Southside Renewal Area Offered For 117 Units

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer
The Housing Authority has requested authorization from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to put the 117 housing units, originally planned for an area north of the river, in the Southside urban renewal area.

The Authority had examined several sites north of the river for the new housing project but in order to meet requirements of the Corps of Engineers' revised 100-year flood frequency report, the project would have to be moved so far north of the river that it would be remote in relation to shopping facilities, schools and recreational areas.

The Authority's executive director, Joe Laney, told commissioners Monday night that the revised guidelines offered by the flood frequency report means that the site north of the river would almost have to be ruled out.

According to Laney, the site proposed by the Authority in Southside would involve some 20 acres of "good, high land" and would front on Evans Street from 18th Street south towards Deck Street.

The director said that the site would not be affected by the Green Mill Run waters which would be further south of the proposed area.

Location of the 117 units in Southside would offer access to the shopping center, recreational center and Evans Street Park, and be within walking distance of S. Greenville Elementary School and the site of the proposed middle school for the city, it was noted. In addition, the new swimming pool would be nearby. As an alternative proposal or request for HUD, in the event HUD does not concur with the idea of putting all 117 units in Southside, the Authority has proposed that half of the units be placed in Southside and the other half in a site located in the vicinity of the present West Meadowbrook housing area. The West Meadowbrook site, Laney pointed out, could be developed to accommodate half of the units but would involve some moving of earth to bring the site up to proper elevation.

He indicated that the placement of the 117 units in Southside is the first priority recommendation to HUD while the use of the site for half of the units is submitted as an alternative proposal.

Laney said that word is expected from HUD soon on the housing site proposal.

Commissioners accepted a bid offered by John C. Proctor & Co. of Greenville in the amount of $5,228 for a two-year audit of the Housing Authority and Redevelopment Commission. The matter will also be brought before the Redevelopment Commission next week for consideration.

Assistant director J. C. Lamm said that the Proctor proposal was one of two received by the Authority for the audit work. The Certified Public Accounting firm of Lloyd Moody of Kinston offered a $5,990 bid for the audit, he said.

John C. Proctor & Co. handled the last audit for the Authority and Redevelopment Commission, Lamm pointed out.

Three units were vacant during July in the Authority's housing sections with average rents, according to the tenant occupancy report submitted by Mrs. Sallye Streeter, director of tenant affairs, including: N.C. 22-1 (Meadowbrook), $48.12; N.C. 22-2 (Kearney Park), $55.35; N.C. 22-3 (Moyewood), $52.07; N.C. 22-4 (Moyewood), $54.50; and N.C. 22-6 (Newtown), $52.64.

Commissioners authorized the attendance of two staff members at the Aug. 21-22 workshop of the Carolinas Council of Housing, Redevelopment and Codes Officials in Columbia, S.C.

Attendance of one person was also authorized at the workshop and annual meeting of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials, scheduled for Oct. 12-15 in Los Angeles.

Tobacco Growers Close Leaf Sales

By The Associated Press
Flue-cured tobacco farmers angry at low prices forced the closing Monday of auction sales at Whiteville, Lumberton and Fairmont on the North Carolina Border Belt.

At the same time, prices rose sharply, but not enough to satisfy them.

They asked Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz to take action to lift prices. And, in Washington, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and Rep. Ike Andrews, D-N.C., joined the farmers and elected officials who have called on Butz to announce immediately that there will be no increase, or a decrease, in 1976 allotments. They hoped this would stimulate prices.

Helms said he was confident that such an announcement soon would be forthcoming from Washington.

On the South Carolina and Border North Carolina Belt the price average jumped $4.93 a hundred pounds Monday, finishing at $96.16. Farmers have said they need an average of $105 to break even.

On the Eastern North Carolina Belt the average was $90.08, an increase of $3.78.

And on the Middle and Old

Belt the average of $86.92 was up $2.69.

William Edmonds, sales supervisor for tobacco warehouses in Whiteville, said the operators in that southeastern North Carolina city had agreed to suspend sales for only one day. He said it would not be fair to close a handful of marketing cities and leave the others open.

A spokesman for the Whiteville growers, Lynwood Edge, said, "If we close any markets, they will be different ones."

The shutdowns were generally peaceful. But tempers flared at Lumberton at Monday's two opening sales, and later auctions never materialized.

In Fairmont, sales supervisor Charlie Stafford said "some unpleasantness" prompted him to call off the last sale of the day.

Most of the leaf still on Border markets is from the lower stalk, not of higher quality.

Rescue Truck Bids Accepted

Pitt County Commissioners yesterday accepted bids for a new rescue truck for Farmville and re-appointed Rommie Mallison as a member of the Jury Commission.

The board approved awarding contracts for a new Farmville rescue vehicle to the low bidder, American Coaches Inc., whose bid totaled $12,695.07. Several other rescue vehicle suppliers bid for the contract but other base bids ran from just over $13,200 to more than $16,300.

Under the Governor's Highway Safety Program, which is contributing 50 per cent of the cost of the vehicle, the county is required to hold title to the truck even though the Town of Farmville is proving the other half of the cost of the vehicle.

Mallison was re-appointed to the Jury Commission for a two-year term by the board, which also approved an increase in the present $25 per diem paid Jury Commission members. The board upped the per diem pay to $35.

Other Jury Commission members include Herbert R. Brown, appointed by the resident Superior Court and Jessie R. Moye, an appointee of the Clerk of Superior Court.

Commissioners also approved use of the county sanitary landfill by Proctor and Gamble on Sundays during October and November, provided the firm pays the cost of operating the landfill on those days.

I-95 Project

RALEIGH (AP)—Construction of one of the final North Carolina segments of Interstate 95 will begin next month and be completed in 1979, highway administrator Billy Rose said Monday.

Rose said that the Board of Transportation last week gave approval to a $43.2 million contract for 25 miles of highway in Wilson, Nash and Johnston counties.

That approval, combined with related projects approved last month, means that 40 miles of the highway from north of Rocky Mount to Kenly in Johnston County are ready for construction.

Reduced To A Drip

BRUNG A LEAK—Edward Grant of the Greenville Utilities Commission prepares to stop a big leak that erupted in a downtown water main this morning. The eight inch water line was broken when a worker for Dover Construction struck an abandoned coupling. The jet of water, once reaching 30 feet in the air, was reduced to a drip in a few minutes after the break. Dover Construction is building the new downtown mall for the city. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Hotline gets things done for you. Call 752-1336 and tell your problem or your sound-off or mail it to Hotline, The Daily Reflector, Box 1967, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

Because of the large numbers received, Hotline can answer and publish only those items considered most pertinent to our readers. Names must be given, but only initials will be used. Transcribing is done once a day.

BILL CONSOLIDATION?

I would like to know if you know of a loan office in Raleigh or elsewhere that I can get all of my bills consolidated. H.D.

We quote from information sent us by the National Foundation for Consumer Credit: "There are dangers for individuals going to credit counselors. Some companies that call themselves counselors really provide only debt consolidation, giving the harassed debtor a substitute loan at an exorbitant interest rate and thus plunging him deeper in debt than ever. It is recommended that debtors carefully check out a counseling agency—especially a commercial one—with local consumer groups before using it."

The National Foundation for Consumer Credit Inc. sponsors Consumer Credit Counseling Services in six North Carolina cities—Charlotte, Greensboro, High Point, Winston-Salem, Asheville, and Statesville. However they told Hotline that usually it takes an area or township of at least 100,000 population to warrant the establishment of such a service. They did suggest, however, that interested persons contact the directors of the CCCS closest to Greenville and ask about the feasibility of opening a branch office here.

The service offered the individual or family usually includes going over the financial situation thoroughly, weaning them from buying on credit, pro-rating payments until their bills are paid, setting up a realistic budget and sometimes even appealing to creditors to lengthen contracts, stop finance charges on extended payments, or whatever seems needed.

Hotline hears every day from people who apparently need this service. Perhaps it will be made available eventually. In the meantime, though, we have learned that the Home Extension Service offers this counseling service for individuals and families and the Agricultural Extension Service does the same for business and farm enterprises. Mrs. Evelyn Spangler emphasized that any help given in this area is completely confidential, that when she helps someone work out a budget and payments, she does not even feel free to discuss it within the office.

Dollar Day Scheduled Thursday

DOLLAR DAY . . . Mrs. Mattie Ferguson, employee of a local store, reduces the prices of several articles of clothing in preparation for Dollar Day Thursday.

Greenville's annual August Dollar Day event will be held citywide Thursday.

According to Harold Creech, manager of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association, this is the final clearance of summer merchandise so local merchants can make room for the winter merchandise that is coming in.

Free parking will be available for shoppers during the one day event.

Creech said officials of the Redevelopment Commission had informed him that the sidewalks will remain intact until after Dollar Day for the convenience of shoppers.

Dave Mosier, secretary of the Downtown Greenville Association, said three characters from the Land Of Oz in Boone will be in Greenville on Dollar Day.

Sponsored by the Downtown Greenville Association, the characters, including Dorothy, Tin Man and Straw Man, will be in downtown Greenville during the morning and afternoon.

Creech encouraged area shoppers to be in Greenville on Thursday to see the many bargains local merchants would have for them.

Japan Delivers 5 Prisoners In Deal

By HARI S. MANIAM
Associated Press Writer
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—A Japanese airliner arrived in Kuala Lumpur today with five Japanese Red Army guerrillas freed from Japanese prisons to be exchanged for up to 50 hostages held by terrorists in the U.S. Embassy. The captives include the American consul.

Airport workers immediately began refueling the plane and stocking it with food to carry the gunmen out of Malaysia. However, airport officials said the plane's crew was insisting on a 12-hour rest before taking off again.

Malaysian Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said earlier the destination of the terrorists had yet to be negotiated. A civil aviation department spokesman said the plane's fuel load would give it a flying range of 5,000 miles.

More than 500 armed policemen, including many sharpshooters, were stationed at the airport, about 14 miles from Kuala Lumpur, when the Japan Airlines DC8 landed at 7:45 p.m.—8:15 a.m. EDT—with the freed guerrillas. The airport was closed to the public and to all other flights for a three-hour period.

Among the five released were two deported from Sweden last March after being accused of plotting an attack on embassies there. They were Kazuo Tohira and Jun Nishikawa, who was involved in an attack on the French embassy at The Hague last September.

About six gunmen burst into the 12-story American International Assurance building housing the U.S. Embassy on Monday. They originally demanded the release of seven imprisoned members of the fanatical, leftist Red Army. They also asked for a Japan Air Lines plane to be used in their getaway from Kuala Lumpur.

They threatened to blow up the building and their hostages, including U.S. Consul Robert Stebbins and Swedish Charge d'Affaires Fredrik Bergrastrahle, if their demands were not met.

Miss Cynthia Ann Moore Find Another Car Speaks Vows Saturday Pool To Work

AYDEN—In a double ring ceremony Sunday at 4:00 p.m., Miss Cynthia Ann Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowenburg Hough Moore, became the bride of Benjamin Wright Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. George William Sanford Sr. of Oldhams, Va.

The Rev. Travis Owen solemnized the candlelight ceremony in the Ayden United Methodist Church.

Urns of white gladioli and killian daisies were used on both sides of the altar with jade palms completing the background.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. B. T. Norris, organist. Mrs. James Webster Lee, aunt of the bride, sang "One Hand, One Heart," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding a formal gown of silk organza over peau de soie. The gown, styled along princess lines, featured scallops of Venise lace encircling the colonial neckline. Two Venise flowerette appliques bordered the sheer yoke and were connected with sprays of lace. The lace edged the long tapered sleeves and continued down the lines of the gown into the skirt. The flowerette appliques and lace sprays were used on the skirt which flowed into a chapel length train.

Her veil of imported silk illusion fell in double layers from a Camelot cap of Venise lace appliques. Sprays of lace beading accented the cap and trimmed the chapel length illusion. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. James Calandro of

MRS. BENJAMIN WRIGHT SANFORD

Matawan, N.J., was the honor attendant. She wore a formal length gown of floral organza in hues of rose pink, blue, dandelion yellow and spring green. The open squared neckline was outlined with white scalloped Venise lace. Matching lace bordered the short tulip sleeves. She wore a dandelion yellow garden hat and carried a colonial nosegay of yellow daisies with white lace streamers.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. George Guthrie of Rocky Mount, Mrs. Diane Hill of Ayden, Miss Bonnie Lynn Lee, Miss Cora Pauline Lee and junior bridesmaid, Caroline Desmond Lee, cousins of the bride of Greenville. Their gowns, garden hats and nosegays were similar to those of the honor attendant. Honorary bridesmaids were Mrs. Harry Barber of Williamston, Miss Zella Cooper of Greensboro, Miss Anne Dameron of Kinsale, Va., and Miss Sally Thumma of Carlisle, Pa. They carried miniature white daisy nosegays with lace streamers.

The father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Linwood Hough Moore, brother of the bride, George William Sanford Jr. of Montross, Va., Robert G. Sanford of Oldhams, Va., brothers of the bridegroom, Gregory Wright III of Kinsale, Va., and Edward Sanford of Fredericksburg, Va., cousins of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a formal ensemble of blue chiffon. A white cymbidium orchid was pinned to her beaded bag. The mother of the bridegroom wore a yellow chiffon, formal length gown with long sheer, embroidered sleeves. Her shoulder corsage was a white cymbidium orchid. Mrs. R. Linwood Moore, grandmother of the bride, wore a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Harry W. Stillman directed the wedding.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at the Ayden Golf and Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Payne of Greenville greeted guests and directed them to the receiving line.

