FLAMES TAKE TOLL—Flames destroyed a house owned by Mrs. Mammie Hoots of Shelmerdine this morning at 2 a.m. According to Bobby Joyner, Pitt County fire marshal, the home was not occupied at the time of the blaze. Value of the house was placed at $20,000 and it was a total loss. Black Jack and Gardnersville fire departments answered the call. Investigation into the blaze is continuing. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

North Viets Now Largely Hold Provincial Capital

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong claimed today that Communist-led forces had captured Ban Me Thuot after five days of bitter fighting for control of the provincial capital in South Vietnam's central highlands. South Vietnamese officials and Western military analysts acknowledged that North Vietnamese forces controlled large parts of the city, but said that government troops were still in and around it. One military analyst said, "I don't think the situation is good inside the city." The fate of nine Americans trapped in the city was not known. Radio contact has been lost with them for two days. Earlier, misunderstood reports said radio contact had again been made with the nine — a U.S. Embassy official and eight missionaries.

Meanwhile, a new threat arose to Tay Ninh City, 55 miles northwest of Saigon.

In Cambodia, the U.S. airlift to Phnom Penh, suspended at noon Thursday when a Khmer Rouge shell exploded an ammunition dump, resumed despite more bombardment.

Diplomatic sources said Australia was closing its embassy in the Cambodian capital Saturday, and the French Embassy announced an airlift to evacuate French, Swiss, Swedish and West German citizens.

The Saigon command said North Vietnamese infantrymen and tanks overran one outpost near the Cambodian border about five miles southwest of Tay Ninh City, and a second outpost about five miles away was under heavy attack.

The government claimed three North Vietnamese tanks destroyed at the second outpost. But field reports said a South Vietnamese A37 jet bomber and a small observation plane were shot down, killing the three fliers.

North Vietnamese or Viet Cong gunners also fired 29 rockets into Hieu Thien, a district town 10 miles south of Tay Ninh City, killing one civilian and wounding five, the Saigon command reported. Another district town east of the provincial capital, Tri Tam, was captured by the North Vietnamese two days ago.

Tay Ninh City, 55 miles northwest of Saigon, has been under heavy pressure since the fall of Phuoc Long province, to the east of it, on Jan. 7. The North Vietnamese may plan to try to take it soon to expand their territorial holdings north of Saigon, which include all of Phuoc Long, all of Binh Long province except An Loc, the provincial capital, and the Decision Time For Israel: Kissinger

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger returned to Israel today believing the time has come for the Israelis to make a decision on giving up strategic passes and the Abu Rudeis oilfield in the Sinai Desert.

Before his arrival, Israel's chief of staff, Gen. Mordechai Gur, warned that a buildup of Palestinian guerrilla forces in southern Lebanon threatened renewed warfare.

He said that several thousand Palestinian troops in the area apparently were receiving orders from Syria and could try to disrupt Kissinger's peace mission if Syria instructed them to.

A senior American official told newsmen accompanying Kissinger on his flight from Aswan that Egypt had conveyed "something additional." If there is to be a new Sinai agreement, there must be some "input" from Israel, the official said.

U.S. officials acknowledged that Israel is faced with a "crunch" situation and must expand its initial proposal if an agreement is to be reached. They said the Israelis must consider revising the territory in the Sinai desert that they are willing to give up.

Israel originally offered to retreat up to 30 miles but wanted to hold on to the Gidi and Mitla passes as well as the Abu Rudeis oilfield.

"We are making progress slowly and I am hopeful we can come to an agreement, but it is far from guaranteed," Kissinger said during the flight from Aswan.

"We have passed from examining general principles to concrete ideas which I will take to Israel," the secretary of state said Thursday night after a 2½-hour meeting with President Anwar Sadat.

Kissinger plans to go to Syria Saturday to confer with President Hafez Assad and then to Amman to see King Hussein of Jordan. He will return to Israel Sunday afternoon and may remain until Tuesday.

U.S. officials have been talking about an agreement providing for concessions by both the Israelis and the Egyptians in stages, an agreement that could be concluded quickly but would take months or even years to implement fully.

Release of the two passes and the oilfield would come later, and consideration of Israeli withdrawals on the Golan Heights and the West Bank of the Jordan River would also be postponed. Egypt, meanwhile, would take limited but tangible steps toward an accommodation with Israel in an attempt to minimize the criticism from Arab hardliners.

However, the Egyptians apparently convinced Kissinger that Israel's territorial offer was not enough.

Hospitalized

RALEIGH, N.C.—An attorney for Joanne Little was in route to Washington, N.C., today to ask for a delay in her trial on a first degree murder charge.

Defense attorney Jerry Paul said Miss Little has been hospitalized and her doctors feel she is emotionally and physically incapable of standing trial. He said he would seek a 90-day postponement in Beaufort County Superior Court.

Funding Protest By ASU

BOONE, N. C. (AP)—Trustees of Appalachian State University have approved a resolution stating their "protest of and dissatisfaction with the proposed funding" of the school in the state university systems projected 1975-76 budget.

The 13-member board challenged allocations proposed for ASU as being discriminatory. A spokesman said the proposed budget would rank ASU last among the 16 state supported schools in funding per capita, per student-teacher ratio and on a per-North Carolina student continuing operation basis.

Acting Chancellor Cratis Williams was directed by the board Thursday to "determine the reasons for the discrimination, to review the proposed funding and to express its dissatisfaction to the Board of Governors and the Advisory Budget Commission."

The Board of Governors is charged with the responsibility for preparing a systemwide budget for all of the schools.

An Appalachian spokesman said today the school's per capita appropriation in the new budget is $1,788, or $19 per student less than the next lowest school and $97 per student less than for the top-ranked school.

APPOINTED

RALEIGH (AP)—Samuel Henry Long III of Raleigh, has been appointed legal counsel to Gov. Jim Holshouser it was announced Thursday.

Solid Waste Disposal Methods Found Faulty

RALEIGH (AP)—Solid waste disposal methods in North Carolina are "wasteful of the natural resources" and don't "provide the long-range solution to the problems of solid waste management," a legislative study commission concluded.

The commission, headed by Sen. Thomas E. Strickland, D-Wayne, also found that North Carolina is in a better position on solid waste disposal than most other states. A major problem, the commission said, is a lack of machines or techniques to recycle waste.

Another problem noted by the panel was "insufficient education of the citizens of North Carolina about recycling, resource recovery and litter control."

Also, the state hasn't "taken the role of a leader in creating markets for recycled materials," and "incentives are necessary to encourage industrial efforts directed towards recycling and resource recovery."

To encourage industrial efforts, the legislature "should provide tax incentives for capital investments in recycling and resource recovery facilities and equipment."

While the commission found that antilitter laws are adequate, "enforcement has not been strong enough." The panel recommended that $135,304 be appropriated to expand the solid waste control agency in the Department of Natural and Economic Resources.

Additionally, the legislature should appropriate $215,000 to expand public education programs on the environment, waste control and recycling. For roadside litter control, the commission recommended that the Department of Transportation place additional trash receptacles along the highways.

The commission decided that laws restricting or taxing non-returnable beverage containers would be "inadvisable in North Carolina at this time."

REFLECTOR HOTLINE

Hotline gets things done for you. Call 752-1336 and tell your problem or your sound-off or mail it to Hotline, The Daily Reflector, Box 1967, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

Because of the large numbers received, Hotline can answer and publish only those items considered most pertinent to our readers. Names must be given, but only initials will be used. Transcribing is done once a day, but the phone service is available 24 hours a day.

APPLY BOTH PLACES

I live in the Belvoir School District, but work in Greenville and would find it practically impossible to go get my child or take him to kindergarten in the middle of the day if he went to Belvoir. I plan to apply for him to go to public kindergarten in Greenville City Schools, but understand our chances may not be very good since, of course, out of district children must be accepted only if there are vacancies after all in-district children are given a chance. Should I also apply in Pitt County now? If so, would it be all right to withdraw at the last minute, if he were to be accepted in Greenville? C.S.

Mrs. Janie Manning, director of the county's kindergarten program, said by all means to apply in your own district if you have any idea you may want your child to attend public kindergarten there. "We have a waiting list in the Belvoir district, because there are so many residence in this area lately."

She said if you do not apply now, there will be virtually no chance of your child's being accepted late in the summer. If you withdraw, there almost assuredly will be some child who's on a waiting list and can take your child's place.

WORK TOO STRENUOUS

Can a woman draw unemployment if she quits her public job on the grounds that the work is too strenuous and is injurious to her health. P.W.

