

Claim Resegregation In Performance Groupings

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Every day bright yellow school buses haul about 12,000 Raleigh school children from one side of town to the other. White children are taken to schools in black neighborhoods, and black children are carried to schools in white neighborhoods. The object is to make the racial balance in the schools more nearly equal. But the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund Inc. charges that once they get to school some of the children are resegregated into predominantly white or predominately black classes. It contends this has been the result of what the Raleigh school system calls ability grouping or performance grouping. It said that this grouping has resulted in classes for slower students that are nearly all black while classes for accelerated students are mostly white. The U.S. Justice Department has joined the NAACP agency in challenging Raleigh's ability grouping in federal court. They contend the schools are practicing discrimination. The case is still pending. Lemar Clements, an officer with HEW's Civil Rights Division in Atlanta, Ga., said, "The burden is on the school system. They must show that putting slow learners together helps them learn better." Vernon Malone, one of two black members of the Raleigh School Board, said: "The question many parents are asking is why should their children be moved by bus from his neighborhood across town and placed in a room with other black students or other white students. "There's no logic there," Malone added.

Thomas M. Keeling, deputy chief of the Justice Department's Education Division in Washington said the department has intervened in other cases involving the practice of ability grouping. "Raleigh is not the first and it won't be the last," he said. He said the Justice Department has filed motions in cases involving other Southern school districts, but he declined to say if any northern school districts are under investigation. J. Would Retain Calley

By BILL CRIDER
Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Army asked today that William L. Calley Jr. be kept locked up while they appeal an order overturning his My Lai murder conviction.

Calley, 31, is in the disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott of Columbus, Ga., ordered him freed last Wednesday because his rights had been violated during the court-martial. However, the Army secured a temporary order from Chief Judge John R. Brown of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The 15-page brief filed for the Army in the Circuit Court today asked that Elliott's order be changed to give the Army the option of either giving Calley another trial, rather than release him.

In addition, the Army asked that Elliott's order be suspended pending appeal. If the appeals court refused, the Army asked for a 15-day delay "to study the opinion of the court below to choose among their legal alternatives."

The Army said: "By ordering the immediate release of prisoner from all custody, the District Court deviated from the consistent practice of conditioning release of a prisoner upon the failure of the state to re-try the prisoner within a reasonable time."

Calley was convicted three and one-half years ago of killing 22 South Vietnamese villagers at the village of My Lai. His sentence to life imprisonment was reduced to 10 years through Army review. He has less than two months to serve before he is eligible for parole review.

Robbery By Trio

Three men are being sought in connection with an early Sunday robbery at the Kwik-Pik Market on Highway 264 East that resulted in the theft of $72 in cash and several watches.

Pitt Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that the store's night manager told deputies that three men entered the store and two of them forced him to the floor and held him there while the third man took the money from the cash register.

Sheriff Tyson, who noted that the manager was not injured in the robbery, said that the incident was reported to the Sheriff's Department at 5:43 a.m. Sunday.

The manager, who said that three watches were taken in addition to the money, told officers that the three men fled on foot following the robbery.

Asks Aid To Poor Nations

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — World Bank President Robert S. McNamara called on the oil-producing countries and the highly industrialized nations today to provide $36 billion over the next five years to assist people in poorer nations.

Addressing the opening session of the annual meeting of governors of the World Bank, he said the increasingly turbulent world economic scene has created a desperate situation for the poorest of the developing countries whose people have per capita incomes of less than $200 per year.

McNamara said the World Bank must increase its lending. The program approved by the bank's executive board for the 1975 fiscal year would provide $5.5 billion, up $1 billion from the fiscal year which ended

June 30. McNamara maintained that the world has not suddenly lost its wealth, even though there is severe inflation, unacceptable unemployment and uncertain growth prospects.

He contended the oil-producing countries have gained huge amounts while the traditionally wealthy nations may be less wealthy than they hoped to be at this time.

It is the poorest nations, he said, that are faced with inflation that penalizes the poor more than the rich.

"Almost every element in the current economic situation has worked to their disadvantage, and has been compounded even further for many of them by the natural disasters of flood, drought and crop failures. These countries need $3 billion to $4 billion more per year in the 1970s," he said.

Portugal Loses Pres. Spinola

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer
LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Gen. Antonio de Spínola resigned as president of Portugal today, claiming he was powerless to prevent the country's slide into chaos and anarchy.

The Junta of National Salvation, comprising the military rulers who overthrew the heirs of the Salazar dictatorship last April, quickly appointed as Spínola's successor Gen. Francisco Costa Gomes, long considered the president's top assistant in the junta.

GEN. A. de SPINOLA

Spínola resigned after leftists forced his rightist supporters to cancel a weekend rally in the general's honor. But the underlying causes of Spínola's departure were basic disagreements with the left over the pace with which reforms were being introduced in post-revolutionary Portuguese society.

His departure removed the last prominent conservative from the six-months-old government. "I cannot and will not take part" in a "betrayal of the spirit of the movement" that brought the military to power, the 64-year-old general declared in a national telecast.

He said part of that spirit was a commitment to "harmony among all political beliefs" and added: "This harmony will never be possible when on one hand the declared chiefs of some political parties make appeals to good sense and on the other hand respective active groups choose the path of psychological warfare through the big news media and even through violence in flagrant negation of liberty."

"I find myself facing evidence that the program of the movement of the armed forces is developing in a direction that would result in its own neutralization in a climate of a reversal of moral standards within which true democracy and liberty are impossible," Spínola said.

He charged that there has been a "systematic surrender" to "reforms carried out in a maniacal way" which threatened the capacity of the Portuguese people to define their "democratic institutions."

A 'Frank' Castro Meets 2 Senators

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro met with two American senators who said afterward they got the "impression that Cuba is interested in working toward a normalization" of relations with the United States.

"The ice has been broken," Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., told reporters after he and Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., spent three hours with Castro late Sunday night.

The two senators were to end their three-day visit today. Pell said the meeting with Castro was "frank, warm and friendly," but neither senator would say why he believed an improved climate between the two countries may be in the offing.

Javits said among the issues raised during the meeting were Cuban attempts to export revolution, the status of nine American political prisoners on the island and American property taken over by the Castro government.

Twenty-hours earlier, Castro attacked President Ford in a speech for his defense of CIA operations against the Allende regime in Chile. He also charged that the United States rather than the oil-exporting countries is responsible for the world economic crisis.

Asked how a normalization of relations could be in prospect in view of these statements, Pell replied: "There is a difference between words and actions."

The senators likened Cuba's attitude to that of the Soviet Union and China, both of which have improved relations with the United States while maintaining a tough anti-American posture in official declarations.

Javits said their visit was "in no way, shape or form approval of any of the policies of this government."

He said he told Castro he took strong exception to the prime minister's speech.

Betty Ford's Doctors Await Tissue Studies

WASHINGTON (AP) — As First Lady Betty Ford's doctors awaited a crucial pathology report to determine the extent of her cancer, they reported today she had spent a "much more restful night" and that her condition is good.

A medical bulletin prepared by doctors at the Bethesda, Md., naval hospital said Mrs. Ford "has had some mild temperature elevation, typical of a post-operative course."

They said "all laboratory data and vital signs are within normal limits," and said Mrs. Ford "has been sitting in a chair and walking for short intervals and is taking fluids this morning."

Examination of tissues removed in Saturday's operation will show how far the cancer spread in the breast and whether any other tissues are involved.

On the basis of these tests the doctors will determine future treatment and estimate Mrs. Ford's chances for full recovery from the cancer that caused removal of her right breast.

Navy Capt. William Fouty, who operated on Mrs. Ford, said he probably would receive the report Monday and other hospital sources reported it should be ready by noon.

It was not known when the doctors would complete their evaluation of the pathology report and inform the Ford family, or when it would be made public. But Assistant White House Press Secretary William Roberts said there would be an announcement and a public report from the doctors on the results.

Mrs. Ford was progressing satisfactorily, although the doctors reported some fatigue and the usual discomfort that follows major surgery.

The First Lady sat up and walked a few steps Sunday and doctors said she could begin eating today.

The President told reporters his wife had received enough flowers to last throughout her expected 10-day hospital stay. He said Mrs. Ford suggested that those who wish to send her flowers should contribute instead to the American Cancer Society.

$100,000 Bond Set For Joan Little At Hearing In Raleigh

RALEIGH (AP)—Superior Court Judge James H. Pou Bailey today set a $100,000 bond for Joan Little, who faces a first degree murder charge in the slaying of a Beaufort County jailer.

Judge Bailey ordered the bond set after a brief hearing during which he commented that evidence included in the medical report raises "some interesting speculation...You might say fascinating."

The medical report stated that jailer Clarence Allgood was found dead in a cell that had been occupied by Miss Little prior to her escape on Aug. 27. Except for his socks, he was nude from the waist down.

During the hearing Durham attorney Jerry Paul told Bailey there were "glaring weaknesses in the state's case against Miss Little."

Paul also stated that anticipated appeals in the case may require more than a year before a trial is held. He noted that he already has made a motion to move the trial of the case to a county other than Beaufort.

Miss Little has been held in the state women's prison in Raleigh for safekeeping since her surrender to the State Bureau of Investigation a few days after her escape.

Four Arrested, Drugs Confiscated By Raiders

Four persons were arrested and some $400 worth of drugs were confiscated during a raid on a house at Rt. 1, Winterville by Pitt County deputies and Winterville Police.

Arrested were Danny Scott McKeel, 26, of 803 Snow Hill Street, Ayden, on charges of simple possession of marijuana and felonious possession of MDA; Steve Champagne, 19, of Rt. 8, Greenville, on charges of simple possession of marijuana and felonious possession of MDA; Alton Earl Huggins, 26, Rt. 1, Winterville, felonious possession of marijuana and felonious possession of MDA; and Jo Ann Forest, 16, of 506 Madado Street, Kinston, felonious possession of marijuana and felonious possession of MDA.

Bond was set for McKeel and Champagne at $2,500 each on the felony counts and $500 on the simple possession charges. Huggins and Miss Forrest were placed under $2,500 bond on each felony count, according to Sheriff Ralph Tyson. Sheriff Tyson said that all four are scheduled for Oct. 23 hearings in District Court here.

The arrests, at Huggins' house between Ayden and Winterville, took place around 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Drug Crackdown

RALEIGH (AP)—A coordinated crackdown on drug peddlers was launched early today by state, federal and local officers who staged raids throughout North Carolina. A spokesman for the State Bureau of Investigation said those being sought included "some of the major distributors." Lawrence Allen, assistant director of the SBI, said the raids came after three months of undercover investigative work. Allen said the arrests were expected to exceed the 146 charges filed in a similar raid in July. "The majority arrested today will be charged with possession and sale of controlled substances. The pickups are expected to continue on through the week," Allen said. Allen said most of the new charges involved not only marijuana, but heroin, cocaine, hallucinogens and stimulants. One of the first places where arrests were reported was in Fayetteville, where Cumberland County Sheriff Otis Jones said about 25 persons would be picked up.

COMMITMENT DOESN'T HAVE TO BE VOLUNTARY
I've heard it said that an alcoholic cannot be helped unless he wants to be. But it's hard to watch someone hurt himself and those who love him, run them further and further into debt, and generally make life miserable for his whole family as well as himself. L.T.

