

Light Early Voting For N.C. Primary Election

By ROBERT B. CULLEN
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Early voting was reported light as North Carolinians made their decision today on party nominees for the Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

State Elections Director Alex Brock said that despite good weather, voters were turning out in light numbers. He predicted less than 35 per cent of the state's million registered voters would cast ballots. In heavily populated Charlotte and Mecklenburg County, election officials said the voting was "very slow," slower than anticipated. Voting also was light in Raleigh.

In Buncombe County in the mountains, there were reports of mechanical malfunctions on a few voting machines.

Ten Democrats and three Republicans sought to succeed the 77-year old Ervin, who announced his retirement late last year. Ervin did not make an endorsement.

In the Democratic race, state Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan was favored to lead over former U.S. Rep. Nick Galifianakis, former White House aide and Chicago Board of Trade president Henry Hall Wilson and seven others.

The major question was whether Morgan could attain the necessary 50 per cent majority to win the nomination outright. If he does not, there will be a runoff between the top two contenders on June 4.3 Republicans, a 3-1 minority in registration, were expected to choose furniture executive William E. Stevens as their nominee over two unknown contenders.

Stevens, a 52-year-old state legislator from Lenoir, entered the race only after better known Republicans, including U.S. Reps. Wilmer Mizell and James T. Broyhill, took soundings and decided that 1974 was not the year to risk their safe seats in the House.

Morgan, 48, first attained statewide prominence in 1960 as the manager of the segregationist gubernatorial campaign of I. Beverly Lake. He also was a strong supporter of a law banning Communist speakers from state university campuses which was later declared unconstitutional.

As attorney general, however, he has hired blacks for posts as assistant attorneys general and State Bureau of Investigation agents. With that record, he has sought black support in the primary campaign.

With race not a major issue, the candidates dwell on President Nixon, the economy, and the fuel crisis.

Galifianakis, 46, and Wilson, 52, both called for Nixon's impeachment after he refused to release the tapes requested by the House Judiciary Committee. Wilson said Nixon was guilty of obstruction of justice and should be convicted.

Morgan said it should be up to the courts to decide whether the committee had a right to the tapes. Both he and Galifianakis refused to commit themselves on a possible Senate vote for conviction of the President.

All three candidates called for a balanced federal budget as the cure for inflation and proposed to effect it by cutting defense spending.

They urged anti-trust investigations of the major oil companies. Galifianakis and Morgan supported the price rollback on crude oil, while Wilson advocated abolition of the oil depletion allowance.

Throughout the campaign, the candidates found cynicism and apathy rampant among the electorate and all tried to convince the voters that they were honorable and trustworthy.

State elections officials predicted that only 35 per cent of the 2.1 million registered voters would go to the polls.

A low turnout was expected to benefit Morgan, who had the support of Democratic organization workers across the state. It was felt that the organization vote, particularly in rural areas, would be pulled to the polls more readily than the urban Piedmont support held by Galifianakis and Wilson.

Voters also chose candidates in contested primaries in six of the state's 11 Congressional districts. Two incumbents, Democrats L.H. Fountain and David Henderson, have no re-election opposition this year.

Survey Shows Light Turnout Across County

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Voter turnout in Greenville and in the county precincts was apparently very light this morning as a survey of nine voting sites revealed very little activity.

A spokesman at Gardner Fire Station (Greenville Nine) said that some 200 voters had come by to cast their ballots by around 11 a.m. and he termed the turnout "fairly light." He noted, however, that it was hard to know just what to expect at Gardner in terms of voter turnout since the precinct was divided recently.

Turnout at Aycock Junior High School, the new Greenville Ten precinct that was formerly included in the Gardner Fire Station district, was "about what we expected," according to a spokesman. She reported that 150 persons had voted and very few problems had surfaced as a result of the recent split of precincts nine and ten.

Elm Street (Precinct Seven) voting activity was also light "for this time of day," a poll official commented, noting that 220 voters had cast their ballots by around 11 a.m.

Only 33 voters had visited Chicod Two precinct when called this morning and the poll spokesman said that he considered the voting "very slow."

A light turnout was reported in Winterville where approximately 200 persons voted by 11 a.m. and voting in Pactolus mirrored the rest of the county as only 45 persons visited Davenport's Store to cast their choices by 11:15 this morning. A spokesman at Grimesland One said that 41 persons had voted by 11:15 a.m. but she said that poll officials hoped for an improvement in the number of voters as the day progressed.

Voting at Belvoir was the slowest poll holders could remember and the registrar at the Courthouse (Precinct Two) here said that only 62 out of 500-600 registered voters had been by this morning. She said that the turnout should pick up somewhat this afternoon as the voting deadline nears.

'Shabby'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today President Nixon's Watergate transcripts reveal "a shabby, disgusting, immoral performance" by all of those involved.

Scott, who has defended the White House and said portions of the transcript he saw last winter showed Nixon's innocence, gave reporters some sharp comments on them based on reading about 800 of the 1,300 pages.

"I think it's a shabby, disgusting immoral performance," the Pennsylvania Republican said. Asked if he meant by the President, he replied "by each of those persons according to what he said."

Scott said "I am enormously disturbed that there was not enough showing of moral indignation."

Award Franchise On Waste Pickup Here Wednesday

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

County Commissioners yesterday set a 10 a.m. Wednesday meeting to award a franchise for solid waste pickup in Pitt. The service is scheduled to begin when the county's new sanitary landfill, a mile West of Greenville, begins operation around July 1.

Bids for the franchise were opened last week.

Based on a per-bag price (for 30-gallon plastic bags) the bids included: 39 cents per bag, bid by Carolina Waste Systems Inc. of Charlotte; 54-cents per bag bid by Patt R. Harrison and William C. Vick of Rocky Mount; and 45-cents per bag (for a minimum of 26 bags per quarter, then 15 cents per bag thereafter) bid by Carter Hill Sanitation of Kinston.

Under the program, an exclusive franchise will be awarded to a company which will sell the 30-gallon bags to residents of the county, then on a regular schedule, pick up the bags of waste and dispose of them in the county landfill.

Persons wishing to do so, may carry their own trash to the landfill, but will be subject to a minimum disposal fee of 50-cents per car or pickup truck load of waste.

Commissioners chose the franchise method as the cheapest method of operating the landfill and to preclude double taxation or duplication of service. Under the system, persons living within the corporate limits of towns in the county will not be taxed by the county for landfill operations. Municipal residents currently pay taxes to the various towns to have their solid waste collected.

For lunch yesterday, commissioners were guests of the Pitt County Extension Homemakers. At that luncheon, Mrs. Karl Hardee, president of the homemakers group presented R. L. Martin, chairman of the county board a certificate of appreciation in recognition of the board's cooperation and support of the extension homemakers association, citing specifically the board's efforts in establishing a county landfill and solid waste collection service.

In other business yesterday, commissioners re-appointed board member Charles Gaskins to the Department of Social Services board and accepted the resignation—effective May 31—of county planner Howard Hurlocker. Hurlocker will become city planner for Washington, N.C.

The commissioners also reduced the term of service of members of the Sheppard Memorial Library Board of Trustees from six to three years if the action is in accord with the wishes of the Greenville City Council.

The change in the length of appointments to the library Board was suggested in a letter to the Commissioners by library board chairman Larry Graham. At their morning session yesterday, the Board of Commissioners passed two ordinances; one regulating junked cars in the county and the other a measure providing for the control of soil erosion and sedimentation.

The sedimentation ordinance regulates land-disturbing activities—such as at construction sites—to prevent unnecessary soil erosion and sedimentation in order to control water pollution and the obstruction of natural and artificial drainageways and to inhibit any flooding that might result.

The junked car ordinance provides for controls on the placing, disposing, discarding or abandoning of junked motor vehicles and provides for their removal under the direction of county officials (except on private property without written request of the owner).

Sutton Is Elected Housing Chairman

James E. Sutton was elected chairman of the Housing Authority Monday night at the board's annual session held prior to the regular meeting. Sutton, who completed two five-year terms on the Authority and went off the board when his second term expired in May of 1972, was reappointed to a new five-year tenure in May of 1972 after a year's absence.

Sutton is one of five charter members of the Housing Authority appointed by Mayor S. Eugene West on May 4, 1961 when the commission was formally organized. He has served several terms as chairman and vice chairman.

Elected last night as vice chairman was M. W. (Woody) Crumpler, who had served as Authority chairman since May of 1972. Crumpler was appointed to the commission in 1970.

Joe Laney, the Authority's executive director, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

During the regular May session, Laney reported that the Department of Housing and Urban Development recently conducted a detailed management review of the Authority's management, maintenance, occupancy and admission policies. He said that the inspections are conducted periodically by HUD in order to monitor local housing authorities and to assist authorities in their operations.

Laney said that HUD officials were pleased with the operation of the local body and he pointed out that the only area that they made suggestions in concerned the local rent status. Laney said the HUD was concerned that local housing rents have not been increased since 1965.

families from $85 to $95 per month, it was voted.

Laney said that the Brooke Amendment still applies to families with very low income and most of them will not be affected by the rent changes.

The commissioners voted to adopt the rent changes subject to final HUD review and approval. The changes will take several years to be fully implemented into the rent system since the occupancy turnover is low, it was added.

Commissioners also approved a five per cent cost-of-living increase for Authority employees. Laney said that the increase was recommended in order to stay in line with cost-of-living adjustments made by the city, county and state for their employees. The city's increase was approved several months ago.

Mrs. Sallye C. Streeter, director of tenant affairs, reported that two units were vacant during April due to deaths in N. C. 22-1 (Meadowbrook) and N. C. 22-2 (Kearney Park).

Rent averaged $35.97 in Meadowbrook during the month, she said, while residents of Kearney Park paid an average of $42.87 in rent. N. C. 22-3 (Moyewood) residents paid $44.27 in average rent and N. C. 22-4 (Moyewood) occupants paid an average of $44.18 in April rent.

Mrs. Streeter said that 26 of the 31 units accepted for occupancy on the west side of the 14th Street in Newtown were rented during the month and rent averaged $44.14 there. She noted that 30 of the 31 units were rented as of Monday.

Laney said that final inspections are set on the 47 east side units for May 13 and the

Rescued In Fire

FIRE VICTIM—Marsha Gale Griffin was rescued from her burning residence on 204 Gum Rd. during a fire this morning. According to fire department officials, she was burned from the waist up with second degree burns. Firemen responding to the 9:40 a.m. call said the front room was in flames and the remainder of the home was filled with heavy smoke. Investigation into the fire is continuing.

Border Flares Through Night

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syrian and Israeli forces fought with tanks and heavy artillery along the 40-mile Golan Heights front today after mortar duels on Mt. Hermon that lasted through the night, the Syrian command reported.

It was the 57th day of fighting. Syrian Defense Minister Mustafa Tlas made an inspection tour of Syrian positions on 9,200-foot Mt. Hermon, which overlooks northern Israel and southern Syria. Damascus newspapers said he told troops on the mountain: "Your heroic steadfastness reflects the conscience of the entire Arab nation from the Atlantic to the Persian Gulf."

"Your stand also blocks enemy attempts to obliterate the positive results of the October liberation war."

His militant statements coincided with a gloomy mood in the Arab press over Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's efforts to bring about a troop disengagement on the Golan Heights.

The Cairo weekly Rose el Youssef said a Syrian government spokesman told it if Kissinger fails to negotiate a satisfactory agreement, President Hafez Assad would convene an Arab summit conference to "decide on the next stage of the Middle East conflict."

There was speculation in the Beirut press that Syria might call for a new Arab oil ban or a cutback in oil shipments to the United States.

Williamston Bd. Approves Subdivision Ordinance

WILLIAMSTON—Williamston's Town Board on Monday approved a new subdivision ordinance which ties down provisions for developers and for the town in sharing of costs for subdivisions utilities and streets.

Under the new ordinance, the town will be responsible for providing water and sewer lines to the property line of sub-divisions at no cost to developers. Inside the sub-divisions, developers will take up the cost of extending water and sewer lines. A requirement also stipulates that developers will pave all streets within the sub-division, to include curb and gutter and storm drainage. As houses are added, the town will reimburse to developers half the cost of tap-ins for each house or unit.

In addition, the town will agree to enter into participated costs for streets, with the sub-division developers providing 75 per cent of estimated costs, and the town to provide 25 per cent. Developers will be required to post surety bonds in the amount of the 75 per cent estimate. A completion date of 36 months after the filing of the final plat was also directed in the new ordinance.

On the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce, two parking spaces on Washington Street were eliminated to give better clearance into Main Street.

Also, two streets, South Smithwick from Main to the railroad tracks and Harrison Street were placed in the no-parking category through approval of an amendment to the street ordinances.

Inflation Keeps Interest Rates High: Shultz

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans cannot expect any relief from record high interest rates without progress in the fight against inflation, says outgoing Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz.

But Shultz, who leaves office Wednesday, says interest rates may about have reached their peak.

Shultz commented after the interest rate for government short-term borrowing—in the form of Treasury bills—hit a record 9.036 per cent Monday.

Shultz said interest rates, especially long-term rates, are being kept high by inflation.

He indicated he agrees with policies of the Federal Reserve Board to moderate the growth of the nation's money supply and keep a tight rein on the supply of credit, actions designed to restrain inflation but that also help push interest rates upward.

Meanwhile, Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan said Monday he does not see "on the horizon any immediate solution" to the inflation problem.

