

No Progress In Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Defense Minister Ezer Weizman flew back to Israel today, and Cairo Radio said he and President Anwar Sadat made no progress toward resumption of peace negotiations between Egypt and Israel.

The broadcast said Sadat was writing President Carter about the meeting, his first with an Israeli official in two months.

The meeting does not mean Egypt and Israel are "reopening the chapter of back-and-forth negotiations" that ended with the suspension of direct talks 10 weeks ago, said Dr. Osama el-Baz, Egypt's under-secretary of state for foreign affairs.

"We are simply giving the Begin government a chance, which may be a last chance, to prove to us and to the world at large that it is changing its attitude, because in the absence of a significant change in the Israeli attitude no progress can be achieved and no negotiations can be meaningful," he said.

Carter told a news conference in Brazil that he has "not given up on the possibility of a negotiated settlement in the Middle East" despite Prime Minister Menachem Begin's resistance to U.S. pressure for concessions demanded by the Arabs.

Carter Meets Critics Of Brazil's Human Rights

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — President Carter, risking the displeasure of his official hosts, met today with Brazilian champions of human rights who are critics of the military government. He said human rights improvements in Brazil are "very encouraging."

The president and his party left immediately afterward for Nigeria, where he will be the first American president to make a state visit to black Africa.

The critics, including two Roman Catholic cardinals, spent 45 minutes exchanging views with the president. At the start of the session, in the presence of reporters, Carter talked about meeting with Brazilian supreme court justices Thursday in Brasilia.

"The chief justice made a very clear statement toward dedication to human rights," Carter said. "He said they (the justices) were the most liberal elements in the court system. It was very encouraging for us."

"Since my last visit here, there has been, I think, great excitement building up (about human rights), and the people are expressing themselves very clearly," the president said. At that point, the reporters were ushered out.

The meeting was held coincidentally on the 14th anniversary of the military coup which deposed a populist civilian government in Brazil. Afterward, the president was accompanied to the airport by one of the cardinals, who is archbishop of Sao Paulo, Brazil's most populous state.

Jose Mesquita Neto, a publisher and member of the group who met with the president, said to reporters: "We told the president that the Brazilian press and not only the Roman Catholic Church has played a major role in the defense of human rights conditions in Brazil."

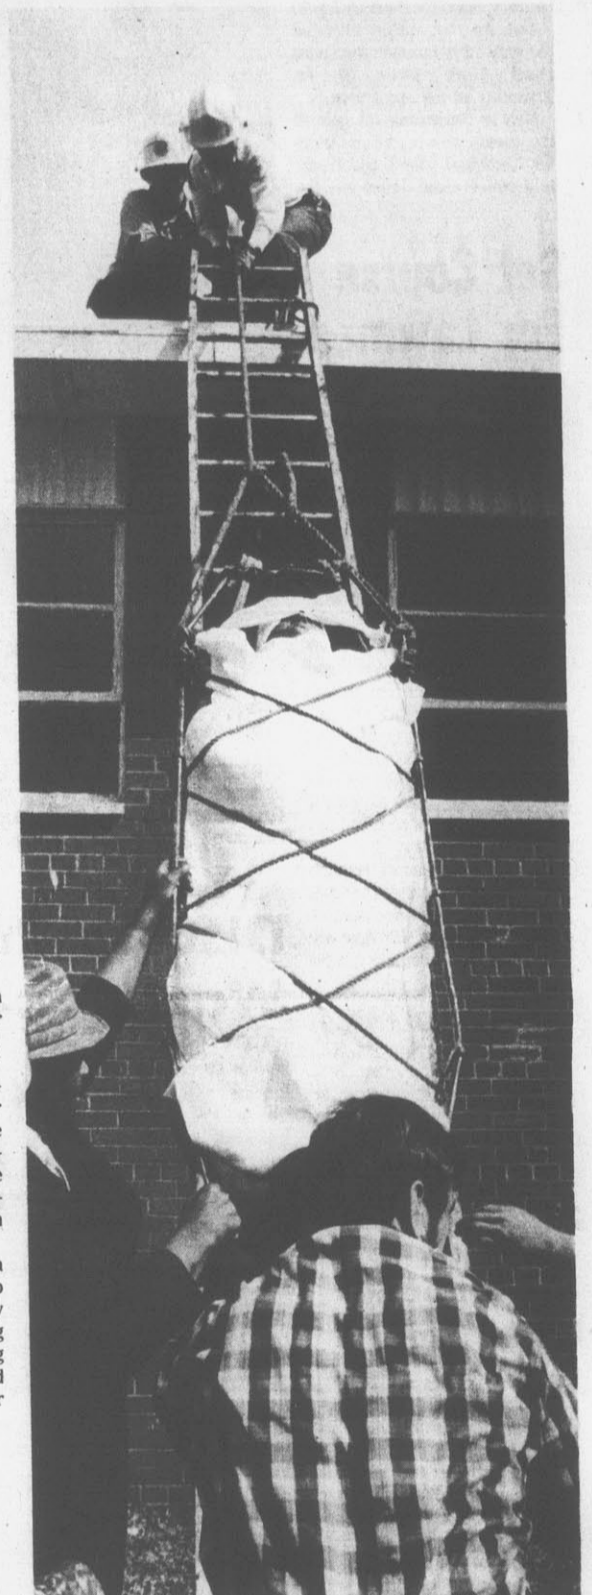

"The president agreed and told us that the increase in freedom of the press existing now in the country represents an improvement in the human rights situation," Mesquita said. "We told the president that the Brazilian newspapers are now denouncing the cases of torture and arbitrary arrest. A few years ago these things were mysteries."

also asked for opinions about political affairs in Africa.

After a seven-hour flight across the south Atlantic in Air Force One and a night's rest, Carter will confer with Lt. Gen. Olusegun Obasanjo, chief of state in oil-rich Nigeria. Obasanjo is expected to ask Carter to get tougher against white-minority governments in Africa.

Nigeria is the third developing nation on Carter's seven-day tour of South America and Africa. He has spent two days each in Brazil and Venezuela. The president, wife Rosalynn and 10-year-old daughter Amy will visit Liberia before returning to Washington late Monday.

Heavy Duty Expertise

Greenville rescue men used their heavy-duty rescue expertise to remove a man from the roof of a one-story wing of the West Greenville Recreation Center after he fell from the top of the two-story main portion of the structure, this morning.

Rescue officers said Brooks Boseman, an employee of Service Roofing Co. of Greenville, was working on the roof of the main portion of the gymnasium at the time of the 9:31 a.m. mishap.

A fellow workman said a broom used to apply roofing material struck Boseman and knocked the 38-year-old man from the top of the structure. He landed about 20 feet below, on the roof of a one-story wing of the building.

Using techniques perfected in their training or state and international heavy-duty rescue competitions, Greenville rescuers lashed Boseman into a Stokes stretcher and slid him down a ladder (a ladder slide), to perfect the rescue and prevent further injury to the worker.

Boseman suffered possible back and hip injuries in the fall, and was admitted to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment.

In commenting on the high-level rescue, Assistant Chief for Rescue Tony Brannon said, "that's what all the training is about...being prepared for the unexpected."

Confirm Site In Cabarrus

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — Philip Morris Co. made its expected announcement today that Cabarrus County will be the site of a $100-million cigarette plant.

In remarks prepared for delivery this morning to Cabarrus County residents and state and local officials at the county fairgrounds near here, Clifford H. Goldsmith, president of Philip Morris USA, said the company will exercise its option to buy a 2,100-acre tract between Charlotte and Concord.

Construction is scheduled to begin in 1979 on the plant, which will employ about 2,200 persons.

Cabarrus County was chosen over several other sites after an extensive search and study, Goldsmith said. Philip Morris' decision "represents the greatest possible evidence of our confidence... confidence in the future of Philip Morris... confidence in the future of the cigarette industry... and confidence in the people of North Carolina," he added.

Gov. Jim Hunt, who headed a welcoming party for Philip Morris, called the company "one of the most outstanding and respected manufacturing firms in the world" and pledged the state's support for the firm.

Fastest Growing Social Segments

By CHRIS CONNELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

The fastest-growing segments of America's elderly population over the next half-century will be the very old, non-whites and women, groups that usually suffer most from "poor health, social isolation and poverty," a new government study says.

The study released Thursday also predicts that in comparison to today's elderly, the children of the post-World War II baby boom will be better educated and have more income and resources as they head for retirement in the next century.

But those advantages may not hold true for women and minorities, who traditionally have worked less and in lower-paying jobs than white males, according to the report by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The report by the department's Office of Human Development noted that the population 60 and older has soared from 4.9 million in 1900 to nearly 33 million in 1977, and is expected to hit 71 million by 2035.

The nation's total population, 76 million in 1900 and now 217 million, is expected to grow only 40 percent to 304 million by 2035.

"While the size of the population 60 and over has increased by nearly seven times since 1900, the population 75 and over has experienced a tenfold increase and the 85-plus age group has grown by about 17 times," the report said.

By 2035, one-third of the elderly will be over 75 and one-tenth over 85.

"The segments of the elderly population that will be growing most rapidly — the oldest of the old, women, and persons of races other than white — will be the same groups that have suffered more from such common problems of the elderly as poor health, social isolation and poverty," the report said.

"One experience that most elderly women will eventually have in common is the loss of their husband," said the report, adding that 70 percent of women 75 or older are widows. White female children now can expect to live to 77, or eight years longer than white males.

"Few elderly widows remarry, and most of them (about two-thirds) live alone," the study said.

The hopeful signs the study found were that "tomorrow's elderly will be more highly educated and will have worked in higher-paying occupations. In addition to Social Security, many will receive pension benefits."

"A higher proportion of elderly women in the future will have participated in the labor force for a significant number of their pre-retirement years, and will be receiving retirement benefits of their own."

Refuse Moro Barter

ROME (AP) — The Italian government will not ransom kidnapped political leader Aldo Moro by freeing 15 Red Brigades terrorists on trial in Turin, the Christian Democratic Party says.

"It is not possible to accept the blackmail coming from the Red Brigades," the government party — of which Moro is president — said in response to a letter from Moro in which he hinted that freedom for the terrorists would be the price for his release.

The statement was issued after day-long meetings between Premier Giulio Andreotti and other party leaders. The government also denied a newspaper report that it was considering offering a reward of $1.2 million for information leading to the arrest of the kidnapers.

The Communists and other parties urged the government to maintain a firm stand and not to barter with the kidnapers.

Unita, the Communist Party newspaper, said in an editorial: "The democratic regime cannot give in to terrorism. To give in could only open the way to a crescendo of new blackmail."

Moro, 61, who has been premier of Italy five times, was kidnapped by 12 members of the Red Brigades on a Rome street on March 16, and his five bodyguards were killed. There have been no demands from the kidnapers yet, but they have said they are giving him a "people's trial."

The 15 terrorists on trial in Turin include the founder of the urban guerrilla movement, Renato Curcio.

Worst Trade Deficit Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States recorded the worst trade deficit in its history in February as the nation imported $4.5 billion more than it sold abroad, the Commerce Department said today.

The monthly deficit, the 21st in a row, surpassed the record $3.6 billion last October and was a blow to Carter administration attempts to reduce the deficit below the $2.7 billion total for all of last year.

U.S. exports totaled $9.9 billion, a decline of 1 percent from the $10 billion reported in January. Imports were a record $14.4 billion, 16.5 percent higher than in January.

A trade deficit means that more dollars are leaving the country to pay for foreign goods than the United States is earning from sale of its goods abroad. It can affect employment and production and can lead to inflation.

Analysts have cited the nation's large trade deficit as one of the reasons for the decline of the dollar against foreign currencies in recent months.

Imports of oil from the Middle East have accounted for most of the nation's trade deficit in the past two years, but the rising imports in February were widespread.

Imports of petroleum products totaled $3.3 billion, an increase of about 10 percent over January.

County Clerk Of Court H.L. Lewis Succumbs

Pitt County Clerk of Superior Court H. L. Lewis Jr. died last night in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

A Pitt County native, Lewis, 60, had been clerk of court since 1968 and had announced his intention to run for the office again this year. He resided at 1906 Charles Boulevard.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 4 p. m. in the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by his pastor, the Rev. Richard R. Gammon. Burial will be in Pinewood Memorial Park.

Lewis, who was reared in the Belvoir community, attended the Belvoir School and Smith-Massey Business College in Richmond, Va. Following his discharge from the U. S. Army after World War II, he became assistant clerk of the Pitt County Superior Court and held this position until he was appointed Clerk in April, 1968. He was elected to the job in 1970 and again in 1974.

