

Dean Asserts Meetings 'Incriminating' To Nixon

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III told the Senate Watergate committee today he took no notes of some meetings with President Nixon because "some of the things that were being said in these meetings...were very incriminating to the President."

Answering a series of White House questions posed through Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, Dean said he did not want documents recording his presidential meetings because the White House had a problem with information becoming public.

Pressed for his recollection of a key meeting with Nixon on Sept. 15, 1972, Dean said he could not repeat the exact words used by Nixon, but said his mind "certainly perceives the message being given."

Dean said conversations in the meetings included discussions of such matters as clemency for E. Howard Hunt and payoffs for convicted Watergate defendants, all mentioned earlier during his previous three days of testimony.

In response to White House questions about how Dean was able to remember what had happened several months or a year ago, Dean said he had kept a file of newspaper stories that often acted as a "trigger" to his memory.

Dean testified he has no knowledge that John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's former top domestic aide, had prior knowledge of the Watergate break-in.

Inouye was posing a series of questions prepared by J. Fred Buzhardt, special counsel to the White House.

The questions followed up on a complex White House memo read by Inouye Wednesday which accused Dean of being a man ready to sacrifice the President to save himself from jail, and which also abandoned any White House support for former attorney general and Nixon campaign chief John N. Mitchell.

Dean has steadily refused since presenting his six-hour case Monday to recant his story that Nixon and his chief aides, particularly Ehrlichman and H. R. Haldeman, were fully aware of the lengthy and elaborate cover-up.

He insisted he was always the messenger and never the master of a conspiracy to conceal the truth.

The ousted White House counsel replied to the administration counterattack with a new offensive of his own before the Senate Watergate committee Wednesday.

He produced what he said was the official White House black list of the President's enemies in Congress and in politics, business, labor, journalism, the universities and the theater.

And Dean supplied the committee with copies of White House memos that indicated preparations were being made two years ago to "use the available federal machinery to screw our political enemies."

Meanwhile, in a surprise move, Frederick C. LaRue, a former Nixon campaign aide and White House consultant, was permitted to plead guilty in U.S. District Court to a single conspiracy charge in exchange for his promise to testify against others involved in the Watergate scandal. In return, prosecutors had agreed not to press any other charges against him.

In San Clemente, Calif., a White House spokesman again refused to predict the President might comment on Dean's testimony. Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said Nixon did not want to respond "in a fragmentary way" and that comments "while the hearings are in progress would not be beneficial to the committee."

The White House questions will be put to Dean by Democratic Sen. Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii.

It was learned that when that process is completed, Inouye plans to ask Dean another series of questions—on Dean's knowledge of the complicated financial transactions that enabled the President to buy his ocean-side estate at San Clemente, Calif.

It was understood Dean has new information about the deal, and was willing to talk about it with the committee.

Wednesday, the White House provided the first serious challenge to Dean's position.

In a statement read to Dean by Inouye, Buzhardt asserted that Dean was the prime mover in the cover-up, along with former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, whom Buzhardt called Dean's patron, and Jeb Stuart Magruder, the former deputy of the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

New FBI Boss Approved

HE'S THE MAN—Former Kansas City Police Chief and veteran FBI agent Clarence Kelley pauses for a moment during a Washington news conference Wednesday after he was confirmed by the Senate as the new FBI director, succeeding the late J. Edgar Hoover. He was confirmed by a unanimous vote. Kelley said he would resign rather than bend to political pressure. (AP Wirephoto)

Charge Airman In Hospital Slayings

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Police report that an airman was arrested today and charged as the assailant who killed two persons and wounded three at the emergency room of the hospital at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base Sunday morning.

Police said that the 23-year-old airman, Chester Collier, stationed at Seymour Johnson, was arrested at his home in Goldsboro about 2 a.m. and charged with two counts of murder. He was placed in the Wayne County Jail at Goldsboro, and is to be given a preliminary hearing in state District Court on July 9.

The Air Force said Collier's home of record is Copeland, Fla., and he has been in the Air Force 4 1/2 years. No other details concerning his arrest were available, an Air Force spokesman said.

All four men in the emergency room were shot, two fatally, and then a fifth man was wounded in a nearby X-ray room.

No motive has been learned.

A witness said the assailant, wearing a tan sports shirt and dark trousers, burst into the emergency room and started firing with what appeared to be a .22 caliber semiautomatic rifle.

Sgt. Larry S. Smith, 22, of Phillips, Maine, and Airman Luis Santiago, 20, of New York City, fell dead. Smith was a medical corpsman on duty in the emergency room. Santiago was a security policeman on sick call.

The other men wounded in the emergency room were Airman Anthony P. Leonetti, 18, of Westerly, R.I., and Sgt. John R. Hayes, 21, of Rochester, Mass. The four reportedly were the only ones in the emergency room.

Sgt. Robert Halverson, 32, of Redmond, Wash., who was accosted in the X-ray room, suffered a slight wound. He was released after treatment at the base hospital.

Col. D.L. Wells, the hospital administrator, said that as far as he knew, the gunman exchanged no words with those in the emergency room. However, the colonel quoted an airman who was with Halverson in the X-ray room as overhearing the assailant say, "I'll kill all you--in the hospital."

Wells said the gunman couldn't have been in the hospital more than three or four minutes before fleeing, reportedly in a foreign car with a woman at the wheel. A man was picked up several hours after the shootings, questioned, and released.

John C. Schofield, a planner with the Birmingham, Alabama Regional Planning Commission, has been appointed City Planner for the City of Greenville.

In making the announcement, City Manager William H. Carstarphen described Schofield as "a young man with the combination of planning experience and professional training needed in Greenville's planning program."

Schofield is a 26 year old native of Raleigh and attended East Carolina University where he graduated in May, 1970 with a major in Political Science and a minor in Urban Planning.

Following graduation, Schofield was employed by Bost and Associates, a private planning consulting firm in Knoxville, Tennessee. Since 1971, he has been on the planning staff of the Birmingham Regional Planning Commission and was in October, 1972 appointed Senior Planner with that agency.

Carstarphen listed the planning activities in which Schofield has been involved including zoning ordinance preparation, comprehensive planning for small communities, citizen participation programming, transportation planning, and federal program coordination.

Schofield will begin his duties in Greenville on August 1. Salary range for the City Planner is from $12,326 to $15,732 per year. Schofield fills a vacancy on the City staff created when former City Planner Dillon Watson resigned last February to accept a position with Phil Carroll Associates.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., chief sponsor of the anti-bombing provision in the vetoed $3.4-billion supplementary money bill, immediately won its inclusion in a bill extending the federal debt ceiling, where its fate was uncertain.

The amendment also was included in a third bill, the continuing resolution to provide funding for federal agencies after Saturday night, when the current fiscal year ends. Congress has not approved regular appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and government agencies need the continuing resolution if they are to have funds to operate.

The appropriations bill probably will come before the Senate Appropriations Committee today, and seems certain to reach the President, with the anti-bombing amendment, before the week ends.

As passed by the House Tuesday, the amendment bars funds, both already provided and those appropriated by the resolution, to be used for any U.S. combat activities in or over Cambodia or Laos or off the shores of Cambodia or Laos.

Unlike the vetoed supplemental money measure, the debt ceiling bill and continuing resolution must become law by midnight Saturday for the government to continue to meet its financial obligations.

H-Bomb Blast Confirmed By China As Test

TOKYO (AP) — China announced today it tested a hydrogen bomb for defense purposes and to break the "nuclear monopoly" of the superpowers.

The Peking Radio announcement was China's first confirmation of the explosion over the western part of the Chinese mainland Wednesday that several other countries had already detected.

By superpowers, China meant the Soviet Union and the United States. The Chinese test was set off just five days after the U.S.-Soviet summit agreement aimed at preventing nuclear war, and as France was preparing a nuclear test in the Southwest Pacific over opposition of numerous countries and of the World Court.

China and France are the only nuclear powers that have refused to sign the treaty against atomic tests in the atmosphere.

Japan, the only atom-bombed country, expressed regret over the Chinese test and prepared to file a formal protest with Peking. Fallout of nuclear ash from the explosion was expected to hit Japan starting Friday. Unusual changes in atmospheric pressure attributed to the blast were reported at several places in Japan.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said in Washington the blast packed an explosive yield in the range of two to three megatons, the equivalent to two to three million tons of TNT.

This made it one of the most powerful of the 15 Chinese nuclear explosions detected since that country began testing in 1964. A three-megaton blast was touched off in 1970. The previous test, in March 1972, was estimated at 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT.

Indian scientists said the explosion occurred in the Lop Nor region of Sinkiang, China's main nuclear test area.

The Peking announcement gave the location merely as China's western region.

The official Hsinhua News Agency announcement almost 26 1/2 hours after the test at noon Wednesday declared:

"...The conducting of necessary and limited nuclear tests by China is entirely for the purpose of defense and for breaking the nuclear monopoly by the superpowers, with the ultimate aim of abolishing nuclear weapons. The Chinese government declares once again that at no time will it be the first to use nuclear weapons..."

Bars Smoking In Public Meetings

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Gov. Tom McCall has signed into law a bill which makes smoking illegal at public meetings of Oregon state bodies.

"I understand the gnawings of nicotine quite well because it was just 1,969 days, 12 hours, 8 minutes and 20 seconds ago that I was forced to give up cigarettes," McCall said Wednesday while signing the bill.

Name Rountree To Commission

H. Horton Rountree of Greenville, Democratic representative for Pitt County, was appointed the Legislative Services Commission by House Speaker James E. Ramsey.

The appointment is for two years and will begin July 1. The commission is responsible for the overall operation of the General Assembly, including staff and equipment.

Objecting To New Restricted Airspace

WASHINGTON—Following a review of a draft environmental impact statement submitted by the U.S. Navy, the Mid-East Commission has suggested an alternate "is available" to establishing a new restricted over coastal Carolina for military jet aircraft operations.

The Navy is attempting to establish a new 275 square-mile restricted area—where civilian aircraft would be limited to relative low altitudes—over a portion of Eastern North Carolina for training of pilots of supersonic aircraft.

Following a review of the environmental impact statement submitted by Navy officials, Jack A. Runion, Mid-East Chairman has told officials the review panel "has developed a negative response to the proposed restricted airspace as outlined."

According to Runion, "We must emphasize that our coastal area is already under intense examination to derive legislation to protect it from becoming an area of misused land and polluted waters and making it more attractive for not only the residents of the area, but also for the vast and rewarding tourist industry."

"Our inland coastal waters have been used for military purposes since the early forties with restricted air space for these areas still in existence and still used. To restrict another area along our valuable coast would place undue restrictions on the area and undesired adaptations on the residents."

Runion said the Mid-East review board believes that the

Cancel Planning Meets For A Lack Of Quorum

For lack of a quorum the scheduled June meetings of the Joint City-County Planning and Zoning Commission and the Greenville Planning and Zoning Commission were cancelled shortly before 8:30 Wednesday night.

The only members present were Don Langston of the Joint Commission; and Earl Howell and Isaac Artis of the Greenville Commission. Non-voting members present were City Engineer C. A. Holliday and Greenville Utilities Director Charles O'H. Horne, Jr.

