

Carter Energy Tax Package Is Wrecked

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of President Carter's energy tax package is in a shambles following a flurry of House Ways and Means Committee votes that handed the administration a major defeat.

The influential committee voted Thursday to throw out Carter's plans for a standby gasoline tax, a tax on cars that get poor mileage and a program of rebates for people who buy cars that get good mileage.

But the administration is looking for some of the decisions to be reversed, and still is holding out hope for a stiff tax on crude oil.

"We will probably re-evaluate our position when we get to the Senate," said Laurence Woodworth, Carter's assistant treasury secretary for tax policy, after watching the committee administer the first of the three defeats on Thursday.

Still to come is consideration of what some in the Carter administration view as the most important part of the President's tax package: a new tax on crude oil designed to make energy more expensive and thus force conservation. This would result in an estimated 7.6-cent hike in the cost of a gallon of gasoline.

Whatever the committee does is subject to reconsideration by the committee itself as well as by the House and the Senate. But for the moment, the President's plan is listing badly.

In Thursday's action, the committee:

—Rejected, 27-10, Carter's proposed 50-cent per gallon standby tax on gasoline. The tax would have been imposed in five-cent a year increments only if gasoline conservation goals were not met.

—Rejected, 31-5, the President's plan to pay buyers of fuel-efficient cars up to $500 as a reward for energy conservation.

—Rejected, 24-13, Carter's plan to place a tax of up to $2,500 on cars that get poor gasoline mileage. By the same vote, the panel substituted its own tax, a watered-down version that would delay the tax until 1979 and then apply it only to the most wasteful cars.

Although Carter didn't request it, the committee voted 18 to 17 to take away the federal income tax deduction of state and local gasoline taxes. The deduction has been available only to those who itemize deductions. This plan, which passed the House two years ago but narrowly failed in the Senate, would cost drivers some $700 million more a year.

Another committee alternative to the Carter program did not fare so well. On a 25-11 vote the panel rejected an amendment by Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., to raise the four-cent per gallon federal gasoline tax to seven cents next Jan. 1.

The lopsided margin by which the proposed rebates to buyers of fuel-efficient cars was rejected was no surprise — a big chunk of the rebate money would have gone to buyers of small foreign cars at the expense of American manufacturers.

But the overwhelming size of the votes against the President's so-called gas-guzzler tax and standby gasoline tax was a surprise and indicated little chance the committee would reverse itself when it puts the tax bill in final form later this month.

File Said To Prove Plot By 'Cartel'

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Gulf Oil Corp. is trying to persuade House investigators to keep secret a nine-inch stack of documents allegedly proving the firm was at the center of an international cartel conspiring to boost uranium prices.

A company which builds nuclear power plants says that price-fixing activities of the alleged cartel helped drive the cost of uranium from $6 or $7 a pound in 1972 to $41 a pound.

A House subcommittee is holding a hearing today on Gulf's request that the documents be kept secret.

Gulf is being joined in its request by the government of Canada, which told the State Department that several documents are confidential records of the Canadian Department of Energy, Mines and Resources.

Canada claims the papers are protected by the Official Secrets Act.

Last month Gulf lost a fight in U.S. District Court here to keep the documents out of the hands of the investigations unit of the House Commerce Committee.

The documents were then in the possession of the Westinghouse Electric Corp., a manufacturer of nuclear power plants. The firm has accused the alleged cartel of engineering a seven-fold increase in the price of uranium, which prevented it from meeting delivery contracts at agreed prices.

In a hearing before U.S. District Court Judge George Hart last May 5, Westinghouse attorney William Jentes said the documents are "nothing more than the minutes of these conspiratorial get-togethers of the producers ... to fix the world price of uranium."

Although he was prevented from quoting from the documents, Jentes described them in some detail.

He said that in February 1972 major worldwide uranium producers met in Paris "to remedy this situation of over-supply and low prices."

He said the deal was made final at a meeting in Johannesburg, South Africa, in June 1972, when the producers "basically set a floor price for uranium which they thereafter, I might say, steadily raised."

Jentes gave these other details of the alleged scheme:

"They arrived at an elaborate allocation of the uranium market on a worldwide basis, they agreed to eliminate the competition of those that were not in the cartel arrangement, and that included Westinghouse.

"They arrived at an elaborate procedure to conceal their activities, and they set up an extremely elaborate enforcement machinery including a secretariat which kept elaborate minutes of what went on, and furthered it."

Surveys The Past

HISTORY LESSON — Historian Allen White shows President Carter's son Chip and his wife, Caron, some historical documents during visit to Christchurch in southern England. Christchurch is where the Carters are believed to have set out for America in the 17th century. Chip, 26, and his wife are in Britain for seven days for the Queen's Silver Jubilee. Of the visit to Christchurch, Chip said "This is the highlight of the whole trip for me." (AP Wirephoto)

Uganda Warns May Execute A 'British Spy'

By BRIAN JEFFRIES
Associated Press Writer

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Radio Uganda, continuing President Idi Amin's war of nerves against the British government, said today a British resident of Uganda would be shot "by the end of next week" if found guilty of spying.

The official government radio identified the arrested Briton only as "Cullen," not giving his first name.

The broadcast said Cullen would be tried for spying "by revolutionary members of the military tribunal and if found guilty, executed by firing squad by the end of next week."

"No announcement will be made about the time and place of execution, which will not be made known to anybody," the radio said. It said the body would not be handed over to anyone.

Radio Uganda first reported on Thursday that a Briton had been arrested but it did not give his identity.

British Foreign Secretary David Owen said in London: "I never like to see any of our citizens arrested, but I do not know the full details yet."

Amin in 1975 sentenced another British resident of Uganda, schoolteacher Denis Hills, to death and demanded that Foreign Minister James Callaghan, now Britain's prime minister, come to Kampala to save him. Callaghan complied, but no such British action is likely this time.

Radio Uganda made no mention of its earlier reports that Amin had left the country on Tuesday to attend the Commonwealth conference in London, in defiance of the British government's opposition. Instead it said he had made a "safe return after holding successful talks with Tanzanian and Zambian revolutionary military officers on the Uganda-Tanzania-Rwanda borders."

Ask Low Fare For 'Skytrain'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of a no-reservation air ticket between New York and London may drop dramatically if President Carter accepts the recommendation of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board suggested Thursday that Carter permit Laker Airways of Great Britain to offer its low-cost Skytrain service between the two cities for one year.

Under the plan, tickets costing $135 from New York to London and $101.48 from London to New York could be purchased beginning six hours before flight time.

In comparison, a group tour rate, the cheapest roundtrip fare now available, costs about $380 if a ticket is purchased 60 days in advance and if the passenger stays at least 10 days. A regular roundtrip ticket not purchased in advance costs $631 with a 14-to-21 day stay.

Board members said they could not find any reason to deny the service. But on the recommendation of the British government, the board placed restrictions on the number of flights and passengers. It also opened the door for American carriers to match the low Laker prices.

Under U.S. law, the President must decide whether to approve a permit involving foreign airlines operating in this country. The British government already has given its permission.

Airport Zoning Revision Tabled For More Talks

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Action on the adoption of a revised Airport Zoning Ordinance was tabled last night by the City Council to allow for further discussions with a concerned citizen who owns property in the area regulated by the proposed ordinance.

Fred Webb, owner of Fred Webb Elevator Inc., a grain facility on N. Green Street, expressed his concern at not being able to utilize property he owns adjacent to his business for future additions.

Webb, who said that he commended those responsible for wishing to upgrade the airport, noted that, at the same time, some things affected by the revised ordinance would be detrimental.

The businessman pointed to some $21,000 in taxes paid by his firm to the city and county as underlining the progress of the business and he added that "to say we can not extend the facilities...is taking it a little too far."

Saying that there are no flight lines along the path which involves his business, he asked that his firm not be precluded in making additions in the future. Webb said that he was only talking about property that he owns now and he would not expect to purchase additional land for elevator expansion.

He added that the service provided by his firm to farmers would be affected if he is unable to expand to the height of his present elevator facilities.

Council member Mrs. Mildred McGrath pointed out that the airport ordinance already on record limited the height of development in the airport area. She said that Webb should not have been issued a building permit to develop the elevators in view of the regulations.

Webb explained that the "city willingly gave us a building permit." He added that he did not realize that he was in violation of the ordinance.

It was pointed out that the city has a water tank in the area that also exceeds the height limitations. City Manager Jim Caldwell said that the violation was not detected by the city.

Caldwell said that at the time Webb built his facilities, the height limit was probably less than 175 feet. He said a formula is used for determining height limits according to distance from the airport.

The revised ordinance would prevent development in Webb's area of a structure in excess of 175 feet in height. His facilities currently reach 215 feet in height, it was noted. Webb said that he has talked to his attorneys and they feel there is a "legal outlet." He noted that he would be happy for his attorneys to meet with the Council to discuss the matter.

Airport manager Jim Turcotte pointed out that the new flow of air traffic is not north to south now but east to west. Webb's business lies east of the airport.

In other business on a relatively routine agenda, the Council voted to authorize the addition of the assistant chief for rescue position in the Fire Department and adopted an ordinance amending the city's pay plan to reflect the new post.

Mayor Percy Cox said that Fire Chief Ray Smith asked for the position to be authorized last year and although the money was put in the current budget for the position, it was never actually created.

Smith said that the assistant chief for rescue would be in charge of all rescue programs and would administer the squad's training program. The new position would be under Smith in the same fashion as the assistant fire chief.

The chief asserted that the new position, which would require an eight-hour shift, would remedy some of the problems in the rescue area. He explained that since much of the squad is made up of volunteers including some students, there is a high turnover in membership among the volunteer contingent.

Price Deregulation Of Natural Gas Shifts To Full House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over deregulating natural gas prices is shifting to the full House Commerce Committee with, as one congressman puts it, billions of dollars turning on every word in the proposal.

A commerce subcommittee voted narrowly Thursday to free new natural gas sales from federal controls, shunting aside President Carter's pricing plan.

Under the subcommittee plan, the price of natural gas pumped from new fields would be free of federal regulation. Gas sold under contract before January 1975 could rise to $1.42 per thousand cubic feet as those contracts expire.

The administration contends the plan would add up to $100 million to the bills of the 40 million homeowners who rely on natural gas.

Opponents of the package said deregulation could give $96 billion in windfall profits over eight years to the oil and gas industry, which has worked for more than 25 years to be free of federal control.

Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Tex., who managed the subcommittee package, estimated that the deregulated gas would settle at approximately $2.50 per thousand cubic feet. Federal controls now set the ceiling at $1.45, while the President recommended a ceiling of $1.75 as ample to guarantee the industry generous profits and ample incentive to look for new reserves.

Krueger and his allies said deregulation was vital because gas is virtually pollution free and under intense demand pressure. The demand would remain unmet, he said, since Carter's price worked out to be less than the present price of Arab oil.

Presidential energy adviser James Schlesinger said, however, that the industry privately assured him Carter's proposal was adequate.

Minges Named ECU Trustee

CHAPEL HILL — John F. Minges of Greenville was appointed to the ECU Board of Trustees by the UNC Board of Governors this morning.

Minges will replace Fred Cox of Grifton on the Board. Dr. Andrew A. Best of Greenville was reappointed to the Board. Also reappointed were Mrs. John G. Burgwyn of Jackson and William H. Stanley of Rocky Mount.

The Board members will serve four-year terms.

In other action, the Board of Governors nominated Harvey E. Beech, a Kinston attorney, to the Pitt County Hospital Board. Beech will fill the position vacated by Howard Lee.

Beech's nomination is to be confirmed by the Board of County Commissioners.

B-1 Foes Feeling Assured

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two critics of the much-debated B-1 bomber project emerged from a meeting today with President Carter to say they feel he is definitely leaning toward at least limited production of the costly airplane.

Rep. Robert Drinan, D-Mass., told reporters that Carter made a cryptic reference to "secret information that he had not had before," which Drinan said he interpreted as an indication the President is preparing to make a case in behalf of the B1.

Rep. Ronald Dellums, D-Calif., agreed that Carter seemed likely to support at least part of the Air Force request for a $25 billion fleet of 244 B1s.

However, Sen. John Culver, D-Iowa, told reporters, "I don't think there's any way to tell which way he (Carter) is leaning."

Carter, a campaign year critic of the B1, reiterated to the congressional delegation that "my inclination is to announce my decision before the end of this month."

"Following this meeting, I will probably pretty much go into seclusion and study what the information is and make a decision," he said.

Budget Hearing

The Greenville City Council has scheduled a public hearing on the proposed budget for the city and Greenville Utilities Commission for fiscal year 1977-78.

City Manager Jim Caldwell said that the hearing will be held on Thursday, June 16 at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers at city hall.