After meeting with President Nixon at the White House, Brennan said: "I don't think there is any clear program" within the administration to quickly curb inflation.

Shultz, 53, will leave the Nixon administration Wednesday when William E. Simon is sworn in as his successor at a White House ceremony.

The last member of the original Nixon Cabinet still with the administration, he has been secretary of labor, director of the Office of Management and Budget and, since 1972, secretary of the Treasury.

He told newsmen at a reception that, after careers in education and government, he expects to make his third—and probably last—career in business.

He said he has not made a final decision but has received a number of good offers, including proposals from oil companies. Shultz did not say whether these were the ones he was considering.

He said he wants a job that will allow him flexibility to continue some university work. He was dean of the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business when he joined the administration as Nixon's first secretary of labor in 1969.

Service League Welcomes Members

Nine Greenville women who have completed all provisional requirements, were welcomed as new members of the Greenville Service League Monday at the meeting of the league held at the Elm Street Recreation Center.

Those introduced as new members were: Sheri Carter is a native of Sanford and a graduate of East Carolina University. Her husband, Charles W. Carter, is a pharmacist for Eckerd's and they have two sons.

Mrs. Carter is active in Operation Sunshine, where she serves as treasurer and she and her family are members of Immanuel Baptist Church.

Janey Ferguson is a native of Knoxville, Tenn. and a graduate of the University of Tennessee. She is married to Dr. Al L. Ferguson, a physician in internal medicine and nephrology and they have one son. She is on the Administrative Board of St. James Methodist Church, United Methodist Women, and on the Advisory Board to the North Carolina Council of Theatre Arts.

Jane Fleming is a Greenville native, married to Van C. Fleming III, who is a partner in the real estate firm of Fleming and Associates. She attended St. Mary's Raleigh, and graduated from UNC after which she taught in the Raleigh school system before returning to Greenville. They have a seven month old daughter and she and her family are members of Jarvis Methodist Church.

Jeanette Goes grew up in Pennsylvania and received a degree in nursing from Temple University. She is married to James L. Goes, who is assistant pharmaceutical production manager at Burroughs Wellcome. She and her family have lived in Virginia, New Jersey, New York and Mexico before coming to Greenville in 1971.

Peggy Hallow moved to Greenville from Charlotte in 1969. She is married to Joe Hallow who is owner of Hallow Distributing Co. of Greenville and New Bern. She attended King's Business College and LaSalle University in Chicago where she majored in interior decorating. The Hallows have two sons.

Mary Angela Lee is a native of Tabor City and graduated from Meredith College. She is married to Boyd Lee, Greenville Recreation director, and has two children. The Lees are members of First Presbyterian Church and she is second vice president of the Greenville Art Center.

Janet McGlohon is married to Don McGlohon, who is vice president and manager of Hines Agency, Inc. A native of Elm City, she is a graduate of East Carolina University and has taught in the city schools of Waco, Tex., and Charlotte and also St. Paul's Episcopal Church here. The McGlohons have three children and are members of Immanuel Baptist Church. She was active in both Jay-Cettes and Little League.

Janet Turcotte grew up in Greensboro and attended Greensboro College. Her husband, Ed W. Turcotte, is a retired Marine Corps officer who is now active in commercial aviation. Four Seasons Decorators and Turcotte Realty Co. The Turcottes are members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. They have three children and one grandchild.

Naomi Vick, a native of Winston-Salem, is a graduate of North Carolina Baptist Hospital School of Nursing. Her husband is Dr. Bernard Vick, who is a surgeon in Greenville where they have lived for the past seven years. Members of the Oakmont Baptist Church, the Vicks have three children. She is active in the Pitt County Medical Auxiliary, the N. C. Chapter of the Embroiderers Guild of America and the Fidelis Book Club.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for 1974-76: Mrs. John Biggs, president; Mrs. Leon Moore, first vice president; and Mrs. Jack Whichard, second vice president.

Committee reports given included a report that the Laughinghouse Hospital Fund answered two calls for assistance during April and received five memorials.

The Bloodmobile chairman announced the results of a recent visit. Fifty-three Service League volunteers worked 172 hours during which 432 pints of blood were collected. Members are reminded that the next visit will be on June 19 at Burroughs Wellcome. The Emergency chairman assisted six families and the Layette chairman answered one call. The Lending Chest chairman loaned two walkers, a wheelchair and two pairs of pajamas, robe and slippers for patients. The Hospital Activities chairman reported that 165 Easter favors were made for patients at Pitt Hospital. Three members volunteered to serve at the Art Center for the junior high opening on May 19.

Members voted to send gifts to Operation Sunshine, the Salvation Army and the Recreation Department. It was also agreed to provide funds for a Girl Scout and a Boy Scout to attend summer Scout camp.

President Mrs. Charles Stevens reminded members of the annual spring luncheon at the Greenville Golf and Country Club Wednesday, May 22.

Ask Friend To Prove Pronouncements

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who claims she can analyze a person by his physical characteristics.

For example, she says a high forehead is a sign of superior intelligence and a low forehead is a sign of average or below average intelligence. [She has a high forehead. Mine is low.]

She also says that people with long, narrow thumbs have a natural advantage over people with short stubby thumbs because long narrow thumbs mean you are dependable, friendly, and easy to get along with, but short stubby thumbs mean you are irresponsible, unfriendly and hard to get along with. [Her thumbs are long and narrow. Mine are short and stubby.]

I would like to prove her wrong about her thumb pronouncements but don't know where to find proof, so I am writing to you. DISBELIEVING

DEAR DIS: Since she made the "pronouncements," ask her to prove it. As I see it, the only natural advantage the narrow long thumb has over the short stubby thumb would be in hitchhiking.

DEAR ABBY: To begin with, my husband has always been a big liar. Last summer I found a pair of nylon panties under the seat of his pickup truck, and when I asked him where they came from and what they were doing there, he said they were probably mine and he was using them for car rags. I told him I didn't wear that kind and they didn't make very good car rags and I gave him something else to use.

I forgot all about it until yesterday when I came across another pair of panties in the glove compartment of his pickup. This time I knew for sure they weren't mine because this pair had "Wednesday" on them. Abby, I know he can't be that desperate for car rags.

What do you suppose is going on? I hope you print this because I'd like that hussy my husband has been fooling around with to know she forgot to pick up "Wednesday."

NOT FOOLED IN STAUNTON, VA.

DEAR NOT: If your husband intends to continue pickin' up in his pickup, he should tell his friends to pick up after themselves—and that means Monday through Sunday!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my neighbor who lives directly above me in an elegant townhouse apartment building on the chic east side of Manhattan.

This gentleman lives alone, and gets up every morning of his life at 5 a.m. This includes Christmas, New Year's Day and Sundays. He makes noise which lasts until 7 a.m. I don't know exactly what he does, but it sounds like he's exercising, rolling on the floor or jogging in one place. All this in his bedroom, which is over mine.

I don't have to be out of bed until 7 a.m. and it irritates me to be awakened two hours early every day. Once I am awake, I cannot go back to sleep.

I've tried everything. I invited him here for a Christmas party, and then gently took him aside and told him that his early rising morning noises bothered me. He said all he does is "get dressed" and he can't understand how that could disturb me.

I talked to my landlady and she said she has only my word, and she can't demand that he leave before his lease expires in three years. My lease has another year to go.

Please don't suggest I try to make friends with him again. It's gone beyond that stage now. I saw my lawyer at a party recently and he suggested I phone this neighbor every morning at 3 a.m. and ask him how he likes to be awakened two hours early every morning. Please, please help me. My nerves are shot. MRS. S.

DEAR MRS. S.: I'd take the lawyer's advice, after which I'd ask my druggist to recommend the best earplugs available. If that fails, invite your landlady to spend the night with you, and share a rude awakening.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

NEW SOUP BRUXELLES
Latest version of my own epicurean invention!

10-ounce package frozen brussels sprouts
10 1/2-ounce can condensed chicken broth
3/4 cup unsweetened chestnut puree, from a 15 1/2-ounce can

1 cup milk or light cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
Minced parsley
Cook sprouts according to package directions but omit salt; spoon sprouts, without any cooking liquid that may remain, into an electric blender. Add undiluted broth and chestnut puree; process until sprouts are pureed. Pour into a 1 1/2-quart saucepan; add milk and salt. Heat, stirring often, until very hot. Sprinkle each serving with parsley to enliven the olive color of the soup. Makes 5 cups — 4 to 5 servings.

I curse the day. (I would roo, rew, or rue the day, but I can't find it in my dictionary.) As a matter of fact, I can't find anything in my dictionary that I can't spell in the first place.

Last week in an effort to give the column class, I wanted to use the French word of nightgown. I stood in front of the dictionary and formed the word slowly... pen waah. Flipping through the pages the closest I could come was penwiper and penwoman, neither of which were too sexy in bed. Then I rationalized it was a French word, so I looked in the back section for the most-often used French words. They had never heard of a pen waah.

I called my friend, Maxine, a high school graduate, who retorted, "Be serious. They don't wear those flimsy things anymore. I hate nightgowns you have to wear a girdle and slip under. Why don't you call it a negligee?"

"Because I can't find that in my dictionary either!" I said.

Next, I called my husband who answered bruskiy, "Hello!"

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

For years, I wrote this column with a 49-cent dictionary with the S and T missing.

Realizing that I could never get anywhere in the literary world without the words "sensuous, sex and titillating," three years ago I invested in the 12-pound hernia edition of Webster's Twentieth Century Dictionary.

I curse the day. (I would roo, rew, or rue the day, but I can't find it in my dictionary.) As a matter of fact, I can't find anything in my dictionary that I can't spell in the first place.

"Because I can't find that in my dictionary either!" I said.

Next, I called my husband who answered bruskiy, "Hello!"

"I'm sorry to bother you, but how do you spell pen waah?"

"Do you mean you called me out of an important business meeting to ask me how to spell a word?"

"Yes."

"Very well, you know how badly the French spell in English. So whatever you think it is just drop the first letter and add a UI in the middle. By the way what's a pen waah?"

"It's a nightgown."

"Then that's simple. Just go to a nightgown department in a store and they'll tell you how to spell it."

I got in the car, drove to the shopping center and asked the clerk in lingerie, "How do you spell pen waah?"

"Let's see," she hesitated. "P-E-N-W-A-A-H."

At home I opened the dictionary and figured out there are roughly 6,543 words that begin with p. When I finally got to word 1,040 I saw it, "PEIGNOIR."

I didn't mean what I thought it did, so I substituted pajamas.

Wyoming Girl New Junior Miss

NEW JUNIOR MISS—Karen Ann Morris of Cheyenne, Wyo., exults as she is crowned 1974 Junior Miss in pageant finals last night. (AP Wirephoto)

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—It was a beautiful night for a Wyoming ranch girl in the Port City of Mobile Monday, as Miss Karen Ann Morris became America's Junior Miss for 1974.

When asked the traditional question, how do you feel?, Miss Morris could only say: "I just don't know, it's unreal. I can't believe it... but it's beautiful."

The tall, blue-eyed blonde became the nation's ideal high school senior out of a field of 50 very lovely and talented State Junior Misses.

Miss Morris is the daughter of a Wyoming rancher John N.

Morris, who says you could spend a whole day on his spread. "We cover a good bit of territory," Morris told newsmen Monday night.

His daughter works on her father's ranch, but plans to be a speech pathologist. She attends Wyoming University.

With two sisters, Miss Morris seems to appreciate life and recognize her place among others. "I was just lucky," she said of her victory, "all of the 50 girls had a chance to win. I was just lucky."

For her talent presentation Miss Morris performed a vocal number with a guitar accompaniment. She was crowned by 1973's Junior Miss Linda Rutledge of Fort Leavenworth Kan., and received a $10,000 scholarship.

Susan Stephenson, 18, of Lincoln, Neb. was the 1st runner-up, receiving a $6,000 scholarship. Second runnerup was Miss Nevada, Lily Hamamura, 17, of Las Vegas. She received a $4,000 scholarship, plus an additional $1,000 for being named Miss Personality by the other 49 girls in the competition.

Miss Florida, Susan Walden, 17, of Cantonment was third runnerup, receiving a $2,500 scholarship. Miss California, Sharon Fox, 17, of San Rafael was fourth runnerup, also receiving a $2,500 scholarship.

Others among the seven finalists were Miss New Jersey, Donna Alexander, 17, of East Orange, and Miss Mississippi, Sheila Tippins, 17, of Brookhaven. Both girls were awarded $1,000 scholarships.

Miss New Jersey was the first black girl to win her way into the national finals.

Among the ten finalists were Miss Arkansas, Holly Henley, 18, of El Dorado; Miss Maryland Cathy Holz, 18, of Ellicott City; and Miss Texas, Donna Bullock, 18, of Athens.

Eight of the girls won recognition by scoring wins in three rounds of preliminary judging last weekend. Four of the eight; Miss Mississippi, Miss Louisiana, Miss Florida, and Miss Wyoming, took firsts in two categories.

The three performing categories make up 45 per cent of each girl's score are: Scholastic achievement 20 per cent, and judges' interviews 35 per cent.

Judges for the 17th annual contest were Rosemary Dunaway Tribble of Tappahannock, Va., who won the Junior Miss title in 1967 while representing Arkansas; Sam Jones, former Boston Celtics pro basketball star; Debbie Mayer, 1968 Olympic swimming champion; author Arthur Gordon of Savannah, Ga.; and the Rev. Paul S. Tipton, president of Spring Hill College in Mobile.