Prior to calling off the meetings due to lack of members present, W. J. Simmons, who was scheduled to have a request for rezoning considered by the joint commission, asked that whatever action possible be taken to expedite the agenda item scheduled in his case.

Acting Chairman Howell assured Simmons he would contact Chairman Louis Clark and have Clark request be placed on the agenda of the July 12 City Council meeting.

Mrs. Gail Meeks, secretary to the Commission, said if this action is taken, the City Council has authority to schedule a public hearing on Simmons' request for the August City Council meeting, and consequently not create a month's delay which would otherwise occur in Simmons' request.

Simmons is seeking to have property located on the south side of Mumford Road rezoned from RA-20 to highway commercial. Simmons noted that "everything in the area except this property is already commercial."

Senate Approves Boost Social Security Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved a 5.6 per cent cost-of-living increase for persons on Social Security, a move that appears to have a good chance for House acceptance.

As adopted by the Senate 72 to 17, the higher Social Security payments would not result in increased payroll deductions.

If approved by the House, the increase would face an uncertain fate in the White House. Nixon administration officials have opposed the higher payments.

Managers of the measure said they would try to arrange a Senate-House conference today.

The Social Security hike was a rider, attached with many others, to a bill that would extend the present $465-billion national debt ceiling for 5 months.

This ceiling drops to $400 billion at midnight Saturday, unless the bill is enacted. The government could not meet its financial obligations under the lower figure.

The Senate remained in session until 11 p.m. Wednesday taking 15 separate roll call votes to complete action on the debt limit measure.

Lehman-Rasberry Vows Said In Grifton

Sunday at 6:00 p.m. in the Grifton United Methodist Church, Miss Barbara Kay Rasberry and Wade Morton Lehman were united in marriage by Dr. Frank Pisani, president of St. Mary's College in Raleigh, in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Earl Rasberry of Grifton and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Glenn Lehman, also of Grifton.

Church decorations were arrangements of pink, burgundy and red flowers, with palms and caldelabra. A white satin covered prie dieu was placed for the prayer. Family pews were marked with small nosegays of pink and red flowers with sating streamers. Mark Mann of Cary was acolyte.

Miss Barbara Lang of Farmville at the organ and Mrs. W. H. Grady, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music. "Sunrise, Sunset," and "One Hand, One Heart" were vocal numbers. Mr. Jimmy Smith, trumpeter also took part in the music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of silkened organza and Schiffli lace with pink organdy fluting. The empire bodice was an overlay of lace with Victorian neck and circled at the waist with pink organdy band and large bow with streamers. The Victorian sleeves of organza over tapered lace and finished with deep fluted ruffle of pink organdy. Her mantilla fell from a Camelot cap, this was edged in lace and tiny seed pearls. She carried a Georgian nosegay of pink and red sweetheart roses, pink miniature carnations, stephanotis baby's breath, and ivy tied with pink velvet ribbon.

Miss Deborah Phillips, maid of honor wore a floor length gown of pink peau do soie with overlay of silk organza bordered with a deep ruffle. The sleeveless bodice featured a cape collar made of organdy and candlelight lace. The wide midriff band of peau do soie featured a large bow at back with long streamers of lace. She wore a Camelot cap of pink lace and peau de soie and carried a arm bouquet of long stemmed red roses tied with a red velvet ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Elbert Banks of Fayetteville, Miss Deborah Faraone of Burlington, Miss Carol Grady, cousin of the bride, of Opelika, Ala., Miss Deborah Joliff of Ashville; Miss Janet Kinzy, cousin of the bride, of Northridge, Calif; and Mrs. Wayne Lehman, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Their gowns were identical to that of the honor attendant. The flower girls were Miss Terry Spurrier of Hampton Roads, Va. and Miss Tori Grady of Chapel Hill. They wore gowns fashioned like those of the other attendants and carried white baskets of miniature red, pink and burgundy flowers.

The groom was served by his father as best man. Ushers were Frederick Cartwright of Bath; Michael Grady of Raleigh; Wayne Grizzard of Roanoke Rapids, Ward Tarlton of Wadesboro, Wayne Lehman, twin brother of the groom, and William Lehman, brother of the groom, of Greenville.

Mrs. Rasberry chose for her daughter's wedding a long gown of mint green polyester crepe featuring a wide waistband of matching lace and long sheer sleeves with deep lace cuffs accented at waist and cuffs with pearls, she wore a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a long gown of orchid crepe with sleeveless bodice of white eyelet, and accented with short orchid jacket trimmed in eyelet, she also wore pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Walter Spurrier of Mount Airy, Md., maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a short dress of lilac lace over satin with satin trim at neckline, and had a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. C. H. Rasberry of Farmville, paternal grandmother of the bride, chose a short dress of soft green and white double knit, her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Don Casey directed the wedding.

A garden reception followed the wedding at the home of the bride's parents on Cherbal Drive in Forest Acres. Relatives of the bride assisted, Mrs. J. M. Hart was at the register and Mrs. Frank Griffin stood at the gift table. For her honeymoon to Fontana Dam the bride changed into a navy and white jacket dress. On their return, they will make their home in Chapel Hill.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of St. Mary's Junior College in Raleigh and will continue her education in dental hygiene at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

The groom is a 1973 graduate of Pembroke State University and will be teaching in Goldston in August.

After rehearsal party on Saturday night at the Ayden Country Club given in honor of the bridal couple was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. George G. Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. William Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gower, Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hardison, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. James Israel, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McClaine, Mr. and Mrs. John Oglesby, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy.

In the private dining room, the bride's table was centered with a five branched candelabra holding pink tapers and filled with mixed summer flowers in shades of pink and red. After the meal toasts were given to the honored couple. Approximately 100 guests were in attendance.

Saturday at noon Miss Barbara Kay Rasberry was entertained by her maid of honor, Miss Deborah Phillips at a bridesmaid's luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. I. Bisette.

Sunday morning a wedding breakfast was given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinzy, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rasberry, Mrs. J. D. Grady, Mrs. Walter Spurrier, Mrs. C. H. Rasberry, Mr. and Mrs. Don Casey, Dr. and Mrs. Jim Grady, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Carson. Summer flowers decorated the bride's table and places were marked with silver wedding bells. Guests included the wedding party and families and out-of-town guests.

Doesn't want to apply for daughter's hand

DEAR ABBY: Cindee and I want to get married, but we have one small problem. Her father. He wants to be sure I will be a good provider. He is the personnel manager of a large company and he says before he decides, I will have to submit three letters of recommendation.

I know this sounds silly, but he is serious. I don't think getting married should be like applying for a job.

I feel certain I can support a wife but I don't think I should have to dig up any references. What should I do?

APPLICANT IN SEATTLE

DEAR APPLICANT: Would Cindee's father have submitted to such mumbo-jumbo to win her mother? After all, you're not marrying Boeing Aircraft. If you want Cindee and Cindee wants you [and you're old enough], tell her dad you'll do your best to support his daughter but the letters of recommendation are out.

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I was seriously injured in an accident. While still in the hospital and in such shape I was wondering whether I'd pull thru, I received flowers from the owners of a local funeral home! I can't tell you how this depressed me.

A few days later, these two morticians and their wives came to the hospital to visit me. I knew these people only slightly and had never socialized with them.

I think trying to drum up business this way is in very poor taste. I can't imagine what other reason they would have for sending flowers and visiting me.

How do you feel about morticians hustling prospective customers this way?

ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: Such hucksterism would annoy the Funeral Directors Association more than it depressed you. For your convenience, their address is 135 W. Wells St., Milwaukee, Wis. 53203. The ethical morticians would appreciate it if you'd report these duds.

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago I met an accountant in a bowling alley. Every night we'd have a few beers together and we became good friends. One night my friend told me his sister had invested in some stocks and had a very good week financially. Since I was going to make a deposit in the bank the next day, I suggested to my friend that I would give him $1,000 instead to invest in the stock market.

The next day I gave him $1,000 in cash, in my car [no witnesses], and since we were friends I didn't ask for a receipt or anything.

We agreed that we would split the profit from the stock 50-50—half for him because he was an accountant and knew about stocks, and half for me because it was my money.

Then I started to work nights and couldn't bowl, but I kept in touch with him by phone. After a year and a half, the stock remained the same, so I told him to sell it and return my money.

You guessed it. I was stuck! He said I couldn't prove anything as I had no receipt.

I went to three lawyers and they all told me to chalk it up to experience. Can you help me get my money back?

STUCK IN AMSTERDAM

DEAR STUCK: If three lawyers told you the same thing, you had better believe it. It seems a pity that you have to suffer such a grave injustice, but without some proof of the transaction you are indeed stuck.

By Relatives

Miss Jackie Minges, bride-elect of Donald Taylor, was honored at an informal luncheon given Saturday by her grandmother and two of her aunts.

Hostesses at the 113 Martinsborough Road home were Mrs. Allie Whitehurst, her grandmother, and Mrs. Bobby Gaylor and Mrs. Norwood Whitehurst, her aunts.

The main course of the three-course meal was served informally in baskets lined with pastel linen cloths.

Special guests were the mothers of the bridal couple, Mrs. John F. Minges and Mrs. William Taylor Jr.

Party Given

Miss Joan Leggett, bride-elect of Harper Manning, was honored Monday night at an informal party for her and her bridesmaids at the home of Mrs. James E. Pollard.

Pink, lavender, and white floral arrangement were used throughout the home.

Hostesses were Mrs. Dempsey J. Holland, Mrs. Stephen M. Grant, and Mrs. Pollard.

The honoree was presented a corsage when she arrived and was remembered by the hostesses with china in her chosen pattern.

Special guests were Mrs. Dennis Leggett, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. J. H. Manning, mother of her fiancé, Mrs. Dave Nobles, Mrs. Bobby Manning, Mrs. Ernest Mosely, and Mrs. Thelma Fields.

St. Jude's Church Is Scene of Wedding

GRIFTON — Miss Eileen Rose McAllister and Jeffrey Gordon Demain were united in marriage Wednesday, June 20, at Saint Jude's Catholic church here. The Reverend Father Robert Shea officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey J. McAllister and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Demain of Ayden.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown. The dress featured a bodice and short sleeves of cotton lace and an A-line skirt of bridal satin. Her headpiece was styled with satin and daisies with a floor length illusion veil trimmed with white daisies. Her bouquet was of white daisies and baby carnations.

Miss Delores Briley of Ayden was the maid of honor. She wore a formal length fawn of pale yellow dotted swiss with an empire waist and puffed sleeves. The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Demain, sister of the groom and Miss Kathleen McAllister, sister of the bride. Miss Heather McAllister, sister of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. They wore formal length gowns of pale green dotted swiss styled the same of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of daisies and baby's breath.

Jesse Glenn Cannon Jr. of Ayden served as best man. James McAllister and Kevin McAllister, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The wedding was under the direction of Mrs. John Condon. The mothers of the couple and two grandmothers were presented with corsages of white carnations.

