More Violence Said Poised Over Miami

By MIKE McQUEEN
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Sporadic gunfire kept Miami tense today after black leaders warned that violence could break out again on the devastated streets unless the federal government pays heed to the community's grievances.

The gunfire and several fires kept police and firefighters busy, but officials said Miami was generally quiet after three days of violence, the worst riot in the city's history. A beefed-up National Guard force helped impose a dusk-to-dawn curfew that was extended indefinitely.

"Gunfire, looting, all of that seems to have subsided substantially," Miami police spokesman Calvin Ross said during the night.

"There's occasional sniper fire going on, very occasional," Dade County Sheriff's spokesman Henry Weatherspoon reported. "It's almost to the point where it's time to go home."

Schools remained closed for the second straight day.

The death toll climbed to 16 when a black man was shot in a confrontation with police and National Guardsmen at a checkpoint in the area where rioting first broke out Saturday night.

At last count, 370 people had been injured and 787 arrested in the disorders triggered by the acquittal Saturday of four white former policemen in the beating death of a black insurance man, Arthur McDuffie.

Damage was estimated as high as $100 million, not including lost revenues for businesses that have shut down. Virtually every store in Miami's main shopping section closed down Monday after false reports circulated that black protest marches were heading into the area.

Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti, sent here on President Carter's orders, promised "a fair shake and fair play" for blacks and whites alike in a Justice Department review of the case.

U.S. attorneys will begin presenting evidence to a federal grand jury, probably Wednesday, to see if the four policemen should be charged with violating McDuffie's civil rights.

Civiletti, who will brief Carter on the situation here, said, "I hope I can report that Miami needs more help from the Justice Department but that the violence has stopped. The president is terribly concerned about the situation in Miami."

"Let us pray together to resolve this matter," said the Rev. Jesse Jackson, who spoke to the injured at a local hospital. "Innocent people, black and white, are the victims. There must be universal concern."

Unemployment among blacks has been aggravated by the arrival of Cuban and Haitian refugees, he said. The black unemployment rate is estimated at 17 percent, compared with 8 percent for whites, including Hispanics.

Athalia Range, a local black leader, said, "There is a potential for more violence. Waiting for federal funds is not the answer. We must attempt to bring the major corporations together to rebuild the community."

"The thing you need to do," she said later at a rally of 500 blacks, "is get down to the Justice Building and register. The vote is the power in this town and the people know it."

Gov. Bob Graham ordered 2,500 more National Guardsmen into the city to reinforce the 1,100 troops already patrolling the city.

Bars were closed and liquor sales prohibited throughout the area, including nearby Miami Beach. Service station attendants in troubled areas were told to pump no gas except into vehicles. Firearms sales were curbed.

As the city cooled, the extent of the damages became clearer.

Entire blocks were burned out in the northwest Miami Liberty City neighborhood, where the violence first erupted.

Meanwhile, the governor ordered his chief counsel to work with a seven-member citizens advisory panel to investigate the handling of the McDuffie case.

In another development, an officer who was originally charged in the case and admitted choking McDuffie — but was never tried — was told he could have his job back.

Former Dade County officer William Hanlon was notified that terms of immunity granted by prosecutors entitled him to be rehired. It wasn't known if Hanlon wanted his job back.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) —

Groups of rock-throwing teen-agers roamed the streets during the night, looting stores, stoning cars and smashing windows in a predominantly black section of Tampa.

"We didn't have a mob, we didn't have a riot," said Police Maj. Joe Pelkington. He said three loose-knit groups of juveniles, 15 to 20 in each group, were involved in the disturbance.

"They were throwing rocks and bricks at cars with white people and police officers in them," Pelkington added. "After they got through, they got tired and went to bed."

Two private cars were stoned, and their occupants suffered minor injuries from flying glass, police said. Four police cruisers were hit by flying objects, and one officer suffered minor cuts.

PROJECTED ASH PATH — Shaded area shows the projected path through the atmosphere over the United States of the ashes and dust sent up by the eruption Sunday of Mount St. Helens volcano. The National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration predicts the ashes will take about three days to cross the continent. The daily progression is indicated with broken lines, with the ash cloud expected to reach a line just west of the Mississippi by noon today. (AP Laserphoto Map)

More Are Evacuated In Mt. St. Helens Area

By DAVID AMMONS

Associated Press Writer

VANCOUVER, Wash.

(AP) — While lakes bubbled beneath torrents of hot mud and grit sifted down on cities hundreds of miles away, dozens of residents were evacuated from tiny towns around Mount St. Helens as rising waters built up behind a fragile mud dam at the base of the volcano.

Bob Christiansen of the U.S. Geological Survey said a fresh flow of mud, pumice and ash cascaded into the valley of the North Fork of the Toutle River on Monday, forming a 200-foot-deep barrier at the outlet of Spirit Lake. The material would not be able to hold back rising waters, he said.

At least six persons were known dead following the eruption of the mountain Sunday in an explosion that ripped off the top 1,300 feet of the peak, sending forth steaming mudflows and blasting thousands of acres of pristine forest with fine, glassy particles.

Meanwhile, the daily routine of much of eastern Washington ground to a standstill as businesses and schools closed, hospitals reported numerous respiratory complaints and fine ash particles disabled hundreds of automobiles.

Hundreds of miles of state highways were closed as clouds of ash threatened visibility. The State Patrol said the closures exceeded those in the worst winters in Washington history.

The Columbia River between Oregon and Washington was closed to ship traffic as a 25-foot underwater bar of mud reduced the river's depth near Longview and boat captains waited for a 20-mile logjam of debris to pass down the river.

On Monday, Mount St. Helens continued to spew forth ash and steam in a pyrotechnic display scientists said could last for years.

The mountain sent billows of ash and steam 15,000 feet into the air Monday and black clouds of ash drifted east. A meteorologist in Boise, Idaho, said the fallout could reach New England.

The Red Cross estimated 3,000 people were evacuated from the lowlands surrounding the southwest Washington volcano, which began puffing March 27 after a silence of more than 120 years.

Portions of Castle Rock and the tiny communities of Lexington and Silver Lake were evacuated late Monday as waters rose up the fragile debris dam on Spirit Lake. The cities of Kelso and Longview, some 35 miles to the west, were put on alert.

Rescue personnel said helicopters would head back into the area today to continue the search for 29 persons listed as missing — including 84-year-old Harry Truman, who had refused to leave his mountain resort. The lodge was buried under 30 feet of muck.

Meanwhile, a wall of mud flushed down the Toutle River, taking with it a $100,000 home built by Jim and Nancy Althof. An old teakettle was the only thing left behind.

"I've lost everything," said Mrs. Althof, who watched the devastation from high ground. "Cars and trucks went floating by like toys. Then it was like the house was crushed. It took maybe five minutes."

Concern about dwindling food supplies in some areas prompted authorities and grocery stores to launch a convoy from the western portion of the state, Gov. Dixy Lee Ray said.

Steaming mud from the mountainside flattened huge old fir trees and overturned some 25,000 acres of timber, officials reported. Dead animals were sighted.

Fund Advance Will Be Allowed

Pitt County Commissioners yesterday voted to advance the Greenville City Board of Education and Pitt Community College additional funds to help offset increased fuel and other utility expenses this fiscal year, with the understanding that the money be deducted from their 1980-1981 budget.

Under the agreement, the city schools would receive an additional $45,000, while PCC would get $7,000.

Commissioners decided upon the payback arrangement after County Manager Reginald Gray told the board that the county has no surplus funds and that the reserve has decreased to about 5 percent. He noted that the Local Government Commission recommends a 10 percent reserve.

Commissioner Bob Martin, the county's representative on the Mid-East Commission, told the board that efforts by city and county representatives on the commission to make the agency more responsive to local governments has not met with success.

Martin charged that the commission, a planning, development and clearinghouse agency for five Eastern Counties (Pitt, Beaufort, Martin, Bertie and Hertford), is being controlled by non-elected members, who are in effect, not responsible to anyone. He added, however, that efforts by most elected officials — representing municipal and county governments on the commission — to make the commission more responsive to the needs of the governments it serves, will continue.

The commissioners also toured the new county office building yesterday, viewing progress at the facility — the old Pitt County Memorial Hospital building off West Fifth Street — which is nearing completion.

For almost five months, the case of Arthur McDuffie strained still further already tense relations between blacks and whites in Miami. During the weekend, the acquittal of four white ex-policemen charged in the black man's death touched off riots and killings. Here is a look at the people and the issues involved:

MCDUFFIE: Arthur McDuffie, 33, was an insurance salesman, ex-Marine and karate expert. His driver's license was suspended after he wrote a bad check for a $35 fine in a traffic accident. Later, a warrant was issued for his arrest after he skipped a court appearance for driving with outdated license plates. McDuffie was divorced, but he and his wife had planned to remarry. They had two daughters.

THE CHASE: On Dec. 17, an officer in Miami's Central District reported a 1973 Kawasaki 900 motorcycle had run a stop sign. Patrolmen gave chase. Early reports said the cycle's rider — McDuffie — ran at least 25 stop signs and red lights before finally hitting a curb. Initial reports said McDuffie hit his head on the pavement. Later, officials said McDuffie was stopped at an intersection after a brief high-speed chase by officers. McDuffie was taken to a hospital with a fractured skull and died in a coma four days later.

THE CHARGES: Less than two weeks after McDuffie died, charges were filed alleging he had been beaten to death. Six Dade County policemen were accused. According to the state, some of the accused falsified police reports, lied to investigators and battered McDuffie's motorcycle to make the incident look like an accident. Defense attorneys argued police used only necessary force to subdue McDuffie who, they said, was so strong it took four or five officers to handcuff him. Charges against one policeman were dropped and, in exchange, he was granted immunity from prosecution and agreed to testify in the trial, as did two other ex-officers granted immunity. A second policeman was acquitted by a judge who said the state had failed to prove its case. Remaining on trial were: Alex Marrero, 26, charged with second-degree murder; Ira Diggs, 31, charged with manslaughter, aggravated battery and evidence tampering; Michael Watts, 30, charged with manslaughter and aggravated battery; and Herbert Evans, 33, charged with evidence tampering and covering up the incident. All four had been fired after the incident.

