Israel Reducing Force Along Suez Ford Optimistic For Middle East Peace Push

SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—President Ford concluded summit talks with Egypt's Anwar Sadat today and said he would unveil a Middle East peace-seeking formula within the next month.

Ford said he has yet to make "final judgments" on the peace-seeking formula. Speaking in English, Sadat said he will return to Cairo to confer with his associates on approaches to peace, adding, "I shall be always in contact with President Ford," whom he invited to visit Egypt.

Sadat, appearing with Ford, said the big achievement of the summit was to establish a personal relationship with the American leader.

As Ford and Sadat spoke, Israeli Premier Yitzhak Rabin announced in Jerusalem that Israel is reducing its tanks, firepower and troop strength along the Suez Canal as a gesture of peace toward Egypt for the reopening of the waterway.

Rabin said half of Israel's tanks in the front line zone would withdraw to at least 18 miles from the canal, and all artillery pieces would be pulled back to 19 miles from the shipping channel.

All missiles except antitank missiles will be moved behind a line 24 miles from the canal, Rabin said, and 3,500 men—half Israel's front line troops—will withdraw from the limited arms region east of the United Nations buffer zone.

"The government of Israel considers the renewal of international shipping as an important and constructive development," Rabin said of the scheduled opening of the canal on Thursday. He said the reduction of Israel's front line troops by half is intended to contribute to the "relaxation of military tension in the area."

The Israelis previously said reopening of the waterway was in Egypt's self-interest and did not oblige Israel to respond with a peaceful gesture. Egypt also is on record as saying it would bar Israeli ships and cargo from the canal on grounds the two states technically are still at war.

Sadat was particularly animated as he and Ford posed for photos at the start of the Salzburg meeting. Ford seemed more serious, smiling faintly from time to time while Sadat grinned broadly.

Their sessions had been described as "very warm, very friendly" although cloaked in secrecy.

"We have agreed not to divulge any of the substantive details," said Tasheen Bashir, the Egyptian president's spokesman, Sunday night after the first day of the two-day meeting.

Under Secretary of State Joseph V. Sisco was similarly tight-lipped and reported, "We have drawn no conclusions, we have made no final judgments" on the best way to proceed with the search for peace, seemingly stalemated since March.

American sources have indicated Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger hoped to revive the step-by-step approach to Middle East negotiations.

Egyptian sources suggested an "ideal solution" would be a negotiated Israeli pullback in the Sinai Desert followed by a withdrawal on the Golan Heights. These well-placed sources said these should be followed by a Geneva peace conference.

Sadat took a hard line in public remarks at lunch Sunday. He said belligerency will end only if Israel recognizes that it cannot acquire territory by force and that the Palestinians have the right "to live in a national home."

Ford in response hailed the Egyptian president as a wise statesman and said, "We understand quite clearly the historical significance of your policies."

U.S. officials said Egyptian terms have hardened since the collapse of Kissinger's attempt in March to negotiate another Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai desert.

Landmark

RALEIGH (AP)—For a brief time tonight, North Carolina's old state capitol will again be the scene of a legislative meeting.

The occasion is the designation of the 135-year-old building as a national historical landmark. Gov. Jim Holshouser and the members of the legislature will meet in joint session to accept a certificate of registry from the U.S. Department of the Interior.

The old capitol is now used primarily for ceremonial occasions. The only working office there is that of Secretary of State Thad Eure.

It was completed in 1840 at a cost of $532,000. At the time it was authorized, that was more than three times the yearly general income of the state.

Most of its functions have been moved to the new legislative and administration buildings, a block away in Raleigh's government office center.

Simpson Asks County Board Collect Taxes

Pitt County Commissioners today agreed to study a request by the Village of Simpson to collect the community's property taxes.

Mayor John McDonald made the request, and County Manager Reginald Gray said such an agreement "would not be a tremendous burden," on the county's tax department. "It would be a service we'd be rendering to that group of taxpayers," Gray noted.

Gray, who said the county is now preparing tax bills for all the towns in the county, indicated the county tax department is not now collecting taxes for any of the municipalities. He noted a fee would be charged for the service, but said it would be cheaper for Simpson, which was chartered last month as the state's newest village and has no tax department.

Ralph Hall, project director for the county's new hospital reported this morning that the project is about 38 per cent complete and is about four months behind schedule. However, he said "we may pick up some of that time," if the weather continues to be good.

Commissioners also approved funding half the cost of installation of a new base station and other radio equipment for rescue squads. The local money will be added to a $3,429 grant to the Mid-East Emergency Medical Services Council to fund the cost of the equipment, designed to up-date radio communications between the various rescue squads and Pitt Memorial Hospital's emergency room.

McDonald Trial Set For Raleigh

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A federal judge today ordered former Green Beret doctor Jeffrey McDonald tried in Raleigh in July for the murder of his wife and two daughters in 1970, the U.S. attorney's office said.

McDonald, who now lives in California, had sought a transfer of the trial to Los Angeles. Jay Stroud of the U.S. attorney's office in Raleigh said the motion was denied in an order issued today by U.S. Dist. Judge Franklin Dupree. Stroud said the trial date last set tentatively for July 14.

Fire On Rioting Crowds

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—Police fired repeatedly into crowds of rioting blacks in Salisbury Sunday, killing 11 persons and wounding 15 others, a police spokesman said.

The trouble started at a meeting of leaders of the African National Council (ANC) to discuss Prime Minister Ian Smith's proposal for a black-white conference on Rhodesia's political future.

Thousands of supporters of the rival Zimbabwe African People's Union (ZAPU) and Zimbabwe African National Union (ZANU) massed outside the meeting. A police spokesman said the crowd beat up a ZANU executive member as he tried to get into the meeting.

Another ZANU executive member was thrown out of a window and the two factions in the crowd started fighting.

Budget Committees Face Thursday Report Deadline

By ROBERT B. CULLEN
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina General Assembly this week will face the task of welding a $6 billion budget out of what the chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee calls a "damn mess."

Leaders in the House and the Senate have called on their budget committees to finish with their versions of the document by Thursday. Then will come floor action on the two bills and finally a conference committee to work out the differences.

The normally difficult task is complicated further this year by two factors. There is a deficit of nearly $300 million, and there has been less than the usual amount of cooperation between the House and Senate.

Since January, when the recommended budget came to the legislature, revenue estimates for 1975-77 have declined by $288 million, and the governor has added $30 million to the requested appropriations.

According to the confusion has been the different ways the House and Senate have chosen to approach the matter. Normally, they work together, but this year Speaker James C. Green has charted a separate course for the House.

Green's base budget committee has set a goal of culling $50 million in "fat" from the

N.C. Outlaw Captured By Big Posse After 2-Day Manhunt

MOCKSVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A man wanted in the slaying of two law enforcement officers was captured after being flushed from a tobacco barn by tear gas Sunday, climaxing a search that involved an estimated 200 to 300 officers during the two days of the manhunt.

The search began late Friday night for Morrey Joe Campbell, 29-year-old Davie County furniture worker, and ended shortly before 5:30 p.m. Sunday when he was discovered in the tobacco barn off Highway 801 near the little community of Farmington.

Two Yadkin County deputies who had joined in the search discovered Campbell in the barn, hiding above the ground on tiers used in the curing of tobacco.

"We'd been standing out in front of the barn for about two hours," said John Henry Hicks, Yadkin chief deputy. He said the barn had been searched earlier in the day, but he and the other deputy, Mitchell Davis, went in again, this time spotting the man.

Officers swarmed to the scene at their radio report, "We have the suspect spotted in a barn off Spillman Road."

A police helicopter hovered overhead as an officer threw tear gas bombs into the barn. Campbell dropped to the ground where he was pinned immediately by officers.

