senate hearing to the Watergate bugging.

What brought Mrs. Mitchell down from her $200,000 apartment was a note transmitted through her doorman by the re-

Baby Chicks Win A Stay

WINDSOR, N.C. (AP) — A federal emergency relief agency has won a stay of execution for 4,000 baby chicks.

Hatchery owner Glenn Lancaster said Monday the chicks were to be gassed because President Nixon's latest price freeze would cause chicken growers to lose money if they raised and sold the chicks.

Lancaster said a representative of a federal relief agency called the hatchery early Tuesday and made arrangements to buy the chickens.

The hatchery owner said the man told him the chickens would be distributed to the poor to raise.

Lancaster said the President's price freeze order means that feed for broilers is frozen at high levels while chicken prices are frozen at a lower level.

porter, asking about Mitchell's "thoughts, feelings and well being at the moment."

"You have no right to be here, infringing on my privacy!" she told the reporter.

Dressed in orange pants and white print blouse, Mrs. Mitchell at one point turned to a passerby and said, "I ask you, a private citizen, how do you get rid of people like this?" Later, a woman walking out of the building expressed sympathy to Mrs. Mitchell, saying, "You know, it's kind of difficult because you can't get out."

Early today, Mrs. Mitchell telephoned police in an effort to have newsmen evicted from outside the building. Four officers arrived half an hour later but left after two newsmen present showed their press identification cards.

Buchwald

One young McGovern supporter told me that he had heard that the Committee for the Re-Election of the President was planning to provide girls free to Democratic officials, and he sought out Lawrence O'Brien, the Democratic National Committee chairman, for guidance.

All O'Brien told him was, "When the going gets tough, the tough get going."

Although the Liddy idea was vetoed, I was curious as to what such an operation would have cost the committee, so I sought out a madam who deals in luxury yachts. "How much would it cost to charter a yacht with, say, 10 girls on it?"

"If you have to ask," she said, "you can't afford it."

Objects To More Study

GREENSBORO (AP)—Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., says the Falls of the Neuse dam proposal has been studied enough by the Army Corps of Engineers and there's no use studying it again.

The project has been criticized by environmentalists, by farmers whose land would be inundated, and by Republican Sen. Jesse Helms, who says it's too expensive.

Ervin told a news conference at Greensboro Tuesday that the people of Raleigh might "be forced to drink scotch or bourbon" unless the dam is funded.

He said Raleigh's water needs are becoming critical and defended his recent endorsement of the controversial dam project.

Current plans for the dam provide for a reservoir and recreation area northwest of Raleigh. Ervin disagreed with Helms' position that the project should be trimmed to include only a reservoir.

"It would be a shame," Ervin said, "to pond all that water and leave out development of its recreational potential. I realize this will be hard on the farmers who have to give up their land, but recreation is very valuable" in our society.

Different Kind Of 'Post-Debs'

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — They are beautiful, bright, well-bred and well-off. Handsome bachelors pursue them; fashion magazines photograph them; the society columns chat about them.

They are the most eligible women in town.

But these sought-after females of the '70s are different from the postdebs of the past who played with daddy's money until Mrs. Millionaire Right came along.

They still jet to London and Rome, not now it's most probably on business. Couture clothes still hang in the closet, but they don't get used as much as the blue jeans. The last visit to the beauty parlor might have been weeks ago—just for a hair cut. And this year's party scene is a quiet dinner for six at home.

There are dozens of such women. Looks or family name and wealthy may have brought them into the social scene, but the things they do, their varied interests and their views on men, money and life ambitions reflect an independence unmatched by the eligibles of the last decade.

And, in many cases, marriage is the farthest thing from their minds.

Mazie Cox, 27, is typical of the new single woman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox, a Social Register family. Her brother Ed is married to Tricia Nixon.

A former debutante of the year who was featured as a model in top fashion magazines, Mazie is a graduate of the Yale School of Architecture. She was taught architecture at Smith College and is currently involved in New York City's Madison Avenue Mall project.

She said she's totally self-supporting now and doesn't care if the men she dates are wealthy. "Of course, when you've had something it's a lot easier to say you don't need it. But my generation has seen people working hard to get money and still not be happy. Spiritual goals in life are a lot harder to attain than a Cadillac."

Former Olympic skier, Suzy Chaffee, 26, is involved in so many activities there's little time left for dating.

As a founder of the World Sports Foundation and a member of the U.S. Olympic Committee she is busy enlisting government aid for amateur athletes. She is a television sports commentator, a sometime model, designer and skiing film star.

"My life is my work and my work is my life. The people I enjoy most are the people whose work I respect," she said.

She occasionally dates Bill Bradley, the professional basketball player, but rarely went out with athletes during all her years of skiing competition.

"The balance of the physical and the mental in a person is difficult to find. Great minds who don't have their physical thing together just don't turn me on," she said.

Her interest in mediation and mind control and physical development got her an invitation to teach a course on sexuality and sports at the Esalen Institute this summer. In the winter she is the director of creative skiing at Mt. Snow.

"Years ago, I just wanted to make a couple of million dollars and merge in marriage with someone. Then I turned from those things that make money to what is really satisfying.

"Marriage is only possible for me if it's an open marriage. A building situation where each helps the other grow.

Wine Demand Exceeds Supply

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Demand for California wine has the state's vintners growing more grapes, but the supply is not likely to exceed demand within the next three years, according to an economist from the University of California's Agricultural Extension.

Dr. Kirby S. Moulton said there "is little doubt but what vines currently in the ground can be absorbed readily in a growing market" for wine grapes. He noted that California wine grape plantings in 1971 were double that of 1970 and it appeared the 1972 plantings were 50 per cent higher than the previous year.

War On Heroin Reduces Opium

NEW YORK (UPI) — The federal government's efforts to cut down on illicit heroin traffic is leading to a world shortage of opium for medical use, a Georgetown University pharmacologist told the International Symposium on Pain.

Dr. William Beaver, associate professor, said for several years the government has espoused policies directed at discouraging or totally eliminating the cultivation of the opium poppy in various countries such as Turkey. Beaver said many physicians routinely use opium-derived narcotics as drugs of first choice when treating severe pain. He fears patients may suffer from the non-availability of such drugs.

AN ACCREDITED MANAGEMENT ORGANIZATION

Letter Lauds Cleetwood For School Service

"We would indeed be remiss if we did not take this opportunity to thank you for the outstanding services rendered the Greenville City Schools, this City and the people therein during your eight years of service in the Greenville City School system," School Board member Edward Carter told Greenville City Schools Superintendent Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood Monday night.

After the conclusion of agenda items at the June school board meeting, Carter read a letter addressed to Dr. Cleetwood and signed by himself and board members William Myers and Mrs. Lucille Gorham. The three were members who voted to retain Dr. Cleetwood as superintendent when he was up for re-election, an effort that failed to win re-election for Dr.

Cleetwood.

"Your profound knowledge of the North Carolina School Law," Carter read from the letter, "your supreme devotion to duty and your genuine concern for all teachers, parents and children in the Greenville City Schools contributed immeasurably to a reduction in the polarization among the black and white personnel and students in our school."

"For the first time in the history of Pitt County, an appreciable number of school personnel from various social, ethnic, racial and religious origins feel that they fully belong in the school system and that matters affecting them will be given just and due consideration. Dr. Cleetwood, we sincerely thank you for that."

Other words of praise contained in the letter to Dr. Cleetwood cited his "many accomplishments . . . (representing) diligence, fortitude and impregnable courage. . . (and) Your willingness to stand up against extreme obstacles. . ."

"We three Greenville City School Board members," the letter adds, "can and will say unequivocally that you are an asset to any educational institution. . ."

In conclusion, the three wrote: "We sincerely regret that we cannot understand the reason for your non re-election, but we can proudly assure anyone concerned that you are nothing less than an outstanding man, as well as a fine educator."

Dr. Malby Going To U.S. Judge Orders Yugoslavia Seminar Turner To Return

Dr. Maria Malby, associate professor of German and Russian, East Carolina University, has been awarded a post-doctoral fellowship by the

DR. MARIA MALBY

University of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, and will attend a seminar for Slavists July 22-August 12.

The purpose of the seminar is to update specialists of Yugoslav literature in the newest developments in their field as well as to acquaint them personally with the leading figures of Yugoslav belles lettres.

Lecturers for the seminar will be among the most eminent scholars of the Zagreb School of Slavistics and other university centers. The seminar will be attended by Slavists from all parts of the world and will be conducted both in Zagreb and at Dubrovnik, a resort on the Adriatic coast.

