

Senate Vote Could Force Ford Energy Compromise

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The margin of the Senate vote blocking the first part of President Ford's energy-conservation program could increase pressure on the President to compromise.

Ford repeated his promise to veto the bill, which would block for 90 days his $3-per-barrel special tariff on imported oil, after the Senate approved the measure Wednesday 66 to 28.

The House earlier approved the tariff-delay bill by a 309-114 margin. It is generally conceded that the House will override Ford's veto but nose-counters in the Senate say the vote there could go either way by a margin of one or two votes.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., a sponsor of the delay bill, predicted the Senate would override by one vote. Majorities of two-thirds of those voting in both chambers will be required to override the veto and delay the tariff. The 66-28 margin by which the bill was passed was three more than the majority needed to override with 94 senators voting. The vote probably would have been 70 to 29 if the five absentees had been present, but it is not unusual for some senators who favor a bill to later uphold a president's decision to veto it.

The most surprising factor in Wednesday's vote was that only two Democrats — Russell B. Long of Louisiana and Howard W. Cannon of Nevada — voted against the bill. Ten Republicans voted for it.

The success of the effort to override the veto could depend on whether those Republicans and a half-dozen Southern conservative Democrats who voted for the measure will support the override.

Even before the Senate vote Wednesday, the White House was indicating an increased willingness to at least discuss compromise with the Democratic-controlled Congress.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the President has promised that the bulk of the fuel-price increases resulting from his energy program will be on gasoline, rather than on heating oil.

This emphasis is similar to a tentative Democratic-sponsored program that would require automobile drivers to pay most of the short-range costs of energy conservation.

Two senior Democrats, Sens. John J. McClellan of Arkansas and Herman E.

Talmadge of Georgia, also indicated that their talks with Ford led them to conclude that the President is willing to compromise.

In his statement after the vote, Ford said: "I deeply believe a prompt solution to our energy problems is essential to the safety and progress of the United States. I cannot be party to further delay."

Democrats say they need the 90-day delay to prepare their own energy program. They repeatedly argued that the higher fuel costs resulting from the $3 tariff would hinder the fight against recession and bring on a new round of inflation.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., predicted failure for Democratic efforts to draft their own energy program because of varied regional interests among Democrats. Therefore, "the one person who can provide the leadership needed in this field is the President," he said.

UN Cyprus Debate Will Begin Today

By GENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The Turkish Cypriot representative at the U.N. Security Council debate starting today says Turkish troops won't withdraw from Cyprus until after a political settlement recognizing the division of the island into federated Greek and Turkish Cypriot states.

Vedat A. Celik, industry minister of the new Turkish Cypriot state proclaimed last week, said in an interview that the U.N. peacekeeping force that has been on Cyprus since 1964 cannot protect the 118,000

Turkish Cypriots from the 501,000 Greek Cypriots and the threat of enosis, the union of Cyprus with Greece.

"We tried paper solutions in the past," Celik said. "We would feel unsafe if the Turkish troops left before a political settlement."

The Greek Cypriot government that has ruled Cyprus since it became independent in 1960 asked for the council meeting after the Turkish Cypriots proclaimed their own state in the northern 40 per cent of the island occupied by the Turkish invasion force last summer. The Greek Cypriots want the council to enforce earlier resolutions upholding the independence and territorial integrity of Cyprus and calling for the speedy withdrawal of foreign troops and negotiations between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

In the previous negotiations which the proclamation of the new state brought to a halt, the Turks insisted on a federation of separate Greek and Turkish Cypriot states while President Makarios, the leader of the Greek Cypriots, would only agree to a patchwork of autonomous Turkish enclaves.

Makarios, who is also the Greek Orthodox archbishop of Cyprus, was first elected president in 1960, when the Greek and Turkish Cypriots were still united in one government. But Celik said he "forfeited his title as the representative for the whole of Cyprus because of his deeds and mistreatment of the Turkish Cypriots."

DST Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the nation will switch back to daylight saving time Sunday, with clocks being set forward one hour.

The conversion from standard time will occur at 2 a.m. Sunday, and daylight saving time will be in effect for eight months. Then unless Congress intervenes, the regular alternating pattern of standard time six months and daylight time six months a year will be resumed in October.

Some state legislatures have exempted all or portions of their states from the change.

Hearing Begins

A public hearing to determine the effects of current electric rates on consumers got underway here at 11:30 this morning in the Pitt County Court House.

The informal hearing was called by Attorney General Rufus Edmisten—one of four hearings scheduled this month across the state.

"We have received numerous complaints from citizens throughout the state," the attorney general said. Today's "fact-finding session," he said is designed to aid an in-depth review of the entire law dealing with the State Utilities Commission and its regulation of utility rates and operations, being conducted by the Attorney General's office.

"We want specifics from consumers—no generalities or sweeping indictments. We won't know how we can help unless we have concrete facts to work with," Edmisten emphasized.

Briefs Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger briefed congressional leaders today on his Middle East negotiating tour and one senator called the session "very illuminating."

Leaving the White House after the session with Kissinger, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., also said Kissinger's report dealt with "progress in the Middle East."

Stennis was asked whether Kissinger gave indications when a Geneva conference might be held. "No date was set," Stennis responded.

Vice President Rockefeller joined President Ford, 12 senators and 11 House members at the breakfast with Kissinger.

He returned from his 10-day tour of the Middle East Wednesday and said "I believe we've made some progress toward establishing a framework for negotiations."

Further Famine Relief

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The U.S. Embassy announced today the United States is giving an additional $4.1 million in famine recovery aid to Ethiopia.

The embassy said the grant brings to $28 million the total U.S. drought relief contributions to Ethiopia since late 1973, including $17 million for emergency food supplies.

American officials said the grant "has nothing to do" with the guerrilla war in Eritrea province or difficulties in relations between Washington and the five-month-old military government which is seeking to modernize Ethiopia along Socialist lines.

"This deal has been in the works for a long time, well prior to the current situation," a spokesman said. The money will pay for roads, wells and resettlement of starving nomads.

The Ethiopian government has also asked the United States to sell it more than $20 million worth of small-arms ammunition, much of it for use against secessionist guerrillas backed by Arab states.

U.S. Officials in Washington say the request is being studied.

Asmara, Eritrea's capital, was quiet today for the first time since late Tuesday when guerrillas attacked five Ethiopian military installations.

Nixon Holidays At Palm Desert

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Former president Richard M. Nixon is reportedly spending a few days on a private desert estate in his first long trip since he recovered from phlebotomy surgery late last year.

Nixon, 62, left his guarded oceanfront estate at San Clemente by car Wednesday afternoon, sources at the compound said. He was believed to be accompanied only by his wife Pat, valet Manolo Sanchez and an unidentified driver.

Bye-Bye Blackbirds

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — The Army sprayed detergent chemical and water on some five million blackbirds Wednesday night and left them the freeze to death in their pine tree roosts.

It was the first stage of the Army's plan to exterminate some 12 million to 14 million blackbirds, grackles and starlings in southern Kentucky and Northern Tennessee.

The plan, delayed by an unsuccessful lawsuit filed by environmentalists, was given final approval Tuesday by Army Secretary Howard H. Callaway.

Two Huey helicopters flew low over pine stands and released jets of Tergitol, a biodegradable detergent on the roosting birds.

Then, fire trucks from Ft. Campbell and nearby Clarksville, Tenn., doused the birds with thousands of gallons of water.

"The combination of Tergitol and water will strip these birds of their natural insulation and cause them to freeze to death," said Lt. Col. John A. Klose, Ft. Campbell public information officer.

Watching the operation were some 30 newsmen, Army officers and other observers.

The birds were expected to die within three or four hours after being doused with water.

Peacekeeping HQ In Vietnam Raided By VC As Assaults Continue

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Communist-led forces shelled population centers, blew up bridges and struck at a regional headquarters of the international peacekeeping force today, the Saigon command reported.

It said more than 60 persons, mostly civilians, were either wounded or killed in the various attacks.

The assault on the regional peacekeeping headquarters, in My Tho, 35 miles south of Saigon, destroyed a water purification plant, a warehouse and a garage, and wounded a Vietnamese guard, the command said.

On the political front, informed sources said the congressional trip to South Vietnam and Cambodia that President Ford hoped would generate support for more U.S. aid has been tentatively postponed.

In Cambodia, government troops recaptured Mong Russel, a rice depot town 160 miles northwest of Phnom Penh which rebel forces overran Monday, an army source said.

Outside Phnom Penh, rebel gunners rocketed the airport, killing three persons and wounding six, police said.

Some 20 volunteers from the House and Senate were to have left Washington this weekend for a 10-day visit to Vietnam. But the sources said their departure has been delayed because of the congressional vote to override or sustain Ford's anticipated veto of the bill suspending his oil tariff program for 90 days.

An earlier report from Washington said 16 members of the Senate and House of Representatives were still on the list to leave Friday morning if legislative business permitted.

Ford proposed the trip when it became apparent that there was strong congressional opposition to his request for $300 million in additional military aid to South Vietnam and $222 million for Cambodia. U.S. Ambassador Graham Martin, who had been in Washington lobbying for the additional aid, returned to Saigon last week to get things ready for the visitors.

On the battle fronts, meanwhile, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong stepped up their attacks in the Saigon region and the Mekong Delta after a two-week lull during the Tet festival of the lunar new year.

The South Vietnamese military command said eight of its soldiers and eight civilians were wounded in the attacks, and 44 persons were wounded. It reported only one Viet Cong killed.

A communique said 19 rockets killed six persons and wounded 12 in Tay Ninh City, a provincial capital and frequent target 55 miles northwest of Saigon, and 20 mortars hit a village in the Mekong Delta 120 miles southwest of Saigon, killing four civilians and wounding 27 others.

A Viet Cong force invaded a village five miles north of Saigon, killed five militiamen and wounded four, and blew up the government administrative office before it was driven out, the communique continued. One Viet Cong was reported killed.

Viet Cong sappers also slipped into the regional headquarters of the International Commission of Control and Supervision in My Tho, 35 miles south of Saigon, and blew up a water purification plant, a warehouse and a garage, the command reported. One Vietnamese guard was wounded.

