Security Council Steps Are Already Rejected

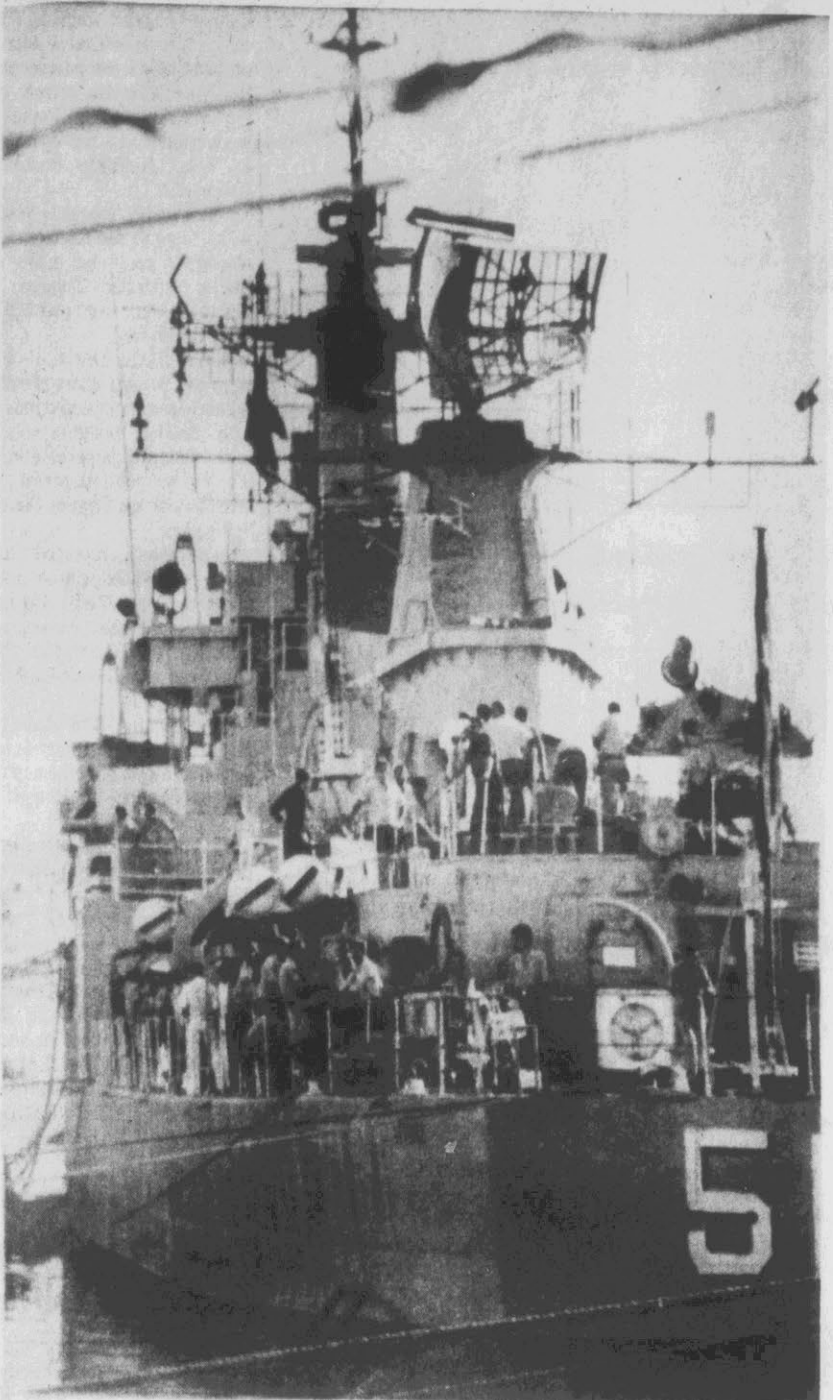

By JOHN BAUSMAN
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Diplomats readied for a U.N. Security Council debate this afternoon on the U.S.-Iranian crisis, but Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini rejected any Council decision beforehand as "dictated" by the United States.

Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim had raised the possibility the Iranians might free their 49 American hostages in exchange for an international inquiry into their charges against the shah.

But Khomeini, in a statement broadcast today by state-run Iranian radio, said an investigation of the shah must be conducted inside Iran. He also said the hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran must be investigated as "spies," but he did not make clear whether he had decided to go ahead with such a trial.

The Iranian leader again denounced what he said was U.S. pressure to have the Council deal only with the hostage holding, and not with Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's alleged wrongdoings.

The students holding the Tehran embassy said today they had rigged mines throughout the compound, apparently fearful of a U.S. military attack. The Iranian armed forces stepped in air, ground and sea activities.

Overall Consumer Prices Climb Another 1 Percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline and fuel oil price increases slowed substantially in October, but overall consumer prices still climbed 1 percent over the previous month, the government reported today.

The advance in the cost of living last month was led by a sharp jump in housing costs, including higher mortgage interest rates, home prices and rents, according to the Labor Department.

Food prices, which had been level through the summer, rose 0.7 percent in October, just under the 0.9 percent increase of September.

The October increase marked the 10th consecutive month in which the Consumer Price Index has risen about 1 percent.

Patrick Jackman, a Labor Department economist, termed it "the same abysmal level we've had, more or less, since the start of the year."

He cautioned that although energy price increases have slowed down, "I wouldn't forecast that this would be the situation in the coming months. ... I don't think anyone expects stability in those prices in the next year or so."

In a related report, the department said retail gasoline prices averaged slightly more than $1 per gallon in October. "This price reflected a small monthly change of only 0.8 cents compared to the August and September increases of 3.7 cents and 3.1 cents, respectively," the report said.

Fuel oil prices averaged 85.6 cents a gallon last month, up 0.8 cents from September, for the smallest monthly increase in fuel oil prices this year.

Inflation also is taking its toll on workers' income, the department said. Average weekly earnings, adjusted for inflation, declined 1.1 percent in October and were 5.2 percent lower than in October 1978.

Jackman said that if price increases continue in the next two months at the same rate they did the first 10 months this year, the nation will end the year with a 13.1 percent inflation rate, the worst since price controls were removed after World War II.

Some Home-Heating Aid For N.C. Poor Assured

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A $1.35 billion federal aid package being signed into law today may provide additional money to help poor North Carolinians heat their homes this winter, state economic opportunity officials say.

But officials of the state economic opportunity division who are handling the winter heating aid program say they have received no official word on what North Carolina's share — if any — will be in the new package.

In Washington, federal officials said cold weather states, such as in New England, will generally get a larger share of the money from the Low Income Energy Assistance Program being signed by President Carter.

But Bob Spencer, spokesman for the state economic opportunity division, said his office is hoping money will be added to the $4.9 million already earmarked for winter energy aid in North Carolina.

"Right now I have no idea," Spencer said today. "We certainly hope it would increase. There's a gut feeling we might get additional funds."

Spencer said $4.9 million provided to North Carolina from earlier appropriations will fall far short of providing money to heat the homes of all who qualify in North Carolina.

There are 780,000 persons in North Carolina who live under the poverty level, according to recent state figures, Spencer said.

Without additional federal aid, the state will be able to provide money for heating this winter only to about 12,000 to 14,000 homes, he said.

"What we are concerned about and certainly are crossing our fingers about is that other agencies and civic organizations will pitch in and help some of these clients by donating wood or oil and contributing money for heating oil," Spencer said.

Farmville Bd. To Plan 'Citizen Participation'

FARMVILLE — Farmville Commissioners, during a call meeting last night, agreed to draft a citizen participation plan and a preliminary housing assistance plan to accompany the town's application for a Comprehensive Community Development Block Grant.

Action was tabled on a "New Horizon Memorandum of Understanding" concerning official town encouragement of fair housing activity over and beyond what is required by the Federal Fair Housing Law, Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 and Section 109 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

The Board confirmed a reassessment roll on Crestwood Drive-Action Place street improvement. One adjustment was made — adding some 8.7 feet to the frontage of Bynum's Chapel Primitive Baptist Church's lot. It was asked that the deeds involved be looked at to determine whether 10 feet should be shifted from Davis Enterprise property to that of Laura King Willoughby.

A bid of $5,262.70, plus tax, was accepted from Messer Chevrolet here for the purchase of a Chevrolet LUV pickup truck for the utilities department.

Following discussion about how best to make land available to police department members for a pistol range, the board agreed to put up for public auction five or six acres of land at the site of the old landfill. A written resolution will be considered at the Dec. 4 meeting.

John S. Barker III was retained as the principal librarian for the town's public library.

It was agreed that Farmville should do all that is possible to have as much input as possible during the design of the new Highway 264 freeway and eastern loop near here now going on. Matters cited as needing attention are the following: maintaining access to the town's refuse transfer station by taking U. S. 264 over the top at its intersection with N. C. 121; obtaining a grade separation at the intersection of the Eastern Loop and the Southern Railroad east of town for improved school traffic safety; and obtaining the best possible design and maximum construction of the Eastern Loop. On the last item, it was indicated that DOT appears to be backing away from consideration of a divided parkway design and learning toward a less expensive design with narrower rights of way and no median.

TALK COURT ACTION
WASHINGTON (AP) — The major TV networks are threatening to go to court unless the Federal Communications Commission reconsiders its ruling on their refusal to sell December air time to the president.

Hotline gets things done for you. Call 752-1336 and tell your problem or your sound-off or mail it to Hotline, The Daily Reflector, Box 1967, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

HOTLINE APPEAL

HOUSE NEEDED
St. Paul's Episcopal Church has asked Hotline to appeal for a place to live for a family which includes three adults, one teenager and two children.

A place in the country where the family can keep hogs would be desirable, a spokesman for the church said. The adults have employment and can pay modest rent. Anyone who can help is asked to call the church secretary, 752-3482 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. or 756-6695 after 6 p. m.

HOTLINE FEEDBACK

GOOD POLICY
I'm responding to the Monday, Nov. 19 item about the county's sending out "final notices" about taxes due. I think it's a good idea that the county does send out these notices so they can get the money early and invest it to make more money to turn back into the county. The cost of the postage is inconsequential as long as it gets the money into the county coffers. N. B.

Ground Broken For Greenville Bank

NEW PEOPLES BANK OFFICE...located on Mall Drive and NC 11 at Carolina East Mall, is shown in this artist's sketch. The one-story, 3,000 square foot full service facility, the bank's first office in Greenville, is scheduled to open in the spring.

Peoples Bank & Trust Co. officials held groundbreaking ceremonies this morning for the bank's first office in Greenville.

and NC Highway 11, is expected to be in operation by spring, a bank spokesman said.

Peoples Bank reported that the one story structure will be contemporary in style and contain some 3,000 square feet of space. Features of the new bank will include four teller stations, two platform loan areas for servicing customers, drive-up facilities with one remote unit and capabilities for future units, and capabilities for future 24-hour banking.

The office will have front and back entrances and offer ample parking at both entrances for customer convenience, it was pointed out.

Joseph J. Long III will manage the new Greenville bank, which is being constructed by Commercial Builders of Rocky Mount.

LACY FAN STITCHES... or sculptured cable stitches can be used to create this heirloom afghan.

Afghan Can Be Heirloom Item

Take your choice of lovely, lacy fan stitches or deeply sculptured cable stitches to create an heirloom afghan to grace any room in your home. Either style can be made in strips of four beautifully coordinated colors or in a single solid color. Use acrylic yarn in knitting worsted weight for either.

