Mandatory Energy Conservation Talked

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials who launched a nationwide campaign for voluntary energy conservation ten days ago are beginning to talk about making it mandatory.

They say such conservation could mean fewer airline flights and a little less television.

So far, mandatory fuel conservation is in the discussion stage, they said Thursday. But that's what they said last Aug. 9.

At the time a program of mandatory fuel allocation was published "for comment only" from the public and industry, and it was billed as a possible successor to voluntary allocation.

On Nov. 1 mandatory allocation for controlling wholesale distribution of home heating oil, diesel fuel, jet fuel, becomes a reality. This program already is in effect for propane gas.

The administration has hoped to stand pat on this limited mandatory program with the aid of voluntary public cooperation in conserving fuel.

However, the administration already anticipates a winter heating-oil shortage of at least 100,000 barrels per day. Also the outlook was not improved this week when Arab oil nations vowed to cut their production to create political pressures against Israel.

Charles J. DiBona, deputy director of the White House Energy Policy Office, floated the mandatory conservation idea last Friday when asked how the United States would manage its fuel problems if the Arabs cut off their oil.

"I don't think it would require rationing," DiBona said. "It could be handled by mandatory conservation measures and extension of the (wholesale) allocation program."

Within days, mandatory conservation, previously unheard of, was mentioned again by another administration official in a background conversation with a newsmen.

A third official, Duke R. Ligon, director of the Office of Oil and Gas, admitted mandatory conservation has been discussed, but said there has been no move to draft any such regulations.

While voluntary conservation has emphasized such citizen cooperation as turning down the thermostat, mandatory conservation would concentrate on more limited and enforceable actions, DiBona told a newsmen.

As possible examples, he said that:

—Gasoline could be saved by lowering highway speed limits.
—The Civil Aeronautics Board could reduce the number of airline flights on routes where competing lines now fly partly-empty planes.

—The operating hours of large commercial establishments could be shortened and large electric signs could be turned off.

—Outdoor gas lamps could be shut off.
—Television broadcasting could be reduced by one hour per day.

Saudi Arabia Sets Pace In Oil Cutbacks

BEIRUT (AP) — Saudi Arabia says it is cutting its oil production 10 per cent during October and November and may stop all shipments of oil to the United States unless the U. S. government stops shipping arms to Israel.

In a move likely to encourage more Arab countries to use oil as a foreign policy weapon, the Middle East's largest oil producer said it will lop another 5 per cent off its production each month after November.

King Faisal's government "is making efforts so the government of the United States of America will modify its current position toward the Arab-Israeli war," the Saudi state radio said Thursday.

"If these efforts do not quickly bring about tangible results, the Saudi Arabian kingdom will stop the flow of oil to America."

Earlier Thursday, Abu Dhabi, the leader of the United Arab Emirates, announced it was cutting off all oil deliveries to the United States.

Saudi Arabia is third among America's foreign oil suppliers, trailing Canada and Venezuela. But the 19.79 million barrels of Saudi oil the United States now imports each month, and the 3.1 million barrels it gets from the United Arab Emirates, is only about 5 per cent of the nearly 400 million barrels of crude oil the United States currently processes each month.

Saudi Arabia and the other nine Arab oil countries agreed at a meeting Wednesday to cut oil production 5 per cent a month until Israel gives up all territory occupied in the 1967 Arab-Israeli war and restores the rights of the Palestinian refugees.

The United States imports only about 6 per cent of all its oil from Arab countries.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said Thursday in Washington that "we can meet an emergency situation if it arises." But by cutting their total production, the Arabs hope to cause oil shortages in Western Europe and Japan that will cause U. S. allies there to pressure Washington.

Agreement On Oil Pipeline By Conferees

By JEFFREY MILLS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House-Senate conferees have reached agreement on legislation allowing immediate construction of the 789-mile Alaska oil pipeline.

The provisions approved Thursday contain language designed to block lawsuits by environmentalists seeking to delay the project.

The bill grants a 25-foot right-of-way to 25 feet. The pipeline, plus additional footage as needed to accommodate construction, environmental and safety work.

This provision, in effect, sets aside a court ruling which would have limited the right-of-way on each side of ruling would have barred pipeline construction since more room was needed.

The conference version also bars any court challenge except under the U.S. Constitution. This has the effect of ruling out lawsuits under the National Environmental Protection Act.

The pipeline is designed to carry crude oil from Alaska's North Slope to the southern port of Valdez. Tankers would then take the oil to the West Coast.

The North Slope field contains an estimated minimum of 10 billion barrels of oil. The pipeline by 1980 would carry two million barrels a day, out of an estimated domestic consumption of 22 million barrels daily.

Rep. John Melcher, D-Mont., chairman of the conference committee, said the bill probably will reach the House floor for a final vote in about two weeks. The House and Senate must approve or disapprove the bill as written under a provision ruling out amendments.

The conferees approved a plan making each oil company using the pipeline liable for $14 million in damages from marine oil spills. The firms would pay one to five cents per barrel into a pool for additional liability up to $100 million.

Single Charge, That Of Conspiracy John Dean III Pleads Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III pleaded guilty today to conspiring to obstruct the Watergate investigation.

Dean agreed to cooperate fully with the investigation being conducted by the special Watergate prosecutor's office.

In a letter to Dean's attorney, Charles N. Shaffer, special prosecutor Archibald Cox said that in return for Dean's cooperation no further charges would be brought with the exception of perjury if his testimony proves false.

Dean's wife, Maureen, sat in the courtroom when he entered his plea before U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica in a climax to more than six months of behind-the-scenes bargaining with the prosecutors.

Dean had held out for total immunity from prosecution before finally agreeing to plead to a single conspiracy charge.

The charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine. Sirica deferred sentencing until after any future Watergate trials at which Dean might be a government witness.

Dean was a star witness before the Senate Watergate committee in June.

In five days of testimony, Dean testified that he and others attempted to limit the investigation of the June 17, 1972 break-in at the Democratic National Committee headquarters.

Dean told the committee it was his impression, after meetings in President Nixon's office, that the President knew of the attempted cover-up of the Watergate affair.

Dean's committee testimony was a basis for the subpoena Cox issued demanding White House tapes of presidential conversations with Dean and others about Watergate.

During his appearance before the committee, the former White House lawyer implicated himself, Nixon and other high administration figures in the cover-up.

Dean admitted during that testimony that he engineered secret payments of thousands of dollars to buy silence from the seven men who were convicted in the Watergate wiretapping.

He also admitted that he authorized an offer of a presidential pardon to one of the men, James W. McCord Jr.

Dean, according to his own testimony, was present when the political wiretapping was first proposed in the office of then Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell Jan. 27, 1972. He said he was present when the wiretapping was proposed for a second time Feb. 4, 1972.

Bennett For Med School

Tom Bennett, candidate for chairmanship of the North Carolina Republican Party, announced here today that he is in favor of expansion of the East Carolina University School of Medicine.

Bennett, at a press conference this morning at the Greenville Holiday Inn, said his visit here today was expressly to counteract charges by some supporters of his opponent Frank Rouse of Kinston, that he is against the ECU medical school.

The Morehead City attorney, when questioned, said he knows of no well-known Republican who has voiced this charge other than Frank Everett, former Republican Congressional candidate from Martin County.

"Frank knows me well," Bennett said, "yet, he has not asked me personally how I stand on this issue. I am an Eastern North Carolinian and believe in the progress of this area.

"I believe the expanded ECU medical school would be of great value to the people of this area and therefore, I endorse it."

Not A Word

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP)—A gunman didn't say a word Thursday as he held up the Citizens and Southern Bank of Darlington for an unannounced amount of cash.

Officials of the bank said the man, wearing a Halloween mask, entered and pointed a .38 caliber revolver at a woman teller and handed her a brown paper bag.

The teller filled the bag and the man fled.

September Saw Cost Of Living Increase Slowed

By R. GREGORY NOKES

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increases in consumer prices slowed sharply in September, climbing just three-tenths of one per cent over-all, the Labor Department reported today.

Food prices actually declined during the month, by one-tenth of one per cent, the first decline since last December.

However, the September slowdown in consumer prices likely will not be sustained. Nixon administration economists have forecast inflationary problems in the economy for some time to come.

One factor in the September price slowdown was that prices had increased at near-record levels in August after the lifting of the government's price freeze.

The increase in August was 1.9 per cent for all items and 6.1 per cent for food. Administration economists said then that this big boom in post-freeze prices was sure to be followed by a slowdown in September.

Another factor was that wholesale prices of many farm commodities such as soybeans and corn declined sharply in September.

The one-tenth of one per cent decline in food prices was reported on a seasonally adjusted basis, meaning normal seasonal variations were taken into account.

On an unadjusted basis, food prices were off seven-tenths of one per cent, the biggest monthly decline since December of 1971.

But even with the September improvement, consumer prices still were 7.4 per cent above a year ago. For the June-to-September quarter alone, the increase was at a seasonally adjusted rate of 10.3 per cent.

The Labor Department said the cost of food purchased in grocery stores declined 1.4 per cent in September. Prices for food away from home, especially in restaurants, increased 1.9 per cent.

Among food items, the Labor Department reported declines in prices for vegetables, fresh fruit, poultry, pork and eggs.

Prices of cereals and bakery products rose sharply, a reflection of wheat prices at the wholesale level.

The consumer price index in September stood at 135.5 using the 1967 figure of 100 as the base.

The Labor Department also reported that real spendable earnings of American workers, which is the take-home pay after taxes, rose by six-tenths of one per cent in September, but was still 2.3 per cent below a year ago.

Weekly take-home pay of nonfarm workers, in terms of 1967 dollars, was listed as $94.69, up from $94.11 in August but down from $96.89 a year earlier.

The Labor Department attributed the decline in real spendable earnings partially to a 1.5 per cent increase in tax deductions.

New Tank Battles In Syria, In Sinai

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New tank battles raged today on the Syrian front and in a crucial fight along the Suez Canal as Israel broadened its hold on the western bank with reinforcements ferried across the waterway, Tel Aviv claimed.

Cairo said the Israeli report of a major thrust into Egypt was false and claimed the large-scale attack had been repelled. Israeli units are infiltrating across the canal at night, Egypt conceded, but claimed they were being surrounded and one unit was wiped out.