The proposed budget is available for public inspection in the office of the City Clerk and at Sheppard Memorial Library during normal working hours, he said.

Opening New Span

NEW BERN — A brief ribbon cutting ceremony on the south span of the dual bridges on the U. S. 70 Bypass at New Bern will mark the partial completion of the project and open to traffic a three and three tenths-mile portion of the highway next week.

Gov. James B. Hunt will be present at the 10 a. m. Wednesday ceremony, as will Thomas W. Bradshaw Jr., State Secretary of Transportation.

The ceremony, to which the public is invited, will open the bypass from its intersection with Glenburnie Road of New Bern east across the Trent River into James City. Only the eastbound lanes of the new multi-lane bypass will be used initially, as work is continuing on the westbound lanes.

The entire 26.7-mile bypass from Dover to James City is expected to be completed by next fall at an estimated cost of more than $52 million.

Widow, 87, 'Strings' For Three Newspapers

By NICK GREGORY
NAUVOO, Ill. (UPI) — Ida Blum has filled six scrapbooks with feature stories she has written and has started on her seventh. She also is a "stringer," or correspondent, for two Iowa daily newspapers, the Fort Madison Democrat and the Keokuk Daily Gate City, and an Illinois weekly.

Not bad for a person of 87. On the side, Ida contributes countless hours of volunteer work at the Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy.

Residents around Nauvoo, a history-rich town of 1,100 founded 140 years ago by Mormons, regard Ida as the town historian. So does Charles Hurst, who runs the weekly Carthage Journal-Pilot newspaper and regularly purchases feature stories from her.

Widowed in 1958, Ida lives alone — not far from where Brigham Young lived 135 years ago. A great Mormon temple once stood nearby when Nauvoo was the largest city in Illinois in the mid-1800s.

Ida's only concession to age is the use of a cleaning lady, Sarah Mohart, 75. "But only one day every two weeks," she said. "I pay her, but she's a good friend and would do the work for nothing."

Mrs. Blum's writing talents were latent until 1930 when a neighbor who covered the "announcements beat" around Nauvoo for the Iowa and Carthage papers left for vacation and turned over her reporting chores to Ida. "At first," Ida said, "it was announcements, but when the girl returned she told me, 'you've done a good job. Why don't you keep on doing it?'"

"I branched out later with occasional feature stories, mostly historical. And the editors liked them. They used to tell me to keep sending stories. They were willing to buy anything I'd write."

Ida was thrilled to see her stories published. But her biggest honor came last October when a Brigham Young University representative asked during a visit if she would consider donating her scrapbooks to the school's library in Provo, Utah.

"He'd heard about my accounts of Nauvoo — all the stories I had written about the area and the many references to the Mormon influence," she said. "I was impressed, but I thought I should talk to my family first."

"My son and daughter thought it was a good idea. I liked it, too, so that's where my work will go."

Mrs. Blum considers her first article, written in 1953, her most important. "It was unusual, the way I did it. My husband, Carl, had just retired from the general store he had run for 43 years and he was sitting in the living room reminiscing about the various things that happened around the store in all those years. "I was in the dining room, jotting down notes as fast I could to keep up with him. I urged him on and he'd keep going — several nights of this. "When I finished up the article and it appeared in the papers, he was the most astonished man you'll ever see."

Living alone has failed to slow Mrs. Blum. She recently gave 150 lap robes to the old soldiers in the Illinois Veterans Hospital where authorities acknowledged her many years of voluntary service by presenting her with a gold medallion. And, she said the years have been good to her.

Except for a broken hip two years ago and minor surgery many years earlier, she has never been out of action. "We were both born here — my husband and I — and so were our parents. My roots are so deep, they just can't pull them up and get rid of me."

After Big Hits, Marge And Joan Move On

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Four years ago, Marge Mitchell (a home economist and vice president in a public relations agency) and Joan Sedgwick (a history professor) left their jobs in The Big Apple to open a restaurant, the Bakery Lane Soup Bowl, in Middlebury, Vt. Their customers clamored for Marge's recipes so the girls wrote a cookbook, published it themselves and mailed it. Both restaurant and cookbook in an astonishingly short time were big hits.

Last year I wrote a piece about Marge and Joan and illustrated it with a photograph of them. Readers responded with warmth. They bought the cookbook, addressing their orders to "Marge and Joan, Middlebury, Vt." They came to the restaurant and, armed with a clip of my feature, were likely to say to Joan, "You're Joan. Where's Marge?" (Joan was usually out front, Marge usually in the kitchen.)

For two neophytes in the restaurant and cookbook business their success was magnificent, but now the girls are moving on.

They sold the restaurant to a young new owner who is serving Marge's original dishes. Their sold publishing rights to their "Bakery Lane Soup Bowl Cookbook" to Random House and now it's in book stores. The cover is different from the original cookbook but all the super recipes are there. So what are Marge and Joan up to now? When I phoned them before they left Middlebury they told me they'd bought a "recreational vehicle." It seems that's a motor home but not the huge kind you lodge in trailer parks. They're taking a six-month vacation to roam around the southern half of this country — south because Vermont's long cold winters were a bit much for Joan. She says, "After we get going, I'm going to ask the kids I meet, 'Do you like snow? Somewhere one of them is going to say, 'What's snow?' Well, wherever that kid lives, that's where I'm going to stay."

The girls' motor home has a miniscule bathtub and a shower. It has a three-burner stove and an oven big enough for a chicken but not a turkey. A refrigerator-freezer. A double sink. It sleeps six — in a squeeze.

The girls need the room. For Victoria, scion of a German shepherd and a neighboring stray: "She's nasty but a wonderful protector." And three cats. One of them is "such a darling" that she's named after Tennyson's come-into-the-garden Maud. Then there's Siegel: "He has lots of chutzpah." And Harry: "She came from a litter that was supposed to include at least one male and didn't."

The motor home is named Ruth. Where Ruth goes, there goes Marge and Joan. Marge wants to catch, cook and eat fresh seafood on the Gulf coast. Joan wants to see her son and grandchildren in Knoxville, Tenn., and her stepson in Palacios, Tex.

After the vacation it's back to earning a living. Marge has another cookbook in mind. She may open a shop (to supply restaurants with desserts) called "Just Desserts." If it isn't as successful as their previous ventures, she'll just call it "Crumbs."

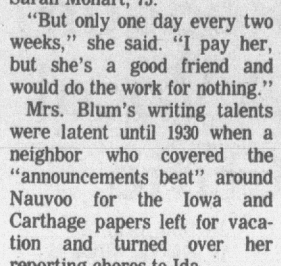

Joan is writing a book titled "Soup to Nuts or Nuts to Soup," telling what it's like to run a restaurant. I advised Joan to get Marge to contribute lots of new recipes.

Just try Marge's Mushroom Frittata — a version she developed especially for this column. The morning my recipe-tester made it, each of us gobbled up a wedge for lunch. Late that day I cut the rest in small squares, reheated it in my microwave oven and had a neighborhood tasting cum drinks. To say applause for it was enthusiastic, is a gross understatement. MARGE MITCHELL'S

MUSHROOM FRITTATA
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
2-3rds cup chopped onion
2-3rds cup chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped unpared zucchini
1 teaspoon minced garlic
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
5 eggs
1-3rd cup light cream

350-degree oven 45 minutes, or until set in center and browned. Cool 5 to 10 minutes, before cutting into wedges. Makes 6 main-dish servings.

Food Editor's Note: We bought 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms and sliced enough for the 1 cup called for; the rest we sauteed separately for a garnish. We knife-chopped the onion, green pepper and zucchini in 1/4 to 1/2-inch pieces. — C.B.

Dear Abby

Father In Need Of Treatment

By Abigail Van Buren
©1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My brother spans his 3-year-old son and will not allow the little guy to cry. If he cries, he gets spanked again and again. I have seen this go on for hours. (He says this will make a "man" out of him.) He also spans the child much too hard.

My brother won't listen to anyone. And my sister-in-law doesn't do anything about it. Or maybe she can't.

What can I do? If I report my relatives to the authorities, and the child is taken from his parents' home, I'm afraid it might do him more harm than those spankings will. What can be done? This situation is worrying me to death.

SICK AT HEART

DEAR SICK: To be aware of such cruelty and do nothing is morally wrong. Your brother sounds as though he is desperately in need of treatment. And his wife couldn't be too well either to allow such goings on.

Phone PARENTS ANONYMOUS at this toll-free number: 1-800-421-0353, and tell them what you've told me. Your call will be confidential, and you need not tell them your name. And write again and let me know how it was handled. I care.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been having a little domestic trouble, so I finally got him to go to a marriage counselor with me. We were advised to take an interest in each other's hobbies. Well, I'm trying, but it makes me sick to go down to the city dump and shoot rats.

My husband gets into training for deer hunting this way, and that's how he spends every spare minute.

Abby, do I have to go along and join him in this sickening sport? I haven't got the heart for it.

GREG'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You not only haven't the heart; you haven't the stomach for it. Pack Greg a lunch, kiss him goodby and wish him happy hunting!

DEAR ABBY: I am a teenager. Both my parents are deaf, but they are very intelligent. They can't HEAR, but they can speak fairly well and manage to communicate very well with friends and neighbors.

The problem is when we go to the store or travel somewhere, and people ask stupid questions, such as, "Can they read and write?" "Can they look after themselves, or must they always have someone with them?" Then they end up by saying, "Take good care of your parents. They need your help."

Abby, I want all these people to know that my parents are not idiots. They are just like everybody else, except they can't hear! In fact their other senses are better developed because they're deaf.

My parents tell me not to let such questions bother me, but they do. Please print this so people will realize how dumb and mean such questions are.

BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: Most people don't mean to be unkind; they are simply unformed and curious. But here's your letter, and I hope it helps.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Wedding Invitation

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tyson request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Katherine Marie, to James Edward Jones, on Sunday, June 12, at 3:00 p.m. at Grace Free Will Baptist Church.

Top Alumnus Dinner Meet Award Made Is Announced

Miss M. Inez Nimmo of Greenville, a librarian in the City School, St. Louis, Mo., has been named "Top Alumnus of the Year" by the national president of the N. C. Central University Alumni Association.

Miss Nimmo is Regional Alumni Association president of the midwest. She is a graduate in social studies and library science, North Carolina Central University, Durham, and the School of Library Science, University of Denver, Denver, Col.

She is the daughter of Mrs. J. A. Nimmo of Greenville. Washing with an oil-based soap after exposure to poison ivy is dangerous because the poison is soluble in oil and is spread by it instead of removed.

"Sex Discrimination in Education and Employment" is the topic of a program to be held at a dutch dinner Tuesday, June 14, sponsored by the Eastern Carolina Chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW).

Speakers will be Susan Adecock of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division and Barbara Ragland of the ECU School of Education's General Assistance Center.

The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Three Steers Restaurant, Greenville. All interested persons are invited to attend. Reservations may be made by telephoning 752-7390 or 756-4031.

Revenue Prospects Unsettling

The State Legislature was burned a couple of years ago when a national recession threw the state's income projections out of line.

The disappointing revenues meant that the Legislature had to return to Raleigh to do some trimming of the already approved budget. This was necessary since state law requires a balanced budget.

It is no wonder, then, that the legislators are concerned about projections of tax collections for the coming biennium.

The Joint Committee on the Economy was told that tax collection estimates should be reduced by $20 million in the second year of the biennium.

The committee was told that the state Budget Office and the Fiscal Research Division of the Legislature were in agreement on the revenue projections.

In practical terms the reduction in anticipated revenues means that the governors supplemental spending request would have to be cut by $5 million, Rep. Dan Lilley, chairman of the House Economy Committee said.

The direction that the state's economy will take in the next two years is still not clear, and it will certainly depend on what happens to the nation's economy.

All the projections show a good percentage growth in tax revenues; the question, though, is how much those tax revenues will grow.

It will certainly be best for the Legislature to go along with more conservative estimates of revenue growth for the second year of the biennium. That will save the headaches of later having to make cuts in the budget. If the revenues exceed expectations the funds can be put to good use later on.

"Aw, c'mon, honey! Pucker up an' turn me into a handsome prince!"

Former Colonies United By Monarchy

The glory of the British empire is long gone, but loyalty to the monarchy still holds the far flung British Commonwealth together.

There can be no doubt that the British still revere Queen Elizabeth II as they celebrate the 25th year of her reign this week.

The nation is troubled economically, but that hasn't stopped its people from making this a joyous occasion.

Americans, with so much British heritage, wish Great Britain well at this festive time.

New Victim-Award Plan

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH — It is the "moral responsibility of the state" to furnish aid, care, and support for innocent victims of crime, State Senator Katherine H. Sebo, D-Guilford, believes.