To obtain directions for making the fan stitch and cable stitch afghans, send your request for Leaflet No. 1380 with $1.00 and a long, self-addressed envelope to: Pat Trexler, "The Daily Reflector," P.O. Box 810, North Myrtle Beach, S.C. 29582.

Or you may order Kit No. K-1380 by sending check or money order for $21.50 to Pat Trexler at the same address. Each kit contains the instructions plus sufficient Bernat Berella "4" yarn to make one afghan in either style. Please specify your choice of gold tones (Roman gold, old gold, honey, yellow); earth tones (brown, copper, natural, camel); or natural (an off-white shade). Be sure to include your full street address.

DEAR PAT: Here are instructions for some cozy TV socks that your readers might like to try. I use a double strand of knitting worsted weight yarn and size 7 or 8 needles. The directions are for a woman's slipper with the number of stitches for larger, man-sized slippers given in parentheses.

In casting on, allow an excess of yarn of about 8 or 9 inches. This yarn will be used to sew the heel sections together when slippers are completed.

Cast on 29 (35) stitches. Row 1: Knit 9 (11), purl 1, knit 9 (11), purl 1, knit 9 (11). For Row 2, knit all stitches. Repeat these two rows until piece measures 5 inches for women's slippers or 7 inches for men's slippers. End with completion of the second row of the pattern.

Then, for the toe section, work as follows for 2 inches. Row 1: Purl 10 (12), knit 9 (11), purl 10 (12). Knit all stitches for the second row. Repeat these two rows for the 2 inches, ending with completion of Row 1 of pattern.

Now decrease by working one row as follows: Knit 7 (9), slip 1 stitch, knit 1, pass the slipped stitch over the knit stitch, knit 2 together, knit 7 (9), knit 2 together, slip 1, knit 1, pass the

Selecting Jury In Prison Case

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Jury selection was scheduled to continue today in the retrial of a Central Prison inmate charged with first-degree murder in the stabbing death of another inmate.

Cardell Spaulding was convicted last year of killing Hal Roscoe Simmons and sentenced to death. He won a new trial after the N.C. Supreme Court ruled that the jury should have been told that it could consider self-defense in its deliberations.

The court also ruled that Spaulding should have been allowed to present additional evidence to the jury.

Four Accidents In Greenville Monday

An estimated $2,400 property damage resulted from a series of four traffic mishaps investigated yesterday by Greenville Police.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from an 8:36 a.m. collision on Greene Street at the Dudley Street intersection involving a truck driven by Dallas Gray Wade of Route 1, Winterville, and a car operated by Wilbur Ruffin of Route 2, Greenville.

Police, who charged Wade with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety, estimated damage at $200 to the Wade truck and $1,000 to the Ruffin car.

Shirley Dean Lewis of 406 Biltmore St. was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of a 10:18 a.m. collision on 14th Street, 54 feet East of the Charles Street intersection.

Investigators reported the Lewis car collided with an auto driven by Duane Curtis Grooms of River Bluff Apts., causing an estimated $300 damage to the Lewis car and $150 damage to the Grooms auto.

An estimated $200 damage resulted to each of two cars involved in a 4:15 p.m. mishap at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Third Street.

Drivers of the autos were identified as Lucy Howard Knight of Route 8, Greenville, and Sarah Alberta Sharp of Route 4, Greenville.

Cornelius Paul Harris of Route 5, Greenville, was charged with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident following investigation of a 12 Noon mishap on Reade Street, 40 feet South of the Fifth Street intersection. Police said the Harris vehicle collided with a car driven by Joni Hobgood Tyson of Route 1, Greenville, causing an estimated $250 damage to the Tyson car and $100 damage to the Harris truck.

Officers Of Club Chosen

Joe Sherwood was elected president of the Greenville Toastmasters Club at the club's last meeting. Other elected officials are as follows: Betty Topper, educational vice president; Evelyn Cottam, administrative vice president; Charlotte Flanagan, secretary; Paul Topper, treasurer; and Tom Houston, sergeant at arms.

Pat Flanagan won "Best Table Topic" honors at the last meeting, with Betty Topper claiming the "Best Speech" award. Joe Sherwood was named "Best Evaluator."

Charlotte Flanagan served as Toastmaster for the evening, with Betty Topper as Table Topic Master, and Evelyn Cottam as general evaluator.

The Toastmasters Club meets every second and fourth Wednesday of the month at the Western Steer Restaurant. Dinner is at 6:30 p.m., with the general business session at 7:30 p.m. Guests are welcome. For more information, call Pat or Charlotte Flanagan, 746-7192.

Weill Opera On Attended Recent PBS Tonight

"Rise and Fall of the City of Mahagonny," the Kurt Weill/Bertolt Brecht opera about a lawless community founded by three fugitives, will be broadcast live from the Metropolitan Opera beginning at 8 p.m. tonight on UNC-TV, Channel 25 Greenville.

The production, one of the "Live from Lincoln Center" series, will be performed by the Metropolitan Opera, with James Levine, musical director of the Met, conducting.

"Rise and Fall of the City of Mahagonny" was premiered in Leipzig, Germany in 1930 and was a successful, though controversial opera. Hitler banned the work in Germany in 1933.

The composer Weill is perhaps best known for an aria from another of his operas, "The Threepenny Opera," which in recent years became a hit popular song under the title "Mack the Knife."

 "I hope so. Has a python been in here? I've lost my python."
 "There hasn't been a python in here today. No, ma'am."
 "He's just a baby. Only sixteen feet. I thought he might be in here because he loves red, and you've got so many red items in here for Christmas. This red lion is papier mache, isn't it?"
 "Yes. With gold fabric."
 "I saw one like it at Neiman Marcus. And I saw a Chinese red box like this at Gump's. Red! So many Christmasy red things in here. And green and silver and sparkling things. I bet people come from miles around to shop here."
 "They do. From miles around."
 "Well, I must away. I saw red dresses in a window over there. Maybe he's over there. Toodle-loo!"

Cool View By Preyer

MISENHEIMER, N.C. (AP) — The United States is "a long way from any declaration of war" on Iran, Rep. Richardson Preyer said Monday.

Preyer, Democratic representative from the 6th District, told students at Pfeiffer College that there are alternatives to war although diplomatic efforts have not been successful in obtaining the release of 49 hostages from the American embassy in Tehran.

He said the alternatives include air strikes against Iran's mostly grounded F-14 planes, destruction of that nation's power-generating facilities and bombing Iran's oil fields.

Preyer said diplomatic efforts have not been successful because the Ayatollah Khomeini "is not a rational human being."

"Diplomacy is based on a civilized approach and assumes that as a civilized community in the world you don't treat foreign nationals as spies or execute people without trial," Preyer said. "But when you deal with a man like the ayatollah . . . it's not the normal civilized community's values that he's expressing."

Railroad Crossing Problem Growing

FARMVILLE — "Most often," railroad-highway grade crossing accidents happen, "in broad daylight and in clear weather," at crossings already marked with automatic warning devices," Carl Whitfield told the Kiwanis Club here last night.

Whitfield, field representative for the Governor's Highway Safety Program said the highway-rail crossing accident problem is, "a growing one," in spite of efforts by the railroads, highway officials, and police agencies.

Last year, Whitfield said, railroad grade crossing accident deaths jumped 63 percent. There were 339 accidents, with 227 injuries. Some 35 of the accidents resulted in 39 deaths, he pointed out.

"Study after study," the speaker said, "shows that the one — and only one — who could have prevented an accident is the driver. Almost all grade crossing accidents result from driver confusion and error."

Whitfield suggested that drivers should slow down and be prepared to stop at all crossings, and should make sure all tracks are clear before proceeding across.

Haskell Owens, district sales manager for Seaboard Coast Line railroad from Wilson, accompanied Whitfield.

Couple Weds In Double Ring Ceremony Sunday

WINTERVILLE — Teresa Anne Jones and Thomas Gregory DeLong were married Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in a double ring ceremony performed in the Rose Hill F.W.B. Church. The Rev. N. D. Beamon conducted the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John G. Jones Jr. of Rt. 1, Winterville, and Mrs. Christine McRoy of Ayden.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Deborah Jones, was matron of honor. Her maid of honor was her sister, Deborah J. Jones.

Bridesmaids included Anne McCoy of Rt. 1, Winterville, cousin of the bride, Gail Cates of Grimesland, Amanda Haddock and Debbie Haddock, both of Rt. 3, Greenville. Junior bridesmaids were Donna and Rhonda Stocks of Rt. 1, Ayden, cousins of the bride. Flower girls included Angie Jones, niece of the bride, and Laurie Jean Stocks, cousin of the bride, both of Winterville.

Tony Evans was best man and ushers included Kenneth Jones, brother of the bride, and Ledrew Stocks, uncle of the bride, both of Winterville, David Allen Jones and Johnny Lee Stocks, both cousins of the bride of Ayden.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Alma Buck of Rt. 1, Winterville, organist, and wedding director, Mrs. Barbara Wilson and Mason Page.

The bride chose a formal gown of satin silkened organza and chantilly lace over peau de soie. The fitted all lace bodice featured a sheer yoke with schiffli embroidery, stand-up collar and full sleeves ending with cuffs. Appliques of chantilly lace enhanced the front of the A-line skirt of silk organza which was edged with matching lace. Ruffles of Chantilly lace cascaded down the back of the chapel length train and encircled the skirt which formed a lace front panel. She wore a two tiered elbow length mantilla with a blusher of imported silk illusion. Her mantilla was edged with Venise lace and was attached to a Camelot cap accented with appliques and bridal pearls. She carried a bouquet of baby's breath, daisies and miniature carnations.

The maid of honor wore a cranberry dress fashioned with a high neck, full long sleeves and skirt. The matron of honor wore a blue dress of polyester crepe styled with a high neck, fitted waist and full skirt. Bridesmaids wore dresses of sheer pale blue polyester fashioned with low necklines and long sleeves. They each carried two pink carnations was tied with a velvet bow. Junior bridesmaids wore identical dresses in blue and carried identical flowers. The flower girls wore identical dresses in cranberry velvet with a floral skirt. They carried baskets of roses.

The bride's mother wore a long dress of blue polyester with an appliqued bodice and matching coat. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of aqua polyester with a short coat. Both wore white daisy corsages. White carnation corsages were given to the grandmothers.

The chancel of the church was illuminated by a 15 branch candelabra and nine branched candelabra filled with white chrysanthemums, white pompons and greenery flanked by seven branched candelabra. The couple knelt on a white prie-dieu and lighted a unity candle. White satin bows marked honor pews. The bridal couple presented their mothers long-stemmed red roses after the ceremony.

The couple will live at Rt. 2, Newport, after a wedding trip to unannounced points.

The bride is a graduate of D.

Those pictured in "House Beautiful" include apricots in amaretto with cloves, strawberries in Grand Marnier, plums in brandy, and raspberries in kirsch.

PEMBROKE — Sylvia Ann Hunt and Randall Blue were married Saturday in a double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. at Harper's Ferry Baptist Church.

