

Fuel Allocation Regulations

Cutback In Gasoline Production Decided

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration today proposed a 25 per cent reduction in gasoline production with priority delivery to emergency services, fuel production, public transportation and agriculture.

Under fuel allocation regulations proposed to take effect Dec. 27, business—including nonprofit and government organizations—would get the same amount of gasoline they did one year earlier.

Other distributors would get whatever was left over, but in no case would receive more than 90 per cent of what they received a year earlier.

The regulations would govern bulk distribution of gasoline but will affect individual consumers by sharply curtailing supplies available at the retail level.

Energy czar William E. Simon, in proposing the regulations, also revised an earlier proposal for allocation of home heating oil and diesel and jet fuel.

Under the new proposal, these fuels would go first to a top priority category of users, including fuel production activities and public transportation which would get all of their fuel needs, subject to a ceiling on increases.

Vital community services and medical, dental and nursing services would get 10 per cent more fuel than one year earlier.

Users of fuel for space heating would be required to reduce indoor temperatures by six degrees fahrenheit in homes and by 10 degrees fahrenheit in other buildings.

Industrial and manufacturing users, food producers and processors and cargo, freight and mail haulers would also get 10 per cent more of the middle distillate fuels than one year ago.

All others would be entitled to as much middle distillate oil as in 1972, to the extent it was available.

The regulations would also impose controls on distribution of crude oil among refineries for the first time.

Each refinery would be limited to production based on a ratio between the total crude oil supply and the nation's total refinery capacity.

Refiners receiving more than their share according to that ratio would have to offer their excess supplies for sale and those operating below the ratio could purchase crude oil to increase their production.

Also brought under allocation was residual oil, a heavy oil used mainly in electric power plants and industries.

The proposed regulations would assign top priority for residual oil to those who use it for fuel production, food production, essential community service, marine shipping and heating for health services. These users would get all the fuel they need. Other space-heating users of residual oil would have to reduce indoor temperatures by six or 10 degrees.

Electric utilities would be allocated residual oil on the basis of a computation by the Federal Energy Office, aimed at equalizing any cutbacks in electrical generation.

Industrial users and all other purchasers in proportion to past purchases and if any feed stocks are left over they could be sold freely.

The proposed regulations would allocate feed stocks of petroleum products to petrochemical plants up to 20 per cent more than the 1972 levels.

Any excess feed stocks would first be allocated to current users of propane gas, propane, butane and propane-butane mixtures.

Priority customers would get either a percentage of past purchases or all of their current needs, while non-priority customers would share the rest.

Aviation fuels would be in a separate category with top priority assigned to emergency and mercy flights. Up to 150 per cent of the 1972 fuel used for such flights would be available under the proposed regulations.

Utilities Commission Is Told Electricity-Use Cut

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector Managing Editor

Greenville Utilities customers used about 10 percent less electricity in November than for the same month last year, but the reason is not discernable. Director Charles Horne said there were fewer heating days during November, 1973 than for the same month of 1972. This possibly could have been the reason for the reduction in electric usage.

"It could have come from the weather or it could have come from conservation," he said. "There's no way to tie it down."

Conservation of electricity, as well as other energy sources has become a national priority during the past few months as an attempt is made to stretch dwindling oil supplies.

Horne said that there has been no indication that VEPCO would not be able to supply local electric needs; however, VEPCO uses fuel oil to generate about 35 percent of its power. The company, which supplies all Greenville Utilities electric power, could be subject to oil shortages.

Commissioners were told that it is expected the local utilities will be subject to the 15 percent reduction in natural gas. The state Utilities Commission has said that users who exceed 85 percent of last year's usage will pay double rates for the excess. Over 90 percent the charge would be five times normal rates. Horne indicated a way would be needed to make similar charges to individual customers.

It was also reported that propane gas customers had been warned of a possible curtailment of the propane supply. The Utilities is also feeling the energy crisis in another way; that is that its supplies of gasoline have run out. Horne said Utilities vehicles are purchasing gas from local service stations.

The commission was also told that a fuel adjustment charge from VEPCO is steadily rising and they might have to consider a surcharge to pass this cost on.

The commission approved a new personnel policy drafted in cooperation with the city.

A transformer was ordered from GE Supply based on a low bid of $107,623.

A resolution was approved to allow service time toward retirement for Marvin L. James.

It was decided that Dec. 24 and 25 and Jan. 1 would be observed as holidays.

Six Items On Agenda Tonight Agnew To Fight Action By Bar

Six items are scheduled for consideration at tonight's 8 p.m. Greenville Planning and Zoning meeting at city hall.

Final plats will be presented for approval for Club Pines Subdivision, Section II; Lynndale Subdivision, Section IV; Lynndale Subdivision, King tract; and Belvedere Subdivision, Section IV.

Commissioners will also consider a revised final plat for Greenbriar Subdivision, relative to Arlington Drive, and hear a request for rezoning Lot Number Two in the Adams Subdivision, located south of Greenville Boulevard, from R-9 to Highway Commercial.

Ten Precincts

Greenville now has ten voting precincts as a result of recent action by the Pitt County Board of Elections.

Elections chairman J. B. Spilman Jr. said that the board decided to divide Precinct Nine and create the new Greenville Precinct Ten.

As a result of the division, the new precinct will be located south of Greenville Boulevard, east of Highway 43, southwest of Norfolk Southern Railroad and will be bounded on the south by the township line.

Spilman said that the board has requested the use of facilities at E. B. Aycock Junior High School as the polling place for Precinct Ten.

Letters will be sent to voters who are being transferred from Precinct Nine to Precinct Ten, he added. Persons living in the area affected by the change will not have to re-register.

The new precinct will be utilized for the first time in the May primaries of 1974.

spring. Rose noted that North Carolina's gas tax revenue was $270,000 lower in November than it was in November of 1972.

Rose pointed to these possibilities:
—Delays, with increased costs, of projects already approved.
—Reduction in long-standing maintenance policies.
—Layoffs of some department personnel.
—Abandonment of the policy of clearing all roads following snow storms.

Threatened Work Stoppage By Truckers Fails To Gain Support

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A threatened two-day work stoppage by independent truck drivers to protest higher fuel costs and lower speed limits appeared to have only scattered support today.

Leaders of the protest said they wanted independent drivers to vacate the nation's highways by 11:59 p.m. EDT tonight. But Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons told a Senate subcommittee Tuesday he doubted a shutdown would take place.

A check of truck lines, truck stops and truck union officials across the nation showed mixed reaction to the call for a shutdown.

Truckers, particularly independent drivers, want assurances that actions such as lower speeds, higher fuel costs and reduced supplies of fuel will not impair their ability to make a living. Most of them are paid by the mile and pay their own expenses.

Some 200 truckers who began parking at a truck stop in Bartonsville, Pa. Tuesday, decided today to abandon their call for an immediate stoppage and comply with a call by other independent truckers to get home or pull off the highway before midnight. There were no reports of truck blockades or any other work stoppage.

Robert Jasmon of Springfield, Ill., manager of the Midwest Truckers Association, which claims to represent 2,000 companies in the Midwest, supported the call for a shutdown on Thursday and Friday.

"We're asking all our members to park their rigs ... on their own lots," Jasmon said.

He said member companies own about 20,000 trucks and estimated about 70 to 80 per cent would join a stoppage.

In Lamar, Pa., where truckers holed up last week for five days, a protest spokesman said drivers would go off the road today.

But checks in other areas produced no evidence of pending actions.

British Industry Crisis Outlook Is Worsening

LONDON (AP) — A slowdown by locomotive engineers threatened chaos across Britain's rail system today, heightening a grave industrial crisis caused by fuel and power shortages.

Prime Minister Edward Heath was reported ready to ask Parliament to enlarge his powers under the state of emergency proclaimed recently, including perhaps authorization to requisition vehicles and use troops to man essential services.

Because of the country's economic woes, some politicians were predicting an emergency budget and perhaps a total wage and price freeze. The government's anti-inflation program already prohibits wage hikes of more than seven per cent of base pay.

Meanwhile, the government has told stores, restaurants and offices to cut their lighting in half and lower their thermostats to 63 degrees because of coal and power shortages. Both coal miners and power engineers have been on slowdowns for a month to back pay demands.

Sir Michael Clapham, chairman of the Confederation of British Industry, and other industrialists warned that mass unemployment and widespread misery lie ahead unless the government takes emergency measures. Clapham urged that the government spread the burden by raising income taxes,

Comet Kohoutek Proving Relative Disappointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once expected to be the brightest comet of modern times, comet Kohoutek is proving to be something of a disappointment, according to a Navy astronomer.

Astronomer Myron Miranian of the U.S. Naval Observatory says latest calculations indicate the comet is 40 times fainter right now, even under telescopic vision, than earlier predictions made last April had forecast.

And he said it will remain so until it disappears from earthly view.

"I don't think it's going to be a 'spectacular object' to the naked eye—and that at best the comet's head will never look bigger and brighter to naked-eye viewers than does the planet Jupiter, now visible in the southwestern skies, he said.

Such a view should be readily possible beginning around Jan. 5 and lasting until about Jan. 15, he said, adding that, at the same time, viewers probably will be able to see the comet's tail, "streaming out from the comet's head and measuring about 15 degrees long—that is, the length of 30 moons placed end on end."

While suggesting that the celestial fireball will be a comparative washout for viewers without telescopes Miranian said that, as far as astronomers are concerned, the comet's visitation still provides "a favorable opportunity to see a bright comet."

But even so, he said, Kohoutek "certainly won't compare with Halley's comet of 1910"—even for professional stargazers.

And he said at least two other comets observed since 1910—comet Ikeya-Seki in 1965 and comet Bennett in 1970—were as bright to both naked eye and telescopic vision as Kohoutek promises to be.

Revenues Down, Highway Program Cuts Loom

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's highway construction and maintenance programs may have to be cut back as the result of declining highway revenues caused by the energy crisis.

That possibility was raised by Highway Administrator Billy Rose Tuesday in an interview.

"There's no question about it, the public should be prepared for a reduced highway program," Rose said.

He added that "We'll probably have to cut back on our programs across the board" possibly by late winter or early —Revision of the $850 million arterial road network approved by the state Transportation Board in mid-October.

"The public shouldn't be surprised to see these actions taken," Rose said.

He added that it may be several weeks or months before the department can spell out exactly how the energy crisis will affect highway plans. "I don't think we'll reach the critical phase in the program until February or March," Rose said.

Teaching Cleaning Techniques, Potato Peeling Are Part Of Job

By JIM MCGREGOR
AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — Mrs. Marjorie Awalt teaches people how to be blind.

The 40-year-old woman, who makes her rounds with the aid of her seeing-eye dog Tracy, has been partially blind since birth and totally blind for the past 10 years.

Mrs. Awalt is an adult education specialist with the Maine Department of Health and Welfare's Bureau of Rehabilitation. Her major task is to help people who are blind or losing their sight cope with the experience.

"They don't know quite what to do," she said. "It's a big experience in a person's life." Mrs. Awalt said most of her dealings are with people losing their sight.

She works in central Maine, visiting homes and teaching classes. In the course of a day, she might counsel a man on job training, discuss special kitchen appliances with a housewife, or do something as simple as show a housewife how to peel a potato.

She recently showed a young mother of four how to cook safely and explained special house cleaning techniques. She also arranged for a volunteer to help the woman improve her spelling because she wants to continue to help her children with their school work.

Mrs. Awalt said the problems of a person losing his sight are difficult. "There is bound to be a certain amount of depression," she said. "We try to talk it out."

"I think in certain areas I can help more than a sighted person, but it helps to have someone who can see to have a part in the training. They can point out things I naturally can't see."

One night a week she teaches classes at Lewiston. Persons with varying degrees of blindness are instructed in Braille, cooking and crafts. "In addition, they get to share their experiences and accomplishments. I can emphasize with them. I know their problems but I also know that they can do it."

Mrs. Awalt, an attractive woman, married her husband Hugh, six years ago. She left Maine as a young girl to attend the Perkins School for the Blind in Massachusetts. She attended junior college in Vermont and later earned a degree in Christian education at Gordon College in Massachusetts.

After working for a period as a clerk typist for the Portland Health and Welfare Department, she went back to school for graduate work in rehabilitation teaching.

She worked for a time with a private agency in New York before returning to Maine and her present job.

She said she plans to continue in her line of work. "I love people and I love the contact," she said.

Tri-Chapter Meeting Held In Washington

WASHINGTON—The Delta Kappa Gamma Society held its ninth annual Tri-Chapter meeting at the First Christian Church here Thursday evening.

Hostess for the event was the Washington group, Alpha Omega Chapter. Other participating groups were Delta and Beta Alpha Chapters from Greenville.

The event climaxed a day proclaimed by Mayor J. Max Roebuck as "Phoebe Emmons Day." Mrs. Emmons is international president of the society and taught in Washington for many years. Her topic, "Because We Care, We Can," touched on many aspects of care, including purposeful initiation, endorsement, and support of legislation that will promote the cause of education and the status of women educators. She said that the society is now the largest of the professional women educator groups with 130,000 members and is now expanding internationally with chapters in Norway, Sweden, and Finland, and hopefully in Mexico and Denmark in the near future.

