McGlohon Carried Every City Precinct

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer
Donald C. (Don) McGlohon, in his first bid for a municipal office here, carried every precinct Tuesday in defeating present City Council member Mildred
McGrath and Mrs. Elizabeth
Savage in the race for mayor.

Incumbent Council members Joe Taft Jr., Judy Greene and Clarence Gray topped the balloting for the six Council seats and will be joined by a former member and two newcomers.

The Rev. William J. Hadden Jr., who served a two-year term on the Council from 1975-77, regained a seat on the governing board, while Louis Clark and Richard J.
McKee were successful in their first Council bids.

McGlohon, who is president of the Hines Agency Inc., an independent insurance agency here, was impressive in winning the mayor's seat as he compiled an almost two-to-one margin over Mrs.
McGrath.

Based on unofficial tabulations compiled by "The Daily Reflector," McGlohon received 2,928 total votes, while Mrs. McGrath, who will give up her seat on the Council after some eight years of service, received 1,490 votes.
Mrs. Savage polled 364 votes in Tuesday's balloting.

McGlohon piled up wide vote margins in Greenville Precinct Five (American Legion Building), where he received 549 votes to 252 for Mrs. McGrath and 69 for Mrs.
Savage, Precinct Seven (Elm Street), which gave him 550 votes to 233 for Mrs. McGrath and 71 for Mrs. Savage, and Precinct Nine (Gardner Fire Station), where he polled 437 votes to only 225 for Mrs.
McGrath and 34 for Mrs.
Savage.

In piling up 2,928 votes, McGlohon was only a few short of doubling Mrs.
McGrath's total. McGlohon, who will succeed present Mayor Percy Cox in December, easily surpassed the majority figure of 2,391 and, subject to official canvass totals by the Pitt Board of Elections, will face no runoff.

Run-off possibilities were also dashed by the top six finishers in the Council race as all six exceeded the majority figure of 1,940.

Unofficially, Taft led the race with 2,980 votes, followed by Mrs. Greene with 2,914, Gray with 2,679, Hadden with 2,503, Clark with 2,276, and McKee with 2,022. Trailing the top six were: Ed Carter, 1,897; E. E. Howell, 1,312; W.
E. Dansey, 1,224; Ed Stallings, 1,205; Gretchen Skinner, 987; Ray Whittington, 791; and Robert David Hunt, 481.

Hadden, Clark and McKee will fill the seats on the Council now held by John Howard, Charles Vincent and Mrs.
McGrath. Howard and Vincent decided against re-election bids.

McGlohon, contacted this morning, commented, "I am well pleased with the voter turnout. One thing I'd like to do is to work toward building on the community interest that is already here."

The new mayor added, "I am thankful for the confidence of the voters.
Everyone elected has a real challenge to provide the best possible service to the community, with the resources available."

Mrs. McGrath and Mrs.
Savage could not be reached this morning for comments.

While it is difficult to determine the number of voters who visited the polls here Tuesday, precinct reports indicate that between 4,500 and 4,800 out of a total registration of 12,648 voted.

The Pitt Board of Elections will conduct a canvass of Tuesday's election returns at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 11.

Tight Money To Hurt

WASHINGTON (AP) —
Small businesses will be hit hardest — and first — by rising interest rates, economists say. Many won't find credit, while others may pay more than 16 percent interest in coming weeks.

Small manufacturers, particularly in the Midwest, will be most vulnerable, these economists say. But stores that sell specialty items and long-lasting consumer products also will feel the credit pinch.

As a result, many part-time retail workers will be laid off, the economists say. And since women hold many of these jobs, they can expect tough times ahead, the forecasters add.

People who buy, sell and build houses also will be some of the first victims of rising interest rates. Economists say prospective homeowners will find it more difficult to get mortgages, which in turn will slow homebuilding.

MINT COLA?

I recently found a small blue bottle with the words, "Mint Cola, Greenville, N.C." on it. I can't find anyone who knows when this cola might have been made in Greenville. G. W.

Hotline's handy Greenville historian said Mint Cola and Euvita Cola were made by a business on Dickinson Avenue, somewhere between the railroad and downtown, probably 70 years ago. It was run by a Mr. Thomas, who has, to our historian's knowledge, no survivors here.

HEW Violations Charged Pitt Schools

By REBECCA BUFFALO

The Pitt County School district has been charged with violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by the Office For Civil Rights, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

In a letter dated Sept. 28 from William H. Thomas, director for the Region IV Office for Civil Rights, Atlanta, Ga., the county school district is charged with assigning students to regular classrooms in a "racially discriminatory manner."

The violation charge follows a study conducted by the Office for Civil Rights in April, 1979, whereby office team members studied class schedules to determine the district's compliance with Title VI.

"The Office For Civil Rights has concluded that the Pitt County School District, N. C., has violated Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 because students have been assigned to regular classes in a racially discriminatory manner," stated the letter.

"The assignment practices have resulted in racially identifiable and racially isolated classes that have not been educationally justified."

Superintendent Ott Alford noted that the results of the study were from data submitted from the school system, as all school systems are required to do. The data included a sampling of classroom procedures.

According to Alford, ten school systems in North Carolina are currently under regulation violations with the Office for Civil Rights concerning Title VI problems.

"Our feeling is that they've made a case, justifying their own desires," said Alford.
"We contend we've established classes on achievement, using both teacher-made and standardized tests, as well as teacher observation."

"It's far easier and possible to work with youngsters when the range is not so great," he commented. "For a teacher to meet the needs of 30 to 32 youngsters in a classroom...
it's impossible."

Alford stated that one of the points brought up in the complaint was the district's emphasis on reading skills as a grouping factor.

"There's a tremendous correlation between reading and performance in other areas," said Alford. "We do not feel we've failed to meet objectives and requirements in student placement."

The violation statement also studied the placement of students in high school courses, noting that students are enrolled in courses that are identified by levels.

"The district's ability grouping policy operates in a manner of a tracking system whereby a student in a particular level will likely remain in that level throughout his/her academic career in Pitt County," said the letter.

Alford pointed out that high school students choose their own courses, noting that "it's hard to force a child who's not academically ready."

Alford also stated that schools in the county district had used achievement level grouping before desegregation.

Tuesday, members of the Pitt County Board of Education voted to administratively

Chocowinity Woman Is Slain

WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP) —
A Chocowinity woman was shot and killed Tuesday afternoon as she sat in a jeep near a shopping center, and police said a suspect in the killing later shot himself in the chest.

Police identified the victim as Sandra Hill Parker, 23. They said she was shot in the chest with a shotgun about 4:30 p.m.
Albert Anderson, 25, of Vanceboro, was being treated at Pitt County Hospital Tuesday night for shotgun wounds in his chest.

Police said witnesses supplied them with the license number of the vehicle driven by the suspect.

Higher SAT Scores By Pitt Pupils Reported

By REBECCA BUFFALO
Reflector Staff Writer

Pitt County Schools Director of Research and Testing John McKnight reported that county students scored significantly higher on both the verbal and mathematics portions of the spring 1979
Scholastic Achievement Tests (SAT) than previous years.

A total of 259 Pitt County students took the test last spring, with scores rising 23 points on the verbal section and 25 points in the mathematics section. According to McKnight, although scores have tended to drop a few points nationwide the past few years, southern states' scores have risen one or two points.

"This is something we can all be proud of," said McKnight. "We probably won't see this dramatic growth every year, but I do think the scores indicate we have a better handle on our students."

The board voted to expend the necessary funds to conduct demolition of the stone parapet at Ayden Grammar School. The board had made a request at the last Pitt County Board of Commissioners' meeting for approx-

'Bad Check' Policy Is Adopted By Utilities

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

The Greenville Utilities Commission last night adopted a "bad check" policy which could result in additional charges, a cut-off of service, or court action against customers who repeatedly pay their bills with worthless checks.

Under the new policy, when a customer's check is returned by the bank, the customer will be notified by mail that his check was not honored and that service will be terminated on a specified date, unless the check is made good.

On the first two occasions where a check is returned, the customer will be given five days in which to make the check good, under the policy. After the commission has received more than two bad checks from a customer within the previous 12 months, notification will be given that service will be terminated and legal proceedings started.

The policy also provides

Old Fabrics Popular To Combat Thermostat

NEW YORK (AP) — With thermostats being set lower this winter, today's fashions are incorporating yesterday's fabrics to provide energy-saving warmth.

Denims, corduroys and cotton flannels, the fabrics that served the pioneers of a century ago, are gaining in popularity in men's, women's and children's wear, industry sources report.

A variety of styles for a variety of tastes are available in all three materials, and are machine-washable.

"It is the comfort qualities of these fabrics that make them particularly suited to the lower temperatures we'll be encountering in offices, schools and homes," says Cone Mills consumer information spokeswoman Florida Veeder.

"All three are constructed primarily of cotton, a versatile fiber that breathes with the body and feels comfortable on the skin in just about any climate."

Especially comfortable, she adds, are layered fashions in those fabrics, since air trapped between the layers of material improves their insulation properties.

She gives as an example of successful layering wearing a cotton T-shirt next to the body for absorbency, adding a cotton flannel shirt for warmth and softness and topping them off with a corduroy blazer.

"Dressing in layers also gives round-the-clock flexibility," Miss Veeder adds. "It lets you add clothing when you feel chilly and wear less when you want to be cooler. Tighter-fitting fashions also help by containing the warm air generated by the body. Cuffed shirts, long sleeves and closed collars are other good ideas."

Both corduroy and denim have interesting, romantic pasts, Miss Veeder notes.

Columbus is said to have used denim for the sails of his ships when he discovered the New World. This tough cotton fabric was originally loomed in Nîmes, France, where it was called serge de nîmes, she relates. The name was eventually shortened to denim.

"In the United States, denim was adopted by the working man and became almost a uniform for the cowboys, lumberjacks and farmers who helped to make this country great," Miss Veeder says. "Today the fabric's durability, comfort, practicality — and its sexiness — have made it the universal symbol of fashion savvy."

As the 1980s near, denim's popularity shows no signs of waning. In fact, she adds, many leading designers have added signature jeans to their collections for the ultimate in contemporary chic.

The origins of corduroy are not as clearly documented. It is known, however, to have been introduced into France from Genoa during the Middle Ages and was used in Britain during Chaucer's time.

The French, seeking to give added cachet to a cloth that was primarily associated with the working population, dubbed it "corde du roi" — the king's cord. The name was later anglicized to the present corduroy. The fabric's unusual combination of ruggedness and luxury has made it a family favorite ever since its inception, Miss Veeder says.

She offers these tips for selecting fashions designed in corduroy, denim and cotton flannel:

—Read labels carefully for fiber content. Most denims and flannels are woven of 100 per-

Dear Abby

Wants Benefits, No Responsibilities

1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I've heard of guys who go around telling people they are bachelors when in truth they are married. But what do you think of a guy who tells people he's MARRIED when he's a bachelor?

CURIOUS IN RHINELANDER, WIS.

DEAR CURIOUS: I think he probably wants all the benefits of marriage with none of the responsibilities.

DEAR ABBY: I am sitting here, drinking my fourth cup of coffee and feeling very depressed. I need someone to talk to, so I am writing to you.

Three weeks ago I got laid off. Since then I've been all over town looking for work, but haven't had any luck.

I see a sign in the window saying "WAITRESS WANTED," so I go inside and the receptionist takes one look at me and says, "Sorry, the job is already filled."

I know why I get turned down without even an interview. I'm FAT!

Abby, can't people be a little kinder and just give me a chance?

Just because a woman is fat doesn't mean she can't work. In fact, a fat person would probably work twice as hard just to prove she can do the job.

I can't give up since I need a job. I feel better having been able to tell this to somebody. Thanks for listening.

FAT AND DEPRESSED

DEAR FAT: Friends do more than listen. They tell you what you need to hear.

Feeling sorry for yourself won't land you a job. And don't expect some kind-hearted soul to put you on his payroll out of charity.

Face it, most fat women are not as attractive as their slim sisters. (And they're not as healthy, either.) They may seem to be "jollier," but they're only trying harder to be accepted because they feel inferior.

So, do yourself a favor and quit asking for "kindness" from others. See your doctor about a diet. If you can't do it alone, call Overeaters Anonymous.

(P.S.: If your obesity is due to a glandular disorder or a condition that you can't control, this letter is not for you.)

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my daughter. (I'll call her Pam.) Pam is 15 and a woman's libber already. She thinks it's every girl's right to do as she pleases as long as she's not hurting anybody and it's not against the law. This includes going braless, which is what she does.

Pam is a big girl. I mean top-heavy. If she wore a bra it would probably be a 38. Her teacher rang me up and told me that if Pam keeps coming to school without a bra, she'll be expelled.

Abby, do you know any 15-year-girl who lets her mother dress her? Well, neither do I.

Please help me.

PAM'S MOM

DEAR MOM: Does Pam's school have a dress code? If it does, and a bra is required, Pam is out of bounds in more ways than one. If there is no dress code, Pam's teacher is guilty of making threats she can't enforce, and SHE is out of bounds. Call the principal and get the facts.

Parents' Attitude Is Factor

CHICAGO (AP) — It's no coincidence that musically talented children often have parents who actively encourage them in music-making, believes piano educator Patricia Taylor Lee.

"Musicians and music educators agree that parents' attitudes can make an enormous difference in their children's achievements," says Dr. Lee, 42, who is a member of the piano faculty at West Chester, Pa., State College and an advisor to the National Piano Foundation.

"But good intentions alone aren't enough," she adds. "Parents can also take specific steps to ensure the best experience at the piano for their children."

Before deciding if your child is old enough to study piano, observe his or her interest in music, attention span and eagerness to learn, Mrs. Lee advises.

"Age 7 or 8 is usually a good time to start. By then, they've mastered basic reading," she notes.

A parent's expectation of good results is a powerful incentive for children to learn, says Mrs. Lee. "Don't let young children decide whether they want to study piano. If you leave the choice to them, they'll probably say no, because they don't have enough information to make a decision."

Instead, parents should cheerfully state that music lessons will begin soon, and that they will be interesting for the youngster. She also cautions against telling a child that you are simply trying lessons, or that they might not work out.

"Be positive, expect good progress, and it's likely to result," she says.

Choosing a piano teacher will take some digging on the parent's part, says Mrs. Lee.

"Allow yourself time to interview prospective teachers, and ask to audit a lesson or to hear students in recital or workshop," she advises. "Don't hesitate to ask about a teacher's educational background, or whether he or she is a member of any professional organizations for music educators."

"Does the teacher attend seminars on piano teaching and materials? Can he or she give you a clear description of the goals for your child's first few months of study? If it's not clear to you, it won't be clear to the student," Mrs. Lee cautions.

Especially significant is the teacher's personality and whether it is compatible with your child, she says.

"The best teachers are usually those who make music lessons exciting and fun," she points out. "They establish a warm personal relationship with their piano students, they convey their own love and understanding of music, and they select pieces that are interesting and varied for the child to study."

"It's up to the parent to provide the right environment for learning," says Mrs. Lee. "A child needs a well-tuned piano, a chair or bench of the right height, and a quiet room for practice. Try to avoid interference from family TV watching, radio or other distractions."

Establishing a regular routine of daily practice is also the parent's responsibility.

"Ask the teacher how much practice is expected, and remember that quality and regularity are just as important as duration," says Mrs. Lee, who thinks that several short daily practice periods can be more effective than one longer session.

Mrs. Lee cautions against expecting your child to turn into a performing genius. Much more important is that children learn to be creative at the piano — to improvise, to compose, to experiment with new sounds — and that they have the satisfaction of mastering material that is challenging, yet within their grasp.

Fall Meeting Being Held

"When a child can play a work of moderate difficulty, and play it well, it's much more rewarding than struggling through a virtuoso piece," she says.

Special Classes Are Announced For Tuesday

A special Home Furnishings Day will be held at the Agricultural Extension Office Tuesday, Oct. 16. Four programs will be presented during the day.

Home economics extension agents in the area will be presenting information on the following: "Fabric — A Key to Decorating" at 9:30 a.m.; "Pillow Talk" at 10 a.m.; "Pressed Flower Lampshades" at 1:30 p.m.; and "Framing Fabric Wallhangings" at 2:15 p.m.

Interested persons are invited to attend any one or all of the programs according to Mrs. Sue B. May, home economics extension agent. There will be no charge for the classes, but pre-registration is requested by call 758-1196.

BACK TO BREAKFAST BASICS

With the fuel shortage on everyone's mind, have you thought about breakfast being fuel for your body? Breakfast (meaning "break" the "fast") provides your body with fuel for the day, just as gasoline feeds your car.

