Project List Will Be Big Item Facing Pitt School Board

Teacher salary supplements and proposals for capital outlay projects to possibly be funded by a school bond are two major topics to be discussed at the Pitt County Board of Education meeting Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Since the last meeting, the board, by a telephone vote, approved the paying of a teacher supplement on the same schedule used in Greenville City Schools. Further questions including the definition of a teacher and final approval of the supplement disbursement will be considered at the meeting.

Pitt County Supt. Ott Alford will request the approval of the board to formulate a list of capital outlay projects. This list will be shared with each local advisory council for consideration. Then, a recommendation will be made to the board on January 4 for consideration in response to the position taken by the Greenville City Board of Education concerning the $12 million bond issue.

Supt. Alford will report on a recommendation from the Planning Team providing for an hour's practice session for each sport during the three day mid-year examinations. Most of the advisory councils that reported on the question were in favor of allowing for the practice and the executive staff split its vote. Supt. Alford will recommend that there be no change in present policy and the practice not be allowed.

Associate Supt. Tom Craft will present a report on the transfer of students to Wellcome Middle School after Christmas. He will recommend a transportation adjustment for the Wellcome Middle School area and announce a proposed time for the move. He will also request permission to use January 13 and 14 as teacher workdays rather than January 28 and 31 for Belvoir, Stokes, and Pactolus Elementary Schools for the purpose of helping to accommodate the opening of Wellcome Middle School. All other schools would observe the regular teacher workdays.

Assoc. Supt. Craft will also recommend that the central office, garage, maintenance department and all schools be closed December 22 through January 2.

Members of the Farmville Advisory Council will discuss a recommendation regarding the expenditure of $100,000 which was attained from the sale of the old Farmville High School property.

School Finance Officer, Dan Thomas, will present the results of a bid for depository which was awarded to NCNB. Thomas will also request approval of audit reports and request the appropriation moneys totaling $10,043.96.

In other business the board will:

- Receive a proposal from Asst. Supt. Leck Keeter which allows for the screening of students in grades four, five and

High Court Agrees Hear Nixon's Claim On Tapes

By RICHARD CARELLI
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to hear arguments in former President Richard M. Nixon's bid for control of White House tape recordings and other records of his administration.

The justices agreed to review a decision of a three-judge federal court in Washington upholding the Presidential Materials and Recordings Preservation Act passed by Congress in 1974.

The act gives the General Services Administration control over an estimated 42 million pages of documents, including about 200,000 prepared or reviewed by Nixon, and 888 five-inch reels of tape.

The material is available to Nixon and to officers of the executive branch of government, subject to GSA regulations. Nixon contends that GSA control of the material violates his rights to privacy.

The act calls for the GSA to prepare regulations to govern public access to the material and submit them to Congress for approval. The first set of proposed regulations was rejected by the Senate last year, a second set was withdrawn by the GSA and a third was vetoed by the House on Sept. 14.

On Oct. 26, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington ruled that the White House tapes played during the Watergate cover-up trial of Nixon's top advisers could be released to the public.

"By definition, the tapes played at the trial are no longer confidential," Chief Judge David L. Bazelon said in a two-page opinion rejecting arguments by Nixon's attorneys that the tapes would invade the former President's privacy and prove embarrassing to him.

"The tapes at issue are not recordings of bedroom or other intimate conversations, and the embarrassment Mr. Nixon fears is not republication of highly personal matters," Bazelon said.

The court, in ordering the U.S. District Court to devise a procedure for making the tapes public, said the recordings are "conversations between business associates admitted into evidence as proof of criminal misconduct."

If the tapes are eventually released, the public will learn the tone and inflections of voice used in conversations of Nixon and Watergate figures

John D. Ehrlichman, H.R. Haldeman, John Dean and others. The public will find out what "expletives" were deleted from written transcripts of the recordings.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica had ruled that the tapes should be withheld from public distribution temporarily, and it was his decision which was appealed to the Circuit Court by several broadcast news organizations.

On Dec. 20, 1974 — one day after President Ford signed the Presidential Materials and Recordings Preservation Act — Nixon filed suit in federal court on Dec. 20, 1974 to have the law declared unconstitutional as an invasion of his privacy and of the powers of the presidency.

The three-judge court found it "doubtful" that a former president was entitled to claim the limited executive privilege which a president has to protect his confidential dealings with his advisers.

In any event, it found that the act would infringe only slightly on confidentiality, because government archivists would screen the material before it could be made public.

As to the privacy claim, the court said this could not be tested until after the regulations have been adopted.

Blizzard Whips Exposed Turkish Quake Survivors

By ISMAIL KOVACI
Associated Press Writer

CALDIRAN, Turkey (AP) — The government stepped up efforts to evacuate homeless survivors of the earthquake in eastern Turkey after a blizzard whipped the devastated area with heavy snow and icy winds.

"We are afraid that some mountain villagers who survived the quake may now freeze to death," the deputy governor of the province, Muzafer Yuce, said Sunday.

"We consider this snowstorm, under the circumstances, as great a calamity as the quake itself," said Gov. Ahmet Tosun.

The governor ordered all men between the ages of 18 and 65 in Van, the provincial capital, to join rescue squads. He also ordered all private vehicles confiscated to bring in survivors from areas still isolated by the quake Wednesday.

The government rushed in snow moving equipment to clear roads.

Most residents of the area are farmers, and many were worried about their animals.

"Ten sheep are already frozen," said one. "Praise be to God if he can save our animals. They are our only riches."

"If the government cannot take care of this problem, then let us cross the border (into Iran)," one told the governor.

No casualty figures have been announced since Saturday, when more than 3,600 bodies had been recovered. Authorities feared the death toll would exceed 5,000.

U.S. Commerce Secretary Elliot Richardson interrupted a visit to Yugoslavia Sunday to fly to Ankara, the Turkish capital, to discuss more American disaster aid. The U.S. Embassy said Washington has already sent $3 million in aid.

Villages closest to the border appeared to have suffered the most damage. Rescue workers reached some that had been cut off since the disaster, but the governor said others were still isolated because of destruction to the roads and because of the mountainous terrain.

Only 15 tents had arrived at the village of Altıyol for 330 survivors out of a population of 600. Food was also scarce. Residents said helicopters dropped some supplies Sunday morning, but not enough to feed them all.

Youth Charged With Killing Four Of Family

MONTVALE, N.J. (AP) — A

freshman cadet at a military academy, described as "a good kid" by his minister, has been charged with killing his parents and two younger brothers while he was home for Thanksgiving.

Harry De La Roche Jr., 18, was to appear before Superior Court Judge Fred C. Galda in Municipal Court today for a bail hearing.

He was arraigned Sunday on four counts of first-degree murder in the shooting and bludgeoning deaths of his father, Harry, 46; his mother, Mary Jane, 50; and his brothers, Ronald, 15, and Eric, 12, at the family's $70,000 home in this affluent Bergen County community.

Medical examiner Lawrence Denson said Eric apparently "put quite a struggle after he was shot."

The family were "good people who always seemed to get along. That's the irony of it," said the Rev. K. Ray Nilson.

Harry Jr., home for the holiday weekend from The Citadel, a military college in Charleston, S.C., was stopped by police early Sunday after ignoring a stop sign, said Bergen County Prosecutor Joseph Woodcock.

"He said he had gone through the stop sign because he wanted to report that his family had been shot and killed," Woodcock said.

Police said young De La Roche told them he found the bodies of his parents and brothers when he returned at 4 a.m. Sunday from visiting a friend. Woodcock said the youth told them he didn't know who had done it.

Denson said the father and mother each had been shot twice in the head. Eric, found in his bed, was shot three times, then bludgeoned in the head.

According to the comments of store managers in the area, the consumer is more willing to spend his dollar for merchandise this year than in past years.

Most managers have noted a significant increase in volume and sales during the post-Thanksgiving, pre-Christmas shopping period, while some have attributed the increase to normal trends during the holiday season.

Hyman Brody, manager of Brody's in downtown Greenville, noted the largest post-Thanksgiving crowd he has seen in some time. "The customers are in a good frame of mind as far as Christmas gifts are concerned," Brody said.

Brody noted that people are not holding back on spending money as they have been, and

Merchants Say Consumer Spending Is Rising

According to the comments of store managers in the area, the consumer is more willing to spend his dollar for merchandise this year than in past years.

Most managers have noted a significant increase in volume and sales during the post-Thanksgiving, pre-Christmas shopping period, while some have attributed the result is a predicted 10-12 per cent increase in sales over the same period last year. Among the most popular items, Brody said, are robes and sweaters.

G. V. Martin, manager of Nichols Discount City said that there was a substantial increase in sales at that store. He attributed the early buying to earlier advertising for Christmas gifts on television.

"People are spending their money earlier," Martin said, "because they are expecting early sellouts." Among items that have been picking up at Nichols, according to Martin, have been fireplace accessories.

"Maybe since people are trying to conserve energy, they see this as one way to do it," he said.

Sporting goods are still in demand, the larger equipment seems to be moving well, according to John Hill, manager of Hodges Sporting Goods. Hill said that a lot of warm clothing are being sold instead of fashionable items, and training suits were very popular, indicating that a more sports-conscious public.

Among the larger items Hill mentioned were trampolines and table tennis equipment. Hill said, however, that the sale of larger equipment had nothing to do with a special trend of the buying public, merely seasonal preference.

J. C. Penney manager J. F. Baumann said that the spirit of Christmas was more than enough to get the Christmas shopper into the buying mood. He added that the establishment of Penny's as a store in Pitt Plaza for 10 years helped bring in more shoppers.

Public School In D.C. Is Awaiting Amy

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — When Amy Carter enrolls in January as a fourth grader at the Thaddeus Stevens School in Washington, D.C., it will mark the first time in seven decades that a president's child has attended public school.

President-elect Jimmy Carter and his wife, Rosalynn, announced Sunday that 9-year-old Amy will attend Stevens, a 108-year-old school with a predominantly minority enrollment about six blocks from the White House.

The last president to send a child to public school was Theodore Roosevelt. He sent his son, Quentin, to Washington's since-demolished Force School from 1904 to 1906.

Stevens — named after a fiery abolitionist congressman who proposed the impeachment of President Andrew Johnson in 1868 — is a three-story brick structure in a section of town that in recent years has been revitalized by the construction of new office buildings.

Although public, it is no ordinary school.

About 30 per cent of Stevens' 215 students are foreign children from Washington's diplomatic community. Sixty per cent of the students are black Americans, and 10 per cent are white Americans.

The Carters said during the campaign that they would continue to send Amy to public school. She is currently in Plains Elementary School, which is also predominantly black.

Carter spokesman Jody Powell read a statement Sunday by Mrs. Carter, who was suffering from an eye inflammation caused by an allergy.

Mrs. Carter, who toured the school last Monday, said she "was very pleased with the quality of the school, the attitude of the staff and the friendliness of the students.... No special security problems have been found to exist. Amy is

Fourth Victim In Rocky Mount Fire Is Unknown

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — A police spokesman said early today the fourth victim of Saturday morning's Terminal Hotel fire remained unidentified.

State Bureau of Investigation agents Sunday sifted through the burned out shell of the 50-year-old, two-story brick structure on Main Street, looking for additional clues to the cause of the fire.

Police Capt. H.E. Thomas said the fire is believed to have been caused by a careless smoker whose cigarette ignited a mattress in one of the approximately 25 rooms.

Investigating officers said there was no initial evidence of arson. The SBI had not released a report on the cause Sunday.

Three of the victims were identified as Willie Pittman, 52; Moody McKenny, 65; and Joseph Brown, about 50. All listed the hotel as their address.

Officials hope an autopsy of the fourth victim, a man, will help establish his identity. Police Det. F.D. Whitehead said the guest register was lost in the blaze, hampering identification. He said the victim was believed to have checked in Friday afternoon.

Two bodies were found in rooms and two were found in a hallway, police said. The fire erupted shortly after 2 a.m. Saturday and quickly gutted the hotel, used mainly as a

Admits Kidnapping Role; Not Convicted Brothers

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — "I ain't trying to be no hero," says 21-year-old Robert Erskine Thomas, who claims he and another man kidnaped a Monroe department store assistant manager — not two Mecklenburg County brothers convicted of the crime.

"I didn't expect all this — all the publicity," Thomas told the Charlotte Observer. "This done bother me too many days. They only thing I'm after is getting them out. I know they're going to get out now."

Lonnie and Sandy Sawyer, both of Mint Hill, were convicted of kidnaping Robert Wayne Hinson of The Collins Co. last year during a robbery attempt. Both are in Harnett County Youth Center. Sandy, 21, is serving 32 to 40 years and Lonnie, 19, is serving 28 to 32 years.

The Sawyers' case was the subject of an NBC television "Weekend" report earlier this year. Sy Pearlman, producer of the show, said Thomas confessed on film to NBC, and a follow-up story on the Sawyers will be shown Dec. 4.

Gov. Jim Holshouser has ordered the SBI to look into the case after the first show, but a subsequent motion for a new trial by the Sawyers' lawyer was denied last month.

Superior Court Judge Harvey Lupton said the motion was filed too late. A spokesman for the governor said Holshouser is considering a pardon for the brothers.

