DETROIT (AP) — More than 127,000 auto workers are ready to strike Chrysler Corp. tonight if bargainers meeting behind closed doors fail to reach a contract agreement. The talks adjourned shortly before midnight Thursday and were set to resume today at 9 a.m. EDT. A ban by both sides on public comment left no indication of how the negotiations were proceeding.

BALTIMORE (AP) — N. Dale Anderson, the man who succeeded Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as chief executive of Baltimore County, faced arraignment today on charges of conspiracy, extortion and bribery. Agnew is under investigation by federal prosecutors on similar charges involving alleged illegal payoffs by architects and engineers for contracts awarded to them.

Political Peace Agreement

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Vientiane government and the Communist Pathet Lao signed a political peace agreement today providing for a coalition government for Laos. Prince Souvanna Phouma, who will continue as premier, said he hoped the new government would meet before Oct. 10, but the Pathet Lao said its leader, Prince Souphanouvong, who will be a deputy premier, would not come to Vientiane until later.

Skies Are Quiet Again

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The Israeli government reported today that the skies over the Middle East are quiet again after the big dogfight Thursday between Israeli and Syrian jets. Israel said 13 Syrian MIGs and one Israeli Mirage were shot down, and the Israeli pilot and one Syrian airman were rescued. Syria claimed that five Israeli planes were downed and admitted the loss of eight of its MIGs.

10 Percent Prime Lending Rate Is Gaining Strength

By CHET CURRIER

NEW YORK (AP) — A move toward a historic high of 10 per cent in the prime lending rate gathered momentum today as the nation's second largest bank threw its weight behind the increase.

New York's First National City Bank announced the ¼ point hike this morning, following a similar step late Thursday by the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco. Wells Fargo's increase is effective today, Citibank's next Monday.

It was the first move toward the 10 per cent level in the lending rate for large corporate borrowers since the rapid series of increases that carried it to 9¾ per cent by late last month.

Since then, although banks have been contending that money market conditions called for further increases, they had shied away from taking the first step to 10 per cent.

Credit experts generally expected the new level to spread throughout the banking industry, but they were uncertain how rapidly it would occur.

One potential deterrent, they noted, was the present hearings at the House Banking Committee focusing on the recent surge of interest rates.

In addition, the Nixon administration's Committee on Interest and Dividends, which oversees interest rates in the government's economic controls program, reacted quickly to Wells Fargo's move with a demand that the bank advise the committee promptly on its compliance with profit and interest rate guidelines.

Some other banks indicated they would watch and wait.

The prime rate has no direct connection with rates on loans to small businesses and consumers. But it is widely regarded as a barometer of interest rate trends generally, and as long as it keeps rising those other rates are considered like-

Two Incumbents And A Former Councilman File For City Seats

JOHN HOWARD

JOHN TAYLOR

PERCY COX

Two incumbent city councilmen and a former councilmen have filed for the forthcoming city elections.

Councilman Percy Cox and former councilman John Howard both filed at City Hall on Thursday. Councilman John Taylor filed this morning. The filing deadline was noon.

Cox, owner of Cox Armature Works, has served as Mayor Pro-tem for the past six years and as a councilman for the past ten years. He is seeking a sixth term in the coming elections.

"It has been a privilege serving the people of Greenville all these years," Cox said. "I am again asking for the opportunity to represent the people with experience and sound judgement. As the city grows, decisions become more important and the job increasingly difficult. I will continue to give my best efforts."

Cox stated, "I feel that as in my own business, all city employees should be paid time and a half for over 40 hours. Policemen should be paid for their time in court.

"We have a good dog ordinance, but it cannot be enforced until a dog pound has been built. This requires immediate attention. The question of Green Mill Run, which affects our city, still has to be settled. I'm not in favor of channelization proposed by the Corps of Engineers."

"These are but a few of the problems to be settled as soon as possible," Cox concluded.

Cox, a Greenville native, is married to the former Janice Brown of New York City. They have five children and five grandchildren. Cox served two years in the Army during World War II, and is a member of the First Presbyterian Church. He is a member and past governor of the Moose Lodge, a member of the Elks Lodge and is a Mason.

Howard is attempting a come back to the City Council. He served from 1963 to 1969, and said he chose not to run afterwards because of commitments to his church, St. James United Methodist Church.

He is vice president of the Greenville Tobacco Company Inc. and the Independent Tobacco Services Corporation, a processing facility of Greenville Tobacco Company, and is executive vice president of the Greenville Export Tobacco Company.

A Greenville native, he and his wife, the former Melba Brown of Bethel, have two children. He is a member and past chairman of the Pitt-Greenville Airport Authority.

He said he would like to see programs initiated during his prior Council service completed with special effort directed toward downtown revitalizaiton and adequate housing for Greenville, using public housing funds as little as possible. "Standard housing codes are on the books — let's see they are enforced so all our citizens are adequately housed," he said.

He also mentioned continuance of proper zoning, geographic representation of the School Board, and furtherance of air service to Greenville.

Taylor, a native of Greenville is seeking his second term. "The programs that were begun have not been completed," he said, mentioning the expansion of the municipal recreation program to include swimming facilities, the development of a mass transportation system; the upgrading of the West Meadowbrook Neighborhood; generating new employment opportunities through the at-

Energy Adviser Doubts Fuel Allocation Would Avoid Winter Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite growing support for the move, presidential energy adviser John A. Love says the administration remains unconvinced that mandatory allocation of heating fuel would avoid possible shortages this winter.

Mandatory allocation would not provide an instant solution and would be nothing more than a sharing of fuel shortages, Love told the Senate government operations subcommittee Thursday.

Meanwhile, a House committee took up legislation requiring the President to impose mandatory allocation, a concept also urged by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The House Commerce Committee debated the legislation then adjourned until next week when it is expected to resume action.

Russell E. Train, new EPA administrator, said mandatory allocation "would get clean fuel where it will do the most good," meaning that low-sulfur fuels, those which produce the least pollution, could be directed into areas that need them the most.

The administration has relied on a voluntary allocation program for heating oil.

Under Senate-passed legislation, the President would direct the pricing and distribution of the nation's entire supply of oil and petroleum products to ensure that public-service needs are met and that each section of the nation gets a share of fuel.

Trade Mission Gains Factory

DUSSELDORF, Germany (AP)—North Carolina, the first American state to send industry-hunting delegations overseas, has had a success on its latest one.

Gov. Jim Holshouser said Thursday that the trade mission has nailed down the lid on plans by a European company to build a factory in the state.

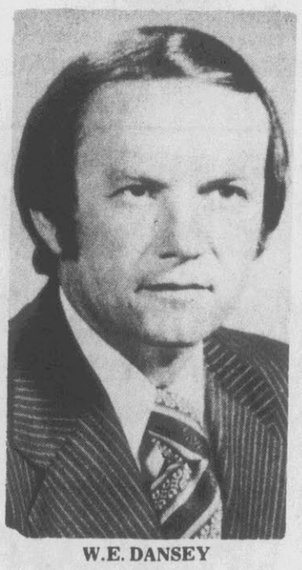

He indicated the plant will be a West German investment, but he didn't say where it would be located or what it would make."Our commerce and industry people have been working on this for a long time. We expect an official announcement on building plans within a month," he said.

The first North Carolina delegation came to Europe in 1959. The state now has 80 factories outlets or subsidiaries from 13 foreign countries.

The governor headed a 10-day mission that visited London, Moscow, Dussldorf and Frankfurt. He and his wife are sightseeing in Paris today, and will return to Raleigh Saturday night.

Other members of the delegation, which includes bankers, businessmen and state officials, will be touring Eastern and Western Europe for two more weeks.

Pitt GOP Split Said Purely A 'Technical' Matter

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Dr. John East of Greenville, a member of the Pitt Republican Executive Committee, says that the disagreement that led to the group walking out of Wednesday night's county GOP Convention was strictly technical and did not involve personnel differences within the county party structure.

East, who joined the group in challenging the validity of delegates elected at August precinct meetings, commented, "We were not at all quarreling over the reelection of officers. Our group, I would think to a man, was not quarreling with the quality of leadership in the county. Our concern was over the delegate selection process to the district and state conventions; that was the only point."

He said that "basically the position of the group was that we went to the convention with the expectation that it would be an open convention and that those present would have the opportunity to vote as in the past."

East explained, "Our point is, first of all, is that we have traditionally not gone to the precinct election process in Pitt County. We feel that an open convention insures maximum participation."

Pointing out that the notifications of the precinct meetings were not "expressly circulated," East said that "ideally they would have run an ad but only a news item was published saying that the meetings would be held at the homes of the precinct chairmen."

In electing delegates at the precinct meetings and thereby restricting voting at the county convention to those delegates, East said that "We feel this would have disenfranchised a lot of people who came to the meeting (convention) thinking they would be able to vote."

