Carolina Telephone Employees On Strike

By CARL L. TYER
Reflector Staff Writer
Employees of Carolina Telephone represented by the Communications Workers of America union walked off the job here and in other cities in eastern North Carolina served by Carolina Telephone, around 9 a.m. this morning.

In Greenville the walk-out represented some 50 to 60 employees. Reports from other area towns served by Carolina Telephone indicated similar walk-outs had occurred at their Carolina Telephone offices.

The walk-out came after the contract between the CWA and Carolina Telephone expired last night and after union members had voted not to accept a new three year contract offer, by a vote of 1,853 to 447. Negotiations between the CWA and Carolina Telephone have been going on for approximately four months. The old contract expired May 4, but three extensions granted by the company had extended the deadline to midnight last night.

Negotiations between the union and the company started 60 days prior to the original expiration date.

CWA represents operators, installer repairmen and maintenance men with the company. Of the companies 4,500 employees, approximately 3,200 fall in the category of jobs represented by the union.

Carolina Telephone serves about 300,000 customers in 38 eastern North Carolina counties.

Don Collier, district commercial manager in Greenville for Carolina Telephone said this morning "We regret that part of our telephone team has elected to stop working, but we will do everything possible to maintain adequate telephone service."

"Subscribers are encouraged to use direct distance dialing to complete their long distance calls. Repair service visits will be made as promptly as possible, and new telephone installations will be made on an emergency basis only," Collier added.

Collier concluded "I am confident that the public will bear with us during this difficult period."

Other cities reporting walk-outs included Fayetteville, Rocky Mount and New Bern.

The major difference between the company and the union in negotiating a new contract has been a cost of living clause and pension benefits, according to Bill Holder, international representative.

The three year contract offer rejected would have raised employees basic salary payments 9.5 per cent the first year and seven per cent in each of the remaining two years.

BIG CHECK. Carolina Sales Corp. would like to cash this check but company officials report it will be returned since the amount of payment is in error. The invoice called for a payment of only $349.58.

Near $1 Million Overpayment

Carolina Sales Corp. here received a check Thursday that they wish they could cash.

Walter Whitehurst, the firm's secretary-treasurer, said that a check to Carolina Sales in the amount of $999,238.47 arrived in the mail from Dorothea Dix Hospital in Raleigh for payment of an invoice.

Whitehurst said that the check, issued through The State Treasurer of North Carolina, represented a slight overpayment as the actual invoice amount was $349.58.

He observed that the miscalculation apparently resulted from a computer error in printing the voucher. Whitehurst said that the check will be returned today.

ECU PARKING—ALWAYS A HEADACHE

I live on one of the streets in front of East Carolina University. The people on this street are harassed by students taking their driveways, making it so we can't get in and out of our own yards. B.C.

Greenville Police Chief Glenn Cannon said of this perennial problem, "We do what we can to help the people living near the University. When a vehicle blocks a driveway, we have it towed away. Besides the bother, this costs the offender a wrecker fee of $15 to $20, plus a parking fine. These streets are narrow and should have parking on one-side only, so we alternate it from one side to the other each year."

Campus Police Chief Johnny Harrell said ECU has no off-campus jurisdiction and that on-campus parking is encouraged. He said there are some on-campus parking areas which usually are not filled, particularly some unpaved lots between Eighth and Ninth Streets. "These are a long way from most of the classroom buildings, but it's the best we can do with the land available. There's a rule that freshmen cannot keep a car on campus except during weekends, and students who live nearby are encouraged to walk or ride a bike."

Vice Chancellor for Business Affairs Cliff Moore said monies collected from parking fees and fines on campus are being used to provide additional parking. A 306-space lot is now being constructed at the Allied Health Building on Charles Street. "We hope that some students will park in this lot and ride the SGA shuttle-bus to and from the main campus, relieving some of the congestion here," he said. This lot will be ready at least by fall quarter, if not during summer school, Moore indicated.

WANDERING RING?

I ordered an ECU class ring from the Star Engraving Co. of Houston, Tex. on Dec. 2, 1973. I've yet to receive it. I've written the company several times and they keep telling me they've shipped it and that I should have received it. The last time I wrote them they sent me the name of their representative in North Carolina, a man in Raleigh by the name of Phil Eskridge. They were to forward my letter to him and he was to contact me. I still haven't heard anything from him. W.O.

You should have your ring by now. A call to the Star Engraving Co. confirmed that your ring was shipped on March 8, 1974 to their Raleigh representative. Although that individual wasn't available when we called, a spokesman for him suggested we contact his worker at ECU, Larry Evans. Evans stated your name was on a list of rings available at the Student Union. Although you had been in contact with Evans earlier, you hadn't been informed that the ring had arrived in Greenville.

INITIAL MIX-UP

Hotline has received a report of a situation in which initials were the same and circumstances seemingly similar to those written up in an item in this column. We regret the causing of any misunderstanding, but a glance through a city directory will show that many, many people have identical initials.

Voted Tapes Subpoena

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee subpoenaed tapes of 45 more presidential conversations despite President Nixon's refusal to turn over any more Watergate material.

Along with the subpoena, approved by a 37-to-1 vote Thursday, the committee sent Nixon a letter saying his refusal to comply could provide grounds for impeachment.

But the committee rejected two harsher attempts to deal with the President. A motion to seek an immediate impeachment vote for contempt of Congress was tabled, 29-9. One to recommend citation for contempt but delay House action until later was tabled 27-11.

The committee also rejected, 23 to 15, an effort to open some of the impeachment hearings to the public next week. The vote is expected to keep the hearings closed at least two weeks longer.

Issuance of the committee's fourth subpoena against Nixon with only one dissenting vote — cast by proxy for an absent member — demonstrated the bipartisan opposition in the committee to the White House strategy for fighting impeachment.

"He's stonewalling," said Rep. Thomas F. Railsback, R-Ill., borrowing a term made popular by the White House transcripts.

Claim 'Link'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The staff of the Senate Watergate committee has concluded that contributions to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign by dairy cooperatives were apparently directly linked to Nixon's decision to raise milk prices in 1971.

A draft report by the committee's staff, written principally by Democratic staff members, also said there appeared to be serious deficiencies in President Nixon's defense of the price increase.

The 360-page draft report, the product of months of behind-the-scenes investigation by the Watergate committee, was circulated today to members of the committee, and a copy of it was obtained by The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the wake of three resignations that decimated his ITT task force, special prosecutor Leon Jaworski admitted that a yearlong investigation failed to turn up evidence of a major scandal in the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

case.

Jaworski wrote a letter Thursday to Rep. J.J. Pickle, D-Tex., giving a status report on the ITT probe following the resignations of the last of three assistant special prosecutors serving on the task force.

Jaworski said that although the case is not closed, "it is fair to say that there is no ### present expectation of a disclosure of such offenses."

Sources familiar with the case said they would not rule out the possibility that the task force, to be reorganized under assistant special prosecutor Richard Davis, would continue the probe in the same area. "But right now, the case just isn't there," they said.

Peace Commitment

Syria, Israel Sign

By DORIAN FALK
Associated Press Writer
GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Syria and Israel signed an historic U.S.-negotiated disengagement pact today committing them to end the fighting on the Golan Heights and move toward lasting peace in the Middle East.

A half hour after the signing, the guns that boomed across the bleak and barren front for the past 81 days fell silent, an Israeli military spokesman said.

Artillery duels that started in the early morning continued intermittently past the deadline and finally fizzled out altogether, newsmen reported from the front.

A United Nations spokesman said all signatures were completed at 6:45 a.m. EDT after a last-minute delay caused by Syria's apparent reluctance to sign the pact in the presence of newsmen.

The snag had developed about 30 minutes earlier after Israeli representatives had signed the disengagement agreement. The Syrians, expected to follow, sat still and made no move.

At that time, Lt. Gen. Ennio Siilasvuo of Finland, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force in the Middle East who chaired the meeting, announced a 15-minute recess. Newsmen were asked to leave the marbled council hall of the Palais des Nations, the Geneva U.N. headquarters.

And shortly thereafter the problem was cleared up, and the agreement negotiated by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in a marathon peace mission was signed.

WANTS THE JOB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Democratic Sen. John Sparkman announced Thursday he wants to succeed Sen. J.W. Fulbright as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Shriners of Sudan Temple participating in their Spring Ceremonial began ceremonial activities today as a golf tournament got underway at the Brook Valley Country Club this morning.

Other activities of the first ceremonial to be held in Greenville in 20 years include a Sudan "Salute to Freedom" pageant to be held at Minges Coliseum tonight, which is open to the public.

Performing in tonight's pageant will be uniformed units of Sudan Temple in a patriotic narrative and musical program and a professional patriotic singing group brought in by Sudan Temple as a gift to the people of this area.

The professional group, the Re'Generation of Nashville, Tenn., will give its performance after the Sudan units give their program which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Attending tonight's program will be N. C. Lt. Gov. James Hunt.

A Shriners parade will be held at noon tomorrow, with uniformed motorized and walking units of Sudan Temple and units of various Shrine Clubs in the area participating.

The parade units will form on Second Street and proceed south on Evans to Reade Circle when they will turn and head south on Reade and stop at Second Street.

The pageant tonight and parade tomorrow will be the only events of the ceremonial which will be specifically for the public.

All other activities will be for members of the Shrine and their families. Shriners attending this weekend's events will be from Eastern North Carolina, those clubs making up Sudan Temple.

Some 2,100 members are expected in Greenville this weekend to participate in the ceremonial.

Electronic Vote Plans Studied

RALEIGH (AP) — A special state Senate committee has decided on a general plan for an electronic voting system in the Senate chamber.

Committee members, Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt and legislative services officer Clyde Ball were in Atlanta earlier this week to inspect the two different systems in the Georgia legislature.

"We got all the information we would need to draw up specifics" for electronic voting in the North Carolina Senate, said Sen. Thomas E. Strickland, D-Wayne, a strong backer of electronic voting.

The special committee, chaired by Sen. John T. Henley, D-Cumberland, has developed a general outline of an electronic voting system.

There would be two display boards in the chamber. One would have green lights for "yes" votes and red lights for "no votes." There would be lights next to each senator's name. The second board would show the issue being voted on.

At his desk, each senator would press buttons to cast his vote. The desk sets would have a locking mechanism so that when a senator was away his buttons could not be pushed to record a vote by anyone else.

The electronic voting system would provide print-outs of the results of the voting in a matter of seconds. These would be distributed to newsmen, officials and the public.

Strickland said a system similar to that in the Georgia could be installed in North Carolina for slightly more than the $47,500 spent on the Georgia system. That would be far less than the $80,000 set aside several years ago for electronic voting in the North Carolina Senate.

The special committee wants to have the electronic system ready for the 1975 General Assembly session.

Lifetime Title For Pres. Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Yugoslav Communist party Congress has unanimously named President Tito the party's president for life.

The action was taken Thursday, and resolutions also were adopted to ensure political continuity in case of his death. Two weeks ago, the 82-year-old leader was re-elected for life as head of state.

The allegations, based primarily on the celebrated "Dita Beard memo" published by columnist Jack Anderson, were persistently denied under oath by White House, Justice Department and ITT officials.

Jury Gives Glenn Turner Mistrial In Fraud Case

Three Charged With Break-In

Three Route 6, Greenville men were charged by Greenville police early today with breaking, entering and larceny in connection with the theft of a quantity of merchandise from Williams' Five and Ten Cent Store at 631 Dickinson Ave., just after midnight.

The three, charged with breaking, entering and larceny, were identified by Chief Glenn Cannon as Alton Ray Bradley and William Earl Bradley, cousins, and both 18 years old, and Taylor Lee Brown, 20.

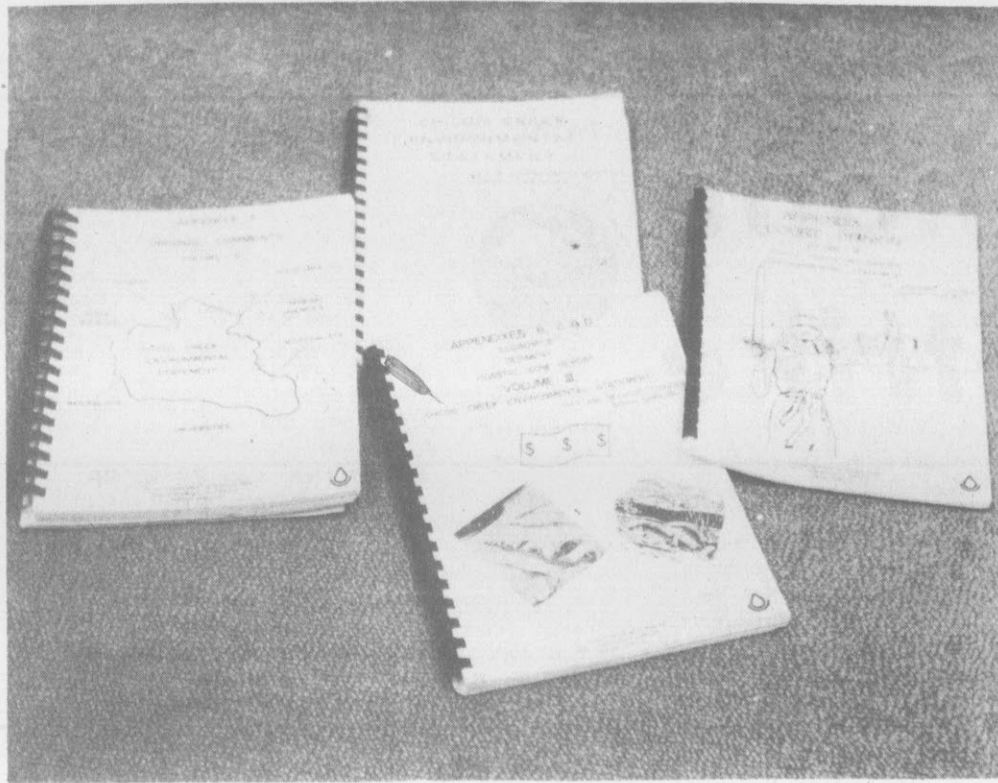

Cannon said William Earl Bradley and Brown were taken into custody by police on Memorial Drive near the Tar River Bridge about 2:15 a.m. Alton Ray Bradley who allegedly fled when officers attempted to stop the three as they rode their bicycles along Memorial Drive, was taken into custody at his home about 5 o'clock.

