Balanced Class Sizes, School Fuel Needs Preoccupy Board

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer
Balancing class sizes and being assured of sufficient fuel to keep the classrooms open in the Greenville City Schools during the winter are two major problems the Greenville City School Board has to deal with in the coming school year.

At the first of two regular board meetings for July (the one Monday night is to be continued next Monday night), board members were informed by Acting Superintendent Glenn Cox that the State Department of Public Instruction has authorized teacher allotments totaling the same number as last year.

"We made it by three students this year," Cox said, noting this was a close call, "especially since the new state law permits only 26 students per primary class and 33 students in intermediate classed."

"Because of the stipulation on class sizes," Cox added, "we will be forced into some multi-age grouping." Cox noted this is not entirely new in the city schools, but would be more prevalent in the coming school year.

In the matter of fuel to operate the heating plants, Cox informed board members that the state office had sent word it had been able to contract purchase only 60 per cent as much fuel this year as last.

"This means each individual school must practice strict heating control," Cox said, "with no boilers used over the weekend, and keep a close watch on amounts used in each school."

The board at this point discussed, but made no rulings on, possible use of schools during week-ends by churches or other agencies — which have in the past made use of classrooms on Saturdays or Sundays for church services or other activities.

Operating and capital funds for the city schools will be another tight area, Cox told board members.

Figures he quoted show that the County Commissioners approved $1,084,939.39 for current operating expenses. This figure is $312,254 short of the $1,397,194 requested in the current operations budget approved by the board of education.

In capital outlay funds, commissioners, approved $297,000 for this category, which is $264,000 short of the $561,000 requested in the school board budget.

"This means," Cox said, "the school board has got to cut over half a million dollars from the budget proposal. It will be easier to cut in the capital outlay part than in current operating expenses." Cox added, and said "we do have $94,000 in current expense funds and $25,000 in capital outlay that is carry over which will help some."

After studying projected enrollments in individual schools, board members last night approved a motion to designate Elmhurst Elementary School for place of out-of-district students.

For several years, Third Street School has been used for assignment of these students who pay a $60 a year tuition fee due to not being a resident within one of the city's school districts.

Elmhurst has more available classroom space this year than any other elementary school, despite the fact an increase of 24 students is anticipated there.

Resignation of five teachers, all women who will be leaving Greenville on account of their husbands being transferred, was accepted. Approval was given to election of 26 new teachers — ten men and 16 women.

Included in the election of 26 new members was that of William L. Byrd, Jr. as assistant principal at Aycock Junior High. To make this decision, the board went into executive session.

Higher living costs are reflected in two approved board actions.

Cox reported that for the 1972-73 school year, cafeterias in the city schools took in a total of $393,896 in receipts, which represented a 12 per cent increase from the previous year in income.

"However," he said, "expenses increased 20 per cent, and total expenditures for the cafeterias amounted to $427,104, which means we had a substantial loss."

Cox said the cafeterias ended up in the black, "but only after using up the surplus we had from the last few years."

For school meals, approval was given to a five cents increase. For grades one through six, lunches that cost 35 cents per student last year will be 40 cents this year. Students in grades seven through 12 will pay 45 cents instead of 40 cents; and adults (teachers and school guests) will be paying 55 cents per meal this year.

Increases in individual extra servings of food in most cases were upped five cent.

Adoption of increased meal and individual food prices, as noted in the motion, is contingent of lifting of the current freeze.

The second item reflecting a cost increase in that of student insurance. Again choosing the Walker Insurance Agency to handle student insurance, the new rate per pupil is $4.50, an increase of 50 cents over the same firm's $4.00 premium last year.

As in the past several years, the Athletic Department is paying a portion of the cost — this year 50 cents on each policy. This represents money for football coverage. The Walker Agency, however, has raised from $5,000 to $10,000 the amount of benefits payable.

School fees approved by the board for the coming school year remain identical to those in effect last year. These are: Out-of-district tuition, $60; and under special instructional fees — general instructional materials, all pupils, $4.00; physical ed. (grades 7-12), 2.00 Home Economics Lab, $2.50; Industrial Arts and cabinet making, $2.50 (with a $1.25 fee in the latter two for students in grade eight for exploratory courses); bookkeeping, $3.00; and arts and crafts, $2.00.

All the fees except the $4.00 instructional materials fee are elective, applicable only to students involved in the activities.

Cox reported that the three houses on lots purchased adjacent to Sadie Sautler have finally been removed. (Continued On Page A-6)

Racing Famine, Death In Area Of Sub-Sahara

By LARRY HEINZLERING
Associated Press Writer

OUAGADOUGOU, Upper Volta (AP) — Tens of thousands of tons of food, seed and medicine from around the world are pouring into drought-stricken West Africa in a race against mass starvation and death.

Widespread hunger and drastic food shortages amounting to near famine still plague the six worst-hit nations south of the Sahara Desert. Some 24 million persons live in the region.

Reports of death from outbreaks of measles and cholera are increasing in the sun-baked zone, which runs from Mauritania and Senegal through Mali, Upper Volta, Niger and Chad.

Sofar, about 200,000 tons of food has been shipped from abroad. The dust bowl regions in the so-called "famine belt" need about 500,000 tons this year.

The threat of starvation will grow as the rainy season, now getting under way, cuts off dirt roads linking rural areas to major towns.

"The worst is yet to come," warns an American aid official in Dakar, Senegal. "We have to keep feeding them until this year's harvest in the fall."

However, if the five-year dry spell persists and this year's rains are poor, there will be little or no harvest.

Relief officials say the drought threatens the lives of millions and drastically has disrupted rural economies of some of the world's most impoverished nations.

Abandoned villages and the scattered carcasses of cattle testify to a mass migration of people, many of them desert nomads, fleeing south to the lush coastal areas.

While exact figures are not available, vast areas of crops have been wiped out; millions of cattle, goats and sheep have perished; and thousands of village wells and lakes—even urban supplies—have dried up.

Some foreign diplomats are upset by what they think is the sometimes lethargic approach taken by some African governments in getting relief programs under way.

"We couldn't do a thing until we were asked to help," complained one diplomat in Senegal. He says months were wasted trying to convince authorities that something should be done.

In Mali and Upper Volta, as well as Senegal, there also have been reports that tribal considerations are affecting distribution of relief supplies.

It is also a matter of class, according to diplomats, who say the elite in the urban areas are not overly concerned about the fate of the rural peasantry.

Nevertheless, as the crisis has grown, African governments have become more concerned and involved in relief operations.

Meanwhile, food supplies—mostly cereals—and medicine for vaccinations and to treat dehydration and malnutrition are arriving from abroad.

Much of it is being carried from coastal ports in Cameroon, Nigeria, Dahomey, Togo, Ghana, Ivory Coast, Liberia and Senegal by road and rail to the interior.

The most dramatic relief effort has been the international airlift operated by the United States, Canada, several European nations and the Soviet Union.

Much of the food is coming from the United States, but other major donors include the Scandinavian countries, China and some of the 10 nations of the European Common Market.

An official of the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO) said, "The object is to stockpile as much as possible before rain cuts them off from the rest of the world."

Other nations participating in relief operations are Britain, West Germany, Spain, Italy, the Netherlands and Spain. They are supplying food or transportation.

SEEKS NO FIGHT
DETROIT (AP) — Contract talks between the United Auto Workers union and the Ford Motor Co. opened today with a Ford executive declaring that negotiators would seek to reach "a fair settlement peacefully."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was set to settle Food Stamp disputes today after dramatically cutting cotton out of the farm bill and quietly voting to give Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz vast new power over food prices.

Key tests were expected on amendments that would ban Food Stamps for strikers and would eliminate proposed new restrictions on eligibility.

A new coalition sought to hold on long enough to push the final package bill to victory during a fifth day of action on the House floor.

The prime maneuver came Monday as the House voted 208 to 190 to strip cotton programs from its version of the legislation.

This step was intended to produce a bill that would give the House a better bargaining position at a later conference with the Senate. The Senate passed version of the farm and food program bill includes cotton.

Then, by voice vote without debate among a small number of congressmen on the floor, the House approved a food price amendment by Rep. Harold V. Froehlich, R-Wis., covering both the 60-day price freeze and any new economic controls in the President's upcoming Phase 4.

This amendment would require Nixon to adjust the maximum price that may be charged for any farm products when Butz determines that the current price freeze or future price controls will produce a supply shortage and there is no other way to boost supply.

It defines these products as meat, poultry, vegetables, fruit and all other farm commodities. Products are covered "at any point in the distribution chain." Froehlich said the amendment is necessary because consumers soon will find it difficult to buy many products since production costs have gone up faster than the cost of living.

The cotton decision was significant in light of the House's previous actions on the bill. The Agriculture Committee originally proposed a bill providing a four-year extension of the 1970 Agricultural Act. It also proposed a new target price system for cotton, wheat and feed grain so there would be guaranteed incomes for farmers.

But the House, while refusing to knock out a cost-of-production escalator in the target price plan, accepted amendments that drew fire from cotton-state congressmen—such as closing what farm program critics call the current law's loopholes that allow a farmer to lease or sell part of his acreage to avoid payment limits.

Before the news conference, Rogers and Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira discussed Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka's visit to President Nixon at the end of the month.

The two foreign policy aides met for lunch on the second day of the ninth U.S.-Japan Economic Conference. Informal sources said they agreed that it is highly desirable for President Nixon to visit Japan and for Emperor Hirohito to visit the United States.

The sources said those proposed visits would be discussed when Tanaka meets Nixon in Washington on July 31.

The prime minister's itinerary in the United States also includes New York Aug. 2, Chicago Aug. 3 and San Francisco Aug. 5.

Meanwhile, in the economic conference the Japanese pressed for an easing of the Nixon Administration's recent restrictions on the export of soybeans, a major source of protein for the Japanese diet.

Conference sources said the U.S. delegates promised prompt shipments from the new crop to be harvested.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that the United States intends to maintain its military strength in the Pacific and no immediate troop withdrawals are planned from Taiwan or South Korea.

Should American forces be pulled out of either country, Japan would be consulted in advance, Rogers told a news conference on the closing day of the ninth U.S.-Japan cabinet-level Economic Conference.

He said that until the United States has completed modernizing the South Korean armed forces and is satisfied they are strong enough, the 40,000 American soldiers in Korea will remain.

Rogers' promise of prior consultations with Japan before any troop cuts are made was viewed as an assurance there will be no more of the "Nixon shocks" that have strained relations in the past two years.

Much of the economic conference was devoted to the most recent of these U.S. actions taken without warning to Japan: the curtailment of U.S. exports of soybeans to Japan.

House Takes Up Disputed Food Stamps

Denies Version By Dean

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert W. Kalmbach testified today that in enlisting him to raise money for the seven original Watergate defendants, former White House counsel John W. Dean III did not tell him that the case could lead to trouble for President Nixon.

Kalmbach returned to the Senate's televised Watergate hearings before an investigating committee preparing to ask for tape recordings of Nixon's conversations with key figures in the scandal.

Kalmbach, Nixon's former personal lawyer, differed with Dean's account of the way he was recruited to raise money for the Watergate defendants.

Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., read Dean's earlier testimony, in which the former White House lawyer said he had told Kalmbach on June 29, 1972, virtually everything he knew about the origins of the Watergate wiretapping.

Dean had testified that he expressed concern "this could lead right to the President."

Kalmbach said he did not recall it that way. "My recollection of that conversation was simply that he indicated that he wished me, he used the word again 'we,' I was being asked to raise funds for the legal defense of these people and for the support of the families," he testified.

Kalmbach also said he saw nothing illegal about his fundraising at the time. But he said he and former White House secret agent Anthony Ulasevic used public telephones when discussing the money, for fear that their conversations might be overheard on wiretaps.

"Who did you think might have tapped you?" Montoya asked.

"We just didn't know," Kalmbach said.

He said he had met Ulasevic only two or three times before agreeing to use him to carry the secret funds for the Watergate wiretappers. Kalmbach said he trusted Ulasevic to handle the sensitive task because he knew the former New York City policeman had carried out assignments for the White House over a number of years.

Japan Assured No More Shocks

TOKYO (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that the United States intends to maintain its military strength in the Pacific and no immediate troop withdrawals are planned from Taiwan or South Korea.

Should American forces be pulled out of either country, Japan would be consulted in advance, Rogers told a news conference on the closing day of the ninth U.S.-Japan cabinet-level Economic Conference.