He continued, "It is unfortunate that the divisions were there because we have always had a harmonious county convention. I don't think it represents a disintegration of the Pitt County Republican Party but it certainly reflects this very real and serious fight for the delegates to state convention as a result of the Bennett-Rouse fight." (Thomas Bennett and Frank Rouse are contesting the chairmanship of the state GOP Party).

East said that he feels the events taking place within the party are the results, partly, of growing pains and the "coming of age" of the Republican Party.

Dixie E. "Dick" Greene, Pitt GOP chairman, said this morning that he feels the matter of precinct meetings was "brought up sufficiently and very clearly and it was the overwhelming consensus of the Pitt County Republican Executive Committee that we would function at the precinct level according to the plan of organization of the state party."

Greene continued, "This would mean that persons would have to be elected at the precinct level in order to function in the voting process at the county, district and state conventions."

"There was a tremendous amount of a activity and participation at the precinct meetings and elections and there was not one who was not able to participate fully and as free and involved as any other individual," he explained. "There was no intent to exclude any desirous participant," Greene noted.

"We certainly feel that the numerous individuals who

Dad Wants To Wed, Daughter Says No

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I've been going with a wonderful man who's been talking marriage. The problem is his 38-year-old daughter. She's never been married and lives with him. Her mother died 15 years ago, and she isn't interested in dating or going anywhere except with her father. This daughter has never earned a dollar in her life. She keeps telling her father he's too old to marry again [he most certainly is NOT!] and he's taken her to Europe, South America, to the Orient; name it and they've been there.

He is such a dear and generous man, he doesn't want to hurt his daughter, but he says he loves me, and if I'll just be patient, in time his daughter will eventually come around to accepting me.

I want to marry this man, but I'm afraid it's hopeless. What do you think?

GIVING UP

DEAR GIVING: It's hopeless, unless Father tells Daughter that it's important for her to start making a life of her own because he's not going to be around forever. Unless I miss my guess, Daughter might need some psychological surgery to separate her from her father. Unless Father is willing to go along with the above-mentioned suggestion, forget him. "Time" accomplishes nothing. People do.

DEAR ABBY: My "ex" and I have been divorced for 18 months, and I have custody of our four sons, ages 5 to 16. My "ex" has unrestricted visitation rights which he seldom uses, altho we're all in the same city.

The few times he's come to see the boys, he just drives up in front of the house, honks his horn, and expects the boys to come running. [They do, of course.] He never offers to take them for a ride. He just visits with them while they stand in the street, and he sits in his car.

I feel this is degrading to the boys and have told the older one to please tell his father that he is welcome to come in our home to visit, and I would absent myself while he's here. [The divorce was so messy, my "ex" can't look me in the face.]

The last time he was here, our 13-year-old asked him for his address so he could write to him or maybe visit him there, and his father quickly drove off without even answering him. Needless to say, the boy was hurt and burst into tears, and his brothers were upset, too.

The boys say they feel funny standing on the street. How can this awkward situation be handled?

HURTING FOR THE BOYS

DEAR HURTING: Your 16-year-old should be sufficiently mature to tell Father that it's embarrassing to stand outside, visiting, and in the future he should please come in the house. [He can repeat the fact that "Mother" will not be around.] If that doesn't do it, since you're not speaking, perhaps your lawyer could write his lawyer a letter.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Helpful Hint

If it is already wrapped, leave it. Another rule for refrigerating foods. If they are to be used fairly soon, pre-packaged meats can be refrigerated or frozen in most usual store wraps, say home economists for the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers. The same holds true for an increasing number of baked goods.

Mrs. Hale Is Group Speaker

GRIFTON — Mrs. Dilys Hale of Durham was speaker for a program Sunday night held at at the Methodist Church fellowship hall.

Rep. Jones Concerned Over House Veto Vote

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Walter B. Jones has expressed concern and disappointment over the House's failure to override the presidential veto.

"One of the most important bills as it relates to the health of this nation," Jones stated, "was the Emergency Medical Services Act of 1973."

He continued, "This bill would have provided emergency medical services by creating comprehensive communitywide systems providing ambulance services, emergency rooms and other facilities and property trained personnel; encouraged development of such systems by a program of grants to be administered by an identifiable agency within HEW; supported research and training in the discipline of medical emergencies; and prohibited the closing of eight public health service hospitals."

The congressman pointed out, "Not withstanding the fact that both the House and Senate passed this bill by an overwhelming margin, President Nixon vetoed same. Yet in his 1972 State of the Union message, he called for such improved emergency medical services."

"In a surprise action," he said, "the House failed to override his veto by a narrow margin of five votes. This, in spite of the fact that the bill was endorsed by every organization directly of indirectly concerned with medical care—these including two former surgeon generals of the United States."

Jones continued, "It is estimated that if this bill had become law, it could have possibly saved 60,000 lives a year by providing better emergency care for victims of accidents or sudden illnesses."

He added, "I can only conclude that if this legislation, which would have prevented so many deaths, could not get enough votes to override the president's veto, then there is no chance of any other

He added, "I can only conclude that if this legislation, which would have prevented so many deaths, could not get enough votes to override the president's veto, then there is no chance of any other veto being overridden.

Tobacco Team Russia-Bound

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. tobacco team will leave Saturday for the Soviet Union on a visit that could open the way to exploration of two way trade in tobacco production, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture officials.

The 10-day trip follows extensive discussions about an exchange of tobacco teams by Russian and American officials. The USDA added that a Soviet tobacco team may visit the United States within a few months.

The program calls for members of the U. S. team to meet with appropriate Soviet government officials, and visit farms, processing plants, experiment stations and factories.

Team members are: Dr. Hugh C. Kiger, Washington, director of the tobacco division of the foreign agriculture service of the USDA, team leader; Joseph R. Williams, Washington; Clyde N. Wayne, Brunswick, N.C.; Leo L. Mauldin, Sylvester, Ga.; James H. Montgomery, Gable, S.C.; and S.T. Moore, South Hill, Va. All represent Tobacco Associates Inc.

Living Costs In Canada Soaring

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada recorded its largest monthly rise in living costs in more than 22 years in August, a leap of 1.3 per cent that was certain to bring criticism of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's proposals to combat inflation.

The August increase was led by a 3.2 per cent boost in food costs, the largest in that category in 13 months.

Statistics Canada, which reported the figures, said the over-all 1.3 per cent hike in living costs was the steepest since February 1951, during the Korean War.

The latest hike pushed living costs up 8.3 per cent above a year earlier, also the steepest annual rise since 1951.

Raps State Bureaucracy

RALEIGH (AP)—Dr. Nicholas E. Stratas has resigned from his post as a regional commissioner in the North Carolina Division of Mental Health, but not before making his opinions on the course of state government known.

Stratas, who resigned Thursday, said the Department of Human Resources, the umbrella state agency for welfare and health programs, is becoming "more and more impotent."

This is because, Stratas said, there is too much cumbersome bureaucracy. "Government doesn't have to be big and complicated. Yet it is growing every day. The state's motto has been turned around. It's now 'to seem rather than to be.' "

Stratas said he would go into private psychiatric practice and continue to teach at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

He acknowledged that he had been disappointed recently when Secretary of Human Resources David T. Flaherty passed him over and chose Dr. N.P. Zarzar to head the Division of Mental Health.

Texas Gulf Looms Ever Larger

Texasgulf has announced a $43 million expasnsion for its Lee Creek facility near Aurora.

Since it came to Eastern North Carolina, Texasgulf has loomed large in our economic make-up. With this planned expansion the operation will make even more impact on the economy of our area.

Company officials said the expansion will be in addition to a $23 million expansion now underway. When both are completed Texasgulf will have a total investment of more than $175 million and the operation will be nearly doubled the plant which was originally constructed. Texasgulf now employs about 700 workers and 200 will be added to bring total employment to around 900. About $1.5 million will be added to the annual payroll.

Thus the phosphate operation is having huge economic impact on Beaufort County and also on our own area.

At the same time as the plant expansion announcement was made Texasgulf announced that $3 million will be spent at Morehead expanding shipping facilities there. This should be helpful to the Morehead port which needs to increase its business to operate in the black.

Company officials say that by 1976 the complex will be shipping 1,320,00 tons od dry fertilizer and 680,000 tons of phosphoric acids unused in the manufacture of fertilizer.

H. V. W. Donohoo, senior vice president, said the North Carolina phosphate, combined with Texasgulf processing techniques, "produces some of the highest quality fertilizer materials in the industry."

A 'Long Walk' To Board Role

By BILL NOBLITT

Just appointed to the five-man State Elections Board, the 40-year-old Washington, N.C., attorney figures it's been a long walk from that cell to the state board—but the experience will be helpful.

Having seen the inside operations of what he considers some foul politics in western North Carolina, Vosburgh confesses to still harboring a "real aversion to this sort of thing, and it ain't gonna go easy on anybody who gets caught involved in any sort of fraudulent voting activities" with him on the board.