Yes, this is hard and it's unnecessary," says Bob Hufford, coordinator of the Pitt County Alcoholism Program. "Any concerned person over 18, though usually it's a member of the family, can commit a person who is endangering himself or other people for treatment and rehabilitation. All he or she has to do is go to magistrate and fill out papers for commitment. The magistrate would then have the Sheriff Department pick up the person and take him or her to either the family physician, the physician at the Mental Health Center, or the hospital emergency room for verification of the illness and recommendation for his or her commitment.

"To quote former attorney general Robert Morgan, the basic objective in involuntary commitment proceedings is to secure proper treatment for individuals who need such treatment. In other words, the motive behind these proceedings is a curative one, rather than a punitive. Thus, the very act of commitment, where appropriate, is an integral step in the proper therapeutic program for the respondent."

Hufford went on, "We here at the Mental Health Center visit Cherry every week and have talked to many persons well on the way to recovery there who tell us they were angry at first about their commitments, but now are glad they were given the opportunity to overcome this terrible illness called alcoholism, that, though they declared they didn't want nor need help, they were crying out inside for the power to be rid of it."

We offer a special counseling program for the families of alcoholics, also, here at the Mental Health Center," he added.

For more information, one should call Hufford or some other staff member of the Alcoholism Program at 752-7151.

Writer Jean Lipman Explains What Makes Art

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Museums are crowded now and even more interest will be aroused as we approach America's Bicentennial.

But are people enjoying what they see, and shouldn't museums be more selective in their offerings? For one thing, there may be too much to see.

So says author Jean Lipman, who was for 30 years editor-in-chief of Arts in America and a former editor of publications at the Whitney Museum of which her husband, Howard, is now president.

"In the past, museums searched out and acquired art they thought was great. Now many museums are accepting all sorts of things that are not really great and the public is having a harder time being confronted with greatness. Then, too, they are looking at art so rapidly that sifting out great art is like trying to shop for a few things at a great supermarket — there is too much to pick from."

She can't help but feel, she says, the average museum-goer who walks quickly past paintings in a museum either doesn't care, doesn't really look, doesn't think there is a distinction to be made or else views art as "something that might look well over their pink couch."

Her own system is "to go through the whole thing at a slightly rapid pace," picking out a half-dozen things that she wants to look at and ignoring everything else.

In culling art for her own books, Mrs. Lipman and her co-authors see "tens of thousands of things" before making decisions. She is author of "American Primitive Paintings," and with Alice Winchester, former editor of Antiques Magazine, she recently co-authored "The Flowering of American Folk Art." She is at work on several other books.

In working with her projects, Mrs. Lipman is especially interested in the idea of looking at art so that a great image is recognized when you see it.

Art must have a direct and almost tactile impression on a viewer. In addition to the historical significance, you must get a good reaction and get excited about it.

This is the kind of thing people are not getting from historical courses, museums or catalogues, she insists. The greatest excitement in art will not be acquired by just learning the facts. There must be a striving for what is the most exciting and knowing why you think so. You must not let it flow past you — like trying to see the Mona Lisa from a ramp.

"It might be a spine-tingling sensation, but you don't know why and it gets exciting on lots of levels—often on an intellectual level when you may really know what the artist was excited about," she explains.

"When I worked with the folk art book, I always graded everything a-b-c in trying to make choices, and the more I did it, the more valid the method seemed in trying to choose something superb. You must try to make a decision."

One need not be an expert to make the right decision. Some people can look at a whole category of folk art and make decisions arrived at by experts who may have worked 50 years to learn about it. Knowledge helps, but it is a feeling of excitement that makes a piece of art great.

She attributes "the amazing interest in folk art" now to the fact that they selected exciting things with the idea of quality when the Whitney Museum ran its highly successful show not long ago.

The quality of the folk art in her book makes each work stand out — the bright eyes of a squirrel or bird, or the details of a stencil, the twinkle in the eye of a gentleman, the composure of a lady. One can get close to it all.

And getting close is important. When she painted a Calder stabile, one of two on the Lipmans' 35 acres in Connecticut, it came alive under her brush, she says, as she felt every inch of it, "all the places — thin, fat, tall and short."

In addition to the Calder, the land is dotted with the sculpture of David Smith, Noguchi and others. They have presented the works of three of their favorite sculptors — Calder, Nevelson and Smith — to the Lincoln Center.

"When we furnished our home we had a principle that we would pay no more for an antique than the thing would have cost in raw wood at a store. In the beginning we bought beds for $3," she remarked.

Many of their unique acquisitions are included in the folk art book. One landscape was bought from a shopkeeper who said, "I've got to get 50 cents for the frame."

It is difficult to make such important finds these days, but it still happens occasionally. Last year a man found four calligraph drawings at a nothing price even though, she says, "you would think anybody would know a great calligraph drawing when they see one."

Save Your Money, Report Spiritual Person To BBB

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who is very much in love with a man who says he loves me, but I can't seem to hang on to him. He disappears for weeks at a time and I don't know how to locate him. When he is gone I just about go crazy. He is gone now.

I went to a spiritual person who does healing, reads palms, and communicates with people who are far away. She says she can help me get my man back for good, but first I have to sign up for a program which costs $50 for the first session, and $10 every two weeks after that.

I don't have a lot of money, but I would sure pay that much to get my man back. Should I sign up?

LOUISIANA

DEAR LA: Save your money and report that "spiritual person" to the Better Business Bureau and the Bunco Division of your local police department.

If your man loves you, you won't need a third party to get him back. He'll COME back.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from "Scared," the 19-year-old girl who just found out that her steady boyfriend had been arrested several times for indecent exposure.

Thank you for your compassionate and understanding attitude. You said, "It's an illness. He needs therapy." Abby, you are so right.

I am a 28-year-old man who was cursed with that illness for about 15 years. It's called "exhibitionism." And it's as difficult to control as alcoholism. In plain language, it's an uncontrollable urge to expose oneself.

I was normal in all other respects and couldn't understand this fierce urge I seemed powerless to control. I went into the humiliation, problems with the law and tremendous guilt feelings I suffered until I finally found a psychologist who knew how to treat this illness. He used the "conditioning" technique, and it cured me.

I have been married for five years to a woman who stood by me through the worst. She gave me the courage to seek professional help, and the strength the stick with the treatment. Had it not been for her, I could not be signing myself... EX-EXHIBITIONIST

P.S. Abby, because I trust you, and know that you will not betray that trust, I am signing my real name and address. If you print my letter, please don't divulge my name or location. Although I am cured, and, God willing, will never regress, I am still ashamed of my past.

DEAR EX: Because I feel that an unenlightened society has misunderstood this problem for years I shall print your letter.

Perhaps in an effort not to seem self-serving, you failed to mention an important fact: Exhibitionists are usually gentle, non-violent people, and the chances of their attacking anyone are very, very remote.

But in fairness to society, exhibitionists cannot be allowed to go about traumatizing children and shocking adults.

Those who sincerely wish to overcome their problem have an excellent chance of being helped, either by psychotherapy or conditioned reflex therapy. I urge those who are still fighting this battle to seek out such help.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MY READERS. Are you properly registered in order to cast your vote next November? If you don't know where to register, phone ANY political party's headquarters (they're in your phone book) and inquire. May I remind you (with a quote from Edmund Burke) that "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing."

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Reports Given At Chapter Meet

Mrs. Norma Gray, newly elected president of the Alpha Delta Kappa, presided at the first meeting at Tom's Restaurant.

Mrs. Betty Speight will serve as vice president.

Reports were presented from summer workshops and a regional meeting in Kentucky. Plans for the year were formulated. The program chairman presented an overview for the different programs for the new year.

Mrs. Patricia Cheek presented plans for the October meeting to be held in conjunction with the Pitt County Chapter. Dr. Wellington Gray will speak about his experience as a judge for the Miss America Pageant.

The president announced Miss Shirley Markham, vice president of District Five, Alpha Delta Kappa, will be a guest at the October meeting.

President Gray will represent the chapter in High Point, Sept. 29, at a board and chapter presidents meeting.

Bride-Elect Entertained

Bride-elect Miss Carlene Arnold was honored at a miscellaneous shower Friday night in the Cherry Education Building, Black Jack.

Hostesses were Miss Diane Arnold, Miss Lois Mills, Mrs. Eloise Mobley and Mrs. Ikie Arnold.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. Carl Arnold, mother of the bride-elect, served cake squares and Mrs. Judy Hayes, mother of the bridegroom-elect, poured punch.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Mobley and upon arrival the honoree was remembered with a pink carnation corsage. Miss Arnold presided at the guest register.

Good-byes were said by Miss Mills.

Mrs. Spangler Gives Program

Mrs. Evelyn Spangler presented the program Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Sweet Gum Grove Extension Homemakers.

Her program topic was "Accentuate the Positive." Mrs. Spangler showed slides of various styles and accessories.

Leader reports were given by Mrs. Mae Briley, family life, on "Dreaming Versus Vision" and Mrs. Sam Alexander, gardener, "How to Plant Grape Vines and How to Scaple Them."

After the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Briley and Mrs. Eric Whichard.

BIG DAY IN HAMILTON. . . Blessed with sunny skies and a summery afternoon, the Bicentennial celebrations Sunday afternoon in this small Martin County town drew a much larger than expected turn-out. With visitors beginning to arrive well before the

2 p.m. opening hour, more than 2,000 people toured the 14 historic sites open to the public before the 6 p.m. closing hour. Here, a line of visitors await their turn to tour the Darden Hotel, focal point of the tour. (Reflector Photo by Jerry Raynor)

Toastmasters Stage Contest

The Greenville Toastmasters Club 2595 held its first Humorous Speech Contest on Wednesday, September 25 at the Bonanza Sirlain Pitt.

Toastmasters International is an organization whose thousands of members are interested in developing communication and leadership skills that will benefit them in business, community, and social life. They are also interested in helping one another through analytical listening and objective evaluation.

The Speech Contest has become a tradition in Toastmasters International and thousands of Toastmasters each year compete for the coveted championship which is decided at the International Convention in August. The competition begins with club contests with winners competing upward through the area, division, district, regions, and international levels.

Participants and their speech titles for the Greenville Toastmasters Club were: Bob Brice, "Justice Prevails"; Allan Chan, "East Meets West" and Delbert Roscoe, "A Day in the life of a Photographer".

First place was won by Toastmaster Allan Chan who was presented the winning trophy by special guest, Area 9 Governor Bill Edwards of New Bern.

The Greenville Toastmasters Club will host the District Convention on November 22 and 23 at the Ramada Inn. At that time, the winners of the division contests throughout the state will compete in the District Fun Speech Contest.

Club membership is open to all individuals age 18 and over. The Greenville Club meets at 7:00 p.m. on the 2nd and 4th Wednesdays of each month at Bonanza Sirlain Pitt.

Anyone interested in membership or attending a meeting should contact club president, Chris Hay at 758-3501.

Driver Charged In Collision

Michael Larry Jones of Garner was charged with driving under the influence following investigation of a 10:05 p.m. Saturday collision on Charles Street, 100 feet north of the Ficklen Drive intersection.

Officers identified the drivers of two other vehicles involved in the mishap as Samuel Clyde Hatley of 500 Elizabeth St. and William Carlton Daniel of Morganton.

Police, who listed no damage to the Daniel car, set damage to the Hatley auto at $800 and estimated damage to the Jones vehicle at $900.

No injuries were reported.

Undue Noise Against Law

Greenville residents holding loud parties—noisy enough to disturb their neighbors—had best take warning from a Sunday morning incident here, Chief Glenn Cannon said today.

Edmund King of River Bluff Apts., was arrested about 5 a.m. Sunday on charges of disturbing the peace, Cannon explained, after neighbors complained for the second time about loud music coming from his dwelling.

