

Five Years Of War Ended

Phnom Penh Surrenders To Communists

By The Associated Press
Phnom Penh surrendered to the Communist-led Khmer Rouge insurgents today after a 3½-month siege, ending five years of war that devastated Cambodia, caused uncounted casualties and disrupted the lives of seven million people.

In Saigon, the military command said fighting tapered off across South Vietnam, with the situation at Xuan Loc, the besieged provincial capital 40 miles northeast of Saigon, "quiet."

White flags and banners of surrender fluttered from every building and shop in downtown Phnom Penh to welcome the black-uniformed Khmer Rouge forces. Rebel troops hugged Cambodian army soldiers and took them aboard their armored personnel carriers for a victory parade along the waterfront.

Government gunboats steamed up and down the Mekong and Tonle Sap rivers on the east side of Phnom Penh, hoisting white flags and banners. "The white flag means cease-fire," an officer said, adding that display of surrender flags had been ordered by the Cambodian military command.

"There are no words to express my joy at the reports that the Khmer Rouge have liberated Phnom Penh," Prince Norodom Sihanouk, nominal leader of the insurgents, was quoted as saying in a telephone interview from Peking.

However, Sihanouk, who was ousted five years ago as Cambodia's chief of state and has since served as titular head of the Khmer Rouge government in exile in Peking, indicated he did not plan to return in the near future.

Tanjung, the official Yugoslav news agency, reported a statement from the prince that while he remains Cambodia's chief of state, 45-year-old Khieu Samphan, his deputy premier and chief commander of the "Armed Force of National Unity in Cambodia," would execute direct power in the country along with the Khmer Rouge.

Sihanouk said he would continue to represent Cambodia abroad and would guarantee "Cambodian policies of nonalignment."

Meanwhile, the commander of the Khmer Rouge forces in the Phnom Penh area, Gen. Hem Ket Dara, established his headquarters in the Information Ministry building in the Cambodian capital.

A Khmer Rouge broadcast invited all "ministers and generals who have not run away" to meet at the Phnom

Penh Information Ministry to "help formulate measures to restore order."

The broadcast said Khmer Rouge from throughout the country—previously 80 to 90 per cent controlled by them —were heading for Phnom Penh and a committee was being set up "which will include comrades of the united front and comrades of the National Liberation Front."

Report S. Vietnam Is 'Irretrievable'

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A secret congressional report assesses the South Vietnamese military situation as "irretrievable" and accuses U.S. Ambassador Graham Martin of delaying plans to evacuate Americans, sources said.

The report says U.S. intelligence officials are agreed that "only decisive military action by the United States could reverse the situation" in South Vietnam where the Saigon government recently surrendered the northern two-thirds of the country to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

The report was prepared by Richard M. Moose and Charles E. Meissner, staff members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who returned last weekend from an 11-day fact-finding tour of Vietnam and Cambodia. Their conclusions are contained in a 16-page secret report to the Senate committee.

While indicating that the evacuation of Americans should be receiving high priority from the U.S. embassy in Saigon, the report says Martin is "actively" resisting such a "dangerously overdue" step, although the document also says that such planning finally began last week, according to informed sources.

As a result of this reported delay, the study says, "the anxiety of the American community is compounded by the absence of a cohesive, well-understood evacuation procedure and by what outsiders perceive as an air of unreality pervading the highest level of the embassy."

The study also says that "virtually all Vietnamese military and civilian leaders agree that South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu must go if the armed forces are to be rallied to Saigon's defense ...

"The Vietnamese military does not consider" more military aid as critical "in the short run" as removing Thieu, the report says.

On the other hand, President Ford said Wednesday he is "absolutely convinced" South Vietnam can stabilize its defenses against the North Vietnamese invasion if Congress quickly approves his request for $722 million for weapons and ammunition.

The military aid request could be voted upon today by the Senate Armed Services Committee. A further Presidential request for $250 million for humanitarian relief for South Vietnam is up for action in the House International Relations Committee.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was to meet this afternoon to vote on an aid compromise rejected Wednesday by the White House. That compromise combines a $200-million "contingency fund" with authority to use U.S. troops, if necessary, to help evacuate American citizens and, under limited conditions, foreign nationals who are endangered.

The committee deferred action on the compromise Wednesday with some members demanding assurance that nonessential American personnel and dependents are already being withdrawn from South Vietnam at an accelerated rate.

Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger said Tuesday that the number of Americans and their dependents of American origin in South Vietnam totaled 3,850 as of Monday night.

Frinks Charged

WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP)—

Civil rights activist Golden Frinks was docketed for a hearing in state District Court today on a charge of making harassing telephone calls to the mother of another civil rights worker.

Frinks, 55, North Carolina field secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, denied making such calls. The warrant has been sworn out Wednesday by Mrs. Jessie Wright, mother of Margie Wright, the Washington, N.C., leader of the SCLC.

Frinks was arrested on the warrant as he was dismantling the tent city he had set up in support of Joanne Little, a black woman charged with murdering a white jailer here last August. Her pretrial hearing is in progress. Frinks was preparing to leave the city after a right developed between the SCLC and Miss Little, who reportedly told him she no longer wanted his support.

Frinks was released in $300 bond.

Prexy Resigns

At Wesleyan

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP)—Dr. Thomas A. Collins has resigned as president of financially-troubled North Carolina Wesleyan College, it was announced today.

J. Phil Carlton, president of the board of trustees, told the student body that Collins had handed in his resignation effective June 15 and had asked to return to a pastoral assignment within the United Methodist Church.

Carlton said the resignation was accepted "with deepest regret and reluctance."

Collins had been president of the four-year college since it opened in 1959.

To Probe Bell Subsidiaries

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—As a result of allegations of illegal political activities in North Carolina and Texas, the chairman of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has ordered an all-out probe of all 23 Bell Telephone subsidiaries.

The investigation will seek out any fraudulent spending, according to AT&T chairman John DeButts. He made the announcement in Anaheim Wednesday at the company's annual meeting. He told reporters there were a few minor instances of misconduct.

for the next decade — but only if the U.S. economy and its energy demand remain depressed.

Economic recovery, without a reversal of the trend to cut back power plant construction, would bring the threat of brownouts and blackouts everywhere except in the western states, the report indicated.

The entire southern tier of states and the East Coast could see their safety margin of reserve generating capacity virtually disappear, just about guaranteeing serious problems, the report showed.

In north central states, reserve capacity might be marginally adequate but too low for comfort, it said.

In most regions, power shortages could be avoided if powerplant construction improves or if the economy does not improve, the report showed.

But one region — Illinois, eastern Wisconsin and the northeastern half of Missouri — seemed headed for a tight power supply no matter what, indicating that at best the area may have to rely on help from other areas through interconnecting power lines.

Zarb, answering questions at a Wednesday meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), said he was receiving indications "that at our current rate, given a reasonable (economic) recovery, over the next five years we can be in a power-shortage position."

ERA Defeated In House By Three Switched Votes

Gladys Tillet Knows Defeat, Will Try Again

By DAVID R. NELSEN

Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP)—When the ERA fell to defeat in the North Carolina House Wednesday, Gladys Tillet staunchly accepted the decision and resolved to work harder because that's the way she'd won earlier battles.

Mrs. Tillet—daughter of a former North Carolina Supreme Court justice, widow of an attorney, mother of three, grandmother of 10, former Democratic workhorse and general—has fought for women's rights most of her life.

She's seen women's efforts defeated before and she's heard the anti-ERA arguments before, only then the same arguments were used against women having the right to vote.

Mrs. Tillet, who won't reveal her age but says "I know I'm old enough to know what I'm doing"—was in college when Tar Heel legislators railed against suffrage for women. She remembers legislators telling groups of women: "As I look into your beautiful faces, I know you're not for votes for women."

In 1922, the constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote took effect, but North Carolina didn't ratify that amendment for another half-century.

Her awareness of what women might be able to offer began with her father, the late A.C. Avery who served a term on the state Supreme Court in the 1890s.

Back in the days when it was believed that women shouldn't be educated, her father said hogwash and told her to get an education. He was a strong believer in education, a leader in bringing public schools to North Carolina.

"Women were only taught the four Rs—reading, writing, arithmetic and religion," she said of those days. She got her education, graduating from the University of North Carolina in 1917.

Not long after women won the right to vote, Mrs. Tillet discovered that it wasn't enough.

She attended the first meeting of the League of Women Voters. It was in Baltimore in the early 1920s. A banner in the meeting room—"Get in the political party of your choice and work for what you believe in"—made her realize that women were excluded from party politics in North Carolina.

In those days there was only the Democratic party in the state and that's where the candidates were elected and the major decisions arrived at.

Returning home from that meeting she had two goals: working in the party and setting up a chapter of the league in Charlotte, her home town.

She succeeded in both. The Charlotte league is still active. Her party work, though, took longer because "we had to start at scratch."

After party officers agreed to her requests to let women participate, their first goal was to get women registered to vote. It wasn't easy. She said the first woman she asked to register replied: "Oh, Gladys, I couldn't do that, I love my husband."

The attitude was not unlike that held by many of today's ERA opponents, she said.

Getting in the party at the precinct level, Mrs. Tillet soon became a county officer, a dis-

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Rep. Myrtle "Lulu Belle" Wiseman answered the roll with a quivering "no." Then she buried her head in her arms and wept.

Her vote was one of three switches in the North Carolina House Wednesday that sent the Equal Rights Amendment down to defeat 62-57.

Mrs. Wiseman had found that political pressure could be just as unnerving as the stage fright she felt back in the days when she and her husband formed a popular country and western duo, "Scotty and Lulu Belle."

Now a red-haired grandmother from Avery County, Mrs. Wiseman, like many of her colleagues, was torn on the ERA. The burden on her was double, great since she knew that all of the rest of the 13 women in the House favored ERA.

She said later pressure from home and doubts from her own mind forced her to change the vote she had cast on Tuesday, when the ERA won preliminary approval, 60-58.

She estimated that 90 per cent of the people in her mountainous, rural district opposed ERA. "I know they don't know what the ERA is all about, but I just couldn't vote against my people. And when it got right down to it, I couldn't vote for it because of the unknowns. I thought about my granddaughters and whether I'd be doing the right thing for them."

Another switcher, Rep. P.C. Collins, D-Alleghany, told a similar story. The voters in his rural district, he said, deluged him with phone calls after he voted for the ERA on Tuesday. Collins acknowledged that he broke a campaign pledge to vote against the measure.

The third switch came from Rep. Ronald E. Mason, D-Carteret. Mason originally voted "no" on Tuesday, but he changed his vote to avert a 59-59 tie. He reverted to his original position, that favored by his constituents, Wednesday.

A fourth member, Rep. Stanford White, D-Dare, had missed Tuesday's vote because of a bond referendum in his home county. He returned to Raleigh Wednesday and voted against the amendment.

ERA lobbyist Nancy Drum said she counted about 15 legislators who violated campaign promises by voting against the ERA. She said last minute opposition, primarily from rural areas, swayed them.

"We've heard that a lot of preachers have been getting up on the pulpit and warning their people against the supposed evils of ERA. They've been circulating petitions," she said.

Whatever the reason, numerous legislators, during the two days of House debate, cited polls, mail samplings and other readings to indicate that their constituents bitterly and overwhelmingly opposed ERA.

ERA supporters deliberately

STRIKE DELAYED

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford has delayed for 60 days a threatened strike against the nation's railroads by the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks.

avoided bringing in large numbers of women to lobby and concentrated instead on distributing pamphlets and other literature they hoped would assuage fears about the amendment.

"Their campaign was very cerebral. The opponents were more passionate and more vehement about what they would do to people who voted for it," said Rep. Carl Stewart, D-Gaston, a supporter.

The vote in North Carolina means that the ERA will not become a part of the U.S. Constitution until at least 1977, which is also the next time the North Carolina legislature will be able to consider it.

Thus far, 34 of 38 states needed to ratify an amendment have approved ERA. Feminists were counting on North Carolina as one of four states in which they still had a chance this year, the others being Florida, Missouri and Illinois.

With North Carolina lost, approval in each of those three states would not be enough to end the ratification process.

Two of the 34 ratifying states, however, have since voted to rescind their ratification. Federal courts will likely be called upon to decide whether they can legally do so if their votes become crucial.

The deadline for ratification is March, 1979, seven years after the amendment was approved by Congress.

How They Voted

RALEIGH (AP)—Here is how members of the House voted Wednesday on the bill to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

BEWARE OF "FINDERS"

I have received a letter I'd like some information about. It is from Nationwide Abandoned Property Recovery Agency, Inc. A.R.

According to the N.C. Attorney General's Division of Consumer Affairs, Nationwide Abandoned Property is very much like California Probate Document Service, written about by Hotline last Friday.

This firm writes to persons suggesting they may be entitled to bank funds now held in custody by New York State. They do not disclose the amount in the account, but offer an ownership research report for a $17 fee.

The letters are computer print-outs and they say that the bank account in question was set up by a depositor with the same last name as the letter recipient.

New York authorities said in mid-February the company had sent letters to residents of about 40 states.

"While this mail out operation may not be technically illegal, simple notification should not be interpreted to mean ownership," says Jim Blackburn of the Attorney General's Office. "New York authorities are investigating this matter. If you have received such a letter, think before you send money for a chance on unclaimed funds."

You might want to send a copy of the letter you received to the Consumer Affairs Division of the N.C. Attorney General's Office as they are keeping a file on these "finder's services." That mailing address is Box 629, Raleigh, N.C. 27602.

Warn Of Power Shortages In U.S. By 1978

By STAN BENJAMIN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The utility industry, backing warnings from federal officials, says recent cancellations of powerplant construction plans may impose power shortages on most of the nation as early as 1978.

In a special report late Wednesday, the National Electric Reliability Council said such a situation could lead to "some form of rationing or planned power supply curtailment" with severe impacts on the economy and lifestyles. This is the same conclusion reached by Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb.