THE JURY: The case was moved to Tampa by Dade Circuit Judge Lenore Nesbitt who called the trial a racial "time bomb." The trial opened seven weeks ago and a jury of six white men was selected.

THE VERDICT: All four policemen were acquitted Saturday after the jury deliberated two hours and 40 minutes. One juror — who did not want to be identified — said investigators and prosecutors "blew" the case.

THE FUTURE: U.S. officials will begin presenting evidence to a federal grand jury Wednesday, alleging the four ex-policemen violated McDuffie's civil rights. Arthur E. Nebrass, the agent in charge of the FBI in Miami, said evidence would be similar to that used by the state.

Hotline gets things done for you. Call 752-1336 and tell your problem or your sound-off or mail it to Hotline, The Daily Reflector, Box 1967, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

Because of the large numbers received, Hotline can answer and publish only those items considered most pertinent to our readers. Names must be given, but only initials will be used.

APARTMENTS FOR ELDERLY APPLICATIONS

My mother, 68, will move here soon. I would like to know how to apply for her an apartment in the high-rise apartment building for the elderly going up on E. Third Street. P. T.

According to Emerette Stevenson of the Greenville Housing Authority Office, your mother's application would be accepted, but priority in filling these 60 one-bedroom units will be given to Greenville residents. As of this morning, 94 applications had been received for the complex. To be eligible a couple should have an income of no more than $8700 a year; an individual, no more than $7600.

TELL SITUATION

Lately we have received a number of calls on the Hotline recorder which tell only the name, address and phone number of the caller. Anyone who calls Hotline must tell the nature of his or her problem in order to hope for an answer.

WRONG PHONE NUMBER

The phone number given for Lou (Mrs. Julius) Whichard yesterday as an Overeaters Anonymous contact person was incorrect. The correct number is 758-1419.

Miss Mills, Mr. Meeks Marry

BETHEL—Miss Sharon Ann Mills, daughter of Mrs. Carolyn Taylor of Greenville, and Mr. William Brooks Mills of Fairfield, and Ronnie Joe Meeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meeks Jr. of Robersonville, were united in marriage Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in the Bethel United Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ellis Jennings Bedsworth.

Wedding music was presented by Phillip Dail, organist. Song were "Sunrise, Sunset," "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Prayer." The wedding was directed by Mrs. Ronald C. Griffin of Williamston, aunt of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal Milady gown and veil of ivory sheer chiffon knit over ivory peau de sole designed with a Queen Anne neckline outlined in re-embroidered alencon lace beaded with pearls. The empire bodice was embellished with beaded lace over imported English net that continued over the shoulder and down the back to the waistline with buttoned closure. The full bishop sheer sleeves were enhanced by appliques of lace with embroidered lace cuffs, edged in a ruffle with button closure. The knife pleated chiffon skirt and attached chapel length train were accented with a ruffled flounce of crystal pleating topped by a double row and edged by embroidered lace.

She wore a chapel length mantilla trimmed in scalloped re-embroidered lace held in place by a Juliet caplet overlaid in matching lace beaded with pearls. Appliques of lace were scattered over the veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of ivory silk roses accented by blue and mauve lilies.

The mother of the bride wore a blue formal gown of chiffon designed with a sleeveless bodice and sequined neckline.

The stepmother of the bride wore a formal gown of wisteria knit styled with a fitted bodice with slip straps overlaid in matching material.

The mother of the bridegroom selected a formal apricot gown of chiffon fashioned with a sleeveless bodice. The mothers wore corsages of silk orchids and baby's breath.

Pamela Lynn Andrews of Bethel, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids included Cathy Davis of Fairfield, stepmother of the bride, Mrs. Phyllis Nelson Gilliam of Virginia Beach, Va., cousin of the bride, Miss Penny Ann Meeks, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Cythia Lynn Mobley, both of Robersonville. Carol Brooks Mills, sister of the bride, and Krista Renee Ayres were flower girls.

The bridesmaids wore formal gowns of ivory voile over ivory taffeta designed with an open neckline featuring miniature rolled shoulder straps. The empire bodice was enhanced by a floral print of maize, white, rose, blue and olive green on a dusty blue background with a ruffled overlay of crystal pleating. The waistline was encircled with ivory satin ribbon with tie bow and streamers. The skirt was accented by crystal pleating that extended with floral sprays to a border of print voile. They carried wicker fans with mauve lilies and blue roses.

Flower girls wore formal gown of ivory organza over taffeta designed with a ring neckline with a bertha collar of crystal pleating. An ivory satin ribbon with bow and streamers accented the waistline and accordion pleated skirt.

The bridegroom's father was best man and ushers included Matt Wilson, Robby Leggett, Ward Warren, George Grimes, all of Robersonville, and Willis Vanderford of Gold Point.

A reception followed the ceremony and was held in the church fellowship hall.

The couple will live in Oak City after a wedding trip.

On Friday evening, the couple was honored at an after-rehearsal dance at the Robersonville Country Club given by Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meeks Jr.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

I have never underestimated the power of advertising.

Promise people anything — squeaky hair, sweet breath, clean laundry or relief from embarrassing itching — and they'll trample you to death on your way to the store.

Even in the area of selecting a husband or a wife, advertising seems to be gaining in popularity.

A bachelor in Georgia lettered a big sign that read, "WANTED, GOOD WIFE, NEW OR USED, NO COLLECT CALLS," and displayed it on Route 137. As far as I know, he's still interviewing.

Another ad, with a little more sophistication, was placed in a newspaper by a man in Wisconsin. He advertised for a woman no taller than 5-5, weighing no more than 115 pounds, a non-smoker, infrequent drinker, frugal, aggressive, studious, a late sleeper who preferred a house temperature of not more than 65 degrees. He preferred an agnostic and was willing to negotiate for not more than two children. His responses were in the hundreds.

Some people feel this is demeaning to an institution like marriage. I disagree.

The benefits of advertising should be obvious. At least you know where you stand. Better to find out at the top that your husband plans to keep the thermostat at 65 and under than to go through life feeling like you're living in a House of Wax.

How many women would have gotten stuck with ringaround-the-finger had they known their men had terminal ringaround-the-collar? One-step cameras are fun... but a onestep husband to a woman who likes to dance is something to deal with.

Let's stop kidding ourselves. We're grown up. We know what we want out of marriage and should give as much thought to it as we do when we're buying any major purchase like a car or an airline ticket.

My husband said he wished he'd have asked for a guarantee of parts, or at least more extensive insurance to cover me. During the first six months of our marriage, I had my tonsils out, extensive dental work, mumps, and my feet worked on.

Quite frankly, I would have examined the 50-50 clause a little closer. I didn't realize the bathroom and the children were always to be in my part of the house.

If we had both known what "Marry now... pay later" meant... maybe we'd have read the ads and shopped a little.

Duplicate Winners

The Wednesday morning duplicate bridge club game was played at Planters Bank.

North-South winners included: Mrs. C. F. Galloway and Mrs. B. T. Eastwood, first with a .583 percent; Mrs. Tom Lunney and Mrs. Fred Adams, second; Mrs. Frances Palmer and Mrs. Clara Shackell, third.

East-West: Mrs. Everett Pittman and Mrs. John McConney, first with a .623 percent game; Mrs. Charles Mitchell and Mrs. J. N. LeConte, second; Mrs. Jean Cox Jones and Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, third.

Winners in the Wednesday afternoon game also played at Planters Bank were:

North-South: Mrs. J. M. Horton and Mrs. William Parvin, first with a .600 percent game; Mrs. J. S. Rhodes Jr. and Mrs. Roger Critcher Jr., second; tied for third were Mrs. Eli Bloom and Mrs. M. H. Bynum with Mrs. J. W. H. Roberts and Mrs. Lacy Harrell.

East-West: Mrs. S. M. Woolfolk and Mrs. Kathleen Metz, first with a .559 percent game; Mrs. Mavis Smith and Lewis Newsome, second; Claude Goodman and George Martin, third.

The charity game played Saturday afternoon will benefit the American Diabetes Association. Overall winners were: Mrs. William McConnell and Dave Proctor, first with a .608 percent game;

Tied for second were Mrs. C. F. Galloway and Mrs. Clifton Toler with Mrs. Elizabeth Roque and Dr. Charles Duffy; Mrs. Beulah Eagles and Mrs. Robert

Garden Club Wins National Award

The Greenville Garden Club won a second place Civic Concern Award at the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc.'s 51st annual convention.

President Mrs. R. A. Davis made the announcement at the luncheon meeting of the club Friday at the home of Mrs. John Coughlan. The award was presented at the convention held in Oklahoma City, Okla., earlier this month. The award of $500 is donated by Sears Roebuck Co. for work with the underprivileged and handicapped. Mrs. H. C. Klingenschmitt and Miss Maude Moore compiled the book of information, which won the award.

Mrs. Klingenschmitt and the Greenville club have worked with Mrs. Nancy Walters' Pre-Vocational Activities Program at Aycock Junior High School since 1975. In 1979, some 33 members of the club worked with 128 students in 16 workshops. Mrs. Klingenschmitt is chairman of the project, leading a garden therapy committee comprised of Mrs. Theima Harris, Mrs. M. G. Martin, Miss Moore, Mrs. Robert Murphy and Mrs. Phoebe Owens.

Mrs. Klingenschmitt directed students June 6-7 in weeding, pruning and cleaning the courtyards of the school. The Visual Arts Department of the school made a movie of one of the plant workshops for use with new students in the class. A Barnhill, fourth; Mr. and Mrs. Rick Johnson, fifth; Mrs. J. W. H. Roberts and Mrs. Lacy Harrell, sixth.

Section Winners included: Mrs. Marilyn Bongard and Ed Yauck, third; Mrs. Rose Cox and Mrs. George Arapage, fourth.

private showing was given club members.

All items used in the project are donated by club members.

Changing-by-laws, forming a conservation committee, setting up a budget for the coming year and selecting the yard of the month for Cambridge subdivision during the summer were discussed during the business session.

Mrs. Robert Little gave a report on the bluebird trail.