Welcome and response were given by Mrs. Rachel Swindell, first vice president, Alpha Omega, and Dr. Frances Daniels, Beta Alpha, and Mrs. Evelyn Moye, Delta Chapter. A program of Christmas music was presented by Mrs. Toko Duvall accompanied by Miss Delores Morgan. Mrs. Harriet B. Harris introduced the speaker.

Will A Suit Suit A Proud Scotsman?

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning my wedding, and a problem has arisen. My fiance's best man is a native Scotsman, who proudly wears his kilt on all formal occasions.

Ours will be a formal wedding in a church, and we have been told that it would be an insult to the best man were we to ask him not to wear his kilt, but to dress like the other men in the wedding party.

Some of your inquiries are so outlandish one sometimes wonders if they are sincere, but be assured mine is a serious inquiry. Thank you. BRIDE TO BE

DEAR BRIDE: In Scotland the wearing of a kilt is a matter of pride, but Robert Burns, one of Scotland's greatest sons (who probably rarely if ever wore a kilt), wrote in his poem about this very topic:

"A wad some Power the giftie gie us
To see oursel's as ither see us.
It wad frae monie a blunder free us,
An' foolish notion;
What airs in dress an' gait wad leg' us
An' ev'n devotion."

So, if you feel that a kilt would be out of kilter with your wedding, ask the best man to wear a suit. And if he's a well-bred Scotsman, it will suit him.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three children, 6, 9 and 10. I am divorced from their father, and the children live with me. I am now married to a man who loves my children, and they love him.

This is the first Christmas that I will be married to this husband. I want to know if you think I ought to buy Christmas presents for my "ex" from the children—and put their names on the cards?

So far none of the children have mentioned buying anything for him. If I go ahead and do it on my own, he might think I care for him, which I do not. Also, when we were married, he hardly looked at them. And even now, he doesn't see them as much as the law allows.

So what should I do? EX WIFE
DEAR EX: Children can be thoughtless, so ask them if they want to remember their father at Christmas. If they want to, cooperate. Otherwise, don't go thru the phony bit of doing it for them.

DEAR ABBY: We have a heated double garage. We use one space and our married son who lives near us keeps his second car in the other one. He also uses it when he has something to fix. He pays us nothing.

We are in our middle seventies. My husband has had a stroke and has trouble getting around. Also, he has arthritis in his hands and can't do any of the repairs around the house.

Our son has never lifted a finger to help us. I couldn't even ask him to fix a leaky faucet. I would like for him to get his car out of our garage so we can rent it out and use the money to get things done around here.

My husband says I shouldn't mention it as it would only make trouble. Am I right or wrong? OLD FOLKS

DEAR FOLKS: You are right. You owe your son no explanations. Just tell him you want to rent out your garage because you need the extra income, so he shouldn't count on using it anymore. Period.

Too Important To Be Ignored

It appears that the U. S. Supreme Court is going to have to take another look at its ruling of last June concerning pornography.

That ruling in effect allows community standards to govern what is to be considered obscene. And, as should have been foreseen, it created, almost instantly, total confusion around the nation as to what could be allowed in serious movies and publications.

So now back comes to the Supreme Court a case from Georgia where "Carnal Knowledge" was ruled obscene. The film starred some of the major actors and actresses of Hollywood and was acclaimed by a number of critics as an outstanding work.

Suddenly, by a vote of 4-3 by the Georgia Supreme Court, it was denied to serious movie goers in Georgia, even though it could be seen almost anywhere else in the nation.

"Carnal Knowledge", we have no doubt, is not a movie that everyone would want to see. At the same time, those who wish to see it should not be denied that privilege. And they should have the privilege whether they live in Georgia or California if the freedoms which we are guaranteed under our Constitution are to mean anything.

Hopefully the Supreme Court will clarify and liberalize its split decision of last June. It is just too important to our nation that freedom of expression be protected. This must be true even if there are some abuses which must be tolerated.

Season Was Enhanced By Pre-Christmas Snow

It may not qualify as a White Christmas but Tuesday morning's snow has to be one of the earliest snowfalls for this area.

There was a brisk snowfall during the early morning hours and it must have given children, who reluctantly made their way to school, visions of Santa actually being able to land his sleigh on a snow covered Pitt County.

As so often happens, the precipitation stopped and the slight blanket of white quickly disappeared. But a before-Christmas snow was with us for a brief time.

Pessimism Up In Calif. GOP

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

LOS ANGELES—The oppressive pessimism now enveloping California Republicans, which could threaten party pressure for the resignation of President Nixon, is underlined by two new backstage changes.

Change No. 1: One of the former presidential counselor Robert Finch's closest advisers who previously urged him to run for either Governor or Senator next year now says Finch should sit out 1974. Finch inclines to agree. Friends who in November flatly predicted Finch would run for the Senate now sense a sharp drop in his spirits.

Change No. 2: Popular State Atty Gen. Evelle Younger only weeks ago seemed sure to run for Governor, with excellent chances of winning the Republican nomination. No longer. He has been adding up pluses and minuses. Unless a meeting between Younger and his supporters this week decides otherwise, he is apt to announce for reelection "as attorney general before year's end."

Finch, Younger, and their advisers reflect a deepening consensus among melancholy Republican politicians here: no Republican stands a chance in the nation's most populous state in 1974. The blame is placed on many factors—bad economic prospects, the energy crisis, dried-up Republican campaign financing, time-for-a-change sentiment after eight years of Republican Ronald Reagan as Governor. But beyond that lies Watergate and the wreckage of the Nixon presidency.

Thus, here as elsewhere, Republican pessimism is a long-term menace to President Nixon. If the despair deepens, there may yet be demands from panicky Republican politicians that Mr. Nixon save their hides by giving way to Vice President Gerald Ford.

That is possible, considering how rapidly Republican morale has deteriorated. On our last visit to California for the Republican state convention in early September, we found Republicans cautiously optimistic that Watergate scandals would not hurt here. They particularly felt that front-running Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown, Jr., the boyish 35-year-old son of the state's last Democratic Governor, would prove vulnerable as Democratic nominee for Governor against a well-established figure such as Younger or Finch.

Now, two months later, the same party leaders doubt any Republican can be elected—a slump coinciding with the presidential crisis that began Oct. 20.

Finch attributes his own drop in enthusiasm to apprehension over a severe recession, induced by the energy crisis. But to friends, he cites his role as former confidant of Mr. Nixon as heavy political baggage to carry in California today.

The principal reason for Younger's change of heart is financial. With what little Republican money still available dried up by Gov. Reagan's unsuccessful campaign for his state tax-limit proposal, Younger wonders whether any Republican can finance a campaign for Governor. But this, too, is tied to Watergate. Younger had been relying on Mr. Nixon's California contributors, who now want out of politics after the disillusionment of Watergate.

If Finch and Younger bow out, the race for the Republican nomination would be between Lt. Gov. Ed. Reinecke and state controller Houston Flournoy. Democrats genuinely fear Flournoy, a liberal Warren tradition, taking Democratic votes. But Republican regulars overwhelmingly prefer Reinecke for ideological reasons despite his dangerous tangential connection with the ITT affair.

Indeed, the 1974 Republican ticket might be the most narrow-based ever in California. For instance, Reagan's lieutenants privately vow that John-G. Veneman, a brilliant Under Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare during Mr. Nixon's first term, will never win the lieutenant governor's nomination he seeks. The reason: Veneman's quiet opposition to the Reagan tax plan. Thus, as prospects of victory recede, the party here may suicidally narrow its base.

But one senior Democrat, contending all this depends on Mr. Nixon's staying in the White House, feels that Democratic prospects will decline if and when Ford

Strength For Today

PHILOSOPHY OF CONFLICT

Every meaningful life involves conflict. We may dream of the happy situation in which all problems can be resolved reasonably without controversy by people who invariably behave toward us in an amiable fashion. But actually, a life spent in an environment of this sort would be dull and stultifying, because without conflict we would lack a major stimulus to growth, thought, and action.

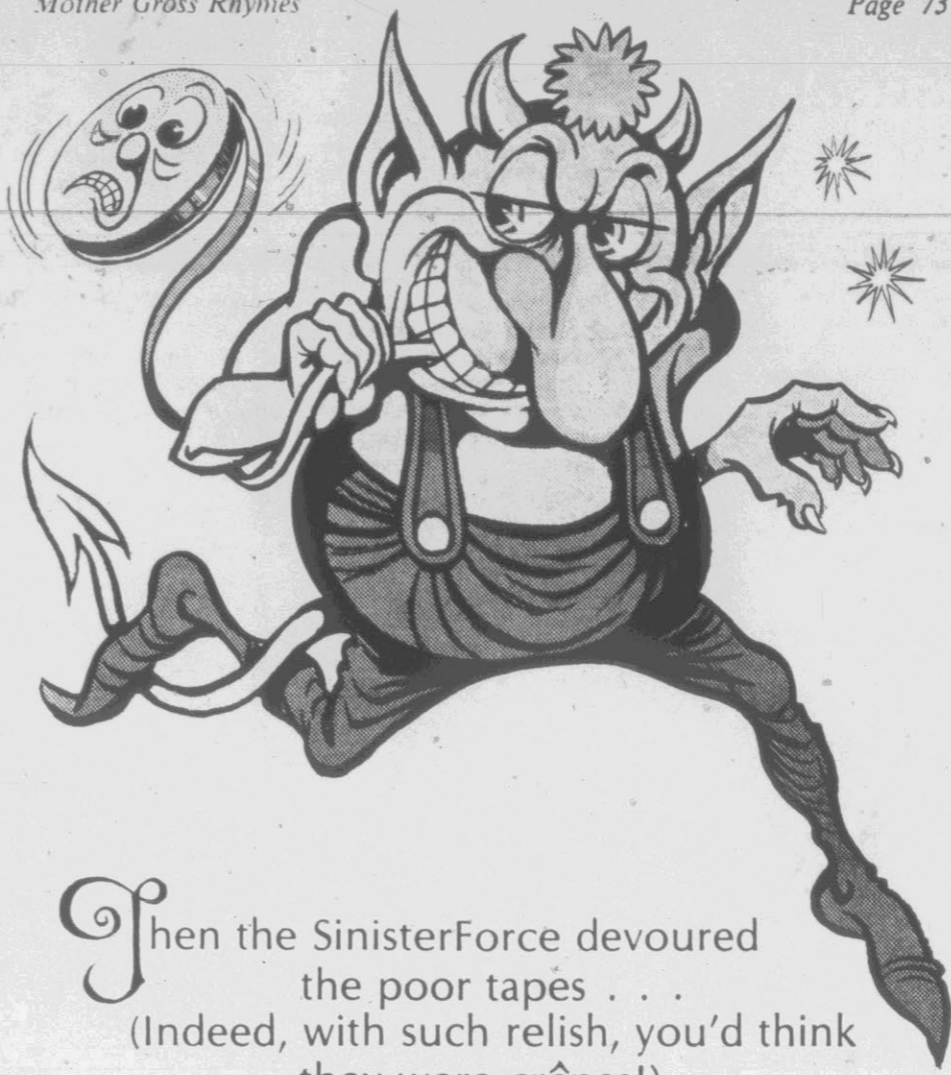

Socrates once said that every man needs a faithful friends and a bitter enemy. He knew well the contribution which bitter enemies make to the strengthening of a man's soul. We need the love of friends to call forth the latent beauty of life's possibilities and bring that sense of community and sharing without which we would feel maladjusted and alienated. We also need the hard and perhaps unscrupulous opposition of enemies to make us courageous and aware of our principles. Enemies also challenge us to be forgiving when the possibility of revenge is at hand.

Humdinger Explanation

WASHINGTON—It seems the mystery of the 18-minute hum on one of the presidential tapes may never be resolved. Rose Mary Woods, President Nixon's lawyers and even Judge Sirica have no idea how it happened. Every possible theory has been advanced and rejected—except one.

That one explanation that no one has mentioned is that the President was humming by himself for the entire 18 minutes.

I was put on to this theory by a former White House aide who says that one of President Nixon's biggest secrets is that he likes to hum when he's struggling with the major problems of the world. "You mean the entire 18 minutes of hum on the tape could have been made by the President?" I asked.

"Easily. I've seen the President hum for hours at a time. It relaxes him and helps him tough it out. He hummed all during the Vietnamese war, and I wouldn't be surprised if he's been humming ever since Watergate."

"But if the 18 minutes of humming was made by the President, why didn't he just say so and save us all from thinking the worst?"

"Because the President doesn't want anyone to know he hums. He'll do anything to keep people from finding out." "But why?" I asked. "He is afraid if the American people know he hums they may think he's not cool. He doesn't want to go down in history as the first American President who was known as a nervous hummer."

"There's nothing wrong with humming. Lots of people do it."