You can file, as anyone not working or working fewer than 24 hours a week can, according to local Employment Security office manager Jim Hannan.

He said you would not be obliged to see the claims deputy who is in Greenville once a week (not always on the same day). Usually if the benefits are granted at all, there is some penalty if the employee quits of his own volition.

HOTLINE ERRED

A Hotline item last week dealing with a reader's being given a check for which there were insufficient funds ended with "you say you now understand and are satisfied, though the person who's buying your land is still behind on his payments."

Hotline misunderstood and should not have used the final statement. You corrected us saying the man buying your land has had only this one insufficiency and has made it good. Even though none of the parties were identified, Hotline apologizes for the error.

Old Ironsides Restored And 'In Service' Again

By DANIEL Q. HANEY
Associated Press Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Old Ironsides, closed to the public for two years during a major restoration for the nation's bicentennial celebration, returns to service today, hosting tourists at a berth in Boston Harbor.

Navy Secretary J. William Middendorf was to preside at ceremonies in the former Boston Navy Yard for the reopening of the 181-year-old frigate, more formally known as the USS Constitution.

"This marks its return to service in its current mission — to represent an important chapter in American and naval history," said Lt. John Hanley, a Navy spokesman. The sleek, black-hulled vessel is the world's oldest commissioned warship still afloat. Its intricate rigging and masts stand in stark relief against the city's high-rise skyline. Onboard, its wide deck smells of fresh varnish and new lumber.

Although the ship is open again, restoration work continues, and the job is scheduled to be finished in June 1976.

"This is the ship's fifth major restoration," said its captain, Cmdr. Tyrone G. Martin. "We're replacing the rotting timbers, all the copper sheathing and all the planking above the waterline. We've had to redo sections of the deck and refurbish all the rigging and masts."

In all, the government will spend $4.4 million to restore a ship that cost $302,718 when it was built in 1794.

Martin commands a crew of 60 sailors, who sand, paint, give tours and help the craftsmen responsible for the reconstruction.

But the men only get one sailing trip a year — a ceremonial jaunt to Boston Harbor, the sole purpose of which is to turn the ship around so that it will weather evenly on both sides.

When it was built in Boston, the Constitution was one of six ships that formed the core of the original U.S. Navy. Its maiden battles were against the pirates of the Barbary State on the African coast.

But it earned its fame in skirmishes during the War of 1812. According to legend, Old Ironsides won its nickname in a fight with the British frigate Guerriere, whose cannonballs seemed to bounce off the Constitution's sides.

The conference is being held in conjunction with a similar conference sponsored by the North Carolina Moose Association with members of Greenville Moose Lodge No. 885 as hosts.

Mrs. Peggy Jamieson, senior regent, is chairman of the general conference committee made of officers of the Greenville chapter, Mrs. Molly Harris, chapter recorder, is serving as registration chairman. Registration for Greenville WOTM members and out-of-town visitors started at noon at the Moose Temple, where all business sessions will be held.

The opening session is set for three o'clock. Mrs. Ellen Bradford will give the invocation and Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, both of Greenville, will lead the pledge of allegiance.

The Saturday session will feature ritual ceremonies with the Greenville Chapter and four visiting chapters participating. An informal closing session, including a conference report by Mrs. Jamieson, is scheduled Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

"Femina Caveat," or "Let the Woman Beware," a series of informal programs for East Carolina University women's dormitory residents will feature topics in consumer and personal education this spring.

Among the topics of the series are job-hunting, short term and long term credit, tax tips, home purchase or rental, bargaining power, insurance, car maintenance, creative careers, childbirth, gynecological examinations, bodily health, and legal and medical aspects of rape.

The program series was co-developed by Wanda Earp, residence administrator in ECU's Ruth White Dormitory, and Inez Fridley, residence counselor in Inglis Fletcher Dormitory, and will include weeknight evening sessions in the lobbies of Fletcher, White, Clement and Tyler dormitories.

The series was designed to acquaint ECU student women with "a variety of future challenges, enabling them to proceed with these matters knowledgeably and with confidence," said Ms. Fridley.

"Women are consumers who need not beware of financial or personal adventures. Single or married, women should be aware of daily monetary concerns, as well as their bodies' physical needs," she added.

Femina Caveat resource persons include ECU professors and such off-campus discussion leaders as industry personnel managers, bank, credit union, and savings and loan officers, realtors, insurance agents, automobile dealers, nurses, physicians and law enforcement officials.

A few radishes left in the refrigerator? Chop them fine and add them to a sandwich filling of salmon, tuna or hard-cooked egg.

When you are adding diced or sliced avocado to a tossed green salad, be sure you use avocado that is firm-ripe; if it's over-ripe, it will make the salad "mushy."

How To Silence Non-Stop Speakers

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: We had a couple over last week, and when one started to talk, the spouse interrupted to talk about something entirely different. Both continued talking to both my husband and me in this manner throughout the entire evening. At one point in the evening, the husband and I were talking, and his wife interrupted by shouting my name; then she addressed a question to me which was completely unrelated to the subject I was discussing with her husband.

I cannot do justice to two conversations at one time, especially when each is trying to be heard over the other. This lack of consideration for each other strikes me as being very rude, but I may be wrong.

By the end of the evening I was completely exhausted. What does one do when he finds himself in this kind of predicament?

MINNEAPOLIS STAR READER

DEAR READER: When someone interrupts a conversation, it's perfectly all right for you to interrupt the interrupter with: "Please excuse me, but I can listen to only one person at a time. Would you mind waiting until we have finished?" The interrupter will probably be struck speechless. And wouldn't that be lovely?

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how to say this, but I have a problem that's driving me crazy. I am 22 (a female) nicely built, so I've been told, and the only thing I don't have is a rear end. The front of me is really nice, but I just don't have any behind at all. My clothes would fit me so much better if I had a little something there. Can you help me?

NEEDS A REAR

DEAR NEEDS: I can't. But write to Frederick's of Hollywood and ask about their foam rubber fannies. They are the living end!

DEAR ABBY: I just discovered that the man I've been going with for 14 months has false teeth!

Marty's teeth looked so lovely and natural, I never suspected they weren't real. He ate everything, and his kisses were the best.

Last week Marty's physician suspected Marty had polyps in his nasal cavity so he sent Marty to an ear and nose specialist. I went with him.

The specialist told Marty to take his teeth out, and when I saw him there with his sunken cheeks and puckered lips, I shuddered. He looked so old.

Ten minutes later, with his teeth back in, Marty was his handsome, youthful self again. I still care for him, but I can't bring myself to kiss him.

He thinks I'm losing interest in him, and maybe I am. How can I get over this foolish hangup?

LET DOWN

DEAR LET: The thought of how Marty looked sans choppers is turning you off. Forget it. (Are you sure you don't have a few false things going for you, too? There aren't many who are 100 per cent natural.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO OLLIE DUNLAP: You asked if any readers (other than yourself) had ever lived to help a daughter celebrate her 50th wedding anniversary. Yes. Hundreds of them. So far, the record is held by a 104-year-old Indian woman who says she helped her 89-year-old daughter celebrate her 73rd wedding anniversary.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

LIGHT SUPPER

Hot Rice Salad

Cloverleaf Rolls
Baked Apples Beverage

Concocted by a friend of ours who comes from Pennsylvania-Dutch country, and it's interesting and delicious.

2 eggs
1/4 cup cider vinegar
3/4 cup water
1/4 cup sugar
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup extra long-grain rice
3 slices bacon
1 cup cooked green peas, at room temperature
1/2 cup diced canned pimiento

In a small mixing bowl beat the eggs with vinegar, water, sugar and salt just until blended; set aside. Cook the rice according to package directions — there should be about 3 cups. Meanwhile in a 10-inch skillet over low heat cook the bacon until crisp; remove bacon and dice; turn onto brown paper to drain. To bacon fat and drippings in skillet (there should be about 2 tablespoons) add the egg mixture; cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until just thickened — do not boil. Add hot rice, peas, pimiento and bacon; mix well, adding more salt if needed. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Large Building In Wilson Burns

WILSON, N. C. (AP)—Fire gutted the interior of the American Auction Co. building in Wilson's downtown business district Thursday night, destroying or damaging a large quantity of items stored for sale.

No estimate of the damage was available pending a review of the items stored in the building, which contained several individual stalls used by sellers to show their products.

The auction items ranged from very small items to furniture and appliances.

The cause of the fire, which broke out about 6 p.m., had not been determined today.

An estimated 50 firemen fought the fire for nearly four hours before bringing it under control. The flames swept through the street-level and basement areas of the building, a half-century-old concrete structure that was occupied by the Carolina Laundry for several years.