Dr. Malby is a native of Zagreb, Yugoslavia. She received her AB degree in German from Florida State University, a master's degree in Russian from Harvard in 1963 and her PhD in the field of Slavic ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Controversial businessman Glenn Turner, jailed in Germany and fighting extradition by British authorities, has been told by a U.S. judge to return to Florida by next week and surrender his passport.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge George C. Young ordered Tuesday that Turner, who is under federal mail fraud charges, be back in Orlando by Monday.

Young also placed tighter travel restrictions on Turner, saying he would not be allowed to make any further trips outside the Orlando federal court district without court approval.

Turner is jailed in Frankfurt, studies from Harvard. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Delta Phi, and author of many research papers and review in the field of Slavic literature, Dr. Malby joined the East Carolina University faculty in 1970.

Germany, where he was arrested Friday at the request of British authorities who also want him on mail fraud charges.

Young did not say what would be done if Turner was still in jail next week.

In the Tuesday hearing, government attorneys also filed a motion for a contempt of court citation against Gordon Simonds, one of Turner's lawyers.

The prosecutors said Simonds should be held in contempt for statements he has made to the press about the case. But the government attorneys did not say what the statements were.

Turner and nine co-defendants, including noted criminal lawyer F. Lee Bailey of Boston, are charged in a 28-count federal indictment for allegedly using the mails to induce people to buy distributorships in Turner's firms.

The firms, Glenn W. Turner Enterprises Inc., Koscot Interplanetary Inc., and Dare To Be Great Inc., have been beset by legal challenges in more than half the states, primarily over sales techniques.

Inflation Problems In W. Europe Are Worse

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — It may be small comfort to Americans, but their inflation problems could be worse. They are in much of Western Europe.

Wage and price controls are not working well on this side of the Atlantic, an Associated Press survey shows. Often the controls have been less successful in Europe than in the United States.

The rate of inflation is still worse in Britain, France, Spain, Italy, Denmark and Finland than in America.

In Britain, for example, Prime Minister Edward Heath's government followed the Nixon lead last November and introduced the nation's toughest wage and price controls in its peacetime history. Inflation then was running at 9 per cent a year. It is still running now at 9.2 per cent a year.

George C. Scott Is Recognizable

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP) — Actor George C. Scott, despite a beard, long bush coat and a baseball cap, was readily recognized when he stopped to make a phone call in a cafe. "I'd better never commit a serious crime," Scott quipped as he autographed a waitress' scratch pad. "I'd never get away with it."

Worse still, food prices have been rising faster in Britain under the controls than they were before. Last year food prices were rising at a rate of 3.4 per cent annually. This year they are rising at about 15 per cent a year.

Britain may be a special case. Much of the food price boost was caused by the nation's entry into the European Common Market on Jan. 1. Also, in this trading nation, imported food and raw materials are exempt from the price controls. And Britain must import 51 per cent of its food and raw materials.

But the pattern is not much different in other countries which don't have Britain's special problems.

In France, the controls are voluntary. The government has recommended a limit of 7 per cent a year on wage raises. But even Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing admits wages are now rising at a rate of 12 per cent annually.

Some countries have rejected wage and price controls as unworkable or as politically unacceptable. Spain and Italy are examples. In both nations inflation is now a worse problem.

In Italy the annual rate of inflation is nearly 14 per cent, up from 8 per cent last year. In Spain it is about 12 per cent, up from 8.7 per cent.

Belgium has compulsory price controls, yet inflation there is the country's worst since the Korean War, rising at about 8 per cent a year.

West Germany has so far avoided both one extreme of no controls at all and the other extreme of strict wage and price curbs. Yet the country's inflation rate is growing at 7.8 per cent a year, a postwar record.

So far in Western Europe this year two of the best performances were recorded by the Netherlands and Norway, both with inflation rates of 7.8 per cent. Neither has extensive wage and price controls. But in both countries the cost of living is still rising at more than twice the rate of inflation in the United States during the most successful period of the Nixon controls.

Learning From Job Experience

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fourteen students from Brooklyn College are working part time at the Better Business Bureau of New York as consumer advisers. Hearing about people's problems, they say, is making them more cautious in their own dealings as consumers.

Brooklyn College came up with the volunteer program to provide students with a model urban consumer education experience. The school believes the most relevant kind of education is that which integrates theory with life experience.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

THIS COMPACT PLAN has the living-dining area adjacent to the carport and opening with glass doors on the screen porch at the back. The plumbing is back to back, for cost saving. The kitchen has access from bedrooms, without crossing the living space. It also has a dining area. A separate utility room is placed at the back of the garage. Closets on the bedroom walls provide soundproofing. Two bedrooms have cross ventilation. Plan HA779R contains 1,040 square feet. Anyone interested in knowing the cost of the blueprint can write to architect Jan Reiner, 1000 52nd Street North, St. Petersburg, Fla. 33710.

Elected New Deny Reported Chief Elder 'Filthy' Plants

Elder Wilbert David Keyes, pastor of Antioch Church of Christ in Hookerton, was elected Chief Elder and President of the General Assembly of the Church of Christ, Disciples of Christ, in America.

Elder Keyes, a native of the Free Union community of Martin County, is also pastor of Zion's Grove Church of Christ in Columbia and Speller's Chapel Church of Christ in Windsor. He succeeds the retiring Elder J. W. Gardner of New York who is a Greenville native.

The General Assembly of the Churches of Christ in America is a North Carolina-oriented predominately Black body of the Disciples of Christ, having approximately 50,000 members. It was founded in 1886 by the uniting of the Martin County Convention and the Goldsboro-Raleigh District.

Retiring Chief Elder J. W. Gardner was elected associate general evangelist with major responsibilities in the Northeastern District area.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Officials of the Armour and Co. turkey processing plant in Marshville, N.C., and of Southeastern Poultry of South Carolina, Inc., of West Columbia, S.C., have denied their plants are unsanitary, as alleged in a government report.

The owner of the third plant in the Carolinas listed in the report as among the 10 meat packing or poultry plants in the nation where unacceptable sanitary conditions were found reserved comment. He is R. T. Breeden of Breeden Poultry and Egg Inc., of Morganton, N.C., who said he was checking into the report.

The internal, hitherto secret report of the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Agriculture was made public Monday by Rep. John Melcher, D-Mont. He said he had received the information from a concerned person, and he placed it in the Congressional Record.

R. D. Heyen, an Armour official, said the only problems an inspector found at the Marshville plant were rusty ceiling beams and flaking paint—conditions he said were corrected that same day in 1971.

"It also stated in this report that we had very excellent sanitation practices and procedures. This rusty steel beam had nothing to do with sanitation," Heyen said.

L. Clyde Rauch, manager of Southeastern Poultry, said, "We had two federal inspectors here three weeks ago and we don't have any unsanitary conditions. They told us there was rust on some overhead pipes from which condensed moisture could drip, and to put in a false ceiling, which we are doing. I don't know of anything else."

The inspector general's report was completed in May of 1972 after unannounced inspections in 1971 and 1972.

Testimonial To Honor Smiley

A testimonial dinner on June 28 will honor Wendell W. Smiley who is retiring this Spring after 30 years of service as librarian and director of Library Services at East Carolina University.

Friday, associates and co-workers, the Joyner Library staff and former staff members will be hosts for the occasion scheduled for 7 p.m. in South Dining Hall on the ECU campus.

Smiley, a native of Bryson City, holds degrees from Mars Hill College, UNC-Chapel Hill and the University of Illinois. Upon retirement he will continue to make his home in Greenville.

Torrent Of Rain Ended Dry Spell

LONDON (AP) — Torrential rain fell in most parts of Britain late Tuesday, ending a prolonged dry spell.

In London, which had no rain for more than two weeks, an electrical storm flooded roads and brought traffic to a halt. One man was struck by lightning and hospitalized with serious burns.

Lavish Gifts At The Summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current summit talks have included an exchange of lavish gifts, with the White House explaining its gifts were donated by American firms.

Soviet Communist leader Leonid I. Brezhnev brought with him an antique silver Russian samovar, a silver-gilt water pitcher and a dozen stemmed goblets on a large tray, and a large Bokhara design rug for President Nixon.

For Mrs. Nixon there was a Russian china tea service for 12, a coffee service for 12, a half-dozen blue and white enameled silver-gilt tea glass holders and cut glass tea glasses, a white wool crocheted shawl and a malachite and bronze jewel box.

