

Santiago 'Paralyzed' By Snipers Chilean Junta Foes Take To The Streets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chile's new military rulers were reported facing opposition in the streets including pockets of snipers today following their takeover from President Salvador Allende.

Allende was said to have committed suicide rather than surrender to the military coup Tuesday that ended his attempt to socialize the Chilean economy.

Broadcasts from Chilean radio networks controlled by the new junta said Santiago was paralyzed and troops were patrolling the streets. They called on Chileans to stay indoors unless they had military authorization to be in the streets.

The broadcasts, monitored in Argentina, said "extremist groups continue to resist the action of the armed forces in downtown Santiago." The reports, described as official information from the new junta, said stores, factories and government agencies were closed and no newspapers were published.

The terse announcements interspersed with martial music gave no idea of the scale of resistance in Santiago or whether any shooting was going on in other parts of the country.

Allende's ouster on Tuesday followed weeks of unrest created by the Marxist president's refusal to come to terms with the country's moderate and conservative majority and his inability to end strikes, soaring inflation and economic stagnation in the factories and on the farms.

Communications between Chile and the outside world were cut off shortly after the coup began. They reopened for a few hours in the evening, then were broken again with no indication when they would again be operating.

More than 100 leftists were reported arrested in Santiago and Valparaiso, the seaport northwest of Santiago where naval units began the revolt.

The junta issued a list of 68 prominent Socialist and Communist leaders who were ordered to appear at the defense ministry or face arrest. Among those named were Foreign Minister Carlos Altamirano and the president's sister Laura, a member of Congress.

The junta also ordered all foreigners "in the country in irregular or illegal situations" to report to the police. This apparently referred to the estimated 2,000 left-wing terrorists or subversives from Uruguay and Brazil given asylum in Chile by Allende.

Tanks, ground troops and two air force jets attacked the presidential palace in Santiago just before noon Tuesday after Allende refused an ultimatum to resign that was issued by the heads of the army navy, air force and national police. The palace was set afire, but the president's guard did not surrender until nearly 2:30 p.m.

An army helicopter strafed several nearby government buildings from which snipers were firing on the troops around the palace, but by mid-afternoon only scattered pockets of resistance were reported.

First reports said the 65-year-old president had surrendered, but later police sources reported he had committed suicide. This was confirmed by Police Prefect Rene Carrasco, and Chilean newsmen who accompanied the troops into the burning palace said the body was hunched up on a blood-covered sofa in the main salon on the second floor, apparently shot in the head.

Carrasco said Allende's press adviser, Augusto Olivares, also had killed himself near the end of the fight.

Allende had said in a statement broadcast as the air force jets were making their first attack on the palace: "I will not resign...I am ready to resist with whatever means, even at the cost of my life, so that this serves as a lesson in the ignominious history of those who have strength but not reason."

The U. S. Embassy, which is near the palace, said there were no American casualties. In Washington, a State Department spokesman said it would be "inappropriate to comment in a substantive manner" on the coup, but leftists throughout Latin America were certain to accuse the U. S. government and its Central Intelligence Agency of having a hand in it.

Audit Is Reported To Utilities Board

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector Managing Editor
Greenville Utilities Commission had assets of $20,709,385.13 as of June 30, the annual audit by John C. Proctor, CPA, showed.

The figure included $30,070,314.64 in electric, water, gas, equipment and buildings. This, less $10,716,483.96 accumulated depreciation gave $19,353,830.68 in property, plant and equipment.

Net income for the fiscal year was given as $1,844,378.86. A federal grant of $126,206.49, increase in consumers' deposits of $47,525.42 and depreciation of $698,517.81 totalled $2,716,628.58.

These funds were spent for improvements and extensions as follows: electric department, $1,292,365.07; water department, $426,460.99; sewer department, $84,372.58; gas department $713,053.61; equipment, $121,436.24. Bonds retired were $190,000 and $436,061.71 was turned over to the city.

Proctor's report showed a total of $8,971,424.91 in operating revenues for the fiscal year from the following sources: electric $7,095,308.07; water, $581,103.15; gas, $809,363.04; sewer, $385,650.65.

Operating expenses for the departments were: electric, $5,516,837.68; water, $389,284.19; gas, $855,281.08; sewer, $302,394.36 for a total of $7,063,797.31.

The commissioners took under study a complaint about electrical costs at D.H. Conley School. County Supt. Ott Alford and Assistant Supt. Leck Keeter appeared to ask for adjustments for July and August.

The bill for Conley was $2,810 for July and for North Pitt, an identical school was served by VEPCO, it was $581. In August the Conley bill was $3,185 and North Pitt's was $643.

However, the demand charge was considerably higher at Conley than at North Pitt.

Utilities Director Charles Horne said a problem in the demand meter had developed at Conley and some adjustment would be made there. Beyond that, the matter was tabled for further study.

The commissioners asked for further investigation of a proposal to publish an annual Greenville Utilities report.

They approved publishing a booklet to be given to new customers which will explain procedures for obtaining electrical service. The booklet will discuss services available, tell how to make application for cut-on and cut-off of service, explain deposits and tell how to read meters.

Some 10,000 copies were ordered at a cost of $2,500—about 25 cents per booklet.

Horne told the commissioners that Wachovia will be moving to its new building next Monday. Greenville Utilities has purchased Wachovia's old building across from City Hall and renovations will begin shortly.

Chairman Ray Minges read a letter from the State Utilities Commission asking if the local utilities wished to pursue further the matter of obtaining additional gas from North Carolina Natural Gas. The Commissioners decided to consult their attorney on the matter.

Horne informed the commission that a natural gas rate increase granted to Transcontinental is being passed on to local utilities. He said this will have to be reflected in a new rate study which the utilities is now doing.

Rating Sheets

RALEIGH (AP)—The Division of Highways said today a new rating sheet has been issued to determine priorities for paving secondary roads.

Cecil Budd, chairman of the Secondary Roads Council, said the new system would emphasize the traffic count and value in county thoroughfare planning for roads being considered for improvement. Less emphasis will be given to the number of dwellings located on the secondary roads.

Copies of the rating sheets have been distributed to each county for establishment of the local priorities.

Medlin Seeking Seat On Council

Miss Linda Medlin has filed as a candidate for the Greenville City Council and will seek one of the six council seats in the Oct. 9 elections.

Miss Medlin, a compositor at National Printing Co. on Albemarle Avenue here, has lived in Greenville since 1965.

A native of Maxton, the 26-year-old candidate graduated from public schools in Maxton and attended East Carolina University for three years.

She served as a delegate to the State Democratic Convention in Raleigh last June, having been selected on the precinct level to represent Pitt County.

As a candidate, she commented, "My main motivation behind running for City Council is a concern about the fact that there doesn't seem to be anyone on the council to represent the lower and middle income groups. As a working person I think I understand what the people who do not have any say in the decisions of our city are facing."

She expressed a concern that the "people don't seem to be fully aware of the decisions made at the council meetings" and noted there "is not too much effort made to bring the average persons into the decision making process."

Destruction of trees along streets that are undergoing road work was also cited as a major concern. "The neighborhoods don't seem to have any foreknowledge. People wake up one morning and the trees are gone in their front yard."

Greenville Fire Department officials, in a letter delivered to the State Bureau of Investigation today, has asked the SBI or other "appropriate state agency" to look into the sale and use of aerosol-type fire extinguishers that may increase the intensity of fires rather than extinguish them.

Fire Chief Ray Smith said the action was prompted after department officials tested two brands of aerosol home fire extinguishers yesterday and found that they accelerated burning when used on flammable liquid fires.

Yesterday's test were the result of a home grease fire here August 31, Chief Smith said, in which J.T. Taff, 29 of Greenville received first, second and third degree burns on his right hand, arm and chest after using one brand of the extinguishers tested yesterday.

The fire official said Taff sprayed the fire extinguisher on a grease fire in his home and was burned when the flames increased rather than were extinguished. "The chemical caused violent acceleration," of the fire, Chief's Smith's letter to the SBI indicated.

"The Greenville Fire Department conducted tests on September 11, 1973," the letter continued, "and concluded from the tests — involving the use of numerous cans of aerosol type home fire extinguishers — that their use does indeed accelerate fires of flammable liquid rather than extinguish them."

Chief Smith said this morning that the SBI has been requested to look into the sale and use of such extinguishers because the "product is widely distributed and purchased by housewives and others of little or no firefighting knowledge."

He said the sale and use of such aerosol fire extinguishers and any other firefighting product not carrying the approval of Underwriters Laboratories or some other nationally known testing organization, has been banned in Greenville.

According to Chief Smith, in addition to accelerating the fire, such aerosol extinguishers may produce toxic gases when used in unventilated areas that can be injurious to health or even fatal if breathed in sufficient quantity.

Fire Dept. Asks Checking Of Aerosol Extinguishers

Fuller Running For 4th Term

Dr. Frank Fuller, incumbent City Councilman who is completing his third term, announced Tuesday that he has filed for reelection in the upcoming municipal elections.

Fuller, the second council member to file for reelection, is currently chairman of the Department of Counselor Education in the School of Education at East Carolina University. He joined the ECU staff upon moving to Greenville in 1949.

A native of Providence, R.I., he earned his undergraduate degree from Aurora College in Aurora, Ill. and the master and doctorate degrees from George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

"What has led me to seek a fourth term," the councilman explained, "is unfinished business. There are some things I have wanted to see done and while we are making progress towards many of these things, I would like another term to finish them."

He cited the "feasibility of a public transportation system in Greenville and further improvement in the recreation program" as two important matters that need attention. "One of the things that I have been most interested in," he continued, "is an excellent pay scale for city employees. I think we are moving in that direction."

Fuller noted that the "employees carry on the work of the city and having good and well-paid employees is most important to the successful functioning of the city. They provide necessary services."

A veteran of World War II, Fuller served in the Army from 1942 to 1945. After completing his education, he taught in high schools in Washington, D.C., Brandywine, Md., and at George Washington University before joining the staff at ECU.

DR. FRANK FULLER

Currently, he is serving as second vice president of the State PRA and is president of the State Personnel and Guidance Association. Fuller was involved in the formation of the Pitt County Mental Health Association and served for two 12.13 years as its president. He is on the association's board at this time.

A member of St. Peter's Catholic Church here, Fuller has served on boards of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Raleigh. He has served on the Board of Trustees of Sheppard Memorial Library since he became a 22.44 member of the council some 91.20 years ago.

Fuller is married to the former Bernadette Klich of Minneapolis, Minn. and they have three children.

Taft Will Run For Councilman

Greenville businessman Joseph M. Taft Jr. announced that he will seek one of the six seats on the City Council in the October municipal elections.

Taft, a partner in Taft Furniture Co. here, filed this morning at city hall.

"I have always been interested in the growth and progress of Greenville," he commented this morning. "I was born in Greenville and have lived here all of my 36 years."

The candidate pointed out, "I would like to contribute my services to a greater and more progressive Greenville. I feel there is a place in the political structure of our city for a young person and upon this belief I offer myself as a candidate for the Greenville City Council."

Taft attended Greenville City Schools and graduated from East Carolina University with an A.B. degree in business administration.

He served in the U.S. Army Reserve for six years and graduated from Army Finance School at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind.

A former Citicorp chairman for the Pitt County unit of the American Cancer Society, Taft served on the Board of Trustees of Boys Home at Lake Waccamaw and was a divisional chairman for the Pitt County United Fund drive this past year.

He is a former member of the Greenville Jaycees and served on the board of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association. A member of the Greenville Rotary Club, he is presently on the board of directors.

Married to the former Camilla Henderson of Greenville, they have three daughters, Lou, Cissy, and Martha, and a six-month-old son, Joseph M. Taft III.

The Tafts are members of Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church here.

PAP SMEAR CLINIC. .conductor, unlikelyness of cervical cancer if a woman has a yearly test. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Cancer Detection Clinic Scheduled On Wednesdays

A yearly Pap Smear is almost a sure-fire way for a woman to be sure she will never have cancer of the cervix, according to Mrs. Tillie Cullipher, who conducts a Pap Smear Cancer Detection Clinic at the Pitt County Health Department each Wednesday.

"Although there are almost no outward signs of uterine cancer, a Pap smear shows up changes in the uterus sometimes years in advance of cancer's developing to a point where it cannot be cured. A yearly checkup is the smartest thing any woman ever did. Yet, so many women don't avail themselves of this service. They take the children to the pediatrician and see to their husbands and homes, but they don't tend to their own health," Mrs. Cullipher said.

The walk-in clinic is free of charge to anyone who cares to use it and there's no waiting for an appointment. Any Wednesday will do.

The clinic is sponsored jointly by the Pitt County Medical Society and the Health Department. Mrs. Cullipher, a full-time nurse in the Personal Health Division of the Health Department, is paid by the State Board of Health for two days' work per week on the Pap Smear project. One day she sees patients; the other day she does the related clerical work.

Mrs. Cullipher makes the test herself, and also teaches each woman she sees about self-examination of the breasts. Since she began nine weeks ago, she has found three abnormal cases and 13 considered suspicious enough to recommend thorough examinations by a gynecologist.

One woman she examined was 81 years old and had never had a Pap smear, she said. The youngest was 14. "Most material recommends that any woman 20 or over have a yearly test," she said.

A Hamilton native, Mrs. Cullipher trained at Parkview Hospital in Rocky Mount. She has worked on the obstetrics and medical-surgical units of several hospitals and also was a school nurse, before entering public health work. She took a special course in Pap Smear Procedures at East Carolina University School of Nursing, and also an advanced maternity and gynecology nursing course.

One Solution To Stamp Out 'X' Movies

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: In regard to a letter dealing with X-rated movies, you replied, "If the morals squad would just ignore them instead of staging raids, confiscating film, and arresting exhibitors and patrons, thereby giving millions of dollars worth of free advertising to these trashy movies, they would die a slow death."

Now, Abby, you know I am a fan of yours, but in this case, if you pardon me, you are nuttier than a fruitcake!

There are a lot of people whose minds never got above their waists, and these movies only encourage more of that attitude. When it comes to trying to put a stop to this type of filth, I believe they should shoot the people who exhibit these films!

