

Experts Say Erasure On Tape Was No 'Accident'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Technical experts have eliminated the theory that a single, accidental act caused the 18.5-minute gap in a subpoenaed Watergate tape.

But, at a federal court hearing Tuesday, the experts were prevented by objections from White House lawyers from speculating whether there was any way the tape could have been erased accidentally.

Two Secret Service agents were expected to testify today and who had access to the tape recorder that the experts said produced the buzz heard on the obliterated segment of the tape.

It was the recorder Rose Mary Woods, President Nixon's personal secretary, said she was using last Oct. 1, when she accidentally pushed the record button after being interrupted while trying to transcribe the tape of a June 20, 1972, conversation between the President and H.R. Haldeman. Haldeman's notes indicated that the obliterated segment included all discussion of the Watergate break-in, which had occurred three days earlier.

The six-member panel of experts, chosen jointly by the White House and the special Watergate prosecutor's office, agreed unanimously that the tape showed that the record button had been pushed not once, but, at least five, and possibly as many as nine times. "Further," they said "whether the footpedal was used or not, the recording controls must have been operating by hand...."

But, one of the six testified, "We have no idea when it occurred or who was responsible."

Both Republican and Democratic members of Congress said the new development had seriously damaged the President. And, in Los Angeles, former Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson said the findings "definitely will not help Nixon."

"The theory that there has been a conscious effort to conceal evidence is no longer a theory," said Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, leader of the House Republican Conference.

"The burden has shifted for the President and his White House aides to explain what went on," Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said in Olympia, Wash.

One member of the panel, Richard H. Bolt, former head of the acoustics laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and now board chairman of a private research firm, explained that the Uher 5000 recorder has a record head and an erase head, each of which leaves a distinct mark or signature on the tape.

The record head signature is a single line; the erase head leaves four parallel lines. The signatures are not visible to the eye unless the tape is treated with a solution containing magnetized particles which line up over the lines. Bolt said such signatures are left when the heads are deactivated after the machine has been recording or erasing.

Early April Target Date For Adjourning Assembly

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina's General Assembly met in Raleigh today for its first, and possibly the final, session on an annual basis.

House Speaker Jim Ramsey, D-Person, an outspoken critic of annual sessions, predicted the 1974 meeting would be the last yearly meeting for North Carolina legislators on a regular basis.

"But the proof of the pudding is in the eating, and that'll be in the 1975 session. It will not be an issue in '74," Ramsey said in a news conference just prior to the start of the General Assembly.

Ramsey, who has ruled himself out of any political races this year, said this definitely "will be the last annual session I'll be a part of." Ramsey is considered a likely candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1976.

Ramsey and Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt have set early April as a target date for adjournment of this session. Some legislators say that is not enough time if the General Assembly is to deal adequately with issues such as medical education, taxes, land use and insurance.

Ramsey discounted the fears of a long session, at least for the House.

With 40 new members in 1973, Ramsey said he "got the idea we were like rabbits in a briar patch. We just didn't have the sense of direction...The rabbit has gotten out into the clear now."

The first political primaries are scheduled in May, leaving the legislators the choice of remaining in session until the final days, moving back the date for the primaries, or ignoring it all.

Medical issues alone could be a major factor in the length of this meeting, which actually is a resumption of the 1973 session.

East Carolina University's persistent bid for a four-year medical school, a thorn in the side of at least three legislators already, has pitted the General Assembly against its own creation, the state Board of Governors for higher education.

The governors consistently have vetoed any immediate expansion of ECU's present one-year medical training program. Conversely, a legislative committee, with backing from key leaders, has proposed an immediate expansion of ECU's program to two years, and doubling its class size from 20 to 40 students.

The lawmakers also are likely to face debate on no-fault automobile insurance and other reforms being pushed by state Insurance Commissioner John Ingram.

Controversial legislation is in the hopper concerning land use control in North Carolina's mountain and coastal areas. It has been the subject of public hearings around the state since last year.

One task the legislators cannot avoid is the state budget for the 1974-75 fiscal year that begins July 1. Gov. Jim Holshouser will present on Thursday the recommendations of his Advisory Budget Commission. That will give legislators a starting point.

The legislature should come into this session more prepared. When the lawmakers decided last year to experiment with annual sessions and a one-year budget, they set up standing committees for the first time. These committees have been at work since last spring on continuing legislation.

Edging Nearer Accord

By MARCUS ELIASON Associated Press Writer

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flew back to Egypt today, reporting that differences between the Israelis and Egyptians over plans to separate their armies on the Suez front "have been substantially narrowed."

After talks with Israeli officials that lasted until 4 a.m., Kissinger said the discussions were "making good progress." He said he would return to Israel with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's response to Israel's latest ideas on disengagement plans, and he hoped that on his return "the remaining difficulties will be narrowed even more and can be eliminated."

"The differences which existed have been substantially narrowed, and I hope progress will lead to an agreement which would mark a turning point in the conflict in the Middle East," said Kissinger, hatless despite a chill rain and carrying a trench coat on his arm.

However, Israeli political sources said Kissinger was encountering difficulty over guarantees for Israel's security and ways to inspect a reduction of Egyptian forces and fire power on the east side of the Suez Canal.

The sources said Israel wants an Egyptian pledge to the United States — and possibly to the Soviet Union — to stick to the terms of a disengagement agreement. Sadat so far had refused to give any firm undertaking on any proposed terms of withdrawal, they said.

Israeli officials said earlier these serious obstacles to an agreement remained:

$12,000 Given To New Hospital At Board's Meeting

By CAROL TYER Reflector Staff Writer

North Carolina National Bank last night gave the people of Pitt County $12,000 for use on the new Pitt Memorial Hospital.

The gift was presented at the regular Hospital Board of Trustees meeting to Gifts Committee Chairman Harry Leslie by Greenville NCNB City Executive Curtis Hendrix.

It was also announced that the Pitt County Democratic Women have given $30 to the building fund in memory of Dr. Kathleen Stokes.

Clem Williams, Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor at the hospital, told of his job-to-perform services that will get physically or mentally handicapped people back to work. Any client must have disabilities severe enough to warrant the service, and there must be reason to believe that the person could work again. He told of one DuPont employee, with a salary of $160 a week, who became a stroke victim. With therapy and a brace and some glasses, he was able to go back to work within a few months. When VR spends $1, the taxpayers get back $10, he said latest statistics show.

Hospital Energy Officer Buck Sitterson reported that the hospital now has a 32-day supply of oil, not cut into much because of mild weather which has kept it on gas. "Evidently our electricity conservation measures are working, too," he said, "because our usage in December was the lowest since July, 1972."

Administrator Jack Richardson said a meeting about the hospital's entering the UNC AHEC program was held last week, with the hospital's showing a willingness to do all it can to support the ECU Medical School, including allowing Med School faculty to work in the hospital, allowing residents to work here, allowing voluntary teaching by interested medical staff members, and assuming a role of leadership in a multi-county area that should include Mideast Health Planning Region Q—Pitt, Martin, Beaufort, Bertie, and Hertford Counties. "We haven't signed anything yet, and we've made it clear that we won't be able to really participate much until our new hospital is completed, but that we're perfectly willing to make plans to cooperate. Hospital Board Chairman Ed Warren said.

The Pitt County Ministerial Association has been granted permission to hold Sunday morning services in the hospital lobby for any patients and their families who may attend. This service will begin the first Sunday in February, Richardson said.

Chief of Staff Dr. John Wooten's request that all appointments of staff made last year be renewed was granted.

Ed Warren and Wilton Duke reported on a successful meeting with Service League members, who run the "snack shop" and do many other services for the hospital, including substantial gifts from time to time. The snack shop in the new hospital should be even more well-used and profitable, as it will be located just off the lobby and people going there will not have to be stopped by security guards, Richardson said.

Board member Leroy James was appointed to represent the Trustees on a Regional Rehabilitation Board.

County Commissioner Charles Gaskins, who will attend the meetings regularly from now on, said that the County Attorney is to meet with state legislators about changes in the Trustees' By-laws recommended by a Trustees' committee last spring.

About 50 persons are participating in an 80-hour Pitt Tech-sponsored ambulance and rescue squad attendants course, Trustee Delton Perry reported. As part of the course, some are working in the hospital emergency room on three-hour shifts during the weekends, he said.

Jones Qualifies His Viewpoint Of Impeachment

FARMVILLE—Congressman Walter Jones said today that he would favor the impeachment of President Nixon only if such action were based on an "admission of guilt or positive proof of a violation of a law."

The congressman explained that he qualified his response recently to a poll of Congress conducted by The National Observer by indicating that positive evidence would be required before he would favor impeachment.

The poll listed Jones as among 21 per cent of U. S. Congressmen who favor impeachment or lean toward impeachment. "I qualified my position in the poll by requiring positive proof but that didn't come out in the poll," he noted.

The First District Representative said that he has "found changing sentiment in favor of impeachment," and noted that most of the sentiment relates more to recent questions concerning the president's tax returns than to the controversial Watergate issue.

He added, "I find sentiment (favoring impeachment) in the District that didn't exist before the tax questions came up."

The poll conducted by The National Observer found that 42 per cent of the 377 House

Gasoline Available

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline is generally available across the country but nearly half the stations are closing by 7 p.m. on weekdays, the American Automobile Association reports.

In its first roundup of fuel supplies since last summer, the AAA said 49 per cent of the 2,331 stations it contacted were closing by 7 p.m. weekdays.

The AAA said 2 per cent of the stations it contacted were out of gasoline and 17 per cent were limiting purchases.

It said 81 per cent of the stations reported they were open at 5 p.m. on Saturday but most were closed by 6:30 p.m. Only 15 per cent were open on Sunday.

The most limiting of sales was in Arizona, Florida, New England, New York, New Jersey and Washington, D.C.

The most expensive area to purchase gasoline is New York City and the cheapest is Texas, the AAA said.

Oil Extraction Process Found

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Occidental Petroleum Corp. says it has developed a method for extracting oil from shale that avoids ecological problems and is even cheaper than rival processes.

The company statement was issued Tuesday in response to a query from the New York Stock Exchange after heavy trading in Occidental stock.

The Occidental statement said its process involves heating shale underground to extract oil, thus avoiding the ecological problems created by processes which operate above ground, leaving 95 per cent of it there as residual waste.

Occidental added that its process could be used to extract crude oil from high-grade shale deposits such as those in Colorado at a price of $1.18 per barrel "before amortization of investment," or about 67 cents per barrel cheaper than other processes. Crude oil cost per barrel, using competing techniques, is estimated at $1.85, whereas the world price for crude oil per barrel currently ranges from $10.80 in Indonesia to $15 in the Middle East.

Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and Gulf Oil Co. last week made a joint bid of $210.3 million for the right to develop oil shale deposits in northwestern Colorado.

Before rising oil prices and improved techniques made it appear profitable to extract oil from the rock formations, a 1968 attempt to lease federal lands for shale oil development brought a high bid of only $500,000.

