

Gasoline Rationing Looms Step Nearer

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline rationing is looming a step closer as President Nixon's Cabinet-level energy group has soured on fuel-saving tax ideas.

"Almost everybody is leaning toward rationing," an administration source said, describing the attitudes expressed in a meeting Tuesday of the Emergency Energy Action Group assigned by Nixon to recommend energy-crisis policy.

The source said even Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, the strongest advocate of a gasoline tax to avoid rationing, was "not all that firm" for taxes in the meeting.

But the group has not yet made up its mind and was to discuss the issues again Thursday, the source said.

"What Shultz really would like to do is take the lid right off gasoline prices," the source related, but he said neither Shultz nor anyone else thought this should be done as long as there is a gasoline shortage.

Unlimited prices, he said, would only open the way for oil companies to roll up windfall profits by overcharging customers in a shortage market.

The notion of imposing a tax of 30 to 40 cents per gallon, to discourage unnecessary gasoline use had some appeal, but the source said the Cabinet group appeared to be reaching the conclusion a tax would take too long to clear Congress and would act too slowly to cut gasoline use.

Although President Nixon said Sunday night that gasoline supplies will be reduced 15 per cent to increase the supplies of other petroleum fuels, the administration's crisis strategy calls for a 30 per cent gasoline cutback.

And administration sources said Tuesday the cuts probably will be increased to 30 per cent over the next several months.

One source said it now is virtually certain that the distribution of all petroleum fuels and crude oil will be placed under government control at the wholesale level.

So far, only propane gas and the "middle distillates" including home heating oil and diesel and jet fuel are under such controls.

The source said direct consumer rationing was less certain, but was rapidly becoming likely as the tax alternative grew more remote.

President Nixon's domestic adviser, former Rep. Melvin R. Laird, did not much like rationing but he told the group on Tuesday he could find "no sentiment on the Hill (Congress) in favor of a tax," the source said.

Arabs Warn More War Unless Israel Falls Back

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

ALGIERS (AP) — Arab leaders closed a three-day summit today with a warning of renewed battles in the Middle East unless Israel withdraws from all occupied Arab lands.

In a final declaration, the leaders declared that until Israel evacuates all occupied territories and restores the rights of the Palestinian people, "an unstable and explosive situation and renewed battles" will continue in the Middle East.

All speakers at the closing session called for maintenance of Arab unity and warned Arab nations to be prepared for new fighting if the peace talks fail.

The final declaration, however, did not explicitly refer to the talks, tentatively scheduled to open in Geneva on Dec. 18.

In a backstage compromise, the kings and presidents attending the conference earlier averted a split over the status of Palestinian guerrilla leader

Yasir Arafat and opened the way for Arafat's participation in the proposed talks.

The summit reaffirmed Arafat as spokesman of the Palestinian people, but took no step toward the creation of a Palestinian exile government that would have challenged King Hussein's sovereignty over Palestinians in Jordan.

Several resolutions on the Arab posture at the Geneva talks and on military and economic action in case of a stalemate were passed by the 16 Arab governments attending and the Palestine Liberation Organization, the umbrella for Palestinian guerrilla groups. Most were kept secret.

The presidents of Iraq and Libya, who rejected the concept of peace talks with Israel, boycotted the summit and their delegation seats remained empty.

Morocco's King Hassan drew applause from the crowded conference hall with the pledge that "we will soon pray in the holy city of Jerusalem and salute the Palestinian flag flying there."

The final declaration declared: "While the October war showed the determination of the Arab nation to free its occupied territories at any cost, the cease-fire on the ground does not in any way indicate that the struggle has come to an end, or that a solution can be imposed on the Arab nation which does not correspond to its just aims."

The statement also called on European countries to use every means to obtain an Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab lands and to restore Palestinian rights. It added that Israel had been diplomatically isolated by the latest Middle East war.

The compromise over Arafat's status came in a resolution the Arab leaders hope will bring both the guerrilla movement and Jordan to the peace talks.

Beef Prices In October Share Over-All Drop

By BRIAN B. KING
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail beef prices dropped last month for the first time in over a year, as part of an over-all decline in food prices, the Agriculture Department reports.

The department's monthly computation of a hypothetical family marketbasket of farm-produced food showed an 18-cent-a-week decline in grocery bills in October.

The Economic Research Service statistics released Tuesday showed that the annual retail cost of the market-basket items for a family of 3.2 persons fell 0.5 per cent.

The decline, second in two months after a year of record climbs, could have been 2.4 per cent if middlemen had passed along the full drop in farm prices instead of again boosting the farm-retail spread, the figures showed.

The spreads increased sharply, a spokesman said, for dairy, bakery, cereal and fats-and-oils products while decreasing—depending on the comparison—for meat products, fresh fruits and poultry.

The computed cost for the full years was $1,620 in October—a rate 22.4 per cent higher than October 1972. In weekly terms, it means that a grocery shopping trip cost $31.15 a week in October, $31.33 in September, $31.79 during the August peak and $25.46 in October 1972.

The retail cost was 2 per cent below August's record $1,653.

Farm prices were down 5 per cent from September's levels—slightly revised Tuesday from the chart a month ago—and 15.1 per cent below August's. They still were 35.6 per cent higher than October 1972.

On the other hand, as farm value dropped $38 in a month, the spread between that and supermarket prices went up $29.

U.S. Steel Will Raise Its Prices

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer, has announced plans to increase steel prices Jan. 1 by about 6½ per cent on half of the industry's product line.

The increases would cover such steel products as rods, wire, bars, semifinished steel, plate, structurals, tubular and railroad products.

U.S. Steel said in the announcement late Tuesday that the hikes were "cost justified" and were in accordance with government regulations.

Open Land To Shale Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton today announced plans to lease federal lands in three Western states for commercial production of oil from shale.

Morton said leases on six federal oil shale tracts in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming will be offered at competitive bidding, one at a time between Jan. 8 and June 4.

Morton's long-expected announcement could lead to the opening of a vast new oil resource much larger than the nation's known reserves of conventional oil.

At the same time, Morton announced he is ready to issue a permit for construction of the Trans-Alaska oil pipeline, delayed by an environmental lawsuit since 1970.

He asked the Justice Department to take the remaining steps to clear the way for official issuance of the permit, including a court-imposed requirement to give the environmental groups who brought suit 14 days official notice of the action.

Morton also ordered the activation of 250 petroleum industry executives in a reserve pool to join the Emergency Petroleum and Gas Administration and help administer federal energy emergency programs.

The announcement said the Interior Department is figuring out whose skills will be needed and individual requests for the executives' services will be issued early in December.

The department said the emergency government service by the executives probably would not last more than 130 working days, about six months.

Utilities Take Own Steps To Conserve Fuels

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

The Greenville Utilities Commission is incorporating several operating procedures that are aimed at fuel and energy conservation, according to George Reel, GUCO customer service representative.

Reel explained that a number of the procedures involve efficiency measures for vehicles and equipment that should result in fuel savings.

Crews are being instructed to take to job sites only the necessary vehicles and equipment and the shutting down of motors when not in use is being emphasized.

Vehicle maintenance is being stressed to insure peak operating efficiency, Reel said, and when practical, garage mechanics will go directly to the job sites to make equipment repairs.

The maximum highway speed limits for all commission vehicles, except in emergencies affecting life or property, has been set at 50 miles per hour.

The official said that in order to reduce lost travel time and fuel consumption, no service cut-on orders will be accepted without sufficient information that will allow for only one trip to be made. In the past, servicemen have made several trips to render a cut-on service, it was noted, but now calls will be consolidated and cut on requests will be handled, in one trip, within 24 hours.

Where gas service is to be cut on, Reel continued, the customer must be at home or available at a telephone number in order for one-trip service calls to be made. Customers will be informed that service will be cut on the day following receipt of applications, unless the commission can conveniently schedule otherwise.

Reel said that several in-plant steps are being taken to conserve usage. Electric lights and appliances are being cut off if their use is not essential and thermostats are being set at minimum comfort levels for day use. Night setting are reduced at the end of the business day.

Other conservation steps include: periodic checking of gas furnaces; minimum use of propane gas in job site heaters; installation of additional insulation where needed; maximum use of radio and telephone to reduce travel; encouragement of employees to join car pools; and urging employees to adopt additional energy saving procedures.

Reel noted that the gasoline shortage has already reached the commission. With the exception of a small amount of gasoline on hand for emergency usage, the commission's 20,000 gallon storage tank is empty and no shipments are expected until after Dec. 1, he asserted.

He said that personnel using commission vehicles have been issued credit cards so that they may purchase gasoline retail at local stations.

Efforts to purchase bulk gasoline locally have been futile and until the next supply is delivered in December, operators of commission vehicles must compete with the motoring public for gasoline.

Lentz Defends Firings

By ROBERT B. CULLEN
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP)—Holshouser administration witnesses cited the governor's "mandate" to reform the Highway Division in defending its personnel policies before a legislative committee today.

Transportation Secretary Bruce Lentz told the Senate's select committee on personnel practices that his mission was to "restore public confidence" in an operation that had "a reputation as the most politically oriented agency in state government."

Lentz defended the hirings and dismissals that have taken place in the 12,500-member agency since January. He was joined by Troy Doby, a Republican member of the Board of Transportation who served as the department's first personnel chief.

Doby said Gov. Jim Holshouser's victory last November "did not assure his ability to govern over a bureaucracy that was 100 per cent Democratic."

Doby criticized the personnel policies of previous Democratic administrations, saying that the department was riddled with political, incompetent ap-

Governor Here On Thursday

Tomorrow is Governor James Holshouser's meet the people day in Greenville. From 10:00 a.m. until noon, and again from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m., the governor will be at City Hall to receive visitors on a first-come first-served basis.

Each person desiring to see the governor will be given a number, and called when his turn comes. Five minutes are being allotted to each person.

Each person desiring to see the governor will be given a number and called when his turn comes. Five minutes are being allotted to each person.

The purpose of the people days are to give individuals an opportunity to speak to him about any problem, complaint or suggestion. These are handled privately.

Fred Gallagher—"The People's Man"—will accompany the governor. In event that there are those who cannot get to see the governor due to time limitations, Gallagher will take their name and address, the nature of their complaint or suggestion, and promises that the matter will receive a follow-up answer.

Gerald Ford 'Happy' At Confirmation In Senate

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-designate Gerald R. Ford says he is "just darned happy" to have won 92-3 approval of the Senate, and predicts he will also be approved by a wide margin in the House.

The House, where Ford has served for 25 years, is working on a schedule that would have him confirmed as the nation's 40th vice president by the end of next week.

Ford said he expected 25 House colleagues would vote against his nomination.

Before approving Ford on Tuesday, the Senate debated the nomination for an hour. The 15 senators who participated in the debate were virtually unanimous in their praise of Ford's honesty and integrity.

But Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said he felt compelled to vote no because of Ford's support for the Vietnam war and his opposition to strong civil rights legislation.

"I don't believe he can provide the type of inspirational leadership we need if he should become president," Nelson said.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., who for a short time was the 1972 Democratic vice-presidential nominee, opposed Ford on similar grounds.

The third Senate vote against

Ford was cast by Sen. William D. Hathaway, D-Maine, who said that Congress should first determine whether President Nixon will be impeached.

Ford, 60, has been House Republican leader for nine years. He would succeed Spiro T. Agnew, who resigned on Oct. 10 after pleading guilty to one count of income-tax evasion. Ford was nominated two days later.

The House Judiciary Committee has wound up its Ford inquiry and is expected to endorse the nomination next Tuesday.

The confirmation process is being carried out under the 25th Amendment to the Constitution ratified in 1967.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, apparently spoke for many Senate Democrats when he said: "Gerald Ford is not my choice for the vice presidency but our duty is to ratify or reject the President's choice."

Sales And Use Tax Proceeds Are Distributed

Net distributable proceeds from sales and use tax collections in Pitt County for the quarter ending Sept. 30 totaled $397,632, according to Department of Revenue Secretary J. Howard Coble.

Coble reported that net quarterly collections in Pitt were $401,661 with the cost of collecting the tax amounting to $4,028.

Figured on a per capita basis, Greenville received $102,380 of the total amount. The city's population was listed as 30,660.

Farmville, with a population of 4,530 received $15,126 and Ayden, based on a population of 3,530, received $11,787.

Other Pitt towns, their populations and receipts include: Grifton (Pitt share) 1,550, $5,175; Bethel, 1,510, $5,042; Winterville, 1,440, $4,806; Fountain, 430, $1,435; Grimesland, 400, $1,335; and Falkland, 130, $434.

Total population for the county was listed as 74,900 with Pitt receiving $250,106 and the nine municipalities sharing in the balance.

Greene County, figured on an ad valorem basis, received $28,012 with $25,703 of the total going to the county, $1,840 to Snow Hill, $288 to Hookerton, and $180 to Walstonburg.

Lenoir County's total amounted to $316,709 with $243,592 of that figure going to the county and the balance distributed to four municipalities. Kinston received $66,022 based on an ad valorem levy of $921,966.

Martin County received $105,737 with $84,290 of the total going to the county and the balance distributed to nine municipalities. Williamston received $16,155 while Robersonville receipts totaled $3,961.

Washington received the largest share of Beaufort County's $191,486 with an allocation of $34,237, based on a population of 8,770.

Make Husband Happy, Forget Brother-In-Law

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 26-year-old housewife with two daughters. Two years ago I began what I thought was a carefree affair with my husband's sister's husband. He was an older man [48 and divorced] and had such a sweet, understanding nature. Well, I fell in love with him and even had illusions of running away with him, but I don't think I ever could have gone thru with it because he is a lousy provider, has six kids, and my husband is a good, hard-working 30-year-old man who loves me.

I really love my husband, too, but I couldn't resist this brother in law.

Three months ago a 22-year-old girl entered the picture. She and my brother in law began an affair, and he came to me and told me he loved me too much to take me away from my husband, but this young girl had nobody to care for her. I believe it. She is homely and acts like a 10-year-old. But I can't understand why he would leave me for her.