Airlines Union OKs Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trans World Airlines mechanics and ramp servicemen have approved a new contract raising their salary more than $1 an hour and giving them $21.7 million in back pay, the International Association of Machinists said today.

An IAM spokesman said the contract, covering 12,000 employees, was approved by 73.8 per cent of the union members in voting at 36 locations across the nation over the past few weeks.

The 26-month agreement, concluded last month just before a 30-day cooling off period expired freeing the union members to strike, will raise a top-rated mechanic's pay to $7.77 per hour on May 1.

Food Reserves Need Program

Our farm economy is a complex thing which involves the farm operators' looking far ahead to determine what market needs will be.

Once the farmer plants his crops or establishes his cattle herds he is committed to a certain production to come about at a certain time in the future. Unfortunately if too many farmers plant too much then there is a disastrous fall in prices and the farm producer can find himself unable to get the price for his crop which will even cover his expenses.

At the same time, as a nation we should be concerned about building up food reserves so that we can be prepared for lean crop years, or be ready to provide food on the world markets when the need arises.

That is one reason that price support and crop programs came into existence. Unfortunately there is a trend now to eliminate the support programs and encourage farmers to produce all they can on the assumption that the world market will take care of the surplus. Yet this year we are suddenly expecting grain production to run ahead of demand. The experts say this is desirable since we need to rebuild our grain reserves. The farmer, however, sees the price he gets dropping because there is a short term surplus and consequently he is not going to be at all encouraged to increase his acreage.

It shows us that there is still a need for the farm programs which served our nation so well for many years.

Grain reserves need to be built up and government should bear some of the responsibility for seeing that this is done.

The farmer can not grow wheat or corn and store it for future lean years at his own expense. And if he grows a surplus and then has to sell it at a greatly reduced price so it can be stored by somebody else he will still lose.

The governmental farm programs helped maintain an orderly market for a number of years. They should not be scrapped now just when we need them most.

We're Just Plain Folks

WASHINGTON — The other evening I watched Barbra Streisand on a TV special from Kennedy Center where she sang at a benefit for the Special Olympics for the Mentally Retarded.

It occurred to me that Miss Streisand was speaking for many Americans who somehow think that those of us who live in the nation's capital are different from other people in the country.

men and women do in Topeka and Peoria. And after a breakfast quiet similar to ones eaten all over America, we go to our offices where we do our simple work.

Other Editors Say Pollution Edsel?

The auto emission-standard picture was acknowledged this week to have grown murkier. The Environmental Protection Agency said it was concerned about the mists of sulfuric acid being spewed out of catalytic converters on most new-model cars.

A delay of as much as five years in the emission-standard schedule is in prospect—involving a tangle of issues such as the fate of the catalytic converter, President Ford's bargain with automakers to swap gains in fuel economy for a freeze on pollution requirements, and congressional interest in taxing autos by engine size or weight.

Groups other than the EPA, such as the National Academy of Sciences, have voiced their concern over the sulfuric acid mist health hazard. Congress will shortly be taking up the subject of the country's air quality, and could well decide it is prudent to accept a one-year or longer delay.

The sulfuric acid mist wrinkle in the air-cleanup program does not discredit the effort to date. It does, as the Clean Air Act's critics argue, point up how experimental such programs can be, demanding costly, new devices like converters which may have to be scrapped.

But ambient air quality in America has been substantially improved. Industry itself was shrieking the task and needed clean-air timetables and targets set for it. The catalytic converter may be flawed, but it was a solution industry came up with for meeting standards.

If the government is partly responsible for the converter in having pressed for results before other technologies were ready, then it may be fair to say that government, like industry, is entitled to its Edsels.

concern, confusion and constraint." To overcome the inhibitions, he listed five keys:

- 1. Increased availability and better terms on mortgages.
2. Moderation of increases or actual declines in prices and costs.
3. A halt to the erosion of consumer incomes and confidence.
4. A quick and significant tax cut and a sensible energy package.
5. A reduction in the level and price of housing inventories.

40 Years Ago Today

March 14, 1935 Captain Stratford of the Salvation Army says good results are coming from the soup kitchen with the organization providing soup for about 57 children each day. As much as 157 bowls of soup are served each day from West Greenville School.

The kitchen was established two weeks ago and Stratford said the health of the children getting the meals has improved greatly.

Expansion on the Greenville tobacco market continued today with the announcement of a 20,000 square foot addition to the New Dixie Warehouse on Ninth Street.

The announcement was made by Will P. Moore, Biggs T. Cannon and C. H. McGowan, owners of the warehouse.

The contract has been awarded to Erwin-West Construction Company.

THIS AFTERNOON

Alternatives Are Studied

By BILL NOBLITT RALEIGH—A legislative study commission on penal reform has been told that not only are Department of Corrections population projections far off base, but readily available alternatives to reduce the numbers of inmates have been overlooked.

Wrestling with 12,000-plus prisoners in space designed for 10,000, corrections officials estimate that by 1978 there will be 15,636 prisoners to house. A program of new prison construction requiring up to $200 million in the coming four years has been put forth by Corrections Secretary David Jones.

The Commission on Sentencing, Criminal Punishment, and Rehabilitation opposes that direction, countering that a host of steps could be taken to reduce the projected prison population and avoid such a heavy investment in new prisons.

A chief aim of that commission is to speed up the paroles process and eliminate the red tape and delays, putting some 3,000 more prisoners on the outside between now and 1978.

Further Cuts A collection of bills written by the commission are now under consideration by the General Assembly providing split sentencing or quick dip sentencing, diversion from prison, automatic and mandatory parole contracts, and other steps which would further reduce the prison population to the point that by 1978 the system would be housing 12,337—actually fewer prisoners than are committed today, and far below the 15,636 projection by prison officials.

Deputy Corrections Secretary Don Torpa rejected the commission figures off-hand as "not worth the paper they're written on," and Prison Commissioner Ralph Edwards feels that new prison construction is essential to provide modern, single cell space instead of the dormitories now in use regardless of the future population.

At a recent meeting of the commission, chaired by former State Senator Eddie Knox of Charlotte, Edwards said the real construction need—and one partially met by the $38 million included in the budget proposal for the coming two years—is for single cell accommodations to house serious escape risks, the psychotic or mentally retarded, the first offenders under 21 years old, and new prisoners entering the system while undergoing orientation. Those needs would require 3,424 one-man cells; the system now has only 800. Assaults and injuries are almost daily occurrences in the present dormitory setting.

Superior Court Judge Hamilton Hobgood, a member of the Knox Commission, termed the lack of one-man cells "almost criminally negligent" on the part of the state.

Spend Less Several of the alternative proposals outlined at a recent meeting of the Knox Commission would even further reduce prison population overall, free some current medium custody space for other use, and also help provide additional one-man cells and space for rehabilitative testing and training with a minimum of expense.

Mercer Doty, director of the legislature's own Fiscal Research Division, presented the commission a staff report which pinpointed the projected decreases in prison population due to the various steps outlined above, and also listed other alternatives for study.

Central Youth Center located at Central Prison could house 100 inmates if opened for use; that facility was closed during a prison riot, and remains closed as prison officials say they need it in reserve for emergency use.

Other state facilities not in full use (some mental hospitals, mental retardation centers, specialty schools) could house 490 inmates, and prison labor could be used to construct one-cell units in the existing buildings.

The governor could commute all prisoners over 60-years-old, freeing 164 yearly; public drunks could be kept out of prison, keeping 118 yearly out of cells; all traffic offenders could be diverted to other punishments, freeing 802 cells yearly.

Juvenile training schools where the population once totaled over 3,500, but now runs about 1,000 could be converted to prisons and house up to 600 inmates.

As these various proposals make their way through the legislative process, other suggestions are likely to emerge, and some proposals defeated. Still, the key issue of state philosophy on prisons will have to come into focus this year as lawmakers wrestle with whether to invest millions in new buildings—or take other steps.

The GALLUP POLL

Ford's GOP Rating Frail

(Copyright 1975, Field Enterprises, Inc. All rights reserved. Republication in whole or part strictly prohibited, except with the written consent of the copyright holders.)

By GEORGE GALLUP PRINCETON, N.J.—Only half of Republican voters nationwide, 49 per cent, would like to see President Ford run in 1976. The other half either oppose his candidacy or express uncertainty.

At the same time, however, the overwhelming majority of GOP adherents, 86 per cent, think he will actually seek nomination.

These results are recorded when 63 per cent of Republicans approve and 24 per cent disapprove of Ford's handling of the presidency. On dealing with the economy, 49 per cent of GOP voters approve while 40 per cent disapprove.

