

Japan Assured Of U.S. Farm Shipments

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
TOKYO (AP) — President Ford began the first American presidential visit to Japan today by meeting with Emperor Hirohito and assuring Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka that Japan can count on "a stable supply of agricultural imports from the United States."

Ford invited the emperor to visit the United States next year, renewing an invitation first extended three years ago, and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a news conference the invitation was accepted.

Ford's talk with Tanaka and other high-ranking Japanese officials also dealt with the locally touchy question of nuclear weapons aboard U.S. Navy ships visiting Japanese ports, the global oil situation and U.S. relations with China and the Soviet Union.

Kissinger said Ford expressed his desire to maintain a steady flow of U.S. agricultural shipments to Japan. The flow was disturbed last year when President Nixon temporarily imposed an embargo on soybean exports, a major source of protein in the Japanese diet.

The secretary of state said the President also "expressed his understanding for the special sensitivities" of the Japanese about nuclear weapons.

Nuclear weapons are barred from Japanese territory, and Tanaka's government was acutely embarrassed when a retired American admiral told a U.S. congressional committee earlier this year that American navy ships visiting foreign ports did not unload their nuclear weapons.

Kissinger said any special questions arising in the nuclear area would be handled by him and Foreign Minister Toshio Kimura.

Ford also gave Tanaka and his colleagues a preview of his meeting in Vladivostok next weekend with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev. Kissinger, who will go to Peking from Vladivostok, said he would stop in Tokyo next week to tell the Japanese leaders about the meeting with Brezhnev and his talks with the Chinese.

The meeting between Ford and the emperor — to the strains of the University of Michigan fight song — was the first between a Japanese ruler and an American president on Japanese soil. Though entirely symbolic, Kissinger said it was the part of Ford's visit that "has meaning to the Japanese people," an indication that it was considered the most significant part of the visit.

Enraged People Burn Bodies Four Arab Terrorists Are Slain

By The Associated Press
Israeli troops stormed an apartment building today and gunned down four Arab terrorists holding 75 hostages. Enraged townspeople threw the guerrilla bodies out a window, doused them with gasoline and set them ablaze.

Two Israeli housewives and a man were killed in the assault on Beit Shean — at least one woman shot by guerrillas and the others apparently killed in the crossfire — and 20 were injured.

Arab students in east Jerusalem and occupied west Jordan staged violent anti-Israeli demonstrations for the fourth straight day. Israeli security forces detained 40 Arab youths after the students began pelting police with stones, police reported.

Police and soldiers watched helplessly in Beit Shean as a body went up in flames and people screamed "Another one! Another one! Death to the terrorists!"

The terrorists struck before dawn in the town of 20,000 near the Sea of Galilee and the Jordan border and held the building for three hours until Israeli troops attacked.

The injured were taken to a hospital in Afula, 15 miles away. Many of them were children, and all had sprains and fractures suffered when they leaped from the besieged four-story building.

"Our people are very emotional about terrorists and I don't think they are responsible for their actions today," said Mayor Yitzhak Kenan. "We have a long account to settle with the terrorists."

Kenan said the guerrillas came dressed like laborers carrying sacks on their backs.

"They sprayed every doorway in the building with bullets from their Kalashnikovs and broke into a third-floor flat and killed Mrs. Bibas," said a stunned survivor. Mrs. Zohara Bibas, a 50-year-old mother of three, was the first victim.

"Then they kept firing and throwing grenades from the window."

A wrecked living room in one of the building's 12 apartments showed where the terrorists made their last stand. Bullet holes scarred the blood-stained walls and broken plaster covered a shelf.

Security forces said they found 12 pounds of explosives and 14 hand grenades in the room.

"This morning's attack has strengthened Israel's resolve never to deal with the PLO," said an aide to Premier Yitzhak Rabin. "The casualties of Beit Shean are an example of the peace and harmony projected for this country by Arafat and his band of killers."

He was referring to Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization, which Arab leaders have recognized as the leader of Arabs living under Israeli occupation.

The Popular Democratic Front, a splinter Marxist

Palestinian guerrilla group at odds with Arafat, announced in Damascus that the raiders were members of the front. It said their purpose was to force Israel to release 13 guerrillas and Archbishop Hilarion Capudji of Jerusalem, a Greek Catholic prelate charged with smuggling arms to Arab terrorists.

HOTLINE

752-1336

Hotline gets things done for you. Call 752-1336 and tell your problem or your sound-off or mail it to Hotline, The Daily Reflector, Box 1967, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

Because of the large numbers received, Hotline can answer and publish only those items considered most pertinent to our readers. Names must be given, but only initials will be used. Transcribing is done once a day, but the phone service is available 24 hours a day.

LOST PURSES

Hotline has requests almost every day for assistance in locating missing purses and wallets. We have not used this kind of appeal, because, as much as we'd like to help, we know the column would be filled with nothing but this kind of item, once we began.

We did talk to Police Chief Glenn Cannon about the problem, however. He says the Police Department has numerous stolen purses reported every month, most of them from cars. He advised that nothing of value ever is left in a car, locked or unlocked. "Especially with Christmas shopping getting underway now," he said, "we urge everyone to lock their parcels in the trunks of their cars."

He also advised that people make a list of all the cards they carry and any pertinent information on each and leave this in a safe place at home, so replacement won't be so difficult if a purse is lost or stolen.

Though it's probably naive to appeal to thieves, it would also be nice if those who take purses would leave them where they would be likely to be found and returned to the owners, so the ordeal of replacing papers would not be necessary, at least, for those unlucky enough to have money taken. Anyone finding such an item should either contact the owner or give it to the Police, so it may be returned. Of course, it's important that the container be marked so identification would be possible.

SUBSCRIPTION EXTENDED

I subscribed to U. S. News & World Report and got only one copy. I noticed that the address was wrong on the mailing label, so I wrote to them explaining this. I've had no answer and no further issues. J.B.V.

Hotline explained in a letter about the probable wrong address and enclosed a copy of your canceled check. Within the week you had received a letter explaining that the subscription was stopped after the subscription department continued to get back the copies they sent you. They promised to extend your subscription to make up for the lost time now that they have your correct address.

Agenda Has 7 Items

Seven items of business are slated for consideration at Wednesday night's Joint City-County and Greenville Planning and Zoning Commission meeting.

Business on the joint board agenda includes: a report from the Condominium Committee; consideration of an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance which would add bicycle shops as a special use in an R-6 zone; a rezoning request by Wheelless & Moore Inc. for 50 acres located on SR 1700 to the north of Coastal Chemical Corp. from RA-20 to CH; and discussion of the Medical District Development Plan.

Items on the agenda of the Greenville board include: a preliminary plat of Southridge Subdivision located opposite Cherry Oaks Subdivision; a request of James M. Williamson to rezone Lot 1, Block A of College Court Subdivision from 0 and I to R-9; and consideration of proposed driveways in Medical Plaza.

The Medical District Development Plan was discussed in length during the October session. The commission held a workshop session on the matter last week to consider further action on the MDDP.

The November planning meeting is scheduled for this Wednesday rather than the regular fourth Wednesday.

More Cutbacks Seen In Housing, Auto, Steel

By TERENCE HUNT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government figures have signaled a deeper slump ahead for the home building industry, and auto and steelmakers warn of production cutbacks that will trigger more unemployment.

The Commerce Department reported Monday that the number of new houses started by builders dropped for the fourth consecutive month during October to a total of 1.124 million units at an annual rate. The rate was off by seven-tenths of 1 per cent from September and marked the latest in what has been a steady home building decline from 1972.

At the same time, the number of building permits issued during the month totaled the equivalent of 802,000 units, the lowest since December, 1966, when 743,000 permits were handed out. Permit issuances usually anticipate new starts by from three to six months, indicating a further deterioration in the home building industry.

Meanwhile, plans for "substantial plant closing" in December were announced by the Chrysler Corp. Its chairman, Lynn Townsend, blamed the cutback on poor car sales, but said there will be no "company-wide shutdown."

Townsend said there would be many additional layoffs in the coming two months as Chrysler trims 50,000 cars from its fourth-quarter production schedule. Some 26,000 Chrysler workers were on layoffs this week from a blue-collar workforce of about 100,000.

In the steel industry, the nation's two largest producers announced steps to cut production in anticipation of the coal miners' strike lasting at least three weeks.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steelmaker, said it would start shutting down entire plants if miners do not return to work by Dec. 1.

It reduced raw steel production by 25 per cent last week and curtailed hot metal production by 30 per cent, banking 17 blast furnaces and furloughing 13,700 workers.

The United Mine Workers bargaining council resumes talks on a proposed contract today, but there were indications that negotiations between the union and industry may be reopened because of reported dissatisfaction among union officials over the tentative settlement.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., the No. 2 producer, said it is banking four coke batteries at its Sparrows Point, Md., plant and is laying off 175 of its 22,000 workers there.

In another economic development, the Federal Reserve Board confirmed it began easing restraints on the nation's money supply in August. A report showed that the Fed then targeted money supply growth at from 4.75 per cent to 6.75 per cent. The figure represented an increase from the previous month's target growth of from 2 to 6 per cent.

School Supt. Cox Authorized To Seek Occupational Courses Data

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Members of the Greenville City Schools Board Monday night gave Superintendent Glenn Cox authorization to seek additional information on the possibility of arrangements for offering students additional occupational courses.

This would be in two new fields—cosmetology and auto mechanics. Cox explained that consistent interest has been expressed by students for courses in these two fields, which would entail arrangements "outside the school system" in order to offer these courses. An opinion expressed by board members was that these courses would be worthwhile additions to the current occupational curriculum.

One new development was that of a policy viewpoint concerning substitute teachers. Members asked Cox to draw up a minimum qualifications criteria for substitute teachers, and to prepare an updated list of names of persons eligible to serve as substitute teachers.

The resignation of three teachers was accepted. The election of two replacement teachers—Mrs. Fayette Baker at Eastern and Michael J. Taylor at Aycock was also approved following a closed executive session. Authorization was also granted for one maternity leave beginning in January.

The 1973-74 audit for the Greenville schools was approved. The audit showed one deficiency, that of a need to balance the accounts of food services.

In other actions and discussions school board members:

—Expressed pleasure in the results of two recent community-student events; the two day Health Fair sponsored by the Pitt County Medical Auxiliary at Wahl-Coates; and the attendance of Aycock students at the craft fair in Winston-Salem. Board members asked Cox to make an official expression of gratitude to members of the Medical Auxiliary for their outstanding presentation, and to ask them about the possibility of a similar project next year.

—Heard a report from Cox that the State Board of Education had turned down a request for an additional teacher at South Greenville due to overload in classes; and that the same board had authorized current overloads in 12 different classes in the city schools; and —Heard a report by Cox on memorandum to all principals concerning conservation of cleaning materials and a better regulated system of cleaning schools;

Dr. Martin J. Lutz, vice-president of the City Wide PTA Council, presented a brief resume of a school safety study made by the council. Dr. Lutz noted that each school had been studied, and that the report contained a number of recommendations to improve safety conditions, particularly in areas relevant to traffic conditions in the vicinity of each school.

On the subject of school safety, school board member Mrs. Barry Shank asked that action be taken to install fire extinguishers in each mobile unit in the school system. She said that some units do not have this equipment.

The attendance study project, started last January, was again a subject of discussion. Following a report by Cox, board members gave him the go ahead on follow up contacts with the General Assistance Center at East Carolina University. This center is equipped to assist city schools in programs to work with students whose grades are not satisfactory due to frequent absences, including time lost through suspensions.

No action was taken to adopt a draft of student teacher policy. Board members expressed satisfaction with the draft, but asked Cox to again meet with personnel of the School of Education at ECU for a

Navy Cross For Former POW

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Rear Adm. Jeremiah A. Denton, Jr., commandant of the Armed Forces Staff College here, blinked his eyes and received the Navy's second highest medal.

Denton, a prisoner of war in North Vietnam for more than seven years, blinked out a Morse Code distress signal during an involuntary interview with a Japanese newsmen in 1966.

On Monday, Denton was awarded the Navy Cross, second only to the Medal of Honor. It described his act as one of "extraordinary heroism."

Couple Weds Sunday Afternoon Sherill-Coward Vows Solemnized

MRS. WORTH EUGENE BAKER JR.

In a double ring ceremony Sunday at 3:00 p.m. at the St. James United Methodist Church, Miss Myrtle Augusta Ormond became the bride of Worth Eugene Baker Jr.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ormond of Stokes, and Mr. and Mrs. Worth E. Baker Sr. of Greenville.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roderick Randolph. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Herbert Carter, organist, of Greenville and Miss Debra Manning, vocalist, of Bethel. Miss Manning sang "We've Only Just Begun", "Twelfth of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white a'la mode designed with a high neckline of cluny lace edged in ruffled lace. The bodice featured a bib effect of peau d'ange lace outlined in gathered white cluny lace and beaded with pearls. The long fitted peau d'ange lace sleeves featured the beaded design and were trimmed with ruffled cluny lace cuffs.

She wore a three tiered lace edged fingertip veil attached to a Camelot cap of lace beaded with pearls.