A member of the First Presbyterian Church, he was a past member of the Board of Deacons and a member of the Men's Bible Class. He belonged to the N. C. Clerks Association and was a former member and past president of the N. C. Deputy Clerks Association.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Peggy M. Lewis; two sons, H. L. "Butch" Lewis III of Wilmington and Stephen E. Lewis of the home; a stepson, Danny E. Wagel of Augusta, Ky.; five brothers, Jasper L. Lewis of Washington, J. B. Lewis of Burgaw, Earl Lewis of Belvoir.

Increased Electricity Bills Will Be In Store

By H. JOSEF HERBERT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions of Americans can expect higher electric bills in the coming months, and some already have received them, as a result of the recently ended 16-week coal strike.

The reason is that utilities in 12 states had to buy up to 60 percent of their power from other utilities during the strike, often at prices four to five times what it would have cost them using coal powered generators.

Already some customers have received bills several hundred dollars higher than they had expected. In most cases, say utility officials in the states affected, the extra costs will be 15 to 20 percent higher than normal and spread over four to six months.

For some families living in homes heated by electricity, the bills have been shocking. In Poolesville, Md., a suburb of Washington, residents have received bills as high as $818 for January-February. Nancy Post, the Poolesville town clerk, said her bill came to $794.61, of which $450 was attributed to fuel costs, for her three-bedroom frame house.

"I never looked at our electric bill that closely before, and when I looked at this bill, I couldn't believe my eyes," she said. She and her neighbors expect another high bill in April because the utility, Potomac Edison, decided against spreading the cost of fuel over a longer period of time.

Utility spokesman Donald Whipp said one reason the Poolesville bills were so high was because of an unusually high consumption of electricity, more than 17,000 kilowatt hours during the two months in one case.

Although the state regulates utility rates, it allows most increases in fuel costs to be passed on to the customer through a fuel adjustment surcharge.

The Department of Energy said utilities in Ohio, Indiana, southern Michigan, western Pennsylvania, western Maryland, and the coal producing areas of Virginia, West Virginia, and Kentucky were hardest hit. Parts of Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois and Tennessee also were affected.

Utility officials indicated that in most states customers who do not heat their homes with electricity can expect increases from $2 to $6 a month on bills averaging between $22 to $32. Surcharges and average bills vary among utilities.

David Vincent, spokesman for the Public Service Co. of Indiana, said an all-electric home that used 6,000 kilowatt hours in February — which he said was a high figure — would receive a bill of $167, of which about $22 would be attributed to the coal strike. He said the utility had bought about 25 percent of its power during the strike.

Meet Monday

The Pitt County Board of Commissioners is scheduled to meet Monday at 10 a.m. at the Court House.

Items on the agenda include: consideration of a request for $1,500 for the Greenville Art Center; consideration of a request for communications equipment for the Fire Marshal's office; discussion of problems of clearing right of way and building a 40-cubic-yard container site at the landfill; a discussion on recommendations on neonatal center vehicle bids; and consideration of a request from the Pitt County Fair Association for the county to pay $5,890 for a four-inch water line to the fair grounds.

Other items include: consideration of recommendations on an employees insurance program and proposed changes in the retirement system; consideration of a request by the Employment Security Commission for support of its continuing to administer the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act program in the county; and other items.

NAZI LITERATURE

A copy of "NS Report," a publication of the Nazi Party, was left on my front porch recently. Is there anything I can do to see that I don't receive any more of this literature that I find so offensive?

According to the Greenville City Manager's office, poster, handbills, newspapers and the like cannot be tacked to utility poles, placed on motor vehicles, or handed out on the streets without being in violation of a city ordinance.

Postal regulations prohibit the placing of "literature" in mail boxes. If it's taken to doors of homes or businesses, it's soliciting and the distributor must obtain a permit from City Hall. However, throwing literature on porches, as was apparently done in this situation, is not in violation of the law, as far as we can determine.

According to the publication itself, about 100 to 700 pieces of literature have been distributed in Pitt County.

The East Carolina University Student Union reports a good bit has been distributed on campus, also.

Suspect Is Booked In 'Hillside Stranglings'

By STEPHEN FOX
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) - A 37-year-old maintenance man has been booked on investigation of murder in two of the 13 hillside stranglings after his childhood friend told police he watched while the man killed three women.

"It is a major break," said Police Chief Daryl Gates, "and we're very hopeful that it will successfully conclude at least those two and perhaps more" of the slayings attributed to the Hillside Strangler in which the bodies of female victims were dumped onto roads and hill-sides. Many were nude and sexually molested and all were strangled.

"We have sufficient information to believe that one or both of these suspects are involved in these murders," Gates said. Neither man has been charged.

Los Angeles police arrested Beverly Hills maintenance man Peter Mark Jones, 37, on Thursday at his apartment.

George Shamshak, 27, now in the men's prison on Los Angeles' Terminal Island, reportedly told police about Jones and the killings when questioned in February at Walpole State Prison in Massachusetts.

Shamshak had escaped on Oct. 24, 1977, from the state Correction Department's pre-release center in Shirley, Mass. He had been serving a four-to-five-year term for armed robbery.

He was recaptured in Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 9. Two days later, authorities said, Shamshak told Massachusetts state police in his cell that he had watched Jones kill three women in a Ford van in Los Angeles.

Shamshak said one woman was stabbed, one strangled, and one hit on the head with a blunt object, according to a story in the Boston Herald American. Shamshak said he drove Jones' van during the three murders, the newspaper said, and lie detector tests confirmed parts of his story. Shamshak was brought to Los Angeles March 17.

Thomasville Industry 'Target'

THOMASVILLE, N.C. (AP) - The Industrial Division (IUD) of the AFL-CIO has targeted Thomasville Furniture Industries for a major union organizing campaign, a union spokesman said Thursday.

Harold McIver, national organization director of the IUD, was in Thomasville, laying the initial groundwork for the campaign.

"They (TFI) are the target," he said. "And there are several reasons why. Number one is that we have had requests in several areas here in Thomasville and in and around the West Jefferson area.

"Number two, they are a profitable company, and they are a wholly-owned subsidiary of Armstrong Cork Co.," McIver said.

After TFI officials learned Thursday of the union plans, TFI President Tom A. Finch, released a statement in which he said, "The Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO has announced TFI has been selected as the target for a massive organizational campaign. At present, none of our employees has chosen to be represented by a union, and we believe the overwhelming majority do not want to join any union.

"We also believe that our wages, fringe benefits and working conditions compared very favorably with other companies in the area and the furniture industry.

"We have always had a good relationship with our employees in all our plant locations, and we do not believe that a union has anything to offer any of our employees. Therefore, TFI will oppose this attempt by the AFL-CIO to unionize employees in our plants. We intend to do everything legally permissible in this regard because we are convinced that there is no need for a union at Thomasville."

TFI merged with Armstrong in 1968. McIver said Armstrong has a net worth of $370 million and that some of its plants are organized.

"There are several unions that have a bargaining relationship with Armstrong Cork, and we hope the company would recognize unions and comply with labor laws."

McIver estimated the number of TFI workers in Thomasville as 3,000 and said that in all its employees "5,000 or a little more. And it is our intention to organize every one of them."

TFI, founded in 1967 as the Thomasville Chair Co., has 22 plants which manufacture a line of occasional and living room furniture. Besides the plants in Thomasville and West Jefferson, the company operates plants in Hickory, Lenoir, Pleasant Grove, Appomattox, Va., and Brookline, Va.

McIver said the union has already had some meetings with "key people" in West Jefferson and that the campaign there is "fine, it's going good."

McIver said organizers would initially be assigned to the campaign in Thomasville TFI plants and those in other locations.

Furniture workers in North Carolina earn an average hourly wage of $3.88 compared with the state average for manufacturing wages of $4.26 and the national average of $5.87.

Set Course For Lawmen

RALEIGH - The North Carolina Criminal Justice Training and Standards Council has adopted a 240 hour police basic training program - developed by the N.C. Justice Academy in cooperation with the N.C. Basic Training Consortium - as the new minimal training course for all criminal justice personnel.

In announcing the 240 hour course, which will replace the 160 hour basic course now required, Attorney General Rufus Edmisten said the consortium has been at work since 1975 putting together the curriculum and running test courses to refine it.

Edmisten termed the training program, "one of the finest basic training courses to be found anywhere in the country."

The 240 hour course requirement will go into effect October 1, 1978. Any law enforcement officer sworn in after that date will be required to complete the 240 hour course within one year of employment.

The consortium includes members representing the N.C. Justice Academy, the N.C. Department of Community Colleges, the Institute of Government, the N.C. Training and Standards Council, and the N.C. Law Enforcement Training Officers Association.

Discuss Roadside Waste Facilities

A kickoff lunch meeting was held at Three Steers Restaurant in Greenville Thursday for the "Keep Pitt County Clean & Beautiful" committee.

Steve Evans, coordinator of the committee, presided over a group of 17 participants representing several townships and civic or business organizations in Pitt County. The County Commissioners and County Planning Departments are studying the feasibility of installing several containerized roadside waste disposal facilities, such as those in Wilson County, according to County Planner Larry Hurlocker, County Sanitarian Willie Pate, and County Commissioner Charles Gaskins.

"These types of disposal stations should be held reduce unauthorized dumping," said Hurlocker.

Marshall Helms of Greenville suggested that daffodils might be planted in quantity along highway medians approaching Greenville or other towns in the county. The committee approved.

The next meeting of KPCCB will be held Tuesday, April 18, at the community meeting room at the Planter's Bank on West Third Street in Greenville at 3:30 p.m. For further information, contact Steve Evans at 758-4585.

Indicate Farm Recontaminated

BANFIELD, Mich. (AP) - Like a recurring nightmare, PBB has come back to haunt the man on whose farm the toxic chemical was first identified almost five years ago.

Kenneth Van Patten of the state Department of Agriculture said Thursday his agency is "pretty well convinced now" that Frederick Halbert's farm has been recontaminated by the toxic fire retardant.

Farmers who lost their herds after PBB was discovered in animal feed have claimed that the chemical was showing up in herds bought after farms were thought free of the chemical. Some farmers speculated the chemical persisted in the soil.

Halbert's case is the first in which agriculture officials have been able to confirm the claims.

Halbert's herd of about 800 cows was quarantined then destroyed four years ago because of PBB. Since then, the family has acquired about 500 new animals.

Van Patten warned Thursday that other farms may be in danger of recontamination. He said 650 farms were once quarantined for high levels of PBB.

A state investigation traced the PBB mixup to a feed mill near Battle Creek run by Michigan Farm Bureau Services.

Heart Surgery For John Wayne

BOSTON (AP) - Actor John Wayne will undergo heart surgery to replace an aortic valve Saturday morning, according to a Boston television station.

Spokesmen for Massachusetts General Hospital declined to comment on the report, which WNAC attributed to sources at the hospital.

"We try to protect the privacy of patients who are in with an illness," said Martin Bander, a hospital spokesman.

WNAC reported Thursday night that the surgeon will be Dr. Mort Buckley, a heart specialist at the hospital.

Buckley, reached at home, declined comment.

"He's being examined," said Chris Bullock, another MGH spokesman. "It's not related to cancer. That's all we can say."

Wayne, who has starred in more than 200 movies in 50 years, many of them as a war or cowboy hero, had a widely publicized bout with cancer that cost him a lung in 1964. He used to smoke four to five packs of cigarettes a day before coming down with cancer.

Interviewed by telephone earlier this week by a Boston radio station, Wayne said from California that he was not being treated for cancer.

"No, pneumonia," he said. "Hell, I got rid of that cancer 14 years ago."

Wayne also was quoted earlier in the week as saying he had been "sick as a dog" since Thanksgiving.

The hospital's switchboards have been clogged with calls from Wayne's fans. "He doesn't want us to give out any information about his condition," said an operator for the hospital's patient information section.

French Gov't Resigns Today

PARIS (AP) - Premier Raymond Barre and his government resigned today in the traditional post-election reshuffle, but he was expected to be re-named soon to form a new government.

President Valery Giscard d'Estaing asked Barre to return to the Elysee Palace at 6 p.m. Saturday. Political sources said Barre then will be asked to choose a new team reflecting the outcome of this month's legislative elections.

The center-right coalition backing Giscard d'Estaing won 291 of the National Assembly's 491 seats in double-elimination elections March 12 and 19, turning back a heavily favored leftist challenge.

Wash Area For Waste Vehicles Is In Operation

A wash area for solid waste collector vehicles has been placed in operation at the Pitt County sanitary landfill.

Landfill supervisor Maynard Tucker said the facility, located South of the Southern Railway tracks, has been provided in an effort to maintain sanitary collection equipment throughout the county.