The problem has flourished because honest, sensible, sound people like you have refused to take a vigorous stand on this matter.

Best wishes, just the same. WILLIAM LOEB, PUBLISHER MANCHESTER UNION LEADER, MANCHESTER, N. H.

DEAR MR. LOEB: I appreciate your classifying me among the "honest, sensible, sound" people, but if you think I haven't taken a vigorous stand on this matter, you, sir, are nuttier than a pecan plantation.

The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled in favor of leaving the matter of setting acceptable standards up to the local communities and states.

In Albemarle County, Virginia, recently, a special grand jury of five men and two women were asked to recommend "acceptable community standards." They couldn't do it!

In your opinion, Mr. Loeb, WHO should decide what the adults of Manchester, N. H. should be allowed to see? The city council by ordinance? The chief of police? The sheriff? The PTA?

So far, there has not been a shred of evidence to support your allegation that these movies encourage others to emulate those "whose minds never got above their waists."

Finally, if there is ever a law in this land which requires its citizens to look at X-rated movies you can count on me to take a vigorous stand against it!

DEAR ABBY: A good friend of mine met a very attractive couple at a party at my home one evening. [They were newcomers to town.]

Next thing I heard, my good friend invited this couple to her home for a party, and she didn't invite me! I never would have done such a thing, and claim this is not cricket.

Is this ethical behavior? No etiquette book I have ever seen covers this situation. WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: It's NOT cricket to invite someone you met at a friend's party without including the friend on the first invitation. After that, you have no obligation to the one who brought you together.

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years, and have often said: "These can't be real letters from real people. Nobody could be that dumb." After what happened to me, I will never say that again. Here is my story:

Our son brought home a very pretty foreign girl. They were married. We treated her like our own daughter. At first she was quiet and shy, but it didn't take her long to learn the American ways.

She and our son lived with us. Before long we could tell that they were having trouble. She would leave the house early in the morning and not come home until late in the evening. She didn't have a job, and no one knew where she went. My son objected to it, but my husband would defend her.

When the truth came out, it was my HUSBAND she was seeing on the sly. He is self-employed and can set his own schedule. My son was brokenhearted, but he gave her the divorce she wanted, and I gave my husband his freedom [after 28 years, and four children!], and now my ex-daughter in law is married to my ex-husband!

Now, I can believe anything. IT HAPPENED IN BALTIMORE

Lady Should Have Fixed Supper First

LONDON, England (WNS) — Angela Carter was late getting home to prepare supper for her husband. It seems that she had gone out for the afternoon to look at a house for sale on Vanburgh Road. As soon as she entered the house with the real-estate salesman, a half-ton of rubble fell on her. The house also collapsed. Worst of all was the wait for firemen to arrive and set her free.

Demonstrations On Furniture Refinishing Held On Tuesday

A furniture refinishing demonstration held in two sessions yesterday at the American Legion Building attracted over 200 women and some men interested in the procedure.

John Mitchell, representative of Formby's Refinishing Products, Inc., shared hints on furniture rejuvenation.

He demonstrated a special method of restoring the finish on old furniture—showing step-by-step procedures. "This is a new system of refinishing and I will tell you what and what not to do," Mitchell said.

"One of the most important things to remember before you start any of our work is to read the directions on the products before you start and not after you finish," he pointed out.

In telling of his company's products, Mitchell added the following hints: work with refinisher out of a little pan and not out of the can; use very fine steel wool, number 0000; the refinisher is designed for varnish, lacquer and shellac; etc.

"This method completely does away with the dread of starting your refinishing projects. It is work and requires patience to be done correctly; however, it is enjoyable and the process can be stopped during any phase with damage or waste and may be resumed at your convenience. "The results are marvelous and beautiful, letting the chemical do the work for you, without stripping, sanding, filling, sealing, staining or removing the natural color of the wood which age alone can bestow," said the speaker.

"Old furniture that is well designed, sturdy and useful deserve a new finish. Restored to its original charm, it can become a desirable part of the decor of your home. To determine if the furniture is worth the time, work and money involved in refinishing, ask the following questions:

"Can it be made strong structurally? Does it fit into the size and style of the room or house? Are the lines good, or is there ornamentation that should be removed before refinishing? and is there a specific need, purpose or sentimental value for the piece?" he added.

In addition to the refinishing process, he showed water ring removal, the cleaning of solid brass, bronze, copper and pewter, wax removal, dent and scratch filling and gave other suggestions on furniture care.

Several spectators brought small pieces of their own furniture and Mitchell discussed the proper refinishing methods for each.

Beef Demand Determines Price

The freeze has gone off beef and it remains to be seen whether prices will remain stable, increase rapidly or decline.

It is no secret that many cattlemen withheld their livestock from the market while the freeze was in effect because they felt they could not receive enough to meet their costs. Even though the freeze was not on at the farm level, the cattle growers said the retail freeze held down the price they received.

Livestock cannot be held back forever, however. The cost of feeding the animals mounts each day, so there is reason to feel that beef will now reappear in ample quantities.

One thing is sure, though. The law of supply and demand still applies and if the price of beef moves up rapidly the housewife can help halt the rise by turning to other products. Pork and poultry prices have declined recently after they had shot upward and many economists believe the decline was due to buyer resistance.

What happens to beef prices at the retail levels in the next few weeks will depend on supplies and on buyers' reaction to the prices that prevail. This is basic to our free enterprise system.

Board Of Trustees Can Begin Its Work

The East Carolina University board of trustees has finally been completed with the appointment of four members by Gov. Holshouser.

The governor appointed Dr. Donald L. Copeland of Clinton; William L. Powell, Jr. of Goldsboro; Dr. James Earl Daniele of Elon College and Herbert W. Lee of Greenville.

They will join: Dr. Andrew Best of Greenville; Mrs. J.G. Burgwyn of Jackson; Wayne Corpening of Winston-Salem; Frederic Cox of Grifton; Ashley Futrell of Washington; Edward Greene of Dunn; Robert L. Jones of Raleigh. Bill Bodenhamer, president of the Student Government Association is an ex officio member.

The latter group was named by the UNC board of governors.

The new board will meet next Tuesday and it can now get on to naming a chairman and handling other organizational duties so that the important work of setting policy for the university can begin.

Kindergartens His Project

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH — The man who stumped North Carolina to end a 40-year drought in the General Assembly and put the state in the limelight with a public kindergarten program has "a new bee in his bonnet."

He thinks it's time now to beef up the number of teachers and teacher aides in the lower three grades so that all children are guaranteed a foundation of reading to support future education.

W. T. Harris of Charlotte, retired grocery store millionaire, former president of the Chamber of Commerce and current chairman of the Mecklenburg County Board of Commissioners, brought his plea to the State Board of Education and won a roaring round of applause from a large audience at a routinely dull budget hearing session.

And in the process, Harris admitted that an irate daughter, scolding him for an action by the Mecklenburg commission, led to his role in winning kindergartens for the state.

Angry Child

Several years back, he recited, the commissioners faced a budget request from the Mecklenburg School Board of half a million to support kindergartens. Realizing there was no way to budget that amount and to guarantee continued funding, the commission chopped the item out.

"And that inaction won the headlines, of course, and that night I received a call from my eldest daughter," Harris said. "Daddy, I'm coming right over," she told him.

She came in the door with tears in her eyes, demanding to know how he could have cut out such an important educational program, and in Harris' words "backed me into a corner in a hurry" charging that not providing early training would result in some unfortunate children winding up in jail, on welfare, or not achieving to full potential, and so on.

"And then, she turned on the butter," Harris recalled. She told him that he had lived a full life, had accomplished a lot, and was now near retirement.

"You could go out with an easy mind and happy heart if you would do this for the children of this state," Harris' daughter argued.

Harris said he then went to fellow commissioners, won their support and backing, contacted business and industrial leaders across the state for funding and launched the statewide drive for approval of the statewide kindergarten program.

Don't Waste It

Harris wound up his plea before the state board with his major point: "Be sure this K-5 program is not wasted. We must get a solid foundation under this program."

He deplored the fact that many children are getting to the junior high school level unable to read. "You can't educate a child who can't even read. It is imperative that we teach this. It is perhaps even more important than kindergarten that we get some help for the teachers in these classrooms."

He said many elementary school classrooms have up to 25 pupils with one teacher trying to work with "14 different levels of learning abilities," and urged the board to hire needed additional teachers so youngsters "can be taught to read rather than sending them on up to junior high school on the shifting sands of ignorance."

He reminded members of the state board and the General Assembly that their's is a thankless job, often beset with criticism. And likely, he said, people won't remember the services performed or the fact that members "stick your necks out for children."

Warm Your Heart

But he concluded, "put your necks on the chopping blocks for children... do these things that need to be done for children, and it will, I guarantee you, warm the cockles of an old man's heart as you near retirement years."

Members of the board nodded agreement with the sentiment that pushing forward programs for children despite obstacles would make retirement years a source of pleasure and warmth, but one member commented: "You should make that speech to the Appropriations Committee of the Legislature."

And that, Harris promptly responded, is exactly what he intends to do.

Harris said he is pleased with progress of the kindergarten program, opening statewide this year for the first time with 16 per cent of the youngsters in the state eligible enrolled. More will be added each year until 100 per cent coverage is given by 1978.

He said North Carolina's program is a "model for the nation, even the world, as we have built on proven successes and studied other programs for strong points and failures on which to build ours."

Nixon Words Stun Faisal

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Within minutes of President Nixon's implicit threat that Arab states might lose their Western markets if they use their oil as a political lever, a top administration energy expert moaned: "My God, doesn't he realize that every single incremental barrel of oil today has to come from the Middle East?"

But if Mr. Nixon's threat, a hip-shooting challenge uttered without careful forethought at his press conference last week, surprised his own aides, it stunned the oil states of the Middle East, most particularly Saudi Arabia.

That is the country that sits on top of 24 per cent of the world's total known oil reserves and whose head man, King Faisal, regards both President Nixon and the U. S. as close traditional friends.

The King and his government are right now under heavy pressure from the Nixon administration and U. S. oil companies with Saudi Arabian holdings to authorize a huge increase in Saudi Arabian oil production. Now running at a level of 7 million to 8 million barrels of oil every day, that production would be raised to 11.3 million barrels by 1976 and to 20 million barrels by 1980, if the King went along with the American request.

But the King is also under heavy and still-rising domestic pressures from the left, both the political and Moslem left, not to play Uncle Sam's game unless the U. S. moves to a truly evenhanded policy in the savage Arab-Israeli dispute. Perhaps even worse for Mr. Nixon and the American consumer of gasoline and heating oil, King Faisal also has no economic need to boost oil production and hence national revenues. Oil revenues should stay at their present levels.

"The Americans tell us that we can't drink our oil but have to see it," one influential adviser of King Faisal recently said. "My answer is, we can't eat dollars. either."

The Saudi Arabian national budget is running at $6 billion a year today—an incredible

78 per cent higher than only one year ago. Lifting production to the levels that American oilmen—and the Nixon administration—now want would bring in vast new amounts of dollars that King Faisal could not spend.

"Our wealth may keep better in the ground as oil," one adviser to the King told us, "rather than in some bank as cash."

In the face of these economic and political facts, President Nixon's threat that Arab oil states which expropriate American oil property without fair compensation—or which attempt to gouge consumers with high prices—may find themselves without Western markets is dangerous poppycock. To compare today's seething seller's market to the buyer's market of 20 years ago, when Western economic pressures helped drive oil-rich Iran's left-wing Prime Minister Mosaddeq out of power, is misleading.

For, as the Nixon energy expert said, the critical period of oil-and-gasoline shortages lying just ahead can be eased only by additional oil from the Middle East. North Slope Alaskan oil will not be available at best for three to five years. Nor can any crash program to extract oil from shale or coal begin to dent the potentially disastrous period of shortages that lie ahead. Only Middle Eastern oil can do that.

There were, furthermore, other misleading implications in Mr. Nixon's statement last Wednesday. His assumption that Europe and the U. S. have identical problems with respect to Middle Eastern oil ("We and Europe are the market," he said) understates Japan and Europe's total dependence and ignores a vital political fact: that most of the European nations are far less pro-Israel than the U. S.

In short, there is no common Western front on the Middle East. But there is a developing front between fabulously rich Saudi Arabia and politically powerful Egypt. Both are under control of leaders who want closer relations with the U. S.

Strength For Today

TREASURES IN HEAVEN

Some years ago a man gave a large sum of money to a religious institution. Later, misfortune overtook him and he went bankrupt. Someone reminded him of his former generosity and said, "Don't you wish you had the money back which you gave with such a free hand years ago?" And the reply was, "No, that's really the only money that I ever saved."

Jesus said on one occasion, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth... but lay up for yourself treasures in heaven." Every time we do something for someone else, every time that we set ourselves aside that another may live a fuller life, everytime that we contribute to some project for human betterment, we are laying up spiritual treasures. If we think about the matter for a moment we realize that the only money we have truly saved unto eternity is the money we have spent unselfishly for the benefit of others. These are treasures stored away "where moth and rust do not corrupt."

By ART BUCHWALD His Brother's Tapper

WASHINGTON — The startling revelation last week that President Nixon had tapped the telephone of his own brother, F. Donald Nixon, has caused great concern among civil libertarians. If a President can tap his own brother without a court order, their thinking goes, no one in this country is safe.

But there is a school of legal opinion that maintains the Fourth Amendment guarantees of right of privacy and of protection against search and seizure do not cover blood relatives of high government officials.

The leader of this school is the great constitutional lawyer, Prof. Sam Clemente, who wrote the definitive book on President Millard Fillmore's wiretapping activities, titled "He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother."

Prof. Clemente told me, "The Supreme Court has ruled on many occasions that it is perfectly legal for a President to tap his brother's telephone in the interests of national security. In the case of President Fillmore, the President suspected his brother Dillard was getting kickbacks from slaves who were working on government projects in the South. Fillmore ordered the Secret Service to tap his brother's lines. When The Washington Post broke the story, Fillmore's press secretary announced the tap had been placed on Dillard because of threats on his life. Most of the threats were made by President Fillmore himself. But when questioned about this, the press secretary refused to comment.

