

Weather

Considerable cloudiness through tonight and chance of showers Wednesday.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

INSIDE READING

Page 2 — Marketbasket Prices
Page 5 — Future: Water-Crisis?
Page 12 — Less No-Fault Pressure

94th Year NO. 78

TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION
GREENVILLE, N.C. TUESDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 1, 1975

20 PAGES — 3 SECTIONS

PRICE 15 CENTS

Two-Thirds Of South Vietnam Captured

By The Associated Press
Communist troops gobbled up more territory today in their speedy conquest of the central coast of South Vietnam, leaving the Saigon government in control of only about one-third of the country's land mass.

Government troops abandoned Qui Nhon, the third largest city about 280 miles northeast of Saigon, and North Vietnamese forces pushed close to Nha Trang, 100 miles down the coast, where rioting broke out as the Saigon regime's representatives fled.

The U.S. consulate in Nha Trang, which is 200 miles northeast of Saigon, burned its records and evacuated its staff. Shooting was heard in the city of 200,000 people, and at least one building was seen burning.

Next in the path of the North Vietnamese are Cam Ranh, Phan Rang and Phan Thiet, the last of the coastal enclaves.

With the abandonment of Qui Nhon in Binh Dinh Province, the Communists now occupy the upper half of South Vietnam and all of the central part except a dwindling strip along the coast — a total of 14 of 44 provinces and 74 of 243 district towns or two-thirds of the country.

The Saigon government is crowded into the southeast corner of the country.

However, Communist forces also control scattered areas in the Mekong Delta although the government still holds all the major towns and cities there.

The Saigon command reported fighting at Duc My and Minh Hoa, district capitals 15 miles north of Nha Trai, but other sources said North Vietnamese sappers had been spotted inside Nha Trang. The sources said most government administrative and military staffs had been evacuated from the threatened city.

Some fighting was reported around the Phu Cat air base, once a major U.S. Air Force base 20 miles north of Qui Nhon. But it, too, was overrun, and the Communist advance down the coast rolled on unchecked.

In neighboring Cambodia,

President Lon Nol left the country for Indonesia and the United States expressed the hope that his departure would open the way for peace negotiations with the Khmer Rouge insurgents.

The Viet Cong in a broadcast said if President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam was ousted, it was ready for peace talks with a new Saigon government "to quickly settle all the affairs of South Vietnam." Former Premier Nguyen Cao Ky also called again for Thieu to quit, accusing him of poor leadership.

The United States began a new airlift of military supplies to Saigon to replace some of the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of equipment abandoned by the South Vietnamese army in the northern and central provinces. A big C-5A Air Force transport made a non-stop flight from California with 14 howitzers and tons of ammunition and communications equipment.

The U.S. government also announced it was continuing efforts to evacuate South Vietnamese in front of the Communist advance. It said four U.S. ships were loading off Qui Nhon, one each off Tuy Hoa and Nha Trang, and one was still standing by off Da Nang in case any more escaped from that northern port, which the North Vietnamese occupied Sunday.

Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger, who two weeks ago said an attack on Saigon would not come before next year, predicted "major action" against the capital "in the next month or two," before the South Vietnamese army can stabilize its defenses.

Schlesinger said the United States "continues to have an obligation to be helpful to South Vietnam" but "what particular form that help takes remains to be seen."

Some U.S. government experts in Washington said there was no way to stop the Communist offensive from rolling over the rest of the country.

White House press secretary Ron Nessen reported that President Ford feels the debacle in South Vietnam was caused by Hanoi's violations of the Paris peace agreement and by the failure of Congress to grant his request for more aid.

With the capture of Qui Nhon and Binh Dinh province, the Communists now have occupied the upper half of South Vietnam and all of the central part except a dwindling strip along the coast. They also control scattered areas in the Mekong Delta although the Saigon government still holds all the major towns and cities there.

Lon Nol Leaves Country

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — With insurgent shells exploding only 100 yards from his place, Cambodian President Lon Nol left his country today in a move to pave the way for peace talks with the Communist rebels.

He stopped briefly in Thailand, then flew to the Indonesian capital of Jakarta in a jet belonging to the state-owned Indonesian oil corporation, Pertamina.

After an hour's stay at the Jakarta airport's VIP room, he and his entourage took off for the Indonesian island of Bali accompanied by Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik.

Lon Nol will spend the next 10 days relaxing in a mountain top summer palace overlooking lush green valleys on Bali, then continue on to the United States.

As he left Phnom Penh, the Indian government recognized Prince Norodom Sihanouk's government in exile as the government of Cambodia.

At the same time, former Cambodian President Cheng Heng arrived in Paris and said he hoped for a quick cease-fire in his homeland. Both Cheng Heng and Lon Nol were marked for death by the Cambodian rebels.

The ailing, 61-year-old Lon Nol and an entourage of 27, including Premier Long Boret and their families, took off in a jetliner for Thailand as insurgent rockets fell on Phnom Penh airport.

Bonus Day

Tomorrow's edition of The Daily Reflector will contain a big bonus for its readers who take advantage of redeemable coupons.

The Wednesday newspaper, in addition to its regular supermarket advertising, will publish individual advertisements for eight popular food and household items with redeemable coupons totaling $1.90 in value off the purchase price.

"If you're a thrifty shopper, you'll want to clip and use these valuable coupons at your favorite stores," stated Mike Brocato, Reflector advertising manager.

Arrest Another Local Physician

Greenville physician Dr. W.S. Dawson, 42, of 203 South Sylvan Dr. was arrested here this morning on drug-law violation charges in connection with an undercover investigation conducted by the State Bureau of Investigation and the Greenville Police Department.

Chief Glenn Cannon said Dr. Dawson was charged with eight counts of dispensing drugs, illegally, to an SBI undercover agent.

Bond for the general practitioner was set at $20,000.

According to the chief, officers have been hunting for Dr.

Dawson for a week — since a state-wide crackdown on alleged drug traffickers began March 25.

The physician, Cannon explained, was arrested by SBI agents this morning after he contacted Pitt Sheriff's Department deputies in connection with an unrelated civil case.

Dawson was the second physician arrested in Greenville in connection with the undercover investigation. Dr. A.A. Best was charged a week ago on six counts of dispensing drugs illegally.

BEACH SCENE—The view from a South Vietnamese LST as some 6,000 S. Viet marines evacuate the port city of Da Nang from China Beach Saturday. Some marines cling to inner tubes trying to reach the boat. Along the beach is the litter of abandoned APCs, tanks, trucks, a helicopter and more Marines. Smoke rises from Viet Cong-fired rockets which slammed into the area causing heavy casualties and forced men to panic. (AP Radiophoto)

N.C. Judges Receive Help In How To Charge Juries

RALEIGH (AP)—The number of reversals and new trials ordered by North Carolina appeals courts is expected to be reduced through use of a new tool aimed at making judges' charges to juries more understandable and more solidly based on the law.

The new tool is a three-volume set of pattern jury charges produced by a committee of 13 judges in a study begun 14 years ago. Two of the volumes, on criminal law and on civil motor vehicle negligence cases, are in use, and the final volume covering other civil cases, is expected to be ready for publication by late summer.

The committee, headed by retired Judge Francis O. Clarkson of Charlotte, studied State Supreme Court decisions, state laws and published pattern jury instructions from other states. The judges sought to develop the simplest possible pattern jury charges for North Carolina courts, so they could be readily understood by jurors.

Associate Justice James C. Exum of the State Supreme Court described the nearly finished three-volume set of books by the committee as "the greatest boon to the trial judge we have had in North Carolina in my memory."

He said about 20 to 30 per cent of the reversals ordered by North Carolina appellate courts result from errors in jury charges.

The three volumes, one for criminal cases, one for civil motor vehicle negligence cases and one for other civil cases, contain patterns explaining the law which trial judges can follow in making their charges to juries.

Justice Exum said that a trial judge having the pattern charges "has a good basis to prepare his charge and in many cases he can use the pattern charges without any change at all."

The drive to improve charges in North Carolina courts and to make them more understandable by juries originated in 1961 with retired Judge J. Will Pless of Marion when he appointed a committee of three judges. That committee evolved eventually into the committee of 13.

Two of the volumes, on criminal cases and civil motor vehicle negligence cases, have been published and distributed to judges and attorneys. The final volume, on general civil cases, is expected to be ready for publication in late summer.

Bert Montague, director of the Administrative Office of the Courts, said the experience in other states has been that pattern charges "do cut down on errors in trials."

"They are obviously a time saver...and you are pretty sure when you use them that they will stand up on appeal," Montague added.

Farm Prices Continue Drop, But Consumers Expected To Pay More

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm prices have declined for the fifth straight month but consumer food costs are expected to continue rising because of higher middleman costs, the Agriculture Department says.

The Crop Reporting Board said Monday that the 2 per cent drop in prices paid farmers for raw agricultural goods from Feb. 15 to March 15 was due chiefly to lower prices for wheat, corn, cotton, soybeans, tomatoes and milk.

The decline was partially offset by higher prices for cattle, onions and apples.

Retail food prices have continued to rise because of higher middleman costs for transporting, processing and selling the products. Department officials say those will continue to push up consumer food costs through midyear although at a lesser pace than in the first six months of 1974.

As of March 15 the average of all farm prices was 15 per cent below a year earlier, the department said. Prices farmers pay to meet expenses dropped one-half of one per cent during the month but averaged 10 per cent above March 15, 1974.

The farm price index began its current slide last Nov. 15 when it dropped 1.5 per cent from mid-October. It was 3 per cent lower on Dec. 15, dropped another 1.5 per cent on Jan. 15 and fell 3 per cent on Feb. 15. The food grains portion of the latest index, including prices for wheat and rice, was down 7 per cent from Feb. 15 and averaged 28 per cent below a year earlier, officials said. The vegetable price index was down 5 per cent from mid-February but was 29 per cent above March 15 last year.

Farm prices of meat animals as a group rose one per cent from Feb. 15. But the index was 20 per cent below a year earlier.

Last week the department said the annual retail cost of a marketbasket of farm-produced food rose four-tenths of 1 per cent in February to a record of $1,830. That was a rise of $7 in the annual rate from January, with middleman charges going up $8 while the farmers' share declined $1 during the month.

According to official USDA projections, retail food prices are expected to average 2 to 3 per cent higher in the first three months of this year and rise a further 3 per cent in the second quarter.

Department experts say, however, that there may be some revisions soon in those projections. Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz told the White House recently that he expected retail food price increases to average only 1.5 to 2 per cent higher in each of the first two quarters of this year.

A year ago, food prices in retail stores climbed 5.3 per cent in the first quarter and another 1.4 per cent in the second.

If Butz is correct, including his prediction that food prices may level off and possibly begin declining for some items after midyear, the 1975 increase could be held to about one-half of last year's 14.5 per cent average increase from 1973.

But USDA economists say they cannot predict with certainty how food prices will shape up after midyear. They say that much depends on 1975 crops of wheat, corn and other commodities. Short harvests last year were part of the reason for the 1974 food price increase.

According to the monthly farm price support, the March 15 index for all "farm commodities averaged 165 per cent of its 1967 base.

One Eye On Costs In Planning Medical School

An East Carolina University official, heavily involved in planning for a four-year medical school, indicated today that those working on the project are doing all in their power to keep the cost of the project as low as possible without endangering the quality of the program.

Dr. Edwin Monroe, vice-chancellor for Health Affairs at ECU, said today "we understand the problem that the General Assembly is facing and are doing all that we can do, in our relatively small way as compared to the overall state budget, to help in the resolution of the problem."

Monroe's comments came in light of a statement by Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt Friday that funds for expansion of the medical school at ECU might have to be cut sharply. Some $54 million, has been recommended and included in a proposed budget now before the General Assembly.

Hunt said the expansion of the medical school "is going to have to be done on the smallest possible budget," suggesting the proposed use of Pitt Memorial Hospital as the primary teaching hospital for the school.

Both the hospital's Board of Trustees and medical staff last month approved a proposed affiliation agreement with the school.

Monroe today said "once the appropriate authorities have reached a decision concerning the two major alternatives for hospital facilities (using PCMH facilities or constructing a separate facility), the General Assembly will be able to make a decision as to how much of the necessary funds they can make available. (Some $20 million of the requested $54 million in the proposed budget is earmarked for hospital construction).

The ECU vice-chancellor emphasized, "It's kind of complicated. The hospital staff and trustees have endorsed the concept of the new hospital (PCMH) being the major teaching hospital for the medical school. That has to be endorsed now by the EC Board of Trustees and by the UNC (University of North Carolina) administration and Board of Governors."

Monroe concluded, "I personally remain convinced that the majority of the members of the General Assembly are committed to doing whatever is necessary to proceed with the development of the four-year medical school.

REFLECTOR

HOTLINE

752-1336

Hotline gets things done for you. Call 752-1336 and tell your problem or your sound-off or mail it to Hotline, The Daily Reflector, Box 1967, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

Because of the large numbers received, Hotline can answer and publish only those items considered most pertinent to our readers. Names must be given, but only initials will be used. Transcribing is done once a day, but the phone service is available 24 hours a day.

NO SERVICE, NO FEE

My father was to meet a doctor at the hospital emergency room Sunday night at 9 p.m. More than two hours later, he was still waiting and was told that the doctor, whom he had seen in the hall, had gone home. Then, close to midnight, he had to drive to Wilson to be treated. F.M.

Hotline verified everything you said with the Pitt Memorial Director of Nursing. She said to please tell you that you will not be charged the Emergency room fee, since you actually received no service, and that the hospital regrets the inconvenience you suffered.

HOW TO CHECK

I mailed my tax returns in to Memphis Jan 16 and was due a refund of $173. I made an error, filing as a single person, rather than a head of household. I receive a form over a month ago and corrected my error. Several of my friends have received their refunds when they filed much later than I did. I need the money. E. F.

Hotline has received numerous inquiries similar to yours in the past few weeks. We knew from experience that the Internal Revenue Service will not talk to us about someone's tax problems, but here's some information that might help: Hilton Boyd, group manager of the Collections and Taxpayer Service division of the local IRS office said, "Refunds are processed much more quickly than they used to be. Anyone who has not received one within eight to 10 weeks definitely should be concerned. Of course, the later one waits the more returns there are to be dealt with and therefore, the longer it takes. April 15 is fast approaching and our office is swamped with work, but after Apr. 15, I would suggest that anyone who sent a return in before Feb. and has not received a refund come to our office. We have access to computer service that enables us to check on a refund while one waits. Anyone wishing to inquire by mail may write the Internal Revenue Servicenter, 3131 Democrat Road, Memphis, Tenn. 38110. Be sure to include your name exactly as it appeared on your tax return and your Social Security number."

Any correspondence, such as your change of filing status, after a return has been sent in would slow your refund considerably, Boyd said, because yours would be put in a later group, with many, many more other people's returns.

Many Declines Reported In Marketbasket Prices

MARKETBASKET COMPARISON

	EGGS			SUGAR			CHUCK
	MARCH 1	APRIL 1	% Change	MARCH 1	APRIL 1	% Change	MARCH 1	APRIL 1	% Change
ALBUQUERQUE	.71	.75	+6	2.35	2.29	-3	.98	1.08	+10
ATLANTA	.65	.75	+15	2.89	2.39	-17	.88	1.19	+35
BOSTON	.77	.81	+5	2.51	2.11	-16	1.09	1.19	+9
CHICAGO	.65	.44	-32	2.49	1.99	-20	.89	.98	+10
DALLAS	.59	.67	+14	2.33	1.97	-15	.95	.95	0
DETROIT	.65	.65	0	2.19	1.69	-23	.98	.98	0
MIAMI	.73	.71	-3	2.55	2.27	-11	1.09	1.19	+9
LOS ANGELES	.65	.60	-8	2.53	1.77	-30	.63	.69	+10
NEW YORK	.75	.75	0	2.99	2.59	-13	1.59	1.59	0
PHILADELPHIA	.85	.79	-7	2.55	2.09	-18	.99	.99	0
PROVIDENCE	.77	.77	0	2.41	2.11	-12	.85	1.19	+40
SALT LAKE	.66	.68	+3	2.65	2.39	-10	.79	.79	0
SEATTLE	.57	.55	-4	2.56	2.25	-12	.93	.89	-4

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

There's good news at the grocery store. An Associated Press marketbasket survey shows prices declined on a wide variety of items during March, cutting supermarket bills by more than 2 per cent.

The decreases did not follow any particular pattern and they were offset, in part, by increases in the price of chopped chuck and eggs. But the declines do provide an indication that grocery prices may be leveling off and that this year's rate of increase will be below the cost spirals of 1973 and 1974.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price on March 1, 1973 at a supermarket in each of 13 cities and has rechecked at the start of each succeeding month.

During March, the marketbasket bill declined in 11 cities, down an average of 3.2 per cent, and increased in two cities, up an average of six-tenths of a per cent. Over-all, there was an average drop of 2.7 per cent.

The situation was an improvement over February, when the bill dropped in nine cities and rose in four, but the price of groceries was still much higher than last year.

In the 12-months ended March 31, the marketbasket bill went up an average of 14.2 per cent. Over the 25-month period during which the AP has been checking prices, the bill went up 29.8 per cent.

Farmers have been getting less money for their products, but the decrease has not been fully reflected at the supermarket, mainly because the cost of the food itself is only a small factor in the over-all price paid by the consumer. Higher costs for transportation, labor, fuel and other items have taken up much of the decrease.

In addition, the food processors and retailers are trying to make up for profit lost during the 1973 price freeze.

The decreases in the AP survey were led by sugar which dropped in price in every city checked and was down an average of 15 per cent during the month. In four cities — Chicago, Dallas, Detroit and Los Angeles — the price of a five-pound sack of granulated sugar was below $2 for the first time since last fall.

Beef prices, which have been declining recently because of abundant supplies, increased again, partly because of Easter sales that featured other meat items at the expense of things like hamburger.

The price of a pound of chopped chuck went up in seven cities during March, with increases ranging from 9 per cent in Miami to 40 per cent in Providence, R.I.

In contrast, pork chops, which have been going up in price, went down in six cities, despite smaller supplies of pork caused by production cutbacks on the part of farmers who say costs are too high for them to make a profit.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

Three Died In Home Fire

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP) — Three prominent Charlotte men on a golfing holiday were killed late Monday night when a fire swept through a home on the grounds of the Country Club of North Carolina.

A fourth was injured when he jumped through a window.

Dead are William Reynolds Cuthbertson Sr., 77, chairman of the board of City National Bank in Charlotte; Robert Sidney Abernathy, 67, chairman of the board of Interstate Securities Corp.; and Robert Paul Jamison, 74, who maintained an active law practice.

Bascomb Barnard, 81, a former vice president of North Carolina National Bank, was reported in stable condition in the intensive care unit at Moore Memorial Hospital after he was admitted for multiple lacerations.

Moore County Coroner A.B. Parker said the other men died from smoke inhalation.

Parker said the cause of the fire was undetermined, but he said Barnard told him a cigarette may have started the blaze.

SUMMERTIME VISITOR—This is a bigger-than-life view of a common summertime visitor, the mosquito. The 500-times enlargement was made with the University of Illinois' scanning electron microscope at Champaign-Urbana, Ill.

The tiny balls are the insect's multi-faceted eyes, the antennae come out of the head and extend to the right and left, the "stinger" extends down out of the picture. (AP Wirephoto)

City School Lunch Menu

Lunchroom menus for remainder of the week at Greenville elementary schools have been announced as follows:

Wednesday—beef ravioli, carrot sticks, rolls, apple cobbler, milk.

Thursday—beef bits on rice, peas, corn, rolls, strawberry shortcake, milk.

Friday—tuna salad or chicken salad, crackers, french fries, banana pudding, milk.

Angel Food Cake
Diener's Bakery
815 Dickinson Ave.

UPS AND DOWN—Chart compares March 1 and April 1 prices for three of the items checked in 13 cities for the AP Marketbasket Survey. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

Wallace Seeks Bid To Address N.C. Senate

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace has asked for an opportunity to tell the North Carolina Senate it should not abolish the state's presidential primary.

State Sen. Thomas Strickland, D-Wayne, said Monday that he had received a telephone call from Wallace asking for the invitation. Strickland sponsored the 1971 act that created the primary and is fighting its abolition. The state House has already passed a bill to do away with it.

Strickland said he would invite Wallace to speak if a hearing is scheduled. No dates have been discussed, he said.

Wallace easily won the 1972 primary over former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford. Both men have indicated they will seek the presidency again in 1976 and Wallace supporters feel that Sanford is using his influence to deny Wallace an opportunity to win again.

Sanford has said he is indifferent to the primary's fate, and his supporters were on both sides in the House vote last week.

Mickey Griffin, political director of Wallace's presidential campaign staff, said in a telephone interview Monday that Wallace feels his rank and file supporters don't yet know what is happening in the legislature.

"When they find out, we think they'll be pretty hot about it and they'll put pressure on their legislators," he said. Griffin indicated that Wallace might come to North Carolina to speak against the bill even if the legislature does not extend an invitation. "Your capital building has front steps to use as a forum doesn't it?" he said.

Griffin said Wallace is disturbed by the efforts in several states he carried in 1972 to do away with the presidential primary.

Pa. Orders Suspension

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Integon Insurance Co. of Winston-Salem, N.C. was one of three insurance companies suspended from doing business in Pennsylvania by an order issued Monday by the state insurance commissioner.

Commissioner William Sheppard said Integon and the others failed to meet minimum financial requirements. He said they would be allowed to underwrite policies again if they regained financial strength.

The other companies were Interstate Insurance Co. of Collingswood, N.J. and Wisconsin Surety Corp. of Madison, Wis. Integon was suspended effective March 26, 1975 because of "impairments to capital in the amount of $800,614," Sheppard said.

Last year Integon wrote only $99,000 in life insurance premiums and suffered an unrealized capital loss of more than $10 million, according to the commissioner.

Widespread Probe Of Petroleum Overcharge

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration says it has investigated almost 90,000 cases in its year-old probe of petroleum overcharging, involving companies from the oil giants to the smallest fuel retailers.

With only a fraction of the cases completed, the FEA has made companies pay back more than $611 million, and is pursuing more possible overcharges estimated to total anywhere from $50 million to $250 million.

The FEA said Monday it was investigating $101 million in suspected overcharges by Gulf Oil Corp.