The Russian Embassy in Cairo said Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin left the Egyptian capital for Moscow after four days of secret talks with President Anwar Sadat on "all questions of common interest." He declined to say whether peace proposals were part of their discussions. Other reports said the Soviet leader might stop off in Damascus on the way home.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger continued talks in Washington with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin. But despite the high-level contacts, officials predicted no quick end to the war. The fighting went on for the 14th day.

The Israeli command said its forces continued their attacks on Egyptian positions east of the Suez Canal in the Israeli-occupied Sinai Desert and around the bridgehead that Israel said Thursday it had established on the western bank of the canal, in Egyptian territory.

"In a series of battles being waged since this morning, dozens of enemy tanks, missile batteries and infantry deployments have been destroyed," a communique said.

The Israeli beachhead on the western bank of the canal would be the first time the Middle East ground war came to the Egyptian heartland, although Israeli jets have been striking targets in the Nile Delta. But an official Egyptian spokesman in Cairo scoffed at the claim and depicted the Israeli force as commandos on a series of raids.

"A group of foreign correspondents are visiting the Sinai battlefield today to prove that the Israeli claims are false," he added.

The Israelis said their planes and tanks on the Syrian front repulsed a combined attack by Syrian, Iraqi and Jordanian infantry and tanks. They claimed the Arabs took severe losses.

BRIDGEHEAD BOMBED — In a photo supplied by the Israeli air force, what is identified as an Egyptian bridge spanning the Suez canal is hit by bombs. No date for the photo was provided beyond that it was made during the current Middle East conflict. (AP Wirephoto)

Gilda Is Growing

MIAMI (AP) — The South Florida Gold Coast braced for gale force winds today as tropical storm Gilda began building strength and moving up the narrow stretch of ocean between Florida and the Bahamas.

The National Hurricane Center predicted Gilda would become a hurricane late tonight or early Saturday. Gale warnings were issued for Florida's Atlantic coast from Fort Lauderdale south to Key Largo, and winds near hurricane force of 74 miles an hour were expected to hit the Bahamas, 170 miles east of Miami.

N.C. Demos Giving Priority To Reorganization

ASHEVILLE (AP)—Reorganization from the precincts to the state party will be the prime consideration when North Carolina Democrats open their two-day Vance-Aycock session in Asheville tonight.

Two working seminars, one for local Democratic county leaders and the other for all persons attending, are scheduled Saturday.

Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia will be the keynote speaker at a dinner Saturday night. U.S. Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N. C., also is scheduled to attend.

Carter and Ervin will be guests of honor at a reception preceding the dinner.

The seminars are new for the Vance-Aycock meeting, one of three major fund-raising events for the party in non-election years.

Party finances are to be discussed at the morning meeting involving county party chairmen, county treasurers and members of the state Democratic Executive Committee.

Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt, the highest ranking Democrat in state government, will lead a discussion of party structure at the afternoon workshop.

Young Democrats will kick off the meeting Friday night with a reception and dance.

Rufus Edmisten, Ervin's assistant, will speak at a breakfast Saturday for the Democratic women's organization.

Democrats have been attempting to rebuild the party in the wake of the disastrous 1972 elections, when Republicans won the governorship, a seat in the U.S. Senate and more legislative posts.

It was the first time this century Democrats have not controlled the governor's office and both Senate seats.

MRS. WALTER STEVEN NORRIS

Miss Wanda Dail Speaks Vows

Saint James United Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Wanda Lois Dail and Walter Steven Norris Sunday at 4:30 p.m. The double ring ceremony was conducted by Roy L. Turnage Jr.

Daughter of Mrs. Lois Hill Dail of Winterville, and the late Mr. Olin Whitney Dail, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, David Whitney Dail. She wore a formal length gown of white taffeta designed with a high neckline encircled with re-embroidered lace. Panels of matching lace, beaded in clusters of pearls, extended over the empire bodice and over the modified A-line skirt front in an apron pattern. The empire waistline was accentuated by a band of taffeta, featuring a loop bow in the back. The shepherd-sleeves and the detachable chapel length train featured the panels of re-embroidered lace. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion attached to a Camelot headpiece of re-embroidered lace, beaded with pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white bridal roses and pink baby's breath with satin streamers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loran Edward Norris of Greenville.

The chancel of the church was centered with a fifteen branch candelabra filled with jade greenery. Fifteen branch spiral candelabra and nine branch tree candelabra filled with white bridal flowers flanked each side. The couple knelt for the benediction on a white profile prie-dieu. A three branched candelabra was used with the bridal couple lighting one taper together, symbolic of the couple being united.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. R. L. Turnage Jr., organist, and Jane Randlett, soloist.

The honor attendant was Madge G. Dews of Winterville. She wore a formal length pink organza gown designed with a high neckline encircled with ruby chantilly lace edged in ruby Venise lace flowers.

The empire bodice featured front and back V-shaped panels of ruby chantilly lace which extended to the waistline, which was banded in the ruby Venise lace flowers. The deep cuffs of the full sleeves also featured the matching lace.

She wore a headpiece of ruby and pink loop bows with streamers. She carried a nosegay of miniature pink carnations and pink roses with long streamers.

Bridesmaids were Glenda K. Denton and Jo Jamieson, both of Greenville, and Janet Dail of Wilkesboro, sister-in-law of the bride. Their gowns were designed like that of the honor

CW-I Officers Installed And Awards Presented Wednesday Night

Greenville Credit Women-International held its annual bosses night at the Greenville Woman's Club Wednesday evening.

The event was highlighted by the installation of officers for 1973-74 and the naming of "Boss of the Year, and "Credit Woman of the Year."

The installation was conducted by State First Vice President Carol Hardee. The officers are as follows: Mrs. Angeline Venters, President; Mrs. Inda Wingate, first vice-president; Mrs. Pat Elks, second vice-president; Mrs. Virginia McKoy, third vice president;

Mrs. Sue Meeks, recording secretary; Mrs. Peggy Smith, treasurer; Miss Clara Seago, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Lynne Brown, corresponding secretary. Sponsors are Roscoe King, Dan Gregory, Andy Warren and William Earl

Roscoe King

Stocks. The Board of Directors are: Clara Seago; Martha Mills; Peggy Sawyer; and Jeannette Cox.

The "colored candle" was the installation ceremony used to install the new officers. After each girl lighted her candle to signify that she accepted her position, she was then presented a long-stemmed mum to match her candle.

Roscoe King received the "Boss of the Year" award. The selection of the award is based on the participation of a boss in the club, attending meetings, giving programs, donations and being a sponsor.

William Earl Stocks presented the "Credit Woman of the Year" award to Mrs. Venters. This award is given to the member who contributes the most to the ideals and purposes of her club. Other qualifications include perfect attendance and attendance at the N. C. State Convention, Fall Board meeting and the Dixie Council Conference.

Guests attending in addition to members and their husbands were bosses and their wives, and Madoline Avery, Faye Mallard and Peggy Worthington from the Kinston club. Special guests were Mrs. Doris Hendricks, past state president, State First Vice-President Mrs. Hardee and Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Haddock, parents of Mrs. Venters.

After the invocation was given by Jesse Laughinghouse, Mrs. Inda Wingate gave the welcome and Vick Kink responded. Mrs. Mary Roberson gave the introduction of guests.

Entertainment for the evening was introduced by Mrs. Mildred Porter. Gail Porter and Susan Smith sang several selections accompanied by Joey Howell.

Mrs. Mary Roberson, Mrs. Janie Hudson, Mrs. Pat Elks and Mrs. Pearl Hartsell presented favors to those attending.

Mrs. Brock Receives Citizenship Award

CRESWELL — The Junior Woman's Club of Greenville received several awards at the fall meeting of District 15 held here Tuesday.

A highlight of the meeting was the naming of the club's nominee, Mrs. Barbara Brock, winner of the Juanita Bryant Citizenship Award. Mrs. Brock will now represent District 15 in the state judging which will take place in the spring.

The citizenship award is given annually to a clubwoman who is active in her local club and involved in other community activities. Mrs. Brock was publicity chairman for the March of Dimes as well as for the "To Greenville With Love" folies. She is also financial advisor for the Chi Omega fraternity at East Carolina University.

Mrs. Barbara Brock

The local club also received first places in scrapbook, newsletter and tied for first place with the Williamston club for the year book.

Representing the club at the district session were Mrs. Libby Swinson, Mrs. Mickie Savage, Mrs. Nancy Gustofson and Mrs. Nancy Whitlow.

Dessert Benefit Held Monday

Persons attending the UNICEF dessert benefit Monday evening at the Art Center selected treats from over 20 countries.

Two banquet tables were laden with home-baked creations provided by local members of the American Association of University Women.

During the evening the Collegium Musicum, directed by Steven Reidy, provided selections of Renaissance and Baroque music.

An auction of desserts was the finale to the fund raising affair.

Mrs. Charles Woodall, chairman of the event, reported a substantial increase in money raised at this year's festival. She was assisted by Mrs. Louis Zincone, Mrs. Robert Hause, Mrs. C.R. Kernan, Jr. and Mrs. C.H. Rand.

Executives Don't Need Secretaries

BRUSSELS, Belgium (WNS)

Martine Durandot, first president of the new Secretaries Protective Association, has announced that the shortage of secretaries in the European Common Market is due to the vanity of men. "Few executives really need private secretaries," she said. "They have become a status symbol for pampered little men who feel like important executives only if they have a pretty girl to dictate to." Miss Durandot has suggested that a company car for the pampered males executive would serve as good a purpose as a secretary and be less expensive.

Participants Reflect Strength

We do not think anything has dramatized the strength and depth of the movement for a four-year School of Medicine at ECU more than the meeting of some of the East's most influential citizens in Rocky Mount Wednesday.

The group formed a citizens organization for better medical care in North Carolina and John Minges, mayor of Rocky Mount accepted the chairmanship.

Minges told the group, "We are meeting here basically to restore to the people the right to determine their future. We should get together, put down our needs... compile them and then we could be heard."

"If we start today, it is late enough," Minges said. "If we wait until 1980 as suggested by the medical consultants report to the board of governors, where will we be?"

Mayors, county commissioners and other interested leaders came from near the South Carolina line all the way to the Virginia line for this important meeting. The reports we received was that the feeling and enthusiasm was electric.