Union County Dist. Atty. Carroll Lowder said that Thomas confessed to the SBI and said the Sawyers were innocent. Lowder said Thomas named an accomplice, who has denied

Police Count 3 Accidents

An estimated $2,150 property damage resulted from a series of three traffic collisions investigated here Sunday by Greenville Police.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from a 1:15 a.m. mishap on Fifth Street, 393 feet West of the Darden Drive intersection involving a car driven by Vincent Earl Brooks Jr. of Wilson.

Police reported the Brooks car went out of control, struck a utility pole, then a sign post, causing an estimated $850 damage to the car and $25 damage to the sign.

Nettie Willis Carnes of College Park Trailer Ct. was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of a 10 a.m. mishap at the intersection of Greenville Boulevard and Evans Street.

Officers reported the Carnes car collided with an auto driven by Arthur Randolph Moore of Durham, causing an estimated $475 damage to the Moore vehicle and $400 damage to the Carnes car.

Vehicles driven by Judith M. Stancil of 2509 Memorial Dr. and Mary Lawrence Chance of 310 Tyson St. collided about 8:05 p.m. at the intersection of Fifth and Davis Streets.

Investigators estimated damage from the mishap at $250 to the Stancil car and $175 to the Chance auto.

Foul Weather In Many Areas

By The Associated Press

Freezing rain, fog and snow in much of the Southeast and other parts of the nation caused accidents and delays, fouling the travel plans of thousands returning home after the Thanksgiving weekend.

President Ford, who spent the four-day weekend at Camp David, Md., returned to Washington by car, rather than by helicopter, through steady rain and fog Sunday night. The trip from the Catoctin Mountains took 95 minutes in bad weather and heavy traffic as other holiday travelers returned to the city.

A snowstorm that blanketed much of Ohio on Sunday caused an estimated 400 traffic accidents in greater Cleveland. There were no reports of serious injury. Police said the worst accidents were separate 11-car and 12-car pileups on Interstate 77.

Despite hazardous driving conditions in many areas, the nation's traffic death toll during the long holiday weekend fell below predictions by the National Safety Council.

By early today, a highway death count compiled by The AP had risen to 447. The Council predicted last week that between 450 and 550 persons would die between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday.

Because of difficult road conditions, many schools were closed today in Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, northern and central Alabama and southeastern Arkansas. The freezing rain was moving toward the South Carolina and Georgia mountains.

Travelers' advisories were in effect Sunday night for highways in Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, northern and central Alabama and southeastern Arkansas. The freezing rain was moving toward the South Carolina and Georgia mountains.

Freezing rain and fog were forecast for much of the Southeast today, and flash flood warnings were out in South Carolina.

Four members of a Lexington, Ky., family were killed and two were injured when their twin-engine private plane crashed at the end of a runway while attempting to land at an airport in Lexington, Ky.

Temperatures in Arkansas ranged from five degrees in the north to 20 in the south, and most of the state had freezing rain or snow.

West Texas had record sleet and snowfalls.

There was bitter cold weather in Minnesota, the Dakotas, and Wisconsin with below-zero temperatures expected to continue through Monday. Brainerd, in north central Minnesota, had a reading of 25 degrees below zero.

Couple Exchanges Vows On Sunday Afternoon

Miss Barbara Jane Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ray Harris of Greenville, and John Russell Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Darrell Oliver Sr. of Washington, were united in marriage Sunday at 3:00 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Lalleon Naron in the Saint Paul Pentecostal Holiness Church. A program of wedding music was presented by David Manning of New Bern, organist, and Miss Kim Buck and Mrs. Clifton Stocks, vocalists.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white organza designed with a high neckline encircled with appliques of floral Venise lace beaded with pearls. The sheer yoke, enhanced with lace florettes, was outlined in an accordion pleated ruffle of organza and trimmed in beaded floral lace appliques. The long sheer fitted sleeves featured flared cuffs of the pleated organza trimmed with the beaded Venise lace. The flared skirt extended from the natural waistline which was embellished with sprays of beaded Venise Lace. A ruffled flounce of pleated organza bordered in a chain of Venise lace florettes edged the hemline and attached chapel train.

The bride wore a fingertip illusion veil edged in white floral Venise lace to complement her gown. Her veil was held in place by a Camelot headpiece trimmed in floral Venise lace beaded with pearls and centered with a white satin bow. She carried a cascading bouquet of white miniature carnations and marguerite daisies accented with clematis red roses and interspersed with baby's breath.

Miss Brenda Saulter of Greenville was the honor attendant. She wore a formal gown of cotton blue knit fashioned A-line with a square neck and mock bolero jacket edged in cream. The bodice was accented by a cream medallion and a deep flounce finished the skirt. She wore a picture hat of cream accented by cotton blue ribbon around the crown and carried a clematis red rose embedded in baby's breath with trailing rose streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Glenda Dainton, Miss Debbie Whichard, cousin of bride, Miss Diane Cayton and Miss Rebecca Hayes, all of Greenville, and Miss Peggy Oliver of Virginia Beach, Va. sister of the bridegroom. They were dressed like the honor attendant and their flowers were tied with rose and sky blue streamers.

The father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers included Wayne Bailey, Dalton Mills and Sidney Hardee, all of Greenville, Danny Tucker of Kinston, cousin of the bride, and Danny Oliver of Delaware, brother of the bridegroom.

After a wedding trip of Pocono, the couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride is a graduate of J.H. Rose High School and ECU. The bridegroom is a graduate of Washington High School and is employed by Eaton Corp.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall. The room was decorated with mixed flowers.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white snapdragons, red carnations, blue corn flowers and baby's breath. Mrs. Dalton Mills of Greenville and Mrs. Wayne Tucker of Kinston served the wedding cake. Mrs. George Robert Mills of Greenville poured punch from the fountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Whichard said the good-byes following the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Darrell Oliver, parents of the bridegroom, gave an after-rehearsal party in the fellowship hall Friday night.

Miss Kim Oliver, niece of the

MRS. JOHN RUSSELL OLIVER

bridegroom, and Mrs. Peggy Oliver, sister of the bridegroom, entertained Miss Harris and her bridesmaids at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Sam Darrell Oliver, Washington, Saturday.

The chancel of the church was centered with a basket of bridal flowers flanked by a 17 branch crescent candelabra with stands of greenery. Hogarth curve arrangements marked the bridal path and family pews were marked with bows of bridal satin interspersed with stephanotis. The piano and organ were adorned with arrangements of bridal flowers centered with lighted tapers. The profile pie-dieu was marked with satin bows interspersed with stephanotis.

Working A Trade Can Pay Off

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A woman was distressed because her bright 19-year-old son had quit college to enroll in a trade school, saying he preferred to work with his hands. His mother insisted that men who work with their hands do so only because they are not smart enough to work with their minds.

Thanks for telling her that college was not for everyone, and that some hand work requires more talent, skill and know-how than many professions.

That reminds me of this story: It seems a doctor had a plumbing problem at home so he called a plumber who came at once and corrected the problem in a short time.

When the plumber finished, the doctor asked how much he owed him. The plumber said, "That will be $75."

"That's outrageous," said the physician, "I'm a doctor and I don't make that kind of money!"

The plumber replied, "Neither did I when I was a doctor."

HENRY D. WIXEY, MSgt., USAF

DEAR HENRY: Beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column a bitter reference to wives who do not have custody of their children following a divorce. ("She's divorced and her husband has custody of the children, so you know what SHE's like!")

I would like to tell you of my own experience: I was divorced three years ago, and my ex-husband has custody of our children, now 6 and 8 years old. He and I discussed it at great length. Neither of us was stupid, immoral or emotionally disturbed. We decided that my husband was better qualified to raise the children than I was. He enjoyed childhood games, spending time with the children, reading to them, etc. He was a rotten husband, but an excellent father.

He and I get along wonderfully well now that we are divorced, and more important, the children are better off. I have unrestricted visitation rights, they love me, and I see them often.

It's time people, and the courts, realized that some men are more capable of rearing children than some women. Just because a mother gives her husband custody of the children doesn't make her a horrible person.

Perhaps she has made greater sacrifices for the benefit of her children than the hardheaded, bitter mother who uses her children for financial gain and a club to punish her husband. Please be fair and print this.

"G"

DEAR G: Color me "fair."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I can't get home for Christmas, so we always mail my mother a gift.

My sister, with whom Mom lives, opens the gift, substitutes the same item (only cheaper quality) and gives the gift we sent my mother to someone in her husband's family.

Mother, who is quite elderly, never knows the difference and writes to thank us for the "dress, bathrobe, purse" or whatever it was we sent to her.

My sister doesn't know I am aware of this.

Should I send flowers or candy now or then? Or should I say something? My sister and I have always been close, and I hesitate to cause a rift. Nevertheless I am perturbed over this.

WHAT TO DO

DEAR WHAT: It's unfair to your mother to give her "flowers or candy" if you feel she would prefer something else. If you are sure of your facts, confront your sister and tell her to quit that chintzy game.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Couple Has 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams celebrated their 50th anniversary Sunday. They were married Nov. 28, 1926.

Friends and relatives attended the reception given by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams, Brook Valley.

Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Grady.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams, Brook Valley.

Miss Phyllis Gail Briley Weds

BETHEL — The Bethel Pentecostal Holiness Church was the scene of the Sunday afternoon wedding ceremony at three o'clock of Phyllis Gail Briley and Gerry Leonard Sutton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Briley of Bethel, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Sutton of Stokes.

The double ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Eric Vernelson. A program of wedding music was presented by Marsha Leggett, organist. Phil Cooper of Greenville sang "Always," and "A Time For Us" and Mrs. Elaine Taylor of Greenville sang "If" and "The Wedding Promise."

The altar was decorated with basket arrangements of white mums and carnations flanked by branched candelabra and greenery. The couple knelt at the altar marked with white satin bows for the blessing and benediction.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over peau de soie. The empire bodice featured rows of re-embroidered alencon lace and bridal buttons encircling the high V-neckline. The sheer Juliet sleeves were bordered with matching lace. The A-line skirt, embellished with rows of lace, continued into a chapel length train.

She wore a profile cap of re-embroidered alencon lace and bridal pearls with three tiers of silk illusion edged in matching laces. She carried a lace covered Bible centered with white roses showered with stephanotis.

The bride is a senior at North Pitt High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of North Pitt and Pitt Technical Institute. He is presently engaged in farming and is employed by Olsen Associates, Inc., Greenville.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside in Greenville.

The maid of honor was Teresa Briley and the matron of honor was Kathy Heath, sister of the bride, both of Bethel. They wore formal gowns of spice knit fashioned with empire bodices which featured string straps and a high neck. The long sleeve jacket was accented with a V-neck and tied at the waist. They wore horsehair braid hats encircled with silk illusion and carried cascade arrangements of bronze fujii mums and yellow pom poms with eucalyptus.

Bridesmaids were Lori Briley of Bethel, sister of the bride, Judy Manning of Greenville, Wanda Leggett of Stokes, and Darlene Hall of Pinetops, sister of the bridegroom. Their dresses were like those of the honor attendants and they carried cascade arrangements of yellow fujii mums and bronze pom poms with eucalyptus.

Kimberly Dawn Hall of Pinetops, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She was dressed in a formal gown of spice floral polyester cotton and carried a basket of yellow and bronze daisies. The ring bearer was Michael Edward Sutton of Goldsboro, nephew of the bridegroom.

The best man was Norman R. Sutton of Goldsboro and ushers were Randall Hall of Pinetops, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Aubrey Wynne and Ralph Wynne, both of Stokes, Dwight Vernelson and Ray Manning, both of Greenville, and Ricky Switzer of Washington.

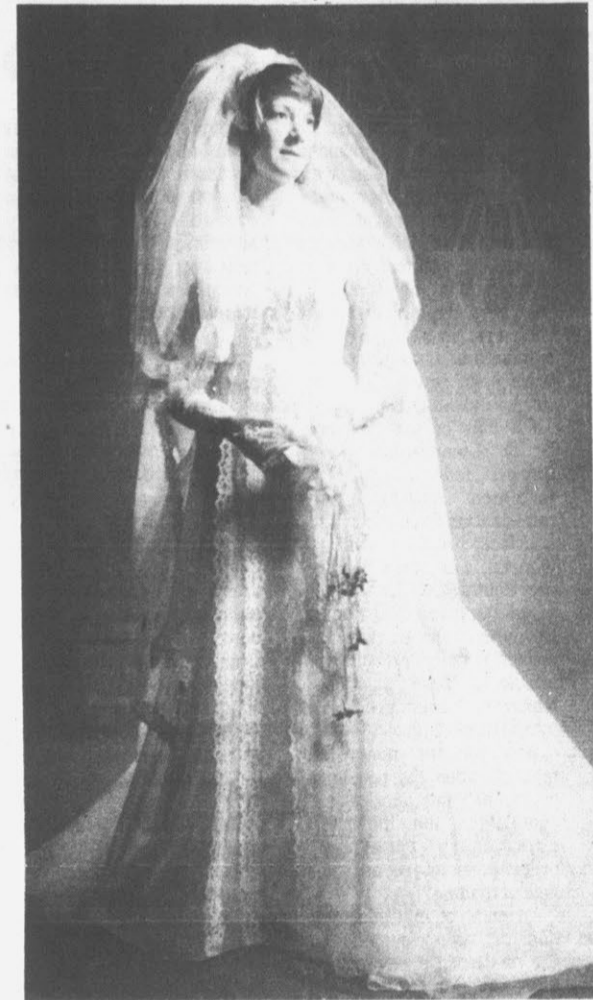

The mother of the bride wore a formal A-line gown of emerald knit and a corsage of yellow cymbidiums. The mother of the bridegroom selected a formal length gown of blue polyester knit and a corsage of white cymbidiums. The grandmothers of the bride couple were remembered with corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Mewborn presided at the register table which featured a portrait of the bride with an arrangement of white carnations and daisies.

