Unemployment Rate Cut To Below 9 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that the nation's unemployment rate dropped to 8.6 per cent in June, but officials said that because of a statistical quirk it was too early to say whether the sharp decline signaled real improvement in the grim jobless picture.

The rate was 9.2 per cent in May.

The Labor Department also reported that wholesale prices in June decreased by one-tenth of one per cent, largely because of a decline in prices of food and farm products.

Virtually all the decline in the June jobless rate was attributed to a statistical quirk that showed more young people looking for work in June than really sought jobs.

Julius Shiskin, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the nation wouldn't know whether there was a real improvement of unemployment "until we see the July figures."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, has said that because of the statistical quirk a decline from 9.2 per cent in May to 8.6 per cent in June would mean an unchanged situation.

But the June unemployment figures appeared to show some improvement in the jobless rate for heads of households, which was down to 6.1 per cent from May's total of 6.3 per cent.

Unemployment for married men was 5.7 per cent in June, down from 5.8 per cent in May. The jobless rate for both household heads and married men had doubled over the past year, the Labor Department said.

The decline in wholesale prices, after adjustment for seasonal factors, reverted to the trend established with a four-month decline from December through March. Wholesale prices had registered a two-month increase after that, with May's rise amounting to four-tenths of one per cent. The June drop came despite increases in the price of fuel.

Total employment in the economy in June was listed at 84.4 million, unchanged from May, while seasonally adjusted unemployment was 7.9 million, down from 8.5 million in May. The Labor Department said the sizeable decline in unemployment between May and June had been anticipated "as a result of a limitation in the seasonal adjustment procedure."

It said that because of the adjustment procedure, it is difficult to interpret changes in unemployment among groups which typically experience sizeable labor force inflows in June.

It said the seasonal adjustments, which are designed to smooth over cyclical changes in employment patterns during the year, assumes that the number of young seekers who enter the labor market between May and June is proportional to the level of unemployment.

However, the department said that when the unemployment rate is as high as it has been in 1975, the figures automatically adjust for more entries into the labor force than actually are there.

The result in June, it said, was the seasonally adjusted decline of 640,000 in the unemployment rate.

Probing Story Of Marcos Bribe Try

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI is investigating a former Philippine official's story that President Ferdinand Marcos and an aide tried to bribe him to keep him from testifying on tyranny in Marcos' government.

Marcos telephoned him from Manila the night before he testified and put an aide on the line to offer a $50,000 bribe.

Mijares said Philippine Consul Trinidad Alconcel opened an account in a San Francisco bank with the $50,000 on June 16, the day he testified to a House subcommittee, and then closed the account the next day.

Chairman Donald M. Fraser,

D-Minn., of the House International Relations Committee that heard Mijares' testimony, asked the Justice Department to investigate.

Mijares and a subcommittee counsel, John Salzberg, said the FBI has contacted Mijares and is investigating his story.

Although the Philippine officials could not be prosecuted, Salzberg said that if Mijares' story is found to be true, Alconcel could be asked to leave the United States.

Mijares testified that the Philippine Supreme Court decision upholding Marcos' declaration of martial law had been written in Marcos' presidential palace.

He also testified that as a Marcos official he had been a member of a committee that "manufactured the results" of the Jan. 10, 1973, referendum that was announced as showing public support for Marcos' martial law.

Union Ends Strike Against New York

By SAMUEL MAULL
Associated Press Writer

New York Mayor Abraham D. Beame and the head of the sanitationmen's union announced agreement today to end a three-day wildcat walkout and have the sanitationmen return to work at noon to begin removing 50,000 tons of garbage that piled up in the city streets.

The agreement came after the city declared a "partial" health hazard, obtained a court order against the walkout and faced growing problems that climaxed Wednesday night with hundreds of trash fires in crowded sections of the city.

The mayor's announcement said the men would return to work pending final action in Albany on the city's request for additional taxing powers that could restore some of the 19,000 city jobs cut because of the budget crisis.

John DeLury, head of the Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association, said his union would post $1.6 million to cover any losses the city might sustain by returning all his men to work and then not getting enough money to pay for all of them.

The announcement said "there is still a probability of layoffs" and added that union and city officials would look to the federal government for additional funding. DeLury said "all" the 10,600 striking sanitationmen would return to work.

A tentative agreement was reached in Albany Wednesday night on a new tax power package and final language was being worked out today.

Tobacco Hearing Slated In Greenville July 18

A tobacco hearing will be held here on July 18 to give farmers the opportunity to express their feelings on pending tobacco legislation, Congressman Walter Jones announced today.

The House Tobacco Subcommittee, of which Rep. Jones is chairman, will hear the comments at the hearing which will be held at the Moose Lodge beginning at 2 p.m.

Congressman Jones said legislation which would permit transfer of tobacco leasing across county lines will be discussed. The proposed legislation, introduced by Rep. Dawson Mathis of Georgia, would allow leasing only to adjoining counties and only one lease per year would be permitted.

Other proposed legislation to be discussed is a change from the present support price on tobacco to a 70 percent parity concept which, under present conditions, would increase support prices 10 to 12 cents per pound.

Rep. Jones said he is aware of the controversy surrounding both these proposals. "I certainly want the farmers to have the right to be heard in order that the subcommittee and the full committee can be properly guided in future decisions. I hope a large number of farmers from the eastern area will be present in order that their wishes might be considered."

Previous hearings have been held in Bristol, Va.; Lexington, Ky.; Marion, S.C.; Tipton, Ga. and Winston-Salem. The Greenville hearing will conclude the series.

Those who wish to be heard should notify the Committee on Agriculture at the Longworth Building, Washington, D.C.

HOTLINE FEEDBACK

LETHAL MISLEADER?

Someone in the Greenville area is selling paint thinner in soft drink bottles. My small son was almost injured when he picked up an unmarked bottle and was about to drink from it. Isn't it illegal to put a lethal agent like this in an unmarked container, especially one which would be thought by a child to hold something edible and appealing?

This is a rare instance in which Hotline is dealing with an item for which inquirer left neither a name, address, nor phone number. We wish we could contact him to find out what store or stores might be involved. Because of the need to publicize the possible danger, we're using the item anyway.

According to a spokesman for the Consumer Product Safety Office in Atlanta, Ga., it is a violation of the federal Hazardous Substances Act to sell any hazardous substance mislabeled or unlabeled, or to use a food, drug, or cosmetic container to hold any such substance. Anyone who knows of such a violation would do well to report it immediately to the Consumer Product Safety Office, 1330 W. Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Ga. 30309 — Attention: A. T. Sturivant. The office's toll-free phone number is 800-638-2666.

LAKE CLOSED?

Is White Lake closed because of snakes? I really want to know because we're thinking of going on vacation there. Mrs. E.B.

The White Lake Town Hall said there is absolutely no truth to the snake rumor. It's one that gets started as surely as summer rolls around, the Mayor's secretary said.

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — "We know who they are, and the FBI knows. If the FBI doesn't get them, we will," an Indian official said as the search continued for the killers of two FBI men.

Oglala Sioux Tribal Chairman Richard Wilson commented Wednesday as the FBI reported it had completed a fruitless sweep of the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation for 16 persons sought in the slayings. The FBI said it was attempting to identify the suspects.

An FBI spokesman also said there is not enough evidence implicating persons thought to have been present when agents Ronald Williams and Jack Coler were shot to death to issue arrest warrants.

Williams and Coler, both 28, were killed last Thursday when they approached a farmhouse on the reservation to issue four arrest warrants. The occupants of the farmhouse, said to include some 16 men and eight women and children, slipped away under cover of darkness after Bureau of Indian Affairs police and other FBI agents converged on the scene.

The body of Joseph Bedell Stuntz, 24, of the Lapwai Agency at Couer d'Alene, Idaho, was found in the house. Stuntz, who had been shot to death, was buried Wednesday in a traditional Oglala ceremony.

The FBI said a massive sweep of the 3,150-square-mile reservation, involving some 200 agents, found no trace of the 16 persons sought. No warrants have been issued.

On Tuesday, however, the FBI arrested David Sky, who is being held in Rapid City, S.D., under $25,000 bond as a material witness.

Three of the four persons named in the arrest warrants Williams and Coler were attempting to serve have also been arrested.

Will Be Paying More At Greenville Gas Pumps

By JAMES KYLE

Reflector Staff Writer
Greenville residents can expect to be paying more at the gas pumps within the next few days. In fact, many local service stations are already reporting price increases of up to four cents a gallon.

The increases are being felt nationwide, according to an Associated Press story Wednesday, and follow a prediction by Platt's Oilgram Price Service, an oil industry newsletter. The newsletter had predicted a three to five cents a gallon increase before the July 4 holiday weekend. Sutton's Service Center, a retail and wholesale American dealer, reported Wednesday a three cents per gallon increase on both wholesale and retail prices.

The new retail prices were 62.9 cents per gallon for regular and 67.9 cents per gallon for premium. These prices, and all which follow in this story, are for full-service gasoline pumps.

The new wholesale prices at Sutton's were said to be 52.9 for regular and 56.9 for premium.

A Phillips 66 wholesaler, Bell Roberson Oil Corporation, said they had made a three cents per gallon increase on wholesale prices at midnight Tuesday. Their new prices were 49.9 for regular and 53.4 for premium.

Heath's Phillips 66 reported a three cents per gallon increase Wednesday morning, raising their prices to 60.9 for regular and 64.9 for premium.

By-Pass Exxon, which had a two cents per gallon increase last month, said its prices haven't increased this week. Their present prices are 63.9 for premium, 69.0 for unleaded, and 59.9 for regular.

Plaza Gulf owner Allen Adams said Wednesday his prices haven't gone up and he hasn't heard anything from Gulf, but he anticipates a price increase because "everyone else" has had one. Plaza Gulf's prices were 59.9 regular, 60.9 unleaded and 63.9 for premium. Pugh's Tire and Service Center, a Shell station, reported a three cents per gallon increase Wednesday. Its prices are now 60.9 for regular and 64.9 for premium.

Warren's Texaco service station has had a 1.4 cents a gallon increase but haven't raised price. Regular is 57.9 lead-free is 60.5 and premium is 62.8.

A Texaco wholesaler, Allied Petroleum, which does not sell to Warren's hasn't had an increase but expects one soon. Its present prices are 49.9 for regular and 53.9 for premium.

Among the independent stations, whose prices appear to be holding a few cents lower than the major oil stations, local Etna stations will be 58.9 for regular and 61.9 for premium.

Doug's Spur station hasn't had an increase, but owner Douglas Edmundson "halfway" expects one. His prices are 55.9 for regular and 57.9 for premium.

Tribal Chairman Claims They'll Get Killer Group

Glasgow-McGowan Vows Exchanged On Sunday

WELDON—Miss Mittie Ruth McGowan and Henry Carlton Glasgow pledged their marriage vows Sunday at three o'clock in the afternoon in the Community Free Will Baptist Church here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Bryan McGowan of Greenville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee Glasgow of Halifax.

The Rev. Joe E. Gerald officiated at the double ring ceremony. A program of nuptial music was presented by Jeff Riggins, pianist, and Ms. Brenda Merrell, soloist, who sang "The Twelfth of Never" and the "Wedding Prayer" as the benediction.