A Gulf spokesman said FEA officials and officers of Gulf were discussing the agency's suspicions. But Gulf denied an FEA statement that the company has informally agreed to cancel some $40 million in potential future price hikes, leaving only $61 million still in dispute. A Gulf spokesman said Gulf made no such agreement, while FEA insisted an agreement was made.

Meanwhile, in answer to questions from The Associated Press, the FEA began filling in further details of its far-flung investigations, adding to information released last weekend.

—The FEA said 89,464 petroleum wholesale and retail firms have been investigated and the agency has issued 1,197 "remedial orders," requiring the correction of price overcharges. Refunds, possibly including some without remedial orders, have totalled $74,684,273, the FEA said.

—Some 30 major oil refiners are under continuous FEA auditing. As previously reported, FEA has investigated 107 cases of propane pricing, 197 crude oil cases and 190 suppliers of fuel to electric utilities.

—Penalties totalling $930,052, have been collected from 130 firms as a result of price or allocation violations. Nearly half came from previously reported penalties of $300,000 against Union Oil and $150,000 against Petrofina for failing to send gasoline to shortage areas during the Arab oil embargo a year ago.

The FEA said two other companies were penalized in remedial orders correcting propane overcharges: Mid Continent L.P. Service, which repaid $86,807 plus a $10,000 penalty; and Ferrelgas, Inc., which repaid $21, 809 plus a $12,500 penalty. The FEA did not identify the service areas of these companies.

The penalties also included $46,658 collected from unidentified crude oil suppliers who "acknowledged overcharge" and agreed voluntarily to make price refunds totalling $793,601, FEA said.

RECONSTRUCTION

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI) — Reconstruction has begun of the straw vendors section of the Nassau Public Market. The building housing the vendors, a popular tourist attraction, was destroyed by fire last summer.

Westwood Joins Sanford Staff

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Jean Westwood, former national chairman of the Democratic party, has joined the staff of former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford, an unannounced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

A spokesman for Sanford said Monday that Mrs. Westwood would be based in Washington, D.C., and would be working with delegates. He said she also would be Sanford's representative on the arrangements committee for the 1976 Democratic National Convention.

Sanford, now president of Duke University, has said he plans to announce his candidacy for the nomination after the current academic year ends.

AFTER EASTER SALE!
ON

WOMEN SHOES

OVER 900 PAIRS ON SALE
WEDNESDAY THRU
SATURDAY

50% Off

DRESS • CASUALS • FLATS • LOAFERS
MOST COLORS — ALL SIZES — ALL WIDTHS

SHOE STORE
Parry's
• Quality
• Fit
• Service
DOWNTOWN 5 POINTS
OPEN DAILY 9 A.M.-6 P.M.

BB&T's flatware offer ends on April 11.

All good things must come to an end. But you still have plenty of time to complete your flatware set at Branch Banking and Trust Company.

Because for every $25 you deposit in your Regular Savings Account before April 11, you can buy a 4-piece place setting of Original Rogers Silverplate, or a 5-piece place setting of International Stainless.

This means, for example, that when you deposit $100 at BB&T, you can buy four place settings or accessories. All at about half of retail.

So come to BB&T today. And enjoy your flatware forever.

CAMELOT SILVERPLATE PRICELIST

Item	Your BB&T Price
4-piece Place Setting:	$3.50
1 Dinner Knife
1 Dinner Fork
1 Salad Fork
1 Teaspoon
4-piece Completer Set:	3.50
1 Butter Knife
1 Sugar Spoon
2 Tablespoons
4-piece Hostess Set:	4.50
1 Cold Meat Fork
1 Berry Spoon
1 Pastry Server
1 Gravy Ladle
6 Iced Teaspoons	3.50
6 Teaspoons	3.50
6 Soup Spoons	4.50
52-Piece Service for Eight (With $1000.00 deposit)	34.50
52-Piece Service for Eight (With $250.00 deposit)	39.50

SERENATA STAINLESS PRICE LIST

Item	Your BB&T Price
5-piece Place Setting	$3.00
1 Dinner Knife
1 Dinner Fork
1 Salad Fork
1 Teaspoon
1 Soup Spoon
4-piece Completer Set:	3.50
1 Butter Knife
1 Sugar Spoon
2 Tablespoons
4-piece Hostess Set:	4.75
2 Pierced Tablespoons
1 Cold Meat Fork
1 Gravy Ladle
6 Iced Teaspoons	3.50
6 Teaspoons	3.50
52-Piece Service for Eight (With $1000.00 deposit)	24.50
52-Piece Service for Eight (With $250.00 deposit)	29.50

BB&T
BRANCH BANKING AND TRUST COMPANY
MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

On-Stage Fantasy Keeps Opera Singer Faithful

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Patricia Brooks says she doesn't need to have extramarital affairs because she takes care of all her inclinations in that direction at work — on the stage of the New York City Opera.

Because Miss Brooks is a soprano she is usually being romanced by a tenor — and sometimes dying or going crazy in the bargain. But it's better, she says, than the problems of a real affair. And in "Lucia di Lammermoor" she doesn't fool around just with the tenor; she also has a fling with the baritone.

First, she says, "I want to say I'm married to a really divine, handsome, sexy, gentle, understanding husband and have been for nearly 20 years." The paragon of that description is producer-director Theodore Mann, a founder of the Circle in the Square Theater. They have two teen-age sons.

But back to what Miss Brooks calls her "affairs of the mind."

"I do have a secret love life. It starts as early as rehearsals. I will notice things about the tenor. Tenors are not always beautiful; sometimes it's easier than others. Maybe he has beautiful eyelashes.

"This triggers a made-up memory. One day I was out wandering and there he was sleeping in the heather (Lucia lives in Scotland) with his horse tethered nearby. I sat down and looked at him and noticed his eyelashes. When he woke up, we got talking and that started this whole thing."

If a tenor lacks even the one redeeming feature of beautiful eyelashes, he has not escaped from Miss Brooks's love land. "I keep on and I do find something about him. It may be simply that he has hangnails. He's vulnerable."

Lucia's brother in the opera is sung by a baritone. "One of my fantasies might be that there might have been an incestuous relationship in the past with the brother. Why not? It makes the fact that the brother, for political reasons, would sell this girl much more meaningful. The audience doesn't have to know that."

The famous Mad Scene also has its other-than-operatic uses for the soprano. "It sounds strange to say but one time I'd been having some argument — discussion — with my husband about trying to keep my checkbook balanced. In the Mad Scene I gave vent to a certain anger and frustration of that situation.

"I come home after an opera more peaceful, almost spent, in a way the way you feel after you've made wonderful love."

This season, Miss Brooks's most demanding part is the title role in Alban Berg's "Lulu," though she also is singing "Lucia di Lammermoor," "I Puritani" and "La Traviata."

"Lulu is a wonderful role in that it's kinky. I can say whatever I want to say as Lulu, whereas Patricia Brooks can't. And you wonder who she hasn't slept with."

But "Lulu" has its drawbacks as a dreamworld. "The music is so darned hard you're constantly trying to think, 'Where's my pitch?'"

Miss Brooks's favorite opera heroine is Melisande, married to the baritone but in love with the tenor Pelleas. Melisande listens more than she sings, Miss Brooks says, and she finds herself thinking and noticing the color of Pelleas's eyes while the opera is going on.

"When a person's arms are around me on stage, I don't think I'm Patricia Brooks. I am Lucia or Melisande. For that moment I feel this man is the only man I love."

And when the curtain falls? Does love linger? Not for Miss Brooks.

"Frankly, I can't imagine anything worse than getting involved with a fellow singer. I have seen it happen and it is terrible. One says, 'Go ahead; it's your moment, my darling,' and then he or she shrinks back and doesn't sing as well.

"All of us need to be gladiators when we get out on that stage — out to do the best for ourselves."

"I see many of my friends split up or have affairs. There are always hangups in affairs, aren't there? One or the other gets too involved."

"Or there are problems — I had a friend who came home with wet hair from an afternoon with a lover. Her husband wanted to know where she'd been and why her hair was wet. What do you say?"

Miss Brooks knows what to say. "Just washing off the makeup from 'Lucia di Lammermoor.'"

Don't Invite Friend Back

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR NEEDS: Certainly not! Your reasons for marrying were nobody's business but your own. Too bad you didn't keep it that way.

DEAR ABBY: Recently, we had a gathering of friends and family in our home. One of the guests removed his shoes and stockings and proceeded to put his foot up on the coffee table on which I had chips, dips and food for nibbling. (He said his feet itched!)

My husband and I were both upset, but neither of us said anything because we felt it would have been poor manners to correct a guest in our home.

We felt that his wife should have quietly said something to him, but since she didn't, we let it go.

Later, another guest told us that we were wrong to have ignored such gross behavior. How do you vote?

HOSTESS

DEAR HOSTESS: With you. Don't invite him back.

DEAR ABBY: After three generations of Johns, my son prefers a nickname. Anything but "John."

He was named John for his father, grandfather and great-grandfather. Also after Saint John. Not a toilet!

Abby, how did that ridiculous fad ever get started? It has become such an accepted part of our language now that even visiting friends have asked: "May I use your john?" I reply: "Of course not!"

What is wrong with using, "restroom, bathroom, or lavatory"? Please, anything but John.

WIFE AND MOTHER OF A JOHN

DEAR WIFE: My consultant on words, Ted Bernstein, informs me that since the earliest times, there have been countless synonyms for "toilet" because people were reluctant to use that word. He suspects that "john" came from the word "jakes," an old English word which means privy. Jakes is a far cry from John, however. Perhaps someone from Flushing has the answer.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe it. Here I am, a 78-year-old woman, writing to Dear Abby! At age 32, I was married by a Presbyterian minister.

Before we were married, my fiancé and I discussed our true feelings for each other. We admitted we weren't wildly in love, but we felt that we could be good companions, work together in a compatible way, and have a good life together. And it turned out that way.

After I was 40, I gave birth to two sons. We were very successful in our farming project, accumulated acreage, and became financially well off.

Now, my oldest son's wife tells me that because I married without being in love, I lived the life of a prostitute. She keeps throwing it up to my son that his mother was a "prostitute."

Abby, my husband and I lived together in peace and harmony for 30 years, and we would be together today but death took him from me. Meanwhile this daughter-in-law who calls me a prostitute has a very stormy marriage, and if that's the result of a "love match" I will take my kind of marriage any day.

Would you say that a woman who married without being passionately in love led the life of a prostitute?

NEEDS BACKING UP

DEAR ABBY: You printed a letter from a woman who wrote to tell you what a wonderful husband she had. Well, let me tell you about mine:

For 26 years, I was married to a man who phoned me three times a day to tell me he loved me and ask how the children and I were. He told me I was beautiful every time I got dressed up, and he took me out to dinner at least twice a week.

He sent me and the children to Florida in the winter to escape the New York cold. He called me in Miami every day, and came down every other weekend to be with me.

He showered me with jewelry and furs, a new car every other year, and I had one of the loveliest homes on Long Island.

P.S. Then, out of the blue, he asked me for a divorce so he could marry the woman he had been seeing for 16 years! I hung on to him for four more years, then realizing it was hopeless, I let him go. He married her the minute he was free.

Now I know why he called me so much, and why he shipped me and the children off to Florida.

At least his guilty conscience made him take good care of me and the children (financially).

Abby, please tell women that when a man is too good to his wife, he could be sending out warning signals.

FOOLED

DEAR FOOLED: How good must a man be to be "too good" to his wife?

It doesn't necessarily follow that a husband who is overly attentive and generous to his wife is acting out of guilt. You don't say what your husband did for a living, but if he had been seeing another woman for 16 years, and you didn't have a clue, he could qualify for an Academy Award.

DEAR ABBY: Eight years ago, I fell in love with a married man. We worked for the same company. I was single at the time, but I didn't believe in wrecking marriages (especially where children were involved), so I didn't let the affair get out of hand.

Two years later, I married a wonderful man. I'll admit, I married him for security, but I soon learned to love him in my fashion. I was a faithful wife for six years. After our second child was born, I went back to my old job. The married man was still there, and the old flame was rekindled. We both tried to fight it, but we couldn't. After a while, we picked up our affair where we had left it.

Abby, I have never been happier. He feels the same way. The strange part of it is that I really love my husband, and he loves his wife, but we still love each other.

Tell me, Abby, is it possible to be in love with two people at the same time?

CONFUSED BUT CONTENT

DEAR CONFUSED: No. However, it's possible to "love" more than one person, but the state of being "in love," as most people know it, is strictly a one-to-one relationship.

Russians May Try Computers

By LYNNE OLSON
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — An old Russian woman was on trial for accepting money as a matchmaker. One of the witnesses, a young woman, was asked by the judge why she had engaged the babushka's services.

"Where else should I look for a bridegroom?" the girl replied. "Maybe at work? But you see, one guy works at our factory for every four girls. Maybe in the park? But guys don't come there to look for brides."

Like their American counterparts, young people in Moscow and other Soviet urban centers often have a hard time meeting prospective mates.

What can be done to solve their predicament? A number of Soviet social scientists are growing more intrigued by a Western invention — match-making by computer.

Although computer dating has never been tried in the Soviet Union, it has been established in several Eastern European countries, including East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary.

The idea was briefly brought up here in 1970, when several newspapers carried stories advocating the establishment of a computerized matchmaking bureau.

But the Communist Party newspaper Pravda ended the discussion in 1971 by condemning the proposal, saying that it "was alien to Soviet society" and did "not include one word about love."

In reviving the idea, its advocates have been very careful to explain that the computer would only be an aid, that love would still be all-important and that the need for such a bureau was greater than ever.

One Soviet explained the need for a wider choice of prospective spouses: "What kind of life does a person have today? He sees his apartment, streetcar and work. His circle of acquaintances is very limited. And the bigger the city, the more complications there are."

In the 1970 census, there were 13 Soviet women for every 11 men. In some towns, particularly textile centers where women have most of the jobs, the ratio jumps to as high as 17 women for every 10 men.

The pros and cons of marriage are not as heatedly debated in the Soviet Union as they are in America. There's still a belief that every person ought to get married if he truly wants to be happy.

"The number of bachelors and spinsters in this country is dangerously increasing," warns writer Yuri Rurikov. "A fourth of the men between 25-30 years old are unmarried. There are tens of millions of persons who haven't found matching persons for themselves."

"This is not only a sea of personal disaster, but also a social disaster. It means there are tens of millions of unborn children, tens of millions of future or — to be more accurate — not future workers."

Soviets take the idea of computer matchmaking much more seriously than did many Americans, who considered computer dating services to be a fad which would lose popularity, despite the widespread publicity given them in the mid-1960s. And that, in fact, is exactly what happened.

But here, computer technology is considered king. Many Soviets believe a computer can solve just about any problem, including those in personal and social areas.

"Our society is interested in solutions of questions of marriage and family on scientific positions," said Alexander Meliksetyan, one of the most vociferous advocates of the idea of computer matchmaking, who has published several articles on the subject.

However, Meliksetyan, a senior scientific fellow attached to the Sex Education Laboratory of the Academy of Pedagogical Sciences, does not foresee the establishment of a state bureau of matchmaking in the near future.

"Before we do anything, we must commission a study on the subject and study foreign experience," he said. "We must know the criteria for compatible mates which are acceptable to our society and from which people can choose."

SUMMER JOBS
NEW YORK (UPI) — Forty-thousand summer jobs are available at several hundred accredited camps for children in a dozen states in the Northeast, says the American Camping Association office here.

Openings include jobs for counselors, skill instructors, maintenance and office-kitchen-medical personnel at resident and day camps. Men and women over 18 seeking such jobs may obtain applications by sending a self-addressed, stamped business envelope to the American Camping Association, Suite 742D, 225 Park Ave. South, New York, N.Y. 10003. —

An electric hand mixer is handy for mixing wallpaper paste. But be sure to clean the mixer immediately, before the glue hardens.

CUSTOM PICTURE FRAMING

Your Seasons

Print and Decorating Center
6006 EAST TENTH STREET

Phone 752-3881

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

It should have been obvious that I was married to a reading freak on our wedding night when my husband turned to me and asked, "Would it bother you if I read a little?"

As he flipped through the pages of the Hotel Directory of Services (underlining major points with a black felt-tip pen) I couldn't help but inquire, "Do you read a lot?"

"No, only when my eyes are open," he said throwing back his head with laughter.

That was 25 years ago. That beautiful union between two young people in love that showed such promise has succeeded in producing the only woman in North America with tan eyelids.

The other night I crawled into bed, zipped open my beach bag, extracted a large bottle of lotion which I patted on my arms, confined my hair in a scarf and put a sun spoon over each eye. "Eat your heart out, Miami Beach," I said and fell back on the pillow.

"I have a feeling you are trying to tell me my reading in bed keeps you awake," he said.

"No, I rather enjoy being a Marty Feldman look-alike. What is it this evening? A bed shaker? Or a Show and Tell?"

"I don't know what you are talking about," he stiffened.

"If it's a funny book, I'll take a Dramamine. Everytime you laugh, my body becomes airborne. Last night it was like sleeping in a bed where the quarter got stuck in the magic fingers slot."

"The book happened to be very funny," he said.

"If Julia Child turns you on..."

"And what do you mean by show and Tell?"

"It means keep your books to yourself. How would you like to have someone shake you out of a sound sleep and say, 'As long as your'e awake, did you realize a hippo will eat 100 pounds of greenery a day?'"

Every night of my marriage for the last 25 years has been a contest. Last night was no different. In this corner, out of Dayton Ohio, weighing 124 pounds we have a fully-matured married housewife looking for her first knockout.

In this corner, straight from James Michener, we have a champion contender, a nine-pound novel, "Centennial."

As the reading lamp spotlighted Michener, I knew it was no contest. I had lost again. Next up on his nightstand is a paperback, "The Birth of String." We're both lightweights, so maybe there's hope.

Births

Hall
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith Hall, 220 Cherrywood Dr., a son, Marcus Samuel, on March 19, 1975, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Fleming
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Van Calvin Fleming III, 224 Commerce St., a daughter, Marjorie Jane, on March 19, 1975, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Raines
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steven Raines, Ayden, a son, Joseph Steven, on March 21, 1975, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Cunningham
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen Cunningham, Kinston, a son, Robert Andrew, on March 21, 1975, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Somers
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Allen Somers, 707 W. Fourth St., a son, Stirling Brae, on March 21, 1975, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

White
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Roosevelt White Sr., 611 Clark St., a son, Jeffrey Keith, on March 22, 1975, in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Jones
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Jones, Washington, D. C., a daughter, Mary Lisa, on March 28, 1975. Mrs. Jones is the former Mary Virginia Langston of Winterville.

Family Reunion Scheduled For April 20

JASON — The Parrott Mewborn II family reunion will be held Sunday, April 20 at Mewborn Church near here in Greene County.

Parrott Mewborn II and wife, Mary Aldridge, were married in 1821 and had the following children; Temesia Mewborn Hardy; George Mewborn; Joshua Mewborn; Nancy Mewborn Gray; Mary Mewborn Hardy; Parrott Mewborn III; Edith Mewborn Gray; Drewry Aldridge Mewborn; Levi Jesse Hardy Mewborn; and Lydia Mewborn Whitted.

Lunch will be served at one o'clock with a talk by Mrs. Thelma Mewborn Smith of Robersonville to follow. Old family items will be on display. All Mewborn descendants and friends are invited to attend.

The reunion will be in honor of Joshua Mewborn, the third child of Parrott Mewborn II. A family history of Joshua Mewborn will be given after lunch.

A Mewborn family book is being planned and any family records, births, deaths, marriages, and other information should be given to Miss Ima and Ailine Mewborn of Farnville.

Mrs. Thelma Mewborn Smith is the great granddaughter of Joshua Mewborn and daughter of Elder Joshua E. Mewborn and Emma Turnage Mewborn of Rt. 3, Snow Hill. She is the widow of Claude Thomas Smith of Robersonville.

Miss Foreman Entertained

Miss Lizzie Foreman of Greenville was honored at a party on her 80th birthday given by her foster son, Robert L. Teele, of Washington.

The party was held Sunday at Mount Hermon Lodge.

The Rev. B. B. Felder of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church offered prayer and Charles Gatlin sang accompanied by A. L. Norcott, pianist. Mrs. Sallye C. Streeter read "A Remarkable Person," a history of Miss Foreman's life and several of the honoree's friends made remarks.

The refreshment table was centered with a centerpiece in yellow flanked by six candles on either side. An auxiliary table held a decorated birthday cake flanked by a candle on each side.

Mrs. Hazel Lee, niece of Miss Foreman, welcomed guests and Miss Rhoda Banks, great niece, registered guests.

Mrs. and Mrs. Teele and Mrs. Streeter were host and hostesses.

The vitamin C value of reconstituted frozen orange juice concentrate is the same as freshly squeezed juice.

LAUTARES JEWELERS

Diamond Setting, Remounting And Repairs

Done On The Premises

Greenville's Only Registered Jeweler

MEMBER AMERICAN GEM SOCIETY

K.B. Pace Academy

will be testing students for the 1975-76 school year on April 24 and 25. Arrangements for testing students for grades 1-9 may be made by calling 756-2244 between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday-Friday. Parents wishing a personal interview, a tour of the school or observation of classes in progress may call Mrs. Carol Whitaker, Headmistress for an appointment.

Selling out to the Bare walls

Every shoe in the store is included in this sale.

ALL Childrens Shoes

GROUP I $1⁰⁰

GROUP II $3⁰⁰

GROUP III $5⁰⁰

VALUES TO $14.99

ONE GROUP Childrens Rain Overshoes

LIMITED QUANTITY $1⁰⁰

VALUES TO $5

ALL DYEABLE SHOES

GROUP I $2⁰⁰

GROUP II $4⁰⁰

VALUES TO $14.99

ALL LADIES BOOTS

GROUP I $3⁵⁰

GROUP II $5⁰⁰

VALUES TO $30.00

ALL MEN'S SHOES

GROUP I $5⁰⁰

GROUP II $10⁰⁰

GROUP III $15⁰⁰

GROUP IV $20⁰⁰

VALUES TO $45.00

ALL LADIES SHOES

GROUP I $1⁰⁰

GROUP II $2⁰⁰

GROUP III $5⁰⁰

GROUP IV $10⁰⁰

VALUES TO $30

ALL BOYS SHOES

GROUP I $2⁰⁰

GROUP II $3⁰⁰

GROUP III $5⁰⁰

VALUES TO $14.99

(Dancewear Not Included)
"No Exchanges"
"Sales Final"

SAVINGS UP TO 75%

Jackson's Shoe Store

400 1/2 Evans St. Downtown Greenville

Reduced Oil Imports Pay Off

The government reported that a sharp drop in oil imports gave the country the largest monthly foreign trade surplus ever in February.