Other Editors Say No End To It All

(Henderson Dispatch)

Wholesale prices were up nearly two percent in November, the U. S. Department of Labor has announced. That means, of course, that retail prices, in proportion, will follow. It's a good question as to whether, where or when there will be an end to inflation. The trend has been steadily upward for several years.

The administration either willfully refuses or is helpless to do anything about it. Price controls have not turned the trick, and there is opinion in some quarters that such an imposition is not the answer. That theory leans to the idea of a free market, with supply and demand reaching its natural level. But the trend was up before controls were imposed. So what? Do the economists know?

Meantime, the price control agency of government ever so often gives the green light for increases. Currently, the talk is for higher prices on heating oil. As if indeed they are not already skyrocketing.

There is a school of thought that the only way conditions will be reversed is through a recession. Nobody wants that; it's effects could be much worse than the plan now operating.

It is small comfort to cite runaway inflation in other countries by comparison with conditions here at home. Americans are not willing to accept that merely because other nations are above our level. They seem to be as helpless to find a remedy as the so-called experts here are.

The trend continues and seems at times with consent of government. Frankly, we do not pretend to know the answer. Like every one else, we have to take the bitter medicine while it continues. It does seem, however, that a powerful government should be able to offer some sort of relief to citizens.

Nobody Welcomes Uncertainty

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP)— Since few people welcome uncertainty into their lives, the economic prospects for 1974 are being received by most Americans with the same enthusiasm with which they'd greet a thief at the door.

But there are some certainties, although relatively fewer than in most recent years. Unfortunately, they may be just as unwelcome.

Here are a random few:

1. You may be certain that prices will continue to rise, although the standard forecast is for a slowing in the inflation rate as the year wears on.
2. There will be a decline in economic activity, at least early in the year. As with prices, existing ingredients in

3. Unemployment will rise, at least in the first six months of the year. After that the outlook is uncertain, with economists divided about a continued rise or a decline.
4. Shortages, especially of products dependent upon oil, will persist. As it is popularly phrased: "There will be no shortage of shortages."
5. Interest rates will remain high in the first few months of the year. After that, uncertainty.
6. Money for mortgages will be more plentiful. Savings are pouring back into thrift institutions, and that means more money to lend.
7. Government price and wage restraints will continue.
8. The demand for smaller cars — that is, for compacts and subcompacts — will be greater than the supply early in the year. As is already evident, the demand for big, fuel-guzzling vehicles will be far below normal.

Need you be told there are more listings in the "maybe" category than in any other? These are just two of the more important:

1. Will there be a recession? The odds seem to say there will be. Even before the Mideast oil cutback the economy was expected to come close to a recession, which means two quarters in a row of shrinkage in the gross national output.
- Based on expectations that Mideast oil will flow to the West early in the year, many economists now see a relatively mild recession. But, should the cutback continue, they feel that

Boyle Views Life

NEW YORK (AP)— Christmas won't seem like Christmas if the following things don't happen:

A majority of Americans will agree that Christmas has become too commercialized—and then go right on deeper into debt than ever buying each other presents.

One million grandpas will weep with nostalgia as they tell their four million grandchildren how, in the good old days when they were children a kid was thrilled if he only got a bright fresh orange in his Christmas stocking.

The four million grandchildren will conclude that either grandpa is an awful liar or that kids must have been awfully dumb in those days.

A robber dressed in a Santa Claus costume will hold up a bank and get away with the loot.

Another one dressed the same way will try the same thing, but his escape will be foiled when he is tackled and captured by a genuine street corner Santa.

Four firemen and 12 policemen working as department store Santas will be recognized by their captains and brought up on charges for moonlighting while on sick leave.

Ten million husbands will get as gifts neckties they wouldn't wear to a dog show.

Two husbands will get exactly the kind of ties that delight them—but only one will get to wear his. The other will die of surprise.

Two days before Christmas an ambitious young congressman will get a lot of applause for proposing that the playing of "Jingle Bells" in public be banned for 10 years.

An exhibitionistic young lady in Chicago will be arrested for strolling nude down State Street except for a Santa Claus outfit consisting only of a pair of black boots, a pair of red mittens and a long white beard.

Dr. W. H. Wanamaker of Duke University spoke to the Pitt County Duke Alumni Association at St. Paul's Episcopal Church here last night on "Things Alumni Can Do To Help Duke University."

Dr. J. M. Barrett, a Greenville physician, was elected president of the organization at the meeting. About 45 former students, their wives and students attended the meeting.

In the face of a serious mad dog situation prevailing in the community, Dr. S.S. McGeachy, director of the Pitt County Department of Health, again called the attention of county officers to the problem.

Since a statement about the problem was issued last week, Dr. McGeachy, said "I have learned that stray dogs have bitten people at or near their homes and wish to urge upon you and all your deputies to rigidly enforce the confinement order."

Another man has been jailed on a charge of having a load of stolen tobacco.

Police records show the man has just completed an 18 months jail term for automobile theft.

Greenville's First 'Honorary Citizen'

Politicians See Rocky A '76 Candidate

HONORARY CITIZEN...Dr. Fred Wrigley receives honorary citizenship from Mayor Gene West.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — With three tries for the presidency behind him, politicians read Nelson A. Rockefeller's gubernatorial resignation as the first step toward a fourth and final presidential bid.

Rockefeller announced at a news conference Tuesday he would step down in a week from the New York governor's office he was first elected to in 1958. He said he would spend his time working with two bipartisan national commissions which he heads.

"My only regret is that my undertaking these tasks has been interpreted as a political maneuver to seek the presidency or for any other political office," he said as he quit the office he has held for 15 years. "Whether I will become a candidate in the future, I do not know. I should like to keep my options open."

Rockefeller said he would not "face those options" until late in 1975. "This is not a gimmick. This is not a political trick," he said.

Nevertheless, in widely scattered political quarters, the move was seen as a step toward the presidency. And to some Republicans it carried more hope of success than when Rockefeller, once considered the Eastern establishment GOP liberal, ran in 1960, 1964 and 1968.

The luncheon, at the home of ECU Chancellor Leo Jenkins, was attended by 25 persons, representing Greenville, Pitt County, ECU and the local Burroughs-Wellcome Company manufacturing facility.

Dr. Wrigley was in Greenville as part of a farewell tour of Burroughs-Wellcome's American locations, which include its research laboratories in the Triangle area.

Tributes to Dr. Wrigley's role in the contributions of Burroughs-Wellcome to the local community were given by Dr. Jenkins; Pitt County Board of Commissioners Chairman Robert Martin; Burroughs-Wellcome Plant Manager Henry Leslie; and Dr. Al Ferguson, Greenville kidney specialist who cited Dr. Wrigley's part in a Burroughs-Wellcome grant to Pitt Memorial Hospital for a kidney dialysis machine.

Dr. Wrigley was presented the first honorary citizenship of Greenville by Mayor Eugene West.

"I think he has to be considered as a candidate," said Republican state Chairman Clifford L. Jones of Pennsylvania. "It's unquestionably a move in that direction."

A presidential bid by Rockefeller this time would come after he has taken widely publicized actions aimed at stemming welfare chiseling, stiffening terms for drug pushers and improving ties with more conservative elements of the Republican party.

The commissions to which he will devote his time — the National Commission on Critical Choices for America and the National Commission on Water Quality — would give him a platform from which to continue speaking on national issues.

Whatever the decision, 1976 almost certainly would be the 65-year-old Rockefeller's last chance at the presidency. If he won, at inauguration he would be five months older than William Henry Harrison, the age record-holder, was when sworn in at 68 in 1841. Dwight D. Eisenhower, oldest president on leaving the office, was 70 when John F. Kennedy was sworn in in 1961.

A number of Republicans across the country said Rockefeller's chances would be better now than in previous years.

"His recent record is considerably different from his earlier record and shows a much closer alliance to the principles of the Republican party," said Clarence Warner, the Oklahoma GOP chairman. "He would be the type of candidate I could vigorously support."

James Royce, Republican leader in Louisiana, said a Rockefeller candidacy in his state "would be far better received now than in 1972 or 1968. The governor has moved nearer the center, and the American people are nearer the center."

Wisconsin GOP National Committeeman Ody Fish said Rockefeller would have a "broad base of support ... and will be a factor in 1976."

City School Bd. Meets Monday

The December meeting of the Greenville City School Board will take place Monday, December 17, at 8:00 p.m. in the boardroom of the Central Office, 431 West Fifth Street.

On the agenda are items concerning pupil placement policy, and advisory committee for occupational education, a report to the State Board of Education, and reports on local audit funds and State Nine Months School Fund audit.

Other items include personnel resignations, elections, and superintendent evaluations; occupational education, in-service education course, and holiday schedule.

Postal Helps

Three new items are now available at both the Main Post Office and ECU Station. Postmaster H. Lloyd Mills announced today.

These items include automatic postage stamp affixer, air cushioned lined mailbags, and polamide scales.

"These three items were designed with convenience of the mailer in mind. Anyone interested should request a demonstration of these handy and time-saving items on their next visit to the Post Office," Mills said.

Carol-Sing On Thursday Night

The first annual Eastern Carolina Christmas Carol Sing will be held Thursday evening, December 13, at 8:15 p.m. in Wright Auditorium.

The University Orchestra, Wind Ensemble, Chorale, Chamber Singers, and Men's and Women's Glee Club will join their talents in this program designed by the university as a seasonal gift for the citizens of the local area.

Over 200 students and faculty will provide traditional Christmas music, alternating the program with audience participation in carol singing.

The public is invited to attend and to join in the singing.

Fifty thousand stenographers will decide they'd be smart to look for another job because they gave the boss a bad time at the annual office Christmas party.

Four out of five cheapskate guys who are tired of their girl friends will break up with them to avoid buying a present.

Many people—but still a minority—will go to church and worship Jesus, whose birthday Christmas is.

"The President was probably doing two different things. He may have hummed loudly when he was reading The Washington Post, and he could have hummed softly while he was working on his income taxes."

"Of course," I said, "that explains it. And to think Rose Mary Woods is taking the rap for the hum."

"That," said the White House aide, "is what secretaries are for."

Temperatures In The Low 20's

Woolen scarves and hats were seen worn by many local residents this morning as the temperatures dropped to the low 20's.

According to the Greenville Utilities Commission weather station, the high temperature for the 24 hour period ending this morning at 8 a.m. was 39 degrees while the low for that same period was reported as 24 degrees. The temperature this morning at 8 a.m. was 28 degrees and by 11 a.m. had risen to 40 degrees.

The high and low temperature for the 24-hour period ending Tuesday at 8 a.m. was recorded as 57 degrees and 32 degrees, respectively.

The Tar River level was reported at 1.4 feet at 8 a.m.

Charge Driver In Mishap Here

Shelly Johnson Henderson of Rt. 2, Greenville was charged with failing to reduce speed in order to avoid an accident following a traffic mishap here Tuesday.

Greenville Police reported that the accident, involving the Henderson car and a vehicle driven by William Horace Mills of Grimesland, occurred on Greenville Boulevard west of its intersection with Arlington Boulevard.

Officers estimated damages at $125 to the Henderson car and $90 to the car driven by Mills. No injuries were reported in the 5:40 p.m. accident.

Expand Program Area In N.C.

Sen. Jesse Helms announced that the Secretary of Agriculture has selected the new areas to be provided with resource, conservation and development program assistance in fiscal 1974.

Helms said that the areas include the five-county Mid-East section of North Carolina that includes Pitt, Martin, Beaufort, Bertie and Hertford counties.

The Mid-East area, it was pointed out, consists of some 2,001,680 acres.

Observe Annual 'Love Feast' Sunday Evening

The annual Love Feast will be observed Sunday evening at Saint James United Methodist Church, 2000 E. Sixth St.

This service has become a tradition at St. James and has been observed each year since 1953, one year following the organization of the Church.

The Love Feast (or Agape) is an ancient Christian rite. In the early church it was probably a meal provided by the Christian fellowship for charity to the poor and widows.

St. James has combined several elements to make the service an unusual Christmas experience. Everyone receives a candle which is lighted from a replica of the Jerusalem Lamp from the time of Christ.

Saint James Church welcomes the community to share in this unique experience at 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

Republican loyalty obviates an overt Nixon-must-go campaign. But one Republican campaigner who has traveled the state reports that only in militantly conservative Orange County did audiences show enthusiasm for the President. Otherwise, pro-Nixon statements were greeted by skimpy applause and pained expressions. From there, it may not be a long step for these Republicans to publicly link drastically diminished prospects in California to the chaos a continent away in Washington.

No Complaints From Majority

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Bettye K. Hoffman is a mail chauvinist.

She's in charge of the letters the public sends NBC. She tells the NBC brass at least once a month what viewers are writing about. And she also makes certain that most of the letters get replies.

Mrs. Hoffman, whose formal title is Vice President, Information Services, estimates that by the end of 1973 her office will have handled more than 120,000 letters from people who watch NBC shows.