The council's report contained new estimates appearing to promise adequate electric power

Miss Deborah Register Is Bride

GRIFTON—The marriage of Miss Deborah Lynn Register, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harold Register of Grifton, and Charles Floyd Nash, son of Mrs. Patricia May of Grifton and Mr. Charles L. Nash Jr. of Jacksonville, took place Saturday at 2:00 p.m. at the first Baptist Church. The Rev. William Brown officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Kenneth Canady, organist, and Mrs. W. Jerry Robert, aunt of the bride, of Richmond, Va., soloist, presented a program of wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of bridal satin mist and Venice lace, fashioned with a stand-up collar, see through yoke and bodice of lace. The lace details were on the full long sleeves at the cuffs and repeated on the ruffle that formed the hemline of the skirt which flowed into a chapel train. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a bandeau of lace which edged the veil. She carried a bouquet of pastel mixed flowers.

Miss Sandra Register, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of Nile green mist with floral design. The gown featured a fitted bodice, short puffed sleeves, off shoulder double ruffle and A-line skirt. She wore a white picture hat with yellow streamers.

Miss Jackie Pilkington, bridesmaid, wore a gown and hat identical to that of the honor attendant. Miss Terry Baker and Miss Debra Wiley were gowned in ceil blue similar to the other attendants. All carried bouquets of long-stemmed yellow daisies tied with ribbons.

The best man was cousin of the bridegroom, Donnie Hedstrom, of Jacksonville, Fla. Ushers were Michael Register, brother of bride, Randy Register, uncle of bride, Robbie Brooks and Fred Taylor of Grifton.

The bride is a graduate of Ayden Grifton High School. The bridegroom, also a Ayden-Grifton graduate, attended LCC, Kinston. He is now serving in the US Navy, stationed at Millington Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception, given by parents of the bride, was held in the church fellowship hall.

Mrs. Richard Gaddy greeted guests and presented them to the bridal couple and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table held a center arrangement of yellow and white flowers. Miss Dawn Thomas poured punch and Mrs. Mary Mooring served cake after the bridal couple had cut the first slice.

Mrs. Fred Taylor, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the register.

The couple left following the ceremony for Memphis, Tenn., where they will be residing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hardee and Mrs. Patricia May entertained Friday night at the

MRS. CHARLES FLOYD NASH

Hardee home at a rehearsal party.

Throughout the house a white and green color note was carried out with mixed spring flowers.

The bride's table was centered with a silver epergne with white and green and white candles. Mrs. R. J. Smith of Pink Hill poured champagne punch.

Reception Given Society Members Tuesday

Chancellor and Mrs. Leo W. Jenkins entertained the East Carolina University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi honor society Tuesday evening, following formal initiation ceremonies in the Mendenhall Student Center auditorium, with a reception at their home.

The Hon. Robert Morgan, U. S. senator from North Carolina and alumnus of East Carolina University, was initiated into membership.

ECU faculty members John D. Ebbs, of the department of English, and Mildred H.

Derrick, of the department of mathematics, were also inducted into membership. Other new members included 116 outstanding junior and senior students at ECU.

Among the approximately 375 guests attending were parents and grandparents of the students.

Arrangements of spring flowers were used in decorating. Mrs. Jenkins was assisted by Mrs. Richard Capwell, Mrs. Robert Holt and Mrs. John Howell.

Club Officers Are Named

Officers for the coming year were named by members of the De Novo Book Club at the last meeting of the year.

Named were: President, Mrs. William Tripp; Vice President, Mrs. William Sneed; Secretary, Mrs. Walker Allen; and Treasurer, Mrs. Lester Brown.

Reports were given by the Calendar Committee and the summer plans for the forgotten patient, from the Pitt County Mental Health Association, sponsored by the club were discussed.

Mrs. Fred Daniels, president, conducted the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Sneed.

Couple Weds On Saturday

The marriage of Mrs. Marie Gurganus Singleton and Robert Burton Greene Jr. was solemnized Saturday at 2:00 p.m. at the home of the bride's brother, Cecil Gurganus.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank Ellis of Arlington Street Baptist Church. A program of wedding music was presented by the bride's daughter, Pamela Singleton.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Nellie Gurganus and the late Mr. Mitchell Gurganus and Mr. Robert B. Greene Sr. and the late Mrs. Greene.

After a reception the couple left on their wedding trip. They will reside in Greenville.

The bride is employed at East Carolina Chemical Co. and the bridegroom is an electrical contractor.

Couple Needs To Know Pros And Cons

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My younger brother and his wife are both 23. I guess you could call them "hippies." They live in a large house in the country with a lot of other hippies.

My brother's wife is expecting her first baby in a few months, and she plans to have it at home with the others in the home "helping." Another woman who lives in the home is having a baby next month, and they expect to learn everything they need to know then.

Although both these kids are bright and not ruined by drugs, they won't listen to any "old wives' tales" or to their lab-technician brother-in-law about the dangers of this. My brother's wife is Rh negative.

They say they live only 10 minutes from a hospital, and that's enough.

Can you give me some good arguments for convincing them not to go through with their plan? What do your medical advisers say?

J.

DEAR J.: I agree that this young couple are foolish not to have a prenatal examination to be sure that the mother can anticipate a reasonably normal birth process.

Failure to do this could endanger the lives of both the mother and the new infant during birth. The couple are seriously underestimating the possible problems and complications that could arise if they think that watching one delivery will teach them "everything they need to know."

There is nothing wrong with wanting to have the delivery at home, but they would be well-advised to at least have an experienced midwife present to assist them.

DEAR ABBY: Can a girl get pregnant from kissing with her mouth open?

WORRIED IN CHICAGO

DEAR WORRIED: No. But it's a good beginning.

DEAR ABBY: You once remarked that a woman of 65 was not exactly an ancient relic yet—or words to that effect. Well, that is my age, and that is also my feeling.

I am presently keeping company with a very fine gentleman. He is refined, cultured, lonely—and 80-years-old.

I could be interested in him if I were sure we could have a "real" marriage. My problem is how to find out.

What do you think, Dear Abby? I have heard men in their 70's and 80's boast that they are as "young" as they were 30 years ago, but of course I never knew whether they were telling the truth. Is it possible?

I wouldn't want to marry a man who could do nothing but talk. Don't use my name please. Everybody here knows me.

NO GAMBLER IN NEVADA

DEAR NO: It is possible for a man to be sexually active as long as he lives—no matter how old he is. But the only way you can find out if you can have a "real" marriage with this cultured gentleman is to ask him. And pray that he's not just another "talker."

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "had it with Clods," the handicapped person who resented being asked about his (or her) handicap.

I, too, have a handicap that shows . . . arms, legs, face. But unlike "Had it," I am not resentful if strangers inquire.

My handicap is part of me, although admittedly, probably the least important part of all. But if someone is sufficiently interested to ask, why shouldn't I answer politely and calmly? To pretend that the handicap doesn't exist, and to expect others to, is unrealistic.

In the case of people who ask maliciously, I think it's even more important to answer them calmly and kindly. They obviously need to be shown an example of gracious behavior.

Service League Dinner Held In Grifton

GRIFTON—Advisory members and new members of the Grifton Service League were honored last week at a dinner meeting held at the Presbyterian Church.

New members are Mrs. Edith Smith, Mrs. Judy Hooks, Mrs. Liz Brooks, Mrs. Ella Hoofman and Mrs. Ellen Sutton.

Mrs. Roger Davenport, president, gave the welcome. Reports on projects were given: Mrs. Dean Carraway, planning committee; Mrs. Gladys Thomas, thrift shop; Mrs. Linda Lagrando, emergency charity; Mrs. Genevieve Ricciarelli, clothes closet; Mrs. Judy Christopher, eye committee, assisted by Mrs. Helen Broadhurst and Mrs. Helen Hodge; Mrs. Nancy Allen, Little League concession.

Last year's recipient of the Service League Award, Mrs. Catherine Whaley, presided this year's award a silver engraved tray, to Mrs. Carraway.

Mrs. Ricciarelli read the history and told of the league motto and Mrs. Christopher read the Service League poem:

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

An ad for a bank just promised me a six-piece potholder set (in green or orange) if I deposited $500.

This is not the first time they've tried to woo me into parting with my money. A few months ago, it was a popcorn popper for a new $1,000 savings account and a thermal blanket with dual controls for a $10,000 certificate.

Frankly, I'm delighted to see that banks have finally become realistic about the value of money.

The other day my husband and I went into the bank to float a loan for a new car.

The banker was pleased. "Fine," he said. "Now what do you have as collateral?"

We could hardly contain our excitement as we exchanged glances. "Mr. Farquardt, for the use of your $1,000 for one year. . . no fair taking it back before then. . . we are going to give you either a set of matching Cannon bath towels or a genuine cowhide billfold with a picture of Debra Paget, suitable for framing."

"You're kidding," he said.

"I told you he'd get choked up," I said nudging my husband. "Tell him the rest."

"If you let us have the money for two years without touching it, we'll throw in a Bonsai tree guaranteed to grow 1-1/2 inches a year."

"Just a minute," said Mr. Farquardt. "The bank is not a discount house. It's a lending agency."

"Then what are all those cookbooks and dishes doing in the lobby?"

"That's just an incentive for people to deposit money."

"Wonderful, and we are offering you the same opportunity to lend it."

"I'm afraid that's quite impossible," he explained. "You have no car?"

"That's why we are borrowing the money."

"Your house?"

"You already own it. Look, Mr. Farquardt, this is our last offer. For the loan of $1,000 we will give you a six-piece potholder set (in green or orange)."

"What would I do with it?"

"The way we figure it," we said, "you're the only one in town with a pot to cook in."

CHARLOTTE (AP)—A man tried on a $2,500 diamond ring at Brownlee's jewelry store in downtown Charlotte and couldn't get it off.

He said it hurt when he tried to remove it.

Then he suddenly ran out Tuesday, and is still missing.

The clerk recalls the man had a wart on his ring finger.

Local ESC Office Wins Award

The local office of the Employment Security Commission has been named first place winner of the North Carolina Chapter of International Association of Personnel in Employment Security (IAPES) awards program for placing more veterans in employment this year than any other employment office in the state.

The award is presented annually to ESC offices making the most outstanding contribution to programs designed to provide employment opportunities to veterans returning to civilian life.

According to Ken Taylor, veterans employment representative with the local ESC office, it was necessary for the entire staff to work toward this goal throughout the year in order for the office to win.

"We are very happy to receive this award but especially happy that we have been of assistance in helping veterans find employment," Taylor said. "Other services rendered veterans include counseling, testing and job development contacts."

Taylor said the award would not have been possible for Greenville without the cooperation of businesses, industries and individuals in Greenville and Pitt County.

"Employers were very important in our winning this honor," Taylor said. "Employers often ask for veterans to fill positions in their businesses."

During 1974, a total of 824 veterans applied for employment through the ESC office out of a total number of 5,476 applications for work. Counseling was given to 963 persons, 227 of these were veterans.

"In 1974, the Greenville office placed 1,159 applicants, 774 of these were male (404 of this figure were veterans)," Taylor said. "More than 53 percent of all male placements last year were veterans."

The local ESC office received second place in the IAPES award program last year. The plaque which will be on display local office was presented a in their office lobby.

Primary Filing Fee 'Unlawful'

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — A three-judge panel has ruled that North Carolina's law requiring political candidates to pay filing fees in order to run in primary elections is unconstitutional.

In a ruling handed down in Charlotte Wednesday, the panel held that the law is unconstitutional because it does not provide a means for poor people to run in the primaries.

The ruling resulted from a suit filed by Mark A. Brown, 25, an Anson County man who tried unsuccessfully to run in North Carolina's 8th District congressional primary last year.

Brown said at the time he was indigent and he appealed unsuccessfully to the North Carolina Board of Elections to put his name on the primary ballot without making him pay the $425 fee.

He originally sued the Anson County and state elections boards, but the panel struck the Anson defendants from the suit and directed the ruling at the state board.

Members of the panel were U. S. District judges James B. McMillan and Woodrow Wilson Jones and Judge J. Braxton Craven of the 4th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Fugitive Exile Planning Return

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I'm coming home one way or the other," says Eldridge Cleaver, the fugitive Black Panther Party leader. "After seven years of political exile I deserve it."

Cleaver was quoted Wednesday in the San Francisco Examiner as saying "things have changed" in the United States and he wants to return home from exile.

The newspaper also reported that Cleaver, 39, told a reporter in Paris that he sees his new role as that of a black philosopher rather than an activist, and that the time is ripe for social change in America without violence.

Alex K. Brock, director of the state elections board, said Wednesday he had not seen the ruling but he added, "It would be my judgment that the board . . . most likely will appeal."

An appeal would have to go to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Brock also said that as an alternative the elections board might ask the legislature to pass a new law conforming to the ruling.

Something needs to be done before the 1976 primaries, Brock said.

He said a primary is an intraparty affair and possibly not an "election" in the real sense of the term. "The reasonable question is how could an indigent run a campaign . . . even with filing fees, it is difficult to keep out frivolous candidates," Brock commented.

Preserving A 'Scenic Wonder'

North Carolina has taken another step toward preserving its natural scenic wonders with the purchase of Jockeys Ridge on the Outer Banks.

Jockeys Ridge is the tallest sand dune on the east coast and is a virtual mountain of Outer Banks sand. The N.C. Council of State last week voted to purchase around 200 acres of Jockeys Ridge, with the price set at $1.2 million.

Nature Conservancy, an environmental group, purchased another 60 acres for $420,000 which will be donated to the state and a citizens' group is attempting to raise $500,000 to purchase another 100 acres.

Once the land is assembled, the state will make a state park of the 140 foot tall twin dunes and this spectacular North Carolina coastal landmark will be preserved for recreational use by all people.

We couldn't be happier that Jockey's Ridge will be saved from development. So much construction is going on along the North Carolina coast these days, that we can be sure future generations will be thankful for every inch of the Outer Banks which is preserved for state or national parks.