The reception table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with two silver candelabra and an arrangement of white carnations and daisies.

Wedding cake was served by Mrs. Linda Sutton and punch was poured by Mrs. Bethany Bullock. Kim Rook, Mary Forbes, Cecilia Riddick and Teresa Keel assisted in serving.

An after-rehearsal party was given by Mrs. Mildred Davenport of Greenville, Mrs. Martha Mewborn of Bethel and Mrs. Linda Sutton of Goldsboro in the church fellowship hall. A luncheon honoring the bride and her attendants was held at the Three Steers Saturday.

N.C. Can't Afford That Lag

Getting North Carolina into the nation's economic mainstream is difficult, indeed. The state had been making some progress in personal income growth—until the second quarter of 1976 report came out. The Department of Commerce figures showed that the growth in personal income had been reversed and there was a decline of .1 percent from the previous quarter. "In North Carolina—where income showed virtually no change—contract construction, non durable manufacturing wages and government unemployment benefits were off," the report said. "Farm income was up only a little. There were moderate gains in most other components." The second quarter drop might not have been so bad if the rest of the nation had dropped correspondingly. It didn't work that way, however. The other 49 states all gained during the second quarter. The one quarter drop is not a disaster, of course. In fact from the first quarter to the second, North Carolina showed a 15.4 percent increase compared to the national average of 13.4 percent. Nevertheless with industrial wages of our state far behind other states we can't afford even one bad quarter. The obvious answer is an aggressive industry campaign which attracts high salaried industries to North Carolina. In that way we can gradually pull up our average industrial wage.

Bad News For Our Inflation-Fighters

There was more bad news for those who are trying to control inflation with the announcement that steel companies were increasing prices. Four steel companies have announced price increases on flat-rolled products. We can expect to feel the effect of the increase in the consumer products which use steel. The steel companies, of course, justify the price increases based on their own increased costs. The spiral continues, however—and in the long run inflation may be more dangerous to us than recession.

SBI Gets Youth Money

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — Federal money earmarked for community alternatives for troubled youngsters has been switched to the purchase of equipment for the State Bureau of Investigation. Politics, internal bureaucratic bickering between agencies, and an obvious blocking effort by some members of the Governor's Law and Order Commission has resulted in the transfer of funds. Meanwhile, the July, 1977, legislative deadline for getting children out of reformatories and into local treatment and rehabilitation programs will come and go without a chance for most North Carolina communities to meet the requirements of the law. Status offenders — those in training schools for truancy, general delinquency, disobedience (non-criminal acts) — are supposed to be barred from the training schools under the new law.

bought with federal funds. Other equipment includes 10 high-powered rifles with scopes, surveillance camera outfits, a number of transmitting units to be used in "bugging" agents, nine cars, a collection of shotguns, revolvers, typewriters, tape recorders, pocket calculators, fingerprint kits, hip-boots, gloves, shovels, rakes, and crowbars. Officials of the Law and Order Commission which funnels federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration money into state and local programs said the transfer was made because the Youth Services Division of the Department of Human Resources which runs the state's training schools was unable to spend the money which had been previously earmarked. Why was the money left unused, when the people in charge of Youth Services are complaining that the entire community treatment program is in jeopardy for lack of funding? An audit of that operation has just been completed by the state's Department of State Auditor, which found that, "The success of this particular objectives has been at best limited, as disclosed by the facts that only 23 children have been placed (in community programs) and only 15 percent of total grant expenditures was expended for this objective." What's Wrong? Auditors attempted to pinpoint what has gone wrong, and offer some suggestions to avoid similar problems: "We wish to encourage all of the many child-serving agencies to seriously consider the causes and implications of the problems... and attempt to establish operating practices and philosophies which will avoid continuation of present situations which work against the common goal... to help children." Lack of advanced planning and administrative problems in the Division of Youth Services was a major problem, auditors found. For example, cars for field agents were not available permanently, so they had to be checked out of the Raleigh motor pool every two weeks — as much as 37 percent of the mileage on the cars was run up driving back and forth to Raleigh to check the car in and back out. But the bulk of criticism was directed at "a lack of cooperation and coordination among the child-serving agencies... turf-fighting... reluctance of one group to allow another to share or overlap on its own area of responsibility for fear of losing some of its importance or stature." Paperwork passed back and forth between agencies delayed contracts up to six months, while local agencies and governmental units ultimately lost interest, auditors reported. Auditors pinpointed "personality conflicts, lack of understanding of job... interpretations of regulations and policies, absence of proper supervision, bureaucratic red tape, petty jealousies... hindered the success..." The report calls for a study commission to, revamp the entire approach to serving children in North Carolina: "the major objective of effective assistance to children will not be accomplished without a major overhaul..."

Transition Period Tizzy

By ART BUCHWALD
WASHINGTON — Washington is in a terrible tizzy. Nobody has any idea who anybody is and there is nothing that upsets this town more than not knowing who is in charge. It's gotten so bad that anyone who has anything near to a Southern accent is treated with deference and respect, just on the off chance he might be a member of the Carter transition team. A friend of mine told me what happened in his federal building the other day. A young man wearing jeans, boots and a blue denim jacket walked into the building chewing on a piece of straw. The alert guard at the desk immediately called upstairs. "I think it's one of them." "How do you know?" the man on the tenth floor demanding. "He's looking around, and he's writing names down off the list of people in the building." "Oh, my gosh," the man on the tenth floor said. "I didn't think they'd get to us this early. I thought they would deal with State, Treasury and Defense first." "You can't tell about that guy Carter," the guard said. "He might even show up here himself." "Well, send the man up. Just don't let him stand in the lobby." The guard went over to the boy in the jeans. "The man wants to see you." "What man?" "You mean he ain't going to be the man any more?" "I don't know what you're talking about," the boy in the

Other Editors Say Taiwan Expendable

(Henderson Dispatch)
Senator Mansfield, Democrat, of Montana, has returned from the Far East on one of those congressional junkets so popular with Capitol Hill honorables. And one reaction he had and which he has stated publicly is that the Nationalist Chinese Republic on Taiwan is expendable. He advocates the United States abrogating its pledge to defend the free democratic regime on the large island off the mainland and which communist Peking wants to swallow up so terribly much. The senator's attitude is characteristic of the liberals, most of whom favor coddling up to the communists. Such an outlook is difficult indeed to fathom. Under the rule of the late Chiang Kai-shek, Taiwan had been a close friend of the United States since it came to be a nation on its own. Whether out of fear of the Peoples Republic on the mainland or on the theory that it would make for world peace, the United States under President Nixon, and since, broke the barriers which kept the communists secluded as a nation. Nixon went there while in office, and once since then as the guest of Peking, and President Ford followed last year. Mansfield wants to throw Taiwan to the communist wolves, as inevitably would happen if American withdrawal should take place. Taiwan, to be sure, could be of little advantage to the United States in a crisis, but Washington is honor bound to the free state. After Nixon went to Peking, he goaded the United Nations into tossing Taiwan out both as a member of the Security Council and as a member as such of the U.N. Mansfield now wants to go further and renounce all ties with the tiny state. Should that happen, what nation in the world could depend upon commitments by this government? Of what value would our promises and pledges be? Unless the United States is hellbent on smuggling up to the communist countries, there is little point in deserting Taiwan, a staunch friend through the years. The fact that Mansfield, now out of office, wants to renege does not make it essential that such a course be pursued by the American government.

will tell you what's really going on around here. Anyhow, the man on the tenth floor wants to see you." "Why does he want to see me? It says here 'Personnel' is on the seventh floor." "You have to go to the tenth floor. Please sir, follow me." They arrived on the tenth floor and the man was waiting at the elevator with his staff. He shook the boy's hand vigorously. "Glad to have you on board, sir," the man said. "Carstairs here is my right arm. He's moved out of his office so you can use it during the transition." "That's mighty kind of him," the boy said. "I wasn't expectin' my own office this early in the game. I was willing to start on the ground floor." "Anything you need from the ground floor we'll bring up here to you. This is Miss Wedlock, Elfin's secretary. She's been assigned to you. Just tell her what you need and it's yours." "Could someone get me a Coke?" Within two minutes five people were giving the boy Cokes. The man said, "Now I want you to know we're not making any major decisions until President Carter takes his oath of office." "That's damned decent of you," the boy said, drinking one of his Cokes. "We want this transition to

Moscow's Hand Evident

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
GENEVA — Despite the elusiveness of hard evidence to prove it, the impasse here in negotiations designed to transfer power in Rhodesia from minority whites to majority blacks strongly hints at undercover Soviet manipulation — an unseen hand casting a long shadow. Indeed, considering the high stakes in a more or less peaceful settlement tailored by the U.S. and Britain, with its implications on the immensely important future question of super-power influence in southern Africa, Moscow obviously is praying for U.S. failure. But the frustrating stalemate here over black-nationalist refusal to agree that elections must precede actual independence for the new state of Zimbabwe — and to nail down that agreement in inescapable language — suggests that one faction in the nationalist movement does not want elections. That faction — the National Union — is ostensibly headed by Robert Mugabe, who ostensibly controls its guerrilla army, the strongest force conducting guerrilla operations against Rhodesia. In fact, however, Mugabe appears to be more titular than actual leader of the National Union. It is the "nyet" from guerrilla leaders in the field, directing Mugabe here in Geneva, that may be the real explanation for the wasted month over the question of elections and a fixed independence day. The reason is elemental: the National Union's guerrilla force, while expanding its military power, lacks an electoral base inside Rhodesia. Hence, it could not conceivably win an early election. The Soviet connection follows quite naturally. Moscow is main supplier of weapons to the National Union and hence in position to exert leverage. "There is too much interference from outside," an important Zambian leader told us here last weekend. And Methodist Bishop A. T. Muzorewa, leader of one of the big-four nationalist factions, came close to fingering Moscow. "If this fails," he told us, "the Soviet Union will be all too ready to assist the liberation movement and you can be certain it will get much bloodier." Even taking into account the long impasse, Ivor Richard, Britain's special envoy conducting the negotiations, is clearly correct in insisting that no fugitive loophole be allowed that might produce independence before elections. Independence without elections could open the door to full-scale civil war both between blacks and whites and between competing black factions. That would mean Moscow pouring supplies to its agents, with no restraint. It would catch the U.S., as in the remotely comparable Angola civil war, in this multiple squeeze: how to respond to Soviet power,

Strength For Today

We Need Another Lincoln
A most important element in the life of a family, a corporation, or a nation, is the character of leaders. Brilliance and intellect is never enough. Cleverness withers and in the end is forgotten. Leaders who worship force usually die with the very sword they have fashioned. The United States has been fortunate in that it often, but not always, had excellent leaders during times of crisis. Perhaps the greatest of these was Abraham Lincoln. He is remembered primarily because of his character. His honesty and integrity was absolute and without question. The venerable Job himself did not have more patience than Lincoln. He put his country first, and such matters as personal sacrifice he assumed willingly for the benefit of others. The world is crying out today for statesmen of character. We have plenty of brilliant, well-informed, and efficient men. What we need are leaders in whom people can really put their trust—leaders who will place the people's welfare above their own.