You needn't send her a year's supply of aspirin, though. She says complaints didn't account for the majority of this year's mail; only 33 per cent was of the gripe variety. Sixteen per cent of the writers actually cheered things the network was doing, while 51 per cent were in the "general" category—queries about repeats of shows, NBC operations, or, as she puts it, "questions about what we do."

"They might see a picture hanging on the wall of a set and ask who painted it or whether they can get it," she said.

She laughed as she thought of another example.

"The bar Dean Martin had in his previous shows," she said. "There must have been hundreds of home do-it-yourself fans who wanted to make a bar like that and wanted plans of the bar."

The majority of complaints she's gotten this year, she said, concerned news coverage of events in Washington, followed by references to sex and religion in some of NBC's entertainment shows.

"We get almost no comment about violence at all," Mrs. Hoffman said. "In the past couple of years, if we've had two dozen complaints about violence, that'd be about it."

"There's much more sensitivity (among viewers) to sex, the treatment of sex, and any casual, humorous references to religion."

Oddly enough, there are few complaints this season about NBC's cancellation of low-rated programs. In the old days, viewers used to complain vigorously when their favorite shows got the ax—particularly if they weren't aware of it until the shows didn't appear as usual.

"Not any more," said Mrs. Hoffman. "That used to be true, but now I think everybody knows about cancellations as soon as they're announced and appear in stories in newspapers and TV Guide."

"I think people have gotten to accept cancellations as part of television life. They're more sophisticated about the fact that a program may not last or may not strike the public fancy."

Mrs. Hoffman, whose staff handles only letters specifically addressed to NBC, estimates they crank out at least 7,500 responses a month, both of the form letter and individual reply variety.

Those who don't get answers are the authors of obscene letters, epistles that obviously are the work of the deranged and letters with a blatant racial bias.

Congressmen Pay State Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like President Nixon, members of Congress from North Carolina and South Carolina work in the District of Columbia. But unlike him, they pay state income taxes.

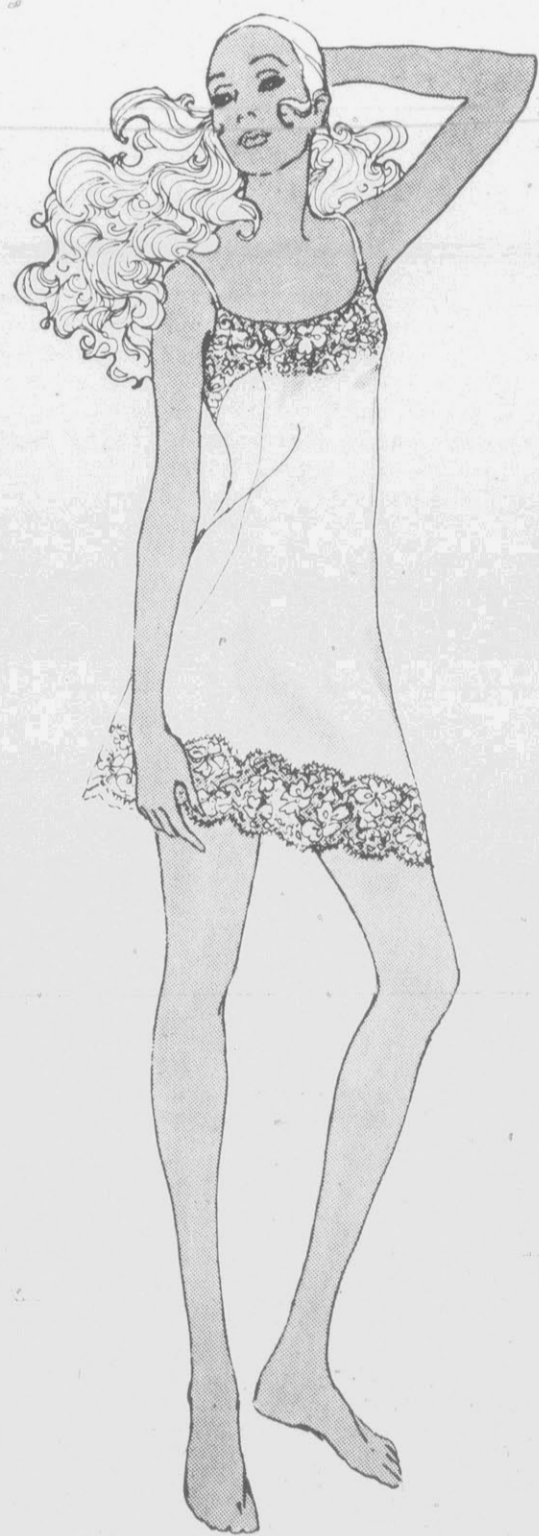

The President disclosed over the weekend that he pays no California taxes because he is a resident of the District of Columbia. The district exempts public officials from local income taxes.

Several members of Congress from the Carolinas live in the capital, but as legal residents of North Carolina and South Carolina they pay state taxes there. Others, who live in Virginia, are subject to Virginia taxes, but can claim a tax credit to avoid double taxation, since they pay in the Carolinas. In Raleigh, an assistant attorney general of North Carolina, George Boylan, says it is doubtful that a member of Congress could claim to be a resident of the District of Columbia and thus escape paying state taxes. Boylan said North Carolina law regards domicile as a matter of intent as well as presence. To avoid taxation, one must overtly disavow residence in North Carolina, he said. "I don't think that would square with his intention to run for public office from his district or state."

Legal officials in South Carolina put the same interpretation on laws of their state.

House Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma is known as the "Little Giant of Bug Tussle," a dual reference to Albert's height, 5'4", and his origins in the tiny Oklahoma community known as Bug Tussle.

Board Asks Option Merger Is To Cut School Days Completed

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The Charlotte and Mecklenburg County school system wants authority to shorten school days or weeks this winter.

The board of education decided Tuesday night that these options may be necessary if the system continues to have difficulty getting gasoline for buses and fuel oil for heating.

The board voted to ask the county's delegation in the legislature, which opens the 1974 session next month, to push for immediate consideration of a change in the state law that requires five six-hour school days each week.

Several board members also noted that shortened school days may be required to avoid an increase in hazardous school bus pickups in the dark if the nation returns to daylight savings time.

The board made no decision on how much it would seek to shorten the school day. It did discuss a proposal of the administrative staff to open and to close schools an hour and one-half later than normal if daylight savings time is adopted. Yet, the staff pointed out, such hours would interfere with family schedules, after-school jobs and activities, and would place school bus routes in rush-hour traffic.

The superintendent of schools, Roland Jones, was asked to report at the next meeting of the board on Jan. 6 on ways the operation of the schools could be adjusted to the energy crisis.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—The announced merger of Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. and the Bank of Elizabethtown, N.C., has been completed, officials said today.

The Bank of Elizabethtown's four offices—two in Elizabethtown and one each in Tar Heel and Dublin—opened for business this morning as Wachovia offices.

The merger brings the total of Wachovia's banking offices to 172 in 70 North Carolina cities and towns. The merger followed approval by both banks in June and by the U.S. comptroller of the currency Nov. 12.

C.R. Jordan, formerly president of the Bank of Elizabethtown, has been elected a vice president of Wachovia and will continue to head the four offices.

Under terms of the merger 54,900 shares of Wachovia Corp. common stock were traded for 4,000 outstanding shares of the Bank of Elizabethtown, a Wachovia spokesman said. The Bank of Elizabethtown had deposits of about $10 million, the spokesman said.

Six Attended Showing Slides Of Holy Land Annual Meeting

Six members of the Pitt County Mental Health Center staff attended the annual conference of the Association of Mental Health Clinics in North Carolina in Raleigh Dec. 2-5.

Attending the conference were Irene Glass, Patricia Dunn, Rise Long, Miriam Pleasant, Peggy James and Jeannine Keyes.

The conference considered improved methods of delivering and evaluating programs and services to citizens of North Carolina.

AYDEN—Carroll Smith will present slides of Israel and Egypt at the Community Baptist Church, 111 N.E. College St., Sunday evening, at 7:30.

Smith is the son of Mrs. Selma Smith. He made two tours to the Holy Land while stationed in Spain and has completed his service in the United States Air Force.

Pastor Stanley Wingard and the church extend an invitation to the public to attend.

Some things are worth waiting for. And one of them is the celebration we're planning to officially kick off our new Ramada Inn on the Highway 264 By-Pass.

Jim Woody of the ECU Pirates will be on hand to do the honors Wednesday, December 12th at 5:30 p.m.

Also on hand for the celebration will be other members of the Pirates team as well as Nancy Morgan, homecoming queen, and Harriet Canady, Miss Black ECU.

There will be gypsy musicians and dancers entertaining, so come out and enjoy the fun. Have refreshments, and take a look around. With 120 guest rooms, banquet facilities, the Gypsy Tent Restaurant and the Fortune Teller Tavern, we're ready to show Greenville the kind of special "Welcome Home" hospitality that has made Ramada a favorite from coast to coast.

Early Hearings Scheduled In Mass Housing Frauds

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional investigators suspect government prosecutors have only skimmed the surface in uncovering massive schemes to cheat the poor in federal housing programs. And this despite about 300 recent indictments in 20 cities across the country.

Justice Department investigators claim steady headway in an attack on the biggest crooks. But the department's approach has been just that—"go for the big guys and make believers out of the rest."

Now the Legal and Monetary Affairs subcommittee of the House Government Operations Committee plans hearings early next year on Justice Department progress in attacking housing fraud.

The Justice Department attack first centered on Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago, Newark, N.J., and Brooklyn, N.Y., and soon was expanded to 15 other cities.

"What we found was just a massive series of unconnected fraudulent schemes. Everybody seemed to be in the same game," said one Justice official. "What we find in one city, we're finding in other cities in almost the same pattern of activity."

In simply terms, the schemes affect subsidy programs to help poor people buy homes with down payments as low as $200 and to help private contractors and nonprofit associations develop rental complexes.

Committee investigators say they are most interested in what the department has done about alleged fraud in the management of dozens of housing projects controlled by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Spurred in part by the subcommittee's 1972 hearings, the department took the unusual step of assigning a task force of Washington investigators to assist U.S. attorneys around the nation in ferreting out housing frauds.

The task force attack so far has led to 1973 indictments against 305 defendants, said three department officials who asked not to be identified for fear that some judges might consider it improper for them to discuss the investigations and dismiss cases for that reason.

The officials said they have obtained 107 convictions, charges against some minor figures have been dismissed and other cases are pending. They said government prosecutors have lost no cases against major fraud participants.

The scandals involve programs administered by the Federal Housing Administration and its parent agency, HUD.

The Justice Department "focused on what would take us as high up in the business community as possible and as high up in the FHA as possible if anyone in FHA was on the take," said one department official.

"This was our project—to go for the big guys and make believers out of the rest," he continued.

A number of low-level FHA officials have been indicted and the director of the Philadelphia insuring office of FHA, Thomas J. Gallagher Jr., was convicted of taking bribes and sentenced last Oct. 10 to three years in prison and a $40,000 fine.

The Justice officials indicated that current investigations may involve other higher-ranking housing officials. "We don't really know. We've got some vibes about it but nothing really substantive that we can say," one investigator reported.

But they emphasized that HUD Secretary James T. Lynn and the highest FHA officials are cooperating and encouraging the Justice probes.

In the case of single-family dwellings, the scheme commonly works this way:

A real estate speculator buys up dilapidated houses for a pittance, makes cosmetic repairs to conceal the extent of the ruin, and often persuades or bribes an FHA appraiser to jack up the appraised value.

The speculator then peddles the heap to a trusting and inexperienced buyer who obtains a mortgage guaranteed by FHA at the inflated price. The schemes sometimes involve false statements about the buyer's financial status and ability to meet even the low payments made possible by the federal subsidy.

The disillusioned buyer soon finds the house crumbling around him. He doesn't have enough money to pay for repairs and to continue to meet mortgage payments. The mortgage holder forecloses and demands that the government pick up the mortgage.

The speculator has reaped a fat profit on the sale and the mortgage holder has shared in the bonanza. The buyer has been cheated out of his next egg. And the government has been bilked for the inflated sale price and has become the custodian of still another ramshackle dwelling.

The Justice officials said that in the case of multi-family developments, scheming contractors jack up construction costs and developers persuade the FHA to guarantee vastly inflated mortgages.

The developers realize they can never meet the mortgage payments but they stall the inevitable foreclosure as long as possible in order to reap their profits through tax write-offs. The losses of the subsidized housing project allow the developers to escape heavy taxation on more profitable enterprises.

When the developer finally submits to foreclosure, HUD becomes the project manager.

Following up the 1972 hearings, the House subcommittee asked the General Accounting Office for a spot check of projects under HUD management.

The committee source said GAO investigators reported that the manager of a Tucson development "on two occasions cleaned out the project's bank account on Fridays and re-stored the funds on Tuesdays." The committee staff has not determined what happened to the money, "but the only thing that occurs to us is that Tucson is awfully close to Las Vegas" gambling casinos, the

Truck And Bus Speeds Continue Heated Topic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fifty or fifty-five?
That's one of the questions the experts are asking in trying to unravel the confusion surrounding new proposed speed limits for trucks.

