

Sweeping Subpoena Served White House

By DON McLEOD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is pondering what to do about a sweeping subpoena that orders President Nixon to turn over a mass of tapes and documents to be used in the Watergate cover-up trial of his former top lieutenants.

The subpoena issued Thursday by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica directs Nixon to give the Watergate special prosecutor tapes and documents covering 64 presidential conversations.

Special prosecutor Leon Jaworski had asked Sirica last Tuesday to issue the subpoena after what he said were unsuccessful efforts to negotiate a voluntary agreement with the White House.

The subpoena was served late Thursday afternoon about two hours after Sirica signed it. It orders the materials turned over by 10 a.m. May 2.

Withholding subpoenaed materials needed for the conduct of a trial is a tougher legal problem than resisting such requests from investigatory bodies. Two of the defendants in this case joined the prosecutor in requesting that the materials be subpoenaed.

The new subpoena requests materials specifically for evidence in the trial, scheduled to start Sept. 9, of former White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, ex-chief domestic adviser John D. Ehrlichman, former attorney general and Nixon campaign manager John N. Mitchell, and four others.

Earlier subpoenas issued by the prosecutor's office had sought information for the grand jury rather than for a trial. One of these was upheld by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here and led to the firing of original prosecutor Archibald Cox when he refused to halt the subpoena process. The White House later released the subpoenaed material.

Some of the tapes also are being sought by the House Judiciary Committee, which is studying impeachment, in a separate subpoena under consideration by the White House. Another subpoena from the Senate Watergate committee still is in the courts.

In other Watergate developments:

—Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said that if Nixon refuses to cooperate with the House impeachment inquiry it would put his administration in grave danger.

—John H. Melcher Jr., executive vice president of American Ship Building Co., pleaded guilty to being an accessory after the fact in an effort to cover up an illegal corporate campaign contribution to Nixon's 1972 reelection effort.

—Informed sources said Jaworski's office has taken over the Internal Revenue Service investigation of Nixon's controversial gift of pre-presidential papers. Previously, a congressional committee had conducted an inquiry.

Mid-East Commission Is Told Older Adults' Needs

AT MID-EAST SESSION. . . Thursday afternoon, T. N. Hobgood, Dr. Leon B. Perkinson, Mid-East chairman Jack Runion and Dr. J. A. Christenson

Discuss what the future may hold for the five county Mid-East planning region.

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

The installation of officers for the coming year and an address by North Carolina Attorney General Robert Morgan highlighted the annual meeting of the Mid-East Commission here last night.

The commission served as the regional clearing house for state and federal grant projects and as a regional planning agency for economic development for state multi-county planning region Q, including Pitt, Beaufort, Martin, Bertie and Hertford Counties.

Morgan, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate told the audience that more needs to be done to help older adults in our society.

"In recent years," Morgan said, "we have seen the steadily increasing importance of older adults to the State. This age group which often is defined as 65 and over because of retirement policies, now includes a good 10 per cent of our total population."

Although there are many programs in operation, "much remains to be done," Morgan suggested.

"While some of the gaps can be filled at the State level through continued effort to improve our consumer oriented programs to assure fair and equitable tax relief, to promote wise use of community resources, major programs for the benefit of older adults will continue to stem from acts of Congress."

The speaker said a cheaper and more comprehensive health insurance is needed for older adults and suggested that Old Age and Survivors Insurance should be adjusted to the rising costs of living "while at the same time assuring the continued fiscal soundness of this large-scale income program."

According to Morgan, "all of these problems... have their special relevance to the elderly, but they are also important to all of us."

Jack A. Runion of Williamson, outgoing chairman of the commission presided at last night's session and introduced First District Congressman Walter Jones, who installed the new officers, that included: chairman Robert B. Spivey of Windsor, first vice-chairman Ross Persinger of Ayden, second vice-chairman J. Stencil Lilley of Washington, secretary Earl R. Lewis of Ahoskie, and treasurer Wilbur D. Edwards of Williamson.

Runion, in giving a report of the commission's activities over the past year, told the 265 persons attending last night's session said the "Mid-East Commission is truly people working together."

The region has historically been one of rural character, Runion said, but this is changing. "During the year Region Q experienced the opening of new industries, the expansion of existing industries and the growth of financial and education institutions. An additional 1,400 new jobs were created as a result of five new industries locating in the region, and there were six existing industries that expanded their operations."

He noted that a land use and development plan has been prepared as well as an interim regional water and sewer plan. He also cited progress in the area of Comprehensive Health Planning, including the establishment of an Emergency Medical Services committee to work for improved emergency medical services for the citizens of the region, and the funding of a family planning proposal which will add to the existing family planning services now being provided by health departments and social services departments in the Mid-East area.

"This year has been a period of awakening to the needs of the older adults in the region," Runion emphasized, citing the establishment of senior citizens clubs, additional health services and a special nutrition program as resulting from the Mid-East as work in the area of older adult planning.

"I challenge you to diversify and maximize the tremendous potential we possess," Runion concluded.

WASHINGTON (AP) Sharply higher food prices and a record jump in nonfood commodities pushed the cost of living up 1.1 per cent in March as the worst inflation in a quarter of a century held its grip on the economy, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said last month's rise sent consumer prices 10.2 per cent higher than a year ago, the most in any 12-month period since an identical rise in 1948.

For the first quarter of 1974, consumer prices rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 14.5 per cent, highest in any three-month period since the first quarter of 1951 during the Korean War.

The gloomy economic report was the second in two days. The Commerce Department reported Thursday that the Gross National Product — the nation's total output of goods and services — fell at a 5.8 per cent annual rate, the first decline in three years and the biggest drop in 16 years.

Although the Nixon administration says it expects the economy to turn around in the second half of the year, some government analysts predict the next three months will be as bad or worse than the inflation for the first three months of the year.

With inflation continuing unabated, the Labor Department said buying power of American workers fell nine-tenths of 1 per cent in March to a level 4.7 per cent below a year ago. It marked the biggest annual decline since the government began keeping that statistic in 1964.

Break-Out

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Forty prisoners armed with submachine guns shot their way out of a downtown Rio prison this morning, and seven persons, including one guard and one military policeman, were wounded, police said.

The convicts fanned out through the north and south of the seaside city and gun battles were reported in at least five locations as police threw up barricades and surrounded small bands of convicts.

Police said eight prisoners had already been recaptured, and appealed to the public over the radio to remain calm because the situation was being "brought under control."

The Consumer Price Index climbed last month to 143.1 of its 1967 average, meaning that it cost consumers $143.10 to buy the same variety of retail goods and services that $100 bought in 1967.

The 1.1 per cent jump in prices last month, on both a seasonally and unadjusted basis, compared with a 1.3 per cent rise in February and an increase of 1 per cent in January. It was the third biggest monthly jump since September 1947. August of last year was the biggest since then — 1.9 per cent — followed by this February and March.

Government analysts said higher prices for gasoline and food were responsible for about 25 per cent of the March increase.

Grocery prices jumped one per cent, substantially more than is usual for March, but less than the increases for the previous two months. Fresh vegetables, processed fruits, cereals, bakery and dairy products were up but beef prices, after rising sharply in February, declined in March.

But the sharpest increase was in nonfood commodities, including industrial prices, which rose 1.5 per cent both seasonally and unadjusted last month. It was the biggest increase in this category since statistics in 1956.

Gasoline and motor oil again jumped sharply in March, rising 7 per cent to a level 39.3 per cent above the previous March. Fuel oil and coal prices dropped slightly last month but were still 57.7 per cent above March 1973.

New car prices increased instead of declining as they usually do in March. Prices for used cars continued to fall.

Services rose eight-tenths of 1 per cent from February to March, driven up by a 20 per cent jump in postal charges and a rise of 1.7 per cent in physicians' fees.

A rise of five-tenths of one per cent in average hourly earnings last month was offset by the jump in consumer prices and a drop of three-tenths of one per cent in average weekly hours, sending average weekly earnings down eight-tenths of one per cent for the month.

Earlier, a Commerce Department official said inflation in the second quarter this year will be as bad or worse than the 10.8 per cent rate for this first three months.

Warplanes Again In Golan Fighting

By The Associated Press
Syrian and Israeli warplanes roared into action for the second straight day today as ground fighting raged for key positions on Mt. Hermon and along the 40-mile Golan Heights front.

The Syrian command said its MIGs "scored direct hits" on Israeli positions, "causing heavy losses in men and equipment," but Israel reported no casualties in the air strikes.

The Syrians also claimed their missiles downed seven Israeli warplanes, but Israel said all its planes returned safely.

The Tel Aviv command said the Israeli jets attacked artillery and troop emplacements six miles behind Syria's front lines, hitting Syrian targets for three hours on the slopes of Mt. Hermon and on the southern Golan front.

In Lebanon, nine Israeli planes were seen striking a Syrian radar station on the peak of the Anti-Lebanon Mountains just east of the Syrian-Lebanon frontier. There was no immediate estimate of the damage or comment from the Syrian command.

Control of Mt. Hermon is sought by both sides because its 9,200-foot peak commands a view for miles into Lebanon, Israel said.

An Israeli military spokesman said "all our planes returned safely."

Syria also claimed that Israeli planes had bombed their own positions "inflicting casualties on their own troops" at Tel Al Arayess in the Golan Heights during confusion created by the Syrian missile attack. Israel called the claims "nonsense."

The spokesman confirmed that SAM missiles had been fired at the Israeli planes, but said he could not confirm or deny that ground to ground missiles were employed.

The Israeli jets struck at Syrian targets on the 9,200-foot peak and on the southern Golan front, a communique said. Israel's air action apparently was triggered when Syria shelled the Mt. Hermon defenders and Israelis on the southern bulge.

Suggestions, Objections Heard On Long-Range Street System

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

The City Council conducted a public hearing on the proposed Major Thoroughfare Plan Thursday night and heard a number of suggestions and objections from area citizens concerning the long-range street system.

City Planner John Schofield told the large crowd attending that the Thoroughfare Plan, when adopted by the city and state, will offer a general guide for future street development and construction in Greenville. He explained that the plan, developed by the State Department of Transportation, encompasses three types of streets: major thoroughfares, minor thoroughfares and local streets. Projected population figures, employment data and land uses for the city were used in the plan design, Schofield reported.

The city planner said that the Department of Transportation, in working on the plan, projected the potential street needs of the city for 1990 and 1995 and attempted to analyze where street deficiencies are and what needs to be done to correct them in order to meet future needs.

Schofield said that traffic data used in the plan is already outdated in some areas as various streets and intersections in the city are experiencing rapid increases in traffic flow.

City Engineer Charles Holliday told the gathering that the Planning Commission has already reviewed the plan and proposed four major changes in the thoroughfare network.

The proposals basically involve construction of a bridge across the Tar River at the northern extension of Brownlee Drive rather than at Elm Street; a realignment of the Arlington Drive intersection with N.C. 43 to avoid an acute angle; realignment of a connector between Hooker Road and 14th Street to utilize the present Howell Street route rather than construction of a new street; and an alternative to the proposed one-way pairing of sections of Fourth and Fifth Streets.

Council member Mrs. Millie McGrath said that she objected to the proposed route of Red Banks Road as it would intersect with Greenville Boulevard near Lyndale. She said that the proposed situation would be a "public hazard" and place five entries onto the bypass within a short distance of each other.

Mrs. McGrath, asserting that the Red Banks Road intersection reflects "very poor planning," proposed that further study be given to the situation.

Councilman Dr. Frank Fuller said that serious consideration should be given to connectors between East Carolina University and the potential site of the ECU Medical School near the new hospital. He added that the possibility of the location of an area health center in the hospital area would also necessitate the need for a suitable connector route.

Councilman Percy Cox, who presided in the absence of Mayor Eugene West, reminded the council and members of the audience that the plan is for use by the Planning and Zoning Commission and can be altered if needed.

Mrs. Carrie Oakley asked the Council if a definite time had been set for the development of Arlington Drive from Hooker Road to Memorial Drive. It was noted that the project is considered first priority but is projected on a 20-year need basis.

Mrs. Jane Tripp questioned why the proposed N.C. 11 Bypass is projected on the thoroughfare maps to be a new road rather than following the existing route of Secondary Road 1203 (Allen Road). Bill Beddingfield of the Advance Planning Division of the State Department of Transportation reported that the purpose of the bypass is to divert traffic off Memorial Drive and it was felt that if the route of the bypass was moved further out towards Allen Road, the route would not be used since motorists would hesitate to drive several miles in order to reach a bypass. He added that the map projections are general corridors and not definite alignments.

James G. Allen asserted that the State Department of Transportation destroyed the corner at the Allen Road and 264 intersection when it created a four-lane section there.

Mrs. Kay Clyde voiced an objection to the proposed development of Fourth Street to handle more traffic, contending that increased traffic would be a danger to school children and widening of the street would necessitate cutting down trees.