A garden reception was held at the home of the bride, where the bridal couple and the brides' parents received informally. After the traditional first piece of wedding cake, Mrs. Robert Pittman, aunt of the bride, served the cake. Mrs. Agnes Eckstein, grandmother of the bride, assisted her.

For traveling, the bride wore a green plaid pantsuit and a corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The couple will reside in Hampton, Va. Both are graduates of Ayden-Grifton High School. The groom is serving in the U.S. Air Force.

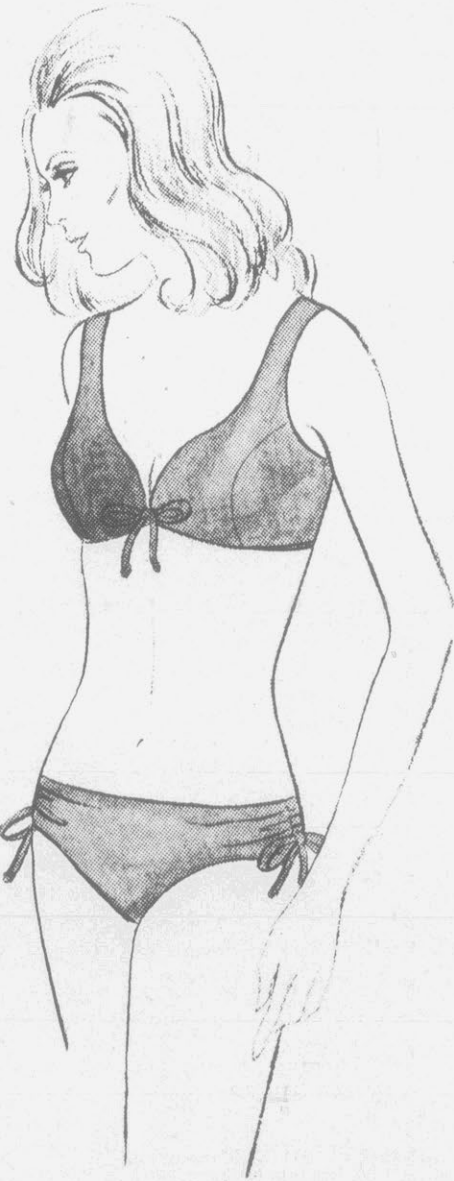

Country Of Lovers Not So Loving

PARIS, France (WNS) — American college men attending French universities have reported that chivalry is dead in the land of lovers. "I kissed the hand of a Paris coed, and she kicked me in the shins," said Bill Harrover from Berkeley, California. Dick Hammer, on leave from Texas, offered a bouquet to a mademoiselle classmate before introducing himself at the Deux Magots cafe and was told, "Get lost, or I'll call the manager." A male committee of two-dozen American students has discovered that "French coeds want American men to behave like the Humphrey Bogarts they see in the movies." As Bob Williams of Pennsylvania put it, "The French girl wants her man to enter the restaurant first. Open the door for her, and she will slam it in your face."

Massive Study Of 'Upwelling'

By BOB WILSON
Duke University
News Bureau

DURHAM, N.C. — Fishing conditions off the coast of Peru and the price of chickens may seem continents apart in importance, but there's a connection between the two in Tar Heel grocery stores.

Trawlers plying the waters off Peru, on South America's mountainous western littoral, net fish that are used to produce chicken feed, and there begins the influence of a little-studied phenomenon called coastal upwelling on the household food budget.

Coastal upwelling zones occur along the western coasts of the continents in the low and mid-latitudes. They are among the world's best fishing areas, producing about half the global supply of fish from only 1 per cent of the oceans.

A long-range federally financed study of coastal upwelling is being coordinated from Duke University Marine Laboratory at Beaufort, N. C., in the largest attempt ever to learn how the phenomenon works.

Long-Range Project
Researchers from 11 universities and marine laboratories in the United States, augmented by scientists from Spain and France, will cooperate in the venture through 1980.

The study, called Coastal Upwelling Ecosystem Analysis, is being directed by Dr. Richard T. Barber, head of the cooperative program in biological oceanography at Duke Marine Laboratory.

"The special significance of this project," Barber says, "lies not only in our attempt to learn how upwelling works, but how variables such as weather and pollution affect it."

Barber and other scientists will be probing a phenomenon that occurs when strong westerly winds combine with the Coriolis Force (which accounts for the clockwise rotation of whirlpools in bathtub drains in the northern hemisphere to bring enormous quantities of nutrients from the continental shelf to near the ocean surface.

Food Lures Fish
The sweeping up of nutrient-laden water by upwelling currents is a virtual guarantee that hugh schools of commercially-valuable fish will rush to gorge themselves on microscopic phytoplankton and other morsels.

The first full-scale study of upwelling, JOINT I, is scheduled to begin early next year off the coasts of Mauritania and Spanish Sahara, both west African nations.

JOINT I will bring state-of-the-art scientific equipment—including a computer with the disarmingly feminine name of IRS—to bear on investigations of the physical and biological aspects of upwellins. Ships, aircraft filled with special sensors and even earth resources satellites with their unmatched view of the earth earth will be the workhorse of the study.

Most scientific work, of course, must be accomplished aboard the ships. Some vessels, such as the Oceanographer, the Yaquina and the Thomas G. Thompson, will steam as far away as the West Coast to participate in JOINT I.

Atlantis II, a research vessel belonging to Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution in Massachusetts, has been designated the "flagship" of the JOINT I fleet, as well as the host of IRIS.

The 210-foot ship also has been equipped with a strange-sounding device called TUPS. In scientific parlance, TUPS is a fish.

Electronic Fish
Not the usual kind of fish, by any standard, TUPS packs electronic gear that samples a three-dimensional section of the ocean, continuously feeding biological and physical data to Atlantis II from depths up to 100 meters while the ship tracks a zig-zag course.

In any venture as costly—$2.2 million a year—and as complex as an upwelling analysis, the work of many individual scientists is directed toward small segments of the whole.

Barber, for example, plans to use an $88,000 National Science Foundation grant between his directing chores to study the role of phytoplankton in the upwelling food chain.

He's especially interested in the effects of such heavy metals as copper, cadmium and lead, all by products of some industrial processes, on phytoplankton. These highly toxic metals could seriously affect the productivity of upwelling areas where pollution runs unchecked.

As the name of the study makes clear, coastal upwelling is an ecological phenomenon. Each part of it directly relates to all other parts. Perturbation of one affects all.

Thus, on a much broader scale, the productivity of coastal upwelling zones off Peru, the northwestern United States and Western Africa, is interrelated to the price of chickens in North Carolina grocery stores. If productivity fails, chicken feed costs more and the price of fryers may rise.

Coastal upwelling probably will never become a household phrase, or of much widespread interest to anybody except oceanographers and marine biologists. Yet like many ecological processes of which we are only dimly aware, upwelling affects millions of Americans, even if only in a small way, for it is one more emerging link between ourselves and the rhythmic grandeur of the natural world.

East-West European settlement. The summit holds out hope for settling some of the problems which have plagued nations for a number of years. The two leaders touched on all of them in their communique following the conference—the Far East, Middle East, Europe, arms control.

Trade was an important part of the talks and the communique said that the two nations should aim for a total of $2 billion to $3 billion in trade during the next three years. This would be an increase of about 50 percent over present levels.

U.S. firms were encouraged to work out concrete proposals for obtaining natural gas from the Soviet Union and President Nixon said his administration "will give serious and sympathetic consideration to proposals that are in the interest of both sides."

Both leaders were positive on the agreement to end the Vietnam war and they emphasized that it must be strictly implemented "They further stress the need to bring an early end to the military conflict in Cambodia," the statement said.

The leaders said efforts should be made in the Middle East to "promote the quickest possible settlement." An early settlement "should be in accordance with the interests of all states in the area, be consistent with their independence and sovereignty and should take into due account the legitimate interests of the Palestinian people."

There was the possibility of a supersummit of U.S., Soviet and European leaders to work out problems of that area.

World tensions are not going to ease overnight because of this most recent meeting between Brezhnev and Nixon; however it is another step toward better relations between the two giant nations. It is necessary that continuing efforts be made to improve relations if we are to live in a better, more peaceful world.

Hugh Morton's Tactics Unfold

By JOHN KILGO
LINVILLE

— Hugh Morton's efforts to get the west organized for their November 6 vote on liquor-by-the-drink are beginning to take hold.

"I think things are beginning to fall in place," Morton told me in an interview. "A good bit has been done in the past three weeks."

It was three weeks ago that Morton said the wets were totally disorganized, while the dries—led by Marse Grant and Coy Privette—were functioning smoothly.

The wets held a quiet meeting in Charlotte last week and Morton was there to give his ideas on what kind of campaign they should run. We also learned a decision came out of that meeting to try to get someone from a small community in North Carolina to head the campaign organization for the wets.

It is hoped that title can be given to a well-known political figure from a small town, who would be known and respected state-wide. The wets don't want their campaign to be run strictly by people from the metropolitan areas.

"It's my opinion," Morton said, "that we must tell the facts in an unemotional way. People won't be voting on liquor-by-the-drink, but on whether or not people in individual counties can have the right to vote on it."

"There will be great emotion in the debate. I think we should urge voters to read the bill. If we can get them to read the bill, we'll do okay. The dries are not going to discuss the bill. I can assure of that."

Morton says he looks for the November 6 referendum to be extremely close. He says he wouldn't be the least bit surprised to see the controversial issue settled by a margin of 2,000 or 3,000 votes.

Are the wets going to concentrate on the urban vote and spend little time and money in the rural areas?

"I think the referendum is going to be too close to ignore anybody's vote,"

Morton said. "A rural vote in the East will count just as much a vote in Greensboro or Charlotte."

The wets hope to be organized to the point they can start their actual campaign just after Labor Day. Morton feels that will be plenty of time to get the message across to the voters.

Morton—who has already told people he can't assume leadership in the wets' campaign—recently debated Coy Privette, president of Christian Action League. The fireworks took place in Durham. Morton says he took place in the debate only because no one else could be found to state the side favored by the wets.

"I learned from debating Mr. Privette," Morton said, "that the dries will not discuss the actual bill passed by the Legislature. Every time I tried to get him to talk about the bill, he turned his remarks in another direction. That's why I say it's vitally important for our side to convince voters to read the bill. If we're not careful, the voters will be so confused they won't know what they're voting. The dries would have it that way."

The dries dispute Morton's allegations. Marse Grant, editor of the Biblical Recorder, says the dries will conduct an "education campaign."

"We want the voters to know exactly what they're voting on," Grant said. "The voters will turn this thing down if we do our job."

There have been rumors that both sides will dump hundreds of thousands of dollars into the campaign.

One man, who sides with the wets, laughs at that.

"Both sides in this fight," he told me, "are a bunch of cheapskates."

Strength For Today

GOD PROMISES VICTORY

Is life beyond you? Do you feel sometimes that you cannot endure its sorrows? Do you feel that you cannot carry the burdens it puts upon you?

No, the world is not hopeless, because God is here. The trouble with the world today is that it is being managed by men who will not accept Christ and his spiritual empire.