50 miles per hour for cars and 55 for trucks and buses.
Administration officials said the higher speed for the larger vehicles was proposed because trucks and buses "are geared, on balance, to run more efficiently at 55 m.p.h. than at 50 m.p.h. and therefore will save more fuel at the higher speed."

That's the gear at which a truck — or car — operates most efficiently. It's the gear used for cruising speed. In top gear, the engine has to work less hard, making fewer revolutions per unit of distance traveled than in lower gears.

Assistance Is Approved

First District Congressman Walter B. Jones announced today the Mideast Resource Conservation and Development Council has been selected to be provided with resource conservation and development program assistants in fiscal year 1974 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

That view might be changing. Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar said this week the administration believes "that between 50 and 55 m.p.h., the fuel efficiencies of trucks and buses, in total, are essentially unchanged. But, as you push to 60 m.p.h., with its increased wind resistance, we believe over-all efficiencies decline."

Robert McHale, a spokesman for the American Trucking Association, said the huge rigs generally reach peak efficiency at 55 m.p.h. because that's where the driver hits his top gear.

Technical assistants and cost sharing conservation and development of projects in Pitt, Martin, Hertford, Bertie and Beaufort Counties which comprise the Mideast planning Region will be provided.

Automotive experts disagree among themselves.
"There's no way you're going to get better fuel mileage at 55 than at 50," said Allen H. Glasenapp, a staff engineer at GMC Truck and Coach in Pontiac, Mich.

Another industry spokesman agreed, adding that most trucks have 10 gears and the driver "has to shift back to ninth gear when his speed drops to about 52 m.p.h."

The projects to be sponsored include establishment of a state park at Fort Branch, Martin County; a 1200 acre state park in Beaufort County; flood control for the Town of Windsor; a soil and health short course for sanitary technicians at Pitt Tech; partial restoration and study of Mill Dam; studies of downstream effects of stream channel improvements on water and aquatic plant and animal life; and a ground water pollution study.

Glasenapp said truck drivers could cut fuel consumption by about five per cent by switching from 55 to 50 m.p.h. He added, however, that the lower speeds could increase other costs by as much as 15 per cent. The chief new cost is the additional road time driving at lower speeds.

Truck drivers, some of whom blocked highways in recent days to dramatize their protests, say that even 55 m.p.h. is too low. They contend trucks operate more efficiently at 60 or 65 miles an hour.

The projects to be sponsored include establishment of a state park at Fort Branch, Martin County; a 1200 acre state park in Beaufort County; flood control for the Town of Windsor; a soil and health short course for sanitary technicians at Pitt Tech; partial restoration and study of Mill Dam; studies of downstream effects of stream channel improvements on water and aquatic plant and animal life; and a ground water pollution study.

Most of the experts seem to agree that determining which speed is best involves a variety of factors, including transmission systems. The key to the question seems to be fig-

Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington, chairman of the National Governors Conference, is polling the state executives to find out if they favor the dual system. He reported shortly after starting his study that eight of nine governors who responded favored a single limit.

The Greenville Police Department has some things to sell—including several thousand bicycle license tags and 60 bicycles.

According to Capt. W. M. Carr the bicycles that have been recovered by the department over the past year will be auctioned tomorrow (Thursday) at 11 a.m. in the alley beside police headquarters.

owners to comply with the city ordinance requiring registration of bicycles. He said bicycle licensing helps reduce bicycle thefts and aids law enforcement officers in their investigation of bicycle thefts—as well as helping owners to recover their stolen property.

Proceeds from the sale of the bicycles, he explained, go to the school fund. And the department has all types for sale, including regular, three, five and 10 speed models.

Capt. Carr explained that when a bicycle is recovered by police, the serial number is checked against the department's files in an effort to determine its owners. If the bicycle was not registered, then the department has no record of who owns the bicycle. And, he said, many times people do not report their bicycles stolen so the department is unable to establish the owner, even if the rightful owner has a bill of sale that would properly identify it.

The officer noted that during the year, the department recovered and returned to their owners some 60 bicycles that had been stolen or left abandoned by their owners.

Venezuela Oil 'Weapon'

By WILLIAM H. HEATH Associated Press Writer
 CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela's apparent president-elect, Carlos Andres Perez, says the price of his country's oil is going up, and not correct in being angry and resentful.

He said he considers himself elected even though final the Democratic Action party official returns from Sunday's election are not expected until Thursday. The latest official tally gives him a substantial lead.

Perez is an energetic political veteran whose democratic views earned him years of imprisonment and exile as well as high elective office. Democratic Action, the center-left party that ruled Venezuela from 1958 to 1969, nominated him for the presidency in 1971, and he started his campaign immediately.

A tireless politician, the trim, tanned six-footer registered 3-125 foot miles on a pedometer during one 11-month stretch. He has been Democratic Action's leader in the House of Deputies ever since 1959 and was elected secretary-general of the party in 1967. The next year it lost the presidency to the Social Christian party, Venezuela's other major faction.

Perez also said the untouched oil reserves in the Orinoco tar belt in eastern Venezuela, believed to total more than 700 billion barrels, would not be exploited "in the heat of the moment, at the urging of the countries which need that petroleum, but in accordance with Venezuelan interest in using the resource."

Venezuela now produces some 3.3 million barrels of crude oil and refined products daily, selling about 1.5 million barrels to the United States and 800,000 barrels to Canada. More than 85 per cent of the oil comes from concessions held by Exxon, Shell, Gulf, Texaco and Mobil. These concessions are to begin expiring in 1983. But Perez insists this date

Members of the merged group are:

Rev. O. J. Rooks, Chairman; Mrs. Ernestine Haselrig, Vice-Chairman; Miss Judy Little, Secretary; Walter Fields; and members—George F. Garrette; Don McGlohon; Tom Reese; Elizabeth Quinn; William B. Gikks; Lynn Cargile; Freager Sanders, III; Ray Alexander; Eva Meteye; Michael Brewington; John Miller; Sharon Moore; Richard Edwards; and Alisa Byrum.

The purpose of the Committee is to consult with school officials in identifying problems and assessing the needs to be addressed by the ESAA grant application.

Bring Yule To Patients

Young people from Parker's Chapel Free Will Baptist Church who call themselves Rebels for Christ visited patients in U-Building, Cherry Hospital, Goldsboro, Sunday afternoon.

This was the third consecutive year the Rebels for Christ have taken a tree and decorations to Cherry Hospital, dressed the tree, and provided a Christmas program. Each patient was given a festive bag which was filled with Christmas "goodies." The census of the building is 130, and the majority of the patients from Pitt County at the present time are located there.

Young people involved were Davy French, Stacy Eastwood, Kenneth Tetterton, William Tetterton, Nina Gonzalez, Betty Gurganus, Dwight Vernelson, Shirley Jones, Karen Jones, Mary Roebuck, Steve Edwards, Donna Speight, Deborah Speight, Meanie Conner, Elaine Vernelson and Connie Briley.

Adults accompanying the group included Mr. and Mrs. James W. Jones, advisors, the Rev. Harley Brown, minister, and Mrs. Kay Cooper, who was in charge of the program. Other adults were Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Lester House and Mrs. Joseph N. LeConte, executive director of the Pitt County Mental Health Association.

At the conclusion of the telling of the birth of Christ, the patients participated in the singing of Christmas carols.

Kinston Holds Off Rampants, 69-61

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

Rose High School's Rampants gave Kinston's unbeaten Vikings all they could handle last night, but ballhandling problems, and fouls proved to be the difference as Kinston took a 69-61 victory.

The Rampants turned the ball over a total of 30 times in the game, but that wasn't fatal in itself. They still outthit the Vikings from the floor in the game, 44-38.

The bid difference came at the foul line. There, Kinston cashed in on 31 of 46 shots, while the Rampants only made 17 of 27. The difference in fouls wasn't that great, 31 against Rose while Kinston drew 25. And 13 of those Rose fouls came in the final period when Kinston began to keep the ball away from them, forcing the fouls.

What counted was that when Rose fouled, Kinston was usually in the act of shooting, getting two shots. Rose, while still in the non-bonus situation, wasn't getting the shots. And their one-and-one's generally didn't pay off. Too, several of the Kinston fouls were offensive, awarding no shots, just possession.

There, the turnovers took their toll, as the Rampant ball-handling just wasn't up to par. Kinston's Mark Dale, meanwhile, put on nearly a one man show toward the end, keeping the ball away from the Rampants. And when he did get a one-on-one situation, he took the ball to the basket, drawing the foul. As a result, he hit on 13 of 14 shots from the line, including nine of 10 in the final period of play.

On the boards, the Rampants worked well. Herb Bynum and Robert Brinkley both pulled down more than their share, especially on the defensive boards. But the inability to cash in once Rose got the ball enabled Kinston to win its fourth without a loss.

For Rose, it was their fourth loss in five starts.

Rose played with them for most of the game. They got the initial lead on a jumper by Tyrone Taft after 30 seconds, and clung to the lead or a tie through the first few minutes. Although Kinston tied it up three times, they didn't get the lead until Dale hit two free throws with 4:35 left in the opening period for an 8-7 lead. Rose got it right back on a jumper by Robert Brinkley, but Dimitri Belmont drove in to return the lead to Kinston.

The Vikings got two free throws from James King and another from Soello Long to run their lead to four, 13-9 before Rose came back to tie it on jumpers by Taft and Bynum.

Rose finally regained the lead early in the second period after trailing 17-15 at the end of the frame. Randy Van Surdan hit two free throws and William Hansley scored on a fast break for a 19-17 lead. Kinston tied it up, but Rose held them off until Long stole it with 3:44 left for a 24-23 lead. Rose pushed back ahead on a shot by Donnie Shields from underneath, and Lindberg Morris scored on the break to give the Rampants their biggest bulge, 27-24 with 3:06 left in the half.

Belmont hit two charity shots and a basket to put Kinston back in the lead and Rudolph Ham hit a jumper to make it 30-27. After a couple of exchanges, Dale stole the ball with five seconds left to up the lead to five, 36-31 at the end of the first half.

Colin McDuffie hit at the start of the second half to run the lead to seven, but Rose fought back. Bynum and Taft both hit from the floor and Taft hit two at the line to trim the lead to 38-37. But Rose couldn't take the lead although they had several chances at it.

Long canned two shots and Dale again scored off a steal to run Kinston back to a seven-point edge, 46-39. Rose fought back, however getting a jumper by Ronnie Barrett and two free throws from Bynum to cut it to 48-45 by the end of the period.

Bynum hit 10 seconds into the final frame to cut the lead to one, but after each team hit two free throws, Long got a three point play and Dale hit two from the stripe to run it to 55-49. Rose closed to within two again, but Kinston held them off.

Trailing 62-59, Rose got a rebound, but turned it over before midcourt to give it back to the Vikings, who cashed in as Dale drew two more free throws. Bruce Reese then stole the ball for a basket and after two free throws by Rose, Ralph Peterson hit a three-point play for the final eight-point margin.

Dale led the Kinston scoring with 19 points, while Long added 12.

Brinkley was high for Rose with 14, while Bynum had 12 and Taft had 10.

Kinston also took the junior varsity game, leading all the way 67-43.

They jumped out to a 16-6 lead in the first period of play and were never in trouble after that. By halftime they had upped the lead to 32-14, outscoring the Rampant Cubs, 16-8 in the second frame.

Rose did not do much damage in the second half, although they did outthit Kinston, 14-12, in the third period. They never closed within 10, however, and trailed, 46-30, as the last period began. Kinston ran away with that, 21-13 to win handily.

Calvin Morris led Kinston with 21, while Avery Dawson had 14 and Guy Fisher had 11. For Rose, Mike Brewington had 10. Rose travels to Goldsboro on Friday, seeking their second win.

Pirates Play Host To Unbeaten Fairleigh-Dickinson Thursday

East Carolina University's Pirates will play their final home game until mid-January tomorrow night at 8 p.m. when they entertain surprising Fairleigh-Dickinson.

The Knights come into the game with a perfect 4-0 record, while the Bucs will be coming in with a 2-2 mark, following a surprising upset over Davidson College in their Southern Conference opener.

Following this game, the Pirates will hit the road for a Saturday meeting with The Citadel, hoping to snap a three-year old losing streak in Charleston, S. C. The Bucs are then idle for two weeks before playing Marshall at Huntington, W. Va., on December 29.

After that comes the Presidential Classic in Washington on January 4-5, and two road games in the Southern Conference against Richmond and VMI before they return home for a January 14 game with Appalachian State.

Coach Tom Quinn's Whiz Kids come into the game seeking once more to cut down a favored team, as they have done once and threatened to do two other times.

In fact, their 104-point total against the Davidson Wildcats was the most scored against Davidson since the 1961-62 season when Duke rolled to a 115-72 win over them. Only three times since then, twice last year, against N. C. State (103-90) and Furman (102-94), and then Saturday night, have the Wildcats allowed 100 or more.

