

Recommend Prompt Pool Negotiation

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

A recommendation that the City Council begin immediate negotiations in efforts to reduce the cost of a new swimming pool as much as possible and approve low bids was unanimously approved by the Greenville Recreation Commission on Wednesday.

Meeting at a special call meeting in the late afternoon, commissioners gave their wholehearted support to the recommendation stated in a letter drafted by Recreation Department Director Boyd Lee. Lee will present the commission's stand to the City Council tonight.

At the meeting commission members discussed the entire spectrum of possibilities open—i.e., asking the City Council to press ahead for early construction with paring of costs if possible through negotiations with contractors; substituting alternates written into the bids that would result in lowered construction standards; deleting certain items (i.e., the diving well); rejecting all bids and resubmitting new bids; or holding the project in abeyance until a later date, hopeful that construction and material costs might de-escalate.

As it stands now, low bids in four categories total $270,028, which is $120,028 above the $150,000 in funds previously allocated by the City Council for construction of a first public pool in Greenville.

Greenville architect William (Bill) Friend termed some elements of the bid "ridiculous." He said contractors were obviously giving bids that would include any future rise in cost of building materials and labor and still allow them to make a profit.

It was the consensus of commission members, architect Friend and City Manager William (Bill) Carstarphen that a realistic figure to which the $270,000 might be trimmed to is something in the neighborhood of $225,000.

Carstarphen remarked that the commission's action "will leave to the discretion of the city council how to build the pool."

Another Increase In Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices took another big leap forward in February but the increase fell short of soaring rates of previous months, the government said today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said that wholesale prices jumped by a seasonally adjusted 1.2 per cent last month, the smallest advance in four months but a highly inflationary rate nevertheless.

The increase pushed wholesale prices 20.3 per cent higher than a year earlier, an extraordinarily sharp rise for any 12-month period but still below record levels.

The February increase lifted the Wholesale Price Index to 152.7 of the 1967 average, meaning that it cost $152.70 to buy the same volume of wholesale goods that $100 purchased in 1967. The increase means that consumers will be seeing many of the rises at the retail level in the weeks ahead.

About 70 per cent of the February increase was traced to price increases for fuel, primarily gasoline and residual fuels; metals, farm products and processed foods and feeds.

But prices of meats and fresh fruits ready for the consumer declined on a seasonally adjusted basis, the bureau said.

Before seasonal adjustment, the report said the rise in wholesale prices was 1.5 per cent. Wholesale prices of farm products, processed foods and feeds were up 1.6 per cent on an unadjusted basis. Industrial commodities were up 1.4 per cent.

The report said that prices of refined petroleum products jumped 2.1 per cent in February, as higher prices for gasoline, residual fuels and lubricants were offset partially by drops in prices of light and middle distillate fuels. Crude oil prices soared by 13 per cent and electric power, natural gas and coal prices were up substantially.

Iron and steel scrap prices leaped about 25 per cent and prices of other metals went up sharply as well, presaging higher costs later for goods from which these raw materials are made.

Equalized Gasoline Distribution Is Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal energy chief William E. Simon announced today he is ordering gasoline distribution to insure that all states receive at least 85 per cent as much gasoline this month as they had two years ago.

Simon said, however, that states with better than normal supplies would not have their supplies reduced toward the 85 per cent average this month.

Any additional supplies required for some states will be drawn from gasoline inventories, Simon said.

Simon added, however, that beginning in April he would start equalizing the distribution, aiming for a spread of no more than 5 per cent above or below the national average in any individual state supply.

Simon said Alaska, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, North Carolina, Texas and Wyoming all will receive 100 per cent or more of their March 1972, gasoline supply levels this month.

"We will be carefully assessing the supply situation in such states," Simon warned. "In April no state will have an allocation fraction above a maximum of 95 per cent."

Simon said that before the adjustments which he is ordering for March, initial estimates showed wide differences in state supplies expected for this month.

He said state supplies ranged from as low as 61.7 per cent of the 1972 level to as high as 107 per cent and the national average was 84.3 per cent of March 1972, levels.

By raising the low-supply states to at least 85 per cent Simon increased the national average to 89.6 per cent of March 1972, levels.

These percentages, however, do not show the actual extent of gasoline shortages since they are measured against 1972.

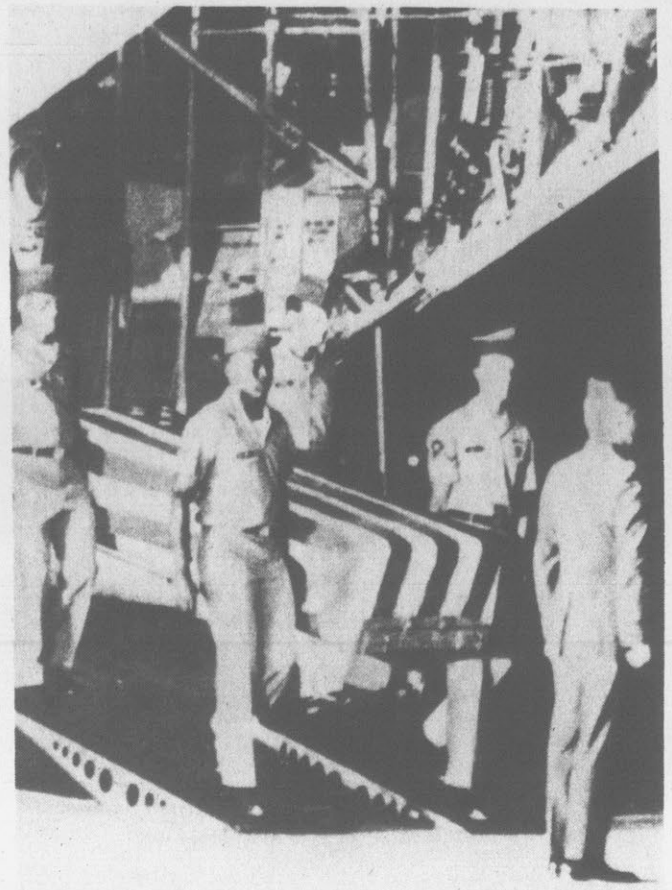

During the past two years gasoline demand has increased and Simon did not provide figures showing how far short of potential demand the March supplies would fall.

A listing issued at the National Governors Conference, where Simon made his announcement, showed that 30 states would have been below the minimum 85 per cent supply level without the additional supplies which Simon ordered for them.

New Hampshire would have been in the worst shape in March, initially anticipating only 61.7 per cent of its March 1972 gasoline supplies.

Simon modified New Hampshire's allocation to bring it up to 85 per cent, just as he increased the allocations of the other states with low supplies.

Indictments Returned For Psychiatrist's File Raid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted former White House aides John D. Ehrlichman and Charles W. Colson on a charge of violating the civil rights of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Also indicted on the same charge were Watergate conspirators G. Gordon Liddy, Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martinez and Felipe De Diego.

The indictment charged that the defendants engineered the break-in of the Beverly Hills of-ice of Dr. Lewis J. Fielding "with intent to search for confidential information concerning Daniel Ellsberg."

The burglary took place on Sept. 3, 1971, when Ellsberg was under indictment in connection with the leak of the Pentagon Papers.

The grand jury also indicted Liddy on two counts of refusing to testify before a House committee.

Liddy already is serving a sentence for contempt of court for his refusal to testify before a grand jury.

Liddy was sentenced to serve a maximum of 20 years for his role in the June 17, 1972 break-in at Democratic National Committee Headquarters.

Ehrlichman also was charged with one count of lying to FBI agents and three counts of lying to a grand jury about the activities of the White House special investigative unit known as the "plumbers."

The indictment alleged that on July 27, 1971 Egil Krogh Jr. and David R. Young Jr. sent a memorandum to Ehrlichman which discussed a request to prepare a psychiatric study on Ellsberg.

Krogh has pleaded guilty to a single charge of violating Fielding's civil rights and is serving a six-month sentence at a federal prison at Allenwood, Pa.

Krogh agreed to cooperate with the prosecutors.

The indictment also alleged that on July 28, 1971 E. Howard Hunt Jr. sent Colson a memo which discussed a proposal to "obtain Ellsberg's files from his psychiatric analyst."

The indictment alleged that on Aug. 31, 1971 Colson arranged to obtain $5,000 to finance the break-in.

N.C. To Get Gas

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Jim Holshouser said today North Carolina will receive in March nearly 31 million gallons of gasoline more than was available in February.

Holshouser, in a statement released by his office, said new allocations announced in Washington today by the Federal Energy Office would pour 14.1 million gallons into North Carolina above February's allocation of 168.5 million gallons.

Holshouser said the increase, plus an estimated 16.8 million gallons reserved under an emergency allocation at the end of last month, would push the state's available supply for March to 199.4 million gallons. Most of the emergency allocation has not been delivered, he said.

The governor said the additional increases meant that, for March, North Carolina would have 105 per cent of its gasoline supply for March 1972, the base year for federal programs. The FEO said North Carolina was one of seven states with 100 per cent or more of its March 1972 supply.

Watch The Girl, Arrest The Boy

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — At a local service club meeting where he was guest speaker, Omaha Police Chief Richard Anderson was asked what police would do if they saw someone indulging in the latest campus fad of streaking — running nude.

"If a girl does it, we watch. If a boy does it, we arrest him," the chief quipped.

Large Party To Accompany Pat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency and President Nixon's own doctor will be among 50 persons accompanying First Lady Pat Nixon on a diplomatic mission next week to Latin America.

Mrs. Nixon will be her husband's personal emissary for the inauguration of the new presidents of Venezuela and Brazil.

Joining Mrs. Nixon as a goodwill ambassador for the ceremonies will be Nicholas H. Morley, a Miami businessman involved in investment and land development.

The U.S. ambassadors to Venezuela and Brazil are to comprise the rest of the delegation, the White House said Wednesday.

To attend the inauguration March 12 of Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez, Mrs. Nixon will be returning to Caracas for the first time since 1958, when she and then Vice President Nixon were beset in their motorcade by an angry mob.

This time, Mrs. Nixon will have the protection of seven Secret Service agents traveling along with her as well as other security forces when she arrives in Venezuela.

Deputy CIA Director Vernon A. Walters, who was with the Nixons during the tense 1958 incident, is going back as Mrs. Nixon's interpreter, according to the White House.

Spain Wants To End Concordat

MADRID (AP) — Authoritative sources said today the government has told the Vatican it is ready to end the 1953 Church-state concordat because of the case involving Spanish Bishop Antonio Anoveros. This would remove the protection given him from prosecution.

The bishop is under fire for a sermon urging more freedom for the Basques, and the government has threatened the 64-year-old prelate with indictment or expulsion. Either action, without the approval of the Vatican, would violate the concordat, which regulates relations between Church and state.

British Miners Return Into Coal Pits Monday

LONDON (AP) — Britain's 280,000 coal miners are due back at work Monday following a wage settlement to end their month-long strike. But industry that has been snarled by the walkout is expected to take some time to get back into full production.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson was expected to order a speedy end to the three-day work week on which his Conservative predecessor put much of Britain's industry to conserve coal-supplied electric power. But much of industry will take some time to get back into full production because the shortened work week disrupted the flow of raw materials and component parts.

Maintenance men began preparing the coal pits today just hours after the leaders of the miners' union reached a $230-million-a-year wage agreement in 12 hours of bargaining with the National Coal Board.

The settlement was the first order of business for Wilson's new Labor government, which took office Monday after displacing Edward Heath's Conservatives in the general election last week.

To get the settlement, the government threw out the 7 per cent anti-inflation ceiling on pay raises which the Conservatives tried to defend in the elections.

Even before the voting, however, it was generally conceded that whichever party won would put aside the ceiling to end the strike. And the settlement that was accepted was proposed by a fact-finding pay board appointed by Heath's government.

The miners will get an average increase of 22 per cent, with the lowest category of basic pay increasing from $58.17 to $71.30 a week and the highest from $84.60 to $103.50. Bonuses for shift work and other benefits will mean an additional $18.40 for most of the underground force.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has killed pay raises for Congress and high government officials, and a new look is going to be taken at the law under which they were proposed.

"The Senate has just screwed up the system," Republican leader Hugh Scott said after it became apparent the higher salaries budgeted by President Nixon were doomed.