The New Testament is a chart of freedom, and it assures us that we can rise above life because we can rise above self, and we can rise above self because God through Jesus Christ has made it possible for us to rise above sin. Even though our personal circumstances may be dark and threatening, the heart of every true believer may be comforted with these words: "Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

This is no time for Christians to despair either of themselves or of the world. It is a time which calls for reconsecration, not for hopelessness.

Airbag Progress Report

Barring some further extension of the deadline, all automobiles manufactures after August 15, 1975, will have to be equipped with "passive restraint" devices in the front-seat positions.

For all practical purposes, this means airbags. How are they coming along?

The answer appears to be, remarkable well. Since "real-world" testing began last year, the airbags have functioned flawlessly in eight serious accidents. The bags have inflates on impact, precisely as designed, and it is probable that two girls in St. Louis and a young man from Scarsdale are alive today—or at least not maimed or disfigured—because of these devices.

The record, however, shows on disturbing instance of inadvertent inflation. Of this, more in a moment.

As most motorists know, the airbag is the industry's answer to a decree of the Department of Transportation. First proposed in the summer of 1969, the rule now requires that after 1975, the driver and his right-hand passenger be protected from harm in certain frontal impact collisions. These crashes account for 60 percent of all serious accidents and 70 percent of all fatal ones.

The airbags now being tested work this way: At the moment of impact, depending upon speed, a series of one, two, or three detonators are fired. These release gas that instantly inflates two large nylon bags concealed beneath the instrument panel. The occupants, instead of being hurled through the windshield, are cushioned by the bag. The bag then deflates. It all happens in a fraction of a second.

The devices were extensively tested in laboratory experiments—sometimes with disappointing failures—prior to the real-world testing now under way. Ford equipped 831 Mercury Montereys with airbags and General Motors put a thousand Chevrolet Impalas on the road. The Allstate Insurance Company, leading promoter of the airbag, has been operating 200 of the Mercurys, and has been keeping unofficial score on how things are going.

The first real-world crash occurred Oct. 9, 1972, in Santa Barbara, Calif., when one of Allstate's fleet cars hit a garbage truck. The car was demolished, but the airbag inflated perfectly on impact. The driver sustained only

Simply Don't Panic

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "What am I going to do when I retire?"

HAL BOYLE

This question stirs a feeling akin to panic in many Americans as they near the end of their time in harness.

Most of us complain now and then about how routine our lives are, but as retirement looms we begin to look upon that routine as a kind of sanctuary. We want to cling to it. It is our liferaft.

Survivors agree that the best way to minimize retirement panic is to prepare for it ahead of the event by making constructive plans on where you will live and how you will spend your time.

Somehow I have the feeling this advice falls a little short. It seems to me that it is as important to decide what you're not going to do after retirement as it is to decide what you will do.

The list is purely tentative, so far, but at the moment here are a few things I am determined not to do:

Go to pot. Cigars are good enough to me.

Develop a hobby. What is the use of collecting things after 65? Your heirs only throw it out later as trash.

Join a Golden Years Club immediately. I don't feel like jumping into a sardine canful of old folks the very day I retire. Later maybe.

Learn to play bridge or chess. Most of the people you meet who make a ritual of games are bores or small-time card sharps.

Haunt a golf course. I'd rather work every day than have to play golf every day.

Marry a rich widow. Why go to hell so soon? There is no worse hell than living off a wealthy woman's alms — even if you're 80.

What are the things a fellow can do after retiring that will enable him to lead a more con-

To the editor:

I strongly disagree with the implication of your headline, "Tax Reduction Strongly Opposed." How many people expressed their opinions about increasing my taxes?

1. I am opposed to a large increase in taxes and 26 per cent is certain too high an increase. (13.29 million for 1974 vs. 10.54 million in 1973)
2. The evaluation of my house went up 52 per cent and the proposed rate will probably decrease only 24, out of our present rate of 1.62, which multiplies to an extremely large increase in property taxes.

3. The County Commissioners are urged to "look closely" at the effectiveness of County functions, needs for services, and the efficiency of all employees. The normal reaction of most supervisors is that his people and the "so called" required functions are the best and operating at high efficiency. In my opinion, a substantial decrease in cost can be made by all departments without loss of overall effectiveness by progressive and objective management.

I agree we need better schools and police protection, but these should not require 2.75 mm. Three million dollars is a lot of grocery money.

Require Child Census For Kindergarten Plan

During the 1973-74 school year the kindergarten program for Greenville City Schools which has served almost half of Greenville's pre-schoolers in recent years, will be extended and expanded to include three additional state supported sections.

This was made possible through legislation of the N.C. General Assembly in the recently-concluded session. The local school board approved the acceptance of the funds at the June meeting and set the July board meeting as the time for reviewing and approving the details of the placement, program, pupil assignment, transportation and other administrative and supervisory details.

Any child five years old on or before October 15, 1973 is eligible to register for the program. Over 50 percent of the five year olds in Greenville are already minor injuries.

Since then, perfect inflations have been reported in seven serious accidents. Just this month, by way of example, the airbags may have saved three lives.

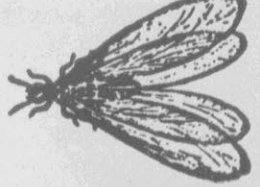

On June 8, 14-year-old Patricia Mundy took her stepfather's Impala for a joyride with her chum, Mariane Leslie Smith. She lost control of the car in crossing a bumpy railway track in Valley Park, Mo., and crashed head-on at 35-miles an hour into a telephone pole. The car was a total loss, but Patricia escaped with a broken nose and Mariane with a sore shoulder.

On June 17, in suburban Philadelphia, 21-year-old Robert F. Perlon, of Scarsdale, N.Y., driving an Impala, crashed into three poles on a safety island and overturned. The car was demolished, the airbag inflated. Perlon suffered only minor chest injuries.

The only reported malfunction occurred on June 13, according to Allstate, in one of the Impalas. Spokesmen for General Motors are strangely unwilling to talk about the incident. The sketchy information available to Allstate indicates that a 46-year-old woman was riding in the passenger seat of car in or near Lowell, Mass., when the first detonator inexplicably fired and partly inflated the passenger bag only. She reportedly suffered a sprained or broken thumb when her arm was flung into her face.

Obviously, we need to know a good deal more about this "fluke," as Allstate describes it. The fear of inadvertent inflation is a real fear and must be met with candor. Until this happened, the risk of inadvertent inflation had been estimated at one in 3.3 billion vehicle miles, or once in the lifetimes of 6,000 typical drivers. It should not have happened in the first nine months of testing 1,831 cars.

I continue to object, on philosophical grounds, to the government's requirement that airbag installation be compulsory. Reserving that exception, I am bound to say that the real-world tests, on balance, look pretty good.

'Bulged' With Hospital Loot

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A patient about to check out of Marion County General Hospital was arrested after a security guard inspected his bulging suitcase and found 131 hospital items, police said.

The items included two stethoscopes, 15 thermometers, five bottles of mouthwash, 11 soap dishes, two pairs of pajamas, a bedsheet and bedspread, adhesive tape, a pair of women's elastic stockings and 41 pieces of silverware.

Harvey Hughes, 48, hospitalized June 3 for a heart attack, was arrested Wednesday after nurses noticed the corner of a bedsheet protruding from his black leather bag. He was charged with larceny.

SBA Office In Greenville

WASHINGTON D.C. — U.S. Senator Jesse Helms announced today the the Small Business Administration will locate an office in the City of Greenville. The office will function under the jurisdiction of the Charlotte District office. It will be staffed on a fulltime basis and will provide services to the 33-county Coastal Plains area of the state.

Senator Helms was informed of the decision to establish the Greenville office by Louis F. Laun, Associate Administrator of Operations for SBA.

The office had been sought by the Albermarle Area Development Association, based in Edenton. The Association had asked Senator Helms to assist in obtaining the facility because of the travel distance required to get to the Charlotte office. Will Refund The Increase

The monthly premium for Medicare Medical Insurance, scheduled to be increased in July, has been rolled back in keeping with President Nixon's 60-day price freeze policy, according to George G. Bailey, Social Security District Manager in Greenville.

"The higher amount will continue to be charged until the premium record for each beneficiary can be corrected," Bailey said. "Refunds in full will be made at a later date. This also applies to railroad retirement beneficiaries and civil service annuitants who pay premiums for medical insurance under Medicare."

Medicare Medical Insurance helps pay for doctor bills and many other medical expenses of almost everyone 65 or over and disabled people under 65 who have been eligible for monthly social security disability payments for two years or more.

No One Wants To Be First In Lowering Milk Price

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina's retail grocers have taken a "you go first" attitude on lowering milk prices to the consumer. No one wants to be first.

A survey by Associated Press newspaper members Wednesday turned up on immediate effect on prices as a result of the state Milk Commission's action in removing alleged barriers to competitive pricing for milk.

Prices from the coast to the mountains remained at the same levels in existence for three months or more.

A gallon in Monroe, where milk is used as an inducement for consumers, cost 99 cents. Prices elsewhere ranged from $1.09 to $1.49 for each gallon.

The Milk Commission, under attack from consumers and from within the industry itself, Tuesday rescinded a fair trade marketing order that required a 10-day prior notice before dairy companies could change their prices. Controls on rebates for large purchasers also were discontinued.

The action was taken amid speculation it would lead to competitive pricing on an open market, with the change being passed on to the consumer. But retailers and processors indicated the lower prices may not develop.

"We don't anticipate any major change, and we hope it doesn't," said John Koon of Raleigh, division manager for the Winn-Dixie supermarket chain.

John Whitfield of Charlotte, A&P sales manager for North Carolina, said his company "has made no plans to change milk prices. It came upon us so suddenly we cannot foresee or foretell what will happen."

A processor, Sealtest plant manager Bruce Wingate of Charlotte, said President Nixon's price freeze made it unlikely prices will change.

Wingate noted that farmers have called for an increase in the prices paid them and that some producers, caught in a cost squeeze, have begun selling their herds.

"If we go that route, pretty soon there won't be any milk," Wingate said.

North Carolina's milk producers have declined notably in the last two years. The Milk Commission reported 2,082 producers shipping to North Carolina plants in December 1971. In April the number had dropped to 1,882.

Prices paid by retailers to processors are set by the processor but the net price paid by the store will vary according to rebates allowed by the particular dealer. The producer is paid about 18.3 cents per quart.

Before rebates are allowed, retailers have been paying 66 cents to 70 cents for each half-gallon paper carton and $1.31 to $1.36 for plastic gallon jugs.

In Monroe the manager of the locally owned Thrifty supermarket was selling a half-gallon for 73 cents and the gallon for 99 cents. He said the gallon was supposed to sell for $1.41, but no one does it. "I can't see how anybody can lower the price more," he said. Other markets in the same city were selling a half-gallon carton for 67 to 69 cents.

Four large markets in Statesville were consistent on the gallon jug, $1.35, but one sold a half-gallon for 69 cents, two had it for 70 cents and the fourth for 73 cents. The 7-11 convenience store sold a half-gallon carton for 73 cents and a gallon for $1.48. In Durham A&P and Big Star had gallon jugs for $1.19. Fowler's, a local chain, had the same size carton for $1.45. Half-gallons were listed at 69 cents for A&P, 71 for Big Star and 72 for Fowler's.