Girl Scout Encampment

Spring encampment for the Girl Scouts of Greenville was held last weekend at Camp Hardee.

Seven troops of 74 Junior Girl Scouts and 16 adult leaders set up their unit sites Friday afternoon.

The girls participated in such activities as outdoor skills, cooking and campfire ceremonies during the weekend for proficiency and badge work.

Saturday was Brownie Day with the arrival of 75 Brownies from seven troops and 32 adults. The Junior girls adopted the Brownies and assumed the Big Sister role for the day. Activities were composed of outdoor cooking, hiking, nature study, songs and games.

The encampment was directed by Mrs. James F. Davenport Jr., assisted by Selene Wheelless, Pat Paschal and Martha Davenport.

Three Hurt In Accident

Two traffic mishaps here yesterday resulted in three persons being injured and an estimated $2,750 property damage.

Police said heaviest damage resulted from a 9:23 a.m. collision at the intersection of Fifth and Jarvis Streets involving cars driven by Alton Wayne Holloman of 218 Belvedere Dr., Richard Dennis Dobbins of Lawson's Trailer Ct. and Carolyn Ann Fulghum of 208 South Elm St.

Officers estimated damage at $1,200 to the Holloman car, $1,000 to the Dobbins vehicle and $150 to the Fulghum car.

Holloman, Dobbins and a passenger in the Fulghum vehicle were reported injured. Dobbins was charged with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident following investigation of the mishap.

Nancy Jean Light of Newark N. J. was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of a 6:30 p.m. mishap on Hilltop Drive 150

No Higher Purpose In Govm't

Sen. Ralph H. Scott was down on the ECU campus recently to speak to a class in which his granddaughter is a student.

Scott told the students that much of his legislative career has been centered around development of the state budget.

"Whether I have been fortunate to have this particular job is debatable," he said, "but, nevertheless, budget making has been my bag."

In this connection, he said, his "special interest" has been "the lame, the halt and the blind, the mentally ill and retarded, people struggling through their twilight years on small fixed incomes, children suffering under various and sundry handicaps not of their own making."

He expressed satisfaction at this year's session of the General Assembly's accomplishments in these areas.

"The Legislature's record in health and mental health and people oriented programs is there for all to see," Scott said. "And it's a good record."

For troubled children, Scott said, there must be adequate screening and diagnosis and evaluation of all children.

"A second thing we need to do is establish an 'information and referral office' in every county," he continued. "Parents are frustrated about where to go to get service. They need a single place to go to, and it ought to be as accessible as the courthouse or the sheriff's office."

"I will not rest easy until we do all that we can do for our troubled children," Sen. Scott continued. "I am speaking of those who live in a nightmare world of emotional misery, the retarded, the brain-damaged, the autistic, those who cannot function, those who fail in school, run away, fight, steal, destroy, and eventually fill our reformatories and prisons."

"We have simply not become concerned enough about these children. Why we haven't is beyond me, but that's the way it is."

Sen. Scott is in a position where he can help commit state funds to these programs which will solve the problems of these people who need it most. There can be no higher purpose for government and we think that Sen. Scott means to move in that direction.

Ash Is Behind Auto Moguls

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—A vicious backstage assault by the White House and the powerful auto industry against the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has been masterminded by federal budget chief Roy Ash without once talking to EPA director Russell Train.

The fight is over whether EPA should be stripped of power to test new automobiles for "fuel economy"—that is, how many miles-per-gallon they can get. Long despised by the auto industry as being run by sophomore fanatics, EPA has been measuring miles-per-gallon efficiency of new cars for the past year as an offshoot of its legal mandate to control auto pollution.

"If you took a poll in Detroit, no agency in Washington would be more unpopular than EPA," a top-level Ash aide told us. The auto moguls claim EPA findings are unfair and amateurish. So, in accord with the Nixon administration's well-established rule of cottoning to big business and ignoring the consumer, Ash's Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has been plotting a switch of the fuel-economy role from EPA to either the Commerce Department or Transportation Department—both safely industry-oriented.

But behind the White House effort to strip testing from the consumer-oriented EPA is a more dangerous game which looks suspiciously like a clandestine administration effort to gut its own auto-pollution controls program. The target was spelled out by an EPA emission-controls expert in the terse language of this confidential memorandum to Train April 26:

"What we see as really involved in the proposed move of fuel economy testing out of EPA is an effort to emasculate EPA in any future fight over the auto emission standards. . . . All real influence depends on the ability to obtain, assimilate and use information."

That memo, signed by deputy assistant administrator Eric Stork, said that what saved the Clean Air Standards Act during last winter's critical gasoline shortage was EPA's control of engineering and technological data on which emission standards are based.

In short, once it loses power to tell consumers how many miles-per-gallon a new car will make, EPA is convinced it will next be plundered of its whole emission-controls authority. The likely beneficiary: the Commerce Department, never famed for protecting consumers.

Throughout this backdoor attack on EPA, Ash himself has never once discussed the program with Train (although for the first time this week lower-level OMB officials began talks with EPA). In contrast, Ash has had lengthy chats about EPA with Detroit moguls, such as Ford's president Lee Iacocca, who came to see Ash in his office the first week in March. Ash told us he also has discussed the rape of EPA with Secretary of Transportation Claude Brinegar, who might win the mileage-testing program and with top Commerce Department officials.

Ash, whose immense power in the Nixon White House is still growing, told us that "satisfying the consumer" is the main reason for the projected shakeup. During the peak of the energy shortage, Ash was Mr. Nixon's chief henchman in warning EPA that its emission standards were wasting vast amounts of scarce gasoline. Indisputable car-owner anger over EPA's emission controls was exploited by Ash to pressure EPA to relax its congressionally-imposed standards.

EPA admits shortcomings in its own mileage-testing and is now correcting them. But the most compelling part of its argument for retaining mileage-testing is incontrovertible: the testing is done in Detroit as part of EPA's emission-controls testing and costs virtually nothing. As Stork said in his memorandum to Train: "Any other agency would face a mammoth job of setting up facilities."

To Ash, as guardian of the EPA's budget, that would seem to be good reason in itself for leaving EPA in charge. But Ash's goal in this matter is not saving money but satisfying the automotive chieftains in Detroit.

Strength For Today

HOMING PIGEONS
When a homing pigeon is released, it flies back and forth for a while at a low altitude, apparently in confusion. The it begins to soar upward, and finally, at a great height, gets its bearings and starts out in the right direction.

Some people's attitude toward life is very much like the initial performance of the homing pigeon. There are those who flit aimlessly from one job to another, from one marriage partner to another, always at a low altitude and always inwardly confused and unhappy.

No one can get his bearings until, like the homing pigeon, he at last soars upward and gets a clear glimpse of the path his life should take. Fluttering close to the earth, never striking up into the heavens in order to chart a course from above, leaves one with a superficial, unsatisfying life. Life abundant will come only to the soul that soars.

Some Of The Answers

When it was announced a week ago that the White House would release transcripts of certain presidential tapes, I voiced a sure prediction: Someone is going to say, "The transcripts raise more questions than they answer."

Sure enough, the next voice on the television screen was the voice of Carl Stern of NBC. He was saying, "The transcripts raise more questions than they answer." Nonsense. The transcripts do raise certain new questions, having to do with the transcripts themselves, but this monumental publication answers more Watergate questions than most Americans will ever want to ask.

What were the big questions? Let me grapple with two or three.

Did the President know in advance about the bugging and burglary of Democratic National Headquarters? The answer is, he did not know. In the whole of these 1,300 pages there is not a line, a hint, or a breath of a suggestion of any such foreknowledge.

Did Mr. Nixon know of the ensuing cover-up? He did not know. By early March of 1973 he had inklings, but it was not until 10:12 o'clock on the morning of March 21 that he began to get the whole story.

Do the transcripts tell us how and why Watergate happened? Yes, they do. This wretched business happened because Gordon Liddy was strong and persistent; because John Mitchell was weak and preoccupied; because Charles Colson was vain and presumptuous; because Jeb Magruder was obedient and inexperienced. The subsequent cover-up resulted out of the misguided loyalty and bad judgment of John Dean, John Ehrlichman and H. R. Haldeman. They kept their knowledge from the President.

Did Mr. Nixon act wisely and responsibly once he heard the story? The answer is yes and no. He acted humanly.

Let me dwell with this last point especially. The President's critics are stuffed like sausages with wisdom, virtue, and morality. For the past week they have been clucking and sighing. Mr. Nixon, they say, did not react instantly with public cries of shame and remorse; the President did not leap from the Oval Office and cry for guards to haul his aides away in chains. The President resisted—and still resists—full disclosure of his

Other Editors Say To Save Everybody

(Raleigh News and Observer)

The U.S. Department of Transportation has released details of its incentive program for states legislating mandatory use of seat safety belts. The program dangles up to $500,000 before the eyes of North Carolina's highway safety officials. Count upon these officials and their evangelical supporters to be pouring honey into state legislative ears next year.

It's simple. The legislature just makes it a crime to ride without seat belts fastened, with a fine imposed on violators. In return, the feds will pay a highway safety bonus, a percentage on top of the state's current federal highway safety grant. North Carolina's grant now runs about $2 million a year. The new seat belt incentive program offers a bonus of 10, 15, or 25 per cent.

States requiring the use of simple lap belts in cars would get a 10 per cent bonus. Those requiring use of lap belts by front and rear seat occupants would get an extra 15 per cent. And those requiring use of lap and shoulder belts by front and rear seat occupants would get a 25 per cent bonus. For punishment of violators, the feds recommend a fine of from $10 to $35.

Use of seat belts unquestionably reduces the number of fatalities and the severity of injuries. Federal and state programs properly encourage such use. But use of federal funds to coerce people into acting prudently in a matter of personal safety smacks of overbearing government. It is certainly an outlandish extension of government concern for the public welfare.

In truth, it is not government concern at all—not if such concern is defined as policy flowing from public demand. It seems instead to be the distorted consequence of a bunch of safety nuts and ambitious bureaucrats stroking each other's sense of self-righteousness and self-importance. How they ever outmaneuvered or fooled a majority of the Congress into authorizing this program surpasses understanding.

There are zealots in highway safety, just as there are in every other good cause in America. The Congress should repeal their appropriations and force them into some more useful employment.

Even The Experts 'Confused'

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — After a long, hard, puzzling week, several prominent New York business economists, some of whom are inclined to depart early on Fridays, gathered instead for dinner and discussion.

As one of them said, "We'd been comparing notes all week long and we didn't seem to agree on much. I'd been on the road a good deal and I just didn't understand other viewpoints and I think I should."

To the distress of this economist and scores of others, nothing in the economy seems to tie together neatly. Frayed, loose strings are hanging everywhere and it's almost impossible to trace them to their source.

For example: Joblessness

in April dropped to 5 per cent of the labor force — from 5.1 per cent in March and 5.2 per cent in both January and February — when almost all forecasts were for an increase.

If this was a recession, in other words, it certainly wasn't showing up in the employment figures. The nation's industrial output may have shrunk, but for debatable reasons the number of jobless dropped by 95,000.

The various economic pieces are numerous as those in a jigsaw puzzle, but they don't seem to fit at all. Inflation rages, for instance, but labor so far this year seems less insistent than last year on big pay increases.

And if there is a downturn in the economy, you certainly can't tell it by corporate profits. They're way up. And you'd hardly know interest rates are at historic highs, because capital spending plans are higher too.

In fact, the latest survey by McGraw Hill indicates that business intends to spend 19 per cent more on improvements to plant and equipment than it did last year. That would mean a total of $119.1 billion, or $19.4 billion more.

It is spending intentions such as this that have the Federal Reserve Board as anxious as it ever has been in years. The Fed feels it must cut those spending plans if inflationary chaos isn't to ensue.

But the Fed's case isn't that clear cut at all. Thousands of businessmen and investors maintain that with the country's output shrinking, and productivity declining, the

Coffee Nerves 'Real'

By ALTON BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Unrecognized "coffee nerves" could lead you to a psychiatrist and months of useless treatment with calm-down drugs, a psychiatrist said today.

Too much caffeine in coffee, tea or cola drinks can bring on all the symptoms of an anxiety state, said Dr. John P. Greden of Walter Reed Army Medical Hospital in Washington, D.C.

Doctors should routinely ask patients about their caffeine intake, Greden suggested to the American Psychiatric Association.

Over-doses of caffeine can bring such symptoms as nervousness, irritability, tremulousness, occasional muscle twitching, sensory disturbances, attacks of diarrhea, insomnia, irregular heartbeat, drop in blood pressure and even circulatory failures, he said.

A doctor could interpret it all as an anxiety attack. Greden told of reviewing records of 100 psychiatric patients, 42 diagnosed as having anxiety, with no question ever having been asked about caffeine consumption.

He cited a new case of a woman, 27, suffering attacks of headache, lightheadedness, tremulousness, and irregular heartbeat two or three times daily. The symptoms developed over a three-week period.

Rejecting a diagnosis of anxiety reaction to something in her life, she did her own detective work, tracing the symptoms back to her purchase of a fresh-drip coffee pot.

"Because this coffee was 'so much better,' she had begun consuming an average of 10-12 cups of strong, black coffee per day, more than 1,000 milligrams of caffeine."

That's four times the 250 milligrams considered a large dose. When she reduced coffee consumption to normal, her symptoms disappeared.

City Tree-Saving Resolution Felt To Need More 'Muscle'

Editor's note: This report, garbled in its presentation in The Daily Reflector on May 4, is corrected and reprinted today for the readers' interest.