If you choose not to "fill up" each morning, you may be running close to empty before you start your day! Skipping breakfast has an influence on your appearance, attitude and more importantly, your health.

You're in the driver's seat and can make the decision on what kinds of foods you will start your day with. Remember—breakfast should provide 1/4 to one-third of your day's nutrients and calories. Start your day with a full tank, you'll be glad you did!

Whether your breakfast is a sit-down family affair or a quick breakfast on the run, breakfast has its benefits! We all have excuses for not eating breakfast on certain days, but are they valid? Let's examine three of the reasons why people don't eat the first meal of the day.

"I don't have enough time." Actually, you don't need a lot of time to eat a quick, nutritious breakfast. Many recipes require little preparation or can be prepared the night before. If you're really in a pinch for time, breakfast snacks can be toted off on the bus and eaten on the way to school.

—"I'm trying to lose weight." Skipping breakfast is not the way to lose weight! Most often you will eat more lunch or fill up on mid-morning snacks to fill the gap. To lose weight sensibly and maintain your health, you must eat a balanced diet.

—"Breakfast foods are boring." If you are bored with breakfast, try something new.

Keep in mind the Basic Four Food Guide and select foods that offer an interesting variation. Some plain dishes can be "dressed up" with a scoop of ice cream, raisins, nuts, chocolate chips, spices, meat, vegetable, or fruit. A little thought and a good imagination are all you need to start your day out right.

When you're short on fuel, it may be time for a "tune-up." We think you'll agree, the breakfast table is the best place to start your engine!

cent cotton. Most of the better corduroys have a little polyester added to help garments stay neat and to cut down on ironing. Some of the newer denims have polyester added for the same reason. Jeans designed in these blends are particularly rugged and recommended for active children.

—Be sure to wash fashions according to the manufacturers' recommendations. Federal law requires this information to be sewn on a label found inside the garment. If it is missing, ask a salesperson.

—Don't buy on impulse or merely because a garment is inexpensive. Make sure it fits into your wardrobe plans. Check to see that merchandise is well made, both inside and out. You may have to pay a bit more but the investment will be worth it in the long run.

—Select garments that are classic, not faddish. They are easier to accessorize with items you already have in your closet and can be worn for several seasons without becoming dated. This year fashion is placing heavy emphasis on traditional styling, so you'll have a variety from which to choose.

Cherokees Sue To Prevent Dam

CHEROKEE, N.C. (AP) — Saying it will flood their ancestors' ancient burial grounds, Cherokee Indians have voted to file a suit against the Tennessee Valley Authority to block completion of the long-stalled Tellico Dam.

Ben Bridger, a lawyer for the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Nation, said Tuesday that the suit will be filed sometime this week in U.S. District Court in Knoxville.

That is the same court where Judge Robert L. Taylor last week refused efforts by environmentalists to again stop work on the controversial dam because it would destroy the natural home of the Snail Darter, a finger-length fish protected by the 1973 Endangered Species Act.

The Tribal Council voted unanimously Tuesday to sue TVA on grounds that the dam violates the 1978 American Indian Religious Freedom Act, which gives Indians access to sacred grounds.

Work on the embattled $130 million dam 25 miles southwest of Knoxville, Tenn., resumed two weeks ago after President Carter signed a bill ordering the completion of Tellico "notwithstanding any other laws."

Although 95 percent completed, the dam was halted in January 1977 when a federal court ruled that the 16,000-acre lake it would create would destroy the Little Tennessee River home of the snail darter.

The lake also would flood the burial grounds and capital of the Cherokees before Andrew Jackson drove them west on the Trail of Tears.

An Interior Department study earlier this year said an investigation revealed the site contains evidence of "human burials among the earliest in North America."

"Congress cannot exempt the Constitution," Bridges said, referring to the bill signed by Carter on Sept. 25. "It cannot eliminate First Amendment rights."

Bridges also said Congress did not specifically exempt Tellico from the 1978 Religious Freedom Act.

The land to be flooded includes the former Cherokee villages of Chota, the tribe's capital during the 18th century, and Tensai, from which the state of Tennessee derives its name. Also to be flooded is Icehouse Bottom, an area where archaeological digs have uncovered civilizations existing 8,500 years ago.

"That valley is like the Bible to Indians," tribal planner Bob Blankenship said. "The Cherokee religion does not permit the disturbance of graves nor flooding them with water."

TVA began funding archaeological research by the University of Tennessee in the area in 1967, one year after the dam was begun as a project to bring industrial development to three depressed counties. The excavation of Indian graves has long been a sore point among many in the tribe.

The Cherokees and other groups opposed to the dam also are planning a campout Oct. 19-21 at Chota to protest the lake, which TVA says it plans to begin filling in the next three weeks.

Some Surprises In N.C. Voting

By The Associated Press
Margaret Keller has a chance to become Durham's first woman mayor after she led a field of three Tuesday in the city's primary for the office.

Mrs. Keller, a city councilwoman, faces Harry Rodenhizer, a former city school board member, in the Nov. 6 general election.

Coming in a distant third in the race was Mayor Wade Cavin, who had sought a third, two-year term.

Mrs. Keller received the backing of the powerful Durham Committee on the Affairs of Black People, which had previously backed Cavin. Both are white. She also received the endorsement of the liberal Durham Voters Alliance.

Rodenhizer was backed by the city's more conservative and generally white factions.

Mrs. Keller received 6,201 votes to Rodenhizer's 4,911. Mayor Cavin garnered 2,089 votes, according to unofficial elections returns.

In Greensboro, voters soundly defeated a proposal to build a downtown convention center. The $7.5-million bond measure was defeated on a vote of 15,469 to 7,082.

A separate bond issue of $1 million for improvements to the Greensboro Coliseum was approved by a vote of 12,701 to 9,303.

The convention center issue was backed by many city officials, who believed construction of a center would help revitalize downtown Greensboro.

In Rocky Mount, Mayor Frederick E. Turnage won reelection in municipal elections Tuesday. He was unopposed.

Incumbent Mayor E.V. Wilkins won reelection in Roper, and Mayor John H. Bell Jr. of Elizabeth City led the field there but will probably face a runoff against A.C. Robinson. If Robinson defeated Bell, he would become the city's first black mayor.

Trains An 'Attack Pig,' As Watchdog

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Marcel Leblanc may have hit on a perfect solution for security seekers who are afraid of dogs: He's training a guard pig — an attack porker.

The 42-year-old Canadian had his prize porcine protector with him Tuesday when he journeyed through El Paso in his old, rusty Cadillac limousine.

Traveling with him on the way back to Vancouver, British Columbia, were his assistant pig trainer, a driver and his wife, their three children and three pigs.

"We're just like one big happy family. The baby sleeps next to the pig and the pig guards him," said Stella Bianco, the wife of driver Franklin Bianco.

Leblanc, who says he has trained attack dogs for Canadian police departments for 17 years, said he bought CP — Canadian Pig — "to fatten up and slaughter for a friend's party."

But he noticed that the 150-pound, 6-month-old, pink and white Yorkshire pig learned tricks quickly. "We have given him basic training. He attacks and charges," said Leblanc.

Leblanc left Canada in July with CP and two, smaller Australian pigs trained to perform as "circus dogs." Along the way, he picked up the assistant, Andre Rabi, 18. And last week, in Beaumont, Texas, Bianco and family joined the strange entourage.

The four-legged travelers are not hard to feed. "They love Kentucky Fried Chicken, steaks and ice cream," said Leblanc. The trainer said CP also loves bubble gum, but he spits it out when the flavor's gone.

Remove Horses, Charge Owner

BELHAVEN, N.C. (AP) — Beaufort County Humane Society members removed 16 horses Tuesday from the farm of a man charged with cruelty to animals.

Police said Belhaven attorney Boone Tillet was arrested Friday. District Judge Elbert Peel signed an order allowing the horses to be removed.

Two dead horses were found in a pasture, a witness said. Most of the 16 horses taken to other farms for care were described as emaciated.

RESIGNS — President Carter Tuesday accepted with "deep regret" the resignation of Patrick J. Lucey (above) as United States ambassador to Mexico. Lucey is a former Democratic governor of Wisconsin. (AP Laserphoto)

FOCUS

National 4-H Week

"Learn by Doing" is the slogan of America's 4-H clubs, which currently are celebrating National 4-H Week. The goal of 4-H is to help young people learn useful skills that can benefit themselves and their communities. The 4-H movement started in the United States about 80 years ago, as young people in rural areas formed clubs to learn about canning and growing corn and poultry. Today many 4-H members live in cities, and can be any age between 9 and 19. 4-H projects include money management, cooking, sewing, bicycle safety, gardening, photography, woodworking and planting trees. About 85 countries now have 4-H clubs or similar organizations.

DO YOU KNOW — What do the four H's stand for?

TUESDAY'S ANSWER — Joe Clark replaced Pierre Trudeau as Canada's prime minister.

Little Things Add Up In Your Energy Economics

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

You don't have to spend a lot of money to save energy. All the little things add up. Suppose your heating bill last winter was $700 — a reasonable figure for a three-bedroom home in a moderately cold climate. If you use the same amount of energy this year, you'll probably spend about $900.

Here's how you can trim that bill — maybe even cutting it below last year's: (Your savings, of course, will vary depending on what you've done already, where you live and how much you pay for fuel.)

—Turn down the thermostat. See how low you can go and stay comfortable. Make the change gradually, reducing the setting a degree at a time. Each degree should mean a 3 percent cut in your fuel bill. Going from 70 degrees to 67 degrees would trim that $900 fuel bill by $81.

—Keep cool at night. Setting back the thermostat by 10 degrees during the hours you sleep can cut heating bills by 9 percent to 15 percent. On a $900 fuel bill, you'd save $81 to $135. You can make the adjustment manually or you can do it automatically by converting your existing thermostat or buying a new one with a setback device. Prices for converters and thermostats start at under $50 and go to over $100, depending on complexity and installation charges.

—Insulate your water heater. Adding an inch and a-half of insulation can cut the cost of operating your water heater by 25 percent. Do-it-yourself refit kits generally cost under $20 and are available at building supply and hardware stores.

—Check doors and windows for drafts. Caulk and weatherstrip where necessary. The one-time cost of a one-time job should be under $100; annual savings on a $900 fuel bill could be as high as $90.

—Tape heavy-duty plastic to the inside of windows as an alternative to storm windows. Cost: About $10. Potential savings: $90 to $135.

—Learn where your money is going. On the average, here's how the energy used in American homes — the oil, gas and electricity — is consumed, according to a Pennsylvania State University study:

Heat 58 percent
Hot water 15 percent
Refrigeration 6 percent
Cooking 6 percent
Air conditioning 4 percent Lighting 4 percent
Miscellaneous 7 percent

—If you have a fireplace, keep the damper closed when you don't have a fire going. An open damper in a 48-inch square fireplace can let up to 8 percent of your home's heat escape through the chimney. Unless you have a recirculating device, 90 percent of the heat produced when you do light a fire will go up the chimney. The fire also will draw warm air from the rest of the house — up to 20 percent an hour.

—Check the temperature on your water heater. Most heaters are set for 140 degrees Fahrenheit; a setting of 120 degrees is adequate for most families. Reducing the temperature by 20 degrees can cut operating costs by 18 percent or about $40. (Note: You may need hotter water if you have a dishwasher; check the manufacturer's instructions.)

—Install a flow restrictor — about $5 — in your showerhead; the spray will feel just as strong, but you'll use less water. Reducing the flow of the shower from eight gallons per minute to three gallons per minute would save the average family about $24 a year.

—If you have an oil furnace, make sure it is serviced at least once a year. Have the technician check the nozzle to see if it is too large, meaning that the furnace is burning oil at a faster rate than necessary. Reducing the nozzle size and modifying air handling parts can trim heating costs by up to 14 percent or $126 on a $900 bill.

Some energy savings can be measured in pennies, but even the pennies will add up. Among energy-saving suggestions:

—Replace incandescent bulbs with fluorescent ones. More than 16 percent of the electricity we use in our homes goes into lighting. A 40-watt fluorescent bulb gives off more than five times as many lumens as a 60-watt incandescent bulb.

—Heat only the rooms you are actually using. During the day, keep bedroom doors closed and turn the radiators off.

—The average dishwasher uses 14 gallons of hot water per load. To avoid waste, run the dishwasher only when you have a full load.

—Use exhaust fans in bedrooms and bathrooms sparingly. While they remove odors, they also remove heat; in one hour, they can blow away an entire houseful of warm air.

—If you have a forced air heating system, clean or replace the filter once a month. Check duct works for leaks; minor problems can be solved by covering holes or cracks with duct tape.

Preparing A Cuba Voyage

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP) — The Navy, moving to enforce President Carter's declaration of increased vigilance in the Caribbean, have three warships loading Marines today for a Cuban voyage.

The ships left the huge Navy base at Norfolk, Va., Tuesday and were to be at Morehead City today to pick up 1,700 Marines from Camp Lejeune, Cherry Point and New River.

Their arrival date at the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo, Cuba, is classified, military officials said.

Navy Chief Petty Officer Roger Busby said the amphibious assault ship Nassau, tank landing ship Spartanburg County, and dock landing ship Plymouth Rock would be loading the Marines most of the day.

The ships and men then will head for Guantanamo to take part in landing exercises.

Carter's promised a national television audience last week he would increase U.S. military presence in the Caribbean to counter the combat-ready brigade of Russian troops on Cuban soil.

The Marines being taken to Cuba are members of the 38th Marine Amphibious Group. The 38th will be using its largest helicopter, the CH-53 Sea Stallion, and a number of other aircraft in the exercises, a Marine spokesman said.

No Insulation In Many Attics

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Despite rising energy costs, more than 10 million households in the United States have no attic insulation, according to a recent report by Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp.

The attic is one of the major areas of heat loss in the home.

The report also says another 22 million households (excluding mobile homes and multi-family dwellings with more than four units) have only 1 to 5 inches of attic insulation. Six inches is considered the minimum in most areas of the country.

Owens-Corning said the majority of dwellings without attic insulation were over 30 years old. About two-thirds of the occupants were over 50 and two-thirds earned less than $15,000 a year.

FORECAST

Until Thursday

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain is expected in the forecast period until Thursday morning from the Midwest to the lower Great Lakes. Snow is forecast for the upper lakes and cooler temperatures are due for the Plains, but most areas are scheduled to be mild. (AP Laser-photo Map)

By The Associated Press

A cold front extended across North Carolina from the southwest to the northeast this morning and as it moved south-eastward it was producing widely scattered showers.

The showers were expected to occur throughout the state today and over the east tonight. The showers will linger along the coast Thursday.

Temperatures were some cooler today with high readings expected to range from the 60s in the west to the 70s in the east. Highs will hold in the 50s in the higher mountains.

Skies were mostly sunny around the state Tuesday and temperatures climbed to the 80s in some areas. Fayetteville had a high of 86 degrees and New Bern and Rocky Mount followed with 85.

Low readings this morning dropped to the 40s in the mountains and ranged up to the upper 60s and low 70s along the coast. Rainshowers developed over the mountains and the northern Piedmont during the early morning hours.

Prices Steady On Leaf Grades

FARMVILLE — Grade for grade, prices on the Farmville Tobacco Market continued steady compared with the last sales day, according to Louis Williams, sales supervisor of the Farmville Tobacco Board of Trade.

Top practical price remained at $1.55 a pound. Several sheets of quality cutter and leaf grades brought as much as $1.60 a pound. All were company purchases. Volume of nondescript continues to increase as the end of the season approaches. Growers who sell on the Farmville market will sell all of their designated pounds this week. Stabilization receipts accounted for 8.10 percent of gross sales.

The market sold 593,637 pounds for $804,425 for an average of $1.35.51. To date the market has sold 25,929,360 pounds for $36,935,627 for an average of $1.42.45. The market will close its 1979 auction season after the Thursday sales day, Williams said.

Council Faces 28-Item Agenda

The City Council will face a 24-item agenda at Thursday's 8 p.m. meeting at city hall.

Items under "old business" include: appointments to boards and commissions; public hearings on rezoning property on Memorial Drive and on 16th Street; public hearing on Community Development performance; and

Consideration of an application by the Pitt County Health Department for renewal of a permit granted by the Council for the mobile home located behind the Health Department.