Flawless Flight For B1 Bomber

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The fourth test flight of the B1 bomber was "virtually flawless" and involved simulated air refueling techniques, Air Force officials said.

The strategic bomber also made airborne engine starts as it cruised over the Mojave Desert for 4 hours and 34 minutes during the test Wednesday, the officials added.

New Unemployment Claims In Pitt Decrease

By BLANCHE HARDEE
Reflector Staff Writer

New unemployment claims continue to decrease in Pitt County, according to Jim Hannan, manager of the Greenville Employment Security Commission.

A total of 271 new claims were filed during the third week of February, 1975, as compared with 424 during the third week of January, 1975.

Continued claims during the third week of January, 1975, totaled 1,351 as compared to 1,274 during the third week of February, 1975.

"People who actually received checks during January totaled 1,558 while 1,278 people received employment checks during February," Hannan explained.

The unemployment rate, based on Pitt County activity only, for the third week of January, 1975, was 4.4 percent as compared with 3.6 percent during the third week of February.

The unemployment rate for the month of January, 1975, was 4.9 percent.

"Although there is still one week remaining in this month," Hannan said, "I feel the unemployment rate for February will be about 4.1 percent."

During the third week of February, 1974, the local ESC office received 89 new claims and 756 people filed for continued claims. A total of 762 people filed for an eligible week.

New claims increased 300 percent during the third week of February, 1975, as compared with the third week of February, 1974.

Continued claims for the same period increased 168 percent and the number of weeks claimed also increased 168 percent.

The unemployment rate for February, 1974, was 5.3 percent.

"I feel the Pitt County people should not be pessimistic," Hannan said. "A little optimism is in order."

Hannan said the local ESC office placed more people in Pitt County in gainful employment during January, 1975, than any January during the past seven years.

"We have already exceeded in placements during this month and there is still one week remaining," Hannan said. "The previous highest rate was 83 placements during February, 1973. So far this month we have had 91 placements."

"Pitt County is not so bad off, statistically speaking. We are better off than surrounding counties," Hannan emphasized.

They'll Work

The City Council has decided to act on agenda items at today's 4 p.m. meeting at City hall, rather than put off all business until 8 p.m. as originally announced.

Plans call for the Council to convene at 4 p.m. and take up as many of the 14 agenda items as possible before recessing and then reconvening at 8 p.m. to discuss a final draft of the proposed Community Development Plan.

Today's meeting is the second Council session for February and comes under the City's recently adopted plan of having two Council meetings per month in an effort to shorten the length of business sessions.

The meeting had originally been advertised for 4 p.m. but it was decided that since the Community Development Plan was on the agenda, more people would have the opportunity to attend a night session. The Council decided at the first meeting this month to convene today's session at 4 p.m., then recess and return to discuss the agenda at 8 p.m.

FOOD NEEDED

The Salvation Army has run out of unusual and trying circumstances, Eddie Hobgood, a Salvation Army employee has told Hotline. "We have only a few cans of corn and peas and some instant potatoes left for the rest of the month," he said. "Demand for food for persons in need has been up all year, but it really jumped this month and has just about cleaned us out."

Salvation Army Lt. John Jones confirmed the need. "Any kind of food that will keep without refrigeration will be welcomed and put to good use," he said. "Gifts may be brought to the Citadel."

The Salvation Army Citadel is located on Highway 264-A West (Dickinson Ave. extended) a short distance beyond the intersection of Dickinson and Memorial Drive. Hours are from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

REFUND RECEIVED

I am a foreign student at East Carolina University. I ordered $45.40 worth of clothes from Bill the Hatter Inc. in Chicago. They keep sending me wrong items and catalogs asking me to choose another item as the one I've ordered is out of stock. I'm tired of the whole procedure, but they ignore me when I tell them I only want my money back. A.A.

Hotline wrote the company once in November and once in December. We finally called them, also. You report now you have received a refund.

Bolster Willpower With Trickery

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
UPI Family Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — All ye who diet:
Bolster willpower with a little trickery.
Appealing to vanity takes visual trickery. You might call this strategem "the eye knows." Fix a mirror on the refrigerator door. Beside it paste a picture of the formerly thin you.

Your eyes will get the message everytime you attempt to raid the refrigerator. The reflection of the now-fat you, if you dare look in that mirror, ought to stop the raid in its tracks.
Also on the vanity track: buying some new clothes in a school professor sees behavior modification as the best way to take weight off and keep it off.

Dr. Gerard J. Musante offers his prescription in the journal of the American Academy of Family Physicians, "American Family Physician."
"Treatment of obesity by drugs and fad diets generally fails because the patient lapses back into his former habits," he reported.
He recommends the following tips on behavior modification — another form of trickery to reinforce willpower:
Waiting one minute before beginning to eat.
Laying utensils down between mouthfuls.
Chewing each mouthful 10 times.
Leaving a little food on the plate.
Throwing away or spoiling (by dousing with pepper) any leftover food immediately after the meal is finished.
Another trick: using smaller plates. Also: keeping the refrigerator next to empty. Dr. Musante says it is easier to say "no" to an empty refrigerator than a full one.
Other suggestions from the expert in medical psychology at Duke Medical Center in Durham, N.C. — keep no prepared snack foods in the home, shop from a prepared list, always shop after a full meal, eat only in one room and in one chair, and mentally associate foods which should be avoided with something unpleasant or repulsive.

size you're aiming for. Every day take the new togs out, look, sigh and measure your waist. Hold the clothes up to you as you stand in front of a full-length mirror. You'll see how much longer you'll need to diet. As you progress, try on the clothes. Use a tape measure to tell how many more inches to go before you can pull that zipper or snap those snaps.
If pretty much overweight, maybe a 50 pound bag of sand will help you while on a diet. That's what aided Mrs. Anne Viggiani of Rochester, N.Y.
She reduced from 191 pounds to 141 pounds between April and December as a member of the Diet Workshop, a group weight-control program.
At every weigh in, she transferred the amount she lost from the 50-pound bag into an empty one. When the original bag was empty, she had made her mark.
"I wanted something that would show me how much I lost and how much more I had to lose," the high school English teacher said. "When you're dieting you need all the help you can get."
The sand still is in her laundry room as a constant reminder of the weight she no longer has to carry around.
"Originally I thought of using flour or sugar, but I knew I'd want to keep the 50-pound reminder so I used sand."

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

I'm always reading about those clandestine lunches that husbands are supposed to have with their secretaries, or bored housewives with their ski instructors.
I have just returned from a luncheon with a good friend and frankly, I don't know how they are left alone long enough to eat, let alone get an affair off the ground.
As Peg and I dropped into a chair, I said enthusiastically, "I have the most amusing story to . . ."
"Cocktails?" asked a waitress in a short skirt.
"No," I smiled. "You're going to fall right out of your chair when I tell you. It seems . . ."
"Hello there," interrupted the waitress. "My name is Kim and I'll be serving you today. The special catch today is blue-nose trout and the soup is split pea. Would you like to order?"
"Fine. Now where was I? Oh yes, there was this housewife who went into the basement one day to do the laundry and while she was there she figured why not do the clothes I'm wearing so she stripped . . ."
"Are you familiar with our salad bar?" asked Kim.
"Yes," I said evenly. "So our housewife takes off all her clothes and . . . that's all, Kim." I said as Kim stood there with her mouth open.
"Would you like coffee while you're waiting?" she asked.
"Terrific. Now, get the picture, Peg. Here is our heroine standing in the middle of the basement without a stitch when the overhead pipes begin to sweat and she feels drops on her head, so she gets her son's football helmet and . . ."
"My dress is $75 and my shoes are $35," said a model at my elbow. "They're all from the Rotunda room and designed by Bill Blabb. Isn't this stunning?"

"Absolutely," I said, clenching my teeth. "Okay, here's the picture now. The naked lady in the football helmet is leaning on the washer when a meter reader comes into the basement and spots her and—this will fracture you, Peg—says . . ."
"Mustard or catsup?" asked Kim.
"HE SAYS, 'I HOPE YOUR TEAM WINS, LADY!'"
"Asked Kim dryly.
"What team was she with?" asked Peg.

Your Nephew Needs Professional Help

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I spent my vacation with my widowed sister and her six-year-old son. The boy is a lovable youngster in almost every way, but several times I observed him torturing neighborhood dogs and cats, and even his own little terrier. It was obvious, Abby, that he was deriving great enjoyment from his cruelty.
I was tempted to mention this to my sister, but I was afraid she would punish the boy. (She's a very strict disciplinarian.) Now back home, I find myself worrying about the situation.
Should I now write to my sister and tell her?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Yes! It would be kindness to your sister and her son. Torturing helpless animals is usually a symptom of a serious emotional disturbance. Don't wait another moment. The boy needs professional help.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is a young married mother who has recently been hospitalized for a serious illness. She told me that her doctor has asked her for her father's medical history because her illness is the type that is usually inherited from the father.
Abby, I told her that her father died when she was a baby, but the truth is that I was not married when she was born. Her father is living in Philadelphia. He is married, doing well, and has a family of his own. I haven't seen him, or been in touch with him since he refused to marry me because I wouldn't have an abortion. (He was in college at the time. I dropped out.)
I keep track of him through his cousin who is a good friend of mine, but she doesn't know what happened between us.
My conscience bothers me. Should I tell my daughter's doctor who her father is, so he can phone him for the information he needs? Or should I leave things as they are?

TROUBLED CONSCIENCE

DEAR TROUBLED: Why don't you discreetly contact your daughter's father and ask HIM to get in touch with the doctor by phone or letter? That way he can answer the doctor's questions without disclosing his identity.

DEAR ABBY: Three of us girls share an apartment. Nancy (made up name) is very much in love with a heel who is using her.
He has propositioned both of us behind Nancy's back. We had heard that he was fooling around every chance he got, but we didn't believe it until he got around to pitching us. (Naturally we told him to get lost.)
Meanwhile, Nancy thinks this guy hung the moon. We hate to see her get hurt. Should we tell her the truth about her boyfriend? And if so, how?