According to the chief, officers were called to King's apartment about 4 a.m. and warned King about the noise. When they returned following a second complaint an hour later, King was charged with disturbing the peace, Chief Cannon explained.

The police official said the department has had an increasing number of calls over the past several weekends about loud parties. Cannon explained that persons holding noisy parties are subject to arrest when other persons are being disturbed by noise from the gathering.

He indicated the ordinance will be strictly enforced.

Present Second 'LBJ Awards'

NEW YORK (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson and her daughters have presented the second annual Lyndon Baines Johnson awards to a former mayor and the head of a self-help organization for the poor.

The widow of President Johnson and daughters Lucy Nugent and Lynda Robb presented the awards to former Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta, Ga., and Franklin A. Thomas, president of the Bedford-Stuyvesant Restoration Corp., here Saturday.

The awards, $12,500 each to Allen and Thomas, were established to honor Americans who have made a substantial contribution to mankind in their particular fields of endeavor. Mrs. Johnson said of the award to Allen:

"I'm proud that it was the tool of politics, of which I have a high regard, that Ivan Allen used to achieve the changes he did in Atlanta."

Quiet Wedding For Indira's Son

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Sanjay Gandhi, the 28-year-old son of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, and a campus beauty queen had a wedding that was quiet by Indian standards.

Gandhi, an automobile designer, and Menaka Anand, the 18-year-old daughter of an army officer, signed marriage documents before a local magistrate and close relatives and friends.

Officials said both families wanted a low-key ceremony because of the Indian economic crisis. Weddings in India often are huge festive events that demonstrate a family's affluence.

Sure Indicator Of Hard Times

Perhaps we can rejoice that the Ford Foundation is not going broke; nevertheless the big foundation's problems are an indication of how much assets in various trusts have shrunk in recent years.

The Ford Foundation's board of trustees voted unanimously last week not to dissolve the organization. It had been said previous to the meeting that there was one possibility to be considered.

It seems the plummeting securities market and the general inflationary conditions had dropped the foundation's assets from $3 billion to $2 billion. Even though $2 billion is still quite a lot of money, it was a tremendous drop in assets.

Unless conditions improve the foundation may have to cut back annual grants by as much as 50 percent next year.

There are many philanthropic funds and various trusts for pensions and other matters which have been similarly hit by the falling values of securities. That is one way that many citizens who don't even own a share of stock may be affected by the doldrums of the stock market.

Probably the Ford Foundation will survive and even recoup the losses eventually, but its plight is a sure indicator of how the depressed stock market is affecting many things.

Everybody Could Share In Our Bicentennial!

Many events are planned for Greenville's bicentennial which begins this Friday and continues through the following Saturday.

It is a time when all Greenville citizens will celebrate the founding of our city before even the nation existed.

We should take pride in our city, and local citizens, as well as visitors from throughout the eastern area, will find much of interest during the ten-day event. Tickets to the events which require them should be obtained early.

Overtone Is Political

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH—Intentions of the Holshouser administration to "begin a new battle against organized crime in North Carolina" look very much like a rediscovery of the wheel to critics who see a smattering of politics connected to the activity.

Weeks after Attorney General James H. Carson took office as the first Republican this century to hold the post, he and Gov. James E. Holshouser Jr. announced intentions to "move against organized crime with all the resources at our command."

Largely overlooked in all the hoopla surrounding organization of a North Carolina Organized Crime Prevention Council is the fact that there was already such an organization, and that beginning in September, 1971, and ending little more than one year ago that body dug into organized crime "thoroughly and put forth a list of recommendations which experts say are likely to be the same put forth by any new group.

Politics? Many Democrats familiar with the situation see partisan politics at work, as Republican Carson is running for election to the post he now fills by gubernatorial appointment; a post he holds as an interim attorney general due to the resignation of Democrat Robert Morgan who seeks election to the U.S. Senate.

It was Morgan who triggered the first North Carolina Organized Crime Prevention Council, and the introduction to the report published by that group notes in the very first sentence: "At the suggestion of Attorney General Robert Morgan, Gov. Robert Scott (the Democrat before Holshouser) signed an executive order . . . creating the North Carolina Organized Crime Prevention Council."

Both Carson and Holshouser made a slight indication of awareness of the background when they noted in a low-key way that they were "re-establishing" the council. The group became operational in September, 1971; issued a series of in-depth reports on all phases of organized crime; pulled those reports together into a booklet published just over a year ago; and listed a series of recommendations for combating organized crime in the state.

Howard P. Satsky, a private attorney in Raleigh, was then a member of the attorney general's staff, and served as project director. Morgan was chairman, and Charles Dunn, director of the State Bureau of Investigation, was vice chairman. Dunn is also a member of the new probe group.

Public Notice Thus, critics contend that the timing, and the fact that two press conferences were held to announce the probe, add up to little more than public notice for Carson's campaign.

Spokesmen for the administration deny political motivation in reestablishing the Organized Crime Prevention Council, with the explanation that the recent bombing of a State Bureau of Investigation agent's car and public attention on cigarette smuggling prompted the decision.

Privately, however, sources knowledgeable of the work done before in this field admit that the new council will be limited in effort to cover new ground, and major efforts will likely go toward implementing the recommendations already outlined, many of which have not gained adoption.

The original council dug into both homegrown and national varieties of organization in crime, reported on narcotics, cigarette smuggling, organized theft and fencing activities, gambling, prostitution, pornography, corruption of officials, and crime infiltration of legitimate businesses.

The point was made in that report that an alarming aspect of cigarette smuggling is the involvement of major organized crime groups, and the inevitability that "some of these organized crime members would try to set up an operation in this state." It was noted that organized crime in 1971 and 1972 were already involved in transporting and mailing of cigarettes, and that at least one large wholesale company in this state is controlled by organized crime.

Among recommendations made previously were legislation permitting wiretaps by police under court jurisdiction; immunity for witnesses to force testimony; simpler prejury law; a statewide criminal intelligence council; and an investigative crime commission similar to a federal grand jury.

The INSIDE REPORT

The Demo Trojan Horse

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
MONTGOMERY, Ala. — confounding the hopes of Democratic leaders, Gov. George Wallace is slowly committing himself not to any ephemeral third-party presidential race in 1976 but to a drive for power within the Democratic party centered on 24 presidential primaries.

With the sudden power vacuum created by the "no draft" withdrawal of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the spectre so hideous to the national Democratic party of Wallace rampant in the spring primaries begins to take threatening shape. Only Wallace now has a hard-core, dedicated national constituency.

At the least, this distorts Democratic primaries across the country. At the worst, it means Wallace may well enter the convention with the largest single bloc of first-ballot votes — largest by far, perhaps.

If so, he would then be a Trojan horse inside the Democratic convention in position to make this demand: make me your vice presidential nominee — or else.

The "or else" is now being plotted by Wallace's top political operatives, headed by Charles Snider — not yet as a certainty but as a contingency. If the party refused to give Wallace the second spot on the ticket (a refusal which today would be assured), Wallace would then walk out and take his place on state ballots as a third-party nominee.

Here enters the politically crucial question of when Wallace would bolt.

If he left the party in anger after the party's December midwestern convention in Kansas City, delighted Democratic leaders would be spared Wallace in the primaries and would expect him to drain conservative votes from the Republicans, as in 1968.

But if Wallace bolts in the summer of 1976 after entering the national convention as front-runner following multiple primary triumphs, he could be perceived as a victim of party discrimination. In that case, the Republicans might well be helped in November. So, the Wallace threat is credible.

Moreover, Wallace can wait that long. Wallace planners say a dozen states have cleared legal third-party ballot positions for November 1976. The designated party varies, carrying such labels as American Party, American-Independent Party and Courage Party. There will be many others — perhaps in all 50 states by 1976.

Wallace professes ignorance. "I don't know anything about it," he told us in his therapeutic exercise-bedroom in the governor's mansion here.

Ordered by his doctors to bed to cure an incipient infection from removal of a tiny stitch, Wallace nevertheless looked healthier than when we saw him last spring. Obviously, all plans depend on his still questionable health.

Assured of reelection as governor Nov. 5, he is talking more philosophically these days, particularly about the economic crisis. Let inflation continue its present course, he said, and it will lead to a calamity — "the radicalization of the great middle class." With the U.S. now urbanized, he warned that the "cushion" for younger unemployed workers and their wives to return to the family farmstead to wait out the crisis no longer exists.

Wallace is searching for a Wallace economic plan. He scorns what is coming out of Washington, both from the White House and from Democratic leaders. Comparing the American condition today to the decline and fall of the Roman Empire, he sees an evermore powerful

Strength For Today

DIVINE VENGEANCE Sometimes we get the idea that God withholds his blessings in order to punish us.

But there is nothing vindictive or punitive whatsoever about God's actions. What men look upon as God's punishment, as divine vengeance upon them for their unrighteousness, is in reality God's discipline and training whereby he tries to bring them back into a satisfying way of living. God never withholds anything from us to punish us. He withholds his blessings from us only because we are not ready to receive them or not capable of using them.

We can also be sure that if the thing we want is right, the reason for withholding may be that the time is not yet ripe for giving it, or that we, because of our unworthiness, have made the withholding necessary.

God is ready to give his gifts at His own good time, only He will not give them to those who cannot or will not use them.

Just Helping Out Rocky

WASHINGTON—Once in a while I have a fantasy that is so great I want to share it with everybody. This is my latest pipe dream: A man comes into my office with a large suitcase. "Hi," he says. "My name's Nelson Rockefeller, but my friends call me Rocky."

"I'm sorry," I say. "I'm not interested in buying anything."

"No, you don't understand, I'm going to be Vice President of the United States and, in order to prove there is no conflict of interest, I've decided to give up all my worldly goods."

ART BUCHWALD

Other Editors Say A Political Fraud

(Goldsboro News-Argus)

It is difficult, perhaps cruel, to argue against proposals now in Washington to reduce taxes for the poor. To offset this, Washington proposes raising taxes on the others.

Overlooked in consideration of the people in Washington seems to be the ever increasing burden on the middle income people. They have to pay the full price for everything. No free lunches at school, no government scholarships for their children, no free hospital and other medical care, no free food stamps.

It all must come out of what they have left after taxes. The upper income groups can roll with inflation and higher taxes because their incomes and savings provide them with a cushion.

Giving the lower incomes a tax break so they can better cope with today's inflation is a politically inspired fraud and a dodge. It does nothing to slow the rise in inflation and living costs which, surely, will quickly gobble up any "relief" the tax break promises.

To give the lower income people—and all of the people of this country—some relief, the government should start cutting its own spending.

This, economists tell us, is the number one cause of what all agree is our number one problem today.

Yet, as one senator pointed out just this week, the government added more than 30,000 new employees to the public trough in a single month.

Word circulating in Washington is that congress is prepared to vote itself a handsome raise in pay and benefits AFTER the November elections.

We continue to pump billions into the economies of other countries, into wasteful programs at home and into the monstrosity ineffective United Nations and its "programs."

If Congress will cut its own spending it will make its first move toward curing the national illness. So far it has merely made feeble efforts to provide piecemeal balm that has done pitifully little even to ease the symptoms.

Management Group In Rebellion

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Managers of corporations are rebelling these days against the geographical moves that became associated with upward mobility, or success, during the 1960s.

The reaction, says Eugene Jennings, management professor at Michigan State University, is creating pandemonium in some large corporations, which had come to think of their management group as totally predictable.