Figures showed that imports dropped by 18.2 percent in February while exports dropped only by 6.6 percent. Thus there was a $917 million trade surplus, as opposed to the $210.5 million deficit in January.

The February drop in oil purchases was partially attributed to a build-up in oil reserves in January. But also we hope that it means Americans are using less oil products and thus decreasing our dependence on imported oil. With the high price of foreign oil, this will mean that many of our dollars which were flowing to the Middle East will stay at home.

This is of great value to our economy in itself. As an added plus the fact that we are using less

Middle East oil means that the countries which have jacked up oil prices to unrealistic levels will find themselves with a big surplus of crude which they cannot sell. An oil surplus could lead to a lowering of the present exorbitant oil prices.

The experts say that the trade surplus will help the U. S. dollar which has been weak on foreign money markets.

It may be that the present recession is causing a lowering in demand for oil products in our country. It is also possible that the American people, business and industry are responding to pleas for conservation of energy, or the higher prices are causing us to be more careful in our use of energy.

Either way, the drop in oil imports is going to be important in helping us improve the state of our economy. It is a positive factor for us at this point.

THIS AFTERNOON

Leader In Social Reform

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—There are two major social reform movements at work in this session of the General Assembly: prison reform spearheaded by the Commission on Sentencing, Criminal Punishment and Rehabilitation; and services for exceptional children spearheaded by both a joint senate-house committee, and a special commission on exceptional children.

Strangely, one man has emerged as the central figure involved in both reform actions—State Senator Lamar Gudger of Asheville.

Probably the busiest lawmaker in this session, Gudger is ramrodding in the Senate a bulky stack of legislation resulting from the work of study groups, putting him on the leading edge of social change, and the butt of some conservative colleagues who see him almost daily becoming a symbol of liberalism.

Gudger returned to the General Assembly in 1971 after an absence of 20 years; he first served in the 1950s. He was a practicing attorney and district attorney in Asheville during the layoff.

Kids' Champion

He first came to public attention as a champion of children when a group he chaired called for sweeping reform in state government to create a Department of Children to take over all state services for kids. That measure failed after a healthy fight in last year's General Assembly, but gave impetus to a state law which requires equal educational opportunities for all children.

Currently the assembly is hammering out extension of that law to the Department of Human Resources, with the additional requirements for local performance else state funds would be held back from local schools or human services agencies. Gudger is again sponsor of that.

He is also pushing hard for a screening program of every child in the state prior to enrollment in kindergarten, coupled with expansion of state agencies to diagnose and treat any physical, mental, emotional problem or other learning disability.

That raft of bills involved in the reform of services for children and in penal reform are too lengthy to be catalogued in this space, numbering more than 50; touching public school programs, mental retardation activities, prisons, juvenile training schools, community treatment group home programs, etc.

A thread running throughout, however, is the philosophy of putting every person suffering a problem into the mainstream of social activity in community schools or group homes rather than sidetracking him into a state-supported institution of one sort or another for the rest of his life.

Save Money, Too

If we could find the problems early enough (whether that of a child about to become a criminal, or suffering physical, mental, or emotional problems, accurately diagnose and understand the problem, and treat it properly, it would not only save the state money in the long run, but save wasted lives, Gudger believes.

How fares such an approach in a basically conservative General Assembly? AT TIMES, Gudger concedes, it is rough.

"A Legislature which is facing economically austere times and is conservative is likely to be conservative in accepting some of those suggestions and concerns," Gudger says candidly. But he feels there needs to be some definition of what liberal means in these instances.

"Being progressive in not necessarily expensive. It is terrible economy to maintain an idle work force of 12,000 people in the prisons. . . is it liberal to say put them to work?"

"It is liberal to say catch a child with a problem at age four or five so you can correct it instead of allowing social promotions in school, dropping out, possible imprisonment and marginal employment the rest of his life?"

"If we take a child with a vision or hearing problem and treat it so he does not spend his life in a state institution at state expense. . . is this liberal? T catch a child becoming a criminal and re-orient and re-direct his life so he becomes a fruitful member of society . . . is this liberal?"

"If this is liberal, then I am a liberal . . . a total liberal," Gudger said.

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

Down The Road To 1984

Over the past 10 years, the National Science Foundation has paid out more than $6.5 million in public funds for the development and promotion of a social studies course intended for use at the fifth-grade level. The course is now under attack in the House of Representatives. The matter merits your attention.

The row has to do with "Man: A Course of Study," known for short as MACOS. The teaching materials were developed under an NSF grant by Curriculum Development Associates, a private Washington firm. Dr. Jerome Bruner, an experimental psychologist long identified with Harvard and later with Oxford University, was in charge of the undertaking.

Work began on MACOS in 1963. In 1970, the completed course of study became available. Since then, an estimated 1,700 schools have put it into use. Some school districts have tried MACOS and discarded it under parental fire.

Much of the course of study deals with animals, birds, and fish. The most controversial portion has to do with the Netsilik Eskimos, whose tribal characteristics are apparently examined. Congressman John B. Conlan of Arizona has catalogued some of these characteristics: adultery, bestiality, cannibalism, incest, infanticide, murder, revenge, robbery, and wife-swapping. Children are encouraged, through "role-playing," to empathize with the Eskimos.

Conlan provides this quotation: "Husbands have a very free hand in their married life and it is considered to be quite in order for them to have intercourse with any woman whenever there is an opportunity."

A number of progressive and liberal educators have praised the course of study because "it raises value issues," and "it doesn't tell children how to think." Critics contend, to the contrary, that the values promoted by MACOS are not regarded as values except by a highly sophisticated minority; and they say the barely concealed purpose of MACOS is indeed to teach children how to think—to think, that is, as Dr. Bruner

(Continued on page 5)

The INSIDE REPORT

Locking Out Geo. Wallace

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—Before the North Carolina legislature adjourns in midsummer, it is likely to repeal the state's presidential primary law—a quiet move now being duplicated elsewhere to blunt Gov. George C. Wallace's menace to the Democratic party.

Why North Carolina moderates and liberals want to kill the new primary law, used only once, is obvious: Wallace would sweep the state in a 1976 primary just as he did in 1972. By reinstating the convention system, the Democratic establishment would freeze Wallaceites out of the North Carolina delegation.

Tennessee, which Wallace also won easily in 1972, is moving toward the same course, urged on by the Party's liberal leadership. In Mississippi, liberals are helping block a new primary election which Wallace would certainly win. Outside

South, a primary repealer is expected to pass in Michigan.

Wallace's most important 1972 primary win. Liberals in Maryland, another Wallace primary winner, have the same notion.

Wallace relies on personal popularity in primary states to offset organizational weakness in convention states and thereby win 500 delegates or more. To prevent that embarrassment, liberals are engaging in role reversal—particularly in the South—by espousing backroom politics over popular mandate.

The anti-primary strategy may indeed blunt Wallace's threat but not without risks. Repealing primary laws will not stop George Wallace's being the most popular Democrat not only in the South but in Northern states as well, certainly including Michigan. Denied the right to support him in a primary, Wallace voters may thunder their frustration in November.

Wallace's dependence on primaries explains why only 209 out of 608 Democratic convention delegates from 11 Southern states voted for him in 1972. Except for Alabama and Texas, Wallace won large numbers of delegates only from presidential primary states—Florida, North Carolina and Tennessee.

Consequently, Wallace strategists in Montgomery, Ala., long ago planned to push for new primary laws throughout the South, and the first returns were encouraging. Kentucky and Georgia have new presidential primaries. Under Wallaceite pressure, the legislature has adopted a new primary in Arkansas (which denied Wallace even one delegate in 1972). Wallace forces hope for a Louisiana primary and are jousting with Sen. Lloyd Bentsen over the shape of a new Texas primary.

But Wallace has been stopped cold in efforts for a primary in Virginia, South Carolina and—biggest disappointment of all—Mississippi.

Although Wallace indisputably was Mississippi's choice for President in 1972, he was shut out of the state's delegation thanks to the "loyalist" faction of white liberals and black civil rights leaders controlling the state party. But Wallaceites hope of changing all that with a new primary law are being crushed by combined opposition from the "loyalists," Mississippi Republicans and Democratic Gov. William Waller (no liberal but no Wallaceite either). Conceding defeat, a Wallace strategist told us: "We can expect as many delegates from Mississippi as from the District of Columbia."

Add to this primary repeals in Tennessee and North Carolina, and Wallace is threatened with no significant gain in Southern delegates this time.

North Carolina typifies Wallace's problems with Southern Democratic leaders. Primary repeal is being pushed by allies of former Gov. Terry Sanford, now president of Duke University. Sanford was humiliated by Wallace in his own state's 1972 primary, and his long-shot presidential campaign would be ambushed again in any rematch. But even legislative leaders who regard Sanford's ambitions as gothic want no more primaries. They know low-income whites in eastern North Carolina will note for

(Continued on page 5)

Other Editors Say Reflects Managing

(Goldsboro News-Argus)

Steady increase in the deer herds in North Carolina is reflected in hunting regulations proposed for next season.

Neighboring Greene and Johnston counties will have deer seasons for the first time in many years.

Deer hunting will be allowed in part of Greene County from Oct. 13 to Oct. 25 and in parts of Johnston County Nov. 24-Dec. 6. Seasons are being extended in a number of western counties.

In areas where deer populations are heavy and creating farm crop depredation problems, either - sex seasons are proposed for the coming season.

One-week either-sex seasons are proposed for parts of Currituck, Camden, Chowan, Craven, Bladen and Jones counties and all of Pasquotank and Perquimans.

Two-week either-sex seasons are planned for parts of Chowan, Hyde, Beaufort, Edgecombe, Craven (Cherry Point), and in all of Gates, Hertford, Bertie, Northampton and Halifax counties.

A six-day either-sex season is planned for Pungo National Wildlife Refuge.

Another innovation proposed for next season is allowing muzzle-loading guns to be used during the last three days of the bow and arrow season.

Of particular interest to hunters is the plan to increase the season limit of deer to four in some of the counties where herds are very large.

Wayne County is not among those in which deer season will be open this year. But the herds here have grown noticeably in recent years and Game Protector Admiral Howell believes hunting without dogs might be allowed here in the near future.

What has happened to the deer population in North Carolina is an excellent example of what good game management and protection can do.

The Wildlife Resources Commission and concerned sportsmen across the state can take pride in what is being accomplished.

40 Years Ago Today

April 1, 1935

Rev. Worth Wicker, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, was the speaker at the Pre-Easter union service at Pitt Theatre last night, bringing his hearers an inspirational message centering around the subject of "Prayer."

Mr. Wicker said prayer is the key to all spiritual growth and development, and urged his hearers to see that it plays more of a role in their daily lives.

The highlight of the musical program was a solo by H. A. McDougle, director of the Memorial Baptist church choir. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Catherine Thomas, organist of Immanuel Baptist Church.

The largest crowd of the series of services attended last night despite a threat of rain. Attendance was estimated at five or six hundred persons of various demonstrations.

Freak winds and tornadoes took six lives and caused considerable property damage yesterday in the South, with flooding in many parts of the United States.

—Susan Price

A Spirit Of Caution Prevails

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight years ago McGeorge Bundy, then the new president of the Ford Foundation, attracted considerable comment when he chided colleges and universities on their poor performance in the financial markets.

If a return of just 1 per cent more could be obtained on total endowments of $2 billion, he said, it would mean a net of $20 million added to the funds available to financially pressed institutions.

This was a time, you may recall, when the cult of performance was reaching its peak. Some mutual funds were providing returns in excess of 50 per cent, and in at least one instance, more than 100 per cent in a year.

A new era was said to have arrived. It was the space age of stocks, and the astronauts were the self-proclaimed geniuses of money managing, the young aggressive fearless portfolio managers.

They scorned tradition and history. "Why invest for dividends?" they asked, implying that to do so wasn't suitable even for the old family trusts of Boston and Philadelphia. "Invest for fabulous capital gains instead!"

McGeorge Bundy's life evolved around history and tradition: Born in Boston, Harvard student and professor, special assistant to the president of the United States. He joined the crowd.

"We recognize the risk of unconventional investing," he told university officials and trustees, "but the true test of performance in the handling of money is the record of achievement, not the opinion of the respectable."

A document he issued, "Public Issues, Philanthropic Foundations and Straight Talk," was studied by institutions everywhere, and some of the richest and most conservative of them seemingly took his advice to heart.

"Caution costs our colleges and universities much more than imprudence or excessive risk-taking," Bundy announced. Spurred by his words, many colleges experimented. Shares of fast food franchisers appeared in portfolios next to the staid old utility stocks.

Soon thereafter the days of performance were over. The fearless leaders of performance ditched their spacecraft. They disappeared, some of them humiliated by huge losses. Their clients stayed aboard and came crashing down.

Now, in an interview with the New York Times, Bundy told of plans to cut the Ford Foundation staff in half by laying off 300 professional and other employees by Sept. 30, 1978.

In addition, the nation's largest foundation will be forced to cut its philanthropic programs by 50 per cent. It might even rent out space in its architecturally unconventional headquarters here.

The reason for the moves: portfolio losses.

A spirit of caution now exists. You just don't fly through that extraordinarily bad financial weather as you would have done back in 1967.

The Daily Reflector

INCORPORATED
209 Cotanche Street, Greenville, N.C. 27834
Established 1882
Published Monday Through Friday Afternoon and Sunday Morning

DAVID JULIAN WHICHARD, Chairman of the Board
JOHN S. WHICHARD—DAVID J. WHICHARD
Publishers
Second Class Postage Paid at Greenville, N.C.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Payable in Advance

Home Delivery By Carrier or Motor Route Monthly	$3.00
By Mail
One Year	$36.00
Six Months	18.00
Three Months	9.00

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of publications of special dispatches here are also reserved.

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
Advertising rates and deadlines available upon request.
Member Audit Bureau of Circulation.

Scientists Warn Water Shortage A Future Crisis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Humanity's wanton abuse of its most abundant natural resource—water—has reached a point where scientists are warning a world already wallowing in crises: cooperate in a search for remedies or court calamity.

Essential to most human activity, water can mean life or death, bounty or poverty, war or peace. In an atmosphere of urgency, high-powered conferences have been scheduled to examine the problems. A national conference of all U.S. states and some foreign observers opens April 22 in Washington. A series of international meetings will precede a world conference on water in 1977. Why all the worry?

Water is indestructible and goes through a cycle of renewing itself. There's as much fresh water now as there was centuries ago.

But some areas are blessed with bountiful supplies. An average American uses 60 times more fresh water daily than an average citizen of Bangladesh. Water is often all too abundant in some areas in the form of destructive floods. It is often much too scarce in other areas and so there are deadly droughts, like those of the African sub-Sahara belt. In addition, industry and people poison available fresh water at a frightening rate.

Fresh water is essential for crops and meat; to irrigation, to inland fisheries, to forests that protect the land from erosion, to public hygiene, for household, drinking and recreational uses and many other needs.

From 75 to 90 per cent of the world's people are exposed to unsafe drinking and household water. Diseases from contaminated water are many, including such killers as cholera, typhoid, typhus, amebic dysentery, yaws, infectious hepatitis and others. Lack of clean water disables or kills 500 million persons a year and kills 6 million infants annually.

People look on water as nature's gift. After all, 75 per cent of the earth is water, although all but 3 per cent of that is salt sea. But if there is to be enough usable fresh when and where needed, experts say, the cost is going to be heavy.

Lester Brown, an American adviser to the World Food Conference in Rome last November, warned delegates that "water potential is by no means unlimited."

"In the near future," Brown said, "the lack of fresh water, rather than of land, may be the principal constraint on efforts to expand world food output."

Water resources would be enough, globally, to meet demands for decades but one danger, as stressed by Brown, is that severe problems of usable water can generate international conflict.

One such conflict is now threatening West Africa, where Upper Volta and Mali are getting close to a shooting confrontation generated by conflicting claims over water rights along the Bel River. Now the dispute is complicated by rumors that oil has been discovered along the river.

Preparing for a series of international water conferences, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization — FAO — notes "the world's total supplies of fresh water are limited and could eventually prove inadequate." It said agriculture, the biggest user, could suffer at a time when rising populations placed more and more heavy demands on it.

Water problems are centuries old and problems of industrial pollution date to the beginning of the industrial revolution, but recognition of the problems is relatively new.

Experts say between 80 and 90 per cent of all water pollution problems of the industrial nations developed since 1950. Some, like those caused by insecticides, didn't even exist before then. It was only after 1950 that some industrial nations launched programs to counter fresh water pollution, and not until 10 years ago that a few began programs for coastal waters as well.

But not a nation in the world appears yet to have been able to reverse the pollution trend. Most can expect water problems to double in 10 years and increase more swiftly thereafter.

Frequently in areas where need for action is most urgent, factors such as politics, nationalism, sovereignty, bureaucracy, lack of money and administrative talent all contribute to unwillingness to act decisively.

"Politics is probably the biggest problem of all," says Robert Clark, associate director of the National Weather Service Office of Hydrology. "Weather and rivers are no respecters of political boundaries and move across them. But only when nations involved see clear benefit for all from an undertaking are they able to resolve conflicting interests."

Poor African countries, many of which know the agony of chronic drought and famine, would benefit greatly from cooperation, but there is a detectable clash between those who want to ease water problems and governments insistent on industrial development at any cost — and the cost will be growing all the time.

Mrs. Letitia Obeng of Ghana, top water expert in the U.N. Environment Program in Africa, says there are enormous potential sources of water deep under the desert in the drought-plagued belt below the Sahara and "technology is available to make this water accessible and useful."

"It depends on manpower and finance," she said. "We need the will to do it. If we sit and say we can't do anything about it, then we may have a crisis."

The greatest drain on fresh water supplies is irrigation, and this will increase as larger populations require more food. Other problems are caused by urbanization, industrialization, rising standards and demands, poor use of arable land, widespread use of pesticides and chemicals, and lack of leadership.

For many countries, including the United States, water for the rest of the century will be a focus of debate, say the experts, because reversing pollution and insuring supplies will be extremely costly. And always, the demand grows as population grows.

For example, it takes 2.5 gallons of water to produce a gallon of gasoline; more than 10 for a can of vegetables; more than 2,600 for a ton of steel, and the appetite for all such things is growing everywhere.

Scientists know a great deal about water, and while they still are accumulating knowledge, lack of it is less a barrier to remedies than political and legal snarls. The route to remedies is through politics.

But, says Clark, nations must now begin examining options and priorities in the allocation of usable water for food production, energy production, industrial needs, household and hygiene, irrigation and recreation.

Does a nation continue using DDT when scientists say it damages the ecology? Does a nation use more fertilizer to produce more food, or conserve on usable water, lessen production and up costs?

Americans, says Clark, may be called upon to make some tough choices. For example, if farm production is to be kept high with fertilizers, usable ground water for household and drinking purposes will be costlier.

Poor nations, anxious to develop swiftly, don't want to surrender the DDT and fertilizer shortcuts no matter how much they pollute.

Some remedies, like rainmaking, desalinization and mining of desert water, while feasible, involve problems and imponderables.

Rainmaking by scientists has been going on successfully for a decade or more and has been put to use in such places as Iran, Israel, Australia and Canada.

The problems involved in technological remedies include heavy cost and insufficient knowledge of the impact.

If a nation makes rain, does this deprive another area of potential rainfall? If a nation changes the course of an international river, does it deprive another of the river's benefits? Does the Soviet Union's program to alter the courses of some rivers flowing into the arctic threaten climate changes elsewhere?

LANDSLIDE BLOCKS ROAD—The U.S. 25-70 bypass at Marshall (N.C.) was blocked Monday afternoon by a landslide caused by heavy rains during the preceding three days. Traffic was rerouted through the small town, and highway officials did not know when the road would be cleared. (AP Wirephoto)

Don't Want To Be Reacted To In Court For Trial Pie-In-Face

By EVANS WITT
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Two Symbionese Liberation Army members say they have been beaten, drugged and threatened, and they don't want to be in court for their murder trial.

As jury selection began Monday, Joseph Remiro and Russell Little were granted their request not to be present. The judge allowed them to sit in separate holding cells in the basement of the Sacramento County Courthouse, watching on closed-circuit television.

Kilpatrick. . .

(Continued from page 4) would like then to think.

Questions arise. To judge from Conlan's compilation of complaints across the country, the content of this course of study assuredly is offensive to hundreds, perhaps thousands, of parents. It is reasonable to assume, however, that no course of study—except the most bland and innocuous material — could be made inoffensive to everyone. Dr. Bruner's Eskimo stories strike me as pretty tame for 11- and 12-year-olds. Assuming the accuracy of Conlan's quotes, I believe parents in my rural county would resent this course of study intensely.

Did the NSF have any responsibility, once it had agreed to get into this thing, for the course content? The question arises because the NSF director, H. Guyford Stever, last week yielded to the outcries from Conlan and from Olin E. Teague of Texas. Stever tentatively agreed to cut off current as well as future funding for MACOS. Five Democratic liberals promptly howled "censorship." I think the liberals are wrong. If the NSF isn't accountable for spending our money on MACOS, who in the world is?

Finally, the most serious question: Is it wise for the federal government, through NSF or any other agency, to commission the writing and promotion of any textbooks at all? Is this not an ominous echo of the Soviet Union's promulgation of official scientific theory?

It seems so to me. For my own part, I am repelled by the manipulative theories of such behavioral scientists as Bruner and B. F. Skinner. Skinner's stuff gives me the creeps. But even if they were propounding sound doctrine, they would have no right to pursue academic freedom with the people's money. Once the notion is accepted that government has power to commission and to subsidize textbooks in social science, we move a significant step down the road to 1984.

The defendants are charged with murdering Oakland schools chief Marcus Foster in November 1973.

Their statements were contained in a petition to Superior Court Judge Elvin Sheehy, who said they would be brought into court whenever necessary — for example, for identification by a witness.

Jury selection, which attorneys said could take a week, was scheduled to continue today. Ten prospective jurors were examined Monday, and seven were tentatively accepted.

Remiro, 28, and Little, 25, said that while they were being held at San Quentin Prison their stay was "highlighted by a midnight tour of the gas chamber with a goon squad escort, complete with death threats which are the favorite form of self expression among the swine guards...."

