THE DAY CHRIST DIED
By Jim Bishop

As only author Jim Bishop could re-create it, here is a detailed, accurate, narrative reconstruction of the day on which Jesus of Nazareth died. It opens at 6 p.m. — the beginning of the Hebrew day — with Jesus and ten of the Apostles coming through the pass between the Mount of Olives and the Mount of Offense en route to Jerusalem and the Last Supper. It ends at 4 p.m. of the following afternoon, when Jesus was taken down from the cross.

Unemployment Rate Dipped For March

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dipped from 7.5 to 7.3 per cent in March as a half-million Americans found jobs and factories recalled workers from energy-spawned layoffs, the government said today.
Labor Department

analysts said the improvement indicated that the ill effects of the severe winter weather and related energy shortages had only a temporary effect on the economy.

The March jobless rate was at the same level as in January. It rose two-tenths of a per cent in February largely because of layoffs resulting from energy shortages.

Total employment increased by 513,000 in March to 89.5 million, continuing an expansion that has totalled 1.7 million persons since last October.

The number of persons unemployed dropped by 119,000 last month to 7.1 million with all of it occurring among persons who had lost their last job, as opposed to those entering the labor market last month.

Most of the improvement in unemployment took place among adult men, a reflection of factory recalls and a sharp pickup in the construction industry.

The job report mirrored earlier improvement in other key economic statistics, including production, consumer spending and increases in new factory orders. While it is welcome news for the Carter administration, government economists believe the need for stimulating the economy persists despite the turnaround from the winter doldrums.

President Carter is pressing Congress to approve his $50 tax rebate proposal for most Americans. However the proposal is meeting opposition from some senators who contend the economy would be better off with a permanent tax cut.

The administration hopes to reduce the jobless rate to about 6.5 per cent by year's end. It stood at 8 per cent last November.

The Labor Department gave this breakdown of unemployment in various worker categories in March:

—Adult men, 5.4 per cent, down from 5.8 per cent in January.

—Adult women, 7.2 per cent, unchanged.

—Teen-agers, 18.8 per cent, up from 18.5 per cent.

—Whites, 6.6 per cent, down from 6.7 per cent in January.

—Blacks and other minorities, 12.7 per cent, down from 13.1 per cent.

—Blue collar workers, 8.4 per cent, down from 8.7 per cent.

—White collar workers, 4.7 per cent, up from 4.6 per cent.

The rate for persons heading households, who are regarded as the family breadwinner, declined from 4.9 to 4.6 per cent.

The average length of unemployment also declined for the second straight month, dropping from 14.7 to 14.0 weeks, its lowest point in nearly two years.

Critical Gromyko Avers 'Achievements' Negated

By THOMAS KENT
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko says the Carter administration is "crossing out all that has been achieved before" with its new proposals for limits on the Soviet and American nuclear arsenals.

Gromyko held an unusual televised news conference Thursday to charge that the American proposals the Russians rejected during Secretary of State Cyrus Vance's visit to Moscow retreated from the 1974 Vladivostok agreement between President Ford and Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev. "One cannot talk about stability when a new leadership arrives and crosses out all that has been achieved before," the foreign minister declared. "...What has changed since Vladivostok? What dictates such a revision of the accords reached earlier? Nothing. The Vladivostok accords still constitute a good basis for concluding a new agreement to limit strategic arms."

Gromyko indicated that the Kremlin rejected Vance's proposal for a sizable reduction in the ceilings agreed on at Vladivostok because it would do away with some of the Soviets' biggest and most accurate rockets.

He made clear that Vance's alternate proposal for an interim treaty putting the Vladivostok agreement into effect was turned down for the same reason that has blocked the nuclear arms negotiations for more than a year: Vance wouldn't buy the Russian position that the new American Cruise missile is a long-range weapon subject to treaty limitations but the new Soviet Backfire bomber is not.

Vance proposed that the treaty apply to neither the Cruise nor the Backfire but that the two governments continue negotiations on them after the treaty was signed.

Gromyko contended that the refusal to include the Cruise as well as the proposal to reduce the levels set at Vladivostok was a departure from what President Ford had in mind.

Vance, now in Western Europe briefing U.S. allies on his talks with the Russians, has not made public the reductions he proposed in the limit of 2,400 long-range missiles and bombers for each country set by the Vladivostok accord. But Gromyko said the American proposal called for each country to be limited to 1,800 to 2,000 strategic missiles and bombers, with multiple warheads on some 1,100 to 1,200 of the missiles.

He said the American proposal "would eliminate half the Soviet missiles that are called in the U.S. 'too heavy.' ... Sometimes they said they were 'too efficient,' if a weapon can be spoken of in that way."

Gromyko displayed a sensitivity to American public opinion unusual for Soviet officials. He said that the version of what happened during Vance's visit "widely circulated in the West these days" was "basically false" and that "the Soviet position ... is presented in a distorted manner to the public opinion of America."

It's Not Noah's

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you're looking for Noah's Ark, keep looking. It's not on Mount Ararat. Scientists who tested some old wood found on the Turkish peak say it's not old enough.

University of California scientists say a pile of oak timber found 22 years ago on Ararat, near the Turkish-Soviet border, is about 1,200 years old. That's about 2,700 years too young to be Noah's Ark as indicated by Biblical accounts.

Speculation about the tooled wood has increased with recent filmed and written accounts suggesting it comes from the Biblical vessel. But scientists say the timber is from a tree cut down around 700 A.D.

Dr. Rainer Berger, a UCLA archeologist, said Thursday in an interview that new studies of the wood confirm earlier tests made in England and at UCLA in 1970. Those tests were questioned by critics.

Berger said the new tests were so thorough they should end any speculation that the wood is from the Ark.

DOUBLE AMPUTEE

I lived in Greenville in 1957 for 11 months. I am a disabled veteran of World War II. I was wounded three times in action in the Battle of the Bulge. I had seven operations, had my left leg amputated, and then had four more operations.

I have had poor circulation in my right leg and recently had to have it amputated. It would make me very happy to hear from some Greenville area people during my recuperation. I will be 53 years old Apr. 9. I enlisted in the Army when I was 17 years old. A.Y.

The above is a synopsis of a letter Hotline received from Albert Yurosky of 334 N. McDonald Street, McDonald, Pa. 15057. We hope many individuals will remember him on his birthday and during his recuperation. If any organization here were to take him as a project we would, of course, appreciate hearing about it.

Bids were opened Thursday at city hall for the new Arlington Boulevard construction from Evans Street to Hooker Road.

Low bidder on the corridor work was Barrus Construction Co. at $397,506.60 while Eastern Construction Co. offered a bid of $466,646. Reynolds Construction bid $492,660.50, and J. H. Hudson Inc. submitted a bid of $541,453.75.

The construction work calls for a box culvert to be built at Green Mill Run to handle crossing traffic.

The bids will be considered by the City Council at its April 7 meeting.

Homes Priced Out Of Many's Reach

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American dream of home ownership is dead for many families that have been priced out of the housing market, according to testimony before a Senate committee.

The Senate Banking Committee was to hear Carter administration testimony today on a bill that would lessen mortgage payments in the early years of a contract and provide tax benefits to those saving money for a down payment.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., received support Thursday from industry groups representing bankers, savings and loan associations and real estate dealers.

Witnesses testifying Thursday said mortgage payments in the early years and down payments are the biggest hurdles for young families.

"The American dream of universal home ownership is virtually dead in the present economic and institutional environment," said Princeton University economist Kenneth Rosen.

"The institution of home ownership has, over the past few years, become available only to the fortunate few," Rosen said.

Rosen predicted that the median price for a new home will reach nearly $90,000, double the current cost, by 1986. The average down payment will be close to $23,000, he said.

His predictions assume a continuation of the current trend in which home prices increase faster than the overall inflation rate. Young families "will be confronted with a major explosion in housing prices and down payment requirements. The situation will become much worse," the economist said.

Brook's bill would provide for comparatively low payments in early years of a mortgage, assuming that family income will rise. That would make possible higher payments in the later years of a mortgage.

The bill also would allow tax exempt savings accounts to help families accumulate up to $10,000 for down payments.

Insurance Bill For 747 Crash Seen Piling Up

By MICHAEL WEST
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — The insurance bill for aviation's worst disaster in which 577 persons died could reach $240 million, London insurers say.

But the first two damage suits filed in California on behalf of victims of the crash are demanding more than $2 billion.

The $240 million total includes $63 million for the Pan American and KLM jumbo jets that collided on a runway in the Canary Islands last Sunday, an estimated $137 million in damages to the families of the dead and to injured survivors, and an estimated $40 million on accident insurance policies taken out by individual victims.

Insurance sources said both Pan American and KLM are signatories to agreements limiting their liability for each passenger to $58,000 damages and $17,000 to cover legal costs. But they said American passengers are subject to a U.S. law that removes the limit if negligence is shown.

London insurance broker Julian Fraser said if one of the pilots or some other factor directly connected with either or both of the airlines is found to be to blame, compensation could be exceptionally high.

Dutch officials investigating the collision have already conceded that the KLM pilot did not have permission from the airport control tower for the takeoff he had started.

The sons of two California women killed in the collision filed a class action suit in U.S.

District Court in San Francisco Thursday demanding $6.5 million for each of the 306 Californians killed or injured in the disaster, a total of $1,989,000,000. The defendants are Pan American, KLM and the Boeing Corp., which built the two 747 jumbo jets.

The day before three daughters of a San Diego woman who was killed sued the two airlines and Boeing for $1.25 million.

A spokesman for Lloyd's of London said $23 million has already been paid to Pan American for the loss of its plane. This included $10.35 million from British firms, more than $3.7 from 93 French companies and the rest from North American companies, most of them in the United States.

"Because of the high concentration of risk in such cases, insurance has to be spread worldwide," the Lloyd's spokesman said.

KLM is collecting $40 million for its 747, which was newer than the Pan American plane. The London insurance market is liable for about 40 per cent, and the rest was divided equally among insurance company pools in Scandinavia, Switzerland and the Netherlands, a British broker reported.

Experts predict an increase in the London market's insurance rates for aircraft as a result of the disaster. They said good accident records and considerable competition had reduced annual premiums in recent months to as low as one-half of one per cent of the value of the plane.

Changes Mind

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A nurse who told police an alleged assailant tried to beat her to death three weeks ago has dropped charges against the man. They plan to be married, she says.

George Edd Hodges, 33, was indicted for aggravated kidnapping last week in connection with the March 12 assault on Linda Lee King, 29.

In an affidavit filed Thursday with the district attorney's office, Miss King asked that the state take no further action against Hodges. The indictment then was dismissed in state district court.

Miss King added that she looked forward to marriage and "having a happy life thereafter." She gave no wedding date.

Billy W. White, owner of the honey gathering and processing firm located on U.S. 17 south of Williamston, said other queens were lost in the building fire, but none were as valuable and as costly as the special queen.

Marjorie Lawrence: Victory Over Polio

By PAUL F. PARSONS

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI) — As a little girl growing up in Australia, Marjorie Lawrence sewed to make enough money to take singing lessons. But one day she skipped work to go to a lesson and was fired.

Years later, the now-famous soprano spied her former boss while giving a concert in her native land. He came on stage and lauded not only her singing but also her sewing — "inaccurately," she says.

Marjorie Lawrence's life has been full of incredible ups and downs.

In 1932 Miss Lawrence made her operatic debut at Monte Carlo and later that year at the Paris National Opera. Soon, word spread of her beautiful voice and her on-stage command. She was invited to the Metropolitan Opera in New York, where she performed the role of Brunhilde in the Wagner opera "Götterdämmerung."

