WHERE ARABS STRUCK—Map locates Maalot Moshave, Israel, where a band of guerrillas took over a school and are holding at least 90 teenagers captive.

By MARCUS ELIASON Associated Press Writer MAALOT, Israel (AP) — Israeli troops shot their way into a school today where three Arab terrorists were holding about 85 teen-agers hostage and a witness said the soldiers had taken control.

government freed 20 jailed terrorists. The government agreed to meet this demand earlier in the day. The troops burst into the school less than half an hour before the deadline.

Releasing the guerrilla prisoners in exchange for the youngsters would be the first time Israel had ever succumbed to a terrorist life-or-death demand.

The gunmen had asked for Herly to negotiate with them, and the diplomat flew by helicopter 90 miles from Tel Aviv to Maalot, five miles south of the Lebanese border.

Vote To Subpoena 11 Nixon Tapes

Repercussion

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Arab terrorist seizure of some 90 teen-agers in a northern Israeli school and its repercussions here caused Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to cancel a scheduled flight to Damascus today.

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today voted 37 to 1 to subpoena the tapes of 11 presidential conversations for its impeachment inquiry.

Unhappy Over Telephone Pact

TARBORO N.C. (AP)—Representatives of union and management of the Carolina Telephone Company have agreed on a new three-year contract, but it appeared that officials of the Communications Workers of America might have difficulty in selling the pact to its membership.

This became evident when the President of CWA Local 3680 was shouted down as he sought to explain details of the contract to a meeting of the local Tuesday night in the Cumberland County Courthouse at Fayetteville.

Those attending the Fayetteville meeting appeared satisfied with the wage increase, but expressed disappointment that a cost of living clause—to increase wages automatically as living costs rose—was not included.

Those attending the Fayetteville meeting expressed dissatisfaction when they were told the meeting was to consider the contract and not to vote on a strike.

The committee also was considering issuing a second subpoena demanding President Nixon's daily diaries for 8½ months in 1972 and 1973.

All of those conversations, as well as the 11 dealing with the Watergate break-in and cover-up were requested by the committee in a letter delivered to the White House on April 19.

The subpoenas — one for the conversations, the other for the diaries — would require a response by 10 a.m. on May 22.

Utilities Process Gas Rate Schedule Planned

By ALVIN TAYLOR Reflector Managing Editor Utilities Commissioners authorized development of a rate schedule for process gas and approved extension of water and sewer mains to Meadowbrook Housing Project, Section II, Tuesday night.

Director Charles Horne reported that a new operation in the rear of the warehouse requires sanitary sewer, but to provide a second tap the $6,500 expenditure for sewer in the street would be necessary.

Proposed Trade Center At ECU Is Reportedly Already Under Study

By STUART SAVAGE Reflector Staff Writer Steps have already been taken to discover what would be involved in the creation of a World Trade Center at East Carolina University, Chancellor Leo W. Jenkins said this morning.

state's businesses and agriculture. "I think Gov. Scott spelled out an idea that must be pursued vigorously," Dr. Jenkins said today.

"I plan to meet this afternoon with the chairman of our Board of Trustees, Robert Jones, to discuss the proposal," Jenkins concluded.

Tom Willis, director of the ECU Regional Development Institute said he finds the thought of a world trade center at ECU, "an exciting idea."

Consider Rebozo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee was reported by sources today to be considering possible contempt of Congress action against President Nixon's close friend, Florida banker C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

One source close to the committee said the panel would be asked to vote contempt against Rebozo for his alleged refusal to comply with a wide-ranging subpoena demanding production of personal and financial records.

A high-ranking committee staff official said, however, that it is more likely the committee will decide at a meeting today to give Rebozo one more chance to comply with the subpoena and purge himself of possible contempt.

The committee was reported also considering delaying its final report for up to one month and to eliminate all finding of individual guilt or innocence, on the advice of its chairman Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

ZEBRA 14—WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Recently while driving in Greenville, I saw a car with a sticker reading Zebra-14. I was concerned if this had any connection with the Zebra killings in California, especially since the total had been 13.

Zebra-14 is the designation of a State Department of Transportation car, which is equipped with radio. Zebra is part of the phonetic alphabet used to easily distinguish between spoken letters—so Z won't sound like C, for instance.

A GREENVILLE YMCA?

I feel there is a need for and an interest in having an access to a recreation facility for the average citizen in Greenville such as a YMCA. I would like to know how a YMCA could be established here. T. S.

Earl Armstrong, director of the Southeast Region YMCAs in Charlotte can give you all of the information you need to get things rolling. Hotline talked with Armstrong, who indicated you should first get 15 to 25 of the top citizens in the community interested, people who have the reputation for getting things done.

SUDDEN NARROWING OF STREET

I would like to know why the first block of E. Fourteenth Street (next to Brown-Wood Pontiac Company) is going to be about three feet or so narrower than the rest of the street once the widening is completed in the Newtown project along this street.

City Manager Bill Carstarphen said you have sized up the situation correctly.

"I believe the block that ends at the Dickinson Avenue intersection is as wide as it can be according to the existing right of way. Whether additional acquisition of land can be made to widen the street at some later date, I do not know at the present time."

Miss Treasa Rhodes Weds Female Labor Leader Says Women Are On Move

On Saturday Afternoon

The marriage of Miss Treasa Ann Rhodes and Robert Dunn Whitley was solemnized Saturday at 2:00 p.m. in the Memorial Baptist Church. The Rev. Norman Bennett and the Rev. Gordon Conklin officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was centered with a fifteen branch crescent candelabra with an arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pom poms. On either side was a fifteen branch spiral candelabra each holding a matching arrangement. The scene was completed by a white prie-dieu where the bridal couple knelt for the benediction. Family pews were marked with long-stemmed white mums, baker's fern and ribbons.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson C. Rhodes of Greenville, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal length gown of white organza designed with a portrait neckline trimmed in a ruffle of rosepoint chantilly lace beaded with pearls. The modified empire waistline featured appliques of the chantilly lace beaded with pearls. The long fitted lace sleeves were styled with ruffled lace cuffs. Beaded appliques of lace trimmed the full skirt with a deep ruffle flounce of organza overlaid with a border of chantilly lace extending around the hemline and attached chapel train.

She wore a fingertip illusion veil edged in rosepoint chantilly lace attached to a profile headpiece of chantilly lace petals beaded with pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses, fuji mums, lily-of-the-valley, miniature carnations and greenery with white ribbon streamers tied in love knots.

Miss Becky Rhodes of Greenville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a formal length gown of carnation organza over taffeta featuring self-ruffles outlining the deep V-neckline. Organza flared ruffles also edged the long sheer fitted sleeves. The gathered skirt extended from the slightly raised waistline with a deep ruffled flounce of organza edging the hemline. She wore a matching garden hat of ruffled straw and carried a bouquet of pink butterfly roses, pom poms mums, daisies and baby's breath with contrasting pink ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Thomas of Greenville and Miss Lori Hardee of Winston-Salem. They wore gowns styled identical to that of the honor attendant in pink organza with matching pink ruffled straw hats.

Miss Laura Scharf of Greenville was flower girl. She wore a formal length dress of light pink lawn with a lace trimmed bodice and lace edging on the sleeves. She carried a straw basket filled with pink sweetheart roses, daisies and pom poms mums with pink ribbon streamers. She wore pink and white daisies in her hair.

The father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Richard Cobb of Rocky Mount, Donald Britton of Jacksonville and Randy Batts of Greenville. William Rhodes of Greenville, brother of the bride was junior usher and Steve Rhodes of Greenville, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Joe Goodwin, organist, and Mrs. Douglas Ray, soloist.

The mother of the bride wore a formal dress of coral chiffon over peau de soie with a cowl neckline. The mother of the bridegroom wore a formal gown and both mothers wore corsages of pink sweetheart roses. The grandmothers of the couple wore corsages of white pom poms mums.

The couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride is a graduate of Rose High School, attended ECU and graduated from Pitt Technical Institute as a licensed practical nurse. The bridegroom is a graduate of Rose High School, attended ECU and is employed by A. B. Whitley Co., Inc.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

Mrs. A. T. Cronenbert, aunt of the bridegroom, said good-byes. Miss Robbie Cobb presided at the guest book.

Mrs. Raphael Scharf poured punch and Mrs. Ruby Beard, aunt of the bride served cake.

A breakfast for out-of-town guests and relatives was held at the Ramada Inn Saturday morning. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cronenbert, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cobb, Mrs. G. M. Schorb, Mr. and Mrs. Hoy J. Cobb.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the bridegroom at the Brook Valley Country Club.

25th Reunion Held Saturday Night By Class

The Belvoir Class of 1949 held its 25th reunion at the Ramada Inn Saturday night.

Jane Anderson greeted guests and distributed name scrolls. Beatrice Little and Hilda Holland invited members to the memento table.

After the social hour, Juanita Lewis, toastmistress, gave the welcome and Joseph Whitehurst said the invocation. Jane Anderson called the roll, having each member give a brief summary of their life over the past 25 years. Beatrice Little read the class history and Hilda Holland gave the class prophecy.

Gifts were presented to the following: Janet Forvendel of Winston-Salem, furthest travel; Norman Pollard, most children; Willard Gurganus, most grandchildren; and Edna Corbett, fulfillment of the class prophecy.

Class members voted to have another reunion in five years.

Those attending were: Juanita Dickerson Lewis and husband, Charles; Jane Clark Anderson and Lynden; Beatrice Coggins Little and Thomas; Hilda Allen Holland and Edward; Mattie Harrell Bullock and James Robert; Norman Pollard and wife, Grace; Myrtle Briley Fleming and Bobby, all of Greenville; Edna Corbett, Smithfield; Janet Parker Forvendel and Hank, Winston-Salem; Willard Gurganus and Adelene, Washington; Earline Stocks Butts and Norman; Ray Forrest and wife, Mavis; Irene Pollard Walston and Robert, all of Tarboro; leader is emerging in the country and Barbara Berger is part of it.

Joseph Whitehurst and Joan, Snow Hill; Linwood Peaden and Joyce, Falkland; Thomas Stokes and Jean, Virginia; Bennie Cullipher and Joyce, Norfolk, Va.

Far from the stereotyped image of the cigar-chomping, slick talking union organizer, Mrs. Berger is a pleasant, soft-spoken woman in her 30s, a housewife, mother of two teenage children, who loves to cook and looks as though she'd be more at home at the PTA than at contract negotiations.

But she's helped negotiate four of them successfully for Local 1038, United Auto Workers, at the Woodbridge Ronson lighter plant, and is the only woman UAW leader in New Jersey.

UAW membership in the state numbers 50,000. There are 28 locals.

Recently she attended a conference in Chicago and was elected one of four representatives for the UAW on the national coordinating committee of the Coalition of Labor Union Women.

She's on the labor-management board at Middlesex County College, a member of the UAW speakers' bureau, and chairman of the women's council for Region 9 of the UAW (which covers New Jersey, Pennsylvania and part of New York.)

A woman of quiet determination, she thoroughly enjoys her job as a working president of Local 1038. She's seen substantial progress over the year: an hourly wage that has increased from $1.58 in 1962 to $3.50 now; increased vacation time; a drug plan whereby employees have help in purchasing medical prescriptions; and retroactive pension credits, to name a few of the benefits won. And she's happy as a mother when she finds a lost chick when she sees a union member, who hasn't shown up for a long time, appear at a meeting.

"That makes me feel good," she says with a grin. Like many another organizer she wrestles with the problem of getting good attendance at meetings. The best way, she says, is to set up committees and get as many as possible to take part. "Where a person's bread and butter is concerned they'd better be active," she contends.

She first found herself interested in union activities back in 1962 when she went to the shop steward with a complaint and when she didn't agree with the way it was resolved, he told her to go to the union.

She did, and she's been part of it ever since.

She's worked as a machine operator, a line operator and in quality control at Ronson. Now in her post as a working president she can take time off from her job for union business "for which the local reimburses me," she explains.