"Fillmore's brother sued the President for invasion of privacy but the Supreme Court, in a 5 to 4 decision, ruled in the President's favor. The majority opinion said, 'It is obvious that writers of the Constitution did not have relatives in mind when they wrote the Fourth Amendment. It is impossible for a President of the United States to carry on his executive duties without knowing what his brother is up to.

"'Nobody can do more damage to a President than his brother and since most brothers tend to take advantage of the President's high office, it is essential that the President of the United States be given free rein to tap his kinfolk. "

Clemente continued, "But the court ruled that the President could not tap in-laws. 'We realize,' the ruling said, 'that in many cases a brother-in-law could give a President even more trouble than a brother. But if we opened the privilege to brothers-in-law, there would be no end to wiretapping in this country.'

"Although President Fillmore won the suit, he agreed not to tap Dillard's phone any more. But he refused to turn over the tapes on the grounds that if he did he would be setting a precedent for future Presidents who would have to turn over their tapes to their brothers."

I asked Prof. Clemente, "Do you think President Nixon was relying on the President Fillmore-Dillard decision when he authorized the tapping of his brother's phone?"

Most people in North Carolina are familiar with "The Lost Colony." But, how many are aware of the last colony? Washington, D. C., your national capital, still retains its colonial status—its citizens have no representation in Congress nor are they permitted to elect their own local government.

Once again, Congress will be considering a bill for D. C. home rule, HR 9682, on September 24 or 25. As a longtime supporter of D. C. home rule, the League of Women Voters urges every concerned citizen to write his Congressman and indicate support of this important measure.

New Ideas Are Suicidal

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — "The surest way for the new man to commit suicide is to do dramatically what he was hired to do—namely, bring in new ideas and a fresh burst of activity."

This is the professional opinion of psychologists and psychiatrists at the Organizational Behavior Institute, which counsels and trains executives on personal relationships and advises corporations on personnel matters.

Because they are launched on a floodtide of praise and feel compelled to maintain the momentum, very effective men drown shortly after being hired, said Dr. Mortimer Feinberg, president.

In attempting to demonstrate his abilities and success patterns, the new worker may polarize others into opposition. His colleagues view him as a rival and probably a reflection on their shortcomings.

Because the situation recurs regularly, the institute has devised these maxims for the "freshman on campus."

1. Adopt the stance of a learner. You have a lot to learn about the organization, its past practices, its present power centers, its current policies.

2. Study the organization chart. You have to know who is supposed to do what.

3. Get close to somebody who knows the boss. You have to learn a great deal about him—how he likes to be kept informed, his prejudices, the people in whom he has confidence, his system of priorities.

4. Listen to your colleagues. Ask lots of questions, and don't quarrel with the answers. Of course, you must not swallow whole whatever they tell you. Check and cross-check with others who are in a position to know.

5. Discard your old frame of reference. You'll find yourself tempted on many occasions to say, "The way we did it at the ABC Company..." Even if you were hired because of the expertise you acquired there, don't mention its policies or practices by name, unless you are expressly asked to do so.

6. Stimulate your colleagues to do their own best thinking. Instead of giving your conclusions, ask for theirs.

If the facts warrant, you may find it possible to tell the boss, "Tom Stevens seems to have a good idea..." And let Stevens know you quoted him.

7. Reiterate your basic attitude of cooperation.

8. Avoid challenge. Don't force people into making choices that involve loyalty to old ties.

9. Limit overt change. Stick with the old furnishings and the old personnel as long as possible. Stress continuity even when introducing change. Present your innovations as a logical extension of what workers have done so successfully in the past.

10. Take your time. Wait several months before making any major moves. It takes that long in most companies to win acceptance and credibility. No boss expects you to revolutionize the organization overnight.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Side-walk comments by a Pavement Plato: Whatever happened to the feminine mystique?

HAL BOYLE

It has become as much a casualty of the 20th century as spats, the whalebone corset, or the nickel glass of beer.

The ordinary man never knew exactly what the feminine mystique was except that it was the intangible thing that made a woman a woman—and therefore a thing apart from man and his crude world.

It was the feminine mystique that led women to dress, think and act differently. They were expected to be more fragile, daintier and smell nicer than men.

It was their feminine mystique that led women to be aloof and withdrawn and mysterious, and able to wield more power with silence and disapproval than by shouting their objections and demands.

It was their feminine mystique that enabled women to convince men that sex was more a sacred experience than a physical pleasure.

It was through this fabled feminine mystique that for centuries women convinced men they were superior human beings to be treated with veneration and respect and accorded special privileges and favors. As part of this mystique, they were even supposed to have a special mental faculty called womanly intuition that served them better than the laws of logic and reason serve men.

Yes, almost since time began the feminine mystique has been woman's mightiest weapon in the endless war between the sexes. But alas, she has rapidly lost that weapon in recent years as she chose to descend from her Olympus to slug it out in the mire toe-to-toe with man in a campaign for equal rights.

In this dubious campaign she has sought to imitate man's manners, morals, dress, value standards and even his vocabulary. A casual conversation between two teen-age girls today contains language that a truckdriver would hesitate to say out loud in a traffic jam in 103-degree weather.

If a man acts like an ape, he becomes apeline. And if a woman acts like a man, there can be but one result: she inevitably becomes manlike.

While there is nothing wrong with being a man, there is a lot wrong in being a manlike woman. She is flouting her inner being, violating the harmony of her own nature.

She is being a traitor to her own sex, and it becomes absurd to speak of her feminine mystique. She has thrown away that precious birthright.

She has no special mystery. She has no special intuition.

Mitchell, Stans Trial Put Off

By MARCIA CHAMBERS
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The pressures of Watergate and other federal investigations into the 1972 presidential campaign have forced a delay in the trial of John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

The two former Cabinet officers and leaders of President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign had been scheduled to go on trial Tuesday in U.S. District Court on charges of conspiracy, obstruction of justice and perjury.

But their lawyers argued that Watergate investigations had taken too much of their time and said they needed more time to prepare an adequate defense.

After a day-long proceeding in which a federal appeals panel urged that a delay be granted, they won postponement from District Court Judge Lee P. Gagliardi, who had previously denied all motions for delay.

Gagliardi, appointed to the federal bench 20 months ago by President Nixon, did not immediately set a new trial date because attorneys for Mitchell and Stans could not agree on how much extra time they needed.

The delay is expected to last three weeks to two months.

As hundreds of spectators gathered outside the courthouse to catch a glimpse of the defendants, 546 potential jurors culled from a panel of 1,500 waited inside the courthouse for the trial selection process that never began.

At 4:30 p.m. they were discharged. Attorneys said the judge had indicated the jury would be sequestered when the trial does begin.

Mitchell, a former attorney general, and Stans, formerly secretary of commerce, were indicted four months ago by a federal grand jury.

Little Help For Children

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Dr. Robert J. Reichler of Chapel Hill, a child psychiatrist, says children with emotional or mental problems "are being shunted from one agency to another, with little real help" in North Carolina, because of the varied-agency approach.

He told a commission studying the state's mental health needs Tuesday that North Carolina needs one agency "with clout" that will be responsible for the child's welfare, regardless of the child's problems. Reichler is codirector of Division TEACH, a state program for autistic children based at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. Autistic children have difficulty relating to reality. The program has centers in Asheville and Greenville, and coordinates public-school classrooms in other cities.

Reichler said services for children in the state now are "not set up in terms of children, but along professional lines."

Whole New Floor Of Exhibits At N.C. Museum Of History

By DR. H. G. JONES
Director of
Archives and History
Written For The AP
RALEIGH (AP) — There is an entire new floor of exhibits awaiting visitors to the North Carolina Museum of History in Raleigh. The mezzanine floor, for which displays have been under construction for more than two years, was opened in ceremonies on September 8. Thus all three floors of the museum are now open for viewing.

Why does it take so long to install exhibits? Because they are not "store bought" but planned, designed, constructed, and installed by a staff of specialists ranging from historical researchers, designers, artists, carpenters, and other skilled personnel. Long ago discarded was the habit of simply putting interesting items in glass cases. Instead, each exhibit area is designed to tell a story. Consequently, individual items must relate to each other in a way to convey a "story line," just as words fall together on paper to form a narrative.

The center of the mezzanine features eight period rooms. A dentist's office and doctor's office display medical equipment of the mid-1920s. Early photographic artifacts are on display in a re-creation of an early twentieth century photographer's studio. A sheathed room from an 1840 Moore County log house exhibits an unusually well detailed mantel and overmantel. The William W. Dodge Jr., Silver Shop (from Asheville), reflecting the quaint architecture of Biltmore Forest, shows several pieces of silver made by Mr. Dodge, along with the custom-made tools and furnishings of his shop. North Carolina's long history of furniture-making is suggested by an early carpenter's shop. Two shop windows—one showing samples from the museum's toy collection and the other displaying tobacco products—complete the center grouping.

Of particular interest to transportation buffs are the various vehicles lining the north wall—a coach, a buggy, a "conestoga" wagon, and a 1903 automobile made by Gilbert S. Waters of New Bern. A second coach, thought to have belonged to Governor Samuel Johnston, is under restoration and will be added at a later date.

Lining the south wall of the mezzanine is the "North Carolina First Family Fashions" exhibit consisting of six period settings in which gowns worn by many of the state's first ladies are displayed. A Federal setting houses an empire gown thought to have been worn by Mrs. Richard Caswell. Dresses worn by Mrs. David S. Reid and Mrs. William W. Holden are displayed in an 1850 parlor. A sunporch with wicker furnishings and plants provides the background for gowns belonging to Mrs. William W. Kitchen, Mrs. Locke Craig, Mrs. Cameron Morrison, Mrs. Angus W. McLean, and Mrs. O. Max Gardner. In a living room setting are gowns of Mrs. J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Mrs. Clyde R. Hoey, and Mrs. J. Melville Broughton. A pine-paneled den houses the dresses of Mrs. W. Kerr Scott, Mrs. William B. Umstead, and Mrs. Luther H. Hodges. Finally, a contemporary setting in off-white with chrome and walnut accents houses gowns worn by Mrs.

Terry Sanford, Mrs. Dan K. Moore, Mrs. Robert W. Scott, and Mrs. James E. Holshouser Jr.

At the rear of the mezzanine are two windows overlooking the Executive Mansion; a panel provides a brief history and description of the mansion that has served as the home of first families since 1891.

The Museum of History is open free Monday through Saturday from 8:00 to 5:00 and on Sunday from 2:00 to 5:00.

"Either that or the Ulysses S. Grant case. "If you recall, President Grant was worried about his brother's drinking problems and ordered a tap on his phone. As soon as he got enough evidence on him, Grant ordered his brother arrested for drunkenness. But the case was thrown out when it was revealed that Grant had members of the White House staff break into his brother's doctor's office to steal his brother's files."

Prof. Clemente did not think the American public would be alarmed over the news that President Nixon had tapped his brother's phone. "Anyone who had a brother would like to do the same thing."

Eternal City A 'Holdout'

By WILBORN HAMPTON
ROME (UPI) — It was Cervantes who first put into print the saying "When in Rome, do as the Romans," and the proverb which guided Sancho Panza through the Eternal City is still valid for Americans today.

In a world of synthetic, frozen and fast foods, where the plumbing works and electricity and water run, where both the garbage man and the postman come, Rome remains a sometimes exasperating but always beautiful holdout.

Although the supermarket with its packaged spaghetti is making some headway, Romans' daily bread still comes from the baker, their meat from the butcher, their spaghetti from the pasta shop, their tomatoes from the vegetable shop, their wine and oil from the wine and oil shop and anything else from the general store.

Daily meals mean daily shopping and the first order of any day is the round of shopping at the butcher, baker and, in case the electricity goes off again, even the candle-stick maker.

There are a few shopping tips which help insure the butcher will cut from his best veal for you or the lady at the market will poke around for the juiciest oranges.

For a start, it always helps to take a child along. Italians' love for children is well known and cannot be exaggerated. It is also prudent to ask after the grocer's sick wife or the pasta lady's recently married niece.

Haggling Is Good

It is also a good idea to haggle a bit over prices, just to prove you are their friend.

The butcher, in turn, will save you a couple of his best filet steaks although the price of a little over $3 a pound tends to whet one's appetite for chicken or fish.

There are some items for which an American yearns and for which he must trek to the supermarket. They include peanut butter, although at $1.50 per jar it becomes a habit easy to break, brown sugar, vanilla, pop corn and corn on the cob, which one must buy frozen for 60 cents for two small ears.

Maple syrup chocolate chips are a delicacy yet to find an Italian appreciation. You find cottage cheese in some stores but sour cream is totally unknown.

Living in marble halls can be glamorous although by some sort of inverted snobbery most Italians would prefer the rarer hardwood floors. Walking on marble floors presents quite a task for an American housewife.

To keep marble clean, one should wax the floors at least once a week and then buff them or mop them every other day. It dulls the glamor of marble a bit.

Ten or 12-foot high ceilings also can lend a lot of Old World charm to an apartment except when one has to wash the windows or change a light bulb, or especially, when the heating bill arrives.

There are many customs which hark to a diminishing civility in the world, such as bidding everyone, even strangers in elevators waiters and shop girls, "Good Day" or "Good Evening" when you meet.

There are others which are totally indigenous to the native population. Personally, for example, I have never quite plucked the courage to acquire the habit of pinching pretty girls' bottoms on buses.

A SPANISH DECOR... both inside and out accents the new Quixote Travels Inc. office at Fourth and Cotanche Streets. Jack Stoughton, president, offers travelers a look at prospective places of interest through a built-in slide projection system that he controls at his desk. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Open House At Travel Agency

An open house for the public is set for tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 7 p.m. at the new location of Quixote Travels Inc., according to Jack Stoughton, president. Quixote Travels, formerly known as MacDorn Travel Agency, is now located at the corner of Fourth and Cotanche Streets in the new building that also houses the uptown branch of the Bank of North Carolina, N.A.