I can't get this man out of my mind. Should I leave my husband and tell my brother in law he wouldn't be taking me away from my husband because I left him?

Love is a terrible thing. What should I do?

TORMENTED IN TENNESSEE

DEAR TORMENTED: This isn't love—it's insanity! Let the 22-year-old girl have him and put a little more energy into making that 30-year-old, hardworking man who loves you happy. Your brother in law is bad news.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 72-year-old woman, living alone on a pension in an apartment which had advertised for tenants while it was still under construction.

When I signed a year's lease I was not told that arrangements were being made with a "computer school" in this complex to rent 27 three-bedroom apartments to the students. [There are six students in each apartment.]

The students have no supervision, and the noise is unbearable where I live. The kids next door play their hi-fi so loud, my walls vibrate! I can't sleep in my bedroom. I have to sleep on a narrow sofa in my living room to get away from the noise from next door. I have a bad back and am a very large woman.

I complained to the resident manager, and he said he would do something about it, but so far he hasn't.

Had I known these students would be here I never would have signed the lease. I am a nervous wreck over this. Please help me.

SICK IN FAIRFAX, VA.

DEAR SICK: I don't know the laws in Fairfax concerning the validity of your lease, but if I were you, I'd find out fast. Contact your local Legal Aid Society, and, for a nominal fee, they will handle it.

SECRET SUB

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (WNS) — Thomas van Beek, 37, threw an office party for his private secretary when she announced her retirement after 12 years on the job so that she could give full time to family life. Van Beek got the surprise of his life when not one but two private secretaries showed up for the party. Identical twins Bep and Sophie Neef confessed that they had shared the same job, each working half time and splitting the pay check.

Fashion Show Highlights Annual Achievement Day

"Fall-Winter Fashions on Review" was the title of the fashion show presented at the annual Achievement Day of Pitt County Extension Homemakers Tuesday morning.

Narrated by Mrs. Evelyn Spangler, fashions included evening wear, pant suits, casual and daytime ensembles. Models included:

Mrs. Baker Bland; Miss Nancy Fuchs; Mrs. Dave

Bosley; Mrs. Charlie Allen; Mrs. W. E. Fulford Sr.; Mrs. Ray Garris; Mrs. Etheleen Massey; Mrs. Douglass Faison; Mrs. Hugh Farrior; Mrs. Essie Albritton; Mrs. Mae Coburn; Mrs. Herbert Taylor; Mrs. Bill Goin; Mrs. Lena Allen; Mrs. Gratz Norcott; Mrs. Darlene Hall; and Mrs. Curtis Witherington.

Mrs. John Condon, second vice president of the County Council, gave the report of the year's work for 1973. She recognized the following outstanding leaders: Mrs. Albritton, Ayden; Mrs. Fulford, Farmville; Mrs. Percy Boyd, Grifton; Mrs. Nathan Smith, Pactolus; Mrs. Karl Hardee, Red Banks; Mrs. R. H. McLawhorn, Renson Nobles; Mrs. Goin, Red Oak; Mrs. Gentry Porter, Simpson; Mrs. Norman Hawkins, Grimesland; Miss Dora Robbins, Haddocks; and Mrs. Sam Alexander, Sweet Gum Grove.

Mrs. Condon also announced members having 20 or more years perfect attendance as follows:

20 years, Mrs. J. W. Gay, Fountain; Mrs. C. D. Langston, Renson Nobles; 21 years, Mrs. Garris, Grifton; 22 years, Mrs. Howard Briley, Sweet Gum Grove; 24 years, Mrs. C. E. Case, Fountain; Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. C. Heber Briley, both of Sweet Gum Grove;

25 years, Mrs. Dennis Hardy, Bethel; Mrs. Ethel Tyson, Stokes; 26 years, Mrs. R. F. Clark, Belvoir; 27 years, Mrs. Hardee, Red Banks; Mrs. Margaret Tetterton, Sweet Gum Grove; 28 years, Mrs. Obed Castelleo, Renson Nobles; 29 years, Mrs. Clarence Barnhill, Belvoir; Mrs. G. C. Garris and Mrs. Lester Garris, both of Grifton; and 31 years, Mrs. W. A. Cherry, Red Banks.

Greetings were delivered during the morning session by Alton Gardner, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners, and Edwin Yancey chairman of the Pitt County Extension Service.

Yancey told of the Farm-City Week Tour which was held during the afternoon involving business men, civic leaders and farmers. Visits were made to two farms and two homes in Pitt County by invited individuals.

Giving a brief description of Farm-City Week, Yancey said, "The week bridges a gap between city dwellers who have little contact with and often little understanding of farm and rural life and rural people. By the same token farmers and rural people need to understand the problems and attitudes of our city friends."

Manfred Phelps of Greenville briefly discussed the Eye Bank, which is located in Winston-Salem, and gave facts concerning the eye donor program.

1972-73 County Council President Mrs. Karl Hardee presided at the program. She announced that several Extension Homemaker craft leaders were present to show and explain several of their craft ideas.

Mrs. Nina Phillips, first vice president, gave the devotional. A coffee hour was held prior to the morning program.

Face Lift, Book Results Of Trip

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
She may never get back the $9,000 she spent writing and researching her recently published book, "Fire in Afghanistan, 1914-1929," but Rhea Talley Stewart's face lift is something else. No matter how you look at it, the face job she had done on a side trip to India was a bargain at $450, she remarked.

It might well have cost $5,000 in the United States with hospital expenses and all that, she explained, so she'll still be ahead even if the book doesn't sell well.

Mrs. Stewart hadn't planned to get a face lift when she made side trips to India from Afghanistan. In fact she hadn't planned to write a book when she went to Afghanistan on a vacation. But both experiences have been adventures.

"I had read about Afghanistan in the library and when I got there I fell in love with its old-world look. It was like turning the clock back centuries in time, and I wanted to write about it."

In reading about the country one mention of a former king, Amir Amanullah, really gave her the impetus to begin a manuscript.

"The story indicated he had been thrown out of his country for being too progressive. He had suggested schools for girls as well as boys, more modern dress for citizens, and the unveiling of the ladies..."

The 585-page book involved five trips to Afghanistan and a trip to London over a four-year period during which time she discovered the Afghans knew practically nothing about "the good King Amanullah."

On her second trip she realized she had stumbled into an underground thing — nobody talked about the deposed king who had died in Rome in 1960. He had been "a non-person" for about 40 years. Histories mentioned his name but told nothing of his thwarted reforms.

"Even the United States embassy which had extended a lot of courtesies to me suddenly dropped me like a hot potato," she insists.

As luck would have it, she learned the British were opening their documents on the episode after the usual 30-year closure. In London it took three months to microfilm the documents she wanted — the actual chronology of events.

Much of her material is from those British documents and the intrigue includes murder, conspiracy, embassy involvement, and what all, laid in a country "where farmers still plow with bullocks, bread is baked in the ground, and sheep are driven along the streets. Even the face lift was sparked by intrigue. Her natural curiosity was aroused when she learned that body lifting "was a routine beauty thing for girls in India who could afford it." Belly buttons are redesigned in the interest of a more concave or convex style, "although occasionally a navel winds up in the wrong place," she was told. Face or "jaw lifting" as it is called in India and eye lifting, "cosmetic reduction" are also a big thing.

"Women cannot impress the men with their charm and wit so they emphasize their beauty," Mrs. Stewart observed.

Although she had wanted a jaw and eye lift, she had qualms about interfering with nature, until an Indian doctor advised that "even a tree needs pruning."

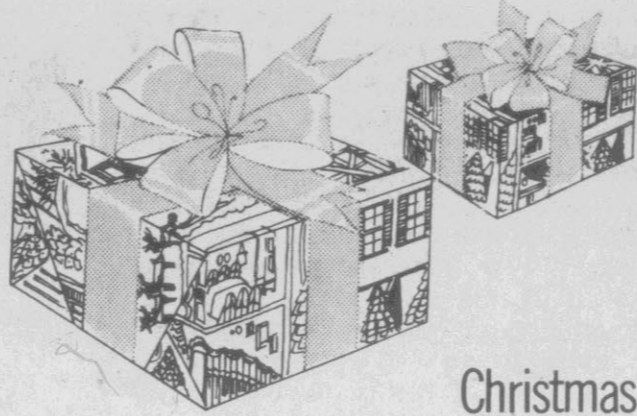

"My jaw lift and under-eyes lift were performed by a London-trained plastic surgeon who operated at the Medical Mission of Philadelphia Hospital where the room rate is $10 a day with meals. Although the only inconvenience usually is a throat made sore by the anaesthesia which is given by tube down the throat, I was spared that inconvenience with a vapor treatment."

The most frustrating part of the experience is the nine hours the eyes must be bandaged, she observed. Although they operate late in the day so one will go right to sleep, if you don't sleep — and she didn't — it can be a bit unnerving.

She likes what she sees in the mirror and so does her husband with whom she lives in Manchester, Conn., "although when I wrote to him that I'd had it done, he suggested coming home before I found any more bargains that would alter my appearance."

As Rhea Talley, Mrs. Stewart was a well-known newspaperwoman in the 1940s.

Serious Shortages Lie Ahead

There can be no doubt that there are going to be serious shortages in the energy area this winter. Interruptible gas customers have been notified that there will be no natural gas for them during the winter ahead. When gas is not available the interruptible customers usually turn to oil, but, as we all know, there is an oil shortage expected also this winter. It has been reported that about 180 industries and institutions in North Carolina have been notified that they can expect to be without gas this winter. It is hoped that the interruptible customers in the area will be able to keep operating since many of them have received little gas during the previous winters.

There is no guarantee at this point, however that the energy shortages won't mean that some industries and institutions could be forced to curtail operations during the cold months ahead. This could disrupt industrial operations and perhaps cause some institutions to close temporarily.

There does not seem to be any quick answer to the problem, except for all of us to conserve energy as much as possible so that something will be available when the critical times approach.

Central Agency Needs Studied

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH—A cabinet-level Department for Services to Children and Youth is being outlined by members of a joint committee of the North Carolina Senate and House of Representatives. Meeting without fanfare over a period of months the committee on exceptional children has quietly come to the conclusion that the only way to get the numerous and often conflicting state programs into focus would be central control.

Need Support
That public support will be greatly needed when the General Assembly gets into serious consideration of the proposal, since the creation of the new department will be slicing into important bureaucratic and budgetary functions of four major departments: Department of Human Resources, Department of Public Instruction, Department of Social Rehabilitation and Control, and Department of Administration.

Creation of the super-agency for kids would make it the third largest department in the state—exceeded only by public education and human resources. At present, 22 state agencies operating under direct authority of four different cabinet-level departments, are involved in programs for exceptional children.

Viewed collectively, the hodge-podge of programs represent better than $204 million in the upcoming 1974-75 fiscal year budget.

The joint committee, with Senator Lamar Gudgeon of Asheville and Rep. T. Clyde Auman of West End serving as co-chairmen, has been meeting quietly to listen to reports from various agency heads and has toured the facilities at several state-operated institutions.

Kept Quiet
The work thus far has been kept extremely quiet, the committee meeting without public notice of time and place. The reason for seeking privacy in their deliberations is obvious, one member said—to avoid the outcry sure to come from the competing agencies now serving children in North Carolina when they learn that the committee is aiming in the direction of creating one central department to take over the present fragmented situation.

Additionally, the committee plans to structure the new department in such a way to guarantee local involvement and representation in the decision-making work.

Such a move obviously would take control over programs and budgets out of the hands of vested groups and of professionals who now operate their own domains in Raleigh or across the state—often in conflict with similar programs offered in other departments.

The committee on exceptional children is scheduled to meet this week (Thursday, Nov. 29) to hammer out final arguments over details of legislation they plan to submit when the General Assembly convenes in January. Meanwhile, there is some talk of holding public hearings across the state on the proposal so as to gather both supportive information and public endorsement of the proposal.

In each of those departments, of course, are a variety of agency and program breakdowns, and a number of facilities and schools such as the juvenile training system, children's homes and orphanages, orthopedic hospitals, training workshops, rehabilitation centers, day-care centers and school facilities.

While the proposal is still on the drawing boards, committee members are serious about pulling all the various children's programs under one umbrella, and about giving local control an upper hand in the new operation—if the legislation can be passed.

Here, at this stage, is the outline of what the new department would do, and how it would be structured—subject to change as the work of the committee progresses.

Using the geographical boundaries of either the 17 Regional Councils of Government or the eight Educational Districts of the state, regional councils would be established to oversee operation of all programs for exceptional children in that district.

Parents Included
Membership, by law, would include a number of parents of children requiring special services from the state. This, the committee feels, would guarantee that the work would keep in touch with grassroots needs.

A statewide Commission on Services to Children and Youth would be established, probably with membership coming from the regional councils. That board would act as the policy-making and supervisory body for the new department.

A Secretary of Service to Children and Youth would be appointed, but the committee appears inclined to write into the legislation some pointed protections for that person—such as his appointment by the commission rather than the governor to avoid political complications; or his nomination by the governor with approval of the senate to avoid his removal when he runs into political problems trying to get the numerous agencies into some semblance of order. Members of the joint study committee seem convinced that such repercussions are bound to come from the effort.

Let's Not Hold Back In Our Energy Research

A bill is making its way through Congress to provide $52.1 million for energy research.

While this amount will undoubtedly be passed, it is not enough. We should have been looking for alternate energy sources for a number of years now. Since we haven't, we will now have to play catch-up.

Let's get on with it, so that in the future we will not be at the mercy of Middle Eastern oil producing countries.

Nixon's Candor Under A Cloud

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—Before informing U.S. District Chief Judge John J. Sirica that another key 18-minute segment of the presidential tape recordings is gone forever, White House lawyers pleaded with special prosecutor Leon Jaworski—unsuccessfully—to delay breaking the news.