After the bride and bridegroom cut the traditional first slice of wedding cake, Mrs. Adaler Coates of Hague, Va., and Mrs. James Everett served guests. The refreshment table was centered with a silver and crystal pedestal container holding an arrangement of white roses, yellow and white snapdragons and daisies. Punch was poured by Mrs. H. P. Streep of Greenville and Mrs. Theron Mills.

Miss Elizabeth Hyman of Greenville and Mrs. William Shelton presided at the guest register. Good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. John McCotter Ewell of Greenville.

On Saturday evening, the parents of the bridegroom entertained the wedding party and out-of-guests at an after-rehearsal dinner at the Ayden Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. R. Linwood Moore, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. James Webster Lee, aunt and uncle of the bride, and Mrs. R. L. Worthington of Winterville, great aunt of the bride, entertained the wedding party at a wedding breakfast at the Candlewick Inn Sunday.

The bride attended Greensboro College and graduated from East Carolina University. The bridegroom graduated from Virginia Commonwealth University and received his Master's degree from the University of Virginia. The bride and bridegroom are teachers in the Westmoreland County, Virginia School System.

After a wedding trip to Cape Eleuthera, Bahamas, the couple will reside near Mount Holly, Va.

Parties Given Miss Hardee

Miss Debbie Hardee, bride-elect of Ronnie Leggett, was honored Friday night at a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Hubert Edwards.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. William Crawford and Mrs. Charlie L. Hardee. The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of mixed summer flowers.

The honoree was remembered with a yellow mum corsage and presented silver in her chosen pattern.

Miss Hardee was honored at a lingerie shower Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Buster Hardee.

Assisting Mrs Hardee were Miss Diane Hudson and Miss Doreen Hardee.

The honoree was remembered with a white carnation corsage.

Miss Hardee and Mr. Leggett, whose marriage is to take place Aug. 15, were entertained Saturday night with a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cox.

Friends and members of the family were invited guests. The honoree was presented a gift of linens, from the host and hostess.

DEAR ABBY: I am a firm believer in wearing seatbelts whenever I am riding in an automobile. I belong to a car pool, which is a necessity because my work is 50 miles from home—which means 100 miles of auto driving every day, five days a week.

Now, the problem: One of the men I ride with has his seatbelts tied up in such a way that it's impossible to use them.

I once asked him if it would be okay if I untied one for my use, and he flatly refused my request.

What do you suggest?

NO SEATBELT

DEAR NO: The solution is clear. Drop out of his pool and find another means of transportation more to your liking.

DEAR ABBY: We don't have any problems, but after being married for 25 years and as much in love as ever, we wonder if you have ever heard of anyone else in our situation.

We are husband and wife—also brother and sister. We have been close as long as we can remember. There is a difference of two years between us. We were raised in a big city. All through high school we went together. We tried dating others, but preferred each other.

We never realized the depth of our feelings until our parents were killed in an automobile accident. We were 17 and 19. We continued to live together, remembering that our parents told us always to stick together because we had no close relatives.

One night while discussing our future, we broke down and admitted our feelings for each other. A week later we went to a state that allowed first cousins to marry, claimed to be cousins and were married.

We moved as far away from our home as possible to break off all ties there and keep our secret. We are considered good citizens in our community, and have two healthy children and one healthy grandchild.

We know that society does not accept what we have done, but it has worked out perfectly for us. Have you or any of your readers ever known of a situation like ours? Please keep our name confidential. Every word of this letter is true.

MRS. AND MRS. X.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. X.: I thought I had heard everything, but this is a "first."

DEAR ABBY: We recently attended a dinner party at the home of a friend who served chicken prepared with a wine sauce. She proudly announced it to all her guests.

My husband is a controlled alcoholic and has never been ashamed to admit it. He's a big leader in A.A.—a fact known to our hostess.

Abby, my husband ate the chicken and it didn't bother him, but isn't it possible for an alcoholic to get set off on an alcoholic binge by tasting the wine?

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: Chicken cooked in wine is no threat to an alcoholic because the alcohol cooks out. However, a liqueur topping on ice cream can be clearly tasted and therefore is not recommended.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Strickland-Mosley Vows Said

In a double ring ceremony Sunday at 4:00 p.m., Miss Sheri Ann Mosley became the bride of Terry Eugene Strickland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Norman Bennett in the Memorial Baptist Church.

Joe Goodwin, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Mosley Jr., was given in marriage by her father. Her formal gown with a chapel train, designed by Marland Moore, was fashioned of peau de soie featuring a sweetheart neckline framed with imported French lace and seed pearls. A panel of lace and seed pearls adorned the front of the gown from the neck to hemline. The long chiffon sleeves were cuffed with peau de soie, and trimmed with lace and pearls.

The shoulder length veil of illusion and French lace was attached to a band of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses, white daisies, baby's breath and English ivy.

The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene G. Strickland of Grimesland.

Miss Jeri Fenn Mosley was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of mint green crepe trimmed with Venetian lace and satin ribbon. The empire gown featured a sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves. Her headpiece was a band of Venetian lace trimmed with satin ribbon. She carried a white wicker basket filled with white daisies and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Joe Toothman, Mrs. Marshall Ennis, of Greenville, Miss Ellen Mosley, cousin of the bride, of Ozark, Ala., and Miss Cathy Cope, cousin of the bride, of Evergreen, Ala. Their gowns were styled identical to the honor attendant's. They carried baskets of white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Patti Mosley of Ozark, Ala., and Miss Sara Margaret Cope of Evergreen, Ala., cousins of the bride, were honorary bridesmaids. They wore formal gowns and corsages of daisies.

Mr. Strickland was his son's best man. Ushers were Danny Strickland of Grimesland, brother of the bridegroom, Bob Mosley, brother of the bride, Joe Toothman and Staton Taylor, all in Greenville.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother selected a formal gown of aqua chiffon. She wore a corsage of Marguerite daisies and baby's breath. The bridegroom's mother chose a formal gown of peach polyester. Her corsage was Marguerite daisies and baby's breath.

The grandmothers were honored with corsages of summer daisies.

Mrs. John H. Mosley of Ozark, Ala., the bride's aunt, directed the wedding.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a two-piece dress of sky blue polyester knit. She wore her mother's corsage of Marguerite daisies. The couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride is a graduate of J. H. Rose High School and is a junior at East Carolina University, where she is a member of Kappa Delta Pi honorary fraternity. The bridegroom is a graduate of J. H. Rose High School and Lenoir Community College. He is employed at Eaton Corp.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception in the church fellowship hall was given by the bride's parents.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a candelabra arrangement of yellow and white summer flowers. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Sam Cope, aunt of the bride. The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Danny Strickland poured punch.

The bride's register was attended by Sara Margaret Cope and Patti Mosley. Dan Strickland, the bridegroom's nephew, presented the guests with rice bags.

The members of the Strickland-Mosley wedding party and out-of-town guests were entertained Saturday, at a after-rehearsal dinner at the Bonanza Restaurant. Host and hostess for the dinner were the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Jerry W. Fenn and Mrs. John H. Mosley honored the bride at brides maids luncheon Saturday at the Ramada Inn.

The table was centered with pink and white summer flowers. A corsage of pink miniature carnations was presented to the bride.

Household Hints

Never open a warm bottle or can of paint remover. Many are flammable, and should be stored in a cool place. Better yet, buy only as much as you need at one time. When you open the container, cover the cap with a cloth and point the opening away from you.

Some brands of dietetic cookies are high in calories because they are especially made for low-salt rather than low-calorie diets.

Bridge Winners Announced

Wednesday afternoon duplicate winners at Planters Bank were: Mrs. J.S. Rhodes Jr. and Mrs. Roger Critcher Jr., first; Mrs. Beulah Eagles and Mrs. W.R. Harris, second; Mrs. William Parvin and George Martin, third; Mrs. Eli Bloom and Mrs. M.H. Bynum, fourth; Mrs. John Proctor and Mrs. J.M. Horton, fifth.

Saturday afternoon winners included:

North-South: Mrs. John Proctor and David Proctor, first; Mrs. J.M. Horton and Mrs. W.R. Harris, second; Mrs. George Martin and Lewis Newsome, third; Mrs. J.W.H. Roberts and Mrs. C.I. McClelland, fourth.

East-West: Mrs. Elizabeth Roque and Dr. Charles Duffy, first; Neil Bellinger and John Cotty, second; Mrs. Robert Barnhill and Mrs. Robert Poindexter, third; Mrs. Myrtle Johnson and Claude Goodman, fourth.

Fortas Calls For Strengthening Presidential Impeachment Laws

By MICHAEL PRECKER
Associated Press Writer
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas called for a strengthening of the presidential impeachment process here Monday, but former U.S. Sen. Sam Ervin later disagreed, preferring "eternal vigilance" to safeguard the present system.

of several hundred on the "most solemn obligation" of preserving America's freedom. "We can't sit back and breathe a sigh of relief because President Nixon resigned," Fortas said. "Mr. Nixon was not removed from office by Congressional procedure; his tapes removed him from office. The standards and procedures of impeachment are not adequate to remove a runaway president."

Fortas suggested a system whereby a President accused of crimes would face an immediate vote on his re-election or removal.

Ervin, the North Carolina

Democrat who served as chairman of the Senate Watergate committee before his retirement this year, was advised of Fortas' remarks and said, "I don't think we ought to tear down the Constitution just because we get one bad apple in 200 years."

The former chief justice's suggestions included replacing the present system of appointed cabinet members with elected senators and representatives; forcing the Joint Chiefs of Staff to resign their commissions to keep civilian control of the military and strengthening the Central Intelligence Agency to make it more effective abroad.

"We should thoroughly resolve the current situation and insure that violations of its charter in the future will be effectively checked," Fortas said.

The 78-year-old former Senate Democrat said the greatest threat to freedom is "over-zealous offices of government. Some politicians have an inordinate thirst for power," he remarked, adding that the Constitution serves to restrain such individuals.

"The struggle between freedom and tyranny never ceases," Ervin said. "We have to worry about it being nibbled away a piece at a time."

Ervin advocated instituting a permanent special prosecutor's office separate from the executive branch.

"I think the Watergate affair would have been disclosed much earlier if you had a Justice Department that wasn't under pressure from the White House," he said, crediting "good investigative reporting and a courageous judge" for finally uncovering the scandal that drove Nixon from office.

Since his retirement, Ervin said he has been doing "a little writing and a lot of speaking. It's nice not having all those committee meetings to go to."

Reminded that this week is the first anniversary of former President Nixon's resignation, Ervin said, "I haven't thought too much about that."

Ten Persons Injured In Five Traffic Accidents

Ten persons were reported injured and an estimated $5,850 property damage caused in a series of five traffic collisions investigated by Police here yesterday.

Heaviest damage reported resulted from a 6:50 a.m. collision at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Greenfield Boulevard involving cars driven by Johnnie Clayton Roberson of Route 4, Greenville and Christine Padgett Herring of Route 6, Greenville.

Officers, who charged Mrs. Herring with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety, reported she was injured in the crash.

Six persons were reported injured when cars driven by Earline Henderson Marshall of 117D Lakeview Terrace, Jean Woolard Allen of 2913 Rose St., and Benjamin Frank Jackson of 1509 Broad St. collided about 10:14 a.m. at the intersection of Fourth and Pitt Streets.

Officers said Marshall, Mrs. Allen and two passengers in each of their cars were injured.

Marshall was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety by investigators, who estimated damage at $300 to the Marshall car, $800 to the Allen vehicle and $150 to the Jackson auto.

Cars operated by Dwain

Edward Johnson of 1921A Norcott Cir. and Norman Ray Vanhorn of Route 1, Greenville collided about 4:55 p.m. at the intersection of Tenth Street and Dickinson Avenue according to police.

Both Johnson and Vanhorn, as well as a passenger in the Johnson car were reported injured in the mishap.

Johnson was charged with failing to stop for a red light and officers estimated damage at $500 to the Johnson car and $750 to the Vanhorn vehicle.

Police said investigation is continuing in a 1:50 p.m. mishap at the Line-Bancroft Avenue intersection which involved cars driven by Louise Bunting Elks of Route 5, Greenville and Nellie Ross Hines of 604 Bancroft Ave., as well as a truck owned by Bobbie Carroll Corbett of Bell Arthur.

Officers estimated damage at $700 to the Elks car, $300 to the Hines auto and $150 to the Corbett truck.

Mary Little Hall of Route 5, Greenville was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of a 12:50 p.m. collision on Greene Street, 20 feet South of the Mumford Road intersection.

Investigators reported the Hall car collided with a truck operated by Lloyd Cleveland Lancaster of 1409 North Washington St. resulting in an estimated $50 damage to the truck and $250 damage to the car.

Farmville Mart Volume Heavy

FARMVILLE—The volume of sales on the Farmville Tobacco Market yesterday was the heaviest of the season as the market sold 841,718 pounds of tobacco for $780,364. The market averaged $92.71 per hundred pounds.

"Offerings consisted of mostly primings and lugs," said Louis Williams, sales supervisor of the Farmville market. "More quality grades accounted for a much higher average yesterday."

The volume of nondescript grades was off yesterday as compared with Thursday. Some grades of leaf sold for as high as $1.15 per pound. Stabilization receipts were the lightest of the season.

To date, the market has sold 5,310,137 pounds for $4,636,973, for an average of $87.32 per hundred pounds for the season.

Greenville Native Killed In Collision

WEAVERVILLE—Greenville native, Mrs. Barbara Minges Davis, was killed instantly when her car was struck by a rock-loaded dump truck near here Monday morning.