She said that alternatives are needed and she noted that (Continued on page 8)

Candidates' Wives Visit Pitt County

By ROSALIE TROTMAN and CAROL B. TYER

Making visits yesterday to Pitt County were the wives of three of the candidates in the race for the U.S. Senate.

of the Pitt County Democratic Women. "In the 1972 race, I campaigned in the same manner that Nick did, but separately. During this race, I have worked primarily in the state headquarters in Raleigh," Mrs. Galifianakis said.

me, aside from my family. Yes, it is tiring. Yes, it is hectic and nerve wracking. But, no, I wouldn't trade places with anyone else in the world tonight," said Mrs. Galifianakis. Continuing she added, "One of the things that makes Nick's candidacy so important to North Carolina is his legislative experience on the federal level and the fact that he's proven he is a man who can get things done for this state. We love this state, that is why we do it. There are lots of other things we could do. I care about our government so it's easy. It's easy to stop my life and get so involved in the campaign.

"Our strong feelings about this government are even transmitted to our children. Our daughter, Katherine wants to go to law school so she can serve in the Congress. She is the type who will do it, too. She cares so much. It's a special thing to see children growing up feeling this way."

The Galifianakis have another daughter, Stephanie, and a son, Jon Mark.

"I wish each of you could spend just one day with me in Raleigh and watch the young people who work from dawn to the early morning hours because they believe in this country—and because they believe in Nick. Walking into campaign headquarters and seeing these young people who are dedicated to making this world just a little bit better if they can is like a breath of fresh air to me. Truly, they are the heart of our country and I predict great things from the leadership they will provide," concluded Mrs. Galifianakis.

"I can be happy anywhere," Katie Morgan asserts. She seems a self-possessed woman who, with her daughters, Margaret, 12, and Mary, 11, is working hard to obtain a new address in Washington, D.C. with daddy as senator from North Carolina.

delinquency has culminated in the publication of his book, "Youth and the Law," which is now used as a text in civics classes throughout the state.

"Now he believes, and I believe, he can be of more use to the citizens of North Carolina as one of their two representatives in the U.S. Senate."

A family oriented campaign is being staged by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hall Wilson and their children.

"We are living in Monroe which is Henry's hometown—where I came as a bride and where two of our three children were born. Even though we have been around and about, we call Monroe home.

"Henry's headquarters is located in the building in which he began his law practice in 1948," commented Mrs. Wilson. "Our son, Hank, is campaign strategist and therefore schedules personal appearances for his father. My campaign schedule is coordinated by Miss Janice Hardison, who is on leave from ECU. Janice is working full time in the Raleigh headquarters when she is not traveling with me.

"Our daughter, Nancy, is a graduate of Bennington College, Vermont, and is spending this year campaigning for her father. She is responsible for the volunteer activities in Monroe. Our daughter, Jena, will graduate in early May from Duke University Law School. She has organized Durham County and has added expertise to her father's campaign from her experience in Adlai Stevenson's campaign in Illinois in 1970," she said.

Mrs. Wilson continued, "Henry was the first candidate to announce for the U.S. Senate last May. He has devoted his full time effort to acquainting himself with the people of N.C., their needs and problems. I began traveling in February, rarely appearing with my husband but rather attending meetings that Henry was unable to attend. I have enjoyed talking to people in the news media. I have been answering questions about Henry's campaign, telling people of his qualifications for the Senate seat."

"Henry's whole career has in one way or another been oriented toward public service. His experience in the N. C. Legislature was followed by six and a half years as administrative assistant to President Kennedy and President Johnson on the White House staff and then followed by six years as president and chief executive officer of the Chicago Board of Trade, which is not only the largest financial institution in the world but also a public institution dealing in domestic and foreign commodities," she commented.

"Henry knows that his combined experience in state lawmaking, national legislative processes and administration in the private sector make him uniquely qualified to represent North Carolina in the U. S. Senate.

"He has always sought to serve the people of North Carolina. He has for many years, dreamed of coming home again and he now believes that the voters of this state are responding affirmatively to his request for his support.

"I have heard many times across the state, Henry Hall Wilson is the kind of qualified candidate we have been looking for," concluded Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. William Shires, president of the Pitt County Democratic Women, extended the welcome to the members, guests and special guests.

Annual Meeting Of Albemarle Presbytery Churchwomen Set

KINSTON—The 76th annual meeting of the Women of the Church, Albemarle Presbytery, will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, here Tuesday and Wednesday, April 23 and 24. Mrs. Emmitt Hubbard of Wilson, president, will preside at all sessions.

Council members will meet Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock with general registration beginning at 5:15, followed by a fellowship dinner at 6:15. A worship service, with the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper being administered by Dr. Thomas Hamilton, minister of the Kinston First Presbyterian Church, will follow.

Registration on Wednesday will begin at 9:30 and will be followed by a business session and luncheon.

Dr. Davis Burr, D.D., minister of the Winston-Salem First Presbyterian Church, will speak at the evening and morning sessions on the theme of the meeting, "Accept Personhood". Mrs. W. E. Fenner of Wilson will present the birthday objective at both sessions. Special music will be offered by Buford Goodman and the choir of the hostess church, and Hope Shackelford, soloist.

Other special guests will be: The Rev. Thomas M. Davis, executive secretary, Albemarle Presbytery, who will offer the invocation and bring greetings at both sessions; the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Lofquist, minister, retired, Greenville; Miss Marion Fisk, director of Leadership and Resources, Albemarle Presbytery, Greenville, who will conduct the installation of officers; and Mrs. F. I. Fansler, Roanoke Rapids, directors, North Carolina Women's Conference.

Others participating will be: Mrs. Sylvanus Nye, Kinston, president of the Women of the First Church; Mrs. Clarence Stasavich, Mrs. I. B. Koonce, and Mrs. Marvin Evans, Greenville; Mrs. O. J. Barnes and Mrs. Gary Phillips, Rocky Mount; Mrs. Dillon Cobb, Williamston; Mrs. Huw Christopher, Washington; and Mrs. Paul Harris, Wilson. Mrs. W. D. LaRoque and Mrs. Thomas Sudreth are general chairmen of this annual meeting. They extend a welcome to the 50 churches of Albemarle Presbytery to attend.

Mrs. Stasavich is treasurer of WOC. Mrs. Koonce is chairman of the Scholarship Committee, while Mrs. Evans is vice president of the WOC, and Mrs. H. H. Bryant is co-chairman of Ecumenical Mission and Relations, all of the Albemarle Presbytery.

EVENING SPEAKERS... for the Pitt County Democratic Women were, left to right, Mrs. Nick Galifianakis, Mrs. Robert Morgan and Mrs. Henry Hall Wilson.

Couple Honored On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thad J. Wooten, of 825 Fleming St., received relatives and friends at a reception in honor of their golden wedding anniversary at the Bachelor-Benedict Club Sunday afternoon.

Blessings were given by their minister, Rev. B. B. Felder, of the Sycamore Hill Baptist Church.

Miss Caldonia Gatlin presented the guests to the receiving line. Punch and refreshments were served by Mrs. Victoria Smith, Mrs. Maggie Woodard and Mrs. Charity Wardell from a table covered with a white satin cloth. Table decorations included spring flowers and a three-tiered wedding cake.

Gifts were received by Miss Essie Wiggins, Mrs. Marion Wilkes and Mrs. Julia Davis.

The couple's two children, Mrs. Evelyn Lassiter and Charles Wooten of Washington, D. C., were host and hostess for the occasion.

MR. AND MRS. THAD J. WOOTEN

Robert Morgan was in politics long before he and the former Katie Owen were married in 1960, so Mrs. Morgan and the children have never known any other life. But this is the first time he has sought an office that would take the family away from Morgan's native Lillington. He has commuted to Raleigh throughout the 12 years he was in the N.C. Senate and the six years he has been State Attorney General.

Mrs. Morgan says she has considerable affection for Greenville and Pitt County because this is where she met her husband when both were freshmen at East Carolina College. And this is where she "re-met" him seven years later when she accompanied him to the dedication of Joyner Library at East Carolina. She was living in Greenville and teaching English at Grimesland at the time, when she received the invitation from the old friend who had by then graduated from ECC, gone on to Law School at Wake Forest College, and run for clerk of court of Harnett County. He has not been out of politics since, though he did have a private law practice in Lillington while he was in the Senate.

Mrs. Morgan is taking a leave of absence from her job as a high school supervisor in the Harnett County Schools to campaign for her husband. Margaret and Mary go with her when they can, and sometimes they go separately to political functions, accompanied by a chaperone.

"Robert would not run for the Senate in the last election, though some had expected him to, because he said his work as Attorney General was not completed," she said. "Now he feels the programs he promised to institute—consumer protection, drug abuse control, youth and the law, and the upgrading of the State Bureau of Investigation—are being well carried out. His work in the prevention of juvenile delinquency has culminated in the publication of his book, "Youth and the Law," which is now used as a text in civics classes throughout the state.

"Henry's whole career has in one way or another been oriented toward public service. His experience in the N. C. Legislature was followed by six and a half years as administrative assistant to President Kennedy and President Johnson on the White House staff and then followed by six years as president and chief executive officer of the Chicago Board of Trade, which is not only the largest financial institution in the world but also a public institution dealing in domestic and foreign commodities," she commented.

Mrs. William Shires, president of the Pitt County Democratic Women, extended the welcome to the members, guests and special guests.

Garden Club Holds Meet

GRIFTON—Mrs. John Glenn and Mrs. H.B. McIver presented the program at the meeting of the Grifton Garden Club held Monday afternoon.

Mrs. McIver showed slides of a trip to Florida and Mrs. Glenn told of a trip to Russia made by her daughter, Mrs. Craven Hughes. Mrs. Glenn also displayed several mementos of the trip.

As an annual project, members plan to plant geraniums in a box at the post office. A letter was read advising members of a house and garden tour on May 1 in Kinston. On May 14, members will visit the Belhaven Art Center and will meet at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. A. D. Wall. The trip will honor new members of the club.

Mrs. J.E. Smith and Mrs. McIver were hostesses for the meeting.

Benefit Card Party Planned

The Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club will sponsor a benefit card party Thursday, April 25, at E. B. Aycock Junior High School from 8-11 p.m.

There will be bridge, canasta and rook games. The price will be $1.00 per person.

Persons planning to attend are asked to bring playing cards.

Attic Sale Set For Saturday

An attic sale will be held Saturday morning beginning at 9 a.m. at the corner of Ninth and Evans Street.

Sponsored by the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church, the sale will continue until 4:30 p.m.

The sale will include clothes, hats, crafts, trash and treasures.

Bride-Elect Entertained

GRIFTON—On Saturday morning Miss Jennifer Butler and Miss Sylvia Lamb entertained at an informal party honoring Miss Joan Nelson, bride-elect of Ricky Gaddy.

Guests were received on the patio by Mrs. L.A. Butler and Mrs. Leon Lamb. They were presented to the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs. R. B. Nelson, and Mrs. Richard Gaddy, mother of the bridegroom-elect. Miss Nelson was presented an orchid corsage and the mothers with novelty miniature wedding bell corsages.

The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth and decorated with arrangements of pink and white spring flowers interspersed with Easter decorations.

Miss Butler and Miss Lamb assisted in serving.

A bride's book was presented to the bride-to-be by the hostesses.

GOP Has Reason For Concern

A Republican candidate for Congress has been defeated in Michigan after the GOP had held the district for 42 years.

Bob Traxler, a Democrat, defeated James Sparling, Jr. in the special election. It is not lost on the political analysts that President Nixon visited the district to campaign for the Republican candidate.

With the president's popularity at a low ebb, the defeat following the presidential visit to the district is creating real concern for leaders of the Republican party.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford called it a bad omen.

"One party control is not good for America," Ford said. "And the trend in congressional elections now is for the Democrats to end up with an overwhelming majority in the House. This will mean a legislative dictatorship."

The results of this election are bound to raise concern about a Democratic avalanche next fall. More important, Republican candidates must be considering the effects of having the president appear in their districts in the up coming campaigns. Normally the appearance by the president would be welcomed, but in this time of Watergate the opposite effect could be true.

There will be difficult decisions to be made by GOP candidates for the fall. It will take wisdom to take the steps which will hold the party together during difficult times.

Stewart Busy Paying Debts

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—Carl Stewart Jr. is a man hard at work paying a big debt—and enjoying every minute of it.

Raised, like many a Tar Heel child of the 30s, in a three-room mill hill house, Stewart today can take his pick of hundreds of rooms to live in since he is a major owner of the Royal Villa motel chain.

This year he rounded out service as co-chairman of the influential Appropriations Committee of the General Assembly—the group which puts together the state's $3.1 billion budget.

That service, his other work as a four-term member of the General Assembly, and whatever the future holds—he is politically ambitious—is a labor of love for Stewart.

"Somehow, many of the agencies I have responsibility for funding I have touched along the way—through personal experience," Stewart said.

And one of the programs he is strongest for is public education—including the community college system in North Carolina which he considers "one of the finest in the nation."

membership, and a driving desire to pay back some debts.

In 1962, Stewart opened his Gastonia law office and soon was president of the United Appeal, president of the Optimists, involved in Gaston Skills, a sheltered workshop, and determined to run for the General Assembly despite "not much encouragement" from the established political structure. But the practice of hand picking candidates and politics based on money and family was already eroding in Gastonia—Stewart won election.

Fell In Love

"I came down here and absolutely fell in love with it," Stewart admits candidly. "This is the arena where policies affecting all of our people are made... I'm proud to be part of that."

The session just ended has been roundly criticized as oriented to special interests—ignoring the needs of the average Tar Heel.

"There's some justification for that—but the budget is the silver lining to this session. It atones for many failures," Stewart feels.