By CARL L. TYER
Reflector Staff Writer
City Manager Bill Carstarphen settled back in his chair, glanced over the legal size piece of paper and said quite frankly, "It's the first time I've ever seen it, but I think it's great."

ECU geology professor Stan Riggs looked over the document, stated it was the first time he had heard of it and wondered if anyone had read it before the Tenth Street widening was accomplished.

The originator of the document, city councilman John Howard, says he thinks the resolution he submitted in 1965 has not been respected twice.

All three men were commenting on a resolution adopted by the Greenville City Council on Mar. 4, 1965 entitled the Natural Resources Conservation Resolution. Its purpose is to save trees lining city streets from indiscriminate death by a wildly handled chain saw.

The resolution was originally intended to be a city ordinance, states Howard.

"But some of the councilmen talked me into offering it as a resolution," he adds now.

Riggs states he wished it were an ordinance with some type of punishment for its violators.

Running eight paragraphs in length, the resolution reads, "Whereas, the City of Greenville is possessed of great wealth in flourishing, beautiful trees, shrubs and flowers; and

"Whereas, it is the traditional desire and intent of the citizens of Greenville to maintain the natural character of the arboreal setting which nature has provided; and

"Whereas, it is incumbent upon the Council to protect, encourage and defend the aesthetic aspects and natural beauty of our City;

"Now, therefore be it resolved that no improvement, paving, extending, widening or other change in streets or other City property within or under the control of the City of Greenville shall be planned or done without serious consideration and due respect for the result of such action on trees, shrubs and flowers which may be growing in or on the rights-of-way or other property; and

"Be it further resolved that all City boards, commissions, departments and employees shall be and hereby are charged with the responsibility of carrying out the directive and intent of this resolution to such degree that this Council shall be at all times aware of action affecting trees, shrubs and flowers; . . ."

The resolution was inspired in Howard in 1965 when several construction projects were underway in Greenville. After seeing many trees taken down Howard felt something should be done to protect the beauty of the city.

To some, a law requiring a penalty for cutting down a tree words and acts.

Very well. Let me suggest an analogy from everyday life. The parents of a 16-year-old girl suspect something is wrong. They are concerned and anxious, but no one likes unpleasantness. They avoid a direct confrontation. Then one day in March she faces them: "You have to know," she says, "I'm pregnant."

To listen to the sausage moralists, you would suppose that the girl's parents should react with instant sermons on chastity; they should cry reproaches; they should hurl her into the street. This is not the way the world is. The probabilities are 99 in 100 that the girl's parents would respond with questions. They would try to think what to do next. They would discuss options: Forced marriage? Abortion? Have the child in secret? It might be a long while before someone said of abortion, "but that would be wrong." They would be concerned with salvaging what ever might be salvaged of their daughter's reputation and future. The girl's father might keep saying, "I am just trying to think. . . I want to get all of this in mind if I can."

The transcripts are enormously, painfully embarrassing to the President. They provide an opportunity for his critics in politics and the media to pluck him like a live chicken. He says and does things that are less than admirable. Every deletion—and there are many deletions—is certain to provoke new suspicions.

One is reminded, ironically, of poor old Job, who was scorned by his friends and smitten by his enemies. "How long will ye vex my soul," he asked, "and break me in pieces with words?" Job was convinced he had acted rightly, and that the record would show it: "Oh that my words were written in a book!"

Well, Mr. Nixon's book is now written, not by his adversaries but my himself, and my own impression is that he emerges from its pages in pretty good shape.

Blakeslee Col...

An Army officer took calm-down drugs for 14 months without effect. His dizziness, "butterflies in the stomach," diarrhea and other complaints went away when he cut back from consumption of as many as 14 cups of coffee daily, interspersed with three or four cola drinks.

He had been consuming 1,200 milligrams of caffeine daily.

"Three cups of coffee, two over-the-counter headache tablets, and a cola drink consumed in one morning approximates 500 milligrams of caffeine intake," said Greden. Many Americans exceed that.

might be rather ridiculous. But to a tree lover, like Stan Riggs, trees are worth protecting with penalties.

A resident of Greenville for seven years, Riggs moved here from Raleigh, and recalls his impression of Greenville as a very green place when he moved here.

"I traveled through here quite a bit before coming to East Carolina and the most prominent thing that stuck out in my mind was the beauty of the by-pass because it wasn't so developed. Then there was Tenth and Fifth Streets which were so beautiful with all the trees," Riggs states today.

Now he feels only one of the three prominent areas remains, Fifth Street.

The geology instructor feels the resolution introduced by Howard nine years ago is a very good one but wishes more people would heed it.

"I would like to see it made into an ordinance," he adds.

City Manager Carstarphen, who is in his second year as City Manager in Greenville, likes the resolution and made a point of adding he was going to remind the council of its existence.

"Trees cut down noise and heat," in town he states.

"We have a policy now that we try and replace every tree we remove in a renovation project, that's why there are holes in the sidewalk along Reide Circle. We plan to plant trees along that drive," he adds.

Riggs states he feels the policy of replacing a tree is a good one but adds he wishes more consideration be given to already grown trees.

"I think some respect should be given these trees, some of them are 100 years old, they should be treated as you would a 100 year old citizen," the instructor adds.

"Along with being of ornamental value, they are a necessary item in controlling drainage," Riggs interjected.

Consumers Council Adopts Resolutions

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Consumers Council has adopted resolutions calling for a state no-fault auto insurance law, repeal of state fair trade laws and other barriers to price competition, reform of the state's tax structure and passage of stronger consumer protection legislation.

Approval of the resolutions came at the council's annual meeting in Raleigh Monday night.

In the keynote address, Judge James H. Carson Jr. of the state Court of Appeals urged North Carolina consumers to make their voices heard by state agencies.

"Working together in a group, such as the Consumers Council, citizens can have an input into the systems of state agencies," he said.

Carson noted that consumer advocates have said North Carolina has laws which limit the use of price as a competitive tool, mentioning as examples the state's Fair Trade law and the law which prohibits below-cost milk sales.

"If the system of free enterprise is to continue to function and if this concept and intent of the antitrust laws are to be effective, then it is necessary for

If you were born in May Emerald is your birthstone

Since 2500 years before the birth of Christ, regal emeralds have had a unique history. Cleopatra chose an emerald as her bridal present to Caesar. Seventeen hundred years later that same emerald was owned by Napoleon Bonaparte, who in turn gave it to Josephine!

If you're a strong-minded, personable Taurus, or a determined Gemini, your personal birthstone is the regal emerald. We have just the right synthetic birthstone ring to fit that royal finger of yours. And the nicest part is, although they're fit for a king (or a queen) they're priced to fit any pocketbook.

Pulitzer Prizewinners For '74 Are Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Pulitzer Prizes for national reporting have been awarded for stories revealing President Nixon's comparatively small income tax payments and a secret $200,000 contribution to his campaign fund.

James R. Polk of the Washington Star-News was honored for stories on the secret contributions by financier Robert L. Vesco.

Jack White of the Providence Journal-Bulletin won for his reporting on Nixon's taxes. The President since has made back tax payments.

Newsday of Garden City, Long Island, won the gold medal for meritorious service by a newspaper. It was honored for a series of stories tracing heroin traffic from Turkey to the New York area via France. Newsday's Emily Genauer won the Pulitzer award for art criticism.

Associated Press photographer Slava Veder won the feature photography award with a picture of a former prisoner of war, Air Force Lt. Col. Robert L. Stirm being greeted by his family on his return to the United States.

Anthony K. Roberts, a freelance photographer whose pictures of a shootout in a Hollywood parking lot were distributed by The Associated Press, won the spot news photography award.

Hedrick Smith of The New York Times won the prize for international reporting for his coverage of the Soviet Union and Eastern European nations.

William Sherman of The New York Daily News won the Pulitzer for investigative local reporting for a series of reports on abuses in the Medicaid program.

No prizes for drama or fiction were included in the awards announced Monday by the trustees of Columbia University, who have final say in the selection of prizes. The Pulitzer advisory board declined to make recommendations for 1974 prizes in the two areas.

Among the literary prize winners were Daniel J. Boorstin for his historical work, "The Americans: The Democratic Experience;" Robert Lowell for his collection of poetry, "The Dolphin," and Louis Shafer for his biography, "O'Neill, Son and Artist."

Other winners in journalism were F. Gilman Spencer of the Trentonian in Trenton, N.J., for editorial writing, Edwin A. Roberts Jr. of the National Observer for commentary, Paul M. Szep of the Boston Globe for editorial cartooning and Arthur M. Petacque and Hugh F. Hough of the Chicago Sun-Times for general local reporting.

Other arts awards went to the late Ernest Becker for "The Denial of Death" in the general nonfiction category and Donald Martino, who won the music award for "Nocturno," a chamber music composition. Composer Roger Sessions, 77, received a special citation for his life's work.

The awards, each accompanied by a $1,000 prize, were established by the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer and first presented in 1917.

Juries in each category first make recommendations to the advisory board, composed of the president of Columbia University and distinguished newspaper editors and publishers.

The last time no drama award was presented was in 1972; the last year in which there was no fiction award was 1971.

Everett New Regional Retirement Center Is Church Goal

WALTER EVERETT

Walter Everett has been named Pitt County supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration.

Everett, a Robersonville native, has been associated with FHA for about four years. Prior to that, he was a full-time farmer in the Robersonville Community.

He was assistant supervisor in Martin County prior to his appointment as Pitt Supervisor April 29.

A graduate of Robersonville High School, Everett attended Bowdoin College in Maine, Harvard University, and received a B.S. degree in agronomy from North Carolina State University.

A Mason and Shriner, Everett is a member of the First Christian Church of Robersonville.

He is married to the former Florine Clark of Everetts. They have three children, Catherine, a third year medical student at the University of Chapel Hill, Walter Jr., a senior at North Carolina State University, and Clark, a freshman at UNC-CH. The Everetts reside on Rt. 1, Robersonville.

WILLIAMSTON—The First Christian Church in Williamston is giving basic leadership in efforts to establish a regional retirement center there to be owned and operated by The National Benevolent Association of St. Louis, Missouri, the division of social and health services of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

Recent developments include receipt of a $50,000 challenge gift and the offer of a 30-35 acre tract of land as a gift to provide a site for the center, according to the Rev. Claude R. MacDonald, pastor of the Williamston church who is serving as general chairman for the project.

MacDonald has also announced appointment of two committees of 12 members each whose membership comes from Christian churches in the area and from interested Williamston citizens outside the membership of the sponsoring group.

The Planning and Construction Committee has already given conditional approval to a site. The Capital and Finance Committee will begin soon to plan financing the project which it is hoped can be completed debt free so that the cost of debt service will not need to be added to residency rates. A Greenville man, Jack H. Spain, is serving on the capital and Finance Committee.

The National Benevolent Association is a non-profit corporation and the Williamston Retirement Center will provide its services on that basis to ensure minimal rates to its residents. The center will provide efficiency apartments, meals if desired, and opportunity for building two-bedroom houses on the property in which the builders will hold lifetime estates. Nursing care is not planned for the present. A privately-owned 120-bed nursing home is being constructed, at Williamston which will soon be available to meet nursing care needs.

Laney Voted To New Post

Joe Laney, executive director of the Redevelopment, Commission and Housing Authority here, was recently elected vice president-housing of the Carolinas Council of Housing and Redevelopment Officials.

Laney, who served during the past year as secretary-treasurer of the Carolinas Council, was elected during the associations annual meeting in Charlotte on May 1.

Laney's main function as vice president-housing will be to work with officials of the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Greensboro, Atlanta, and Washington, D.C. in developing workshops for the 150 cities that belong to the Carolinas Council. John Roberts of Winston-Salem was elected president of the Council during the annual session and Ed Waddell of Charlotte was named to the vice president-redevelopment post.

Faculty Senate To Honor Board

The East Carolina University Senate and the campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors have planned a buffet dinner honoring the ECU Board of Trustees.

Robert L. Jones, chairman of the board, will be guest speaker at the dinner, which has been planned for Wednesday, May 15, at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

A brief social hour will begin at 6 p.m., and dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Tentative Martin Co. School Budget Okayed

WILLIAMSTON—The Martin County Board of Education Monday gave tentative approval to a 1974-75 county wide school budget of approximately $1,750,000. This includes budget projections for both current expenses and capital outlay.

Superintendent of Martin County Schools Eugene Rogers said the proposed budget was subject to several adjustments before the exact budget amount would be established.

Expressing concern over the progress of the new Williamston High School building, a number of interested citizens appeared before the board to urge that steps be taken to insure its completion prior to the opening of school in September.

"Construction is way behind schedule," Rogers said, "however, we feel that the school will be ready for occupancy by time school opens, although there may remain some minor work to be completed after school starts."

Rogers reported to the board that students of kindergarten through grades three had been moved into the East End School in Robersonville.

The board approved career status of teachers meeting the new criteria and reelected teachers on a probationary status.

In a final action, the board approved October 25 as a school holiday. This is the date designated for the official bi-centennial observation in Martin County. Jack Holt and Morrison Myers presented the request that this date be set aside as a special school holiday.