The church was complemented with seven branched and fifteen tiered candelabra, bouquets of white mums and pom poms. At the altar was a prie-dieu where the bridal couple knelt for the closing prayer. Pews were marked with decorated candelabra encircled by garlands of greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal length gown of white organza designed with an open portrait neckline encircled with floral chantilly lace. Matching face extended over the empire bodice and flared A-line skirt. The full sheer bishop sleeves were trimmed in rows of chantilly lace and the detachable chapel length train featured panels of matching lace.

She wore a formal length illusion mantilla edged in lace to match her gown. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of miniature carnations, white daisies and yellow roses accented by baby's breath.

Mrs. Linda McGowan Rose of Farmville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Susan Elizabeth Glasgow of Halifax, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Connie Clark, Miss Patricia Clark and Miss Cathy Porch, all of Weldon. Mrs. Brenda Warren and Mrs. Edna Isles of Littleton.

The attendants wore formal length gowns of voile flocked in a floral pattern styled with an open V-neckline accented by a collar of self-fabric edged in white ruffled cluny lace. The long sleeves featured fitted cuffs edged in ruffled lace. A full flared skirt extended from the natural inset waistline that was enhanced by a self-tie belt. Each attendant wore a gown in a different hue with the honor attendants in white voile with pink flowers over apricot, pink, yellow, lilac and Nile taffeta.

They carried colonial bouquets of mixed summer flowers accenting yellow, blue red, pink and white with baby's breath tied with a multi-colored streamers to match the dresses. Miss Melissa Harris of Roanoke Rapids was flower girl. She wore a formal length white gown which featured a natural waistline and short puffed sleeves. The dress was accented by a cummerbund of ribbons matching the bridesmaids' dresses. She wore a headpiece of matching ribbons and carried a basket of mixed summer flowers and baby's breath.

Henry Lee Glasgow, father of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Robert Rose of Farmville, brother-in-law of the bride, Louis Glasgow of Weldon, cousin of the bridegroom, Billy Sorie of Halifax, and Charles Winstead of Roanoke Rapids. Eugene Gerald of Weldon served as ring bearer.

The mother of the bride selected a street length dress of aqua chiffon over taffeta featuring a lace bodice. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a street length yellow polyester dress, matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Effie Sumerlin, grandmother of the bride, was remembered with a white orchid corsage.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Shirley Tidwell of Weldon. For a wedding trip to Nags Head, the bride wore a navy and white pants ensemble and the corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Winterville High School and East Carolina University. She is currently a reading specialist at Aurelian Springs School, Halifax County. The bridegroom is a graduate of Weldon High School and Halifax Technical Institute. He is currently employed by J. P. Stevens and Co.

The couple will reside at Rt. 2, Roanoke Rapids.

An after-rehearsal party and cake cutting was given for the bridal party by the parents of the bride at the Rotary Building, Weldon.

Mrs. Louise Stancill, aunt of the bride, served cake and Mrs. Patsy Warren poured punch.

Reader Inquires About Dress Code For Church

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know if there is a dress code for church. What is permitted and what isn't? My sister, who is 29 and married, came to church last Sunday wearing a halter-type dress that showed about three inches of her bare middle.

This sister came to church a few minutes after Mom was seated, and when Mom saw Sis in this outfit, she burst into tears and didn't lift up her head for the whole service. Afterwards, Mom went home and cried all day. She says she is sure Sis is going to the devil. Maybe I'm of another generation (I am 22), but I didn't think my sister did anything so terrible by coming to church dressed that way. The church is very hot and has no air conditioning. Maybe if the church officials let people dress more comfortably, they would have better attendance in the summer. What do you think?

WARM IN GA.

DEAR WARM: Common sense and a little old-fashioned respect for a house of worship is all the dress code necessary. Your sister shouldn't have exposed her middle, your mother shouldn't have cried all day and all the churches in Georgia should be air-conditioned to discourage bare middles—and the devil.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me some of the most common clues to look for if I already suspect (which I do) that my wife is meeting another man somewhere during the day?

I am not an overly suspicious man, so you will not be generating trouble where none exists.

In this case, simply asking her will not help.

SUSPICIOUS IN DALLAS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: If a woman gets all dressed up to go "shopping," comes home slightly late and out of breath, has no packages and is wearing her pantyhose inside out, I'd wonder where she'd been.

DEAR ABBY: Another solution to "Prune Face," that doctor's wife who wanted a face-lift, but whose husband said no because he didn't want her to look like his "daughter"?

Persuade the good doctor to join his wife and get a face-lift, too! We'd just as soon you didn't use our names, but it's no secret to our friends and family that my wife and I had a "joint job." We shared the same room and nurses—and were delighted with the results.

We were in our mid-50s at the time. It didn't hurt a bit except when I wrote out the check.

"Do the best with what you've got (left)," we say.

SINALOA, MEXICO

Couple Speaks Vows In Double Ring Ceremony Friday Night

Miss Elizabeth Diane Keating and Randy Graham Clark, both of Greenville, were married at the Temple Free Will Baptist Friday at 7:00 p.m.

The Rev. Douglas Randlett, assistant pastor, officiated the double ring ceremony. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Jane Randlett, soloist, and Mrs. Jane Spain, pianist, both of Greenville.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Alma Singleton of Greenville and Mr. Buel Keating of Kennett, Mo. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Gail B.

Clark of Greenville, and Mr. Eason Graham Clark of Tarboro. The church was decorated with a single wedding basket of white daisies and hydrangea.

The bride wore a formal gown of white polyester. The gown, with a lace bodice, featured a long waist tying in back and short sleeves bound with lace. For a bouquet, the bride chose a nosegay of white daisies.

The couple entered the church together and exchanged their vows. They knelt in front of the altar as "The Lord's Prayer" was sung.

Following the ceremony, the couple was entertained at a supper at Parker Brother's Barbeque, followed by the traditional cake cutting.

After a wedding trip to Virginia, the couple will reside in Greenville.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

A mother has written me for advice on whether or not to get a puppy for her three small children. "They adore animals," she explained, "and have promised to feed it, clean up after it and to assume full responsibility for its well being." Signed, Weakening.

Weakie, if you bought that bit of garbage, let me be the first to offer you 50 acres in Florida close to the ocean at $10 an acre. No personal checks, please.

Lucky for you, I kept a diary of our first seven days with our puppy, Bow Wow.

Day I: Bow Wow has been in the house 14 hours, during which time his feet have never touched the floor.

He has been fed eight times, burped five, danced on the TV set, slid down the banister, been given a bath, blown dry with my hair dryer, visited 12 homes, ridden a bicycle and barked long distance on the telephone. At the moment, he is asleep under a dual-control thermal blanket.

Day II: Bow Wow continues to reign. It took eight saucers to warm his dinner. Tonight the children put on a puppet show for Bow Wow. He watched it from a pillow that I had just needlepointed at a cost of $12.

Bow Wow got to stand on the floor tonight and headed for the door. One child shoved the other into the hall tree. The other one slapped his brother, while the third one lurched for the dog and opened the door first.

Day III: At three this morning, one of the children complained that Bow Wow was keeping them awake with his howling. When I suggested he be fed, he said his brother did it, who vowed his sister did it, who said, "It's not my turn." Bow Wow chewed up my evening slipper and put everyone into stitches.

Day IV: Bow Wow blew Show and Tell. He showed too much and didn't have a finish. A cleaning committee of one was delegated to do the honors. One of the children said if the dog followed him to school one more time and he had to bring him home he was going to kick him. I suspect the newness is wearing off.

Day V: There was a rule made on Day I that the first one to spot a puddle automatically cleaned it up. The entire household is suffering from indoor blindness. Today, Bow Wow chewed up a catcher's mitt. No one was amused.

Day VI: Today, I yelled, "Has anyone seen Bow Wow?"

Day VII: One of the kids yelled back, "Who?"

Bride-Elect Entertained

August bride-elect Miss Wanda Bailey was entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the Grace Free Will Baptist Church fellowship hall Friday evening.

The bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Dalton W. Bailey, greeted guests and assisted the honoree in receiving gifts. Mrs. Nellie Speight and Mrs. Janet Smith displayed the gifts on tables adorned with white cloths, a pink flower arrangement, and wedding bells.

Mrs. Peggy Paige poured punch from a table covered with lace over pink and a four-pronged silver candelabra bedecked with varying shades of pink snapdragons and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Bailey and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Worth B. Hardee, were presented white chrysanthemum corsages. The bride-elect was presented an orange chrysanthemum corsage.

Hostesses were Mrs. Faye Rouse, Mrs. Ruby Outland, Mrs. Annas Bullock, Mrs. Dorothy Hudson, Mrs. Sandra Peede, Mrs. Lois Wagner, Mrs. Geraldine Smith, and Mrs. Dot Worthington.

CWI Members Hear Speaker Monday Night

The Greenville CWI met Monday night at the Bonanza Steak House. Jerry Lee, manager of Liberty Loan Co., was guest speaker for the meeting.

President Inda Wingate presided and welcomed members and guests to the meeting including Russell Lee with Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., Teresa Boyd with The Daily Reflector, and Betsy Lee with Gaylord & Singleton, Attorneys.

Lee talked on the subject "Consumer Finance Companies" and pointed out aspects of consumer finance companies, that the general public never realize. One of these was their interest rate being higher than banks. The reason is in most cases they are making high risk loans which have little or no collateral as security. He also noted that he always works with the delinquent customer as much as possible to solve his financial problems.

During the business session President Wingate appointed Dawn Pitts as chairman of the State President's Project which is entitled "Self Improvement."

Final plans for the annual picnics were announced by Sally Broughton, chairman. The picnic this year will be held July 15, at the Jaycee Shelter at Elm Street Park. Members are to invite their families and bosses. Members of the Kinston and Rocky Mount CWI Clubs and all state officers of N.C. Credit Women-International will be invited.

Time-saving, wrinkle-free tennis fashions these days also are lightweight. Many are made in twill, textured woven fabrics and knits.

The Advice Comes A Bit Late

Gov. Holshouser at last came out with some advice for the 1975 General Assembly.

The only problem is that when the governor finally exerted his leadership, the Legislature had finished its work and its members had gone home.

Holshouser thought it was a "bad session." He was critical of everything from the way the budget was made up to the Democratic leadership of the heavily Democratic Legislature.

He excused his own failure to provide leadership this year with the observation that "from the first, the Legislature gave every indication they'd do their own thinking and run their own shop."