Steve Jones officiated at the ceremony and a program of music was presented by organist, Mrs. Maggie L. Mercer and soloist, Mrs. Tony Brewington, both of Pembroke.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Purcell Hunt Jr. of Greenville, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Blue of Pembroke.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a formal length gown of ivory organza over ivory taffeta designed with a portrait neckline. The deep Bertha collar was edged in Nottingham lace with a row of ivory floral Venise lace. The waistline of the empire bodice was encircled by a crushed cummerbund of the matching organza from which fell the ruffled tiered skirt. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion held in place by a garland circle of ivory silk flowers. She carried an ivory Bible topped with a cascade of mixed flowers.

Miss Trudy McGlohn served as maid of honor and wore a jade qiana dress featuring a blouson bodice with dolman sleeves and an A-line skirt. In her hair, she wore a wreath of silk flowers that matched her dress.

Bridesmaids were Misses Terry Peade of Kinston, Patricia A. Blue of Kingsport, Tenn., cousin of the bridegroom, Rebecca A. Wise of Towson, Md., bridegroom's cousin, and Mrs. A. J. Spillers of Lumberton. They wore the same attire as the honor attendant.

Flower girls were Heather C. and Vivian Sanderson of Fairmont, cousins of the bride, Dwan R. Locklear of Pembroke, the bridegroom's cousin, and Beverly Oxendine of Lumberton, the bride's cousin. They wore rose print dresses of polyester voile with three-tiered skirts and capelets. They wore small silk flowers in their hair and carried baskets of mixed flowers.

The bridegroom's father served as best man and Samuel Sanderson of Charlotte, the bride's cousin, was ring bearer. Ushers were Anthony C. Locklear, Richard D. Locklear, cousins of the bridegroom and Albert Harding, all of Pembroke, and Ronald S. Hunt of Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride's brother.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church Fellowship Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. McGirt greeted guests. Mrs. L. H. Amos and Mrs. Harry Cochran assisted with the cake cutting. Mr. and Mrs. Delton R. Locklear, Mrs. Dell Harris, Mrs. Ronnie Chavis, Mrs. James R. Sanderson, Mrs. Lankford Sanderson, and Mrs. Gary E. Sanderson assisted with the reception. Receiving gifts were Mrs. J. O. Oxendine, Mrs. J. C. Chavis, and Mrs. Harry L. Sealey. Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Blue.

A dance was held Saturday night at Pembroke Jaycee Clubhouse, and guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. David R. Locklear and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Strickland.

Mrs. Joseph A. McGirt of

MRS. RANDALL BLUE

Pembroke hosted a dinner, and a pig picking was hosted by Anthony C. Locklear and Richard D. Locklear.

Floating and miscellaneous bridal showers were given in Greenville and Pembroke. Mrs. Herman Dial, Mrs. L. M. Amos, and Mrs. Delton R. Locklear were hostesses in Pembroke. In Greenville, Mrs. Cullen Haddock, Mrs. Danny Bowen, Mrs. Rodolph Manning, Mrs. Charles Stocks, and Mrs. Allison Farmer were hostesses of the shower.

Mrs. Lee Neville, Mrs. Albert C. Hunt, Mrs. Noah Woods, and

Mrs. Lois Lowry were hostesses of a shopping bag shower in Pembroke.

After a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C., the couple will reside in Pembroke.

The bride is a graduate of Rose High School and received a bachelor's degree from East Carolina University. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pembroke Senior High School and Robeson Technical School.

New Oil Squeeze Awareness

The United States' problems in Iran are bringing home to us in the harshest way the realization that we could become quite pinched for oil.

Our oil supplies from Iran are already cut off and troubles in other Middle Eastern nations raise the possibility of the loss of other oil supplies.

It could very well mean that this nation will soon have to get serious about conservation of oil products. The administration is talking of the possibility of gas rationing and a heavy tax on gas to discourage its use.

At the very least we can be sure that the upsetting of oil supplies will mean ever higher prices for gas at the pump. The OPEC nations will see to that.

It will mean austere times for the United States. Yet, since we have our own large oil reserves there is no way foreign nations can fully deprive us of oil.

We also have other energy supplies, coal being the most abundant.

Surely the United States can make it through a disruption of its oil supplies. It won't be done without sacrifice, however, and we won't even come through it if we don't develop energy sources other than oil.

Debate Might Stir Real Negotiations

UN Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim set a meeting of the Security Council to discuss the U.S.-Iranian crisis.

The U.S. had opposed such a meeting previously, but offered its support over the weekend.

Possibly the debate may begin something in the way of concrete negotiations to end the impasse.

At the least we can hope it will focus world condemnation on the contemptible action that has been committed in Iran.

It should still be made absolutely clear by U.S. representatives that release of the hostages is the only way out of the delima.

THIS AFTERNOON

Stirred by Youth Crime

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — From quiet suburban streets where mailboxes topple with regularity to the corner supermarket the general complaint is the same:

Our kids have lost all sense of restraint and proper behavior.

Certainly not all youngsters are to blame. But the numbers have grown sufficiently, and the incidents have become so frequent and openly performed as to create general public alarm.

That alarm was apparent at a recent meeting of the Governor's Crime Commission in Raleigh.

Headlines reflect the problems daily across North Carolina; crime statistics record them; educators are intimidated by them; citizens fret over them.

In summary — discipline, especially self-discipline, has declined, along with a fading recognition of individual responsibility and morality; respect for the rights and property of others diminishes; drug and alcohol abuse abounds; vandalism increases; shoplifting is common; street gangs disrupt commerce and security in numerous communities

Action
It is time, members of the Governor's Crime Commission agree, to address this phenomenon head-on and aggressively. It is not enough as an official policy board in state government to spend time doling out federal funds, authorizing local crime-fighting projects, and endorsing purchases of uniforms, equipment, radios and such.

Rather, as the state's only gathering place for representatives of law enforcement, the judiciary, prisons and communities both at the state level and from local institutions, the Crime Commission ought to turn its attention to problems such as the skyrocketing increase in juvenile delinquency, members feel.

A superior court judge opened the door to the lengthy and frustrating discussion. A young girl went to a neighbor's home frequently and placed long distance telephone calls. Why? the judge asked her. "I didn't figure I would get caught", came the response.

A young man stole several thousand dollars worth of glass products from his employer. Why? the judge asked him. "I didn't know that was wrong ... They have so much they will never miss it," was the answer.

This opened the flood gates of concern on the Governor's Crime Commission; concerns which eventually caused those participating to realize (as one member put it) "There is a strong kernel of agreement here, which reflects the general public concerns across the state, over what the problem is. What can we do?"

Here, condensed from the relaxed comments in the round-table discussion, is the situation:

BILL NOBLITT

The Situation
Society has changed, with people skeptical of law enforcement, courts, and politicians; mothers and fathers must both work, leaving children "masters of their own little souls" without supervision or discipline; television makes flaunting the law and damaging private property "fun"; social promotions and non-grading in schools simply reinforce in young minds the idea they will never be held accountable for their behavior; legal system preoccupation with rights of individuals at the expense of victims and society delay or negate punishment if ever caught; permissive attitudes from "modern" child-rearing methods through handling of campus demonstrations to enforcement of dress and performance codes at home and in school have made anti-social behavior all right ... among other points made in the discussion.

The frustrating conclusion was reached that man has made enough law ... it is time to remake man. That will be a slow and tedious process; but the Crime Commission thinks there may be a way.

A Six-Year President?

WASHINGTON — Jack Valenti, a fellow who has been around the political track long enough to know every rail in the fence, revived an old presidential proposal the other day in a speech in Los Angeles. The proposal: to limit future presidents to a single six-year term.

Speaking simply as one constitutional buff who has hung around the track a while himself, I'm not ready to embrace the idea out of hand. But Mr. Valenti made some excellent arguments in support of such an argument, and it may be useful to kick the proposition around once more.

The idea, as he said, is indeed an old one. The framers of the Constitution toyed with a single-term provision in their debates at Philadelphia. Thomas Jefferson was among those who advocated such a limitation. Over the years, dozens of resolutions of amendment have been offered in Congress to accomplish this end. Eight such proposals are languishing in House Judiciary now.

Mr. Valenti served for three years with Lyndon Johnson, he recalls, "in the very eye of the Oval Office." He offers an insider's view.

"I can readily testify that no sooner does a president enter the White House than he begins his re-election campaign. Anyone who tells you differently tells you wrong. I have no specific knowledge of the Carter White House, but I would wager that throughout 1979 not an hour has passed without high officials on the White House staff measuring the impact of presidential decisions on the Democratic primaries of 1980. Moreover, the president is deeply involved in all that is being said and decided. Mind you, this is politics in the raw, jangle-smell aspect of the word, and President Carter is not the first nor will he be the last chief executive to spend his precious time brooding over the unfolding cast of characters in the Political Campaign Play."

It isn't merely a president's time that is affected, Mr. Valenti contends. It is his judgment also. Early in 1963, President Kennedy told Sen. Mike Mansfield that he was having serious second thoughts about Vietnam. He now agreed with Mansfield that a complete withdrawal of troops should be undertaken. "But I can't do that until 1965, after I am re-elected," Kennedy reportedly said. The conservative outcry that would have arisen with a withdrawal statement might have denied him a second term.

Two arguments ordinarily are advanced against a single six-year term: A president is not a disembodied, apolitical creature, serving merely as chief executive of the nation; he is also the de facto leader of his party, and he ought not to remove himself from par-

Other Editors Say Helms' Movement

(Hickory Daily Record)

The silly thing about Senator Helms' campaign to independently seek the vice presidential nomination of his party is its evident futility.

Next year's National Republican Convention, with hopes of winning the White House, isn't about to put forth a presidential candidate hobbled with a running mate who reserves the right to go a different way.

The serious thing about the Helms campaign, which is being formally mounted in Florida, is its prospects for exploiting differences and polarizing people to dramatize the senator's divisive views.

Consider this appeal in the formal statement launching Helms' Florida steering committee: "A working vice president could give conservatives the ability to balance the power in the Senate ... Would the Panama Canal treaties have passed if Jesse Helms had been president over the Senate? That's why we have organized the Jesse for Vice President Committee."

The canal treaties passed 68-32 last April, with Helms afterward attacking the character of those who didn't agree with him. "They had a lot of things to trade and we had nothing to trade," was his way of saying the majority sold out.

Had Helms been vice president, and had he been able to manipulate Senate rules to thwart treaty approval, could anyone have thought it a victory for conservative principle?

It's a moot question because Helms takes an honorable position such as opposing the canal treaties, distorts it into an extremist stand that loses, then he attacks the integrity of those who don't go along with him.

The tactic is futile for winning the vice presidency or anything else requiring general agreement. It's good for exploiting complex issues and honest differences of opinion. And, of course, it's good for raising money for his fringe movement.

To the editor:

The experience of the 17 states which already have "Equal Rights" statutes is perfect proof that Federal ERA is unnecessary.

Such state or local laws prove that such problems of equality of the sexes as still exist can better be solved at the local level than in Washington or in the autocratic Federal Courts. If the state laws have beneficial effects, so much to the good. If they have unfortunate effects, however, they can be changed or even repealed.

Not so, Federal ERA. If ever ratified the results are irreversible. The mistake, once made, is permanent because it will then be as much a part of our honored Constitution as the right to bear arms and be secure in our person and property and unfortunate as the results cannot be undone.

I applaud the states that have local Equal Rights laws because I support equal rights. What I oppose is Federally mandated "equality" which ignores realities and threatens our mores—the fabric of American life—with immorality and our schools with faculties laced with perverts.