Trooper Ed Robinson of the N.C. Highway Patrol said Mrs. Davis was traveling alone along a stretch of Highway N.C. 197 under construction about four miles from Weaverville and about 12 miles north of Asheville. She came to a point where she had to make a 180-degree left turn from a temporary driveway onto a four-lane stretch. He hypothesized that she looked in the direction from which traffic usually travels, but not in the opposite direction from which the working dump truck was moving. She pulled directly into the path of the truck at approximately 11:25 a.m., he reported.

Trooper Robinson identified the driver of the truck as Earl Blankenship of Burnsville.

Mrs. Davis, 30, was the wife of Thomas Mellwaine Davis Jr. They lived on Rt. 2, Weaverville. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Minges of Greenville and the daughter-in-law of the Rev. and Mrs. Tom Davis, also of Greenville.

Set Crafts And Movies Program

On Wednesday night from 6:30 until 9:00 the Greenville Recreation Department will have a girl's crafts and movies extravaganza starting promptly at 6:30. Girls will have two crafts to make followed by refreshments and movies. Girls from 7 to 17 are invited to attend. There will be 25 cents charge.

For further information call the Greenville Recreation Department, 752-4137, extension 251.

Bicycle Rodeo In Winterville

WINTERVILLE—A bicycle rodeo will be held at the A.G. Cox School recreation center Thursday from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. for young people between the ages of nine and 15 in the Winterville area.

The event is being sponsored by the Pitt County 4-H Club in conjunction with the Winterville Recreation Department.

Johnny Harrellson of Farmville will show the participants the proper maintenance of bicycles for better operation. Bill Whitehurst, police chief of Winterville, will discuss safety rules and regulations and demonstrate how these should be carried out. Mike Sutton of the Winterville Recreation Department will assist in the program.

SERIOUS EXPRESSIONS—Former Senator Edward Gurney and his daughter Sarah Gurney Stoner leave the federal courthouse in Tampa, Fla. yesterday after the jury brought in a partial verdict which Judge Ben Krentzman promptly sealed. The jury was then instructed to go back and try again, even though they were emphatic about being at a deadlock. (AP Wirephoto)

PAGE Group Meets Thursday

The Parents for Advancement of Gifted Education (PAGE) will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Social Security Building, 103 Plaza Dr.

Interested persons are invited to attend.

Between Aug. 24 and Oct. 3, 1572, some 50,000 Huguenots or French Protestants were killed in the St. Bartholomew Massacre at the instigation of Catherine de Medici.

More Big Brotherism Looms

If some government officials have their way the nation will be in for more Big Brotherism in the form of bans on cigarettes of a certain tar and nicotine content.

Casper Weinburger, Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, announced this last week.

It immediately drew a response from Rep. Walter B. Jones of North Carolina's First Congressional District. Jones, who is chairman of the House tobacco subcommittee, called the request an effort by the government to "interfere in the private lives of American citizens who enjoy smoking and who should have a choice of brands."

We agree wholeheartedly with Rep. Jones in his assessment of this unwarranted proposal.

Smoking or not smoking is a choice that all citizens of our country can make for themselves. And likewise, each one of us, if we choose to smoke, should have the right to purchase the brand of cigarette which we want.

Bureaucrats more and more want to tell us what to do, what is good for us and what is bad for us. Obviously there are many things which humans find to do that are bad for them, but often it is a matter of opinion whether it is good or bad. Regardless the choice should be ours in a free country.

If the government agencies want to warn of the hazards of smoking that is all well and good, but once the warnings have been sounded then it is up to any free citizenry to choose. That is so obvious to us that we wonder how a free society can stand by as government officials attempt to ban certain products because those officials, in their infinite wisdom, adjudge those products bad for us.

There are many dangers to life in our modern society—driving, liquor, air travel, they can all kill you; yet we don't ban them. We advise caution and it is up to the individual citizen to decide the extent of participation.

We hope this latest cigarette ban proposal will be quickly rejected by Congress. It doesn't deserve any positive consideration.

Kooks Keep Calling

By PETER J. BOYER
Associated Press Writer
SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — When Chuck McCracken made the decision to unplug himself from his life-saving kidney dialysis machine, he said he wanted to die "peacefully and quietly." But the McCracken household has been bustling ever since his story got worldwide attention.

Last week, his home was invaded by television crews, and broadcast and print media from as far away as London have been in contact with the McCrackens every day since he made known his decision to die.

"We had no idea that this would blossom into such worldwide coverage," McCracken said Sunday.

The 36-year-old McCracken, who had to leave his job as a television repairman when he lost his vision eight years ago, has diabetes and suffers from a diseased thyroid. Last March, he lost the use of his legs.

Given only a 30 per cent chance of living for one year even if he continued the dialysis treatment, McCracken "put the matter in the hands of Jesus."

He made his decision to die on July 22, saying the dialysis treatment — in which a machine filters wastes from the blood — was "sheer agony for me."

He told his doctors at Loma Linda University Medical Center of his decision and went home to face death in the solace of his family.

McCracken said his doctors predicted he might not live past his 37th birthday next Tuesday.

Since his story became known, there has been anything but solitude for McCracken, his wife, Barbara, and their four young children.

"We're getting so many calls, lots of them from kooks," said Mrs. McCracken. "We've had calls that ask us to try everything from mineral water to acupuncture. There are those who want to pray for my husband, and some people have called saying he should turn to God. These people just don't understand the complications in his case."

Will Arbitration Be Key?

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — The major provider of malpractice insurance for North Carolina's medical community thinks the answer to the dilemma lies in binding arbitration—not in a smattering of different laws which don't really get at the heart of the problem.

Across the nation, some states are experimenting with laws setting top dollar limits to be awarded in malpractice suits; panels of doctors and lawyers to review suits and rule on the merits of cases; re-insurance pools such as those recently required in North Carolina; changed rate schedules for malpractice insurance to keep the coverage in force.

Too Complex
"None of these approaches really get at the heart of the matter today... it is too complex for simple solutions," says David C. McDonell, a representative of the St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co.—better known as the St. Paul. The greatest potential is "binding arbitration as to negligence and damages... it would cut expenses, and time, in settling suits," McDonell says.

Arbitration would also take malpractice settlement out of the courts where those close to the scene see expanded rewards and definitions setting alarming trends for future malpractice cases; and where attorneys working on a split-free basis push for awards in border-line cases.

Basically, this is how arbitration would work:

Upon first visit to a doctor, the patient would sign an arbitration agreement stating that if anything goes wrong which might be considered grounds for a malpractice suit, he would agree to have the matter handled by a hearing board rather than the courts.

A clause in that agreement would provide particular period of time after treatment during which the patient could rescine his arbitration agreement and file suit against the doctor.

A panel might be established in numerous ways—possibly through state legislation—which would provide the experts for settlement of the case.

Such a procedure, McDonell feels, would allow for coldly realistic appraisal of malpractice complaints, would remove emotions from the process, and would permit realistic dollar awards rather than some of the sharply escalating figures coming from juries.

A New System

Meanwhile, St. Paul has set a deadline of August 15 for Insurance Commissioner John Ingram to rule on its proposal to change insurance rating on malpractice coverage from the present "occurrence" policy to a "claims-made" coverage.

Presently, any suit filed for any year in which the doctor had insurance is covered. The new system would provide insurance only as long as the doctor is covered continually by St. Paul; in effect guaranteeing long-term commitments by medical people to buy that firm's insurance. Additionally, rates would be based on each year's actual loss experience rather than on estimates of losses which might be based on future suits filed years after the particular year in which a premium was in force.

North Carolina now ranks 38th nationally, with a general practitioner paying $175 yearly for insurance. That would go up to $192 yearly under claims-made; and up to $336 yearly at the end of five years under the system, based on company projections.

Specialists, of course, pay more. An orthopedic surgeon, for instance, now pays $871 yearly; would pay $1,251 the first year under the new system; and $2,428 yearly at the end of five years.

The INSIDE REPORT

The Reagan Commitment

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON—In response to demands from agitated conservative Republican Congressmen, Ronald Reagan's top supporter virtually pledged in private last week that Reagan definitely would announce his candidacy for President within two months and enter at least three early primaries against President Ford.

Sen. Paul Laxalt of Nevada, chairman of the national Reagan for President committee, made the commitment last Wednesday afternoon to some 15 Congressmen in a closed-door session just off the House floor. Going far beyond his previous assurances, Laxalt pointed to an early autumn announcement of candidacy with Reagan entering New Hampshire and at least two other primaries.

This may arrest the panic among Reaganite Congressmen the Mr. Ford is walking off with the nomination because of Reagan's lassitude—a fear privately shared by some top Reagan strategists. But it also sharply reduces Reagan's desired freedom to keep all options open. Ever since the Easter recess, conservative House members have pressed for a personal meeting with Reagan to probe his intentions. They have been stalled by Reagan lieutenants, who feared Reagan would be so non-committal that he would make matters worse. So, the Congressmen finally settled for Wednesday's session with Sen. Laxalt and Reagan campaign manager John Sears.

Laxalt's unexpectedly strong commitment satisfied doubts of such ardent Reaganite Congressmen as Reps. Philip Crane of Illinois and Steven Symms of Idaho. But others remained dubious—particularly Rep. John Rousset of California.

Rousset told Laxalt he had heard of Reagan fatcats in California negotiating with Ford campaign manager Howard Callaway about a possible Ford-Reagan ticket. Rousset was not satisfied by Laxalt's response that he was not interested in the vice presidency for Reagan.

Barring an immediate announcement of candidacy, Rousset and other skeptics, such as Rep. Robert Bauman of Maryland, will be satisfied only by a private commitment from Reagan's own mouth.

HHH:

No Vandenberg
Last glimmerings of hope at the White House that Hubert H. Humphrey would serve Gerald R. Ford as Arthur Vandenberg aided Harry Truman a generation ago were snuffed out last Monday when Humphrey voted against the proposed Diego Garcia naval base in the Indian Ocean.

Presidential aides were counting on Sen. Humphrey's help and feared his defection might erase their slim margin. That climaxed a long series of disappointments since last fall when the White House saw Humphrey playing a Vandenberg role for a bipartisan foreign policy. He has consistently withdrawn his promised support on issues large and small, from aid to Indochina to confirmation of a deputy disarmament director.

In private, Humphrey almost always agrees with administration foreign policy positions. But when he gets in the Senate Democratic cloakroom, he moves left to his own party's prevailing line. Unlike Vandenberg, who made himself a pariah to the Republican right, Humphrey is unwilling to alienate the Democratic left—perhaps because of dreams for a presidential last hurrah in 1976.

A Democrat who lately has been considerably less welcome than Humphrey at the White House—Sen.

Henry M. Jackson—probably saved the Diego Garcia vote. While administration vote-counters trembled that the Senate might pass the resolution disapproving funds for the naval bases, Jackson helped round up enough votes to defeat it, 53 to 43.

A footnote: With Humphrey defecting, the only full-fledged liberal Democratic Senator voting for Diego Garcia was a surprise: Sen. Adlai Stevenson III of Illinois. Stevenson has been working closely with Jackson on energy and foreign policy questions.

Muzzling Callaway
Rep. Barber Conable, the conservative chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, played a key backstage role in turning off the self-defeating anti-Rockefeller operation conducted by Ford campaign manager Howard H. (Bo) Callaway.

Actually, Conable is far closer to his old congressional crosby, President Ford, than to his fellow New Yorker, Vice President Rockefeller. On July 25, just before the President's departure for Europe, Conable advised him to call off Callaway. Mr. Ford's greatest political asset is his reputation for sincerity and lack of deviousness, said Conable, and the anti-Rockefeller campaign was eroding that asset.

On Monday, July 28, Conable said much the same thing to Callaway, his fellow (Continued on page 5)

The Food Stamp Rip-Off

A first order of business in the Senate Agriculture Committee, once Congress returns from its August recess, will be the matter of food stamp reform. The problem cries out for attention. Chairman Herman Talmadge of Georgia has promised to provide it.

Not even the much-abused program of public aid to families with dependent children has provoked the resentment now directed toward food stamps. Over the years many federal programs have become "rip offs"—crop subsidies, oil depletion, soft foreign loans, special tax privileges for sham foundations. But in the food stamp program, Congress unwittingly has created the biggest rip off of them all.

When the Food Stamp Act was adopted in 1964, the commendable idea was to assist the truly needy in obtaining a nutritionally adequate diet. A secondary purpose (which accounts for administration by Agriculture rather than by Welfare) was to promote the disposal of agricultural surpluses. The program got under way in March of 1965 with a caseload of 442,000 and an annual outlay of $36 million. One in 439 Americans was receiving food stamps.

The program that began as an innocent baby has become a Frankenstein's monster. Just before he left for Helsinki, President Ford sent a despairing message to Congress asking for a further supplementary appropriation to finance food stamps for the present fiscal year.

Brace yourself. Some 20 million persons—roughly one of every 12—are now riding this gravy train. Mr. Ford asked for $6.8 billion to keep it going.

Under present law, the President had no alternative. The food stamp budget is open-ended. Until the law is changed, the taxpayers must put up whatever sums may be required to cover food stamp redemption. An estimated 57.3 million persons are potentially eligible—one out of four—at a cost of $15 to $20 billion a year. This is madness.

Senator James L. Buckley of New York has taken the lead in a growing Senate movement for reform. Congressman Robert H. Michel of Illinois is marshaling troops in the House. Thus far the effort is mostly a Republican effort, but perceptive Democrats will want to get on the right side of this issue. It is outrageous for the great body of American taxpayers to be saddled any longer with food subsidies unneeded and undeserved.

Buckley and Michel have done their homework. They are circulating a critical analysis of faults in the present act, and they have introduced a bill to correct at least the grossest abuses. Their object is to rewrite the eligibility rules, and to take positive steps against rampant fraud.

