N.C. House Will Be First Battleground Over ERA

RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina House will be the first battleground in the fight for Tar Heel ratification of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Two bills that would ratify the proposal were prefiled Thursday. They were to be assigned to committee today.

One bill was filed by Rep. Herbert Hyde, D-Buncombe, and the other by Rep. Mickey Michaux, D-Durham. The bills have identical language.

Supporters of the ERA predict it will win approval this year in North Carolina. Thirty-eight states must ratify the amendment for it to be added to the Constitution; 33 have done so.

The ERA was considered, but rejected, by the Senate last year. The House has never acted on it.

It is likely that public hearings on the ERA will be held before the matter gets to the House floor for debate.

The bill's chances were enhanced in the Senate Wednesday when Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt abolished the Constitutional Amendments Committee that normally would consider the ERA. An aide said Hunt will refer the matter to a favorable committee when it comes before the Senate.

Thursday afternoon, the joint legislative committee assigned to study and assess North Carolina's economic situation decided to focus its attention on unemployment compensation first.

That decision followed the advice of Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt who said the panel should first work on problems that can have a quick solution, then address itself to other problems such as whether the state budget should be cut and by how much. The panel decided to look into unemployment compensation after several members said they were concerned about whether the Employment Security Commission (ESC) was doing all it could to aid the unemployed. The committee will meet Tuesday on the topic.

At Thursday's session, Howard Doyle, an ESC attorney, told the committee that the commission's workload has gone up "1,000 per cent." The ESC handling 30,000 claims for benefits a day and, he said, "it looks like it's going up to 60,000."

He said the ESC is doing all it can to speed benefits to the unemployed. The commission has added 500 persons to its claims department and is still trying to hire 20 more key-punch operators to put claims into the ESC's computer in Raleigh.

The ESC plans to ask the legislature to repeal the one-week delay in unemployment benefits, Doyle said. Now, a worker isn't eligible for unemployment payments the first week out of work.

That change would have cost an additional $10 million last year, he said, adding that it would increase this year's cost about 16 or 17 per cent. Last year the ESC paid out $60.9 million in benefits, the agency announced Thursday, though that wasn't mentioned at the committee meeting.

Doyle also told the committee that the ESC had $560 million available for benefits payments at the close of 1974. Several committee members expressed concern that North Carolina's rising unemployment might cause the ESC to go broke. Doyle said it was unlikely.

In another action Thursday, freshman Sen. Jim McDuffie, D-Mecklenburg, filed a bill to plug to what he termed a "loophole" in the state's lobbying law.

McDuffie said the bill would clarify the lobbying law and make it clear as to who is required to register with the secretary of state. "It would require anybody who came over here to register when they are here lobbying regardless of their title with a company," McDuffie said.

What prompted him to take the action was the acquittal of two power companies and two executives of the firms. They had been charged with lobbying without registering with the secretary of state.

In one of the acquittals, the court held that the lobbying law as "fuzzy" and not sufficiently clear for a reasonable person to understand.

GNP Drop New Fuel For Debating Tax Cut Extent

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp drop in the broadest government measure of the nation's economic health has provided fresh fuel for the debate over how big a tax cut Americans should get.

The report Thursday on the Gross National Product, which measures total output of goods and services, constituted strong evidence that the recession may be the most severe economic dislocation for the United States since the Great Depression.

Administration officials, who support a $16 billion tax cut, say the evidence doesn't yet confirm the recession is that deep.

But the figures underscored the analysis of economist Walter W. Heller, who said even before the new figures came out that this recession is the worst since the depression. Heller, a University of Minnesota professor who has advised Democratic presidents, proposed a tax cut of $20 billion to $25 billion.

In other economic developments Thursday: —President Ford said he will ask Congress for a five-year, nine-month extension of the federal revenue-sharing program.

—Ford Motor Co. announced it is offering buyers of its new small models rebates of up to $500 as a measure to increase sales.

—Chrysler Corp. said it will keep three car assembly plants and a truck facility closed next week, extending layoffs for 13,750 workers.

—Crop production last year sagged 8 per cent from 1973 levels, according to the Agriculture Department.

Weather was blamed for the dip.

The Gross National Product, or GNP, figures from the Commerce Department show output slipped at an annual rate of 9.1 per cent over the last three months of 1974 while inflation surged at a 13.7 per cent annual rate.

Output for the year rose by $102 billion to a total of $1,397 billion, but an inflation rate of 10.2 per cent severely eroded the value of those dollars.

Thus, after adjustment for inflation, 1974 GNP dropped 2.2 per cent.

But those figures did not chart what happened in the economy from the end of 1973 to the end of 1974. On that basis, output dropped 5 per cent.

The GNP drop for this recession is worse than any since the depression, surpassing the previous steepest drop of 3.9 per cent in the 1957-58 recession.

Bill Is Rushed Through

RALEIGH (AP)—Except for the formality of ratification, legislative action was completed today on a bill that will again permit motorists to turn right at red stoplights after coming to a stop.

This came as the House adopted minor amendments and then unanimously approved a right-on-red bill. It was then rushed to the Senate which quickly okayed the House amendments. The bill can become law Monday night with its formal ratification.

"The people of the state are waiting for this body to act favorably on this bill," Rep. George Miller, D-Durham, told the House during its brief consideration of the bill which Miller sponsored.

The measure will make the law read exactly as it did between July and December of last year when right turns on red lights after a stop first became legal. The law proved very popular with motorists.

However, the 1974 General Assembly through error enacted a bill that had the effect of terminating the right-turn-on-red law as of Dec. 31.

During legislative discussion of the question, the possibility of permitting left turns on red lights on one-way streets was discussed.

ANOTHER CUT

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's First National City Bank, the nation's second largest commercial bank, cut its prime lending rate today by ¼ point to 9¼ per cent, effective Monday.

secutive time. Clarence B. Tugwell presented an annual report during the meeting.

Tugwell said that last year saw progress for First Federal. He termed the progress "not as much as we would have liked, but looking back over the year, more than we expected."

The firm's president reported that, "The year saw a new wave of tight money, a decline in savings deposits, and a resultant shortage of mortgage funds."

First Federal made 300 mortgage loans during the year amounting to over $8.5 million, it was pointed out. Total assets at year end rose to $27,952,082. Tugwell said that total savings deposits climbed to $42,178,000, a ten per cent increase over the previous year.

He offered an optimistic view for 1975, predicting that mortgage funds would be "readily available due to the steady increasing flow of savings deposits."

Officers elected to serve during the coming year included: Dink James, chairman of the board and senior advisor; C.B. Tugwell, president; Roscoe L. King, vice president; Thomas S. Ryon, senior vice president; Robert S. Messner, secretary-treasurer; William E. Stocks, assistant vice president and branch manager; Lester Z. Brown, assistant vice president and branch manager; Inda W. Wingate, assistant vice president; Kenneth G. Hite, general counsel; John B. Lewis Sr., general counsel; and Sue Creech, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Directors elected to serve the coming year were Alton R. Barrett, George Coffman, C. Frank Dail, Kenneth G. Hite, Dink James, Walter B. Jones, Roscoe L. King, John B. Lewis Sr., Dr. M.B. Massey, John F. Minges, Thomas S. Ryon, and Clarence B. Tugwell.

Explosion, Some Shots End Truce

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A bomb explosion and bursts of shooting in Northern Ireland marked the end of the Irish Republican Army's Christmas cease-fire after 25 days without violence.

A British soldier was the only casualty.

British security officials said they expect a major new IRA offensive in England, where terrorist bombs have killed 51 persons and injured nearly 600 in the past 2½ years.

Minor guerrilla activity resumed in Northern Ireland a few hours after the IRA's Provisional wing announced in Dublin that it would not extend the truce past midnight Thursday because the British government had not responded adequately to its demands for troop withdrawals, amnesty and an end to internment of suspected guerrillas without trial.

Shots were fired at a police patrol in Belfast, at an army checkpoint in Londonderry, in Kilkeel and in Portadown. Exactly at midnight a bomb was thrown at an army post in north Belfast, causing slight damage. A British soldier was shot in the foot and arm in an exchange of gunfire with two men who tried to climb the fence of a power substation. An army patrol in Belfast found 47 pounds of explosive in a panel truck and arrested three men. The main Belfast-Dublin railway line was blocked briefly by a car left on the tracks.

The cease-fire had given Northern Ireland its longest period of peace since the warfare between Roman Catholic and Protestant communities broke out 5½ years ago. The Provisionals' refusal to extend it dismayed moderate political and religious leaders, both Catholic and Protestant.

The British government minister for the province, Merlyn Rees, said he was "outraged and disappointed" but would not be influenced "by any views which are backed by the bomb and the bullet."

One of the province's leading moderate Catholic politicians, Gerry Fitt, said the IRA "would not be forgiven" by the province's Catholics.

A leader of one of the Protestant guerrilla armies, the Ulster Defense Association, said it would take "effective action" if the Catholic guerrillas widened their attacks beyond the British government and army.

Rees on Tuesday promised an eventual end to internment and gradual reduction of the 14,000 British troops in Northern Ireland if peace was maintained, and on Wednesday the government released 45 of the 500 internees.

Mail Again To Try Stagecoach

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The mail will travel by stagecoach again for the first time in 75 years.

The Postal Service has granted a carrier license to Overland Butterfield Stagecoach Inc., which operates daily coach service between Solvang and Los Olivos in Santa Barbara County.

Starting in February, each day at noon, the Concord stage drawn by six horses will pull in at Mattei's Saloon in Los Olivos with its passengers — and the mail. The trip takes two hours.

SEE THE JUDGE

I have lost my driver's license. If I don't get a limited license for going back and forth to work, I'll lose my job. How do you get a limited license? J. W.

Sgt. Pete Eure of the N.C. Highway Patrol said the judge who gave you the forfeiture of driver's license sentence is the only one who can give you the limited license. You must appeal to him.

Assistant District Attorney Burt Aycock verified Eure's answer. He pointed out that a limited license can be given only when the conviction is for the first offense of driving under the influence. There are numerous other instances where loss of license may be the sentence, but a limited license may not be given in any other instance. Both Eure and Aycock expressed some doubt as to the wisdom of this situation. Anyone having an opinion on the subject should contact one of our members of the General Assembly, now meeting in Raleigh.

TRAINS TOO FAST

We are having quite a problem with the speed of the train that runs near our house. We are developing cracks in our ceiling and the dishes in our cupboards rattle every time a train goes by. Mrs. C. C.