Donald Garrett, head of an Occidental pilot shale oil plant near Grand Junction, Colo., which has been producing 30 barrels of oil a day for the past year, said his company's technique involves a smaller capital investment than surface extraction techniques.

Court Protects Calif. Tenants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court has ruled that landlords have a legal duty to keep their tenants' dwellings "safe, clean and habitable."

The unanimous decision for the first time grants legal protection to California tenants who refuse to pay rent to protest a landlord's failure to maintain adequate repairs.

The court said Tuesday it was abandoning traditional common law rule under which landlords had no repair obligation.

Small Turnout

Pitt Blood chairman Billy Ross reported that the Bloodmobile had a small turnout Tuesday at North Pitt High School as only 36 pints of blood were collected.

Ross said that there were only two persons rejected yesterday as students made up the majority of donors. He added that the collection figure would have been higher if residents living in the North Pitt area had responded.

The chairman had special thanks for Miss Joy James, president of the North Pitt Student Council who headed the blood drive. He also thanked the volunteers who helped during the visit.

Howard L. Hodges Reelected As President Home Savings & Loan

Howard L. Hodges was reelected president of Home Savings and Loan Association for another one-year term Tuesday as the board of directors held its annual session.

Other officers elected for 1974 included: David J. Whichard II, vice president; Kenneth K. Dews, chairman of the board; Herbert W. Lee, executive vice president; J. Larkin Little, secretary; Mary H. Seymour, treasurer; and Carlyle Hall, assistant secretary.

Home Savings shareholders, meeting prior to the board session, elected 16 men to the board of directors. Serving for 1974 will be Kenneth K. Dews of Winterville; F. D. Duncan; Carl Baily Jr. of Plymouth; David A. Evans Sr.; Clifton W. Everett Sr.; Bethel; J. S. Ficklen Jr.; H. L. Hodges;

Billy Laughinghouse; H. W. Lee; W. W. Speight; W. H. Taft Sr.; Dr. Allen Taylor; N. O. VanNortwick Jr.; David J. Whichard II; Julian J. White Jr.; and Charles V. Wilkerson.

In his annual report to shareholders, Lee noted that "1973 was a very good growth year for us. Both our savings accounts and our loan accounts grew substantially more than in 1972.

But, percentagewise, our growth was not as great."

The official explained that assets increased by $3,834,267 during 1973, giving Home Savings total assets of $25,128,063 or a percentage increase of 18 per cent as compared with a 25 per cent gain in 1972.

Savings increased during the year by $3,362,004, Lee reported, resulting in the association's

Police Arrest 3 In Getty Kidnap Probe

ROME (AP) — Police arrested three men today and charged them with the kidnaping of J. Paul Getty III. A fourth man was sought.

One source said the police also recovered a cache of banknotes that probably were part of the $2.7 million ransom paid for the release of the 17-year-old grandson of American oil billionaire J. Paul Getty.

The police said they arrested one man in Rome and two in Calabria, at the southern tip of the Italian peninsula. The three and the man still at large are all natives of Calabria, the police said.

A few more people were arrested during the manhunt when weapons or drugs were found in their possession, but the police said they were not believed to be involved in the Getty case.

The man arrested in Rome was Domenico Barbino, 27, an orderly in the city's Polyclinic Hospital of the Sacred Heart.

Police said those arrested in Calabria were Vincenzo Mammoliti, 43, and Antonio Mancuso, 35. Mammoliti was arrested among the olive groves of the Gioia Tauro plain at dawn, police said. Mancuso was picked up in the village of Cicala.

Believed His True Worth 'Recognized'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Tilmon Rochelle says he believed his employer had finally realized his true worth, but he's in jail charged with grand theft.

Rochelle was earning $359 a month to clean airplanes for World Airways. He felt he was being underpaid and asked for a raise.

He got one last August, hiking his salary to $389.50 a month.

But through a computer error he started receiving $389.50 an hour, and his weekly paychecks rose to more than $5,000.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred Hanelt said the 36-year-old maintenance man received and cashed checks totaling earnings in excess of $15,000 in a three-week period. Rochelle was charged with three counts of grand theft. "Well, I just figured they'd finally realized how much I'm really worth," Rochelle replied when asked why he failed to report the overpayments.

Two Holidays In 35 Schools

Monday and Tuesday will be holidays for students attending the Pitt County Schools.

The two days have been set aside as teacher workdays and were planned to coincide with the end of the first semester of the current school year.

Students will return to school on Wednesday at the usual time.

Reader Replies To Alone's Unhappiness

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: "Alone and Crying's" story was my story. I too loved my first husband until one day he told me he no longer wanted the responsibility of marriage. As it turned out, he wanted the responsibility of another woman.

I also cried and begged and kissed him while he stood there "cold and unfeeling like a statue with his hands in his pockets."

Your advice, "quit begging and prepare to make a new life for yourself because good luck often comes disguised as disaster," was the most precious statement you ever wrote.

A year after my divorce I met the most wonderful man in the world. He is 100 times the man my first husband was. My salvation was getting involved with a good church—Nazarene—and thru its activities came my good luck.

Please print this to let "Alone and Crying" know that it's not the end of the world for her. If I could make it, so can she.

LUCKY IN VANCOUVER

DEAR LUCKY: Here's your letter. I hope it's an inspiration to others who've been dealt a low blow.

DEAR ABBY: A Mr. A. W. Lyons of Prospect, Ky., wrote to say that man is the only animal that practices group sex. He is mistaken. Probably the best known example is the California sea hare.

Sea hares have a complete set of both male and female sex organs, and can assume either role. In laboratory studies, sea hares have been observed copulating in groups; as many as eight have copulated in a complete circle for as long as three days!

So, please pass this on to Mr. Lyons and your readers. We know of at least one other animal besides man that practices group sex. And wouldn't you know it would have to happen in California!

RICHARD JOSSLIN, Ph.D.
San Pedro, Cal.

DEAR Dr. J.: The orgy you cite is no secret. It's recorded in the Natural History of Marine Animals. And by the way, Jane Goodall, who lived for ten years among wild chimpanzees while she studied them, reported that a female chimp named "Flo" had a battalion of suitors standing in line for her favors, and she accommodated them all—one after the other.

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad you told that 17-year-old girl to save herself for marriage. She said she'd heard that most fellows don't care if the girl they marry is a virgin or not.

I am 16, and I have made up my mind that on my wedding night I am going to be able to say to my husband, "Yes, Darling, YOU are the first!"

WAITING IN SEATTLE

DEAR WAITING: Lovely. And someday you may want to say, "And the first shall be the last."

Program Features Attic Articles

Members of the Major Benjamin May Chapter of DAR shared family history items at the January meeting Saturday. Program Chairman Mrs. E. L. Hill of Ayden showed articles from her family collection which dated back to the Civil War. Included were a wooden mallet used for cracking ice, more than a 100 years old, a small chair about 95 years old, a rolling pin which her father made, a newspaper printed in Ayden on Sept. 3, 1897, and a handmade candlestick made before the Civil War.

Dr. Emily Farnham shared two documents dated 1868—one receipt was for two matched horses for her father's surry and the other for a piano. She also showed a copy of an 1839 edition of "The Ladies Guide to Perfect Gentility."

Mrs. Jack Spain shared a teaching contract which her grandmother signed in 1820. The salary for teaching that year was $40 per month.

Quilts were shown by Mrs. Charles Carr, Mrs. Hill, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti, Miss Elizabeth Lang and Mrs. H. A. I. Sugg. Mrs. Carr said her 98 year old quilt had a pattern known as the "Hand of Friendship" in certain locales.

Mrs. Sugg gave the age of her quilt which is a piece quilt made from silk ties, as being approximately 150 years old. She also showed one of six original Dolly Madison handpainted china plates. Mrs. Hill brought a yoyo spread made by three generations, Mrs. Hill, her mother and her daughter.

Adding To The Farm Problems

Most tobacco leaders are skeptical of Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz's decision to increase tobacco quotas by 10 percent, and they have a right to be.

Unfortunately, the decision to increase quotas was preceded by consideration within the Department of Agriculture or suspending flue-cured tobacco controls entirely this year.

This was quickly protested by members of Congress from tobacco producing states, and it is possible that this is all that saved the tobacco program.

The fact that the secretary would even consider suspending a program which has been so successful and is so essential to the farm economy of such a wide area makes us suspicious that he does not have the tobacco producers' interest at heart.

Even the increasing of quotas by ten percent is going to work a hardship on the tobacco grower because the increased supplies are going to mean that the grower may not get a price for his crop which will allow him to meet his cost and show a reasonable profit. The 1973 season showed that the tobacco farmer is being squeezed by sky rocketing costs without a corresponding rise in prices. The cost of growing the 1974 crop is going to be awesome, and every tobacco farmer will be wondering if what he receives in the fall will be enough to cover those costs.

American tobacco has been sold successfully to world markets on the basis of its being a superior leaf which enhances cigarette flavor. We will never be able to compete with some tobacco growing areas of the world strictly on a price basis because labor is comparatively cheap elsewhere.

Therefore U.S. farmers must continue to produce a higher quality tobacco which will demand a higher price. In order to do this, however, production of the leaf must be carefully controlled at the farm level. This apparently is something that is not entirely understood in the Department of Agriculture.

Counties Want Road Money

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH—State road programs took a drubbing from county commissioners across the state at a recent gathering.

Without defining their wishes as to how to do it, the representatives at a legislative goals conference of the N. C. Association of County Commissioners called on the General Assembly to beef up funds available for road work.

The resolution followed a round of comments from county commissioners blasting the allocation program for secondary roads, with the general observation that under the state's plan it will be many years before even existing county roads get pavement.

A Warren County representative estimated that it will be 113 years for his home county, providing the state gets started soon. So far this fiscal year, half gone, not a dollar has been spent, he said.

Some Like It

One commissioner, Jack Swindell of Bath in Beaufort County, said he likes the new system, because his county is getting more road work than ever before and that building roads for political reason is no longer the practice.

"In fact, they used to pave roads that had so little traffic on them you could lay down and go to sleep on them," he said.

While the group did not spell out how they would propose that state money be increased, one member had a specific proposal.

Percy H. Sears of Greensboro in Guilford County proposed a system for a local option levy of a penny on each gallon of gas sold within a county, a one-time tax of $200 on every new dwelling unit occupied in the county and a charge of 25 cents per square foot made to occupants of every commercial or industrial building opened up.

The money, Sears proposed, should be turned over to the state for inclusion in allocation of money for road programs in those counties participating in the program.

"This has the backing of our chamber of commerce and the Homebuilders Association in Greensboro," Sears said. He added that while he has discussed the proposition informally with members of the General Assembly delegation from Guilford, he has not presented the notion officially.

"It's time to get started and stop fiddling around" was the general mood of county commissioners toward road programs in the state.

ECU Med School
The gathering also stamped approval on intensified state efforts to provide additional medical manpower across the state particularly in the rural counties.