The bridesmaids wore formal length Nile green sleeveless knit gowns designed with a V-neckline. A bolero jacket of emerald green velvet was edged in ruffled Nile green knit.

The matron of honor wore a formal length emerald green velvet gown designed with a V-neckline edged in ruffled velvet trim. The long fitted sleeves featured the ruffled velvet at the cuffs. The empire bodice and the gathered skirt were enhanced at the waistline with white cluny lace extending to the back with long streamers. All the attendants wore headpieces of emerald green velvet bows.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Henriette Guy of Greenville, and the bridesmaids were Miss Donna Tripp, cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Gail McLawhorn, Mrs. Lynette Woolard, Miss Beth Harrington, and Miss Jacqui Nelson, all of Greenville.

The best man was Worth E. Baker Sr. of Greenville. Ushers were Craig Baker, brother of the bridegroom, Bill Davis and James Flitts, of Roanoke Rapids, Bruce Taylor of Raleigh, and Gary Moore of Goldsboro.

Miss Nelle Guy, niece of the bride, of Greenville, was flower girl. She wore a formal length yellow gown and carried a basket of fall flowers. Jason Civils of Jacksonville, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer. For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride wore a fall print dress, matching accessories and a corsage. The couple will reside in Stokes.

The bride is a graduate of Pitt Technical Institute and is employed by Eastern Orthopaedic Group, Inc. The bridegroom attended ECU and is doing construction work.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall following the wedding.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the couple were a wedding breakfast at the Ramanda Inn for the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

The bridegroom's parents entertained the wedding party, friends and out-of-town guests at an after-rehearsal party Saturday night at their home.

Conference Set For Saturday In Murfreesboro

MURFREESBORO — A Conference of Enlightenment on the Equal Rights Amendment will be held here Saturday at Chowan College. The conference is sponsored by the Ahoskie Business and Professional Women's Club in cooperation with the college and will be held in Columns auditorium beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The purpose of the conference, which is open to the public, is to discuss the Equal Rights Amendment, and to inform the public of the benefits.

Miss Katherine G. Peden, past president of the National Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., Louisville, Ky., will lead the conference. She is president of Katherine G. Peden and Associates, Inc., of Louisville.

She served as Kentucky's Commissioner of Commerce from 1963 to 1967, and was a member of President Kennedy's Commission on the Status of Women. In 1967 she was named by President Johnson to the 11-member National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders. She is listed in "Who's Who In America." "Who's Who In Commerce And Industry, and "Who's Who Of American Women."

Mary Daugherty, president of the Greenville BPW, and Stephanie Carstarphen, coordinator for the Greenville Coalition for Ratification of the ERA, announce that their organizations are cooperating with the Ahoskie BPW in publicizing the conference.

The marriage of Elizabeth Ann Coward and Jonathan Eugene Sherrill Jr. was solemnized Nov. 10 at 3:00 p.m. in a ceremony performed at Immanuel Baptist Church. Howard Dawkins conducted the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Jonathan Eugene Sherrill Jr.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Parks of Greenville, the bride was given in marriage by her stepfather. She wore a formal gown of white organza fashioned with a stand-up collar and bodice of re-embroidered and beaded alencon lace. The skirt and train featured appliques of alencon lace. Her veil was of net with pearls and radiance stones. The bride carried a nosegay of white carnations with white satin streamers.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Eugene Sherrill Sr. of Snow Hill.

The matron of honor was Linda C. Davis of Scotland Neck, and the maid of honor was Robin Williams of Greenville. Bridesmaids were Gloria N. Coward and Cheryl Pinkston, both of Greenville.

The father of the bridegroom was best man and ushers were Archie, Jackie and David Sherrill.

A program of wedding music was presented by Dr. J. B. Hensley of Greensboro, soloist. Organist was Melinda Daniels.

After a wedding trip to the western part of the state, the couple will reside in Snow Hill. The bride is a graduate of Rose High School. The bridegroom graduated from Greene Central High School and continued his education in Raleigh at a computer center. He is now engaged in farming with his father.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Victor Coward Jr. of St. Corix, Virgin Islands.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church reception hall.

Annual Bazaar To Be Held On Saturday

The women of the Hollywood Presbyterian Church will hold their annual church bazaar Saturday, Nov. 23, at the church fellowship hall from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The bazaar will feature the country kitchen with homemade chicken and pastry dinner from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., homemade chicken salad or vegetable soup, a bakery shop with homemade cakes, pies and candies, a garden shop with potted plants and shrubs.

A clothing shop with used clothing, a country store with canned and fresh vegetables, pickles, jellies and preserves in addition to a Christmas shop will be staged.

The public is invited to attend.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

Well, they finally got the buzz out of seat belts.

It took an act of Congress to do it, but at last people will be able to get into their cars and start them without red lights flashing, alarms going off and someone at your elbow snipping. "Well, it's not me, Phyllis, and you're the only other person in the front seat!"

The seat belt alarm system did for marriage what Jane Fonda did for the VFW. That harmless little electronic belch has left in its wake scores of damaged marriages. And it isn't over yet.

As I said to my husband the other day as I crawled into the car, "Something is wrong with my seat. It feels funny."

"That's because you are not sitting on top of your seat belt like you usually do."

"That's not true. I only did that a couple of times."

"Then why can't you wear a bathing suit without embarrassing strap marks?"

"That's easy for you to say," I snapped. "You're used to being restrained. I'm not!"

"What do you mean by a crack like that? After all, I think you should be happy that someone had some consideration for your safety."

"So how come you had them disconnected?"

"Because you became hysterical when you tried to jump out of the car for an errand and cut your dress in half."

"I wasn't hysterical. Just stunned for a moment. If you loved me you wouldn't have taken the buzz out of the seat belts."

"How did you come to that conclusion?"

"Stiller and Meara. They're a comedy team who did a commercial for seat belts. He said he buckled her up because it was a subtle way of telling her he loved her."

"You told me seat belt buzzers were as subtle as a fist coming out of the glove compartment and punching you in the mouth."

"That's before I knew you really didn't care what happened to me. All these years you've just pretended to like my meat loaf."

"What's meat loaf got to do with anything?"

"It has as much to do with anything as your mother wearing a navy blue dress to the wedding."

"So buckle up if you want to. You're over 21."

"Here it comes. . . the 'She's 27-days-older-than-I-am-number.'"

"That settles it. Tomorrow I hook up the seat belt buzzer."

"You don't care what I look like in a bathing suit!" I sulked.

Persuade Husband To Go Straight

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a professional gambler for 14 years. We used to live in Nevada where gambling was legal, then we moved to a state where gambling is illegal.

My husband operates a respectable cocktail lounge—but he makes his big money running a high-stakes poker game in the back.

Last week the police raided his place. The whole story was in the newspapers, and he showed up on television looking like a common criminal with his jacket in front of his face.

The next day he was back in the gambling business. (He said there had been a "mix-up in the payoff.")

Our two daughters (11 and 12) came home from school crying. They said the kids made fun of them because their father had been arrested. Now they don't want to face their friends at school.

I begged my husband to cut out the gambling business for our daughters' sake. He reminded me that the girls and I had enjoyed lots of luxuries because of his gambling business so we shouldn't complain.

I'd rather have less, and have my husband in a legitimate business. How can I get through to him?

HAD IT IN HOUSTON

DEAR HAD IT: Your husband has a point as far as you're concerned. It's something else with the daughters. You could have settled for less long ago. The girls had no choice. For their sake you should use every means at your disposal to persuade your husband to pocket his deck and go straight.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to the mother who is still nagging her tall 36-year-old daughter to "sit straight:" I think I know the problem. The world is made to accommodate 5'3" to 5'5" women.

That tall daughter should raise her sinks, stove and counter area enough to accommodate her height, and then watch her shoulders move back! It worked for my daughter, and it took only a hike of three inches to do it. I have a smart husband. 5'9"

DEAR 5'9": A husband who can raise a sink, stove and counter area—and is willing to do it in order to accommodate the tall women in his home is indeed 9 feet tall himself.

Little Hope Of Major Tax Revision This Year Calves Killed By Dairymen

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Conceding there is little hope Congress will pass major tax revisions this year, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills says next year's new Congress probably will take up such a bill as a first order of business.

The House Ways and Means Committee, chaired by Mills, resumed work Monday on the legislation to increase taxes on oil companies and lower them for average taxpayers.

The committee is expected to approve some type of slimmed-down bill in a bid to have something to show for several months of work on tax revision proposals. But congressional sources said there was virtually no chance such legislation could be cleared by both House and Senate this year.

Mills originally wanted the committee to produce a streamlined package of tax changes to offer for House action next week. But he said Monday there is no hope of gaining a House decision that quickly on the complex matter.

Mills suggested ending the oil depletion allowance on Jan. 1, 1975, instead of phasing it out by 1979, as the committee decided previously. The allowance saves oilmen between $2 billion and $3 billion a year in federal taxes.

The panel's staff experts suggested these features could be put into a slimmed-down bill: a temporary excise tax on windfall profits of petroleum producers, the end of the depletion allowance, a boost in the investment credit for some public utilities, a series of changes in foreign income features of U.S. tax law, and some tax cuts for average Americans.

The tax cuts would include increasing the maximum standard deduction, used by taxpayers who do not itemize on their return, from $2,000 to $2,500 and boosting the minimum standard deduction that benefits low-income persons from $1,300 to $1,600 for singles and to $1,900 for couples.

MOUNT VERNON, Wash. (AP)—Newborn dairy bull calves in at least one Washington county are being slaughtered at the rate of about 100 a week because there is no market for them, farmers say.

Though less publicized than recent beef cattle protests, dairy farmers say they face the same sort of price squeeze. Farmers say they barely cover feed costs when they sell the animals.

Danny Miller, whose Burlington farm is one of Skagit County's largest dairy operations, recently went to market with 13 three-day-old calves and a 10-day-old calf. Eight of the newborn animals sold for $1 each, three for $2 each and two weren't sold. The oldest sold for $5.

The $19 Miller received just covered his sales yard charges. The money went for brand inspection, veterinarian and state beef council fees and a $9.90 commission to the auction yard.

"I would have gained $48 by knocking them in the head," Miller said it cost him $34 for feed and hauling for those animals.

Dairymen estimate the cost of raising the stock at $1-$2 a day.

About 60 calves were known to have been killed and buried within the past two weeks in Skagit County, which contains some of the state's prime dairyland. Farmers estimate a realistic estimate would be 100 killings a week in that one county.

One farmer said information he gathered at a recent State Dairymen's Federation convention in the Seattle area indicated calf killing is widespread throughout the state.

Unlike the beef cattle killing, the dairy slaughter apparently has become a normal part of business. Farmers say Jersey and Guernsey calves, less productive breeds than Holstein, are worth virtually nothing at sales. Most of those killed are bulls rather than heifers, which may be future dairy cows.

Greyhound Buses Idled By Nationwide Strike

By GINNY PITT
Associated Press Writer
Greyhound buses which usually carry about 190,000 passengers daily on scheduled routes were strike-bound today at terminals throughout the country. The line's chartered coaches were still operating.

There were isolated reports of stranded travelers after drivers and other employees walked off their jobs. But most Greyhound passengers were transferred to trains or buses of other lines.

Negotiations between the firm and the Amalgamated Transit Union broke off an hour after the strike began at 2 p.m. EST Monday, when a contract extension expired.

Some 16,000 Greyhound employees struck the nationwide system which carries passengers to and from about 40,000 American cities.

Federal Mediator Guy Parent said he did not know whether negotiations would be resumed immediately. Union and company representatives were at the bargaining table around-the-clock for 48 hours prior to the strike.

Picket lines went up at Greyhound terminals in many cities. In some, such as Boston, which also serve local commuter and other bus lines, pickets were stationed in driveways but not at passenger entrances.

Greyhound's chartered buses continued to operate with union permission. One union official said some charter buses may be operating for another week.

Supervisory personnel staffed terminals in many areas, handling telephone inquiries, refunding tickets, referring passengers to Amtrak trains and Continental Trailways buses and checking out baggage.

Both Amtrak and Trailways agreed to honor Greyhound tickets. Amtrak spokesmen said Greyhound was making up any cost differences between train and bus fares.

Many passengers said they were not inconvenienced by the strike. Trailways terminals were more crowded than usual Monday night, but not overflowing.

Negotiations began Sept. 16 in Phoenix, Ariz., where Greyhound's national headquarters are located. At that time, the union demanded an across-the-board pay hike of 60 cents an hour, according to William Brummit, president of the union's Phoenix local. Bus drivers also asked for a one-cent-a-mile increase, he said.

The old contract called for an average wage of $5.76 an hour or 21.8 cents a mile, whichever was greater.

Union officials blamed the strike partly on disagreement over the length of a new contract and difficulty in bargaining for the first time as a nationwide unit. Previous contracts had been negotiated separately for drivers on either side of the Mississippi River.

Duplicate Winners

Mrs. E. L. Baker and Mrs. Gretchen Goodwin were first place winners in the duplicate bridge game played Wednesday morning at the Bank of North Carolina.