An officer said Campbell's only words were, "Don't shoot me. I give up."

In Mocksville, Campbell was charged with two counts of murder and one count of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Allen Martin, director of the Davie County Hospital, said Campbell was treated there for minor shotgun pellet wounds in his arm and leg and then was taken to Central Prison hospital in Raleigh. Campbell was thought to have been wounded in a gunfire exchange Friday night that touched off the manhunt.

Wayne Gaither, 30, of the Davie County Sheriff's Department, was killed shortly after reporting by radio that he was stopping Campbell's car on suspicion of drunken driving. A spokesman said the men were known to one another.

Minutes after Gaither was shot, Jack C. Renigar, 43, of the neighboring Forsyth County Sheriff's Department reserve unit, was killed as he and another officer took up the chase.

Congress Fights Subpoenas On Abusing Mail-Use

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Both the Senate and House are fighting subpoenas seeking testimony and records about alleged abuses of free mailing privileges by their members.

The subpoenas were issued in connection with a lawsuit, filed by Common Cause, seeking to end taxpayer-financed mass mailings by members of Congress.

Among the items being withheld are records of complaints received by the Senate and House bodies that are supposed to deal with abuses of the freemail or "franking" privilege. Records of what happened to those complaints are likewise being kept in Congress' file cabinets.

Also being withheld are records that would show what materials were mailed at taxpayer expense by each member of the Senate and House.

The House has refused even to allow its employees to appear to give testimony in the lawsuit. The Senate has allowed some testimony, but won't disclose its records.

Testimony and documents already on file in the lawsuit show that much of the mail Congress sends at taxpayer expense is tied directly to the reelection campaigns of Senate and House members.

Among the disclosures so far:
—Two direct-mail experts, on the Senate payroll at $19,000-a-year and $25,000-a-year respectively, advised several incumbent Republicans on how to use "official" franked mail to get votes.

A manual setting up a model campaign schedule for Senate Democrats refers to newsletters as a "free forum" and tells when they should be sent during the campaign.

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., in 1973 approved a tax-financed mail program intended to pay off for him on election day, according to testimony of a former aide. Javits was unavailable for comment, but another aide said the senator sends franked mail even when he isn't running, and that it "has nothing to do with voters per se."

—Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., mailed more than 800,000 letters to special interest groups during his 1973 re-election campaign. These letters sometimes paid off in campaign donations and volunteers. A Tower aide said the letters were within the law and were intended to inform Texans about Tower's activities.

None of this activity necessarily violates any law or regulation since Congress has wide discretion in use of tax-paid mail. Congress gave itself the right to send official mail at government expense at the founding of the Republic, and only Congress polices against abuses of the free mailings.

CAN SEE OWN RECORDS

Since parents, according to federal law, now have access to all their children's school records, would it also be true that an adult may see his own school records? R. M.

Yes, you certainly may, according to Greenville Schools Superintendent Glenn Cox. Records of graduates of Greenville schools are stored in the Rose High School Guidance Office. Records of Pitt County graduates are stored in the consolidated school which serves the area from which one graduated. County Supt. Ott Alford suggested you call the school secretary, tell her what record you would like to see, and then check with her a little later as to when it would be convenient with her and you for you to see yours. The secretaries will be working all summer, but will be very busy for about the next week, till school is out for the students, he added.

For readers who may not have known, everything written in a student's permanent records is now available for inspection by his parents, and no information in these records may be given out to anyone else except with the consent of the parent.

LETTER SENT

During the last week of April, I sent a letter of inquiry to the Greenville Chamber of Commerce concerning apartment and residential housing, day care centers, elementary schools and cultural and recreational events in Greenville. I have not received a reply. Mrs. M.M.B.

Harold Creech, manager of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association said that, "We regret that we have not received your letter, but are pleased to send you by return mail general information on Greenville. The Chamber doesn't make specific recommendations on housing, apartments, realtors, etc. However, we recommend that inquiring parties contact the agency of their choice for further assistance."

Dad and Sons Should Go Stag Fishing

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Each year my husband and our teenage sons spend a week up north fishing. They love it. I hate it. I wish my husband and the boys would go without me, but when I mention it, my husband says, "No, we'll just skip it this year because Mom doesn't want to go." The boys are disappointed and Mom is the heavy.

Abby, before we had children, I went fishing with my husband so he would have companionship, and I plan to do it again when the children are gone. When the boys were small I went without complaint because I felt I was needed; small boys could at times be more problems than pleasure for a man on a week's fishing trip.

But the boys are not children now, and they couldn't care less whether I went along or not. The fishing week is the high spot of their year. And it's my absolute lowest.

Am I wrong to want to stay home? It would be a great vacation for me not having to cook, wash or iron. Help me, Abby, They believe in you.

ALL FISHED OUT

DEAR FISHED: IMPORE Dad to let you off the hook this time. You've earned your stay-at-home vacation. (P.S. To the men in your house: "DON'T NAG—GO STAG!")

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from a woman who couldn't bring herself to spend the inheritance money her mother had left her. The reason: When she (the daughter) was struggling with a young family to make ends meet, her mother (who could have well afforded it) gave her no help at all.

Years later, when the daughter no longer needed anything, her mother died and left her a small fortune.

Her letter prompts mine: My late husband used to say, "It is better to give with warm hands." (Meaning: "while one is alive.") He practiced that philosophy all his life and loved to give.

Now that he is gone, I am giving to my children and grandchildren "with warm hands," which gives them much pleasure. But to be perfectly honest, I am selfish, because when I give to them, my pleasure is far greater than theirs.

SELFISH GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: What this world needs is more of your brand of "selfishness." (P.S. Besides, it might be one way to reduce the inheritance tax.)

DEAR ABBY: I noticed a letter in your column from a minister who complained because after he had officiated at burial services for people who didn't even belong to his church, their families failed to pay him for his services.

I don't know how other folks handle it, but here in Tacoma, Wash., the funeral director just adds $25 to the cost of the funeral, and he pays the minister without bothering the family.

Not long ago, I received a letter from an elderly couple who was making funeral arrangements in advance. Enclosed was a check for $25 with the following note: "We want to be buried together. This should cover it."

Skateboarding Sees A Comeback And Sales Are Reported Soaring

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Look out! Skateboards are back.

A rebirth of this sidewalk version of surfing is leaving a trail of inverted adolescents from San Diego to Sacramento.

When skateboards were the youthful mania of the early 1960s, they were just what the name implied: a skate and a board on which an agile youngster could zip along and maneuver.

Today's skateboards are faster, sturdier — and more expensive. But manufacturers and retailers say sales are soaring.

"In the last 30 days there's been this thing about skateboards and it's getting stronger every minute," says Clara Segal of Broadway department stores, which are advertising them across the state.

"It's definitely a comeback," she says. "There's been a comeback in surfing, and this is a part of it. Skateboards are big things on junior high, high school and college campuses."

The new skateboards are made of fiberglass and come in various colors. They have specially designed truck mountings and wheels of urethane. Lengths range from 24 to 29 inches. The Broadway stores sell them at prices from $22.99 to $31.99.

Rick Walterhoefer, co-manager of a store in Woodland

Hills which sells skateboards for $12.95 to $43.95, says the urethane wheel is responsible for the resurgence of skateboards.

"It's a plastic wheel that grips much better than the hard wheels," he says. "You can do things that with the hard wheels the board would slide out from under you."

"You can actually go up and down a wall like riding a surfboard."

Learning to ride a skateboard often brings alarmingly frequent meetings with the asphalt and its potential to bruise and break has alarmed some parents and authorities.

The California Highway Patrol says skateboards have been clocked up to 35 miles an hour and it is cracking down on reckless skaters.