Future Of Taiwan Still A Matter For Concern

Chiang Kai-shek, once governmental head of mainland China, was buried on the island of Taiwan this week.

His dream of returning to China, which he lost because of government corruptness, was shattered long ago and no doubt that dream was buried with him.

Though Chiang Kai-shek lost mainland China, he did build a modern and efficient society on Taiwan.

Another of our Far East concerns will be how soon communist China will decide that it wants to reunite Taiwan with the mainland.

THIS AFTERNOON Costlier Game And Fish?

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH — Is the recession sending Tar Heel hunters and fishermen into field and stream to stock the home larder?

Some legislators think so, and believe that is a prime reason to fight an effort by the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission to increase the fees for hunting and fishing licenses.

The commission proposal would raise the most popular license (resident combination hunting and fishing; 221,253 in use) from $7.50 to $10 per year.

Other rates would go up as well, including a move to abolish the one-day fishing license which now costs $1.25; substituting a three-day permit costing $3.00.

Overall, the price changes would produce some $2 million in new income for the Wildlife Resources Commission; earmarked to install a new statewide radio network ($800,000), and add a total of 56 new employees to 440-man staff now operating on an annual budget of $4.1 million.

Stiff Fight

Opposition to the proposal has been strong both in legislative hallways, committee rooms, and on the floor of the House of Representatives where debate has at times waxed emotional about barefoot boys back home who need to supplement dinner-table fare with wild game or fish.

State Rep. Daniel T. Lilley, D-Lenoir County, isn't buying that emotional approach. As chairman of the House Wildlife Committee, he is principal backer of the fee-hike proposal.

"I don't see any problem with that . . . those same people would go down and buy two fifths of whiskey that will cost more than the hunting and fishing licenses," Lilley argues.

The measure squeezed through a second-reading in the house, but before the third and final vote, was sent to another committee where a proposal was put forth to cut the amount of the fee hike, still keeping some increase.

Lilley says he won't go along with that. "I'll continue to fight for the full increase . . . this agency is lagging behind all other state agencies. When others get increases over the past two years . . . Wildlife got none. Besides, the elderly and veterans were allowed special breaks and that has cost the agency $600,000."

For six years, Lilley argues, license fees have been static while the commission policies hunting and fishing activities using worn out vehicles and radio gear, stocks streams and hunting lands, studies game preservation, breeds fish for stocking purposes, and tries to regenerate deer populations almost extinct at one time.

"The point," Lilley said, "is the real sportsmen recognize the need for a viable and effective Wildlife department, and are willing to pay for it."

Some of Lilley's closest friends in the General Assembly disagree, including his desk-mate, Rep. Chris S. Barker Jr., D-Craven.

More Are Poor

The increase flies in the face of the poor guy on the street, and "we've got more poor guys than rich," Barker said.

Barker also thinks earmarking the income for a new radio system is foolish, and wonders if the agency really needs a host of new biologists called for in the proposal. He says a more modest increase could be supported—but the real need is for protectors in the field.

Lilley says the increased personnel will be largely devoted to regulation and

CAN'T WAIT TO GET HIS FINGERS IN THAT PIE!

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK Needs Better Biography

WASHINGTON — Peg died in June of 1969, after a long illness complicated by what he described as gum boils, a rusty radiator, and galvanized pipes, but for most practical purposes he died seven years earlier when young Hearst, Frank Coniff, and Gorty Gortatowski at last blew the whistle and threw him off the field. In his prime, God rest him, Peg was about the best we had. He was a living, lumbering legend.

It is a melancholy reflection that, within our craft, a whole generation has grown up that knew him not. The old-timers who are tottering around the Shoreham this week, attending sessions of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, knew Westbrook Pegler in the years when his column attracted and repelled several million readers every day. To those under-30 reporters of the Woodward-Bernstein generation, Pegler's name is no more than worn engraving on an old trophy.

These paragraphs of reminiscence are prompted by the publication of "Fair Enough," by Finis Farr. The book purports to be "the life of Westbrook Pegler," but the book is a disappointment. Farr wastes his first chapter with some irrelevant warm-up pitches, and never truly settles down to his task thereafter. He gets close to his subject only once, when he writes that Peg had "the instinct that makes a dog bark at strangers." Otherwise, Farr's book is an embarrassment. Forget it.

Pegler himself ought not to be forgotten. He was not the greatest investigative reporter who ever came along, though he broke some page-one pieces in his time, but he was a superlative stylist. He was a craftsman who labored lovingly, agonizingly, over his copy. He was honest. In the whole

The GALLUP POLL Hidden Strength Of Ford

By GEORGE GALLUP

(Copyright 1975, Field Enterprises, Inc. All rights reserved. Republication in whole or part strictly prohibited, except with the written consent of the copyright holders.)

PRINCETON, N.J., President Ford not only continues to win the approval of a solid majority of Republican voters, but has surprising appeal among certain traditionally Democratic groups, including young voters and Catholics. These "hidden strengths" among Democratic-oriented voter blocs could hold the President in good stead in an election bid in 1976.

In the latest survey, conducted in late March, 37 per cent of the public nationwide say they approve of the way Ford is handling his job as President, 43 per cent disapprove, and 20 per cent are undecided.

Ford's approval rating is currently 34 points below his initial rating of 71 per cent, recorded in August. His rating, however, has stabilized during the first months of 1975 after an overall downturn in the final months of 1974.

A majority of 60 per cent of Republicans currently voice approval of the President's performance in office, while 24 per cent disapprove and 16 per cent are undecided. Among Democrats, disapproval outweighs approval, 54 to 29 percent, although Southern Democrats are more closely divided in their views. Among independents, disapproval also outweighs approval, 43 to 35 per cent.

Analysis of the latest survey findings and trend since mid-August, when the first Ford popularity measurement was taken, shows the following:

- Although Catholics lean more than 3-to-1 Democratic in terms of basic political party affiliation, they are actually only slightly less likely to approve of Ford's performance than are Protestants, who are considerably less Democratic-oriented.

- The President also has surprising appeal with young voters, another group in which Democratic affiliation outweighs Republican by almost a 3-to-1 margin. Whereas former President Nixon was least popular with the young when he was chief executive, Ford is as popular with 18- to 29-year-olds as he is with the middle-aged group, and more so than with the oldest group, who are traditionally most Republican-oriented.
- Ford also has considerable voter appeal among women. This is seen not only in the current survey, but in recent trial heats against leading Democratic challengers. These show Ford leading by a wide margin among women. He runs behind in some races when the vote in the survey is limited to men alone.
- Currently, Ford's strongest region is the South, as was the case with Nixon when he was President. Only in this area does approval outweigh disapproval (41 to 36 per cent). Ford is currently least popular in the

Other Editors Say Does U.S. Regret?

(Henderson Dispatch)

Precisely what is the meaning of a United States delegation of nine, plus Vice-President Nelson Rockefeller, being sent to Taipei for the funeral of Chiang Kaishek? It's a good question, and gives rise to another, namely, is the government experiencing a feeling of remorse over the nasty betrayal of Nationalist China in kicking it out of the United Nations to make room for the communist regime in Peking? We would like to think that such is the case.

Chiang was a friend of the United States throughout his long career of leadership. Then President Nixon made that sensational journey to the communist capital of Mao-Tse-tung and Chou-En-lai. In the eagerness to cower to the tyrannical regime, it was decided to oust Chiang from the U.N., where he was an original member, in favor of the Peking hierarchy.

It was one of the blackest chapters of American foreign policy and a turnover move of the most disgraceful character.

Now, Chiang is gone. He is to be buried on the island of Taiwan, where he set up a government after being chased off the mainland by the communist hordes, and has established one of the most prosperous and democratic of all small nations.

Of late there have been rumors that Washington may even withdraw diplomatic recognition of the island nation in order further to cater to the communists. Should that happen, it would be adding insult to injury. Americans hope that will never be. Taipei deserves sympathy and cooperation from Washington instead of a further slap in the face.

What sort of impression will the Rockefeller funeral mission make in Taiwan? Will it be embarrassed by the resentment of the citizens of Nationalist China? Does this gesture indicate lingering admiration and friendship on the part of this country? It can be hoped that it does.

But how this group can join in the mourning with a straight face is to wonder. There may be similar feeling in Taiwan also. There ought to be regret and remorse in official circles here over the dirty deal toward a traditional friend.

Drive Against Hunger

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Consumer groups, college students and charitable organizations banded together today for a nationwide Food Day drive against hunger and malnutrition.

Activities ranged from fasting to farm sales and some of the programs prompted controversy even before they got under way.

Everyone agreed that there are problems. But they couldn't agree on the nature of the problems and how to solve them. Some Food Day participants concentrated on hunger in "developing nations; others were concerned with high prices; still others campaigned against junk foods and lack of nutrition in the American diet.

The idea of Food Day came from the Center for Science in the Public Interest, a Washington-based group founded by followers of Ralph Nader.

It was supported by groups like the Consumer Federation of America and Oxfam-America, organizer of last November's one-day fast to focus attention on the world food crisis. Several nutrition experts and congressmen also joined the list of Food Day sponsors.

At least two of the nutritionists, Drs. Jean Mayer and Frederick J. Stare, both of Harvard University, have since withdrawn their support. They criticized a center list of the "Terrible Ten" foods that allegedly represent items lacking in nutrition and, in some cases, are harmful. The two professors also take issue with some Food Day promotions that criticize chemical fertilizers and give the impression that small, organic farms are the answer to the food problem.

"The idea of Food Day is excellent," said Mayer. "but it's very, very important to make sure your facts are right."

Among the local-level activities planned for today were a rally and concert on the Boston Common featuring folk singer Judy Collins and Mrs. Robert Redford, wife of the actor and a consumer activist.

Oxfam-America urged people to "plant a seed for change" by sowing fruit or vegetable seeds and donating money to agencies working to combat starvation.

Students at Stanford University in California are holding an all-day fast, urging people to turn in cafeteria meal tickets for refunds and donate the money to the Stanford Food Day Committee.

Strength For Today

HONEST GEORGE

It should be a matter of great pride to all Americans that the outstanding characteristic of the Father of our Country was honesty. The story of the cherry tree is probably apocryphal, but that George Washington was an honest man even his enemies were willing to confess.

Thomas Jefferson, who disagreed with almost all of Washington's policies, said: "His integrity was the most pure, his justice the most inflexible I have ever known; no motives of interest or consanguinity or hatred or friendship being able to bias his decision."

Timothy Pickering, who excoriated most of his colleagues in Washington's generation, wrote, "To the excellency of his virtues I am not disposed to set any limits." Such quotations could be multiplied from friend and foe alike.

Many nations have to extenuate for certain lapses in the lives of their heroes. It should be a source of pride that our nation has as its father a man whose honesty was the pride of his generation.

Relying On Expanding Markets

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the frustrations of many business consultants is that most companies rely almost totally on advancing technology and expanding markets to achieve productivity gains.

In the process, it is said, business usually overlooks the opportunity to obtain more output for the dollar merely by analyzing and changing their work flow and improving work procedures.

"Manpower utilization efficiency in most offices rarely exceeds 60 per cent," says James Skidmore, chief executive of Scientific Management Corp., an international firm specializing in productivity improvement.

Most other productivity specialists agree. Some maintain that efficiency often falls below 40 per cent, a rate that reveals itself to experienced consultants in one sweeping glance at an office into which they have just walked.

Repeated analyses of operating methods of Skidmore's staff shows that office workers have nothing to do at least 17 per cent of the time, and that they waste another 28 per cent of the day because of inefficiency and lack of motivation.

Based on an analysis of 1,600 projects completed, Skidmore claims "virtually every company can increase its productivity from 15 to 30 per cent with the use of existing industrial engineering techniques."

If this is so, then the words of C. Jackson Grayson Jr. are even more significant than they might otherwise appear.

When Grayson was chairman of the Federal Price Commission, he argued that if the United States could increase its annual rate of productivity growth just 1 per cent for 10 years, it would create $600 billion of new wealth.

Grayson still maintains that the only real answer to inflation is to increase productivity, which many people erroneously assume to mean running the machines faster and working the employees harder.

While that notion might have once prevailed, it is now considered counterproductive — actually leading to lower output per manhour expended.

In effect, all it means is efficient production, achieved by wise use of capital, informed management, a sensible work flow, proper job identification, good morale, advanced technology and the like.

Poor Nutrition Viewed As Big County Problem

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

Joe Formica thinks poor nutrition is the most important problem in Pitt County, and indeed, in the United States.

Yet, the United States certainly is one of the most highly developed nations of the world, and supposedly one of the best fed. Hence, we have a paradox—a wealthy nation, which has poor nutrition as its number-one problem, at least according to some food experts like Formica.

Formica, who earned his master's degree in nutrition and serves as nutrition consultant for the Eastern 33 counties of North Carolina, cites poverty and lack of knowledge about what constitutes good eating as the reasons for most of Eastern North Carolina's problems. He linked these with the disproportionate number of children who die in infancy, the number of low birth weight babies, and the high degree of mental and physical retardation here. Some 12.9 per cent of all the 1,157 babies born in Pitt County in 1973 were low birth weight ones, he said, and almost all of these could be blamed on the poor nourishment of the mothers during pregnancy.

Brain damage is already begun when mothers don't get all the nutrients and the calories they need, he said. "And if it's continued throughout the first year of life when brain cells are still dividing, brain damage was to be incurred."

Formica was one of several persons interested in Pitt County and the world's food dilemma who came to The Daily Reflector office last Thursday for a discussion.

"I think, at least in this area, it's just a matter of more education on the subject," Linda Williams said. "After listening to you all tell of the additives, the salt, the sugar, and the water in jarred baby foods, I know I'll make my own when I have a baby of my own. And I think most women would if they really were convinced they were improving both the physical and the mental ability of the child. And I'd eat super-wise while I was pregnant if my doctor would tell me in no uncertain terms that I had to to benefit my baby."