He was referring to a 1967 law that established procedures under which pay adjustments were to be recommended every four years by a Scare Tactic?

CHICAGO (AP) — Baking industry officials continue their warnings of a possible wheat shortage, despite denials from the Agriculture Department and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Robert J. Wager, president of the American Bakers Association, said Wednesday bakers need 250 to 300 million bushels of wheat between April and June if supplies are to be maintained without interruption.

He contested Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz's statement that there would be a carryover of 178 million bushels during that period. He said he expects a carryover of "practically zero."

Wager urged the Agriculture Department to determine the minimum wheat supply necessary to insure adequate bakery production and then "develop a plan to provide that supply."

He also said his association wants all shipments of U.S. wheat to foreign countries delayed until after July 1.

The American Farm Bureau accused the bakers of "a politically oriented scare campaign ... to stampee Congress into unwise action to slap export controls and move toward some form of costly government storage."

Senators Vote To Kill Pay-Raise Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has killed pay raises for Congress and high government officials, and a new look is going to be taken at the law under which they were proposed.

"The Senate has just screwed up the system," Republican leader Hugh Scott said after it became apparent the higher salaries budgeted by President Nixon were doomed.

He was referring to a 1967 law that established procedures under which pay adjustments were to be recommended every four years by a Commission on Executive, Legislative and Judicial Salaries.

The President then submits his own proposals after reviewing the Commission's recommendations, and they take effect automatically unless disapproved within 30 days by the Senate or the House.

Nixon budgeted pay raises of 7.5 per cent this year and for each of the next two years, a scaling down and a spreading out of the immediate 25 per cent increase recommended by the salary commission.

But the Senate killed the raises Tuesday, not only for Congress but also for federal judges and top executive branch officials.

A resolution of disapproval was adopted by a 69-28 vote after the Senate earlier had voted 67-31, one more than the required two-thirds majority, for a debate cutoff that forced a showdown.

Present congressional salaries of $42,500 a year, last raised in 1969, would have gone up to $45,700 this year, $49,100 next year and $52,800 under the President's budget.

Federal judges and top executive officials would have received comparable increases except that Supreme Court justices and Cabinet members would have received a single $4,500 raise next year in their $60,000 salaries.

Immediately after the debate cutoff vote, Chairman Gale McGee, D-Wyo., said his Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, which handles pay legislation, would take a new look this spring at the 1967 law to decide whether it should be revised or scrapped.

North Pitt Senior Wins Morehead Scholarship

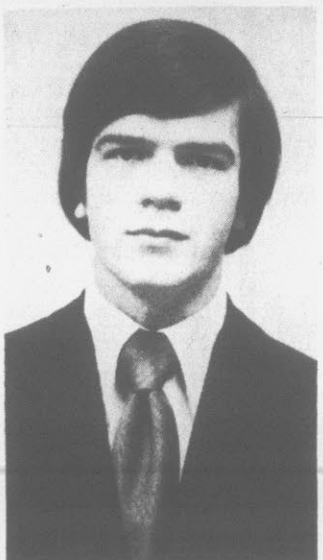

North Pitt High School Senior Jeffery Brent Price has been named a recipient of a John Motley Morehead Scholarship by the Morehead Foundation.

This is the second consecutive year that a North Pitt student has received this honor. Last year's recipient was James Nelson Jr. of Bethel.

Morehead Awards provide all expense paid undergraduate educations at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

President of the Pitt County Honor Society and the Teen Dem Club, Price has been a Sunday School teacher and a radio columnist for his school. He plays football and baseball at North Pitt.

Third in a class of 242 students,

JEFFERY PRICE

Price also works at a Bethel grocery store, drives a school bus and works on his family's farm.

He is the son of Malotha B. Price of Rt. 2, Robersonville.

The scholarships are worth $2,500 per year for four years while he is a student at Carolina, as long as he is a superior citizen of the undergraduate student body and is unmarried.

Nutritionist Urges Wise Meal Planning During Period Of Skyrocketing Food Prices

By FRANCINE PERRY
ECU News Bureau

"Nutrition Saves," the year's motto for National Nutrition Week (March 3-9), is a timely message to all Americans who are concerned about eating well during a period of skyrocketing food prices.

National Nutrition Week is annually sponsored by the American Dietetic Association. One of the organization's 24,000 members, Dr. Alice Scott of the East Carolina University School of Home Economics, believes that proper diet is often a matter of wisely spent dollars and cents. "The more expensive cuts of meat are no better nutritionally than the cheaper cuts," she said, "and lower grades of meat usually have more lean than the higher grades."

"Two good meat buys are stew beef or beef chuck. The shopper should select lean pieces with little bone and gristle. When cooked slowly with moist heat to tenderize and develop the flavor, the food values are best preserved."

"Other often-overlooked bargains are day-old enriched breads and rolls, and cooked cereals rather than the ready-to-eat kinds."

Cooked cereals cost considerably less per serving than the popular cold cereals, she explained, and lend themselves to greater variety in the menu.

The American Dietetic Association recommends this cooked cereal recipe as a good main dish for "meatless suppers."

"Four cooked enriched cereal into a well-greased loaf pan; chill, then slice and fry in a small amount of cooking oil. This makes a delicious supper dish, served with milk or cheese, for flavor and well-rounded nutrition at minimum expense."

The ADA also recommends ordinary dry beans, an economical source of iron, as a base for chili soups and chowders and for baked beans, a dish which can be made in quantity and frozen for later use.

Meat loaf can be nutritionally and economically stretched by the addition of one cup of uncooked oats and one cup of tomato juice to one and a half pounds of ground beef.

Another boost to the food budget is home-cooked soup. Vegetable, split pea, tomato, bean and potato soups are inexpensive, nutritious and simple to prepare.

"Chicken should be bought whole," says Dr. Scott. "The necks, backs and wings can be made into a good chicken broth with rice or noodles."

"Canned mackerel, rather than the more costly tuna or salmon, is a good and inexpensive source for fish croquettes. And cabbage and carrots are higher in nutrition than many of the more expensive fresh vegetables."

"In the area of dairy foods, many people spend more money than they need for good nutrition. Margarine is just as nutritious as butter, but costs a good deal less. Reconstituted nonfat dry milk can be added to liquid whole milk to make it go farther."

"Grade B eggs are as nutritious as grade A eggs, and white and brown eggs have the same food value, so the shopper should buy whichever costs less."

Like many nutritionists, Dr. Scott believes that vitamin preparations are a needless expense, if the proper daily diet is available.

"The well-balanced diet incorporates each of the basic four foods: meats and meat substitutes, milk and milk products, fruits and vegetables, (especially the deep green, orange and yellow ones), and enriched cereals and breads."

"When something from each of these groups is included in his diet, a person should normally have all the protein, vitamins and minerals necessary for health."

Other nutritious money savers are unsliced bacon, which is easy to slice as needed for cooking; herbs and spices which can turn leftovers into a special treat over rice; less expensive grades of fruit which are fine for sauces, cobblers and puddings; and potatoes, which when cooked in the skin, keep more of the original nutrients than when peeled before cooking.

Dr. Scott is chairman of the ECU Department of Food, Nutrition and Institution Management, whose BS degree program prepares students for food service administration or clinical dietetics.

Graduates of the program may enter food research, community nutrition or become dietitians with allied health agencies.

Most graduates enter the good service administration field, where they direct industrial, commercial, or institutional food services—hospitals, schools, airlines, convalescent centers and rehabilitation centers.

College teaching is an option to students who pursue graduate studies for the MS degree.

Students in food, nutrition and institution management take courses in business, the sciences and the social sciences as well as nutrition. Upon graduation they may enter an internship or traineeship program in a specialized field of dietetics or go on for graduate study.

With additional training, graduates are eligible to take the national qualifying examination to become registered dietitians.

The curriculum includes a clinical internship, involving actual work in food service and health care. During the spring several students from ECU will be working at hospitals in Raleigh, Washington, Rocky Mount, Greenville and Kinston. One student will be an intern in the kitchen of the Greenville Country Club.

Recently, ECU has been assisting Pitt Technical Institute which offers an associate in applied science degree in dietetic technology.

Students in this program enroll in nutrition classes at ECU while taking other courses at Pitt Tech. The emphasis is upon food service management in such areas as schools, commercial operations, industrial cafeterias, child care programs, and health-related food services.

Job possibilities at all levels are very promising for today's student. Research is continuing to reveal more about the role nutrition plays in physical and mental health, and more trained professionals are needed to help the public meet its nutritional needs.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

My son is going through a phase called "Orphan's Dream" that is rarely mentioned in the child psychology books.

It's a time of life when he wants to resign from the family... be free... independent... and list his parents on his permanent record card as "Missing."

It's a time of life when parents wish they had quit with a cocker spaniel.

It's difficult to define Orphan's Dream, only to say if this were 1939 and we were in Germany with a hidden radio, he would turn us in for an 8 by 10 glossy of the Fuehrer.

Conversation is limited to short, terse answers usually shouted through a door, under a door, over the shoulder or with his mouth full of food.

This is a typical exchange that went on the other night under the bathroom door.

"Are you in there?"
"Is who in there?"
"You."
"Were you expecting David Cassidy?"

"Is your homework done?" I asked.
"Did HE tell you it wasn't?"
"I'm asking. And if you're not in the shower, why is it running?"

"Not that anyone cares, but it cleans out the pores."
"Also the 40-gallon hot water heater. You're on for dishes."

"I knew that's what THEY'D say. I did them the night before last because we had macaroni and the pot is still soaking."
"Let's talk about it."
"I knew you'd take THEIR side. Well, why don't you get HER for piercing her ears with an ice cube when you told her not to."

"We're not talking about her," I offered.

"We never do. It's always me. Everytime there's something in this family to do, it's always me. Take out the garbage. Turn off the porch light. Change the channel. Put the milk away. You have two children and a slave in this house."

I've survived the Orphan's Dream syndrome before. The negativeness... the self-admiration... the contrariness and the hostility. But it isn't easy. As I said to him under the door, "I can't seem to make one statement without being contradicted."

He opened the door and faced me defiantly. "Oh, yes, you can!"

Show Consideration To Persons With A Hearing Loss

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell the reading public that millions of otherwise perfectly normal people have a hearing loss and all they expect from their friends and relatives is a little consideration. Example: I have had people [on discovering that I wear a hearing aid] speak to me as tho I am mentally deficient and unable to comprehend normal language. Some even shout at me, amplifying the sound to such an excruciating pitch, I nearly faint from the thundering noise!

A few tips: Speak distinctly... don't mumble, but don't shout either. Don't everybody talk at once. If someone else is talking, wait until he has finished. When talking to one who has a hearing loss, talk TO him—not AT him, or around him.

And please remember—we are not stupid—only hard of hearing.

SAID MY SAY

DEAR SAID: Your "say" was well worth repeating. I'll pass it along.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was a young bride when her husband went overseas in the service. She wrote to him every day. She was lucky if she got a letter from him once every three weeks, and when he did write he said things like, "I am leaving my wedding ring in the drawer and am having myself a good time." She used to cry herself to sleep every night.

I said to her, "Don't be a fool. Don't write to him for three weeks. Then write that you decided to leave your wedding ring in the drawer, too, and you are also now having a good time. In the next letter, write and tell him you met a lovely man who is making you forget your loneliness."

Abby, it worked like a charm. Her husband started to write every day, asking her questions, and telling her how much he loved her.

Everything worked out just like I thought it would. By the time he got home, they were madly in love. I believe in fighting fire with fire.

MAMMA KNOWS BEST

DEAR MAMMA: Not all sick marriages respond to the same treatment. In your daughter's case, it worked. But usually when people fight fire with fire, they end up with ashes.

In Later Years They'll Wonder

Streaking is the latest phenomenon to hit the college campuses.

We don't know whether the appeal of this latest group activity is in a basic desire to get closer to nature, or what. Perhaps just the name of it is catchy enough to cause the daring among college students shed their garments and race off into the night.

As with most college fads there are those who see the latest one as a moral problem, but most experts on human behaviour write off streaking as just another fad which will eventually go the way of gold fish swallowing, flag pole sitting and even panty raids.

We are inclined to agree with the experts. A few cases of poison ivy, briar and such will soon cause the number of participants to dwindle.