He looks on the incident with a certain amount of humor, even though the incident happened at a bad time—just when he was trying to finish law school, pass the bar and get started as an attorney. It finally took a suit for a million dollars against the principals before the stumbling blocks were cleared for his admission to the bar nearly four years after the Madison County incident.

Went To Watch

It happened back in 1960 when he was a senior law student at Chapel Hill. "I was an idealistic young fellow, so six of us law students went up to Madison to observe some notorious election violations we had heard of."

There were tales, he recalls, of more votes being cast in certain precincts than there were people living there: documented cases of "voting of tombstones from the mountainsides." Vosburgh said, "We went to look, and damned if they didn't. And they still do in some of those places, and from both sides of the political fence."

Mountain people practice their politics with a passion—it's not a hobby, but a way of life, he said.

Vosburgh went to the Upper Spring Creek precinct to observe, parked his car and started using a camera and a mechanical counter.

The sheriff told him to leave and threatened to put him in jail, and when Vosburgh refused the sheriff got a warrant from a justice of peace charging him with violating election laws and put him in jail.

Bond was posted by some local friends and he was told he could get out of jail if he would leave the county. He said that when he got out he was going back to observe the polling place, so the cell slammed shut again and stayed locked till 15 minutes after the poll closed.

Impersonating Agent

Vosburgh said the warrant charged him with impersonating a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent. He went to the FBI and told them, so the warrant was amended to read impersonating a State Bureau of Investigation agent and this brought the SBI in to check, so the warrant was amended again to read "impersonating a peace officer."

Three times he went for trail, Vosburgh said, and the thing kept getting delayed. Facing the bar examinations with criminal charges pending caused some "hairy monents," Vosburgh recalls.

Finally, though, Bert Bennett, chairman of the state Democratic Party, went to the rescue of the young Republican and a settlement was negotiated.

Vosburgh signed a statement saying he was sorry he had gone to Madison County and got involved, and the court agreed not to prosecute the charges against him.

The incident left some strong feelings in Vosburgh's mind; and continued to haunt him from time to time. While Bob Scott was governor, Jim Holshouser, then state GOP chairman, nominated Vosburgh for membership on the state elections board.

Scott would not endorse the appointment. But now, Vosburgh has been named by Gov. Holshouser to the slot.

Waggoner, Too

Another Republical lawyer just appointed to the state board has also seen the inside operations of Madison County politics.

Charlotte Lawyer William Waggoner was a U.S. Attorney who prosecuted a conspiracy case involving election activities in that area.

Vosburgh, incidentally, returned to Madison County as an attorney, serving as a private prosecutor in charges against Zeno Ponder and others for alleged election law violations.

Some charges were upheld in district court trial, but dismissed in Superior Court.

Vosburgh said a big part of the responsibility of the State Board of Elections is to educate people on the law and procedures, and that hopefully this process will help eliminate future violations of election laws.

Middle East On The Path To All-Out War

The running battle between Israel and the Arab world continued with a dogfight between Syrian and Israeli air foce jets Thursday.

Israel shot down 13 Syrian MIG21 fighters, with one Israeli plane reported hit.

The situation in the Middle East is building toward full scale war. The major powers and the nations of the Middle East must find some way to solve the problems there, or else risk the possibility of world holocaust.

A Triumphant Connally Debut

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

SAN DIEGO, Calif. —In his debut as a Republican potentially seeking his party's presidential nomination, ex-Democrat John B. Connally showed last weekend how thoroughly and spectacularly he can sell himself to the most inbred and insular Republican true believers.

The reaction to Connally's stem-winding address to Saturday night's banquet session of the Republican state convention here was typified by one state legislative leader, rigidly conservative and long a faithful supporter of Gov. Ronald Reagan. Like many others, he arrived here curious but skeptical about Connally. After the speech, he confided to us: "If this guy is really running for President, I would say Ron has got problems." It was a frequently voiced sentiment Saturday night.

The fact that Connally was here at all removed one of the two great doubts about his prospects for the presidential nomination. Old Connally watchers doubted he would tear himself from the good life in Houston and Jamaica for the tedious Republican mashed-potato circuit. Yet, he not only came to San Diego in the first of many such party appearances, but, in his press conference, sounded precisely like a presidential candidate three years before the convention.

The second and much more serious doubt concerns the congenital distrust of outsiders by fiercely partisan Republican regulars. But the regulars here were ready to be converted by convert Connally. In fact, it took only 30 minutes of Texas-style oratory.

Connally could not have picked a tougher debut than this convention. Scarcely a cross-section of California Republicans, those attending are hard-core conservative precinct workers fiercely devoted to Reagan's presidential ambitions. Undercurrents of doubt among California Republicans generally about their governor's qualifications for the presidency were certainly not to be found among the regulars here.

Moreover, Connally's intimate associations with Lyndon B. Johnson made him suspect. One California party strategist wondered aloud before the speech whether the old Connally-LBJ partnership might prove embarrassing in a presidential campaign. The link was underlined by the fact that Connally was accompanied here from Texas by his close friends and political adviser George Christian, President Johnson's last and favorite press secretary (and still a Democrat).

Counteracting this attitude was a masterful performance by Connally in his press conference (agreed to by him after some early balking), a 40-minute walkthrough of a $100-a-ticket cocktail party for him and finally the banquet speech itself. When Connally digressed during the speech into an impromptu lecture on international economics, some Republicans here suggested he might just be a little deeper than their own Ronald Reagan.

Although one prominent state party leader complained that Connally "sounds too much like a Baptist preacher," his evangelical conservatism delighted the rank-and-file regular from the moment he told them: "I left the Democratic party of my father's past to join the Republican party of my children's future."

Moreover, Connally maintained a discreet distance between himself and President Nixon without seeming anti-Nixon. At his press conference, he stressed he had not seen the president lately but implied that Mr. Nixon was belatedly taking his advice on how to handle Watergate. His prepared speech, echoing White House attacks on preoccupation with Watergate, was altered in delivery to make a more general inspirational appeal.

The sum total of this might

Strength For Today

The Greek historian Herodotus tells us that certain early navigators who coasted around Africa returned with the story that they had reached a region where their shadows at noonday pointed toward the south. Their report was treated with scorn by the people of the Mediterranean region, and even by Herodotus himself. In their own experience such a thing was impossible.

Of course we know today that the navigators were right. Since the earth is round and since they were in the southern hemisphere, their shadows would indeed point to the south during the winter season in this region.

Many people who scoff at the claims of spiritual truth are in the same situation as Herodotus and his contemporaries. The scoffers simply cannot understand that truth can exist outside of their own experience. Yet even in these days of such great scientific achievement, this experience is extremely limited. The believer has encompassed a dimension of reality forever closed to the non-believer.

THE HITCHHIKERS!

By ART BUCHWALD

Strain Felt By Kremlin

WASHINGTON — Everyone says the Soviets made a great coup by buying up the United States' wheat crop for the next three years. But it is causing tremendous problems there that have not been publicized. A transcript of a recent meeting in Moscow of the Politburo reveals that the Soviet wheat deal is creating an unbearable strain on the Soviet consumer. Here are exceprts of the meeting:

"Comrades, our citizens are complaining because we are making them eat three loaves of bread a day."

"So what? Don't they realize we are destroying American economy?"

"Is true, but our citizens are not used to eating so much bread. We can't even give it away."

"Did you give orders that all factory workers must eat two Hero sandwiches for lunch?"

"Yes, Comrade. We also directed that every Soviet citizen must consume a dozen wheat cakes for breakfast. But we still can't use up all the wheat we bought from the United States."

"What about bread pudding?"

"Every restaurant in the country has been ordered to serve 3,000 gallons of bread pudding a day. In Leningrad last week they had a bread pudding revolt and 15 militiamen were drowned in the vats at the Marx-Engles Baking Co. The leaders of the demonstration, of course, have been arrested."

"What did you do to them?"

"They've been given life on bread and water."

"Good. But, Comrades, if they revolt in Leningrad, they could revolt anywhere. We must find ways of using up wheat surpluses. How many tons have we been able to force on the satelite countries?"

"We made Poland take 10 million, Czechoslovakia 14 million and Hungary 12 million. We asked Tito to take some of it off our hands, but you can guess what he told us to do with our wheat."

"He's a crusty old guy."

"Why don't we send our Ilushyin bombers over Belgrade and dump several million tons on him?"

"Is bad for world public opinion. We would be accused of using wheat-germ warfare."

"Well, who has any better ideas?"

"Why not fill our MIRV missles with cream of wheat and shoot at China?"

"It could hurt the U.S.-Soviet detente. Comrades, the only answer is that we must force higher wheat consumption at home."

"But how?"

"During the depression in the United States they set up bread lines all over the country. Why don't we do the same thing here?"

"But that was because they had no bread."

"Principle is the same. In Soviet Union anyone who doesn't get into bread line will be shot."

"Is good idea. Why not also announce anyone who goes on diet will be sent to Siberia."