Formica also touched on the "evidence" that fat cells are still dividing during the first year of life, seemingly pointing to the need to prevent obesity in babies as a means of preventing the same problem throughout life.

He attacked stringent weight control for pregnant women, saying that this trend is changing.

Formica is working with the local Health Department, Health Department Educator Doris Davenport said, to get a grant for a Women, Children, and Infancy Feeding Program for Pitt County.

The Rev. John Miller, Presbyterian campus minister, said four billion of the world's five billion people suffer from malnutrition. He said Americans should maintain nutrition, of course, but should not overuse our resources. A recent Harris poll indicated that most Americans would be willing to share with the hungry of the world if they knew how. Miller said he advocates sharing through a church or well established program that you know you can trust. He thinks it's wise to systematically set aside a certain portion of one's income for such giving. He himself has tried fasting to "see how the hungry guy feels."

Food Day, which is today, is being sponsored nationwide by the Center for Science in the Public Interest. The official handbook, chock-full of thought-provoking facts and ideas is Food for People, Not for Profit.

Revere's Famous Ride Was Part Of His Service

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer
The artisans of Boston called themselves mechanics, and their leader was the silversmith, Paul Revere. Among early patriot leaders he was the mechanic, a man who did things. When Paul Revere rode through the Massachusetts countryside 200 years ago with the call to arms, he was performing a chore, not developing revolutionary theory. By intellect, education and social standing, Revere was oddly out of place among the Harvard men with whom he conspired. At times he was little more than an errand boy. But when the plotting turned to war and theory gave way to action, his prominence grew.

Revere came by his politics honestly. His father was a Huguenot refugee from persecution in France; his mother from an old line of Bostonians who had left England for the same reason.

He learned silversmithing from his father. He enjoyed the work and brought variety to it. Besides being a silversmith whose designs are popular in American homes today, he tried engraving and dentistry, and operated a foundry.

Revere outlived two wives and sired 16 children. The family was never poor, although pressed at times. Revere was content with his life and his station. He died in 1818 at the age of 83.

Revere was recruited into the Whig party's North Caucus, then the Long Room Club, which met above the Boston Gazette and plotted sedition.

He was one of the "Indians" at the Boston Tea Party. He engraved political cartoons that aroused Boston, including an inflammatory and inaccurate rendition of the Boston Massacre. He was a ringleader in a spy operation which kept track of the occupying British.

Russian Navy Engaged In Massive Maneuvers

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russian navy is engaged in worldwide maneuvers that may develop into the biggest in peacetime history, Pentagon sources report

Some 200 Soviet ships have been deployed so far, about the same as in the last such major maneuvers five years ago. Sources said the number is increasing.

All elements of the Soviet navy, including surface warships, submarines and the Russian naval air arm, are said to be involved. Russian merchant ships also are taking part.

Sources said there are indications the Indian Ocean, increasingly important because oil tanker routes pass through those waters, will be a main focus of the Soviet naval exercises.

Other major Russian naval activity has been observed in the Atlantic, the Mediterranean, the Norwegian sea and the Pacific, sources said.

The 1970 exercise, which the Russians called Okean, lasted about three weeks and demonstrated to U.S. naval strategists that the Soviets had achieved an ability to extend their naval reach into all the seas.

Until the early 1960s, the Soviet navy concentrated chiefly on defending home waters and coasts. A limited Soviet naval reach, which showed up in the U.S.-Russian confrontation over missiles in Cuba, was corrected in the next decade as the Russian fleet underwent major modernization.

Program Wins Accreditation

The undergraduate level social work program at East Carolina University has received accreditation from the national Council on Social Work Education.

A congratulatory telegram was sent Dr. John Ball, chairman of the ECU Department of Social Work and Correctional Services, by L. Diane Bernard, chairman of the Council's Commission on Accreditation, informing him of the Council's approval of ECU's social work program.

"We are extremely pleased with the recognition symbolized by our having been granted accreditation," said Dr. Ball. "This is the first time that accreditation has been granted to undergraduate programs and we are pleased that ECU's program has been recognized as meeting all of the accreditation standards as established by the national accrediting agency."

The ECU program prepares its students for careers in child welfare, community welfare services, international social services, mental health, school social work, youth leisure-time services, vocational rehabilitation services and services to the aging.

Candidates for the BS degree in social work may concentrate on a minor area of study in one of these areas or in a composite. Among the requirements for graduation is a period of field experience during which a social work intern is assigned to actual work in his chosen field.

Speaks Here On Tax Shelters
John D. Brasher, vice president of Can-Am Resources and a geological engineer, spoke on oil and gas tax shelters Tuesday night at the Holiday Inn.

Brasher, whose visit was sponsored by Lawton Nisbet, manager of Interstate Securities here, furnished graphic information to high income tax payers on the advantages of funds invested in oil exploration programs.

Sum Raised For Hospital

Several hundred circus tickets were donated by Pitt County people recently and, as a result, children from Operation Sunshine, Boys Club, The Child Development Center of Winterville, Ayden and Grifton, Pitt County Social Services, and children with Cerebral Palsy attended the Jay-c-ette-sponsored Clyde Beatty Circus.

The Jay-c-ette share of the profits was nearly $1,000 and this was donated to the Pitt Memorial Hospital building fund to be used in the pediatric ward.

"We Jay-c-ettes thank the people of Pitt County for a wonderfully successful project," club reporter, Ellen Goldfarb said. "To see a smiling face on just one of these children is worth a thousand circuses."

Ignore Smoking Law Violator

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A Seattle newspaper reporter went to several supermarkets to see if he would be hassled for disobeying the state's new nonsmoking law. All he got for his trouble was a sore throat.

"Nobody bothered me or tried to bust me for polluting the vegetables with burning tobacco smoke — despite a proliferation of brand new signs asking smokers to control their urges," wrote Don Tewkesbury in Wednesday's editions of the Post-Intelligencer.

Tewkesbury said he was ignored by supermarket employees and even a uniformed guard. The new state law prohibiting smoking in most public places has no enforcement provisions and relies upon voluntary compliance.

INSECTS AND ENERGY—Robert L. Bailey, left, professor of electrical engineering at the University of Florida, and Philip Callahan, an Agriculture Department entomologist, discuss the antennae system of a moth as part of their research grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight Center. The grant to the University of Florida is to determine the theoretical feasibility of solar energy-to-electricity conversion techniques which utilize energy absorbers patterned after the design of the insect antennae. Get 40 Years In Holdup Try NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — In a stormy trial conducted under tight security, self-proclaimed black militants Bernice Jones and William Gibson were sentenced Wednesday to prison terms of 40 years each.

The two claim to be members of the extremist Black Liberation Army, said to be a small group of dedicated revolutionaries.

Each was convicted by a Circuit Court jury of attempted murder, attempted robbery, and possession of a machine gun during the thwarted holdup of Green's Market here Jan. 25.

The jury of four women and eight men, including one black, acquitted both Miss Jones, 24, and Gibson, 26, of another attempted murder charge.

And Judge Alfred W. Whitehurst threw out murder charges brought against the pair in connection with the fatal shooting of their companion, Alfred Monroe Butler, by Paul E. Green Jr., a victim.

Miss Jones was ejected from the courtroom 24 minutes into the trial because she interrupted the proceedings repeatedly to register displeasure with her court-appointed lawyer, Berry D. Willis Jr.

She was held in a nearby cell that was wired for sound so that she could hear the trial. The judge told her that she could return when she decided to behave properly, and she rejoined the proceedings after lunch.

Later, Miss Jones testified in her defense that she went to the market to buy food and knew nothing of any robbery being contemplated.

She was shopping in the store when Gibson and Butler came inside, the evidence showed. Shooting erupted within seconds, and 18 rounds were exchanged before the shootout ended, police said.

When police arrived, they found Butler mortally wounded, Miss Jones stretched out on the floor under guard, and a trail of blood leading outside.

Several hours later, Gibson showed up at the emergency room of a Newport News hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound in the face. He was arrested there and brought to Norfolk.

Miss Jones was taken into custody at the market after a detective found a pipe bomb in her pocketbook.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced broadly in heavy trading today, riding continuing optimism over the interest rate outlook and prospects for an economic recovery.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 6.25 at 821.96. Gainers held a 7-2 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big Board volume reached 9.21 million shares in the first hour, running only about a million behind the pace of Feb. 13, when a daily record of 35.16 million was set.

Brokers noted widespread expectations on Wall Street of possible new moves by the Federal Reserve to ease money and credit conditions, as well as speculation that further declines in the bank prime lending rate might be in the offing.

"There's also almost a rush of economists and businessmen coming out with optimistic statements about prospects for a turnaround in the economy," observed Saul Smerling at Standard & Poor's Corp.

Gulf Life Holding Co., the most active issue on the Big Board, was up 1/4 at 6 1/4 after a 317,900-share block moved at 6 1/4.

Union Carbide, which reported a strong first quarter earnings gain, was up 1 1/4 at 62 1/2.

In the glamor sector, Texas Instruments surged 3 1/2 to 111 1/4; Burroughs rose 1 1/2 to 99; Philip Morris was up 1 1/4 at 55 1/4, and Merck gained 1 1/2 to 75 1/4.

The NYSE's composite index climbed .49 to 46.33 in the first hour.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up .65 at 83.76.

Kaiser Industries, which also reported sharply higher first quarter earnings, added 1/2 to 9 1/4 at the top of the Amex's host-active list.

Beaufort County Jury 'Exclusion' Is Argued

By CATHY STEELE ROCHE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Defense attorneys for Joanne Little planned to present evidence today that 60 per cent of the black population of Beaufort County is excluded from service on the county's juries.

Attorneys for the 20-year-old black defendant are arguing a pretrial motion to quash the first degree murder indictment against her. They contend the grand jury was defective because the selection process tends to exclude blacks and poor persons.

Miss Little, whose attorneys are using the name Joan given her at birth but who expressed a personal preference for the spelling Joanne, is charged with first degree murder in the slaying of white jailer Clarence Alligood, 62. He was found stabbed to death in the Beaufort County jail cell from which Miss Little had fled.

She claims he was trying to rape her and that she stabbed him in self defense and fled in fear of her life.

Defense attorneys planned to present figures today to show that blacks make up only 12 per cent of the population from which juries are drawn, while a populations expert testified Wednesday that 30.2 per cent of the population in this rural eastern North Carolina county is black.

Rhonda Copelon, an attorney with the Center for Constitutional Rights in New York City, said a scientific study by the defense showed that with the white population at 69.8 per cent whites had 88 per cent representation on Beaufort County juries.

Josef Perry, a demographic specialist with the North Carolina Department of Human Resources, testified that there is a high probability that poor people might be under-represented in Beaufort County jury selection for a variety of socio-economic reasons.

conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Irby Jackson, her pastor. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

A Martin County native, she spent most of her life in Greenville. The widow of D. Raymond Moore, who died in June, 1973, she was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church.

Surviving her are one daughter, Mrs. John Q. Trotman of Greenville; a grandson; two brothers, E. D. Moore, of Norfolk, Va. and Mayo Moore of Windsor; three sisters, Mrs. Howard Millard of Chevy Chase, Md., Mrs. Purdie Nelson of Stokes, and Mrs. W. E. Arnold of Jacksonville, Fla.

Now Resident Of Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Princess Botum Bopha, daughter of Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, has become a resident of Australia.

The Melbourne Sun reported Wednesday that the princess, who has been living in Australia for a year, she was smuggled out of Cambodia last year after being held hostage by the Lon Nol government.

The newspaper said that she lives in a Melbourne suburb with her two children and works as a supermarket checker. Her husband, Prince Metari Sisavatt, is in Peking with her father.

trict officer then vice chairman of the state party.

Her election as a state officer was partly because she became acquainted with many party leaders while helping President Franklin D. Roosevelt with the New Deal. Her job with FDR was to explain New Deal programs in the state.

"What I was trying to prove was that women could hold each one of these offices and do it with credit," she said.

In 1936 she took control of the national party's speaker bureau. In 1940 she was asked to do it again, and that same year was chosen vice chairman of the national party, a position she held for 10 years.

Her husband, the late Charles W., and her children supported her work. "I had a wonderful family and a wonderful husband. They were all interested in what I was doing and took part in it," she said.

Along the way, she was also active in campaigns. She directed the campaign that elected North Carolina's second woman to the legislature—Carrie McLein from Charlotte. Mrs. McLein served two terms then was defeated when she tried to move up to the state Senate.

"She went on and made an excellent name for herself" in the General Assembly, Mrs. Tillett said. "I've always been interested in women participating in public life, making use of their talents," she said.

Despite her years, Mrs. Tillett was one of the ERA workers. She headed ERA United, a coalition of about 20 women's organizations such as the League of Women Voters, Business and Professional Women and the National Organization for Women.

Ratification of the ERA "is the next step" in the women's movement," she said, adding, "When the Constitution was written we did away with the right of kings to rule over men, but not the right of men to rule over women."

State SGA Talk Tuition

Members of the North Carolina Student Government Association met in Greenville earlier this week to discuss a proposed tuition increase for students attending state-supported universities.

Jim Honeycutt, president of the SGA at East Carolina University said delegates voted approval to a resolution to be forwarded to the joint Senate-House Appropriations Committee of the General Assembly protesting any increase, and formed a committee of SGA presidents to speak to the committee April 23 and to UNC President William Friday.

The delegates also planned to stage mass rallies on all the 16 state-supported university campuses at 4 p.m. April 22 to protest the proposed tuition hike.

"We will make an extensive effort to get students, administration members, staff and parents interested in participating in the rally," Honeycutt said. "We'd like parents and business men who are concerned to participate."

ECU Chancellor Leo Jenkins last week estimated that the proposed hike in tuition — $200 per year for N.C. residents and $300 per year for out-of-state students — would cause the school to lose several hundred students.

Remodeled Coffman's Formally Opened Today

The formal opening of the completely remodeled Coffman's Mens Wear on Evans Street was held today beginning at 9 a.m.