At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here, in brief, are developments in the Watergate case.

TAPE RECORDINGS — Alexander P. Butterfield, a former White House aide, told the Senate Watergate Committee Monday that President Nixon's offices and telephones were bugged. The committee is preparing to ask the White House for the tape recordings of Nixon's conversations with key Watergate figures.

STANS-MITCHELL — Maurice H. Stans and John N. Mitchell, former members of Nixon's cabinet, asked that federal charges involving a campaign contribution by financier Robert L. Vesco be dismissed or the trial be moved or postponed indefinitely.

MCCORD — Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox opposed a motion for a new trial for Watergate burglar James W. McCord Jr.

IBM — International Business Machines Corp., said Mitchell was involved in a Justice Department scheme to get government agencies to boycott IBM's data processing equipment.

New Industrial Building To Be Constructed Here

Construction of an industrial building which may eventually contain 200,000 square feet was announced here today by R. Corey Stokes, chairman of the Pitt County Development Commission, during 11:00 a.m. ground-breaking ceremonies marking the beginning of the plant.

The new facility will be built by Singleton Associates—an Henderson-based firm which has been a pioneer in providing industrial shell buildings for manufacturing companies. The building will be situated at the northern edge of Greenville on a 14½ acre site bordering North Green Street.

"Two or three national manufacturing firms have already expressed an interest in the new building," James Horne, executive director of the Pitt County Development Commission, said.

The first stage of construction will consist of office and manufacturing areas containing 40,000 square feet. The building is designed to allow for expansion to 200,000 square feet.

The frame, or shell, of the building will be built to Singleton's specifications, and the interior will be left unfinished until the requirements of the eventual occupant can be determined. Plumbing and wiring is installed, a concrete floor poured, and the interior completed only after a tenant is secured.

Removable panels and a rear wall which can be taken down to allow for quick expansion are part of the Singleton shell concept. Flexibility of design has been a major contributor to success of similar Singleton projects in the Southeast.

Robert A. Parker, Singleton president, who was on hand with Pitt County and Greenville officials for today's ground-breaking, said Greenville was selected from more than 15 cities in the Southeast as the site of the new plant. He said availability of good utilities, labor and transportation were factors leading to the decision to build here.

Parker said Singleton Associates "put itself in the rose of a company looking for a site" when determining the location of a new plant. "We are able to save a manufacturer several months in pre-start time by handling all aspects of site selection, design and financing," he said.

Light Early Turnout In Today's Marketing Quota Referendum

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Voting in today's marketing quota referendum was generally light from 7 a.m. to around 10:30 a.m., according to a random sampling of Pitt polling places.

Most polling spokesmen echoed the same report for the first few hours of the referendum; voter turnout had been light.

A spokesman at McAlvin Turner Store in Belvoir said that "probably about a dozen" persons had voted by 10:30 while a poll official at the Bethel Town Hall reported between 35-40 voters during the same period.

A spokesman at Roebuck & Parker's Store in the Carolina Township said that voting there was "coming right along. We've had about 35 to 40 so far..."

The turnout was termed "mighty light" by a poll holder at the Grimesland Town Hall who said that only about 15 persons had voted by 10:30 a.m.

The Farmville Fire Station poll voted approximately 100 by 10:30, a spokesman reported. He predicted a heavier turnout of voters during the noon lunch hour and also later on in the afternoon when work tapers off. "We have a big roster here and actually 100 is not a large number but considering the number of farmers in the fields, the turnout has been pretty good," he said.

Voting was also a "little slow" earlier this morning at Howard Forbes Store north of Greenville, it was reported, and the turnout was also light at Satterthwaite's Store in Pactolus where about 25 voted between 7 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

A spokesman at the Winterville Town Hall, asserting that the lunch hour and late afternoon voter traffic should increase the size of the overall turnout, said that by 10:30 a.m. only 20-25 had voted. "It's the wrong time of the year to vote," she said. "Farmers can't put their tobacco in and vote at the same time."

A large turnout had been hoped for today as a show of support for the tobacco program. A two-thirds or more vote in favor of marketing quotas was necessary to continue the program for the 1974, 1975, and 1976 crops. If more than one-third of the vote is negative, there will be no marketing quotas and no price support in effect for the 1974 flue-cured tobacco crop.

Those Clinics Need Doctors

Gov. Holshouser has not had a lot to say about the expansion of the ECU medical school in recent months except to comment that he will leave the decision to the Board of Governors.

At the same time he has talked quite a bit about the plan to establish rural medical clinics and offer incentive grants to physicians to practice in rural areas.

Some 15 clinics are to be established in the next 24 months the governor said in an interview when he visited Greenville for an ECU Summer theatre performance last Thursday night.

Well, we certainly have no argument with the plan to establish the rural medical clinics and we are happy that plans are proceeding to get the clinics set up and operating. However, we hope that the governor, or no one else, sees these clinics as supplanting the need for expansion of the medical school at ECU to a full degree granting institution.

The hard facts are that there just are not enough doctors to go around. The figures have been quoted many times to show that North Carolina has an extremely low ratio of doctors to population. The ratios are better in a few urban areas, but even there the situation is not good. Most of the urban doctors are specialists and it is not unusual to read of a family moving into a North Carolina city and being unable to find a family physician or pediatrician.

The rural medical clinics will be totally worthless without the physicians to staff them. It has been proposed all along that the ECU medical school be oriented toward training primary health care and particularly toward rural and small city practice.

The rural health clinics cannot be thought of as a substitute for the ECU medical school. Such clinics can be an important part of a plan for delivering better health care to North Carolinians, but they will fail miserably if we do not continue to develop the medical school at East Carolina University.

Fighting Funds For Perjurers

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Shocked by payment of legal fees of more than $80,000 in the second quarter alone, highly irritated Republican fat cats are sending this angry message to national party officials with rising intensity: Don't use the money we contributed to reelect President Nixon to help campaign aides stuck in the Watergate scandal.

They have a partial though silent ally in Republican national chairman George Bush. While Bush makes no public comment, he is known to feel that the Committee to Reelect the President (CREEP) should have closed shop last Nov. 8 with its $4.8 million surplus turned over to the party. Spurred on by the angry fat cats, Bush now is stepping up efforts to belatedly close down CREEP — which reported $680,000 in expenditures for the second quarter of 1973.

But Bush sees some merit in using the 1972 campaign surplus to pay legal fees for CREEP officials named as defendants in civil suits and appearing before congressional committees. Many party leaders and contributors disagree. "Hell, no!" one state chairman exploded to us. "Why should our money bail out perjurers? They ought to swim for themselves."

CREEP's second-quarter report shows $80,256 in legal fees. Attorneys for Maurice Stans, CREEP's chief fundraiser under indictment for perjury in the Vesco case, received $37,700. Another $15,000 went to attorneys for ex-creep deputy director Jeb Magruder, an admitted perjurer, and $10,000 to attorneys for CREEP scheduler Herbert Porter, who also has admitted perjury.

CREEP ground rules prohibit payment of legal fees for defense of criminal charges. But CREEP paid $15,700 in fees to the firm defending Stans in the Vesco case on May 11, the day after he was indicted. Stans's lawyer, Walter J. Bonner, told us he did not know whether any of this converted pre-indictment legal help in the Vesco case. Stans relayed word to us through a CREEP spokesman that it did not.

What bothers Bush more than legal fees is the continued employment of CREEP public relations specialist Devan Shumway at $36,000 a year. Millionaire Stans also continues on the payroll at $30,000 a year. The residual CREEP staff includes a deputy to Stans, a lawyer and six secretaries and clerks.

Senate Vengeance

The revenge of Senate liberals on career Foreign Service officers for faithfully carrying out President Nixon's foreign policy might have been even worse had not elder statesman liberal Averall Harriman privately intervened.

The liberal attack by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee ruthlessly cutting down G. McMurtrie Godley (former ambassador to Laos) for Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs struck new terror inside the State Department. Morale, already at its lowest since the days of Joe McCarthy, continues down.

It would have been even lower today had the committee also rejected Deputy Assistant Secretary of State William H. Sullivan as ambassador to the Philippines. That might well have happened save for the intervention of Harriman, Sullivan's longtime mentor. Harriman, bearing gilt-edged liberal credentials himself, lobbied the liberal bloc controlling the Senate committee and managed to reduce the votes against Sullivan to three.

Still to come before the head-hunting committee is the highly-regarded Charles S. Whitehouse, returning here as acting ambassador in Saigon to run the committee's confirmation gauntlet as new ambassador to Laos. But the committee's 9 to 7 rejection of Godley may lead Mr. Nixon to change the Charles Whitehouse assignment from Laos to assistant secretary.

That's still up in the air. In either case, Whitehouse, as an old hand in Southeast Asia, will be the next Foreign Service officer to feel the smear of committee liberals, headed by chairman J.W. Fulbright of Arkansas, for work performed as a public servant in the field.

Godley's rejection, for what Fulbright confided privately to high administration officials was his "overly enthusiastic" carrying out of U.S. policy in Laos, was the most overt ideological attack on a Foreign Service officer since the late Sens. Kenneth Wherry and Joseph R. McCarthy, both right-wing Republicans, crucified the reputations and diplomatic careers of the old China hands. The pretext then: revenge for their correctly

"Be sure your sin will find you out."

This does not mean, "Be sure your sin will be detected." Instead it means, "Be sure your sin will detect you." Sin is never done with us just because we are done with it. No matter how frantically we try to escape it, we can be sure that the evil which we have done will dog us through every turn of life until it pulls us down and makes us see that every evil act brings evil upon him who does it.

One can hardly call this a comforting reality, but reality it certainly is. If we will look fully in the face of the consequences of an evil act before we perpetrate it, we will seldom go through with it.

The worst punishment of our evil is not exposure to others but to ourselves. It is not the fear that someone may discover how we have acted, but the devastating realization day in and day out that we have done an evil thing.

More Candor Is Needed

Put aside, for a moment, all that is embraced in the agonizing name of "Watergate," and consider two other matters instead: the matter of the dairy fund, and the matter of "improvements" to Mr. Nixon's home in San Clemente.

These are the skeleton facts of the first matter: Early in 1971, the dairy industry applied to the Department of Agriculture for an increase in Federal price supports. On March 1, 1971, the then Secretary of Agriculture, Clifford Hardin, rejected the request. The industry thereupon launched a strenuous lobbying campaign that culminated with a meeting at the White House on March 23 with the President himself. A day earlier, on March 22, the industry contributed $10,000 to a dummy committee subsequently linked to the Nixon campaign.

On March 25, Hardin reversed himself and approved an increase in the price support from $4.66 to $4.93 a hundredweight. The increase added $500 to $700 million to the income of dairy farmers. The industry thereafter contributed an additional $412,500 to the Nixon campaign and to the GOP.

These are the skeleton facts on the second matter: Between July 1, 1969, and May 31, 1973, the General Services Administration expended some $703,000 in public funds on what it terms "improvements" to the house and grounds of the President's Western White House at San Clemente. Over roughly this same period, the GSA spent some $580,000 on "improvements" to the presidential complex at Key Biscayne.

In hearings before a House committee headed by Tom Steed of Oklahoma, the Secret Service last month defended the $1,283,000 as necessary to protect the security of the President. Critics have scoffed that some of the elaborate and costly landscaping itemized by the GSA has only the most tenuous relationship to presidential security, and they ask why the taxpayers should be charged for such non-security items as "pillows, decorative, $86," in the President's office.

These are serious matters. The first carries an implication of bribery or extortion; the second suggests

Other Editors Say Hard To Figure

WASHINGTON DAILY NEWS

Col. Theodore Guy charged eight enlisted men held prisoners during the Vietnam conflict with improper conduct.

These men were specifically charged with giving aid and comfort to the enemy while being held prisoners. Col. Guy alleged that the actions of these enlisted men made it more difficult on the other prisoners because of their friendship with the enemy.

Either they are guilty of the charges or they are not guilty. There hardly is any ground for a mid-way status.

Since the charges against the eight were brought, one of the men committed suicide. Now the military comes along and drops all the charges against the seven remaining men, five of them soldiers and two of them marines.

But in dealing with the five army enlisted men, the military says that none of the five will be allowed to remain in the army. All will be given honorable discharges.