Hotline has had numerous calls on this and similar train-related subjects, but has refrained from printing them because we have never had an answer we considered satisfactory or very helpful.

Charles O. Morgret of the Southern Railway System responded to our letter about the speed of trains by saying, "Trains approaching and crossing intersections in Greenville are restricted to a maximum speed of 25 m.p.h. This, in the view of our operating department, is both reasonable and consistent with speed limits imposed in similar situations elsewhere along our 10,500 miles of railroad."

City law restricts trains to 25 m.p.h. and the City is responsible for enforcing this limit, City Manager Bill Carstarphen said.

Job Prospects Are Good For The College Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
UPI Family Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — What can a woman college graduate expect in the way of a job offer in 1975?

Something good, probably — even with the downturn generally in employment opportunities.

Northwestern University's 29th annual Endicott Report on National Employment Trends shows women college graduates with bachelor degrees can expect to find a few more jobs open to them in business and industry in 1975 than in 1974.

The copyrighted study by Frank S. Endicott, retired director of placement and professor emeritus at Northwestern, surveyed 160 companies across the nation.

Of these, 126 indicated they plan to hire an average of seven per cent more college women in 1975 — 2,139 as against 1,998 from 1974 graduating classes.

(Male college graduates with bachelor's degrees can expect about one per cent more jobs.)

The companies participating in the survey said employment of women graduates in 1975 will equal 19 per cent of the number of men graduates planned to be hired — 11,186 with bachelor degrees.

The companies hope to be able to hire 627 women in general business. In other fields, some 475 jobs are indicated in accounting, 266 in liberal arts, 289 in data processing and mathematics, 110 in engineering, 119 in marketing and retailing, 55 in science and 56 in other fields.

The survey, as any one involving a scientific cross-section, can be projected to show the nationwide situation.

For example, if the companies in the survey showed, as they did, a seven per cent increase in jobs for women, it is pretty safe to say that probably will be the trend at most companies.

Other points made in the report:

Average starting monthly salaries for women range from a high of $1,075 in engineering to a low of $784 for liberal arts graduates.

Entry level salaries for men range from $1,062 a month in engineering to $776 in liberal arts for bachelor's degree holders.

In three fields — engineering, general business, liberal arts — women's average salaries will be slightly higher than men's average salaries in 1975. Most other fields show entry-level averages for women only slightly below those for men.

The Endicott report also focused on the turnover rates for male and female college graduates. Since turnover is not regularly calculated in many companies, only 76 of the surveyed firms responded to the question.

The results show a median percentage of loss for women during the first three years of employment at 36 per cent.

The median rate of loss for men in engineering and other technical fields was 23 per cent and for men in business administration and other non-technical fields it was 33 per cent.

Endicott believes that many women are more uncertain than men about what they want to do in business and often secure jobs that they later come to dislike.

In addition, he noted that women often are less able to control their personal reasons for having or keeping a job.

For example, a married woman may not be able to accept a transfer because her husband can't or won't be able to move and she may leave the company.

There was a reflection of women's lib in the report. To wit:

Endicott believes the traditional reasons of childbirth and child rearing are becoming less influential as many companies come to treat pregnancy as an extended leave of absence rather than a termination with the company.

Are Pants On Wives Grounds For Divorce?

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I was in the Detroit airport when I read the item in your column about the husband who blew his stack because his wife purchased an overpriced pants suit. Grannies in pants suits dodged by.

Everything was in pants: males, females, and debatable. A courting penguin would have been hard put to decide where to drop the pebble in the standardized parade of bulging bellies and butts.

Stewardesses in britches walked by. (Why don't they hire bona fide boys in the first place?) No woman looks good in pants. Some only look worse than others. And that goes for Marlene in her tuxedo, too.

It has been said the success of a woman's costume is directly proportional to arousal of a man's desire to tear it off her. The pants mania thus confirms the suspicion that American women dress to impress other women—not men.

Pants on wives should be declared valid grounds for uncontested divorce, with reciprocal privilege in the case of mini skirts and hot pants on husbands.

I just had to tell someone. MEL IN BELLEVILLE

DEAR MEL: I disagree. Some women look great in pants, but some look better than others. Granted, some women in slacks should not turn their backs, but the same can be said of some men.

I have bad news for men who hate pants on women. You are going to be seeing more and more of ladies' pants, and less and less of ladies' legs. Why? Because they're so comfortable, that's why!

DEAR ABBY: Please don't laugh at me, but when I grow up I want to be President of the United States. People say that you have to go to law school and become a lawyer first. Is that true? RUSSELL IN HOUSTON

DEAR RUSSELL: No. But out of 37 presidents, 25 were lawyers.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for 15 years, but I still consider myself to be MRS. JOHN JACKSON. My problem is: People still address mail (and especially Christmas cards) to MRS. JUNE JACKSON. This really makes me angry because it is my understanding that until I marry again, I am MRS. JOHN JACKSON.

My sister-in-law, who thinks she knows it all, told me that since John is not living, there is no MRS. JOHN JACKSON. Am I right? Or did women's lib change all that? WHO AM I?

DEAR WHO: Socially, you are still Mrs. John Jackson. Don't blame women's lib for your sister-in-law's ignorance.

DEAR ABBY: That letter about the red hair reminded me of my own situation.

All during my childhood my grandmother used to tell me how much she hated red hair.

After I was married and expecting my first baby, I had two fears. One was that I would have twins. (They run in both families.) The other was that I'd have a red-haired baby. (My father-in-law was red-headed.)

When they told me I had a red-headed baby girl I thought they were kidding me, but when I saw that wrinkled, crying bundle with bright red hair I knew they were serious. I was so thankful that she had ten little fingers and ten little toes and was perfect in every way. I forgot about her hair.

Five years later I had a red-headed baby boy. He was perfectly healthy, too, which was cause to rejoice.

Both my children are standouts because of their red hair, and I suspect that people who "hate" redheads are secretly jealous. D.M. IN GRETN, LA.

Patient Circle Committee Chairmen Named At Meet

The Patient Circle of the King's Daughters held its Tuesday meeting in the ladies' parlor of the Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church. Mrs. Polly Dail, president, presided over the business session.

Mrs. Dail reported that the following committee chairmen had been appointed: Program, Clara Moye Shackell, chairman; Mrs. Hannah Warren, co-chairman; Notice of Meetings, Mrs. C. A. Bowen, chairman; Year Book, Annie Turner, chairman; Mrs. Shackell, co-chairman; Around-the-World, Mrs. Harvey Turnage, chairman; Mrs. J. B. Cutchin, co-chairman; Silver Cross, Mrs. Bowen, chairman; Scrapbook, Mrs. Thomas Hannaford, chairman.

Mrs. Turnage and Mrs. Luther Moore were appointed to make a study on an additional project or projects for the local order to consider at its February meeting.

The Rev. Jim Bailey, pastor of Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church, will have the February and March program.

For the program, Mrs. Shackell led in a "lighting of the candles" ceremony in honor of the Founders of the Order and in memory of two members of the Greenville Order.

Mrs. Bowen lighted the candle in the middle in tribute to the founders of the Order—the International and National leaders of the Order. Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley lighted the second candle in memory of Mrs. Helen White and Mrs. Cora Powell lighted the third candle in memory of Mrs. Gladys Scoville.

Mrs. Shackell gave an account of Founders' Day. She stated that this month marks the 89th anniversary of the founding of the International Order. She mentioned some of the educational and charitable projects of the Order. She reminded the group that the purpose of the Order is "The development of spiritual life and the stimulation of Christian activities."

At the conclusion of the meeting the hostesses, Mrs. Roy Lokken, Mrs. Milton White, Miss Mary Wells and Mrs. Powell served refreshments.

Program On Shell Art Given

GRIFTON—A program on shell art highlighted the meeting of the Griffon Garden Club Monday afternoon held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Rogers. Mrs. M. B. Hodges was co-hostess.

Mrs. Jeannette Whitehurst presented the program and showed a number of articles which she had made.

Mrs. Dave Bosley, president, conducted the meeting and welcomed Mrs. Steven Rogers and Mrs. Frank Fernandes as new members.

Projects discussed included the art appreciation class, sponsored by the club, if 10 persons are interested. A report on the Christmas gift for the adopted patient at Cherry Hospital was given.

Annual Yearbook Is A Survival Kit

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture calls the latest edition of its annual yearbook a survival kit for 1975.

The formal title is "Shopper's Guide." It is a collection of articles by specialists on food, materials, equipment, gardening, services and recreation that tells how to get the most for your money.

You won't find many new ideas in the food articles. One contributor suggests using a larger share of your dollar for milk and milk products, fruit, vegetables, cereals and bakery products, and less of each dollar for meat group foods, fats, oils, sugars, sweets, coffee, tea and soft drinks.

For months, shoppers questioned in markets have said they are doing just that, and they still find it hard to feed their families adequately.

So what else is new?

There are tables of comparative costs on food that might faze even a new-math expert. One shows the cost of cooked lean from specific kinds of cuts of meat, poultry and fish at specific retail prices, ranging upwards from 30 cents to $1.90 per pound.

In some Manhattan supermarkets, even meatless marrow bones for soup cost more than 30 cents a pound.

Another yearbook contributor writes:

"For instance, for four 3-ounce servings of cooked meat, chicken wings are a better buy if three pounds (of them) cost less than a two-and-a-quarter-pound whole chicken."

Dandy —if your family prefers chicken wings to legs or breasts, both of which contain more meat and less skin than wings.

Does your family like potatoes? The yearbook says mashed potatoes made from scratch need almost one and one-fourth pounds for four half-cup servings, compared with less than a pound for parsley-battered spuds. Fine. But instant mashed potatoes, which at last report were outselling fresh ones, are cheaper still on a per portion basis.

A freezer can help hold down food bills if you use it economically, the yearbook says. But remember that the amount and kind of food you freeze influence operating costs. A freezer uses more energy to freeze some foods than others and it wastes energy if the door is opened and closed frequently and unnecessarily.

Home gardeners benefit most, particularly if they grow more than they can consume during harvest seasons. Fresh produce from roadside stands and farms, fruits and vegetables bought from "pick your own" operations and grocery specials also are good freezer buys, the yearbook added.

Speed is important in freezing fresh vegetables; most lose flavor quickly after they are picked and, ideally, should be frozen within an hour of picking.