With such splendid support as was exhibited in Rocky Mount Wednesday this project cannot fail. The ECU medical school sprung from the people as a means of meeting their medical needs. Its broad support is growing, rather than waning, and it is such enthusiasm as was seen in Rocky Mount that will make this project a success.

Bond Proposals Rarely Refused

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — If North Carolina voters approve a $300 million state bond issue for public schools in the Nov. 6 election, it will push total issuance of bonds since World War II well over the billion dollar mark.

The amount of bonds authorized by voters or issued by the General Assembly totals $991.5 million in the past quarter of a century.

Of course, that 25-year borrowing total of over one billion dollars does not mean that North Carolina is still that much in debt—at least as far as principal is concerned. A lot of bonds have been retired.

Roy Moore, assistant state treasurer, said the current state debt totals $393.9 million, including both general fund and highway bonds.

$845 Million Debt
Addition of the school, clean water, and zoo bonds will push total principal indebtedness to $845 million, for general fund and highway bonds. But treasury officials point out that with some being paid off, and staggered sale of others, the $845 million figure will no be reached at one time.

Retirement of general fund bonds alone, including interest payments, will mean total state payments of just over one billion dollars by the year 2003. Highway bond retirement, principal and interest, will add another estimated $280 million over that period.

The highway bonds total $199 million, and are not paid back from general fund money, but from the one-cent per gallon gasoline tax which voters approved as part of the $200 million secondary road bond program in 1949. The penny tax was kept toward retirement of the $300 million road bond issued passed in 1965.

The present principal amount for general fund indebtedness totals $194.9 million. Of that total, $95 million is in public school bonds outstanding; $99.9 million is invested in a wide variety of capital improvement ranging from college buildings to state office structures to public lands. The totals do not include the $150 million clean water bonds approved by voters last year, but which will be on the Nov. 6 ballot once more to clarify a technical hangup.

Of course, those principal figures do not reflect the total amount the state must pay back on bonds sold—there is interest, too.

The $300 million school bond issue, for instance, would probably be sold as 25-year notes, but sold over a period of three to five years rather than in one lump sum.

Thus, the total amount the state would repay on the $300 million would be an estimated $551 million, with the last payment coming due in the year 2003. The same is true of the combined clean water and $2 million zoo bonds to be sold over the same period. The total $151 million will mean a payback of around $260 million.

Payback Will Double
For fiscal year 1973-74, the state treasury will be paying back bonds totaling $20.7 million for principal and interest. About $4.7 million of the total represents interest, meaning about $16 million in bonds will actually be retired in one year. Issuance of the school bonds will just about double the annual payback total; adding an average $19.5 million per year.

The figures, of course, won't come out that even, since sell of the bonds will be staggered. Yearly payments will range from a low of around $13 million the first year or two to a high peak of $27 million in 1987-88; making the total bond payments that year an estimated $43.5 million on all debts under General Fund areas.

That amount budgeted for debt service obligations would still represent less than four per cent of the present general fund spending level which in this fiscal year will total $1.7 billion.

This conservative use of bonds as a part of the total state budget; the low per capita debt; the state's aggressive policy of paying off bonds and its limited use of bonds; and the legal requirements for in-balance spending by state government all combine to give the state a Triple-A bond rating in both the Moody's and the Standard and Poor's Bond Guides. North Carolina is one of 11 states rated as of June, 1972 to have this highest possible rating.

State Treasurer Edwin Gill notes that these ratings are not easily come by, and are influential in determining the state's ability to sell bonds, and to get the most attractive interest rates.

He added that he sees no danger of the state losing the bond rating as the $300 million school bonds would be issued over a period of three to five years rather than in one lump sum.

Only One Defeat
In the 25-year history of bonds in North Carolina, voters have approved a total of $883.4 million; the General Assembly has voted $108 million. Of 11 bond proposals voted on since 1949, only one has failed: a $61.6 million capital improvements package rejected in 1961. But observers believe rejection of that proposal reflected general unhappiness with the sales tax levied on food that year, rather than voter disapproval of the bond proposal.

Youngsters Are Given Practical Experience

A program we like is the one sponsored by Burroughs-Wellcome which allows high school seniors to work at the hospital in order to learn about health careers.

Pitt Memorial Hospital trustees were told Tuesday that Burroughs-Wellcome has assumed all costs of the program with no cost to the hospital or the schools.

This is a program that businesses in many fields could emulate. If we want our young people to enter fields where they are most needed, we must give them a chance to see the practical side of the work.

Med School Is In The Picture

By JOHN KILGO
The matter of establishing a four-year med school at East Carolina University will be very much in the picture when the Tar Heel Legislature convenes in January.

An outside group of experts recently issued their study saying now isn't the time for an expanded med school at ECU and the University's Board of Governors has approved the report. But that doesn't shut the door.

Dr. Leo Jenkins, chancellor of ECU, says the matter will be debated again and again, by the Board of Governors and probably by the Legislature.

"We don't have sufficient medical care now in Eastern North Carolina," Dr. Jenkins says. "I'm sure this matter will be debated back and forth. We've got to come up with ways to increase the number of doctors in the state. People are concerned, and rightly so, that their medical welfare is dependent on geography. They don't want it to continue this way. Poll after poll has shown this."

Dr. Jenkins says other "schemes" such as medical fairs and newspaper campaigns have been unsuccessful in luring doctors to Eastern North Carolina towns that badly need them.

"There's a feeling on the part of many people that they want more doctors and they want them family oriented," Dr. Jenkins said. "They know we're the only agency in the state that has been talking a family-oriented approach to medicine for the past 10 years."

The study group says there is no reason to believe that a four-year med school at ECU would help persuade doctors to settle in the East.

"That's wrong and we have proof that it's wrong," Dr.

Jenkins said. "Our town has 30 new doctors here since we started a modest, little one-year medical program. Doctors want to be in a community of medical scholars. If they want to go to a seminar, they want to be able to get in their car and get there in an hour or an hour and a half. They don't want to have to close down their office for a day and a half to go."

"Doctors want to be where the action is in their profession," Dr. Jenkins continued. "They know wherever there is a medical school there is going to be a group of medical scholars there. All one has to do is check Chapel Hill and see the number of doctors there. You don't think they went there because of the shade trees, do you? The same is true of Duke."

While he doesn't come right out and say it, it's clear Dr. Jenkins believes the med school for East Carolina will be back before the Legislature next year.

He says legislators have sought him out to talk to him about the idea and he adds: "They tell me they're getting a lot of mail from their constituents about this."

Jenkins says a lot of people agree with former Gov. Bob Scott when he said it's inevitable down the road that there will be a four-year med school in Eastern North Carolina.

"We have a genuine need in this area for more doctors," Dr. Jenkins says. "We have an abundance of people who would like to enter the profession and we have the money to do something about it. I'm not the driving force behind this. There's a tremendous force behind it and it comes from the people."

Strength For Today

WHAT MAKES FOR SUCCESS?

People as a rule give too much credit to native ability and genius when appraising human achievement. The truth of the matter is that few people, even among the geniuses, get much accomplished without discipline and effort. Artists work for decades perfecting their technique; the scientist lives, eats, sleeps, and sometimes dies in the laboratory. In business the men in the executive suites put in much longer hours than the men in the shop.

many people who never get ahead in the world because they lack ability, but there is certainly a larger number of able people who never succeed because they lack the purpose and energy to use the abilities they have. If some failures are caused by a lack of natural endowments, most arise from an indisposition to use the gifts God has given us.

Someone has said that success is half preparation and half perspiration. And one might add that interest plus effort usually means skill.

All The Names Counted

WASHINGTON—There has been a certain amount of consternation among congressmen, senators and Republican Party leaders over the manner in which President Nixon selected Gerald Ford as his new Vice President. If you recall, Mr. Nixon asked members of Congress, governors and party leaders to submit three names to him of people they thought he should appoint. Everyone now thinks they've been had because the President apparently had made his choice before the names were submitted.

I am happy to report that this is not the case. The lists played an important part in the President's decision.

This is what happened. All the envelopes containing the names of vice-presidential possibilities were gathered up and flown by helicopter to Camp David where the President, Pat, Julie and David Eisenhower and Tricia and Ed Cox were waiting to count them. Since this was such a personal decision, the President wanted no one but members of his immediate family to be in on it.

The envelopes were dumped on the living room floor and everyone dove in with letter openers. The President had a yellow legal pad on his lap.

"Here's one from Bella Abzug," Julie said. "She lists Ralph Nader, Father Berrigan and Betty Freidan."

The President wrote down, "One for Nader, one for Berrigan and one Freidan." Pat was amazed. "Are you really writing those people down?"

"My credibility is at stake," the President replied. "I want this to be a completely honest election."

Tricia said, "Here's John Connally's ballot. He has only one name on it."

"Who is it?" the President asked.

"Well, it isn't Rockefeller."

The President gave one vote to Connally.

Julie Eisenhower said, "Here's Rocky's suggestion."

"Don't tell me," the President said. He marked one down for Rockefeller.

"Did you ask John Dean to submit any names?" David Eisenhower asked.

"Give me that," the President said and ripped the slip into shreds.

The counting went on during the night. Sandwiches and coffee were served as the family continued their ar-

Digging of sweet potatoes in the community gardens of the county got underway this week and an estimated yield of 1,000 bushels for distribution among the poor during the winter will be cured and stored within the next several days.

In addition to a bumper potato crop, the gardens have already yielded 75,000 quarts of vegetables which were canned here and in Farmville and stored for use this winter.

The products are being stored in the communities in which they were produced and the Welfare Department will use them later this year to take care of the needy.

Disillusionment For Consumer

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — As

economic forecasters gradually reach a consensus that the boom of the past two years is about to become an echo, millions of Americans are inclined to ask: What boom?

For them, the boom was more like the distant thunder of an event that might have occurred somewhere, but certainly not in their households. Somebody might have benefited, but they didn't.

Many, in fact, can offer proof that their paychecks, raises included, buy less today than a year ago. And in confirmation, a University of Michigan consumer survey, not inclined to hyperbole, announced this week:

"Never before in the 25 years the Michigan surveys have been conducted has consumer pessimism been so widespread."

You can measure the boom in a surge of corporate profits and farm income, and in healthy advances of industrial output, but you cannot identify it in stock prices, paychecks, food and, now, in housing.