If the five army men have been cleared of misconduct, why are they now ineligible to re-enlist if they should so desire? It does not make sense to us.

Some singular facts stand out in Col. Guy's charges. First of all, he only charged enlisted men with misconduct. And the apparent investigation which resulted showed that there is insufficient evidence to bring any of the men before a court-martial board.

Had Col. Guy charged any officers with misconduct, then his allegations might have been taken more seriously by the American public. After all, it is clear that very few enlisted men were taken prisoners. It must follow that the North Vietnamese were just not taking enlisted men as prisoners.

We cannot condone any unpatriotic actions or words which came from people in the conflict, even from prisoners of war. But if each of us would try to place ourselves in the position of a prisoner of war over there, we just wonder what our attitude and our actions might have been. After all these seven men are bound to have suffered great deprivations and even pain during their long years of imprisonment.

To come back home and have another prisoner charge them with misconduct is a terrible thing. And of course if the charges should be true, that also is a terrible thing.

Since the men have been cleared, the very verdict itself is a vindication for them. And a verdict of innocence should entitle them to re-enlist in the service if indeed such a course should be the desire of any of them.

The Odds Against An Investor

By JOHN CUNNIFF

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Can you stand just one more handful of statistics on just how bad the stock market has been?

The investor this year has endured one assault after another and now, presumably, is injured to any more bad news. Like a fighter out on his feet, he can't hold up his hand and say "no more."

And so, in the absence of a clear response to the question, the following report can be slipped in as sort of a coup de grace: of 2,652 stocks listed on the New York and American exchanges, only 170 rose in the first half of 1973.

With odds like that it isn't puzzling why the little fellow who used to squint at the flying prices from the rear of brokerage houses all over America might now be the guy with the magnifying glass studying the sheets at the track.

A company called Interactive Data Corp., one of those computer-based corporate autopsists, is the source of this morbid intelligence.

It also discloses such tidbits as this: the worst performer on the Big Board was Suave Shoe Corp., which fell 82 per cent, edging out Delta Corp. of America, the Amex's big loser, which fell only 78 per cent.

But no longer can the ordinary investor be hurt by such as this. He is down and out.

He doesn't like to dwell on what has happened, not just because it is in the past — although the past seems destined to extend to the future — but because he can't do much about it anyway.

About the past use of inside information and manipulation and inept record-keeping and bad advice and indifference to small accounts and brokerage house failures and the slowness with which the market is being reorganized.

About the business and investing scene, the dreary highlights of which are an anemic dollar, an inflation that defies management, regulation from Washington, shortages — and an suspicion that things aren't getting better soon.

If he were still concerned, the ordinary investor would also recognize with horror the undeniable statistical evidence of a Dow Jones Industrial Average that is back where it was in 1964.

He wouldn't want to probe deeply into that evidence either, because then he would have to admit that if you take inflation into account, which those DJ figures don't, you would have to go back even further to find today's match.

After hearing hundreds of explanations of why the market, once the hope of millions and now the discouragement of millions, has fallen upon such bad times, the ordinary investor may not be interested in just one more possibility.

That latest explanation offered from Wall Street is that dividend yields were too small to keep investors interested. One analyst reports that dividend income since 1968 has risen only 13 per cent, one-half that of some other yields.

And so, with the Committee on Interest and Dividends having lifted the lid on permissible dividends, some analysts are now proclaiming that stocks have a reason for rising.

Maybe so.

DEAR ABBY: Doesn't a girl have the right to be chaste anymore?

My boy friend and I are soon to be married, and we don't want any kids yet, so I talked to my mother and she suggested I get birth control pills before I get married.

I called the local Family Planning clinic about getting pills; they said I would have to come down for a pelvic and breast examination by their own doctor. I asked if they had any women doctors, and they said no.

Then I called a couple of private male doctors, and they said I would have to be examined before they would prescribe the pill for me. Then I called a woman doctor and she said an examination wasn't necessary for me to get the pill as long as I felt well.

I think these male doctors are unfair and have no regard for a girl's feelings. I wonder why the male doctors require examinations and the woman doctor didn't? Is it male chauvinism, or greed for the extra examination fee?
WONDERING IN TOPEKA

DEAR WONDERING: A pelvic and breast examination by a male physician will in no way violate your chastity. Furthermore, medical authorities tell me that it's considered risky to prescribe the pill without having examined the patient, because not all women can use the pill safely. Most doctors, male and female, concur and take no chances.

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating a lovely widow for over three years. While dating her, I also dated a couple of divorcees. Without going into detail, let me just say I did more than hold hands with all three of these ladies.

For the last few months I've been dating the widow exclusively, and we are seriously considering matrimony. She is very inquisitive, and knowing that I have dated the two divorcees, she keeps quizzing me about the relationships.

In fact, she presses me for the most intimate details. Must I reveal everything this woman wants to know? We aren't kids. We are both in our fifties. Rush your answer to me and I'll abide by your advice.
SETTLING DOWN

DEAR SETTLING: What went on between you and the other ladies in your life is none of her business. Tell her you'd no more consider disclosing what went on between you and THEM than what went on between you and HER. That should settle it.

DEAR ABBY: I've a 70-year-old sister with whom I've been estranged for many years. She became widowed (for the second time) a few months ago. She has written to say that she and her 50-year-old son, who is extremely obnoxious, are coming to visit me and my wife.

This sister visited us 20 years ago and I'll never forget it. She made such a row that I had to call the police and have her forcibly evicted.

Frankly, this sister is not normal in the head and she makes trouble wherever she goes. I've discussed this with my wife, and she wants no part of my sister or her son.

I intend to consult a lawyer who will send a registered letter to my sister, telling her that she is not welcome here, and advising her that there are protective laws for persons who do not want to be molested by undesirable relatives.

Will you please let me know if you think this is advisable and effective? Or have you perhaps some other suggestion that would accomplish the same end?
CANADIAN

DEAR CANADIAN: You know Sister better than I do. Let your lawyer handle it.

Vacation Church School Slated

Let me insert a personal note: From what I know of the dairy industry—and I have made by home for seven years in cattle country—I can well believe the dairy industry had a convincing case to support the increase asked in 1971. My guess is that industry spokesmen submitted such overwhelming evidence on March 23 that the reversal of March 25 was wholly justified. Such reversals occur regularly in the appellate processes of our courts, and we ought not to be surprised by them.

The insinuation of graft at San Clemente leaves me equally unimpressed. The Secret Service takes the same view of presidential security that generals take of their troops: Ten times enough is still not enough. I can well believe the Service insisted upon these "improvements." To complain of the pillows is to set a record of pettiness. This is also Steed's view, and the onetime newsman, now 69, has been around the House for 24 years.

What has been the White House reaction? Last week White House counsel Leonard Garment, claiming executive privilege, flatly refused to release 67 relevant memoranda on the dairy case. To make the papers public (in response to a prospective subpoena; "would be injurious to the public interest and to the constitutional doctrine of the separation of powers." On the matter of the "improvements," the White House press secretary has provided, out of his fountains of disbelief, whole showers of conflicting figures.

It won't do. By his foolish insistence on "executive privilege," a most doubtful doctrine where crime is alleged, the President creates an inescapable inference of wrongdoing in the dairy matter. He could clear up the questions of San Clemente by demanding a full investigation by the General Accounting Office. Mr. Nixon could dispel great clouds of unanswered Watergate questions—if only he would. We must have candor, candor, and still more candor! We are not getting it now.

Parents of kindergartners are asked to accompany their children to the fellowship hall of St. James the first day "to show them their classes and become acquainted with the teachers," said Mrs. H. T. Patterson, Mrs. Ralph C. Tucker, Mrs. Les Turner and Mrs. Michael House, coordinators.

The theme this year for the third and fourth grades will be "The Lands of the Bible." Sessions will be held at Jarvis Memorial Church under the direction of Miss Oleva Zaniser, Miss Carol Patterson, Mrs. Edwin Yancey, Mrs. Luther Moore and Mrs. William Johnson.

"Christians in Conflict," the topic for the fifth and sixth grades, will be taught by Mrs. Ed Lewis, Miss Susan Moye, Mrs. Robert I. Barnes Jr., Miss Jeanne Carr and Mrs. Thurman Stevenson, also held at Jarvis Memorial.

Of interest to the first and second grades will be the "The World of Happy Differences." Guiding this group at St. James Methodist Church will be Mrs. Lynis Dohm, Mrs. Edward Seykora, Mrs. James Norman, Mrs. James Hudson, Mrs. R. W. Wooten, Mrs. Scott Worley, Mrs. Henry Riddick, and Mrs. Thomas Johnson.

Using the title "Fellow Workers for God," 12 leaders will conduct the kindergarten group, also at St. James. They are Mrs. David Greer, Miss Carla Phillips, Mrs. Bradley Moore, Mrs. Tracey Medlin, Mrs. Richard Jennings, Mrs. Roy Carawan, Mrs. Gerald Peterson, Mrs. William Dowdy, Mrs. Edwin Clark, Mrs. Charles Moye, Mrs. Tom Allen, and Mrs. Terry Sparrow.

Substitute teachers are Mrs. William Blount, Mrs. Troy J. Barrett and Mrs. Henry Groome.

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles M. Smith, Mrs. Enoch Reid and Miss Brenda Peterson will direct the music program. The Rev. Troy J. Barrett, the Rev. Dick Brunson and Doug Hartsell will be recreation directors for the week.

The Church School's arts and crafts will be under the direction of Mrs. Claude B. West Jr., Mrs. James Whitehead, Mrs. Susu Johnson, Miss Carl Kelsey and Miss Ann Goforth.

Mrs. Charles Kanavaugh is in charge of publicity. Librarian for the school is Mrs. Patterson. Bus chairman is Mrs. Donald Cherry while Mrs. Edgar Douglas is serving as nursery chairman.

A bus will provide transportation back and forth to the two churches. Refreshments will be served by the ladies of the churches.

Nat'l Awards To Local JCs

The Greenville Jaycees received national awards for two of their projects recently during the National Jaycee Convention in Minneapolis, Minn.

The awards received by the local chapter were among a number of awards earned by North Carolina Jaycees in a variety of categories, according to Greenville chapter president Tom Reese.

Reese said that all projects of the Jaycees are summarized on a ROC (Relevant Organization Concept) form which is then submitted for state competition. The top two state winners by population division are then sent on to national competition.

The Greenville Jaycees' awards were received for two in their project ROC forms, the president noted. The awards were for third place for membership activation and retention-orientation which was chaired by Gene Prescott and Jaycee Week chaired by Dave Gordon. The ROC chairmen for the local Jaycees were Doug Mewborn and John Bell.

Reese reported that, "These are the first national awards won by the Greenville Jaycees and certainly recognizes a fine year during the last Jaycee year. Much credit is due the many chairmen, officers and directors who helped make it all possible under leadership of Don Brady who was president."

Building . . .

(Continued From Page A-1) looks for a building in which "operations can begin tomorrow," and that often a community which has an existing building has a strong advantage in the competition for landing an industry.

The Greenville building, which will be served by Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, will be one of many single-tenant manufacturing facilities designed and built by Singleton for sale or lease. In all cases, the buildings have been speculative attempts by Singleton to attract industrial tenants. All have proved successful.

Parker was high in his praise of community development activities in Greenville. He said the cooperation of the Pitt County Development Commission contributed largely to the decision by Singleton to place its building here.

"We are always looking for a community with a good industrial relations program because it makes our job easier," he said. "In Greenville we found the kind of local leadership which can be of great assistance in assuring that we have top-notch industrial prospects for our property."

In addition to shell building, Singleton Associates is developing multi-tenant industrial centers in Charlotte, Raleigh, Columbia, S. C. and Greenville, S. C.

Coup By Afghans

NEW DELHI (AP) — Radio Kabul in Afghanistan announced today the overthrow of the Afghan monarchy in favor of a republic "in accord with the genuine spirit of Islam."

The republic was proclaimed by Lt. Gen. Sardar Mohammed Daud Khan, 64, brother-in-law and cousin of King Mohammed Zahir Shah and a former prime minister.

The radio broadcast a speech by Daud saying Afghanistan would hold to its traditional foreign policy of nonalignment and would not join any military pacts.

A country of 13.6 million people, Afghanistan is landlocked in central Asia between the Soviet Union, China, Pakistan and Iran. Its 250,000 square miles are largely mountainous and include the famous Khyber Pass leading to Pakistan and India.