TV-Watching Top Pastime

By GEORGE GALLUP

(Copyright 1974, Field Enterprises, Inc. All rights reserved. Republication in whole or part strictly prohibited, except with the written consent of the copyright holders.)

PRINCETON, N. J.—Watching television remains our most popular evening pastime, with nearly half of all persons interviewed in the latest Gallup survey (46 per cent) saying this is their favorite way of spending an evening. The proportion naming television, however, has not increased since a 1966 survey when an identical proportion named it as their favorite pastime.

On the other hand, movies, the theater and radio have regained some of their former appeal. In addition, the proportion of the public who say that being with the family—engaging in family activities at home—is their favorite way of spending an evening has doubled since the 1966 survey, from 5 per cent to 10 per cent. This tends to confirm the observation of some social scientists that the trend toward dissolution of the family unit may be abating.

By way of comparison, reading was highest on the 1938 list, followed by the movies, the theater and dancing. Each of these pastimes fell off sharply in the next survey in 1960. By that year, television dominated the list, named by 28 per cent. It then reached its high point (46 per cent) in 1966 and has subsequently leveled off.

Next in popularity in the 1960 survey (cited by 17 per cent) was engaging in family activities. This percentage, however, dropped sharply in the 1966 survey—to 5 per cent—but subsequently has climbed to the current 10 per cent.

First, here is the 1974 list, based on the same question asked in each of the previous surveys—"What is your favorite way of spending an evening?"

Favorite Pastime Nationwide—1974

Watching television	46%
Reading	14
Dining out	12
Staying at home with family; engaging in family activities at home	10
Movies—theater	9
Resting—relaxing	8
Visiting friends	8
Entertaining friends	8
Playing cards—scrabble—crossword puzzles—games	8
Participating in sports	5
Listening to radio—records	5
Dancing	4
Sewing	3
Working in home workshop—home repair	3
Club or church meetings	3
Other responses	9
	155%

(Note: The total adds to more than 100 per cent because of multiple responses.)

The following table compares favorite pastimes in 1938 with those recorded in 1960, 1966 and 1974:

	1938	1960	1966	1974
Reading	21%	10%	15%	14%
Movies—theater	17	6	5	9
Watching television	—	28	46	46
Dancing	12	3	2	4
Radio	9	x	2	5
Playing cards	9	6	5	8
Staying at home with family	7	17	5	10
Visiting friends	4	10	5	8

x Less than 1 per cent.

Sharp Differences Found By Level Of Education

As might be expected, sharp differences emerge on the basis of the public's level of formal education. For example, 29 per cent of persons with a college background say watching television is their favorite way of spending an evening, compared to 48 per cent among persons with a high school background and 62 per cent among those whose formal education has been limited to grade school.

The college-educated group is more likely than are those with less formal education to cite the following as favorite evening pastimes: entertaining friends, dining out, and attending movies or the theater.

The latest national findings are based on a total of 1,562 adults, 18 and older, interviewed in person in more than 300 scientifically selected localities during the periods Feb. 8-11 and Feb. 15-18.

Streakers don't really hurt anybody, as long as they keep moving and stay on the generally planned routes on the college campuses. And in a few years participants by then involved in careers and families will wonder what in the world possessed them to throw off their clothes and race around campus in the spring of '74.

Can Expect A Higher Price In Next Bidding

It is regrettable that bids for the planned new municipal swimming pool have come in far ahead of the funds which were included in this year's budget.

City officials presently are studying the bids to see what can be done. Hopefully something can be worked out through negotiation and paring of the facilities so that the pool can be built. If the construction is put off, we can expect even higher costs at the next bidding, since costs of building are continuing to soar.

Sees Problems In Lib Fight

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—Women libbers may be selling their less militant sisters down the river in the present fight for an Equal Rights Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

"Those libbers say it is all for equality... but I haven't sat down yet with a woman's group that understands what is really at stake," said State Senator Michael P. Mullins, R-Mecklenburg.

In short, Mullins believes, women simply aren't looking at the proposal logically.

What women will lose if the amendment is adopted far outweighs any gains, the senator said, and added that he doesn't really see any gains.

"They think it will mean better jobs and more pay—equal to that of men. Why, we've already got those laws on the book.

"The only thing the amendment would do is prohibit the federal and state governments from discriminating on the basis of sex.

"And that doesn't even apply to private businesses. If a woman already had difficulty getting a loan, say, she will continue to have that difficulty," Mullins said.

Law Already Covers

"Everything that women think they're gonna get out of ERA, they already have in federal law," he added.

"The women's libbers are selling that concept of equality and promoting this without any concern for the housewife—the woman who isn't interested.

"But what about that housewife who spends 25 years of her life with a man, working hard for her family and then one day the guy gets fed up and cuts out with some young and pretty thing.

"Why, the law will say, should she get half of his estate. She could end up with nothing. This is one of the fallouts from that amendment. It will take some court cases, but I can see that coming, and as a lawyer, I could win.

"Under that amendment, a husband would have no more obligation to support a child than the wife has... that would end child support laws," Mullins believes.

And alimony would become a thing of the past, Mullins believes.

Women would also become subject to the draft. "The libbers are saying we don't have a draft. We've had the draft suspended before, but if they get short of people, it will come back.

"Okay, then. The women say the military will put them where they are best suited for the work. Well, suppose a man sees a woman assigned to a clerical job and he is sent to battle. He deserts or takes off for Sweden. He will have a good Constitutional defense for his action by claiming that the Army was discriminating against him by not putting women on the front lines."

U. S. Quotas?

Mullins also predicts federal quotas for employment of women, requiring certain percentages not only in governmental jobs, but in private industries doing any contract work with the government.

Last year, the North Carolina General Assembly voted against ratification of the federal amendment. Mullins then introduced a state amendment which passed the state Senate, but recently was killed by a committee of the House of Representatives. That measure if approved by an election would have ended discrimination in North Carolina, but without the fallout predicted if the federal ban passes.

Mullins has also combed the state's General Statutes pulling out any laws he can find which discriminate on the basis of sex. A package of some 50 of those have been introduced in the General Assembly for amendment or repeal.

Many, Mullins said, are holdovers from the 1800's; many have humorous overtones.

For instance, a law forbidding wife stealing would be repealed, and so would a law which makes it illegal to impersonate a lady's husband in order to have sex with her.

There is a law under which a man can be charged with being a tramp—a lady cannot.

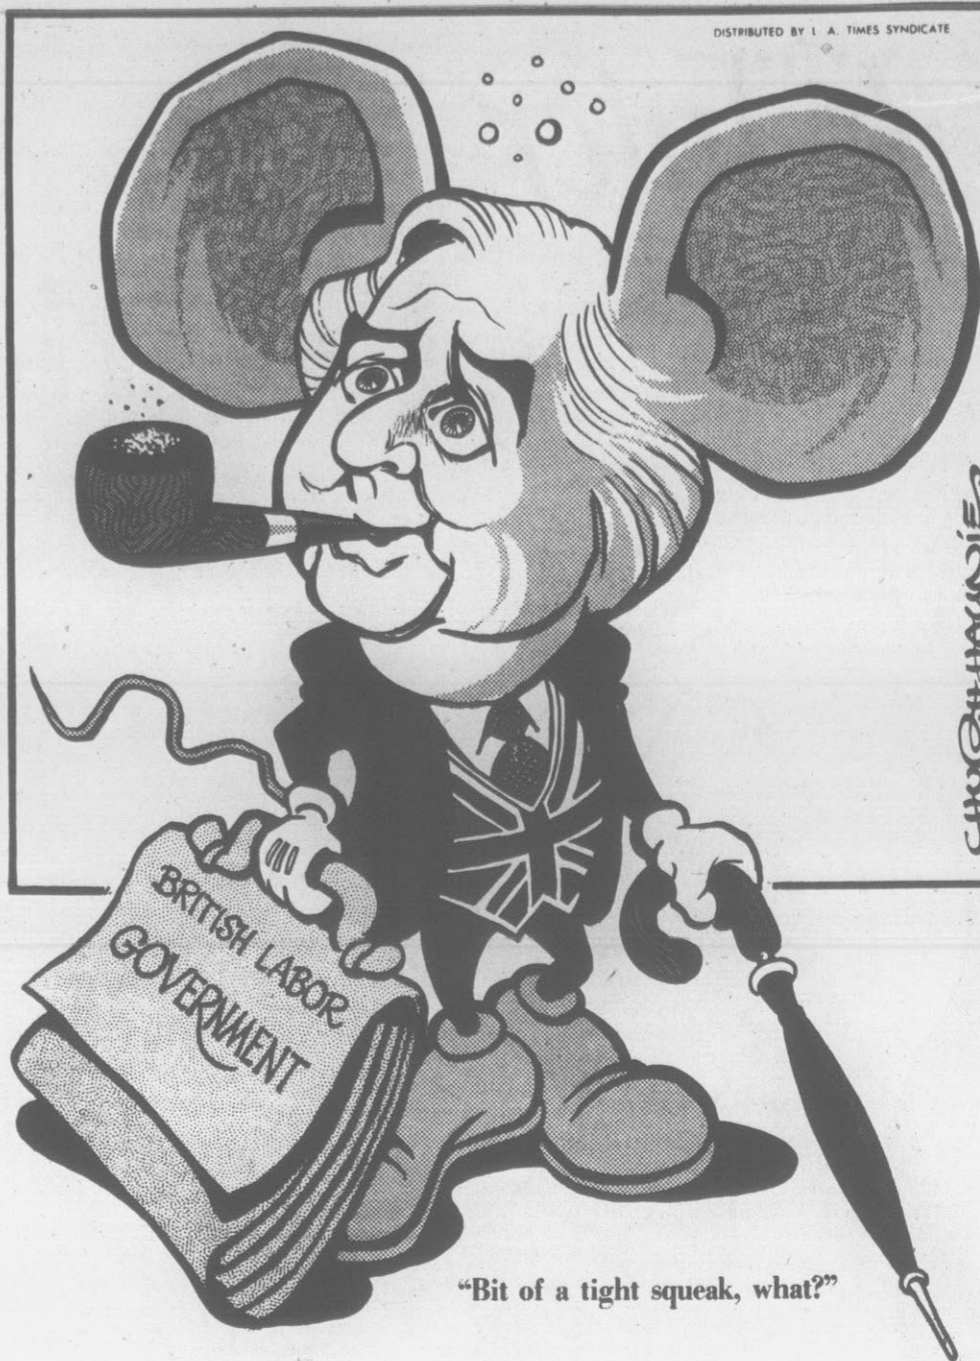

"At first, I thought I would just amend that one so a lady could be charged with being a tramp... but I decided repeal would be wiser," Mullins laughed.

"Under that amendment, a husband would have no more obligation to support a child than the wife has... that would end child support laws," Mullins believes.

And alimony would become a thing of the past, Mullins believes.

Women would also become subject to the draft. "The libbers are saying we don't have a draft. We've had the draft suspended before, but if they get short of people, it will come back.

"Okay, then. The women say the military will put them

Other Editors Say Thin Silver Lining

(Greensboro Daily News)

If there is some small solace in being more sinned against than anyone else, Carolinians deserve the condolences they have not failed to bestow upon themselves during recent weeks of gasoline scarcity. The American Automobile Association revealed in its latest report that North and South Carolina emerge as the two states of the union most critically short of gasoline.

Statistics for the Carolinas indicate that none of the service stations surveyed are open after 7 p.m. on weekdays, and none on Sunday. Nationwide, however, almost a quarter of the gas stations are open after 7, and slightly more than one out of ten on Sundays.

So we may be permitted our anger for long hours of waiting. The waiting itself has prompted a rediscovery of some forgotten pleasures and pastimes regained from a time when cars had not yet become the virtual human appendages they are today. It is a testament to our spunk and unwavering sense of humor that we have found ways to make good use of a bad situation.

Here in North Carolina, for instance, four complete strangers were found seated around a card table next to a long line of waiting cars, playing bridge and sipping beer.

Two sisters in Raleigh who had never been able to find time together now make a practice of bringing coffee and their knitting to the gasoline wait, and chat the hours away. Another woman was observed to be stringing a batch of pole beans in the front seat for her family's supper.

Reading is apparently undergoing a small revival behind the steering wheels of stationary cars. The service station queue is a place for homework, or bookkeeping, or sewing, or even, it's said, some pre-dawn billing and cooing.