Others who placed were: Mrs. Ralph Sullivan and Mrs. John Richards, second; tied for third were Mrs. W. Z. Morton Jr. and Mrs. David Stevens with Mrs. Frank Close and Mrs. William Bloodworth.

Wednesday afternoon winners were North-South: Mrs. M. H. Bynum and Mrs. Eli Bloom, first; Mrs. William Parvin and Mrs. J. M. Horton, second; tied for third were Mrs. Earl Fisher and Mrs. J.W.H. Roberts with Mrs. Roger Critcher Jr. and Mrs. J. S. Rhodes Jr.

East-West: Mrs. Sol Schechter and Mrs. Max Chused, first; Mrs. Effie Williams and Mrs. George Martin, second; Mrs. W. R. Harris and Mrs. Beulah Eagles, third.

Saturday afternoon winners at First Federal were North-South: Mrs. J. M. Horton and Mrs. W. R. Harris, first; Mrs. John Proctor and Mrs. George Martin, second; Jim Bell and Dave Shuping, third.

East-West: Mrs. Rose Cox and Miss Kitty Meares, first; Mrs. L. D. Harris and Mrs. William Parvin, second; Mrs. Irvin Adler and Mrs. Robert Barnhill, third.

Club Tournaments will be held Wednesday, Nov. 20, and on Saturday, Nov. 23.

Sparky Winners Are Announced

Winners in the Sparky bulletin board contest are announced by Jane Murray, Inspector 1 of the Greenville Fire Prevention Bureau.

First place was won by Mrs. Edwards' class at Sadie Sautler School; second place by Mrs. West's class at Eastern Elementary; and third place by Mrs. Jarman's class at Sadie Sautler. Honorable mentions went to Mrs. Wintort's class at Third Street and Mrs. Tyson's class at Wahl Coates.

Mrs. Murray said, "The Fire Prevention Bureau hopes that a continued interest will be shown by all the fifth graders in each school. Our fire prevention program is a pilot one which hopefully will be a part of the curriculum each year."

Charge Break-In By 17-Year-Old

Glenn Dale Williams, 17, of 509 Sheppard St. was charged last night with breaking and entering after officers took him into custody at the rear of Harris Super Market at 901 West Fifth St.

Chief Glenn Cannon said police took Williams into custody as he was allegedly coming out of the store, about 11:40 p.m.

Entry to the building was gained through a rear door.

Williams was placed under a $200 bond pending hearing of the case in District Court here December 2.

'Antifreeze' Just Water

RALEIGH (AP)—Regulations governing the sale of antifreeze in North Carolina were adopted Monday by the state Board of Agriculture.

The Department of Agriculture will test the antifreeze for water percentage, chemical content and performance.

Adoption of the regulations came after a hearing. Clyde Jones of Boone told the board he bought $17,000 worth of what was supposed to be antifreeze from a Florida firm last August to distribute in North Carolina.

He said when buyers began to complain he had the agriculture department test the product. It turned out to be water and food coloring.

"I'm afraid I've just lost the money," Jones said.

The board's action gives the regulations the weight of law. The regulations had been administrative policy of the department for several years, but enforcement was difficult.

Funding Deserves A Priority

The UNC Board of Governors has acted favorably on a recommendation for expanding the ECU School of Medicine to a four-year program.

With only five dissenting votes, the board took the historic action last Friday.

Not only was the recommendation made but it was done with enthusiasm by some board members who had opposed the two year program.

"At long last I have the privilege of supporting a medical school at East Carolina University without reservation," Tom White of Kinston said.

Chairman William Dees of Goldsboro said, "There is something to the idea that a medical school program oriented to family practice is a different emphasis than the kind of medical training we are giving at Chapel Hill."

Some members voted for the school expansion with misgivings, expressing concern about the cost.

It is true that developing a four year school of medicine will be expensive, but we must weigh the cost against the great benefit the school will be in improving health care for our citizens.

As we have said, we believe the $50 million capital improvements budget which Dr. William Friday presented is realistic, assuming inflation doesn't overtake it. So now it is up to the Advisory Budget Commission and the Legislature to consider the financing.

It is well known that the outlook for state funds for the coming biennium is not going to be as rosy as it has been in the past due to economic conditions. Still there should be enough money there to the essential things. We believe that developing the ECU Medical School on the schedule that Dr. Friday set (graduating the first class in 1979) is essential, if North Carolina is going to meet its physician needs. Therefore, funding of the school should be top priority for the 1975 Legislature.

Even though the $50 million is a lot of money, we must remember that $15 million is already on hand for the project. That is 30 percent of the capital improvements budgets and any other state planning a new medical school would be delighted to have 30 percent of the needed funds available.

We think that finally almost everyone is pulling together on the development of the ECU Medical School. We feel that the needed funds will be provided by the 1975 Legislature and development of the school will come surprisingly fast. Nothing could be better for our state.

Pioneer Risks Damage

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer 11 will face a greater radiation danger than any previous spacecraft when it sweeps within 26,600 miles of Jupiter on Dec. 3, project officials report.

The robot explorer could be damaged so severely that it would be unable to carry out the second phase of its long interplanetary journey, a dash across the solar system to a 1979 rendezvous with Saturn.

"The radiation counts will probably soar at a pace that will scare us half to death just before closest approach," said B. J. O'Brien, Pioneer project manager at TRW Inc., which built the satellite for NASA.

Launched 20 months ago, Pioneer 11 is following a path blazed by its twin, Pioneer 10, a year ago. Pioneer 10 zipped 82,000 miles above Jupiter and its cameras and instruments provided science with startling new facts about the colossus of planets.

The newest probe will scout a different region of the planet, including the north and south poles.

"The experimenters measured a lot of intense radiation last year with Pioneer 10," said O'Brien. "This time the spacecraft is going three times closer. The closer you get to the planet, the more a given particle's energy climbs."

Fortunately, much of Pioneer 11's photographic and other investigative work will be completed by the time it hits the heavy portion of the Jovian radiation belt.

"If we hear nothing after it passes through, sure we'll be disappointed; we'll have missed the bonus," O'Brien said. "But we will have achieved our basic objectives — to see new faces of Jupiter, get a different cut through the radiation belts. We'll know more about how to design the next spacecraft so it can survive a passage that close to the planet."

The bonus he referred to is Saturn. That originally was not part of the flight plan. But scientists since have discovered a unique way to use the gravity of field of Jupiter to hurl Pioneer 11, slingshot fashion, on to Saturn.

THIS AFTERNOON

Kindergartens' Long Road

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — In government, things just don't happen overnight.

Consider North Carolina's public school kindergarten program. By the 1977-78 school year, all five-year-olds will be able to find a place in the public program.

Things have moved pretty fast, you might say. Just two years ago the General Assembly funded the six-year plan to make public kindergartens statewide.

This year, 32,000 youngsters are in kindergartens. Plans call for adding 16,000 each year until the full population of some 85,000 five-year-olds is in class. The present budget is $26.4 million; and each group of 16,000 kids increases the budget about $12.5 million — at the rate of $780 per child.

But none of this really came to pass with the smoothness and speed which a surface examination might reveal. Even the "modern" techniques of free exploration and open classroom structures are not a recent development. Griedrich Froebel, a German teacher, opened a school in 1837 operating like "a garden whose plants are human."

A History

Some interesting views of the development of kindergartens in the state has been compiled into a booklet by Rebecca Murray at Meredith College, and published by the MSS Information Corporation of New York, titled, "History of the Public School Kindergartens in North Carolina."

Miss Murray found descriptions of several "infant schools" in North Carolina in the mid-1800s, including ones in Raleigh and Fayetteville, and described early kindergartens being formed in conjunction with teacher training programs at Peace College in Raleigh in 1879; at Normal College in Randolph County in 1881; and at the University of North Carolina Normal School in 1878.

Kemp Battle, president of the university at Chapel Hill, brought Emily M. Coe of New York City to the campus to teach a summer program in 1878.

Emily M. Coe

Miss Coe returned to the state for future training sessions, and her early students were instrumental in spreading the method, leading President Battle to say, "Miss Coe may be considered the introducer into North Carolina of Kindergarten instruction."

Shortly, four other state-supported teacher training schools had public kindergartens in operation: Asheville, Franklin, Newton, and Washington.

In 1885, Miss Coe went to Asheville for a summer session, a step which probably led to the state's first public kindergarten citywide.

In 1889 the Asheville Free Kindergarten Association formed three private kindergartens, and in 1907 offered to give them to the city school system. The General Assembly of 1907 approved this, and from then until 1930, Asheville operated a public system which grew to 10 kindergartens. Then, Dennis Brummitt, attorney general, said the operation was illegal since the people had never voted on it. The system closed, suffering financial troubles.

In 1909 the Washington schools entered a kindergarten program which operated for five years, then folded in favor of a domestic sciences program.

In the early 1900s, mills in Greensboro and Lumberton had thriving kindergartens for the children of working mothers, and various parent-teacher groups were beginning to agitate for public kindergartens. The N.C. Teachers Assembly and the N.C. Congress of Parents and Teachers supported kindergartens. In 1912 the N.C. Kindergarten Association was formed.

The PTA unit, in 1920, called for a public school kindergarten for four and five-year-olds "at the earliest possible moment," and in 1923 the General Assembly gave permission for any local district to provide kindergartens by a vote of the people. But no state funds were provided.

Support continued, and both the N.C. Education Association and the N.C. Teachers Association joined the battle. From 1963 to 1967, bills were introduced at every session of the General Assembly to go public with kindergartens.

Then, in 1969, the legislature funded a pilot program with eight school systems participating, and the move toward full public kindergarten was assured.

From Rights To Wrongs

WASHINGTON—Some good things and some bad things are happening these days in the field of race relations. This month's elections offered heartening evidence of the good. A new little book by George Roche provides maddening evidence of the bad.

The good news has to do with election of blacks to public office. Year by year, the old walls of prejudice are tumbling down. The Voting Rights Acts of 1965 and 1970 gave the walls a push, but social and political forces would have toppled them anyhow. Blacks are registering and voting today in about the same percentages as whites; and black candidates are winning.

The 94th Congress will see 17 blacks in the House of Representatives, among them Harold Ford of Memphis. November 6 must have marked a great day in the Ford household: one son to Congress, one to the Tennessee Senate, one to the Tennessee House. Blacks won 13 seats in the Alabama House, 20 in the Georgia House, 13 in the lower chamber of South Carolina. By one estimate, blacks won 72 percent of the races in which they ran in the South. Blacks will serve as lieutenant governors in Colorado and California. From coast to coast, they won on their merits, in free and fair elections. As time goes on, under the same rules that apply to everyone else, they will continue to win on their merits.

To the latter-day Jacobins in charge of "civil rights," such evolutionary change is not enough. These misguided crusaders are attempting to impose upon higher education what is known as "affirmative action." A more disastrously negative program could not be contrived.

Dr. Roche, president of Hillsdale College in Michigan, exposes this evil in "The Balancing Act," just published by the Open Court publishing company of La Salle, Ill. In the field of education, a field marked more by timidity than by boldness, Dr. Roche speaks with rare candor and courage. He can afford to be courageous: His small college accepts not one dime of federal subsidy, so threats to withhold federal money hold no terrors for him.

This is not true of his colleagues. Most of our institutions have become desperately dependent upon federal aid of one kind or another, and these institutions are discovering an elemental truth: Federal aid means federal control. The control is taking the form of demands from Washington that the colleges meet certain "goals" in the hiring and promotion of women and minority faculty members.

An egalitarian dream has become an educational nightmare. Civil rights officials insist that a "goal" is not a "quota," but that insistence, in the kindest possible word, is a lie. Those who believe this invidious scheme does not demand racial quotas will believe the moon is made of green cheese. When the euphemisms are stripped away, demands for "affirmative action" mean that college administrators must hire women, blacks, Spanish Americans, or Orientals regardless of their qualifications.

Dr. Roche quotes from ads placed by leading institutions in professional journals: "We desire to appoint a black or Chicano, preferably female."

"Our doctoral requirements for faculty will be waived for candidates who qualify under the affirmative

The INSIDE REPORT

Behind General's Outburst

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — Behind the outrageously overblown slurs on American Jews by Gen. George Brown, is sober, well-justified concern at the Pentagon over the drain of ever more costly military aid to Israel at a time of growing congressional resistance to defense spending.

Accordingly, the General's blunt warning at Duke University last month that Israel's influence in the U.S. Congress is "so strong you wouldn't believe it" had a solid foundation. Leaving aside his gratuitous, untrue and grossly offensive crack about American Jews owning "the banks in this country," the newspapers," Brown's warning about Israel's control over the U.S. Congress is reflected in the vast transfer of scarce military supplies to Israel.

Pentagon concern reached a peak just after the $2.2 billion U.S. airlift of desperately needed military equipment to Israel during and after the fourth Arab-Israeli war in October 1973.

One result of that resupply line for Israel is this shocking fact: late model M-60 tanks airlifted out of U.S. military depots in West Germany and flown to the Mideast battlefield have still not been replaced in the American arsenal a full year later.