He points to "great strides in many areas," ticking off public education, services to children with special needs, reform of the judicial system, advancements in health education and community services to mental health, and funding for the community college system as key steps.

Next year, Stewart said, will be a time for him to "do some creative thinking about 1977—trying to come up with a program for the state for the General Assembly to consider" as he works for endorsement from fellow Democrats to serve as speaker.

This is a new role for a speaker, Stewart confessed, but is being brought about by the growing strength of a two-party system, and by the changing nature of the General Assembly.

"There are more young people coming down here, more women, more educators. This kind of Legislature is harder working, more progressive, issue-oriented—and the power flow to the federal level has been reversed, as it should be, with the state assuming a stronger role."

"The Legislature has a responsibility to develop its own programs, work with its own staff and research facilities, and adopt a more mature and sophisticated approach to legislation," he said.

Hearst Kidnapping Is Stranger Than Fiction

The kidnapping case of Patricia Hearst becomes even more bizarre with apparent photographs of her participating in a bank robbery.

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said he is convinced that Patricia Hearst "was not a reluctant participant" in the robbery.

There are many inconsistencies in this case but no judgments should be made until the full facts are known.

Gerald Ford Is The Spearpoint

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

DETROIT—Well before Vice President Ford was publicly rebuked by White House press secretary Ronald Ziegler last weekend for being the source of a magazine article discussing a possible Ford cabinet, the outlines of a major speech denouncing arrogance of power by a President's White House staff were beginning to take shape in Ford's mind.

Ford is being pressed by political intimates and party leaders to make such an encore to his assault last month on the "arrogant, elite guard of political adolescents" controlling the Committee for the Re-election of the President (CREEP). The CREEP speech, Ford's coming of age as the single most influential Republican politician, attempted to put him on the right side of the Watergate issue without bringing him into direct conflict with President Nixon. As such, it produced only private complaints from the White House staff.

But Ford, newly aware of his unique position at the pinnacle of Republican influence, would cut much closer to the bone by attacking the old Berlin wall of H. R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman. Not once since his two trusted aids left last April 30 has the President permitted himself even a suggestion of criticism. Rather, he has integrated his own defense with theirs.

Moreover, even before Ford's contemplated speech, the White House mood changed. Whereas resentment had previously been directed strictly against Ford's staff for insufficient loyalty to Mr. Nixon, it is now being aimed at the Vice President himself. The White House was outraged by the New Republic magazine article last week that left no doubt Ford was the source. Ziegler's criticism fully reflected the President's own position.

The Vice President is well aware of all this in planning a new speech. As Republican leader in the House, he was systematically excluded by the Berlin wall. Hence, a warning by him against any future President permitting his inner staff to monopolize power in the Haldeman-Ehrlichman manner is regarded by him as a public duty. But it would also be a political ten-strike.

Thus, Ford has come far since that day in December when he took the oath of office under President Nixon's gaze. No political figure has shot from obscurity to acknowledged presidential heir-apparent so fast, and none with so few inherent political problems ahead.

A symbol of Ford's power position in the Republican party is the way he can speak out even on such forbidden subjects as changes he would make in the Nixon cabinet if he became President tomorrow. Only the White House has reprimanded Ford for the New Republic article.

Republican leaders have said nothing. One Southern party leader who consistently defends Mr. Nixon told us that no matter how Ford's speculation might be to the President, it "probably helps Ford." Ford has so clearly become the depository of the party's future hopes that even Nixonite stalwarts (outside the White House) hesitate to rebuke him.

This was apparent when Ford stopped off in the Detroit area last week to campaign for two Republican Congressmen running for reelection, including an address to one of the largest dinner meetings ever held by the suburban Oakland County Young Republicans.

The applause was deafening when a letter from Sen. Robert Griffin was read stating that "Jerry Ford's service to the nation has just begun." It was thunderous when Rep. William Broomfield of Michigan talked about Ford's "unique ability to bring people together, and that's what we need in this country today."

But an amplifier was needed to hear the scattered applause when Ford praised Mr. Nixon and declared him "innocent of any of these charges that have been made against him."

The new Ford formula—defend Mr. Nixon himself, while blaming the party's crisis on his old praetorian guard—avoids the major political blunder Ford made in his Atlantic City speech early this year. Ford attempted then to debunk Watergate. He has not repeated that mistake.

The future holds some risks. He will be the party's spearpoint in this year's midterm election, and could

A Most Generous Offer

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON—It looks as if there's going to be some hard bargaining between President Nixon's lawyer, James St. Clair, over the tapes and evidence the House Judiciary Committee has subpoenaed. While the President has said he was willing to co-operate fully with the House so we could put Watergate behind us, Mr. St. Clair as his defense lawyer has to think of protecting his client.

This is how the negotiating may go.

"Mr. Doar, this is James St. Clair. How's everything on the Hill?"

"Just fine, Mr. St. Clair. What's new at the White House that we should know about?"

"That's what I'm calling about. You guys didn't have to send us a subpoena. We promised we'd co-operate with you fully. When you voted a subpoena it made it sound as if we were dragging our feet."

"I know."

"Now look, Doar, we want to be reasonable down here and we're willing to give you everything you've asked for."

"You are?"

ART BUCHWALD

"Yes, with the only exception that it doesn't harm the Presidency or violate the Constitution. As Mr. Nixon's lawyer I believe I'm in the best position to know what is relevant to your impeachment hearings. I've sifted through every piece of evidence and I give you my word a lot of the stuff you're requesting is not worth fighting for."

"How do we know that if we haven't heard the tapes?"

"I heard them, and the President's heard them, and H. R. Haldeman's heard them. Why can't you take our word for it that there is absolutely nothing on them that can contribute to Mr. Nixon's impeachment? What on earth would we have to gain by keeping evidence from your committee?"

"I'm certain, Mr. St. Clair, that what you say is true, but there are some members of the committee who have a thing about presidential tapes. Now are you going to turn them over to us?"

"That's what I'm calling about. We're willing to give you 42 tapes as requested."

"Then we don't have a problem."

"But the President feels he should have the right to decide what 42 tapes to give you. That's only fair."

"I don't get you."

"The President is offering instead of the Kleindienst telephone conversation of April 15 a tape of his call to congratulate Don Shula of the Miami Dolphins for winning the Super Bowl. The President says it's a much jazzier tape and he's sure the entire House committee would enjoy it."

"He is also offering in place

Other Editors Say Reform Rejected

(Winston-Salem Journal)

Both the little time for consideration and the estimated loss in revenue gave legislators defensible reasons for rejecting the tax reform package which would have removed the state's three-percent sales tax on food, given a partial credit for inventory taxes and increased the tax rate on incomes over $15,000.

An even more cogent reason in the minds of some legislators was political. Republicans did not want to let the Democrats, who have a majority in both houses of the General Assembly, get credit for a bill which would grant tax relief to everyone in the state (for everybody eats). Some Democratic leaders, with an eye on the Governor's Mansion a block east of the Legislative Building, were equally as reluctant for Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt, a prospective candidate for the governorship in 1976 who proposed the tax package, to get the credit for a tax cut.

The unhappy fate of his tax reform package shows the obstacles put in the way of the leadership the lieutenant governor would exercise. Those who expected Mr. Hunt to provide Democratic leadership because a Republican occupies the governor's office are disappointed. Mr. Hunt's position is quite different from that of a Democratic governor. A governor exercises influence with the General Assembly by virtue of the prestige of his office and his appointive powers. He already holds the state's highest office.

A lieutenant governor has not yet arrived at the peak position. As a potential candidate for governor, his party's leaders in the legislature are his potential rivals. The line-up of candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1976 has not yet been determined, but Mr. Hunt will almost certainly be in it. Some Democratic legislative leaders are also ambitious. The debate over tax reform was to some degree a sparring match within the Democratic leadership to prevent the lieutenant governor from gaining the decided advantage which might accrue from his tax reform package proposal.

Republican reluctance to let Democratic candidates for the General Assembly this year enjoy such an advantage put another obstacle, though not so formidable as that of the Democratic leadership, in the way of the plan. A tax study is very much in order. Also, a thorough study of state government, based on sound management principles, might result in reducing the cost of operations, without handicapping services, and thereby justify a tax reform plan which will yield less revenue to the state.

Sadat Needs Soviet

By ROGER LEDDINGTON

MOSCOW (AP)—President Anwar Sadat's announcement that he is shopping in the West for the arms the Soviet government won't sell him is the latest in a series of crises in Soviet-Egyptian relations that have always fallen just short of a complete break.

Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev will probably welcome the Egyptian president for the summit meeting he proposed in his speech Thursday. But unless Sadat convinces the Soviet leaders Egypt cannot survive without the missiles and planes he wants—and Egypt demonstrated last October that it could—he is unlikely to get them.

As if anticipating another headache in his relations with the Egyptians, Brezhnev moved last week to bolster the Soviet position in the Arab world by pledging new arms shipments to Syria. He also told visiting Syrian President Hafez Assad that the Kremlin takes a dim view of the United States' "partial steps" to solve the perennial Middle East crisis and Arab moves to secure peace without Moscow's direct participation.

The Kremlin's diminishing influence in Cairo undoubtedly spurred Brezhnev to solidify relations with Damascus by promising more weapons. But no matter what develops in the wake of Sadat's latest outburst against Moscow, it is unlikely to lead to a total break between the two governments.

Sadat may get the advanced planes and missiles he wants—the icing on the arms cake, as it were—when France or some other Western supplier. But his armed forces now are completely armed with Soviet equipment, and this leaves him dependent on the Kremlin for replacements.

Ever since the Arab debacle in the 1967 war, Egypt has been regularly asking the Russians

Strength For Today

TO SERVE THE LORD

When Baal worship became fashionable in Israel, Joshua stood up before his fellow countrymen and made a great declaration. He and his household had decided not to conform to the prevailing style. "Choose ye this day," he said, "whom ye will serve... but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

It is never easy to criticize the conduct of one's fellows or take a stand against them. Baal worship was easy. It permitted indulgence and was a frank avowal of worldly ease and comfort as the highest values in life. The worship of Jehovah made moral demands and was therefore much harder to live up to. Joshua's name stands out in history because he chose to be out of style in religious matters.

How many households today proclaim to the world, "We will serve the Lord?" There are many, but not enough. We need more people who will repudiate the secular Baal worship of today and take their stand with Joshua.

Bruised In Energy Controversy

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the giants of U.S. industrial life are showing their bruises from the energy controversy and are fighting their critics with unusually blunt accusations.

Says General Electric: "Appliances are not wasteful users of energy as the public has been led to believe." That belief, claim GE executives, is the result of "misinformation... and downright bad advice."

General Motor's outrage is directed at what it feels are smears contained in a booklet distributed by a Senate subcommittee alleging, among other things, that GM destroyed thriving street railway systems.

"General Motors did not destroy street railway systems," the company said in a 67-page reply. "They failed everywhere because they were no longer able to give adequate service."

It adds that the publication, distributed by the Senate subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly, "is replete with additional false and deceptive statements."

Neither company is likely to change attitudes immediately, but their claims seem to open a phase of the energy controversy in which opposing views might be better analyzed and the objective truth distilled from them.

One of the popular assumptions about the shortage is that the proliferation of electric appliances, such as toothbrushes and self-cleaning ovens and the like are among the chief culprits.

But, says GE, a self-cleaning oven uses only slightly more electricity than a conventional oven.

A statement released here in March said: "It is essential to recognize that the 300 million major appliances presently in use consume a small fraction of our total energy. Only about 5 per cent of the total energy supply is being used in the home..."

GM's anger was made known to the subcommittee in the form of a request to suspend distribution of what it terms a false, misleading document. If that document is distributed again, it asked that GM's position accompany it.

The chief causes for GM's anger were assertions that: —GM aided the Nazis during World War II through its subsidiary, the Adam Opel Co. After the German invasion of Poland, GM claims, it had little effective control of Opel decisions. —GM helped suppress rail transportation. —GM helped destroy more than 100 surface rail systems, its motive being to promote the sale of its gasoline-using products.

The company's response was delivered to the subcommittee last week. A company spokesman said discussions were continuing with the subcommittee but that, so far as he could learn, no decision on GM's request has been received.

DEAR ABBY: Here is the big argument between me and my mother. If I am home alone, should I have to answer the phone when it rings? I say only if I feel like it. She says I must, regardless!

Let's assume the phone rang, and I didn't answer it. If the call is for a member of the family who isn't home, he or she would not be home to talk anyway, so if it's important, the caller would call back later, right?

If the call is for me, if I chose not to answer it that means I don't feel like talking, so that's my privilege, isn't it?

That's my argument, and my mom disagrees. I see no reason why I should have to tear myself away from whatever I'm doing to answer the telephone. I am tired of being a secretary for my parents and taking messages for them when they're out. If messages are that important to them they should get a mechanical box that answers telephone calls with a prerecorded message.

I am curious to know your opinion on the matter.

TIRED TEEN

DEAR TIRE: I think your mother is right. It could be an emergency or an important message for someone in your family. Now, get off your duff and answer the telephone when it rings!

DEAR ABBY: In a few months we will be moving into our new home, and I'd like to throw a question out to you, and your readers.

We will have a swimming pool, and I want to enjoy using it; however, I've observed other pool owners having problems with uninvited friends who overstay their welcome. Also neighbors who get hurt if they are told: "No, not today."