MEETING HELD HERE—The North Carolina Physical Therapy Association held one of its bi-annual meetings this past weekend on the East Carolina University campus. Two of the speakers above are, Dr. Victor Wang Ta Ng, who talked on Acupuncture—history and theory, and Mrs. B. J. Collier, acupuncture used in therapy. There were approximately 116 persons attending the three-day session. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Brandt Bows Out; Bonn Shaping New Government

By ROON LEWALD
Associated Press Writer
BONN, West Germany (AP)
— West Germany's ruling Social Democratic party nominated sharp-tongued Finance Minister Helmut Schmidt today to succeed Chancellor Willy

Brandt after Brandt's unexpected resignation.
Brandt, 60, whose "Ostpoli-tik" policies for East-West detente won him the Nobel Peace Prize during his 4½ years in office, fell victim to a spy scandal on top of state election setbacks for his socialist party.

Foreign Minister Walter Scheel, Brandt's vice chancellor and the leader of the junior partner in the coalition government, took over the caretaker cabinet left by Brandt.
He will serve until Schmidt's election by the lower house of parliament.

Heinz Kuehn, deputy chairman of the Social Democrats, told newsmen Brandt himself proposed the 55-year-old finance minister as his successor.

Schmidt was nominated by the party's presidium and a caucus of its members in parliament was called for later today to approve the nomination.

Kuehn said Brandt would retain the chairmanship of the party, despite his retirement from the government.

The Social Democratic spokesman emphasized that the party would continue its alliance with the Free Democrats, whose 41 seats in the lower house give the government a majority of 46 instead of leaving it 36 seats in the minority.

Word of Schmidt's nomination was immediately sent to a Free Democrat caucus, and no opposition was expected there.

The chancellor's resignation letter to President Gustav Heinemann Monday night said Brandt took "political responsibility for negligence" in appointing a spy for East Germany, Guenther Guillaume, to an important post in the chancellery.

Political experts said Brandt also resigned because of the recent setbacks in state elections and opinion polls that showed support for his policies had dropped to about 30 per cent, down from 43 per cent as late as last October. And one senior American official in Washington said Brandt's customary vigor and enthusiasm had been replaced in recent months by a puzzling and alarming apathy.

The political crisis caused by Brandt's resignation was considered the worst in West German history and was expected to have repercussions far outside Germany's boundaries, especially among its partners in the European Common Market.

West Germany is the Market's economic giant, the chief counter to the persistent

French drive to dominate the group, and the strongest advocate of close cooperation with the United States.

The Market already is going through a period of extreme uncertainty because of the French presidential elections, the British government's demands for renegotiation of its membership terms, disruptive Italian import controls and unresolved strains in the trans-Atlantic alliance with the United States.

West Germany had enjoyed relative political stability under Brandt, but escalating domestic problems could hinder Bonn's efforts toward solving European and trans-Atlantic problems.

Scheel called a cabinet meeting today to discuss the implications of Brandt's resignation.
Spokesmen said the Social Democrats and the Free Democrats also would start talks to agree on a new government program by the weekend.

The Bundestag, the lower house of parliament, will meet
May 17 to elect the new chancellor. Schmidt's election was considered virtually certain.

Scheel has been planning to seek the mostly ceremonial presidency when Heinemann, 74, resigns this month.

U.S. officials in Washington expressed hope there would be no slipup in the succession of Schmidt, considered a friend of the United States. He volunteered to challenge French Foreign Minister Michel Jobert on behalf of the U.S. government at the February conference of oil-consuming nations, and in March he said in an interview that there would be no permanent split between the United States and Western Europe
despite current differences.

Brandt's shock resignation came after mounting pressure on the government by the opposition Christian Democratic Union over the Guillaume affair, the biggest spy sensation since World War II in a country which is a major target for Soviet Bloc espionage.

Guillaume, 47, Brandt's aide for party political affairs since 1972, was arrested April 24 with his wife, secretary of the Hesse state government's office in Bonn.

Guillaume admitted being an East German army officer and agent for the East Berlin Ministry of State Security. He was appointed to the chancellery in 1970 and in his post reportedly had access to detailed information on Bonn's detente negotiations with East Germany and other Soviet Bloc countries.

Brandt's decision to take full responsibility instead of firing the former chancellery chief who hired Guillaume, Horst Paul August Ehmke, came amid growing domestic problems.

Since early this year, he has faced waning voter support for his Social Democrats caused by worries of inflation, economic uncertainty due to the energy crisis, Brandt's inability to silence radical, Marxist dissidents in his party, open charges by some party leaders that he was vacillating on key issues and disappointment over the lag in his Ostpolitik.

With key elections coming up
June 9 in the state of Lower Saxony, Brandt managed to rally the Social Democratic leadership behind him in recent weeks, and the party held its ground last Sunday in the Saar-land state elections. But an opinion poll taken since the spy scandal broke indicated that only 30 per cent of the voters, compared with 39 per cent the month before, still supported Brandt's party while 54 per cent supported the opposition.

Greenville Man Honored By Honor Fraternity

Walker Lee Allen of Greenville was honored Saturday at the Founder's Day banquet of the Tau Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi Honor Fraternity as "an alumnus who has served society in accordance with the ideals of Phi Sigma Pi."

Besides Allen, honors went to members "who have served the fraternity and East Carolina University in an outstanding manner." Glenn Moore read his philosophy of life, which was selected as the most outstanding of all those given by this year's initiates. Four brothers received service keys, the highest honor bestowed on a member. They are Bill Phipps, Worth Worthington, Fred West and Braxton Hall.

Certificates of recognition went to Vernon Summerell, David Haines, and Bill Edwards.

Tommy Durham, Worth Worthington, Jim Westmoreland, and Bill Phipps were recognized for being selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Mary Jo Steig and Tommy Durham received lamps of knowledge.

Seven brothers received sports awards. They are Jimmy Sharp, Bill Phipps, Vernon Summerell, Bruce Silberman, Dave Englert, Tom Clare, and Terry Thompson.

The fraternity's sweetheart, Ms. Carolyn Jane Mickey, was given a locket with the fraternity crest and the engraving, "Phi Sigma Pi Sweetheart, 1973-74."

She presented the fraternity with a pledge to pay for materials for a new fraternity plaque which will honor the past outstanding alumni.

Bruce Silberman, a rising senior, was named the recipient of the Dr. Richard C. and Claudia Pennock Todd Scholarship. He was presented a $200 check payable for partial tuition for next year.

Silberman, the new president, was installed by Bill Phipps, outgoing president. Silberman installed Neil Lipke as vice president; Bill Murphy as secretary; Dave Englert as treasurer; Mike Wilson as historian; Bob Pond as pledgemaster; and Gary Salt as reporter.

Prior to the meeting, the executive council visited the home of Dr. and Mrs. Todd, who were unable to attend the banquet because of Dr. Todd's illness. Mrs. Todd who the brothers call "Sweetheart," was presented with a plaque and an engraved silver jewelry box "for recognition of untold hours she has dedicated to the fraternity."

Dr. Todd was elected for the 24th consecutive year as advisor of Tau Chapter.

Rev. Wm. Quick To Serve In Michigan

DURHAM—Bishop Dwight Loder has announced that Dr. William K. Quick, pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church here, will become pastor of Detroit's largest Methodist Church in June.

Metropolitan Church, 8000 Woodward Ave., has been without a senior minister since the death of Dr. Robert Bodine in December.

Once Methodism's largest church in the USA, Metropolitan grew to that distinction during the 30-year pastorate of Dr. Menton Rice and Dr. Chester McPheeters, who succeeded Rice in 1943.

Bishop Loder said the appointment of Quick came with "great pleasure and deep satisfaction" and called the new minister a "highly talented man with the unique combination of gifts and graces that equip him in a particular way for this great congregation."

Dr. C. D. Barcliff, Durham District superintendent, read the statement to the Trinity congregation Sunday announcing the appointment.

A native of Marlboro County, S. C., Quick grew up in Gibson and graduated from the high school there in 1950. He is a graduate of Pfeiffer College, Randolph Macon College, Ashland, Va., and the Duke University Divinity School. In 1972, Pfeiffer College conferred the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree upon him—the first graduate of the school so honored and the youngest minister to receive the D.D. degree.

Married to the former Barbara Campbell of Bluefield, West Virginia, they are parents of three sons and a daughter.

His pastorates in the N. C. Conference include the Camp Glenn circuit in Morehead City; the Bahama circuit in Durham County; Zebulon; St. James in Greenville and Trinity. During his six years at St. James, the congregation grew faster than any church in the conference with the addition of 900 new members and the Church completed a $425,000 building program.

Helms Opposed Saigon Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., voted with the majority as the Senate rejected 43-38 Monday an effort by the Nixon administration to give South Vietnam an additional $266 million in military aid.

The other senator from North Carolina, Democratic Sam Ervin Jr., was not listed as voting on the proposal, an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to deny the aid.

Summerell Top Honoree At ECU Banquet

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
Carl Summerell came away with top honors at the East Carolina Football Banquet last night. Summerell won three of the seven awards presented to outstanding members of the 1973 Southern Conference Championship team.

Summerell was named the Most Valuable Player on the team, then added the Swindell Memorial Award, for team dedication, and the Lansche Award, as the Outstanding Senior.

Mike Myrick was named the winner of the E. E. Rawl Memorial Award, presented to the senior who best shows scholarship, athletic ability and character.

The Outstanding Player Award went to Carlester Crumpler, record setting running back for the Bucs, while Greg Troupe was the recipient of the Blocking Trophy.

The Outstanding Freshman Award went to Jim Bolding, who was third in the nation in interceptions.

Coach Pat Dye announced during the evening that Summerell had been selected for the College All-America game in Texas to be played June 22. Summerell will quarterback the East Team.

The featured speaker for the evening was former Clemson University athletic director and coach, Frank Howard, whose talk consisted of anecdotes from his long career.

"But I've retired as coach and athletic director," he told the audience. "They said it was for reasons of health. I made the alumni sick."

He then turned to Clarence Stasavich, current ECU athletic director and former head coach and said, "What's the reason you quit, Stas? the same thing?"

Howard told East Carolina to remain in the Southern Conference and not try to join the Atlantic Coast Conference. "The ACC has the most ignorant faculty people around," he said—a dig at the 800 rule in that conference. "All the best football players around ended up in Georgia."

Howard talked about the former boss of Dye, Alabama Coach Bear Bryant. "he's the only coach I know who can hire a college president and give him a one-year make-good contract. While the rest of us have two-platoon football, he has three-platoons. One for offense, one for defense, and one that actually goes to class."

Returning to Stasavich, he asked if he had ever given up the single wing and gone to the "I"? "No," Stasavich replied.

"Maybe that's why you're not still coaching," Howard said.

Turning to Dye, he asked him to "look at me, boy! This is what you're gonna look like after coaching for a while. I told that to another fella and he quit right there."

Howard then told the group that they had a fine coach. "He played under a good coach, a tough coach, and he became a tough player. He had to be tough under Wallace Butts. And he coached under Bear Bryant. In fact, I tried to hire him three different times. He knows his football."

Howard then gave the formula for winning: a good administration, a good headcoach, good assistants, a good recruiter; good players who are good students who love football, and a lot of luck. "You've got to have the wind blowing in the right direction; you have to get the breaks with the officials, (and you have to know how to talk to them); you have to make the close plays, and you can't give up the big ones."

It'll Take Time Says Billie Jean

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Billie Jean King, who makes it a practice to count the house in between strokes, took a look at World Team Tennis' first turnout and estimated it would take three to five years to fill the arena.

Ms. King coached her Philadelphia Freedoms to a 31-25 victory Monday night over the Pittsburgh Triangles, directed by Ken Rosewall. She split a pair of matches with Evonne Goolagong, while Rosewall won and lost against Brian Fairlie.

It wasn't only the tennis that a crowd of 10,611 (7,322 paid) watched at the 17,000-seat Spectrum. It was the format, the four-point games, the one-set matches, the nine-point tiebreaker, the cumulative game scoring that decides the team winner.

There were a few boos during the action, and at least one leather-lunged customer who screamed "come on Billie Jean."

Mainly, however, it was a typical tennis crowd, not the cheering, booing, catcalling types the WTT hopes to draw. They didn't get the hockey, basketball, baseball or football fan who comes with the idea his money entitles him to vent his spleen.

"It will come, Ms. King insisted. "There were a few there tonight (Monday). It will take a little while for both fans and players to adjust to the changes. It took a while for fans to get used to the tiebreaker. Now they like it, and so do the players. All have to adapt to a new situation."

Rosewall, 39, said of his team's defeat in this historic tennis beginning that the Triangles assembled Monday for the first time.

The Freedoms have been working out as a team for at least a week, some of them passing up tempting tournament money to get ready for the WTT opener. Ms. King admitted that she gave her team an edge. She noted that Fred Stolle of Australia, a Philadelphia team member, gave Fairlie some good tips that helped the New Zealand Davis Cup player split with Rosewall.

Perhaps even more noticeable than the tennis was the hoopla surrounding this first WTT match. It resembled a baseball or basketball game—lucky number drawings, a bell bonging as a replica of the Liberty Bell appeared on the scoreboard after a Freedoms victory.

The evening started a little late, the match delayed by rain—a deluge that slowed the arrival of spectators. Meanwhile, a string band from Philadelphia's New Year's Day parade filled the arena with music. A group known as "The Bread," sang "Mother Freedom" (a recording). There were giveaways from tennis racquets to a cruise to Nassau. Balloons floated down after it was over and the Freedoms hit tennis balls into the crowd.