To offset these small rewards, there is much discomfort and unpleasantness. But as we curse our fate here in North Carolina, we might as well take time out and give ourselves a brief round of applause for finding ways to stay productive and happy.

Ghost Town A Retreat

By BILLIE BROWN

Associated Press Writer
POETRY, Ga. (AP) — This 86-acre ghost town in north Georgia's Chattooga County, where the half-breed sequoyah once forged the Cherokee alphabet, has a new future in American letters—as a poets' retreat.

Its planned renaissance began three years ago with a vision, says Poetry's mayor and founder, Anne Otwell, a college dropout from nearby Rome.

She spent the winter of 1971 in the settlement's one extant building—since burned to the ground—a decaying farmhouse with no heating or plumbing. She went there, she says, to meditate.

Originally named Tulip, the settlement dates back to Indian times.

It once boasted a railway station, post office, cobbler's shop and 60 to 80 homesteads.

An aspiring but frustrated poet herself, Ms. Otwell says she became convinced during her stay in Tulip that she and others like herself could "put Poetry on the map."

So she bought the land and changed its name, borrowed several thousand dollars and incorporated herself and a few other hopefuls into "The Poets Club of Georgia Inc."

This year, the charter club in Rome branched out with a new chapter in Atlanta. Combined membership is about 300.

Club officers publish a monthly journal as a showcase for members' poems. In addition, each edition focuses on the history of a different Georgia city. The club will publish the work of any member.

"We started from the very beginning determined not to be an exclusive club judging what is poetry and what is not," said Ms. Otwell. "If a person calls himself a poet, we will call him a poet.

"We aren't going to get too intellectual," she says, adding that she believes the trend of Information relative to the development of Greenville as an inland waterway port was set forth today by Samuel F. Dickenson, secretary-traffic manager of the Eastern North Carolina Association of Greenville.

The facts set forth by Mr. Dickenson pertain to freight rate discrimination in the south, which is hoped to be improved by deepening the Tar River and opening the stream to navigation.

Preparations have been almost completed today for the annual meeting and banquet of the Pitt County chapter of the University of North Carolina Alumni Association to be held at the Woman's club Thursday at 7 p.m.

Election of officers for the coming year as well as speeches by representatives of the University will be the highlights of the session.

Among the speakers will be Coach Carl Snavely of the athletic department; Marion Saunders, secretary of the Alumni Association, and R. W. Madry, publicity director of the University.

Small Investor Poses Concern

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Bidding time while public and private securities officials try to put the Humpty-Dumpty stock markets together again, America's individual investors are inclined to muse.

Is the New York Stock Exchange really fighting for the survival of the small investor? Or, in its congressional testimony and speeches and other activities, is it fighting for its own survival?

The choices aren't necessarily alternatives; they are not mutually exclusive. The exchange, in fact, would like you to believe they are part of the same goal, and has skillfully joined its interest with those of the public.

Basic to its strategy for a central securities market, for example, is the premise that a stock market, no matter how well run, cannot function properly without the random buying and selling of individuals.

And so, those individual investors who have been driven from the markets by fear of institutional whipsawing of prices, inefficiencies, scandals, lack of confidence and the like, might listen as they wait.

The answer might never be discerned, but the exercise need not be in vain.

To begin with, James Needham, New York Stock Exchange chairman, believes the small investor isn't returning to the market for a while. He feels, in fact, that the investor population is likely to decline for an unspecified period.

He concedes that the securities markets and the people who operate them have lost credibility, and he maintains that the exchanges' recommendations for rebuilding the markets are an effort also at rebuilding believability. But there are other factors too.

"What will get him back?" he was asked.

"A better economic climate," he replied. "Lower interest rates and more certainty in international and Washington affairs.

A better taxing situation would contribute, Needham believes. He advocates a maximum capital gains tax of 25 per cent as an incentive to investors. The maximum was raised to 35 per cent in 1969.

Ever since, Needham insists, the individual investor has been at a disadvantage. "We say 25 per cent with a sliding scale." The tax bite would decline with the length of time the stock was held.

"Would lower commissions help?"

A year from now brokers will be charging negotiated, or competitive rather than fixed rates, as they do now. Some government and private analysts believe this will mean lower charges to individuals. Needham disagrees.

"Competition will increase the cost to the individual investor," he said flatly.

"Even when investors will be able to pick and choose the specific service they want from the broker rather than taking the entire bundle of services, including research and advice?"

"Unbundling is a myth," he stated. "There isn't that much to unbundle. Research is only 3 to 5 per cent of the (Continued on Page 5)

CASTING SEED
Back about the middle of the nineteenth century, the seaports of Korea were tightly closed to all the ships of western nations. But a missionary who was distributing in China Bibles written in the Chinese language heard that an American ship captain was going to enter a Korean harbor in defiance of the ban and by pledging his peaceful intentions try to secure the permission of the authorities to carry on trade. The missionary decided to go along in the hope of getting some of his Bibles into the hands of Koreans.

The ship entered the harbor without incident and was staying in the harbor when it was suddenly attacked by the natives. Nevertheless the missionary jumped onto the dock with his Bibles. He was killed almost instantly.

Some years later when missionaries were given permission to enter Korea, they found that thousands of people had read these Bibles and were eager to hear Christian preaching. "So is the Kingdom of God as if a man should cast seed into the ground... and the seed should spring up and grow, he knoweth not how."

Seek Changing Libel 'Shield'

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — On President Nixon's orders, the Justice Department is trying to draft legislation intended to strip away one of the news media's principal shields against libel suits by public officials or public figures.

The presidential move was disclosed by ranking White House officials, who said Nixon's objective was to give political candidates better defenses against slanderous or libelous campaign attacks.

As outlined by these officials in interviews, the White House plan is to present a proposed law intended to overcome a landmark 1964 Supreme Court decision granting newspapers virtual immunity against libel suits by public officials.

While some Justice Department lawyers and other libel attorneys question whether such legislation can overturn a Supreme Court decision, the move appears certain to kindle new controversy in Nixon's re-

Our advertising will suggest the versatility of this indispensable weapon: When not being put to its intended use, our product will crush ice, smash pecans, drive nails, or quiet noisy children it will roll dough, stop a door, hold up a window, or, depending on the size, serve as a bung starter, sand wedge, of fungo bat. We figure our profit at $9.90 each, which is slightly better than Exxon in the last quarter.

No, you will ask what all this has to do with the conservative philosophy. President Geoghegan, I submit, embodies the very essence of American capitalism at work: He proposes to mass-produce a product no one needs, and to sell it at a price no man can refuse. This is the kind of ingenuity and inventiveness which will solve the energy crisis yet. Besides, if people are out walloping their trees, working off aggressions, getting some exercise, unclogging the sap pores, and stimulating circulation, we will have a world at peace. THUNK! That's our motto. total commission dollar." Nevertheless, he feels, competitive rates are inevitable — fixed rates are out.

"I have mixed emotions about it," he said, but "in order to continue with fixed rates we would have to become like a utility. And securities people are traders, swingers. They like to move quickly. A utility-type regulation wouldn't fit the personality."

"What is your opinion about commercial banks selling stocks?"

"I like the fact that they are taking small investors into the market. I applaud Chase Manhattan and other banks for this. But on the other hand I deplore the breaking down of Glass-Steagall." That act, it was once believed, prevented banks from aggressively selling stocks.

"I think there will be a suit. I don't see how the Investment Company Institute (mutual fund spokesman) can avoid it. The issue is not one of reliability, of whether banks are better or worse than brokers.

"It is a public policy issue. Is it desirable? We think Glass-Steagall ought to be reviewed. I'm a populist. Bigness doesn't frighten me but financial concentration does."

lations with the media.

And it could lead eventually to a historic legal confrontation on the Constitution's freedom of the press clause.

The President himself volunteered fleeting mention of his proposal in his Wednesday night news conference, but he didn't divulge his instructions to the Justice Department. Aides said he planned to make that disclosure Friday when he sends Congress his campaign reform package.

Just how the artists' settlement will be developed hasn't yet been determined, she says, but it definitely will be non-commercial. A number of people have already written to ask about long-term leases.

reform package.

At the news conference, while responding to a question about his plan to regulate campaign financing, he added, "We believe candidates should have a right to defend themselves against false charges that are made during the campaign, whether by their opponents or by the press."

According to White House officials familiar with Nixon's views on the issue, the President believes the Supreme Court has gone too far in interpreting the Constitution to protect the media against libel suits by public officials and public figures.

Campaign Spending Limitation Added

Asks Lifting Bus License

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Robert E. Bauman, R-Md., has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to revoke the license of the Carolina Coach Co. He said he believes neither management nor the bus drivers are moving seriously to settle a strike which began last December.

He sent a letter Wednesday to ICC Chairman George M. Stafford urging the commission to grant the franchise promptly to another bus firm so service can be resumed.

Carolina Coach, whose drivers have been striking for higher pay, operates in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Bauman said no other bus company serves Maryland's Eastern Shore. He said many people there rely on Carolina Coach, and have no other way of getting around.

Bauman said that while he was mainly concerned with Maryland, he was requesting revocation of the company's charter to operate any of its routes.

politics apparently entered into the limitation debate. The Republicans said they didn't like it because it would help incumbents by limiting the amount a challenger could spend to publicize himself.

In North Carolina, most incumbents are Democrats.

"It's Hunt's thing," said Sen. Robert Somers, R-Rowan. He referred to the Senate's presiding officer, Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt, a strong supporter of Deane's amendment and a potential gubernatorial candidate in 1976.

Ruth McFadden Will Appear On Telerama

Ruth McFadden, frequent performer on "The Merv Griffin Show" will appear on the March of Dimes Telerama, to be seen on Channel 7, WITN-TV this weekend.

The singer, who has had a command performance for Prince Ranier and Princess Grace and worked with Johnny Cash, Bobby Goldsboro, and Roger Miller will join Channel 7 personalities and local entertainers in the appeal to be televised from 11:30 p.m. Saturday until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Thirty counties in North Carolina will benefit from the funds raised on the Telerama. Contributions will be credited to the chapter of the donor and will be used to care for those suffering from birth defects and for research purposes.

mary and $350,000 in a general election campaign.

"It might be unfair if the limit were lower," Hunt said. "But $350,000 is enough to get known. Governor Holshouser won with less than that in the 1972 primary."

The limitation is not a part of the companion House bill, and it might be more difficult to add it on there. House Speaker James E. Ramsey, D-Person, is considered a possible challenger to Hunt in 1976. Ramsey has never run a statewide campaign for exposure before the voters as Hunt has.

The Senate voted against amendments to limit the amount an individual could contribute to $9,000 over the primary and general election campaign and to extend the scope of the bill to municipal and county elections.

As it now stands, the bill does not apply to those local campaigns and to elections for the U.S. Congress.

The financial disclosure provisions of the bill are aimed at replacing the ineffective 1931 Corrupt Practices Act, whose many loopholes have been used by candidates since 1932.

The bill requires that candidates make public the names and addresses of the donors of all contributions of more than $50. It prohibits cash contributions of more than $100.

Candidates must also list all expenditures of more than $25 and advertising media must also file reports on the political advertising they have carried.

The bill's provisions apply to committees working for a candidate as well as to the candidates themselves.

Direct contributions from corporations, labor unions, and professional associations are prohibited.

But the members of such organizations can set up separate "political action committees" and raise funds for particular candidates or parties or for a candidate to be named later by the committee's leadership.

The bill has several potential loopholes, according to one of its drafters, Rep. Ernest Messer, D-Haywood.

One is that it does not require listing of the aggregate amount contributed by an individual. Thus, someone could make 20 separate contributions of $50, for a total of $1,000, and never be listed.

The last report required before a general election is to be filed on September 1. The election would be over before a candidate would be required to

HAVE YOU WRITTEN A BOOK?

The executive editor of a well-known New York subsidy publishing firm will be in Goldsboro in April. He will be interviewing local authors in a quest for finished manuscripts suitable for book publication. All subjects will be considered, including fiction and non-fiction, poetry, juveniles, religious books, etc.

If you have completed a book-length manuscript (or nearly so) on any subject, and would like a professional appraisal (without cost or obligation), please write immediately describing your work and stating which part of the day (a.m. or p.m.) you would prefer for an appointment. Please mention your phone number. You will promptly receive confirmation for a definite time and place.