Senator Sebo has introduced in the General Assembly a proposal to establish a system for state compensation to crime victims, and a commission to operate it.

It is her best estimate that this approach would cost the state about $650,000 per year. It would however, guarantee fair and equal treatment for all crime victims.

Another legislative proposal currently under study would provide "reparation and restitution" to crime victims, depending on the ability of the person who committed the crime to pay, or to get a job and earn money to pay the victim.

Sebo's proposal covers all victims, dependent's of a deceased victim, or an authorized person acting on behalf of the victim or relatives.

Other Sources

Besides the money reward

which would be established, her proposal suggests that the state commission also help the victim gain support from other sources:

Workmen's compensation, wage continuation by employers, medical or hospitalization insurance, Social Security, Medicare, or Medicaid, or temporary nonoccupational disability insurance.

Some of those sources of aid are often overlooked by victims, and the state agency would help identify such sources, and help the individual get assistance.

Such assistance is the responsibility of the state, Sebo thinks, and in the introduction to her bill, she writes: The purpose is "to provide a method of compensating and assisting residents of the state who are innocent victims of criminal acts and who suffer bodily injury or death as a consequence thereof.

"...Such innocent victims or their dependents may incur financial hardships or become dependent upon public assistance...."

The Sebo bill differs sharply from the restitution proposal, and fixes what she considers a major shortcoming of that legislation: dependence on the ability of the criminal to pay the victim. "And in most instances—particularly where a street criminal is involved—there's no money," the senator commented.

BILL NOBLITT

Unconstitutional

In addition, the restitution method is entirely voluntary. The courts may instruct the convicted criminal to repay his victim, and offer rewards (early release, work release, probation) for doing so—but it is presently unconstitutional for the court to order such repayment.

That situation needs to be fixed, also, Senator Sebo thinks.

The senator said she introduced her measure late in this session of the General Assembly (adjournment is anticipated by the end of June) because it was unclear what would happen to federal legislation involving compensation of victims.

The U. S. Congress has considered the matter numerous times, but currently appears near adoption of a federal matching-share arrangement.

If so, North Carolina should be in a position to receive the federal funds and administer the program, Senator Sebo said.

The Crime Victims Compensation Commission of three members appointed by the governor would operate the system. Placed in the Department of Administration, that commission and its staff would investigate claims and establish rewards. A $50,000 ceiling is proposed.

A previous legislative study commission looked into various compensation systems, and concluded that the subject is too complex for immediate resolution. With two alternatives before them, it is likely members of the General Assembly will choose to assign the matter to another study group for deeper study.

All She Can Do Is Type

WASHINGTON — It's not the big things but the little things about Women's Liberation that are throwing the entire country into a tailspin.

For example, there is a growing movement in the country among secretaries to no longer go out and get coffee for their bosses.

"That isn't my job," the more militant ladies are telling the men in the office.

A few years ago if a secretary said this, what she really meant was that she was quitting. But these days bosses do not know how to deal with the problem. It isn't the coffee but the breakdown in authority that has most executives terribly worried.

Simpson, who works for a large conglomerate and has responsibility for the success of one of its companies, told me all about it at lunch.

"It's a jungle out there," he said, referring to his office building. "What's the sense of being an executive if your secretary won't get you a cup of coffee when you need it?"

"What are secretaries for?" I said.

"When I was a junior executive my secretary not only went for coffee but served it in a cup, with a sugar bowl and a cream pitcher on a silver tray."

"Did she put the sugar in the coffee for you?" I asked, getting terribly excited. "Of course, she did," he said. "One teaspoon, and just a dash of cream."

"Go on," I said holding my breath.

"Did I tell you about the Danish?"

"No," I said, gripping his arm. "Tell me about the Danish."

"Well, sometimes she would bring me a cheese Danish and I would want a cherry one instead. So I sent her down to exchange it. She always apologized for her gaffe and tried to make it up to me all day long."

"She should have," I told him. "A good secretary should know when her boss is in the mood for a cheese Danish or a cherry Danish. What else did she do for you?"

"There were days when I decided not to go out for lunch, so all I did was press the intercom button and tell her I wanted a bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich on rye with mayonnaise on the side and a dill pickle and a large ice tea."

"And she went."

"Like a flash. And she didn't just hand it to me in a bag. She put the sandwich on a plate, poured the iced tea in a glass and brought it all in with a napkin."

"What about the pickle?" My heart was beating twice as fast as usual.

"She had a separate little plate for the pickle."

"Boy, those were the days. They don't make women like that any more. Tell me about the afternoon."

Simpson smiled. "In the afternoon, around 3, without even asking, she brought me another cup of coffee, put it quietly on my desk and tipped out of the room."

"Oh, my gosh," I cried. "I wish I could have watched."

"It isn't like that any more," he said bitterly. "Now I have to bring up my own coffee and Danish in the morning, and if I want lunch I have to go down for it myself."

The Greenville Warehousemen's Association went on record last night as endorsing the movement to reorganize the local Chamber of Commerce.

A move has been underway to establish a modern, adequately-financed Chamber for several months.

The drive for a reorganized Chamber has already been endorsed by the Tobacco Board of Trade and the city Board of Aldermen.

Bad weather forced a temporary lull in the Spanish war today, but international diplomatic wrangling over non-intervention in Spain developed new complications.

Russia, on the side of the Spanish government, asked and was refused permission to enter into discussions designed to bring Germany and Italy back into neutrality.

In Madrid the government took advantage of the lull to get to the task of evacuating non-combatants.

THE INSIDE REPORT

New Russian Clampdown?

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Even before the Soviet Union charged Jewish activist Anatoly Shcharansky with high treason against the state, skilled Kremlinologists here privately warned that a massive new effort against Soviet dissidents was imminent despite the forthcoming Belgrade review of the Helsinki agreement on human rights.

Indeed, no less a figure than exiled Nobel laureate Alexander Solzhenitsyn, who has given $300,000 to help Soviet dissidents and their families, has signalled friends here from his Vermont retreat. Solzhenitsyn's warning: The KGB (secret police), stung by inability to control political dissidents, is preparing to "stamp out the movement" in a sweeping "legal" attack that would transform clearly political offenses "many of them permitted by presumed Helsinki human rights guarantees — into synthetic "criminal" offenses.

Almost prophetically, Solzhenitsyn's warning anticipated the espionage charge against Shcharansky, who has been in jail since mid-March.

How far Soviet authorities choose to carry their intensified new campaign against Soviet dissidents may well depend on how hard the U.S. insists that "human rights" must have a prominent place on the Belgrade agenda. This question will not be answered until diplomats from the U.S., Canada and European countries that signed the 1975 Helsinki agreements start the preliminary post-Helsinki session in Belgrade on June 15. That session is supposed to set the agenda for the October meeting.

If the U.S. — possibly opposed by some Western European allies — insists on full exposure and debate over human rights, the Kremlin may have to tone down its new assault on dissidents. But if President Carter continues to play down the issue of human rights in the Soviet Union as he has done for the past two months and the great debate does not take place in the main Belgrade session next October, then Moscow may feel politically safe in trying to liquidate the embarrassing and humiliating agitation for civil and human rights.

The way that may be done is now becoming clear: by attacking the dissidents for "criminal" offenses and hauling them into public show trials on such charges as currency manipulation or high treason or "hooliganism" and a variety of others, none tied to human rights. There are today two principal targets of official attack against Soviet citizens: dissidents publicly working inside the Soviet Union as members of the "Helsinki monitoring group"; and dissidents working with Solzhenitsyn's "Russian Social Fund" — the $300,000 in royalties from his "Gulag Archipelago" that he has slipped into the Soviet Union to help dissidents and their families.

Shcharansky was a leading activist in the Helsinki monitoring group when he was arrested last spring. At least eight other dissidents striving to publicize Soviet violations of the Helsinki human rights — such as the right to emigrate — are also in jail. They include dissident leader Alexander Ginsburg, who was also the first head of Solzhenitsyn's fund. Arrested (Continued on page 5)

To the editor:

The Greenville Rescue Squad has served the City of Greenville and Pitt County with both distinction and dedication. Their long hours of service and training have put us all in their debt.

Our City Council members know that the Rescue Squad is the ONE organization they have never heard a complaint about. Now is the time for each of us to take a minute or two and use either phone or pen to let our Mayor and City Council know that we are behind the Rescue Squad 100 per cent in their request for better facilities, better equipment and a separate Chief of Rescue.

Let's help them to serve us better.

Phyllis McLane

To the editor:

As a concerned citizen and as a mother of three children, I urge all citizens to speak out against the "twin-trailer" bill now before our House of Representatives. The bill would allow tractor-trailer trucks to pull an additional trailer. The trucking industry is arguing that it is only 10 more feet. But what comes next? — 10 more pounds, or one foot wider, or yet 10 more feet next year?

I am not opposed to trucking. I realize that Eastern North Carolina needs trucks. But I am opposed to letting bigger rigs on our highways. Many truckers already abuse safe speed laws.

Pres. Carter has asked us to buy smaller cars. Why then should we put bigger trucks on our roads? Many roads in our state are dangerous two-lane roads. To get to the larger four-lane highways, these trucks would have to travel the two-lane roads.

I urge all citizens to write a postcard or letter to each of our Representatives, Sam Bundy and Horton Rountree, The State House, Raleigh, urging them to vote NO to this bill.

'Fringe' Playing A Bigger Role

By JOHN CUNNIFF

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The term "fringe" when applied to employee compensation might continue in use from sheer habit, but with each new wage contract it is becoming more of a misnomer than before.

The fringe, in effect, no longer is just an enticing adornment to the paycheck; on average, it is now close to 25 per cent of the total compensation of production and related workers in manufacturing.

The trend reflects a changing view of the employer's role in society, from that of a contractor for labor and skills to that of a provider of services as well, and usually at a lower cost than the worker could obtain on his own.

It probably also represents an acknowledgment by workers that in times of inflation it might be better to accept the service, such as health care, than the dollar that tends to buy less and less of the service.

In 1958, fringes such as vacations, retirement programs, insurance, unemployment programs and the like accounted for just 14.6 per cent of total compensation.

By 1974, latest year for which detailed figures are available, the percentage had risen to 23.1, and the trend since then most likely has brought the fringe figure to about one-quarter of a worker's total compensation.

The Morgan Guaranty Survey, which supplied the figures, went further in seeking the significance of the trend by removing the effects of inflation, which tends to disguise the contrast between old and new.

It found that "a full 40 per cent of the real compensation gains produced by the economy was taken by employees in the form of improved fringe benefits rather than in enlarged money wages."

Here are the dollars and cents figures of employer expenditures for wages and benefits per hour worked:

—In 1959, total compensation equalled $2.61, compared with $5.88 in 1974.

—Pay for time worked in 1959 was $2.23, or 85.4 per cent of total compensation. In 1974 the figures were $4.52 and 76.9 per cent, respectively.

—Vacations and holidays accounted for 14 cents or 5.2 per cent of total pay in 1959. In 1974 the numbers had risen to 40 cents and 6.8 per cent.

—Retirement programs in 1959 took 11 cents or 4.2 per cent of the total. In 1974 the cost per hour worked had risen to 48 cents or 8.2 per cent of the total.

—Life insurance and health benefits in 1959 accounted for only 8 cents of the $2.61 total, or just 3 per cent. By 1974 the percentage had more than doubled to 6.3, and the cost per hour worked to 37 cents.

—Unemployment programs in 1959 took just 3 cents, or 1.5 per cent, of the total hourly compensation dollar. In 1974 the cost figure had risen to 8 cents, although the percentage of total compensation was down to 1.4.

In recent years new fringes have been added, most important of them being dental bills and legal fees, but specialists already are studying the possibility of adding automobile and home insurance plans.

With individual insurance costs rising sharply in some areas, compensation specialists believe the employer may be able to devise meaningful plans that would offer the benefits of lower group rates.

In addition, it is widely felt, the employer also is more able to analyze the increasingly complicated plans, and to provide bookkeeping services as well.

But perhaps more important than any of these considerations is the tax aspect. Most benefits are tax-deductible for the employer and tax-free for the employee. They are, in effect, the ordinary individual's tax shelter.

Synod Sunday Being Observed

Synod Sunday will be observed at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church Sunday at 11 a.m. The North Carolina Synod of the Lutheran Church in America is meeting in Hickory on the campus of Lenoir-Rhyne College June 10.

While pastors and delegates from the 211 congregations of the Synod are meeting for worship, the congregations will be worshipping with lay leadership in every parish. The theme for the service is "The Mission of Christ Through Us".

Leading the service at Our Redeemer will be Dr. E. A. Holstius-Liturgist, Mrs. Jan Schweisthal and Dr. Carolyn Hampton.