The manager of a neighborhood store in Raleigh said his prices of 71 cents and $1.44 would change only if wholesale costs were altered.

"All my prices are figured on what it costs me," said Charles Norwood of the Convenient Food Market. "You can't buy at 30 cents and sell at 25. It's as simple as that. The dairies have got to make the first move."

Jim Faircloth, manager of a Raleigh IGA market, said he would "go with competition or maybe lead competition. We'd like to sell milk below cost—especially at the gallon. It's a good leader." His prices were 69 cents and $1.37.

Washington markets reported the same type variation found elsewhere. Colonial Stores offered half-gallon cartons for 71 cents and gallon jugs for $1.36; A&P posted its prices at 69 cents and $1.35, and the Red & White store 74 cents and $1.44.

Winn-Dixie offered a gallon for $1.35 in Rocky Mount. Across town Big Star had the same size jug for $1.30. New Bern's Big Star and Foodland stores sold a gallon for $1.35, but the neighborhood Zip Mart asked customers for $1.49.

Asheville's privately owned Giezentanner's charged 69 cents for a half gallon and $1.09 for a gallon. Chain stores were selling for 69 cents a half gallon and $1.38 for the big jug.

In High Point Big Bear and

Food World, stores with common ownership, were selling milk for 69 cents and $1.25. Kroger of High Point planned no changes from its prices of 70 cents and $1.25.

But Kroger manager John Perry said, "It's impossible to tell what our home office will do. If our competitors go up, we go up and if they go down, we'll go down."

Big 4th Of July Is Slated In Belhaven

BELHAVEN — Again in 1973, the river port town of Belhaven in eastern Beaufort County will lead the way for other Eastern North Carolina towns in celebrating America's Day of Independence, July Fourth.

For several years Belhaven has been the focus of attention in this area of North Carolina because of all-out efforts to make the fourth a day of old fashioned public celebrating — a gala event offering a festive array of summer events.

In more recent years, other eastern North Carolina municipalities; Greenville, for instance, have re-inaugurated the once waning tradition of publicly marking the Fourth of July with activities that appeal to young, old and in-betweens.

The kickoff event in Belhaven will take place on the evening of July 3, when a Twilight Hour reception from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. will be held at EEI's, hosted by Mrs. Helen B. Boyd, president of the Belhaven Community Chamber of Commerce.

This reception will honor persons dedicated to the community, as well as persons participating in the July Fourth celebration activities.

There will be no admission charge to any of the events, and the public is invited to attend.

Hard To Reduce Gasoline Use

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri highway patrolmen have been trying for two weeks to use less gasoline.

"What we've done is try to cut usage by 10 per cent," said Lt. Col. Walter Snyder, assistant patrol superintendent.

"We've asked them to cut their routine patrol speed to 50 miles an hour and also to stay on stationary observation 10 minutes of each hour."

City Counts Two Wrecks

An estimated $1,075 property damage was reported in two collisions investigated by Greenville police yesterday.

Officers reported $400 damage resulted to each of two cars which collided about 3:45 p.m. at the intersection of Greenville and Arlington Boulevards.

Drivers involved in the mishap were identified as Jeanette Briley of 201 Church St. and Harry Smallbones Pearsall of Rocky Mount.

Pearsall was charged by investigators with failing to stop for a stop light.

Donald Kenneth Smith of Route 1, Wellford was charged with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident following investigation of a mishap at the intersection of Dickinson Avenue and 14th Street about 8:45 a.m.

Police reported the Smith car collided with a vehicle driven by Bobby Gene Taylor of Maury, causing an estimated $275 damage to the Taylor car.

No damage was reported to the Smith car and no injuries were reported.

Called Out Of Retirement

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Marshall I. Pickens, who worked 38 years for the Duke Endowment before retiring in 1966, has been recalled at the age of 69 to become chairman.

He was named Wednesday to succeed Thomas L. Perkins, who died last week.

The endowment, third richest in the nation, has assets in the neighborhood of $400 million. It was established in 1924 by the late utilities and tobacco magnate James B. Duke. It provides funds for higher education, health care, and child care in North Carolina and South Carolina.

Admits He Drew Up White House Enemy Plan

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some call it Washington's newest Social Register, but the White House didn't intend it that way. Nearly 200 names of the rich, the famous and the not-so-famous who didn't get along with the Nixon administration are inscribed on a so-called "Enemies List." John W. Dean III says the list came from White House files entitled Opponents List and Political Enemies Project. The list itself and various related memoranda were turned over to the Senate Watergate committee Wednesday by the 34-year-old fired White House counsel scheduled to return to the witness chair today for his fourth day of testimony. Some of those named expressed surprise. Others considered it an honor, and several people in the hearing room were disappointed at not making what one called "Washington's newest Social Register."

Former White House special counsel Charles W. Colson, whom Dean described as having had a key role in the enemies project, said the lengthy list prepared by the late George T. Bell in 1971 was kept solely to insure that those named weren't invited to the White House for dinner. Dean testified that priority targets were selected from the list by Colson and other White House officials, in keeping with a plan to "use the available federal machinery to screw our political enemies."

Dean admitted he drew up the plan on Aug. 16, 1971, and submitted it in a confidential memorandum to presidential Chief of Staff H.R. Haldeman, domestic-affairs adviser John

D. Ehrlichman "and others at the White House."

He recommended Lyn Nofziger of the Republican National Committee for project coordinator. His job would be to "determine what sorts of dealings these individuals have with the federal government and how we can best screw them; e.g., grant availability, federal contracts, litigation, prosecution, etc."

Dean also prepared a briefing paper for Haldeman to be used as the basis of a meeting with Internal Revenue Service chief Johnnie Walters. He complained that, because of a "lack of guts and effort" on the part of Republican appointees at IRS, the White House had been unable to:

- "Stimulate audits of persons who should be audited";
- Obtain IRS information regarding our political enemies;"

—Place President Nixon's supporters in the IRS bureaucracy; —Or "crack down on the multitude of tax-exempt foundations that feed left-wing political causes."

Asked for his reaction to being named on the list, actor Paul Newman, "I am sending Gordon Liddy to pick up my award. I would like to thank John Mitchell, Jeb Magruder, John Dean III and Maurice Stans for making this award possible."

The longer list of opponents was divided into various groups and subgroups. Under "Politics," it named 10 Democratic senators, six House members,

"12 black congressmen" and three "miscellaneous politicians." There were 57 journalists and three newspapers listed under "Media," 10 celebrities, 21 "Academics," 53 in the business category, including 29 under "Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace and New National Priorities," 14 labor leaders and 18 organizations,

Court Overturns Six Convictions

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A federal appeals court has cleared the Rev. Philip Berrigan of three of four convictions of smuggling letters out of a federal prison to plan antiwar activities.

The 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals also overturned on Wednesday all three similar convictions against Sister Elizabeth McAlister, a nun who recently married Berrigan.

Berrigan, 49, was paroled from federal prison last year. He had been serving a six-year term for destroying draft records in Catonsville, Md., in 1968. The letter-smuggling convictions were being served concurrently.

Sister Elizabeth had been free on bail. Reversal of the convictions ends the case against her.

Berrigan, Sister Elizabeth and five others had been accused of conspiring to kidnap presidential aide Henry A. Kissinger, blow up heating tunnels in Washington, D.C., and vandalize draft offices around the country to force an end to U.S. involvement in Indochina.

The jury deadlocked on the conspiracy charges against the seven defendants, but Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth were found guilty of smuggling Berrigan letters out of the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., in 1970 to further the alleged antiwar conspiracy.

People's Day Benefits Cited

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Gov. Jim Holshouser says his monthly "People's Day" helps not only the people, but also him, break through the red tape of the capital in Raleigh.

"Even if we weren't getting positive results from these interviews, why it would be worth it just for my own benefit," he said in an interview Wednesday in Winston-Salem. That was just before he made himself available for talks with the people on their problems. "If nothing else, this allows me a chance to get away from the bureaucracy, from what I call Raleighitis," he said.

Kidnap Charge Facing Man

HILLSBOROUGH, N.C. (AP) — James Lewis, 26, of Durham, has been charged with kidnaping a teen-aged girl in Chapel Hill and trying to rape her in Durham County, police say.

They said he picked her up in his car Monday night on the pretext he was a policeman and it was past curfew for teenagers in Chapel Hill. Authorities said Chapel Hill has no such curfew. They quoted the girl as saying she got in his car because she was frightened.

Lewis is being held in the Orange County Jail at Hillsborough on the kidnaping charge. He is charged in Durham County with attempted rape, authorities said.

Cub Scouts Had Cookout

Cub Scout Pack 401 held its pack meeting recently at the Black Jack Free Will Baptist Church.

Highlights of the evening were a cookout and a sailboat race. Chris Buck was the fastest sailor with Billy Kitrell winning second place. Greg Mobley won the trophy for the best design.

Cubmaster James Stokes awarded Bear Badges to the following: Jeff Hudson, Billy Kitrell, and Greg Mobley. David Johnston was awarded the Outdoorsman Badge.

The past month's theme was nature. The cubs grew a potato vine, made a leaf collection, and a terrarium. Awards for the month's projects went to Robbie Bazen for the best potato vine, Timmy Elks for the best leaf collection and Billy Kitrell for the best terrarium.

Greg Mobley received an award for having completed the most individual requirements.

Church Sets Homecoming

Homecoming and dedication will be observed Sunday at Calvary Pentecostal Church on the Belvoir Highway, with the Rev. J. Doner Lee as speaker.

After the 11 a.m. worship service, an outdoor luncheon will be served at 12:45 p.m. and the dedication service is set for 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Lee is superintendent of the N.C. Conference of the Pentecostal Holiness Church and is a member of the General Board of Administration of the denomination and of other administrative boards of church-wide and conference policy-making nature.

A graduate of Holmes Theological Seminary in Greenville, S.C., he has held pastorates in North Carolina, always emphasizing evangelism.

The church pastor, the Rev. T.R. Bradshaw, and members invite the public to attend.

Judge Orders Gasoline Service

GREENSBORO (AP)—A judge has ordered Crown Central Petroleum Corp. to continue supplying gasoline to U-Filler-Up Inc., operator of about 100 filling stations, pending a final court decision. Judge Eugene Gordon of U.S. District Court did so Wednesday by a preliminary injunction. Crown Central said it would appeal to the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Gordon found that U-Filler-Up is a "historical customer" of Crown Central and entitled to a share of its gasoline supply.

Uruguay Is Returned To Dictatorial Government

By RAUL GARCES Associated Press Writer MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Uruguay, once the showpiece of democracy in Latin America, is back in the grip of dictatorial rule shared by President Juan M. Bordaberry and his military overseers.

Six months of bitter quarrelling ended Wednesday when Bordaberry dissolved Congress and announced a new Council of State will assume legislative powers.

Soldiers and tanks sealed off the Parliamentary Palace for the first time since 1933 and patrolled Montevideo streets, which were deserted because of a 24-hour protest strike.