Authors with completed manuscripts unable to appear may send them directly to us for a free reading and evaluation. We will also be glad to hear from those whose literary works are still in progress. Please address:

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets were generally steady Wednesday. Supplies adequate, demand fair to good. Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs delivered in cartons nearby outlets: Grade A large whites 70.73, medium whites 65.58, small whites 51.43.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — Corn and soybeans were stronger on the state's leading grain markets Wednesday. No. 2 yellow shelled corn was mostly 2.95-3.00 per bushel. No. 1 yellow soybeans were mostly 6.15-6.21 per bushel.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — North Carolina hogs were generally steady to 50 cents lower today, with an instant of $1.00 lower. Tops of 37.25-38.25 at Kinston, Benson and Lumberton; 34.50-36.50 Wilson and High Falls; 36.50 Mount Olive; 38.00 Salisbury.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — North Carolina f.o.b. dock broilers: Market steady for next week. Supplies adequate and demand fairly good. Weights desirable. F.O.B. dock weighted price for less than truck lot sales of sized plant grade broilers to be picked up at docks next week is 39.30 cents per pound. Estimated slaughter 1,077,000 today.

North Carolina hens: Live supplies limited. Demand for local plants good and slow for out-of-state plants. Too few sales reported to release prices.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned downward today after two sessions of strong gains.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off 5.40 at 874.45, and losers outnumbered gainers by 3-to-2 on the New York Stock Exchange.

International Telephone & Telegraph was down 2 1/2% at 25 1/2 after a delayed opening. Late Wednesday the Internal Revenue Service issued a ruling that permitted ITT's take-over of Hartford Fire Insurance Co. in 1969 to be tax-free.

Avis, which is 52 per cent owned by ITT, was off 1 1/4 at 17. The auto-renting and leasing company said it expected the IRS ruling to have no impact on its financial condition.

Precious-metals issues, often strong when the rest of the market is weak, generally gained today. Hecla Mining was up 1% at 30%, Sunshine Mining rose 3/4 to 19%, and International Mining was up 3/4 at 18 3/4.

Stocks with direct links to oil problems—lodging and leisure—time industry issues, roadside restaurant operators, and others—dominated the Big Board's most-active list for the third straight day.

Walt Disney Productions, the volume leader, was down 3/4 at 51 1/2. Ramada Inns was up 1/4 at 7 3/4, and Howard Johnson was unchanged at 11 1/2.

Among fast-food restaurant issues, McDonald's gained 1% to 57 1/2, and Ponderosa System added 1% to 30 3/4.

Melville Shoe rose 1/2 to 11 1/2. The company was one of several footwear concerns mentioned in a bullish evaluation in today's Wall Street Journal.

At the American Stock Exchange, McCulloch Oil, down 3/4 at 7, was the most-active stock. The Amex's 11 a.m. market value index was up .05 at 99.03.

The NYSE's index of all its listed common stocks, meanwhile, dropped .25 to 52.23.

All Safe In Monk Plane

RICHMOND, VA—No one was reported injured when a plane owned by A. C. Monk & Co. of Farmville experienced a landing gear failure after touching down at Byrd Airport here Wednesday.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration here said that the Beech King-Air turbo-prop touched down at Byrd around 10 a.m. yesterday and had problems with the plane that caused the aircraft to ease off the left side of the runway.

The spokesman, who noted that the exact cause of the mishap is still under investigation, said that the plane's left landing gear collapsed when the aircraft ran off the runway.

He said that damages, although apparently light, had not been evaluated and there were no other aircraft involved. He said that the pilot and his passengers were not injured.

VISITING THE U.S.
LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowden, will make an official visit to the United States in May.

Obituaries

Allen
Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Sparkman Allen of 1404 Ward St., who died Wednesday in Pitt Memorial Hospital, will be conducted Sunday at 1:15 p.m. at Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church with Bishop W. L. Jones, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in the Brown Hill Cemetery.

A native of Pitt County, Mrs. Allen spent all her life in Greenville. She was a member of Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church and the Senior Choir.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Mae Dawson of Greenville; her mother, Mrs. Rosa Sparkman of Greenville; one sister, Mrs. Narcissus Jackson of Ayden; one grandchild.

The body will be at Flanagan and Parker Funeral Home until the time of the service. Family visitation will be held Saturday from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Baker
Funeral services for Mr. Mack Baker, who died in the Roger Memorial Hospital, Washington, D. C., Friday, will be conducted Friday at 1 p.m. from the Arthur Chapel F.W.B. Church by the pastor, the Rev. J. M. Gilbert. Burial will follow in the family plot of the Baker Cemetery, Bell Arthur.

Mr. Baker was a native of Bell Arthur but had made his home in Washington, D. C. Surviving are his wife, Mrs.

Mary Baker of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Mae Wright of New York, N. Y.; two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Baker of Farmville and Mrs. Cassie Mae Phillips of Washington, D. C.

Visitation will be held tonight from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Phillips Brothers Mortuary. Family will meet their friends at 303-B Darden St., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Daniels.

BETHEL—Graveside services for Mrs. Eliza Johnston Burroughs, 90, widow of Eli O. Burroughs, will be conducted Thursday at 5 p.m. in the Bethel Cemetery.

Surviving her are four sons, Robert E. Burroughs of Ann Arbor, Mich., Edward O. Burroughs of Norfolk, Va., Dr. Hubert Burroughs of Iowa, and William H. Burroughs of Muskegon, Mich.; 10 grandchildren; and 20 great grandchildren.

Bethel Student Duke Finalist

Joy Denise James, a North Pitt High School senior, has been named an Angier Duke Scholarship finalist.

On the basis of this selection, Miss James will participate in the finals competition at Duke University on March 27-29. At that time, she will be interviewed by faculty and student judges, become acquainted with the Duke students and the campus, and be a guest of the university.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. James of Bethel, Miss James is serving as co-president of the Student Government Association at North Pitt. She has been a member of the girls varsity basketball team for the past four years and was selected as a member of the All-Conference and All-Tournament teams this year.

She is also a member of the National Honor Society and a marshal. She is president of the U.M.Y.F. of the Bethel United Methodist Church.

The Angier B. Duke Scholarship was established as a means of recognizing individuals whose superior academic and personal records mark them as young men and women who give outstanding promise of leadership in their chosen fields.

The awards for winners range from a yearly sum of $500 to $4,500, depending on the amount of need.

Board Acts To Permit Sewage Disposal Plans

WILLIAMSTON—Martin County Commissioners at their March meeting on Monday approved a resolution that will permit the town of Williamston to expand its sewage disposal service over most of Williamston Township.

Because much of the work projected will be outside the city limits, commissioner action was necessary to authorize a series of plans.

Commissioners also passed a resolution of intent to establish, in conjunction with the Martin County Board of Education, a supplemental education tax of approximately ten cents.

Two members of the Mid East Commission representing the Mental Health program, Tom Wolfe and Mrs. Faye Rogers, made a request to be assigned office space in the old Martin County Hospital building whenever the building becomes available. The commissioners will make a decision on the request at the appropriate time.

Four members were reappointed to the Martin County Hospital Board—W. M. Green of Robersonville; W. Clayton House of Hamilton; W. B. Long of Williamston; and Oscar B. Roberson of Farm Life.

On the county's road system, commissioners have requested the State Highway Commission to transfer funds allocated for the Henry White Road to the Asa Hardison Road.

With plans continuing to be made for the 1976 national Bicentennial celebration, commissioners named Percy Price as bicentennial chairman for Martin County.

Bank Branch To Open On Friday

STOKES—Southern Bank & Trust Co., Mount Olive based banking firm, announced the grand opening Friday of a new branch office here.

The bank reported that a ribbon cutting is scheduled for Friday morning at 10 a.m. and will be followed by grand opening activities until 4 p.m.

The new bank building, located at the intersection of Highways 904 and 33, will be open Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and on Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Southern Bank announced that Betsy Briley will manage the new facility.

The bank, which has an office in Ayden and also in Robersonville in Martin County, reported total assets of $46,029,005 for the period ending Dec. 31, 1973. The figure represented an increase from total assets of $33,948,218 reported on Dec. 31, 1972.

Total deposits on Dec. 31, 1973 amounted to $41,278,144, the bank reported, compared with $30,410,991 on Dec. 31, 1972.

D. H. Outlaw is president and trust officer of Southern Bank & Trust Co.

Rampants Opening Season Friday By Playing Host To Washington

Rose High School's Rampants open the 1974 baseball season Friday at 4 p.m. when they play host to Washington High School at Guy Smith Stadium.

The Rampants, under a new coach this year, have a good deal of experience, but not in one important area—pitching.

"We have seven seniors who have right much experience," Coach Ronald Vincent said. "Several of them have started for two years."

This, Vincent feels, will give the team a good defensive image. "This is going to be our strength," he said. "We also have better than adequate team speed, and I think we're really going to have a good infield."

But the biggest weakness will be the lack of experienced pitchers, and the depth of the overall pitching staff. "We also don't have any consistent long ball hitters, so we're going to have to get a lot of singles."

During the past few days, the hitting of the Rampants has come along. "We have quite a few who won't strike out much," Vincent said. "We'll get something on the ball most of the time."

The Rampants are carrying five pitchers, plus a couple of others who will play elsewhere, but can pitch too. They are Kelly Heath and Macon Moye.

The top hurlers are juniors Wesley Deal and Chris Manning. "Both got some experience last year, but not a great deal," Vincent said. Both are righthanders. "They've been looking real good lately, and their control is coming along."

Backing them up are two sophomores, Jimmy Averett and Mike Belton. Both have speed, but need better control, Vincent says. Belton is the lone lefty on the team, and Vincent predicts that both are going to be fine pitchers before they finish their high school career.

Rounding out the staff is senior Howard Leggett, who hasn't played since he was in junior high school. "We're really unsure how he'll do."

The Rampants have three catchers they can rely on, giving them great strength at this position. Senior Jerry Griffin returns and is expected to get the starting call. Dickie Johnson, another senior, backs him up, and will also play in other positions. Ed Connelly, a sophomore, also adds depth, and is listed as a top prospect.

Robert Brinkley returns to first base, where he's been playing for the past two years. A senior, he is very experienced. Griff Garner provides depth, giving Vincent another strong position.

Gil Whitford, a senior, will handle second, and also has good experience. Junior Jack Jenkins is his backup.

A third, Johnny Causey, a senior with experience, is expected to start. An excellent glove man, his hitting is coming around, Vincent says. Macon Moye, currently injured, is his backup man.

Kelly Heath will handle the short stop position. A junior, he has little varsity experience. Keith Jones, another junior, will be his backup, and can play at any of the infield positions.

Garner, if not at first, will be handling the left field position. Al Heath, an experienced senior, will be in center, while Ronnie Rasberry, another senior, will be in right. "On the verge of starting are Mike Wallace, a senior, and Ron Hunt, a junior," Vincent says.

"We do have good speed and range in the outfield," he added.

The Rampants play each of the other five members of the Division I league three times, having seven home and eight road games. "This will really give us a chance to see who the best team is," Vincent said. "There is little likelihood of a tie after this many games."

Looking at the league race, Vincent, despite being a new comer, sees defending champ Rocky Mount as the team to beat. "They have right much back, I understand, and Wilson should also be strong. Bertie won their 3-A league last year, but I don't know that much about them," the coach said.

But for the Rampants, pitching will be the key. Vincent feels he has the stuff to challenge for the title should the hurling come around.

All home games will be played at Guy Smith with a 4 p.m. starting time. Away games will be a 4 p.m. also, except for a game on Thursday, May 2, in Rocky Mount, tagged with a 7:30 p.m. starting time.

The schedule: March 8, Washington; March 12, at Washington; March 15, Kingston; March 19, Goldsboro; March 22, at Kingston; March 26 at Northeastern; March 29, at Rocky Mount; April 3, at Bertie; April 5, Northern Nash; April 9, Wilson; April 12-13, at Ayden-Grifton Tournament; April 16, Rocky Mount; April 19, Bertie; April 23, at Northern Nash; April 25, at Wilson; April 30, Northeastern; May 2, at Rocky Mount; May 7, at Bertie; May 10, Northern Nash; May 14, Wilson; May 17, at Northeastern.