THE INSIDE REPORT

Ally Cooler On Connally

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

AUSTIN, Texas — That Ronald Reagan's commanding position in the Republican presidential race may ultimately face only George Bush's challenge was suggested when word passed among Republican governors meeting here that Gov. James Thompson of Illinois has cooled his long flirtation with John B. Connally.

Thompson, whose tentative alliance with Connally began forming one year ago, will entertain Reagan soon at his governor's mansion in Springfield. That will mark the first meeting between them since a chance encounter and brief handshake at an Israel

Bonds rally in Chicago last year.

Connally's ardent courtship of Thompson had nailed down no hard commitment but did produce this understanding: Some time in 1979 — at least before the first 1980 presidential primary election — Thompson would publicly bless Connally's candidacy. With many top Illinois Republicans (including a national committeeman and the legislative leaders) committed to Connally, Thompson's blessing was intended to accomplish two things:

First, it would enhance Connally's showing in the important Illinois primary March 18; second, it would give Thompson precedence in the Connally entourage, including the possibility of becoming Connally's vice president.

"The trouble is," one Thompson aide told us at the winter session of the Republican governors' conference, "the whole deal depended on Connally producing. Connally has not been able to produce — not yet anyway."

So Thompson has moved to strict neutrality, but with Reagan's candidacy getting Thompson's attention for the first time. Asked why Reagan had not telephoned or visited Thompson since that chance meeting almost a year ago, one Reagan insider said privately: "Thompson hasn't behaved very well toward Reagan. Reagan wanted to show it is not without cost to support an opponent of the front-runner."

The shift in Thompson's attitude demonstrates what the governors have analyzed with near-unanimity: Basic weaknesses mark the campaign of the former Democratic governor of Texas.

Connally is the most forceful stump speaker of all the Republican candidates, and a wizard at raising funds from corporate America. But dynamism and money have not converted the Republican contest into what Connally has long claimed is just ahead: a two-man race between Reagan and Connally.

What Thompson's men call Connally's inability to "produce" has caused multiple frustrations inside his campaign organization. An example came just before the Florida "preferential" convention when Connally was told by campaign aides that he had narrowed the next day's straw vote to a "neck-and-neck" margin with Reagan.

Exuberant John Connally immediately informed reporters that an upset might be in the making. Not only did he lose to Reagan by 10 percentage points the next day but Bush came within striking distance of Connally

Strength For Today

CURING THE PERSON
A short time ago the Surgeon General's Office released a "Report on Health Promotion and Disease Prevention." The message of the report is that in the future dangers to health will come less from disease and more from bad health habits. Science has made great progress in curing diseases; now the problem is curing the person.

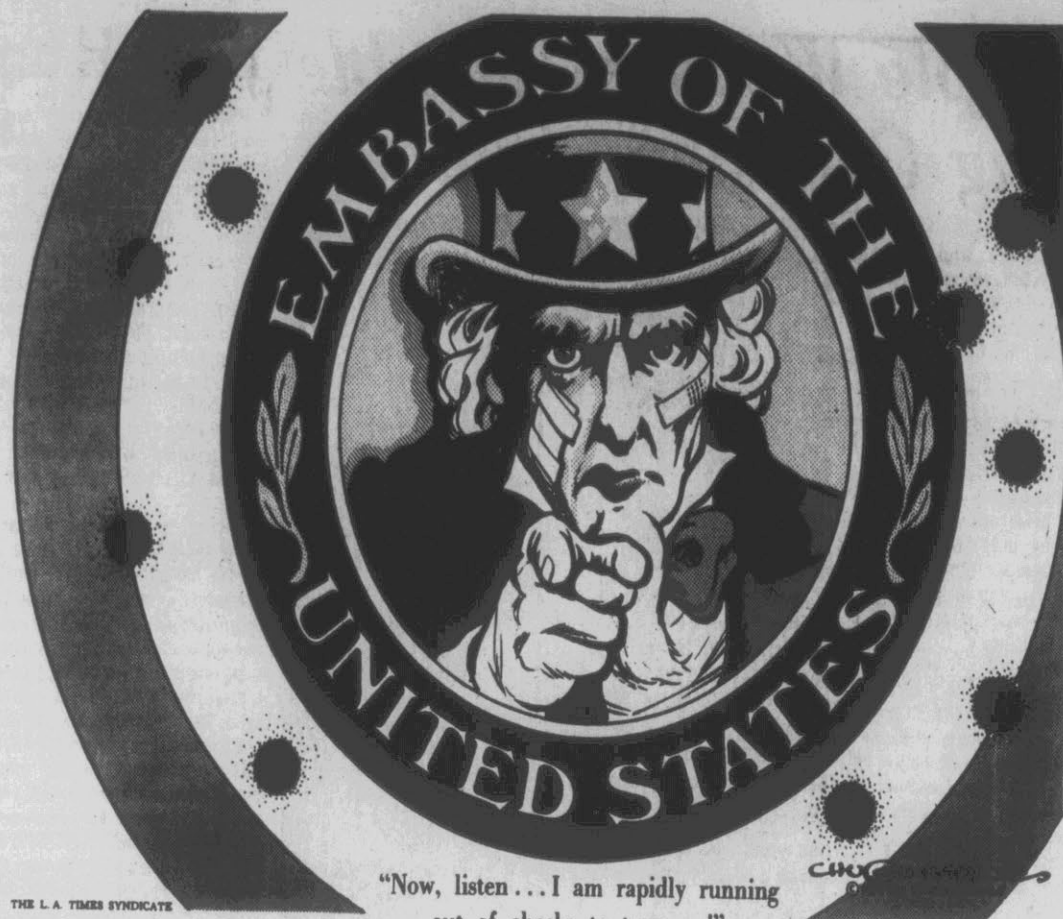

More often than we suppose, our afflictions arise from some dislocation of personality. We work too hard, we pursue pleasure too hard, we worry too much, we eat and drink too much.

Perhaps in the future, doctors will have to bring more psychiatric methodology into their practice. Many do so today, but these methods will only work with the cooperation of the patient.

There is plenty of real suffering in the world, real disease, and we must continue to support campaigns against it. But at the same time, we in the United States should realize that increasingly our ills are not of our own making.

Iranian Media United

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — In banner headlines and prime time broadcasts, the Iranian media tell of the glorious struggle of "God and us" against the root of all evil, the United States, but they ignore most demands for the release of the American hostages.

No message of support for the Nov. 4 takeover of the U.S. Embassy by militant students and the holding of the 49 American hostages goes unreported.

Tehran's six main newspapers, all solid supporters of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and his revolution, carry such headlines as "Seizure Hailed," "Millions March," and "Imam (Khomeini) Raps Carter."

Hours of government television and radio time are devoted to speeches, sometimes more than an hour in length, and statements by Khomeini, the leader of Iran's revolution, and members of his ruling Revolutionary Council.

The Tehran Times, now the capital's only English-language newspaper, had a front-page

Black English

Newspaper articles about events in Iran or last night's football game are written in standard American English. But in everyday situations, many black Americans use a slightly different version of the language. Black English is a variety of English with its own distinct rules of grammar. For example, the "a" is often dropped from verbs, as in the sentence "he work hard." Students who use Black English at home sometimes have trouble learning standard English in school. How to instruct students who normally use Black English is a growing concern for teachers, language experts, and black leaders.

New Policy On Bank Deposits

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Gov. Jim Hunt ordered Monday a change in the way the state makes bank deposits of millions of dollars in federal payroll-tax deductions.

However, Hunt denied that his budget officer, John A. Williams Jr., was guilty of a conflict of interest. Williams last year ordered the transfer of deposits from North Carolina National Bank to First Union National Bank, of which he is a local director.

Williams denied any conflict of interest.

Gary Pearce, Hunt's press secretary, said Hunt has asked state officials to devise a plan to rotate the deposits among banks in the state. The deposits are federal income-tax payments deducted from state employees' paychecks and later turned over to the federal government.

"He (Hunt) talked to John today and he decided there was no conflict of interest because John did not gain anything in any way from the decision," Pearce said.

"But the governor did caution John to be very sensitive to being in any situation that raises even the appearance of a conflict of interest," he said.

Williams could not be reached for comment Monday.

Hunt has asked state disbursing officer George S. Lambert and state banking commissioner James S. Currie to come up with the new plan, Pearce said.

He said questions to be considered would be how often the monthly deposits should be rotated and what banks are interested in and can handle the deposits.

Last month, the deposits totaled $8.1 million. Banks can make money on such deposits by lending the money, at a profit, until they are turned over to the federal government.

POWER DEMONSTRATION
WASHINGTON (AP) — Solar and wind power may be used at a ground support facility for the mobile MX missiles, following a proposal by Energy and Defense departments. Spokesmen said the system could demonstrate practicality of similar solutions to other energy problems.

First Victory Against 'Windfall Tax'

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil-state senators, savoring a first-round victory over backers of President Carter's "windfall-profits" tax, want to trim an additional $10 billion from the scaled-down version approved by the Senate Finance Committee.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, urged the Senate to exclude from the tax the first 1,000 barrels of crude oil pumped each day by independent operators. That would exempt about 15 percent of the nation's production and benefit all but the largest oil companies.

The Senate refused to kill the Bentsen amendment Monday in a preliminary 52-32 vote and scheduled a yes-or-no vote on it today.

The Bentsen proposal would reduce the estimated take from the tax over the next 11 years from the $138 billion expected under the Senate committee version to about $128 billion.

On a 50-32 vote Monday, the Senate defeated an attempt by Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., to junk the Senate Finance Committee bill in favor of the $277 billion version approved by the House and endorsed by President Carter.

Bumpers' substitute would have set aside $138 billion of the tax revenue over the next decade for reducing Social Security taxes and for helping Americans pay rising energy costs. The Finance Committee version designates more than $60 billion for energy assistance and opens the way for a one-year Social Security tax freeze in 1981.

Thirty-two of the Senate's 42 Republicans joined 18 Democrats — including 10 from big energy-producing states — to defeat the Bumpers proposal. Five Republicans and 27 Democrats opposed it.

Bumpers said the real question is whether the American people should have a bigger share of the estimated $1 trillion that will flow to oil producers over the next decade as a result of Carter's decision to phase out price controls on U.S. crude oil. Decontrol will mean increased revenues for producers and higher prices for consumers.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., supporting the committee bill, cited estimates that ending price controls with no "windfall" tax at all would increase U.S. production by about 4 million barrels a day by the late 1990s. Passing the House bill would cut that increase to 2 million, Dole said, while the Finance Committee version would mean an increase of 3 million barrels daily.

Inquiries concerning the center are welcomed and business and industry are encouraged to contact me, 752-0642, concerning employment needs."

Former Wilson Clerk Indicted

WILSON, N.C. (AP) — Former Wilson County Clerk of Court W.A. Boone was indicted Monday on a charge of embezzling $57,000 from estates he administered.

The district attorney declined comment on the indictment.

Boone resigned Aug. 1 after a state audit reported money missing from his office. He could not be reached for comment on the indictment.

The News and Observer of Raleigh reported that sources told it the indictment was based on money missing from 75 small accounts, set up by personal wills. Most of the accounts were being held for beneficiaries under age 21 or people declared mentally incompetent, the newspaper reported.

for a close third-place finish.