A number of youths have been issued citations for violating the right of way of vehicles when they careen into the streets.

"Skateboarding is an extremely dangerous practice, and we have had a number of injuries," says Capt. Tom Carroll.

Ed Gottschlich, owner of the Oak Street Surf Shop in Laguna Beach, calls the craze "a periodic phenomena — skateboards come and go."

But he adds, "We now have vastly superior skateboards and maybe it will survive this time. But 9 out of 10 people going into the business are going to lose their shirts."

Brezhnev Again Out Of Sight

By FRANK CREPEAU
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I.

Brezhnev has been absent from public view since May 9, and there are rumors that he is under medical treatment again.

Officials attending the North Atlantic Alliance meeting in Brussels last week said they had reports indicating the 68-year-old head of the Soviet Communist party intends to retire next year after the party's 25th congress.

The Kremlin, as usual, is saying nothing. But if Brezhnev doesn't reappear soon it will fuel speculation about both his physical and political health.

Brezhnev normally should give a "campaign" speech prior to the election June 15 of the Russian republic's parliament for which he is one of the unopposed candidates. The election is the usual prearranged Communist affair, but the party adheres to some of the trappings of democracy in an attempt to strengthen the myth that democracy is in operation.

Brezhnev's failure to make a campaign speech would be a major departure from tradition and evidence that something was seriously wrong.

Last year, when he was a candidate for the Supreme Soviet, the parliament of the Soviet Union, he made his speech on June 14, two days before the election.

In 1971, as a candidate for the Russian parliament, he gave a nationally televised campaign speech on June 11, again two days before election day.

Thus, June 13 is eagerly awaited by Brezhnev watchers.

Last month there were rumors that Brezhnev was undergoing medical treatment of an unspecified nature and would be out of sight for a period. But one well-placed Soviet source discounted these reports and said he was in good physical condition.

The party chief was last seen in public at a reception in the Kremlin on May 9. He appeared vigorous and conversed animatedly with foreign guests and members of the Politburo.

Brezhnev was reported to have had a severe bout of the flu last fall, dropped out of sight in late December, and did not reappear until Feb. 13, when British Prime Minister Harold Wilson visited Moscow. An official spokesman said then that he had been suffering from a "cold-type illness."

Furniture Industry Has 'Turned Corner'

By The Associated Press
Furniture manufacturing, North Carolina's second largest industry after textiles, also had had a rough time but has turned the corner.

"It has turned around but it's no bonanza by any means," says the executive vice president of Burlington House Furniture in Lexington, Alvin Philpott.

The pickup has so far been much sluggish than in textiles. And most manufacturers and industry analysts say it will be very late this year before furniture gets back in full swing.

The unemployment rate in the North Carolina furniture industry has dropped from 24 per cent in February to 17.5 per cent at present. But the effect has been almost entirely among the people who kept their jobs last winter and collected partial unemployment benefits while their work-weeks were less than 24 hours.

Work-weeks have lengthened somewhat in the last month as retailers have begun restocking after buying very little for months.

Improvement in furniture has been spotty. Upholstered furniture has rebounded faster than bedroom and dining room suites.

An economist for the North Carolina National Bank at Charlotte, Ken Flynt, says housing starts won't pick up for several months, although construction financing is now available. And furniture sales will lag several months behind housing starts, he says.

STOCKING UP

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newlyweds usually have every product needed for their first home by the time they return from their wedding trip.

They begin shopping three months before the wedding day and end three months after.

A Trendex study found that nearly 70 per cent of all first-marriage brides who acquire living room furniture do so during that six month period surrounding the wedding.

the prayer bench, which was trimmed with white satin bows.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the wedding party and guests.

The bridal table was covered with a white cut lace cloth accented with white satin bows. The table centerpiece featured a silver candelabrum decorated with mixed flowers and lighted candles.

After the traditional first slice of the three tier wedding cake was cut by the bridal couple, the cake was served by Mrs. Jimmy Mobley. Mrs. Kenneth Hines poured punch. Miss Lois Ann Mills greeted guests and presided at the guest register.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride changed into a three-piece pants outfit of green and white. She wore the orchid corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of D. H. Conley High School, attended East Carolina University and is employed with King's Department Store. The bridegroom is a graduate of J. H. Rose High School and is employed with J. C. Penney.

The couple will reside in Greenville.

An after-rehearsal dinner was given for the wedding party by Mrs. Elaine Riggs, mother of the bridegroom, at the Three Steers Restaurant.

The bride-to-be was presented with a white corsage. The couple presented their attendants with gifts.

Status Of Pending Legislation

RALEIGH (AP) — Here is the status of major measures before the North Carolina General Assembly:

Auto Insurance: A Senate vote is expected this week on a House-passed bill to ban the use of age and sex as factors in setting auto insurance rates. A Senate-passed no-fault insurance measure is before the House insurance committee.

Taxes: The House Finance Committee has killed a bill to repeal the sales tax on food and a similar measure is expected to be killed when the Senate Finance Committee votes. A bill that would levy state income taxes on a person's income from North Carolina corporate dividends above $15,000 has passed the Senate and is now before the House Finance Committee. The House Finance Committee has approved a bill that would reduce the inventory tax on manufacturers and merchants by 50 per cent over a five-year period. The Senate has deferred action indefinitely on a bill that would phase out the manufacturers inventory tax over a 10-year period.

Primaries: Both the Senate and House have passed bills that would shift the state's primary election for state and local candidates to late August. A bill passed by the House that would shift the presidential primary to 4th Tuesday in March has been approved by the Senate State Government Committee. It would require candidates entering the primary to pledge to wage an active campaign in the state.

Equal Rights: A bill calling for a statewide referendum on ERA has passed the House and is now before a Senate committee.

Utilities Committees: House and Senate committees are still considering two major utility bills. One would create a state Energy Council. The other would require utilities to charge higher rates for power used at "peak" periods.

Constitutional Amendments: The House last week killed an amendment to lengthen the term of governors to six years, but approved an amendment that would lengthen terms of legislators from two to four years. A constitutional amendment that would allow counties to issue tax exempt revenue bonds to build plants for new industry and for pollution abatement was approved by the House Finance Committee and sent to the House Floor.

Malpractice Insurance: The legislature has enacted a bill that would require all general liability insurance companies in North Carolina to sell malpractice insurance to doctors and other health workers.

Ethics: An ethics bill for legislators has passed the House and has gone back to the Senate for concurrence in House amendments which is expected to come this week. A bill that would extend the same provisions to the executive and judicial branches of government is still before a Senate committee.

Death Penalty: A bill to abolish the death penalty is still lingering in a Senate committee where it is expected to be killed ultimately. Appropriations: Bills to appropriate funds for state government operations for the next biennium and for capital improvements are still before Senate and House Appropriations and Base Budget committees. Environment: The Mountain bare management act is still pending in committees of both houses.

Bond Issues: Bills authorizing a statewide vote on up to $80 million to finance improvements at state universities are before the House Finance Committee.

Recover Bodies Of Two Hikers

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Rescuers have recovered the bodies of two young North Carolina men, killed when they apparently fell down Glassy Mountain in Greenville County.

Authorities said the men had apparently been climbing the mountain and fell 450-500 feet down the side of it.

They were identified as Lyn Prince, 19, of Landrum and Gary Joseph Hayes, 24, of Tryon.

Congress and the post-Vietnam environment is so different from 25 years ago that he will not speculate on possible Korean scenarios. Precisely therein is contained a seed of disaster as Mr. Ford tries to assert presidential supremacy in foreign policy over a Congress acting as though an imperial President were still enthroned in the Oval Office.