She doesn't hesitate to separate the wheat from the chaff either. She makes it very clear that she doesn't believe in "tokenism jobs."

"Anyone who makes a place in the labor movement should be qualified to do the job, not put there just to have a female on the staff. Token jobs are out," she says emphatically.

"The UAW is beginning to realize that ability counts... I believe there's a change in the trend of thought."

Shower Given Miss Hines

Miss Donna Kay Hines, bride-elect, was honored at a shower-tea Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wayne Hooks and her daughter, Rhonda, in Fremont.

Hostesses were Miss Rhonda King, Miss Elaine Evans of Clinton, and Mrs. Patricia Basden of Dudley, all bridesmaids for Miss Hines.

A yellow, green, and white color scheme was carried out in the floral arrangement of yellow snap dragons, white pom poms, fern, and baby's breath.

The gift table was decorated with a large white parasole covered with yellow and white ribbons and streamers.

Miss Hines was presented a green cymbidium orchid corsage. Friends and relatives of the bride attended from Wilson and Greenville.

Bride-Elect Entertained

FARMVILLE—Miss Jackie Hedgepeth, bride-elect of Steve Boswell, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday night at the Marlboro Free Will Baptist memorial hall. Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Frances Hedgepeth, Mrs. Sue Hedgepeth, and Mrs. Drew Walston.

For the occasion, the honoree was attired in a navy and white long dress. Upon arrival, she was presented a corsage of white pom pons.

The mother of the honoree, Mrs. Stella Hedgepeth, and the mother of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Gloria Boswell, were presented a corsage of pom pons matching those worn by the hostesses.

Guests were greeted by Sue Hedgepeth and invited into the fellowship hall. After the guests were introduced, games for the evening were directed by Drew Walston.

After gifts were opened, they were displayed on a table with a lace trimmed cloth and a bridal bouquet in the center.

A white linen cloth, trimmed in lace, was used to cover the refreshment table, centered with a centerpiece of white pom pons interspersed with baby's breath and silver candelabra on each side. Mrs. Boswell served bridal cakes and Mrs. Hedgepeth poured punch.

Good-byes were said by Frances Hedgepeth.

Their Decision Was 'To Go'

By MARTIN CRUTSINGER

Associated Press Writer TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)

— Lt. Gov. Tom Adams' wife doesn't think her husband will lose one vote in his bid for the governor's mansion because of the 33-year difference in the couple's ages or his divorce.

"I have been traveling all over the state with Tom and I think I have been received excellently as his wife," says Fran Adams, 24.

"The divorce or our marriage hasn't had any impact. I haven't felt any resentment from anybody although I was expecting to receive some."

Adams, 57, is pinning his hopes to unseat Gov. Reubin Askew on conservatives including supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

If those same persons were upset by his remarriage last September after his first marriage of 33 years ended in divorce earlier in the year, Mrs. Adams hasn't seen any trace.

"I don't think that issue is relevant to the people he appeals to. He appeals to people who are dissatisfied with the present administration," she says.

For Mrs. Adams, until recently a registered Republican, the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination is her political baptism.

"It's all new to me and a little frightening," she says. "I was never involved in politics before I married Tom, but I like meeting people so it's been fun."

Mrs. Adams, a native of Wilson, N.C., says she and her husband have been traveling around Florida since January when Adams indicated he would run for secretary of state.

"Being from North Carolina, I hadn't seen a lot of state," she said. "I have now, although it would be more fun to see it at a little slower pace."

Mrs. Adams says she didn't try to urge her husband one way or the other on whether to run for governor.

"We talked over the pros and cons, but when it came time to make a decision, we both agreed with the answer. It was all go," she said.

The petite blonde, who met her husband when he made a trip to Colombia where she was working in the Peace Corps, says she would enjoy being the first lady of Florida although she doesn't fit into the typical stereotype.

"My hair is straight and stringy, I very rarely wear make up and I like loose comfortable clothes," she said. "I certainly don't fit the image of the immaculately dressed, all manicured first lady."

Dog's Life For All In Gas Crisis

BLACKBURN, England (WNS)—Traffic cops spotted Terri Maze's car on the town's main street and were surprised to see that a leashed Great Dane was bounding alongside it. "I like a midnight drive, and my dog likes a midnight run," Miss Maze told the police. She refused to take her pet, Duke, into the car "because he gets sick all over the back seat." In court, Miss Maze was fined $150 and lost her driver's licence for a year. "Now we are both walking," said the Englishwoman. "Duke is very happy about it all. During the gas crisis, it's a dog's life for everybody."

She Asks: Be Kind Now While He's Living

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Someone I love has had a terminal illness for the last 15 months. His physical appearance is heart-breaking. He is skin and bones, totally helpless, and can't even scratch his own nose. He can't speak, but his mentality is not affected. He still recognizes everyone and understands what he sees on TV.

His friends, understandably, cannot bear to see this once handsome, 200-pound man in this condition, so they just stay away. The few who continue to come are warmly received. He lets them know with his eyes how much he appreciates their visit even though he can't speak.

When he dies, everyone will rush over with food, flowers, and offers to "do" whatever they can. Please tell them, Abby, he needs them now—not later. People stay away because it's easier. They justify their staying away with the thinnest of excuses. Tell them, Abby, they are making a terrible mistake. I know because that's the way I reacted to anyone who was terminally ill. It's all coming home to me now.

SADDER BUT WISER IN KANSAS

DEAR SADDER: Not everyone in this tragic position wants visitors. [Some emphatically do not.] Friends should try to find out what the situation is in each case, and act accordingly—if indeed they are able to.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I call my husband at work his boss answers the phone and says: "He went across the street to the bar for a little while."

Abby, I know my husband would never go to a bar at 10 o'clock in the morning, but that's the answer I always get.

I found out that the boss tells this to all the wives who call and ask to talk to their husbands. Worse yet, if a husband calls and asks for his wife, he gets the same smart alecky answer. Can you imagine how many fights are started between married couples over this?

Do you think the boss takes pleasure in stirring up trouble between husbands and wives? Or is he trying to be funny? Print this—he might see it and cut it out.

NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: I suspect that what the boss would like to "cut out" is a lot of unnecessary telephone calls to his employees. [There ought to be a better way to do it, however.]

DEAR ABBY: Permit me to add a note to that of "Loaded," who thinks it is wasteful that we are buried or cremated with the gold in our mouths.

Several years ago my dentist, who is also a personal friend, after installing several gold bridges, a couple of gold crowns, plus gold inlays and fillings, turned to my wife and said: "When he dies, call me before you call the undertaker. I'll come over and knock the gold out of his teeth—that will help pay for part of the funeral." Thoughtful? At today's gold prices it would probably pay for the entire funeral.

I am sure "Loaded" can make this arrangement with a dentist if desired.

Sound Basis For Cooperation

Last week the UNC Board of Governors authorized President William Friday to instruct Dr. Leo Jenkins to proceed with the planning for a second year of medical training at East Carolina University.

The action was taken in a unanimously adopted resolution which said the planning should look "toward accreditation of the two-year program at East Carolina University with appropriate transfer arrangements to the School of Medicine at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill."

The action seems to signal real movement toward developing the second year of medical education at ECU and establishing a firm and permanent program.

It followed the legislative action of this year which set up a $15 million fund for construction of a medical sciences building at ECU and called for a definite plan of development to be submitted to the 1975 Legislature.

The board of governors, as its spokesmen said it would, has accepted the directive of the Legislature. The UNC administration has acted with wisdom in placing the responsibility for development of the two-year program in the hands of the ECU chancellor and, ultimately, in the ECU Division of Health Affairs.

While the two year program is being developed, the present one year program will continue to be accredited through the Chapel Hill school. As the ECU school is developed, it will be seeking accreditation on its own, but there will still have to be a large measure of cooperation between the Chapel Hill School and the ECU School since the ECU students will be transferring to Chapel Hill.

There is every reason to believe that the fighting is over in the ECU medical school struggle. We think the board of governors and the administration at Chapel Hill will firm their position by bringing about cooperation between these two institutions, both of which are under the board's control.

ECU leaders will have their hands full for some time in developing the two-year curriculum and planning the medical sciences building in Greenville, which the Legislature has authorized.

There can be an era of development and harmony ahead for both the Chapel Hill and the ECU medical schools and we think the basis for cooperation that can bring this about is now available.

A Barrier To Communicating

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—The stony barrier of noncommunication between the White House and Republican leaders in Congress, an important ingredient in the Watergate tragedy, was raised high last week against an eleventh-hour effort to confront President Nixon with reality.

Rep. John Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican conference, wanted to discuss the brutal facts of life at Thursday's White House meeting between Republican leaders and Mr. Nixon. Anderson's proposal: inform the President that his denial of additional tapes to the special prosecutor and the House Judiciary Committee had no Republican backing and could only end in his destruction.

But no other Republican leader backed Anderson even though most agreed with his sentiments. They took the position that the President alone should set the agenda for White House meetings—a view held particularly strongly by Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Having "fired the gun that started the Republican stampede against the President" (in the words of one bitter White House aide), Scott wanted no embarrassing personal encounter with Mr. Nixon. The result was a surrealistic morning in the Oval Office. Nobody mentioned the nation's great political crisis. Although Mr. Nixon in private has raged at Scott for his lethal criticism of the White House transcripts, the two men sat side-by-side politely through a dreary economic briefing.

Anderson feels Watergate might well have been avoided had Mr. Nixon taken Republican leaders into his confidence. But for their part, the leaders' reluctance to confront the President indicates noncommunication is a two-way street. Both sides can share the blame.

Mideast Pitfall

While Secretary of State Henry Kissinger strives for an Arab-Israeli settlement, a move is gathering force in the Senate to make American aid to Egypt dependent on Cairo's opening the Suez Canal to all nations equally—meaning Israel.

If such an amendment actually denied future U. S. aid to Egypt unless Cairo pledged to permit Israeli flagships to transverse the canal, Egypt would never agree. That could sour the Washington-Cairo romance. Even talk of such an amendment (now actively considered by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and others) chills the State Department.

West was not "unpaid" but on the payroll of the Republican National Committee and was assigned to the White House after Mr. Nixon's inauguration. He was not "fired" in March 1969 but resigned in June. His former boss, national committee political education director Ray Humphreys, described him to us as a "resourceful, energetic, ambitious young leader" of the type needed to rebuild the shattered Republican party.

Flemming's attack was one more example of the politics of vengeance played by White House insiders against Actually, Israel has privately told the U. S. it will accept Egyptian agreement to permit Israeli cargoes (but not Israeli flagships) through the canal. Egyptian president Anwar Sadat has given private assurances of that.

But if the strongly pro-Israel Congress attached an amendment demanding free passage for Israeli flagships, the powerful pro-Israeli lobby here would scarcely oppose it. To the contrary, whatever private agreements Israel has made with Kissinger, a strong vote in Congress for Ribicoff's proposal would be viewed in Israel as a major gain in the high-stakes politics reaching a climax in the Middle East.

White House Revenge

Vindictive politics of the Nixon White House surfaced again in a gratuitous, grossly inaccurate attack by ex-White House personnel chief Harry Flemming on a young Republican candidate for Congress who committed the cardinal sin of not being blindly loyal to the President.

John Robinson West quit in disgust in mid-1969 after several months as a minor White House aide. Returning to Pennsylvania, West began preparing a Republican political career. Two weeks ago, West at age 27 was frontrunner (leading the regular organization candidate) in the Republican primary election for a congressional seat from Philadelphia's Republican suburbs.

But West's position was undermined when Flemming attacked him as a "walking disaster...who was all out for glory and self-aggrandizement" in Washington. Flemming told the Philadelphia Inquirer that West held "an unpaid position" and did nothing at the White House.

Politicians here were amazed that Flemming, a political protege of John Mitchell, would interfere in a Republican primary election. Far more serious, Flemming's veiled assault was based on wholesale errors of fact.