Officers recovered about $350 worth of merchandise that had allegedly been taken from the Williams' store, including shirts, trousers, socks, underwear, watches, belts, cigarettes, lighters and a radio, the chief reported.

Entrance to the store was gained by forcing open a rear door, according to Cannon.

In addition to the breaking and entering charge, Police charged William Earl Bradley with larceny of the bicycle he was riding at the time he was taken into custody.

Corrections People Complete Institute

Twenty-three North Carolina corrections personnel from 17 counties have completed the Tenth Institute of Correctional Administration at East Carolina University.

They are employed by the N.C. Department of Social Rehabilitation and Control.

All participating personnel received certificates at a special ceremony last week on campus, at which ECU Chancellor Leo Jenkins urged the employees to "continue to make positive contributions to the upgrading of criminal justice throughout the state."

Other ECU officials taking part in the ceremony included Dr. William C. Smith, Dr. Kenneth Taylor, Herman G. Moeller, and Dr. John Ball of the ECU Department of Social Work and Correctional Services; Dr. Edwin Monroe, ECU's Vice Chancellor for Health Affairs; and Dr. David J. Middleton, dean of the ECU Division of Continuing Education.

More than 200 in-service correctional workers have completed the ECU correctional administration institute since the program was begun four years ago.

Warehouse Designation Process Goes Slowly

With nearly half of the four-week designation period already passed, approximately 30 per cent of the farms growing tobacco in Pitt County have designated warehouses at which to sell the 1974 crop.

Stacy Evans, manager of the Pitt County office of the Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service, reported that 553 farms had designated warehouse choices by Thursday of a total of roughly 1,800 farms growing tobacco.

Evans said that growers are required to designate the warehouses at which they plan to sell this year's crop. The designation period began on May 20 and runs through June 14.

Under the designation plan, growers in Pitt County must choose a market or markets within 100 miles of Greenville, the county seat, Evans observed, in order to be eligible for price support.

Arrested New Police Chief

EASTOVER, S.C. (AP)—Within 48 hours of hiring 40-year-old Ben F. Johnson as its new police chief, this small town of 800 near Columbia saw him arrested Thursday on a charge of operating a gaming house.

Johnson posted $2,000 bond against the charge of operating a gaming house at Dentsville, another small town in the county.

Officers, who charged Clifton with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident estimated damage at $225 to the Joyner car and $255 to the Clifton vehicle.

Timothy Robert Eldredge of 102 North Cherry Court Dr. was charged with failing to stop for a stop sign following investigation of a 9:15 p.m. collision at the intersection of Third and Pitt Streets.

Investigators said the Eldredge car collided with a vehicle operated by Lula Williams Bynum of Route 1, Fountain.

DEAR ABBY: You are the only person I can turn to with this problem because I'm ashamed to tell anyone else, although I haven't done anything wrong.

I'm 22. Six weeks ago my husband was killed instantly in a motorcycle accident. Jimmy and I had been married only eight months and were fantastically happy. My whole world fell apart. I didn't want to go on living and even thought of taking a bottle of sleeping pills so I could join Jimmy.

For a month I sat and stared at the walls. Then Jeff, a friend of Jim's, came over to cheer me up. I looked terrible. He made me fix myself up, and he took me for a long drive. I don't know how to say this, Abby, but all of a sudden all the hurt about Jim left me, and now I think I'm in love with Jeff.

Is it wrong to have these feelings so soon? I loved Jim with all my heart, but now I think I love Jeff. I think Jeff feels the same way about me although he hasn't said it in so many words. Should I feel guilty? Can this be love?

MIXED EMOTIONS

DEAR MIXED: Yes, it can be love. It could also be a desperate desire to replace Jim and escape from depression. Don't rush into anything, and don't make any decisions or announcements until you are sure of your feelings. You need not feel guilt or shame for honest emotions. Good luck and God bless.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter was married for only five weeks last year. The marriage was annulled because her husband went back to his boyfriend. [Yes, you read right. I said, "boyfriend."]

Our daughter then resumed her friendship with a fine young man she had known since childhood, and they are planning to be married in church this summer.

Should we send wedding invitations to our friends and relatives? I hesitate to do this because they already gave her one wedding gift. She didn't send the gifts back because she never got around to it. IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: Invite whomever you want. The matter of a gift will be up to them.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice about what to say when making a condolence call was particularly timely for me.

I recently went to the hospital to have a baby I desperately wanted. I returned home with empty arms. Our precious baby was stillborn.

You are right. Not everyone handles his grief in the same manner. Some find comfort in talking about it. Others do not. In my case, I was so crushed, I couldn't bring myself to talk about it. Sensing this, the friends who came to see me said only: "I'm sorry."

All I could say was: "Thank you." Abby, please tell your readers that in circumstances like mine, the one thing friends SHOULDNT say is: "Don't feel so sad. You'll have another one," because I will never have THIS one again. EMPTY ARMS

DEAR ABBY: Re condolences: Many, many years ago we lost our first child when he was only a few months old. Of the many things written or said to me, I recall only one, then or now.

Someone close said: "The only thing I can think of to say is that I love you."

Reaffirmation of one's love is important. MRS. A. M. K.

Honored By Visiting Shriners

The New Bern Sudan Temple is holding its annual convention here in Greenville this weekend and thousands of Shriners will be arriving this afternoon.

The Shriners come from all over Eastern North Carolina, from Roxboro and Lumberton all the way to the coast.

Highlights of the weekend activities for the public will be the Salute to Freedom Pageant, scheduled for 7:30 in Minges Coliseum, and the colorful Shrine parade which begins at 12 noon Saturday.

The pageant, we are told, is uplifting and well worth attending. Uniformed units of the Sudan Temple will perform, including selections of patriotic music and a narrative on the nation's development. A feature of the evening will be the appearance of the Re'Generation Singers, a group of 12 young people from Nashville, Tenn.

Anyone who has ever seen a Shriners parade knows that this Saturday noon event will be outstanding. Both events are something that every citizen will want to see.

The other events of the weekend will be meetings and programs for the Shriners and their wives only.

It is a tribute to our area that this year's program is dedicated to the late William J. "Dick" Bundy, a local attorney, solicitor and Superior Court judge.

We are pleased that the Shriners have honored our area and the university by holding their spring ceremonial here. The pageant and parade will be most worthwhile to our citizens. We welcome the Shriners and their families.

ARC Addition Should Add To Effectiveness

Construction will soon get underway on an activities building for the Walter Jones Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, which is located west of Greenville.

The building will cost around $512,000. Congressman Jones sponsored the legislation which resulted in the construction of the ARC while he was a state senator.

Since its establishment, the center has been most active in the rehabilitation of alcoholics and this new addition to its facilities should make the center even more effective.

State Getting Compact Cars

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—The average motorist isn't the only one worried about the rising fuel costs and higher auto prices. The state is moving strongly into the compact car field. And as the biggest car-owning operation around, the impact is not taken lightly.

Already, the state's purchasing and contract operation has bought just under 1,000 compact Plymouth Valiants—the low-bid vehicle—instead of the full-size cars which had previously been bought.

A. W. Allers, vehicle specialist with the purchasing unit, said the goal is to switch about 75 per cent of the state's automobiles to the compact size over the next two or three years.

Some of the larger cars will be kept since station wagons and larger passenger capacity are occasionally needed in specific jobs.

Savings Eyed

Overall, though, Allers foresees considerable savings in the switch.

The Valiants bought by the state are equipped with air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, and radios. Still, the unit cost is $2,846, compared to an average cost of $3,200 per car for the full-size vehicle.

Besides the savings of some $350 per car in the purchase price, Allers said he is noting a "tremendous difference... in gasoline mileage." The compact is averaging 18 to 20 miles per gallon of gas as opposed to an average of 12 to 14 miles per gallon on the full-size Plymouth and Matador vehicles previously used widely.

Allers said the state should also benefit from the sale of the used cars which are generally phased out after three years or 60,000 miles. He said the surplus sale of the full-sized used cars has been surprisingly good, despite the fuel situation. Sales lagged badly in February, but are now back to normal.

There also had been some talk previously about switching some Highway Patrol cars to the compact size, but Allers said that has proved impossible.

Not For Police

"The manufacturers just refuse to make a car of that size equipped for police work. They insist a car should be full size, and we are not willing to make the switch on our own."

The state, incidentally, owns more than 23,000 on-the-road vehicles, including trucks and school buses. About 6,000 of those are automobiles, including those operated at state institutions, colleges and public schools.

Charles Williams, supervisor of the state's central motor pool in Raleigh where the largest concentration of state cars is kept said the gasoline shortage has produced another side effect, causing more demand on his operation.

"Until this came along, many employees would drive their own cars and collect mileage from the state. But when they couldn't get gas and the price shot up, our demand went up."

Williams now has between 850 to 875 vehicles in the motor pool, with some on permanent assignment to various state operations, the rest available for use temporarily.

He said a study of the possibility of going to even smaller cars, possibly the sub-compact area such as Pinto, Vega, or Gremlin, shows that would not be wise.

"With the Valiant size, which isn't really that small a car, you can carry four adults, and some gear. But in the smaller cars, you usually can't carry more than two people on a trip," Williams said.

Some sub-compacts are being bought by local governments and display permanent tags, but Williams said you can tell the difference by looking at the license plate. State-owned vehicles have a yellow-gold plate with PX, PY, or PZ prefixes. County and city vehicles use silver plates.

Demonstrating the savings from going to compact, Williams said he was able to get 200 new cars at central motor pool instead of the 180 he planned on. He expects the switch to save some 500 gallons of gas a year.

SOS Involves Kenneth Rush

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—Behind President Nixon's S.O.S. to Under Secretary of State Kenneth Rush lies far more than the search for a White House economic coordinator, the role originally planned for him and for which businessman-lawyer Rush seems only marginally suited.

Rather, Mr. Nixon's decision to bring the 64-year-old Rush, his one-time law-school professor, into the beleaguered White House was dictated by worsening policy feuds within the President's official family and the continuing erosion of White House influence over the vast federal bureaucracy. Mr. Nixon, in short, has awakened to the fact long understood by most of his top officials and the Republican leaders in Congress: that White House chief of staff Alexander Haig is now staggering under his remorseless work load and must have help.

Thus, Rush's real mission will be to moderate and soothe policy clashes between such ambitious satraps as Roy Ash, head of the powerful Office of Management and Budget, Secretary of the Treasury William Simon and domestic council chief Kenneth Cole.

Work relief for Haig has now become vital for Mr. Nixon's White House. When he first agreed to take over as chief of staff from ousted H. R. Haldeman, Haig was promised complete insulation from Watergate. That pledge barely survived the drying of the ink on his presidential commission.

As a result, Haig soon found himself immersed in tortuous backroom strategy sessions over how Mr. Nixon should handle the enveloping Watergate and impeachment disasters and also charged with top-level responsibility in dealing with day-to-day operations of the government. That meant decision-making of a profoundly difficult character: deciding, for example, whether Ash or Simon should run the government's energy policy.

One result: an atmosphere of perpetual haste and frenzy in the office of the usually unflappable Haig which led him to actually telephone Newsweek magazine late on Sunday night, May 19, to seek revisions in a story on Haig that was already locked in type. In a more normal time, Haig would not have considered such an intrusion.

A major part of Rush's new White House job will be to take over much of Haig's role in trying to coordinate domestic policy and keep the federal government from flying apart under the pressures of impeachment politics.

Rush is not exactly rushing in to help his one-time law student. Just before Christmas last year, a White House press release had actually been drafted announcing that Rush was leaving the State Department for the top White House Watergate strategy role. In preparation for that unenviable job, Rush immersed himself in the most crucial Watergate tapes and concluded that Mr. Nixon was innocent of the Watergate cover-up charges.

But that switch to the White House was cancelled at literally the last minute by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, who insisted that Rush stay at State for at least a few more months.

Now, the crisis over the White House staff leaves no option, as both the President and Rush perceive it. Mr. Nixon's two top domestic aides in the post-Watergate White House, Melvin Laird and Bryce Harlow, have both quit. Dean Burch, signed on as the newest top-level White House hand last February, is in an ambiguous role—ostensibly working with the regulatory agencies but in fact being used more as a political point-man with Republican congressmen and party officials.

In short, ever since the departure of Laird and Harlow, their workloads have been heaped on the sagging shoulders of the sleepless Haig, with Ash and Cole, both armed with ambitious staffs of their own, competing against each other and the cabinet departments for a larger slice of power.

For Rush, the new role as White House moderator is not an enviable one. As one experienced White House (Continued on page 5)

A White House Denial

WASHINGTON—I was walking past the White House the other night when I heard this voice.

"Damn media." "Who's speaking?" I asked in fright.

"I'm speaking," said the voice. "I'm the White House."