Freshman Bloc Is Not Herded

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Analysis of six key House votes suggests that the big group of Democratic freshmen generally agree with the majority of the party, but feel more strongly on some issues; disagree among themselves and listen to their constituents.

An analysis this early in the 94th Congress can only provide clues. Arguments continue to rage around the 75 new Democratic members, who were a major factor in revising House procedures and power balances early this year, impressing their elders with their organization and clout.

Now, some of these elders are complaining the freshmen are too opinionated, unlearned in the arts of compromise, lacking in the kind of followership the House leadership needs — and therefore partly responsible for the inability of the Democratic majority to push an energy bill through the House before the third recess of the session.

President Ford's tongue-lashing of Congress was not calculated to quiet the internal Democratic sparring.

In none of the six selected cases did the majority of Democratic freshmen vote differently from the majority of all House Democrats. There were, however, some significant differences in the margins.

The votes show the freshmen, many of whom came to political maturity during the period of Vietnam war protests, harder on the military than their party colleagues are generally.

The newcomers also appeared to be more ready to boost taxes on oil companies and to place environmental restrictions on strip mining of coal, despite arguments that these might aggravate energy shortages.

Only one-third of the freshmen voted consistently with the majority of their own classmates on all six roll calls, which means that two-thirds differed at least once from the majority sentiment of the group.

The record thus lends some support to the boast of Rep. Michael T. Blouin, an Iowa first-termer, that "we won't be herded, even by ourselves," and to the insistence of the class chairman, Carroll Hubbard Jr. of Kentucky, that "we never were one united bloc of voters."

Arrived In A Carriage

CHADDS FORD, Pa. (AP) — An exhibition of Andrew Wyeth's six paintings of Erickson's Daughter, five of which are the only nudes Wyeth has ever put on public display, are drawing large crowds that include some rather interesting people.

A spokesman for the Brandywine River Museum said Sunday that more than 4,500 persons have seen the exhibit since it opened with a party Friday night. And it was Sunday that the museum was treated to a visit by Douglas Fairbanks Jr. that caused quite a stir.

"You should have seen it," the spokesman said. "Fairbanks and Mr. Wyeth arrived at the museum in a horsedrawn carriage. It was quite a sight."

Fairbanks had never met Wyeth before Sunday but was a good friend of the artist's father, the late N.C. Wyeth, who painted scenes for some of Fairbanks' more famous movies, among them "Treasure Island."

Following the tour, Fairbanks and his host got back into the carriage, drawn by four stately horses, and departed in a style movie fans would expect from the swashbuckling Fairbanks.

Cambodia Behind A Curtain Of Silence

By RICHARD BLYSTONE
Associated Press Writer
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A curtain of silence has closed around Cambodia since the Khmer Rouge took Phnom Penh April 17. The few reports that have emerged indicate a long period of isolation lies ahead for the country as the new leaders organize and try to forge a revolutionary society. Exactly who is in charge in Phnom Penh is still a mystery. Western analysts before the fall could never say positively which of three major factions and a number of regional and ideological offshoots that made up the Communist-led Khmer Rouge would prove dominant. Reports since then have done little to clarify the situation. Deputy Premier Khieu Samphan, a Paris-educated economist, was widely believed to have been the strongman of the revolution. A few radio broadcasts recently have mentioned his name together with his other titles of defense minister and armed forces chief.

But unconfirmed reports from some refugees have said that Samphan has been under house arrest and has become another figurehead such as aging Premier Penn Nouth and titular chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk, now in Peking. Sihanouk, whose order from power by his own rubber-stamp legislature five years ago touched off the Cambodian civil war, has remained in his exile home true to his promises that he planned to spend little time in his native land. The few items of news and commentary broadcast by Phnom Penh radio are usually anonymous but sometimes are attributed to Information Minister Hou Nim. The new Cambodian foreign policy is described as one of strict neutrality and nonalignment, respecting all other political systems. There have been repeated mentions that no foreign military bases will be permitted on Cambodian soil. Many observers here take this to be aimed at the Vietnamese Communists who supported the Khmer

Rouge with troops, supplies and arms. Judging from Phnom Penh broadcasts, the new regime's philosophy is one of bootstrap self-reliance and a puritanical rejection of Western ways. Western dress, music and literature are denounced as corrupt and immoral and part of the plan of the previous American-supported regime to enslave Cambodia. Broadcasts have extolled the virtues of short hair and plain dress and harped on themes of purification and cleanliness both in physical matters like cleaning debris from city streets and spiritual ones like expunging American manners and mores. According to Phnom Penh radio, soldiers and ordinary citizens are working day and night to repair roads, bridges, rail lines and public facilities destroyed or damaged in the five year war. However, the relative scarcity of news dispatches and the paucity of factual content suggest that the new leadership has severe communications organizational problems and that Cambodia faces a difficult time before reconstruction matches the pace in Vietnam.

Hearing Aid Loan Bank Being Set Up In County

A Hearing Aid Loan Bank is being established for Pitt County residents with hearing problems.

The bank will provide medical examinations, hearing tests and the fitting of hearing aids that have been collected from the Pitt County area. These hearing aids will be distributed to Pitt County residents who are not eligible for these services through any other agencies and are unable to purchase a hearing aid privately.

A public awareness program is being conducted to solicit hearing aids which are no longer in use. All referrals of people with hearing problems who are unable to purchase a hearing aid should be made through the Pitt County Department of Social Services, 758-2167.

It is believed there are many hearing aids in Pitt County that are no longer being used, such as where a person has died and leaves a hearing aid that is of no use to his family. Some persons may have purchased several hearing aids, but are only using the one most recently purchased. Anyone who knows of a hearing aid not presently in use is asked to contact the Pitt County Department of Social Services or carry it to the Department of Social Services office on Johnston Street.

Donations will be recorded and a receipt will be issued. The value of the hearing aid will be tax deductible as it is being donated to a non-profit organization.

There will be a small fee for the loan of a hearing aid, to cover part of the cost of medical examinations, hearing tests, earmold, and batteries. The hearing aid will be loaned to each eligible applicant for as long as he or she will have need of it.

Teenager Tops In Pinballing

MOUNT PROSPECT, Ill. (AP) — A Mount Prospect teenager, 16-year-old Tom Leicht, was named "pinball wizard" of 1975 at the first "U.S. Open Pinball Championship." He won a trophy and $575.

Steven P. Kirk, Pinball Association of America president, commented, "I suppose it sounds fishy for a local boy to win the first national tournament, but Leicht was just the best around. He simply outclassed all the others."

Second place went to Ken Share, 19, of Skokie, Ill., who played a final match with Leicht here Sunday that "literally went down to the last ball," Kirk said.

Plantation Up For Sale

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Woodstock plantation, an antebellum estate on the northeast side of the Waccamaw river about 18 miles southwest of Myrtle Beach, is up for sale.

One of the last plantations remaining in South Carolina, the 584-acre estate will be sold to a suitable bidder, says Jack H. Page, attorney for the estate of Cordie Page.

A history of the plantation under the name Woodstock can't be located in Horry County libraries, but Jack Page says the plantation was at one time owned by former South Carolina Gov. George Alston. Alston was married to Theodosia Burr, a daughter of Aaron Burr.

"As far as records are concerned, I can't substantiate it. Records in Georgetown County were destroyed by (Gen. William T.) Sherman," Page said. In an advertisement that has been published in several newspapers, the plantation is described as an historic antebellum plantation in the heart of the Grand Strand area.

It is described as having a natural small boat harbor with ample space for a hotel, boathouse, private homes, condominiums, yacht basin, golf course and nature trails. The advertisement also says it has a duck pond, creek and rice fields with excellent hunting and fishing.

Ownership of the estate was in limbo until recently, when the South Carolina Supreme Court ruled in favor of the heirs of Cordie Page in a suit brought by M.N. Carroll.

