Shah Denies Reports He Will Leave Chaotic Iran

By PARVIS RAEIN
Associated Press Writer
TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iran's military prime minister resigned today to make way for a civilian government amid reports that Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi was still refusing to leave his strife-torn country.

A longtime confidant of the shah said the monarch told him Sunday he would not leave Iran for any reason or give up the throne. He quoted the shah as saying government media reports that he planned to go abroad resulted from a "misunderstanding."

The ruler made a brief appearance for news photographers outside his palace and appeared tired and preoccupied. Asked whether he planned to leave the country for a vacation, he said he would like to take a holiday "if business permits." He did not elaborate.

Mounting anti-shah and anti-American violence prompted the U.S. Embassy to urge American wives and children to leave Iran. Other Western diplomatic missions told their "non-essential" nationals to go, and Canada sent military planes to evacuate Canadians.

Most embassies told their nationals to use commercial transportation, but few flights were available. IranAir, the national airline, was shut down by a strike against the shah. Airport sources said ground crews were refusing to handle American and Israeli planes because of the U.S. and Israeli governments' support of the shah.

Other labor trouble was reported at the airport, and a loudspeaker announcement there in the early afternoon said all flights were cancelled today. But it was believed Swissair and El Al, the Israeli airline, each got a flight off earlier.

Witnesses said mobs in Tehran attacked several buildings housing offices of American firms Sunday. Staunch American support for the shah has spurred anti-

Deep Freeze Stretching Over Many States Today

By The Associated Press
Howling winds combined with frigid temperatures, snow and freezing rain to create a New Year's Day deep freeze from Texas to Montana, from Spokane to the Straits of Mackinac.

At least five deaths were attributed to the stormy weather during the weekend, as snowfalls topped 12 inches in some areas.

In Dallas, an ice storm coated trees, sending branches crashing to the ground and knocking out power for up to 75,000 customers.

Ray Ward, a spokesman for Dallas Power and Light, called it "the worst ice storm in 30 years." And another power company spokesman warned Sunday: "If you are living near tall trees, you are either without electric power or soon will be."

About 3,500 telephone customers were also without service in Dallas.

Elsewhere, thousands were forced to alter travel plans, because of hazardous driving conditions and disrupted airline schedules. In some areas, New Year's Eve revelers stayed home because of snow-covered highways.

Powell New Chairman Of Greenville Chamber

The leadership of the Greenville Area Chamber of Commerce was turned over today from past president Charles Burnette, to 1979 Chairman of the Board, Jerry W. Powell of First State Bank.

Chairman Powell became the 41st volunteer leader of the long established Chamber. Prior to 1979, the leadership title had been President.

Prior to becoming Chairman of the Board, Powell had served as President-Elect, Co-Chairman of the Industrial Development Team, Vice President of Economic Development and was a member of the Transportation Committee and the Executive Committee. Powell also worked with the chambers of commerce in Wilson and Durham.

Toasts In Peking Hail Relationship

By JOHN RODERICK
AP Special Correspondent
PEKING (AP) — Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping today toasted the dawn of a new era in U.S.-Chinese relations and saluted Jimmy Carter for his "far-sighted view" in taking the historic step.

Teng and Leonard Woodcock, chief of the U.S. Liaison Mission here, were among 150 Chinese and Americans who crowded into Woodcock's modest home for a party celebrating the establishment of formal diplomatic ties between the two nations, which became effective today.

The Chinese leader said he felt certain the "far-reaching influence" of the new relationship on world peace "will become more and more evident with the passage of time."

Filmed A UFO?

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — The Royal New Zealand Air Force ordered an alert today after a television news team filmed what they said was an unidentified flying object. Aviation authorities reported the UFO apparently was tracked by radar as well.

The air force put a Skyhawk jet fighter on special standby alert to chase any newly sighted UFOs.

Page-Branch Vows Said In Ceremony On Sunday

Immanuel Free Will Baptist Church was the setting of the marriage of Teresa Kaye Branch and Talmadge Dawson Page Jr. Sunday at 3:00 p. m.

The Rev. Charles E. Branch, uncle of the bride, heard the vows during the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Branch Sr. of Winterville and the bridegroom is the son of Talmadge D. and Geraldine B. Page, of Greenville. The bride is a licensed practical nurse at Pitt County Memorial Hospital and a graduate of D. H. Conley High School and Pitt Technical Institute. The bridegroom is employed by Watson Electric Company and is a D. H. Conley High School graduate, also. Both are members of the Winterville Rescue Squad and he is also a Winterville volunteer fireman.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a long formal gown of white silk organza. The neckline was high with venise lace trim. The body was fitted with long sleeves trimmed with covered buttons and white cuffs edged with venise lace. The skirt was enhanced with a wide flounce edged with venise lace. Her headpiece was silk illusion and her chapel-length veil was accented with venise lace and seed pearls.

The maid of honor was Frances Branch, sister of the bride, of Winterville. She wore a formal-length green gown with empire waist, long sleeves and ruffles around the neck, sleeves and skirt. White satin ribbon encircled the waist. She wore a spray of three red carnations tied with red and white ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Brenda Carawan, Betty Hines, Pat Nelson, and Teresa Martin, all of Winterville, and Debra Page, the bridegroom's sister, and Trudy Whitehurst, both of Greenville. Their dresses were like those of the maid of honor, but were red in color. Their flowers were like hers.

Karen Dail of Winterville was flower girl and Kathy Dail, also of Winterville, was the miniature bride. Karen wore a green gown and carried a white basket holding red carnations. Kathy wore a gown similar to the bride's and carried a cascade of white and red carnations.

The ring bearer was Chuck Branch, cousin of the bride, of Winterville; the miniature bridegroom, Larry Willis of Winterville. Ushers were Frank Nelson, John D. Lawrence, and Ray and Timmy Branch, brothers of the bride, all of Winterville; and Mart Page, cousin of the bridegroom, of Rockingham and Horace Coltrain, cousin of the bridegroom, of Ayden.

Mrs. Vanora Teel was pianist and Gail Evans, Mattie McLawhorn and Jimmy Hines sang. Mrs. Clifton Brock of Winterville directed the wedding.

After a wedding trip to unannounced places, the couple will live in Winterville.

The reception which followed the wedding in the church fellowship hall was given by the grandmother and aunts and uncles of the bride.

The after-rehearsal party was given by the bridegroom's parents at Three Steers Restaurant Saturday evening. The wedding breakfast was given at the Ramada Inn by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Page Jr. and J. Thomas Page Sr. of Rockingham. A bridesmaids' luncheon was given Friday at Three Steers by aunts of the bridegroom.

Couple Marries On Sunday

Shirley Paramore Harrington and Ronnie Earl McLawhorn were married Sunday in the Faith Pentecostal Holiness Church in a 3:00 p. m. ceremony. The Rev. David Brinson officiated in the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Paramore of Greenville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLawhorn of Ayden.

The church was decorated with two, seven-tiered candleabras and baskets of yellow and white gladioli and daisies with greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length ecru gown with a train and empire waist trimmed in lace with a matching veil. She carried a cluster bouquet of mixed daisies, carnations, gypsophylla and garden greenery tied with ecru satin streamers.

Ms. Linda Rouse of Greenville was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Ms. Josephine Little of Greenville. The attendants wore floor length yellow gowns of dotted swiss with empire waists and puffed sleeves. They carried cluster bouquets of white carnations, gypsophylla and garden greenery tied with white and yellow satin streamers.

Derek Harrington of Greenville, son of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Robert V.

Briley and C. G. Paramore, Jr., brother of the bride, both of Greenville.

Nuptial music was provided by organist Mrs. Linda Howard of Greenville. Soloist was Jerome Howard of Greenville. Vocal selections included "If," "More" and "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception was given by the bride's parents in the church fellowship hall following the ceremony. Mrs. Jayne Paramore presided at the guest register during the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside at Rt. 5, Greenville.

The bride is an employee of Burroughs Wellcome. The bridegroom is employed with Vermont American.

Could Be A Good Year For Us

Today we begin a New Year, and, even with all the problems the nation faces, this can be a good year for our area.

Industry continues to locate here and existing industry continues to expand, creating new jobs to augment our still highly important farm economy.

We have come a long way in solving some of our medical care problems with the establishment of the ECU School of Medicine and the corresponding development of Pitt County Memorial Hospital as a regional facility. Hopefully the medical school will see its new building under way in 1979, even though bids taken in December totalled well over funds available.

This could also be the year when Pitt County becomes a part of the national highway system. Early in the year the decision should be made to construct a freeway from Wilson-to-Farmville-to-Greenville. That will give us an interstate design highway which connects us to the entire nation.

Business expansion continues for our area with an entirely new shopping center under construction On N. C. 11 between Greenville and Winterville.

In Farmville construction in the downtown area has been a headache, but soon Farmville will have one of the most attractive downtowns in the state.

Our farm economy, while faced with many problems, has equally many opportunities for growth. We live in a world increasingly desperate for our farm products.

Our area can continue to progress economically, but only if we as a people are determined to bring about that progress. In the past our farmers have put extra effort into producing quality products, our industry seekers have worked diligently to make the area an attractive location and the area leadership has done all possible to obtain a modern transportation system.

The past also tells us that progress is not given to us on a platter, but if we continue to give our best efforts, nothing is impossible for our area.

Welcome To A Year Of Costly Living

Welcome to the New Year.

As the old one closed a meat industry official foresaw $1.80 per pound hamburger. Others peering into the next 12 months could see $1 per gallon gasoline.

Housing costs are expected to rise 10 percent or so and, when the new models are introduced autos are sure to go up.

As the year goes on most of us will wonder how we'll make ends meet . . . but somehow we will, and at year's end we will still be thankful that we live pretty well.

THIS AFTERNOON

Crime Study Airs Change

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—It is not so surprising in light of recent headlines, and upon review of the statistics, that family violence leads the concerns of those in state government who prepared "A Crime Control Agenda for North Carolina."

Here is how this concern is spotlighted: "This is the most important, the most serious, and the most upsetting issue addressed in this report...mentioned more than any other by the citizens of North Carolina..."

The reason behind this emphasis is clear—violence begets violence.

Beating up on each other leads husband and wife to worse things; children who grow up experiencing abuse and learning that violence is all right go on to live lives of trouble and violence; those abused as children become abusers; untold attention of courts and law enforcement officials is devoted to family violence; and family disturbances result more often than any other incident in law officers being assaulted upon answering the call.

Thorough

The agenda for crime control is a thorough and lengthy review of citizen concerns and recommended actions compiled by Phil Carlton, secretary of the Department of Crime and Control and Public Safety until this month when he moves to the North Carolina Court of Appeals.

A former district court judge, Carlton says he "sat on the trial court bench for eight and a half years in a court with jurisdiction over domestic matters, and need no convincing about the seriousness of violence within the home."

The problem in our homes "has been an invisible one for many years. Only in the past decade has the true situation come to light. While we have long held to the belief that the family is the primary source of love, sympathy, understanding, and support, there is serious reason to question that today," Carlton states.

"The veneer of the family as a harmonious institution is cracking from increasing evidence that, too often, the family is, in reality, the focus of varying degrees of violent acts, ranging from the punishment of children to slapping, hitting, throwing objects, and homicidal assault by one family member upon another."

BILL NOBLITT

With those observations, Carlton captures the seriousness and severity of the problem while graphically raising even more serious questions about what is indeed happening to family life in this state.

One hope for the future is that bringing such family violence from behind closed doors labeling it a crime and condemning it as unacceptable will aid in resolving the problems.

Complex

Carlton recognizes that the issue goes much deeper than some new legislative proposals, although those are included in the recommendations for action—items such as stronger intervention laws, trespass revisions, prosecution follow through, and civil protective decrees.

Such will bring relief. "But the issue is more complex than simple legislation," Carlton believes. "We must address the root causes, reaching beyond the immediate incident to discover why so many turn to violence against family members and to seek out ways to prevent that violence. We must also learn how to serve the victim more effectively and to treat the abusers so that more positive results are achieved."

To accomplish this, the report calls for creation of a Family Violence Task Force to conduct a two-year probe leading to more comprehensive recommendations to the 1981 General Assembly.

CAPITOL LETTER

Family Violence Is Worst

By WILLIAM M. WELCH

Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Although Gov. Jim Hunt hasn't endorsed the whole thing, his administration's massive crime study released last week underscores Hunt's concern with crime and his get-tough response to it.