Vacation Bible School Planned

Vacation Bible school will be held at St. Paul Disciple Church of Christ June 13-17. Theme for the school will be "Lord Jesus, Teach Me".

Teachers will be Sister Dorothy Walston and Eldress Willis, youth class; Martha Lillian Allen, juniors; Sister Julia Keyes, intermediates; Mother Lillie Allen, primary class; Mother Elizabeth Williams, arts and crafts; and Sister Janice Quinerly, sewing.

A carnival will be held Friday. Co-ordinators for the school will be Sister Olervury Wilson, Mother Lillian Allen and Sister Myrtle Allen.

here for conservative causes, Reagan said Carter promised during the 1976 campaign that he would "never become part of this city's buddy system."

But Reagan, who also campaigned on an anti-Washington theme in his unsuccessful run for the GOP nomination, said Carter has "managed to adapt rather well to this city that has become his home."

"He's been in office now for nearly six months and in that time has managed to assemble the largest and highest paid White House staff in history," Reagan said.

"It strikes me as unusual that a man who was going to restore our faith in Washington would, as one of his first acts, propose to change the election laws so that congressional incumbents will be able to tap the federal till for their campaign funds," Reagan said.

The former actor and two-term governor of California also attacked Carter's support for repeal of Hatch Act prohibitions against government workers participating in partisan politics.

"It strikes me as unusual that a man who says he is beholden to no special interests advances the repeal of legislation designed to insulate federal government workers from crass political pressure," he said.

And he opposed Carter's plan to allow election day voter registration, sounding the theme repeatedly used by GOP members of Congress. Reagan called the proposal "a scheme that would debase the franchise by opening our electoral system to wholesale fraud."

"In light of all this, I'm afraid that I can only conclude that if the American people want to cut back government, they're going to have to look somewhere besides the White House, where the Democrats are simply doing business as usual."

Earlier in the day, in a New York speech before the Foreign Policy Association, Reagan attacked Carter's foreign policy, especially his human rights campaign.

"The new administration's foreign policy has aimed most of its human rights criticisms at governments which are no threat to others and which, despite not always behaving precisely as we might like, have nevertheless been our friends," he said.

Reagan criticized the administration for opposing chrome imports from Rhodesia while opening trade with Cuba and negotiating a canal treaty with Panama. It was Reagan, in his primary battle against Gerald Ford, who first made Panama Canal treaty negotiations a campaign issue.

in early February, he has been in jail incommunicado and without formal charge ever since.

Poignant testimony of the hopelessness and fear of a new Soviet clampdown among families of jailed dissidents came in a letter just received by Solzhenitsyn from Mrs. Ginsburg and the wife of Yuri Orlov, another Helsinki monitor also arrested and jailed. Stating their "profound anxiety and preoccupation as to the fate of our arrested husbands," they told the author:

"Ominous rumors have been spreading around Moscow. According to these rumors, Ginsburg and Orlov will be tried on the charge of having violated regulations on currency... We greatly fear that the authorities have decided to stage a criminal rather than a political trial. There has been a press campaign pointed in that direction."

The Soviet refusal to give a visa to Edward Bennett Williams, the noted criminal lawyer who has intimate ties to President Carter's Democratic party, is simply further evidence of how hardened the Soviets have now become about their human rights vulnerability. Retained by Solzhenitsyn to go to Moscow for the legal defense of Ginsburg, Williams has been unable even to contact Mrs. Ginsburg since the Soviets jammed their Washington-to-Moscow telephone conversation on March 31.

Clearly, the Kremlin is increasingly worried, partly about the continuing agitation of Soviet citizens trying to claim their Helsinki rights, but far more about the impact of the dissidents on the Belgrade conference. How President Carter exploits this open Soviet wound is not yet known. But if he fails to make the most of it he will, at the very least, be open to severe criticism by many American politicians — and just plain voters.

"Tell that to the Women's Libbers. All they think about is themselves. You know what the secretaries in my office have done? They have a coffee machine and the last person who uses the machine has to make a new pot of coffee, no matter what his title in the company is."

"It makes you sick," I said. "You could be making millions for the company and instead you're making coffee. Have you ever thought of firing a secretary because she refused to get you a Danish?"

"I did last year," he replied. "And she's suing me for $250,000."

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC:

IS THE BIG CAR AN ENDANGERED SPECIES?

We don't think so. Even though the President has proposed some whopping penalties on big cars in his energy plan, they'll probably be around for a long time to come.

Granted, the President has proposed a tax of $449.00 on 1978 cars that deliver less than 13 miles per gallon — a tax that could escalate to an incredible $2,488.00 on 1985 cars that get less than 12.5 m.p.g. He has also proposed a "standby" gasoline tax that would be imposed if our gas consumption rises more than one percent a year. It would be five cents a gallon in 1979 and could go to 50 cents a gallon shortly thereafter.

What's a nickle a gallon to somebody who drives a Rolls? What's $449.00 to the guy in the Cadillac? They'll still be able to afford big cars and the manufacturers will still build them. The big cars will be around for a long time for people with lots of bucks.

IS A BIG CAR REALLY NECESSARY?

If you don't have lots of bucks it sure isn't. But what's so great about a big, gas eating, soft-riding dinosaur? I think we've all just become used to big cars. That's basically what American cars have always been — big and soft. And now, possibly very expensive to buy and drive. But just because you are used to something is no reason you have to keep buying it. We can get used to the wrong things sometimes.

One of the great pleasures we get as Toyota Dealers is to see the reaction of the big car buyer after he's driven a Toyota. He's usually amazed at how comfortable the car is and he suddenly gets very enthusiastic about the "fun" of driving again. A Toyota is so nimble, so easy to handle, that some of our first time customers are sold just on that. Even people that have become used to automatic transmissions really get excited about our four-on-the-floor or five-on-the-floor. Sure, we have smooth, great automatic transmissions, but a lot of people are re-discovering the joy of driving a responsive, quick car. You don't just aim a Toyota, you actually get to drive it. It makes a difference.

WHY A TOYOTA?

Taxes, rebates and other government incentives aside, a Toyota is a quality built automobile. You can see it when you look one over. It just shows. And a Toyota is a car you'll be proud to drive and a car you'll enjoy driving. But, most importantly, you'll really enjoy the savings. It costs less than a big car to buy and it certainly costs less to run. With 148 Toyota Dealers in the southeast, you can be assured of parts and service to keep your Toyota in fine shape. And, don't forget, your Toyota Dealer is a volume dealer and that means you'll buy a Toyota for what you want to pay.

Even if Congress votes to give you a tax rebate for buying a Toyota with its excellent gas mileage, you'll be ahead of the game in a thrifty, nimble, quality automobile that you'll be delighted to drive.

Sincerely,

Jim Moran

Smoking Sees Drop-Off In Health Professionals

ATLANTA (AP) — Many cigarette habits among health professionals have gone up in smoke since the late 1960s, the National Center for Disease Control said Thursday.

The CDC's National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health revealed a study that shows there is a noticeable decline in smoking among most health professionals.

The study shows 21 per cent of the physicians in the United States smoked cigarettes in 1975, compared with 30 per cent in 1967.

For dentists, the figures were 23 per cent in 1975 and 34 per cent in 1967; and for pharmacists, 28 per cent in 1975 and 35 per cent in 1967 (1967 figures were not available).

The percentage of nurses, usually woman, who smoked changed little — 39 per cent in 1975, compared with 37 per cent earlier.

"This is because smoking is a much more recent habit among women," and women generally feel they are in little danger of getting lung cancer, said Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the clearinghouse.

The third national cancer survey of 1969-71 by the National Cancer Institute shows a 72.1 per 100,000 incidence of lung cancer among men, compared to 14.4 per 100,000 among women.

Of all cancer in women, the latest CDC figures indicate, about 6 per cent is in the lungs, while the lung cancer rate is 22 per cent among men. Cancer experts say one reason is that women often do not inhale.

However, Dr. Glyn Caldwell, deputy chief of the CDC cancer branch, said, "Lung cancer among women is beginning to catch up."

The World Health Organization reported last May that lung cancer mortality among women "continues to rise at an increasing rate."

The smoking clearinghouse study involved about 5,000 persons in each professional group, Horn said, and cost an estimated $150,000.

Named Officers In N.C. Student Group

ECU News Bureau
Four East Carolina University students will serve as officers for the ECU chapter of the N. C. Vocational Association during the academic year 1977-78.

They were elected by the chapter membership during the spring quarter at ECU.

Kathy Poole of Clayton, a junior home economics education major, was elected president. Vice president will be Cindy Casstevens, a senior industrial technology major from Jonesville.

Horn also said "there is no question there is a conflict of interest" between the aims of the smoking clearinghouse and the Department of Agriculture's tobacco program.

The secretary of the U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare, Joseph Califano, "has called for a complete review" of the government's attitude toward tobacco, he said.

He said although a "completely safe" cigarette probably can never be produced, "I think we can at least produce one which will not hurt the average person."

New Pastor To Speak Sunday

The Rev. M. Dewey Tyson has been named new pastor of Saint James United Methodist Church.

REV. M. DEWEY TYSON

A native of Farmville, the Rev. Tyson is married to the former Ruth Craft. The couple has three children, Mrs. Cheryl Kennedy, High Point, Eugene Tyson, Tulsa, Okla., and Deborah Tyson, a senior at Guilford College.

The Rev. Tyson received an A.B. degree from Atlantic Christian College and a B.D. from Duke University Divinity School. He has served as pastor at Englewood, Rocky Mount, Calvary, Durham, First Church, Hamlet, First Church, Roanoke Rapids, and the First Church, Henderson.

He is immediate past Chairman of the Conference Division of Evangelism, a member of the Conference Council on Ministry, and Conference Committee on Communications.

He is the author of "Loving Is For Living." The Upper Room Press, and a contributing author to "The Upper Room Discipline" and "Alive Now," a youth-oriented Methodist magazine. He will be speaking Sunday at St. James.

Bible School To Begin June 13

Vacation Bible School at Immanuel Baptist Church, 1101 S. Elm St., will begin Monday, June 13, and continue through Friday. The hours will be from 9-11:45 a.m.

There will be classes for children from age four through high school seniors. Activities will include Bible study, singing, games and crafts.

On Wednesday evening at seven o'clock in the church fellowship hall, the movie "Happiness Is..." will be shown, free of charge.

The public is invited to take part in the week of special services.

Church School Begins Sunday

Family Vacation Church School will be held at Holy Trinity United Methodist Church beginning Sunday and continuing through Thursday, June 16, from 7-9:30 each evening.

The nightly speaker will be the Rev. J. L. Wilson, founder and director of the New Directions Evangelistic Association. He will speak on the Christian family.

Crafts, recreation and refreshments will be a part of the school. A nursery will be available for children nursery ages on up.

How's The Weather?

WEATHER FORECAST — Sunny weather is forecast today for most of the nation. Rain is expected for the Atlantic coastal areas of the Northeast and for the upper Great Lakes. Showers are due in the northern Plains. Cool weather is forecast for northern states and warm weather will prevail in the South. (AP Wirephoto Map)

By The Associated Press
Another cold front passing through North Carolina dropped temperatures to the low 50s this morning, and there were some readings in the 40s.

The front spread showers and thundershowers across the state Thursday and brought several reports of tornadoes in the Morehead City and New Bern areas. The airport at New Bern measured wind gusts up to 53 miles an hour.

A tornado touched down and heavily damaged a trailer court near Morehead City and one person was injured. Another tornado was reported to have touched down briefly in a wooded area northeast of Beaufort.

High temperatures around the state Thursday ranged from the lower 70s in the mountains to the mid 80s along the south coast. Lows this morning included 43 at Charlotte and 46 at Hickory. Greensboro, Raleigh and Asheville all had a low of 51 degrees.

Sunny, breezy conditions prevailed today with temperatures reaching the 70s. Saturday is expected to be partly cloudy in the mountains and sunny elsewhere with temperatures ranging in the 70s in the mountains and north portion and in the low to mid 80s in the southeast.

LOOK!

"Behold!" — it's not a word we use much today. Yet it occurs more than 150 times in the King James version of the Bible.

"Behold" means to see. But it suggests more than mere sight. In the Bible it usually implies spiritual awareness. Jesus often used it to urge his disciples to understand and respond to spiritual truths.

Today we say "Look!" instead of "Behold!" Although the word has changed, the meaning has not. We still need to be aware of God's love. We still need to grasp those mysteries of life that can often perplex us.

This Sunday enlarge your spiritual vision in church. Come and BEHOLD.

Hunt's Annual School Testing Bill Wins Approval

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Jim Hunt's annual school testing bill has won General Assembly approval after House and Senate conferees reached a compromise.