It was a world full of roses. She fell in love and married Dr. Thomas King and off they went to Mexico City on their honeymoon. The year was 1941. The farthest thing from her mind was polio. But on her honeymoon it happened. She's been in a wheelchair ever since.

At their 40-acre ranch named Harmony Hills outside this central Arkansas resort city, a still-busy Miss Lawrence reaches back to that moment.

"It was tragic to go through, but my husband wouldn't let me give up. He tried to convince me I could continue. He tied me — literally tied me — to a chair in front of the piano. I'd sing as long as I could."

She returned to the Met 18 months later, wheeled onto the stage to sing the role of Venus in "Tannhauser" from a sofa.

"It was an emotional experience. I found myself seated whereas I had been standing before. They had to completely re-choreograph the opera." But she was determined, and now she proudly says, "I've done all of the serious roles since I was stricken with polio. It hasn't held me back."

She toured the South Pacific, Australia and Europe to entertain Allied servicemen during the war. She wrote an autobiography, "Interrupted Melody," which was made into a movie starring Eleanor Parker as Miss Lawrence and Glenn Ford as Dr. King.

Now Marjorie Lawrence is a college voice teacher, a part-time gardener, the local producer of the "Messiah" — plainly anything but retired.

"She's quite a busy lady, especially considering she's supposed to be in retirement," says an amused Dr. King. But she answers — still with a trace of Australian accent — "The key to life is keeping busy and working with young people. That's the means of having a happy life."

For 13 years she was a professor of voice at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. Before that she was at Tulane. Now she is a voice professor at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock and also at a local community college.

Miss Lawrence and her husband, a retired general practitioner, have lived in Hot Springs for 25 years. They originally came to Arkansas because of the hot waters with supposedly recuperative powers.

"After a while, doctors thought it might be advantageous to get out of the hospital and find a place to live," she said. "So we went house-hunting in an ambulance. We've never left. The countryside is so beautiful and restful."

Miss Lawrence doesn't dwell on the past. She has too active a present.

Accompany Husband On The Next Trip

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's ex-wife and children live in another city. When he visits them, he sleeps at his ex-wife's house, in a separate bedroom. His ex is unmarried, and although he insists that their relationship is now platonic, I feel insecure and uncomfortable.

When I met my husband he was already divorced and insisted he wanted nothing more to do with his ex-wife. Now when he visits her he goes on picnics with her and the children, and takes them to dinner, just like old times.

I know my husband loves me, but this situation bugs me. He has asked me to accompany him on those trips and try to be friends with his ex-wife. I refuse to go. Am I being unreasonable?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Yes. Perhaps if you went, you'd no longer feel insecure and uncomfortable. It's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible to find out a person's name and address if you have his automobile license number? Or will you have to answer a lot of questions first?

You see, I was kind of wandering around a shopping center during my lunch break, when a beautiful older man caught my eye. He went into a jewelry store and I followed him. I was drawn to him like a magnet. He was shopping for an anniversary gift for his wife, and I offered to help him select something. We kidded around and he said he had a daughter in college about my age.

Abby, you're going to think I'm crazy, but I have never met a man who attracted me the way this one did. I can't get him out of my mind. I don't even know his name, but I walked him to his car and took down his license number. I've just got to see him again! I'm 22 and believe me, this was love at first sight. I even dream about him.

Can you help me?

IN A DAZE IN MINNEAPOLIS

DEAR IN: It's possible to find out a person's name if you have his license number in Minnesota, but you will have to answer a lot of questions first, so I don't recommend trying. The magnetism you experienced is "physical attraction," and it happens every day. For your sake (and his) forget him, dear.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman who had cancer and some of her friends avoided contact with her because they thought she was "contaminated and contagious" was sad indeed. May I add a little to what I have learned since working with The American Diabetes Association?

This malfunction (it is not really a disease) is also badly misunderstood. One woman called our office to ask where she should go for a V.D. test! Asked if she associated diabetes with venereal disease, she replied, "Why, yes, of course."

Another woman, whose husband is diabetic, had refused to share a bed with him for years. (She feared contagion.) Since 1900, diabetes has risen from 13th to third place as a killer (heart is first, cancer second) and is the leading cause of new cases of blindness and amputations of extremities.

Abby, please urge your readers to learn more about diabetes in order to better understand the people who suffer from it.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: I will. For more information write to The American Diabetes Association, 1 West 48th Street, New York, New York 10020. They will direct you to the affiliate nearest you where free brochures are available.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Cooking Is Fun

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
DEAR CECILY: Do you have a recipe for Hamantaschen, the filled tricolor "cakes" served at the Jewish holiday of Purim? I tasted them at a neighbor's house and would like to make them. My neighbor doesn't use exact measurements, which I feel I need. — NEW COOK.

DEAR NEW COOK: Jack Lichtner of Far Rockaway, N. Y., who is proud of his wife's cooking, got her recipe for Hamantaschen for me. Mrs. Lichtner says the dough is a basic one that she also uses for cookies and apple cake. Although Hamantaschen are baked especially for the joyous festival of Purim (this year on March 4), some cooks make them at other times of the year. Besides the prune filling, poppyseed filling is also used. — C. B.

MRS. LICHTNER'S
HAMANTASCHEN

- 4½ cups flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup corn oil
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 1-3rd cup orange juice
- 4 large eggs
- Prune filling, see note below

Stir together the flour, baking powder and salt. In the large bowl of an electric mixer, at medium speed, beat together the corn oil, sugar, orange rind and juice until well-mixed. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Gradually stir in the flour mixture until blended. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. On a prepared pastry cloth with a prepared stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out dough to ¼-inch thickness. Cut into ¾-inch rounds. Spoon ½ tablespoon of filling into the center of each round. Form triangles by bringing up edges of dough almost to center and making 3 seams — some filling should show in center. Press seams together. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned — 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 4½ dozen.

Note: Mrs. Lichtner uses canned prune filling. To make your own: In a medium saucepan simmer 1 pound pitted prunes until very soft — 15 to 20 minutes; drain. In an electric blender, at high speed, puree for 3 minutes. Return to saucepan; stir in ½ cup sugar and ¼ cup orange juice; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Cool before using. Makes about 2 and 1-3rd cups.

Try using a serrated, curved-blade grapefruit knife when you are hollowing out halves of large oranges so you can fill the orange shells with mashed sweet potatoes (for an accompaniment to a main dish) or with fruit sherbet (for dessert). The orange shells look prettiest when the edges are notched.

Succession Measure In Hands Of The Undecided

RALEIGH (AP) — Some 28 House members who say they have not made up their minds apparently will determine the fate of legislation to allow North Carolina governors to seek a second successive term. This was revealed by a poll conducted by broadcast reporters covering the General Assembly. The poll showed that 61 of the 120 House members favored the proposal and five leaning in favor. It showed 19 opposed and four leaning that way. One member refused to say how he stood, one was absent and Speaker Carl Stewart was not polled. Six members who opposed the measure said they would vote for it if it did not apply to Gov. Jim Hunt who has asked that he be allowed to seek reelection. Since the succession bill would amend the state constitution, it requires the affirmative vote of 72 of the 120 House members to pass. The measure is expected to have easy sailing in the Senate where 36 of its 50 members signed the measure when it was introduced. A vote of 30 is needed for a constitutional amendment to pass the Senate. Meanwhile Sen. Cecil Hill, D-Transylvania, chairman of the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee, and Rep. John Gamble, D-Lincoln, chairman of the House Constitutional Amendments Committee, announced their committees will hold a joint public hearing on the succession issue next Wednesday afternoon. Hill's announcement came at a meeting of his committee at which the measure was discussed briefly. Speaking in favor of the measure, Sen. Luther Britt, D-Robeson, said that since Hunt now cannot succeed himself, he is already a lame duck.

Reestablish Town Board

WINTERVILLE — The Winterville Town Board voted to re-establish the Board of Adjustments as a five member board, following a public hearing Monday night. The public hearing was held to allow the consideration of amending Article 10, Section one of the zoning ordinance to allow for the re-establishing of the board of adjustments as a five member board rather than the present 10 member board. Mayor Walter Dail appointed the following to serve three year terms each: Paul Braxton and Claudie McLawhorn, outside city members; and J. H. Weathering, Fran Whelihan and William Carmon, inside city members. The town board will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday, April 4 at 7 p.m. at the town hall.

Air Controller At AFB Is Given Award

SEYMOUR JOHNSON AFB, GOLDSBORO — Senior Airman Adam Radzimirski, an air traffic controller in the Seymour Johnson AFB Approach Control Facility, has been presented the Air Force Communications Service Aircraft Save Award. The award is presented only to controllers whose exceptional actions in an emergency are above and beyond the normal expectations of the job. Radzimirski received the award for his actions last November 24 when he helped direct a civilian airplane to a safe landing at the Albert Ellis Airport near Wilmington. The pilot was off course and his aircraft was low on fuel. Radzimirski and Tech. Sgt. John Youmans, the assistant controller, worked closely with Wilmington Approach Control and directed the pilot to the airport. The airplane landed safely but ran out of fuel while still on the runway.

Another Milestone Next Week

Another milestone is ahead next week for the ECU School of Medicine.

The Liaison Committee on Medical Education, which is the joint accrediting agency of the American Medical Association and the Association of American Medical Colleges, will be considering provisional accreditation for the ECU school when it meets during the week.

Local officials are confident that the provisional accreditation will come at the meeting and that has been indicated to them following a survey team's visit in January.

Nothing, however, is certain until the committee takes formal action. The staff of the School of Medicine is awaiting that decision prior to making final plans for an August date to begin the first class.

The school is processing admissions requests from prospective students, but none will be formally admitted until the provisional accreditation notification is received.

It is anticipated that the LCME action will allow for the admission of 28 students to the first class of the four-year School of Medicine. If so, it is expected that all of them will be North Carolina residents.

There is the highest hope that within a short while the ECU School of Medicine will be allowed to begin its first class this fall. It will be a major milestone in this effort, and one which we are certain will lead to vastly improved medical care in North Carolina.

Dissension Indicates Probe Is Needed

The strange dissension in the House of Representatives over whether or not its committee should investigate the John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King assassinations leaves us bewildered.

It led to the resignation of Richard Sprague, chief counsel for the House assassinations committee, because he was convinced his presence would mean the end of the investigation.

It is difficult for us to understand all the dissension over the investigation, and it prompts us to think that a new investigation is needed more than ever.

THIS AFTERNOON

Three-Day Term Resisted

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH — State Senator E. Lawrence Davis is amazed. The idea that a person convicted of driving drunk ought to spend at least three days in jail is running into some stiff opposition from his fellow assemblymen.

"North Carolina who is pushing, along with several other senators, a proposal to set a mandatory three-day jail sentence for drunk drivers; whether on alcohol or drugs.

"Three days' imprisonment is not too much to ask in an effort to save the lives of innocent and productive people... and prevent disabling injuries to thousands more," says Davis.

A newspaper survey in his home district showed surprising support for the idea, Davis recalls, and a smallest poll among some alcoholics—several of whom had been convicted of drunk driving—also showed "overwhelming support," he said.

Opposition

But there is opposition. A lot of it comes from defense attorneys who regularly handle drunk driving cases. Davis has even agreed to bend the proposal to allow a suspended jail sentence of three days on first offense cases—no active time required. Yet, opposition remains.

"While we talk of life imprisonment and death penalties for murderers, the drunk driver is seldom imprisoned—not even for a single day," the senator says.