Someone suggested the flag system [when it's out, come on over], but how do we keep the undesirables from joining in, too?

How can we ask people nicely to leave at a certain time without turning them off completely?

There it is. Am I making a mountain out of a molehill?

NEW POOL OWNER

DEAR OWNER: The flag system is the best. Who are the "undesirables" who "might" join in, too? If you mean strangers, ask them to leave. If they're neighbors who have been invited by you to "come on over" when your flag is out, when you want them to leave at a certain time make it plain beforehand, so they won't be surprised.

DEAR ABBY: At a banquet recently, I was being introduced to my husband's boss and employees when a secretary piped up, "Your hair is very pretty. Or is that a wig?" [It was]. There was total silence while everyone waited for

The Kremlin also has been unhappy about Sadat's encouragement of the private sector in the Egyptian economy.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko reportedly complained last month to Egyptian Economy Minister Abdel Aziz Higazi about the "retreat" in the public sector of the economy. Higazi is reported to have replied sharply that the factories Egypt's public sector got from the Russians either lacked spare parts or were old fashioned.

The Soviet leaders also are concerned over frequent Arab complaints about the Kremlin attempts to promote Communist ideology in Arab countries.

The pledges of the Iota Kappa Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Inc., sponsored a two-day woodworks workshop Saturday and Monday.

Participating in the event were junior high age girls who made such objects as pocket-books, bookends, scrap books and jewelry boxes.

my reply. Having been put on the spot, I had to tell the truth, but I don't know when I've been so humiliated. Another time, I was asked by a woman I hardly knew: "Those aren't your real eyelashes, are they?" [They weren't.]

I have witnessed nery questions being asked of others. For example: "How much did that cost?" Also: "How come you never had any children?"

Are people getting less considerate of others? I have never noticed such bad manners before. Please tell people to cut it out!

PLEASE DON'T ASK

DEAR PLEASE: Rude, thoughtless and presumptuous people always have been with us, but no one is compelled to answer a question he doesn't want to answer. An appropriate response is, "I don't think it's any of your business." And don't hang around for a rebuttal.

be contaminated to the extent his party loses seats in a possible Democratic landslide. But a confident Ford, now wearing elegant suits with slant coat pockets and shirts with detachable soft collars and french cuffs, seems totally unconcerned.

"That would be a problem," he told us ". . . if I were a candidate for President, but I'm not."

Ford's closest political friends don't believe that disclaimer. Moreover, the feud between his staff and Mr. Nixon's adds to the disbelief. Ford's lieutenants correctly perceive him not as the President's right-hand man but as what he has become in just five months: the single most influential Republican in the country.

"Okay Doar. The President asked me to give you a message if you refused his generous offer."

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank McGee, the NBC newsman whose little-known fight against bone cancer ended in death this week, is being buried Sunday near Washington, Va., a small farming town 65 miles from the nation's capital.

McGee, 52, a polite, unassuming man, was eulogized Thursday on NBC's "Today" show, a program he joined in October 1971. The eulogies, however well-intended, seemed overdone. He'd probably have winced at them.

You rarely read much about him until his death Wednesday. He was an anomaly among top network anchors, for whom publicity machines work long and hard to get names known and news shows watched.

One felt he reluctantly went along with the drumbeating when called on to help publicize his TV projects. But he was neither an overt nor covert publicity hound. He simply was a journalist and a good one.

Although his fame stemmed back to the late 1950s, when he drew acclaim for his calm, penetrating coverage of the civil rights battles, it wasn't until one day in 1962 that I fully realized how good he was.

He was on the air, describing a tickertape parade for John Glenn, the first U.S. astronaut to orbit the earth, when a jetliner crashed on takeoff from Idlewild Airport, killing everyone aboard.

NBC covered both scenes live. And McGee, facing millions of viewers from a mid-town studio, suddenly had to make the supremely difficult on-the-air transition from great triumph to great tragedy.

He did it repeatedly for several hours under tremendous pressure that would have sent lesser men to mental wards.

Week Of Emphasis On Youth Activities

The Immanuel Baptist Church has announced plans for conducting a week of intensive and participation-oriented series of youth activities beginning Sunday. Teen-age young people will be conducting every phase of worship in the church, including Sunday School and the morning worship hour, climaxing the day at the 7:30 p.m. worship service with a musical program planned and compiled by the young people and directed by Mrs. Norman W. Wilkerson.

George Williams, baseball coach at ECU, and an active participant in Christian Athletes' activities, will speak at a prayer breakfast to be held in the church fellowship hall at 7 a.m. Tuesday for the junior and senior high young people. The breakfast will be prepared by the Baptist women.

On Wednesday, two of the 34-voice Adult Choir of First Baptist Church, Tarboro, North Carolina will present the evangelistic musical Reaching People at the Arlington Street Baptist Church Sunday evening at 7:30.

This outreach musical combines personal testimonies and music. The testimonies will be given by members of the Arlington Street Church.

Reaching People was composed by William J. Reynolds, who is music secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention. The public is invited.

Will Welcome Rev. Chancey

A welcome home service for the Rev. Lucille Chancey will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Oak Grove Church, Bonners Lane.

Missionary Iola Russell will be the guest speaker. Refreshments will be served by the young people of the church.

The Rev. Mattie Nobles of Plymouth will preach Sunday at 11 a.m. and the Rev. Jesse Keyes will be the guest speaker at 3 p.m.

A musical program will be held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. featuring the Power Brothers.

young ladies will give the devotional following the regular family night supper in the church fellowship hall.

The week's activities will be highlighted and completed when a large number of the young people, accompanied by several adults, will travel to Winston-Salem for the Youth Convention sponsored by the N. C. Baptist State Convention. The group will return to Greenville Sunday, April 28.

The committee for planning and supervising these activities consisted of Mrs. Norman W. Wilkerson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jackson, Deborah Lambeth, Tony Lewis, Marsha Mansfield, Margie Snell and Mike Haithcock.

Offshore Oil Plans Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department plans shortly to propose a regulation that would prohibit major oil companies from making joint bids of federal offshore leases.

Undersecretary John C. Whitaker told a reporter Thursday that the proposal, to be made "within a few days," would be subject to public comment and hearings before a final decision is reached.

If the regulation were adopted, it would take effect with the first auction of federal leases for offshore areas next year, perhaps in January, Whitaker said. The offshore areas are the most likely sources of new oil for this country.

The proposal would be aimed at increasing competition in the U.S. oil industry by giving smaller, independent producers a better chance to obtain the leases.

Under current rules, the Interior Department leases offshore tracts to the highest bonus bidders, and major oil companies often combine their considerable financial resources to outbid independent firms.

The proposed regulation would ban joint bidding by large companies, but it would permit a large company to join with a small one for bidding purposes.

A large company would be defined as one controlling proven oil reserves totaling 5 billion barrels or more worldwide.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Outcries of "amen" are daily shaking the rafters of St. Luke's Episcopal Church. So are folk, jazz and rock masses. And some of the toughest kids in town.

The prestigious, old Gothic stone edifice with its rich stained glass windows has split its life style.

The handsome sanctuary has opened its doors to toughs and dropouts who can't make it in a regular school. But it is still attended at 11 a.m. on Sundays by some of Atlanta's most socially prominent.

Changes began three years ago when the Rev. Thomas Bower came to St. Luke's, which is crammed between a furniture store and parking lot in downtown Atlanta.

"The church attracted me simply because it is downtown," says Bower, who came from St. Patrick's in Washington.

Now, folk masses and other less formal worship services are held regularly at 9 a.m. Sunday. And those who prefer the formal, conventional liturgy come later.

"Once in a while it shakes a few 11 o'clockers to see a motorcyclist enter the church and put his helmet on the pew, but for the most part they've accepted it," said the Rev. Charles Summers, one of the five other priests at St. Luke's.

This week Summers has been preoccupied with the first national Conference on Contemporary Music now being held at St. Luke's.

Leaders in contemporary music are conducting workshops and giving concerts daily.

The "Outcry Amen," composed by religious co-authors Donald Marsh and Dick Avery, was being demonstrated. They thought the 'amen' might need refreshing.

"We all know that 'amen' means 'so be it,'" Marsh said. "But most people don't go around saying 'so be it' now, and that might not mean much."

"So you can interpret 'amen' to the congregation as 'Right On!' or 'I'll buy that.'"

Then, the 25 worshipers began to sing the "Outcry Amen" together. Afterward, they sat slightly stunned as the vibrations rang in the tall rafters.

"When a congregation signs an amen like that, it is not just a passing thing," said Marsh.

While the signing went on in the sanctuary, the church was attending in the basement to "some of the toughest kids in town."

They are youngsters in the recently opened Area III learning center—a dramatic concept by which dropouts can learn in new ways.

The center is the result of the church's task force and teachers from the Atlanta Board of Education. There is even a street worker who knows the language of the streets and tries to convince the toughs they should try the school.

The worker doesn't have to look far. Vandals and delinquents in the parking lot and alley near the church have helped push up Atlanta's crime rate.

"I encourage using the building in all kinds of ways," says Bower. "It's blasphemous to open the church one day a week and let it sit idle the rest of the week. That's like saying the church doesn't give a damn."

The church is often visited by persons from other states who want to learn how to vitalize their liturgy.

"We think St. Luke's has one of the best done folk masses in the Episcopal church," said Summers. "It's not a loud and raucous thing. It's really a very simple communion service."

"All the children sit up front and the rector uses puppets to give a message. We play the music on guitar, flutes and drums. Everything is sung by the congregation, as contrasted to the solo and choir work that is used in the 11 a.m. service.

"It's a dramatic kind of happening. Worship is drama, really, using symbols to convey man's search for God and man."

Folk singer Peter Yarrow, formerly of the Peter, Paul and Mary group, and one of the leaders teaching at this week's conference, agrees.

"Music," said Yarrow, strumming his guitar, "is a vehicle for the human spirit to come out. The musical value is there if the relationship (between you and others) is there."

Avery and Marsh led a signing of "Passing Thru the Waters," which they wrote for Baptisms and confirmations. The participants began by bending forward with eyes shut, as if they were under water, then very gradually rising and expanding, from side to side, feeling the water buoy them up.

As they sang the words, "I am baptized," they put their hands on their heads.

Today's church, says Bower, has all different kinds of needs. "The traditional liturgy no longer spoke to a large number of people. You have to offer alternatives."

Raps Drives On Sundays

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — A Baptist church in Kempsville has notified Tidewater March of Dimes officials that it opposes fund-raising drives on Sundays and will discourage contributions to the agency until the practice is stopped.

Emmanuel Baptist Church passed a resolution last month expressing its opposition and a copy was sent to the March of Dimes office in Norfolk.

March of Dimes officials have replied to the church by letter and telephone to explain the reasons for conducting the Sunday campaigns, implying that no suspension of the practice is contemplated.

The Rev. Waldo F. Grandstaff, pastor of the church, said Wednesday that he was aware of a March of Dimes walkathon scheduled Sunday along the oceanfront when the congregation passed its resolution.

Grandstaff said his church has some 230 members and that perhaps one-third of the membership was present when the resolution passed on a unanimous vote.

He said he objects to the idea of forcing children to decide whether to attend church or participate in a March of Dimes solicitation.

The Rev. Shirley Jones of Australia will be the evangelistic speaker for the services which will begin each evening at 7:30. Special singing will be held during the services.

The Rev. M. D. McPherson is pastor of the church which is located on the corner of Brinkley Road and Plaza Drive.

Pounding Piledriver Is Music To Grifton Principal

By CARL L. TYER
Reflector Staff Writer
GRIFTON—The pounding of a pile driver on the grounds of the Grifton Elementary School may cause headaches for some, but to Principal N.I. Baldree, it is music to the ears.

Construction on a collapsed sewer line on school property began yesterday, and hopefully will be finished in two weeks.

Completion of the project will mean bathroom facilities will again be available in the building housing the fourth through eighth grades at the school.

For Baldree this disruption of services has been the cause of small problems since the line collapsed.

The 386 students in the building have been using the facilities in the building housing the first through third grades since the line collapsed.

Baldree's problems have ranged from overcrowding of the neighboring building's facilities to discipline problems.

Construction on the collapsed line has not been started before now because of a disagreement between the Town of Grifton and the Pitt County school board over who should pay for the repair, over who gave the town the right to put the line through the property and over who gave the school board the right to build a gymnasium over-top of the city's sewer line.

The problem was resolved at the school board's meeting Wednesday night allowing construction to begin on the line.

The school board granted the town the right to repair the line without fear of having to pay for any structural damage to buildings which might be caused by the construction project.

The town has allocated $10,000 to repair the line. The collapsed line not only served the school, but also residents living on the northern side of Grifton.

Their sewer service was not disrupted, as pumps were set up to transfer the liquid carried by the line to another line.

The Town of Grifton was facing two alternatives, either repair the existing line or re-route the entire line through the school's athletic field. It was estimated that re-routing the line would have cost in the neighborhood of $30 to $35,000.

Thursday afternoon principal Baldree stated construction on the line had begun "this afternon" and he hoped to have things back to normal "within two weeks."

Mariner 10 Still Active

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 10 should still be able to make a return visit to Mercury next fall despite a failure of equipment that sends data on the spacecraft back to earth, say mission spokesmen.