Much speculation has surrounded Ford's intentions for 1976. Some observers feel he will not seek a bid if the economy does not improve. The President, however, has said that economic conditions will be favorable enough for 1976 for him to run for a full term in office.

Here is the first question asked in the survey: "Would you like to see Ford run for President in 1976, or not?"

Here are the findings, based upon the views of persons in the survey who classify themselves as Republicans:

Like See Ford Run In 1976?

(Views Of Republicans, Nationwide)
Yes 49%
No 25%
No Opinion 26%

Here is the next question asked in the survey: "Regardless of whether or not you would like to see him run, do you think Ford WILL run for President in 1976, or not?"

Americans of all political backgrounds are overwhelmingly of the belief that Ford will run in 1976. Following are the results for the nation as a whole and by political party affiliation:

Will Ford Run in 1976?
NATIONAL: Yes 82%, No 11%, Opin. 7%
Republicans: 86, 9, 5
Democrats: 81, 11, 8
Independents: 83, 11, 6

The findings reported today are based upon interviews with a total of 1,559 adults, 18 and older, interviewed in person in more than 300 scientifically selected localities across the nation Feb. 7-10. Of the total persons interviewed, 332 classify themselves as Republicans, 672 as Democrats and 499 as independents.

Strength For Today

GOD CARES God is a God who cares. "He that hath seen me," he said, "hath seen the Father." When man looked on Jesus they indeed saw one who cared. He healed the sick, cast out demons, preached goodness and kindness, loved little children, and urged men to live a life of helpfulness and peace. If when we look at Christ we look at the Father, we may well have hope, for a God as loving and good as Jesus is One to whom we can commit our lives with perfect trust.

Humphrey Agrees Pay Back Taxes, Interest

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has agreed to pay back taxes plus 6 per cent interest on a deduction of nearly $200,000 that the Internal Revenue Service has disallowed, an aide says.

The Minnesota Democrat, who served as vice president from 1964 to 1968, claimed a deduction of $199,153 on a donation of vice presidential papers to the Minnesota Historical Society.

But because Humphrey imposed restrictions on public access to the papers, the IRS disallowed the deduction, according to David Gartner, an administrative assistant to the senator.

Joe A. Walters, Humphrey's attorney, said the IRS has not yet computed the back taxes due. Humphrey says he paid $200,991 in federal income taxes for the years 1969 through 1972, when the deduction was claimed.

Gartner and Walters said Thursday the IRS raised no question about the legality of the gift or the value of $309,475 which was placed on it. The objection was based on a regulation that prohibits deductions for "gifts of a future interest," they said.

Humphrey's contract with the Historical Society restricts public access to the vice-presidential papers for 25 years.

Anyone who wishes to see the papers before then must get the senator's permission. The IRS says that means Humphrey retains an interest in the papers and that they do not qualify as a charitable deduction until after the limitation expires.

Walters said the IRS began an audit of Humphrey's returns in 1973 after he publicly stated that he had claimed the deduction. The disclosure came shortly after former President Richard M. Nixon revealed that he had claimed deductions of $482,000 for gifts of his vice presidential papers to the National Archives.

Nixon's deductions were disallowed when it was learned his lawyers had backdated documents prior to the effective date of an amendment to the IRS code prohibiting such deductions.

Grocery Store Broken-Into

Several cartons of cigarettes were taken from the R. S. Pollard Grocery at 204 Wade St. in an early-morning break-in today, and police were looking for a suspect in the case before dawn.

Chief Glenn Cannon said the break-in was reported at 4:20 a.m. He noted that officers were looking for a youth, whose fingerprints were found at the scene, for questioning in connection with the break-in, by shortly after 6 a.m. but officers had been unable to locate him by mid-morning.

Investigation of the theft is continuing.

Will Not Seek Chairmanship

RALEIGH (AP)—Morehead City attorney Thomas S. Bennett said today he will not seek re-election as chairman of North Carolina's state Republican party.

Bennett, in remarks prepared for a news conference, also said he "is not now nor do I intend to be a candidate in 1976 for any statewide political office."

"The financial drain of this position is more than I can support," Bennett said. He said he planned to devote more of his time to his law practice and to his family.

During the rest of his term as state chairman, Bennett said, he will "work toward building a unified Republican party."

"By removing myself at this early date," Bennett said, "hopefully, I can...be a unifying agent."

is to see white brothers and black brothers joining hands. Injustice for one is injustice for the other.

"It is a great deal of pleasure to dedicate this Resurrection City to the glory of God and to the safety of mankind."

Abernathy added, "we've come a long way on this case. I believe now more than ever that Joanne Little can get a fair trial and is going to be exonerated." He noted too, that Miss Little "is a typical example of another human being, who happened to be a woman, whose rights have been abused. We have got to win this case, not only in court, but in the public arena."

Following the dedication program, Abernathy, Frinks, the Rev. Leon White, director of the North Carolina Commission for Racial Justice of the United Church of Christ, and Tyrone L. Brooks, national communications director for the SCLC, along with several local SCLC officials, led about 150 persons in a march to the court house where Abernathy, White, Frinks, and others, spoke to about 200 persons gathered there.

Abernathy told the crowd, "I think we are having a great rally here this afternoon. I think that all of Pitt County will hear about us." He noted too, that in his opinion "the Confederate soldier (a statue on the court house lawn) somehow will get the message, too."

The SCLC head said "it's an honor to march with you. We are saying... we want Joanne Little to be free of all charges."

"This young woman is not guilty of murder... she was helping herself. Now the whole world is looking to Eastern Carolina... can there be justice in Eastern North Carolina."

"Black is beautiful. White is beautiful. But I know a color that's more beautiful than black or white. That's black and white together," Abernathy emphasized.

According to Abernathy, "we were escorted down here today by some decent policemen," but the SCLC official said Pitt County is "in need of matrons" in the county jail.

"I want to serve notice on the sheriff (Sheriff Ralph Tyson), you need more matrons down there," added, "we want more than one black deputy sheriff in Pitt County."

Abernathy noted, too, "this is a poor county. We ought to have free food stamps." And citing the large amount of money the U.S. is spending in Southeast Asia, he said such money could provide food and public transportation in Pitt.

"I'm coming to little Washington," Abernathy said, "to live in Resurrection City."

White told the audience that the Commission for Racial Justice "is going to be here in a big supportive way," for the Joanne Little trial.

He then criticized Greenville television station WNCT for its lack of coverage of Abernathy's visit and other SCLC activities involving the Joanne Little case.

"The only TV cameras we see here today are the ones we see from the police department," White commented. "We are going to come back to Greenville until you put those cameras of oppression away."

He then noted, "We are going to go to the Federal Communications Commission and invite them to do an investigation" of WNCT-TV. "We're going to find out what is happening. They are not giving our national leader (Abernathy) proper recognition."

Ms. Ella Hardy of Simpson, who spoke briefly at the rally, said "We want our equal rights. We don't want to live with the whites, but want the same things they have."

"There's not a one in here that don't have some white blood in them," she said to the gathering. "Black and white... we just as well get together."

"If you do wrong, you ought to be punished... black or white. Let's get our heads together and live like human beings," she concluded.

Following the rally, the marchers returned to Resurrection City III where they disbanded.

Abernathy went to Windsor for a scheduled 8 p.m. speech there, before his return to Atlanta.

Before his arrival in Greenville, Abernathy held a press conference in Raleigh, at which time a long-suspected clash between Frinks and Miss Little's attorneys surfaced.

At that news conference, Frinks charged that Miss Little's attorneys are holding her incommunicado. "She's more in prison now than before she was freed (on bond)," he charged.

Durham attorney Jerry Paul, representing Miss Little, told newsmen in a telephone interview that Frinks and other civil rights group had asked that 30 per cent of the proceeds from a national fund-raising campaign for Miss Little's defense be used to finance a campaign to publicize the case.

"I told Golden people are not going to give money for you to demonstrate, Paul said. "I don't want to fight with Golden, but I cannot let him hurt Joanne," the attorney said.

Abernathy attempted to smooth over the dispute by suggesting that Miss Little's supporters pull together "because our common enemy is so great we must work together." He said state and local groups supporting the woman must present a solid front, rather than be divided.

Some of us work for the media and, no matter what we say, we're always right.

We're a typical community. After work we may go over and have a few drinks with the ambassador of Iran or play a game of tennis with the secretary of the Treasury. On some nights we might go to have dinner with the Fords, and on other evenings we'll have the Kissingers in for bridge and a light buffet.