Yet every year in North Carolina drunk drivers kill more people than do all murders. Fatalities are currently running about 1,500 annually in this state, and statistics show at least half—or 750—of the deaths caused by drunk drivers. Murders run around 600 annually.

Another 70,000 people are injured. Again, about half involve drunk driving which Davis sees as "an enormous toll in terms of suffering and disability."

At least 28 other states have mandatory jail term for drunk drivers, with seven allowing no suspended sentences in such cases.

Davis says he has no real complaints with the conviction rate in drunk driving cases on the whole. The statewide average is about 75 per cent of those charged found guilty. The rate varies sharply, however, depending on how much the defendant "blows" on the breathalyzer. Between .10 (presumed drunk) and .15, the conviction rate is only 55.9 per cent. After that it climbs to 86 per cent up to .20; and in the 90 per cent range above that mark.

Convictions

There are, however, wide differences in the conviction rate from one county to another, with many running in the 40 to 50 per cent range, while others get in upper 80s and lower 90s.

"The conviction rate is pretty good... the problems here are with local jurisdictions.

"Where you have low conviction rates, the trouble is with the local prosecution, or local law enforcement officers, who may not be building the strong cases they need to.

"In such an event, it is up to the local communities to express their concern and to insist upon better enforcement and prosecution.

If there is a problem, then the people can make the necessary changes to correct that," Senator Davis said.

The three-day jail term proposal must make its way through Senate and House of Representatives as the session progresses. "The purpose is to deter people from drinking and driving, and to reflect the strong belief on the part of many North Carolinians that a simple fine and suspension or revocation of licenses with limited driving privilege is not sufficient punishment for behavior with such terrible consequences," Davis explained.

He is awaiting anxiously the verdict of fellow lawmakers on how many agree with that position.

Califano's Breakthrough

WASHINGTON — There has been much to do about Secretary of HEW's Joseph Califano hiring a chef-cook for his private dining room. The problem is that the job description, written in bureaucratic terms, mentioned all the chef's duties except the fact that he would actually cook.

I have a copy of the job description as outlined by HEW. Since I am always looking for the joker in any government document, it is my opinion that Mr. Califano was not just trying to hire a cook but was experimenting with language that he could use in describing the duties of a housewife. The Secretary of HEW has said that one of his priorities is family planning, and I think this particular memo was a trial balloon to see if it could be adapted to making the lot of the housewife sound more respectable.

If you substitute "husband" for "secretary" and add "wife" to "incumbent" you will see how aptly the memo fits.

INTRODUCTION:

This position is established to provide a confidential assistant to the husband to assist him in providing a broad range of personal services for special activities. The Incumbent-Wife must have the full confidence of the husband to handle the determination regarding the special activities. DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Incumbent-Wife is responsible for anticipating and meeting the necessary logistic requirements to facilitate appropriate recognition and well-being of the family and visitors.

2. Incumbent-Wife is responsible for supervising and arranging for whatever provisions are required to accommodate small formal groups of outside visitors.

3. Incumbent-Wife is responsible for operating family Discretionary Fund and Special Services Fund, and she provides the husband with a fund proposal together with appropriate justification.

4. She maintains records of supplies and all financial transactions. She receives and deposits monies in accordance with approved instruction.

5. She is responsible for managing, supervising and performing work involved in the food supply service of the family's private dining room.

6. Incumbent-Wife is required to operate a family vehicle.

7. She performs other duties of a confidential nature as assigned.

40 Years Ago Today

April 1, 1937

Rep. Lindsay D. Warren of Washington, N.C., announced today the House Rivers and Harbors Committee had voted unanimously to include improvement of the Tar River between Greenville and Washington in this year's proposed rivers and harbors bill.

The cost of the project, already approved by the Army Engineers board, is estimated at $328,000 and cost of maintenance at $40,000 annually.

The proposal provides for a 12-foot channel from Washington to Hardee Creek, a tributary of the Tar River, four miles below Greenville. A turning basin in Hardee Creek is also proposed.

A sudden outbreak of strikes in General Motors plants that affected 18,400 men at its peak receded today as the company announced 7,300 men had returned to work in the Fisher body plant in Cleveland.

Offsetting that settlement was a strike that closed the plant of the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Co. at Pontiac, Mich., this morning. The company, employing several thousand men, is not a General Motors unit, although partially owned by the corporation.

FIRST MOVE IN JUNE

Reorganization Go-Ahead

By FRANK CORMIER

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, armed with new powers to carry out a major campaign pledge to reorganize the federal bureaucracy, will not make his first move until June, an aide says.

Carter, who plans to sign the reorganization bill next Tuesday or Wednesday, will act first to propose a revamping of his own shop, the Executive Office of the President, deputy press secretary Rex Granum said.

The President wants to make the Executive Office a "model" for reorganization, Granum said.

The House voted 395 to 22 on Thursday to give Carter the authority he sought to reorganize federal agencies. The Senate then voted without dissent to send the measure to the White House for Carter's signature.

In essence, the bill permits the President to send Congress reorganization plans that will go into effect automatically in 60 days unless rejected in the interim by either the House or the Senate.

However, Carter could not abolish any Cabinet department or independent regulatory agency, nor could he eliminate the enforcement functions or statutory programs of any department or agency.

Although a reorganization team has been working at the Office of Management and Budget since shortly after Carter took office, Granum said the first reorganization proposal will not come until June because the President sees the revamping of the bureaucracy as a "long, well-thought-out process."

Granum said that reorganization "will not be easy," but he emphasized that Carter is determined to follow through on it because he "ran a campaign based largely on governmental reorganization and making the bureaucracies... more effective."

One of Carter's oft-repeated campaign pledges was to reduce the approximately 1,900 federal agencies and commissions to no more than 200.

Granum said the Executive Office reorganization plan will serve as a guide to refining lines of authority elsewhere in government. Without citing any examples, he suggested that the Executive Office now includes some agencies that have no need to report directly to the President and thus could be merged into Cabinet departments.

The spokesman emphasized that Carter sees "no magic, quick solutions to reorganization."

The bill would allow any member of the Senate or House to force a vote on a reorganization plan and would permit the President to alter or withdraw a plan within 30 days after submitting it.

Carter, who is being given reorganization authority for a three-year period, would not be allowed to have more than three plans pending before Congress at any one time.

Presidents from Harry Truman to Richard Nixon had similar powers, but Congress refused to renew it for Nixon in 1973. Carter's predecessor, Gerald Ford, never sought the authority.

Strength For Today

OUR ONLY SURE PROTECTION

A speaker at a recent meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous once made the statement that for the alcoholic who has conquered his appetite, one drink stands between him and ruin.

This is a thin partition. But always the partitions which separate us from catastrophe are thin and fragile. No one knows for certain that he will be living five minutes from now. One day a household rings with laughter, and the next it is desolate with weeping. At one time we walk proudly in moral triumph, and in the twinkling of an eye we are ashamed to behold ourselves in the mirror of conscience.

It is plain that we live our lives day by day by the grace of God. We have to put great reliance on that grace because there is nothing else of substance in the entire universe. Only a thin partition separates us from temptations, sorrows, and discouragements which might overwhelm us. God's grace is our only protection.

Other Editors Say Very Good Point

(Washington Daily News)

Several hundred people from all over North Carolina recently came to Raleigh to call upon the General Assembly to ask that power companies provide a minimum of power at a minimum rate.

We do not fully understand what is meant by a "minimum of power at a minimum rate," but we assume that those in Raleigh are thinking in terms of a set amount of electric power for a set rate.

Now most of these people are retired or elderly, and they are on fixed incomes. And some of the incomes were "fixed" several years ago, and they do not fluctuate precisely with the cost of living increases. Many of the incomes of these people are so set that even a little rise in the cost of living hurts far more than most people realize.

With the cost of electricity today running so very high, in a given month if there is an increase of $10 in the monthly bill, a person getting $250 in retirement income is hurt very much.

If that person could know now that in each month he could use a given amount of electricity as the minimum and pay $25 for instance for that minimum, he would be better able to budget his money.

Again, we get back to what we have been saying for a long while. When a person has to pay more for utilities than he does for rent, we are in deep trouble. And we are in even deeper trouble when an elderly citizen on a fixed income suddenly finds his utilities bill increased by $10 or more on a given day.

Years ago when this very person was given a retirement plan, the very thought of getting $250 per month in the waning years gave hope and faith that living in peace and comfort would be there. Instead, too many of our elderly retired citizens are struggling right now in the effort to make ends meet.

This idea of a minimum amount of power for a minimum rate, if we understand what it means, holds a certain fascination. The General Assembly ought to give it careful study. If some plan can be worked out to help these people, then it ought to be done. They are at the mercy of others. The legislature can possibly come up with some plan embracing the plan of a minimum amount of power for a minimum rate.

These people made their point well. But there is a big difference in making the point and getting the relief needed.

Marketbasket Prices Going Up

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer Consumers found familiar but unpleasant news at the supermarket during March as price rises for coffee boosted the family grocery bill once again. An Associated Press market-basket survey shows the coffee increases offset savings on scattered other items.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price on March 1, 1973 at one supermarket in each of 13 cities and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed that by the end of March, the cost of a pound of coffee was over $3 at the checklist store in eight cities. The retail prices still lag behind wholesale levels — Folger's announced earlier this week it was boosting its wholesale price to $4.53 a pound.

There are signs, however, that the steadily soaring coffee prices may be causing consumers to switch to other beverages. Some store managers report coffee sales have dropped by as much as 25 per cent since the beginning of the year, while tea sales have gained sharply.

The government is predicting that 1977 food prices will average about 5 or 6 per cent above last year, but warns that continued bad weather in crop-producing areas could drive costs higher.

The AP survey showed that the marketbasket total increased during March at the checklist store in eight cities, rising an average of 2.6 per cent. The bill declined at the checklist store in five cities, dropping an average of 1.7 per cent. On an overall basis, the average marketbasket total was 1 per cent higher at the start of April than it was a month earlier.

The picture was a little worse than it was during February when the marketbasket total increased at the checklist store in seven cities and decreased in six; on an overall basis, the bill rose just under half a per cent during the second month of 1977.

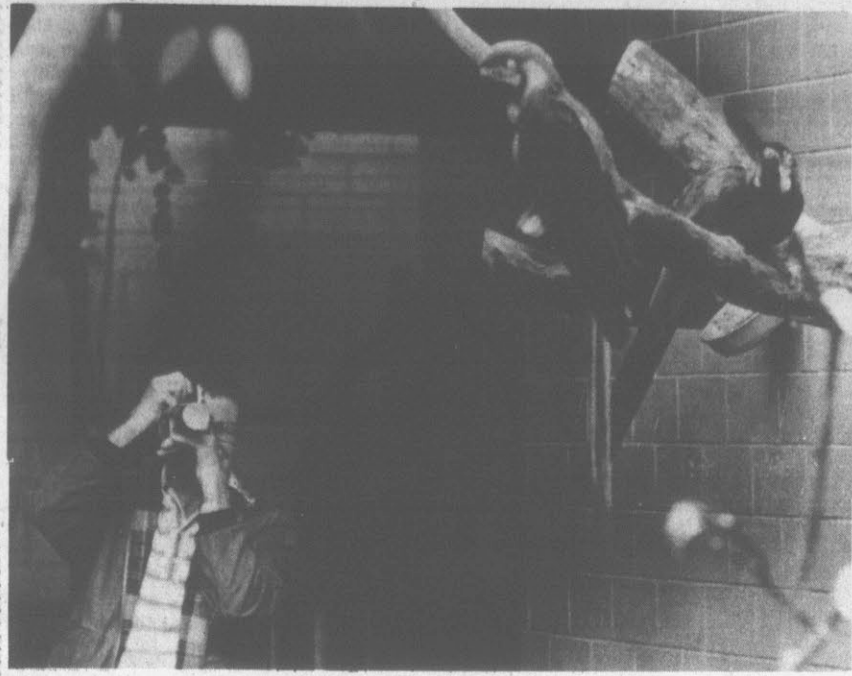

Comparing current prices with those at the start of the year, the AP survey found the marketbasket total increased at the checklist store in every city, with an average boost of 4 per cent, much of it due to coffee costs.