West was not "unpaid" but on the payroll of the Republican National Committee and was assigned to the White House after Mr. Nixon's inauguration. He was not "fired" in March 1969 but resigned in June. off. So they gave it to me and I cast it into the fire, and there came forth this calf." Not a word about the graving tool or the mold; not a syllable about the elaborate preparations that had been made and the new altar built.

While Moses was on Mt. Sinai receiving the law of God, his brother, Aaron, in the camp at the foot of the mountain, allowed malcontents to talk him into forsaking his religion. He agreed to the making of a golden calf, to be set up for worship.

When Moses returned and witnessed the worship of the calf, he was furious, and called Aaron to account. Aaron's lame explanation was, "I said, whosoever hath any gold, let them break it and, therefore, cannot be ruled out.

It is July 1, 1974. Gen. Al Haig comes into the Oval Office.

"Here are the latest Gallup and Harris polls. Only 2 percent of the people in the United States still believe you've told the whole story about Watergate. What really bothers me though is that there are no more 'undecideds.'"

"That does it," the President says. "Let's implement Operation Bananan Republic."

"You mean the 82nd Airborne Division?"

"Get them up here by tonight. You have the plans. I want them to take over the Capitol, the Supreme Court, the Washington Post and all three television networks. I will make a speech tonight explaining what I've done."

"Yes, sir."

The President goes on television that night and says, "My fellow Americans, what I have to tell you tonight is of utmost importance to each and every one of you. Because of recent events including character assassination, lies, distortions and vindictiveness by the media, the Congress and my own Vice President, I have had to take action tonight which some of you may feel is extreme."

"I have promised you ever since the attacks on me that no matter what happened I would finish my term of office as President of the United States. Because of recent events I have decided the only way I can stay in office is by a military takeover of the government. It isn't an easy decision I make tonight. There are some, and they have a right to their opinion, who say that this is a violation of the Constitution. But I have been assured by my own Jesuit priest, Dr. McLaughlin, that what I am doing is not only legal but necessary, if I intend to complete my term of office."

"I would like to end tonight, my fellow Americans, on a personal note. If you don't like what I'm doing, you can lump it."

Up to now it has been a dismal prospect when the housewife went to the food store; to her it seems the prices had been going one way—up.

There seemingly should be some relief in a report issued by the Agriculture Department recently which said that retail food prices should begin leveling off by July and may drop slightly during the last three months of the year.

According to the Labor Department, sharp declines in farm and food prices slowed the rise in wholesale prices in April to its slowest rate in six months.

The Labor Department said wholesale prices increased seven-tenths of one per cent seasonally adjusted and five-tenths of one per cent unadjusted.

The increase was still high by normal standards but considerably below increases recorded since last November.

But, alas, these reports may not help the housewife too much. For despite the slowdown in farm and food prices, there was no hint that the inflationary surge was abating. It hasn't been reflected in retail food prices. Maybe by July...

Anyway, the Agriculture Department admits that retail food prices for 1974 will average 12 per cent above the average price in 1973.

By now, the consumer simply hopes the rate won't go any higher. Coping with current price levels in almost any market, whether food or screwdrivers, has about reached its limit for the average buyer who sees his dollar get smaller and smaller.

But, the government says, "most of this year's price increases (for food) may have already occurred" with the sharp 4.5 per cent increase in prices during the first three months of this year. The government also said that Americans are expected to be eating more this year, after a consumption decline of 1.5 per cent in 1973.

A warning: The prediction for 12 per cent increase in average prices over 1973 could be swung either way by world weather and economic conditions.

Not much comfort there. The average American has conditioned himself, it seems in recent years, not to expect too much in the way of economic progress. At least there has been little basis for any false optimism.

Eyes On Commodities Market

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer CHICAGO (AP) — Two years ago, Leo Melamed was worrying about the fate of anchovies off the coast of Peru.

Melamed, a commodities broker, knew that the anchovies provided the basis for fish meal used as animal feed in many parts of the world.

He also knew that if there wasn't enough fish meal, people would turn to soybean meal. And that would mean higher prices for soybeans.

When Melamed first started studying the anchovy situation, most Americans couldn't have cared less what happened to soybeans and wheat. Or corn. That was something for the farmers to worry about.

Since then, however, there has indeed been a shortage of anchovies and Americans have learned that the price of soybeans and other commodities is directly responsible for the price of hamburger, bread, eggs and all the other foods that wind up on the dinner table.

The commodities markets, which most people used to think of as the sole concern of stock brokers, farmers and food producers, have come into the spotlight.

Legislation is pending in Congress that would set up a new agency to oversee the $500-billion-a-year commodity business. Some traders say the new agency is not needed; they claim that the Commodities Exchange Authority of the Department of Agriculture can police the business. Other traders admit that there are abuses and say there is a need for more regulation.

Commodities traders deal in something called futures. Futures are contracts that call for delivery at a later date of a particular product. A May future, for example, calls for delivery of a specified amount of a commodity in May. Actually, the traders are buying and selling promises.

Here's how it works. Suppose the price of wheat is now $5 a bushel. I think the price is going to go up; you think it's going down.

I want to buy wheat now to sell at a profit later; you want to sell wheat now and buy it back at a lower price in the future.

Neither of us owns any wheat. Neither of us wants to own any wheat. We're not farmers or millers. We're insurance men or doctors or lawyers or stock brokers. We simply want to make money. Let's assume it's April. I

Big Oil Taxes Talked

BY CARL C. CRAFT Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)

House Democrats are ready for a showdown on proposals that would swiftly boost oil industry taxes by several billion dollars. The Democrats were called today to a special caucus to act on resolutions urging the House Rules Committee to let the House vote on the amendments advocated by Reps. William J. Green, D-Pa., and Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio.

Green and Vanik, members of the Ways and Means Committee, are unhappy with that panel's version of oil tax reform legislation. They challenged Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., when he decided to seek from the Rules Committee a rule forbidding amendments.

So Green and Vanik petitioned for the Democratic caucus in an attempt to bind the Democratic majority of the Rules Committee to allow House consideration of their amendments.

Oil-state members of the Ways and Means Committee headed opposition to the panel's bill. Furthermore, three of 10 Democrats on the Rules Committee are from oil states.

The Ways and Means Committee's bill would hike petroleum industry taxes by about $13 billion to $14 billion over six years. It would phase out a major oil industry tax break—the oil depletion allowance—by 1979 and would impose a temporary new excise tax on windfall profits earned by the industry during the energy shortage.

However, the new windfall levy is linked with a provision eventually giving oilmen a way to escape paying much of this new tax by plowing profits back into the search for oil. The bill also would toughen tax treatment of oil company income from foreign sources.

The depletion allowance saves oilmen $2 billion to $3 billion a year in federal taxes. It permits 22 per cent of gross income from oil and natural gas

Approximately $320,000 has been paid out by the government to tobacco farmers of this county who have participated in the acreage reduction campaign, it was announced today by E. F. Arnold, director of the local farm office.

Although the last batch of checks has been paid out, Arnold said that around 500 benefits and 250 rental checks remain to be received.

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Eastern Carolina Association, Inc., C. W. Howard, prominent Greenville tobaccoist, was elected president to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. R. H. Wright, who died several weeks ago.

Howard is president of the Greenville Tobacco Company and is prominent in business circles here.

He has been active in the work of the association since its organization sometime ago, and it was believed his executive ability would help him carry out the organization's programs.

Garbage Knows No Geography

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—When it comes to garbage—how to get rid of it without smelling up the countryside—political and geographical boundaries simply don't exist.

City and county governments, and industrial operators, have quickly found that out as growing industrial emphasis and the sprawl of people to suburbs outside the cities made disposal of solid waste a critical concern.

Driving around North Carolina, increasingly, one came face to face with the stink of burning garbage dumps, and the visual assault of open disposal operations. But in just four short years, local communities and the state's Division of Health Services have been able to turn the situation around.

Burning Ends

Effective in July this year, all burning of solid waste matter must come to an end. That law took effect in March, 1971, and state officials today say candidly that "very few of us in the state agencies or even at city and county levels expected to reach that point without great difficulty. Yet we are proud to say that most likely we will meet this deadline."

The once common sight of openly smoldering garbage dumps has faded rapidly. So far, 125 new sanitary landfill sites have been approved across the state, with a total of 160 expected by July.

Today, says O. W. (Bill) Strickland, assistant director of the solid waste operation at health services, it takes a lot of driving and looking to find a burning dump in North Carolina.

His boss, Sidney Usry, points to some figures to show the dramatic change in the Tar Heel landscape: in 1971 almost every incorporated town in the state took responsibility for disposing of trash, refuse and industrial waste within the city—fewer than half a dozen county governments accepted any responsibility for solid waste disposal.

At present, between 75 and 80 county governments have taken complete charge of solid waste disposal as a county responsibility and fewer than 36 cities remain in the waste disposal business.

All of this represents a total investment by counties and other local units of more than $20 million for land and equipment to build sanitary landfills; providing 5,000 acres of land with a life span of 10 years into the future.

So effective is the North Carolina effort that a locally produced film called "There Is A Way" has been sold to cities across the nation.

What is at the bottom of this shift of responsibility to county governments?

Cooperation

Usry and Strickland credit three major things: cooperation between city and county governments; the "amazing" voluntary compliance of local communities to new state regulations; and the proof that sanitary landfills are much better than the burning dumps.

Four years ago, there were few rules on waste disposal in the state, with the cities taking responsibility, some private firms collecting waste in rural areas, and the county saying they had no problem—the cities did.

But state officials pointed out the problems, and local county governments soon learned that local industries outside cities faced a growing disposal problem—and might be forced to move in some cases.

The trend now is toward county owned and operated landfills, with cities and others paying fees to use them.

Even regional solid waste disposal—cutting across county lines—is now coming into view, with Chowan and Perquimans counties down east and Yancey and Mitchell counties in the west using one disposal site for the two counties adjoining.

Strickland said the measure of success in such a short time results from a hard selling job at levels of government, and adds: "I guess you could say we have tried to spread the word as to why we must leave the dump concept and move to sanitary landfills...talking blunt economics and health conditions."

Showdown For Poker Players

By PATRICK ARNOLD

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)
When the likes of W.C. "Puggy Wuggy" Pearson, Thomas "Amarillo Slim" Preston and "Iron Man" Smith sit down for a friendly little game, you can bet it's not friendly and it's not little.

Pearson, Preston and the mysterious Smith—he won't give his real name or say where he's from—will join another nine or 10 professional gamblers tonight in a game of "hold 'em." The game is a form of stud poker that's the featured attraction at the fifth annual world series of poker.

The winner will walk away with $10,000 from each of the dozen or so card sharps playing. Pearson, last year's winner, netted a record $165,000, $120,000 of it from the hold 'em game. Preston won the year before and earned a tidy $60,000.

Hold 'em is a form of 7-card stud in which each player is dealt two cards face down and the rest of the hand is played with a communal set of cards dealt face up in the middle of the table. The game continues until one player has all the money, with breaks only for eating and sleeping.

Pearson has been a professional gambler for more than 20 years. He thinks he's had a great life, but wouldn't recommend it to anyone else.

He failed to win any of the preliminary games last week and complained that he's been "a little bit off" in recent months.

"I don't know whether I'd say I'm feeling confident or not," said the 46-year-old self-described hustler. "I have to say that at this stage I'm not feeling too confident."

property to be deducted from taxable income up to a top of 50 per cent of taxable net income. The committee boosted the 50 per cent to 100 per cent, and decided to keep the allowance for most natural gas.

Green's amendment would end the allowance for both oil and gas on Jan. 1, 1974. He said this would increase industry taxes by nearly $2 billion this year on profits of $9 billion.

Vanik said his amendment also would produce an additional $2 billion per year for the Treasury. The driller of a well now can charge off as a current expense most of the cost, instead of treating the well as a capital asset to be depreciated over years. Vanik would end this expense treatment of so-called intangible costs on foreign oil and gas wells effective Jan. 1, 1974.

"Nobody believes that you've taken over the government."

"How can they not believe it? Isn't the 82nd Airborne all over the city?"