Economist Richard Kerr and home economist Cynthia Cromwell worked out a formula for well-balanced meals at low cost by rejuggling the amounts spent on specific foods: it allots more of each food dollar for milk, cheese, ice cream, vegetables, fruit, cereal and bakery products and less for meat, poultry, fish, eggs, legumes (beans and peas) and other foods such as snacks and soft drinks.

Garden Club Meeting Held

Members of the Lakewood Pines Garden Club held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd Hendrix Tuesday. Mrs. A. E. Dubber was co-hostess.

The program was presented by two of the members, Mrs. David Pressell spoke on "Conditioning Cut Flowers." She outlined 12 steps to prolong the life of freshly cut flowers. Mrs. H. R. Billica presented an informative film on various types of greenhouses in use by flower fanciers.

Mrs. J. C. Bateman presided over the business meeting.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Calder.

Rocket Try

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will try again this evening to launch a series of rockets, one of which will release chemicals that will create a blue-green cloud visible along the East Coast.

Weather conditions forced postponement of launchings scheduled for Thursday evening.

A blue-green cloud appeared Wednesday night during a series of launchings. The primary purpose of the experiments is to measure atomic oxygen density in the atmosphere as well as tracing air currents at the edge of the atmosphere.

Today's launchings were scheduled for 5:46 p.m. EST.

False Story Of 'Beating'

RALEIGH (AP)—Director of Prisons Ralph Edwards said Thursday that an investigation showed that a reported beating of an inmate in the Clinton state prison unit was false.

He said that the investigation indicated that the beating allegation resulted from a scuffle between inmate David Leonard and two civilian employees. Edwards said that Leonard started the fight and suffered only bruises.

The Inmate Grievance Commission was expected to discuss the case at its meeting today. The Rev. Leon White, a member of the commission, brought the beating allegation to light Tuesday at a news conference. He said another inmate had informed him of the incident and asked the commission to investigate.

White said that correction authorities refused to let the commission investigate the allegation and denied them access to the prison.

Edwards replied Tuesday that outsiders were not permitted access to a prison until correction officials have brought the situation under control and completed their own probe. Edwards said Thursday that the Inmate Grievance Commission was welcome to investigate the charge.

Moose Legion Will Gather In Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, N.C.—Moose members from North Carolina lodges east of Raleigh begin converging here Saturday for the January Ceremonial of Enoca Legion of the Moose.

Jacksonville Lodge 1438 is hosting the event.

Members of Greenville Lodge 885, Loyal Order of Moose, comprising Enoca Legion's ritual team, will enroll new members into the second degree of the fraternity on Sunday at the National Guard Armory, where the business meeting will be held.

Officers of the Legion meet Saturday afternoon, followed by a hospitality hour, the sponsors' dinner and Legion Ball. A banquet Sunday at 1:30 p.m. concludes the program.

Rationing Is Fairest System

President Ford told Congress this week that he had bad news.

"I must say to you that the state of the union is not good," he said. "Millions of Americans are out of work. Recession and inflation are eroding the money of millions more. Prices are too high and sales are too slow."

The president sees a deficit of $30 billion this year and perhaps $45 billion next year, with the national debt to rise over $500 billion.

The president did propose some solutions. The most popular was a 12 percent one-time tax cut, with rebates of up to $1,000 being made to the tax payers. There would be a $80 payment to each adult American who is too poor to pay any income tax. He would also increase revenue sharing funds to states and cities.

In the bullet biting phase of the president's program was a tax on crude oil and decontrol of domestic oil prices. This would run up the price of gasoline and fuel oil, the idea being to discourage the use of oil products to reduce our need for exported oil.

If that fails, the president wants stand-by authority to ration gas.

We doubt the wisdom of a new tax on crude oil which will increase the cost of everything we use, including the fuel charge we pay for electricity. There is the possibility that the scheme will fail, which the president admits in proposing stand-by legislation for future gas rationing. We would be better off to ration gas now at present prices, rather than see the price rise over the next several months and then go to gas rationed at the higher price.

We recognize, and we think the public realizes, that we must cut gas consumption in order to reduce our dependency on foreign oil imports. The only question is how to do it in the fairest manner. The plans that have been considered so far favor the well off, who can afford the higher price. Then in the end we may still have to ration, but by then there will be no getting the price back down to a reasonable range.

Perhaps Congress will develop a fairer plan for reducing gas use.

Possible Candidate Speaks

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—In response to some growing signs of the need for a redirection of policies in North Carolina public schools, Ben F. Currin, Rocky Mount school superintendent, says he or some other candidate will run for election to the state superintendent's post to provide an alternative course.

What is that alternative? In a recent interview, Currin explored at length the problems and alternative solutions to problems in the schools. Here, in capsule form, are his major points:

BASIC SKILLS—We have to set priorities on reading, writing, and arithmetic with elementary school teachers clearly understanding that this is the number one priority and time must be given for this task rather than engaging in career awareness programs or wrestling with long-range and short-range management objectives and reports.

"Until we master that—and be sure of one thing, all of our children can't read—we are not going to close the educational gap," Currin said.

DISCIPLINE—The problem is caused by poor achievers who are so far behind they are frustrated. It is not the good students who are involved. Nor, Currin said, is it a matter of race as some contend. "The gut issue is that the child is not enjoying a measure of success. Until he can compete, he will be rebellious against the school."

CITIZEN INVOLVEMENT—Schools must involve parents, and as schools have gotten larger, parents have not been involved. The only chance for change is the ballot box as parents take an interest in school board elections, and in statewide elections, a process which "is not something you do tomorrow morning . . . it takes time."

The best control is local control, which Currin thinks needs to be "firmly re-established" as parents "find out what is being offered at the schools, be specific, and point out to the boards of education and administrators . . . the types of programs people want."

CLASSROOM TEACHERS—Improved pay is essential to getting quality teachers. Emphasis should be on giving teachers time to teach, not on frills, fads, and gimmicks. Specialists not necessarily needed in areas such as reading: "A majority of our teachers can do the job if they understood that this is the priority, and if given the time to do this at all costs."

Improved teacher training at college and in-service training while employed are desirable, but Currin deplores present system of using in-service training time to concentrate on long-range planning and management techniques rather than basic skill courses.

TEXTBOOKS—"We have been assured that if the books were selected by the Textbook Commission, they are suitable for use. I'm not so sure we can make that assumption. We must not let a small minority have so much influence that things get out of perspective . . . need involvement of professionals, lay people, and students."

Some material now is so "realistic" it turns people off. Graphic descriptions of "Chicago ghettos, for instance . . . I don't know how much use that is for children in Eastern North Carolina."

FUNDING EQUITY—The theory is good that a child not be penalized because of wealth or lack of it in the area in which he is born . . . but this is complex. North Carolina provides a foundation and to go beyond that it takes a willingness on the part of the community to provide more.

ACCOUNTABILITY—Teachers and school people are willing to be accountable for the job they are doing, but if the General Assembly wants to measure success, it must be accountable to provide funds for programs cut classroom size, hire well-trained teachers, etc.

BUREAUCRACY—More local emphasis is needed without massive superstructure of supervisors and regional officials. Currin sees a trend toward more funding and growing staff activities in planning and evaluation instead of emphasis on programs and classroom teachers.

RESPONSIBILITY—It is up to educators to set the house in order and establish priorities. He scolded State School Supt. Craig Phillips for presenting a half-billion dollar "wish list with 29 items and no priorities—this abdicates responsibility. This may force the General Assembly to assume this responsibility even though the members don't want to."

Opposition Is 'Expectable'

By JOHN KILGO

Dr. Ed Monroe, vice chancellor for health affairs at East Carolina University, says it's not surprising that some people are bitterly opposed to a four-year med school at ECU.

"Just about every new med school faces vigorous opposition from the already established med schools," Dr. Monroe told me in an interview.

Dr. Monroe also says it's unfair to compare the costs of starting a med school at ECU with what it has cost in some other parts of the nation.

"You have to remember we are an established institution," he said. "If you were to go out in the middle of nowhere and try to start a Duke University, then the $100 million cost for starting a med school under those conditions might be correct. But that's not what we're talking about at ECU."

Dr. Monroe says he believes the $50 million figure mentioned by University President Dr. William Friday is valid. That's what has been proposed as the price for starting a four-year med school at ECU.

The vice-chancellor also said opposition to the ECU med school usually subsides when critics actually learn what is going on in Greenville.

"Most of our strongest critics don't really know what we're doing at ECU," Dr. Monroe maintains. "We had a legislator from the Piedmont who was one of the strongest opponents of establishing a med school at our campus. He accepted an invitation to come to Greenville to look at the situation first hand. After looking at it carefully, he became one of our staunchest supporters."

Dr. Monroe was referring to Dr. John Gamble of Lincoln County.

The question of whether to fund the med school at East Carolina will be one of the key debates in the General Assembly, which opened on Wednesday.

The lawmakers also spoke out on the first day, saying they know they're going to have to deal on a state-wide basis with inflation, recession, unemployment and the energy crisis.

Every legislator who came to Raleigh Wednesday seemed to sense this could be one of the most important sessions in many years. There are controversies to deal with, and important matters that demand immediate attention.

As one lawmaker said: "We'll earn our money this time around."

Strength For Today

THE WITHHOLDING OF BLESSINGS
Sometimes we get the idea that God withholds his blessings because He wants to punish us.

But there is nothing vindictive about God's actions. He withholds things from us which we pray for not because He wants to punish us but because we are not ready to receive these things or capable of using them.

If you are struggling with something in your life which you feel sure the presence and power of God would make right, just be sure that if God's blessing is being withheld from you, it is not because God wants it to be so, but because you have so far made it inevitable that it should be so. God is always ready to give, but we are not always ready to receive. He withholds His blessings because they are too precious to be put into hands not yet ready to use them.

We can be sure that when we are ready to receive and use blessings from on high, God will be ready to give them.

Nostalgia And Vietnam

WASHINGTON—Henry Simpink, who has a business called Nostalgia, Inc., called the other day and said, "We're bringing back the Vietnamese war."

"So early?" I said. "It's the right time," he assured me. "People long for the good old days when we were fighting the Communist peril in the rice paddies of Asia. We need something to take our minds off inflation and recession. What better diversion than getting involved in Indochina, again?"

"I don't know, Simpink.

Are you sure the American people want to be reminded of Vietnam so soon after we got out?"