But it also points up the deep philosophic change his new Department of Crime Control and Public Safety will undergo when Herbert Hyde takes over as secretary Tuesday.

The report, with its 150 recommendations and nearly 100 pieces of proposed legislation, was written by J. Phil Carlton, who is giving up the post this week to take a seat on the state Court of Appeals. Carlton, a former college classmate and close friend of Hunt, was a district court trial judge for eight years, and he took a prosecutor's approach to both the job and his parting report.

As evidence, there is his unqualified support for a revived outlaw statute, despite the general distaste voiced even by Hunt for any law that allows citizens to shoot criminals designated as outlaws by a court.

He also talked tough about marijuana, called for stricter drug laws and recommended a crackdown on bingo. And he asked for a slew of mandatory jail terms — without exceptions — ranging from 24 hours for first offense drunken driving to a year for twice-convicted prostitutes and two years for repeated breaking and entering.

"Carlton really put it all in there," acknowledged Hunt press secretary Gary Pearce. "It's a real law-and-order report."

Hyde, however, comes to the job as a defense attorney, older but with a reputation as more of a civil liberties defender than law-and-order advocate.

As an outspoken legislator and unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor in 1976, he opposed Hunt on key issues such as the death penalty — Hyde was against it and Hunt for it.

In 1975 Hyde was at the forefront of the effort to repeal the century-old outlaw statute. On the floor of the House, Hyde said the law "is clearly unconstitutional. It does no good and it may lead to harm."

He lost in the legislature, but was upheld the next year when three federal judges ruled the law unconstitutional. It seems improbable that Hyde would now support his predecessor's proposal, despite Carlton's assurances his bill is constitutional.

The report, from which Hunt will draw his anti-crime proposals this month, reflects the anti-crime theme he ran for governor on and contains many proposals with broad appeal: presumptive sen-

THE DEADLY SIN

Henry L. Stimson, who died nearly twenty years ago, had served in the cabinets of four presidents. He was one of the outstanding American statesmen of the twentieth century.

Just before his death Stimson wrote these words: "The man who tries to work for the good believing in its eventual victory, may suffer setback and even disaster, but he will never know defeat. The only deadly sin I know is cynicism."

Sometimes it certainly seems as if the conditions of the world are going from bad to worse. Here in America we have enjoyed the benefits of free government for two hundred years. Yet a majority of the world's population does not believe in democracy. Mindless terrorism is on the increase; violence and suffering are the staples of our newspapers; atomic destruction seems to lurk just over the horizon. But we should never give up hope. The only deadly sin is cynicism.

Bite Your Tongue, 1978 Close Shave Issue

WASHINGTON — Every year it is our pleasure to print the things people have said to each other that they would rather forget about. Depending on what country they were said in, the person who made the statement could or could not be under house arrest.

Aren't you glad you weren't the adviser who said to the Shah of Iran last year, "The people wouldn't dare go into the streets. That would be violating a royal edict?"

Or the Swedish judge who said, "Why don't we give Sadat and Begin the Nobel Peace Prize jointly? It would give the Middle East treaty so much more meaning?"

How about the campaign manager who told Sen. Ed Brooke, "Why would your wife want to hurt your political career, even if you are separated?"

And let's not forget the State Department official who said to President Jimmy Carter last spring, "If we sell Saudi Arabia our latest fighter airplanes, they'll see to it that the oil raise will be less than five percent."

What about the chap who told President Somoza, "May you and your family rule Nicaragua until Rome has a Polish Pope?"

I still wonder whatever happened to the engineer at Firestone who said, "I'll stake my professional reputation on the 500 Radial Tire."

Or the vice president in charge of marketing who told his boss, "If Billy Carter can't sell beer, nobody can."

Whatever happened to the NBC executive who said in an interview in Variety last January, "Freddie Silverman not only has bad taste, he's also been very lucky."

How about the Chinese Communist official who said to another official, "How do you like this wall poster with Teng Hsiao-ping wearing a dunce cap?"

As well as the executive who told Lee Iococca, "Henry Ford wants to see you. He's probably going to give you a raise."

Or the financial vice president of a New York bank, who announced at a lunch last March to the board members of the Teamsters Pension Fund, "I got you out of airline stocks and put all your money in Cleveland Municipal Bonds."

Not to mention the scientist at NASA who told his chief, "According to my calculations Skylab will be flying around in space for at least 300 more years."

And while we're at it, let's not forget Leon Spinks' friend who said after the first fight with Muhammad

Stokes was interviewed on CBS' "Face the Nation."

The Justice Department had no reply over the holiday weekend but Deputy Attorney General Benjamin R. Civiletti told the committee earlier his department would not be eager to reopen the two assassination investigations.

The call for a Justice Department investigation came after the committee's final conclusions were issued saying its two-year, $5.8 million investigation had found that:

—Kennedy was "probably assassinated as a result of a conspiracy" in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

—"Scientific acoustical evidence establishes a high probability that two gunmen fired at President John F. Kennedy."

—The second gunman missed Kennedy's limousine entirely and both shots that hit the president were fired by Lee Harvey Oswald from a sixth floor window.

—"The committee is unable to identify the other gunman or the extent of the conspiracy" but the only possibilities it could not preclude are that maverick Mafia figures or Cubans opposed to President Fidel Castro might have been involved.

—"The committee believes on the basis of the circumstantial evidence available to it that there is a likelihood that James Earl Ray assassinated Dr. Martin Luther King as a result of a conspiracy" in Memphis April 4, 1968.

—"It is highly probable that James Earl Ray stalked Dr. King for a period immediately preceding the assassination."

Stokes said Sunday that in the committee's final report "we will be able circumstantially to connect James Earl Ray" to the $50,000 bounty conspiracy.

Pressing Justice Department

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House assassinations committee leaders are pressing the Justice Department to investigate what it says is evidence that both John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King were assassinated as a result of conspiracies.

The committee says scientific evidence shows President Kennedy "probably" was murdered in a crossfire of conspiring gunmen and that circumstantial evidence indicates a "likelihood" that King's murder also stemmed from a conspiracy.

Delegate Walter Fauntroy, D-D.C., chairman of the King investigation subcommittee, asserted Sunday that the Justice Department could prove in six months whether the two assassinations were conspiracies.

Fauntroy suggested at a news conference that the Justice Department has an obligation to make up for what the committee called past failures in both investigations.

Chairman Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, said he hopes the Justice Department will investigate new evidence which experts testified establishes "beyond a reasonable doubt" that a second gunman fired at Kennedy from the grassy knoll in Dallas.

And Stokes said Justice also has an obligation to the investigate circumstantial evidence that a $50,000 bounty led James Earl Ray to murder King.

Noting that the FBI misplaced evidence in 1974 of the possible King conspiracy involving the bounty, Stokes said: "I think they have an obligation to go back and conduct the kind of investigation they should have conducted in the first place."

Stokes was interviewed on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Platform Tennis: Big Racquet Game For Winter

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — The courts are a bit smaller and occasionally the icicles glint in the winter sunlight. Still, it's tennis. Not the Davis Cup variety for this former pro, but the slim-downed, trim-lined platform brand.
These days Clark Graebner is more the 7 a.m. commuter from Connecticut than the extrovert of the international tennis set. But the 34-year-old sales vice-president of a paper company refuses to relinquish the sport. He utilizes his excess energy in strengthening the prestige of the Passport Platform Tennis Grand Prix circuit.

"I'm still learning the nuances of the game," Graebner admits, "but it's a racquet and a ball and it's fairly similar to regular tennis."

Platform tennis has three basic characteristics which distinguish it from regular tennis: a smaller playing area, a 12-foot high wire screen surrounding the court and a single serve. The small court size makes it easy to cover, while the screened walls give the players a second chance to hit the ball, meaning that if a ball is hit through a doubles team, they can play the shot after it rebounds off the back or side screen.

The one serve places a premium on accuracy and not power. The racquet is a wooden paddle as opposed to a stringed racquet. The ball, hard and spongy, is the same size as a regulation tennis ball.
Graebner stresses that much more patience is involved in platform tennis because of the nature of the game.

"You must learn to hit down on the ball and play much more aggressively because of the shorter distance between connecting point and the baseline on the opposite side. Getting used to handling a woodenfaced paddle was not difficult.
"Deftness of touch is necessary for control, but brute force must also be used when the occasion warrants. Plus the consistency of lobbing, which is always a strong point, whether it's platform or regular tennis."

Although it does not have the general popularity of tennis, platform tennis does offer Graebner benefits he appreciates.
"Platform is a fun sport that keeps me in a competitive atmosphere. We get to meet and play with enjoyable people, both during tournaments and practice, and that's a real plus. Of course, there's money to be won on the tour, and my visibility playing platform tennis helps with my equipment and clothing endorsements.
"The game itself is becoming more popular for a number of reasons," Graebner says. "First of all, you can get outdoors in the winter and play a racquet game. It's a very nice social activity that can be played quickly — and by people of different abilities."

Graebner, who helped the United States beat Australia in the 1968 Davis Cup Challenge Round by winning two singles matches — an 8-10, 6-4, 8-6, 3-6, 6-1 marathon victory over Bill Bowrey and a 3-6, 8-6, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Ray Ruffels — is partnered on the Passport tour with Doug Russell, one of the game's finest practitioners.

A past platform tennis world champion, Russell invited Graebner to play a tournament with him in Boston two seasons ago. Although the team lost in the semi-finals, Russell asked the far-less experienced Graebner to be his permanent partner at the beginning of the 1977-78 campaign. The partnership improved as the season progressed, and Graebner-Russell capped off the year with a victory in the prestigious Passport Scotch Classic.

"Doug is a very artistic and creative player," Graebner points out. "What he may lack in power he more than makes up for in finesse. His knowledge of the game is exceptional, and he is particularly adept at hitting the ball off the screen."

Never an admirer of mediocrity, Graebner claims there is satisfaction playing platform tennis. He can't get used to playing outdoors in sub-freezing weather but believes this is sometimes necessary because of the game's value as a social vehicle.
What type of person with tennis background is attracted to the platform variety?

"People like myself, Herb Fitz Gibbon, Butch Seewagen," Graebner answers. "We're slightly over the hill for regular tennis, but just right for this game."
Graebner manages to sneak in some tournament tennis in the 35-and-over bracket, or perhaps play in the U.S. Open doubles, but there's almost no room for him in the big money singles at Wimbledon or Flushing Meadows, N.Y., where computerized rankings of regular players make it difficult for others to get into the draw.

Most Snacking Done At Home

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite their heavy patronage of fast food establishments and other restaurants, Americans still eat most of their meals and snacks at home.

A study by the Newspaper Advertising Bureau, Inc., shows in-home eating on weekdays accounts for 92 percent of the breakfasts, 62 percent of lunches and 82 percent of dinners, plus 64 percent of morning snacks, 68 percent of afternoon and 80 percent of evening snacks.

Of the meals eaten away from home, only three or four of every 10 take place in restaurants. The others are in the homes of friends and relatives or in company cafeterias or lunchrooms or consist of food brought from home.

The bureau's information was taken from a national probability sample of American households during a six month period. It showed 30 percent of all meals eaten in public places during that period were in fast food restaurants, compared with 50 percent in table service establishments, 12 percent in lunchrooms or cafeterias and eight percent at counters.

Seeks Means For Optic Nerve To Repair Itself

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (UPI) — A medical researcher is studying the lowly salamander and goldfish, hoping to find a way damaged optic nerves and other nerve tissue can be ordered to repair themselves.

But Dr. James Turner, an anatomy professor at the Bowman Gray Medical School, cautions the work he and others in the country are doing is still years away from the final step of complete regeneration of the optic nerve and return of vision.

Salamanders and some other lower species can regenerate damaged or severed nerves in their central nervous systems, but if the human optic nerve is cut or severely injured, the affected eye will be forever blind. If a spinal cord is cut, the damage is permanent.

Turner, who has studied salamanders for several years and goldfish more recently, is trying to find out how their nervous systems repair themselves when man's cannot.

His research, he said, indicates at least part of the answer lies with a hormone-like substance known as a nerve growth factor and shown to have a role in the development of nerve cells in the two species and in the peripheral nervous systems of higher animals.

He said recent studies elsewhere indicate the factor, called NGF, may also have a part in the growth and regenerative processes of the central nervous systems of higher animals. Among other things, he said researchers wonder why, if NGF is present in the central nervous systems of higher animals, it doesn't promote regeneration in them as it does in the systems of the lower animals.