Bottlenecks Face Carter Goal

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Carter's goal of lowering the jobless rate by 1.5 percentage points in 1977 might result in costly bottlenecks, according to a U.S. Chamber of Commerce official. To achieve this goal, said Jack Carlson, the new chief economist of the national chamber, would strain the nation's plant capacity, which he views as suffering from serious underinvestment. Carlson fears that much of the plant and equipment said to be available for use is either obsolete because it requires too much energy to operate or else is impacted by environmental limitations. When demand for goods exceeds the capacity of the production machinery, a general inflationary situation usually ensues, resulting in conditions which the chamber fears could be the excuse for imposing wage-price controls. Carlson, who joined the chamber a month ago after 12 years of government service under four presidents, believes recent Carter statements and at least one appointment suggest "an inclination to go along with business." The president-elect's effort to have a harmonious relationship with Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, and his naming of Thomas Lance, a banker, to a high fiscal position, has been reassuring, he said. In Carlson's view, Carter seems set to pursue a moderate course. The chamber, whose 62,000 members represent a cross-section of business life, is said however to be concerned that few business people are on the Carter transition team, and that those who are seem to represent a progovernment attitude. For this and other reasons, Carlson said, chamber officials will be closely observing not just Cabinet-level appointments but "second tier, sub-Cabinet people and agencies to whom Congress gives great responsibility and power." Aside from the immediate concern of measuring and influencing the political scene, the big issues facing business today, in the chamber's view, are a capital shortage and the threat of government intervention in markets. The discouragement of investment in expanded plant and equipment in recent years — because of wars,

Credit Can Be Shared

By DAVID R. NELSEN
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — It would be surprising if the 1977 General Assembly is not one of the most active and productive in the state's history. While the legislature normally moves the state along a step at a time, the 1977-78 term could go down in North Carolina history as the Pogo Stick Session—leaping, rather than stepping along. Democrats will no doubt claim credit for everything good that comes out during the two years, but Republicans will deserve some of the credit as well. True, earlier this month the North Carolina Republican party suffered its worst setback in 20 years, losing the governorship by a landslide and not gaining even one seat in the legislature. But, politics being the sort of game it is, the GOP's influence will help put the state on the pogo stick. The first bit of evidence comes from the legislators themselves. Many of them say they are eager to get to work on the big issues that will come before the 1977 session. Legislative leaders predict a six- or seven-month session next year followed by a three- or four-month session in 1978 to complete the anticipated work. There is a mountain of work awaiting this session because some important legislation had been bottled up the last four years because the legislature and executive branches had been at odds, some lawmakers complain. Also, there was a fear that Republican Gov. Jim Holshouser's administration might disagree over priorities and not carry out a program as the legislature intended, the lawmakers say. Some legislators admit, however, that one reason the General Assembly lacked enthusiasm for making progress was the fear that the Republican administration might claim credit for the good program. Having admitted to foot-dragging in the last four years, the Democratic legislators now must make up for it with a flurry of activity. In addition, a productive 1977 session would help justify Democratic claims that having a Republican administration held the state back, or at least they hope it would. Another factor putting bounce in the pogo stick will be Gov.-elect Jim Hunt. Because of his dramatic election victories, Hunt will claim a public mandate and demand—diplomatically, of course—that the legislature follow his lead. He stands a good chance of success because during his four years as lieutenant governor, he built a solid power base in the legislature. When he needs help with a bill, there will be no shortage of legislators anxious to lend a hand. Hunt's impact will be all the more dramatic because he succeeds a governor who was virtually without a friend in the legislature. By all estimates, Hunt is progressive and he promises to be an aggressive leader. There is little doubt that if the legislature balks on an issue which Hunt believes is important, he will appeal to the people to put the screws on and demand action. Legislators know that and some of them have hopes of eventually running for higher office. They also know it would be unwise to indiscriminately cross the man who has firm recessions and wage-price controls — has serious ramifications for the job market, Carlson observed. "To go from 6 per cent to 5 per cent unemployment requires a "massive investment in plant and equipment," he said. While estimates vary on the actual capital requirements to produce one job, many place the figure at more than $40,000. In order to encourage capital investment, and in Carlson's view make possible full employment, he believes that profit as a percentage of sales, now around 5 per cent, must rise to 6 or 7 per cent. Calling wage-price controls the "most pervasive intrusion into the private sector by the federal government," Carlson suggested Carter could do much to build investor confidence by making clear he has no such plans.

County Extension Chairman

A review of the 1976 Extension Research on Wheels (E-ROW) tobacco program will be held on Tuesday, December 7. Tobacco farmers, dealers in ag chemicals and other interested persons are invited to the McKimmon Education Center, N.C. State University, Raleigh, for the day-long event. Tobacco growers and their wives will be guests of E-ROW. Dealers and others will be asked to pay a $10 registration fee.

The noon luncheon will feature recognition of two "tobacco greats"—S.M. Cozart, warehouseman, outstanding tobacco grower and leader and Dr. C. Hoyt Rogers, former vice-president in charge of variety development and seed production, Coker's Pedigreed Seed Company. Wives are invited to attend the luncheon. A special program "Mixing and Matching Periods and Styles of Furnishings" will be presented to them in the afternoon.

The program for growers and dealers will feature a discussion of the tobacco disease situation, variety performance results with chemical soil treatments (multi-purpose, nematicides, herbicides and various combinations) and systems control. Special topics include the Virus Threat, New Regulations for Importation of Tobacco Transplants, Healthy Plant Production and the Root Knot Species Problem. Of particular interest to growers will be

"Not particularly. I thought I'd start in the mailroom."

"I'd like to explain about the mailroom foul-up," the man said. "We put in this $400,000 mail sorter, but because GSA changed the size of our forms from an S18 to a W16 we had to change the envelopes, and then make modifications in the mail sorter of $300,000. But it wasn't our fault. Here is all the correspondence on it. You'll see the overrun was not made by our department."

front-line African states such as Mozambique, or Soviet influence within the competing nationalist factions, with little countervailing influence from the West.

While the nationalists have allowed a precious month to slip away, the Rhodesian whites are plotting new definitions of "majority" rule never contemplated by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Thus, they are now talking not about "majority" rule but "responsible majority" rule — a highly limited franchise for the 7 million blacks to maximize political safeguards for the 270,000 whites.

The resolution of such inflammatory disputes, together with the crucial question of white or black control of the army and police during the transition to "majority" rule, have not been approached — and may not be unless Ambassador Ivor Richard's bomb squad disarms the election-independence booby trap before it explodes in the West's face.

Heirs Of Blues Singer In Suit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heirs of blues singer Bessie Smith have sued CBS, Inc., and Columbia Records, Inc., for allegedly depriving her of money from her recordings because she was black.

The suit in U.S. District Court here was filed by Jack Gee Jr. of Philadelphia, identified as the singer's son, and the estate of Miss Smith's late husband, John Gee Sr. It charged that Columbia Records exploited singers who recorded for its black record series.

The suit contended that the defendants' predecessor companies never paid Miss Smith, who died in 1937, more than $200 for any of her songs recorded between 1923 and 1933.

According to the suit, Columbia said in a recent annual report that reissues of Miss Smith's records were the largest selling reissues in record industry history, with gross sales of more than $6 million.

control of the state Democratic party machinery.

This is not to say that Hunt will have it easy in the legislature. Like other bills, those supported by Hunt will be closely examined and the cost will be weighed against the cost of other proposals and the availability of money. In fact, a few legislators foresee some of Hunt's proposals being cut back or defeated simply because there won't be enough money to fund them all.

What it boils down to is that Hunt faces a favorable atmosphere in the legislature, partly thanks to the Republicans. The General Assembly is eager to work with him. But, it won't rubber stamp his proposals. Nor will it thumb its collective nose at the chief executive as has sometimes happened in the last four years.

Black Urban Leaders Honor Wilkins

By JONATHAN WOLMAN
AP Urban Affairs Writer

DENVER (AP) — The growing ranks of black public officials saluted civil rights leader Roy Wilkins in a thunderous ceremony marked by a promise of urban aid from Jimmy Carter and Wilkins' quiet appraisal of the president-elect: "He means good."

Wilkins, who steps down next year as director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, received the Liberty Award on Sunday from the National Black Caucus of Local Elected Officials. He was lauded by black urban leaders, as well as Carter and by Wilkins' successor at the NAACP, Benjamin Hooks.

"The cutting edge of the civil rights movement today is politics," said caucus president Maynard Jackson, mayor of Atlanta.

In 1969, the first year that figures were compiled, 1,185 blacks held elected office at all levels of government. In 1976, the number is 3,979. Of these, 143 are mayors, many attending the National League of Cities annual meeting under way here this week.

Still, as Hooks pointed out, the struggle for equality that marked Wilkins' career at the NAACP remains to be won.

Though blacks are 11 per cent of the nation's population, black elected officials comprise less than one per cent of all elected public officials.

"Tonight we face the challenge of limited success. Tonight in America there is too little for too many," said Hooks. "Let us not get so concerned with our Brooks Brothers suits and IBM briefcases that we forget there are people out there who need our help."

Carter told the caucus he is "deeply concerned" about urban America, and he pledged to implement a "broad and comprehensive urban policy" to aid the nation's troubled cities.

Land Values Skyrocket In Little Plains, Ga.

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — A couple from Toronto, Canada, just bought a lot 125 feet by 420 feet for $22,500. Normally, the land would be worth about $5,000, says local realtor James Dalton.

It just happens to be across the street from President-elect Jimmy Carter's home.

The buyers plan to build a house on the lot and move to Plains.

"He just wants to be across the street from a president," Dalton said.

Another Toronto couple bought the house where Carter's father was born for $58,500. That house sold for $10,000 two years ago, and the owners had put in about $5,000 or $6,000 in repairs since.

Dalton said proudly that both couples plan to live in Plains. "We don't cater to speculators," he said.

At least five houses are formally on the market in Plains, a city one-mile in diameter, along with a thousand-acre peanut farm.

Some realtors are working on deals privately, including those assembling parcels of land to build a motel and a Carter library.

Some prospective purchasers are by-passing realtors and going directly to landowners offering to buy.

Some sellers are taking advantage of the sudden rise in the value of their property.

But others want out of no-longer-quiet Plains.

The couple who sold the house where Carter's father was born came to Plains from Macon to escape the hustle of urban life, Dalton said. "And that's what they ran into here," he said, "only it's worse."

Americus insurance agent Ted Brown says he doesn't believe the change in Plains will drive people out, but he's one of those thinking of leaving.

"I'm like other people," he said. "If the price is right ..."

He'd like to make a good deal on his house in Plains, then retire and move back to the north Georgia mountains where he was raised.

The peanut farm is owned by W.O. Cochran. According to an associate, he wants to move because "he doesn't like the changes going on. Plains is like an Air Force base or a traveling circus."

The associate said Cochran hates publicity and reporters, and he moved to Plains from Palmetto a few years ago to find a quieter place.

Cochran refused to say just why he's leaving, calling it a personal matter.

Cochran's real estate agent is asking $950 an acre for the farm. That's about $200 to $300 higher than in more normal times, but Dalton said he thinks the property will go for the asking price.

"If a fella comes by with the money," said Cochran, "he'll get the farm and I'll be gone."

Vice President Stuck In Mud

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff Oscar Correa says he was called over the weekend to aid vice President Nelson Rockefeller and members of his family who were stuck in the mud in two four-wheel drive vehicles.

Correa said Sunday he asked the vice president, "What the hell are you doing getting stuck?"

The sheriff said Rockefeller told him he was checking his buffalo.

The vice president told the Wilbacy County sheriff he has 22 buffalo on a 6,000-acre ranch he owns north of Raymondville in South Texas.

The sheriff said Rockefeller, two of his sons and several other persons were camping out over the weekend when the vehicles got stuck Friday night.

Q2 Crossings Set For 1977

NEW YORK (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth 2, the only luxury liner still providing regular transatlantic passenger service, will be based in New York again next year for a schedule of 30 crossings between the United States and Europe, Cunard announced today.

In making the decision to continue transatlantic service in 1977, company officials said they found there is a growing number of persons who prefer going to Europe by ship.

The QE2 will make 15 sailings in each direction between New York, Cherbourg, France and Southampton, England. The first sailing will leave New York April 6.

Speaking by telephone from Plains, Ga., Carter offered no specific proposals in his address. But he said blacks would be "direct beneficiaries of our concern and our action," promising, "I will not be remote from your own objectives and goals."

Wilkins said he is often asked what black people can expect from the Carter administration, and he said, "The answer is simple: We expect him to keep his promises to give leadership and substance to the principles of equality and justice."

Wilkins concluded, "Personally I am persuaded that he means good."

Rules Teacher Can Serve Bd.

MORGANTON, N.C. (AP) — A Catawba County teacher who resides in neighboring Caldwell County may serve on the Caldwell County Board of Education, Superior Court Judge Sam Ervin III ruled Saturday.

Ervin, ruling in a special session of Burke County Superior Court here, held that a state law prohibiting school employees from serving on local school boards does not apply to Joseph H. Barringer, 29, of Lenoir, a mathematics teacher at Blackburn Middle School.

The action clears the way for Barringer, who led all 16 candidates running for the school board, to be sworn in Dec. 6 with the other newly elected members.

Ervin said a 21-year-old state law that says "no persons engaged in teaching in public schools...can be a member of a county or city board of education" still would prohibit a teacher from serving on a school board in the county where he teaches.

Ervin said the only rational justification for the law is that it would prohibit a teacher from "being his own boss" by serving on the board in the county where he teaches.

"And so, I hold the statute unconstitutional as it applies to Mr. Barringer," Ervin said.

The school board, which had taken a neutral stance in the case, had asked Ervin, whose judicial district includes Caldwell County, to rule on Barringer's eligibility to serve.

Barringer had contended that the law should not stop him from serving in a county where he is not employed, and Ervin agreed.

New Insights In Old Notebook

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Novelist Nathaniel Hawthorne took a "normal" interest in the shape of girls' legs and enjoyed a smoke or drink with friends, according to a Brown University professor.

English Prof. Hyatt H. Waggoner, a Hawthorne scholar, said he made that observation after authenticating the recent discovery of Hawthorne's earliest manuscript notebook.

"What we have learned from the notebook (written between 1835 and 1841) we could not have learned before," said Waggoner.

"Waggoner, who is the only scholar to study the 46-page work, said the manuscript is the most "inward-centered and most idea-centered" of all Hawthorne's notebooks.

Cites Plentiful Solar Energy

TOKYO (UPI) — Enough solar radiation falls on the earth every day to supply the world's energy needs for the next 70 years at the current rate of use, according to a Honeywell executive.

William V. McDonnell told Tokyo businessmen that while solar energy is free, "the process of converting it is not. As the amount of energy we provide from traditional sources gets smaller and the price rises, the value of developing solar technology becomes more appealing."

Revamping Of Education Setup To Inspire Debate

RALEIGH (AP) — Recommendations to revamp the state's public school administrative setup expected soon from a legislative study commission are likely to spark lively debate during the upcoming session of the General Assembly.