Soughton in issuing an invitation to Greenville citizens to attend the afternoon reception, commented, "We are real proud of our new building that offers a Spanish motif all the way through in both the interior and exterior."

He pointed out that a trip was made to Spain in February to secure furniture for the building as well as the wooden doors.

The president said that the agency, in a little over two years of operations, has grown from a two-man business to an operation that now involves six people.

He reported that Quixote Travels is now an official representative of American Express and is a full service agency offering domestic and international airline reservations. The agency also represents all major steamship companies and tours companies, it was noted.

Tuesday Saw 2 Accidents

An estimated $1,850 property damage resulted from two collisions here yesterday.

Officers said heaviest damage was caused when a car driven by William Barnes Ellington Jr. of 300 North Oak St. overturned about 4:30 p.m. at the intersection of Lines Avenue and North Village Drive.

Officers, who made no charges, said the Ellington car overturned when the brakes locked on the vehicle and the car struck the curbing.

Damage to the vehicle was set at $1,500.

Edith Rose Trotman of 1308 Myrtle Ave. was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of an 8:09 a.m. collision on Fleming Street, 130 feet West of the Roosevelt Avenue intersection. Police identified the driver of the second car involved as James Edward Spain of 611 Vanderbilt Lane.

Damage was set at $175 to each of the two vehicles.

Movies Rating System Said Widely Accepted

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The five-year-old film rating system has been criticized by outraged religionists and confused parents. But the system's parent, Jack Valenti, claims that the ratings have reached their highest level of acceptance.

Valenti, former White House aide and now president of the Motion Picture Association, announced results of a nationwide survey of 2,600 Americans: —55 per cent of all citizens found the ratings useful, a rise of 11 points over 1972.

—64 per cent of regular moviegoers found the ratings useful, a nine-point rise.

"This survey by Opinion Research Corp. shows that in spite of the flaws in the rating system, people like it," Valenti said.

"The most encouraging part of the survey is the indication that after five years the ratings have accomplished almost saturation in public awareness. Eighty-seven per cent of the total public was aware of the ratings, and 96 per cent of the movie-going public. With teenagers who go to the movies, it was 97 per cent."

The ratings were instituted in November 1968 after Valenti took over as head of the association. For a half-century, there had been no restrictions on theater attendance in America.

When film makers sought more freedom to deal with adult subjects, Valenti introduced the tag of "Suggested for Mature Audiences." Movies became more mature — and sexier — and the rating system was established. Films are classified G (general audiences), PG (parental guidance), R (restricted, children must be accompanied by adult) and X (children forbidden).

There was confusion in the early years of the ratings. The second rating was changed from M to GP to PG. Some citizens thought the G meant a children's picture (not necessarily). Others thought the X denoted a porno film (not necessarily).

"One of our biggest problems has come from the fact that the X is the end of the line," said Valenti. "Many people do not differentiate between an X for a genius like (Stanley) Kubrick and an X for a two-bit porno maker."

Another problem has been the public's failure to distinguish the reputable film companies from the porno makers.

"Our companies don't make obscene films," Valenti declared, "But many people lump all film makers with the kind of people who make 'Deep Throat.' A public relations campaign to correct that notion would be difficult to achieve."

Anti-U.S. Sentiment In Latin America Seen Likely To Grow

Editor's note — The writer of this dispatch returned recently from Argentina after nine years as a correspondent in Latin America.

By LOUIS UCHITELLE
Associated Press Writer
The military has ended Chile's experiment in democratic Marxism, and Latin America's radical left can now say, "We told you this would happen."

Chile's Left Revolutionary Movement (MIR), Argentina's People's Revolutionary Army (ERP), Uruguay's Tupamaros and the smaller guerrilla movements in other countries insist that violence is a necessary ingredient of Marxist revolution.

Their hero is Ernesto "Che" Guevara, the hero of the Cuban revolution who was killed by army troops in 1967 while leading a guerrilla band in Bolivia. Now Allende — reported a suicide after his overthrow Tuesday — joins Guevara in the left-wing revolutionary pantheon.

The MIR, composed mostly of university students, urged Allende to silence his opponents by force, calling on armed MIR members, if necessary, for help. Allende restrained his young followers and insisted that he would remain within the constitution in leading Chile "down the road to Socialism."

Now the MIR can be expected to go underground again and resume the antigovernment violence characteristic of the organization before Allende's election in 1970. Allende's failure may spur revolutionary violence in other countries, too.

Many Latins, especially young people, approved of Allende's road to radical economic and social reform without violence. He became a spokesman for the continent's nationalist sentiment and for rapid and independent economic development in a democratic framework. His overthrow by a rightist military coup helps to polarize further the Latin American ideological struggle.

In neighboring Argentina, for example, the People's Revolutionary Army — famed for kidnapping foreign businessmen and military leaders — has turned against Juan D. Peron. The new Peronist government had Allende's warm support, but the ERP says the 77-year-old Peron's promises to free Argentina from "imperialist influences" are empty.

The failure of Allende's policies might win the ERP recruits from among the thousands of young radicals now supporting Peron and demanding that he socialize Argentina.

Allende repeatedly accused foreigners, especially the U.S. government, of encouraging his opponents. His downfall and suicide are likely to bring charges that the United States had a role in the coup — charges hard to disprove and certain to add to the anti-American sentiment widespread in Latin America.

Tar Heels See German Firms

Get Vote

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — Twelve North Carolina businessmen visited German companies here Tuesday as part of a development campaign to increase trade and European investments in the state.

"We have appointments with good, solid German firms who have indicated a desire to invest in the United States," reported mission spokesman Steve B. Stevenson.

Twenty-five North Carolinians, including Gov. Jim Holmhouse, started the promotion tour in London on Sept. 5. Some members will remain in Europe until Sept. 28 in the effort to draw more capital to the state.

"We are emphasizing the currency realignment which is favorable for European investments," Stevenson said. "We have the land and the labor for these investors."

Stevenson, the state's international development representative, declined to specify German companies on the Stuttgart appointments agenda of the six North Carolina bankers and six developers on his mission.

Noting that European companies invested $22 million in North Carolina last year, Stevenson asserted: "We're expecting to get some more plant locations on this trip."

Holmhouse was scheduled to arrive in Frankfurt later Tuesday along with four other state bankers following three days of trade promotions in Moscow. This group has scheduled two days of talks with other German banks and businessmen.

A third group of North Carolinians representing technological firms was continuing its trade mission in Eastern Europe following the Moscow visit. Also to be visited are Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

SAN MARINO (AP) — The all-male Grand Council of San Marino passed a law Monday night giving the 9,500 women of the world's smallest and oldest republic equal rights for the first time.

The law, which takes effect Oct. 1, makes women eligible to become members of the Grand Council, San Marino's parliament, and of the government. It also allows them to enter into financial obligations heretofore restricted to men.

San Marino, a mountaintop enclave of 23 square miles in central Italy, was founded by the religious hermit Marinus about A.D. 300.

Hopes For Survives Donations Vote Test

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — The Evergreen School District, short on gasoline, hopes parents will donate gas to keep school buses running through the year.

The school board said Monday night it hopes to get 10 gallons from each of 1,000 parents.

The district has been unable to contract for all the gas it needs to operate the bus system this year and has cut back bus service to some areas.

Board members said the donated gas would be used to restore that service.

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's minority Liberal government survived another motion of no confidence Monday night thanks to the support of the New Democrats. The vote was 129 to 102.

It was the seventh time since parliament opened in January that the New Democrats blocked a Conservative attempt to bring down the government. This time the resolution charged the Liberals with failure to deal effectively with inflation.

Cadillac '74
More than ever...
America's Number One Luxury Car.

It is a matter of record that in the model year just ending more people chose to own Cadillacs than ever before in history—more than double those of the nearest competitor. And it is true that Cadillac traditionally leads all U.S. car makes in both resale value and owner loyalty. It's a record without equal. Yet in many ways the Cadillacs of 1974 are superior to the cars that established this record.

It's what you expect of Cadillac...and something more.

More choice. And what a choice it is—the greatest in the luxury field. There are the three you see here. The classic Fleetwood Brougham. The magnificent new version of America's only luxury convertible—Eldorado. The newly styled Coupe deVille. Plus six other basic models. Plus...

New Special Edition Cars. Luxury versions of DeVille. A new Brougham d'Elegance. And the new ultra-elegant Fleetwood Talisman.

More elegance. Inside every 1974 Cadillac is a new instrument panel. Interiors are more luxurious than ever.

More flair. The smart new styling of the Coupe deVille is a case in point. Its new lines, highlighted by the private quarter window, accent its youthful flavor.

More driving pleasure. Finer engine performance...from start to stop. Due in part to a new combustion chamber, a new camshaft, a choke reindexer to provide quick starting, a snorkel to supply the engine with cooler air. And something less. Even less engine noise with high-damping engine mounts, a fan clutch and a muffler for air intake. Inside the car, a virtual network of acoustical materials—including double seals on doors—silently does its job. After all, it's a Cadillac. Filing Period In Winterville Set WINTERVILLE—The Winterville Board of Aldermen Monday night set Sept. 14 through Oct. 12 as the period for candidates to file for the municipal election scheduled for Nov. 6.

According to registrar Ronnie Mallison, the filing period for candidates for mayor and town alderman will begin at 12 noon Sept. 14 at the town hall and end at noon on Oct. 12.

The mayor's seat and one seat on the board of aldermen will be up for election this fall. Each seat is a four-year term of office.

Mallison said registered qualified voters of Winterville may become candidates for town alderman or mayor by filing. The filing fee is $15 for each seat.

Chapter Hears LWV President

State League of Women Voters President Betty Wiser addressed the Greenville League last night.

Discussions and decision of the LWV-NC State Board during its two-day workshop here were summarized. Mrs. Wiser emphasized the purpose of LWV, "to encourage informed and responsible citizens." She announced that the state program this year is "The Criminal Justice System: Emphasis on Juvenile Corrections."

Several other Board members described some conclusions reached at the workshop. First among the areas needing treat LWV attention is environmental protection, according to Jane Sharp of Chapel Hill. She said the current EPA policy of "preventing significant deterioration in air quality" insures a worsening of air quality since EPA does not consider 10, 20, or 30 per cent increases in pollution levels to be "significant."

Other programs include an in-depth study funded by the Ford Foundation on why people in a democratic society do not vote, and a study of nutrition in North Carolina. Peggy Blanchard, a Board member from Greenville, quoted a government study rating 70 out of 100 N.C. counties as "hunger counties."

Local president, Rhea Resnik, announced upcoming local League plans to push for use of revenue sharing funds to finance a minibus public transportation system in Greenville. Further activities include obtaining funds for some bicycle routes, supporting the state public school bond issue, and reaching consensus on campaign financing.

Board Meeting Is Rescheduled

The monthly meeting of the Greenville Recreation Commission, normally held on the second Wednesday night of each month, will not be held tonight. The September meeting has been rescheduled for Wednesday, September 19 at 8:00 p.m. It will take place at the Elm Street office above the gymnasium.

Many farm fires are started by fuel leaks, electrical shorts and sparks from exhausters. Keep fire extinguishers handy.

The election will be held Nov. 6 in the municipal building from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. by the Pitt County Board of Elections.

The registration books will be open until Oct. 8 for new registration or changes. Eligible voters who are not already registered may register at either the Winterville town office or the Pitt County Court House.

The board also adopted reduced electrical rates effective with the Aug. 20 reading.

According to the new summer rates, the minimum charge for electricity is $3 as compared with the old rate of $3.45. Other reductions in residential rate include: first 90 kwh now costs 5.128c as compared with the old price of 5.75c; the next 120 kwh cost 2.850c as compared with the old price of 2.95c; excess over 600 kwh now cost the customer 2.200c as compared with the old rate of 2.30c.

New rates for the remaining nine months of each year include: first 90 kwh 5.128c (as compared with 5.75c); next 120 kwh is 2.850c (as compared with 2.95c); next 390 kwh is 2.075c (as compared with 2.15c); next 900 kwh is 1.442c (compared with old price of 1.38c); excess over 1500 kwh 1.170c (compared 1.17c).

The board adopted the VEPCO schedule no. 5 commercial and schedule no. 1 residential.

The cutoff date has been changed from the 15th of each month to the 20th. Customers have through the 19th to pay their utilities bills.

There will be a $5 charge for restoring current to residents that have been cutoff due to delinquent payment.

It was reported that an envelope depository is provided for Winterville citizens for making their payments at night or during the time the town office is closed.

Board members accepted the audit report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973, as presented by John Farley of Worsley, Farley, and Prescott, Inc.

The board also approved audit report of budget changes for the fiscal year ending June 30.

A half page ad was purchased in the D. H. Conley yearbook, the "Valkyrian".

Beginning Tuesday, trash will be picked up with garbage. According to Elwood Nobles, each Tuesday and Friday, both trash and garbage will be picked up at the same time. Winterville residents are asked to place their trash (limbs, leaves, etc.) by their garbage for easy pick up.

A public hearing scheduled for Sept. 10 to hear a request from Mrs. Susan Vincent to allow her to place a mobile home at the residence of D. T. Cox, Sylvania Street, for reasons of "hardship" was not held.

Mrs. Vincent withdrew her request prior to the hearing date.

The board accepted a petition for curb and gutter and paving from residents of Tyson Street. No action was taken.

Tony Moore was hired as treatment plant operator to replace Randy Eastwood. The job is funded by the Emergency Employment Act.

Wheeler, president of Wheeler Flying Service, said today that he is "encouraged" by the loads his scheduled air service between Raleigh and Greenville has been having.

Wheeler's airline began scheduled service between the Raleigh-Durham Airport and Pitt-Greenville field August 14. The airline official said since the service was begun three weeks ago, flights have been running about 50 per cent of capacity. "An average of 18 to 20 customers per day."

He said the number of customers between Raleigh and Greenville has been running "much, much better" than had been projected for this early in the operation. "We are encouraged by it...glad to see it..." Wheeler said.