All told, some 600 American tanks — both M-60s and M-48s — were rushed to Israel. That was almost 10 per cent of the entire American tank force. With a production line running then at a mere 30 a month, thanks to congressionally-imposed budget restraints, that drawdown of the American arsenal to aid Israel ate up nearly two years of capacity production.

Potentially more damaging for the U.S. was the airlift of nearly one-half the entire supply of the highly sophisticated TOW anti-tank missile, the famous wire-guided tank killer. Although precise numbers are shrouded in military secrecy, it is known that approximately 100 of these miracle missile-launchers were rushed to Israel.

Highly qualified military officials told us privately that this drain of the newest U.S. anti-tank weapon threatened "training problems" in the U.S. Army by causing shortages of the missile launcher. But when we asked for an official statement on the alleged shortfall, the Pentagon's official spokesman hedged, saying only there had been "no apparent adverse impact on individual training conducted by our Army schools... that we can tie directly to the sending of TOW systems to Israel last year."

Along with half the supply of TOW launchers, Israel also obtained 2,000 actual TOW warheads, about 25 per cent of the entire U.S. stock. But warheads are far easier to produce than the launcher itself.

There are other examples of the dangerous drawdown of American military capabilities forced on the Pentagon by the October war. For instance, the Air Force today is short of the small percentage of F-4 fighter aircraft — the mainstay of Israel's air force — that is equipped with extremely costly electronic counter measures (ECM). "A high percentage of the very small

Other Editors Say Ominous Portent

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

A blizzard of energy legislation has engulfed Congress in recent months, and most of the hundreds of proposals seem to be punitive in nature. Ranging from antitrust bills to recommendations on how to handle the oil depletion allowance, excess profits taxes and price controls, this legislative storm could have serious repercussions for the American people.

Obviously all of this legislation will not become law — but some will. And each new law of this type cannot help but make the job of the energy industries even more difficult than it already is — and more costly to consumers.

Of even greater importance is the fact that when we begin reorganizing and restructuring basic American industries, such as energy, the entire U.S. economy is threatened.

Contrary to popular belief on Capitol Hill and elsewhere, the private enterprise system is not so well entrenched and invulnerable that it can forever withstand massive onslaughts of federal intervention and regulation.

Yet in recent years the government has intruded upon the operations and the function of the marketplace time and again.

This pattern of attack on the oil industry is an ominous portent of things to come: Break up the large companies in the industry; reduce profits and raise taxes; place various bureaucratic controls on the competitive process; and finally put the federal government into business in direct competition with private firms.

Taken as a whole, this represents a pattern of control and restriction that could destroy the business capabilities of oil or any other industry to which it is applied.

Strength For Today

SEEDS OF RIGHTEOUSNESS

Some years ago a British scientist declared that all through the soil of Britain were tropical seeds deposited millions of years ago which would sprout and break forth into fruitfulness if the climate would become consistently warmer.

In a figurative sense there are seeds of divine fruitfulness in every man. All that is needed to make them bring forth fruit is a consistent change of values and conduct. Just as sometimes we see individuals who we think are capable of material greatness—a business success or a notable political career, for example—so often we come across people who have a latent but undeveloped capacity for a spiritual life.

These are people we instinctively trust because they like and value other people. But very often, like an inherently bright person who has never been taught to read, they cannot realize their own potentialities. In the same way there are many spiritual illiterates whose lives would blossom forth if only the spiritual seeds would be allowed to sprout and grow.

The Power To Gripe Lives On

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The world is too much with us, the poet wrote, and he warned us that in getting and spending we lay waste our powers. But not, it appears, the power to gripe.

Here are some representative gripes:

1. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States claims the country doesn't have an effective restraint on at least one area of federal activity—the pay scales of government workers.

Federal salaries, it says, are outstripping those of workers in private industry. That, it suggests, not only is unfair competition with private industry but is inflationary as well.

Citing Commerce Department figures, the chamber reports that average federal pay now is $12,984 a year, or 46 per cent more than the average $8,900 received in the private sector, which it represents.

"But that's not all," it continues in "Washington Report." It relates that a Labor Department report "states that federal government fringe benefits, as a percentage of pay, are about 12 per cent greater than those of workers employed in the private sector."

The cause? It's because the foxes are guarding the henhouse, says the chamber, referring to a recent Senate vote to grant pay increases to federal workers, despite a presidential request they be postponed.

2. Like the U.S. Chamber, the Tax Foundation often is critical of how Washington spends its money. And nothing concerns the foundation more than the federal debt, which is now approaching $500 billion.

A major problem with the debt, it observes, is that the "ceiling" which is supposed to serve as a lid floats too easily. In 20 years it has been raised 32 times, and most people believe that record will be broken soon.

Now the foundation worries not just about the debt itself but about the $31 billion in interest that the government must pay to maintain that debt. That interest, it notes, is now the third largest spending category in the entire budget.

3. What do these have in common: convenience foods, children's clothing, appliance repairs, home repairs, automobile repairs, heating oil, moving expenses, credit charges and prescription drugs?

In terms of value for the dollar, a study by the Conference Board shows, these items are considered by consumers to be among the poorest buys in the market place.

The worst buy of all, the consumers indicated, was gasoline — but to have included that item in the list would have made the answer too easy.

Only 4.2 per cent of the 10,000 families studied classified gasoline as a good buy. Close to 28 per cent termed it an average buy, and 68 per cent classified it as a poor buy.

The best mark of all was given to poultry, some 44.1 per cent terming it a good buy. Eggs scored 39.4, black and white television sets 37.1, fresh vegetables 24.1 and milk 23 per cent.

Edmisten And Carson Violated New Campaign Law

By DAVID R. NELSEN
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — Both major candidates for state attorney general in the Nov. 5 general election apparently broke the state's new campaign reporting law and spokesmen promised Monday to correct the errors.

Neither Democrat Rufus Edmisten nor Republican James

Carson listed use of donated airplanes in their expenditure reports. Both used airplanes in the campaigns and the planes were nearly always donated.

Edmisten, who spent

$95,457.17 as of the latest report, won the election. Carson spent $88,669.38 as of the last report.

Edmisten's report showed $1,395.50 paid to Quail Ridge for campaign office and apartment rentals. Edmore said that included an apartment for Edmisten and one for his campaign manager, Charles Smith.

Neither man drew a salary during the campaign, though their expenses were paid, Edmore said. One month of Edmore's rent—$210—was paid by the campaign because he frequently provided lodging for out-of-town campaign workers while they were in Raleigh, he said.

"Art Speciality Co., Raleigh, $315, (for) three broads" in Winston-Salem. An embarrassed Edmore said that was a mistake that it was supposed to say "boards" referring to billboards.

Offer $11,000 In Club Awards

NEW YORK — John L. Burns, president of Boys' Club of America, has announced that the annual "Boy of the Year" program is this year offering awards totaling $11,000.

the President in a White House ceremony during National Boys' Club Week. He also meets other government officials, visits New York for press, radio and television interviews, and is an honored guest at the annual National Boys' Clubs conference. In addition, he will be honored as a "Youth Champion" at the American Legion convention in August.

All winners will be announced during national Boys' Club Week, March 16-23, 1974.

VETERAN TEACHERS
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Of the 53,668 persons holding a teaching certificate and working in the state's public schools, 11,354 men and women had been in the profession 20 years or more, according to the state Department of Education.

John Elmore, Edmisten's finance manager, said he listed the donations of airplanes but didn't know the planes should also be listed under expenditures. After checking the law, Elmore said he would make sure the planes were properly listed when the final report is submitted Nov. 30.

Bill Russo, Carson's campaign manager, said he recently noticed that the donated airplanes hadn't been listed and promised to file a correction to Carson's report with the Elections Commission.

The campaign reporting law was adopted by the 1974 legislature and has never been tested in court. It requires candidates to file reports of contributions, giving the name and address of all donors, and of expenditures, outlining where the money went.

When goods or services—such as use of an airplane—are donated, the law requires the money equivalent be listed as a contribution with a corresponding listing as an expenditure.

Evans-Novak.

By far the most dangerous shortfall is the M-60 tank. The Army is now desperately trying to boost production to 100 a month from the present rate of 40 (up from 30 a year ago) but cannot find suppliers of turrets. The Army has not yet replenished the tanks flown out of Germany to Israel; indeed, it was 2,000 tanks short when the Israelis made their October-war demand. The Army's tank arsenal is so depleted that M-60s pledged to Morocco and some other countries have had to be replaced by old-model tanks.

But there is a deeper reason for Brown's outburst against Jewish influence in American politics, going beyond military aid: Israel's political allies here so dominate the debate over the Middle East that the Arab case remains somewhat obscure.

In short, the emotional preoccupation in Congress with defense of Israel short-circuits Pentagon fears about U.S. influence throughout the vast Moslem world, particularly in the Arab oil states. It is a little-known fact that Air Force pilots today are restricted to extremely short flight-time to conserve fuel. Likewise, the Navy's "steaming days" for front-line warships have been drastically reduced.

All this lay behind Brown's ham-handed assault on the power of the American Jewish community. Quite apart from the General's inexcusable rhetoric, the Pentagon views the Middle East in terms of long-range U.S. strategic interests — a view that does not always parallel those of Israel.

Kilpatrick. . .

(Continued from page 4) action criteria. . . A faculty candidate, writing for a job, gets a blunt letter in reply: "It will be possible for me to contact you for a position only in the event you are black."

As Dr. Roche points out, this degrading scheme is especially cruel to those women and blacks who are in fact qualified for faculty positions. It always will be wondered if they made it on merit. The reverse discrimination understandably embitters white male candidates. The scheme paralyzes college administrators who see their integrity prostituted for federal dollars. And all this being done, mind you, in the holy name of "civil rights." A better description, as Dr. Roche makes clear, is civil wrongs.

Letters with no return address were returned immediately at no cost if a legible return address was on the outside, said Charlotte post office spokesman Willie Stratford.

But mail with no return address was sent to the dead letter office in Atlanta. There, inspectors will open them to determine the address and return it. The sender in turn is charged the same fee that would have taken to mail the letter originally.

If no return address can be determined, the letter is kept in Atlanta for one year and then destroyed, Stratford said.

If a person desires to retrieve a letter from the dead letter office, he may fill out tracer form 1510 with the post office, he said.

Unstamped Returned

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service returned near 3,000 stampless letters in Charlotte Monday as a result of a new regulation.

Months ago postal officials warned that nationwide "freebies" would cease Sunday. But when Charlotte postal workers sorted the first batch of mail following the edict, more than 3,000 of the 1.8 million pieces handed daily were found deficient.

Letters with no postage at all were returned immediately at no cost if a legible return address was on the outside, said Charlotte post office spokesman Willie Stratford.

But mail with no return address was sent to the dead letter office in Atlanta. There, inspectors will open them to determine the address and return it. The sender in turn is charged the same fee that would have taken to mail the letter originally.

Organized Labor Hints Accepting Demo Change

By ROB WOOD
Associated Press Writer
HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Spokesmen for organized labor told the nation's Democratic governors today they still have some reservations about a proposal aimed at preventing a party bloodbath at next month's mini-convention in Kansas City.

But they indicated, with some guidance from Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss, that they may abandon a move to spell out more clearly their opposition to quotas after being assured that the governors also oppose any effort to require specific numbers of blacks, women and young persons.

The continuing interparty debate over key provisions of the charter to be discussed at Kansas City overshadowed closing sessions of the Democratic Governors' Conference, at which the state executives discussed the meaning of the recent elections and heard about the state of the economy.

Several governors indicated they planned to push for approval of a resolution urging Congress to take strong anti-inflation action at the session that resumed Monday.

The governors passed unanimously Monday the resolution supporting a compromise delegate selection system. The resolution was discussed at a breakfast meeting today by a number of the governors and three top AFL-CIO officials.

Jacob Clayman, secretary-treasurer of the Industrial Union Division of the AFL-CIO, said the labor spokesman stressed their concern that the compromise language might contain "implicit quotas" and added that, "Obviously, this is not the final result."

When he indicated that organized labor would push in Kansas City for more explicit language, Strauss said, "I know you are not saying what you want to say."

Clayman then said an effort would be made to change the language in the 50-member Rules Committee that will screen amendments at Kansas City, but indicated the matter might be dropped then rather than being taken before the full 2,000-delegate mini-convention.

Gov. John J. Gilligan of Ohio, architect of the move to put the governors behind the compromise language, said he believes the proposal will be approved at Kansas City.

"The Washington Tidal Basin Bombshell," Annabel Battistella in private life, says she is being paid $3,000 weekly for four 20-minute strip shows a day, seven days a week.

She started out Monday's Pilgrim Theatre performance in a gown of orange, red and pink plumes and ended it in a G-string.

She said Mills called her afterward to tell her he does not approve of her new job. The Arkansas Democrat was not available for comment.

LAURINBURG, N.C. (AP)— Trustees of Saint Andrews Presbyterian College announced today that President Donald J. Hart has resigned in order to return to full time teaching.