The radio broadcast did not mention 59-year-old King Zahir Shah who came to the throne in 1933 at the age of 19 following the assassination of his father. Proclamation of the republic, however, would mean the end of his reign.

Two Die In Crash

NEWTON, N.C. (AP)—Two men were killed in the crash of an Army National Guard helicopter near Lake Norman late Monday night.

The bodies were recovered several hours later and officials identified one of the victims as Capt. Larry Rollins, 26, of Greensboro. Identification of the other victim was delayed pending notification of next of kin.

Officials said the men had attended a battery commanders meeting in Charlotte and were returning to Greensboro, where the helicopter was based.

Rollins was commander of a National Guard battery in Thomasville. The Catawba County Sheriff's Department said the helicopter crashed and broke in pieces in a wooded area on the edge of a small lake off Lake Norman. The engine and the pilot's and passenger's compartment fell into the lake.

The crash occurred in the Sheriff's Ford-Terrell area, off Highway 150, near the Lake Norman Music Hall, about eight miles southeast of Newton.

Residents of the area said they heard a low-flying aircraft apparently in trouble shortly before 11 p.m.

Decision-Making On Phase 4 At Container Corp. Hospital Today

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Nixon, feeling improved after a restful night, scheduled decision-making meetings today on his Phase 4 economic program with Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Nixon set up a morning appointment with Shultz, one of his principal economic advisers, and with White House counselors Melvin R. Laird and Bryce N. Harlow.

The White House said Phase 4 also would be the principal topic at a 4 p.m. Nixon-Agnew meeting. The President and vice president have not talked since Nixon entered the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital last Thursday.

"We're now going in to clear the lots, grade them and put a fence around the area," he said. Work on the Aycock Track, he reported, is not completed.

Other subjects on the agenda and results of discussion are:

—Sick leave policy: approval of one half day per month sick leave, which provides for five days a year for 10 month employees and six days annually for 12 month employees. In both, sick leave time is accumulative indefinitely.

—Noted that substitute teacher pay this year will be $20 per day, a $5 a day raise from the previous $15. This will also reflect an increased $5 daily deduction from the pay of a regular teacher for whom a substitute teacher is used.

—Noted that no new development has taken place in the election of a superintendent to replace Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood;

—Approved drawing up of a contract to purchase for $3,500 a lot at 110 Candlewood Drive to be used for the next Live Project for Rose High, one in which vocational students build a house for sale;

—Established the 19th of the month as pay day for teachers, and the last day of the month as pay day for 12 month employees;

—Tabled, until more information is available, the idea of leasing a small unused triangle of property that is part of the Aycock property;

—Received word that a Title III grant in the amount of $40,330 has been received for one of the continuing projects; and that $116,620 ESAA funds have been approved for work with children in elementary school in a remedial program.

Also, funds amounting to some $6,000 have been received under Public Law 874, which is a form of reimbursement for children of VOA personnel attending city schools, and $7,257 received as Part C, Title I funds.

Items to be taken up at the continued meeting to be held next Monday night include a decision on the PERT plan status for the proposed middle-junior high school, the kindergarten program, and other items for which action was not completed at last night's meeting.

Alaska Pipeline Debate Due Showdown In Senate

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today faced a showdown on whether to permit environmentalists to continue their lawsuit blocking construction of the proposed Alaskan oil pipeline.

The confrontation was over an amendment declaring the federal government has adequately reviewed the project and that it complies with the provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act.

Environmentalists, still smarting from a defeat last week on a move to delay construction of the pipeline for a year, have been lobbying intensively against the proposal.

Asked whether the measure would pass, Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, a co-sponsor, said, "We were fairly confident last week but now I'm not so sure."

Stevens credited lobbying by the Wilderness Society and Sierra Club with reducing from 57 to 42 the number of "solid votes" for passage.

Stevens said the amendment would permit Congress to substitute its judgment for that of the courts in deciding whether the federal government met its legal obligations in considering alternative pipeline routes for an environmental impact statement.

A suit filed by the Wilderness Society and other environmental organizations contends the government did not give sufficient consideration to an alternative pipeline route through the Mackenzie River valley of Canada.

The suit has delayed pipeline construction for more than three years.

In a speech on the Senate floor, another sponsor, Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, cited polls which he said indicated the great majority of Americans want construction of the pipeline to begin immediately, to help alleviate the energy crisis.

He also said safeguards had been established to protect the environment from oil spills.

Those opposed to the Alaska pipeline route fear widespread oil spills and damage to the fragile Arctic tundra and north west coast.

The pipeline is designed to run 788 miles from Prudhoe Bay on the North Slope to Valdez on southern coast.

From Valdez, the oil would be shipped by tanker to refineries.

Confirm Sale To Red China

OXFORD, N.C. (AP) — The W.A. Adams Co. has confirmed that it has sold 440,000 pounds of tobacco to communist China. The U.S. Department of Agriculture says this may be a breakthrough in tobacco trade with that country.

The department says it's the second such sale within 10 months. The first was believed to have been last September, but the amount has not been specified.

In earlier years, China was a major importer of U.S. leaf tobacco. But it gradually increased its own production, and now is second only to the United States in output.

Pinetops' Only Physician Dies

PINETOPS—Pinetops residents are mourning their only physician, killed Sunday with his brother and two friends when his single-engine plane crashed near here.

Dr. Albert William Hedgepeth, 52, had a heavy medical practice here and some real estates, according to Town Clerk Milton Carlton. He owned a private airstrip near here. A fly-in antique automobile and air show was in progress at Hedgepeth Airport when he and the other three men took off about 2:30 p.m., circling the airstrip once then going into a banked turn and disappearing from view.

People at the gathering said they heard the plane stall and then saw a column of smoke rising in the woods about two miles north of Pinetops. An investigation is underway.

Planning Bd. Readies Agenda

The Pitt County Planning Board will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the Law Library of the Pitt County Court House.

On the agenda for the regular session is a review of one proposed mobile home subdivision (the J. W. Tyson Mobile Home subdivision) an update on solid waste disposal in the county, and the scheduled formation of two committees—one to formulate an ordinance dealing with junk yards and one to formulate land use controls.

Three Escape Harnett Center

LILLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Three inmates escaped from the Harnett County Correctional Center early today, climbing a fence and driving off in a car parked nearby. It later was found abandoned near Lillington.

Officials identified the trio as Henry Ingraham, 21, and Donald Edwards, 26, both of Wadesboro; and Robert Kennedy, 21, of Carthage.

Killed with Dr. Hedgepeth were his brother, Harry P. Hedgepeth of South Hill, Va.; Brent Tarr, 28, of Piteops; and James T. Boyce, 23, of Woodland. Funerals for the brothers, whose mother, Mrs. W. R. Hedgepeth, lives in Warrenton, were scheduled with Harry Hedgepeth's Wednesday in South Hill and Dr. Hedgepeth's Thursday in Pinetops. Tarr left a widow and three young children; Boyce was single.

"This tragedy is really felt here," Carlton said. "Besides joining the families in their grief, this area is really in need of medical care. I guess some of the people will turn to Dr. Edwin Drew in Macesfield; some will go to the Tarboro Clinic, and some will go other places like Wilson and Rocky Mount and Greenville. But we need someone here. We're stunned right now, but I know an all-out effort will start soon to try to get another doctor to come here. It's an area of real need for someone to fill and nice town to live in, too."

Greenville now advances to the State Tournament in Hickory which begins this Friday. The locals will meet the District IV champs in a 12:30 p.m. game Friday. The double elimination tourney will continue through Tuesday.

Greenville came up with a six run rally in the third to send them on their way to the championship. They added five in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Dennis Cristiano was the winning pitcher. He went the whole game striking out six, walking three and giving up five hits.

Greenville had put men on in the first and second innings, but could not bring about a score. New Bern inched into the lead in the bottom of the second with a run. Carawan singled and wild pitched moved him around to third. Gennantonio singled to drive him in.

Greenville took over the lead for good in the next inning, however. Kelly Heath led off with a single and Robert Bellsheim followed with a hit. Both moved up on a single by Mike Belton and a hit by Macon Moye scored both Heath and Bellsheim. Mike Brewington bashed a double to score Belton and Moye for a 4-1 lead. Curtis Keys walked and both he and Brewington moved up as Eddie Connolly hit into a fielder's choice that left all hands safe. A wild pitch scored Brewington. Jimmy Averett walked and Heath hit into a fielder's choice that got Keys at home. Keith Jones walked to force in Connolly with the sixth run of the frame.

Lee and Brewington each singled for Greenville in the fourth but could not score. Greenville ran their lead out to 11-1 in the fifth getting five runs. David Dixon walked and was sacrificed to second. He moved to third on a hit by Jones and Moye doubled to drive in Dixon and Jones.

Brewington followed with his second double to the game scoring Moye and a wild pitch moved him to third. Lee walked and stole second. An error on the play let Brewington score and Lee went to third. Cristiano doubled to score Lee.

The final Greenville run came across in the sixth. Heath singled and stole second. A pair of wild pitches moved him around to score.

New Bern got its last score in the bottom of the sixth. Ross reached on an error and was wild pitched to second. A double by Hardison brought him in.

Brewington led the Greenville hitting with four in five trips to the plate. Heath, Jones and Moye each had two. Moye drove in four of the Greenville runs while Brewington brought in two.

Four Seasons Takes One Game Lead In Gold

Four Seasons dumped Dainty Maid last night, 15-5 to take a commanding lead in the City Softball League's Gold Division.

In other games, Parker's beat Balentines', 6-2, and Morgan Pringers edged Hallow's, 12-11, to round out play in the Gold division. In the Purple, Burger King rolled past the Jaycees in a make-up game, 14-5. Union Carbide squeaked past GUCo, 11-10. The Little Sluggers bashed the Jaycees in the Jaycees' second game, 20-4, and Proctor's outlasted Hardee's 3-2.

Four Seasons spotted Dainty Maid four in the first but rallied for seven in the second for enough to win. Moye and Brewer got hits and scored on a two-base error on Humphrey's hit. Childers got a hit and R. and C. Vincent each got walks, scoring Humphrey. A hit by Jordan scored Childers and R. Vincent and a hit by Moye drove in C. Vincent.

Dainty Maid got another in the fifth. Four Seasons added two in the fifth, and six in the sixth.

Parker's pushed over two fourth inning runs to tie their game 1-1 after Balentine's had scored a run in the first and fourth innings. Parker's then got four in the fifth to win the game. Garrett singled and Willie Wallace did likewise for Parker's. Wayne Avery doubled them both over and after Robert Nichols reached on a fielder's choice, Johnny Carraway tripled to drive in Avery and Nichols.

Tommy Meeks singled to score Carraway. Hallow's jumped out to a 3-0 lead against Morgan in the top of the first but Morgan got two in their half of the frame. Hallow's put up two more in the second and one in the third but four scored in the third for Morgan tied it at 6-6. Hallow's went back on top with three in the fourth only to see Morgan tie it up on the bottom of the inning. The lead went back to Hallow's as they got two in the fifth, one on a homer by Cox but Morgan pushed over a pair to knot the game at 10-10.

I. Arnold singled in the sixth for Morgan and after Jameson walked he scored the winning run on a hit by R. Cayton.

In the other division, four games were played. Burger King won the first over the Jaycees. They went ahead in the first with four runs and added five in the second for enough to win it. B. Smith had walked to open the inning and singles by C. Smith and Lange loaded the bases. House singled to score B. Smith and Brock reached on a fielder's choice scoring C. Smith. Tyson reached on a fielder's choice to score

Lange and both Brock and Tyson scored on an error on a hit by Shallow.

Burger King added two in the third, two in the fourth and one in the sixth. The Jaycees scored in the second and fifth.

Union Carbide inched in front of GUCo with two runs in the first and added four in the second. GUCo got two in the second and tied it at 6 all in the third. Union Carbide slipped back on top with three tallies in the fourth but GUCo got two in the sixth to pull within one, 9-8. They tied it in the seventh but the lead went back to Union Carbide in the eighth, 10-9. It was locked up again in the bottom of the eighth as GUCo could only score one run. Union Carbide bot a triple from T. Roach in the ninth and he scored on a sacrifice by M. Fowler. That was all Union Carbide needed as they held GUCo in the bottom of the ninth to win it.