"Don't kid me," I said. "Buildings can't talk."

"Oh yeah," the voice said. "Then why do you people keep writing 'The White House said today it wasn't going to hand over any more tapes' or 'The White House denied accepting any Howard Hughes money to finance the election'?"

"That's just a figure of speech," I said. "Everyone knows we're not talking about the White House—we're talking about the people in it."

"It's easy for you to say that. But if you were sitting where I'm sitting you wouldn't think it was funny. I haven't done anything. I'm clean as a hound's tooth and everyone lays everything on me. Houses have feelings, too."

"This is ridiculous," I told the White House. "No one is blaming you for anything that went on there. As far as most people are concerned, you're a pillar of the community." "Maybe," the voice replied, "but the other night I heard Dan Rather say on television that the White House planned to stonewall the House Judiciary Committee. I've never stonewalled anyone in my life."

"Then John Chancellor said the White House decided to hang tough against special prosecutor Jaworski. How can a house hang tough?"

"I see what you mean." "I've had a lot of people live in me; some have been good and some have been bad, but it says right in the lease I am not responsible for anything they do. All I'm supposed to do is provide shelter from the elements and keep up a good facade. Now everyone is throwing stones at me."

"It does seem unfair that the media has played loose with you," I said, "but I'm certain it was just an oversight."

ART

The voice was trembling. "I can understand it when they talk about the Pentagon. That's a bad building. When they say the Pentagon asked for $100 billion, naturally people are going to get sore. Or when the Pentagon admits to an overrun on a nuclear aircraft carrier. But I've never done anything like that. All I've ever done is hold receptions, entertain tourists and pose for pictures. Why doesn't the media ever write about that?"

"I guess it's your location," I said. "You're an easy target for every reporter in this town."

"Well, I'm staying here," the voice said, "even if what's-his-name gets impeached. Good gravy, just the other day I saw a headline in a newspaper which said 'White House Announces New Rise in Cost of Living.' I did no such thing. Why would I be stupid enough to announce something like that?"

"Look, I'm busy," I said. "What do you want from me?" "I thought you could use a column," he said chortling. "Take any one on the front porch you want."

"Very funny," I said, "but I've been sucked in by the White House one too many times."

"There," cried the voice, "even you're doing it." "I'm sorry," I said, "but don't forget on thing. When you became the White House, we never promised you a Rose Garden."

Ulster Flags Flying

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Two years ago the Union Jacks which flew over Protestant strongholds in Shankill Road and Sandy Row attested to an unshaken allegiance to the British Crown.

Today the same flagpoles defiantly fly the red and white of Ulster, and the Protestant militants of the Ulster Workers' Council are sounding almost as anti-British as their sworn foes, the Roman Catholics.

This is the political paradox of Northern Ireland: the bloody five-year feud between Protestants and the Catholic minority has given them a common enemy — the British.

The defiant Protestants paralyzed Northern Ireland with a 15-day general strike and shattered the delicate British blueprint for power-sharing in the province.

The toppled provincial coalition government of Catholics and Protestants was the whole basis of Britain's political design to beat the Catholic-based Irish Republican Army's urban guerrillas.

But the council was shelved during the strike. The British design lies in ruins. Now, with the celebration bonfires still burning in Belfast's Protestant back streets, the question is: What next?

One idea increasingly popular among grass-roots Protestants is an independent Ulster.

Independence was one of three alternatives seriously proposed to British leaders Thursday by three Protestant chiefs, the Rev. Ian Paisley, Harry West and William Craig.

Craig, leader of the extremist Vanguard movement, has long talked of a negotiated independence in the hope that Protestants and Catholics could find a common allegiance to Northern Ireland.

By contrast, the Catholic-based Irish Republican Army's nationalist Provisional Wing has long pressed to make Ulster a Protestant-governed province in a united Ireland.

The Catholics evidently saw that Protestant discontent might lead to British withdrawal. All during the two-week (Continued on page 5)

During the early part of the summer, Sheppard Memorial Library will give special service to the children and young people of Greenville by cooperating with the faculty of the Vacation Bible School.

In the conference room at the right of the main entrance will be placed the books, pictures, and other items that have been reserved for Bible School use. The materials may be studied in the room or taken out for classroom use.

Later in the summer, the library may provide a group of new books and conduct reading clubs. If this is done, certificates for club work will be presented during Book Week, which is celebrated each fall.

Public Forum

To the editor:

Please allow me to reply to the Forum of May 24, concerning Aycock Junior High's production of "The Brick and the Rose." First, the production was not staged, as previously mentioned, but was presented as a Reader Theatre in which the actors sat on platforms reading from scripts.

Secondly, the play was of an allegorical nature, similar to the morality plays which originated in the churches of fifteenth century England. In these plays, as in "The Brick and the Rose," the eternal struggle between Good and Evil, fighting to gain control of Man is depicted. This same struggle has been the theme of modern Christian films such as "The Cross and the Switchblade" and "Run, Baby, Run."

The Brick of "The Brick and the Rose" symbolized the harshness and cruelty amid which Tommy, a contemporary Everyman, found himself. Evil was personified by the Prostitue whose harsh laughter (she had few lines) mocked Tommy's yielding to the temptations of the City. The Rose symbolized the Beauty and Truth for which he constantly searched, personified in Alice, whose tender quoting of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "How Do I Love Thee" offered a lucid contrast to the callousness of the Ghetto. Evil was accurately portrayed so that Good and Virtue might be readily recognized.

Pathetically, Tommy in his blind search for something beyond the violence of the slums turned to the horror of drug addiction and subsequent self-destruction. However, his tragedy has prevented at least one of the junior high students, daily presented with the temptation of drug experimentation, to refrain from this alternative. His letter was received by Mrs. Mizelle, the drama instructor, after he had viewed the production. It is such a student that the cast hoped to reach.

Teaching junior high students is a most rewarding experience. Several of my students were in the Reader Theatre, including the actor who portrayed Tommy and actress who portrayed the Prostitue. Modern Society has denied my students naivete and innocence. But they possess and express to all of us greater virtues—Wisdom and Love.

Dream Has Faded For Too Many

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — What seems to be missing from the lives of many Americans is the dream—the vision that tomorrow could only be better, the soul-deep conviction that they would participate in the future.

Like a kite flying out ahead, the dream tugged the dreamer into a new material reality: a new house, more money, education, a second car, a color TV set.

All through the 1960s families found that it paid to dream because there was an excellent chance of turning dreams into reality. America was always on the verge of something exciting.

The credit suppliers realized that money was needed to translate the dream, and so they made the down payment smaller, the terms easier. Buy now, pay later.

The stock market was like an elevator, lifting many people to new financial achievements. Everyone was playing the game. The number of shareholders doubled to 31 million.

Companies were formed just to provide a vehicle for investor money. New issues sometimes doubled their offering price in hours, the belief being their future was unlimited.

Some companies became conglomerates, assembling into one unit a medley of existing companies that was supposed to produce a new composition called synergism, in which the whole exceeded the sum of the parts.

Now, it seems, if the dream is still out there at all, the string is broken.

The various consumer surveys show conclusively that millions of Americans simply do not believe in the immediate future. They feel inflation is robbing them. Aren't the big increases in the essentials—food, housing, medicine?

The buying power of the production worker's paycheck is down 5.6 per cent in a year.

Education? Five thousand dollars for room-board-tuition at a prestige school? It's still a pretty dream, but who can afford it?

Forget buying that home for the time being. If you can get a mortgage at all, you probably can't afford the house. Save up for the down payment, and you need twice as much as a few years before.

Besides, there are a lot of bills to be paid, and it seems to be getting harder to pay them.

Strength For Today

TO OVERCOME THE WORLD

One of the last things Christ said to his disciples was, "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

He did not mean that triumph for the Christian would be the putting aside of tribulation. The disciple was to find his triumph in tribulation. If sorrow and defeat, if injustice and the rankling slights of men crushed him or made him bitter, then was a man in truth defeated. But if he rose above these things and made them a point of departure whereby he could better serve God, then was that man triumphant over circumstances.

It has sometimes been said that Christ urged men to submit to the circumstances of life. What Christ really taught his disciples was to triumph over the circumstances of life. If one was smitten he was not to cower and submit; he was cheerfully to turn the other cheek and to show the world that nothing it could do would make him bitter.

Religious Events Said Often Biggest News

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hind-sight puts events in clearer perspective and points up the really decisive occurrences, the news that shapes history. From that long-range view, some experts have found that the biggest stories often have been religious.

"It came as a great surprise," says Will H. Yolen, chairman of the publishing committee of the Overseas Press Club. The club recently tapped the seasoned news judgment of members in compiling a list of the greatest news happenings of all time.

Of 140 suggestions, he says at least a third of them fell in the religious category. The club's board, made up of veteran correspondents, whittled the list to 23 top events for a book to be called "Newsbreak." Eight of those prime occurrences were of a religious nature, making the subject loom larger than any other over the long stretch of time in the making of really big news.

Those in the religious category are:

"The Creation," "The Tower of Babel," "Cain Kills Abel—Homicide I," "Moses and Law and Order," "Buddha—Asia's Light of the World," "Christ and the Resurrection," "The Popes" and "The Children's Crusade" to the Holy Land in the Middle Ages.

The other biggest newsmakers of history which are included, some of them also containing religious elements, are: "The First Word," "The Invention of the Wheel," "Discovery of the Circulation of Blood," "The Invention of Money," "Helen and the Fall of Troy" and "Genghis Khan and the Huns Turn Back."

Also "Gutenberg and the Invention of the Printing Press," "Christopher Columbus Discovers America," "The First Constitutional Convention," "A Word of Truth — Peter Zenger," "Gettysburg Address and the Civil War," "Beginning of Powered Flight," "The Russian Revolution," "Hitler — The Rise and Fall of Germany" and "Men Walk on the Moon."

Twenty writers, all veterans of overseas assignments for various major news organizations, are producing the volume.

Big Utility Reassignments Thrown Out For Ministers

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — Residents of this northern New York town, upset over rising electric bills, have voted overwhelmingly to throw out the giant utility that has provided their power for 74 years.

The voters of this town of 16,000 approved a municipal takeover of the power system Thursday. Final, unofficial results showed 3,636 in favor and 2,178 against — a margin of 63 to 37 per cent.

Supporters of the takeover of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. facility hailed the vote as a victory for consumers in the fight against rising utility bills.

"The consumer, the little guy that has to pay a power bill every month, had an opportunity to lower his own cost of living by voting," said John Dumas, spokesman for the town and village boards. He estimated that the switch "will pay off in a 20 per cent rate reduction at takeover."

The boards now have the authority to condemn Niagara Mohawk transmission facilities and take them over through a $4.5 million bond issue.

Niagara Mohawk, which serves 1.3 million customers in upstate New York, waged a month-long advertising campaign against the takeover.

"We have been here 74 years and we feel we are the experts in the electric utility business," said a Niagara Mohawk spokesman. The utility argued that the takeover's true cost would be about $8.3 million, almost double what the town estimated.

The issue of whether the town can go into the electric utility business "will have to be settled in the courts," said Donald P. Nims, Niagara Mohawk district manager.

FAYETTEVILLE—Sunday some 150 United Methodist Ministers of the North Carolina Conference will be preaching their last sermon in their present assignment. They will be appointed to new churches at the Annual Conference session which opens Monday at Methodist College.

Bishop Robert M. Blackburn will be presiding over his second Annual Conference Session, the seventh session of the United Methodist Church, and the 149th session of the oldest constituent member conference in North Carolina.

Burlington District, the Rev. N.W. Grant, Superintendent, and Methodist College, Dr. Richard Pearce, president, are serving as co-hosts for the 1974 session.

Major speakers for the four-day meeting include Dr. George Schweitzer, a chemistry professor at the University of Tennessee; the Rev. Ed Beck of Denver; and Dr. Major Jones, president of Gammon Theological Seminary in Atlanta.

Dr. Jones will preach the ordination sermon on Monday evening. Bishop Blackburn states that "a large class of deacons and elders" will be ordained.

At least three new district superintendents will be named by Bishop Blackburn for the Durham, Rocky Mount and Goldsboro districts. Dr. C.D. Barcliff of Durham retires after completing a six year stint, his second term on the Durham District.

The Methodist Home for Children will celebrate its 75th anniversary. Dr. T. Marvin Vick, Jr., pastor of Edenton Street Church, Raleigh for 12 years, has been named the new superintendent of the home, replacing the Rev. J. Worth Lineberger, Sr., who is retiring.

Two new staff changes will be made in the Conference Council on Ministries. The Rev. Gerald Peterson of Greenville, replacing the Rev. Keith Glover, coordinator of Children's Ministries and Camping, is already working parttime on the staff. The Rev. Belton Joyner, Jr., coordinator of leadership development, will receive a parish assignment. His successor, the Rev. R.L. Baldrige of Fayetteville, has been announced by the Rev. Charles Mercer, Director of the Conference Council on Ministries

Settlement

RALEIGH (AP)—The Raleigh Board of Education has reportedly agreed to settle a sex discrimination suit by paying $16,000 in back wages and benefits to 67 female maids.

Frost Col...

One sign of growing Protestant disenchantment with the British was an unlikely lapel badge worn by strike supporters — a piece of sponge.

It was a mark of derision for British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who went on nationwide television Saturday and accused the Northern Irish of "sponging" off the British taxpayer for military assistance.

The strike simply hardened and so too, have the thoughts of an independent Ulster.

Evans-Novak...