In a post-Florida meeting of his campaign organization, Connally demanded tighter discipline and control of his campaign staff. Agreement was reached that he should cool his own rhetoric on the theory that his tough guy image was adding another negative to the heavy burdens he now carries. "I'm getting an image of coming on tough," he told the governors here. "I'm not coming on tough. I'm only coming on candid."

That self-appraisal may be correct but it adds one more layer to the apprehension among anti-Reagan governors that Connally is not close to overtaking Reagan, leaving only long shot Bush.

Almost all of the many Republican governors in the political center — Pierre du Pont of Delaware, William Milliken of Michigan, Robert Ray of Iowa, Richard Thornburgh of Pennsylvania and others — view a Reagan nomination as political chicken pox. But every one of them clings to the strict public neutrality they have followed since their session one year ago.

Now Thompson, who had allowed himself to be wooed by Connally, is seeing the handwriting on the wall. Thompson's decision to cool it with Big John Connally is the sharpest political sign yet that the governors are looking elsewhere if anybody is to stop Ronald Reagan.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices rose today, continuing the rally begun Monday in reaction to Bankers Trust Co.'s lowering of the prime rate.

The Dow Jones industrial average was up .09 to 828.84 in the early going. But advancing issues led declines by a 5-2 margin on the New York Stock Exchange. Bankers Trust lowered its prime rate Monday from 15 1/2 percent to 15 percent. The move was matched by some smaller banks, and the nation's major banks are expected to take similar actions.

The move was interpreted as a signal that the four-month spiral of interest rates had peaked and the rates would now settle back. The Federal Reserve has taken steps in recent months to severely limit growth in the nation's money supply, and those actions have put upward pressure on interest rates.

Among early trades, DuPont rose 1/4 to 40 1/2, Polaroid gained 1/2 to 26 1/2, International Paper was up 1/4 to 37 1/2, Johnson & Johnson rose 1/2 to 71 1/2 and Getty Oil lost 1/4 to 70. On Monday, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials climbed 16.98 to 828.75. Advances outnumbered declines by a 6-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Pregnancy 'Disability'

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Three welders at the General Dynamics shipyard in Quincy have won a battle for full disability pay for time lost from work because of their pregnancies.

The three mothers received checks from the company totaling $7,000, according to their attorney, Warren Leiden. "The women got what they deserved," said Leiden. "This is an example that the companies can no longer avoid these kinds of payments."

The company's attorney was unavailable for comment. Joan Bragar, Jeanette Lorina and the third mother, who asked not to be identified, used a petition carrying 800 signatures from fellow employees to bring their complaints to the attention of the company and their union.

All three were hired about four years ago under an affirmative action program. The General Dynamics contract with the Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers allowed six weeks disability pay for pregnancies and 26 weeks for other disabilities. The women argued that the contract was discriminatory and violated state and federal laws requiring pregnancy to be treated as other disabilities.

"Very few companies have complied with the law until they are forced, company by company, to do so," said Jeffrey Binder, an attorney for the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination.

Power Play By Unions Cited

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The director of the state's Occupational Safety and Health Act administration said Monday that organized labor's resistance to state control of OSHA will mean a less-efficient program. Don G. Wiseman said state administered programs are more efficient than those under federal supervision. "They (organized labor) can have more influence on one centrally administered program at the national level than they can if the states control their own programs," Wiseman told the Raleigh Rotary Club.

Retired Judge Denies 'Bribe'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired U.S. District Judge John D. Larkins has written to the Senate Judiciary Committee that allegations he took a bribe passed on by judicial nominee Charles Winberry Jr. are "a total and complete falsehood."

Dialogue Set In Istanbul

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — The meeting between Pope John Paul II and Ecumenical Patriarch Demetrius I in Istanbul this week will open a doctrinal dialogue seeking to clear the way for reunification of Christianity's two largest branches — Roman Catholicism and Eastern Orthodoxy — after nearly nine centuries of schism.

The discussion Friday between the two leaders of nearly a billion Christians will be brief. But Metropolitan Bartholomew of the Eastern Orthodox Synod said it would be the prelude to periodic meetings, beginning next year, of a joint Roman Catholic-Orthodox committee of doctrinal experts.

Among the chief subjects of discussion will be the pope's authority in the church and the permanence of marriage bonds. The pope claims "primacy of government" over all Christians while the Eastern Orthodox churches operate as "sister churches" and concede to the patriarch in Istanbul only a "primacy of honor." And the Roman church refuses to recognize divorce while the Orthodox and most other Christian churches do.

The pope arrives in Turkey Wednesday for a three-day visit to Ankara, Istanbul, Izmir and Ephesus. He will meet with Patriarch Demetrius for prayers Thursday night and again Friday morning at the patriarchate to take part in a service honoring the Apostle Andrew, the patron saint of the Church of Constantinople, as Istanbul was called before 1930. St. Andrew is believed to have been the first to preach the Christian Gospel in the city.

Following the religious service, the pope and the patriarch will sit down together in the patriarch's office for their talk. Bartholomew said with them would be Dutch Cardinal Johannes Willebrands and Metropolitan Meliton of Chalcedon, their churches' leading experts in the field of Christian unity.

Reactor Again Had Shutdown

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — Northern States Power Co.'s Prairie Island nuclear reactor, which went down for the second time in two months on Nov. 15, is back in operation, according to a company spokesman. The reactor, one of two at the plant, shut down automatically Nov. 15 when a cooling water pump motor burned out. The same reactor had been shut down for 21 days as a result of a radiation leak Oct. 2. NSP spokesman Steve London said the burnout caused no radiation leakage.

Held Workshop For Specialists

Dr. James Mathis, chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at East Carolina University, recently conducted a two-day workshop at Atlantic Beach for mental retardation specialists and supervisory personnel. According to Deborah Conklin, MR specialist at the Pitt Co. Mental Health Center, the workshop was designed to give MR professionals an opportunity to learn from an eminent psychiatrist and teacher in the field. Using an open forum format, the workshop covered a range of topics, including sexuality, family dynamics, basic neurochemistry, organicity and community factors.

Orders Guard In Visiting Wife

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A judge has ruled William Walker can visit his comatose wife in the hospital — if he's accompanied by a guard. Before Monday's ruling by Circuit Judge Benson Trimble, Walker was barred from seeing his wife Patsy at all. Trimble ordered Walker to stay away, police said, after a nurse last month found someone had stuffed Mrs. Walker's mouth with sleeping pills. Walker visited that day. No charges were filed. Mrs. Walker has been unconscious since Oct. 4 when she was admitted for treatment of a head injury that Walker said came from a fall.

Pirates Top Oilers In Exhibition

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
East Carolina opened up the 1979-80 basketball season last night with a 103-92 victory over the Marathon Oilers, but Coach

Dave Odom cautioned about too much optimism at this point in the year.

The Pirates broke the game open early in the second half, streaking away from a 48-47 halftime lead. East Carolina outthrew the Oilers, 19-3 in the first five and a half minutes of the period to take a 67-50 lead.

"I don't see any reason to be real excited," Odom said afterwards. "We had two goals in mind in this game, and I do think we accomplished them. We wanted to play hard, and we wanted to show involvement in the game in other than physical areas. We wanted our minds in the game. We wanted people to be able to go away saying that we did these things."

Marathon was hampered by the lack of four players, stranded in Richmond when their chartered plane was unable to get them to Greenville due to fog. However, coach Scotty Baesler said he felt the outcome would have been the same. For Marathon, it was their fifth loss in 19 games.

Asked to compare the Pirates to some of the others, Baesler said they couldn't compare with Louisville, but were ahead of Richmond. "They're about like Wake Forest, but Wake is more physical inside."

Baesler praised the play of East Carolina's George Maynor. "He's the type of guard you don't find often. Other than (Darrell) Griffin (of Louisville), he's the best guard I've seen this year. He (Maynor) doesn't try to dominate the game, but plays with the others."

Odom agreed that Maynor is a fine player, but not as good as he can be. "He's a great offensive player but he's not a good defensive player. If he worked as hard on defense as he does on offense, he could play for anyone in the country. He can do it all."

Maynor finished as the top scorer for the Pirates, hitting 18 points on nine of 13 field goals. Overall, the Pirates shot 57.5 per cent from the floor, but made only half of their free throws. They outscored the Oilers, 45-35. "Technically, we weren't that pretty," Odom said. "We played well together, and we took good shots. They are a hard team to play. You come out and see these 30-year-old guys with glasses and pot bellies, and you think, 'This is going to be easy,' but it isn't. They are seasoned veterans, with no pressure whatsoever on them."

Odom added that he felt that the two best players for Marathon were not there, and they would have made a big difference, despite Baesler's comments. "Their having only eight people to our 13 was a big difference," he said. "I'm delighted to win, but more so in the terms of effort and involvement."

The Pirates ran a half-court man-to-man defense the entire game, and Odom didn't feel that this is indicative of the Pirate defense. "We'll run more defenses in regular games and I hope we do better too. We show potential on defense, but we're eons away from being where I want us to be."

Odom said he was pleased with the play of everyone on the team. "I've said all along that ten or so are going to be playing about equal time. From what was shown tonight, we didn't lose anything when we went to our bench."

Along with Maynor, five other Pirates broke into double figures. Herb Gray, hitting five of nine, including the only dunk of the game, finished with 15, while Tony Byles had 14, David Underwood had 13, and both Herb Krusen and Frank Hobson each had ten.

Gray led the rebounding with 11, while Maynor had seven and Clarence Miles had six.

One of the more pleasing aspects was in the assist department, where 14 were recorded, with Mark McLaurin's three leading the way. The team committed only 13 turnovers.

Marathon was led by Floyd Smith's 33, of which 28 came in the second half. Phil Thieniman added 24, all but three in the first half. Cordy Glenn had 16 and Kenny Davis had ten. In rebounding, Glenn had 15 to lead the Oilers.

Friday night, the Pirates travel to Richmond, Va., to face Virginia Commonwealth in the first round of the Spider Classic at the University of Richmond. It will be their official season opener.

Zorn-Led Seahawks Charge Past New York Jets For Third In Row

SEATTLE (AP) — It's as if Jim Zorn and the Seattle Seahawks can't do anything wrong. They're streaking right along with the best of them in the National Football League.

With Zorn setting two more club passing records in the first-ever Monday night game in Seattle, the Seahawks crushed the New York Jets 30-7 for their third straight victory and fifth triumph in six weeks.

"I'm really confident now," said Zorn. "I wouldn't say I'm in any kind of a groove but I feel like when the receiver makes his move, the ball is going to be there."

"He's a pretty effective quarterback," said Jets' Coach Walt Michaels of Zorn.

Coming off a club record 384-yard passing performance against New Orleans, Zorn once again was in command, picking apart the Jets' secondary behind an offensive line that didn't allow him to be sacked once.

He completed 25 of 32 passes for 285 yards and three touchdowns, including 14 straight completions. The 25 completions and 14 straight completions were Seattle club records.

Because of the strength throughout of the American Football Conference, the Seahawks, now 7-6, will have a hard time making the playoffs in their fourth NFL season.

They virtually have to win all three of their remaining regular season games.

"All we can do is play like we have a chance," said Seahawks Coach Jack Patena.

"I've got to give our line and our receivers credit," said Zorn. "Our line really has been blocking well and our receivers have been running great routes."

Zorn's touchdown passes were 14 yards to his favorite target, Steve Largent, in the second quarter, 16 yards to running back Sherman Smith in the third period and 11 yards to Sam McCullum in the third quarter. All came on third-and-10 situations.