"New business" on the agenda includes: request by the Greenville Utilities Commission for a grant of an easement across the Airport Authority property; consideration of an amendment to the Transit Marketer Grant contract with the Energy Division of the N.C. Department of Commerce;

Consideration of a CETA contract with the Division of Community Employment of the N.C. Department of Human Resources and Community Development; consideration of a resolution approving a Section 13 (c) Labor Protection Warranty Agreement for the city's Mass Transit Operating Grant Application;

Consideration of budget amendments; consideration of an ordinance amending the Driveway Construction Ordinance; Traffic Commission recommendations; acceptance of streets for permanent maintenance; consideration of bus fares; scheduling of public hearings on two rezoning requests;

Scheduling of a public hearing on Articles IV and V of the proposed Subdivision Regulations Ordinance; request for refund of one-half of a building permit fee; beer and wine privilege licenses;

Disposition of city records; consideration of bids received on a residential refuse truck and a containerized refuse collection truck; consideration of bids received on uniforms for Public Works employees;

Consideration of tax releases and refunds; and scheduling of a public hearing on the proposed Sign Ordinance.

'Experiment' In Buffet Service

The Greenville Middle School is experimenting with a new type service—buffet style, in which the students serve their own vegetables and fruits, and the cafeteria worker places the meat and bread on their plates.

City schools are trying this experiment to economize the cafeteria's labor cost. Students are eating vegetables and fruits better, according to Manager Mae Belle Evans. Very little food is wasted because the student places only what he wants on his plate, she said.

The program has been accounted by several factors: the students eagerness and acceptance of a new program, the teachers' willingness to explain and work with the students in preparing the new service, the cafeteria workers' enthusiasm in trying a new program, and the managers ability to coordinate all activities smoothly, according to Linda Tingle, supervisor of School Food Service. She said that Principal John Carstarphan was also a contributing factor in the organization of this service with his supervision and cooperation.

This service offers several advantages—an increase in the different kinds of vegetables and fruits, a decrease in wasted food, a decrease of labor hours, and the beneficial learning experience, said Tingle.

Award Contract For New Well

GRIFTON — The Grifton Town Board of Commissioners awarded the contract for the construction of the new town well to East Coast Construction Company Tuesday during its regular meeting. The company submitted a low bid of $126,700.

John Groet was reappointed for another term to the Contentnea Metropolitan Sewage District. Discussion was also heard on street improvements, with no action taken.

LWV Book Sale Set Saturday

imately $10,000 for the work, which was denied. A request for approximately $20,000 to add extra doors in the gymnasiums of Farmville Central and Ayden-Grifton High Schools was also denied by the Commissioners.

Dr. Charles Coble of the East Carolina University School of Science Education gave a report on a study conducted by the School and Andy Kennedy, a science education graduate student, reported concerning county school science programs.

According to a study conducted by Kennedy of elementary school science teachers and principals, 98 percent of the teachers in elementary schools teach science, with only 34 percent teaching the subject on a daily basis. Fifty-five percent of the teachers felt that there was a planned curriculum for science in the school.

Teachers cited insufficient equipment, a need for in-service education, dissatisfaction with the textbooks, lack of materials and a lack of lab materials and a lack of science curriculum in the county as the major problems with the program.

High school teachers noted insufficient planning and preparation time, large class sizes, lack of a basic county curriculum and dissatisfaction with textbooks as major problems. Coble commended the high school science programs, especially D. H. Conley's program, saying they were on par with state outlines.

"You people have the capstone for a fine science program here in the county," said Coble. "You need to put down the baseboard."

"I place the importance of science education very high in the elementary grades," said Coble. "It articulates so well with math and reading, and offers an explanation for using those skills."

The board voted to get statements from local parent advisory groups in the county on the proposed merger question, following a report given by board members serving on the merger study committee.

Following a request by Bethel Elementary principal Janie Manning, the board agreed to allow Superintendent Ott Alford to approve exceptions to allowing students groups to attend the State Fair.

"I ask you to think of the State Fair as a learning experience, not a carnival," said Mrs. Manning. "It's many field trips rolled into one." She pointed out that students were allowed only two hours on the rides, with many students opting not to ride them.

The board gave endorsement to the implementation of the Junior Achievement Program in certain county schools, following a presentation by Anne Creech, Community Schools' volunteer coordinator, and Christina Dyre, high school supervisor.

According to Mrs. Creech, the program involves economic education via allowing students to set up their own "companies," incorporating all aspects of the business world.

Tenth, eleventh and twelfth graders would participate in the program, receiving assistance from local businesspeople.

Mrs. Drye announced that Carolina Telephone, Procter and Gamble, Burroughs Wellcome, Eaton Corporation and First State Bank had agreed to lend support to the program, with no funds to come from the federal government or the schools.

Mrs. Drye pointed out that the Greenville Area Chamber of Commerce had worked with the schools on the project.

Assistant Superintendent Leck Keeter reported that almost all county schools experienced increases in student enrollment this school year, with W. H. Robinson showing the greatest increases, followed by Falkland and Belvoir. He pointed out that more students were retained last year, causing growth in school enrollment.

The board voted to allot one teacher to A. G. Cox, Belvoir, Pactolus and two at Robinson, using extra teachers supplied by state and local funds. Approval was also given for the purchase of a surplus mobile unit from Greenville City Schools to be housed on the A. G. Cox campus.

Assistant Superintendent Bernard Haselrig reported on the current status of Title One programs in the schools, with over 2,000 children serviced by the program. He noted that the program's Rotation Reading curricula will be presented at the National Middle School Association meeting later this month.

Cultural Arts Director Myriam Harris stated the cultural arts program in Pitt County "is growing every day" and pointed out that many of the county bands and choral groups had already made plans to perform in several area Christmas programs.

Belvoir Parent Advisory Council member Tom Harrell reported on his trip to a Chapel Hill seminar designed to interest parents in participating in school affairs.

Harrell stated that parents should get more involved in school affairs, and suggested that parents could teach classes, giving students, practical life experiences.

"I think I deserve, as a parent, the chance to at least offer suggestions," said Harrell. "It wouldn't cost a nickel for parents to teach. I couldn't teach them reading, writing or arithmetic, but I could teach them plumbing."

D. H. Conley principal J. R. Carraway presented a D. H. Conley student, Eleanor Avery, to the board. Miss Avery is the county's sole semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarships. Another D. H. Conley student semi-finalist, Mark Lanzo, moved to Durham prior to the 1979 school year.

A SMALLER CROP
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Astor Perry of the Agricultural Extension Service at N.C. State Univ. predicted this week that the state's peanut crop this year will be about 16 percent less than it was last year.

SPRUCING UP ANTENNA — Workmen aboard a "Snorkelift" work platform approach the GTE earth station satellite antenna at Crystal River, Fla. recently to carry out a cleansing and painting operation on the 82-foot high, 105-foot diameter structure. Officials for A-T-O Inc., of St. Joseph, Mo., manufacturers of the "Snorkelift", claim that the workmen were able to clean and paint the antenna in three weeks. (AP Laserphoto)

Dracula, Pals Shown Annually

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP) — As Halloween approaches this central Connecticut city, Cortlandt B. Hull assumes some of the characteristics of Doctor Frankenstein. Like the mad scientist in Mary Shelley's novel, Hull has created a monster — a number of them, in fact.

Hull is the originator of Bristol's "Witches Dungeon Museum," a collection of vampires, ghouls and other antisocial characters who can be glimpsed by the public only during the Halloween season. The museum is open from Oct. 26 to Oct. 28 and from Oct. 31 to Nov. 4. The rest of the year, it's sealed as tightly as Dracula's crypt.

Hull has always been a horror film fan and many of the 13 characters in his museum bear striking resemblances to such movie villains as Boris Karloff, Lon Chaney, Bela Lugosi and Vincent Price.

The 26-year-old commercial artist designs and executes the life-size figures himself. Each takes about a month to complete, but planning takes much longer.

Once he decides on a character to be immortalized, Hull begins scouring antique and thrift shops, searching out the proper clothing to dress the figure.

After the costume is assembled, Hull sculpts the character's head, working from movie stills. He then casts the finished head in latex for a lifelike effect.

"The eyes are the most expensive item in the whole process," Hull points out. "They cost between $50 and $125 a pair."

The falls of human hair Hull insists on using are also expensive. The plastic variety is cheaper, "but it's wiry and doesn't lie right. Human hair is far easier to control," he explains.

Hull's mother constructs the wigs, tying each hair onto a net base, a technique she learned from a Hollywood makeup artist.

When the head finally meets Hull's demanding standards, the body is constructed and the completed figure is placed in its own special setting. Flashing lights, sound effects and voodoo drumbeats provide a convincingly eerie ambience.

Does the fact that there are 13 figures in his collection have some sinister significance?

"Thirteen has always been a lucky number for me," Hull says. "Besides, I don't have room for any more monsters. Now, I'm busy embellishing the settings, making them even more authentic — and scarier."

When he started his project 13 years ago, he had no idea it would become so fiendishly popular with the anything-for-a-shudder set, Hull admits. Every fall more and more visitors come to the museum on Battle Street, which is open, appropriately, from 7 p.m. to midnight. Last year 2,000 gooselash aficionados showed up for the eight-minute tour of the frightening world of Dracula, the Mummy and the Phantom of the Opera.

"You might say it's a hobby that, like Frankenstein's creation, got out of control," Hull says.

Anniversary Of Street Lights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Electric street lighting celebrated its 100th anniversary this year.

On Sept. 2, 1879, Charles F. Brush of Cleveland was granted a patent for arc lamps that could be used for street lights.

Brush, who became known as the "father of electric street lighting," according to IPO Inc., a non-profit, public, educational group dedicated to preserving the patent system, successfully demonstrated his invention in Cleveland with the result that the city became the first municipality to use arc lighting for thoroughfares. His system soon spread around the world.

CLAUDE AIKINS, a workaholic, gauges his life in terms of golf and acting. When he whittles his golf handicap down to six or seven, he knows he's not working enough. (UPI Photo)

His Wrinkles Add Earnings

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Claude Aikins' creased and seamy face folded itself into a grin as he admitted he's a workaholic who feels right at home in his new TV series, "The Misadventures of Sheriff Lobo."

Aikins gauges his life in terms of golf and acting. When he has enough time to whittle his golf handicap down to a 6 or 7, he knows he's not working enough.

But even when he is slaving away five days a week, 14 hours a day, he does manage to put in some time on the putting green he has installed on his half-acre plot in the San Fernando Valley.

He also jumps into the family swimming pool every morning the year around to swim a few dozen laps to keep himself physically fit.

Claude and his wife, Therese, have been married 27 years and are the parents of Claude Jr., 22, a college student, Wendy, 20, an interior decorator, and Michelle, an 18-year-old high school student.

Their home is a comfortable, rambling California ranch-style dwelling — which they built in 1960 — and which is in the process of being enlarged to include a special TV-game room.

Therese loves antiques and has decorated the house with a number of colorful pieces of furniture, including an 1850s Seth Thomas clock with chimes and a battered rolltop desk which reposes in Claude's den.

Claude's hideaway is decorated with his collection of dozens of ancient golf clubs, wooden-shafted irons and woods. He's most proud of a 1925 set of collector's items woods which have been refurbished.

Now that he's immersed in the new NBC comedy show Claude can only play golf on the weekends at one of the two country clubs to which he belongs. When time allows, he plays with the Hollywood Hackers at charity tournaments.

Like many another actor, Claude is a constant weight watcher. He rarely eats breakfast or dinner and tries to limit his lunches to light meals.

"I've lost 16 pounds since the series began and I want to lose 10 more," he says. "I fight my appetite at noon by serving lunch to the crew behind the counter of the catering truck."

"It's my way of saying 'thank you' to the crew. I also get a few laughs by wearing nutty aprons, my favorite one reads, 'I may be slow, but at least I'm Cute.'"

"Cute" hardly describes the rugged, burly Aikins who says, "Somebody once described my face as 10 miles of bad road. But every wrinkle has earned me more money as a character actor."

The Aikinses entertain at barbecues on weekends when he isn't out on tour promoting "The Misadventures of Sheriff Lobo," sometimes accompanied by Therese who works part time as a nurse now that their children are grown.

She also keeps a close eye on her husband's taste in clothes. When he finds a pair of slacks or golf shirt to his taste, he will order six duplicates which drives Therese to distraction.

Therese, on the other hand, knows how to drive her husband to the wall. She has a recipe for chicken breasts stuffed with spiced fruit that Claude finds irresistible — and fattening.

Money....

The Federal Reserve Board last weekend increased its bank lending rate from 11 percent to a record 12 percent and tightened its control on the availability of money and credit.

The moves generated immediate upsurges in other short-term interest rates. The overall effect resulted in stock prices recording their steepest drop in more than five years Tuesday.

Chase Manhattan Bank on Tuesday boosted the prime rate to its best customers by an entire percentage point, to 14.5 percent.

Small businesses, however, rarely qualify as "best customers." They usually must pay 2 percent to 3 percent above the prime rate, said economist Richard Landry of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

That is almost as much as consumers pay on credit-card interest, and it makes borrowing very difficult for most small businesses with sales below $500,000 a year, Landry said.

Moreover, he added, there are growing reports that smaller, regional banks are hesitant to extend loans.

Consumers who want loans also will face difficulties, say economists.

"I would think that it's going to be a little harder to get a car loan, a little harder to get a mortgage," said economist William E. Gibson of the brokerage house Smith Barney Harris Upham & Co. Inc.

"It will be very tough to buy or sell homes without mortgage financing available," said bank analyst Jonathan E. Gray of Sanford C. Bernstein & Co. Inc. "It's difficult to see institutions funding mortgages one or two months in advance when the cost of money is so uncertain."

Farmville Vote...

Mayor-elect Mercer said, "I am very gratified that the voters of Farmville have been fit to elect me their mayor. I will work hard to represent the citizens of our town as best I know how." Mercer, 33, is originally from Washington, N. C., but has lived in Farmville about eight years. He owns and operates Factory Storage Company here.

Walston said this morning, "I appreciate the confidence the folks of Farmville seem to have shown in my possible ability to see that the town government is administered in a progressive manner and that our money is spent wisely." He is manager of the feed department of Farmville Hardware Company here.

Joyner, owner and operator of Charles Joyner Clothier here, said, "I am very pleased and very appreciative of the support of the people of Farmville. I will try to represent them to the best of my ability."

Kue commented, "I have learned a lot during the past few weeks and know I have a lot left to learn about administering town government. I will do my best and I do appreciate the help of the citizens who voted for me." Kue is a pharmacist, the owner and operator of Kue's Pharmacy here.

The new mayor and commissioners will be installed prior to the December regular monthly meeting of the Town Board.

pursue the matter with the Office For Civil Rights, defending its position, with the county schools' legal attorney W. W. Speight.

"If we're legally allowed to move out of administration and into the courts, we'll fight it (the complaint) all the way," said Alford.

Open House At Elmhurst School

Open House will be held at Elmhurst Elementary School Thursday at 7:30 p. m. All parents of Elmhurst children are invited to attend.

A business meeting in the auditorium will precede visitation in the classrooms. Introduction of the Elmhurst staff and the PTA executive board will be done by J. B. Smith, principal, and Margaret Wirth, PTA president. By law changes and other matters will be discussed.

Favor Sedimentation And Erosion Controls

BY JOYCE EVANS
Reflector Staff Writer

In a special session, the Joint City and County Planning and Zoning Commission Tuesday approved a public works project and discussed the proposed sign ordinance.

The committee approved the sedimentation and erosion control plan for property behind Blounts Fertilizer.

John Baggett of Naegele Sign Company, Kinston, presented the committee a proposal regarding sign restrictions and guidelines in hopes that the committee would adopt them for areas under Greenville's jurisdiction. "Baggett recommended several restrictions on sizes of outdoor advertising signs and proposed a unified system of sign posts.

To illustrate his points, Baggett displayed a map and showed pictures demonstrating different signs spaced a designated number of feet apart and ones closer together. He asked the board for permission to place restrictions on outdoor advertising—space further apart (2,000 feet outside city limits and 1,000 feet within the city limits).

"We're trying to come to Greenville and want to build the best outdoor advertising that could possibly be," said Baggett. "We want our sign to be the prettiest in the world." We're interested in activity retail areas of the city." If the ordinance is adopted, Baggett plans to build new signs and rebuild old ones to conform to new standards.

Chairman Lyman Ormond felt the committee would need some input from the individual businesses before making a decision.

Susan Nobles of the Greenville Area Chamber of Commerce presented the group with feedback from area businesses who had been in contact with her. According to Nobles, these businesses are concerned about the sizes of the signs, set backs, and the possible exemption of flashing signs as proposed in the ordinance. An example would be the Savings and Loans signs that flash time and temperature readings.