Information collected by Mariner's scientific instruments and cameras can still be beamed to receivers on earth, spokesmen at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

The failure was the second major electrical problem aboard the 1,100-pound space voyager since it flew past Mercury March 29 and sent back man's first close-up photos of the planet's surface.

The new problem affected systems that transmit data on temperatures, pressures and voltages inside the spacecraft.

Mariner is now 125 million miles from earth. It is orbiting the sun and after a course correction is made next month, is to be steered back across Mercury's path for a repeat fly-by of the tiny planet.

Return From Paris Trip

Eight Greenville students have returned home after spending 19 days in Paris, France.

The students include four Rose High School students: Faith Entwistle, Susan Lee, Rena Horne and Linda Valerio; and four students from Pace Academy: ReRe Cheatham, Cheryl Cheatham, Gwen Harris and Ray Kilpatrick.

The students were accompanied by Samuel Lindsay and Edwina Lee, both instructors at Pace Academy.

The students left April 5 from Dulles Airport and flew to Paris for a 10-day trip.

The students stayed at Hotel Carlotons Pigalle (the nightclub area of Paris) which is located about two blocks from the Sacre Coeur.

Points of interest visited by the group included: Versailles, Chartre, the Louvre, the Jeu de Paume (where the Impressionist Paintings are kept) and other sights.

One evening the group ate on the Left Bank and then went to a show at the Casino de Paris.

The girls particularly enjoyed shopping at the large department stores such as the Galleries LaFayette, the largest department store in the world.

Foundation Hears Pou, Grace Speak

Dr. Joe Pou of Greenville and Dr. Eugene Grace of Durham were principal speakers at a dinner held by the N. C. Autistic Children's Foundation Tuesday evening.

Dr. Pou congratulated Mike Karachun, the Foundation's president, and Mrs. Margo Mangum, who has been named executive director of the Foundation, on their "great job in getting the Foundation organized and off to an excellent start." He noted that the charter has been approved by the Secretary of State and that an office soon will be opened at 1610 Dickinson Avenue.

He listed the Foundation's goals, a major one of which is to fund a camp facility that will enable autistic children to spend several weeks at a time there in special training. Any suggestions about donors and tax-deductible gifts should be given to Mrs. Mangum, he said.

"Whether or not this youngster, the N. C. Autistic Children's Foundation, will grow tall or not will depend upon what is done by those of us who care," Dr. Grace said. "A foundation is not unlike governmental institutions in borrowing from individual initiatives and self. What we are willing to give of ourselves determines the integrity of these institutions."

He talked about the autistic child's characteristics, one of which is often seeming inability to relate and respond to the people who love him most. "On behalf of many children who have not yet learned to respond, I thank you for what you'll do," he told the Foundation members.

Gen John A. Lang of Greenville was master of ceremonies for the dinner.

Gas Co. Rate Hike Approved

RALEIGH (AP)—The state Utilities Commission has granted Piedmont Natural Gas Co. a rate increase for its commercial and industrial customers. The increase amounts to more than six cents per thousand cubic feet of gas used.

The commission excluded residential customers from the temporary increase. It will decide after a hearing in October whether to make the increase permanent and whether to extend it to residential customers.

Piedmont is the state's largest natural gas distributor. It serves Charlotte, Greensboro and much of the Piedmont section of the state.

Ayden C-of-C Officers Named

AYDEN—Mitchell Oakley has been named president of the Ayden Chamber of Commerce for the 1974-75 fiscal year.

Other officers named include: Burt Tripp, vice president; and Linda Bowen, secretary-treasurer.

Marvin Baldree Jr. and Gratz Norcott were asked to nominate new board members for the coming year and make their report at the next board meeting.

Donnie Skinner, Burt Tripp and Willis E. Manning were named to a committee to study whether or not a confidential bulletin for members can be started.

Sen. Kennedy Visits Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Arriving in Moscow, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said he was in the Soviet capital "not to negotiate, but to learn."

The Massachusetts Democrat arrived here Thursday with his family for a one-week visit. He said he was also in Moscow to tell Russians that "there is a fundamental commitment among great numbers of the American people toward continued progress" in U.S.-Soviet detente.

Drivers' Course Being Planned

Driver Education will be offered at Moyewood Social Services Center.

All persons who are interested may call 758-5010 or come by the center at 1710 West 3rd Street to register, according to Tom Chavis, assistant director of the Center.

Annual Pitt 4-H Dress Revue Held Last Night

The annual Pitt County 4-H Fashion Revue was held Thursday night with 25 contestants modeling garments they had made.

Categories included apron, skirt, skirt and top, slacks, pants suit, dress, skirt and jacket, and evening dress.

Judges rated the garments on style and design, general appearance and workmanship.

The top junior winner was Dianne Manning, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Manning Jr. She received a rose and a partial scholarship to 4-H camp.

Two senior girls were presented roses and scholarships to represent the county at a fashion weekend clothing camp where they will compete for state awards. They are Evelyn Griggs of Bethel, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Griggs; and Lynne Haseley, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Haseley of Grifton. A program, "Swing Into Spring" was presented by Miss Marty Bunn, fashion coordinator for a local store.

Jeff Christopher, Grifton 4-H

member, was the master of ceremonies.

Other contestants in the event were:

Junior division—Dawn Cannon, Carolyn Gay, Shirley Gay, Beverly Ellis, Sandra Ellis, Lisa Y. Purvis, Joanne Franke, Cindy Cannon, Brenda J. Roberson, Karen Mills, Lexanne Keeter, Kim Langley and Karen L. Martin.

Seniors—Stella Mitchell, Mary Ellis, Barbara Worsley, Ilene Williams, Shelia Little, Cassandra Worsley, Linda K. Williams and Kay Bright.

DRESS REVUE WINNERS. Dianne Manning, Evelyn Griggs and Lynne Haseley were named winners in the annual 4-H dress revue held last night. Twenty-five girls participated in the event.

Who is George Dickel?

That blue-chip Tennessee Sour Mash Whisky, of course.

The only love you'd ever want to share.

The only reason you'd ever leave bourbon. Life's too short to say no to George Dickel.

There's a little bit of Tennessee in every sip.

George Dickel Sour Mash Sippin' Whisky.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets steady Thursday. Supplies fully adequate, demand slow. Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites 55.75, medium whites 48.72, small whites 36.84.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — Corn and soybean prices were stronger on the state's leading grain markets Thursday. No. 2 yellow shelled corn was quoted at 2.55-2.67 per bushel in the east and 2.65-2.85 in the Piedmont. No. 1 yellow soybeans were 5.45-5.54 per bushel.

RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina hog market today was steady to 75 lower, with tops of 31.00-32.00 at Kinston and Lumberton; 30.50-31.00 Rocky Mount; 29.00-31.00 Wilson and High Falls; 29.75-30.25 Tarboro and Bethel; 31.00 Salisbury. Poultry

RALEIGH (AP)—FOB dock broilers: Market weaker, supplies fully adequate to ample, demand fair, weights desirable. Average 35.71 cents a pound. Estimated slaughter 1,105,000. Hens: Market steady on heavies with weak undertone for next week, supplies about adequate, demand fair. Too few prices to report.

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the stock market's persistent ailments—inflation and high interest rates—acted up again today, pushing prices sharply lower in light trading. The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 7.44 at 862.48, and losers overwhelmed gainers by more than 3 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

In view of the troubles and uncertainties in the economic picture, Robert Stovall at Reynolds Securities said he believed the market's rally of the past three days was "a great act of levitation. There was no real reason for it to go up."

Coastal States Gas was the Big Board's most active stock, up 3/4 at 81 1/2 in trading which featured a 171,000-share block at 7 3/4.

Among the prominent losers in the glamour sector were Fairchild Camera, down 1 1/2 at 53 1/2; Upjohn, down 1 1/2 to 71 1/2, and Digital Equipment, off 1 1/2 at 111 1/2.

Gold prices were higher, while airlines, oils, autos and steels all weakened.

Jostens, which raised its dividend, resisted the market current and gained 1/2 to 14 1/2.

At the American Stock Exchange, the volume leader was Texas International, unchanged at 9 1/2. The Amex's 11 a.m. market-value index was down 39 at 94.53.

The NYSE composite stood at 50.01, down .43.

Four Advance In Perry Field

WILLIAMSTON—Hosting Williamston, along with Plymouth, Tarboro and Richmond County advanced to the winners bracket of the Gaylord Perry Baseball Tournament yesterday.

Plymouth downed Washington, 7-0. Tarboro beat Greene Central, 6-3. Richmond County downed Farmville Central, 1-0, and Williamston took an 8-2 win over Edenton.

In the opening game, Plymouth jumped on Washington for two runs in the first inning, then added three in the third and two in the fifth to complete their victory romp. Earl Brinkley was the winning pitcher, while Danny Robertson and Ken Mobley each had two hits for Plymouth.

Brinkley allowed only one hit, that one by Robin Woolard.

Tarboro gained its victory over Greene Central on a five-run rally in the final inning.

Greene Central had taken the lead in the fifth inning, pushing over three runs. Phil Harrison and Dale Pridden both got singles, and Bobby Supel followed with a home run, making it 3-0.

Tarboro came back in the bottom of the frame to score one. Al Forrest walked and moved to second on an error on a pickoff play. Ricky Norville then singled him in.

In the bottom of the seventh, with two away, Donnie Harrelson singled and Elks reached on an error. Tony Parrisher walked to load them up and Don Giesler walked, scoring Harrelson and cutting the lead to 3-2.

Greene Central then brought on Jesse Hooker to pitch and Forrest connected with the first pitch for a grand-slam home run, giving Tarboro the victory.

In the third game, Richmond County's Chuck McLean and Farmville Central's Barry Johnson hooked up in a pitching duel, with McLean hurling a no-hitter at the Jaguars.

He walked only two batters, while striking out 16. Johnson, in the loss, walked two and struck out six.

The lone run came in the fifth. With two away, McDuffy walked and stole second. McLean then won his own game by getting one of the four hits Johnson allowed, driving in McDuffy.

Williamston pushed over two runs in the first inning, then saw Edenton come back on a two-run homer by Gerald Hall in the second to tie it up.

The Tigers went on, however, to add two in the bottom of the second, then get three in the fifth and one in the sixth to complete their romp.

Roy Lilley took the victory for Williamston, while Willy Holley got the loss.

Today, in the 2 p.m. game, Washington takes on Farmville Central, while Greene Central and Edenton meet at 4 p.m. Tarboro and Williamston collide at 6 p.m., with Plymouth and Richmond County meeting at 8 p.m.

Saturday the tournament winds up with the losers of the 2 and 4 p.m. games meeting in the opener, followed by the winners in those games. The nightcap losers meet at 6 p.m. with the championship game at 8 p.m.

Rampant Thinclads In Win Over Northeastern

Rose High School's Rampants added another track victory to their growing list yesterday with a 77-58 win over Northeastern High School.

Rose won eight of the 14 individual events, with Northeastern taking the other six. The two teams split the relays, with Rose's depth aiding in their victory.

Powell was a triple winner for Northeastern. He won the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the long jump. Nat Perkins was the lone double winner for Rose, taking the two hurdle events.

Rose and Northeastern vie with Bertie, the only team to beat Rose this year, on the Falcon track on Wednesday.

Summary:

High hurdles: Perkins (R) :16.1; Trevathan (R) :19.8; Harris (R) :19.9.

Shot put: Paschal (R) 44-4½; Covington (NE) 42-10; Matthies (R) 42-6.

Bucks Slip By Bulls, 113-111

By JOE MOOSHIL

AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was near perfection Thursday night but his Milwaukee Bucks teammates "made a lot of dumb mistakes" and instead of an easy victory over the Chicago Bulls they had to settle for a 113-111 decision.

Nevertheless, the Bucks took a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven semifinal series. Game No. 3 will be played in Milwaukee Saturday afternoon with the fourth game scheduled for Chicago Monday night.

"I thought we were going to win it in the fourth quarter," said a dejected Dick Motta, coach of the Chicago Bulls.

Larry Costello, coach of the Bucks, tried to explain how his team, leading 77-57 well into the third quarter, came within an eyelash of defeat.

"We made a lot of dumb mistakes down the stretch," said Costello.

In an American Basketball Association game, the Indiana Pacers scored a 118-107 victory over the Utah Stars.

In NBA action tonight, the Boston Celtics host the New York Knicks.

The Bulls, playing without injured Jerry Sloan again, made a battle of it in the first quarter. At one point they led by four but fell behind 30-29 at the end of the period.

Jabbar scored 12 points in the first quarter and pumped in 15 more in the second as the Bucks rolled to a 62-51 edge.

The Bulls came back on the shooting of Norm Van Lier and Howard Porter and it was 91-77 going into the final period as Jabbar's total soared to 42 points.

Then the game turned around. Jabbar managed only two points the rest of the way and Chet Walker, helped by Rick Adelman, started to chop away at the Milwaukee lead.

Farmville First In Five-Way Track Meet

DEEP RUN—Farmville Central came away with top honors in a five-way track meet held at South Lenoir High School yesterday.

The Jaguars finished the meet with 80 points, while Burgaw was the runner-up with 65. Jones Senior was third with 53, followed by South Lenoir with 32 and North Lenoir with 20.

Overall, Farmville Central won six events, while Burgaw took five. Jones Senior, North Lenoir and South Lenoir each won one event. Burgaw and Jones each won one of the relay events.