NANCY'S ROOMIES

DEAR ROOMIES: If she's "in love" with this heel, she'll rationalize it some way. (She'll insist that he was only kidding when he propositioned you, or that you misunderstood him.) Let her catch him herself. She will.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 30-year-old married woman who hates to dance. I am not a very good dancer, and it is sheer torture for me to have to dance with a man other than my husband. He's not much of a dancer either, but he can dance if he has to.
Around the holidays we went to several parties and I was asked to dance. I didn't know how to turn down a man who asked me to dance because I was afraid I would hurt his feelings, so I just went ahead and danced. It was misery for me. Please, tell me how to get out of dancing.

HATES TO DANCE

DEAR HATES: Say, "Thank you, but do you mind if we sit this one out?"

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Happy To Share In A Tribute

The British Broadcasting Co. is doing a television documentary on Edward R. Murrow, the famous broadcast newsmen and head of the U. S. Information Agency.

The documentary, which is scheduled for showing April 27, includes Greenville as one of the locations for interviews. A BBC team visited here to interview local people on their recollections of Murrow.

The popular commentator is remembered here for his visits to the Voice of America sites. The installation was relatively new at the time and Murrow came here as the new USIA director to inspect it.

Murrow was asked and accepted an invitation to speak at a commencement ceremony at East Carolina University.

The showing of the documentary is scheduled for the tenth anniversary of Murrow's death and we are happy that Greenville recollections will be a part of the tribute. He is fondly remembered locally.

'Diversion' Sparks Debate

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH—Of all the reform measures put forth in the General Assembly regarding the courts and sentencing of criminals, one certain to spark a flurry of debate is one labeled "Diversion."

A relatively new idea now in use in a handful of states, diversion simply means that a criminal defendant can sign a contract to "refrain from unlawful conduct and to perform some activity for a stated period of time" in exchange for the dropping of all charges.

In sum, the defendant will not be tried and sentenced in court; the agreement will be reached with the district attorney beforehand.

This proposal, coming at a time when Tar Heels are alarmed at spiraling crime rates and "court-watch" groups of citizens show concern over leniency with criminals, is certain to be viewed by many as a way for a defense lawyer to get his client free of charges, and keep the record clean of a conviction.

Study Commission Introduced by State Rep. Herbert Hyde of Asheville, the idea emerged from meetings of the reform commission chaired by former State Senator Eddie Knox of Charlotte. Both Knox and Hyde are lawyers, and the study commission consisted of several legislators, representatives of the Bar Association, and two judges.

The objects behind the diversion proposal are several, but zero in on reducing prison population by actually diverting people from an active sentence by requiring them to perform other activities designed to correct whatever problem causes them to commit criminal acts; and on reducing courtroom backlogs by handling the cases before they come to trial.

Broadly written to cover the entire range of criminal misconduct included in state law (alcohol, drug, sex, larceny, assault, murder, rape, etc.) the proposal puts upon local district attorneys the responsibility to determine "on the basis of the defendant's record . . . that the defendant does not present a serious risk to persons and property."

The defendant promises to "refrain from unlawful conduct and to perform some activity for a stated period of time not to exceed two years and the district attorney promises to voluntarily dismiss the charges . . . and not to renew prosecution unless the defendant breaches the agreement," the proposal states.

Various Activities The defendant can promise to do things like participate in mental health, alcoholism, drug abuse or other rehabilitation treatment; counseling for family, work or financial problems; get a job; pay back his victim; support his family; save his money; take vocational training, or other activity.

The proposed law specifies that the defendant is not required to enter any sort of plea, and that any statements made by the defendant or his lawyer while working with the district attorney on a diversion agreement cannot be used in court if the case goes to trial.

If the defendant fails to live up to the agreement the district attorney can renew prosecution and take the case into court.

The proposal includes a provision for getting approval of the court on all diversion agreements, after they have been executed and signed by the district attorney. A file of such agreements must be kept by the clerks of superior court in the various counties.

Critics see among the major pitfalls in the measure the absence of public scrutiny of the proceedings. All talks will take place between the defendant, the district attorney, and the defense lawyer if one is involved; occurring before any open court action is required.

Supporters, however, see the major benefits working in favor of youthful offenders, particularly first offenders, in keeping them out of jail and court, protecting their future records, and putting them on a course of rehabilitation.

The INSIDE REPORT

Saigon's Arms Shortage

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON—One of the biggest set-piece battles of the endless Vietnam war and certainly the most important since the bloody "ceasefire" began two years ago is looming 45 miles northwest of Saigon as Congress prepares to reject an emergency request for U. S. military aid.

The battle, likely within a month, will be waged for control of Tay Ninh province and its capital city with a combined 60,000 combat troops available to both sides. Despite debilitating shortages of fuel and ammunition caused by reduced U.S. aid, the South Vietnamese army (ARVN) will spare neither men nor material to prevent the irremediable disaster of losing this important provincial capital.

But without additional arms, even ARVN survival at Tay Ninh probably insures a grim aftermath. Expenditure of war material not replenished will cause further deterioration of the military situation as North Vietnam presses for a Communist-controlled government in Saigon.

Indeed, Hanoi's opportunistic military strategy is linked ominously with the seemingly irresistible passion in Congress to be done with Vietnam once and for all. Although the ARVN has fought bravely and well since the Americans left, the loss of $300 million cut by Congress last year has brought a deepening military crisis.

Uniformed critics criticize the ARVN for indiscriminate firing of ordnance, American-style, but the opposite is true. Local commanders have been firing below the rationed rate set by Saigon, hoarding shells for future contingencies. The effect is profound: ARVN units are tied to their caches of hoarded munitions. This limitation on ARVN mobility has meant steady abandonment of outposts, particularly in the Melong delta, thereby loosening Saigon's grip on the countryside.

Such deterioration coincides with Hanoi's blatant violation of the Paris accords—virtually unmentioned on Capitol Hill—infiltrating 175,000 North Vietnamese regular combat troops (plus 400 tanks and 250 heavy artillery pieces) into the south the last two years. This results in a Communist main force of 180,000 (northern units with Vietcong fillers) which have captured 11 district capitals and one provincial capital during the "ceasefire."

That Tay Ninh would be the next target was tipped off the first of January. Communist forces captured the top of Black Virgin Mountain, a volcanic hill on the plain in front of Tay Ninh city, by pushing off lightly armed regional forces unwisely assigned to defend it. An attempt to recapture it was rebuffed by the Communists Jan. 20.

The impact is both psychological and practical. Psychologically, this marks the first time during the long war that the government troops have not held the peak of Black Virgin Mountain. Practically, the Communists can use it to pour down heavy artillery, mortars and rockets in the assault on Tay Ninh city. With two North Vietnamese divisions in the area (the 9th and the newly formed 3rd), that assault may be imminent.

Some pessimists here fear total congressional rejection of President Ford's requested $300 million could, by lowering morale and by causing continued short rations of munitions, lose the battle of Tay Ninh. But the consensus in official Washington is that President Nguyen Van Thieu will throw in everything to save Tay Ninh. He has recently put Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Toan, often accused of corruption but a spectacularly aggressive field commander, in charge of Military Region II, which includes Tay Ninh.

What will follow Tay Ninh worries officials here. A repetition of the 1972 Communist general offensive is most unlikely. But the 968th North Vietnamese Division recently crossed over from Laos into the central highlands, possibly to back up an assault on beleaguered

Strength For Today

ONE'S OWN BEST FRIEND We sometimes hear the expression that a man is his own best friend. This means that the person in the form of our inner self which we live with day by day is the one who makes us either happy or miserable. To have this inner person satisfied with the principles and policies of our lives is a great blessing. In the last analysis, we will have to satisfy only two persons, God and ourselves.

occasion, "I desire so to conduct the affairs of this nation that if I lose every friend on earth I shall have at least one friend left, and that one shall be the one down inside me." Keep on the good side of your neighbors and acquaintances, but above all keep on the good side of yourself. That man down inside your own heart can bless you greatly if he is your friend, and plague you miserably if he is your enemy.

'System' And Justice

NEW YORK—For all the improvement in law enforcement in recent years, serious crime continues its relentless increase. Editors, lawmakers, and angry citizens are forever asking why. A recently released study of crime in Manhattan offers some sobering answers.

in the South, only Detroit posted a murder rate more appalling than New York's. Every five minutes, on the average, someone in New York is the victim of assault. Who or what is to blame? The New York Police Department and the city's five District Attorneys last week released the findings of a study of one critical aspect of the problem. The study concentrated on felony arrests. What resulted from these arrests? The short answer is, nothing much. In 80 percent of the felony cases last year, the charges were reduced to misdemeanors, or dismissed.

Why did this happen? It happened because of "the system." Who is responsible for "the system"? Suppose, for once, we face that question squarely: We are. The immediate responsibility may lie upon overburdened courts and overworked prosecutors, but the ultimate responsibility lies upon all of us, as taxpayers, who refuse to provide sufficient funds to make a better system work. Mind you, this has nothing to do with the sapped notion that "society is to blame" for crime. In the courts of New York, and of every other major city across the land, "the system" means the plea-bargaining system. It is the system by which a defendant charged with a felony, such as robbery, agrees to plead guilty to a misdemeanor, such as attempted grand larceny, in exchange for a reduced sentence or probation.

Other Editors Say Budget Cutting

(Wilson Daily Times) In every crisis, you are convinced that the writers of the North Carolina Constitution knew what they were doing. First we have to have a balanced budget. And what a blessing it would be if the same requirement had to be met by Congress. Second, no governor can succeed himself. Third, the governor does not have the veto power. Because of the budget-balancing, the legislators are looking for some fat to cut, and we are certain there is plenty of fat that can be cut, and without hurting too badly. Sen. Ralph Scott said "Never before have we had so many people digging into and studying the budget to cut out things that are absolutely not necessary." And the admission that, "many unnecessary things have been there all the time" is true. "We just haven't opened our eyes and looked," Sen. Scott said. But the legislators are saying that although they are looking for programs to cut, there is little chance of any tax repeal in the next biennium. In other words there is little chance the sales tax on food will be taken off. Lt. Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr., told a new conference that estimates of revenue for the next two years have been lowered. The legislative leaders contend the proposed $6.8 billion budget for the next two fiscal years would lead to deficit spending which is prohibited by the state Constitution. Sen. Scott says it is going to take a lot of digging to balance the 1975-77 budget, more than $100 million. There is money in the base budget which can be saved and without eliminating any jobs or services, as travel, communications, supplies and the like. The base budget covers current state programs and services. The expansion budget covers new programs and expanded services. And it is likely that all programs and services will be trimmed and in the majority of cases, the trimming and in the majority of cases, the trimming will include the more or less unnecessary. At any rate it is time to get down to the point of necessities and not so many of the experimental programs, which spend more than they produce.