The proposals, most extensive revisions in public school administration since 1954, are an attempt to eliminate some of the conflicts among top education officials over education philosophy and administration of the schools.

Major recommendations are expected to include:

- An amendment to the state constitution to have the state Board of Education appoint the state superintendent of public instruction who is now chosen by statewide vote.
- A constitutional amendment expanding the board from 11 to 15 regular members; reducing the governor's appointments from 11 to four; and removing the state treasurer and lieutenant governor from membership. The remaining 11 members would be elected by the General Assembly from persons nominated by local boards of education. Terms would be reduced from eight to four years.

—Creating a new board to administer the state's system of community colleges and technical institutes which are now governed by the state Board of Education.

The commission, headed by state Sen. Edward Renfrow, D-Johnston, will present its proposals to the State Board of Education Thursday. The board will review the recommendations and make a report to the General Assembly by March.

But even before the commission report was made public it had sparked disagreement.

For example Gov.-elect Jim Hunt has declared his support of making the superintendent an appointive post, but he has said he was opposed to the governor losing any appointments to the Board of Education. Hunt said the governor should appoint the board members because he "has a reasonably fresh mandate from the people."

However, Hunt did reiterate support for having board members confirmed by the General Assembly. He said the process should involve "vigorous scrutiny of members."

Van Pooling Is The Next Step

HOUSTON (UPI) — An extension of the familiar car pooling concept involves business and industry in van pooling employees to work.

Practical application of the new "share-the-ride" approach, promoted by the new 30-company National Association of Van Pool Operators, has taken several forms, according to an association spokesman.

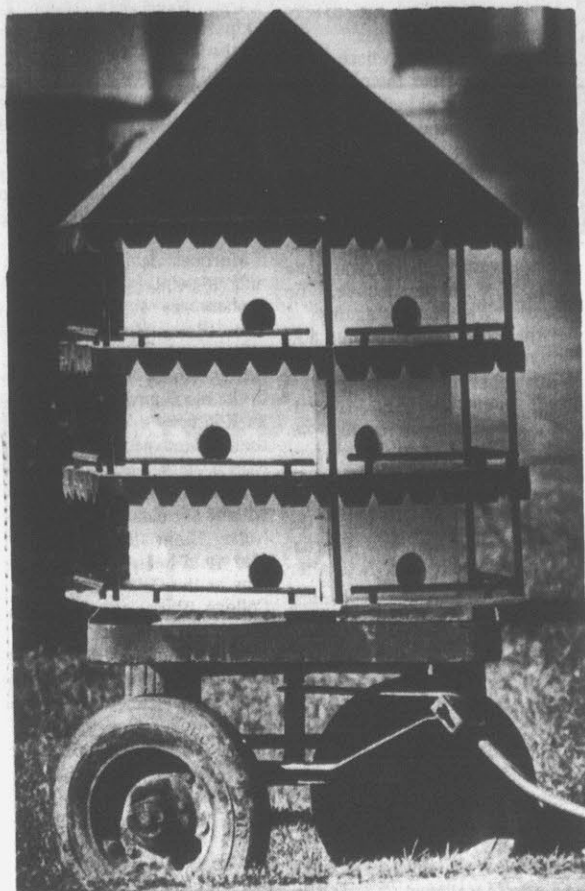

One application is company ownership of vans pooling commuting employees. Another is third-party company ownership, in which fares are charged for carrying employees of several companies to work. A third is leasing of vans by individuals who then charge fees to pool members.

Pressing For Autopsy Data

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Saying the public has a right to know about the performance of its public officials, an attorney for a Raleigh newspaper says he will push this week for the release of an autopsy report in the shooting death of a Virginia state trooper.

An order barring public release of the autopsy on Virginia trooper Garland Fisher was signed last Wednesday by Superior Court Judge Donald L. Smith. Fisher was shot to death Nov. 14 at a roadblock set up by North Carolina troopers after Fisher was abducted in Virginia. An Atlanta man, Reuben Sonny Conley, was arrested at the roadblock and later charged with kidnaping and murder in Fisher's death.

Smith's order said release of the autopsy report "may prejudice the rights of the both State of North Carolina and...Reuben Sonny Conley, to a fair trial."

William C. Lassiter, attorney for the News and Observer, said Friday that he will ask that the order be set aside because he thinks that the public has a right to know of the actions of North Carolina troopers at the roadblock.

North Carolina highway patrolmen at the roadblock fired at the car in which Fisher and his abductor were riding. A state medical examiner said shortly after the incident that Fisher was hit by 14 bullets.

Lassiter has cited a 1974 ruling by the state attorney general's office which says autopsy reports are public record, and he has questioned the office's participation in the "gag" order.

The order prohibiting release of the autopsy report was sought by Granville County prosecutors, who filed the murder charge against Conley, and by Special Deputy Atty. Gen. Lester Chalmers.

Lassiter has also questioned whether the facts in the case fit within the U.S. Supreme Court's doctrine of "clear and present danger" to the administration of justice.

Woody's Ramblin's

BY WOODY PEELE

As is usual, the 1976 version of the East Carolina Pirates rewrote the record book during the past season. They snapped or tied records both individually and as a team.

And the new marks came both from the offense and the defense.

Just one new single game mark was established, although two others were tied. Reggie Pinkney's 137 yards in interception returns against Richmond surpassed Danny Kepley's 85 yards in 1973.

Kicker Pete Conaty tied the mark of two two-point conversions first set by Bill Cline in 1962, and his three field goals against both N.C. State and The Citadel tied the mark first set by Ricky McLester in 1972.

Conaty also set a new single season record of 14 field goals, breaking McLester's mark of nine.

Gerald Hall set one new season record and tied another. His 26 punt returns tied Jack Patterson's 1971 mark, and his 302 yards in punt returns broke Patterson's record of 220.

Pinkney's season interception returns of 198 yards broke Kepley's 110 in 1973.

In career records, Conaty had 16 field goals to surpass Jim Woody's mark of 14. Jim Bolding extended two of his career records returning a total of 47 punt returns, and intercepting 22 passes. Pinkney set a new career interception yardage mark of 275, beating out Kepley's mark of 196.

As a team, the three field goals against State and The Citadel tied 1972 and 1973 marks.

The 159 yards in interception returns against Richmond broke a mark of 89 set against Southern Illinois in 1967. That Record, incidentally, was broken three times this year.

East Carolina has 734 rushes to snap the 1972 mark of 687, and the 3,263 yards gained on the ground broke last year's mark of 3,090. The 14 field goals set a new team mark.

The team surpassed the punt return yardage of 404 with 437 this year. The old mark was in 1967. Twenty-six pass interceptions also was a new record, breaking last year's mark of 24. And the yardage on those returns of 519 easily broke 1973's mark of 333.

One record for consecutive games will come to an end. That one began way back in 1970. East Carolina played in 39 straight Southern Conference games without being shutout. The Citadel skunked the Bucs that year, 31-0.

In long plays, the Bucs set two new marks. Eddie Hicks' 75 yarder against Carolina is the longest non-scoring run, erasing a 64 yarder by Carlester Crumpler. And Pinkney's 98 yard interception return was the longest non-scoring run, snapping a 52-yarder by Will Mitchell in 1970.

In career total offense, Mike Weaver moved to the number six spot with 2,849 yards. Willie Hawkins took over the number nine spot in career rushing with 1,409, and should move further up next year.

Weaver moved from number six to number four in passing with 1,450, and to number five in completions with 75.

Pete Conaty moved to the number seven place in career scoring with 111 points. Weaver took over ninth with 86, while Hawkins, has tied for tenth place with 78, and will move up next year.

In single season marks, Hicks' 897 was the sixth best for a Pirate runner. Weaver's 626 yards passing was tenth best, while Conaty's 86 points was the fifth best by an East Carolina player.

Coach Pat Dye's current record of 24-9 moved him into a second place on the all-time coaching record, past Sonny Randle. Dye currently has a .727 percentage.

By the way, East Carolina's record over the past five years is among the best in the nation. They are 42-13 for a nifty .782 percentage. Over the past ten years, the Pirates are 63-42, for .600 percent.

SC Basketball Teams Begin A New Season

By The Associated Press

Four Southern Conference basketball teams have opened the season by going 4-1 against outside opposition, and the league's last six clubs swing into action tonight.

Virginia Military's defending champion Keydets have the only defeat, dropping a 55-50 decision Saturday night to Virginia's Atlantic Coast Conference champion Cavaliers in the finals of the Virginia Tip-Off tournament. VMI had beaten Madison 85-77 Friday night.

The winners Saturday night were Furman's Paladins, who looked the part of contenders in an 83-61 romp over Presbyterian; Davidson's Wildcats, who drubbed Wofford 93-70; and title-ineligible new member Marshall, which edged Otterbein 79-76 behind Greg Young's 34 points.

Opening tonight are the four other teams eligible for the title — William and Mary's Indians, East Carolina's Pirates, Appalachian State's Mountaineers and The Citadel's Bulldogs — along with new members Tennessee-Chattanooga and Western Carolina.

William and Mary plays host to Christopher Newport, off to a 2-0 start; East Carolina entertains UNC-Asheville, The Citadel is at home against Wofford and Appalachian goes to Auburn. UT-Chattanooga goes to Grambling and Western Carolina entertains Mars Hill.

Down by 48-36 with 8:24 left, VMI made a run at Virginia, cutting the gap to 53-50 with 15 seconds left. But the Keydets missed a field goal try, and freshman Garland Jefferson was fouled and hit both free throws for the final Cavalier victory margin.

The Keydets' undoing was their 37 per cent shooting, compared to 48.8 per cent for Virginia, now 2-0.

New Coach Charlie Schmaus said "we beat ourselves. We weren't patient enough on offense. We were too anxious to score the basket, instead of taking the time to work for a good shot. But you've got to give a lot of credit to Virginia's defense."

To which Cavalier Coach Terry Holland agreed, saying "the key was our defensive effort. We didn't give them many good shots and we were fortunate to catch them when they weren't shooting well."

VMI's Will Bynum had a game-high 17 points and nine rebounds, while Romm3 points and Dave Montgomery 10. Virginia, which got better scoring balance, was led by Billy Langloh with 14 points and Bobby Stokes with 11.

Freshman sensation Jonathan Moore was just that for Furman, scoring 27 points and grabbing 13 rebounds in his college debut. Sophomore Jim Strickland pulled down a game-high 25 rebounds, while sophomores Rick Harness and Artie Knight had 20 and 14 points, respectively.

Youngsters also paved the way for the Davidson victory as sophomore John Gerdy hit 13 of 23 shots for 30 points and freshman Rod Owens added 18. Marvin Lively and Pat Hickert had 14 each.

McDougald, Voight, Claiborne Honored

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Wake Forest's James McDougald, only the third runner in NCAA history to gain 1,000 yards as a freshman, has swept Atlantic Coast Conference rookie of the year honors in the same style with which he racked up yardage on recent Saturdays.

McDougald garnered 105 of 114 votes cast by members of the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association. The selection was announced during the weekend with announcements of Maryland coach Jerry Claiborne's selection as coach of the year for guiding the Terps to an 11-0 record, and North Carolina tailback Mike Voight as player of the year.

McDougald, who played high school football at Maxton, N.C., totaled 1,018 yards for the Demon Deacons, averaging 4.4 yards in 232 carries. He led his team in scoring with 10 touchdowns and was named on the all-ACC team.

McDougald was a reserve tailback in the first five games. Coach Chuck Mills started him in the sixth game, and he gained 249 yards against Clemson, breaking school records with the yardage and his 45 carries. Mills later said, "I wish I would have started McDougald sooner."

Others receiving votes for rookie honors were strong safety Tony Blount of Virginia, tackle Bubba Green of N.C.

State, linebacker Randy Scott of Clemson and quarterback Matt Kupec of North Carolina.

Claiborne finished the regular season with an unblemished record, the Atlantic Coast Conference championship, a record 20 consecutive conference victories and an invitation to the Cotton Bowl. It was his third time in the last four years to take ACC coaching honors.

He received 54 of the 114 votes in balloting by members of the association. North Carolina coach Bill Dooley, whose team had a 9-2 record and is headed for the Peach Bowl, received 33 votes. Wake Forest's Mills, whose team gave Maryland its closest game of the season, 17-15, received 26 votes.

North Carolina tailback Mike Voight overcame nagging injuries to become the fifth leading career rusher in NCAA history and won honors as the Atlantic Coast Conference's player of the year for the second straight season.

Voight, whose four touchdowns led the 19th ranked Tar Heels to a one-point victory over Duke in his final home game, finished the season with 42 career touchdowns to tie the conference record held by Stan Fritts of N.C. State.

He becomes only the third player to ever win the player of the year honor twice, joining quarterback Roman Gabriel of N.C. State and tailback Don McCauley of North Carolina. Voight, who rushed for 3,97 yards in his career at North Carolina, is the only ACC runner to have three 1,000 yard seasons.

Voight won 54 of the 114 association votes. Maryland quarterback Mark Manges was second with 29 votes, and Wake Forest free safety Bill Armstrong was third with 26. Armstrong was the only unanimous choice on the All ACC team announced Friday.

Jackson To Wear The Pinstripes

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe Ruth, Joe DiMaggio, Mickey Mantle and now... Reggie Jackson. After eight years of light rain, the thunder and lightning finally will be returning to the New York Yankees' outfield.