According to owner George

Coffman, brief ribbon cutting ceremonies were scheduled prior to the opening of the expanded facility.

Coffman said that the interior remodeling increased the store's footage from some 2,900 square feet to 4,800 square feet.

He noted that the selling area now involves the whole first floor, including the area formerly utilized as a hallway and all of the office space that was located on the south side of the hallway section.

The owner pointed out that most of the new store space has been converted to provide for a major expansion of the suit and sport coat selections and, overall, the clothing department will have approximately four times the floor space that was available prior to the expansion. He added that the store will not be any larger in the furnishings area.

Coffman explained that

Carolina, Duke, ECU Tie For Hockey Title

Three fledgling ice hockey programs will join together Friday and Saturday to hold the first North Carolina Collegiate Hockey Tournament at the Ice House here.

The event will get underway on Friday night, with the University of North Carolina taking on East Carolina at 11 p.m.

Saturday, two games are set. Carolina will meet Duke at 10 a.m., while the Pirates and Blue Devils collide at 4 p.m.

The team having the best won-lost record in the series will be named the state champion. If no one team holds a better mark, the title will be awarded on a point spread basis.

All of the teams in the event are relatively young, although some of the players have had previous hockey experience.

Lloyd Scher, president and coach of the UNC club team, said that Carolina organized its group in January, when 45 prospects attended a meeting. "About 33 of them had played some before," he said.

A month later, the club held its first match against an All-Star team in Charlotte, playing a two-game set. That is all the Carolina team has had in competition this year.

Duke, according to Scher, started just a short time later, through the efforts of the Carolina group. The Duke team also went to Charlotte for the series, but the Duke and Carolina teams have not met each other.

Both of the teams are handicapped to some extent, having to travel to Greensboro once a week for practice. "East Carolina has a great advantage on us, having ice right in town."

The goal of the group is to get a North Carolina Collegiate League started next year. "We feel we can get eight or ten teams next fall," Scher said. "Besides the three in this field, Western Carolina and Appalachian State also have teams. We're trying to get State and Wake involved, and perhaps Davidson and UNC-Charlotte."

East Carolina University's team was also founded in January, just a couple of days prior to that of Carolina's.

"We haven't played anyone on a collegiate basis yet," Coach Bob Millie said. "We did have one game with a group from the Greensboro Senior League, up in Greensboro, but that's all the real competition we've had. The rest has just been scrimmage."

There are 14 on the East Carolina team, but only eight with previous hockey experience. "One of the team members was only skating for four months before joining the team," Millie noted.

Frank Evans serves as captain of the team, which is under a club basis at the school.

Tickets for the matches are available at the Ice House for $1 for single games, or for $2.50 for the three-game series.

Conley Romps By North Lenoir

WHEAT SWAMP—D.H. Conley stayed close to the top of the Eastern Carolina Conference yesterday with a 9-4 romp over North Lenoir.

Conley grabbed the lead in the first inning, pushing in two runs. Clennel Streeter singled and stole second. He scored on Randy Adams' triple. Keith Gould then singled in Adams.

But North Lenoir rallied for three in the bottom of the inning, taking a brief lead. Mike Jones walked and Lynwood Thorbes doubled. Mike Eubanks then hit a home run, making it 3-2.

Conley came right back for two more in the second to regain the lead, 4-3. Baron Tyson walked and Kevin Adams singled. Streeter reached on an error and Donnie Cox's hit scored both Tyson and Adams.

The Vikings added two more in the third. Keith Gould reached on an error and Joey Baggett singled. Randy Edens reached on an error, allowing both Gould and Baggett to score.

Two more crossed in the fourth. Cox reached on an error and Randy Adams singled. Baggett's double scored both runners.

The final Conley run came over in the seventh. Kevin Adams singled and Edens walked. Cox also walked, and Randy Adams singled in Kevin Adams.

North Lenoir also added a run in the seventh.

Conley is now 3-2 in the conference and 4-3 overall. They play host to Greene Central today.

Rose High School rallied on four hits and two walks to push over three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning, nipping Rocky Mount, 4-3, yesterday.

The victory enabled the Rampants to pull into a tie for first place in the Division I standings with the Gryphons. Both teams are now 3-1 in the loop.

Kelly Heath provided the winning hit, winning his own game as he drove in the game ending run with one away and the bases loaded.

Rocky Mount had taken advantage of some earlier Rose errors, both physical and mental to take a 1-0 lead which they later padded to 3-1.

Doug Henley took the loss, his first defeat of the year. He had a no-hitter going through the fourth inning, before Mike Belton's single snapped the string. From there, the Rampants went on to bang out a total of six hits. Henley, who was bothered with control problems all afternoon, walked six and struck out nine. Three of the runs were earned.

Heath, in recording the victory, allowed two earned runs, gave up six hits, struck out eight and walked two.

It marked the second straight victory over the Gryphons by the Rampants. After bowing 3-1 on a last inning rally in their first meeting, a conference game, Rose came back to bomb the Gryphons, 12-4, in the Gaylord Perry Tournament in Williamston. Overall, Rocky Mount fell to 7-3, while Rose is now 8-2.

Rocky Mount got off a threat in the first. With two down, Tommy Crocker reached on an error and then stole second. Heath fanned the batter, however, to get out of trouble.

Rose also offered a threat. Heath reached on a fielder's choice, and courtesy runner David Dixon stole second, but also died there on a strikeout.

Rocky Mount broke the ice in the third. With two down, Dean Bradshaw reached on an error, moving on to second on the play. Crocker then singled to left, scoring Bradshaw. Crocker moved on to third when the relay home was errored.

Rose almost tied it up in the bottom of the frame. Eddy Connolly walked, and courtesy runner Dixon moved to third on a passed ball. He was cut down trying to score on a double steal after Wright Hooks walked.

The Gryphons got another run in the fourth. Henley walked and Steve Pardin ran for him, moving to second on an out. Greg Proctor singled to left, and Ricky Smith laid down a bunt to the mound. Heath first faked Pardin back to third, then started to go to second to get Proctor. He realized it was too late, however, and turned and went to first, getting Smith. But the alert Pardin, noting Heath's hesitation, broke for home, and was able to slide under the relay from first with the second Gryphons run.

Rose came back with its first run in the bottom of the fourth. With one down, Mike Brewington walked, then stole second. The throw down to get him was awry and when it rolled into center, Brewington raced all the way home before it could be chased down.

The Gryphons had another threat in the fifth. Crocker singled, stole second, but was thrown out at third on Larry Joyner's grounder to the mound. Joyner stole second, but died there.

Rose missed on another chance to tie it in the fifth. With two away, Wright Hooks walked and Dixon ran for him. Mike Belton singled to center, but Dixon was cut down trying to score.

Rocky Mount got its third run in the sixth. Proctor singled and Smith reached on a fielder's choice. Marvin Dancy singled to center, scoring Proctor for a 3-1 lead.

Rose again threatened in the sixth. Heath singled and courtesy runner Wesley Deal stole second, but died there.

Finally, in the seventh, the Rampants got it all going. With one down, Ron Hunt lifted a fly ball to center that was misjudged and fell in for a double. Connolly singled to right and runner Deal moved up on a passed ball. Hooks walked for the third time, and a walk to Joe Godette forced in Hunt. Griff Garner then singled to left, scoring Deal with the tying run.

Heath followed with another hit to shallow left, and Hooks easily crossed with the game-ending run.

The Rampants travel to Bertie on Friday evening, meeting the Falcons at 7:30 p.m. They will be at home on Saturday at 1:00 p.m., hosting Northern Nash at Guy Smith Stadium in a game originally set for the Knight's home field."

Bucs Again Work Light

Wednesday was one of those days in spring practice football drills that coach Pat Dye could not find much to talk about. Not that it was a bad day, but it was a teaching day.

"We've had no contact the last two days," said Dye, "but I feel both days have been extremely important. We've been teaching techniques and fundamentals. And that's what I said we needed to do this spring anyway. I really feel we get a lot out of these so-called light days."

The Pirates will pick it up today with a controlled scrimmage. And on Saturday, another open scrimmage will be held at Ficklen at 2:30 p.m. in conjunction with the high school coaches clinic being staged by the Pirate football staff.

One player is out for the remainder of spring practice. Split end Theodore Ashford has been under treatment for some type of chest congestion which has not been firmly diagnosed, and will not be back in spring practice.

Pirates Postponed

East Carolina University's baseball doubleheader with the University of Richmond on the Spider field was postponed yesterday because of rain.

The contests were rescheduled for today. The first game of the pair counts in the Southern Conference standings, while the second is a non-counting affair.

Also postponed yesterday were two tracks meets. A meet between Ayden-Grifton and Charles B. Aycock was cancelled, and a meet between Conley and North Pitt and Eastern Wayne was delayed until today.

All-Star Game Set

West Craven High School in Vanceboro will sponsor a benefit basketball game Sunday at 3 p.m. All-stars from the University of North Carolina and Duke University playing in the game include Carolina's Mickey Bell, Brad Hoffman, Ed Stahl and Duke's Bob Fleischer, Kevin Billerman and Peter Kramer.

Tickets will cost $2 for adults and $1 for children. Proceeds will go to the athletic department of the high school.

Chips and Putts from area golf courses: Greenville

The next Captains' Choice tournament at the Greenville Golf and Country Club will be on May 4. Members wishing to play may call or sign up in the pro shop. They should also designate whether they wish to walk or ride.

A "Get Acquainted Time" will be held Friday at 9:15 a.m. at the weekly Ladies Day. All new women golfers are urged to attend, and call the pro shop this evening if they wish to.

The Men's Club Championship will be held April 26-27 at the course. All male members and their sons, 16 and older, may play by signing up in the pro shop. Handicaps will be used to flight the field.

A total of 120 participated in the Captain's Choice Tournament this past weekend. The team of Reynolds May, Ted Ellis, Dardie Longino and Mary Vars took first place. Second went to the team of Bob Messner, John Wooten, Tee Picklen and Janet Turcotte. Third was Connor Merritt, Jesse Moye, Myrt Leslie and Jane Joyner. Erceel Webb, Barnie Rawl, Frank Doyle and Virginia Wiggers finished fourth, followed by A.M. Mumford, Chris Simpson, Charles Howard and Harriet Wooten. Sixth went to Jack Whichard, Brenda Mattox, Harriette White and Al Ferguson.

In a putting contest held jointly with the Captain's Choice, first went to the team of Carl Faser, Jean Creech, Al Woodworth and Margurite Fleming.

The Ladies Match Play Championship is underway at the club. All who signed up to play can check in the club house for pairings, and first round play must be completed by Friday.

The Ladies Club Championship, 36 holes of stroke play, will be held on May 13 and 15. It is open to all female members and their daughters, 16 or older. Women who cannot play at this time because of work, may play on the weekend prior to the regular play.

During a junior clinic last week, several contests were held. Sheila Collie took top honors in the 6-12 age group in knowledge of etiquette and rules. In the 13-18 group, top scorers were Sandy Abbott, Don White, Scott Hill and Joey Ward.

The boys held a Better Ball of Pair tournament following their clinic. First went to the team of Cameron Dudley Jr. and John Hendrix with a 37, while Karl Thurber and Jack Mann were second with a 41. The team of Connor Merritt III and Pat Dye took third with a 42, but had to win a three-way playoff to do it.

In a putting event for boys 6-12, first place went to Jack Mann, while Brett Dye was second. Don Wilkerson took third, Blair Glenn was fourth and Stephen West was fifth. In the girls contest, Monya Lowery was first, with Sheila Collie second. Jennifer Collie finished third, while Delia Taylor was fourth.

In the ladies clinics, Jane Collie took first place in a putting contest in a sudden death match with Mary Vars and Dorothy Doyle. Ruth Patterson won a consolation title.

Robersonville

The Robersonville team in the Roanoke Golf League downed Plymouth Sunday in a match, 89-64. Pat Smith led the Robersonville team with a 74, while Bobby Mobley was second with a 75.

The next match will be April 27 at Edenton.

Ayden

A Mixed Scotch Foursome was held at the Ayden Golf and Country Club Sunday. Low gross honors went to Lindsey Hardee and Pat Joyner. Low net was Tom Boys and Janet Wingate.

The annual Ayden Four-Ball Tournament will be held on April 26-27 at the club. Entries are still open and interested golfers may contact the pro shop to sign up.

Brook Valley

Malcomb Beaman chipped in from the edge of the green with a chipping wedge for his first eagle on the 13th hole at Brook Valley Golf and Country Club.

Reynolds May also picked up an eagle, on the 14th hole, hitting a driver and a seven-iron. Ed Reep eagled the 17th hole using a driver, a three-wood and a wedge.

Ken Knudson had his best round a 38-34—72. Pat Dye Jr. had his best round on the front with a 45.

The Pitt County Men's Championship will be held at Brook Valley and Ayden on June 7-8. Entries will open on May 1 and close on June 1.

In last week's column, the name of one golfer was misspelled, Allen Clark, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Clark, who scored a hole in one. We apologize for the error.

SCORELESS ON SLIDE—New York Yankee catcher Thurman Munson waits at home plate to tag Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox to complete a double play in the top of the third inning Wednesday at New York's

Wynn's Grand Slam Helps Dodgers Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Jimmy Wynn was almost apologetic. It was as if he were saying he just couldn't help himself.

"I was just trying to meet the ball. I wasn't trying for a home run," he insisted. "Send me I ever go up there swinging for a home run."

"But it did enter my mind that a grand slam would tie the game," he added with what amounted to a sheepish grin.

So with the Los Angeles Dodgers trailing Cincinnati 6-2 in the bottom of the seventh inning, he swung — just trying to meet the ball. The next person who met it was sitting somewhere out in the left field stands.

"There was no doubt about it when I hit it," he said of the bases-loaded blast that vaulted the Dodgers into a 6-6 tie.