40 Years Ago Today

February 20, 1935 Plans for beautifying the public park adjoining the swimming pool property went forward rapidly here today when members of the Garden Department of the Women's Club conferred with a landscape architect from Raleigh. The group has made the beautification of the park their major project for the year. The members discussed selection of evergreens and where to put them, along with various types of shrubs and flowers. A small force of workmen has been busy for the last several days cleaning up the grounds to be used for the park and playground. Playground equipment will be provided by the recreation center. The property has been loaned to the city by the East Carolina Teacher's College to be used as long as desired for a recreation center. The Board of Aldermen recently heard a delegation from the Woman's Club appeal for aid in putting across the park beautification program as early as possible. And the group agreed to provide sufficient money for the completion of the work.

Basic Ideas Worth Pondering

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Everyone has his or her own idea of what's wrong with the country, but two financing proposals now being publicized seem to be so basic as to warrant special study. The first is a criticism by the New York Stock Exchange and many corporations that unless changes are made in the way capital is raised, the U.S. economy is in for more serious troubles in the next decade or so. An exchange study suggests that new equity financing will have to average between $25 billion and $40 billion each year through 1985. But never has more than $20 billion in new equities been floated in one year. Unless investment incentives are developed, mainly through the tax structure, the exchange maintains, there just won't be enough capital available for industry to satisfy the needs of the nation. Historically, they note, corporations have relied heavily on internally developed funds. But that isn't so anymore. In 1950, 29 per cent of corporate financial needs were raised outside the company; in 1974, 85 per cent. Exchange economists blame "extraordinarily insensitive" tax laws that deprive corporations of their own funds and force them to seek outside financing. The real tax rate for corporations is nearer 67 per cent than the "official" 48 per cent, they say. The result: A typical manufacturing company, the exchange maintains, might obtain a higher rate of return by abandoning its operations and investing its assets in municipal bonds. Unable to generate sufficient internal funds, and unable to obtain equity financing, many corporations have been forced to finance through debt, much of it short term. As a percentage of equity, debt was 20.9 per cent in 1955, and 42 per cent last year. As debt levels rise, the exchange economists observe, so also does corporate vulnerability to volatile interest rates. High interest costs can introduce into operations a new element of risk. The exchange is worried about its own interests, of course, and so James Needham, chairman, spoke out on the subject Wednesday at a meeting of the Conference Board. He reiterated his proposals for congressional action, among them, an increase to $200 from $100 in the dividend exclusion from personal income taxes, and a lowering of the corporate tax rate to 42 from 48 per cent. Moreover, Needham and his associates would make permanent an administration proposal to increase the investment tax credit to 12 per cent from 7 per cent, and they would encourage passage of more liberal depreciation guidelines. The other proposal being widely discussed in financial and congressional circles concerns the role of the Federal Reserve Board. (Continued on page 5)

Unions Reduce Goals

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Labor Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With unemployment mounting, union leaders meeting here say they expect some moderation in wage demands this year and possibly even a move toward a 35-hour work week. Some unions are already agreeing to pay cuts, working fewer hours or foregoing raises to help in spreading the available jobs. Union chiefs see this as the exception rather than the rule. But with jobs getting more scarce, situations where workers are taking some form of pay cut are increasing. Although few workers are accepting any actual drop in hourly wages, the result of shorter working hours has the same effect in reducing the size of paychecks. To spread the work more evenly in the garment industry, some locals of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers have agreed to go on 30-hour weeks. But union President Murray Finley says layoffs could not be avoided in some areas. "We don't divide starvation," said Finley, who recently rejected an appeal from clothing manufacturers to forego a 35-cent-an-hour wage hike due his members this June. AFL-CIO President George Meany said during this week's meetings of the labor federation's executive council that while the recession will tend to moderate wage demands, it is unlikely workers would be willing to accept actual pay cuts. However, he added, "We may have to give consideration to a 35-hour-work week . . . in order to make more jobs." Meany says some corporations are paying overtime, rather than hiring new workers, to avoid the paperwork and the

Hospital Needs Talked At Committee Meeting

By MARK BLAYLOCK
Pitt Memorial
TORCH Writer

"A gift to the Pitt County Memorial Hospital (PCMH) Gifts Committee is a gift for life" was the theme of the PCMH Gifts Committee breakfast held Tuesday morning.

The Gifts Committee, appointed by the PCMH Board of Trustees has been charged with the responsibility of raising during the next four years one million dollars needed to equip the new Pitt County Memorial Hospital.

The purpose of the breakfast meeting was to initiate an all-out effort on behalf of the committee members to raise in gifts and pledges the goal originally set for completion date for the main Gifts Committee effort.

Following the invocation by Dr. G. Earl Trevathan, Jr., G. Henry Leslie, plant manager of the Greenville branch of Burroughs-Wellcome and chairman of the Gifts Committee briefly reviewed the committee's purpose and the urgency of its task.

Leslie pointed out that the present hospital is so overcrowded that some patients have to be placed on beds in the hall because there are no available rooms. "There is a real need for new furnishings and equipment. It would be a shame if when the new hospital is completed there are rooms available but insufficient funds to furnish them," Leslie said.

Committee Treasurer Bill Glidewell reported on the progress of the committee to date. Glidewell said that the last tally showed $202,000 in cash and pledges had been collected, but Kontum city. Or, fresh divisions now over the border in North Vietnam could come down to invest the old imperial city of Hue. Continued nibbling away in the delta is assured.

ARVN forces will have grave trouble coping with such a multi-front assault if the $300 million supplemental appropriation is totally rejected. If further cuts are made in the regular appropriation later in the year, as opponents of Vietnam aid plan, the result will be catastrophe.

Having been taught by American advisers that artillery and airpower minimize their casualties, ARVN commanders cannot readily conserve supplies by imitating reckless Communist wastage of manpower. The more probable alternative is forecast by Sen. Sam Nunn of Georgia reporting on his recent mission to Vietnam: "Continued reduction of supplies will inevitably destroy the initiative and aggressiveness of South Vietnamese forces."

Thus, for the first time since 1965, the future of Vietnam lies more in Washington than in Saigon. Unanimous expert opinion is that Saigon's military forces can survive the Communist assault if given the arms. That is confirmed in a report by another recent traveler to Vietnam, Democratic Rep. Leo Ryan of California.

Furthermore, Ryan make a point that today finds scant agreement on Capitol Hill: "Even if one takes the position that we should not have become involved in 1945, in 1954 or in 1965, we are there and we are obliged to assist the South Vietnamese through the crisis which we helped create."

that approximately $18,000 had been collected since that time. Jack Richardson, hospital administrator, stated that $52,172.12 in actual cash has been collected.

"We must not let the new Medical School be confused with the operations of the Gifts Committee," Dr. Earl Trevathan said. "Money designated for funding the Medical School is for educational materials and equipment is not for county hospital equipment."

"The teaching hospital will only enhance the patient care provided by the new Pitt County Memorial Hospital. A donation to the PCMH Gifts Committee is indeed "a gift for life," Trevathan said.

State money amounts to only $350,000 out of a $15,900,000 construction project, Richardson added.

Richardson gave a construction progress report. Ground-breaking ceremonies took place a year ago last week. To date construction is about 30 per cent complete and about 90 days behind schedule because of rain. The projected completion date is Christmas of 1976, Richardson said.

Should the Fed have such power over interest rates?

A House Banking subcommittee has already approved a bill that would require the Fed to knuckle under to Congress and maintain low interest rates instead of permitting such rates to vary widely as they have in the past year.

Advocates of low rates maintain that the public has been burdened in the past year with rates that were morally if not legally usurious, and that business and the entire economy suffered as a result.

costs involved in giving new employees fringe benefits.

In the construction industry, where the unemployment rate is nearly twice the national average of 8.2 per cent, Sheetmetal Workers President Edward Carrough says union leaders are more likely to emphasize fringe benefits rather than "shoot for more dough" in contract talks this spring.

So far this year, at least one big construction union has been willing to forego a pay raise.

In Chicago last month, the 20,000-member local of the Laborers International Union accepted a one-year extension of its current contract without a wage hike in an effort to spur new building.

With local and state governments forced to cut payrolls to stay within their budgets, public employees in several cities have recently agreed to cuts in pay.

"A study shows there is only one doctor for the southern half of the county," Bernstein said. He noted that residents must travel 15 to 25 miles for medical care in nearby communities.

"This is a hardship for the elderly who make up nearly 10 per cent of the population and working mothers who make up 60 per cent of the married community," Bernstein said.

Rural health centers are being established to provide primary health care to medically deprived areas.

Centers are already in operation at East Bend, Westfield, Bladenboro, Newton Grove and Bakersville. A sixth will open next month at Whitakers in Edgecombe County.

Forget about crabgrass!

It's as easy as spreading Scotts HALTS® on your lawn. It lies in wait and knocks off the crabgrass as it sprouts. Yet Halts is kind to good grass. Lets it grow merrily on.

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market succumbed to profit taking today, turning mixed after being slightly ahead. Trading continued active.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up more than 3 points in the opening hour, was off 0.08 at 736.31. But gainers maintained a nearly 3-to-2 edge over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

"You can expect more than more profit taking after the terrific rise from the January lows," said analyst Eldon Grimm of Birr, Wilson & Co. Since January, the Dow has gained more than 100 points and since December the index has climbed more than 150 points, with hardly a pause for breath.

In more encouraging news items, economic consultants to the Business Council forecast a drop in the inflation rate to 5 1/2 per cent by the end of the year. And Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon echoed that view in a speech to the nation's governors Wednesday.

But the Commerce Department is expected to revise downward its fourth quarter Gross National Product statistics today, and apprehension over those new figures may have sparked more profit taking.