"Our food was drugged on three separate occasions to prove that we could easily and quietly be murdered in isolation."

A spokesman for the prison system said any charges of beating, drugging and threatening at San Quentin were "complete lies."

LOTS OF CITRUS

VAN NUYS, Calif. (UPI) — A bumper crop of navel oranges for the 1974-75 season is reported by California and Arizona growers, despite a freeze late last year.

Hundreds of new lemon groves fruiting this year for the first time are expected to provide abundant supplies and good prices, the growers added.

Evans-Novak...

(Continued from page 4)

Wallace against Sanford or anybody else.

While supported by the masses, Wallace is short on well-placed political allies and reliable political intelligence in Raleigh and other Southern state capitals. When faced by primary repeal in the North Carolina legislature, national Wallace strategists were reassured by their belief that Republican Gov. James H. Holshouser would veto a repeal bill — a belief punctured by two facts: first, the governor of North Carolina does not have veto power; second, even if he did, Holshouser has no affection for the presidential primary.

But in repealing and preventing primaries, anti-Wallace Southern Democrats sidestep the heart of the problem: Wallace's massive support among frustrated, alienated voters in conservative Mississippi, moderate Tennessee and progressive North Carolina. By locking out Wallace delegates in those states, the Democratic party may only fatten that frustration and alienation.

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A Duke University chemistry professor has attempted to squelch the latest campus craze — pie throwing.

After receiving a lemon cream pie full-force and head-to-toe during a lecture to 200 students Monday, professor James Bonk reacted immediately.

To the cheers of his students, he dashed out of the building in pursuit of his assailant and caught him in a knee-deep stream.

Freshman David Shain may be disciplined by the school, and Bonk says he'll pay the dry-cleaning charges.

Bonk was the latest victim of a student group called Pie-Die Limited, which charges up to $20 for a "hit" on a student, up to $30 dollars for professors, and up to 100 dollars for administrators.

Half the profits go to charity, according to the group leader, who prefer to be known only as "The Don".

So far a special $300 "Terry rate" for a contract on University President Terry Sanford has not been carried out.

Wallace Sets Decision Time

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace says he has "set May or June as the time to make my decision" whether to run for president in 1976. He says it in 900,000 letters soliciting funds.

"I believe there is one thing that will keep me from being elected president and that is not having enough money to run a good campaign," Wallace says in the form letters.

The letters, sent out by Wallace's national campaign office, make no mention of the Democratic party. Charles Snider, office director, said Monday the letters went to 300,000 previous contributors and 600,000 prospective contributors.

Davis Col...

(Continued from page 4)

how he can last.

The fast pace of developments has left officials here not only surprised but with plans that are outdated before they can be adopted.

For example, plans were drawn last Thursday and Friday for the United States to evacuate several hundred thousand persons from Da Nang. But fewer than 50,000 were removed by air and sea because the Communists moved virtually without opposition into the demoralized, panic-stricken city over the weekend.

Now plans have been drawn for the evacuation of 200,000 refugees, one-half of them from Qui Nhon, the country's third largest city, beginning today. But the South Vietnamese government abandoned Qui Nhon to the Communists without a fight today even before the evacuation effort began.

American officials say the United States has a special moral commitment to evacuate those South Vietnamese who worked closely with the Americans and who would be endangered in a Communist takeover.

In addition there are Vietnamese children who are half American. The dependents of Vietnamese employees of Americans could also be in jeopardy.

BOAT SHOW PARADE—Opening ceremonies for the Boat Show, which is being sponsored this week by the Greenville Optimist Club and WNCB Radio, was highlighted by the parade through downtown Greenville yesterday. Mayor S. Eugene West was present for the ribbon cutting for the official opening of the Boat Show, which is being held at Nichols Discount City through Saturday night. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Mix Ancient Age with Orange Juice and taste an ORANGE AGE.

$5.35 FIFTH
$11.85 1/2 GAL.
$3.35 PINT

Ancient Age 86 PROOF BOURBON
So smooth, it mixes with everything

STRAIGHT KENTUCKY BOURBON WHISKEY - 86 PROOF - © 1975 ANCIENT AGE DISTILLING CO., FRANKFORT, KY.

TADLOCK INSURANCE AGENCY

322 Evans Street
Greenville, N.C. 27834
758-1165

INSURANCE FOR—
HOME BUSINESS
AUTO

Coming Soon!
O.A.T.P.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) NCDA — North Carolina hog market .50 to .75 lower today. Wilson 38.50-39.50; High Falls 37.75-38.75; Rocky Mount 38.50-39.00; Kingston 39.00-40.00; Salisbury 38.50.

RALEIGH (AP) NCDA — North Carolina broiler market steady today. Supplies about adequate and demand good. Weights very desirable. The North Carolina FOB dock weighted average price for less than truck lots of sized plant grade broilers to be picked up at docks this week is 40.21 cents per pound. Estimated slaughter today is 1,040,000. North Carolina hens market unsettled to weaker on heavy type. Movement is somewhat slow. Too few sources reporting to release prices.

Following are selected 11 a.m. stock market quotations:

Burroughs	89 1/2
United Telecommunications Pld.	38
Jeff. Pilot	31 1/2
Tri South	31 1/2
Wicks	31 1/2
Wachovia Realty	34 1/2
Eckerd	10 1/2
Central Soya	12 1/2
Hardee	6 1/2
Integon	9 1/2
Fidelity	15 1/2
Hatteras Income	10 1/2
OVER THE COUNTERS
Combined Insurance	10 1/2
Franklin Life	18 1/2
NCNB	11 1/2
Piedmont Air	47 1/2
Little Mint	7 1/2
Conner Homes	13 1/2
Guardian Corp.	3 1/2
Planters Bank	16 1/2
Daniel International Corp.	18 1/2

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, unsettled over the Southeast Asia situation and first quarter earnings prospects, declined broadly in relatively light trading today.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 5.95 at 762.20. Losers outdistanced gainers by about a 7-2 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the failure of an early rally attempt Monday had apparently convinced investors that the market had at least temporarily lost some of the strength it had shown from early December through mid-March.

In that atmosphere, concern over the situation in South Vietnam and Cambodia evidently began to weigh on the market.

Brokers also noted increasing caution with first quarter earnings reports, which are expected to be generally poor because of the recession, approaching.

Borden was the most active issue on the Big Board, down 1 1/2 at 22 1/4, a 164,200-share block moved at 22.

Among the big-name growth stocks, Procter & Gamble dropped 1 1/2 to 94 1/4; Johnson & Johnson lost 2 to 88 1/4; Burroughs was down 1 1/2 at 89 1/4; and Merck gave up 1 1/2 to 73 1/4.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks fell .39 to 43.82 in the first hour.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index slipped .11 to 79.82.

Frigitronics, the Amex volume leader, gained 1/4 to 8 3/4.

NEW YORK (AP)—Middy stocks

Alcoa	13 1/2
Alcoa Chai	8 1/2
Alcoa	37 1/2
Am Airline	9 1/2
Am Bds	38 1/2

The Meeting Place

TUESDAY
7:00 a.m. — Greenville Breakfast Lions Club meets at Tom's Restaurant.
12:15 p.m. — Mrs. Ford McGowan will be hostess to the Delphin Book Club.
1:00 p.m. — The Club Book Club meets with Mrs. John Adams.
2:00 p.m. — Mrs. J. B. Cummings will be hostess to the Athenaeum Book Club.
2:00 p.m. — The Seira Book Club meets with Louise Morton.
3:00 p.m. — Mrs. R. H. Evans will be hostess to the Chatham Book Club.
3:00 p.m. — Mrs. D. L. Moore will entertain the Round Table.
3:00 p.m. — The Inter Se Book Club meets with Mrs. Reynolds May.
8:00 p.m. — Chapter No. 149, Order of Eastern Star.
8:00 p.m. — Pitt County Alcoholics Anonymous meets at AA Bldg. on Farmville Hwy.

WEDNESDAY
9:30 a.m. — Morning duplicate bridge at Planters Bank.
1:00 p.m. — Welcome Wagon Merry Tilters Garden Club meets with Betsy Markowski.
1:30 p.m. — Afternoon duplicate bridge at Planters Bank.
6:30 p.m. — Kiwanis Club meets.
7:00 p.m. — Junior Woman's Club meets.
8:00 p.m. — Pitt County Al-Anon Group meets at AA Bldg. on Farmville Hwy. Telephone 752-2222 or 754-0567.
8:00 p.m. — Pitt County Humane Society meets at Planters Bank.
8:00 p.m. — Common Cause membership meeting at First Presbyterian Church.

Low Prices — Good Service — Low Prices — Good Service

Bob's TV & Appliance

And

UHA

Celebrate 10 Years of service to Pitt County and surrounding areas.

210 E. 2ND ST. AYDEN, N.C. PH 746-1021

2 BLOCKS FROM PITT MEMORIAL HOSPITAL GREENVILLE, N.C. PH 752-6238

Good Service — Low Prices — Good Service

Campaign To Accentuate The Positive

The Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association will sponsor "Operation A.T.P." Accentuate The Positive beginning Wednesday, April 2.

Being held in cooperation with several organizations and businesses, the purposes of "Operation A.T.P." are to inform the public that Greenville is fortunate to have a strong economy and good business; to dispel gloom resulting largely from outside influences; and to stimulate the local economy.

The project slogan is "Wise Spending Creates More Business and Jobs" and the project tune is "You've Got To Accentuate The

Tax-Savings True: Jones

First District Congressman Walter Jones was praised in last Thursday's "Washington Merry Go Round" column for having saved the taxpayers a half-million dollars.

According to syndicated columnist Jack Anderson, Congressional staff allotment records show that over the nine years Jones has been in the House of Representatives, he has turned back in to the U.S. treasury more than $500,000 allowed him for clerical staff.

Contacted Monday, Jones said, "I am pleased to have been favorably mentioned in Mr. Anderson's column. What he says is true. I have never believed in spending money because it is there."

Asked how he voted on the Tax Rebate bill, Jones said, "I voted for it—with reservations. I feel it's inflationary, but at the same time, I feel we have to do whatever we can to try to boost the economy."

Positive." The project deal is a wise old owl.

Harold Creech and Connally Branch are serving as co-chairmen of the project.

"Greenville is fortunate that its economy is comparatively good during these days when the nation has serious economic problems," Creech said.

Some factors which have caused Greenville's good economy include: agriculture, particularly tobacco; East Carolina University, with its biggest growth in history last fall; Greenville's industries, including the five under construction, are doing well; many medical services are growing and doing well.

"However, business could and should be better," Creech said. "The national news is mostly negative news which creates fear, thus causing people to be ultra conservative and to refrain from buying even items considered necessary and essential."

Creech said the chamber was sponsoring "Operation A.T.P." in an effort to offset negative news, to dispel gloom and to stimulate the economy.

Creech said the participation of all local merchants is needed to make the project a success.

Methods of promotion include advertising by television, radio, newspapers, and billboards.

Greenville Stockyards, Inc.

Sows

400 Down $32.00 Per Hundred

400 Up $33.00 Per Hundred

Boars $23.50 per hundred

Call 752-4943

Safe Robbed During Holidays

A relatively small amount of money was reported taken when thieves forced open a safe at Standard Supply Co. on Memorial Drive sometime over the Easter Holiday, according to Police Chief Glenn Cannon.

The break-in and robbery were reported at 7:12 a.m. today.

Thieves gained entrance through a rear door and pried open the door to the company safe.

Police said an estimated $25 to $100 was taken.

Investigation of the incident is underway.

No Retirement Plan? Then Set Up Your Own And Deduct The Cost From Your Taxes!

If you are not covered by a retirement plan set up by your employer, and you are under age 70 1/2, you can set up your own tax-sheltered retirement plan. By law, beginning with the tax year 1975, you can invest in a tax sheltered retirement annuity contract available from Pilot Life Insurance Company and deduct your contribution from your Federal Income Tax Return. The deduction is limited to the lesser of $1,500 or 15 percent of your earned income.

The retirement annuity contract provides for the payment of a lifetime monthly income (or other optional settlement) at retirement and provides death benefits before retirement. You can elect retirement at any age from 59 1/2 through 70 1/2.

I would like to know more about the Tax Sheltered Retirement Plan.

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Occupation: _____

Mail to: Doug Hill, P.O. Box 468, Greenville, N.C. 27834, Phone 752-0834

FUNDS FOR EASTERN PINES FIRE DEPARTMENT — A $50,000 loan was recently approved for the construction of a new station for the Eastern Pines Fire district. Officials present this morning for the presentation of the check are, left to right, Walter Everett, county supervisor, Lyman Hardee, Eastern Pines fire chief; Harry Jarvis, assistant county supervisor presenting the check; Neil Baggett, president of the Eastern Pines Fire Department; and Pitt County Fire Marshal Bobby Joyner. Construction on the new station is expected to begin next week. The loan was made by the Farmers Home Administration to be repaid over a period of 30 years at five percent interest. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Obituaries

Haddock

Miss Nora Lee Haddock, 79, died in the Greenville Nursing Center Monday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by the Rev. William S. Forbes, her pastor. Burial will be in Pinewood Memorial Park.

Miss Haddock spent all her life in the Chocod community. She was a member of Hollywood Presbyterian Church and was a retired nurse and companion.

She is survived by a brother, Letha Haddock of Chocod.

The family will be at the home of her brother.

Watts

The Rev. Lawrence A. Watts, 79, retired Methodist minister, died Monday in Cabarrus Memorial Hospital in Concord.

The funeral service was conducted at 3 p.m. Tuesday in St. James United Methodist Church by the Rev. Rod Randolph, the pastor, and the Rev. Harold McLamb. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

The Rev. Watts, a native of Lynchburg, Va., had lived in Greenville for a number of years. He was a member of the North Carolina Methodist Conference and Crown Point Lodge No. 708, A. F. & A. M. He served several Methodist Churches in Eastern North Carolina and for a number of years was chaplain at Central Prison in Raleigh.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Lallah Brown Watts; a son, Lawrence A. Watts, Jr. of Raleigh; a daughter, Mrs. Walter Heath of Kannapolis; a brother, Harry S. Watts of Lynchburg, Va.; and four grandchildren.

The family requests that flowers be omitted. Memorial contributions may be made to St. James United Methodist Church for recording in the Book of Remembrance.

Liquor Charges Facing Woman

FARMVILLE—Local police and Pitt deputies arrested a 49-year-old Rt. 1, Farmville woman Saturday night and charged her with possession of a quantity of non-tax paid whiskey for the purpose of sale.

According to Sheriff Ralph Tyson, officers arrested Laura Mae Peaden of Rt. 1, Box 40-C and charged her with illegal possession of 20 gallons of whiskey, as well as a small quantity of beer and gin.

Sheriff Tyson said that the officers also confiscated $66.80 in cash and a supply of serving cups. All of the items, including the whiskey, were found in a freezer, he added.

Bond was set at $800 on the possession count and a hearing scheduled for April 14 in Farmville District Court.

The arrest was made at 9:50 p.m.

CORRECTION

The first portion of the Health Department scheduled published Sunday was the hours for the special evening dog vaccination clinics being held throughout the county this week. The heading was left off.

PTA Meeting Set Thursday

The Agnes Fullilove School PTA will hold its final regularly scheduled meeting of the 1974-75 term in the school's lunchroom Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. Parents, patrons, and the public are invited to attend. Officers of the PTA are Dr. Tom Johnson, President; Dr. Ben Quinn, Vice-President; Mrs. Ruby Williams, Secretary and Mrs. Don McGlohon, Treasurer.

Bridge Classes Begin April 7

Beginner's Bridge classes will start Monday, April 7 at the Elm Street Gymnasium. Classes will begin at 8 p.m. and are open to all interested persons. There is no charge for the classes. Those intending to take lessons are asked to pre-register by calling the Recreation Department, 752-4137, extension 220.

MUSIC PROGRAM
The Christian Bells will give a music program at Holy Temple Church on Fourteenth Street here Sunday, April 6, at 7 p.m. The public is invited, according to the pastor, the Rev. Ed Wooten.

Have You Missed Your Daily Reflector?

First Call Your Independent Carrier. If You Are Unable To Reach Him Call The Daily Reflector

752-3952

Between 6:00 And 6:30 P.M. Weekdays And 8 'Til 9 A.M. On Sundays.

REDUCED RATES

TAIPEI (UPI) — Taiwan's tourist hotels have cut room rates by 10 percent since Feb. 16, according to the Tourism Bureau.

Steel Desk Swivel Chair & Side Chair $259.50

Two Drawer Steel-File Gray-Tan Letter Size $47.50

COECO SINCE 1921 320 EVANS ST. PHONE 758-1148

DRY 1/3 CLEANING

5 SHIRTS LAUNDERED FOR $1.50

Offer Good thru Thurs., April 3rd.

BYOH BRING YOUR OLD HANGERS

COUPON Good Tues., Wed., Thurs. NO LIMIT

1/3 MR. CLEAN 1/3 OFF

DRIVE IN CLEANERS 1501 DICKINSON AVE

Coupon Must Accompany Clothing When It Is Brought In

COUPON Good Tues., Wed., Thurs. NO LIMIT

1/3 UNIVERSITY 1/3 OFF

ONE HOUR CLEANERS CORNER OF 4th & GREENE ST.

Coupon Must Accompany Clothing When It Is Brought In

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 1, 1975

Wooden's Farewell--10th Title

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — And the beat goes on for UCLA, if not for John Wooden. The Maestro and his changing cast of characters — that remarkable duo of wisdom and talent — have left an imprint on their sport that will forever be felt.

College basketball's greatest combination, its leader directing his pupils in a textbook display for the last time, showed it had not grown rusty with age, or incapable without a superstar. The team and the man did it for the 10th time in 12 years.

"Everyone would like to go out with a victory," said the professorial Wooden who gave his last lesson Monday night as his beloved Bruins gave their coach a tremendous last hurrah — a 92-85 victory over physical Kentucky in the NCAA's title game.

"The fact that the victory is for the national championship ... well, that certainly doesn't lessen the pleasure," the 64-year-old Wooden said as he bade farewell to a 40-year coaching career, a love affair with excellence which may never be equalled.

If this UCLA team — one of Wooden's favorites — didn't have a Jabbar or a Walton, it did have something else. The Bruins had Wooden's directions, his sometimes fiery presence, and with it they played nerveless basketball, exercising an old UCLA tactic called game control.

Wooden switched defenses to cool Kentucky's hot Kevin Grevey. He used his only substitute — 7-foot-1 Ralph Drollinger — to offset Kentucky's powerful bulk. He designed, in a very rare Monday morning practice, a play to free Pete Trgovich, and it was responsible for the Bruins taking control late in the first half after Kentucky had led most of the first 15 minutes.

And then he and the Bruins controlled the game's tempo, shutting off Kentucky every time the Wildcats rallied.

"We hoped to wear 'em down with a fast tempo," said Wooden. "We felt that we had to run on them and keep running. And it worked out exactly as we planned."

Wooden leaped up more than once to argue with officials, particularly when forward Dave Meyers was tagged with a technical, which gave Kentucky's Grevey, who had a game-high 34 points, a one-and-one free throw and the Wildcats would still have the ball.

UCLA led 76-75. Kentucky had just completed a charge that had all but wiped out a 10-point lead which was built by Rich Washington and Meyers, who led UCLA with 28 and 24 points, respectively.

Kentucky blew it. Grevey missed both free throws and the Wildcats threw the ball away when they worked for a shot. They were never closer than three points after that.

"Everyone played very tough," said the 6-foot-8 Meyers, who combined with Washington and Drollinger to blunt Kentucky's muscle and hold the Wildcats' three huge freshmen centers to eight points.

Catching Meyers' competitive fire were Washington — this tournament's Most Valuable Player — and Drollinger, the three of them combining for 62 points and 36 rebounds.

"When Drollinger came in, it created mismatches for us," Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall said. "Wooden's power team (Drollinger, Meyers and Washington) was outstanding."

When Drollinger went into the game, Kentucky, powered by Grevey, was leading. He hit his 18th point of the first half with eight minutes remaining, giving the Wildcats a 31-27 lead.

But with the lineup change, the 6-5 Grevey had to contend with the 6-9 Washington rather than 6-6 Marques Johnson. And the Kentucky ace did not score for the next 18 minutes. By that time, Drollinger was leaving and UCLA was ahead 66-56.

The big men were not alone for the Bruins. Guard Andre McCarter moved quickly with looping passes when UCLA needed speed; he played with caution when Wooden wanted the tempo changed. He had 14 assists.

And there was Trgovich, whose 16 points were primarily the result of a trap play Wooden had worked out in his secret Molday morning practice. It produced five field goals in a five-minute stretch of the first half when the Bruins were turning the game around.

And at the end, there was Johnson, getting critical rebounds, scoring two key baskets.

"It seems impossible that anyone can beat that well-coached Kentucky team with only six players," said Wooden. "But I guess we were a little quicker and had a little more finesse."

And they had Wooden.

FANCY MOVE—Kentucky's Larry Johnson (12) watches as UCLA's Andre McCarter (45) dribbles behind his back during action Monday night in the NCAA championship game. UCLA won the game, 92-85, for their 10th title. (AP Wirephoto)

Pirates Begin Spring Drills

East Carolina University's football team will begin spring drills Wednesday afternoon, as Coach Pat Dye starts his second season at the Pirate helm.

Chief among Dye's goals for the spring is the rebuilding of the defensive line. Many of those who played there full-time during the past season have graduated, chief among them All-America linebacker Danny Kephley.

The defensive secondary returns intact, but the movement of Bobby Myrick from offense to defense might bring about some changes there, too.

Offensively, the Pirates will be out to find a defensive end, and to look at several people at the fullback position. With quarterback Mike Weaver playing baseball and only working briefly on his passing during the spring, the Buc staff will also be looking at several other candidates at that spot.

The drills, covering a period of 20 practice days, are to wind up on Saturday, April 26, with the annual Purple-Gold game.

Colonels Win To Gain Tie

By The Associated Press
Kentucky never gets tired of winning. But the Colonels are getting tired, period.

"We've won seven games in nine days, so you have to feel happy about that. But the fatigue factor is getting to be incredible," said Coach Hubie Brown after Artis Gilmore and the Colonels demolished San Antonio 103-88 Monday night to move into a first-place tie in the East Division of the American Basketball Association with the idle New York Nets.