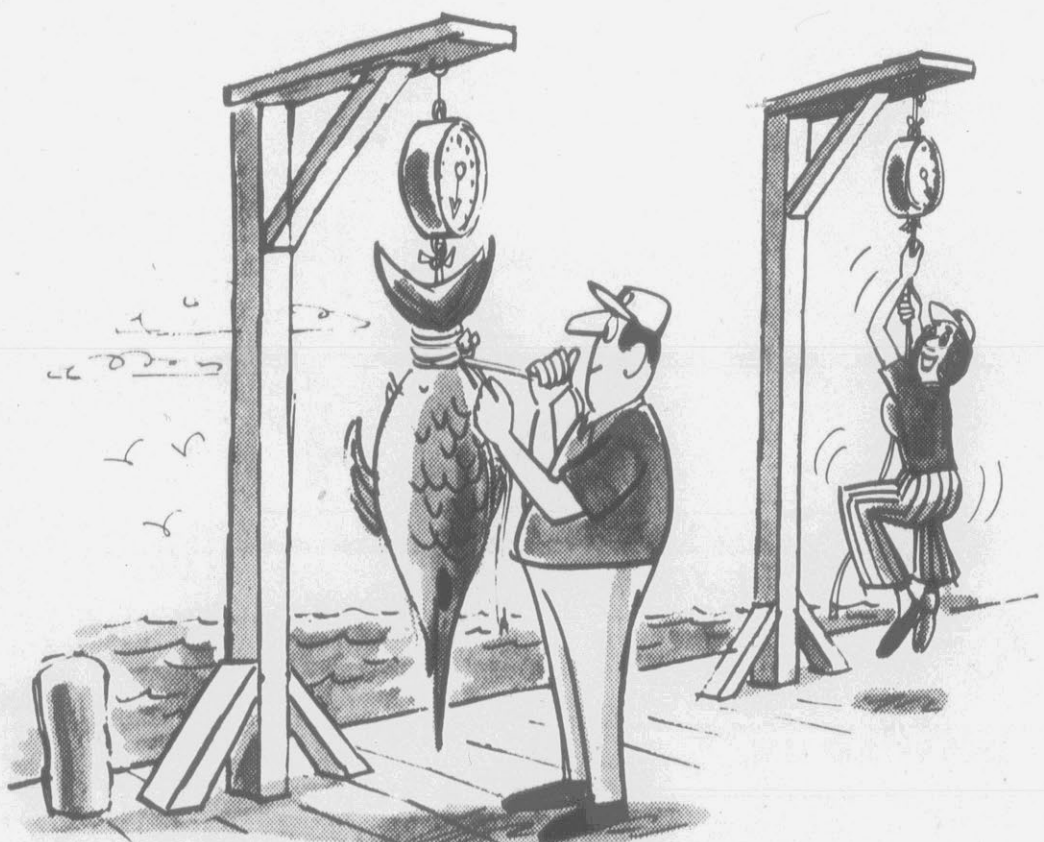

Nixon has given Brezhnev a

$10,000 Lincoln Continental town car and a large supply of spare parts, which a spokesman said were provided by Ford Motor Co. for a "nominal fee."

The same was done by General Motors for the black Cadillac that Nixon gave Brezhnev last year, the spokesman said.

The White House also disclosed that the $12,000 Petersen rifle given by Nixon to Brezhnev was donated by its maker, as was a $5,000 Cybis porcelain grouping.

Summerell's Grand Slam Paces Bucs, 9-1

By WOODY PEELE

Reflector Sports Editor

Carl Summerell, Bobby Harrison and Russ Smith provided the hitting power to go along with Smith's six-hitter as the Pirates of East Carolina University rolled to a 9-1 victory over Louisville last night.

Summerell cracked out a grand-slam home run and got two other hits to provide a total of five runs for the Bucs, while Harrison had a solo shot and one other RBI, and Smith got three hits and a pair of RBIs.

Smith's pitching was effective enough to keep Louisville unsettled most of the night. The lone run off him was a homer by the Hurricanes' starting pitcher

Mike Edwards. Only two other men reached as far as second the rest of the night as some sterling fielding behind Smith came to the rescue with three double plays.

One of those came on a fine defensive play by Jack Elkins, who made a running, leaping catch of a ball off the bat of Al Breed to cut the rally that Edwards had ignited with his homer. Steve Bryant had followed with a hit and had taken off as it looked like Breed's hit would fall in. But after Elkin's catch, it was a mere question of relaying to shortsop Carl Summerell and tossing on to John Narron at first to double off Bryant by a good 20 feet.

The only other time a man got to second was in the fourth and eighth frames. In the fourth, Mike Wilkerson led off with a double and moved up on the first out. But a grounder back to the pitcher and a fly ball left Wilkerson stranded. In the eighth, Bryant reached on a fielder's choice and moved up on Breed's single, but the two died without advancing.

East Carolina, after having only one runner in the first two innings, pushed into the lead with two runs in the bottom of the third after Edwards had put Louisville into a brief lead, 1-0.

Elkins led off the frame with a single, but Smith trying to advance him with a bunt, ended up arriving as Elkins was cut down in the fielder's choice. Norman Davis came on to run for him.

Jimmy Paige kept things going with a single to left and Summerell poked a hit to center, scoring Davis and moving Paige to third. Summerell also moved up when the ball got by the fielder. Harrison then grounded out, but it brought in Paige with the go-ahead run, 2-1.

In the fourth, the Pirates exploded for seven runs to put the game entirely out of reach for the Hurricanes. Ron Leggett and Rick McMahon both opened the frame with hits, with Davis replacing McMahon on the bases. Elkins was hit by a pitch, loading them up and Smith unloaded a hit to center, scoring both Leggett and Davis. The ball was bobbled by the catcher on the relay home, and Elkins took third while Smith advanced to second. He was relieved from running by Dave LaRussa.

Paige loaded the bases with a walk, setting the stage for Summerell. The big shortsop's slam went over the fence in left center some 370 feet from home, bringing in four runs to up the lead 8-1.

Harrison, not to be outdone, stepped up next and powdered one in the same direction, clearing the fence in almost the same place, for the 9-1 lead.

The Bucs got six more baserunners the rest of the way, but only twice, in the seventh and eighth, did they threaten. In the seventh, Leggett walked and moved up on Smith's third hit, only to die there. And in the eighth, Summerell singled and Narron followed with a one-out hit but two strikeouts ended the frame.

The win boosted the Pirate record to 3-6 while Louisville fell to 4-4. East Carolina travels to Pembroke tonight, and returns home on Friday to host North Carolina.

Taff Upsets Little Mint, 3-2; Quadrant Downs M-K-Sullivan

Taff Office Equipment upset Senior Babe Ruth League leader Little Mint last night, 3-2, to push Kinston back into a virtual tie for the league. In the other game Quadrant upset Moore-King-Sullivan, 3-1.

Little Mint is now 7-2 in the league while Kinston is even with them in the loss column with a 5-2 mark. Taff is now 6-4, while Moore-King-Sullivan is 4-4 and Quadrant is 4-6.

In the opener, Moore-King-Sullivan took the lead in the third inning, scoring without a hit. Bobby Jones led off with a walk and moved up on another to Doug Causey. Steve Fuchs reached on a fielder's choice, and he and Jones worked a double steal, with Jones scoring on the play.

But Moore-King-Sullivan got only one hit off Belton Wiggins in the game, and they couldn't get anything else going.

Quadrant came up with a run in the fourth to tie it up. Dennis Stille singled and John Weipert reached on a fielder's choice. Terry Bell then singled to right, driving in Stille with the tying run.

In the seventh, Quadrant pushed over two more to win it. Bryan Smith walked and stole second. He scored when Kim Peed singled to right. Peed also stole second and Chuck Hansen walked. Wiggins helped himself with a single to center, scoring Peed with the insurance run.

In the second game, Little Mint pushed over a run in the first to take the lead. Jeff Cobb led off with a single and moved around to third on a pair of ground-outs. A passed ball then allowed him to score.

Taff Office came right back with one in the bottom of the first to tie it up. David Clifton led off with a single to left and advanced on an out. He stole third and scored on Pete Cullop's sacrifice fly.

Taff took the lead in the third with another run. Clifton walked and stole second, moving to third on an error on the play. John Causey then sacrificed him home for a 2-1 lead.

What proved to be the winning run came over in the fourth. Willie Streeter reached on a fielder's choice and moved up on an out. Jim Wilson then singled to left, driving in Streeter to make it 3-1.