During March, the price of a pound of coffee was up at the checklist store in eight cities, with increases ranging up to 15 per cent. The boosts offset decreases in the cost of eggs, which dropped at the checklist store in eight cities.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

Coastal Management Act's Repeal Being Sought

WATCH WHAT BIRDIE? — Walter Greick, president of a camera club and all, might cringe as he calls the next meeting to order. Busy snapping pictures of the birds of Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago with his new lens, he did everything right except one thing: he forgot to take off his lens cap. Chicago Tribune photographer Ernie Cox, Jr., couldn't resist taking this embarrassing picture before pointing out the error to Greick. (AP Wirephoto)

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Repeal of North Carolina's Coastal Management Act has been proposed in bills to be introduced in the House and Senate today.

Rep. Howard Chapin, D-Beaufort, and Sen. Livingstone Stallings, D-Craven, sponsored the bills to repeal the four-year-old law, which was aimed at controlling development of land in 20 coastal counties. Under the law, the approval of the Coastal Resources Commission is required for major development in certain areas of the counties.

"It's unconstitutional in my judgement," Stallings said of the law. "There's no reason why the 20 counties should be saddled with the bill. If it's a good bill it ought to be applied to all 100 counties."

"Also, it takes away a whole lot of property rights without compensation. It requires people to look all over North Carolina for a permit to do a lot of things with their own property," he said.

BOTTLE BILL

A bill was filed for introduction in the House that would require a nickel deposit to be placed on nearly all beverage containers, whether sturdy bottles or the currently non-returnable cans and light-weight bottles. Rep. Charles Webb, D-Guilford, sponsored the bill that would also ban the use of pop-top lids on the cans and the plastic rings used to bind cans into packages of six.

The bill, which is aimed at cutting down on litter, is fashioned after legislation enacted in Oregon, and is similar to a bill that failed to pass the House in 1975.

state government job was approved by the Senate with only one dissenting vote and sent to the House. The bill, sponsored by Sen. I.C. Crawford, D-Buncombe, would make it a misdemeanor for a person or company to accept or receive such compensation. The bill passed on a 45-1 vote on second reading, with only Sen. Russell Walker, D-Randolph, dissenting.

schools was passed by the House 99-14 and sent the Senate. The vote came after the House voted 65-42 to table an amendment by Rep. John Ed Davenport, D-Nash, which would have changed the effective date to July 1, 1979. Under the 1975 law, juvenile truants who have committed no crime will be cared for in facilities other than state training schools which House speakers have described as training schools for criminals.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

The House voted 105-6 to provide tax relief for the elderly and disabled. It tentatively approved a bill to exclude from local property taxes the first $7,500 owned by the disabled and those over 65 who earn $10,000 a year or less. The exclusion now is $5,000 for those who earn $7,500 or less.

SMALL LOANS

The House Banks and Banking Committee heard Elliott Beal of Lincolnton, speaking for the state's small loan industry, say that a bill to reduce from 36 to 24 per cent the maximum interest rate on loans of up to $300 could put him and other small loan agencies out of business.

VOTER REGISTRATION

The Senate enacted by an overwhelming margin a bill stipulating that voters who do not designate a political party when registering to vote be considered "unaffiliated" on the registration books. Unaffiliated voters, under the new law, would not be eligible to vote in any political primary but may vote in general elections.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

The House passed and sent the Senate a bill being pushed by Gov. Jim Hunt to place the state's industrial development agencies in the Department of Commerce as an autonomous agency. The vote was 104-4. The governor hopes that the move will improve the state's industrial hunting results.

Unaffiliated voters who wished to vote in a primary would have to change their registration at least 21 days before the election date. All persons now registered as "Independent" or "No Party" will now be recorded as unaffiliated, under the law, unless they request that their registration be changed.

Campus Stilled By Fire, Riot

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss. (AP) — The administration building of Rust College — its roof, steeple and attic gutted by a deliberately set fire — looms over a nearly-deserted campus today.

unrest in McMillan's 10 years as head of the 110-year-old United Methodist Church-supported college.

Rust's 842 students were ordered off campus on Thursday after the fire, which broke out during a protest of administration policies and the reappointment as college president of Dr. W.A. McMillan.

Psychiatrist Will Speak

A professor of Psychiatry at Duke University Medical Center and head of the Division of Biological Psychiatry there will be the featured speaker for the Greenville chapter dinner-meeting of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship Monday night, April 4.

Police and Mississippi Highway Patrolmen moved onto the campus of the predominantly black college Thursday afternoon after a bus carried the last of the students through the main gates.

"There is no doubt that it was arson," said Holly Springs Mayor Sam Coopwood. He said firemen found five cans of gasoline and a plastic bag containing gasoline soaked rags in the building.

DR. WILLIAM WILSON

Dr. William P. Wilson, a Fayetteville native, will speak at 7:30 p.m. following a dinner at 6:45 p.m. in the American Legion Building located on St. Andrews Drive near the Beef Barn Restaurant.

Warrants were issued against four students on suspicion of arson charges, but were later withdrawn at McMillan's request.

Student records were destroyed in the fire, and damage was estimated at $500,000.

McMillan said he ordered the indefinite break, with seven weeks to go in spring term, to assure "the safety of the students and the buildings."

"We've got a building here that is burned and the board is reviewing the situation," McMillan said. "We will probably make a decision by Monday on when the students will return." It was the first major student

He will give his testimony to Christ. There is no charge for the meeting. It is open to the public and women and young people of every denomination are invited.

Dr. Wilson attended Campbell College for one year. He was awarded his BS degree in chemistry from Duke University and completed his residency in psychiatry, two years of Child Psychiatry and advanced neurological training there. In 1954-55, he studied at the Montreal, Canada, Neurological Institute of McGill University, where he trained in Electroencephalography.

there are some healthy signs. "We still have a long way to go, but the concept of ConRail has been proven. We have seen we can get the job done. We can make it work. That was our biggest accomplishment," said Edward Jordan, the system's chairman and chief executive.

"There is a newfound confidence in the ability of the region's rail system to provide reliable rail service and to improve it. Just one year ago, there was uncertainty and potential chaos," he said.

ConRail lost $205.5 million for the period ending Dec. 31. But that is $90 million less than the losses projected by the U.S. Railway Association, the federal agency that drew up the laws creating the unified system.

"Losing $200 million is hardly a happy number, but it was less than expected," Jordan said at a news conference Thursday.

Under its Final Systems Plan, the railroad hopes to make a profit by 1980. More than $2 billion in federal money will be pumped into it before it becomes self-sustaining.

Locomotives painted blue with a white emblem to cover the old markings of Penn Central or Erie Lackawanna run over a 34,000-mile network of track.

ConRail, which employs 96,000 workers, operates about 1,500 freight trains and 1,850 commuter passenger trains every day. It owns 152,000 freight cars and 4,700 locomotives. It stretches across 16 northern states from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic Seaboard.

Passenger service may cease in parts of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Rhode Island and Indiana because local transit authorities have not come up with their share of funds to make the system work.

In addition, a severe winter has caused money problems this year.

ConRail lost $100 million more than expected in the first two months of 1977 because the cold weather shut down whole cities and freight service lagged. Jordan expects those losses to be made up.

"Overall, we are still on schedule with the long-range plan to turn a profit by 1980," he said.

Five Accidents Here Thursday

Greenville police investigated five traffic collisions yesterday which resulted in an estimated $3,750 property damage.

Heaviest damage resulted from a 3:25 p.m. mishap at the intersection of Tenth Street and College Hill Drive involving cars driven by Dorothy Fay Scott of Village Greene Apts. and Martha Early Barnes of 508 East First St.

Investigators, who charged Mrs. Barnes with failing to stop for a stop light, estimated damage at $600 to the Scott car and $1,000 to the Barnes auto.

Cars driven by Garry Williams Chapman of Route 2, Ayden and Teresa Adeline Little of Ayden collided about 12:20 p.m. on Contentnea Street, 62 feet North of the Fairfax Avenue intersection.

Damage was set by police at $250 to the Chapman car and $475 to the Little auto.

A 9:10 a.m. mishap at the intersection of Greene and Second Streets involved vehicles operated by Walter Reid Perkins of 400 Summit St. and Henry Benjamin Harris III of Route 1, Stokes.

Damage was estimated at $400 to the Perkins car and 200 to the Harris auto.

An estimated $400 damage resulted to a car driven by Shirley Summerlin Pitt of 2509 East Fourth St. when the vehicle collided with a truck driven by James Cecil Clark III of 403 Oak St. about 5:30 p.m. on First Street, 100 feet East of the Cotanche Street intersection.

Police estimated damage to the Clark truck at $75.

Investigators reported a truck driven by Ernest Beasley of Red Oak collided with a parked car owned by Solomon Williams Jr. of Route 1, Winterville, about 11:25 a.m. on Wilson Street, 75 feet South of the Chestnut Street intersection, causing an estimated $350 damage to the Williams car.

No damage resulted to the truck operated by Beasley, police reported.

demands the utmost in personal discretion on the part of the incumbent.

Incumbent-Wife must have an extremely confidential relationship with the husband.

While Mr. Califano was talking about hiring a cook it seems to me that any wife would jump at the chance to be known as a "Confidential Assistant" to her husband. When asked her profession, no longer would she be embarrassed to put down on an application form: "Housewife."

At parties, when someone asked her what she did, she could proudly say, "I coordinate and insure the needs of special groups, including relatives, who visit our house. I anticipate and facilitate the well-being of our visitors. I am responsible for funds allotted to me for provisioning the kitchen, and I perform work involved in the food supply service of the dining room. I am also authorized to operate the family vehicle as part of the school car pool."

If someone has the temerity to ask "How's your sex life?" she can always reply, "I also perform other duties of an extremely confidential nature which I unfortunately cannot discuss with you at this time."

Ask Removing Priesthood Bar

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The National Federation of Priests' Councils has urged elimination of Roman Catholic laws barring women from the priesthood.

The federation, including representatives from two-thirds of the nation's dioceses, said at its annual meeting here that the Vatican, in its recent document prohibiting women priests, offers arguments that do not appear to substantiate its case.

Consequently, the federation appealed to U.S. bishops and Pope Paul VI to review the issue of ordaining women "for the purpose of removing those canonical impediments to ordination based on the sex of candidates."

Mental Depression Can Be A Lethal Disorder

The Pitt County Mental Health Association warns that mental depression, a condition that many people regard only as weakness of character, may be responsible for as many deaths each year as diabetes or leukemia.

Depression often leads to death through suicides, many of which could have been prevented if the victim had received treatment for his depression.

"The problem is," Carl Blackwood, president of the Association, said, "that too many people fail to accept depression as a medical disorder. Instead of encouraging the depressed person to seek help, they advise him to pull himself together and to think about how well off he really is and be thankful. This only makes the situation worse, making the depressed person feel even more guilty than he or she already has."