As expected, the question of a medical school at East Carolina University in Greenville was at the heart of the debate.

The county representatives endorsed a resolution requesting that the General Assembly explore all possible methods of increasing the number of doctors in the state, including expansion of medical school programs at existing sites as well as at East Carolina.

Dr. Julian F. Keith, a general practitioner and a member of the Forsyth County board of county commissioners at Winston-Salem, introduced the subject, and his original resolution called for expansion of the medical school program at existing medical schools "and-or" East Carolina.

But some brisk debate finally eliminated the word "or" and left the commissioners going on record as favoring the East Carolina medical school.

Other Efforts
The commissioners included in that resolution the need for some means of encouraging physicians to remain in this state to practice, increased attention to rural health programs, endorsement of the Area Health Education Center system for training doctors at nine locations around the state and emphasis on primary care training doctors at nine locations around the state, and emphasis on primary care training to provide more doctors in family practice, pediatrics, internal medicine and obstetrics.

In his comments to the group, Dr. Keith pointed out from personal experience that the hopes of getting a doctor with missionary spirit to live with a wife and family in an isolated rural area are slim.

"I loved Bladen County and the people there," Dr. Keith said of his 10 years of practice before moving to Winston, but his wife was unhappy over the absence of cultural-shopping opportunities.

Communities must look to improve themselves in order to attract doctors, he argued. The association adopted a series of positions on legislation coming before the 1974 General Assembly, most having to do with budgetary and funding matters in the county governments.

A resolution was also endorsed seeking more local control over the 17 regional Councils of Government.

Asking For Five Tapes Appears Reasonable

It seems to us that Sen. Ervin has made a reasonable proposal in calling for five specific tapes of White House conversations.

The senior senator from North Carolina has said that his committee's probe could come to a speedy end if these specific tapes were surrendered.

The White House should attempt to meet this request so that the facts in this matter can be ascertained as quickly as possible.

GOP Counsel An Adlai Man

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—Albert E. Jenner, Jr., hired by House Judiciary Committee Republicans as their chief counsel in the presidential impeachment proceedings, helped raise funds last fall for Democratic Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois—a previously shrouded fact which threatens much trouble for Jenner with his new employers.

The prestigious Jenner, a Chicago Republican but long a friend of the Stevenson family, was co-host for a breakfast in Stevenson's honor last October. That breakfast in turn was called to plan a fund-raising dinner to kick off Stevenson's reelection campaign, also attended by Jenner.

Some right-wing congressional Republicans feel that minor apostasy should disqualify Jenner from representing the Republican cause in what promises to be a highly partisan proceeding. But what really disturbs Judiciary Committee Republicans was Jenner's failure to mention his Adlai connection when they interviewed him for the impeachment post. With Jenner now trying to minimize his pro-Stevenson role, real troubles impend.

"I would rather he not be in support of any Democrat," an irritated Rep. Robert McClory of Illinois, second-ranking committee Republican, told us. Instrumental in hiring Jenner, McClory said he had assumed Jenner was a loyal Republican and is "surprised and disappointed" that Jenner did not tell him about backing Stevenson.

But a later telephone conversation with Jenner pacified McClory, who said Jenner told him he was personally involved in no political fund-raising, that he had never supported a Democrat for public office and that the Stevenson breakfast was "long before" the Senator announced for reelection.

The facts seem different. Jenner was one of five co-hosts financing a breakfast in Stevenson's honor at Chicago's Palmer House last Oct. 1 and signing the telegram inviting some 40 businessmen to it. The sole purpose: plan the Oct. 25 Hilton Hotel dinner where Stevenson would announce his candidacy for reelection.

Jenner told us merely that he was a close friend of Stevenson's father and would never oppose his son. But the Stevenson political organization viewed him—correctly—as an overt supporter.

There seems nothing inconsistent between a vote for a Stevenson and Jenner's duties as Republican counsel. What could pose trouble is Jenner's reluctance to reveal the full Stevenson connection.

Simon vs. Schlesinger
The first setback for energy czar William Simon in his battle to unify administration policy was at the hands of Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger, who managed a bureaucratic end run around Simon just after Christmas.

Schlesinger and Simon emerging as two strong, dynamic figures in a generally flaccid administration. Hence, Schlesinger was not pleased with publicity depicting Simon as the law on Pentagon fuel allocation.

With Simon absent, Schlesinger—accompanied by the Joint Chiefs of Staff—went straight to President Nixon, and in terms decidedly

Strength For Today

PROGRESS IS PEOPLE
The English man of letters, John Ruskin, was once asked if he did not think that the introduction of steam driven trains was an indication that the world was growing better. "Yes," replied Ruskin, "if better people ride in the trains."

He meant, of course, that the only thing which will ever make the world better will be better people. Better transportation, or better institutions of any kind, will avail but little.

Lincoln Steffens, the journalist the reformer who described so vividly the political corruption in American cities around the turn of the twentieth century, makes it very clear that the forces of civic corruption love nothing better than for good people to waste their efforts writing new laws. The bosses could turn good laws to their own advantage as easily as bad laws. What Steffens felt was basically needed were higher standards of political morality—in other words, better people.

Everything But A Camel

WASHINGTON—The French have just made a new deal with Saudi Arabia—oil in exchange for Mirage airplanes and sophisticated arms. The British are in the process of making a similar deal with other Arab oil-producing countries including the tiny sheikdoms along the Persian Gulf.

The cruel fact is that in order to guarantee an adequate fuel supply for itself, any industrialized nation is now willing to give the Arabs all the weapons they want.

The big question is how much sophisticated armaments can the oil-producing Arab states absorb? Most of their land is covered with sand inhabited by Bedouins who still are not quite used to the sudden wealth that is being showered on them.

The following scene will probably take place in a year or two:

A Bedouin camp 300 miles from the Saudi Arabian capital of Riyadh. The chief of the area pulls up in a brand-new British armored personnel carrier.

"Ahmed," shouts the chief, "you lazy lout, wake up and come out of your tent. I have a gift from the king for you!" Ahmed rushes out of the tent. "Did you bring me a camel?"

"I did better than that, my desert friend. See what I have on the back of the new British armored personnel carrier?" Ahmed follows him to the rear of the truck.

The chief strips off the canvas from the object he has in tow.

"What is it?" Ahmed asks, staring at the strange machine.

"It is the latest French fighter plane, the Phantom-Mirage. It will fly at speeds over 1,100 miles an hour and can carry six air-to-air supersonic missiles. Now what do you say?"

"I still would rather have a camel," Ahmed replies.

"How dare you talk that way about a gift from your most gracious sovereign?"

"Forgive me," Ahmed says fearfully, "but I already have four British fighters, six American Sky Hawks and seven heavy armored helicopters out behind my tent. What I really need is something that can cross the desert and doesn't use up water."

"I will forget I heard your treasonous words. His majesty has vowed that every citizen in his country will have a complete air squadron of his own by 1977. Now where do you want us to put the Mirage?"

"Put it next to the British Centaur tanks you brought me last week. Are you sure I was supposed to get 30 tanks? You know we don't have any children."

The chief checked in his book. "That's correct. You are to have 30 tanks, plus 2,000 rounds of armor-piercing cannon shells."

"Are you certain his majesty didn't mention anything about giving me a camel? You see my old one is on his last legs, and if I could get a new camel I could sell the dates from the Wadi Oasis and go to the market at Medina and..."

Blood Does Flow

By JO HARING
Written for Associated Press
EAST BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Having three young boys and an aging athlete husband is guaranteed to keep you in stitches.

Not to mention splints, casts and bandages.

It is also guaranteed to keep you in short supply of Band-Aids, Mercurochrome, liniment, patience and sleep.

The oldest boy, not counting Father, is 6½, the youngest is 1. Notwithstanding their tender years, not counting Father, they have managed to accumulate 11 runs to the emergency room and 42 sutures. True, that does include the baby's hernia operation and the dog's hysterectomy.

It does not include a broken leg, a do-it-yourself tonsilectomy with a screwdriver and three fishbones, stuck in the same throat at various times.

The neighbors have become accustomed to being summoned at odd hours to help dispense first-aid, baby sit and mop up the blood that flows around at about the same rate as peanut butter.

And it's not that I'm particularly careless of my children, not counting Father. It's just that, as every mother and emergency room staff in the country knows, children attract strange accidents. There is no tree short enough not to sustain a multiple fracture in a fall from; there is no stone too small not to be tripped over; there is no door wide enough not to run into.

And although I have at times found my children variously swinging axes, jumping up and down on broken glass and hurling everything from bottles to shovels at each other, such activity has resulted in not a scratch.

It's only when one falls out of bed that he breaks a collarbone or slips on the kitchen floor

40 Years Ago Today

By SUSAN PRICE
January 16, 1934

The clubhouse at the Country Club, two miles southwest of Greenville, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin yesterday afternoon at 6 p.m. The building was valued at $8,000 and was said to have been insured for $3,000.

Personal effects of golfers contained in lockers in the basement, as well as considerable golfing equipment, were lost in the blaze, which had gained such headway when discovered that all chance of saving it was hopeless.

The building, constructed of wood, was built when the club was organized several years ago. It consisted of a ballroom, cloak rooms, refreshment room and basement where lockers of individual members were located.

Clyde Barrow, a southwestern desperado, today either killed or seriously wounded two guards and kidnapped Raymond Hamilton, his former partner in crime, from an Eastern prison farm.

A police broadcast said a woman, presumably Bonnie Parker, Clyde's companion in his sorties through the southwest, was with him in a coupe.

So 'They Have To Get Better'

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—There are more than a few aspects of this economy that just don't add up for the typical American, a person who doesn't easily take to numbers except when a dollar sign accompanies them.

He begs to understand, for example, why oil company profits should be at record highs simultaneously with an oil shortage, why big commercial banks should profit hugely from destructively high interest rates.

While he might be aware that the answer lies in the law of supply and demand, he is understandably skeptical about the application of that law, and wonders aloud if it isn't a tool of suppliers. Do prices ever drop?

He wonders how in the world all those corporate executives tell one audience that they expect a good year for sales and earnings and the next week tell another group of the pitfalls of an oil shortage.

Their curiosity might be satisfied somewhat in noting that the audience that gets the gray forecast of impending doom is likely to be made up of critics or regulators. The sunshine is beamed at investors and stockholders.

Even stock market

analysts are somewhat fascinated by some of their brethren who talk about the coming decline in corporate profits, about the recession just around the corner, and then forecast rising stock prices.

Sometimes this seeming contradiction is joined in one sentence. "Specifically," said a recent speaker before the New York Society of Security Analysts, "I believe 1974 will be a year of generally declining corporate earnings and rising stock prices."

The explanation provided, almost always, is that the stock market is a barometer, not a thermometer. It anticipates conditions the day after tomorrow but it doesn't register the weather at the moment.

The bulls eagerly explain that while the early part of 1974 mightn't be very good for business, the latter half of the year is bound to turn out better: the consumer will be buying again, inflation will be receding, the oil crisis will be diminished.