The Little Sluggers pushed over five runs in the first inning to take the third game of the night over the Jaycees. Phil Page singled and Lindsey Hardee followed with a hit. Both moved up on an out and scored on a double by Ronnie Craft. Mike Parrell singled to score Craft and a triple by Lewis Hardee scored Parrell. Hardee scored on a hit by Cecil Butler. The Jaycees got two in the first but the Sluggers added five in the second, four in the third and six in the fourth. The Jaycees scored again in the third and fifth.

Proctors pulled off a close one with Hardee's as they came out a 3-2 winner. Proctor's took a 2-0 lead in the first but single runs in the second and fifth for Hardee's tied it at 2-2. Saunders tripled for Proctor's in the seventh and scored when Gaddis reached on an error with two out. Three fly-outs in the bottom of the inning by Hardee's gave the win to Proctors.

Absent Lilly Unexpected

By MIKE RUBIN

Associated Press Sports Writer THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — There wasn't much surprise when quarterback Craig Morton and center Dave Manders failed to show up at the Dallas Cowboys' football training camp, but the absence of All-Pro Bob Lilly came as somewhat of a shock.

In Dallas, his wife, Ann, said he told her the camp was "in a confused shambles, morale was low" and he was returning home from California "until training camp conditions improve."

The Cowboys wondered how he knew of camp conditions without ever arriving and club President Tex Schramm said the incident had him "confused" personally. But he denied any troubles were brewing.

"I don't think there's any confusion here," he said. "All things considered I think it's a fairly normal opening for us," Schramm said of the official beginning of the Cowboy preseason camp for veteran players. They were due in by Monday night.

Morton reported to camp last Friday then left, asking to renegotiate the year remaining on his three-year contract or be traded. Manders, in his ninth season, said he would retire if he did not get a better contract.

Meanwhile, controversial running back Duane Thomas was suspended by Coach Harland Svare after reporting 24 hours late to the San Diego Chargers training camp.

Thomas, whose fleet-footed maneuvers led Dallas to victory in the 1972 Super Bowl, was dealt to the Chargers last year but did not play.

"Nobody's wandering into my camp anytime they want," Svare said. "I just called him into my office and told him he was suspended. There was no conversation. I just suspended him. Now he's on his way back to Dallas."

John Riggins, the New York Jets' leading rusher last season, is embroiled in a contract dispute with the club and failed to report to camp. The third-year pro from Kansas reportedly is seeking $150,000 for the coming season and has said he won't appear in camp until the matter is settled.

Others missing from the Jets' camp at Hofstra University included Joe Namath, who checked in and then left with team permission, wide receiver Don Maynard and left tackle Bob Svihus. Maynard is clearing up personal business while Svihus has requested a trade to a West Coast trade for personal reasons.

Building . . .

(Continued From Page A-1) looks for a building in which "operations can begin tomorrow," and that often a community which has an existing building has a strong advantage in the competition for landing an industry.

The Greenville building, which will be served by Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, will be one of many single-tenant manufacturing facilities designed and built by Singleton for sale or lease. In all cases, the buildings have been speculative attempts by Singleton to attract industrial tenants. All have proved successful.

Parker was high in his praise of community development activities in Greenville. He said the cooperation of the Pitt County Development Commission contributed largely to the decision by Singleton to place its building here.

"We are always looking for a community with a good industrial relations program because it makes our job easier," he said. "In Greenville we found the kind of local leadership which can be of great assistance in assuring that we have top-notch industrial prospects for our property."

In addition to shell building, Singleton Associates is developing multi-tenant industrial centers in Charlotte, Raleigh, Columbia, S. C. and Greenville, S. C.

Two Die In Crash

NEWTON, N.C. (AP)—Two men were killed in the crash of an Army National Guard helicopter near Lake Norman late Monday night.

The bodies were recovered several hours later and officials identified one of the victims as Capt. Larry Rollins, 26, of Greensboro. Identification of the other victim was delayed pending notification of next of kin.

Officials said the men had attended a battery commanders meeting in Charlotte and were returning to Greensboro, where the helicopter was based.

Rollins was commander of a National Guard battery in Thomasville.

The Catawba County Sheriff's Department said the helicopter crashed and broke in pieces in a wooded area on the edge of a small lake off Lake Norman. The engine and the pilot's and passenger's compartment fell into the lake.

The crash occurred in the Sherill's Ford-Terrill area, off Highway 150, near the Lake Norman Music Hall, about eight miles southeast of Newton.

Residents of the area said they heard a low-flying aircraft apparently in trouble shortly before 11 p.m.

"We're now going in to clear the lots, grade them and put a fence around the area," he said. Work on the Aycock Track, he reported, is not completed.

Other subjects on the agenda and results of discussion are:

—Sick leave policy: approval of one half day per month sick leave, which provides for five days a year for 10 month employees and six days annually for 12 month employees. In both, sick leave time is accumulative indefinitely.

—Noted that substitute teacher pay this year will be $20 per day, a $5 a day raise from the previous $15. This will also reflect an increased $5 daily deduction from the pay of a regular teacher for whom a substitute teacher is used.

—Noted that no new development has taken place in the election of a superintendent to replace Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood;

—Approved drawing up of a contract to purchase for $3,500 a lot at 110 Candlewood Drive to be used for the next Live Project for Rose High, one in which vocational students build a house for sale;

—Established the 19th of the month as pay day for teachers, and the last day of the month as pay day for 12 month employees;

—Tabled, until more information is available, the idea of leasing a small unused triangle of property that is part of the Aycock property;

—Received word that a Title III grant in the amount of $40,330 has been received for one of the continuing projects; and that $116,620 ESAA funds have been approved for work with children in elementary school in a remedial program.

Also, funds amounting to some $6,000 have been received under Public Law 874, which is a form of reimbursement for children of VOA personnel attending city schools, and $7,257 received as Part C, Title I funds.

Items to be taken up at the continued meeting to be held next Monday night include a decision on the PERT plan status for the proposed middle-junior high school, the kindergarten program, and other items for which action was not completed at last night's meeting.

Alaska Pipeline Debate Due Showdown In Senate

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today faced a showdown on whether to permit environmentalists to continue their lawsuit blocking construction of the proposed Alaskan oil pipeline.

The confrontation was over an amendment declaring the federal government has adequately reviewed the project and that it complies with the provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act.

Environmentalists, still smarting from a defeat last week on a move to delay construction of the pipeline for a year, have been lobbying intensively against the proposal.

Asked whether the measure would pass, Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, a co-sponsor, said, "We were fairly confident last week but now I'm not so sure."

Stevens credited lobbying by the Wilderness Society and Sierra Club with reducing from 57 to 42 the number of "solid votes" for passage.

Stevens said the amendment would permit Congress to substitute its judgment for that of the courts in deciding whether the federal government met its legal obligations in considering alternative pipeline routes for an environmental impact statement.

A suit filed by the Wilderness Society and other environmental organizations contends the government did not give sufficient consideration to an alternative pipeline route through the Mackenzie River valley of Canada.

The suit has delayed pipeline construction for more than three years.

In a speech on the Senate floor, another sponsor, Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, cited polls which he said indicated the great majority of Americans want construction of the pipeline to begin immediately, to help alleviate the energy crisis.

He also said safeguards had been established to protect the environment from oil spills.

Those opposed to the Alaska pipeline route fear widespread oil spills and damage to the fragile Arctic tundra and north west coast.

The pipeline is designed to run 788 miles from Prudhoe Bay on the North Slope to Valdez on southern coast.

From Valdez, the oil would be shipped by tanker to refineries.

Confirm Sale To Red China

OXFORD, N.C. (AP)—The W.A. Adams Co. has confirmed that it has sold 440,000 pounds of tobacco to communist China. The U.S. Department of Agriculture says this may be a breakthrough in tobacco trade with that country.

The department says it's the second such sale within 10 months. The first was believed to have been last September, but the amount has not been specified.

In earlier years, China was a major importer of U.S. leaf tobacco. But it gradually increased its own production, and now is second only to the United States in output.

Pinetops' Only Physician Dies

PINETOPS—Pinetops residents are mourning their only physician, killed Sunday with his brother and two friends when his single-engine plane crashed near here.

Dr. Albert William Hedgepeth, 52, had a heavy medical practice here and some real estates, according to Town Clerk Milton Carlton. He owned a private airstrip near here. A fly-in antique automobile and air show was in progress at Hedgepeth Airport when he and the other three men took off at 2:30 p.m., circling the airstrip once then going into a banked turn and disappearing from view.

People at the gathering said they heard the plane stall and then saw a column of smoke rising in the woods about two miles north of Pinetops. An investigation is underway.

Planning Bd. Readies Agenda

The Pitt County Planning Board will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the Law Library of the Pitt County Court House.

On the agenda for the regular session is a review of one proposed mobile home subdivision (the J. W. Tyson Mobile Home subdivision) an update on solid waste disposal in the county, and the scheduled formation of two committees—one to formulate an ordinance dealing with junk yards and one to formulate land use controls.

Three Escape Harnett Center

LILLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Three inmates escaped from the Harnett County Correctional Center early today, climbing a fence and driving off in a car parked nearby. It later was found abandoned near Lillington.

Officials identified the trio as Henry Ingrahm, 21, and Donald Edwards, 26, both of Wadesboro; and Robert Kennedy, 21, of Carthage.

Killed with Dr. Hedgepeth were his brother, Harry P. Hedgepeth of South Hill, Va.; Brent Tarr, 28, of Pinetops; and James T. Boyce, 23, of Woodland. Funerals for the brothers, whose mother, Mrs. W. R. Hedgepeth, lives in Warrenton, were scheduled with Harry Hedgepeth's Wednesday in South Hill and Dr. Hedgepeth's Thursday in Pinetops. Tarr left a widow and three young children; Boyce was single.

"This tragedy is really felt here," Carlton said. "Besides joining the families in their grief, this area is really in need of medical care. I guess some of the people will turn to Dr. Edwin Drew in Macesfield; some will go to the Tarboro Clinic, and some will go other places like Wilson and Rocky Mount and Greenville. But we need someone here. We're stunned right now, but I know an all-out effort will start soon to try to get another doctor to come here. It's an area of real need for someone to fill and nice town to live in, too."

'Lady Bird' Is Guest Of Shah

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Lady Bird Johnson and her daughter Lynda Bird Robb arrived in Tehran today as guests of the Shah.

Mrs. Johnson, the widow of President Lyndon B. Johnson, was welcomed at the airport by court officials, U.S. Ambassador Richard Helms and members of the embassy staff.

Stars Beat New Bern For Championship

LITTLEFIELD — Greenville won the District VII tournament Monday as they bombed New Bern, 12-2.

Greenville now advances to the State Tournament in Hickory which begins this Friday. The locals will meet the District IV champs in a 12:30 p.m. game Friday. The double elimination tourney will continue through Tuesday.

Greenville came up with a six run rally in the third to send them on their way to the championship. They added five in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Dennis Cristiano was the winning pitcher. He went the whole game striking out six, walking three and giving up five hits.

Greenville had put men on in the first and second innings, but could not bring about a score. New Bern inched into the lead in the bottom of the second with a run. Carawan singled and wild pitched moved him around to third. Gennantonio singled to drive him in.

Greenville took over the lead for good in the next inning, however. Kelly Heath led off with a single and Robert Bellsheim followed with a hit. Both moved up on a single by Mike Belton and a hit by Macon Moye scored both Heath and Bellsheim. Mike Brewington bashed a double to score Belton and Moye for a 4-1 lead.

Curtis Keys walked and both he and Brewington moved up as Eddie Connolly hit into a fielder's choice that left all hands safe. A wild pitch scored Brewington. Jimmy Averett walked and Heath hit into a fielder's choice that got Keys at home. Keith Jones walked to force in Connolly with the sixth run of the frame.

Lee and Brewington each singled for Greenville in the fourth but could not score. Greenville ran their lead out to 11-1 in the fifth getting five runs. David Dixon walked and was sacrificed to second. He moved to third on a hit by Jones and Moye doubled to drive in Dixon and Jones.

Brewington followed with his second double to the game scoring Moye and a wild pitch moved him to third. Lee walked and stole second. An error on the play let Brewington score and Lee went to third. Cristiano doubled to score Lee.

The final Greenville run came across in the sixth. Heath singled and stole second. A pair of wild pitches moved him around to score.