Ray Hardy was a triple winner for the Jaguars, winning the discus, the 100 and the 440-yard dashes. Ronnie Wilkes was a double winner, taking the triple and long jumps.

For Burgaw, Moss was a triple winner, taking the high and low hurdles and the 220-yard dash.

Monday, North Pitt and Farmville Central invade Charles B. Aycock for their next meet.

Nash Central Tops Aycock

NASHVILLE—Nash Central Junior High School rolled to a 6-1 victory over E. B. Aycock Junior High School yesterday.

It was the second loss in three starts for the Phantoms.

Nash Central grabbed the lead in the second inning, scoring four runs. With one down, Paul Haskins reached on an error and Craig Corkell walked. Royce Wells also walked, loading the bases. Gene Worthington reached on an error, and it allowed both Haskins and Corkell to score. Wells, however, was thrown out when Mike Leonard hit into a fielder's choice. Mike Adams then reached on an error, scoring both Worthington and Leonard for the 4-0 lead.

The Trojans added another run in the third. Jay Davis led off with a walk and Mike Williams also walked. With one down, Corkell singled, scoring Davis. The final run came in the sixth. Wells singled and Worthington walked. Wells stole third, and scored when the ball was thrown away trying to get him.

The lone Aycock run came in the fourth. William Brewington singled and moved up on Wright Hooks' hit. Jeff Smith also singled to load the bases, and Brewington scored when Jeff Aldridge hit into a fielder's choice.

Aycock had threats in the first, second, fifth and sixth innings, but failed to make any of them pay off.

Aycock travels to Bertie Junior High School for its next game, Tuesday.

Rocky Mount Nips Rampants

Rocky Mount inched past the Rose High School tennis team, 5-4, yesterday.

The Rocky Mount netters took four of the six singles events to gain a foothold on the match, then took the number two doubles to hold off a charge by the Rampants.

In the lone doubles match that was lost, Rose held the lead at 4-0, but Rocky Mount broke service, and went on after that to claim an 8-6 victory.

The Rampants are now 2-9 overall and 1-5 in Division I play. They travel to Rocky Mount on Tuesday for a return match.

Summary:

David Walton (R) defeated Bob Bennett, 6-7, 6-3, 6-4.

McMahon Says Team Up For League Games

By WILLIE PATRICK
Special To The Reflector

East Carolina University's Pirate baseball team returned to Greenville Monday night a weary, forlorn group. At first glance, it would appear they had every right to be such, coming off a 1-3 road trip during the Easter holidays.

Rick McMahon, the Buc catcher and team spokesman on the field, did a bit of speaking of his own off the field recently concerning the fiasco, and his comments seemed to be justified. McMahon said the team's position in the Southern Conference standings has an important extra meaning, in that being on top, "it just isn't as easy to get up for the non-offer conference games as before."

"We may not be as ready to play the non-conference opponents now," said McMahon. "With the added importance now on conference games, now that we're on top, I really wonder if we're as ready to play because the conference games mean so much more."

McMahon, a 5-11, 185-pound senior, is a four-year letterman for the Bucs. He has caught all but two innings in the Pirates' first 21 games. But the extra duty doesn't bother the Vienna, Va., native. He likes catching for a variety of reasons.

"You can do things catching that wouldn't be possible at other positions," McMahon explained. "Catching, you contribute a whole lot to the pitching staff. And after all, isn't pitching 75 or 80 per cent of the game?"

McMahon admitted that he was prone to indulge in "mind games" while preparing for a coming game. The physical part of catching has become easier as a senior, McMahon said, since the coaches has kept everyone in shape. However, in every new game, there still comes that one basic battle that makes baseball a great game: hitting.

McMahon's contribution to the team can be found in looking at pitching statistics, which show the Bucs to have given up only 20 earned runs in 177 and one-third innings.

"I feel that the skills involved in hitting a baseball are among the most challenging in any sport," said McMahon. "Not only do you have to hit a sphere being thrown at you at around 90 miles per hour with a two-inch surface of a cylinder, but you have to hit it somewhere besides where nine people can catch it."

McMahon, laughingly, said he was not offering the technical explanation as an excuse for his .232 batting average; rather, in keeping with his own personality, he said his concentration comes in handling the Buc pitchers.

"Every pitcher, as well as every player, is a different case," said McMahon, a political science major-psychology minor. "A catcher who has the perception on how to handle pitchers effectively can make pitching either a pleasure or a pain. It just depends on the individual."

After his college days are over, which will be in May, McMahon will marry Miss Shirley Bledsoe, and is set to go to work teaching and coaching at Southern Nash High School. In class, he will teach sociology and psychology, and will work as an assistant football coach, and more importantly, head baseball coach. This, too, should suit McMahon. Because as he put it, "there's nothing in the world like being able to make a positive contribution to someone's life."

"It's usually hard to help someone when you get so used to just worrying about yourself," said McMahon. "But since I've been in school, I've had a handful of instructors that have influenced me in a positive way. I'm glad I'm getting the chance to do the same for someone else. That's the type person I've always admired: one who can give joy to others."

One of the instructors McMahon spoke of, Tom Eamon, is now president of the Young Democrats Club of North Carolina. McMahon had an introductory political science course under Eamon, a move which furthered the Buc catcher's interest in the educational opportunities at ECU.

"I had been interested in politics, coming from the L. C. area," said McMahon. "Up there, though many don't think about it, the news is both local and national at the same time."

Mike McGee, former East Carolina coach, will hold his fourth spring game at Duke University Saturday, and he terms this year as "the best spring drills since we returned to Duke."

There has been more competition for spots on the team, and the offense appears to have a little more stuff than it did during McGee's three previous seasons.

McGee was rumored to be on the ropes at Duke last year following the worst season in Duke history, but his final-game victory over North Carolina apparently saved him—at least for the moment.

This year may be a fateful one for him. His present contract expires at the end of the season, and if the Dukes don't show some signs of regaining their former prominent place in the ACC, Duke may be looking for another new coach.

But please, Mr. Sanford, stay out of Greenville.

Youth Day Set

East Carolina University's football team will play host to Youth and Parents Day Saturday starting at 2 p.m. in Ficklen Stadium.

Members of the team and the ECU staff will be on hand for pictures, autographs, playing tips and the like during the first hour of the afternoon.

Then, starting at 3 p.m., the Pirates will take part in a game-type scrimmage.

"We're inviting everyone in the eastern part of the state to come visit with us," Coach Pat Dye said. "This team is a part of this community as well as the university, and we want a chance for everyone to meet us, and for us to meet them."

The Pirates scrimmaged for one and a half hours yesterday as they continued their spring drills. The scrimmage was a controlled type one, but the number one offense did not go against the number one defense.

Cited as looking well in the scrimmage on offense were Theodore Ashford in receiving, Don Shink in running, Mike Weaver in directing the attack, and Jesse Ingram in running.

Henry Aaron Finally Gets A Hit Other Than Homer: About Time'

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Hank Aaron finally hit one... a single, that is. "It's about time," the Atlanta superstar said Thursday night after getting his first non-home run hit of the baseball season.

Ralph Garr, meanwhile, was smacking everything in sight, getting three straight hits, driving in two runs and scoring twice to lead the Braves to a 7-2 victory over the San Diego Padres.

Thursday's other National League games, St. Louis beat Philadelphia 6-2, Montreal downed the New York Mets 8-5, San Francisco defeated Houston 5-2 and the Chicago Cubs edged Pittsburgh 1-0. In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped Boston 6-1, Minnesota clipped California 3-2 and Baltimore's game at Detroit was rained out.

Braves 7, Padres 2
Aaron's only three hits going into Thursday night's games were, as if you hadn't heard, home runs, the 714th, 715th and 716th of his career. But in 21 other official at-bats, he hadn't managed so much as a single. Then, last Monday night, he hurt his shoulder making a throw. He'd been sidelined since then. Against the Padres, he walked, struck out twice, then grounded a single up the middle, putting his average at .167.

"The shoulder hurts and I can't swing the bat," Aaron said. "It feels terrible and it keeps me from swinging freely."

Garr had gotten hits in his last four at-bats Wednesday night in a 6-1 loss to the Padres, then kept the streak going in his first three Thursday night.

He was so intent on making it eight in a row that he strode to the plate in the eighth inning without a batting helmet.

"I was just thinking about hitting the ball," he admitted sheepishly. "The umpire told me I'd forgotten the helmet, the fans told me... everybody was telling me." After he put it on, he grounded out.

It's been quite a turnaround for Garr, who went 0-for-16 at the start of the season but has hit at a 21-for-38 clip since then to put his average at .382.

Cards 6, Phils 2
Pitcher Lynn McGlothen's two-run double helped the Cards snap the Phils' six-game winning streak. He and Ron Schueler pitched scoreless ball through four innings before St. Louis took the lead on McGlothen's hit.

Bake McBride's sacrifice fly in the sixth gave the Cards the winning run and they added two in the eighth on Ken Reitz' single.

Expos 8, Mets 5
"I was looking for a fastball all the way," said Jim Cox—and that's exactly what Ray Sadecki served him. The Montreal rookie drove it over the wall for a two-run homer in the third inning, giving the Expos their winning margin over the staggering Mets.

Cox, who also drove in a pair of runs with a single that capped a four-run first inning, said, "I feel real great about hitting my first homer. It's a thrill that comes just once."

Giants 5, Astros 2
Chris Speier drove in three runs and Tom Bradley and Randy Moffitt teamed for a six-hitter to carry the Giants past Houston.

Bradley baffled the Astros until Cesar Cedeno hit a run-scoring single in the sixth inning, which extended Cedeno's hitting streak to 12 games. Cedeno's RBI triple knocked Bradley out in the eighth.

Cubs 1, Pirates 0
Chicago managed only an unearned run off Jim Rooker—but that's all the Cubs needed to send the Pirates tumbling down to their ninth setback in 11 games.

Rick Monday and Jerry Morales singled in the first inning, with Monday making it to third when second baseman Rennie Stennett committed an error on the throw in. Then Williams delivered a sacrifice fly.

From then on, Ken Frailing and Ray Burris did the job, scattering seven Pittsburgh hits.

Yanks 6, Red Sox 1
George "Doc" Medich stifled Boston on four hits—one of them Bernie Carbo's homer with two outs in the ninth inning—and rode New York's six-run sixth inning to an easy victory over the Red Sox.

Rick Wise, in his second American League start, had the Yankees stifled until the big sixth. Then Bobby Murcer singled, Ron Blomberg doubled, Graig Nettles hit a sacrifice fly and Duke Sims and Gene Michael doubled to make it 3-0.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

East Carolina's Pirates can take another giant step toward the Southern Conference baseball championship Saturday afternoon when they play host to William & Mary at 3 p.m. at Harrington Field.

The Bucs, currently 8-1 in the league, could pull within four wins of the title just by winning, and do even better if they can get a little help.

Already, VMI and Davidson are mathematically out of the title picture, and Furman, idle Saturday, could be ousted, should the Bucs win, along with William & Mary.

There are two other important doubleheaders. Appalachian State is hosting The Citadel for a pair, while Richmond is at Davidson.

The Citadel is capable of upsetting Appalachian, and Davidson could surprise the Spiders. If these two doubleheaders would turn into a split, the Pirates could cut their magic number to only three, and be in a position to wrap it up Wednesday when they travel to Richmond for their meeting with the Spiders.

The Bucs are going to have to wave their bats a little more than they did over Easter weekend, however, even to get by the Indians.

According to the latest Southern Conference statistics, the Bucs dropped from first to fifth in the conference in team batting during the week. They suffered through one three-hitter, a five-hitter, a four-hitter and a no-hitter over the weekend, winning only one of the four games—fortunately the lone conference affair.

That dropped their team mark to .236 for the year, far behind Appalachian's league leading .262. Carl Summerell, who leads the Bucs with a .297 mark, is the eighth leading batter in the loop. ASU's Mike Ramsey leads with a .389 average.

Ron Staggs is now second in the league in homers with five. ASU's Steve Anspaugh passed him, hitting a pair to up his total to six, in ASU's 19-3 romp over VMI.

The Bucs are still tops in pitching however with a 1.03 team earned run average. Dave LaRussa is the league's top pitcher with an 0.40 ERA, while Bill Godwin is second at 0.67 Wayne Bland is fourth at 1.39, and Godwin leads the league in wins, with five.

Moses Malone, the highly touted Virginia high schooler, is in a position to sign right out of high school with the pros. He was drafted Wednesday by the American Basketball Association. Whether he signs or not probably will depend on how much the Utah Stars offer him.

Malone isn't known for his scholastic ability, as witnessed by the fact that he may have to end up at Virginia Commonwealth because he can't predict a "C" average right now. He might get his grades up, however, enough to go to either Maryland or M. C. State, two who are fighting mighty hard to get him—among many others.

One thing is for sure, if he does sign with the pros, it'll only make one collegiate coach unhappy—the one he would have signed with. The others—the losers in the race to get him—will breathe a sigh of relief.

Mike McGee, former East Carolina coach, will hold his fourth spring game at Duke University Saturday, and he terms this year as "the best spring drills since we returned to Duke."

There has been more competition for spots on the team, and the offense appears to have a little more stuff than it did during McGee's three previous seasons.