Jackson, the American League's third leading active home run hitter and a fine defensive outfielder, will be sized for Yankee pinstripes today and should fit in nicely with the legends that roamed the Yankee outfield for so many years.

The Associated Press learned that Jackson will sign a $3 million five-year package with the Yankees today. "Having him in the outfield will be in keeping with the old Yankee tradition of Ruth, DiMaggio and Mantle," said a jubilant Mayor Abe Beame. "It's nice to know he'll be hitting for New York."

Beame's joy reflected the outpouring of emotion Jackson felt last Monday when Yankee owner George Steinbrenner took him on a walking and wooing tour around New York. And in the final analysis, it was the energy of New York, its streets, its people, its media and its hunger for a winner that tipped the scales toward the Yankees.

Why is Jackson going to accept the Yankees' offer of $3 million today when he could have taken a "king's ransom" of slightly less than $4 million from Montreal?

"Probably because of New York and probably because of George Steinbrenner," said a source close to the negotiations. "He found the Yankees to be fair gentlemen to deal with."

Jackson was due here today with the Yankees set to give him the red-carpet treatment with a scheduled mid-afternoon news conference. Jackson has not signed any preliminary contract or a memorandum of agreement, but he has given Steinbrenner his word that he will sign with the Yankees.

"It would be wonderful to sign him," said Steinbrenner Sunday after he arrived by plane from his home in Tampa, Fla. "More than that I don't want to tell you."

Since Mantle retired in 1968, the Yankees have moved from the heavyweight division to the lightweights, especially in the outfield.

Bobby Murcer, Mantle's heir apparent, hit 33 homers in 1972, but he wasn't a bonafide, consistent power hitter. When the Yankees moved to Shea Stadium for the 1973 and 1974 seasons, Murcer totaled 32 homers — only 10 in 1974.

Jackson, who will be 31 in May, won't be a one-year Yankee. Sources said Jackson will be getting $2 million in salary over five years with $1 million of that money deferred.

The other $1 million will be divided roughly in half between a signing bonus and deferred compensation, which he will begin receiving after the 1981 season and will cover 15 years.

Weaver, Randolph Players Of Week

East Carolina University football players Mike Weaver and Harold Randolph have been named the Southern Conference offensive and defensive players of the week for their play against Appalachian State last Thursday.

Pirate quarterback Weaver rushed for 55 yards during the game and was 6-13 in the passing department for 138 yards and one touchdown.

Randolph, a linebacker, was credited with 11 unassisted tackles and eight assists, along with a quarterback sack for minus 14 yards.

Weaver and Randolph were also named as the Chevrolet offensive and defensive players of the game, which was regionally televised. Chevrolet will present the university with a $1000 scholarship in each player's name.

Indiana Picks Up Where It Left Off

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Indiana Hoosiers spent last season beating everybody's brains out and they've picked up this year right where they left off.

Bullying underprivileged South Dakota, the defending NCAA champions opened their college basketball season Saturday with an authoritative 110-64 victory.

"They pounded us on the boards," said South Dakota Coach Jack Doyle after the beating from the nation's fifth-ranked team. "It's tough to play a team the caliber of Indiana when you realize we're a Division II school and they're the national champions."

Bobby Knight, whose Hoosiers added onto their 32-game victory string of last year, looked at the opener as more of a tuneup than a test. His club is minus four starters from last year's team.

"We played with a number of combinations and did some things very well, but you have to put it in perspective," he said. "We played against a team that was totally outmanned."

In other top college basketball games Saturday, No. 1-ranked Michigan opened its season with a 94-70 victory over Western Kentucky; No. 3 North Carolina was shocked by Wake Forest 97-96 in overtime in the finals of the Big Four Tournament in Greensboro, N.C. after Duke upset No. 15 North Carolina State 84-82 in the consolation game; No. 4 UCLA trimmed No. 18 DePaul 76-69; sixth-ranked Kentucky turned back Wisconsin 72-64; No. 14 Notre Dame upset No. 8 Maryland 80-79 in overtime; No. 11 San Francisco defeated UC-Santa Barbara 92-85 in overtime; 16th-ranked Tennessee hammered South Florida 94-64 and No. 19 North Carolina-Charlotte walloped Georgia College 111-63.

Besides the Big Four Tournament, several other championships were resolved Saturday night.

St. John's won the Lapchick Tournament in New York by beating Fairfield 87-65; Richmond edged George Washington 64-62 to take the Spider Classic in Richmond, Va; West Virginia won the Hall of Fame tourney in Springfield, Mass., with an 83-78 decision over Syracuse; Virginia beat VMI 55-50 for the Virginia Tip-Off championship; New Orleans won its own New Orleans Tip-Off with a 91-73 triumph over Illinois State and Clemson defeated Florida State 108-92 to win the IPTAY tournament in Clemson, S.C.

Tennessee beat South Florida behind Ernie Grunfeld's 37 points. The 6-foot-6 senior had 15 field goals and was 7-for-7 from the foul line before leaving the game with 5:20 remaining.

Paced by Lew Massey's 24 points, North Carolina-Charlotte coasted to an easy victory over Georgia College. The 49ers had six players in double figures.

Glenn Williams' 37 points led St. John's over Fairfield. Kevin Eastman's two free throws with eight seconds left provided Richmond with its victory over George Washington. Sid Bostik's 22 points powered West Virginia over Syracuse. Billy Langloh and Bobby Stokes led Virginia to a 10-point lead and the Cavaliers held off a late charge by VMI to win the Virginia Tip-Off tourney.

Missouri QB Leads North In Blue-Gray

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — With Missouri quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz in the lineup, the North will pose an aerial threat as it meets a college all-star squad from the South in the annual Blue-Gray Classic here Dec. 24.

Pisarkiewicz is one of 15 players who have signed up for the North unit, under the direction of former coaches Jack Christiansen of Stanford and Bob Blackman of Illinois.

Helping out with the signal-calling chores in the afternoon game will be quarterback Mike Cordova of Stanford. The 6-3, 210-pound Pisarkiewicz set a school passing record this season, completing 236 throws out of 509 attempts for 3,413 yards and 25 touchdowns.

On the receiving end of Pisarkiewicz's missiles 'll be wide receivers Tony Hill of Stanford, and Keith Hartwig of Arizona and tight end Don Peterson of Boston College.

Washington's Robin Earl will be one of the running backs.

NFL Teams Move Closer To Division Crowns

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The Baltimore Colts, Los Angeles Rams and New England Patriots are another step closer today toward what seems to be the inevitable. And the Pittsburgh Steelers are another step closer to what might well be called a miracle.

The Colts devoured the New York Jets 33-16 and the Rams gobbled up the New Orleans Saints 33-14 in National Football League play Sunday and edged within a step of clinching division titles, while the Patriots crushed the Denver Broncos 38-14 and moved within a victory of clinching an American Conference playoff berth.

And the Steelers, playing on the brink of disaster, pulled out a 7-3 victory over Cincinnati in a snowstorm, keeping alive their hopes of returning to the Super Bowl which they have won the past two years.

In Sunday's other NFL games, it was Washington 24, Philadelphia 0; Oakland 49, Tampa Bay 16; the New York Giants 28, Seattle 16; Cleveland 17, Miami 13; Chicago 16, Green Bay 10; Houston 20, Atlanta 14, and Kansas City 23, San Diego 20. Last Thursday, it was Dallas 19, St. Louis 14, and Detroit 27, Buffalo 14. Tonight it is Minnesota at San Francisco. If the 49ers lose, the Rams will become the National Conference West champions.

Cincinnati had a chance to shoot down Pittsburgh's chances of getting into Super Bowl XI and the games which lead to it. Instead, the Bengals have a gun pointed at themselves — and they could get shot down a week from tonight.

By beating Pittsburgh, the Bengals would have clinched the American Conference's Central title and killed the Steelers' chances of making the playoffs. Now, though, Cincinnati leads the division by one game with two to go. And while Pittsburgh plays relatively easy foes in Tampa Bay and Houston, Cincinnati has to face the Raiders, the winningest team in the league, next Monday night at Oakland before closing the season in New York against the Jets. A two-team tie would give the division title to the Steelers, who beat the Bengals twice.

Franco Harris scored the game's only touchdown on a four-yard run late in the third quarter after the Steelers had recovered a Boobie Clark fumble at the Cincinnati 24. The Bengals' points came on Chris Bahr's 40-yard field goal in the first period.

Colts 33, Jets 16

Bert Jones tore up the Jets with three touchdown passes in a 24-point second quarter, covering 14 yards to Lydell Mitchell, five yards to Don McCauley and 31 yards to Roger Carr, keeping the Colts one game ahead of New England in the AFC East.

Rams 33, Saints 14

Rookie Pat Haden passed for two touchdowns — a two-yarder to Lawrence McCutcheon and a four-yarder to Bob Klein — and ran seven yards for a TD in the Rams' romp over New Orleans.

Patriots 38, Broncos 14

Steve Grogan of New England also did his pass-and-run thing, throwing three yards to Al Chandler and bulging in from one for a pair of TDs. Don Calhoun amassed 177 yards on the ground and rookie Mike Haynes returned a punt 62 yards for a touchdown, ending Denver's hopes of making the playoffs.

Redskins 24, Eagles 0

"Every time the Eagles made a mistake, we capitalized," said Washington quarterback Billy Kilmer, who threw three touchdown passes, the first following a 45-yard punt return by Eddie Brown, the next two after fumble recoveries by Dennis Johnson.

Raiders 49, Buccaneers 16

Oakland got a pair of one-yard touchdown plunges by Mark van Eeghen and a pair of scoring passes by Ken Stabler — nine yards to Warren Bankston and 25 to Cliff Branch — in remaining the league's winningest team at 11-1 and further solidifying Tampa Bay's chance of becoming the first NFL team to finish at 0-14.

Giants 28, Seahawks 16

Seattle, the other expansion team, jumped to a 9-0 first-quarter lead on Sherman Smith's two-yard touchdown run and John Leybold's 45-yard field goal. But by halftime, the Giants were on top and they finished that way as Craig Morton threw for two touchdowns and Gordon Bell ran for two.

Browns 17, Dolphins 13

Brian Sipe threw for two touchdowns and Don Cockroft kicked a late field goal in a sudden snowstorm for Cleveland's points — but it was the defense that really beat Miami by holding off the Dolphins in the final seconds.

Bears 16, Packers 10

Bob Avellini teamed with James Scott on a 49-yard touchdown pass play in the first period, then Bob Thomas kicked field goals of 40, 25 and 22 yards, lifting the Bears past the Packers. Walter Payton rushed for 110 yards for Chicago.

Oilers 20, Falcons 14

Houston got helping hands from quarterback John Hadl and linebacker Robert Brazile in beating Atlanta. First, Hadl unleashed a 40-yard touchdown pass to Billy Johnson, then Brazile batted down Kim McQuilken's fourth-down pass from the Houston six into the Oilers' end zone with about a minute to play.

Chiefs 23, Chargers 20

Running back Ed Podolak, out of action for five weeks with a groin injury, returned with a vengeance, rolling up 127 yards and scoring two touchdowns, including one on a five-yard run with five minutes to play, boosting Kansas City past the Chargers.

Rose Girls Still Building

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

Rose High School enters its second year in a girls' basketball program this year, with some experience, but still in a building program.

The Ramettes this year also have a new coach. Jim Brewington coached the team during its initial year, but he has moved on to take over the boys' program. Billy Byrd takes over as the new coach of the girls' team.

"We have some foundation from last year," Byrd said, "but we're still in a building situation."

The Ramettes return three starters from last year's team that posted a 2-14 record. They are Pam Taylor, Cheryl Taylor and Karen Jeffreys. "This is going to help us a great deal," the coach said.

There is only one senior on the team, however, with the rest being sophomores and juniors, so the bulk of the team will return again next winter. "We're still very young, but the attitude has been real good. We're coming along well, but it's hard to tell how much progress we're making until we play someone else. Aside from the three starters, the team is mostly inexperienced."

Byrd said that despite the fact that Aycock Junior High School does not have a girls' program, some of the girls coming up are much better than he had expected.

"We hope to improve on last year's record, but it's hard to say how much. We play four games in December, then have a long break until mid-January. It's like having two seasons. If we can get off to a good start and then build on that, we could have a real good year. We really need to build a lot of experience during these four games."

The team should have fairly good height. Byrd has three girls who are near 6-0, but all three are inexperienced. Helen Whitehurst, Gigi Branch and Dietra Bynum, all sophomores. "With experience, I think they'll be pretty good," Byrd said.

Quickness may be one of the biggest assets of the team according to Byrd. "We also have good hustle and good outside shooting. That, along with the good attitude we're showing could help us a lot. These girls want to win."

The inexperience of the overall team is the weakest point of the team, and Byrd feels this will hurt the team too when it comes to rebounding.

Currently, he has no true plans for a starting five. "We're going to start several people. We don't have a top five, but maybe a top seven or eight." He lists the likely starters as the three returning veterans, along with newcomers Rosa King, Cathy Streeter, Jackie Scott and Margaret McGlohon.

"We have some others who could also work in as the season goes by and they get experience."

In the Division I race, Byrd feels that the conference is wide open. "I don't think that there is any one team that will stand that much above the others. We could be competitive. If we come along and play pretty well, we might have a chance. Our program has come along quickly, and we're not that far behind the rest of the conference."