Hart, a 57-year-old native of Milwaukee, Wis., has headed the Laurinburg college since 1969. Board Chairman M.C. Benton said Edward J. Mack of Greensboro would serve as chairman of a six member trustee committee which will recommend a successor to Hart who will remain as president for the remainder of the academic year.

KANNAPOLIS, N.C. (AP)— Some 16,000 Cannon Mills workers vote Wednesday on whether they want union representation in an election that could set the course for organized labor's future efforts in the textile industry.

Gallagher, 53, represented part of Hudson County in Congress from 1959 to 1973. He faces a New Jersey Bar Association disbarment panel next Monday. Turco has been disbarred.

BURLINGTON — Earl C. "Pat" Pate, 56, of 432 W. Fifth Street here died Friday.

The husband of the former Rebecca Moye of Greenville, he was a salesman for the Pate-Dawson Produce Company of Burlington and Durham and was an active Lions Club member.

Surviving him besides his wife, are two daughters, Miss Arlene Pate and Mrs. Pattie Baldwin, and a son, Victor Earl Pate, all of Burlington; and his mother, Mrs. Rupert Gurlie Pate of Goldsboro.

Mrs. Olivia Sherrod, widow of Bill Sherrod, of 105 Greenfield Boulevard, died Monday in Pitt Memorial Hospital. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

NAPLES, FLA. — Mrs. Henrietta A. Womack, 82, died Monday here.

Graveside services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at Naples Memorial Gardens by the Rev. Father Thomas Goggin.

Surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude A. "Billie" Schull of Greenville and Mrs. Margaret Gregory of Naples; a sister, Mrs. George Miller of Baltimore, Md.; and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are by Hodges Funeral Chapels.

No Longer Needs Raise

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — As soon as Audrey Robb realized she had won a million tax-free dollars in Canada's Olympic Lottery, she called her boss to tell him she no longer needed a raise.

But the 40-year-old mother of three said she has no intention of quitting her job as a $133-a-week teletype operator.

Mrs. Robb, speaking to reporters at her Hamilton home, said she didn't initially realize she held one of the two numbers announced Monday night for the grand prizes.

"I thought I'd won $100," she said. "Then I realized all (six) numbers matched and I tried to telephone my mother and I couldn't dial the number."

Mrs. Robb, who was separated last week from her husband, said she will invest the money. "And I'll get a new car — a little compact, I guess," she said.

The lottery, the third in a series, is expected to add $30 million to the Olympic fund. The first two Olympic lotteries contributed $52 million.

She started out Monday's Pilgrim Theatre performance in a gown of orange, red and pink plumes and ended it in a G-string.

She said Mills called her afterward to tell her he does not approve of her new job. The Arkansas Democrat was not available for comment.

Four Collisions In Greenville Yesterday

Four traffic collisions investigated by Greenville Police yesterday resulted in an estimated $2,400 property damage.

Officers said heaviest damage resulted from a four-car mishap on Memorial Drive, 643 feet South of the Pine Street intersection about 5:10 p.m.

Drivers of the vehicles involved were identified as Joyce Elaine Hardee of Winterville, Glyn Russell Whitehurst of Route 1, Winterville, Jennifer Davis Heath of Route 1, Greenville and Ronald Jerome Brown of Grifton.

Police, who charged both Whitehurst and Brown with exceeding a safe speed, estimated damage at $400 to the Hardee car, $150 to the Whitehurst auto, $750 to the Heath vehicle and $400 to the Brown car.

Both Heath and Brown reportedly received minor injuries.

LeRoy Spell of Route 1, Greenville was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of an 11 p.m. mishap at the intersection of Reade and Cotanche Streets.

Police reported the Spell car collided with an auto driven by John Benedict Mascotti of 507A West Fifth St. causing an estimated $100 damage to the Mascotti car and $150 damage to the Spell vehicle.

Cars driven by Stuart Eugene Jenkins of Route 1, Bethel and Thomas Morton Surratt Jr. of Edenton collided about 12:20 p.m. at the intersection of 14th and Greene Streets, causing an estimated $75 damage to the Jenkins car and $175 damage to the Surratt vehicle.

Jenkins was charged by investigators with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

Drivers involved in an 8:23 a.m. collision on Third Street, 200 feet West of the Summit Street intersection were identified as Jennifer Hoard Hodges of 111 Williamsburg Rd. and Keith Jordan Barnes of 503 East Third St.

Police, who charged Barnes with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety, estimated damage at $150 to the Hodges car and $50 to the Barnes auto.

The break-in was reported at 3:55 a.m., Chief Glenn Cannon said.

Entry into the building was gained by breaking out a front window.

A quantity of cigarettes and wine were reported taken.

Safety Sparks Chief Win

By JOHN MOSSMAN
AP Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — A seemingly harmless safety ballooned into a 19-point third quarter for Kansas City, boosting the Chiefs to a National Football League victory over Denver and wrecking the Broncos' playoff hopes.

The Chiefs' 42-34 triumph Monday night enabled Oakland to back into the American Conference West Division title and also spoiled a brilliant passing display by quarterback Charley Johnson of the Broncos. He completed 28 of 42 passes for a whopping 445 yards and two touchdowns.

It all started innocently enough on the second-half kickoff of the nationally televised game.

Denver's Oliver Ross fumbled the boot, giving the Chiefs the ball at the Broncos' 12-yard line. Kansas City's Woody Green coughed it up at the one, but two plays later Chiefs' middle linebacker Willie Lanier tackled Otis Armstrong in the end zone for the safety.

Denver still led 21-19 but Kansas City got good field position on the required free kick. The Chiefs promptly drove 49 yards in five plays, climaxed by Len Dawson's scrambling 35-yard TD pass to Otis Taylor.

As if that wasn't enough, Ed Podolak returned a punt 54 yards to the Broncos' 17 and Green ran it in for a 33-21 Chiefs' lead with less than five minutes gone in the period.

Jan Stenerud kicked a 35-yard field goal on the Chiefs' next possession to complete the scoring in the period.

"Losing momentum at the start of the second half is what really hurt us," Broncos Coach John Ralston said. "We lost the ball, got it back, but then couldn't get it out of the end zone."

Ralston said the safety occurred on an off-tackle play in which Denver used a pulling guard. "Lanier filled the hole and got Otis for the safety," he added.

Johnson sparked the Broncos to a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns that pulled Denver within eight points, but they got no closer. Rookie running back Jon Keyworth, making his first start, scored his third short-yardage touchdown of the game on the opening play of the final quarter.

Following a Kansas City touchdown, Johnson went to work again, completing a 65-yard, eight-play drive with a four-yard strike to Otto Stowe with 7:50 left in the game.

The Broncos drove to the Chiefs' 14 on their next possession, but Johnson was sacked and fumbled, and Kansas City's Jim Lynch recovered with 4:27 left, ending the threat.

Johnson, who said he thought his arm was in passing motion on the crucial turnover, said the Broncos "felt like we had to throw to win. I knew we could eat 'em up with our passing game." Johnson's yardage figure was the most in his 14-year pro career.

The loss dropped Denver to 4-5-1 for the season, making 9-1 Oakland uncatchable in the division. The Chiefs raised their mark to 4-6.

Mounties See Improvement

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

(One of a series)
BOONE—Appalachian State University's football team shocked everyone this fall by becoming a challenger for the Southern Conference title. But come round-ball season, the Mountaineers are expected to be challenging the other way. They're relegated to the basement of the conference again.

Not that Coach Press Maravich isn't looking for improvement in his team. He does, but he admits that he doesn't expect the Mountaineers to be a leader in the league.

"We need a total commitment from our players," he said. "We have more balance and more depth than we've had in the last few years. We did lose a couple of people who could have helped us, but we brought in two junior college transfers and one freshman who should play a lot."

Chief among the losses, of course, was guard Stan Davis, a two-time All-Southern selection who was the leading scorer on the team throughout his career. "I think we can be a better defensive team," Maravich said. "If we can shore up our defense and do a fairly good job rebounding, we'll show a lot of improvement."

But the record may not show a lot of improvement. Maravich feels this year's schedule is the toughest the school's had since he's been coaching there. Among his opponents are Clemson, Wake Forest, Maryland, UNC-Charlotte, Georgia Southern, along with several other non-conference teams, plus the Southern teams. "We lost a lot of games by close scores last year. We haven't had the big center, and I think this year with 6-7 junior Don Stringfellow. "Kevin Donovan (6-6 sophomore) may also see a lot of action as a regular at the forward position," the coach added. "We also feel that Steve Nenadovich (6-0 sophomore) is

Tourney Begins

BUIES CREEK, N.C. (AP) — The rain-delayed NAIA Area 5 soccer championship tournament was scheduled to begin today at Campbell College.

The winners will meet for the title Wednesday. Play was to have begun Monday.

the type of guard who can penetrate."

Another who may see a lot of play is sophomore Dave Cook, 6-5, who saw a lot of action last year, but he's been hurt this year.

Kinney Baughman, a 6-8 senior, is up from the junior varsity, and probably will be the back-up center. Chet Marshall, a 6-5 sophomore could also help at forward, but another injury has sidelined Kenny Linens, a 6-1 junior guard.

"We feel that if our center will come through, we'll have better overall balance. We must also shore up our defense. We must press more," Maravich added. "If we do all this, we might break even or maybe even improve on that."

Maravich said that in recruiting, he tries not to bring in anyone who is less and 80 per cent of the best player in the Southern Conference. "Sometimes you have to bring them along slowly to reach this level, who you reap the benefits when they get to be juniors and seniors."

Maravich looks to Furman to continue as the team to beat in the league, but notes Davidson will also be up there challenging. "East Carolina and William & Mary also have good personnel, too. You never really know what the year will begin."

Returning to his own team, Maravich noted that the team hasn't really come up with a leader. "The good teams have this. We need to find one—if we do, we could show a lot of improvement."

WCU Takes Bowl Bid

CULLOWHEE, N.C. (AP) — Western Carolina University's football team has accepted a bid to play for the NCAA Division II championship.

The Catamounts, 8-1 and ranked 11th nationally, will play defending champion Louisiana Tech at Tech Nov. 30 in a quarterfinal game of the playoffs.

Other games that day have Youngstown at Delaware, Boise State at Central Michigan and Alcorn at Nevada-Las Vegas.

The winners will advance to Dec. 7 semifinals, with the title game Dec. 14 at Sacramento, Calif.

New base-stealing champion Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals says he steals bases on the pitchers, not the catchers.

Little Going Right For Plunkett, Pats

By DAVE O'HARA
AP Sports Writer

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Jim Plunkett, who did little wrong in leading the New England Patriots to five consecutive victories at the start of the National Football League season, is a confused young man these days.

Now he can't seem to do much right as the Patriots have hit the skids with three defeats in a row and four in the last five games.

The star quarterback appeared on the verge of stardom only a few weeks ago. Now he completes almost as many passes to opponents as he does to his teammates.

He has been intercepted 13 times in the last five games. He threw four interceptions last week in a 21-14 loss to the Cleveland Browns and then was intercepted four more times Sunday in a 21-16 upset by the New York Jets.

"It hurts," Plunkett said in the wake of the Jets' loss. "It's tough, it's humiliating. I pulled a hamstring in the third period, but that wasn't any reason. There are no excuses. Pressing? I don't know, but I'm very aware of everything. Yes, maybe I am pressing some. I don't know."

"After the Cleveland game, I thought all week about what happened. Then the same things happen, the interceptions."

"He's having a little slump — take the word little away, it's just a slump," New England Coach Chuck Fairbanks said. "There's a fine line between success and failure for a passer. Jim needs to have a little success."

"He is not our problem. A lot of our receiving corps is not what we had the first half of the season, so he's not being helped there." Plunkett had several passes dropped by intended receivers against the Jets, but what hurt the most was rookie Roscoe Word's interception in the end zone after the Patriots had moved to a first down at the New York five with two minutes to play.

"Sure, Jim's made some mistakes, hell, we all have," said 10-year veteran Tom Neville, an offensive tackle. "He's still in the learning stage. The coaching staff is in its second year and we're in a new system. Jim is cool in the huddle and his play calling is according to the game plan. We'll break out of it."

More than wounded pride was hurting Monday as the Patriots held their usual practice. Star fullback Sam Cunningham and wide receivers Reggie Rucker and Steve Schubert were placed on the injured reserve list, finished for the season.

Cunningham, who fractured the fibula in his lower right leg as he banged 18 yards to the New York five at the two-minute warning, is the team's leading round-gainer and scorer. Rucker is the team's leading receiver and Schubert, a rookie, has been outstanding on the special teams.

"Injuries are part of football," Fairbanks said philosophically. "If a team is deep, it has a better chance of overcoming the loss of players. This club does not have that over-all depth and quality, so the loss of certain players really hurts."

GETS FIRST SHUTOUT

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — The New York Islanders had to wait until the fifth game of their third National Hockey League season to register the first shutout in their history. They blanked the Washington Capitals, 5-0, who had played only five previous league games.

Goalie Billy Smith of the Islanders turned back 33 Washington shots.

Contest Winners

A husband and wife shared honors in the final Daily Reflector Football Contest of the year.