In short, the boom was a bust for many categories of Americans and they feel, quite literally, shortchanged. There is enormous disillusionment with federal policy.

The Michigan survey, shows, for example, that 66 per cent of respondents said they believed Phase 4 controls would be ineffective in slowing inflation. Only 6 per cent were convinced.

It isn't hard to understand why, with food prices soaring — at wholesale, they are 39 per cent higher than a year ago — and the prices of houses either too high for purchase or too expensive to finance.

The reality of housing is a dismal one. Time after time Americans have found their plans to buy ruined by market conditions. On average, every three years or so the housing market goes into a tailspin.

The reason is never, pure and simple, a lack of demand for good housing. It is a money matter. Wishes to the contrary, the American economy operates in cycles of expansion-recession.

That is, every few years the economy tends to flirt with inflation and high interest rates. And when interest rates rise you may be certain that housing money will decline. It is lent out elsewhere at higher returns.

One housing solution, or expedient, is to buy mobile homes. Ten years ago almost nobody, including manufacturers, thought the sale of mobiles would exceed 500,000 a year. But they have, for several years now.

Sales this year rose 10 per cent through the first eight months of the year, to 420,770 units from 383,650 a year earlier. And if experience is a criterion, the tougher it gets to buy a conventional home, the better for mobiles.

While prices of these and other goods and services were rising, wages were rising too. But in terms of buying power they were declining. Profits were rising too, but the buying power of corporate shares wasn't.

Why didn't the stock market boom along with profits or, as would be more logical, in advance of them? Why, for example, were automotive shares stuck in a rut when profits were at all-time highs?

If you have the answer you can hire yourself out as a consultant. No one reason explains all. The auto companies were faced with many technological demands; the stock market was in a stage of reconstruction, high interest rates drew money from stocks. Those are three.

In search of the reasons you'll almost certainly stumble over that old grey shadow — the mood, the same mood that troubled consumers in the Michigan survey.

Even if struck by the boom, it seems many Americans just weren't in the mood to revel. There were too many distractions and disappointments, and so the mood was one usually associated with recessions.

And now, a tired economy might match the mood.

She wore pink accessories and a white cymbidium orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a powder blue dress styled like that of the bride's mother. She wore matching accessories and a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Grandmothers of the bride and bridegroom were honored with white carnation corsages.

The father of the bridegroom was best man and ushers were Danny Norris, brother of the bridegroom, and Henry Bunn, both of Greenville.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside in Norfolk, Va.

The bride is a graduate of D. H. Conley High School and is employed part-time at Pitt Otorhinolaryngologists, Inc. The bridegroom is a graduate of J. H. Rose High School and is serving in the U. S. Navy, stationed aboard the U.S.S. Blandly, in port at Norfolk, Va.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall.

The reception table was centered with a silver epergne candelabra filled with pink, white carnations, baby's breath and candles.

The receiving line was composed of the wedding party and Miss Lorraine DeCuzzi presided at the register.

Miss Hilda Jones poured punch and after the bridal couple cut the first slice of the three tiered wedding cake, Miss Brenda Gray served cake.

The couple were honored at several pre-nuptial parties including an after rehearsal party at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

A bridesmaids luncheon was given at the Three Steers by Mrs. Kenneth Dews honoring the bride, her attendants and mothers of the bride and bridegroom.

Bridal showers were given by Mrs. O. H. Orr Sr. and Mrs. O. H. Orr Jr. and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Norris.

Dansey said that the organization will make some 200 individual contact on behalf of the United Fund in the upcoming weeks in striving to meet the division goal of $3,850.

The Jaycettes, headed this year by Mrs. Dot Fisher, president, currently has 50 members who are involved in a variety of services projects for the community.

Mrs. Fisher commented, "We are a service organization and we are happy to help whenever we are called on." She said that the Jaycettes conduct only one money-making project a year, the annual candy sale which raises funds to help handicapped children. The sale is currently underway, she pointed out.

Among the Jaycette service efforts are projects involving work with children, organizing Christmas parties for children, and a variety of activities at the hospital's Pediatrics Ward. A special Pediatrics Fund has been established to help stock Ayden-Grifton's annual homecoming festivities were held last weekend.

A pep rally was held last week. Coach Overton introduced the Chargers and the cheerleaders performed a pom pon routine.

The Chargers defeated C. B. Aycock 63-0. The crowning of the homecoming queens and princesses highlighted the event.

Cindy Carson and Patricia Cannon were crowned homecoming queens for 1973-74. The queen's court included two princesses from each grade: Wanda Adams and Janet Maye, seniors; Jane Howes and Gloria Ellison, juniors; Susan Branscome and Audrey McCarter, sophomores; Janet Loftin and Lucretia Wallace, freshmen.

A dance was held in the school gym following the game. The "Medium Cool" played music from 10 p.m. until 12:30 a.m.

Officers of the Spanish Club for this school year are: Stevie Tripp and Earl Harris, presidents; Jimmy Craft and James Payton, vice presidents; Shirley Spence and Michael Anderson, secretaries.

The members of the Spanish Club will travel to Chowan College Saturday for International Day. International students at Chowan will discuss such subjects as life styles, government and economics.

The Spanish Club members are also planning to eat at Tippy's Taco House Monday.

The students, given a chance to sample Mexican food, will be offered tacos, enchilatas, tamales, frijoles refritos, arroz mexicana, guacamole, chile con queso and tostados.

The FHA planning committee has planned a "Fall Fashion Show" to be presented during the club meeting. Models for the show include: Terri Ross, Renee Leggett, Gina Fleming, Linda Chamberlain, Celin da Dixon, Rhonda Dail, Judy Paget, Shirley Spence, Lou Anne Baldree, Patricia Moore, Audrey McCarter, Gladys Jones, Wanda Stewart, Louis Freeman and Robin Garris.

Mrs. Rogers Named Fully Back 'Operation Santa' Campaign Chairman Bond Issue

MRS. DAISY ROGERS

Mrs. Daisy Holmes Rogers is Pitt County Operation Santa Clause Campaign chairman for 1973.

The announcement of the Farmville woman's appointment was made by Dr. A. Ray Evans, president of the Pitt County Mental Health Association.

A graduate of Meredith College, with a Master's degree from East Carolina University, Mrs. Rogers has retired after being a counselor at ECU. She is a member of the First Baptist Church of Farmville, and is active in music, literary, and art appreciation clubs, as well as being a member of the American Association of University Women, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Pilot Club of Greenville, and the Daughters of the Confederacy.

In accepting the appointment, she said, "I consider this an opportunity for Christian service. I am happy to serve in helping make Christmas more cheerful for those persons in Cherry Hospital and Caswell Center. To each of us in Pitt County, this can be a time to give from the heart to those who are not able to spend Christmas at home with their families."

A project of the local Mental Health Association, Operation Santa Claus provides gifts each Christmas for patients of state and mental hospitals and centers for the retarded. To be announced later are area chairman who will assist in the project. A planning luncheon for these persons is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 5 at the Three Steers Restaurant in Greenville.

Expects Women As Ambassadors

Buenos Aires (AP) — Isabel Peron, Latin America's first woman vice president, says Argentina probably will send some women abroad as ambassadors. "Women are going to have many more roles to fill in the future," the 42-year-old third wife of President Juan D. Peron said Thursday after visiting her senate offices.

I Apologize

Citizens of Greenville and Pitt County, I feel I do owe you an apology for not taking issue with certain political ads, reference utility rates, the first time they appeared in public print and on T.V.

Many of our citizens have been alarmed and confused about their utility bills during July, August and September. The Utility Commission has made every effort to explain the increase in electric bills, utilizing newspaper ads, pamphlets and personal discussion with those who came to the Utilities Department.

I feel that for a political candidate to take advantage of the alarm and confusion and add to it by utilizing information out of context as it pertains to the full rate system charged by the Greenville Utilities Department, acted in extremely poor taste. (And this is putting it mildly.) Presumably my fellow citizens felt the same way, so I will contain myself and say no more. The confusion, however, still persists. I can only hope that by using the material used in this political ad and adding to it, that which was left unsaid, will clear up most of the misunderstanding. The following is an exact copy of the main content of one of the political ads.

A COMPARISON OF THE DOMESTIC ELECTRIC RATES FOR 3000 KWH WAS CONDUCTED SEPTEMBER 27, 1973 WHICH SHOWED THE FOLLOWING:

GREENVILLE	$67.37	WILSON	51.47
WASHINGTON	46.66	KINSTON	46.39
ROCKY MOUNT 46.18

THE ABOVE INDICATES THAT:
GREENVILLE ELECTRIC RATES WAS 23.6 PERCENT HIGHER THAN WILSON.
GREENVILLE ELECTRIC RATES WAS 30.7 PERCENT HIGHER THAN WASHINGTON.
GREENVILLE ELECTRIC RATES WAS 30.1 PERCENT HIGHER THAN KINSTON.
GREENVILLE ELECTRIC RATES WAS 31.5 PERCENT HIGHER THAN ROCKY MOUNT

ARE YOU SATISFIED WITH YOUR ELECTRIC RATES?

Now every word said here is true as far as it goes.

However, what it fails to say is that Greenville uses a summer-winter (dual) rate system and Rocky Mount, Wilson and Kinston uses a constant annual rate system. Also, the ad utilizes "all electric" as opposed to the average residential user with electric water heater.

Greenville's rate in July, August, September, and October is higher than those in Rocky Mount, Wilson and Kinston. However, Greenville's rate is lower than those of Rocky Mount, Kinston and Wilson during the other eight months of the year.

Although Greenville's rate was higher than Washington's rate, Washington had adopted a rate system (Vepco's) a most identical to ours which will be on the same basis as Greenville next Summer. Now using this same 3000 KWH basis used in the ad (realizing this is unrealistic because no home has a constant usage for a twelve month period), careful examination of the annual cost to the consumers of these towns located around us is quite revealing.

This chart is based on rates applicable to residential users with electric water heaters. Out of town rates are taken from the leaflet on which the rates for the ad were obtained.

Greenville, Tarboro, and Elizabeth City consumers would pay the exact same amount over the twelve month period.

During the twelve months above, Washington consumers would pay $2.15 per month less than Greenville consumers. However, they have adopted Vepco's rate system for next year and their bill will be almost identical to ours next year.