The victory gave the Seahawks a 2-0 Monday night record. They won at Atlanta 31-28 four weeks ago.

"It's great any time you win," said Zorn, "but it's even more fun when you win in the only game of the day."

"They (the Jets) play pretty conservatively on defense," Patena said. "They take away the long stuff so you just throw in front of them."

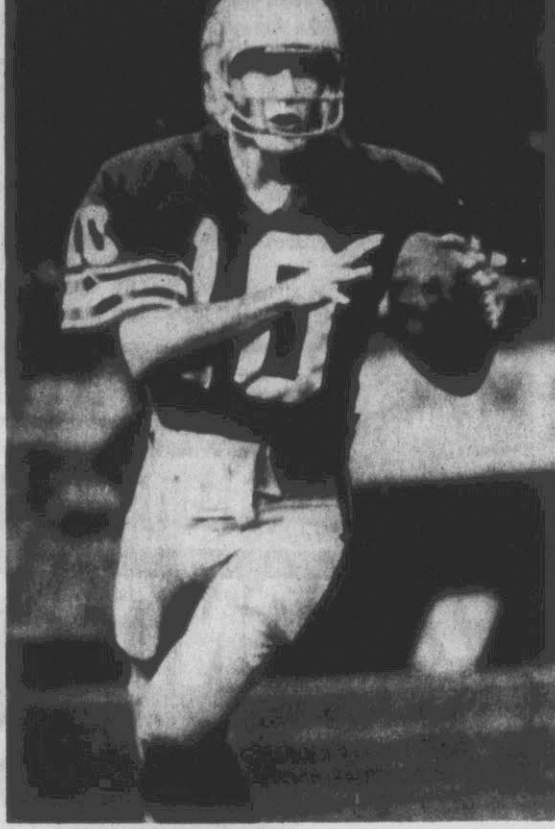

Richard Todd, the Jets' quarterback, was 19 of 36 for 226 yards and drove his team to a touchdown in the third quarter. Kevin Long tallied for New York on a 1-yard run.

Efren Herrera accounted for Seattle's other points on field goals of 49, 45 and 42 yards.

Three Seattle players were injured. Special teams member Don Dufek broke a leg, offensive guard Bob Newton left the game with a knee injury and guard Tom Lynch suffered a back injury.

Bo Says It Ain't So

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Bo Rein says it isn't so.

Rumors have been flying that Rein is leaving North Carolina State for Louisiana State University's head football coaching position.

Harumph, says Rein. And get off my back, he adds.

"There is absolutely no truth to the rumor that I've been hired by LSU," he said in a prepared statement released Monday night.

The statement was prompted by a report on Durham television station WTVD that Rein was indeed leaving the Wolfpack for the Baton Rouge, La., team.

Quoting sources, WTVD said Rein's selection would be announced Friday.

"... I am upset that every year during the intense time of recruiting my name is mentioned in the rumor mill," Rein said.

"The same thing happened a year ago and it hindered our recruiting. I hope these rumors will be discontinued with this statement."

N.C. State sports information director Ed Seaman said when he released the statement that Rein would be leaving on a recruiting trip for the Wolfpack today.

Rein recently completed his fourth season as Wolfpack coach, compiling a 7-4 record but missing a post-season bowl. Last year, the Wolfpack beat Pitt in the Tangerine Bowl.

Charlie McClendon had been told by LSU that his contract wouldn't be renewed — win or lose.

"This has gotten to be amusing," said LSU athletic director Paul Dietzel when told of the rumor.

"On Lincoln, Neb., radio this morning they had Tom Osborne already had the job. Last week, on New Orleans radio, George Welsh of Navy had accepted," Dietzel said.

Dietzel wouldn't say which, if any, of the rumors are true, adding that he'll make his recommendation Friday, and that's it.

The names of more than two dozen active coaches had been mentioned in print as possibilities for the LSU job.

LSU finished the season with a 6-5 record and will meet Wake Forest in the Tangerine Bowl on Dec. 22, the 13th bowl appearance for LSU under McClendon.

His 18-year record stands at 136-59-7, and he has had only one losing season since taking over from Dietzel in 1961.

Alabama Still Leading Poll

By The Associated Press
Alabama, idle last week, remains atop The Associated Press college football poll, but high-scoring Southern California has edged past Rose Bowl foe Ohio State for the No. 2 spot.

Alabama, which ends its regular season Saturday against No. 14 Auburn, received 34 of 62 first-place votes and 1,193 of a possible 1,240 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters, who voted the exact same 20 teams into this week's poll as last week.

The Second Ten consists of Pittsburgh, Purdue, Washington, Auburn, Michigan, Tulane, South Carolina, Clemson, Penn State and Baylor.

Southern Cal, which clinched a Rose Bowl berth by whipping arch-rival UCLA 49-14 to wind up its regular schedule with a 10-0-1 record, received 12 first-place votes and jumped from fourth to second place with 1,142 points in the results next-to-last poll of the regular season.

That was one point more than Ohio State, which was idle last week and dropped to third place with 13 No. 1 votes and 1,141 points. That's five first-place votes and 73 points less than the Buckeyes received last week.

Florida State, 11-0 and bound for the Orange Bowl, continued its season-long climb, moving up from fifth to fourth with 997 points on the strength of its 27-16 victory over Florida.

Oklahoma, Florida State's Orange Bowl foe, jumped from eighth to fifth with one first-place vote and 963 points, thanks to its victory over Nebraska.

Pirate Gymnasts To Open Against Heels

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

East Carolina University's gymnastics team will take the floor for the first time Friday, playing host to the University of North Carolina.

While new coach Jon Rose isn't predicting a victory over the Tar Heels, he does expect the Lady Pirates to be greatly improved over the past.

"I'm looking for our girls to score between 115 and 120 points per meet this year. I think we'll be a very respectable Division II (AIAW) team.

"We've been working for ten weeks to get ready for the season, and we have a totally new philosophy in our practice," Rose said.

"We're not working them to death in the pre-season. We work six days a week. Every other day, we work on conditioning and then on flexibility on the alternate days. I think this has been helpful to us in getting ready."

This may have proven true in the lack of injuries so far. "We have had a few injuries, but they are minor," the coach said.

Rose feels that vaulting will be the strong point of the team. "Floor exercises should be our second strongest, followed by the balance beam. The uneven bars will be our weakest event."

"Jackson should be our leader this year," Rose added.

In the individual events, Rose listed his top competitors.

He feels Jackson, Rogers and Lawrence will be the top people in the vault, with Lawrence, Rogers, McKnight and Jackson tops in the floor exercises.

Lawrence, Jackson, Rogers and Layton pace the beam, while McKnight is the top performer on the bars, with Rogers and Loeschke adding depth there.

"There are only four teams in the state, so we compete against all of them, regardless of division," Rose said. "Because of this, we automatically qualify for the regionals."

Rose said he wants to speed up competition in the meets to give the audience a better show. Admission for the first meet is $2 for adults, $1 for children, with ECU students admitted on their ID's.

Mix, Bibby Come Off Bench To Lead 76ers To Win Over Pacers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two of the Sixers' "Pine Boys" turned opportunity into achievement as Philadelphia downed the Indiana Pacers 113-112. The "Pine Boys" is Steve Mix's euphemistic description of the Philadelphia bench, which he and Henry Bibby so frequently occupy. However, both players got off the bench Monday night to spark a second-half surge as the Sixers captured their third straight National Basketball Association victory.

The Pacers' 76ers matchup was the NBA's only game Monday night. Playing in his first contest since dislocating a finger last week, Mix scored 25 points, with Bibby adding 21. "I felt good that I was able to contribute to a win, but I was just one of the cogs in the wheel," said Mix, whose 25 points surpassed his previous season's high of 23. "We have 11 different individuals on this team — 11 different personalities — but we all think "win," he explained. Late in the third quarter, with the Pacers leading 89-79, Mix and Bibby led the 76ers on a romp, scoring 19 of the next 21 points. In the meantime, Caldwell Jones sunk a layup to give the 76ers their first lead, 93-91, since midway through the second quarter, when Mix had scored on a goaltending call for a 39-37 Sixers' edge. So by the 8:18 mark of the fourth quarter, the Sixers led 98-91. From then on Philadelphia never trailed, although the Pacers came to within one point, 111-110, with 57 seconds remaining. Mix had replaced Julius Erving with 3:47 left in the third quarter after Erving had picked up his fourth personal foul and the Sixers seemed to be slipping. Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham said he decided to stay with the "Pine Boys" because they were doing so well. "The bench did a great job for us," Cunningham said. "Indiana played outstanding basketball," he said. Asked why he didn't play Erving more in the second half, the coach replied, "It was because the other group (Mix and Bibby) was doing so well, we had to stick with them." Indiana Coach Bob Leonard held a somber meeting with his team after the game, then told reporters, "We just sat down and went over all of things." Leonard added, "Bibby and Mix did a good job against us. We had to double-team Mix and we didn't get it done. He shot the lights out. "We've got to be smarter going down the wire," Leonard continued. "Basically we played a good game, but we were not mentally tough enough when it was critical. There are 244 guys in this league, and there is always some guy coming out to do a good job." The Pacers' Mickey Johnson was the game-high scorer with 30 points, while teammate Mike Bantom added 27.

Co-Winners In AL Rookie Race

By The Associated Press NEW YORK (AP) — Infielders John Castino of the Minnesota Twins and Alfredo Griffin of the Toronto Blue Jays were surprised after being named co-winners of the American League Rookie of the Year award. Castino and Griffin each received seven votes from a 28-member committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Relief pitcher Mark Clear of California, the only rookie named for the mid-season All-Star Game, was third with five votes.

Relief pitcher Ron Davis of the New York Yankees, first baseman Pat Putnam of the Texas Rangers and pitcher Ross Baumgarten of the Chicago White Sox received three votes apiece. "I never expected it," said Castino, 25, a third baseman who became a starter in mid-season and finished with a .285 batting average and 52 runs batted in. "I am humbled," added Castino. "It will probably take a month for the importance of this to set in. "I am extremely surprised," said Griffin, 21, a shortstop who batted .287 for the Blue Jays, set a team record with 179 hits and also led the club with 20 stolen bases.

"All those other guys did a good job," added Griffin, who is currently playing winter ball in his native Dominican Republic. "I honestly thought Ron Davis would win because of the publicity he gets in New York." Griffin, a switch hitter, was acquired by the Blue Jays from the Cleveland organization at baseball's last winter meetings. After a slow start he came on strong, hitting safely in 24 of his last 27 games and winning Player of the Month honors for September. This is the first time since the award was instituted in 1949

Cable Is A Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major league baseball faces a serious threat from unregulated cable television operations, says Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Testifying Monday before a House subcommittee, Kuhn said existing laws and regulations allow "uncontrolled importation of distant signal sports telecasts" by cable television systems. He noted that professional baseball is already in a struggle with broadcasters over who owns the copyright to sports telecasts — the teams involved or the broadcaster. "Regardless of how this matter is resolved, the professional sports clubs will be left with the very serious problem of having to contend with the existing compulsory licensing scheme," Kuhn said.