"Now they have uncertain markets and uncertain supplies, and on top of those they have managers whose behavior in regard to geographical changes also is uncertain," Jennings said. In the 1960s, he said, the need to move was unquestioned.

Now, however, both managers and their wives are asking a lot of questions before agreeing or disagreeing with a planned move. They are putting their family first, after learning that all geographical moves weren't necessarily upward moves on the ladder of success.

Jennings, who pioneered in the study of corporate routes to success, has identified four common types among the immobile:

1. The middle manager, age 35 to 40, who is making $26,000 to $30,000 a year in salary. He has moved 8 to 10 times already, with probably five of those moves producing no noticeable climb up the ladder.
2. The "entree" manager, just one step above the beginner. He is less than five years into his career. He believes that husband and wife can make as much money staying put as they could if they were mobile and had only one salary.

3. The broken home type. He is a man who probably lost his marriage and home because of too many moves in the 1960s. Now he is happily married again, and he is willing to forgo success for happiness.

4. The wife who is approaching middle-age and whose children are grown up and living away from her home. She has a need for established relationships with other women or organizations. She refuses to move.

As a result, says Jennings, the reservoir of managerial talent available to a growing, geographically diversified company is shrinking. Whereas a company once could order an executive to another area and expect complete compliance, it now

Images Need Polish

By ROBERT CULLEN
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — With less than six weeks left until Election Day, the statewide candidates in North Carolina are indulging in a little last-minute image polishing.

Image polishing can take many forms; often it seems trivial. It's a little bit like the way your mother used to straighten your tie or comb down your hair on Sunday mornings before church to make a better impression on the neighbors.

It didn't change the way you were, but maybe it changed people's perception of you. That matters to mothers and to campaign strategists.

Take Rufus Edmisten, the Democratic candidate for attorney general. At one time, you never saw Rufus without his pipe. The pipe became almost as well known during the televised Watergate hearings as Sam Ervin's Cherokee gavel.

But Rufus no longer smokes the pipe now, at least not in public. Many people, including some of Robert Morgan's advisors, told him not to.

"Rufus is a dynamic young man," explained Charlie Smith, his campaign manager. "A lot of people told him the pipe made him look old and sedate."

Other Democrats say the pipe made Edmisten look a trifle too sophisticated and intellectual to voters in rural areas. Whatever the reason, Edmisten agreed to keep it out of sight.

For Edmisten's opponent, James Carson, the problem was his voice. Carson is a big, burly man. A person meeting him for the first time expects him to have a deep voice.

But Carson's normal tone is pitched high enough to be incongruous with his appearance. He's a little bit like the old matinee idols of silent films whose careers ended when talkies came in because their voices didn't fit their image.

In recent weeks, Carson's voice has been dropping to a lower register. Campaign aides don't like to talk about it, but they don't deny it's the result of conscious effort.

William Stevens, the Republican Senate candidate, has been trying to counteract a wooden image. He feels people think he's uncomfortable in public.

As a result, Stevens has become something of a raconteur in recent weeks, specializing in down home jokes. One of his favorites took place, he says, at a bluegrass festival in Harnett County. Harnett, incidentally, is the home of his opponent.

Stevens was walking through the crowd when he came upon an old man and a dog. "Does your dog bite?" Stevens asked.

"Nope," the old man replied. Whereupon Stevens reached down to pet the dog. The animal snapped at his hand. "I thought you said your dog didn't bite," he told the man.

"It aint my dog," the old man answered.

With Robert Morgan, image polishing is a bit more subtle. Morgan feels he is ahead, and he is running a very conservative campaign, trying to avoid mistakes and preserve his lead.

You may not know it, but campaigns, like college football teams, have colors. Morgan's until recently, were blue and

Report EAL Jet Was 1,000-Foot Too Low

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — An Eastern Airlines jet was 1,000 feet too low when it crashed about three miles short of Charlotte's Douglas Municipal Airport Sept. 11, killing 71 persons, a federal official said.

Ed Slattery of the National Transportation Safety Board said in a telephone interview from Washington that it is not known why Flight 212 from Charleston, S.C. to Chicago was flying too low.

The twin-engine jet DC9 rolled for several hundred feet across a cornfield. NTSB investigators traced the tracks of the tires to a line of trees where the aircraft tore itself apart and burst into flames.

Ten persons survived the crash, including co-pilot James Daniels of Roswell, Ga.

Until the last few moments, the flight was routine, Slattery said. Even when witnesses on the ground knew something was wrong with the low-flying jetliner, the pilot and co-pilot were unaware of their plight, Slattery said.

The cockpit recorder revealed no indication of alarm, he said.

"There were no abnormalities, no discussion, no argument. I don't think they knew they were too low," Slattery said.

Several planes had landed through the patchy morning fog at Charlotte before Flight 212 crashed.

NTSB investigators, with the help of recording devices, hope to come up with the cause of the crash, by the time public hearings open in Charlotte Nov. 12.

The investigators have several leads: —The cockpit recorder indicates that the crew failed to call out the altitudes as the plane descended in the fog. —One of the plane's three al-

Jones To Talk At Luncheon

Representative Walter B. Jones will be the featured speaker at the special Agriculture Day Luncheon to be held Saturday, October 5 at 12:00 at Parker's Barbecue.

The luncheon, open to the public, is designed to honor the role agriculture has played in Greenville's history. Tickets are available through the Agricultural Extension Office, according to Ed Yancey, chairman of the Agriculture Day Program. Tickets are $3.50 per person.

Yancey also invites the public to view a particularly large collection of agricultural tools and homemaking devices out of Greenville's past.

Connor Eagles has assembled many old items from around the county for this exhibition at the county fair grounds. Among the tools are a root cutter plow over 100 years old, a 250 year old froe which was used to shape the man's fortune is out of the question. Just for curiosity's sake, though, what are we talking about?"

"Roughly $182 million, including trusts for all the children."

I whistle, "It's very tempting, Rocky, but if this ever got out my colleagues in the press corps would think you were trying to buy me."

"No one will ever know," he replies as he takes a large stack of securities out of his suitcase and throws them on my desk.

"What are those?" I ask. "Three hundred and eight thousand shares of Exxon. And here are 206,000 shares of Standard Oil of California, and here is a stack of tax-free municipal bonds worth $10 million."

"Please," I tell him, "You're getting my desk all messed up."

Rocky keeps going back into the suitcase. "You want IBM stock, I have IBM stock; you want Caterpillar Tractor, I've got Caterpillar Tractor. Here, take my 17,000 shares of Dow Chemical."

"Look," I tell him, "I'm awfully busy. I have an appointment with my barber in 15 minutes. Perhaps you could come back another time."

"Don't send me away," Rocky begs. "You're the only one who knows what to do with inherited wealth. How can I go back to Happy and my brothers and tell them you turned me down?"

"This means a lot to you, doesn't it, Rocky?"

He's practically in tears. "I've wanted to be Vice President of the United States all my life. The only thing that has stopped me has been my personal fortune. Give me a break."

"Well," I say as I start stacking the stocks and bonds neatly on my desk, "I'll take the money this one time. But don't let it happen again."

"Happy and I will be eternally grateful," he says. "I'm embarrassed. Please get off your knees, Rocky. I would have done it for anybody. Maybe you can do a favor for me sometime."

There's been a change in his billboards as well. During the primary a grinning, youthful looking Robert Morgan stared down from a blue and gold sign.

Now the sign is red white and blue. And the picture shows Robert Morgan in a sober, contemplative pose. His neck is etched with Linolnesque wrinkles.

So marching into campaign combat they go. Their pipes have been left behind. Their voices are deep and their miens sober. But they can still relax and joke.

Their mothers, undoubtedly, would be proud of them.

Offer To Sell Proof Son Alive

By GERALD J. TAYLOR
Associated Press Writer
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A widow says two Communist agents have demanded between $25,000 and $500,000 for proof her son is alive and to start negotiations for his release as a prisoner of war in Laos.

1st Lt. George D. Macdonald, a navigator aboard an Air Force C130 cargo plane, was shot down Dec. 21, 1972, over Laos.

"It was my son all right. He was terribly malnourished and had grown a beard, but it was my son. They said the picture was taken three months ago," she said.

"They wouldn't say who they were or who they represented. All they would say was that they were Communists."

She met the agents through the Rev. Paul Lindstrom, a fervent anti-Communist who has been active in work involving men listed as prisoners of war or missing in action.

The Rev. Mr. Lindstrom said in an interview that he arranged the Mexico meeting after two previous meetings over the weekend from a meeting in Mexico City with two men who showed her a picture of a man she identified as her son. They would not let her keep the photo but told her she would be contacted later, she said.

with persons whom he believes are "tied to a diplomatic mission in Southeast Asia."

He said he talked to different representatives at each of the three meetings, but wasn't sure whether they are "working for a government or on their own behalf for monetary gains."

The U.S. government has discredited previous reports that prisoners of war are still being held in Southeast Asia.

The minister vowed in 1971 he would form a force of 100 commandos to free Southeast Asian war prisoners, but later abandoned the plans.

He also attempted in 1970 to form a fleet of boats to encourage defections by Soviet seamen. That plan never developed.

However, he accurately revealed in 1972 before it was officially announced that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger made secret visits to the Soviet Union prior to the Nixon summit.

The Rev. Mr. Lindstrom said he and other representatives of the Christian Defense League, an umbrella for POW-MIA groups, have established contacts in Vientiane, Laos, and in Thailand.

Mrs. Macdonald said she wants to meet with President Ford and Kissinger to enlist their aid.

Island Visitors 'Big Spenders'

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — Tourism represented 5.2 percent of Puerto Rico's gross national product in fiscal 1973-1974, with 1,441,002 visitors spending $360,275,000, according to Roberto Bouret, executive director of the Tourism Development Co.

Bouret said visitors left 13.5 percent more money on this island last fiscal year than during 1972-1973.

The primary changes in toll rates herein under consideration are to convert the initial period from three minutes to one minute for station-to-station direct distance dialed (DDD) calls. This change if authorized, would permit the completion of a DDD toll call lasting one minute or less for a lower charge than such a call would cost under existing schedules. However, in most instances a call lasting three minutes would cost more under the schedule proposed by Southern Bell. As indicated in the above schedule, an increase is also requested in the rates for operator handled calls which remain at a three minute initial period. If authorized state-wide, the toll schedule as proposed will increase toll revenues by $14,880,823 for all companies combined.

The present full time WATS service at $550 per month is proposed to be changed to a limited 240 hours per month service at $605 with additional charges for overtime.

Other changes in rates, charges and regulations are proposed relating to the three services under investigation. Details of the changes are available at all Southern Bell business offices or at the North Carolina Utilities Commission, Ruffin Building, One West Morgan Street, Raleigh, North Carolina, where a copy of Southern Bell's application is available for public review. In addition to the changes proposed, the Commission Staff is directed to offer testimony and alternate toll schedules for Commission consideration, to be filed with the Commission no later than 20 days prior to the hearing date of January 2, 1975.

The Commission requires that each company inform its customers of the following procedure by which their comments regarding the rate

The Commission is of the opinion that it is in the public interest that uniform intrastate toll, WATS and inter-exchange private line rates be maintained for all telephone companies under its jurisdiction. Accordingly, on August 5, 1974, in Docket No. P-55, Sub 742 and in Docket No. P-100, Sub 34, the Commission instituted an investigation into said intrastate toll, WATS and inter-exchange private line rates making all telephone companies under its jurisdiction parties to the investigation and set the matter for hearing on January 2, 1975 at 9:30 A.M. in the Commission Hearing Room, Ruffin Building, One West Morgan Street, Raleigh, North Carolina. The Commission's investigation is for the purpose of determining if changes should be made in the present intrastate rates for these services, and if so, if the charges should be made applicable to all telephone companies under the Commission's jurisdiction.