The Little Mint tried to rally and came up with a run in the sixth to close the gap to the final 3-2 margin. Barry Johnson opened the frame with a double and moved up on a fly to right. Bobby Daniels reached on an error, scoring Johnson. Daniels moved around to third on a stolen base and a passed ball to put the tying run in scoring position, but Little Mint couldn't bring him across.

Integon Edges Moose, 11-10

Integon came up with a run in the bottom of the sixth to break a 10-10 tie and take an 11-10 victory over the Moose yesterday.

The win left Integon in second place with an 8-5 record, while the Moose fell back into a share of the basement with a 4-9 mark.

The Moose took the lead with four runs in the first inning. Scott Peele led off with a single and Ashley Taylor reached on a fielder's choice. Mitch Meeks walked and Paul Lemmond was hit by a pitch, scoring Peele. Danny Wood walked to force in Taylor. Leslie Robinson reached on a fielder's choice, getting Meeks at home. Bobby Gantt walked to score Lemmond and Wood came in when Jim Heath walked.

Integon came back with two in the bottom of the first. Bobby Wiggins walked and moved up on a passed ball and a wild pitch. Mark Barber walked and stole second. William Barrett grounded out, scoring Wiggins and a wild pitch scored Barber.

The Moose added four more in the second. Taylor walked as did David Carroll. Both moved up on a passed ball and Lemmond reached on an error, scoring Taylor. Wood then cracked out a three-run homer to make it 8-2. But Integon came right back with five to pull within one. Blair Smith walked as did Junior Neal. Howard Tucker walked for load them up and Drew Smith hit into a fielder's choice, scoring Smith, and an error on the play let Neal score. Wiggins singled in Tucker and Barber walked. Barrett doubled to score both Smith and Wiggins and make it 8-7.

Integon pushed ahead in the third with two. Smith walked and Wiggins doubled. An error on the play let both come around.

The Moose tied it up at 9-9 with a run in the fifth. Taylor reached on a fielder's choice and Meeks walked. Carroll singled in Taylor.

Integon came right back to go back ahead as Tucker slammed a home run with none on.

The Moose tied it up again in the top of the sixth. Robinson was hit by a pitch and moved to third on a passed ball and a wild pitch. Jason Garriss walked and Peele singled to score Robinson with the tying run.

But Integon came right back to score again. Mike Walker doubled to open the inning and took third on a passed ball. Todd Galloway hit a sacrifice fly to score him with the game-ending run.

Optimists Upset R.C. Cola, 3-2

The Optimists pushed over three runs in the first inning and made them hold up as they pulled off a 3-2 upset of R.C. Cola yesterday in the North State Little League.

The outcome threw the league lead into a virtual tie with only two games left to play. R.C. is now 9-4 in the league while the Lions are just a half-game back, 8-4, with three games left. The Optimists are now 6-7.

All three of the runs the Optimists got came in the first frame. Billy Dough led off with a walk and Patrick Wilson also got a free ticket. Jim O'Brien followed with the same thing, loading the bases. Mac Stokes singled, scoring Dough. Glen Moore reached on a fielder's choice that got Wilson in a force at home. Stanley Nichols then doubled, driving in both O'Brien and Stokes to put the Optimists into a 3-0 lead.

The rest of the way, they got only four more men on base, but it didn't matter since they kept R.C. away from the sack just enough.

R.C. had loaded the bases in the first with none out, but Stokes came back to strike out the next three. He allowed only a hit an inning the rest of the way and that was just enough.

The two R.C. Cola runs came over in the fifth inning. Reggie Selby led off with a single and Jay Phillips reached on a fielder's choice. An error allowed Selby to come around and score the first run and put Phillips on third. Stuart Flanagan then hit a sacrifice fly to score Phillips, closing it 3-2, but the Optimists choked off the rally three and held on for the win.

Immanuel, Oakmont Both Post Wins In Church Softball Games

The two leaders in the Church Softball League both picked up victories last night as Oakmont topped Black Jack, 14-8, and Immanuel topped St. James, 7-5. In addition, the first team was eliminated from the title picture as Arlington Street fell by the wayside.

In the opener on Evans One, Christian gained a 9-6 win over University-Mt. Pleasant. Christian pushed over one in the first, while U-MP came up with five in the top of the second. Christian gained another in the bottom of the second. Another run came over in the fourth for Christian, they added four more in the fifth to take the lead for good.

J. Jones tripled and K. Kayler singled. D. Hawkins doubled and R. Riddick homered to make it 7-5. Christian added two more in the sixth, while U-MP got one more in the seventh.

In the second game, Oakmont downed Black Jack, 14-8. Black Jack scored once in the first, while Oakmont came back with two in the top of the second. Black Jack scored five in the bottom of the second, while Oakmont added two more in the third. Black Jack got another in the fourth, while Oakmont rallied for four in the fifth. They pushed over three more in the sixth to get what they needed to win.

H. Smithson singled and N. Cheely doubled. T. McLouis singled and scored on a double by C. Russell for an 11-7 lead. Oakmont added three more in the seventh, while Black Jack scored once in the sixth.

In the final game, Memorial Baptist took a 30-11 romp over Arlington. Memorial pushed over two in the first while Arlington got one. Memorial added two more in the second, as did Arlington. Then, in the third, Memorial scored 11 to put the game out of reach.

Turner led off with a homer and Bond singled. Nichols got a hit and Vickers doubled. Williams walked and Moore doubled. Alford singled and Odum tripled.

Anderson singled and scored on Bond's triple to make it 13-3. Memorial added one in the fourth, one in the fifth, and 15 in the sixth, with Turner, Bond and Heath homering. Arlington picked up eight more in the sixth.

In the first game at Evans Two, Immanuel nipped St. James, 7-5. St. James pushed over one in the top of the first, but Immanuel came back with two in the bottom of the frame. Immanuel added another in the third, while St. James picked up one in the fourth on J.J. Harris' homer. St. James added three more in the fifth, while Immanuel scored once in the fifth to trail, 5-4.

In the sixth, however, Immanuel rallied for three to win it. Tom Murray singled and Jimmy Buck walked. Mark Miller singled and a hit by Drew Rumbley brought in the first run. W. Dean sacrificed in another run and a double by C. McNeil scored another.

In the second game, Grace nipped Presbyterian in nine frames. Grace took the initial

Little Mint Nearer Title

The Little Mint opened up a two-game gap in the Ladies Softball League lead last night as they downed Beltone, 12-3. Beltone is the only team that can catch Little Mint, which now has a magic number of two.

In the opening game, Piggly Wiggly took a forfeit victory over Greenville Nursing.

Little Mint then gained its win in the second game. They scored two in the first, while Beltone came up with one in the bottom of the frame. Little Mint added one in the third while Beltone got another with Jenkins homering.

In the third, Little Mint got what proved to be the winning run with a homer by L. Tripp. That made it 4-2, and Beltone never overcame that. Little Mint added eight in the fourth to gain their final 12-run total. Beltone picked up one more in the seventh.

In the final contest, Dixie Sales romped to an 18-7 win over Azalea Mobile Homes. Dixie took the lead with a run in the first as B. Harrington homered. They added three more in the third then scored five in the fourth to wrap it up.

In the fourth, D. Fitts tripled and B. Beland reached on an error. S. Hardee singled as did Harrington. S. Dempsey then homered to make it 9-0.

Dixie added six more in the fifth when Harrington and Fitts both homered, then got two more in the sixth with homers by Beland and Harrington. Azalea got two in the fifth and five in the seventh.

After Three Homers—Silence

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

George Hendrick's three home runs left him speechless—but not in the usual sense. Hendrick slugged his 11th, 12th and 13th home runs Tuesday night in the first, fourth and sixth innings of the Cleveland Indians' 8-7 victory over Detroit.

You'd think that, with such a phenomenal night at the plate, the Cleveland slugger would be bursting at the seams, waiting for the swarm of sports writers to descend upon him.

Nope. Just a plain old "I have nothing to say." And he said it several times.

In the rest of the American League games, Minnesota squeezed into first place in the West Division with a 7-3 victory over Texas, California knocked Chicago out of the top spot by beating the White Sox 3-1, Oakland pummeled Kansas City 11-6, the New York Yankees downed Baltimore 5-4 and, in a two-night doubleheader, Boston ended Milwaukee's 10-game winning streak with an 8-4 triumph, then made it a sweep by taking the 11-inning nightcap 4-1.