"Listen, the President isn't asking for our boys to go back in again. All he wants is for Congress to allot hundreds of millions of dollars to help prevent the Viet Cong from taking over the freedom-loving government of President Thieu."

"Do my ears deceive me?" I said. "I think President Ford is playing our song. It seems like only yesterday we were dancing to the same tune at President Johnson's Inaugural Ball."

"Of course, we'll have to send in advisers to help the South Vietnamese. But don't worry, the President has no intention of committing any American boys to fight a war 6,000 miles away from home."

"Simpkin," I said, "I think you've got a hit. It's almost like being there again."

"Remember when we anchored the fleet off the Gulf of Tonkin and the North Vietnamese shot a torpedo at one of our destroyers?"

"How could I forget it?" "Well, guess where I'm going to put the fleet now?"

"Off the coast of Indochina?" "You better believe it. When you're going in for nostalgia, you have to be authentic or people won't buy the period."

"You've re-created the whole thing down to the naval task force," I told my friend in amazement.

"And I've got the Pentagon and White House lying again, just like the old days. They said we weren't flying any missions over Vietnam or Cambodia."

"It reminds me of the early Sixties," I said.

"Guess what I'm also bringing back?" Simpink said.

"Bob Hope?" "Better than Bob Hope. I'm bringing back dominoes."

"I almost forgot about dominoes!" I said excitedly. "It was the most popular game during the Vietnamese war. You lined them up and if one went down, the next one fell and so on and so forth until they all fell."

"The old domino theory," I chuckled. "I have a box of them in the attic which I saved with my light at the end of the tunnel."

"This could be the biggest nostalgia kick the country has ever gone through," Simpink told me.

Sadat Poses Threat

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

If President Anwar Sadat represents Henry A. Kissinger's hopes of averting another war in the Middle East, his latest message to the American Secretary of State seems to be "produce something from Israel or else."

One facet of an interview with the Egyptian president, published in the Beirut newspaper An Nahar Thursday, appears to be a demand for more pressure on Israel than, in his opinion, the Americans have been exerting.

Sadat said he would accept nothing less than an Israeli withdrawal on all fronts — Sinai, Golan Heights and the West Bank — within three months. Failing something that could pass for progress in that respect, Sadat seemed to be saying Kissinger might have to get along without his cooperation.

The three-fronts demand reflects difficulties with Sadat's Syrian and Palestinian allies because of his cooperation with Kissinger.

Sadat doesn't want to be suspected of making a separate deal independently of his allies, even in exchange for Egyptian territory. However devoted he may be to reclaiming occupied land, he is not entirely a free agent. There are pressures from the outside and internal pressures as well.

The continuing Israeli occupation and economic difficulties have Sadat in a squeeze. Caught between war and peace, he can't move on the economic front to deal with Egypt's

40 Years Ago Today

January 17, 1935

The Roosevelt administration laid before Congress today a five point Social Security program designed as protection against what is termed the "hazards" of modern existence.

Provisions of the bill introduced by Robert Wagner, a Democrat from New York, are as follows:

1. Compulsory unemployment insurance to be paid for by employers through a payroll tax. The tax starts at one per cent next January and moves to three per cent by January, 1938.

2. Compulsory insurance against poverty stricken old age for wage earners and small salaried workers to be paid for by employers and employees on a 50-50 basis.

3. Old age pensions for needy aged not covered by compulsory insurance, to be paid for by the federal and state governments.

4. Voluntary federal annuity system for those who would not be included in the compulsory plan and who could afford to save for their old age out of incomes larger than those affected by the compulsory plans.

5. Larger Federal grants to the states for the needy and for ill mothers and children and for extension of the public health system.

A Lot Of Hope And Guesswork

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The administration's proposals to counter the intensifying recession contain a very large element of hope and guesswork. Nobody can demonstrate that the results will be automatic.

The arguments, pro and con, are just beginning, in fact, and if people are confused about the squabbling among economists about how a certain end should be achieved, they will be disillusioned soon.

The Ford remedy for the nation's problems, which represents the best political-economic thinking of administration advisers, is already raising as many fears as hopes.

Perhaps the nearest thing to consensus is the belief that a tax cut will alleviate the problem of the poor, who are suffering most from the worst decline in real spending power since World War II.

These people also are bearing the brunt of rising unemployment — now heading toward 8 per cent — as those with the least useful skills or no skills at all usually do.

If it does get banked it will serve to stimulate housing by making more mortgage money available. But it won't help Detroit at all, and that is where one of the biggest aches in the economy is situated.

The most cynical view of the tax rebate is that it will merely be a futile transfer of funds from one hand to the other — taken from the consumer in higher energy taxes, returned to him to pay for resulting higher prices.

Those who believe the Ford program is inflationary point out that the use of energy is unavoidable. It is a necessity. You cannot eat, sleep, read or travel without using it. It is a must, and if taxes are imposed, prices must rise.

An argument also circulates that to tax energy is to push the country further into recession. If the program does what it is intended to do, cut down the use of energy, economic activity automatically is reduced.

Another criticism is that it will result in high interest rates, which is the last thing utilities want to hear at this stage in their crisis. It would mean they'd be paying more for fuel, at least along the East Coast, and paying more to borrow as well.

You'll be hearing arguments that the Ford program is discriminatory in other ways as well. While the claim is made that it will put money into the hands of consumers who then might buy cars, there is no proof this will happen. Higher gasoline prices might in fact discourage car sales.

There is likely to be some agreement on one thing: Stimulus always raises the threat of overstimulus. A sharp correction of the economy is like slamming on the brakes on a wet pavement or accelerating suddenly without knowing the whereabouts of the next big curve in the highway.

But the answer to that argument at the moment is supplied by economists who otherwise question the program: What choice do we have?

Rescued Child And Slips Away

NEW YORK (AP) — Everett Sanderson went into the East 86th Street subway station, noticed a commotion at the center of the platform and heard screams.

The train was coming out of the tunnel into the station when Sanderson saw Michelle DeJesus, 4.

"When I saw the little girl sprawled across the track, I just jumped down," Sanderson said.

"I had to run about 20 feet to her and all the time I saw the train's headlights and I could see the motorman. It seemed like he didn't even notice us.

"It was easy handing the girl up, but when I tried to jump up I didn't make it all the way. My first thought was, 'There go my legs.' But all the people grabbed me and I went up like an elevator." The train missed his feet by inches.

Joanne DeJesus, who had been waiting with her daughter around 5 p.m. Thursday for the train home, said Michelle slipped from her grasp and started running along the platform.

"All of a sudden she slipped over the side. I didn't know what to do. I just started screaming," she said.

Sanderson, 34, an unemployed musician, slipped away before

Mrs. DeJesus could thank him. She said later she would "like to say something wonderful to him."

Michelle was checked by doctors at Metropolitan Hospital and found to be unharmed.

Grifton News

Miss Anne Troutman resumed her school work at St. Mary's, where she is a student, after a trip to Winter Park, Fla. where she was a guest of Miss Allison Faulkner of Kinston, a student at Rollins College. While in Winter Park they made visits to West Palm Beach, Kennedy Space Center, and other points of interest.

Mrs. Roger Johnson and Miss Inez May were in Richmond last week where they were guests in the home of Mrs. Johnson's daughter, Mrs. Bryan Stevenson.

Comprising a weekend party at Atlantic Beach were Mrs. Richard Nelson, Mrs. Sam Nelson, Mrs. J. M. Hart, Mrs. Edward Hart. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cooke of Williamston.

Jury Finds Bomber Sane

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Muharem Kurbegovic, the accused "Alphabet Bomber," is sane and can stand trial, a jury has ruled.

The Superior Court jury deliberated nearly nine hours before returning the verdict Thursday.

The 31-year-old Yugoslavian immigrant is accused of planting the bomb that killed three persons and wounded 35 others last Aug. 6 at Los Angeles International Airport.

Kurbegovic showed no emotion when the verdict was read. He has remained mute since his arrest Aug. 20, although there has been testimony that he can speak.

His attorney immediately asked Judge William B. Keene to reverse the verdict and send Kurbegovic to a mental hospital. Arguments on that motion will be heard Monday.

Through phone calls and tape-recorded threats widely publicized after the airport tragedy, the bomber said he was the leader of a group that would spell out its name, "Aliens of America," in blood. "A" was for airport, he said.

Filling In For Local Pastor

Elder Mayberry will speak at Oak Grove Holiness Church on Bonner's Lane Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

He will be filling in for the pastor, Elder Lucille Chancey, who will speak in Brooklyn, N. Y. Saturday night and then hold a week of meetings in Chesapeake, Va. beginning Monday.

Will Speak At Sunday Service

The Rev. Tyrone Turnage will be the guest speaker at Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church, Sunday, at 11 a.m. for the morning worship services.

The Rev. Turnage will be the guest speaker for a birthday rally at Union Grove F.W.B. Church, Farmville, Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Baha'is Program Set At Wilson

WILSON—Baha'is of Greenville, Kinston and Wilson will celebrate World Religion Day Sunday here.

Dr. William Maxwell, associate dean of the School of Education, NCSU, will speak on "The Kinship of Religions."

The program will be held in the choral room of the Music Building, Atlantic Christian College, from 4-6 p.m.

Mayor Horace Benton will welcome guests to the city.

The program will also include a question and answer period, music and refreshments. Ludi Johnson of Greenville is chairman for the day.

'Intervened' Over Parole

RALEIGH (AP)—Pat Holshouser, wife of North Carolina Gov. Jim Holshouser, says she acted out of "human compassion" in personally intervening in a parole case to seek quicker-than-normal release for a woman inmate.

Mrs. Holshouser said Thursday she was not seeking political favoritism in her effort to gain release for Rebecca Potts of Guilford County, who has been working as a servant at the Governor's Mansion.

"I don't think I've done anything wrong," said Mrs. Holshouser. "I just called up and asked if they would speed up the case a little bit...I was afraid if she wasn't released soon she might not have a job waiting as she did (when the call was made)."

The early release was absconded by Chairman Jack Scobert of the Paroles Commission. He ordered the effort halted and handled in the regular manner. The inmate, serving a sentence on a manslaughter charge, was set to be released early this week from prison in the time Mrs. Holshouser became involved.

Auctioneering, Ticket Marking Coures Talked

Courses in Tobacco Auctioneering and Tobacco Ticket Marking will begin at Pitt Technical Institute next month if enough interest and demand for the classes are expressed.