That Jaworski flatly turned down the appeal powerfully reinforces his status as independent prosecutor. But far more important, the fact that the White House actually asked for a delay shows how ominously this latest fiasco looms in the wary eyes of President Nixon's lawyers.

Indeed, the obliterated 18 minutes of conversation between the President and his then chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman, on June 20, 1972, the first working day after the Watergate burglary, may prove Mr. Nixon's most severe problem of all. Both prosecution lawyers and Republican politicians believe his presidency may hang by a thread.

Last Wednesday, less than 48 hours after Mr. Nixon had assured Republican governors meeting in Memphis he is not aware of "any more bombs," Jaworski's office received a telephone call from the White House. Fred Buzhardt, Mr. Nixon's lawyer handling the Watergate case, requested and received an appointment with Jaworski at his office.

Not once in all the weeks since the special prosecution force opened shop under the deposed Archibald Cox last spring had Mr. Nixon's attorneys entered its offices (in a downtown commercial office building). Jaworski's lawyers guessed Buzhardt was about to bring them presidential documents, long sought by the prosecutors and long denied by the White House. They were soon proved spectacularly wrong.

Buzhardt, accompanied by White House counsel Leonard Garment, dropped his bomb: 18 minutes were obliterated from the June 20 tape subpoenaed by Cox. He had no explanation for it. But he had a request: would Jaworski please give him a little time—a few days—to get his ducks in a row before shocking the nation once again?

This was the moment of truth for Leon Jaworski, senior member of the Houston establishment as one of the Southwest's richest corporation lawyers. Moderate LBJ Democrat Jaworski had already disappointed the White House with his full approval of the tough investigative approaches of liberal Kennedy Democrat Cox. Now, on Thanksgiving eve, the Nixon men were bidding hard for sympathy.

Had Jaworski granted the delay, he would have committed a heinous offense, particularly in the eyes of zealous deputy prosecutors inherited from Cox—would, indeed, have endangered his relationship with them. Instead, without hesitation, Jaworski said no.

The news was immediately carried to Sirica's chambers, and the stunned judge promptly scheduled hearings on the missing 18 minutes.

Unlike the non-existent tapes controversy two weeks ago, the White House had no ready explanation for the missing 18 minutes. The six technical experts now operating under the court's auspices will examine the tape, and each person believed to have handled it—in particular Rose Mary Woods, the President's long-time personal secretary—will testify under oath.

That testimony may pose a new challenge for Jaworski. Sirica, though obviously irritated by the White House handling of the subpoenaed tapes, has shown understandable reluctance to initiate action against the President. Rather, he is looking toward the special prosecutor for guidance. Based on his peremptory refusal to grant the White House a delay last Wednesday, Jaworski is apt to move hard if this week's hearings expose White House shenanigans.

Simultaneously, Jaworski faces another challenge. As reported above, when Buzhardt asked for his appointment the prosecutors thought he would produce documents about the White House Plumbers unit, including files on the mysterious M-1 and Odessa (Continued on page 6)

UNFAIR CRITICISM
Most of us at some time in our life have been stung by what we regard as unfair and derogatory criticism. At these times it is well to remember that some of the most famous men in our history have received more of this treatment than we have.

Washington was once denounced as "treacherous in private friendship, a hypocrite in public life, an impostor who has abandoned all good principles or else never had any." Andrew Jackson was called a monster. Lincoln was denounced as "a low, cunning clown. He is the original gorilla. Those who would seek the ape man are foolish to travel all the way to Africa when they can find what they are looking for in Springfield, Ohio."

In the long run these three great presidents certainly did not suffer because of these absurd statements. Quite the contrary, they simply serve to put the men who made them in a contemptible light. And from this we can draw the lesson that if we do the right thing and maintain our self-confidence, what people say about us will make little difference.

Arabs Hijack A World

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON—"This is your pilot speaking. I wish to announce that the Arabs have just hijacked the world. The next voice you hear will be that of one of the hijackers."

ART BUCHWALD
"We can't do that," an American passenger cried. "That's blackmail." "Alors! Why can't we do it?" a French passenger asked. "If we don't, we'll all go down in flames." "It's giving in to terrorism," the American replied. Faisal's voice came over the loudspeaker. "I have just received word that a Dutch passenger was seen talking to the Israeli passenger. I want the Dutchman thrown out of the plane as well."

"I say," a British passenger said, "that's rather a drastic measure. But then again one must think of oneself. I guess we have no choice." "Of course you have a choice," the American said. "The Dutch are your best friends. Surely you wouldn't throw a friend out the door?" "In an ordinary situation I would say of course not. But this isn't an ordinary situation, is it? We'd better do what the Arab chap wants." The West German passenger chimed in, "Ve haf to do vat he asks or ve'll all be dead. Who is going to miss one Israeli and one Dutchman?"

"But if we dump the Israeli and the Dutchman, Faisal may insist on our dumping someone else," the American said. "Our only chance is to stick together. If he kills all of us he will have to kill himself." An inscrutable Japanese passenger bowed. "If it were just myself, I would spare the Israeli and the Dutchman, but I must think of all transistor radios I have on board." Faisal said, "I'm cutting down the power."

The Israeli and Dutchman refused to budge from their seats. "Zut. If you cared anything about your fellow men," the French passenger said to them, "you would jump out the door and spare the rest of us."

The British passenger said, "Good God, can't you see what you're doing to us? Be good sports and go over the side." The West German was hysterical. "Hurry up or the crazy Arab will cut off the throttle."

The American said, "Maybe we can speak to Faisal and talk him out of it." "Are you fou?" the Frenchman exclaimed. "If we put in a good word for the Israeli or the Dutchman, he'll make us jump, too." "We can't stay up here forever or we'll run out of fuel," the Japanese passenger cried. Faisal spoke again. "You people don't seem to understand. If you don't do something about the Israeli and the Dutchman in the next few moments, I'm going to turn off all the engines." The Frenchman, the Britisher, the West German (Continued on page 6)

To the editor:
Is Gov. Holshouser a liberal? Has he completely marked the Eastern part of the state off? These are two questions we need to ponder. Since he became Governor, Holshouser has shifted leftward, and now seems to advocate increased spending. Gov. Holshouser has done away with plans to pave many of the rural roads. This will hurt many of the smaller, eastern counties. Gov. Holshouser is opposed to the expansion of the Medical School at Greenville. During the 1972 campaign, he wanted our votes. Now, he knows us not.

Energy Crisis Economic Impact

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — One thing that the American people could use more than a pay raise or price cuts or even lower taxes is some straight talk from Washington on the energy crisis.

In terms of economic impact from the shortage, the administration has withdrawn to the role of cheerleader or sideline critic of private forecasts. But it has come up with few specifics of its own. If the 8 per cent jobless forecasts of some economists are too high, as suggested by the administration's experts, what should we expect? If 8 or 9 per cent inflation isn't to be expected, what is? The independent and academic economists have had a forecasting field day, many of them collecting substantial fees from private enterprise for providing their confidential advice.

So many of these forecasts have become public in the past two weeks that it is possible to come up with something resembling a consensus: —The economy already was turning cold at the time of the Mideast oil cutback. Expansion would amount to only 3 per cent, or about half that of 1973. The cutback has shaved that estimate in half.

If the cutback continues beyond that point the economy could be tipped into a recession, which technically means two successive quarters of production declines. Regardless of how long the cutback lasts, unemployment most likely will rise substantially. The lower end of the range appears to be around 5.5 per cent, the upper limit about 8. The present rate is 4.5 per cent. Inflation, also regardless of how long the cutback lasts, is expected to continue. The upper limit of forecasts appears to be a rate of about 8 or 9 per cent in the early months of 1974, tailing off thereafter on the assumption the cutback ends. Based on general forecasts such as these, and more specific forecasts for particular businesses and geographical areas, industry is making its plans for 1974. But the message from Washington to the public is far less specific. In one breath Americans are urged to reduce heat, the amount of electricity used, the speed of their cars, the amount of gasoline used, but in another they are told the situation is under control. "Above all, every step will be taken to insure that any disruptions to our economy which may occur are short-lived, and that they do not cause lasting damage," the President said in his most recent message. While service stations are closing, the nation's biggest car maker is cutting production and officials of the U.S. Postal Service say mail deliveries are disrupted, the President attempts to minimize the problem through rhetoric.

Speaking to the Seafarers International Union, he called the energy crush a temporary matter that might be cleared up in a year or so, despite contrary advice and warnings from members of his administration.

"We have a temporary problem, a problem that is going to exist for this year, perhaps somewhat longer," said the President, without specifying how, even with an end to the Mideast cutback, this could be accomplished.

What is needed by Americans, and which is indeed their right and the government's obligation, is a set of concise, honest estimates that will permit them to make their plans.

Big Damage By Twisters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fast-moving cold front smashed into hot, humid air covering Dixie Tuesday and early today, igniting vicious tornadoes and flash floods which killed at least one person and injured more than 100.

Five persons were missing in Southaven, Miss., and an 18-month-old boy, Donnie Bryan Ayres, died when his home near LaFollete, Tenn., collapsed during heavy rain and slid into a nearby creek.

At least nine twisters rumbled out of driving rainstorms to cut paths of destruction from southern Louisiana to northern Alabama and Tennessee.

Hundreds of houses and trailer homes were destroyed or damaged.

A tornado ripped into an elementary school at Southaven, Miss., wrecking three portable classrooms and slicing the roof from the main building where 1,400 pupils huddled in hallways. Six children were injured.

The twister smashed 56 mobile homes in a nearby trailer park, damaged 71 others and left wide wreckage in another trailer park.

A Red Cross worker said a one-year-old baby was critically injured.

At Huntsville, Ala., at least 42 persons were injured when a tornado ripped through the Huntsville-Decatur Jetport. The National Weather Service there said it clocked winds at 94 miles an hour before the instruments broke.

A number of the Alabama injuries were at a trailer park near the jetport. A police spokeswoman said the storm "just flattened it."

Another twister injured three persons, one possibly seriously, in Vinemont, about 35 miles south of Huntsville, where several houses were damaged.

Another twister destroyed a marina at Smith Lake, about 15 miles west of Cullman, Ala.

In Tennessee, the Harpeth and Duck rivers went over their banks and officials predicted the Harpeth would crest at five feet above flood stage, the highest since the flooding of last spring which caused millions of dollars in damage.

Several tornadoes were reported in Louisiana but there were no injuries and little damage.

The storm system moved into Georgia during the night and most of that state remained under a tornado watch until 6 a. m., EST. Artie Patrick, 18, a student at Southaven, Miss., high school, said the tornado looked like "three fish tails swimming." He said the sky became completely black.

Dick Stuard, 45, a resident of one of the Mississippi trailer parks struck, described his experience.

"I walked from my kitchen into the living room and suddenly the trailer was upside down," he said.

Don Huston said the twister picked up his trailer "and shook it. Beds and chairs were flying everywhere. A neighbor's house simply disintegrated."

The National Weather Service said the severe weather was touched off by cold air running into summer-like conditions which covered the South. Atlanta and Macon, Ga. had record high temperatures for so late in the season Tuesday. Atlanta's 80 broke the mark of 79 set on Nov. 20, 1942. Macon's 84 was two degrees over the record set Nov. 30, 1970.

PTI Class Will Begin Thursday

Pitt Technical Institute will sponsor a 15 hour class in the preparation of floral seasonal decoration pieces, beginning Thursday.

The class will meet from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in room 104 of the Humber Building each Tuesday and Thursday through Dec. 13.

The charge for the course is $2 and the class is open to all adults 18 years of age and over who are not still enrolled in high school.

The class participants are expected to furnish their own supplies.

Interested persons should plan to attend the first meeting.

projects. Those papers had been denied Cox but were promised Jaworski. However, with Jaworski on the job three weeks now, the papers have still not been produced. He must decide soon whether to institute legal action.

Against this backdrop, Mr. Nixon's ballyhooed "Operation Candor" fades into insignificance. He is still dunned by prosecutors for secret documents and, much worse, is forced to explain highly unusual deficiencies in the physical evidence. Depending on what happens in Sirica's court this week, the worst for Mr. Nixon may be yet to come.

TREE PLANTINGS

ATLANTA (UPI) — More than a half billion trees were planted in Southern woodlands in the tree-planting season which ended last March by the paper, lumber and plywood industries, according to the Southern Forest Institute. Most of the seedlings were pines.

Opening lead: King of ♠ Maintaining control of the trump suit is a key factor in many bridge hands. Its importance was vividly illustrated in this hand from a match in a major East Coast team tournament.

Since an opening bid in diamonds followed by a rebid in hearts would be a reverse bid showing a strong hand of better than 16 high-card points, South elected to open in his four-card major. This worked out well for his side when West overcalled one spade and North could make a jump raise of hearts.

At both tables of the team match the defenders attacked declarer's four heart contract with two rounds of spades, declarer ruffing the second. At one table, South continued with the ace of hearts and a heart to the king. East's failure to follow was a blow to declarer. He tried to recover by ruffing a spade and then playing three rounds of diamonds. Had West followed to all three rounds declarer would still have made his contract, for he would have discarded one of dummy's losers on the third diamond and another on the fourth as West ruffed with a master trump. Unfortunately, West ruffed the third diamond and declarer was stranded with two black-suit losers and no place to put them. Down one.

At the second table, declarer realized that he could afford to guard against a 4-1 trump split by losing a trump trick early and so keep control of the hand. Then, the diamond suit could be brought home once trumps were extracted.

Accordingly, after ruffing the second spade declarer led a low trump and played low from dummy when West covered with the eight. This early concession of a trump trick that he might not have to lose not only insured the contract, it enabled declarer to make an overtrick. West tried shifting to the king of clubs [as good a move as anything]. Dummy's ace was played, declarer ruffed a spade and cashed the ace of hearts. Dummy was entered with a diamond and the outstanding trumps were drawn, declarer sluffing his two clubs. It was a simple matter to overtake dummy's remaining diamond honor and cash the rest of the suit for 11 tricks.