Nicky White poured in 32 points against Davidson, the team's high for the year, and he leads the Pirate scoring with 17.5 points. Reggie Lee, who got only three points against the Wildcats, setting out much of the game in foul trouble, is next with an 11.8 average, while Roger Atkinson is next at 10.8.

Six Bucs however, have scored in double figures at least once in the four games to date.

Fairleigh-Dickinson so far this year, has posted wins over Stony Brook (77-44), Buffalo (85-67), American International (73-55) and Northeastern (68-62). They have four starters on double figures.

Center Glen Bolduc led the scoring with a 14.7 average, while forward John Machiaverna is next at 14.6. Guards Rich Conrad at 13.2 and Richard Scialabba at 12.5 round out those in double figures.

"They are a very good defensive team," Quinn said. "They run a patterned offense, and are a typical Eastern ball club. They have good ballhandlers and go well one-on-one."

"I think we can match them on the boards, but they are a little heavier than we are. I don't think they have played the same caliber of competition that we have, but they are a good team. Year-after-year, they are ranked among the top defensive teams in the country," Quinn added. In fact, over the past five years, the Knights have allowed only 62.47 points per game, second best in the country since then.

Oddly enough, the top-ranked team, Army, 61.2, is where Knight Coach Al LoBalbo, worked as an assistant prior to taking over at Fairleigh-Dickinson.

A victory over the Knights would give the Bucs a good start toward their long road trip. "We've had three days to prepare for them, and that's good," Quinn said. "What worries me more is that we have only one day to get ready for The Citadel."

The Bulldogs have been led so far by freshman Rodney McKeever, a hometown hotshot, who helped to guide the Bulldogs to two victories in their first three starts, including a surprisingly easy romp over William & Mary last Saturday.

And Charleston hasn't been a good place to visit for the Pirates. They haven't won down there their last three trips, although it's been close each time. "Maybe it's our turn this year," Quinn said.

The coach doesn't feel that he can anticipate the Bucs shooting like they did against Davidson (70 plus percent) but he does feel that the Bucs will be improving their offensive game right along. "They overplayed us our front and it allowed us to get the easy baskets," he said of the Davidson game. "It was a tremendous victory for us, but there are still a number of areas for us to improve. We can't let the victory overshadow our mistakes. We want more scoring from our number four position and our point guard."

Quinn feels that naturally, the Bucs won't be up as high for Fairleigh-Dickinson as they were for Davidson. "But they should be up for The Citadel because it's a conference game."

With a win, the Bucs can be assured of holding at least a share of first place through the first week of January since they play no more league games until the ninth of that month.

Tipoff time is 8 p.m. in Minges. No junior varsity game is planned.

Panthers Dump Williamston

BETHEL—North Pitt rolled to a 73-49 win over Williamston last night but the Big Orange Machine was almost stopped by the Lady Tigers as the Panthers slipped to a 53-52 win.

North Pitt took the J. V. game also to complete the sweep.

Both girls teams were tied 10-10 at the end of the first period and the Pant-HERS went cold in the second as Williamston zoomed out to a 30-19 lead. North Pitt cut the gap by four with a 12-8 third quarter and out-shot Williamston, 22-14, in the last period getting the win on a free throw by Joy James that came with four seconds on the clock.

The Pant-HERS were led by James with 18 and Wanda Whichard with 11. Sissy Taylor had 28 for Williamston.

The Panther boys slipped out to a 13-7 lead in the first period of the third game of the night and never were pushed by the Tigers. North Pitt added ten points to their lead in the second period as they outshop Williamston, 18-8 for a 31-15 halftime margin.

Williamston hacked off four points in the fourth period to run away with the win.

Joe Purvis led the Tigers with 18 and Bell had 13. David Brown and William Johnson each had 14 for the Panthers. Charlie Lewis scored 12, Donnie Perkins 11 and Vincent Barnhill 10.

Ayden-Grifton Girls Hope To Challenge North Pitt's Lead

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
LITTLEFIELD—Last year, Ayden-Grifton's Chargettes offered the biggest challenge to the unbeaten string of the North Pitt Pant-HERS.

And this year, although the Big Orange Machine has already claimed one victory over the Chargettes, Ayden-Grifton might again be the best of their opposition within the Eastern Carolina Conference.

Coach Debra Pfeil has one starter and one part-time starter back from last year, along with three other lettermen, giving only limited experience to the team. The lone returning starter is Decia Little, while Connie Carter saw part-time duty.

Other returning lettermen include Debra Barfield, Emily Herring and Teresa Thaxton. "We're not that experienced," Miss Pfeil said, "but we do have some seniors who didn't come out last year. They bring a certain amount of maturity. If we can get them to pick up early, we should be in fairly good shape." The team's height is about as it was last year, fair to good. Barfield is around 5-9 as are a pair of twins, Lynne and Sue Haseley. "We have been hurt a little in rebounding," the coach said. "But I think that's because we really haven't been going to the boards like we should. We've held our own, even against North Pitt, who is taller, but we should be doing better."

The shooting of the team is also "fairly good," according to Miss Pfeil. "We're scoring about like we did last year, except for our Conley game, where they played very slowly. Decia should score well for us, along with Audrey McCarter and Kelly Reeves. It's really been pretty well balanced so far."

Offensively, the Chargettes vary their style according to the defense against them. "If they play two up front, we go with a point guard; if they play one up front, we go with two in the backcourt," the coach said.

On defense, they usually go with a 2-1-2 zone, but can play girl-to-girl if they wish. "We can also press when we need to," Miss Pfeil added.

Currently, the Ayden-Grifton starters include Barfield at center, Little and Reeves at forward, and Carter and McCarter at the guards. Thaxton is the top reserve, and sees a lot of playing time.

"Our depth is young and experienced," Miss Pfeil said. "Right now we're working with five, six or seven people in most games. I do put Herring at forward, and Sue Haseley and Tena Smith are coming along quickly."

The key, however, may be how quickly the depth does come along. "If we stay strong and cut down our mistakes, I think we can challenge North Pitt. We had 31 turnovers against them the first time and that killed us. We do have good quickness and our rebounding will come."

North Pitt, of course, is the favorite in the league, Miss Pfeil admits. "But we're stronger than I expected. I thought the league overall would be improved, but so far it hasn't looked that way. Right now I'd have to say we are right behind North Pitt. Aycock might come up, along with Eastern Wayne and Southern Wayne, but I still think we have the best shot at North Pitt."

Elm City Rips Robersonville

ROBERSONVILLE—Elm City and Robersonville split a pair of basketball games last night. Elm City captured the boys' game, 72-44, while the Eaglettes slipped past Elm City's girls, 38-34.

Elm City also won the junior varsity contest, 58-46.

Robersonville's girls doubled the score on Elm City in the first period of their game, scoring 12 to their guests' six. Elm City made a slight comeback in the second frame, 8-5, but still trailed, 17-14 at the half.

Elm City matched baskets with Robersonville in the third period, and did end up with a 13-12 advantage at the horn, and trimmed the lead to 29-27. Robersonville held off any further rally with a 9-7 final period to hold on for the win.

Elaine Forrest led Robersonville with 17 points, while Gail Hyman had 11 for Elm City.

It was an entirely different story in the boys' game, as Elm City cracked the game open in the second period, then sealed it in the final frame.

Robersonville grabbed the early lead, working up a 10-6 lead after one period of play. But Elm City came back to burn in 24 points while Robersonville got 14 in the second quarter. That put Elm City into a 30-24 lead at the half.

In the third period, Elm City continued to pull away, hitting 17 while the Eagles got 12. That upped the lead to 47-36. Elm City then streaked home with a 25-8 advantage in the final period to win going away.

Mike Cherry led Elm City with 25 points, while Tony Edwards had 21, Charles Virgil had 12 and Anthony Farmer had 10. For Robersonville, Ernest Crandall had 18.

The Eagles travel to Lucama on Friday.

Jamesville In Win Over Bears

JAMESVILLE—The Jamesville Bullets rolled to a 75-52 victory over neighboring Bear Grass last night, while the Jamesville girls were getting their first victory of the year, 39-36 over the Lady Bears.

The Jamesville junior varsity also won, 70-50, for a clean sweep by the Bullets.

The Jamesville girls found themselves in the hole in the first period as Bear Grass ran out to a 10-4 lead. Jamesville rallied in the second frame with a 10-7 margin, but still was behind 17-14 at halftime.

The Lady Bullets continued their rally through the third period, outpitting the Bears, 14-10. That inched them into a 28-27 lead as the last period got underway. Jamesville protected its slim lead with an 11-9 advantage in the last period to claim the win.

Donna Williams led Jamesville with 16 points, while Janet Holiday paced Bear Grass with 11.

The Jamesville boys left nothing to chance in their game, running up a 23-10 lead in the first period. The Bears tried to rally in the second quarter, gunning in 17 points while Jamesville got 14 but the Bullets still held a 37-27 lead at intermission.

The Bullets shot away again, 20-13, in the third quarter, running their lead out to 57-40 as the last frame began. Jamesville outhit the Bears, 18-12, in that one to wrap it up.

Horace Hall rang through 14 field goals and added four from the line for a game high of 32 points for the Bullets. Gurkin Martin added 16 and Alvin Grimes had 12. Fro the Bears, Hilton Armstrong put through 12 field goals for 24 points. Alan Crawford added 17.

The Bears entertain Mat-tamuskeet on Friday, while Jamesville is host to Belhaven.

Chargers Take Victory From Jaguars

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer
LITTLEFIELD—Ayden-Griffon took a trio of wins last night from Farmville Central, running away with two and barely getting out with the third.

The A-G boys' teams won easily as the J.V.'s took their game by six, 45-39, while the Charger Varsity rolled to a 59-43 win.

The Charger girls had quite a bit of trouble on the other hand from the Lady Jaguars as they were only a one point winner, 51-50. The Lady Jags were leading in the game until the last two minutes when the A-G girls slipped ahead with 1:05 left, 51-49. Farmville Central had the ball with four seconds to play but could not get the winning basket.

The last game of the night was soon turned into a boring exhibition of poor ball handling. A pair of baskets, one each by Jessie Brown and Travis Woods, opened the game for the Chargers giving them a 4-0 lead. Farmville Central got a basket from Mike Corbett to trim it to 4-2 but that was the closest the Jaguars ever got.

Brown, Woods and Milton Brown scored for A-G to run it up to 10-12 and after Farmville Central scored again, the Chargers added two more baskets to their total to get their largest lead yet, 14-4. Walter Gorham and Robert Dixon hit for the Jags as the first quarter ended, 14-8.

It seemed they decided to let the second quarter to be a battle to see which team could shoot the most. Both teams would get off four or five shots without any of them falling through the hoop. A-G did coax five attempts to go in while Farmville Central scored six points and at the half, the score stood, 24-14.

In the third period, the Chargers began to hit with considerably more consistency and rolled up 20 points with Woods leading the way dumping in eight in the frame. With 6:24 to go, A-G led 28-14. Baskets by Milton Brown and Woods ran it out to 32-14 before the Jaguars even broke the ice.

Danny Garris, Jessie Brown and Melvin Stewart scored for the Chargers to increase the lead to 38-16 and Woods' jumper from outside made it 40-16.

The Jaguars outscored the Chargers 22-15 in the last period when the Chargers cleared their bench. The late surge did little to affect the outcome which had been apparent.

Woods led all scorers with 18, Milton Brown had 14 and Jessie Brown had 10. Gorham scored 10 for Farmville Central.

The game of the night, however, turned out to be the girls' game. At one point, Farmville Central was down by 10, 29-19, only to battle back to take the lead near the middle of the third quarter.

The Lady Chargers got off six quick points before FC had scored. Connie Carter got the first as the game opened and her basket was followed by shots from the lane by Audrey McCarter and Debra Barfield.

Darlene Joyner scored on a hook shot to put the Lady Jaguars on the scoreboard and Sheri Von Schrittz sank a pair of free shots cutting the gap to 6-4. A jumper from the baseline by Julia Moye tied it at 6-all.

Lynn Haseley's free throw gave the lead back to A-G but only for a few seconds. It went right back to Farmville Central on a drive by Kathy Suggs, 8-7. Barfield knotted it at 8-8 with a charity shot but one by Sandra Stoddard put the Lady Jags in front at the end of the period by 9-8.

MISSED BY SIX
NEW YORK (AP)—In June, Manager Yogi Berra of the New York Mets said 88 victories could win the National League East division. He missed by six games. His Mets won the division with 82 victories and 79 defeats, finishing one and a half games ahead of St. Louis and two and a half games ahead of Pittsburgh.

Since the turn of the century only one other National League team has won a pennant with fewer than 90 victories. The Los Angeles Dodgers won in 1959 with 88 wins.