Turner said his study of the optic nerves of salamanders indicates one injection of a minute quantity of commercially prepared NGF (it can be extracted from snake venom and saliva glands of mice, or prepared synthetically) doubled the regeneration rate in a severed optic nerve. An injection of the antiserum for NGF, he said, reduced by 50 percent the number of regenerating nerve axons.

He said his studies indicate naturally occurring NGF plays a role in nerve cell regeneration and earlier work indicates NGF injections enhance regeneration.

Turner and his colleagues are now conducting similar studies on goldfish. He said that work so far indicates results similar to the salamander studies, indicating "some universality in the systems, meaning that there's a good chance that similar results would be achieved with other low-order animals."

He said that work should be done in about six months and the research will then move into the realm of mammals, where limbs do not grow back and central nervous systems do not regenerate. He will work with mice.

Turner said research over 70 years ago indicated the central nervous system of a higher animal does try to repair itself and some regeneration occurs in the first few days after the injury. However, he said, the regeneration slows and stops in a few days.

Turner said he hopes to be able to prolong the regenerative process using NGF. In the early studies, he said he will cut the optic nerve of a mouse, inject the NGF and hope regeneration goes past the normal 7-10 days.

If that works, he said, the next step is multiple injections over several days to keep the regeneration going until the damaged nerve is repaired.

Even should the NGF work in mice as it has in salamanders and goldfish, Turner said, he expects to run into countless other obstacles that must be surmounted.

Water Bond Referendum Also Faces Ayden Voters

by REBECCA BUFFALO
Reflector Staff Writer

AYDEN — When Ayden voters go to the polls Tuesday, Jan. 9, three bond referendums concerning electric, water and sewer improvements will come before them.

Information concerning the electric bond referendum was presented in the Sunday edition of "The Daily Reflector."

WATER BOND REFERENDUM

During the past three years, the town of Ayden has seen substantial business and residential growth both within and outside its corporate limits.

Studies conducted since 1976 have shown that Ayden is expected to continue this growth over the next two years.

The water bond referendum will cost $500,000, since the town has been granted a Clean Water Grant by the state for $138,735.

However, the grant will be withdrawn and given to another city if the referendum fails to pass.

The improvements covered by the bond issue will include construction of a 500,000 gallon elevated storage tank, a 250 gallon per minute deep well and installation of about 23,000 feet of ten, eight and six inch distribution lines.

The annual debt payment for the town if the bond passes will be around $30,500. The Ayden Town Board of Commissioners has proposed to increase the water rates so that each customer will probably pay around $12 more each year.

Taxes will not be increased nor will tax money be used if the proposed plan is used.

At the present time, Ayden has two deep wells, one located on Sixth Street and another at the garage area.

The Sixth Street well was installed in 1963, with the garage well in 1969. Last year, approximately $21,419 was spent repairing the wells.

Each well column and shaft was lowered last year around 70 feet due to the decrease in Ayden's water table.

The proposed well and water tank will be located one mile west of Ayden on State Road 1113 (Old Snow Hill Road.)

According to town officials, the proposed well and tank are located out of town to prevent further dropping of the town's water table. Also, the drawdown of one well should not interfere with the yield of another one.

The North Carolina Division of Health Services states that a public water system which incorporates wells designed to serve 50 or more residences or connections should provide at least two wells. The Division also states that the combined yield of all wells should be sufficient to provide the daily demand in no less than a 12-hour pumping period.

Ayden presently has 1,625 residential, commercial and industrial users. Using a N. C. Division of Health Services guideline of 400 gallons per day per customer, 650,000 gallons of water are needed per day. Dividing that figure by 720 minutes (12 hours multiplied by 60 minutes) equals 903 gallons per minute pumping capacity.

Although both wells pump a combined 1,100 gallons at the present time, Ayden's projected growth over the next two years will push up the town's use, leaving little or no reserve for industrial capacity or emergency situations.

A 300,000 gallon water tank located on Snow Hill Street is not adequate for the town's present use, as the N. C. Division of Health Services states that a one day supply should be in elevated storage.

Using the yield figure computed by using the 400 gallons per day per residence idea, the town should have at least 650,000 gallons of storage capacity. Town officials have pointed out that although the Sixth Street well has a gasoline motor in case of electrical breakdown, if the motor were to fail, the overhead storage capacity would not be sufficient for a day's supply unless water was rationed.

If the bond referendum fails to pass, the Ayden Board of Commissioners might have to set a "no growth" policy to contain the town and its one-mile limit to keep water demands at its present levels.

Another mode of operation would be for the Ayden Board of Commissioners to issue revenue bonds for the improvements without putting the issue to a vote of the people.

Revenue bonds have a higher interest rate and would be harder to sell than the general obligation bonds. Water rates would also be higher if the Board chooses to sell revenue bonds.

In order to hold down costs, the town has decided to hold the voting on all three referendums at one time. Town utility employees have passed out informational leaflets while reading meters.

The Ayden Chamber of Commerce sponsored the publication of the leaflets.

If the water bond passes, final plans and specifications should be finalized in about 60 days, with bids to be sent out after that time.

Flu Outbreak Has Eased

ATLANTA (AP) — A flu outbreak on the West Coast has subsided — at least for the holidays — but influenza apparently has moved east to the Midwest, the national Center for Disease Control says.

Dr. Tim Nolan said Sunday the number of reported influenza cases in the West diminished in the past week, but the Center received reports of influenza in Minnesota and Wisconsin for the first time on Friday.

The variety of influenza isolated this year has been dubbed A-Brazil, because of its similarity to a strain found in that South American nation, Nolan said.

The Brazilian flu closely resembles the Russian flu — strain A-USSR — which struck college campuses and military bases early in 1978. For example, both strains are most likely to strike persons younger than 26, because a similar kind of flu that disappeared in the early 1950s left most older Americans with immunity to the new strains.

The influenza virus generally changes forms slightly from year to year.

Influenza has been confirmed this season in California, Utah, Arizona, Washington, Florida and Georgia.

Pup Rescued From Ice Floe

DETROIT (AP) — A brown and black puppy found a temporary new home after a brief ride on the Detroit River.

Police from the harbor-master's division took in the 9-month-old German shepherd Sunday after rescuing it from an ice floe on the river.

Sgt. Donald VanLoo said his office was alerted to the dog's troubles by people who spotted the shivering pup as the floe drifted down the river toward Lake Erie.

"The dog was probably wandering around when the ice broke and took him out in the river," VanLoo said.

There were no identification tags on the puppy, and police were keeping him at the harbor-master's office.

"If we hadn't gotten out there," VanLoo said, "the puppy probably would have floated out into Lake Erie."

Breakups Rarely Due To Religion

NEW YORK (AP) — A national survey of marriage counselors by Redbook magazine finds that religious differences are no longer generally considered a cause of marital difficulties, and that couples seem to be pairing off more wisely in that regard.

The study found the main causes of marital difficulty were, in order of importance: Breakdowns in communication, loss of shared goals or interests, sexual incompatibility and infidelity.

Saturday's Cryptoquip — IMPATIENT CHIMNEY SWEEP MAY WELL COLLECT HOT SOOT.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: B equals N

The Cryptoquip is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words, and words using an apostrophe can give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Parties Never End At Specialist Firm

By RICK HAMPSON
Associated Press Writer

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — For Party World, the party's never over. Noisemakers and multi-colored, pointy-topped hats are popular items, but if you want a grass skirt or a toga, step right up.

"People are giving parties more than ever," said Louis Melchiori, manager of Party World and Other Things — a store he claims sells "3,700 ingredients for a successful party."

Recently, Melchiori says, noisemakers, balloons, streamers and confetti have been hot items.

But, he adds, "Next month you get the patriotic buying for Washington's Birthday ... veterans organizations, auto dealers ..."

New Year's, in fact, is not Melchiori's busiest season. That comes around June, with "weddings, first communions, confirmations and stag parties."

Then there are the red hearts for Valentine's Day in February, green shamrocks for St. Patrick's Day in March and orange jack-o'-lanterns for Halloween in October — the store's biggest single holiday.

But tradition sets no limits on the store's stock. Given a week's notice, Melchiori even can supply a toga party.

"Yeah, you get paper togas, sandals, and those Caesar hats," he said.

Also popular are Hawaiian parties, for which the store provides bamboo splints that function as skewers, leis, and a centerpiece model of dancing girls dressed in grass skirts.

There also are wall posters of the Eiffel Tower for French parties, and of the Roman Colosseum for Italian-style get-togethers.

Fiedler Absent, Not Forgotten

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Pops Conductor Arthur Fiedler missed the orchestra's New Year's Eve concert, but he was not forgotten.

Band leader Mitch Miller, invited by the orchestra management to help fill in, paid tribute to the octogenarian conductor during the nationally televised concert.

"All of us here know Arthur Fiedler is watching us tonight," said Miller Sunday night. "We know he's getting better and thank him for inviting us to his party."

Rare Stockpile Of Elvis' Songs

By JOE EDWARDS
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Like coal stockpiled for a long winter, songs that Elvis Presley recorded but did not release are being used to heat up his posthumous record sales.

And Presley fans, who still love him tender, can be assured that there probably will be Presley records coming out for some time.

Presley's new album, "Elvis, A Legendary Performer, Vol. 3," contains two songs never released before and new versions of six other songs.

Felton Jarvis, Presley's producer, has said there are "reams and reams" of taped songs by Presley that have never been released.

The new songs on the current album are "Danny," written and recorded for the movie "King Creole," and "Britches," recorded for the movie "Flaming Star." Both were edited out of the films.

The album also contains new versions of the songs "Fame and Fortune," "Frankfort Special," "G.I. Blues," "Guadalajara," "It Hurts Me" and "Let It Be Me."

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There could be some confusion and muddled thinking in the atmosphere today and you would be wise not to jump at any conclusions and maintain poise in all your activities.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study and figure out the details of a new plan that will give you greater income in the days ahead. Be alert to opportunities.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be sure you explain a plan you have carefully to an associate and avoid confusion later on. Take no risks with money.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be willing to make needed changes that could give you increased abundance in the days ahead. Be more cheerful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take care you don't go off on a spending spree at this time. Study the future well and make sensible plans.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A new attitude now could be most beneficial in your line of endeavor. Try to meet the expectations of loved one tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An associate needs your support, so don't fail to give it. Be sure to make a long, overdue payment and avoid trouble.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Talk over business matters with associates and come to a fine understanding. Obtain the data you need from the right sources.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy on creative work early in the day and handle routine duties in the afternoon for best results today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) There could be some confusion at home during the day, but it is best to wait until evening to clarify it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Much care must be exercised in motion today, otherwise you could get into serious trouble. Relax at home tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You could be confused about your financial standing, so get it cleared up now, and be sure. Strive for happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) It is difficult to make the progress you want in early in the day, but by evening all changes. Plan to improve your health.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will require the best education possible in order to have the success and happiness that is possible in this chart. Be sure to give the right moral training so that the energies will be channeled in the right direction.

Resolutions Not For Keeping

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Don't feel bad if those New Year's resolutions don't last. A University of Utah psychologist says they're probably just your way of letting off Christmas steam. But that's OK.

Dr. Ernst Beier says the fact that New Year's Day follows shortly after Christmas is an important factor in understanding why people make resolutions.

Holiday pressures, even with happy families, add up to a heavy psychological drama, he said, and the new year provides a way of getting away from the worries of money, gifts and family relationships.

The making and breaking of resolutions is a good example of human nature, said Beier, because it shows the difference between what individuals strive to be and what they really are.

WANDERED AWAY

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — An administrator of the Forsyth County home for the sick and elderly says an 83-year-old patient who wandered away from the home Friday night, Mary C. Feimster, was found dead Saturday.

Seek A Possible Witness In Slayings

CHICAGO (AP) — A former employee of John Gacy Jr., the contractor suspected of killing as many as 32 young men and boys, is being hunted as a possible witness to the sex slayings, the Chicago Sun-Times reports.

The police search for the unidentified man was begun after a victim of an alleged assault involving Gacy said he was convinced Gacy had an accomplice, the Sun-Times said Sunday.

Twenty-seven bodies have been unearthed from beneath Gacy's suburban Chicago home. Two bodies found in the Des Plaines River have been linked to the investigation.

Gacy, a painting and redecorating contractor, reportedly has written letters from jail in which he said that "some things said about me are true" and asked his mother to "please forgive me."