Valley Full Of Illegal Aliens

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — James F. Greene, deputy commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service claims there are as many as 50,000 illegal aliens in the San Joaquin Valley.

Greene estimated that more than one-third of the seasonal workers are illegal aliens, most of whom paid $200 to $300 to be smuggled north from Mexico. He said while some are paid prevailing wages, "many are also working at below the standard rate."

"Either way, they are displacing an American worker or a legal resident alien."

Hope To Parley Over Hostages

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — U.S. officials are reported hoping for quick approval of an American professor's plan to go into the jungles of eastern Zaire to negotiate with Marxist guerrillas holding two Stanford University students and a young Dutch woman. Diplomatic sources said Peter Steiner, University of Michigan economics professor, has volunteered to negotiate with the guerrillas on behalf of Stanford and the hostages' parents. The sources said Steiner hopes to enter Zaire from neighboring Burundi. They said the Burundi government has issued Steiner a re-entry visit necessary for him to use Burundi as a base of operations, but he still needs approval from President Mobutu Sese Seko of Zaire, the former Belgian Congo. Mobutu has been reluctant to

Reminds Harsh 'Realities'

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP) — Americans should not allow disappointment in the United Nations to drive them into isolation, says U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim. Waldheim told graduates of Hamilton College on Sunday that American disillusionment with the United Nations is based on excessive expectations of the world organization and on "a desire to draw away from the harsh realities of our changing world." "The fact is that no nation, however large and powerful, can exist in isolation economically, politically or even militarily — interdependence is a dominant reality now," said Waldheim.

Weicker Agrees 'Nothing Done'

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Lowell Weicker says he agrees with President Ford: Congress has done nothing about the energy crisis. In a television interview Sunday, the Connecticut Republican said Congress was made up of men and women who take vacations "come hell or high water." "The energy crisis is a classic example," said Weicker. "It dates back to the oil embargo of 1973 and Congress has done nothing." "I agree with President Ford. He has criticized the policy of doing nothing and he has every right."

Country Doctor 'Retires' Early

LYNCHBURG, Tenn. (AP) — Dr. F. Harlan Booher has hung a hand-lettered sign with the single word "retired" on the door of his office here. "The malpractice thing was what broke the camel's back," he said. "They wanted to raise my insurance premium about 200 per cent, and I have never had a malpractice suit."

Like many other country doctors, Booher said increasing red tape and paperwork also were responsible for his decision to retire "early" at 70. The decision leaves Lynchburg, where the biggest industry is Jack Daniels' bourbon distillery, without a doctor. And Booher says many of the town's 361 residents have "fallen out" with him because he won't go out and try to recruit another one.

Rites Today For Johnsey

RALEIGH (AP) — A memorial service will be held at St. Giles Presbyterian Church this afternoon for Arthur B. Johnsey, retired capital correspondent for the Greensboro Daily News who died Saturday at Rex Hospital.

Johnsey, 67, was dean of North Carolina's capital correspondents when he retired from the Daily News in 1972 after two decades of service.

For a little over a year after his retirement, Johnsey served as executive director of the North Carolina Democratic Party. He resigned the post in 1973.

Johnsey was a highly regarded member of the capital press corps. He was recognized for his knowledge and understanding of state government, for his insight into North Carolina political activities and for his objective reporting of the capital scene.

He joined the Daily News in 1945 and covered the Raleigh beat during the administrations of Govs. Kerr Scott, William B. Umstead, Luther H. Hodges, Dan Moore and Robert W. Scott. He missed most of the term of Gov. Terry Sanford when he moved to the Miami, Fla., Herald in 1958, when he returned to Raleigh and the Daily News in 1962.

"I wouldn't recommend a man to come here because he's just going to get the crumbs, and you can't live unless you get a little meat."

Booher, who came here with his wife in 1938, said that in the past he could handle almost any kind of ailment in his office and deliver most babies without taking the mother to a hospital.

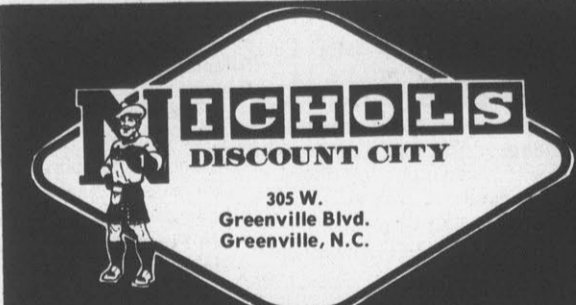

"But now," he says, "all obstetrics cases, heart cases and fractures have to be taken to a hospital or you run the risk of being sued for malpractice." When a patient used to get hurt or there was an emergency, I'd get up and work several hours and my wife and I would lose a night's sleep.

"Now, when a patient gets hurt, they slap him in an ambulance and in 15 minutes he's in the hospital where he has four or five nurses and everything he needs — and no one loses a night's sleep."

He noted that improved transportation has made it possible for Lynchburg residents to get to hospitals in Fayetteville, Tullahoma and Winchester in 15 to 30 minutes. "I think people are better off now than ever before, but people in the country won't accept it."

Ryan Hurls 4th No-Hitter

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer
The crowd of 18,492 was screaming with every pitch Nolan Ryan threw. Ruth Ryan watched her husband from the stands, tensing with each delivery. Even his California Angels teammates felt the pressure. But not Ryan. While everyone around him was swept up in the excitement, the flamethrowing right-hander was cool as ice as he etched his niche in baseball's record books with the fourth no-hitter of his career. "It's just something that happens," said Ryan, whose 1-0 masterpiece against the Baltimore Orioles Sunday put him alongside Sandy Koufax as the only pitchers in major league history with four no-hitters. "I never give it a lot of thought — really I don't."

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit split with Chicago, winning 5-1 and losing 3-2; Kansas City swept Milwaukee 13-6 and 11-5; Boston outscored Minnesota 11-9; Oakland beat Cleveland 6-3, and New York defeated Texas, 8-4. Maybe Ryan wasn't thinking no-hitter, but everyone around him was. The fans at Anaheim Stadium, who began buzzing in the middle innings, started to roar in the eighth. Ryan's teammates on the youthful Angels felt the excitement. The 28-year-old Ryan, whose no-hitter was the first of the 1975 season, pitched the major leagues' last no-hitter as well, stopping Minnesota 4-0 last Sept. 28. His others were in 1973, a 3-0 victory over Kansas City May 15 and a 6-0 triumph over Detroit July 15, 1973. The Angels got Ryan the only run he needed in the third inning on two-out singles by Mickey Rivers, Tommy Harper and Dave Chalk.

A's 6, Indians 3
Claudell Washington's two-run homer off Gaylord Perry carried Oakland past Cleveland.

Red Sox 11, Twins 9
Home runs by Carl Yastrzemski, Fred Lynn, Doug Griffin and Jim Rice helped Boston outscore Minnesota.

Irwin Rides Lead To Win At Atlanta

By ED SHERER
AP Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — "All he had to do was coast around," said Charles Coody. "Nobody took a run at him."

Hale Irwin, the 1974 U.S. Open champion, accomplished his goal Sunday and coasted to an easy four-shot victory in the $225,000 Atlanta Golf Classic. "I went out with the distinct impression I had to shoot a 69 today," said Irwin. "That would make someone have to shoot a 65 to beat me."

The former University of Colorado golfer and football star did even better — a four-under-par 68 — and no one even approached a 65. Asked why no one made a run at him, Irwin, who will be 30 Tuesday, replied, "It's Sunday. It's choking day."