Brook Valley On 'Best' List

A St. Patrick's Day Mixed Spectacular will be held at the Brook Valley Country Club on Sunday, March 17.

The event will be a nine-hole round with couples from Greenville Golf and Country Club and Brook Valley playing as a four-man team.

Golfers wishing to participate are urged to sign up as couples at either club. As far as possible, the final pairings will have couples from the two clubs paired together.

A cocktail hour will follow play. Starting times and pairings will be announced on Saturday, March 16. An entry fee of $5 per couple is being charged.

Brook Valley Country Club has been honored as one of the top golf courses in the state by the 1974 edition of Carolina Golfer magazine.

The course was listed as the 14th best in the state "We are greatly honored that Brook Valley is in the top 20 in the state, and we hope to keep it in that select group," assistant pro Dave Martin said.

The top club is listed as the Number Two layout at Pinehurst, followed by the Country Club of North Carolina, also in that sandhills town.

Quail Hollow, near the Kemper Open in Charlotte, is the number three course, followed by Mac Gregor Downs in Cary, site of last year's L&M Open.

Tanglewood, near Winston-Salem, site of this year's PGA, is the fifth selection, followed by Grandfather Mountain at Linville. GGO site Sedgewick in Greensboro is seventh. Willow Creek of High Point and Bermuda Run of Winston-Salem tied for eighth, with Charlotte Country Club rounding out the first 10.

The second ten includes Red Fox of Tryon; Fox Fire of Pinehurst; Cedar Rock of Lenoir; Brook Valley; Biltmore Forest of Biltmore; Goldsboro Country Club; Alamance of Burlington; Walnut Creek of Goldsboro; and a tie between Whispering Pines and Croadsale of Durham.

RALEIGH—N. C. State's Wolfpack came up with three runs in the fourth inning and went on to take a 4-2 victory over the East Carolina University Pirates yesterday.

It was the first loss of the new season for the Pirates, who had won their first two contests, downing Campbell and Duke. State, now 2-2, had lost its last outing, oddly enough, to the Campbell nine.

East Carolina, which banded out 25 hits in its first two games, continued to pound the ball, ripping the State pitchers for a total of nine hits, but they couldn't put them together. The two pitchers for East Carolina, Eddie Clapp, who took the loss, and Bill Godwin, scattered just six hits, but that was enough for the Wolfpack to push over four runs with.

After three scoreless innings, State finally pushed into the lead, for good, in the bottom of the fourth. Bill Russell led off and was hit by Clapp. Then, with one down, Don DeMay walked and Dick Chappell singled, driving in Russell. Both runners advanced on the throw to home. With two away, Rick Reister slapped another single, and that brought both DeMay and Chappell across the plate for the 3-0 lead.

The Wolfpack went on to load the bases and Billy Port walked and Clapp hit Kent Judy before Godwin came on to get the final out.

East Carolina tried to rally in the fifth, coming up with both of its runs. Bobby Harrison walked and moved up on an out. Rick McMahon doubled, driving in Harrison. Geoff Beaton walked, and both moved up on another out. Ron Staggs then walked, loading the bases, and a walk to Mike Hogan forced McMahon over cutting the lead to 3-2. But the rally died there.

Highwaymen, UC In Finals

Union Carbide, winner of Division II, and State Highway, the runner-up in Division I, will meet Monday for the Industrial Basketball League title following wins last night.

State Highway downed Grady-White, 73-64, for the Division I Tournament title. Grady-White had earlier upset regular season champ Fieldcrest. In the first half, Grady-White had threatened to keep it up, running out to a 38-28 lead. But the Highwaymen came back in the second half, outitting the Boatmen, 45-26, to take the victory.

Fred Mills led the Highwaymen with 19 points, while Bobby Edwards had 16, and Leon Jenkins and Ray Elks each had 12. For Grady-White, Mrvin

Hardy had 29, Marvin Davis had 13 and Larry Dixon had 10. Union Carbide, after winning the regular season title, took the Division II Tournament crowd with a 47-46 victory over North Carolina National Bank. Union Carbide held a one-point lead at the end of the first half, 25-24, and managed to equal NCNB to hold that in the second. Tommy Roache hit with one second left in the game to give Union Carbide the victory.

Roache finished the game with 28 points, high for the Battery. NCNB was led by Roy Carawan with 12, while Randy Martin and Kenny Wood each had 10.

The two champs meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Elm Street Gym for the title.

McMahon led the Pirate hitting, each picking up two in the game. Moore had two hits to pace the State attack.

The two teams are slated to play again this afternoon on the Wolfpack field, with the Pirates seeking revenge for their first loss. Following that game, the Bucs will next be in action on Wednesday at Duke, then go to Greenville, S. C., on Saturday for a doubleheader with Furman, opening the Southern Conference warfare.

Kansas Dumps Kansas State To Capture Big Eight Championship

By ROBERT MOORE
AP Sports Writer

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — A sign in the overflow crowd of 17,200 read: "KU No. 1 in: Streaking, basketball fans."

The University of Kansas may or may not be No. 1 in streaking — the new college fad of running here, there and anywhere naked — but there was no doubt today that the Jayhawks were No. 1 in Big Eight Conference basketball.

No. 15 Kansas penetrated Kansas State's awesome zone defense and streaked past the Wildcats 60-55 Wednesday to clinch the Big Eight championship.

The ringleader was Rick Suttle, a super sub who picked the Jayhawks up by the bootstraps and, along with Dale Greenlee, shot them to the title and into the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships later this month at Tulsa, Okla.

Kansas, 12-1 in the conference and 20-5 over-all, actually won the game by coming out of a 2-1-2 zone defense and by inserting the intimidating Suttle for Danny Knight at the pivot post.

K-State, 11-3 and 19-7, pulled to within four points three times during the second half, the last with 12:20 to go, but Suttle and Greenlee were too much. Together, they made 20 of the Jayhawks' 28 second half points.

Another factor in the victory was Tom Kivisto, who held Lon Kruger, K-State's brilliant guard, to a mere 10 points. Suttle finished with 17 points and Greenlee 16. Larry Williams made 21 for K-State.

In other major college games, Massachusetts defeated New Hampshire 83-58, Oklahoma defeated Iowa State 88-70, and St. Francis of Pennsylvania defeated Georgetown 78-62.

Massachusetts, bound for the National Invitation Tournament, got 22 points from Peter Trow to wind up its Yankee Conference season in first place with an 11-1 record, 21-4 over-all.

Alvan Adams scored 28 points, and the Sooners shot a sizzling 64 per cent from the field in their Big Eight Conference victory over Iowa State.

In NIAA playoffs, District 3, Azusa Pacific beat Whittier 75-70; District 6, Erskine defeated Newberry 64-61; District 10, Washburn beat Marymount 61-56 in overtime; District 12, Huron, S.D., edged Western Montana 76-71; District 13, St. Thomas, Minn., beat Winona, Minn., 63-53; District 14, Wis.-Eau Claire beat Wis.-Whitewater 70-63; District 15, Wartburg drubbed William Penn 79-61; District 16, Missouri Western defeated S.W. Baptist 94-82; District 18, Indiana, Pa., downed Edinboro 78-65.

District 19, Millersville beat Delaware State 84-78; District 20, Augustana defeated McKendree 94-66; District 21, Hanover beat Tri-State 86-59; District 22, Defiance downed Malone 69-57; District 25, West Georgia defeated North Georgia 77-67; District 26, Gardner Webb beat J.C. Johnson 95-84; District 29, Virginia State got by Pembroke State 76-73, and District 30, Northwestern Louisiana beat Xavier of New Orleans 78-69.

Corkins To Get Big Test In Opening Game For San Diego

By ANDY LIPPMAN
AP Sports Writer

San Diego pitcher Mike Corkins will be pitching for high stakes in the Padres' pre-season opener Friday.

Not only will his opponents be the world champion Oakland A's, but the 27-year-old right-hander also faces a stern test of his major league future.

"He's had five years with this club and he's only won 17 games," said Padres pitching coach Bill Posedel. "With the arm he has, he ought to be embarrassed not to do better than that. He should be able to turn things around."

Corkins knows time is running short for him to prove his potential.

"Everyone is optimistic about our team this year," he said.

"But I won't be optimistic until the season opens and I'm still on the club and not with Hawaii."

Gary Nolan of Cincinnati also may be facing a critical point in his career. The Reds announced Wednesday Nolan may have to undergo surgery to stop pain in his right arm.

Nolan has a lifetime 76-48 record, but missed most of last season with a sore pitching shoulder. He pitched only twice and lost his only decision.

During the winter, doctors tried to deaden a nerve with an electrified needle, but Nolan reported that the pain is still just as bad.

Nolan said that even if he doesn't undergo surgery he won't be ready to play when the baseball season opens April 4.

"I want some help," Nolan said. "I want to find out what's going on and get it over with."

The Cleveland Indians got good news when a Tucson, Ariz. orthopedic doctor gave third baseman Buddy Bell a clean bill of health.

Bell had injured his knee during the winter while playing basketball.

"The doctor told me my knee is fine," said Bell, who was Cleveland's only representative on the 1973 All-Star team. "He said that I can go full speed." Milwaukee Brewer Manager Del Crandall, previously committed to no intrasquad games before the pre-season, reversed his stand in hopes the five-to-six inning practice games would break the monotony.

Milwaukee's George Scott, still suffering from the flu, said he would be back in uniform today.

Furman Chances Hurt As Leonard Gets Flu

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Furman's chance at avenging South Carolina's cutting the Paladins from its basketball slate three seasons ago may have been reduced by the flu.

Fessor "Moose" Leonard, Furman's 7-1 pivotman, scorer and rebounder, was in the infirmary at midweek.

Coach Joe Williams, of the unranked Southern Conference season and tournament champions, said Wednesday he expects Leonard to make the trip to Philadelphia to meet 10th ranked South Carolina Saturday night in a National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) tournament contest.

But the coach said the big center would not be able to practice much beforehand, and there was no predicting how effective he would be after his infirmary stay.

Furman hasn't had a game with South Carolina, even though the schools are in the same state and only 100 miles apart, since Coach Frank McGuire's Gamecocks swept by Furman in 1971, by a score of 118-83.

Furman and most other area teams were dropped after that season, when South Carolina withdrew from the Atlantic Coast Conference into a national independent schedule.

Williams said playing South Carolina would be no different than playing any other team in the tournament, and McGuire agreed that "you can't get caught up in emotions. It's just another game."

South Carolina, making its fifth consecutive appearance in NCAA playoffs, will take a 22-4 record into the contest. Furman, making its third effort in the playoffs, is 21-7.

Each team beat Niagara and Manhattan during the season, while Furman split with Davidson, a team that upset South Carolina.

Flanking Leonard in the Furman lineup will be Clyde Mayes, Ed Kelley, Craig Lynch and Bruce Grimm. Mayes has averaged 17.3 points a game.

Senior Brian Winters, backcourt ace averaging 19.9 points a game to lead the Gamecocks, will be supported by sophomores Mike Dunleavy, Alexander English, Bob Mathias, and Mark Greiner. Freshman Nate Davis has been starting lately in place of Greiner.

Crampton Sees Bright Future

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Australian veteran Bruce Crampton, who insists "I'm not the meanest man on the tour," presents an optimistic attitude in the face of adversity.

"The best is yet to come," says Crampton, who is far, far off the pace of his 1973 heroics which propelled him to his best season in 18 years on the American tour.

"Maybe the slow start is just building up to one of the major championships," he said before teeing off today in the first round of the $150,000 Doral-Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

And a victory in one of the world's four major events—the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the PGA—remains the big career goal for the stocky, 38-year-old native of Sydney.

"After all," he said, "it's about the only thing I haven't done. I've achieved much, much more than I ever expected to in golf. But, yes, I guess when it's all over, I'd be a little disappointed if I hadn't won one of the majors."

He's come close. In the last two seasons he's been runner-up in all three of the major American events, in the PGA last year and in the Masters and U.S. Open in 1972.

Last season he won four tournaments, was second only to Jack Nicklaus on the money-winning list and took the coveted Vardon Trophy for the low-stroke average on the tour. He also pushed his career earnings beyond $1 million and joined Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Lee Trevino as the only men who have reached that plateau.