The Olympic committee in Taiwan has screamed defiance, claiming that the IOC's new plan contravenes rules 64 and 65 of the Olympic charter. These rules spell out quite clearly that every team in the Olympic Games must march behind its national flag in the opening parade, and that its national anthem must be played at the medal presentation ceremonies. But rule 23 of the charter says: The IOC is the final authority on all questions concerning the Olympic Games and the Olympic movement. Lawyers might argue that this gives the IOC the right to bend its own rules any time it wants to. Killanin knows now that when the full IOC meets before the Winter Games at Lake Placid in February, he can get rules 64 and 65 changed to fit the situation, if necessary. In the past, Killanin has failed to break heavy support for Taiwan. Its champions have claimed that it always obeyed Olympic rules and that its choice of name and flag and anthem were its own affair. But at last the IOC has come to see that unless it turns away from its traditional course it might have never ending trouble over Taiwan whenever the Games are held. The absence of China, the world's most populous country, has been the biggest gap in the IOC's idealistic bid to bring the youth of the world together in sport. Team entries close Dec. 1, so the Taiwanese have five days to decide whether to send their athletes — or their lawyers — into action.

China Returns To Olympics

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Lord Killanin has won his longest battle, and the athletes of China are in the Olympic Games at last. The jolly Irish president of the International Olympic Commission, after years of resistance from conservative members, was given overwhelming backing for his plan to let both parts of China compete in the Games. Athletes of mainland China may now take part using the name, flag and anthem of the People's Republic. But the politically stubborn Taiwan authorities must abandon the name and flag of the old Republic of China and use a special flag to be approved by the IOC. IOC members voted by 62-17 to back the plan and Peking already has accepted the plan. Now the national Olympic committee of Taiwan has until Jan. 1, 1980, to swallow its pride and change its name. No one can guess what Swiss judges might make of the situation if it reached the courts because the IOC is a law unto itself. It is answerable only to itself. The Olympic committee in Taiwan has screamed defiance, claiming that the IOC's new plan contravenes rules 64 and 65 of the Olympic charter. These rules spell out quite clearly that every team in the Olympic Games must march

Wolfpack Unlikely To Get Vote As Repeater; UNC Seen As Pick

By DICK BRINSTER Associated Press Writer Heavy lies the head that wears the crown. And next summer when the Atlantic Coast Conference football writers sit down to decide who'll be the first champion of the 1980s, North Carolina State is likely to get nary a vote. The Wolfpack, decimated by graduation, doesn't figure to repeat as league champion. And by next summer Coach Bo Rein can be counted upon to be first to say so. It won't be a question of dodging the issue, although football coaches are renowned for such practices. Rein would be the last man to do that. "I guess we should be the favorite," he said last August when ACC Operation Football made its stop on the Raleigh campus. The fickle finger of fate should point a couple of dozen miles to the west, where in Chapel Hill there lives the heir apparent, North Carolina, despite any protestations by Coach Dick Crum, is loaded. Like many, the Tar Heels lose some of their stars. But the presence of a quality offensive line led by guard Ron Wooten and center Rick Donnalley blocking for tailback Amos Lawrence and associates makes the Tar Heels an awesome offensive threat. And there's plenty returning to the defensive platoon, which gets leadership from tackle Donnell Thompson, linebacker Darrell Nicholson and back Steve Streater. The most formidable challenge could come from Maryland. The Terrapins suffered a rash of injuries and still managed to limp home with a 7-4 record. One also must keep in mind that Jerry Claiborne's team has not won the crown since 1976, when it captured its third straight. The younger Maryland players, led by sophomore tailback Charlie Wysocki, who gained more than 1,000 yards, got a rough baptism. They'll be ready the next time around, but they'll have to be ready early because they meet North Carolina at Chapel Hill the third Saturday of next season. Clemson, despite the loss of many defensive stalwarts, must be respected simply because its program has gained so much momentum in the last three seasons. Danny Ford's Tigers must replace quarterback Billy Loft. It is doubtful, however, that they can replace All-American defensive tackle Jim Stuckey. N.C. State has similar problems. Gone will be star quarterback Scott Smith and an offensive line anchored by Outland Trophy winner Jim Ritcher. Wake Forest, the nation's Cinderella team, loses a few key performers. But John Mackovic's Demon Deacons quarterback Jay Venuto notwithstanding, may need mirrors to equal their 8-3 showing on 1979. Virginia enjoyed its first winning season since 1968, but the 6-5 Cavalier record was produced with four victories over subpar opponents. One of them, Richmond, lost every game. Another, James Madison, does not yet belong on the schedule of a major college football team. Duke was last in the ACC practically every aspect of play. Despite the use of a power I formation that enabled them to move the ball better the last few games, the Blue Devils do not possess the quality to seriously compete in the league next season.

Low Budget PBS Comedy Pilot Was Just Not All That Funny

By TOM JORY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It was a bold attempt to rewrite public TV's definition of humor, but the budget for "Good Grief America" was tiny and the show — if audience reaction means anything — simply was not that funny.

"The budget for this show couldn't have rented Bill Murray's sports jacket," quipped Sean Kelley as he introduced the cast of "Good Grief America" to a college crowd here the other night.

The reference to Murray, star of "Saturday Night Live," was intentional, perhaps a declaration that the Public Broadcasting Service was about to challenge NBC's late-night comedy revue at its own game.

"There's been a lingering feeling among a lot of people at PBS that we should have done a show like 'Saturday Night Live' first," said Barry Chase, PBS' director of current affairs programming. "It's the kind of risk-taking we ought to be doing."

Chase spoke an hour or so before the taping at Yale University's Woolsey Hall.
PBS, a week or so later, had all but decided to shelve the pilot program. But the story does not necessarily end there; PBS stations will vote in the next several weeks on whether to continue the "Good Grief America" project as a series.

"Good Grief America" may never make it to the air. The mere effort was, nonetheless, extraordinary.

PBS, in the first instance, made absolutely no attempt to restrict the content of the show. "I'm not sure I wanted to define it in general terms," Chase said of PBS' desire — more appropriately, lack of desire — to play censor. "It's like the Supreme Court decision on obscenity; You'll know it when you see it.

"Of course," he said, "if it's not funny, ..."

"As for guidance for the writers," Chase said, "we tried to give them the realistic view, the possibility that a number of public television stations might find it impossible to run the show."

"But certainly we did not give them a list of words they could not use."

The writers took that lack of restriction to heart, and the show was peppered with language not normally heard on television, public or otherwise.

ABC Moves To Rejuggle Time Spots

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC, facing a stiff challenge this season from CBS, has rejuggled the time spots for two of its most successful comedies, "Mork and Mindy" and "Laverne and Shirley" and plans to premiere six new series after Jan. 1.

The network, an overwhelming winner in the television ratings competition last season, also said it will drop three series — "240-Robert," "Detective School" and "Out of the Blue."

The new ABC shows include two half-hour comedies, two hour-long comedy-drama programs and a new one-hour detective series, as well as a Sunday evening show the network calls "informational."

The "informational" series, "Incredible Sundays," airing at 7 p.m. EST, will star John Davidson and Jim Palmer, the Baltimore Orioles' pitcher. ABC says the magazine-style show will feature "stranger-than-fiction happenings and remarkable people."

"Incredible Sundays" will be followed at 8 by "Tensped and Brown Shoe," starring Ben Vereen and Jeff Goldblum.

"Mork and Mindy," which had been losing its timespot to CBS' "Archie's Place," will give up its Sunday-at-8 position in favor of a spot on the schedule Thursdays at 8.

"Laverne and Shirley" will move from Thursdays at 8 to Monday night at the same time, to be followed at 8:30 by a new half-hour sitcom, "One in a Million," starring Shirley Hemphill as a Los Angeles cabbie who inherits millions of dollars.

Dennis Weaver, who starred on CBS' "Gunsmoke" and NBC's "McCloud," returns to prime-time as a detective in "Stone." Weaver's new show will be broadcast Monday nights at 9.

"Family" returns to the lineup at 10, filling the void left by the end of ABC's "NFL Monday Night Football" season.

CRYPTOQUIP 11-27

EYDRV WJTRT AYDRVEYD AWIJJ
DRBB

Yesterday's Cryptquip: GOOD BOWLER BRINGS IN TWO WIDE-OPEN SPLITS.

Today's Cryptquip clue: J equals I

The Cryptquip is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words, and words using an apostrophe can give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Opening lead: Two of ♣.

So you think that you're ready to represent the United States in the world championship? In that case, this hand should be as simple as pie. Cover up the East-West cards with your thumbs and see how you would fare in six spades after a heart lead.

You have bid quite well to get to an excellent slam. After receiving a spade preference, you cue-bid the ace of hearts. When partner cooperated with your slam effort by showing his club control, you really couldn't bid anything less than six spades.

After a heart lead, you might approach the hand with the question, "What's the problem?" It seems a simple matter to win the heart, ruff a heart, return to your hand with a trump and ruff your last heart. Now cash the ace of clubs and lead a club to your king. Unfortunately, East ruffs the second club and you will still have to lose a trick to the queen of clubs.

Well, what about establishing dummy's diamonds? Win the ace of hearts and enter dummy with a trump here.

Now lead a diamond for a ruffing finesse, intending to repeat the finesse later. Unfortunately, West has both diamond honors, and you are going to go down several tricks.

There is a line that will guarantee the contract if trumps are no worse than 4-1 and clubs do not break worse than 5-1. Win the ace of hearts and ruff a heart. Cross to the ace of spades and ruff another heart. Now come back to your hand with the king of clubs and draw the outstanding trumps. In doing so, however, you must take care to jettison a blocking card from dummy—specifically, the ace of clubs!

When the last trump has been drawn, you concede a trick to the queen of clubs. Now you can ruff the heart or diamond return and claim the rest of the tricks.

It's all quite straightforward as long as you remember to concentrate on finding the safest way to make your contract, be it a partscore, game or slam. The extra 20 or 30 points for an overtrick can never compensate for going down.

Fall Arbor Day Ceremonies Set

FARMVILLE — The Farmville Tree Board will conduct a Fall Arbor Day ceremony Wednesday at noon, with a planting of a commemorative tree in the Town Commons.

Mayor Sara Albritton will participate as one of her last official acts of mayor. Mrs. Albritton, whose tenure ends Dec. 4, urged a tree protection program for Farmville and appointed the Tree Board. She has issued a proclamation designating Wednesday as Fall Arbor Day here.

Joint Planning-Zoning Meet Tomorrow Night

Some 13 items of business are scheduled for consideration by the Joint City-County and Greenville Planning and Zoning Commissions at Wednesday's 8 p.m. meeting.

Items on the joint board agenda include: request of J. T. Manning Jr. for rezoning 1.23 acres on the north side of Belvoir Highway just west of the prison camp from Nonoffensive Industry to Neighborhood Commercial; Request of Leroy Cherry and Associates for rezoning 6.4 acres on the east side of 14th Street Extension just beyond its intersection with the Southern Railway line from R-9 to R-6; request of Marvin K. Blount Jr. for rezoning 150 acres on the east side of the Tar Road south of Grayleigh and Pinewood Forest Subdivisions from RA-20 to Office and Institutional, R-6 and R-9; Request of J. Bryant Kittrell III, agent for 4.19 acres north of Greenville Boulevard, S.W. and west of Shenandoah Subdivision, for rezoning from RA-20 to R-6; consideration of a proposal by the Planning Department to modify the extraterritorial jurisdiction boundary of the city in the area west of Allen Road; consideration of annexation of Section II of Carriage House, Quail Ridge, the nature park site off Mumford Road, and property in the area of Arlington Boulevard, Red Banks Road and NC 43-Nevada Highway; Consideration of a request by the City Council to reconsider the recommendation regarding outdoor advertising signs, specifically what zoning classifications outdoor advertising signs are to be allowed; and consideration of a presentation by the Greenville Energy program concerning energy-efficient development and regulations.