Rose opens the season Monday, Dec. 6, at Kinston.

Blazers Burn At Home

By HANK LOWENKRON
AP Sports Writer

Portland may be thinking about offering other teams in the National Basketball Association some special incentive to switch Trail Blazers' road games to their home court.

The Trail Blazers have played 12 home games this season — and won them all. And they have played five games away from home — and lost them all. The Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde record of 12-5 has the Blazers in first place in the Pacific Division, and thinking about making the playoffs for the first time in their seven-year history. But Portland plays its next three games away from home.

Sunday, Portland extended its two-season winning streak at home to 18 games, routing the Indiana Pacers 145-115.

In other NBA action, Golden State bombed Atlanta 132-98. Kansas City defeated Philadelphia 101-89. New Orleans topped Buffalo 127-118. Los Angeles downed the hapless Chicago Bulls 103-84 and Seattle extended its unbeaten home streak to 28, edging Washington 117-116.

Maurice Lucas led Portland with 25 points and reserve forward Lloyd Neal hit for 19. Bill Walton had 18 points and 13 rebounds, while Indiana's Billy Knight was the game's top scorer with 29 points.

Golden State 132, Hawks 98
Rick Barry led Golden State to its first road victory in seven starts this season with 20 points and Jamaal Wilkes contributed 18.

The only bright spot for Atlanta was the play of rookie Armond Hill, who led all scorers with 21 points.

Kings 101, 76ers 89
Kansas City stretched its home winning streak to seven before 15,543 home fans, the second largest crowd in the history of the franchise.

Philadelphia's Julius Erving, a major reason for the big turnout, was held to four points in the second half and finished the game with 20 points.

George McGinnis, another part of Philadelphia's millionaire frontcourt, saw only limited action and scored just seven points.

Jazz 127, Braves 118
Pete Maravich scored 30 points for New Orleans and Nate Williams came off the bench to score 23.

Bird Averitt and Bob McAdoo, who finished with 29 points, helped cut Buffalo's 15-point halftime deficit to five.

Lakers 103, Bulls 84
Los Angeles' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar passed the 17,000-point mark in career points while scoring 21, as Chicago set a club record with its 11th consecutive loss. Rookie forward Scott May had his most productive game as a pro, leading Chicago's scoring with 19 points. Artis Gilmore had 16 for the 2-12 Bulls.

Sonics 117, Bullets 116
Slick Watts poured in a career-high 37 points and added 13 assists for Seattle, which needs just eight more victories to tie the NBA mark for consecutive home court triumphs.

The streak nearly ended as Mitch Kupchak of Washington missed a shot with 13 seconds to play and Wes Unseld's tip rolled off the hoop.

Clements Leads Ottawa To Title

TORONTO (AP) — Tom Clements, once a standout quarterback at Notre Dame, drove Ottawa to a Grey Cup title, then found out he'll be driving a new car soon.

"My old car is kind of a joke and I had been planning on getting a new one," said Clements, whose 24-yard touchdown to Tony Gabriel with 20 seconds to play gave the Rough Riders a 23-20 victory over Saskatchewan in Sunday's Canadian Football League title game.

Clements was awarded the car as the game's outstanding offensive player. He connected on 11 of 25 passes for 174 yards and rushed for 35 yards on five carries. Linebacker Cleveland Vann of Saskatchewan was the outstanding defensive player and will also get a car. Gabriel caught seven passes for 124 yards.

His winning catch came barely a minute after Ottawa failed on a third-down gamble on the Saskatchewan one-yard line.

Veteran quarterback Ron Lancaster failed to move Saskatchewan after the turnover and Ottawa regained possession on the Saskatchewan 35 with 44 seconds remaining.

Clements then passed to Gabriel for an 11-yard gain before finding the big tight end open in the end zone.

Each player on the winning Ottawa team picked up $6,000 and each of the losers took home $3,000.

Majors May Leave Pitt; Parseghian Considered

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Johnny Majors is considering a job offer from the University of Tennessee, and there's a report that could mean a new "Ara" for the University of Pittsburgh.

Majors, who's guided top-ranked Pitt to a 11-0 record this season, confirmed Sunday he had been contacted by Tennessee.

"There will be no decision for a few days, no decision until I talk to our people," he said by phone from his home in nearby Fox Chapel, Pa. "Nothing is happening right now."

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reports Pitt, as a precaution, had already begun considering possible replacements, including former Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian. Since his retirement from Notre Dame, Parseghian has repeatedly said he will not return to college coaching. However, the Post-Gazette, quoting an unnamed source, said Parseghian has "asked to be considered" if Majors leaves.

The Post-Gazette also said Pitt was considering Navy Coach George Welsh, Rutgers Coach Frank Burns and Washington State Coach Jackie Sherrill, a former top assistant at Pitt under Majors.

So Far, Post Office Has Coped With Its Packages

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
Postal officials say they are managing — so far — to cope with the crush of packages clogging the mails because of a 15-state strike against United Parcel Service. But the situation may get worse as Christmas gets closer.

The first negotiations in more than a week are scheduled for today. And one postmaster, in Springfield, Mass., said, "Even a strike settlement will not end our problem, so much is already in the pipeline."

Whether your holiday parcel is delayed is largely up to you. And to the millions of other Americans sending gift packages during December.

Authorities say they can handle the extra volume if consumers mail early — parcels by Friday, Dec. 3, and cards by Friday, Dec. 10.

(Note: Christmas cards are not directly affected by the strike, but postal officials are trying to even out the workload, just in case manpower shifts are needed later on. "We're trying to spread out the peaks and valleys," said one spokesman.)

The strike at UPS — the nation's largest private carrier of packages — has more than doubled the amount of bulk mail handled by the U.S. Postal Service in the East, and a sudden surge of last-minute business could cause severe problems. The walkout also has boosted shipping costs for firms which normally receive stock and fill orders via UPS.

Arthur B. Morin supervises the regional bulk mail center which handles most parcels shipped to western New England. "We tried to prepare for a small landslide, but it turned out to be an avalanche."

Other officials said things were going smoothly. Oscar B. Sloan, the postmaster in Charlotte, N.C., said volume was up by 300 per cent. "But we are handling it without any difficulty," he added.

James Donovan, the postmaster in Albany, N.Y., agreed. "Our people have done a terrific job," he said. "But it could get a little sticky later on when people start mailing their Christmas packages." The Teamsters Union strike began Sept. 15, and talks have been stalemated, with virtually no hope of a settlement in time for the pre-Christmas rush. The walkout involves several issues — including job security — and has idled 17,000 employees of the delivery service from Maine to South Carolina. UPS workers in other areas have settled with the company, but the strike affects anyone who is sending a package to, or getting one from, the East.

A spokesman for the Postal Service in Washington said the government had hired 9,069 extra employees and set up 29 auxiliary processing operations in the East to handle the added business.

Most delays reported thus far have been relatively minor — only a day or two. None of the businesses contacted in an Associated Press spot check indicated that the strike was preventing it from complying with a new federal regulation requiring companies to deliver mail orders within 30 days or offer customers a full refund.

Grace your home with colonial charm!

A Topheavy Delegation

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina's congressional delegation is top-heavy with Baptists — seven out of 13 members.

Although a Southern Baptist deacon from Plains, Ga., Jimmy Carter, won the presidency, a survey shows that Roman Catholics increased in Congress by six for a total of 129 to comprise the largest number of congressmen who claimed affiliation with a religion.

The survey, reported in the Greensboro Daily News, said North Carolina's Baptist congressmen are Sens. Jesse Helms, R-N.C.; and Robert Morgan, D-N.C.; and Reps. Ike Andrews, D-N.C.; Jim Broyhill, R-N.C.; Bill Hefner, D-N.C.; Walter Jones, D-N.C.; and Charles O. Whitley, D-N.C.

The survey indicated that North Carolina's Baptist representation outnumbered Baptists winning in such traditionally Southern Baptist states as Georgia, Texas and Tennessee.

Among the North Carolina delegation, other congressmen listing their affiliation were:

—Presbyterian: Reps. L.H. Fountain, D-N.C.; Jim Martin, R-N.C.; Richardson Preyer, D-N.C.; and Charles Rose, D-N.C.
—Methodist: Lamar Gudger, D-N.C.

Preferential Treatment Has A Defender

NEW YORK (AP) — Harvard University President Derek Bok says it is "unwise" for courts to declare that "race is of no relevance at all."

Bok, defending his school's policy of giving preferential treatment to minority students, said on NBC's "Meet the Press" Sunday that test scores and grades — although helpful in making admissions decisions — are "by no means the only factor."

"We're interested in educating students who will make a distinct contribution," he said. "And in a country where there are so few minority persons in leading businesses, law firms, hospitals and government agencies, we feel a minority student may make a distinctive contribution..."

Bok said a recent California Supreme Court decision which threw out a state university policy of giving preference to minorities would "strongly influence" private institutions.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1976

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have several interesting plans and activities that offer you a chance to express your finest mental qualities. Be sure you do not act too hastily, however. Consider all aspects of your new course of action.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Think over carefully how best to handle creative matters and then go ahead and do so. Get out socially with persons you like later in the day. Avoid a hypocrite who could do you much harm.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Meet with an adviser and plan the future more intelligently. Be sure to listen carefully. A good day to come to a better understanding with a loved one.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Any public matters can now be handled intelligently and with good results. Do the entertaining that will help you advance more quickly. Avoid one who is a copy cat type of person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You want to grow and develop and should do some serious thinking in such directions. Plan now for that trip you want to take in the near future. Clarify your aims and count the cost well.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do whatever will help you to gain your aims — both the new and those in operation. Study current situations so that you can improve them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Carry through with any promises you have made and get good results. Be more helpful to those who seek it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A close associate will cooperate with you in a new plan you have in mind which will make the future brighter. Study well whatever arises and you can benefit from it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Find a new system for handling your daily routines and get good results now and in the future. Cement better relations with co-workers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can have a wonderful time with congenials today at hobbies that are mutually enjoyable. Put those new talents to work also that have long been embedded in your subconscious.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can improve conditions appreciably now, so get together with loved ones toward that end. Invite and enjoy the company of progressive individuals.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You understand how to become more successful in joint projects with associates and should get busy early. Take care of errands and keep appointments on time. Be active and you are happy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Find the right way to add considerably to present income, even if the ideas come from others. Study property and see where you can make improvements. Avoid one who could bring trouble into your life.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those charming young persons who has a fine mind and should be given the finest academic education so that the potential could be fully realized. Teach early to complete whatever has once been started for best results throughout the lifetime. There can be great success in several avenues of expression.

Q.1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK108 ♣K96 ♦AJ10 ♣954
Your partner opens the bidding with one no trump. What do you respond?

A.—Four no trump. This is not Blackwood but an invitational raise. You have a balanced 15 points with two tens and other useful intermediates. You want partner to bid a small slam if he has a maximum no trump.

Q.2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A8 ♦AQJ10532 ♦J7 ♠43
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass
? What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. While you are minimum in terms of point count, you have exceptional playing strength—seven sure tricks in your own hand. Partner has shown interest in game, and you should go ahead and accept. Don't bid three hearts—that is not forcing; indeed, it discourages partner from bidding on.

Q.3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J852 ♥7 ♦Q8 ♠KQJ542
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT
Pass 2 ♠ Dble. Pass
? What action do you take?

A.—Bid four clubs. Partner's first-round pass suggests that he could not act then because he had strength in spades and shortness in diamonds, with length in hearts and clubs. Now that your opponents have found their diamond suit, he has come into the act. Your hand should offer excellent trick-taking prospects opposite his holding, and you should indicate that with a jump.

Q.4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠93 ♦J107642 ♠KQJ83
Your partner opens the bidding with one heart. What do you respond?

A.—With 7 points in high cards you are duty bound to keep the bidding open, but you don't have the strength to bid the two-level. Despite your freak distribution, one no trump is your only bid. Naturally, if partner rebids his hearts and gets doubled, or the opponents suggest in no certain terms that you cannot make a no trump contract (by doubling, of course), you intend a judicious retreat to your longer minor.

Q.5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K8 ♥KQ5 ♦953 ♠J9852
Partner opens the bidding with one club. What do you respond?

A.—One no trump. The hand is a mite too strong for a raise to two clubs. Most play a raise to one no trump to a one club opening bid shows 9-11 points and with your balanced shape that is the most descriptive bid. Even if your range is 6-9 or 10, your hand still qualifies.

Q.6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠87 ♦Q7 ♦A83 ♠KJ10762
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ 3 ♦ ?
What action do you take?

A.—East's preempt has accomplished its purpose—the auction has been catapulted to a level where orderly investigation of the prospects is impossible. We sympathize if you decided to raise to four clubs, but it seems to us that you have a better shot for nine tricks than eleven. We would take our chances at three no trump, hoping that partner can cover us in the majors—his values certainly aren't in the minors.

Q.7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q92 ♦AK ♦98652 ♠QJ7
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♦ Pass
? What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. A jump to two no trump by a passed hand shows 11-12 points. We would not fault you greatly if, on the strength of your fifth diamond, you chose to jump to the no trump game, but we feel that would be hanging partner unnecessarily if he opened light in third seat.

Q.8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠QJ9 ♥A865 ♦8 ♠AKJ102
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ Pass
? What do you bid now?