Some authorities believe depression is caused by a chemical imbalance in the brain, which is triggered into a depressive attack when stress situations take place. The tendency toward depression appears to be familial, at least in some cases. In other cases, emotional stresses appear to be the cause of depression.

Blackwood said. "These symptoms range from headache and difficulty in sleeping to anxiety, total loss of interest and great despondency and remorse. The challenge we face is getting more people to seek out and accept treatment and for their friends and relatives to encourage them to do so. This will only happen when people recognize depression for what it is: a serious and potentially lethal ailment. Then we can expect to see a great reduction in the suffering the condition causes and in the number of suicides that are committed in this country each year."

For further information one may contact the Pitt County Mental Health Association, 752-7448.

Intimate Look Into The Family Is Church Goal

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you take a close look inside the everyday, functioning realities of various modern families, you're apt to catch glimpses of problems that also affect you — and that you're also either dealing with or dodging.

That candid focusing on the actual lives of contemporary families, the ethical issues they confront and how they're reacting, is the unusual and provocative approach of a $1 million, church-sponsored television series.

Watching it is somewhat like taking a Rorschach ink-blot test bringing out your own tendencies, observed executive producer George Moynihan.

"It makes people re-examine their own lives," he said in an interview. "Some will recognize members of their own families or neighbors who live next door and some will recognize themselves. They'll see parallels in their own situations."

Called "Six American Families," the series of six hour-long documentaries was produced by Group W — the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. — in association with the United Church of Christ and the United Methodist Church.

Two years in the making, the series begins April 4 on the five Westinghouse stations in Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and San Francisco and on Public Broadcasting Service stations across the nation.

Besides the sponsoring church, nine other denominations are participating in study-discussion sessions on the series, with materials including a book of the same title by Paul Wilkes, issued by Seabury Press, being distributed widely.

The TV presentations offer intense, intimate looks at the conditions, strains and drives affecting six U.S. families of various major educational, economic and ethnic backgrounds.

Seeing how they're handling or avoiding their difficulties can have "a great therapeutic effect" on others involved in similar modern ethical issues of conduct and decisions, Moynihan said.

"It can help them face their own reality," he added. "Of course, people will react differently depending on their particular situations, yet also reflecting our joint humanity."

Moynihan, 50, vice president in charge of programming for Group W stations, noted that television crews almost became part of the lives of the six families for lengthy periods in making the film.

"There are a lot of pressures and problems assailing the family, but it's still the rock for most people," he said. "We didn't go out to prove that, but it's what we found. The family still is the idea.

"It's not being experience in an ideal manner, but it's weathering its problems. It's where people celebrate, where they go when they're in trouble. For all the problems, families still are pulling together."

Involved in the series are a blue-collar Roman Catholic family in Chicago, a Jewish family torn by divorce in Mill Valley, Calif., a Lutheran nuclear engineer's family with a retarded child in Albuquerque, N.M., a black policeman's family in New York City, a farm family in Iowa, an impoverished rural family in Georgia.

The Rev. Dr. Everett Parker, United Church communications director, said the series does not try to tell people what to do, but does confront them graphically with questions of Christian principles in terms of real-life situations.

It's not a traditionally religious series, says the United Methodist communications executive, the Rev. Dr. Curtis Chambers, but "it is a beautiful way to help large numbers of persons see more clearly the critical issues" of life in American families today.

of a desolate hill

It is not strange that someone chose this lonely spot to erect a reverent memorial. It was on a desolate hill that three crosses stood many centuries ago . . . the Cross of the Saviour . . . and of the penitent . . . and of the scoffer.

Always these crosses have seemed to belong to the desolate hills of life. When a man feels the crushing burden of worldly care upon him, when he trudges the steep trail lost and alone — then, either he will claim the Love and Strength of Christ as did the penitent, or like the scoffer he will let his unbelief destroy his soul.

But no man should wait for a time of desolation to make life's most joyous decision. It can be made today . . . and sealed with years of happy service in the church of one's choice.

Mental Telepathy Said For All

By BARBARA MATHEWS
Reflector Staff Writer

Mental telepathy is an ability we all have — if we just learn to harness it, according to The Amazing Kreskin, a "mentalist" who lectured at ECU's Mendenhall Student Theater last night.

"I think everyone can do it," he said.

"All I have done is taken the ability we all have and taken it to a higher threshold.

"It is possible the mind can learn to harness these powers if the imagination is stimulated. In fact, lack of imagination may be one of the major problems in education today."

Kreskin has performed his mind-reading feats on the Tonight Show and has made nearly 100 appearances on the Mike Douglas Show. He labeled his talent merely "an ability I have."

"I use the term mentalist because I'm not a psychic," he said.

"Everything I do is done by natural and scientific means. It's an ability.

"But I can't walk out on stage and suddenly perform. It takes an hour to gear myself up.

"I move around. I remove from my mind every vestige of the worries of the day. If I don't I'll have problems.

"If you think about it, I use the most unpredictable equipment of all — the mind.

"After all, the mind is the only thing that uses, in order to study it, the object to be studied."

Kreskin said he has doubts about those who specialize in predictions.

"I'm sure there are many sincere people in the field," he said.

"But I'm leery of prophets. If they can really foresee the future, why don't they go out to the track and invest a bundle for charity?"

When asked about the recent prediction of the Canary Islands plane tragedy by a Duke University student, he said he wouldn't want that on his conscience.

"Whatever kind of stunt a person is into doing, I'd never want credit for predicting a horrendous crash like that," he said.

"If you impress someone with a prediction when they are vulnerable and prophesy some tragedy, they are liable to self-fulfill it.

"And really, who would want to know their future?"

Featured in Kreskin's show is the hiding of his paycheck.

"That's the Achilles heel of my career," the personable telepathist said.

"I turn the check over to the audience and leave the theater. A committee of four will know where it is hidden.

"Then I come back and they think of the hiding place. If I don't find it, I forfeit the money."

Kreskin's paycheck has been hidden in a policeman's revolver, has been sewn into a book binding and once was cooked inside a stuffed turkey.

He said he has failed to find the check five times in his career, but continues with the stunt because "I find it a challenge."

He said he doesn't consider ESP (extrasensory perception) "in the popular conception."

"ESP implies something extra," he said.

"I think of it not as an extra, but as a super-sense. We don't have five senses, we have 11. And what I do uses the raised threshold of all we possess.

"We've come to realize that as sophisticated as we are, physical sciences are not the only answer to the problems of mankind.

"We as Americans are finding out that if we turn off sound for 20 minutes a day, through meditation or other self-awareness techniques, that it's wonderful to hear the silence."

He noted the tendencies of people to "turn off" communication from others.

"Psychologists and salesmen now realize most Americans do not hear anything anyone says in the first minute after meeting them," he said.

"It's a very strange quirk in our culture.

"The sad thing is, we're so busy making noise we're not appreciating the beauty, the stimuli that is a part of nature."

Undecided Over Helms Challenge

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — U.S. Rep. Richardson Preyer, D-N.C., has taken on some heavy responsibilities in Congress lately, but says he has not ruled out running against U.S. Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., in 1978.

The Greensboro congressman became chairman of the Kennedy assassination subcommittee of the House Assassinations Committee after former Chairman Henry Gonzales, D-Tex., resigned in February.

"Frankly, I haven't really had the time this year to think about it (a Senate race)," he said here this week. "But I've received a number of letters from various persons urging me, and I felt I owed them a serious answer."

It's not the first time Preyer has thought about sitting on the other side of the Capitol.

He considered running for Sen. Sam Ervin's seat in 1974 after Ervin retired. Ervin picked Preyer as his personal choice for the seat before Preyer decided not to run against then-North Carolina Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan.

Although he says he has not made a decision on the 1978 race, he told two other contenders for Helms' seat in February that he would not run. These two announced candidates are state Sen. McNeill Smith, D-Guilford, and Luther Hodges Jr., head of North Carolina National Bank.

Two other announced candidates are Joe Felmet of Winston-Salem and David McKnight of Fayetteville.

In addition to his assassination subcommittee, the five-term congressman is a ranking member on the House Commerce Committee; chairman of the House Government Operations subcommittee on government operations; and chairman of the select committee to develop a new code of ethics for House members.

He says with a schedule like that, he'll have little time for planning a state-side race.

Agree On 26 Nominees For Election To Board

RALEIGH (AP) — Senate and House committees reached agreement today on a list of 26 persons to be recommended for election to 10 places on the University of North Carolina Board of Governors.

Sen. Ralph Scott, D-Alamance, chairman of the Senate Board of Governors Committee, said his group would meet Monday night to add four names to the list.

The House and Senate will meet in joint session later to formally make the nominations. Then the House will meet in separate session to elect four at-large and one minority party board members and the Senate will elect three at-large members, one woman and one minority race member.

Holmes of Winston-Salem, Hyde, George R. Little of Elizabeth City, Jimmy Love of Sanford, Lennox P. Mcendon of Greensboro, Clint J. Newton of Shelby, McCoy, Hill, William D. Recommended for at-large members for four-year terms were White and C. Felix Harvey of Kinston.

Erosion Plan Has Unanimous Approval

Unanimous approval was given Thursday to the erosion control plan for the new Greenville Mall, proposed for development at the southwest quadrant of NC 11 and US 264 Bypass.

The Greenville Planning and Zoning Commission, meeting in a special call session, discussed the plan and received a briefing on the proposal from City Engineer Charlie Holliday.

Holliday discussed runoff potential at the new development and pointed that the plan calls for construction of a 1.6-acre retention pond to control runoff. He said that the pond will be 6.8 feet deep.

The engineer, noting that the erosion plan is based on the ten-year frequency flood, said that it meets the requirements of the sedimentation ordinance.

Approval of the plan clears the way for the mall developers to apply for a building permit.

Pranksters Are Self-Controlled On 'Their' Day

Pranksters were keeping their April Fools' Day jokes within the law and out of the schools in Pitt County this morning.

A survey of police, fire and local schools revealed few, if any, problems with practical jokers celebrating the vernal equinox in traditional fashion.

The day, also known as All Fools' Day, has been observed for centuries in several countries. Although its origin is unknown, Americans apparently inherited their celebration from the British.

According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, the timing of April Fools' Day seems related to the change of season, when Mother Nature fools us all with sudden changes of weather.

The public is invited to attend, according to the Rev. Parker.

Name Winners In SGA Voting

J. Neil Sessoms has been declared president-elect of the ECU Student Government Association in a five-vote victory over incumbent Tim Sullivan.

The SGA listed the final tally at 1,258 for Sessoms to 1,253 for Sullivan.

According to elections committee member Harry W. Stubbs, a runoff is unlikely.

"The only way we will hold a runoff is if Sullivan can prove to the Honor Council that there were election violations," Stubbs said.

"That is the way it is set up under Article 13 of the elections rules.

"A winner by one vote is still the winner."

Music Program Set Saturday

Shirley Hansley and her Eight Gospel Specialists will render a musical program at Triumph Missionary Baptist Church Saturday at 7 p.m.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a broad advance today, rallying from the 14-month low it reached on Thursday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which closed Thursday at its lowest point since early January of 1976, was up 4.57 at 923.70 at 11:30 a.m. today.

Gainers outpaced losers by better than a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Big Board volume for the first hour totalled 4.65 million shares.

As the market opened, the government reported that the unemployment rate fell from 7.5 to 7.3 per cent last month.

Brokers traced some buying to hopes that selling by investing institutions would ease with the end of the first quarter.

It was widely believed that institutions helped push the market lower in recent days by selling depressed stocks as they prepared their portfolios for end-of-quarter reports.

For the quarter the Dow posted an 85.52-point loss.