Philip Hardiman, county director of corrections, confirmed that Gacy wrote two letters last week, but he refused to disclose their contents. One was to Gacy's mother, he said.

The Sun-Times reported that one of the letters was intended for Sun-Times columnist Mike Royko and WBBM-TV anchorman Walter Jacobson. The paper said that letter was intercepted and turned over to the office of the state's attorney.

The Sun-Times quoted unidentified investigators as saying the letter said, "Some things said about me are true."

In the letter to his mother, the Sun-Times reported, Gacy said he had been "sick for a very long time, both mentally and physically" and "please forgive me." The letter also said "the end is near," and Gacy asked to be buried next to "Uncle Ray...if I die," the Sun-Times said.

Gacy, 36, reportedly confessed to sexually molesting and murdering 32 boys and young men, including five he reportedly claimed to have thrown in the Des Plaines River. He has been charged with murdering one youth, Robert Priest, whose body reportedly was thrown in the river but has not yet been found.

The Chicago Tribune has said that the investigation is spreading to checks of murders with sexual overtones committed in Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and downstate Illinois. Police departments in those areas have notified authorities in Cook County that they want to check Gacy's movements in connection with unsolved sex-killings of teen-age boys within their jurisdiction.

Jeff Rignall, 27, the man the Sun-Times quotes as claiming Gacy had an accomplice, said he met Gacy last spring when Gacy offered him some marijuana. Rignall said he got into Gacy's car and was chloroformed.

According to the newspaper, Rignall said he regained consciousness in Gacy's home, where he was restrained on a rack-like device and Gacy was sexually abusing him.

Rignall said he based his theory about an accomplice on seeing a light come on in another part of the house while Gacy was with him.

Talk Pay Boost For Substitutes

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina educators say the state's $20-a-day rate for substitute teachers is too low.

"The $20-a-day salary is barely minimum wage," said Harry S. Howard, Wilson County schools assistant superintendent for personnel. "I don't know why anyone would do it (substitute) unless they just love to work."

In fact, many are not doing it, Harry Stanfield, principal of Fuquay-Varina Middle School, said he had to call 14 people before he got one substitute.

Personnel administrators in Wake County, Wilson County, Edgecombe County and Chapel Hill City schools agreed that finding substitutes is "harder this year than ever before."

Nash County and Craven County administrators said they've had no shortage of substitutes. The North Carolina Association of Educators and the Personnel Administrators Association are pushing for a $30-a-day rate. The state Board of Education plans to ask the General Assembly to fund the rate, beginning next fall.

The increase would help make substitute teaching more attractive financially, said Juanita Floyd, chairman of the personnel association. "But I would think even $30 is not enough."

After deductions for Social Security and state and federal taxes, the substitute now clears about $15 a day. And as Mrs. Floyd puts it, that is not enough money for substitutes "to hire a baby sitter and pay for their gas."

One Injured In Auto Accident

A wreck at the corner of Fourth and Summit streets here Saturday at 3:50 p. m. reportedly did $4,000 worth of property damage and injured one.

Police identified the two drivers involved as Ralph Thomas Gillespie Jr. of Reidsville and Kay Gwaltney Lotterhos of 30 Scott Street, Greenville. The injured person, a passenger in the Gillespie vehicle, was identified as Brant Bills of Winston-Salem.

Damage to the Gillespie car was estimated at $1,500; damage to the Lotterhos car, $2,500.

Gillespie was charged with failure to see movement could be safely made and driving the wrong way on the one-way street.

Investigation is continuing.

Report Car Was Stolen Here

A car owned by Clifford Harris of 120 Fairway Drive, Greenville, was reported stolen from Warren's Texaco, corner of Memorial Drive and W. Fifth Street here.

The car was reported to have contained a raincoat, shirt and coveralls.

Investigation is continuing.

Thefts From Parked Vehicles

Several thefts from parked vehicles were reported to Greenville police during the weekend.

Raymond Perkins of Bethel reported the theft of $494 worth of clothes and eyeglasses and a $106 television set from his car parked near the corner of Albermarle Ave. and Alley St. here Saturday at 12:15 a. m.

Jo Ann Sparrow of Colonial Trailer Park here reported a pocketbook containing $132, a camera, and medicine stolen from her car while it was parked in the In and Out Store parking lot.

Ronnie House reported the theft of his wife's purse from a truck parked in The Attic parking lot. Entry into the locked vehicle did $65 worth of damage, police reported.

Carter Planning Atlanta Visit

ATLANTA (AP) — President Carter plans to attend ceremonies marking what would have been the 50th birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. later this month in Atlanta.

Coretta Scott King, the civil rights leader's widow, said Saturday that Carter will speak Jan. 14 as part of the six-day observance.

U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young and Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., are also due to participate.

ATTENTION CITIZENS OF SIMPSON

The Village of Simpson this year again intends to apply for a grant from the U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development through its Community Development Program. The maximum grant amount available through the Single Purpose Grant is $500,000. If successful in obtaining a grant, these funds can be used by the town to help alleviate housing problems, public facilities problems which directly affect health, or economic development primarily affecting low & moderate income people in the town. There will be approximately $9 million dollars available statewide for the single purpose program. HUD anticipates more applications than it has funds.

The town wants your assistance in developing the pre-application which will be submitted to HUD no later than January 22, 1979. In order to get your involvement in this process, the town will hold the following public meetings to get your ideas on activities we should apply for.

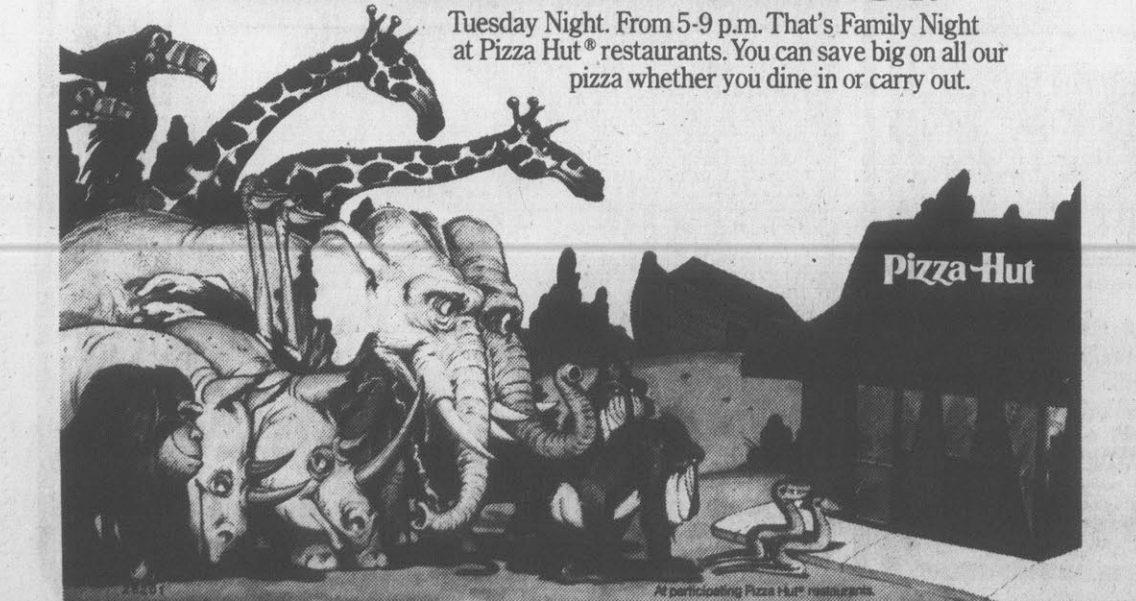

Thursday, December 28, 1978 7:00 P.M. Education Building
 Thursday, January 4, 1979 7:00 P.M. Education Building

The town has a written and adopted plan for obtaining citizen involvement during this pre-application process which is available at the town office during normal working hours. Please help us by telling your Neighborhood Area Rehabilitation Committee member what activities you think the town should apply for and by coming to the meetings. Bring a neighbor.

No. 1 Blue Devils Suffer Lost Weekend

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Duke's Blue Devils didn't get much of a bite out of the Big Apple. As a matter of fact, they left town hungry.

Touted as the heavy favorites in the 27th ECAC Holiday Festival basketball tournament in New York, the nation's No. 1 team suffered two shocking losses over the weekend.

Coupled with No. 2 Notre Dame's 81-76 loss to Kentucky Saturday night and third-ranked UCLA's 75-72 defeat by Stanford last week, that should bounce around the national rankings a bit this week.

Fourth-ranked Michigan State, fifth-ranked North Carolina and sixth-ranked Illinois all won tournaments Saturday night, strengthening their chances to move higher in the Top Twenty standings.

Rutgers won the Holiday Festival championship with a 97-96 triple-overtime victory over Ohio State, a couple of hours after Duke had suffered a 69-66 loss at the hands of St. John's in the consolation game. The Blue Devils had lost 90-84 in overtime to the Buckeyes in a first-round game.

While Duke was losing its won tournaments Saturday night, MICHIGAN State was gaining some with a 74-57 victory over Big Ten colleague Indiana in the finals of the Far West Classic.

North Carolina won the Rochester (N.Y.) Classic with a 121-

69 rout of Niagara and Illinois took the Glacier Classic in Anchorage, Alaska, with a 98-90 victory over Alaska-Anchorage.

Michigan, the nation's No. 8 team, played Sunday and whipped Eastern Michigan 86-73.

Elsewhere, 11th-ranked Indiana State defeated Morris Harvey 99-63; 12th-ranked Texas A&M turned back Vermont 104-76 in the finals of the Vermont Classic; Temple upset No. 14 Nevada-Las Vegas 89-79 in the finals of the Las Vegas Classic; 15th-ranked Georgetown beat the University of the District of Columbia 96-56; 16th-ranked Marquette took the Milwaukee Classic with a 61-57 decision over North Carolina-Charlotte; 17th-ranked Long Beach stopped Loyola of Chicago 84-73; No. 18 Kansas beat Colorado 72-66 in the finals of the Big Eight Tournament in Kansas City, Mo., and No. 20 Arkansas defeated Memphis State 82-69.

In other tournament action, Purdue won the Rainbow Classic in Honolulu with a 77-62 decision over Utah; Idaho State surprised New Mexico 73-67 in the Lobo Invitational in Albuquerque, N.M.; New Mexico won the All-College Tournament in Oklahoma City by beating Weber State 63-58; Maryland scored an 83-79 decision over Southern Cal in the finals of the Maryland Invitational and Iowa beat Stanford 83-68 in the championship game of the Cabrillo Classic in San Diego.

Central Michigan won the Evansville Holiday Tournament with a 74-73 victory over the University of Evansville; Connecticut defeated East Carolina 80-68 in the finals of the UConn Classic; Duquesne rolled past Ohio University 85-74 in the finals of the West Virginia Classic in Morgantown and Drexel stopped Lafayette 69-61 in the championship game of the Lafayette Invitational. Also, the University of Portland won the KOA Classic in Billings, Mont., by defeating the University of Montana 77-69; Old Dominion won the Times-Dispatch Invitational in Richmond, Va., with a 70-68 decision over Virginia Commonwealth; Iona beat St. Mary's of California 84-74 in the championship game of the Manufacturer's Hanover Tournament in New Rochelle, N.Y., and Bowling Green won the Glass City Classic in Toledo, Ohio, with a 67-64 decision over Villanova.

Rutgers' triumph in the Holiday Festival's title game struck another blow for Eastern prestige. The Scarlet Knights won that game on James Bailey's slam-dunk with 34 seconds left in the third overtime, 2 of 31 points he scored against the tough Buckeyes.

Kentucky rallied from a 12-point deficit in the second half to upset Notre Dame. The Wildcats were led by freshman Dwight Anderson, who scored 17 points in the last 10 minutes. Earvin Johnson's 20 points helped Michigan beat Indiana in the Far West Classic. The Spartans broke open the game with a 14-3 streak late in the first half and a 19-8 spurt in the second half.

Just Four Teams Left

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Super Bowl Sweepstakes are down to four teams, and two of them are holding big numbers.

The Pittsburgh Steelers and Dallas Cowboys have a chance to do something no others have done in National Football League history — win the Super Bowl a third time.

The Steelers and Cowboys put themselves in that unique position with playoff victories over the weekend, and headed toward a possible repeat confrontation in Super Bowl XIII on Jan. 21. The last met in Super Bowl X, when the Steelers beat the Cowboys 21-17.