Colgate-Palmolive, the most active Big Board issue, fell 1 1/4 to 26, including a 175,000-share block at 26. American General insurance, in second place, was unchanged at 10 1/2, including a 110,000-share package that price.

Polaroid was delayed in opening, then traded briefly and was halted again at 21 3/4, off 1 1/2, due to an order imbalance. An article in the Wall Street Journal gave a bearish outlook on the company's 1975 earnings.

Fleetwood Enterprises, which announced production suspensions at 9 plants, fell 7/8 to 10 3/4.

The NYSE's composite stock index rose .010 to 43.23.

On the American Exchange, the market-value index a deed 0.15 to 76.99.

Syria Trying Drum Up Sadat Pressure

By The Associated Press
Syria is trying to drum up Arab pressure on President Anwar Sadat of Egypt to get him to make a new Egyptian-Israeli agreement dependent on an Israeli troop withdrawal on the Syrian front.

Arab diplomats in Beirut said Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul Halim Khaddam is visiting Algeria, Libya and Morocco to seek backing for his government's demand that any Israeli pullback in the Sinai desert be simultaneous with a withdrawal on the Golan Heights. The diplomats said Khaddam headed across North Africa after returning Tuesday from Saudi Arabia.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a good thing the Agriculture Department doesn't write history books.

A glossy 15-page magazine published by the department Wednesday included an article about new food stamp denominations, and the cover of the magazine carried a replica of a new $10 food stamp bearing Hamilton's likeness.

The caption read: "President Hamilton appears on the new $10 food stamp." Hamilton was the first secretary of the Treasury, but never was president.

Caught With 'Blue Box'; Trial Slated

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A Greensboro man will go on trial in federal court June 2 on charges of using an electronic device to make toll free long-distance telephone calls.

Robert B. Rowley, 37, was arrested in Greensboro Tuesday by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on a charge of violating the federal fraud by wire law, the FBI said Wednesday.

Rowley was released on his personal recognizance shortly after his arrest. The FBI said the arrest was a result of the use of a device called a "blue box," an electronic instrument which makes tone signals similar to a push button telephone. The device was confiscated, the FBI said.

Pirates Ice Second As Spiders Fall

Curdy, the nation's leading scorer, who hit 34 in the game, while ECU's Larry Hunt is behind him. The Pirates took a 100-76 victory over the Spiders to clinch second place in the conference. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
East Carolina University romped to a 100-76 victory over the University of Richmond last night in Minges Coliseum, clinching second place in the Southern Conference.

The win was the 16th against seven losses for the Bucs, the most wins since the 1969-70 season when the Bucs were 16-9 during the regular season. No other team (since the Bucs became an NCAA member) won more in a regular season. With a victory against The Citadel Saturday, the Pirates would record the best mark during the major college span, and also tie the mark for the most wins (all games) by any team. The 1968-69 team went 17-11 overall, including tournament games.

The Pirates had a hot hand against Richmond—and although they couldn't cool off the nation's leading scorer, Bob McCurdy, they did more than offset his 34 points. The Bucs hit 41 of 71 shots for a fine 57.7 per cent, and also cashed in on 18 of 24 at the line, 75 per cent.

Richmond made only 41.3 per cent of their field goals, and 24 of 29 free throws as they bowed to the Bucs for the second time this year. The Pirates also outrebounded them, 43-32.

Al Edwards, who hit 12 points, played a big role in the victory, sparking the Bucs when he came off the bench in the first half after the Spiders had built up as a seven-point lead. He helped pace the rally that moved the Bucs ahead for good at 27-25 with 8:19 to go in the half.

"Our reserves all did a good job for us," Coach Dave Patton said. "Edwards got us going, and then the rest joined in."

Although the Bucs hit the century mark for the sixth time this year, another new team record, only three players hit in double figures. However, six players had six or more points.

For a while, it seemed as if the Bucs were never going to be able to shake loose the Spiders. They built up a 10-point lead at half-time, but it wasn't until the game was inside the eight minute mark that the Bucs were able to extend their lead to as much as 20 points. Never during the first 12 minutes of the second half did the lead fall below 10, and it never went above 14, and usually not above 12.

East Carolina went nearly four minutes without a basket, and got only two free throws from Larry Hunt during that time. Richmond, however, didn't do much better, but did get the lead.

After Hunt's free throws got it started, Kevin Eastman hit a bucket for Richmond after 2:16 to tie it. McCurdy got his first points to put the Spiders up, then added another for a 6-2 lead. Dave Williams added a three point play to run it to 9-2 before the Bucs finally got going.

Tom Marsh hit the first basket for the Bucs, and Hunt added a free throw. Donnie Owens, who canned 11 of 15 field goals and led the Bucs scoring with 22, cut the lead to two, but the Bucs didn't get to tie it until they cut away a 19-13 lead with Edwards tying it up at 21-21 on a jumper. Richmond twice went back out, but Reggie Lee tied it for the last time at 25-25, and a shot from underneath by Hunt put the Pirates into the lead, 27-25, and they were never headed again.

Lee followed with a shot from the corner, and after a Richmond free throw, Hunt and Edwards both hit to up the lead to seven. It climbed to nine at 37-28 on Lee's shot out of the corner with 5:29 to go, and then Marsh got two free throws to inch it out to 11. Owens shot inside a minute made it the largest margin of the first half, 12 points, but Richmond cut it back to 46-36 before the horn.

Then came the long stretch when the two teams seemed content to swap baskets. Richmond did have a few opportunities to cut the lead to as little as eight, but failed. The Bucs had a few chances to up the margin to as much as 16, but also failed.

That is, until Hunt finally hit off a fast break with 7:27 left to make it 74-58. Marsh added two free throws, then Gregg Ashorn pushed in one from the corner to up it to 78-58.

The rest of the way, the Bucs edged it out to as much as 24 points, finally cracking the century mark on two free throws by Henry Lewis with 18 seconds left. Edwards had earlier dropped the ball through off a steal for 100, but he was called for basket interference, nullifying the shot.

Besides Owens' 22 points, Hunt added 14, and also had the game high of 12 rebounds. Edwards hit 12 points.

Marsh added nine, while Earl Garner, Lee and Ashorn all had eight, Robert Geter had seven, and Ken Edmonds had six—wonderful balance.

The Bucs also had 34 assists, their second highest total of the year, lead by Edmonds with seven and Buzzy Braman with six.

Only one other Spider besides McCurdy hit double figures as Dave Williams had 15. During the second half, Marsh worked on McCurdy, limiting him to only three field goals.

The Bucs seek to close out their Southern Conference season with their 17th win of the year against The Citadel in Charleston, a hard place for the Bucs to win. They have lost five out of their last six games in Charleston. They return home Monday to end the regular season against Western Carolina. After that, it's the first round of the tournament as the Bucs host The Citadel the following Saturday.

Tournament Victories Rams, Saints Claim

HOLLYWOOD—Greene Central and Southern Wayne moved into the semifinals of the Eastern Carolina Conference boys basketball tournament last night.

Greene Central downed North Lenoir, 54-43, while Southern Wayne ousted Farmville Central from the field, 57-47.

Tonight, Greene Central takes on regular season champ Conley, while Southern Wayne meets second place finisher North Pitt. The finals will be played Friday night, with the winner moving on to the State 3-A Tournament next week, representing District Two.

Southern Wayne wasted little time in charging into the lead over Farmville Central. By the end of the first period, the Saints had built up a 16-7 lead. They slowed down in the second frame, but still outpointed the Jaguars, 12-8, to move their lead out to 28-15 by intermission.

Farmville came alive in the third period of the game, hitting 15 points, but they couldn't slow down Southern Wayne enough, as the Saints added 14, and held a 42-30 margin going into the final period. The Jaguars again outscored Southern, 17-15, but it wasn't enough.

Ken Mack led the Southern scoring with 16 points, while Michael Olliver had 15, Dale Carroll had 11 and Anthony Williams hit 10. Walter Gorham led Farmville with 17, while Mike Corbett hit 10.

Greene Central made early work of North Lenoir, moving out to a 14-8 lead in the first period. The Rams pushed through 20 points in the second period of the game, while North Lenoir got only half that made.

That gave Greene Central a healthy 34-18 halftime margin. North Lenoir was able to outhit the Rams in the third period, but only by 11-9, cutting the lead to 43-29. The Hawks again outscored the Rams, 14-11, in the last period, but it wasn't enough.

Tim Butts and Marvin Rouse each hit 10 points to lead the Greene Central scoring. Joseph Pearce led North Lenoir with 17, while Clarence Winnig had 10.

Baby Pirates Down Chowan

East Carolina University's junior varsity basketball team held off a Chowan rally to take an 88-81 victory over the Braves last night. The game was played as a preliminary to the East Carolina-Richmond varsity game.

East Carolina grabbed an early lead and moved out by as much as 10 points, 19-9 before Chowan put on a rally and charged into a 24-23 lead. The two then swapped the lead before the Pirates regained it for good at 30-28 on a jumper by Clay Windley, Wade Henkel and Erwin Durden both added baskets before the Braves scored again to run it out to a six-point edge, and the Bucs held on for a 44-38 halftime margin.

In the second half, East Carolina moved out by 12 early in the going, 56-44, but Chowan rallied to cut the margin down to six at 62-56. The Bucs pulled away again, this time by 13, 69-56, running off seven in a row, capped by a three-point play by Henkel. But Chowan ran off seven of their own, cutting it back to six again. Henkel got another three-pointer, but Chowan countered and cut it to five, 72-67, before the Bucs finally managed to inch away again, this time to as much as a 13-point lead with less than a minute to play. Chowan hit the last six points of the game to cut it to seven again.

Henkel led the Bucs with 32 points, hitting 12 of 20 shots from the floor and eight of nine free throws. He also pulled down a game high of 15 rebounds. Durden added 15 points, while Dean Hartley had 11 points and nine rebounds, and Windley hit 10 points and had 11 rebounds.

Ron Roseboro led Chowan with 19, while Burnell Riddick had 17 and former Rose High School star Lonnie Payton had 15. Payton led the Chowan rebounding with 12.

South Greenville downed Elmhurst I, 17-14. Both teams pushed through six points in the first period, and they were tied at 8-8 at the half. Elmhurst failed to score in the third period, while South Greenville added four more points for a 12-8 lead. They finished the win letting Elmhurst outhit them 6-5.