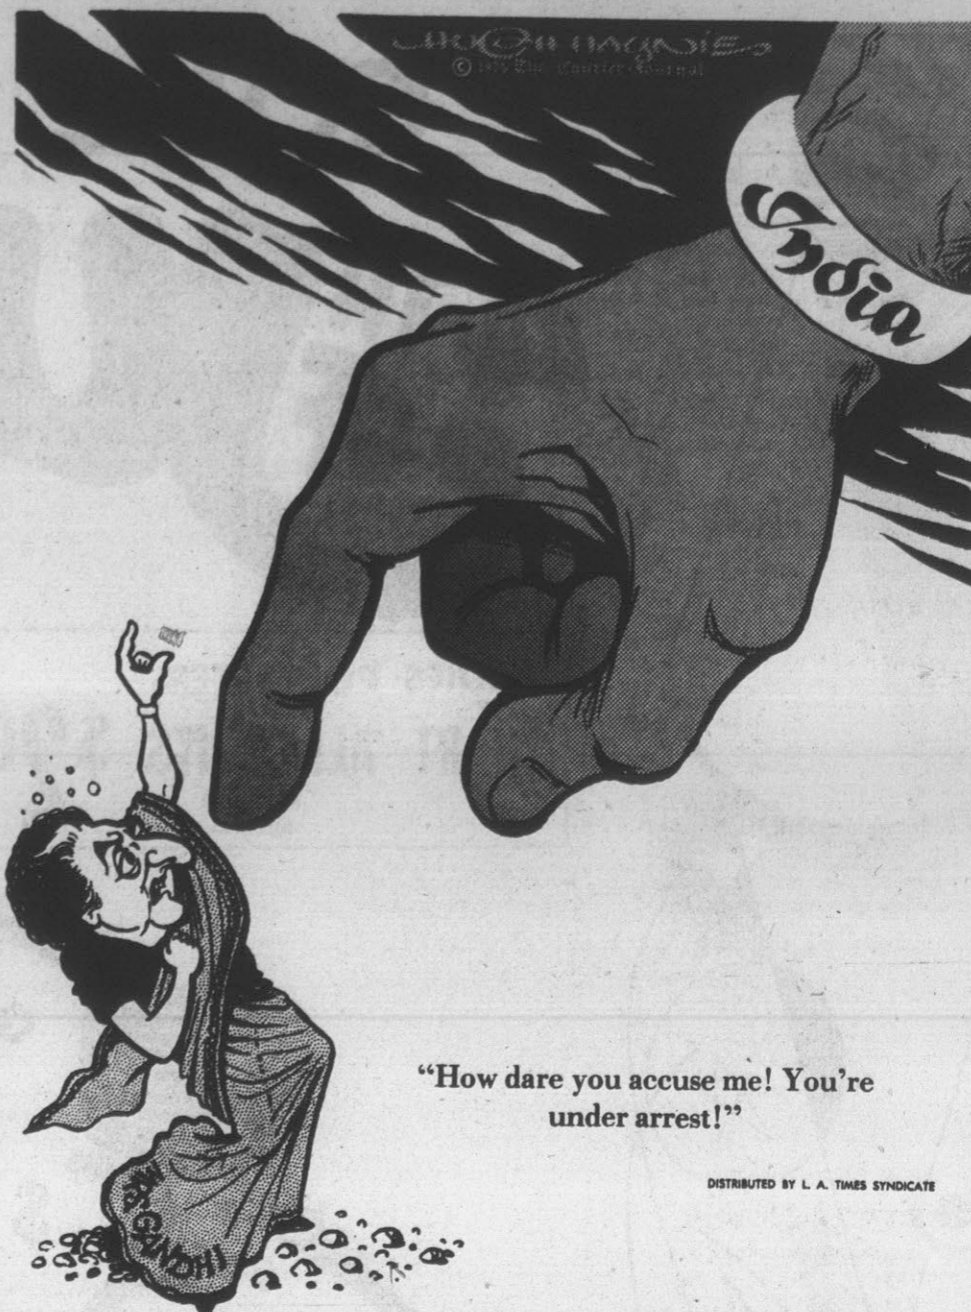

Gov. Holshouser said he couldn't afford to confront the legislators directly because they could retaliate by cutting his budget and power. This strikes us as a regrettable attitude for the elected governor of our state to take. It's a sure thing that Harry S. Truman didn't take such an attitude when he faced a congress with the opposition party in control, nor even has Gerald Ford, a Republican who faces a heavily Democratic Congress.

Gov. Holshouser submitted a budget projecting around $300 million more revenue than was actually forthcoming, and this amount had to be pared by the Legislature. Then he went out on a limb proposing elimination of the food sales tax and had to back off from this stand because of the revenue miscalculation.

Among other things, the governor criticized the funding of the ECU medical school, making reference to the accreditation problems of Pitt Memorial Hospital. If the governor would get out and around in the state he might learn that the Pitt Memorial accreditation situation involves to a large extent a building constructed for a county hospital which has already become a regional referral center. He would also learn that an entirely new medical complex is under construction in Pitt County and will be ready in adequate time for use by the medical school.

It is all right for the governor to criticize if he wants. But he should review his own leadership role as the highest elected official in the state before he says too much. We think he could have done far better.

Symbol Of The Changes

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty years ago, 1st Lt. Daniel James was arrested when he and other black pilots tried to break down a color barrier and enter a white-only officers club.

Now, two wars later, Air Force Lt. Gen. "Chappie" James has become the first black in U.S. history to win promotion to the four-star rank of full general, an advancement announced earlier this week.

Although opportunities for blacks in the armed forces still lag, James qualifies as a symbol of how far things have come since 1945 when he protested segregation at old Freeman Field in Seymour, Ind.

But there has been an undercurrent of jealousy among some white officers who fell out in the intense competition for promotion. James also has been the target of "Uncle Tom" jibes from some militants who resented his appeals to young blacks to work within the system. He has flicked off both kinds of attacks with a booming laugh and an air of total self-assurance.

Now 55, James first attracted public notice in the late 1960s as a command pilot who flew 78 combat missions over North Vietnam. Then Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird brought the big, friendly fighter pilot to the Pentagon in 1970 and installed him in the public affairs office.

It was then that James began making speeches that mixed fervent expressions of patriotism with appeals for unity among the races. At a time of campus unrest, he went to predominantly black universities and advised the students to "cool it."

On Wednesday, after returning from a three-day tour of bases in Germany, Spain and the Azores, James said at McGuire Air Force Base, N.J.,

"How dare you accuse me! You're under arrest!"

THIS AFTERNOON Hardly Care In A Cottage

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH—The term "cottage" used widely to describe the facility in which 16 residents of Murdoch Center for the Mentally Retarded were subjected to mistreatment by custodians is not really an apt definition.

No vine covered little home nestles in the pines; curtains flapping lazily across colorful window boxes.

Murdoch is a big institution, with over 1,000 residents; 600 employees crowded into the facility.

Cottage G-3 is one ward. Fifty adult mentally retarded residents live there, claiming as home a single-person bunk and a foot and one-half of space on each side.

The bunks stand row upon row, side-by-side, head-to-foot in one big room; furnished in institution drab with a tile floor running half-way up the wall.

A "day-room" space for sitting is included in the sprawling open room. It was closed for painting when the incident occurred sometime around 4 p.m., June 9.

The occupants of Cottage G-3 were scattered about. Most were out of the room at various training or recreation programs.

One group, with the day-room closed, had gathered with their attendants in one area of the room, sitting about on bunks as they took part in a bath-training program.

The group was just breaking up. An attendant lit a cigarette, and as Dr. J.F. Elliott, director of Murdoch Center puts it, "something popped."

What followed can hardly be visualized. Staff members, including Elliott, have tried to piece it together. "For some reason, something happened," Elliott says.

"I cannot explain it to my satisfaction, or to yours," he answers when pressed for some answers. Sixteen residents were burned—some two or three times. Necks, arms, ears were burned; branded with hot cigarette lighters.

Four attendants are fired; charges pending. Not all took part directly, apparently, but as Human Resources Secretary David T. Flaherty puts it, "you are just as guilty if you watch it and don't report it... you're an accessory."

Flaherty, Elliott, and Dr. N.P. Zarzar, director of mental health services for the state, are anxious to show they are not attempting to cover up the incident. They want everybody to know it happened, regretably; that it was reported, and strong steps taken to punish the ones who did it, and prevent such a thing happening again.

Still, it happened, to 16 patients, ranging in age from 26 to 40 years.

There are some signs that in the background of at least one of the attendants there was something which should have raised a red flag of warning to his employers. That information was not revealed until the investigation.

"We do not check prospective employees out... only if there is reason for suspicion," Elliott explained. Information on the job application is accepted without question, and no check of police records or other sources is made. Time doesn't permit that, the director said.

It would seem that in a mental health system, of all

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK Beware Equempoppocom

In its rush to adjournment last Monday, the Supreme Court erupted, as usual, with so many opinions that only a couple of cases could get much attention. Among the overlooked cases was Albemarle Paper v. Moody. Employers everywhere will read it with justified alarm.

In this case the Court went farther than it ever has before to uphold the high-and-mighty demands of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission. The effect of the opinion is to subject a highly respected corporation, the Albemarle Paper Company, to what Justice Rehnquist described as a "ruinous liability" for backpay.

The opinion has other effects. It elevates the mere "guidelines" of an executive agency to something approaching the laws of the Medes and the Persians. It further diminishes the right of an employer to test the aptitude of prospective employees. And the opinion casts some ominous shadows upon principles of equity that had seemed fairly clear.

This case began in August of 1966, when a group of Negro employees filed a complaint with the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission, alleging racial discrimination in hiring and promotion at Albemarle's mill in Roanoke Rapids, N.C. The Equempoppocom, as William F. Buckley has dubbed it, advised the plaintiffs of their right to sue, and suit thereupon was filed in U.S. District Court.

It is important to understand that the plaintiffs, as a class, did not demand backpay at the outset. "No money damages are sought for any member of the class not before the court." Not until nearly five years later, after constructive ownership of the mill had changed hands, was the demand injected.

One of the ironies in the situation is that Albemarle should have been singled out for punitive treatment: It is beyond dispute that Southern employers, as a class, had discriminated against blacks for a century prior to enactment in 1965 of the Equal Employment Opportunities Act. But Albemarle had launched affirmative efforts to remedy this discrimination before the law was passed. Voluntarily, it was taking its own steps, not then required by law, to discontinue the practices the 1965 act would make unlawful.

The company's personnel policies prior to trial of the suit in 1971 were in no way exceptional. Back in the 1950's, as its equipment became more sophisticated, Albemarle required at least a high school education of employees entering skilled production lines. It began using standard aptitude tests, such as the Beta Test, the

INSIDE REPORT The Menace To Thailand

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
NAGAE VILLAGE, Sakon Nakhon Province, Thailand—Here in poverty-stricken Northeast Thailand, the government is not doing nearly enough to suppress a spreading Communist insurgency that could run wild with help from Hanoi.

The quiet village of Nagae, heart of Communist influence in the Northeast, bears the telltale marks of Vietcong country in Vietnam: roads to it that can be travelled only at peril by day and never by night; minimum government presence, with decrepit, indefensible outposts; sullen villagers declining to answer our questions, grimly amused over a foreigner venturing here.

All this points to harsh reality scarcely perceived in Bangkok. The government is not committing enough money, men or energy or control the Northeast's decade-old insurgency. Increased guerrilla activity since the Communist triumph in Indochina could be only the beginning. The future menace is North Vietnam taking over Thai insurgents as it did Cambodia's Khmer Rouge, turning them into an irresistible force.

Although Hanoi may need time to consolidate present conquests, there are ominous early warnings: automatic weapons, rocket launchers and even some Vietnamese advisers turning up among Northeast insurgents. This suggests that accommodating to powerful hostile neighbors—Thailand's tactic for nearly a millennium of independence—may fail against revolutionary Communism.

The government's handling of Communist insurgents in the far north and the south is equally unimpressive. Northern Meo guerrillas recently massacred two army units, who fought bravely but suffered over 90 per cent casualties (including some 160 dead). Although the government publicly writes off the southern insurgency, Thai army officers confide the guerrillas are gaining

Other Editors Say A Pill Paradise?

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

Has the United States become a pill popper's paradise? The latest evidence would seem to indicate the country is moving in that direction.

According to a Health Insurance Institute analysis of a Roper Report, about half the American public swallows some kind of pill every 24 hours.

This compares to the one in three who said they had read a magazine during the past 24 hours.

Or the one in 20 who said they had participated in some active sport.