(Continued from page 4) savant told us: "Ken may be a soft touch for the kind of brutalities going on in this town today." But there are two things that set him apart from some others who have tried to help Richard Nixon in his extremity: a conviction of the President's innocence and an almost familiar intimacy which will guarantee him access to one of the loneliest of men.

Fetches $300,000 In Auction Of Town

By MIKE SILVERMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The town of Idria, Calif., population 2, complete with 48 bungalows, a general store, church and an abandoned mercury mine, fetched $300,000 at a public auction.

Claire Seipp, a Los Angeles realtor, outbid about two dozen other prospective customers in the auction held in a motel in San Francisco Thursday by Milton J. Wershow Co. of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Seipp said she had never been to Idria and was merely acting as an agent for clients who didn't want their names revealed.

"Their principal interest in the property is for mining reasons," she said.

The plush hotel meeting room beside a bustling freeway provided an ironic setting for disposal of 3,600 acres of remote central California mountain-land, including the ghost town and idle quicksilver mine.

But the New Idria Quicksilver Mine had seen better days. Founded in 1952, the mine, located 165 miles south of San Francisco in San Benito County, was for many years one of the 10 largest and richest mercury mines in the world.

AWAY FROM IT ALL

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried—a place where you could be alone with your thoughts—a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people. Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage—but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your church.

Let your church be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace, and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.

North Carolina hens: Market steady on heavy types. Supplies ample and demand slow. Heavies, at farm, 10 cents per pound.

NEW YORK (AP) — The failure of a rumored cut in the prime lending rate to materialize dealt the stock market a mild setback today.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 2.03 at 801.55, and losers led gainers by about 7-to-4 in light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

There had been talk on Wall Street Thursday that New York's First National City Bank might lower its prime rate today. But as the market opened, the big bank announced it would hold the key rate unchanged at 11½ per cent.

Nevertheless, prices snapped back a little after an initial drop. The Dow had been down more than 6 points after the first half-hour.

"The market's holding pretty well, considering it didn't get a prime rate decrease," observed Eldon A. Grimm at Birr, Wilson & Co. "I think there's a feeling that the great stampede to borrow funds might be over."

Grimm also noted "hope that the double-digit inflation we had in the first quarter won't be double-digit any more."

Teledyne climbed 3 to 13½ in active trading. The company offered to exchange debentures for up to one million shares of its common stock at a rate of $20 principal amount for each share.

Polaroid, under selling pressure since Wednesday, dropped another 3½ to 38½. The Wall Street Journal reported that an influential analyst had lowered his estimates of the company's earnings through 1976.

The NYSE volume leader was Occidental Petroleum, down ½ at 9. The company said it planned to withdraw an offering of preferred stock and warrants because of unfavorable market conditions.

On the American Stock Exchange, the most-active issue was Syntex, down 1½ at 44½. The Amex's 11 a.m. market-value index was down .22 at 80.98. The NYSE composite, meanwhile, stood at 45.72, down .28.

Backyard Hole Can Swallow Anything

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The four-foot wide hole in James Johnson's backyard has devoured 162 used tires and wheels, and he's a little worried about what the cavity might choose for his next meal. "The size of the thing worries me," he said. "I'm afraid it might act like a funnel and just keep sucking things down."

When Johnson's wife first discovered the hole she thought it had been dug by a gopher and started poking with a broom handle to find the bottom. She failed.

As the hole grew, the family began to think it was an old well, capped at a depth of 32 feet, where metal and other debris were found. But since the tires have disappeared, they're not so sure.

Johnson fed the cavity its last snack in February 1973. He covered it and figured he had an entire backyard once more. But this week he checked it again, since he plans to extend his house that way.

"You can see just a few of the tires now," he said, "right at the very bottom."

The Johnson's hole has been chewing for quite a while. Mrs. Johnson recalled that a family which owned the house in the 1930s filled it up with gravel, metal and other fill—all of which disappeared.

"I just wonder where it's all going," she said.

Title Nine.

These words are sending chills down the backs of college athletic directors across the country, along with a number of secondary school superintendents.

Title Nine is a portion of the Education Amendments Act of 1972. It is currently undergoing a redraft by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and upon that hangs what might be the future of athletics in the United States.

Basically, the acts calls for an end to discrimination because of sex in a number of things, including athletics. How this is interpreted can open a real can of worms.

First, before the women's liberation movement gets up in arms, we wish to state that we have always backed women's athletics, as a glance at our sports pages over the past ten years will attest. Where we have received cooperation, we have run stories, results, and the like. We have pushed for the formation of women's track, basketball and other teams. Some of these have come about, others have not.

But, if Title Nine is given the strictest interpretation, there won't be much sports left to write about in a couple of years.

According to the NCAA, which is fighting the law, such a ruling would virtually wipe out collegiate sports as it is known now. Under the law, any school which received any federal money, whether used for sports or not, would fall under its coverage. And there has been some agitation to make it include all schools.

The statute itself speaks only of non-discrimination. But now, study is underway by the HEW to decide exactly what this means.

One area concerns grants-in-aid. HEW representatives have told the NCAA that grants-in-aid or scholarships must be equally awarded between men and women, regardless of the origin of the funds, regardless of the skill levels of the prospective recipients, and regardless of the financial status or legal relationship to the university of the athletic department. Some funds, officials say, may be exempted from this—for instance, football income may be returned to that sport, but this doesn't include donations, only gate receipts.

"We have been told only 'equal opportunity' is required, not equal dollars," ACC Commissioner Robert C. James, chairman of the NCAA Legislative Committee said. "Yet scholarships must be awarded on a 50-50 basis according to the HEW spokesmen with whom we have met personally."

And the regulations themselves include a long list of items which must be equal, including training, coaching, numbers of separate teams (if separate teams are established), equipment, supplies, scheduling of games and practices, travel and per diem, locker room, practice and competitive facilities, medical and training facilities, and publicity.

"It is naive to believe this is a requirement for less than equal dollars for men and women," James added. "What else is there left to be unequal?"

The regulations also call for an election to be held each year to determine which sports shall be sponsored by a school. "(The regulations) were written by persons unknowledgable about intercollegiate athletics and about sports and recreation programs on our campuses, who did not even bother to contact such groups as the NCAA, Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women or the National High School Federation," James said.

Following the adoption of the final interpretation, they must be published, and after a time signed by both the Secretary of HEW and the President, after which they would become law.

This thus would cause panic among the universities, even those who have plenty of money. The poorer ones would sink immediately.

Watson, Leading After First Round, Is Impatient For A Win

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Tom Watson is an impatient young man.

"I've been in position to win three, maybe four times this year," he said. "I haven't won yet. I'm getting impatient. I want to win."

Watson, an articulate 24-year-old in his third season on the pro golf tour, made the observation Thursday after his course-record matching 65, seven under par. It gave him the first-round lead in the $250,000 Kemper Open.

Australian veteran Bruce Crampton was one shot back at 66 in this "designated tournament," one of three events on the schedule this season in which all of the game's leading players are required to compete.

"I had a chance to win last week in Memphis," said Watson, who has collected $62,000 this season but still lacks his first tour title. "I had a chance to win in Dallas. I had a chance to win in Los Angeles. And I was in pretty good shape in San Diego."

"My trouble is that I've been inconsistent."

"I just haven't finished as fast as I'd like to this year. I've had some good starts then let it get away."

"But I'm sure it will come."

Watson didn't miss a green, didn't make a bogey and, strangely enough, didn't make a birdie on any of the par five holes as he left the game's great players well behind.

Bert Yancey and Bob Menne each birdied the last three holes for 67s and a share of third. Hubert Green, a two-time winner this year and runner-up in last week's Memphis Open, was in a large group at 68.

At 69 were Billy Casper, Ben Crenshaw and Lanny Wadkins, who had a wildly erratic round that included eight birdies, three bogeys and a double bogey.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Masters champion Gary Player, Sam Snead, Lee Trevino and Lee Elder were in the group at 70. Johnny Miller, the reigning U.S. Open king and the sensation of the tour this season with five victories, was at 71. Defending titleholder Tom Weiskopf could do no better than match par 72 in the hot, muggy, and almost windless weather.

Fire Fighters Rally To Nip Taff By 9-8

The Fire Fighters spotted Taff Office Equipment a 7-0 lead, then came back to take a 9-8 victory last night in the Senior Babe Ruth League.

In other action, Ayden-Grifton and Washington were postponed.

Taff jumped into the lead in the first inning, scoring seven big runs. David Clifton walked and stole second, coming around to score on John Causey's single. Causey moved up on the relay and then stole third, scoring on an error on the attempted pickoff. Willie Streeter walked and Jack Jones singled, then stole second. Jimmy Peszko scored on a wild pitch. The Fire Fighters came up with one in the second. Greg Jester singled and Doug Haddock got a hit. Jay Jester walked, leading them up and Ricky Phillips reached on an error, scoring Greg Jester.

In the third, the Firemen added three more. Mike Brown singled in Streeter and also stole second. Mel Boyd walked and so did William Carraway, forcing in Jones. Jimmy Buck walked to score Peszko and Clifton hit into a fielder's choice that got Boyd at the plate. Causey singled to score both Carraway and Buck for the 7-0 lead.

The Fire Fighters came up with one in the second. Greg Jester singled and Doug Haddock got a hit. Jay Jester walked, leading them up and Ricky Phillips reached on an error, scoring Greg Jester.

In the third, the Firemen added three more. Mike Brown scored on a wild pitch. Fire Fighters got one in the fourth. Clennel Streeter tripled, then came in with a passed ball.

Taff added its eighth run in the top of the fourth. Causey singled and Streeter got a hit. Jones also singled to load them up, and a passed ball scored Causey. That made it 8-4.

Fire Fighters got one in the fourth. Clennel Streeter tripled, then came in with a passed ball.

Then, in the eighth, the Firemen rallied for four runs, pushing one in front. Mike Sutton led off, reaching when his third strike was errored. He took second on a passed ball and third on a steal. Clennel Streeter reached on an error, scoring him. Streeter moved to second on the play and stole third, scoring on another error. Greg Coward walked and stole second. Joey Baggett doubled, scoring him with the tying run. Keith Gould was hit by a pitch and Eugene Forrest singled, scoring Baggett with the go-ahead and winning run.

Causey led the Taff hitting with three, while Jones, Peszko and Buck each had two. Haddock had a pair to lead the Fire Fighter hitting.

Optimists In Eighth Victory

Coca-Cola and The Optimists each got their eighth yesterday. While Optimist was winning their eighth straight, Coke was losing its eighth straight falling to the Optimists, 10-2.

The two teams are holding down opposite ends of the standings with Coke in last and the Optimists in first place of the North State League.

The Optimists spotted Coke a run in the first but fought back to move away by 5-1 in the second and they never trailed after that.

Billy Brannigan had led off for Coke in the first with a walk. He moved around on a wild pitch and a ground out and scored on a wild pitch.

Patrick Wilson reached on an error to start for the Optimists off in the second and John Hendricks singled. Both were wild pitched up and Sammy Hodges drew a walk. An error let Wilson score after Billy Dough walked, and Jim O'Brien doubled to score Hodges and Hendricks. Jim Kernan got a hit to drive in both Dough and O'Brien.

The Optimists got another in the fifth as Glenn Moore singled, moved to second on Wilson's double and scored on a wild pitch.

Jim Kernan got his third hit in the sixth driving in three runs as the Optimists moved out to a 10-1 score. Jeff Porter had led off with a single and Dough walked. O'Brien reached on an error and Kernan brought them all in with a double. Kernan eventually scored on a wild pitch.

Jonathan McGee singled for Coke in the sixth and was able to score later on a single by Chuckie Allen.

McGee had two hits for Coke while Kernan was the only batter with more than one for the Optimist.

Shakey Bonham Comes Away With Victory

By JERRY LISKA
AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Sometimes it can be murder being a starter, but Bill Bonham has no plans to ask for a reprieve and a parole back to Chicago's bullpen.

Bonham, getting a chance as a starter for the Cubs in his second full major league season, calmed down after a shaky start Thursday and, despite being pecked apart by 11 San Francisco hits, committing a balk and unleashing a wild pitch, came away with a 5-3 victory over the Giants.

He got it because he also recorded seven strikeouts, several when he needed them most, and because Jerry Morales gave him the hit he needed most, a tie-breaking two-run double in the eighth inning.

In Thursday's only other National League game, Houston beat Montreal 4-3 in 10 innings.

The American League had the day off.

For Bonham, a big right-hander with a 4-8 record and a 4.40 earned-run average, it was his third complete game of the year. In 57 1-3 innings this season he's been tagged for 59 hits—but he's also come up with 53 strikeouts.

Bonham was touched for two runs in San Francisco's four-hit first in which he also committed the balk and issued one of his three walks. In seven of the next eight innings, the Giants' leadoff batter reached first base against him.

"My fast ball was hopping in the beginning, but I was pitching out of jams until midway in the game when I went to my changeup and I was getting it over," Bonham said.

Despite Bonham's struggle against the Giants, Chicago manager Whitey Lockman said he "wasn't close to yanking him, except for the ninth inning after Tito Fuentes opened with a single."

* Garry Maddox then flied out, so Lockman said he decided to let Bonham pitch through the next batter before considering a change. The next batter, Ed Goodson, grounded into a game-ending double play.

Contrary to Bonham, San Francisco's Elias Sosa enjoys coming out of the bullpen—or did until Thursday.

The Giants' ace reliever retired the first two Chicago batters in the eighth. But Jose Cardenal singled up the middle and Rick Monday walked, setting the stage for Morales' winning hit, a double off the left field wall. The Cubs handed Sosa his first setback of the season against five victories.