Plans are to offer each course during winter quarter (February and March) either day or night if enough interest is shown.

The course is usually conducted four hours each morning but may be scheduled from one to four or five nights each week with three or four hour sessions.

Participants in the courses should acquire fundamental basic skills and practical experiences necessary for successful performance as either an auctioneer or ticket marker.

For further information, interested persons may contact Edgar Boyd, director of occupational extension, at Pitt Technical Institute, P.O. Drawer 7007, Greenville, N.C., or telephone 756-3130, ext. 33.

Found Guilty Of Shoplifting

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—The director of the Cape Fear Criminal Justice Planning Region has been given a six-month suspended sentence, fined $100 and placed on probation for a year after being convicted of shoplifting 20 cans of tennis balls.

Henry T. Avants was convicted Wednesday in Cumberland County District Court. He appealed the conviction and was freed on his own recognizance pending the appeal.

Piner To Seek NCAE Top Office In February

Dr. Rexford Eugene (Gene) Piner, principal of Wahl-Coates Laboratory School, has announced his candidacy for the office of vice-president-elect of the North Carolina Association of Educators (NCAE).

In announcing his candidacy for the top position of the 55,000 member organization, Dr. Piner said "my goal is to bring together factions both within and without the profession in order to restore respect for and confidence in the public schools of North Carolina."

The statewide election is scheduled to take place on February 28.

The 46 year old candidate, a native of Wilmington, is married to the former Wilma Stampley. They have four children, ranging in age from 14 to 21.

Dr. Piner has twice served in the military forces; first in the Army during 1946-47 with occupation duty in Japan, and with the N.C. National Guard from 1948-50.

Principal of Wahl-Coates since 1970, Dr. Piner previously taught at Columbia College, Columbia, S.C., at Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, and at Wilmington College.

He was also earlier the principal at Wahl-Coates from 1961-65, before resigning to devote full time work to doctoral studies at Florida State University for a two year period.

Dr. Piner received both the B.S. and M.A. degrees from East Carolina University.

Among honors and awards he has received have been university fellowships from Florida State University, and a National Science Foundation Scholarship.

He is an ordained deacon and elder in the First Presbyterian Church, has served as superintendent of the Sunday School there, and belongs to a number of professional education groups and associations. Dr. Piner has also written articles for education journals in North Carolina, Florida, Kentucky and Georgia.

manifold ills, or on the military front to assuage its feelings of outrage. He can't invest in economic development and still support the cost of a huge military installation on full alert. Sadat's situation wasn't helped by Kissinger's speculation on the use of force against the oil nations should the West be threatened by strangulation. That embarrassed him before his allies and may have made him less inclined to be so public about his cooperation with Kissinger.

If Sadat's only recourse is to champion the all-Arab cause, he may feel obliged to support switching the negotiations to Geneva where, with Soviet backing, the Arabs would demand a definitive settlement restoring territory lost in 1967.

TURN OFF THE WORLD

Sunday John 1: 35-39

Monday Proverbs 3: 1-8

Tuesday Ephesians 4: 1-6

Wednesday Psalms 26: 8-12

Thursday Acts 10: 34-41

Friday Exodus 34: 27-31

Saturday John 3: 14-18

We all feel that way at times. And, tragically, there are some folks who feel that way much of the time.

But while the world in which we live leaves a lot to be desired, it's our world. And life in that world is pretty much what man himself has made of it.

The God who created us and our universe had some excellent plans for life as it should be. They are clearly set forth in the Bible whose writing He inspired. And they have become the spiritual blueprint of constructive living for millions of believers.

As the earth continues its endless turning, search for your goals in faith—not escape. . . in the Word of God—not the words of cynics.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined slightly today in an atmosphere of continued uncertainty over the prospective effects of the government's efforts to combat the recession.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 3.60 at 652.14. Losers just slightly outnumbered gainers in quiet trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

It appeared a good many investors were taking a cautious position until they could get some indication of how Congress would act on proposals designed to stimulate the economy.

The Democrats, who hold a strong majority in Congress, have advanced their own economic measures apart from the measures called for by President Ford early this week.

The market seemed also to be running into resistance from some of its own internal forces after an unusually broad advance since the start of the year.

National Starch & Chemical was the most active issue on the Big Board, slipping 1/4 to 34 1/2 in a 140,000-share block trade.

Gold mining issues generally retreated in line with declining bullion prices.

The NYSE's 11 a.m. composite common-stock index was down .17 at 38.20.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .15 to 68.17.

Texas International, the Amex volume leader, added 1/4 to 7 1/4.

American Telephone & Telegraph was unchanged at 46 1/2 after losing 1/4 Thursday. The company reported this week that its earnings for the calendar year ended Dec. 31 were $5.27 a share, based on unaudited figures.

This was lower than the $5.33 per share reported for the company's fiscal year ended Nov. 30.

Earlier, the Associated Press erroneously reported that both the $5.27 and $5.33 were estimates rather than actual data.

Rep. Jones Surprised By Vote Against Poage

WASHINGTON, D. C. — First District Congressman Walter Jones this morning expressed surprise and "some degree" of disappointment at the ouster of Texas Rep. W. R. Poage as chairman of the powerful House Agriculture Committee by the House Democratic Caucus yesterday.

"I was very much surprised and to some degree disappointed," by the move, Jones said. "Although advanced in years (Poage is 75), few, if any, men in Congress have a more thorough knowledge of agricultural problems or have been greater friends of agriculture than Bob Poage."

"I regret that some of the new members (of Congress) did not take this into consideration . . . cast their vote on the basis of personality rather than on ability."

Jones emphasized that Poage can remain chairman of the committee "if nominated and successfully elected at a subsequent meeting." Under the procedures yesterday, the House caucus had only one choice . . . to

Film Copies Are Seized
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Roddy McDowall's home was searched by FBI agents and more than 500 copies of motion pictures and television shows were seized, the Los Angeles Times said today.

The search, part of a federal campaign against film piracy, occurred Dec. 18, according to court records, the Times said.

The newspaper reported that FBI agent Theodore J. Bowler stated in an affidavit for the search warrant that McDowall, 46, had admitted buying an unspecified number of films.

The seller reportedly was Ray Atherton, identified by the FBI as a "large scale dealer in the purchase and sale of illegally produced or stolen major motion pictures," the Times said.

The FBI has made seizures of films both here and in Indianapolis, Ind., in the last month. Film industry representatives say piracy costs the industry up to $2 billion a year.

No charges were filed against McDowall.

He Walked
RIPLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Stephen Harper did a lot of walking in order to conform with the law. He ended up with 30 miles of hiking and two days in jail. Harper's odyssey began New Year's Eve with a traffic ticket for driving a car with a defaced inspection sticker, according to Jackson County Sheriff Charles Coleman.

He was ordered to appear in Ripley Municipal Court and to keep his car off the road until he got a proper sticker.

On hearing day, Harper — who lives alone on a farm 15 miles outside town — had to walk.

He arrived six hours late, after court was closed. The 25-year-old Harper went to the county jail, explained why he was late and was taken before Municipal Court Judge O. G. Britton.

Britton fined Harper $20, but he had only a dime with him and accepted a two-day jail sentence instead of an offer to pay the fine later.

Emerging from his cell two days later, he told police, "I walked all the way so the law officers would trust me. You treated me real good. I appreciate it."

Then, the sheriff said, as far as he knows, Harper walked the 15 miles back home.

Bucs Host Indians; Seek 4th Loop Win

East Carolina's Pirates, sitting atop the Southern Conference basketball standings with a 3-0 record, seek up continue their streak against league foes Saturday night when they entertain William & Mary. Tipoff is set for 8 p.m.

The Bucs go into the Indian game after a victorious, but ragged showing against last place Appalachian State University on Wednesday. The victory was their eighth in 12 starts for the Bucs.

William & Mary comes into the game with a 7-3 record, the best in the conference. They haven't played in two weeks, however, and Coach Dave Patton isn't sure how this will affect the Indians. William & Mary hasn't lost yet in the conference either, hosting a 2-0 league mark.

Patton was a little disturbed over Wednesday night's game, but still pleased that the Bucs were able to win it. "It was the first night this year that we didn't get any help off our bench except for Donnie Owens," he said. Patton added that of the 12 players who usually dress for the varsity games, 10 had started at one time or another, and eight had been a game's high scorer. The latest to break into that latter circle was Kenny Edmonds, who hit 15 against ASU.

Still speaking of Owens, Patton added that "the last five minutes of the Connecticut game, and Wednesday night's game were the best he's played this year."

Patton was also pleased with the play of Edmonds and Gregg Ashorn. "Reggie Lee played good defense and rebounded well, but this shooting was off. I guess it was just one of those nights. Any night when you shoot 39 per cent you're going to have problems. I'm just glad that it was at home against Appalachian and that we won."

"In fact," Patton added, "I'd rather play bad and win than play good and lose. We played a great game against Connecticut, but we lost."

The coach added that there were some good moments in the game. "We got 35 rebounds in the second half, and we only let them have 28 points."

The Indians of William & Mary will present a different picture. While they are a young team (Coach George Balanis likes to point out that he's starting three freshmen and two sophomores), they have been able to get the job done. "We can't afford to play them like we played Appalachian," Patton said.

"Coach Balanis is doing a tremendous job up there. They say you can't compare scores, but we lost to State, State lost to Wake Forest, and Wake lost to William & Mary, so you can see that we're in for a battle."

Patton said that the Indians would try to dictate the tempo of the game. "They usually go with their starters as long as they can," he said. "They like to keep the game fairly slow to keep them as fresh as possible."

This is shown in the Indians' statistics of scoring only 64.3 points per game, and only allowing 63.5. "They are very well-drilled and patient. I hope that our pressure defense will cause them some problems."

The Indians will be taller than the Bucs. They'll probably start 6-10 center Dennis Vail; 6-7 forward Gary Burd, 6-5 forward John Lowenhaupt, 6-5 guard Mike Enoch, and 6-4 guard Ron Satterthwaite.

The Indians depend on sophomore Satterthwaite to handle their main scoring duties. He's the seventh leading scorer in the league with a 16.2 average.

The Indians are also strong on rebounding, pulling down 55.6 per cent of the loose balls. The Pirates, at the same time, are getting 51.3 per cent.

"They use both a zone and a man-to-man defense, and we look for a lot of zone. They don't press too much."

Patton feels that a victory would do much for the Pirates.