Other Editors Say Just Comparing

(The Raleigh Times)

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, the East Carolina University chancellor, plans to do all he can to work for equalization of faculty salaries throughout the University of North Carolina system. He says he recognizes that it is "very discouraging" for faculty members of certain institutions within the 16-campus UNC system to see counterparts at other institutions enjoying large salary differentials.

Well, it could be said that Dr. Jenkins is seeking to compare apples and horses. There is a wide range of educational variety within the 16 campuses of the University system. They range all the way from the campus of the oldest state university in the world to a campus which was a normal school not very long ago. The needs of the students of the varied campuses vary, and the only way to fill those needs is by having teachers best suited to do the peculiar jobs each campus needs.

Would Dr. Jenkins favor, for example, exact pay scales for East Carolina University and Pembroke State University? East Carolina is much larger than Pembroke, is older, has been a four-year college campus longer, is designed to perform educational tasks not yet contemplated at the other institution.

Or, would Dr. Jenkins favor equal pay for all football teams? After all, each team has the same number of players. There are as many players on the field when the littlest of the Raleigh little league football teams play as there are when the Miami Dolphins are playing. Should the little leaguers and the Dolphins get the same pay?

North Carolina did not install the University of North Carolina system to equalize education or teacher pay. It installed the system to head off the bloody political battles which had become commonplace and expensive in North Carolina higher education.

North Carolina's university system must continue to have a wide diversity in its campuses. And that diversity must include better pay for the professors at the prestige campuses, just as it must include campuses designed to fit the needs of the wide variety of talents the young people of this state possess.

How It Used To Be

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a filter.

It sifts out much of the sadness of the past; it enhances the bright colors of our cheerful yesterdays and makes them dearer with each passing year.

HAL BOYLE

We are fortunate indeed that memory has this filterlike quality for if it were like a klieg light or a microscope, the past would stand out too starkly and its buried events be emphasized too nakedly. Instead of helping us through life, memory might kill us with shame and regrets.

By and large, you've got a pretty good collection of memories if you can look back and remember when —

You could read the front page of a newspaper without feeling that the whole world was going to hell.

For $10,000 or less, you could buy the best house on most of the city blocks in America, and you could get a 25-year mortage for 6 per cent interest.

Baseball really was the national pastime, and only rich people or freaks were interested in playing golf or tennis.

A congressman's mail consisted mostly of letters from constitutents asking him to mail them free garden seeds, a prerogative he no longer enjoys.

In a large family, while grace was being said before meals, a wise child used this pause to glance at the meat platter to see which piece he'd try to get.

40 Years Ago Today

By SUSAN PRICE

September 14, 1933

The clean-up campaign is pushing forward rapidly in Greenville and the city is getting rid of considerable weeds and other rank growth of vegetation according to Chief of Police George Clark.

The police head sometime ago called attention of citizens to the law requiring the cutting of "rank growth of vegetation" on all premises and the department has since pushed the campaign extensively.

The elimination of weeds not only relieves the city of such unsightly appearances but also aids the fight against mosquitos.

C. W. Porter, Greenville High School Coach, resigned today to accept a similar position in Lenoir.

"Soup" Porter, a former Duke University football star, came to Greenville High School seven years ago to take charge of athletics.

All Greenville boys interested in going out for the football team this year are requested to meet in the high school gym Friday to begin football work. Equipment will be issued at this time.

Defy Law Of Supply & Demand

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Again defying the law of supply and demand, as it has for so many years, the securities industry will be raising prices this fall because business is so bad.

So bad that it is losing millions of dollars a month, is laying off help, is closing up some shops. Customers who once were put on hold by their very busy broker now decline to accept his call.

After pleading their case before the Securities and Exchange Commission, the brokers and stock market officials have won the right to raise commissions 10 per cent on orders up to $5,000, and to 15 per cent on bigger orders.

This means a customer who buys 100 shares of a $20 stock will soon be paying $41.80 rather than $38 on the New York Stock Exchange. If he buys 200 shares of a $37.50 stock he will pay $116.73 instead of $101.50.

Such increases aren't likely to solve the problems of this industry, but they might buy time, and time is badly needed. The industry is in a period of transition and is adjusting badly.

The chief shock to members of the old fraternity is the concerted efforts of the SEC and the Justice Department to eliminate the final vestiges of the private club atmosphere that dominated exchanges for years.

The outstanding characteristic of those years was the restriction of competition, especially in regard to commissions, that help nurture firms that might not have made a go of it in a completely free enterprise society.

Now, declares the SEC, those days of fixed commissions are over. By April 1975, it declared, brokers will have to fight each other for business by offering better prices as well as superior service.

The increase just granted by the SEC is, therefore, perhaps the final increase to be permitted before the pricing mechanism is turned over to the marketplace, where supply and demand are said to dictate prices.

By that time there will be other changes too. The individuality of the various exchanges will be less pronounced — less clubby too — as the SEC presses for one vast central marketplace for all stocks.

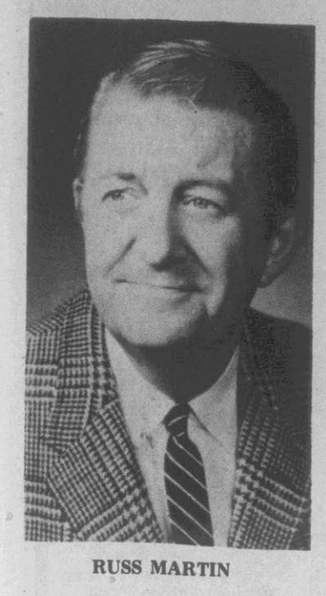

More realism also should be noticeable by then also. The commission you pay today, for example, is considered payment not only for the transaction but for a cluster of other services that are claimed to be included.

You might not be aware of it, for example, but you now pay for advice, for research, for custodial services and the like. In the future there will likely be a trend toward unbundling of services.

The effect of this will be to relieve brokers as well as customers. Some smaller houses cannot compete in the area of research, and they will not have to make that presumption in the future; many customers don't seek advice, and will not have to pay for or listen to it.

Relieved of the burden of posing as both adviser and salesman, an obviously conflicting role, the broker of the future will have an identity that both he and the customer can more easily live with.

Teen Rally Will Be Held Monday

RUSS MARTIN

The University Church of Christ will sponsor the Church of Christ-Christian Churches Teenage Young Rally Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The rally will feature Russ Martin, moderator for the "Revival Fires" television program broadcast over WITN-TV, Washington, on Sunday mornings. Also featured will be The Family of Mann, a singing ensemble, from Bath.

The guest speaker was pastor for nearly 27 years at the First Christian Church, Miami, Okla., which now has a million dollar church plans and grew from an attendance of 120 to become one of the nation's largest and most famous churches.

Martin became sports director for station KGLC Miami and has continued to do a daily sports show for 24 years. He has been play-by-play man on college and high school football, basketball, baseball, golden gloves boxing, etc for 24 years.

The Family of Mann is composed of Henry and Shirley Mann, their three daughters and pianist, Mrs. Treva Tankard.

The church is located at Greenville and Crestline Blvd. on 264 By-Pass.

The public is invited to attend.

Another Baby Gorilla At Zoo

NEW YORK (AP) — In a sense, you could say there's a gorilla population explosion in New York City.

The Bronx Zoo announced Wednesday the birth of a five-pound baby gorilla, the second born within a year to the same female, Sukari, who was reported doing well.

The zoo's first-born, Hodari, will be one year old Oct. 2.

Wednesday also marked a birthday party at the Central Park Zoo for one-year-old Patty Cake, the first gorilla born in captivity in New York.

A man was regarded as reasonably successful if he died debt-free and left enough to pay for his funeral expenses.

Almost every American, young or old, knew what part of a cow's body gave milk and how many milk faucets she had. Do you know?

Because they were born free and owed no fealty to tyrant lords or creeds, Americans felt sure they were more than equal, man for man, to any other people on earth.

When a woman walked passed you, her undergarments made a mysterious rustling that was part of the feminine mystique. It was like the sound of a soft and friendly electricity made audible.

An only daughter was always called "Sis," and a boy named after his father was known as "Junior" or "Young Bob."

A man was valued more for his character than his cash.

Those were the days — remember?

well appeal to some influential California Republicans not here last weekend: moderate money men such as industrialist Leonard Firestone and entertainment executive Taft Schreiber who have grown distant from Reagan and are not enthusiastic about a last hurrah from Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Indeed, singing Connally's praises behind the scenes here was one influential backroom figure in moderate Republican politics with significant money-raising talents. He was visible at Connally's side, introducing him and his wife, Nellie, to the local fat cats at the $100 cocktail party.

However, barring the worst misfortunes befalling Reagan the next three years, it is hardly conceivable that he will even be challenged in the 1976 primary for this state's huge delegation. Reagan, lustily cheered in the convention windup Sunday morning, has no reason to fear Connally in California.