Officer Of The Year Is Chosen By Pilot Club

Greenville Police Department sergeant Leon A. Darden was named Police Officer of the Year by the Pilot Club Monday.

SGT. L. A. DARDEN

The award, the fifth annual Police Officer of the Year Award, was presented by Mrs. Clifton E. Warren, chairman of the Pilot Club's Safety Committee.

Sgt. Darden has been a member of the police department here since 1965. He served as an officer with the Goldsboro Police Department for five years before coming to Greenville. During his tenure in Greenville, the sergeant has had extensive training in many areas of law enforcement.

Greenville Fire Department captain Harvey Case was the guest speaker at the meeting. He spoke on "Home Safety."

Mrs. Ralph Heidenreich, chairman of the Membership and Pilot Information committee was in charge of the initiation service for new members who included: Mrs. Thomas Butts, Mrs. Oscar L. Moore, Mrs. W. B. Whitehurst and Mrs. Jessie T. Worthington.

Mrs. W. W. Howell, club president presided at the meeting and reminded club members to help with the Salvation Army Kettle campaign on December 7 and 8.

Mrs. Howell also presented awards to two members for work on the community birthday calendar campaign.

Mrs. James Vick was cited for obtaining the largest number of listings while Miss Ruth White was cited for selling the largest number of calendars.

The calendar campaign is the main fund-raising project of the year.

The December meeting will be held in the South Cafeteria at East Carolina University December 12 at 6:30 p.m.

Board Reviews Water Project

WINTERVILLE—The Winterville Board of Aldermen held its initial meeting Monday night on the proposed construction of a 500,000 gallon water tank and a 1,000 gallon per minute deep well.

The board decided the water storage tank would be placed on 4.97 acres of property purchased by the town which is located adjacent to Jay's Trailer Court. The location for the deep well has not been designated.

The board appointed Mayor Walter Dail to act as agent for the town in securing any possible grants for the project. The project will involve a $220,000 bond referendum for construction of the project. Town Clerk, Elwood Nobles said if a grant can be secured to help finance the project, the referendum will not have to be for $220,000 (which is the total cost of the proposed project).

McDavid and Associates of Farmville were hired as engineers for the project and R. B. Lee, town attorney, will assist in legal matters of the project.

In other business, it was announced that the curbing and sidewalk project in front of the stores on West Railroad Street has been completed.

The job was done by town employees and took one week to complete.

Phone Rate Hike Argument Begun

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Southern Bell has opened its argument for a 29 per cent rate increase before the North Carolina Utilities Commission.

In the opening session of the hearing Tuesday, economic consultant Robert Nathan testified for Southern Bell that the gloomy prospects for the national economy are a good reason to grant the phone company its biggest request ever.

Southern Bell is asking for permission to increase monthly household phone bills by increments of $.50 to $1.50; it wants to triple phone installation fees to $43; and it wants to charge 20 cents for pay calls rather than ten cents.

If granted, the requests would increase Southern Bell revenues by $33.4 million, or 29 per cent. It would raise the rate of return to stockholders by 12.5 per cent.

Nathan argued that, since the phone company will not be directly affected by the energy shortage, it should enhance the climate for investment and take the lead in propping up a sagging economy.

Nathan, the first of 11 scheduled witnesses for Southern Bell, was critical of the commission's past response to rate increase requests, saying it had granted only half of what the company needed in recent years.

Nathan's contention was disputed by Asst. Atty. Gen. I. Beverly Lake Jr., who argued that, in a recession, the attractiveness of telephone stock should increase because of its stability.

The increases being asked by Southern Bell are the largest package of raises ever requested. In 1972, the company received permission to raise its rates by about $12 million instead of the $26 million it requested; it also won permission to raise installation charges from $10 to $12.50, although it had asked for $32.

The last raise in pay phone calls was in 1952, when the rate went from five to ten cents.

Planning Bd. Agenda Set

The Joint City-County and Greenville Planning and Zoning Commissioners face seven scheduled agenda items at tonight's 8 p.m. session at city hall.

The joint board will consider five of the seven items that include requests for rezoning of the Louis Clark property located adjacent to the new hospital site from RA-20 to Medical Arts, Office and Institutional, and Shopping Center, and of Phil Carroll property located south of Pitt Plaza from RA-20 to Shopping Center and R-6.

Discussion concerning two recent workshop meetings and involving a request by the City Council for a rezoning and landuse plan for the city's highway entrances is scheduled. In addition, a date for the December meeting will be set.

The Greenville board will consider final plans for Section II of Oakmont Professional Plaza located on the west side of N. C. 43 and for Colonial Mobile Home Park.

Maryland Prof To Be Speaker

Professor H. Lashinsky, research professor at the University of Maryland's Institute for Fluid Dynamics and Applied Mathematics, will speak at East Carolina University Friday.

Lashinsky will address a seminar gathering at the ECU Department of Physics on "Mathematical Models for Nonlinear Physical Phenomena."

The seminar is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Rehabilitation Said Purpose Of Juvenile System

Three juvenile corrections experts spoke to the Greenville-Pitt County League of Women Voters last night on "Juvenile Justice in North Carolina."

Lt. Elisha White, a trained juvenile law enforcement officer from Kinston, described the procedure for handling juveniles about whom complaints are made. He noted that by far most of the juveniles are "repeaters" and added that even a seven-year-old child could be jailed after a court hearing. However, such action would be a last resort, and he said he exercises discretion about whether to bring cases to court or even to make a record for the child.

H. O. Phillips III, judge of the Third Judicial District, pointed out the similarity between criminal and juvenile proceedings, while noting that the latter actually are not considered criminal. Since 1973 legislation setting specific guidelines for judges has come into effect, sending a child to training school also is becoming a last resort. A judge must feel satisfied and content "that the guidelines' criteria have been met," he said.

Improvements needed in the system, according to Phillips, include a stronger referral program so counselors, not courts, will handle most cases, an arraignment day to make speedier the trial process, and more emphasis on community-based resources like foster homes.

Henry Cox, Chief Family Court Counselor for the Third District, also emphasized the importance of community-based resources in juvenile corrections. Noting that the purpose of the juvenile system was to rehabilitate, not to punish, Cox said that, of the cases handled this year, 37 per cent resulted in probation, 18 per cent in termination of probation, 37 per cent in dismissal of the petition, and eight per cent in commitment to an institution, the last showing a decrease from the previous year's 10 per cent figure.

Cox asked that wherever we seek to conserve resources we recall that our most precious resource is our children and warned that uncorrected behavior in a juvenile may later give way to an adult serving time for a major offense.

PTA Leaders Talk A Unified Approach

In a search for additional resources in support of the Pitt County Schools for the 1974-75 term, P.T.A. leaders from several school communities met at the Board of Education office Tuesday to discuss the feasibility of uniting their efforts.

Of basic concern was the prospect of applying for a federal grant under the Emergency School Aid Act through which the educational experiences of Pitt County students would be strengthened.

School communities represented at the meeting included Bethel, Stokes, Pactolus, Grimesland, Chicod, Falkland, Belvoir and North Pitt. Farmville and Grifton P.T.A. leaders expressed an interest approach and are expected to participate.

A time table was agreed to with respect to developing an application for an ESAA grant as follows: naming a 32-member advisory council by December 2; holding a 7:30 p.m. open public hearing on the proposal on December 10, in the district court room at the Pitt County Courthouse; submitting the final application to H.E.W. by December 17.

Officers of the newly formed Pitt County P.T.A. Council, elected at last night's meeting, were Sammy Carson, Bethel, Chairman; Johnny G. Harrison, Pactolus, 1st Vice Chairman; Mrs. Willie Mae Carney, Bethel, Secretary. Additional officers will be selected at the next meeting, scheduled for Monday Dec. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Board of Education administrative offices.

Probe Death Of Prisoner

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Mecklenburg County police say an investigation is continuing in the death of a work-release prisoner whose body was found on a creek bank off Highway 74 three miles east of Charlotte.

The body of Joseph Clarence Jarvis, 49, of Rt. 2, Wilkesboro, was found Monday. He had been sentenced to eight months for driving after his license had been revoked and was serving his sentence at the North Wilkesboro corrections unit.

A medical examiner ruled that Jarvis died of a gunshot wound in the head.

A spokesman at the prison unit said Jarvis left home Sunday night in the company of two men. He told relatives he would return in about half an hour.

Jarvis was home on a week-end pass and was due to report back to the prison unit Monday before going to his work-release job at Holly Farms Industries.

His sister, Miss Frances Jarvis, said he was carrying at least $200 in cash when he left home and also had a diamond ring and a watch. Police said the money and the other items were missing when the body was found.

Revival Series Begins Tonight

A revival will begin tonight at Christ Temple Holiness Church and run through Friday night. Elder D. L. Payton, pastor will preach and pray for the sick. The public is invited.

Killed When Car Hit Bus

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C. (AP)—Two high school students were killed and four companions were injured Tuesday afternoon when their car collided with the rear of a school bus.

Highway Patrolman J. G. Johnson said the accident occurred about 3:25 p.m. near Currituck, in the state's northeastern corner, when the faster moving automobile skidded into the back of the bus.

Johnson said Beth Raisor and Sally Painter, both 15 and both of Rt. 1, Moyock, were dead at the scene.

The trooper said there were about 25 youngsters aboard the bus. None were injured.

The officer said one of the auto's passengers, Ronnie Ferbee, 16, of Moyock, was admitted to Albemarle Hospital in Elizabeth City and was reported in intensive care.

Three others in the car, all from Moyock, were treated and released, according to the trooper. They were identified as David Jerald McClanahan, 18, the driver, his sister, Cathy McClanahan, 15, and Darlene Flintoff, 17.

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to plan your future more in accord with modern trends. Also, a good time to get together with good friends and work out a more exciting means by which to make your association more fascinating.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make sure business matters are handled wisely, then get together with good friends and show them how much you value the alliance.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The morning can be annoying where career matters are concerned, but later all clears up and bigwigs give you the support you need.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get rid of an old debt in the morning and then join with associates at new outlets. Plan ways to become more efficient. Be wise.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make sure you keep any promises you have made, especially early in the day when you are full of energy. Don't neglect mate.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) The morning could prove confusing but later you can meet with associates and get excellent results. Obtain the data you need.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you use more up-to-date methods, you find you can get tasks handled more efficiently. Be sure to take health treatments.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) The morning may start rather slowly for you but later you make up for lost time. Take steps to increase harmony with loved one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan just how to make the situation at home more ideal so that you can relax there comfortably. Assert yourself for a change.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are thinking cleverly and can take care of your problematical affairs in a most intelligent fashion at this time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you use more up-to-date thinking, you find life will be more interesting and profitable for you. Save time for the one you love.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are in a social mood now and can do much to make your life happier and get ahead faster. Do something of a charitable nature.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study periodicals that will help you to organize the future much better. Your intuition can be very helpful now. Keep poised.

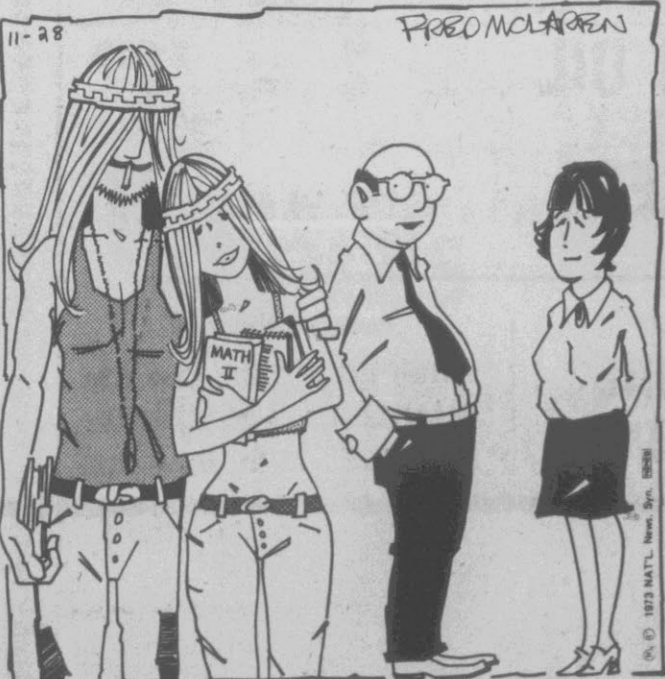

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people with a clever mind and will be wise enough to use tried and true methods in combination with the best of the modern trend to be successful. Direct the education along lines of humanitarian work that will benefit the masses.

Firings . . .

He said there had been no system for recruiting and training employees except for the wishes of local Democratic politicians.

Lentz noted that, in addition to firing, transferring or demoting 156 holdover employees, the department has promoted 1,000 persons who were working before the change in administrations.

Lentz said that, because of prior discrimination in state hiring against Republicans, he would be glad to hire party members but he maintained that ability and dedication were the administration's primary job criteria.

Lentz and Doby were scheduled for questioning by the committee later today.

The eventual scope of the committee's inquiry remained unclear.

Caroline Loses Her Protectors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Caroline Kennedy has turned 16 and has lost her Secret Service protection.

The around-the-clock protection for Caroline was lifted Tuesday under the law that provides the two children of the late President John F. Kennedy with Secret Service agents until the age of 16. Her brother, John Jr., is now 13.

WANT A RULING

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The Charlotte and Mecklenburg County Board of Education voted Tuesday night to seek a ruling from the attorney general on the legality of its gun-toting, arrest-making school security force.

Obituaries

Artis
Mr. Isaac A. Artis died in Pitt Memorial Hospital this morning. A retired public school teacher and a current member of the Greenville Planning and Zoning Board, he was the husband of Mrs. Lillian Artis. Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Phillips Brothers Mortuary.