Emphasizing that the Greenville-Raleigh flight has been running "ahead of projections," Wheeler explained that the "morning and early evening" flights have "been doing the best," with the late afternoon flight "not nearly as well."

The official said the firm's Raleigh-Beaufort-Morehead schedule has been doing "not quite as well" but noted that the scheduled service to Morehead-Beaufort is "not really that bad."

While "we are encouraged by the loads so far," in the number of passengers, Wheeler said the firm "has not scratched the surface on cargo." "We are going to make a concerted effort to improve the cargo carrying picture," he noted.

Wheeler indicated that officials of his firm will meet with officials in the Greenville and Beaufort-Morehead City areas shortly to re-examine the flight schedule. "We expect some schedule changes about November 1 or November 15," he indicated, particularly the late evening flight time. It is this flight that, according to Wheeler, has been carrying fewer passengers than the others.

Wheeler indicated that about 60 per cent of the passengers carried so far by his airline have been commuting between Raleigh and Greenville for business purposes. Most of these commuters, he indicated, are employees of Burroughs-Wellcome Co.

Of the rest of the passengers, Wheeler indicated, "90 per cent connect with other flights," at Raleigh-Durham.

One-way fare between Raleigh and Greenville is $17 per person. There are three round-trip flights daily, Monday through Friday, between the two cities. Flights arrive in Greenville from Raleigh at 8 a.m., 4 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. and depart for Raleigh at 8:12 a.m., 4:05 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

There is one non-stop round-trip daily between Raleigh and Morehead City and another Raleigh-Morehead flight which stops in Greenville, both going and coming.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

BASICALLY A ONE-STORY house, this design utilizes what would normally be cellar area. The portico covering the entrance avoids the typical raised ranch look and carries the eye toward the double entrance front door. From the "up" stair, one gets an immediate view of the formal living room. Plenty of light is afforded this room through the large window area at front. Three large bedrooms show an abundance of closet space with an extra walk-in and private bath. Plan HA793Y has 1,605 square feet and is designed by architect Herman York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, N.Y. 11432. Anyone interested in the price of the blueprint may write to him. Enclose stamped envelope for reply.

Manufacturing In Space Is Possible

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Space manufacturing tests conducted by Skylab astronauts demonstrate that man can assemble large structures in space, a Mission Control scientist reports. "We're quite pleased with the metals melting experiments in Skylab," Jack H. Waite, chief of Skylab experiments, told newsmen Tuesday.

"We've learned there is no problem in welding in zero gravity. Brazing or joining of tubing was accomplished even better in weightlessness than it was done on earth," he said. "If we want to build large structures in space, we foresee no problem."

Future astronauts may construct large space stations in orbit by assembling separately-launched sections.

Waite based his observations on metals processing tests conducted on both the Skylab 1 and 2 missions.

The Skylab 2 astronauts, Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma, today planned more space manufacturing experiments in a special furnace aboard the orbiting station.

They were in the 47th day of the 59-day mission.

Freedom Transformed A Captive Chimpanzee

BEAR ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Roaming at will on his own tiny coastal Georgia island with a harem of females has transformed Jiggs from a whimpering chimpanzee into a dominant, aggressive male.

But the big ape has thus far disappointed scientists by not producing an offspring.

Jiggs was the lone male placed on Bear Island, part of the Ossabaw chain, a little more than a year ago when an experimental chimpanzee colony was begun.

Despite realizing many a male's wildest dreams, the 150-pound chimp crawled away from his three female chimpanzees and back into his cage, whimpering for the human companionship he's been used to.

"Today, Jiggs is a much more independent, rugged and dominating type of animal," said Dr. Michael Keeling, with the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center at Emory University in Atlanta.

"He's very striking compared to what he looked like as an animal in laboratory captivity."

And despite the fact that only Jiggs and Saki have survived, Yerkes scientists feel they've accomplished part of their goal.

"We've more or less proven the feasibility of chimps living in a semi-free environment," said Keeling. But he added the experiment will be more of a success when one of the female apes reproduces and the infant survives.

At first, the apes slept in their cages. Then they began freely roaming the island swinging through trees or foraging for food, catching crabs and small rodents.

"They've built nests all over

School Board Asks Judge To Rule Approval

CHARLOTTE (AP)—The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education decided Tuesday night to ask U.S. District Judge James B. McMillan to declare it is operating a unitary, fully desegregated school system.

As such, the schools would be removed from operating under the judge's desegregation order and supervision.

The board also decided to ask the state attorney general to determine whether the Talent Development Program as operated in its schools is in violation of state law. Board member William Booe said state law requires students in such a program to have an IQ of at least 120. But he said that school officials, under federal directive to enroll more blacks in the program to keep eligibility for federal funds, have included students with IQ's of below 90 to 105.

the 100-acre island," said Keeling. "And they have their favorite little spots."

Jiggs and his harem even survived a hurricane.

Then Girli, who was pregnant, ate some toxic plants which brought on a miscarriage and died.

"It may have been associated with per pregnancy, a craving, there's no end of assumptions," said Keeling.

Joani, too, died, of a gastrointestinal ailment.

But the apes got along well in their communal environment, other than a few family quarrels, said Keeling. "They had a few little scraps in the group, an occasional slap but they're very socially oriented animals."

They are visited every third day by Emory scientists who give them water and a supplemental chow made of cereal, grass, grain and cod liver oil.

Chimps, like other great apes, are threatened with extinction in their native habitat. The island homesteading experiment will aid scientists in ascertaining if they can breed and sustain themselves on the island.

In an effort to increase those odds, Jiggs will soon have three more females in his harem.

All bumblebees die in the winter except for the queen bee. She alone survives to produce another generation.

Arabs Again Close Ranks

CAIRO (AP) — Israel's Arab neighbors began to close ranks again today as Egypt and Syria agreed to resume diplomatic relations with Jordan.

The semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said the decision came in the talks now being held in Cairo by King Hussein of Jordan and Presidents Hafez Assad of Syria and Anwar Sadat of Egypt.

Syria broke diplomatic relations with Jordan in September, 1970, when Hussein ousted the Palestinian guerrillas in a bloody civil war. Egypt broke with Jordan last year over Hussein's proposal to establish a Palestinian state on the west bank of the Jordan river, now occupied by Israel, and affiliate it with Jordan.

Al Ahram said the three chiefs of state had made "considerable headway on issues on their agenda."

Sadat and Assad want to open a unified Arab front along Israel's eastern border and to get Hussein to allow Palestinian guerrillas to be stationed along Jordan's cease-fire line with Israel. Informants said Hussein was under heavy pressure to return Jordan to "confrontation" status with Israel.

The sources said Hussein was willing to accept units from the Palestine Liberation Army along the Jordan river in return for an end to Jordan's political and economic isolation by the Arab world.

Overthrowal Of Allende Ends Democratic Govm't For Chile

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Salvador Allende ran for president of Chile for 18 years. After he finally won in 1970, he said they'd have to carry him out in a pine box to get him out before the end of his term.

A military coup in Santiago on Tuesday ended Allende's presidency three years and two months before the end of his six-year term. The police said he committed suicide, fulfilling the prediction he had made three years before.

His overthrow interrupted nearly half a century of democratic government in Chile and removed the Western Hemisphere's only freely elected Marxist president.

A Socialist senator, Allende was the high man of three in the 1970 election but got only 36.5 per cent of the vote. The anti-Communist Christian Democrats, Chile's largest party, agreed to support him in the runoff election in Congress, and he defeated conservative Jorge Alessandri 153-35.

Allende was the standard bearer of a Popular Unity coalition of six left-wing groups, including the Socialist and Communist parties. During his campaign, he pledged that his revolution would be as Chilean as "meat pies and wine," traditional fare in the country snaking down South America's southwest coast.

"The Popular Unity revolution of meat pies and wine has miscarried," one opposition politician, Sen. Rafael Moreon of the Christian Democratic party, commented recently. "The wine has soured, and the meat for the pies can't be found anywhere."

In his first year in power, Allende pressed ahead with domestic programs he said were aimed at giving the land to the peasants, making the country economically independent and wresting control of its institutions from a privileged minority.

His proposal for nationalizing U.S. interests in Chilean copper won approval from the opposition-controlled Congress. Nationalized investments by the Anaconda Co. and the Kennecott Copper Corp. ran into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Allende claimed the U.S.-owned copper giants were eligible for no compensation because of excess profits in the past.

The government also nationalized almost all large private farms and ranches in the predominantly agricultural nation, bought control of most private banks and took over numerous factories and businesses.

Allende froze prices and raised wages, giving workers a fleeting bonanza in buying power.

But business profits and investment declined and output failed to meet demand. The agrarian reform upset farm production and shortages of all kinds of goods began to bring discontent and wildly skyrocketing inflation that reached an annual rate of more than 300 per cent this year.

As the shortages intensified and inflation broke loose, anti-Marxists took to the streets in demonstrations against the government. There were clashes with police and pro-Marxists, resulting in injuries and arrests.

The crescendo of unrest that led to Tuesday's coup started when 40,000 private truck owners went on strike July 26. Their walkout almost paralyzed distribution of fuel, already scarce food and other commodities.

Other labor unions and professional groups walked out in sympathy. Sabotage and anti-Allende protest marches increased the fever.

Mayor Belk Will Seek 3rd Term

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Mayor John Belk, a department store millionaire, filed Tuesday for his third consecutive three-year term.

He will run in the nonpartisan primary next month against City Councilman Jim McDuffie and labor organizer Jim Rumley, a Socialist.

The low man will be eliminated, and the other two will be in the general election in November.

Beneath the surface was another motive, admitted only in private: "We want a change of government and we want the military to take over," Leon Villarín, leader of the truckers, said in a recent interview.

WERE "HOME DELIVERED"?

NOT TOO LONG ago many grocery stores, meat markets and drug stores offered Free Home Delivery. Not many still offer it today. Even the milkman and bread truck are less frequent in many communities today. The twice-a-day mailman now comes only once.

ONE OF THE FEW remaining home-delivery services is performed by your newspaper carrier. When you think about it, it is rare to have such personal daily service on such a low-priced item.

PERHAPS THE MOST discouraging part of a newspaper route is in collecting from the customers. Most people have the money ready for their newspaper carrier at the regular time. However, some readers require the carrier to make two, three or even more trips in order to get his money. We hate to see these young carriers discouraged. We also hate to see a good businessman give up his route because of the time and effort it takes to collect.

WON'T YOU HELP HIM, (and us) by having your money ready every time?

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved lower today, extending its slide to the third straight session this week. Analysts attributed the weakness to concern over a rumored hike in the discount rate by the Federal Reserve, from 7½ to 8 per cent, which would tighten money further and give a new boost to already soaring interest rates.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at 11:30 a.m. was down 3.91 at 881.85, while declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by about 5 to 4.

Today's decline in the Dow comes on the heels of a 13 point fall over the previous two sessions.

A block of 121,400 shares of Reynolds Metals traded at 16½, up ¾.

Other Big Board prices included Telex, expecting some sort of judgment soon on its billion-dollar antitrust suit against IBM and was up ¾ to 4¾; Genesco, which is rumored to have been confronted with a tender offer for its common stock, up ½ to 10; and Exxon, down ¾ to 86½.

Anaconda was up ¾ to 23¼.

Says Humor Is Destructive

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Will Rogers Jr. says today's political humor is destructive.

He recalled that his father, the author and humorist, "used his voice and philosophy to try to unite the country." He added:

"My father was critical of President Hoover, but he did not blame him for all the country's problems."

Rogers, a lecturer and humorist who was formerly a U.S. congressman and a newspaper publisher, spoke Tuesday night to delegates attending the Midwestern Conference of the Council of State Governments.

Predict 'Brink' Of A Recession

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The booming U.S. economy will be at the brink of a recession next year, forecasters at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School have predicted.

The regular quarterly forecast said unemployment will be at about 5.2 per cent in 1974. But, they said Tuesday, the economy will be at the brink of a recession that could boost unemployment to 5.6 per cent.

Farmville Mart Had 2nd Day Of Strong Prices

FARMVILLE — Yesterday was the second straight day in which the Farmville Tobacco Market has averaged more than 90 cents a pound, Tobacco Board of Trade Sales Supervisor Louis Williams said.

All grades of leaf continued strong, he said, and prices on other grades remained steady. Offerings consisted of more primings, and lugs than on Monday and nondescript grades accounted for only a small percentage of gross sales. Some $36,344 pounds sold for $485,401.48 for an average of $90.50 per hundred pounds.

To date the Farmville Market has sold 6,346,838 pounds for $5,519,213.65, averaging $86.96 per hundred pounds for the season.

Bachelor Is Top Chicken-Cooker

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A 45-year-old bachelor from Delaware is the new chicken cooking king of North America.

R. Clement Holley of Wilmington, an advertising and public relations executive, has won the National Chicken Cooking Contest and the $10,000 that goes with it.

Holley, who says cooking is "in my blood, and I love it," won the 24th annual cookoff Tuesday night with his chicken and asparagus casserole.

Student Tenants Pay With Work

DETROIT (AP) — A decaying, 57-year-old apartment building in an inner city neighborhood is to be restored within a year by student tenants working off their rent with a few hours of labor each week.

The Prentiss Street project is the brainstorm of architect John Hilberry and apartment manager Bill Marsh, who plan to "employ" tenants for 10 to 15 hours a week in order to pay their $100 monthly rent.

No Clues In 'Burn' Patch

GRIFFIN, Ga. (AP) — Scientists have turned up nothing out of the ordinary in their microscopic examinations of soil samples taken from where a farmer claims he saw an object descend and burn a circle of grass.

Dr. O. E. Anderson, a soil scientist at the University of Georgia's agricultural experiment station here, said Tuesday the probe has revealed organic matter like roots and wood chips burned at least an inch below the surface.

A Spalding County farmer Monday claimed he saw a bright object descend to earth and disappear in a cloud of smoke. He said the object left a burned patch about the size of a basketball.

Robins Air Force Base officials have taken cognizance of recent reports of Unidentified Flying Objects (UFOs) but have made no investigations and none are planned.