The Twins moved half a game in front of the White Sox and A's and one game ahead of the Angels and Royals in the Wild West, wrecking Jim Bibb's American League pitching debut and giving Jim Kaat his 187th career victory, tops among active left-handers in the majors.

With one swing of the bat, Winston Llenas sent the White Sox out of the penthouse and saddled 14-game winner Wilbur Wood with his eighth defeat and fourth in a row.

The California pinch-hitter slugged his first major league homer, a three-run shot in the seventh inning, to provide Bill Singer with everything he needed to chalk up his 11th victory.

Sal Bando provided the Oakland power with a pair of homers, his 13th and 14th of the year. That's one less than he had all last season. "I don't try to hit 'em," he quipped.

Thurmon Munson and Gene Michael drilled successive run-scoring doubles in a three-run fifth that started the Orioles down to defeat. sparky Lyle made sure of it with his 17th save.

It vaulted the Yanks over Baltimore and within half a game of the first-place Brewers in the East. Milwaukee, which hadn't made an error in its last seven games and just five while it was winning 15 of the last 16 games, committed six of them against the Red Sox.

The Red Sox won the opener after Milwaukee pitcher Frank Linzy opened the door with one error and Boston got a tie-breaking run on another. Carlton Fisk then put it out of reach with a three-run homer. Rick Miller's tie-breaking two-run triple locked up Boston's sweep.

In the National League, it was Philadelphia 6, New York Mets 1; Montreal 3, St. Louis 1; Houston 7, San Diego 3; Los Angeles 3, Atlanta 0; Cincinnati 4, San Francisco 0, and, in a doubleheader, the Chicago Cubs 6, Pittsburgh 3 in the first game and Pittsburgh 4, Chicago 3 in the finale.

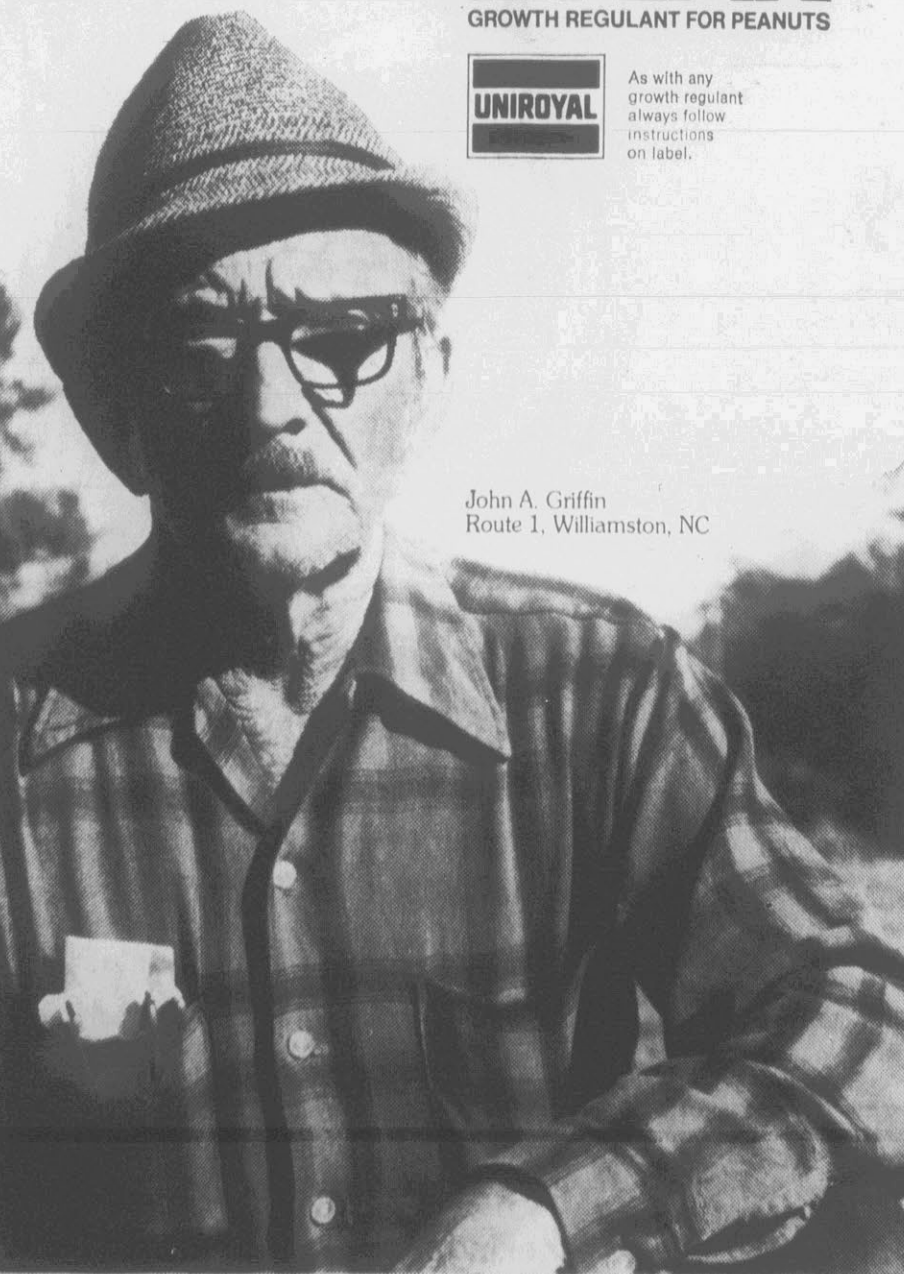

"Even without a yield increase, I could justify using Kylar..."

"I first tried Kylar® as part of a 3 acre test in 1969, and have been using it ever since. We use it at the 1 lb. rate, and apply it just about the time the vines meet in the middle of a 36" row. The vines turn greener and grow straighter.

"One of my neighbors and I ran a test where he left 4 rows untreated just to see the difference. As near as we could figure it, he made more pounds per acre from Kylar treated. I've also noticed we don't lose near as many peanuts as we used to during harvest, because the nuts seem to grow much closer to the tap root.

"I'm definitely getting more peanuts per acre, but even without a yield increase, I could justify using Kylar, just in the time and bother I save at harvest."

Kylar is the new and better way to grow peanuts. Helps you produce crops that are healthier, easier to care for, and in most cases, yield higher and grade better. Ask your dealer about Kylar today. Uniroyal Chemical, Division of Uniroyal, Inc. Naugatuck, CT 06770.

UNIROYAL

A SURPRISED CATCHER
MONTREAL (AP) — One of the most surprised young men in the National League has to be Montreal Expo catcher Terry Humphrey. The 23-year-old Chickasha, Okla., native says: "I wasn't offered as much money as I planned on but I talked with my parents. Both suggested 'Well, remember, you don't have a summer job. So I signed just to have a job for the summer. I didn't really ever think about going anywhere in the game.'"

AHOSKIE — Greenville's American Legion baseball team romped to an easy 20-0 victory over Ahoskie last night in their final regular season meeting with that team.

William Wollard tossed a three-hitter in the shutout victory, having little trouble in gaining the win after his teammates provided him with an 11-0 lead before he put his foot on the mound.

Wollard walked five and struck out 14 in his nine innings of work in gaining the victory. Only four times during the night did Ahoskie push men beyond first base, and only twice did they get as far as third.

In the first, George Norman led off with a walk and stole second, then moved on to third on the second out of the frame. But Wollard struck out the next batter to retire the side.

In the fourth, Bruce Leary reached on a one-out error and moved up on the first hit a single by Gilbert Vaughan. But a double-play ended the inning this time.

The biggest Ahoskie threat came in the fifth when they loaded the bases. Bill Lucas walked then stole both second and third. After two strikeouts, Norman and John Ezzelle both walked, but another whiff by Wollard ended that threat.

The only other man to reach second was Vaughan, who singled to open the ninth and moved up when Dowdy reached on an error.

Greenville meanwhile, was taking advantage of six Ahoskie errors, 16 walks and 13 hits to power over their uns. Stanley Cobb led the hitting with four, including two triples, accounting for six runs. Duncan Charlton and Robert Brinkley each had two hits, while Bill Lee powered a first inning home run.

That first inning was all Greenville really needed as they pushed over 11 big runs before Ahoskie grabbed a bat.