But with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew now consigned to political oblivion by head-shaking regulars here, Connally can rightly be called the second-choice in California following his triumphant debut. That's more than his most ardent supporters could have had any reason to expect after four months as a Republican and his first Republican speech.

He further commented, "Their walking out at such an early stage at the convention eliminated any opportunity on their part to deal with any of the issues taken up."

"It was my most sincere interest to conduct a county convention that would be as fair and legitimate for all concerned as humanly possible," he said. "I regret that we are experiencing the growing pains and some of the excitment that takes place in the world of political activities."

Endorsement By AFL-CIO

GREENSBORO (AP)—The state AFL-CIO has endorsed East Carolina University's drive for a four-year medical school.

Delegates to the 16th annual convention of the labor organization unanimously shouted approval of such a resolution Thursday. It calls on the General Assembly to authorize a degree-granting medical school at ECU in Greenville, which now has a one-year medical program.

The state president of the AFL-CIO, Wilbur Hobby of Durham, said, "You're not going to get more doctors in eastern North Carolina until you get a school at ECU."

The delegates acted shortly after Dr. Leo Jenkins, president of ECU, told the convention he would seek more courses on the labor movement at his school and possibly at others.

"Why shouldn't we have professorships or chairs on labor affairs such as we have on finance and banking?" Jenkins asked.

Incumbents Held Edge In Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incumbents of both parties were able to raise much more money than their challengers in last year's congressional races, a Common Cause study of campaign spending shows.

In a report released Thursday, the citizens tobby group said the average Democratic House incumbent raised $56,364 while the average Republican challenger could get only $32,709. The average GOP incumbent got $60,842 and his Democratic challenger $29,000.

In Senate races, the average incumbent was able to raise $525,809 and his opponent only $243,070.

In races for both the Senate and House where no incumbent ran, Democrats and Republicans were about equal in their ability to raise campaign money.

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—The Navy is planning an expansion program at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital that would add 850 beds in a 15-story structure adjacent to the main entrance.

Rescuer Receives Citation

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP)—Randall S. Edwards has received a citation from President Nixon and a Red Cross certificate of merit for rescuing four persons at Atlantic Beach, N.C., on Aug. 12.

"Your willingness to help others without regard for your own safety is an inspiring example for all citizens and deserves special commendation," the President wrote Randall. "I am delighted to express my own admiration."

Edwards was cited for rescuing Mrs. Howard T. Waldrop of Greenville, N.C., two of her daughters and a friend while on vacation at Atlantic Beach.

Mrs. Waldrop jumped into the water in an effort to reach her younger daughter and a friend who were drifting away from shore on a rubber raft.

Because of rough waves, she was unable to reach them and her older daughter, Mrs. Ray Hassell of Morehead City, N.C., went into the water for the other three.

When she, too, was unsuccessful, Edwards plunged into the ocean and brought all four persons to shore, one at a time.

Winter Grass Will Cost More

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Carolinas homeowners planning green winter lawns will find seed two and three times as expensive as last year.

There has been a short crop of winter rye and creeping red fescue seed in Oregon and elsewhere.

The H.G. Hastings Seed Co. says rye is almost $40 a hundred pounds retail, compared with $13.50 a year ago.

It also says it will have to get $135 a hundredweight for red fescue, compared with $65 last year.

I didn't know how to tell Billy about the accident. How can you say to your son that his mother is injured and there seems no hope?

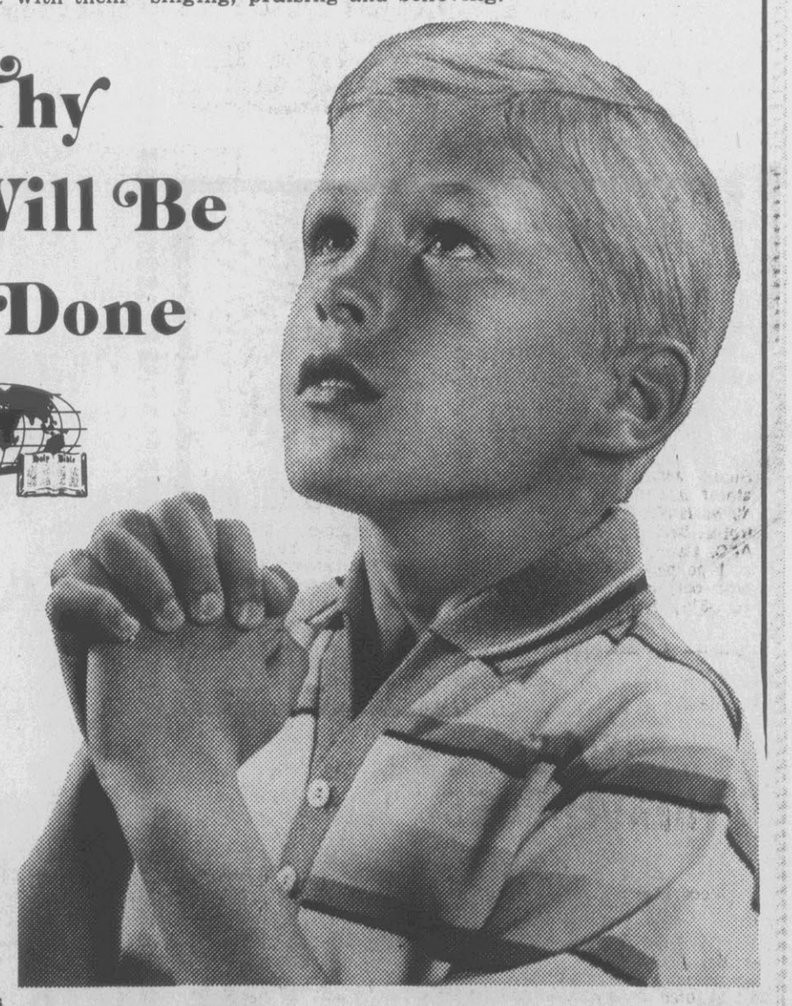

I held him close, but could find no words of comfort. Suddenly I heard Billy start to pray softly. I had always left prayers and that sort of thing up to Mary. I somehow felt it couldn't really help, but I felt myself kneeling with Billy.

Softly he prayed as his mother had taught him. To my surprise I heard no begging plea but rather earnest conversation like that with a trusted and loved friend. "Thy will be done," not hopelessly, but serenely acknowledging the goodness of God's will.

Miraculously, we brought Mary home yesterday, and I plan to spend the rest of my life praising God, not only for her recovery, but also for the faith I have learned from our son.

You can bet that when Mary and Billy go to church next Sunday, I'll be right there with them—singing, praising and believing.

F&E South Plant Planning Increased Production

Reflector Staff Writer

F&E South, a division of Tom McGuane Industries, is in its first year of operations here but plans are already being made to increase both production and the employee staff, officials reported Thursday.

Tom McGuane, president of the Farmington, Mich. based firm, visited the Greenville plant with three other company executives Thursday and today and got a first hand look at production progress.

F&E South, which began production in March of this year, produces vacuum actuators, devices that control the flow of air in the heating and air conditioning systems of automobiles, for Ford Motor Car Co.

McGuane, explaining that currently some 100,000 of the devices are produced and shipped out of Greenville each week, said that plans are being made to add two other control systems to the production line in the near future.

"We want to increase our production and staff here just as fast as we can get the new equipment in and new employees trained," McGuane noted. He said that Pitt Technical Institute here will help in training the employees.

The president said that the local industry, which now operates one production line, will double its production strength with the planned increases.

Most of the actuators manufactured here are shipped back into the Michigan and Ohio areas, it was pointed out.

McGuane said that the Greenville site, a 24-acre tract located north of the city next door to Vermont America, was selected in preference to locations that were considered in Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas, as well as other sites.

The president, who has made several visits to Greenville during the site negotiations and initial stages of plant production, said that "We are glad to located in Greenville. We are certainly happy about the caliber of people here."

McGuane added, "We are crazy about our industrial neighbors out here and actually, everybody has been most cooperative."

William Bates, local plant manager who came to Greenville from Michigan to assume managerial duties, hosted the visiting officials. Accompanying McGuane were Don Yunck, vice president; Don Milne, vice president; and B.C. Tefend Jr., treasurer.

F&E South is located in the building that was built to serve as a training facility for Burroughs Wellcome Co.

Citizens' Group Meets Tuesday

The Citizens for Total Positive Government Organization will conduct its weekly meeting Tuesday from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the administration building of Cornerstone Baptist Church.

Items to be discussed include fund raising, review of candidates for the upcoming city elections and campaign strategy for select candidates.

All persons of the West Greenville community are invited to attend the meeting.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices edged lower in the face of several negative news developments.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at 11:30 a.m. was off 2.18 at 878.39.

The First National City Bank's announcement of a boost in its prime rate to 10 per cent, talk of a possible tax boost, and expectations of continued tight money all were weighing on investors, brokers said.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average dropped fractionally, but other market indicators were up.

Trading was very dull, with most traders sitting on the sidelines.