Pittsburgh routed the Denver Broncos 33-10 in the American Conference divisional playoffs while Dallas was beating the Atlanta Falcons 27-20 in the National Conference Saturday.

The Steelers will play for the AFC championship next week against the Houston Oilers, who blasted the New England Patriots 31-14 Sunday. The Cowboys' opponents in the NFC championship game will be the Los Angeles Rams, 34-10 winners over the Minnesota Vikings on Sunday.

Quarterback Terry Bradshaw put on a strong-arm performance for Pittsburgh Saturday, hitting 16 of 29 passes for 272 yards and a pair of fourth-quarter touchdown bombs to John Stallworth and Lynn Swann.

"Terry Bradshaw was incredible," noted Denver defensive end Lyle Alzado, echoing the feelings of many of the Denver Broncos, last year's Super Bowl losers.

With the Broncos double-teaming the ubiquitous Swann most of the day, Stallworth was an obvious target. He caught 10 of Bradshaw's passes for 156 yards.

"It's a travesty if Bradshaw isn't the Most Valuable Player in the AFC," said Denver's backup quarterback Norris Weese. "He had a hell of a game."

The same might have been said of Danny White, the reserve quarterback for Dallas. He came into the game after Roger Staubach was knocked cold in the second half and rallied the Cowboys to victory.

White's 2-yard pass to tight end Jackie Smith tied the score. And after a shanked Falcon punt gave Dallas the ball at the Atlanta 30, he guided the Cowboys into position for Scott Laidlaw's 1-yard TD dive with less than 10 minutes to play.

Said Smith of his crucial TD catch: "I had no idea that TD pass would come to me. It was a bootleg roll and I did a comeback right to the goal line when I saw Danny was not going to throw it to anyone else."

Staubach was stunned when he was hit by Falcon linebacker Robert Pennywell. The Dallas star regained consciousness after the hit and was able to view the rest of the second half from the sidelines. Doctors said he could resume practice today and should be ready for the NFC championship game in Los Angeles next Sunday.

Dan Pastorini completed 12 of 15 passes for 200 yards and Earl Campbell rushed for 118 yards and one touchdown in Houston's rout of New England. The Patriots lost the services for half the game of quarterback Steve Grogan, who pulled himself out of action in the second quarter with a sore-left knee.

Pat Haden, the Rams' youthful star, outplayed Minnesota veteran Fran Tarkenton — who was perhaps playing his last NFL game. Contacted after Sunday's affair, Tarkenton was elusive about his playing status for next year.

"If I show up in July to training camp, I do," said the 18-year veteran. "If I don't, I don't. There's no question that I could play another one or two years if I wanted to. I feel very good physically, but I'm not going to say anything now."

Haden fired TD passes of 9 yards to Willie Miller and 27 yards to Ron Jessie. The Rams put the game out of reach in the third period, breaking a 10-10 halftime tie with two TDs on Cullen Bryant's 3-yard run and Jessie's scoring reception.

Sugar Bowl Will Decide Top Grid Team

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

All the "We're No. 1!" shouting will subside today — Except on one campus. It may be somewhere in Pennsylvania or Alabama or California. But for the rest of the nation, there will be nothing but silence and a vow to do better next season.

Just who is No. 1 in college football will likely be decided in New Orleans. There, for the first time since 1972, the top two teams in the nation are matched in a bowl game. In this case it's unbeaten and untied Penn State against second-ranked and once-beaten Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

But out in Pasadena, Calif., scene of the Rose Bowl, third-ranked Southern California has designs on the national championship. If Penn State wins the Sugar Bowl, it figures to win its first national crown as well. But if the Nittany Lions are tied or lose and Southern-Cal routs Michigan's fifth-ranked Wolverines, the Trojans could leapfrog over Alabama (which they beat during the season) and wind up No. 1.

Whoever it is, we'll all find out officially on Wednesday. The two other traditional New Year's classics send No. 9 Houston against No. 10 Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl today and No. 4 Oklahoma against No. 6 Nebraska in the Orange Bowl tonight.

In the New Year's Eve Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, Stanford rallied from a 22-0 deficit and beat 11th-ranked Georgia 25-22 as Steve Dils, the nation's passing champion, fired three touchdown passes within a span of 4½ minutes of the third period.

The quarterback matchup in the Sugar Bowl involves Penn State's Chuck Fusina and Alabama's Jeff Rutledge. Fusina, No. 2 to Oklahoma running back Billy Sims in the Heisman Trophy balloting, passed for 5,382 yards and 37 touchdowns in his Penn State career under Coach Joe Paterno. Rutledge, directing Coach Bear Bryant's Wishbone offense, broke Joe Namath's career TD mark of 28 by throwing 30. He is hoping to bring Bama and the Bear a fourth national title to go with the ones they won in 1961, 1964 and 1965.

Southern Cal, meanwhile, is hoping to duplicate — or improve on — the 1977 Rose Bowl, when the Trojans defeated Michigan 14-6.

The unofficial Big Eight Conference championship is at stake in the Orange Bowl. Nebraska's Cornhuskers, who beat Oklahoma 17-14 during the year, and the Sooners wound up tied for the title.

Cards Stage Rally To Defeat Bulldogs

HOUSTON (AP) — The script got rather confusing in the 20th Bluebonnet Bowl battle Sunday night. Eleventh-ranked Georgia acted like a passing team and Stanford upstaged the Bulldogs with a Georgia-style comeback in the second half.

When the exciting dramatization was over, however, it was Stanford that carried out its lines best with three touchdown passes in the third quarter by quarterback Steve Dils en route to a 25-22 victory.

Georgia, which had specialized in comebacks during the regular season, fashioned a 22-0 lead on touchdown catches of 22 and 8 yards by Carmon Prince. Rex Robinson's 31-yard field goal and a 1-yard dive by quarterback Jeff Pyburn.

But through the nightmare, Stanford Coach Bill Walsh never gave up hope.

"I reminded them at the half that we had come back before," Walsh said. "Our style of football gives us a shot at coming back. We can score quickly."

Pyburn's touchdown capped a vicious 75-yard drive in only six plays to start the third quarter, and the Bulldogs appeared ready to end a three-game losing string in postseason play.

But then the Cardinals started showing just how fast they could score.

Dils, the game's outstanding offensive player, turned three Georgia fumbles and a short punt into 25 points over a 6:13 span starting in the third quarter.

Dils hit split end Ken Margeum with a 32-yard touchdown pass to start the rally, followed up with a 19-yard strike to Darin Nelson and hit Mrgerum again on a 14-yard touchdown pass play.

Coupled with a pair of 2-point conversions, the touchdowns knotted the score at 22-22 and set up Ken Naber's game-winning 24-yard field goal with 14:50 left in the game.

"The problem wasn't blown assignments, it was just intensity of play," Dils said. "They were just blowing by us. The difference was right here in our gut. I felt good in the first half, but little things threw me off. In the second half I got some time to throw."

Dils completed 17 of 28 passes for 210 yards and three touchdowns. Nelson led Stanford rushers with 100 yards on 16 carries. Georgia's second-team All-America tailback Willie McClendon, despite losing three of Georgia's five fumbles, gained 115 yards on 27 carries.

"I don't know what happened," Pyburn said. "I thought the opening drive in the second half was the best drive we'd had all year but they came back as a result of our mistakes."

It was an off night for Georgia kicker Rex Robinson who missed 2 of 3 field goal tries and missed 2 extra point attempts after hitting 44 straight. Georgia now has a 9-9 bowl record, while Stanford improved its postseason mark to 7-5-1, including six victories in their last seven bowl games.

Ohio State Expected To Bid For Lou Holtz

The decision to fire Woody Hayes as the head football coach at Ohio State comes as little surprise after his actions in Friday night's Gator Bowl.

Such conduct by a collegiate coach cannot be tolerated. The unfortunate thing is that it is not the first time Hayes has attacked people. Several times he has gone after news reporters and television cameramen.

Just several weeks ago, when it was revealed that an Ohio poll said over half of those polled would like to see him replaced at Ohio State, he told those who didn't want him to buzz off, and practically challenged those who didn't like his actions to do something about it.

The firing certainly brings an end to an era at Ohio State. Before Hayes' arrival on the scene in Columbus, things were not good at Ohio State. He built the Buckeyes into a national powerhouse that only in recent years has seen a lessening of the team's strength.

Regardless of what one thinks of Hayes, they must have respect for the job he has done there. He is truly one of the coaching greats and rightly deserves his place in any football Hall of Fame.

But his recent actions, especially that which led to his downfall, may counteract the good that he did over the years. As Shakespeare said, "the good is oft interred with their bones."

Hopefully, Hayes will be remembered as a great coach who, like Ali, probably should have retired a few years earlier.

Who Will Be Next?

Although it is late Saturday night when this is being written, we haven't heard the name of Pat Dye mentioned for the OSU job. The rumor folks must be on vacation until after New Year's Day.

At any rate, the name being bandied about most is that of Lou Holtz, who has made it no secret that he thinks heaven is following in Woody's shoes.

He's already said he was going to stay at Arkansas, but then, nobody had asked him on Saturday to take the job. There can be no doubt that he's interested, and probably will take it if offered. There is a good bet that it will be.

That would leave a vacancy at Arkansas, and N.C. State's Bo Rein was mentioned heavily for that job when it was thought that Holtz would go to Florida.

No doubt, no matter what happens, Dye's name will pop up somewhere, either at OSU, Arkansas, or wherever.

We'll add fuel to another fire, and maybe start something of our own. When it was announced that Charlie McLendon was going to step down at Louisiana State after the 1979 season, Dye's name was again one of those mentioned.

But that may have already been decided. We have it from a very good source that former Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian recently bought a new home in Baton Rouge.

Wonder why?

Cauthen Mark Broken

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Darrel McHargue didn't leave much margin for error in his quest to establish a single-year earnings record for jockeys. As a matter of fact, the 24-year-old native of Oklahoma barely got under the wire.

McHargue finally broke the record set last year by teenager Steve Cauthen by piloting Syncopate, a 9-2 outsider, to victory in the $16,000 seventh race at Santa Anita Sunday.

The three-quarters of a length triumph in the third-tolast race of 1978 was worth $8,800 to the winner and boosted the earnings of mounts ridden by McHargue this year to $6,155,153. Cauthen's 1977 total was $6,151,750.

In the next race, with the pressure off, McHargue rode longshot Sweet Little Lady to a one-length win in the $54,800 Las Flores Handicap.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "help wanted" sign goes out at Ohio State University Tuesday, where athletic officials will begin the search — for the first time in 29 years — for a new head football coach.

There's not likely to be any shortage of candidates. The vacancy was created Saturday when Hugh Hindman, athletic director at the Big Ten Conference school, fired the legendary Woody Hayes. Hindman said he took the action because Hayes slugged Clemson middle guard Charlie Bauman in the waning moments of a 17-15 Gator Bowl loss Friday night to the Atlantic Coast Conference champions.

Hindman will not discuss the leading candidates for the assignment of replacing the college sport's second winningest active coach. Hayes had 238 career victories to 283 for Alabama's Bear Bryant. "Like any major position any place, you try to get the best possible person available," said Hindman, a coach himself for two decades. A report originating in Little Rock that current Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz was flying to Columbus was branded as "ridiculous" by Hindman. Holtz coached under Hayes at Ohio State. Holtz, a native Ohioan, said he has no plans to leave the Southwest Conference school. "I plan to be at the University of Arkansas for as long as the people want me to," said Holtz from Hawaii, where he is coaching in the Hula Bowl.

Still, Ohio State is expected to bid for Holtz' services. Certain to be mentioned as other leading candidates are a horde of former Hayes' lieutenants or players who have gone on to become head coaches: Michigan's Bo Schembechler, Dave McClain of Wisconsin, Gary Moeller of Illinois, Jim Young of Purdue, Bo Rein of North Carolina State and Ralph Staub of Cincinnati.

Schembechler already has said he is not interested in leaving Michigan, the Buckeyes' most bitter rival.

Sooners Seek Revenge

MIAMI (AP) — Fourth-ranked Oklahoma will be out to avenge a couple of blemishes on its record in tonight's Orange Bowl game with Big Eight rival Nebraska.

The Sooners were upset by Arkansas 31-6 in last year's Orange Bowl, losing a shot at the national championship. Oklahoma slipped on the stadium's wet grass and fumbled three times.