Shelton Brown of P. O. Box 23, Fountain, took first place in the contest, correctly picking the winners in 29 of the 32 games listed in last week's paper. His victory, however, came through his point guess of 80 points. An actual total of 98 points were scored in North Carolina's 56-42 victory over Army.

Second place went to Mary Paula Brown, who also had 29 right. Her point guess was 79 points.

Ten other people also submitted entries which had 29 right, but they were further off the point total with their guesses.

The contest wound up this year's series. It will resume next fall.

Clemson Might Get Bowl Bid

By The Associated Press
Imagine, four of the seven Atlantic Coast Conference football teams going to post season bowl games in one season!

This became a distinct possibility Monday when Tangerine Bowl officials narrowed its search for a second team to Clemson, Georgia, Baylor and Tulsa. Undefeated Miami of Ohio gained a berth to the Dec. 21 game in Orlando, Fla., by taking the Mid-America Conference title.

Already, Maryland is bound for the Liberty Bowl, North Carolina State for the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, and North Carolina for the Sun Bowl.

The best bowl-showing for the ACC came in 1949 when Clemson played in the Gator Bowl, North Carolina in the Sugar Bowl, and Wake Forest in the Dixie Bowl.

Clemson, with six victories and four losses, is winding up its best season since the days of coach Frank Howard, who took the Tigers to seven bowl games from 1940 to 1959.

In fact, this is the first winning season for Clemson since 1967. Saturday's 28-9 victory over Virginia, the fifth straight at home, assured the Tigers of tie with North Carolina State for second place. Both are 4-2 in the conference.

And a triumph over arch-rival South Carolina, 4-5, this weekend would give the Tigers their best record in 15 years. Second-year coach Red Parker said after Saturday's game that officials of the Tangerine bowl has contacted him, "but right now South Carolina is our bowl game."

"We're thankful and grateful anytime we can win, and it's that much nicer that this happens to be the first winning season in several years," Parker said. "But I don't think anybody in our camp is ready to give any thought to total number of wins until after next Saturday."

Uppermost in Parker's mind this week is the possible loss of back-up quarterback Mike O'Cain. "We just hope the doctors are wrong," the Clemson boss said after revealing that O'Cain apparently suffered a dislocated shoulder when he relieved starter Mark Fellers against Virginia.

In addition to Clemson, five other ACC teams will close out the season Saturday. Maryland, who has clinched the league title, travels to Virginia; Duke journeys to North Carolina for another meeting in their fiery series; and winless Wake Forest entertains Furman of the Southern Conference. North Carolina State ended the season last weekend at Arizona State.

A win by North Carolina would create a three-way tie for second place between the Tar Heels, State and Clemson.

Padres Acquire Three Pitchers

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "Three of those pitchers we got ought to really help us," Nate Colbert said. Then he paused and laughed. "I mean them."

Colbert, who hit 149 home runs for the expansion San Diego Padres during their first five years, was traded to the Detroit Tigers Monday in a complicated three-team deal. So he won't be the beneficiary of the three top pitchers the Padres got.

Detroit sent shortstop Eddie Brinkman, outfielder Dick Sharon and pitcher Bob Strampe to the Padres. San Diego then dealt Brinkman and a player to be named later to the Cardinals for pitchers Rich Folkers, Alan Foster and Sonny Siebert.

Colbert brings power to Tiger Stadium, long considered a hitter's park; Brinkman adds an outstanding glove to the St. Louis infield. San Diego is counting on Folkers and the other veteran pitchers to improve the Padres' 1974 team earned run average of 4.59, worst in the majors.

The trade ended a trend for San Diego, which had swapped several front line pitchers to meet payrolls or to acquire players at other positions. In past years San Diego has dealt off pitchers Dave Roberts, now with Houston, Fred Norman of Cincinnati, Mike Caldwell of San Francisco and Pat Dobson of the Yankees.

Colbert, 28, said he had no ill feelings against the Padres and that he felt the deal was good for himself and for the team. But he added:

"If they put me out to pasture as if I couldn't play any more. I intend to prove they are wrong."

The 6-foot-2, 210-pound right-handed hitter was moved to left field last year when the Padres acquired long-ball hitting Willie McCovey from San Francisco. After averaging 30 home runs for five years, he fell to 14 homers and 54 runs batted in with a .207 batting average.

Brinkman, 32, a 14-year major league veteran, set five major league fielding records and won a Golden Glove award in 1972. In 1973 he was the American League's All-Star shortstop.

He has a career batting average of .225 and hit .221 last season with 14 home runs and 55 runs batted in.

Padres' General Manager Peter Bavasi called Folkers, 28, the "key man" in the trade for the Padres. The left-hander appeared in 55 games for the Cardinals last year, all in relief, and had a 6-2 record and a 3.00 ERA. He has been with the team since 1971.

Foster, 28, was 7-10 for the Cards last year and Siebert, 37, compiled an 8-8 record.

Strampe, a 24-year-old right-hander, had a 9-13 record and a 4.19 ERA for the Tigers' AAA Evansville farm team in 1974.

Sharon, 24, who bats right-handed, hit .217 in 60 games for the Tigers in 1974.

Detroit Finally Gets Winning Touch Going

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — If the Detroit Lions don't have a good team, yet they at least have the best medicine they in the National Football League.

A 5-5 record surely is mediocre. But a 5-5 record for a team that lost its first four games?

The Lions have won five of the last six, and Coach Rick Forzano's enthusiasm doesn't seem to diminish — even though the chance of Detroit gaining a wild card playoff berth seems remote.

"All of us can read the papers and see we still have a shot at it," Forzano said Monday, buoyed by Sunday's 20-19 victory over the New York Giants on Errol Mann's field goal

White, Robinson Get ACC Honors

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Maryland's outstanding defensive tackle, Randy White, and North Carolina State cornerback Joe Robinson have been named as the defensive players of the week in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

White was voted the honor for his standout performance in Maryland's 56-13 victory over Duke in the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk, Va., while Robinson was cited for his play in State's 35-14 triumph over Arizona State.

A 6-4, 248-pound senior from Wilmington, Del., White was instrumental in the Terrapin defense which limited Duke to only 48 rushing yards. He was credited with nine first hits and five assists.

White was in on five big plays, two of which resulted in minus yardage for the Blue Devils. He also was credited with causing a fumble which with two seconds remaining.

He said the Lions made enough mistakes against the Giants to lose three games, "but its the mark of a team with character when it can overcome those mistakes and win."

Whether that character can make up for the numerous flaws in the Detroit squad remains to be seen.

The Lions have had a woefully inadequate running game and have relied almost solely on the revived passing arm of veteran quarterback Bill Munson, who is having one of his best years.

Defense isn't awesome as it once was for Detroit. The Giants had little trouble running up the middle against the Lions, and Detroit's secondary the Terps recovered. He got to the quarterback once for a 17-yard loss and stopped a Duke running back for a one-yard loss.

North Carolina State pulled down four interceptions against Arizona State and Robinson got two of them. The 183-pound senior from Carthage picked off both his steals in the second half.

A back-up man most of the season, Robinson was forced into the starting defensive backfield when Eddie Poole was sidelined with an injury. In addition to his two interceptions, he also had several tackles to his credit.

No Changes In Top Eight Teams On Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

Led by No. 1-ranked Oklahoma, the eight top teams in The Associated Press college football ratings held onto their positions today.

Oklahoma, which took over the top spot from Ohio State a week ago, trounced Kansas 45-14 and received 45 first-place votes and 1,198 of a possible 1,220 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Alabama remained second by defeating Miami, Fla. 28-7. The Crimson Tide received nine first-place ballots and 1,078 points. Michigan crushed Purdue 51-0 and pulled down eight first-place votes and 1,040 points.

Then came Ohio State, a 35-0 winner over Iowa; Notre Dame, which edged Pitt 14-10; Nebraska, which routed Kansas State 35-7; Auburn, a 17-13 victor over Georgia; Southern California, which drubbed Washington 42-11; Texas A&M, a 37-7 winner over Rice, and Penn State, which downed Ohio U. 35-16.

Texas A&M and Penn State moved up one spot apiece when Florida, which was ninth last week, lost to Kentucky 41-24 and plummeted to 20th.

The Second Ten consists of Maryland, Miami of Ohio, North Carolina State, Michigan State, Houston, Baylor, Texas, Pitt, California and Florida.

Last week's Second Ten was Penn State, Miami, Maryland, Houston, Michigan State, N.C. State, Pitt, Oklahoma State, California and Texas Tech.

Oklahoma State dropped out following a 37-20 loss to Colorado and Texas Tech fell from the Top Twenty after a 17-10 loss to Baylor. That triumph lifted Baylor into the Top Twenty for the first time since the 1963 season. Texas, which dropped out last week, climbed back in by routing Texas Christian 81-16.

Wooden: 'Don't Count UCLA Out'

By RON ROACH
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — All-Americans Bill Walton and Keith Wilkes are gone but Coach John Wooden of UCLA cautions that the Bruins' rivals "shouldn't count us out too quickly."

Wooden, whose 27th season at UCLA opens Friday night against Athletes in Action at Pauley Pavilion, noted that other coaches, such as Southern Cal's Bob Boyd, are extremely optimistic about their chances to dethrone the Bruins as the Pacific-8 Conference basketball champs.

"I know he's exuberant about it," Wooden said of Boyd's remarks. "I remember he felt the same way the year after we lost Kareem, too. We did all right in the two interim years after Kareem."

After Lew Alcindor, later known as Kareem Abdul-Jabar, left UCLA, the Bruins continued to win national championships with Steve Patterson at center. Then came Walton and Wilkes, who led the team to two more national crowns before losing to North Carolina State last spring.

"I think it's true that the Pac-8 is a very well-balanced conference," said Wooden. "Every coach figures his team is stronger, with the exception of UCLA. When you lose super players like Walton and Wilkes, there's no way you can be as strong."

Ralph Drollinger, 7-foot-11/4 tall, moves into Walton's center spot and 6-9 sophomore Richard Washington opens at Wilkes' forward position. The No. 1 returning letterman is 6-7 1/2 senior forward Dave Meyers.

Andre McCarter, Pete Trgovich and Jimmy Spillane are the Bruin backcourt men of note with the graduation of Tommy Curtis and Greg Lee.

Player Arrested

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP) — A third football player on the 14th-ranked Elon College has been suspended from the team following his arrest.

Police said Clint Locklear, 23, of Fairmont, N.C., was arrested Sunday and charged with raping an 18-year-old coed Saturday night. Locklear was freed on $10,000 bond Monday.

Locklear is a kicking specialist on the defensive team. Elon won the Carolinas Conference championship last Saturday.

Two weeks ago, in an unrelated incident, starters Mark Ellis and Dwight Shoe were arrested and charged with breaking and entering and larceny in the towns of Eden and Elon College.

Oil Cartel's Success Inspires Others To Follow

By SHIRLEY CHRISTIAN
Associated Press Writer
Countries that grow foods needed by affluent nations, or mine the minerals that make their industries run are taking a cue from the oil-exporting countries.

The success of the members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) in quadrupling oil prices has spurred food and metal ore exporting countries to set up organizations or consider other collective action to raise their own incomes.

They are not going to get as rich as the oil countries over such actions because the income from their commodities suffers more from the vagaries of supply and demand, drought and hurricanes.

Nor are they going to take such large bites from consumers' wallets. The various ores, for example, constitute a relatively small portion of the total cost of metal goods. However, with the list of organizers and would-be organizers getting longer, even nickel and dime increases and an occasional dollar will eventually have an impact.

Besides oil, the commodities involved so far include copper, iron ore, bananas, bauxite, coffee and all Arab-held minerals. In some cases, such as coffee and copper, joint action could result in maintaining prices which might otherwise drop. This is a rundown of where such efforts stand:

—IRON ORE: A dozen exporting countries, led by India and Venezuela, are trying to decide whether they should form an association to help them raise their incomes. The entire group met in Geneva recently and agreed they wanted more money but couldn't agree on how to get it.

The price of steel is mostly labor, so industry sources say any increase in the price of the raw ore would not have a substantial impact on consumer prices. The sources said iron ore is selling to American steel companies for $15 to $17 a ton and that it takes slightly more than a ton of ore to make a ton of steel, which in turn sells for about $100 before being turned into various shapes.

So if the exporting countries were to, for instance, double the price of ore, it would result in an increase of about 15 per cent in the steel price and would be a much smaller percentage increase in the finished product. The United States imports about one-third of its iron ore.

—BAUXITE: Seven countries formed the International Bauxite Assn. last spring to coordinate policies for the basic material of aluminum. The group admitted three more members, Ghana, Haiti and the Dominican Republic and discussed whether to adopt uniform prices.

Some members also think an aluminum company that withdraws from one country to avoid higher taxes should not be allowed to increase output in another member country. Jamaica, which supplies more than half the bauxite needs of the U.S. aluminum industry, is a leader of the bauxite group and recently raised its own bauxite taxes nearly eightfold.