"No one is impressed. We did an overnight poll and it turns out your credibility is so low that the people don't even buy it when you say you're taking over the government by force."

"But they've got to believe me," the President says angrily. "Don't they know I've arrested Congress?"

"I'm sorry, sir. It won't work. You can't have a military takeover if the people aren't convinced that you've done it. Everyone we've talked to says it's just one more way of you trying to cover up your involvement with Watergate."

Nixon hits his desk with his hand. "It's typical of my enemies. They won't even let me have a military coup. What do I do Now?"

Haig hands the President a sheet of paper, and says:

"We have no choice."

"This says I'm going to resign because I can't govern effectively any more?"

"That," says Haig, "people will believe."

The two major commodities exchanges in the United States are the Chicago Board of Trade and the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. # Strep Vaccine Said Developed

By C. G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Medical researchers have developed a spray vaccine against "strep throat" that they say can lead to a reduction in the serious diseases that children sometimes contract afterwards.

The vaccine, which can be sprayed in the throat, was developed by Dr. Eugene N. Fox, a microbiologist at La Rabida Children's Hospital and the University of Chicago, with colleagues at the university and the University of Florida, Gainesville.

"Strep throat" is relatively mild. But the vaccine is considered important because it can lead to a reduction in rheumatic heart, kidney and other serious diseases which sometimes follow streptococcal infections in children.

Fox and his coworkers told a news conference Tuesday at the annual meeting of the American Society for Microbiology that the vaccine was effective in immunizing human volunteers against streptococcus Group A infections, the ones which sometimes lead to serious complications.

He had first reported success with the vaccine in experimental animals in 1966.

Fox said the spray vaccine also prevents colonization of the bacterium in the throat, which can lead to later infection or result in spread of the illness to others.

The vaccine is made from a portion of the cell wall of the micro-organism which causes the disease.

It was tested on 21 men and women aged 18 to 25 at the University of Florida school of medicine under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Waldman. Another 23 students were given a fake vaccine of salt solution.

The subjects were given three monthly doses, then exposed to live streptococci.

Fox said the vaccine would not be generally available until further tests are done. He also said he hopes to develop a vaccine effective against several strains of streptococcus.

Toastmasters Plan For Charter Night

The Greenville Toastmasters' club will hold a Charter Night Banquet Friday, at the Greenville Moose Lodge. A social hour will begin at 7:00 p.m. with the dinner served at 8:00 p.m. Following the dinner a typical Toastmaster meeting will be conducted including presentation of the charter and installation of officers.

Toastmasters, International, is an organization of over 60,000 members and 2500 local clubs. Membership consists of males and females of all ages and occupations. Through active participation and training members gain self-confidence and approve their public communication. Effective listening and speech evaluation are also stressed. Each member participates in every meeting in either a prepared or impromptu speech.

The local club held an organizational meeting in February of this year and has steadily grown to present membership of 23. Toastmasters was introduced to the Greenville area by Chris Hay, an ECU student, who had previously participated in Toastmastering at Cherry Point and Havelock. The Kinston and Havelock clubs are sponsors of the local club.

The charter will be presented by Joe Ellison, Toastmaster District Governor. Officers to be installed are: Chris Hay—president; Bob Muzzarelli—educational vice-president, Al Lalik—administrative vice-president, Bob Brice—secretary-treasurer, and Greg Verlinden—master-at-arms.

Anyone interested in attending the banquet or obtaining more information about the Greenville Toastmaster's Club should contact Sandy Quinn, phone 756-7246.

Dedicating New Student Center

LOUISBURG—The Dedication Ceremonies and formal naming of the B. Everett Jordan Student Center at Louisburg College May 17 at 5 p.m., was announced this week by the College President, Dr. Cecil W. Robbins.

E. Hoover Taft, Jr., President of the College's Board of Trustees, will preside, and will present a declaration in honor of the late United States Senator Jordan, whose educational and financial support of Louisburg College has been extensive.

Plan Art Show At Washington

WASHINGTON, N.C.—A two day art show will be on view Friday and Saturday, May 17 and 18, at the Washington Square Mall in Washington.

The show is being presented by the Beaufort Technical Institute students and the Oakdale Recreation children's class. All art students, past and present, are invited to take part in this exhibition. Works to be exhibited are to be brought in Thursday afternoon or Friday morning.

Persons needing additional information are asked to call Mrs. Dot Rawls at 946-2562.

BODY IDENTIFIED
RODANTHE, N.C. (AP)—A body washed ashore at Rodanthe two days ago has been identified as that of a 35-year-old woman from New Canaan, Conn., Mrs. Constance Barrett.

Penny Wright Says...

Hot weather prevents oranges from turning their characteristic deep golden color. Florida growers are always pleased for a few cool nights so that the almost ripe oranges in the groves will turn from green to orange. Although the outside color actually has nothing to do with the sweetness, juiciness, or color of the fruit inside, housewives should not hesitate to purchase pale green or very light orange oranges.

Informer Identified As Member Of Killer Group

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — "People were being killed at a pretty good clip. But it stopped when Anthony Harris put his life on the line" says Irving J. Hurd Jr.

Hurd, a lawyer, identified Harris on Tuesday as the informant whose meetings with San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto led to the arrests of three black men in the random Zebra street killings of whites.

Hurd, who acted as the go-between, said in an interview with the Oakland Tribune that Harris, the key informant in the case, was "in so deeply he couldn't get out" in his involvement with a black separatist group he had joined in prison.

Hurd said Harris was repulsed by the group's fanatical dedication to killing whites and dissident blacks, and went to the police in a desperate effort to extricate himself. He said

Harris was aware the group would try to kill him, even if he was in jail. He went to authorities seeking protection and the $30,000 reward that had been offered, Hurd said.

"He claimed the terrorist organization had already killed his brother for infraction of strict rules by which the group lives," Hurd said.

Hurd defended Alioto against critics who said the mayor's role was designed to bring attention to his gubernatorial campaign. Alioto has charged a group called the "Death Angels" is responsible for 80 murders nationwide, although law enforcement authorities say they have no evidence of any such activity outside San Francisco.

He said the mayor "was absolutely superb, drawing from him (Harris) more and more details of one of the most incredible murder plots ever conceived. Frankly, he should be given credit rather than abuse for his ability to draw information from the informant."

Hurd said he became involved in the case when Harris contacted an associate, Larry Kaufman. "Mention was made of the Zebra case" and Kaufman advised Harris to see a criminal lawyer, Hurd said.

Harris has since testified before the San Francisco grand jury investigating the Zebra killings and is in hiding again.

Three persons have been charged in three of the slayings. Four others were arrested, then released for lack of evidence.

Dog's Bite Killed Tot

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A 5-year-old girl died Tuesday after being bitten on the neck by a neighbor's dog.

Policeman C. R. Benfield said the child, Toni Lynn Edgeworth, bled profusely after the 60-pound, Golden Retriever bit her when she "went behind him, like she was going to hug him."

The child's mother, and the mother of the dog's owner, started screaming, and then wrestled the dog away from the girl. Benfield said he was told this took probably 30 seconds because the dog, called Chad, at first refused to release his bite.

The incident happened in the back yard of the dog's owner. Benfield said he was told the dog had never bitten anyone before, and that Toni and her 4-year-old brother had played with him before, the last time at Christmas.

Benfield said that when he arrived at the house the dog seemed friendly. Police Sgt. Al Reynolds Jr., who also investigated, said, "He was licking our hands and everything."

The dog was taken to the Charlotte Animal Shelter for at least 10 days of observation. Afterward, his fate will depend on a judicial hearing.

RALEIGH (AP)—Federal highway officials will be asked to designate 1,700 miles of highways in North Carolina as part of a Priority Primary Highway System.

State Transportation Secretary Bruce Lentz told a news-conference Tuesday 402 miles of the proposed system would be given a top priority by designation. He said he planned to fly to Washington to emphasize to North Carolina's congressional delegation the importance of getting federal designation for the new system.

He said it would give North Carolina "an opportunity to correct some of the deficiencies in the interstate highway system in our state by allowing us to upgrade our most congested primary highways."

"While there is not a great deal of money attached to this proposed system today, by 1980 when the federal interstate system is completed the emphasis is expected to shift to the priority system," Lentz stated.

The top priority routes, he said, would cost an estimated $1.2 billion.

"The proposed system, if approved as presently drawn, will create a major new route to North Carolina's coast as well as connect the state's mountain areas with major east-west interstates."

- The top priority routes, length and estimated cost include:
- Beaucatcher Freeway, Asheville, 4.3 miles, $39.8 million.
  - U. S. 321-N. C. 16, Boone to Charlotte, 89.7 miles, $173.3 million.
  - I-40 bypass, Winston-Salem, 20.6 miles, $114 million.
  - U. S. 52, Winston-Salem to Lexington, 16.8 miles, $54.9 million.
  - U. S. 311, Winston-Salem to U. S. 220, 31.2 miles, $114.9 million.
  - Industrial Boulevard, Statesville, 4.6 miles, $6.8 million.
  - Outer Belt, Charlotte, 56.5 miles, $237.3 million.
  - Independence Boulevard, Charlotte, 11.3 miles, $140.7 million.
  - Aycock-Freeman Mill,

- Greensboro, 11.2 miles, $52.2 million.
- East-West Freeway, Durham, 4.3 miles, $20 million.
- Dawson-McDowell Street extension, Raleigh, 2.4 miles, $7.1 million.
- Beltline-U. S. 1, Raleigh, 16.5 miles, $23.2 million.
- Owen Drive-CBD, Fayetteville, 13 miles, $36.4 million.
- U. S. 70, Smithfield bypass, 17.8 miles, $41.2 million.
- U. S. 64, Rocky Mount bypass, 7.5 miles, $30.9 million.
- U. S. 701-421, I-95 to Wilmington, 94.3 miles, $136.1 million.

How Tar Heel Representatives, Senators Voted

By Roll Call Report
WASHINGTON—Here's how area Members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes May 2 through May 8.

HOUSE
METRIC CONVERSION Rejected, 153 for and 240 against, a motion to suspend the rules and pass, with no amendments permitted, a bill calling for voluntary U.S. conversion to the metric system.

The bill (H.R. 11035) would have set a ten-year conversion period and established a presidential commission to coordinate the process. It also would have permitted federal loans to small businesses that experience economic hardship due to conversion.

Supporters argued that conversion is inevitable, and the sooner it is begun the less costly it will be.

Many members who favored conversion voted against the motion because they wanted to offer amendments to include carpenters, mechanics and other individuals in the loan provisions.

Some members totally opposed conversion. Among them, Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) lamented that under the metric system "you won't be able to walk a mile for a camel."

Reps. Ike Andrews (D-4) and Richardson Preyer (D-6) voted "yea."

Reps. L. H. Fountain (D-2), David Henderson (D-3), Wilmer Mizell (R-5), Earl Ruth (R-8), James Broyhill (R-10) and Roy Taylor (D-11) voted "nay."

Reps. Walter Jones (D-1), Charles Rose (D-7) and James Martin (R-9) did not vote.

POSTCARD VOTE REGISTRATION Rejected, 197 for and 204 against, a rule that would have permitted floor consideration of a bill to let voters register by mail for federal elections. The General Accounting Office would have administered the program.

In rejecting the rule, the House in effect defeated the bill (H.R. 8053). The bill's intent was to make it easier to register.

Labor unions, common cause, the League of Women Voters and Americans for Democratic Action lobbied for the bill.

The National Municipal League, the National Association of Secretaries of State, the American Conservative Union and the American Civil Liberties Union lobbied against it.

Supporters said that easier registration would counteract declining voter participation in federal elections.

Opponents argued that mail registration would invite vote fraud. Rep. James Quillen (R-Tenn.) said the bill would "wreak havoc" with the election process.

Rose voted "yea." Jones, Fountain, Henderson, Mizell, Preyer, Ruth, Martin, Broyhill and Taylor voted "nay."

Andrews did not vote.