Decia Little opened the second quarter with a score for the Lady Chargers but it was matched by a bucket by Miss Moye, 11-10. Stoddard added another free shot making it 12-0. Kelly Reeves got a free shot for A-G but it only prefaced the three point lead the Lady Jags got on Miss Moye's outside swish, 14-11. Carter cut the gap to 14-13 scoring from under the basket and Miss McCarter tied it with a foul shot.

The lead flopped back and forth until the Lady Chargers finally got it with 1:54 left in the half, 19-18. Farmville Central got only one point in the remainder of the period as A-G dumped in six to take a 27-19 lead into the dressing room.

The lead went to ten as McCarter scored in the first minute of the second half. The Lady Jaguars turned things around and a basket by Joyner and two by Moye narrowed the margin to 29-25. McCarter put it back up to six at, 31-25 but Farmville Central continued to stay hot and baskets by Moye from the corner, Joyner from underneath and Von Schrittz outside tied it 31-31 with 5:03 to go in the period.

Moye blew one in on a drive boosting the Lady Jaguars in front. Little tied it with a basket from the A-G corner, 33-33 but that just started the lead changing hands again. Suggs made a free throw to put Farmville on top, 38-37 and added a basket to make the margin three, 40-37, going into the finale it was 41-37. Joyner scored from the lane giving the Lady Jaguars a six-point lead and Moye made it seven on a free throw. But after a pair of points went up for both sides, A-G put in seven straight to tie it again, 46-46. Barfield was fouled by Von Schrittz and one of the free throws went in to give the Lady Chargers a 47-46 edge with 2:23 left.

Reeves added a basket 13 seconds later making it 49-46. Beith Turnage scored a three-point play for Farmville Central and that tied it still another time, 49-49. Suggs missed a free shot that would have put FC in front and the Lady Chargers took the rebound down court putting it in for the score that gave them the win. McCarter drew their third foul with :22 left but Moye made only one of the two shots she attempted and time ran out before the Lady Jaguars could get off another shot.

A slight mix-up occurred on the last pair of free shots. Suggs should have been the player to go to the line as the foul was called away from the ballhandler, who happened to be Moye. There might have been a different outcome if Suggs had gone to the line instead. Moye led hustling Farmville Central girls with 22 points. Joyner added nine. McCarter scored 14 for A-G, Barfield had 12 and Little put through 11.

Extra care in engineering...it makes a big difference in small cars.

Where's the only place in town to find a small car that...

1. ...is priced less than Volkswagen's most popular model.

You'll be surprised how little it costs to own one of our small cars. The suggested retail price is less* than Volkswagen's most popular model, believe it or not.

2. ...can go farther on a gallon of gas than Nova.

Recently published test results by Popular Science show our "Slant Six" engine can go farther on a gallon of gas than Nova, and you get a "Slant Six" engine standard in all our small cars, which means you can get more miles per gallon than comparable size small cars like Maverick, Comet, Ventura and Apollo.**

3. ...has more trunk space than 3 Pintos.

Plymouth Duster and Dodge Dart Sport have the largest luggage capacity by far in the small car field. More than Nova and Maverick, twice as much as Vega and more than three times as much as Pinto.

4. ...has up to 20" more total hiproom than a Maverick.

Dart Sport and Duster seat 5 comfortably. And they have more hiproom—front and rear—than Nova, Hornet and, of course, Mustang II, Gremlin, Vega and Pinto.

5. ...can save you as much as $62 in ignition maintenance alone.

Electronic Ignition is standard on all our small cars. In recommended ignition maintenance alone, you can save up to $62 every 24,000 miles over competitive 6-cylinder engines and up to $27 over competitive 4-cylinder engines.†

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

What's going on at East Carolina? That's what a lot of people are beginning to ask. It's been over a week since Sonny Randle decamped for his alma mater, Virginia, and the Bucs are still without a leader. Not that there haven't been quite a few people around who have expressed a willingness to pick up the reigns dropped by Randle. They've come from all over the Southeastern part of the country, and according to Athletic Director Clarence Stasavich, inquiries are still pouring in day by day. Originally, the job was offered to Randle's top assistant, Carl Reese, and it was expected that he would jump at the job. But he didn't, shocking about everyone in Greenville and Eastern North Carolina by turning it down to accompany Randle to Virginia where he's said to be making more as an assistant than he would be as ECU's head coach. That means there's still a long way for the Bucs to go to move from the Southern to the ACC of lowly Virginia has that kind of money. So Wednesday morning, a week ago, Chancellor Leo Jenkins appointed a committee of seven people, representing all walks of university and community life, to come up with two recommendations for him to choose from. According to him, he'll get the faculty athletic committee's approval of the first choice of the committee, then contact that man to offer him the job. There will be a little more talking to iron out the last details, then that candidate will accept or reject the job. If he rejects it, the second choice will be given a chance. Since Wednesday, a total of 10 people are believed to have been interviewed through Monday. They include one ECU assistant, the only one left from Randle's staff, Henry Trevathan; and two other men who once served as assistants here, Louisville assistant John Matlock, and Guilford head coach Henry Vansant. Others believed to have been talked to include Carolina assistant Bobby Collins, Jim Donnan of Florida State, Ed Emory of Clemson, an ECU alumnus; Brian Burke of N. C. State; Pat Dye of Alabama, Bernie Miller of the Houston Oilers, and Elon head coach Red Wilson. And everyone in town has heard rumors giving different ones of these the edge in the picking. Tuesday, the committee apparently did not meet. They broke up early on Monday after Stasavich left town for a speaking engagement. Today, Stasavich and ECU faculty athletic chairman Cliff Moore, another member of the committee, leave for Greenville, S. C., to attend the Southern Conference meeting. They won't be back until Friday night. So where does this leave us? As things stand now, nothing can be done until they return—Saturday morning at the earliest. And by the time all the other activities necessary for the hiring of a new coach are completed, it will be into next week, Tuesday or Wednesday possibly, if the committee acts quickly. There are, it seems, three possible answers to why nothing was done yesterday. One is that they are dragging their feet. It seems this was a good time to get something done before a three-

Conley Vikings Post Sixth Win In A Row As North Lenoir Falls

HOLLYWOOD—D. H. Greene Central, who meet Conley's Vikings knocked off one Monday in a make-up game of the unbeaten in the Eastern unbeaten in the league. Carolina Conference last night. The Conley girls didn't fare as well, bowing to North Lenoir, 33-24. That leaves only the Vikings and 14, while the Conley junior day layoff. Another possibility is that there is a deadlock among the committee. They cannot agree on a first and second choice. With seven people working together from different walks of life, disagreement is practically certain, and it may be too wide spread. A few days away might clear this up, but again it might not. Then, finally, and we hope this in what the true case is, we hope they have acted sub-rosa. But we cannot say that it has been done. Perhaps, in the fear that a rejection might, just might, come from that first choice, making two in a row, the committee may have already secretly acted, sending Jenkins his two names. Perhaps the machinery is already turning, and a coach will be named before the seek is out. One thing is for sure, there are only seven people, eight, if you count Dr. Jenkins, who know for sure. Recruiting time, despite all claims to the contrary, is moving by—both for the candidates for the job, and for East Carolina itself. Haste may indeed make waste, but in this game, the tortoise never wins.

varsity gained a 62-50 win. In the girls' game, both North Lenoir and Conley matched baskets as they tossed in six points each. It stayed close through the second quarter, with North Lenoir gaining a slim 5-4 edge to take an 11-10 lead at the horn. The third period saw North Lenoir streak away, however, and put the game away. They gave up only four points while pushing through 16 of their own to run up a 27-14 lead. In the final period, they scored just six more, but they held Conley scoreless to wrap up the win. In the boys' contest, Conley jumped into an early lead, then had to hold off an attempt by North Lenoir to get back into the game. North Lenoir actually outthit the Vikings from the floor, 44-42, but Conley rolled up 16 points at the foul line as compared to only five for North Lenoir to make the difference. The Vikes rushed to a 10-point edge in the first period, 19-9, then slowed down in the second. They held only a 13-11 advantage going to intermission for a 32-20 lead. In the second half, North Lenoir outthit them, although not by much. The Hawks held a 12-10 advantage in the third period, but still were back 42-32. North Lenoir outthit them, 17-16 in the last frame, but it did no good.

Rams Topple Eastern Wayne; Stays Unbeaten

NEW HOPE—Greene Central retained a share of the lead in the Eastern Carolina Conference last night with a 68-55 victory over Eastern Wayne. The Eastern Wayne girls won their contest, 58-33, while the Baby Rams took a 42-32 win in the junior varsity.

Greene Central's boys are now 5-0 overall and 4-0 within the league.

In the girls' contest, Eastern Wayne inched out into a 11-7 lead in the first period. They slowly increased their lead in the second frame and led 21-15 at halftime by virtue of a 10-8 second quarter advantage.

They made their real move in the second half. The Lady Warriors outthrew Greene Central, 18-12, in the third period to up their lead to 39-27. Eastern then finished off the Ewes with a 19-6 final period.

Pat Smith led Eastern with 22 points, while Delilah Pridden had 15 and Teresa Whitley had 11 for Greene.

In the boys' game, the Rams shot away to a 19-10 lead in the first period. They slowed their pace in the second frame, still allowing 10 but getting only 14. That left Greene Central in 33-20 halftime lead.

The Rams continued to pull away in the third quarter, 20-16, to run their margin to 53-36. Eastern made a slight comeback

OAK CITY—Oak City High School rolled to an 84-68 victory over W. S. Creasy High School last night. The Creasy girls got some revenge with a 43-33 win over the Trojanettes.

Oak City also came away with the junior varsity win, 46-34.

Both Creasy and Oak City tossed in 18 points in the first period of the boys' game as neither team could pull ahead. But in the second, Oak City began to inch away, outthitting Creasy, 19-14. That put the Trojans into a 37-32 edge at the horn.

The Trojans continued to gradually pull away in the third frame, as they outscored their guests, 25-20, to work up a 62-52 lead. They finished off Creasy with a 22-16 final period.

Donnie Carr led Oak City with 22 points, while Billy Ross had 18, Ronald Duggins had 17 and Herman Whitaker had 12. For Creasy, Whitaker had 18, Ray had 17 and Price had 14.

In the girls' game, Oak City pushed out into a 12-8 lead in the first period, and held on to hold the halftime advantage too. They outthit Creasy, 9-6, in the second period and led 21-14 at halftime.

But in the third period, Creasy began to fight back. They outshot the Trojanettes, 14-10, and cut the lead to 31-28. Then, they poured in 15 more points in the final period while holding Oak City to just two, and that was

William & Mary Gets Win Over Richmond

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Neither William and Mary Coach Ed Ashnault nor Richmond Coach Lewis Mills thought his team could lose the Southern Conference basketball meeting between the two teams—but only Ashnault was right.

Freshman Ron Satterthwaite dropped in a pair of free throws with six seconds left in overtime Tuesday night that gave Ashnault's Indians a 73-71 decision over Mills' Spiders and sole occupancy of fifth place in the league standings.

"I didn't think we could lose. I really didn't," said Ashnault. Mills said, "In my mind we had it won just before the half."

Patricia Maitt led Creasy with 20 points, while Debra Jacobs had 12. Diane Duggins led Oak City with 15 points. Oak City goes to Williamston on Friday.

We were up by eight (with 35 seconds left). But then they scored the last seven points of the first half and the first three of the second."

But Satterthwaite never would have had his chance to be a hero had it not been for sophomore Mike Arizin, who hit 12 of 21 shots from the floor and 11 consecutive foul shots for a career-high 35 points.

"He had a super basketball game," said Ashnault, to which Mills added that "Arizin is the type of player that, if he gets it going, can really hurt you. And he got it going."

From that eight-point deficit, the Indians surged to an eight-point lead with 8:47 left, then missed the front end of three one-and-one situations that let the Spiders get back in contention. Mike Safford's jumper with 1:30 left sent it into overtime.

Richmond twice went two points up in the extra period before Arizin tied it with 1:37 left and set the stage for Satterthwaite.

"We had our chances," Mills said. "Twice we had the chance to go four up in the overtime and didn't. Basketball's a funny game. We played 45 minutes and it came down to two foul shots."

Sponge-Diver Running Into Hard Times

By PHILIP DOPOULOS
Associated Press Writer
ATHENS (AP) — Plastics, politics and progress are putting a three-way squeeze on Kalymnos, the Dodecanese island of sponges.

And many natives of Kalymnos stress that modern amenities and the "good life" are also playing a major role in an end to the island's 200-year-old tradition of sponge diving.

They point to the fact that 15 years ago some 1,600 men — divers and boat crews — would set off from the island in late spring for the five-month fishing season. Last year only 500 went. This year 300 are out and their catches are expected to provide no more than bare subsistence for the crews.

The problems facing the sponge industry, and the Kalymniots in particular, are many and the hard-line attitude of the Libyan government is also creating difficulties.

Fourteen Greek sponge fishing boats were stopped by Libyan patrol boats off the Libyan coast recently and fined in yet another dispute over territorial waters. The captains of the boats contended they were 30 miles at sea at the time and clearly in international waters. Their arrest has had serious repercussions on the Kalymnos sponge fleets.