In the only other ABA game, the Utah Stars beat Virginia 103-97.

"Dan Issel has a foot infection. He was only able to give us about 15 minutes tonight. We're down to seven healthy guys," Brown said. Without Issel's outside shooting, the Colonels had to rely even more than usual on Gilmore. And the 7-foot-2 center came through in style, pouring in 36 points and hauling down 25 rebounds.

The game was all but decided in the first period, when the Colonels blew out to a 33-18 lead. From then on, the two teams played virtually even. San Antonio, paced by James Silas' 23 points, closed within 11 points late in the third period but a quick burst by Kentucky widened the margin to 18 midway in the fourth period.

Bass, thinking ahead to the playoffs, observed: "Right now, Kentucky is playing a lot better defense. But I've got to say that three weeks ago New York played the best defense against us that I've ever seen in this league."

The only two teams that will sit out the playoffs after regular season play ends next Thursday night are Virginia, last in the East, and San Diego, at the bottom of the West.

And, with the exception of the top of the East, everything else is set, too. Fourth-place Memphis will open on the division champ's court and third-place St. Louis will go against the runner-up Utah, the defending Western champ but fourth this season, opens the first round at Denver while second-place San Antonio hosts Indiana.

Stars 403, Squires 97
Ron Boone and John Roche combined for 60 points in the Stars' triumph over Virginia. Boone scored 36 points, 20 of them in the second half, and Roche hit 24.

Rookie Moses Malone had 14 of his 18 in the final quarter to add some more Utah punch. Red Robbins paced Virginia with 20.

Bullets Bow To Saratoga

JAMESVILLE—Saratoga Central High School rolled to a 7-1 victory over the Jamesville Bullets yesterday.

Saratoga jumped into the lead in the first inning, scoring a pair of runs. Garriss, Rogers and Whitley all drew walks, loading the bases. Streeter then doubled, scoring both Garriss and Rogers for a 2-0 lead.

Saratoga added three more runs in the third. Whitley reached on an error and moved up when a pickoff attempt was muffed. Deratt singled, driving Whitley in. Streeter reached on an error and both runners moved up on a passed ball. Another pickoff try was errored, allowing DeRatt and Streeter both to score. That made it 5-0. Saratoga picked up two more runs in each of the final two innings.

The lone Jamesville run came in the fourth inning. Eric Martin doubled and scored when a pickoff attempt went into center field.

Jamesville is now 3-3 overall and 3-1 against conference competition. They resume action next Tuesday traveling to Mattamuskeet.

Saratoga 203 001 1-7 5 4
J'ville 000 100 0-1 3 5

SAAD'S SHOE SHOP

Work Guaranteed
Located College View
Cleaners Main Plant,
Grande Avenue

Area Matmen To Meet Danes

BETHEL—Tickets have been placed on sale for the special exhibition wrestling match between a group of Eastern North Carolina High School students and a visiting team from Denmark.

That match will be held on April 21 at 8 p.m. at North Pitt High School. Proceeds from the match, along with other donations, will go to help finance a proposed trip by North Carolina wrestlers to Europe this summer.

"We need to raise $10,000 from across the state," North Pitt Wrestling Coach Roger Ingalls said. "We are hoping to be able to get together $3,500 as our share from this match and other donations."

The April 21 match will pit selected wrestlers from the eastern part of the state, and the full team has not yet been completely selected. The stopover at North Pitt will be one of three matches in North Carolina by the Danish team, which is wrestling a 10-match schedule in South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, North Carolina and Virginia.

The North Carolina Amateur

Athletic Union, which is sponsoring the European trip, has named Ingalls and D. H. Conley Coach Milt Sherman as eastern N. C. coaches. For this special match, boys will be selected in eight weight classes, 106-pounds (2), 115, 123 (3), 132, 143 (2), 154, 165 and 178 to meet the Danes. One wrestler and one alternate will be named for each match.

Advance tickets, which maybe purchased for a $1 or more donation are available from wrestling coaches at North Pitt, Rose, Conley and Ayden-Grifton High Schools in the county. Additional donations can be made to Ingalls by contacting him at North Pitt.

At least three area youths have a chance to qualify for the team which will be going to Europe this summer, providing the funds can be raised. They include John Lawler of Rose, Barry Purser of Conley and Earl Harris of Ayden-Grifton. They will go to Eden on April 12 to compete in a tournament to select the team that will travel abroad.

Announcement of those who will meet the Danish team at North Pitt is expected shortly.

Hearing Set On Hunt Bill

RALEIGH—A hearing on a bill which would forbid the use of guns from power-driven boats in certain areas of the Roanoke and Meherrin Rivers, will be held on Thursday, April 10, at noon in room 1127 of the Legislative Building in Raleigh.

The purpose of the bill is the halt the unlawful taking of deer and turkey along the two rivers from boats other than man-powered ones.

The bill provides that no person shall carry or allow to be carried a firearm that is not broken down or encased on a motor-propelled boat on the two rivers in specific areas. On the Roanoke, this would include the area between U.S. 301 and U.S. 13-17 while on the Meherrin, it would include the area between the Virginia-North Carolina state line and the city limits of Murfreesboro.

A fine of $100 and a jail sentence of 30 days could be assessed to those found guilty, should the law be passed.

Steve Dykes led Navy's football team in scoring last season with 29 points on six field goals and 11 extra points.

YOUR SERVE
CHICAGO (UPI) — Americans spent about $93 million on tennis balls in 1974, according to an estimate by the National Sporting Goods Association.

Daily Luncheon Special
One Meat, 2 Vegetables
$1.50
CAROLINA GRILL
Open Daily 5:30 AM - 3 PM
Fri. & Sat. 'til 10 PM

Who makes the mortgage payments when you're disabled?

We can help! Your Nationwide agent knows how to help keep your family and home together, when you're unable to work. Call an agent and see!

NATIONWIDE INSURANCE
Nationwide is on your side
Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company
Nationwide Life Insurance Company
Home Office: Columbus, Ohio

GENERAL TIRE Service you can trust

This week only
FRONT AXLE

Disc Brake Reline

Compact American Cars $29⁹⁵ (Reg. $38.15)
Intermediate $32⁹⁵ (Reg. $40.15)
Standard $34⁹⁵ (Reg. $42.50)
Luxury $36⁹⁵ (Reg. $44.60)

Includes: New Delco Disc Pads for both front wheels. Bearings repacked and complete brake system inspected. Good brakes make your car easier to control. Why take chances? Get an expert disc brake relining today!

You must be satisfied
All service work is quoted at a fair price when car is checked, with no add-ons unless necessary for safe operation, then you are the judge. All worn, replaced parts are bagged for your inspection. We do the job fast...right...the first time. If not, we want to know about it. Immediately!
That's our pledge

GENERAL TIRE SUTTON'S SERVICE CENTER
1105 Dickinson Ave. 752-6121
SUTTON'S GENERAL TIRE
264 BY-PASS TELEPHONE 756-2320

Louisville Is 3rd Place Team

By GREG GROSS
AP Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — Junior Bridgeman waited until almost the end of the NCAA consolation basketball game to make his presence felt against Syracuse.

But when he did, it made all the difference.

The 6-foot-5, 205-pounder from Chicago, Ind., scored 12 of his 21 points in overtime and had two key steals to boost Louisville over the Orangemen 96-88.

After a stirring comeback by underdog Syracuse tied the game 78-78 at the end of regulation play, Bridgeman, who made only three of six shots in the first half, went to work.

He picked off a rebound after Jim Lee missed a 16-foot shot and fed Allen Murphy for a nine-footer that put Louisville ahead. He then ran off six straight points for a 90-86 lead.

And when Syracuse pulled to within two points, Bridgeman intercepted a Lee pass, hit on two free throws, and made another steal to choke off the last of the Syracuse push.

"I think they'll both be great pros because they can both play guard or forward," said Louisville Coach Denny Crum of Bridgeman and Murphy.

"They seldom have a bad game because they maintain the same mental approach."

Murphy wound up with 20 points.

The heroics of Bridgeman and Murphy nullified a gutty comeback by the Orangemen, who rallied from a 42-26 half-time deficit to take a 66-65 lead with five minutes left.

Bill Bunton, a 6-8 center, led Louisville with 24 points, but he was overmatched in the second half by Syracuse's Rudy Hackett, a second-team All-American who scored 28 points.

Hackett, speedster Jim "Bug" Williams and Lee led the aborted comeback. Lee had 27 points over-all while the 5-10 Williams contributed crucial steals.

"We were sluggish in the first half," said Williams. "We weren't doing what we were supposed to do. We had the last shot at the bucket, but Bridgeman's steal with 41 seconds left was their big break."

Hockey Season Nears Its End

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — New York Rangers Coach Emile Francis considered the upcoming Stanley Cup playoffs and said, "Well, we'll know who's playing come Sunday ... I think."

Sunday, April 6, marks the end of the National Hockey League's regular season. By some time late that evening, the point standings will be finalized and every team that makes the playoffs will know who their opposition will be.

That doesn't include the Philadelphia Flyers or Buffalo Sabres, who have clinched the regular-season crowns in Divisions 1 and 4, respectively. They must wait until the first round is concluded before their opponent is decided.

Meanwhile, the races continue for the other division titles and playoff spots. In Division 3, the Montreal Canadiens are one point away from ruining the Los Angeles Kings' first-place hopes. The Canadiens could clinch Wednesday night when they host the Pittsburgh Penguins.

The Division 2 crown remains up in the air as the Vancouver Canucks, St. Louis Blues and Chicago Black Hawks were separated by a mere two points entering Tuesday night's action.

And there will be significant games galore. The Atlanta

Towe Is Honored

SAN DIEGO (AP) — North Carolina State's playmaking guard Monte Towe has been cited as the nation's outstanding basketball senior of 1975 under six feet tall.

The 5-foot-7 Towe was presented the Frances Pomeroy Naismith-Hall of Fame Award. He helped spark the Wolfpack to the NCAA national championship last year.

Towe was a three-year starter on the team, which posted records of 27-0, 30-1, and 22-6.

MEYERS GOES DOWN—UCLA's Dave Meyers (34) crashed to the floor after diving for a ball which Rick Robey of Kentucky picked off during action Monday night in the finals of the NCAA basketball championships. UCLA won their 10th national championship in the game. (AP Wirephoto)

Favorites Missing In NBA Playoff's Field

By The Associated Press
When the National Basketball Association season began 5½ months ago, there seemed little doubt that three of the playoff berths would be gobbled up by the Los Angeles Lakers, Milwaukee Bucks and New York Knicks.

Now there's doubt whether any of them will be around when 10 NBA teams begin slicing up the post-season pie.

The Lakers are dead, mainly last in the Pacific Division with a record that surpasses only that of the New Orleans Jazz.

The Bucks, last year's finalists against defending champion Boston, are all but dead. They've got to win all four of their remaining games and Detroit must lose all three for Milwaukee to make the playoffs as the Western Conference's wild-card team.

In the unlikely event that the Bucks sweep and the Pistons collapse, they'd finish tied with 39-43 records and the Bucks would qualify by having won the season series against Detroit.

But the Pistons can make the whole question academic by beating the Bucks tonight in Milwaukee — or Saturday in Detroit.

The Knicks have at least a reasonable chance for a playoff berth. They're scrambling with the Houston Rockets and Cleveland Cavaliers for the two remaining Eastern Conference berths.

Houston and Cleveland are fighting for second place — an automatic playoff spot — in the Central Division. Whichever team loses that scuffle (Hous-

Sports Briefs

By The Associated Press
ATLANTA (AP) — Jane Blalock has taken the lead in the Ladies Professional Golf Association money race after her victory last weekend at Phoenix.

The $10,000 first prize increased Miss Blalock's 1975 earnings to $18,168. Runner-up Sandra Haynie has won $11,888 through the first five tour events this year.

Others in the Top 10 included Donna Caponi Young, $11,485; Sandra Post, $10,900; JoAnne Carner, $9,184; Judy Rankin, $8,010; Susan McAllister, $7,613; Sue Roberts, $7,325; Pat Bradley, $6,145; and Sandra Palmer, $5,581.

WEST HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Dr. Joseph Machnik has been named the University of New Haven athletic director by university President Philip Kaplan.

Machnik, acting director since November, replaces Donald Ormrod, who resigned last October. Machnik coaches soccer and was the head hockey coach until this year. He plans to continue as soccer coach.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn plans to attend the opening day baseball game at Riverfront Stadium between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds.

Brown Making Most Of His 3rd Major Chance

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer
Baseball has thrown Jackie Brown a few curves over the years ... and vice versa.

Things are beginning to change ... on both sides.

After spending most of his adult life in the minor leagues before finally getting a shot with the Washington Senators in 1970, the 31-year-old right-hander is making the most of his third shot at the big time.

He pitched five scoreless innings Monday in the Texas Rangers' 5-1 exhibition triumph over the Atlanta Braves, allowing only four hits. In fact, Manager Billy Martin calls Brown his best pitcher this spring and that includes 25-game winner Fergie Jenkins and 19-gamer Jim Bibby.

Elsewhere, the day was replete with shutouts — Kansas City Royals 3, Baltimore Orioles 0; Pittsburgh Pirates 4, New York Mets 0; Cincinnati Reds 4, Philadelphia Phillies 0; Minnesota Twins 3, New York Yankees 0; Cleveland Indians 2, Chicago Cubs 0.

Other scores: St. Louis Cardinals 6, Boston Red Sox 3; Detroit Tigers 5, Chicago White Sox 3; Milwaukee Brewers 13; Oakland A's 11; Montreal Expos 7, Houston Astros 1; San Diego Padres 10, California Angels 9.

After Brown got into 24 games with the Senators in 1970, he divided 1971 again between Denver and Washington but spent all of 1972 in Denver.

After pitching in 19 games for Spokane, Wash., in 1973, the Rangers summoned him and he's been a big leaguer ever since.

In 1974, his first full season,

Dodgers Lead Star Ballot

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers have tied a record by placing nine players on the ballot for the 1975 All-Star Game, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced Monday.

The only previous teams to have nine players listed on the computerized punch-out ballot since fan voting began again in 1970 were the Detroit Tigers of 1971 and 1972 and the Houston Astros of 1973.

All 24 major league teams are represented on the 1975 ballot with the world champion Oakland A's and the New York Mets each placing eight nominees.

The Dodgers' all-star nominees include two catchers, Joe Ferguson and Steve Yeager, four infielders and three outfielders.

The fans will select the starting line-ups for the July 15 game at Milwaukee from among the 128 nominees or by write-in votes. Last year's produced a record 6,545,712 ballots from all 50 states and Canada. That was a 63 per cent increase over 1973.

Balloting will begin May 24 and end July 6. The results will be announced on July 9 and 10. Ballots will be available at all major and minor league parks and in retail stores that feature an All-Star display.

Pitchers and reserves will be named by the rival managers, Alvin Dark of the A's and Walter Alston of the Dodgers.

Besides Ferguson and Yeager, other Dodgers on the ballot are first baseman Steve Garvey, second baseman Dave Lopes, shortstop Bill Russell, third baseman Ron Cey and outfielders Bill Buckner, Jim Wynn and Willie Crawford.

Left His Message

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Normie Grevey tried, in his own way, to ease the pain he and his friends felt.

The 6-year-old brother of Kevin Grevey, the Kentucky forward who led the Wildcats with 34 points in their NCAA title game defeat to UCLA here Monday, suffered along with his friends. His father, Norman, said the youngster cried when his older brother and the rest of Wildcats were unable to capture a national championship.

Kevin held his tearful brother in his arms in the quiet dressing room and told him, "Don't worry Normie. You'll be a player someday."

And so Normie tried to give his big friends some solace. He walked to the dressing room blackboard and scribbled: "I hop you wen nekst year."

PLAYS CLOSE GAMES
NEW YORK (AP) — Few fans leave Northeast Louisiana basketball games early, reports the National Collegiate Sports services. Four recent games were decided in the final five seconds, one in the last 54 seconds and one in overtime.

● Life Insurance
● Pension Plans
● Estate Analysis

Wm. R. "Bill" Stroud, CLU
710 Branch Bank Building
Raleigh, N.C.
Telephone 833-4623

The EQUITABLE Life Assurance Society of the United States
Home Office: N.Y., N.Y.

A VERY SOUND OFFER!

only $29.95*

for this magnificent $200 value 6-Piece MAGNAVOX Stereo System when you buy quality HEIL Central Air Conditioning!

If you're considering a new central air conditioning system for your home, take advantage of this fantastic offer.

With the installation of a Heil Hermitage II Central Air Conditioning System, for just $29.95 you can get the American made, quality-crafted Magnavox Stereo System which includes: Solid-State Stereo FM/AM Radio, built-in 8-Track Cartridge Player, full-size Stereo Record Changer with cover, two Air-Suspension Speakers, Stereo Headphones ... complete with a Mobile Cart. All units are attractively accented with a grained Walnut finish.

The best part is the Heil Hermitage II Air Conditioning System that provides up to 15% or more efficiency than many brands ... saving you money on your electric bill and helping to conserve energy. And the Heil Hermitage II is quiet ... thanks to Heil's patented solid-state variable speed fan control which adjusts the fan speed to the temperature load. It's good looking too, and because it's a vertical outflow system, you can plant shrubs or flowers close to it.

Remember, install now and you can get the Magnavox 6-Piece Stereo System, a regular $200 value, for only $29.95. Call today for a FREE estimate.

*Shipping and handling charge

HEIL
HEATING AND COOLING

Offer Expires May 30, 1975

Watch "A Flower Out of Place" on Channel 9, April 2, at 9 P.M. You'll enjoy Johnny Cash, Roy Clark and others, and get more information about how we can make you comfortable with Heil equipment.

Quality Heating & Air Conditioning, Inc.

Phone 752-3042 Greenville, N.C.

The Sodbuster with AMF Ultragear Transmission ... the best one going.

28" Horizontal Shaft Reversing Tiller
Model 1349

This one is for the big jobs with 5.0 H.P. Briggs & Stratton engine and 28" tilling width. Heavy duty swing away transport wheels, and with all the features of the model 1346. Deluxe heavy duty handle, and a full length protective fender hood.

$289.00

AMF

Available at ...
Hendrix-Barnhill Co.
Memorial Dr. Phone 752-4122
Greenville, N.C.

THANKS TO YOU...

We've been in business one year today. Thanks to you, the people of Greenville and Pitt County, our year has been very successful. To each and everyone who has helped us in this first year, may we say a very warm "thank you."

Our pledge for the coming years is still this: Top-notch mechanical service at sensible prices.

STANCILL'S

264 By-Pass At Evans St.
Phone 756-6377

GOREN BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
AND OMAR SHARIF
© 1975, The Chicago Tribune

Neither vulnerable. North deals.

NORTH		EAST
♠ J64	♥ A J 6 3	♠ A 8 3	♥ 4
♦ Q 5 2	♣ A Q 3	♦ K 10 9 4	♣ A K 7 6 3
♠ K 10 9 2	♥ A 8 3	♦ K 10 9 4	♣ A K 7 6 3
♠ 8 7	♥ A 8 3	♦ K 10 9 4	♣ A K 7 6 3
♠ 8 7 2	♥ A 8 3	♦ K 10 9 4	♣ A K 7 6 3
♠ 8 7 2	♥ A 8 3	♦ K 10 9 4	♣ A K 7 6 3
♠ 8 7 2	♥ A 8 3	♦ K 10 9 4	♣ A K 7 6 3

The bidding:
North East South West
1♦ 1♦ 1♥ Pass
2♥ Pass 4♥ Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♦.

Certain card combinations have not been fully discussed in bridge texts, since their successful manipulation may depend on an opponent's error rather than on the lie of the cards. In today's hand, declarer managed to hoodwink his right-hand opponent—although some might say that East was merely an unfortunate victim of circumstance.

After a straight-forward auction, West led the jack of diamonds against South's four heart contract. East captured dummy's queen with the king and continued with the ace. Declarer ruffed and drew trumps in two rounds, ending in dummy. Success of the contract now hinged on declarer's ability to limit his spade losers to two.

Prospects did not seem very bright. The fact that East did not shift to the king of spades at trick two combined with West's failure to raise his partner's overall or to lead a high spade suggested that the spade honors were divided. There is a legitimate way to score a spade trick in this situation—to find one opponent with a doubleton spade honor. To illustrate, assume that East has one less spade. Declarer leads a low spade from dummy to his queen, forcing out West's king. When next that suit is tackled, declarer plays low from both his hand and dummy, and East, who started with the doubleton ace, is forced to capture low cards, establishing dummy's jack.

However, declarer was aware that a 5-2 division is considerably against the odds. He decided that he had a better chance by relying on the human element. At trick five, he led the jack of spades from dummy, exactly as if he intended taking a finesse. East played low, and West won the king. The diamond return was ruffed, declarer crossed to dummy with a club and led a spade towards his queen, which established the lady for the game-going trick since East held the ace.

Had East taken his ace on the first spade lead, West would have remained with a tenace over declarer's queen of spades, and the contract would have been beaten.

Whether East should be charged for failing to defeat the contract, we will leave up to the reader. However, we will permit a peek at our own crime sheet: With only one trick in diamonds and apparently none in clubs, East should realize the defenders need three tricks from the spade suit. Is there any holding where, if South has the king, the defenders can take three spade tricks?

Constitution Bans Deficit Financing

RAMBLING IN THE HOUSE WITH SAM D. BUNDY

If the income of all of us received in North Carolina in 1973 were divided equally, we would all have had income of $4,282 for every person. Statisticians call it per capita income.

If all the state and local taxes paid were divided equally, each of us would have paid $425.32.

On a per capita basis—each man, woman and child—we paid just under 10 per cent (9.9 per cent) of our income in state and local taxes in 1973.

Our state constitution places upon the legislature fiscal responsibility for forbidding deficit financing. In other words, if we can't pay, we don't get.

That means tight money situations, like we have in this recession year, require us to look at spending even more closely.

We are considering budget requests very carefully this session.

All of us would like to have more money, and we can give some mighty convincing justifications why we should have it. State government agencies are no different. But someone has to decide where to draw the line. I am one of those "someones."

We don't want to hamper essential services, but particularly this year, we are questioning how essential a service is before we finance it. Because of the uncertainty of the economy this year, we are having to wait for more reliable revenue estimates before we make firm budget decisions.

It may be late May before we can get a revenue picture clear enough to base solid budget decisions on.

The time to consider tax cuts is when we have a firm idea of revenue.