Director of Planning, Bobby Roberson, cited particular areas that needed altering and led the discussion about these areas. The members agreed that input was needed from realtors and developers about entrance signs to residential areas. Also, commercial areas were discussed, and it was noted that proposed limitations do not affect inside mall, but are limited to the exterior.

The committee made changes in the ordinance based on discussion held, and points that needed further observation were noted.

The planning staff will study questions and make a report at the next planning board meeting. The Chamber of Commerce will study the needs of area businesses and report them to the commission.

Ed Wyatt, city manager, told the board that the subject is complex and needs involvement.

In other business, the chairman read a letter of resignation from Patricia East, former member of the board.

Price Break, If Approved

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Piedmont Natural Gas Co. customers could get a $14 million break in rates over the next year, including a $5 million refund in December, if the state Utilities Commission approves.

The commission's Public Staff and the company have agreed to a rate reduction and the refund in a proposed settlement of a number of pending cases before the commission.

Hearings on the proposal are scheduled for later this month. If the commission agrees, the average residential gas bill would be reduced by $17 per year and the average user would get a $13.45 refund with December bills.

The refund would vary widely according to consumption during the year which ends Oct. 31. The rate reduction of $8.9 million goes into effect Nov. 1.

The reduction amounts to a 4.9 percent cut in winter rates and a 5.7 percent cut in summer rates, according to Piedmont, which calls the settlement "a very fair proposal for both the company and the customers."

Steve Conner, a Piedmont spokesman, said that even though individual bills will go down, the settlement will produce another $4.4 million in revenue because the company will have more gas to sell.

New Fitness Trails Add To Jogging

By BJORN EDLUND
HAMBURG, West Germany (UPI) — Helmut Mueller's pulse beat on his eardrums. He felt a sweet taste of blood mix with salty sweat seeping into his mouth. His jogging suit was drenched. His blond hair stood on end.

"This is terrific," he panted. "I love it."

The 25-year-old accountant, a picture of physical exhaustion, had just finished his first round on a one-and-a-half mile fitness trail.

Ten years ago, after a slow start at home, a Swiss insurance firm started spreading its "vita parcours" fitness trails to West Germany, Austria and France.

One of the 1,200 trails built in West Germany coils below the lush green of Hamburg's 300-acre city park. Its 20 posts, each demanding its own exercise, stand shaded by high elms.

Mueller had heard of the trail "from a guy at work."

"I haven't done anything for my physical health the last six years," he said in quick bursts between chest-heaving breaths. "Today was my first run."

The parcours, composed by gymnastics experts, takes Mueller's unfit into account.

"Start with a few deep breaths," says an instruction brochure. At each post a blue stylized picture shows an exercise, giving separate requirements for beginners and advanced athletes.

Starting easily — swing your arms windmill style — the trail accelerates to sit-ups and push-ups designed to send the heart beat soaring.

"The trail increases the activity of the heart (pulse frequency reaches 160 beats per minute) plus your breathing," says the brochure.

At the No. 12 post — set one foot on tree stump, stretch to standing, change to other foot, repeat 10 times — Mueller seemed to come to his senses.

"I don't know why I am doing this," he said. "I can hear my heart beat in my ears and my legs ache. But I like it."

Mueller said he preferred the fitness trail to jogging.

"What's jogging, anyway? I ran around the block each morning this spring. All I got was headaches from the exhaust fumes and the racket the cars make. Here you get away from all that."

A spokesman for the jogging magazine Spiridon said jogging was invented by a German. Since 1947, Ernst van Aaken has written several books, published in the United States as well as in West Germany, to promote what he calls "long slow distance running."

"We call it LSD," the spokesman quipped. "Dr. van Aaken started this thing. Jogging was born in Germany."

Three million people jog in West Germany. The country's 60 million people include 10,000 active marathon runners, compared with 40,000 in the United States. There are no estimates for fitness trail buffs.

Mueller said for him, jogging and his passion — the fitness trail — have the same advantages.

"Despite muscle pain and a feeling of being totally lost the first times after you take up training, the knowledge that you will eventually get fit keeps you going."

Laboratory Has Indoor Stream

INDOOR STREAM
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Fishery scientists in the Michigan State University Department of Fisheries and Wildlife are using an indoor model stream as a laboratory for studying ways to improve fishery management.

Associate Professor Ray White and Kurt Fausch, a graduate student, are seeking to learn what details of stream habitat are important to salmon and trout, and how different species and sizes fight for habitat.

The model stream is a meandering 25-foot-long Plexiglas creation, a foot wide and a foot deep, that weaves across a large room. The stream-bed is lined with gravel and rocks of various sizes. Plywood laid across the top shades portions of the stream from the glare of overhead lights.

An air-lift pump drives water from one end of the stream to the other and cycles it back through a pipe to a gravel bed, where it is filtered.

that when a customer has more than two bad checks returned in any 12 previous months, a $5 service charge will apply, in addition to any other charges and fees.

The new policy also provides that the Commission reserves the right to require a customer to pay utility bills in cash only when more than three bad checks have been received during the previous 12 month period, and may require a deposit equal to two months of a customer's estimated highest utility bills when three bad checks are received during the previous year.

GUC director Charles Horne told commission members that fire hydrants will be installed at five locations outside the city limits. He noted that the hydrants are being installed for flushing water lines, not for fire protection.

He explained that the hydrants, "are needed to maintain adequate water service."

In other business last night, the commission approved a new water service area boundary which roughly follows the boundary for potential sewer service and includes most of the extra-territorial jurisdiction area. The boundary must be approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission and the City Council.

Commissioners set a workshop meeting for October 18 to discuss possible changes in the employee's fringe benefits package.

Thieves Forced Way Into Store

Greenville police are investigating a break-in at Brody's at Pitt Plaza, discovered by officers about 4 a.m. today.

Chief Glenn Cannon said thieves gained entrance to the store by forcing their way through a rear door.

A quantity of women's clothing was taken, three jewelry cases emptied, and two pieces of luggage removed.

Although Cannon said the type and amount of clothing and jewelry stolen would be unknown until an inventory was made, sources said the value of the missing merchandise would be several thousand dollars.

Series Opener Postponed For 1st Time In 76 Years

BALTIMORE (AP) — The 1979 World Series still was tied 0-0 today because not even baseball's annual fall classic can fool around with Mother Nature.

It rained on the scheduled Tuesday night opener of the best-of-seven game confrontation between the Baltimore Orioles and Pittsburgh Pirates.

It marked the first time in the 76-year history of the Series that the opener was postponed. And it was the 26th time a Series game bowed to the elements — 25 to rain and one because of cold weather.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn called off the game at 8:32 P.M. (EDT) just two minutes after the scheduled starting time. The decision was booed by the fans, but justified by the continuing downpour and dire weather forecast for the rest of Tuesday night.

There was no way the American League champion Orioles and National League winning Pirates could have played on the sopping wet natural grass and dirt surface. Although a tarpaulin covered the infield, the outfield was full of puddles.

It wouldn't have taken long once the tarp was off to turn the infield into a quagmire. And, the valuable talent on both teams would have been subjected to possible injury. The decision was wise if slightly delayed.

The rain started more than three hours before the nationally televised game was supposed to get begin. The National Weather Service forecasted a 60 percent chance of the inclement weather lasting into today. The forecast for tonight, however, was for clear skies.

As a result of the first World Series postponement since 1976, when the fourth game between the Cincinnati Reds and New York Yankees was held up a day by rain, the Orioles and Pirates will forego their travel day Thursday.

The Series opens tonight (8:30 P.M. EDT) and continues Thursday night. The teams will hustle to Pittsburgh for a third game Friday night. The fourth game is scheduled for Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon.

If needed, a fifth game is scheduled for Pittsburgh

Sunday afternoon, with Monday off and a return to Baltimore if Games Six and Seven are necessary.

Managers Earl Weaver of the Orioles and Chuck Tanner of the Pirates, said the rainout would not affect their lineups for the delayed opener.

Weaver said Mike Flanagan, whose 23 victories led the majors during the regular season, still would open for the Orioles. Weaver also held to his plan to use Mark Belanger at shortstop for more defensive strength.

Weaver went so far as to name his starting pitchers for the next three games — Jim Palmer, Scott McGregor and Dennis Martinez. Tanner had disclosed he would use Bert Blyleven and John Candelaria in Games Two and Three, but that was as far as the Pirates' skipper would project.

Tanner said that if Flanagan was the Orioles' starter tonight, he would stick with Bill Robinson in leftfield and rookie Steve Nicosia behind the plate. Both swing from the right side and hopefully would make the Pirates more effective against the left-handed Flanagan.

Weaver and Orioles' fans still were concerned about how the non-use of the American League designated hitter rule in the Series would affect Baltimore.

Weaver expects it to make a difference since he will have to let his pitchers bat instead of Lee May, the club's designated hitter during the regular season. May hit 19 home runs and had 69 RBI.

Tanner has made it clear he would rather play without the DH, used every other year in the Series. Tanner, who managed in the American League and is familiar with the DH, estimated it was worth an average of half-a-run per game.

Last year, the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the Series as DH Reggie Jackson had nine hits in 23 at bats with two home runs and eight RBI. The Dodgers' main DH Lee Lacy went two for 14.

Flanagan hasn't batted since he was in the minor leagues three years ago. Kison had eight hits and drove in six runs, including four with a grand slam during the regular season.

Flanagan was 23-9 with a 2.65 ERA in the regular American League season and is one of the leading candidates for the Cy Young Award as his league's top pitcher.

Kison was 13-7, with a 3.14 ERA, including a 4-0 mark during the Pirates' September drive to the NL East title. He did not pitch in Pittsburgh's three-game sweep in the best-of-five league championship series against West champion Cincinnati.

Kison always has been a "September pitcher," winning 23 and losing just six in the final month of the season since joining the Pirates in 1971. That year he worked 61-3 innings in relief and won the fourth game of Pittsburgh's seven-game World Series triumph over Baltimore.

Rose Seeks To Snap Back Against Bruins

By WOODY PEELE

Rose High School's Rampants, coming off a heartbreaking 21-14

loss to Rocky Mount last Friday, have another "screw" week, as they have to face Wilson Beddingfield here Thursday night. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Not twice in a row have the Rampants played on consecutive Friday nights, the usual high school night. Under their agreement with East Carolina, the Rampants will play Thursday night due to a Saturday afternoon home date by the Pirates.

Rose, tied 7-7 at the half against Rocky Mount, saw two big plays put them down by a 21-7 score in the third period. But they rallied in the final period to score once and threaten twice more, only to be stopped, once by a penalty of frustration against themselves, and the other time by the Rocky Mount defense.

"Rocky Mount played a good offensive football game," Rose Coach Dave Bumgarner said.

"We couldn't stop their running game."

The key to that was the catquick running of Victor Thorne, who scored once on a 52-yard scrimmage run, and again on an 85-yard punt return. Another 40-yard run by Thorne set up the final Rocky Mount score.

"He wasn't supposed to be the top running back," Bumgarner said. "He hadn't run like that all season, so it was a surprise to us. But he's the best we've seen this year."

However, Bumgarner felt that Rose was able to move the ball against Rocky Mount, too. "We were a little confused early in the game and that gave us some problems. But once we got back on our program, we didn't have any trouble moving against them."

"What hurt was that we called the wrong plays right there at the end. When we had the ball inside their 20 and didn't make a first down, that killed us. We had a wrong read there that could easily have made the first down and kept us alive."

Bumgarner felt that while the Gryphons were the best team offensively the Rampants have faced, they were not as good defensively as Kinston was.

"Our kicking game killed us. It's the second time this year we've had a punt returned against us for a touchdown, plus we had another blocked for a score. We've got to correct that. Even our kickoff coverage hurt us. Thorne returned the ball well, so we kicked away from him and the guy who got the ball ran it back 41 yards."

Physically, Bumgarner feels that the short turnaround time, from Friday to Thursday, may hurt the Rampants. "We're getting awfully tired. However, the long rest from Thursday to next Friday may be good for us if we stay on schedule."

There have been a few changes made offensively for the Rampants. "We've been having Jerry Daniels and Wallace Brown on the same side of the center, and we're switching Brown from right tackle to left guard and putting Curtis Spell into the line, too. We think this will help our blocking scheme."

Beddingfield, while having won only one game, can be a threat. The Bruins won their opener against Greene Central, 42-22, but were then shut out twice, by Tarboro, 27-0, and West Carteret, 9-0. In their first conference game, they also suffered a shutout, bowing to Rocky Mount, 13-0.

Last week, they were defeated by Northern Nash, 33-21.

"They seem to be either shut out, or to score a lot of points," Bumgarner said.

The coach said that the Bruins run a defense similar to that used by the Gryphons, and operate their offense from the veer.

"What scares me is that they have an excellent punt returner in Clarence Anderson. He ran one back against Northern Nash, so we know that he can move the ball. I've heard that he's better than Thorne."

Bumgarner feels that the game is an important one for the Rampants. "Last year, we lost a close game to Rocky Mount and we didn't play well for the next two games. It's important to us to get back on track and win the rest of our games if we are to get into the playoffs this fall."

"With two positions open, we have an excellent chance, even though I don't think we will have a shot at the title now. I just can't see two teams beating Rocky Mount."

Bumgarner also announced that defensive end Don McGlohon will be out for the year with an arm injury.

The Rampants come into the game with a 3-2 overall mark and a 1-1 Division I record.

Meal Before Game Set

The East Carolina University athletic department will serve barbecue dinners Saturday beginning at 11 a.m. in Ficklen Stadium.

The Pirates of ECU face The Citadel in the annual Homecoming game Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

The dinner, which includes barbecue, slaw, potatoes, hush puppies and a drink will be $3 each. They will be sold in the area between the front gate and the Pirate Club. The dinner is not an exclusive Pirate Club activity, but is open to anyone.

Wake To Play Heels

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Wake Forest football coach John Mackovic says a lot of upsets are yet to be had in Atlantic Coast Conference games this year.

"If we continue to improve we can beat ... one at a time ... anybody on our schedule," he said in a telephone interview from Winston-Salem this week.

"But you can lose that, too." The task at hand for the Deacons, 4-1, is North Carolina, unbeaten in its first four games this season. The two meet Saturday at Chapel Hill.

Mackovic believes the Deacons can play well enough offensively or defensively to win any game. Last Saturday, the Deacons beat Virginia Tech in a squeaker, 19-14.

"We've been able to come from behind. Just take a look at our team Saturday. We think we can beat anybody," he said.

Pressure Rising On Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina broke from a 14-all deadlock at halftime last Saturday to beat Cincinnati, 35-14, and Coach Dick Crum says the experience was good for his team.

"We needed some stress put on our football team," Crum explained. "You have to get used to playing under pressure."

The unbeaten Tar Heels are almost certain to get a lot of pressure this week, when they take on Wake Forest, 4-1. And Crum doesn't discount the possibility of an upset Saturday, even though the Tar Heels are playing at home and are widely favored.

"I don't have any idea how this thing will go," Crum said. "I don't think there's going to be a wide margin one way or the other, though."

He said it is unrealistic to think that John Mackovic's Deacons their record through any means other than execution and planning. He considers them a talented and well-coached team.

"Wake Forest is a very good football team ... there's no question about that," said Crum. "They have come from behind a couple of times, they've faced the pressure, and that's why our game with Cincinnati was so important to us."

Crum said the Deacons present a problem in that they are a passing team with the potential to run well.

"I don't think there's any question that their passing game establishes their running game," he explained. "Most passing teams can't run well. Wake can run."

"With (tailback James) McDougald and (fullback Albert) Kirby they run better than Pittsburgh even though they have (Randy) McMillan." Then there's Jay Venuto, one of the nation's top passers. "He throws the ball well and he reads the coverage well," Crum said of Venuto. "He accepts John Mackovic's concept of the passing game. He does it just the way they want it done."

He also said Wake Forest's defense isn't given enough credit. "When they had to get tough they did," he said. "The did a good job stopping (North Carolina) State inside the five, and that's a sign of a good defense."

Tigers Not Underestimating Tech

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Clemson football Coach Danny Ford has good reason not to underestimate the opposition this Saturday, when his Tigers play at Virginia Tech.

Ford points to the Gobbler veteran defensive front, including tackles Doug McDougald and Mike Faulkner and middle guard Danny Hill.

"Coach Tom Harper, Tech's defensive coordinator and an assistant under Bill Dooley at North Carolina, says this is the best threesome of defensive linemen he has ever coached. "That is quite a statement," Ford said Tuesday at his weekly news conference.