The pill poppers include those popping vitamins as well as aspirin or actual medicines.

And the most avaricious of the pill people seem to be those over age 65, two-thirds of whom admitted to taking some type of pill during the 24 hours before they were surveyed.

The analysis brought out some other interesting aspects about this trend in pill consumption. For example:

—While half of all whites took a pill, only slightly over one-third of the blacks did so, possibly indicating the lower level of medical attention blacks receive.

—Pill taking was more common in the Midwest and the West than in the Northeast and South.

—Of those interviewed as to what they had done the previous day, two per cent said they did not know—a response that may or may not be attributed to public pill popping.

It is known that more and more people are taking tranquilizers of one kind or another. Perhaps the stresses of today's pace in the society in which we live is too much for the human body—and mind.

Many who are not taking tranquilizers are using alcohol as a crutch or a shield. Some resort to both.

A movie several years back, "Valley of the Dolls," was a harsh indictment of the indiscriminate use of pills in the entertainment world. Stars were depicted as taking "downers" to calm them down, usually after a gruelling performance, then resorting to "uppers" to give them a lift as they faced another audience or as they went before the cameras. It was a vicious trap.

Fortunately, most people don't get on this treadmill. But many do.

40 Years Ago Today

July 3, 1935
Greenville and Pitt County, along with the rest of the country, will celebrate the Fourth of July tomorrow, although no special exercises have been planned here in observance of the occasion.

Greenville citizens, however, were looking forward to the double-header baseball game with Ayden. Greenville will play at Ayden in the morning and Ayden will be here for a game in the afternoon.

As is customary, all public buildings and stores will be closed during the day to give employees an opportunity to celebrate. Some people will remain home for the ball games, while other will go to nearby seashores and watering places for swimming and fishing.

For the past several years, Greenville and Ayden have reserved the Fourth for two of the outstanding baseball battles of the year. The largest crowds of the season are expected to be on hand both here and in Ayden to see the two clubs battle for supremacy.

Businesses in the city will be open Wednesday afternoon this week to take care of shoppers stocking up for the holiday. After this week, however, the regular Wednesday half-holidays will resume.

TROUBLE VALLEY

There is a valley near Jericho in Israel which in ancient times was called the valley of Achor. The word Achor means "trouble" and the valley was associated with the death of that unhappy Achan who was stoned to death for his sin.

Yet it was through this valley named Trouble and over a road stained with the blood of sin that the children of Israel entered the promised land.

Often we enter our promised land through the valley called Trouble, and often the very sins that have marred and besmirched our lives have been pathways over which we walked with cleansed and penitent hearts to better things.

Though we walk through the valley of the shadow of death, God is with us. Our concern must be that when we find ourselves in this valley, we must keep our face in the direction of the promised land and not turn back again to the unhappy land of bondage.

Recession Is Still Deep-Seated

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — You might think that in a recession the company able to give away its product would not be hurt badly. But the effects of recessions are ubiquitous. Sometimes you can't even give away your product.

This lesson is an old one for publishers of a type of magazine that is distributed to businessmen, tradespeople and professionals. Popularly called trade magazines, they are free and their circulation is controlled.

The publishers make their money from the advertisers, who are assured that their message will be delivered into the hands of a specific type of readers having certain desirable characteristics, including high income.

The precise wording of the promise is up to the publisher, but the Business Publications Audit of Circulation then makes certain the publisher lives up to his guarantee by once-a-year check on the quality of circulation.

"They phrase it in auditable terms," says Thomas Campbell, president of the nonprofit organization, which audits 652 major controlled circulation magazines.

But now the problem: When times get tough, as they have become in the automotive industry, the word goes out to cut costs, and the edict applies to the mail room as well as to the assembly line and the executive suite.

Controlled circulation magazines often are mailed in bulk to company mail rooms, to be distributed by the company's internal mail force. As some see it, mail rooms are an ideal place to cut costs.

At Ford's Rouge Office Building and at its research and engineering center in Dearborn, distribution was discontinued, although workers can pick up their copies at the mail room. Clearly this presents problems.

Chrysler said it notified publishers that it would not distribute their publications internally for the foreseeable future. The magazines, it suggested, might instead be sent to the recipient's home.

By mailing to a home address, however, some value is lost and some cost added. "We lose the passalong," said Campbell. That is, only one reader sees the magazines instead of probably five who see an office-delivered copy.

Home delivery presents other problems. The worker might quit his job and then the publisher must find his replacement. With office-delivered copies the subscription almost routinely is picked up by the successor worker.

While the situation certainly is more than just a nuisance to the publishers, Charles Mill, who directs American Business Press, an industry association, claims "it's a tempest in a teapot." Campbell says there's been "some disruption."

The fact remains that if the publishers cannot get their books into the hands of the readers they promise to deliver, they are in trouble.

Lee, Trustee to secure an original indebtedness of $6,000.00 due The Bank of Winterville, the said original Trustee having resigned by an instrument in writing of record in Book P-43, Page 304, and the undersigned having been appointed Substitute Trustee therein by an instrument of record in Book P-43, Page 298.

(3) Deed of Trust in Book V-41, Page 206, dated June 29, 1973, recorded under date of June 29, 1973, having been executed by Eastern Restaurant Equipment Company, Inc., Herbert Monte, III, Alice Broome Monte, and Helen Broome Snow unto A. Louis Singleton, Trustee to secure an original indebtedness of $25,000.00 due The Bank of Winterville. The land described in said deed of trust as "Second Tract" and hereafter described is the land on which this power of sale is exercised, pursuant to the deed of trust and the record owner of said land is Herbert Monte, III, Alice Broome Monte, and Helen Broome Snow.

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by all three of said deeds of trust and the said deeds of trust being by the terms thereof subject to foreclosure, and the holder of the indebtedness thereby secured having demanded a foreclosure therefor for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness, the undersigned Trustee is offered for sale at public auction the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, at 12 o'clock, Noon, on the 25th day of July, 1975, the lot or parcel of land conveyed in said deeds of trust as is hereinafter described, the same lying and being in the Town of Winterville, Pitt County, North Carolina, and known as the house and lot of Herbert Monte and Alice Monte, Winterville, North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows:

That certain lot or parcel of land situated, lying and being in or near the Town of Winterville, in Pitt County, North Carolina, and being located on the west side of Ange Street, and BEGINNING at a point in the west curb line of Ange Street 456.3 feet in a northerly direction from the curb on the north side of Cooper Street, and running thence North 78 deg. West, 150 feet to a stake, a corner; thence running North 2 deg. 30 min. East, 100 feet to a point in the west curb line of Ange Street, a corner; thence running with the center line of said ditch, South 87 deg. East, 150 feet to a point in the west curb line of Ange Street, a corner; thence running with the west curb line of Ange Street, South 2 deg. 30 min. West, 100 feet to the Beginning, as surveyed during the year 1965. This being the same property conveyed by the Thomas E. Ball and wife, Mary C. Ball by deed from Vernon E. White, et al, dated June 2, 1965, and recorded in Book I-35, Page 71 of the Pitt County Registry; and being the identical property conveyed unto Herbert Monte, III, Alice Broome Monte, and Helen Broome Snow by deed from Otley Leary, dated November 17, 1971, of record in Book L-40, Page 413, Pitt County Registry.

Attention is directed that the deed of trust above referred to of record in Book V-41, Page 204, Pitt County Registry, embraces another lot located on Railroad Street, Winterville, North Carolina and such other parcel is being sold pursuant to another foreclosure proceeding of even date.

This sale will be made subject to all ad valorem taxes or other assessments now due or which constitute a lien on the above-described lot or parcel of land and the highest bidder at said sale will be required to deposit with said Trustee ten per cent (10 per cent) of the amount of his bid up to $1,000.00 and five per cent (5 per cent) on all in excess of $1,000.00 to show his good faith.

After paying the costs of the sale, the proceeds of said sale will first be applied to the indebtedness secured by that deed of trust of record in Book 0-35, Page 213, and then to the indebtedness described in Book L-40, Page 413, and then to the indebtedness described in Book V-41, Page 204.

Wonderlic Tests, and the Bennett Mechanical Comprehension Test. In agreement with the Paper-makers Union, the company in 1968 "end-tailed" the black workers to its several lines of production.

As the District Court found, Albemarle acted "in good faith" at every step along a difficult and uncertain road.

Immediately after the Supreme Court's historic opinion in the Duke Power Company Case (March 8, 1971), the company attempted to validate its aptitude tests. A personnel expert found a fair correlation in some cases between test scores and job performance. The company abandoned some tests and revised threshold scores on others. In brief, Albemarle did just about everything that equity might reasonably demand of a conscientious employer in a changing time. The trial court concluded that the labor-management agreement on seniority could not pass muster—it would lock black employees into bottom seniority positions—but the court refused to award back-pay. Now, nearly nine years after the original suit was filed, the Supreme Court has sent the case back to the trial court, with implicit instructions to compute and to award backpay. The Court brushes aside expert evidence on personnel tests. Even though the "guidelines nonetheless are not administrative regulations, the guidelines nonetheless are to that, students or not. Indeed, Kukrit's government is cracking down in Bangkok, using billyclubs against strikers and tear gas against students.

Army officers however claim the government secretly halted their suppression campaign against southern insurgents in response to student demonstrations. That proves, they say, that Kukrit's 14-party coalition dare not offend the students by striking hard against crime, disorder and insurgency. What keeps the disgruntled young officers from attempting a coup are the lack of approval from King Bhumibol and clear public disenchantment with Thailand's experiment in democracy.

But the old military dictatorship, brought down in October 1973, never was committed to defeating the Communist insurgency either. In fact, all Thai governments tend to look to outsiders for salvation. After first seeking protection in an alliance with Washington, the Thais now seek survival through accommodation with Peking and Hanoi. However, in a long, bitter guerrilla war just really beginning, only the Thais themselves can prevent their nation from becoming another Indochina and another domino in Communism's inexorable spread over Asia.

Sanitation Crews Among 'Best'

By JORDY WHICHARD
Reflector Staff Writer
Perhaps the most under rated of the city's public employees are the garbage collectors. Greenville's Public Works director Mayo Allen calls Greenville's collectors "some of the best anywhere."

There is a variety of workers on the collection force. Many are well educated, one is a member of the local Clergy. These individuals are anxious to see their job done well. They are up and on the job every morning at 5 o'clock, ready for an eight hour work day. The men work in all types of weather conditions. Not even blistering heat, biting cold, rain, or snow can provide an excuse for a day off. If a holiday happens to fall on a Monday or Tuesday, the men are still on the roads collecting the public's trash. The work that the men do can sometimes be risky and dangerous. One worker recently was seriously injured when he was cut by some broken glass that was left in a trash bag he was emptying. Dog bites provide another risk to the collectors. Before the leash law was put into effect in Greenville, the department averaged about one dog bite per month. Injured backs have been reported by men who have tried to lift garbage cans filled with too heavy a load. There have also been various sprained ankles reported by workers tripping over scattered yard tools while trying to get to the garbage rack on dark mornings.

Public Works director Allen says that the citizens of Greenville can help eliminate many of these risks. By putting broken glass in plain sight of the collectors, keeping heavy objects out of the cans, and placing potentially dangerous yard tools out of the collector's path, Allen believes that the public can make the job of refuse collection safer.