"Morales has been hitting in tough luck," Lockman said of his left fielder currently batting a shade over .240. "But his performance at the plate has been excellent. He has been making solid contact and it's only a question of time before his average will go up."

Sharon Simons Joins Ranks As New Owner Of Ranger Club

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — A secret admirer of New York Mets owner Joan Payson now has a baseball team to call her own.

Sharon Simons, wife of wealthy Dallas investor-real estate developer Pollard Simons, became a major Texas Ranger shareholder this week.

Mrs. Simmons was among the Dallas-Fort Worth group that purchased 90 per cent of the Rangers from Bob Short for an estimated $9 million.

She joins Mrs. Payson of the Mets as the only woman to own a large portion of a major league baseball franchise.

"I take it (baseball) very seriously," said Mrs. Simons, whose voice was hoarse Thursday after attending two Ranger games this week. "I get pretty excited and when the players deserve it, I yell and clap."

Mrs. Simons said her husband was approached first as a possible partner in the team, and his reply was, "Sharon's the one who's a baseball fan, you should go ask her."

Simons first learned of his wife's love of baseball in 1951, when he asked his new bride what she would like to do more than anything and was surprised when she answered, "Let's get to the World Series." She got so excited at the Yankee-Dodger games that she developed an ulcer.

Mrs. Simons was not shocked or embarrassed Wednesday when her players emptied the bench for an on-field brawl with the Cleveland Indians.

"I think when you get two teams whose players are loyal to one another and tempers flare, some fights are going to happen," she said.

Unsure Of Direction

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The Missouri Valley Conference wants to increase its membership, but policy makers aren't sure in which direction to proceed.

The mechanics and criteria for expanding the eight-team league may be determined by Saturday.

Expansion talk was given top priority after St. Louis University quit the league this week. It had been a member since 1937.

Memphis State University dropped out a year ago. SLU officials said, "It is in our best interest to become an independent at this time."

Commissioner Mickey Holmes said Thursday night that any new university coming into the 67-year-old conference must have basketball and major status football programs.

He said the expansion matter is of "very serious concern" and it is "very doubtful that a new institution will be selected" at the conference meetings. However, he said a new member or members could be selected before September.

Present conference members are New Mexico State, Drake, Bradley, Tulsa, Louisville, West Texas State, North Texas State and Wichita State universities.

Holmes, who has been MVC commissioner two years, said there was no discussion Thursday of conference dissolution.

"We're closer together now," he said. "This is the core group right now."

Elks Slip By Graniteer Nine

William Sneed scored the winning run on an error in the top of the sixth inning yesterday as the Elks won their fifth game of the year beating the Graniteers, 10-9.

The Elks had tied it up earlier in the inning when Chris Ross blasted a home run for a 9-9 deadlock. The Elks won it two batters later.

The Elks are now 5-3 in the Tar Heel League while the Graniteers fall off to 2-6.

Three runs went up for the Elks in the first. Ross walked and Sneed singled. Both moved up on a passed ball and after Garvin Ray walked, the Graniteers walked Don White to force in Ross. Sneed was thrown out at home trying to score on a bunt by Terry Skinner. Emmett Walsh drove in Ray and White with a double.

The Elks put up two more in the second. Mike Lemmond led off with a free pass and Ross singled him to second. Lenn Jackson singled to score Lemmond and advance Ross to third. He was thrown out going to third.

Ray reached on an error and second. White tripled to drive in Ray.

That put the Elks up by 6-0 but in the third, the Graniteers knocked four off the lead. Jamie Byrd singled as did Jeff James. A hit by Micah Dixon drove in Byrd.

Mike Moye was safe on an error and Mike Haut reached on a fielder's choice that got James as he tried to score. Lance Searle reached on a fielder's choice but this time all hands were safe as Dixon scored. Moye scored on a passed ball and an error on Steve Holloman's grounder let Haut score.

The Graniteers kept fighting and went ahead in the fourth. Dixon reached on an error and scored on a home run by Moye. Haut was safe on an error and Searle singled him to second. James reached on a fielder's choice and Haut scored on an error.

Pirates Sign Top Wrestler

The fruits of a third consecutive Southern Conference championship and dominance in the North Carolina Collegiate Wrestling Tournament are beginning to pay off for East Carolina wrestling coach John Welborn.

Welborn, the Coach of the Year in the Southern Conference, has signed Jeff Curtis, a Ragsdale High School (Jamestown) wrestler with a three-year prep record of 70-2-0.

Curtis is the first 1974 signee. Welborn believes "Jeff is one of the best wrestlers to come out of North Carolina in some time. He has the potential to be a national-caliber wrestler."

As a sophomore, Curtis romped to a 19-1-0 record, capturing the Mid-State Conference championship. He continued his winning ways as a junior with a 22-1-0 record and as a senior, compiled a perfect 29-0-0 slate.

Composite totals for Curtis include a North Carolina state championship, a Bull-Durham Holiday Classic Championship, a Myers Park Invitational title, two East-Central Sectional championships, and East Mecklenburg Invitational championship, and three Mid-State Conference championships. As a prepster, he wrestled in the 119-pound class. Welborn expects him to wrestle at 118 in the college ranks.

Prospect Is Killed

RALEIGH (AP) — George Henry Eickbush, former football standout at Millbrook High School in Raleigh, died Wednesday night of injuries suffered when he fell 20 feet from a building on which he was working.

It was Eickbush's first day as an ironworker. He learned on Tuesday that he had been accepted by East Carolina University where he hoped to play football this fall.

Eickbush rushed for over 1,000 yards in leading Millbrook to its conference championship with a 9-1-1 record in 1970.

Radio Magazine For Guitarists

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Guitarists tend to be a picky lot, but a magazine specifically written for them has been trying to get to strum up some business with a unique radio approach.

Ernest Beyl, a spokesman for "Guitar Player Magazine," says the approach consists of 13 half-hour taped programs that illustrate differing guitar styles as played by the greats of the instrument.

Alas, this plectrum forum isn't heard on commercial radio. Beyl says it's only been heard on about 50 college campus radio stations and wasn't really intended as a commercial radio program.

In fact, he says the stations got the programs free simply by asking for them.

He said the idea was to interest college-area guitarists in subscribing to the magazine by offering them a taste of what the professionals are doing, accompanied by a soft-sell pitch for GPM.

"So we started hunting for suitable colleges that had radio stations with a loose enough format to accommodate something like that," he said, adding that the shows began airing about six months ago.

Beyl, whose publication is based in Los Gatos, Calif., 50 miles south of San Francisco, said the musical commentator on the series is Jim Crockett, editor of the seven-year-old magazine.

Beyl said the programs feature selections from albums by such varied virtuosos as Jose Feliciano, the late Charlie Christian, Eric Clapton, T-Bone Walker and classical Christopher Parkening.

In addition, he said each show has a five-minute interview on the state of the art with well-known guitarists, people like Les Paul, jazzman Barney Kessel and bluesman Dock Watson.

None of the interviewees plug new albums or current engagements at nearby bistros "because that would date the shows and we want them to be timeless, so to speak," Beyl says.

He said the entire package cost about $3,500 to put together, including tape duplication and mailing costs. But none of the guitarists interviewed asked for or received any fees.

Seminar Is Held On High-Risk Infants

About 175 eastern North Carolina nurses participated in "The High-Risk Infant: New Perspectives in Care," a seminar program at the ECU School of Nursing.

The seminar was co-sponsored by the ECU School of Nursing, the Comprehensive Health Planning Committee of the Midwest Commission the N.C. Regional Medical Program and Ross Laboratories.

According to Therese Lawler, seminar co-ordinator, the seminar was designed to provide nurse participants with a general overview of the problem of the high-risk infant, stressing identification, care and follow-up support.

The seminar was an effort to enhance the nurses' abilities as clinical specialists in order to lower the high rate of infant deaths in eastern North Carolina.

Seminar faculty included Dr. Earl Trevathan and Dr. Ben Shappley Greenville pediatricians: Dr. Rudolph Mintz, Kinston obstetrician; Dr. Archie T. Johnson, UNC-Chapel Hill neonatologist; and a nursing team of pediatric nurses Alison Armstrong, Rebecca Jones and Hilda Norris.

A partial list of names and professional locations of participating nurses includes:

MARTIN COUNTY, Williamston - Dorothy C. Stalls, Martin General Hospital.
PITT COUNTY, Greenville - Judy N. Page and Vera D. Smith, Pitt Memorial Hospital; Alice S. Scott, ECU School of Home Economics.

Graduate At Mount Olive

MOUNT OLIVE — Three Greenville area students received degrees from Mount Olive College in commencement ceremonies recently.

Associate of Science Degrees were awarded to Miss Mary Paulette Fornes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Fornes Jr. and Thomas Emmette Stencil, III, son of Mrs. Mary Alice Stencil of Greenville and Tom Stencil, Jr. of Smithfield, Mrs. Winnifred A. Webster, daughter of Mrs. Alma Averett of Winterville, and wife of James Webster of Beulaville received the Associate in Arts Degree.

Miss Fornes plans to continue her education at Atlantic Christian College.

While at Mount Olive, Miss Fornes was secretary of the sophomore class and member of the homecoming court.

Stencil is now enrolled at East Carolina University.

While at Mount Olive, Stencil was elected Marshal and was a member of Phi Theta Kappa and the Mount Olive Chorus.

Mrs. Webster plans to continue her education and major in English.

Two Honored For Service

RALEIGH — Mrs. Martha Jean Dawson and Mrs. Mildred P. Williams, nutrition program aides with Pitt County's Extension Service, were honored at ceremonies held at N.C. State University Thursday.

The two women were awarded certificates for five or more years of service to the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP).

According to Mrs. Marjorie Donnelly, extension food and nutrition specialist at N.C. State, "the Expanded Nutrition Program helps disadvantaged families improve their diets through education and better use of family resources."

The Pitt County aides are part of a state-wide team of 300 who assist families in 97 counties and Cherokee reservation, Mrs. Donnelly added.

The program now serves more than 60,000 persons from nearly 12,500 families. In addition, nearly 30,000 youth from low-income families take part in special youth activities, such as classes and camps.

The bidding:
South West North East
2 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass
6 ♣ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

A difference of a two or three per cent might not seem like much when you are deciding between two lines of play. However, when those few points mean the difference between making and going down in a slam, the swing is substantial.

South's bidding might have displayed a certain lack of finesse, but there cannot be any question of its efficacy. Once North made a negative response to his forcing two-bid, South scorned science in favor of bidding what he thought he could make. He was a trifle unlucky to find his partner with the wrong minor-suit jack.

West led the king of spades and, in response to his partner's encouraging signal of the seven, continued with the ace. Declarer ruffed and, since it seemed the contract hinged on a 3-3 diamond split, he proceeded to draw trumps. In an effort to tempt the opponents into an error, he led out all his trumps. However, West clung to his four diamonds, and when the ace-king-queen failed to extract all the opponents' cards in the suit, declarer conceded a diamond trick for down one.

Declarer could have improved his chances slightly. The diamond suit was more likely to break 4-2 than 3-3, so declarer can test the suit while giving himself the added shot that the defender who is short in diamonds has no more than one trump. Correct technique is for declarer to draw only one round of trumps before playing the three high diamonds. This would have paid handsomely here, for East has only two diamonds, but since his only trump has been drawn, he cannot ruff. Now declarer can ruff his fourth diamond with dummy's remaining trump and make his slam.

What if East ruffed the third round of diamonds? In that case, declarer could never have made his contract, for he always had to lose a diamond trick in addition to the spade. At worst, this line would result in going down an extra trick, but that is a small enough price to pay for the chance to make a slam.

Honoring Pitt Native

The late Judge William J. Bundy is being honored this weekend as Sudan Temple's Spring Ceremonial is held in his honor, on the campus of ECU.

A native of Pitt County, Judge Bundy was widely known throughout the county, and state, and was very active in the Masons.

He held the distinction of being the first mason to hold the position of Potentate of Sudan Temple and Grand Master of Masons at the same time.

Born near Farmville on Feb. 19, 1900, Judge Bundy was the brother of N. C. Rep. Sam Bundy.

He was appointed county district solicitor by Gov. Gregg Cherry in 1948 and Superior Court Judge in 1955 by Gov. Luther Hodges.

Judge Bundy graduated from Trinity College (now Duke Univ.) in 1922 with a bachelor of arts degree and became principal of the Pinetown High School in Beaufort County for one year and assistant principal of the Bethel High School for one year.

After a year of teaching in Bethel, he attended Cumberland Univ. law school in Lebanon, Tenn. and completed his legal education at Wake Forest Univ. in the summer of 1925. Following this he was principal of Speed High School in Edgecombe Co. for one year, after which he moved to Bethel in 1926 and began the practice of law.

He moved his law practice to Greenville in 1927 and moved his residence to Greenville in 1930.

He was married to the former Ruth Carson of Bethel in 1925, and they had one child, a daughter, who is now Mrs. Alice B. Glover of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

He was installed as Grand Master of Masons of North Carolina in 1946, and was the first Pitt County resident to hold this office.

Aside from being active in the Masons, Judge Bundy was a member of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, American Legion and Pitt County Bar Association.

He died on June 26, 1970 while on tour in Europe with a Masonic group.

History Of Sudan Full of Memories Of Past Trials

Within the book, "The Great Light of Masonry" that lies open upon the altar of every Masonic Lodge, are these words, "For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday, when it is past, and as a watch in the night."

Therefore, the first few years in the life of Sudan's organization, now fifty years old, would be but a second of time, however, to those who were the great builders of Sudan Temple. The first few years were filled with days and weeks of trials and tribulations, yet, they were also filled with many hours of pleasure and companionship.