The reasoning underlying these assumptions is seldom stated as clearly as the forecast, but one of the main ingredients of the recipe seems to be a dash of "things can't get worse so they have to get better."

unfavorable to Simon. The result: presidential agreement that Mr. Nixon, not Simon, would have final say on Pentagon energy questions.

That brought joy to the Pentagon. But well-placed officials in the administration doubt Schlesinger's wisdom in picking a fight with Simon, particularly in view of Schlesinger's inability to measure exactly how much fuel the Pentagon has. Nevertheless, the incident confirmed Schlesinger's skill as an infighter.

Meanwhile, progress is being made in placing the new Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) under Simon's direct authority (though the research end will have a separate manager). That compromise averts another clash between Simon and federal budget chief Roy Ash, director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Ash took the proposal to Mr. Nixon in San Clemente and got his approval.

No Rush

A White House brainstorm to import respected Deputy Secretary of State Kenneth Rush as President Nixon's top legal defense in the impeachment proceedings petered out for one reason. Rush has not practiced law for decades.

When Mr. Nixon named Henry A. Kissinger Secretary of State, his glitter dimmed Rush's own diplomatic candle. Nevertheless, Rush agreed to stay at State, running the striped-pants bureaucracy during Kissinger's frequent absences.

When his old Duke University law school student Dick Nixon asked Rush's services to prepare his defense, Rush was scarcely exuberant.

The idea quietly died when White House aides realized that Rush, former boss of Union Carbide and ambassador to West Germany, had forgotten what the inside of a courtroom—or a legal brief—looks like.

Benefits To Go Into Bank

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department is ready to begin a program of paying government benefit checks by direct electronic deposits into a recipient's bank account.

The program begins in March for the approximately 3.5 million recipients of the new federal supplemental security income payments for disabled, blind and aged.

But Treasury officials envision its expansion in about a year to approximately 25 million Social Security recipients and in two years to persons receiving veterans benefits and civil service retirements.

Eventually, perhaps in two years, the government hopes to do away with all paper checks by making electronic bank deposits of all federal payments, including the federal payroll.

Officials say the direct deposit program, which has been contemplated for some time, has been speeded up because of check-cashing difficulties encountered by persons receiving payments under the supplemental security income program.

David Mosso, deputy fiscal secretary of the treasury, said that in March persons receiving the supplemental payments will be given instructions on how they can have the Treasury Department mail their payments to a bank of their choice.

The recipient will have to open the bank account himself. The program will be voluntary for both recipients and banks, and checks still will be mailed to those who want them mailed.

"In the long run, everybody will benefit," Mosso said in an interview. "People will get their checks cashed in time and banks will be able to avoid the long lines they now have on the first of every month."

Sidney Cox, an assistant to Mosso, said there are plans to extend the direct deposit program to the approximately 25 million recipients of social security checks in about a year.

Cox said that within two years the federal government hopes to make electronic deposits to banks, not only for Social Security recipients but also for persons receiving veterans benefits, and civil service retirements. Eventually, the electronic deposits, known as electronic funds transfer, will extend even to the federal payroll.

In addition to making the payments system more convenient for recipients, the government's major purpose is to help ease the burden of paper checks, which are flooding the nation's system.

Total check usage now comes to about 26 billion items a year, of which 750 million are Treasury checks.

Instead of mailing checks, deposits are recorded on magnetic tape, which is forwarded to commercial banks or regional collection centers to be processed into individual accounts without a check ever being written.

N.C. Rid Of Hog Cholera

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina was declared "hog cholera free" today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

State Agriculture Commission Jim Graham received the proclamation from federal officials at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Pork Producers' Association here.

Dr. F. J. Mulhern, administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Services of the USDA, praised the long battle by state animal health personnel to rid North Carolina of the costly disease.

He said North Carolina was the 49th state to accomplish this and that Texas would be the final state, probably in the spring.

Graham said North Carolina has spent more than $1.6 million since 1962 when it began a program to eradicate hog cholera. The federal government paid out an additional $2.3 million.

"A nuclear submarine?"
"That is right. The French have agreed to sell us 1,000 nuclear submarines in exchange for 1,000 barrels of oil. As soon as we get the transportation we will be delivering one to you."

Ahmed sighs. "All right. But if you can't get me a camel, what about a donkey? I could make do with a donkey until I have enough money to buy a camel."

The chief got back on his armored personnel carrier and just laughed. "What industrialized country in the world would give us a donkey?"

Toll Roads See Revenues Down As Travel Dips

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Declining highway travel because of the gasoline shortage has reduced toll collections and is causing some budget reshuffling in state turnpike authorities.

An Associated Press survey showed the East and Northeast — where there are more toll roads than in other areas of the country — were hardest hit.

Federal statistics show that more than $1 billion was collected in 1972 by bridge and toll operators. How much of that money will be lost due to reduced highway traffic is not clear. But preliminary figures indicate declines of about 10 per cent during December.

None of the areas checked reported plans to cancel highway projects or stop construction because of the revenue declines. Several officials said that expenditures for maintenance might have to be curtailed.

The Massachusetts Turnpike Authority reported decreasing revenues on the main road and on an extension. It said the authority collected only $1,696,292 on the main road last month compared with $1,897,507 in December 1972, a decline of 11 per cent. The authority said that on the extension revenues were down about 5 per cent.

The toll money is used for operating expenses — including interest on outstanding bonds — for road building and other capital expenditures, and for repayment of bonds. An authority spokesman said a continued decline in business might mean a cutback in capital expenditures so the agency can keep paying off the bonds.

Officials in some areas were reluctant to draw conclusions about declining revenues because of variable factors such as weather.

"Climatic conditions have so much to do with travel," said W.D. Hoback, director of the turnpike system in Oklahoma, where vehicle traffic during December was down five per cent from the 1972 figure. "I don't deny that some of the drop is due to people not taking Sunday drives, but we had a bad ice storm in December, too."

Officials agreed that the sharpest drop in revenues came on Sunday when many gas stations were closed in accordance with President Nixon's request for a voluntary sales ban to conserve fuel.

"Sunday is really the only day of the week that has been affected," said a spokesman for the Indiana Toll Road Commission. He said over-all December revenue was down about 13 per cent from a year ago, with Sunday receipts showing a 35 to 40 per cent drop.

R.W. Stevens, chief of the Florida Bureau of Toll Facilities, said December revenues from the 265-mile Florida turnpike were down 12 per cent from 1972. He said the loss was mainly from "curtailment of gasoline sales on Sunday."

William R. Smith, administrator coordinator of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, said December 1973 revenues were about seven per cent below those for the same month in 1972. He said the loss in traffic was primarily in passenger cars — not commercial vehicles.

Wound Two In Robber-Ambush

CHARLOTTE (AP)—The owner of a Kentucky Fried Chicken store which had been robbed twice in two weeks, and a private guard he had hired, staked out the store and shot and wounded two robbery suspects Tuesday night.

The wounded men, Isaac Harris of Charlotte and Carl McCain of Davidson, each 21, were hospitalized. Each had one bullet wound.

The manager of the chicken outlet on North Carolina 16 near I-85, Jackie Ingram, said he and guard Ron B. Warren fired as Harris and McCain came out of the store.

Charlotte Detective W.M. Goff said he had signed warrants charging Harris and McCain with armed robbery.

Ingram said the store had been robbed six times in the last nine months.

He said he and Warren had instructed an employee, 19-year-old Miss Pinkie Sullivan, to stick up her hands and hold them up as a signal if anything was amiss.

Warren said she did so Tuesday night. He quoted her as saying that after she told two robbers that she didn't know how to open the safe, they scooped a little more than $100 out of the register.

Two Break-Ins Are Reported In Early Hours

Greenville police are investigating two break-ins reported early this morning in which several televisions and other electronic equipment were taken.

According to Chief Glenn Cannon, several televisions were reported taken from the Sears Roebuck Co. building at West End Circle after a break-in there was discovered about 1:02 a.m.

The thieves gained entrance to the building by prying open the front door of the business, Cannon explained.

Three televisions and two stereos were reported missing from Ken's Furniture Co. at 903 Dickinson Ave. following discovery of a break-in there at 3:10 a.m.

According to Cannon, entrance to the building was gained by throwing a cement block through a front window.

Harold Cooley Funeral Is Set For Thursday

WILSON, N.C. (AP) — Former North Carolina Congressman Harold D. Cooley, who called himself a "dirt farmer" and rose to become chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, is dead at age 76.

during World War I. Cooley had been chairman of the House Agriculture Committee for 16 years when Gardner defeated him in the bitter 1966 campaign. At the time, Cooley was the seventh-ranking House member in seniority. Gardner had lost to Cooley in his first bid for a House seat in 1964.

HAROLD COOLEY

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Nashville, N.C., United Methodist Church with burial at Forest Hills Cemetery.

Cooley died in his sleep Tuesday at Wilson Memorial Hospital. He had been in declining health and was in the hospital for three months late last year. Cooley served in the House for 32 years and was chairman of the agriculture committee when he was defeated in a 1966 re-election bid by Republican James Gardner, a Rocky Mount businessman.

Gardner's by a 13,000-vote win was one of the Republican's major congressional upsets.

North Carolina leaders Tuesday praised Cooley for his contributions to agricultural life. Jim Graham, state agriculture commissioner, called Cooley's death "a great loss to the industry of agriculture and all of North Carolina."

Mrs. Harry B. Caldwell of Greensboro, master of the North Carolina State Grange, said Cooley was "a real champion for the cause of agriculture for many years."

"He was sensitive to the needs of farmers, understood them and worked for them during his years of service..." she said.

Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt said Cooley "did more than anyone in Congress since the Depression to build a strong rural economy in America."

"For years, he was the protector and defender of our tobacco farmers," Hunt said.

Find Missing Girl Unhurt

Cooley, who returned to his hometown of Nashville to practice law, had been largely out of the public eye since the 1966 election.

He was a Democrat and proud of it.

"I've never voted anything but a straight Democratic ticket in my life," he once boasted.

He entered Congress in April, 1934. On April 1, 1964, he piloted through the House three major pieces of legislation in a single day—the Food Stamp bill, the wheat bill and the cotton bill. He sponsored legislation launching a World War on Hunger through the Food for Freedom program.

Cooley was educated in the public schools of Nash County, the University of North Carolina Law School and Yale University Law School. He served in the Naval Aviation Corps

ASHEBORO, N.C. (AP)—Seven-year-old Angela Craven, who disappeared from her home in Asheboro Tuesday morning, was found safe 10 hours later in a motel in Fayetteville, 100 miles to the southwest, police report.

They say that a man then arrested in Fayetteville was returned to his hometown of Asheboro and charged with kidnaping and first-degree burglary. They identified him as 25-year-old Ronald Wayne Gastor.

The Fayetteville police said that a maid heard a young girl crying in the locked motel room. The girl was Angela.

The police said Angela gave them a description of the car which her alleged abductor was driving, and this led to the arrest of Gastor two hours later.