Brooks
Mr. Robert Lee Brooks, 81, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services will be conducted at two o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Wilkerson Chapel by Elder A. P. Mewborn, Primitive Baptist Minister of Farmville. Burial will be in the Hardee Family Cemetery.

Mr. Brooks was born and spent most of his life near Greenville and attended the Greenville City Schools and was a retired farmer. He had made his home with his sister, Miss Helen G. Brooks, and a brother-in-law, Mr. Zeb Gay of near Fountain, for the past 12 years.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Lottie B. Boyd and Miss Mary G. Brooks, both of Greenville, and Miss Helen G. Brooks of Fountain; and four brothers, Frank E., Thomas Lill and Henry F. Brooks, all of Greenville, and John W. Brooks of Bowling Green, Fla.

The family will be at the home of Robert A. Brooks on Port Terminal Road.

Blount
Mr. Roscoe "Buck" Blount of Brooklyn, N. Y. died early Saturday morning. He was the son of the late Henry and Louisa Blount of Farmville. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Collier
Mrs. Mary Cousins Collier, wife of William H. Collier Jr., died Tuesday morning at the home of her son, W. H. (Skip) Collier III, 115 Lee Street in Cherry Oakes.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11:30 Thursday morning at St. Paul's Episcopal Church by the rector, the Rev. Pat Houston, assisted by Father M. F. Spillane. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery. The body will be at the Wilkerson Funeral Home until the funeral hour.

Mrs. Collier, a native of Danville, Va., attended the Danville City Schools, Chatham Hall in Chatham, Va., and was graduated from Longwood College in Longwood, Va. Since 1968 she had lived in Greenville and was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Surviving are her husband, W. H. (Bill) Collier Jr., a daughter, Mrs. Roger L. Mann of Greenville; a son, W. H. (Skip) Collier III of Greenville; a brother, Waverly Cousins of Danville, Va.; and five grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers contributions may be made in Mrs. Collier's memory to the Eastern Lung Association.

House

Mrs. Laura Manning House, 82, widow of William A. House, died Wednesday morning at 7:30 in Edgemore General Hospital in Tarboro. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. House was born and spent all her life in Pitt County and had lived in Bethel for many years. She was a member of the Bethel United Methodist Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Goodall and Mrs. W. P. Thigpen, both of Bethel; five grandchildren; and ten great grandchildren.

Little
Miss Betty Elizabeth Little, 76, died Tuesday at 6:00 p.m. in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 o'clock Friday morning at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by her pastor, the Rev. Willis Wilson. Burial will be in the Reedy Branch Church Cemetery.

Miss Little was a native and long resident of Winterville and was a member of the Reedy Branch Free Will Baptist Church. From 1935 to 1960 she was the Real Silk representative for Eastern North Carolina.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Retha L. Kittrell of Winterville.

The family will be at the home of her sister in Winterville.

Snipes

PORT CHARLOTTE, Fla. — Byron L. Snipes, 69 of 168 Northwest Salem Ave. died Monday. Funeral services will be held in Atlanta, Ga., with burial at Arlington Memorial Cemetery in Sand Springs, Ga.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Cammie Snipes of Port Charlotte, one son, H. G. Snipes of Marietta, Ga., three brothers, Fran Herman Snipes Jr. and H. Powell Snipes of Atlanta and George J. Snipes of Columbia, S. C.; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Ann Nicholson of Knoxville, Tenn., and Mrs. Martha Jane Morris of Austin, Tex.; and two grandchildren.

Vines

Miss Cynthia Vines died at her home here last night. She was the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Vines. Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Phillips Brothers Mortuary here.

Utilities . . .

Reel said that the commission hopes to receive the same allocation of propane gas this winter as received last year and if that allocation, by Federal law, is delivered the priority residential needs should be met.

The commission's natural gas supplier, North Carolina Natural Gas Corp. has received a 16 per cent reduction in their contract allotment of gas for the winter, the official explained, but it is not known how much, if any, of the reduction will be passed on to the Utilities Commission.

Virginia Electric Power Co. has indicated that no reductions in the supply of electric energy is anticipated, Reel added, but in the event Veeco is unable to obtain fuel for its plants, it may be forced to reduce supply to all of their customers.

Reel said that area citizens who have questions concerning ways they can conserve energy should call the commission or go by the Utilities offices where helpful information may be obtained.

Veteran Of Battle Is Dead

LONDON (AP) — Capt. Francis Secker Bell, who commanded one of three British cruisers in the 1939 battle with the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, died at 76, friends said today.

Bell, who died Friday, was the captain of the Exeter and was gravely wounded during the battle off Uruguay. Although outgunned, the British ships drove the Graf Spee into Montevideo, a neutral port, and her captain scuttled her.

Cub 'Genius' Concern In Farmville On Night' Held

Moose Cub Scout Pack 200, at its monthly Pack Meeting Tuesday, had "Genius Night".

The Cubs, a few weeks ago, were given a bag of "items", everything from coat hangers to soup cans. The Cubs used their imagination, and "genius" ability to make a "UFO", cows, trucks, cars, trains, and many other excellent creations.

Mayor E. West, along with Dr. Badger Clark, The Honorable Horton Rountree, Mrs. Margaret White and Mr. Ken Davis were the judges and guests. It was their task to choose from all the creations the 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes in each den and then choose a Grand Winner.

The main purpose of "Genius Night", Cubmaster Claude Moore said, was to stimulate the Cub Scouts mind and get the family involved.

Concern In Farmville On Keeping District Court

FARMVILLE—Mayor Will E. Joyner said town officials here are worried that Farmville will lose its district court because it is not being used as much as courts in Greenville and Ayden.

He said he questions whether persons arrested in the Farmville township should be tried in other towns.

Sgt. Arthur Fields of the Highway Patrol, District 5, said the patrolman cites the offender to the court nearest his (the offender's) home, adding that it would be unreasonable to do otherwise. He said he knows of no requirement that traffic cases be tried in the township in which the offense occurs.

According to the N.C. Judicial Department Annual Report for 1972, Farmville's court handled 25 days of criminal cases, compared to Ayden's 22 and Greenville's 109 1/2. No figures were readily available on the total number of cases tried by each court as records are kept for the three courts together.

Mayor Joyner said the town gets about $3 per case for operating the court. The average cost runs higher than the amount earned, he added.

He said he has appealed to Superior Court Judge Robert R. Browning to investigate the "apparent discrimination," but has not yet received a reply.

"We're not really all that upset about the matter, Mayor Joyner added. "We just want to go through proper channels and try to retain our court here."

S.C. Governor For Private College Aid

RALEIGH (AP)—South Carolina Gov. John West said Tuesday night state support of private colleges and universities was a just and practical solution to higher education's financial problems.

West spoke to the North Carolina Association of Independent Colleges and Universities.

He said the dual system of private and public universities "remains one of the very cornerstones of our free society in America today. Once we cross the threshold of state monopoly in higher education, then we have extinguished a very important part of academic freedom in our nation."

South Carolina's program allowing state tuition grants to students attending private colleges is "slowing down the rush of students into our state-supported schools and reducing some of the pressure for expansion of these institutions," West said.

"Economically, it is just good sense to invest a relatively few dollars in a tuition grant, rather than continue the headlong multimillion dollar building programs which are swelling most of our state institutions," West said.

North Carolina has begun a similar program in which the state pays 39 private colleges $200 for each North Carolina student it enrolls.

Arrest Man In Shooting

A Rt. 3, Greenville man was arrested Tuesday by the Pitt County Sheriff's Department on an assault charge stemming from a shooting incident on Chicod Creek.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that Payton Willoughby, 34, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill following an incident that left Roy Summerlin, also of Rt. 3, Greenville, with two bullet wounds in the right leg.

Sheriff Tyson said that the shooting, which occurred around 3 p.m. Tuesday, took place in a boat on Chicod Creek approximately one mile north of Highway 264.

Summerlin, it was reported, was treated at Pitt Memorial Hospital and released.

Bond for Willoughby was set at $1,500 and a hearing scheduled in District Court here on Dec. 11.

A snake darts its tongue in and out because the tongue tells it when food is near.

Key Witness Changed Story; Charge Dropped

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Murder charges against two youths accused in the robbery-slaying of a service station attendant were dropped Tuesday when the state's key witness, another teen-aged boy, changed his story and refused to testify against them.

The change of heart by James Calvin Mitchell, 16, freed Arnold Nathaniel Givens, also 16, and Antonio Dorsey, 17.

The prosecution had allowed Mitchell to plead guilty last month to a reduced charge of second-degree murder in return for testimony implicating others. He had testified first in the trial of Anthony Carey, 20, who was convicted on Nov. 8 of first-degree murder and sentenced to death. When Mitchell refused Tuesday to implicate others, Carey's attorney moved for a new trial for his client and Superior Court Judge Sam Ervin III said he would rule later.

All those who had been charged in the slaying of James Sloop last June 19 are from Charlotte.

Reagan Draws Laborite Fire

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — A senator from Australia's ruling Labor party today called visiting Gov. Ronald Reagan "a second-rate cowboy and third-rate regional politician."

James McClelland said he deplored the "effrontery" of Reagan.

The California Republican, in a speech Tuesday to the Institute of Directors in Sydney, said that he thought big business could do anything better than governments, which only want more power.

Reagan is visiting Australia as a special representative of President Nixon to promote U.S. exports and also to aid the Red Cross.

Sympathy Note To Juan Peron

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) — President Nixon has expressed his wish for a "quick and complete" recovery to Argentine President Juan Peron, stricken last week with what doctors diagnosed as bronchitis.

"Your illness has caused me profound preoccupation," Nixon said in a message distributed in Spanish. "I hope that this message will find you feeling better. I hope your recovery will be quick and complete."

The 78-year-old Peron planned to address the U. N. General Assembly during the first week of December but his illness has cast uncertainty on those plans. There also were tentative plans for a meeting between Peron and Nixon in New York, sources said.

Bear Grass Is After The Breaks

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer
BEAR GRASS—After five games, the Bear Grass Bears have yet to move into the winners column but they are hoping that a week's layoff will help turn things around.

The Bears have a young team listing no seniors and only two returning starters. Half of the team has never played high school basketball before. But despite this, coach Jerry Rogerson, new to boy's basketball, feels that they should have won at least three of the five.

"In our first game with Chowan we were just overpowered. But we were beaten by three points by Lucama in Bear Grass and two points in Lucama," the coach said. "I feel we outplayed Oak City but we missed 26 foul shots."

Rogerson also feels his team is not getting the breaks late in the game when they need them to pull out a win. The Bears have been in the last three games in nearly everything but the score.

One of the two returning veterans is 6-1, Hilton Armstrong, a junior. So far he has been averaging around 15 points a game and has been pulling down nine or ten rebounds, also. He has been the obvious key to the Bear Grass game.

Mark Gardner, a 5-11 junior, is the other experienced Bear Rogerson has. Gardner is a guard who is the offensive playcaller and defensive leader.

After those two, the Bear Grass attack is being flown by the seat of a lot of other pants.

Vernell Rogers (5-10 junior), James Biggs (5-11 junior) and Alan Crawford (5-11 sophomore) round out the starting five. The five have come up with good scoring balance but can not get the key points they need for the win.

"In the last two games the starters have averaged around nine and 10 points. Against Lucama we had four in double figures and against Oak City there were three," said Rogerson.

The major problem Rogerson has now is in rebounding. Here, the Bears could use a lot of improvement. Biggs pulled down 15 against OC but no one else has been consistently strong off the boards.

Rogerson is more inclined to say he has four guards and a forward on the floor than two guards, two forwards and a center. This is because of his team's quickness which has been one of their better assets.

"We are fairly quick and like to get down court fast but the press has hurt us a little."

The defense has been doing an adequate job as far as forcing bad shots but when it comes to getting the ball back the Bears seem unable to effectively rebound. "I am not dissatisfied with the defense," Rogerson said, "They force bad shots but our opponents just keep pounding away at my small boys and get the score."

When they go in a pattern, the Bears go with a 1-3-1. They use this against a zone type of defense. If they come up against a man-to-man they just spread the set-up out. Defense follows the same formation.

Another major problem Rogerson has had to contend with had been his prominent lack of depth. "My sixth man is Cliff Barfield. He did a fine job against Lucama."

Also Rogerson is looking ahead to next year. "I want to try to play them as much as possible and I hope we get stronger as the year goes on. But I'm certainly looking ahead to next year."

The team spirit has been high so far despite the poor record. Rogerson does not want them to get discouraged. "We lost a couple of close ones and I don't want them to get down."

Only one injury has turned up so far. Richard Harrison, who had seen action coming off the bench, fractured an ankle and is not expected back until mid-December.

So to make a good showing the Bears will have to recover from a bad start and record a good season.

Conley High School rallied in the final period to knot Washington and force an overtime. The Vikings then outthit their guests, 9-4, to carry off a 65-60 victory in the game.

No girls' game was played, but the Conley junior varsity took a slim 47-46 victory in their preliminary.

In the varsity contest, Washington inched out into a 13-12 lead in the first period. They began to pull away in the second quarter, pushing through 19 points while the Vikings got only 14. That left the Pam Pack with a 32-26 lead at intermission.

Washington came on strong in the third quarter, scoring 20 points, while Conley got only 14. That ran the Pack's lead out to 52-40 with eight minutes left in the game.

But in that eight minutes, Conley finally got everything together, dumping in 16 points while holding Washington to just four. Milton Tucker stole the ball and drove in for a layup with 25 seconds left to tie the score, and a final shot by Washington missed.

Then, in the overtime, Larry Daniels scored seven points to pace the Vikings to a 9-4 advantage, giving them the victory.

Daniels was high for the night, hitting 22 points. Mike Sutton and Rick Mobley each added 12 for the Vikings. Washington was led by Mark Gray with 18 points, and Kenny Rogers with 17.