Charlton led off with a single and Brinkley singled to right, moving Charlton to third. Cobb slammed a triple to center, bringing in both runners, and he scored when Lee's sacrifice fly to left was dropped. Lee moved to second on the play and took third on Al Heath's single. Dickie Johnson was hit by a pitch and Wollard walked to force in Lee. Walks to Charlton and Brinkley brought in Heath and Johnson and a single by Cobb scored both Wollard and Charlton. Lee then cracked out a three-run homer to finish the scoring in the first frame.

Greenville threatened in the second and third, but it was the fourth before they finally broke loose again, scoring five runs. Wollard led off with a walk and Charlton was hit by a pitch. Brinkley walked, loading them up. Cobb singled, scoring both Wollard and Charlton. Leewalked and Rodney Perry hit a sacrifice fly to score Brinkley. Johnny Barwick singled in Cobb and Heath grounded out, bringing in Lee.

In the sixth, Greenville got another run. Charlton walked and stole second, moving to third when the ball was thrown through to center. Brinkley walked and he and Charlton pulled a double steal to score Chilton and make it 17-0.

The final three runs came in the sixth. Perry reached on an error moving on to second on the play. Barwick was also safe on a miscue, and he stole second. Heath reached on another error, bringing in Perry. Wollard reached on a fielder's choice that was errored,, scoring Barwick. Heath was thrown out trying to score, and Ron Hunt walked. Brinkley then doubled to left, scoring Wollard with the final run of the game.

Greenville stays on the road tonight, traveling to Snow Hill.

Palmer May Be Wife Has Bad Night Golfer To Beat In Lonborg Family

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Johnny Miller is fresh off his U.S. Open victory. Tom Weiskopf still is on a streak. And the layout is known as Jack Nicklaus' favorite course.

But, with all that, it's just possible that Arnold Palmer may be the man to beat in the prestige-laden $160,000 American Golf Classic.

Most of the game's greats—with the exceptions of Gary Player and Lee Trevino—are in the select field of 101 set for the 72-hole event that begins Thursday on the Firestone Country Club course, site of three events a year.

Player has gone home to South Africa, after collecting only $6,109 in his first, brief try on the American tour this year, and Trevino is convinced the 7-180-yard, par-70 course is too long for him. He's devoting the week to exhibitions and business.

Miller, Nicklaus and Weiskopf have to be ranked among the favorites.

But Palmer could be the man. He's a two-time winner of this event, never has finished out of the top 10 here and showed flashes of the Palmer of old last week when he got a share of the third round lead in the U.S. Open.

Other favorites include defending titleholder Bert Yanney, Masters champion Tommy Aaron, Australian Bruce Crampton, former winners Jerry Heard and Ray Floyd, Lanny Wadkins and 53-year-old Julius Boros, a contender all the way in the last week's Open.

The final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC-TV.

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

They separated the men from the girls at Veterans Stadium and it was a good thing for the Philadelphia Phillies.

After Rosemary Lonborg was hit hard in a wives' game, her husband Jim pitched tough baseball in the main attraction to help the Phillies beat the New York Mets 6-1 Tuesday night.

"I'm glad Rosemary had the bad night and not Jim," said Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark after his tall right-hander held the Mets to four hits in eight innings, clearly his best performance of the season.

Lonborg's wife didn't do nearly as well. She gave up seven runs in the first inning as the Met wives crushed the Philadelphia "fillies" 13-1.

In the other National League games, the Montreal Expos whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1; the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 in the first game of a doubleheader before losing the second, 4-3; the Houston Astros trimmed the San Diego Padres 7-3; the Los Angeles topped the Atlanta Braves 3-0 and the Cincinnati Reds blanked the San Francisco Giants 4-0.

Mike Marshall provided late-inning relief for Steve Renko and knocked in a run to lead Montreal over St. Louis.

Marshall came into the game in the eighth inning and gave up a run-scoring single to Joe Torre before preserving the triumph for Renko, 6-3. It was Marshall's ninth save of the year.

Billy Williams' tie-breaking single ignited a four-run sixth inning that carried Chicago to a first-game victory over Pittsburgh. The Pirates won the second game as Milt May slugged a one-out homer in the bottom of the ninth.

Lee May drove in four runs to lead Houston over San Diego. May knocked in his four with two singles and a sacrifice fly to help Jerry Reuss gain his eighth victory in 13 decisions.

Willie Davis joined the 2,000-hit circle with a two-run homer in the sixth inning, leading Los Angeles over Atlanta. Tommy John needed relief help from Pete Richert to improve his record to 6-3.

Pete Rose collected the 2,000th hit of his major league career and drove in a run to spark Cincinnati over San Francisco.

TO SERVE YOU BETTER

We strive earnestly to have all advertised items available at the advertised price. This is just good business, and is an assurance that we seek to serve you properly.

But hard as we may try, there is always a chance that we might run short of a specific item — perhaps we didn't order enough, perhaps a supplier couldn't fill the order, or perhaps the product failed to arrive on time.

In any case, we regret disappointing you. If you are ever unable to find an advertised item, we will cheerfully give you a Rain Check, entitling you to purchase the item at the advertised price when it becomes available.

Sincerely,
W. G. Spearman

Sharp Eyes And A Full Wallet Can Keep Gasoline Tank Full

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A motorist just back from a 1,950-mile, extended weekend round-trip from Washington to central Florida finds you can keep your gasoline tank filled if your eyes are sharp and wallet full.

The roadides along one of the nation's most traveled vacation routes are dotted with closed service stations and big price signs that don't boast the price anymore.

But cars haven't yet started running out of fuel along the road, and traffic at gasoline pumps doesn't seem different from usual. Evidence of the purported gasoline shortage is spotty.

The worst spot encountered was in Santee, S.C., where a lengthy stretch of interstate 95 comes to an end.

The regular gasoline at a Shell station cost 42.9 cents a gallon on Friday. Across the street on Monday, an Exxon dealer was out of regular and selling premium for 44.9, limit eight gallons per car. An American Oil dealer

Recovers Bible Lost 30 Years

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sheriff Bernard Waggoner, counseling a drifter at a half-way house for alcoholics, recovered a Bible he had lost 30 years ago during World War II. The man showed the sheriff a Bible with the name Waggoner on it. Waggoner said it was the same Bible issued to him when he entered the Army in 1943.

Waggoner said the man told him he took the Bible from the body of a dead German soldier during combat in France in 1944.

sharing common cash register facilities with the Exxon man was selling his regular for 44.9 and premium for 49.9.

Down the street, a private label station advertised regular for 36.9. But a hand-scratched sign on the regular pumps said "sorry, out of gas." The premium cost 44.9.

Best available price spotted along the route for regular gas was 36.9. At a Shell station in Wilson, N.C., a driver could buy gasoline at that price by inserting dollar bills into a device on the pump and filling his own tank.

President Nixon's announced freeze on retail prices, including gasoline, is being openly disregarded by some stations.

In a Virginia suburb of Washington, a 12-pump independent station was selling regular for 38.9 the morning of Nixon's June 13 speech. That evening, just before the President spoke, the price was 40.9.

Nixon's order provided that prices be held to their June 1-8 highs. But a week later, that station still was selling its regular for 40.9. A nearby station that went up a penny to 39.9 the day of Nixon's speech hasn't withdrawn its increase, either.

Enticing signs on billboards or on towering service station poles still carry figures such as 33.9 or 35.9. But these stations usually turn out to be independents which now are closed.

Many of the open stations still have big signs with a permanent "3" and a permanent "9" and a place left between them for changing the second digit of the prices, as from 36.9 to 37.9.

What's needed now, apparently, is a sign painter who can change those 3s to 4s.

The 'Worry Clinic' Bilingualism Is An Essential

Jed wonders about the 2 vital languages required for success in business, industry and all the professions. One reason why physicians are often unduly criticized is their failure to employ that second essential language!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D. M.D.
CASE X-538: Jed T., aged 26, is a young physician.
"Dr. Crane," he began, "I got in late during your recent lecture to our group, so I missed part of what you said.

"But I was impressed by your remark that business and professional men need to be bilingualists in order to attain maximum success."
"What 2 languages did you have in mind as so essential?"
Use 2 Languages
Here in America, those 2 languages so vital to complete success are both English!
"But, Dr. Crane," Jed protested, "how can there be 2 English languages?"
Well, one of them is the technical vocabulary that is linked with every business or profession.

In law, for example, our attorneys employ technical terms such as "homicide," "manslaughter," "mayhem," "change of venue," etc.

Those are A-B-C terms to jargon that they use it on 4th graders, failing to realize that such terminology is "greek" or unknown even to highly educated adults in other fields!
When I addressed a dental convention at New Orleans, I cited this phrase that was printed in the local newspaper: "...the buccal aspect of the 3rd molar."