"It would give us a 4-0 record as we start this long road trip. We play six straight road games, including five in the conference, and we'd be in real good shape to start the trip with a win."

The Bucs currently have four men in double figures. Robert Geter leads with 12 points, while Larry Hunt is hitting 11.7 and Gregg Ashorn has 11.3.

Overall, the Bucs are scoring 87.7 points a game, and allowing 80.3. They are hitting 48.1 per cent of their field goals, while the Indians are making 45.5. At the line, the Bucs are making 71.2 per cent, while the Indians are worst in the league with 59.0.

No preliminary game is scheduled.

Guess Who Is Leading Tucson?

By BOB GREEN AP Golf Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It's the same song, second verse.

It's Johnny Miller. And he's leading another golf tournament.

This time it's the $200,000 Dean Martin-Tucson Open. Miller, pro golf's unreachable star of the past few months, had a six-under-par 66 in Thursday's opening round and took a one-stroke lead.

"I think it's natural, the thing you expect, to have a let-down after you've won a tournament," Miller said of his record triumph in Phoenix last week.

"Well, I think I had mine early in the round. I didn't start very good. I was one-over after three holes. I turned it around pretty good. I think I'm over the let-down."

"If I keep on hitting the ball like I did today, I don't think they can beat me."

One stroke back at 67 were John Mahaffey and a couple of longshot challengers, Don Iverson and Ralph Johnston, neither of whom ever has won.

Lee Trevino, although weakened by the flu and gulping medication, headed the group at 68. Also at that figure were Mike Hill, veterans Miller Barber and Lou Graham, Leonard Thompson and the only black ever to qualify for the Masters, Lee Elder.

Arnold Palmer, making his first start of the season, was three under par after 16 holes and had dead aim on the early leaders before he encountered a newly constructed lake and finished double bogey-bogey for a 72.

U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin also made double bogey from the same water and had a 73.

Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player are not competing in this second event of the season.

It was an almost-routine effort for the young man who's set a flock of records over the last 12 months. Miller scored eight American victories in 1974, won Player of the Year honors and collected a record $353,000. Last week he had a 72-hole total of 260, the lowest score in 20 years.

He's won his past three starts by margins of eight seven and 14 strokes.

He's led every round he's played this year.

Gymnasts Opening

The East Carolina gymnastics team will open its season Saturday at 2 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium, playing host to Appalachian State University.

"This first meet is going to be interesting," Coach Linda Banks said. "We'll find out what we have to do to really prepare for the season. I think we are looking good now, but competition is really what shows what you can do."

Two seniors and a freshman are expected to be the bright spots on the Pirate team. Gail Phillips, a senior, is expected to pick up points on the uneven bars and in free exercise, while classmate Myrna Ocasio will work on the balance beam and in free exercise.

Freshman Kim Deck is looked for to present a good performance on the beam and in floor work.

"The quality of gymnastic performances has been raised during the past few years," the coach said. She credits this to natural progress and to the television coverage given the sport, especially during the Olympic Games, and to performances of such athletes as Russia's Olga Korbut.

Rampants Nip Rocky Mount

Jeff Hagans remained unbeaten last night and it was a good thing for the Rose High School wrestling team. Hagans' victory by a fall enabled them to squeeze by Rocky Mount, 27-24 for their 12th win of the season.

Hagans, along with Mike Alexander, are both 13-0 on the season. Ron Hunt, who had been unbeaten, fell for the first time against the Gryphons, bowing to a 3-2 decision.

Rocky Mount took the lead on the opening match and led throughout the match. Rose finally tied it up at 21-21 following the 187-pound match, won by Ronnie Goodall, but Hunt's loss dropped them back by three again. Hagans' victory, however, since it was by a fall, propelled the Rampants into the lead, and gave them the victory.

Rose won seven of the 13 matches, taking just two by pins. Rocky Mount's six wins included two by falls.

The Rampants, now 12-1, will play host to New Bern on Monday.

Summary: 100: Billy Batts (RM) pinned John Lawler, 1:51.

107: Dickie Brunson (RM) pinned David Dean, 2:56.

114: Matthew Ward (R) decisioned Bob Horton, 7-5.

121: Mike Alexander (R) pinned Steve Daughtridge, 3:19.

128: Mike Avent (RM) decisioned Fred Moore, 10-2.

134: Lawrence Hartley (R) decisioned Reggie Dickens, 4-2.

140: Greg Daws (RM) decisioned Johnny Harris, 6-4.

147: Tyrone Perkins (R) decisioned Gerald Wiggins, 6-4.

157: McCargue Clark (RM) decisioned Mike Allen, 5-4.

169: Ronald Randolph (R) decisioned Ronnie King, 8-3.

187: Ronnie Goodall (R) decisioned Bill Williams, 6-2.

197: Mac Wiggins (RM) decisioned Ron Hunt, 3-2.

Heavyweight: Jeff Hagans (R) pinned Mike Turil, 2:56.

Maryland Rips State, 103-85

By GORDON BEARD
AP Sports Writer
COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — "It's a new year, new teams, and different people out there," Maryland's Tom Roy said after the fifth-ranked Terps scored a surprisingly easy 103-85 basketball victory over fourth-ranked North Carolina State.

That was the senior center's response Thursday night after being needed that it was about time for a Maryland victory, after six consecutive losses to North Carolina State over the past two seasons.

Both powers have four players back who either started or played extensively last year, when North Carolina State beat Maryland in overtime for the Atlantic Coast Conference title and then edged UCLA in double overtime in the NCAA semifinal playoffs.

But it was a new player for the Terps and a missing star from the Wolfpack lineup which contributed heavily to the turnaround. Plus some questionable strategy by Coach Norm Sloan of North Carolina State.

The leading scorers for both teams performed as expected, David Thompson pumping in 33 for State and John Lucas 30 for Maryland. Both are veterans of all six previous confrontations won by the Wolfpack.

But freshman Brad Davis, new to the pressure of ACC competition, contributed 15 points and six assists as Maryland ran its record to 12-1, including 4-0 in league play.

North Carolina State, 10-2 with a 1-1 ACC mark, showed it is not the same team without the dominating presence of 7-foot-4 Tom Burleson, who is now in the National Basketball Association.

"You have to be good when you have David Thompson and Monte Towe," Lucas said, "but Burleson was the intimidator. I never thought about driving with Burleson in there."

With Maryland enjoying a slight height advantage, Sloan started with a zone and stayed with it until early in the second half. He blamed himself, but the Terps did equally well against the man-to-man and finished with a 65 per cent shooting average.

Oregon, the nation's No. 8 team, was the only other ranked club in action Thursday night. The Ducks beat Washington State 69-68 on Ron Lee's 18-foot jump shot with one second left.

The Ducks, 11-1, led by as much as 12 points in the first half, but the Cougars erased that advantage midway in the second half. After the Cougars took their first lead, 54-53, on a Norton Barnhill free throw with 8:23 left in the game, the score see-sawed until Lee's final shot.

Elsewhere in college basketball, New Mexico State beat Bradley 76-74 on a 12-foot shot at the buzzer by Jim Bostic; Steve Walsh's passing and play-making led St. Louis past Tulsa 71-65; Neil Strom scored 21 points to lead Wichita State past West Texas State 60-55;

Gary Tomaszewski and David Bulik scored 28 and 24 points respectively as St. Mary's University stopped Houston 85-74; Jerry Jenkins poured in 32 points to lead Mississippi State over LSU 93-84 and the University of Pacific ripped Ball State 83-69 behind Keith Young's 23 points.

Zone Defense Hurt State, Sloan Says

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — "I hurt the team a little bit, maybe a lot, by putting in that zone defense," North Carolina State basketball coach Norm Sloan said after his team was beaten 103-85 by Maryland Thursday night.

"That's not our style," Players from both teams agreed.

"The zone made us stand around in the first half," said State's Mo Rivers, who scored 16 points. "We're not used to it. I don't know why we played it."

Sloan started a zone and stayed with it until early in the second half.

"I don't think they're used to playing a zone," said Maryland's Owen Brown, who scored 13 of his 17 points in the second half. "It's like us playing a zone—it would be to our disadvantage."

"I'll ask myself 100 times why I did it," Sloan said. "You can't beat a great team with a zone defense. Maybe the North Carolina game trapped me."

The reference was to a zone which State used extensively to beat North Carolina in the Big Four Tournament game following an upset loss to Wake Forest.

"They kicked us pretty good," Sloan said of Maryland. "But the margin's not the thing. Winning and losing is what counts."

But the second loss in four games, following a 36-game winning streak, bothered Monte Towe, the 5-7 guard who made eight points while hitting only four of 11 shots.

"It makes you wonder what's going on," Towe said. "This will affect us, definitely."

The Terps led 44-35 at half-time, and spurred to a 63-46 margin as Brown scored nine points in the opening 6½ minutes of the second half.

The Maryland team had nothing but praise for Thompson. "He had everybody in Cole Field House on him, but he still scored 33," John Lucas said.

Maryland got 63 points and 13 assists from its three-guard offense of Lucas, Brad Davis and Mo Howard. But coach Lefty Driesell gave most of the credit to the defense.

Vote Today On Olympic Strike

MONTREAL (AP) — Striking ironworkers are expected to vote today on a government-imposed wage settlement aimed at ending their eight-week walkout which has threatened the 1976 Montreal Summer Olympics.

Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa announced the imposed settlement Thursday and said he expected the workers to accept it.

Some 1,200 ironworkers walked off the job Nov. 27 demanding a $1 an hour cost of living wage increase. When negotiations failed to end the dispute, the government stepped in. Bourassa said the settlement would give the workers 85 cents an hour — 59 cents now and another 26 cents May 1. The first raise would be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Bourassa declined to speculate on what would happen if the workers turn down the government settlement.

"We will take the measures we consider proper," he said. The ironworkers walkout forced a shutdown on the $380-million, 70,000-seat Olympics Stadium, as well as other projects around town.

The strike is just the latest in a series of problems that have plagued Montreal's preparations for the Olympics. Not the least of the problems has been the spiraling cost of almost everything connected with the project.

The over-all cost for the Games has risen from an original estimate of $310 million to present estimates of $653 million. Much of the increase is due to the rising cost of the main stadium, currently estimated to cost about $380 million.

In addition, the project is running about a month behind schedule and some officials are worried that it won't be completed in time for the July 17, 1976, start of the Games.