A.—Two hearts. Even if you play the convenient club, this is not the time to rebid the suit to show that you "really have a club suit." Don't let those hundred honors sway you. It's more important to introduce your heart suit now, in an effort to describe the shape of your hand. Partner will surely read you for a genuine club suit as the auction develops.

Mourn Death Of Rosalind Russell

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hollywood's greatest names mourned the death of Rosalind Russell, who became a star by playing career women and stylish eccentrics.

"She was a great humanitarian and a wonderful, warm human being," said actor Cary Grant after Miss Russell died Sunday at 63 of cancer complicated by arthritis.

Lucille Ball said, "Roz showed so much courage here that God must have needed her fighting spirit somewhere else."

She had seemed as vigorous as ever at a dinner party at her home recently, although her guests considered it a farewell appearance. Two months ago, Miss Russell underwent surgery in an unsuccessful effort to stem her cancer, then returned home to await death.

"Rosalind came to terms with her life and she gave of herself in every way. She met death with the same gallantry," said George Cukor, who directed her in "The Women" in 1939.

Dr. Martin J. Cline said the actress suffered from rheumatoid arthritis and cancer for more than 15 years. She underwent a radical mastectomy 15 years ago, he said, and suffered no more from the cancer until a year ago.

"It didn't bother her particularly and didn't bother her career. I don't think she believed she had it any more," Cline said.

A year ago, she began receiving chemotherapy and responded well to treatment for about eight months, he said. Only in the last two or three months did the battle become more difficult and painful.

When she died at the Beverly Hills home, her husband of 35 years, producer Frederick Brisson, was by her side, along with their son, Lance, and his wife, Patricia.

Although no sexpot, Miss Russell added dash and glamor to her roles. She played dramatic roles in such 1930s films as "China Seas," "Under Two Flags," "Night Must Fall" and "The Citadel."

During the 1940s, she played a series of career women, helping them demonstrate that their sex could succeed in business while they remained feminine.

She remained glamorous in her middle years, scoring as the bohemian guardian of a young boy in 1958's "Auntie Mame," one of four films for which she won Academy Award nominations.

ROSALIND RUSSELL AS 'MAME' — Actress strikes characteristic pose in her lead role in "Auntie Mame" which she performed on stage and screen in 1959. (AP Wirephoto)

Miss Russell was born in Waterbury, Conn., the fourth of seven children of a prosperous Yankee lawyer.

She startled her family by leaving college as a sophomore to enroll at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York. After a few stage roles, she was signed to a Universal Studio contract. The film company was making mostly westerns and didn't know how to cast her.

Miss Russell talked her way out of the contract and signed with Metro Goldwyn Mayer, becoming a rival to Myrna Loy.

Besides "Auntie Mame," she won Oscar nominations for "My Sister Eileen" in 1942, "Sister Kenny" in 1946 and "Mourning Becomes Electra" in 1947.

She never won the best-actress award, but in 1973 she received the Academy's Jean Hersholt Humanitarian Award.

Kuralt Loves His Wandering

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — When New York reporters set out to wander the country, their travel time usually is limited and their assignment specific — report a trend, the mood of the nation, that kind of thing.

Not Charlie Kuralt. Since October 1967, he's wandered the U.S., logging 30,000 miles a year, with no more specific assignment than to find good human interest yarns for the CBS Evening News.

The late Ernie Pyle did this sort of thing brilliantly for newspapers in the 1930s, although his stories included some extremely sad, tragic tales. Those of Kuralt almost always are on the upbeat side.

Kuralt, 42, freely admits Pyle's wanderings and human-interest yarns inspired him when he got in the reporting business in 1955, writing a column called "People" for a newspaper in Charlotte, N.C.

And while he's covered major stories involving those worthy of international import and consequence in his 20 years at CBS, his approach to his "On the Road" pieces is not exactly aimed at making headlines. "I try to make them as irrelevant as I can, not about anything much, just about ordinary people who wouldn't otherwise be on television," readily admits the footloose native of Wilmington, N.C.

He spoke by phone from New York, where he hangs his hat when not travelling by bus with his Chicago-based crew. He was asked if CBS makes him file at least one piece a week, the equivalent of a weekly column.

"No, there's never been a quota for the show," he said. "There come weeks when they can't use anything, so the bank (of his stories) tends to build up. As long as the bank holds up, they're happy."

Come January, Kuralt will be changing banks. Instead of filling the vaults of the CBS Evening News, his "Road" pieces will appear only on CBS' new weekly feature show, "Who's Who."

Whence come his story ideas? Two-thirds arrive in the mail, he says.

"We get maybe a couple of hundred letters a week, suggesting stories," Kuralt said. "We keep a file in our bus on stories state by state, and in each state we pull out the file on that state."

"But we kind of hope that while on the way to a story we stumble on to another one. We really do go slow and talk to people, and I guess we stumble into stories that way about a third of the time."

A nice thing about the job, he adds, is that he never has been told to interrupt his travels, dash off and cover a breaking story, although that can be ordered or he'll do it if no one else is immediately available.

"They (CBS News gurus) sort of forget about us," he chuckled. "If we were in California, say, when a big earthquake came, of course we'd go to work. But it just hasn't happened that way."

"The deal when I started was that I'd never get an assignment . . . they've stuck to that all these years. They have made suggestions, but I'm free to turn it down."

"You never get rich or famous out there on the road, but this makes up for it, this freedom. I'd hate to give it up."

Eighteen Killed In N.C. Traffic

By The Associated Press
Eighteen persons died in North Carolina traffic accidents during the 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday weekend, the Highway Patrol reported.

This is two less than the number of deaths predicted by the N.C. State Motor Club, which tabulates fatal traffic accidents during holiday periods. Last year, 26 persons died over the Thanksgiving weekend.

The patrol said the deaths boost the toll for the year at 1,330, compared to 1,341 killed during the corresponding period last year.

Mozelle Parker Weaver, 52, of Four Oaks, was killed on I-95 in Johnston County Sunday. Troopers said her car was traveling south in the northbound lane of the four-lane highway when it struck another vehicle headon. Four other persons were injured in that accident.

Lance Perry, 56, of Nashville, died when another car crossed the center line and struck his vehicle on a rural paved road 5½ miles north of Nashville in Nash County.

Also killed Sunday was James Michael Norris, 24, of Boone. The patrol said Norris was the driver of a car that crossed the center line and struck another car and knocking it into a third. Two other persons were injured in the accident on N.C. 194, just north of Boone.

Michael Douglas Clark, 17, of Aurora, died Saturday on a rural dirt road less than a mile west of Aurora in Beaufort County. Clark was the passenger in a car traveling at a high rate of speed that ran off the road, troopers said.

The holiday period began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned downward today, meeting with resistance after its broad gains of the past two weeks.

Trading was moderate. The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off 3.49 at 953.13. Losers held a slight lead over gainers in the tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Brokers said traders appeared to be figuring that the market was due for a pause after a gain of nearly 29 points in the Dow over the last two weeks.

Chart-watching investors seemed concerned that the average's rise had carried it to the verge of a so-called "resistance level" at around 960. On the plus side, brokers reported continuing encouragement over last week's decline in interest rates to some of their lowest points in several years.

The downturn came on the heels of moves by the Federal Reserve aimed at pushing down money rates and stimulating the economy.

"The Federal Reserve's modest steps toward ease last week were just what the doctor ordered," observed George W. McKinney Jr. of Irving Trust, a large New York bank.

American Broadcasting topped the active list, down 1/4 at 37 1/4.

Alcan Aluminium, turned down by the Supreme Court on its request for a hearing on a 1971 import duty surcharge, slipped 1/4 to 21 1/4.

The NYSE's composite common-stock index lost .09 to 55.24 in the first hour. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .30 at 100.22.

Merchants...

"If people want to buy, they will buy," Baumann said. Overall, he felt the mood of the public was good.

Nancy Spainhour of Sounds Impressive noted a pickup in business after a relatively slow month of November. She quoted the Wall Street Journal as saying that retail buying of stereo equipment had been down from last year's record. But with the advent of the holiday season, people are less hesitant to spend.

Jewelry also seems to be going at a somewhat heavier rate of sale, according to Joe Johnson, manager of The Jewel Box. He stated that there was a general overall upswing, but that LED watches and diamonds were selling well.

"The mall has certainly helped to give different atmosphere for the shoppers," Johnson said, feeling that the rearrangement of the downtown mall has helped bring shoppers back to the downtown area.

The universal present as far as children are concerned in the battery-operated, child-powered apparatus known as the toy. At Happily Ever After, owners Carolyn Creekmore and Linda O'Connor are more than pleased with their success.

"Toys are happy; (the store) is a fun place to be, and it reflects in the people who shop here," Mrs. Creekmore said.

Mrs. Creekmore added that most of the shoppers come into the store, find what they want, and come back again. Among the big sellers in the shop are doll houses, and what Mrs. O'Connor termed "involvement toys."

"People want something for their money, something of lasting value," Mrs. Creekmore added.

SIDS Talks Slated Dec. 7

A conference on Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) will be held Tuesday, Dec. 7, at the Willis Building, corner of First and Reade Streets here.

Techniques in grief counseling for families, as well as the latest medical findings on SIDS will be discussed at this, the third of nine such conferences to be held throughout the state. It is planned to promote public awareness of the problem and to provide information on case management for area professionals—physicians, ministers, police and rescue squad members, mental health and social workers, and public health personnel—all of whom have contact with families of SIDS babies after their deaths.

According to Ruth Anne Yaeger, Sids project coordinator, between 1972 and 1975 there were 12 deaths falling in the SIDS category in Pitt County. There were 687 such deaths in North Carolina during the same time. Most of these deaths were among Black and Indian males, but SIDS is no respecter of race or sex. Medical research has not yet identified the cause of these deaths, Ms. Yaeger said.

North Carolina is the first state in the nation to undertake a statewide SIDS study which concentrates on providing grief counseling to family members. During the past year, project members have worked with families, developing a professional support model. Six nurse-counselors are on call for counseling.

The SIDS project, sponsored by the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner in Chapel Hill, is compiling information for use in research, education, and counseling programs.

Adoption Week Ending Today

Adoption Week in North Carolina ends today. The proclamation for the observance was signed by Governor James E. Holshouser Jr. for Nov. 22-29.

There are 5,561 children in the state living in foster care as public wards, without the permanency of their own family. Approximately 2,500 of these children have been in public care over two years.

Persons interested in adopting a child who is waiting for a home may contact the adoption agency of their choice. The Children's Home Society offers adoption services anywhere in the state. Interested persons may call any of the society's offices in Asheville, Chapel Hill, Charlotte, Fayetteville, Greensboro, Greenville and Wilmington.

Stewart, who will be serving his sixth term in the House, is a former chairman of the powerful House Appropriations committee. He aspired for the speakership in the 1975 House but gave up when Lt. Gov. elect Jimmy Green rounded up enough support to be elected speaker.

Stewart, 40, is a graduate of Duke University and its law school and was president of the student body.

Home Buying Soars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home buying this year is providing one of the few bright spots in the nation's economic picture despite studies showing the average American family cannot afford a median-priced house.

Sales of new and existing homes are certain to surpass the old record of three million set in 1975, industry and government figures show. And home buying is booming despite a 61 per cent jump in the price of a new home over the past four years.

In fact, analysts say, people are so determined to buy their own little rose-covered cottage that both spouses are holding down jobs and some may be digging deeper into their budget to swing it.

"Under the old ratios, many buyers would have been priced out, but by having two incomes and stretching even further, they're managing to keep up," said Kenneth J. Karim, chief economist of the National Association of Realtors.

Mortgage rates — a key factor in home costs — have dropped, and some families apparently are cashing in on the equity in their former homes which have risen in value.

For example, a median-priced existing home purchased four years ago for $27,000, with $2,700 down and carrying a 25-year, 7.5-per-cent mortgage, would yield the owner $15,955 in cash toward another home if sold for today's median price of $38,700.

Whatever the reason, according to the National Association of Realtors, sales of existing homes are expected to hit three million this year, up from last year's record 2.45 million, and the Census Bureau says sales of new homes totaled 492,000 over the first nine months of the year.

The record for sales of new homes in a year was 718,000 set in 1972.

The Census Bureau reported the median price of a new home in September was $45,200, up from $39,700 in the same month a year ago and $28,000 in 1972. The Realtors Association says the median-priced existing home this September cost $38,700, up from $35,800 a year ago and $27,000 four years ago.

While such figures may warm the cockles of the hearts of homeowners whose equity is growing, they generate a chill in the hearts of first-time buyers who must enter the marketplace without such a cushion.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS . . . NOW!

When it comes to making a good real estate investment, if there was ever a good time to buy—that time is NOW! From all indications, the real estate market has bottomed and is on its way upward. The mortgage market has turned around the adequate funds are now available. Although mortgage interest rates have become more favorable they are not expected to drop below the current levels, rather, they are expected to ease upward. The supply of good housing will diminish in the next 12 months. Last year's output of 1.16 million was the lowest in 29 years. This year's production will be somewhat higher, but will not meet housing requirements. Demand will outpace current supply. When this happens, prices always rise. Real estate has always been a sound investment and the best hedge against inflation. Its value historically increases faster than the cost of living. With all these factors falling into place, if there was ever a good time to buy real estate—that time is NOW!