Mrs. J. C. Galloway's guest was Mrs. Charlotte Evans.

Luncheon tables were decorated with roses, azaleas, day flowers and nandine greenery.

Stitch up a galaxy of gifts with quick-stitch, large-mesh plastic canvas and polyester craft yarns. In the center of the photograph is a Smyrna Stitch napkin holder, flanked by a pair of eyeglass cases. At each end is a purse size notebook, made with a handy pocket for carrying along grocery store coupons.

Pat's "learn-a-stitch" gift collection leaflet includes directions for making each item plus suggestions for several other gifts and diagrams for seven pattern stitches.

To obtain your copy of the "Learn-a-Stitch" Gift Leaflet, send your request for Leaflet No. NP-518 with $1.00 and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Pat Trexler "The Daily Reflector," P.O. Box 810, North Myrtle Beach, S.C. 29582.

Or you may order Kit No. K-518 by sending check or money order for $12.50 to Pat Trexler at the same address. Each kit contains the instruction leaflet plus sufficient craft yarn and plastic canvas to make at least one of each of the gift items shown. Five colors of yarn are included with each kit. Please specify your choice of Harvest Tones, Rainbow Tones or Spring Pastel Tones.

It has been my experience that needlepoint is the easiest of all the various forms of needlecraft to learn and, best of all, some of the fancy pattern stitches are just as easy for the beginner as the basic tent stitch which is usually used for

Today's column is written especially for the self-taught beginners and would be a good one for you to clip and file for future reference.

The seemingly simple task of threading the tapestry needle can be a stumbling block in your first efforts in needlepoint. With sewing thread you are accustomed to moistening and twisting the end of the thread for ease in threading the needle. This "lick and twist" method just doesn't work with most yarns used for needlepoint, however.

You may find little wire needle threading devices at a needlecraft shop or department, but these are easily misplaced so here are a couple of alternatives. Hold the tapestry needle (a blunt-pointed needle with a large eye) in your right hand. Lay one end of a strand of yarn over the tip of the needle. Next grasp the tip of the needle and the yarn between the thumb and forefinger of the left hand. Slip the needle out but keep the folded end of yarn between the thumb and forefinger. Press firmly with these two fingers and push the eye of the needle down onto the folded end of yarn. If this is done correctly, the yarn will slip easily into the eye of the needle.

If this doesn't work for you, cut a little strip of paper no wider than the eye of the needle. Fold the strip in half, lay it over the end of the yarn and push paper and yarn together through the eye.

Never cut into your canvas until you are absolutely certain of the finished dimensions you will want to have. If you are working with traditional canvas made from natural or polyester fibers, allow at least a one-inch margin all around the section to be worked.

In other words, if you want a finished measurement of 12 inches by 12 inches, but the canvas no smaller than 14 by 14 inches. You will need to have this for a seam allowance to turn under, but more importantly, you will need at least this wide an unworked margin for blocking.

With plastic canvas you can work right up to the edge as no seam allowances or blocking are necessary.

Quebec's "Separendum"

Voters in the Canadian province of Quebec are scheduled to go to the polls today to make an important decision about their country's future. In a referendum, citizens are being asked to decide whether the Quebec government should try to work out a kind of "sovereignty-association" with the rest of Canada. Under this arrangement, Quebec would become politically independent, but would keep economic ties with the rest of Canada. Many Canadians believe that such an arrangement would eventually lead to Quebec's complete separation from the rest of the country. Because of this, a Canadian newspaper columnist has nicknamed today's vote the "separendum."

City Manager Ed Wyatt conducted the first of two public hearings Monday night on the appropriation of revenue sharing funds locally for the 1980-81 fiscal year.

Wyatt, in explaining the city's participation in the federal revenue sharing program to a small gathering at city hall, said that Greenville expects to receive a total of $595,358 in revenues in the fiscal year.

The city manager noted that the federally administered program was first enacted in 1972 and distributions are made to state and local governments to be "used, obligated or appropriated for any purpose for which a recipient government may spend its own funds."

According to Wyatt, during the current fiscal year, funds from revenue sharing were used to finance the resurfacing of some five miles of local streets, and for operating expenses for Sheppard Memorial Library, the public transportation system here, and the Recreation and Parks Department.

Wyatt said that while all costs have gone up, revenue sharing allocations have not kept pace. He explained that revenue sharing allocation payments here ranged from $806,781 in 1972-73 down to a projected figure of $580,575 for 1979-80. Since the inception of the program, Greenville has received some $5,485,266 in revenue sharing, he reported.

The city official mentioned that while Greenville is going on the assumption that revenue sharing will be renewed by Congress, exactly what the formula will be regarding distribution is not known. He said that the city feels revenue sharing is based on two things: tax effort and tax base, not population.

Pete Hagans, a Memorial Drive resident, said that the city has been promising for 13 years to fill or blind tile a drainage ditch behind Bancroft Avenue. Hagans said that the ditch supplies drainage for much of Greenville and serves as a breeding area for mosquitoes. He said that he understood funds were available last year to close the ditch.

Ben Shivar of the city manager's staff reported the undertaking of the project is a matter of eligibility. He said that currently it is doubtful the Department of Housing and Urban Development would approve funding for the ditch project with Community Development money.

Hagans mentioned the funds that will be turned over to the city as a result of the Redevelopment Commission's close-out of the Central Business District project. He suggested the ditch project be funded with the turn-over money or by using revenue sharing funds.

Wyatt explained that while HUD was initially lenient in its requirements regarding the use by cities of "hold harmless" funds, spending guidelines have become more stringent on HUD's part now in regard to areas of eligibility.

Wyatt was also questioned regarding continued funding of programs for senior citizens. It was pointed out that the county's Council on Aging program is one of the areas where senior citizens are affected by available funding. Wyatt said that the county also receives revenue sharing allocations.

Councilman Clarence Gray suggested that the city needs to take a close look at the unpaved streets in Greenville and "zero in" on corridors that need improvement.

According to Wyatt, the second public hearing on revenue sharing will be held before the City Council as a part of the annual budget hearing in mid-June.

Arrest For Bad Checks

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A Greensboro man was in Guilford County jail Monday night on charges of issuing worthless checks to the tune of about $30,000.

Charles L. Taylor Jr., 23, was being held in lieu of three $5,000 bonds, pending a District Court appearance today.

He was charged with five counts of false pretenses, 19 counts of worthless checks and one count of producing a fictitious driver's license.

Police said Taylor had eluded arrest since early January. They said he traveled between Greensboro and Florida for several months, cashing checks written on a now-defunct Greensboro construction company he owned with another man.

Taylor reportedly was using a stolen driver's license when he was stopped by officer J.D. Stalls on Monday.

Police said most of the checks were written on a Greensboro account under the name Reid-Taylor Construction Co. Taylor was charged with cashing the checks in the names of Michael Gaydon and Charles Wiggins at various curb markets and grocery stores in at least four states.

Greensboro Police Lt. R.L. Talbot said the total amount of the checks had not been ascertained.

Dairygoat Show Winner

Elton and Hazel Mills' Deano's Applejack was named a Junior Class Champion during the annual Piedmont Triad Dairygoat Show held in Greensboro this past weekend.

The Mills, from Black Jack in Pitt County, have a registered nubian goat herd.

Deano's Applejack is a 14-month-old black nubian buck with frosted ears. His mother is Tarheel N. A.'s Appleblossom; his sire, Yeshua Meadows Champ Deano. Applejack also brought home two blue ribbons.

All seven of the goats the Mills and their daughter, Lorayne, took to the show which they attend annually won prizes. Sandi took a first; Gypsy Lee and Brandy, each a second; Bambi a third; and Freckles and Joe, a fourth.

More than 200 dairygoats from North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia competed.

COMMISSION MEETS
The Public Transportation Commission will meet Wednesday, May 21 at 8 p.m. in the first floor conference room at city hall.

Housing . . .

He mentioned that HUD does not select but has final approval of the developer. The developer would own the project and probably contract locally for project management.

Council members agreed that the possibility of the local Housing Authority managing the project should be encouraged, although the city could only recommend such a move.

Mayor Don McGlohn said that in approving the the NCHFA participation in the program, the city in effect is saying that it does not oppose the project. He contended that the site is a good location for developing subsidized housing.

In other business on the call meeting agenda, an ordinance amendment was adopted regarding the capital project fund for the construction of the new Public Works facility. The amendment reflects the disbursement of interest made on investments realized from the sale of project bond notes.

An amendment was also approved to the Energy Conservation Grant extending the completion date of the grant to Jan. 10 of 1981. The grant contract with the N.C. Energy Division (transit marketing grant) provides for 100 percent of funds for local transit marketing activities.

Breakfast Marks Week

Mayo Allen, director of Public Works here, and division heads in his department held their annual employee breakfast this morning in conjunction with the observance of Public Works Week.

Allen and his staff cooked and served breakfast for the Public Works employees, beginning at 4:30 a.m. for personnel who depart for work at 5 a.m., and continuing until 8:30 a.m.

Members of the City Council and city staff were also invited for the special breakfast, which Allen schedules each year to show appreciation to the Public Works employees for their job dedication.

Bus Drivers Are Honored

City school bus drivers were honored at a recognition banquet held recently at Greenville Middle School. Guest speaker was Doug Thurston of the Greenville Police Department.

Walt Briley, student driver, and Barbara Williams, adult driver, were honored as "Outstanding Drivers of the Year," and were tendered a cash award.

Gold lapel pins provided by the Greenville Woodmen of the World Lodge, and certificates were presented to the following drivers:

Charles Daise, William Frizzell, Shelton Wilson, Sterles Moyer, Vicky Baker, Walter Briley, Barbara Williams, Brooks Newton Jr., James Dixon, and Willie Smith.

Also, Darryl Austin, Melody Joyner, David Gay, Josephine Brown, Ollie Maye, Ann Harkey, Onesson Brooks, Tyrone Tucker, Christopher Jones, and Barbara LaMonica.

Members of the Greenville City School Board, Central Office staff personnel, principals and persons from the transportation and maintenance departments attended the event.

Why Not Trust Laws?