The proposed rates and present rates are as follows:

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks were broadly lower today as the sharp declines of last week spilled over into an early selling wave.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 8.14 at 613.81, and losers held a 3-to-1 advantage over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow dropped nearly 12 points in the first half-hour amid what brokers described as dismay and frustration over the market's performance last week, when the widely watched indicator finished at a new 12-year closing low.

After the initial selloff, some light and scattered bargain hunting appeared, but analysts noted no firm conviction behind the slight recovery.

The Southern Co. was the NYSE's most-active issue, unchanged at 10 1/4. A 100,000-share block traded at 10.

Morse Shoe was off 1/4 at 2 1/4 in trading marked by a 107,700-share block at 2 1/4.

Control Data lost 1 1/2 to 14. The company said it expected to show a third-quarter loss for its computer operations because Union Bank of Switzerland wanted to call off development of a computer system.

Among other glamors, IBM was down 2 1/2 at 158 1/4, Philip Morris fell 1 1/2 to 35 1/2, Bausch & Lomb gave up 1 1/2 to 25, and Natam was down 2 1/2 to 39 1/4.

The NYSE's 11 a.m. composite index of all its listed common stocks showed a 48 loss to 33.77.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was off 54 at 63.59.

Syntex, the Amex volume leader, lost 1 1/2 to 30 in advance of a meeting of company officials with securities analysts slated for today.

Further Scarcity

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — John Kyl, assistant Secretary of the Interior, predicts the United States is heading for shortages of minerals and materials that will be much worse than the fuel crisis.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Kyl said the crisis will hit within five years. Kyl noted that a number of regularly used minerals and natural resource products are wholly imported to the United States.

He warned that Americans must stop treating minerals and timber as disposable items, adding that recycling and reclamation are the answers.

Kyl pointed out that U.S. technology has only found ways to get "about one-half the coal out of the average mine, and only about one-third of the oil from the average well, and some waste piles at copper mines yield more copper than some new mines."

Ecevit Resigns For 2nd Time

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Bulent Ecevit resigned today for the second time in two weeks after failing to form a new coalition government.

President Fahri Koruturk accepted the resignation and was to make a statement later in the day on the government crisis.

Ecevit resigned two weeks ago because of "irreconcilable differences" between his own Republican Peoples party and their partners-in-government, the Moslem National Salvation party.

The two parties had been at odds over Cyprus policy and cultural, educational and economic matters.

Hurricane Has Gone Into Stall

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gertrude stalled in the Atlantic today and began to weaken about 200 miles southeast of Barbados, the National Hurricane Center reported.

Gertrude, with early morning winds up to the minimal hurricane status of 75 miles an hour, could be downgraded to a tropical storm later today.

Club Women To Serve As Bicentennial Belles

A number of women's clubs in Greenville have declared their members to be Bicentennial Belles as an indication of their support for the upcoming celebration October 4-12.

There is no fee and no charter to become Belles although members are urged to wear Bicentennial Bell buttons available at Bicentennial Headquarters at the corner of Ninth and Evans.

Those clubs signifying special support are The Greenville Ladies' Golf Association, the Junior Women's Club, the Jayettes, the Lakewood Pines Garden Club, the League of Women Voters, the Auxiliary to the Pitt County Medical Society, the Oakmont Baptist Women, the Brook Valley Women's Association, the Welcome Wagon Club and the Greenville Women's Club.

Any other club may enter their members as Bicentennial Belles. These women are asked to volunteer their time as it is convenient during the celebrations.

One project to be undertaken is the decorating of the National Guard Armory by the art department of the Junior Women's Club for the Costume Ball to be held October 11. This group is also planning a fashion show of old dresses October 2 during its regular meeting at the First Federal Savings and Loan Building Meeting Room.

The Jayettes are planning to act as hostesses at the Kroger Building during the exhibitions. The Lakewood Pines Garden Club is planning an old fashioned picnic on the Town Common; and the League of Women Voters and the Welcome Wagon Club are planning floats for the parade.

Harriman 'Stake-Out'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI staked out the home of former Ambassador W. Averell Harriman to learn the identities of State Department personnel attending a meeting of persons opposed to the 1970 Cambodian invasion, according to newly released Senate testimony.

The surveillance was disclosed in an edited transcript of closed hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the role of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in the wiretapping of 13 government officials and four newsmen.

Former FBI agent Bernard Wells told the committee he believed the FBI learned of the May 18, 1970, meeting at Harriman's Georgetown home through a wiretapped conversation.

There was no indication the tapped telephone was Harriman's, and Wells said there was no attempt to overhear conversations during the meeting.

Harriman, a former New York governor and former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, said Sunday he had not been aware of the surveillance.

Gunmen Seized Cash, Jewelry

A quantity of cash and jewelry was taken from five men here early Sunday morning when two gunmen held up the five poker players.

Chief Glenn Cannon said the incident was reported by Bennie Roundtree of 1306 West Sixth St. about 3:10 a.m.

Roundtree told investigators that he had gone to the home of Roy Little at 405 Bonner's Lane about 2:55 a.m. to play poker. About 3 a.m. Roundtree said, two men, one armed with a sawed-off shotgun and pistol and the other with two revolvers entered the home and took money and jewelry from the five men there. Roundtree said the two robbers then ordered the victims to take off their clothes. The robbers threw the clothes into the street as they left the scene. Roundtree added.

Chief Cannon said Roundtree told officers the two robbers took $575 in cash, plus two diamond rings and a watch from him. Total value of his property, Roundtree said, was about $1,540.

Chief Cannon said none of the other four victims of the alleged hold-up have reported the incident, although according to Roundtree the total amount of money and jewelry taken might amount to as much as $5,000 to $8,000.

Investigation of the case is under way.

Visitor Says Nixon Spirits 'Excellent'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon was described as "a man remarkably alive and in excellent spirits" by the archbishop of the Los Angeles Roman Catholic diocese who visited him at the hospital during the weekend.

"He looked better than I've seen him in two years," said

Archbishop Timothy Cardinal Manning. "He showed no signs of strain or illness. He said he was in no pain. I was amazed. He was in excellent spirits, very happy."

Manning said he has known Nixon since 1946, "when he was a young congressman and I was a young bishop."

No official word on the former president's condition was issued during the weekend.

After seeing Manning, Nixon was visited for more than two hours by his wife, Pat, and eldest daughter, Tricia Nixon Cox, who arrived accompanied by Secret Service agents.

Leaving the hospital, Mrs. Nixon said, "We had a pleasant visit with him. He is feeling much better."

Nixon, 61, was being treated for phlebitis in his left leg and a blood clot in his right lung. He entered the hospital last Monday and has been receiving anticoagulant drugs to prevent further clots from forming and to solidify the clot in his leg so no parts of it break off and travel through his system.

Beats Rams For Third Victory

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
It used to be that a visit to New England was a breather for a National Football League club. For the Baltimore Colts, though, it couldn't come at a worse time. But Howard Schnellenberger can breathe easier. He won't be making next Sunday's trip.

The Baltimore coach was fired Sunday, right after his young and punchless team had suffered its third straight loss, bowing 30-10 to Philadelphia. Robert Irsay, president of the Colts, named Joe Thomas, the club's vice president and general manager, as the new sideline pilot.

So it's Thomas who's going to be gasping when he gets a look at what's happening up in New England. His first job is to try and knock off the National Football League's astonishing Patriots.

It won't be easy. They've been knocking off everybody in sight so far.

They started at the top, slugging the defending Super Bowl champion Miami Dolphins 34-24. A fluke, everyone said.

Then they whipped the New York Giants 28-20. An upset, everyone said, but not much of one.

Sunday they beat the Los Angeles Rams 20 to 14.

In Sunday's other games, St. Louis clubbed Cleveland 29-7, Oakland shut out Pittsburgh 17-0, Miami had to struggle to pull out a 28-21 victory over San Diego, Buffalo beat the New York Jets 16-12, New Orleans nipped Atlanta 14-13, the Giants upset Dallas 14-6, Cincinnati muzzled San Francisco 21-3, Green Bay edged Detroit 21-19, Kansas City turned back Houston 17-7 and Minnesota struggled past Chicago 11-7.

Tonight, Washington hosts the Denver Broncos.

Joe Lavender returned an intercepted pass 37 yards for a touchdown, Tom Sullivan scored on runs of 28 and three yards and Tom Dempsey kicked three field goals in the Eagles' rout of Baltimore, which scored on Jones' 22-yard pass to Glenn Doughty and Toni Linhart's field goal.

Patriots 20, Rams 14

Two touchdown passes by Jim Plunkett and two field goals by John Smith sent Los Angeles into the loss column and at least one Patriots' fan to dreaming about Super Bowls.

Tony Baker's one-yard burst gave the Rams the game's first touchdown. But the Patriots got it right right back with Plunkett passing to Darryl Stingley for 20 yards, then New England moved in front to stay on a 39-yard field goal by Smith early in the second half.

Smith made it 13-7 with a 23-yard field goal late in the third quarter and, at the start of the fourth period, Plunkett hit Randy Vataha on a 21-yard scoring play. John Hadl's 36-yard pass to Lance Rentzel with about four minutes to play gave the Rams their final score.

Cards 29, Browns 7

Terry Metcalf exploded 94 yards with the second-half kickoff to put St. Louis on top 14-0 and, after Cleveland bounced back with its only touchdown, Mel Gray hauled in a 68-yard touchdown pass from Jim Hart.

Raiders 17, Steelers 0

"They beat our butts, it's that simple," Joe Gilliam said of the Raiders following Pittsburgh's first scoreless game since 1964.

Ken Stabler passed 19 yards to Cliff Branch for one Raider touchdown and plunged in from one yard out for the other one.

Dolphins 28, Chargers 21
Trailing 21-7 in the fourth quarter, Bob Griese calmly marched Miami to three touchdowns, preventing the Chargers from pulling off their second straight big upset. Jim Kiick's five-yard scoring run with 15 seconds to play was the winning play.

Griese completed 14 of 27 passes for 248 yards, and it was his accuracy in the waning minutes that kept the Dolphins hopes alive.

Bills 16, Jets 12

Jim Braxton's 21-yard touchdown run, eight plays after Greg Gant's 25-yard punt into the teeth of a 30-mile-an-hour wind, carried Buffalo past the Jets.

Saints 14, Falcons 13

New Orleans' Jess Phillip punched over from eight yards out just after Alex Price recovered a fumble by the Falcons' Haskel Stanback on the eight with about five minutes to play.

Giants 14, Cowboys 6

Bill Arnsparger earned his first victory as head coach of the Giants, who beat Dallas on two touchdowns within 64 seconds in the second quarter—rookie Doug Kotar's two-yard run and Norm Snead's 14-yard pass to Joe Dawkins.

Bengals 21, 49ers 3

Cincinnati completed just two passes to Isaac Curtis. The first went 22 yards for a touchdown and the second was a 48-yard bomb which set up the Bengals' second score, a 14-yard run by Anderson.

Packers 21, Lions 19

"Having the goal posts 10 yards further back this year doesn't bother me at all," said Green Bay's Chester Marcol, whose 22-yard field goal with 1:03 left boosted the Packers over the Lions.