He had a chance to duplicate his heroics with the bases loaded and one out in the bottom of the ninth — but all he could do this time was foul out weakly.

So Steve Garvey got him off the hook — and gave the Dodgers a 7-6 triumph over the Reds — with a line-drive single to center off Clay Carroll. Mike Marshall wound up with the victory.

In the rest of the National League it was Chicago 9, Philadelphia 3; Montreal 5, Pittsburgh 0; Atlanta 5, Houston 2; St. Louis 3, New York 2, and San Francisco 7, San Diego 1.

Cincinnati had built a 5-0 lead with four of the runs coming in the third inning, two on Tony Perez' homer off Juan Marichal. Ron Cey hit a two-run homer in the fourth to get Los Angeles started on the comeback trail.

"It's a brand-new season," Wynn said, reflecting on the Dodgers' third straight victory over the Reds following their three straight losses in Cincinnati at the start of the season.

"It's new for both of us. Tomorrow we start another game and another season."

Cubs 9, Phils 3
The Cubs, recording their fifth straight victory to stay atop the East Division, pummeled Steve Carlton with seven hits for six runs in two innings en route to their romp.

Don Kessinger's triple and singles by Bill Madlock, Jerry Morales, George Mitterwald and Rick Monday started the first-inning carnage, producing the first two runs. Then Manny Trillo pounded a Carlton fastball over the left field wall for three runs and a 5-0 lead.

Expos 5, Pirates 0

Woody Fryman hurled a five-hitter to lead Montreal past his former Pittsburgh teammates.

Wrestlers Chosen For Meet With Danish Team

Nine area wrestlers are among those chosen to take part in a Cultural Exchange program this Monday night at North Pitt High School.

The Eastern North Carolina team will take on a team from Denmark at 8 p.m. in the North Pitt Gymnasium. The Danes are in the midst of a 10-match trip throughout the southeastern part of the country.

A total of 12 matches will be held, six of them Greco-Roman and six in freestyle competition.

One of the main purposes of the match is to raise money to sponsor a North Carolina wrestling team in a European tour this summer. That team has already been named, and D.H. Conley's Barry Purser will be a member of it.

"We'd like to raise $3,500 with this match," North Pitt wrestling coach Roger Ingalls said. "The statewide goal is $10,000, and this would be our share of it."

In Monday night's match, those wrestling include Bobby Clemons at North Pitt at 106, Ronald Harris of Conley, 106; Terry Weaver of New Bern, 115; Frank Cassiano of West Cartaret, 123; Timmy Howard of West Cartaret, 123; Sherwood

Miller of Wilmington-New Hanover, 123; Earl Harris of Ayden-Grifton, 132; Tyrone Perkins of Rose, 143; Benjamin Bellamy of New Hanover, 143; Stuart David of Wilmington Hoggard, 154; James Johnson of Conley, 165; and Barry Purser of Conley, 178.

Alternates include John Lawler of Rose, 106; Randy Tyler of North Pitt, 132; and Ronnie Goodall of Rose, 178.

Tickets for the match are available for a $1 donation. Ingalls also announced that any Cub Scout or Brownie attending in uniform and accompanied by at least one parent, would be admitted free.

"We also are seeking additional contributions," Ingalls said. "This European trip will be a great thing for our state's wrestlers."

Eastern Wayne Tops Jaguars

NEW HOPE—Eastern Wayne High School pushed over three runs in the second inning and went on to record a 5-3 victory over Farmville Central yesterday.

Farmville Central scored first, pushing over a run in the top of the first. Mike Jenkins singled and stole second. After Tommy Cobb walked, Tony Oakley's single scored Jenkins.

Eastern came back with a run in the bottom of the inning. Woody Sutton singled and Roger Sutton got a hit. Bo Graham walked to load them up and a sacrifice fly by David Farmer scored Woody Sutton.

Farmville pushed back into the lead in the second, 2-1. David Winborn singled and Scott

Evans walked. Jenkins singled to load them up, and Cobb's hit scored Winborn.

But Eastern put the game away in the bottom of the frame with three big runs. Jo Kelley doubled and William Stallings reached on a wild pitch on the third strike. Kelly came around on the play. Roger Sutton doubled in Stallings, then scored when Graham reached on an error. That made it 4-2.

Farmville got a run in the fourth. Jenkins singled, stole second and scored on Cobb's hit.

Eastern also got its last run in the fourth. Roger Sutton singled, moved up on a balk and a stolen base and scored on Farmer's hit.

Killebrew Homer Keys Royals Past Oakland

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Harmon Killebrew is alive and well in Kansas City. Hank Aaron seems to have taken a turn for the worse in Milwaukee.

Killebrew showed Wednesday night that he can still hit them out with a home run that helped his new team beat the Oakland A's 6-2.

Aaron, another slugger who's wearing a different baseball uniform this season, continued to wear a collar as well as a result, the Brewers lost a 2-0 decision to the Baltimore Orioles.

Killebrew, who hit 559 home runs in a distinctive career with the Minnesota Twins, smashed No. 560 off Vida Blue to get the Royals started Wednesday night. The "Killer" then was in the middle of a three-run rally in the fourth inning, scoring one of the Kansas City runs after leading off with a walk.

Killebrew's homer gave him his third extra-base hit of the season so far in seven games.

"I hit that ball real good," Killebrew said of his second-inning homer that tied the score at 1-1. "And I got two bases on balls. I'm a base on balls hitter. The home run tied the game so it meant something; so many of them don't. It was my first homer for Kansas City and that meant something too."

By contrast, Aaron has been having his problems adjusting to the American League after collecting a record 733 homers in his golden National League career.

Aaron was hitless in two official appearances against Mike Cuellar Wednesday night and had his no-hit string extended to 12 by the crafty Baltimore left-hander. The one-time Atlanta Braves great has had but two hits in 19 at-bats with the Brewers, none of them homers.

In other American League action, the Boston Red Sox whipped the New York Yankees 4-2; the Minnesota Twins routed the California Angels 10-4 and the Texas Rangers blasted the Chicago White Sox 14-4. Along with Killebrew's hitting, the Royals also had Nelson Briles' pitching. Briles scattered five hits in one of his best performances with the Royals.

Briles allowed only two hits after the third inning, Sal Bando's double in the sixth and Claudell Washington's homer in the eighth.

Amos Otis singled for the Royals with two out in the third, stole second and scored on John Mayberry's single, putting the Royals ahead 2-1. Kansas City broke the game open in the fourth with a three-run outburst against Blue, 2-1.

Killebrew led off the inning with a walk and George Brett and Cookie Rojas followed with singles. Jim Wohlford's sacrifice fly scored Killebrew, and Brett ran home on a squeeze bunt by Buck Martinez. Frank White singled, scoring Rojas. Hal McRae's bases-loaded sacrifice fly scored the Royals' final run in the sixth.

Bando homered for Oakland in the first. It was his second of the year.

Orioles 2, Brewers 0
Mike Cuellar pitched a three-hitter, Don Baylor singled in the only run he needed and Elrod Hendricks hit a home run to lead Baltimore over Milwaukee.

Cuellar limited the Brewers to Pedro Garcia's third-inning single, Charlie Moore's double in the eighth and George Scott's ninth-inning single, struck out five batters and walked four. Ken Singleton walked in the sixth inning and was bunted to second by Paul Blair before Baylor lashed his run-scoring single to center off Jim Slaton, 1-2.

Ayden-Grifton Tops Firebirds

LITTLEFIELD—Ayden-Grifton rallied for seven runs in the fifth and sixth innings and slipped past Southern Nash yesterday, 7-5.

The victory kept Ayden-Grifton up in the race for the Eastern Carolina Conference title with a 4-1 record. The Chargers are 6-3 overall.

Southern Nash struck first, pushing over a run in the third. Bobby Harrison reached second on a double error, then scored on George Perry's single.

Southern added four more runs in the sixth. Strickland reached on an error, as did Harrison. Both were sacrificed up, and Strickland scored when Randy Faircloth struck out, but reached on a passed ball. Perry then hit a home run, running the Firebird lead out to 5-0.

Ayden-Grifton then started its comeback, pushing over four runs in the bottom of the fifth. Randy Nelson led off with a single and Paul Setliff reached on an error. Ned Craft doubled, scoring Nelson, but Setliff was thrown out trying to score. Al Butts came on as a courtesy runner for Craft, and Pau Ricciarelli walked. Eddie Taylor singled in Butts and Steve Nobles walked. Bill Wilson then singled in both Ricciarelli and Taylor.

Still trailing 5-4, the Chargers pushed in three more in the sixth. Ned Craft walked and Butts ran for him. Dennis Cristiano also walked, with Sammy Whitehurst running for him. Ricciarelli then ended it with a three-run homer.

Ayden-Grifton will play host to Conley on Friday.

Jamesville Defeated

JAMESVILLE—Bath and Jamesville locked up in the battle of the Beaufort-Hyde-Martin leaders last night, and Bath came away with a 4-0 win.

The victory boosted the Bath record to 5-1 in the league while Jacksonville fell off to 4-2. The Bullets are 4-4 overall.

Bath pushed over three runs in the first inning for all it needed. Cutler walked and O'Neal reached on a fielder's choice that was errored. Anderson singled to load them up, and Paul's hit scored both Cutler and O'Neal. Smith walked and Price singled in Anderson.

The other Bath run came over in the fourth. John Woolard walked, moved up on an out, and O'Neal singled. Anderson walked to load them up, and Paul hit a sacrifice fly to score Woolard.

SPRING HOPE—Hosting Southern Nash ran off from the field and gained an easy victory in a three-way track meet yesterday. The Firebirds finished the meet with 95, far ahead of second place Farmville Central.

The Jaguars ended up with 54 points, while Greene Central finished with just 21.

Southern took first place in nine individual events, and won both of the relays. Farmville Central won four and Greene Central took one.

The Firebirds had four double winners during the afternoon. Kenneth Meeks won the triple and long jumps; Al Boone won the 220-yard dash and the high jump; Ronald Perry took both of the hurdles events; and Wayne Cooper took the mile and 880-yard runs.

Farmville Central travels to C.B. Aycock on Monday.

Vikings Down Williamston

TARBORO—Tarboro High School came up with three runs in the sixth inning to hand Williamston its first Northeastern Conference loss of the year yesterday, 6-5.

Tarboro grabbed the initial lead with three runs in the second inning. Mike Norville singled and Gary Strickland reached on an error. Ralph Elks then doubled to score Norville. Tony Parrisher's hit scored both Strickland and Elks.

Williamston charged ahead in the fourth, scoring four runs. Roy Lilley walked and Tim Hardison singled, then stole second. George Brown's walk loaded the bases. Mike Bryan and Greg Roberson both walked, forcing out Lilley and Hardison. Mike Koesy doubled to score Brown and Bryant.

The Tigers scored another run in the sixth. Brown singled and stole second. He took third on an out and scored on Roberson's hit for a 5-3 lead.

But in the sixth, the Vikings rallied for three to take the lead and with it the game. Lewis led off with a single, moving up on an out. Strickland reached on a double error, scoring Lewis. Parrisher was safe on the third error of the frame, scoring Strickland, and Ricky Norville's hit brought in Parrisher with what proved to be the winning run.

Williamston, now 2-1 in the league and 5-3 overall, will host Plymouth today.

Rockets Fail In Effort To Halt Boston's Running Attack, 112-100

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

Houston Coach Johnny Egan is well aware that Boston is at its best when its running game is working, but his Rockets haven't yet been able to contain the Celtics' fast-breaking offense in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"When you get into a running game with that club, you're in trouble," Egan said Wednesday night after the Celtics had out-raced the Rockets 112-100 and gained a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinal series.

The running game is what keyed Boston's victory and proved Houston's downfall. The Celtics got it going in the closing minutes of the third quarter, outscoring the Rockets 15-2 for a commanding 89-70 bulge at the end of the period.

"We didn't play our game," said Houston's Rudy Tomjanovich. "You have a tendency to play their game when you're behind. You can't do that against the Celtics."

In the other Eastern Conference semifinal, the Washington Bullets blitzed the Buffalo Braves 111-96 for a 2-1 series lead.

In the Western Conference semifinals, the Chicago Bulls also gained a 2-1 series advantage over Kansas City-Omaha, edging the Kings 93-90, and the Seattle SuperSonics tied their series against Golden State at 1-1, squeaking past the Warriors 100-99.

Dave Cowens paced Boston with 28 points, John Havlicek added 23 and Jo Jo White scored 21. Calvin Murphy led Houston with 30 points and Tomjanovich scored 21.

Bullets 111, Braves 96

Phil Chenier recovered from a woeful first half in which he scored only four points, with 24 points after intermission in sparking Washington's victory over Buffalo. Ironically, it was the first triumph scored at home for either team this season in four regular-season games and three playoff games.

Elvin Hayes topped the Bullets with 30 points and Wes Unseld grabbed 18 rebounds. Bob McAdoo was high for Buffalo with 34 points and 19 rebounds.

Rampants Gain Win

Rose High School took four of the six doubles, then clung on to win one of the fateful three doubles to down Rocky Mount, 5-4, yesterday in a Division I tennis match.

The victory was the first conference victory of the year for Rose, now 1-2. They are 5-3 overall.

The Rampants gained the advantage with their domination of the singles, but it was a hard-fought affair, with three matches, including two won by the Rampants, going three sets.

Rose will travel to Wilson on Friday for their next match.

Summary:

Herb Bailey (R) defeated Bob Bennett, 6-1, 6-4.

Tim Toates (R) defeated Gary Felton, 6-3, 6-4.

Danny Wheelless (RM) defeated Julian Vainright, 2-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Dana Kendrick (R) defeated Jeff Joyner, 6-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Mike Murad (R) defeated Wade Mayberry, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3.

Jim Apostoleris (RM) defeated Graham Dempsey, 6-1, 6-2.

Toates-Vainright (R) defeated Felton-Bennett, 8-4.

Wheelless-Joyner (RM) defeated Bailey-Kendrick, 9-7.