Police in Asheboro gave this account:

Angela had been out of school Tuesday because of a teachers' meeting.

When her father, Danny Craven, a surveyor, awoke shortly after 8 a.m., he found her missing.

His wallet, which had contained $850, was empty and was lying on the floor.

The front door and the screen door, which had been locked, were open.

Angela's mother died last July. There are no other children.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets were stronger on all sizes Tuesday. Supplies barely adequate, demand good. Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites 80.65, medium whites 78.68, small whites 71.93.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA)—North Carolina hogs were steady to 50 cents lower today. Tops of 42.00-43.00 at Kinston, Benson and Lumberton; 41.00-41.50 Rocky Mount; 39.00-41.00 Wilson and High Falls; 39.00-39.50 Tarboro and Bethel; 42.50 Clinton, Fayetteville, Dunn, Elizabethtown, Pink Hill, Pine Level, Chadbourn, Ayden and Laurinburg; 40.00 Salisbury.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA)—North Carolina f.o.b. dock broilers: Market tone firm today. Supplies barely adequate, demand good and weights heavy. North Carolina hens: Market undertone weak today, with supplies of heavy types burdensome and demand slow. Heavies, at farm, 12½ to 13 cents per pound.

NEW YORK (AP)—Some selective buying carried the stock market forward today as brokers hoped for a break in Mideast negotiations that might end the trading doldrums.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 6.38 at 852.78. Advances led declines 599 to 399 among 1,373 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Big Board opened 15 minutes late because of a temporary mixup in the computer trading facilities at Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith. On the Big Board, Occidental Petroleum, gained 1 to 12½ as most-active. The company said it had discovered a less expensive way of extracting oil from shale.

Commonwealth Edison, after a big block, was off ¾ at 28½. Questor, which announced a cash tender offer late Tuesday, picked up 1¼ to 10¼.

Gold stocks moved lower. Dome Mines skidded 10½ to 173, and Campbell Redlake dropped 6½ to 85. Homestake was delayed in opening. On the Amex, most-active Giant Yellowknife Mines lost 1 to 19½.

Reports from Europe that trading countries might adopt paper currencies rather than gold as the basis for commerce sparked the selloff, brokers said, although some felt the selling was simply an excuse to assure profits gained during the gold stocks' recent sharp rise.

The Amex market-value index at 11 a.m. was up .48 at 94.29, while the NYSE broad-based index gained .19 at 50.62.

Charged In Threat

An 18-year-old East Carolina University student from Greensboro, Mark Eugene Walser, was arrested yesterday in connection with making a bomb threat call to Rose High School, according to Greenville Police Chief Glenn Cannon.

The official said Walser allegedly called Rose High about 1:15 p.m. and reported a bomb had been planted in the building. Walser was arrested on charges of making a false report of a destructive device about 9 p.m. in his Aycock Dormitory room, through the cooperation in the investigation of the East Carolina University police, agents of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Bureau of the U.S. Treasury Department, and officials of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Co., Chief Cannon said.

Bond for the 18-year-old was set at $2,000 for his appearance in District Court January 28. Chief Cannon said classes at Rose High School were not disturbed by the bomb call.

Chargers Win 65-40 Over Panthers

Brown Added To ECU Staff

East Carolina University football coach Pat Dye announced the fifth new assistant on his staff with the hiring of Watson Brown.

Brown, a 23-year-old native of Cookeville, Tennessee, will be in charge of the quarterbacks under the new program of Dye. An All-State and All-American selection while still in high school, Brown, went to Vanderbilt University in Memphis, Tennessee, where he was quarterback for the Commodores, under Coach Bill Pace.

As a sophomore, he started his first game against Alabama, guiding Vanderbilt to a victory over the Crimson Tide, the last time Vandy has beaten Alabama. But plagued by injury problems throughout his career, his playing time was cut into.

Following his graduation, he served as a graduate assistant under Coach Steve Sloan last year, handling the defensive backs and quarterbacks.

"I had never met Coach Dye before he contacted me, but I suspect that Coach Sloan at Vanderbilt had a great deal to do with me coming here. I am really excited to have this opportunity. When I was offered the job, I heard nothing but good words about Coach Dye. I came here because when I entered coaching I wanted to enter as a winner. Coach Dye is a winner and East Carolina is a winner, and therefore I feel like this is a fantastic opportunity for a person my age. I am confident that I will be coaching the position I know most about—the quarterbacks. All of my past experience has been with the option type of offense that Coach Dye plans to run."

Brown joins Henry Trevathan, Frank Orgel, Lanny Norris and Ben Grieb on the coaching staff with Coach Dye. It is expected that three more assistants will be named shortly.

Robersonville Tops Johnston

ROBERSONVILLE—Robersonville High School swept a trio of games from North Johnston last night. The varsity boys took a slim 55-54 win, with the girls winning, 46-37. The junior varsity made it a sweep with a 59-48 win.

In the girls' contest, North Johnston edged into the lead after one period of play, 9-6. But the Robersonville lassies came back in the second frame with a 17-10 edge to gain a 23-19 half-time lead.

North Johnston came back on them in the third period, 10-5, and slipped ahead, 29-28. Robersonville rallied in the last frame, with an 18-8 margin, winning going away.

Beatrice Forrest led Robersonville with 18 points. Teresa Watson had 13 and Terry Windham had 10 for North Johnston.

In the boys' game, Robersonville gained a 14-13 edge after the first eight minutes. After that, the Eagles began to fly away from their guests, outscoring them 14-7 in the second period. That allowed Robersonville a 28-20 lead in intermission.

Robersonville outthit North

Johnston, 17-16, in the third frame, and took a 45-36 lead in the final period. They went into a stall in the final frame, but North Johnston countered by fouling, and the Eagles hit only four of 11 in the period. This enabled Johnston to rally, but they never could take the lead. Mark Jones got the final basket with three seconds left, trimming it to 55-54, but that was it as the Eagles hung on to win.

Earnest Crandall led Robersonville with 20 points, while Tyrone Little had 12 and Percy Mooring had 10. Greg Purvis had 17, while Randy Pope and Jones each had 14.

Robersonville will host Rock Ridge on Friday.

Williamston Handed Loss

WILLIAMSTON—Ahoskie High School gained a 63-51 victory over Williamston High School's Tigers last night. It was the sixth straight Northeastern Conference loss for the Tigers, who have yet to win in the league.

The Ahoskie junior varsity made it a sweep with a 53-41 win. There was no girls' game.

Williamston inched out into the lead in the first period of the game, taking a 16-15 lead. They continued to inch away in the second quarter, outthit the Indians, 18-13, to build their lead to 34-28.

But the Tiger drive ran out of steam in the second half. Ahoskie came back with a 21-10 margin in the third period, pushing into a 49-44 lead by the end of the period. They outthit the Tigers, 14-7, in the last frame to wrap up the victory.

Jesse Sharpe led Ahoskie with 22 points, while Mike Umphlett added 11. For the Tigers, Wayne Hodges hit 12, while Keith Biggs had 11 and JoJo Purvis had 10.

The Tigers are idle until Monday night when they travel to Robersonville for a make-up date.

A WEST DRIVE—Los Angeles' Gail Goodrich (26) of the West drives between the East's Lou Hudson (23) of Atlanta and John Havlicek (17) of Boston during the NBA All-Star game Tuesday in Seattle. The West held off the East for a 134-123 victory. (AP Wirephoto)

Lanier Leads West To NBA All-Star Win

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — "I have a lot of flexibility and that really helped," said massive Bob Lanier, the 6-foot-11, 275-pound center of the Detroit Pistons, as he glanced at the big Most Valuable Player Award trophy he had just won for leading the West to a 134-123 victory over the East in the National Basketball Association's 24th All-Star game.

Lanier, who came off the bench along with Seattle's Spencer Haywood Tuesday night and helped the West ward off two major East comebacks, led all scorers with 24 points, hitting from both inside and outside.

He was able to work both under the basket and from beyond the foul line because of a piece of unexpected strategy by West Coach Larry Costello of Milwaukee. Costello, directing the West to its second All-Star victory in two coaching efforts, surprisingly inserted 7-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of Milwaukee into the game to team with Lanier when the East made a late bid.

"It sure surprised me," said

Lanier. "I never thought he would do it. The Bucks ought to give him a raise. He's sure a smart coach," he added laughingly.

Lanier, going over and around the smaller, undermanned and underdog East team, hit a remarkable 11 of 15 field goal attempts in pacing the West's scintillating 54 percent shooting effort. He also grabbed 10 rebounds.

Jabbar, the West's starting center, re-entered the game with 6:47 remaining and his team ahead 112-105. The East managed to whittle the gap to 120-117 with 3:30 left, but Jabbar, with the help of some key rebounds by Lanier, pulled the West safely ahead again. The huge Bucks' pivotman hooked in an eight-footer from the right side, added two more baskets and blocked one shot down the stretch, preserving the West's ninth triumph in the series.

The West, determined to avenge last year's 104-84 embarrassing setback at Chicago, stunned the East with a 20-5 outburst in the first six minutes. Personal fouls, particularly three against center Dave Cowens of Boston, were greatly instrumental in the East's falling behind quickly.

After intermission, East Coach Tom Heinsohn went to a line-up of three of his Boston players — Cowens, Jo Jo White and John Havlicek — and two members of the New York Knicks — Walt Frazier and Dave DeBusschere — a combination that was largely responsible for last year's East's rout.

That group swiftly pulled the East back into contention, reeling off the first 14 points of the second half. However, by the end of the third quarter, the West had rebuilt its lead to 101-85.

Haywood, performing brilliantly before his home fans, a record Seattle Center Coliseum crowd of 14,360, finished with 23 points and 11 rebounds, and was disappointed that he didn't get the MVP award.

BETHEL—Ayden-Grifton battled with the North Pitt Panthers for two and-a-half quarters last night before the Chargers were able to pull away from the tenacious Panthers and get their eighth win in ten games, 65-40.

The boys win was the only one of the night for the Ayden-Grifton Chargers as their J.V.'s and girls' teams both lost. The Baby Chargers were edged out, 57-49, while the Big Orange Machine moved a game closer to a fourth straight conference championship, stopping the Charger girls by 50-35.

The Pant-HERS may have won the game, but when it was over they knew they had had to work for it. A-G stayed right with North Pitt until the opening moments of the second half, when the Big Orange ran off eight quick buckets to move out to a comfortable lead and they held it from there.

The Pant-HERS went on the boards first as Debbie Pollard scored on a drive but it was tied up by a base line jumper by A-G's Decia Little. Connie Carter scored from outside to put the chargers in front for the first time, 4-2.

Wanda Whichard retied the game, 4-4, with a swish from the corner but one by Little put the Lady Chargers in front for the last time.

It was matched by a bucket from the circle by Linda James, 6-6 and with 3:39 left in the first period, Joy James hit a free throw and Whichard scored on a steal to put the Pant-HERS in front for good, 9-6.