All vehicles must be located on the concrete wash area before washing takes place. Tucker explained, with the driver of the vehicle being responsible for the washing operation and responsible for placing the hose on the rack beside the concrete pad after each use.

Tucker noted that all solid waste that is washed from trucks onto the concrete must be picked up and placed in the barrel provided on the site. He noted that such clean-up of the wash area is the responsibility of each driver.

Beach Beer Ban Still In Effect

ATLANTIC BEACH - Because of disagreement by Atlantic Beach aldermen over the ban on drinking alcoholic beverages on public property in this resort area, the ban still remains on the books.

In a recent meeting to make an effort to consider the possibility of halting the ban or modifying it before summer crowds come in, aldermen could not come to a conclusion.

As it stands now, the drinking of beer or other alcoholic beverages in view of the public is permitted, only as long as it is done on private property.

Registration For Flower Show Begins Saturday

Registration for the first flower show to be held in Greenville in recent years opens Saturday, April 1.

The show, entitled "Portraits of Spring," will be held April 27-28 at the Greenville Art Center under sponsorship of the Lyndale Garden Club with Mrs. Norwood P. Whitehurst as chairman.

Entries may be submitted by any Greenville garden club member by mailing an entry form or telephoning Mrs. Ed Tipton II, 203 Williamsburg Dr.

Entries of arrangements in all classes is by advance registration only. No entry will be accepted after Monday, April 24, at 6 p.m.

Guidelines for the flower show follow procedures set up by the National Federation of Garden Clubs, with the exception of the horticulture section, which will be omitted.

Ribbons will be awarded, if merited, in each of the 12 classes open to registration, following judging by nationally accredited flower show judges.

The 12 classes included in the show are as follows:

Class 1: "Bustin' Out All Over," a mass arrangement expressing the joy of spring. Class 2: "God's Renewal," an arrangement reflecting a feeling of reverence.

Class 3: "Green Kaleidoscope," an all-green arrangement featuring three varieties of foliage.

Class 4: "By Dawn's Early Light," an arrangement suggesting sunrise using values of yellow as the predominating color.

Class 5: "The First Signs of..." a line arrangement featuring bare or flowering branches or driftwood. Accessory required.

Class 6: "A Wee Touch o' Spring," a free-standing miniature arrangement, not to exceed three inches. Accessories not permitted.

Class 7: "Nature's Awakening," an arrangement depicting the change of seasons from winter to spring. Blooms limited to five stems or less; foliage unlimited.

Class 8: "Spring Fantasy," a free-standing arrangement emphasizing imagination and originality.

Class 9: "Let's Go a' Maying," an arrangement featuring fruits and vegetables in a basket. Flowers permitted.

Class 10: "Breaking Ground," for novices only. This class closed to blue ribbon winners in previous flower shows.

Class 11: "Spring Fling," an informal luncheon table for two.

Class 12: "Social Season," a tea table or teacart. Classes 11 and 12 are for total club participation only. Exhibitors may make only one entry in each class and classes are limited. Mrs. Whitehurst said. Therefore, entries will be accepted as received and classes will be closed as filled.

Each exhibitor will be held responsible for advance entries as registered. If unable to compete, the exhibitor must provide a substitute.

The standard system of judging for flowers shows will be used, and, if merited, a blue, red, and yellow ribbon will be awarded in each class. Also, if merited, a tri-color ribbon for outstanding excellence may be selected from the blue ribbon winners and awarded in each section.

Artistic rules are listed on the brochure containing the entry form. This information may be obtained from Mrs. Tipton. Additional information concerning the flower show may be obtained from Mrs. Whitehurst, Mrs. Alfred G. Hutton, Mrs. William M. Monroe, and Mrs. Dan Morgan.

The show will be open for public viewing on Thursday, April 27, from 2-5 p.m., and again on Friday, April 28, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

American Woman Teaches Pasta Class

By TOM HOGE

AP Newsfeatures Writer An American housewife who grew up on a Pennsylvania farm is now teaching the fine points of pasta making in Italy.

"I love Italian cooking," says Julie Dannenbaum, wife of a Philadelphia business executive who spends her summers teaching haute cuisine as director of the Gritti Palace Cooking Classes in Venice. "Venetian cooking is the most elegant in Italy. For example, they use spice less freely over there, even though Venice was the center of the spice trade years ago."

One might ask why an American should be teaching the niceties of Italian cooking in the heart of Italy. For one thing, the pupils are mostly American tourists who probably feel more at ease studying under one of their own countrymen.

But there's more to it than that. In winters, Mrs. Dannenbaum teaches at the Philadelphia School of Creative Cooking and some of her pupils there journey all the way from Europe to study her methods. Many of her former students now teach their own classes and some have opened restaurants.

What interests her pupils most in those Venetian classes which are condensed into three- and five-day courses?

"Pasta first and foremost," she said, "By that I don't mean lasagna, or fettucini, but the pasta itself. I bring in top Italian chefs who make the pasta by hand, mixing the ingredients and kneading it in the classroom."

Mrs. Dannenbaum became interested in professional cooking after World War II when soldiers began trooping home from all over the world singing the praises of foods they had sampled abroad.

"I anticipated that a revolution would take place in the American kitchen," she said. "Cooking would become an art form, an avocation for both men and women."

Mrs. Dannenbaum studied cooking in America and at the famed Cordon Bleu abroad. Her hunch paid off. She is now one of the most successful teachers in a highly competitive field.

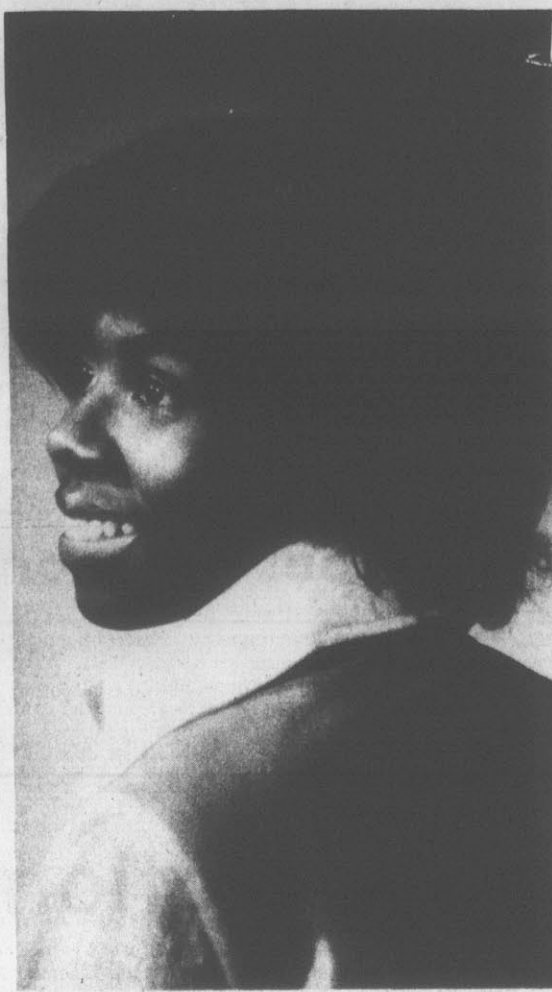

One of Mrs. Dannenbaum's favorite dishes is named after the Duchess of Windsor. It's called Ham Mousse Wally and here's the recipe.

6 ounces cooked, smoked ham
3 tablespoons Marsala wine

1/2 cup water
3 ounces butter
2 tablespoons heavy cream, whipped
1 ounce black truffles

Dice ham and put in saucepan with Marsala and water. Cover and simmer gently about half an hour over low fire. Pass ham through fine metal sieve twice. Put ham puree into a bowl, add butter (previously softened) and work briskly with wooden spoon till the mixture is smooth and falls away from spoon. Fold in whipped cream, taking care not to make mixture too liquid. With tablespoon, dipped frequently in hot water, form mixture into quenelles (egg-shaped forms) and lay them side by side on sheet of greaseproof paper. Put quenelles into refrigerator for 45 minutes till set. Garnish each quenelle with half moon of truffle and serve. Serves 6. Good with chilled Soave wine.

SCANDIA SPREAD

The famous Danish salad featuring beets and herring inspired us to devise this spread.

8 1/2-ounce can diced beets

8-ounce jar herring fillets in wine sauce

1 tablespoon bottled white horseradish, well-drained

Sour cream

Drain beets extra-well and puree — there will be about 2-3rds cup. Drain herring extra-well, dry on paper toweling and cut fine — there will be about 1/2 cup. Mix beets, herring, horseradish and 2 tablespoons sour cream. Cover tightly and chill to allow flavors to blend. Just before serving spread on crackers and top with sour cream. Serve at once. Makes about 1 1/2 cups spread.

'Nellie' Responds To Our Visits

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently moved here from another state, and quite by accident we learned that my husband has a niece in a private institution within half an hour's drive from our house. (I'll call this niece "Nellie.") Naturally we went to visit Nellie at once, after which we phoned her mother (my husband's eldest sister) to tell her we had seen her daughter.

Nellie's mother objected strenuously to our visiting Nellie. She said the girl has been a "hopeless vegetable" since birth (she is now 28 years old) and it would have been much better had we left the family skeleton in the closet where it belonged instead of digging it up! (We ignored her wishes and continued to visit Nellie.)

Abby, in the few months we've been visiting her, she has learned to recognize us and seems so happy to see us. The head doctor there told us that Nellie has improved physically since we've been giving her our love and attention. He has even let us take her home on Sundays.

The problem is Nellie's mother. She has asked us to stay away from her daughter. She pays for her support but hasn't visited her once!

Should we continue seeing Nellie in spite of her mother's objections?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I can see only good resulting from your visits, and I would continue to give Nellie as much love and attention as you possibly can.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 32-year-old professional man, single and never married. I recently became attracted to a very pretty girl who works at a fast-food counter, and I could tell she liked me. I asked for six pieces of fish and she gave me eight. The next day she gave me change for a five dollar bill when I gave her a one.

After talking to her today, I found out that she's only a junior in high school. Could I get into any trouble if I asked her out? (I read that Dostoevski married an 18-year-old girl when he was 50 and they had a wonderful marriage.) I need your answer before I make any moves.

BILL

DEAR BILL: Never mind what Dostoevski did; that was 100 years ago. The schoolgirl to whom you are attracted either can't count or she's giving her boss's store away. If you are planning any "moves," I advise you to move in the direction of a girl closer to your own age.

DEAR ABBY: My husband recently died. I think it would have been nice if the doctor who had taken care of him during his illness had sent some kind of condolence message, don't you. Or don't doctors believe in that?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If the patient was only a patient, all the doctor sends is his bill. If the patient has been a personal friend, the doctor would send his condolences and a bill.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (24 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Reports Given ADK Members

The Alpha Iota Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, an international sorority for women educators, held its March meeting at the Three Steers Restaurant Tuesday night.

The meeting was called to order by Ms. June Carson, vice president.

Reports were given by Ms. Lib Avery, secretary; and Ms. Edith Holmes, treasurer. Ms. Ramona Tucker, chairperson, reported on the Scholarship Fund. Ms. Elizabeth Savage, chairperson, presented fraternal information on the slate of officers to be presented at the North Carolina Alpha Delta Kappa convention in Raleigh. Ms. Dorothy Brown, chairperson, talked about the Alpha Iota Chapter slate of officers for 1978-80.

Officers for the North Carolina Alpha Iota Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa for the 1978-80 term are: President June Carson, Vice President Barbara Luce, Recording Secretary Lane Hartley, Corresponding Secretary Dorothy Brown, Treasurer Edith Holmes, Historian Trilby Harris, Sergeants At Arms Gladys Pate and Nancy Dixon, and Chaplains Lillian Weeks and Mary Frances Lewis.

The Alpha Iota Chapter pledged a contribution to the Community Ambassador's Program. A silent auction was conducted by Ms. Mickey West and Ms. Ramona Tucker.

Ms. Carson announced that the North Carolina Alpha Delta Kappa board meeting will be held in Greenville on Feb. 9, 1979. Also, members are to submit arts and crafts for display at the North Carolina Alpha Delta Kappa convention in Raleigh on April 28-30, 1978. The Trash 'n Treasure Sale is scheduled for Saturday, May 6, at 1704 E. Fourth Street.

Should Be Held Accountable

Last week a N. C. State trooper stopped South African Consul-General Theodore Vorster's car on U. S. 64 after an appearance here in Greenville. The vehicle was reportedly running at speeds up to 90 miles per hour and Vorster said he was on his way to an appointment with Gov. Hunt. Vorster reminded the patrolman of his diplomatic immunity, the officer checked with headquarters and found indeed he was prevented from giving Vorster's driver a ticket for speeding. Immunity for diplomats is well established. On the other hand the traffic laws are enforced to reduce traffic accidents and their accompanying deaths and injuries.