—COPPER: Chile, Peru, Zambia and Zaire, the major copper exporters besides Canada, have formed the Intergovernmental Council of Copper Exporting Countries. So far only a weak group, individual members periodically mention withholding copper exports or cutting production to bolster prices that are sagging now and are expected to drop even more because of surpluses.

Dealers say such tactics have been tried in the past and failed because governments sold copper behind one another's back. The United States is the world's largest copper producer, with 1.7 million tons last year, but it consumed 2.4 million tons.

—BANANAS: Colombia, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras and Panama formed the Banana Exporting Countries union in September to "defend the product." It is an offshoot of the so-called "Banana War," in which three countries imposed a tax on each 40-pound box of bananas exported. Panama is assessing $1, Honduras 50 cents and Costa Rica 25 cents.

The U.S. companies which own the banana fields have resisted the tax, and the result has been threats of nationalization and counterthreats of pulling out. Panama lent Costa Rica $1 million to help it through the crisis, but Costa Rica paid back the money recently.

—COFFEE: Producers have made no move to set up a formal organization, but intend to cooperate to stabilize coffee prices, which have been dropping because of surpluses.

President Alfonso Lopez Michelsen of Colombia said his country along with Brazil, Mexico and Central America have a plan to control exports. Dealers say it includes buying up futures contracts for the countries' own coffee in commodity markets. Lopez said oil-rich Venezuela will provide money to allow the poorer Central American nations to take part in the scheme.

—ARAB MINERALS: Arab delegates recently met in Saudi Arabia to finish recommendations for establishment of a group similar to OPEC which would supervise other Arab mineral wealth. That could cover silver, gold, lead, manganese, zinc, marble, iron ore, phosphates and copper.

—SUGAR: Mexican authorities are reported pushing for the creation of an organization of sugar exporting countries to protect the price of sugar. This word came recently in Mexico City from Jose Maria Martinez, leader of the Sugar Cane Workers.

He said government officials want an OPEC-type group to keep speculators from controlling sugar prices. Aside from Mexico, major sugar exporters are Cuba, Brazil, the Philippines, Australia, South Africa, Mauritius, India, Thailand, the West Indies, Guyana, Dominican Republic, Honduras, Taiwan and the European Common Market when it has a surplus.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1974

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Don't be unruly. Show you can be truly cooperative, even though you would rather change conditions around to suit some temporary whim on your part, for that's just what it is.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You're not thinking straight now, so don't push an associate into doing what you think is best, for it is not. Avoid arguments.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't take chances where your reputation is concerned. A public matter only looks sinister, but really isn't. Handle it with care, though.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You want to make a radical change and team up with one you think has high principles, but you'd be making a big mistake.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't feel you're imposed upon when you now have to keep promises you've made, but do so conscientiously.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Not a good day to express your views with a partner over some joint project, or you could cause trouble. Show appreciation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) The planets could cause things to be pretty hectic today, so don't go off on any tangents or your health would suffer.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't run off to some inviting pleasure which would only disappoint you, but work. Later enjoy economical pleasures. Watch strangers.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Tact at home prevents a big argument you would later regret. Rid yourself of any cause for friction there. Be considerate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Use care in motion of all kinds to avoid trouble and expense. Think before you speak, also, and avoid arguments.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Any wrong moves where money is concerned could prove very expensive to you now, so double-check everything. Follow adviser's ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't permit the dark side of your nature to emerge just because you feel frustrated and upset. Think objectively to free self of problem.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Smile more even though discontented if you want this day to pass without arguments. Get busy at work and don't worry, Trust God.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, . . . he or she will have a sense of what is divinely right; the education should be slanted along trouble-shooting lines, but take care your youngster does not stir things up just to prove the ability to straighten them out later. Give an opportunity early to work with tools and mechanicals to keep the active mind occupied and the itchy fingers busy. Most receptive to religion.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Filipino Father Surrenders As Son Given Release

By DAVID C. MARTIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A father seeking the release of his son from the Philippines held the Philippine ambassador and a wounded aide hostage for almost 12 hours before throwing down his gun and surrendering.

Napoleon Lechoco tossed the weapon from a second floor window of the Philippine chancery about 2 a.m. today and surrendered peacefully after receiving word that his son, who he claimed had been prevented from joining the rest of the family here, had left the Philippines by airliner.

"Mr. Lechoco felt he had accomplished what he set out to do," said embassy spokesman R.V. Cruz.

Lechoco was taken into custody by FBI agents, and an official said he would be arraigned today on charges of assaulting a diplomatic officer.

Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos had sent his personal assurances to the embassy here that Napoleon Lechoco Jr., 24, would be allowed to leave if his father would free the hostages.

The father said he would release Eduardo Z. Romualdez and his economic attache two hours after his son was airborne, and on the appointed hour the surrender took place, Philippine diplomat Jose Naldo said.

In Manila, authorities said the son was en route to the United States. They said he was picked up early Tuesday from the home of his grandfather in neighboring Quezon City.

Gary R. Alexander, Lechoco's lawyer, said Marcos had assured that young Lechoco would "receive immediate and safe release and conduct to the United States on the first available flight."

Romualdez was released unharmed, but the attache, Mario Lagdameo, had a deep flesh wound which doctors at the hospital said was caused by a gunshot.

Naldo said Lagdameo, who holds a black belt in karate, was wounded when he tried to wrestle with Lechoco. He said the three men spent most of the siege lying on the floor of Romualdez's office because Lechoco feared the possibility of sniper shots through the windows.

Negotiations prior to the surrender had been going on since shortly after Lechoco took the two men hostages around 3 p.m. EST Monday. Police quickly made telephone contact with Lechoco, and FBI agents entered the talks.

Lechoco's wife was taken to the embassy to relay the Philippine offer directly to her husband, including news that the son would be freed when the hostages were released.

Lechoco walked into the Philippine chancery Monday afternoon after requesting an appointment with Romualdez last week to meet with leaders of the Filipino community here.

Naldo identified Lechoco as head of the Filipino Political Action Committee in Washington. Lechoco, about 43 years old, was described by neighbors as a civic leader in suburban Oxon Hill, Md., where he resided.

Lechoco was accompanied to Romualdez's office by Lagdameo, Naldo said.

"The next thing we knew, three shots were fired," Naldo said. "Mario fell and we all had to go out."

Washington Police, FBI agents and uniformed officers of the Secret Service's Executive Protective Service, which guards embassies here, quickly ringed the four-story brick building.

Naldo said when Lechoco took his hostages he was complaining about the detention of his children in the Philippines and of the martial law that country has been under since September 1972.

Philippine officials said that Lechoco's oldest son was being investigated in connection with an unspecified transaction in the Philippines but denied there was any undue delay in the processing of his travel papers. Cruz had said the Philippine government would not press charges against Lechoco in U.S. courts. But he was taken into custody immediately when he finally gave up.

Naldo said both Lechoco and his wife are lawyers. He said Lechoco was a law clerk at a Washington law firm. Lechoco and his wife reportedly moved to the United States several years ago and gained permanent resident status. Six of their children joined them about a month ago.

NAPOLEON LECHOCO, Jr. (left) is accompanied by a security man to a U.S.-bound Philippine Airlines Flight Tuesday following the release of Philippine Ambassador Eduardo Romualdez in Washington, D. C., demanding his son be permitted to leave the Philippines by airliner. (AP Wirephoto)

Revival Begins On Wednesday

Revival services will begin Wednesday, and will continue through Sunday night at the People's Bible Church, 264 By-pass. Services will begin each night at 7:30.

Evangelist Dan L. Kauffroath of Arizona will conduct the services. Evangelist Kauffroath will be accompanied by his wife, who plays the organ and piano, and his 19-year-old son, who plays the steel guitar. The Kauffroaths will present special music during the week.

A nursery will be provided. The public is invited.

Returned Veteran A Source Of Labor

During the last several months many service men and women have been discharged and returned to Pitt County. Some have decided what they plan to do. Others are finding it difficult to make that decision.

Kendrick Taylor, Veterans Employment Representative with the Greenville Employment Security Commission, stated "Today's veteran is potentially America's greatest source of labor, possessing special characteristics. They are young, have more family obligations and usually are well educated.

"Most returning enlisted personnel are high school graduates; their average age is 22 years. Approximately one third are married. Many have more than one dependent.

"An estimated 80 percent of the enlisted personnel and nearly all officers have acquired skills in the course of their military service which are directly, or easily converted to civilian occupations.

"These skills cover almost the entire spectrum of occupational areas to be found in government and private industry."

Taylor further stated that the Defense Department spends several billion a year on education and training. About $1 billion annually is spent on technical training of enlisted personnel in more than 2,000 courses ranging from auto mechanics to dentistry.

According to Taylor, the Greenville Employment Security Commission makes a special effort to give assistance to veterans. Services include job placement, job development contacts, counseling, testing, and placing their applications on clearance to other areas throughout the United States. "Last year in Pitt County 426 of the 1370 jobs filled were filled by veterans referred by the Greenville Employment Offices," Taylor said. "Veterans make up approximately 14.5 percent of the total job applicants available."

Taylor urges employers to contact the Greenville office at 1002 South Evans Street when they have job openings, and that if possible, they request the referral of a veteran.

Gem And Mineral Show At Hobgood

The Coastal Plain Gem and Mineral Show to be staged at the Hobgood Academy gymnasium, in Hobgood Saturday and Sunday will feature a rock sample brought from the moon by astronauts Armstrong and Aldrin.

On loan from N.A.S.A., the rock will be accompanied by a number of original photographs taken during the famous Apollo flight. The Coastal Carolina Gem, Mineral and Archaeological Society, which sponsors the annual show believes that this is the first showing of an Apollo specimen in this area.

Kay Currie, hostess for "Hospitality House," will feature the show in her program from 11:30 to 12:30 Sunday over WITN-TV, Channel 7.

The NASA exhibit will be free during all show hours, which are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and from noon til 5 p.m. on Sunday. The entire show will be free to students during Saturday morning hours. At all other times student admission will be 25 cents. Admission for adults is 75 cents.

Of interest to many people will be the display of the Capt. H.S. Thomas Indian Artifact Collection. This is an extensive collection of arrow and spear points, atlatl stones, axes, and other articles of Indian cultures.

There will also be a demonstration of weaving, and other hobbies and collections as well as student exhibits. Snacks will be available during show hours.

Dinner Meeting Slated Tonight

Eddie Smith Jr., area Ducks Unlimited chairman, issued a final reminder to local DU members of tonight's annual dinner meeting at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

Smith said that the meeting will get underway at 6:30 p.m. with a social hour, followed by dinner, the showing of a popular Ducks Unlimited feature film, and auction.

Jimmy Hudson of Greenville, who has handled auction chores at several DU meetings here, will again assist the Greenville chapter in raising funds for the continued work of the national Ducks Unlimited organization.

Craftsmen's Fair Is Set

The Fifth Annual Fair for Carolina Designer Craftsmen this year will be held on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, November 22-24 at the Robert Scott Pavilion of the N.C. State Fair Grounds in Raleigh.

Among exhibitors from across the State will be several Greenville area artists: John and Dot Satterfield, Don and Myra Sexauer, Chuck Chamberlain, Janet Stuckey, Janet Fisher, Kelly Adams, Mike Scharf and Eddie Smith.

Operating hours for the fair are: Friday, 6 to 10 p.m., Saturday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Sunday, 1 to 6 p.m.

General admission is $1.50, with admission set at $1.00 for senior citizens and students with ID cards.

A total of 75 craftsmen will have items in a great variety of craft media—graphics, jewelry, knitting, leather, metal sculpture, photography, pottery, printmaking, serigraphy, stained glass, textiles, weaving, and woodwork.

There will again this year be a special Children's Booth, demonstrations of craft making, music and other features as part of the fair.

Set Nightly Services

The Voices of Zion of York Memorial AME Zion Church will sponsor nightly services beginning tonight for appreciation of their pastor, the Rev. Luther Brown.

The Rev. Brown has been pastor at York Memorial for one year. Services will begin each night at 8 p.m. and continue through Friday night.

Johnny Wooten, director and organist, will preside each night. Special music will be presented Friday night featuring the Voices of Zion, the York Memorial Youth Choir and the Wells Chapel Choirs.

A tribute will be paid to the late Bishop Wyoming Wells who served as pastor of Wells Chapel Church.

Also participating in the services will be: Tonight, Bishop W. L. Jones of Mt. Calvary FWB Church; Wednesday, Dr. Andrew A. Best and the members of Jerico AME Zion Church and the Rev. W. J. Best of Sweet Hope Church; Thursday, Bishop J.N. Gilbert of Arthur Chapel Church; and Friday, Wells Chapel Church of God in Christ.

Accountants To Meet Wednesday

The Eastern Carolina Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will hold its monthly meeting this Wednesday night at the Candlewick Inn.

Guest speaker for the meeting, designated as "Ladies Night," will be Kennedy W. Ward, attorney from New Bern.

Ward, a New Bern native, is a graduate of Wake Forest University where he received his B.S., LL.B. and Doctor of Legal Jurisprudence degrees. His topic for the session will be "Why You Need A Will." The meeting will begin with a 6:30 p.m. social period followed by dinner at 7 p.m.