In addition, Ford recruited three of the Gobblers' starters while he was an assistant coach at the Blacksburg, Va., school 1974-75 — linebacker Lewis Stuart, center Roe Waldron and fullback Mickey Fitzgerald.

"I know all about them and they know all about me and my coaching philosophies, so it will be a strange situation," Ford said.

Also, VPI strong safety Bill Britt and offensive guard Phil Jamerson are transfers from Clemson. "They know all our players, so that will help them," he said.

It will be the first "high test performance" for the Tiger offense, which will have to improve to beat Virginia Tech, Ford said.

"We have been running on only six cylinders in an eight-cylinder auto so far. But I'm confident we will move the ball better and score some points," he added.

The Tiger coach said he was looking forward to the non-conference contest, the first on the road for his squad, which is 3-1.

"If we can win at Blacksburg we will have a lot of confidence in our ability. After this week we will have faced every situation. The experience will be good for us," he said.

Boxer Killed

KEWANEE, Ill. (AP) — Hayden Stuhlsatz, who fought some of the greatest names in boxing during the 1930s but never won a championship, was killed by a freight train near the Kewanee rail yards, officials said.

Stuhlsatz, 68, was struck during the early morning hours Tuesday by a fast-moving Burlington and Northern freight train, police said.

"I doubt if they even knew they hit him," said Glenn Case, Henry County coroner.

Portions of the fighter's body were discovered by Elmer Gross while he was delivering newspapers in downtown Kewanee.

Pirates Remind Tanner Of Past

BALTIMORE (AP) — "When I was young, my baseball heroes were the Gashouse Gang," said Pittsburgh Pirates manager Chuck Tanner, spitting tobacco juice into a white paper cup.

"Pepper Martin, Ducky Medwick, Dizzy Dean — what a wild, aggressive bunch of ball players. They always were swinging, running and going for that extra edge."

"Sure, this club reminds

Orioles, failed to dampen their unharnessed spirits.

Willie Stargell, the 38-year-old bellwether of the NL champions, sat on a sofa, bare-footed, playing a card game called Pluck with teammates Jim Bibby, Grant Jackson and Rennie Stennett.

When Willie banged a card on the table, the whole room shook. Who could imagine that this hulking, 225-pound veteran of 17 seasons was originator of the idea of awarding gold crocheted stars to decorate caps of teammates who made some outstanding contribution on the field?

Kent Tekulve, the reed-thin reliever, for instance, seems to have one for each of the 34 games he has saved.

Rookie Mike Easler and John Candelaria were intent on a game of backgammon. Easler wore a gold T-shirt with "Dead Goat Saloon Arrow Pass Square, Salt Lake City, Utah" emblazoned on the back.

They're an uninhibited, free-spirited bunch — these 1979 Pirates. They would make the Gashouse Gang look like truants from a church picnic.

Someone asked him during the rainout if he had any rules for his players.

"Yeah," he responded, "25 — one for every man on the squad. Every man is different. Every man has to be treated differently."

"You don't judge yourself whether you win a pennant or not," he said, depositing another spurt of juice into the cup. "It's whether you get the best out of your unit."

"I've always had teams that played loose and relaxed."

Tanner was asked if he ever won one of Stargell's stars.

"Sure," he replied, "One — that was when I gave the team an off-day."

Chuck Tanner

me a lot of what those old St. Louis teams used to be. They never think they're behind. They always go into the last inning feeling they're going to win."

The graying mill hand's son out of New Castle, Pa., didn't have to draw a map to show he was talking about his rambunctious Pirates.

Just outside his office door, stereos blared disco and rock 'n' roll music. The TV set was going full blast, showing tapes of the Pirates' National League playoff victories over the Cincinnati Reds.

It was old stuff — a celluloid replay for the Pirates — but every time one of them got a hit or made a throw they let out a deafening roar as if it were a brand new feat.

The dreaching rain outside, forcing postponement of Tuesday night's opening game of the baseball World Series against the Baltimore

Bob The Beer Man Loves Series Rain

BALTIMORE (AP) — The beer men loved it and the fans said they could wait another day as rain washed out Tuesday's scheduled opening game of the World Series between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Baltimore Orioles.

"This is terrific!" said a vendor who identified himself only as Bob the Beer Man. "I'm going to sell a lot of beer and I won't have to climb a single step."

Bob, whose orange Orioles visor sported the legend "My House Calls Make You Smile," and the other vendors of beer, hot dogs and popcorn, waded through a solid pack of people who waited in vain for the rain to stop.

The crowd looked better suited for a Baltimore Colts football game. With temperatures forecast for the 40s by the time the game would have ended, the fans came prepared, with raincoats, ski hats and bright yellow slickers predominating.

Many of the fans who drove long distances said they were disappointed but understanding about the rainout.

"I'll just come back tomorrow night," said Bill Ryan, who drove to Baltimore from Washington. "I would have liked to see them play tonight, but that field is a mess. You can't ask someone to risk getting hurt just so people can watch baseball."

Ryan had good reason to have been upset, but he wasn't.

"I paid a scalper $30 for this ticket," he said. "It's all you could do. It's a sellout and I had to see the World Series."

Jim and Nancy Beresheim, of Baltimore, said they attended about a dozen games in Memorial Stadium this year, and "Just our luck, this is the first rainout. But we'll be back whenever they play this game and we'll be ready. With this team, it's easy to get psyched."

Weaver's Plans Rained On

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver started to detail a quick contingency plan when rain postponed the first game of the 1978 World Series, but there were too many variables for even the nimble-minded manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Acting on the advice of his scouts, Weaver had planned a pitching rotation which assured that four or even five games in a seven-game series would be started by left-handers to combat the left-handed power of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Now, with no off day following Game Two, Weaver's plans went down the drain with the heavy rains which drenched Memorial Stadium Tuesday night.

Under the new setup, first-game starter Mike Flanagan will be limited to just two starts and the American League champions may wind up using four right-handed starters.

"It's too early to say," Weaver er mused after Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn called the game. "More than likely, if Flanagan pitches the fifth game, Jim Palmer will pitch the sixth. But that's not definite."

"It'll be Flanagan, Palmer, Scott McGregor and Dennis Martinez in the first four games," Weaver told reporters. "After that, it's 'if, and, but, either, or.' Use any of those words, if you can spell them."

"My fifth-game pitcher will depend on how things are going," Weaver said. "My scouts have told me that Steve Stone (a right-hander) could be effective against the Pirates. I won't hesitate to use him if either Flanagan or Palmer throws a lot of pitches in their starts."

Should Flanagan start Game Six, the veteran Palmer would be ready for a deciding seventh game if the series goes that far.

Through all the confusion, Weaver was able to find a silver lining. Martinez would get a turn in the rotation.

"I'm glad for Dennis Martinez," he said. "I had to tell him yesterday he would not be starting in the series. I felt badly for him because he had been such a help to us all year. He's only 24 and he led the league in complete games, so I know he was upset. Now, I know he's happy."

Flanagan went to the Baltimore bullpen and threw for five minutes in the rain after the game was called.

"I just wanted to get loose," said the 23-game winner. "I threw two days ago, in my regular turn, and I didn't want to go three days without throwing. When I go too long without throwing, I get too strong."

"I was a little disappointed because I was ready to go," Flanagan said. "I even knew what the bunt sign was."

Quitting Early

Jaguars Ranked No. 1 In State

By The Associated Press
Jordan-Matthews has regained the top spot among North Carolina's small schools in this week's Associated Press poll of high school football teams.

Scotland County and Farmville Central held their No. 1 positions in the 4A and 3A classes.

The Jets, top-ranked among the state's 2A-1A teams throughout the season until surrendering the position last week to Maiden, totaled four first-place votes and 99 points in the statewide poll of sportswriters. Jordan-Matthews is coming off a 41-15 victory over Monroe, ranked seventh last week but gone from the Top Ten this week.

Maiden, with four first-place votes and 89 points, is coming off a 14-6 victory over Bandys.

Also in the running is third-ranked West Montgomery, which has 83 points and one first-place vote. West Montgomery plays at Jordan-Matthews on Oct. 26.

Scotland County increased its 4A lead from nine to 25 points this week. The Scots got eight first-place votes and 105 of a possible 110 points. Hickory, Northern Durham and Kannapolis retained their 2-3-4 rankings.

ings, but only two points separate the three schools. Last week, Hickory had a 15-point lead over Northern Durham and a 29-point bulge over fourth-ranked Kannapolis.

Farmville Central was tied last week for No. 1 in 3A with Burlington Williams, but Williams lost 20-16 Saturday to crosstown rival Cummings and slipped to ninth.

Farmville got nine first-place votes and 105 points — 37 ahead of runner-up Havelock. Belmont South Point is third, advancing two positions with Havelock.

New teams to the Top Ten this week are Raleigh Broughton, eighth, and Fayetteville Smith, 10th, in 4A; and Ashe Central, ninth, and North Duplin, 10th, in 2A-1A.

NHL Season Opens

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) — The St. Louis Blues didn't miss Garry Unger at all Tuesday night as they used superior skating to create scoring chances and easily defeat the Vancouver Canucks 5-2 in the opening game of the 1979-80 National Hockey League season.

Unger missed his first start after playing in 833 consecutive games, the all-time NHL record, after playing out his option and shopping his services around the league. The ironman has reportedly made a deal with the Atlanta Flames.

NHL action picks up considerably tonight with five games, as the New York Rangers play at Toronto; Atlanta meets Quebec; Pittsburgh hosts Winnipeg; Edmonton takes on Chicago and Detroit visits Los Angeles.

On Thursday night, it's Winnipeg at Boston; Washington at Buffalo; Atlanta at Montreal; the New York Islanders at Philadelphia; Hartford at Minnesota and St. Louis at Colorado.

The youthful Blues got a good effort from goaltender Ed Staniowski and their penalty-killers as they took period leads of 2-0 and 3-1 in an impressive win over the disorganized Canucks.

"It was a good effort by everyone, but especially by the goaltender and the penalty-killers," said Blues Coach Barclay Plager. "We're a skating team and we created two of our goals by skating and being in good position in their end."

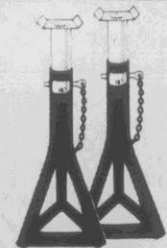

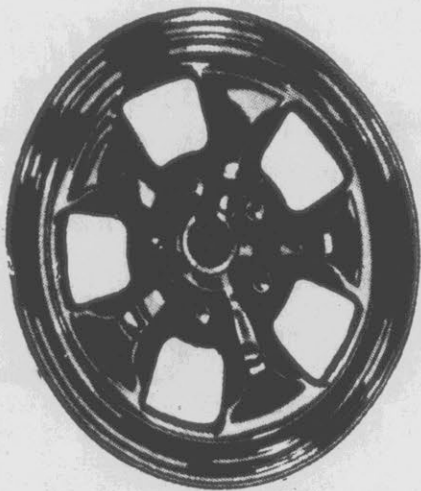

St. Louis got goals from rookie Bob Crawford, Blake Dunlop, Wayne Babych, Brian Sutter and Hartland Monahan as the Blues took advantage of the few good scoring opportunities they got. Monahan's goal was into an empty net.

The Canucks had nine power plays against the aggressive Blues.

Lady Bucs Drop Two

RALEIGH — The East Carolina Lady Pirates lost to both Virginia Commonwealth and N.C. State yesterday in volleyball.

The Pirates were defeated by Virginia Commonwealth, 15-12 and 15-6, and then lost to the Wolfpack, 15-9, 10-15, 15-8.

"We were very sluggish against Virginia Commonwealth," ECU Coach Alita Union said after the losses. "We made a lot of mental errors."

"Against State we went with our game plan. We sort of woke up for them and we had some really tough serving in the second set (when the Pirates won, 15-10)," she said.

"Sharon Perry played extremely well in the front row. She had some good blocking and hitting," Dillon said.

ECU, now 4-12, plays host to UNC-CH Tuesday.

Knights Lose

Calvary Christian Academy scored three second half goals and gained a 4-0 win over Greenville Christian Academy yesterday in soccer.

Steve Cuthrell pushed through goal in the first half for a 1-0 Calvary lead. He added another goal in the second half, while Johnny Pate scored twice more.

The Knights had their scoring opportunities, but failed to capitalize on them.

STALLS AND SHARKS

DALLAS (AP) — After the work he did in the off-season, defensive tackle Dave Stalls of the Dallas Cowboys takes the offensive blocks of opposition linemen in stride. Dave spent the spring and early summer working at San Diego's Sea World observing at close quarters the behavior of two bull sharks.

Stalls, a zoology major at Northern Colorado, prepared a paper for an ichthyological journal. The title of his work was: "Apparent Visual Communicative Motor Patterns in Two Captive Bull Sharks."

THE HARD WAY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Linebacker Scott Hilton took a twisted and somewhat bumpy road to the San Francisco 49ers. Hilton played high-school football but did not go to college.

"I worked seven years as a carpenter," Hilton said. "I went to three pro training camps. It hasn't come easy. If I had to do it all over again, I would go to college."

Sonics To Face Strong Test In NBA West

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Seattle SuperSonics have improved significantly since last season, when they won their first National Basketball Association championship.

Yet they are anything but a lock to become the first team in more than a decade to win consecutive NBA titles.

The Sonics will have their hands full repeating in the Pacific Division, by far the NBA's toughest, let alone going all the way. Pacific playmates Phoenix and Los Angeles rate right up with Seattle as legitimate contenders for the NBA title, and San Diego and Portland are both only a couple of players away.

Seattle has last year's title team back intact, and has added three players who should make valuable contributions: center Tom LaGarde, who missed most of last season because of a knee injury, and college standouts James Bailey of Rutgers and Vinnie Johnson of Baylor. The Sonics will need them all if they are to become the league's first repeat champion since the 1968-69 Boston Celtics.

In the Midwest, the Kansas City Kings lost their home —

the roof fell in on Kemper Arena, forcing a move to older, smaller Municipal Auditorium — but are favored to retain their division title, although Denver has the firepower to regain the top spot.

Pacific Division

SEATTLE — The Sonics are loaded. Jack Sikma, Lonnie Shelton, LaGarde, Bailey and veteran Paul Silas share the power positions. John Johnson and Wally Walker are the small forwards. Dennis Johnson and Gus Williams are the best two-way guard tandem in the league, and Fred Brown and Vinnie Johnson are explosive reserves. The coolness of Coach Wilkens and the intensity of the huge Kingdom crowds are other pluses. Minuses? None are apparent.

PHOENIX — A full year from Truck Robinson, who came over from the Jazz in midseason and then suffered an illness late in the year, could be all the Suns need to shine. There are no new faces, with the all-star starting five — Robinson and Walter Davis at forward, Alvan Adams in the middle and Paul Westphal and Don Buse on the back line — again backed up by no-name reserves like Mike Bratz and

Joel Kramer. Veteran Gar Heard was a pleasant surprise last spring, but the Suns need Robinson to play up to his form of 1978, when he led the NBA in rebounding, if they are to go all the way.

LOS ANGELES — They're billing it as the Magic Show, now that rookie Earvin "Magic" Johnson has arrived from NCAA champion Michigan State to team with Norm Nixon in the backcourt. But the keys for the Lakers remain up front. Newcomers Spencer Haywood and Jim Chones should finally provide some rebounding help for center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, while Jamaal Wilkes shifts to his more natural position of small forward. If Johnson's enthusiasm rubs off on Abdul-Jabbar, the Lakers could well make a run at the title.

PORTLAND — The Trail Blazers, who added Kevin Kunnert and Kermit Washington in the Bill Walton compensation award, have as much depth as any team in the league, and it will come in handy because versatile Mychal Thompson is out the first half of the year because of a broken leg. Tom Owens shares the center spot with Kunnert while the presence of Washington may make all-star forward Maurice Lucas expendable. Top draft pick Jimmy Paxson of Duke bolsters a deep backcourt.

SAN DIEGO — The Clippers' fortunes rest on Bill Walton's shaky legs, because no player in the league brings as much out of his teammates as the red-haired center. And Walton will have to be at his best to get anything from San Diego's motley group of forwards — Nick Weatherspoon, Sidney Wicks, Joe Bryant and Jerome Whitehead. The backcourt of Lloyd Free, Brian Taylor and Freeman Williams is solid.

GOLDEN STATE — The Warriors are an ordinary team in an extraordinary division. Robert Parish is a first-rate center and one of the NBA's best-kept secrets. John Lucas and Sonny Parker are other quality players, but the Warriors lack the overall strength or depth to challenge in the potent Pacific.