ECU Officials Have No Comment On Pact

East Carolina University officials are taking a "no comment" attitude on Football Coach Sonny Randle's statement to a Richmond, Va., television station that he had been offered a new five-year pact with the university.

Randle is currently one of those under consideration for the head coaching job at the University of Virginia. He also says that he has had "feelers" from two other schools, as yet unnamed.

Randle has one more year to go on his initial one-year contract with East Carolina, but he told television station WRVR-TV in a telephone interview that "East Carolina has just offered an extremely attractive new five-year contract."

Randle went on to say that he would have trouble turning it down. Currently Randle is on a recruiting trip through Virginia and North Carolina for the Pirates, and unavailable for further comment. He said earlier that he was interviewed by the University of Virginia during the Thanksgiving Holidays, when he returned to his Fork Union home, and then make a further recruiting trip into West Virginia to a junior college All-Star game.

At present, it would seem that he has no further plans to talk with Virginia, pending the outcome of their hunt for a new coach. Athletic Director Gene Corrigan told Randle that he had several other people he wished to talk with.

Dr. Leo Jenkins, chancellor of East Carolina University said this morning that he would have no comment on the reported contract offer. "I expect to have an announcement Monday night at a dinner for the football team and coaches," he said. That dinner is slated for the Jenkins' home, a tradition for most teams at the university.

Clarence Stasavich, ECU athletic director, said he knew nothing of the contract situation. Randle has completed his third season as head coach for the Pirates. His first season saw the Bucs get 4-6, but in each of the last two seasons, he has posted 9-2 records, twice winning the Southern Conference championship without a defeat within the league.

Rose finally hit when Robert Brinkley drove the lane with 4:53 showing. Jacksonville came right back with a three-point play by Wilson upping the margin to 7-2.

After a Rampant basket by Herb Bynum, Burner hit a short jumper and James McCoy was awarded a basket by goal tending to up the lead to seven with 1:11 left. Neither team scored the rest of the way to allow the Cards an 11-4 lead at the horn.

Nate Wilmer hit a jumper just 13 seconds into the second frame to run the lead to nine, 13-4. Bynum hit again for Rose, but two jumpers, both by Cornell Williams, ran the lead out to 17-6.

At that point Rose called its time out, and went into a strict

Nice Try, But Short

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
After collecting 29 rebounds, George McGinnis unhappily pointed out that it was six short of the American Basketball record.

"I am really angry that I didn't get the record tonight—35 rebounds," said McGinnis after guiding the Indiana Pacers to a 129-117 American Basketball Association victory over the San Diego Conquistadors Tuesday night.

Not only did he hit the boards, he hit the basket with 29 points—and even added a big assist when the going got tough. But was he happy?

"I think I would have had the rebounding record if I would have played more in the second quarter," said McGinnis, sounding like a broken record. McGinnis' magnificent performance was fashioned in the face of foul trouble. He played only two minutes in the second quarter after picking up his third foul.

"This is incredible," said Indiana Coach Bobby Leonard.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Milwaukee Bucks defeated the Buffalo Braves 115-110, the Cleveland Cavaliers beat the Seattle SuperSonics 120-118, the Atlanta Hawks crushed the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 129-110, and the Houston Rockets defeated the Phoenix Suns 125-111.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana defeated San Diego 129-117, Memphis beat Virginia 125-99, and Utah trimmed Denver 103-91.

Bob Love contributed 26 points for Chicago.

Rams Run By Saints, 59-42

DUDLEY—Greene Central's Rams picked up their second straight victory and their first in Eastern Carolina Conference play with a 59-42 win over Southern Wayne last night.

The Ewes were not as lucky, falling for the second time, as Southern took a 44-35 win.

The Rams shot away to a 12-4 lead in the first period, and were never in trouble after that. They added 16 more points in the second frame while Southern came up with 15. That left the Rams in charge, 28-19 at the half.

The two teams played almost even ball again in the third period, with Greene Central holding a 10-9 edge in the scoring. That ran the Rams out to a 38-28 lead. Greene Central then finished off the Saints with a 21-14 final period to win going away.

Moses Barron led the Ram scoring with 18 points, while Jerry Jones added 12 and Tim Butts had 11. For Southern Wayne, Edward Fennell had 11 points and Ken Mac had 10.

In the girls' contest, Southern jumped off to a 14-8 lead in the opening period. They slowed down in the second quarter, but still outthit Greene Central, 8-5, to build their lead to 22-13.

That proved to be the winning margin as neither team could make headway in the final half. Both tossed in 10 points in the third frame to up the score to 32-23. Then, each hit 12 in the last period.

Faye Hollowell hit 18 points to lead Southern, while Cheryl Armwood had 12. Jerry Tripp led Greene Central with 16 points.

Reflector Sports Editor
Rose High School's Rampants fell behind by 15 points midway through the second period, then fought back only to finally fall to Jacksonville's Cardinals, 44-41, last night. It was the opening game of the year for the Rampants.

The game marked the debut at Rose of Coach Wilson McDowell, and he nearly came away with a victory right off the bat. Only some poor shooting and rebounding in the first half cost the Rampants the opportunity to open with a victory.

Trailing by 11 points, McDowell called a time-out with 5:01 left in the second period. Right after that, Jacksonville came back to score four more points and run their lead out to 21-6 with 3:59 left.

But for the rest of the night, except in a few spots, the Rampants were definitely the better team. They moved into a pattern offense waiting for their shots, and as long as they stayed in this, they were able to slowly creep up on the Cardinals. Only in those moments when they seemed to hurry their shots did the Cardinals get the needed springboard to pull away.

The quickness of the Rampants cost the Cardinals the ball on numerous occasions, as Rose stole it from them. At time, however, the eagerness of the Rampants, turned it right back. The mistakes, while they hurt, were still errors of commission, rather than omission.

The Rampants seemed cold in the opening minutes, going over three minutes before they finally hit a shot. Jacksonville lost the ball several times before they finally got off a shot. But that one, a turnaround jumper by Terry Burner from the lane hit with 6:36 left for the initial 2-0 lead. Fred Wilson scored on a fast break after that to make it 4-0.

Rose finally hit when Robert Brinkley drove the lane with 4:53 showing. Jacksonville came right back with a three-point play by Wilson upping the margin to 7-2.

After a Rampant basket by Herb Bynum, Burner hit a short jumper and James McCoy was awarded a basket by goal tending to up the lead to seven with 1:11 left. Neither team scored the rest of the way to allow the Cards an 11-4 lead at the horn.

Nate Wilmer hit a jumper just 13 seconds into the second frame to run the lead to nine, 13-4. Bynum hit again for Rose, but two jumpers, both by Cornell Williams, ran the lead out to 17-6.

At that point Rose called its time out, and went into a strict discipline offense. McCoy hit on two free throws and Williams canned one from the baseline before the Rampants finally began to click. At that point, it was 21-6.

But Brinkley hit a jumper and Bynum followed with another. Randy Van Surdan made two free throws, trimming the lead back to 21-12 with 2:31 showing. Both teams seemed to go cold the rest of the way however, as Jacksonville got just one free throw and Rose got a basket by William Hansley in the final two minutes. Jacksonville held a 22-14 edge at halftime.

Rose continued its comeback in the early minutes of the second half. The Cardinals scored first, but baskets by Van Surdan and Bynum cut the lead to six. Then, after another Jacksonville bucket, Brinkley and Bynum hit again to cut it to four, 26-22 with 3:17 left.

The Cards got three baskets in the final two minutes to just one for the Rampants, however, to edge back out to an eight-point spread, 32-24.

Still taking their time, the Rampants clawed their way back in the final eight minutes. After an opening jumper by Burner, Rose came back with shots by Ronnie Barrett and Tyrone Taft. Taft then hit on a three-point play with 5:18 left, and the Rampants had cut the lead to 34-31.

During the next few minutes, the two swapped a pair of baskets with Barrett hitting from the corner with 2:53 left to make it 38-35. Bynum followed 28 seconds later with another one out of the corner to trim it to 38-37, but that was as close as the Rampants could come. Jacksonville began to hold the ball, and their board power paid off.

Wilson hit off a rebound, then with 1:18 left, Burner tapped in another to up it to 42-37. After an exchange of baskets, Brinkley's jumper with two seconds left made it the final 44-41 margin.

Bynum led the Rampant scoring with 12 points. Wilson had 13 and Burner had 10 for Jacksonville.

The Rampant Cubs had just as close a game in the preliminary, bowing 39-37 in their opener.

Jacksonville shot away to a 16-8 lead in the first period after an early Rose lead. Rose then slowly began to come back, controlling the boards, but missing numerous shots. By halftime, they had trimmed it to 27-20.

In the third period, Rose cut the lead to 32-26, then came back within two points with two minutes left in the game. On seven different opportunities, they had the chance to tie the game, but never could do it as they hurried their shots and Jacksonville held on for the victory.

Tommy King paced the victors with 12 points, while Mike Brevington was high for Rose with nine points.

The Rampants travel to Washington for their next game, Friday.

Veteran guard Bobby Weiss apparently is getting used to his sixth-man status with the Chicago Bulls, and even Coach Dick Motta thinks, "It's nice to have him around."

"He feels and accepts his role as the No. 3 guard," Motta said Tuesday after the Bulls defeated the Golden State Warriors 123-117 in a National Basketball Association game.

Chet Walker had 39 points for the Bulls and Weiss added 24 as the Warriors saw a four-game winning streak on the road come to an end.

"It was a heck of a game," Motta said. "I finally thought we'd won it when Walker and Weiss hit baskets in the final minutes."

Ayden-Grifton Edges Past North Pitt

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer

LITTLEFIELD—Ayden-Grifton had to put down a fourth quarter rally by the North Pitt Panthers last night to pull out their first win of the basketball season, a 55-53 hair raising victory.

In the girls' game, the Pant-HERS had to rely on a 16-point surge in the third quarter to record a win over the hargerettes, 56-46. A-G had the score tied at halftime 22-22. The Baby Panthers took a squeaker from the Charger J. V.'s, 53-52.

Until the third period, the girls game was not at all indicative of the Pant-HERS of last year. A-G fought to an 8-6 lead at the end of the opening frame. Kelly Reeves scored for the Chargerettes with 1:18 to go to put them in front.

Debbie Pollard tied it up again as the second quarter got under way hitting from the lane, 8-8. A basket by Debra Barfield and one by Reeves gave the A-G girls a 12-8 advantage but North Pitt tied it and went on top on an outside jumper from Kathi Manning.

It stayed that way until the last minute of the half when Audrey McCarter and Decia Little each scored for A-G to knot the score as the buzzer sounded.

A lay-up by McCarter put the Chargerettes back in the lead but the two teams traded baskets for the next few minutes until the lead was regained by North Pitt on a basket from underneath by Joy James, 30-28.

Oak City Pulls Off Victory Over Tigers

OAK CITY — Oak City High School rolled to a 72-55 victory over the Williamston Tigers last night. The Tigerettes gained a measure of revenge with a rout of their own, 56-25.

In the girls' contest, Williamston had trouble getting started but rolled out to a 9-5 lead after one period of play. The Tigerettes caught fire in the second period, stuffing in 19 points while holding the Trojanettes to just eight. That ran the Williamston lead out to 28-13.

In the third period, Oak City put on a slight rally, outshooting Williamston by 12-10. That trimmed the lead slightly, to 38-25. But in the last quarter, Williamston was in complete command, hitting 18 points, while holding Oak City scoreless.

Fran Hardison led Williamston with 16 points, while Sissy Taylor had 15. For Oak City, Diane Duggins had 13 points.

The boys' game was a different story. Oak City rocketed away in the opening frame, burning in 21 points to a mere four for the Tigers. The Trojans continued to pull away in the second quarter, holding a 19-14 scoring advantage. That ran their lead out to 40-18 by intermission.

Williamston managed to knock a little off that lead with a small third period rally, outshooting the Trojans, 16-14. But Oak City was still firmly in command, 54-34, as the final frame began. Williamston again outthit them, 21-18, but they were too far back for an effective rally.

Donnie Carr and Billy Ross each dumped 17 points for Oak City. Barry Wallace had 16 and Wayne Bell had 12 for Williamston.

Oak City travels to Bath on Friday, while Williamston will visit Jamesville on next Tuesday.

Bullets Nip Chocowinity

JAMESVILLE—Jamesville High School's Bullets won their second straight game of the year last night downing a Beaufort-Hyde-Martin Conference foe Chocowinity, 36-27.

The Jamesville girls didn't fare quite as well, falling to Chocowinity, 47-26.

In the girls' game, Chocowinity eased into a 9-2 lead in the opening period. They doubled Jamesville's output in the second frame, 12-6, and boosted their lead out to 21-8.

Things got no better for the Jamesville lassies in the second half. Chocowinity again outthit them, 10-7, in the third period to run the margin out to 31-15. They finished off the victory with a 16-11 final period margin.

Rosa Thompson led Chocowinity with 27 points. Donna Williams paced Jamesville with 10.

In the boys' game, Jamesville slipped into an 11-6 lead after eight minutes of play. Neither team could make any headway in the second period, both scoring eight points for a 19-14 Bullet halftime edge.

Chocowinity then outthit Jamesville, 7-6 in the third frame, clipping the lead back to four points, 25-21. But Jamesville held off the rally in the last period with an 11-6 advantage to take the victory.

Horace Hall led Jamesville with 19 points. H. Windley had 14 for Chocowinity.

Jamesville travels to Chowan on Friday for its next outing.

Elon Set For Playoff Game

ELON COLLEGE, N.C. (AP) — S. S. "Red" Wilson, husky veteran coach of Elon College's unbeaten football team, says it takes "a special kind of player to have the kind of season we've had. When you're picked for the top, everybody points for you and that makes the challenge that much tougher. And the way these fellows responded is unreal."

His Fighting Christians are real enough, however. They've rolled over 11 foes, running their two-season winning streak to 14. They hold sixth place in the Associated Press national poll for smaller schools. On Saturday afternoon they play host to Wisconsin-LaCrosse in the semifinals of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championship.