Reports that a major industry is considering a site near Grimesland caused some opposition to organize, and that is everybody's right.

The rest of us shouldn't stand back, however, and assume the opposition is correct about the potential industry.

Trustworthy sources have told "The Daily Reflector" that the county "has been assured that the industry is environmentally clean . . . that it will cause no damage to the environment or natural resources."

Furthermore the industry is described as a blue-chip one that ultimately would employ some 1,500 persons. That's a lot of jobs for an area of relatively low incomes, where jobs are so badly needed.

Over the past decade a large number of laws have been passed to protect the environment and huge numbers of enforcement people hired by the state and federal government. We have supported the movement toward protecting the environment, but to say now that any industry can come in and destroy the environment is to say that the regulatory movement has been a failure.

If we are going to take off on a witch hunt at every hint of new industry in our county we will find ourselves with few new jobs and growing unemployment roles. Perhaps it is time to begin trusting the environmental protection laws we have created.

We Should Be United

Foreign ministers of European Common Market countries approved limited sanctions against Iran over the weekend that were less than the United States wanted.

The sanctions were limited to those issued after the American hostages were seized on Nov. 4.

That is not enough for our western allies to do, and we should make it clear to them that this is the case. If Western Europe feels it needs trade with Iran, it should be reminded that the United States is a fertile market for European production. The western world should stand united against the Iranian international outrage.

'Dissatisfaction'

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH — Oftentimes, North Carolina manages to escape problems which are plaguing other sections of the nation. Not so with divorce.

The most recent figures compiled by the Department of Human Resources show that divorces in this state now total more than 25,000 each year, and that there are well over half as many divorces as their are marriages annually.

In at least two counties there are actually more divorces than marriages: Gaston and Mecklenburg. And in several urban counties the ratio is close to tilting toward more divorces than marriages.

Summarized, there are now about eight marriages per 1,000 population in North Carolina; and nearly five divorces per 1,000 population.

No Progress

There were nearly 1.2 million divorces in the United States last year. More than two million children were affected by the accompanying custody decisions. In North Carolina, nearly 50,000 children were unwilling participants in family splits.

Despite the large numbers of children affected — or possibly because of the large numbers — North Carolina's legal machinery has done little to come to grips with the rapidly escalating child custody cases.

The legal system is "the worst possible way of resolving child custody disputes," says Sam Streit, a Chapel Hill lawyer and juvenile justice specialist. "It's dissatisfaction guaranteed."

Serving as a panelist on a conference sponsored by the Bush Institute for Child and Family Policy where he is a faculty member, Streit and his colleagues were outspoken in their criticism of the present approach.

State Rep. Patricia Hunt, D-Orange, a panelist, conceded that North Carolina's family law "is a mess", but said many legislators place more faith in stability of established law than in necessary change.

And so the children suffer most. Specialists explain that in many divorce cases the children become convinced that they are responsible for the family's breaking up. To then go through a messy court proceeding with charges and counter-charges and final rulings about which parent keeps the children the courtroom.

The review of existing conditions in this state included concern that court dockets are crowded and judges don't have enough time in reaching decisions; that most judges and lawyers are not trained in family relations or child development; that the maneuverings of lawyers and legal rules of evidence keep courts from considering information bearing on the child's future; that children are used as pawns for revenge by only compounds the damage.

Another panelist was District Court Judge John Hill Parker who complained that he has only "a matter of minutes to reach decisions. I am entrusted with all kinds of power, but I do not have time or resources to use it effectively."

Alternatives

A number of other states across the country are experimenting with non-courtroom approaches such as professional mediation to resolve differences in a less formal setting in which consideration may be given to information and personal viewpoints not allowed in

Playing Numbers Game

WASHINGTON — Back in 1976, Saul Pett of the Associated Press was covering the Democratic Convention in Madison Square Garden. He tapped out one of the all-time great leads in political reporting: "Tension is not mounting in New York today." Things were ho-hum then and lamentably things are ho-hum now. We pundits are reduced to playing numbers.

Numbers is what you play when the wells of honest news dry up. It is the only game in town. The numbers we are playing have mostly to do with the independent candidacy of John Anderson of Illinois. If Parson John gets on the ballots in all the states, and if the gentleman hangs tough to the bitter end, and if Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan run a very close race, and if this, and if that, then, why, whaddya know? If you have nothing better to do, read on.

Quite conceivably, the Anderson candidacy could make history in November. He himself has no realistic prospect of winning the White House. Even in the most fevered speculations of the wildest imagination, no one envisions his taking the oath of office next winter. It will be a remarkable achievement if he winds up with even 5 percent of the popular vote nationwide.

But in a close race between Carter and Reagan, 5 percent for Anderson could have a dramatic bearing on the electoral vote — and it is the electoral vote that counts. Because of the operation of the Spoiler Effect in 1976, Carter lost the 26 electoral votes of Oklahoma, Iowa, Oregon and Maine; the four states went to Gerald Ford when Independent Eugene McCarthy drained away 78,000 votes that otherwise would have gone Democratic. As it turned out, Carter didn't need them; he won anyhow.

But reflect upon three of the key states that Carter carried in 1976 and consider the potential impact of Parson John. Carter took Wisconsin by only 35,000 votes; he won Ohio by barely 11,000 votes; and he claimed Pennsylvania by about 123,000 votes. The three states have 63 electoral votes. Take any two of them away from Carter in November, and hello, Ronnie. There goes the old ball game.

Other possibilities enchant the jaded eye. Just switch Texas from the outcome in 1976 and add one other factor. Carter carried Texas in 1976; Reagan is expected to win its 26 electoral votes in 1980. If only Texas changed columns, Carter still would win by 271 to 267. (The magic number in the Electoral College is 270). But suppose Anderson won by a plurality in liberal Massachusetts, depriving Carter of 14 electoral votes

Public Forum

Letters submitted for Public Forum should be limited to 300 words. The editor reserves the right to edit longer letters.

To the editor:

The League of Women Voters has studied and lobbied for many years for a clean environment. Therefore, we are concerned about the possibility of an environmentally damaging industry locating on the old Grimes Plantation near Grimesland.

This industry might well be a very beneficial addition to the economy and overall welfare of Pitt County. However, at this time there has been very little substantive information reported to the public. In view of this and in view of the League's long standing concern for a clean environment, the League urges the public officials to

1. keep the public informed and up to date on what is happening.
2. protect the quality of the land, water and air of Pitt County, and
3. seek the advice of independent experts.

Edith Webber, Natural Resources Coordinator
Patricia Dunn, President
Greenville-Pitt League of Women Voters

To the editor:

Maureen Tucker's letter (Daily Reflector, May 14, 1980) displays honest concern, combined with little else. Ms. Tucker feels that the passage of the ERA would somehow be sacrificing "liberty" to the federal government. Well, yes, we guess she's right. Just as constitutional guarantees of free speech limit our liberty to muzzle points of view, just as constitutional guarantees of right to trial limit our liberty to try and convict citizens of crimes without fair trials, so the ERA would constitutionally limit our liberty to deny equal opportunity and action based on sex.

But there was a smile in her letter. Somehow, ERA will send us on the road to socialism. We wonder if the authors of the Bill of Rights protecting other basic human rights realized that they, too, must have been sending us down the road to socialism.

We truly appreciate concerned citizens — but we appreciate thoughtfully concerned citizens even more.

Some people have reacted to the ERA like frogs in a frying pan. They are right to be concerned, but they have to look and think before they jump.

Strength For Today

THE CHRISTIAN HORIZON

Dean Sperry, a famous Episcopal churchman of a previous generation, once wrote that Christianity is dominated by a provisional pessimism and an ultimate optimism. By this he meant that every Christian person is sick at heart over the world as he sees it, but full of hope as he peers into the future and ponders the power of the Christian gospel.

The world has always been a sinful place, and it is quite natural as we look at the wickedness about us to shake our heads in shame and apprehension.

But the true Christian is optimistic as regards to the future. He knows that Christianity is a heaven working gradually upon human society, which is responding by a slow, if sometimes imperceptible improvement.

Every Christian believes that Christ will someday come back to earth to take possession of the kingdoms of the world. "for we look for a new heaven and a new earth wherein dwells righteousness." — ELSHA DOUGLASS

Nicaragua's Secret Link

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — A secret agreement between the Soviet Communist Party and the Sandinista Marxist Party of Nicaragua, signed in Moscow in late March, points to major new Soviet intervention and a possible Nicaragua-Cuban military accord in the increasingly hostile Caribbean backyard of the United States.

The Soviet government would be unlikely to sign a party-to-party agreement with a foreign country unless Moscow regarded that country as a reliable, long-term partner," a leading Latin American authority told us.

The secret agreement between the two ruling parties is regarded by non-communist Latin nations as a dangerous Soviet intrusion into the Central American heartland. It appears aimed at planting Soviet influence and arms smack on the bridge between the Americas, flanked by what used to be the peaceful lake of the Caribbean but what is now becoming an alien sea dominated by the Soviet dependency of Cuba.

What is actually contained in the secret party-to-party agreement is not known here or by the governments of principal Latin American countries. There is reason to suspect, however, that Moscow is encouraging a military link between communist Cuba and the Sandinistas, who toppled Anastasio Somoza's right-wing dictatorship last year. That link would guarantee money, arms and supplies for Nicaragua.

If so, Moscow would gain automatic entree to the struggling Sandinista regime through a kindly intermediary — Cuba's Fidel Castro. Without Castro, the Marxist revolution in strategically-placed Nicaragua could not have succeeded last summer.

The Soviet plan is to communize Central America and, using that land bridge as a dagger pointing north and south, extend its influence on to the two continents. What is surprising to top policy-makers in the Carter administration is the speed with which this Soviet campaign is progressing, and the increasing boldness of the men in Moscow and their agents in Havana.

U.S. intelligence sources are now certain, for example, that Castro is grading his estimated 144 SAM-2 anti-aircraft missile sites on Cuba. Now single-stage rockets, the Soviet-made SAM-2 is acquiring three new boosters. Some U.S. officials believe the purpose is to provide better air defenses for possible U.S. retaliation against a Soviet-Cuban decision to redeploy nuclear weapons in Cuba some time in the future.