Midwest Division

KANSAS CITY — The baby backcourt of Phil Ford and Otis Birdsong is a year older, but so is center Sam Lacey. The Kings obtained Mike Green from San Antonio to take the pressure off Lacey until Tom Burleson, who underwent knee surgery, is ready to play in midseason. Rookie Reggie "Mule" King should step in and help as a reserve forward.

DENVER — Donnie Walsh, who did well enough as interim coach late last season to get the job on a permanent basis, decided to stick with the same explosive lineup as last season. David Thompson and George McGinnis are a potent 1-2 punch, but center Dan Issel, at 31, isn't getting any quicker and the team defense is not the best.

MILWAUKEE — The Bucks have added rebounding strength in Pat Cummings and Harvey Catchings and point production in guard Sidney Moncreif, but their future depends on the development of center Kent Benson, who seemed to come around late last year. The preseason hold-out of forward Marques Johnson, the all-around star who didn't report until Monday, didn't help.

CHICAGO — Ricky Sobers, who came from Indiana as compensation for the loss of free agent forward Mickey Johnson, gives Chicago a genuine playmaker and a fine runningmate for Reggie Theus. Rookie forward David Greenwood should help take the pressure off center Artis Gilmore, but small forward is a big problem unless Scott May is over his knee troubles.

UTAH — The transplanted Jazz has plenty of scoring power with Pete Maravich, Adrian Dantley and Bernard King, but center is a weakness — journeyman John Gianelli and converted forward James Hardy.

Tomorrow: the Eastern Conference.

Volleyball Roundup

D.H. Conley 2
SW Edgecombe 0

PINETOPS — D.H. Conley maintained its hold on first place in the Eastern Carolina Conference, defeating Southwest Edgecombe twice yesterday in volleyball.

The Vikings, now 9-1 overall and 7-1 in the league, led Ayden-Grifton by one game. The Chargers are 6-2 in the conference.

Conley won the first match over the Cougars, 15-9, 15-1 behind Lexanne Keeter who had eight points. In the second match, the Cougars won the first, 15-4, before the Vikings came back to take the last two, 15-7 and 15-11.

The Vikings were led by Glenda Greene, who had eight spikes in the last two games, Lexanne Keeter, who had eight total spikes and Tida Garrett with 3.

The Vikings play host to Farmville Central Thursday.

Rocky Mount 0

BETHEL — North Pitt swept a pair of volleyball matches from Rocky Mount yesterday in a non-conference encounter.

The Pant-HERS won the opening match with successive 15-0, 15-7 wins. Connie Dupree led the North Pitt win with 22 points, while Velma Penny led Rocky Mount with four.

In the second match, North Pitt won 15-5 and 15-9. Tammy Purvis led North Pitt with nine, while Starla Singleton had eight. Penny again led Rocky Mount with eight.

North Pitt, now 3-7 overall, travels to Southern Nash on Thursday.

FARMVILLE — Ayden-Grifton defeated Farmville Central twice in volleyball yesterday.

The Chargers, now 6-2 overall and 6-2 in the conference, beat the Jaguars 15-10 and 15-0 in the first match. In the second match, the Chargers won, 13-10 and 15-9.

Ayden-Grifton, which plays host to Greene Central tomorrow, was led by Marie Lewis, who scored 14 points.

Greene Central 2
Southern Nash 0

SNOW HILL — Greene Central swept Southern Nash yesterday in two volleyball matches.

The Rams, behind 12 points by Annette Bright, won the first match, 15-7, 15-12. In the second match, the Rams won, 16-14 and 15-8.

Greene Central is now 8-2 overall and 6-2 in the conference. The Rams travel to Ayden-Grifton Thursday to face the Chargers.

Rose Runners Win

Rose High School's cross-country team added two more wins to its list yesterday, downing Wilson Hunt and Northern Nash.

The Rampants finished the meet with 22 points, while Hunt finished a distant second with 51 and Northern Nash had 54.

Sophomores Harry Williams and Kenny Smith of Rose again finished one-two respectively over the 2.75-mile course. Williams was across the line in 15:56, while Smith followed two seconds later.

Mike Montague of Hunt finished third in 15:59, while Vincent Murphy of Rose was fourth in 16:11. Frank Brown of Northern was next in 16:13, followed by teammate Edward Elwood in 16:29.

Blair Smith led a group of three Rampants across the finish line in 16:33, followed by Ted Gartman in 16:38 and Larry Talbert in 16:48. Craig Lewis of Hunt was tenth in 17:03.

Other Rose runners included Chris Jones, 17th in 17:24; Danny Scharf, 18th in 17:36; Robert Stancil, 20th in 18:02; Skip Hill, 21st in 18:18; John Ormand, 23rd in 18:33; Dan Mayo, 27th in 19:20; and Charles Fadel, 36th in 21:42.

Now 13-2, the Rampants close out the regular season Thursday at Beddingfield.

Dutton To Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys almost drafted John Dutton five years ago, but instead took Ed "Too Tall" Jones.

With Jones now retired and boxing for a living, they traded two precious draft picks Tuesday, hoping to fill the void with the defensive end they now wish they had drafted in the first place.

The Cowboys signed Dutton, who stubbornly refused to play for the Baltimore Colts this season because of a dispute with management, to a multi-year contract for undisclosed terms.

Jones was the first selection in the draft in 1974 and club President Tex Schramm said "We debated at great length whether to take Ed or John Dutton."

"Of course, our philosophy is the draft, but we are not totally against trading for a player who is quality and who is Dutton's age."

"Dutton is 28 and an All-Pro and we are not so hide-bound that we won't do what's proper. The loss of 'Too Tall,' who was on an All-Pro level, threw off our scheduling and our timing or we would not have done it."

The Cowboys surrendered a No. 1 and No. 2 round draft pick in 1980 for the somewhat stunned Dutton, who flew to Dallas for a late Tuesday night press conference.

"I just about gave up all hope of playing this year because I was not going to play for the Colts," said Dutton, who was obtained a mere 20 minutes before the trading deadline. "I didn't think the Cowboys would get me because I thought they had everything."

The 6-foot-7, 266-pound Dutton was an All-Pro in 1976 and three times has been to the Pro Bowl.

South Africa Objectors Swell

By JUDY YABLONKY
Associated Press Writer
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An increasing number of young South African men are refusing to report for the draft, many citing the injustice of the war they're being asked to wage, according to church and student sources.

"I cannot serve in the military, because the military is an arm of the government which perpetuates an unjust, racist society," says Peter Moll, a 23-year-old Baptist.

Moll, who completed his mandatory two-year service some time ago, recently refused to report for a four-day reserve camp on grounds of conscience. He was fined the equivalent of $60 by a military tribunal.

"It was a light sentence because both sides were trying to create as little confrontation as possible," Moll said.

Moll said the conditions in South Africa were similar to those in the United States during the Vietnam War. "I am a selective conscientious objector," he said. "I'm not sure

I'm against all war, but I'm against this one."

He explained "this one" as the fight to put down the "revolution" or black struggle for full rights in white-ruled Southern Africa. "It's happening now in South-West Africa (Namibia) and it may be here (in South Africa) soon."

Under South African law, every white male is liable for two years of military duty. The 65,000-man South African defense force — three-fourths conscriptees — is all white, except for small units of colored, Indian and black volunteer troops. Nearly half of the South African military is on duty in South-West Africa or the border areas.

Church and student sources say more than 10 percent of the estimated 30,000 men called up this year failed to report, and many were "moral no-shows."

They say more and more men are demanding conscientious objector status, while hundreds are leaving, seeking political asylum in the United States, Holland or Britain, rather than joining the military.

But a Defense Department spokesman insists: "There has been no substantial increase" in draft dodging. The majority of the no-shows, he said, are students who forget to apply for exemptions.

He denied there was a moral or religious crisis of conscience over fighting in the military. "Those who refuse to do national service for political reasons are so few we can name them," he said.

The church and university reports come at a time when Prime Minister Pieter W. Botha talks of a "total strategy" to combat threats of a Marxist front takeover or internal black revolution.

But Andrew Smail, law student and coordinating author of the pamphlet on conscientious objector's rights, said: "People now are refusing to serve in the defense forces because they feel this may amount to fighting to preserve apartheid."

"Young Christians are aware that if a black revolution ever comes, they may be fighting against fellow South Africans, fellow Christians — of all colors," he said.

Author Alan Paton recently asked whether this crisis of conscience wasn't already applicable to the fight between South Africa and the SWAPO black guerrillas in Northern Namibia.

In a speech entitled "Is South Africa Worth Fighting For," Paton said: "Can young men go in good conscience to the border to fight against men who almost without exception are black and who believe that they have a duty to liberate this country from its present rulers, and in particular from the oppression of its racial laws?"

The Rev. Rob Robertson, a member of a multichurch committee looking into conscientious objection, says the men leaving the country are causing a "brain drain."

"South Africa cannot afford to lose these educated and skilled young men. There must be an alternative," he said.

But there is no legal alternative. South African law makes no provision for non-military national service.

Certain pacifist religious groups — Jehovah's Witnesses, Seventh Day Adventists and Quakers — are trained without arms and qualify for non-combatant posts within the military.

Failure to serve can result in two years imprisonment and a fine equivalent to $2,400. Draftees who refuse for religious reasons are sentenced to a three-year term in military detention barracks.

Despite increasing pressure from church and university groups, the Defense Department remains opposed to any alternative service.

At least five churches — Roman Catholic, Anglican, Presbyterian, Methodist and United Congregational — have come out in support of their members' rights on religious and on moral grounds not to serve.

Individuals and organizations risk fines up to the equivalent of $6,000 and six years in prison for encouraging someone to refuse military service.

Last weekend, Deputy Defense Minister H.J. Coetsee accused conscientious objectors of "hiding behind theological and political principles in order to refuse service."

Moll drives an ambulance as a member of a voluntary civilian corps that hopes to become a recognized non-military alternative to mandatory national service. But the corps' chances of being accepted as an alternative are slight.

"Such a system as being contemplated will give the opportunity for every coward and those who have no respect for their fatherland not to do national service, while their neighbors' sons will have to look after their joint security and future," Coetsee said.

Party For The Handicapped

"Celebration," a special Halloween party for handicapped children and adults of Greenville and the surrounding area will be held Thursday, Oct. 18, at the Elm Street Recreation Center.

This Halloween carnival will begin at 6:30 p. m., with a dance to follow from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. The event is being sponsored jointly by the Pitt Co. Association for Retarded Citizens and the Greenville Recreation and Parks Department. East Carolina University student members of the Student Council for Exceptional Children and the Circle K Club will assist, along with others in the community.

The party is planned as a special family night for local handicapped individuals, whatever their disability. Brothers, sisters and parents are especially invited.

Transportation will be available. For more information, one may contact Bill Twine, 752-4137, or Dianne Pickett at 758-1683.

$1.3 Million To DNA Research

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A $1.3 million award has been made to University of Michigan medical researchers for a three-year recombinant DNA research project.

The award was made by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development of the National Institutes of Health.

The university says the "research is directed to understanding the genetic basis of birth defects through use of advanced genetic research methods."

Nature's Paintbrush Begins Stroke Western N.C.

By DIANE SECHREST
Asheville Times
ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Mother Nature's paintbrush is beginning to stroke some color into the Western North Carolina landscape as the curtain opens here on the annual fall color show.

Thousands of tourists are expected to jam motels, campgrounds and recreational areas in Western North Carolina during the next several weeks.

More than 2 million persons visited the Blue Ridge Parkway last year during October, and more than 1 million visited the Great Smoky Mountains National Park along the North Carolina-Tennessee border.

The color show has been delayed this year by heavy rains and mild temperatures in late summer and early fall. Moisture allows trees to continue producing chlorophyll, which masks the fall colors in the leaves.

Normally the colors reach their peak around Oct. 15, but forestry officials are estimating now that the peak may be delayed until the last week of this month or even early November.

One year in 10 the color is delayed until November, and this may be one of those years, said Glenn Cardwell, supervisory park technician for the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Trees are still predominantly green in all areas of the park, Cardwell said, although maples and sourwoods are lending splashes of red to the sea of green.

Most of the color in the Smokies is occurring along Clingmans Dome Road and Balsam Mountain Road. But the color is still only a "faint hint of the autumn pagentry," Cardwell said, and he estimated that the color peak is

Trucker Has New Career

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Dave Edwards, who last summer spearheaded an independent truckers' strike that halted trucking nationwide, has sold his rig and turned to carpentry. Meanwhile, a second truckers' strike that Edwards called for last month has died a quiet death.

Edwards, president of the Independent Double-O (Owner-Operators) of America, was one of the leaders of the summer strike that wreaked havoc with perishable crops in several Southeastern states and brought promises from Congress for relief of some of the truckers' grievances.

When Congress and federal agencies were slow in providing relief, Edwards called for another strike to begin Sept. 15.

That strike, however, never gained momentum. And Edwards has joined other independent truckers who say they have been forced to get out of business because of skyrocketing diesel-fuel prices and government regulations on weight, length and shipping rates on trucks.

Edwards could not be reached Tuesday, but his wife confirmed that he has turned to a new occupation.

still at least 10 to 15 days off. The color is better in some areas of the Blue Ridge Parkway, although the rangers report that they expect the color to be at its best in two or three weeks.

The following reports have been issued by rangers on various sections of the parkway:

—Blue Ridge Bluffs area near the North Carolina-Virginia border: 25 percent color with no dominant area. Colors are reported to be "still dull."

—Moses H. Cone Memorial Park area near Blowing Rock: 25 percent to 30 percent color with no dominant area. The predominant color is brown.

—Dillespie Gap area near Linville: 15 percent to 20 percent color with brown and yellow predominant. The color is best near the Grandfather Mountain and Linville Bald areas.

—Swannanoa and lower elevations near Asheville: 25 percent color with red and yellow predominating.

—Balsam region southwest of Asheville: 30 percent color, mostly yellow and orange.

—Graveyard Fields at Mile Post 418: 40 percent color. For those who want to make Asheville the central point of their fall color tour, the best color within close driving range may be found at Mile Post 400 near the 5,749-foot Mount Pisgah according to Blue Ridge Parkway rangers.

Asheville is bracing now for the extended onslaught of visitors. Major motels in the area report that weekends are booked solidly for the next couple of weeks, but rooms are still available for weekends later this month and in early November.

At the Inn on the Plaza in downtown Asheville, manager Charles Taylor reports that the commercial, conventional and tourist segments are doing great. "Our reservations manager told me the calls are coming in so fast we're having trouble fielding them," he said.

The Great Smokies Hilton reports that it is in the midst of a record-breaking month. "We have higher occupancy this month than any other month in any other year," said Randy Kinder, director of sales.

Kinder said the motel is solidly booked on weekends through most of this month, but like representatives of other motels, he said that Sundays and Mondays are ideal times for visitors to plan their fall color tours.

The Hilton is offering special Sunday rates to increasee Sunday registrations. The Sheraton

Motor Inn also report plenty of rooms available on Sundays. October is always a good month for conventions in Asheville, but this month is shaping up to be one of the best. Last year during this month 30 conventions were registered with the Asheville Area Chamber of Commerce. This month that number is 36.

"The convention business is definitely holding its own," said Richard D. Trammell, manager of the chamber's convention and visitors bureau. "It's going to be a good month and carry on into November."

As in past years, the chamber will work with motels to make sure that all visitors to the city during the color season find a place to stay. When all motels within a 50-mile radius are filled, civil preparedness officials will open the Asheville High School gymnasium or the National Guard Armory to house stranded tourists.

However, the chamber will not have to cope with a problem that plagued Western North Carolina in the spring: a shortage of gasoline.

Gasoline supplies are adequate and prices remain below $1 a gallon.

Three-Acre Homestead, Mini-Farm Inside A City

By CHARLES S. TAYLOR
ATLANTA (UPI) — Every day, Erle Foy says he counts his blessings.

He has the best of two worlds — a three-acre homestead where he grows most of his own food, and all the conveniences of big city life.

One of the South's largest shopping centers, Atlanta's Lenox Square, is just half a mile from Foy's sprawling mini-farm.

Foy did not have to move to the country to gain living space. He was there all the time. The city grew up around him. Any day he wants to, he can step out of his garden and walk to stores, theaters or restaurants.

He beats inflation two ways — by growing more food than he needs and by keeping energy costs to a minimum.

He gets his food from about a half-acre of rich, loamy land where he grows vegetables, berries, fruit and nut trees and grapes. Two beehives provide plenty of honey.

"There's no better investment you can make than a seed," says Foy. "They will return more than anything you can have."

As an example, he said he paid 35 cents for 24 cauliflower seeds. He and his wife have been eating cauliflower for months and the plants are still producing. Cauliflower heads sell for $1.49 each at the market, he said.