Kelly Reeves pulled the Lady Chargers back to within one, 9-8 with a pair of free shots but they were erased by a lay-up on a steal by Pollard. Little scored for A-G, 11-10, only to see Pollard score on a fine play under the basket with :55 left to regain the three-point difference, 13-10. Joy James added another free throw. Debra Barfield sank a basket from under her goal to pull the A-G girls back to a bucket away as the period ended, 14-12.

Both teams added six points to their scores in the second period keeping the margin at the same total, two, 20-18. A-G tied it twice but failed to get the lead.

Kathi Manning opened the second half for the Orange with a pair of quick buckets, one on a field goal from the corner and the second on a steal to increase the gap to 24-18. A-G fought back on a pair of charity shots by Little and a base line drive by Little closing to 24-22.

But then the Pant-HERS pulled the cork and ran in eight points to lift them up and away from the Lady Chargers. Whichard started the rally making a shot from the lane. Joy James followed with one from underneath and Manning and Pollard contributed to increase the score to 32-22.

After that, the Lady Chargers put in only four more points while NP added 10 and the third ended, 40-26. North Pitt got eight more in the fourth as A-G added nine. Little led the scoring getting 20 for Ayden-Grifton. Pollard had 13 for North Pitt and Joy James had 12. Whichard had 11.

The Chargers had the edge in field goal percentage in the boys' game as they outthit the Panthers, 53 percent to 35 percent. The Panthers hit on 20 of 57 attempts while A-G hit better than half, 29 of 57.

A-G also out-rebounded North Pitt, 28-23. Travis Woods pulled down 10 to lead the Chargers while Vincent Barnhill had eight for the Panthers.

It took a minute-and-a-half for the Chargers to establish themselves and when they did they kept the Panthers moving. It was still no run-away. This was evident in that A-G Coach Bob Murphrey did not use more than six players until almost all of the game had gone by.

North Pitt was first to score and they did that on Jessie Harris's outside jumper but it was matched by a tap in by Woods and Woods, fouled on the play, added a free throw to give the Chargers the lead permanently, 3-2. Woods scored again with 5:04 left in the period 5-2 and Melvin Stewart added a lay-up to make it 7-2. The Panthers broke the spell when Barnhill scored from underneath, 7-4 but A-G doubled his basket as Stewart and Danny Garris scored on fast breaks to run the score out to 11-4.

Barnhill scored again and again the bucket was duplicated by Woods and Stewart. The frame ended after an exchange of baskets, 17-8.

North Pitt cut it to 17-12 on buckets by Barnhill and Harris and after Jessie Brown's free shot, Barnhill narrowed the margin to four, 18-14. Brown scored on an "Alley oop" getting the six-point spread back and Woods' shot from the corner made it eight, 22-14.

The Panthers rallied to pull within one basket behind field goals by Harris, Craig McLawhorn and Donnie Perkins, 22-20. The Panthers could score only once more in the half and that gave the Chargers the opportunity to run their lead back out to eight, 32-24 on three buckets by Milton Brown, and one each by Stewart and Jessie Brown. The quarter ended that way.

The only time North Pitt was able to get near the Chargers in the third period was when they rallied to get within three, 35-32 but the Chargers finished the frame with ten points to take a 45-34 lead into the final quarter.

In the fourth, the Panthers were able to get only three buckets. A-G, meanwhile was dumping in 20 points with the biggest lead coming at the end,

Illness Hits Clemson Cagers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Clemson basketball team, which has never beaten Duke on the road, will be trying to do so tonight with two starters as doubtful participants because of illnesses.

They are junior Van Cragg, the leading scorer with a 14.6 average, who has a virus, and sophomore Tim Capeheart, 5.5 average, who has tonsillitis.

In addition, 6-foot-9 sophomore reserve Charlie Rogers broke a bone in a foot in practice Monday and will be out seven weeks or so.

Each team will be seeking its first Atlantic Coast Conference victory.

Clemson is 7-5 in all games and 0-3 in the league after recent losses to nationally ranked Maryland, North Carolina State and North Carolina.

Duke is 5-5 and 0-1 and returns to its friendly Cameron Indoor Stadium after playing seven of its 10 games on the road. It has won the three games it played at home, against East Carolina, Appalachian State and Yale.

There will be one other game for ACC teams tonight, Wake Forest at fifth-ranked North Carolina. The North Carolina Tar Heels are 10-1 and look too good, especially at home, against the Wake Forest Deacons, 7-4. North Carolina has won both its league starts, while Wake Forest has dropped its pair.

ACC teams were idle Tuesday night. On Thursday night, third-ranked N.C. State, 9-1 and 2-0, will be at Virginia, 5-5 and 2-1, and fourth-ranked Maryland, 9-2, will be home to Fordham.

Stewart Widens Scoring Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Aron Stewart of Richmond has widened his lead slightly in his bid for a second consecutive Southern Conference basketball scoring championship and finally has given the league a player with an average of more than 20 points per game.

The 6-foot-5 senior scored 26 points in his only game in the past week and upped his season's total to 142 points in seven games for a 20.3-point average. He's still far behind last year's pace, when he was among the nation's leaders with a 30.3 mark.

Clyde Mayes, Furman's 6-foot-9 junior star, moved up two notches to second place with 68 points in three games that boosted his total to 223 points in 12 encounters for an 18.8 average.

Last year's runner-up, Stan Davis of Appalachian State, made the biggest move. The Mountaineer senior, who missed three games with an injury, scored 45 points in two starts and upped his average to 18.3 on 128 points in seven games. He was eighth a week ago.

Up three spots from last week in fourth place is 7-foot-1 junior Fessor Leonard of Furman, who had 67 points in three games to boost his total to 217 points in 12 games for an 18.1

average.

Junior Mike Arizin of William and Mary, who was idle during the week, dropped two spots to fifth with a 17.7 average on 159 points in nine games.

Bob McCurdy, a junior transfer at Richmond, is sixth with 175 points in 10 games for a 17.5 mark and injured senior John Falconi of Davidson is seventh with 188 points in 11 games for a 17.1 mark. Falconi, second last week, scored only six points in his one start.

Another Davidson star, junior Greg Dunn, is eighth with 201 points in 12 games for a 16.8 average, while junior college transfer Eric Gray of Richmond remains ninth with 156 points in 10 games for a 15.6 average.

In a virtual deadlock for 10th at 14.3 are freshman Bruce Grimm of Furman and senior Nicky White of East Carolina. Grimm has 172 points, White 171, and each has played in 12 games.

All conference teams were idle Tuesday night, but three take on outside opponents tonight.

Richmond's Spiders, 4-6 overall, will be at home against California-Irvine; Davidson's Wildcats, 7-5, meet South Carolina at Charlotte, N. C.; and Furman's league-leading Paladins, 9-3, go to Jacksonville.

Aycock Gets Win

E. B. Aycock edged past Wilson yesterday for a slim 47-41 win. There was no J. V. game.

Aycock took a one-point lead in the first period, 6-5, and added to it in the second quarter to take an 18-15 lead at halftime.

The third quarter boosted the Phantoms well into the lead as they poured in 18 points making the score, 36-21. Wilson cut the gap in the fourth as they outscored Aycock, 20-11 but time ran out on them.

Carmach Hilliard led the visitors with 21 and Sam Dawson had 10. Mike Adams had 21 for Aycock and Danny Short had 15.

Wilson—Isom 4, Wright 6, Barnes, Dawson 10, Hilliard 21, Sullivan, Keither, Dunn, Smith.

Aycock—Adams 21, Short 15, Payton, Randolph, Worthington 7, Hooks 4, Peterson, Norfolk, Sasion, Mayo.

McCullen Quits ECU

East Carolina basketball coach Tom Quinn announced today that Randy McCullen, a 6-3, 180-pound sophomore from Greer, S. C., has left the team and withdrawn from the university.

McCullen, a guard, had played little this year, and had recently suffered a broken bone in his foot.

"He was unhappy over the injury and the fact that he wasn't playing as much as he wanted to," Quinn said. "He felt that he could do better in another program, and decided to leave East Carolina."

Tams Drop 89-87 Game

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Coach Bill van Breda Kolff and his Memphis Tams' players said they feel like they've been "snake bit" following their late-cliffhanger American Basketball Association loss to the Utah Stars 89-87 Tuesday night.

The Utah-Memphis action was the only game in the ABA. The only action in the National Basketball Association was the All-Star Game.

"I was looking for a snake under the bench," said Van Breda Kolff. "We are just snake-bit."

A Glen Combs' three-pointer try for Memphis at the buzzer would have won the game, but the shot danced around on the rim, then skipped off the far side. It was the second game in a row when a three-pointer wouldn't go in for the Tams in the final second.

"I had a good angle on Glen's shot and it looked like it was going in," said Van Breda Kolff.

65-40.

Woods led the Chargers with 17, Jessie Brown had 13 and Milton Brown and Stewart each scored 12. Barnhill had 14 to pace North Pitt, and Harris added 10.

The Panthers fall off to 4-7. Their girls, however are 10-0 while A-G's Lady Chargers are still in the running, 6-4.

Top Battle Is Set Saturday

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

Notre Dame's ready for UCLA — and UCLA is ready for Notre Dame, it seems.

The second-ranked Fighting Irish tuned up for their much-heralded game with the top-ranked Bruins by routing Georgetown 104-77 Tuesday night.

And UCLA tuned up by announcing that center Bill Walton would probably play in the Big One on Saturday.

Walton, UCLA's 6-foot-11 tower of strength, worked out Tuesday and found that his recent back injury had healed enough so he could make a two-game trip to the Midwest this week. The Bruins play Iowa on Thursday before meeting Notre Dame at South Bend.

Walton, a two-time Player of the Year, bruised a back muscle Jan. 7 in a Pacific-8 Conference game against Washington State.

John Shumate played about three-fourths of Tuesday night's game against Georgetown and scored 26 points. Adrian Dantley followed with 22.

Despite the impending meeting with the country's No. 1 team, Notre Dame had only Georgetown on its mind, insisted Coach Dick Phelps.

"We worked hard for this game against Georgetown," he said. "We weren't looking ahead."

Marquette was the only other ranked team in action Tuesday night. The sixth-ranked Warriors crushed Butler 76-54.

Maurice Lucas scored 18 points and teamed with Bo Ellis to dominate the boards in Marquette's victory.

Motta Gets Fine

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — Dick Motta, of the Chicago Bulls is keeping his cool — at least temporarily — after being the first coach in the National Basketball Association to be suspended.

"What should I do, go cry about it, or cut my wrists or something?" he asked after NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy had announced a one-week suspension and a $2,000 fine Tuesday prior to one of the league's showcase performances, the 24th All-Star game.

"But if I continue to be treated like a criminal, then I will be concerned," added Motta, now in his sixth season as Chicago's coach.

Motta's penalties — the result of an altercation with official Ed Batagowski following Chicago's 103-101 loss at Seattle on Jan. 4 — was not surprising to the Chicago coach except for its timing.