If the weather is good we could have a cookout at the Tidal Basin or wander down to the local tavern and have a few beers with Nelson Rockefeller. If there is a good movie in town and Barbra Streisand is singing beforehand, we might even go to that. Otherwise we'll stay at home and read the Congressional Record.

It's sad that although we live in Washington people think we're something special. We're just average Joes, a little better educated, more informed, rarely in error and confident that nobody knows better than we do what's good for the country. How could Barbra Streisand think we're stuffy?

he said he is not troubled by the continuing furor here over the Washington decision.

"This armaments thing is not the end of the world," he said. "Things just haven't been too good (between India and the United States) for some time. It's just another incident that demonstrates that."

"It's not going to make my job any more difficult," he added. "In fact, the problems are much greater when you have a close working affinity, because then every nuance gives you a job to do. If our relations remain strained for any period of time, it will really lessen our work here."

Saxbe said he has found his new job to be less arduous than being attorney general. He was named attorney general after Elliot L. Richardson, now ambassador to Britain, resigned rather than fire special Water-gate prosecutor Archibald Cox. "It's like being graduated from college," the former Republican senator from Ohio said. "It's an immediate let down from the pressures and day-to-day crises of Washington."

Saxbe said one thing he definitely will not do is to lecture India about its problems and internal affairs.

Total Commitment Is Salvation Army's Rule

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In most major Christian denominations, it's possible for a member to attend services rarely, give nothing and do little and still retain recognized membership status. But not in the Salvation Army.

"We want total commitment," says the organization's new national commander, Commissioner William E. Chamberlain. "Those who find they can't live up to it leave the ranks."

Installed recently as the spiritually-based Army's top officer in this country, Chamberlain points out that the word, "discipline," stems from the word, "disciple," and he adds:

"You can't be a disciple without discipline. It's the heart and root of the Salvation Army. Discipline is what started the Army, what has kept it going, and is the secret of its usefulness to God."

That quality, however, has become sorely lacking in modern times, says Chamberlain, 65, a broad-shouldered, five-foot-eleven man of erect bearing and decisive manner.

He said in an interview that permissiveness and vagueness about responsibility have made "terrible inroads," affecting nearly every strata of society with false ideas of freedom and uncertainty about duty or purpose.

"Discipline is what makes service to others possible," he said. "It's not a yoke around the neck, but gives direction and value to life. It's a vital part of Christian witness, and something the world greatly needs today — to be under the discipline of God's love."

It's also characteristic that the Salvation Army consistently displays in an otherwise often slack religious environment, in which few, if any, other groups live so sparsely themselves and give so much.

Although the Army dispenses huge quantities of aid in nearly every hard-hit region of the world, and runs 1,400 centers for the down-and-out in this country, plus 250 foster homes, its own officers get by on bare necessities.

"We don't feel handicapped — we feel privileged to serve," Chamberlain said. "Of course, you've got to be very thrifty, but your hours are so few, you don't have time for entertainment. It's an in-house sort of life.

"Some may think it's too rugged, but it's the kind of dedication that gives purpose to life. It's what people need and what many are looking for."

He said a "whole new element" of Americans, particularly among the younger generation and with extensive, varied educational backgrounds, "have seen the kind of work we do among less privileged people and they want to get involved."

"We symbolize something to them," he said. "We symbolize the practical carrying out of the ideal of serving those in need, and this is something more and more young people want to participate in — the joy of service."

Churchman From Ceylon Will Be Visiting Here

Rev. P.B. Rajasingham, president of the Methodist Church in Sri Lanka, Ceylon, will visit local United Methodists the week of March 16-20 as part of a program designed to bring foreign missionaries to the United States.

REV. RAJASINGHAM

the Colombo City Mission, the center of Christian social service of the Methodist Church in Ceylon, in 1961. When the Methodist Church became an autonomous church, he was elected chairman of the Central District. He later spent three months at the Central Methodist Mission in Sydney, Australia, to gain experience in City Mission work.

In 1970, in response to an invitation from the Central Methodist Mission in Adelaide, he and his family traveled to Australia, where he eventually served and preached in every state and also preached in the main cities of New Zealand.

Following his return to Ceylon in 1970 he became superintendent of the largest Methodist circuit in Ceylon at Moratumulla.

Rev. Rajasingham also has served as chairman of the Southern District, Methodist Church, in Ceylon as well as a delegate from Sri Lanka to the Consultation on Evangelism. It was following this appointment that he traveled and preached in Europe.

Rev. Rajasingham and his wife—also a missionary—have a daughter and a son. His wife will accompany him to Greenville.

He will make his first appearance here on Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service at St. James United Methodist Church. Following a 6:45 p.m. Youth Forum, he will be honored at a reception at 7:30 p.m. and will be featured speaker at 8 p.m. worship services at St. James.

His daily schedule for Monday through Thursday includes: Bible study at Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church, 10 a.m.; Youth Forum at St. James, 6:45 p.m.; worship services, St. James, 7:30 p.m.; and Chatback, Fellowship Hall, St. James, 8:15 p.m.

A nursery will be provided for the Bible study and worship services.

Judge Removed For Behavior

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A Superior Court judge has been ordered off the bench for two weeks and an investigation has been launched into his alleged unusual behavior, according to a Charlotte newspaper.

The Charlotte Observer said in a story carried in Friday's editions that Judge Kenneth A. Griffin of Charlotte, elected to his post last November, was removed effective last Monday.

Meanwhile, the North Carolina Judicial Standards Commission has launched an investigation into his judicial behavior, according to the newspaper.

The newspaper said Chief Justice Susie Sharp of the North Carolina Supreme Court confirmed she had assigned other judges to carry on Griffin's duties for two weeks after two Superior Court judges told her the 49-year-old jurist's behavior had been unusual. The judges were not identified.

The newspaper, quoting a source who insisted on anonymity, said allegations regarding Griffin's behavior included lighting a cigarette in open court, propping his feet up on the bench in court, and cursing in court, all contrary to court regulations and practices.

The report also said Griffin allegedly tongue-lashed Cleveland County Clerk of Court Ruth Dedmon for failing to give him proper directions to the courthouse in Shelby where he was to hold court.

Griffin was elected without opposition to an eight-year term on the Superior Court bench and took office in January. He was assigned to the 27th Judicial District composed of Gaston, Lincoln and Cleveland counties.

COME!!! BRING A FRIEND!

It's a marshmallow world—at least, through the eyes of children—a wonderful world of discovery. Each day brings new happiness; exploring exciting sights and sounds. Their trust and belief make every day a fascinating adventure. But what happens when they grow up? The staggering pressures of today's modern world take the beauty and excitement out of life. Crises, crime and the struggle of earning a living all filter out the joy and spotlight the stress. The days are long. But with all its problems, life is still incredibly beautiful. When we forget that it is, we need to be reminded that life has a meaning... we need to take on the faith of a child. Come to that constant source of inspiration and truth and renew your strength in the Church.

Legislation Offered To Extend Welfare Funds

RALEIGH (AP)—Legislation was introduced in the North Carolina General Assembly Thursday to extend welfare payments under the Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) program to households with unemployed fathers living at home.

The current state policy requires that the father not live at home in order for his family to receive payments. Federal regulations allow states the choice of whether to provide AFDC payments to households in which unemployed fathers reside.

Sen. Katherine Sebo and Rep. Henry Frye, both Guilford County Democrats, introduced companion bills in the Senate and House.

Mrs. Sebo said excluding households in which a father still resides encourages the splitting up of families.

Secretary of Human Resources David Flaherty said he would neither support or oppose the legislation. "We feel that we have much higher priorities that we have to look at first," he said.

At the urging of Flaherty's department, the Advisory Budget Commission has proposed that the level of state funding for payments under the AFDC program be increased by $2.1 million in 1975-76 and $4.1 million in 1976-77.

The state currently provides about $16.9 million for the AFDC program. Counties provide $13.7 million and the federal government contributes $71.6 million.

The increased state contribution would raise the monthly payment for a family of four from about $200 to $228 and for a family of six from $253 to $289.

About 45,600 families and 151,000 individuals now receive payments under the AFDC program.

Anti-Crime Bills Studied

RALEIGH (AP)—The maximum punishment for armed robbery would be increased from 30 years to life in prison under a bill approved Thursday by the Senate Judiciary 1 Committee.

The Senate set debate for next Wednesday on the measure and on four other bills to crack down on crime which the committee also approved.

The committee gave quick action on the measures which were introduced only Tuesday by Sen. Julian Allsbrook, D-Halifax, chairman of the committee.