Wilson consumers would pay 95c per month less than Greenville consumers. Rocky Mount consumers would pay $1.69 per month more than Greenville consumers.

Kinston consumers would pay $1.85 per month more than Greenville consumers.

Citizens study the above! It plainly shows that, although our rates are higher in the summer, our over-all rate system is more than fair, reasonable and competitive. Greenville Utilities sets these competitive rates inspite of the fact that our wholesale unit cost of power purchased from VEPCO is greater than the wholesale unit cost charged by CPL to Wilson, Rocky Mount and Kinston.

Why the dual rate system and not a constant daily rate system? Four months out of the year (Summer months) the demand for electric power skyrockets primarily because of electricity used for air conditioning. Electric companies must be prepared to meet this four-month high demand. Thus they spend billions of dollars building generating plants that for all practical purposes are needed only during this four month period. The other eight months this equipment is really not needed. Therefore, it is felt that those consumers that bring about this skyrocketing demand, are the ones who should bear the major cost of eventually paying for the capital outlay necessary to meet this demand. Thus summer rates are high and winter rates are extremely low.

It is my personal belief that it is only a matter of time until the Federal Government recommends that all power companies go to this system, which is one way to encourage the consumer to carefully utilize his summer electricity. Utility bills are determined by the rate and the demand or amount of electricity used. Careful use of electrical appliances, careful control of your air conditioner thermostat (set it at 76 instead of 70), and careful usage of all electrical appliances used primarily for convenience and comfort will show up by a lower utility bill. According to a Hickory, N.C. Newspaper, Duke Power Company is asking for a 23 percent increase right now. I am also sure that CP & L will seek further increases. I am also sure VEPCO will try to get additional increases in the next 12 to 18 months.

I can assure the Pitt County and Greenville Consumers that the Greenville Utilities Commission will do everything in its power to control the costs that go into making up our rate system and at all times have a fair and competitive rate system.

The question was brought up in this ad with reference of the City Council having control over the Utilities Commission. By the Utilities charter the City Council does have certain supervisory powers over the Utilities Commission, furthermore each of the members of the Utilities Commission is appointed by the City Council. Speaking for myself, the City Council always has the prerogative of asking for the resignation of one of its appointees if they feel he is not doing a good job. I, for one, will submit my resignation at anytime on their request. If you have any questions about the rates of the Greenville Utilities Department, please contact me or other Commissioners or the Department itself. We will attempt to answer your questions. Remember utilize your electrical conveniences carefully and keep your bills lower.

This article has been written by me as a private citizen and its cost is not being paid for by the City or Utilities Commission.

Sincerely,
Ray D. Minges

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market surged ahead today as Wall Street reacted enthusiastically to news of the first major cuts in the prime leading rate in almost two years.

First National City Bank, the nation's second largest bank, cut its minimum corporate borrowing fee from 10 to 9 1/2 per cent, and several other banks took a similar step.

Cleveland Trust Co., Ohio's largest bank, set off the move by slashing its prime from 10 to 9 1/2 per cent, but no other banks immediately announced a cut that large.

The Dow Jones industrial average was up 6.66 points to 966.36 at 11:30 a.m., and advances outnumbered declines.

by almost 2 to 1 in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Big Board's composite index was up .42 points to 59.81 at 11 a.m., while the market-value index on the American Stock Exchange had risen .96 points to 109.31.

Larry Wachtel of Bache & Co. said the market was responding to the prime-rate cuts. "It seems to be celebrating," he said, and noted the half-point reduction by the Cleveland bank was much larger than expected by analysts.

MGIC Investment, the Big Board's volume leader, rose 4 1/2 to 52 after reporting sharply higher third-quarter net. Other active issues included Fannie Mae, ahead 3/4 to 22 1/2; British Petroleum, up 7/8 to 14 1/4; and Grant Warrants, down 3/4 to 18 1/2.

A.H. Robbins fell 3 1/2 to 30 1/4 after reporting flat third-quarter earnings, while Bausch & Lomb continued to rise in the wake of its good profit report. The lens manufacturer was up 1 1/8 to 59 1/2.

The opening of Polaroid, which said Thursday it doubted earnings would hit $3 a share next year, was delayed because of an order imbalance. The NYSE said indications it would open between 100 and 115, down considerably from its close of 119 1/8 in the previous session.

Ousted For Rebozo's Bank Records Opposition

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Jim Holshouser's press secretary has confirmed that a Benson man was ousted from North Carolina's Secondary Roads Council by the governor for supporting the reelection of Frank Rouse as state Republican chairman.

Jack Childs said Thursday the governor, vacationing at an undisclosed spot, had named T. E. Ricks of Rocky Mount to replace Rudolph W. Jones. Members of the council serve at the pleasure of the governor.

Holshouser is supporting Thomas S. Bennett of Morehead City for chairman against Rouse.

Childs said that at Holshouser's request, Robert Vaughn of High Point, a member of the state Transportation Board, had called Jones and asked him to resign from the council.
Jones, contacted by telephone Thursday night, said Holshouser "is a little bit of a small man to get a hiring to do his firing. Instead of calling me himself, he sent out a hired hand."

Ricks, 42, is general manager of Betts Insurance and Realty Co. at Rocky Mount and a director of Rocky Mount Mills.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee's chief investigator is studying the bank records of President Nixon's close friend, Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo, in an effort to trace a $100,000 cash contribution from billionaire Howard Hughes.

Sources said the investigator, Carmine S. Bellino, was in Florida Thursday working on the Hughes-Rebozo connection and attempting to reconstruct Rebozo's complex financial holdings.

Rebozo's bank records, it was said, were obtained by subpoena from the Key Biscayne bank of which Rebozo is president and board chairman.

It also was learned Thursday that Rebozo's handling of the Hughes cash is being investigated by Special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox

Recapture Bank From Terrorists

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Security forces shot their way into a besieged Bank of America building today, killed two guerrillas and rescued 39 hostages being held for a $10 million ransom, authorities reported. An American hostage was killed in a final gunbattle.

Police earlier announced there were 66 hostages in the building, then changed it to 34, and again to 39. They clubbed newsmen with rifle butts, preventing them from making their own count as the hostages emerged from the building.

Thirty-two of the hostages were Lebanese bank employees, two were Japanese businessmen, and four were not identified as to nationality. The American was identified as John Crawford Maxwell, 52, originally from Winnipeg, Canada. He worked in Beirut for the Douglas Aircraft Corp. of Long Beach, Calif.

Five gunmen had seized the bank building and the hostages Thursday morning. One was wounded critically and the other surrendered, Interior Minister Bahij Takeddin announced. The fifth guerrilla was wounded and captured Thursday afternoon.

The freed hostages, some of them wounded and spattered and the Internal Revenue Service.

The White House said Rebozo accepted the money "as a potential campaign contribution" for the President about three years ago but that it wasn't used and eventually was returned to Hughes. This essentially is the same story Rebozo has given to Senate investigators.

"I'm sure that whatever entities look into this will find no impropriety," Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren told reporters.

Under vigorous questioning, Warren insisted that President Nixon first learned of the $100,000 earlier this year in a conversation with Rebozo. However, a published account of the gift appeared in 1971, and in the same year President Nixon's personal lawyer, Herbert W. Kalmbach, reportedly was informed of the money.

On Oct. 12, 1971, publisher Hank Greenspun of the Las Vegas Sun told Kalmbach about the money and asked if it had gone into the furnishings of President Nixon's San Clemente estate, Greenspun said in a telephone interview.

Greenspun told The Associated Press that Kalmbach had come to inquire whether Nixon's brother, F. Donald Nixon, was involved in any embarrassing relationship with the Hughes business interests, Greenspun said.

Greenspun said Kalmbach seemed surprised when informed that Rebozo had received $100,000 in $100 bills from Hughes, denied that any of it had gone into the Western White House and offered to show Greenspun the account books detailing expenditures on the presidential estate.

Bucs Go After 6th Win Against 'Dogs

For the second straight week in a row, the East Carolina University Pirates go up against a Southern Conference foe who

Buc Runners Are Improved

It's seldom that a coach sporting a 1-4 record is overly enthusiastic or optimistic about his team. But, that is exactly the case with Coach Bill Carson, East Carolina cross country coach.

Coming off a decisive win over Appalachian State in a race Carson described as "one of the best his East Carolina team had ever won," the harriers are looking forward to the next meet at Mount St. Mary's College in Emmetsburg, Md., Oct. 20.

"Mount St. Mary's whipped us last year and will definitely be favored again this weekend. However, I think that we will be able to run on even terms with them."

Coach Carson's optimism is reflected by the performances of four of his runners against Appalachian State. Ed Rigsby, Jerry Clas, Scott Miller and Jerry Hilliard all finished the five-mile race in less than 26 minutes. Rigsby captured first place with a time of 25.48 minutes.

"We're better each week," Carson thinks. "Anytime a team has four runners under 26 minutes for five miles, they're going to be hard to beat."

Carson doesn't think the record is indicative of the team's ability. All four losses came in a five-way meet against William & Mary, North Carolina State, V. P. I. and Pembroke.

"We're a young team and as such, we have a depth problem in big meets like that. But, our long training period and the experience from the first races is beginning to pay off. The meet at Appalachian was really competitive and well run. I was extremely pleased with the overall performance of the entire team. We now feel that we're ready to compete with anybody on equal terms."

Following the trip to Mount St. Mary's, East Carolina travels to Raleigh Oct. 27 for the North Carolina Championships and then to Greenville, S. C. for the Southern Conference Championships Nov. 3.

Rampants Are Second

WILSON—Wilson Fike High School gained a victory in a three-way cross-country meet with Rose High School and Bertie yesterday.

Wilson finished with only 29 points, while Rose was next with 43, and Bertie finished last with 50.

Goforth of Wilson took first place in a time of 9:39.1, while Holley of Bertie was second with 9:44. Rose High School's Art Klose finished third with 9:47. Lucas of Wilson was fourth in 9:50 followed by teammate King in 9:52. Rose's James Davis was next in 9:59, while Wearden of Wilson finished seventh in 10:00.

Porter of Bertie was next in 10:01, followed by Williams of Bertie in 10:02. A.J. Tyson of Rose finished 10th in 10:03.

The other Rose scorers were Hugh Stokes, 11th in 10:06, and Gary Cayton, 13th in 10:14.