This season, however, he hasn't finished higher than sixth—that in last week's Citrus Open—and ranks 39th on the money-winning list with $12,162.

"It's not for lack of work or for lack of trying. It just hasn't happened," said Crampton who, at this stage of the season a year ago had won two tournaments, finished second in another and had $100,000 in winnings.

In spite of that, however, the curly-haired veteran is enjoying a new popularity with the galleries. Where he once played in virtual isolation, he now commands a sizeable group of fans in every round. And he's responded to their presence by dropping his dour, unsmiling appearance on the course. He now stops occasionally to chat with fans and joke with his playing partners.

"It's a matter of identification, recognition and confidence," he said. "I have more confidence—more a feeling of belonging—than ever before."

"An awful lot of nice things were written about me last year. I think people know me better, understand me better than they used to. I think they realize I'm not really the meanest man on the tour."

With his improved play last week, Crampton ranked as one of the top favorites for the $30,000 first prize in this event on the 7,065-yard, par-72 Blue Monster course at the Doral Country Club.

Other major contenders included Nicklaus, defending champion Trevino, Masters champ Tommy Aaron, Tom Weiskopf and Jerry Heard, winner of last week's Citrus Open. Palmer, Casper and Johnny Miller are not competing.

Losing Some Of Coaching Duties

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — J. Bruce Munro will be relieved, at his own request, of the Harvard varsity soccer and lacrosse coaching duties he has held for 26 years, effective this fall.

Munro, 58, will remain at Harvard as head freshman coach of both sports, the university announced.

Monroe Bails Out New York

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

"Earl Monroe had a normal game for Earl Monroe," said New York Knicks' Coach Red Holzman. "For anyone else it would have been an outstanding game."

The Knicks beat the Atlanta Hawks 96-94 in a National Basketball Association game Wednesday, but, in so doing, they blew an 18-point second-quarter lead and then had to call on Monroe to bail them out.

The Knicks led 32-14 early in the second quarter and 54-43 at the half, with Monroe contributing 14 of his 20 points before intermission.

But Herm Gilliam got 10 of his 20 points in the third quarter, and the Hawks took a 72-68 lead entering the final frame.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Philadelphia 76ers surprised the Capital Bullets 112-99, the Chicago Bulls downed the Houston Rockets 105-93, the Milwaukee Bucks defeated Kansas City-Omaha 111-99, and the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Boston Celtics 116-111.

In the American Basketball Association, the Indiana Pacers got by the San Antonio Spurs 92-82, Utah Stars defeated the San Antonio Spurs 119-103, and the New York Nets bombed the San Diego Conquistadors 123-97.

76ers 112, Bullets 99

Larry Cannon, newly acquired from the ABA's Pacers, made himself a welcome addition to the Philadelphia roster by adding eight assists to the 27-point performance of Steve Mix.

Bulls 105, Rockets 93
Bob Love had his best night of the year with 43 points and helped Chicago come back from a 20-18 deficit in the first quarter, when he scored on one try out of five.

Bucks 111, Kings 99
Mickey Davis, in an infrequent starting role caused by the absence of Bob Dandridge, equalled his career best by scoring 22 points and making the difference for Milwaukee.

Lakers 116, Celtics 111
Gail Goodrich had 39 points and spent the rest of his time gathering eight assists to lead the Lakers. The victory, the Lakers' eighth in their past nine contests, moved Los Angeles into a tie with Golden State for the lead in the NBA's Pacific Division.

Pacers 92, Spurs 82
Freddie Lewis said he was responding to a challenge, and he responded well, with 24 points, to lead Indiana.

Stars 119, Tams 103
James Jones and Ron Boone led a second-half come-back surge that overcame a 13-point deficit and sent the Tams packing.

Nets 123, Q's 97
Julius Erving and Larry Kenon led a third quarter uprising that pulled the Nets way out front in devastating Wilt Chamberlain's Q's.

The victory gave the Nets sole possession of first place in the ABA East, just a half-game ahead of idle Kentucky.

Chargers Are Signed

Three new signees have been announced by the East Carolina University football staff, all three from North Carolina.

Two of the signees are a brother combination from Pitt County, Milton and Jesse Brown, who attended Ayden-Grifton High School.

Milton Brown, a 6-2, 178-pounder, is a wide receiver. He was instrumental in Ayden-Grifton's drive to a conference title this year, catching a number of touchdown passes and over 1,000 yards in receiving.

Jesse Brown, a 6-3, 210-pound lineman, anchoring the middle of the line. He is also a high jumper on the Ayden-Grifton track team and holds the present Pitt County record in that event of 6-6.

The third signee is Avery Hilliard, a 6-3, 210-pounder from Northern Nash High School. He is an offensive center and a defensive end.

The signings bring to 29 the number signed by the ECU staff under Pat Dye.

Clemson freshman Wayne Rollins blocked 52 shots in his first 10 games with the varsity basketball team this season.

Garner-Webb Takes Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gardner-Webb, Virginia State and Erskine have emerged in North Carolina and South Carolina playoffs as National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics district champions.

Gardner-Webb took the title at Hickory, N. C., Wednesday night in District 26 with a 95-84 victory over Johnson C. Smith.

Virginia State is the District 29 champion after a 76-73 victory at Wilson, N. C., over Pembroke State, and Erskine defeated Newberry, 64-61, at Greenwood, S. C., for the District 6 title.

The three winners earned berths in the NIAA national tournament opening Monday in Kansas City.

The Gardner-Webb Bulldogs carry a 24-2 record to the national event after marking their 21st straight victory in overcoming the Golden Bulls of J. C. Smith, which wound up its season with a 20-10 record.

John Drew, 6-6 forward, scored 44 points and pulled down 25 rebounds for Gardner-Webb in the title game, after a 42-point effort the night before in the Bulldogs' semifinals victory over Lenoir Rhyne.

Virginia State got 31 points from its scoring star, 6-7 center Linwood Johnson, who was named most valuable player in the District 29 playoff.

The Trojans carry a 22-7 record with them to Kansas City, while Pembroke State ends its season with a 21-7 record.

Erskine, led by David Havird with 18 points in the District 6 victory, will go to Kansas City with a 25-5 record. Newberry, led by Clyde Agnew with 22 points, bowed out with a 24-9 mark.

Nixon Kept His Temper And A Sense Of Humor

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon came through his second news conference in nine days with his sense of humor showing and his temper in check.

At the 39-minute televised and broadcast session Wednesday night in the East Room, Nixon took in stride 19 questions. They ranged between whether he would submit to cross-examination on Watergate matters to a challenge of whether he had said it was wrong to pay hush money or promise clemency to Watergate defendants.

The President appeared far less nervous than he had in his last appearance, though his upper lip broke out in perspiration. He made an occasional slip of the tongue.

Five questions related to the tape recording of a March 21 presidential conversation. There were nine other questions on Watergate matters and the others touched on inflation, elections, the oil embargo, the defense budget and campaign reform.

He controlled his temper when asked if he considered crimes like perjury, obstruction of justice and conspiracy to be impeachable crimes "if they did apply to you."

Nixon also managed a laughing comment when he was asked if he would pay for his own legal defense if the attorney general ruled he should do so. The President said that if the House impeached him and he was a defendant he would then pay for his defense and he pointedly commented, "I will find somebody to loan me the money."

The press was better behaved at this session. There were no unruly shouts.

Clark Mollenhoff, an investigative reporter and columnist for the Des Moines Register-Tribune who has been one of the loudest shouters in past news conferences, was recognized by Nixon — but not to ask a question.

"You had one last week,"

They are: Debbie Roe of Hendersonville, president; Annette Piner of Greenville, vice president; Faye Hightower of Charlotte, treasurer; Jayne Key of Winston-Salem, recording secretary; Patrice Myers of Candor, corresponding secretary; Kathy Koonce of Trenton, editor; Anne Armstrong of Columbia, S.C., rush chairman; Sally Freeman of Wake Forest, parliamentarian; and Judy Eargle of Raleigh, chaplain.

Unrest Felt 'Buddy' Murray Seeks Judgeship

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Hundreds of students chanting antigovernment slogans marched through Addis Ababa today as a general strike spread across the country.

Helmeted police carrying rifles and tear gas forced the students to return to Haile Selassie University after an hour of demonstrations. There was no violence.

"Land for the tillers! Work for the workers! Down with the prime minister!" the demonstrators shouted. Thousands of other students looked on quietly.

The Confederation of Ethiopian Labor Unions claimed near 100 per cent effectiveness for the strike, planned to continue until the government meets demands for pay increases and labor reforms. But shops were open and taxis were operating in both Addis Ababa and Asmara, Ethiopia's second largest city. Buses were running in Asmara.

Banks were closed, along with factories. A partial schedule of international flights was maintained at Addis Ababa airport, but domestic flights were canceled.

Public Hearing On ESAA Plan

Sammy T. Carson, President of the Pitt County PTA Council, has received notice from the Atlanta Regional Office of HEW that the PTA Council Emergency School Aid Act (ESAA) application was not approved for funding. An invitation to submit a revised proposal has been extended to the PTA Council.

Carson said a new proposal is being developed and will be discussed by the PTA Council's Executive and Advisory Committees Monday at 7:30 P.M. in the Pitt County Board of Education Central Offices, located in the County Courthouse, third floor.

All interested persons are invited to attend this public hearing and express their views on the merits of the proposal.

'Buddy' Murray Seeks Judgeship

RALEIGH—Greenville native Carlos W. "Buddy" Murray is a Democratic candidate for a newly created Wake County district judgeship.

Murray, 31, went to the State Board of Elections office in a wheelchair because of recent foot surgery. The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murray of Greenville, the Raleigh attorney said the district court "probably more than any other, is where the greatest opportunity for service to the people exists."

The new Wake County judgeship was created this year by the General Assembly to relieve congested court dockets. Murray is expected to have at least one opponent in the Democratic primary, George R. Greene, an attorney who ran sixth in a race for the five court positions in the last district court election. Assistant District Attorney Stafford Bullock also has indicated interest in the race, as has Republican Former Assistant Attorney Gen. Christine Denson.

Murray is a cum laude graduate of East Carolina University and received his law degree from Wake Forest University. He was on the attorney general's staff and was an assistant prosecutor for Wake County district courts before entering private practice four years ago. He specializes in trial work, particularly criminal and domestic cases.

Pitt NAACP To Meet Sunday

The Pitt County Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will meet at the Good Hope Free Will Baptist Church in Winterville, Sunday at 7:45 p.m.

Annual Scholarship Is Given To Music Dept.

SCHOLARSHIP—Farmville attorney Jack Lewis (right) presents the initial amount of a new East Carolina University music scholarship to ECU Dean of Music Everett Pittman. At left is Chancellor Leo Jenkins.

A scholarship in the amount of at least $1,000 per year has been contributed to the East Carolina University Foundation by a group of Farmville patrons. Don Leggett, Executive Director of the Foundation, who made the announcement said the contributors are a group of Farmville citizens who share a common interest in the appreciation of music and in amplifying the excellence of the ECU School of Music. The School of Music will grant the full amount of the scholarship annually with excellence in music as a guide.

Jack Lewis, Farmville attorney, who made the presentation of the scholarship to Chancellor Leo W. Jenkins and Dr. Everett Pittman, Dean of the School of Music, said, "It is our desire to further the appreciation and enjoyment of good music in North Carolina and to assist those individuals who have the interest, talent and desire to excel."

In accepting the gift Dr. Leo Jenkins stated, "We are deeply grateful for the many friends of the University who have an interest in our projects and give of their financial resources that we might pursue academic excellence. This group will influence in a very real sense the further development of our outstanding School of Music."

Those contributing to the scholarship are:

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Blackwood, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Davenport, Mrs. Sue Todd Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Heizer, Mr. and Mrs. T. Eli Joyner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lewis, Jr.,

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Monk, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Morgan, III, Mrs. Daisy Holmes Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Bunting Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Bert Barrow Warren, and anonymous.

C. O. D., or collect on delivery, service was introduced by the U.S. postal service in 1913.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Natural and Economic Resources Secretary James E. Harrington has announced a four-pronged program aimed at ending the algae problem in the Chowan River in North Carolina. Harrington said Wednesday that his department, the Environmental Protection Agency, the state of Virginia and four universities would combine forces in the project.