Frank Inscoe-Del Eaton (RM) defeated Karl Thurber-Don Tucker, 8-3.

Aycock 3rd In Track

Wilson Junior High School gained a close victory over Bertie Junior High School in a track meet yesterday at E. B. Aycock Junior High.

Wilson finished the meet with 56 points, while Bertie had 54. Aycock was third, ending up with 36 points.

Bertie won six events during the meet, while Wilson finished with four wins, as did Aycock. Little was a double winner for Aycock, winning both the low hurdles and the 220-yard dash.

Aycock returns to action on Wednesday, traveling to Bertie.

Summary of winners: shot put,

Panthers Lose, 1-0

DUDLEY—Southern Wayne High School pushed over one run in the third inning, then got no-hit pitching from a pair of its hurlers to take a 1-0 victory over North Pitt yesterday.

Southern's duo of hurlers, Pelletier and Powell handcuffed the Panthers throughout the afternoon. Pelletier, in three innings of work, struck out six and walked three. Powell, in the final four frames, fanned seven and walked three.

North Pitt's Jay Bedsworth tossed a three-hitter of his own, but it wasn't enough. He struck out two and walked three.

The lone run came over in the third inning. Pelletier reached on an error and took second on a passed ball. Clark singled, driving him in for the only run the Saints needed.

The loss dropped the Panthers to 0-6 overall. North Pitt returns to action on Friday, traveling to North Lenoir.

Pelletier, Powell (4) and Smith.

Bulls 93, Kings 90

Bob Love scored 31 points and held the Kings' Larry McNeill to four in leading the Bulls past the Kings.

Tom Boerwinkle had a career-high 24 rebounds for Chicago and Jerry Sloan, switched from guard to forward, connected for 20 points.

Natte Archibald led the Kings with 18 points, but was scoreless in the final period.

Sonics 100, Warriors 99

Spencer Haywood, playing with five personal fouls, and Fred Brown, benched for nearly the entire first quarter, triggered a Seattle comeback that enabled the SuperSonics to overcome a nine-point Golden State lead in the final eight minutes.

Haywood finished with 28 points and 15 rebounds. He scored Seattle's final two points on free throws with 1:08 remaining for a 100-97 lead.

Rick Barry was high for Golden State with 29 points, including a basket with 27 seconds left. But the Warriors couldn't get another shot.

TORONTO (UPI) — Early in the 1974-75 hockey season, Mark Napier was in the cleanup crew that helped sweep out Maple Leaf Gardens. Before the season ended, the junior star had signed for a bonus of close to $1 million to play with the Toronto Toros of the World Hockey Association.

Robersonville Wins In Ninth

PINETOPS—Robersonville High School pushed over a run in the ninth inning yesterday and gained a 4-3 victory over hosting South Edgecombe, 4-3.

All of the other scoring came in the first three innings of the game.

Robersonville pushed over a run in the first. Reid Bullock singled and moved up on an out. Jimmy Stalls walked and Carl Bullock's hit scored Reid Bullock.

South Edgecombe came back with one in the bottom of the frame for a 1-1 tie. Junior Webb tripled and scored when Ritchie Pridgen reached on an error.

The Eagles got another run in the second. Ricky Griffin reached on an error, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Jaff Warren's hit.

The third Robersonville run came over in the third. Neno Hayes singled and moved up on an error on the play. He took third on a passed ball, scoring on Carl Bullock's out.

South Edgecombe came back with two in the bottom of the third to tie it again. Dino Ellis walked and Webb singled him to third. Webb stole second, and an error on the throw down let Ellis score. Pridgen then was safe on an error, scoring Webb.

Robersonville held off the Dragons after that, then finally won it in the ninth. Hayes doubled and Ricky Spruill ran for him, scoring on Robin Fowler's single.

Kinston Nips Aycock By 5-4

KINSTON—Kinston Junior High School broke a 4-4 tie in the eighth inning to hand a 5-4 defeat to E. B. Aycock Junior High School yesterday.

Kinston took a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Drew Head walked and stole second. He came around to score on Walter Gardner's single.

Aycock tied it up in the second. Reggie Spain was hit by a pitch and Michael Shank walked. Joey Downing singled to load them up, and a walk to Jerome Ross brought in Spain.

Kinston added two in the third. Head walked and Carlton Gooding singled. Glenn Spence reached on a fielder's choice, as did Gardner scoring Head. Bill Jones then hit a sacrifice fly to score courtesy runner Rob Jones.

The fourth Kinston run came in the fourth. Bert Statum singled and Anthony Bryant doubled. Head's sacrifice fly scored Statum.

Aycock rallied for three to tie it at 4-4 in the sixth. Downing reached on a fielder's choice and stole second. Ross singled as did Ronnie Chapman, scoring Downing. A balk brought in Ross, and Chapman stole third. He scored on Bobby Worrell's sacrifice fly.

But Kinston got the winning run in the eighth. Gardner tripled and Jones' sacrifice fly scored him to end the game.

Aycock returns home to host Bertie today.

Land-Use Planning Foes Wage Fight In Congress

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Using

slogans as their foot soldiers, organized groups have been waging a three-year war against House and Senate proposals to increase federal involvement in land use planning.

Their efforts have been successful, but once again Congress is contemplating legislation to establish a system for planning the nation's growth.

The first comprehensive land use planning bill was introduced in 1972. The Senate has passed such legislation twice but last year, when the measure reached the House floor, the House decided by a vote of 211 to 204 not to consider it. The proposals, somewhat modified, have been re-introduced.

In the view of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., the leading sponsor of the legislation in the Senate, the House was pressured into its decision last year by right wing groups plying the members with mail from constituents fearing federal control over their property.

"I cannot believe that the form letter hate mail which suddenly appeared on my desk represents the true feelings of Americans," said Jackson, chairman of the Senate Interior Committee.

"The opposition came at us with shibboleths," said Steven P. Quarles, an Interior Committee staff member. "It was shouting slogans about big government, and robbery of property rights. The local mail came in 10, 20, 60 to 1 against us."

Reflected throughout the mail, its recipients said, was a belief in an individual's right to private property, and the dispute over land use planning has prompted broad philosophical arguments over property rights and the state's responsibility to the interests of society in protecting a nonrenewable resource.

"Land can't be treated like a commodity, like beans or wheat or anything else you sell," said Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., the bill's chief sponsor in the House. "It is an irreplaceable asset."

Planning for its use, he said, "is society's option about how we grow and the quality of life."

"We're running out of cheap land..." the congressman said.

The House Interior Committee, in its report explaining the land use planning legislation the committee drew up last year, recognized the significance of the dispute over the nature of land — commodity or nonrenewable resource.

"Reflected throughout this nation's political, economic, and social history is the traditional concept that land is a commodity to be bought and sold, used and depleted as its owner sees fit, with a minimum of governmental involvement or guidance," it wrote.

An Interior Department official, who asked that his name not be used, said the state's authorized police powers, protecting the interests of a community, justified land use planning.

"The Constitution does not give a person the right to use his land as he wishes," the official said, but he acknowledged that a land owner was entitled to compensation for denial of the use of his land.

Rep. Sam Steiger, the Arizona Republican who has led the opposition in the House to the legislation, is afraid that the federal government, under Udall's bill, could designate a section of land as a "non-use area," overriding local and state rulings by prohibiting its development. He feels reimbursement of the owners of such property would cost too much.

"Mo (Udall) and the other supporters of the bill said it doesn't jeopardize private property and it does," Steiger said.

The various conservative organizations that deluged senators and representatives with mail in their battle against the legislation have focused on this issue in the literature they distributed around the nation. They said the bill would let the government confiscate private property, an allegation hotly denied by the measure's sponsor.

sors. The "Committee to Restore the Constitution, Inc.," said in a newsletter:

"Fifteen thousand words in the bill spell the end of the traditional concept of private ownership of land as conceived and understood under the American system of constitutional government."

The Liberty Lobby, another right-wing group, said: "This un-American bill is right in line with Karl Marx' directive for enslaving people: confiscate private property."

And on Capitol Hill, various congressmen thundered against the bill from time to time as it moved through subcommittee and committee in the legislative process.

Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., said the bill "would severely limit a property owner's right to decide what use he will make of his land."

Former Rep. John R. Rarick, D-La., warned while still in Congress: "If this proposal becomes law, you may continue to own the title to your property and pay the taxes, but how you use your land will be decided in Washington."

Such dire warnings were all part of a campaign, based on scare tactics, to defeat the bill, its supporters say.

The intensive lobbying effort apparently found some listeners in Congress and when the House refused to consider the issue on the floor last June, Jackson said such organizations as the Liberty Lobby and the Chamber of Commerce helped defeat land use planning in the 93rd Congress.

He also warned that "failure to act on this 'states rights bill' now may well mean that a future Congress will decide that the only solution remaining is the usual solution for national problems: pre-empted federal control."

He termed the measure a "states rights bill" because he said it would have given the state and local governments the authority to implement their own land use plans.

Can Reduce School Jobs

RALEIGH (AP)—The state Board of Education has proposed elimination of 1,000 teaching positions as an alternative to cuts suggested by a House subcommittee in the 1975-76 budget for North Carolina's public schools.

Supt. of Public Instruction Craig Phillips planned to present the board's recommendations today to the House Base Budget subcommittee on education and the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on education.

The reduction in teacher positions, decided by the board Wednesday, would be spread among the state's 1,997 schools. The action would save the state about $12 million in the 1975-76 fiscal year.

In all, the board recommended $20 million in cuts in response to the subcommittee's tentative decision to reduce the public schools' budget by $25.7 million.

The subcommittee also proposed that $16.4 million be cut from the schools' budget for the 1976-77 fiscal year. Controller C.A. Davis, the board's chief financial officer, said he did not know how much the board would recommend to be trimmed from the 1976-77 budget.

League Lobbyist Speaks At Annual LWV Meet

The Greenville-Pitt County League of Women Voters held its fifth annual meeting and election Tuesday.

Speaker for the evening was Barbara Smith, Legislative Chairperson of the LWV of North Carolina, who spoke on her experiences as a League lobbyist. Ms. Smith emphasized that LWV members must learn even more about the total legislative process to be able to more effectively influence legislative bodies. One aspect of state government which League should study is the need of North Carolina's legislature to revise their decision-making process in order to facilitate consideration of future as well as immediate needs in the passage of legislation. Ms. Smith feels League must strongly support legislation to prevent training school detention of status offenders, juveniles who commit an offense, such as truancy, which is against the law only for minors.

Business conducted by the LWV included adoption of a by-laws change, adoption of a budget, and recognition of board members whose terms of office have expired. It was announced that Marion Moeller, a member of the Greenville-Pitt County LWV, has been nominated to serve for two more years as finance director of the N.C. LWV state board.

The following persons were elected to serve on the local Board of Directors for 1975-77: president, Rhea Resnik; vice-president, Doris Jean Haggard; secretary, Ilene Blok; and directors, Kay Davis, Marie Farr, and Robbie Piper. Elected to the nominating committee for 1976 were Evelyn Boyette as chairman and Nancy Johnson and Mildred Indorf as members-at-large.

Rhea Resnik, LWV president, ended the meeting by reviewing the progress League has made this past year toward effecting its goals and pointing out other ways in which League can work toward realization of its objectives.

Sugar Theft Ring Cited

RALEIGH—State authorities say they have uncovered an alleged sugar theft operation involving North Carolina prison inmates and an outside confederate.

Officials of the Correction and Justice Departments said the operation involved two prison inmates, a civilian truck driver for Prison Enterprises and at least one Craven County man.

A source said State Bureau of Investigation agents surprised two men during an alleged transfer of 3,200 pounds of sugar from a Prison Enterprises truck to a private pickup truck in Cove City Tuesday.

Charles Dunn, SBI director, declined to comment and referred questions to Wake County Dist. Atty. Burley Mitchell.

Mitchell said S-B-I agents "detained two civilians and questioned them on the spot." No arrests were made.

Mitchell said indictments against those involved would be sought when a grand jury reconvenes later this month. No names were released pending grand jury action.

Investigators said at least 43 other sacks of sugar are missing from the Prison Enterprises warehouse along with a "substantial" quantity of prison T-shirts, towels and sheets.

Arrest Two For Thrill Stabbing

CHARLOTTE (AP)—An 18-year-old senior at Garinger High School has been injured, not seriously, in an apparent "thrill" stabbing and beating by other students.

Principal Richard Cansler says two students have told him they inflicted the injuries on John Michael Sloop, whom they didn't know, because they were bored and wanted some excitement.

The principal says the two have been suspended for 10 days. He hasn't identified them because the investigation is not completed. He added that three other students may have been involved in Monday's stabbing and beating in a student locker area, and there may be more suspensions.

Launches Aid To The 'New' Poor

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Father Alfred Boeddeker, founder of St. Anthony's Dining Room, which has served more than 11 million free meals during the last 25 years, has founded an association to aid senior citizens.

Boeddeker said the association's "initial service is to the new breed of poor," struggling on the borderline of poverty and neglect because of economic ills and spiraling costs.

Attention Greenville Utilities' Customers with Electrically Heated Homes!

Our Budget Billing Policy will enable you to spread your electric heating costs over a 12 month period.

Budget Billing Policy

1. AVAILABILITY

Budget Billing will be available to all residential customers who use electric energy only for home heating, and upon specific request and execution of Budget Billing Agreement as follows:

(a) Customers who own and reside in permanent homes will be placed on Budget Billing upon request and execution of Budget Billing Agreement.

(b) Customers who reside in apartments will be placed on Budget Billing after 12 months continuous experience in the same apartment and upon request and execution of Budget Billing Agreement.

(c) Customers who reside in mobile homes will be placed on Budget Billing after 12 months continuous billing, and upon request and execution of Budget Billing Agreement.

2. PURPOSE

To assist customers in leveling winter heating cost by spreading payments evenly over an eleven month period.