McGee was rumored to be on the ropes at Duke last year following the worst season in Duke history, but his final-game victory over North Carolina apparently saved him—at least for the moment.

This year may be a fateful one for him. His present contract expires at the end of the season, and if the Dukes don't show some signs of regaining their former prominent place in the ACC, Duke may be looking for another new coach.

But please, Mr. Sanford, stay out of Greenville.

McMahon, who came to East Carolina University because of the reputation of the baseball program, said he found an additional benefit upon arrival: a school of the right size, and people of the right mixture.

"I would sell East Carolina in terms of the size, and in terms of getting a chance to meet people from all walks of life," said McMahon. "Here, you get the closeness of a small school and the variety of a larger one."

As team "spokesman" for the Bucs on the field, McMahon said he felt one of his chief duties was to pep the team up when "in a hole." And in 1975, when the Buc ironman backstop is gone, the Pirates will have an ever larger "hole to fill: the one behind home plate.

Drivers Using Smaller Motors

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP)—Chevrolet drivers Cale Yarborough, Bobby and Donnie Allison, Benny Parsons and Coe Coo Marlin will use smaller engines to take advantage of a new carburetor rule as they try to qualify for Sunday's Gwyn Staley Memorial stock car race.

Richard Petty and George Brooks in Dodges are the only solid contenders still using the big engines with 367 or more cubic inches piston displacement which the new rule handicaps.

Winners of six of this year's seven Grand National races are among the 35 or more entries.

Charlie Glotzbach of Evansville, Ind., set the lap record in 1971. He used a big-engined Chevrolet owned by ex-driver Junior Johnson, whose shops are located about 10 miles from the track.

Johnson's "river Yarborough has... three of the seven events last year using a big engine. For the Gwyn Staley 400, however, they are switching to a 366 cubic inch job. Johnson says that if it proves successful and reliable, he'll go with it the rest of the season.

Chicod Wins

STOKES—Chicod Junior High School rolled to an 11-1 victory over Stokes-Pactolus High School yesterday.

Michael Miller was the winning pitcher, while J. Hunt took the loss.

Miller was the leading hitter for Chicod with a pair, while Braxton and Singleton each had two for Stokes-Pactolus.

Chicod is now 2-1 on the year.

Survey Impact Of Mechanical Tobacco Harvesting

A research project on the possible impact of the mechanical tobacco harvester in production of a crop that has for years been hand-harvested by laborers is now underway in Pitt and the four other counties in the Mid-East region. Dr. Leon B. Perkinson told an afternoon meeting of the Mid-East Commission here yesterday.

C. State University working with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's economic research service said the project is a joint venture of USDA, the U. S. Department of Labor and NCSU.

"Many operations in tobacco production have already changed, including such things as chemical controls, tying machines, and loose leaf sales," the speaker said: "As a consequence of these and other changes, labor used in producing and marketing North Carolina's flue-cured tobacco decreased by about two-thirds from 1947 to 1970," while the number of tobacco farms declined from 140,000 in 1950 to 60,000 in 1970, Perkinson explained.

Despite these changes, labor is still used in the production of tobacco, and according to the N. C. Extension Service the total labor requirement in 1971 needed to produce an acre of tobacco was 264 hours, with almost 200 hours of that total associated with harvesting, curing and marketing.

"In contrast," Perkinson pointed out "the labor required to produce an acre of peanuts is approximately 19 hours, and an acre of cotton requires about eight hours per acre. Crops such as corn, wheat, oats, barley and soybeans require less than five hours per acre."

The potential loss of jobs in harvesting curing or marketing, Perkinson said, will have different impacts on different people. For those who have primed tobacco to earn extra money, the impact may not be too severe, but for those families where such money is a necessary supplement to or supplies most of the family income, the impact may be very severe. "For some public assistance programs may be the only alternative."

The research, the speaker emphasized, "focuses on manpower and area adjustments caused by changes in the production, marketing and processing of tobacco."

There are two levels of research activity. "The first deals with the flue-cured tobacco belt ranging from Florida through Virginia," while the second dealt with the multi-county area chosen for detailed analysis—the Mid-East region, including Pitt, Beaufort, Martin, Bertie and Hertford counties. "The flue-cured belt research is designed to estimate the overall impact of changes in economic activity on employment. Surveys of tobacco farms, warehouses and processing operations will provide," Perkinson said, "information on current labor requirements for tobacco. Estimates of reductions in tobacco and other farm labor over time will be compared with changes in non-farm employment opportunities."

along with an analysis of natural population increases will be used to appraise the impacts of anticipated changes on communities."

The research activities planned for the Mid-East region, Perkinson explained, will enable researchers to evaluate how closely the general analysis fits a specific case, and more realistic alternatives can be evaluated for a five-county area than for a five-state area.

Human resources, economic activities and public service are the basic subject areas involved with the research in the Mid-East region Perkinson explained. "Each is related to the others and influences them."

No Clues To Girl Who Is Missing 4 Months

By CATHY STEELE
Associated Press Writer
LILLINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Four months ago today, Phyllis Bradford left her farm home near Spring Lake to drive a school bus to Anderson Creek School. The 18-year-old senior has not been seen since.

Sturgill said Miss Bradford left for school about 7:30 a.m. on Dec. 19. He said she drove the school bus about 200 yards from her house and parked it on a rural road. Her books were found on the empty bus.

school. He said he believed Miss Bradford had planned to attend a technical institute after her graduation this spring.

He said her father, James Bradford is a parttime farmer and construction worker. Watkins said the family was baffled and very upset by the disappearance.

Authorities have no explanation for her disappearance. Chief Deputy B. E. Sturgill of the Harnett County Sheriff's Department said state and local authorities have followed up every lead, but no trace of the girl has been found.

Watkins said Miss Bradford had been driving the bus for the Harnett County school system since the beginning of the school year. She picked up students for Anderson Creek School, which has grades 5 through 12.

The principal said Miss Bradford had good grades and played on the basketball team. He said she was very active in the 68-member senior class and was well-liked by her classmates.

He said there was no evidence of foul play in her disappearance.

The area was combed after Miss Bradford's disappearance, Sturgill said. Ponds were dragged and divers from Ft. Bragg joined the search.

James Watkins, principal of Anderson Creek School, said Miss Bradford's classmates reacted with disbelief.

According to a State Bureau of Investigation spokesman, the governor's office authorized a $2,500 reward in the case. Sturgill said local contributions to a reward fund totaled about $3,700.

"They just couldn't believe something like this would happen here," he said. Anderson Creek is a rural community between Fort Bragg and Lillington.

The Harnett County Sheriff's Department is heading the investigation. The SBI is assisting.

Two Men Die In Shotgun Duel

WILSON, N. C. (AP)—Two Wilson County men climaxed an argument Thursday, shooting one another to death with shotguns, according to authorities.

The deputy said he went to Durham recently to check out a lead, but it was the wrong girl. He said the investigation would continue.

The men were identified as Hubert Thomas Neal Jr. and William Mark Wells. Authorities said the incident occurred at the Wells home in the Lucama community.

Meanwhile, Watkins said, it is business as usual at the

THE SUNOCO TIRE STORE.

AND WHY IT MAKES SENSE.

We're the Sunoco dealer who services your car. Who could know more about the way you drive and the tires you need than we do? Not some guy at a tire store you see every two years.

We get to know you. The kind of roads you drive. How many kids you have. The loads you pull. What kind of vacations you take. Things that help us recommend the right tire for you.

We've got to treat you right. We've got to do more than those other tire stores.

So we balance every tire we sell. No charge. We give you our best deal, and put them on your Sunoco credit card if you want. We can even get you extended payment terms.

Then when you come in for service, we're here to look those tires over. Every week if you'd like.

We don't just sell you tires. We sell you good tires and then we help take care of them. See for yourself. We can be very friendly.

THE SUNOCO TIRE STORE.

Kelly-Springfield tires are sold by participating independent service station dealers displaying the Sunoco sign. Tire prices and services offered, including balancing of tires, may vary. Tire guarantee terms are disclosed in writing at the time of purchase.

Weekend Patrol Camporee Set

O.B. Roberts, scout executive of the East Carolina Council of the Boy Scouts of America, reported that 156 troops from all of the 20 counties in the Council have registered for the 38th annual Patrol Camporee set for this weekend at the Bonner Scout Reservation. Roberts said that at least 4,300 scouts and scouters are expected to attend the three-day event which opens at 1 p.m. Friday with registration and closes on Sunday morning with religious services and awards ceremonies. The camporee will be divided into six areas with area chiefs serving under the direction of Jack Farrior of Farmville, camporee chief. Working under Farrior will be Bill Hux of Roanoke Rapids, Howard Jordan of Rocky Mount, John Dow of Kinston, Bill Mann of Cherry Point, Hugh Benson of Greenville, and Hilton Carlton of Wilson.

Serving as chief judge for the event will be George Pate of Tarboro while Rufus Swain of Wilson will be chief scorer. Other officials will include Dr. Herbert Hadley of Greenville, health and safety; Tom Butts of Greenville, events director; Mrs. Ed Mertz, Havelock, publicity; Weldon Sullivan, Washington, fire protection; and Atlas Smith, Nashville, traffic control.

Roberts, who invited the public to attend the encampment, said that Saturday has been set aside as visitors' day but visitors are asked to leave the grounds by 9 p.m. He added that no cars will be permitted inside the camporee grounds from 7 p.m. Sunday until 9 a.m. Sunday.

The first Council camporee was held here in 1936 under the direction of John J. Sigwald, scout executive. The encampment has been held annually since 1936, with the exception of three war years.

The camporees were held in communities throughout the Council until Congressman Herbert Bonner made the 300-acre available.

FBI Presumes Hearst Girl Innocent Victim

By DALLAS LEE
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The search for kidnaped newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst will continue on the assumption she is innocent of criminal activity, FBI Director Clarence Kelley said Thursday.

"We will be guided by the facts and not by an opinion," Kelley said.

"We're going to assume that she is the victim of pressure or coercion. I think this is a logical course for us," he said. "The U.S. attorney's office in San Francisco agrees with us."

Kelley's remarks came at a session of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, when San Francisco Examiner Editor Thomas Eastham asked him to comment on Atty. Gen. William Saxbe's assertion that Miss Hearst willingly participated in a bank robbery.

Saxbe said Wednesday that photographs taken during a San Francisco bank holdup allegedly conducted by members of the Symbionese Liberation Army showed Miss Hearst as an armed participant.

"I operate under and I am guided by the facts," Kelley said.

"We are proceeding under the hypothesis that she is a material witness rather than a subject, that she could have been duped by this group."

Kelley denied that the Hearst family had limited the FBI's effort to crack the Hearst kidnaping, which occurred on Feb. 4, but said the safety of Miss Hearst has been paramount.

"If we had found her, we might have gone in," he said, despite pleas from the Hearst family not to do so.

Kelley said he had no excuses for the lack of success in the case.

"We've just almost turned that area upside down," he said. "I'm going to make an admission — we don't know where she is. We are conducting a vigorous investigation, if only to eliminate where she is not being held."

The FBI director said the bank robbery "will assist us. Maybe somebody saw something and will call us ... It would be difficult for them to have escaped the area."

Asked if he believed Saxbe's remarks endangered Miss Hearst or the investigation, Kelley responded, "I don't know, I'd rather not go into that kind of thing. I'm sure Mr. Saxbe can defend his position."

In a news conference, Kelley said he supported the idea of news reporters gathering and publishing information from confidential sources.

"On occasion that's about the only way you can expose some matters that need exposing," he said.

The FBI director also he would resign before he would participate in the coverup of any governmental wrongdoing.

Morgan Will Not Resign

RALEIGH (AP)—Charles B. Winberry, manager of Robert Morgan's U.S. Senate campaign, said Thursday Morgan will not resign as attorney general.

Winberry said Morgan "believes the people of North Carolina should select his successor in the November general election."

Winberry said this in replying to a demand by Nick Galifianakis that Morgan either resign as attorney general or get out of the U.S. Senate race. Galifianakis is one of nine other candidates seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Galifianakis, a former congressman who ran unsuccessfully for the Senate two years ago, said in calling for Morgan to resign or get out of the Senate race that state law specifies "the attorney general shall devote his whole time to the duties of his office..."

Galifianakis said Morgan had devoted much time recently to campaigning and said "I would like to know who is minding the store."

Winberry said that when Galifianakis was running for the Democratic senatorial nomination against B. Everett Jordan in 1972 he "continued to draw his salary. He never resigned."

Meanwhile, Morgan told a Greenville news conference he favors allowing older citizens to earn more than $2,400 a year without losing their social security payments.

"It is older Americans living on fixed incomes who suffer the most from inflation," Morgan said.

Lentz May Have A $10,800 Bill

RALEIGH (AP)—Transportation Secretary Bruce Lentz may find himself held liable for a $10,800 bumper sticker bill if a way can't be found for the state to legally pick up the tab.

Lentz may be held liable under a state law which says contracts made outside the state's competitive bidding system are void. The law also says the executive officer of the department that makes the purchase is "personally liable" for payment of the bill.

One of Lentz's subordinates, Department of Transportation director of information and services Ted Harrison, made the bumper sticker purchase two months ago. The stickers seek to promote observance of the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit.

In his haste to buy the stickers during the height of the energy crisis, Harrison bypassed normal purchase channels. He said he contacted four sticker suppliers and ordered 200,000 stickers from the firm with the lowest price.