He said they will seek to determine the sources and amount of pollution causing the algae bloom and what needs to be done to restore the recreational and fishing uses of the river and its tributaries in Virginia.

Based on studies of the river and its Virginia tributaries, Harrington said his office would make recommendations to appropriate state boards and commissions and the General Assembly.

Since 1970, a flow of nutrients into the Chowan from industries, municipalities, rural and urban runoff has created algae blooms that have adversely affected the river, Harrington said.

Robert M. Brown of Rt. 1, Grimesland filed recently as a Democratic candidate for one of the two State Senate seats representing Pitt, Martin, Edgecombe and Halifax Counties.

ROBERT M. BROWN

Brown, 43, will oppose Sixth Senate District incumbents Vernon White of Winterville and Julian Allsbrook of Roanoke Rapids in the May 7 primary elections.

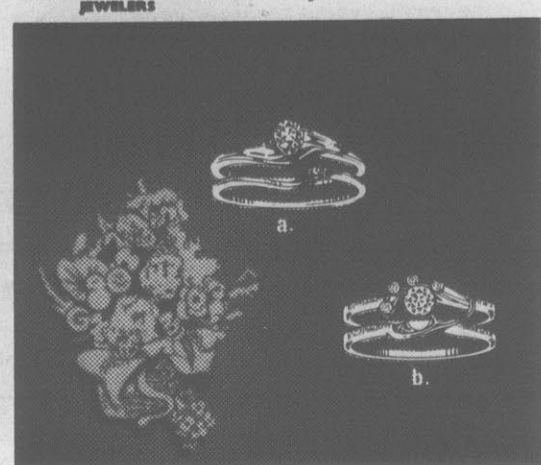

The candidate is employed in the school of Education at East Carolina University and is also engaged in farming. In announcing as a candidate, Brown said that he feels his entry has made "a political appointment a race." He noted that prior to his entry there were only two candidates for the two Sixth District seats. He said that he feels "the government belongs to the people. The citizens have a right to be informed of its actions and intended actions." Brown added, "The medical school has made progress this session. But that is only one step toward a four-year school. The leadership should come from the district where it will be located." He added that he feels the government "has grown away from the citizens, noting that "It uses them instead of serving them. Government should be returned to the citizens and be responsive to their needs. My entry will give the citizens a choice.d"

The Worry Clinic Early Training Is The Answer

Dr. Dee is worried about the homosexual murders at Houston. The best way to prevent homosexuality is to create happy, affectionate marriages between the parents of youth in the "gang" stage of their emotional growth. And stress coeducational activity!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE Z-570: Dr. Dee is a worried clergyman in Missouri. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I have been assigned to a city church where homosexuals and lesbians are reported to attend in considerable numbers.

"In fact, my predecessor was begged by two homosexuals to marry them!

"You once mentioned the scourge of homosexuality in the Bible, as when Lot's house was surrounded by such a crowd while Lot was entertaining two strangers.

"What are the psychological and medical ways to prevent such sexual perversions?"

"For weren't about 30 boys murdered in Houston last year, thus showing the evil effects of such abnormal erotic behavior?"

Abnormal Sex
We all inherit a basic hunger for the food elements—protein, fat and sugars.

But whether we dine on hot oatmeal at breakfast, vs. corn flakes, or puffed wheat, depends on our training.

Same goes for sex. We are thus born with a desire for love, including its physical aspects.

But whether we shall love animals, or our own sex or the opposite sex, will depend on how we are trained, accidentally or by design.

In the normal development of our emotions, we all start at the psychological phase of homosexuality, devoid of overt physical elements.

But by the middle teens, most people shift in their romantic interest to the opposite sex (heterosexuality).

Alas, millions get "hung up" or "fixated" on their own sex and then combine the earlier psychological attraction with adult physical erotic practices.

Prevention is thus the best way to vaccinate against homosexuality and lesbianism (female homosexuality).

If children grow up in an affectionate 2-parent home, they subconsciously are educated to look to the OPPOSITE sex for erotic love.

Boys then consider it an extreme insult to be thought romantically attracted to girls. And little girls regard boys as nuisances.

This is the innocent

It however, they are reared in an unhappy, relatively loveless home while they are still in that 9 to 12 year "gang" stage, they may attach unwise erotic desires to their normal psychological affinity for their pals.

Homosexuals and lesbians can change into normal heterosexuals, but it requires the same unusual will power of the ex-alcoholic or ex-drug addict, to break such bad erotic habits.

When embroiled in a homosexual affair, the victims are emotionally no more eager to stop, than are the infatuated heterosexual boy and girl, whose parents want to break up their early development!

New Musicology Society Formed

VIENNA (UPI) — Several prominent musical scholars recently founded the Austrian Society of Musicology.

The Press and Information Service of the City of Vienna said among the projects which the new society plans to undertake is a review of Austria's scientific achievements in the field of music and publication of a magazine.

John Tyler, 10th American president, became a member of the Confederate Congress but died before it met.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1974

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day finds you able to make headway towards building a better surrounding for yourself by applying your best talent. The evening finds you having delays in gaining the goodwill of those upon whom you must rely.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is best for handling important duties at home or elsewhere, but take it easy tonight. Know what is expected of you by friends.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May. 20) Treat kin with respect today or you will regret it later. Try to maintain a good mood throughout the day. Do some reading tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A word of encouragement to kin can pay off in big dividends now. Find the right appliances that will make your home more operational.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Discuss future with associates and come to a fine understanding. Use a new method for achieving your aims. Take it easy tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Handle practical affairs during the day and add to present abundance. Discuss a problem with an expert. An idea you have can be erroneous.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Morning is essential for going after your most personal aims, but rebuild your energies later on. Don't take any chances with credit.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Find the best way to go after your finest aims during the day. Being of service to others will make them like you more. Be cheerful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Being with good friends and knowing what their aims are gives you a chance to help them. Avoid one who talks too much. Relax tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handle career matters wisely in the morning. Don't be tempted to argue with an associate. A credit matter should not be neglected.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make long-range plans for the future with associates. A new friend has facts you need so don't delay in obtaining them. Be alert.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have made promises that need to be kept, so get busy on them early in the day. Come to a better understanding with loved one.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Find out what an associate expects of you and be more cooperative. Make plans to handle your tasks more efficiently. Think constructively.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have every opportunity from childhood to make a big impression on others, and later will favorably impress heads of big organizations. There is the ability here to handle detailed work. Much success can be attained early in life so that the latter part can be spent in leisure.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

The bidding:

Opening lead: King of ♦ South made a valiant effort at his contract of four spades. Unfortunately, no points are awarded for effort, only for making the contract.

Once South rebid his spades, confirming a five-card suit, North displayed excellent judgment in raising his partner's suit rather than showing his second suit. South's decision to go on to four spades was based partly on a reevaluation of his queen of hearts, an important card in view of North's bid, and partly because his diamond length suggested partner would be short in that suit.

The opening diamond lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer crossed to his hand with the queen of hearts and ruffed a second diamond on the table. Since there was no quick entry back to his hand outside of trumps, declarer elected to cash the ace and king of trumps, leaving one of the defenders with the master trump. Now, declarer tried to run the heart suit to obtain diamond discards.

This plan would have succeeded had the defender with the last trump held at least three hearts. Declarer would have obtained two diamond discards by the time that defender ruffed, and South's only losers would have been two clubs and a trump. Unfortunately, West ruffed the third heart, cashed a high diamond and forced declarer to ruff a diamond. Locked in his own hand, declarer had to lose two clubs, for he was forced to lead away from his king.

Declarer lost control of the hand when he allowed mastery of the trump suit to pass to his opponents. Consider what would happen if, at trick two, declarer led a low trump from dummy and passed it.

West would win the trump ten, but would be powerless to defeat the contract. There would still be a trump in dummy to control the diamond suit. As soon as South gained the lead, he would draw trumps in two rounds and cash his five hearts. In all, declarer would score four trump tricks, a diamond ruff and five hearts.

Farmville Bd. OKs Mobile Homes On Small Lots

By CAROL B. TYER
Reflector Staff Writer
FARMVILLE—The use of mobile homes on small lots within the town limits of Farmville was approved by the Commissioners Tuesday night, subject to a public hearing.

Use of lots "too small for anything else" in residential areas for one mobile home (and only one) could be approved by the Board of Adjustments, the Commissioners agreed. The measure was recommended by the Town Building Inspector, "to provide better housing for some who cannot afford it otherwise." It would be stipulated that each individual case must come before the Board of Adjustments and that the occupant of the mobile home must be the owner. The public hearing was set for the next regular meeting Apr. 2.

A public hearing also was set during the same Apr. 2 meeting for the rezoning of the Washington Heights area, where numerous substandard houses recently have been razed, from residential to light industry. The neighborhood was a "pocket" within an industrial area, and the Commissioners agreed that this land is not suitable for homes.

The tax collector was asked to hold a tax lien sale Monday, June 10 for unpaid 1973 real estate taxes. The list of delinquent payers will be published.

The Sanitary Sewer Bond Election held Feb. 16 was certified. Some $1,100,000 in bonds were approved for sale by 149 persons voting in favor and 11 voting against. The eligible voters number 2,089, the Town Attorney said.

Payments to the New York bond attorneys of $800 and $750 to local attorneys were approved. Also approved was the payment of $28,495.44 to Singer Lane Atlantic Company for work on a well.

Attorney Robin Rouse appeared on behalf of E. C. Powell, builder of the Claremont Subdivision. It seems that a contract between the town and Powell, saying that the town will pay one third of the cost of curbing and guttering of streets in the subdivision and the contractor two-thirds, has been lost or was never written. Powell wants the town to pay a third of the total cost of work done to Martha Loop, while the town believes it should pay one third of the cost of "having the job done right", not the cost incurred by Powell because of work that had to be redone. Also payment is not required, they say, until the Loop is 80 per cent occupied.

Town engineer Van Lewis discussed the proposed landfill that has been tentatively approved by the Solid Waste Vector Control division of the Department of Human Resources. Talks with Sam Bundy and the Mazingo family have been held, he said. It's now being determined how much ditching in the area will affect the farmland of these two landowners.

Town Engineer Jack McDavid recommended that the Street Committee consider evening up the north side of Belcher Street. The street's uneven enough to make the street width vary from 36 to 28 feet, making for hazardous passing in places.

Building Inspector H. P. Norman was given the additional job of supervising the landfill "to make sure it does not turn into a dump."

Hughes Funds Available For Area Grants

GOLDSBORO—Impounded Federal Alcoholism Formula Grant Funds, generally known as Hughes Funds, have been released through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA), according to Dr. Robert R. Ratcliffe, Eastern Regional Mental Health Director.

In making the announcement of the impounded Hughes Funds being released, Dr. Ratcliffe stated this makes $170,000 available for the development of Alcoholism Services and Programs throughout the Eastern Region for the remainder of the current fiscal year.

Applications for utilization of Hughes funds may be submitted by public or private non-profit agencies. Such applications should be submitted through the local mental health center.

It was agreed that the town will surface Cameron Street extension if the owners will dedicate the land. The extending of this street would provide another exit from Farmville onto the 264 Bypass.

Margaret Liverman appeared inquiring about how renters of homes on Perry Street can have the street paved. She was advised that she and her neighbors will have to appeal to owners of the lots along the street and get 51 per cent of them to petition for paving. "We very much want to get every street in Farmville paved," Commissioner W. R. Duke said, "but landowners have to initiate the action."

Mrs. Edward King presented a petition for the paving of Cotton Street from Barrett to fields.

CANDIDATE WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Jerome R. Waldie says he will run for the Democratic nomination for governor of California in the June 4 primary.

Town Administrator Andy Martin told her he is contacting owners along the ditch she had asked about earlier and will have the matter in hand very soon.

Thomas Liverman complained that his job as director of the H. B. Sugg recreation program, which earned him $100 a week year before last, paid only $75 a week last year and he has been told it would be $75 a week this year. He said he knows others with comparable jobs are earning $100 and $105 a week in Town Summer Recreation Programs. Town Administrator said the town realizes that these teachers who work in the summer program are not being paid what they're worth or what they're accustomed to, but that this is all the town can afford. Liverman, a black teacher, said it appears to be a case of racial discrimination. Recreation Commissioner Sarah Albritton promised to look into the problem.