No violence was reported, but a dozen opposition congressmen were believed to have fled the country to avoid military arrest. Severe censorship was imposed, barring any criticism of Bordaberry's move, and two cabinet members resigned in disapproval.

is located in Greenville and the branch office is located in Snow Hill, managed by Arnold B. Parris.

Bordaberry went on national television Wednesday night and blamed subversion by the Marxist Tupamaro guerrillas and congressional "obstruction" as the reasons for his decision.

The ultimate act that brought about the collapse of democracy was insistence by the armed forces that congressional immunity be lifted from leftist Sen. Enrique Erro so that he could be tried by a military court. Erro was accused of being a "civil chieftain" of the Tupamaros, a charge he repeatedly has denied.

A warrant was issued for Erro's arrest shortly after Congress was abolished, but the senator was in Buenos Aires for a lecture series.

Bordaberry, a conservative rancher installed for a four-year term in March 1972, said the still-unnamed Council of State will prepare constitutional reforms to be submitted to a national vote.

The armed forces gained control over Bordaberry's administration in February when they forced the president to fire his defense minister and create the military-dominated National Security Council.

Since then, the generals have applied pressure on Congress, demanding apologies for any criticism of the armed forces and insisting that Erro be removed from the Senate and turned over to the military courts.

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Thursday, June 28, 1973—11

With the generals in virtual control of the government, Uruguay's armed forces have come full circle from their position 10 years ago, when the military was a small, nonpolitical, professionally manned defense force.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted upwards today in what analysts described as an absence of selling pressure for the time being more than any fundamental economic factors.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead 3.92 at 888.55. Advancing issues on the New York Stock Exchange led declines 619 to 372.

The 11 a.m. broad-based NYSE index of some 1,500 common stocks was ahead 0.19 at 54.67. On the American Stock Exchange, the 11 a.m. price-change index was ahead .02 at 22.27.

American Telephone was the most-active issue on the Big Board, down 1/4 at 51 1/2. Most of that action came in a 105,000-share block traded at 51, off 1/4.

Pfizer was second most-active.

Trustees . . .

Burgwyn of Jackson and Wayne A. Corpening of Winston-Salem; and for two-year terms, K. Edward Greene of Dunn and Troy Pate of Goldsboro.

Another Greenville man—Dr. Joe Pou—was named to the Board of Trustees at the North Carolina State University in Raleigh. A bank executive here, Dr. Pou is an N.C. State graduate and former professor and head of the Department of Animal Husbandry at the Raleigh school.

At least three persons who figured prominently in last year's election campaigns found themselves named as trustees to the state schools also.

Hargrave "Skipper" Bowles and former lieutenant governor Pat H. Taylor—both unsuccessful Democratic candidates for North Carolina Governor—and Margaret Harper of Southport—a newspaper editor and unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor last year—were named to trustee posts—Bowles and Mrs. Mrs. Harper to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill board and Taylor to the board of UNC-Greensboro.

In addition to the persons named by the Board of Governors yesterday, Gov. James Holshouser will appoint four additional members to the boards for each of the 16 schools, while the student body president of each of the campuses will serve as a trustee.

Would 'Require' Stamp Program

RALEIGH (AP)—A committee drafting a plan to reduce hunger in North Carolina says the 1974 General Assembly should enact legislation requiring statewide participation in the food-stamp program.

The 100 counties now have a choice of providing food stamps or surplus-commodity foods for the hungry poor. Sixty-two counties provide stamps and 38 distribute surplus federal commodities.

The committee also asked that the state assume the entire nonfederal cost of the food-stamp program, which would require about $4 million a year. However, food stamps would bring in about $5.3 million in added state sales taxes, it was estimated.

Drug Evidence Wreck Victims

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Investigators say they have found evidence of drugs in the bodies of nearly 28 per cent of 410 fatally injured automobile drivers in the last two years.

The Midwest Research Institute, under sponsorship of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, is making a study of drug abuse in automobile accidents.

But there isn't enough evidence to show a definite relationship between drugs and driving deaths, Woodhouse warned.

Jaycees Upset R.C. Cola, 5-4; Three-Way Tie In League Finish

The Jaycees pulled off a 5-4 upset of R. C. Cola yesterday in the North State Little League and kept R. C. from winning the league championship outright.

Instead, R. C., the Lions and Coca-Cola all ended up in a three-way tie for first place, each with 10-5 records. The Jaycees, by winning, finished 5-10, and claimed fifth place in the standings.

Play starts this afternoon at 4 p.m. at Guy Smith Field in the League Playoffs. The Lions meet the Jaycees at 4 p.m., with the winner facing Coca-Cola on Friday at 4 p.m. In the other game today, at 6 p.m., the Optimists meet the Kiwanis, with the winner facing R. C. on Friday at 6 p.m. The two finalists will meet Saturday at 4 p.m. at Elm Street Park.

The Jaycees jumped on R. C. for three runs in the first inning to take the lead. Marion Crisp singled and reached second on an error on John Winstead's fielder's choice. Joey Matheis walked, loading the bases. Elvy Forrest also walked as did Teddy Gartman Todd Brown, forcing in Crisp, Winstead and Matheis for a 3-0 lead.

They added another run in the second. That came off the bat of Kenny Barnes, who cracked a solo home run for a 4-0 lead.

R.C. got into the scoring in the bottom of the second with a run. Stuart Flanagan tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Bill Tugwell.

R. C. then came back with three more in the fourth to pull into a 4-4 tie. Jeff Worthington reached on an error and moved up on a passed ball. Flanagan walked and Chris Phillips doubled in Worthington. Jay Wood singled to score both Flanagan and Phillips to tie the game.

But the Jaycees were not to be denied and came up with (Continued on page 14)

Pitcher Lee Cherry shook off the first two innings of his game with Brunswick County's American Legion team as a bad dream. Then, he watch his own team awaken for five runs in two innings to take a 5-4 win.

Actually, Cherry wasn't dreaming. He had virtually no control for the first two innings. In the first inning, he threw only two strikes to the first three batters, including hitting the leadoff batter for Brunswick. He also walked three in those first two frames.

Cherry settled down for the remainder of the game, however. He allowed only three more hits for seven innings and walked one.

Brunswick started in a hurry, scoring one in the first. Ron Gore was struck on the elbow by a Cherry pitch. He went to second on a single by Carson Aycock, and moved to third on Chuck Bordeaux's walk. Gore came home on an infield out.

Brunswick touched the plate for three more in the second. Dave Watkins reached on an error and stole second. Don Hunt followed with a walk, and both moved up on a passed ball. Opposing and starting pitcher Rusty Drew singled to center to drive in Hunt and Watkins. Drew moved up on a walk to Gore, and came around on a double by Aycock.

The visitors put runners on second three more times in the ball game, including Hunt's double in the sixth. Hunt moved to third on a wild pitch, but was stranded by three straight outs.

Greenville went to work on reliever Ronnie Gore in the sixth. Ron Hunt reached on a single, and moved to third on walks to Donnie Haddock and Chris Manning. Randy Potter rapped into a double play, but scored Hunt anyway. Haddock moving to third. Dickie Johnson walked, and while Cherry batted, the pitcher Gore committed a balk, bringing Haddock home with a second run. Cherry proceeded to slap a single to left, scoring Johnson to narrow the gap.

Greenville won the game in the seventh with two more runs. With one out, pinch hitter John Barwick singled to center. Duncan Charlton got an infield hit to move Barwick up. Haddock hit a soft grounder to the pitcher, who threw high to third to lead up the bases. New pitcher Mike Williams was greeted by pinch hitter Stanley Cobb, who executed a perfect suicide squeeze to score Barwick. Charlton tried to score on the same squeeze, but was thrown out at the plate. Through all the excitement, Cobb trotted to second, and Haddock went to third. Consecutive walks to Robert Brinkely and Jerry Griffin scored Haddock with the winner.

Haddock led the way for Greenville with two hits, while

Title For Little Mint

The Little Mint claimed another Ladies Softball League title last night with an 11-6 win over Dixie Sales. The victory gave Little Mint a 13-1 record with only one game left. Beltone is now set for second with an 11-3 mark.

Little Mint pushed over four in the first inning and then scored six in the second to wrap it up. Connie Pearce doubled and Wink Phillips singled. Wanda Oakley reached on an error and Bobbie Jones did too. Linda Kilpatrick singled and Linda Tripp doubled. She scored on Darlene Briley's single to make it 10-0. They added their other run in the fifth.

Dixie Sales came up with one in the fourth, three in the fifth, and two in the sixth.

In the other game, Azalea Mobile Homes rolled to a 21-4 win over Greenville Nursing. Azalea got all they needed in the first with five runs. Kathryn Phillips singled and Carol Johnson got a hit. Rhoda Mills singled and Diane Ferguson doubled. Norma Lewis singled and scored on Regina Pollard's double for the 5-0 lead.

Azalea added three in the second, three more in the third on a homer by Phillips, plus six more in the fourth and 10 in the fifth. Greenville Nursing came up with two in the first, and one each in the second and third.

NCNB Rallies To Nip Pepsi, Ices Tie

North Carolina National Bank rallied for three runs in the bottom of the sixth to nip Pepsi-Cola, 3-2, last night and assure itself of no worse than a tie for the Babe Ruth League championship.

In the other game, College

View downed Carolina Dairy, 12-8, in an 11-inning contest.

NCNB, with one game left, against Planters Bank, is now 12-1. Pepsi has finished its season with a 12-3 mark. A win by NCNB against Planters would give them the title, while a loss would tie them with Pepsi.

In the opening game, College View pushed over two runs in the first inning. Bubba Rowlette singled and Keith Jones doubled. Lee Shearin then singled in both runners for a 2-0 lead.

In the second, Carolina Dairy came up with a pair to tie it up. Clayton Brock reached on a fielder's choice and Danny Bowman singled. Larry Boyette walked and Roy Hopkins reached on an error, scoring Brock. Chris Garrett singled in Bowman.

Carolina Dairy added three more in the third to take a 5-2 lead. Sid Ashby walked as did Mike Baker. Brock was hit by a pitch and Bowman walked to force in Ashby. Boyette also walked to score Baker and an error allowed Brock to score.

College View rallied for five in the fifth to take a 7-5 lead. Ross Hawkins singled and stole second. Jay Chenier walked and so did Greg Sasser. A passed ball scored Hawkins and Jimmy Averette singled in Chenier. Connor Merrett singled to score Sasser and Averette, and Merritt stole second and took third on a wild pitch. Shearin singled to score Merritt with the fifth run of the frame.

Carolina Dairy rallied for two to tie it up in the sixth. Baker walked and stole both second and third. Brock walked and also stole up. Kevin Connolly hit a sacrifice fly to score Baker and Brock came over on a passed ball.

It stayed 7-7 until the 11th, when College View pushed over five runs. Chenier walked and was sacrificed up. Sasser and Jones also walked, loading them up. Averitte was hit by a pitch, scoring Chenier. Merritt reached on an error, allowing both Sasser and Jones to score. Shearin reached on a fielder's choice which was errored, scoring Averette. Hawkins singled to score Merritt with the final run.