Miss Goolagong, the 23-year-old Australian who has won her country's 1974 national championship, won the WTT's first match, defeating Ms. King 6-3. Then, Fairlie beat Rosewall 6-2, which gave Philadelphia a 9-8 lead—adding the game scores for each team. The Freedoms' Julie Anthony and Fred Stolle defeated Pittsburgh's Israel Fernandez and Vitas Gerulaitis, 7-6, with the help of a nine-point tiebreaker to make it 16-14 at halftime.

In the second half, Ms. King turned on Miss Goolagong, 6-2, Rosewall reversed Fairlie, 6-3, and Anthony-Stolle disposed of Peggy Michel-Gerulaitis, 6-3, to make the final score 31-25.

Trade Between Cleveland, Yanks Paid Off In Victories Last Night

By HERSCHEL NISSENON
AP Sports Writer
The best baseball trade is supposed to be one that helps both clubs. For the time being, then, the recent seven-player swap between the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees is a good one.

Fritz Peterson, who went from New York to Cleveland, yielded eight hits but only three runs in six innings and notched his second victory since the April 26 deal as the Indians whipped the California Angels 5-3 Monday night. Dick Tidrow, who came from Cleveland to New York, made his first start for the Yankees and scattered nine hits in eight innings, picking up a 6-4 triumph over the Texas Rangers.

The results weren't too surprising. Tidrow always beats Texas—he's 4-0 lifetime against the Rangers—and Peterson almost always (16-6) beats the Angels.

Elsewhere on an abbreviated major league schedule, the San Diego Padres edged the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 in the only National League contest for unbeaten rookie Dave Freisleben's third victory, the Baltimore Orioles downed the stumbling Oakland A's 6-3 and the Detroit Tigers nipped the Chicago White Sox 5-4.

Two National League games were rained out—Los Angeles at Montreal and San Francisco at New York.

Peterson blanked the Angels until the fifth when Dave Chalk doubled, Bobby Valentine singled and Frank Robinson homered. He gave way to Milt Wilcox at the start of the seventh.

"Technically, I think the Indians have a better team than the Yankees put on the field. I think the trade helped make this team," he said.

The Indians are 7-2 since the deal, with Peterson winning twice, Steve Kline once and Fred Beene and Tom Buskey each notching a save.

The Yankees won when Jim Fregosi, who batted Texas back from an early four-run deficit with an RBI single and a three-run homer, committed a two-base throwing error in the seventh inning that led to a pair of unearned runs, driven in by Bobby Murcer's single and Ron Blomberg's infield out.

Padres 7, Phillies 6
Fred Kendall drove in three runs with a home run and double and Nate Colbert knocked in three with a single and double to help Freisleben, who needed help from Rich Troedson in the seventh inning and Vicente Romo in the ninth.

Tigers 5, White Sox 4
Pinch hitter Dick Sharon drove in the tying run with a grounder in the seventh inning, then stole second and scored the winning run on a single by Jerry Moses, ending Chicago's five-game winning streak.

Orioles 6, A's 3
Brooks Robinson rapped off four straight hits and drove in a pair of runs and Paul Blair hit a two-run homer to help Baltimore snap a five-game losing streak and give Mike Cuellar his first pitching victory of the season.

Three More Jump To New Football League

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The latest three National Football League players to jump to the new World Football League say they may not have to play out their options before switching.

Harmon Wages, running back for the Atlanta Falcons, Guy Dennis, an offensive guard with the Detroit Lions and Larry Smith, a running back with the Los Angeles Rams, made the prediction Monday after signing contracts to play for the WFL

Jacksonville Sharks in 1975. Wages signed a reported four-year, $500,000 contract. Smith and Dennis wouldn't talk about their multiyear contracts but hinted they will earn a lot more with the WFL.

Wages said he has talked to Falcons owner Frank Wall about waiving his option year and Wall promised to give it serious consideration.

Smith and Guy also said they felt immediate release by their NFL teams is possible, but they weren't as confident as Wages.

Sharks Coach Bud Asher said he thinks "the chances are very good."

There has been speculation that NFL owners are not happy at the prospect of their contract players being bombarded all season about the fat WFL salaries from teammates on the way to the new league.

The signing of Wages, Smith and Dennis—all former University of Florida players—made it "probably the greatest day yet for the Sharks," said owner Fran Monaco.

Smith and Wages were handicapped by injuries in 1972 and played sparingly last season. Both said they are sound physically for 1974.

Dennis was first string at Detroit last season. Asher called him "a premier offensive guard."

shooter grabbed a four-stroke victory over at 273 over Tom Watson. Lee Trevino, Charles Coody and Homero Blancas.

Watson posed the major threat of the still, sultry afternoon, overtaking the third-round leader Allin at the 13th before crumbling with a double bogey at the 14th, where he dumped his tee shot in the water.

Kermit Zarley, whose course record 64 tumbled Saturday under Allin's incredible 63, seized sixth place money of $5,408 with a 66 for 274.

Bob Charles, 69, and Jim Simons, 70, shared seventh, good for $4,619, while Butch Baird, 65, Bob Wynn, 68, and Bruce Crampton, 72, were a stroke back at 276.

Allin, 29, whose bachelor status is in jeopardy—he's engaged—left Dallas Monday night for a vacation in Las Vegas, saying he would skip the Houston stop this week and rejoin the tour at Colonial in Fort Worth.

Allin Wraps Up Nelson Crown

DALLAS (AP)—"Those were probably the best three holes of my life," sighed Buddy Allin, the freckle-faced mighty mite and winner of the $150,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

"It was close at that point and that kind of got me ahead of the field ... I played about as good as I could play."

The tough little Vietnam veteran swept away from a trio of challengers with three clutch birdies on the home stretch Monday to capture his fourth tour victory and the $3,000 prize.

He closed with a three-under par 68 for a record 72-hole total of 269—15 under par.

"I was hoping I could hang in there...but I wouldn't have bet my life on it. Anytime you win it's a great feeling. I think I feel more inside me than I show outside," he grinned.

"I'm trying to kind of control my emotions."

The 5-foot-9, 130-pound sharp-tryouts will be held Thursday at 6 p.m. at Guy Smith Stadium.

All boys who pre-registered, along with others who wish to play should attend the tryout. Each boy is expected to furnish his own glove and shoes.

Boys who are members of a high school team must register, but will not be able to participate in tryouts until their high school season is over.

Three Bucs Named To All-Southern Team

Rocky Mount Gains 1-0 Victory Over Rose On 7th Inning Error

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer
ROCKY MOUNT—With no outs in the bottom of the seventh inning, a throwing error let Rocky Mount's Marvin Dancy score the winning run as the Gryphons stole a 1-0 win from the Rose High Rampants last night.

Both teams had been stymied throughout the game. Only once did either team get a man to third. Rocky Mount left their man standing while the Rose runner was tagged out going home.

Both pitchers were tough to hit. Winner Doug Griffin gave up only three, one a double, struck out 11 and walked two. Kelly Heath had problems finding the strike zone walking eight, striking out four, but giving up only a fourth inning single. The loss drops the Rampants back to 7-4 in the Division II standings, two games behind the Gryphons, 9-2.

Rose left four men on base while the Gryphons left 10 stranded. The opportunities to score were there for both teams but it was just a Rocky Mount break that won it.

Gil Whitford drew a one-out walk in the first inning and Robert Brinkley moved him up with a single to left. One cut later, Whitford was forced at third, and the inning.

Heath walked the first two men he faced in the first. Dancy and Tommy Warrick. Heath retired the next three with out further advancement.

Heath again issued a pair of passes to the lead off men in the second but a fly, a strike-out and a ground-out prevented a score. The Gryphons put their first two batters on in the third as Warrick walked and Phil Ford was safe on an error. One out later Ford was forced at second and a strike out ended the frame.

Three-Pointer Saves New York

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Brian Taylor maintains he felt all along his New York Nets could overcome the Utah Stars and "that's the real virtue of the three-point play we have in the American Basketball Association."

Taylor made it particularly virtuous for the Nets with a 26-footer that was in the air when the buzzer sounded to end regulation time. When the ball swished, the three points made it 94-94.

In overtime, the Nets went on to win 103-100 and climbed to within one game of the ABA championship, needing only a victory Wednesday to score the first title series sweep in the league's history.

The ABA scores three points for a field-goal shot from 25 feet out.

"It's going to be tough to win it in four," said Taylor, a 22-year-old product of Princeton in his second pro season.

"They'll be tough here Wednesday night, I know. But we have the momentum going, we have the confidence, and well, we really don't want a fifth game."

Julius Erving, leading Net scorer again with 24 points, scored three in the overtime. Larry Kenon added two field goals and Billy Paultz one during the extra five minutes.

Utah, down by 15 midway in the fourth quarter, staged a stirring rally with 14 straight points paced by the returned Zelmo Beatty, Rick Mount and James Jones, who had 28.

With 10 seconds left the Stars had grabbed a 94-91 lead and Nets' Coach Kevin Loughery called for Erving to try a three pointer. But the lane was plugged up, so Wendell Ladner tried for a three-pointer, and missed. But, said Loughery, he was "there for the rebound and whipped it out to Taylor in the range and that was it."

It was, incidentally, the only three-point field goal in the three game championship series so far.

Beatty, who missed the first two games because of an infection, scored 22 points and had 16 rebounds.

Winning four straight in a best-of-seven playoff after losing the first three is believed unprecedented in pro basketball, yet Beatty maintains, "We must continue to feel optimistic."

Kenon finished with 18 points, Paultz 17, Taylor 15 and John Williamson 14.

Willie Wise had 20 for the losers to go with Jones' 28 and Beatty's 22. Mount, the former Purdue star, came on as a reserve and provided 19 points.

Wednesday's fourth game is scheduled for 7 p.m. (MDT) in the Salt Palace, where 10,743 turned out for Monday's overtime.

NAIA Sets Tournament

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina Methodist has drawn a first round bye for the NAIA District 29 double elimination baseball tournament scheduled for May 15-18 here.

In the first round, Atlantic Christian College will play Virginia Wesleyan at 11 a.m. on the 15th, Campbell faces Pembroke State at 2 p.m. and Wilmington plays North Carolina-Lynchburg at 5:30 p.m.

The Optimists nipped R. C. Cola, 4-3, yesterday as the North State Little League played the first game of the season.

R. C. Cola pushed over its first run in the opening inning. Junior Hardee opened up with a walk and stole second. He scored when Jeff Worthington doubled.

Methodist will play the winner of the ACC-Virginia Wesleyan game at 11 a.m. May 16. The winners of the other two first day games will face each other on the afternoon of the 16th.

Ayden-Grifton Downs S. Nash

LITTLEFIELD—Ayden-Grifton High School gained a 4-1 victory over Southern Nash High School yesterday.

The victory came despite a one-hit effort by Cooper of Southern Nash. He struck out eight but walked six in taking the loss.

Ayden-Grifton pushed over four runs in the first inning, all without a hit. Ronnie Salmon walked and stole second. Stevie Tripp walked and Ned Craft reached on an errored fielder's choice that let Salmon come in.

Tom Craft walked and a passed ball scored Tripp. Greg Nelson reached on another fielder's choice, scoring Ned Craft. Tom Craft then scored on a double steal for the 4-0 lead.

It went on like that until the seventh inning when the Firebirds got their only run. Winstead walked and so did Cooper. Harrison then singled to load the bases. A walk to Bass brought in Winstead with the lone Southern Nash run. Ayden-Grifton will play host to Conley in its next outing, Wednesday.

Chicod In Junior Win

BELVOIR—Chicod Junior High School rolled to a 33-1 victory over Belvoir-Falkland Junior High School yesterday.

Robin Fornes tossed the victory for Chicod, now 6-2 on the year.

Waverly Thomas led the Chicod hitting with five, including a homer, while Fornes added four. Dale Bailey had three hits, with Michael Miller, James Carter and Neil Johnson each getting two.

The Elks gained a 13-4 victory over Pepsi-Cola in the opening game of the Tar Heel Little League season yesterday.

Skinner walked. Walsh reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Jackson, and White singled in Ray.

The Elks pushed over three runs in the first inning of play. William Sneed reached on a single and Lynn Jackson was safe on a fielder's choice. Gavin Ray singled and Terry Skinner brought in Sneed with a sacrifice fly. Emmett Walsh brought in the next two runs with a triple.

They added two more in the fifth. Ray reached on a fielder's choice and Skinner was safe on a three-base error, scoring Ray. Walsh singled in Skinner.

In the third, the Elks added three more. Jackson reached on an error and moved up on a wild pitch. Ray walked and another wild pitch moved both up. Walsh singled in Jackson and Don White doubled to score both Ray and Walsh.

Pepsi-Cola broke the ice with three in the bottom of the third. Kevin Richards walked, as did Ricky Sutton. Fred Matney singled, and an error let both Richards and Sutton score.

The Elks added four more in the fourth. Chris Ross doubled and stole third. Sneed walked and stole second. Jackson singled in Ross and Sneed stole home. Gay was hit by a pitch and

The Elks got on more in the sixth. Mike Lemmond was hit by a pitch and Lloyd Jackson singled. Lemmond scored on an error.

Saxbe Cites Concern Over Criminality Problems

PATROL RIOT AREA—Troops patrol the Azad market region of New Delhi after a round-the-clock curfew was imposed following clashes between Moslems and Hindus. At least 10 persons were killed and more than 100 shops were guttured by the arson and violence that swept the marketplace Sunday. It was the worst communal strife in the Indian capital since 1947 when British India was partitioned into Moslem Pakistan and Hindu India. (AP Wirephoto)

Games Tourney Slated For County Boys Club

Thursday and Friday will be days of competition for young boys in Pitt County. On those two days boys who are members of the Pitt County Boys' Club will be vying with each other for championship spots in a number of games in the Pitt County Tournament of Champions.