After the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, the Russians promised never again to move offensive nuclear weapons into Cuba. But the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan broke the back of detente and U.S.-Cuban relations are at a new low — poisoned in part by Castro's deadly missionary work in Central America. Castro is clearly preparing for new confrontation with Washington.

He now has at least 2,000 Cuban agents in Nicaragua, including military advisers who control a small training camp at Esteli and a fortified air facility at Montelemar. Some U.S. officials claim that although the Sandinista regime is controlled today by pro-Castro Marxists, a political power struggle continues within the revolutionary group.

If so, there was no sign of it during the four-day, late-March Moscow summit between the Sandinistas and two of the highest Soviet leaders.

How They Count The Jobless

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer
The recent rise in the unemployment rate has put a spotlight on the system the government uses to count the number of people who are out of work.

Officials in the Bureau of Labor Statistics say many Americans do not understand the statistics. "The assumption people make is that we count people who are drawing unemployment insurance. That's wrong," said one bureau statistician.

The figures actually are based on something called the Current Population Survey — a check of a scientifically selected sample of 55,000 households across the country. Households used in the survey are changed regularly so that no family is included on a permanent basis.

Every month, during the calendar week that includes the 19th day of the month, about 1,000 interviewers from the Bureau of the Census contact the sample households and ask each family member over 16 a series of standard questions including: Did you have a job last week? If not, did you actively look for work during the last four weeks?

Anyone who says he or she had a job and got paid for it is counted as being employed. It doesn't matter whether the job is full-time or part-time. (An individual also is counted as employed if he or she worked, without pay, for at least 15 hours in a family business.)

People who were temporarily absent from their jobs because of bad weather, illness, a strike, etc. are counted as employed. Individuals who have more than one job are counted only once — in the job at which they worked the greatest number of hours.

The unemployed are those people who had no job, but actively looked for work during the four weeks preceding the survey. "Actively" is the key word. It's not enough to want a job. You have to have taken some specific step like contacting an employment agency or you are not counted as unemployed. The need for a job is not taken into account. It does not matter whether the unemployed individual is the head of the household or a teen-ager seeking pocket money.

The biggest group of unemployed — ranging from 40 percent to 60 percent depending on economic conditions — is made up of people who have lost their jobs involuntarily, through layoffs, plant closings, etc. The rest of the unemployed are looking for their first job or have quit their old jobs voluntarily.

The employed and the unemployed make up the labor force. The unemployment rate is the number of unemployed divided by the labor force. That means that a large increase in the number of people employed can cause the unemployment rate to go down — even if the number of people out of work actually increases.

Discouraged workers — people who want a job, but who have given up looking — are not counted as part of the labor force. They are listed in a separate category.

A special commission, established in March 1978 to study the unemployment figures and the way they are collected, considered suggestions that discouraged workers be counted as unemployed.

The commission decided against the idea. It did, however, recommend a more specific definition for discouraged workers — including anyone who has searched for a job in the past six months, is currently available for employment and still wants work. And it recommended collecting data on discouraged workers monthly instead of quarterly.

The commission also considered and rejected urging the development of an annual index of economic hardship to measure the impact of a particular individual's unemployment. Instead, the commission said that the Labor Department should prepare an annual report on employment status and earnings in relation to household income.

The commission made several suggestions for improving the sample used in the Current Population Survey to produce more reliable information on minority groups, including blacks and Hispanics and to produce more accurate state and

Frances Young Named Chairman Ass'n Drive

Frances Young of Bethel has been named chairman of this year's membership drive of the Mental Health Association in Pitt County, according to an announcement by Dr. Frank G. Fuller, president.

Mrs. Young, the former Frances Rowlette, lives in Bethel and is a Bethel native. She and her husband, Robert C. Young Jr. have two sons, Rob, four, and Cameron, three months. She was Operation Santa Claus chairman for the Mental Health Association county-wide last year.

Members of the committee to recruit new members serving with her are Annie Laurie Askew, Lucille Sledge and Melba Howard of Greenville; Don Watson of Grifton; Sylvia Moore of Fountain; Sara Albritton of Farmville; Dorothy Dail of Winterville and Nora Lee Craft of Ayden. Annette Cogdell will represent the Pitt Community College Mental Health Chapter.

May has been proclaimed Mental Health Month in North Carolina by Gov. James B. Hunt. Mayors Don McGlohon of Greenville and Walter A. Dail of Winterville have proclaimed this week Mental Health Week in their communities.

Mrs. Young said, "You can help change a lot of things with a Mental Health Association membership, like the myths and misconceptions surrounding mental illness. You can help change the way people deal with life crisis situations. You can help promote laws for the development and funding of mental health services in your community. You can help change the feelings of futility and fear to hopefulness and strength. Your Mental Health card may be the most important card you will carry. We need your help. Won't you join us in our fight against mental illness?"

without handing them to Reagan. What then?

Whole vistas open. The morning papers of November 5 would find no president elected. The putative electoral count would be Reagan 267, Carter 257 and Anderson 14. Perhaps Carter would make an immediate deal with Anderson's Massachusetts electors. That was what happened in 1824, when John Quincy Adams made a deal with Henry Clay. But Parson John is a moralistic man. Suppose he says, no deal.

The election then would go in January to the House of Representatives. Each state has one vote. Under the Constitution it takes 26 states to elect a president. In today's House 29 states have predominately Democratic delegations, 12 are Republican and nine are evenly divided. If the identical pattern of party dominance obtained in the incoming House, Carter presumably would win.

But most observers expect modest GOP gains in the 97th Congress. If the Republicans should gain even one seat in Arizona, one in Colorado, one in Iowa and one in Utah, Carter wouldn't win the necessary 26 votes in the House. We'd have deadlock.

Can you imagine what would happen then? Read the 12th and 20th Amendments to the Constitution and brace yourself. (Or read Daniel Rapoport's fetching analysis in the current National Journal). Ready? Walter F. Mondale would become acting president until the deadlock were broken. The Constitution is unambiguous. The vice president would need the votes of only 51 senators to take the Oval Office. And how do you like them onions?

Playing political numbers is a harmless indoor game. It will serve to pass the time until November, when all the imaginary numbers retire and at last we deal with numbers that are real.

RECEIVES AWARD
RALEIGH—Brenning Marie Cheatham of Greenville received an award as the outstanding college student in the art department at St. Mary's College here.

The award was presented during the second annual honors convocation at the four-year intermediate college for women. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Cheatham.

VOLCANIC ASH CLOUD—Mount St. Helens made its presence known about 130 miles east of Sunday's eruption in the eastern Washington desert, where the sky quickly turned dark over

Farmville Central Wins Region Award

Farmville Central High School has been awarded the Region I award for an outstanding project entered in the 1979-80 North Carolina School Beautification Program. The presentation of the award was made by Dr. Craig Phillips, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the historic House of Chambers of Raleigh's Capitol Building on Tuesday, May 13.

Some 144 schools from across the state participated in this year's Beautification Program which offered students an opportunity to understand local, national, and world problems relating to natural resources. The projects are focused on the improvement of school buildings and grounds and are ranged from building bookcases and planting flowers to building nature trails.

The following attended the School Beautification Program: Melba Corbett, Melinda Williams, London Darden, Brenda Little, Lynn Pollard, Stuart Gordon, and Suzanne Moye. James McAdams and Duffy Lincoln were co-sponsors.

Speaker Bureau Set Up By City

A speaker's bureau has been set up at city hall in a move to help Greenville citizens have a better understanding of the workings of city government.

City Manager Ed Wyatt reported that letters are being mailed to local civic and service organizations informing them that a representative of the city is available as a program speaker, upon request.

Wyatt explained that the plan is an outgrowth of a recent goals-setting process by the City Council and members of the city staff which concluded that the matter of keeping local citizens better informed should be a high priority for the coming months.

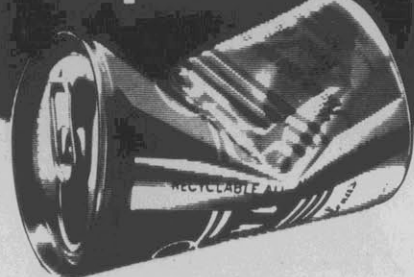

According to Wyatt, the city has been writing presidents of various community clubs and groups telling them of the new bureau. He said it is hoped that invitations will be extended to city officials to speak at scheduled meetings of community groups.

Wyatt said that citizens interested in having a speaker for an organization should call him or Gail Weeks, assistant to the city manager, at 752-4137.

In addition to the speaker's bureau, the city has recently begun a series of weekly radio programs in efforts to improve the city's communications with the general public, the city manager added.

South Korea's Premier, Cabinet Members Resign

By TERRY A. ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Prime Minister Shin Hyon-hwak and the other 18 members of the South Korean Cabinet resigned today, two days after Lt. Gen. Chun Doo-hwan and his military associates took full control of the country.

Several thousand demonstrators again took to the streets of Kwangju, 150 miles south of Seoul, but paratroopers used tear gas to disperse them. Riots in Kwangju Sunday and Monday led to as many as 800 arrests and two deaths.

Seoul was quiet, as it has been since the new martial-law proclamation Sunday. But busloads of riot police and trucks full of armed soldiers backed by armored personnel carriers were stationed at strategic points and intersections.

The Cabinet said it resigned to assume responsibility for "a series of events," including violent anti-government demonstrations by thousands of students in Seoul and five other cities, that took place while President Choi Kyu-hah was on a tour of the Middle East last week.

But informed sources said several cabinet members had been considering resigning to protest the military takeover.

Meanwhile, opposition party leader Kim Young-sam defied the ruling military clique's new ban on political activity today by calling a news conference and then smuggling out a statement to reporters when they were barred from his home.

Kim, the leader of the New Democratic party and one of four prospective candidates in the presidential election that had been promised next year, was confined to his home by an armed military guard and all visitors were turned away. But he smuggled out a statement calling the expansion of martial law last Sunday "a violent act which betrayed the national goal of restoration of democracy."

"We will not be beaten down," said the statement. "Out of this pain we will stand up again and establish a democratic government."