Anderson said part of his examination would also include conferring with meteorologists to see if the object could have been a form of lightning.

A prime chemical contained in these aerosol cans, according to the officials, is perchlorethelene, which when exposed to the heat of a fire produced phosgene gas and hydrochloric acid.

Chief Smith suggested that anyone purchasing fire fighting products contact local fire officials for information regarding their use effectiveness.

File Notice Of Appeal

The Greenville Publishing Co., publishers of a shopper's guide, "The Advocate," have given notice of appeal of a case dismissed by U.S. District Court Judge John Larkins against the Daily Reflector Inc. in which the plaintiff was seeking $198,000 in damages and an injunction to stop the Daily Reflector from publishing the "Reflector Shopper Guide," at below cost rates.

The appeal will be heard before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit.

Judge Larkins dismissed the case in U.S. Eastern District Court in August by allowing a defendant's motion for summary judgement in the case.

Greenville Publisher's action against the Daily Reflector, Inc. was filed March 13, 1972. Their complaint charged that The Daily Reflector, Inc. had unlawfully conspired to restrain and monopolize trade and commerce in the shopper guide advertising market in the Greenville area.

Judge Larkins order dismissing the case said in part said he found "no specific intent or purpose to destroy competition or build a monopoly," on the part of The Daily Reflector, noting "that due to the number of newspapers in the Greenville area, especially the presence of the Raleigh News and Observer there is little chance that a monopoly would be possible."

"Based on the totality of the record," the order continued, "this court finds overwhelming evidence that the defendants had no specific intent or purpose to destroy competition or build a monopoly in advertising or printed advertising in the Greenville-Pitt County area."

Judge Larkins noted, "competitive business is the backbone of our free enterprise system and must be upheld."

Deadline On Auto Talks

DETROIT (AP) — With a strike deadline less than three days away, bargainiers trying to draw a new contract between Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers face today what the union says could be critical day of negotiations.

For the first time since contract talks began July 18, the UAW reported reaching agreement with the automaker on some issues on Tuesday after nearly 12 hours of bargaining.

Union leaders described the four agreements initiated Tuesday as "rather minor matters" and skirted questions whether they are optimistic that full accord can be reached before the strike deadline at 11:59 p.m. EDT Friday.

"There's still time for both of us. Three days is enough time," UAW Vice President Douglas Fraser told newsmen Tuesday night.

But UAW president Leonard Woodcock added that today "could be a critical day... It's awful doggoned close to Friday."

A Review Tatum O'Neal Role Is Delight To See

If Shirley Temple of the 70's were back in the 30's and met Tatum O'Neal of the 70's playing a role from the 30's, she'd have a job on her hands teaching this little scamp how a proper girl of nine behaves.

And if she was successful, "Paper Moon" wouldn't be the fun that it is. It's more likely, however, that Tatum would have Shirley joining in her brand of fun before it was over.

"Paper Moon" is the story of a little orphan girl thrust upon a traveling huckster, who may or may not be her father. The actor as it happens, really is her father, Ryan O'Neal.

His profession is to flim-flam widows out of a few dollars in the memory of their husbands, who "bought" a Bible for them just before passing on. Tatum quickly joins in the fun and raises the ante with her shrewd judge of how much the ladies are willing to pay.

There are all sorts of other money-making tricks along the way, including the sale of whiskey to a bootlegger (after it's been stolen from his own stock).

The duo also run up on a carnival stripper and her maid, bringing on Tatum's wit to rid her "daddy" of this handicap and get on with making money, not spending it.

All in all, the movie, despite the seldom seen black-and-white filming, is a delight. Tatum may be one of the best child actresses to come along in a while, and might even gain an Academy Award nomination from this role. The film, directed by Peter Bogdanovich, who last scored with "The Last Picture Show," brings him further applause.

"Paper Moon" is now showing through Tuesday at the Plaza Cinema. — Woody Peele.

Chargers Go Against Southern Wayne

The Eastern Carolina Conference, its first league meeting history, gets down to serious business this weekend, as the rest of the league joins in, and a super-duper battle has shaped up already.

Last Friday night, Southern Wayne let it be known that it is a title contender with a 44-6 romp over D.H. Conley, in the only league game.

This Friday night, Ayden-Grifton plays West Southern Wayne for a key clash between the two powers, and a loss could mean a lot to either team.

Elsewhere in the Eastern Carolina last week, the Chargers rolled over 4-A Kinston, 26-0, while C.B. Aycock lost to North Johnston, 6-0, Goldsboro topped Eastern Wayne, 28-0; Farmville Central fell to Rose, 24-7; Greene Central swamped Saratoga, 42-0; North Pitt fell to Robersonville, 12-7, and Southern Nash beat Vaiden-Whitley, 13-7. In a game played Monday night, North Lenoir nipped South Lenoir, 14-12.

This week's loop schedule, besides the A-G, Southern Wayne meeting, has Aycock at Conley, Eastern Wayne at Farmville Central; Southern Nash at Greene Central and North Pitt at North Lenoir.

In the Northeastern Conference last week, Ahoskie ripped Murfreesboro, 28-0; Bertie fell to Northern Nash, 24-7; Edenton beat Northeastern, 14-7; Plymouth topped Perquimans, 20-8; Roanoke Rapids drilled Scotland Neck, 34-0; Rocky Mount beat Tarboro, 20-6, and Williamston burned Gates County, 40-14. Washington was open.

The Eastern Plains conference saw Elm City fall to Hobbton, 14-0; Lee Woodard bow to Princeton, 45-0, Rock Ridge beaten by Rosewood, 22-14; South Edgecombe beaten by Chocowinity, 34-6, and West Edgecombe nipped by Enfield, 9-6, along with the Robersonville and North Johnston victories already noted.

In the Coastal 3-A, Havelock down Pamlico, 31-6; Jones Senior lost to Orange County, 22-6, West Cartaret fell to New Bern, 14-7, and West Craven beat Aurora, 12-6. East Cartaret was idle.

Besides the Eastern Carolina action, other games Friday in the Pitt-Martin-Greene area find Creswell at Jamesville, Robersonville at Williamston, and Swansboro at West Craven. Ayden-Grifton Coach Mike

Overton was happy with his team's victory over Kinston. "But we still made a lot of mistakes, such as costly penalties, that we can't make against stronger teams. Kinston really wasn't that bad."

Overton's Chargers came through the game without any injuries and will be at full strength for the challenge of the Saints. "Our passing game looked real good," he said.

Farmville Central's David Smith

"Greg Nelson hit on nine of 16 passes for 198 yards. Milton Brown caught 114 of them, and Melvin Stewart also looked good."

Overton also praised the entire defense, which held Kinston to only 72 yards to total offense. "It was a real team effort."

"Southern Wayne is always a tough team to play," Overton said. "It was a vital game to us last year, and is even more of one this year. They are one of the contenders, and we must win to stay in the race."

He said Southern likes to run the ball, giving it to the tailback out of the power-I formation. "They also have a quarterback who can throw the ball."

All of the other three Pitt County teams will be seeking victories for the first time.

Farmville Central lost to Rose last weekend, and Coach Gene Brewer said the Jaguars just got outplayed. "I was very impressed with their (rose) outside linebackers. Their whole defense outplayed us."

Brewer did have praise for Barry Johnson and Bynum Satterwhite, although he noted what Satterwhite didn't play much. One injury will bother the Jaguars this week. James Gorham injured a knee and may be out for three weeks.

This week, the Jaguars play Eastern Wayne. "Goldsboro dominated them and we're really unsure what they can do. They have the type of team that could be considered a dark horse in the league. I'm hoping that we're going to show a lot of improvement this week and come around."

Conley comes off a battering by Southern Wayne that was somewhat unexpected. "They were a lot better than I anticipated," Coach Chuck Dunn said. "And we weren't as ready as I'd hoped. Not having Calvin Hawkins also hurt us, and several others didn't play up to what we expected of them."

Dunn said that the Vikings have made some changes and will be doing more platooning this week.

Willie Hawkins proved to be one of the bright spots for the Vikings, rushing for 171 yards against Southern Wayne. "He also did a good job on defense," the coach said. Laurence Harper also drew praises for his defensive work, as he intercepted a couple of passes. He also caught the only Conley touchdown pass.

This week, the Vikings face a much weaker opponent in C.B. Aycock, which also lost its opener. "They pass a lot," Dunn said, "and they are a young, inexperienced team. But unless we play a lot better than we did, it won't be a real test. We have more experience, but we have to be ready to play."

Also seeking his first win of the year will be North Pitt's Danny Wilmer, who lost a heart-breaker to Robersonville last week.

"They have a fine team," Wilmer said of the Eagles. "They were bigger than us, and Matt Wilson is as fine a quarterback as I've seen, a real college prospect."

Wilmer said the Panthers just let it get away from them. They held a 7-6 lead in the final period, but two late scores by the Eagles gave them the victory. One came after a short punt after the Panthers had made an excellent goal line stand. "They didn't let us out and we punted only to just beyond the 20. They scored on the first play, and that did it for us," Wilmer said.

He did feel that the Panther defense did a fine job in the game, but noted that several players were injured on both sides of the field. "We lost our best linebacker, Tom Glisson, with a broken arm. He'll be out the rest of the year. The rest should be ready to go."

Johnny Vines, playing both offensive guard and defensive linebacker, topped the individual performances, along with James Carr, the defensive safety, and Glisson.

This week, the Panthers go against North Lenoir, which pulled off a goal line stand of their own at the end of their game to hold onto a win. "I was real impressed with them," Wilmer said. "They are a fairly good football team. "North Lenoir used the veer offense and like to run, Wilmer noted. "They have a lot of spirit, too."

"If we play defense like we did last week, and so some blocking on offense, we can do the job," Wilmer said. "But we have to get fired up to do it."

Phillies Play East Spoilers

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It now turns out that the team to beat in the National League East is the Philadelphia Phillies.

Well, they may not win it...but they'll have a lot to say about who does.

The last-place Phillies, who have played the role of "spoiler" lately, did it again Tuesday night with a 6-4 victory over the New York Mets.

"There is no sense playing 162 games and finishing last," said Philadelphia's Greg Luzinski, who hit two home runs against the Mets. "We have a chance to get as high as second place and until we're out of it, first place is still available."

"The thing is to catch the people we're playing. They're ahead of us. You have to get them before you think of first."

The Phillies will have ample opportunity to help settle the thing. They've got six games left with front-running St. Louis, four with second-place Pittsburgh, four against fourth-place Chicago and two with the fifth-place Mets.

The race became even tighter, if that's possible, after what happened Tuesday.

The Montreal Expos beat St. Louis 4-1 and the Cubs beat the Pirates 2-0. The results left the Pirates a half-game behind the Cardinals while Montreal was 1 1/2 games behind, Chicago 2 1/2 and New York 3 1/2.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds dropped the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3; the Atlanta Braves

Les Is On The Team

DALLAS, Tex.—Les Strayhorn, former running back at East Carolina University, has survived the final cut of the Dallas Cowboys and is an active member of the team.

The Cowboys open the 1973 National Football League season Sunday against the Bears in Chicago. Strayhorn will be on the sidelines in uniform for the game.

Les is one of the five running backs on the team at this time. Several veteran members of the team have been placed on the inactive injured list, and when they return, some further cutting maybe necessary to pare the team to the 40-man limit.

Good Drill For Bucs

East Carolina University, preparing for its second game of the season, has put together two good practices this week, according to the coaching staff.

Yesterday, the key part of the drill was a one-on-one situation in which the coaches learned "who wants to play and who doesn't."

East Carolina, coming off an opening defeat at the hands of 17th ranked N.C. State, will be traveling for the second straight time this weekend, going to Hattiesburg, Miss., to meet the Golden Eagles of Southern Mississippi. The Eagles will be opening their season with the Pirates. They come off a 3-7-1 year, but are expected to be one of the tougher independent teams in the South this year. It will be the first time the Bucs have been in Hattiesburg for a football game since suffering a 65-0 pasting in 1968. Southern Miss won the next year in Greenville, 14-7. The two clubs have not met since then.

Moves Quickly On Blackouts

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Congress wants to act, it can move quicker than streaking Mercury Morris of the Miami Dolphins on a touchdown run.

Most observers believe the House of Representatives, getting plenty of downfield support, would beat Morris in a foot race at the pace it's moving on the legislation to lift the local TV blackouts on home games sold out 72 hours in advance.

The House communications subcommittee took only 15 minutes to approve the measure Monday, the full House Commerce Committee needed 20 minutes Tuesday to vote it to the floor and the bill apparently will be before the entire House Thursday.

The delay between Tuesday and Thursday came only because the report of the Commerce Committee must be printed and presented to the Rules Committee, the legislative traffic cop, before any action can be taken by the House.

The Rules Committee sets up the conditions under which the House considers a piece of legislation such as how long the debate will be and whether amendments can be forthcoming.

Teammates Top Backs Of Week

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — It's inevitable on a highly rated football team with depth that some fine players, cast in reserve roles, receive limited attention.

Case in point: Steve Runty, Nebraska quarterback.

For four years the 5-foot-11, 196-pound zoology major from Ogallala, Neb., labored in the Cornhusker camp. He was a reserve quarterback as a freshman, then ran the reserve squad for two years with only a few minutes of varsity playing time. Last year he served as backup to David Humm, a sophomore passing whiz from Las Vegas, Nev.

But last week, with Humm hobbled by a knee injury, Runty got his chance, starting for the first time in the nationally televised opener against UCLA. In a 40-13 win, he set a Big Eight passing accuracy record, completing nine of 11 for 105 yards and one touchdown, while rushing for another TD.

He was joined as star by another new name, Tony Davis, sophomore I-back from Tecumseh, Neb., and a slashing runner of a type the Huskers have sought since Jeff Kinney graduated two years ago. Davis gained 147 yards on 24 rushes, caught three passes for 32 yards and scored two second-half touchdowns which put the game out of reach.

For the tandem performances, Runty and Davis have been named national college co-backs of the week by The Associated Press.

"I've spent my entire career here preparing myself so I'd be ready when called upon," said Runty.