OIL SHIPPING Passed, 226 for and 136 against, a bill to require that at least 20 per cent of the oil imported for domestic consumption must be carried on U.S.-flag ships.

The bill (H.R. 8193) has the effect of guaranteeing business for American shipping interests, business that might otherwise go to less-expensive foreign shippers.

Supporters argued that America should be as independent as possible from foreign control of her oil needs. They said the bill would open jobs and help America's balance-of-payments position.

Opponents argued that the bill is anti-consumer legislation that will boost the price of gasoline by at least one cent per gallon.

Jones, Fountain, Henderson and Rose voted "yea."

Mizell, Preyer, Ruth, Martin, Broyhill and Taylor voted "nay."

Andrews did not vote.

SENATE

VIET FUND CEILING Passed, 43 for and 38 against, an amendment to keep the previously-enacted military aid ceiling to South Vietnam at $1.126 billion. The amendment forbade spending more than that amount in fiscal 1974. The Pentagon has sought permission to spend $166 million that had been appropriated, but not spent, in previous fiscal years.

The amendment was attached to S. 2999, a routine supplemental appropriations bill that now goes to conference with the House.

Supporters argued that the Pentagon must keep within its spending limits. Sen. Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.) said Congress should not permit "an accountant's sleight-of-hand" to reward the Pentagon with money "through the back door." Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said "the time has come to hold the line."

Opponents argued that the Pentagon was not seeking "new money," but merely authority to honor previous commitments. Sen. John Tower (R-Texas) said the strictly-worded amendment would cut off money needed to look for MIAs in Southeast Asia.

Sen. Jesse Helms (R) voted "nay." Sen. Sam Ervin (D) did not vote.

HOSPITAL UNIONS Passed, 63 for and 25 against, a bill to give employees of non-profit hospitals and nursing homes the right to organize unions. The bill does not affect public hospitals.

The bill (S. 3203) would preempt state laws that forbid such unions. It now goes to the House.

Supporters argued that the bill strikes a balance between employees' needs to unionize and hospitals' obligations to provide continuous health care. Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) said, "It is simply unfair" to deny union access to hospital workers.

Opponents argued that permitting unions in hospitals will expose hospitals to strikes and walk-outs that will endanger the lives of patients.

Helms voted "nay" and Ervin did not vote.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY Tabled, 47 for and 40 against, an amendment to take the sting out of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970.

The amendment was offered to an unrelated bill on hospital unions (above).

The OSHA established certain safety conditions that employers must meet. The amendment would have substituted discretionary penalties for the act's mandatory penalties for violators, and would have broadened an employer's ability to appeal adverse findings.

In tabling the amendment, the Senate voted to kill the softening provisions.

Those voting for tabling argued that Congress should wait on a pending General Accounting Office review of the new law before changing it.

Opponents argued that overzealous OSHA inspectors have persecuted employers, especially small businessmen, and that the Congress should act immediately to improve the law. Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) said that labor union bosses have used the act as an organizing-tool. Helms voted "nay" and Ervin did not vote.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina hog prices were steady to $1.00 lower today. Tops of 28.00-29.00 at Kinston and Lumberton; 27.50-28.00 Rocky Mount; 27.50 Salisbury, Clinton, Fayetteville, Dunn, Elizabethtown, Pink Hill, Pine Level, Ayden, Chadbourne, Laurinburg and Benson; 26.25-26.75 Tarboro and Bethel; 26.50 Wilson and High Falls.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina f.o.b. dock broilers: Market steady for this week. Market tone unsettled for next week. Supplies adequate, demand fair to good. Estimated slaughter 1,180,000 head. North Carolina hens: Market conditions generally unchanged. Supplies ample to burdensome, demand fair. Heavies, at farm, 9-10½ cents per pound.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices slipped gradually lower in another slow and uneventful session in the stock market today. The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.88 at 845.98, and declines outpaced advances by about 5-to-3 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said nothing had happened to loosen the stranglehold grip of high interest rates on the market. They noted a bit of concern among investors over a new flare-up of terrorism in the Middle East today. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said an incident at an Israeli town near the Lebanese border threatened his efforts to work out disengagement between Israel and Syria.

Virginia Electric Power was the Big Board volume leader, down ½ at 117½ in trading that included a 50,000-share block at 12. Pullman, which said it expected 1974 sales and earnings to beat last year's record performance, rose ½ to 51½.

CNA Financial gained ½ to 9, as Loews Corp. took a step toward taking over the company by seeking permission from the Illinois Insurance Department to do so.

A report of a six-month loss pushed Tishman Realty 1¼ lower to 17¼. On the American Stock Exchange, Syntex was the most active issue, down ½ to 49.

The Amex' 11 a.m. market-value index was off .89 at 84.76. The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks stood at 47.70, down .16.

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Five of Willie McLeod Jr.'s playmates had leaped from a rowboat and waded or splashed to shore. The 10-year-old was the only one left in the red and white rowboat at Spratt Lake on the southwest edge of Charlotte. He jumped into the water he believed was shallow water in the muddy pond.

Owens
Mrs. Neppie Dunn Owens, 55, widow of Willie Joseph Owens, died in Edgecombe General Hospital in Tarboro Tuesday night.

Funeral services will be conducted at two o'clock Friday afternoon at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by the Rev. L. B. Manning, Free Will Baptist Minister of Fountain. Burial will be in the Dunn Family Cemetery near Falkland. Mrs. Owens was born and reared in the Falkland-Fountain community and moved to Tarboro in 1969 where she was employed at Edgecombe General Hospital as a nurse's aide. She was a member of the King's Crossroads Free Will Baptist Church.

Suggs
AYDEN—Mr. Billy R. Suggs, 43, died Tuesday afternoon in Pitt Memorial Hospital. A Greene County native, he had lived in Ayden for the past 15 years. He was a farmer. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 3 p.m. at Farmer Funeral Chapel here by the Rev. Kemery Ard. Burial will follow in the Ayden Cemetery.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Joyce Lockamy Suggs of the home; two sons, Billy R. Suggs Jr. and Alan P. Suggs, Miss Ann Marie Suggs of the home and Mrs. Joyce Elaine Pierce of Wallace; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Suggs of Grifton; two brothers, James Suggs of Ayden and Roy D. Suggs of Asheville; a sister, Mrs. Betty Lou Compton of Greensboro, Ala.

But the cavorting of the others had caused the rowboat to drift farther and farther from shore.

And the water into which Willie leaped wasn't that shallow.

He drowned Tuesday while the others, two girls and three boys, aged 9 to 11, watched in horror.

Two teen-aged boys who had just come to the pond to fish tried to rescue Willie. One of them, 14-year-old James Smith, tried to go to Willie's aid. But Smith can't swim, and he soon found himself in water too deep to walk in. Then 13-year-old Frederick Fee swam to Willie. But he said Willie wrapped his arms around him and pulled them both under, before turning loose the second time they went under.

Members of a lifesaving crew recovered the body in 12 to 15 feet of water about 35 feet from shore.

Claim Flaws In Leaf Sales Plan

WILSON, N.C. (AP)—A Wilson County grange charges that under the new designated-warehouse plan, some tobacco warehouses have agreed to sell the entire flue-cured crops of some farmers during the first half of the marketing season. This would favor the large grower at the expense of the smaller.

The Rock Ridge Grange adopted a resolution Monday night urging growers not to designate any "warehouse that has promised to sell a farmer's entire crop within the first five to eight weeks the market is open. Since this... is half the expected marketing season, and if favored growers are allowed to sell out the first five to eight weeks, the less fortunate would necessarily be pushed back to the tail end of the season."

James B. Hunt Sr., a member of the Rock Ridge Grange and of the Industrywide Tobacco Marketing Committee, said: "Unscrupulous warehousemen who favor the large grower and push the small grower back to the tail end of the season threaten the very existence of the entire auction system. I know that a majority of our committee had high hopes that all warehousemen would treat each grower fairly under the 1974 designation plan.

"If the small grower does not get equitable treatment in 1974, then he will surely vote in a federal tobacco marketing order for 1975 which requires by law that each grower get his proportional part of the weekly selling time—a program that the Grange has advocated since 1968."

Bennett Rebuffs Call To Resign

RALEIGH (AP)—State Republican Chairman Thomas S. Bennett says he has no intention of resigning for making the statement that he cannot support the party's nominee, James M. Newcomb, for Supreme Court chief justice.

R. Frank Everett, former state legislator, sent a telegram to Bennett Tuesday calling upon him to resign immediately. Everett, a former Democrat who turned Republican, said Newcomb "was chosen by Republicans all over North Carolina to be our nominee for the fall election. You have ridiculed every Republican voter in North Carolina...I have never heard of a state chairman coming out against a nominee selected at the ballot box by his own party. Your actions will probably cause Republicans for (Robert) Morgan to be set up across North Carolina."

Everett was referring to Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan, the Democratic nominee for U. S. Senate, who opposes Republican William E. Stevens Jr. in the November election. Newcomb, a fire systems dealer in Martin County with no legal training, garnered almost 60 per cent of the Republican primary vote over District Court Judge Elreta M. Alexander of Greensboro, the nation's first black woman judge.

Bennett and Gov. Jim Holshouser said Monday they cannot support Newcomb. Bennett said Newcomb's background "is not sufficient for him to perform the duties of chief justice."

Commenting on Everett's telegram, Bennett said: "I'm not upset by the telegram and I'm not responding to it. I'm sure he (Everett) may be a little emotionally upset. Frank and I are still good friends and will remain good friends."

Far-Out For Candidates

LOS ANGELES (AP) —"My God, they put raspberry sauce on it," murmured San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto as he began another in a seemingly endless stream of chicken dinners served on the campaign trail.

Fried chicken. Roasted chicken. Baked chicken. Chicken in mushroom sauce and even chicken in raspberry sauce. Candidates in the race for California's governorship have had them all.

But as state treasurer candidate Jess Unruh says, "The first rule of campaigning is never pass up a chance to eat or go to the bathroom."

N.C. Recreation Programs Grow

RALEIGH (AP)—A report issued today by the State Department of Natural and Economic Resources and the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners says money budgeted for recreation programs in North Carolina counties has increased by 460 per cent in two years.

The report said there are now 55 counties budgeting $2,860,000 for recreation and parks. This compared to 26 counties and budgets totaling $517,000 in 1972.

John Howell, recreation consultant for the Department of Natural and Economic Resources, said several factors were responsible for the increase. He said one of them was an awareness among county commissioners that recreation is a public service on a par with such traditional public services as roads, sewers and police protection.

Wilson Holds Off Rose For 13-6 Win

East Carolina Tops Conference

ARLINGTON, VA. — East Carolina University has been declared the winner of the fifth annual Southern Conference Commissioner's Cup, scoring a total of 70 1/2 points.

The Pirates victory ended the dominance of William and Mary who has won or shared the Cup since its beginning in 1970. In the first year of competition, East Carolina tied the Indians and since then William and Mary has won the trophy outright.

The Commissioner's Cup is awarded annually to the Southern Conference school with the best overall intercollegiate athletic record.

To gain the 1974 cup East Carolina won conference titles in football, swimming, wrestling and baseball. They placed second in soccer, golf and outdoor track and took third place in indoor track.

Appalachian State who joined the conference in 1971 has made great progress and this year tied the defending champions, William and Mary, for 2nd place. Richmond who finished last in 1973 rose to the fourth position. In fifth place was Furman. The Citadel finished in 6th place. VMI was seventh and Davidson, eighth.

Other sport champions besides ECU were William and Mary winners in cross country, indoor and outdoor track. Appalachian State was victorious in soccer, golf, and tennis. Furman took top honors in basketball while the Citadel was the champion in rifle shooting.