Chiefs 17, Oilers 7

Quarterback Mike Livingston completed 20 of 26 passes, including an eight-yard touchdown strike to Morris Stroud. Then Jan Stenerud's 35-yard field goal and Willie Ellison's eight-yard touchdown run overcame Houston's 7-0 lead.

Vikings 11, Bears 7

Fran Tarkenton's 250th career touchdown pass, an 11-yarder to Stu Voigt, and Paul Krause's 63rd career interception highlighted Minnesota's victory.

a three-run homer in the sixth in the Reds' victory over the Giants.

The Giants had taken a 2-0 lead off Clay Kirby, 12-9, before Rose's 45th double of the year, tops in the National League, ignited the Cincinnati comeback.

Astros 9, Braves 6

Cliff Johnson's three-run homer in the eighth inning lifted Houston over Atlanta. With two out in the eighth, Roger Metzger walked, Cesar Cedeno singled to center and Johnson belted his ninth home run of the season, over the fence in left-center.

Expos 6, Phils 3

Ken Singleton's first major league grand slam home run, off Ron Schueler in the first inning, carried Montreal over Philadelphia.

American League results:

New York 10, Cleveland 0; Detroit 7, Boston 4; Baltimore 4, Milwaukee 3; Texas 5, Kansas City 0; Oakland 3, Chicago 2 and California 4, Minnesota 0.

Pirates Lose To NY, Fall Back Into Tie

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

A loss to the New York Mets might shake up the National League East, but it doesn't shake Pittsburgh Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh.

"I don't think there's any reason for a wake," noted Murtaugh after a 7-2 loss to the Mets Sunday.

The defeat dropped the Pirates back into a first-place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals and set up a Hollywood finish for the East pennant.

Both teams have three games left in the regular season, with the Pirates playing at home starting tonight against the Chicago Cubs and the Cardinals on the road against the Montreal Expos.

Bob Apodaca fired a three-hitter to lead the Mets over the Pirates. Pittsburgh was hitless until the sixth when Gene Clines hit a pinch single to right field. Clines came around to score the Pirates' first run when left fielder Benny Ayala dropped Richie Hebner's fly ball for a two-base error.

The Cardinals had a 3-2 lead when Mike Tyson singled with one out in the sixth. Pitcher John Curtis bunted and when Stone threw wildly past first, Tyson scored.

Bill Madlock hit his ninth homer to lead off the fourth, closing the gap before the Cardinals broke it open in the sixth.

Reds 7, Giants 3

Pete Rose's leadoff double plus an error by second baseman Tito Fuentes keyed a three-run Cincinnati third inning and Johnny Bench cracked

Cardinals 7, Cubs 3

Jose Cruz' pinch three-run homer capped a four-run sixth inning which gave St. Louis its victory over Chicago.

All four of the Cardinal runs in the sixth were unearned as pitcher Steve Stone committed a throwing error and shortstop Don Kessinger dropped the apparent third-out pop fly before Cruz, batting for ailing Reggie Smith, hit his fifth homer of the baseball season.

The Cardinals had a 3-2 lead when Mike Tyson singled with one out in the sixth. Pitcher John Curtis bunted and when Stone threw wildly past first, Tyson scored.

Yanks Just Can't Catch Baltimore

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees are on a treadmill—they keep winning, but they just can't catch up with the Baltimore Orioles.

Graig Nettles belted two home runs and Rudy May pitched a four-hitter to help the Yankees post their fourth consecutive victory, a 10-0 romp over the Cleveland Indians Sunday.

But Baltimore remained one-half game ahead of the Yankees in the chase for the American League East flag by nipping the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3, the winning run scoring on four walks in the ninth inning.

Baltimore, 88-71, has three games left in the regular season, at Detroit Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Yankees, 88-72, have two games left, at Milwaukee Tuesday and Wednesday.

May struck out 13 in pitching his first complete game since joining the Yankees from the California Angels June 15.

New York scored two runs in the first against former Yankee Fritz Peterson, then broke it open with four runs in the third. Lou Piniella scored the first run of the inning on an error by left fielder Joe Lis.

Sandy Alomar stroked a run-scoring single and relief pitcher Milt Wilcox gave up bases-loaded walks to Elliott Maddox and Murcer.

Nettles hit his first home run of the game in the fourth inning, Piniella and Thurman Munson delivered RBI singles in the fifth and Nettles hit his 22nd home run of the season in the sixth, making it 10-0.

Orioles 4, Brewers 3

"Let's have a laugh," said Boog Powell, whose bases-loaded walk in the ninth gave the Orioles their sixth victory in a row and 25th in 31 starts down the stretch. "My heart can't take much more of this."

Rangers 5, Royals 0

Jim Spencer's two-run homer backed the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands for the Rangers.

National League scores: New York 7, Pittsburgh 2; St. Louis 7, Chicago 3; Houston 9, Atlanta 6; Cincinnati 7, San Francisco 3, and Montreal 6, Philadelphia 3.

Woody's Ramblin's

BY WOODY PEELE

"I'm very proud of our kids for coming back and winning," a relieved Pat Day said after Saturday night's 17-16 victory over a surprisingly tough Southern Illinois team.

The Bucs fell behind in the game by 13-0 after the first play of the second quarter, and it wasn't until late in the game that they finally struggled ahead, 17-13, later allowing a field goal.

"Southern Illinois was definitely ready to play," Dye said. "We had some hard breaks offensively, and the turnovers were a big factor in the game. They kept us backed up, but I think we showed a lot of class and poise by coming back and winning it."

Dye had special praise for the defense, pointing out that except for one 60-yard pass play late in the game, the Bucs held Southern to less than 50 yards in total offense for the final three periods of the game. "The only reason that pass worked was because we had a breakdown in signals between two players, and a zone was left empty. They moved the ball on us some in the first period, but we made some adjustments, making our linebackers stay in, and we shut down their option game."

Dye added special praise for Ernest Madison for running down receiver Bob Habbe on Southern on the 60-yard pass, saving a touchdown. "That was a big play for us. Madison showed sheer determination and a lot of guts to be able to catch up with him and make the tackle."

Offensively, Dye said, the Bucs got away from what they have been doing well. "I think we were ready to play," he said. "If we hadn't been, I don't think we would have won. But we had some things going against us — the fumbles, the fact that we didn't convert on third down. The fumbles gave them one touchdown and kept us from getting one. The pass interception also hurt us."

"I think the difference was the kicking game. Gil Job did a tremendous job for us, and the bad snap they got, along with the fumbled punt that we recovered helped. Job's punting kept them away from the goal line and he kicked so well that they didn't run back a single one."

There was some confusion in the press box about who did the punting. Job was listed on the roster as wearing jersey number 5, but wore 7, listed for Mike Cox. But Dye said that this was in error, and that Job did all of the kicking.

"I think Southern Illinois was the best team we've played on defense," he said. He added that Bowling Green is still the best offensive team the Pirates have seen.

"Having a close call like this can only help us," Dye said. "I think the offense showed its class on the touchdown drive by just sticking it in there when we had to have it. Our fullbacks ran well, and Southern let us have the play and cut off the outside game. They were using a little different alignment than we expected. I think it might have been more our fault that we didn't do as well as we did."

Dye noted that the Bucs must come through and work more on their passing game — they again failed to complete a pass in eight tries — most of them dropped. "We've got to improve here and we're going to work hard on it."

The Bucs must, and they must be ready. ACC champ N.C. State is next.

Colts Fire Schellenberger

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Thomas, who insists the job was thrust upon him, is the new head coach of the National Football League's Baltimore Colts.

The 53-year-old Thomas inherited the job Sunday when Colts' owner Robert Irsay fired Howard Schnellenberger in the Colts' dressing room after Baltimore lost to the Philadelphia Eagles 30-10.

Thomas already is vice president and general manager of the Colts, and the architect of the Colts' rebuilding program. He has been an assistant at Baltimore, the Los Angeles Rams and in the Canadian Football League, but never a head coach.

Thomas built his football reputation as the personnel chief of first the Minnesota Vikings, and later the Miami Dolphins. He built the expansion Vikings into a division champion and Super Bowl participant and played a large part in construction of the Dolphins. NFL champions the past two seasons.

The 40-year-old Schnellenberger left as an assistant to Don Shula at Miami to take the Colts' job Feb. 14, 1973, and was in the second year of a three-year contract. His first Colts' team finished 4-10 and tied for last place in the American Conference East of the NFL. This year's team is winless in three games.

Two minutes before the game against the Eagles ended, Irsay marched into the press box at Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia and told a startled Thomas that he was the new head coach.

Irsay then rushed to the Colts' dressing room where he first informed the players of Schnellenberger's ouster.

Miller Happy But Uncertain

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer
NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Miller's a little puzzled by his fantastic success in pro golf this year. He's not at all sure how it came about. He's uncertain how long it will continue. But the All American boy—tall, blonde, handsome enough to serve as a male model, soft-spoken, a non-drinker, a non-smoker and an elder of his church—is dead sure about one thing:

"I'd never trade this season for one major championship," Miller said after his overwhelming victory Sunday in the Kaiser International Open.

"This," he said in massive understatement, "kind of caps my year."

It gave him eight titles for the year—the most anyone has won on the American tour since Arnold Palmer took the same number in 1960—and put his season money-winnings at $346,933, breaking the single season mark of $320,542 set by Nicklaus in 1972.

He won this one by eight strokes, matching the biggest victory margin on the tour this season, with a six-under-par 66 in the final round and a 271 total, a distant 17 under par on the 6,819-yard north course—he owns a home by the 10th green—at the Silverado County Club.

He moved into a share of the lead with a hole-in-one on the second hole of Saturday's third round and put it out of reach with some eye-popping putting in Sunday's final round. He one-putted seven times on the front nine, once holing from 60 feet, on his way to a 31.

PGA champ Lee Trevino finished with a final 67 and tied 43-year-old Billy Casper for second at 279.

Only two men have ever won more American tour titles than Miller—Sam Snead with 10 in 1950 and Byron Nelson with his record 18 in 1945.

Southern Was Full Of Surprises

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
AP Sports Writer

By the time East Carolina's Pirates get around to starting their bid Oct. 12 for a third straight Southern Conference football title, new Coach Pat Dye might be wondering what kind of a league he got into.

After the first full round of conference games Saturday and Saturday night, he might have company from his fellow coaches—for the league race is shaping up as even more wide open than anyone thought.

Virginia Military's Keydets, who haven't been a league power since the 1960s, took over first place at 2-0 with a 43-7 rout of Davidson's winless Wildcats as split end Ronnie Moore ran wild.

"Great!" said VMI Coach Bob Thalman after hearing the results of Saturday night's two other games. "I mean it's great that we're leading the conference."

Furman's Paladins, considered a darkhorse contender until they were upset 7-0 by VMI in their opener, came back for a 10-0 victory over a William and Mary team that had averaged 364.7 yards in offense and scored 52 points despite losing two of three nonleague starts.

"Unreal!" said Indian Coach Jim Root of his team's three lost fumbles and four passes intercepted without a completion. Furman's Art Baker said "we played about as well on defense. I guess, as any team since I've been coaching."

Richmond's Spiders, who'd had a week off after victories over Villanova and West Virginia, needed a 22-yard field goal by Terry Carter with 25 seconds left for a 27-24 squeeze past The Citadel's Bulldogs, who a week earlier had been routed 48-12 by Delaware.

Bulldog Coach Bobby Ross "did a great job after last week's game," said Richmond's Jim Tait. "After that bad beating, they responded like a good football team. And they were a good football team."