Bucs Seek To Regroup For Southern

Running Back Kenny Strayhorn

One week after facing one of the toughest teams in the country, the East Carolina University Pirates find their work cut out for them again.

This Saturday night at 7:30 CDT, they'll be facing the Golden Eagles of Southern Mississippi University, one of the South's top independents. What makes it even tougher is that the Bucs are meeting on the home field of the Eagles.

And the last time they visited Hattiesburg, Miss., they came away with one of the worst defeats in the history of the school. East Carolina has never beaten the Eagles, in four meetings. In 1968, Southern Miss finished off the Bucs, 65-0, just one week after carrying tough Alabama to the wire, before losing 14-7.

The following year, 1969, the two held their last previous meeting, with Southern Miss again winning, 15-7. That year, Southern went 5-5, one of their better records. The main reason for that, however, is not that SM s bad, it's who they play.

Every year, their schedule inds teams like Mississippi, a 3-9 victory over them last year; Alabama, Auburn and the like. And usually Southern gives them all they can handle.

Last year, the Eagles fell on hard time, having only a 3-7-1 record, their worst since 1934. They are anxious that this year will not be a repeat of that.

And the Pirates are just as anxious that they start off with a loss.

It will be the first game of the year for the Eagles, and they'll be using an inexperienced quarterback, Jeff Bower, a sophomore who transfered from the University of Georgia.

East Carolina, meanwhile, will be trying to rebound from their 57-8 defeat at the hands of North Carolina State, ranked 17th in the nation.

"We've had a good week of practices," Coach Sonny Randle said. "But that doesn't mean that we'll beat Southern Mississippi." Randle added that last week didn't uncover that many problems that had to be solved. "We had some mistakes and we needed a better team effort. We've made some changes in the lineup, and we hope that we're going to be better for it."

Among those changes is moving Rick Leonard into one of the tackle positions, and Cary Godette and Buddy Lowry to the defensive ends, along with Jim Bolding to safety.

"I think we've found out who wants to play," Randle said. "We're better players and better coaches for our work this week."

Randle also feels that East Carolina will benefit from having a game under its belt. "But we're going to have everything in the world going for us to be successful against Southern."

The Eagles will present all kinds of problems for the Pirates. "We're outmanned and outnumbered," Randle said. "Sure, their quarterback is listed as a question mark, but he was at Georgia, and he looked pretty good in their spring game. They're not worried about him."

Randle said Southern reminded him of Tampa, two years ago, when the Bucs were "manhandled."

They are the same type of team. They are ungodly big, and will outweigh us 30 pounds a man," he said.

Southern will also present a varied offense. They like to pass, and they like to run, also. While their quarterback is untested, he has some receivers back. Four of the 11 men who caught passes last year are back, including 6-0, 200-pound senior fullback Wilson Plunkett, the leading returnee, with 188 yards; 6-1, 212-pound junior tight end John Sawyer, who took receptions 242 yards; 6-2; 210-pound senior flanker Harvey McGee, who caught four for 54 yards, and the man everyone will be watching, 5-10, 200-pound senior halfback Doyle Orange. Dandy Doyle who caught 14 for 162 yards last year, is the leading rusher on the team too. He picked up 905 yards in 221 carries last year, an average of 4.1 per lug. He's alread been called "one of the South's outstanding runners," by the press this year.

Plunkett also is a hard runner, picking up 293 yards in 59 carries last year, a 5-0 average.

On defense, Southern uses variations of the 5-2, with linebacker Mike Dennery leading things. He led the team in tackles last year with 185. He stands 6-0 and weighs 210. Defensive end Fred Cook, 6-3, 22, is next with 122 tackles, including 37 sacks of the quarterback over the past two seasons.

All-in-all, it presents a tough picture for the Pirates.

But still, Randle and the Bucs haven't given it up. "We are going down there to play football and put forth the best effort we can. We're not going with the idea of getting best, but with the idea of doing the job. If we do this, the scoreboard will take care of itself."

Randle said last year's record meant nothing. "Look what they did to Richmond, just one week after we beat them 21-0. They won 34-9, and really beat them worse. It just shows the comparative strengths."

And could what happen last week happen again? "I never thought it could happen then—and it did. So you have to be concerned that it can happen again. We just hope it doesn't," Randle said.

The game is the second straight on the road for East Carolina, and they still have another contest away, against Southern Illinois, before their first home game, against Furman, two weeks from now.

Inter-Club Golf Tournament Set

Golfers from Greenville Country Club and Brook Valley Country Club tee off Saturday at Brook Valley in the Annual Inter-Club Golf Tournament. A total of 108 golfers from both clubs start teeing off at 9:04 a.m. This is the largest field in the tournament in several years.

The golfers will be flighted after Saturday's round and new pairings will be made for the final round on Sunday.

Jim Hillard, last year's winner at Greenville Country Club will not defend his title since he has turned professional on the Florida tour. There are quite a number of golfers that could very easily take the title as we have many low handicap golfers entered in the tournament this year.

Brook Valley is in fine shape and will definitely be a challenge for this year's event. The greens are excellent, fairways are lush and the rough will be a little tricky. We feel that everyone will enjoy the condition of the golf course.

Presentation of awards will take place at approx. 6:30 p.m. on Sunday. Trophies will be presented to the winner and runner-up of each flight.

Whither George Dickel?

With or without the rocks? Either way it's superb Tennessee Sour Mash Whisky.

Why? It's mellowed through charcoal. For a smooth, expensive taste.

There's a little bit of Tennessee in every sip.

Pirates Again Seen To Lose

We just may have to start making the rest of the crew pick these high school games too.

Our predictions started out last week with a perfect 6-0 record in the high school ranks, but in the poll, we tied for third with an 8-4 record.

John Trotman and Sandra Spivey tied for the first week's lead with a couple of 9-3 sheets, while all the rest of us went 8-4, making it all pretty close. This week may help to unsettle the log jam just a bit.

Before we get to them, however, we'll take a look at the area high school games.

The top game in the county is the meeting of Southern Wayne and Ayden-Grifton. Both got off to impressive starts last week, and this game is billed as one which might mean the conference title, despite its earliness. Both are tough, and it might be a squeeker. I'll stick with the Chargers however, giving them that home-field nod.

Eastern Wayne is visiting Farmville Central and both are coming off opening losses to 4-A teams. The Jaguars had their problems last week, and Gene Brewer is hoping that he's gotten them solved for this week. We'll take a chance and pick Farmville.

C. B. Aycock visits Conley in another meeting of winless teams. The Falcons have a new coach and like to throw the ball. Conley has had the reputation of being a team that likes to intercept it. It might go down to this, and we'll give a slight edge to Conley.

Robersonville is at Williamston in a battle of the Martin County giants. Both won impressively last week, and this is always one of the highlights of the season. It could go either way, and we hate to have to pick this one. But since it's in Williamston, we'll go with the Tigers.

North Pitt travels to North Lenoir in another Eastern Carolina league game. The Panthers nearly pulled off an upset of Robersonville last week, while North Lenoir hung on to whip South Lenoir. Again, it could be a real tough one, but we'll have to go with North Lenoir.

Southern Nash is at Greene Central in the other Eastern Carolina game. The Rams got off to a fine start last week, and they might be the team to step in between both Southern Wayne and Ayden-Grifton and grab the title. We'll pick Greene Central in this one.

Now to the poll and its results.

First Rose High School travels to New Bern to meet the tough Bears. Rose showed that its offense is coming alive last week, and its defense is also getting stronger. This will be a much tougher test, however, as the Rampants try to stop the tough running of Eli Smith.

The outlook isn't bright according to the panel. Four of the six pick New Bern to come out on top. Only Jack Whichard and myself have faith in the Rampants.

East Carolina, after last week's disaster in Raleigh, travels to Mississippi to meet the Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles Saturday night. That promises to be no picnic for the Pirates. They've never beaten Southern Miss, and the oddsmakers say they are not likely to again this year. It will be a struggle if they do, that's almost a certainty.

The panel, however, is unanimous again—in picking the Bucs to lose.

Vols See Duke As One Of Biggest Teams They Face

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Battle, coach of ninth-ranked Tennessee, says the Duke football team, which will be met at home Saturday night, will be one of the biggest teams the Vols will play this season.

"The thing which impresses me is the aggressive way which they play and the soundness of the coaching they receive," he said.

Joe Mills, a senior from Greenville, S.C., a nonscholarship member of the Tennessee squad, will get his wish. He will don an Orange jersey for the first time as the teams open their season in a renewal of one of the South's oldest rivalries.

Mills spend his sophomore year on the B-team running fullback plays at the varsity defensive line. Last year he was sidelined with a knee injury. He is going to dress out in jersey No. 97 and may get in for a play or two.

The series goes back to 1893, and Duke leads 10-9-2. The last meeting was in Durham, N.C., in 1956, Duke winning 33-20.