James Anderson of the Sanitation Division says that there are reports every week of diamond rings, wallets, antique coins, and other valuable objects lost in the garbage. One might think that the workers are making valuable finds of these items. Anderson reports, however, that these items are rarely recovered. The most surprising find made by any of the workers was a live, coiled snake on top of a garbage can. Despite the risks involved in the work, the men do the job well, and with a certain amount of pride. The trucks of the Greenville Sanitation Division are cleaned and scrubbed every day. This makes for more sanitary conditions, but also makes the Greenville collection force a little better than those of other towns. Sanitation Supervisor Leavy Brock sums up the matter when he says, "The residents of some cities can tell when the garbage collectors have been around by the odor left by the trucks. In Greenville, though, people can tell you they have come and gone because the job has been done well."

collectors say that their job is a hard one, and worth more than they receive. The job they have is not glamorous, but must be carried out by someone. At the very least, Greenville's garbage collectors feel that they have earned a little respect for jobs from the people they

Criticizes Nuke Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidential hopeful Terry Sanford has branded as "outrageous and irresponsible" Defense Secretary James Schlesinger's statement that under certain circumstances the United States conceivably might fire its nuclear missiles at the Soviet Union before being fired upon.

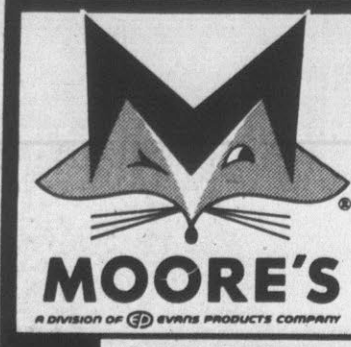

Sanford, former governor of North Carolina who is seeking Democratic nomination for president, also accused President Ford of irresponsibility in the President's discussions of possible U.S. use of nuclear weapons.

Sanford told a news conference Wednesday that Schlesinger's statement "was almost as irresponsible as President Ford's suggestion that we might use tactical nuclear weapons in Korea."

Sanford called for massive cuts in U.S. military spending. He said the nation is spending more than two-thirds of its operating budget on a "fat, potbellied military establishment."

An immediate reduction of 15 per cent in the military budget is necessary said Sanford, now president of Duke University.

Gen. Washington Went Right To Work

RIDES THUMB, TOO—Garry Bivins, 29, recently returned to Memphis from a wheelchair hitchhiking journey of 1,600 miles. Bivins was testing the reaction of people to the handicapped. Bivins says he would hitchhike again if he could find a worthwhile cause to promote. (AP Wirephoto)

By DANIEL Q. HANEY
Associated Press Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — It was almost a joke, 200 years ago, to call the ragged collection of New England farmers the Continental Army, but it was all George Washington had.

On July 3, 1775, the Virginia plantation owner formally took command of 13,743 of these woody rebels.

Many of them had been camped out on the fringe of Boston for two months. They had come, some supplied for an overnight trip, to fight British soldiers who dared venture into the countryside of Lexington and Concord in search of patriot weapons.

Washington became the new commander-in-chief of the United Colonies, and it was his job to mold a fighting force that could defend the freedoms of English settlers still loyal to their king but upset with the government behind him.

With a few aides and a new general, Charles Lee, at his side, Washington rode into Cambridge on July 2 — 18 days after he was appointed by the Second Continental Congress in Philadelphia.

The roads were still wet from a recent rain that quiet Sunday. No one was sure when he would arrive, so there was no welcoming ceremony. Washington entered the little college town to find soldiers idling around Harvard Yard.

It was his first encounter with his new army, but earlier that day, in Watertown, members of the Provincial Congress warned him that he would not find "such regularity and discipline" in the troops as he might expect.

Their caution was understated. The soldiers were ill-trained and unruly, dirty and sometimes drunk, dressed in tatters and armed with muskets and rifles of every age and description.

Except for a few who had fought the Redcoats in the Battle of Bunker Hill, most were untested in combat.

But balancing these shortcomings, the men were brave and driven by the excitement of the new freedom movement.

On that first day, Washington was conducted to the home of the president of Harvard, where he and Lee were assigned all but one of the rooms.

From the first, the wealthy, 6-foot-2 aristocrat exhibited the dignity he thought an officer needed to lead. When a surgeon, James Thacher, caught sight of him, he wrote in his journal:

"His Excellency was on horseback, in company with several military gentlemen. It was not difficult to distinguish him from all others. His personal appearance is truly noble and majestic, being tall and well-proportioned. His dress is a blue coat with buff-colored facings, a rich epaulette on each shoulder, buff under dress, and an elegant small sword; a black cockade in his hat."

After settling in, Washington met the colonial officers, among them Artemas Ward, who had commanded the army since it came together outside Boston.

Then, with another officer, Israel Putnam, as a guide, Washington went to work, even before he officially took command. They rode three-quarters of a mile through Cambridge to Prospect Hill, a low rise that gave the general his first sweeping view of the military problems ahead of him.

With a spyglass, he looked eastward to the ruins of Charlestown, where British sentinels were still standing guard after their bloody encounter with the patriots at Bunker Hill 15 days before.

A bit to the south was Boston, then a bulge of land at the tip of a narrow peninsula in the harbor. The town was the domain of British soldiers and loyalists, who rarely ventured past the shadow of their artillery. Further away was the village of Roxbury and Dorchester Neck.

In a wide semicircle outside Boston, the patriots had dug earthen fortifications, but Washington saw that many of them were feeble and poorly placed.

Strengthening them became Washington's first major concern so that he could keep the British trapped in Boston while he trained his men.

Washington took command from Ward in a brief ceremony, and gave his first order. It was a request for his colonels to tell him how many men and how much ammunition they had.

Then Washington set out on another inspection tour, this time of the troops and fortifications on the southern edge of Boston.

Slowly, over the next months, Washington pulled his forces into something resembling an army.

One of greatest worries was the lack of distinction between the soldiers and their officers. Washington had been horrified to learn that many of the officers were elected by their units, and officers and enlisted men thought of themselves as equals.

One reason was a shortage of uniforms. Everyone looked alike. So Washington issued colored ribbons that distinguished the generals from the privates. Drunkenness became a crime, and cleanliness was promoted, but only to a point.

In an order on Aug. 22, Washington said:

"The general does not mean to discourage the practice of bathing while the weather is warm enough to continue it, but he expressly forbids any persons doing it near the bridge in Cambridge, where it has been observed and complained of that many men, lost to all sense of decency and common modesty, are running naked upon the bridge, while passengers and even ladies of the first fashion in the neighborhood are passing over it, as if they meant to glory in their shame."

Fireworks From China

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — This time the rockets' red glare may be a product of Communist China.

Chinese rockets and firecrackers are being imported for bicentennial displays in 1976 as the United States celebrates its 200th birthday, the owner of the nation's largest fireworks supplier says.

Fireworks also will be supplied by England — America's foe in the War of 1812 when Francis Scott Key wrote the "Star-Spangled Banner" — as well as from France, Canada, Taiwan, Japan, Macao, Brazil and other South American countries, he adds.

"We're kind of in the unique position of celebrating our 200th anniversary — at least in part — with fireworks made in the world's biggest communistic country," says Patrick Moriarty, owner of Pyrotechnics Inc. in suburban Anaheim.

"The capacity of the domestic manufacturers is not sufficient to handle the volume of business. It is getting more the case as we get closer to the bicentennial in 1976."

He estimated that China will be the third largest supplier for the bicentennial windings, with their fireworks expected to make up 10 per cent to 15 per cent of the total consumed in red, white and blue displays. Japan and Canada will be the leaders, he says.

Pyrotechnics, supplier of fireworks for the daily summer shows at Disneyland and Disney World, has been stockpiling pyrotechnics for the last two years in anticipation of the bicentennial observances.

"The products the Chinese are making are superior to all others," he said. "Their colors and their materials are according to traditional practices. They haven't reduced their quality in the last 20 years."

The Chinese invented fireworks about 800 A.D. and have used them in their celebrations ever since.

Postal Holiday

The Greenville Post Office and East Carolina University Station will be closed Friday in observance of Independence Day. However, there will be some services provided.

Special Delivery mail will be delivered in the city; collection will be made from all street letter boxes bearing a star; all outgoing mail will be dispatched at 4:30 pm. The Self-Service Postal Unit in the lobby of the Main Post Office will be open to provide customers with most postal supplies.

There will be no deliveries made by city or rural carriers, and no window service will be provided at the post office.

'William Tell' Act Went Wrong

GREENSBORO (AP)—A 6-year-old boy was wounded by his father when a modified game of "William Tell" went wrong, police said. Jeffery Morris was hit in the hand by a bullet from a rifle fired by his father, Webb Morris, the Guilford County Sheriff's Department said. Deputies said the boy was holding a lit cigarette with a pair of pliers when the Monday shooting occurred. No charges had been filed Tuesday.

6-5 margin on the New York Stock Exchange. Brokers had expected a quiet day on the eve of the Independence Day weekend. The markets will be closed Friday for the holiday.

As trading began this morning, New York's First National City Bank announced an increase in its prime lending rate—the basic rate on business loans—from 6½ to 7 per cent. But analysts said the move had been pretty well taken into account in advance with Wednesday's 7-point drop in the Dow.

In the day's other economic developments, the government reported a drop in both unemployment and wholesale prices last month.

The unemployment rate figure, however, was strongly influenced by a statistical vagary, and officials cautioned that it didn't necessarily mean any significant change in the jobless picture.

United Gas Pipeline was up ¼ at 12½, and Pennzoil dipped ¼ to 22½, both in active trading. United said Wednesday the Federal Power Commission staff had agreed to support a proposed settlement of an investigation into Pennzoil's spin-off of United last year.

The NYSE's composite index dropped .04 to 50.25 in the first hour. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .02 at 92.43.

WOMEN SPONSOR CHURCH PROGRAM
GRIMESLAND — The Women's Auxiliary of White Oak Baptist Church will sponsor a special program Sunday at 6 p.m.

The theme will be "Youth Takes A Stand For Christ" and will be presented in a panel discussion by young people of various churches in addition to White Oak. Special music will be presented by the Young Adult Choir of White Oak. All youth are urged and invited to attend and participate. The Rev. J. H. Taylor is minister.

Evangelist To Preach Sunday

Evangelist Shirley Daniels of Brooklyn N. Y., formerly of Greenville, will preach at 4 p.m. at Mt. Calvary Free Will Baptist Church for the Lilies of Calvary. She is the daughter of Mrs. Effie Reeves of Greenville and Jack Reeves of Brooklyn, N. Y. The public is invited to attend.

Missionary Service Set

A missionary service will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Pray Hour Holiness Church. Elder M. J. Nobles will be speaking at 4:30. Elder M. C. Cousin is pastor of the church which is located at 1811 S. Pitt St. The public is invited to attend.

Indict 'Country Boys' As Major Drug Ring

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Thirty-four persons described as members of one of the largest drug rings in the New York metropolitan area have been indicted by an Essex County grand jury.

"This is a major supplier of heroin," Prosecutor Joseph P. Lordi said in announcing the indictments Wednesday. "Their sales of the drug amounted to millions and millions of dollars."

Most of the defendants are members of a family named Lucas who gradually moved from North Carolina to New Jersey. The ring was known as "the Country Boys."

The indictments reflected arrests made May 24 through from there to North Carolina, then to Newark. The ring had its headquarters here, Roberts said.

He described the heroin obtained by the ring as "98 per cent pure." He said chemists had told him it was the finest quality of the drug they had ever seen. But the ring had

Cool Breaks For City Employees

GREENSBORO (AP)—Municipal employees in Greensboro are getting some cool breaks.