He invested 75 cents in pole bean seeds and already has picked more than 10 pounds.

Pole beans are 79 cents a pound in the supermarket.

Foy, a native of Eufaula, Ala., started working in 1930, at the beginning of the Great Depression.

"Even then I knew it was a big help to have something growing in your backyard. I had in mind I wanted a place where I could grow something."

After World War II, he found the three acres that once were part of an old cotton farm. At that time the site was six miles from Atlanta.

He bought his homestead in 1947, along with a rambling old farmhouse that he and his wife fixed up. He has lived there ever since, raising two daughters, building a successful brick manufacturing business and finally retiring three years ago at the age of 66.

"I just saw where a man who had that (a place to garden) was better off than a man who didn't have it," Foy said. "I think anybody who has a family ... you're thinking about how you can provide for them."

Four or five tall oak and pecan trees shade the Foy home. He credits the trees with reducing his air-conditioning costs to about 50 cents a day.

"Anything you can do for yourself, or provide for yourself, you are better off," said Foy, showing a visitor through his garden where 37 different types of vegetables were growing. In other areas near the house were blueberry and raspberry bushes, muscadine grape vines, fig and pecan trees.

He rarely has to buy any food except meat and staples. One winter, he said, his broccoli ran out before his new crop came in and he had to buy some. He gardens just about all year, harvesting in the wintertime such vegetables as collards, turnips and carrots.

"A lot of things I grow just for beauty," said Foy, pointing to a row of sunflowers and a beech tree, which he admires more than any other type of tree.

Foy keeps a garden calendar to avoid planting one kind of crop in the same spot in successive years. He doesn't water or irrigate in dry years. A heavy mulch of straw conserves soil moisture.

Birds and rabbits abound on his three acres. Foy lives in harmony with them, covering his berry bushes with nets and even planting things such as sunflowers and millet for them to eat.

Five of his friends have their own garden plots on the three acres, and he is considering taking out a few trees to let in more sun.

That decision may be a painful one, however. He wants to leave as many trees as possible for whoever takes over his land after he is gone.

HOMESTEADER IN THE CITY — Erle Foy has a three-acre homestead where he grows most of his own food, and all the conveniences of big city life. He didn't have to move to the country to gain living space. (UPI Photo)

Former Football Stars Shine On Sports Fan's Office Walls

By TAD BARTIMUS
Associated Press Writer
ELLINWOOD, Kan. (AP) — Stars and second-stringers live enshrined on the walls of Leroy Zahn's office.

They're mementos of past gridiron glory, a tribute to Ellinwood High School football teams, "the most visible thing about this town," Zahn says.

Except for a few gaps from the 1930s, and 1940 and 1947, Zahn has a photograph of every Eagles football team since the game was first played at Ellinwood in 1929.

"I still hear from a lot of those boys," said Zahn, gesturing at the hundreds of solemn faces who have helped compile 269 victories, 149 losses and 31 ties.

"Yesterday two guys who'd played on a team in the 1940s came in to look at the pictures. They just sat and stared a while, reminiscing about the good old days."

"Usually, after about five years, the pictures start to mean a lot to the fellows. They leave school and then get married, have kids, get responsibilities. Maybe things don't go so good for them, they get troubles, times go downhill instead of up. It's nice for them to look up there on the wall and remember."

Ellinwood, population 3,000, has one main thoroughfare, a bank, a couple of cafes, several churches, and a lot of civic pride. It doesn't have a movie theater and there isn't much for kids to do in the summer or after school except play games.

"People here can understand sports better than English or algebra," said Zahn, a tall, gray-haired man who still moves with the grace of the college basketball player he once was.

"If you have fine sports leaders, you'll have a fine school — and a fine town. Being on the team makes kids dress decent and act proper. They know that when they go to an away game, they're representing the town and the school as well as themselves."

Zahn has missed only three Eagles football games since 1945. For the past 32 years he's been official timer for all home games. And he holds equal affection for second stringers as well as stars.

Zahn says it's his duty to help Ellinwood remember the gridiron glory of its scattered sons. It's also his way of saying thanks to the people who've been good neighbors and friends since he married the local grocer's daughter and moved to the central Kansas community in 1945.

SUPER FAN—The athletic history of Ellinwood, Kan., High School surrounds Leroy Zahn, whose insurance office walls are covered with photos of the school's athletic teams dating back a half century. He says he still hears often from the men who are in the photos from decades past.

TV Censorship Moving Into Confusing New Area

By PETER J. BOYER
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television censorship, always an imprecise craft, is stumbling into a confounding new territory, where rules are fluid and limits change from network to network, program to program. For example: Last spring, CBS deleted some presidential blasphemy from its Watergate movie, "Blind Ambition," even though the language was lifted directly from the White House tapes. Most viewers, according to CBS' reckoning, would be offended by Nixon's use of "Jesus Christ" in vain. A few months later, ABC ran the hit movie "Annie Hall" in full version. The movie attracted a large audience and virtually no public complaints about its strong language. The audience that CBS feared would protest against a residential "Jesus Christ" as an expletive, was apparently unmoved when that particular blasphemy is uttered by a Jewish comic from Brooklyn.

CBS bleeped Nixon, but it feels comfortable with a movie based on Pete Hamill's book, "Flesh and Blood," one of the central themes of which is the protagonist's incestuous relationship with his mother. While the CBS movie (airing Oct. 14 and Oct. 16) only implies the actual act of incest, there is much fondling and caressing between mother and son throughout the movie. The implication will be lost on no one, especially one Rev. Donald Wildmon of Tupelo, Miss.

Wildmon's National Federation for Decency has been fighting CBS over "Flesh and Blood" ever since the group learned that the movie was being made last spring.

Indeed, Donn O'Brien, vice-president of program practices (the censor) at CBS, says, "it has generated an awful lot of mail."

"We have a long record of doing quality television and we do not intend to put on a salacious, bad-taste movie."

Anyway, the moral imperatives of network television aside, there is the movie itself. Hamill's hot-blooded story of a street fighter's struggle with himself and a combative environment has been made into a very nearly flawless film.

That "Flesh and Blood" is airing on network TV underscores the changing mood in network cutting rooms, "progress" some might call it.

Two factors may be behind the broadening of network television's limits: Pay television has broken the shroud of innocence that has kept strong language and sexual themes off TV for three decades.

And networks may be inclined to pay more attention to viewers who are defecting to uncensored pay TV than to the protests of groups such as Rev. Wildmon's.

That may be why "Flesh and Blood," after all the noise, will air as planned.

NBC-TV Is Cheered By Nielsen Report Card

By TOM JORY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — NBC is not about to declare the 1979-80 prime-time season a success — yet. But after winning the ratings competition in two of the first three weeks, last year's No. 3 network has cause for optimism.

"We're not going to make any preposterous claims, three weeks into the season," NBC's president for entertainment, Mike Weinblatt, said Tuesday. "But I said some time ago that we would all be closer this season, that we were going to surprise a lot of people."

NBC's quick start did, indeed, catch the competition flat-footed. Both ABC, expected by many in the industry to run away from the field as it did last season, and CBS, have already announced some schedule-shuffling.

And, in light of the most recent ratings report from the A.C. Nielsen Co. — NBC in first place for the week ending Oct. 7 by nearly half a point over ABC — more program changes appear likely.

In the report, NBC had a rating of 19.4, which the networks say means that 19.4 percent of the homes in the country were tuned to NBC in an average prime-time minute during the week. ABC finished second at 18.9 and CBS third at 17.7.

NBC president Fred Silverman, who left ABC in June after helping ABC establish itself as the industry leader, has set Christmas 1980 as the target date for NBC to become the No. 1-rated network.

Though NBC has been helped in the ratings by some outstanding films, a prime-time special starring "Tonight" show host Johnny Carson, and the big league baseball playoffs, Weinblatt said the success of the network's regular series is what pleases him most.

NBC, for the most recent week checked, had the Carson special and two series, "Little House on the Prairie" and "CHiPs," in the week's Top 20. Perhaps more significantly, the network listed only one show — "Prime Time Sunday" — in the bottom 10.

CBS had the top rated show, "Alice." The rating was 28.5. Nielsen says that means of all the homes in the country with television, 28.5 percent saw at least part of the program.

Here are the week's top-rated programs: "Alice," with a rating of 28.5 representing 21.7 million homes, CBS; "Eight is Enough," 27.9 or 21.3 million, ABC; "Johnny Carson's 17th Anniversary Show," 27.7 or 21.1 million, NBC; "The Jeffersons," 26.8 or 20.4 million, CBS; "Three's Company," 25.6 or 19.5 million, and "Charlie's Angels," 25.5 or 19.4 million, both ABC; "60 Minutes," 25.4 or 19.3 million, and "One Day at a Time," 24.8 or 18.9 million, both CBS; "Little House on the Prairie," 24.1 or 18.4 million, NBC, and "Trapper John, M.D.," CBS, and "Barney Miller," ABC, both 23 or 7.5 million.

The next 10 shows: Movie—"Portrait of a Stripper," CBS; "CHiPs," NBC, and "Happy Days," ABC, tie; "Angie" and "Soap," both ABC; "Archie Bunker's Place," CBS; "Love Boat" and "Benson," both ABC, and "M-A-S-H," CBS, and "Mork and Mindy," ABC, tie.

SCOLDS PARENTS — Captain Kangaroo, honored for setting the standard of excellence in television programs for children, Tuesday scolded parents who use television as a "babysitter" and fail to monitor their children's viewing habits. Bob Keeshan, who plays "Kangaroo," spoke during a presentation of New York City's certificate of appreciation by Mayor Edward Koch. (AP Laserphoto)

Are you a religious humanist? Unitarian Universalism, a humanistic religion, is built on personal human values rather than orthodox theologies. You won't find dogmas or revelations, or answers for salvation. You will find a diverse and highly individualistic group of people joined together in a fellowship where differences in belief are welcomed. Indeed, a willingness to disagree is part of our unifying bond.

In our search for religious values in daily living, we believe in exploring all the world's wisdom. No final authority. No traditions that are beyond question. We encourage being religious by being true to one's self. For our children, we seek a faith without fear and a church experience that will expand their perceptions.

In a world of rapid change, we seek to enrich our lives, to find relevancy, and to help our fellow humans. Unitarian Universalism is an invitation to grow.

The public is cordially invited to hear Rev. Vernon Chandler of the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship present a program "Building Your Own Theology" Sunday Evening, October 14, 8:30-9:00 at Planters National Bank in Greenville.

The bidding:

Pass Pass 1 ♦ Dble.
Pass 1 ♣ Pass 4 ♣
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♣.

From an incident in the days of yore, we have been warned to beware of Greeks bearing gifts. Our opponents at the table often play the role of Greeks, but if this hand is any gauge, the only thing we seem to learn from history is that we don't learn from history.

South had about the worst hand he could possibly have for his bid, so he wasn't very pleased to hear his partner jump to game after he responded with one spade to the takeout double. Once he saw dummy, however, he had to admit that he would have done the same thing.

West led the ace of diamonds against four spades, then cashed the ace of clubs before reverting to a diamond. Declarer won the king in dummy, then took his first shot for the contract by cashing the ace and king of trumps in an attempt to drop the queen.

When that did not come to pass, declarer decided to try to convince the defenders that he was preparing for an end play. He cashed the king of clubs before exiting with trump. East was Jean Papo of Daly City, Calif. She was not enthused with her prospects. It was obvious that if she forced dummy to ruff, declarer would have no entry to his hand. Therefore, he would have to cash the ace and king of hearts, and she could see that that would have most gratifying results for the opposition.

Declarer could not be left to his own resources—he needed some help! So East craftily underled the jack of clubs. Much to his surprise, declarer found that he was in his hand with the ten of clubs!

He could not wait to take advantage of this great stroke of "luck" to try the heart finesse. Thus, East won her queen of hearts for a one-trick set and a very good result.

Instead of being overcome with this stroke of good fortune in winning the club in his hand, declarer should have asked himself why the opponents were so generous. The only explanation could be that someone wanted him to have the opportunity of taking the heart finesse. If he believed that the opponents were not trying to help him make the contract, he would have spurned the finesse in favor of trying to drop the queen of hearts.

AFRICAN ART
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Museum of African Art recently became a bureau of the Smithsonian Institution. S. Dillon Ripley, Smithsonian secretary, said, "The museum is unique. It is the only museum in the United States dedicated exclusively to portraying the rich cultural heritage of Africa."

How Tar Heel Representatives, Senators Voted

HOUSE
EDUCATION DEPT. — The House passed, 215 for and 201 against, and sent to the President the conference report on the bill (S 210) creating a cabinet-level Department of Education. With some 18,000 employees and an annual budget of $14 billion, the department will manage the 159 education programs now handled by the U.S. Office of Education and a host of other agencies.

Rep. Frank Horton, R-N.Y., a supporter, said the department will bring about "less red tape and better service to localities, educational institutions and students" and will provide a "highly visible" Secretary of Education who can be held responsible for the federal education effort.

Rep. William Morehead, D-Pa., an opponent, said Congress should not trade the nation's "rich variety of education policies" for "the bland pablum or the danger of mind control that could come with a single national education policy."

Members voting "yea" wanted a U.S. Department of Education.

Reps. Walter Jones, D-1, Charles Whitley, D-3, Ike Andrews, D-4, Stephen Neal, D-5, Richardson Preyer, D-6, W.G. Hefner, D-8 and Lamar Gudger, D-11, voted "yea."

Reps. L.H. Fountain, D-2, James Martin, R-9, and James Broyhill, R-10, voted "nay."

Rep. Charles Rose, D-7, did not vote.

ARMY HOSPITALS — By a vote of 217 for and 147 against, the House adopted an amendment restoring $10 million that had been cut from the fiscal 1980 budget for Army hospitals. The money was added to the defense appropriations bill (HR 5359) later passed and sent to conference with the Senate.

The Appropriations Committee recommended the cut to prompt the Army to close some marginal hospitals and move more doctors to hospitals on active-duty bases. Those wanting to restore the funds said the cut would ruin the Army's doctor training program and worsen the military's shortage of physicians.

Reps. Richard White, D-Tex., sponsor of the amendment, said the budget cut would diminish "the standard of medical care of the Army and the ability of the Army to respond to emergency action or war."

Rep. Joseph Addabbo, D-N.Y., an opponent argued: "It is very hard to justify Army hospitals where you are only serving 18 percent active-duty troops and everybody else is retired, or dependents...."

Member voting "yea" favored restoring the $10 million.

Jones, Fountain, Whitley, Andrews, Neal, Martin, Broyhill, and Gudger voted "yea."

Preyer and Hefner voted "nay."

Rose did not vote.
DEFENSE CONTRACTS — The House defeated, 174 for and 187 against, a proposals to channel more Defense Department supply contracts to areas with high unemployment. The amendment, offered to a defense appropriations bill (see previous vote), would have restricted bidding on $15 billion to $20 billion worth of non-weapons contracts annually to firms in areas with jobless rates of 7.9 percent or higher.

Rep. James Oberstar, D-Minn., a supporter, said: "We ought to aim this big economic gun of the military into those areas of this country where it is going to do the most good and provide jobs."

Rep. Kenneth Robinson, R-Va., an opponent, said the amendment would "assure we are going to get less defense for the dollars because we are going to eliminate competition from the contract awarding process."

Members voting "yea" favored using defense contracting to help high employment areas.

Jones, Whitley, Andrews, Neal, Preyer, Hefner, Martin, Broyhill and Gudger voted "nay."

SENATE
PUMPS & MOTORS — The Senate passed, 43 for and 39 against, a bill (S 1398) giving the Secretary of Energy authority to require manufacturers of industrial pumps and motors to make their products less wasteful of energy. The authority would be on a standby basis, to be invoked only if the manufacturers did not make sufficient progress on their own toward energy efficiency. The bill was sent to the House.

Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, a supporter, said: "By improving the efficiency of motors only five percent, savings of 150,000 barrels of oil equivalent per day (nationwide) can be generated."

Sen. Rudy Boschwitz, R-Minn., an opponent, said it made no sense "to burden the...manufacturers with new regulations and new acts when these manufacturers are moving...very rapidly in the direction of energy conservation."

Senators voting "yea" favored the bill.

Sens. Robert Morgan, D, and Jesse Helms, R, voted "nay."
'LIVABLE CITIES' — The Senate voted, 35 yea and 30 nay, to appropriate $3 million for a new Department of Housing and Urban Department (HUD) venture called the Livable Cities Program. The voted came during debate on a HUD money bill (HR 4394) for fiscal 1980. The House is opposed to the $3 million expenditure.