Carolina Dairy tried to rally, scoring one in the bottom of the frame. Leonard Williams reached on an error and Ashby walked. Baker singled in Williams, but the rally died there.

In the second, key game, Pepsi scored first, pushing over two in the second inning. Macon Moye led off with a double and scored on a two-bagger by Derek Brewington. Henry Baker reached on an error, scoring Brewington.

The two hits, plus one picked up in the seventh, were all Pepsi got off Kelly Heath, who struck out 14 along the way. He walked four and generally stayed out of trouble.

NCNB meanwhile, was having about as much luck off Curtis Keys, who went the first five without allowing a run, and giving up only one hit. He fanned nine and walked four in that span.

But in the sixth, he was relieved by Moye and NCNB got two hits off him and that was enough. Joel Clark walked and moved to second when a pickoff play was errored. Joey Cherry walked and Dave Middleton got a hit to load the bases. Doug Selby followed with a triple, driving in all three runners, and that was all NCNB needed to win the game.

Dainty Maid, Little Sluggers Take Wins

The two leaders in the City Softball League both came away with victories last night as Dainty Maid beat Balentine's, and Little Sluggers nipped Proctor's.

The first game at Evans Two, however, went 10 innings before Union Carbide gained a 13-12 win over the Jaycees. Union Carbide pushed over five in the first inning, then got another in the fourth to lead, 6-0. But the Jaycees rallied for six in the fifth to tie it up. From there on out, the two matched until the 10th. Each scored once in the seventh, and three times each in the eighth. Two came over for each in the ninth.

But in the 10th, Union Carbide finally held the Jaycees and scored a run themselves. N. Thompson led off with a double and scored on a hit by M. Dixon to give the Batterymen the victory.

In the second game, Little Sluggers gained a 16-12 win over Proctor's. Proctor's took the lead in the first with four runs, but the Sluggers came up with four in the fourth to tie it. They added another run in the fifth, while Proctor's pushed back ahead with three in the bottom of the fifth.

Then, in the sixth, the Sluggers scored 11 runs to close the door. All came with two away. Mike Parrell doubled and Lewis Hardee singled. Wayne Briley doubled and Donnie Taylor and Steve Peele both got doubles. George Holland walked and Phil Page doubled. Ronnie Craft tripled and Lindsay Hardee got a hit. Phil Fleming singled and Parrell reached on an error. He scored the 11th run on a double by Lewis Hardee, making it 16-7. Proctor's added one in the sixth, and four in the seventh on a homer by Gaddis.

In the final game, Greenville Utilities downed Burger King, 8-5. GUCo pushed over one in the first and scored another in the second. Burger King got one in the third, but GUCo came up with two in the fourth. They added another in the fifth, while Burger King got two in the bottom of the frame. Then, in the sixth, GUCo got the run that proved the difference. That came on a homer by K. Newsome. Two more came over on a homer by D. Herring in the seventh for GUCo, and Burger King got two in the bottom of the inning with L. Smith homering.

In the opening game on the other field, Morgan Printers nipped Parker's, 8-7. Morgan took the lead with two in the first, but Parker's tied it up with two in the third. They added two more in the fourth to take the lead, then got another in the fifth on a homer by R. Nichols to hold a 5-2 edge. Morgan came back with three in the fifth, while Parker's got another in the sixth and one in the seventh as W. Avery homered.

But in the bottom of the seventh, Morgan, trailing 7-5, rallied for three to win. B. Phillips singled and W. Sum-merlin got a hit. R. Boles singled and scored the winning run on a hit by G. Nichols.

Four Seasons rolled to a 20-5 victory over the Daily Reflector in the second game. Four Seasons pushed over two in the first, while the Reflector got one, then added two more in the second to lead, 3-1. Four Seasons added a run in the third, they pushed over four in the fourth to take the lead for good. D. Sauls singled and D. Brewer got a hit. W. Stasavich walked and Bill Turcotte got a hit. C. Vincent drove in the fourth run to make it 7-3.

Four Seasons added seven in the sixth, then picked up six more in the seventh. The Reflector added two more in the fifth.

In the last game, Dainty Maid took an 8-3 win over Balentine's. Dainty Maid scored two in the first, then got two more in the second to wrap it up. W. Nelson singled and S. Worthington got a hit. They scored on hits by V. Wade and B. Harris to make it 4-0.

Dainty Maid added four more in the sixth to close out their scoring. Balentine's scored all three of their runs in the sixth.

Pitch, Hit Throw Set

The Greenville Jaycees will sponsor, strictly on a local basis, the Pitch, Hit and Throw competition previously sponsored by a national petroleum company. The competition will be part of the Greenville 4th of July Celebration, to begin at 1:00 p.m. at the corner of 1st and Reade Streets.

The competition will be open to boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 12 years. The boys and girls will compete together in two age brackets of 9 and 10 year olds and 11 and 12 year olds. If your age is 9 to 12 on July 4, 1973, you are eligible.

Trophies will be presented to the winners in each age group at the conclusion of the competition.

Small Fry Action

The Giants defeated the Indians, 9-7, in Wednesday's Small Fry League action.

David Crumpler and David Jester both went 3-for-3 for the Giants, and Will Hester, Mike McClanahan and Michel Walsh all added hits. Patrick Rand of the Indians led all hitters with four, including a triple, a double and four runs batted in. Jeff Austin added a pair of hits.

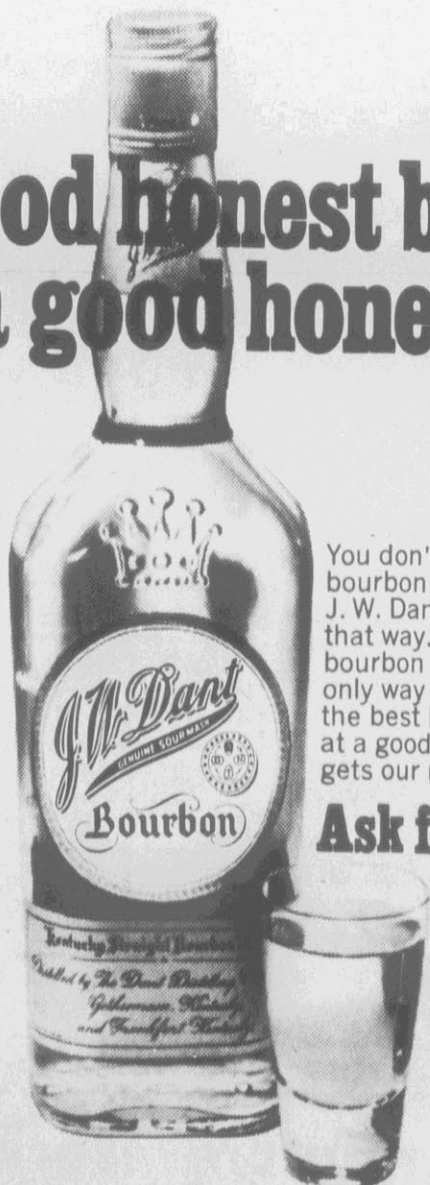

In the other game, the White Sox defeated the Red Sox, 15-14, in extra innings. Tim Moore and Richard Pace collected half-a-dozen hits in the game for the White Sox. Scott Irwin led the Red Sox with two hits.

Assistant Coach Named

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Don Fambrough, University of Kansas head football coach, was named Wednesday as an assistant coach for the West team in the Shrine East-West Football Classic to be played Dec. 29 at Candlestick Park.

Fambrough, with Jim Sweeney of Washington State, will assist head West Coach Bill Yeoman of Houston. Charles McClendon of Louisiana State University was named earlier as East head coach, with Tubby Raymond of Delaware and John Jardine of Wisconsin as assistants.

Your good taste has made ours number one.

People around here seem to like the charco-broiled taste of Hardee's hamburgers. So much, in fact, Hardee's sells more hamburgers in North Carolina than any other restaurant chain. You see, our burgers are 100% chopped beef-steak, cooked the way you cook 'em when you have the time... not fried... but charco-broiled for that cook-out flavor. And the folks in Greenville can tell the difference. It speaks well for your good taste. And we know you'll stay with ours.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

Monday, along with other members of the press, I played MacGregor Downs in Cary, where the Liggett & Myers Open and the U.S. Professional Match Play Championship will be played August 20-26.

For the average golfer, the course is nothing short of a delight. For the pro, it may be pure heaven.

The course is not long by most standards, 6,818 yards. For the pros, it will play to a par of 71. There are seven water holes on the course, but only two of them really present a challenge, the first and 18th.

The course, however, is well planned, and with the closing up of the fairways, the lengthening of the tees, along with some tough pin placements, it could prove to be an interesting tournament. Still, par should not be hard to break for the likes of the Nicklauses, Trevinos, Millers, and Weiskopfs. In fact, the long hitters like Big Jack may find some of the par four holes in one. The shortest is 268 yards, and with a good roll, they can be reached.

The most challenging hole on the course is the 18th. It plays from an elevated tee across the lake to a rather small landing area. The lake curls into the fairway across the way and cuts down on the "shortcut" area. However there is one bulge, which on Monday lay some 230 yards away from the regulaton (white) tees, that does allow a shortcut. One of our foursome tried it and made it by about five feet. From the championship tees, further back, it can still be done by some of the long hitters.

Hopefully, most of the match play will go this far, allowing the golfers to rely test this hole.

If there is any one thing bad about the site, it is that there isn't a great deal of spectator area in some places. It should prove to be a fine tournament however. And hopefully, it'll return there. I'd sure like to play it again next year on press day.

Ayden

A Member-Guest tournament is being planned for this weekend at the Ayden Golf and Country Club. The deadline for signing up is 6 p.m. today, so if you want to play, call the pro now.

Bill Bradley had his best score at the club, carding a 68. He also had two eagles on the seventh hole. The first he scored when he chipped in his third shot on the par five. The second came when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Farmville

The Kiwanis Tournament is being planned for the Farmville Golf and Country Club on July 14-15. The deadline for entries is July 5. Blanks are available at most pro shops in the area.

Greenville

A Captain's Choice Tournament will be held at the Greenville Golf and Country Club on July 21. It will be followed by an informal dinner. Signups are now underway.

Ladies Appreciation Day will be held Friday. Free electric carts will be provided for the nine-hole event, which starts at 3 p.m. Free refreshments will be served both on the course and in the proshop.

College Day will be held on Monday, starting at 5 p.m. All college age members are urged to participate. A nine-hole tournament will be held with free carts and refreshments. A party will be held at the pool afterwards.

A Captain's Choice Tournament was held Sunday. First place went to the team of Smith Creech, Joan Hooper, Curtis Martin and Nancy Monroe, who won the putt-off against the team of Alex White, Eleanor Ruffin, Pell Fulp and Lawton Nisbet. Both teams finished regulation play with 65.

Third place went to Joe Hallow, Ann Edwards, Ed Monroe and Evelyn Warner. Smith Creech won the closest to the flag contest on number eight, while Bill Grantmyre was the winner on number 10.

Brook Valley

Johnny Mathias shot his best nine-hole round at Brook Valley during the past week. He fired a 38.