Graham Gutting, Executive Director of the Boys' Club, has announced that the competition will include ping-pong, pool, checkers, horse shoes, physical fitness, the 100 yard dash and football throw. Winners in each division will receive trophies.

County Commissioners have issued a proclamation naming the week of May 13-18 as Pitt County Boys' Club Week. This is the week being observed nationally to honor boys' clubs across the nation.

On Thursday, May 16, the annual Pitt County Boys' Club Awards Banquet will be held at 7:00 p.m. in the Greenville Moose Lodge. At the banquet, the Boy of the Year will be named, as well as the recipient of the sportsmanship trophy.

All current and past board members are being invited to attend the banquet. It will be a Dutch treat affair, and those planning to attend are asked to inform Gutting (telephone 758-4029) prior to 5:00 p.m. Friday, May 10.

May is also the month that the annual drive for funds for the Boys' Club is being conducted. Gutting said that Mrs. Etsel Gordon, current president of the Board of Directors, has sent letters to civic groups, clubs and churches throughout the county. Don Parrott is chairman of the Finance Committee heading the drive.

As a public service contribution, radio stations WOOW and WRQR are both donating free time from 6:00 p.m. Saturday, May 25 to 2:00 a.m. Sunday, May 26 for use by the Boys' Club and the club's promoters.

Other events planned for May include a puppet show late in the month to be put on by members of the Pitt County Boys' Club.

County Firemen Answered 29 Alarms In April

During the month of April, a total of 29 alarms were answered by the 18 rural fire departments of Pitt County, covering 27 fires.

Two of the alarms were mutual aids. There were nine house fires, seven grass and wood fires, three auto fires and three building fires other than houses. In addition, five fires occurred that are classed under miscellaneous fires.

Property estimated at a value of $28,535 was lost in the fires, with the value of property involved placed at $90,850. In addition, property estimated at $452,000 was adjacent to and exposed to the fires.

Winterville had the largest number of alarms of any of the 18 departments, answering six alarms.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—U. S. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe says the problem of possible criminality among officials and lawyers is "not something that is limited to the federal government, but it is of concern to all of us."

In an address Monday night to the Southern Regional Conference of Attorneys General, Saxbe departed from his prepared text and said he was speaking just as a lawyer.

"We have had in the Department 9 Justice several attorneys general either indicted or under a cloud, we have had from the ranks of lawyers at least five pleas of guilty, we have another five or six indictments and when I left the attorney general's office in Ohio, six of my fellow attorneys general were either in the penitentiary or headed there," said Saxbe.

Countersuit By N.C. Physician

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Dr. Harold R. Hoke, who operates North Carolina's first abortion clinic, has filed a $200,000 countersuit against a woman who sued him for $70,000 on a malpractice charge a month ago.

Hoke claims the woman, Mrs. Joann Clippard of Lincoln County, is trying to embarrass him and interfere "with the practice of his profession."

She claims he failed to determine the length of her pregnancy before aborting her six months ago, as the result of which she delivered two days later a 19-week old, four-ounce dead fetus minus both arms and a leg.

He said "the inclination of lawyers and attorneys general is to hunker down until it blows over. If we do this, we are making a tremendous mistake because you, like I, have a tremendous opportunity now, when the heat is on . . ."

The people of the nation "demand that the lawyers live up to their pledge, and rightfully so, as officers of the court. . . To do less than that is a violation of our oath," said Saxbe, who added:

"We must be scrupulously clean in our day-to-day dealings. We have got to turn our back on the way things used to be done, on the big contributor who came in and was granted more consideration."

Saxbe said people "believe the poor man goes to jail and the rich man stays out and in many cases they're right. This is because the lawyers of this country . . . have not lived up to our oath."

"We're willing to sit down and understand the problem of the rich contributor. At the same time, the poor man, when he comes before the bar of justice, too often gets the back of the hand."

In his text, Saxbe said a factor of major importance in developing public confidence in the Justice Department is whether the department decides matters on merit or is buffeted by political pressure.

"There is no political coloration to our decisions on matters of law. At the same time, I firmly believe that the Department of Justice is properly part of the executive branch and should not be pried away and made an independent agency as some have suggested."

"The attorney general, whoever he is, should remain responsible to the president, whoever he is. It is only in this way that the attorney general and the Justice Department can be made ultimately responsible to the people."

"The worst thing in the world for the cause of justice would be to have the Department of Justice entrenched behind some sort of bureaucratic barricade where it is obscured from public view and unresponsive to the democratic process."

He was taken to Cornwall Regional Hospital.

The spokesman said a passenger in the plane, Sandra Vann of Columbia, was being questioned in Kingston, the Jamaican capital.

The Jamaica police said they found a large sum of money in Hawkins' possession and a loaded revolver and two rounds of ammunition in the wreckage of his plane, which was set on fire by the gunfire and destroyed.

A bake sale will also be held including homemade cakes, cupcakes, brownies and breads.

FIRST DONATION FOR THE RECREATION BUS DRIVE

Bill McDonald, Greenville Chamber of Commerce President, on left, accepts the first contribution for the drive to raise $2,000.00 for a Recreation Bus, from Samuel C. Whitehead, who represents the Senior Citizens Club. The Drive will last approximately three weeks, and anyone interested in making a donation should make their checks to Bus Drive, and mail them to P.O. Box 894, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

Listed below are several reasons why the purchasing of a bus is important:

1. Senior Citizens - for local travel as well as out of town trips.
2. Athletic Programs - which includes baseball, basketball, and football teams for various age groups. Transportation from one game site to the other.
3. Summer Playground Program - bus children to various activities such as swimming, horseback riding, putt putt golf, and bowling.
4. Programs for Disadvantaged - transportation to different activities for individuals who are unable to drive such as blind persons and physically and mentally handicapped people.
5. Special Programs - transportation for group competitions such as Karate Tournaments, cheerleading, and out of town tournaments of various kinds.

Attorneys general and staff members from 16 Southern states earlier were told that state officials must prepare for future emergencies brought on by severe shortages of vital materials.

The end of the immediate problem of a fuel shortage gives states a chance to prepare themselves for future crises, said Hubert R. Gallagher, special assistant to the director of the Council of State Governments.

"While we are enjoying a breathing spell, it might be wise to consider what should be done to prepare for the future when rationing and other drastic controls may be necessary," said Gallagher.

He said "it is probable that instead of being a 'have' nation from the standpoint of resources, we may be a 'have not' nation" and suggested states should be ready to handle such major crises as a more severe fuel and energy shortage, shortages of minerals or future catastrophes or earthquakes.

The states did a good job in easing the fuel crisis, but Gallagher said "this effort should be continued, including the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit, which has reduced highway deaths by 25 per cent with a probable saving of 14,000 lives this year."

The Worry Clinic How To Raise A Day's Output

Amy expresses the frustration of millions of busy housewives. For you rarely finish all your chores before bedtime. So try the following strategy. I've used monthly agenda lists over 30 years, for they zoom my output!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE A-626: Amy D., aged 29, is an Ohio mother who attended the Ohio Child Conservation League convention.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I feel so frustrated at not accomplishing very much."

"By the time I have prepared meals, cleaned the house and done the shopping, I find my day is unproductive."

"So how can a person increase her output?"

Make An Agenda
Make an agenda!

This means, write down the tasks you wish to accomplish tomorrow.

Pin that list above the kitchen sink where you can study it as you wash the dishes.

And on that agenda sheet, be sure to include minor tasks that may require only 10 minutes vs. major chores that take an hour or even half a day.

As fast as you accomplish those written duties, cross them off.

In my case, I use a thick red marking pencil and run a line through every task I finish, thus bolstering my morale.

You will find that without this outline of the day's duties, you waste a great deal of time, wondering what you should perform next.

And will find that without this outline of the day's duties, you waste a great deal of time, wondering what you should perform next.

And you don't organize your time as efficiently.

Don't feel blue, either, because you have several unfinished items at bedtime that you didn't get completed, for this is normal.

You will accomplish 25 per cent to 50 per cent more when

Many efficient workers compile both a daily and also a weekly agenda of their duties.

They may thus list only major tasks on their weekly list, leaving the minor chores for the daily tabulation.

On your daily tabulation, include such items as getting breakfast for your family, plus washing the dishes and going to the store for groceries.

Include writing a letter to your parents or a "Thank you" note, plus a greeting to some hospitalized friend or relative.

Such items may not consume more than 5 to 10 minutes, but that thick red line makes you feel the zest of accomplishment when you cross them off your agenda.

Longer tasks may be mixed with the shorter ones, for washing the windows, laundering the curtains, etc., come under the major daily chores.

Presiding over a church or Women's Club meeting would also rate as big items, even on your weekly agenda.

Personally, I can attest to the value of this agenda plan for zooming one's output, for I compile a monthly agenda of about 30 big items, each of which consumes a day's work.

For example, I make a separate entry for each week's batch of these "Worry Clinic" cases, thus having 4 and often 5 entries on that monthly agenda.

Then I also write a daily syndicated Quiz Column, so I make 4 (often 5 entries for it if this were a 5-week month).

In addition, I write several magazine articles, each rating a separate entry.

And a scheduled lecture in a distant state may require 2 or 3

Julie Andrews Prefers Specials

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In the news trade, a "phoner" means a telephone interview. When an interview with Julie Andrews was arranged recently, a "phoner" was suggested as the best way to handle the chat.

This is because Miss Andrews lives in London. All things considered, I'd rather be in London calling Miss Andrews in New York, but as W.C. Fields so eloquently put it once, "Dra!" Miss Andrews had just finished taping her fourth ABC-TV special of the current season, a one-hour show featuring Jackie Gleason and scheduled to appear on the telly here May 22.

She was slightly hoarse, but sounded extremely chipper and relaxed. This wasn't always the case during the 1973-74 season, when she was doing a weekly hour-long music and variety show on ABC.

"When I took it on," she said of those days, "I thought it'd be about, oh, 60-40 in terms of work versus home and children and being a wife and mother."

"I guess it was about 98-2

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Tuesday, May 7, 1974—11 when I got done. So of course, I prefer this kind of existence," she added, referring to the business of doing an occasional special instead of a weekly show.

"It also gives me much more of a chance to polish things off and have things a little more well done."

Miss Andrews, whose performances always have struck me as those of the complete professional, rushed or not, was asked if there was that much less pressure involved in taping her shows in London.

"To a degree," she said. "There are very strict union laws. One can't work longer than a certain amount of hours and one usually works until about eight in the evening."

"If you wish to extend that, you may be fortunate to work until eight-thirty."

"In America, I was working until all hours of the night and day. Of course, it was a series then and not the specials, but the hours I mention are the general rule in London."

Miss Andrews, who'll do two more specials for ABC next season, said the show she'd just finished now was being "sweetened," meaning sound effects and certain orchestra sounds were being dubbed in.

The process also includes slipping in some canned audience reaction to fill in areas where the real audience either didn't do its thing heartily enough or the microphones didn't do the huzzahs justice.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An interesting evening. Your mood will change from a fearful one to the assurance you can do those things you wish and be with people who will restore your self-confidence.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Finish work promised during day. In p.m., get into new interesting activities. Letters can prove disappointing early. By p.m., they turn to good fortune.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) You feel annoyed because you have to handle boring matters in a.m., but you cheer up later when you get the benefits therefrom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Evening is the best time to come to an agreement with one who is difficult during day. Do not lose your temper with anyone.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get unpleasant work done, then you have fine benefits from it in p.m. Get plenty of rest in p.m. Avoid danger of any kind.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) You get a renewal of energies late in p.m. Get out of that despondent mood early. Enjoy amusements after important work is done early.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) If you want to entertain happily at home tonight, don't start a rumpus with kin during day. If you smoke too much, cut down, or stop.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Use care shopping or when in motion. Don't make any comments that could fire anger of others. Then fine benefits are yours in p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) You are apt to spend too lavishly at one time and then to be a positive Scrooge the next, so stop such extremes. Evening favors studying finances, property matters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) You don't feel happy during a.m., and are apt to be sarcastic, so zip your lip for good friendships. Work cheers you up.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) You want to break out of your bonds violently, so take it easy and find out what the real trouble is. Give more attention to romance in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Handle problems during day. Wait until p.m. to be sociable with friends who are busy before. Help a good friend who asks for assistance.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar 20) Tomorrow is better time to talk with bigwig. Pay pressing debts. Then out for recreation. Don't drink too heavily.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be charming, but restless and nervous early in life, so will need much rest and may require warm milk and bedtime stories to put to sleep. Later on in life, the nature becomes very sturdy. Give little chores early, but make sure they are not too difficult. Add foreign languages to the scholastic curriculum, since there will be much travel in this lifetime. Imports and exports are fine here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Occasionally, you have a choice of establishing two different suits. Counting your tricks will often give you a clue to the right one to tackle first.

The auction followed standard lines. Since his response of two clubs might have shut out a four-card heart suit in the South hand, North correctly introduced the major suit at his second turn rather than rebid his clubs. South indicated a stopper in the unbid suit, and North decided that his six-card suit and outside entry should offer play for game.