The idea of Livable Cities is to use the arts and historical preservation as catalysts in reviving neighborhoods. Federal grants would go directly to non-profit community organizations for artistic, cultural and historic projects.

Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., a supporter, said the program "gets local residents to pull together and work toward making their neighborhoods a healthy place to live and work."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-

Wisc., an opponent, said: "This is not the kind of activity we should support in a year of fiscal austerity, at a time when inflation is at 13.4 percent and rising."

Senators voting "yea" wanted to fund the Livable Cities program.

Helms voted "nay."
Morgan did not vote.

ENERGY FAST TRACK — By a vote of 58 for and 39 against, the Senate killed an amendment reducing the powers of an Energy Mobilization Board proposed by President Carter to speed up governmental approval of important energy projects.

The amendment, offered to a bill (S 1308) headed for final passage and consideration in the House, would have removed the Board's authority to override federal, state or local agencies on certain energy decisions. It also would have denied the Board authority to waive certain state and local regulations.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., a supporter of killing the amendment, said it would have made the energy board a "paper tiger."

Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del.,

who favored the amendment, said it would balance the rights of state and local governments with the need for action on energy projects.

Senators voting "yea" favored killing the amendment. Morgan voted "yea." Helms voted "nay."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

THE GREENVILLE CITY COUNCIL WILL CONDUCT THREE PUBLIC HEARINGS, CONCERNING THE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM SPONSORED BY THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT. THE FIRST HEARING WILL BE HELD ON THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1979 TO REVIEW THE PERFORMANCE OF THE CITY'S COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT HOLD-HARMLESS PROGRAM. THE SECOND HEARING WILL BE HELD NOVEMBER 8, 1979 AND THE THIRD HEARING WILL BE HELD ON DECEMBER 11, 1979. THE PURPOSE OF THE LAST TWO HEARINGS IS TO HEAR CITIZEN COMMENTS CONCERNING THE SMALL CITIES DISCRETIONARY PROGRAM WHICH IS A PART OF THE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM. UNDER THIS PROGRAM THE CITY COULD RECEIVE UP TO THREE MILLION DOLLARS OVER A THREE-YEAR PERIOD. THE CITY COUNCIL INVITES YOU TO LEARN MORE ABOUT THE BLOCK GRANT PROGRAMS AND TO GIVE YOUR COMMENTS CONCERNING THE PREAPPLICATION FOR THE PROGRAM. ALL HEARINGS ARE OPEN TO ALL GREENVILLE RESIDENTS AND EACH WILL BE HELD IN THE CITY COUNCIL CHAMBERS ON THE THIRD FLOOR OF CITY HALL AT THE CORNER OF WASHINGTON AND FIFTH STREETS AT 8:00 P.M.

CITY OF GREENVILLE
PERCY R. COX, MAYOR

Hotel Features Atrium Court

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — An energy-saving, five-story atrium court is a feature of a $50 million hotel under construction in Kansas City.

The roof over the court in the Hyatt Regency Hotel, which is scheduled for completion in June 1980, will have an inverted roofing membrane assembly which its designer said offers greater temperature control and thereby conserves more energy than conventional roofs.

Firstborn Is A Cannibal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sand tiger sharks are cannibals even before they are born, according to National Geographic magazine.

The shark eggs hatch within the female shark's uterus, where the young remain until sufficient developed to enter the ocean. The first baby hatched feeds on its weaker brothers and sisters as they emerge from other eggs.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, OCT. 11, 1979

YOUR DAILY Horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day to study your surroundings and to make plans for improvement. Investigate whatever projects or undertakings that have been puzzling to you in the past.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Converse with those at home and come to a better understanding quickly. Fine day for entertaining good friends.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are now able to commercialize on good ideas and gain the cooperation of others. Planets are favorable for progress.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't neglect financial matters today and be sure you are accurate. Avoid one who is critical and jealous of you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to be more friendly with others instead of being distant. Find a better way of pleasing the one you love.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Improve a plan you have so that you can have greater happiness and success in the future. Use extreme care in motion today.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be sure of your aims before you go after them and then you can gain them. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try to economize more so you won't be caught in a financial pinch in the future. Steer clear of a group meeting today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Ideas you have for advancement are good, so follow through and get excellent results. Maintain a cheerful manner.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Good day to come to better terms with debtors and creditors. You can find true happiness now with the one you love.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Engage in civic work and gain added prestige. Be on your best behavior and show understanding where needed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be more enthused about work that can bring you fine benefits. Avoid one who is hypocritical and working against you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Change your attitude and come to a better understanding with associates. Don't let an outsider take unfair advantage of you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young persons who quickly understands anything of a fundamental nature, so plan for a fine education and can lead to success. Be sure to give ethical training early in life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

New from Lorillard!

Try surprisingly satisfying Triumph!

Even the draw is a surprise.

The smoke comes through abundantly, the taste reaches you smoothly, pack after pack.

Satisfying taste—because our Lorillard scientists found a way to unlock the flavor of fine tobaccos, while limiting tar to a mere 3 mg.

How was Triumph developed?

Our scientists took everything they had ever learned about cigarettes—and pushed that technology further than it had ever been pushed before. Combining two types of filter fiber. Using lower-leaf tobaccos. Placing tiny "vents" in the rim of the filter. In short, everything that could be found to intensify flavor at only 3 mg. tar, was used in Triumph.

You'll stay with Triumph.

Try a pack of Triumph and discover a taste that's good enough to stay with. So satisfying, we believe you'll never want to go back to your old cigarette.

Corporate Aid in Moves Helps Productivity

NEW YORK (AP) — Employee productivity is restored sooner after a transfer if the corporation assists the transferee and his family throughout the relocation process, according to a survey of relocation management professionals who attended a series of seminars sponsored by Merrill Lynch Relocation Management, Inc.

About 70 percent of the 250 respondents said corporate-assisted moves resulted in increased employee productivity at the new job. If a company pays more attention to the needs of the employee and his family, they said, the employee can devote more time to his job, rather than worrying about the details of the move.

The respondents, who represented more than 200 major U.S. corporations, indicated that companies can best help their employees by providing orientation or counseling; family follow-up; additional benefits incentives; and homefinding assistance in the new location.

Highways Lose in Amtrak Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The recent cut in Amtrak rail service will mean additional punishment for the nation's highways, according to the Road Information Program.

The group claims that 700,000 miles of paved roads in the country already are deficient and more will be added as the 16 percent cut in rail services leads to more intercity travel by car and bus.

Central Park Said Safe Today

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Senior Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — It's only 840 acres of greenery and water in the center of the nation's largest city. It is small, probably, compared with the acres of grass, lakes, hills and meadows providing refuge and recreation in your town.

What else is it? It's Central Park of course, famed in music and known throughout the world to visitors. To some, the park is infamous — a danger area where the criminal element makes any park user a potential police department statistic.

Some one robbed John F. Kennedy Jr. of his bicycle there. The Olympic skater Dick Button was the victim of a savage clubbing with a baseball bat.

Such incidents make the headlines and help add to the fear of using the oasis from city living.

But there's been a lot of action recently to revamp the park.

Everyone connected officially with Central Park says several factors have turned the area around. There are beefed-up patrols of maintenance staff, a federal program offering extra help, police and volunteer groups patrolling, and the special events, plus the walkers, joggers, runners, bicyclists and now roller skaters — all of which bring more people into the park.

"Central Park is safe," said Eloise Hirsh, who at 33, is First Deputy Commissioner of Management and the Budget for the New York parks system and the first woman in the job. Mayor Koch appointed her to the $36,500 a year job in March, 1978.

"The people have taken the park back," said Miss Hirsh at her office in the park armory. "More people using the park help make it safe. We are going to keep it that way. Serious crime is down about one third."

"There's a lot more fear of crime in the park than actual crime," said Gordon J. Davis, the city's Parks and Recreation Commissioner.

"A paranoia built up," said Elizabeth Barlow, Central Park Administrator. "I personally feel safe. Yes, go ahead and resume your walking, jogging around the reservoir. It's okay." The reservoir, part of New York City's water supply system, is north of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and closer to Harlem than the park's south area where more tourists abound.

For years its cinder path in a vernal setting has been a favorite with walkers, joggers and runners. Jacqueline Onassis uses it for jogging. I used to walk its 1.58 miles track until that "paranoia" caught up with me.

"The park's crime rate is down tremendously from a few years ago," said Capt. Gerald McLoughlin, commanding officer for the Central Park precinct. "The high point was in 1976-77. We have the lowest crime rate now of any precinct in all New York."

The precinct averages 150 men during the April-October peak use period. It loses about 45 men in winter.

Complete statistics on crime in the park are hard to come by. The latest figure the police department has is for January-February this year. It shows 1 murder, 2 rapes, 17 robberies, 1 felonious assault, 1 burglary, and 14 grand larcenies (such as bike theft). In January-February 1978, police recorded no murders, no rapes, 22 robberies, 2 felonious assaults, 4 burglaries and 4 grand larcenies.

Crime is just one disturbing factor for regulars of the park, which opened 120 years ago.

"Central Park is Monte Carlo for the Masses with Disco Blare", ran a headline in Variety, the show business trade publication. After one Sunday festival, Puerto Rico Day, Variety reported that Frederick Law Olmstead, the park's designer, "never dreamed that this expanse of greenery would become the poor man's Las Vegas, nor a place where one could buy hard liquor or beer or pick up marijuana cigarettes at $1 a joint."

"Three-card monte dealers, operators of birdcage games played from a tin can, crap shooters and even a wheel of chance are regularly on hand on various walks in the park — together with hundreds of the largest portable radios on the market playing disco music, the din at times reached frightening heights."

"Another new wrinkle was the dispensing of hard liquor. Some entrepreneurs displayed bottles, mainly rum, although scotch and gin were also on hand. They sold at $1 a shot in paper cups with no chasers..."

"All this is in violation of existing laws... the police are well aware of the situation which goes on every weekend but are seemingly powerless to stop it..."

"Last year in Central Park the same walks that now predominate with illegal games used to have string and woodwind ensembles playing for contributions from passers-by. Today these musicians do not stand a chance and couldn't possibly be heard."

The blare of radio disco is something the park officials hope will go away; there is nothing illegal about a radio in the park. An annoyed park goer can ask that the radio be turned down.

sioner of Management and Budget for the New York parks system. "Central Park is safe", she said. (UPI Photo) fad," said Miss Hirsh. "Personally I'm waiting for it to pass."

"The Park is not like that all the time," said Miss Barlow, referring to Variety's chastisement. "When we have festivals, this is part of the scene. We've realigned our maintenance squad so we can have better patrolling."

"But you must remember, the park is only a reflection of society on the outside."

Various parts of Central Park have been rehabilitated or are scheduled to be. The 12-acre Sheep Meadow used for major events from concerts to soccer, will be closed for the winter for a $500,000 reconditioning and replanting. It's once green area has become a "dust bowl" from overuse, Miss Barlow said.

One folk concert this summer drew a record crowd of 200,000. Regular performances of the New York Philharmonic and the Metropolitan Opera (they play Central and parks in other New York boroughs) draw 70,000 and up.

"We don't intend to shut people off," said Miss Barlow. "But we must preserve the park. I doubt if we will be able to schedule so many big events. Part of the preservation program is through education... we're already passing along leaflets to the school system."

The zoo, with some private donations, also has added a separate treatment facility. Many of the inhabitants may be moved, however. Talks are underway between to move the larger animals to the Bronx

Zoo where they would have more room.

Central Park is America's first major urban park and a model for other parks in the country. Land for the park was set aside in 1856. A design competition the following year produced the greensward plan of Frederick Law Olmsted and Calvert Vaux. The park was opened to the public in 1859 and was an immediate hit. Today, it draws an estimated 12 to 15 million per year. Olmsted went on to design several other famous parks in major U.S. and Canadian cities.

Central Park has inspired many a song writer. In the mid-1940s Sigmund Romberg and Dorothy Fields wrote "Up in Central Park", a musical which had a good run on Broadway. Harold Rome's song from "Pins and Needles" titled "Sunday in the Park", used Central Park as its theme, reported ASCAP. So did "On a Sunday Afternoon" by Andrew B. Sterling and Harry von Tilzer.

The park System's first woman deputy commissioner was born in St. Louis and is a political science graduate of Sarah Lawrence College. Miss Hirsh also studied at the Sorbonne in Paris. She has served in various positions in city government since 1968 and in her present post oversees 572 parks and 24,000 acres, including Prospect Park in Brooklyn, near which she and her husband live.

Busy Coach Is An Active Volunteer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Not only is Ed Martin, head basketball coach at Tennessee State University, one of college basketball's most successful leaders, but he is also one of Nashville's most active volunteers.

His career is studded with accomplishments. Two years ago, he earned a place in the Fabulous "400" Circle, putting him among the top 10 "winningest" coaches in the country. His team, the Tigers, has won 428 games.

In 1972, he was voted the College Basketball Coach of the Year. He has coached 11 All-Americans and 12 National Basketball Association performers.

Martin's record of volunteer work is equally impressive. After serving four years on an agency budget panel for the Nashville United Way, he is now a member of the allocation committee and vice chairman of the board of trustees.

His involvement with this and other causes dates back to when he was a child, growing up in Allentown, Pa. "I was practically raised in a Boys' Club," he said. The club is a United Way-supported agency.

Between semesters at the North Carolina Agricultural and Technical University, he returned home to run the club's programs while the directors were away at summer camps.

"It was a chance for me to help other kids in the neighborhood," says Martin, who majored in physical education and minored in social work. He also played for his college basketball team.

"I never really expected to coach," he explains. "I originally planned to go into social service. I still lean in that direction."

He found he could combine the two disciplines while working on his master's degree in recreation at Temple University in Philadelphia.

"We taught youngsters how to play basketball and other team sports," he recalls. "We also conducted swimming classes for adults. I got carried away and started working there every free minute."

Martin says his work with handicapped and other disadvantaged people helped him grow as a person.

"I participated in the cerebral palsy program to teach these people how to play sports. Instead," he adds, "they gave me a lesson. The guts of these kids and adults makes you realize how fortunate you are and how much you have to give others."

Martin started coaching basketball at a high school in South Carolina. He joined South Carolina State College in 1955 and 13 years later came to Nashville. In between the practice sessions, tryouts and games, he has found time to reach out not only to his team and their families but to troubled, poor youth looking for direction.

"A coach is, more times than not, a guidance counselor," he says. "We have to deal with personalities, with all types of emotion and always, with success and failure."

"There are some kids I think I can reach better than others, using athletics as a focal point," says Martin, who serves on the city's Metro Recreation Board, which runs programs for underprivileged youth.

A few years ago when he was involved in basketball clinics for youngsters living in housing projects, he encouraged a boy who had just dropped out of school to go back. The youth has since graduated with top honors from TSU and is now an accountant.

"It's nice to know that maybe once you really touched someone's life," Martin says.

The 53-year-old father of two says his family supports him in his long hours of volunteer work.

"They know I'm a people-person at heart," he says. "If ever I retire from coaching, I'd like to go into some type of social work, preferably with youngsters."

"There's a lot of troubled kids out there. They need guidance, counseling and direction. And that takes compassion. It seems there is never enough of that to go around."

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The runaway 1x10ci well in the southern Gulf of Mexico has spewed out 103 million gallons of crude oil since it blew out June 3, a top official of the government oil company says.

Inflation Fighter!

With Greenville's lowest meat prices plus everyday low prices on hundreds of food items "WE ARE THE INFLATION FIGHTER." We are now buying from one of the largest food wholesalers on the eastern seaboard, meaning that we buy merchandise at the same cost that the larger chains do. We don't need a warehouse, unnecessary handling of merchandise can only add to the cost of your food bill. We have no stamps, no games, or gimmicks, we take the money we would have spent on these items and put it back in your pocket by way of super low prices. Check us out...THERE IS A DIFFERENCE.

Kroger Sav-on garden

It's Easy Pickin' In The

Shop with your eyes . . . and get more for your food dollar! At Kroger, you'll find many informational aids, planned to help you shop and save. In the produce department, you'll find "buy and care" information printed on plastic bags, as well as signs on unusual produce, such as Oriental vegetables, and a helpful attendant who can answer your produce questions. In the Kroger garden, you select just what you want, one tomato or twenty, one peach or a bushel. Whatever you choose, you can count on quality . . . because we guarantee total satisfaction. Kroger gardeners will be happy to help you with your selection. Use the shopping information in your Kroger supermarket . . . and save!