Business on the city agenda includes: request of Mrs. W. D. Barbre for rezoning two acres on Dickinson Avenue near West End Circle from Downtown Commercial Fringe to Highway Commercial; Request of Col. Harvey Bradshaw for rezoning 6.5 acres within Fairlane Farms, located on the west side of Hooker Road across from Cambridge Subdivision, from R-15 to R-6; final plat of Wildwood Village, located on Beech Street north of Third Street; Revised final plat of Carolina East Convenience Center, located just north of Carolina East Mall; and preliminary plat of A-J-H-N Subdivision, located on NC 11 across from Carolina East Mall and adjacent to Club Pines.

California-Nevada Line Is Multi-Million Issue

By JOHN RICE
Associated Press Writer
RENO, Nev. (AP) — Hundreds of California landowners could find the titles to their property thrown into question if the U.S. Supreme Court decides in favor of Nevada in a border dispute, according to documents filed in the case.

But even if the court ultimately decides to leave the recognized boundary where it is, attorneys for both states say they plan to seek additional land from the federal government, claiming they were cheated of their inheritance a century ago.

Most of the boundary, which follows the towering Sierra Nevada range for much of its length, is barren desert or remote forest land. But densely populated, highly valuable property surrounds Lake Tahoe, where the straightline border bends sharply.

The dispute is over which boundary survey should be accepted. California sued Nevada in 1977 to have an 1872 survey accepted north of Lake Tahoe and an 1899 U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey line accepted to the south. Those lines have been used — for laws, contracts and other official purposes — since they were drawn.

But Nevada claims the laws of both states recognize an earlier 1863 survey north of the lake. And it charges that the 1872 surveyor, Alexey Von Schmidt, illegally moved the boundary and cheated Nevada of 600 square miles in the process.

The high court has given both sides until mid-December to file additional briefs in the case.

"Regardless of where the boundary is, both Nevada and California have a real interest in ascertaining what the title is to some of these lands," Jan Stevens, California assistant attorney general, said recently.

Stevens said California's "primary aim is to get the titles clarified." He said he plans to ask the court "to make some sort of declaration that the ownership is proper."

In California's El Dorado County alone, 385 parcels of land valued at $50 million sit between the two boundaries, according to a 34-page brief filed in the case by the California Land Title Association.

The brief listed a mass of problems which could arise if the recognized boundary is moved. Contracts, titles and laws which had affected pieces of property for a century suddenly could be thrown aside, it said.

The association recommended that if the line is shifted, California contracts and laws should continue to be enforced on lands suddenly in Nevada. Otherwise, because the two state's laws differ, many land titles and contracts might be illegal and planning and zoning conditions attached to land might be abolished.

Even if the border isn't moved, both states plan to press the federal government to give them more land.

Under their statehood acts, both were granted a certain amount of federal land to sell or grant to private individuals. Thousands of acres of the land granted to Nevada were between the disputed boundary lines.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, NOV. 28, 1979

YOUR DAILY Horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: It's difficult to see just how you can put in effect new plans which now mean so much to you. But you can get better organized so that tomorrow you are in a better position to get into a new line of activity that intrigues you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study into every idea and detail connected with a plan you have in mind so that it can be successful. Entertain, but budget your money.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get rid of stumbling blocks in the path of your progress. Listen to the ideas of a wise adviser. Forget business and think of pleasure now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Instead of seeking new friendships, get present ones on a more ideal basis. Social pleasure is best in the evening. Handle business affairs well early in the day.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Safeguard your reputation in your community. Civic work is best done in the evening for best results. Avoid a tense situation at home.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study projects you want to get involved in and then put in motion early in the evening. Seek those who have the data you need and get it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be conscientious in handling responsibilities and you get right results. Strive for more harmony at home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't start any new associations in the morning and avoid arguments with co-workers. An emergency arises to test your ability.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be efficient at your work and come to a better understanding with co-workers. Don't argue with anyone; use energy constructively.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do not spend too much money for entertainment or you will regret it later. Show more affection for loved one. Forget frustrations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show courtesy at home and avoid arguments with kin. Don't jump into any new interest that comes to your attention now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can produce more if you are really cooperative with associates. Don't be so suspicious of them. Use care in travel.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan how to save and make more money instead of spending foolishly. Get estimates so that you can repair property that requires fixing.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be able to analyze anything well and pick out the flaws in any ideas or projects, but has to be taught to finish whatever has once been started. Give good ethical and religious training and teach good manners, courtesy toward others.

Credit Counseling Booms When Times Turn Rough

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
Thousands of people from all walks of life are jamming credit counseling centers in a last-ditch attempt to get out from under a personal mountain of debt.

"We've had attorneys. We've had doctors. We've had CPAs. There's nobody exempt from this," said Harry Strain, head of the counseling office in Portland, Ore.

There are 190 nonprofit centers like the one in Portland. They operate under the umbrella of the National Foundation for Consumer Credit and they try to help families who have stretched their budgets as far as they will go.

In 1978, the centers held 114,000 counseling sessions. No figures are available for this year, but Robert Gibson, the director of the Washington-based foundation, said the number of applications has "increased dramatically."

Gibson and other counselors say there are lots of reasons for the increase: Inflation. High fuel bills. The loss of a job. Too many credit cards. An income that doesn't stretch quite as far as you thought it would. The total outstanding consumer installment debt today — not counting mortgages — is over $1,300 for every man, woman and child in the country.

For some people, counseling is enough. A little advice — sell the second car, spend less on non-essentials — is all it takes. For about half the applicants, however, the problem is more serious. They need debt management programs.

These families are put on strict budgets: no credit cards, no extras. Each month, they set aside a lump sum of money and turn it over to a counselor who, in turn, uses it to pay the bills — a little at a time. The counselor works with creditors to reach an arrangement that will be fair to both sides. People who can afford it pay a small fee, but local businesses often underwrite counseling programs since the centers offer them a chance to recover money they otherwise might never collect.

Strain's office in Portland is typical. "We have shown quite an increase in our requests for counseling," he said. "It's a lot of things ... A lot of people have ... gone ahead and spent as they would have ordinarily and that dollar didn't bring what the other dollar did."

Credit cards are the downfall of some, Strain said. "What so many people have not realized is that they use this card as phony money — and it isn't money at all. And they have that day of reckoning."

Gibson said the inflation psychology — buy now before the price goes up and pay for your purchase with cheaper dollars — is dangerous, particularly in an economy as uncertain as today's. "If we do indeed get into an unemployment situation where the percentage of unemployment grows to 8 or 9 or 10 percent, those families ... will have no dollars — cheap or otherwise."

Mayneen Dykstra of the Central Illinois Consumer Credit Counseling Service in Peoria said that a comfortable income is no insurance against debt.

"In Peoria, the economy is good. The take-home pay really is good. But I think families believe they can do more with their dollars than what they can actually do ... They've never taken home so much money and they think it'll buy more than what it really does."

A profile of the families in trouble in Peoria in the first six months of this year shows an average annual income of $17,049 and an average outstanding installment debt of $10,627. Both income and debt are about 20 percent higher than they were in 1978.

The 1979 families are older than last year's: The average age of the client is 31 as opposed to 29. They have more creditors: 13 instead of 12. And more are buying homes: 34 percent versus 28 percent.

It takes most families from one to three years to get out of debt, Mrs. Dykstra said. There are few repeaters.

Strain said the transition from red ink to black isn't easy. "It's the first two or three months that's the hardest," he said. All credit cards must go. "We take them and cut them in half and mail them back to their creditors..."

Strain said cooperation from creditors has been "excellent." They are willing to wait for their money; in some cases, they suspend finance charges. "We're dispersing nearly $2 million a year out of this one office to creditors so we've proved it works," he said.

Budget Trouble Signals

By The Associated Press
Warning: Your family budget may be headed for trouble.

Here are some of the danger signals:

—Delaying payments a little bit each month.

—Charging necessities and little things. Using credit to buy groceries. Or pulling out a piece of plastic for a $5 purchase.

—Paying only the minimum due each month on revolving accounts.

—Using savings to meet current expenses. You should keep an easily usable savings account equal to one or two months of income.

—Letting debts pile up. As a general rule, your monthly installment debt — not counting the mortgage — should equal no more than 20 percent of your monthly take-home pay.

—Regularly writing checks for more than you have in your account, then rushing to the bank a day or two later to deposit money to cover yourself.

Families in trouble can get help from local affiliates of the National Foundation for Consumer Credit, 1819 H St. N.W., Washington, D.C., 20006. The 190 local counseling centers — listed in the white pages of the telephone book under "credit" or "consumer" — work out budgets and help people plan extended debt repayment programs.

Worm Day Next Step

BOONE, N.C. (AP)— Move over Punxsutawney Phil. The woolly worms are here.

Pennsylvania's prognosticating groundhog may be able to predict when winter will end, but researchers at Appalachian State University say the woolly worm can forecast what winter weather will be.

The verdict this winter: "as mild if not milder than 1979 and significantly milder than 1977 and '78."

The university's Center for Woolly Worm Studies has issued winter weather predictions for five years, based on the black and red bands of 667 woolly worms, the caterpillar stage of the Tiger Moth.

The furry worms, called woolly bears in the North, have been used to predict winter weather for more than 200 years.

The forecast is based on the colors of the worms, 13 bands, which are said to correspond to the 13 weeks of winter. Segments seven, eight and nine on all of the worms collected were 100 percent red, a sure indicator of mild weather, said Sandra Glover, director of the center.

Ms. Glover said the scientific accuracy of woolly worm predictions has yet to be documented.

Exxon Chairman Reviews 'Bind'

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — The energy is there, but it isn't cheap any more, the chairman of the board of Exxon Corp. said Monday.

The country is suffering from the effects of a system that created artificially low prices for petroleum products, inefficiently allocated supplies and discouraged domestic production, said Clifton C. Garvin Jr.

Garvin made the remarks at the annual meeting Monday of the Greater Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce.

Perhaps 75 years from now, he said, abundant renewable resources will have replaced dwindling petroleum reserves as the major source of energy.

"The problem is how to get from here to there," Garvin said.

The solution, he said, lies in a revamped energy policy that would:

—Encourage domestic production of oil and alternate energy sources.

—Permit the private sector to use its expertise and management skills to develop conventional and alternate energy supplies.

—And make a "reasonable compromise between our energy needs and our deep concerns for the environment."

New petroleum supplies can be found, he said, but government policies, environmental regulations and price controls have encouraged imports rather than domestic development.

Garvin held out little hope for the development of solar, wind and tidal energy sources.

He called the feeling that solar energy is a solution "the triumph of hope over experience."

While encouraging conservation, Garvin said "we cannot save our way out" of the energy bind.

He also said criticism of oil company's huge profit gains — Exxon's increased 118 percent during the third quarter — was unfair. "The industry is not ripping off the public," he maintained, continuing that the industry's rate of return is about the same as other industries.

FRAUD DISCLOSED
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations said Monday a complex insurance fraud scheme resulted in the loss of $11 million by labor union trust funds in eight states.