Quite frequently great movements can be traced to a brilliant idea in the mind of one man, a dreamer, perhaps, who possessed an innate desire for a better environment, for better opportunities to cement fraternal relationships. To create the new and to preserve the best of the old have been the genius of the new America. As Kemp says in the concluding stanza of his poem entitled "God the Architect"; "But chief of all thy wondrous works, supreme of all thy plan, thou hast put an upward reach into the heart of man." Such an upward reach was planted in the heart of one of New Bern's most beloved citizens, Noble Joseph F. Rhem, in the second decade of the twentieth century when he initiated steps to have a Shrine Temple located in New Bern to serve the eastern half of North Carolina. He was a member of Oasis Temple and that Temple graciously assumed the responsibilities of sponsorship.

Dispensation for the establishment of Sudan Temple was received July 13, 1916, and formal institution ceremonies were held four months later on November 22, 1916, at 2:30 P.M. Tremendous interest had already been manifested, evidenced by the fact that on the day of institution there were 106 candidates and 30 affiliates received into the membership of Sudan Temple.

On May 24, 1917, Sudan Temple held its first Spring Ceremonial in Rocky Mount, with 125 candidates created Nobles of the Mystic Order of the Shrine after crossing the hot sands of Sudan Temple. Fourteen affiliates were also elected at this Ceremonial.

Then came the great day, the day of the Presentation of the Charter. The Charter had been granted at Minneapolis by the Imperial Council at its session on June 26, 1917.

On September 26, 1917, Sudan Temple, UD, was open in form with all officers filling their respective stations. Potentate A.B. Andrews stated that the meeting was called to receive the Charter from the Imperial Council which had been granted at Minneapolis on June 26, 1917. Past Potentate R.S. Rhineheart of Oasis Temple, Special Representative of the Potentate Charles E. Devonshire, presented the Charter and constituted Sudan Temple a regular Temple of the Mystic Shrine of North America.

Now, at last, Sudan Temple was in business for itself.

It was a realization of those in the early days of Sudan Temple that for an organization to be successful it must be one of activity, one that would create enthusiasm and that Ceremonials other than those of the annual Business Meeting should be held in cities throughout the jurisdiction of Sudan Temple.

To maintain the reputation of activity, Uniformed Units and Shrine Clubs were organized throughout the jurisdiction of the Temple. Today we have 18 Uniformed Units and 41 Shrine Clubs, all of which are promoting Shrinedom in their respective areas. Sudan's history would certainly be incomplete and not the great success it is were it not for the contribution the Nobility has made to provide income for the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled and Burned Children.

Sudan Temple is 17th in membership among the 174 Temples in North America and is recognized as one of the larger contributors of funds to the Shriners Hospitals.

Sudan was chartered in 1916 with 500 members and today its membership is at an all time high of 10,707.

Shrine Beginning Idea Of New Yorkers

It is a remarkable story, romantic dynamic, and human. One of America and Americans, as Nobles, joined in one of the greatest Fraternal Orders in the world.

It started in the early 1870s with the idea and the enthusiasm of two high-degree Masons, Dr. Walter M. Fleming, an eminent surgeon and specialist of New York City, and William J. Florence, an actor who achieved great distinction as a comedian. Their story begins with a recital of the Shrine legend that is supposed to have remained hidden for century after century behind the veil through which Florence and Fleming pierced to transplant it in the New World.

Dr. Fleming was completing his higher degree work in Masonry at the time, and in his quest for relaxation, he had the urge to establish a playground for Masons—an organization to which only Masons who were Knights Templar or Thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Masons would be eligible for membership. He discussed the idea with Florence, a Thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason. He hoped to obtain from that master showman some tips relative to a name and to a ritual.

Noble N. McClenachan was coroneted a 33rd degree Scottish Rite Mason in 1860. He was an outstanding authority on all Masonic matters and perhaps the leading ritualist of his time. He was a key figure in aiding Dr. Fleming in preparation of the Ritual.

Shrinedom's First Temple

At the outset records were kept on scraps of paper, but eventually they were transcribed by Brothers Paterson and William Fowler. There were 17 meetings on the second floor of Knickerbocker Cottage located at 426 Sixth Avenue, New York City.

It was during this period that Dr. Fleming communicated the Shrine work to himself and twelve other members of the Luncheon Club. Later Dr. Fleming communicated the work to seventeen other high-degree Masons. With this membership nucleus, a meeting was called on September 26, 1872 in the Masonic Hall, 114 East Thirteenth Street, New York City, for the purpose of formally organizing the first Shrine Temple in North America. It was proposed that the first Temple be named Mecca.

The Second Temple

The creation of Damascus Temple in Rochester, New York, was granted under a charter dated June 7, 1876, by Mecca Temple. This served to spur activity and gave Noble Fleming another idea. That idea was to select a number of prominent Masons in various parts of the United States and invest them with the rights and prerogative of Past Potentates so they could establish subordinate Temples. Creation of the Imperial Council

On June 6, 1876, Noble Fleming called for the creation of a governing body for the Order, and at a subsequent business meeting the Imperial Grand Council of the Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was authorized.

A committee of three, Nobles McClenachan, Ehlers, and Ward, was named to draft statutes and regulations for government of the Imperial Grand Council.

New Yorkers....

The first official act was to grant a charter to Mecca Temple, dated Sept. 26, 1872.

During 1876, another Temple was granted a charter. Mt. Sinai Temple, Montpelier, Vermont.

In 1877, charters were issued to Al Koran Temple, Cleveland, Ohio; Cyprus Temple, Albany, New York; Oriental Temple, Troy, New York; Syrian Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio; Pyramid Temple, Bridgeport, Connecticut; Syria Temple, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and Ziyara Temple, Utica, New York.

Since that time, the Mystic Shrine of North America has increased to a total of 174 Temples comprising 900,000 members, reaching into the Canal Zone, Canada, and Mexico.

Dr. Hubert M. Poteat, a professor at Wake Forest College and a Past Imperial Potentate, adequately described just what the organization is and its splendid principles that All Shrinedom upholds. He wrote:

"The Shrine appeals to the strong manhood of North America for a variety of reasons. In the first place, the oriental, pageantry and magnificence of costumes and regalia appeal to men who may be old in years but are still young in spirit. Little boys play cops and robbers; Shriners play Moslems and infidels.

"In the second place, the Shrine provides opportunity for fun and mirth on a truly magnificent scale. Shriners are the apostles of good cheer and happiness and as such are performing a vital function in this tragic modern world of ours. Indeed it may be said that we have 'called into the kingdom for such as this time.'

"A further important principle of the Shrine is toleration in the field of religious opinion. One of the most tragic phenomena of our times is the endless warfare among the people of different faiths and beliefs. In other words we expend our energies fighting one another instead of the devil. The Shrine will have none of it and it instructs its initiates that they are to recognize the right of every human being to worship God as he sees fit, without interference or even criticism from any man who walks this planet.

"If there is one thing our harassed world needs more than another today, it is brotherly love. This can be found nowhere in a finer and truer form than in the Mystic Shrine. This does not mean for a moment that all Shriners are the perfect embodiment of this quality. However, Shriners in general do live by this principle."

ORIENTAL BAND—A group of Shriners who furnish, with unusual instruments, weirdly harmonious music reminiscent in rhythm and sound to the music of desert

Dr. Fleming planned and achieved a complete organization, even to emblems and costumes, when he built the Mystic Shrine of North America.

The Crescent was adopted as the Jewel of the Order. In forming the Crescent the most valuable and sought after materials were the claws of a Royal Bengal Tiger. These were united at their bases in a gold setting. In the center was the head of a sphinx, on the back of which was a pyramid, urn, and star. The jewel bore the motto in Arabic, "Kuwat wa Ghadab" the English translation of which is "Strength and Fury."

The crescent has been a religious emblem in all ages in the Orient. It also had early political significance in Turkey and Persia. The ancients looked to the east for light and intelligence and found it in the crescent. One of the earliest to admit the East as his source of knowledge was Plat. The crescent, of course, was merely a symbol reference to a higher and purer source. It has remained such ever since.

Dr. Fleming and his co-workers also provided a salutation that has stood the test of time. The salutation among the Faithful is "Es Selamu Aleikum!" In returning the salutation, the gracious wish is "Aleikum es Selamu" — "With you be peace!"

TO OUR FRIENDS OF THE FRATERNITY OF ANCIENT, FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS OF NORTH CAROLINA AND THOSE OF
THE ANCIENT ARABIC ORDER OF
THE NOBLES OF THE MYSTIC SHRINE

GREETING:

We want you to know more about our great Shrine organization and what we are doing for those unfortunate little folks with the twisted backs, the crooked arms and legs, and the club feet, etc.

It is generally recognized that the 19 Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children constitute the greatest philanthropy ever known. In addition to these hospitals, the Shrine has recently completed three more hospitals for the treatment of children's burns, at a cost of more than ten million dollars. Our own Sudan Temple contributes its proportionate part and more in maintaining these facilities.

Children are accepted in these hospitals regardless of race, color, or creed. The only requirements for admission are, first, their need, and second, the inability of their parents to pay for this treatment.

Eligibility for membership in the Shrine is based on the attainment of the 32nd Degree of the Scottish Rite in Masonry, or on being a York Rite Mason of the rank of Knights Templar. Masons are not permitted to invite non-Masons to petition for the three degrees in Masonry, but after a man becomes a Master Mason he is eligible to petition for either the York Rite or the Scottish Rite in Masonry, and then the Shrine, and it is permissible to invite a Master Mason to take these other steps.

Perhaps many who will read this are already eligible to join our great Shrine organization. If so, we urge that you petition for the Shrine without delay. We are sure you will never regret this step.

Advanced age is not a bar to joining Masonry or the Shrine. Many petitioners to North Carolina lodges have been in their 70s and 80s. The late General Douglas MacArthur, who was a member of Nile Shrine Temple in Seattle, once said:

"Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals. Years may wrinkle the skin, but to give up interest wrinkles the soul. Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair . . . these are the long, long years that bow the head and turn the growing spirit back to dust.

"Whatever your years, there is in every human being's heart the love of wonder, the undaunted challenge of events, the unfailing child-like appetite for, "what next?" and the joy and the game of life."

It will be a joy and a privilege to assist you in any way we can in taking these steps in Masonry and the Shrine.

Sincerely and fraternally yours,

Robert L. Pugh

Potentate Sudan Temple.

American As Apple Pie

The Shrine is an organization as American as apple pie—despite its name!

It began in 1870, when William J. Florence, a distinguished American actor, returned from a European trip where he had been inspired by the pageantry and Oriental splendor of a private ceremony sponsored by the Arabian Consul at Marseilles, France. From notes and material submitted to him by the actor, Walter M. Flemming, eminent physician, Civil War Veteran, 33rd degree Mason, and Knight Templar, a ritual was contrived.

On June 16, 1871, Fleming, Florence and 11 Masonic friends, meeting in New York City, endorsed a proposal for the formation of a new Fraternal order to be composed of Knights Templars and 32nd degree Scottish Rite Masons, based on Fleming's ritual with its background of Oriental glamour, pageantry, and mystic splendor. Meeting at the Masonic Hall on East 23rd Street, New York City, on September 26, 1872, the 13 charter members held their first official session and formally organized "Mecca Temple" of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Dr. Fleming was elected Illustrious Grand Potentate. The original ritual, prepared by him in his own handwriting, is now displayed in the Mystic Shrine Rooms of the Masonic National Memorial at Alexandria, Va.

For a number of years Noble Fleming, Potentate of Mecca Temple from its inception, considered the organization of a national body. The second Temple of the Order, Damascus Temple in Rochester, New York, was set to work under dispensation on February 8, 1875, and chartered June 7, 1876. On June 6, 1878, in New York City, the Imperial Grand Council of the Shrine for the United States was Organized. By June 14, 1886, the word "Grand" was dropped from the name "Imperial Grand Council" and from the titles of the offices in the Council. The title of Imperial Council of the Shrine for the United States was changed to the Imperial Council for North America following the chartering of Rameses Temple, Toronto, as the first Canadian Temple. The year 1888 was a banner year with 12 new Temples, and for the first time the Imperial Council met outside the United States.

Today the Shrine has grown to a total membership of nearly 900,000 in 172 temples throughout Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, the Canal Zone, every state in the Union, and the District of Columbia. Shrine Clubs in many countries make today's Shrine a truly international Fraternity. The Shrine has thus been superimposed on the structure of Freemasonry. One out of every five Masons in the United States is now a Noble of the Mystic Shrine. Official head gear of the Shrine is the red fez; the insignia consists of the scimitar and crescent. The Shrine has gradually become the humanizing agency of Masonry, seeking to keep alive in men the spirit of youth. Mankind must have periods of relaxation, the Shrine offers wholesome companionship; yet this same enjoyment in large measure supports the Shrine's humanitarian effort, which is the 19 Shriners Hospitals For Crippled Children and the three Shriners Burns Institutes—the world's greatest philanthropy." These Hospitals and Institutes continue their vital role of returning crippled and burned children to their rightful place in society.

Salute To Freedom Honoring America

Sudan Temple's "Salute to Freedom" will take place tonight at Minges Coliseum on the campus of East Carolina University in honor of America's coming 200 birthday.

A pageant open to the public will begin at 7:30 p.m. with uniformed units of Sudan Temple performing preceding a performance by a professional singing group from Nashville, Tenn., the Re'Generation.

a 19-year-old high school graduate Abby Lovett of Mishawaka, Ind.

According to the groups manager Ron Coker, many people are surprised to see a big entertainment group being road-managed by such a young girl.