Bertie and South Lenoir are scheduled to visit Rose on Monday.

has seemingly turned its season around the week before.

Last week, the Pirates played host to Virginia Military Institute, which had upset The Citadel the week before to win its first game of the season.

This week, the Bucs travel down to Charleston, S. C., to meet those same Bulldogs of The Citadel, who might not quite be the same. They turned things around last week, rallying from a 20-0 deficit to take a 28-20 victory over Chattanooga last week.

The Pirates will be chasing their sixth straight victory of the season as they go against the always troublesome Bulldogs, and will also be seeking their fourth Southern Conference win of the year.

The Citadel, of course, will be trying for the upset in the 1:30 p.m. game in Johnson Haygood Stadium. Especially since it's Parents Day, one of their biggest weekends of the year.

The Bulldogs got things going for them last week against Chattanooga by putting in a new quarterback. During the early part of the year, they had stuck with Harry Lynch, their quarterback of last year. He had moved them, but not well enough.

So they switched to Gen Dotson, who had played split end last year as a freshman, but who had been returned to his high school position as quarterback. Dotson, operating the Citadel Veer to perfection, rushed for 100 yards and passed for 156 more as he guided the Bulldogs comeback.

For the season, Dotson has rushed 26 times for 109 yards. Through the air, he's hit on 15 of 37 for 236 yards and one touchdown. He's had two intercepted.

Lynch, who will probably be on the bench against East Carolina, has run 73 times for 110 yards, and hit on 37 of 80 passes for 468 yards and two touchdowns. He's also had two intercepted.

The leading rusher on the team is Lonnie Gibson, who's picked up 290 yards in 81 carries. Tommy Ervin is next with 184 in 54 carries.

Another rusher that The Citadel feels is on the verge of greatness is Andrew Johnson, who rushed for 73 yards against Chattanooga, but scored three touchdowns. He has seen only limited action due to injuries. However, he is expected to be at full speed for the Bucs.

The top targets for the 'Dog passers have been Erwin, who has 11 catches for 122 yards, Eddie Westervelt, with eight for 131, and Rick Myatt with eight for 72.

Ralph Ferguson leads the team in kickoff returns, bringing back seven for 169 yards, while Bryan Ruff has intercepted three passes and brought them back 54 yards.

While the Bulldogs themselves offer a stiff challenge, the Corps of Cadets offer another.

"Our biggest problem is the environment and the atmosphere of the game," Sony Randle of East Carolina said. "They have a tremendous home advantage. That steel stadium makes a lot of noise with foot pounding and the like, so we expect to encounter a great deal of harassment. Parents' Day is like Homecoming to them."

Randle feels that The Citadel is very fired up now. "They changed their quarterback and Dotson did a heck of a job for them. I believe he runs the veer better than Lynch, but we'll probably see both of them, especially if one doesn't get them moving."

Randle also had praise for Johnson, who will likely be the starting fullback for the Bulldogs. "He's a real fine football player."

This is the first time the Bucs will have seen the veer offense this year, although Furman did run a little of it. "They compare favorably with Furman, and are a better team than VMI. There were 11 turnovers in that game, and The Citadel could easily have beaten VMI."

Randle is also hoping that his players will not take too much stock in that game, especially after trimming VMI 42-7 last weekend. "Some people are already talking about Carolina, William & Mary and Richmond (the next three foes after The Citadel), but we can't. If we don't beat The Citadel, those other won't mean much."

Citadel's defense is rated as adequate by the Buc coach. "It's not great, but they do so many different things, stunts, blitzes, everything...much like VMI, and if we don't pick their stuff up, we could have quite a bit of trouble. But we feel we can both run and throw on them if we execute."

The Bucs, of course, will be missing Benny Gibson, their starting tight end, who was lost for the season with a shoulder injury. All of the other Bucs, however, are expected to make the trip although Buddy Lowrey and Cary Godette are still somewhat troubled by their injuries. "We're unsure who'll be starting at the end positions right now," Randle said.

There was also some question as to who would start at the tailback slot. Carlester Crumpler came into last week's game against VMI and showed some of the brilliance he had last year, but never quite equaled this year due to early injuries. "It's back to his old self," Randle said. "He should be ready. We have two number one tailbacks now and it really doesn't make any difference which one starts or plays."

Kenny Strayhorn, the other starting tailback, is the Southern Conference's leading rusher, averaging 102 yards a game. He fell out of the national statistics this week in rushing, lacking only two-tenths of a yard of being in the top 25.

The Pirate team as a whole, lacked only a tenth of a yard from being in the top 15 in team rushing.

And Reggie Pinkney, the Buc safety on kickoffs, have moved into the national states ranking 14th in kickoff returns with 25.1 yards per return.

Carl Summerell, the Buc quarterback, now leads the Southern in total offense.

The Bucs too, are tied with Richmond for the league lead, and can move ahead with a victory this week.

Last week, besides the victory by The Citadel over Chattanooga, and the Bucs whipping VMI, Appalachian fell to East Tennessee, 19-11; Furman rolled over Davidson, 38-7; Richmond whipped Southern Mississippi, 42-20, and William & Mary lost to Vanderbilt, 20-7.

This week, two other conference games are on tap. Davidson is at William & Mary in one, while Furman hosts VMI in the other. Richmond is host to West Virginia, and Appalachian has Wofford as its guest in the non-conference action.

Piner Second In Sectionals

WILSON — Rose High School's girls' tennis team finished second in the team standings in the Girls Eastern Tennis Sectionals, concluded yesterday at Wilson.

Fike High School took top honors, scoring 12 points, while Rose was right behind them with 10.

Rose's Becky Piner finished in second place in the singles event, marking the first time a Rampant lassie had made it to the finals of the tournament. She went into the event as the number four seed.

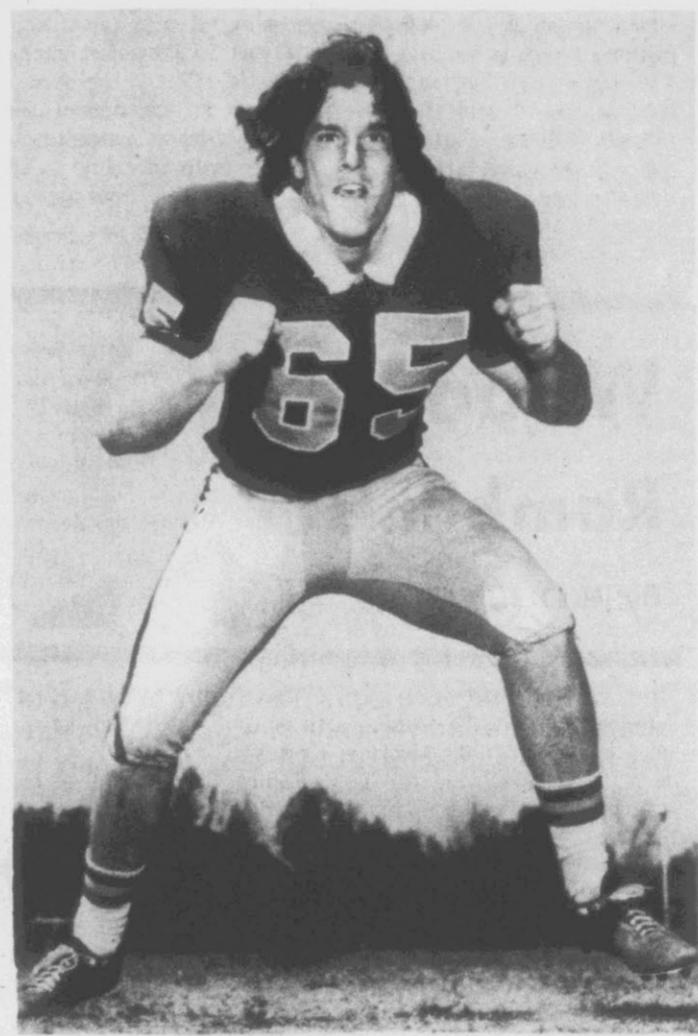

Her teammate, Susie Pittman, lost to her in the semi-finals of the tournament, but both qualified for the state tournament, to be held Wednesday and Thursday at Chapel Hill.

Miss Pittman downed Ginger Lanchester, the two-seeded player in the tournament, in the quarterfinals, 6-4, 6-2, while Miss Piner was downing Jean Walston, 6-3, 6-2, to gain the finals.

In the finals, she faced Wilson's Mary Ann Mattox, who came away with the individual title with a 7-5, 6-2 victory over Miss Piner.

Miss Piner's record so far this year is 15-3, while Miss Pittman's is 11-4.

GC Claims JV Victory

LITTLEFIELD—Greene Central's junior varsity remained unbeaten in the Eastern Carolina Conference with a 12-0 win over Ayden-Grifton yesterday.

After a scoreless first period, Anthony Corbett scored from five yards but to make it 6-0.

It stayed that way until the final period, when Corbett scored again, this time from the nine.

The victory left Greene Central with a 5-1 overall mark and a 5-0 league record.

Green In Victory

The Greene team won its third game without a loss yesterday as they shutout the Orange, 21-0, in 7th and 8th grade tackle football at Elm Street Park.

The Green scored once in each quarter for their total. Ronnie Chapman scored on a seven-yard run in the first frame to make it 6-0.

Richard Nunn came back with a six-yard run in the second period and Ricky Blake scored the PAT for a 13-0 edge at halftime.

In the third frame, Chapman scored again, going in from the three, and that upped it to 19-0. In the final quarter, Nunn hit Doug Selby in the end zone for a safety, giving the Green their final score.

The Green is now 3-0 in the league, while the Blue is 2-1. The Orange is 1-2 and the Gold is 0-3.

Cale Is Set Back

ROCKINGHAM, N. C. (AP) — If Cale Yarborough wins Sunday's American 500 stock car race, like he did a controversial one two weeks ago, he'll have to come from behind to do it.

The stocky, blonde Yarborough, a Republican county commissioner in South Carolina, was the first victim of a tough new tech inspection policy Thursday after the first round of trials for the $107,500 fall classic.

Yarborough, who wheels a Chevrolet owned by former driving great Junior Johnson, had qualified his car for a sixth place start in Sunday's 40-car line-up.

But only minutes after he made his run around the one-mile North Carolina Motor Speedway, inspectors in the garage area found that his machine was equipped with an illegal carburetor plate. He was ordered to forfeit his sixth place start, and must do it over again today.