A dental surgeon was being quoted and I merely lifted that phrase to illustrate my stress on the need to talk the language of the customer, patient, pupil, client or parishioner if we wish to motivate them.
For people are NOT motivated properly when they don't understand!

So I pointed out the fact that among my 300 senior Liberal Arts students at Northwestern University, probably not 2 percent (6 in all) ever had seen that word "buccal."
And the average American, much to the shock of dental surgeons, still doesn't know what "molar" means!
Yet these terms are so routine with dentists that they can't believe everybody else doesn't understand them.
So I rephrased that quotation to read as follows:
"...the buccal or cheek side of the 3rd jaw tooth."
Sometimes it is O.K. to throw your weight around a little with polysyllables, just to impress the average citizen, so I agreed to leave "buccal" in the newspaper release, if it were then explained by its synonym, "cheek."

Even "aspect" is better stated as "side" and jaw tooth is known to 4th graders!
Newspaper reporters should be imported in business and professional schools to teach such technical experts how to speak the 2nd English language, namely, the jargon of the man of the street!
Business executives use "gross" and "net" plus "markup," as well as "obsolescence" and "depreciation"—all practically meaningless to average folks!
And they promote more management-labor feuds by stating corporation earnings in gross sums, like $100,000,000, instead of breaking them down to 5 percent dividends on invested capital!

The bidding:

3 ♣ 4 ♠ 4 ♥ Dble.
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♣.
Altho East and West can make four spades on today's hand and will—in fact—actually take 12 tricks on the deal unless South gets off to a diamond lead with East as declarer, they actually suffered a substantial loss when they slipped in defending against South's four heart contract.

South opened the bidding as dealer with three hearts. He had a reasonable expectation of winning seven tricks in his own hand and, as he had almost no defensive strength, a preemptive bid was clearly in order and served quite effectively to hamper the exchange of information between his opponents.

West overcalled with four clubs—with all his values concentrated in clubs, no other action was feasible. North raised his partner to four hearts and East, who was void in West's suit and appeared to have a trick in trumps as well as the ace of spades, chose to make a penalty double. Perhaps he should have inferred some tolerance for his own suit in his partner's hand, inasmuch as the latter was marked with extreme shortness in hearts; yet it is nevertheless difficult to take issue with East's action and a more astute performance in defending on the deal would have assured him a profit on the deal.

West opened the king of clubs, on which East discarded the three of diamonds. The ace was cashed next and the second sluff was the nine of diamonds. Had West continued with a third club, it would have enabled his partner to discard his remaining diamond—the queen—and thereby prevent declarer from being able to reach dummy for a heart play.

West chose, at trick three to switch to a spade. North played the king and East won the trick with the ace as South followed suit with the queen. Tho a diamond switch at this point was clearly indicated, East chose to return a spade—thereby presenting declarer with an opportunity on which he was quick to capitalize.
South discarded a diamond from his hand and won the trick with North's jack of spades. A small heart was led and when East followed with the deuce, declarer covered cheaply with the six which held when West showed out. [It would not have availed East to split his honors by playing the ten, for South can reenter the North hand with the king of diamonds to lead another heart and finesse against the jack.]

Had East shifted to the queen of diamonds when he was in with the ace of spades, South is in the dummy for the first and last time and, when he leads a heart, East can protect his trump holding by playing the ten of hearts. Declarer cannot reach dummy a second time to repeat the heart play. If he tries with a diamond, East ruffs in for the setting trick.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1973

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are eager to break up some existing conditions, but if you have been living right you have gotten a good start in a constructive direction and would be wise to pursue the fine projects you have already started. Keep alert to the new formulas being released that help you make much greater progress.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Pressuring associates for whatever it is you want could have dire results, so keep busy at the work expected of you. Choose the best of any social invitations extended to you. Do nothing that can hurt your reputation.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handle those career matters in a most exact way as you planned to do yesterday and don't permit interruptions from others. A higher-up could be demanding, but do only what you can. Avoid moochers in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You came to new and worthwhile decisions yesterday and should carry through with them carefully today. Make sure you pay your bills, make collections and get into the civic work required of you with vim and vigor.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Use your good mature judgment instead of relying on errant hunches to get your problems solved. Try to win the favor of mate, approval of what it is you are doing. This can be most helpful to your success.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get into the small details of any policy matters you have discussed with associates, and then do the work that is necessary on your part. That public affair could be upsetting, but keep mum. It will all work out fine in the long run.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy at that work you promised to do two days ago and be accurate with it and you have fine results. Use more modern methods. Try out that new treatment that can improve your health a good deal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to be with charming people during spare time and show you are a cultured and interesting person. If some friend is in trouble, give a helping hand and build morale. Don't neglect closest ties.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care you do not irk a close home or business tie in carrying through with some big project you have in mind. If you forget prejudice, you can have much success with it. Enlarge your thinking.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan how to improve regular routines so you can free time for more important matters and add to your current income. New ideas are growing in your mind, but don't voice them as yet. Put them to the test for practicality.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study those ideas well so they are truly practical before you try to put them in operation. Get the aid of a clever business expert. The evening is ideal for home pleasures and enjoying kin.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although you are sure of your aims and how to go after them, you find there are stumbling blocks in the path of your progress. Get rid of them tactfully. Caution in conversations is wise at any social gatherings.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Good day to carefully rearrange ideas and operations so they work out far more successfully. Take right steps concerning personal affairs so you need not worry about them. Show a more humanitarian spirit.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those modern thinking young people with an inquisitive mind and the desire to be of great help to humanity at large through progressive methods. Teach early to know his or her own place if the favor of higher-ups is to be gotten with ease, and to stress the conservative side of life. Give dancing and music lessons early as a cultural means of getting ahead, also. College a must.

Survey Of Rental Households Begun In Greenville

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer
Beginning Tuesday, seven local women began calling on some 200 heads of households who rent homes in Greenville. Ringing doorbells in the survey program will be Miss Shirley Coward, Mrs. Frances Edwards, Mrs. Thelma Jones, Mrs. Mary Little, Mrs. Robbie Payne, Mrs. Elizabeth Schlick, and Mrs. Althea Wooten. Before the local women started their part in a comprehensive North Carolina survey of four cities, they received training from Miss Maureen Berry. "Each of the interviewers will have a letter of introduction," Miss Berry said,

"and we have registered with the Police Department and the Chamber of Commerce." Earlier this year, two University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill staff members heading the rental research project, Professor Michael Stegman and Howard Sumka, explained the basic purpose of the project—a study of four North Carolina non-metropolitan areas—Greenville, Kinston, Statesville and Lexington to gain an understanding of the rental housing market in typical non-metropolitan areas.

Miss Berry reiterated one aspect of the study. "All the information will be confidential," she said. "No information on individual rental units will appear in the study."

Instead, she explained, information gathered from interview of renters by local interviewers and that gathered by UNC staff members from local landlords will appear in composite form in the completed study on the four cities.

Preliminary planners for the study have coordinated the program with William Carstarphen, Greenville City Manager.

In the current interview of renters phase being conducted by the seven local women, four to five weeks will be required to complete the coverage of the some 200 renters who will be contacted.

Donald W. Jackson, Senior Survey Specialist for the study, says "the study is being conducted for the Center for Urban and Regional Studies at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill."

"It will involve interviewing tenants and landlords in several areas of Greenville to investigate the characteristics of the rental housing market," he noted.

Persons involved in landlord interviews will include Stegman, Sumka, Tamar Savir, Miss Lee Trimble, Miss Cathy Gallagher, COLUMBIA (AP)—The state has introduced another conservation measure aimed at helping save gasoline.

The South Carolina Budget and Control Board has ordered all state-operated vehicles to be driven at 10 miles per hour less than the posted speed limits. Several agencies had already taken similar action.

Comptroller General Henry Mills said the board wants the practice to become a statewide effort. "There could be some cutting down on trips and doubling up, too," he said.

Mendoza, an Argentine city famous for its vineyards and hot thermal springs, was founded in the 16th century, says Argentine Airlines.

Jeff Katz, Michael Mandel, and Neil Yarborough.

The local household interviews are part of a three-year North Carolina Housing Market Study being conducted through the Research Triangle Institute for UNC. The study is being funded from the National Science Foundation.

Stegman and his staff will be interviewing about 150 owners of rental property in Greenville "in an effort to understand how quality and price levels are determined, and to learn about the experiences of Greenville's housing investors."