It all started Tuesday as 105 watermelons were sliced to feed some 600 city employees. Then Wednesday, 48 gallons of ice cream in five flavors were consumed by hundreds of city employees. And Thursday, another 95 watermelons were to be fed to city employees.

Cool Breaks For City Employees

City Manager Tom Osborne said the three get-togethers were financed with funds from vending machines in the city canteens.

Don Shore of the personnel department said the $575 worth of watermelons and ice cream was enough for about 2,900 part-time and full-time employees.

Wednesday by Lordi's Bureau of Narcotics, led by Richard Roberts, and other police officials.

Roberts said the ring's supply of narcotics was so extensive that it changed the pattern of heroin flow.

Before the Country Boys organized about seven years ago, heroin usually was shipped to New York and brought to New Jersey by dealers, according to Roberts. He said the ring was so successful that it not only sold heroin in New Jersey but became a major source of drugs sold in New York.

Roberts said the ring had connections in the Golden Triangle district of Thailand. He said the heroin was shipped "cutting factories" here where the heroin was adulterated with other substances before it was sold, Roberts said.

The ring members were not long from rural North Carolina, but already had connections with the Carlo Gambino crime family of New York, Roberts said.

Some two kilograms (4.4 pounds) of uncut heroin seized in May, a small portion of the amount regularly handled by the ring, could be sold for $20 million when cut, he said.

Roberts named Frank Lucas, 45, who is in Trenton State Prison on a weapons conviction, as the leader of the ring. Other members of the Lucas family were running the ring in his absence, Roberts said.

Many of the ring's members have luxurious homes, and at least one owns a big cattle ranch, according to Roberts.

AYDEN—Mrs. Maggie L. Stocks, 73, died at her home in Ayden early Wednesday morning.

She was a member of the Ayden Free Will Baptist Church. She was a native of Green Co. and had made her home in Ayden for the past 15 years.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:00 p.m. at Farmer Funeral Chapel. Officiating will be the Rev. C.H. Overman. Burial will follow in Hollywood Cemetery in Farmville.

Surviving are three sons, Bossie J. Stocks of the home, Jack Stocks Jr. of Petersburg Va., Clifton Ray Stocks of Ormondsville; six daughters, Mrs. Bennie Anderson of Maury, Mrs. J.C. Fusell, of Connet, Ohio, Mrs. Preston Letchworth of Lizzy, Mrs. George Dunn Jr. and Mrs. Herbert Graves, both of Ayden, and Mrs. Gary Clontz of Gaithersburg, Md.; 25 grandchildren, 15 great grandchildren.

Cable Was Cut

Don A. Collier, district commercial manager for Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Co. said late this morning that between 200 and 250 telephones may have been knocked out of service when a 300-pair underground cable was cut.

"We still have not found the actual cut," Collier said shortly after 11 a.m., but indicated the cable cut was in the general area of "Mumford Road, toward the by-pass... in that general area."

Collier said full service to the telephones affected should be restored "within two hours."

Collier said "we don't know how many resident phones are out," but said telephone service to Eaton Corporation — located on the Eastern Bypass — was interrupted by the cable cut.

Eaton, Collier said, has about 125 telephones.

"To us, this is major," Collier said, "We hate to see a corporation out of service... not to mention our residential customers."

Holiday Safety Care Advised

This Fourth of July weekend will be a crowded one on the highways and around the water. The holiday period can be made safer if everyone follows the suggested safety practices.

N.C. Highway Patrol Trooper Donnie Taylor suggests that all people stay off of the highways whenever possible this weekend. However, if you are going to drive, he urges that everyone exercise good driving habits.

Taylor emphasizes to all: "Do not, under any circumstances, drink and drive this weekend." He also reminds drivers to observe the posted 55 mph speed limit.

If planning a trip, Taylor urges everyone allow enough time to reach the destination safely.

Vacationers should also keep water safety in mind over the long weekend. ECU swimming coach Ray Scharf offers some helpful guidelines to follow. "Never swim alone," says Scharf, "and always make sure you have a partner you can trust in the water." He also urges that wherever swimming, be familiar with the body of water and its tides, bottom, etc.

Scharf also reminds parents to watch their children in the water if there is no available life guard around.

If someone does appear in trouble in the water, Scharf recommends that throwing an object to the person is better than going in after him.

If, despite all of these safety precautions, an accident should occur, the Greenville Police Department lists the following phone numbers to call: Rescue Squad, 752-1133; Emergency police, 752-3141; and Ambulance service, 752-5151.

Lions Capture First Victory

Roger Williams had three hits, one a double, and Scott Galloway pitched a four-hitter as the Lions took an 8-1 win over the Exchange and a 1-0 lead in their Little League title series.

The two are playing a best of three series for the City Little League championship. Play will continue today and if necessary, the series will wind up on Saturday.

The Lions pushed over four runs in the first with all four scoring on wild pitches. Williams led off with a single and Galloway walked. Passed balls moved Williams to third and he scored on a wild pitch. Arthur Fletcher and Ed Frazier walked. They too scored on wild pitches.

Exchange countered with its only run of the game in the bottom of the first. Mark Douglas walked, took second on an error and scored on John Williams' single.

In the second, Galloway reached on a fielder's choice and after moving around on a wild pitch and a passed ball, he scored on another wild pitch.

The Lions added one run in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Galloway gave up four hits, struck out seven walked three and hit one batter. Troy Hudson had two hits for the Lions while John Williams had a pair for Exchange.

Payne, Hagans Named To South All-Stars

Two area players, both from Greenville Rose High School, are among those chosen to play in the annual Boys' Home All-Star Football Game, to be held on July 26 in Ficklen Stadium.

Jeff Hagans, a lineman, and Tommy Joe Payne, an end, were picked to appear in the annual affair sponsored by the North Carolina Jaycees as a benefit for the Lake Waccamaw Boys' Home.

Hagans is a 6-2, 210-pound guard, while Payne is a 5-10, 160-pounder who has played both end and defensive back. Both will be playing for the South team in the game, in which Rose coach Dave Bumgarner will act as one of the assistants.

Head Coach for the South team will be Jerry Carpenter of Gastonia Ashbrook, while Bill Parrish of White Oak will also aid as an assistant.

The North head coach will be Daryl Allen of Ahsokie, while Ken Browning of Thomasville and Sherrill Doby of South Stokes will assist.

Chosen to the North team are: Steve Bainbridge of Cary; Steven Campbell of High Point Andrews; Avery Cutshaw of Thomasville East Davidson; Bobby Eller of Thomasville Ledford; Oliver Felton of Hertford Perquimans; Greg Ferguson of Randleman;

Dean Gilliam of Winston-Salem Reynolds; Sam Harrell of Ahsokie; Billy Hassell of Edenton Holmes; Steve Hicks of Walnut Cove South Stokes; Danny Holt of Roxboro Person Senior; Reggie Jackson of Chapel Hill; Mitch Johnston of Jamestown Ragsdale; Leroy Jordan of High Point Central; Mark Klass of Lexington Central Davidson;

Dale Lee of Thomasville Ledford; Joe McElrath of High Point Andrews; Jim McMahon of Northern Durham; Joe Ray Moore of Mt. Airy; Terry Morgan of Durham Hillside; Reggie Moss of Elizabeth City Northeastern; Harold Odum of Jamestown Ragsdale; Cecil Oliver of Winston-Salem Parkland; Linnet Price of Greensboro West Guilford; Wayne Poole of Wendel Vainden-Whitley;

James Royster of Oxford Webb; Andre Sessoms of Ahsokie; Glenn Southern of Walnut Cove South Stokes; and Steve Wilson of Northern Durham.

Members of the South squad will be Ronnie Armstrong of Gastonia Ashbrook; Richard Baker of Jacksonville White Oak; Reggie Bell of Shelby Crest; Jeff Biggers of Charlotte Myers Park; Willie Brown of Murphy;

James Cannady of Apex; Scott Cloninger of Lincolnton; Robin Corn of Canton Pisgah; David Cubbage of Wilmington Hoggard; Tim Davis of Kannapolis Brown;

Little Sluggers Ice Title Tie

The Little Sluggers clinched at least a tie for the championship of the National Division of the City Softball league last night with a 20-5 rout of Morgan Printers.

On the whole, it was a good night for National teams as they swept a three-game set over the American Division. White's smashed the Rockets, 24-11, and Jock's beat Baggett's, 19-9 in preliminaries to the Little Slugger's game.

In the opener, White's jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first but the Rockets knocked three off the lead in the bottom of the frame. White's put the game away with a 12-run splurge in the second. The Rockets rallied for four in the third but could not catch White's.

Jock's spotted Baggett's a run in the first then came back in the second to take the lead, 4-2. Jock's increased it to 6-2 in the third but Baggett's pulled within 6-4 in the last of the third. Jock's iced the victory in the fourth rallying for seven runs. Baggett's got five in the fourth.

Both the Sluggers and Morgan Printers got a run in the first. The second inning proved the difference as the Sluggers rolled in seven runs. They added five in the third, two in the fourth, four in the fifth and two in the sixth.

NAMED TO BOYS' HOME TEAM— Former Rose High School footballers Jeff Hagans, top, and Tommy Joe Payne, bottom, have been named to the South team for the annual Boys' Home All-Star game to be played in Ficklen Stadium on July 26. The contest, sponsored by the North Carolina Jaycees, pits two teams of players from across the state in the annual benefit. In addition to the two players, Rose Coach Dave Bumgarner will serve as an assistant coach for the South. (Reflector Photos)

Three Capture Industrial Wins

The Moose, State Highway and Greenville Utilities captured victories last night in the Industrial Softball League as the juggling of places behind Daniel Construction continued. Daniel has already won the championship.

Burroughs-Wellcome held to second, but the Moose moved into third, followed by a half-game by State Highway. The Daily Reflector slipped down to fifth.

In the opening game, the Moose romped to a 13-1 win over Union Carbide. The Moose and Union Carbide each scored one run in the first frame. The Moose then scored three in the second to take the lead for good. They added one in the third, five in the fifth, and three in the sixth.

State Highway downed the Daily Reflector, 19-8, in the second game. The Reflector pushed over two in the top of the first, but the Highwaymen came back with three. The Reflector got four in the second, but State Highway matched that with four of their own in the bottom of the frame.

The Highwaymen then added five in the third, three in the fifth and four in the sixth. The Reflector got two more, in the seventh.

Greenville Utilities nipped the Jaycees, 14-13, in the final game. The Jaycees got two in the first, while GUCo got one. The Jaycees added four in the second, while GUCo came up with five, including a homer by Nichols. The Jaycees got three in the third, while GUCo added two and tallied, 9-8.

The Jaycees got one in the fourth, and another in the fifth. But GUCo came up with three in the sixth. The Jaycees added two in the seventh for a 13-11 lead, but three in the bottom of the seventh won it for GUCo as Nichols' single brought over the winning run.

Barber Grabs Milwaukee Lead

By MIKE O'BRIEN
AP Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Miller Barber, well on his way to his first million dollars, may never have made a better investment than the new putter he bought after the Masters Tournament this spring.

Barber, $28,508 short of becoming the ninth pro to exceed a million dollars in career earnings, shot a seven-under-par 65 with the help of four putts of 20 feet or more Wednesday for a two-stroke lead after one round of the $130,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

"It was my day to make the long ones. I haven't made long putts like that in three years," said Barber, who toured the 7,010-yard Tuckaway Country Club course in the morning, when greens were soft and moist, and withstood a late challenge by home-state favorite Andy North.