Attends Special ASU Seminar

BOONE—Diane B. Hankins of East Carolina University attended a special in-service seminar at Appalachian State University recently.

More than 40 secretaries employed by universities throughout the Carolinas attended the program which was designed to develop job skills. Discussion centered around motivation, self-concept development, communication skills and the legal aspects of today's woman.

Gavin Named To Judgeship

RALEIGH (AP)—Robert L. Gavin, Republican candidate for governor in 1960 and 1964, and two GOP candidates defeated in the Nov. 5 election will become special superior court judges in January.

Gov. Jim Holshouser announced Monday he had appointed Gavin, James M. Baley Jr. and Donald L. Smith to the special judgeships.

The three will fill vacancies created by the election of special judges to other judicial posts. J. William Copeland of Murfreesboro defeated Baley for a seat on the state Supreme Court. The other outgoing special judges are A. Pilston Godwin Jr., of Raleigh and John Webb of Wilson, both of whom won resident superior court seats in the general election.

The new judges will complete the incumbents' four-year terms which expire next June 30.

Special superior court judges are paid $30,500 annually and are available to hold court anywhere in the state.

Smith, a Raleigh attorney, has been a resident superior court judge since March 2, 1973. He was defeated for the seat by Edwin Preston of Raleigh in the Nov. 5 election. Baley, formerly of Asheville, was appointed to the state Court of Appeals on April 10 last year. The appeals court post pays $35,500 a year. Gavin, a Sanford attorney and Pinehurst resident, is a former U. S. attorney.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY BY TRUSTEE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by Tom R. Andrews, Jr. and Wife, Mary Wells B. Andrews, to W. W. Speight, Trustee, dated March 30, 1970, and recorded in Book B-39, at page 426, of the Public Registry of Pitt County, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured and said deed of trust being by the terms thereof subject to foreclosure, the undersigned substituted trustee, by instrument filed for recordation in the Public Registry of Pitt County, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the courthouse door in Greenville, N. C., at 12:00 o'clock NOON December 2, 1974, the following described real property in Bethel Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, to wit: Being Lots Nos. 1 and 2 in Block "E" of the J.R. Bunting Property, Bethel, N.C., as shown by a map of record in the Public Registry of Pitt County in Book N-26, page 460, and being the same lots conveyed to T. R. Andrews, Jr. by deed of Bethel Auction Co., Inc., recorded in the Public Registry of Pitt County in Book K-36, page 276.

The sale will be made subject to ad valorem taxes in favor of Pitt County and the Town of Bethel.

The trustee will require the highest bidder at the sale to deposit ten percent (10 per cent) of his bid to show his good faith in the bidding and to await confirmation of sale.

This the 31st day of October, 1974.
J. H. Harrell, Attorney
Nov. 5, 12, 19, and 26, 1974.

More Tapes To Be Played For Jurors

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Watergate cover-up trial is hearing the last major prosecution witness, White House tapes on which Richard M. Nixon discussed offering clemency to E. Howard Hunt Jr. and also was told "the only White House guilt, culpability, is in the cover-up."

Four conversations never before publicly disclosed were played at the trial Monday. Prosecutor James F. Neal said tapes of 15 more conversations would be played before the prosecution completed its case on Thursday.

Two of the tapes played Monday were of conversations between Nixon and Charles W. Colson: a meeting on Jan. 8, 1973, and a telephone call on March 21, 1973.

The other two were meetings between Nixon and H.R. Haldeman, then White House staff chief, on March 20 and 22, 1973. Haldeman, former White House John D. Ehrlichman, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, ex-assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian, and Kenneth W. Parkinson, one-time lawyer for the Nixon re-election committee, are charged with conspiring to block the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

The grand jury that returned the indictment on March 1, 1974, named then President Nixon an undicted co-conspirator. Ehrlichman has subpoenaed Nixon to testify at the trial. A spokesman for the former president said Monday Nixon will not object to being examined by a panel of three court-appointed physicians to determine whether he's healthy enough to testify.

Nixon and Colson discussed clemency for Hunt on Jan. 8, 1973, the day former CIA agent Hunt went on trial for the Watergate burglary.

"Hunt's is a simple case," said Nixon. "... We'll build that son-of-a-bitch up like nobody's business. We'll have Buckley write a column and say, you know, that he, should have clemency, if you've given 18 years of service ... That's it. It's on the merits."

Columnist William F. Buckley is a long-time friend of Hunt's and at one time served in the CIA with him.

Buckley said Monday in an interview, "I don't need to be reminded to write a column urging clemency even for sons-of-bitches, as Mr. Nixon should know from personal experience."

During that same discussion Haldeman and Nixon expressed concern that Jeb Stuart Magruder, former deputy director of the Committee to Re-elect the President, would break under pressure. On the other hand, said Haldeman, he wouldn't worry about Gordon Strachan, one of his aides in the White House.

"A hell of a guy," said Nixon.

They discussed Dean's theory that they try to protect the White House staff from Watergate disclosures, "draw the wagons around the White House."

"Who do you let down the tube?" asked Nixon. "Do you let Magruder down?"

"You don't intentionally," replied Haldeman. "You leave Magruder — what you do is, is you, see, we're, we're doing stuff now. We're keeping quiet and, and, uh, a, that ... just try and cov — and, and putting up this money and, and everything else. We're trying to keep — when you get right down to it, as Dean says — the only White House guilt, culpability, is in the cover-up ..."

"Yeah," Nixon responded.

20, Mitchell's name also came up.

Haldeman said that Ronald L. Ziegler, then presidential press secretary, believed that the targets of Watergate investigators were Colson. "They think he's the highest guy they can get on criminal in the White House and Mitchell on the outside," Haldeman said.

Referring to Mitchell, Nixon said, "The president's campaign manager, that's pretty Goddamned bad."

They discussed waging a court battle over executive privilege to stymie the Senate Watergate committee.

"You gotta fight it through the Goddamned courts (unintelligible) for a long time," said Nixon. "You've got the story of cover-up, that's, what's involved."

Haldeman suggested that approach "isn't worse than John Mitchell going to jail — for either perjury or complicity."

"No, no, no," replied Nixon "no, I've balanced that up too. But you see what they're really after, he'll take cover-up 'til hell freezes over. You know what I mean?"

Five Killed At Crossing

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—A Seaboard Coast Line freight train struck an automobile at a crossing Monday night, killing all five persons in the car, including three children.

Apparently killed instantly were Paul Jones, 66, of Swansea; his son, Walter Jones, 33, of Columbia; the son's two boys, Marvin, 11, and Fridz, 10; and his daughter, Kimberly, 7.

The automobile was welded to the front of the locomotive by the impact and the wreckage was carried about a quarter-mile down the track. It took about an hour to remove the bodies.

The crash occurred during a light drizzle about 7:55 p. m. near Koon and Farrow roads, close to the Crafts-Farrow State Hospital.

Ray R. Gardner, the engineer, said the train was traveling north at about 30 m. p. h. when it hit the automobile at the crossing.

Richland County authorities said there were no flashing lights at the crossing but it was marked by the standard "cross-buck" signs.

"That was low-fat milk? I liked it the best."

An independent research firm recently asked 100 women if they could taste the difference between Maola's low-fat Great Shape and two leading brands of whole milk.

Most of the women who usually drink regular milk couldn't tell the difference. In fact, many women liked Great Shape best. We think you will, too.

Give up calories without giving up taste.

Postpone Trial Of Joan Little

WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Trial of Joan Little for the slaying of a Beaufort County jailer last August has been postponed indefinitely.

Superior Court Judge Henry McKinnon Junior ordered the postponement Monday at the request of defense attorneys. A new trial date probably will be set after several appeals in the case are heard.

The 20-year-old Miss Little is charged with murder in the ice pick slaying of Clarence Allgood, 62, a night jailer in the Beaufort County Jail.

Introducing Planters Ultra Checking. How does your checking account stack up against it?

Ultra Checking is a new kind of checking account. Its designed to save you time, money and several trips to the bank each month.

It's the most advanced checking account in North Carolina because it offers you more extra services than any other bank around.

First of all it offers you a different statement. (On the right.) It helps you balance your checkbook in a flash.

All your checks are listed numerically (1) so you can check them off quickly and the ones that are missing (2) are easily identifiable. Just look for the (*).

With Ultra Checking, a lot of your banking transactions can be made without you. Automatically Loans can be paid off (3), deposits can be made through Sav-O-Matic and so on.

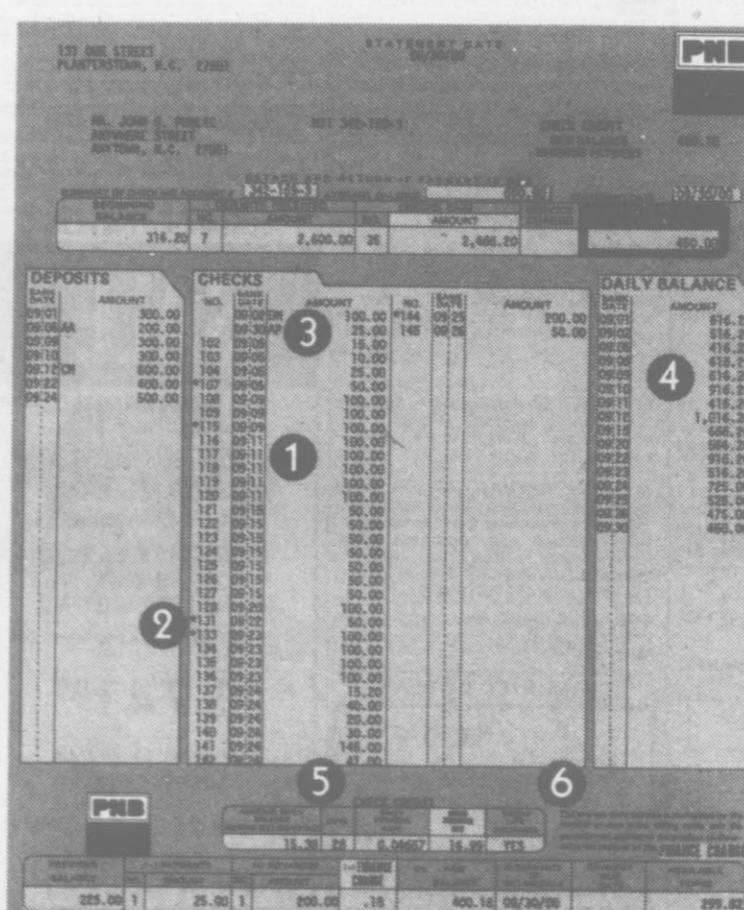

And just so you can see how you wind up each banking day, we even give you a daily bank balance record (4).

That covers the time factor. But PNB's Ultra Checking also covers the money factor.

As good as our Cash Guarantee Account was, it couldn't hold a candle to our new service. Check Credit (5).

Now, you can still write checks for more than you have in the

Checking Benefits	Your Bank	PNB
1. Easy-to-Balance Statement. Your choice between a conventional bank statement or the new one that lists checks in numerical order.	?	YES
2. Daily Balance at a Glance. Your balance is shown for each day of the month on which you have deposits or have a check paid by the bank.	?	YES
3. Automatic Transactions. At your request, banking transactions can be made automatically from one account to another.	?	YES
4. Checking Account Loans. Once your check credit line is approved you can write your own loan through your own checking account.	?	YES
5. Flexible Interest Rate. Flexible interest rates are available through your checking account loan.	?	YES
6. Simple Interest Checking Account Loans. Interest on your checking account loan is paid only on the amount borrowed, for only as long as you borrow it.	?	YES
7. Bounce-Free Checking. Overdrawn checks are automatically covered, up to your line of credit, with your checking account loan.	?	YES
8. Specific Cash Advance. At your request, an exact loan amount can be transferred to your checking account.	?	YES
9. Name Your Own Loan. You can give your loan a name (any one you choose) and have it printed on your statement every month.	?	YES
10. Free Checking with a $500 Minimum Balance. (On an average monthly balance of $500.)	?	YES
11. Tax Record. A convenient record on the back of your statement for all tax deductible items.	?	YES
12. Variable Credit Increments. Credit is automatically transferred to your checking account in $500 increments or in any amount you request.	?	YES bank, but with a Check Credit loan you can get a lot more out of it than before.

For instance, as soon as your credit line is approved you can also get a flexible interest rate, depending upon your qualifications.

With Check Credit you really get a Simple Interest Loan (6) because you only pay for what you use, only as long as you use it.

You can borrow from your account automatically in increments of $100 at a time, or in any amount you specify. Or you can ask for a specific amount to be transferred to your checkbook. With advance notice, we'll give you a check loan down to the penny.

One way or another, Check Credit makes it possible for you to pay less interest than before.

It saves you a penalty charge for bounced checks because when you write a check you can't cover, we cover it for you.

When you put it all together, Planters Ultra Checking has all the things a good checking account can offer you along with some things only an advanced checking account can offer you. See a PNB banker today, because after this you won't ever have to see him again. Well, hardly ever.