Main causes for the decline in sponge fishing are given as the hardness of the life and the increasing sophistication of artificial sponges.

Before World War II, Kalymnos divers would simply plunge into the sea off the Libyan coast without suits or helmets, carrying a large disc which dragged them to the bottom. After rapidly stuffing a few sponges into net bags, they would be pulled back to the surface by ropes attached to their waists. Many men died of bends, the dreaded diver's disease caused by nitrogen bubbles in the blood, or were permanently crippled.

Today, rubber suits and compressed air units are used, boat crews are familiar with decompression needs and processes, and few accidents occur. But the life remains hard and hazardous with a top diver unlikely to earn more than $4,000 for a full season's work.

With full employment ashore in Greece these days and the Merchant Marine hungry for seamen, more and more young men of Kalymnos are moving out of the sponge industry and away from their island.

The effects are beginning to be felt worldwide, since to a large extent the international trade in sponges, as well as the actual sponge diving, is in Kalymniot hands. An estimated 15,000 natives of Kalymnos are now living in communities around the world, many of them dealing in the sponges harvested by Kalymnos divers which are trimmed, dried and processed by the women, children and old men of the island.

Cones Are Big Decorative Item

NEW YORK (UPI) — What kinds of plant materials do you need to make Christmas decorations? Cones are one big item. For a tailored wreath, you'll need cones that are as uniform in size and shape as possible.

If you're going to make a free-form wreath, collect as many different sizes of cones as possible. Cones are attractive either right side up, sideways or upside down.

Airline Cutting Work Force

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Eastern Air Lines says it will lay off 19 members of its work force of 1,200 in Charlotte next month because of the fuel shortage. Eastern also says it will discontinue on Dec. 23 four air freighters serving Charlotte. Fifteen ramp service men and four air freight agents will be laid off.

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Prof. Lawrence M. Friedman of the Stanford Law School says available evidence suggests the "law and order" problem stems from lower public tolerance of violence, not from an increase in the actual rate of murder, robbery and assault per 1,000 people.

Textbooks Replaced By Newspaper

By BOB FICK
Associated Press Writer
GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP) — An educational experiment abandoning the standard classroom textbook for a daily newspaper has had "unbelievable" results, says the principal at Emerson Elementary School.

"It's just never happened before. We're in a school where we largely teach in a remedial situation; a high percentage of our kids come from culturally deprived backgrounds," Al Wilson says.

"Never before have we achieved an average of a year's growth in one school year," Wilson notes as he displays the scores his 350 pupils made on a nationally standardized test of how much they learned over a past school year.

The veteran educator and his teachers attribute the results to the use of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat to teach all subjects from kindergarten to sixth grade. It's the first school in the country to rely primarily on a daily newspaper for all classroom work, according to the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

In the program, a newspaper story about a new labor contract becomes the subject of a problem in mathematics; datelines on various stories present a geography lesson; a natural disaster or a space flight becomes a science lesson; and editorial cartoons, pictures and advertisements supply the youngsters with essay topics.

Standard textbooks are kept on the shelves but are used only for reference. In nearly every category covered in Science Research Associates tests, Wilson said that the average score for each class from kindergarten through the sixth grade shows a progression of a full year "and in some cases as much as a year and a half."

But Wilson and his teachers think the pupils at Emerson have learned even more than last spring's testing indicates. "The tests won't reflect the broad knowledge of current things the kids are picking up," Jack Farrow, a fourth-grade teacher, said.

He says that after reading the newspaper every day for a year, children at Emerson know a lot about current events and situations around the world and often have formed their own opinions about them.

"The test doesn't even know about these things," Farrow explains. "It was compiled four years before any of them happened."

"Some of these kids are street kids and came in knowing nothing more than the block they live on. But by the end of last year, they were voicing theories and opinions about broader things."

First Contributor To Stadium Drive

THE INITIAL CONTRIBUTOR. . . to the new fund-raising effort to enlarge Ficklen Stadium at ECU was A. B. Whitley Jr. (right). His check, amount undisclosed, was presented to Dr. Leo W. Jenkins (left), the University Chancellor.

Greenville businessman, A. B. Whitley Jr., has become an initial contributor to a fund-raising effort to enlarge Ficklen Stadium at East Carolina University, Chancellor Leo Jenkins announced today.

"We are gratified and greatly encouraged to have received a substantial contribution from Mr. Whitley," Jenkins said. "Mr. Whitley has been a staunch supporter and benefactor of East Carolina University over the years and his gift will certainly boost the University's long-range plan to build a better athletic program."

Jenkins disclosed last week that a survey is being made to determine support in eastern North Carolina for enlarging Ficklen Stadium to a seating capacity of approximately 35,000. Ficklen's present capacity is about 20,000. Whitley told Chancellor Jenkins that he feels that enlarging the stadium would be similar to the building of better roads and airports. "All these contribute to the growth and betterment of North Carolina," he said.

Whitley added that he is making the gift, the amount of which was not disclosed, in appreciation of Jenkins' leadership efforts toward building a better and stronger university and enriching the state and region.

Whitley is president of A. B. Whitley Inc., a painting and interior decorating firm headquartered in Greenville.

Seeking Farm Fuels Priority

DURHAM (AP) — The North Carolina Farm Bureau has asked that farmers be given high priority to obtain fuel.

Resolutions to this effect were passed at the 38th annual convention Tuesday.

A speaker, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., promised to work for adequate fuel supplies for farmers. "Agriculture is our one last weapon against tyranny," he said.

Another speaker, Gov. Jim Holshouser, said the American farmer is "the world's greatest producer, mainly due to hard work and self-reliance."

A resolution for free lunches for public school children was passed. But one advocating workmen's compensation for farm workers was defeated 119-115.

B. C. Mangrum of Durham was elected to his 16th term as president of the federation. The three vice presidents also were reelected. They are Frank Bryant of Yadkin County, Elmer Burt of Wake County and Marshall Grant of Northampton County.

Mangum, Bryant and Grant were among six delegates elected to attend the national convention in New Jersey next month. The others are Clyde Wayne of Columbus County, S. E. Johnson of Buncombe County and Mrs. Vivian Whitfield of Pender County.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Graham of Davidson County won the Young Farmer and Rancher Family of the Year Award. They have a 1,777-acre farm with a 300-cow dairy operation and beef cattle. The farm produces all its own feed. Graham, a 29-year-old graduate of North Carolina State University, said this cuts feed costs in half.

The second largest state in India is Rajasthan, formed in 1948 by a merger of former Rajput princely states.

Garden Club Held Program

The Merry Tillers Garden Club, of Welcome Wagon, held its December meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Richard Hunsucker. Mrs. William Carter Smith served as co-hostess for the meeting, which began with a covered-dish luncheon.

The program was a flower show featuring live holiday arrangements created by club members. Mrs. Earl Bruton, president of the Brook Valley Garden Club, served as judge. Mrs. John McConney's arrangement of a madonna surrounded by greenery captured first prize. Mrs. G. Martin Lassiter's mass arrangement of holly and spruce placed second and Mrs. David Martin's "Ikebana" arrangement of holly received third prize.

Opening lead: King of ♣ Players continually gripe to me about the bad cards they hold. On today's hand, West might have legitimate cause for complaint that his hand was too good!

The auction graphically illustrates the power of the spade suit. North's jump raise of his partner's suit over an opposing takeout double does not denote strength. Its purpose is preemptive, and it shows a distributional hand containing excellent trump support but not too many high cards. The fact that North-South owned the master suit kept East out of the bidding, for he would have had to enter the auction vulnerable at the four level. West might have forced partner to bid with a call of four no trump at his second turn, but that entailed a considerable amount of risk on a hand with good defensive prospects. Note that, as the cards lie, East-West can make 11 tricks in either clubs or hearts.

West led the king of clubs and continued with the ace. Declarer ruffed and drew two rounds of trumps, ending in dummy. With the missing high cards pretty well marked by the takeout double, declarer played as if he had seen West's cards. He led a diamond from dummy and covered East's jack with the queen.

In with the king of diamonds, West found he was endplayed. A club return would present declarer with a ruff and sluff, so he was forced to play a red suit. A heart would mean that declarer would have no losers in that suit, so West did the best he could by leading a low diamond. Declarer won the nine, cashed the ace of diamonds and put West back on play with a low diamond to West's ten. This left the defenders with no resource. West had a choice of methods whereby he would help declarer eliminate his heart loser—either a lead into the ace-queen or a ruff and sluff.

The Worry Clinic 'Blackmail' In Book Market

Gordon is furious at the lack of "horse sense" on the part of his large consolidated school. But note the ire of the bookstore manager here in Chicago who is forced to submit to blackmail by professors who "steal" new textbooks and sell them!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE Y-590: Gordon J., aged 42, is the engineer at a large consolidated school.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have 2 men that help clean up the building at night."

"And one of them asked my advice about a large pile of brand new school books that he was supposed to burn."

"The public schools apparently coax or browbeat publishers into sending them free samples of all their new textbooks that might prove suitable for classroom adoption."

"After the teachers then make their choices, they discard all those dozens of other new copies, consigning them to the incinerator.

"But why don't they at least place them in the school library?"

"Why be guilty of wantonly burning scores of those brand new books, whose prices nowadays run from $5 to $15 apiece?"

Wanted: Horse Sense
Imagine how many thousands of new books are thus sent out for examination to all the schools of American and then discarded, instead of being returned!

The day of the "free sample" is now gone, though a generation ago the manufacturers of breakfast cereals and even toothpaste would distribute free samples.

If that process is now too costly in this day of inflation, just consider the drain on book publishers who are browbeaten into sending examination copies of a 5th grade reading book or speller or other classroom text,

This same educational "blackmail" of book publishers has reached racketeering proportions at the college level.

For many professors will order an examination copy of a $10 or $15 textbook, even though it doesn't remotely fit into their courses.

Then, when they accumulate a pile of such costly volumes, they take them down to the local bookstore and demand that the manager buy these books from the professor.

"Dr. Crane," one such manager griped to me, "take a look at this stack of assorted new texts on my counter."

"I was forced to pay a Northwestern University faculty member over $200 for them."

"Otherwise, he would blackmail my bookstore and thus steer his 400 students to the rival shop across the street when it came time for them to buy their college texts for his own courses."

"Around here we have 10 minutes of dead silence after he reads the news!"

Assure Election For Court Seat

RALEIGH (AP)—The first election contest in two decades for a seat on the North Carolina Supreme Court has been assured.

This came about when Superior Court Judge James C. Exum filed his candidacy Monday for a seat on the seven-member high court. He will oppose Judge Earl Vaughn of the Court of Appeals in next spring's Democratic primary.

The contest is the first of many expected for the Supreme Court, which will have three seats open, and for the Appeals Court, which will have several of the nine seats open.

Oil Companies Make Red Tape
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sen. Bill Brock, R-Tenn., has accused three major oil companies of creating unnecessary red tape for homeowners using heating oil.
Brock, here to address the Tennessee Farm Bureau Federation, said he had heard of cases in which the three companies — Gulf, Texaco and Exxon — required homeowners to fill out lengthy forms.
"The small homeowners are supposed to go directly to a dealer, state their need and the dealer is supposed to get them what they require," Brock said. "That's supposed to be done with no form, no red tape."

Must Check Swine Sold As Breeders

A new ruling by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, effective Dec. 1, requires that all swine sold or offered for sale for breeding purposes originate from a validated brucellosis-free herd.

According to Steve C. Riddick, assistant agricultural extension agent in Pitt County, one negative blood test for brucellosis of all breeding swine six months of age and over must be passed in order to be valid. "This herd must be kept apart from non-validated herds and all additions to the herd must be from another validated herd."

"This new requirement also includes any commercial producer who might want to sell gilts in the future," Riddick said.

With the new requirement, it is not necessary to test breeding swine sold at livestock markets since only swine from validated herds will be eligible for sale for breeding purposes.

"These animals, along with all other animals not going directly to slaughter, must still be inspected on the farm of origin by an approved livestock inspector before going to market," Riddick said. "Animals destined for breeding purposes must be identified on the farm and the validation number of the herd listed."

Riddick said it is important to notify the livestock inspector several days in advance if a permit is needed. "With the gasoline shortage, it is even more important so that the inspector can schedule several inspections on the same trip to a particular area in the county."

Quick Death For Most Sea Life

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most sea life undergoes quick death, and if that were not the case there would be scarcely room for swimming.

The shad, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, is recycled to lay from 30,000 to 100,000 eggs per year and an individual oyster can produce 55 million to 114 million eggs during its lifetime.

The Atlantic cod is said to lay as many as 9 million eggs annually and the American eel from 5 million to 20 million every year.

Texas Continues A Top Producer

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Texas leads the nation in annual production of beef, cattle, sheep, goats, grain sorghum, cotton, rice, onions and wool and ranks third among the 50 states in total farm and ranch output, according to state officials.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced the production records in a recent proclamation declaring "Food and Fiber Appreciation Month" in the state.