A speeding diplomat can injure himself and others if the vehicle goes out of control and smashes into other vehicles. In Washington and New York there are large numbers of persons with diplomatic immunity. We don't know what is done by law enforcement agencies in those areas when there are flagrant traffic violations. We do know, however, that high speeds on the roads are dangerous. Our country should make it clear to other nations that they bear responsibility for their representatives' actions while in the United States.

Quick, Painful Lesson About Inflation

It didn't take long to get a lesson in the causes of inflation following the settlement of the coal strike. U. S. Steel announced a 2.2 percent price increase, which it blamed on the higher cost of coal. The steel increase will soon be reflected in the cost of automobiles. It won't be as obvious but the cost of buildings and highway construction will reflect the increase. The inflation spiral continues with the consumer ultimately paying the bill.

THIS AFTERNOON Help Improving Education

By CRAIG PHILLIPS
State Superintendent of Public Instruction
RALEIGH — During the first few days of March, more than 85,000 eleventh grade students in about 500 high schools of the state spent two to three hours for two days taking their first competency tests.

Gallagher is chairman of the commission. In July, when all of the scores have been tabulated, the commission will report to the State Board of Education their recommendations for a "cut-off score", the type of test to be given, and other matters related to the entire program. A special committee has been set up to help obtain useful information from the trial testing and to insure that the tests are free of bias in such areas as sex, race, and income level.

they can best use the information resulting from the tests.

NOBLITT

While all of us are concerned that the results be used to improve learning for all school children, we must work to avoid unfair comparisons of children and teachers. We are convinced that, by working together, we can make the testing programs a positive, effective force for improving and expanding educational opportunities for children. Your State Board of Education, the state office, and your local teachers and administrators are dedicated to this principle. We also believe that the testing programs give parents, taxpayers and decision-makers the opportunity to know more about their schools and their children's achievement.

For detailed information about the testing program, please write: Craig Phillips, State Superintendent, Education Building, Raleigh, N.C. 27611. Testing programs, including statewide tests to be given in April to students in Grades 1, 2, 3, 6 and 9, resulted from legislation approved by the 1977 General Assembly. In the fall of 1978, a full scale competency testing program will be implemented, and eleventh grade students will be required to pass both the reading and math tests before they may graduate from high school. Each student will be given four opportunities to pass portions of the tests failed. Comparisons

This first statewide effort is actually a "trial run" to determine how well these students do in a test of minimal skills in reading and mathematics. Students in some schools were tested on mathematics; others were tested on reading skills, and a third group answered questions requiring knowledge of both of these areas. The tests were carefully chosen by the N.C. Competency Testing Commission after months of study and after hearing views of hundreds of educators, students and parents. Dr. Jas. J.

Already a Department of Public Instruction task force is making preliminary plans concerning how to use the information to determine where eleventh graders are in what they need to know, where they ought to be, and what educators need to do to reach these goals. The 145 school systems also have begun studies of how

THE INSIDE REPORT

The Rough Ride For Begin

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — Predictions here of an early effort in Jerusalem to oust Menahem Begin as prime minister of Israel were strengthened by unprecedented dismay among Israel's six foremost Senate champions at a private breakfast March 22 in Blair House. One of them, Sen. Howard Metzenbaum of Ohio, chided Begin for fudging about Jewish settlements in Arab territory. Metzenbaum's irritation mirrored sharper criticisms by other Senators at a large Senate lunch the previous day. This anti-Begin mood — more sorrow than anger over what the Senators term his intransigence — may menace Begin's future. No U.S. politician has been more supportive of Israel than Metzenbaum. But he was offended at Begin's seemingly deliberate fudging to a luncheon question by Sen. Robert Morgan of North Carolina. Morgan asked whether any new settlements had been established since Egyptian Prime Minister Anwar Sadat's celebrated visit to Jerusalem last November. Begin's response was no new settlements; then he added, almost in an aside, "in the Sinai." The next day at the more intimate Blair House breakfast, Metzenbaum criticized Begin for being less than candid with Morgan. He also drew from the prime minister the admission that, although there had been no "new" settlements in the Sinai (as opposed to the West Bank), there have been "expansions" of existing settlements. Sen. Jacob Javits of New York, one of Israel's most conspicuous defenders since its birth, was present at both meetings. He confided to a friend that he had "never seen an Israeli prime minister so shaken" by questions from American politicians. He attended both the lunch and breakfast. The symbolic touchstone of Begin's impact here was the reaction of the Senate's only ethnic Arab: James Abourezk of South Dakota. "The only Senator who walked out of that room with a smile on his face," one Senator told a colleague. "Was Jim Abourezk."

charges, has rejected his court-appointed defense lawyer in a bold move aimed at obtaining the best legal advice for his trial. That news has filtered to the outside world from the dwindling group of courageous anti-Soviet dissidents now under intense Kremlin pressure. Shcharansky himself has not been seen by his family or friends. This latest development in the Shcharansky case coincides with an official trip to Moscow by senior members of the House Armed Services Committee, headed by chairman Melvin Price of Illinois. Before leaving here March 23, Democratic Rep. Henry Waxman of California was thoroughly briefed by the National Conference on Soviet Jewry on how to get in touch with Shcharansky's mother and his brother, Leonid. The object is to seek answers to this question: whether this will be a "show" trial or whether Shcharansky's virtually certain conviction is really intended to give the Kremlin a new lever to exchange a Soviet spy or two now in American jails. Shcharansky has been publicly defended by President Carter as never having had any connection with the Central Intelligence Agency. Congressional interest in the dissident movement and the Shcharansky case is not expected to have any harmful effect. To the contrary, experts on internal Soviet politics feel that efforts by U.S. politicians might yield precious new information

Strike In 20th Month

By T.G. MOORE
Associated Press Writer
STEARNS, Ky. (AP) — The end of the 16-week coal strike means little to some 145 miners here. Their strike — over representation by the United Mine Workers — is in its 20th month with no end in sight. Despite bloodshed, economic hardships and the absence of any indication their walkout is having an effect, they vow to go on. "The morale is still high at Stearns," said striking miner Bob Dixon as he and five other men kept watch at the picket line outside the Justus mine. The strike at Stearns Mining Co. is one of the longest in UMW history, according to union officials. "Sometimes when I'd see on television about how long the national strike was going on, I'd catch myself thinking, 'That ain't nothing. What do you think about us?'" said Betty Dixon, whose husband, James, has been striking since July 1976. "It's been a hard struggle trying to feed three kids and all on $100 a week (strike benefits paid by the UMW)," she said. Two years ago today, the UMW was certified in an election as the bargaining agent for Justus miners. But Blue Diamond Coal Co., the parent company of Stearns Mining, refused to sign the standard union contract after the election, so the miners walked out. Union officials say Blue Diamond will not agree to UMW safety provisions, including one that allows a union safety committee to close the mine if it is deemed unsafe. Down the Justus road, three Kentucky state police cruisers — each carrying two troopers — drive up quietly twice each day, then sit in observation as about 30 company officials and employees enter and leave the mine. The pickets are quiet now. Most remember the sting of police riot sticks after last fall's confrontation between 80 to 100

Whither The Energy Bill

WASHINGTON — Congress has just passed a law moving up the date of mandatory retirement from 65 to 70. Excluded from mandatory retirement is Congress itself, and representatives and senators can serve as long as they can get elected. A friend of mine, who worked on the retirement bill, explained why the congressional waiver was inserted into the law. "It was mostly done," he said, "to accommodate the members of the Joint Congressional Committee on Energy who are trying to work out a mutually agreeable solution on the energy bill." "I don't follow you." "Well, we don't expect the House and Senate to reach a compromise for years. Many of the conferees are in their 40s and 50s now, and it would be a pity to make them quit working on the compromise when they reach 70." "You figure it's going to take that long for Congress to produce an energy bill?"

"That's true, but it would be unfair to force them into retirement when they've lived with the bill so long. You don't want to bring new faces to the committee who are not familiar with the issues." "What happens if a senator or congressman on the Compromise Committee decides not to run?" "Then he will have to be replaced. But most of the committee members enjoy the give and take on gas deregulation so much that it's doubtful they would give up a chance to play such an important role in the energy future of the country." "There is no cutoff date on an agreement about gas deregulation. We're just hoping that if men of goodwill work from now until then, they will come up with a solution which will satisfy everybody. If they don't, the Compromise Committee may still be in session when we enter the 21st century." "Many of the conferees will be quite old by then," I said.

40 Years Ago Today

March 31, 1938
Mayor M. K. Blount revealed today that city officials were considering the possibility of paving back alleys in the business section and mentioned several advantages which would be derived if such a project were undertaken. The mayor expressed the opinion it would relieve the congestion on the main business streets. Large trucks would be encouraged to load and unload in the alleys, instead of on the streets. The alleys would be drained better, greatly improving the sanitary condition. The proposal was linked with the current clean-up campaign, which is bringing results in the city. Ham Hannah, Greenville attorney, today announced his candidacy for judge of county recorder's court, subject to the Democratic primary June 4. Mr. Hannah's entry into the race insured a three-sided contest, the incumbent Dink James and J. W. H. Roberts having previously announced for the seat. — Lynn Caverly

To the editor: With this being Women's Awareness Week, we feel that the home economist should be acknowledged as having an important impact upon our society. When the average person thinks of a home economist, he or she tends to think of such things as sewing, cooking and housekeeping. We feel that society's view of our role is definitely wrong; therefore, it is necessary to clue individuals in as to our position in society. Granted, our roles are oriented around the home, for it is the foundation of society. The fundamentals of sewing, cooking and other basic home activities are necessary parts of our profession. But have you ever considered business, government or even solar energy as aspects of home economics? The field is unlimited as to areas in which the home economist could be an asset. Nutrition, child development, marital structures, conservation of energy and many other concerns of society are being influenced by the knowledge of the home economist. When voicing an opinion of a home economist and her role in society, be aware that we are much more than "Little Suzy Homemakers." Belinda Caboon ECU

Era Of Cheap Power Is Ending

By MATT YANCEY
Associated Press Writer
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Predictions that the era of cheap power in the South is coming to an end were acknowledged Thursday at a regional growth conference. But hardly anybody wanted to talk about it. The conference, sponsored by the Tennessee River Valley Association, was billed as a forum on "future options for regional economic growth." Instead, it became primarily a tribute to retiring Tennessee Valley Authority Chairman Aubrey Wagner. Except for a few references to the clash between environmentalists and developers and prospects for coming up with new energy sources, there were few "future options" presented or discussed. John Gibbons of the University of Tennessee's Environmental Center was the only speaker to focus on the question: Can the TVA continue to provide cheap electricity and still meet ever-stiffening environmental standards? "The industrial structure was developed in a trade-off for the environmental problems that accompanied that growth," he said. "In those days smoke and smell were equated with jobs and money." Gibbons, being pushed by environmentalists for Wagner's seat on TVA's board of directors, said worries about swapping the quality of life for a high standard of living are replacing the past concerns. The TRVA is composed mainly of industrial, banking and civic leaders who backed TVA in the 1940s, '50s and '60s, when it was under attack as being socialistic and faced the prospect of being dismantled. Wagner, who retires May 18 after 40 years with the sevenstate government utility, was praised as being a chief contributor to the region's growth through low-cost electricity. His likely successor as chairman—former White House energy advisor David Freeman—has said he thinks it will not be long before TVA's electric rates catch up with the rest of the nation. "I don't think these people are ready to discuss that prospect yet," said Al Smith, a Russellville, Ky., newspaper publisher. "They're still a little apprehensive of Freeman..." Since his appointment to TVA's three-member board last summer, Freeman repeatedly has attacked the agency's reluctance to spend the money needed to clean up pollution from its power plants.

Wagner and TVA Director Bill Jenkins have fought the clean air measures the past six years, saying their costs could raise TVA's electric rates by as much as 27 percent. Smith, who is being pushed by Kentuckians for Wagner's seat on the TVA board, said businessmen are waiting to see what direction President Carter takes the agency under Freeman's leadership. "These people remember TVA's experiments in eradicating hookworms and disease in the '30s and they feel that TVA had something to do with the fact that they're all better off," Smith said. "To them, Wagner is a symbol of stability and a commitment to using TVA for economic development and creating jobs by providing cheap power."

Mormons Underlining Role Of Women

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hold your heads high, you wives, mothers, homemakers. You engender life and enrich it. Don't trade that pervasive force for fleeting, surface trinkets. Cherish it, enlarge it, magnify it. You hold a mighty office.