The agreement specified which grades will be given the test — as Hunt wanted — but establishes for the first two grades a test different from the type he preferred.

The measure, approved Thursday, provides for the standardized, annual tests to be given in the first, second, third, sixth and ninth grades. Both the House and Senate had approved the bill earlier in the session, but the House version had left a decision on grades up to the state Board of Education.

Under the agreement, tests given first and second graders would be a type called "criterion reference," and tests given in other grades would be "norm reference" tests.

H.T. Conner, assistant superintendent of public instruction for planning, said that a criterion test is one in which results would be compared to a local average and which would specifically test materials taught in North Carolina schools. The norm test, he said, is one in which scores would be compared to a national average.

In other legislative action Thursday:

TWIN TRAILERS
The House Transportation Committee voted 15-8 to kill the Senate-passed bill allowing 65-foot long twin truck trailers to be driven in North Carolina, an increase of 10 feet on the present single-trailer limit. Supporters were considering an attempt to revive the bill by taking a minority report to the House floor, however. The bill was strongly supported by the trucking industry, but opposed by the railroad industry and by others who said it would not be safe.

LIQUOR
Fearing that they did not have the votes for passage, supporters of liquor-by-the-drink legislation persuaded the Senate to put off consideration of the issue until next Tuesday. "I know I'm beat right now on the floor. I may be beat Tuesday, but at least I ain't beat until Tuesday," Sen. William Smith, D-New Hanover, sponsor of the bill, told reporters.

The bill would permit liquor-by-the-drink elections in cities or counties which have ABC systems.

MEDICAID
Dental care would be dropped and most medical costs frozen at April levels under a series of cuts in the state's Medicaid program adopted by the Joint Appropriations Committee. That panel also assigned a special subcommittee to prepare a proposed balanced budget by Monday.

Secretary of Human Resources Sarah Morrow recommended the Medicaid cuts, totalling $11 million next year. A nearly $35 million state Medicaid deficit has been projected for the next two years.

The cuts would eliminate dental services for all except children and would freeze payments made to medical providers, except hospitals, at their April 1 level.

INSURANCE
The House Insurance Committee ignored a last-minute plea by Insurance Commissioner John Ingram and approved a bill that would reduce the commissioner's power to block rate increases. "It restricts the power of the commission and makes it next to impossible for the commissioner to do anything about the increase in rates," Ingram told the committee.

The measure now goes to the House floor. A similar bill is before the Senate. It would allow insurance companies to implement higher rates for auto, homeowners and other property and casualty insurance without the commissioner's prior approval. It would cost North Carolina drivers $54 million in increased auto liability rates alone next year, Ingram said.

CREDIT
A pair of bills supported bankers and merchants and dealing with credit card transactions was approved by the Senate without debate and sent to the House. One bill would allow merchants to claim title to merchandise purchased on revolving charge accounts until it is paid for. Now, that is not allowed. The other bill would remove the limit on how much banks could lend on credit cards, raise the 4 per cent banks may charge merchants on BankAmericard and Master Charge transactions to 6 per cent and allow banks and department stores to charge interest on the average daily balance.

ELECTION DATE
A Senate-passed bill that would shift the state's regular primary from August to the Tuesday after the first Monday in May and a bill that would set the state's presidential primary on the same date won the approval of the House Election Laws Committee. The measures now move to the House floor.

In calling for holding the regular primary and the presidential primary on the same date, Rep. Liston Ramsey, D-Madison, said it would save nearly all the $900,000 that a separate presidential primary would cost by 1980.

LAND MANAGEMENT
The House Natural and Economic Resources Committee

voted its approval of a statewide land management measure. The bill now will go to the House floor.

UTILITIES
The bill provides that by July 1, 1980, every county is to develop a land-classification plan, specifying lands as developed, transitional, community, rural or conservation. Cities also could develop land-classification plans.

The bill would reorganize the state Land Policy Council into a 32-member state Land Resources Commission which would enforce the act.

LITTER
The House Finance Committee sent a litter-control measure to a subcommittee, a step which its sponsor, Rep. Charles Holt, D-Cumberland, said probably meant its death. The bill would have levied a tax ranging from $10 to $100 on manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. Proceeds would have been used to provide matching funds to local governments for the purchase of litter-collection equipment and to the state Department of Transportation for litter removal along the highways.

Holt said the bill also would have tackled the problem of solid waste management and recycling of wastes.

GASTAX
The House Finance Committee also killed a bill by Rep. Vernon James, D-Pasquotank, to increase the state's gasoline tax from 9 to 10 cents per gallon. The bill would have raised up to $30 million a year which would have been earmarked for improving secondary roads.

UTILITIES
The Senate approved without debate a bill to change the method for utilities to compute the value of their equipment and plants. Now, the companies use a "fair-value" system which requires a complicated calculation involving factors such as original cost, inflation and depreciation. The bill, sponsored by Sen. I. Beverly Lake, D-Wake, would change that to a simpler "original-cost" method.

Lake said the fair-value system is so complicated that it accounts for about a third of the $500,000 to $1 million expense involved in a rate case before the Utilities Commission.

RAPE
A Senate judiciary committee postponed action on a bill to reinstate the death penalty for first-degree rape. The committee said it will wait for the U.S. Supreme Court to decide if capital punishment can constitutionally be applied for rape. Such a case is now pending before the court.

PORN
A Senate judiciary committee voted 5-4 to kill a measure aimed at closing down adult book stores and movie theaters. But, supporters of the bill signed a minority report and if a majority of the Senate agrees, the bill will be up for floor debate anyway. Opponents argued that the bill would violate the U.S. Constitution.

City Council...

to the assistant chief for direction and then to Smith if further questions arise.

Cox said that he thinks the city will have a "much more efficient squad if we keep it under the Fire Department."

The Council adopted an ordinance amending the City Code which would allow enclosed theatres as permitted uses in "Shopping Center" zones. No opposition was expressed to the amendment during a public hearing.

Action on a request by M. K. Blount Sr. to close a portion of River Drive from Eastern Street easterly to Johnson Heights was tabled following a public hearing during which several citizens questioned the street closing.

Approval was given by the board to a resolution approving the sale of Disposal Parcel R-3 in the Central Business District to Taft Furniture Co. for $62,780. Councilman Joe Taft Jr. abstained from voting on the matter.

The parcel is bounded on the north by Sixth Street, on the east by Evans Street, on the south by city property and on the west by the Taft Furniture Co. property. The tract contains some 13,920 square feet.

Melvin Buck, who is completing his first term on the Board of Adjustments, and Matthew Lewis, who is filling an unexpired term on the board, were reappointed for new three-year terms.

The Council reappointed Barbara Luciani and Jerry Cox to new terms as East Carolina University representatives on the Greenville Citizens Bikeway Committee and named Reed Warren to his first term as a student delegate on the committee.

William Gibbs was appointed to a three-year term on the Planning and Zoning Commission succeeding Ernest Eaton who completes his term this month.

Jamie Briley, Rufus Huggins and Ms. Becky McDonald were named to three-year terms on the Recreation Commission. Briley and Huggins complete their first terms this month while Ms. McDonald is filling an unexpired term which also ends this month.

Other action by the Council included:

Scheduling of a public hearing for July 7 to consider the adoption of a Tree Ordinance;

Approval of an application by Commercial Enterprises for renewal of a permit for the mobile home located on State Road 1534 and used as residential quarters for the resident manager of two warehouse buildings located on the site;

Approval of an application by Mrs. P. O. Allen for renewal of a permit for the mobile home located at 107 Church Street and used as a residence for her daughter;

Approval of an application by Ms. Almata L. McCoy for renewal of a permit for the mobile structure located at 1306 S. Pitt Street and used as a personal residence;

Scheduling of a public hearing on the adoption of an ordinance amending the City Code by adding a new section entitled "Required Vegetation and Traffic Control";

Adoption of an ordinance establishing a Capital Reserve Fund for the city in order to insure funding in the event of additions or relocation of the Public Works garage;

Tabling of action on the renewal of on-premise beer privilege licenses for Tar River Swim Club at Tar River Estates and Bridges Discount at 403 W. 12th Street;

Approval of an application by William Tyson for a taxicab operator's permit;

Approval of an application by the Unicorn at 2826 Memorial Drive for an on and off premise beer and wine privilege license;

Approval of an application by R. B. Jr. Lounge at 1107 W. Fifth Street for an on and off premise beer and wine privilege license;

Tabling of action on an application by Pipeline, located in the basement of the old Proctor Hotel building, for an on-premise beer and wine privilege license (Councilman Dr. Frank Fuller voted against tabling the matter in lieu of approval pending meeting code requirements);

Adoption of a supplemental municipal agreement covering traffic operating controls on the Pitt-Green connector with the N.C. Board of Transportation;

Adoption of a resolution of intent to close a 30-foot alley in the Higgs Subdivision and scheduling of a public hearing for July 7;

Adoption of a resolution condemning under the law of eminent domain a fee simple tract for the construction of a wastewater treatment plant (GUCCO was unable to determine ownership of the tract which involves a cemetery);

Approval of an ordinance, with Mrs. McGrath and Councilman Clarence Gray opposing, regarding abandoned and junk motor vehicles in the city;

Approval for the purchase of the city's share of prior membership or military service credits for Lt. Alexander G. Whitaker, Sgt. Leon A. Darden, and Lt. Redding B. Elks of the Police Department with the stipulation that the employees purchase their share of the total;

Approval of a request by the Downtown Greenville Association for waiver of the privilege license requirements for a craft show on July 8 and 9, Salute to Industry Day on July 23, sidewalk sale on Aug. 13, and flea market on Sept. 16 and 17;

Release and refund of 1976 taxes of $18.49 billed in error to Eugene Adams;

Scheduling of a public hearing on July 7 on a request by James Cheatham for rezoning from RA-20 to R-6 of 3.02 acres on the east side of NC 43 south of Carriage House Apartments;

Scheduling of a public hearing on July 7 on a request by F. L. Blount Jr. for rezoning from Neighborhood Commercial to Office and Institutional of 2.11 acres located east of Charles Boulevard and north of 14th Street;

Scheduling of a public hearing on July 7 of a request by J. T. Manning Jr. for rezoning from RA-20 to Office and Institutional of 2.76 acres on the north side of US 264 Bypass (former People's Bible Temple property);

Scheduling of a public hearing on July 7 on a request by Chap Tucker for rezoning from Highway Commercial and RA-20 to Highway Commercial and Office and Institutional of 32.6 acres on the south side of US 264 Bypass near the Greenville Mall site;

Scheduling of a public hearing on July 7 on a petition by Cheatham for annexation of 3.02 acres located on the east side of NC 43 south of Carriage House Apartments; and Scheduling of a public hearing on a request by Fred Mattox for annexation of 16 acres located west of the new hospital.

Ford Ponders A Huge Recall

DETROIT (AP) — Prompted by the death of a mechanic, a federal safety agency has stepped up its investigation of faulty fan blades that could result in the recall of 6.2 million Ford Motor Co. cars and trucks.

Such a recall would be the second largest in history.

The mechanic, Roger Keyes, 24, of Rockwood, Mich., was injured May 22 in a Detroit garage when the fan broke on the 1972 Ford Torino he was repairing, said the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. He died last Saturday.

Ford spokesmen said Thursday they knew of the death only after being contacted by a reporter.

A neighbor said Keyes was at work when "the fan broke and caught him through the chest and throat."

Joan Claybrook, head of the NHTSA, has said the incident "shows the urgent necessity of an immediate recall." She called it a "severe problem."

Last week, the NHTSA said it was considering recalling up to 6.2 million 1970-77 model Ford cars and light trucks because the engine cooling fan blades could break off and injure someone working under the hood.

Ms. Claybrook said Ford had reported 185 complaints, including 13 reports of injuries, to the traffic safety administration.

Ford previously agreed to a voluntary recall of 425,000 vehicles, all of them 1972 models. The company said fans from other model years do not pose a safety hazard.

Specific vehicles involved in the voluntary recall are Lincolns, Ford Torinos and Mercury Montegos with 302-, 351- and 400-cubic inch engines and air conditioning. The fans in question have seven blades, compared with five-blade fans in other vehicles.

Ford Vice President Herbert Misch, in charge of safety matters, said the company will begin notifying 1972-model owners of the recall on June 16, when free replacement fans should be available at dealers.

Grifton Man To Be Appointed To Commission

Gov. James B. Hunt will appoint Sam McLawhorn of Grifton to the state Agriculture Commission, the governor's office has confirmed.

The appointment will be announced early next week. McLawhorn will serve a six-year term on the Commission. He has served on the Pitt County Farm Bureau and is a self-employed farmer.

From 1966 to 1975 McLawhorn was a salesman and farm consultant with Grifton Fertilizer Supply Company. He has been involved in Mason, Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner activities.