The state budget, like the family budget, needs a cushion to handle unforeseen matters requiring extra money. It is desirable for state government to have a certain amount of flexibility to effectively cope with changing circumstances. A budget cushion allows this flexibility.

At the beginning of the 1974-75 fiscal year on July 1, 1974, we had a cushion of more than $180 million.

Our estimated cushion to begin the 1975-76 fiscal year on July 1, 1975 will be just over $100 million.

In the southeastern states, our state government's fiscal position is among the strongest. Some states across the nation are running deficits. Less than half are reporting estimated credit balances.

A recent estimate by the Employment Security Commission of North Carolina placed unemployment in the state at 10.4 per cent of the work force.

County rates ranged from a low of 4.9 per cent unemployment in Wake County to a high of 30.8 per cent in Warren County.

See you next week.

Skydiver Never Feels Boredom

SEATTLE (AP) — Gloria Porter spends her weekends jumping out of airplanes for a thrill she says never grows old and sounds safer to her than racing cars.

"I get bored very easily," says the Tahoma High School biology teacher. "This is the first thing I've found that never gets boring."

Ms. Porter, as she prefers to be called, has won numerous local, regional and national skydiving titles in eight years and nearly 2,000 jumps and says she has never been injured or forced to rely on her second chute.

"The first time you do it you sit in that airplane thinking, 'Please, God, let me live through this and as soon as I get down, I'll sell all this equipment."

"But as soon as the chute opens and you're free, you love it," she said. "You can't wait to go up again."

"You can do anything an airplane can do—barrel rolls, loops... your heart's going fast and you're so speeded up that your stopwatch seems to be broken," she said. She explains the feeling as "that old thrill-of-speed thing like race drivers get. But I think they're crazy. That's so dangerous."

She took up skydiving eight years ago when she was dating a parachute instructor at an Issaquah center east of Seattle. She says she grew tired of packing his chute and listening to him tell her how great skydiving was.

"He was having all the fun and I was doing all the work," she says.

Since then, Ms. Porter has competed in Mexico and Yugoslavia and jumped over nearly every state in the United States—25 times a week when in training for the U.S. Parachute Team. For the last five years she's been teaching others to jump.

"After their first landing, they're grinning from ear to ear," she says of her skydiving students. "It's nothing like having to motivate a bunch of high school kids to care about the parts of a frog."

Those same high school kids want to try skydiving but Ms. Porter is not enthusiastic. "Sometimes the kids can drive me crazy," she says. "Out there I don't have to think about them."

Most falls last two or three minutes, she says, but "they're the longest minutes you've ever known."

"In free-fall, you're totally in command... there's no one to ask for advice. You control everything and solve everything yourself," says Ms. Porter.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS

- Petition
- Stopper
- Lug
- Palmyra palm leaf
- Algerian seaport
- By way of
- Many times
- Most extensive
- Disentangle
- Large weight
- Adventure
- Atop
- Long-billed game bird
- Oriental dwelling
- Threaded fastener
- Misfortunes
- Rough lava
- Jacob's brother
- Secret doctrines
- Anglo-Saxon king
- Hastened
- Officers
- Pesky insects
- Stir
- So be it
- Cushion
- Nominal value
- Demands payment
- Informant
- Leveled
- Three-toed sloths
- Betrayer
- Remnants
- Gripping device
- Martini decoration
- Departed
- Task
- Imitative
- River to the Moselle
- Salver
- Removes beyond control: law
- Draper
- British gun
- Numerical: comb. form
- Dutch cheese
- Modified plant life
- Soft food
- Turkish chamber
- Ostrichlike bird
- Rap
- Hovel
- Chess term, -passant

Par time 22 min. AP Newsfeatures 4-1

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

- Show
- Disapproval
- Pixie
- Locks in the Canal Zone
- Overlook
- Alternative
- Untrained
- Make sweaters
- Leveled
- Three-toed sloths
- Betrayer
- Remnants
- Gripping device
- Martini decoration
- Departed
- Task
- Imitative
- River to the Moselle
- Salver
- Removes beyond control: law
- Draper
- British gun
- Numerical: comb. form
- Dutch cheese
- Modified plant life
- Soft food
- Turkish chamber
- Ostrichlike bird
- Rap
- Hovel
- Chess term, -passant

TV Log

WITN-TV Ch. 7

- TUESDAY
- 7:00 Fair Affair
 - 7:30 Jeopardy
 - 8:00 Adam
 - 8:30 Movie
 - 10:00 Police
 - 11:00 News
 - 11:30 Tonight
- WEDNESDAY
- 6:00 Almanac
 - 7:00 Today
 - 7:25 News
 - 7:30 Today
 - 8:25 News
 - 8:30 Today
 - 9:00 Mike Douglas
 - 10:00 Sweepstakes
 - 10:30 Fortune
 - 11:00 High Roll
 - 11:30 Hollywood
 - 12:00 News Noon
 - 12:30 Blank CK
 - 12:55 NBC News
 - 1:00 Jackpot
 - 1:30 Marriage
 - 2:00 Days of Lives
 - 2:30 Doctors
 - 3:00 Another Wild
 - 4:00 Somerset
 - 4:30 Bewitched
 - 5:00 Wild West
 - 6:00 News
 - 6:30 NBC News
 - 7:00 Fair Affair
 - 7:30 Name Tune
 - 8:00 House Prairie
 - 9:00 Lucas Tanner
 - 10:00 Law
 - 11:00 News
 - 11:30 Tonight

WNCT-TV Ch. 9

- TUESDAY
- 7:00 Young and Rubicam
 - 7:30 Make Deal
 - 8:00 Good Times
 - 8:30 Runaways
 - 9:00 Hawaii
 - 10:00 Barnaby
 - 11:00 Report
 - 11:30 Movie
- WEDNESDAY
- 6:00 Carolina
 - 6:30 News
 - 7:00 Kangaroo
 - 7:30 Truth Or
 - 8:00 Joker's Wild
 - 8:30 Gambit
 - 9:00 You See It
 - 11:00 Love Of
 - 11:55 Kerr
 - 12:00 News
 - 12:30 Search For
 - 1:00 Young and Rubicam
 - 1:30 World Turns
 - 2:00 Guiding Light
 - 2:30 Edge Night
 - 3:00 Price Right
 - 3:30 Match Game
 - 4:00 Tattletales
 - 4:30 Batman
 - 5:00 Big Valley
 - 6:00 News
 - 6:30 News
 - 7:00 Truth Or
 - 7:30 Tell Truth
 - 8:00 Orlando
 - 8:30 Manhunters
 - 9:00 Report
 - 11:30 Late Movie

WCTV-TV Ch. 12

- TUESDAY
- 7:00 Griffith
 - 7:30 Wait
 - 8:00 Days
 - 8:30 Movie
 - 10:00 Welby
 - 11:00 News
 - 11:30 World
- WEDNESDAY
- 6:30 Revere
 - 7:00 America
 - 7:30 Montage
 - 8:00 Hillbillies
 - 8:30 Concentration
 - 9:00 Mize
 - 10:00 Brady
 - 11:30 Password
 - 12:30 Split
 - 1:00 Children
 - 1:30 Deal
 - 2:00 Pyramid
 - 2:30 Showdown
 - 3:00 Hospital
 - 3:30 Life
 - 4:00 Gilligan's
 - 4:30 Rascals
 - 5:00 News
 - 6:00 News
 - 6:30 Clock
 - 7:00 Griffith
 - 7:30 Price
 - 8:00 Mama
 - 8:30 Christie
 - 9:00 News
 - 11:30 World
 - 12:00 News

WUNK-TV Ch. 25

- TUESDAY
- 7:00 Sesame St
 - 7:30 ITC Co.
 - 8:00 Gen Assembly
 - 8:30 The Arts
 - 9:00 Man
 - 9:30 Woman
 - 10:00 Interface
 - 10:30 Solar
 - 11:00 Sesame St
 - 11:30 Ready
 - 12:00 Matter
 - 1:30 Safety
 - 1:45 a Book
 - 2:00 Leadership
 - 2:30 Sounds
 - 3:00 Supervision
 - 3:30 Making Count
 - 4:00 Mis Rogers
 - 4:30 Sesame St
 - 5:00 Elec Co.
 - 6:00 Future
 - 6:30 Zoom
 - 7:00 TV
 - 7:30 Gen Assembly
 - 8:00 Feel-Good
 - 8:30 Gehind lines
 - 9:00 Theater

PLAZA CINEMA

NOW SHOWING

THE BIGGEST LAFF LIFTER OF THE YEAR!

WALT DISNEY PRESENTS

THE STRONGEST MAN IN THE WORLD

FUN FOR ALL THE FAMILY!

ACRE OF FRIES PARKING

STARTS 7:00 P.M.

FRI

"DADDY PART II" R

FUN SHOWS DAILY 2:30-4:30-4:40-4:45

DOORS OPEN 2 P.M.

SARZA

PARK

Held Over For The 3rd Full Week In Greenville!

YOUNG FRANKENSTEIN

YOU'LL BE LAUGHING!

FUN SHOWS DAILY 12:30-2:30

NEXT HIT!

PAM GRIER IS "SHEBA BABY"

Will Speak At Mars Hill

MARS HILL—Senator Robert B. Morgan will be the speaker for the baccalaureate services at Mars Hill College Sunday, May 18, at 11 a.m.

Senator Morgan, a native of Harnett County, was educated in the public schools of Lillington and received his bachelor's degree at East Carolina University. He received his L.L.B. degree from Wake Forest University School of Law in 1949.

Morgan's continuing interest in education has led him to serve nine terms as chairman of the board of trustees of East Carolina University. He is presently a member of the Lees-McRae College trustees and was formerly on the board of visitors of Lees-McRae. He is a member of the local, state and American Bar Associations, the Baptist Church, the Masonic Order, the Sudan Temple of the Shrine, the American Legion and the Rotary Club.

Graduation exercises will be held Sunday, May 18, at 3 p.m.

MEADOWBROOK

CHARLES BRONSON

"MR. MAJESTYK"

PC United Artists

ALSO

It was a time for fun until that shattered

Sunday in the Country

A QUIET TITLE FOR AN EXPLOSIVE MOVIE

TICE DRIVE-IN THEATRE

Alan James Arkin Caan

Freebie and the Bean

ALSO

"HANG 'EM HIGH"

Revision Technicolor From Warner Bros.

A Warner Communications Company

JULIET JONES

THERE'S A GURKHA VILLAGE CLOSE BY WHERE OUR HUSBANDS WERE LAST SEEN.

THE GURKHAS ARE GREAT WARRIORS AND GOOD PEOPLE. THE MAN WE'RE SEEING KNEW MY HUSBAND FROM THE DAYS WHEN BOTH WERE IN THE ARMY.

WELCOME—AND KNOW THAT I SHARE YOUR SORROW. I WILL TELL YOU ALL I KNOW, AND HELP WHERE I CAN.

THE PHANTOM

IN THE CAVELANDS.

HISSSS

ENRAGED... THE MONSTER CHARGES...

YOW! HISS

AND GRABS HIM IN A CRUSHING GRIP!

HISSSS..

IF I CAN HIT HIM HARD ENOUGH... I CAN KNOCK HIM OUT...

OH, GOLLY! HERE COMES SOMEONE!

THEY LOVE TO CATCH ME NOT WORKING!

BLAST IT! NOT A SINGLE PAPER ANYWHERE!

SIR...

YES?!

BEETLE BAILEY

BLONDIE

NUBBIN

B.C.

DO YOU THINK "TRUFFLES" IS A FUNNY NAME?

NO, I THINK IT'S KIND OF CUTE.

MY GRANDFATHER LIKES ME... HE SAYS I AM AS RARE AS A TRUFFLE... SO HE CALLS ME "TRUFFLES"

WELL, MY NAME IS LINUS AND THIS IS SNOOPY... HE'S SORT OF AN UNUSUAL DOG...

CAN HE DO TRICKS?

SEE THIS COIN? NOW WATCH CAREFULLY.

HI THERE. I AM AN APTERYX, A WINGLESS BIRD WITH HAIRY FEATHERS, AND I AM UNDER GOVERNMENT PROTECTION.

DOES THAT MEAN YOU'RE SAFE?

NOT NECESSARILY... IT DEPENDS ON WHICH GOVERNMENT.

I'M GONNA TAKE YOU WITH ME VISITIN' TODAY, THAM... SO REMEMBER...

I WANT YOU TO BE SEEN AN NOT HEARD!

AN' YOU MIGHT GO EASY ON THE 'SEEN' PART.

HERE'S AN INTERESTING ITEM

IT'S ABOUT A FELLOW WHO TAUGHT HIS PET CHICKEN TO WALTZ

THAT'S SILLY

YOU'D THINK THE CHICKEN WOULD BE TOO SHORT FOR HIM

OH, GOLLY! HERE COMES SOMEONE!

THEY LOVE TO CATCH ME NOT WORKING!

BLAST IT! NOT A SINGLE PAPER ANYWHERE!

SIR...

YES?!

BEETLE BAILEY

BLONDIE

NUBBIN

B.C.

DO YOU THINK "TRUFFLES" IS A FUNNY NAME?

NO, I THINK IT'S KIND OF CUTE.

MY GRANDFATHER LIKES ME... HE SAYS I AM AS RARE AS A TRUFFLE... SO HE CALLS ME "TRUFFLES"

WELL, MY NAME IS LINUS AND THIS IS SNOOPY... HE'S SORT OF AN UNUSUAL DOG...

CAN HE DO TRICKS?

SEE THIS COIN? NOW WATCH CAREFULLY.

HI THERE. I AM AN APTERYX, A WINGLESS BIRD WITH HAIRY FEATHERS, AND I AM UNDER GOVERNMENT PROTECTION.

DOES THAT MEAN YOU'RE SAFE?

NOT NECESSARILY... IT DEPENDS ON WHICH GOVERNMENT.

I'M GONNA TAKE YOU WITH ME VISITIN' TODAY, THAM... SO REMEMBER...

I WANT YOU TO BE SEEN AN NOT HEARD!

AN' YOU MIGHT GO EASY ON THE 'SEEN' PART.

HERE'S AN INTERESTING ITEM

IT'S ABOUT A FELLOW WHO TAUGHT HIS PET CHICKEN TO WALTZ

THAT'S SILLY

YOU'D THINK THE CHICKEN WOULD BE TOO SHORT FOR HIM

OH, GOLLY! HERE COMES SOMEONE!

THEY LOVE TO CATCH ME NOT WORKING!

BLAST IT! NOT A SINGLE PAPER ANYWHERE!

SIR...

YES?!

BEETLE BAILEY

BLONDIE

NUBBIN

B.C.

DO YOU THINK "TRUFFLES" IS A FUNNY NAME?

NO, I THINK IT'S KIND OF CUTE.

MY GRANDFATHER LIKES ME... HE SAYS I AM AS RARE AS A TRUFFLE... SO HE CALLS ME "TRUFFLES"

WELL, MY NAME IS LINUS AND THIS IS SNOOPY... HE'S SORT OF AN UNUSUAL DOG...

CAN HE DO TRICKS?

SEE THIS COIN? NOW WATCH CAREFULLY.

HI THERE. I AM AN APTERYX, A WINGLESS BIRD WITH HAIRY FEATHERS, AND I AM UNDER GOVERNMENT PROTECTION.

DOES THAT MEAN YOU'RE SAFE?

NOT NECESSARILY... IT

Canada Begins Metric Change

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Canada starts moving into the metric system this week. Over the next five years Americans who come here will have to join Canadians in buying gasoline by the liter, food by grams and kilograms and reading road signs in kilometers.

Canada's first step Tuesday in switching from the old imperial weights and measures — a legacy of British ancestry — will be in telling the temperature in terms of centigrade, or the Celsius scale.

Anders Celsius, a Swedish astronomer who lived from 1701 to 1744, maintained that the most logical way to measure the temperature was on a scale of 100 equal units or degrees between the freezing and boiling points of water.

Thus freezing, 32 degrees Fahrenheit, is zero in the Celsius or centigrade scale. The boiling point, which is 212 degrees Fahrenheit, is 100 degrees.

Most nations of the world use this system.

So Americans vacationing in Canada this summer are likely to see temperature readings of 35 on a hot day. That's 95 degrees Fahrenheit.

The target date in Canada for full usage of the metric system is 1980.

The Federal Metric Commission, responsible for the conversion program, says public usage is voluntary and it can only "encourage" radio and television stations to give Celsius readings. However, beginning Tuesday all public weather forecasts will be issued with Celsius temperatures only.

The Canadian Press and its subsidiary, Broadcast News, which relay the weather forecasts to most Canadian newspapers and broadcasting stations, say they will distribute reports in the form they are received from the Weather Office, with temperatures stated only in Celsius.

Reporting the temperature in both Celsius and Fahrenheit readings is frowned upon by the Metric Commission, which sees it as creating unnecessary confusion.

"Universal experience proves that a dual system does not work," says Frank Rousseau, a commission official. "Look at England. It's been 10 years since they began their conversion and because of the dual system they are still having problems."

The target date for complete conversion in Britain has been extended two years until 1977.

There is sympathy in the United States for a switch to the metric system. Undersecretary of Commerce John K. Tabor says the Ford administration is preparing legislation for Congress to create a national metric conversion board.

Over the next two years

Canada's weather office, will change all its measurement units to metric. Ken Park, metric information director, says rain and snowfall will be given in millimeters and centimeters rather than inches starting in September.

Atmospheric pressure will be switched to metric in April 1976 and wind velocity will be given in kilometers instead of miles per hour from April 1977.

But changes at the Weather Office are only part of the massive conversion that will affect everyone as Canada joins the 90 per cent of the world already using the metric system.

This fall sugar and some other goods will be packaged in metric sizes. Sample highway signs in kilometers already are up in most provinces.

Trade Minister Alastair Gillespie has announced a new loan program to help smallbusiness men, including farmers and fishermen, to convert their operations to metric. A storekeeper, for example, will incur expenses when he has to convert his measuring scales.

Metric conversion becomes a complex activity involving most facets of life from textbooks in schools to speedometers in automobiles.

Speedometers offer perhaps the smallest problem. A metric spokesman said those in 1976 cars will be converted to kilometers only or in combination with the mile scale. Manufacturers are expected to offer transparent overlays with kilometer readings for use in older cars.

Many elementary schools already teach the metric system.

The Netherlands Not A Country Of Film Fans

By KEN JACOBSON
Associated Press Writer
AMSTERDAM (AP) — There was a time when motion pictures were taboo in The Netherlands, and even now the Dutch occupy last place in the European movie-going standings.

Only 26 million movie tickets were sold in 1974 — about two for every member of the population. This contrasted with 1956 ticket sales, which amounted to 70 million before TV started cutting into the movie-going population.

Other factors were also at work.

"The Dutch are still basically a stay-at-home people," said Peter Cuyper, an official of the Dutch Association of Theater Owners. "Religious background has worked to keep people out of movies, theaters and bars."

While other European nations also felt the impact of TV, their movie-going rate remains higher than in The Netherlands. Trade statistics show the average Italian went to the movies 10 times in 1973, Greeks 14.4, Frenchmen 4.4, British 3.3 and Belgians three times.

There's a long history to reluctant Dutch movie-going. There were widespread moves to outlaw all cinema when a film rating board was first mooted for The Netherlands 50 years ago. Belgian border towns were dotted with movie houses catering to the film-starved Dutch.

"For the Calvinist, film was low amusement, something actually indecent," said Netherlands Film Museum Director Jan de Vaal, who says his wish to make movies a career of his family's sensibilities.

Gerard Kruger of the Dutch Film and Youth Institute, which pilots projects in audiovisual education, said that through the early 1950s "the Dutch saw film as something they had to protect their children against."

Film and television were thought to have a bad influence on children, to be at the root of immoral and criminal behavior," explained Kruger. "TV is still taboo in a few strict Protestant communities."

Despite low movie attendance, there has been a marginal upswing since 1970 when only 24 million tickets were sold. Cuyper attributed this to TV, which "has made the film audience more critical. They want something different from the TV offering. The old-fashioned Hollywood film no longer goes down. The new audience goes in for new genres, new directors, new production techniques."

Cuyper said 1974 saw the first increase in the number of movie houses in 15 years. There are now some 400 in this nation of 13 million.

The new audience is also young. Some 70 per cent of all 1973 ticket sales were accounted for by people under the age of 30.

PUBLIC NOTICE

MECHANIC LIEN
For Sale at public auction one 1971 Ford Torino, 2 door, serial no. 1A35M174887. To be sold at Hastings Ford, Inc., 3013 E. 10th Street, Greenville, N.C., at 12 NOON April 18, 1975.
March 25: April 1, 1975

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

Docket No. H-25, Sub 2
BEFORE THE NORTH CAROLINA UTILITIES COMMISSION

In the Matter of Application of the Housing Authority of the City of Greenville, North Carolina, for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Housing Authority of the City of Greenville, North Carolina, has made application to the North Carolina Utilities Commission for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity for the establishment of 122 units of low-rent public housing and for authority to exercise the power of eminent domain for carrying out said project; to purchase property for use in connection therewith and for other purposes incident thereto; and

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN THAT said application will be heard before the North Carolina Utilities Commission at its offices in the Ruffin Building, One West Morgan Street, Raleigh, North Carolina, on Wednesday, April 16, 1975, at 10:00 a.m., at which time and place the Commission will hear testimony by any and all interested parties for or against the granting of said Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity.

PROTESTS SHOULD BE FILED WITH THE COMMISSION on or before 5:00 p.m. on Monday, April 14, 1975.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN THAT Applicant shall cause this Notice to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the area once each week for two successive weeks, the last publication not appearing later than five days prior to the date for filing protests, and furnish proof of publication.

ISSUED BY ORDER OF THE COMMISSION.
This 24th day of March 1975
NORTH CAROLINA UTILITIES COMMISSION
By Anne L. Olive Deputy Clerk
April 1, 1975

Youth Slain In Theft Try

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Police reported a 15-year-old youth was shot to death Monday when the owner of a Wilmington gun shop interrupted a burglary attempt at the shop.

Donald Rutland, 15, was dead on arrival at New Hanover Memorial Hospital with a gunshot wound in the jaw, authorities said.

Police said Charles D. Todd, owner of Todd's Gun Shop, told them that he shot at the youth when he saw him handing guns up through a hole in the store's ceiling to a companion.

Todd said he told the young man to stop. He said he fired when he heard one of the men tell the other "shoot him."