Mets Take Aim At Series Title Saturday

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
OAKLAND (AP) — The New York Mets brought a 3-2 World Series lead back to Oakland today, hoping to finish the sinking A's with the right-hand punch of ace Tom Seaver.

Although Manager Yogi Berra wouldn't say directly, the New York pilot indicated Thursday night that Seaver would start in Saturday's series game in Oakland against A's ace Jim "Catfish" Hunter.

"Seaver's arm is fine," said Berra after the Mets won the fifth game 2-0 in New York. "Let's just say that it's a good chance that it might be Seaver."

The hard-throwing ace is the only right-hander among the Mets' starters, but it really doesn't matter which side they've been throwing from in this best-of-seven-game Series. They've shackled the A's power.

Left-handers especially have been awfully tough on the predominantly righthand Oakland batting order—and Thursday night's performance was a good example.

Southpaw Jerry Koosman started and shut out the A's for 6 1-3 innings. Left-handed Tug McGraw finished up with a stunning relief performance.

"We've got the best pitching in baseball," said Berra after the victory before a packed house of 54,817 at cold, windswept Shea Stadium. "That's what got us here in the first place."

It was apparent from the start that pitching would dominate Thursday night's game. Koosman and Oakland's Vida Blue were locked in a tense early struggle as the Mets took a 1-0 lead in the second inning on a double by flu-stricken Cleon Jones and a run-scoring single by John Milner.

The Mets had Blue on the ropes in the fourth when Rusty Staub and Jones singled to start the inning, but failed to deliver a knockout blow. Blue pitched out of the jam. He failed, however to survive the sixth, when the Mets scored their second run on a single by Jerry Grote and triple by Don Hahn.

"It was the most important hit of my life," said Hahn, who isn't normally known for game-winning hits. "It gave Jerry more of a cushion to work with."

Blue exploded a fastball inside and Hahn hit it into the left-center field alley.

"I was kind of tight in the first four games," said the soft-spoken center fielder. "But Buddy (Harrelson) told me I'd been too rigid standing at the plate. So I went up there super relaxed tonight."

"I felt I could hit anybody. I had super confidence."

That insurance run looked big in the late going when Koosman got into trouble. In the seventh inning, he walked Gene Tenace and gave up a one-out double to Ray Fosse that put men on second and third.

It was time for McGraw.

"No one wants to leave a ballgame," said Koosman, "and I was feeling pretty strong, too. But you can't knock Yogi's move. Tug has pitched great baseball for us the last two months."

McGraw promptly walked pinch-hitter Deron Johnson to load the bases, setting up a situation in which McGraw has flourished most of the season.

"I can't pitch well with nobody on base," said McGraw. "I have much better concentration with the bases loaded."

The crowd roared as New York's favorite relief pitcher got pinch-hitter Angel Mangual on a pop fly to shortstop Harrelson. Then the crowd went absolutely berserk as McGraw got the dangerous Bert Campaneris on strikes.

"The strikeout pitch was just above the knees on the outside part of the plate," said McGraw. "I tried to make it look like a screwball. It went just where I wanted it, and he took it." McGraw walked three batters in the seventh and eighth innings and managed to struggle through despite the control problem.

"I kicked myself in the backside and I was all right from then on," McGraw said.

McGraw's darting fastball set the A's down 1-2-3 in the ninth. He finished on a high note, striking out the last two batters.

"The Mets' pitching is the best we've looked at this year," said Manager Dick Williams of Oakland. "I thought Blue pitched a hell of a game. Koosman and McGraw just pitched better."

A look at the figures confirmed Williams' assessment. The A's were only able to collect three hits off Koosman and none off McGraw Thursday night. The power-hitting A's haven't had a home run in this Series and scored only four runs in the three games at Shea.

"Old baseball men say good pitching stops good hitting, and I guess I'll have to go along with that," said Blue, who has never won a game in post-season play.

"Good pitching and defense and some very timely hitting," said Williams, summarizing the Mets' magic.

Southern Coaches May Learn Lot By The Time Saturday Games Over

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
Coach Bobby Ross of The Citadel says "East Carolina says it can run with any team in the country . . . and I believe maybe it could."

Ross will find out Saturday afternoon when his Bulldogs play host to East Carolina's defending champion Pirates in one of three Southern Conference football games.

William and Mary Coach Jim Root says "Davidson is 1-5 but the kind of football team coaches worry about. I'm glad it will be homecoming to give us that extra incentive."

Root will find out how much incentive Saturday afternoon when his Indians play host to the Wildcats in another league encounter.

Furman Coach Art Baker says "VMI is not that impressive until you look at their schedule and see who has beaten them. There are a lot of good teams in the country that would have the same record VMI has if they had played the same schedule."

Baker's major concern is getting his surprising Paladins to forget about VMI's record and playing football the way they have so far when they entertain the Keydets in the other conference scrap.

Richmond Coach Frank Jones says "this is a big, big game for us" as he talks of his unbeaten and untied Spiders' homecoming encounter with West Virginia's former league member Mountaineers, who have lost two in a row after winning their first three.

The Spiders' record in 16 previous meetings with West Virginia is one victory, one tie and 14 defeats. The Spiders' homecoming record under Jones is seven triumphs in a row. Something has to give.

Appalachian State Coach Jim Brakefield says "we continue to improve, but our offense still cannot come up with the key third-down conversion consistently enough to get us more points."

Brakefield will be looking for that consistency when his Mountaineers play host in Saturday's other nonconference affair to Wofford, where Brakefield coached until he came to Appalachian.

For the record, East Carolina is 5-1 over-all and 3-0 in the conference going to The Citadel, 2-4 and 0-2. A victory would put the Pirates half a game up on Richmond, also 3-0 in league play.

William and Mary is 4-2 overall and 1-0 in the conference against Davidson's 1-5 and 0-4 records. Furman is 4-2 and 2-2 against VMI's 1-5 and 1-2 ledgers. Richmond is 5-0 over-all, Appalachian 1-4-1.

East Carolina will throw the league's top offensive record at

The Citadel and has the conference's individual total offense leader in Carl Summerell, averaging 117.8 yards per game, and top runner in sophomore Kenny Strayhorn, averaging 102 yards per game.

But Ross replaced senior Harry Lynch with sophomore Gene Dotson at quarterback last week, and Dotson rallied the Bulldogs from a 20-0 deficit to a 28-20 victory over Tennessee-Chattanooga.

Dotson "adds something new to the attack," says East Carolina defensive coordinator Carl Reese. "Before, we had to stop the passing of Lynch. Now we have to stop Dotson, and that will be difficult because he is a fine option quarterback."

Moving Up On Rest Of Pack

Slowly but surely (we hope) the pack is coming back to join us.

This past week, we picked up another one on most of the pack and didn't lose any ground on the leader.

Tom Baines, by virtue of a 10-2 week last time out, moved into a one-game lead in the standings at 53-17. John Trotman, Sandra Spivey, and Jack Whichard all went 9-3, and dropped out of a tie for first at 52-18. George Holland also went 9-3 and is another game back at 51-19.

And with a 10-2 week of our own, we now are 49-21, just two behind Holland, and with a little luck, by the time this week is over, we may move out of the basement.

We also missed a high school game last week, our second of the year, and that brought an angry letter from a player on the Conley team—which we picked to lose, and they won. Oh, well, we can't get 'em all right all the time.

There are a few we have to look at this week before getting into the results of this week's poll.

Farmville Central travels to North Lenoir for another Eastern Carolina Conference game. The Jaguars lost a heartbreaker to Southern Wayne last week, while Conley is bumping off the Hawks seemingly quite easily. Regardless, we would still feel that Farmville Central was the better of the two and they get the nod.

Conley, meanwhile, travels to Eastern Wayne. The Vikings say they have it on track now, but Eastern Wayne, despite their record, is no pushover. But we'll bow to pressure and pick Conley to win this time.

Rock Ridge visits Robersonville in an Eastern Plains game. Rock Ridge hasn't been too successful so far, and in the conference, the Eagles are flying high. Robersonville should be an easy victor.

Ahoskie visits Williamston in a key Nor-

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

theastern Conference game. The Tigers have had to struggle just a little recently to win, while Ahoskie has flexed its muscles all year long, losing only in the upset of the year to Bertie. Hate to say it, but we must pick Ahoskie.

Finally, as far as our individual picks go, comes the visit of Charles B. Aycock to North Pitt. Neither team has picked up a win this year, and escape from the cellar is on the minds of both teams. Who knows, it might end in a tie, but we'll pick North Pitt to pull this one off.

Since Rose High isn't playing this week, we've put the top Eastern Carolina Conference game, Ayden-Grifton at Greene Central on the poll. The Chargers haven't been beaten, and for the most part, haven't been challenged. Greene Central lost to one of the teams beaten by Ayden-Grifton, but you just can't count history. It promises to be quite a contest.

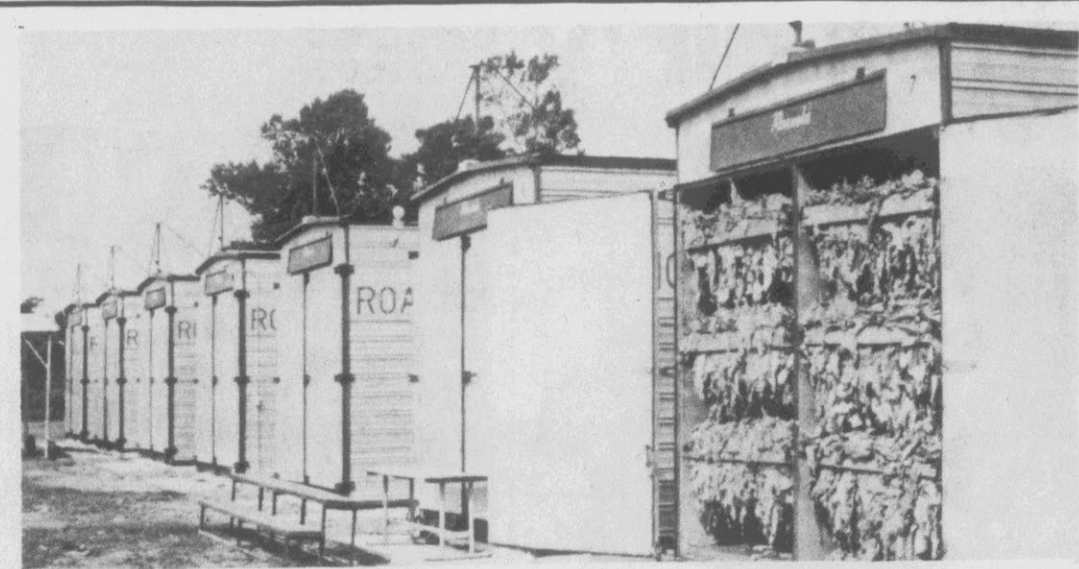

But we are solid again. Everyone picks Ayden-Grifton to win it.