At least 43 National Assembly members from Kim's party resigned from the assembly in protest after the military leaders closed it down to prevent its voting an end to martial law.

The legislature had been scheduled to meet today and was expected to adopt a New Democratic resolution terminating martial law, which the constitution specifies can be done by a majority vote. On Monday, the pro-government Democratic Republican Party, the majority faction, announced it was calling off the session, and the New Democrats did not have enough seats to convene a meeting. But that apparently was not enough for the military leaders.

Martial law was proclaimed last Oct. 26 after the assassination of President Chung Hee-park, but his successor, President Choi, promised Park's authoritarian constitution would be revised before the end of the year and democratic elections would be held next year.

However, Gen. Chun, the leader of the military establishment, reportedly opposes liberalization of the constitution, and after the violent student demonstrations last week demanding acceleration of the democratic reforms, he and Gen. Lee Hee-sung, the martial law commander, pushed through a cabinet decree early Sunday expanding the state of martial law and in effect making President Choi a figurehead.

The martial law command then banned all political activity including comment, closed all schools and universities and arrested 26 political leaders, including Kim Jong-pil, head of the Democratic Republican Party, and Kim Dae-jung, the most popular anti-government leader in the country. Both were expected to oppose Choi in the presidential election, along with Kim Young-sam.

The command issued a statement today saying it would allow political activity to resume and the schools and universities to reopen "in the near future, as soon as stability is restored and the campuses are normalized." It accused the 26 political leaders who were arrested of "plotting strong anti-government struggles."

The Supreme Court today upheld the death sentences given the former head of the intelligence agency, Kim Jae-kyu, and four of his agents for assassinating President Park and four of his bodyguards. The sentences could still be modified by President Choi, but informed sources predicted the five men would be hanged by Friday.

Board To Hold Hearings

The Joint City-County and Greenville Boards of Adjustments will hold public hearings on five requests for special use permits and two requests for variances at the May 22 meeting at city hall.

Public hearings are scheduled by the joint board on a request by R. C. Robbins for a variance in order to enlarge the non-conforming structure on the southeast corner of N. Greene Street and Pactolus Highway, and on a request by Miss Betsy Evans for a special use permit in order to place a mobile home and make improvements at 501 Azalea Street.

The city board will hold public hearings on: a request by Julius Streeter for a special use permit in order to construct an accessory building at 1318 W. Fifth Street; a request by J. M. Kane & Co. for a special use permit in order to construct and operate a racquetball club at 140 Oakmont Drive; a request by Charles E. Kavanaugh for a variance in order to convert the structure at 1410 Dickinson Avenue into a duplex;

A Request by Thomas White for a special use permit in order to have residential quarters for a resident manager, supervisor or caretaker at 404 E. Fourth Street; and on a request by Bingo World in order to operate a bingo center at 220 E. 14th Street.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Special Week Is Proclaimed

This week has been proclaimed National Insurance Women's Week in Greenville by Mayor Don C. McGlohon.

The proclamation acknowledged that the National Association of Insurance Women promotes training and professionalism among its members so they can render "more complete, efficient and timely service to the needs of the insuring public and at the same time promote good will and create a better image of the insurance industry to the public."

Car And Truck Collide Monday

A car driven by Michael Fleming Fuller of 101 Kirkland Dr. and a truck operated by David Leon Houston of Ayden, collided about 3:45 p.m. yesterday at the intersection of Tenth and Monroe Streets.