The present eligibility formula is so loosely structured that four-member families with incomes up to $12,000 can—and do—qualify for food stamps. Buckley and Michel provide the example of a family with earnings of $1,000 a month. The formula required (Continued on page 5)

Other Editors Say High N.C. Taxes

(Wilson Times)

You are hearing more and more complaints because of the high taxes we have to pay in this state, and the complaining is justified.

North Carolina ranks 14th among the 50 states and the District of Columbia in the amount families pay in state and local taxes. Wisconsin residents pay the highest taxes and Louisiana the lowest taxes.

As there are only 50 states and the District of Columbia, North Carolina, as the 14th state in high taxes, has an honor we cannot afford. Industries, when they consider locating in a state or place, look up the tax rate as it will be a deciding factor in selecting a location.

Money Magazine reported that North Carolinians paid an average of $2,043 a year in taxes compared with the $3,219 paid by Wisconsin residents and $662 paid by Louisianians. The Southern states that rank below North Carolina are South Carolina, 34th with an average of $1,626; Virginia ranks 25th with an average of $1,727; Tennessee ranks 47th with an average of $1,014. Georgia ranks 30th with an average of $1,667.

As has been pointed out, Wisconsin has the highest tax, Minnesota is 2nd and New York is 3rd. You can go on quoting until you reach the 50th state but we are going to give you some further information as to the taxes we pay and that other states do not pay. Alaska, Delaware, Montana, New Hampshire and Oregon have no sales tax.

Here are the states which have no state income tax: Connecticut, Florida, Nevada, New Jersey, South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming.

Here are the states which have income tax on interest and dividends only: New Hampshire, Tennessee.

There is little wonder you hear complaining as to the taxes you have to pay. You pay a state sales tax, a local sales tax, a county tax and a city tax.

You pay a state income tax and a tax on dividends. There are only three states which do as much for public school education as does North Carolina. So you are not surprised to read that taxes are high in this state, and money is spent freely on many things which are not necessary. We are grateful for one thing, the North Carolina Constitution does not allow the state to operate except under a balanced budget.

Uneasy Signs From 'Indicator'

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — If the price-earnings ratio of stock is a reliable indicator of future business and economic prospects then Americans have reason to pause, ponder and probably become a little bit uneasy.

One year ago, when the economy was plunging into the deepest abyss since the 1930s, the P-E ratio of the Dow Jones Industrial Average was 8.4. At the beginning of this week it was almost the same—8.8.

A P-E ratio is a judgment about the future earnings of a company. If the public is uncertain or pessimistic about a company's future it will be unwilling to pay a price many times the current earnings.

In contrast, if the company's and the economy's futures looks good, investors will be willing to bid up the price of the stock in order to get in on the action the P-E ratio will rise.

During the expansion years of the 1960s the typical P-E ratio ranged from just under 14 to nearly 19. Expressing their confidence, investors were willing to pay 14 to 19 times current earnings to own stock.

The marketplace today does not reflect confidence or certainty, at least of the euphoric kind that occasionally emanates from some government officials and perhaps a few businessmen.

Investors are holding back, trying to assess the future, but apparently are unable to make up their minds. When such a situation exists the market either withers or buying and selling activity nearly match.

A random survey of market analysts' letters indicates that inflation and interest rates are high among the imponderables now confronting investors, just as they were a year ago.

When interest rates rise they add to the cost of doing business, and therefore lower profits. Moreover, high interest rates siphon money from stocks into bonds. The stock market becomes noncompetitive.

The rising prime interest rate therefore is acting like a flashing red light. Big institutional investors and sophisticated individuals refrain from committing themselves to stock on the chance the bond market might become better.

Inflation, of course, is bad news in many ways. It cuts into profits. It presages an eventual downturn in the economy. It makes it difficult for industry to plan.

Planning takes place best in a stable economy. No business wants to make long-term commitments of labor and capital only to find that the conditions that led to such plans were ephemeral.

Businessmen today have examples of that error—all about them, most noticeably in the automotive industry, but also in retailing, banking, air travel and many more. They made their plans when times were good; they made their plans with insufficient information about the future.

Corporations understandably are wary of committing themselves to a future they cannot see, and that hesitancy is shared by those who would invest in them.

One year ago many analysts blamed the three I's—inflation, interest rates and impeachment—for creating uncertainty.

Now, despite all that has transpired in the economy, two of those I's still remain.

Strength For Today

IN THE IMAGE OF GOD
What does the Bible mean when it says that man is made in the image of God? Long ago people used to believe this meant that God was a venerable father figure with a long white beard. But there is no reason to believe that God and mankind have the same bodily form or physical characteristics. More likely what is meant by "image" in this case is that God and man have some personality traits in common and can communicate with each other.

The Bible encourages us to believe that God seeks and must have the fellowship of man; likewise man, to be completely fulfilled, must have the fellowship of God. "Thou hast fashioned us for thyself," said St. Augustine, "and our souls are restless until they find their rest in thee."

Being created in the image of God means first that we are like the divine Personality who created us, and second, that we fulfill our lives and God fulfills His through mutual fellowship.

India Law Re-Written For Indira

By EDWARD CODY
Associated Press Writer
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Shouting its acclamation, the Indian Parliament today rewrote the law to free Prime Minister Indira Gandhi from her embarrassing conviction of corrupt electoral practices.

The retroactive amendments to India's electoral code passed the lower house by voice vote with only one dissent. They were scheduled for immediate consideration in the upper house where passage also was assured.

The site along I-77 where the witness saw the woman being chased is about a mile from the apartment, police said Monday. Police declined to identify the witness, but said the description of the car seen on I-77 was similar to the description given by a man living in the apartment complex.

Police said this witness, also not identified, said he saw Mrs. Porch walking toward a car in the apartment parking lot with a man about 3:20 p.m. Thursday. The man opened the car door on the passenger side, police quoted the witness as saying.

The government contended that the amendments were necessary to remove ambiguities in the law. It forbade the censored Indian press from reporting that Mrs. Gandhi would benefit from them.

"In my opinion, it is useless to say that this is made for any one case," Law Minister H.R. Gokhale told Parliament. "It can leave no doubt that it is not intended to be applied to any one individual."

But Mohan Dharja, a former member of Mrs. Gandhi's Congress party expelled for calling on her to resign, declared it was obvious to all that the government was bulldozing the amendments through to get her out of her legal troubles.

He proposed 13 amendments aimed at removing the bill's retroactive effect — that is, accepting the changes but without applying them to Mrs. Gandhi's case. His suggestions were shouted down.

There were no opposition members to contest the amendments. They walked out of Parliament last week to protest the arrest of their leaders and, as a result, passage took only 90 minutes.

Mrs. Gandhi cited opposition plans to hold a civil disobedience campaign calling for her resignation as the chief reason behind her June 26 emergency decree and roundup of key opposition leaders.

She was convicted June 12 by a high court at Allahabad — near her Uttar Pradesh state constituency — of two counts of illegal tactics: using a top aide in her 1971 campaign before he resigned as a civil servant, and allowing local officials to put up rostrums and loudspeakers for her election rallies.

The charges against Mrs. Gandhi were brought by Raj Narain, the Socialist leader whom she defeated by 183,000 to 71,000 votes. Narain is among thousands of persons the government has had imprisoned under the emergency.

Missing Charlotte Woman Is Hunted

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Police investigating the disappearance of a Charlotte woman say they have talked with a witness who saw a woman being chased along Interstate 77 Thursday afternoon after she either fell or jumped from a car.

Police said Mrs. Denise Porch, 21, manager of an apartment complex on Charlotte's south side, was reported missing Thursday night by her husband, Dean Porch, also 21, after he returned home about 8 p.m. and couldn't find his wife.

The car was described by both witnesses as a small compact, police said. Police said they did not know whether there was any connection between Mrs. Porch's disappearance and the I-77 incident, but they hoped to be contacted by any other motorists who might also have witnessed it.

Police quoted the witness as saying the driver of the car was white, dark complexioned, with black hair, of slender build, neatly dressed and without coat or tie.

That description also fit the man seen with Mrs. Porch in the apartment parking lot, police said.

Gen. Patton Is New Commander

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Maj. Gen. George S. Patton has accepted command of the 2nd Armored Division, which 33 years ago was headed by his father and uses as its slogan "Patton's Own."

But Patton, now 51 and white-haired, made it clear he would prefer to be known as his own man. He made no mention Monday of the slogan or of his father, Gen. George S. Patton Jr., who commanded the division in North Africa in World War II.

A briefing officer said the major general also would like it if the "III" which has customarily followed his name were dropped.

Total Corn Crop Said To Below Expectations

By VAL CORLEY
Associated Press Writer
BOONE, Iowa (AP) — Corn Belt states east of the Mississippi River may reap record corn harvests, but the chairman of the National Corn Growers Association warns that will not make up for corn lost to drought in Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota.

The gain. The acreage (in eastern Corn Belt states) isn't large enough to do it. We're going to probably be down 6 per cent from the total anticipated crop. "East of the Mississippi River, the corn crop is very good. Illinois will probably have the best corn crop they have ever had. They've been getting the rains when they needed them. "Indiana is having a fine crop. Michigan is up about 30 per cent from last year and Ohio is enjoying one of the best crops in a long time."

harvest in Iowa, which produces about 20 per cent of the nation's total corn crop, continues to slip. Many areas of the state had the driest July on record as the corn crop entered the critical pollination period. Goepfinger says South Dakota's crop is in worse condition than Iowa's and southern Minnesota's corn also has been hurt. Nebraska is expected to have a corn crop he described as "pretty fair."

Observers in some sections of Iowa say plants are producing cobs with little or no corn and cobs are not filling out properly in many areas. Iowa's secretary of agriculture, Robert Lounsbury, estimated last week that the drought loss to Iowa corn producers could be as much as 650 million bushels, or some $1.8 billion.

Originally, officials predicted Iowa would have a 2.2-billion-bushel corn crop, near the 1972 record of 2.26 billion bushels. "Iowa will definitely be below what we would call an average yield, but certainly should be better than last year's yield," Goepfinger said.

Last year, with a combination of early heavy rains, a long drought and an early frost, Iowa averaged 80 bushels per acre, far short of the 105-bushel norm. Goepfinger says even with the 6 per cent predicted drop, the country should have enough to meet its domestic and export needs and have a little left over, "if we don't deteriorate more than we have now."

The Soviet Union has purchased 177 million bushels of U.S. corn this year, about 2.9 per cent of the 6.05 billion bushels of corn the Agriculture Department estimated on July 1 that American farmers would harvest in 1975.

The department estimates total 1975 exports will be about 1.3 billion bushels.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

Do you know what the odds are against polishing off every opened box of breakfast cereal in your cupboard? Well, we've done it. The hard way. With kids. For the last 15 years, we have had no less than a dozen or so half-eaten boxes of Fortified Blinkies, Cackly Krunchies, Captain Sugar, Dry Ryas, Toasted Wriggles, Heap of Honey and Cavity Krispies. Regardless of what you have been told, these cereals didn't snap, crackle, or pop. They just laid there on the shelves year after year and turned stale. About a month ago, I made an announcement at breakfast. "There will be no more cereal purchased in this house until we eat up every single box that is opened." They were shocked momentarily. Then, "Why?" "Because I can no longer afford to support 12 boxes of unopened cereal. Take this box of Bloating Oats (I wish someone would). Originally, I bought it for 39 cents. As you will remember, it contained a full-size nuclear submarine, complete with a crew of 120, and secret plans for occupying Connecticut. As you may also remember, I inadvertently ate the sub causing a chipped tooth that cost me $85. "When the cereal didn't move at our breakfast table, I ran out into the snow one morning in my bedroom slippers to hustle it to some starving birds who pecked once at it then migrated forever. The antibiotics for my cold cost me $13. "This cereal has also been with us through three moves which, counting the packing, shipping, and crating, cost around $15.42. It also attracted ants in the new house which put me back $2.72 for traps. All told, this crummy box of cereal has cost us $116.53. Eat up!"

This morning, we went to the grocery store. At the cereal shelves, they scattered. "Hold it!" I said. "We are all going to agree on one box of cereal." What ensued may set retailing back 30 years. "I hate Bran Brittles. They're for old people with irregularities." "And I hate Chock Full of Soggies that turn your teeth purple."

"Let's get Jungle Jollies. They don't have any nutrition whatsoever." Miraculously, they appeared with a single box. "We've all decided on Mangled Wheat Bits."

"That's great," I said, "any particular reason?" "Yeah, there's a magic kit inside guaranteed to make anything disappear."

Israeli Gunboats And Troops Strike At Guerrillas

By The Associated Press
Israeli gunboats attacked southern Lebanon today, pounding the town of Tyre, while Israeli troops raided a nearby refugee camp.

Lebanon said Israeli warplanes also took part in the attack, but the Israelis did not immediately confirm this. Lebanon's defense ministry reported four army officers killed and the Palestinian command said five guerrillas died in artillery bombardment of Tyre, 13 miles north of the Israeli border. After the gunboats attacked at dawn, the guerrillas said the "Clouds of Hell" rocket squad retaliated against the northern Israeli border town of Qiryat Shmonah.

Reports from Beirut said Israeli jets followed up the earlier attack, thundering across the border at midday. The Palestinian guerrilla command said "our forces are heroically fighting off the raiding enemy warplanes but the bombardment is still under way."

A Lebanese army spokesman said the Israeli air raid lasted 20 minutes, and two Palestinian camps were the main targets. He would not elaborate or give casualty figures.

An Israeli communique said its troops "killed a number of terrorists" in the El Buss refugee camp in the Mediterranean port city of Tyre. Later, Israeli sources confirmed the Lebanese report that gunboats and artillery also had been employed.

Early reports said one Lebanese army officer and 10 Palestine guerrillas were wounded. No Israeli military casualties were reported.