Ross agreed. "We didn't play like cream puffs. Our kids really laid it on the line and deserved better. But you've got to give Richmond credit for coming back. We knew they were capable."

The Spiders were down 17-7 in the first period, just as they had trailed Villanova and West Virginia 13-0 in their first two games.

"I was just tickled that our kids did the same thing for the third game in a row," said Tait. "We could have folded . . . but we showed a lot of poise again."

East Carolina made it three straight over nonleague foes by edging Southern Illinois 17-16, but Appalachian State's three-game winning streak ended in a 21-17 Mountaineer loss to Western Carolina.

Kickers Going After Second

The East Carolina soccer team will go after their second straight victory of the season this afternoon when the Pirates face Pembroke College at 4 p.m. on the East Carolina soccer field.

The Pirate booters opened their season Saturday afternoon with a stunning 3-0 upset over Atlantic Coast Conference rival N.C. State.

For new head coach Curtis Frye, it was his first victory as a head coach and he couldn't have been more pleased with the outstanding performance of his team. "It was a great win for us. It was a total team effort. Everybody played well, defensively and offensively."

The Pirates opened up a 2-0 lead at halftime, scored once in the final period, and played a superb defensive game to shutout the Wolfpack for the first time this season.

Tommy O'Shea scored the first goal in the first half on an assist from Jeff Kunkler. Toni Isichei, the Pirates only foreigner from Ashaba, Nigeria, booted the second goal to give East Carolina commanding 2-0 halftime lead.

In the second half, sophomore Pete Angus took a pass from Tommy O'Shea and slammed through the final goal of the game.

Isichei was voted by Frye as the outstanding Rookie of the Game and gave goalie Bucky Moser, the Mr. Clutch Award for his consistent play on defense. "Bucky did an unbelievable job out there," said Frye. "State controlled the ball most of the game and had a lot more shots than we did. They had 28 shots and Bucky was credited with 17 saves."

Frye also praised the play of fullback Al Lewitz who held State's top scorer Gino Olcese scoreless for the first time this season. "One-on-one, Al did the best defensive job of anybody out there. He was just tremendous."

The Pirates meet Pembroke this afternoon in another non-conference skirmish. "Talent wise, Pembroke isn't a great team, but they're a very physical team," noted Frye. "They're big and play rough soccer."

They're big and play rough soccer."

'Fade Away' Your Gray

Time-lapse photographs show how gradual action of Grecian Formula 16 lets him control just how much gray he slowly gets rid of—some of it or all of it.

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y.—Thousands of men all over the country are discovering they don't have to dye their hair a solid dark color to look years younger. Grecian Formula 16 is not a dark messy dye. It is a colorless liquid as easy to use as hair tonic. Used every day, the gray slowly fades away and is replaced by natural-looking color. The change occurs so slowly over a period of time even closest associates don't notice it happening. The user has complete control of just how much gray he slowly gets rid of—some of it or all of it. Once the desired results are obtained weekly use thereafter is all that's necessary. The hair definitely does not have a dyed look. Get Grecian Formula 16 today at

Splits Pair

Belvoir split a pair of games with Hamilton Sunday in the Pitt-Martin semi-pro league. Belvoir took the first game, 9-1 but Hamilton came back to take the second, 10-9 in eight innings.

Belvoir got all it needed in the first on a three-run homer by J.C. Daniels. In the second the teams were tied 6-6 after seven innings. Belvoir rallied for three in the top of the eighth but Hamilton pushed over four to take the win in the bottom of the frame.

'Where Shopping Is A Pleasure'

Many New TV Shows Will Die

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — I see by the old clock on the wall it is time for the fall Fearless Forecast, the peerless prophesy which dares say which of the 24 new weekly TV series this season will prosper or poop out.

As in past seasons, the predictions are made without reference to Nielsen ratings or their civilian equivalent, tea leaves.

We prepare the prophesy by taking a case of beer into the TV room, shutting the door and watching TV all week. Sometimes we turn the set on. Here-with, then, is this fall's Fearless Forecast:

SUNDAY — ABC's "Sonny Comedy Revue" is doomed, kaput, fini, and also won't survive.

MONDAY — CBS' "Rhoda" has many rooters and is in for a long, long run. NBC's "Born Free" will be cut free by December, leaving Elsa to wonder where her next gazelle is coming from.

WEDNESDAY — CBS' "Sons and Daughters" will go the way of the Mamas and the Papas. "Manhunter" also will lose its way very soon.

At NBC, "Little House on the Prairie" will have its FHA loan foreclosed by spring; "Lucas Tanner" may teach at least two years, and "Petrocelli," about a lawyer, will win its hard-fought case for renewal.

At ABC, "That's My Mama," set in a barbershop, will be clipped in December. "Get Christie Love" will be gotten-out-by-then, also.

THURSDAY — NBC's "Sierra" will join the Donner party before the snow falls, but "Movin' On," a double-clutching version of the old "Route 66" series, will last a year and possibly move on to another.

At ABC, "Paper Moon" faces a pink-slip eclipse after one season, but "Harry O" is good for two years, maybe more.

FRIDAY — CBS' "Planet of the Apes" will slip on its own banana peels by December.

At NBC, "Chico and the Man," currently a hit show, will sag as the year wears on and last but one season. Not so with "The Rockford Files," destined to amiably amble on for years. "Police Woman" will have its badge and eye shadow taken away before Christmas.

At ABC, "Kodiak" faces immediate extinction, but "Texas Wheelers" may survive if its acid content isn't diluted—as happened two shows ago—and if it is moved to a different evening. "The Night Stalker" also needs a new night for stalking; wretched though it is, it has a bizarre charm that may keep it going if the change is made.

SATURDAY — CBS' "Paul Sand" show, about a young bass player, will string along for a season, then bow out.

At ABC, "The New Land" will be subdivided and its tenants evicted before the spring corn ripens. "Nakia," about a Navajo deputy sheriff, may survive for a season, but only if better scripts emerge from the producer's hogan.

This concludes the Fearless Forecast. I must go now and pay that bet I made on President Thomas E. Dewey.

Popcorn Ed's Nose Finds Funny Money

By JUDY JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
VALLEY CITY, N.D. (AP) — Popcorn Ed's nose saves him from bankruptcy.

A customer unfamiliar with Ed may wonder why the popcorn vendor sniffs, fingers and jerks a dollar bill offered for a bag of popcorn.

But it is the only way 80-year-old Ed Artis, known as Popcorn Ed, can be sure he won't end up with a cash register full of useless paper at the end of the day.

The eyes behind his dark glasses were blinded 33 years ago, but Ed says he doesn't need to see to run the stand in this town of 8,000 about 90 miles east of Bismarck.

Tall and thin, he moves with confidence in the cramped 8 by 16-foot wooden stand which houses a popcorn machine.

At ABC, "Kodiak" faces immediate extinction, but "Texas Wheelers" may survive if its acid content isn't diluted—as happened two shows ago—and if it is moved to a different evening. "The Night Stalker" also needs a new night for stalking; wretched though it is, it has a bizarre charm that may keep it

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♥ Pass 2♦ Pass
2♥ Pass 2♦ Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—Three hearts. You have an awkward problem for which there is no easy solution. Three diamonds would show a far weaker hand, while four diamonds run the risk of reaching an unmakeable five diamonds when four hearts is on. Three hearts is somewhat of an underbid, but we dislike jumping to game with only two-card support, albeit headed by the ace.

Q.2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AJ1065♥K5♦K6♣K1087
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♦ Pass 1NT Pass
2♦ Pass 3♦ Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Since partner could do no better than respond one no trump at his first turn, game is unlikely. Even if partner has all his points in the black suits, which is a likely reason for his jump preference at his second turn, your hand still has to many holes.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQK983♦865♣AK102
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1♥ Pass 2♦ Pass 2♦ Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—Three hearts. You were close to a jump shift response at your first turn, so your intent now is to bid the hand as strongly as possible. If partner simply continues on to four hearts, your next move should be a cue-bid of four spades.

Q.4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K7♥1052♦Q62♣AJ109
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1♦ Pass 1NT Pass Pass 1♦ Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—Redouble. You could not possibly hold more for your response, and partner should be told of this. East, in his desire to contest the partial, was hoping that his partner held your hand, and now he is caught in a vice. By redoubling, you invite partner to double the opponents once they begin seeking an escape suit.

Grievance Plans OK'd

RALEIGH (AP)—The new North Carolina Inmate Grievance Commission has accepted almost all of the procedural recommendations suggested by state prison officials.

Executive Director Fred G. Morrison said Sunday that the commission agreed with Commissioner of Corrections Ralph Edwards that most inmate complaints should be handled within the prison system.

Therefore, inmates will have to make their complaints first to prison unit and regional committees composed of personnel from the department.

Afterward, they may appeal to the grievance commission, composed of citizens.

Morrison said the commission decided that appeals will be considered an administrative matter within the prison system. Inmates will have no right to counsel.

The only major change in Edwards' recommendations that the commission made was to require that copies of all prisoner complaints be forwarded to the commission so that it can monitor the way the department handles them.

The ideal situation for most forest wildlife is woodlands which are broken with openings, according to the Missouri Conservation Commission.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

HERE IS A HOME that is really different as a permanent residence or second home. A combination of contemporary and traditional styling, the Tudor decor and glass expanse provide a lovely and unusual styling. Hexagon in shape, this design has a deck with railing. It is ideal for either a level or a hillside lot. Plan HA627G has four bedrooms, a corridor-style kitchen with plenty of cabinet and counter space and a living room with four sliding glass doors to the deck. There is plenty of glass expanse here to provide an abundance of natural daylight and scenic view. The laundry has an outside exit convenient for hanging clothes outdoors. If the home is built on a lake, the bathroom is convenient for bathers changing wet suits and it is just steps away from the laundry room. There are 1,043 square feet on the upper level and 1,043 square feet on the lower level. Architect Carl E. Gaiser, 25600 Telegraph Rd., Southfield, Mich., will answer queries from persons wanting to know the price of the blueprint and who enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NOW Schedules Five Addresses

"THEN AND NOW: Pitt County Women Through 200 Years," a program of brief addresses by five outstanding local women will be presented by the Eastern Carolina chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW) Wednesday evening, Oct. 9.

The program is part of NOW's celebration of the Greenville City Bicentennial, and is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Civil Court Room of the Pitt County Court House.

The five women featured in the program represent high achievement locally in the professions, religion, minority culture, government, education and politics.

In order of appearance on the program, they are:

Dr. Malene Grant Irons, director of the ECU Development Evaluation Clinic; Rev. Hattie May Wilson Cobb, elderess in the Free Will Holiness Church; Mattie J. Caple Dixon, retired Grifton teacher; Johnetta Webb Spilman, active leader in public affairs; and Janice Hardison Faulkner, assistant professor of English at ECU and state Democratic leader.

"These five women in their own individual ways are among the important builders of our city and county," said NOW President Barbara Ellis.

"Each has contributed greatly toward the betterment of life here, and has overcome many obstacles which have prevented other women from accomplishing similar goals.

"Three of these women have had buildings named for them, and another, a recreation park, as tribute to their work in bringing about improvement through service and leadership in their local communities."

The five women will be introduced at the program by NOW Bicentennial Coordinator Tennala Gross. Refreshments will be served after the program at an informal reception for the speakers. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Dr. Irons studied at ECU and at Duke University before receiving her MD degree from the Medical College of Virginia. She began pediatrics practice in Greenville in 1946, she has been its director. In a ceremony earlier this month, the Clinic building was dedicated to her, and now bears her name. She is the mother of three sons and two grandchildren.