Table with columns: Cross Country, Football, Soccer, Basketball, Rifle, Swimming, Track (In), Wrestling, Baseball, Golf, Tennis, Track, TOTAL POINTS. Rows list various schools and their scores.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER—Coach Dave Patton congratulates Nicky White on his selection as the East Carolina basketball team's Most Valuable Player during the past season. White, a senior, was voted the honors by his teammates, and the trophy was presented by the Daily Reflector at a pizza party for the team last night. (Reflector Photo)

Two Unbeatens Left In Church

Grace and Oakmont remain as the lone two unbeaten in the Church Softball League. Oakmont downed St. James last night to reduce the number from three to two.

That game was the opener on Field Two, as Oakmont took a 9-6 win. They scored once in the first, but St. James came back with two in the second, then added another in the third. Oakmont came back with three in the bottom of the third, then pushed over five in the fourth to take the lead for good. St. James rallied for three in the fifth, but it wasn't enough.

St. Gabriel jumped ahead with five runs in the first inning. They added four more in the second, and got four in the fifth. Three more scored in the sixth. Christian got one in the first, two in the fourth and one in the sixth.

In the final game, Presbyterian downed Trinity, 9-4. Presbyterian got a pair in the first, but Trinity came back with three in the third, with Stuart Jones homering. Presbyterian got one in the fifth, but Trinity went back out with one in the sixth. Presbyterian then got six in the seventh to take the win.

Lions Roll By Jaycees, 9-2

The Lions picked up their third victory of the season against no defeats with a 9-2 win over the Jaycees yesterday in the North State Little League.

The Jaycees fell off to 1-2 on the season. The Lions got one in the first inning. Peter Pace walked and took second on a passed ball. Allen Collier reached on an error, moving Pace to third, and he scored from there on a wild pitch.

In the third, the Lions added four more. Pace reached on an error and Krage Gardiner was safe on a fielder's choice. Both runners stole up a base and Arthur Fletcher reached on an error, scoring Pace. Shelton Wilson singled in Gardiner and a wild pitch let Fletcher score. Roger Williams singled to score Wilson to make it 5-0.

The Jaycees rallied for two runs in the bottom of the inning. Teddy Gartman reached on a fielder's choice, and John Winstead slapped a home run. In the fifth, the Lions added another run. Collier walked and Fletcher singled. Wilson and Williams each reached on fielder's choices, advancing Collier to home. In the sixth, the Lions got three more. Herman King was hit by a pitch and stole second. He took third on a wild pitch and scored on Pace's single. Gardiner got a hit and Fletcher reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Pace. Wilson walked and Williams was hit by a pitch, bringing in Gardiner. Lions 104 013-9 5 2 Jaycees 002 000-2 4 4

By WOODY PEELE

Reflector Sports Editor Wilson Fike High School finally broke open an emotion filled baseball game here yesterday and sewed up the Division I championship, but it took nine innings to do it, 13-6.

Tempers flared during the game, stopped once because of a brouhaha that emptied both benches.

Overall, however, Wilson seemed to want it more than did the Rampants. The Titans took advantage of Rampant mistakes for force the extra innings, scoring four unearned runs during the regulation innings. Rose had scored two earned runs earlier, added one unearned one in the second frame, then picked up another earned one in the seventh. Had the Rampants played errorless ball, they would not have allowed a run, and would have been home celebrating when they were struggling to catch up.

And each time the Rampants did rally, Wilson simply pushed back out ahead, getting a two-run lead in the eighth, then pushing over seven in ninth, on only four hits, two of them bunts.

Kelly Heath went the first eight innings, and until the eighth, allowed only three hits. But his lack of control cost him. He walked 12 in those eight innings, while striking out 14. His troubles kept him under pressure most of the way.

For instance in both the first and second innings, he issued three walks. But it was an error that led to Wilson scoring his first run in the second. Heath managed to strike out the last two batters in the first after issuing three straight walks after an initial pop.

Rose scored first, getting two in the bottom of the first. Jack Jenkins led off, reaching on a high-hopper to short. Gil Whitford walked and both were sacrificed up. Robert Brinkley followed with a single to center, scoring both runners. Brinkley moved up on an error, but died at second.

The Titans cut the lead to 2-1 with a run in the second. Stan Hicks walked and with one down, Mitch Barnes walked. Then, with two away, Sandy Lamm reached on an error. Stan Johnson got another walk, scoring Hicks.

Rose came back with his third run in the third. Jenkins reached on an error and moved to third on Griff Garner's single to right. Brinkley came up with another hit, scoring Jenkins.

Wilson then came up with three in the top of the fourth, all unearned. With one down, Charlie Bedgood singled then stole second. Stan Johnson reached on an error, and Bedgood headed for home. The relay was in time at the plate, but Bedgood collided with catcher Jerry Griffin and knocked the ball loose to score. Clay Johnson followed with a triple into deep center, scoring Johnson. Then after Edward Eastman had walked and stole second, a ball got past the plate, and Johnson started home. The ball took a hard bounce off the wall, however, and zipped back to Griffin, who found both runners caught on third base. The throw to the base was high, however, and Johnson raced on home with the go-ahead run, 4-3.

Wilson threatened again in the seventh on two walks and a passed ball, but the Rampants got out of it and then came back to tie it up.

With two down in the seventh, and Ronnie Rasberry on first via a fielder's choice, pinchhitter

Ron Hunt laced a long ball into the alley in left center, scoring the tying run with a triple. But the Rampants couldn't get Hunt over to get the win.

Then, in the top of the eighth, Wilson came up with two runs, regaining the lead, 6-4. With one down, Stan Johnson walked and scored on Clay Johnson's second triple. Eatmon laid down a suicide squeeze bunt, scoring the other Johnson, and bowled over Jenkins, covering first who made the put out. The two hit the ground in the collision and the fists began to fly. Both benches emptied, but order was quickly restored by the coaches and umpires.

Rose amazingly came back to tie it again. With two away and Brinkley on via another fielder's choice, Macon Moye bounced a ball off the fence in left field, for another triple. The relay was errored, and Moye raced on in with the tying run, forcing anotherinning.

But in that one, the Rampants fell apart. Hicks was hit by a pitch and Alan Daniels laid a bunt down the first base line. Brinkley waited on it to roll foul, but it hugged the line and refused to cross the stripe, giving Daniels a hit. Barnes laid down another bunt, and this time, it wasn't fielded in time, loading the bases. Bedgood followed with a two-run single to center. He was later caught off base by another caroming ball off the backstop and put out.

But on the play Sandy Lamm walked, and moved to second on the rundown. Clay Johnson was intentionally walked, but unintentional ones were then issued to Eatmon, Tim Hinand and Hicks, forcing in three runs. Barnes finished it off with a two run smack, and the Rampants were too far down to rally.

The loss closed out the home season for the Rampants. They end their year on Friday as they travel to Elizabeth City to meet Northeastern High School.

Exchange Nips Integon, 3-2

The Exchange remained unbeaten yesterday in the Tar Heel Little League, picking up its third straight victory as Integon fell, 3-2.

The loss dropped Integon to a 1-2 record. Integon scored both of its runs in the first inning. Lathan Mills walked and moved up on a passed ball. He took third on a wild pitch and scored on an error. Mark Carter followed with another walk then stole both second and third. He scored on a passed ball.

It stayed 2-0 until the third, when the Exchange came up with its first run. Gordon Douglas reached on an error and Charles Daise singled. Al Shackleford reached on a fielder's choice and an error let Douglas score.

In the sixth, the Exchange came up with the other two runs they needed to claim the win. Eric Deal reached on an error and Mark Douglas singled. An error let Deal advance to third and Gordon Douglas hit a sacrifice fly, scoring him. Shackleford then doubled to score Mark Douglas with the winning run.

Deal, who went all the way for the Exchange, allowed only one hit by Integon, a fifth inning single by Carter. He walked seven, hit one and struck out 12 in getting the win. Exchange 001 002-3 7 2 Integon 200 000-2 1 7

Aycock Tops Farmville

PIKEVILLE—Charles B. Aycock rolled to a 4-0 victory over Farmville Central yesterday, clinching no worse than a tie for first place in the Eastern Carolina Conference race.

Farmville will have the opportunity to tie for the title this afternoon when they meet North Pitt. Both teams will then enter the State 3-A playoffs, one facing Williamston and the other meeting Havelock.

Beltone captured its fourth victory, while Coca-Cola won its third, all without a defeat to mar their record in the Ladies Softball League last night.

In the opener, Beltone romped to a 24-1 victory over Dixie Sales. Dixie got its lone run in the first. Beltone came back with three in the second, then pushed over seven in the third. They added four in the fourth and finished it off with 10 in the fifth.

In the second game, the Little Mint rolled to a 31-3 win over The Daily Reflector. Little Mint scored six runs in the top of the first, then added four more in the second. They got 11 in the third, with D. Garrish hitting two homers. Five more crossed in the fourth with homers by B. Jones, L. Gaddis, L. Kilpatrick and L. Tripp. Six more came in the fifth, with Jones getting one more homer. All three Reflector runs came in the first.

In the final game, Coca-Cola ripped Pitt County Hospital, 27-3. Coke jumped away in the first inning, pushing over 10 runs. They added five more in the second with C. Nichols

Cincinnati Court Refuses To Order WFL To Stop NFL Invasion

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

If you're still trying to keep score in pro football's court game, add an important touch-down for the World Football League as the unusual pre-season contest nears its "fourth quarter."

But they play overtime. The established National Football League and the upstart World Football League wore their shoulder pads and helmets to court Tuesday, preferring to finish their legal battles before worrying about things like the rapidly-approaching training season.

The WFL completed its touchdown drive when a Cincinnati judge refused to stop the rookie league from contacting and signing NFL players. The NFL Cincinnati Bengals had sought a preliminary injunction against linebacker Bill Bergey and the WFL, but U. S. District

Judge David Porter ruled that granting the legislation would "harm the public interest in fostering free competition in the marketplace for the sports dollar."

Porter added in his 46-page judgement that Bergey "is a fine young man, an emotional person with a great competitive spirit. Bergey has no intention of breaching his contract by letting down in the slightest."

But NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the NFL is concerned that the public might think NFL players who have signed WFL contracts for future years might not be doing their best.

"That aura of suspicion concerns me."

It still concerns the Dallas Cowboys, who also went to court to enjoin against further player raids and achieved a restraining order. But that didn't bother quarterback Craig Morton, who has signed for 1975 with the WFL Houston Texans. Morton was listed as a "no-show" at Tuesday's opening of a voluntary two-week quarterback school the club is running.

Veteran quarterback Jack Concannon also was missing from the school, but he was excused due to an illness in his family.

Miami Dolphins' owner Joe Robbie says the federal judge's decision won't change the plans of his NFL champion team's suing the WFL over the signings of Paul Warfield, Jim Kiick and Larry Czonka by the Toronto Northmen, who since have moved to Memphis.

Bergey's Ambassadors—already moved twice in their few months of life—have moved again, the St. Petersburg Times reported in its Wednesday editions.

They will become the Orlando, Fla., Ambassadors Thursday, the paper said, giving Florida four professional football teams. The others are the Dolphins and NFL expansion franchise Tampa, and the WFL Jacksonville Sharks.

In other action Tuesday, the Washington Redskins acquired running back Larry Smith from the Los Angeles Rams even though the five-year veteran already has signed a future contract with the WFL Jacksonville club. "He can help us win now," Redskins Coach George Allen emphasized. "The future is this year."

The Chicago Bears announced they would pay middle linebacker Dick Butkus full salary for the remaining four years of his five-year contract whether he can play football or not. Bad knees forced Butkus out of the last half of last season, and doctors have not yet determined his future.

Robersonville Drops Opener

ROBERSONVILLE—Saratoga Central High School got a leg up toward the Eastern Plains Conference championship last night winning the first of a best-of-three series with Robersonville, 1-0.

The two teams will meet tonight with a do-or-die situation for the Golden Eagles, who won the Northern Division title. Should they win, a third game would be scheduled between them and the Southern Division champs for the title and the right to represent the league in the 2-A State Playoffs.

Monty DeRatt hurled the victory for Saratoga, going all the way. He struck out four and walked three on the way to his 10th victory in 13 decisions. He allowed five hits.