The guerrilla command said the Israelis tried to land at the El Buss refugee camp north of Tyre but were beaten back with "heavy casualties" after "savagely fighting."

"The Clouds of Hell heavy rockets unit immediately retaliated by firing two salvos at daybreak, setting several fires in Qiryat Shmonah," a guerrilla spokesman said. Beirut newspapers said Lebanese troops and Palestine guerrillas fought side-by-side to repel the gunboat attack. The newspaper An Naehar said the Rashidieh refugee camp in Tyre also was shelled. There was no mention of refugee casualties.

Israel said its raiding party suffered no casualties, but one Israeli was wounded in the rocket attack on Qiryat Shmonah. The Tel Aviv command said Arab troops also exchanged small arms fire with an Israeli patrol along the border.

On Monday, Israeli troops clashed with a band of Arab guerrillas trying to sneak into Israel from Lebanon. One Arab and one Israeli were killed and two Arabs were captured.

In other developments: —Israel cut the value of its pound by 2 per cent early today, in the second devaluation in seven weeks. The new rate is 6.24 to the U.S. dollar.

—More than 10,000 Israeli engineers went on strike over pay claims today, closing the government meteorological service and slowing work in construction and essential industries. The engineers agreed to continue working on defense projects, but staged a slowdown at the Israel Aircraft Industries plant demanding pay increases of about $100 a month — more than 20 per cent of their current salaries.

—The Cairo daily Al Gomhouria reported that a coup against Libyan strongman Moammar Khadafy was smashed while Khadafy was out of the country last week. The ringleader, Maj. Abdel Fatah Yunis, chief of the palace guard, and 20 other officers were arrested, it said.

Williamston Bd. OKs Street Work Schedule

WILLIAMSTON—Williamston Town Commissioners, Monday, approved a schedule of street improvements for the 1975-76 fiscal year presented by members of the street department. Repaving and other improvements authorized will amount to approximately $165,000 in Powell Bill money. Commissioners authorized the preparation of bids to be let for the work.

A resolution was adopted that will commit the town board to adopt a sewer use ordinance in the future. This came about from a request by the N.C. Division of Environmental Management that an assurance be given an ordinance would be adopted prior to receipt of funds for a sewer treatment plant.

Hazardous conditions enumerated in a report presented by a safety committee, which was appointed at the July meeting, were noted and approval given for correcting the unsafe conditions with funds authorized to be spent for that purpose.

Another report presented was one from town and civic sources from all over the county. This report was made by a representative of Martin County Community Action and encompasses recommendations for education, health, manpower development and other actions needed to deal with current problems in the poverty area. The main consensus is that there is a need for new lower and middle income housing and for the encouragement of small industrial plants coming into the county.

Public hearings were set for the regular meeting on September 2 for two changes of zoning requests. One is for property on East Main Street with the request for a change to downtown commercial from the current R-6; the other is a request for a change from R-6 to highway commercial for property on N. Haughton Street.

Chief of Police John Swain informed the town board that there was a need for two new police cars, with a possibility these could be partially funded by state funds if acquired through the N.C. Safety Committee. Discussions on whether high powered cars of the type used by the highway patrol were held, resulting in a decision to look into the matter further prior to committing purchase through the Safety Committee.

Receipt of a letter from the State Department of Transportation was made known in which the department says no funds are available for a request to widen West Main Street from Elm to Roberson Streets. The request for assistance was made in 1971.

Preliminary agreements between the Baptist Church and the town Recreation Department relative to the use of a metal building for a possible recreation site were discussed. Action on this subject was tabled until the next regular meeting to give board members more time to study the proposed arrangements.

Prices Up, Sales Slow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of regular gasoline at the pump rose 3.1 cents a gallon in July, to a national average of 58.7 cents, a Federal Energy Administration survey shows.

At the same time, gasoline consumption, which has risen in the past at the rate of about 4.6 per cent a year, has slowed to 1.9 per cent in the past two years, the FEA said.

This translates into a saving of about 500,000 barrels a day from the amount that would have been burned if consumption had continued at its former rate.

The agency also reported Monday that its latest survey shows price increases in June for regular gasoline (1.3 cents higher than the May national average of 54.3), premium gasoline (up 1.3 cents from 59) and diesel fuel (up 1.1 cents at truck stops and 0.4 cents at service stations for a June average of 51.4).

Ten of 21 major oil companies also increased in June the price of home heating oil, but the FEA did not announce an average price.

In April, the latest figure available, wholesale residual fuel oil — used mainly in power and other steam plants — increased 7 cents a barrel, to $11.77.

Grants OK'd

WASHINGTON—First District Congressman Walter B. Jones today announced the approval of two planning grants by the Environmental Protection Agency. These grants include $11,250 for the town of Columbia, and $7,500 for Fountain.

These funds will be utilized by the two communities in the planning for the future construction or expansion of waste water treatment facilities.

"These funds are extremely helpful to small communities as they plan for future expansion in an effort to serve its many citizens as possible within the town limits, and in some cases, those living in adjacent areas," Jones said.

New Hospital Progress Report

The new Pitt County Memorial Hospital is 45 per cent complete.

According to Mr. Ralph Hall, construction supervisor for the project, "If we can continue in sequence the way we are now performing the work we hope to have the hospital completed on time and the rehabilitation center completed shortly thereafter."

In the case of the new hospital, construction will proceed from north to south and then to the western extremity of the hospital with each step in construction following in appropriate order. Therefore the north wing will be completed first and the western extremity last, Hall said.

The north wing, which includes Surgery, Intensive Care Unit, and Medical Records areas should be completed by June of 1976 so equipment can be moved in and personnel can begin orientation in this area, he added.

The mechanical systems and stud walls have been installed in the north wing and installation of sheet rock has begun. All major mechanical equipment such as generators, boilers, electrical switch gear, and air handling units (fans) are on the job site. Part of this equipment has already been installed, Hall said.

All interior work is proceeding well. There are no major problems. The weather is not much of a factor any more because most of the work is being done inside, Hall said.

Two weeks ago the application of stucco to the outside of the building began, he added.

The new hospital will be a low profile building with about 7.2 acres of floor space, some 362,000 square feet. It will be three and one-half times larger than the Nichols shopping center. It is predicted that construction materials will include 1,500 tons of steel, and about 12,000 cubic yards of concrete, Hall said.

The new complex will be completely automated — that is, all the mechanical systems such as heaters, air conditioning and electrical will be run by computers. Only one other hospital on the east coast has such automation, that is Baptist Hospital in Jacksonville, Florida. Such automation should help reduce operating costs, Hall said.

It will be a huge complex when completed, he added.

A Donation To The New Hospital Gifts Committee Can Have Tax Advantages

GIVING TO THE NEW PCMH GIFTS COMMITTEE CAN HAVE TREMENDOUS TAX ADVANTAGES.

Example: Suppose that Mr. A owns 10,000 shares of XYZ Corporation stock for which he paid $10,000 over 15 years ago. Assume that the stock sells today for $25.00 per share giving him a total value of stock in the amount of $250,000. Mr. A wants to donate $100,000.00 to the new Pitt County Memorial Hospital Gifts Committee as a memorial to his parents.

If Mr. A sells enough stock to get $100,000 — 4,000 shares at $25.00 per share — he will have to pay a capital gain (tax) on the sale of the stock. If his basis is $4,000 for 4,000 shares, and he sells for $100,000.00 he has to include the capital gain in his regular income for the year of the sale by 50 per cent. That is, he would have a gain of $96,000 (50 per cent of $100,000 minus $4,000) $48,000 of which would be added to his regular income thereby placing Mr. A in a higher tax bracket.

However, if Mr. A gives the PCMH Gifts Committee the same number of shares of stock (4,000 valued at $25.00 per share) the Committee can sell the stock, and Mr. A can take the present market value of the stock as an income tax deduction, not to exceed 30 per cent of his adjusted gross income in the year of the gift. If the gift deduction exceeds the 30 per cent limitation, Mr. A may carry the excess deduction over for a period of five years thereafter.

Using these facts, if Mr. A earned $60,000 adjusted gross income each year, he would be able to deduct up to $18,000 per year until the full $100,000.00 donation had been used. Since he can take an $18,000 deduction in the year of the gift, and for five years thereafter take up to 30 per cent of his adjusted gross income as a deduction for this gift, he is able to get the full value of the gift and reduce his taxes on earnings for sometime after the gift is made.

The 30 per cent deductibility is only applicable to gifts for which capital gains would be treated. However, if a gift is made in cash the donor can deduct up to 50 per cent of his adjusted gross income.

Anyone who might be interested in making such property donations, or large gifts in cash should contact his tax attorney or accountant for more specific details.

New PCMH Gifts Committee Progress To Date

When construction of the new Pitt County Memorial Hospital began on February 15, 1974, construction costs specified in the contracts totaled $15,912,101.00. Bids submitted for equipping the new hospital were higher than estimated and it was apparent that approximately one million dollars in additional funds would be needed to equip the new hospital.

The Hospital Board of Trustees and the Pitt County Board of County Commissioners decided that memorial gifts would be used to obtain the needed funds. The Hospital Board of Trustees appointed the New Pitt County Memorial Hospital Gifts Committee.

The committee was charged with the responsibility of raising during the next four years the approximately one million dollars needed to furnish the additional rooms (the present hospital has 205 beds while the new hospital will have 370 beds including a 55-bed rehabilitation center and a 14-bed psychiatric ward) and replace equipment which cannot be transferred from the old hospital.

The four executive members of the PCMH Gifts Committee: Mr. G. Harry Leslie, plant manager at Burroughs-Wellcome, committee chairman; Dr. Joe Pou, vice chairman (who has since moved from the Greenville area and as yet has not been replaced on the committee); Mr. William C. Gledwell, treasurer; and Mrs. David O. (Betty) Speir, secretary, met on February 27, 1974 to discuss the goals and objectives of the Gifts Committee.

Monthly planning meetings have been being held since March 1974 during which all areas of funds available and all committee actions are discussed. A goal of one million dollars was adopted by the Gifts Committee to be raised over a four-year taxable period.

The Fund-Raising campaign of the PCMH Gifts Committee was initiated by a kick-off dinner at the Greenville Golf and Country Club on September 9, 1974. Lieutenant Governor Jim Hunt, who is from eastern N.C. and has strongly supported the ECU Medical School, was the featured speaker.

According to Leslie, the committee's first step was to contact the medical community and explore the fund raising potential of this dedicated professional group. A group of doctors speaking for the medical community requested that the Gifts Committee submit a goal to the county doctors. A challenge goal of $300,000 was submitted to the 63 active and 20 courtesy staff of Pitt Memorial doctors.

The Gifts Committee is also contacting area industries, all area merchants and all surrounding communities in Pitt County. "We have to plant the seed, present our case, and hope that those capable of contributing are responsive," Leslie said.

To date the new PCMH Gifts Committee has surpassed the $350,000 mark in pledges and has $110,000.00 in the bank.

"A one million dollar goal to be reached in four years is a tall order, but, I am pleased to accept this as a challenge and I am grateful for the good will and response of the community at large as far as this is concerned," Leslie said.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed today, trying to pull out of a three-week-long slide.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up .55 at 818.60, but losers maintained a moderate lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Trading picked up a bit from Monday's very slow pace.

Analysts noted some tentative bargain hunting by investors following the Dow's 63.76-point drop since the close three weeks ago today.

One thing that helped, brokers said, was a slight downturn in Treasury bill rates this morning after their sharp rise Monday.

Yields on the bills—interest-bearing securities issued by the federal government with maturities of up to a year—reached their highest level in more than six months Monday at the Treasury's weekly bill auction.

But market-watchers also said buying was inhibited by the impending government report, due Thursday, on wholesale prices for July.

Alan Greenspan, President Ford's top economic adviser, has predicted the July index will show a substantial rise because of higher grain prices.

Skyline was the most active issue on the Big Board, down 1 at 15 1/2.

Most other issues registered only slight price changes.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks was off .05 at 46.57.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index dropped .45 to 88.23.

Obituaries

Alder
Funeral services for Mr. H. Earl Alder, 56, will be held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Hollywood Presbyterian Church by his pastor, the Rev. Bill Forbes. Burial will be in Pinewood Memorial Park. The body will be taken from the Wilkerson Funeral Home to the Church at 10 a.m. Mr. Alder died at his home, 1746 Beaumont Rd., Sunday.

Mr. Alder, a native of Newton, Kan., served in the United States Army during World War II and was in the European Theatre. A resident of Greenville since 1945, he was Director of Data Processing at Ormond Wholesale Company. He was an Elder and member of the Hollywood Presbyterian Church. # Books Ruled As Trial Evidence

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A handwriting expert with the State Bureau of Investigation testified today that he identified Joan Little's signatures in crossword puzzle books left in her cell.

Under defense cross examination, however, D.C. Matheny said he was unable to identify other writing found in the cell because her signature on a waiver of rights document she signed for police wasn't a broad enough sample.

Judge Hamilton Hobgood allowed the books to be admitted over defense objections. After Hobgood ruled the evidence admissible, the defense asked Matheny to read entries in the books and identify them. Matheny said he couldn't.

Among the quotes read on the stand by Matheny was, "God is a good God, and so very understanding." An entry dated

"Sunday, 8-1-74" read, "Still afraid for some reason—heart about to jump out." Another entry read, "God will bring us back together."

Matheny said the first entry was printed and the others were written longhand.

In testimony Monday, a Washington, N.C., telephone operator said a woman who identified herself as Joan Little made two collect calls from the Beaufort County jail on the morning the jailer Miss Little is charged with killing was found dead.