"But that's not what it's all about. They're so important, so vital, so unique, and their potentialities are not limiting but limitless."

To honor that greatness of women and to proclaim it graphically, women of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) have joined in funding the erection in Nauvoo, Ill., of an impressive array of monuments to women.

The 13 bronze, life-size statues, arranged in circles symbolizing eternity in a garden larger than a football field, represent women in their various capacities, studying, teaching, creating art, praying, in companionship with a man and family, playing with children, encouraging a son, a hand-outstretched in service to humanity.

A central, heroic-size statue, nine feet tall, shows a purposeful, sure, yet tender woman, a look of dreams on her face, representing all women, their courage of the past, their present challenge and promise of the future.

Statuary for the $1-million project, financed by a two-year, world-wide drive among Mormon women, is by sculptors Dennis Smith of Alpine, Utah, and Florence Peterson Hensen of Sandy, Utah.

The work, considered the largest such monument to women ever established, is to be dedicated June 28, with varied music and dance productions, and thousands expected to be present.

Mrs. Smith, president of the church's organization of 1.5 million women, the Relief Society, says the garden of statuary is intended to recognize the "magnitude of women's responsibility" in nurturing life, a "contribution to be honored, not to be tossed away in the name of progress."

That's the message of the leader of Mormon women, Barbara B. Smith, who says American women generally are feeling diminished and put down by the modern feminist push for different status, and need more assurance and pride in their essential womanhood.

"They've been made to feel that the family and homemaking role is insignificant, that they're unimportant unless they're out competing with men and other women," she says.

Anniversary For Mothers

The mothers of Good Hope F.W.B. Church, Winterville, will celebrate their fifth anniversary Sunday at 3 p.m.

The Rev. Wilson and his congregation from Little Creek and Grifton Chapel will be in charge of services. The public is invited to attend.

LOVE LOOKS UP

For Karl and Karen this month marks their second wedding anniversary. It brings bright memories that glow as the candles glowed that Saturday evening they were married.

But "looking back" is not the character of love. Love looks up! It finds its soul in the presence of God. It finds its body in the devotion of a man and a woman to each other, devotion enriched by faith and expressed in unselfish affection.

Love looks forward, too! It faces confidently the years ahead, expressing its spiritual vitality in hope and purpose and concern for others.

For Karl and Karen, as for other Christian couples, the smile in looking forward is born in looking up.

Rewards Up To $10,000 Yard-Of-The-Year Competition Announced By Greenville Jaycees

CINCINNATI (AP) — A reward of up to $10,000 is available if you send up smoke signals when untaxed cigarettes are brought into Ohio.

Two arrests have been made under the new state law which went into effect in November. Robert Hammond, chief enforcement officer of the Ohio Department of Taxation, said in Columbus Thursday that a major crackdown is under way in the Cincinnati area.

Hammond said Ohio is losing millions of dollars in tax revenues. He said the state is mainly after importers from Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina.

Cigarette taxes in those states are lower and Ohio retailers can realize large profits by selling them for the higher Ohio prices.

For example, one brand of king size cigarettes sells for $3.74 per carton in Kentucky while Ohio stores charge $4.85.

The new Ohio law applies only to those caught with $60 worth or more out-of-state cigarettes.

The new law makes cigarette bootlegging a fourth-degree felony increasing the penalty from $1,000 and one year imprisonment to $2,500 and up to five years in jail, plus confiscation of vehicles and drivers licenses.

In addition, the reward to informants is also up. Hammonds said most arrests result from informants.

The previous reward limit was 10 percent of the sale price of the confiscated cigarettes with a maximum of $1,000. The new reward scale is 20 percent of the auction sale price up to $10,000.

As part of the multi-faceted beautification drive now underway by various groups in Greenville, the Greenville Jaycees have announced an inaugural program. "The Greenville Jaycee Yard of the Year Competition."

The program, coordinated by Phil Morin, committee chairman, also involves committee members Estelle Morin, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney Taylor, and Mrs. and Mrs. Dees Whitley. These couples will also act as judges in selecting the yards to be given awards and recognition.

The competition opens Sunday, April 2 and closes on Thursday, April 20, with judging to take place on Friday, April 21. Results of the competition will be announced on Sunday, April 23.

The competition is open to all residents of Greenville, and forms to enter the competition will be placed at two locations, in Jaycee mailboxes located at Sunshine Garden Center and at Little's Nursery. Only residents filling out the entry forms will be considered in the competition.

The yard judged to be the most beautiful will be given the title "Greenville Jaycee Yard of 1978," and a savings bond and a plaque will be awarded the winner. Other winners will also receive recognition.

"The purpose of this competition," Morin commented, "is to foster public awareness among Greenville citizens in showing pride in their community by beautifying their yards. We plan to make this an annual project and hope that there will be lots of people entering the competition."

Kinston Advises Take Out Parking Meters

A Greenville delegation that visited Kinston this week to view the city's parking situation was advised to "get rid of the meters" here by Kinston officials, according to Dave Mosier, executive director of the Downtown Greenville Association.

Mosier said that the trip to Kinston was made to give "further study" into the DGA's request that the Greenville Parking Authority consider recommending to the City Council that parking meters be removed here.

Mosier noted that the delegation making the Kinston trip, which was arranged following a suggestion by Parking Authority chairman Gene Skinner, included Skinner; PA members Bill Fuqua and Pete Hagans; City Councilman Joe Taft Jr.; city finance officer Al Averette; Police Chief Glenn Cannon; Jack Edwards, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce parking committee; and Mosier.

The Kinston panel, assembled by City Manager Robert G. Brigman, included Police Chief Guerry Broadwell; Nell Patrick, city clerk; Frank Brown, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce; and merchants Jake Stadium, Fred I. Sutton Jr., Aubrey Bronstein and Lowell Dupree.

Mosier reported that the Kinston officials emphasized the fact that "if they had to do it all over, the meters would definitely go."

He added that the panel indicated the parking meters placed them in a poorer competitive position, were a strong deterrent to downtown shopping, and that meter removal protected the city tax

According to the DGA spokesman, the final phase of the meeting was devoted to employee parking. He noted, "As it seems to be true in all Eastern North Carolina cities, Kinston has a large and unsolved problem" regarding employee parking.

Panel members, Mosier said, described several methods that had been tried in the past without success and mentioned their current project which is to have each employer urge his employees to sign pledge cards that they will not park in customer spaces.

Following the meeting, Stadium conducted a tour of the various parking facilities in the downtown Kinston area.

Ganging Up On Stevens

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Labor officials say 25 to 30 unions have offered contributions to pay the salaries of additional organizers at J.P. Stevens & Co. textile plants.

Harold McIver, national organizational director of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union department, said there are 32 campaigners at Stevens plants now. That will be more than doubled to 72.

The salaries of five of the additional organizers will be paid by the United Steel Workers union and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees will pay for another one, McIver said. Organizers earn top salaries of $325 a week.

Stevens is the nation's second largest textile company. Of the 85 Stevens plants and 44,000 workers in the United States, 63 plants and 32,000 workers are in the Carolinas.

McIver said the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union was anxious to capitalize on a recent Supreme Court refusal to review a contempt of court finding against the company. The decision will mean large fines for Stevens if the company doesn't comply with federal labor laws.

"This is a great opportunity to make progress after 15 years of litigation," McIver said.

Stevens recently ran full-page advertisements in major newspapers challenging the union to conduct elections now in all Stevens plants to decide once and for all whether Stevens workers want the union.

Dix Hospital Accredited

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Dorothea Dix Hospital has been granted a two-year accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. But within that period, the hospital must correct several deficiencies or lose accreditation and a large amount of federal funding.

Dix officials say, however, that correcting the deficiencies will take money the hospital doesn't have.

"It's going to be in the millions of dollars. There's no question about that," said Clyde Benner, administrator of the hospital's management services.

Benner said most of the improvements called for are dictated by the 1973 live safety codes for public facilities.

Roy Holley, controller for the Department of Human Resources, said the department would probably ask the legislature to increase the appropriation from the present $1 million for all the state mental institutions to $3 million.

Improvements call for the modifications of 1,600 doors, which are either louvered or have gaps of one to three inches for ventilation, at a cost of about $100 each, Benner said.

Modifications to the heating and air conditioning systems would be needed if solid doors are installed. Benner said it would cost close to a million dollars to change the doors and air conditioning in only one of the 14 buildings used at Dix for hospital purposes.

Mt. Etna Cut Back To Size

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Mount Etna, Europe's tallest volcano, got 65 feet taller during recent eruptions, but a three-hour blowoff cut it back to size.

Experts said 131 feet of volcanic debris had built up the northeast crater to a height of 10,990 feet, 65 feet taller than the central crater. Most of the addition went Thursday, leaving the central crater's 10,925 feet supreme. It has been quiet for some time.

Free Care For A-Bomb Effect

TOKYO (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled an illegal immigrant is entitled to free medical treatment for effects of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Chief Judge Seichi Kishi upheld lower court decisions that Japan is morally responsible for the treatment of foreign sufferers from the bombings in 1945, and the legal status of the sufferer does not matter. The ruling upheld a claim by Son Jin-du, 51, a Korean born in Japan who was in Hiroshima when it was bombed. He was deported in 1951 and smuggled himself back into Japan in 1970.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There could be some difficult conditions in effect today and tonight, but you can overcome them by being warm and charming to those you come in contact with. Be more thoughtful of others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make sure that you handle outside responsibilities in clever way at this time. Allow time to make plans for the future.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make a new contact who can be of great assistance to you in the future. Think in terms of expanding in career matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to be more careful in handling monetary matters at this time. Show more thought to your mate now and get excellent response.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make sure you are considerate of associates and you get better results now. Avoid unnecessary expenditures of money.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Ideal day to put personal affairs in better order and establish more harmony with family members. Strive for happiness.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try to please congenials more and thus have better relations in the future. Plan time to engage in favorite hobby.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Show more interest in others and put aside any past misunderstandings for best results. Be careful of one who opposes you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Organize your work so that you can gain finer benefits. Ideal time to clear up any misunderstanding you may have with loved one.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make long-range plans to have greater abundance in the future. Put aside more money for any possible emergencies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Not a good day to visit a friend who could be quite demanding now. Await a better time when you can cope with this person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you are more kind and courteous of those you love, you get better results with them. Engage in pleasant activities.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal day to show more thought for older persons who have been good to you. Not a good time for group activities.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one who puts small details aside and concentrates on larger issues, so equip with an education that will teach how to be most efficient in long-time interests. Don't neglect moral teachings early in life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Roxy Program Saturday Night

A special program to usher in April is being presented beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 1 at Roxy Arts and Crafts Center, Albemarle Street.

The evening's program, scheduled to last about two to two and one-half hours, will consist of a number of short variety entertainments in dance, song, poetry-reading, magic acts and a one-act play.

Music will be by the Double Jeopardy Band of Raleigh, with incidental music by Joe Dudasik and Robert Myers.

The Miracle of Faith Players will feature the one-act play "Lights" with Scott Thomas directing and in charge of lights. Two ECU students, Gladice Hughes and Win Utermohlen will perform the two roles. Hughes is a drama major and Utermohlen an art major.

Poetry will be read by Joe Dudasik, Robert Myers, and Gladice Hughes, with Robert Myers of Raleigh presenting some acts of magic.

The dance partners Ronald and Liz, both of Raleigh, will be in a dance program, and Gladice Hughes will also dance a solo number.

Admission is $2 to the general public, and $1.50 to Roxy members.

This program is made possible through the assistance of Grass Roots funds recently allocated by the state of North Carolina to the Roxy Arts and Crafts Center.

It was not a night of good baseball, but nevertheless, Farmville Central and Rose High School advanced to the finals of the Pitt County Easter Baseball Tournament last night.

Farmville Central romped over winless North Pitt by a 14-0 count, while Rose High School took advantage of D.H. Conley's 11 errors to roll up a 13-6 decision.

Tonight, Conley and North Pitt meet in the consolation game at 6 p.m., with Rose and Farmville Central meeting for the title at 8 p.m.

Neither game was a fan's dream, although Farmville Central did pound out their runs, rather than take them on North Pitt errors.

Edward Hines, who went the distance for the Jaguars, hurled an outstanding game. He gave up two leadoff hits to Panther batters, then retired the next 15 in a row before giving up the third and last hit of the game.

The Jaguars pushed over four runs in the second to score all it needed. Scott Evans walked and stole up. Hines walked, and Eugene Joyner ran for him.

got another hit, scoring two more.