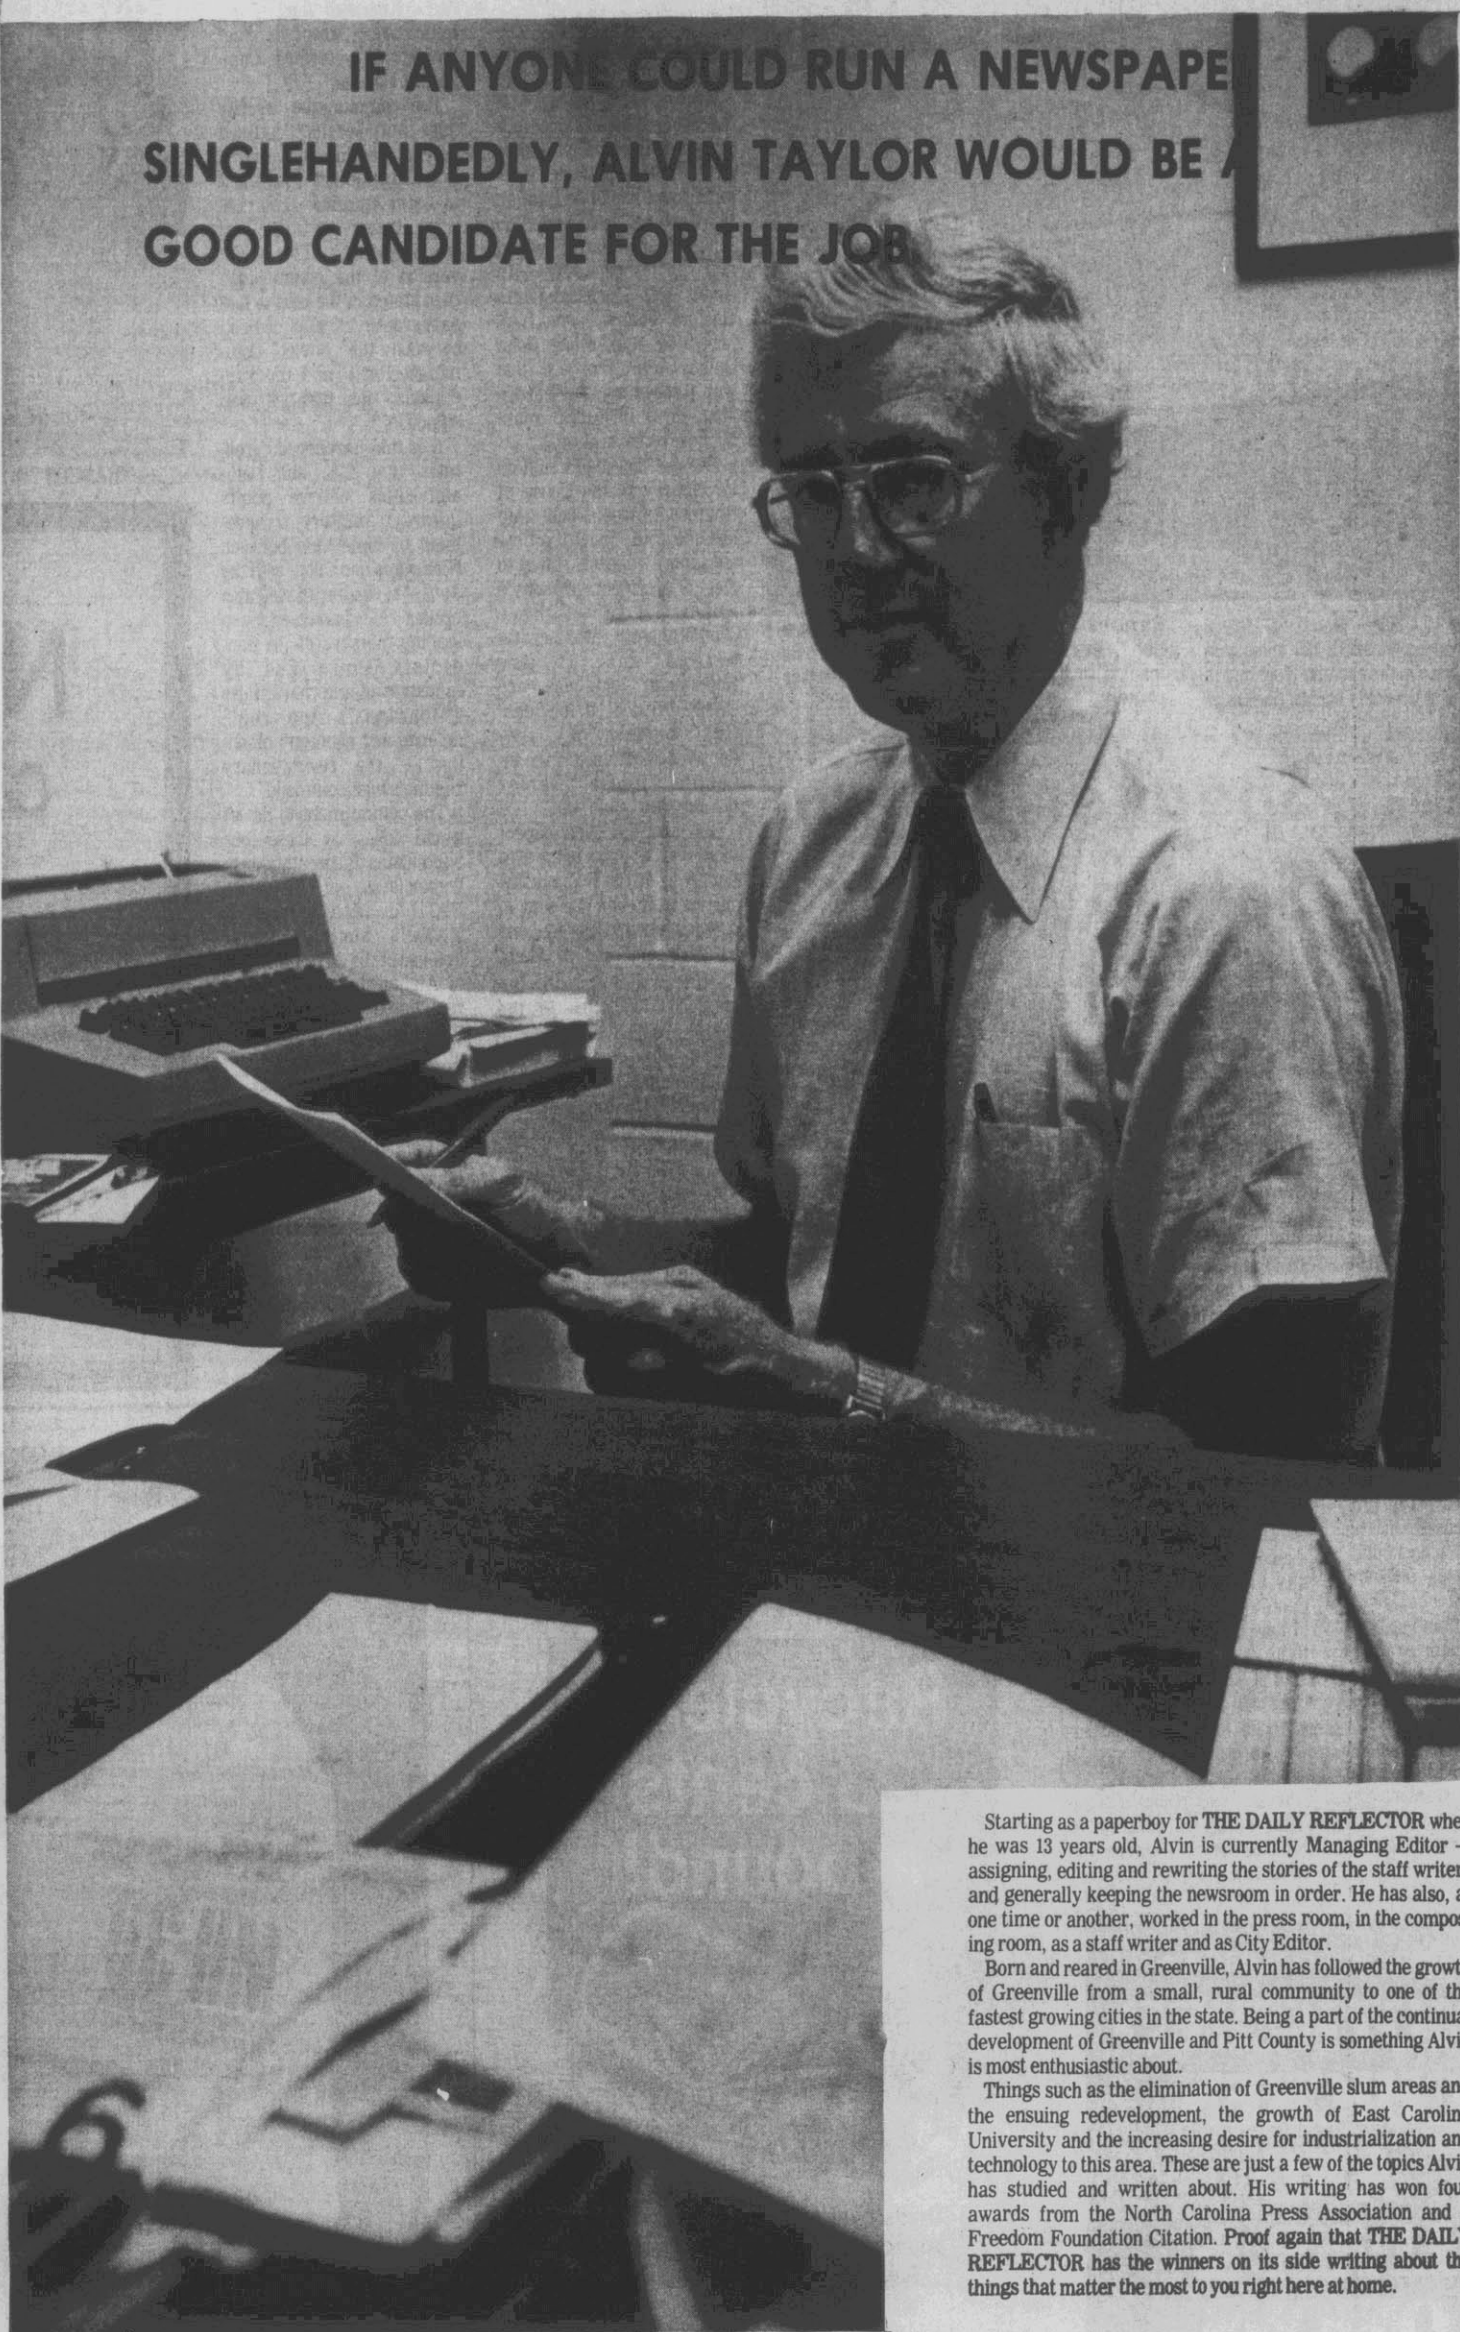

Greenville Police Department investigators estimated damage from the mishap at $1,500 to the Fuller car and $200 to the truck.

DEBT PROBLEMS?

In times of easy credit and high unemployment, many consumers are finding it difficult to manage family budgets as well as being in debt with no hope of remedying the problem. If this sounds like you, then you should consider filing a wage-earned plan under Chapter XIII or Bankruptcy Act, which will enable you to pay off your creditors without declaring bankruptcy or borrowing money. IF ANYONE COULD RUN A NEWSPAPER SINGLEHANDEDLY, ALVIN TAYLOR WOULD BE A GOOD CANDIDATE FOR THE JOB

Starting as a paperboy for THE DAILY REFLECTOR when he was 13 years old, Alvin is currently Managing Editor — assigning, editing and rewriting the stories of the staff writers and generally keeping the newsroom in order. He has also, at one time or another, worked in the press room, in the composing room, as a staff writer and as City Editor.

Born and reared in Greenville, Alvin has followed the growth of Greenville from a small, rural community to one of the fastest growing cities in the state. Being a part of the continual development of Greenville and Pitt County is something Alvin is most enthusiastic about.

Things such as the elimination of Greenville slum areas and the ensuing redevelopment, the growth of East Carolina University and the increasing desire for industrialization and technology to this area. These are just a few of the topics Alvin has studied and written about. His writing has won four awards from the North Carolina Press Association and a Freedom Foundation Citation. Proof again that THE DAILY REFLECTOR has the winners on its side writing about the things that matter the most to you right here at home.

In addition to Alvin's editorial judgement and "Sunday Morning Notes" column, THE DAILY REFLECTOR brings you all the news, sports, advertised specials and other features that have been part of your local newspaper for 98 years.

— N.C. broilers: market steady. Supply moderate. Demand very good. N.C. dock weighted average price is 41.15 cents per pound this week for small purchases of plant-grade broilers picked up at processing plants. Estimated slaughter Monday totaled 1,738,000 head and average live weight 3.91 pounds per bird on May 15.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was little changed today, struggling to maintain the momentum of its spring rally.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial, coming off a run of five consecutive gains, was down .26 at 830.63.

Advances slightly outnumbered declines in the early tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The Dow has climbed more than 90 points from its low on the afternoon of March 27, the day when the collapse of the silver market reached its climax.

Since then, stock prices have responded favorably to a steep decline in interest rates.

But considerable debate continues on Wall Street over whether the market has yet fully recognized the effects of the developing recession on corporate profits and dividends.

Today's early volume leaders included IU International, unchanged at 16; Travelers Corp., down 1/4 at 39, and Engelhard Minerals & Chemicals, up 1/4 at 29 3/4.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average gained 4.01 to 830.89.

See An End To Cuban Flotillas

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — U.S. officials say there's finally an end in sight to the month-old "Freedom Flotilla" that has delivered more than 62,000 Cuban refugees. But the end may not come until another 50,000 have arrived here.

"Now it's a war of attrition," said State Department spokeswoman Joanna Capman.

No boats have gone to Cuba in nearly four days, with U.S. Coast Guard cutters firmly turning back the handful that have tried. Cuban authorities have ignored President Carter's call for all boats to return empty and allow U.S. government-chartered ships to take over transportation —

Mailbox Improvement Week Here

"It's time to do something for your winter-weary friend, the mailbox," says Postmaster H. Lloyd Mills, "and the perfect time to do it is during Mailbox Improvement Week, May 19-24."

Residents of Greenville are urged to examine their mailboxes to determine whether they have been damaged during the winter by weather or vandalism — particularly those located along rural routes.

"Some boxes may only need painting," says Postmaster Mills. "Others may need to be replaced. Mailbox Improvement Week is a good time to decide the best way to improve your mailbox. A damaged or improperly placed box will make it difficult for rural letter carriers to leave that special letter or package."

The Postal Service does not restrict customers to a specific type of mailbox, but does say that all boxes — whether standard or custom-made — must meet certain specifications for size, strength and location. A variety of approved commercial mailbox designs are available for use with decorative posts. "Customers should check with the Greenville Post Office for specifications," the Postmaster said.

"I would remind people that the mailbox regulations have been written with safety and efficiency in mind," said Postmaster Mills. "You should not use massive farm equipment or heavy objects like plows and milk cans filled with cement to hold up mailboxes. Supports of this type are potential accident hazards. They can damage vehicles and cause serious injury to people who accidentally strike them."

BIBLE STUDY

Prayer and Bible study will be conducted at 7:30 tonight at Fleming's Chapel Church, located on the Belvoir Highway.

The lesson will be taught by Pastor Inetta Fleming of Soul Saving Station.

Garner Rains On Rose Parade, 10-1

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
GARNER — A steady rain pelted the ball field at North Garner Junior High School last night throughout play in the first round of the State 4-A Baseball Playoffs. And while it was dry in the dugout, there were clouds over the Rose High School bench just the same.

The Rampants watched as Garner High School, led by the pitching of Roger Jernigan and the hitting of Freddie Elliott, rolled to a 10-1 victory, ousting

Rose from the playoffs. Jernigan limited Rose to only five hits, and allowed two in only one inning—the scoring one.

And by that time, the game had already been decided.

Garner jumped on the Rampants for three first inning runs, taking advantage of a couple of bloop hits, then came back to score six more in the second, including four on a grand-slam home run by Elliott.

Trailing 9-0, it left the Rampants under a gloomy situation for the remaining innings of the game. They were never able to recover from the Trojan's early lead.

"They took us out of the game early," Coach Ronald Vincent said. "That first inning was very costly. Those bloop hits hurt us and got them started. They got momentum from those runs and we just couldn't seem to get them out those first two innings."

Vincent praised Jernigan, who struck out six and walked two, as the best the Rampants have seen this year. "He moved the ball around very well," the coach said. "Garner is really a very solid team all the way through, especially with Jernigan on the mound."