The second man fled. Police later arrested 16-year-old Leroy Johnson and charged him with the burglary. No charges were filed against Todd.

Authorities said Rutland was scheduled to go on trial this week on burglary charges.

Lawmaker At Checkout Post

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Rep. Charles Thone says he wants to find out what customers think when they pass a supermarket checkout counter or a gas pump.

So on Thursday, he'll work for a while at each of those vantage-points in South Sioux City. In the Nebraska Republican's words, it's "to get more down-to-earth viewpoints on prices and problems in the energy and food fields."

"My own daughter!"

Eva Turner

is now associated with the

BEAUTY BOX

1306 N. Greene Street

Special Introductory Offer April 1 - April 15 $12.50
Perm For Only $8.50. $15.00 Body Wave For Only $10.00

Call for Appointment Tues. - Sat.

752-4649

Jeanette Baker

Why Not Let A WANT AD

Clean

out your attic, basement, garage, and home of unused, but useful items.

The Daily Reflector Classified Ads reach thousands of people every day. That's one of the big reasons they get such amazing results... and, besides that, they're so easy to use. Go through your home. Make a list of all the items you find that aren't being used or enjoyed. Your children's good but outgrown toys, clothing and furniture, the musical instrument that no one plays any more, the sport equipment that's gathering dust, the chair that doesn't go to any room, the outdoor furniture you're tired of. All these things and others you find are worth good hard cash to other families... and all you have to do to get in touch with your buyer is dial 752-6166.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE

Sealed proposals will be received by the Redevelopment Commission of the City of Greenville, (herein called "Local Issuing Agency") at Room 1, 316 Roundtree Drive in the City of Greenville, State of North Carolina 27834, until, and publicly opened at One o'clock P.M. (E.D. S.T.) on April 15, 1975 for the purchase of its Project Notes, being issued to aid in financing its project (s) as follows:

Amount $220,000.00; Series Third Series 1975; Maturity Date September 12, 1975.

The Notes will be dated May 13, 1975, will be payable to bearer on the Maturity Date, and will bear interest at the rate or rates per annum fixed in the proposal or proposals accepted for the purchase of such Notes.

All proposals for the purchase of said Notes shall be submitted in a form approved by the Local Issuing Agency. Copies of such form of proposal and information concerning the Notes may be obtained from the Local Issuing Agency at the address indicated above. Detailed information with respect to the conditions of this sale may be obtained from the April 1, 1975 issue of The Daily Bond Buyer. The Local Issuing Agency reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

REDEVELOPMENT COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF GREENVILLE

By J. M. Laney

Executive Director

April 1, 1975

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

Classified Advertising Rates

752-6166

Place your Classified ad for 7 days. The cost is less.

RATES

3 line minimum

1-3 days	35¢ per line per day
4-6 days	32¢ per line per day
7 or more	30¢ per line per day

SEMI-ANNUAL CONTRACTS

4 lines per day	23¢ per line
8 lines per day	21¢ per line
(Monthly Charge)	$43.68

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY RATES

Open Rates	$1.80 per inch
7 or more days	$1.75 per inch

SEMI-ANNUAL CONTRACTS

6 inches per week	$1.70
1 inch per week	$1.60
(Monthly charge)	$41.60

DEADLINES

All line ad deadlines are 12:00 noon on the preceding day. Except Sunday and Monday which is 4:00 p.m. Friday. All display deadlines are 4:00 p.m. two days in advance of publication. Except Sunday which is 3:00 p.m. Thursday and Monday which is due by 12:00 noon on Friday & Tuesday which is due by 4:00 p.m. Friday.

ERRORS

Errors must be reported immediately. The Daily Reflector cannot make allowances for errors after the 1st day.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement submitted.

AUTOMOTIVE

Autos For Sale

AMC GREMLIN 1974. Low mileage, air conditioning, automatic, power steering, extra clean. Call 746-6892.

BUICK CENTURY 1975. 2 door. Will trade for a sports car. 752-4239.

CATALINA PONTIAC 1972. 4 door, fully equipped. $1895. 756-2856.

CHEVROLET VEGA GT 1973. Extra clean. $1995. Holt Olds, 756-3115.

CHEVY IMPALA 1967 Station Wagon. V8, 9 passenger, air conditioning, radio, automatic, power steering, new tires. $300. 752-2907.

CHEVROLET CAPRICE '68. Clean, good condition, good tires, factory air, automatic. $695. 752-7613 after 5.

COMET 1974. Automatic, air conditioning, power steering, low mileage, like new. You need to come by and drive this one. Call Downtown Motors, 746-6892.

DODGE DART Swinger '73. 6 cylinder, automatic, factory air, power steering. Reasonably priced. 758-1809 anytime.

ECONOMY PLUS features like air conditioning, automatic, low mileage on this 1973 Maverick. Burgundy over white, very clean. Call Downtown Motors, 746-6892.

HASTINGS FORD has daily rentals at reasonable prices. Call 758-0114.

LESABRE HARD TOP Buick 1971. For sale by original owner — good condition. 755-4578. Jack Sharp, Robersonville.

MERCURY CAPRI 1972. Automatic, air conditioning, extra clean. You need to drive this one today. Contact Downtown Motors, 746-6892.

MERCURY MONTEREY '70. 2 door hardtop, 37,000 actual miles. Air conditioning, all power, factory installed stereo-tape system. $1195. 752-0939.

MOB GT 1971. EXTRA CLEAN. Top condition, good color. A real gas saver. Call 746-6892.

MUNCIE 4-SPEED, $175. Borg-Warner 10 speed, $150. Stewart Warner electric fuel pump, $35; 4 Cragar slotted disk wheels, 14 x 6, $80. 752-3286.

OPEL KADETT 1968. 1.9 engine, power brakes, clean condition. $550. 746-6236.

PINTO WAGON '73. Air take over payments or cash. 752-0272.

FIAT

A group of new Fiats going at bargain prices which can't be matched again this year.

Come on in and shop for a bargain.

We will buy your car for top dollar in cash or trade in allowance for good clean used cars.

See

Brown Wood, Inc.

Dickinson Ave.

752-7111

Autos For Sale

PLYMOUTH CUBA 1972. Black with white hood which is custom painted. black cob webbing on white with black hood scoops. Has white interior, floor mats, transmission, engine, 4 barrel, air conditioning, tape player. Call 758-4386 after 6 p.m. or 756-1667.

TOYOTA MARK II '72 yellow Coupe. Air conditioning, 27 miles per gallon, good condition. Must sell this week — $1875 or best offer. 747-3506.

WE BUY GOOD, clean used cars at Smith-Waldrop Motors. 756-4267.

WHY NOT RENT, lease, or buy your next Lincoln Mercury or any other fine car from Smith-Waldrop Motors? 756-4267.

GUARANTEED Engine, transmission, body parts. Free parts locating service.

Crisp Auto Salvage, Inc.

Phone 752-2572 N. Greene St.

Having Engine Trouble? See

"The Engine People"

Auto Specialty Co.

917 W. 5th St.

758-1131

Boats & Equipment

18' DIXIE, Inboard-outboard '74. $4650. 756-1113. 756-1094 after 6:30.

'73 CHARLTON 14' fiberglass fishing boat. Fully carpeted. 20 horsepower Chrysler outboard motor and tank. Boat, motor, trailer, and cover. Call 758-0298.

NEW SUPPLY of used wood and aluminum fiberglass boats and trailers for $712.35, and 100 horse Evirunde outboard motors. Will trade fish nets and materials. Home Auto Supply, 718 Dickinson Avenue.

18 FOOT REDFISH Cabin with 100 horsepower Mercury motor and new trailer. 752-6210.

18' SAILBOAT, trailer, and outboard motor. Phone 752-1057 after 5 p.m.

Cycles For Sale

HONDA 1972 SL 70. Good condition, dirt bike. 756-0820.

'73 HONDA 350. Good condition, 2 helmets. $500. 752-0801.

1974 HONDA 450 CC. hi rider. Crash bar, sissy bar, 2,000 miles. $500. 527-5934.

1967 SEARS SR 250 CC. Very good condition. $250. Call 758-0318 after 6 p.m.

1974 YAMAHA 175 Enduro. Excellent condition. Call 756-2736.

Trucks For Sale

CHEVROLET CHEYENNE Pickup 1973. Like new inside and out. A real buy on this one. Call 746-6892.

CLEAN, LOW MILEAGE 1973 Chevrolet LUV Pickup truck with matching camper top, real gas saver. Contact Downtown Motors, 746-6892.

FORD '69. V8, automatic, power steering and brakes. 756-7912 after 6.

FORD PICKUP 1968. New paint. Call 758-0247 after 6 p.m.

FORD 1972 Truck, cab, and chassis with refrigerated body mounted. A-1 condition. Both for $1,750. Call Stewart Sandwiches, 752-7602.

MUST SELL—moving. '73 Pickup Truck C-10, 3/4 ton step side. Call 758-0720 or 758-3270 after 5:30 p.m.

CLIPPING AND GROOMING for all pets, $10 and up with bath. Stud service available. 758-5671.

WILL TRADE 1 year old registered, male Bloodhound for gentle saddle horse. 752-5361.

AKC PEKINGESE puppies, show-type. 758-3603.

EMPLOYMENT

Help Wanted

AVON TO BUY or sell. Call Mrs. Oglesby collect, 524-5863 or 758-2444.

WANTED—person capable of accepting responsibility to work 4 til 12 p.m. Must be 21 or older. Apply Pac. A-Sac, 1401 Dickinson Avenue. No phone calls please.

EARN $20 For 2 hours morning, afternoon, or evening demonstrating Stanley Home Products. Car necessary. For personal interview call Hazel Pittman at 827-5913.

BRODY'S HAS full time saleslady job opening for sportswear and lingerie department. Interesting job selling fashions. Apply in person, Brody's downtown.

ACCOUNTANT. A person with an accounting background to serve a local retail concern as chief accountant. Duties would consist of but not be limited to the following: participating in and supervising all clerical, accounting, credit functions. Applicant will supervise approximately 3 employees. Applicant should have the ability to understand complex government forms, get along with people, and be willing to help sales staff during peak periods. Write giving full resume to Accountant, P.O. Box 3211, Greenville, N.C.

FARM HELPER wanted. Good opportunity for dependable and honest person. Call 752-3369 after 7 for interview.

WANTED—Experienced sewing machine operators. Apply Tom Tows, Inc., Tarboro — Bethel Highway at Conetoe, 823-3174. Equal Opportunity Employer.

RESPONSIBLE Christian people needed for world-wide professional cleaning service organization. Could lead to owning your own business. Call Raleigh, 833-2801.

HELP WANTED, installation of duct. Experience preferred. Apply in person. E.C. Maintenance of Greenville Heating & Air Conditioning Company. 756-4624.

LADY TO LIVE in with elderly couple. Weekends off if desired. 746-3955 after 6 p.m.

ROUTE SALESMAN wanted. Applicant should be 21 or older, good reputation, physically fit, experience not necessary. Established route, with good pay, paid vacation, sick pay, and other company benefits. Apply in person to Royal Crown Bottling Company, 218 Airport Road, Greenville, N.C.

DEPARTMENT HEAD wanted. Excellent opportunity. Comprehensive company paid benefits. Apply to Manager, King's Department Store, 264 By-Pass, Greenville.

WORK WANTED

EXPERIENCED MOTHER will keep children in her home Monday-Friday. Contact Barbara Farmer, Lot 62, Azalea Gardens.

MANICURE BROTHERS—Day or night cleaning services. Garage, attic, basement. Sunday-Saturday. 752-0269.

RALPH LEWIS Tree Service. Tree pruning and removal. Stump grinding service. Fully insured. For free estimate, phone 527-6885, collect.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE... ADVERTISE WHERE IT PAYS... WANT ADS!

REAL ESTATE

LET WEDCO REALTY do your leg work. We are concerned about your housing needs. Call 752-7462.

Farms For Sale

READY TO MOVE to the country? 38 acres—15 cleared acres—in beautiful County. $20,000. Hackett-Tripp Realty, 752-1965.

FARM IN NASH COUNTY—150 acres, farmhouse and barn, $127,000. Hackett-Tripp Realty, 752-1965 or 746-3129.

House For Sale

FORMAL LIVING room and dining room, den, 2 full baths, 3 bedrooms, 1600 square feet, drapes, carpet, kitchen with eating area, appliances, fireplace, wooded corner lot, oil heat, storm windows, $37,500. Call 758-5996. 1202 Regdale Road.

PERFECT FOR THE small family or newlives. This 3 bedroom, 1 1/2 bath brick home has air conditioning, electric baseboard heat, carpet, garage, and many extras. Located in Oakdale. Call Buchanan Real Estate, 752-3696.

509 PINE — 3 bedrooms, all electric heat, refrigerator, range, washer, and dryer included. Pay equity, assume 7 per cent loan. Total $20,900. Bill Williams Real Estate, 752-2615.

GOOD LOCATION. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, foyer, living room, family room with fireplace, large kitchen with built-ins, carport, and central air. Convenient to schools. Assumable loan. $38,500. L. L. Richardson Real Estate, 752-6535.

"COUNTRY LIVING" is yours in this 3 bedroom rancher. 2 full baths to spare, everything on the way. Still time to choose your own carpets. Single garage and central air too. $26,000. Hackett-Tripp Realty, 752-1965 or 746-3129.

NEED FOUR BEDROOMS? Would you believe only $27,900? Large kitchen with center bar, 1 1/2 baths, covered patio. Call now for other details. Robert Edwards, 756-6652; Estate Realty Company, 752-5058.

FEED CRAMPED? Try this one on for size. 4 bedrooms, living room, dining room, eat-in kitchen, den, 2 baths. Home is situated on a very large and well-kept ground. $37,700. Hackett-Tripp Realty, 752-1965 or 746-3129.

"PRETTY AS SPRINGTIME" is this elegant 3 bedroom home which features a foyer, living room, formal dining room, gourmet kitchen and breakfast area, family room with fireplace, 2 baths, double garage, and central air. Hackett-Tripp Realty, 752-1965 or 746-3129.

BETHEL. Excellent buy — 2 bedrooms, fireplace, good condition. Must see to appreciate. Call James A. Manning Realty, 825-5631.

IN BELVEDERE Subdivision where you will be close to everything—schools, churches, shopping. Situated on a beautiful wooded lot with bedrooms, 2 baths, living room, kitchen and den. Hurry on this super buy! $33,600. Call Whitley & Associates, 752-8888 or 758-0816.

3 BEDROOM RANCH. 2 baths, eat-in kitchen, living room, dining room, garage, fenced-in back yard. 1/2 acre of land. Conventional loan may be assumed. Call 758-5301.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION—Candlewick Estates, 3 miles from new hospital. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, family room with fireplace, breakfast area, formal dining and living room, 2 car garage. $43,500. Call Dees Whitley at Whitley & Associates, 752-8888.

Lots For Sale

TWO LOTS for sale. $1800 or $1000 each. Call 756-2084.

LOVELY WOODED lot just waiting for your dream house. Located about 15 miles from Greenville. $2250. Hackett-Tripp Realty, 752-1965 or 746-3129.

FOR SALE—3 beautiful wooded lots. Only 2.6 miles from city limits on main highway. Wonderful location. Call 752-1026.

RENTALS

Apartment For Rent

Kings Roto

One and two bedroom garden apartments. Located just off East Tenth Street.
PHONE 752-3519

Cherry Lane

Come see the most luxurious apartments in Greenville. From chandelier to sauna baths to trash compactors, plus fabulous pool and club room. We assure you the best of everything.

752-1557

Thomas Realty Co.

STRATFORD ARMS apartments

An exclusive community designed to provide the ultimate in gracious living. Featuring modern 1, 2, and 3 bedroom garden apartments and 2 bedroom townhouses at reasonable rates. Furnished or unfurnished.

All applications accepted subject to availability.

J. DIAZ, Broker
1900 S. Charles Street
Tele. (919) 756-4800

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

FOR SALE

Choice Wooded Residential Lots. Highly Restricted.

For Further Information Contact
Dr. Donald Patrick
752-6751 or 756-3714

ROOFING

STORM WINDOWS
DOORS & AWNINGS
C.L. LUPTON CO.
752-6116

Apartment For Rent

STADIUM APARTMENTS, 904 E. 14th St., adjoins ECU campus, furnished, complete modern, central heat and air. $125 per month. 752-5700, 756-4671.

Greenway Apartments

Beautiful 2 bedroom garden apartments off Country Club Drive, adjacent to Greenville Golf and Country Club. Now accepting applications. Phone 756-6869.

Thomas Realty Co.

Ultimate In Apartment Living

Apartment Living

1, 2, and 3 bedrooms, washer, dryer, hook-ups, pool, club house. Only 5 blocks from East Carolina University.

Check everywhere else first, then call

TAR RIVER ESTATES

1401 Willow St.
752-4225

Hotpoint
KITCHEN APPLIANCES

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Apartment For Rent

1 BEDROOM apartment, Cedar Lane Apartments. Call 756-3611 or 756-3936.

ONE BEDROOM apartment, unfurnished, in Meadowbrook, $50 a month. 756-1307.

Eastbrook APARTMENTS

Two bedroom luxury apartments with optional dens and all the new amenities including wall to wall carpeting, draperies, dishwashers, individual air conditioning and heating AND MORE.

201 Eastbrook Drive — Off Greenville Boulevard (U.S. 264 By-Pass) just south of Tenth Street. Convenient to ECU and everything.

DRUCKER & FALK
758-4012

House For Rent

3 BEDROOM BRICK with fireplace and fenced in back yard. Built-in range and oven, dishwasher, frost-free refrigerator-freezer, washer and dryer, drapes. Couples only. $230 a month. Call 758-4012 days; 756-5137 nights.

Office Space For Rent

FOR LEASE
SOCIAL SECURITY
BUILDING OFFICE
Commercial or Medical Use
Total Space 6,600 sq. ft.
J.J. PERKINS 758-1248

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Resort Property

RESORT PROPERTY. Lot located on Pamlico River at the east end of Pamlico Beach. Bulkhead well, and septic tank. Call Hackney High Real Estate, Washington, N.C. 946-7861.

BEAUTIFUL SANDY waterfront property on Pamlico River. 210' x 235'. House suitable for cottage. Easy access to state road. Call Monday-Saturday 746-3141 days; 758-3761 nights.

Room For Rent

FOR RENT—private room close to campus. Phone 752-4006 after 1.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Rooms For Rent

ONE BEDROOM with private bath and entrance. Prefer elderly lady. 752-1991.

ROOM AVAILABLE for college student or commercial. 1/2 block from college. Call 752-3546.

SPECIAL NOTICES

YARD SALE—April 5, 1975, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. at the NCNB drive-in windows on the corner of 5th and Washington Streets. Items for sale — baked goods, old books, pots 'n' pans, old furniture, flower vases. By District 30 N.C. State Nurses' Association. Raindate — April 12.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

IS YOUR INCOME IN A RECESSION?

Are you working in a field that has been blasted by the current economic trends? If so, you're probably working harder than ever and getting less for your efforts. We are offering a territorial sales position and a future that is virtually unlimited to a qualified individual in this area.

In today's business world, everyone is thinking machine and building maintenance not replacement. DEL manufactures over 200 maintenance chemicals which are aimed directly at this market. Why not go with a company and market that are presently enjoying unprecedented growth.

Our program includes a lucrative compensation program plus a full fringe benefit package that includes:
Non-contributory retirement program
Hospitalization and major medical plan
Sick leave benefits
Life insurance
Paid holidays and vacation schedule
An income protection plan is available to our qualified personnel.

Interviews will be held in Kinston at the Holiday Inn, US 70 & 258. Call John Borrin, on Wednesday, April 2, after 5 p.m. for an appointment for a personal interview. The number is 919-527-4155.

DEL CHEMICAL CORPORATION

SALE-SALE-SALE

LTD's, Torinos, Elites,
Mavericks, Mustangs, Pintos
& Trucks (F-100's Half-Ton)

★ Factory Invoice plus N.C. Sales Tax

Quality Motors
of Robersonville

Robersonville, N.C. Call 795-4131 Dealer No. 2790

WANTED

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY—1 row tractor. Call 756-3755 after 5.

WANTED TO BUY—one set of four inch wheel spacers for 3000 Ford. 758-5926.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

WE BUY USED CARS
HASTINGS FORD
E. 10th St. 758-0114

CRAFTED SERVICES

Quality Furniture Refinishing and Repairs. Superior Care for all type chairs, larger Selection of Custom Picture Framing, Survey Stakes — Any length, all types of pallets, Hand-crafted rope hammocks, selected framed reproductions.

Eastern Carolina
Sheltered Workshop

Industrial Park Hwy. 13
758-4188 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
Greenville, N.C.

Downtown Motors And Mobile Homes

Ayden, N.C.

All 1974 Model Homes Reduced

Down Payments
Low As $200.00.

Call 746-6892

Termites?

CALL 756-6424

TERMINIX
WORLD'S LARGEST IN TERMITE CONTROL

TEXTILE

FIXTER

Excellent opportunity for fixter experienced on CMC Cards, Versamatic Drawing, Rovematic Roving, Roberts Spinning, and Schwieter Winders. Good working conditions, fringe benefits, chance for advancement, and top pay for the right man.

Write or call

N.B. Howard
Rocky Mount Mills
P.O. Box 1240
Rocky Mount, N.C.
442-0197

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

COME BACK

THE ARMY NEEDS
MEN WITH PAST EXPERIENCE

Soldiers, Sailors, or Marines!

If you've been discharged two years or less, find out how you can pick up where you left off. Check it out. You may even qualify for a bonus or an accelerated promotion in addition to fringe benefits that include meals, housing, health care, 30 days paid vacation each year, opportunities to travel, and continued education.

FOR DETAILED ADVANTAGES OF REENLISTING
SEE YOUR LOCAL ARMY RECRUITER

Datsun Li'l Hustler
1975 EPA Test Results: 31 MPG!

That's right. The 2000cc 4-speed Datsun Li'l Hustler gets better highway mileage than any other pickup in America, big or li'l. And that's just one of the ways this Datsun saves!

Datsun Saves

America's #1 Selling Small Pickup.

• Immediate Delivery
• Color Selection

HOLT
OLDS-DATSUN

101 Hooker Rd.

756-3115

International Pickup®

with workhorse power

Double-wall construction for rigidity and appearance... load doesn't dent the exterior of the bed.