North, a three-year pro and native of Monona, Wis., closed to within one stroke of Barber with the last of his seven birdies, on No. 16. However, he bogeyed the 18th and settled into a three-way tie with Art Wall and Bob Zender at 67.

Seven others, including former Milwaukee Open champion Ken Still and Dave Stockton and 63-year-old marvel Sam Snead, were at 68. Of the 154-man field, 53 shattered par and 23 more matched it.

"It's pretty obvious a 65 or 66 will lead," said Zender, who finished shortly before Barber. "The course is in perfect condition. There has been a lot of rain here."

Barber, who has won nine tournaments in 16 years on the tour, tied for third at Pensacola earlier this year and is 23rd on the 1975 money list. He and U.S. Open champion Lou Graham, who shot a 72, are the only golfers among the first 24 earnings-leaders this year to have entered this tournament.

The GMO conflicts with next week's British Open.

"I played the British the last two years, but not this year," Barber said. "You hear of fel-las making $1 million out of winning the British or U.S. Open, but it depends on who you are or what you have done."

Jack Nicklaus or Arnold Palmer might. But with Miller Barber, it's not the same thing."

Home Builders Wins To Clinch Tie For Top

Home Builders iced no worse than a tie for the Babe Ruth League championship last night with a come-from-behind 6-5 extra inning victory over North Carolina National Bank.

Pepsi-Cola downed College View, 10-0, to keep its faint hopes alive for the title. They can do no better than tie for the title now.

Home Builders now holds a 10-4 record and has one game left, a 4 p.m. game today with NCNB at Jaycee Park. Pepsi-Cola has an 8-5-1 mark, and has to complete a game with NCNB halted after five innings by curfew. It is unsure when it will be completed. Also Pepsi's tie game with College View may have to be replayed if it has an effect on the standings.

Home Builders pushed over one run in the first to take the lead. Ronnie Chapman singled and moved all the way to third on an error on the play. Timmy Allen hit a sacrifice fly to score Chapman.

Home Builders added another run in the fourth. Reggie Selby reached on an error and Mike Adams beat out an infield hit. Micky McGrath then singled in Selby.

NCNB came back with three runs in the fifth to grab a 3-2 lead. Mac Stocks reached on an error and Will Barrett walked. Doug Selby was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Jesse Baker grounded out, scoring Stocks. Jerome Ross then doubled in both Barrett and Selby for the lead.

In the sixth, NCNB got two more. Cliff Fearington singled and Stocks walked, with Scott Peele running for him. Barrett reached on a fielder's choice, and an error on the play let Fearington score and moved Peele to third. Selby then hit a sacrifice fly to score Peeles.

But Home Builders came up with one in the bottom of the sixth. Reggie Selby walked as did Adams. McGrath was hit by a pitch, and a walk to Chapman scored Selby.

The tying runs came in the seventh. Jay Wood singled and Lance Weatherington reached on an error, allowing Wood to come all the way around. Adams was safe on a fielder's choice, scoring Weatherington to knot it at 5-5.

The winning run came in the eighth. Joel Toates singled and was balked to second. Gary Allen singled to drive him in, ending the game.

Pepsi's Danny Hester limited College View to only one hit in the five innings played by the two teams in the second game. That was a single by Michael

Billie Jean In Net Finals Again

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Billie Jean King, within one match of winning her sixth Wimbledon singles crown, could set an all-time women's title record at the All-England Tennis Club before the week is out.

Ms. King, 31, who vows that Friday's final with Evonne Goolagong Cawley is her last major international singles effort, has amassed 18 Wimbledon crowns in her 15-year career — five singles, nine doubles and four mixed doubles.

Victory in two of those three events this week would break the record of 19, all doubles, which belongs to Elizabeth Ryan, who played here in the 1920s and 1930s.

Ms. King moved into the final with a 2-6, 6-2, 6-3 triumph over defending champion Chris Evert on Wednesday. It was Miss Evert's first European loss since 1973, when she bowed to Ms. King in the final here.

Mrs. Cawley earned a berth in the final by beating Margaret Court 6-4, 6-4 in a duel of former Wimbledon champions from Australia.

Ms. King, who constantly battles the pain of bad knees, called her come-from-behind victory over Miss Evert, 11 years her junior, "a real trip. I went to the edge of the ledge. I don't understand how I won."

"I'm kind of relieved," said Miss Evert after her loss. "There's been a lot of pressure on me this year, and I knew I'd have to play great to beat Billie Jean."

In the final set, Ms. King was trailing 0-3 and had three break points against her in the fourth game. The crowd on center court thought it was the last they would see of the competitor who first came here as a 16-year-old named Billie Jean Moffitt.

Revere Qualifiers

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Less than half a second separated the top two qualifiers as West Germany's Hans Stuck won the pole position for the 250-mile Paul Revere road race set for the morning of July 4 at Daytona International Speedway.

Stuck, driving a BMW, covered the 3.84-mile road and track course Wednesday at an average speed of 118.600 miles per hour. Carl Shaffer of Wyoming, Ill., was next with an average of 118.395 mph in a Camaro.

Jacksonville, Fla., drivers Peter Gregg and Hurley Hayward, leaders of the International Motor Sports Association circuit so far this season, qualified sixth and fifth respectively. Gregg, IMSA leader with 109 1/2 points to Hayward's 97 1/2, had a speed of 116.193 to his 116.221 for defending champion Hayward.

Moose Field Day

The twentieth annual field day for Greenville Little League players will open Friday at 1:30 p.m. at Elm Street Park.

Competitive events in throwing, running and hitting will be followed by a Pop's All Star Game between fathers of Tar Heel and North State Leagues.

A picnic for all players, their families, and guests will conclude the activities.

Allen Turns Tables On Card Strategy

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
"Oh, those bases on balls."
Frankie Frisch coined the well-known baseball words many years ago — and Ron Reed had to eat them Wednesday night.

Reed issued an intentional walk to Greg Luzinski in order to pitch to slumping Dick Allen in the eighth inning. But the strategy backfired when Allen pumped a 1-0 Reed pitch into right field for a two-run triple, leading the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

"Maybe the next time they won't be in such a hurry to walk the Bull," said Allen, his pride showing.

Allen's ego was obviously hurt by the maneuver. It used to be that pitchers would never think of walking someone else to pitch to him. But times have been tough lately for the Philadelphia first baseman.

"I'm swinging good, I'm just not hitting the ball," said Allen, who's batting a sub-par .233 and has only collected three home runs and 19 RBI since joining the Phillies in early May.

In the other National League games, the Atlanta Braves blanked the San Francisco Giants 6-0; the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Houston Astros 4-3; the New York Mets whipped the Chicago Cubs 7-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the San Diego Padres 6-5 in 14 innings. The Pittsburgh-Montreal game was postponed by rain.

Larry Bowa triggered the Phillies' winning rally with a one-out single and stole second before Jay Johnstone fled out. Greg Luzinski was intentionally walked before Allen tripled into

Braves 6, Giants 0
Phil Niekro fired a four-hitter and Biff Pocoroba tripled and scored in the third inning and added a two-run single in the fourth to lead Atlanta past San Francisco. Niekro hurled his 8th win of the season to end the Giants' five-game winning streak.

Reds 4, Astros 3
George Foster blasted a mammoth three-run homer in the sixth inning to power Cincinnati over Houston. Foster's wallop, his 14th homer of the year, followed singles by Ken Griffey and Dan Driessen. The shot landed in the middle tier of seats in Riverfront Stadium's center field and was the longest home run of the season in Cincinnati, landing some 480 feet away.

Mets 7, Cubs 2
Felix Millan's two-run double snapped a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning and Jon Matlack scattered eight hits, leading New York past Chicago. Matlack walked with one out to start the Mets' winning rally and went to second on a single by Mike Phillips. Both scored on Millan's double off Bill Bonham.

Dodgers 6, Padres 5
Steve Garvey's bases-loaded single with two out in the 14th inning produced the winning run as Los Angeles beat San Diego. Paul Ray Powell opened the Dodger rally with a single and was sacrificed to second. Dave Lopes was walked intentionally and pinch-hitter Ken McMullen moved the runners into scoring position with a grounder.

Chips and putts from area golf courses:
Robersonville
A Captain's Choice Tournament was held this weekend at the Robersonville Golf and Country Club.

First place went to the team of Margurite Johnson, John House, Edgar Hoggard and Norman Parker, who had a net 65. Second was Betty Ann Jenkins, Ed Powell, Lang Hardison and Mike Matthews.

Winning the longest drive contest were Lang Hardison and Betty Ann Jenkins. Nearest to the pin were Diane Ferguson and Edgar Hoggard.

A picnic will be held at the club on Friday at 6 p.m.

Greenville
A number of golfers have turned in their best nine or 18 hole scores at the Greenville Golf and Country Club recently. Among those with top nine-hole scores are: Charlie White, 34; Ernest Schwarz, 35; Donnie Allison, 36; Connor Merritt Sr., 32; Putt Carter, 42; Deercoc Vincent, 37; and Nancy Monroe, 37.

Best 18-hole scores include Bernie Rawl, 86; Dave Mosier, 80; Dot Doyle, 102; Cliff Everett St., 79; and Jane Joyner, 100.

Jim Moye recorded an eagle on the par fourth hole. He hit a seven-iron into the cup. Playing with him were Cliff Everett Jr., Larry Land, Vance Taylor and Elbert Monk.

Those advancing in the Beginner Match Play Tournament include Myrt Leslie, Sue Taylor, Kaki King, Mary Warren Mann and Patsy McPherson.

Nancy Monroe won low gross honors at the last Ladies Day with a 37. Second was Jean Creech with a 43, followed by Della Dayson and Joan Warren, tied at 45. In the low net event, Peg Haigwood took first with a 32. Gail McGlelland was second with a 35. Gay Waldrop, Putt Carter and Dot Aldridge tied for third with 36.

The Men's Senior Championship will be held Sunday at the club at 4 p.m. The tournament is open to members 60 and over, and will be played over nine holes. A trophy will be awarded the winner.

Two other upcoming tournaments include the Mother-Daughter on July 22 and the Father-Son on July 24. Signups are underway for all three right now.

In the Father-Son, the championship flight, which is an 18-hole tournament, will begin tee-offs at 1 p.m. The other flights will follow.

Ayden
The Ayden Golf and Country Club held its Member-Guest Tourney this past weekend. First place went to the team of Boyce and Brooks Barwick. Second were Carl King and Ray Alcorn, while Bob Bolonde and Tommy Riley were third.

In the second flight, Warren Kinlaw and Bill Kinlaw took first, while Robbie Pinner and Malcolm Beaman were second. Bob Glossip and Roger Ham finished third.

Don Jackson and Marshall Webb took the third flight. They were followed by Tom Boyd and Frank Armstrong, and Blanie Moye and Julius Budaca. The fourth flight went to Bill Loftin and L. A. Moye Jr., while Walter Claybrook and Cobbie Deans were second. Third were James Edmondson and Herbert Jones.

The fifth flight was taken by Tony Ankudowicz and Ronnie Hardison. Glenn Strickland and Ronnie Hardison were second, followed by Jack Wood and Cletus Jackson. The sixth flight went to Norman Day and Charles Miller. They were followed by Steve Nobles and Royce Jordan, and Bill Cleve and Frank Thomas. The seventh flight was won by Bill Ellington Jr. and Mack Roebuck. Second were Ray Joyner and Tim Kernon. Jack Allen and Tim Allen finished third.