Paul Taylor led South Greenville with eight points, while Mark Douglas and James Brewington each had six for Elmhurst.

South Greenville will meet Elmhurst II for the title.

In the junior varsity game, Wahl-Coates took an 18-12 win. Ryner Bullock led the Wahl-Coates scoring with eight, while Donnell Lee had six for South Greenville.

Wahl-Coates and Elmhurst II will meet for the title.

Northeastern Rolls Past Rose, 83-68

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer
ELIZABETH CITY—Rose High School shattered a 15-point Northeastern lead but the Eagles picked up the pieces and fashioned an 83-68 victory over the Rampants in the finals of the Division I playoffs, last night.

It was the second game in two nights for the Rampants but they overcame any lack of stamina in the last of the second quarter and third quarter to cut the Eagles' advantage to two points but the short span between games caught up with Rose and it began to tell on the Rampants. As in many earlier games, the foul line played a key role in the Rampants' downfall. They sank only five less field goals, 33-29, but made 10 of 16 free shots compared to 17 of 26 for Northeastern. The Eagles pulled the game out on their free throws in the final period hitting ten straight and 10 of 12 overall.

Rose had a good first half from the floor hitting 47 percent. They slacked off in the second half a little and finished the game with a 42 percent shooting average. Northeastern, however, hit 51 percent of their first half shots and made 33 of 66 shots in the game for an even 50 percent.

The Eagles showed they wanted to run on the Rampants from the beginning. They took a quick 3-0 lead on a field goal by Roderick Williams and a free throw by Joseph Eason. Williams hit again and a bucket by Ray Scott made it 7-0.

The Rampants finally got a shot to drop as Mike Brewington hit and that was followed by Ronnie Barrett's score cutting the margin to three, 7-4. That was as close as the Rampants could get in the opening frame as Northeastern built up a seven point lead three times and Williams scored his tenth point of the period in the final minute to make it 19-10.

The Eagles scored the first

Rose High School will begin play in the State 4-A tournament Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Raleigh. The Rampants will be the guest of the Enloe Eagles, an upset winner in Division V. Rose finished as the runner-up in Division I.

Tickets for the game at $2 each. The winner of the contest will advance into the final field of eight in Greensboro next week.

through the remainder of the period with Rose behind by nine at halftime, 39-30.

Rose put together some good shooting and passing in the third quarter and pulled within four on the last bucket of the period. Rose outscored the Eagles 20-15 in the period with Ronnie Barrett doing most of the offensive work. He scored six points in the period but Tyrone Raft's score with :09 to go cut it to 54-50.

Rose had a chance to cut the lead by two at the end of the period as Linwood Brown hit a stunning underhanded half-court shot but it was launched after the horn sounded.

Each team apparently had one glaring foul missed at their end of the court. Macon Moye was submarined going in for a Rose lay-up by Williams. Had a foul been called, it would have been Williams' fifth. Then an Eagle was driving in for a lay-up and a Rose High player appeared to foul him on the way up. That foul was overlooked. There were also several debatable charging fouls called.

The Rampants cut the score to 54-52 as Linberg Morris hit a jumper from the stripe but a four-point play sent Northeastern back out by six, 58-52. Rose cut it back to three, 58-55 on a three-pointer by Moye but that was all she wrote.

Northeastern slowly pulled away behind the shooting of Lee Pritchard and Scott and when Eason sank a shot from the Eagle corner, Northeastern went up by nine, 71-62. In the remaining two minutes of the game, Rose committed eight fouls sending the Eagles to the line six times. The Eagles committed five fouls in that same span but Rose only made four of their seven opportunities while the Eagles made 10.

The free throw line was what let the Eagles roll up the big margin by games' end.

Brewington led the Rampants with 16, Moye had 12 and Barrett, Taft and Morris each added ten. Eason led the Eagles with 25, Williams had 14 Scott 19, and Pritchard 10.

Rose will travel to Raleigh Friday to play Enloe as the 4-A tournament begins.

VMI Faces Prospect Of Playing On Road

By The Associated Press
East Carolina's Pirates have clinched the No. 2-seeded spot in the Southern Conference championship basketball tournament, but Virginia Military's Keydets—who once appeared to have a home-court berth locked up—face the prospect of playing the first round on the road.

The Pirates ran their league record to 10-3 Wednesday night with one game left by rolling to a 100-76 victory over Richmond, dropping the Spiders to 6-6 with two league games remaining.

That defeat wasn't as damaging to Richmond, however, as was VMI's 69-68 setback in overtime to William and Mary's Indians, 5-5, on Ronnie Satterthwaite's two free throws with 34 seconds left.

VMI is 6-5 in league play but has just one game left—at home Saturday night against Furman's two-time defending champion Paladins, who've won all 11 of their conference starts.

The Keydets' only hope is for Richmond to beat William and Mary the same night in the Indians' finale. Even if the Spiders lose, their final league game is at home against Appalachian State's last-place Mountaineers and they own a point advantage over VMI if the two tie.

Tom Marsh went two of two from the floor and five of seven from the foul line, as well as limiting Richmond's Bob McCurdy to four free throws over an 11-minute stretch.

Donnie Owens led the Pirates with 22 points, hitting 11 of 15 from the floor. Despite the good job by Marsh, McCurdy finished above his average with 34 points as he hit 11 of 25 from the floor and 12 of 13 at the foul line.

The victory boosted East Carolina to 16-7 over-all and left Richmond with a 9-14 record.

VMI, even with Curt Reppart out of action with an injury after only three minutes gone in the second half, tied William and Mary on a pair of free throws by Ron Carter with 1:10 left in regulation and built a 66-62 lead with 1:48 left in the extra period.

But Gary Byrd hit a free throw with 1:32 left, Jack Arbogast hit two with 51 seconds remaining and Satterthwaite hit the clinchers 17 seconds later. William and Mary went the last six minutes of the game and the entire overtime period without a field goal.

"We were lucky, very fortunate," said William and Mary Coach George Balanis of a game in which five players fouled out, two were thrown out for fighting and two were hurt—Byrd suffered a dislocated finger for the Indians.

"Thank God the foul shots didn't hurt us," said Balanis, whose team hit 19 of 31. But they hurt VMI, which hit eight of 23.

"If you can't make free throws you can't win, certainly not the close games," said VMI Coach Bill Blair. "We should have won by 10 points."

Freshman John Lowenhaupt had 22 points and Satterthwaite 15 for the Indians, now 13-10 over-all. Will Bynum had 18 points and John Krovic 14 for the Keydets, 11-11.

eight points of the second quarter running the lead out to 27-12. They made it 15 again at 31-16 but Rose hit three buckets, one each by Macon Moye, Brewington and Griff Garner to narrow it to nine, 31-22.

Matmen Chase State Honors

D.H. Conley's Vikings will send a three-man delegation to the State Wrestling Tournament at Winston-Salem's Parkland High School Friday and Saturday, highlighting the nine-man area group headed into the event.

Rose High School, Ayden-Grifton and Farmville Central each earned two berths in the state tournament, along with the three from Conley in last weekend's Sectional Championship at Rose.

Action in the meet will get underway Friday at 10 a.m. with the first rounds. The meet will wind up with the championship bouts starting at 8 p.m. on Saturday.

Those who gained state berths all finished either first or second in the sectionals. Two who finished second in the event, however, lost in wrestle-backs and lost their state places. They included Nate Fields at 101 and Ray Hardy at 169, both of Farmville Central. They had finished second in the meet, but lost to the third place finishers who had come up in a different bracket.

Qualifying from Conley are Ricky Phillips at 121, Donnie Cox at 140 and Barry Purser at 187.

Rose is led by Matthew Ward at 107 and Jeff Hagans at 197. From Farmville Central come Horace Williams (114) and Gary Locust at 147. Ayden-Grifton's wrestlers are Earl Harris, 128, and Burley Gardner, 157.

Leaders Win In City Loop Play

Both of the leaders in the City Basketball League recorded victories in action last night.

Happy Store romped to a 115-40 win over Eaton in the opening game. By the end of the first period, the Division I leader had built up a 49-22 lead. They outthrew Eaton, 66-18, in the second half.

Linwood Staton led Happy Store with 28 points, while Carl Shirley had 21, Robert Joyner had 18, Charlie Harris had 14, Robert Pettus had 12 and Rudy Sheppard had 10. Willard Jackson had 14 to pace Eaton.

Happy Store gained no ground, however, as second place Azalea Mobile Homes took a 95-72 win over the Buccaneer. Azalea held a 52-35 lead at halftime, and outthrew Buccaneer, 43-37, in the second period.

Lenny Blackley and Edward Johnson each had 23 to lead Azalea, while David Franklin had 16 and John Lutz had 14. Ray Edwards had 22 to lead the Buc, while Steve White had 17 and Pete Angus had 12.

In the final game, Jock's the Division II leader, put a little room between it and second place Stewart's with a 61-51 win over the runner-up. Stewart's held a 30-29 lead at halftime, but Jock's came back with a 32-21 margin in the second half to win it.

Jack Warner led Jock's with 12, while Terry Tolda had 10. Bobby Parker and Tommy Jordan each had 10 for Stewart's.

Ex-Judge Hits Prison System

By BESSIE CULPEPPER
Elizabeth City Advance
Written for The AP
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

(AP)—North Carolina prisoners "do not deserve to be coddled, but they don't deserve to be exposed to the inhumane circumstances they experience in our state prison system," a former Superior Court judge says. Dewey Wells, who served on the Superior Court bench for 10 months last year, said in an interview that he had visited several prisons in the state system.

Mormon Hunger Message For All Members

A six-point program to alleviate hunger and suffering has been emphasized by the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

According to local missionaries Elder Dewey Cook and Elder Jerome Duncan, the program will be read to all members of the church throughout the world.

Some of the suggestions made by President Spencer W. Kimball include: fully observe the monthly fast day; conserve energy; do not waste food; strive for greater productivity in employment and give more than your employer requires; guard your health; get adequate exercise and rest and eat wisely; and strengthen family relationships.

Fast Day is observed on the first Sunday of each month.

judge, he has seen escapees cry when they are returned to court begging not to be returned to prison for fear of their lives.