Sambo's Restaurants paced the active list, unchanged at 15 in trading marked by a 215,700-share block at that price.

Gulf & Western Industries fell a point to 13. A Wall Street Journal article reported on a Securities and Exchange Commission inquiry focusing on the company.

The NYSE's composite index was up .26 at 53.79 after the first hour.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index added .77 to 111.94.

Picket Lines At Shipyard

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — Marine draftsmen manned picket lines today for the first major strike in 10 years against the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co., Virginia's largest civilian employer.

As some 300 of the 1,200 marine designers began picketing at 6 a.m., they were greeted by counterpicketers from the Peninsula Shipbuilders Association, which represents 16,000 predominantly blue-collar workers at the shipyard.

The PSA opposes the strike, and at many gates PSA members outnumbered the picketing draftsmen.

No violence was reported. Union and company spokesmen said some trucks carrying material to the giant shipyard refused to cross the picket lines, but other trucks were escorted through the lines by PSA members in defiance of the draftsmen.

Newport News Shipbuilding, with some 24,000 employees, is the second largest shipyard on the east coast.

Workshop For Trial Lawyers

Dr. Tom S. Rand of the Wilson Clinic will be luncheon speaker. Other speakers include Tom S. White III of Kinston, Arch Schoch, Jr. of High Point, Eugene H. Phillips of Winston-Salem and Arthur J. Donaldson of Salisbury. Program chairman is William L. Thorp of Rocky Mount.

Student Honored At Reception

Miss Mary B. Matney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bronson Matney, Jr., of Greenville was among the 650 juniors honored at a special reception at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro recently.

The purpose of the reception was to honor the students for their academic achievements and to inform them of the opportunities for graduate study.

The marine draftsmen's local union, affiliated with the United Steelworkers of America, voted overwhelmingly Thursday night to reject a company contract offer and strike. Only about 12 of 950 union members who attended the meeting favored the contract.

Arrest Boy For Assault

Danny Ray Carmon, 16 of 1102 Jones St. was arrested on charges of assault and battery and carrying a concealed weapon following investigation of an incident at a school bus stop at the intersection of Third Street and Roundtree Drive about 8:30 a.m. today.

Chief Glenn Cannon said Carmon allegedly assaulted 106-year-old Bruce Daniels of 106 Howard Cir. with a board and cut Daniels' clothes with a knife as the two waited for a school bus.

According to the chief, Daniels, returned home following the incident while Carmon allegedly boarded the bus with the knife allegedly used in the incident.

Cannon said Carmon was taken into custody by police after stopping the school bus — enroute to Rose High School — on 14th Street near the Cotanche Street intersection. He noted that school officials located the knife allegedly involved in the affray in a seat on the bus.

Both Carmon and Daniels, Cannon said, were high school students.

Daniels was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries he received.

Pirates Sweep Pair From Richmond

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
East Carolina University got strong pitching from Terry Durham and Larry Daughtridge and good hitting from most of the team to roll past the University of Richmond yesterday.

were the third and fourth in a row for the Pirate mound staff. The Spiders came into the game with a 12-6 record, and were sent home 12-8. East Carolina raised its record to 11-6 with the victories.

Val Hundley got a single to left to open up the seventh inning. Both of those runners reached second base, as did one other runner, but none got further.

Durham scattered five hits in his mound duty, and thanks to some outstanding fielding in the first inning, also never saw much trouble. Eddie Gates twice came to the rescue in the first frame, throwing out runners trying to go from first to third on singles to right. Only in the fourth did a Spider runner advance as far as third base, and again, good play by the Bucs prevented a run.

In that inning, David Thomas led off with a bunt single. Al Bowles followed with a single to left, moving Thomas to third. But an infield pop, a grounder back to the pitcher, and a fly ball ended that threat. East Carolina got its first run in the second inning of the opener. With one down, Bobby Supel walked and stole second. He moved on to third on a passed ball on the play, and scored when Raymie Styons' outfield fly was dropped.

Two more crossed in a wild second inning. Pete Paradossi reached on a fielder's choice and with two away, Eddie Gates hit what appeared to be a routine fly to deep center.

Many New Faces Appearing As Varsity Battles Alumni Saturday

One might find himself needing a roster more often for Saturday night's Varsity-Alumni game than in past years. New faces will dominate the lineup both offensively and defensively for the varsity team in the 7 p.m. scrimmage game that is the highlight of spring practice.

A number of last spring drill injuries and graduation has resulted in the many changes from last year's 9-2 Southern Conference championship team.

Offensively, three quarterbacks will be out of action. Freshman Henry Trevathan was injured before drills began. Jimmy Southerland, the only real tested signal caller was injured in the first week of drills; and Steve Greer, who has shared time with Leander Green in the first position, suffered a muscle injury this week and is not expected to play.

That leaves freshman Green to lead the varsity, with walkon Joe Powell as the top backup. Tony Tripp, another freshman, is also expected to see time at quarterback.

The starting running backs are expected to be Eddie Hicks and Sam Harrell. Willie Hawkins is also injured and is not expected to play, giving way to Harrell, a sophomore who has had an outstanding spring. Vince Kolanko, Theodore Sutton and Perry Allred will all be at fullback, with Kolanko getting the starting nod.

Veteran split end Terry Gallaher and freshman tight end Eric Walker will start, with walkon Vern Davenport and Billy Ray Washington as the top backups at split end. Walker starts in place of injured veteran Barry Johnson.

The interior line has Matt Mulholland Mitchell Smith at tackles, Wayne Bolt and Nelson Smith at guards and Rickie Holliday at center. A number of players are expected to see action in the interior line, as the Pirate coaching staff seeks depth at all positions.

Defensively, the secondary is the biggest question mark for the next season. Gerald Hall is a solid performer at strong safety. The other three position are up for grabs. Saturday night, the starters are likely to be Steve Hale at free safety, Charlie Carter at one corner and Willie Holley at the other corner. Fort, Mike Brewington, Tommy Summer and Larry Paul fighting for starting positions. It's a tossup for the scrimmage.

The interior defensive line has Zack Valentine and Fred Chavis at ends, Noah Clark and Wayne Poole at tackles and Clifford Williams at nose guard. Oliver Felton is listed as the top nose guard, but he'll be out with an injury.

With far less experience on this year's club entering spring drills, a number of players have been used at various positions. It's likely that many will see action Saturday night against the alumni as the Pirates work in their final public scrimmage of the spring.

Admission for the Varsity-Alumni game will be $2 for adults, $1 for children, with all East Carolina students admitted free on their ID and activity cards.

Despite Youth, Conley Runners See Bright Outlook For Season

By JIM KYLE
Reflector Sports Writer
Although only four members return from last year's team which picked up the first two wins ever in D. H. Conley's six-year track program, coach Chuck Dunn feels this year's team may be even better.

Dunn sees the throwing events and high hurdles as two of Conley's major weaknesses, but said the Vikings have "several good sprinters and a couple of good distance men."

First-year senior Jeff McDaniel, along with freshmen Earl Page and Jerry Coward are the team's shot-putters. Page and James Coward throw the discus.

100-yard dash has been a Conley strong point thus far this year. Hill, Hawkins, Congleton and Joyner have all run a 10.4 100 or better while Hill leads the way with a 10.2 performance.

"We're young, but I think we're better" than last year, Dunn said. "We have a good deal more potential."

Dunn has no experienced men in the discus or the shot and doesn't have a high hurdler. He said, "Inexperience is probably our biggest weakness — that and not having a track."

Streeter and Gary Congleton do the Viking high jumping while Kenny Phillips, Johnathan Waller and Curtis Joyner are the triple jumpers. They are "all new people — just learning," Dunn said.

Hill, a sophomore, is also the top man in the 220 with a 23.3 time. Freshman James Chapman has run a 23.4 and Hawkins a 24.0.

In three outings this year, the Vikings have won a tri-meet and finished second in a tri-meet and quadruple meet.

The Vikings have three boys jumping over 20 feet in the long jump, Bernard Hill, also a sprinter, Bernard Hawkins and Anthony Streeter.

Jeff Credle, a sophomore, leads the team in the 440 and 880 with top times of 55.6 and 2:15. Another sophomore, Sean Carson, is the Viking miler.

Conley has three two-milers, Joe Greene, Mark Dixon and Terrence Barnes. Streeter handles the low hurdles events while the Vikes don't have a set high hurdler.

Such unrestrained enthusiasm, he popped something in his right shoulder. He missed the cut in his next start, then took a week off to rest up.

"The shoulder's fine now—no troubles," the red-haired, 24-year-old Bean said Thursday. "But I'm gonna let my caddy do the throwing from now on."

In the Eastern Carolina Conference this year, Dunn said Southern Nash and Farmville Central are both strong while North Lenoir is "greatly improved."

With 15 freshmen and sophomores, Dunn feels the Vikes' future "is ahead of us. They're going to develop."

Some of the game's other leading players had their difficulties, however, on the course that is being played as a tour site for the first time. Masters champ Ray Floyd had a 73. Tom Weiskopf was a stroke higher. PGA king Dave Stockton and Australian Graham Marsh, winner of last week's Heritage Classic, were at 77. And Johnny Miller, still in a deep slump, must improve from his 76 if he is to qualify for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — A special charity exhibition game between the defending American League champion New York Yankees and the University of North Carolina will be held Saturday here.

"We are dedicating this game to Carolina coach Walter Rabb because he is retiring and has been a much-loved and respected man in NCAA athletics and the baseball world," said Yankees owner George Steinbrenner.

Bean Will Let Caddy Throw Ball If Wins

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — His first career victory provided Andy Bean with a new outlook on the pro golf tour, allowed him to plan his life and, he sheepishly admitted, gave him a little bit of hard-won wisdom.

"From now on, I'm gonna let my caddy throw the ball," Bean said after his solid, five-under-par 67 had staked him to the first-round lead in the $235,000 Greater Greensboro Open.

The reference was to his joyous, unrestrained reaction after his wire-to-wire triumph three weeks ago in the Doran Open. The 6-foot-4 Bean plucked the ball out of the cup on the final hole and—much in the manner of a football player spiking the ball after a touchdown—happily threw it far, far into a lake.

He threw it so happily, with such unrestrained enthusiasm, he popped something in his right shoulder. He missed the cut in his next start, then took a week off to rest up.

"The shoulder's fine now—no troubles," the red-haired, 24-year-old Bean said Thursday. "But I'm gonna let my caddy do the throwing from now on."

Bill Mallon, using a new putter, one-putted his first three greens en route to a 69. Hale Irwin, Butch Baird and Larry Nelson shot 70.

Al Geiberger, defending his title despite the death of his father in a jet crash in the Canary Islands, and South African Gary Player topped the group at 71.

Some of the game's other leading players had their difficulties, however, on the course that is being played as a

Knights Rally To Nip Rampants, 2-1

By JIM KYLE
Reflector Sports Writer
RED OAK — Northern Nash came up with two runs in the fifth inning and then quelled a Rose High threat in the seventh to take a 2-1 win over the Rampants in high school baseball yesterday afternoon.

Rose had led for most of the contest on John Coffman's lead-off home run in the first inning and held the Knights for most of the game, ending their only other threat with a double play in the third inning.

But, Northern Nash left fielder Willie Arrington led off in the fifth with a single to left, stole second, made third on an overthrow to second and came home when the Rose third baseman was overthrown.

The next batter, center fielder Royce Wells, followed with an in-park home run to give the Knights the edge they needed for the win.

Northern Nash pitcher Jay Davis went the distance, as did Rampant hurler Henry Baker, and picked up his fourth win of the year against no losses. The loss was Baker's third.