The firm was Capital Communications Inc., which is owned by Jerry Louncheim. He was awarded the state's advertising contract after he handled advertising for Gov. Jim Holshouser's successful 1972 gubernatorial campaign.

"I rounded the corners when I should have squared them," said Harrison. He said he had not known about the state's normal bid procedure.

As a result, so far, the state Division of Purchase and Contract has refused to pay the bill.

Lentz was not available for comment, but Harrison said he would accept financial responsibility for his own mistake.

"It ain't his (Lentz's) goof, it's mine Harrison said. He said Lentz may have the legal responsibility, "but morally, so far as I'm concerned, it's mine."

Predicts Big 3 Of Auto-Making Will List Worst Slump

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Stock market analysts predict the Big Three auto makers collectively will report their worst first-quarter profits in more than a decade.

The analysts say January-through-March earnings for General Motors, Ford and Chrysler will range from very poor to terrible because of a severe sales slump coming on the heels of a banner year in 1973.

The automakers will release their January-March operating results in 10 days.

"Stinking sales," said auto analyst Robert Williams of Argus Research Corp., in New York, as he explained the expected poor performance of the three firms.

Sales are down more than 27 per cent from last year, and production has fallen 34 per cent, forcing the layoff of more than 107,000 workers.

General Motors, the industry's No. 1 producer, is expected to be the biggest loser. GM's sales during the quarter plummeted nearly 38 per cent because big cars, the mainstay of the company's previous success, aren't selling.

GM attributes the sales slump to consumer uncertainty over the economy and fuel availability.

The stock experts say Ford is in the best position profit-wise because of its early invasion of the small car market with a variety of compacts and sub-compacts, even though its sales were off 24 per cent from the first three months of 1973.

If the analysts' gloomy forecasts are correct, Big Three first quarter profits will total as little as $1.35 a share, the lowest level since 1961, when the auto makers returned an aggregate 75 cents a share.

Witness Shot In An Argument

CHARLOTTE (AP)—A key state witness in the Lazy B stables burning trial, 27-year-old Walter Washington, was shot and wounded Wednesday in an argument over money at an upholstery shop, police report.

Police say the owner of the shop, who shot him, has charged him with assault with a deadly weapon for reaching for a pistol, and with making threatening telephone calls.

Washington's testimony two years ago led to the conviction of three men in the 1968 burning of the riding stables and the death of 15 horses.

Civil rights forces claim the sentences were too severe, and have asked Gov. Jim Holshouser to reduce or commute them. James Earl Grant Jr. got 20 years, T.J. Reddy 20 years, and Charles Parker 10 years.

Overcharges To Be Refunded

GREENSBORO (AP)—Rose Stores has voluntarily disclosed $481,000 in overcharges made during the last quarter of 1973, the Internal Revenue Service has announced.

The variety store chain will make refunds by reducing prices on certain items by June 30. The overcharges were for goods above the rate allowed under Phase IV economic regulations.

The Worry Clinic Love Changes 'Silas Marner'

Beth changed her "Silas Marner" mate into an affectionate husband in one night. And this made him so generous that he let her handle all their money thereafter. Men who are liberal with love are magnanimous with money.

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.
CASE A-611: Beth G., aged 39, is the wife whose husband suddenly grew miserly.
"Dr. Crane," she said, "do you really believe he'd return to his former generous self if I'd serve him more enticing boudoir cheesecake?"
"For I admit that I have always been rather passive in the bedroom, figuring it was the husband's role to be sexually aggressive."
"So our marriage has been very platonic for a couple of years."

Love vs. Greed
Love is the antithesis of greed, avarice and miserliness. And this love is not even limited to the husband-wife variety.

Don't you recall the story of Silas Marner?

He was a greedy miser whose main joy was in fondly counting his gold pieces every night.

Then little Eppie came into his life, and remember what happened?

He became a friendly, more extroverted neighbor.

And lost his mania for gold pieces.

Marital love also works in much the same manner.

For when men grow panicky about losing their libido, as after the age of 40, they look to some other means of exerting power over their wives.

"Money is power," runs an old adage.

So platonic husbands frequently become twins for Silas Marner.

This change may occur subconsciously so the stingy husband may not be conscious of why he has changed from a generous mate into a Scrooge. So I urged Beth to seduce her husband via an enticing menu of boudoir cheesecake.

For a man's haunting fear of impotence can drive him into a totally platonic state in one night!

Conversely, if a wife can make him function in the bedroom, she usually can demolish several years of their semi-platonic or even totally platonic marriage.

As a rule, it is somewhat embarrassing for a formerly passive wife to become seductively aggressive.

But it delights her fearful husband.

For men have labored under a disastrous sexual misconception ever since Adam.

Thus they have felt they were responsible for their own erotic arousal, even before they approach their mates.

That's false.

It is the woman's role to arouse the male and if a husband is platonic, that is an indictment of the wife!

So I helped Beth by an interview with her and her husband, during which I reminded them that a wife is to blame for an impotent husband.

This fact relieved his mind greatly.

Then I advised him to let his wife take the erotic initiative and prove her feminine charm!

For any attractive woman, whether wife or "Call" girl, can make the usual platonic male function (even if he doesn't want to) if she remembers there is no Emily Post in the boudoir of husband and wife.

Men who drink excessively, or are unduly caustic, or chew out the children unduly to "punish"

Another Radio Drama Readying To Hear Dr. Ratcliffe

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Thanks to a revived audience interest in more than music, news and sports, no less than four new radio drama or humor series are on the nation's airwaves these days. Now a fifth series is afoot.

It's the National Public Radio Theater, a dramatic effort that lasts an hour. Distribution of it began this month to the 163 public radio stations in the federally funded National Public Radio system.

NPR officials say a total of 11 of the weekly shows will be sent the stations this year, with a minimum of 26 new ones ordered for 1975. All will feature original or adapted material written only for radio.

What prompted it?

"One of the big things that moved us ahead was the success of the 'CBS Radio Mystery Theater,'" an NPR spokesman said, referring to the hour-long, weeknight series that made its debut in January.

"I think it proved the point that we've been trying to push," he said. "That there is an audience for radio drama if they, the audience, knows it's there."

Other radio series now on the air are the Mutual Broadcasting network's "Zero Hour," a suspense effort; a "National Lampoon" comedy series and "Sounds of the City," a soap opera about a black family.

The radio plays are produced by EARPLAY, a joint project of the University of Wisconsin's extension school and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, at the university's radio station in Madison.

Karl Schmidt, a professor of educational communications, supervises the project. He says the show draws its thespians from New York, Chicago and the Minneapolis-St. Paul area as well as from the studentry.

How does he get his scripts?

"Mostly, we work through drama agents in New York," he said, "but we also solicit manuscripts through ads in the New York Times, the Saturday Review and other publications like that."

The pay for the scrivener is more inspirational than any known muse. Schmidt says an original, one-hour radio drama is worth $2,000 on acceptance, regardless of the author's fame or lack of it.

Question: Since few public radio stations can afford to advertise, how can listeners find out (a) the call letters of the nearest NPR outlet, and (b) when the programs air?

A spokesman said the best way is for the listener to write NPR's office in Washington, D.C., and ask which NPR station is in his or her area. Then call the station and ask when the show begins.

DR. ROBERT RATCLIFFE

"Mental and Emotional Problems - Are Our Children Exempt?" Will be discussed by Robert R. Ratcliffe, M.D., when he speaks at the annual meeting of the Pitt County Mental Health Association, Thursday evening.

Monday. In October 1973 Dr. Ratcliffe was appointed Eastern Regional Director of Mental Health with responsibility to administer, direct, and coordinate all mental health activities in the 32 counties. A native of Reidsville, he graduated with a M.A. Degree in English from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1960. He received his pre-medical education at V.M.I. and the University of Virginia. In 1965 he was granted his M.D. degree from the University of Virginia at Charlottesville.

He was a Resident in Psychiatry at the Medical College of South Carolina, Charleston, from 1966-68, and at the University of North Carolina Memorial Hospital 1968-1970. He was a Fellow in Community Psychiatry, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, 1969-1970.

His work experience includes serving as consultant psychiatrist at Central Prison in Raleigh during which time he helped start group therapy sessions and workshops for group leaders. He was also consultant psychiatrist to Randolph County Mental Health Center, Asheboro, N.C., and in 1970 became Director of Alamance County Mental Health Center where he was appointed first Area Director in North Carolina. While there he developed a program for treating persons in local programs. This includes outpatient, in-patient, partial hospitalization, consultation and education, and emergency services for all ages and disability groupings. The extensive children's service include a kindergarten for the Handicapped, Sheltered Workshop for all ages, half-way houses for the mentally retarded, alcoholics, and emotionally ill, diagnostic and emergency care centers for runaways or other troubled adolescents.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 20, 1974

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have excellent ideas now and are able to visit some interesting places with persons you like. Engage in the pioneering activities that can bring a new spark of interest in what you want in the future. Be outgoing.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contact those persons you like so much and put a new plan across that is very worthwhile. Taking health treatments now is fine.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get in touch with some expert who can give the information you need now. Do nothing that could irk others. Be more considerate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A good day to be very sociable and show affection for your friends. A new friend can be of great assistance to you in the future.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Buy the appliances that can make your work easier and of better quality in the future. Meet with congenial tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have excellent ideas now that can be put to use that will help you get ahead much faster in the future. Stay home with mate tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) After duties are done, take your loved one to a charming place where you can have a delightful time. Try not to lose temper tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An associate has fine ideas and they should not be sloughed off. Be more understanding of a friend who is out of sorts right now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Follow through and complete routine duties so you have a clear slate for entertaining tomorrow. Give more attention to your health.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show your affection for those you like and gain more happiness and goodwill. Take time to engage in your favorite hobby.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Good day to fix up your abode so it is more serviceable, comfortable and pleasing to the eye. Evening is ideal for entertaining.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Put your fine mind to work on whatever is practical and get excellent results. Talk over with friends new plans you have made.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are concerned with money and property affairs which you can handle with finesse now. Get more out of life. Strive for happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY — he or she will be interested in just about everything, so permit to express self early in life. Concentrate on whatever is important and carry through in a thorough fashion so that much success can be realized from it. The ability to persevere on an idea is the key to getting ahead in this chart. Sports are fine.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

"Cherchez la femme!" say the French. "Only if you can find no way to avoid the finesse!" retort the bridge experts.

When this hand was played in a recent team match, both teams reached six hearts on similar auctions. Once South opened the bidding with one heart, there was no doubt in North's mind that he was going to drive to slam so, after checking on aces and kings, he settled in a small slam.

At both tables, West led the jack of spades, won by dummy's ace. Both declarer led a heart to the ace, fetching East's queen. Here their ways parted. One declarer led a heart to the king, setting up a trump trick for the defense. Now, he had to find the queen of diamonds to make his slam. He led a diamond to the king, returned a diamond to the jack and went down one.

The second declarer abandoned hearts after winning the ace. First, he ruffed the queen of spades in dummy, and then played three rounds of clubs ending in his hand. Now, he led a trump to the nine, and was rewarded when it held the trick. After drawing the king of hearts, he led and ran the jack of diamonds, and when the finesse succeeded he made an overtrick.

What if the finesse of the nine of trumps had lost? In that case, East would be employed. All the defenders' trumps would be out, and East would either have to lead into dummy's diamond tenace or play a black suit, allowing declarer to discard a diamond from his hand while ruffing in dummy.

But, you say, playing three rounds of clubs had an element of danger—one of the defenders might have ruffed. True, but if that happened, the defender might have been employed at that point; and even if he wasn't, declarer would have been no worse off than our first declarer — he would have to find the diamond queen for his contract.

Porno Film Is A Fund-Raiser

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Other politicians hold fish fries and hot dog roasts to raise campaign money. Perry Bullard is showing an X-rated movie.

Bullard's showing of "Deep Throat" this weekend is in keeping with his unorthodox ways in the Michigan House since his election in 1972 by Ann Arbor's liberal student community.

"The Democrats are really upset," Bullard remarked. "But I should stress they had nothing to do with this."

It's not the first time the Democrats have been upset with the 31-year-old lawyer.

He has acknowledged using marijuana, and once smoked it at a public rally to urge the removal of criminal sanctions for the use of pot; he has been arrested for hitchhiking; and now he plans to show "Deep Throat."

"I approved the showing of this film by the group because I believe in the fundamental First Amendment right of any adult individual to see any movie that person desires to see," he said.

He predicted he might raise as much as $2,000 from the six showings of the movie at the University of Michigan Friday and Saturday nights.

But a ruling by university counsel Roderick Dean apparently bars the money from direct use in the Bullard campaign. Dean said Thursday that use of a public institution for political purposes might be illegal.

A spokesman for the Bullard's campus campaign organization said the money might be used for public purposes in Bullard's district office or on campus for his support.

No one is opposing Bullard in the Democratic primary this spring.

State Rep. Dan Angel, a Republican from Marshall, issued a news release calling the showing a "debasement" of the legislature. The statement said Bullard was "utterly without redeeming social value."

DREAD SAWDUST SPILL
NEWPORT, Ore. (UPI)—Oyster growers near here dread a sawdust spill more than an oil spill. They saw oysters generally die trying to ingest the wood residue.