In their Big Eight showdown at Lincoln, Neb., this year, the Sooners fumbled nine times (two by Heisman Trophy winner Billy Sims) to help the Cornhuskers to a 17-14 victory that dropped Oklahoma out of first place in the ratings. "In my career at Oklahoma, we've got two bad marks — the Orange Bowl last year and the Nebraska game this year," said quarterback Thomas Lott. "Beating Nebraska in the Orange Bowl would be a good way to end my career."

The 10-1 Sooners will know by the 8 p.m. EST kickoff whether the "Rematch Bowl" will be merely for Big Eight bragging rights or for gaining support in the Associated Press national balloting.

When Nebraska lost its final game to Missouri, insuring a drop from second place in the rankings, Penn State elected to bypass the Orange Bowl to play the highest-ranked team available. But Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne feels his team is playing the nation's best.

Nebraska was outraged when first told Oklahoma was the Orange Bowl opponent. But the traditional Big Eight rivalry has lent incentive to the Cornhuskers since then.

"How many times do you get a chance to beat Oklahoma twice? That would really give us something to talk about," said I.M. Hipp, who with starter Rick Berns gives Nebraska its one-two punch at the I-back position.

OSU Apologizes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An official message of apology for former Ohio State University football Coach Woody Hayes' actions in Friday night's Gator Bowl game has been sent to Clemson University by Ohio State President Harold Enarson.

Hayes was fired as the Buckeyes' coach after striking a Clemson player who intercepted a pass to kill Ohio State's last chance of winning the game at Jacksonville, Fla., which ended in a 17-15 Clemson victory.

start of the second that gave them a 61-39 lead.

Al Wood scored 32 points, shooting 14 of 21 from the floor, to lead North Carolina's easy conquest of Niagara. Wood's 24 first-half points helped the Tar Heels pull away early.

Illinois improved its record to 12-0, best in the nation among major colleges, with its victory in the Glacier Bowl championship game. The Illini notched three victories in the round-robin tourney.

Freshman Keith Smith, playing only the eighth game of his college basketball career, came off the bench to lead Michigan over Eastern Michigan. Smith scored 18 points and also handled the playmaking chores, frequently setting up Mike McGree, who led Michigan with 25 points.

Larry Bird set a school scoring record with 34 points while pacing Indiana State past Morris Harvey. Bird's game-high total gave him 2,177 career points, topping the old record of 2,147 held by Jerry Newsom.

Rudy Woods' 23 points paced Texas A&M over Vermont. Rick Reed and Neil Robinson each scored 18 points as Temple stunned Nevada-Las Vegas. Owis Coach Don Casey called it "the most important victory in Temple history. Beating Nevada-Las Vegas on its home floor in its own tour-name is quite a feat."

Erick Floyd and Steve Martin scored 15 points apiece in Georgetown's victory over the University of the District of Columbia. Marquette reeled off 12 points in the final seven minutes, 5 of them by Robert Byrd, to beat North Carolina-Charlotte.

Rickey Williams' 28 points and 6 steals led Long Beach over Loyola of Chicago. Darrell Valentine had 20 points and Kansas survived a late scare to beat Colorado. Sidney Moncreif and U.S. Reed sparked a 17-2 explosion as Arkansas defeated Memphis State.

Meeting Postponed

PLANTERS' ALL-AMERICAN SAVINGS. FINALLY, HIGH INTEREST FOR EVEN ONE DOLLAR.

Having to save up $500 or $1000 just to open a savings account is crazy. It's unfair. It's practically un-American. So at Planters we've developed a concept that revolutionizes the savings account.

We call it All-American Savings. With the minimum deposit at a real, honest-to-goodness minimum $1, it makes high interest truly affordable to all Americans.

What's more, it lets you add any amount anytime. It's what you'd expect from Planters. After all, we're the bank that still knows the value of a dollar.

We're not about to turn one away.

Annual Interest Rate	Maturity	Minimum Deposit	Additional Deposit
5 1/2%	3 months	$1	Anytime
6%	12 months	$1	Anytime
6 1/2%	30 months	$1	Anytime

DEAR ABBY: I want to thank you for the most wonderful present I have ever received. Because of an item in your column last year, I sent for "The Living Will." Now I have peace of mind, knowing that if my husband or I should ever become terminally ill, our loved ones will never have to watch us die slow and agonizing deaths as some we have witnessed.

I saw my handsome, 6-foot, 200-pound father waste away to an 88-pound skeleton after fighting a two-year battle with cancer. The doctors told us it was hopeless, yet kept that poor dear man alive month after month with transfusions, tubes, needles and drugs, while he prayed to God to take him.

Abby, you would do millions of readers a priceless service by acquainting them with "The Living Will" as you did me. GRATEFUL IN JOLIET, ILL.

DEAR GRATEFUL: Thank you for giving me this opportunity to publicize "The Living Will" again. It reads as follows:

TO MY FAMILY, MY PHYSICIAN, MY LAWYER AND ALL OTHERS WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Death is as much a reality as birth, growth, maturity and old age—it is the one certainty of life. If the time comes when I can no longer take part in decisions for my own future, let this statement stand as an expression of my wishes and directions, while I am still of sound mind.

If at such a time the situation should arise in which there is no reasonable expectation of my recovery from extreme physical or mental disability, I direct that I be allowed to die and not be kept alive by medications, artificial means or "heroic measures." I do, however, ask that medication be mercifully administered to me to alleviate suffering even though this may shorten my remaining life.

This statement is made after careful consideration and is in accordance with my strong convictions and beliefs. I want the wishes and directions here expressed carried out to the extent permitted by law. Insofar as they are not legally enforceable, I hope that those to whom this Will is addressed will regard themselves as morally bound by these provisions.

To date, over two million "Living Will" have been distributed. Yes, I have signed one. I requested six copies and enclosed my check for 10¢ to cover cost of documents and mailing. (It is tax deductible.)

If you send for "The Living Will," please be patient. I promise your request will not be overlooked. Be sure to enclose your name and address, clearly written.

The document is free but this is a non-profit organization, so all donations are gratefully accepted.

One woman requested eight copies and enclosed her check for $500 saying, "This is the most marvelous thing I've ever heard of." I agree.

P.S. If you or your lawyer have any questions concerning the legality of "The Living Will," please write to Concern For Dying, same address as above.

Require Certifying Of Tobacco Plants

RALEIGH — Farmers who intend to import tobacco transplants for the 1979 growing season should understand the real intent of the Tobacco Plant Regulation, said Agriculture James A. Graham recently.

Graham explained that the regulation, administered by the N. C. Department of Agriculture's pesticide and plant protection division, was designed to insure farmers that plants from other states are free from insects and injurious diseases.

"Under the import system plants must be certified in the state of origin to meet North Carolina requirements," Graham stated.

"However, the Tobacco Plant Regulation does not contain standards as to size and color of transplants," he continued. "It's up to the buyer to determine that plants are the size and color he wants before he purchases them."

According to Graham, buyers who have questions concerning the correct count on tobacco plants as represented on the crates or invoice should call or write the Consumer Standards Division, North Carolina Department of Agriculture.

Raleigh, N. C. 27611. (919) 733-3313.

NCDA plant pathologist, Dr. Neil A. Lapp, added that Tar Heel farmers who are considering plants from Georgia should be aware of new procedures recently adopted there.

"Georgia will require a minimum ten-day period between receiving requests for plants from N. C. farmers and certification of these plants so farmers are advised to submit their orders as soon as possible," Lapp said. "This will allow Georgia to adequately inspect plants to insure that they meet our standards. Second, Georgia plant growers will be charged an inspection fee which might be passed on to farmers buying plants."

Permit applications may be obtained from the pesticide and plant protection division, N. C. Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 27647, Raleigh, N. C. 27611.

Graham stressed that the best way to protect North Carolina tobacco from conditions such as black shank, Granville wilt, Fusarium wilt, virus diseases, and nematodes is for farmers to grow their own plants or to buy them locally.

GOREN BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN AND OMAR SHARIF

Q.1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♦Q872 ♠A ♦A1053 ♦9852
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass Pass 1 ♦ Pass
1 ♠ Pass Pass ?
What action do you take?

A.—It is not our practice to let the opponents play unmolested at the one-level. Here the auction has marked North with some values—West passed originally and it looks as if East made a light opening bid in third seat. Therefore, we would double to elicit a black suit from partner.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♦K98 ♠AJ1072 ♦J ♦A853
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 2 ♠ ? Pass
3 ♦ Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—You are in slam territory, for partner has made a "high reverse." In such situations, it's always best to set the trump suit as quickly as possible. However, you need no more than rebid three spades. Partner will get the message about the strength of your hand when you cue-bid the ace of clubs at your next turn.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable with 40 on score, you hold:
♦J5 ♠AQ92 ♦AQ76 ♦AQJ
Partner opens the bidding with three spades. What action do you take?

A.—Despite the fact that partner has denied the values for an opening bid, slam is still a possibility in view of your potential trick-taking power and partner's long suit. This is a case where the part score is an asset. You can show your aspirations by simply bidding four spades, and avoid getting too high if partner has an unsuitable hand.

Q.4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♦A1032 ♥83 ♦QJ7643 ♦4
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♦ 2 ♠ Dble. ?
What action do you take?

A.—Unless partner is well known for magnanimous donations to the opponents, there is no reason to suppose you have a better spot. Partner should have a good suit to overcall at the two-level vulnerable, and there is no guarantee that he has a fit for your weak diamond suit. Indeed, since partner rates to have some spades (East's double suggests spade shortness) and there are a lot of hearts missing, it is quite likely that he is short in diamonds.

Q.5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♦KQ104 ♥7 ♦KJ83 ♦A752
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♦ Pass Pass ?
What action do you take?

A.—As stated earlier, we are reluctant to allow the opponents to play at the one-level. Here, however, any action we take is fraught with risk. If we double, partner will surely respond in hearts. If we overcall with a weak four-card minor, we are inviting trouble. And if we balance with one no trump, the opponents might locate a hidden heart fit. It seems clearly best to let West struggle in one spade, and hope for undertricks at 100 each.

Q.6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♦QJ9762 ♥6 ♦93 ♦AKQ5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
? 2 ♠ 2 ♦ 3 ♣ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Clearly, you have the playing strength for four spades. Tactically, however, it would be wise to bid for clubs now. Should the opponents sacrifice over four spades, you want partner to lead a club, so make your lead-directing bid while it's convenient to do so.

Q.7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♦KJ104 ♥QJ ♦J6 ♦AKQJ6
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
3 NT Pass ?
What action do you take?

A.—This is a matter of simple arithmetic. You have 18 points in high cards, and partner should have at least 19-20 for his reverse and jump in no trump. You will probably be missing at most a queen, and, in addition, you have a running five-card suit. To bid anything less than seven no trump would be the height of conservatism.

Q.8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♦A ♠62 ♦QJ1054 ♦QJ863
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ Dble. ?
What action do you take?

A.—Opposite an opening bid, you have a most useful hand—enough for a redouble. However, that would leave you poorly placed if the opponents have bid some number of hearts when the auction gets back to you. Therefore, we suggest a response of two diamonds. The auction is unlikely to die there, so you will get a chance to show your other suit at your next turn, which will then give partner a fair picture of your distribution and high-card strength.

'Loaded' As An Example

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — To prove that drinking and driving don't mix, a radio disc jockey got loaded on the air New Year's Eve as a "public service."

"If you can't talk straight on the air after a few drinks, you certainly can't drive," said C. David Bennett, 24, an announcer for WIKZ-FM and operations manager of the Chambersburg Broadcasting Co.

Starting at 8 p.m. Sunday, Bennett drank an ounce and a half of whiskey every half hour until he went off the air at midnight.

He said his effort was aimed at the New Year's Eve partygoer who planned on taking to the highway after downing a few.