Coffman staked the Rampants to an early 1-0 edge when he led off the first inning with a shot over the center field fence at around 300 feet. The next three batters failed to reach base, however, to end the frame.

In the bottom of the inning, Baker walked Knight Mike Leonard with two out, but then picked him off base with a throw to Mark Conway.

Both teams moved men to second base in the next inning, but were unable to advance them further. In the top of the third, Rose center fielder Mike Shank hit a two-out double and made third on a balk, but the next batter struck out.

In the bottom of the inning, Royce Wells led off with an infield hit and went to second as Jean Worthington beat out a bunt with one away. The next batter grounded to Rose second baseman Ronnie Chapman, who initiated a double play the short-stop at to second, and then first.

Arrington led off the fifth inning with a single to left for the Knights. Then, on a steal at tempt, the Rose catcher over-threw second and the ball went to center field, with Arrington heading towards third. The Rampant center fielder made the throw to third, but again the ball was overthrown and Arrington came home to tie it up.

Wells then followed with a fly ball to center which bounced in front of Shank's glove and rolled on a downhill slope to the fence, allowing Wells to make home.

Ray Long came up with a third consecutive hit for Northern Nash but, after a fly to left, he was picked off first on a throw from Rampant catcher Wright Hooks to Chapman. Willie Lucas then hit safely for the Knights, but the next batter hit a fly ball to right field for the third out.

Rose mounted a rally in the seventh, putting the go-ahead runs on base, but was unable to score.

Designated hitter Gary Allen led off with a walk and Greg Lee bunted safely, sending pinch runner Perry Worthington to second. Conway sacrificed to advance the runners, but the next two batters made outs to end the game.

The loss dropped the Rampants below the .500 mark in the conference and overall. They are now 1-2 and 3-4. Northern Nash, the defending Division I champions, are now 4-3 overall and 2-1 in the league.

The Rampants will have a chance to even those marks when they travel to meet conference foe Wilson on Tuesday.

North Lenoir Eases Past Conley In Meet

SNOW HILL — North Lenoir edged out D. H. Conley for first place in a four-way track meet yesterday at Greene Central.

The Hawks ended up with 62 points, while Conley was hot on their heels with 60. Greene Central finished with 52½ points, while Ayden-Grifton had 47½. Conley actually won more events, taking five individual events and one relay, while Greene Central took four wins, and North Lenoir had three. Ayden-Grifton won two individual events and took the other relay.

North Lenoir's overall depth was able to nose out the Vikes for first place, however.

Jeffrey Warren was a double winner for Greene Central, taking the shot put and the discus. Amos Percill won the triple and high jumps for North Lenoir.

Conley's Bernard Hill won the 100, the long jump and the 220-yard dash to capture three firsts.

Conley and Greene Central travel to New Bern on Monday, while Ayden-Grifton goes to Farmville Central on Wednesday.

Pearson On Pole

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — A pair of drivers who have had continued luck at Darlington Raceway squared off Thursday to try for the pole position in Sunday's Rebel 500. Naturally, only one of them won.

It was David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., who has won the pole eight times in his last 11 appearances at Darlington, who did it again. Pearson's speed of 151.269 m.p.h. just beat the 150.390 posted by Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C.

Yarborough has won the Southern 500 at Darlington three times. He was driving a Chevrolet Thursday, and Pearson a Mercury.

Twenty-two cars tried for the first 12 positions in the $160,000 event on the tricky 1½-mile oval. Qualifying will continue today and Saturday, with a dozen cars being selected each day.

Pearson, 43, gave the credit for his performance to the Wood Brothers for setting up his Mercury to negotiate the track.

Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala., winner of the pole positions at Daytona and Rockingham earlier this year, was third at 149.749 in a Chevrolet.

Fourth was Darrell Waltrip in a Chevrolet (149.512), fifth was Buddy Baker in a Ford (149.136), sixth was Bennie Parsons in a Chevrolet (148.824), and seventh was Richard Petty in a Dodge (148.604).

Also among the first-day qualifiers were Dick Brooks of Spartanburg, Bobby Allison and Neil Bonnet, both of Hueytown, Ala., Dave Marcis of Skyland, N.C., and Sam Sommers of Savannah, Ga.

James singled Roberson in. Finally, in the fifth, Martin came up with four runs to put it out of reach. Gardner reached on an error, as did Keel. Johnny James singled in Gardner, and Roberson's hit scored Keel. Corvey grounded out, but scored James, and Jeffrey James singled to score Roberson.

Martin added two in the sixth, while Northeast got two in the seventh.

Keel led the Martin hitting with three, while Gardner, Roberson and Jeffrey James each had two. Shackelford had two for Northeast.

Martin, now 5-1, plays host to Chowan Academy today. Northeast 100 100 2-4 6 8 Martin 101 142 X-9 13 5 Harrell, Howell (5) and Bridges, Shackelford (1); Gardner and Jones.

Martin Academy Tops Northeast

EVERETTES — Martin Academy rolled to a 9-4 victory over Northeast Academy in baseball yesterday.

Northeast pushed over a run in the first to take the lead, but Martin tied it with one in the bottom of the first, and they took the lead in the third.

In the top of the first, Northeast's Garris was hit by a pitch and scored when Early reached on an error.

Tim Gardner walked for Martin in the bottom of the frame, and Wiley Keel reached on a fielder's choice. Johnny James singled and an error led Gardner scored.

In the third, Martin took a 2-1 lead. Sherwood Leggett walked and Durwood Leggett reached on an error. Gardner wale walked to load them up, and Keel hit a sacrifice fly.

Northeast tied it up with one in the top of the fourth. Early walked, stole both second and third and scored on an error.

But Martin went right back out in the bottom of the fourth. Henry Roberson walked and James Corey singled. Jeffrey

James singled Roberson in. Finally, in the fifth, Martin came up with four runs to put it out of reach. Gardner reached on an error, as did Keel. Johnny James singled in Gardner, and Roberson's hit scored Keel. Corvey grounded out, but scored James, and Jeffrey James singled to score Roberson.

Martin added two in the sixth, while Northeast got two in the seventh.

Keel led the Martin hitting with three, while Gardner, Roberson and Jeffrey James each had two. Shackelford had two for Northeast.

Martin, now 5-1, plays host to Chowan Academy today. Northeast 100 100 2-4 6 8 Martin 101 142 X-9 13 5 Harrell, Howell (5) and Bridges, Shackelford (1); Gardner and Jones.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP) — The Metropolitan Golf Association points out that it was 50 years ago that its longest championship was played at the Salisbury Golf Club here. It is now called Eisenhower Park. The match saw Gene Sarazen, then the golf pro at Flushing's Fresh Meadow course, play Macdonald Smith, then Lakeville, Great Neck pro.

Both golfers tied after 72 holes at 286. After an 18-hole playoff both were tied again with 70s. Another 18 holes found them deadlocked with 72s. In the third 18-hole playoff Smith beat Sarazen, 66 to 70.

Bobby Fischer's Suit Dismissed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Chess Champion Bobby Fischer's $5 million invasion of privacy lawsuit against an author and publisher has been dismissed by U.S. District Court Judge Matt Byrne.

Fischer, who acted as his own attorney, accused Brad Darrach, Time-Life International and Stein and Day Publishers, Inc. of breaking written and oral promises not to disclose details of the former world chess champion's private life.

"I'll not pay a penny of federal income taxes until I get justice in this case," said Fischer after Byrne acted Thursday.

Darrach wrote the book, "Bobby Fischer versus the Rest of the World."

WRECK VICTIM

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert DeLeon, 26, husband of singer Diahann Carroll, died Wednesday in a car accident in the Hollywood Hills. His body was found near the wreckage of his Ferrari Thursday.

promise, Gov. Jim Hunt's proposal to reorganize the state Utilities Commission may be killed by opposition from House Speaker Carl Stewart and possibly Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green.

Stewart said Thursday he opposes the bill because he believes it would result in higher costs to taxpayers. Green said he is still undecided but said he has reservations about whether the plan would work.

In addition, Stewart on Wednesday night urged Atty. Gen. Rufus Edmisten to come out against the measure. A spokesman for Edmisten said the attorney general has met with Hunt on the bill and further meetings are planned.

Opposition was drawn by the bill's intention to sever the staff from the Utilities Commission and put it under a director appointed by the governor. The staff would defend the public's interest in matters before the commission. It now has an impartial role.

In discussing the bill with Edmisten Wednesday night in the presence of a reporter, Stewart complained that it would take away the attorney general's traditional role of defending the public before the commission. He admonished Edmisten to "raise holy, unmitigated hell" about the bill.

"I think the bill is an absolute affront to the attorney general of North Carolina who should be in the forefront opposing it," Stewart said in a brief interview Thursday.

In the Wednesday night discussion of the measure, Stewart also assured Edmisten that an appropriation of $3 million could be cleared for utilities matters to be enlarged.

Hunt, meanwhile, characterized the bill as one of his priority measures before the legislature and pledged to put up a

Castro Expects 'Long Struggle'

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Cuban President Fidel Castro, ending a tour of several African countries, said, "Just like Christopher Columbus, I have found a continent in struggle."

Castro, who arrived here Thursday, told President Houari Boumediene, "I have been able to evaluate the possibilities of a long and protracted liberation struggle, which can only be victorious."

Castro arrived from Angola, whose Marxist government was helped to power by thousands of Cuban troops.

bitter struggle to get it enacted. "It is a big one. I've got about five big ones," he said, adding, "I'll do whatever I have to do (to get it through)." He also promised that if the measure is killed, "it'll be abundantly clear" who was responsible.

An appeal to the public for support of the measure was not ruled out but Hunt, though he discounted the possibility, saying, "I have great confidence that the legislature would see the wisdom of what we proposed."

Stewart, on the other hand, said Thursday he fears that if the staff is taken away from the commissioners "what we'll find in a few years is the commission coming back to the legislature for additional staff." In time, he said, it could result in there being the staff representing the public and the commission having an equally large staff where there is now just one.

Green said that concern is what has caused him to have reservations about the bill. He said, however, that he will not oppose the bill unless he has tried to work out a compromise with Hunt.

Rep. George Miller, D-Durham, a co-sponsor of the House version of the bill, said fears of overstaffing are unfounded because the legislature controls the money and decides on whether to allow new staff positions.

Noting that he discussed his proposal thoroughly during his campaign for governor last year, Hunt said he would be surprised at attempts to thwart what he believes is an obvious public mandate.

"The people want it. They want a strong voice before the Utilities Commission. This bill is the way to do it," he said.

As to the role of the attorney general's office, Hunt said the restructured staff would work with the attorney general's office in representing the public before the commission. It would not take away from the attorney general, but would give his office additional help, Hunt said.

Use Deterrent To Salt Damage

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — Auto makers have turned to fiber glass reinforced plastic (FRP) to help combat rust and corrosion caused by highway road salt, according to Bert E. Elliott, vice president of the Equipment and Transportation Reinforcements Division of Owens-Corning Fiberglas.

Chicago's Citizens Traffic Safety Board estimates salted roads help prevent 15,000 accidents each year, saving Chicago motorists some $3.5 million annually. But, the salt accelerates the corrosion of auto body steel. Because of the corrosion resistance of FRP, the material can now be found in body panels, fender liners and similar parts.

Set Organizational Meet For Monday

Efforts are being made to form a new Greenville Area Society for the Preservation and Conservation of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, according to Wilfred Burt.

An organizational meeting will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at St. James United Methodist Church in Greenville. Members of the Sir Walter chapter of SPEBS-QSA will attend the meeting and sponsor the organization of the local chapter. Members of the Rocky Mount chapter will also attend the meeting.