McLawhorn could not be reached for comment this morning.

Find Gap In Fire Reports

FORT MITCHELL, Ky. (AP) — The most recent inspection at the Beverly Hills Supper Club, where at least 161 persons died in a Memorial Day weekend fire, showed no fire safety violations. But officials can't explain a four-year gap in the inspection records.

Meanwhile, State Police Commissioner Kenneth Brandenburgh said he would conclude his investigation at the club in Southgate today, and would issue a statement probably dealing with the fire's "origin, source and cause."

Officials have refused to confirm or deny the report given to The Associated Press by an insurance investigator in Atlanta that the May 28 fire started at a decorative fountain and burned for several hours before being discovered.

In Frankfort, State Fire Marshal Warren Southworth said the club had passed its most recent fire safety inspection, on Jan. 27.

But there are no documents in the files for the years 1972-75. Southworth said he doesn't know whether this indicates that no inspections were made or whether inspection records and correspondence for those years are missing.

The inspection files were released Thursday after they were returned by investigators at Southgate. The most recent entry was a nine-line, handwritten report signed by state inspector John Bramlage.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — The trend on the North Carolina f.o.b. dock broiler market was higher today, with supplies moderate, demand good, weights desirable. The dock weighted average price for next week is 43.89 cents per pound for small purchases of sized plant grade broilers picked up at processing plants. Estimated slaughter today 1,357,000.

The North Carolina hen market was steady for heavy type, supplies fully adequate, demand light. Prices paid per pound for hens over seven pounds at farm for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday slaughter 13 cent; f.o.b. plants too few to report.

By CHET CURRIER
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today in a rerun of Thursday's uncertain showing.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 93 at 908.92.

But gainers outpaced losers by close to a 3-2 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

First-hour volume on the Big Board came to 5.20 million shares.

The market showed some scattered gains at the outset after New York's Citibank announced it was holding its prime lending rate at 6 1/2 percent for the second straight week.

Citibank's formula for determining the prime rate called for an increase to 7 percent. But the bank, New York's largest, changed its formula and kept the posted rate on blue-chip loans at 6 1/2 percent.

The Dow rose only about a point in early trading, however, and by mid-morning it had settled back to the minus side.

Pan American World Airways was the most active NYSE issue, up 1/4 at 5 1/2. A 100,000-share block changed hands at 5.

Universal Leaf Tobacco, opening late, dropped 1 1/2 to 27 1/2. Congoleum Corp. said Thursday it was dropping a takeover bid that Universal Leaf had opposed.

The 11 a.m. NYSE composite index was up .06 to 53.68. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained 20 to 114.23.

JIM YOUNG, Director of Institutional Development at Pitt Technical Institute, has been named to the Board of Directors for the National Council for Resource Development of the American Association of Junior and Community Colleges.

The Council works with Congress, the U.S. Office of Education and other federal agencies in shaping and execution of federal educational legislation and the operation of various federal grant and contract programs.

Dr. Young has been active in community college resource development activities and has conducted local, regional and national seminars on resource development and grantsmanship. He has served as president of North Carolina's association of community college resource development personnel.

Seventh Holdup

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — After being robbed for the seventh time, Thomas Whitley has made up his mind: No more Mr. Nice Guy.

"The next time someone comes up to me, they're going to have to kill me before they can rob me," said Whitley, 55, who runs a pool room and works as a janitor for a local bank.

He was on his way into the bank early Wednesday when a young man approached him from behind, put a blunt object to his back and demanded money and jewelry.

Whitley gave him a diamond ring and about $100.

His pool room has been broken into four times and his home has been robbed twice in the past six years.

"I'm tired of it and next time I'm going to do something about it," he said.

Kelly Heath Signs Royal Pact; Assigned To Daytona Beach Club

Kelly Heath, former Rose High School pitcher-shortstop, has signed a professional baseball contract with the Kansas City Royals organization.

Heath, drafted earlier this week in the seventh round of the free agent draft, signed last night with the Royals, and was assigned to the Class A Daytona Beach club of the organization.

"I really expected to be sent to Sarasota in the Rookie League," Heath said. Instead, he'll be moved up a notch right away to the Class A ranks in the Florida State League.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Heath of Greenville, Kelly led the Rose High School team to a state 4-A baseball championship three years ago when he was a senior. He starred both as a pitcher and a shortstop for the team.

For the past two years, he has been a member of the Louisville Junior College team, where he played strictly in the shortstop position. He made the All-Conference team for both years, and was named to the All-Regional team this year. He also was listed on the third team of the All-America Junior College team.

"I've really looked forward to this for a long time," Heath said. "I've got to be at Daytona Beach on the 16th. They said they'd give me a couple of days to work out and get back in the groove and then start playing me."

Heath will continue to play the shortstop position for the Daytona Beach team.

A .400 hitter this past season, Heath slammed out nine hits in 14 trips during the short Louisville stay in the national junior college tournament this year. Playing with him on the team was another Greenville native, J. C. Daniels, who earlier inked a contract with the Los Angeles Dodger organization. He has been assigned to a team in Canada.

Heath hopes to make the 2-A ranks next season, but is unsure what his future might bring. "I guess I've got a pretty good shot at making the majors some day since I've been drafted. But I don't really know. I'll just have to wait and see."

He also expressed satisfaction with his signing bonus. In a year when bonuses are expected to be thin because of the number of super-star free agent signings, Heath said his was not "really big" but he was "just satisfied to get a shot at a chance to play."

Bobby Supel, a Greene County native, now played with East Carolina, was also drafted this week, but has not reached a decision on whether he will turn pro or not.

Milwaukee Bucks Look To Best Talent With Three Early Picks

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some shrewd trading, plus an assist from lady luck, put the Milwaukee Bucks in the catbird's seat for today's National Basketball Association draft of college talent.

The Bucks earned the first pick in the draft by finishing with the worst record in the Western Conference, then winning a coin flip from the Kansas City Kings. The trades gave the Bucks the third and 11th picks in the first round, meaning Milwaukee is virtually assured of picking up three quality players in the annual lottery.

They hope those three will complete a rebuilding job begun last year, when coach Don Nelson worked a number of first and second-year players into the lineup.

The key to the process is Kent Benson, the two-time All-American center from Indiana. The Bucks announced in April, as soon as they earned the right to pick first, that they would open the draft by picking Benson.

"He's a pure center," said

Angelo.

Among the top collegians eligible for the draft, besides Benson, were:

Centers — Tom LaGarde of North Carolina, Tree Rollins of Clemson, Jell Wilkins of Illinois State, Jack Sikma of Illinois Wesleyan, Wilson Washington of Old Dominion and Bob Elliott of Arizona.

Forwards — Marques Johnson of UCLA, Walter Davis of North Carolina, Greg Ballard of Oregon, Cornbread Maxwell of UNC-Charlotte, Ernie Grunfeld of Tennessee, Anthony Roberts of Oral Roberts, Alonzo Bradley of Texas Southern and Bob Ellis of Marquette.

Guards — Otis Birdsong of Houston, Rickey Green of Michigan, Ray Williams of Minnesota, Norm Nixon of Minnesota, Tate Armstrong of Duke and Ed Jordan of Rutgers.

Six undergraduates were also eligible, including three who were likely to go high in the 10-round selection process — forwards Bernard King of Tennessee and Kenny Carr of North Carolina State and guard Brad Davis of Maryland. The other three eligible undergraduates were Ray Epps of Norfolk State, James Redwine of Eastern Washington State and Ray Tatum of Malone.

Little, Kazmierski Tied After First Round Of LPGA Tourney

By AL LANIER
Associated Press Writer

NORTH MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — South Africa's Sally Little, a leggy 5-foot-8, says she had to learn to "plant myself" before hitting a golf ball on a windy day.

Plant herself she did Thursday, and it paid off with a five-under-par 67, good for a tie with Joyce Kazmierski after one round of this week's Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament.

"This is the only time I wanted an extra 30 pounds," said the willowy Miss Little after coastal winds gusting to more than 25 miles per hour sprayed

Carr Passing Up Senior Year

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — he goes with nothing but appreciation for what he's done here and best wishes from us. He's a great player and I'm fully confident he will be a great pro."

Carr's career-high of 1,772 points places him behind only David Thompson and Sammy Ranzino in Wolfpack history.

He led the Wolfpack in either scoring or rebounding in 25 of 28 games last season, and his 21-point-per-game average earned him his second ACC scoring title in three seasons. As a sophomore he had an ACC-high 26.6 point average.

Farmville Nips Winterville, 9-8

Farmville outlasted Winterville, 9-8, in a Senior Babe Ruth League game played at Guy Smith Stadium last night.

A game between the Kiwanis and Bill Clifton was postponed, and a contest between Warren Farm Supply and Ayden-Grifton was also delayed.

Farmville remained unbeaten with the win, 3-0, while Winterville plunged to 0-3 with the loss.

Farmville scored three runs in the first inning. Ted Dunn reached on an error and stole second. Scott Evans singled him to third and a passed ball scored him. Phillip Gordon reached on an error and Lonnie Jones singled to score both Evans and Gordon.

Winterville came up with three in the third. Jeff Mills reached on a fielder's choice and Nookie Clemons singled. Both advanced on a passed ball, and Donnie Cox walked to load them up. Randy Edens singled in Mills, and a hit by Ben Wilson scored both Clemons and Cox.

Farmville regained the lead with two in the fifth. Don Holloman singled and Dunn reached on an error. Evans also was safe on an error, scoring Holloman. Gordon sacrificed

Dunn over for a 5-3 lead.

Winterville scored once in the bottom of the frame. Clemons walked and stole second. He moved to third on a passed ball and scored when Edens grounded out.

Farmville got three more in the sixth. Clark May walked and Holloman singled. Dunn reached on an error, scoring May, and a hit by Evans scored both Holloman and Dunn.

Winterville rallied in the bottom of the seventh to score four and tie it up. Mike Phillips singled and Mills walked and with two outs, Edens singled in Phillips and Mills. Wilson singled and a passed ball scored Edens. Charlie Nobles then singled in Wilson to knot it at 8-8.

But Farmville came right back in the top of the eighth to win it with a run. Holloman singled and Dunn again reached on an error. Evans walked to load them up, and a passed ball let Holloman in.

Holloman led the Farmville hitting with three, while Evans had two. Clemons, Edens and Wilson each had two for Winterville.

Auto Specialty Takes 9-1 Win

Auto Specialty moved back into a tie for first place in the Prep League last night with a 9-1 victory over Pitt Plaza.

The win left Auto Specialty with a 3-1 record in the league, while Pitt Plaza is now 1-3.

Auto Specialty scored one run in the first to take the lead. Jonathan McGee reached on an error and stole second. An error moved him on to third. He scored on Mike Pollard's single.

Pitt Plaza tied it up with one in the third. Billy Brannigan reached on an error and stole second. He moved to third on an out, and scored on a wild pitch, making it 1-1.

But Auto Specialty scored again in the third to move back out, 2-1. McGee walked and stole up. He moved to third on Chris Joyner grounded out.

The fourth saw Auto Specialty score two more runs. Joe Joyner walked and Jeff Boyd reached on a hit. Scott Johnson reached on an error, scoring both runners.

The other five came in the fifth. Pollard singled and Joyner walked. Jimmy Jones singled in

Gullett Getting His Rhythm Back

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Don Gullett has lost his velocity, but none of his vitality. "I feel great now," says the New York Yankees' left-hander. "It's just a matter of getting my rhythm back."

The absence of rhythm has cost Gullett some speed on his fastball — although the Milwaukee Brewers hardly noticed it while dropping a 10-1 decision to Gullett and the Yankees Thursday.

"I had better movement with my pitches today, but my velocity just wasn't there," said Gullett, attempting to get back in the groove after early-season injuries. "My consistency and control weren't there, either."

Gullett, one of the great catchers made by the Yankees in last winter's free agent shopping spree, pitched seven strong innings. He allowed only four hits before getting relief from Dick Tidrow.

The victory was Gullett's fifth straight after two losses to the Brewers in April.

In other American League games, the Kansas City Royals defeated the Minnesota Twins 7-2, the Boston Red Sox trimmed the Baltimore Orioles 7-3, the Chicago White Sox nipped the Texas Rangers 4-3 in 11 innings, and the Seattle Mariners edged the Detroit Tigers 2-1.

The Yankees gave Gullett all the support he needed with a four-run first inning highlighted by Fran Healy's two-run single.

Royals 7, Twins 2
John Wathan keyed a three-run sixth-inning with a two-run single and Andy Hassler and Steve Mingori teamed on a four-hitter as Kansas City trimmed Minnesota.