"These are grown men abused by fellow prisoners," said Wells, who did not seek election to a full term.

"In some of the prisons there are 50 men housed in a single cell block with double-decker beds. There is often only one guard and you can be sure he is not going in there alone," Wells said.

"There is not enough for these men to do. They are idle and have insufficient supervision. This creates a climate for mischief and we shouldn't be surprised at the results we're getting."

Wells, an Elizabeth City attorney, said prison reform is one of the most pressing state needs. He noted that North Carolina's per capita prison population is among the highest in the nation.

"No one seems to know why. Judges, not juries, do the sentencing, and the Paroles Board does the weeding out. Somehow, either or both functions have gotten us out of balance," he said.

Wells said he believes additional prison supervisors are needed, along with higher pay for correctional personnel. He said that, in some instances, prisoners on work-release programs have higher salaries than their prison guard.

"People just don't know how inhumane the conditions are. If people knew just how bad the system, is they would demand proper action," he said.

Wells said their are two possible causative factors for the existing situation in the prisons: the rotation system of judges, and a disparity in sentencing.

The rotation system often deprives judges of the opportunity for effective presentencing investigation, he said. Wells said the same criminal act will receive altogether different treatment at the hands of different judges.

"Possibly judges ought to sentence the crime and not the criminal, and let the Paroles Board apply uniform standards in curtailing sentences within the maximum statutory sentence," Wells said.

Investigation Of Nixon Tax Returns At An End

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The investigation into Richard M. Nixon's tax returns will go no further than the indictment and trial of his former tax lawyer and a well-known document appraiser from Chicago, it has been learned.

A Watergate grand jury returned indictments Wednesday against Los Angeles attorney Frank DeMarco Jr. and Ralph G. Newman, the appraiser recommended to Nixon by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

DeMarco, 49, and Newman, 63, were charged with conspiring to backdate illegally a deed for Nixon's pre-presidential papers that were donated to the government.

The indictment handed down in U.S. District Court here said the purpose of the false back-dating was to give Nixon a $576,000 tax deduction he would not have otherwise received.

DeMarco prepared the tax return for the signatures of Nixon and his wife, and Newman examined the Nixon documents and estimated their value.

Edward L. Morgan, a 36-year-old deputy counsel in the Nixon White House, has pleaded guilty to similar charges and is serving a four-month prison term. He has agreed to provide evidence in the case.

When the Nixon tax return was prepared in 1970, Morgan worked directly for John D. Ehrlichman, the White House domestic affairs chief and close Nixon adviser.

Ehrlichman is scheduled for sentencing Friday along with three other Nixon aides convicted in the Watergate cover-up trial.

Documents and testimony gathered by the House Judiciary Committee impeachment inquiry showed that Ehrlichman played a continuing part in arranging for preparation of Nixon's tax returns.

However, sources say that no additional persons face prosecution in the tax case. Nixon, for one, is invulnerable to any such investigation under the pardon granted him by President Ford, although he theoretically could appear as a witness in the tax case.

If convicted of conspiracy and related charges in the indictment, DeMarco could receive up to 15 years in prison and a $25,000 fine. Newman could be sent to jail for as much as eight years and fined up to $15,000.

In a statement released late Wednesday by his law office in Los Angeles, DeMarco said, "I have done nothing wrong. I have conspired with no one in my judgment. I have made some mistakes, but they were neither intentional nor criminal."

DeMarco said he has "a strange feeling of relief" now that the matter is coming to court where he said he expects to be cleared.

A secretary in Newman's Chicago office said the appraiser "thinks he should not talk to anyone about this at this time."

The Internal Revenue Service, after re-auditing Nixon's tax returns before he resigned his presidency, ruled in April 1974 that he owed $432,787 in back taxes.

Much of that resulted from a disallowed deduction on the papers cited in the indictment against Newman and DeMarco.

Three Accidents In City On Wednesday

More than $3,900 property damage resulted from a series of three collisions investigated by Greenville Police yesterday.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from an 8:15 p.m. mishap on Memorial Drive, 160 feet North of the Millbrook Drive intersection, involving cars driven by Kathleen Harbers of Albemarle and Eloise Woolard Gibbs of 115 Fairlane Rd.

Police, who charged Mrs. Gibbs with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety and failing to turn her headlights on, estimated damage at $2,000 to the Harbers car and $600 to the Gibbs vehicle.

Officers reported Jefferson Moyer of Route 1, Ayden was injured when his car went out of control, ran down an embankment and collided with a tree on Memorial Drive, 150 feet South of the Langley Street intersection about 2:30 p.m.

No charges were made by investigators who estimated damage to the Moyer car at $1,200.

Doris Little Stokes of 115 Alexander Cir. was charged with following too close, following investigation of a 10:50 a.m.

mishap on Dickinson Avenue near the Grand Avenue intersection.

Drivers of two other vehicles involved in the mishap were listed as George Hilton Brannon of Route 2, Greenville and Susan Jeanette Parker of Route 1, Farmville.

Damage was estimated at $60 each to the Stokes and Parker cars and $160 to the truck driven by Brannon.

Exaggerations Damaging To CIA Are Condemned

By DAVID C. MARTIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Intelligence chief William E. Colby lashed out today against the sensational allegations of CIA "misdeeds" which he said have damaged relations with friendly intelligence services and endangered the lives of undercover agents overseas. "These exaggerations and misrepresentations of CIA's activities can do irreparable harm to our national intelligence apparatus," Colby said in a statement prepared for delivery to a House Appropriations subcommittee. Included in the 20-page statement was an apparent attack on the credibility of former White House special counsel Charles W. Colson and a claim that New York Times reporter Seymour M. Hersh has allowed himself to be misled by his sources in reporting that the agency had conducted a massive, illegal domestic spying campaign. Neither Hersh nor Colson was mentioned by name, but Colby's statement made clear he was referring to them.

Repeating his earlier denials of any such campaign of massive, illegal domestic spying, Colby again acknowledged that the CIA conducted "a counter-intelligence operation directed at possible foreign links to American dissidents" and admitted "a few" instances in which the CIA conducted breaking, wire tapping and surreptitious inspection of mail. He also said the agency's "continuing investigation" of the allegations has resulted in "some changes in detail" about the domestic activities that he previously reported.

Meanwhile, it was learned that a retired Air Force officer who until last month worked in Colby's office probably will be named to aid the Senate select committee in its probe of the U.S. intelligence community. A CIA spokesman confirmed that retired Lt. Col. Donald B. McBride served from 1973 to last January on Colby's intelligence community staff. That staff coordinates the activities of the various government agencies that now are the target of the Senate probe and of a similar investigation approved Wednesday by the House.

"He's the sort of person we're interested in because of his expert knowledge," said William Miller, staff director of the Senate panel. "He's under active consideration (and) his nomination probably will be put forward." Miller also said a number of other recently retired intelligence officials are being considered for positions with the Senate committee. Asked if he saw anything wrong in hiring someone so recently associated with one of the agencies being investigated, Miller replied, "It's a serious matter ... whether there would be divided loyalties. These things have to be determined." Miller added that it has not been decided whether McBride and others like him would be hired as members of the staff or as consultants. He stressed that any final decision would be made by the members of the committee.

The House voted 286 to 120 on Wednesday to conduct its own investigation of the intelligence community. Republican complaints that the probe might become a witch hunt were re-

Case For Utility Hikes Given By CP&L Prexy

RALEIGH (AP)—Carolina Power & Light Co.'s Shearon Harris, shuffling rapidly through an array of colored charts and graphs, has presented his case for higher utilities rates to the North Carolina legislature.

Harris' argument was twofold: CP&L has been run as efficiently as possible; and CP&L needs higher rates to attract capital to finance its needed expansion.

Harris said the investment community was watching the legislature to see whether it would maintain a favorable climate for investment within the state.

Two ways to maintain it, he indicated, would be to retain the fuel adjustment clause and the future test period. Both would be abolished under legislation currently pending.

But Harris said he would not object to that legislation if he could be assured that the company's rates would be kept up to date and high enough to recover costs through expedited utilities commission hearings.

He urged the legislators to be cautious in changing the laws. Meanwhile, at the Utilities Commission, CP&L and the state other power companies continued to defend their application of the fossil fuel adjustment clause in 1974.

Several times, CP&L's Sherwood Smith was asked by attorneys opposing the power companies about the possibility of collusion in the coal fields.

Smith said he had no evidence to indicate that the coal companies were conspiring to inflate the price of their products.

Harris, CP&L's president, gave a smooth, hour-long presentation to a joint meeting of the Senate and House utilities committees Wednesday. Afterwards, several legislators said they were impressed with the data he presented.

Harris said CP&L wants to maintain its high credit rating with high profits. If the credit rating goes down, it will cost the company more to borrow the money it needs to pay for its new plants.

Investigations are underway into two break-ins at rural homes that resulted in the theft of two television sets and a shotgun.

Pitt Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that his department is looking into a break-in that occurred on Feb. 16 at the home of Thomas Duncan at Rt. 4, Box 128, Greenville.

Duncan, according to the sheriff, reported the theft of a television set and shotgun, with a total value of $145.

Entrance to the house was gained through a kitchen window, it was noted. Sheriff Tyson said the break-in was reported at 10:01 p.m.

A Feb. 17 break-in at the home of Walter Speight at Rt. 1, Box 60, Greenville resulted in the theft of a 21-inch television set valued at $125, according to the sheriff.

Claims Finding A New Mineral

An East Carolina University geologist claims to have discovered a new mineral in a cave at Kings Mountain.

Dr. Pei-lin Tien, assistant professor of Geology at ECU, says the mineral, which he has named Swinefordite, is found along the fractures of cave walls at a site about 30 miles west of Charlotte, N.C.

The mineral is green in color and resembles petroleum jelly or axle grease. Once removed from the cave wall it turns into a claylike substance.

The new mineral's namesake, Dr. Ada Swineford, is a professor of Geology at Western Washington State College. She was a former professor and advisor to Dr. Tien when he attended graduate school at the University of Kansas.

The ECU geologist has classified swinefordite as a member of the smectite group. He notes that the clay is rich in lithium, (one of the lightest metals known to man.)