"Three days before the game I was so excited I couldn't wait for it. It was one of the greatest experiences I've ever had.

"I always hoped to start and get to play a lot but I never dreamed I'd get an honor like this."

Davis, 5-11 and 212, gave the credit to Runty and the remainder of the team. "They did a heck of a job."

To win the honors, Runty and Davis beat out quarterbacks Pete Vaas of Holy Cross and David Fowler of Memphis State; running backs Mark Kellar of Northern Illinois, Dexter Bussey of Texas-Arlington and Derral Davis of Arizona, and defensive back Donnie Keeling of Dayton.

LETTING ONE FLY—Ron Santo (10) of the Chicago Cubs belts a Steve Blass pitch skyward in the fifth inning against the Pittsburgh Pirates in Chicago Tuesday. Santo flied out to left field with the bases loaded, ending the inning. Pirates' catcher is Manny Sanguillen and home plate umpire is Andy Olsen. Chicago won, 2-0. (AP Wirephoto)

Ryan Beats Wood As Two Hurlers Work Toward Good And Bad Marks

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer
This might set back children's stories 20 years, but the hare finally beat the tortoise.

When Aesop wrote his piece about slow and steady winning the race, he didn't account for Nolan Ryan.

It was Ryan, the flamethrower, against Wilbur Wood, the tame thrower, in a classic struggle Tuesday night.

And in a morale booster for the overdog, Ryan the hare beat Wood the tortoise, giving the California Angels a 3-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Elsewhere in the American League, Minnesota beat Texas 6-3; Cleveland defeated New York 7-3; Baltimore belted Boston 8-3; Detroit topped Milwaukee 4-2 in 10 innings and Oakland trimmed Kansas City 3-1.

Both the fireballing Ryan and the knuckleballing Wood are zeroing in on records as 1973 wraps up its season.

Ryan's 12 strikeouts Tuesday night raised his season total to 338, 44 shy of Sandy Koufax's major league mark and just 11 short of Rube Waddell's American League record of 349.

Wood is less interested in records than Ryan. With the defeat, forced on him by third baseman Brian Downing's three errors which led to all three unearned runs, Wood's record dropped to 23-19.

One more loss and the portly left-hander will be seeing 20-20, not a pleasant sight. The last pitcher to see a pair of ambivalent 20's was Walter Johnson, pitching for the old Washington Senators in 1925.

Orioles 8, Red Sox 3
The diagnosis isn't very good for the Red Sox.

"It's not impossible, but it's critical," said Sox Manager Eddie Kasko after his club dropped an 8-3 decision to Baltimore and then fell to 5 1-2 games behind the first place Orioles in the American League, East.

Minnesota 6, Texas 3
Billy Martin is discovering what his predecessors, Ted Williams and Whitey Herzog, knew too well. The Texas Rangers know how to lose.

The Rangers, who had won their first two games under new manager Martin, returned to a more recognizable pattern by dropping their second straight, 6-3 to the Minnesota Twins.

Cleveland 7, New York 3
Yankee Stadium, the House That Ruth Built, was made small along the foul lines to accommodate the New York power. But those dimensions work both ways. Cleveland beat the Yankees 3-2 in homers and 7-3 in the game.

Detroit 4, Milwaukee 2
Woodie Fryman pitched nine strong innings but all he had to show for it was a 2-2 tie. Then he turned speculator in the 10th and had a good time.

"I enjoyed it for a change," Fryman said after the Mickey Stanley's two-run homer made him a winner.

John Hiller pitched the 10th for the Tigers, recording his 34th save.

Oakland 3, Kansas City 1
Pat Borque's walk forced in the tie-breaking run and Gene Tenace's sacrifice fly brought home the other in a two-run sixth that carried the Oakland A's to a 3-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

He's Anything But Gentle Ben

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
His real name is Robert Jerry Williams Jr. but he goes by the tag of Ben Williams. Ben is short for Gentle Ben, the television bear, but Williams is anything but gentle when it comes to hitting enemy runners and passers for the University of Mississippi's football team.

Villanova found that out Saturday night.

The Wildcats were beaten by a 24-6 score as Williams made seven solo tackles, assisted on five others and nailed the quarterback three times and the ball carrier twice for losses.

Prepare For W&M

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The North Carolina football team, ranked No. 19 nationally, concentrated on defense during Tuesday's workout for the opener against William and Mary at home on Saturday.

Quarterback Nick Vidovic and linebacker Terry Taylor were named cocaptains for the game.

A crowd of 35,000 is expected in Kenan Stadium. At Virginia, assistant coach Joe Mark told the Cavaliers they will have to work hard to overcome the experience and confidence of 17th ranked North Carolina State, which will be met in Raleigh, N.C., Saturday night. The N.C. State Wolfpack opened with a 57-8 rout of East Carolina last Saturday. At the same time, Virginia blanked Virginia Military 16-0. Quarterback Scott Gardner was chosen offensive player of the week by his Virginia teammates for his performance in that game.

Clemson, which squeaked by with a 14-12 opening victory over The Citadel, worked overtime on the passing game. Clemson visits Georgia Sept. 22 for its next game. "We've got to get up a passing game to complement our running attack," said Coach Red Parker.

David LeBel was shifted from defensive to offensive end. And Tony Matthews was moved from running back to linebacker.

Mounties Out To Bug Terps

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—After spending long hours getting rid of all the bugs in practice, the Maryland football team has the biggest "bug" of all looming on the horizon.

This one is Danny "Lightning" Buggs, the versatile and speedy flanker for the West Virginia Mountaineers who play at College Park Saturday in the season opener.

"Buggs is a super athlete, and one of the best receivers in the country," says Maryland Coach Jerry Claiborne. "We're in for an exciting time when he has the ball."

Last season, as a sophomore, Buggs scored every fifth time he touched the ball on passes, punt returns and flanker reverses while averaging 19.6 yards per carry.

He caught 35 passes for 781 yards, was the team's No. 3 rusher with 396 yards on just 21 attempts, returned 13 kicks for 175 yards, and scored 14 touchdowns.

Noting West Virginia's propensity for the big play while averaging 36 points a game last season, Claiborne said: "We've got to control the ball so they have less time to exploit people who can beat us on one play."

Maryland led the Atlantic Coast Conference in both rushing defense and total defense while posting a 5-5-1 record in Claiborne's first season.

Most of the unit is back, but inexperience at the end positions could prove troublesome against West Virginia's explosive offense.

Starting ends Mickey Riggleman and Kevin Ward were linebackers a year ago, and their backups include former fullback Leroy Hughes and freshman Ralph Fisher.

"Since none of them has played the position before," Claiborne said, "I'm sure that West Virginia will try and take advantage of them."

Maryland scored 243 points last season, its highest total in 18 years but well below the 402 run up by West Virginia while posting an 8-3 record on the way to the Peach Bowl.

The big test will be whether the revamped offensive line of the Terps can open the holes and provide protection for the experienced backs and receivers.

"West Virginia has some pretty big folks on defense," Claiborne said. "We'll try to play as many people as we can on offense to keep them fresh."

Curt Simmons won 193 games during a 21-year career with the Phillies, Cardinals, Cubs and Angels. He helped the Phillies in 1950 and the Cardinals in 1964 to win pennants.

Southern California Given Nod Over Arkansas In Opening Game

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Southern California, which began its journey to the 1972 national college football championship by beating Arkansas 31-10, opens defense of its title Saturday night against none other than...Arkansas.

A year ago, no one really knew how good the Trojans were. This time, they're heavy favorites to thrash a young Arkansas squad, the most inexperienced club in Frank Broyles' long coaching career.

Although its entire offensive line—end to end—was wiped out by graduation, Southern Cal still is ranked No. 1 in the nation mainly because of players like running backs Anthony Davis and Rod McNeill, wide receiver Lynn Swann, linebacker Richard Wood, safety Artimus Parker, and quarterback Pat Haden.

Not much is known about Arkansas, other than the Razorbacks' over-all youth, and Southern Cal Coach John McKay doesn't care.

"My philosophy is John Wooden's philosophy," he says, referring to the eminently successful UCLA basketball coach. "I don't really know too much about the other teams."

For your information John, 35 of Arkansas' top 54 players are freshmen and sophomores. You can't hardly get much more inexperienced than that.

"Coaches talk more about the opening game than any other, but nobody knows what's going to happen," McKay says. "Any coach who says he does is lying. I'm not going to lie."

Neither am I. Southern California 35, Arkansas 7.

Now before all you Arkansas rooters take umbrage at that, remember that last week's forecasting score was a mere 15 right and eight wrong for a measly .652 percentage.

Louisiana State 24, Colorado 21: The Buffs spoiled LSU's 1971 opener 31-21 and the Tigers haven't forgotten. The last time the Baton Rouge campus was this revenge-bent was near the end of that '71 campaign and the Tigers promptly whipped Notre Dame 28-8.

Stanford 17, Penn State 14: Last year, Penn State lost its opener to Tennessee and won all other regular-season games. Lightning ... and Stanford quarterback Mike Boryla ... may strike twice.

Ohio State 21, Minnesota 14: The Gophers could be the surprise team of the Big Ten ... but the Buckeyes could be national champions.

Michigan 31, Iowa 7: So could the Wolverines.

And now for the first Upset Special of the season.

Indiana 21, Illinois 20: Lee Corso has things hopping in Bloomington...and he hasn't even hired a woman coach yet.

Other picks:

Alabama 28, California 14
Oklahoma 30, Baylor 20
Houston 28, Rice 14
Georgia 34, Pitt 14
Missouri 14, Mississippi 10
Tennessee 28, Duke 13
Auburn 24, Oregon State 0
Arizona State 28, Oregon 21
Florida 34, Kansas State 14
North Carolina State 34, Virginia 6

Quarterbacking Still Is Big Problem For Atlanta Falcons

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin's major problem with the Atlanta Falcons hasn't changed since he summoned his athletes for the preseason camp.

Blessed with one of the National Football League's better defenses, the Falcons had to discover a quarterback who could generate some offense.

"The only way to judge a quarterback is by asking can he win the championship?" Van Brocklin said. "And his worst record is the yardstick."

Results of preseason games appear to have settled nothing. The Falcons won their first two and then lost three in a row behind the combined quarterbacking of veteran Dick Shiner, newcomer Bob Lee and former

Shiner, who spent most of last year on the Falcon taxi squad while Sullivan was learning from the sideline in his rookie year, fired two touchdown passes in Atlanta's 27-10 victory over New England last month.

Sullivan recorded the only other victory among the trio, but it was the defense that provided the edge in a 34-20 conquest of Baltimore.

Atlanta figures to seriously challenge San Francisco in the National Conference West race after bowing out of title contention the final week of the 1972 season.

The defense is set with outstanding personnel. The front four is anchored by two of the NFL's top ends, All-Pro Claude Humphrey and John Zook. Between them will be tackles Mike Lewis and Mike Tillemann, acquired from the Houston Oilers.

Tommy Nobis, a former All-Pro before knee injuries began plaguing him, heads a line-backing corps that includes Greg Brezina and Don Hansen.

Veteran Ken Reaves and three-year veteran Tom Hayes handle the cornerback chores while the safeties are Clarence Ellis, last year's No. 1 draft pick from Notre Dame, and Ray Brown.

Offensively, the big question is quarterback, although Atlanta lacks speed at wide receiver, needs depth in the line and could use a muscular, punishing-type running back.

There is talent amont the runners, headed by Dave

Hampton, who fell just five yards short of the 1,000-yard mark last year.

Harmon Wages, who missed last season because of injury, returns to give depth at running back, but Malone is the biggest of the group at 214 pounds.

Tight end Jim Mitchell is an excellent blocker and a dangerous receiver, having pulled down 28 for 460 last year. The top wide receiver is Ken Burrow, slowed by a neck injury during preseason work. Al Dodd, acquired from New Orleans, and returnee Wes Cheson are vying for the other receiving position.

Clint Hodgins is the 18th person to be enshrined in the US Harness Writers' Living Hall of Fame.

UPS AND DOWNS ALONG THE BASEBATH—Atlanta Braves' outfielder Ralph Garr (48) flies through the air on his way to second base (top) as San Francisco's Chris Speier (35) charges in to cover from the shortstop position. At bottom both Garr and Speier roll in the dust as Speier dives for a bad throw. Garr went on to score in the third inning of the game played in Atlanta Tuesday night. The Braves won the game in 11 innings, 6-5. (AP Wirephoto)

Candy Could Answer Billie Jean's Woes

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Billie Jean King munched hungrily on a chocolate covered candy bar and announced:

"This may be the answer."

Mrs. King has been suffering from some mysterious, and still undiagnosed, health problems which may involve low sugar content in the blood.

"My doctor still doesn't know what it is," Mrs. King said Tuesday after she and Arthur Ashe had scored a mixed doubles semifinal victory against Stan Smith and Chris Evert 5-7, 6-4, 7-5 in the World Invitational Tennis Classic.

"They're going to take some more tests," Billie Jean said.

"Right know they've got me eating sugar. Maybe it's the answer. I sure feel a lot better than I did. I was just running out of gas before."

"I feel much, much better now."

"And, Lord, but I love candy. So this is no problem. But I sure don't want to gain any weight, and candy puts the pounds on me. We'll just have to wait and see."

Mrs. King, one of the world's premier women's tennis players, abandoned a quarter-final match in the recent U.S. Open Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., suffering from what at the time was heat exhaustion.

She played lethargically Monday in a women's singles semifinal loss to Miss Evert here—again in severe heat—then was hustled off to the medical center on this resort island for some tests.

And she withdrew from this week's tournament in St. Louis.

"My doctor won't let me play," she said. "I wanted to, because Butch Buchholz is running it and he's a good friend, but the doctor said no."

Her next scheduled appearance is in the nationally televised match against hustler Bobby Riggs in the Houston Astrodome Sept. 20.

Can't Play, But His Spirit Helps

DANUBE, Minn. (AP) — Although regulations prohibit Steve Zenk from playing for the Danube High School football team, he suits up for every practice and every game.

Remember Steve?