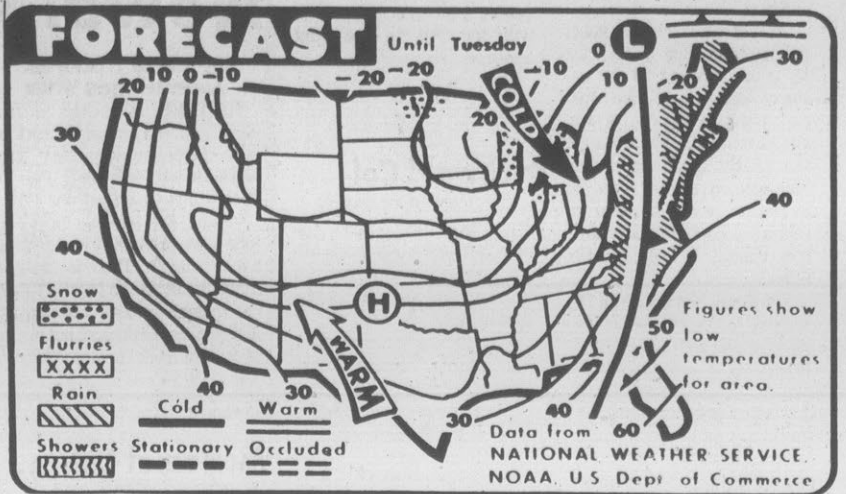

Local police administered a sobriety test at 10:10 p.m. that found Bennett to be one-tenth of a percent from being legally intoxicated.

At one point during the night, Bennett started a song called "Boogie Nights" at 33 rpm instead of 45. Midway through the record he started laughing so hard an engineer had to take over the controls for the rest of the evening, according to one station employee.

"He was being very sloppy and he was rambling on the air. He kept saying, 'Don't drink and drive.' That was his message all night long," said Jack Miller, another announcer.

Miller said Bennett was helped out of the studio at midnight and driven home by one of the station's reporters.

How's The Weather?

WEATHER FORECAST—Cold weather is expected in the forecast period until Tuesday morning for most of the country. Warm weather is due in the Southwest and temperatures along the Atlantic coast will be mild. Rain is forecast for most of the Atlantic coast and snow for the Great Lakes area. (AP Laserphoto Map)

By The Associated Press will be variably cloudy in the east. Highs today will range from the 50s in the mountains to near 70 along the coast. Temperatures Tuesday are expected to range from the 20s in the western part of the state to the 60s in the east. Some snow flurries are forecast for the mountains tonight and Tuesday.

The cold front is expected to move into the mountains tonight and spread quickly across the state. The rain will end and temperatures will drop tencing, protection for battered wives and merit selection of judges, for example.

 But Carlton may have gone farther than Hunt as well as Hyde are willing to go on some others — like his politically explosive suggestion that county sheriffs be appointed rather than elected, or else reduced to require a course on law and the courts in the public schools.
 "I'd guess there's about 80 percent in there Herb Hyde would agree with totally, and 20 percent he'd disagree with totally," Pearce said. "And that's probably the same for Hunt."

Hunt formed the crime control department last year to consolidate most of the state's crime fighting apparatus — except the SBI, which would have required a political fight to wrestle from the attorney general. And although the quantum leap in law enforcement philosophies wasn't planned then, it may actually help Hunt push through the legislature the parts of the report he does want.
 Carlton organized and set the tone for the department. But with his aristocratic-sounding accent and occasional aloofness, he alienated many legislators and may have proven an unsuccessful lobbyist.

Hyde, by contrast, knows the legislature well, having served in both the House and Senate, and should fare well with the bills he and Hunt agree on.

 I don't want to overlook Gov. Jerry Brown's fiscal adviser who told him, "Howard Jarvis is a kook, and if Proposition 13 gets more than 10 percent of the vote I'll eat every ballot."

Dare we ignore the bartender who told then-manager Billy Martin, "Stick to your guns, George Steinbrenner knows the Yankees can't win the pennant without you."

And then there is the White House staffer who said to Hamilton Jordan, "Why don't you go out on the town more and have fun?"

And finally the wise guy who went into the Oval Office and said, "Mr. President, when you hear this bit of bad news you're going to have hemorrhoids."

Job Layoffs In Newark Begun

By AGNES T. HOOPER
 Associated Press Writer

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The New Year means some sort of new beginning for 441 city workers who lost their jobs to ease a budget crunch for 1979.

"Some are looking for other jobs and probably won't come back," said Thomas Possunato, head of the local Fraternal Order of Police. "Some are just sitting home and hoping to be called back to work."

their beards grow for about four weeks so that ingrown tips were pulled away from the skin. Then they used a coarse polyester skin sponge to tug at hair loops to prevent the tips from penetrating the skin.

Shaving is done with a hair clipper rather than a regular electric razor. This leaves about one millimeter of beard protruding from the skin.

Conte and Lawrence said this program "would, in theory, permit the men to satisfy the Air Force grooming code" and not suffer from shaving bumps.

The employees, including 200 policemen, were the victims of a fiscal crisis created by the loss of federal anti-recession funds for 1979.

A similar fate awaits about 1,750 board of education employees, whose jobs will be lost between now and Feb. 5 to ease a separate budget deficit.

Newark lost $10.8 million when Congress failed to renew funds created in 1976 to bolster the economies of high unemployment areas.

The problem was made worse by the state's "caps" law, which prevents municipalities from increasing spending by more than 5 percent a year.

Although Newark has at least a $9 million surplus, the caps law prevents the city from touching the money to save the 441 jobs.

Union leaders tried in vain to convince Mayor Kenneth Gibson to rescind the layoff notices and staged a mass rally, attended by thousands of city workers, to show their disapproval.

They also began a recall campaign to oust Gibson, now in his third term, from office.

Union heads have threatened a city-wide work stoppage if workers are not rehired.

FLAMES DAMAGE HOUSE — Farmville firemen aided by members of the Bel Arthur and Red Oak fire departments battle a blaze that caused heavy damage to the J. W. Lang home near Farmville Sunday night. According to Pitt County Fire Marshal Bobby Joyner, the rear of the wood frame structure was totally involved with fire when firemen arrived. Joyner said two occupants of the house reported that the stove exploded. The house was reportedly owned by L. B. Joyner. Estimated damage to the house and contents was placed at $23,000. There were no injuries reported in the 6:03 p.m. fire. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Arrest Man For Break-In

A Greenville man was charged with breaking and entering after being observed inside the Brown and Wood Pontiac building at 3:55 a.m. Saturday.

Larry Josh Edwards, 31, of 1210 Dickinson Avenue here, placed in Pitt County Jail under $5,000 bond, told police he was seeking a place to stay warm.

Police reported entry appeared to have been through a broken glass in the front bay door of the building.

Tentative Pact With Guild

NEW YORK (AP) - The Associated Press and the Wire Service Guild reached tentative agreement at midnight Sunday on a new two-year contract.

If ratified by the union members, minimum top salaries for editors, reporters and photographers will rise $40 weekly, from $410 to $450 per week, over the life of the contract.

The first stage of the increase, $20.50 weekly, to a top minimum of $430.50, will be effective Monday, if Guild members approve the settlement.

The contract also provides improvements in health and medical insurance, pension and expenses.

A Guild spokesman, Adolphe Bernotas, said satisfactory agreement had been reached on the employment conditions of probationary employees and the system under which guild members agree to have dues deducted from paychecks.

Earlier, the guild set a strike deadline of 6 a.m. EST Monday against the AP after the company rejected a union counterproposal on fringe benefits.

The AP rejected the guild counterproposal that the guild said would have raised the company's wage-fringe package to a 5.5 percent increase in the second year of the proposed new two-year contract.

Fund-Raising Big In Schools

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—money is spent. Fund-raising by Carolinas Parents who buy candy or fruit from students may think they're helping pay for educational equipment or the tuition of a needy child, but often they aren't. For example, contributors to the Sedgewick Elementary School in Charlotte helped pay for a car in 1973 and a canoe in 1977.

Nobody knows exactly how much money schools raise, because the money is often put into private accounts. By conservative estimate, schools in the Carolinas raised more than $40 million last year.

That's more than it takes to run the Greensboro city school system for a year, three times what North Carolina spent on textbooks last year and 10 times what the N.C. General Assembly allocated to help students who flunk the competency test.

"Fund raising is at epidemic proportions in many schools," said Maylon McDonald of East Carolina University in Greenville, who studied school fund raising with Keith Hudson, an education professor at the university. Schools and clubs usually keep between 40 and 50 percent of the money they raise. Local and national companies which assist and sometimes initiate the fund-raisers skim the top off each school's take.

The fund raising techniques are not always as mild as a simple knock on the door and request for donations. They sometimes involve high pressure tactics.

The Band Booster Club at Washington Junior High School and P.S. Jones Junior High School in Washington have an aggressive program that nets more than $20,000 a year. One way they do it is by requiring each family to raise $200 or donate that amount to the club.

More than half the money is raised by selling $25 decals to local businesses and threatening to boycott the shops that won't buy.

"Maybe that's an ugly way to do it," said Jackie Clark who heads the group. "But our main objective is to keep the band on the road and competitive. We are out there after the money, in order to support our program. We go for 100 percent profit."

Recession: Different Things To Different People

By JOHN F. SIMS
UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — A lot of economists are predicting a recession next year — so it might be a good idea to know what we're in for.

According to the definition used by government, we will be in a recession when there is no growth in real Gross National Product for six months.

The National Bureau of Economic Research defines a recession as any nine-month period in which GNP growth falls.

Many people will know there's a recession when they are laid off or fired when their employer goes out of business or shuts down a plant.

A recession is nature's way of telling us to tighten our belts. Many economists are predicting a downturn, or recession, for the third or fourth quarter of 1979.

Nobody, except for President Carter's anti-inflation "King"

Alfred Kahn, is talking about a depression.

And even Kahn says that from now on, whenever he feels like saying "depression" he will substitute the word "banana." What he said was that if inflation isn't brought under control, if Carter's anti-inflation program fails, we could be in for a "very deep...banana."

Any time a government official or a respected economist uses the word recession the stock market goes into a blue chip funk and the Dow Jones industrial average jitters downward.

The word itself strikes fear into the hearts of investors and the consumer.

And there is a danger of talking ourselves into a recession, according to some economists. If business thinks a slowdown is inevitable, it will make decisions taking that into account — and maybe cause a recession by default.

Economic growth goes in cycles, and the longest upswing since World War II lasted 3½ years. The current upswing, from the recession of 1974-75, is now 3½ years old.

According to economists, that's pretty old as far as upswings go and it would be natural for a slowdown to start soon. But that doesn't mean it's written in stone.

For most people, as one economist said, "We'll know we're in a depression when the government says we are."

Leif Olsen, an economist for Citibank of New York, said: "A recession will mean a 2 to 3 percent decline in real output."

"The recession of 1974-75 was the worst we have had since 1932. In 1932, the decline in output was of the order of 25 percent, five times as severe as the worst we have seen since."

So how does a recession begin?

"A recession could be triggered by a number of things, but especially by a slowdown in national income caused by restrictive money policy," according to Olsen.

"The first thing we would see would be a significant decline in final demand — a decline in retail sales that lasts several months. Unemployment generally lags behind but if a recession came it would climb to 8 or 9 percent."

Olsen is pessimistic: "We're predicting a recession if inflation continues at current rates. A recession is not a foregone conclusion but inflation will make it difficult to avoid."

So a slowdown can be avoided, as the administration insists.

"Getting inflation under control would head off a recession but it will be very difficult," Olsen said. "Inflation squeezes the purchasing power of people. When they pay higher prices they buy less and factory output goes down."

"Recession will affect the construction industry, and durable goods manufacturers such as autos, appliances etc. A lot of white collar workers as well as blue collar workers were unemployed during the last recession.

"The pain of unemployment varies because autoworkers, for instance, are relatively well paid when they are laid off."

Olsen does not believe the voluntary wage and price controls sought by Carter will work.

"The government at some point probably will have to consider mandatory wage and price controls," he said. "They have been pretty adamant about not imposing wage and price controls, but then so was Nixon. They may have to eat their words if emergency conditions force them to go beyond voluntary controls."

"Even mandatory controls would only work temporarily."

Economists at Morgan Guaranty Bank agree with the bleak outlook predicted by Olsen.

"U.S. inflation readings are likely to remain at near double-digit rates for some months to come," they said in a year-end report. "The dollar and inflation itself must, of course, remain the prime concerns of policy in that event. "Interest rates, thus, seem likely to move higher — particularly in view of the prospective near-term growth in economic activity and credit demands."

"If that is the pattern that in fact prevails, a downturn after mid-year — led by a fall in housing activity, but spreading to inventories and capital spending — would appear to be an odds-on probability."

But Morgan Guaranty's economists feel the recession probably will be less severe than the recession of 1974-75.

A recession doesn't run for more than 6 to 9 months, but its effects are more long term. For instance, it would take two or three years to get back to full employment.