"I think he wanted a big stage," Motta said in trying to explain why the commissioner had waited 11 days before making the announcement before a big press gathering.

"I did a lot of soul searching," said Kennedy, who already has announced his retirement as of June 1, 1975.

While Motta was being punished, Kennedy also announced that disciplinary action might be taken against guard Gail Goodrich of the Los Angeles Lakers and center-forward Phil Jackson of the New York Knicks.

Goodrich, a member of the West's All-Star starting team, failed to appear at Monday night's All-Star banquet and at the squad's practice Tuesday prior to the 134-123 West victory at the Seattle Center Coliseum.

Jackson was ejected from a game against Seattle Friday night for pushing an official following his second technical of the contest.

Kennedy said he would meet with Goodrich and review the Jackson situation before taking any action against either player.

The commissioner also confirmed two previous Associated Press reports, one that the league would add one franchise for the 1974-75 season and that the playoff pool for this season would be increased from a record $750,000 last year to $800,000 this year.

He also said that for the 1975 All-Star game in Phoenix the voting for both East and West teams would be conducted among the fans rather than by sports writers and broadcasters as has been done in recent years.

Finally, Kennedy said no progress had been made yet in regard to his successor and league attendance was up about three per cent over a corresponding period a year ago.

However, there was a published report that 33-year-old Philadelphia attorney Richie Phillips was a rumored candidate to replace Kennedy.

Brock Reminds Voting Changes

Alex Brock, director of the State Board of Elections, announced several important dates and election procedures that are effective this year.

In a memo to the Pitt Board of Elections, Brock noted that the filing deadline for persons wishing to file for any political office, which is open in 1974, is 12 noon on Feb. 25.

Brock said that candidates for U. S. Senate, Congress, Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge of Court of Appeals, Judge of Superior Court, Judge of District Court and District Solicitors must file with the State Board of Elections in Raleigh, either in person or by mail, no later than the deadline.

Candidates for the State Legislature file with the county board of elections in the county of their residence, he reminded, and candidates for all county offices also file with the county boards.

The deadline by which any person could change his party affiliation in order to run as a candidate in his new party's primary was Nov. 26, Brock explained.

The registration deadline for persons not already registered and who wish to vote in the primary elections is Monday, April 8.

The director reported that any person who is qualified and who wants to vote in the primary by absentee ballot must make application to his county board of elections no later than 6 p.m. on May 1. Earlier application is desirable to insure against technical error.

Brock said that the primary election, unless changed by the 1974 General Assembly, will be on Tuesday, May 7 with the second primary, if needed, on June 4.

Officers up for election this year include: one U. S. Senate seat; 11 Congressional seats; three seats on the Supreme Court; seven seats on the Court of Appeals; 15 seats on the Superior Courts; 30 District Solicitors; and 37 District Court Judges.

Brock said that 14 Superior Court Districts have at least one seat up for election this year. They include: Sixth District; Tenth; 11th 12th; 15th; 18th; 19th (two); 20th; 21st; 23rd; 26th; 28th (two); 29th; and 30th.

The following District Court Districts are up for election this year: First, 12th, 14th, 16th, 17th, 19th, 22nd, 23rd, 25th, 28th, and 30th.

Area offices to be filled in May include First District Congressman, Third District Solicitor, four North Carolina General Assembly seats, three Pitt County Commissioner seats, three Pitt Board of Education seats, the Pitt Clerk of Superior Court, Pitt Coroner, and Pitt County Sheriff.

Home Savings.

(Continued from page 1) total savings amounting to $22,230,757, an increase of 17.8 per cent as compared with a gain of 21.6 per cent in 1972.

Lee told shareholders that loans increased during 1973 by some $4,170,381, giving Home Savings total loans of $22,830,043, an increase of 22.3 per cent. The increase, he said, compared with a 1972 gain of 24.5 per cent.

Noting that savings accounts and loan accounts grew more last year than in 1972 but assets reflected a smaller gain, Lee explained that loans in process, or loans which have been put on the books but which have not been disbursed, "at the end of 1972 were $575,000 more than they were at the end of 1973, and this increased our assets deceptively for the year 1972."

He said that Home Savings purchased to lots on Arlington Street Extension during the year and the firm has been authorized to open a branch office on the site. Lee noted that "we hope to have it completed by the end of this year."

Gross income for the year at Home Savings amounted to $1,688,175, he continued, a dollar increase of $356,278 over 1972 and a percentage increase of 18 per cent as compared with a 1972 gain of 25 per cent.

Total expenses for 1973 reflected an increase of $337,510, a percentage increase of 27 per cent as compared with an increase of 19 per cent in 1972. "By far the largest portion of this was in the form of dividends to our savers," Lee added.

Net earnings for the year totaled $129,797, an increase of $18,769 or a percentage gain of 16.9 per cent as compared with an increase of 66.7 per cent in 1972.

Lee said that both the Plymouth and Bethel branches are "steadily growing." Plymouth took in over a million dollars in new savings last year and increased loan accounts over a million dollars while Bethel increased its savings by $179,000.

Plan Revival On Weekend

A weekend revival will be held at the St. Paul Pentecostal Holiness Church, located on Highway 264, east of Greenville.

REV. C. L. TURPIN

The Rev. C. L. Turpin of Franklin Springs, Ga., will be the guest speaker. A native of Oklahoma, he graduated from Emmanuel College, Franklin Springs, Ga., and received his B.S. and M.A. degrees from East Carolina University. He also attended Homes Theological Seminary, Greenville, S. C.

The Rev. Turpin has served in the educational field as well as pastoral work. He is now assistant executive administrator of the world missions for the Pentecostal Holiness Church.

The three-day revival will begin Friday, Jan. 18, and continue through Sunday beginning at 7:30 p.m. Special singing will be held each night and a nursery will be provided.

Joint Workshop At Winterville

The Pitt County unit of the North Carolina Association of Educators and the Association of Classroom Teachers will have a joint workshop for faculty representatives on the legislative program for 1973-74 at A.G. Cox School, Winterville, Jan. 23, at 3:30 p.m.

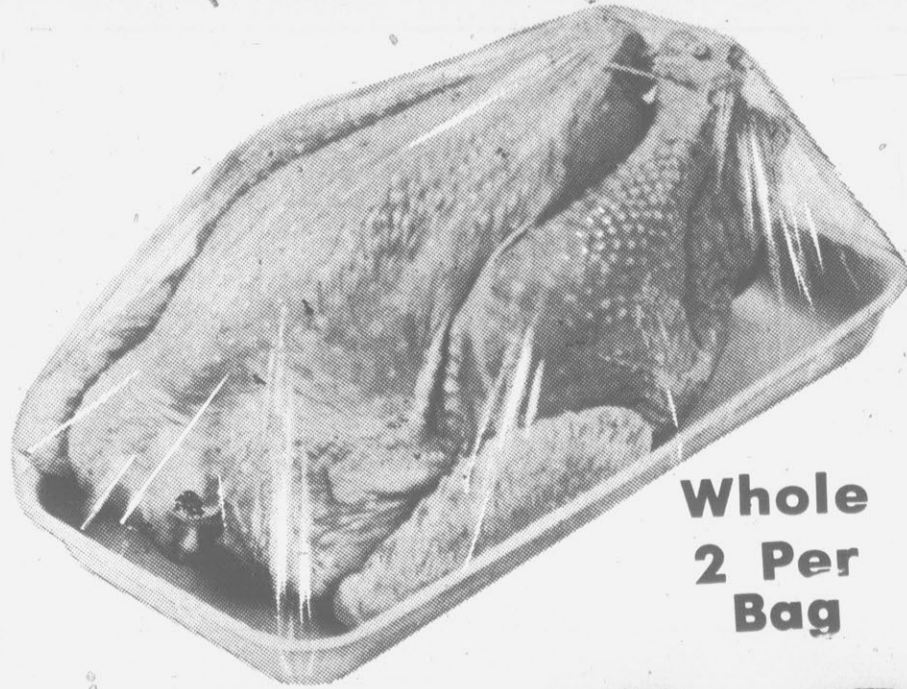

Any interested member is invited to attend.

GREENVILLE UTILITIES COMMISSION ELECTRIC RATE SURCHARGE

Effective with all bills rendered on or after February 1, 1974, a surcharge equal to the Fossil Fuel Adjustment Charge billed to Greenville Utilities Commission each month by Virginia Electric Power Company will be applied to each kilowatt-hour of electric energy billed to all customers under Residential Schedule 1; Small General Service Schedule 2; Large General Service Schedule 3; Municipal & Housing Authority Schedule 5; County-Municipal All Electric Schedule 6; General Service Electric Heating Schedule 7; and County Schedule 8.

The charge will increase or decrease as the cost of fossil fuels, crude oil and coal, increases or decreases. VEP- CO's Fossil Fuel Adjustment Charge for January was $0.00124 per kilowatt-hour.

The surcharge will pass directly to the consumer exactly the same surcharge (Fossil Fuel Adjustment) received by the Commission from VEPCO.

Opening lead: King of ♣
A total count of 27 points is usually enough to make a major suit game. However, a bad break combined with excellent defense by West scuttled South's four heart contract on today's hand.

We are not enthusiastic about a no trump opening bid on a hand that contains a weak doubleton. Nor would we venture to find a 4-4 major fit with North's perfectly balanced hand—our own taste runs to a raise to two no trump. But in this case, two peccadillos combined to produce a sound enough game in the eight-card major fit.

It did not take much imagination on the part of West to work out that his partner was unlikely to contribute greatly toward the defense. His own 12 high-card points and the strength of the opponents' auction made it clear that he would be lucky to find partner with more than a queen in his hand.

West led the king of clubs, and when dummy came down it was obvious that the defenders were going to take at least three tricks with the ace-king of clubs and the ace of hearts. There were two possible sources to be tapped for the setting trick—a doubleton club in the East hand, which would allow East to ruff the third round of the suit, or a forcing game to set up a long trump in West's hand.

Both possibilities could be tested with the same initial defense. After the king of clubs won, West continued with the ace of clubs and another. It was only a minor disappointment when East followed with the queen and declarer ruffed.

South led the king of hearts, and West found the winning defense of withholding the ace, allowing declarer to win the trick. South continued with the queen of trumps and West ducked again. When East discarded a diamond on this trick, declarer suddenly realized that he was doomed to defeat.

At this point, South had only one trump left, while West and dummy had two. If declarer led his last trump, West would win the ace and play another club, forcing dummy to ruff with its last trump. West would still have a trump and a winning club. And if declarer did not draw another trump, sooner or later West would ruff a diamond or a spade with his low trump, and then score the ace for a one-trick set.

Goodbye Again, By Jack Benny

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Benjamin Kubelsky, a native of Waukegan, Ill., was in town the other day to catch a few shows, observe the snows and publicize an NBC-TV special he'll star in come Jan. 24.

The show's title is "Jack Benny's Second Farewell Special." Mr. Kubelsky, who uses the alias of Jack Benny, emphatically denied the title is the McCoy and that he really plans to retire from show biz after some 62 years in the profession.