Seventeenth-ranked North Carolina State will start junior college transfer Frank Haywood at defensive tackle in the home game against Virginia Saturday night. The regular starter at the position, Doug Carter, has a virus, and his backup man, John Goeller, is out with a bruised kidney. It will be the only league game this week for Atlantic Coast Conference teams.

North Carolina, ranked No. 19, emphasized the kicking game in practice for meeting William and Mary at home Saturday afternoon. Coach Bill Dooley said he was happy with the punting of Dale Lydecker and the placekicking of Ellis Alexander.

Maryland Coach Jerry Claiborne said, "From everything we've heard, West Virginia's defense is much improved over last year, and that is the only weakness they had then." The teams will open their season Saturday afternoon at Maryland.

Wake Forest will be meeting Florida State for the 10th time Saturday night, and for the first time at home in Winston-Salem, N.C. Wake Forest, which has a new coach, Chuck Mills, formerly of Utah State, is expected to build its offense around the aerial game. The Florida State Seminoles are expected to rely more on long drives since their big-play passing duo of quarterback Gary Huff and wide receiver Barry Smith have moved to the pros. Coach Larry Jones said FSU will still pass, with quarterbacks Billy Sexton and Mark Olando operating the offense. But they will be shorter passes to provide balance to a running game.

Rose Jayvees Top New Bern

Rose High's Jayvee team opened its season Thursday by defeating New Bern, 22-14.

Bud Phillips was highly pleased by the team's showing, noting that New Bern had two victories under its belt, having defeated Havelock and Cartaret.

Rose scored in the first quarter with Andrew Newton going over the line from two yards out, and a 2-point conversion (a pass from J. Chenier to Jeff Barber) was added.

New Bern scored in the second period with an 11-yard run by Leo Wins. Rose followed with a TD on an 11-yard pass from Chenier to Curtis Keys.

Two more points came to the locals in the third period on a safety by Howard Hill, which resulted from a fumbled punt attempt.

New Bern came back in the fourth quarter scoring on a 57-yard screen pass and the conversion was good. An interception for Rose by Harry Pair was returned 65 yards for a TD. The attempt for extra point failed.

Score by quarters:
Rose — 8-6 - 2-6
New Bern — 0-6 - 0-8

Bans Sports 'Blackouts'

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was expected to sign into law today legislation that would enable sold out National Football League home games to be telecast locally in the city in which they are played.

Congress gave speedy final approval to the legislation Thursday so that most of the NFL's 1973 season's openers Sunday and Monday could be telecast to local pro football fans in the comfort of their homes.

Shortly before Congress took its final action, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said that although the league opposed the legislation, he had informed the major television networks to lift the TV blackout on sold-out games.

About two-thirds of Sunday's games and the Monday night contest would be covered by the legislation and would be televised locally.

Richmond Sees No Easy Game Ahead Against The Wildcats

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

Richmond has won the Southern Conference football title twice and shared it a third time in Frank Jones' seven years as head coach, yet the Spiders have gone into the league part of their schedule only once in that time with a .500 record.

For the first time Saturday, the Spiders will open a season under Jones with a conference opponent—Davidson's Wildcats—and even that doesn't make the veteran coach ecstatic despite 16 starters from a team that went 5-1 in the league and 6-4 over-all last year.

"Davidson plays us as well as anyone in the league," says Jones. "They always give us a battle, especially down there."

And it's "down there" at Davidson that the Spiders become the final conference team to swing into action. They'll be facing a team that dropped a 23-0 decision last weekend to Wofford.

One other conference game is on this weekend's schedule in contrast to last week, when the seven teams that opened their seasons did it against outside opposition.

Furman's Paladins, who turned in one of the two victories by beating Presbyterian 13-6, play host Saturday night to Appalachian State's Mountaineers, who were drubbed by Western Kentucky 42-7.

Last week's only other winners, William and Mary's Indians, go to defending Atlantic Coast Conference champion North Carolina, making its first start, in one of two afternoon nonleaguers. Virginia Military's Keydets are at home against Navy in the Middies' opener.

The night schedule finds The Citadel's Bulldogs entertaining Presbyterian and East Carolina's defending champion Pirates at Southern Mississippi.

William and Mary defeated Virginia Tech last weekend 3124, but VMI was beaten 16-0 by Virginia's Cavaliers, The Citadel was edged by Clemson 14-12 and East Carolina was bombed by N. C. State 57-8.

One question mark at Richmond is whether Jones will start one of two juniors, Harry Knight or Dave Yount, at quarterback.

"We feel that we have two No. 1 quarterbacks," says Jones. "It really doesn't matter who starts. Both will play."

Junior college transfer Dinky Jones has given the Spiders a lift at flanker, while Jones has two of the league's top players in 235-pound senior fullback Barty Smith annd 220-pound senior linebacker Pat Kelly, a two-time All-Southern selection.

Freshman David Whitehurst, who came off the bench to rally Furman to its victory over Presbyterian, will start for the Paladins against Appalachian State.

"We believe that David earned the starting job," says Coach Art Baker. "He is still rough around the edges, but the only way to measure a quarterback is whether he can get you in the end zone, and David has proven he can do that for us."

Appalachian Coach Jim Brakefield says Western Kentucky had a better team against him, "but I feel the score wasn't a true picture of the actual game. . . We have our full attention now on Furman and hope our players can put to use the lessons they learned . . . "

A potent offense led by quarterback Bill Deery, tailback Frankie Prochilo and a veteran line powered William and Mary past Virginia Tech, and the defensive unit—despite giving up 438 yards—came up with the big play when needed.

"We haven't been able to detect any noticeable weaknesses of theirs because I believe North Carolina's got a great football team," says Indian Coach Jim Root. When the two teams met two years ago, the Tar Heels pulled out a 36-35 decision in the final minutes.

VMI is expecting its biggest home crowd in history—more than 10,000—for the Navy game.

Temporary Tax Hike Suggestion Meets Opposition

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hail of Congressional opposition has greeted a suggestion that President Nixon may try to fight inflation by increasing income taxes temporarily and returning the extra funds to taxpayers later.

The purpose of the tax increase would be to take money out of the economy, to help slow the current economic boom.

If the report given newsmen Thursday by Presidential Counselor Melvin R. Laird was intended as a trial balloon — as some congressmen suggested — it may well have been punctured.

Laird, Nixon's principal domestic aide, emphasized there had been no decision to send Congress the plan, which he attributed to Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns.

Listing it as one of a number of ideas under consideration, Laird said the proposal was to impose a surcharge, probably of 10 per cent, so that a person who normally paid $1,000 in taxes would pay $1,100 instead. The extra $100 would be refunded in two to five years, after inflation abated.

"This is not the same as a tax increase," Laird argued, holding the plan would not violate Nixon's pledge against increasing taxes.

But most representatives and senators who commented didn't see it that way.

"It looks like a trial balloon they are already backing away from," said Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., acting chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Throughout last year's campaign, Nixon promised spending control policies that would avoid the need to raise taxes. He said, for example, in an Oct. 7, 1972, radio speech, "America needs not a tax increase, but tax relief."

In his message to Congress last Monday, Nixon said, "This administration continues its strong opposition to a tax increase."

Ullman said of the proposal "I couldn't support it. I favor a loophole-closing tax bill that would raise revenue."

Rep. Herman T. Schneebeli of Pennsylvania, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, said his first impression was "not very favorable."

The recuperating chairman of the committee, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said from his Little Rock hospital bed that the plan certainly would look like a tax increase to a worker who saw more funds withheld from his pay check.

Organizations Given Plaques At Jaycee Meet

Awards for best participation in the Aug. 28-29 Bloodmobile Drive were presented to a club, a business, and an industry at a Jaycees meeting last night. The Jaycees, under the leadership of Johnson Moore Jr., sponsored the Drive.

Presented plaques by Moore were Ken Beatty, representing the Greenville Kiwanis Club; Clarence Tugwell, representing First Federal Savings and Loan Association; and Charles Swanner, representing the local Union Carbide Plant.

Moore thanked all the Jaycees who worked to distribute Blood Bank Donor Pledge Card and also those who gave blood themselves. He recognized the three subchairmen of the Blood Drive committee, Charles Asbell, Johnny Carros, and Mike Messick.

Jim Thompson, accepted the chairmanship of the Investigation Committee and will follow up investigations of hazards to animals.

Miss Evelyn Beasley continues as chairman of the Spaying Committee and will continue to issue reduced-fee spaying certificates covering cats both male and female, and mixed breed dogs, (female).

The Adoption phone number is 758-4842 and Investigations is 752-4897. Spaying applications may be obtained by phone at 752-5794.

If contact cannot be made with the above, President House can be reached at 752-6860.

A discussion and plans were set up for the Trash and Treasure Booth to be open at the Moose Lodge Saturday Sept. 22nd from 10 AM to 6 PM for the purpose of making money to help finance humane programs relating to the care of abandoned and injured animals that are sent to the local veterinary hospitals.

The public is invited to the next meeting to be held on October 15th at Planters National Bank, at 8 p.m.