Hassler hurled hitless ball until the sixth in boosting his record to 3-1. Holding a 4-0 lead, Hassler yielded an RBI triple in the sixth to American League hitting leader Rod Carew, then a run-scoring single to Craig Kuskic. Mingori came in at the start of the seventh and allowed only an eighth-inning single to Larry Hise.

The loser was Pete Redfern, 2-4, who left at the start of the seventh because of a recurrence of a sprained thigh muscle.

Red Sox 7, Orioles 3
Jim Rice hit two homers and Fred Lynn and Carlton Fisk one each, powering Boston past Baltimore. Winner Bill Lee, 4-1, allowed two runs in struggling through the first five innings and Bill Campbell checked the Orioles on only one run over the final four innings.

White Sox 4, Rangers 3
Pinch-hitter Wayne Nordhagen's two-out single in the 11th inning scored pinch runner Brian Downing, giving Chicago its victory over Texas in a 4½-hour game.

Chicago catcher Jim Essian started the winning rally with a single and Downing ran for him. Ralph Garr singled, but Alan Bannister, who had five consecutive hits, flied out. Left-hander Paul Lindblad came in and struck out Jorge Orta, but then Nordhagen delivered his clutch hit just beyond the outstretched glove of third baseman Toby Harrah.

Mariners 2, Tigers 1
Lee Stanton smashed a tie-breaking home run, his sixth of the season, in the eighth inning, lifting Seattle over Detroit. Winning reliever Enrique Romo, 3-3, hurled 3 1-3 innings of hitless ball.

Niekro Knucker Breezes Past Thirteen As Atlanta Wins, 3-0

By ED SHEARER
AP Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — Knuckleballer Phil Niekro has his special pitch dancing again.

"Some were going up, some were going down, some were going away," said Philadelphia second baseman Ted Sizemore after Niekro fanned a career-high 13 batters Thursday night to lead the Atlanta Braves to a 3-0 victory over the Phillies, who managed only four singles in the game.

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs blanked San Francisco 1-0 in 11 innings and St. Louis beat Los Angeles 6-3. Cincinnati's game at New York was rained out again.

Niekro's victory was his third in the last four starts and his second shutout. The right-hander, 4-8, opened the season by losing his first seven decisions.

"Yes, I'm out of the slump now," Niekro said. "A lot of it was in my delivery and a lot in my head. You get those going against you and you haven't got much to go with."

Niekro was lodged in a pitching duel with southpaw Jim Kaat until the Braves scored their runs in the fifth inning on a three-run homer by Rod Gilbreath.

He fanned five straight batters during one stretch in the middle innings, then wrapped up the masterpiece in the ninth by striking out the side.

"I had it (the knucker) just about the whole game," Niekro said. "I mixed in a few fast balls, but those were the only two pitches I used. It's the best game I've pitched this year. Any time I strike out 13 I've got to have a good knuckle ball."

Cubs 1, Giants 0
Pinch-hitter Jose Cardenal's bases-loaded squeeze bunt in the 11th inning scored pinch-runner Mick Kelleher to give Chicago its victory over San Francisco.

"He told me to take one pitch and then bunt," Cardenal said of Manager Herman Franks, who has used Cardenal sparingly because of his .171 batting average.

George Mitterwald led off the 11th with a double off Randy Moffitt. Charlie Williams relieved and Greg Gross sacrificed Kelleher to third. The Giants then filled the bases by intentionally walking Ivan De-

Jesus and Larry Bittner before Cardenal provided his game-winning bunt.

Chicago relief ace Bruce Sutter, 1-1, who has 16 saves, picked up his first victory of the season. Both Ed Halicki of the Giants and Bill Bonham matched no-hit innings into the sixth, but neither was around at the end.

Cardinals 6, Dodgers 3
Pitcher Bob Forsch's two hits and two runs scored and his 61-3 innings of seven-hit ball enabled the Cards to down Los Angeles.

Forsch lost his shutout on a sixth-inning wild pitch, then gave way to Al Hrabosky in the seventh following Dusty Baker's 11th home run, a two-run shot.

Rick Rhoden, 8-3, chief victim of St. Louis' 13-hit assault, was stymied in his bid to become the National League's first nine-game winner.

Home Builders In First Win

Home Builders won its first game of the season last night in the Babe Ruth League and at the same time knocked North Carolina National Bank out of the lead, 5-4.

The results left NCNB with a 4-2 record, while Home Builders climbed to 1-4.

Home Builders scored twice in the first inning. Barry Tyson reached on an error and stole both second and third. Chris Ross walked and stole second. Gavin Ray reached on an error, scoring both Tyson and Ross for a 2-0 lead.

NCNB came right back to tie it up with two of its own. Mike Campbell singled and moved up on a wild pitch. Glen Moore singled and stole second. Skip Topping singled to score Campbell, and a sacrifice fly by Mark Shank scored Moore.

Home Builders went back out, 3-2, with a run in the third. Jeff Worthington singled and Ray reached on a fielder's choice. Shelton Wilson singled to score Worthington.

But again, NCNB rallied to tie it up. Campbell doubled and moved up on an out. He scored when Barrett reached on an error.

Home Builders got one more in the fifth. Ross walked and stole second. He took third on a passed ball and scored on Ray's out.

One final time, NCNB tied it up right away. Shank reached on an error and stole second. He took third on Mike Mills' errored grounder, scoring on the play also.

Finally, in the seventh, Home Builders broke the tie, this time for good. Ross tripled and scored when Eddie Moye singled.

Ross led the Home Builders hitting with two, while Campbell had two for NCNB.

First Federal Romps To Win

First Federal let no one doubt that it was moving back into a share of first place in the Tar Heel Little League yesterday, as it stomped Big Value Drugs, 26-2.

The win left First Federal with a 9-2 mark, good enough for a share of the league lead, while Big Value slipped to a 3-9 mark.

First Federal got all it was to need in the first inning when it scored nine runs. Horace Barrett led off with a double and Mont Brown singled him in. Marty Radford singled, and a hit by Tyrone Barrett loaded the bases. William Waugh singled to score Brown.

Mont Carter's single brought in both Radford and Tyrone Barrett, with Waugh scoring on a single by Keith Stocks after Leon Moore had walked. Carter also scored on Stocks' hit. A wild pitch scored Moore and Horace Barrett, back up, walked. Radford reached on an error, scoring Stocks and a passed ball let Barrett in with the ninth run.

The third saw three more runs score. Waugh walked and moved up on a balk, a passed ball, and then scored on an error. Carter doubled and scored on two passed balls. Moore reached on an error and moved around on two wild pitches and a passed ball.

Big Value got both of its runs in the third. Tracy Cain reached on a fielder's choice and Steve Wall was hit by a pitch. Jeff Austin singled to load the bases, and Bill Johnson reached on an error, scoring Cain. A walk to Matthew Saied scored Wall.

Big Value went on to score three in the fourth, one in the fifth, and ten in the sixth to finish up the scoring.

Carter hurled the victory, allowing only two hits.

Arizona State Holding Lead

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Lanky junior John Stark of Houston held a three-stroke lead going into the third round of the NCAA Golf Championships here today after posting a two-day total of 142.

Arizona State continued to lead the team competition in the four-day tournament at Colgate University's Seven oaks golf course.

Tied for second in the individual competition at 145 were Lee Mikels of Arizona State and Dan Pohl of Arizona, whose 71 Thursday was the low for the day.

Stark, 21, from San Antonio, Tex., playing in a daylong drizzle, turned in matching scores of 36 to add to his first-round score of 70 from Wednesday.

Tied for third at 146 were Joe Walter of Georgia, defending champion Scott Simpson of Southern California and Sam Trajan of Florida.

Steve Waugh of Georgia Southern had a 72 for a two-day total of 147, while Payne Stewart of Southern Methodist University, Lindy Miller of Oklahoma State and Scott Watkins of Arizona State remained in contention with 148s.

Arizona State, led by the play of Mikels, Watkins and Bill Loeffler, had a 592 team total, followed by Houston at 598, Georgia at 602 and Georgia Southern at 605.

"The course definitely favored the long ball hitter, while the greens held better after the rain," Stark said after his tour of the course Thursday.

Storey Grabs Memphis Lead

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tom Storey, once a Las Vegas song and dance man, turned escape artist in the Danny Thomas-Memphis Golf Classic.

"When it's your day, it's your day," shrugged Storey, for five years an entertainer in Strip hotels, after his unorthodox putting style enabled him to escape almost constant trouble and turn potential disaster into the first round lead Thursday.

He one-putted 10 times, once chipped in for an eagle three and needed only 24 strokes on the greens on his way to a seven-under-par 65 — by far the best round of his career.

A gallery of only five people watched the slender, chipper, 35-year-old in his adventures over the 7,193-yard Colonial Country Club course, adventures that were highlighted by his putting stance in which his right hand is about a foot down the shaft of the club and the left hand "hanging on to the top."

"If you can't putt any other way, you do the best you can," said Storey, who joined the tour only last year and had done absolutely nothing at all until he broke through for a victory in the Oklahoma City Open, a satellite event, a few weeks ago. That was worth $9,000. He's won only one other check this season.

"When it's going bad for you, there seems to be absolutely nothing you can do to change it. And when it's going good for you, it looks like you can't do anything to change that, either. This was one of those kind of days," he said after establishing a two-stroke lead over globe-trotter Gary Player, who managed a solid 67 despite the jet lag he said he was experiencing after the long flight from his South African home.

Mike Hill was next with a 68. The group at 69 included Hale Irwin, John Schroeder, Woody Blackburn, Tom Shaw, lefty Sam Adams, Mike Morley and Gary McCord.

Jerry Pate matched par 72 in his first competitive round since the Masters. Pate, who has been sidelined with a pinched nerve in his neck, will defend his U.S. Open title in Tulsa, Okla. next week.

Johnny Miller and Tom Weiskopf, a winner last week, were at 71. Lee Trevino had a 72. PGA champ Dave Stockton and Ray Floyd shot 73s and Dave Hill, Mike's older brother and a four-time winner of this tournament, had a 75.

Ben Crenshaw, who has been taking medication for a sinus problem, became ill while playing in the hot, humid weather and withdrew. Gibby Gilbert, who won this tournament last year, was unable to start because of pulled rib cage muscles.

Storey tried and failed to gain his playing rights in 1968, started his five-year Las Vegas entertainment career in 1971, once functioned as a golf pro for Louis Prima and joined the tour last year.

In 1976 pitcher Phil Niekro of Atlanta threw a home run ball to Joe Niekro of Houston, his brother.

Uihlein Wins Women's Title

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP) — "I've never made one like it," said Noreen Uihlein of the remarkable par on the first playoff hole that helped her to the title in the 66th Women's Eastern Golf Championship.

Mrs. Uihlein, a cool 23-year-old from Hershey, Pa., blew the three-stroke lead she held going into Thursday's final round, but picked up three shots in the last four holes for a 54-hole total of 221, five over par, which tied her with Lancy Smith of Snyder, N.Y.

Then, on the first hole in the dramatic three-hole medal playoff, Mrs. Uihlein hooked her drive deep into the woods but came back to make par. Miss Smith, 29, took a bogey from just in front of the green.

That seemed to set the pattern as Mrs. Uihlein picked up another stroke on the second hole when Miss Smith got a bad break as her second shot slid off the green and down another slope to another bogey.

Mrs. Uihlein, runner-up in the even last year in Rochester, N.Y., then won a two-stroke victory when both players made par on the third extra hole, which was No. 18.

After early rounds of 71 and 73, Mrs. Uihlein had shot a final round of 77 on the tight, tree-lined Mid Pines Club, set up for par 72 over 5,911 yards. Miss Smith came in with 74 in the final round to go with 72 and 75.

In third place was Jeanne-Marie Boylan of Newton, Mass., president of the Women's Eastern Golf Association.