Nancy Lee Hollis told her story while the jury was out of the room. Hobgood said he would decide today whether that testimony can be admitted.

Vacation Is Almost Over; Pitt School Orientation Sept. 2

Orientation for students enrolled in the Pitt County Schools will be held Tuesday, Sept. 2, and the first full day of school will be held Wednesday, Sept. 3.

Teachers will begin the 1975-76 school year on August 20. Workdays have been scheduled as Aug. 20-27 and Aug. 28-29 are teacher vacation days.

Sept. 1 will be observed as the Labor Day holiday.

Other teacher workdays scheduled during the year include: Oct. 21, Nov. 26, Jan. 26-27, April 30, March 12 (half day), June 10, 11, 14, 15.

Nov. 27 and 28 have been designated as Thanksgiving holidays while the Christmas holiday will run from Dec. 22 through Jan. 2. April 19-20 have been designated as Easter holidays.

Mid-term examinations will be administered Jan. 21-23 and final examinations will be given June 7-9.

The final day of school for students will be June 9.

Teacher vacation days are Dec. 22-31, Jan. 2, March 12 (half day), April 21, Aug. 28, 29, June 16-18.

Church Offers Movie Sunday

"The Gospel Road," distributed by World Wide Pictures and produced by Johnny Cash and June Carter, will be presented this Sunday at the Elm Grove Free Will Baptist Church in Ayden beginning at 8 p.m.

The film is a blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and in-depth portrayals with Israel as the setting.

Elm Grove Church is located one mile beyond the Ayden-Grifton High School. Rev. Gary M. Bailey invites the public to attend.

Will Protest A-Bomb's Use

The Greenville Peace Association will hold a demonstration in front of the main post office at the intersection of First and Greene Streets tomorrow, starting at 12 noon. Father Charles Mulholland said the demonstration is in protest to the dropping of the atomic bomb on Japan 30 years ago.

On Aug. 6, 1945, the United States dropped the first of two atomic bombs on Hiroshima. The second was dropped on Nagasaki. The bombs brought on the surrender of Japan in World War II.

Find No Motive For Shooting In Wilmington

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Police say they have found no motive for a Wilmington grocer's shooting spree early Monday.

Benjamin Murray Gross, about 50, was arrested after he fired at least 30 rounds from a .30 caliber weapon during a 45 minute period. No one was injured.

Police received a report of gunfire in the exclusive Wilmington neighborhood at about 4:45 a.m. The investigating officer radioed for help, and seven other officers plus Chief Darryl Brustle went to the scene.

Gross was persuaded to surrender by a police captain who said he had known Gross for 25 years. Police fired no shots.

Gross was jailed under $2,000 bond. He was charged with firing into an occupied dwelling. Police said most of Gross' shots were fired from an apartment toward a house.

Arrest Eight In Tractor Thefts

NASHVILLE, N.C. (AP)—The Nash County Sheriff's Department says it has arrested eight men in connection with a tractor theft ring that operated in at least three eastern North Carolina counties.

The sheriff's department said it was seeking one more suspect in the case.

The department spokesman said the men arrested were involved in two thefts involving $6,000 worth of small tractors.

Majority For Deregulation

NEW YORK (AP)—A 54-22 per cent majority of the American people support President Ford's proposal to deregulate the price of oil produced in this country, a Louis Harris poll says. Twenty-four per cent are not sure.

Over-The-Limit In Buying Beer

LANCASTER, S. C. (AP)—Tommy Hilton has been accused of having 148 cases of untaxed Coors beer in his home in Lancaster, authorities have announced.

The beer, 24 cans to a case or 3,552 cans, has been confiscated.

The Coors Brewing Co. of Colorado recently lost a federal court effort to restrict sales to the western part of the nation.

Ken Allen, director of the South Carolina Alcoholic Beverage Commission, said no beer can be brought into the state legally unless a person has a permit and pays the taxes. And even with a permit, the limit is 10 cases, he said.

Allen said Coors doesn't have a wholesaler in South Carolina, and Hilton didn't have a permit.

STRIKE ENDS

CHARLOTTE (AP)—A year-long strike has ended at the Charlotte Pipe and Foundry plant with company agreement to negotiate with the union in good faith and to rehire workers based on seniority as jobs open, according to a spokesman.

AN ADDED COST

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Electric rates could go up 10 to 30 per cent three years from now if limestone scrubbers, designed to remove sulfur dioxide from stack gases, are installed at Tennessee Valley Authority power plants, TVA says.

Disagree On Radiation As A Factor In Death

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Veterans Administration doctors and the family of a former Navy man who went ashore at Nagasaki after the 1945 atomic bombing disagree on whether radiation contributed to the man's death.

The man was Terry G. Feil, 49, former member of the Republican State Central Committee who ran unsuccessfully for a congressional seat in 1966. Feil, as a 19-year-old Navy corpsman, went to Nagasaki from the USS Sanctuary, a hospital ship, after the atomic bombing. He told his mother, Margaret Feil, that much of his hair later fell out, like that of others on the ship.

Last week Feil died, and his family said he had cancer attributable to his Nagasaki exposure.

But Dr. Jerry Tarder of the VA hospital in Martinez said he found no evidence that Feil's fatal cancer of the lymph glands was related to the Nagasaki exposure.

In Washington, the Navy said the Sanctuary went to Nagasaki Sept. 23 and 24, 1945, 45 days after the bombing. Navy radiation experts were reported by a spokesman as saying because of the time lapse, the radiation would have been immeasurable.

Also, the Navy said, there was no fallout from the Nagasaki bombing and that therefore the radiation dissipated very quickly.

The spokesman said that nobody in the medical bureau could recall hearing of any radiation after-effects among the 70 officers and 498 enlisted men on the ship.

Endorse Plan For New River

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Wilderness Society has endorsed North Carolina's plan to prevent commercial development on the New River by placing it under protection of the federal Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

The conservation group asked Acting Interior Secretary Kent Frizzell to approve the state's plan. It is intended to prevent construction of the Blue Ridge hydroelectric project.

Although dams for the project would be built in Virginia, they would create two huge lakes which would stretch into North Carolina. The lakes would inundate homesteads and farmland in Ashe and Alleghany counties in northwestern North Carolina.

If you bring us $25 from your sugar bowl, you can have some of this beautiful tableware free.

"Victoria." A formal pattern, decorated with finely sculptured leaves and flowers.

"1776." A traditional colonial shape, handsomely bordered with a ring of beads.

Planters National Bank has a new idea that can help you put beautiful stainless steel silverware on your table, and money in the bank at the same time.

For the next few months, we'll help you build a complete set of flatware in either of the patterns pictured above while you build your savings. All you have to do is open a PNB savings account with $25 or more, or add $25 to an existing savings account, and we'll give you a 5-piece place setting to get you started.

You'll receive a dinner knife, dinner fork, salad fork, soup spoon, and teaspoon. All free. All in the pattern of your choice.

Then, every time you add $25 more, you can add to your collection. Additional place settings and accessory pieces are available at $3.50.

About half their regular retail price. What's more, if you would rather buy the entire set now, instead of picking it up a little bit at a time, you can.

Service for eight, in either pattern, (73 pieces in all) is available with a deposit of $400 or more, for $52.50.

And if you deposit $1,000 or more, the entire set, plus an elegant silverware chest, is yours for just $49.95. So take your money out of your sugar bowl, come to PNB, inspect the silverware, and start your collection and bank account at the same time.

Because in addition to beautiful tableware, we can give you something else your sugar bowl can't. The highest interest rate allowed by law.

Little Sluggers, KFC Gain Finals

Kentucky Fried Chicken and the Little Sluggers captured victories in the City Softball League Tournament last night and will meet Wednesday for the overall league title.

It took KFC a little time, however, as they had to go two games with Pier Five to gain the title.

The Little Sluggers had less of a problem, downing the Chargers in one game, 7-3. The loss was the second for the Chargers in the double elimination tournament, while the Sluggers sailed through without a loss.

The Sluggers pushed over two runs in the first. Jerry Gibson doubled and Bill Kuykendall slapped a home run.

The Chargers came back with a run in the second, but five by the Sluggers in the fifth put the game away. The Chargers added two more in the sixth.

Pier Five took a 5-2 win over

KFC in the first of their two games, giving both teams one loss. Pier Five pushed over four runs in the first for all they were to need.

R. Leggett led off with a double and R. Phillips reached on an error. W. Briley doubled in both runners, and scored on C. Rose's double. J. Sugg then singled in Rose for the 4-0 lead.

KFC came up with one in the second, while Pier Five got one in the fourth. The other KFC run came over in the sixth.

KFC then turned the score around in the second game, gaining a 5-2 win. KFC took the lead in the first inning with two runs, but Pier Five came back with two in the sixth to tie it up.

It stayed that way until the bottom of the eighth. Cotton Nicholson then led off with a hit and Ronald Vincent singled. Jerry Clark cracked out a three-run homer, giving the KFC team the title.

THIRTEEN STRIKE OUTS—New York Mets' pitcher Randy Tate tied the National League strike-out record with 13 Monday night at Shea Stadium in a game with the Montreal Expos. Tate was relieved in the eighth inning as the Expos went on to win, 4-3. Tate had a no-hitter going along with a shutout into the eighth frame. (AP Wirephoto)

Hopes Steelers Learned Lesson

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Pittsburgh Steelers Coach Chuck Noll says he hopes the Super Bowl champions' narrow escape from the College All-Stars may have taught the team a lesson.

"I hope we found out that you can take no opponent lightly," Noll said Monday as the Steelers began drills for a National Football League exhibition game Saturday with the Philadelphia Eagles.

The squad had two days off following Friday's 21-14 All-Star Game victory, which wasn't pulled out until the fourth quarter.

"I believe our players were believing all they heard during the off-season about how great they were," Noll said.

Some Steeler players agreed they had taken the collegians too lightly. "They came to play and we didn't," said defensive tackle Joe Greene.

Pittsburgh trailed most of the first three quarters, but won on a pair of fourth-quarter touchdown passes by Joe Gilliam — a six-yarder to Rocky Bleier and a 21-yarder to Frank Lewis.

Gilliam's performance in coming off the bench to hit five of six passes for 50 yards and make good use of the running game gave new life to the old Steeler quarterback controversy.

Elsewhere in the NFL, the Los Angeles Rams cut Les Josephson, a 10-year veteran who was the third-leading rusher in Rams history and the team's seventh best pass receiver.

Josephson gained 3,407 yards on 797 carries for a 4.27 average to rank behind only Dick Bass, with 5,417 yards, and Deacon Dan Towler, 3,493, on the Rams' rushing list.

His best season was 1967 when he led the division in rushing with 800 yards and played in the Pro Bowl.

Also cut Monday was Dallas Cowboys veteran Dennis Morgan, a kick return specialist who tied a league record with a 98-yard punt return for a touchdown last year. Dallas also asked waivers on six rookies.

The San Francisco 49ers claimed defensive back Doug Wyatt, who had been placed on waivers by the Detroit Lions.

Minnesota cut seven rookies, San Francisco five, Denver four, Green Bay two, New York Jets three, Philadelphia five, Pittsburgh two, Cleveland three, Miami three, New York Giants six, Baltimore two, and Los Angeles four.

The Rams placed rookie defensive tackle Wayne Hammond on injury waivers while the Minnesota Vikings sent rookie wide receiver Mike Hurd home to recover from a stomach ailment.

UCLA Student Upsets Richey In Clay Courts

By JOHN SHURR Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The student went to school at the $150,000 U.S. Clay Court tennis championships Monday night and walked away as the teacher ... Brian Teacher, that is.

Teacher, 20, a UCLA senior, defeated sixth-ranked Cliff Richey 6-3, 6-4, the biggest upset of the opening round Monday.

"I didn't want him to come to the net at all," Teacher said. "I knew I couldn't let him get in the groove, so when I saw he was having trouble with his volleying I just took my time and didn't rush my strokes."

Teacher, of San Diego, who upset Dick Stockton in the Western Open last week, passed off his latest victory as just one of many.

"It seemed like Cliff was really tight tonight," Teacher said. "I think he got a little mad because he didn't want to get beat by a young kid. He just wasn't hitting as usual."

Unseeded Alvin Gardiner of Australia gave No. 4 Raul Ramirez more problems than the 22-year-old Mexican probably wanted. Gardiner broke the second set and kept rolling the rest of the match.

The only other seeded men's player to see action Monday was No. 5 Onny Parun of New Zealand, who beat Antonio Munoz of Spain 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Julie Heldman, the second-seeded women's player, did little more than warm up in winning against Michele Gurdal of Belgium 6-1, 6-0.

No. 3 Marcie Louie, San Francisco, defeated Kathy May, Beverly Hills, Calif., 7-6, 6-2.

No. 7 Gail Chanfreau of France easily topped Robin Tenney, Miami Beach, Fla., 6-1, 6-2.

The tourney's top-ranked women, Chris Evert, was not scheduled to begin defense of her title Monday.

Guillermo Vilas, No. 1 in the men's draw, was held up by rain in Louisville, where he must face either Ilie Nastase of Romania or Arthur Ashe in the pro classic finals.

Ashe and Nastase, halted by rain Monday for the second straight day, will have a grueling schedule today.

Officials of the $100,000 Louisville Pro Tennis Classic said the semifinal match between Wimbledon champion Ashe and Nastase, which was rained out both Sunday and Monday, was to be played at noon.

The singles match will be followed by a semifinal doubles match with Ashe and Nastase playing Vilas and Wojtek Fibrak. The doubles match will be a pro set doubles with the first to win eight games winning the match.

Then the singles finals between Vilas and the Ashe-Nastase winner will be held at 7 p.m., to be followed immediately by the doubles finals.