Coody, winless since capturing the Masters in 1971, was the only player to get within two shots of the lead. That came on the first hole, which he parred and Irwin bogeyed. But Coody's hopes of a run faded when he missed short birdie putts on the seventh and eighth greens and then took a bogey on the ninth. He had to settle for third place money at 276 after a closing 70, while young Tom Watson finished second at 68-275.

Irwin's 17-under-par 271 over the hills and valleys of the 6,883-yard Atlanta County Club course was the lowest in nine tour events on this picturesque, piney layout, bettering by one shot the previous record set two years ago by Jack Nicklaus.

Irwin hit two of the 25,000 spectators during the round — a man with his tee shot on the third hole and a woman watching from the edge of the fairway on 11.

The victory, Irwin's fourth in an eight-year career but his first since last year's Open, was worth $45,000. There was a three-way tie for fourth place.

Williamston Gains Finals With 7-1 Saturday Victory

WILLIAMSTON—Williamston High School's Tigers vaulted into the State 3-A finals Saturday night, defeating Richlands, 7-1. The Tigers will play host to the Western 3-A champion in a best-of-three series later this week for the state championship.

The rest of the evening, Tiger hurler Roy Lilley allowed only one more hit.

Williamston was held scoreless until the fifth inning, but they exploded in that frame for four runs, more than enough to win. Lilley started it off with a walk and George Brown also drew one. Tim Hardison doubled, driving in Lilley. Butch Davis followed with a triple, scoring both Brown and Hardison. Greg Robinson sacrificed in Davis, giving the Tigers a 4-1 lead.

Three more Tigers came over in the sixth inning. Herbie Rogers singled and took second on an error. A wild pitch put him on third and Lilley walked, then stole second. An error allowed Rogers to score. Brown walked and Davis doubled, driving in Lilley and Brown.

Sandy Koufax Agrees—Ryan 'Has Just Begun'

Lady Coach Is A Winner

DETROIT (AP) — Mary Mabry made a lot of male coaches unhappy this weekend when she proved beyond a doubt that a woman can coach a boys' track team as well as a man. Mrs. Mabry, in her first year as head coach of the boys' track team at Inkster High, guided the squad to the state Class B high school championship at Michigan State University.

She was the only woman coach at the meet and, after it was over Saturday, only a few of the men congratulated her, she said.

"They don't want a woman to win — that's obvious," said the 33-year-old mother of five. "A lot of male coaches feel that this is not a job for a woman. They especially feel that an all-boy team should be coached by men."

Mrs. Mabry had to battle to get her job. She was turned down three times for the position because she was a woman. She was given the job this year, according to school authorities, because she was the only applicant.

"The athletic director just wasn't ready for a woman coach," she said. "Now he says I'm one of the best coaches at Inkster High."

"My boys feel that I did a wonderful job keeping the team together," she said. "They said this was the first year in the four they've been on the team that they've put out so much effort. They say it was because I was out there pushing them all the time."

Ryan had a 21-16 record in 1973 and pitched two no-hitters — against Kansas City and Detroit, both on the road. Last year he was 22-16 with 367 strikeouts and pitched one more no-hitter, Sept. 28 here against Minnesota on the final night of the season.

Angels' Manager Dick Williams has said he looks for a no-hitter every time Ryan takes the mound.

Ryan doesn't. "A no-hitter isn't on my mind as it is with some of the fellows on this club," Ryan said after popping a bubble blown with the wad of gum he was chewing. "Really, I don't think about it. You do that and you're only thinking about yourself. I think I can win enough games without throwing no-hitters all the time."

He ended the game in classic fashion, perhaps proving how much he's changed from thrower to pitcher. Ryan completed his historic no-hitter by tossing a tantalizing changeup to baffle Bobby Grich, who never moved the bat as the third strike sailed past him.

Game Reset

Rose High's semi-final game with Scotland High School has been rescheduled for tonight at 8:00 in Laurenburg.

The Rampants were rained out twice and if the game is rained out tonight, it will be played Tuesday at 4 p.m.

In reverse molding, the contour of the tread surface is slightly concave as it comes from the mold — so that when the tire is inflated, the tread makes full, flat contact with the road. And the rib-type tread design is well grooved, with plenty of traction edges to provide decisive grip. # Homers Lead Expos, Braves Wins

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

It isn't often that Bobby Murcer and Dusty Baker hit two home runs in a game. The Montreal Expos and Pittsburgh Pirates could have waited one more game for them to do it.

Murcer belted a pair of two-run homers at windy Jarry Park to help the San Francisco Giants pound the Expos 13-5 Sunday while Baker hit a pair of solo shots to lead the Atlanta Braves past the Pirates 5-2.

"That was the first time I hit two home runs this year," said Murcer who has seven on the year. "They don't come too often."

Baker, who has never hit more than 21 in a season but has 10 already this year, insisted: "Really, I don't start hitting home runs until after the All-Star break. This is the third time I've hit two consecutive homers in the majors. I know my stroke is all right when I hit line drives like that."

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia edged Houston 5-4, San Diego blanked New York 4-0, Chicago whipped Los Angeles 7-2 and Cincinnati downed St. Louis 5-1.

The Giants struck for 10 runs over the final three innings. By that time, though, Expos' starter Dave McNally was showered and dressed. He worked five innings and gave up three runs.

Willie Montanez also homered for the Giants while Larry Parrish, Gary Carter, Pete Mackanin and Mike Jorgensen connected for Montreal.

Baker's home runs helped Atlanta knuckleballer Phil Niekro raise his record to 5-4 with a 10-hitter. Niekro, Darrell Evans and Ralph Garr all contributed run-scoring singles.

Phillies 5, Astros 4
Philadelphia built a 5-0 lead after five innings, then held on behind Larry Christanson's 3-1-3 innings of scoreless relief. Greg Luzinski and Mike Anderson each doubled home a run and Jay Johnstone homered for the Phils. Tommy Helms had a two-run single for Houston.

Padres 4, Mets 0
San Diego got two runs in the first inning on a pair of walks, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and an error, and the Mets never recovered.

Alan Foster, 3-1, and Danny Frisella combined on a seven-hitter. Mike Ivie singled in one insurance run in the eighth and Dave Winfield doubled home another in the ninth.

Cubs 7, Dodgers 2
Manny Trillo hit a two-run single, Andy Thornton homered and Steve Swisher drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly as Chicago regained first place in the East Division. Bill Bonham, 5-4, got the win and former Cub Burt Hooton, 3-5, took the loss.

Reds 5, Cards 1
Joe Morgan clubbed a three-run homer and Johnny Bench added a two-run double to power Cincinnati to its ninth victory in the last 10 games. Jack Billingham, 5-3, stopped St. Louis on five hits. The victory pulled the Reds within a half-game of first-place Los Angeles in the West.

Braves Aroused Inside And Outside Clubhouse

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Atlanta Braves were aroused, both by a beanball feud and a heated clubhouse argument amongst themselves.

They responded by defeating the Pittsburgh 5-2 Sunday to halt the Pirates' six-game winning streak and end Pittsburgh's one-day hold on first place in the National League East.

The night before, the Pirates downed Atlanta 11-4 behind the pitching of Bruce Kison, who drew the Braves' ire when he fired a pitch that narrowly missed the head of Atlanta's Bill Poceroba.

Atlanta's Ray Sadecki retaliated Saturday night by hitting Pittsburgh's Dave Parker on the leg with a pitch.

However, Braves' Manager Clyde King said his team was still fired up by gametime Sunday.

"They remembered. They hadn't forgotten. They were out to get this game," King said Sunday after knuckleballer Phil Niekro beat Pittsburgh.

However, Atlanta outfielder Dusty Baker, who hit a pair of homers Sunday, said the Braves were more stirred up by a pregame incident in their clubhouse.

Three or four players were involved, but Baker wouldn't name them.