Wilson's coaching philosophy is wrapped up in one word—motivation. He explained, "I probably spend more time motivating than anything else. You've got to be dynamic with your people. You have to make them want to play and to win. You've got to work harder than ever."

His work was cut out for him when he arrived at Elon for the 1967 season after compiling a 138-38-11 record in 17 years of high school coaching in Virginia and North Carolina.

A 1950 graduate of Davidson College, where he played guard and tackle, Wilson inherited the remnants of a squad that had won three games in two seasons.

He had a winner in his first year. Since then Wilson's teams at the school of about 1,800 students that is affiliated with the United Church of Christ have compiled a 45-24-2 record in seven years. Over the span Elon has won three Carolinas Conference titles and tied for a fourth.

Although NAIA rules will limit the squad to 38 for the playoff game, Wilson often has dressed more than 70 players for home games and has taken as many as 66 on road trips.

Wilson noted, "We've been fortunate in our recruiting program. In most instances, we have to go after boys who have been by-passed by larger conferences. And we seldom give a full scholarship. We have to split them up in order to get enough. Most of our players are from North Carolina and Virginia."

The Christians have rolled up 351 points while holding 11 opponents to 89. While averaging just under 348 yards a game they have limited the opposition to an average of 199.

The defense is led by senior tackles Nick Angelone, of Fayetteville, N.C., a 230 pounder, and Glenn Ellis, 251, from Eden, N.C.

It's a balanced, seasoned squad that has become the first college football team in North Carolina to go 11-0 over the regular season. The average margin of victory was 24 points.

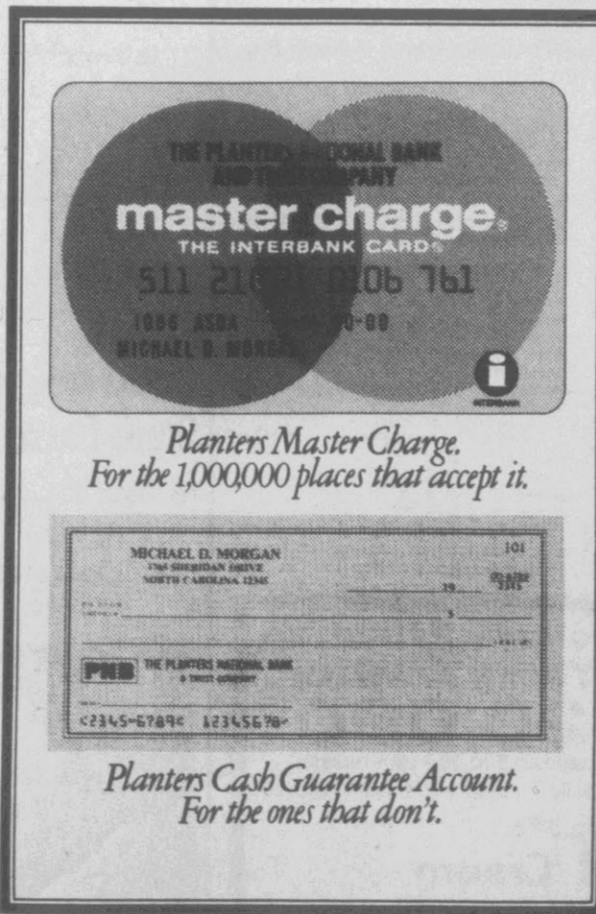

One of Elon's leaders has been Alex McMillan, a freshman from Raeford, N.C. He's run for 861 yards in nine games.

Senior quarterback Joe West of Greenville, N.C., has completed 99 of 192 passes for 1,394 yards and 13 touchdowns. Senior Curtis Leary of Edenton, N.C., is the top receiver, with 23 catches for 512 yards.

The first sellout of 10,600-seat Memorial Stadium in nearby Burlington, Elon's home field, is a possibility. All reserved seats were sold in three days for the meeting with a Wisconsin team that has a 9-1 record.

The winner will go on to the Dec. 8 NAIA Champion Bowl game at Shreveport, La., against either Langston, Okla., or Abilene Christian.

N.C. Players Pull Joke On A Teammate

CHARLOTTE (AP)—There will be a lot of college football scouts watching the 37th annual Shrine Bowl game Saturday. And linebacker George Poulos of Wilmington took advantage of that fact to play a trick on another member of the North Carolina squad who shall remain unidentified.

He and a buddy, Mike Cox of Charlotte Independence, place-kicker for North Carolina, telephoned the other fellow, a bona fide major-college prospect, and told him they were scouts from Georgia Tech. Poulos continues:

"Could he come down to the hotel lobby and talk awhile? The call woke him up, but he said sure, he'd come on down in five minutes. So we wandered out into the hall, met him on the way to the elevator, and rode downstairs.

"Well sir, he walked out chest all pulled out. Nobody came over so he sat down there about 30 minutes, jerking his head around every time somebody walked in the door. We couldn't stand it.

"Finally, we went over and told him what we'd done, and he got mad. He's over it now, I think, but every time somebody calls us, we don't pay any attention, unless it's somebody we know."

Even at 5-11 and 185, Poulos has established himself as the North Carolina camp's most re-sounding hitter. The shock waves his collisions from inside linebacker have sent out are reminiscent of Brevard's diminutive Ronnie Banther last year and Concord's Andy Troxler two years ago.

As for Cox, the sluggish Independence offense didn't give him all the opportunity he would have liked to show his stuff this year, but he made good on all 10 conversion attempts. He got to try only eight field goals, hitting six. His longest was a 42-yarder in the rain on opening night after a daily summer ritual of an hour working with leg weights and an hour of kicking. His power on conversions sometimes propelled the ball over a 50-foot tree which stands 20 yards behind one Independence goal post.

He says, "All year I've wanted to kick one over that new scoreboard in Memorial Stadium (where the Shrine Bowl game will be played). But both times we played there I never got the chance in the games, and we warmed up at the other end.

He may get his chance in the game between the best high school seniors of North Carolina and South Carolina. The game benefits the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in Greenville, S.C.

Crampton Admits He Has His Work Cut Out

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — Bruce Crampton admits he has his work cut out for him if he is to unseat Jack Nicklaus in the Golden Bear's drive for a third consecutive money-winning championship.

"It appears I would have to win, or finish second with Jack finishing no better than fifth or sixth," Crampton said today before teeing off in the first round of the $150,000 Walt Disney World Open golf tournament. The 72-hole event, which ends Saturday, is the final stop of the 46-tournament 12-month pro golf tour and Crampton is the only man who has a chance of overtaking Nicklaus for the prestigious money-winning title.

"The only way I can be sure of getting the money title," the Australian veteran said, "is to win the tournament.

"That's never easy. It's the hardest thing in golf—maybe in professional sports. There's 156 men in the field and there will only be one winner.

"If I am supposed to win the tournament, if it's fated that way, I'll win. If not, I won't.

"All I can do is play my very best, try my hardest and see what happens."

Nicklaus has collected $278,124 this year and has won six times. He's the leading money-winner and shares the lead for the most tournament titles with Tom Weiskopf, who is not competing here.

Crampton has won four times—and has been in position to win a half dozen more—and is second on the money list with $273,351, less than $5,000 behind Nicklaus.

And Nicklaus, as usual, is favored to win the first prize of $30,000. He's the only champion this tournament has ever had, winning the first two Disneys in 1971 and 1972. He's never been beaten on the two courses that will be played at the tournament site near the multi-million dollar tourist attraction.

In addition to Nicklaus and Crampton, other standouts include Sam Snead, rookie Ben Crenshaw and Lanny Wadkins, a two-time winner this season. Arnold Palmer, Johnny Miller and Lee Trevino are not competing.

The final two rounds Friday and Saturday will be televised nationally by Hughes Sports Network.

Elon Up To Sixth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Just because a team is in the playoffs doesn't mean it's one of the top ball clubs in the country, and I just hope people won't be prejudiced when they come up with the final poll," says John A. Merritt, head football coach at Tennessee State.

His 10-0 Tigers, who elected not to participate in post-season competition, were selected Tuesday as the No. 1 team at the end of the regular season in The Associated Press' college division poll.

In past years, Tennessee State then would have been champion. But this year, for the first time since the rankings were started in 1960, a post-season poll will determine the No. 1 team for 1973.

Tennessee State, which has accepted bowl bids the past three years, declined this year because three players had used up their eligibility.

The Tigers gained the top spot with 25 first-place votes and 636 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Others in the Top 15, in order, were: 10-0 Western Kentucky; 10-1 Louisiana Tech; 10-0 Wittenberg; 9-2 Grambling; 11-0 Elon; 9-2 Boise State; 9-1 Abilene Christian; 9-1 Cal Poly-SLO; 8-2 South Dakota; 8-2 Hawaii; 8-3 Delaware and 8-2 North Dakota State, tied for 12th; 11-0 Langston, and 7-2 Jacksonville State.

Western Kentucky, Louisiana Tech and Delaware will be in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II playoffs; Wittenberg will be in the NCAA Division III playoffs, and Elon, Abilene Christian and Langston in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Division I playoffs.

The final poll will be taken following the Dec. 15th Camellia Bowl in which the winner of the NCAA Division II title will be determined.

The Top 15, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

Bumbry Named Top AL Rookie

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Bumbry, a .337 hitter in his first full year in the big leagues with the Baltimore Orioles, was named today the American League's Rookie of the Year for 1973.

The speedy outfielder, a Vietnam veteran who worried about making the Baltimore roster last spring, won the coveted award in a landslide over Milwaukee infielder Pedro Garcia. Bumbry received 13½ points to three for Garcia in the voting by the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, becoming the third Baltimore player to be named Rookie of the Year in the Orioles' relatively short baseball history.

Ron Hansen, in 1960, and Curt Blefary, in 1965, were the other Oriole winners.

Bunched behind Garcia were pitcher George Medich of the New York Yankees, pitcher Steve Busby of the Kansas City Royals, and Milwaukee catcher Darrell Porter. Each had two points.

Rich Coggins, an outfield mate of Bumbry's, was listed as an entry with the winner on three ballots, and as a result, received 1½ points.

Bumbry, a 26-year-old second lieutenant who was a platoon leader in the Far East war, ran into a different type of platoon in baseball—and prospered under it.

The left-handed hitter was used almost exclusively against right-handed pitching and batted 356 times while appearing in 110 games.

In addition, Bumbry hit seven home runs, tied with Minnesota's Rod Carew for the league lead in triples with 11.

and stole 23 bases in 33 attempts.

The .foot-8 Bumbry, born in Fredericksburg, Va., broke into professional baseball with Stockton of the California League in 1969. He played with Aberdeen in the Northern League in 1971 before hopping through the higher minors to the Orioles in late 1972, when he got into nine major league games.

Bumbry currently is playing winter baseball with the LaGuaira team in Maquetia, Venezuela.

Garcia hit .245 for Milwaukee while smashing 15 home runs. Busby, who hurled the first no-hitter ever by a Kansas City pitcher (against Detroit on April 27), had a 16-15 record.

Medich, with a defensively weak Yankee team, had a 14-9 record and a slick 2.95 earned run average in 235 innings. Porter hit .254 for the Brewers, with 16 homers and knocked in 67 runs. Coggins hit .319 for the Orioles and stole 17 bases.

Hazel The Gorilla Sent To San Diego For Mate

DR. JIM JENKINS, consulting anesthesiologist from Naval Hospital, San Diego, examines Hazel the gorilla upon her arrival at the San Diego Zoo. With Dr. Jenkins are Gene Mohney, her keeper at the Phoenix Zoo and Phoenix Zoo veterinarian H. B. Hood, at right.

SAN DIEGO—Trib, the San Diego Wild Animal Park's 14-year-old lowland gorilla, is going to have a houseguest for a while. Ms. Hazel, a 14-year-old female and lone gorilla in the Phoenix Zoo's collection, will be in indefinite stay for breeding purposes at the Wild Animal Park.

Hazel, who has outlived two mates at the Phoenix Zoo, arrived at the San Diego Zoo hospital today for a variety of tests before joining Trib and the five other members of the Park's gorilla colony. Trib, a giant silverback and father of the young male born at the Park Oct. 15, is one of two breeding males in zoo collections on the West Coast.

On Hazel's arrival, she was examined by Dr. Jim Jenkins, consulting anesthesiologist from Naval Hospital, San Diego. Jenkins is the son of East Carolina University Chancellor Dr. Leo-Jenkins, in Greenville, N. C. During an initial period of observation, Hazel and Trib will be in separate bedrooms (each gorilla has individual sleeping quarters), but will have clear view of each other. Their reactions to each other, from vocalization to physical posturing behavior, will be recorded and evaluated for signs of compatibility.

After Hazel has been allowed to explore by herself the 80- by 210-foot grassy terrace which is home for the Park's gorillas, she will be introduced to lesser members of the colony. She will then meet Trib, as well as Mimbo, a 10 1/2-year-old male who has also shown response to the female members in the collection.

"It is the females in captivity who show a preference toward their mates," according to Dr. James Dolan, Park general curator. "Hazel will be under constant observation during her stay at the Park, where she will remain until she has shown positive signs of pregnancy," Dolan adds.

New List Of Top Schools

NEW YORK (UPI) — In a major new study of the nation's 1,180 professional schools, released by Change Magazine, the top five schools in each of the 17 professions are ranked for the first time.

Of the 85 schools cited as top-rank, the four leading universities with the largest number of outstanding professional schools are the University of Chicago, Columbia, Harvard and the University of Michigan. Harvard was cited seven times out of 17 professions studied, and the University of Chicago, six out of 17. Change is an education journal. The study it published was done by two Columbia University sociologists, Rebecca Zames Margulies and Peter M. Blau. Prof Blau is a nationally known authority on organization structures and currently is president of the American Sociological Association.