Royce Jordan had his best round a 73, as did Floyd McDaniels who carded a par 72. Reid Joyner had one of his best nine-hole rounds, firing a 36.

Blanie Moye eagled the par-five second hole, holing out a pitching wedge.

Brook Valley
A Captain's Choice was held at Ladies Day at Brook Valley during the past week. Taking first place was the team of Peggy Hallow, Vertie King, Virginia Wiggers and Martha Moye with a score of 38.

On July 10, a Ladies-Junior Boys and Girls Spectacular will be held. This is for youths eight and up. They may sign up on the bulletin board.

No-Hit Bid By Rick Wise Ended With Two Out In Ninth Inning

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer
Rick Wise wasn't very smart Wednesday night and it cost him his second career no-hitter.

The 29-year-old right-hander of the Boston Red Sox had been extra-sharp ... until he faced Milwaukee's light-hitting Bill Sharp with two down in the ninth inning, one out away from becoming the second pitcher in modern baseball history to pitch a no-hitter in each league. But he walked Sharp on four pitches and George Scott and Bobby Darwin followed with home runs.

"It shouldn't have happened," Wise seethed after finishing with a two-hitter and a 6-3 victory in the first game of a two-night doubleheader as Jim Rice drove in four runs with a pair of homers. "I shouldn't have walked that guy."

Wise pitched a no-hitter for the Philadelphia Phillies against the Cincinnati Reds in 1971.

The Brewers bounced back to take the nightcap 4-3 and take undisputed possession of second place in the American League's East Division, one game behind the Red Sox.

Elsewhere, the Cleveland Indians edged the New York Yankees 3-2, the Baltimore Orioles routed the Detroit Tigers 13-5 as Don Baylor belted three consecutive home runs, the Chicago White Sox nipped the Oakland A's 5-4, the Kansas City Royals downed the Texas Rangers 7-5 in 10 innings and the Minnesota Twins trounced the California Angels 9-4.

Indians 3, Yankees 2
Duane Kuiper singled with two out in the ninth and raced home on Ed Crosby's single and a freak error on the relay. Crosby's single sent Kuiper to third and he came home when center fielder Bobby Bonds' throw hit Kuiper in the helmet and caromed away. Pitcher Dick Tidrow slipped trying to recover the ball, allowing Kuiper to score easily.

Orioles 13, Tigers 5
Baylor hit a three-run homer off Tom Walker in the first inning and solo shots off rookie Fernando Arroyo in the third and ex-teammate Bob Reynolds in the fourth. Since he also homered in his last official time at bat against Boston Tuesday night, it gave him a record-tying four consecutive home runs. Jim Northrup also homered for the Orioles.

Allison, Baker Out To End Their Bad Luck

BY F.T. MACFEELY
Associated Press Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Donnie Allison and Buddy Baker are determined to get rid of a few jinxes by conjuring up some good luck when they start on the front row in the $127,375 Firecracker 400 stock car race Friday.

The pair of hard-luck drivers, often leaders but seldom finishers at Daytona International Speedway, set a torrid qualifying pace Wednesday.

Allison registered 186.73 miles per hour in a Chevrolet, using a pet groove he claims makes him a little faster than anyone else on the 2.5-mile tri-oval located practically in the back yard of his racing shop.

Allison, 35, said he talked himself into it by "repeating to myself, 'just do everything smooth,' for two hours before I qualified."

It is the fastest lap recorded here since National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing moguls decided things were getting unsafe at 190 mph-plus speeds and applied carburetor restrictions five years ago.

Baker, 34, was second fastest at 184.687 with his Ford and predicted he will run laps in that range during the 400-mile race.

"I sure do believe in jinxes," Baker said. "I just broke one but good by winning Talladega. If Donnie runs all day, he'll be hard to beat, but he isn't going to run away from us."

HE'S FOR ANIMALS
FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Sean Pascoe, who hails from Bakersfield, Calif., Junior College, is majoring in animal science at Colorado State University. Pascoe, who weighs 215 pounds, is a calf roper and bulldogger in rodeo events.

Allison hasn't won on the super-speedway circuit since 1971, but he holds the only Daytona victory for the pair. He captured the Firecracker 400 in 1970. In the Daytona 500 last February, Allison won the pole but went out early with engine trouble.

Baker, a non-winner for two years until he won at Talladega last May, was leading this year's Daytona 500 until his engine quit at the midway point.

If they keep their machines running the full 400 miles, they can end the domination of this summer feature by David Pearson and Richard Petty.

Pearson, who has won it three years straight, qualified third fastest in his Mercury at 184.018 mph. He says the odds are against him, but he sees no other reason he can't make it four in a row.

Petty could nurse only the 13th best speed of 180.093 out of his Dodge. He has never won the 400 but finished second each of the past four years and has taken the Daytona 500 five times.

"This was my birthday and I guess I'm showing my age," Petty quipped. He was 38 Wednesday, but no one is ready to write off the leading career money-winner in stock car racing, only $27,347 short of the $2 million plateau.

His crew installed a new, and presumably faster, engine for the race.

Three challengers aiming to unseat the established veterans, qualified just behind Pearson. Darrell Waltrip did 182.330 in a Chevrolet; Dave Marcis 182.278 in a Dodge; and Richard Brooks 181.535 in a Ford. Benny Parsons, surprise winner of the Daytona 500 in February, earned a fourth row starting spot with 181.349 in a Chevrolet; and Bobby Allison's Matador will be beside him off a 180.715 speed.

A.J. Foyt was the only one of three U.S. Auto Club invaders to make the front 20. He took the 10th starting spot off a speed of 180.476 in a Chevrolet.

Johnny Rutherford blew an engine and didn't attempt to qualify. Oil trouble cut Salt Walther's speed below the level for the front 20 and he had to try to make the 40-car starting field in final qualifying runs today.

The companion holiday feature, the Paul Revere 250-miler for sports cars, starts at midnight tonight.

Hans Stuck led qualifiers by averaging 118.600 m.p.h. around a 3.84 mile road course in a BMW. Carl Shaffer was second at 118.395 in a Camaro and Al Holbert third at 117.010 in a Porsche Carrera.

Allergic To Felines, But Takes In Strays

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Marianne Meivers says it sometimes sounds as though an army is stomping through her two-bedroom house. But it's really just the 30 stray cats the University Hospital nurse has taken in.

Miss Meivers says she has a warm spot in her heart for cats. Unfortunately, she also has a runny nose because of them.

Of her allergy to her feline friends, Miss Meivers says: "I've just had a few sneezes. I simply put mind over matter and live with it."

Miss Meivers uses her nurse's training to give the strays medical care. She feeds them cottage cheese and plain yogurt as well as conventional cat food, and she buys 100 pounds of kitty litter each week.

She says she's been taking in abandoned cats for two years. "People dump them on the streets, in canyons, you name it and that's where you'll find them. And people just dump whole litters of kittens in parking lots or have their children give them away to just anyone," she says.

"When I saw the need was so great, I just started bringing them in and caring for them until they were well."

Once a year Miss Meivers visits major shopping centers in search of people willing to adopt the cats. She charges a small fee to cover her expenses in having the cats spayed or neutered.

"She says she has placed 100 cats and kittens in adoptive homes, but adds that she keeps a hard-core group of 14 wild and "nonadoptive" cats.

"I love every one of these guys," she says. "Every one of them."

Beginning in the center of the brick wall which is the northern boundary of the store building and lot which Bruce Ellis Boyd is retaining, and running thence with the sidewalk in a northerly direction 22 feet to the center of the brick wall, the Fred Weathington property, thence with the Fred Weathington property in a westerly direction 120 feet to a corner; thence in a southerly direction in a line parallel with Railroad Street 22 feet to a corner; thence in an easterly direction in a straight line to the beginning. Being the same property described in that deed to Bruce Ellis Boyd which is recorded in Book V-22, Page 105. See also deed recorded in Book U-20, Page 157 and Book K-37, Page 289 of the Pitt County Registry. Included are all party wall rights.

Attention is directed that the deed of trust above referred to of record in Book V-41, Page 204, Pitt County Registry, embraces another lot locally known as Street, Winterville, North Carolina and such other parcel is being sold pursuant to another foreclosure proceeding of even date.

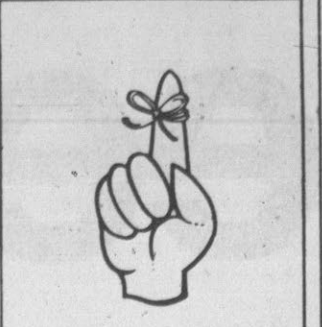

This sale will be made subject to all ad valorem taxes or other assessments now due or which constitute a lien on the above-described lot or parcel of land and the highest bidder at said sale will be required to deposit with said Trustee ten per cent (10 per cent) of the amount of his bid up to $1,000.00 and five per cent (5 per cent) on all in excess of $1,000.00 to show his good faith.

After paying the costs of the sale, the proceeds of said sale will first be applied to the indebtedness secured by that deed of trust of record in Book V-41, Page 300, and then to the indebtedness described in Book V-41, Page 204.

Sharp Disagreement On Assessing Geo. Wallace

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party leaders around the country disagree sharply in their assessments of the strength George C. Wallace likely will amass when the party selects delegates to its 1976 presidential nominating convention.

Press survey found general agreement among the leaders that it now appears highly unlikely that Wallace can gain enough support to win the party's presidential nomination, although his delegates could hold a crucial balance of power. The survey, which produced responses from more than half the 50 states including 17 of the 30 now expected to hold primaries, conformed with an estimate of Wallace strength made at the party's national headquarters. The estimate, based on Wallace's past showings and the way in which the 1976 delegates will be chosen, was that he would probably enter the 1976 convention with more than 720 delegates. That is nearly double the 385.7 he received on the first ballot in 1972 and could surpass any other candidate — but it is far short of the 1,504 delegates needed to capture the 1976 Democratic nomination. The wide disparity in forecasts is shown by the fear by party leaders in Wisconsin and Indiana that Wallace may win their presidential primaries, while leaders in neighboring Illinois, Minnesota and Nebraska see little support for the Alabama governor. In part, the survey shows, the likely Wallace strength is affected by the kind of primary that is held. In a straight popularity contest, where delegates will be divided proportionately according to popular vote, Wallace is expected to do better than in states where delegates will be elected directly. And his own political strategists believe that he will do less well in states that pick their delegates by caucuses and state conventions than in those that have presidential primaries. Responses to the AP survey indicated that, in advance of a formal presidential announcement, Wallace organizations are being formed in some states where he has done well in the past — including New Mexico and North Carolina — and some where he hasn't, such as California and Massachusetts. In the South, Wallace will be tested by a number of regional hopefuls — former Gov. Terry Sanford in North Carolina, Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen of Texas in his home state and in Tennessee, former Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia in that state and in Florida, and possibly Sen. Dale Bumpers in Arkansas.

U.N. CHARTER WAS ON COTTON FIBER NEW YORK (AP) — The 51 nations that signed the Charter of the United Nations each received an original copy of the historical document written on 100 per cent cotton fiber paper, says the Cotton Fiber Paper Council, Inc. Citlaltepetl, 18,701 feet, is the highest peak in Mexico.