"It was a personal thing," he said. "The same kind of thing you have with your wife. It doesn't mean you hate her."

"Sometimes, it takes another person to bring you down to earth," noted Baker, who has 10 homers this season.

"Sometimes, we're too passive," he added. "The Oakland players are fighting all the time, and they're collecting $15,000 every October."

Some Braves shrugged off the incident, including Niekro, 5-4, who allowed 10 hits in pitching his third straight complete game.

The Braves led 2-0 into the seventh inning on Baker's solo homers in the second and fourth innings off loser Jim Rooker.

With two outs in the Atlanta seventh, Niekro hit a pop foul along the third base line that appeared catchable, but as he reached into the stands third baseman Art Howe hit his glove tipped by a young fan.

The fan made the catch with his own glove, which gave him a souvenir and Niekro another chance.

"I was ready to make my catch when my glove hit the kid's arm," Howe lamented.

"You might expect such a thing on the road, but not at home. There were three kids, all trying for the ball," he added.

Niekro took advantage of the reprieve by driving in a run with a single to left.

"It seems like when you get a break like that, you get a hit," said Niekro.

Niekro then took second on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Ralph Garr to give Atlanta a 4-0 lead.

The Pirates scored in their half of the seventh on Bill Robinson's homer, but the Braves added another run in the eighth on an RBI-single by Darrell Evans.

Pittsburgh trimmed the margin to 5-2 in the ninth before pinch-hitter Bob Robertson grounded out with runners at first and third to end the game.

A-G Takes Victory

LITTLEFIELD—Ayden-Grifton took a 9-6 Senior Babe Ruth victory over Taff Office Saturday night behind the six-hit pitching of Chris Riggs.

Charlotte Hosting Two Events: Kemper, Qualifying Round

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Besides the $250,000 Kemper Open golf tournament, the largest of 13 sectional qualifying tournaments for the U.S. Open will be held in Charlotte this week.

The Charlotte field of 121 for the sectional is so big, swelled by the Kemper, that two courses will be used for Tuesday's 36-hole event. Players will start from the first and the 10th tees of the Charlotte Country Club and the Myers Park Country Club courses.

It is one of 13 sectionals across the country through June 10th. The Open will be played June 19-22 at Medinah, Ill.

Trying to qualify at Charlotte will be five former Open champions. They are double winner Billy Casper and Julius Boros, plus Gene Littler, Ken Venturi and Ed Furgol.

Former PGA champions Sam Snead and Lionel Herbert also are in the field.

So are Lanny Wadkins, Leonard Thompson, Bruce Devlin, Peter Oosterhuis, Charles Coody, Bob Charles, Ben Crenshaw, Lee Elder, John Schlee, Gibby Gilbert, Jerry McGee, Rod Funseth, Jim Jamieson and Jim Dent.

Bob Wynne and Roy Pace have been given sponsor's exemptions for the Kemper Open, which will be played Thursday through Sunday at the Quail Hollow Country Club course. They did not have to join the 138 pros and four amateurs seeking to qualify today in an 18-hole test at the Carmel Country Club.

Wynne and Pace were rewarded for playing here regularly in the past. They replace Larry Hinson and Oosterhuis, who made the 36-hole cut Friday in the Atlantic Open and therefore did not need an exemption.

About 33 qualifying spots for the Kemper will be available today, depending on late pull-outs of exempt players from the tournament.

The Kemper field includes 84 of last year's top 100 money winners on the tour.

Players failing to qualify for the Kemper are eligible to play Tuesday in a $15,000 Mini-Kemper at the Carmel Country Club. The winner will get $3,000.

There will be a Kemper pro-amateur tournament Wednesday at Quail Hollow.

Aerial Drug Smuggling Flight Known To Agents

By WILLIAM MORRISSEY
Associated Press Writer
ROCKWOOD, Tenn. (AP)—Last Thursday's crash of a cargo plane carrying a ton of marijuana has intensified what Drug Enforcement Administration officials call a continuing investigation of drug smuggling.

Ironically, drug smuggling by two men killed in the crash of the Lockheed Lodestar apparently was doomed whatever occurred. Federal agents knew who they were and what plane they were flying. In addition, Calhoun County, Ala., Sheriff Ray Sneed said drug agents were tipped an informer was aboard and staked out two airports near Anniston, Ala.

A spokesman for DEA in Miami said federal authorities expect arrests and prosecutions, but refuse to name the areas of the country to which the investigation is carrying them.

The FAA said drug smugglers using airplanes from south to north have become increasingly visible. Three airplanes carrying illicit drugs crashed in Florida in recent months. Last September a DC3, carrying an estimated two tons of marijuana, landed at Chattanooga, about 70 miles due south of Rockwood, and was seized by police. Police said then that plane intended to land at Rockwood.

Federal officials knew the two Gainesville pilots killed in last week's crash were aboard the aircraft, but one U.S. Customs Bureau spokesman said officers had no previous record on them, Charles McAnally and Jennings C. Brown Jr.

McAnally was a Florida Airlines pilot on a three-month leave of absence. Brown was a former developer in Raleigh, N.C., who moved to Gainesville after what a Raleigh developer called financial setbacks.

Both men left families.

Farm Tips

By Dr. J. W. Pou
Agricultural Specialist
Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., N.A.

More extensive use of herbicides to control grass and weeds in Tar Heel Tobacco in 1975 could sharply reduce labor requirements and save up to a half million gallons of tractor fuel, a North Carolina State University crop specialist estimates.

"Only about half of our tobacco crop is now being treated with herbicides," said Dr. Bill Collins, N. C. State University extension tobacco specialist. "If the remainder of the acreage were treated this year and the number of cultivations limited to the needed two, it's my guess that we could save around 500,000 gallons of fuel and a lot of manhours and wear of equipment."

The specialist pointed out that many growers are still operating with the idea that four to six cultivations are required for tobacco. "In years past, we felt we had to plow the tobacco constantly from the time of transplanting until the tobacco got so big we couldn't plow it," Collins said.

"Those days are over, and the grower who isn't facing up to that fact is hurting himself. He's not realizing the kind of return from his crop that he should be."

Collins said that only two cultivations are usually necessary where a herbicide is used — one at the time the sidedressing fertilizer is added and a second one at layby.

Three materials are approved for use on tobacco. They are Paarlant, Tillam and Enide. Paarlant and Tillam are applied and incorporated with a disk before planting, Enide is usually used after planting but it could be used prior to planting.

Collins said those farmers who are realizing the most savings in fuel and labor are those who have set up their equipment to spray the preplant herbicide and disk it into the soil in one operation.

He suggested that the best results have been recorded where the herbicide is cut into the soil four to six inches deep in a double disking pattern in which the disk is run across the field one time and up and down the field another time.

Collins cautioned that herbicides should not be applied while the soil is too moist. The chemicals can't be incorporated properly under this condition.

Collins said farmers who have never used tobacco herbicides need have no reservations about their effectiveness in controlling grasses and weeds. When used properly, control is very good, he said.

In addition, growers who use herbicides can expect a yield increase in their crop. Increases of 75 to 100 pounds of cured leaf per acre have been recorded when herbicides were used.

"This is one of the best ways I know for a grower to increase his net return from an acre of tobacco," Collins said.

Two Collisions In City Over Weekend

An estimated $2,600 property damage resulted from two collisions investigated by Greenville police Saturday night.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from an 11:35 p.m. collision on 14th Street 20 feet East of the Farmville Boulevard intersection involving vehicles driven by Samuel House Register of Route 8, Greenville and Linda Denise Mills of Route 1, Winterville.

Investigators said damage to the hearse driven by Register was set at $1,000, while damage to the Mills car was placed at $600.