Matt Wilson took the loss, giving up only two hits. He struck out nine and walked four. The loss dropped his record to 5-2 for the year.

The Saratoga nine had a couple of threats before they finally scored. In the third, Greg Mercer walked and was sacrificed up, but died at second. Ted Rogers walked in the fifth and took second on an out, but also failed to advance.

But in the sixth, they got the lone run of the game. Mike Batts walked and Mike Mooring reached on an error that would have been the third out. Jeff Bryant then reached on another error, allowing Batts to come across for the 1-0 lead.

Another Saratoga threat in the seventh went by the boards when Peele Garris singled and stole second.

Robersonville also had several false starts. Kim Knox reached on a fielder's choice in the second and moved up on an error on the play. He was then cut down trying to steal third.

The best opportunity came in the fourth. Victor Hardison singled and Matt Wilson doubled him to third. DeRatt picked Hardison off, however. Doug Warren followed with a walk, and both he and Wilson moved up on a passed ball, but could not score.

One final threat came in the sixth when Hardison singled and moved into scoring position on an out.

Tonight, Doyle Farmer is expected to take the mound for the Eagles while DeRatt is expected to go as far as he can in this one. The game is slated for 8 p.m. at Saratoga. Should a third game be needed, it will be played at a time and site to be decided later.

Houk's Return Gets Good Start

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Ralph Houk came back to New York and found everything missing—the ballpark, the beer and the spittoon.

The new manager of the Detroit Tigers found nothing to his liking, in fact, but the baseball game with the Yankees. The Tigers won that 5-2 Tuesday night.

Making his first appearance as a visiting manager in the city that made him famous, Houk admitted that he felt uncomfortable.

The Yankees are playing their home games in the New York Mets' Shea Stadium while their own is renovated during the next two seasons.

In the other American League games, the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Baltimore Orioles 8-3; the Cleveland Indians trimmed the Boston Red Sox 6-2 and the Kansas City Royals beat the Oakland A's 4-2 in the first game of a double-header before dropping the second game 2-1 in 10 innings. Rain washed out two games—Minnesota at Chicago and California at Texas.

Mickey Lolich snapped out of his early-season slump with a three-hitter, helping Houk celebrate his return to New York.

Lolich, Detroit's longtime ace, entered the game with a 15 record and 4.85 earned run average. The 33-year-old left-hander held the Yankees hitless for 32-3 innings but fell behind 1-0 when Lou Piniella singled, Jim Ray Hart walked and Graig Nettles singled.

Brewers 8, Orioles 3
Pedro Garcia, Johnny Briggs, Bobby Mitchell and George Scott each drove in two runs to lead Milwaukee over Baltimore.

Billy Champion, 1-0, who had worked only eight innings previously this year, outdueled Cy Young Award winner Jim Palmer, 2-4, who was raked for seven runs in 4 1-3 innings.

Indians 6, Red Sox 2
George Hendrick hit a two-run homer and scored two runs to back the five-hit pitching of Gaylord Perry that carried Cleveland past Boston.

Royals 4-1, A's 2-2
Cookie Rojas slammed a tie-breaking two-run homer in the sixth inning to power Kansas City over Oakland in the first game of their doubleheader.

It sent Jim "Catfish" Hunter down to his third defeat in nine decisions.

Gaylen Pitts led Oakland's victory in the second game, doubling home the winning run in the 10th inning.

Jollie In 11-1 Win

Jollie rolled to an 11-1 victory over the Hamilton Hornets yesterday in the Pitt-Martin Semi-Pro League.

Jollie got three in the first as E. Coburn singled and moved up on an error on the play. L. Ross singled to score him, then moved up on a sacrifice and a passed ball. W. Hardee walked and stole second. Ross came in on the throw to second with the second run. A pair of passed balls let Hardee cross the plate.

Five more came over in the third. R. Garrett walked and Hardee singled. J. Brooks reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Garrett. Hardee scored when a pickoff attempt was thrown away. C. Coburn reached on a fielder's choice and took second on a passed ball. F. Corbett doubled on a fielder's choice and took second on a passed ball. F. Corbett doubled in Coburn, and E. Coburn reached on an error, scoring Corbett.

Two more scored in the fourth, and another crossed in the fifth. Hamilton got its lone run in the third. C. Whitfield was hit by a pitch, but was forced at second on J. Whitfield's grounder. The double play attempt was errored, letting Whitfield advance. M. Baker reached on another error, scoring Whitfield.

National League scores: San Francisco 4, Cincinnati 0; Pittsburgh 7, Chicago 1; Montreal 9, Philadelphia 2; Atlanta 3, San Diego 2 and Los Angeles 1.

Trio Claims Fourth National Loop Wins

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Mike Caldwell became the first pitcher in the National League to chalk up his sixth victory of the season ... just 15 minutes ahead of Steve Rogers ... and about four hours ahead of Don Sutton.

Caldwell baffled Cincinnati with a five-hitter Tuesday night while Tito Fuentes and Garry Maddox drove in two runs apiece to lead San Francisco past the Reds 4-0.

That game ended at 9:55 p.m., EDT. At 10:10 p.m., Rogers threw his last pitch against Philadelphia, then Sutton had an easy 9-2 victory, battering the Phillies with a 15-hit assault.

best game I've ever pitched in the majors," he grinned. "The other two were a two-hit shut-out over Pittsburgh last year and a four-hit shutout against Los Angeles in 1972."

Waldrop In Slow Mile

By BOB CULLEN
Associated Press Writer
CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — It is a measure of what Tony Waldrop has accomplished this year that he can run a mile in 3:59.8 and then be asked what went wrong.

That's what happened to the North Carolina senior Tuesday after he won the mile and the outstanding performer award in the Atlantic Coast Conference track championships.

Waldrop's race, though more than six seconds slower than his best this season, was the highlight of a lackluster meet in which Maryland won its 19th consecutive team title, totaling 127 points to North Carolina's 52. No meet records were broken in the two days of competition.

"I don't worry about the time," Waldrop said. "I'm satisfied to win. If some people want to worry about the time, that's their problem, not mine."

Ironically, Waldrop's excuse for the "slow time" was a cold he caught on a trip to New York last week. He was attending a ceremony commemorating the 20th anniversary of Roger Bannister's first four minute mile in 1954.

"The cold's coming along fine, but it cut down my mileage in training this week. I was kept awake several nights coughing."

Waldrop ran partly to please a crowd of 7,800 friends, classmates and relatives who had come to watch his only race in Chapel Hill this year.

"I really hate to leave Chapel Hill. It's been a great experience. I've done a lot more than anything I ever dreamed of doing."

Waldrop, whose next race is at the California Relays May 25, plans to move to California to concentrate on running next year.

Maryland also clinched the Carmichael Cup, the symbol of overall athletic supremacy in the ACC, based on standings in all conference sports.

While Caldwell and Rogers had plenty of support, though, Sutton had to provide all his own heroics out in Los Angeles.

He limited Houston to four hits, struck out nine batters and drove in his own winning run with a second-inning bases-loaded single that gave the Dodgers a 1-0 squeaker over the Astros.

In the rest of the National League, Rick Reuschel twirled a four-hitter as the Chicago Cubs' 7-1 whipped Pittsburgh, Atlanta turned back San Diego 3-2 and the New York Mets' game at St. Louis was rained out.

Giants 4, Reds 0
"It was just a beautifully pitched game," crowed San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox. "It just might be the best-pitched game we've had all year."

And said Caldwell: "I would say this is probably the third-

Expos 9, Phils 2
Montreal jumped on Jim Lonborg for three runs in the first inning, Ron Fairly hit a homer in the third, then the Expos blew the game open by sending 10 men to the plate in a five-run fourth to make it 9-0.

Dodgers 1, Astros 0
Sutton's shutout was his second in row, his third of the season and the 34th of his career. Cubs 7, Pirates 1

Reuschel not only pitched his way to victory, he batted his way there, too, doubling and scoring a run in the rout of the Bucs. Jose Cardenal had three hits and Rick Monday, Billy Williams, Jerry Morales and Vic Harris two apiece in the Cubs' 13-hit attack.

Braves 3, Padres 2
Phil Niekro and Tom House combined on an eight-hitter and dealt the Padres their seventh straight loss.

In the American League, it was Milwaukee 8, Baltimore 3; Cleveland 6, Boston 2; Detroit 5, New York 2, and Kansas City 4-1, Oakland 2-2. Minnesota at Chicago and California at Texas were rained out.

Surprises For Little League

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The 15 girls who showed up to register for Little League baseball in suburban Allouez this spring were not unexpected.

After all, reports of court suits and court rulings allowing girls to play in Little League had been in the newspapers for months.

But the surprises began to mount shortly thereafter. League Commissioner Tom Mongin explained to the girls on registration night that national Little League rules prohibit girls from competing with or against boys. However, since Little League has provided for official girls' leagues with separate but equal status with boys, Mongin encouraged the girls to fill the registration form.

It was announced that if 60 girls could be found to sign up, a girls' program would be organized.

The response stunned league officials. They needed 60 girls, hoped for 120, had forms available for 200—and 275 showed up.

Mrs. Eleanor Hunt, the project chairwoman, was flabbergasted.

The unexpected army of candidates stirred another problem. She had to plead for adult help to organize, manage and coach.

When she scheduled tryouts, 370 girls, gloves in hand, showed up.

While they moved through five stations, testing their playing skills, and then hustled to a refreshment stand for queen-sized soft drinks, one volunteer mother sighed, "I'll bet I answered a thousand and one questions today."

But the one big question already had been answered. The Allouez Girls Little League was off the ground.

The officially-sanctioned Allouez girls' Little League program is believed the first official such girls' program in Wisconsin, although Little League headquarters in Williamsport, Pa., said it expects to have about 500 such programs across the nation. The girls' program is being organized nationally to include all the benefits of the boys' program including a tournament series.

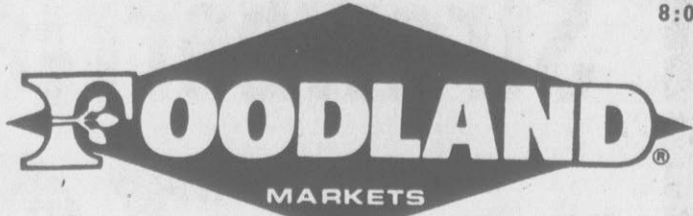

The ball is more like a softball than a baseball and is pitched underhanded from 40 feet. There is no base stealing or sliding.

And no boys are allowed to play.

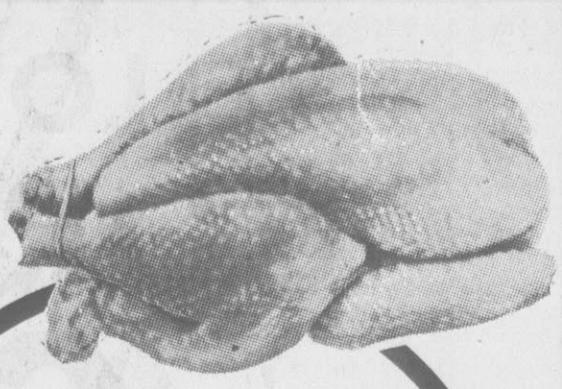

"Boys play a different kind of game," Mrs. Hunt said. "They play harder, they're rougher and they think differently. We don't want any mixture of boys and girls on these teams."

No Trades For Walton

By DAN BERGER

AP Sports Writer
ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — Bill Walton has a clause in his pro basketball contract with the Portland Trail Blazers that says he cannot be traded without his permission.

So says Sam Gilbert, spokesman for the silent and peripatetic 6-foot-11 basketball star. Gilbert helped Walton negotiate with four basketball teams seeking his services, showed him the ropes of legal matters and then, he says, sat back and let Walton decide that Portland was offering the most.

But not in terms of money, said Gilbert, who does not take monetary remuneration for helping athletes.

"All three offers by the American Basketball Association were better than the NBA offer," said Gilbert in his plush construction company office here. Why did Walton choose Portland?