Become Ill On Siphoning Gas

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Some motorists hoarding scarce gasoline are making themselves seriously ill by swallowing it during the siphoning process, the Swiss Toxicological Institute reported.

Because of the gasoline shortage caused by oil embargoes, most service stations prohibit motorists from filling up jerrycans. So the hoarders fill up their tanks, siphon the gas out into cans at home, and then go back for more.

In sucking up the gas to start it flowing, inexperienced siphoners have been inadvertently swallowing some of the fuel.

The institute said Monday even a tiny amount of gasoline can cause a dangerous kind of pneumonia because gasoline easily enters the bronchial system.

Oil Company Advertising Unaffected

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Officials at six major oil companies say President Nixon's call for decreased gasoline production and a ban on Sunday sales won't cause radical changes in their television advertising campaigns.

The reason? They've long since changed those campaigns to eliminate the once-familiar "buy gas" approach. They now emphasize gasoline conservation, new efforts to find oil, or both.

And the onset of the nation's gasoline shortage early this year already has caused a sharp cutback in the amount all oil companies in the U.S. once lavishly spent on TV advertising.

It's declined 36 per cent for national and regional advertising in the first nine months of this year, compared to the same period in 1972, estimates the Television Bureau of Advertising.

The bureau, supported by the TV industry, says oil companies spent only $53.3 million on such ads through September this year, compared to $83.5 million for the same period last year.

Despite Nixon's steps to reduce the nation's fuel usage, five of six companies contacted in an AP survey—Mobil, Gulf, Exxon, Texaco and Amoco—said they've no plans to abandon their current brand of national television advertising in 1974.

The sixth—Shell Oil Co.—said it discontinued its national TV ads after Sept. 10 and now only is on TV in Houston, Tex., New Orleans, La., and St. Louis, Mo., where there are high concentrations of Shell employees.

The ads, Shell officials said, emphasize the work the company is doing to alleviate the national fuel shortage. They said they don't know yet whether Shell will go back to national ads in 1974.

Only one of the six companies—Gulf—would specify how much they've cut back on television advertising this year. All cited company policies as the reason they couldn't give such information.

A Gulf spokesman, who declined to give dollars-and-cents figures, said his firm's television advertising was down 50 per cent this year.

Tips On Keeping Flowers Fresh

NEW YORK (UPI) — To keep holiday flowers looking tip-top, follow these tips.

Place stems in deep warm water. Pour warm water into the container in which they will be kept. Cut stem ends diagonally with a sharp knife. Remove all foliage below the water level. Add a commercial flower preservative to the water.

Poinsettias have a milky substance or juice which should be sealed into the stem by quickly dipping stem ends one or two inches into boiling water.

When stem ends get soft recut to remove the bad portion.

When flowers wilt, recut stems and place in warm water.

Gifts Abound For Bike Freaks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gift suggestions for bicycle freaks:

—Reflectors, the more the higher the safety quotient at night.

—Lightweight rear carrier, elastic carrier strap, bicycle carrier for the car, chrome bell.

—New hand grips. A spare handlebar.

—A horn decorated with reflectors. A bulb horn with single or double tones. A bugle style bulb horn for real status.

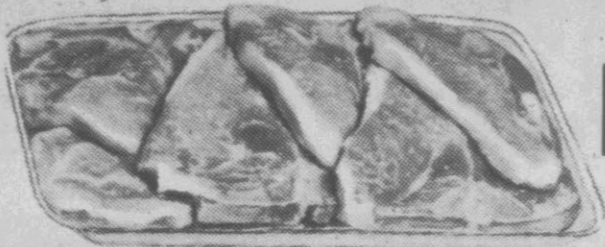

—A light generator set with extra large tail light. A six volt generator operates the lights.

—A tail light with directional arrows and battery-operated.

—A new bicycle pump.

—A touring bag that hitches to the saddle.

The phrase "of that ilk" is used by some Scottish noble and landed families after their names to reinforce their identity (Grant of Grant—or Grant of That ilk).

Free Firewood In Nat'l Forests

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Permits to cut free firewood in national forests are being given for the duration of the energy crisis, rangers in North Carolina and South Carolina have announced.
 For the first time, they are being granted regardless of where a person lives. Previously, only persons living within or near a national forest could get them.
 Cutting will be allowed in accessible areas, and will be mainly of dead timber. All firewood must be cut for personal use, and may not be sold legally.

Dear Customers:

There is an energy crisis in our Nation!

The full extent of the shortage of energy resources has not been clearly defined. However, it is apparent that our energy consumption is exceeding our national energy resources. Steps must be taken by all consumers to reduce energy consumption.

At Greenville Utilities we are taking practical steps to reduce the use of gasoline, diesel oil, natural gas, propane gas and electricity, in our day-to-day operations. However, we will continue to maintain adequate service, if not quite as prompt, to all customers.

We urge all of our customers to reduce their use of energy. Booklets telling how you can save energy are available at our main Office, and will be mailed to you on request. The suggestions in the booklets are practical. Use them.

Greenville Utilities does not generate electric energy; nor can it produce natural or propane gas. We are distributors of energy, not producers. The current status of our energy supply sources, and our contingency plans, are as follows:

In the event that the supply of natural gas will not meet system demand, classes of customers shall be interrupted in the following order:

Step I — All Interruptible Customers. These customers have alternate fuel capacity and are usually interrupted during the heating season.

Step II — Firm Industrial Customers. Reduction will be partial or total depending on available supply. Notification by telephone.

Step III — Firm Large Commercial Customers (More than 50 Mcf-day). Reduction will be partial or total depending on available supply. Notification by telephone.

Step IV — Residential and Small Commercial (Less than 50 Mcf-day). Voluntary reduction by public appeal through news media, followed by mandatory shut-off of commercial customers first, depending on available supply.

Our plan for curtailment of natural gas is in accordance with Federal and State regulations.

ELECTRICITY

In recent discussions with our supplier, Virginia Electric Power Company, they do not anticipate any reduction in the supply of electric energy. Their generating plants are fired by nuclear energy, coal, and oil. Should they be unable to obtain fuel for their plants, or buy electricity from other interconnected Utilities, they may be forced to reduce supply to all of their customers.

In the event that we are required by our supplier to reduce our electric system demand, electric load reductions will be accomplished in the following steps:

Double-glazed windows, storm windows and storm doors are some ways that heating and cooling costs can be reduced.

Step I — Voltage reduction of approximately 5 percent to all customers.

Step II — Voluntary reduction by industrial and large commercial customers. Notification by telephone.

Step III — Voluntary reduction by all users, based on public appeal via news media.

Step IV — De-energize pre-selected distribution circuits on a rotating basis.

Our plan for electric load reductions has been coordinated with our supplier and approved by the North Carolina Utilities Commission.

We will keep our consumers informed of any change in the availability of energy supplies. We strongly urge every customer to take immediate steps to eliminate all unnecessary use of energy and to support conservation of our Nation's energy resources.

Charles O'H. Horne, Jr.

PROPANE GAS

By Federal law we should receive the same amount of propane gas this year as last year. All of our propane customers are residential, and classified "Priority" customers. By law they will receive gas before commercial and industrial users are served. We expect Federal allocation of propane gas to meet our winter requirements. If this winter's usage exceeds last year's, and our supply is not adequate, we may be forced to curtail deliveries. Not having positive answers to supply and consumption, we cannot make a positive statement of curtailment.

NATURAL GAS

Our supplier, North Carolina Natural Gas Corporation, has received a 16 percent reduction in their contract allotment of gas for the coming winter. How much, if any, of this reduction they will pass on to us has not been determined.

A half load uses just as much hot water and just as much electricity as a full load so try not to use your dishwasher until you have a full load.

Farm Tips

By Dr. J. W. Pou
Agricultural Specialist
Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., N.A.

Disappearing profits are threatening to wipe out some of Tar Heel agriculture's recent gains in hog production, but experts maintain an optimistic long term outlook for the industry.

Hasty farmer decisions to sharply reduce the size of breeding herds or to sell out completely may be regretted later, one specialist has suggested.

"I continue to be optimistic about the future of hog production in North Carolina," said Dr. J. R. Jones, extension swine specialist at North Carolina State University. "I think it would be a big mistake for good producers — those well established in the business and doing a good job — to quit now," he said. "I think they would regret it later."

North Carolina pork production has grown steadily in recent years and has changed the state's status from a pork-deficit state to that of an exporter of pork. The state has led the nation in the rate of growth and now ranks eighth as a pork producer.

Jones and others who have worked to expand the industry fear that current high feed costs and narrow profit margins may turn the growth around and wipe out some of the gains.

Dr. John Ikerd, N. C. State University livestock marketing economist, believes some growers may be assuming they aren't making a profit under current feed cost conditions without actually figuring their costs and returns.

He said computer analyses of various hog production budgets indicate that efficient producers should still be making a profit. Others may be near the breakeven point or below.

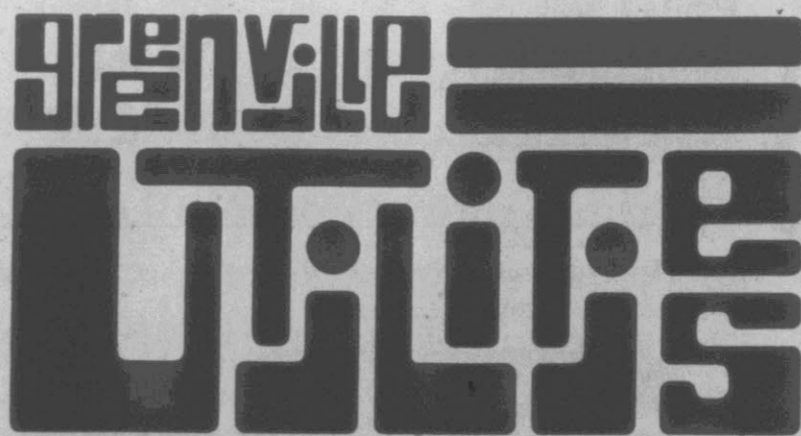

The budgets used were based on a corn price of $2.50 per bushel and a supplement price of $400 a ton.

If hogs sell for $40 and pig prices are $60 a hundred pounds, or $30 for a fifty pound feeder pig, the producer should be realizing a reasonable profit if he has good animal feed conversion. Ikerd described this as a feed requirement of about nine bushels of corn to grow the pig from 50 pounds to 220 pounds.

If hogs sell for $39 and the feeder has to pay $31 for the fifty pound feeder pig, profits are still possible under the same feed cost and feed conversion conditions.

The profit level for the efficient feeder becomes marginal when prices reach the range of $37 per hundred pounds for hogs and $32 for the feeder pig.

Dr. Jones, a production specialist, said farmers may want to sell heavy, unproductive sows when prices are high. Marginally efficient producers may want to trim the size of their breeding herds at this time. However, Jones cautioned efficient producers about becoming so concerned over the short term outlook that they overlook the long term prospects.

Abuse May Be Child-Induced

NEW YORK (UPI) — Child abuse may be likely brought about by the child, even a newborn infant, as his parents, a University of Rochester psychologist reported at a meeting at the University of Michigan. "There is increasing evidence that aggravating behavior or abnormalities in the child, such as overactiveness, colic or a particularly grating cry, can provoke an already anxious aggressive parent to assault him," Dr. Arnold Sameroff said.

The Worry Clinic Putty Lacks A Male Challenge

Arnold's insult to his coed concubine should warn you girls! If you wish to make men beg to marry you, then follow the psychological strategy which I taught my coed students at Northwestern University. Note how Jim's girl friend used it.

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.

CASE Y-581: Arnold Z., aged 20, is a college junior. He has been living with a coed classmate, without benefit of a wedding ceremony.

Recently they visited the college Guidance Counselor. "Arnold," the Counselor began, "have you considered getting married?"

"Well," Arnold replied. "I might, after I look the field over more widely and if I find somebody I want to marry."

Meanwhile his "college cocubine" sat there, doubly embarrassed by this verbal slap in the face!

For she realized the Counselor knew she was living with Arnold, and when Arnold bluntly ruled her out as of suitable marriage caliber, any normal college coed should have winced.

For when women cohabit with men, unless they are prostitutes or "Call" girls, they are using their sexual favors as "bait" to gain a wedding ring.

Oh, the modern Women's Libbers will scream in protest at my exposing their ulterior aims, but every experienced psychiatrist and Marriage Counselor knows the truth of what I am saying.

Women seldom indulge in sex except to gain some ulterior reward.

The professional expect to be paid in cash.

The amateurs gamble for a wedding band. And those amateurs are "chicken."

For they are in a panic about losing their chance at marriage, so they toss everything into one last throw of the sex dice.

Then they are often cast aside, just as Arnold demonstrates, for all virile males relish a challenge.

"Easy come, easy go," applies to college concubines.

soon make him doubly attentive and eager to mold her to his own erotic desires.

Then she introduces the challenge, as by exclaiming with a smile:

"Jim, you are so wonderful, I wish I had never met you until 10 years from now!"

"For I have picked a career in music (advertising, medicine, etc.) so I dare not think about romance and marriage."

"After 10 or 15 more years—if you are still fancy free, I'd love to have you look me up."

No virile male can resist this challenge, so what happens?

Well, he begins to high-pressure such a girl with many reasons why she is too pretty and attractive to become a spinster medic, fashion designer, musician or missionary.

"Please don't talk to me like that," she can implore, "for all my education has been focussed to persuade her thereto!

Might 'Ground' The Speeders

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Violators of Vermont's new 50 m.p.h. speed limit in Chittenden County could find themselves walking away from a ticket, according to the county's prosecutor.

State's Atty. Patrick J. Leahy said Monday that he has requested police agencies in the county to crack-down on those breaking the recently lowered traffic speed limit.

Leahy said drivers who become excessive in speed face the possibility of being charged with careless and negligent driving, "and the car would be grounded on the spot."

He said over 50 drivers were charged with violating the speed limit over the Thanksgiving Day weekend.