There have been rumors that the Games would be cancelled or moved elsewhere, but Bourassa insists the show will go on as scheduled.

Walsh-Coates Take Victory

Wahl-Coates took a victory in the Elementary Basketball League yesterday.

Wahl-Coates downed South Greenville, 24-20, in the varsity game. Paul Taylor led south Greenville with 14, while Calvin Nesbit had nine to pace Wahl-Coates.

South Greenville won the junior varsity game, 17-5.

Milwaukee Closing On Western NBA Leader

By The Associated Press
The Milwaukee Bucks slipped to the lowest depth in their history earlier this season when they were without their big man, 7-3½-inch Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

Now, with their towering center back, they have reached their season's peak.

The Bucks, losers of 13 of their first 14 games while Abdul-Jabbar was recuperating from a severely lacerated eye and a broken bone in his hand, squared their record at 21-21 Thursday night with a 119-100 victory over the Golden State Warriors as Kareem scored 40 points.

The triumph lifted the surging Bucks to within three games of first-place Detroit in the Midwest Division of the National Basketball Association.

While Abdul-Jabbar was continuing his brilliant comeback from his early-season injuries, Portland's Bill Walton, the most celebrated rookie to enter the league since Kareem started his pro career in 1969, also made a comeback, but not a successful one.

Walton, sidelined since Nov. 23 because of injuries, including a bone spur in his right ankle, scored only two points in a reserve role as the Cleveland Cavaliers beat the Trail Blazers 89-81.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Atlanta Hawks upended the Washington Bullets 108-85, and the Seattle SuperSonics outlasted the Houston Rockets 127-125 in overtime.

In the only game in the American Basketball Association, the Denver Nuggets downed the Utah Stars 115-104.

"It's been a long climb," said Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello after the Bucks had beaten the Golden State and climbed to the .500 level. "We started out 1-13, so we're very happy we got to .500 as fast as we have."

Rick Barry, the league's leading scorer, paced the Warriors with 26 points, but sank only 12 of 34 shots from the floor.

Walton played only 14 minutes for Portland against Cleveland, his only points coming on two free throws. He missed all five of his field goal attempts.

"He's got a long way to go," observed Portland Coach Lenny Wilkens. "I obviously was not pleased with what he did out there tonight, knowing what he can do."

Dick Snyder led Cleveland with 29 points. Geoff Petrie was high for Portland with 17 points.

Hawks 108, Bullets 85
Atlanta's red-hot rookie, Tom Henderson, who has sunk 24 of his 29 floor shots in his last two games, scored 30 points against Washington.

Sonics 127, Rockets 125
Seattle, playing without scoring leader Spencer Haywood, out with the flu, got 36 points from Fred Brown, including six in overtime, in rallying to edge Houston.

Nuggets 115, Stars 104
Denver, the team with the best record in pro basketball, won its 37th of 44 games and increased its ABA West Division lead to a whopping 12 games by trouncing Utah behind Ralph Simpson's 31 points. Rookie Moses Malone topped Utah with 26 points.

Belton Gets 2nd

Belton took command of the Ladies Basketball League last night with their second victory in a row. All other teams in the loop have now been beaten.

In the opening game of the night, Buccaneer downed Daniel Construction, 42-16, for their first victory. Buccaneer ran out to a 20-4 lead after the first period of play. They continued to move away, outthitting Daniel, 22-12.

Faye Everett led the Buc with 20 points, while Katherine Daniel had 10 for Daniel.

In the second game, Belton took a 56-38 win over Little Mint, handing Little Mint its first loss. Belton worked up a 27-12 halftime lead. They outthit Little Mint again, 29-26, in the second half, to insure the win.

Vangie Jones led Belton with 16, while Debbie Pollard had 15 and Lollie Edwards and P.J. Taylor both had 12. For the Little Mint, Vivian Humphrey had 12 and Lesley Ball had 10.

Immanuel Gets Win

Immanuel Baptist gained a 62-52 victory over Oakmont Baptist in the lone Church Basketball League game played last night.

Immanuel jumped out to a 35-27 lead in the first half of the game. They came back with a 27-25 final half to take the victory.

L.G. Catlett led Immanuel with 15 points, while Butch Ricks had 14 and Cliff McNeil had 13. Al Como had 24 to pace Oakmont.

Stokes Wins Two

STOKES—Stokes-Pactolus Junior High School took a pair of games from G. R. Whitfield yesterday.

Stokes won the girls' game, 50-6. Hattie Hardy led Stokes with 16 points, while Starla Singleton added 15. Stokes is now 5-0.

Stokes took the boys' game, 30-28. Jimmy Coward led Stokes with eight, while Thompson sparked Whitfield with 16. Stokes is now 3-2.

Terps' White Lombardi Pick

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Opposing offensive linemen marvel at the moves of Maryland's All-American defensive tackle, Randy White, but his most practiced maneuver these days is standing up to accept another award.

Decorated earlier as the Outland Trophy winner and the Athlete of the Year for Delaware, White showed his best form again Thursday night when he stood up as winner of the fifth Vince Lombardi Award as the nation's outstanding lineman.

"I'm going to do everything possible to live up to what this trophy stands for," the 6-2, 250-pounder said after accepting the award.

Asked if the 45-pound granite block trophy was heavy, White replied "I can't feel a thing right now. It's as light as a feather."

Other finalists for the award, named in honor of the former

Green Bay and Washington coach who died in 1970 of cancer, were Southern Methodist nose guard Louie Kelcher, Ohio State defensive tackle Pete Cusick and Oklahoma linebacker Rod Shoate.

Proceeds from the $100 per plate dinner go to the American Cancer Society for research. An estimated 700 persons attended the dinner.

White, a 6-foot-2 250-pounder who had 147 tackles and 12 quarterback sacks in helping Maryland to five shutout victories and a Liberty Bowl berth, also may be in for more honors in the upcoming National Football League draft.

An almost certain first round selection, White could be the first player picked up in the Jan. 28 draft.

Baltimore, with a 2-12, record will flip with Atlanta, also 2-12, for the right to select first.

"Yes, I'd like to play in Baltimore," White said. "I have a lot of friends there. But I'll go anywhere to play pro football."

Pirates Run In Richmond

Twenty-one members of the East Carolina indoor track team will participate in the prestigious East Coast Invitational Indoor Track Meet Saturday in Richmond, Virginia.

The Pirates top sprinters, Carter Suggs, and Larry Austin will both run in the feature 60-yard dash while Sam Phillips will run in the feature 60-yard high hurdles. The feature events consist of the top performers in the invitational.

Other select members of the Pirates team that will participate in the top events will be Willie Harvey in the long jump, Al McCrimmons in the high jump and Tom Watson and Ronnie Ragland in the shot put. East Carolina's two mile relay team of Jerry Klas, Scott Chance, James Willett and Charles Avery will also run in the feature event. Head Coach Bill Carson indicated that he may replace Willett with James Green in the two mile relay.

The rest of the members of the team will run in the college level events which is one top below the feature events. The Pirates will compete in numerous other events at this level including the 600 yard run, the 1000 yard run, and the one mile relay.

Speedsters Carter Suggs, Aiah Johnson, Palmer Lisane, and Maurice Huntley will run in the mile relay.

"I think we are very fortunate to have twenty-one athletes that have been invited to this invitational," said Carson. "There will be more than 1200 athletes competing although no team scores will be kept."

Buc Aide To Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jack White, a graduate assistant football coach at East Carolina University, will be junior varsity coach at the University of Kansas.

White, 25, was hired Thursday. He played college football at California Santa Barbara.

 Opening lead: King of ♦.

How many trump tricks do you think West can take at a contract of two spades? One, perhaps two? Holland's leading bridge journalist, Herman Filarski, reports that when this hand was played at a recent tournament, West succeeded in scoring all three of his trumps!

After North's takeout double, South elected to bid spades first, keeping his heart suit in reserve in case his opponents competed further in the minor suits. Like many best-laid plans, this one went astray when North raised to two spades, so the 4-4 heart fit was missed.

West led the king of diamonds and, when East signalled encouragement with the nine, continued with the seven to his partner's ace. East shifted to a low heart, and the ten was allowed to win. West continued with the king of hearts to dummy's ace.

Entries to declarer's hand were at a premium, so he decided to force an entry with the queen of spades. To accomplish this, South led the jack of spades from dummy. West won the king and returned a diamond. Since ruffing with dummy's low trump would again leave declarer without an entry to his hand, South elected to ruff with dummy's ace.

Now he led the four of spades from the table and boldly finessed his nine. West's ten won his side's second trump trick, and when he played a fourth round of diamonds, East ruffed with the eight of trumps and declarer finally got to his hand by overruffing with the queen. Unfortunately, this promoted West's seven for the defenders' third trump trick, all won by West!

The success of the club finesse came as a small consolation to declarer. He had lost three trump tricks, two diamonds and a heart for down one, when most of the other North-South pairs were making a part-score contract in hearts.

North Pitt
School News

By GENEVA HOLDER

The North Pitt Health Careers Club visited the Greenville Nursing and Convalescent Home recently. They carried candy cane favors to the residents.

One half of the school year will be officially over Jan. 22. Six weeks test will be taken on Jan. 20-22. Thursday and Friday, Jan. 23 and 24, will be teacher work-days and student holidays.

College Day was held at North Pitt Wednesday for Pitt County juniors who are interested in attending college. Representatives from about 50 colleges were on hand to answer any questions the students had.

This week North Pitt features Mrs. Lucille Mayo and Eugene James.

Mrs. Mayo, a home economics teacher, was born in Warrenton and attended John Graham High School. She received her B.S. degree in science and home economics and her master's degree from East Carolina. She and her husband, David, and their seventeen-year-old daughter, Linda, live near Greenville. They have a son, David.

Mrs. Mayo enjoys sewing, cooking, traveling and reading. Mr. James, a horticulture and agriculture teacher, was born in Pitt County and attended Bethel High School. He received his B.S. and M.A. degrees from North Carolina State University. He and his wife, Pat, live near Belvoir with their three sons, Eddie, 18, Paul, 17 and Mark, eight.

Mr. James enjoys hunting, fishing and watching television. The student body of North Pitt would like to express sympathy to Mr. James Allen, our principal, in the loss of his wife, Mrs. Alma Lewis Allen, who died Sunday. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Bethel.

'Classic Example' Of How Not To Save Fuel

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The home of a woman who complained about a $315 utility bill has been inspected by South Carolina Electric and Gas Co. engineers, who said the bill was justified.