In the fourth, Farmville exploded for nine more runs to take a 13-0 lead. Hines opened up by reaching on an error. Johnson singled courtsey runner Joyner over and stole second.

May walked and McLawhorn beat out an infield hit. Donald Holloman walked in a run, and Allen Moore singled in another.

Philip Gordon's double cleared the sacks for three more runs, and Evans tripled to center, scoring Gordon. Evans scored when the relay was errored.

Eason reached on a fielder's choice and scored on an error. The other run came in the sixth. Hines walked, as did Eason. Johnson reached on a fielder's choice and McLawhorn walked to force in the run.

McHawhorn and Johnson each had three hits to lead the Jaguar batting.

None of the Rose High School runs in the second game were earned, thanks to the Conley miscues.

The Rampants got things started in the first, scoring three runs. Robert Morehead reached on the first Viking error and Mike Shank was safe on another.

Jeff Aldridge singled in Morehead. Greg Lee reached on another error, scoring both Shank and Aldridge.

In the second, the Rampants added four more. Skip Topping walked and Joey Matthews beat out a bunt single. Courtsey runner Reggie Spain was caught in a rundown between second and third, but reached third safely when the ball was dropped.

Ronnie Chapman reached on the inning's second error, scoring

Spain. Shank grounded out, scoring Mattheis. Aldridge doubled to drive in Chapman, and Lee hit a single, scoring Aldridge. The ball got past the centerfielder and rolled all the way to the fence, and Lee could have circled the bases, but missed first and had to retag. By then, he could only get to third.

Four more came over in the third. Will Sanderson reached on an error and Mattheis singled him in. Morehead reached on another miscue, scoring Mattheis. Chapman walked, and when Shank was safe on another error, two runs scored.

Rose added two in the seventh, again getting error help. Reggie Selby walked and Shank reached on an error. Selby scored when Aldridge grounded out, and a passed ball scored Shank.

Conley loaded the bases with none out in the first, but Rampant hurler Mike Williams then proceeded to strike out the next three batters.

The Vikings struck for five in the second, however. Mike Phillips singled and Craig Buck got a hit. Mike Edens singled to load them up, and Nuggie Worthington hit a two-run double. Edens scored on a wild pitch, and after Micah Dixon walked, a double steal scored Worthington.

Dixon later scored on a wild pitch. The other Conley run came in the third. Curtis Spencer doubled to open the inning, and scored when Mike Edens reached on an error that would have ended the inning.

Aldridge led the Rose hitting with three, while Lee and Mattheis each had two. Dixon had two to pace Conley.

Final Scrimmage Set Saturday In Ficklen

Coach Pat Dye will put his East Carolina University Pirate football team through a final scrimmage for spring practice Saturday afternoon in Ficklen Stadium at 2 p.m.

With construction work surrounding the stadium on all sides in the expansion project, no formal Purple-Gold game is scheduled, as was true in past years. Instead, this will be an open scrimmage with no charge to the public.

Teams will be selected on a draft basis as in the past by the coaches and the captains of the two teams.

"It's going to be rather tough to have the scrimmage," said Dye. "We just have so many injuries right now that the list is a mile long. But we'll go out and put them through the scrimmage with what we have."

Among those sidelined by injuries and unable to play Saturday are quarterback Leander Green, running back Sam Harrell, fullback Theodore Sutton, offensive tackle Mitchell Johnston, defensive tackle Wayne Poole and offensive guard Wayne Inman. All will return in the fall and be ready to play.

Spring drills at East Carolina have produced several changes in personnel alignments as the staff searches for needed depth.

"We've been overall pleased with the changes," said Dye. "I think they are working to the advantage of both the team and the players."

"Spring practice has shown us the players we thought could play can play, that some players we expected could play can play, but now we would like to find some others to come through that can play as well."

"The quarterback situation really concerns me. After Leander, we have not had anyone to step forward and prove to be the winner we need to go with Leander. And in the wishbone, we need more than just one good quarterback."

Among the changes of personnel are: Mike Hawkins from running back to split end, Perry Allred from fullback to tight end, Joe Godette from offensive tackle to tight end, Ron Headley from defensive tackle to center, Clifford Williams from nose guard to defensive end, Gerald Hall from strong safety to free safety, Anthony Collins from running back to fullback, Jeffrey Warren from defensive end to linebacker, Mitchell Smith working at offensive guard as well as offensive tackle, Matt Mulholland and Nelson Smith working on both sides of the offensive line.

Dye will begin his fifth season as head coach this fall, having guided East Carolina to a 32-12 record in four years.

The Pirates will open their season September 2, against Western Carolina University in the expanded Ficklen Stadium which will seat 35,000 this fall. The previous seating was 20,000.

Georgia Tech To Join ACC On Monday

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech and the Atlantic Coast Conference are expected to tie the knot Monday, and athletic directors from ACC schools predict it will be a quick and simple ceremony.

"Monday should be the marriage. THE day of celebration," Tech's Athletic Director Doug Weaver said Thursday. The ACC's annual meeting is scheduled for May 13-16, but the formal conditions of admission are expected to be adopted Monday.

Tech's athletic board voted unanimously Thursday to apply for membership in the seven-school conference, which includes Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Virginia and Wake Forest.

Three of the ACC's members must sponsor Tech's application and five must vote in favor of membership. At least two of those votes were in Tech's pocket Thursday.

"I'm going to vote for them, and I'd be surprised if the conference vote is not unanimous," said Jim Kehoe, the athletic director at the University of Maryland.

Gene Carrigan, Virginia's athletic director, added, "I can't imagine anyone not voting for Georgia Tech. We had a meeting with Weaver several weeks ago and all of the ACC athletic directors were there and there was nobody in that room that was opposed to Tech becoming a member. I think the Monday meeting was just a formality."

Dr. Joseph Pettit, Tech's president, listed some of the reasons the board voted to join the conference:

"Geographically, the ACC is quite compatible with our student body. Each game has a special significance in a conference whether you're battling for second or third or whatever.

"Also, being in a conference tends to stabilize the finances of that group. Television is a big factor. You share and pool. Our team has good fortune one year, another the next," he said.

"And you have a championship," he added. "The ACC basketball tournament is a very significant thing. We feel this is an extremely important step for Georgia Tech and hopefully for the ACC."

Tech spokesman Jim Schultz said that among the matters to be discussed Monday are an entrance fee, the timing of Tech's membership and scheduling problems, particularly in football. Most of the dates on Tech's football schedule are filled into the 1980s.

Attendance at Yellow Jacket football and basketball games has suffered since Tech withdrew from the Southeastern Conference after the 1963 football season. Tech's request to rejoin the SEC last fall was rejected.

The Yellow Jackets play basketball and some other sports, not including football, in the Metro 7 Conference.

Edenton Tops Bear Grass

JAMESVILLE — Edenton exploded for 10 runs in the second inning to defeat Bear Grass 12-4 in the consolation bracket of the Jamesville Invitational Tournament yesterday.

The Bears scored four runs in the first to hold a 4-0 lead before Edenton's second-inning onslaught.

In the top of the first, Joe Harrison walked and Clay Gardner reached on an error. Jesse Bullock singled in Harrison. Duane Baker got a base on balls and Jackie Harrison reached on a fielder's choice as Gardner was thrown out at home. Bullock scored when David Bowen reached on an error and William Roberson singled in Baker. Jackie Harrison came home when Doug Baker reached on an error.

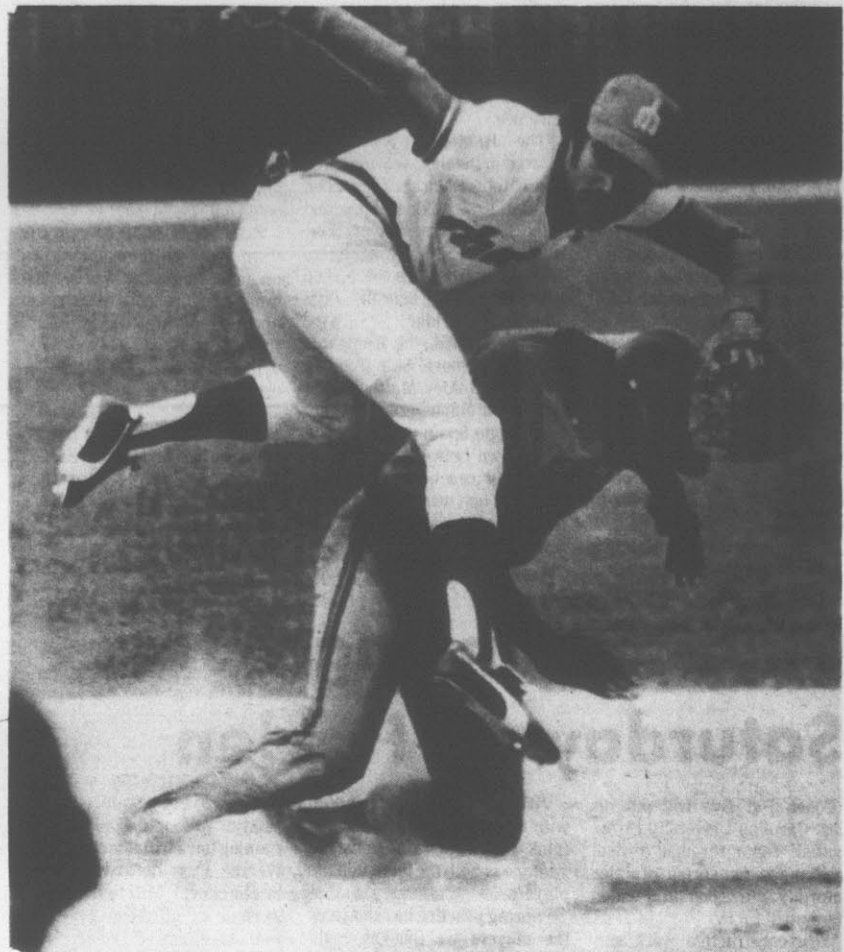

In the bottom of the second, the Aces got on the scoreboard, and in a big way. Felton walked and scored on Sawyer's single. Jordan and Clark walked to load the bases. Sawyer and Jordan came home on Stancill's base hit and Babb knocked in Clark with a single. Underkofler singled to load things up again and Bunch's double brought around Stancill and Babb. Felton doubled home Underkofler and Copeland got the Aces' third double in a row to score Bunch and Felton. Copeland came across on an infield out by Sawyer.

Edenton also added runs in the fifth and sixth.

Jackie Harrison was 2-3 at the plate for Bear Grass, while Felton, Bunch and Stancill were each 2-2 for Edenton. The Bears are now 2-4 for the season and play at Williamston tomorrow night.

Greenville now has someone in the major leagues.

Joe West has been confirmed as a member of the National League baseball crew, according to "Sporting News." The weekly, however, is still trying to make him ten years older than he actually is.

West, a Rose High School graduate who set passing records at Elon College as a football player, went into umpiring after finishing his senior season at Elon. He attended umpire school in Florida, and in just five years has worked his way into the major leagues.

West is one of two new ump's in the National League. At 25 (35 in "Sporting News"), he is the youngest umpire in the league. The other newcomer is 26-year-old Eric Gregg.

West has been named to the crew headed by John Kibler to handle the season-opening series in Pittsburgh between the Pirates and Chicago Cubs.

With an expected 40-year career ahead of him, West should be around a long time in the majors, and should be a crew chief himself sometime in the future.

Perry Nears Career Highlights

Williamston native Gaylord Perry is closing in on three lifetime marks achieved by few pitchers.

Already one of just a few pitchers to have won 100 games in each league, Perry, now back in the National League with the San Diego Padres, is just four short of 250 victories.

He has 48 shutouts, and can be one of a few with 50 of those.

But the primary mark is probably strikeouts. He now has 2,847, and needs just nine to move into third place on the all-time list, passing Jim Bunning.

He still has a ways to go to catch number two, Bob Gibson, who had 3,117, but a normal Perry season would leave him close to the mark. Catching the all-time leader, Walter Johnson, who had 3,508, probably will be impossible.

It all depends on how long the seemingly indestructible Perry can continue. Nearing his 40th birthday, the days of his career must be somewhat numbered. He plans to keep on going as long as possible, however.

So two years could put him second on the all-time strikeout list. It would probably take four or five more, however, to reach Johnson—and that would be four or five more years of starting, not working in the bullpen.

At any rate, he's assured himself of one thing—a place in Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Sox Trade In Bid To Dethrone The Yankees

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox' pennant hopes jumped like the price of gold today with the acquisition of Dennis Eckersley in an all-out bid to dethrone the New York Yankees.