The four other anti-crime measures would:

- Make a separate offense for each victim of an armed robbery so that holding up a bank with four employees present would count as four offenses of armed robbery.
- Make taking a hostage a felony punishable by 5 to 30 years in prison.
- Increase the punishment for resisting arrest from six months to two years.

Endorse Ford's Policy On GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders say

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Friday, March 14, 1975—711 of the 144 GOP House members have endorsed a statement pledging support for President Ford and the goal of rebuilding and broadening their party.

The statement, which is also being circulated among senators, governors and state party chairmen, seeks to counter criticism of the President and talk of a third-party movement by some conservatives.

In a cover letter seeking endorsements for the policy statement, the top five House GOP leaders said talk of a third-party movement contained futile and "destructive implications."

Pirates Lose Opener To Arizona, 94-78

OUTTA MY WAY—Arizona's Bob Elliott goes past Robert Geter of East Carolina for a shot in the opening game of the NCAA Commissioners' Invitational basketball tournament last night. Elliott dumped in 28 points to lead Arizona to a 94-78 victory. (AP Wirephoto)

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Seven-teenth-ranked Arizona proved to have too much muscle inside for East Carolina University's Pirates last night as they pulled away late to gain a 94-78 victory over the Bucs. The game was the kickoff of the Commissioners' National Invitational Tournament, being played in Freedom Hall here. Arizona's top-seeded Wildcats got a record-setting 28-point performance from 6-10, 225-pound Bob Elliott, with much of it coming the second half when Arizona pulled away after a 43-43 halftime deadlock.

and then tapped in another. Ashorn hit from the opener with 12:55 showing and that gave the Pirates a 22-14 lead, their biggest.

'Really Proud Of Our Effort', Avers Patton

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—"I'm really proud of our effort," East Carolina Coach Dave Patton said. His team had just lost to the 17th-ranked Arizona Wildcats, 94-78, in the first round of the Commissioners National Invitational Tournament here.

Perhaps two of Arizona's points shouldn't have counted. Late in the game, while Arizona had the ball, an official blew his whistle in error, and although East Carolina's defenders froze, Arizona didn't score, and the official counted it anyway.

Patton, however, wouldn't comment on that. But for a team that wasn't supposed to even be in the game with the tournament favorite, Patton felt his Pirates did themselves proud.

"We did what we've had going for us all year. We didn't quit, we just stayed out there on guts and hustle alone," the man named Southern Conference Coach of the Year in his first season said.

He was unhappy that the Bucs didn't hold their eight point first half lead. "We haven't protected a lead this year. But when we did come back in the second half, I really thought we had a chance. We tried to force our offense and we needed to wait and take what they could give us." "You can't make mistakes against a great team like Arizona and not expect them to take advantage of it. They did this in the second half and they hurt us."

The coach was pleased with the way the Bucs rebounded with taller Arizona, especially in the first half. "I really didn't think we could hold them that close."

"They're really got too much muscle and height for us. Little, skinny Gregg Ashorn (6-3) in there against those big guys (6-10 and 6-8); He played a good game; he's a plain old winner as far as I'm concerned. And Robert Geter played a heck of a game, too. He really went to the boards."

"I've got to compliment Arizona. They stayed cool and didn't lose their poise," Patton added. "They finally adjusted to our zone and got the ball into their big strong men, and that was it."

Fred Snowden, Arizona's coach, was quite complimentary of the Pirates. "I thought we played pretty well in spots," he said. "But East Carolina played very well against us. They executed well, awfully well."

The coach added that the Wildcats are a young team playing in its first tournament. "We only have two seniors, and neither of them played until the end of the game."

For this reason, Snowden looks to the Wildcats to be much improved next year. "I wanted to get a lot of people into the game for tournament experience," he said. "So when we got in foul trouble in the first half, it didn't worry me. I just have to go to the bench earlier than I expected."

Asked if that meant he expected to be in another tournament next year, Snowden said he hoped to be in "a" tournament. "I'd come back here if I got the chance. We're going to be better, so we should go somewhere."

Snowden was also asked if he had any doubts when East Carolina took a lead on the Wildcats. "No," he replied, "I've never had doubts that we couldn't win. If I ever do, I won't be able to do my job."

Arizona now moves into the semifinals against the winner of tonight's Missouri-Purdue game.

Buc Baseballers Host Furman Saturday In Conference Twin Bill

East Carolina University's defending Southern Conference champion baseball team will play host to Furman University here Saturday at Harrington Field. Game time for the opener of the conference doubleheader is 1:30.

Furman whipped the Pirates, 1-0, in the opening conference meeting of the clubs last year. The Pirates didn't lose another conference game en route to the title until the very last encounter, coming against The Citadel.

Statistically speaking, Steve Bryant, a junior college transfer playing second base for Pirate head baseball coach George Williams' club, is leading the Pirates with a .368 average. Ron Staggs, the 1974 batting champion, who will be looking to become the top hitter in Pirate baseball history, is hitting .333. Staggs has belted the Pirates' only home run of the young season. The Englewood, Ohio, senior is a near shoo-in to break six career hitting records for the Pirates before the 1975 season is over, barring any accidents.

Wayne Bland, Steve Herring and Dean Reavis have pitched well for the Pirates, along with Bob Feeney. This foursome, along with Mike Weaver, Joe Heavner and Terry Durham could all see action Saturday against the Paladins.

Bland, a senior, is a holdover from the Pirates' "Big Three" pitching staff that finished third nationally in earned run average rankings last season. He has pitched 12 innings in two outings this season, allowed one earned run for a 0.75 mark and has struck out six. He held N.C. State in check on two runs Saturday for nine innings, before retiring in favor of Dean Reavis.

Reavis, another junior college transfer, has recorded two of the Pirate victories this season, coming in relief both times. He has pitched 10 and two-thirds innings, giving up one earned run and four hits for a 0.84 mark.

Another Postponement

Rose High's baseball game with Kinston was postponed because of rain until Monday.

The game will be played at Kinston beginning at 4:00 p.m. It was the second game of the week postponed for the Rampants who are seeking their second win of the season. Thursday, they had a game with D.H. Conley called off.

Beltone Wins Tourney

Beltone won the championship of the Ladies Basketball league tournament last night with a 21-17 win over Little Mint.

The game was a tight contest the whole way. Beltone slipped out to a slim 10-9 lead at halftime and with the help of Vangie Jones' seven second half points, Beltone managed to win the game.

Jones led both teams with 11 points.

On Paper, UNC Should Be Regional's Winner

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — On paper, North Carolina should win the NCAA Regional Basketball tournament.

But you can't convince Coach Dean Smith that his Tar Heels will be in the easiest of the four regional tournaments opening Saturday.

North Carolina and Penn are the only nationally ranked teams in the East Regional field of eight—if you use the latest Associated Press weekly poll as a guide.

In the first round at Charlotte, North Carolina, 21-7, will play New Mexico State, 20-6, and then Furman, 22-6, will play Boston College, 20-7.

In the other Eastern first round, at Philadelphia, LaSalle, 22-6, will play Syracuse, 20-7, and Penn, 23-4, will meet Kansas State, 18-8.

The West Regional has three top 10 teams and the Midwest and Midwest have five top 20 teams each.

Of the eight Eastern Regional teams, North Carolina has the best national ranking, No. 7

Penn is No. 11. If you drop North Carolina, the seven other East teams have a combined 145-44 record.

First-round Midwest play will be divided between Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Lexington, Ky., Saturday. The eight teams include No. 1 Indiana, No. 5 Marquette, No. 6 Kentucky, No. 15 Oregon State and Texas-El Paso, which is tied for 17th.

Aside from unbeaten Indiana, 29-0, the seven other Midwest teams are 143-40.

Early Midwest play will be at Lubbock, Tex., and Tulsa, Okla. Heading the list is Louisville, No. 3 at 24-2. Then come No. 4 Maryland, No. 12 Notre Dame, No. 16 Rutgers and Cincinnati, tied for 17th.

Not counting Louisville, the seven others are 142-42.

In the West Regional, No. 2 UCLA, 23-3, heads the field. Then come No. 6 Arizona State and No. 10 Alabama.

Excluding UCLA, the seven others are 141-41.

Two East winners move on to Providence, R.I., March 20 and 22. Midwest winners Saturday will play the same dates at Dayton, Ohio. The Midwest survivors will play at Las Cruces, N.M., and the West winners Saturday will play at Portland, Ore.

The four regional champions will converge on San Diego, Calif., for the national semifinals March 29, with the championship game March 31.

Immanuel Wins Title

Immanuel and St. James took church basketball league wins last night. The win iced the title for Immanuel.