Rev. Cobb attended Shaw University and Hampton Institute. Upon her ordination as a minister, she became an elderess in the Free Will Holiness Church and has since served various local churches for 40 years. She organized the founding of two Greenville churches, St. Luke's and St. Matthew's, and a church in Martin County which is named "Hattie's Chapel" in her honor.

In addition to her pastoral duties, Rev. Cobb has reared eight orphaned or homeless children to adulthood.

Mrs. Dixon studied at local schools and at Elizabeth City State, and taught at Pink Hill, Boghead and other eastern N. C. elementary schools. She has three children, four grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Since her retirement from teaching, Mrs. Dixon has been a leader in civic affairs. She is a former president of the Grifton Senior Citizens and a representative to the Pitt County Council of Senior Citizen Clubs. Her most recent civic accomplishment was the establishment of a neighborhood recreation park on the site of a debris-strewn vacant lot, which has since been named "Mattie's Mini Park."

Mrs. Spilman has for more than half a century been a leader in state and local political, educational and governmental activities. Her professional career included positions as assistant treasurer of East Carolina Teachers College, commissioner for the N. C. Unemployment Compensation Commission. Among her civic offices have been executive directorship of the Pitt County TB Association and directorship of the N. C. Mental Health Association. She was for many years vice-chairman of the N. C. Democratic Executive Committee.

The Spilman Administration Building on the ECU campus is named for Mrs. Spilman and her late husband John B. Spilman.

Mrs. Faulkner has been a member of the ECU Department of English faculty for several years, and was formerly Director of Alumni Affairs at ECU. She has served on the Board of Directors of the N. C. Ballet Co., has been Pitt County's chairman of the Roanoke Historical Association Fund Drive, and has been a director of Camp Hardee for Girl Scouts. She is one of the most active leaders in state political circles, having founded the Pitt County Democratic Women and the Pitt County Women's Political Caucus. She has also been a delegate to state and national Democratic conventions, an active worker in Democratic candidate campaigns and served three terms as district director of Democratic Women's Clubs in the First Congressional District.

Cool Weather For Tar Heels

By The Associated Press

Much cooler weather is on tap for North Carolina for the next few days with no precipitation expected.

A rapidly moving cold front swept across the state Sunday, bringing cooler temperatures to the state this morning. The frontal system moved into the mountain areas Sunday morning and off the coast by evening. Some showers and a few thundershowers developed ahead of the front, mainly in the coastal plain and north coast areas.

Partly cloudy skies were the rule across the state from the mountains to the coast. Temperatures were generally in the 70s in the mountains with 80s east of the mountains. High temperatures were recorded in the early portion of the day in the western portions of the state, with falling or steady afternoon temperatures as the colder and drier air spread over the west.

Gusty northerly winds brought afternoon temperatures in the lower 70s in the mountain areas while temperatures earlier in the day had been in the upper 70s. The eastern sections of the state recorded temperatures in the middle to upper 80s. The warmest in the state was Goldsboro and Wilmington with 90 degrees.

The front continued well off the coast during the night with winds shifting to northwest across all sections of the state. This brought much cooler temperatures to western sections of the state and falling temperatures to the east as well. Early opening temperatures today were in the 40s in the west ranging to around 60 on the coast. Clear skies were the rule overnight with partly cloudy skies on the Outer Banks. Gusty northwest winds continued over the coastal sections where small craft advisories continued in effect.

The cold and dry air today will result in sunny skies from the mountains to the coast with considerably colder temperatures.

Big Bootleg Still Raided Citizenship To Key Convention

PLEASANT GARDEN, N.C. (AP) — Federal, state and local law enforcement officers halted the largest moonshine operation discovered in North Carolina in the past decade Saturday when they seized a large still and arrested two men near Pleasant Garden.

Officers said they arrested Jimmy Harbor Jr. of Burlington and Lloyd Gough of Hamptonville in Yadkin County. A third man escaped.

ABC Agent Clyde McManus said when police raided the still site on a chicken farm just south of Greensboro, three men jumped into a car and tried to flee. McManus pulled his car in front of them and the two cars collided headon.

Guilford County Sheriff Paul Gibson said a still and 17 fermenters were found. He estimated the capacity of the distilling operation at more than 17,000 gallons.

Johnny Bouras of the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms said it was one of the largest stills ever seized in North Carolina. He said it could produce 600 gallons of moonshine whiskey a day.

Predicts End Of Rain Forest

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI) — Within the next 30 years, Brazil's vast Amazonian rain forest will be wiped out if the current trend towards deforestation continues, says professor Marvick Kleer of the University of Riberao Preto.

During the 26th annual meeting of the Brazilian Society for the Progress of Science, Kleer said that in the past 10 years, about 24 per cent of the Amazon jungle had been destroyed by the reckless felling of trees.

Brazil's Amazonian rain forest covers 1.8 million square miles.

WILMINGTON—With the general theme, "First Class Citizenship: Making It A Reality," the 33,000-member Prince Hall Grand Lodge, and its affiliate, Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, headed by Grand Master Clark S. Brown of Winston-Salem, will convene in Annual Communication, today, tomorrow and Wednesday in Wilmington, with headquarters at the Wilmington Hilton Inn.

Thousands of members of the Craft, from all sections of North Carolina, along with a sizeable number of masonic dignitaries and fraternal representatives from other jurisdictions, will converge upon the Port City for this historic event.

Significance is attached to this year's celebration in the fact that the Grand Lodge will be returning to the site of its origin. It was in Giblem Lodge Hall, corner of 8th and Princess Streets, Wilmington, 104 years ago, the North Carolina Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons had its beginning.

For the Annual Fellowship Banquet, on Tuesday evening, Kelly Alexander, state president of North Carolina Branches of NAACP, will be the speaker. He is a charter member of the N.C. State Conference of Branches of NAACP, and assisted in its organization. In 1948, he was elected to the office of president, and he has been re-elected regularly, ever since.

Prior to the keynote address on Tuesday night, there will be "Welcome to the City" exercises, under the auspices of the local Steering Committee, general chairman, Rev. James Hall, presiding.

Response to the words of welcome will be spoken by Special Deputy Grand Master W. A. Clement of Durham.

Most Everybody Else Looked For Sacrifices By 'Others'

By R. GREGORY NOKES Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — A Catholic priest, Msgr. Lawrence J. Corcoran, made one of the few offers of personal sacrifice at President Ford's weekend economic summit conference.

Msgr. Corcoran, a delegate representing the National Conference of Catholic Charities, said he would accept a 10 per cent reduction in his income to help the economy if everybody else would do the same.

But it seemed that most everybody else expected somebody else to do the sacrificing. Homebuilders wanted subsidies, thrift institutions wanted incentives for more savings activity, people on welfare didn't want their programs cut, Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said defense spending already was cut to the bone, businessmen said price controls wouldn't work for them, labor leaders said inflation has eroded wages enough.

Still there was virtually unanimous recognition by all of the 800 delegates who expressed themselves that somebody is going to have to make some sacrifice if the nation is going to come to grips with its economic problems.

A major challenge facing President Ford is how to distribute the sacrifice.

"Inflation strikes society unevenly," Ford said Saturday. "Government must concern itself with those on whom this burden falls excessively."

He promised a program in the next 10 days that will include help for the jobless and tax adjustments to help those hurt most by inflation.

But how much help, and how to give it, is the second big challenge.

If help for the jobless means a public service employment program, which is likely, then the money must come from somewhere.

Housing and Urban Development Secretary James T. Lynn acknowledged the dilemma in talking about a proposed special program for home mortgage subsidies to help the sagging housing industry.

He said the government would have to turn to the credit markets to borrow the billions that would be required, and that would result in some slight upward push on interest rates, with some inflationary consequences of its own.

One Injured In Four Traffic Collisions

Four Sunday collisions resulted in one person being injured and an estimated $1,820 property damage, Greenville police reported.

Charles Oliver Dove of 400 Greenwood Dr. was injured, police said, when the motorcycle he was driving collided with a sign on Memorial Drive, 400 feet North of the Chestnut Street intersection about 4:20 p.m.

Officers, who made no charges, set damage to the motorcycle at $150 and damage to the sign at $20.

Heaviest damage resulted from a 3:40 p.m. mishap on East Wright Road one-tenth of a mile South of the West Wright Road intersection and involved a car driven by Ruby Wilkins Fields of 2616 Jefferson Dr. and parked cars owned by Joseph Edward Downing of 102 Adams Blvd. and William Stuart Bost Jr. of 1713 Rosewood Dr.

Damage to the Fields and Bost cars was set at $150 each while damage to the Downing vehicle was estimated at $500.

No charges were made.

Cars driven by Edward Lee Ross of Colonial Trailer Pk. and Barbara Mae Tucker of Route 6, Greenville were involved in a 3:51 p.m. mishap on Old River Road, 400 feet South of the Airport Road intersection, officers reported.

Damage was estimated at $200 to the Ross car and $400 to the Tucker vehicle by police who made no charges.

Kenneth Alan Bissette of Route 1, Winterville was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of a 12:15 p.m. collision at the intersection of Fifth and Shepard Streets.

Investigators reported the Bissette car collided with an auto driven by Charlie Mac Dicken of Baltimore, Md., causing an estimated $200 damage to the Dicken car and $50 damage to the Bissette auto.

Identified 8 Victims

HAMILTON—Three persons were killed and five others injured when two cars collided about nine miles north of here on N.C. 903 about 7:45 p.m. Saturday.

Highway Patrolman W.N. Sessoms identified the drivers of the cars involved as Elbert Clark, 63, of Route 1, Oak City and Boss Alexander, 52, of Route 1, Hodgood.

Both Clark and Alexander, as well as three-year-old Fredrick Whitaker of Route 1, Palmyra—a passenger in the Alexander car—were killed in the crash.

Five other passengers in the Alexander car were injured, according to Trooper Sessoms.

The officer said the Clark car was headed south on N.C. 903 and collided with the northbound Alexander car when the Alexander vehicle apparently crossed the center line of the highway.

Dr. Leo Jenkins, Chancellor of East Carolina University who will speak on "Unity."

"I felt that since Dr. Jenkins is a real leader in the community he can give us a unique perspective on our 200th year," said Arnett. "He should be able to give us a real look at where we've been and where we're headed in the years before us."

The luncheon is not limited to those men belonging to civic clubs, but is open to the men of the whole community. Tickets are available from Arnett Harris at $4.00 per person. Reservations may be made by calling 758-4054 or 752-1919. The men of the community are urged to get their tickets early.

VIP Luncheon Set Friday At Country Club

The Men's VIP Luncheon will be held Friday, October 4 at 12:15 at the Greenville Golf and Country Club, according to Arnett Harris, chairman of the event.

The featured speaker will be

Roadblock Stopped Stolen Motorcycle

A 25-year-old Fayetteville man was arrested by Greenville police on charges of larceny of a motorcycle and speeding following a high-speed chase here last night.

Chief Glenn Cannon said Ronald Goins was taken into custody by officers behind the Holiday Inn motel on Memorial Drive about 8:25 p.m. after he ran when the motorcycle he was riding was stopped a police road block on the Stantonsburg Road near the Memorial Drive intersection.

According to the police official, police observed Goins operating the stolen motorcycle on Dickinson Avenue about 8:20 p.m. and attempted to stop the vehicle.

The chase led along Dickinson Avenue and Westward along U.S. 264 to the Allen Road, then Northward along the Allen Road