In the only match played at Louisville Monday, India's Amritraj brothers, Vijay and Aman, defeated Manuel Orantes and Juan Gisbert 2-6, 6-3, 6-4 to gain a spot in the finals.

No-Hit Bid Fails As Tate Goes Down, 4-3

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

A home run was the last thing on Randy Tate's mind. It was also the first thing over the wall.

The New York Mets' rookie right-hander mowed down Montreal batters with ease Monday night ... for 7 1-3 innings.

Then Jimmy Lyttle broke up his no-hitter with a single.

A few minutes later, Mike Jorgensen broke his heart with a three-run homer that catapulted the Expos to a 4-3 victory.

In the rest of the National League, St. Louis edged Pittsburgh 5-4, Chicago trimmed Philadelphia 3-2, Cincinnati defeated San Francisco 7-5, Los Angeles routed Atlanta 9-1 and Houston beat San Diego 5-3.

Lyttle's looping single to left field on a 2-2 pitch with one out in the eighth shook up the 22-year-old Tate, who was gunning for the first no-hitter in the NL this year and the second in the majors — former Met Nolan Ryan pitched the fourth of his career for California in the American League about two months ago.

"It made me feel bad at the time," said Tate, "but Joe Torre came over from third base and talked to me and gave me a pep talk. He said, 'Forget about losing the no-hitter and start worrying about a shut-out.'"

It didn't take long for Randy to stop worrying about that, too. A walk to Pepe Mangual and Gary Carter's two-out single brought in Montreal's first run.

Then up stepped Jorgensen, another former Met.

"The last thing on my mind was giving up a home run," Tate said. "After I lost the no-hitter I was thinking about the shutout and then the win."

And just as suddenly as the no-hitter and the shutout had disappeared, so did the win when Jorgensen's 11th homer disappeared over the left field fence.

Cards 5, Pirates 4

Bake McBride singled with one out in the eighth inning for St. Louis and moved to second on a grounder, bringing Willie Davis to the plate.

He was clearly fooled by Jerry Reuss' low outside slider and, in desperation, Davis threw his bat at the ball ... which wound up in center field, a tie-breaking single that beat the Pirates.

Cubs 3, Phillies 2
Jose Cardenal's tie-breaking homer in the sixth inning moved Chicago past the Phillies in a game delayed more than 2½ hours by rain.

Reds 7, Giants 5
George Foster's grand-slam homer in the eighth inning and Ken Griffey's tie-breaking double in the ninth beat the Giants and enabled the Reds to maintain their 15½-game lead over Los Angeles in the West.

Dodgers 9, Braves 1
Homers by Willie Crawford, Dave Lopes and Bill Buckner and Steve Yeager's two-run single led the Dodgers' rout of Atlanta. Burt Hooton scattered eight hits, including Darrell Evans' homer.

Astros 5, Padres 3
Greg Gross' tie-breaking two-run single capped a three-run seventh inning that pushed the Astros past San Diego. Milt May, whose single started the rally, doubled home two first-inning runs for Houston.

Gangland Ties Being Checked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Detectives were investigating the possibility today of gangland ties in the murder of sports gambling figure Jacob "Jack" Molinas, who was gunned down in his back yard.

Authorities said they were considering a possible connection between the ambush and the unsolved 1974 murder of Bernard Gusoff, Molinas' one-time business partner.

Detectives said Gusoff, 53, Molinas' former partner in a fur importing business, was beaten to death in his apartment here Nov. 15, 1974. Investigators said they were checking a report that each of the men had taken out $500,000 insurance policies payable to the other.

"We are still piecing things together," said Homicide Det. Lt. L.A. Durrer of the Hollywood Division. "I can't say whether it was a gangland killing, but we are not overlooking the possibility."

Molinas was arrested again in 1973 in Los Angeles on charges of shipping pornographic films interstate, from Los Angeles to Memphis. He was released on $10,000 bond.

He pleaded innocent and a trial date was to have been set this week.

home.

The woman, who had just arrived from her home in New York, was wounded in the neck, treated, then released from UCLA Medical Center. Detectives said they did not know if she had been a target or was an accidental victim.

Molinas was a forward at Columbia University and later went on to play with the Fort Wayne, Ind., Pistons of the National Basketball Association. But he was kicked off the team and forbidden to play in the NBA after he admitted betting on Pistons' games.

In 1963 he was convicted as the central figure in a college basketball bribery scandal that involved nearly 50 players at 27 colleges.

He was sentenced to 10-15 years in prison in the bribery case, paroled in 1968 and moved to Los Angeles two years later.

Moose Are Winners

The Moose downed regular season champion Daniel Construction, 8-7, last night to win the Industrial League tournament title.

The Moose gained the win in a single game in the double elimination tournament, having gone through unbeaten. Daniel, which easily won the regular season title, was handed its first loss in the field against Burroughs-Wellcome, then came back to gain the finals.

Daniel grabbed the lead in the first inning, scoring three runs, but the Moose matched that in their half of the inning. Daniel added two more in the third, while the Moose came up with four to push into a 7-5 lead.

Daniel got one more in the fourth to pull within one, but a solo homer by D. Jeffreys in the bottom of the inning proved to be the winning margin for the Moose. One final Daniel run came in the seventh, but the rally died there.

Baltimore Turns Off Red-Hot-Sox After Coming From Behind, 12-8

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles cooled off the red-hot Red Sox with enough power to run all of Boston's air conditioners for a week.

The Birds belted 16 hits Monday night — four of them home runs by Brooks Robinson, Bobby Grich, Don Baylor and Ken Singleton — and breezed away with a 12-8 triumph after watching the American League East first-place Sox take a 6-1 lead in three innings.

"I don't know a hitter who doesn't like to hit in Fenway Park," remarked Baylor after collecting five hits, including his 17th homer of the season, and leading the team mugging of three Boston pitchers.

The assault ruined the evening for a season-high 35,868 Red Sox rooters, who saw their heroes' five-game winning streak snapped despite home runs by Carlton Fisk and Jim Rice.

Grich and Robinson each had three-run homers, Baylor's was good for two more, and Singleton added a solo shot in cutting Boston's division lead to 8½ games.

"We got out there and just played our game," said Baylor, who scored four runs and drove in three. "We're coming back," said Weaver, whose club is 15-6 since the All-Star break.

Elsewhere in the AL, Texas crushed Oakland 12-0, New York trimmed Milwaukee 2-1, Kansas City edged Minnesota 6-5 in 10 innings, Chicago beat California 4-2 and Cleveland topped Detroit 6-4.

Rangers 12, A's 0
Ferguson Jenkins pitched a six-hitter as Texas embarrassed Oakland without the benefit of a home run.

Texas pounded Ken Holtzman for two runs in the first and three in the fourth — more than enough for Jenkins to raise his record to 13-12.

Yanks 2, Brewers 1
Thurman Munson's eighth-inning single scored Fred Stanley from second base, helping New York hand Milwaukee's Bill Travers his sixth consecutive loss.

Bobby Bonds drove in the other Yankee run with a third-inning sacrifice fly, while Robin Yount's sixth-inning single temporarily tied it for Milwaukee.

Royals 6, Twins 5
Fred Patek's 10th-inning single boosted Kansas City over Minnesota, halting the Twins' four-game winning streak and bringing the Royals within eight games of first-place Oakland.

Tony Oliva's sacrifice fly off winner Doug Bird, 7-4, gave Minnesota a 5-4 lead in the top of the ninth but John Mayberry sent the game into extra innings with his 23rd homer of the season in the bottom of the ninth.

White Sox 4, Angels 2
Brian Downing's first triple of the year, a two-run shot in the sixth inning, carried Chicago past California. Wilbur Wood gained his sixth straight victory and boosted his record to 12-13 in near 90-degree heat and humidity at Sox Park.

Indians 6, Tigers 4
Charlie Spikes drove in four runs with a home run and a single and Manager Frank Robinson drove in the 1,800th run of his baseball career in leading Cleveland over Detroit.

Petty Working On 3rd Million

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Working on his third million in stock-car winnings, Richard Petty will get another $7,000 even before he drives his Dodge in Sunday's Talladega 500 at Alabama International Motor Speedway.

Petty is to collect the bonus at the Checkered Flag banquet Thursday in Birmingham for leading the first half of the 1975 season on the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR) grand national circuit.

Second place money of $10,000 at Pocono, Pa., International Raceway last Sunday pushed Petty's career winnings to $2,003,793 and made him the first stock car driver to hit the $2 million mark.

Petty's second place at Pocono ran his point total for the year to 2,974. Dave Marcis is second with 2,436; James Hylton third with 2,362; Benny Parsons fourth with 2,309; Richard Children fifth with 2,289.

The next five are Darrell Waltrip 2,281; Cecil Gordon 2,191; Elmo Langley 1,994; David Pearson 1,957; and Walter Ballard 1,949.

Petty has won $179,815 so far this year. Pearson, who beat him at Pocono, is second with $115,360.

In the rookie-of-the-year $10,000 competition, Bruce Hill of Topeka, Kan., leads with 285 points. Carl Adams of San Diego is second with 236 after a sixth place finish Sunday.

There Is A Good Chance Reds Won't Have A 20-Game Winner

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Jack Billingham is the winningest pitcher on the winningest team in baseball, the Cincinnati Reds.

Jack Billingham has won just 11 games.

With the 1975 baseball season more than two-thirds gone, at least two things can be said of the Reds: they will very likely win the pennant in the National League West and they will very likely do it without a 20-game winning pitcher. They might not even have a 15-game winner.

One reason Billingham and the rest of the Reds starters don't have that many victories is Manager Sparky Anderson's liberal use of relievers Pedro Borbon, Clay Carroll, Will McEnaney and Rawly Eastwick.

The Reds went a record 45 games this summer without having a pitcher go the distance. It didn't seem to hurt them, however, since they've opened a gaping lead in the NL West.

Anderson said after finishing second to the Dodgers last year that he was through "being Mr. Nice Guy. The thing is the bal-club, not the individual. I try to put the best people up at the right time. The pitcher can bounce the ball up there and I don't care — as long as he gets the hitters out."

The leaders in the NL East, the Pittsburgh Pirates, will also almost certainly be without a 20-game winner. Their top pitcher is Jerry Reuss, 12-7.

It's a different story in the American League, where starting pitchers remain in games longer and get more decisions because of the designated hitter rule.

The Oakland A's, leaders in the West, have a pair of candidates for the 20-win circle in Vida Blue, 14-8, and Ken Holtzman, 13-9. Boston, atop the AL East, has three prospects in Bill Lee, 14-6, Luis Tiant, 13-10, and Rick Wise, 13-6.

As in each of the first two years of the DH rule, the American League figures to outnumber the National in 20-game winners by better than 2-1.

Catfish Hunter of the New York Yankees, 14-10, has a strong chance to win 20 or more for the fifth consecutive year, while Baltimore's Jim Palmer, 15-7, is a solid bet to hit 20 for the fifth time in the past six years.

Other top AL candidates include Baltimore's Mike Torrez, Boston's trio of Lee, Tiant and Wise, Jim Kaat of Chicago, Oakland aces Blue and Holtzman and Kansas City's Steve Busby.

Most likely National Leaguers to reach 20 wins are Don Sutton and Andy Messersmith of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Tom Seaver of the New York Mets and the pitching surprise of the season, Randy Jones of San Diego.

Jones, the losingest pitcher in the majors last year with an 8-22 mark, has done a complete turnaround and is tied for most victories in the NL with a 14-6 record. In addition, his 1.89 earned run average is the best among all starting pitchers in the majors.

McQuilken Gets Starting Role

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Kim McQuilken will start at quarterback and heralded rookie Steve Bartkowski will see some action for the Atlanta Falcons Friday night when they open their preseason schedule against the Washington Redskins.

Coach Marion Campbell said Monday that Pat Sullivan, the former Heisman Trophy winner from Auburn, also will play. He said he did not expect rookie Mitch Anderson of Northwestern or David Jaynes, recently acquired from the Kansas City Chiefs, to get into the game at Washington.

Bartkowski practiced with the Falcons for the first time Monday and was not impressive in a workout which Campbell called the worst of the summer. The Falcons cut nine rookies, bringing their squad to 70. Three of the cuts were players who had been drafted. They were: wide receiver Marshall Mills, a 10th round pick from West Virginia; offensive tackle Alonza Pickett, a 12th round selection from Texas Southern, and defensive tackle Steve Robinson, drafted on the 14th round from Tuskegee.

The others were free agents. They were: tackle Bill Thomas of Florida A&M, wide receiver Jerry Gaines of Western Carolina, defensive back Leon Garror of Alcorn St., defensive back John Provost of Holly Cross, linebacker Richard Griffiths of Miami and defensive back Jimmy Watts of Tennessee.

LPGA Drops Blalock Suit

ATLANTA (AP) — The Ladies Professional Golf Association says it has dropped its appeal and settled all claims and counter claims growing from a dispute between it and golfer Jane Blalock.

Terms of the settlement were not revealed in Monday's announcement.

Miss Blalock won a lawsuit against the LPGA a year ago and was awarded damages of $4,500, the amount she could have won if she had been allowed to play in the 1972 Lady Carling Tournament in Baltimore.

She was suspended that year by the LPGA on grounds that she had cheated in the Bluegrass Invitational Tournament at Louisville by improving the lie of her ball.

The LPGA fined her $500 and placed her on probation for the remainder of the 1972 season. Four days later, the LPGA board added a one-year suspension.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1975

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have the opportunity to put in motion a plan of action that brings your creative talents into play. Problems that need to be eliminated can be quickly done at this time.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have to make a change in your plans if you wish to achieve the success you desire. Take stock in your finances.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are able to improve conditions around your home, so get busy at such early in the day. Try to please family members.