Immanuel survived an overtime period to pull out a 58-57 victory over Oakmont in a make-up game. Immanuel had gone ahead at halftime, 28-23 but Oakmont battled back to tie it at 51-51 at the end of regulation time. Immanuel outhit Oakmont 7-6 in the extra frame to win it.

David Hahn led Immanuel with 17, Drew Rumbley had 14 and Cliff McNeil had 11. Bob Lamb had 19 for Oakmont, Bobby Hall 11 and Lannie Norris 10.

St. James had to rally from a 31-30 halftime deficit to beat Jarvis in the second game. Gay Howell led St. James in the second half with 15 points. His 21-point total was second on the team behind Chuck Mohm's 25. Mike Board had 13. Bill Landreth had 24 for Jarvis, John Taylor had 15 and Buddy Turnage 10.

Grapplers Move Up In Tourney

PRINCETON, N.J.—East Carolina University's Jim Blair upset second seeded Billy Martin of Oklahoma State here yesterday in first round action of the NCAA wrestling tournament.

Blair, wrestling in the 118-pound class, gained a 10-5 decision over Martin in the first round of the preliminaries, then dropped a 16-5 decision to Mike McArthur.

In other first round wrestling, Bob Antonacci of Ohio State pinned ECU's Danny Monroe, 4:46, in the 126-pound class.

Tom Marriot of East Carolina decided Brad Dodds of North Dakota State, 9-8 in 142-pound competition, but dropped an 8-4 decision to Andre Allen of Northwestern.

Nicklaus Derailed By Double Bogey

SQUINTING IN THE SUN—Johnny Miller squints as he hits a tee shot Thursday afternoon during the opening

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Jack Nicklaus failed to get it home again. He had a good round going and couldn't finish it. Nicklaus, who blew the title in the Jackie Gleason Classic with a collapse over the last seven holes, had it five under par and was two strokes clear of the field when he prepared to hit his second shot on the 18th hole Thursday in the first round of the $150,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament. He hit it in the lake to the left of the 18th green. "It led to double bogey 6. "I turned something exceptional into a 69," said Nicklaus. "It's disappointing. I had a chance to get a couple of shots in front and I let it go away." Instead of a couple of shots in front, his 69 put him one behind co-leaders Gary McCord and Wally Armstrong, who matched four-under-par efforts in the gusty, whipping winds that swept the 7,028-yard Blue Monster course at the Doral Country Club. Nicklaus was one stroke off the pace and tied with former Doral champion Mike Hill, long-hitting Jim Dent, Bobby Mitchell and Larry Nelson. Lee Trevino rallied for a 70, just two shots back and in strong contention, after shooting an erratic 39 on his front side. Johnny Miller struggled to a 72 in winds he said were "the strongest I've seen since the British Open." McCord led in the 1974 Bing Crosby and Armstrong in the Houston Open of the same year. Both let it get away. Neither has yet won.

His Third Straight Year Thompson Again All-Star

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — North Carolina State's David Thompson is an All-America for the third straight year—which shouldn't surprise his fans, his coach or the pro scouts.

Thompson, everybody's darling, was named to The Associated Press 1975 All-America team Friday along with Notre Dame's Adrian Dantley, Dave Meyers of UCLA, Luther "Ticky" Burden of Utah and Indiana's Scott May.

John Lucas, Maryland's distinguished guard, made The AP's Second Team for the second straight season. Along with Lucas on the Second Team, a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters selected Syracuse's Rudy Hackett, Gus Williams of Southern Cal, Alabama's Leon Douglas and Kentucky's Kevin Grevey. The Third Team included, Clyde Mayes of Furman, Phil Sellers of Rutgers, Richmond's Bob McCurdy, Lionel Hollins of Arizona State and Ron Lee of Oregon.

Dantley scored more than 30 points a game this season, rising to the heights against Notre Dame's toughest teams. He scored 60 points in two games against UCLA, 32 against top-ranked Indiana and 29 against Maryland. His biggest game was a 49-point effort against Air Force.

Southern Cal Buckled, Sank In NCIT Upset

By NORM CLARKE
AP Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Youth-laden Arizona cracked the ice Thursday in the National Commissioners Invitational basketball tournament. Southern California buckled and sank.

had to end this way, particularly for Gus," said a dejected Bob Boyd, coach of the Trojans. Williams, USC's leading scorer with a 21.3 average, gingerly tested out his injured ankle before the game but found it too tender.

"I looked up in the stands and saw a lot of old friends. It sort of revved me up," Drake broke away from a 59-59 deadlock behind key baskets by Haralson, Andy Graham and Terry McKissick.

The 6-foot-4 Thompson was an obvious choice for the first team after a magnificent season which produced 30 points a game and plenty of thrills for Wolfpack fans. An electrifying player with superhuman leaping powers, Thompson's specialty was a home-made "alleyoop" shot where he sailed above the basket to take a teammate's lob for an easy field goal.

"This was a great win for us," said Wildcat Coach Fred Snowden, after his club ended a 24-year absence from post-season play with a crunching 94-78 opening round victory over East Carolina.

Drake, hitting a sensation 21 of 28 shots in the second half, sealed Southern Cal's fate with a slowdown game that produced easy baskets in the final minutes. The Bulldogs entered the eight-team tourney with a 16-10 record, identical to Purdue's as the worst mark in the meet.

"Obviously, it is one of the biggest wins of the year for us," said Drake Coach Bob Oretegel. "We didn't quit."

His most explosive performance this season was a 57-point, 17-rebound show against Buffalo State. But he had other performances almost as remarkable.

Southern Cal, considered a co-favorite with Arizona, walloped without standout playmaker Gus Williams and fell to upstart Drake, 80-70.

Keying the upset was Louisville product Larry Haralson, whose 20 points represented a high for him before the local fans. A crowd of 5,000 turned out.

Purdue and Missouri, 18-8, tangle in Friday's first game. Tennessee, 18-7, and Bowling Green, 17-9, square off in the nightcap.

Pro scouts have described Thompson as "the most devastating player in the college game today."

Elimination of the 13th-ranked Trojans was the major surprise of the day. USC had finished second to NCIT champion Indiana in last year's finals.

"I feel very comfortable in this place," said the 6-foot-9 Haralson after stunning USC.

Arizona, now 21-6, rode the inside scoring of 6-foot-10 sophomore Bob Elliott and 6-foot-8 junior Al Fleming to out-distance East Carolina with a late breakthrough.

Pro scouts have described Thompson as "the most devastating player in the college game today."

Drug Charge For Bengal Lineman

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals defensive lineman Bob Maddox won a continuance on a drug charge until March 27 following his arrest at his apartment here Wednesday night in a raid by agents of the Regional Enforcement Narcotics Unit (RENU).

A spokesman for Bengals expressed disappointment at the arrest of Maddox, but took no action in the case. The team immediately fired reserve quarterback Mike Ernst in 1974 following his arrest on a drug charge. RENU agents said they confiscated 24 ounces of Hashish during the raid. Both Maddox and a local bartender, Terry James Cunningham, were charged with possession of an hallucinogen for sale and were freed on $1,000 bond each.

Awards To 9 Boy Scouts

GRIFTON—Nine boys of Grifton Boy Scout Troop 730 received awards during ceremonies recently at the First Baptist Church. Receiving the scout badge were Brian Edwards, Guy Dixon, John Lyerly, Andy Maynard, Allan Haseley and Van McCullen. The camping skill award was presented to Brian Edwards, Robbie Watson, Guy Dixon, and Doug Williams. Receiving the citizenship skill award were Robbie Watson, Guy Dixon, Sam Mann and Doug Williams. Other awards presented include: cooking skill award, Robbie Watson, Guy Dixon, Van McCullen and Allan Haseley; Family living skill award, Robbie Watson and Doug Williams; first aid, Doug Williams, Sam Mann and Robbie Watson; conservation, Doug Williams. Merit badges were awarded to the following scouts: Robbie Watson, camping and coin collection; Guy Dixon, basketball; Sam Mann, Doug Williams and Allan Haseley, home repairs. Dave Logrando and Jack Dumelow are scoutmasters of Troop 730.