Stegman stated "one major premise of the study is that collection of housing data from the investment community—the landlords—is a necessary basis for any meaningful discussion of housing policy."

Miss Berry said she feels confident that renters in Greenville will give their cooperation to the women conducting the Greenville renter's interviews. Stegman feels "the study can benefit both investors and renters by pointing our ways in which the housing market can be made to operate more efficiently."

Minisub Deaths Found Due To Carbon Dioxide

By ROBERT C. COOPER
Associated Press Writer
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Carbon dioxide poisoning killed two men trapped in a research submarine about four hours before the vessel was raised from the ocean floor, doctors said early today.

The two, Clayton Link, 31, and Albert Stover, 51, were officially pronounced dead Tuesday morning. Intense pressure prevented rescuers from opening the cramped rear diving chamber of the civilian minisub Sea Link until decompression was completed about 10 p.m. An autopsy was conducted at a nearby hospital and the cause of death was announced by the Monroe County Medical Examiner, Dr. A.F. Fernandez. He said the two died about noon Monday, shortly after losing consciousness.

Dr. David Youngblood, a physician with the Smithsonian Institution which sponsored the oceanographers, said the autopsy showed definitely that the men died of carbon dioxide poisoning and not of cold exposure as he had earlier predicted.

"Death was not abrupt; it came slowly," Youngblood said.

Robert Meek, 27, and Archibald "Jock" Menzies, 30, two other crew members on the minisub designed by Link's father, survived the 31-hour ordeal in a forward chamber. They were in seclusion at an undisclosed location.

Joint funeral services for Link, the son of millionaire inventor Edwin Link, and Stover, an expert in underwater survival, were set for Friday morning in Vero Beach, Fla.

The submarine was freed Monday from a tangle of cables in a scuttled World War II destroyer 351 feet below the surface of the Atlantic. The four-man team was investigating marine life around the wreck of the vessel. The ship was scuttled a year ago about 20 miles southeast of here to form an artificial reef.

The bodies of the men were still in the chamber when demands were made for an investigation.

The Smithsonian said it planned to appoint a review board to determine the cause of the accident.

U.S. Rep. Richard Fulton, D-Tenn., called for a probe by the House Armed Services Committee, saying, "Questions arise as to just how well prepared the Navy was for this tragic accident."

Capt. T.W. Cuddy, commanding officer of a submarine squadron at the Key West Naval Base and director of the rescue efforts, said: "There weren't any goofs I know of.... It was not the first time this has happened or the last time it will happen."

Two Injured In Accidents

Two persons were reported injured and an estimated $2,900 property damage caused in two collisions here yesterday.

Police reported Audrey Harkins of Route 1, Greenville and Willie James Brown Jr. of 413 Bonner's Lane were injured when the cars they were driving collided about 6:23 p.m. at the intersection of Farmville Boulevard and Bancroft Avenue.

Officers, who charged Mrs. Harkins with failing to stop for a stop sign, estimated damage at $1,000 to the Harkins car and $1,200 to the Brown vehicle.

No charges were reported in a 6:20 p.m. collision on Evans Street 40 feet North of the U.S. 264 intersection which involved cars being driven by Myra Bradley Green of 101 Ford St. and Warren Brent Cade of 1207 North Overlook Dr. and a car being towed by the Cade vehicle.

Police set damage to the Green car at $500 and placed damage to the Cade auto at $100. They said an estimated $100 damaged resulted to a vehicle owned by Hendrix and Dail of Greenville that was being towed by the car Cade was driving.

Orders New School Plan

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—U.S. District Judge James B. McMillan has ordered the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education to write a new school desegregation plan for 1974-1975.

McMillan also ordered the board Tuesday today to assign students from six east and southeast Charlotte schools to predominantly-black West Charlotte High next fall as an interim measure.

The judge said the board must beef up the sagging enrollment at West Charlotte by drawing students from the predominantly-white and more affluent east and southeast sections of the city and county.

He said any number of methods could be used, including blind lottery, random selection by name, principals' nomination or specific geographical areas.

McMillan said the board should report by Sept. 4 on progress for a new desegregation plan for the 1974-1975 term.

The board's recent efforts to devise a new pupil assignment plan for the coming fall have failed to meet McMillan's criteria.

In his Tuesday order, McMillan also said the academic and athletic programs at West Charlotte and Harding high schools must be improved to be on par with those of the county's eight other high schools.

The youth department of Selvia Chapel Free Will Baptist Church is sponsoring a youth crusade tonight through Friday. The Rev. Matthew Best Jr. will be the guest speaker.

The following junior choirs, whers and congregations will participate: tonight, Rock Spring; Thursday, Simpson Gospel Singers; Friday, Holly Hill.

Services will begin nightly at eight o'clock.

New BPW Officers Begin Their Year

Newly elected officers of the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club began their duties Thursday night at the meeting of the club.

Miss Nancy Smith, president, challenged those present to promote professional growth and development of club members and of the larger community of career women.

Other officers are: Miss Mary C. Daugherty, first vice president; Dr. Ruby Barnes, second vice president; Miss Annie Turner, recording secretary; Mrs. Betty le Roux, corresponding secretary;

Mrs. Clara R. Carr, treasurer; Mrs. Kemp Baldwin, parliamentarian; Mrs. Ruth Garner and Miss Elizabeth Deal, historians; and Mrs. Eleanor Bunting, chaplain.

Miss Smith announced the committees designed to meet before July 5 to set up operational plans.

The first dinner meeting of the 1973-74 year was held at the Woman's Club. Following the

Leaf Damage By Weather

COLUMBIA (AP)—A federal official estimates recent weather damage to South Carolina flue cured tobacco at $12.6 million.

Director W.E. Barmore of the state office of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation said today the figure was reached after a survey of damage from recent heavy rains and subsequent flooding.

Such a loss would amount to about 10 per cent of the state's crop of leaf, based on last year's crop yield of $114 million.

Barmore said the estimate includes marginal acreage, on which the tobacco plants are flopped over, but could possibly recover if the weather stays cloudy, as it has been doing.

About 70,000 acres in the state have been planted to tobacco.

Barmore said the leaf damage from excessive rains comes from the fact that tobacco plants get their oxygen through their roots. Excessive water in the soil cuts off the oxygen supply.

'Disqualified' From Food Stamp Program

A Greenville food store—Smith's Station—has been disqualified from the federal food stamp program according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS).

The store, owned by Seymore Smith, was removed from the food stamp program for one year, beginning June 8, after being charged with giving cash change in food stamp transactions and accepting food stamps for ineligible items, including beer, wine, cigarettes, gasoline and clothing.

The store will not be allowed to accept food coupons during the one-year period of disqualification.

Food stamps, by law, can be used only to buy food.

Cites Need For Doctors

GREENSBORO (AP) — Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt says North Carolina needs to double the number of doctors it produces to meet a "health care crisis" in the state.

In a talk prepared for the Greensboro Exchange Club, Hunt did not specify how the state's medical training facilities should be enlarged to double the number of doctors produced.

He said the state must produce more doctors willing and able to go into general practice, and "we have to find ways to get doctors to locate in areas where there are no doctors."

The lieutenant governor said North Carolina has fewer doctors than the national average and that the northeastern and northwestern sections of the state have far fewer doctors than the rest of the state.

He called for development of community health clinics manned by a new type of nurse known as family nurse practitioners to help provide medical service in rural areas.

Training Mishap Kills 2 Marines

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Two Marines were killed and 13 others injured when a 15,000-pound tracked amphibious landing vehicle overturned and caught fire on a training exercise, officials said.

Marine spokesmen said the heavy tractor apparently flipped over while rounding a curve Tuesday near the southwest corner of Camp Pendleton. The two drivers were killed. An investigation was ordered.

Identities of the dead men were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Spokesmen said one crewman and 12 passengers were treated for minor injuries.

MAZDA ROTARY ENGINE LICENSED BY YOU HANDEL

Mazda introduces the 24/24 warranty.

Mazda's rotary is the engine of the future. It has fewer moving parts, so there's less to go wrong

That's why Mazda warrants the basic rotary engine block and its internal parts to be free of defects, with normal use and maintenance, for 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first or Mazda will fix it for free.

Mazda warrants the rest of the vehicle for 12 months, or 12,000 miles, whichever occurs first.

So come in today and check out our 5 new models for 1973. All equipped with a rotary engine. And a 24/24 rotary-engine warranty.