"One man can't win the pennant, but Eckersley is more than one man," veteran first baseman George Scott said Thursday after the Red Sox wooed the young right-hander from the Cleveland Indians in a multiplayer trade.

The Red Sox, who boast such an awesome lineup that a 30-home run hitter like Butch Hobson bats ninth, outbid the Yankees and several other major league clubs for Eckersley to bolster their lone weakness.

After weeks of negotiations with the Indians, Boston General Manager Haywood Sullivan completed the deal while the Red Sox were whipping the New York Mets 4-0 in an exhibition game.

However, Eckersley, along with veteran catcher Fred Kendall didn't come cheap. The pair cost the Red Sox right-handed pitchers Rick Wise and Mike Paxton and two outstanding rookies, first baseman-third baseman Ted Cox and catcher Mike Diaz.

"We gave up one helluva lot, but we got one of the top five or six pitchers in baseball," Sullivan said. "We want to win and this gives us a much better shot. Eckersley is capable of striking out 200 batters a season. The sky is the limit for him, pitching and winning with our young club."

Eckersley, only 23, had a 14-13 record, including a 1-0 no-hit victory over the California Angels, in just his third year with the lousy Indians last season. He has a 40-32 major league record, striking out 543 in 633 innings.

"With him over here, it should add 10 to 15 points to my batting average," Scott said. "I won't make any predictions, but (Luis) Tiant, (Mike) Torrez, (Bill) Lee and Eckersley—that's four damn good pitchers. You have to be tough to beat four like that."

"It took a lot of guts to make that trade, but I like it," Boston captain Carl Yastrzemski said. "We gave up a lot of people. However, our farm system has developed a lot of young players and we can afford to give up people to get an outstanding pitcher like Eckersley."

Dodds Gets S.C. Honor

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Chris Dodds of Davidson has been selected as the Southern Conference basketball freshman player of the year by the sports information directors of the league.

Rodney Arnold of Furman finished second in the balloting and Keith Parker of Tennessee-Chattanooga was third.

Dodds, a 6-foot guard from State College, Pa., averaged 18.5 points per game.

The selection was announced Thursday by Jimmy Wilder of The Citadel, president of the Southern Conference sports information directors.

Baby Jags Defeated

FARMVILLE — Tarboro gained a 3-0 victory over the Farmville Central "B" baseball team yesterday.

Tarboro scored a single run in the fourth and added the other two in the seventh.

Mike Cales was the winning pitcher, while Timmy Barnes took the loss. He struck out six.

Guy Hardison and Jackie Harris each doubled for Farmville. Farmville plays North Pitt's "B" team on Tuesday.

Harness Racing

Royals Picked To Hold Off Rivals

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Can the stand-pat Kansas City Royals hold off the challenge of the free-spending Texas Rangers and California Angels in the American League West?

"It seems to get tougher and tougher each year," says Manager Whitey Herzog, who has piloted the Royals to consecutive division titles, only to lose to the New York Yankees each time in the ninth inning of the fifth and final playoff game.

"But now," he adds, "it looks like the '78 race may be the toughest yet."

The Royals didn't go after any of the expensive free agents, but they did get relief ace Al Hrabosky in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals. And they have a pair of rookies who could crack a set lineup—center fielder Willie Wilson and outfielder-first baseman Clint Hurdle.

Kansas City's basic strength is the players who have won more than 90 games three years in a row. The set positions are Al Cowens in right, George Brett at third, Fred Patek at short, Frank White at second, Darrell Porter catching and Hal McRae as the designated hitter.

But they may lack for pitching depth unless Andy Hassler develops some consistency to go with Dennis Leonard, Jim Colborn and Paul Splittorff in the regular rotation. Hrabosky and Doug Bird provide a strong lefty-righty bullpen.

But Texas has almost as many backers as new players. The Rangers added slugging outfielders Al Oliver and Richie Zisk and pitchers Jon Matlack, Ferguson Jenkins and Doc Medich.

"We will present a strong lineup on a daily basis and we figure to have strong pitching," says Manager Billy Hunter, who led the Rangers to a pennant-winning .645 pace after he took over.

The pitching will have a decided New York flavor. Doyle Alexander, Dock Ellis and Med-ich are ex-Yankees. Matlack an ex-Met. Paul Lindblad is the bullpen ace, but watch a youngster named Len Barker, who struck out seven of 10 Boston batters he faced in one 1977 game.

Rifled-armed Jim Sundberg, the Gold Glove catcher, is a vastly improved hitter and the infield is set with Mike Hargrove at first, Bump Wills at second, Bert Campaneris at short and Toby Harrah at third. Zisk will be the DH with Oliver, Juan Beniquez and Claudell Washington from left to right in the outfield.

Despite last year's fifth-place finish, California Manager Dave Garcia says this year's edition is "the best team ever to represent the Angels."

Outfielder Joe Rudi and second baseman Bobby Grich are back from crippling injuries that produced much of last year's disappointment. Rudi will be joined in the outfield by free agent Lyman Bostock, who finished second to Minnesota teammate Rod Carew in the batting race with a .336 average, and rookie sensation Ken Landreaux or free agent Rick Miller.

Few teams have as exciting as 1-2 pitching punch as Nolan Ryan and Frank Tanana. The rest of the rotation will come from Paul Hartzell, Ken Brett, Chris Knapp and Don Aase.

Slugging outfielder Bobby Bonds, who came from California and becomes a free agent next fall, is this year's rent-a-star for Bill Veech's third-place Chicago White Sox, who lost Zisk and Oscar Gamble, their two top home-run hitters, in the re-entry draft.

Bonds had more homers and runs batted in than anyone on last year's club and also stole 41 bases. The White Sox as a team swiped just 42. Ralph Garr and Chet Lemon, both fast, will likely join Bonds in the outfield, and there's even more speed in promising third baseman, who came with Bonds in the trade with the Angels. Ron Blomberg is the DH.

The infield has hard-hitting Lamar Johnson at first, Jorge Orta at second, Alan Bannister at short and Eric Soderholm at third and Kevin Bell, the good-looking 1976 rookie third baseman, has recovered from a knee injury. Jim Essian is the No. 1 receiver.

However, pitching is still the major problem.

The Minnesota Twins lost two-thirds of their outfield—RBI champ Larry Hisle and Bostock—to free agency. They still have first baseman Rod Carew, baseball's best hitter with a .388 average, and 20-game winner Dave Goltz, but there's a vast rebuilding job to do.

Manager Gene Mauch predicts there will be "enough good hitters on either side of Carew to keep those pitchers honest with him." He names right fielder Dan Ford, catcher Butch Wynegar, shortstop Roy Smalley and third baseman Mike Cabbage, plus lefty DH Glenn Adams. But much depends on whether Bob Gorinski and Willie Norwood can fill the outfield gaps.

The Seattle Mariners finished sixth in their first season, largely because the Oakland A's are in the same division. The Mariners have some punch in outfielders Ruppert Jones and Lee Stanton, first baseman Dan Meyer, third baseman Bill Stein and catcher Bob Stinson and they've added a couple of free agent bats in Bruce Bochte and Bob Robertson.

But the pitching staff is a mass of sore arms.

The A's are still in Oakland, which means the American League still has Charlie Finley to kick around. Center fielder Bill North is the only holdover from the glory days.

There might be some improvement, though, because last year's promising youngsters have a year's experience. The best ones are outfielders Mitchell Page and Tony Armas.

third baseman Wayne Gross, shortstop Rob Picciolo and pitchers Rick Langford, Pablo Torrealba and Bob Lacey.

The A's also have veterans in catcher Manny Sanguillen, DH Earl Williams and first baseman Dick Allen. Trade acquisitions Gary Alexander (catcher), Dave Revering (first base) and Gary Thomasson (outfield) should help.

Prediction: 1, Kansas City. 2, Texas. 3, California. 4, Chicago. 5, Oakland. 6, Minnesota. 7, Seattle.

In 1971, Vida Blue of Oakland had a rare double, winning the American League Cy Young and MVP Awards.

Lady Rams Win Game

SARATOGA — Greene Central's girls, softball team romped to a 16-2 victory over Saratoga Central yesterday.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Lady Rams this spring against no defeats.

Greene Central pushed over six runs in the first inning to have all it would need. They added three in the third, one in the fourth and two each in the fifth, sixth and seventh.

Saratoga got single runs in the third and fourth frames. Geraldine Hooker led the Lady Ram hitting with three, while Iris Priddgen, Sarah Taylor, and Carolyn Yelverton had two each. Cindy Creech had a solo homer in the sixth.

The Lady Rams return to action on Tuesday, hosting D.H. Conley.

FARMVILLE — Rose High School's girls' track team claimed its second straight victory of the year yesterday with a 76-47 win over Farmville Central.

Rose took first place in eight individual events, and added two of the relays. Farmville Central captured five firsts in individual events and won one of the relays.

Wallace was a double winner for Rose, winning the long jump and the 100-yard dash, while Tyson won the discus and the 880-yard run for Farmville Central.

Rose plays host to Northeastern on Monday, while Farmville Central hosts Elm City on Tuesday.

WEATHER FORECAST — Somewhat cooler temperatures are forecast for today from the Plains to the northern Rockies. Warm weather is expected for most of the East. Seasonably cool temperatures are expected for the Northeast. Rain is due in the western and northern Plains. (AP Laserphoto Map)

By The Associated Press
Continued warm temperatures are forecast for North Carolina through Saturday, with mostly sunny skies predicted and not a drop of rain in sight.

A ridge of high pressure covered the southeastern states early today, bringing mild temperatures. The ridge should move off the North Carolina coast tonight and a strong southwesterly wind flow is expected to be over the state Saturday.

Today's highs are likely to be in the low to mid 70s, with the only substantial cloudiness predicted over the northeastern counties.

Temperatures Saturday should be in the 70s and low 80s in most areas. There is no rain in the forecast until Sunday, when a chance of showers will develop.

Thursday's readings were seasonal, ranging from 56 at Cape Hatteras to 69 at Hickory. Charlotte and Asheville both reported highs of 68. Lows this morning ranged from the low 30s in the mountains to the low 40s along the coast.

No rain was reported in the state in the 24 hours ending at 1 a.m. today.

VEPCO Asks Large Rate Hike

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia Electric & Power Co. customers would pay at least 20 percent more for electricity if the utility is granted a $246 million annual rate increase it is seeking.

Veeco President Stanley Ragone disclosed the total amount of the rate increase Thursday in testimony filed with the State Corporation Commission for a hearing next Monday on the utility's request for an $82 million temporary hike. The filing for a permanent increase is expected later this spring.

Veeco had said earlier that its total request would be about $198 million, but Ragone said this figure grew because of an increased export tax for electricity generated in West Virginia and because the utility based its request on projected 1978 figures rather than 1977 figures.

Ragone said he knew a decision to grant the full amount would be difficult and unpopular for the commission, but it was essential.

"Veeco's difficult decision to proceed during the past decade with and increasingly expensive generating facilities is the reason that Veeco now has a balanced generating program capable of meeting critical circumstances without the serious adverse impact that customers experienced in many other areas this winter," Ragone said.

"We must be able to maintain financial integrity and attract capital to continue providing such a balance of generation."

In urging prompt approval of the $82 million temporary hike to cover costs of putting the North Anna nuclear plant into operation, Ragone said Veeco customers will save about $50 million once the plant is in use because nuclear fuel is more economical than other types.

The net effect of the full rate increase request would be only $196 million, he said. But that would amount to a 20 percent hike in rates.

The utility originally asked for a temporary increase of $117 million, but the SCC on March 17 deferred action on $35.1 million of the request for 60 days.

The $35.1 million request is to recoup a shortfall in earnings for the 12-month period which ended in June, 1977.

"...It is imperative that the remaining interim rate relief be granted soon and the suspension not extended," Ragone said in his written testimony.

The utility's capital expenditure program for 1978 is based on the award of all of the rate increase requested, Ragone said, adding that Veeco customers face energy shortages in 1981 because the commission didn't grant timely rate relief in 1974.

"To be forced into a similar position in 1978 because of denial of interim rate relief would be tragic," he said.

Ragone noted that Veeco would have to refund any part of the interim rate increase that was not justified later.

"The customer is fully protected from unnecessary rate increases, but nothing can protect him from increased costs or inadequate service if insufficient or delayed rate relief makes it necessary to postpone our construction program," he said.

December Accident Is Being Re-Raised

An accident in December, in which a member of the Board of County Commissioners was involved, is apparently being injected into the current political campaign.

A car driven by Edward N. Warren, seeking re-election to his seat on the board, was involved in a collision with another vehicle about 10:29 a.m., December 1, on Memorial Drive, South of the Sylvan Drive intersection, according to Police Department records.