The troupe includes Bonnie, 21, who sings and dances; Kiersten (Kiki), 17, who plays the rock keyboard; Dustin, 15, drummer; Susannah, 25, company manager. "And Cathy, 25, comes along to help with transportation — when she isn't busy with her horse shows," Buddy added. "The Buddy Ebsen Show" includes songs, dances, a bit with Buddy as Jed Clampett of "The Beverly Hillbillies" and even the old burlesque routine, "Floogle Street." So far the family has been barnstorming through California with dates in Merced, Visalia, Placerville, Sacramento, San Jose and El Camino College in Torrance, a Los Angeles suburb. "The possibilities for a show like this are unlimited — summer theaters, Las Vegas, state fairs," Buddy reflected, "but I'm not gonna rush into it. I'll let the show mature, let it grow until the people are clamoring for it." The other part of his planning concerns his television future — "if CBS doesn't pick up 'Barnaby Jones' I could move into a variety show; I could be the next Ed Sullivan." The chances of CBS not renewing "Barnaby Jones" are minuscule. The detective series has been performing nicely in the ratings for most of its two and a half years. "And that's despite having three time slots in three months," the series' star grumbled. "We finished the season on Sunday, got moved to Saturday during the summer and opened the new season on Tuesday.

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer NEW YORK (AP) — News-caster Frank Blair, the last original cast member of NBC's "Today" leaves the program for good today after more than 23 years of predawn reveilles to prepare for the daily show. The sober-faced South Carolinian who became an American institution by virtue of his record "Today" tour, says he isn't quitting broadcasting, but does plan to loaf a few weeks in West Palm Beach, Fla. Then, he says, he'll concentrate on commercials, lectures, a documentary or two and "be able to do it at my own pace. I won't have the confinement I've had for 23 years."

Blair, 59, broke into broadcasting 40 years ago, joined NBC in 1950 and started on "Today" with anchorman Dave Garroway and announcer Jack Lescault when the two-hour show premiered on Jan. 14, 1952.

In the first nine months, he said, he was based in Washington, D.C., and did on-air interviews with various worthies as correspondent Bill Monroe currently does in the modern version of "Today." The show's producers later moved him to New York permanently for newscasting duties. He's been here ever since, though he now rarely conducts interviews and his newscasts are composed by staff writers. In the first shaky years of "Today," J. Fred Muggs, a now-famous chimpanzee was added to the cast for reasons which still elude Blair. (Irony note: Muggs was to appear today on ABC's new "AM America" show, which was on against a two-hour Blair salute on "Today.") "I think J. Fred was brought in to interest young people in watching "Today," Blair said of the old days. "But I never could really fathom the chimp being on a news program, even though "Today" was more than just a news program in the Garroway years. "It was a little bit of everything, but we're more news-oriented today than we've ever been since I've been on the show." Blair is being replaced on "Today" by Lew Wood, 46, a veteran broadcast newsman who for the last three years has done only commercials, not news, on television.

ITURBI NOT SAYING FAREWELL
NEW YORK (AP) — Pianist Jose Iturbi is on a tour but it is not a farewell tour, say his press representatives here. A recent published report said that Iturbi is retiring after this season. Iturbi is 79.

This wacky, crazy, beautiful film has awakened, become a giant, and turned the movie world upside down. There is one reason for this phenomenon: people love the King.

ALAN BATES in

KING OF HEARTS

In an isolated surreal pocket of World War I, the British send Alan Bates into a highly unlikely, tiny French town to discover a bomb. The townspeople have fled and the inmates of the local asylum have taken their place. The resulting interaction gives us some of the most enchanting sequences on film. When the reality of the returning armies breaks the bubble and the inmates have returned to the asylum, we can really share Bates' confusion about which people are really insane. In our opinion, KING OF HEARTS is a rare treat, funny and sad at the same time.

This wacky, beautiful film has awakened, become a giant, and turned the movie world upside down. There is one reason for this phenomenon: people love the King.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market swung upward in active trading today, bolstered by new signs of easing credit conditions.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 6.11 at 769.09, and gainers outnumbered losers by more than a 3-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

After Thursday's close, weekly figures from the Federal Reserve showed a sharp drop in loan demand at major New York banks—a development which tended to raise expectations of a further decline in the bank prime lending rate.

This morning, New York's First National City Bank and Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh cut their basic rates on corporate loans to 7 1/2 per cent, joining a couple of other large banks at that level.

A government economist called the news "a healthy sign for the troubled economy."

Housing and building materials issues gained in apparent response to a Senate committee's tentative approval of tax breaks of up to $2,000 on home purchases for the rest of the year.

U.S. Home rose 3/4 to 7; Kaufman & Broad 3/4 to 9 1/2; Louisiana-Pacific 1/4 to 14 1/2; and Weyerhaeuser 1 to 33 1/4.

Bausch & Lomb picked up 1 to 2 1/4. The company said it received Food & Drug Administration approval to market its soft contact lenses for therapy.

Much In Common

Relatives usually have a lot in common. Cousins Billy Glisson of Route 5, Greenville and Sammy Manning Glisson of Route 4, Greenville seem to have a bit more in common than usual, Thursday.

Greenville police were called to investigate a traffic accident at the intersection of Tenth Street and Dickinson Avenue and found trucks driven by the Glissons had collided.

What's more, the two 1973 model vehicles are the same make, bought on the same day from the same auto dealer, and both are insured by the same insurance company.

Incidentally, both men are employed by the same drink bottling firm here. And damage was estimated by police at $200 to each of the two trucks. No charges were made by investigating officers.

Private Banks 'Nationalized'

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer
LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal's leftist military government nationalized the nation's private banks today. Hundreds of bank employees demonstrated in the streets of Lisbon in support of the takeover.

Shouting "The banks belong to the people!" the bank clerks marched through the Portuguese capital's financial district. A rain-streaked banner bobbing above a sea of umbrellas identified one group of demonstrators as "The Cell of the Portuguese Communist Party of the Bank of Totta and Azores," one of the country's leading organizations.

In Madrid, former Portuguese President Antonio de Spínola, who flew to Spain on Tuesday after the Portuguese government crushed what it called a right-wing revolt, boarded a plane reportedly bound for Brazil, one of the world's few Portuguese-speaking places.

In Moscow, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said it was widely felt that failure of the "plot" against the Portuguese government "will lead to a definite polarization of class forces and will facilitate the revolutionary and democratic process in Portugal."

The seizure of the banks in Portugal was a clear victory for the leftist bank unions and demonstrated again the power assumed by the military leadership earlier this week.

The demonstration of support, one of many expected in the next few days, took place in the area where four years ago police from the deposed rightist

At Ban Me Thuot, the capital of Darlac province in the Central Highlands, the government said fighting continued for the fifth day, but much of it was said to be outside the city. However, a spokesman reported that many areas were under North Vietnamese control.

Officers in Saigon said both the North and South Vietnamese forces, numbering 5,000 or more men each, were regrouping for what could be the decisive battle for control of the city.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said radio contact had been regained with nine Americans trapped in Ban Me Thuot since the attack began Monday. They include an embassy official, Paul Struharik of Barborton, Ohio, and eight missionaries. Struharik said the group was in "fine condition" with adequate supplies of food, water and medicine.

An attempt to evacuate them was considered hazardous Thursday because of heavy North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire. More heavy fighting also was reported on the northern coast near Hue, with 70 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and nine government troops killed and 60 government soldiers wounded.

Explosive Event For Celebration
WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UPI) — The bicentennial starts this year for visitors to Colonial Williamsburg. The 200th anniversary of the powder magazine incident which led directly to the revolution in Virginia will be marked on April 21, 1975.

Family Bibles Get Bookbinder's Care

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Writer
ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — Ed Factly, who pursues the ancient art of bookbinding with wheel press and hand, says people are thinking more of God in these days of uncertainty, judging from the growing number of old, worn Bibles he repairs.

"Most of what's left of my business is restoring family Bibles, those treasured not only for their content but also for certifications of births and deaths written in them maybe 100 years ago," says 72-year-old, white-bearded Factly, a hand bookbinder since he was 13.

Factly's workshop is in the tidy, wood-stove-heated basement of his home. His equipment is a throwback in history — a big, metal bookcutter, a wheel press, an intricate gold stenciling machine, glue and various cover materials.

"When I was a kid I got acquainted with an old German, Otto Piltz, whose bookbinding work fascinated me," recalls Factly. "I would run over to his place here in Elgin after dinner and just watch him. He was a great artist. That's how I began."

On the side, Factly had his own Dixieland band. "I played the drums, banjo and violin," he said. "I only have my violin left. The strings are all broken."

Factly said one of his most interesting jobs was restoring a Bible dating back to Civil War times. "It had been picked up on a battlefield and imprints of horses' hooves were on it," he said. "It was a cutting and pasting job with restoration of the leather covers and took me about four solid days to complete. Once a fellow brought in a huge Bible that was falling apart. To save money, he wanted me to do the best I could by using adhesive tape. I told him to take it somewhere else. If a book is really battered, I charge from $50 to $65 to repair it."