Postage Stamps By Mail Planned Soon

Postmaster H. Lloyd Mills announced today that a new "Stamps by Mail" service will be offered in the Greenville area, beginning later this month.

According to Mills, this new service will permit customers to purchase stamps and stamped envelopes through mail using a personal check or money order.

The Postmaster noted that "this service will be of great benefit to all our customers and especially shut-ins, the elderly and working wives. It will enable them to fill their postal needs simply, rapidly and inexpensively from their own homes." Leaflets spelling out the details of the service will be distributed to area households and small businesses during the next few weeks.

"This new service has been tested in selected cities nationwide with very positive results" said Mills. "One of our customers in a test city wrote 'I am very happy about this service, as many of us older people can't get around the way we would like. We really appreciate this new service.' Obviously we are pleased to provide a service which means so much to people like this senior citizen."

A 40-cent fee will be charged to defray the cost of two-way postage, internal processing of checks and other costs associated with this new service.

Law Requires Stop For Buses

Greenville police officials today cautioned local motorists that they face legal action if they fail to stop for a stopped school bus as required by law.

Chief Gelnn Cannon said a number of complaints have been received recently about cars passing stopped school buses.

He emphasized that such an act is a violation of state law and said drivers who violate the law will be charged.

The police official reminded that drivers should stop—whether meeting or following a bus—when the bus is stopped with it's "stop" sign and warning lights flashing as it picks up discharges students.

Card play at bridge is an art, not a science, claim the experts, and therefore cannot be learned.

That is only partly true. Anyone can become a better technician by teaching himself to count—both the opponents' distribution and their high-card strength. In The Art of Card Reading at Bridge [Harper & Row, $8.95], veteran bridge writer and teacher Fred Karpin has collected a series of hands that illustrate how a player can uncover the holdings of the other players at the table. Today's hand is an example.

After East had opened the bidding with one no trump, South overcalled with two spades. Tho he had no distributional values, North felt he had sufficient high cards to merit a game try, which South accepted because of his distributional values and side ace.

West led the jack of hearts, and declarer could see three losers in the red suits. It seemed that everything depended on a successful finesse for the queen of clubs. In view of East's opening bid, it was almost certain that the spade finesse would succeed but that the ace of hearts was offside. There was also the slight additional chance that East had a doubleton ace of hearts, so declarer played low from dummy on the opening lead. West won and continued with a heart to East's queen. The ace of hearts was led and ruffed.

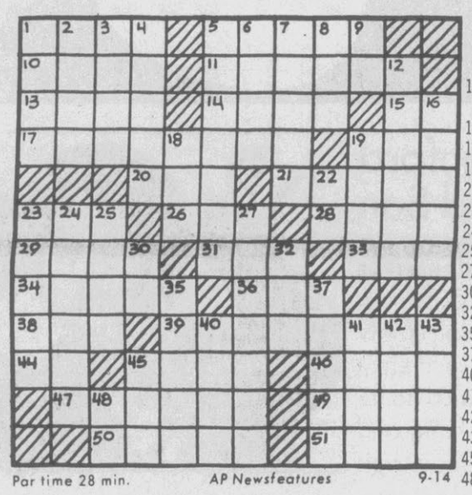

Declarer crossed to the ace of diamonds and led and passed the ten of spades. When this won, declarer continued with the nine, East ducking again as West discarded a heart.

Before continuing, declarer paused to review the situation. He and dummy together held 23 points, and West had showed up with 1 point. East had to have the queen of clubs for his no trump opening, which meant that the finesse was destined to lose.

Therefore, South had to find an option other than the club finesse. Before drawing the outstanding king of trumps, he led the jack of clubs from dummy. East covered and South won with the ace. The ace of spades was cashed, and a low club was led. When West followed with the seven, declarer played dummy's nine. This maneuver, known as a "backward finesse," proved successful, and the game was made.

Under normal circumstances, this line of play would be 3-1 against. However, once the normal club finesse was proved to be useless, any chance is better than no chance at all.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1973

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is one of the most curious of days, astrologically speaking, and it wavers back and forth between good and difficult influences, but one can truthfully say this is no Saturday to take chances or spend more than one can truly afford, so saving money, counting your dollars and being friendly are musts.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Figure out how to get real estate you have and bank account improved, added to today. Honesty is the keynote now when dealing with others. Take no risks where social communications are concerned.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Analyze your appearance and yourself as a whole now and see where to make improvements. Don't get taken in by quacks where health treatments are concerned. Stick to the tried and true.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan to get all those small duties out of the way and forget the social, or fun things for the time being. Not a good day for expanding either. Plan to assist one in trouble during free time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Weed out those friends who are more a hindrance than anything else and use your time and money more wisely. Let your aims be more conservative than in the past. Show you are practical.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try to get into activities that will put you in a good position with bigwigs and add to present prestige. Make sure you do not take any chances in the active world, or it could cost you a pretty penny. Think logically.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Being interested in new outlets is fine but make certain to study all phases well, or you could lose your shirt. Use your good judgment as well as your fine hunches for best results. Avoid one who puts a dampener on your ideas.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to keep those promises that have been impossible to attend to during busy week and pay the bills that are vital. Show you have good judgment and do not go simply on hunches. Combine both ideally.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make sure you keep confidential whatever has been told you by mate or associate, or you lose their goodwill. Do not enter into any public argument, or you come out the loser. Quietly walk away from it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do whatever will make your surroundings more charming and steer clear of those who want to waste your time or get you confused. Take the health treatments that make you feel aces. Evening fine for entertaining at home.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have to get into tasks you hardly like part of the day, but then go out for a happy time and feel better. Use that smile more and you find others are more responsive. Take any little emergency in your stride.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Keep busy in the outside world and do errands, chores, so you avoid possible arguments that could start at home. Make progress. Stave off trouble at home in p.m. by the simple expedient of a smile.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Keep busy at the reports and statements that are important and keep out of trouble today. Work on monetary matters until they are properly arranged. Improve hobbies with friends in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those interesting young people who will vacillate from one idea or point of view to another if you do not teach early to set a straight path and follow it, after making certain all facts and figures are accurate. Slant the education along lines of real estate, property management, public utilities, etc., where precision and neatness are the requirements. Give good religious training and teach to love sports.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

They'll Behave If Mom Leaves

Teddy shows why doctor want the mothers of kiddies out of their examining rooms. Dr. Dan is unusually popular with child patients. But he often must let temper tantrum brats learn who is boss. Dr. Spoof's "permissive" doctrines have even generated school riots!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE Y-515: Teddy B., aged 4, visited the office of my dentist son.

But Teddy was a spoiled only child, whose doting mother hovered over him.

Teddy knew he had her under his thumb, so he was really a temper tantrum brat.

He wouldn't get into the dental chair.

So Dr. Dr. Dan calmly asked Teddy's mother to go out into the reception room and leave them alone together.

But Teddy still remained adamant.

"I won't do it! I won't do it!" he said, as he figured he could dominate the doctor just as he had his mother.

Dr. Dan seized him by both his arms and set him down kerplop in the dental chair.

"When you visit a doctor, you do as he tells you!" Dr. Dan's voice was well modulated by deliberate control, but low and even.

"I'm just going to take an X-ray picture of your teeth, so open your mouth."

Dr. Dan took hold of his arm and squeezed it, while his voice resembled that of the cartoonist's Phantom, before whom all the jungle would tremble, for Dr. Dan Said:

"You heard me! When I say open your mouth, you OPEN it, see?"

Teddy meekly opened his mouth as wide as possible.

"That's just fine" Dr. Dan the complimented him.

And never thereafter did Dr. Dan have any trouble with Teddy.

In fact, Teddy became one of Dr. Dan's greatest rooters thereafter.

Which brings out a very valuable psychological point, of great importance to parents, namely, NEVER let a child outbluff you.

It seldom takes more than one evidence of corporal punishment to show the child that thereafter you have a steel fist in your kid glove!

Verbal control of children becomes easy thereafter, IF.

And that big "IF" means, IF, you have let them realize that you will not hesitate to inflict a little corporal pain if they don't abide by the rules of the game.

Remember, too, that a snap of your finger can produce more pain than a slow slap on his bottom!

So it isn't massive force that necessarily produces pain but a flick of your finger or a small switch.

And pain is the quickest, most efficient type of teaching both children and lower animals the proper rules of deportment.

A mother dog or cat smacks her unruly offspring or many even bite it when it gets out of line.

Thereafter, the puppy or kitten remembers.

For God Almighty endowed children and other young creatures with more pain receptors in their skin than any other type of sensory cells.

That apparently was to make sure that parental creatures inflicted a little judicious pain to add more authority to their human words, or to the dog's growl or the cat's meow.

A child rarely touches a hot electric iron or stove but once, for pain is not only a quick but a lasting deterrent to future violations of the rules.

Doctors of medicine and dentistry find that kiddies usually behave very well when you doting mothers leave the room!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)