Dr. Tien has been studying clay deposits for the past several years under grants from the ECU Research Council and the N.C. Board of Science and Technology.

An article describing Dr. Tien's research and discovery is to be published by the Journal of the Mineralogical Society of America.

Hearing For 3 Juveniles

Three juveniles have been arrested by the Pitt Sheriff's Department and charged in connection with two break-ins at G. R. Whitfield School in Grimesland.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that the school principal, Raymond Reddrick told deputies that some $5 in cash and $60 worth of merchandise was stolen from the school during an incident that was reported Feb. 17, at 2:03 a.m.

According to the sheriff, entrance to the school building was gained through a bathroom window and the principal's office was then entered after a window was broken. Some $60 in damages to the school property was reported.

The sheriff said that the juveniles, who will be scheduled for hearing in Juvenile Court here, are also charged with a Feb. 8 break-in at the elementary school.

The late Alphonse "Sonny" Moysie, Jr. was a great believer in the power of the 4-3 fit. He wrote so many articles about this topic in "Bridge World Magazine", which he edited, that it has become known in the trade as the "Moysian fit." Declarer wound up in the best slam on this hand, but did not find the best line to handle this Moysian fit.

Since his spade suit was powerful and he would be ruffing hearts in the short trump hand, South judged well when he chose spades as the final contract. Note that it is the only makable slam as the cards lie. Whenever the declaring side has shown distributional hands, trump leads are to be recommended, and West got his side off to a sound start. Declarer could count ten top tricks, and two heart ruffs would bring his total to twelve. He won the ace of spades in dummy, led a heart to the ace and ruffed a heart. He crossed back to the ace of clubs and ruffed another heart. Unfortunately East overruffed, and declarer still had a losing heart. Down one.

Seven missing cards will divide 4-3 three times in five, so declarer can count himself rather unlucky to find West with five cards in hearts. However, it would have been better to play on diamonds.

Declarer can make his slam if diamonds divide no worse than 4-2, which will be the case some 84% of the time. Correct technique after winning the ace of spades was to play a low diamond from each hand, conceding a trick to the defenders. The best they can do is play another trump. Declarer wins, cashes the ace of hearts and ruffs a heart in dummy. He reenters his hand with the ace of clubs and draws the outstanding trumps, discarding two low clubs from the board. Now he cashes the king of diamonds, crosses back to dummy with the king of clubs and reels off the rest of the diamond suit for his slam.

Congregation Plans Attend Convention

The Greenville Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be participating in one of a series of circuit conventions that should bring over 12,000 delegates to Fayetteville's Memorial Auditorium during February and March. Some eight circuits of this region are scheduled to use the facility and Greenville's delegation will visit the third assembly of the series this weekend.

The theme of this assembly is "Have We Kept Our Senses and Been Watchful?" Plans are being made for a specially designed program to instruct attending family groups. Rocky Mount ministers are rehearsing a dramatization titled "Being Progressive Ministers" for the Saturday afternoon program.

After a talk Sunday morning at 9:15 titled "Dedication and Baptism" the Witnesses will immerse their new ministers in a specially constructed pool at Fayetteville.

Highlight of the program will be Sunday when Paul Allen, traveling minister from New York, will deliver the public address, "Stand Still and See the Salvation of Jehovah."

At a recent organizational meeting the Witnesses decided to serve full meals at this convention to make the event as economical and convenient as possible for the large families attending the day-long sessions. D. E. Allen, a local minister, said the public is welcome at all sessions of the convention and there is no charge for any of the classes.

"WE SELL EVERYTHING"

IN A FEW MONTHS WE'LL TEACH YOU A SKILL, PAY YOU A SALARY, THEN SEND YOU HOME

Here's the deal. First you pay a quick visit to the Army Reserve nearest you. They show you a list of different job-training courses. They level with you, too, that not every unit can offer you every job.

After you've picked a career you'd like to try, they check to make sure there's an opening for it in the unit. Then you're on your way.

Eight weeks of basic training gets your body in great shape. Then comes a few months of job training. How many depends on the job you want to learn.

Now you take off for home. If your big on saving, you've probably got close to $1,000 stashed away in your pocket. Don't forget, your living expenses are on us. Once you're home, you're all set to go after a fulltime job using the skill you just learned. Meanwhile, you're sharpening that skill one weekend a month with the Army Reserve. That one weekend a month will also put about $52.00 more in your wallet. In the summer, you'll get two weeks of the same at summer camp. All you have to do now is figure out which career you'd like to try.

Rebuilding Plans Talked For Tornado-Ruined Town

By ROBERT FURLOW
Associated Press Writer
FORT VALLEY, Ga. (AP)—
A modern shopping mall may rise from the devastation dealt Fort Valley by a tornado, say business leaders who started plans less than 24 hours after the twister ripped off their roofs and smashed down their walls.

Mayor Paul Reehling said a meeting was held Wednesday afternoon to discuss the possibility of a unified mall when the downtown area is rebuilt.

Fort Valley residents, called "a pretty gully bunch" by their mayor, continued to pick up the pieces of the town which was ravaged by a twister Tuesday.

The storm was responsible for two deaths, 14 injuries requiring hospitalization and more than $7 million in damage.

As many as 300 persons were left homeless in the middle Georgia city of 12,000.

Parts of the town were still sealed off to outsiders, but Reehling promised electricity would be restored throughout the city by Monday and rebuilding would begin in earnest.

Gov. George Busbee declared the city a disaster area after a tour by helicopter and on foot Wednesday. He said he has asked President Ford to make a similar declaration which would make residents and businessmen eligible for federal assistance including low-interest

Teacher Exams Set April 5

The National Teacher Examinations (NTE) will be given April 5 at East Carolina University. The NTE is offered to college seniors preparing to teach, to teachers applying for certification and to persons seeking teaching positions in school systems which require the NTE.

Bulletins of information and registration materials are available from NTE, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, N.J. 08540, or from John Childers, ECU Testing Department, 204 Speight Building, ECU, Greenville.

loans.

At one point in the tour, Reehling pointed to a badly damaged store and said the owner only recently had gone into business. Busbee looked around and said, "The whole thing's just about gone."

"Yeah, he was just getting started," said the mayor. "I was talking about the town," said the governor."

Reehling said the business district was "80 per cent destroyed," but added that he expects local citizens to "rebuild this city faster than anyone might think."

Besides the central business district, the hardest hit area was a low-income residential community nearby. Splintered planks were all that remained of a number of houses, including one which the tornado brought down on 93-year-old Joe Mullis, crushing him.

In the other storm-related death, Civil Defense representatives, said former Peach County Commissioner Fred Murphy died of a heart attack outside town as he tried to herd his cows out of the path of the storm.

Registering For Kindergarten

The Bethel Primary School is now registering children for the 1975-76 kindergarten.

A child must be five years of age on or before October 16, 1975, to enroll.

The child's birth certificate and immunization record can be brought to school at this time. Anyone who has questions concerning the registration may call the school at 825-5741.

The National Weather Service issued tornado watches for much of the southeast and south central Georgia Wednesday, and tornadoes were reported near Brunswick and Valdosta.

However, neither twister caused any damage.

Busbee said the $7 million damage estimate in the Fort Valley tornado did not include "substantial damage" to the municipally owned electrical power system.

He also said about $5.5 million of the total losses by private citizens was not insured.

Still the governor said he noted one bit of good fortune from the air.

He said he gauged the path of the twister by looking at the damage, "and I noticed a skip. If it had not lifted, most of the town would have been wiped out."

Engineers Will Meet Friday

The Eastern Branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers will meet Friday at the Beef Barn, St. Andrews Street.

A social hour will begin at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m.

The guest speaker will be A. L. Henderson, property officer for the Office of Property and Construction, N.C. Department of Administration.

Family Group In Church Concert

The Waters Family of Eden will appear in concert at the Mt. Pleasant Christian Church Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

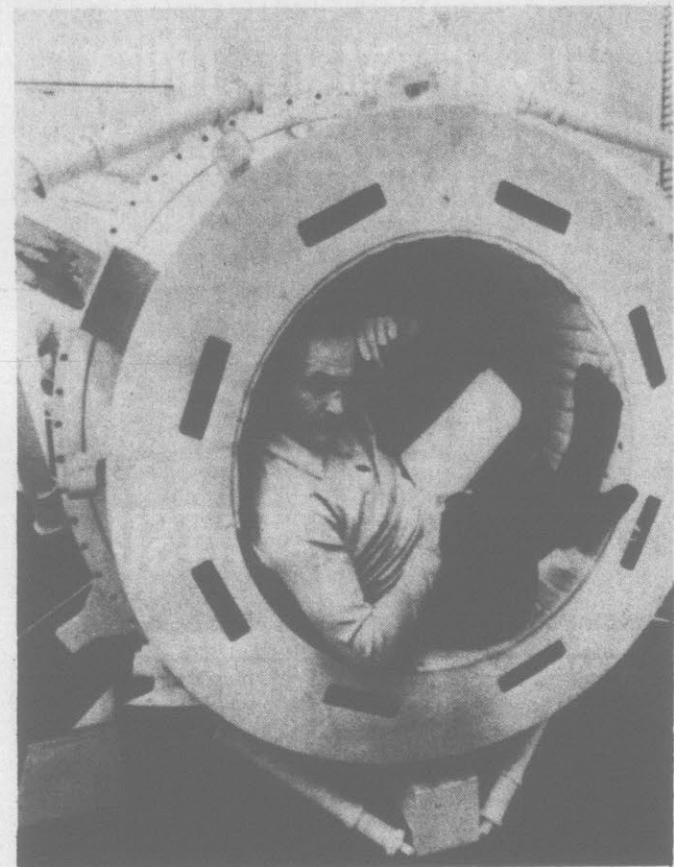

The group is led by Maynard Waters, who sings and is also general manager of the group, his wife, Kay, daughters, Teresa and Pam, and son, Steven. The Waters Family band features David Waters, drums, Jan Holton, pianist, Bob Barr, bass, and Tim Hogg on the steel guitar.

The Waters Family TV Show is produced in the facilities of the Christian Broadcasting Network, Portsmouth, Va.

The public is invited to attend the program.