New Bern got its last score in the bottom of the sixth. Ross reached on an error and was wild pitched to second. A double by Hardison brought him in.

Brewington led the Greenville hitting with four in five trips to the plate. Heath, Jones and Moye each had two. Moye drove in four of the Greenville runs while Brewington brought in two.

Four Seasons Takes One Game Lead In Gold

Four Seasons dumped Dainty Maid last night, 15-5 to take a commanding lead in the City Softball League's Gold Division.

In other games, Parker's beat Balentines', 6-2, and Morgan Pringers edged Hallow's, 12-11, to round out play in the Gold division. In the Purple, Burger King rolled past the Jaycees in a make-up game, 14-5. Union Carbide squeaked past GUCo, 11-10. The Little Sluggers bashed the Jaycees in the Jaycees' second game, 20-4, and Proctor's outlasted Hardee's 3-2.

Four Seasons spotted Dainty Maid four in the first but rallied for seven in the second for enough to win. Moye and Brewer got hits and scored on a two-base error on Humphrey's hit. Childers got a hit and R. and C. Vincent each got walks, scoring Humphrey. A hit by Jordan scored Childers and R. Vincent and a hit by Moye drove in C. Vincent.

Dainty Maid got another in the fifth. Four Seasons added two in the fifth, and six in the sixth.

Parker's pushed over two fourth inning runs to tie their game 1-1 after Balentine's had scored a run in the first and fourth innings. Parker's then got four in the fifth to win the game.

Garrett singled and Willie Wallace did likewise for Parker's. Wayne Avery doubled them both over and after Robert Nichols reached on a fielder's choice, Johnny Carraway tripled to drive in Avery and Nichols. Tommy Meeks singled to score Carraway.

Hallow's jumped out to a 3-0 lead against Morgan in the top of the first but Morgan got two in their half of the frame. Hallow's put up two more in the second and one in the third but four scored in the third for Morgan tied it at 6-6. Hallow's went back on top with three in the fourth only to see Morgan tie it up on the bottom of the inning. The lead went back to Hallow's as they got two in the fifth, one on a homer by Cox but Morgan pushed over a pair to knot the game at 10-10.

I. Arnold singled in the sixth for Morgan and after Jameson walked he scored the winning run on a hit by R. Cayton.

In the other division, four games were played. Burger King won the first over the Jaycees. They went ahead in the first with four runs and added five in the second for enough to win it. B. Smith had walked to open the inning and singles by C. Smith and Lange loaded the bases. House singled to score B. Smith and Brock reached on a fielder's choice scoring C. Smith. Tyson reached on a fielder's choice to score

Lange and both Brock and Tyson scored on an error on a hit by Shallow.

Burger King added two in the third, two in the fourth and one in the sixth. The Jaycees scored in the second and fifth.

Union Carbide inched in front of GUCo with two runs in the first and added four in the second. GUCo got two in the second and tied it at 6 all in the third. Union Carbide slipped back on top with three tallies in the fourth but GUCo got two in the fourth to pull within one, 9-8. They tied it in the seventh but the lead went back to Union Carbide in the eighth, 10-9. It was locked up again in the bottom of the eighth as GUCo could only score one run. Union Carbide bot a triple from T. Roach in the ninth and he scored on a sacrifice by M. Fowler. That was all Union Carbide needed as they held GUCo in the bottom of the ninth to win it.

The Little Sluggers pushed over five runs in the first inning to take the third game of the night over the Jaycees. Phil Page singled and Lindsey Hardee followed with a hit. Both moved up on an out and scored on a double by Ronnie Craft. Mike Parrell singled to score Craft and a triple by Lewis Hardee scored Parrell. Hardee scored on a hit by Cecil Butler. The Jaycees got two in the first but the Sluggers added five in the second, four in the third and six in the fourth. The Jaycees scored again in the third and fifth.

Proctors pulled off a close one with Hardee's as they came out a 3-2 winner. Proctor's took a 2-0 lead in the first but single runs in the second and fifth for Hardee's tied it at 2-2. Saunders tripled for Proctor's in the seventh and scored when Gaddis reached on an error with two out. Three fly-outs in the bottom of the inning by Hardee's gave the win to Proctors.

Absent Lilly Unexpected

By MIKE RUBIN

Associated Press Sports Writer THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — There wasn't much surprise when quarterback Craig Morton and center Dave Manders failed to show up at the Dallas Cowboys' football training camp, but the absence of All-Pro Bob Lilly came as somewhat of a shock.

In Dallas, his wife, Ann, said he told her the camp was "in a confused shambles, morale was low" and he was returning home from California "until training camp conditions improve."

The Cowboys wondered how he knew of camp conditions without ever arriving and club President Tex Schramm said the incident had him "confused" personally. But he denied any troubles were brewing.

"I don't think there's any confusion here," he said. "All things considered I think it's a fairly normal opening for us." Schramm said of the official beginning of the Cowboy preseason camp for veteran players. They were due in by Monday night.

Morton reported to camp last Friday then left, asking to renegotiate the year remaining on his three-year contract or be traded. Manders, in his ninth season, said he would retire if he did not get a better contract.

Meanwhile, controversial running back Duane Thomas was suspended by Coach Harland Svare after reporting 24 hours late to the San Diego Chargers training camp.

Thomas, whose fleet-footed maneuvers led Dallas to victory in the 1972 Super Bowl, was dealt to the Chargers last year but did not play.

"Nobody's wandering into my camp anytime they want," Svare said. "I just called him into my office and told him he was suspended. There was no conversation. I just suspended him. Now he's on his way back to Dallas."

John Riggins, the New York Jets' leading rusher last season, is embroiled in a contract dispute with the club and failed to report to camp. The third-year pro from Kansas reportedly is seeking $150,000 for the coming season and has said he won't appear in camp until the matter is settled.

Others missing from the Jets' camp at Hofstra University included Joe Namath, who checked in and then left with team permission, wide receiver Don Maynard and left tackle Bob Svihus. Maynard is clearing up personal business while Svihus has requested a trade to a West Coast trade for personal reasons.

'Team Spirit' Carries Dodgers

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"I don't want it, you can have it" is the kind of play on the field that causes some baseball teams to lose games.

But the Los Angeles Dodgers are playing that kind of game in the clubhouse—and maybe that's one reason why they're winning. The Dodgers raised the "team spirit" bit to its ultimate Monday night following their sixth straight victory, a 1-0 squeaker over the Pittsburgh Pirates on the strength of Don Sutton's six-hitter and Willie Crawford's second-inning home run off Nelson Briles.

The triumph kept Los Angeles 7½ games ahead of the runner-up Cincinnati Reds in the National League West. "Sutton's your man," said Crawford. "He made it stand up."

But Sutton wasn't interested in accepting the praise. Instead, he shuttled it along to his batterymate, Joe Ferguson. "People underestimate the job that the catcher does," said Sutton, "12-5, who struck out nine Pirates without walking any of them to chalk up his third shutout this year.

In the rest of the National League games, the Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies 1-0, the St. Louis Cardinals tripped the San Francisco Giants 3-2, the Atlanta Braves downed the New York Mets 8-6 and the Houston Astros topped the Montreal Expos 6-5 in 10 innings. The Chicago Cubs and San Diego Padres were idle.

Reds 1, Phillies 0
Pete Rose, Bill Plummer and Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt gave Cincinnati's Fred Norman the only run he needed to beat the Phils in a six-hitter—his third shutout this season. In the sixth inning, Plummer led off with a double. Norman bunted, pitcher Ken Brett picked up the ball and threw it to third ahead of Plummer—but Schmidt dropped it. Then Rose doubled for the game's only run.

Cards 3, Giants 2
Joe Torre hadn't been able to do a thing against Jim Barr's pitching—until Monday night. Then the captain of the Cardinals clouted his eighth homer of the season in the fourth inning and singled for the game-winning run against the Giants in the eighth.

The hard-won victory was Bob Gibson's 234th of his career, tying him with San Francisco's Juan Marichal as the winningest active pitcher in the majors.

Braves 8, Mets 6
Aggressiveness was the key to Atlanta's victory, too. "Being more aggressive is the key to my recent success, I guess you might say," commented Dusty Baker, whose two-run double in the midst of a five-run seventh inning put the Braves ahead of the Mets for good.

Astros 6, Expos 5
Ken Singleton hit a three-run homer in the ninth inning to pull Montreal into a 5-5 tie. But in the bottom of the 10th, with nobody out, Houston loaded the bases against Tom Walker. The Expos, trying desperately to cut down the winning run, employed their five-man infield. But Tommy Helms got the ball past the army, hitting a sacrifice fly to left for the game-winning run.

On the abbreviated American League schedule, it was Kansas City 10, Detroit 2; Boston 9, Chicago 8 in 11 innings; Cleveland 9, California 8, and Baltimore 7, Oakland 5.

Smith, Schall Pace Bosox Win

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the time of year when most folks are looking forward to vacations, but Boston's Reggie Smith and Kansas City's Paul Schaal were happy to get back to work Monday night.

Smith, who called in sick the last 10 days with a knee injury, drilled a two-run homer in the first inning and a two-out solo shot in the 11th, powering the streaking Red Sox to a 9-8 victory over the Chicago White Sox that pulled them within two percentage points of idle New York in the American League's East Division.

Schaal, idled for a week with a bruised wrist, walloped a two-run homer and a single in the Royals' 10-2 rout of the Detroit Tigers.

In the only other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles shaded the Oakland A's 7-5 and the Cleveland Indians edged the California Angels 9-8. Smith's 11th-inning homer off Cy Acosta gave the Red Sox their third straight victory and 12th in the last 15 games. A two-run homer by Chicago's Ed Herrmann in the ninth inning tied the game. Tommy Harper also homered for Boston, John Jeter and Ken Henderson for the White Sox.

Schaal's homer against Detroit was a two-run blast in the second inning off Mike Strahler. Amos Otis, who had never before hit more than 15 home runs in his professional career, belted his 17th, a solo shot in the third, and singled home two runs in the eighth.

The only time the Tigers growled against Dick Drago was in the sixth when Norm Cash hit a two-run homer.

Orioles 7, A's 5
A three-run homer by Brooks Robinson following a two-out error by shortstop Bert Campaneris in the seventh inning lifted the Orioles past the A's before a season high crowd of 43,571 in Oakland.

Robinson's homer came off Horacio Pina, who took over for Catfish Hunter in the sixth after Al Bumbry's homer cut Oakland's lead to 5-4.

Indians 9, Angels 8
John Ellis drove in four Cleveland runs, two of them with a homer, and the Indians, aided by California's porous defense, beat the Angels. Loser Bill Singer, 14-5, surrendered 10 hits in 6 1-3 innings but three of the six runs against him were unearned as a result of four of the Angels' five errors, two by shortstop Rudy Meoli.

National League scores: St. Louis 3, San Francisco 2; Los Angeles 1, Pittsburgh 0; Cincinnati 1, Philadelphia 0; Houston 6, Montreal 5 in 10 innings; Atlanta 8, New York 6.

Bench, Allen Lead All-Star Balloting

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds cranked up the Big Red voting machine and placed three players—catcher Johnny Bench, outfielder Pete Rose and second baseman Joe Morgan—on the starting National League All-Star team announced today.

The National League stars will meet the American League in the 44th mid-summer classic July 24 in Kansas City's new Royals Stadium.

Bench, leading the league in runs batted in, garnered 1,738,557 votes as the most popular player in either league.

Morgan, leading the league in stolen bases, amassed twice as many votes as his nearest challenger—Pittsburgh's Dave Cash—while Rose, among the top 10 hitters in the league was top vote-getter in the outfield. He'll start for the third time. Along with Rose in the outfield will be Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs and Cesar Ceno of the Houston Astros. Ceno nailed down the last starting outfield job by slipping in ahead of San Francisco's Bobby Bonds, 860,575—855,344.

First baseman Hank Aaron of Atlanta, moving in on Babe Ruth's career home run record, received 1,362,447 of the 4,011,237 votes cast overall, second only to Bench. It will be Aaron's 15th time as a starter and his ninth in succession.

Chicago's Ron Santo, with 808,720, topped Joe Torre of St. Louis by almost 100,000 votes and will be making his fourth starting appearance at third. Shortstop Chris Speier of the Giants, who received 930,353 to 537,608 for runner-up Dave Concepcion, is in his first starting role.

Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh finished far back of Aaron at first with 608,424, Dave Cash of Pittsburgh had 450,618 compared to Morgan 886,769 and Manny Sanguillen of the Pirates finished far behind Bench behind the plate with 412,881.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Allen is the big man in the voting for the American League team for baseball's 1973 All-Star Game, but he might not get a chance to show the talent that earned him the honor.

Allen, who received 1,111,366 votes to lead the balloting for the AL team announced Monday, has a hairline fracture of the left leg suffered in a recent collision with Mike Epstein of California.

If the Chicago White Sox star can't play, he will be replaced by John Mayberry of Kansas City in the starting lineup for the game in Kansas City July 24. Mayberry was second in the voting for first basemen with 798,111.

The other members of the starting infield will be Rod Carew, Minnesota, second base, 947,923 votes; Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, third base, 826,621; Bert Campaneris, shortstop, 747,472; Carlton Fisk, Boston, catcher, 1,060,885.

The outfielders will be Reggie Jackson, Oakland, 987,018; Bobby Murcer, New York, 924,248; Amos Otis, Kansas City, 806,899.

The closest race for a starting position was at second base, where Carew had slightly more than 4,000 votes over Cookie Rojas of Kansas City, who got 943,729 votes.

First-time starters will be Fisk, Otis and Campaneris.

Robinson will be starting at third base for the ninth time and will be appearing in his 14th All-Star Game.

Dick Williams of Oakland, the AL manager, will announce pitchers and reserves later this week.

Smith Is Next To Go In Colt Shake-Up

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Bubba Smith, another of the endangered species of old guard Baltimore Colts, has been dealt off by Joe Thomas, the team's wheeler-dealer general manager.

In trading the huge defensive end to the Oakland Raiders Monday night for tight end Raymond Chester, Thomas fulfilled a wish expressed by Smith when the Colts' housecleaning began at the end of the 1972 season.

Since taking over on July 13,

1972, when Robert Irsay became owner of Baltimore's National Football League franchise, Thomas virtually has wiped out the squad which won the 1971 Super Bowl.

Tight end John Mackey and guard John Williams departed early in the Thomas' regime, following contract disputes. Then, after the Colts posted a 5-9 record for their first losing season since 1956, the overhaul began in earnest.

Quarterback Johnny Unitas, a Colts' legend with 17 years in Baltimore, was ordered benched by Thomas when Don McCafferty was fired as head coach after the fifth game and then he was traded after the season.

Unitas was the big name, but only one of many to go. Also going through the Thomas revolving door were running backs Tom Matte, Norm Bulaich and Tom Nowatzke, center Bill Curry, guard Danny Sullivan, defensive linemen Billy Newsome and Fred Miller, and safety Jerry Logan.

Smith, upset when interim coach John Sandusky also was fired and unhappy with his treatment while sitting out the season with a knee injury, asked to be traded.

Smith, Thomas and Baltimore's new head coach, Howard Schnellenberger, all expressed pleasure over the deal with Oakland.

"I'm happy to get away," Smith said.

Schnellenberger admitted the Colts were "speculating to a large degree" that young players will be able to bolster Baltimore's depleted defensive line.

Gone are three starters of recent years in Smith, Newsome and Miller.

"Chester can be used as a tight end or at wide receiver," Schnellenberger said, "and he's a good blocker. He's going to improve our offense."

Chester, who has played in the Pro Bowl in each of the past two seasons, has caught 104 passes for 1,570 yards and 22 touchdowns during his three NFL seasons.

St. James Beaten

First Christian took an 8-6 make-up game win over St. James last night in the American Division of the church Softball League.

St. James had taken a 2-0 lead in the first but Christian pushed over four in the third to take the lead. They added three in the sixth, including a home run by Dave Kayler and added another run in the seventh. St. James got four in a rally in the bottom of the seventh as B. Marshbunt bashed a grand slam homer but the rally died after that giving Christian the win.

No Loyalties

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "I've got no loyalties," the pitcher said, just a few minutes after he'd thrown a fastball that New York Yankees' star Bobby Murcer had smashed deep into the right field seats.

A few days earlier, the same pitcher had wound up and watched one of his deliveries sail off the bat of New York Mets' star Rusty Staub and disappear over the fence.

Getting belted around like that doesn't bother Vito Valentinetti. He's supposed to get shellacked.

He's a batting practice pitcher, one of those guys whose job it is to loosen up the players, to keep their hitting eyes finely tuned.

"Sometimes I serve a watermelon up, but that's only when the team is going to be facing a knuckleballer or a 'junk' pitcher," says Valentinetti, a 44-year-old former major leaguer who now carries 240 pounds on his 6-foot frame.

"Most of the time, though, I throw fastballs, and I try to put something in. I mean, if you throw watermelons up there, hell, anybody can hit it. The idea is to get the guys' timing down. If I throw a lot of slow junk up there, then they get a fastballer in the game, they'll be swinging way behind the ball."

"Once in a while, some player will ask for a curve or a slider 'cause he's having trouble with that pitch. Mine doesn't break that much, but it gets the job done."

Once in a while, too, his old major league instincts surface.

"If a guy's been belting me pretty good, I'll try to strike him out," he says, a grin creasing his mustachioed face. "I mean, if he's hit me hard on three or four pitches in a row, I'll play around with him."

The bidding:

Opening lead: Queen of ♥

The finesse is a strange creature. Generally, when you take one, you hope it will win. There are times, though, when you wish it to lose—for example, when you have bid to game and slam depends only on a finesse. And there are those times when you don't much care whether it wins or loses because the motive for finessing had nothing to do with winning that particular trick.

With an opening bid facing an opening bid, North made the textbook response of a jump raise of his partner's one spade opening. South had nothing in reserve and was quite content to settle for the major suit game. West led the queen of hearts, and dummy was a pleasing sight. The club suit would produce more than enough discards to take care of declarer's losers. However, the diamond suit was a weakness that, given the opportunity, the defenders might be able to exploit.

If East could be kept off lead, the king of diamonds was safe from attack. Since the only obvious losers were one diamond and one heart, declarer could afford to lose a trump. Therefore, he built a campaign around keeping East off play.

The first step in his plan was to allow West's queen to win the first trick. Declarer won the heart continuation with the ace and entered dummy with a low spade to the ace. The trump jack was led and, when East played low, declarer allowed it to run.

This was a finesse that declarer did not care whether it won or lost. If West had the queen, he could win that and the defenders could take the diamond ace for their book, but the remainder of the tricks would belong to declarer. When West failed to follow suit in trumps, declarer was able to pick up East's queen for an over-trick.

After all, good technique should be rewarded!

The 'Worry Clinic' Taste In Food Is Developed

Heed Hardy's butcher dilemma food psychology! Remember, our food likes are dependent chiefly on our early childhood training. Dog meat nauseates Americans, though is a delicacy in the Philippines. But over there, they retch at eating rabbits!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.
CASE X-561: Hardy G., aged 32, is a successful butcher. "Dr. Crane," he began, "our wiener business is threatened by psychology!"

"For the United States Department of Agriculture has been under a lot of public pressure. 'By-products have not been allowed in all-meat hot dogs. 'But they have been permitted, along with cereals and dried milk, in the plain type of wieners.

"Some faddists are now trying to prevent the use of animal by-products, such as lips, snouts and spleens. 'But isn't it chiefly psychology that determines whether a food is appetizing or otherwise?"

Meat "Feeling Tone" Yes; what advertisers call "feeling tone" is a matter of habit. Americans usually abhor the idea of eating dogs. But they have long been a delicacy in the Philippine Islands.

One of my sisters was married to a Methodist clergyman who was stationed over there. And whenever they saw a native sauntering out of the village, with a few dogs following him, they realized a family feast on dog meat was soon to occur up in the hills.

But the Philippine people were horrified at our dining on rabbits. "We'd rather eat rats," they exclaimed, in horror. Many native people in lands not as lush as the U.S.A. also dine on ants and worms.

When my wife first encountered shrimp at a fancy New York night club, she was nauseated by them. For they reminded her of the fat white grub worms she and her father had used as fish bait back in the Midwest.

On Page 551, of my college textbook "Psychology Applied," I mention that a fly in the soup will often nauseate an adult, though it has little adverse effect on a child. Why?

Because adults associate flies with filth and germs! 'On Page 552, I list these 5 meats and ask the college

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Most everyone has some sort of a chip on his shoulder today and tonight, so you would be wise not to allow yourself to feel you are being imposed upon. Such an attitude now would alienate others from you and put you in such a frame of mind that you would be unable to rightly do the work expected of you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you handle those problems in a most objective manner, you can take care of them properly. Show you have compassion for those who are having troubles. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Instead of feeling so sorry for yourself, get busy and help those who are far worse off. Avoid that social affair that could bring trouble of some sort. Be more willing to listen to others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Instead of trying to criticize a higher-up, back him and you get along much better. Think carefully before you get into that worldly matter. Make sure you take care of correspondence.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have fine ideas but don't be disappointed if they don't work out immediately, since they may take a while. Get the data you need for new projects and you can also gain the support of bigwigs.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have responsibilities that are difficult, but don't think others are less burdened. Keep busy and all is fine. Your idea concerning a loved one is all wrong, so put it out of your mind. Avoid one who is tricky.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You feel that long talks with a partner can clear up some annoying situation, but get right to the issues and all is well. Make sure you keep promises you have made. Improve conditions around you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take care you do not feel sorry for yourself simply because the aspects are gloomy; they are for others, also. Listen some to music you enjoy, read, watch TV, or do anything that will take you out of the doldrums.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) There are pleasant conditions you can get into, so stop looking on the dark side. Give thanks for what you have and do those things that make

Bald Facts On Hair Transplant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — From Georgetown University — the bald facts about hair transplants: "Since 1954, when the first hair transplant was done, more and more cosmetic-minded Americans have been submitting to the procedure."
Some of those first transplants—19 years ago—are still growing, says Dr. Peter N. Horvath. He is a dermatologist. He does hair transplants.

Private Holshouser Fund REFLECTOR CLASSIFIED Plan To Await IRS Okay

RALEIGH (AP) — Plans for setting up a privately financed fund for Gov. Jim Holshouser will be presented to the Internal Revenue Service to see if they meet the approval of tax officials.

Gubernatorial aide Gene Anderson said this Monday as he outlined plans for the new fund. "We had a lawyer draw up the plan with a blank title,"

Anderson said in an interview. "We're setting up the format to run by the Internal Revenue Service and get their prior approval."

Any money raised for the fund, Anderson said, will be used to finance Holshouser's "obvious political trips," to pay for monthly political polls and to help political candidates. Terming it a "campaign fund," Anderson said: "It's our hope to be able to help out candidates, everything from legislative to the U.S. Senate. It's to continue our public opinion polls which are used by those candidates."

He added, "It's to pay for obvious political type trips by the governor, like when he would go for a campaign appearance or out of state for a political appearance. And that taxpayers shouldn't be asked to pay for anything like that."

Anderson said the concept for a special fund had been used in other states.

"Most governors have this sort of thing," he explained. "They just aren't as honest about it."

Some former governors, including Democrat Bob Scott, have admitted the $45,000 allocated each year to the governor's office for official travel is not enough.

After leaving office, Scott said some of his expenses for the state were charged to other agencies, usually within the Department of Administration.

Anderson, asked if any special precautions would be taken to prevent undue influence by contributors, said: "No more than we did in the campaign and right after the campaign. We're not taking more than $1,000 from any one, and we'll take $5 when we get it. At best, $1,000 is no more than good will."

Anderson's own agency, RDU Associates Inc., conducts the political polls that would be financed by the Holshouser Fund. The agency has been making the polls since last year when Holshouser was a candidate.

"There's no profit at all," said Anderson. "The cost varies from $700 to $900 a month, for two people, an office, two phone lines and a lot of long distance calls."

Although the Republican party raises money to help its candidates, Anderson said the Holshouser fund "has been viewed as being in addition to whatever the party does."

Party Chairman Frank Rouse commented, "We'll cooperate with the governor in any way he asks us to."

U.S. Questions Hanoi Intentions On Helping

By TAD BARTIMUS Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — The United States asked today whether North Vietnam intends to help it learn the fate of 1,300 Americans missing in the Indochina war and to help it recover the remains of those who died in captivity.