Approximately 25 persons have been meeting for six weeks and singing in an effort to organize a local chapter in Greenville. The Raleigh, Rocky Mount and Greenville choruses will perform separately and together at the meeting Monday. Several quartets will also perform.

Anyone interested in singing in the barber shop quartet style is invited to attend the organizational meeting Monday night. Following the organization of a local chapter, rehearsals will begin immediately for a concert later in spring.

No-Show Draws Fans' Protest

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Rock singer Elvis Presley's failure to keep a concert date at Louisiana State University brought howls of protest from a crowd estimated at more than 13,000.

Presley was scheduled to begin his performance at 9:30 p.m. Thursday. At 10:10, after preliminary performances had been extended, it was announced that Presley could not perform due to "exhaustion" caused by stomach flu.

A spokesman said Presley was flying to his home in Memphis, Tenn., and would check into a hospital. Ticket money would be refunded, he said.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N.C.

A chance of rain each day, Sunday through Tuesday, with a cooling trend. Highs in the 70s to low 80s on Sunday, and 10 degrees lower by Tuesday. Overnight lows in the 50s and low 60s Sunday and 10 degrees cooler by Tuesday.

'FATHER KNOWS BEST, PART II' — A 90-minute movie for NBC brings the original cast of the "Father Knows Best" television series together at the Burbank Studios. They pose (above) in the same pose as in the '50s when the show was a popular series. Jane Wyatt and Robert Young are at rear; foreground, their "children" are Billy Gray, Lauren Chapin and Elinor Donahue. The new show, "The Father Knows Best Reunion", deals with the "empty nest" syndrome. (AP Wirephoto)

The bidding:
 North East South West
 Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass
 4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass
 Opening lead: Eight of ♠.

East went to elaborate lengths to protect a possible trick in his partner's hand. He was well rewarded in the end.

South's bid of two spades was an intermediate jump overcall—it showed the equivalent of a sound opening bid with a good suit. Despite the fact that almost half of his high-card strength was in the opponent's suit, North felt that his distribution would give his side a shot at game.

West led his singleton diamond, declarer played low from dummy and East won the queen. In an effort to make the defenders think that he held only one diamond, declarer dropped the ten on this trick.

East took stock before continuing the defense. If declarer really had a singleton diamond, there seemed to be little hope for the defenders. They would take a trick in each minor suit, and West could not be expected to provide more than one trick—not enough to defeat the contract. If the defense was to prevail, South would have to hold the outstanding diamond.

Having reached this conclusion, it would seem that East should continue with the ace of diamonds and another. However, that would allow declarer to make the contract. He would ruff high, draw trumps and discard his heart loser on the king of diamonds.

East came up with a beautiful counter. At the second trick he returned the three of diamonds! West ruffed and, reading his partner's card as a suit preference signal, shifted to a club. East won the ace and led another low diamond, retaining the ace over the king. Though declarer ruffed high and drew trumps, he was stranded with an unavoidable heart loser. Thanks to brilliant defense, the contract went one down.

Your play to the first trick could decide the fate of the contract! A writer once remarked: "There's no such thing as a blind opening lead, only deaf opening leaders!" Ex-President To Discuss Role

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Gerald R. Ford will discuss his role as commander-in-chief of the armed forces during his first paid appearance on NBC-TV, says the president of NBC News.

During a speech Thursday, NBC News President Richard Wald said Ford might discuss how he learned about the Mayaguez incident, what decisions he had to make, and to whom he gave orders.

Wald said, "Essentially ... it will center on something like an anecdotal history of what the presidency is like."

No date has been set for Ford's appearance on the network and the format of the show has not been determined, he said.

Hanafi Leader Jailed For His Threats Of Revenge

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even as he held more than 100 people hostage, Hanafi Moslem leader Hamaas Abdul Khaalis was talking of a "fourth phase" of revenge, a federal prosecutor says.

Khaalis was termed a danger to the community and jailed Thursday after U.S. Atty. Earl J. Silbert told a judge the cryptic reference to a fourth phase "means to me he (Khaalis) will unleash some of his men, just as he unleashed them March 9, 10 and 11."

Silbert said also that Khaalis was overheard Tuesday over a court-ordered wiretap, making "blood-curdling threats" that included the statement, "I'm going to kill somebody ... now they are going to pay ... pay in blood ... They can't do this to the Moslems."

Chief Judge Harold Greene of the D.C. Superior Court said he doesn't regard the statements as "idle words" and ordered Khaalis to jail. Khaalis thus joins his 11 Hanafi followers arrested after the siege three weeks ago. All are charged with armed kidnaping.

While the other Hanafis are held in lieu of $50,000 or $75,000 bonds, no bond will effect Khaalis' release because his personal recognizance bond was revoked.

After the hearing, federal agents arrested Khaalis' son-in-law, Abdul Aziz, and searched two houses in suburban Kensington and Hyattsville, Md., for weapons. Local police arrested three men in the process, charging them with carrying deadly weapons.

"We found guns at both premises," said Warren McConnell, a spokesman for the Treasury Department's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. "We understand members of the Hanafis live there."

For 38 hours three weeks ago, Khaalis and 11 other Hanafis held 134 people prisoner in three Washington buildings. A radio reporter was killed, three other people were shot, and a dozen were cut with swords or beaten. Negotiating with Khaalis for the release of the hostages, authorities agreed he would remain free until indicted by a grand jury. He was released without posting bond, on his personal recognizance, after the hostages were freed.

Silbert said Khaalis had violated one term of his release — that he would "not engage in any conduct which would result in his arrest." He said the overheard telephone statements constituted threats to do bodily harm and produced an arrest warrant signed by another judge.

Police Sgt. Robert Sharkey, the single witness at the hearing, testified he talked with Khaalis by telephone as the Hanafi leader was holding more than 100 hostages in B'nai B'rith international headquarters.

He quoted Khaalis as saying: "I told you I would get my revenge. This is only the third of four phases; the fourth phase you can't believe, you can't envision."

Judge Green asked Silbert how he interpreted that.

"It means to me he will unleash some of his men, just as he unleashed them March 9, 10 and 11," the U.S. attorney said.

Sharkey also testified that police have documented evidence the Hanafis have acquired 40 to 50 guns since 1973 when seven people — including six of Khaalis' children and grandchildren — were massacred in Hanafi headquarters.

Aziz, who had not taken part in the seizure of the three buildings but acted as Hanafi spokesman throughout, sat in court next to Khaalis' wife. She wore a veil in Moslem tradition.

Some 20 minutes after the hearing, ATF agents arrested the 35-year-old Aziz at the courthouse on a charge of illegally acquiring a firearm as a convicted felon. The raids in Maryland followed by two hours.

Silbert said in court that Aziz had returned from a visit to Saudi Arabia and that he complained in a telephone conversation with Khaalis about being searched at the airport.

The transcript introduced in court included this exchange:

Aziz: I'm getting ready to catch a flight now. I've got to get an elevator, the Secret Service is waiting for me. Yeah, they just put me to Secret Service.

Khaalis: What are they quizzing you?
Aziz: They tried to, I didn't say ...

At that point, Khaalis used profanity, telling Aziz not to say anything.

Khaalis: "I'll kill all 200 people today. Do you hear that?" he said.

Aziz: I hear you.

Khaalis: Tell them what I said. Tell them I'll let some of my men go.

Silbert offered no background for the statements.

Khaalis, according to the transcript, said at the end: "Okay, we're gonna get the government for this ... Up their asses now. They're playing rough, we're gonna play rough."

Silbert also quoted from a wiretapped conversation Khaalis had immediately afterward with a woman who was not identified.

"They were waiting for him,"

Khaalis said. "They are going to pay in blood for it ... I'm gonna kill somebody. And they're gonna die for what they did ..."

"It don't matter to me. I keep telling people ... Now they're gonna pay ... pay in blood ... don't matter to me. They can't do this to the Moslems."

Silbert said "these blood-curdling threats" were made only two days before the hearing and that "they demonstrate that he will not abide by the order of the court."

Khaalis' lawyer, former Superior Court Judge Harry T.

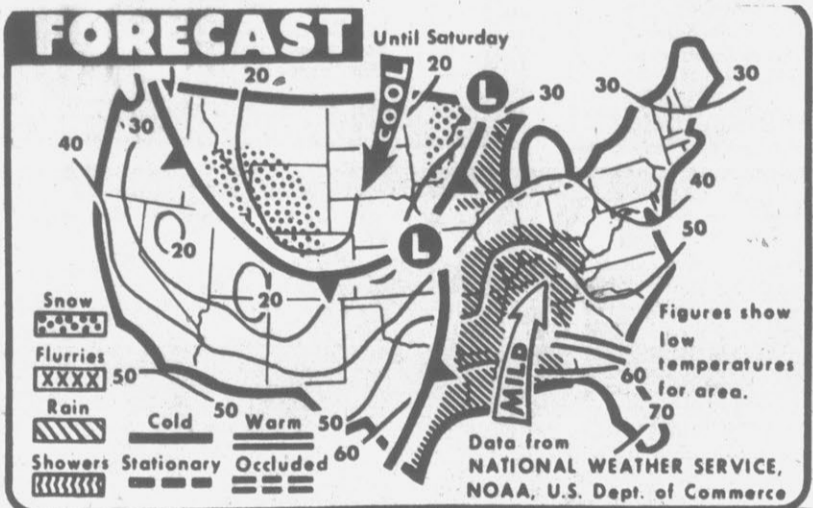

Alexander, said "there is no evidence that Mr. Khaalis has directly threatened or personally threatened anyone."

Judge Green said Khaalis' remarks "contained no serious threat if they were standing alone."

But, he added: "These threats do not stand alone. Mr. Khaalis has on previous occasions made threats and on March 9, 10, and 11 carried them out. In that case I don't regard them as idle words."

"I think they are a real indication that the defendant, if he remains at large, poses a danger to the community."

Spring Rain Possibly Marks Drought's End

By JAMES A. CARLSON
Associated Press Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Farm fields in the Midwest soaked up March's abundant rain, giving farmers who suffered through the drought of 1976 hope that the dry spell was over.

Agriculture and weather officials in Wisconsin and nearby states said the moisture would allow planting of small grains to begin, although more rain was needed to replenish water in deeper soil before summer.

Officials are optimistic about this year's farm prospects in Wisconsin, where crop losses of $623 million last year were the highest in state history.

The estimates for wheat production in the eastern two-thirds of Kansas and in Missouri were raised above earlier forecasts after last weekend's rain fall.

Some credited a shift in wind currents 30,000 feet above the Earth's surface. Until about five weeks ago, the jet-stream current had been diverted around a high pressure system off the West Coast, causing rain to miss the Corn Belt, said Louis Thompson, assistant dean of agriculture at Iowa State University.

"There is no question but the circulation pattern that caused the drought has changed," said Thompson. "Whether this is permanent or not, no one can tell."

March rainfall totals were above normal across much of the Midwest. In Milwaukee, for example, the total was double the normal figure for the month. Heavy rains late in March even produced flooding in southern Illinois, southeastern Kansas and southeast Missouri.

The Midwest's April weather outlook called for above average precipitation, and officials said that would be critical to reversing the drought situation.

"We have moisture down to about two or three feet in most areas now," said Marvin Heiser, a Wisconsin Agriculture Department crop statistician. He added that the soil remained very dry below that level, to about six feet or so, and that future rains would be needed to create the deep water reserve crops draw from in summer.

He said an inch of moisture a week for the coming weeks "would be ideal."