Rudy Coward, public relations director of SCE&G, said the Lake Murray home of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Armstrong is a "classic example of how not to conserve energy."

The engineers inspected the home after Mrs. Armstrong called a local radio talk show to complain. Her call came to the attention of Public Service Commission Chairman Henry Younce, who ordered SCE&G to inspect the house.

Coward said the inspection showed, "The home has two and a half times the normal glass area of a home that size. It has seven sliding glass doors eight feet wide, one french door eight and a half feet wide and glass at both ends of the cathedral ceiling, none of which is thermoplane, or insulated, glass."

Additionally, Coward said the 1,750 square-foot home had undersized heating ducts, an improperly regulated thermostat, clogged furnace filters, a full range of kitchen appliances and a pump that runs often, pumping soft drinks from storage containers to a bar.

And, the house has only three inches of insulation in the attic where six inches is recommended, and no insulation in the floor, where three inches is recommended, he said.

Mrs. Armstrong said ironically she and her husband decided to put in an electric furnace because SCE&G was urging everybody to "go all electric because it's cheaper. Now when I mention this they tell me it was cheaper two or three years ago, but not anymore."

Coward said all the defects the engineers found, in addition to the fact the Armstrongs were burning decorative, colored lights outside the house, could account for a consumption of between 10,000 and 11,000 kilowatt hours, which is what the most recent monthly usage totaled.

Mrs. Armstrong said she also complained last month, when her bill was $289, and urges others to fight back with letters to elected representatives and the PSC.

"I hope a lot of people will fight it and make the Public Service Commission realize they can't sit back any longer without doing something," she said.

Panel About To Advise Social Security Tax Boost

Voters Advised Check Status

Miss Margaret Register, executive secretary of the Pitt Board of Elections, reminded area citizens that, "It is time to start to put your voting status in proper condition."

She urged citizens to make sure they are registered with the Board of Elections to insure that they are qualified to vote in the fall elections.

Miss Register explained that registered voters who have moved since the last election and have not had voter records transferred to new addresses and precincts should have those changes made at the Pitt Elections office at 201 E. Second Street in order to be eligible to vote.

The local office, she said, is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. For

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — While congressional leaders and President Ford are supporting a large tax reduction, an advisory panel is on the brink of recommending higher Social Security payroll taxes.

"An outrageous recommendation," said Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., chairman of the Social Security subcommittee of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee. The expected proposal would be designed to keep the Social Security system solvent.

"The way the economy is going this is not the time or the place for such a move," he said in an interview.

Negative reaction among congressmen and some large newspapers may steer the Social Security Advisory Council away from its course, when it meets in Washington this weekend to approve final recommendations.

But as it now stands, the panel is expected to make the following major recommendations: —Increase the wage base upon which Social Security taxes are levied to $24,000, from the present $14,100. The wage base was increased Jan. 1 from last year's $13,200.

—Boost the present 5.85 per cent Social Security tax rate by .1 per cent each on employees and employers.

—Make future benefits far less sensitive to inflationary loops, by tying them to wages rather than a combination of wages and prices.

—Liberalize benefits for men whose wives have supported them, ease the disability test for workers over 55 years of age and allow retirees to earn more outside income without losing some of their Social Security benefits.

The advisory council's expected recommendation of a $24,000 wage base would, at the current tax rate, cost the employee at the top $1,404, compared with the maximum $824.85 tax for a person earning $14,100 this year.

A .2 per cent tax rate increase would, at the $14,100 level, cost employees and employers each $838.95.

A Social Security tax increase would seem on the surface to be unlikely this year, in the face of a growing consensus that tax reductions are necessary to revive the economy.

But Social Security actuaries reported last fall that the system, under the worst conditions, might run $224 million into the red as early as 1977, although a $44.8 billion reserve would remain in the trust funds.

The actuaries' report next April may make the gloomiest possibility of six months ago appear to be rosy, according to insiders.

The actuaries said the system could be running a $20 billion a year deficit by the 1990s because of inflationary spiral and plummeting birth rates, which means there will be proportionately fewer workers to support retirees. And there would be no trust fund reserves to fall back upon, the actuaries said.

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has said he will ask Congress to extend the federal revenue-sharing program, which was an integral part of former President Richard M. Nixon's new federalism.

Ford said Thursday he will recommend a five-year, nine-month extension of the program, now scheduled to expire Dec. 31, 1976.

"It has worked because you have made it work," the President told a group of governors, mayors and county executives, who warmly applauded the announcement at the White House.

Ford did not disclose how much he will ask Congress to appropriate for revenue sharing, but Treasury Department sources said the administration is considering requesting nearly $40 billion, up from $30.2 billion in the current program.

Pres. Ford To Ask For More Revenue-Sharing

This comes at a time when the U.S. Conference of Mayors is discussing the possibility of calling for a one-shot distribution of $5 billion in federal funds to state and local governments under the revenue-sharing formula to aid the economy.

Ford's proposal in his State of the Union address for a one-shot $2 billion distribution to state and local governments "was perhaps a compromise," said a spokesman for the big-city mayors. He added that they were pleased with the President's proposal.

Sources said several major changes in the revenue-sharing program are contemplated, including authority for the secretary of the treasury to defer funds for any recipient when there is a finding that discrimination in use of the funds has occurred.

The revenue-sharing program went into effect Jan. 1, 1972, and it is considered by many as one of the major legislative achievements of the Nixon administration. Nixon considered it a key part of his new federalism program for returning more authority to local government.

Payments are made every three months to about 39,000 local and state governments, including Indian reservations and Alaskan Eskimos.

Ex-Supreme Is A Welfare Case

DETROIT (AP) — Florence Ballard thought she was making enough money to last her a lifetime when she was cutting gold, record hits with Diana Ross and the Supremes a few years ago. She was wrong.

Today she is 31, broke, has three children and lives on welfare in a flat on Detroit's West Side.

"I've been through so much, been so upset over so many things," she says. "Now I just let things happen. I hope things will turn out all right, but I don't know."

Florence Ballard, Mary Wilson and Diana Ross rose from Detroit's Brewster Housing Project in the early 60s to cut eight gold records in two years. Everything good happened at once.

Then suddenly she was out. Cindy Birdsong replaced her for an appearance at the Hollywood Bowl and she never sang with the Supremes again. Illness and quarrels were rumored.

She claims she received only a weekly allowance from the millions the Supremes were earning. She thought the rest was being invested or held for

CAL To Push Food Tax End

RALEIGH (AP)—The Christian Action League plans to lobby in the 1975 General Assembly for removal of the 3 per cent state sales tax on food, to be replaced by increased taxes on cigarettes and alcoholic beverages.

The League revealed its goals for the legislative session Thursday night at a meeting attended by about 40 members of the General Assembly.

CAL president Coy Privette of Kannapolis told the legislators that the league's goals also include elimination of liquor advertising and a fight to ban massage parlors and pornography.

The league indicated it would shift from mere opposition to liberalization of liquor laws to a counterattack on liquor and pornography.

Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt thanked the group "for the work you are doing for all of North Carolina."

Sen. Thomas Strickland, D-Wayne, chairman of a league task force studying the elimination of liquor advertising, outlined difficulties of passing legislation in the field, but said North Carolina should lead the way in enacting such a law.

The league also called for impoundment of revenue from alleged pornographic book shops, padlocking of the shops for up to one year, and confiscation of books, magazines and movies.

The league's tax reform plan would replace the revenue from the food tax by adding an additional four-cent tax on each pack of cigarettes sold in North Carolina; a four-cent tax on each can or bottle of beer sold; a 15 per cent increase in the tax on liquor and a 10-cent per gallon tax increase on wine.

TRACE WARNING SIGNALS—Dr. Charles Oliver, right, head cardiologist at Washington University, discusses small monitoring device with St. Louis photographer Manuel Newman, who has had a heart attack. Research conducted by Dr. Oliver indicates the heart gives off warning signals before a sudden heart attack. A computer-identified "blip" or warning signal is pointed out by the computer (top), compared to the superimposed "normal" heartbeats. (AP Wirephoto)

Aircraft Fire And Rescue Course Taught

Twenty-eight area fire and rescue personnel have taken a course in rescue operations from an F-4 aircraft. The course was presented at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base with Franklin D. Bowling of Farmville as the coordinator between the Air Force and the Fire and rescue departments.

The course taught the proper and safe way to extinguish an F-4 aircraft fire, proper turning off of the aircraft engine and removing the crew from the aircraft.

The two hour course had participants from Greenville Fire and Rescue Department, Farmville volunteer fire department, Snow Hill Rescue, and the Falkland Rescue Department.

Bowling, a retired Air Force man, is planning to show Air Force films on firefighting techniques locally.

Surveying Pitt On Peoples' Attitudes

ANN ARBOR—Interviewers from the Survey Research Center of The University of Michigan will begin contacting families in Pitt County this week in connection with a study of people's attitudes about children.

This is part of a national survey of 2400 men and women being conducted in 74 areas of the United States between now and the middle of March.

The survey asks respondents to describe how they feel about having children and the kinds of satisfactions and dissatisfactions that are involved. In addition, it touches on a variety of other topics including education and employment and also asks briefly about housing arrangements for the elderly.

Results of the interviews will be published in statistical form. Findings are never identified with any individual person or address. Each interview, however, becomes part of the broader national cross-section of opinions.

Data collected in this survey will be analyzed by The Charge Driver In Collision

Douglas Coleman Hardee of Route 1, Winterville was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of an 11:52 a.m. mishap here yesterday on Greenville Boulevard, 500 feet West of the Plaza Drive intersection.

Officers said the Hardee car collided with a vehicle driven by Evelyn Young Nichols of Route 2, Farmville, causing an estimated $150 damage to the Hardee car and $50 damage to the Nichols vehicle.

Singspiration On Saturday

A singspiration will be held at the Hollywood Presbyterian Church, located on Highway 43 South, Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The guest singers will be the Gospel Singing Halos of Rocky Mount. The group is composed of seven persons.

The church minister is the Rev. William Forbes. The public is invited to attend.

Youth Council Sets Car Wash

The Greenville Youth Council will hold a car wash Saturday at the Pitt Plaza Shell Station.

The cost of the car wash will be $1.00 with proceeds going towards sending representatives to the State Youth Legislative Assembly to be held Feb. 7-9 in Raleigh.