Register was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

Pearlie Cannon Strickland of Route 8, Greenville and three passengers in her car were reported injured in a 7:25 p.m. collision on Memorial Drive, 200 feet North of the Trade Street intersection.

Officers said the Strickland vehicle collided with a car operated by John Willie Spruill of Route 1, Plymouth, causing an estimated $600 damage to the Strickland vehicle and $400 damage to the Spruill car.

Spruill was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

By EDWIN L. YANCEY
County Extension Chairman
Blossom End
Rot of Tomatoes

Blossom End rot of tomatoes is a common problem in Pitt County. This disease can be recognized by the dark, firm sunken area at the blossom end of the tomato. It usually appears about the time the fruit begins to ripen. At that time, however, it's too late to control it. Correct soil pH and uniform moisture is the best preventive. But its too late to correct soil pH for 1975.

If Blossom End rot was a problem in 1974, you should mulch the tomato plants to preserve moisture and prevent drying of the soil around the plant. Two to four sprays of calcium chloride (2 to 3 tsp. gal. of water) applied every 7 to 10 days beginning when the second bloom clusters form, may help prevent the disease.

Early Blight of Tomatoes

Perhaps the most common disease of tomatoes is early blight. The first symptoms usually appear on the older leaves and consist of small, irregular, brown, dead spots. The spots enlarge until they are 1/4 to 1/2 inch in diameter; as they enlarge, they may show ridged concentric rings in a target pattern.

Early blight can be controlled with weekly applications of Maneb (Manzate D, Manzate 200, Dithane M-22 Special or Dithane M-45) or Bravo. The Maneb products have a 5-day waiting period between application and harvest. Follow label directions for application.

Agricultural Tour

Just a reminder that the annual Agricultural Tour of the Coastal Plain Development Association is scheduled for June 18. Plan now to go on this interesting day-long trip.

Movie Western Seeing Revival

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Is the movie western ready to stage a comeback? Signs on the horizon indicate that it is. The horse opera has been undergoing one of its periodic slumps in recent times. Even the redoubtable John Wayne has had to don modern clothes ("Brannigan") to find film vehicles. But the western manages to stage a revival every five years, and a new cycle may be starting. Richard Brooks has fashioned a crackerjack tale of a cross-country horse race in "Bite the Bullet."

Early reports on "Rooster Cogburn" indicate it is hot enough to warrant a John Wayne-Katharine Hepburn rematch. Director Tom Gries is taking Charles Bronson out west again in a railroad film, "Breakheart Pass."

"Yes, I think the pendulum is swinging back to the western," agrees Kirk Douglas, who has done his bit by producing, directing and co-starring in "Posse" for Paramount.

"The picture business got away from westerns, partly because there were so many of them on television.

"But now that 'Gunsmoke' has been canceled, there won't be any westerns on TV. So this might be the time to bring them back to the theaters."

"Westerns have been good to me. I've done a wide range, from the exploring period of the West in 'The Big Sky' for Howard Hawks, through the desperado era with 'Gunfight at OK Corral,' right up to the modern West in 'Lonely Are The Brave.' In that one I hired Carroll O'Connor for his first movie job — he played a truck driver."

Douglas found "Posse" on the shelf at Paramount. An original story by Christopher Knopf, it concerned a rich Texan who carried his own posse by private train, hunting down outlaws to establish himself as a law-and-order candidate for the United States Senate.

To Douglas the allusion to modern-day politics was intriguing. He worked with Knopf and William Roberts on the script, which Paramount agreed to sponsor. Douglas cast himself as posse leader.

BETTER WATER IS UNDERFOOT
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Americans tread over more water every day than they use. Government studies compiled by irrigation specialists at the L.B. Foster Co., a major supplier of steel pipe products, indicate more than 90 per cent of U.S. fresh water sources are under the ground. Nearly 75 per cent of U.S. ground is literally afloat over 47.5 billion acre feet of water, enough to last 7,000 years at current use rates, the studies say.

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. West's four no trump bid was a three-suit takeout, not just for minors. The opponents cannot be in their best contract because the entire heart suit is unaccounted for. If you double, someone is sure to run, which could convert a small profit into a substantial loss.

A.—Bid three hearts. Your hand is worth 21 points and calls for strong action. Since partner could be broke, however, you are not strong enough to insist on game. A jump in a new suit is not forcing after the double, but it shows a very good hand and partner will strain to keep the bidding alive with a smattering of points.

A.—Cue-bid three spades. This is the only forcing-to-game bid you have available—any suit bid would be merely competitive. The cue-bid has the same effect as the Stayman Convention—it asks partner to bid a four-card major. If partner does not have four hearts, he is free to introduce a minor suit or return to three no trump.

A.—Pass. Even if partner has 15 HCP, you cannot have good play for game. So drop the auction at as low a level as possible. You might even lure the opponents into balancing, which should result in a very lucrative penalty.

A.—Bid three hearts. Despite the fact that you could hold a yarrowburgh, partner has elected to challenge the opposition with a takeout double. You could hardly have a stronger hand and still have passed at your first turn, so don't be afraid that partner will mis-read your jump.

A.—Four spades. You have at least eight playing tricks in your own hand, and it's reasonable to expect partner will contribute the other two. Any lesser bid would win no commendations for bravery from this department, especially since three spades would not be forcing—merely invitational.

A.—Pass. This hand is going nowhere opposite a partner who could not respond. Even a rebid of two diamonds exposes you to a penalty double, or you might spur the opponents on to game, when one of them is able to draw an inference from the auction that the other is short in diamonds.

Ex-Diplomat Dies In N.C.

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C. (AP) — George Achatus deGripenberg, who served for many years in the diplomatic service of Finland, died at his Southern Pines home Saturday after a lengthy illness. He was 85.

DeGripenberg was born in Saint Petersburg, Russia, now Leningrad, where his father served with a Finnish mission to the Czar.

In 1958, the diplomat and his American-born wife, settled in Southern Pines to be near their daughter, after his retirement as Finland's first permanent representative to the United Nations.

DeGripenberg entered Finland's diplomatic service in 1918. From 1921 to 1933, he represented Finland in Brussels, The Hague, Madrid, Lisbon, Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro.

In 1933, he became his country's representative at the Court of St. James in Great Britain and served in London until 1942. The following year, he was sent to Rome as Finland's first envoy to the Vatican.

From that post, he went to Stockholm as ambassador to Sweden, where he served until 1956, when he became Finland's first permanent representative to the U.N.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, stimulated by signs of falling interest rates and an improving economy, surged ahead again in heavy trading today.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up 17.29 points on Friday, had jumped another 11.42 to 843.71 by 11:30 a.m. today.

Gainers overpowered losers by more than a 5-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts noted enthusiasm over a continued softening in short term interest rates, accompanied by published speculation that the trend would lead to further cuts in the bank prime lending rate soon.

The government, meanwhile reported this morning that orders from manufacturers posted their biggest increase in more than 20 years last month, with factory inventories continuing to decline.

Brokers also noted some favorable psychological reaction to word that Israel was withdrawing its artillery and some tanks and troops from Suez Canal as a peace gesture to Egypt.

The market is often sensitive to Middle East developments, in large part because of their potential effects on supplies of Arab oil to the West.

Gulf Oil was the most active issue on the Big Board, up 1/4 at 20 1/2.

Gold stocks declined sharply in the wake of Friday's announcement that the Treasury would auction another 500,000 ounces of gold at the end of this month.

ASA, Ltd., was down 2 1/2 to 36 1/2; Dome Mines fell 2 1/2 to 48 1/2, and Homestake Mining gave up 1 1/2 to 49 1/2.

The NYSE's composite index rose .60 to 49.06 in the first hour.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained .59 to 89.33.