GEMINI (Mar. 21 to June 21) Consult with experts in your field of endeavor so that you can improve your own routines. Do something thoughtful for mate.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listen to what an expert has to suggest about an important business matter. Avoid the limelight in the evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do the thoughtful things that will increase goodwill with business associates. Your surroundings need improvement.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you clear the slate of present problems, you pave the way for a much brighter future. Enjoy social activities tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle any civic work early so that you can later be with good friends for social purposes. Make plans for the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Discuss future plans with a higher-up so you can advance more quickly and add to present prestige. Express happiness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have fine ideas that should be put in operation with as little delay as possible. Obtain the data you need.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Handle those responsibilities you have in an efficient manner and they are soon behind you. Take health treatments.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Before making any new deals with associates, make sure you clear the slate of present obligations. Be logical.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Attend to duties you really enjoy and make much progress. Show more appreciation for co-workers and increase harmony.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will gain all sorts of favors by the simple expedient of a winning smile and politely asking for what is wanted. Be sure to give a good educational background, since the creativity here is high. Then, success is assured.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Will Enlist Public Help

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Health officials say they will enlist the public's support in controlling an encephalitis outbreak which has killed 14 persons.

The number of suspected, probable and confirmed cases of the mosquito-carried disease rose to 123 Monday. Two additional deaths, those of Mary Wren, 73, and Thomas Edmond, 67, were reported in Greenville.

Dr. Durward Blakey, director of the state Board of Health's Disease Control Division, said the board will begin posting notices later this week in areas which have confirmed cases of the disease.

Residents will be asked to

New Dictionary Out Of Texas

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In the course of our labors, we occasionally come across things which have nothing at all to do with TV, but are too good to ignore. Such as the "Illustrated Texas Dictionary."

It was highly recommended and sent to us by Mike Shapiro, a Texas broadcasting executive who was interviewing the other day.

The book, by Jim Everhart, translates words one might hear in Texas. I've never heard my father speak them, but he's from the Fort Worth area where they speak High Texan.

Here are some Everhart translations:

—Clinics: A disposable paper tissue, as used in "Quick! Ah'm gonna sneeze. Hand me a clinic."

—Phrasing: Used during very cold weather, as in "It's jes phrasing outdoors."

—Owne: Alone, without others, as in "yew ain't the owne one who can do that."

—Paved: To be irritated, as in "Ah speek yore paved with me."

—Cyst: To help, as in "Ah'd lack to cyst yew if ah may."

—Toad: The past tense of "tell," as in "Ah toad yew never to do that."

—Sod: The position of someone in an argument that provokes the question: "Whose sod are yew on anyway?"

Ah'm on Everhart's sod. But network TV's Texas delegation — Dan Rather and Hughes Rudd of CBS and Don Meredith of NBC — should check the dictionary for accuracy, lest Texas get paved at me.

A Benefit Show By Elton John

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elton John, rock music's reigning superstar, leaped into a pile of some 30,000 postcards and declared, "This is a bit mind boggling!"

The cards were from California fans wanting a chance to pay $25 each for tickets to John's upcoming charity concert at the Troubadour nightclub, which seats only 250 persons per show.

John, capering on the stage clad in a green satin suit, diamond bracelet and green heart-shaped eyeglasses, picked 500 "winners" from the pile Monday.

John's trademark is his collection of 200 pair of gaudy eyeglasses — some diamond-studded, others mink-lined. But John confesses that even with glasses he can't see his audience most of the time.

"My left eye is larger than my right which makes me quite shortsighted," he said. "I can see the audience only if it's an open-air concert in daylight. At night, if there is no spotlight, I can see the first two or three rows."

Now a multimillionaire, the 28-year-old British star said he's enjoying success but "I don't really think about money. I don't know how much I have...."

"Since I was four or five years old, I knew that I wanted to be a musician. I never wanted to be a train driver or a fireman...."

Of life at the top, John said, "It has its ups and downs, just like being a bank teller."

Muzzleloaders Create A Bicentennial Hobby

By JERRY GRAY
 Associated Press Writer
 MILAN, Tenn. (AP)—Tom Caldwell didn't expect the Christmas present he received three years ago to mushroom into a weekend hobby for more than a dozen persons.
 Caldwell, of Milan and his friends fire muzzleloading rifles and pistols, a hobby he says is gaining an even greater following during the nation's bicentennial celebration.
 "I got interested in muzzleloading from a magazine article," Caldwell said. "My wife surprised me with a muzzleloading pistol three years ago at Christmas and I've been involved ever since."
 Caldwell, a gasoline distributor, was so excited with his new gun that he demonstrated it to his friend Don Eads, a Jackson businessman. Two days later Eads had one of his own. After that it was like a lighted match dropped in the muzzleloaders' black powder, everybody seemed to get interested.
 The Golden Circle shooters, as Caldwell and Eads call their group, now gather every weekend. They exchange conversation and take turns trying to hit targets 50 yards away.
 The shooters don't belong to any national association but they do participate in nationally sponsored events. Eads estimated that 200 to 400 thousand people are involved in the hobby nationwide.
 Most members of the group, which includes women from time-to-time, use pistols and rifles and are hard-pressed to say which weapon they prefer, Caldwell said. The Golden Circle shooters range in age from Caldwell's 12-year-old son, who only fires under his supervision, to sixty.

 Muzzleloader rifles are of two basic types: the flintlocks and the percussion guns. The flintlock, of Daniel Boone fame, is fired when a piece of flint attached to the hammer strikes metal, sparking a small black-powder charge in the pan. This ignites the charge in the barrel.
 The percussion gun is a newer weapon, flint and power is replaced by a small cap which explodes when struck by the hammer, igniting the powder charge in the barrel.
 "The muzzleloaders are as accurate as the man holding them," Caldwell said. "Sloppy marksmanship can't be blamed on the gun."
 Eads said he regularly hunts doves with his flintlock. "I've even killed deer. It's very effective up to 100 yards, I hit a doe and the shot went clear through, dropping her on the spot," he said.
 "I wouldn't have any qualms about facing a bear with my flintlock, as long as it doesn't get any bigger than the black bears we have in Tennessee."
 Nearly all muzzleloaders used are replicas. Caldwell said it is dangerous to shoot many original guns because the metal has experienced fatigue and today's alloys make better gun material all around.
 Muzzleloaders range from plain to fancy—from $70 for do-it-yourself kits to custom-made guns costing up to $3,000. Caldwell and Eads now make their own guns, due partly to the cost, but generally there is added pleasure in making your own gun.
 The value of a gun is in the eye of the beholder Caldwell said.

 "There are days when you couldn't buy mine for $2,000, when I'm shooting well. Other times I would sell it for two dollars. But I don't think I could ever give it up completely."
Thongs At U.S. Exhibit
 MOSCOW (AP)—More than 100,000 Muscovites have flocked to the exhibit hall in Luzhniki Park over the past two weeks for the most popular show in town: a modest display of American household goods.
 The reason for the success of the month-long show, which opened July 17, seems to have more to do with American people than U.S. goods.
 "I'd say about 80 per cent of the questions I get are personal or at least have nothing to do with the exhibit itself," said Lisa Archipov, of Buffalo, N.Y., one of 22 Russian-speaking guides. "They just don't seem so impressed with our technology as they once did."
 The government-sponsored exhibit is billed as a display of furnishings, household goods and construction materials for the "typical" American family.
 The last time anything like this "Technology for the American Home" exhibit appeared in Moscow, Nikita Khrushchev and Richard M. Nixon engaged in their impromptu "kitchen debate" in 1959 on the relative merits of their countries' development and ideologies.
 In today's atmosphere of détente, Muscovites seem more interested in talking with young guides about the American way of life than in fingering the goods.
 The Russians—passing through the pavilion at a rate of about 1,000 an hour—like to quiz the guides on how much they earn, what their parents do for a living, how American children are schooled and how the unemployed manage to survive in the United States.

Preemptive action by an opponent propelled South into a game he might not have reached under his own steam. Fortunately, for him, a miscue by a defender allowed him to get away with a large profit instead of a loss.
 West's preemptive jump to two spades placed both North and South in an awkward position. North was reluctant to venture three hearts with a near minimum opening bid and only three-card support for partner, so he passed to await developments. South's three clubs was, perhaps, a slight overbid in view of the partial misfit and the poor quality of his suits but he had no reasonable alternative. With a fit for both of South's suits and a well-placed king of spades, North's jump to four hearts could not be faulted.
 West led the queen of diamonds, and declarer was off to a good start when he won the ace, crossed to the ace of clubs and returned a low club to dummy's nine and East's king. Declarer ruffed

200 years at the same location.

Maybe folks were a little skeptical about taking stock in America 200 years ago. We were young. At war. With no experience. And who knew if we'd ever pay back the money? Well, 200 years have passed. And the U.S. government has always paid in full. To the penny. Now that's not a bad record.

In fact, you might say we're now a pretty well-established outfit to do business with. So join the Payroll Savings Plan and save with today's Bicentennial issue of Series E Savings Bonds. It's easy. It's automatic. And it's safe. After 200 years, you know we're here to stay.

Take stock in America.

BUILDING THE OLD WAY— Carpenter Stewart Elliott of York, Maine, uses an old broad hatchet to make a dovetail joint in a beam for a timber-framed house. Below: the finished product. (AP Wirephoto)

Craftsmen Turn Back To The Old Techniques

By JERRY HARKAVY
Associated Press Writer
YORK, Maine (AP) — Disenchanted with contemporary home building, small groups of northern New England craftsmen are turning to America's colonial past for old construction techniques and new inspiration.

These groups have been attracting customers by building homes the way they were built more than 200 years ago, using methods known as timber framing or post-and-beam construction.

"All of us have worked with conventional methods and materials, which is why we're doing this," said Stewart Elliott of York, a 32-year-old carpenter who organized Housesmiths three years ago.

He said similar groups have been formed in Marshfield, Vt., and Alstead and Barrington, N.H.

Elliott claims his timber-framed houses, using posts and beams as large as 9-by-15-inches, are sturdier than conventionally framed dwellings, which get their structural strength from plywood sheathing nailed to 2 by 4-building studs.

"Drive a truck through a conventional house and it will collapse," he said. "Drive it through a timber-framed house and you'll have a hole in the wall, but the house will remain standing."

Housesmiths models its homes after Cape Cods, saltboxes and garrisons. The group claims its buildings will last 200 or 300 years.

Thus far, the group has built houses ranging in price from $25,000 to $85,000, depending on size and finishing. Housesmiths members say their buildings cost about $24 to $26 a square foot, compared to $30 a square foot for conventional homes.

Elliott gets his designs from scale drawings of classic 18th century homes, prepared as a WPA project during the 1930s and available from the Library of Congress.

"We try to reproduce a house in as close detail as possible to the traditional house" while meeting state and local building codes and adding bathrooms, laundry rooms and other amenities," he said.

The group's carpentry tools are a mixture of old and new. Power saws are used alongside antique adzes, mallets and chisels, often collected from old barns. The older hand tools are used to fashion joints. Timbers are linked with wooden pegs, known as trenails.

Housesmiths, which took its name from an 18th century term describing a craftsman who constructed houses, has a nucleus of five carpenters, with up to 15 other workers, including masons, plasterers and cabinetmakers, who do interior finishing. Elliott said the group builds four or five homes a year.

The group has resurrected the traditional ridge pole party, which takes place at a home site after the final timber is set into place. A small pine bough, sometimes known as a tree of liberty, is nailed to the peak of the house, and the owner joins the builder for a celebration.

"You get a barrel of beer and some music," said Elliott.

"Then you hoot and you holler and you have a dance."

Tyson Named Ass'n Prexy

ASHEVILLE—Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson was elected president of the N.C. Sheriff's Association here last week during the association's 52nd annual conference and retraining session.

RALPH TYSON

Sheriff Tyson, who served as first vice president of the state organization last year, will head the association as president for a one-year tenure.

Mainly Lancaster, sheriff of Forsyth County, was elected first vice president for the coming year and Sheriff Thomas Revel of Duplin County was selected second vice president. Guilford County Sheriff Paul Gibson was elected secretary-treasurer.

The annual session, held at the Great Smokey Hilton Inn, was attended by some 400 law enforcement personnel, including 76 out of the state's 100 sheriffs.

Test New Plan For Postmarks

By JEFFREY MILLS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service soon will be stamping the names of cities on letters, but the postmark won't necessarily be the place where a letter is mailed.

The postmarks that will appear under the new program will be those of about 250 cities that have mail-processing centers, postal officials said Monday.

Since 1970 the Postal Service has been marking first-class letters only with the name of the state and the zip code of the city where the letter was processed but with no city name.

The new procedure means that persons living in medium-sized and large cities will have their hometown marked on their letters. However, letters deposited in small-population areas will bear the postmark of a larger city.

The new postmarks, the outgrowth of a test conducted earlier this year, will begin in several months after the required equipment is available, postal officials said.

"We received only favorable comments from our customers during the test, indicating acceptance wide enough to warrant implementation on a nationwide basis," Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar said in announcing the change.

Postal officials say that a policy will be continued that allows anyone to obtain a postmark from a city or town by going to the local post office. Letters can be dropped in specially marked slots to obtain the postmark of the city of mailing or window clerks can be asked to give the hometown postmark.

A Postal Service spokesman said that when the Post Office began using area mail-processing centers, it was decided to use only the state abbreviation and the zip code of the processing area.

"There was some feeling that some people wouldn't want to have the name of a larger city on their letters," the spokesman said.

Now, however, the 90-day test conducted at 20 area mail-processing centers shows otherwise, he said. "Under the new program, you'll be able to know at least the area where the letter came from," he said.