East Carolina travels to Charleston, S. C., for another Southern Conference contest with The Citadel. Coach Sonny Randle might face a problem of getting his team up. After whipping VMI as handily as the Bucs did, they might look back at how easily VMI beat The Citadel.

But they had better be looking at what they did to Chattanooga last week, winning 28-20, with a revitalized offense. It could get scary for the Bucs down in South Carolina, but still, everyone favors the Bucs.

TIGHT MONEY? . . . NOT AT PCA

Mechanization seems to be the way of the future. Don't let tight money stand in the way of your farming progress. Bulk barns, automatic tobacco primers, combines, land improvement; all these are in the scope of PCA financing.

BOURBON

Your first bottle of it came as a gift. And since then, you haven't gone back to anything else.

Because you found great bourbon has a smooth taste unlike anything else.

Pitt Cancer Society Celebrates Surpassing Goal

A SILVER BOWL...for the outstanding contribution to the Pitt County Cancer Crusade this year by the Greenville Woman's Club was accepted by Mrs. Mary Faye Shires and Mrs. Elizabeth Savage

J. Herbert Waldrop spoke at the annual appreciation dinner of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Cancer Society last night at the Greenville Moose Lodge.

Waldrop talked about the way individuals respond to news that they or one of their loved one has cancer. He expressed the need for everyone to prepare for death, even as he lives the best life he can.

The meeting was to celebrate the local chapter's going over its goal for the first time ever. The goal was $14,000 and the amount collected was $14,257.29, according to the treasurer, William B. Chalk.

Chalk reported that $500 has been given to an ECU Medical School faculty member for research and $500 has been given to Pitt Memorial Hospital for a new microscope.

Mrs. Phyllis Martin, president, commented on the good collection and told of a Pap Smear Clinic established this year at the Pitt County Health Department and of a "Reach to Recovery" program about to get underway.

Recognition was given to the following: Mrs. Wilbert Ball, residential chairman; Mrs. Emma McIntire, residential chairman; Mrs. Earl Bruton, special events chairman; Dr. David Stevens, ECU chairman; Mrs. Mavis Lupton, memorial chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baldree for outstanding volunteer work over the years, William E. Martin, posthumously for his work as Pitt County canister chairman, accepted by his daughter; two local chairmen who had especially good campaigns, Mrs. Elaine King of Ayden and Don Watson of Gritton; and Mrs. Gene Skinner, Crusade co-chairman. Officers and committee chairmen for the coming year were announced. They are Dr. John Winstead Jr., president; John A. Lang Jr., first vice president; Mrs. Van C. Fleming Jr., second vice president; Mrs. Cherry Easley, secretary; William B. Chalk, treasurer; Dr. Stephen Bartlett, medical and scientific chairman; Christopher Hargett, service chairman; Dr. Paul Erekman, education chairman; Mrs. Carol Tyer, publicity chairman; and Mrs. John Winstead Jr., memorial chairman.

Byrd, Dancy At Ass'n Meeting

William Byrd and Don Dancy, faculty members of the School of Allied Health and Social Professions, East Carolina University, recently attended the annual joint meeting of the North Carolina Association of Health Educators and the Society of Public Health Educators. The keynote address was given by Dr. Lee Holder, Dean, College of Community and Allied Health Professions, University of Tennessee.

Both Byrd and Dancy are members of the combined organizations' Action Committee which has led the professional health educators toward a more active political role in state and federal affairs.

Baptist Ass'n Meeting Today

Services will be held today, tonight, Saturday and Sunday. Elder Grover Payton is moderator of the association.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1973

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds the likelihood for poor judgment but improved aspects in the afternoon bring you the chance to express your finest talents. Persuade those in high office to listen to your plan for the future.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Keep busy at whatever is of a practical nature in the morning and reserve the afternoon for discussing modern ideas.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Take care of routine duties early and then convince kin that your plans for the future are correct. Entertain tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Attend a meeting and discuss creative ideas with others. Listen carefully to what is said. Devote evening to family.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you are worried about money, wise thinking can remove this condition. Engage in the right channels of endeavor.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you study new ideas of friends, you can adopt some with considerable success. You are dynamic and sure of yourself now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle routine work early in the day. Use your good hunches and try to assert yourself more. Show devotion to loved one.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan how to please good friends and have a good time today. Look to a generous person for the right answer to a problem.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care of regular duties in the morning. Later take steps that will lead to advancement. Attend civic activities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Listen carefully to what a new associate has to suggest. Show that you comprehend ideas easily. Strive for success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do those things now that will make your relationship with mate more satisfying. Avoid one who has peculiar ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Avoid arguing with an associate or it could be a disturbing day for you. Strive for more harmony with family and friends.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A career matter may come up that will require your immediate attention. Show that you are very cooperative with co-workers.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who may lack confidence early in life, so be sure to give praise for any fine work and try to recognize the real potential in your progeny yourself. A fine artistic ability here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Says Needs Unmet

RALEIGH (AP)—A psychiatrist says that about 75 per cent of North Carolina's mental health needs are not being met under the state's mental health system.

"To date, our system is attempting to meet about 25 to 27 per cent of the problem in our population," said Dr. William G. Hollister of the University of North Carolina Medical School.

Hollister appeared Thursday before the Mental Health Care Study Commission which is making recommendations for improvements in the state mental health system.

To carry out the task, the commission has hired a private consulting firm which is expected to report its findings next month.

Hollister noted that because of limited financial resources available to deal with the state's unmet mental health needs, the commission and consulting firm will have to make some basic decisions about the type of mental health care the state will provide.

$7,722 Grant To Drug Program

A grant of $7,722 has been awarded the East Carolina University Regional Drug Program by the North Carolina Drug Authority.

The funds will be used for the writing, printing and mailing of the Drug Authority Newsletter.

The ECU Regional Drug Program is directed by Dr. Lionel L. Kendrick of the ECU Department of Health and Physical Education.

Forest Scientist

Tom Terry has a dirty job:

To learn more about forest soils.

The future of wood depends on it, seriously. Which is why Tom and his go-anywhere Bombardier cover so much ground. From testing soils in the rough-and-tumble backwoods of North Carolina to excavations in the thriving forest.

Of dirt he can tell you the nutrients, moisture, composition and whether fertilizer is needed and when it should be applied.

The right combination can make fast-growing loblolly pine spring up 12 feet in just four short years.

Ask Tom Terry—What's the real key to growing trees? "Soil."

See Tom Terry Saturday on NCAA Football, ABC-TV.

Student To Lead Revival

TOMMY EVANS

A Mount Olive College student, Tommy Evans, will conduct a revival at Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church Monday through Saturday of next week.

The services will be held each night at 7:30 and a nursery will be provided. There will be special music.

Everyone is invited to the church, located on Highway 264 about five miles west of Greenville, according to the pastor, the Rev. Scott Sowers.

Fall Revival Homecoming Are Scheduled

The Black Jack Free Will Baptist Church, Route 3, Greenville announces homecoming services for Sunday.

The day's activities will begin with Sunday School at 10 A.M., followed with the morning message by the pastor, the Reverend Bobby G. Bazen. A picnic lunch will be served on the church grounds during the noon hour. A special program of music and singing has been planned for the afternoon service.

Revival services will begin Monday evening following homecoming and will be in progress through Friday evening. The Rev. Earl Glenn of Goldsboro, will be the guest evangelist. Services will begin each evening at 7:30. The pastor and the church members extend an invitation for visitors to participate in these services.

Approve Grants To Hospital And To ACC

WASHINGTON, N.C. — The Board of Directors of WITN-TV have approved grants of $500 each to the Pungo District Hospital, and Atlantic Christian College, according to an announcement made today by W. R. Roberson, Jr. President and General Manager of North Carolina Television, Inc. (WITN-TV)

In making the announcement, Roberson stated, "The Directors of WITN-TV are pleased to make these contributions to the Pungo District Hospital to aid their current plans to expand the health care services that is so vital to the welfare of the residents in the Belhaven area. We are also aware of the many fine contributions made by Atlantic Christian College in Wilson to the educational needs of Eastern North Carolina and are pleased to award this cash grant to ACC to assist them in providing additional educational facilities."

The action was approved at a meeting of the Directors held at the offices of WITN-TV last week.

Church Homecoming In New Building

Red Oak Christian Church will observe homecoming Sunday, Oct. 21, as has been its custom since 1941.

The homecoming will be the first one held in the new church, which has been in use for four months. The original new building was destroyed by a tornado in 1972.

The day's activities will begin at 9:45 a.m. with Sunday School with Bob Beardsworth as superintendent, featuring classes for all ages. The pastor, Rev. Ronald Nichols, will preside at the 11 o'clock worship service. Dinner will be served picnic style at 12:30.

At 1:30 p.m., a fellowship hour will be held including an exchange of greetings, singing by visiting groups, soloists and the church choir. All former pastors, members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

 Res. 758-2279 Jesus—The Only Way Study 752-5773

You can't help loving this little pup. Maybe it's because he seems so out of proportion. If he somehow were able to flap those ears he might fly away.

Perhaps there is a little fellow in your home who is "all ears" in another sense . . . a youngster who takes in everything that's said, including some things he isn't meant to hear.

Most children are eager to listen . . . hungry to learn. That is why the early years are so important in the molding of a child's character. The things he hears, whether right or wrong, make a deep impression on his mind. They are soon reflected in his actions and words.

Wise parents take advantage of the Church's program of religious education in implanting those early impressions. They know there is no surer builder of character than religious faith.

NOW . . . while your child is eager to hear and to learn, bring him to church . . . and support the Church in its great undertaking.