Clyde Makes Debut For Texas

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Texas pumped a little home-grown excitement into its ball-park Wednesday night, unveiling David Clyde, their fireballing 18-year-old No. 1 draft choice, against the Minnesota Twins.

The Rangers came away from the young left-hander's debut with a 4-3 victory and, perhaps more important, something for a record crowd of 35, 698 to talk about.

The fans cheered every move the teen-ager made and immediately replaced in the club's cashbox the estimated $125,000 bonus the Rangers paid the young man earlier this month.

Manager Whitey Herzog limited Clyde to five innings. The young pitcher struck out eighth, walked seven and surrendered only rookie Mike Adams' two-run homer. Then Bill Gogolewski took over, limiting the Twins to just three more hits and saving the victory for the teen-ager who was pitching high school ball in Houston just a couple of weeks ago.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday night, Detroit swept a two-night doubleheader from Milwaukee 6-3 and 5-4, Baltimore blanked New York 4-0, California topped Chicago 3-1 and Oakland nipped Kansas City 3-2. Cleveland's game at Boston was rained out.

Hot-hitting Paul Blair stroked a home run and a double, leading Baltimore past New York and moving the Orioles to within two games of the East Division-leading Yankees.

Blair drilled his fourth homer of the year in the first inning and doubled home another run in the third. Since May 29, the Oriole outfielder has had 40 hits in 92 at bats.

Detroit came from behind twice to sweep both ends of its doubleheader against Milwaukee, ending an eight-game road winning streak for the Brewers.

Dick McAuliffe's two-out bases-loaded home run in the eighth inning turned the opener around and then Aurelio Rodriguez' leadoff homer touched off a five-run fifth inning rally that gave the Tigers the nightcap.

Bill Singer won his 12th game for California, limiting the Chicago White Sox to four hits as the Angels won their 12th game in the last 17 starts to stay atop the American League West.

Mike Epstein boomed a two-run homer for California, sending the Sox to their 10th loss in the last 14 games.

Oakland nipped Kansas City, scoring the winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning on a throwing error by Fred Patek.

Catfish Hunter pitched a six-hitter for the victory. Gene Te-nace homered for the A's and John Mayberry connected for Kansas City.

Integon Downs Graniteer Nine

Integon rolled to a 16-3 victory over the Graniteers yesterday to sew up second place in the Tar Heel Little League.

The win left Integon with a 9-6 record as the season closed, while the Graniteers finished in last place, 4-11.

The league will open its playoff schedule this afternoon at 4 p.m. at Elm Street Park, as the Elks meet the Exchange. The Moose will take on the Graniteers at 6 p.m. Friday. Integon will meet the Elks-Exchange winner at 4 p.m., while Pepsi-Cola takes on the Moose-Graniteer survivor at 6 p.m. The two winners will clash on Saturday at 2 p.m. for the title.

Integon put the game out of reach with seven runs in the first inning. Bobby Wiggins walked and stole his way around the bases for the first run. Todd Galloway walked and Mike Walker singled. William Barrett walked to load them up and Junior Neal reached on an error, scoring Galloway. Howard Tucker walked to force in Walker and Barrett scored on a walk to Mark Barbar. Drew Smith walked to bring in Neal and Wiggins doubled in Tucker and Barbar for the 7-0 lead.

The Graniteers came up with three in the second. Mike Moye singled and Garrett Young reached on a two-base error. Another miscue on the play let Moye score. Mike Tucker walked and moved to second on an error. A wild pitch then scored Young. Jamie Byrd reached on an error and H. L. Austin and Mike James both walked, forcing in Tucker with the final Graniteer run.

In the fifth, four more Integon runners scored. Barrett singled and Neal walked. Smith also walked and Wiggins doubled in Barrett and Neal. Blair Smith then doubled to score Smith and Wiggins.

The final five came in the sixth. Walker walked and Barrett reached on an error. Neal and Tucker walked to score Walker and Wiggins finished it off with a grand-slam home run for the 17-3 final score.

Soybean And Oilseed Product Embargo Decreed

By DON KENDALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, alarmed at soaring livestock feed costs has ordered an immediate embargo on further exports of high-protein soybeans and other oilseed products.

"This is a drastic action," Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz told a news conference Wednesday. "It was not taken lightly."

Butz said, however, that the embargo—directed mainly at soybeans—would not reduce their exports greatly. He estimated that about 30 million bushels of soybeans probably would be saved by the embargo, a quantity he said might be worth $300 million at current prices.

One official said that a savings of 30 million bushels of soybeans represents less than a two weeks supply for U.S. users.

Sales to foreign markets from the 1972 soybean crop were roughly 450 million bushels.

The order was issued by Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent, who said that the embargo would last at least until new crops of soybeans and cottonseed, also covered, are harvested next fall.

Farmers, particularly poultry men, have complained that soybean meal, a prime ingredient in feed preparation, is so costly that they have had to cut back on production.

Cost of Living Council director John T. Dunlop called the embargo a move by the administration to put American consumers ahead of foreign trade.

George B. Watts, president of the National Broiler Council, told a reporter that the embargo effect might be slow in coming.

"We'll have to wait and see," Watts said. "It may provide relief, especially to those who are out of meal and can buy more if the price goes down. For those who have already stocked up, it could be another story."

The broiler chicken people want further relief, including exemptions from the price freeze to help offset high feed costs. Butz, answering reporters' questions, said the freeze is causing "a creeping paralysis" in the food industry.

THE MADDOX STORY
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox says he has agreed to publish his autobiography. He says it will cover "my times of romance, the times of enterprise on the streets of Atlanta."

However, Dent added quickly that the embargo on soybeans had "no relation" to the freeze and was taken strictly on the basis of reports that exports were rising much more rapidly than previously anticipated.

In Tokyo, the Japanese government expressed anger and concern over the embargo, but officials said the nation's supplies of the commodities are adequate for the immediate future.

Soybeans are a staple of the average Japanese diet. The country uses about four million metric tons of beans a year, about 90 per cent of which is imported from the United States.

A spokesman for the Agriculture and Forestry Ministry said he was surprised by the embargo because the United States had repeatedly said it would take no action detrimental to Japan.

"There are many reasons why we are angry," he said. But he added that chief among the reasons is the fact that during past months the United States continually pressured Japan to increase its purchases of U.S. farm products.

Other Japanese government officials expressed concern that a prolonged U.S. embargo could lead to food shortages in Japan and subsequent soaring prices.

When a partnership uncovers a fit in two suits, a problem frequently arises in deciding which one should be trump. To many players it becomes a question of merely selecting the longest and strongest suit. The obvious choice is not always the best one, however, as there are other considerations which may take precedence. Today's hand, taken from a recent tournament, presents an interesting case in point.

The first round of bidding was more or less normal. When South made a free bid of one heart over East's one diamond overcall, North's thoughts naturally turned to slam, and he flashed the signal by cue-bidding the opponents' suit. His two diamond call is unconditionally forcing to game and permits him to indulge in a relaxed investigation without fear that partner will drop him somewhere along the way.

When South revealed the club fit, many Norths were satisfied to play the contract in that suit and it became merely a question of the level to be reached. Some were content to settle for a small slam which they were able to claim shortly after the opening lead was made. Others went all the way to seven clubs and suffered disappointment when they learned that there was no way to get rid of declarer's losing spade.

Only one North-South pair reached the maximum contract of seven hearts, and this was the result of further exploration. When South bid three clubs, North contented himself with a simple raise to three hearts. When South merely returned to four clubs, North was still not certain how far to go, and he made a cue-bid of four spades to elicit further information.

South's bid of five hearts was most revealing. It cleared up in North's mind any lingering doubt as to the solidity of the hearts. The only remaining hole was North's ten of spades. If South had five hearts, a discard becomes available on the long card in that suit. However, if South has only four hearts, it might be essential to utilize the club suit for discards. In the interest of safety, therefore, North bid the grand slam in hearts.

There was nothing to the play of the hand. South ruffed one diamond in dummy, drew trumps, and routinely took 13 tricks for a top score on the deal.

Urge Redoubled Fuel Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North Carolina congressional delegation has written President Nixon urging redoubled efforts to get fuel to farmers.

"Unless quick and decisive action is taken in a matter of days, the nation's supply of food and fiber is not going to be replenished this summer," the letter said.

Wounded During Store Holdup

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Dixie Uzzell, who is in her 60s, was wounded Wednesday during an attempted robbery at her small grocery, police said.

An off-duty policeman, Garfield Locklear, who had just left the store, ran back and aided her after the shooting, but did not see the assailant.

She was taken to a hospital with a bullet wound in her chest.

Set Evening Courses At E. Carolina

The University College, the undergraduate evening program of East Carolina University, will offer courses during the second term summer session which begins on July 12. Registration will be conducted in Erwin Hall on the University Campus from 8:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. on July 12 and 13.

Courses offered are: Family Relations (Home Economics 103), Basic Concepts Of Mathematics (Math 127), and Introduction To Sociology (Sociology 110). Classes meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. twice or three times weekly.

The University College program is designed for the part-time students who may be able to attend classes only at night because of work or other commitments. It is possible for the part-time student who lives within commuting distance of the Greenville campus to complete approximately one third of the undergraduate degree at night. In addition, many adults may take courses during the day as University College students. The program is fully approved for veterans' benefits.

Hold Events In Beaufort

BEAUFORT — For the summer traveler in North Carolina, the call of the coast issues an invitation to visit Historic Beaufort the last week in June for the annual Old Homes Tour and Antiques Show and Sale. Dates are June 27 through June 30.

The Antiques Show and Sale will begin the gala week-end. Featuring furniture, glass, china, jewelry and oriental items, the show will run through June 30.

Guided bus tours, in an open English bus, hosted by historian Grayden Paul, will introduce the visitor of Beaufort.

The Fishtown Art Gallery, featuring works by many local artists, will be open. An added interest there is the silhouettist Kay Housel Bogue.

Lunches will be served by the Ladies of the Rebekah Lodge at the Odd Fellows Lodge, circa 1730. Light refreshments will be served on the lawn of the old Hammock House, the oldest house in Beaufort. Legend has it that this house was a haunt of the infamous pirate, Blackbeard.

There will be five private homes and Restoration facilities open. This includes the Cramer House, built in 1796 to be used as the Courthouse in Carteret County, purchased and moved to the Beaufort Restoration Area this year.

Set Program For Summer

Sheppard Memorial Children's Librarian Mrs. Mary Hess has announced a series of summer programs beginning in July.

There are three story hour programs scheduled. These are: —Tuesdays (beginning July 3), 7:00 p.m. Story hour for children of all ages. Miss Edie Lederfeld will be in charge of this evening story hour.

—Wednesdays (beginning July 11), 11:00 a.m. Story hour for pre-school children three, four and five years old.

—Thursdays (beginning July 12), 2:30 p.m. Story hour for children of the first, second and third grade ages.

In addition, Mrs. Hess says the weekly children's film showings at 7:00 p.m. each Thursday in the Children's Room at Sheppard would be continued during the summer months.

The world's first three-color, four directional electric traffic signal light was introduced in 1920 at Woodward Avenue and Fort Street in Detroit.