Rear heavy-duty step bumper with trailer-hitch mount and trailer wiring... towing power.

Choose the standard Comanche 304 CID, 345 CID V-8 engine or the hefty 392 CID V-8.

Front power disc brakes for smoother, fade-resistant stopping power.

Whatever kind of power you want, the International Pickup has it available for you.

INTERNATIONAL® Pickup '74

Special Savings Now

Test drive the pickup at your International Harvester dealer and see for yourself what power really means. Own one for as little as $3485

Plus N.C. Sales Tax

International Harvester Sales & Service

1900 Dickinson Ave.

Phone 758-2239

The Real Estate Corner

University Condominiums

A Remarkable Home Investment at

$19,500.00*

- 1,024 square feet of living space
- 150 square feet of private patio
- Brand new wall-to-wall shag carpet
- Central heating and air conditioning
- Dishwasher, range, refrigerator
- Ideal location across the street from Eastern Elementary and 4 tennis courts
- 95 percent financing
- Small monthly payments
- Small yearly maintenance fees

DAVID SLEDGE
SALES AGENT

E. 264 By Pass
752-1785

* Sales price subject to increase without notice.

Public Pressure For No-Fault Insurance Fading

GEMS RECOVERED—Chris Brower, assistant manger of a Burley (Idaho) pizza parlor, examines a portion of $260,000 in gems left on a table of his establishment by a New York gem company's courier who stopped there to eat. Two other customers found the gems and turned them over to Brower, who called police. The company owning the gems was found, although police refused to identify it. Officers said not one of the more than 3,000 diamonds, sapphires, rubies and emeralds was missing. The large stones in the foreground are a $15,000 ruby, left, and a sapphire. (AP Wirephoto)

Late Rush Of Clemency Bids

By MARGARET SCHERF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's clemency program ended at midnight with a flurry of last-minute applications. Signups rose from 16,500 at the weekend to about 18,000 by the time the program ended at Monday midnight, a spokeswoman for the presidential Clemency Board reported.

Several Errors

Several errors appeared in the Greenville Shrine No. 7, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, officers installation story printed in Monday's issue of The Daily Reflector.

The name of Mrs. Thelma Maxwell, P.W.H.P., as Installing Officer was omitted and Mrs. Mary Boyd assisting in serving refreshments. Mrs. Pattie Mizelle and Miss Annie Turner presided at the guest register.

The following paragraph is corrected as follows: After the officers to be installed marched in and were seated in the cross formation, the American Flag was presented and the Pledge of Allegiance was given. The singing of "America," was followed by the altar ceremony by the Installing Chaplain, Mrs. Blanche Jackson.

Twenty-One Holiday Dead

By The Associated Press
The Highway patrol reports that 21 persons were killed in Easter Holiday weekend traffic accidents in North Carolina.

The deaths brought the state's traffic toll for the year to 291. This compared with 351 deaths in the comparable period of last year.

The N.C. State Motor Club had predicted a weekend traffic death toll of 18.

The latest deaths reported included a 26-year-old Fort Bragg soldier, Rayburn Dale Smith, killed in a collision on a rural road 2½ miles south of Fayetteville; William Charles Hill, 27, of Rt. 2, Aurora who was killed in a collision on N.C. 33 near Aurora; 52-year old James Nathan Payne of Gastonia, who was killed when he stepped in the path of a car on U.S. 21 near Huntersville, and Janet Kafka, 30 of Clemmons, a victim of a two-car crash at a highway intersection in Guilford County.

People who work at desks need fewer calories than those who work with their muscles. Thinking and sitting take no more calories than sitting.

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina legislators interested in the subject say the public clamor for no fault auto insurance is not as great now as it was a year or so ago.

Even so, two highlz different no fault measures have been introduced in the House and another measure is expected in the Senate. A House Insurance subcommittee, headed by Rep. Art Thomas, D-Cabarrus, have

Rich Widow Is Dead Of Hunger

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bertha Adams was 71 and alone. For some reason she refused to spend any of her $800,000 in cash on food for herself and died of malnutrition after wasting away to 50 pounds, officials say.

The cash and hundreds of valuable stock certificates were found in safe-deposit boxes two days before her death Sunday in a hospital, Mrs. Adams' court-appointed attorney said Monday.

"I continue to be flabbergasted," said attorney Robert M. Liete. "It's hard to get over seeing that much money."

Twenty-five-year neighbors of the twice-married, reclusive widow, once a schoolteacher, were also flabbergasted.

"We had no indication that the woman had a dime," said one, Russell Blair. "Her house looked like a pigpen and she got what clothes she had from the Salvation Army."

"She was starving to death and yet she wouldn't spend any money to get something to eat."

Blair said neighbors used to take food to her. They reported her condition to state social workers early in March.

She weighed 50 pounds when taken from her home. A probate judge ruled her incompetent because of senility. He named Leite as her guardian.

She was first put in a nursing home, then transferred to the hospital where she died.

"Mrs. Adams was certainly in a pitiful condition," Leite said, adding that an initial check of her home revealed nothing to indicate that she was anything but a "victim of need."

"I examined Mrs. Adams' papers as a normal procedure,"

Pitt Students Among Honored

GREENSBORO — Two Pitt County students were among the 580 juniors honored at a special reception recently at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

The junior scholars were invited to the reception on the basis of their academic achievements at UNC-G.

They are: Miss Adrienne Gardner, an interior design major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner, Fountain, and Miss Delores F. Harris, a sociology major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris, Jr., 1813-A W. Third St., Greenville.

The purpose of the reception was to honor the students for their academic achievements and to inform them of the opportunities for graduate study.

begun its study of the issue.

"I don't feel there is a great deal of pressure to pass no fault, but it is an issue with some people who have been involved in an accident and have had trouble getting a settlement," said Sen. Bobby L. Barker, D-Wake, who said he plans to offer a no-fault measure by mid-April.

"I get the distinct feeling that the interest is not there as it was two years ago," said Rep. Craig Lawing, D-Mecklenburg who sponsored one of two no-fault bills now before the House.

Lawing, a Charlotte insurance agent, served on a commission which studied the no fault issue two years ago. He said his bill is "basically the same bill that the study commission recommended plus some refinements based on experience in other states."

For motorists involved in an accident, the Lawing bill would provide payments for lost wages and other economic losses up to $5,000 and medical expenses up to $2,000. The motorist would recover from his own insurance company regardless of who was at fault in the accident.

Motorists would not be permitted to sue for damages unless their losses were greater than the $5,000 economic loss and $2,000 medical expense thresholds provided in the bill.

Rep. Mark Short, D-Guilford, introduced a bill recently which he described as "a form of no dault." The bill would require all motorists to carry at least $1,000 worth of medical payments insurance and uninsured motorist coverage of $15,000 per individual and $30,000 per accident.

Short said that almost everyone already carries this insurance and "my bill just makes it mandatory."

The Short bill makes no provision for economic losses, such as loss of wages, resulting from an auto accident, which the Lawing measure does include.

Short says he does not "like the theory of no fault" and prefers the present system under which there is no restriction on the right of those involved in auto accidents to sue in court to recover their losses.

"We can do most of the things they are trying to do with no fault right within the present system yet maintain the principle that if you are at fault in an accident it's your responsibility to pay," Short said.

Barker said he was going to Columbia, S.C., today to take a look at the South Carolina no fault insurance plan and will draft a bill upon his return.

Barker said his bill will have

"the usual income loss provision, the medical loss provision, and I feel it must have property damage coverage" which the Lawing measures does not contain.

"Unless you have property damage, it's just accident and health insurance," Bakrer said.

Rep. R. C. Soles, D-Columbia, an attorney who has opposed no fault in the past, said that he has seen "no grass roots demand for it" but if the General Assembly is bent on passing no fault he is willing to compromise and work out a bill.

Soles said he understands

"South Carolina has a workable plan" which provides for payment of medical expenses and economic losses to accident victims. The South Carolina plan does not limit the right to sue, but provides that any payments received under the no fault plan are deducted from any recoveries made in lawsuits.

"They tell me it (South Carolina plan) has cut out all these small and nuisance type suits," Soles said.

Asked if the South Carolina plan was a lawyers' no fault plan, Soles said, "the lawyers don't like it, but they can accept it and live with it."

This man could bank anywhere. Why does he bank at Planters?

Jim "Catfish" Hunter wants no less from a bank than you do. He wants all the services he needs. And he doesn't want to go from bank to bank to get them. He also wants personal attention.

The kind you get from a bank where you don't have to be a millionaire to be treated like one. Which is why he banks at Planters National Bank. We offer exceptional services like Ultra Checking, the easiest account to balance in North Carolina. Simple Interest Loans that have the extraordinarily uncomplicated feature of being easy to pay back. And a computer system so advanced we can tell you anything you need to know about any of your accounts in a matter of minutes. Most important, though, we can offer these services not just to Jim "Catfish" Hunter, but to you.

Up-to-date banking from down-to-earth bankers.

CLARKS

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES.

Prices Effective Wednesday April 2nd
Thru Saturday April 5th.

Spring Sale

Uni Spin Rod & Reel

Reg.
24.97

16.88

The rod and reel combo in 1 unit for spin casting ease, bait casting accuracy and spinning reliability. Right hand only. No. 0633LB

TRUE TEMPER.

SAVE
8.00

Scotties or Lady Scott Facial Tissues

Reg.
.48 ea.

3 $1

BOXES FOR

Boxes of 200.

Limit 3 Boxes Please

Curefree

Spray Enamel

Reg.
1.24

49¢

13 oz can

For interior, exterior. Quick drying non-toxic. White and colors.
Limit 2 Please

Aim Toothpaste

48¢

6.4 oz. tube of the new, Stannous Fluoride toothpaste from Lever Bros.
Limit 1 Please

15" x 25" Printed Terry Dish Towels

39¢

EA.

Choose from many colors and patterns in 100% cotton. Stock up now at this great price!
Sorry, No Rainchecks

Printed Terry Bath Towels

88¢

22" x 42"
Special Purchase, cotton terry, floral garden print.
Sorry, No Rainchecks

Hand Towels 58¢ EA.

Wash Cloths 38¢ EA.

RAINCHECK
If we sell out of any advertised specials, you will receive a written order, "Rain-check" which entitles you to buy the item at the advertised price when our stock is replenished.
*(excluding clearance items)

WEST END SHOPPING CENTER, GREENVILLE

MON. thru SAT., 9:30 A.M. to 9:30 P.M.

Just say "CHARGE-IT"

FOR THE GARDENER ON A BUDGET!

SAVE
$5.00

26" Lawn Sweeper

Reg.
28.98

23.98

Weatherproof, removable bag. Replaceable brushes. 7 bu. capacity basket. No. XS26-70

5/8" x 50'
Plastic Hose

4.88

With all brass fittings. No. 5600

PKG. OF 20
Gladioli Bulbs

1.22

Reg. 1.79

Mixed colors.

SAVE 17.20

20" Rotary Mower with Briggs & Stratton Motor

BRIGGS & STRATTON

57.77

Reg. Price 74.97

3 HP recoil start Briggs and Stratton engine. 7" wheels, finger-tip control. All safety features. No. 1420 lawn & leaf bags

3 Bu. Cap.
Lawn And Leaf Bags

59¢

Reg. .89

PKG. of 10

Sturdy vinyl bags for spring clean-ups. Waterproof. Twist ties included.

Gardening Tools

1.99 EA.

Reg. 2.47

All American made and full size. Choose from shovel, bow rake or hoe.

TRUE TEMPER.

Leaf Rake

98¢

Reg. 1.28

American made. 19" head with 20 teeth. 4' clean-finish handle. No. CLR

TRUE TEMPER.

BARGAINS ON SPRINGTIME PLAYTIME

SAVE $3.00

2-Seat Sand Box

12.96

Reg. Price 15.96

Features rust-proof steel box, non-splintering seats and "easy-to-drop" vinyl canopy. No. 405PG.

10" Tricycle

9.86

Reg. 10.86

This popular red, white and blue trike features long-wearing bearing wheels and adjustable saddle. No. 3410

SURE SIGNS OF SPRING SAVINGS!

Artificial Flowers

5¢
EA.

Make your own spring arrangements using these lifelike plastic flowers and greens.

Melmac 45-Piece Dinnerware

9.99

Reg. Price 14.97

Choose from 4 patterns. Includes 8 each: dinner plates, bread and butter, saucers and cups, fruit/dessert bowls and 1 each: vegetable bowl, platter, creamer and 2-piece sugar.

Storage Boxes

Size 25½" x 13¾" x 9 3/8". In news print or wood grain design.

99¢
EA.
Reg. 1.74

Wooden Hanger Sets

Reg. 1.44 88¢ SET

Choose from set of 3 trouser hangers, set of 3 skirt hangers, set of 6 dress hangers, or set 2 suit hangers.

Set of 8 Vinyl-Coated Drip Dry Hangers. . . . Reg. .99. 69¢ SET

MOTORCYCLE TOOLS AND ACCESSORIES

A. Folding Foot Pegs, No. 7111	Reg. 4.44	2.99
B. License Plate Holder, No. 7697	Reg. 1.74	1.22
C. Motorcycle Mirror, Oblong, No. 7162.	Reg. 3.37	2.66
D. Cushion Grips, No. 7052	Reg. 1.49	.99
E. Motorcycle Helmet Solid Black or White.	Reg. 14.77	9.88
F. Motorcycle Helmet Metal Flaked	Reg. 16.77	12.88
G. Castrol 2 Cycle Oil	Reg. .79	.59qt.
H. Castrol 4 Cycle Oil	Reg. .89	.59qt.

I. Gumout Cycle Chain Lube No. 7380	Reg. .99	.69
J. Simchrome Polish.	Reg. 1.33	.99
K. Repair Manuals for Honda or Yamaha	Reg. 4.46	2.99ea.
L. Tire Repair Kit No. 7674	Reg. 3.86	2.66
M. Champion Cycle Spark Plugs	Reg. .69	.59ea.
N. Chain Breaker Tool No. 7251	Reg. 2.88	2.22
O. Cycle Spark Plug Wrench No. 7351	Reg. 1.88	1.77
P. Sport Goggles No. 560	Reg. 2.99	2.49
Q. Cycle Spoke Wrench No. 7355.	Reg. 2.27	1.49

3-Shelf Unfinished Wood Bookcase

9.99

Reg. Price 13.47

Ready to assemble Size 8½"D x 24"W x 36"H.
Made of pine lumber for endurance. Ready to paint or antique. No. 9236

CLAY Spring

Storage Bench

12.94

Reg. 19.94

16" x 34" x 23" Quality constructed of ready-to-paint, solid, knotty pine. Easy assembly. No. 9000

3-Drawer Chest

16.86

Reg. 21.86

14" x 24" x 29" Ready-to-finish, solid, knotty pine. Easy to assemble. No. 9003

Night Stand

7.99

Reg. 11.99

12" x 14" x 24" Easy-to-assemble and ready-to-finish, solid, knotty pine. No. 9014

Antique Kit

2.99

Reg. 3.66

Will finish approximately 50 sq. ft. In assorted latex colors.

Paint Sprayer

44.88

Reg. 58.88

1/10HP diaphragm compressor. Completely portable, hose & spray gun included. No. MD2000

2-Piece Minnow Bucket

2.44

Reg. 2.99

Round, with perforated bucket. Handle brackets attached. Sturdy hinges and clasp. No. 88

7" x 7" x 6" Bait Canteen

Reg. 3.59

2.97

Heavy insulated fiberboard, reinforced metal edges with wire handle. No. 328

2 lbs. Buss Bedding

99¢

Reg. 1.48

Keeps bait and worms alive. Easy to use. Just add water.

Rapala Knife And Sheath

3.77

Reg. 4.49

Fillet knife of curved European stainless steel. Hand ground to stay sharp.

C'MON IN NOW AND

Johnson C
Zebco Acti
Daiwa Reo
South Ben

Garcia Mi
Southland
Pflueger S
Pflueger M
Pflueger A

Daiwa Ul
Daiwa Pu
Daiwa Hig
Johnson C
Zebco Reo

RKS SALE

Lucite Wall Paint

6.99 GAL.

Reg. Price 8.86 Gal.

Dries velvety flat in 30 minutes. Cleans up with soap and water. White and colors.

6 ft. No-Rust Aluminum Wire Screen

1.44

Reg. Price 1.99

6'L x 24"W. Fine aluminum mesh also available in the following widths.

26"	2.43
28"	2.72
30"	2.94
32"	3.14
36"	3.84

Lucite Interior Enamel with Teflon®

9.86 GAL.

Reg. 10.86 Gal.

Durable, semi-gloss finish. Most dirt and stains wash right off. White and colors.

2" Nylon Paint Brush

99¢

Reg. 1.57

For woodwork and trim. No. 8003-2

FISH FOR A BARGAIN!

Century Spinning Reel-No. 100B
Action Freshwater Reel-No. XLR
Reel W/1-Pc. Bail Pickup-No. 7290 and Flat Mounting Auto Reel-No. 1180

7.88

Reg. Price 8.99 to 9.99

Mitchell Spinning Reel-No. 320 and Ultra Light-No. 3-201-725
Skirted Spool Spinning Reel-No. 680
Reel-No. 627
Metal Reel,-No. 622

9.88

Reg. Price 11.44 to 12.88

Ultra Light Reel-No. 7250
Push Button Spool Reel-No. 7450
High Power Reel-No. 7600
Citation King Size-No. 110B
Reel For Surf, Bay, Freshwater-No. 808

12.88

Reg. Price 13.88 to 19.88

3 Tray Tackle Box

9.97

Reg. 11.88

24 compartments. Spill-proof latch. No. 6300N

Arbogast Lure Assortment

Reg. 6.57 3.88 PKG. of 3

Contains 1 each: Jitterbug (surface), Pugnose (mid-depth) and Mud Bug (deep).

Berkley

Monofilament Line

Reg. 1.15 77¢

Large capacity spool of 6-8-10 and 12 lb. test.

LOOK WHAT 99¢ WILL BUY!

99¢ SALE!

...IN OUR DOMESTICS DEPARTMENT

99¢

52" x 70" Foam-Back Tablecloths

Foam backing protects table.
Available in solids and prints.
Sorry, No Rainchecks

99¢

PKG. OF 2

Printed Pillow Cases

Solids, stripes and prints in many colors. 42" x 36".
Limit 4 Pkgs. Please Sorry, No Rainchecks

99¢

PKG. OF 5

MORGAN
JONES

5 Pk. Knit Dish Cloths

All cotton, jumbo size. Durable and absorbent.
Waffle Weave Pkg. of 3.99

4 FOR 99¢

Solid Color Vinyl Place Mats
100% vinyl decorates and protects.
Available in oblong or oval and many colors.
Sorry, No Rainchecks

3 FOR 99¢

Famous Maker
Jacquard Washcloths

Jumbo size, heavyweight in assorted solids and prints.
Quantities Limited. Sorry, No Rainchecks

2 FOR 99¢

Printed Percale Oven Mitts

Choose from an array of colors and patterns.
Magnetic Pot Holders 3 FOR .99
Non-Magnetic 13" BBQ Mitt . . 2 FOR .99

99¢

Fitted Vinyl Mattress Covers

Choose twin or full size - same price!
Electronically heat sealed for long wear.
Elasticized corners.

2 FOR 99¢ Reg.
.79 ea.

Famous Maker Hand Towels

Beautiful jacquards, solids and designer prints in heavyweight cotton, velours or terrys.
Sorry, No Rainchecks

2 FOR 99¢

Vinyl Lace Scarves & Doilies

16" x 36" or 16" x 46" Beautiful, simulated lace in colors to match your decor.
12" Round or 10" x 14" . . . 5 FOR .99
16" Round or 12" x 18" . . . 4 FOR .99

2 PAIR FOR 99¢

Reg. 1.09 ea.

Lined Plastic Drapes

Many patterns and colors.
Extra wide 72" x 84" and 60" x 84" drapes with 36" x 9" valance.

Sorry, No Rainchecks

99¢

Quilted Zippered Pillow Covers

Choose from solids or prints in standard 21" x 27" bed pillow size. Machine washable.

99¢

Reversible Woven Braid Rugs

24" x 45" multi-color utility rugs.
For kitchens, dens, playrooms and foyers.

99¢

Fashion Broadloom Rugs

Top-quality, fringed in 18" x 30" ovals or oblongs and 18" x 27" prints.

99¢ Reg.
1.49

16 oz. Polyester Fiber

Garnetted polyester for stuffing pillows, toys, cushions and more.

99¢

PKG. OF 2

Vinyl Zippered Pillow Protectors

Size 21" x 27" standard pillow size with rustproof zipper.

99¢ EA.

Antique Satin Toss Pillows

Tufted round or square shapes.
Assorted colors in heavyweight antique satin.

SPRING SAVINGS ON MEN'S & WOMEN'S FASHIONS!

Men's Brushed Cotton Jeans

4.44

Reg. 6.99

Specially priced for spring! With flared legs and 4 pockets. In assorted colors. Sizes 29-38.

Men's Roll-Up Sport Hats

Reg. 2.29

1.59

Water repellent. Forms to bucket shape. In solids & prints. Sizes 6-7/8 to 7 1/2.

Men's Terry Knit Shirts

2.99

Reg. 3.99

Machine washable terry. With short sleeves and buttoned or zippered placket front. In handsome solids. S,M,L,XL.

Men's "Quintessa" Nylon Knit Shirts

3.99

Reg. 4.99

Machine wash, no-iron texturized nylon knit in handsome solids with or without contrasting stitch. Styles with flap or v-shaped pockets. S,M,L,XL.

Missy's & Women's All-Weather Coats

13.88

Reg. 16.99 to 19.99

100% Poly and cotton for easy care. In single and double breasted styles and belted styles. Sizes 6-18, 14 1/2-24 1/2.

Ladies' Denim Jackets

4.44

Reg. 5.99

Cotton denim in western style with metal snap closings. Sizes 32-38.

Mock Twin Knit Tops

5.00

Reg. 6.99 to 7.99

Available in many colors. Sizes S,M,L.

Halter Pajamas

3.99

Reg. 5.99

Wide-legged pajamas with halter or midriff-style tops. In bright spring prints. S,M,L.

Granada Queen Size Pantyhose

75¢

Reg. .98 Pr.

Choose from several shades. Sizes 1 & 2 "For the fuller figure".

Limit 4 Pr. Please