Miss Lovett handles all arrangements for the performers while on tour.

Responsible for the musical background for the Re'Generation's performances is 21-year-old Bill Thrasher, a native of Marietta, Ga.

He is sound technician for the Re'Generation and is responsible for operating the groups $40,000 sound system. Thrasher is said to create an orchestra from a mixing console.

On stage performers include: Sue McClane, 20 of Portland, Ore., Barbi Reynolds, 19 of San Diego, Calif., Lorraine Combre, 20 of Clifton, N.J., Virginia Dobbs, 19 of Phoenix, Ariz., Debbie Field, 21 of Portland, Ore., Merv Moore, 23 of Denver, Colo., Rob Schilperoot, 26 of Sunnyside, Wash., Gale Field, 24 of Boise, Idaho, Tony Mack, 21 of Marion, Ind., and Lee Young, 25 of Bessemer City, N.C.

Attending tonight's performance will be N.C. Lt. Gov. James Hunt, N.C. Grand Master of Masons William L. Mills Jr., and ECU Chancellor Leo Jenkins.

The evening's festivities will be kicked off by a performance of the uniformed units coinciding with a narrative on the development of America. The Shriners program will feature narration and musical performances in a patriotic theme.

Following Sudan's salute, the Re'Generation singers will present their special program which has been witnessed by thousands all over the United States.

The group was organized three years ago with its performers picked from auditions held all over the United States.

Ten performers appear on stage, while two behind-the-scenes members take care of getting the show off the ground and providing music for the singers.

On-the-road boss for the group is the group was developed by Deric Johnson who arranges all of the performance music. He has written over 70 songs, done extensive musical arranging and has produced numerous record albums.

CLOWNS—For the kids witnessing a parade with Sudan units in it, the Clowns are probably the most memorable Sudan Temple unit.

Master Masons Organize Shrine

The Shrine of North America was organized in 1872 by 13 men who were Master Masons and members of the Scottish Rite or York Rite. The first Shrine Temple was chartered in New York City under the name of Mecca Temple in 1872.

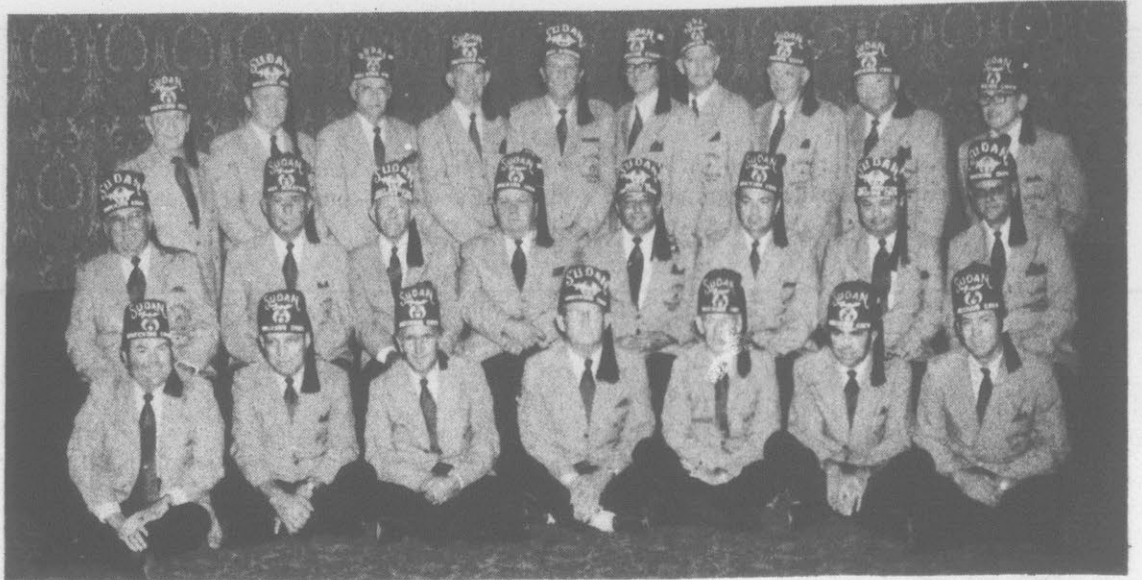

Since this organization in 1872, the Shrine has grown from its original 13 members to the present membership of 840,000, with 167 Shrine Temples throughout North America.

There are two Shrine Temples in North Carolina with the oldest Temple being located in Charlotte, for the western half of the State. It was chartered in 1895. Sudan Temple headquarters in New Bern, N.C. was chartered in 1917, and has jurisdiction over the eastern area from Durham east. Today, Sudan Temple has a membership of more than 10,000.

The Shrine of North America was the first organization in the world to enter into charitable work with crippled children and opened its first hospital in Shreveport, Louisiana, 1922. Today, there are 19 Crippled Children Hospitals throughout North America, and more than 300,000 little boys and girls have received treatment since 1922.

The operation and cost of these Hospitals is approximately 9,000,000 dollars per year, and patients are admitted who are under the age of 14, whose parents or guardians are unable to pay cost of treatment regardless of race, color, or creed.

WRECKING CREW—Sudan Temple's Wrecking Crew is a group of men who have general charge and direction of the initiatory work relating to Shrine membership. It is considered an indispensable part of the work of each ceremonial. To the Shriner, "crossing the hot sands" is a memorable part of becoming a Noble of Sudan.

CHEF CREW—Comprised of 30 men, the Chef Crew prepare, cook and serve the food for each Ceremonial. These men are skilled in their profession and can set up, cook and serve as many as 2,500 to 3,000 people in less than two hours time.

Fishfries Raise Funds

What started out to be a method to cook and serve the Moslem Feast at a Ceremonial has developed into an activity recognized all over Shrinedom. In 1956, Illustrious Clarence H. Parker was Potentate of Sudan Temple when plans were being made to hold the Spring ceremonial in Elizabeth City. Noble Harvey W. Smith offered to give the Temple four deep fat cookers. Noble Smith, who in 1956 was appointed Outer Guard by Clarence Parker, had four large deep fat cookers made and gave them to Sudan Temple to be used during the Moslem Feast of the Elizabeth City Ceremonial, after which they were to become the property of Sudan Temple for its use and also for the use of the Shrine Clubs. From this idea an offer of Harvey Smith along with the foresight of a group of Nobles from Onslow County, our present day successful fish fries for Crippled Children were made a reality.

Noble George E. Roberts of Jacksonville, N. C. made a call to the Recorder's office in the year 1958 requesting to borrow the cookers for a Crippled Children's project. Noble Roberts stated that he, along with other Shriners in the Onslow area wanted to put on a fish fry, selling tickets to the public with all net proceeds to be contributed to the Shriners Hospital in Greenville, S. C. The plans were worked out, the date set, and what was to eventually be recognized as Sudan's most enthusiastic activity was begun. It is true that this first fish fry was a small one with the net proceeds not what they are today, but the fact is that again, Sudan was demonstrating its ability to work for the Crippled Child. Sudan has always had an abiding love for the unfortunate child and its is doubtful if Noble George Roberts and other of Jacksonville in 1958 dreamed that this would be the great success it was destined to be.

From that simple start, Sudan Shrine Clubs have adopted the idea of fish fries for the Crippled Child and it is now our greatest activity. It took much planning and work to promote and sell the Shrine Clubs on this project.

Many of Sudan's outstanding Nobles traveled many miles and spent many hours explaining to the Clubs how the Fish Fries were conducted. Today, practically every Club in our

Mayor Proclaims Friday Saturday Shrine Days

Today has been proclaimed Sudan Temple Shrine Days in the city of Greenville by Mayor S. Eugene West, in honor of Sudan Temple's Spring Ceremonial.

The ceremonial in Greenville is the second one for Sudan here in 20 years.

The first spring ceremonial to be held in Greenville was also on the campus of East Carolina, then known as a college, in the spring of 1954.

In proclaiming May 31 and June 1 Sudan Temple Shrine Days in Greenville, Mayor West stated:

"WHEREAS the 1974 Sudan Temple Shrine Ceremonial is being held in honor of the late Judge William J. Bundy, distinguished past resident of the City of Greenville.

"WHEREAS the philanthropic work of the Shriners is well known and of tremendous benefit to all people and in particular to crippled children and burn victims.

"WHEREAS, Greenville is singularly honored to be chosen as the host city for said 1974 Sudan Temple Shrine Ceremonial and it is the opinion of the Mayor and City of Greenville, North Carolina.

"NOW THEREFORE, I, S. Eugene West, Mayor of the City of Greenville do hereby proclaim Friday, May 31 and June 1, 1974 as Sudan Temple Day within the City of Greenville."

Fishfries....

jurisdiction has a project for Shriners Hospitals with Fish Fries being the most popular one. From the simple beginning, Sudan Shriners have cooked and served many thousands of pounds of fish literally tons and tons of fish all for the Crippled Child. As an example for the past several years, thousands of pounds of fish have been cooked and some over one million dollars contributed to the Shriners' Hospital from this worthy project. During the past year of 1972, 150,000 pounds of fish have been cooked and served by the Shrine Club in behalf of our great phalanthropy.

Not only has this been the means by which large sums of money have been raised but it has attracted many fine men to want to become Nobles of our Mystic Order. Many of those who have been created Nobles were not even Masons, but seeing the great work being done and so much joy being derived by those involved, caused many to ask for a petition to become a Master Mason. This has truly been the Shrine in action, demonstrating to all that the love the wearer of a Red Fez has for an unfortunate child is truly a love of action and not of mere words.

Yes, what started out by a few Nobles in Onslow County has become Sudan's greatest activity. Sudan Temple is indeed proud of its thirty-six Shrine Clubs and the work they are doing.

While we have talked about the fish fries of our Shrine Clubs we must not forget that some of our Clubs and Uniformed Units sponsor other types of projects for our crippled and burned children, such as variety shows, dances, brunswick stew suppers, tapping toes dance recitals, walking cane sales, and horse shows. To those who have sponsored these types of projects we are just as grateful and the unfortunate child is just as appreciative. We do not mean to take anything away from these worthwhile projects as they are just as important to the program of Sudan, but we are trying to tell the story of the growth and success of Sudan's famous Fish Fries. Yes, it is true among the Nobility of Sudan Temple, Shrine Clubs, Uniformed Units, and Nobility at Large, that MAN NEVER STOOD STRAIGHTER THAN WHEN HE STOOPED TO HELP A CRIPPLED CHILD.

Burn Centers Aid Children

The Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine maintains a number of charitable institutions known as The Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children. The first of these was opened in September, 1922. The combined capacity of the nineteen hospitals maintained by the Shrine is 1,360 beds. The Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children are located at

1. Shreveport, La.
2. Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.
3. San Francisco, Cal.
4. Portland, Oregon
5. St. Louis, Mo.
6. Montreal, Canada
7. Springfield, Mass.

The high motive prompting the Shriners to establish and maintain these hospitals throughout the country is that of SERVICE to humanity — service in particular to the most pathetic and appealing part of all humanity, the crippled children of the self-respecting people in the low-income group. It is the purest of charities, directed to the most needy persons known, at the time when such service will be the most beneficial i.e., in childhood. It is the aim of the Shrine to place at the disposal of these little ones whose parents or guardians cannot afford to pay for treatment, the best of hospital facilities and professional talent the country affords. These advantages are for crippled children, regardless of race, creed or color, in order to alleviate their afflictions and to prepare them for useful citizenship. Treatment is free.

All Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children are under the general supervision of the National Board of Trustees, through which the Local Board of Governors, the Director and the Chief Surgeon are appointed.

The Administrator of the hospital is carefully chosen and must meet special qualifications. She directs the general management of the hospital as the agent of the Local Board of Governors. She is aided by a Director of Nursing who supervises and trains nursing personnel.

An important part of the hospital organization is a large consulting staff composed of local specialists in other fields of medicine. The Physical Therapy and Bracemaking departments, with skilled personnel are valuable assets.

Superior registered nurses and a corps of trained attendants, give the children tender and watchful care through the day and night.

Conditions are treated such as: Clubfeet, curvature of the spine, bone tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, bowlegs, fractures, deformities, resulting from injuries, and any other diseases coming within the scope of Orthopedic Surgery. If suffering primarily from some other medical or surgical condition the child cannot be accepted. Children with unhealed burns are not acceptable at the orthopedic hospitals, but application may be made to one of the burn centers.

3. A child must, on examination by the Surgeon, be found to have a condition which can be cured, or at least corrected to such an extent as to render the child CAPABLE OF SELF SUPPORT in later life.

HOW TO PROCEED TO HAVE A CRIPPLED CHILD EXAMINED

1. See any Shriner or write to: The Administrator, Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children, Greenville, S.C.,

requesting an application blank. This should be completely filled out and promptly returned to the Hospital. It must have the family data, age of the child, birth certificate, photographs, and a physician's certificate stating his diagnosis of the case. It must also be signed by a Shriner who personally knows the financial condition of the parents or guardian and of their inability to pay for proper medical treatment for this child elsewhere.

2. An application MUST be made for each child, and he is admitted for treatment in turn according to the date of the receipt of his completed application, if approved.

3. It is expected that the application be received at the hospital and approved before the child is brought for examination, as the hospital has no authority to examine or treat a patient whose application has not been approved by the Chief Surgeon and the Governing Board.

4. The Chief Surgeon will endeavor to judge from the information contained in the application if the child can be benefited sufficiently to justify treatment in this hospital.

5. The local Governing Board will decide if the child is eligible for treatment from a financial standpoint.

6. Upon the approval of the application, the child is given a clinic date for the initial examination. He is then placed on the waiting list for admission, or if treatment can be given as an out-patient, it is started at once. Admission to the hospital usually requires at least a year on the waiting list unless the child is classified as an emergency.