Five years ago this fall he lost both legs in a farm accident. He was hospitalized at Minneapolis in 1968 after his shirt tail became caught in the power take-off while he was helping unload shelled corn on his father's farm.

During his stay at General Hospital and later at the Sister Kinney Institute, then active Minnesota Twins outfielder Bot Allison spearheaded a drive to help pay medical bills.

Now, as a 14-year-old freshman and 181-pound tackle, Steve aspires to get some playing time.

"I don't have a problem moving fast," he said. "My trouble is stopping after I get in motion."

Fran Satovich, Danube football Coach, says he has been unable to play Steve because his artificial legs would constitute illegal equipment.

"He can't play, but he has been a great morale boost to our team because of the great determination he has shown in practice said Satovich. "One of these days, I might put him in a game ... maybe the official won't catch me."

In addition to football, Steve plans to participate on the Danube wrestling team.

He also helps around the farm, unloading straw bales and caring for 300 broilers as well as some stock.

Bobby Bare Always Can Find Good Song To SingBy ALAN WILSON
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Picking good songs to sing is as easy for Bobby Bare as spitting a wad of chewing tobacco into a king-sized trash can. Bare makes no bones about it. He says his steady success in country music for the past 10 years is due in large part to his watchful eye—an that continually scans Music Row for good songwriters, whether they be prominent or not.

"My thoughts now are the same as 10 years ago—I concentrate on material," said Bare, leaning over the back of his office chair and puckering his lips before arching agoogy wad of tobacco into a trash can.

"Due to the Kris Kristofersons, Billy Joe Shavers and Tom T. Halls, the material is getting better all the time," said the 38-year-old singer.

"I always try to pick up on the new writers because, hell, that's where it's at."

"I don't think we have a lot to worry about it either. There's a lot of good writers in Nashville stumbling around and paying their dues," he said—with another spit-shot at the can.

Missing
Girl Dead

WARRENTON, N.C. (AP)—A missing girl has been found shot to death in north-central North Carolina, and a relative by marriage has been charged with murder, authorities report.

Searchers came upon the body of 13-year-old Judy Ann Richardson Monday afternoon in a wooded area one-half mile from her home in the Grove Hill section five miles south of Warrenton. She had been missing since the night before.

The investigating officer for the Warren County Sheriff's Department, Deputy Dorsey Capps, says 18-year-old Tony Richardson, has been arrested and charged with murder. Capps said the girl was killed with a shotgun.

One of those "good writers," but certainly one who is not stumbling around, is Shel Silverstein, the unpredictable and witty poet-songwriter whose biggest tunes are "A Boy Named Sue" and "Sylvia's Mother."

Bare's next album is devoted entirely to Silverstein song, 14 in all, and has the flair of an easy-going, light-hearted bit of entertainment.

"That's what it is. There's nothing heavy in it," said Bare, who's worked on the album for the past seven months.

"I know it's all great material," he said, lifting his cowboy hat off his head and tidying his mussed hair. "I think a lot of it depends on how serious RCA takes it."

One song, "Ever Loving Machine," is about a love-crazed man who loses his woman.

"Fortunately, I'm not locked into a set style and forced to do one thing," said Bare, who started picking and singing in saloons at age 16 when he left his southern Ohio home. Since then he's had such big sellers as "Detroit City," "500 Miles," and "Four Strong Winds," to name a few.

"The first big hit I had I wrote—called 'All American Boy'—back in '58 and '59." But, for the most part, he leaves writing to songwriters and the singing to himself.

"What I do is get good material and try to do it simply—without cluttering it with a whole lot of arrangements," said the mellow-voiced singer.

"As long as I can keep it simple, I can do just about anything—not like Ernest Tubbs or Roy Acuff. I can do anything from bluegrass close to hard rock without people saying I'm just trying to capitalize and make money."

For many entertainers, money is equated with stardom. But for Bare, that isn't necessarily so.

"I never did go for that star business," he said. "I still don't dig it. In fact when I go on the road and people start gathering around for my autograph, it still amazes me."

Agnew Is Broadening His Attack

By RICHARD H. PYLE
Associated Press Writer
ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP) — Whether on direct orders from the White House or not, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has joined what appears to be a broadening counter-offensive by the Nixon administration against its critics and accusers.

Addressing a Republican fund-raising party here Saturday night, Agnew delivered an appeal to public opinion that in its forcefulness was reminiscent of his hammerings against the press two and three years ago.

The speech echoed some of President Nixon's own comments on Watergate, but aides of the vice president insisted the speech was developed by the Agnew staff without orders from the White House, with no White House input, and without White House approval.

Whatever its origins, the speech was certain to be well received by Nixon for what it said about Watergate and what it said about the Republican party and the public in general.

The 2,300 Republicans who paid $10 a ticket to hear Agnew were reassured that the party was not responsible for the Watergate affair and had not suffered as badly from it as might be assumed.

In fact, the vice president said, the GOP recently has won important elections in Georgia, Mississippi, Michigan, California and Maryland, and is in line for additional victories in Virginia and New Jersey. He said this was because "the American people are looking for outstanding candidates who intend to get on with the business of government and stop playing politics every single day of the week."

On the other hand, Agnew said, Watergate has become a "morbid preoccupation" in Washington. He said that not only do the administration's opponents seek to destroy Nixon with it, but that they are breeding a "persecutorial atmosphere" and impeding government efforts to get on with more important affairs of state, thereby obstructing the will of the people.

Closely paralleling as they did the President's own criticism of the Senate Watergate committee, these comments drew strong response from the GOP faithful who cheered Agnew and interrupted his 26-minute speech 23 times with applause.

As expected, Agnew made only an indirect allusion to his own problems stemming from a federal grand jury kickback probe in Maryland.

But much of what he said about Watergate seemed applicable to his own case as well, particularly a remark that "we must remember that accusations are not adjudications of guilt." There also was an off-hand comment added to his prepared text, that "it is very easy to go around accusing people of anything and the accusers should be closely examined before any dignity is given to them."

He acknowledged what the administration senses is a growing impatience with the Watergate hearings and was applauded when he said the chairman, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., had been "doing a rain dance" in an effort to make Democrats grow, "but might find himself in trouble "if public opinion continues to cool that rain"

Aides to the vice president said this theme is certain to be sounded by Agnew again and again in appearances over the coming weeks.

Urge Back Bond Issue

RALEIGH (AP)—The executive secretary of the North Carolina Association of Educators urged Tar Heel teachers Monday to back a $300 million statewide bond issue to help provide "desperately needed classroom space."

Dr. A. C. Dawson made his plea to about 1,500 teachers, principals and other school personnel at an NCAE district convention.

"Many of our schools are more than 40 years old," said Dawson. "Some schools are so crowded children must go in double shifts. Others have given up libraries, lunchrooms and gymnasiums for desperately needed classroom space."

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S
HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much activity present early. The remainder of the day and evening favors completing tasks already started, but not good for beginning anything new or taking chances that might upset any conditions now in operation.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get at all those tasks ahead of you early so you free time for a romantic and happy evening. Sit down with an adviser who understands your new plans, and can give right pointers. Control your temper.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make those plans early with close friends and attachment for some important activity, then get into the details thereof. Make sure you know what some new contact really wants of you. Think along very logical lines.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make sure you keep promises made to others whether in your regular occupation, in personal matters, or with the public. Show you are conscientious. Don't begin that new civic venture just yet.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listen to the ideas of others and see where they can fit into your own particular set-up. You may get that information you need through the mail and can use it quickly. Then study other letters later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Attend to all obligations efficiently and please those concerned. Follow your early intuition for greater success in the future. Later your hunches are not so good, so forget them. Forget radical ideas, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Listen carefully to what a partner has to suggest, since it could prove most profitable to you both. Do not listen to what one who opposes you has to say, or you could lose your temper. Keep aloof.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get into all those duties ahead of you early and they are soon completed successfully. Add to present prestige. Any difficult problems can be solved easily and you can benefit much from them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you plan early, you can have that recreation you have been seeking for some time. You have to whittle those creative ideas down to a workable level now. Make sure you do not spend extravagantly tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do those things that will improve home conditions; make everything there more functional. Handle any public or philanthropic matters efficiently. Show you are an excellent citizen. Use logic in all you do.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan early and then go about seeing those key persons who can help make your future brighter. You can gain some personal goal now that has been difficult before. Do more talking.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You now know just how to add to present income as well as cut down on expenses, so full speed ahead on that. Talk affairs over with experts and bankers and get their advice. Follow to the letter.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you state diplomatically what you desire of others, you find they cooperate very readily. Entertaining bigwigs can bring excellent backing. Avoid one who is jealous of you and save yourself trouble later on.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young charmers whose early life can be most happy and carefree, so be sure to provide excellent courses of instruction, give musical lessons or art, and an opportunity to compete in sports so this clever mind will be kept busy and much will be learned, and the right foundation for life will be properly laid. Anything of an investigative, research nature is good, for there is a really fine scientist in this chart. Teach early not to criticize others.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S
HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an interesting day and evening. Changes just around the corner are coming into view and give you an indication of what you can do to quicken the activity. You will become aware of the additional information you need to succeed.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You now know what is expected of you by associates and can quietly state your own expectations so there is more cooperation in the future. Many situations break now so you know what to do about civic duties.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Being more cooperative with co-workers improves production and benefits. Make your surroundings more charming by using that artistic Venusian quality you have. Use more courtesy with mate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Stepping out with good friends for the recreation you want is good now. First be sure to handle important obligations. Don't cause enmity between a close tie and another, or you are the loser. Don't stay out too late in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try a new approach with those at home so more harmonious relations result. Do some entertaining with a sincere heart so you please your guests. Dress in fine style.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Much contact with regular associates can bring new friends of value into your life, as well as new ideas that are worthwhile. Put a new idea into operation quickly with the aid of fellow workers. Try not to impose on another.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle those outstanding responsibilities quickly instead of procrastinating and haggling over them. A little self-sacrifice for mate can bring fine results now. Show you are a master at your craft.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't start an argument with an associate but try to make the future more pleasant by more cooperation and understanding. Keep silent when another is fretting and fuming. Keeping the peace is very important right now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You need to think and act constructively now if you are to solve those problems in the proper way. Forget the fun things and stick to whatever is important. Evening is best spent at home.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Getting into some new form of entertainment is good today since it could be delightful and interesting. A fine day for creativity and gaining the favor of bigwigs. Avoid one who does not appreciate you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have to see to it that all is handled efficiently yet tactfully at home. Know what kin expect of you. Showing a cooperative spirit starts the day off in the proper manner.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day for getting into those philosophical or other ideas that could lead you in the right direction for the future, since you have support of a higher-up. Show some interest in others' problems.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Cement better relations with one who has power over your monetary affairs and you get more support for the days ahead. Converse more with the one you love and reach a more harmonious relationship. Think constructively.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who will want to serve others later in life, so be sure to teach to complete whatever has once been started and to wait until asked before trying to help anyone, or your child could use energies in wrong directions, aiding the unworthy, and lessen both the success and usefulness possible here. Teach early to act more quickly and, after sufficient thought. Give a good grounding in psychology.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Column Saved
Reader's Mate

Arnold's wife saved his life with a newspaper! For he fell off his chair at the dinner table in a heart attack. But she used the BEST cardiac first aid on Arnold, having remembered what she read in this column.

For the air contains 20 percent oxygen.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE Y-515: Arnold B., aged 43, had a date with Death. "Dr. Crane," his wife began, "Arnold had a heart attack 6 weeks ago.

"He fell off his chair at the dinner table, gasping and clawing at his collar for more air.

"I called to our teen-age daughter to telephone our physician. "But I remembered your newspaper column wherein you said that oxygen is the chief need of a heart victim.

"So I sat down on the floor beside Arnold and told him to breathe deeply and often.

"Since he was still conscious and in terrible pain, he could understand what I said.

"So he started rapid, deep breathing, thus pulling far more oxygen into his lungs from the 20 percent oxygen in the air all around us.

"And I tried to soothe his mind by telling him what you had said in the newspaper, namely, that oxygen in the air during the first 10 minutes often does more good than bottle oxygen at the hospital 30 minutes later!

"We were both in a panic of fear, but I kept reassuring him by my talk and he continued his deep breathing.

"Well, it was over 30 minutes before an ambulance arrived.

"By that time, Arnold's pain had grown more dull and he seemed less scared.

"Our physician told us that Arnold probably saved his life by the quick supply of extra oxygen that he inhaled by his rapid, deep breathing!

"So I figure our newspaper subscription can be credited with saving his life! For it was our newspaper that gave me that practical advice."

Perhaps the most remarkable player in the bridge world is Waldemar von Zedtwitz. Despite the fact that his eyesight is failing, he recently won the Reisinger Knockout Team Championship—at age 77, by far the oldest player ever to win a major team event. What's more, I hear his form these days is as good as when he played this hand some 40 years ago.

In those days, bidding had not yet become the refined art it is today. North elected to respond in hearts rather than spades since that was where his side strength lay—he expected the final contract to be played in clubs. East overcalled one spade when a takeout double might have been a better choice. After von Zedtwitz rebid his clubs, North leaped to five clubs. With every outside suit controlled, von Zedtwitz contracted for a slam.

West's spade lead was an obvious singleton, and it seemed that declarer had no way to avoid losing two spade tricks. However, after some thought von Zedtwitz realized that there was a chance, and he played for it.

Declarer won the ace of spades, crossed to the ace of hearts and ruffed a heart in his hand. He was pleased to see East's queen, for that improved his hopes for a partial strip and end play. He cashed the ace and king of clubs, drawing the opponents' trumps, and ruffed another heart, felling the king.

The ace and king of diamonds were cashed and a diamond was ruffed in dummy. Now the fourth heart was led, and when East discarded a spade declarer's preliminary work had borne fruit. Instead of ruffing, he discarded a spade, presenting West with a trick he did not really want to win. For West had nothing but red cards remaining in his hand, and whichever suit he led would permit declarer to ruff in dummy, discarding the remaining spade loser from his hand.

Thus, von Zedtwitz's only loser was in hearts, something that was not easy to foresee when he started playing the hand.