"He never really told me," Gilbert said, "only by innuendo. It's my opinion that Jerry West had a lot to do with it. Jerry talked with Bill, and Bill has a lot of respect for West. And then Sidney (Wicks) talked with him, too."

"Secondly, I think Bill was ready for a change of geography and also, I think Bill considered the NBA more to his competitive liking. He's a very competitive person and he wanted to play against the best. Yes, he's looking forward to playing against Kareem (Abdul-Jabbar) and so is Kareem. They're good friends, you know."

Gilbert said Walton was growing a beard and "he's stated that he doesn't think he'll ever shave again but, you know, he's only 21 years old and never means perhaps a week.

LONGHORN RIDER—Ranchman Travis Marks makes quite an appearance in South Texas parades riding his 1,500-pound longhorn steer. Here he is seen in the town of Fannin, near historic Soliad where the Spanish missionaries were instrumental in developing the early-day longhorn, still raised by a few ranchmen such as Marks. ## Hidden Milton Berle Is Bared

By BOB THOMAS Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The dedication of Milton Berle's autobiography reads: "To the funny men ... who were, who are, who will be ... heroes who faced the world naked, but for the weapon of laughter."
Berle has finished a 2 1/2-year task of summing up his life, and he asserts that readers will discover the naked Berle, without the cover-up of his brash, breezy comedies.

"They won't be calling me 'Uncle Miltie' any more," said the comedian. "I tell the story with no holds barred, and I use the kind of language I normally use — not for shock treatment; that's just the way I speak."

"It's the story of the kind of crazy life-style that comedians have to lead, appearing naked before every audience. There is also a strong silver-cord story about my mother and myself."

"My mother — God bless her — was mother, father, wife, sweetheart, everything to me. But there's no hint of incest; this is no 'Oedipus Rex.'"

Berle was carrying galley proofs of "My Autobiography," which he wrote with magazine editor Haskell Frankel. It will be published by Delacorte on Oct. 28. He displayed a few pages and it is indeed strong stuff.

Unlike other show biz confessionals, this one is no conquest of alcoholism — "I never drank in my life, never liked the taste." Nor was Berle ever on dope — "I was hooked on show business."

Although he said the book will not be X-rated, he admitted that it will depict his romantic career, beginning with his loss of virginity at 12.

He will also tell about his brushes with the Mafia, which owned many of the night clubs in which he appeared. In 1931 his throat was slashed by a hoodlum.

"Why is it that the things you remember most vividly in your life are the bad things?" he mused.

Among them was the time in 1945 when he was trying out a doomed show, "Spring in Brazil," in Pittsburgh, and he was overcome by the need to see his wife, Joyce Matthews, and their newly adopted daughter.

"The show was death, Joyce and Vicki couldn't come to see me, and they scheduled a rehearsal for Thanksgiving day," Berle recalled. "I became hysterical and made a dive for the hotel window.

"My manager tackled me before I could take the leap. 'He calmed me down and said I'd feel better if I had a meal. He started ordering turkey on the telephone, and I said, 'See if they have roast beef.'"

"Isn't that like a comedian? Just after trying to kill himself, he wants to see if the kitchen has roast beef!"

Berle recorded 510 hours of tape for the book and admitted that the experience was the equivalent to being psychoanalyzed, which he never has been. He uncovered feelings of guilt from his youth, when he was the breadwinner in his family.

At 65, Berle maintains the same working pace he has known virtually all his life. He recently played a dramatic role in "Lepke" with Tony Curtis. He is taping two shows on comedy for ABC's Wide World of Entertainment and may appear with Frank Sinatra in Alaska next month.

Assisted In Health Plan

Three East Carolina University faculty members have spent two days assisting Gates County school personnel in the development of plans for an interagency school health services program for 1974-75.

Meeting with ECU and UNC consultants were Gates County Schools Superintendent George Stancil, School Health Services Director Betz Stallings, and six principals, Don Gregory, Bryon Salter, W. E. Beamon, Ernest Askew, Hollis Creecy and J. E. R. Perry.

Assisting the group in the formulation of financial and manpower plans for next year were William Byrd, director of the ECU Office of Community Health Services, Patricia Garton and Gary Lewis.

UNC professor Leonard Dawson acted as a special resource person. Physical arrangements for the meeting were coordinated by Carol Edwards of the Office of Community Health Services.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much confusion is evident early in the day so think very carefully of all the factors connected with your regular duties before making a decision. If doubt continues consult a person with high ideals for the right answer.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Your emotions are interfering with your thinking so don't make any important decisions until you feel perfectly calm. Walk with care.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Talk over long-range projects with a friend so they can be properly clarified. Attend the social and show more affection for others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) The afternoon is the best time to ask a favor of an influential person. Engage in community affairs, but don't get caught in a trap.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Show that you are capable of understanding your opponent's point of view. Correspondence with out-of-town brings fine results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make certain you handle personal obligations in a most meticulous fashion. Mate is in a fine romantic mood. Forget talking shop.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know what your true position is with an associate and clear up a very puzzling situation. Steer clear of one who opposes you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure your work is well planned in the morning so you don't get tangled up later. Take treatments that give you more energy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle the morning in a very diplomatic way or there could be arguments with others. Think of ways to please the one you love.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) The morning could bring tensions so sidestep a temptation to get in an argument at home. Show that you are a considerate person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be certain you have the right facts and figures when dealing with others. Afternoon is the best time for shopping. Relax tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't neglect to pay an important bill. Any money problems can be taken to a financial expert and then easily straightened out.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are not thinking very clearly early in the day so forget any important dealings with others until later. Take it easy tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those young people who likes complicated problems and should therefore be given a fine education so that complex matters can be handled with clarity of thought. Your progeny could become very successful and even famous, and would do well in governmental circles or working with big corporations. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

The Worry Clinic 'Divine Spark' In Each Of Us

John Cadle adopted the same hobby as did Grandma Moses! Which is doubly surprising, since he runs a 1,000 acre farm. His donated painting for a rural church is so realistic that parishioners imagine their baptismal pool is fed by a mountain brook!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.
CASE Z-560: John Cadle, aged about 60, is a remarkable farmer.

We dined together at Sunday dinner after I had spoken from a Methodist pulpit in Rossville, Illinois.

Our former neighbors, Earl and Helen Bush, who lived just a block from our home here in Chicago, had retired to Rossville, so they arranged for me to speak there.

Afterwards, they had the dinner party, following which they took us out to the rural Antioch Church of Christ.

It is located in a country grove, with no village or houses near, except for the parsonage.

Since this church baptizes by immersion, it had a glassed in pool directly behind the center of the pulpit.

But John Cadle had made a truly beautiful painting of snow capped mountains behind the baptismal pool.

Tumbling down those mountains came a bubbling brook, which appeared to pour directly into the baptismal pool.

The effect was so realistic that people in the pews would have thought it was an actual stream. John Cadle had spent half a day painting this unique backdrop.

For he is not only a consummate artist but a swift one, too.

Later, we drove over to his ancestral home in the middle of a 1,000 acre prairie farm.

At the gate, he has another pastoral painting, half as large as a billboard.

On the barn, is also an excellent rural scene, even larger.

And in the house he has oil paintings galore, for he is especially skillful in depicting animals and rural scenes.

"Dr. Crane," he added, "instead of canvas, I use the back side of plywood, which gives much the same effect."

John Cadle adopted oil painting just as a hobby. His teacher is Nature itself, for he tries to make his scenes so realistic that they startle the viewer by their verisimilitude.

Here in Chicago a number of my medical friends have also adopted painting as their hobby.

Indeed, painting and sculpturing are favorite pastimes for surgeons, both medical and dental.

"Dr. Crane, why is that?" many have asked me.

Maybe it is a revulsion from realism to idealism.

For when doctors have spent their entire week dealing with diseased organs or teeth, mutilated auto wreck victims and venereal patients, perhaps the pendulum swings to the other extreme.

Descartes said that God implants a few "Divine Sparks" in every baby's brain at the time of birth.

And those "Sparks" make intelligent people crave music and art, poetry and religious idealism, purity and true love.

That's why puzzled, tearful coeds wonder why their campus boy friends desert them (after they've wed other girls who resolutely have stood for ethical principles and a wedding ceremony!).

Inherent in the normal human soul is a desire for beauty and goodness.

God must prefer it, too, else why would he have surrounded us with colorful flowers and foliage, blue skies, green grass and the songs of birds?

Even the leftovers of nature, such as Grand Canyon, are a thing of beauty and not a geological twin for our ugly city dumps!

So encourage your children to develop a hunger for things that are beautiful, good and true, as St. Paul urged.

Start by sending for the booklet "How to Stimulate Bible Reading," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Underline Soil Stewardship

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water, and other natural resources, will be May 19-26 this year, Robert G. Little of Grimesland Route 2, chairman of the Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District, announced today.

This year's theme, "A Different Place," emphasized how the many changes now occurring in the nation affect our continuing responsibility to be good stewards of the land, said Little.

Little cited the energy shortage, environmental pollution, and developments affecting the use of America's natural resources.

"We hope," he said, "that during Soil Stewardship Week, millions of Americans will pause for a moment to consider their responsibilities for the protection and use of the Lord's earth."

This year will be the 19th consecutive year that the Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District, along with almost 3,000 similar districts throughout the nation, has sponsored soil stewardship week.

The custom of setting aside special "Rogation Days" for this purpose began more than 1,500 years ago in France, when French peasants prayed for help after crop failures had brought widespread hunger.

Opening lead: Nine of ♥ South thought he was increasing his chances twofold and thus giving himself the best shot for his spade game. What he really did was reduce a surefire contract to a guess.

After North raised to two spades, South did not have quite enough to insist on game. However, he did have sufficient values to make a move towards game, and he decided that showing support for his partner's diamond suit was the bid most likely to encourage North. In this he proved to be an excellent judge, for North was at the top of his raise.

West did not want to lead from a suit where he held something of value, so he elected to lead his top heart. Declarer won the ace in his hand and ran the queen of trumps. When the finesse succeeded, he continued with the jack of trumps, and West again played low. A trump to the ace picked up the king.

Declarer now lead a diamond to his king and West's ace. West shifted to a club, and East captured dummy's king with the ace. A club was returned to the nine and West put dummy back on lead with a heart. There was no way for declarer to avoid losing another diamond trick for down one.

Declarer's play was a trifle hasty. He should have realized that he could afford to lose two club tricks if he could hold his diamond losers to one. Therefore, after drawing West's last trump, declarer should first have cashed his remaining heart winners. Now he can afford to lead a club—from dummy!

True, this gives up any chance of winning a trick with the king of clubs and presents the defenders with two club tricks, but it also guarantees the contract. After they take their two club tricks, whichever defender is on lead is employed. If he broaches the diamond suit, declarer is given a free finesse for the jack, which limits his losers in the suit to one. If the defense plays either a heart or a club, declarer will ruff in dummy while discarding a diamond from his hand, and again he loses only one diamond trick.

Varied Art Work Shown

A variety of art work by East Carolina University School of Art seniors Libby Johnson Phillips of Scotland Neck and Sheila Jane Kelly of Dubuque, Iowa is on display through May 18 in the gallery of the Baptist Student Center on Tenth St.

The exhibition features a number of interior design floor plans, elevations, perspective drawings and renderings by both students.

In addition, Mrs. Phillips is showing several acrylic paintings and pastel drawings, and Miss Kelly, some handcrafted items, including jewelry, crafts, and textiles.

Miss Kelly is also showing an oil painting, a fabric layout, drawings, and a T-shirt she designed which was adopted for residents of ECU's co-educational Garrett Dormitory.

Both are student members of the National Society of Interior Designers, and Miss Kelly is secretary of the ECU chapter.

Store Closes After 91 Years

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentina's Gath and Chaves department store, located on the pedestrian shopping street of Florida, went out of business after 91 years.

The only downtown department store to resist the trend to boutiques and suburban shopping centers is Harrods, also on Florida street.