An estimated $1,800 damage resulted to the Warren car, while an estimated $1,500 damage resulted to the second vehicle involved, officers reported, and both Warren and the other driver were reported injured.

The driver of the other car, according to the arrest report, was charged with failing to yield right of way to the Warren auto.

Investigators reported the car driven by the other man pulled from a driveway into the path of Warren's vehicle.

The other driver was charged with failing to yield the right of way in connection with the mishap. When the case was called for trial on January 25, the State chose not to prosecute and took a voluntary dismissal. However, the driver's insurance company paid for the damages to the Warren car and paid Warren's medical expenses.

"The Daily Reflector" has received a number of telephone calls regarding the collision. Some of the calls have suggested improper action on Warren's part.

"It was just a wreck. I can't see how anyone could make a political issue out of it," Warren said.

Victims Of An Unknown Killer

Funeral services are to be held in Winterville Saturday for a Winterville native and her five-year-old daughter who were found dead in their New York apartment Sunday.

According to the "New York Daily News" Ms. Shirley Williams and her daughter were bludgeoned by an unknown killer.

The battered bodies of Ms. Williams and her five-year-old daughter, Latisha Boyd, five, were reported found in the bathtub of their Brooklyn, N. Y. apartment.

The killer apparently took nothing from the neat, well-furnished apartment at 609 Sixth Avenue, Park Slope. The mother and daughter occupied the second floor of a three-story family building. The mother was employed at the Federal Reserve Bank at 33 Liberty Street in downtown Manhattan and her daughter stayed at a Brooklyn day care center while she worked.

They were at home Saturday morning, neighbors said, but Ms. Williams did not answer her telephone when her sister tried to call her Saturday night. The sister finally called an upstairs neighbor and asked that she check the apartment.

When the neighbor, identified as Norene Slaughter, received no answer, she summoned a brother of Ms. Williams, Sammy Williams, who pried open the door and found the bodies of the two in a tub of bloody water.

Both victims were wearing night clothes. Bloodstains on the living room rug, couch and walls seemed to indicate that they had been killed in that room and carried into the bathroom.

Homicide detectives said both mother and daughter had been hit on the backs of their heads with a heavy instrument. The mother had also been struck on the front of the head. They may also have been stabbed, police reported.

Ms. Williams was the daughter of Sam Williams of Winterville.

Arrest Woman On Alcohol Violation

Area Alcohol Law Enforcement agents arrested a Greene County woman Thursday morning on liquor law violations and destroyed a still in a wooded area near her house.

Agent Danny Dilda said that Annie G. Bright of Rt. 2, Snow Hill was arrested at her residence at 6:30 a.m. and charged with possession of non-tax-paid whisky and also possession of materials for the manufacturing of non-tax-paid whisky.

According to Dilda, officers confiscated eight gallons of non-tax-paid whisky in the raid and destroyed 250 gallons of mash, a 40-gallon cooker, and four 55-gallon drums.

He said the arrest and destroying of the still was the result of a week-long surveillance by ALE agents. Six agents from area counties and two Greene County deputies participated in the raid.

Dilda reported that the still was located off Rural Paved Road 1117 near the Brown Town community of Greene County.

Annie Bright, he added, was released on her own recognizance and a hearing will be scheduled in April in District Court in Greene County.

In another ALE arrest, Dilda reported, agents arrested William Collins of Rt. 2, Snow Hill and charged him with possession of non-tax-paid whisky. lead. He was obliged to lead a club and Tommy, down to nothing but the J-10 of trumps, ruffed. Poor West found that his K-6 of hearts was utterly worthless!

If he played the king, dummy would overruff with the ace and declarer's remaining trump would win the last trick. If West under-ruffed, declarer would sluff dummy's remaining diamond and the ace of trumps on the table would win the last trick. Either way, the slam was home.

Your play to the first trick could decide the fate of the contract! A writer once remarked: "There's no such thing as a blind opening lead, only deal opening leaders!" When Trump Coup Tommy was at the helm, his opponents knew that they couldn't be sure of taking a trump trick until it was actually in the bank and the transaction was signed, sealed and delivered. Indeed, one day he bid a grand slam off the ace of trumps, and the defender who held it refused to double. When asked why, he explained: "You know Tommy—he always redoubles!"

Tommy brushed aside East's preempt as he blasted into slam. As soon as his partner showed a good hand with his cue-bid, Tommy asked for aces and settled in six hearts. West can still be found sitting in a corner of the club muttering about this hand.

TCT won the club opening and ran the queen of hearts. When this held, he continued with a low trump to the eight, and East's failure to follow did not even ruffle Tommy's composure. Tommy cashed the king-queen of diamonds, and it seemed that the bad break here as well spelled the death knell of the contract. The kibitzers began to walk away from Tommy's table, but he proved them all wrong.

After taking the king-ace of spades and ruffing a spade, Tommy cashed his remaining club honor. Then he crossed to the ace of diamonds and led dummy's remaining spade, discarding his diamond loser.

West could not ruff the fourth spade without giving up his trump trick, so he also discarded a diamond and East was saddled with the

Police List 3 Accidents

More than $2,100 property damage resulted yesterday from a series of three traffic collisions investigated by Greenville Police.

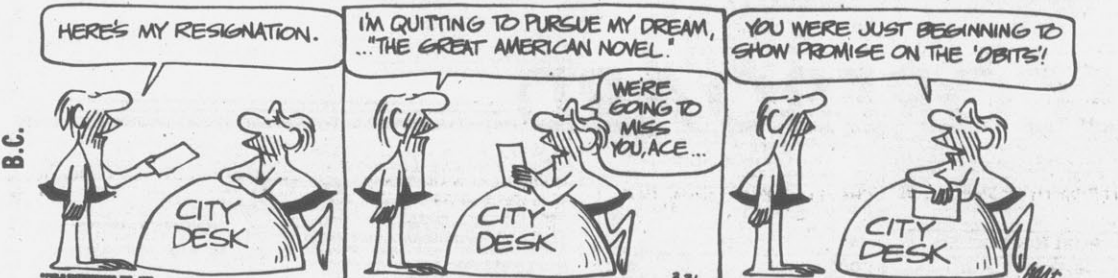

Investigators reported heaviest damage resulted from a 2:23 p.m. mishap on Tenth Street, West of the Rock Springs Road intersection involving cars driven by Mary Virginia Robertson of Unstead Dorm and Wilhelmina Harrison McAdams of Route 9, Greenville.

Police estimated damage from the collision at $800 to the Robertson car and $200 to the McAdams auto.

Cars driven by two Route 6, Greenville residents, Marlene Steiner Warren and Esther Prather Stanley, collided about 3 p.m. at the intersection of Tenth and Cotanche Streets, investigators reported, causing an estimated $500 damage to the Warren car and $300 damage to the Stanley vehicle.

A 7:03 p.m. collision at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Dickinson Avenue involved cars operated by Roy Roger Byrum of Route 1, Windsor and Mary Mac Stocks of 114A Howell Cir.

Investigators set damage at $175 to the Byrum car and $160 to the Stocks auto.

Two Names for the Same Ailment

I've had severe pains in my abdomen. I've been to two doctors. One said I had gall bladder disease. The other said I had "biliary colic." Now I'm completely befuddled. Shall I see a third doctor? — Mrs. J.B., Va.

Dear Mrs. B.: I'm a strong advocate of a second opinion under special circumstances. When a complex medical or surgical problem arises, there is always value in a confirmatory opinion.

Doctors and surgeons today do not feel that their patients are their own prized possessions. They welcome additional opinions because difficult problems can better be clarified by such combined medical thinking.

In your case, you are unfortunately trapped not by a difference of opinion, but rather by the fact that you have been given two different terms which actually describe almost the same condition: Biliary colic and gall bladder disease are essentially the same. The variations are slight and can be pinpointed by the special studies that are now available.

"Biliary colic" is the term used to describe sudden attacks of excruciating pains that start in the right upper part of the abdomen and penetratingly shoot to the right shoulder and to the back. Usually, the cause is some obstruction, by a tiny stone, of the gall bladder or the bile ducts. The free flow of bile from the gall bladder to the intestines (a part of the digestion process) can thus be interfered with. A "ball valve stone" may obstruct the duct and then be released back into the gall bladder. This accounts for the sudden intense pain.

Chronic infection of the gall bladder, with or without stone formation, can reproduce all the symptoms of so-called "biliary colic."

X-rays of the gall bladder and the biliary ducts can clearly define the origin of your problem.

I see no reason for complicating your medical problem just now by seeking a third opinion.

I suspect that I have a food allergy. I don't want to go through the whole routine of being skin-tested. Is there any way that I can try a simpler plan that might show me what I'm allergic to? — Miss L.H., Wis.

Dear Miss H.: Elimination diets can sometimes uncover the offending allergen or substance that is responsible for allergic symptoms. Some of the most common food allergens are fish, nuts, shell fish, citrus fruit, wheat, chocolate and milk. To compound the problem, allergic people may be sensitive to a combination of foods. This, of course, adds to the problem of tracking down the offender.

Haphazard food elimination is time-consuming and not always successful unless done under the direct supervision of a doctor.

Student Stabbed During Assault

An East Carolina University student, Timothy G. Blizzard of Jones Dorm, was stabbed with a knife in a parking lot off Reade Street, just South of the Fifth Street intersection early this morning.

Chief Glenn Cannon said Blizzard and his room mate were walking through the lot about 2:05 a.m. when one of three men who got out of a truck assaulted Blizzard with a knife.

Cannon said Blizzard told investigators he didn't realize he had been injured until he arrived at his dormitory room.

Blizzard was cut several times on the left arm and several times on his back, and suffered a three to four-inch deep stab wound just under his left shoulder blade, Cannon said.

Investigation of the incident is continuing.

Impasse In State Ports Dockworkers Negotiations

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Negotiations with dockworkers at Wilmington and Morehead City have reached an impasse, and union officials are blaming Gov. Jim Hunt.

They point to a statement the governor made last year in which he said he would rather risk a strike than accept a closed shop at the two ports.

John B. Smith, president of the Wilmington Local 1426-A of the International Longshoremen's Association, said recently the closed shop issue is not negotiable.

"We don't feel like we're go-

Elmhurst PTA Has Bake Sale

The Elmhurst PTA will sponsor its annual bake sale this Saturday to raise money for the library and playground equipment.

The bake sale, scheduled from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., will be held at the following locations: Overton's Super Market, K-Mart at Greenville Square, and JC Penney at Pitt Plaza.

The organization urged the public to support the annual project.

ing to be striking. We feel like the governor is closing the port," he said.

A Hunt spokesman denied that the governor is in any way responsible for the stalled talks.

Gary Pearce, Hunt's press secretary, pointed out that the governor opposes the closed shop because of the state's right-to-work law which forbids compulsory union membership. Pearce said Hunt "has to say that and they (the unions) should understand that."

Federal mediators notified both sides last week that since no progress has been made in negotiations which began Dec. 31, they were pulling out. Under contract provisions, this permits a strike after 30 days — or April 29.

Water Safety Course Begins

The Pitt County Red Cross reminded persons interested in teaching water safety sessions this summer that a water safety instructor course begins tonight from 7-10 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

The course, taught by Stevie Chepko, will be held at Memorial Gym on the East Carolina University campus. Participants should be prepared to swim the first night, it was noted.

Along with the closed shop, the checkoff of union dues stands as a major stumbling block in the negotiations.

Feel Billboard A Driving Hazard

NEW YORK (AP) — Delta Airlines is taking down its billboards urging people to fly to Florida. It seems the shapely, bikini-clad woman doing the urging is taking drivers' eyes off the road.

James Ewing, manager of national media relations for the Atlanta-based airline, said the billboards had been up for months without any complaints.

The Automobile Club of New York made the claim about distractions.

Observers say that wage differences are not as important as these two features, even though there is a difference of 13 cents between the union demand for a 60 cents per hour boost and the state offer of 47 cents.

The elimination also has called for the elimination of a no-strike clause in the contract.

Pearce said Hunt plans no further involvement in contract talks, but Smith said he is dissatisfied with the ports negotiators and would rather negotiate directly with Hunt or the SPA board, which he described as a group of "housewives and bankers" which Hunt appointed.

A port strike, according to Smith, would have an important economic effect on the state. Past reports have indicated that as many as 2,000 jobs statewide are directly related to port activities.

Union spokesmen say their demand for a closed shop does not conflict with the right-to-work law because the ports are covered by a federal law which allows closed shops.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N.C.
Partly cloudy with widely scattered showers Sunday through Tuesday. Highs in low and middle 70s; overnight lows in upper 40s and low 50s.