The North Vietnamese delegation to the joint military team investigating the missing failed to attend a meeting of the team today, and the U.S. delegation said this raised "serious questions about the intent of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam delegation to support the work of the four-party joint military team."

A North Vietnamese spokesman said the delegation did not attend because of "private inconvenience."

"I cannot at this time explain why it was privately inconvenient. You will learn about it later," the spokesman said.

Former Local Man Fills Allstate Post

The election of Allstate Insurance Co. vice president W. B. Williams of Lake Forest, Ill., a former Greenville resident, to fill the post of vice president and controller, was announced by Archie R. Boe, chairman.

Williams, who is located in the company's Northbrook, Ill. home office served as vice president-corporate and financial control. Prior to assuming that position, he was vice president in charge of Allstate's Judson Branch Research Center in Menlo Park, Calif.

The vice president, son of Mrs. E. C. Williams, formerly of Greenville, and the late Mr. Williams, joined Allstate in 1954 in the home office controller's department and held subsequent assignments as controller of the Seattle, Wash. regional office, long range planning manager in the home office corporate planning department, and finance operations director in the home office financial services department.

He is a 1948 graduate of Greenville High School and a 1952 graduate of East Carolina University.

Flights between Saigon and Hanoi to continue these negotiations have been cancelled for the past five weeks because of North Vietnam's refusal to sign a safety certificate stating none of its representatives are carrying dangerous cargo.

Pupil Lottery

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A lottery is scheduled Friday to select white pupils who will be reassigned this fall to formerly all-black West Charlotte High School.

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg school board will draw 600 pupils from six southeastern high schools in the city to attend West Charlotte.

The action follows an order by U.S. District Judge James McMillan recently ordering the school board to take immediate steps to desegregate West Charlotte this fall.

The Emerson Electric Co. announced Monday it has been awarded a contract of $17.9 million to build such conveyers in seven cities.

Conveyer Will Handle Mail

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A conveyer system about five miles long for handling bulk mail is to be installed in the Post Office at Greensboro, N.C.

The Emerson Electric Co. announced Monday it has been awarded a contract of $17.9 million to build such conveyers in seven cities.

They are to be completed in 1974 and will be installed in Seattle, Detroit, San Francisco, Denver, Des Moines, Cincinnati and Greensboro.

Say Octane Is Lowered

RALEIGH (AP)—A state official says many gasoline stations in North Carolina apparently are selling lower octane gas but have not lowered the octane rating advertised on the pump or the price.

This is in violation of the state's octane regulations, according to John I. Moore, director of the State Agriculture Department's Weights and Measures-Gas and Oil Division.

Moore said in a telephone interview Monday that companies are required to register and guarantee gasoline quality specifications, including octane ratings.

A spokesman for the U.S. Cost of Living said, "The substitution of a lower octane for a higher octane without a proportion price decrease is a price increase and is in violation of the freeze rules."

Moore declined to give the names of the companies which had lowered their octane ratings with the state and the service stations found selling lower octane gas than advertised.

Set Bake Sales For Saturday

Bake sales for the benefit of the Operation Sunshine Girls' Activities Program will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at both White's Department Store and Overton's Grocery Store.

The sales will last until the baked goods, donated by individuals and organizations, are sold out. Proceeds will be used for providing trips and other stimulating activities for the Operation Sunshine girls.

Tennessee was the site of more than 700 Civil War battles and skirmishes.

Festival Of Choirs Set

The Voices of Zion of York Memorial A.M.E. Zion Church have announced their first annual Choir Festival of 1,000 Voices July 29 at 3 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

The program will last until the last registered choir has sung and lifted an offering.

According to Mrs. Esther G. Stator, president of The Voices, this festival is part of a monthly series of programs for the church building fund. While invitation are being mailed, any choir may participate.

The Voices will introduce two of their latest arrangements by arranger-director Johnny Wooten, "Showers of Blessings" and "There Is A Fountain." They will be robed in their new vestments designed by Mrs. Jean Dawson.

Featuring spiritual and gospel singing, the concert will be open to the public.

Drop Revising Forest Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has announced abandonment of a plan to reorganize the Forest Service under which the experiment station headquarters at Asheville, N.C., would have been closed.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz announced Monday that the decision to retain the present alignment of offices and regions resulted in part from congressional hearings last month.

He also said that the new Department of Energy and Natural Resources proposed by President Nixon last month would include the Forest Service, which now is under the Department of Agriculture.

Summer Heat, Humidity Reflected In Utility Bills

This summer is no exception to the general rule that high temperatures plus high humidity equal high utility bills, according to Charles O'H. Horne Jr., director of Greenville Utilities.

10 to July 10, our high temperatures averaged around 90 degrees. On at least 24 days during this period, the temperature exceeded 87 degrees, and we recorded a total of 5.47 inches of rainfall which means high humidity."

He continued, "The combination of high temperature and high humidity create high air conditioning loads. These are two of the factors that help add up to high utility bills."

The director pointed out that, "In a typical meter reader's route in the eastern section of the city, covering residential customers, the average electric consumption was up 30 to 40 per cent over the previous 30-day period. Electric energy consumption through the Greenville Utilities total system was up 20 per cent in June over May," he said.

and bad weather. A reading period of 33 days would represent a ten per cent increase in the billing period, and probably cause approximately the same increase in the amount of the bill."

Horne explained that "higher consumption and summer electric rates together made electric bills jump sharply." He said that a typical small to medium bill, without air conditioning load, using 700 to 1,000 kilowatt hours will run from $19 to $26. Larger users with air conditioning loads and with consumption running 2,000 kilowatt hours will receive a bill around $49.

He said that if consumption runs 3,000 kilowatt hours, the bill will be around $72 and even higher for larger users. "Summer rates are based on the cost of electric facilities necessary to serve peak summer loads," he said.

The director urged all consumers to use every practical means of conserving electric energy and noted that free booklets on "How to Save on Your Electric Bill" are available at the Utilities office.

Adopt Trash Pickup Schedule

The Greenville Public Works Department has set up 16 routes to allow each household in Greenville one-trash pickup per week on a specified day.

Public Works Director May Allen emphasized that this is trash pickup—yard clippings, leaves, corn shucks, and other small items to be placed in cardboard boxes or plastic bags next to the curb. It is not garbage, kitchen leftover, good containers, and the like. This is still picked up from the back yards three days a week, Allen said, adding that Greenville is the only large town in the state that will offer the three-times-a-week pickup.

Notes are being left along the pickup routes this day to tell householders which day will be their pickup day. "We've had a lot of people tell us it would be a treat convenience to know that day to put trash out, so we're happy to be able to offer this service," Allen said. "If your trash is not picked up as scheduled on your designated day, please do not hesitate to call the Public Works office—758-4109. I can assure you a special pickup will be made. However, if your day happens to be a holiday or if the weather is extremely unfavorable, we will return Friday for your pickup, a day we have kept in reserve."

He reminded that trash should not be left on the streets, but up in the yard, next to the curb.

"We have had several serious accidents because trash being placed on the streets. Our trucks have to be loaded from the side, so the truck would have to sit in the middle of the street, creating a real hazard to get trash out in the street. Also, hidden bricks or other sharp objects have caused injury to children on bicycles, riding through piles of leaves. "Shrubbery and tree limbs should not be more than five or six feet in length," he suggested.

Test Simplifying Pitt Registration For Draft

Pitt County is one of several participating in a test being conducted by the State Selective Service System in an effort to make registration for 18-year-olds easier.

William H. McCachren, state director of the SSS, said that 20 counties in the state are offering registration by mail to 18-year-olds who must still register although the draft has been eliminated.

The director, noting that the test program began on July 1, said that Pitt, Greene, Edgecombe, Beaufort, Hertford, Bertie, Gates, Chowan, Perquimans, Pasquotank, Camden, Currituck, Onslow, Jones, Craven, Pamlico and Carteret are the Eastern counties participating in the test.

In the Western part of the state, the test is being conducted in Forsyth, Stokes and Surry counties, he said.

In each of the counties, red, white and blue posters containing self-addressed, stamped registration cards have been placed in 50 to 100 locations ranging from Post Offices and schools to store fronts, McCachren explained. All young men have to do is obtain a card, fill in the pertinent information, and drop it in the mail, he added.

He noted that young men can still register in person at their local boards or with a volunteer registrar who has been appointed to help the Selective Service in those areas where the local board has moved.

Local Selective Service offices have been consolidated in some areas and their records moved to a central location. Each local board continues to function independently.

McCachren said that the new mail procedure is part of a current effort to help young men comply with the law which required registration even though actual inductions have been stopped.

House Will Decide Delta Queen's Fate

By JOHN LENGEL, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some nostalgia of the majestic river queens, a floating memory complete with a gingerbread superstructure, grand staircase and a steam calliope, awaits a decision in the House on whether she stays afloat or retires.

The vote, which could come today, will decide if the paddlewheeler Delta Queen can continue her odyssey on the Ohio, Tennessee and Mississippi rivers.

The vote will be on a bill to exempt the Delta Queen from the marine safety law until Nov. 1, 1978.

In her favor, owner William Muster says the nation's last overnight, river-going steamer is averaging 90 per cent capacity of 180 passengers.

A detractor is the Coast Guard, which says the Delta

Queen, made mostly of wood, is a fire risk.

Muster, president of Green Line Steamers Inc., has testified the fire risk is "statistically zero," and added no passenger has been killed in a steamboat accident since 1903, and never in his company's 83-year history.

An automatic fire detection system has been installed, bulkheads and overheads have been sprayed with fire retarding solutions and all state rooms have been fire-proofed, Muster said.

Four other paddlewheelers that ply the middle-American waterways as daytime excursion boats are exempt from the federal safety law.

In congressional jockeying over the exemption in 1970 a Coast Guard source jolted pro-Queen nostalgia buffs, saying:

"Not a bit of American history is involved. The Delta Queen was built in 1926 to simulate river boats. It is more a Disneyland creation."

The Delta Queen was built in Scotland and shipped to California's Sacramento River, where she was reassembled in 1926.

In 1947, she sailed through the Panama Canal for service on the Mississippi River.

Plan Energy 'Complex'

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—The Transco Energy Co. has opened an office in Portsmouth to handle acquisition of rights of way for a pipeline. The line would be between two proposed Transco installations, a $50 million port for petroleum at West Norfolk, and a $300 million plant in Hertford County, N.C., which would turn the crude oil into the equivalent of natural gas.

The complete energy-production package would include a $200 million refinery to be built by the Continental Oil Co., and an $85 million naphtha gasification facility.

A public hearing is scheduled next Monday on the rezoning of 1,200 acres in Hertford County for the crude oil conversion plant.

Land adjacent to the entry port is being considered for the Conoco facility. The naphtha plant would be somewhere between the entry port and Transco's main pipeline to the northeast. Transco is a subsidiary of the Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp.

Car Plowed Into Children

ANSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A 22-year-old Ansonville man has been charged with driving under the influence of intoxicants following an accident in which his car plowed into a group of children, killing one of them.

Anson County Deputy Sheriff Billy R. Baker identified said 10-year old Annie Ruth Davis of Ansonville was killed when a car went out of control and ran up into a yard where six to eight children were playing in east Ansonville Monday afternoon.

Health Dept. To Teach Violators 'Stranded' On The Other Side

NEW YORK (AP) — Workers from restaurants and food stores which violate health regulations will be taught how to handle food right by the city's Health Department.

"The public is entitled to safe, wholesome and sanitary food services," Health Services Administrator Gordon Chase says of the mandatory five-day course.

The course will include instruction in food handling and storage, personal hygiene and rodent and insect control. The cost is $25 per person, to be paid by employers.

Dr. Joseph A. Cimino, the city health commissioner, said initial priority will be given to food code violators, who must register under the threat of a court summons. Within two years, he said, all of the 17,000 restaurants and 7,000 food stores in the city will be required to take part.

Deny Suggestion Kissinger Seeks Rogers' Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suggestions that White House adviser Henry A. Kissinger is trying to ease Secretary of State William P. Rogers out of office have been denied by a presidential spokesman.

"Every time he has been asked about the future, Dr. Kissinger has said he is very happy with his job. I am certain that he still is," said the spokesman.

Asked to comment on a Chicago Daily News story that Kissinger is the source of reports that he will replace Rogers, the spokesman said: "It just isn't true."

Kissinger, President Nixon's national security adviser, has said the President hasn't discussed any such change with him. Rogers declined to comment on the story.