West led a spade, and declarer had to decide where to win the trick and which minor suit to tackle. It seemed tempting to win the first trick with the king and go after clubs, but declarer stopped to count and saw that, since he would have to surrender a trick in the suit, he would come to only eight tricks—five clubs, two spades and one heart. As soon as he gave up a club, the defenders would knock out his remaining spade stopper, and they would have their suit established before he could set up a diamond for his ninth trick.

Therefore, declarer won the first trick in dummy and led a diamond to the jack. Had West won with the ace, declarer would have had to bank on the suit dividing 3-3. However, since East held the ace, the jack won. Note that East cannot win the ace of diamonds without setting up five tricks in the suit for declarer.

With an extra trick in, declarer could now be satisfied with five club tricks, so he switched horses. He led a low club and ducked it in dummy. East won the seven of clubs and returned a spade, forcing out the king. A club was led to the king and, when both opponents followed, declarer was home. The ace of clubs picked up the remaining card in that suit, allowing declarer to score, in all, five club tricks, two spades and a trick in each red suit.

Hardee's wants to thank everyone.

You made the Grand Opening of our new restaurant on Cotanche Street one of the most exciting ones we've ever had. But it wasn't surprising since Greenville is the home of our very first Hardee's and now the newest.

Mrs. Ray N. Linville is shown here receiving a Grand Prize check for $1,000 for her husband who filled in the winning registration blank. With her are (left) Mr. Thomas Sugg, Hardee's District Manager, and (right) Mr. Spencer Mann, Manager of Hardee's on Cotanche Street.

Mr. Bruce Whitten is shown here on the left accepting one of the Ten Speed Bike Grand Prizes from Mr. Thomas Sugg.

Oil Companies Never Quite 'Paupers' CLASSIFIED

By JOSH FITZHUGH
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The oil companies haven't always been the great money makers they are today, but they've never been paupers either.

In 1972, a year most analysts agree was a poor one for the industry, nine oil companies ranked among the 25 most profitable industrial corporations in the land, based on the total number of dollars earned.

Even by the yardstick most commonly used, return on stockholders' investment, the oil companies show only a slight depression from industry as a whole, when the high 1973 profits are included.

In recent months, as the companies' profits have soared over levels set the previous year, oil executives have urged that their earnings be placed in perspective.

"The profits are being compared to a poor quarter a year ago," says the typical oil executive today, who finds his firm coming under increased criticism from the public and Congress. "Our return on investment is still inadequate for the exploration and development of energy the nation so desperately needs."

Security analysts generally agree that the oil industry is emerging with a bang from a period of poorer profitability several years ago. They say the performance then was caused by fuel surpluses, increased competition from the independents and a reduction in the federal depletion allowance from 27 per cent to 22 per cent in 1969.

Because 1972 was a down year for the industry as a whole, earnings gains in 1973 were somewhat deceptive, analysts say. They say that profits began to improve in the first part of 1973, so percentage figures this year should be much more meaningful.

Likewise 1972 was the industry's worst year in the past 10 in terms of return on investment. This rate, a comparison of net income to shareholders' total investment, is considered important because it indicates an industry's ability to attract money needed to expand and grow.

In 1972, according to figures compiled by the Federal Trade Commission, the oil industry's return on investment fell to 8.6 per cent, compared with a 10.6 per cent rate for all industry.

Returns for the 12 largest oil companies in 1972 was 10.7 per cent, the FTC says, as against a 15.9 per cent for the autos and a 5.4 per cent return for the steel industry.

If an entire 10-year period through 1973 is examined, FTC figures show the oil companies' return on investment at a median 11.38 per cent, compared with 11.58 per cent for all manufacturing.

Analysts and economists say a major task in assessing the over-all profitability of the oil companies is knowing what measure to use. Percentage gains over previous years, return on investment, profits as a percentage of sales, earnings per share and just plain stock prices are a few of the many indicators employed.

New York's First National City Bank keeps return on sales figures for various industrial groupings — and these are much more favorable to oil.

For the last 10 years, the oil industry's profit margin — or income as a percentage of sales — has a median of 8.3 cents to the dollar, Citibank says. This compares with all industry's 5.5 cents on the dollar.

"The profit margin shows how well the industry covers its costs," says Robert Lewis, Citibank's vice president who compiles the figures.

In a recent newsletter entitled "The Profit Situation," John Winger, an energy specialist for New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, utilizes yet another figure to measure profits.

Winger says that for the past five years, including 1973, earnings of 24 domestically based oil companies and four foreign ones "achieved an annual growth in earnings of 12 per cent." For the past 10 years, the average increase fell far short of the growth required to provide the capital funds needed to keep pace with expansion of petroleum demand," the specialist says.

Within the United States, the longer term growth of profits has been even less favorable, Winger says. "Although the group's earnings in 1973 were 19.1 per cent higher than in the year before, they were only 11.3 per cent higher than five years earlier. And the average annual growth rate for the past five years has been only 2.2 per cent.

"Clearly the United States cannot possibly achieve the higher degree of petroleum self-sufficiency it so urgently needs if profits continue to grow at such slow rates," Winger says. Only if the industry maintains the 15.6 per cent rate of return attained in 1973, will it be able to generate the required capital funds, he says.

And there, it seems, is the rub. The oil industry, some argue, is different than other industries. It is capital intensive and carries heavy risks. It needs more money than other industries to build new refineries and drill new wells, proponents say.

Then there's the question of whether the current high profits will continue? Security analysts and oil men are mixed. Some see a drop off as the unusual circumstances of the past year fade, Taxes increase, government policies change and new production comes on line. Others, like Chairman H. L. Haynes of Standard Oil of California, are more hopeful. Haynes hopes to "match or improve" SoCal's 15 per cent 1973 rate of return.

Cites Pressures Facing Playboys

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Those strong, silent playboys may not have it made, after all.

A University of Georgia sociologist says two types of males he identifies as cowboys and playboys probably are prime candidates for divorce and emotional maladjustment.

Dr. Jack Balswick, in a five-year research into the "inexpressive male" syndrome, says the study shows that the strong, silent types are headed for trouble in interpersonal relationships.

He said the male personality typified by John Wayne's movie roles is characterized by a "culturally acquired male image" that declares tenderness and affection toward women to be unmanly.

Similarly, he said, the playboy's values of resourcefulness and shrewdness dictate that he "play it cool" in love relationships.

But Balswick said a crisis is developing because of increasing pressures from newspapers, soap operas and women's magazines for more open male-female relationships.

These media, he said, "are telling wives they have a right to more open communications from their husbands. More and more women expect their spouses to have the ability to share emotions, to share feelings, to say 'I love you.'"

According to Balswick, the most difficult emotions for the American man to express are love, affection, grief or elation.

Anger, hatred, rage and resentment come easier because "it's very masculine for a man to get angry," the sociologist said.

Changing patterns of behavior and the disintegration of traditional sexual stereotypes make younger men better at showing their feelings, he said.

He added, "It is part of my thesis that the inexpressive male can reform... with positive reinforcement from a loving, trusting spouse."

Set Pace In Bond Sales

Sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Pitt County during March amounted to $58,055, according to R. W. Howard, county volunteer chairman.

Howard reported that January through March sales totaled $237,978 or some 33.9 per cent of Pitt County's overall goal of $703,000.

Sales of Series E and H bonds in North Carolina during the first quarter of 1974 totaled $24,449,356, the highest first-quarter sales recorded since 1945, and five per cent more than a year ago, the chairman noted.

The first-quarter total represents 26.4 per cent of the state's 1974 dollar goal of $92,500,000. March sales were $8,353,269 or 17.9 per cent above March of 1973 with E Bond sales amounting to $8,187,269 and sales of H Bonds totaling $166,000.

Nationally, total cash sales of E and H Bonds for January through March totaled $1.87 billion, some 7.1 per cent more than a year ago.

But Balswick said a crisis is developing because of increasing pressures from newspapers, soap operas and women's magazines for more open male-female relationships.

These media, he said, "are telling wives they have a right to more open communications from their husbands. More and more women expect their spouses to have the ability to share emotions, to share feelings, to say 'I love you.'"

$200,000 Gift For Duke

DURHAM (AP) — Duke University has received a $200,000 gift from the Brown Foundation of Houston, Tex.

University president Terry Sanford said the money will be used to establish an endowed professorship in the research department of the Duke Eye Center.

The gift was part of a $162 million Duke development campaign which has now passed the $40 million mark, the university said.

Sue City Over Runway Locale

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Property owners are suing the city for $75 million on the claim that a 10,000-foot runway being built at Douglas Municipal Airport will damage their property, health and peace of mind.

The suit charges that property values near the runway already have 'dropped, and that noise from aircraft will create further loss.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets were steady Monday. Supplies irregular, demand fair to good. Weighted average prices for small lot sales of consumer grade eggs delivered in cartons nearby outlets: Grade A large whites 50.71, medium whites 44.72, small whites 38.84.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — North Carolina hogs steady to $1.00 higher today. Tops of 29.25-30.25 at Kinston and Lumberton; 28.50-29.00 Rocky Mount; 27.00-27.50 Tarboro and Bethel; 28.50 Salisbury; 29.50 Clinton, Fayetteville, Dunn, Elizabethtown, Pink Hill, Pine Level, Chadbourn, Laurinburg, Ayden and Benson.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market put together a broad technical rally in light trading today.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 6.57 at 851.45, and advancing issues outnumbered declines by about 3-4 to 2 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said there was not much in the news to account for the upswing. But they said some investors were attracted by the market's recent resistance to declines in the face of the continuing rise of interest rates and other seemingly negative influences.

Uris Buildings was the NYSE's most-active stock, up 1/2 at 14 1/2. National Kinney announced a tender offer for the 3.55 million shares of Uris it does not already own.

Motorola climbed 2 1/2 to 57 1/2. The company said it would wind up its television-set business quickly if the government blocked plans to sell the operation to Japan's Matsushita Electric.

RCA, which said the current quarter's earnings appeared to be declining because of softness in the economy, was off 3/4 at 16 3/4.

Interstate Stores fell 1/2 to 1 1/4, a 30 per cent drop. The company said the Big Board was reviewing its listing status.

Gold prices were lower again, falling in line with receding bullion prices in Europe. Homestake Mining was down 2 1/2 at 73, Dome Mines dropped 3 1/4 to 152 1/2, and ASA, Ltd., was off 2 1/2 at 74 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the volume leader was New Process Co., up 1/4 at 7 1/2.

a 350 foot strip on U.S. 17 by-pass. The request was made to permit construction of an office building for the State Crop Inspection Office. There were no public objections to the proposed rezoning.

In other actions, three programs of the Mid-East Law Enforcement Division were approved. One is to update the Law Enforcement Library and equipment, at a cost of $7,200, with Williamston's share at $120. Another is the purchase of a set of reference books at $200, with the town's share at $10.10; and the third program is one that encompasses Hertford, Bertie and Martin Counties.

Under this tri-county program, the law enforcement division will provide a full time lawyer under a three-year joint federal-state-local funding. Estimated cost for the first year is $26,350 to cover salaries for a lawyer and secretary, library and travel expenses, with 95 per cent non-local and five percent local funding. The second year would be 70 per cent non-local and 30 per cent local funding; and the third year, 25 per cent non-local and 75 per cent local funding. After three years, the program would be supported altogether from local funds.

A recommendation was approved by the board not to complete a water line project under highway U.S. 17 being worked on by In-Line Inc. of Rocky Mount. The firm, digging at a depth of 10 to 12 feet, had encountered quick sand and muck. A spokesman for the firm asked that the town furnish an additional $4,500. After hearing discussions, the board voted to discontinue the current project, calling the terms unacceptable. The board then authorized negotiations with another firm to make a new attempt to take the water line under the highway at a new location. Estimated cost will be about $6,800.

Authority will begin moving in families shortly after the inspections are completed. He added that rough grading of the grounds on both sides of the street has been finished and top soil will be brought in now to bring the area up to a finished grade.

The commissioners authorized travel payment for one staff member and one commissioner to the annual convention of the Southeast Regional Council of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials set for June 30-July 3 in Atlanta, Ga.

Elected Member Of Honor Soc.

William Hayden Higgins of Greenville, a senior at Davidson College, has been elected a member of Omicron Delta Epsilon, the national honor society in economics.

He is one of 18 Davidson students to be installed during the Davidson chapter's annual banquet on campus May 7.

The objectives of Omicron Delta Epsilon, established on more than 250 North American campuses, are "the recognition of scholastic attainment, the establishment of closer ties between students and faculty in the same school and with their counterparts on other campuses, and the publication of an official journal, The American Economist."

Higgins is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Higgins of 214 Churchill Dr.

Approve Martin School Outlays

WILLIAMSTON—Martin County Commissioners at their May meeting on Monday approved a Board of Education schedule for expending $1,775,000 in bond money for school construction estimated to be completed by October.

In another action, commissioners approved a request by Martin Technical Institute to the State Board of Education seeking community college status for the institute.

The Welfare Department was given approval to hire additional eligibility specialists for a one month period to help the department catch up with a backlog of work.

Action to black top State Road 1535, the Stancil Hardison Road, was recommended for approval and will be submitted to the State Highway Department for consideration.

In final action, commissioners approved a first year grant for a reference library and for a training program in the sheriff's office.

Elected To Student Post

RALEIGH—Brenda Bullock of Stokes has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Peace Student Christian Association for 1974-75.

A rising sophomore at the Raleigh college for women, Miss Bullock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Bullock of Stokes.

Miss Bullock is a dean's list student at Peace.