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Simple Way to Remove Earwax

I am one of those whose ears collect a lot of wax. I live out in the country and find it hard to get to an ear specialist. Is there any safe way I can remove the wax myself? — Mr. B.L., Vt.
Dear Mr. L.:

It isn't always necessary to seek out an ear specialist to remove impacted wax from the outer ear canal. This is a simple procedure which can easily be done by your family doctor. If you are so far removed from the doctor, there are effective ways of doing it yourself.

Some of the new wax-dissolving drops can be irritating to the outer ear canal. An old-fashioned method can still do the job well. A few drops of ordinary peroxide can be put in the ear while you are lying flat. Then gently massage it into the ear. By doing this three or four times a day for a few days the wax is softened, and can be removed with absorbent cotton. Children, too, welcome this simple approach to an annoying problem.

Under no circumstances should any instrument be inserted into the ear. Paper clips, hair pins and pencils can injure the delicate skin lining of the canal. Even cotton-tipped applicators can be dangerous if not used with care. This procedure requires the gentlest of handling.

I can't resist an additional piece of information. Did you know that many cases of persistent cough can result from a collection of impacted wax in the ear? Many doctors recognize this possibility when no respiratory cause can be found. This phenomenon is explained by the fact that a tiny nerve that runs through the ear canal is, in a very devious way, hooked up with a major nerve, the "vagus," which plays a role in the cough mechanism.

When is a woman in the most fertile period of the month? — Mrs. G.E.A., Miss. Dear Mrs. A.:

Ovulation is the time when the ovaries produce their tiny eggs. In women who have a normal 28-day cycle, the most fertile period occurs about 12 to 16 days after the onset of the menstrual period. The barren period is seven to nine days before the onset of the menses. This barren period continues during the menstrual period and lasts up to five days afterwards.

Since the menstrual cycle of women varies so widely, the period of fertility must depend on the cycle of the individual woman. There are now a number of tests and studies by which the gynecologists can establish the fertility period.

Can the liver be affected by syphilis? — Mr. J.N., Mo. Dear Mr. N.:

Yes, it can. Every organ of the body can be affected by syphilis in its third or later stages. The brain, spinal cord, skin, glandular system, heart, lungs, and blood vessels can all be attacked by this virulent disease when it is overlooked and active treatment is neglected.

Syphilis must be recognized early and treated intensively if its ravages are to be prevented.

Heavy Mail On Insurgent Grant

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Methodist Church's chief ecumenical officer, the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Huston, says he has received more mail about the World Council of Churches' $85,000 grant to the Patriotic Front of Zimbabwe (Rhodesia) than about any other issue in his 13 years in his job.

He told a meeting of denominational leaders "there is much current misinformation and misinterpretation of the grant... For both theological and pragmatic reasons, United Methodist Christians need more persistent and positive information about all ecumenical agencies."

Controversy about the grant is a major item on the agenda of a meeting of the World Council's policy-making Central Committee in Jamaica Jan. 11.

Oppression Sophisticated

NEW YORK (AP) — Although sophisticated use of drugs, psychology, computers and other means have made human oppression far worse in many places, an ecumenical official says history may record the present period as a time of reinforcing human rights.

The Rev. Dr. William L. Wippler, head of the human rights office of the National Council of Churches, told a Lutheran luncheon:

"I really believe that when historians and analysts look back on the 1970's, it will be seen as a period in which a social, political and moral movement in support of human rights came alive on every continent.

Paid Air-Time Threat Claimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of the U.S. Catholic Conference says paid religious programming sponsored by fundamentalist broadcasters is threatening availability of free broadcasting time for mainline religious bodies.

Robert Beusse, the conference secretary for communication, made the statement to state Catholic communication directors.

He said that local broadcasters are replacing free air time for mainline religious programming with paid programming by fundamentalists and entrepreneurial types that masquerade under the name of religious broadcasting."

An important message from Herbert H. Davis, M.D.

115 SOUTH 42ND STREET

OMAHA, NEBRASKA 68131

Dear Friend:

I am a doctor as well as Chairman of the Board of Physicians Mutual Insurance Company. And over the years of my practice, I have seen many cases where a good supplemental hospital policy could have eased the financial strain on the families of hospitalized patients.

That's why I wanted to call your attention to our latest policy we've developed here at Physicians --

-- a policy that pays equal benefits of $30.00 a day -- $900.00 a month for you, your wife and all of your children from the very first day you're hospitalized for a covered accident or illness.

You'll find all the details in this booklet. So why not read it over now. It could be something you'll want for yourself and your family.

Sincerely,

Herbert H. Davis, M.D.

Herbert H. Davis, M.D.
Chairman, Board of Directors

P.S. I'm especially pleased that we can make this outstanding value available to you. I sincerely believe it's the finest policy we've ever offered.

Board of Directors:

HERBERT H. DAVIS, M.D. Chairman
ROBERT A. REED, President

JOHN A. AITA, M.D.
ARNOLD W. LEMPKA, M.D.

R. RUSSELL BEST, M.D.
H. W. MC FADDEN, M.D.

WILLIAM R. HANSA, M.D.
EDMOND M. WALSH, M.D.

Dr. Davis is right! Medical costs have soared to such unbelievable heights that it makes it almost financially impossible for us to be sick. According to the American Hospital Association, the average patient now pays $175.08 a day for hospital care.

An average stay in the hospital—8 days—could cost you a small fortune. And that's not even counting the doctor . . . medicine . . . plus all the other bills that you still have to face whether you're sick or not—food, electricity, house payment.

The plain truth is that you could use $900.00 a month ($30.00 a day) cash to help you pay your bills when you go to the hospital. It's a mighty comforting thought to know you have this extra help available just when you need it most.

And that's what this policy is all about. It was created to help you face the problems that arise whenever you're hospitalized for a covered sickness or accident.

Here is insurance that gives you extra protection with cash benefits for

SICKNESS! ACCIDENTS!

MATERNITY!

CANCER! HEART ATTACK!

Pays 50% increased benefits for cancer or heart attack!

Pays you $900.00 a month ($30.00 a day) cash!

You'll collect $900.00 a month ($30.00 a day) for any covered sickness or accident beginning the very first day you are hospitalized. Protect yourself, your wife or your whole family. $30.00-a-day equal benefits for all. Just pick the plan that meets your needs.

Pays you $1,350.00 a month ($45.00 a day)
cash for cancer and heart attack!

Your daily benefits are increased 50% if you or any covered member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including leukemia and Hodgkin's disease) or heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis, or coronary occlusion).

Pays you double benefits—$3,600.00 a month ($120.00 a day) cash for you and your wife!

Yes, that's a lot of money. But you'd need it. So under the Husband-Wife or All-Family Plan, you'll collect $3,600.00 a month ($120.00 a day) if you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time by the same or by different accidents.

Pays maternity benefits, too!

You'll collect full cash benefits $30.00 a day for hospitalization due to pregnancy if your policy has been in force for 10 months. There's no added cost to you!

No waiting period for accidents or new sicknesses.

Remember accidents and new sicknesses are covered immediately the very day your policy is issued. You collect the first day and every day you're hospitalized for a covered sickness or accident.

You get lifetime coverage and benefits.

There's no limit on the number of days for which you can collect cash benefits. You can be hospitalized as often as necessary and stay as long as you have to knowing that your $30.00-a-day benefits cannot run out. Our plan will pay you benefits for as long as you're hospitalized EVEN FOR LIFE!

Pays cash benefits in addition to any other insurance you have.

Remember, this is extra, supplemental protection. Your benefits are paid over and above any other insurance you may carry including Blue Cross Blue Shield, Major Medical and Medicare. This policy is designed to help you make up the difference between your total hospital bill and what your other insurance will pay.

Your benefits are not taxable.

Your benefits from your Physicians Mutual Hospital Policy are not taxable by any level of government. They are not subject to state or Federal income tax.

Your policy is guaranteed renewable!

This is a very important point, because you want to be absolutely sure you'll have your protection when you need it. So for as long as you live and keep your policy in force, we guarantee never to cancel or refuse to renew your policy. No matter how much money you collect. No matter how often you go to the hospital.

What's more, we'll never raise your rates unless we do so for all policies like yours in your entire state. This means you can't be singled out for a rate increase.

Please note these exceptions.

Pre-existing conditions (health problems that became evident or were medically treated before the effective date of the policy) are not covered for one year from the date the policy is issued. Half-benefits ($15.00 a day) are paid for up to 4 weeks confinement due to mental disorder. Not covered: loss due to use of narcotics or intoxication; loss covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employer's Liability Laws, Confinement in nursing homes, Federal hospitals, or the self-care, extended-care or convalescent units of hospitals is not covered. Pregnancy is covered after your policy is 10 months old.

We guarantee to issue you a policy,
regardless of your present age or health condition.

You will not be turned down because of your age, health or size of your family.

As soon as we receive your Application, we will issue your policy (P350 360 Series) and put it in force. From that day on—even before you receive your policy in the mail—you're covered for new sicknesses and accidents. Naturally, we can issue only one policy to you on a guaranteed issue basis.

If you're already a Physicians Mutual policyowner and would like information about additional coverage available to you, please write for details.

Enroll today.
No salesman will call!

You can enroll in this Physicians Mutual Hospital Policy by simply filling out the short Application attached and mailing it together with $1—which pays for your first month.

Special provision applies for folks 65 and over

When you are 65, you'll find help for hospital care in many forms—Medicare, Social Security, special agencies, and perhaps a pension plan. But because people in this age group go to the hospital more often, this extra help is frequently not enough.

In addition to Medicare, you'll be receiving cash benefits from Physicians Mutual . . . to fill the financial void created by your illness. During the first 60 days of hospitalization—when Medicare coverage is highest—you collect half benefits, $15.00 a day.

After 60 days of hospital care—when Medicare coverage reduces and you need help most—your cash benefits go up to $30.00 a day. And stay there no matter how long the hospital visit!

We've found that most folks over 65 prefer this approach . . . because your monthly premiums do not increase after you turn 65.

Another feature many senior citizens appreciate is that you will be covered for cancer, heart attack, stroke, hernia, disease or disorder of the prostate, tuberculosis, cataracts, emphysema, cirrhosis or diabetes if your hospital confinement commences more than six months after the effective date of your policy.

First, choose the plan that fits your needs best. Remember—no matter which one you choose, $1 pays for your first month.

Individual Plan

Ideally suited for the single person, or for the individual family member who needs protection.

All-Family Plan

Offers protection for the entire family. Covers father, mother and all eligible dependent children including future additions.

Husband-Wife Plan

Designed for the married couple without children or whose children are grown.

One-Parent Family Plan

Created especially for the single parent with children. Covers you and all eligible dependent children.

Now choose the combination of cash benefits and premium options that fits your needs and budget best. Remember—your first month's premium is only $1.00!

FIRST DAY OPTIONS: Pays from the very first day for covered sickness or accident.

A OPTION A	$30.00 a day $900.00 a month		B OPTION B	$20.00 a day $600.00 a month
	Under 40 (Use age of principal insured)	40 and over		Under 40 (Use age of principal insured)	40 and over
Individual	$ 7.55	$ 9.95	Individual	$ 5.35	$ 6.95
Husband-Wife	13.65	18.75	Husband-Wife	9.65	12.95

One-Parent Family	10.75	13.15	One-Parent Family	7.55	9.15

ECONOMY OPTIONS: If you prefer a lower monthly renewal rate, choose one of these options. Either option pays you cash benefits from the very first day of hospitalization for an accident and after the third day for covered sickness.

C OPTION C	$30.00 a day $900.00 a month		D OPTION D	$20.00 a day $600.00 a month
	Under 40 (Use age of principal insured)	40 and over		Under 40 (Use age of principal insured)	40 and over
Individual	$ 5.55	$ 8.55	Individual	$3.95	$ 5.95

Physicians Mutual— providing help when you need it most.

At its founding in 1902, the Company specialized in health insurance for physicians, surgeons and dentists only. Then in 1962, recognizing the growing need for extra protection against the rising cost of hospitalization, we began offering supplemental insurance to the general public. Today, our various policies protect over a million Americans in all walks of life.

Headquartered in Omaha . . . licensed in 49 states and the District of Columbia, Physicians Mutual is proud of its record of service. Last year alone, we paid claims totaling over $54,000,000 on all policies.

As proof of its financial stability and sound operating performance, Physicians Mutual has been awarded an A (Excellent) rating from A.M. Best Company, independent insurance analysts since 1899.