Field Vs. Slew In Belmont Run

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Someone at the draw for post positions for the 109th running of the Belmont Stakes wondered why Johnny Campo had bothered to enter two horses against unbeaten Seattle Slew. But Campo was not in attendance, so Mickey Taylor, whose wife Karen is listed as Slew's owner, stepped in. "It's like Campo says, 'I know there's one horse I can't beat, but I can beat the rest.'"
A field of 10 3-year-olds was entered on Thursday for Saturday's third jewel of thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown. If Seattle Slew can overcome that large field, he not only will be the first undefeated Triple Crown winner, he also will have overcome a larger field than any of his nine predecessors.
But Taylor does not believe the large field indicates there still are those who question the colt's ability. "They want to put up the money," he said "and it makes no difference to us how many enter. Iron Constitution, Run Dusty Run, Sanhedrin, they deserve to be in it. The rest have high hopes."
The Campo entry of Max Gluck's Make Amends and Hey Hey J.P., owned by Campo and his wife, likely will not make it to post (at about 5:38 p.m. EDT) intact, however. Campo is expected to scratch Hey Hey J.P. and run him in the Key-stone Handicap on the same day as the Belmont, leaving nine in the field.
Regardless, Taylor is not worried about Seattle Slew's competition. "I don't worry about the other horses. I never have. Slew can gallop faster than most horses can run," he said. "And this is our playground this time. We're the home team."
Seattle Slew, the winner of his first eight starts — four of them in New York — including the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, under jockey Jean Cruguet, drew the No. 6 post position for the 1½-mile Belmont, which will be worth $183,000 if all 10 go. The winner would earn $110,280.
In order of post position, the Belmont entries were Golden Chance Farm's Run Dusty Run, Sandy Hawley; Harry T. Mangurian Jr.'s Iron Constitution, Angel Cordero Jr.; Hey Hey J.P., no boy; Make Amends, Ron Turcotte; La Luna Stable's Sir Sir, Gustavo Avila; Seattle Slew; Elaine Brodsky's Leading Scorer, no boy; Darby Dan Farm's Sanhedrin, Jorge Velasquez; John L. Greer's Mr. Red Wing, Jacinto Vasquez, and Meadow Stable's Spirit Level, Tony Graell. All will carry 126 pounds.

Nobody Wanted That Spindly Little Horse

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
Once upon a time there was this new-born colt running by his mother's side over a lush, blue-grass meadow in Kentucky. His papa's name was Bold Reasoning, his mother's My Charming.
But the offspring was not much of a charmer himself. He was an ungainly animal that only his mother would look at twice. His body was stocky and compact. His legs were thin and fragile as toothpicks. He was the color of chocolate without much cream, no white markings anywhere.
When the colt was shipped to Keeneland yearling sales, where most good thoroughbred colts wind up, he went practically unnoticed. All the famous stables turned out — the Whitneys, the Galbreaths, the Vanderbills — but they had no eye for our awkward hero.
"With a body like that and those thin ankles, he'll break an ankle the first time he runs hard — like Ruffian," said one horseman.
"Doesn't look good to me," added another.
In the wings was a young veterinarian from Fort Myers, Fla., who kept eyeing the colt, patting his buttocks and rubbing his tender ankles.

"Hey, you're something — you could be quite a race-horse," the doctor said.
The doctor — let's call him James Hill — doesn't race horses, he just cures them. But he suddenly remembered he had a friend 2,000 miles away who might be interested.
Far away in a little village of White Swan, Wash., on an Indian reservation not far from Seattle, a young logger had become interested in race horses when his pretty wife said she wanted a horse for an anniversary present instead of a mink coat.
Let's call the logger Mickey Taylor and his wife Karen — a young attractive couple, who look like Robert Redford and Katherine Ross of the movies. Not the horse set at all. Just plain folks.
Mickey got rich by investing in lumber for pulp when the market was hot. His racing stable was small, largely a hobby.

"Hey, Mickey," said Dr. Hill. "I got a good colt here which I think I can get pretty cheap."
"Buy him," said Mickey. "I'll give him to Karen."
Doc picked up the colt at the sales for $17,500. It was like buying him in the basement at Woolworth's.
"What are we going to name him?" Mickey asked brown-eyed Karen.
They pondered a while. "Well," said Karen, "how about Seattle Slew? You know, Seattle for us and Slew for Jim, who found him for us." A slew is a muddy backwater in Florida.
Not a majestic name, but not a majestic horse — yet. The new owners got a young trainer who had never saddled a horse in the Derby. To ride, didn't reach out for Angel Cordero or Willie Shoemaker. They got an obscure Frenchman named Jean Cruguet.

Real Achievements By ICT Program Students

At Rose High School during the just concluded school year, students of the Industrial Cooperative Training (ICT) program achieved an impressive record of work and earnings.

According to Claude West, who with Mrs. Mary Stocks, coordinates the ICT program at Rose, the 74 students enrolled in ICT during the 1976-77 school year put in a total of 50,254 work hours, earning $117,110.

The jobs the students worked at in Greenville and the local area, West said, were completely varied, ranging from glass cutting and installation to orderly duties in Greenville Villa and at Pitt Memorial Hospital; from floral arrangements to plumbing.

"Impressive as these figures may be," West commented, "the attitude of these students toward work, toward school, toward life has changed as they have matured into men and women who will be graduating. This change has been the result of the acceptance of responsibility at work and school."

Work and earning money is not, however, the only concern of these 74 boys and girls. On April 21 they honored their employers with a banquet. At another time they held a field day event, with a cook-out and outdoor contests such as sack races, apple bobbing, and egg throwing.

One of the achievements West and Mrs. Stocks take particular pride in was the students' participation in insuring the financial underwriting of the Rose High production of The Fantastiks.

"They sold ads, they sold candy," West said, "and when they finished this, they found themselves with enough money left over to devote to a worthy project. Their decision was to buy a wheelchair for a patient at the Greenville Villa. It is no wonder we are proud of these students and what they are doing to enrich the school, the community and themselves."

Offer Course In Home Sewing

Declarer found an unusual way to force the defenders into a choice of losing options on this deal from a rubber bridge game.

South judged that his 18 points and five-card suit made his hand a whit too strong for a one no trump opening bid, even opposite a partner who has passed originally. Therefore, he elected to open one club and rebid two no trump over his partner's diamond response, and North was delighted to go to game.

West led his fourth-best spade, and declarer realized that he had a problem. The spade suit was likely to break 5-3, so declarer could not afford to knock out the ace of diamonds. Once the defenders got in with that card, they might be able to cash just enough spade tricks to defeat the hand.

Declarer saw that there was a way to come to nine tricks without using the diamonds. The opening spade led guaranteed him a trick in that suit, and there were three sure heart tricks. If the club king were outside, declarer could score five club tricks to bring his total to nine.

There was just one drawback to that line—declarer had no quick entry to the table. In case West was leading from A-Q-10 in spades, declarer played dummy's nine to the first trick. That chance evaporated when East produced the ace. But declarer came up with the deft counter-stroke. In the hope that West had led from the queen of spades, he jettisoned his king under the ace!

The defenders tried their best. East shifted to a heart, taken by declarer. If East held the ace of diamonds in addition to the presumed king of clubs, the contract could have been underwritten, so declarer led a diamond toward dummy.

West rose with the ace and, in an attempt to mislead declarer as to the location of the spade queen, he shifted back to the ten of spades.

But declarer would not be diverted from his plan. He called for dummy's jack of spades. When that held, all that was needed to make the rest of the tricks was a successful club finesse.

Says Crafts Shape Lives In America

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Walter F. Mondale told a group of American crafts creators that works like theirs, and not machines and technology, are the shaping forces in American life.

"Crafts are now being called upon to play a very important role in the restructuring of our lives," the vice president's wife said at a dinner given in her honor Thursday night by the American Crafts Council.

"For much of our history, the crafts have been the forgotten art forms — neglected by historians, critics, curators and gallery owners," Mrs. Mondale continued.

"The age of industrialization is over. We have entered a new era when what we need is not more machines or technology but a sensitivity to what is best in our society, what is worth expending energy on."

Earlier Thursday, Mrs. Mondale visited the council's national conference here and toured a variety of arts and crafts centers, looking at exhibits and watching several demonstrations.

Late in the day, the vice president's wife was the honorary guest at the opening of a survey of the craft heritage of the Southeast in a downtown Winston-Salem mall.

The exhibit is being presented by 10 states and the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild and supported by the Greater Downtown Association of Winston-Salem. It features artists and craftsmen working in the

Some Losses To Earworm

The damage done to the corn crop by the corn earworm in Pitt County may be misleading, according to Gaylon Ambrose, Assistant Agricultural Extension Agent.

The dry weather experienced earlier this spring has contributed to the early build up of corn earworm in eastern North Carolina. Infestations of up to 50 per cent of the plants in the field could be tolerated before treatment is required.

"The problem with application of insecticide is getting the material on the pest. It is very difficult and often impossible to get the insecticide down in the whorl of the corn plant for proper treatment," Ambrose said.

Efforts to spray now to reduce further generations of the corn earworm later in the season are not practical, Ambrose added.

Corn earworm is primarily a pest in the soybean crop later on in the season.

MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS
If you've got what it takes, we've got what you need.
What it takes is a special kind of person. A person who has the guts to open his own business, to be his own boss. A person who doesn't mind a lot of profit for a little effort. A person who enjoys the good feeling of helping others while he helps himself.
You've heard of quite a few opportunities! Maybe even at times sort-of-wished you had called to find out about it or even really listened to those who were trying to share with you, their success well.
It's a truly unique opportunity for the right person who is sincerely interested in earning good money from a modest and earnest concern and effort. Yes, there is an investment - "The next few minutes, you spend dialing this number, 527-5365" - or write to us, is that too much of an investment? Because if you really want to mind your own business, the best way to start is by minding a part of ours!

'Secret Army' Of CIA Is Said Out Of Control

By JERRY BUCK
 AP Television Writer
 LOS ANGELES (AP) —

The remnants of the secret army the CIA recruited to fight Cuba's Fidel Castro are "out of control . . . on a collision course with Washington instead of Havana," says Bill Moyers in a CBS Reports that airs tonight.

Moyers said the American shift toward friendlier Cuban relations has left this Miami-based band of Cuban exiles still determined to wage a war of liberation against the Communist-dominated island — even if it means trouble with its former sponsor, the U.S. government.

The two-hour documentary traces the course of the Cuban exile army — "which we were never supposed to know about" — from the Bay of Pigs to assassination attempts to the Watergate break-in to the sabotage of a Cuban passenger airliner. Members of the CIA-trained army were among those who burglarized Democratic party headquarters at the Watergate.

Moyers, with writer and coproducer George Crile III, carefully documents a story of violence, betrayal and misguided patriotism in interviews with former CIA agents, Cuban exiles and Cuban President Castro.

Crile said the exile army began in terrorism and has circled back to it in a campaign that is now out of control by the American government. The army was used in the doomed invasion of Cuba at the Bay of Pigs, then engaged in Operation Mongoose, the secret war commissioned by then President Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Castro said in an interview with Moyers that he knows of at least 24 CIA-sponsored plots on his life, but he denied that they provoked him to seek the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Castro said, "It would have been absolute insanity by Cuba. It would have been an irresponsible act if Cuba had gone to such a venture as planning the death of a president of the U.S.A."

He said it would have run the risk that Cuba would have been destroyed by the United States in retaliation.

Crile asked Roberto Carballo, a member of the Bay of Pigs Brigade and current commander of its veterans organization about the current campaign. "Does that mean you're sitting in an American city, plotting an international campaign to strike at Cuban targets — bombings, assassinations, kidnappings of Cuban officials?" he asked.

Carballo replied, "Let me put it this way — we will have to think that this is done because we want to help this democracy. What will happen if we won't do anything from this country? Where can we do it from?"

Told the U.S. government would try to stop it, he said, "That's the United States government's problem, not ours."

Risky Mattresses Are Sold To Jails

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Mattresses like those that gave off deadly carbon monoxide fumes in a prison fire last year have been sold to county jails by the state prison system, even though state corrections officials declared the bedding too dangerous for use in their own institutions.

Corrections Secretary Amos Reed said Thursday he had not been aware of the his department's sale of about 190 of the mattresses and ordered the sales stopped. He also directed that some 300 mattresses remaining in stock at the Polk Youth Center be destroyed.

Production of the mattresses, which are made from the flammable chemical polyurethane, was ordered stopped last July after they gave off deadly carbon monoxide fumes during a McDowell County prison fire in which nine inmates died and 20 others were injured.

Since then, however, Prison Enterprises, a production unit using inmate labor within the state corrections department, continued to sell the mattresses to county jails. Gaston County was sold 100 mattresses, Wake County 50, Rutherford County 15, Lenoir County 12, and Anson County eight.

Officials of the counties said they had not been told of the problems with the mattresses. Last week, a female inmate in the Wake County Jail was seriously burned after she apparently set fire to one of the mattresses.

"This is too big an organization to keep up with everything," Reed said when asked why officials of his department were not aware of the sales.

"In an organization this big — with 60,000 people and millions of dollars — you just can't," he added. "It's like asking the president of General Motors why a car was painted a certain color. One would hope this would not have happened, but it did and I'm doing my best to correct it."

About 13,000 polyurethane mattresses were in use in the state prison system last July, officials said. Replacement of the mattresses with flame-resistant, cotton bedding is about half completed, they reported.

Crile said the exile army began in terrorism and has circled back to it in a campaign that is now out of control by the American government. The army was used in the doomed invasion of Cuba at the Bay of Pigs, then engaged in Operation Mongoose, the secret war commissioned by then President Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.