PHYSICAL CONDITION

1. During ADMISSION period, the waiting child should be carefully examined by his local physician, and any unhealthy conditions such as bad tonsils, diseased teeth, etc., should be corrected, that there may be no delay in starting treatment after admission to the hospital.

2. The child's skin must be in normal condition, as no surgical treatment can be started if there are boils, infected ingrown toenails or sores of any kind. When any of these conditions exist, it should be remedied before the child comes to the hospital; otherwise, it may be necessary for him to return home, his admission postponed.

3. If the child has a cold or has not been well for some days prior to the time he is to be brought to the hospital, he should not come. No operation can be undertaken in the presence of a cold or any other general disturbance, and to bring him not well would only prolong his hospital stay.

4. If mumps, measles, diphtheria, chickenpox, whooping cough, or scarlet fever have been in the family, the school or the neighborhood, even two or three weeks prior to the time that notification is sent to bring the child for admission, he should not be brought. Write to the Administrator instead, explaining the circumstances and she will assign a later date.

5. Believing that children should be protected as far as possible against disease, the chief surgeon of this Shriners' Hospital requests that children be immunized against infantile paralysis, diphtheria, smallpox, measles and whooping cough before coming to the hospital for admission. Typhoid immunization is also expected to have been given if the child is over two years of age at the time of admission—as it is not as essential to give this in infancy.

A note from the family doctor or the county health officer should be sent to the hospital stating either that these treatments have been completed or why they have not been given. When children require immediate hospital admission these immunization treatments are necessarily postponed.

As it takes time to complete these treatments, see your family doctor or your county health officer about them at once.

CLOTHING AND SHOES

1. While children are in the hospital, all needed clothing is furnished them, and it is preferred that the clothing they wear to the hospital be taken home and returned fresh and clean when they are ready to leave the hospital.

2. When a child enters the hospital the shoes he is wearing are kept for his use until he is ready for new proper fitting shoes. These will be furnished without charge following treatment, when needed.

LENGTH OF HOSPITAL STAY

1. The length of hospital treatment varies from one week to eighteen months, and the average is approximately 45

2. Whenever possible, children are allowed to return home while convalescent and wearing plaster casts, that their beds may be used for other children.

CLINICS

1. Each Monday and Thursday morning from 8:00 to 11:00 o'clock, a clinic is held at the hospital for examining new patients, treating out-patients, and re-examining or observing children who have received treatment previously.

Prosthetic clinic is held the third Thursday of each month from 10:00 to 12:00 o'clock.

2. A child to be examined or treated in this clinic is expected to have had a regular application submitted and approved by the Governing Board of the hospital before coming.

3. No child whose parent or guardian is able to pay for examination or treatment is eligible to come to this clinic.

4. Please remember the days and hours of the clinics, as the work can only be accomplished by having the children here at the time specified. The schedule of work at the hospital is planned so as to use the busy doctors' time to the best advantage for all of the children.

5. In an emergency when no application is available, the family doctor should confer with the chief surgeon by telephone, stating the condition and age of the child, and also vouching for the child from a financial standpoint in seeking permission to send him to the hospital.

In such instances, a temporary application will have to be made out at the hospital and the regular application must follow promptly after securing the necessary form.

Please bear in mind that this procedure is permissible only when the child's condition is too urgent to permit the necessary time for filing an application in the regular manner.

CHILD MUST RETURN FOR OBSERVATION

1. It must be understood by the parent or guardian of a child received for treatment that he, when discharged, must be brought back as often as is thought necessary by the Surgeon for further treatment or observation. Shriners often help

2. Should circumstances prevent the return of a child on the appointed date, the parents should write the Administrator, explaining this and stating the clinic morning that they would be able to bring the child.

3. To do all that is possible for a child, his condition must be watched and treated as he grows. Until he reaches the age limit he may have the advantage of further treatment as he needs.

VISITORS

1. Each child may have two visitors at a time, preferably the parents. Visiting hours are from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday.

2. We also, have visiting hours on Thursday afternoon and evening. All children of pre-school age may have two visitors between 2:30 and 3:30 on Thursday afternoon; those of school age may have two visitors in the evening from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. It is hoped that all parents living within a fifty mile radius will take advantage of the Thursday visiting hours.

3. For those who live greater distances than fifty miles and wish to visit on Sunday morning instead, their visiting hours will be from 9:00 to 10:00 Sunday morning. If you prefer to stay and go with your child to Sunday school from 10:00 to 11:00, this is permissible.

4. The doctor will be available on Sunday afternoon to answer questions. Please do not ask to see the doctor, or attempt to get information about your child on Thursday.

5. Children under 16 years of age are not allowed on the wards.

6. Every visitor must report to the main office before visiting a child.

7. All gifts are checked at the main office and, also, approved by the head ward nurse.

8. Please do not give the children bottle drinks, chewing gum or food of any kind, except fruit, which will be shared with the other children.

10. Parents living a greater distance from the hospital and coming infrequently, may visit their children on Saturday morning and Saturday afternoon, as well as the Sunday visiting hours, if they desire. We must ask that this special visiting not in any way conflict with our hospital programs.

11. Phone calls are permissible only for those who are unable to come and visit their child. We must ask that this be by special arrangement, only, and no child should have phone calls oftener than every two weeks. Please make these calls Sunday afternoon during regular visiting hours.

THE SHRINERS' HOSPITAL IS FOR THE CHILDREN AND EVERY EFFORT IS DIRECTED TOWARD MAKING THEM HAPPY AND WELL.

LETTERS AND GIFTS, NO GUM

1. The children may receive letters from home.

These may be addressed directly to them, care of Shriners' Hospital, 2100 North Pleasantburg Drive, Greenville,

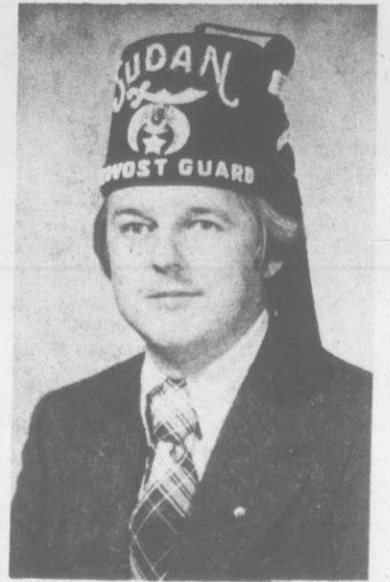

South Carolina 19609. While the child is in the hospital the parents will receive a post card once a week, if they are unable to visit, telling of his progress. If he is able to write he will be encouraged to write home. It is well for him to have a supply of stationery and addressed envelopes, or addressed postal cards.

2. Gifts of inexpensive toys may be sent, if desired. It is requested that no food or gum be sent. Entertainment of various kinds is provided for the children and they have a very happy time together.

SCHOOL WORK

Teachers are provided in the hospital during the school year so that, while the child is convalescent, he can be taught and may be able to keep pace with his classes in school.

The South Carolina Board of Education furnishes accredited teachers for the children in the hospital. Our school has also been approved by the South Carolina State Department of Education. This state and many others also provides homebound teachers for children in the home whose physical condition makes it impossible for them to attend school. The hospital teachers will be glad to help parents of all children who qualify for homebound teaching to make necessary arrangements as soon as the children are discharged from the hospital.

William Lee Mills Jr., of Concord, was installed as the Grand Master of Masons for North Carolina on April 17.

He is the son of the late William L. Mills and Alice Litaker Mills and was born on Sept 21, 1914, the eldest of eight children.

He graduated in 1931 from the Cabarrus County School system and was employed with Cannon Mills in Kanapolis after graduation. At the same time he was continuing his education in secretarial and commercial training. By 1936 he was recognized as a leader, having become assistant overseer of the Cannon Mills Sheet Department. The same year he was married to Erin Morris of Thomson, Ga.

Mills was inducted into the Army in 1942 and was chosen for Officer's Candidate School, receiving his commission at Fort Benning, Ga., in January 1943.

One week after arrival overseas he was taking part in the June 6 "D-Day" invasion of France. One week after his arrival on the Normandy coast he was wounded and received the purple heart and was promoted to Captain.

At the age of 31 he decided to start on a career of law with no college education to his credit.

After two years at Charlotte College and two quarters at the Univ. of N.C. at Chapel Hill he entered law school in the fall of 1949 and received his bachelor of arts degree in June 1950.

During his second year of law school he was appointed to the board of editors of the Law Review of 1951-52 at Chapel Hill.

June 1952 saw Mills receive his law degree. He passed the state bar exam and joined the law firm of Hartsell and Hartsell in Concord.

WILLIAM A. "BILL" HEYMAN—Second Vice-President of the Pitt County Shrine Club.

Every Shriner believes that while pleasure is something we take out of life, or something that we can put into it, happiness is something that we share. Each Noble of the Mystic Shrine realizes that no man has any real right to play unless he has also contributed to the happiness of others. Out of such thoughts and principles came the idea of the "World's Greatest Philanthropy."

From virtually the outset in the Mystic Shrine of North America there were those who realized that it must become something far greater than a playground. . . . The first step toward adoption of a project to justify existence of the Shrine came in 1914 when the Imperial Council appointed a committee to consider establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium for afflicted children of Shriners. The following year, the committee announced rejection of the proposal.

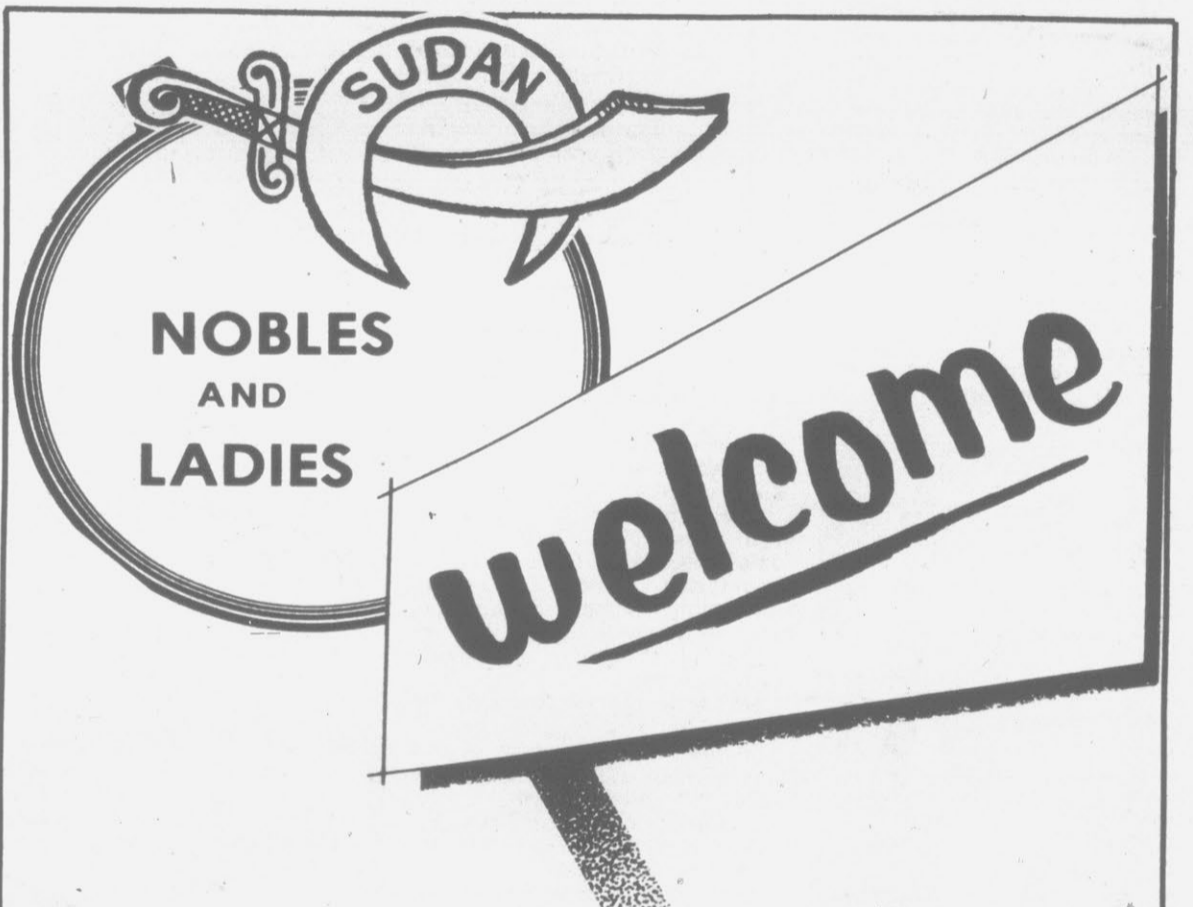

In 1919 when Honorable W. Freeland Kendrick launched the idea that the Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine should undertake, as an organization, to do something for friendless, orphaned and crippled children.

It was at the 46th Imperial Council Session at Portland, Oregon, in 1920, that Imperial Potentate W. Freeland Kendrick presented a formal resolution to establish a Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children. His resolution was adopted unanimously after a lengthy discussion. Thus, Noble Kendrick came to be known as the "Father" of the Shrine's great philanthropy.

CEREMONIAL CAST—Providing the ritualistic initiation of membership into Sudan Temple is the Ceremonial Cast. Based in Raleigh, they dress in colorful costume with Arabic motif, and are said to be the best in their performance of any to be found in the eastern seaboard of the Shrine.