3 DETERMINING BUDGET BILL

The monthly electric Budget Billing will be determined by one of the following methods:

(a) Where a customer has had 12 months experience under the Commission's Residential Electric Rate Schedule in his house, apartment, or mobile home, the monthly electric budget billing will be determined by dividing 12 months actual experience of electric billing, including fossil fuel adjustment charges, by eleven (11).

(b) If 12 months experience is not available, an estimated annual electric bill for the home will be made by the Commission's representative and the monthly electric budget billing will be determined by dividing the estimated annual electric bill, including estimated fossil fuel adjustment charges, by eleven (11).

(c) When a Budget Billing Plan is begun during any month other than the month of May, the Budget Bill will be an amount estimated by the Commission to fairly represent the anticipated average electric bill, including fossil fuel adjustment charges, until the next settlement date, and thereafter shall be determined by method (a) or (b) above.

4 ADJUSTMENT OF MONTHLY BUDGET BILLING

If at any time during the contract period the monthly electric budget billing is found to be in error, the Commission will, upon written notice to the customer, increase or decrease the monthly electric budget billing as necessary to more accurately reflect the annual bill. Every account will be reviewed at the time of annual settlement and adjustments made, as necessary, to the monthly Budget Bill.

5. BILLING AND COLLECTIONS

The electric meter will be read monthly in accordance with the Commission's standard procedures. The customer's monthly bill will show the actual kilowatthours consumed and the monthly electric Budget Bill. Billing of other utility services will be made in accordance with standard rates. The Commission's existing policies for collection of accounts will be followed. Where customers are cut-off for non-payment of account, service will be restored only after full settlement of account, including Budget Billing, has been made, and customers will be removed from the Budget Billing Plan.

6. ANNUAL SETTLEMENT

Annual settlement for the electric bill will be made in the April bill for each customer. The customer will receive an annual settlement form showing monthly electric consumption, monthly electric budget billing, and regular monthly electric billing, including fossil fuel adjustment charges. An account that has been underpaid will be billed for the difference on the April bill. An account that has been overpaid will be refunded by check during the month of April.

A customer may be removed from the Budget Billing plan at any time upon request and proper settlement of account to date.

BUDGET BILLING AGREEMENT

It is the understanding of both parties to this agreement that the only purpose of this agreement is to spread the cost of electric service as evenly as possible, on a monthly basis, over an annual period. Hence, billing under this agreement will not result in any greater or lesser payment to the Commission over an annual period, than would be the case with customary monthly bills.

For the purpose of rendering bills for such service, the Commission has found or has estimated the customer's annual bill for electric service, including fossil fuel adjustment charges, to be $ _____. The Customer agrees to pay one-eleventh (1-11th) of his annual electric bill each month, or $ _____ per month, as his electric Budget Bill. At the April billing, the Commission will reconcile the total of the equal payment amounts for the period with actual charges for electric energy used, including fossil fuel adjustment charges, and the difference will be billed, or refund made, to the Customer at that time.

The Customer hereby requests that his bill for electric service be prepared in accordance with the provisions of this agreement and further agrees to abide by the Commission's adopted Budget Billing Policy.

count eight tricks, and there were several possibilities for a ninth—such as, finesse in either black suit, or playing for a combination of dropping the queen in one black suit, and, if that did not succeed, taking a finesse in the other. However, Schreiber found a line that was better than any of these—he returned dummy's remaining diamond, discarding a spade from his hand.

If West did not cash his diamonds, declarer would be able to win any return and take the club finesse with safety. Even if it lost, declarer would establish at least one additional club for his ninth trick. But it did not help West to cash his two diamonds. Dummy and East discarded two spades and declarer parted with two clubs. West shifted to a club, won in dummy. When declarer next cashed two high spades, East was crushed. If he discarded a heart, declarer's fourth heart would be the game-going trick. If he discarded a club, the queen would drop under the ace and dummy's jack of clubs would become the ninth trick.

About two years ago, Michael Schreiber and his brother, both of Los Angeles, were winning the Charles Goren Intercollegiate Bridge Championship. About two months ago, Michael Schreiber was competing in his home town for the right to meet the Lancia team in a Challenge Match for the Alitalia Trophy, to be held in May. Though his team did not qualify, Schreiber's play impressed the cognoscentia. This hand is an example.

The bidding requires some explanation. North-South were playing five-card majors, so systematically South had to open his better minor. (We find it somewhat nauseous to have to open the South hand with one club.) North's club raise was the "inverted minor raise", showing a strong hand but denying a four-card major suit. The two red-suit bids showed stoppers, not necessarily length, and the final contract would have been safer had North been declarer.

West led the fourth-best of his long suit, dummy played low, East won the ten and returned the queen. When this was allowed to run to dummy's king, Schreiber reasoned that West almost certainly had, at most, five diamonds. Declarer could

Church Holding Chicken Supper

WINTERVILLE—The Winterville Pentecostal Holiness Church will sponsor a chicken pastry supper Saturday from 5-7 p.m.

Sponsored by the church auxiliary, the supper will be served at the Winterville Community Building. James McCandless is pastor of the Winterville church.

NEW GALLERY
KINGSTON, Jamaica (UPI) — The National Gallery of Arts was opened recently in Devon House, a converted mansion in New Kingston. Featured are Jamaican works, with plans to create an African section.

Decide Custody Viet Children

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A dispute over custody of 174 Vietnamese children has ended and officials say all the orphans will be united with their new parents within a week or so.

"It's hard to believe we can take him home at last," Mrs. David Tietjen of Americus, Ga., said Wednesday as she claimed 6-month-old David Lee. The boy was among 18 children Betty Tisdale had insisted were not connected with the rest of the group she brought from An Lac Orphanage in Saigon last weekend.

She had contended the children "are 18 private adoption cases who happened to be on this plane."

State Department officials agreed and those not united with their adoptive parents

Wednesday are being kept at the fort to await their arrival. "We got her, and we're taking her home," shouted Rick Dolock, as he and his wife, Ellen, stepped out of a meeting Wednesday with their new daughter, another of the 18.

The adoptions of the other 156 children will be handed through Tressler-Lutheran Services Associates of York, Pa., rather than the Pearl S. Buck Foundation of Perkasie, Pa., which had claimed responsibility for the children, said Bill Mulcahey of the Agency for International Development.

William C. Tremiere, manager of children's programs for Tressler, said his agency would work with the Buck Foundation and other groups in placing the children.

"The Tisdales as well as the Pearl Buck Foundation have great professional respect for Mrs. Tremiere and his agency," said Mulcahey. That apparently led to the agreement which was reached in a one and one-half hour meeting at the base.

"We have come to a beautiful conclusion," Mrs. Tisdale said after the meeting.

Mulcahey said the final agreement was easy once everyone sat down and the whole story was brought out.

"I think there was a little breakdown in communications," said Mulcahey said. "Nothing like this had ever happened before."

Mrs. Tisdale agreed. "We went in and brought these children out, and there have been no precedents for private individuals doing that."

Soldiers and volunteers have been charing for the children since their arrival at Ft. Benning Saturday night.

Ten Cent Raise

WASHINGTON (AP)—A provision that would have raised tobacco price supports by more than 20 cents a pound has been dropped from the emergency farm bill. They will be increased about 10 cents a pound.

This was done when Senate and House conferees adopted a less costly version of the bill.

Under the original proposal, the government support price would have been 70 per cent of parity. Parity is the point at which producers costs and a reasonable return would be covered. At 70 per cent, the support price this year would have been about $1.05 a pound for flue-cured tobacco and $1.12 for burley. That's about the same as the crops were selling for last year.

Supports this year, based on 60 per cent of parity, are projected at 83.2 cents a pound for flue-cured and 96.1 for burley. Last year, also based on 60 per cent, they were 83.3 cents for flue-cured and 85.8 for burley.

Bake Sales By Sunshine Girls

Operation Sunshine girls will hold bake sales Saturday from 11:30 to 2:30 in front of Brody's downtown and in front of Larry's Shoe Store.

The money they make will be used for an out-of-town trip. Clara Dubois is director of the recently reactivated girls' activity program.

Year Of Cowboy At Exhibition

CHEYENNE (UPI) — The Wyoming Travel Commission says 1975 will be the year of the cowboy at the Buffalo Bill Historical Center in Cody.

The cowboy exhibition of paintings and sculpture will open May 1, featuring the works of Charles Russell and Frederic Remington.

In 1976, the center will feature a special exhibition based on "The Indian of the Northern Plains."

Many Entries Won Regional Science Fair Prizes

About 85 high school student entries were awarded prize ribbons at the 1975 Eastern Regional Science Fair at East Carolina University on April 11. Among the winning students were members of science classes from high schools in 15 North Carolina counties.

Ribbons were awarded to first, second and third place winners and honorable mention winners in the following areas: senior biological science, senior earth science, senior physical science, senior technological, junior biological science, junior physical science and junior technological.

While most projects at the Science Fair were planned, assembled and demonstrated by one student, several were collaborative efforts.

Thirty-three senior and junior high schools were represented among the Science Fair entrants.

ECU also presented a special award to Estelle McClees of Ayden in recognition of her distinguished service to science education. Miss McClees teaches science at Kinston High School.

The award was presented in honor of Dr. Austin D. Bond, former ECU professor of science. Dr. Bond, now retired, attended the presentation ceremony.

Names of area science teachers with one or more student winners and their respective schools follows:

From Greene County, Elizabeth Harrell, Greene Central H.S., Snow Hill; and Carolyn Bright and George Leo Farrow, Snow Hill Jr. H.S.

From Pitt County, Charles Davis, Nan F. Shearin and Elanor Hagans, Aycock Jr. H.S., Greenville; Mrs. Ipock, Savannah Jr. H.S., Grifton.

Area winners were: Wilbur Ronald Bartlett, Greene Central H.S., won second place in senior biological science for "Protocol for the Immunodiffusion Test for Equine Infectious Anemia."

Teresa Karen Whitley, Greene Central H.S., won Honorable mention in the senior biological science for "The Extraction of Growth-Promoting Substances from Cantaloupe Seeds."

Jackie Fay Murphy, Greene Central H.S., won honorable mention in senior biological science for "Dermatophytosis."

Sandra Lee Ellis, Greene Central H.S., won honorable mention senior earth science for "Simulation of a Hurricane."

Ellen Cheryl Barrow, Greene Central H.S., won first place in senior physical science for "Statistical Analysis of the Measurement of the Size of Raindrops."

Roy Lee Roberson, Greene Central H.S., won second place in senior physical science for "Aerodynamics of a Glider."

Luther Franklin Beaman, Greene Central H.S., won third place in senior physical science for "Temperature Inversion in a Populated Valley."

Leonard Lee Hardy, Greene Central H.S., won second place in senior technological for "Electronic Combination Device."

Stephanie Yvonne Crawford, Greene Central H.S., won third place in senior technological for "Solar Heating: Man's Answer to the Energy Crisis."

William Clarence Galloway, Greene Central H.S., won third place in senior technological for "A Homemade Ultraviolet Gas Laser."

BULLET BITES APPLE—A .30 calibre rifle bullet, traveling 2,800 feet per second, creates applesauce as it tears through an apple in this high-speed stroboscopic photograph by Dr.

Harold E. Edgerton of MIT. The instant was caught on film by an exposure of one three-millionth of a second. Moments later the apple disintegrated. (AP Wirephoto)

Milk Price Wars Are Probed By Commission

RALEIGH (AP)—The executive secretary of the North Carolina Milk Commission says it will be at least next week before an investigation of the milk price war in Raleigh is completed.

Grady Cooper said Wednesday that if the commission staff finds that the chain stores are not selling milk below their costs, they will be allowed to continue selling milk for $1.35 a gallon.

The commission also is investigating milk price wars in Greensboro and the Gastonia area.

Warnings have been sent to about 18 independent dealers in the Gastonia area.

Several stores in the Greensboro area dropped prices to $1.39 a gallon before the Raleigh price war broke out about three weeks ago.

their brand of milk.

Quinn said the price was lowered to attract more customers to IGA stores and to force all wholesale prices down. Before the price war, grocers were paying about $1.75 a gallon for milk. Stores that sold large volumes were getting discounts up to 28 or 30 per cent, Quinn said.

He added that IGA's wholesale price was dropped to $1.53 with stores getting rebates based on volume.

Americans Still Tallest People

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the last two generations Americans have grown 1.5 inches and, now at an average height of 5 feet 8.2 inches, they continue to be the world's tallest people except for the Watusi and Dinkas in East Africa.

Europeans have grown that much, 1.5 inches, in a much shorter time. Japanese junior high school children are 2 to 2.5 inches taller than youngsters there were 10 years ago.

Around the world almost everybody is growing taller. Nutritionists say it is because most people are eating better than ever, especially more protein and vitamins. With Americans, another factor may be that they are supposed to be the world's most overfed.

The price war in the Raleigh area was started by the Independent Grocers Association. A&P, Winn-Dixie, Big Star and Colonial followed suit.

Dean Carpenter, owner of Carpenter's Food Mart in Gaston County, said he will fight the Milk Commission's efforts to force him to raise milk prices. He sells milk for $1.39 a gallon but if a customer buys $3 worth of groceries, the milk price is $1.29.

Carpenter said, "I'm willing to let it be decided by the judge, courts and jury. I'm going to go ahead and leave my prices where they are."

Milford Quinn, president of Quinn Wholesale in Warsaw, N.C., which supplies 52 Independent Grocer Association (IGA) stores in eastern North Carolina, said his company had negotiated a lower wholesale price with the dairy bottling

State law forbids the sale of milk below cost.

Meanwhile, in Shelby, John Burn, president of Carolina Dairy, said the milk price war in eastern North Carolina is designed to drive independent milk processors out of business and enlarge the business of Dairymen, Inc., a cooperative.

He charged that the co-op is "trying to take over the milk business."

Burn said Dairymen Inc., headquartered in Louisville, Ky., has made numerous acquisitions in North Carolina in recent years.