"Naw," he said, lighting a cigar and propping a foot on the coffee table in his hotel suite. "This has nothing to do with retirement. There's only one gag about it in the show."

He said the title exists only because he found that audiences in Las Vegas and elsewhere recalled his "First Farewell Special" on television last year and laughed when he urged them to watch his second again.

"And I tell you," Benny said, "it's tough enough for an audience to remember your last show. But when they can remember a title — well, I told my manager if we don't use the title again we're crazy."

"Now I tell the audience we're going to do the third, the fourth, the 90th farewell. But it all depends how this works out. I don't know. I had another funny title they laughed like hell at."

"Shows how they do remember things. I was going to call it 'Benny with a Y'..."

Benny with a cigar was asked if he wouldn't give show biz "retirements" a bad name if he persisted in "farewell" specials.

"No, it's been done before, of course," he said, citing the famous cases of Harry Lauder and Sarah Bernhardt, who made so many farewell tours their by-byes could stretch from here to China.

Obvious question, but why do performers do that sort of thing?

"Well, they didn't do too many," Benny insisted. "But the minute you do a couple, you see, right away it becomes funny to the public.

"Performers do it because they figure if they say it's a farewell, they're going to do a helluva business."

ABC-TV's late-hour effort tonight hails Steve Allen's 25 years in television, not with a special, but with a show biz "roast" called "Hi, Ho Steve-rino — A 25th Anniversary Salute to Steve Allen."

The tribute is well-deserved. Alas, it's coproduced by a company Allen owns. One of the show's executive producers is Steve Allen. And one of its writers is Steve Allen. But look at the brighter side.

The guest of honor could have been Howard Cosell again.

Workshop In Diabetics

A workshop on diabetes nutrition is to be offered by East Carolina University beginning Jan. 29. The course will run for five evening sessions ending Tuesday, Feb. 26.

The workshop will focus on proper dietary management of the diabetic, which according to recent research in the field, is the most important factor in the welfare of diabetic patients.

Instructor Marilyn Steele, ECU faculty nutritionist, will discuss such topics as the importance of diet in the control of diabetes, the exchange diet plan, shopping techniques and food preparation. The workshop will include lectures, demonstrations and discussions.

Dr. William Fore, Greenville physician, will direct the first workshop session, an overview of diabetes, and will answer questions of class participants.

Since class size will be limited to 25 participants, early registration is advisable.

Further information and registration forms are available from the ECU Division of Continuing Education, Box 2727, Greenville.

The Worry Clinic An Early Start In Motivation

Dr. Mel is like many fathers who delay too long in motivating their sons to join them in a "Father & Son" business or profession. Motivation should start even at the toddler stage. But you dads must undermine the objections expressed by Dr. Mel's son!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.
CASE 7-526: Mel G., aged 41, is a physician.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "I worked hard to build up my present very successful private practice.

"And I have secretly hoped my son would want to go to Medical School and join me."
"But he seems totally disinterested in doing so."
"In fact, he appears to prefer ANY other career than medicine!"

"So how can a father steer his son into joining the firm, whether it be a retail store, a restaurant or medicine, dentistry and law?"

Motivation Secrets
"Motivation" is the keynote underlying effective persuasion. "I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT" is the invisible tattoo on the chest of every human being.

So the problem in Mel's situation is how to make the boy feel MORE important via a medical career.

"If I enter medicine," this 18-year-old son protests, "I'll just be riding my dad's coattails."

"He is very successful, so people will think if I succeed quite well, that's to be expected."

"But if I fail, they will criticize me doubly."
"So I can't win recognition in my own right."

"That's why I'd rather not follow in his footsteps."
"For I figure I'd have no place to go but down, since he is already tops."

Fathers, that's the unvoiced attitude of thousands of sons of coach.

Recently he got two offers from larger schools.
He could become head coach of a college that leads the conference versus another job where the football team is at the bottom of the league.

"Dr. Crane," he explained why he declined the winning college job, "I'd get little praise if we still remained at the top."

talented parents.
Dr. Mel's son is in the same dilemma as a friend of mine who is a good college athletic Association and the Student Union, as well as miscellaneous meeting rooms and informal lounges.

Landscaping of the patio areas and other grounds will be a university project.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1974

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Organize your practical affairs and you can make this a good day and evening, although there is also an upsetting influence if you try to run off to some frivolous activities that strongly appeal to you now.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Schedule hours and activities to accomplish more and steer clear of a time-waster. Follow your hunches. Some exclusive social affair is favored tonight.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Solve problems with the aid of a clever associate. Don't criticize family. Forgive yourself and others. Put off recreation to a better day. Look to an expert for help.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be more cooperative with co-workers and get much done. Put off recreation to a better day. Look to an expert for help with any problem.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Join with congenials at amusements, but don't argue over finances. Get into the creative work you most like.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) Don't trust your own ideas today and don't make any radical changes you would regret. Follow the best suggestions from kin and all is okay.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Join good friend for the recreation you desire and have a happy time. A letter could bring you fine benefits today.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Make that move to better your situation in life, but don't step on the toes of others. Avoid spending that could deplete your assets.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Don't confront bigwig who is usually helpful but could be irate today. Analyze your ideas and make sure they are right. Be with good friends in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Sit down with a good adviser before you delve into that new outlet about which you know even less than little which could make you lose your shirt.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) Steer clear of one who is greedy and look to a good friend for aid in gaining personal aims. Follow judgment today instead of intuition.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Get on the good side of a bigwig instead of listening to an associate who just talks. Delve into civic matter efficiently.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar 20) You hit on a fine idea that will help you get ahead faster in your career, but don't argue with co-worker. Plan how to improve health.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will resent those who are superficial if you do not teach early to ignore them and to ally self with own kind so that life will be highly successful. Teach also not to criticize, but to be helpful instead, then the fields of medicine, law, teaching, etc., are especially good. Permit to pick own religious affiliation. Excellent at sports.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for February is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast (name of newspaper), Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

This may involve driving the car for daddy or keeping his books, typing his reports on patients, etc.

Soon his classmates will then nickname the boy "Doc," which will also help push him farther along the road to a medical career.

Abortion Deaths Drop In Britain

LONDON (AP) — The annual death rate from abortions in Britain has dropped by half since the operation was legalized five years ago.

And the number of back street abortionists prosecuted fell from 75 in 1968 to 34 last year.

The Abortion Law Reform Assn. said in its annual review that the figures prove business is bad for the illegal operators.

The number of girls under 16 having abortions has held steady through the five years, the report said. Last year 3,141 of them had legal abortions, 2 per cent of the total.

John Wayne Rolls Into An Arena

By DANIEL Q. HANEY
Associated Press Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — John Wayne rumbled into Harvard Square on a 13-ton Army personnel carrier to take on liberal college students, but they welcomed the actor with grins, cheers and snowballs.

Wayne showed up with a military escort Tuesday on a dare from the Harvard Lampoon, a college humor magazine.

Lampoon editors had challenged the conservative Wayne to premiere his new detective movie, "McQ," in Harvard Square, "a place full of cut-throat idle rich intellectuals who would just as soon quote you Marx and Mao Tse-tung as look at you."

Wayne replied that he'd be happy to take his picture "into the pseudo-intellectual swamps."

Except for a brief skirmish with some Indians, it was generally a fun thing with the under-25 crowd which frequents the area.

Thousands flocked around Wayne's vehicle as the actor stood clutching an empty, inoperative machinegun.

"Right on, Duke!" some of them called as Army reservists from the 5th Cavalry batted away snowballs tossed from the windows of Harvard dormitories.

Wayne, ruddy faced from the cold air, stopped smiling only when a handful of Indians, protesting that movie Indians never win, tried to block his path. But an officer ordered the vehicle to keep moving, and police cleared away the Indians. There were no arrests.

Inside the theater, there was a welter of wisecracking and banter but no political debate.

One Lampoon staffer said Wayne was a spokesman for conservatism "not out of cheap, flimsy convictions but because he has not had the benefit of a private school education."

Wayne replied, "The do-go-ders have stopped Halloween and the 4th of July. I think you have to have a day when you can create as much anarchy as you want to."

Most of the inquiries tossed Wayne's way in a question and answer session before the film was shown dealt with his many roles in Westerns and war movies.

There were others, to which he just smiled:

"How does your horse feel about sex in the cinema?"

"What was the last book or comic book you read?"

And some of the questions he answered:

Q. "What do you think of women's lib?"

A. "I think they have a right to work anywhere they want to, (long pause) as long as they have dinner ready when we want it."

Q. "Has President Nixon ever given you any suggestions for your movies?"

A. "No, they've all been successful."

Authorize Start Of New Nuclear Plant

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Carolina Power & Light Co. has been authorized to begin limited construction at the site of its proposed $1.7 billion Shearon Harris Nuclear Plant in Wake County near Raleigh.

The Atomic Energy Commission approved an "exemption" to CP&L's permit request which will allow the utility to do work "at its own risk" prior to obtaining a construction permit from the government.

The AEC's regulatory staff completed safety and environmental reviews of the application for the construction permit last July.

However, the Environmental Protection Agency and the state of North Carolina refused to grant water quality certificate variances which could permit the plant to empty heated water into a large, man-made lake planned for that purpose.

Additional public hearings and safety and environmental reviews could delay the start of construction by more than six months, the AEC said. CP&L plans to complete the four-unit plant in 1982.

Under the exemption granted Tuesday, CP&L may do such work as site clearing, construct temporary buildings and excavate for permanent structures at the site of the proposed four-unit Harris plant.

The utility will undertake the exempted work at its own risk, subject to further safety and environmental impact findings by the regulatory staff, and the results of public hearings.

Students Draft Proposed Laws Maury Student On Dean's List

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Twenty University of Nebraska students are not only earning while they learn, but are getting their feet wet in government affairs. The 20 are participating in a state government internship program that pays them $600 and three credit hours for a semester on such jobs as helping draft proposed legislation and collecting data for reports.

MACON, Ga.—Henry Allen Baldree of Maury, N.C., has been named to the dean's list at Mercer University in Macon for the fall quarter of 1974.

To make the dean's list, a student must carry at least 15 quarter hours of work and maintain a B-plus or better in all courses carried.

Cars Collided At Intersection

Robert Linwood Powell of 123 King George Rd. was charged with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident following investigation of a 12:35 p.m. collision at the intersection of First and Greene Streets here yesterday.

Police reported the Powell car collided with a vehicle operated by William Jarvis Sawyer of Route 5, Greenville causing an estimated $700 damage to the Sawyer car and about $1,500 damage to the Powell vehicle.

No injuries were reported.

THEY RETIRED HER NUMBER

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernestine Jackson, the star of the Broadway show, "Raisin," has something new in her wardrobe. But she never wears it.

A former Chock Ful O' Nuts waitress, the chain retired her uniform and number, 3535, and gave it to her. Miss Jackson put it in her closet.