Vincent said he didn't know whether the weather had any effect on the game or not. "We've practiced in weather like this, so it really shouldn't have bothered us."

Nevertheless, the Rampants couldn't get things going against the Trojans, and found themselves looking down the barrel of the Trojan gun early.

Garner got all it was to need in the first inning, scoring three runs. With one down, Ronnie Padgett singled to center. Johnny Banks followed with a little looper that fell in between second and center. Elliott also picked up a hit the same way, to right, leaving the bases loaded.

Then, with two away, Ruff Bailey doubled to deep center, driving in all three baserunners for the 3-0 lead.

The Trojans came back with six more in the second, putting the game well out of reach. Robert Hunt walked with one down and Bobby Bousman, bunting, beat out the play. Padgett singled to right, scoring Hunt, and Banks walked, loading the bases. Elliott followed with a drive to left center that cleared the bases, running the score out to 8-0.

That sent starter Roger Williams to the showers and brought on Scott Galloway. He struck out the first batter, but Bailey followed with another double, scoring when Pat Stills singled to center.

The other Trojan run came in the fourth. Banks singled, stole second and moved up on an out. He scored on Jernigan's sacrifice fly to center.

Rose had a chance in the third, but a double play took them out of it. They lost another chance in the sixth on another double play, and left two on in the fifth.

The lone run, however, came in the fourth. With two away, Galloway walked and Paul McMillan ran for him. McMillan moved up on a wild pitch, then scored when Emmett Walsh doubled to left center.

Mark Shank and Walsh each had two hits to lead the Rose attack. Elliott led Garner with three, while Padgett, Banks and Bailey each had two.

Garner will now take on Cary, a victor over Fayetteville Westover in another first round game, in a deja vu meeting. Cary was the runner-up to Garner both in regular season and in the league tournament in Capital Eight Conference play. The Trojans are now 22-5 on the year.

Rose closes out the year with a 15-6 record.

Everything Falls Into Place For Guidry, Ken Kravec On Mounds

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

Left-handers Ron Guidry of New York and Ken Kravec of Chicago have been struggling for much of the young season but everything fell into place Monday night in a pair of 1-0 victories.

Guidry, whose 4-0 record belies his inconsistent pitching this year, hurled a six-hitter for his first shutout of the season as the Yankees edged the Detroit Tigers.

"It felt like 1978," said Guidry, who won the American League's Cy Young Award two years ago with a 25-3 record. "I haven't lost anything since 1978."

Kravec, who led Chicago with 15 victories a year ago but hadn't pitched in 12 days, yielded four hits before getting ninth-inning help from Ed Farmer as the White Sox nipped the Minnesota Twins.

"I felt that all I had to do was pitch," said Kravec, 23. "I didn't fool around. All I threw were fast balls and curve balls. The warmer weather helped because it was easier to stay loose. All the other times I went out I didn't feel comfortable, but tonight I had my rhythm and I finally felt smooth."

In other AL games, the Kansas City Royals shaded the Oakland A's 6-5 in 11 innings, the California Angels outlasted the Texas Rangers 3-2 in 13, the Baltimore Orioles downed the Cleveland Indians 4-1, the Toronto Blue Jays trimmed the Boston Red Sox 7-2 and the Seattle Mariners turned back the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3 in 12 innings.

Second-inning doubles by Reggie Jackson and Graig Nettles provided the only run Guidry needed. Guidry, who has lost only once since last year's All-Star Game, had a no-hitter for five innings and then worked out of a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the sixth by fanning Alan Trammell and getting Steve Kemp to hit into a double play.

"He had a good fast ball, especially in the sixth," said catcher Rick Cerone. "He just reached back. He was just awesome. He moved the ball around tonight. He usually just rears back, but tonight he hit the corners. That made him that much more effective."

Meanwhile, the White Sox scored off Minnesota's Jerry Koonsman in the third inning when Bruce Kimm drew a leadoff walk and went to third when catcher Sal Butera threw wildly to second attempting to force him on Harold Baines' bunt. Kimm scored on a double by Alan Bannister, who was mired in a 2-for-3 slump,

Royals 6, A's 5

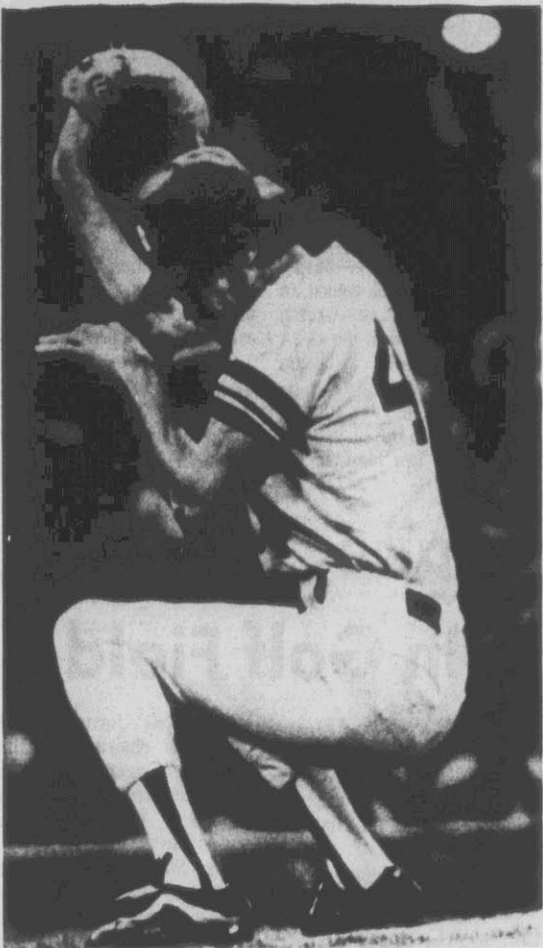

Darrell Porter drilled a two-out single following an intentional walk to George Brett to score Rusty Torres with the winning run in the bottom of the 11th. Torres singled to open the 11th and was sacrificed to second. One out later, loser Dave Hamilton intentionally walked Brett but Porter singled for his second game-winning hit in three games.

The Royals rallied for three runs in the ninth to tie the score, with Dave Chalk contributing a two-run double and Willie Wilson delivering a game-tying single.

Angels 3, Rangers 2
Rod Carew and pinch-hitter Todd Cruz rapped 13th-inning doubles to give California only its third triumph in the last 11 games. Cruz connected off Dave Rajsch after Carew opened the inning with a double off loser Jim Kern, who pitched 51-3 innings in relief of starter Gaylord Perry. Bobby Grich of the Angels tied the score with a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

Orioles 4, Indians 1
Steve Stone allowed six hits before needing last-out help from Tim Lincecum and was backed by a 15-hit Baltimore attack, all singles. Stone lost a bid for his first shutout in almost two years in the ninth inning on singles by Miguel Dilone, Mike Hargrove and Ron Hassey. Tim Stoddard, who has saved all five of Stone's victories, then retired Toby Harrah on a first-pitch forceout.

Blue Jays 7, Red Sox 2
Otto Velez slammed his ninth homer of the season, a three-run blast in the fifth inning, and Al Woods drove in two runs with a single and a solo homer to back Jim Clancy's six-hit pitching and keep Toronto on a half game behind the first-place Yankees in the AL East. Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Dwyer hit solo home runs for Boston. Velez leads the league with nine homers and 29 RBIs.

Mariners 4, Brewers 3
Seattle pushed across the winning run on 12th-inning singles by Julio Cruz, Jim Anderson and Dan Meyer. Meyer also drove in Anderson with the tying run on a sacrifice fly in the eighth. Home runs by Robin Yount and Larry Hise staked the Brewers to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Shane Rawley hurled the final 32-3 innings for Seattle and pitched out of a bases-loaded, one-out jam in the ninth.

Legion To Open Drills

Practice sessions for the Pitt County American Legion baseball team will begin Monday, May 26, coach Pat Smith has announced.

The first session will begin at 6 p.m. at North Pitt High School. Players from Greenville Rose, D.H. Conley, Ayden-Grifton and North Pitt are eligible for participation on the team this season.

Rams Get Wish, To Face White Oak

Headed For A Fall

New York Islanders' Duane Sutter falls to the ice following a check by Philadelphia Flyers' Jack McIlhargey during the fourth NHL Stanley Cup

Islanders Convert Third Period Into Win March, Lead Series, 3-1

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — It all boiled down to the third period. The New York Islanders had taken a 2-0 lead in the fourth game of their National Hockey League championship series, then had watched the Philadelphia Flyers cut it to 2-1 with those 20 minutes left to play.

So, while the fans jammed the hallways at Nassau Coliseum, waiting in line at the refreshment stands and rest rooms, the Islanders were in their clubhouse, pondering the period that lay ahead.

"If you can't win one period in your own building, you don't deserve to win the Stanley Cup," thought center Butch Goring.

"When you're in that situation, when you know if you have a good third period you're going to be up three games to one in the series, it isn't too tough to get ready," added left wing Clark Gillies.

Thus prepared, they lined up, walked under the stands to rink entrance and played one of their best third periods of the playoffs.

They skated off the mushy ice in a muggy building with a 5-2 victory and now they find themselves just one triumph from the first Stanley Cup of their eight-year history.

They did it on a goal and two assists by Gillies, a goal and one assist by Bryan Trottier, more solid goaltending by Bill Smith and the maturity that kept them from losing their heads when the Flyers began to rally.

"We've done it on a lot of poise, a lot of conditioning and a lot of hard work," said Bob Nystrom. "We've been well-coached and we've come up big in the playoffs."

"The big story is we played awful hard, capitalized on our breaks and Smitty (Smith) played very well," said the New York right wing.

That was it. There were no fancy, complicated explanations this humid night because none could better summarize the contest. The Islanders had beaten the Flyers for the 12th time — against four ties and just one loss — in their 17 home games against Philadelphia.

Now one more victory on the road, where they have been at their best in the playoffs, stands between the Islanders and the title.

"Everybody knows it's just one more win," said right wing Mike Bossy, "but everyone knows we're not playing that fifth game at home. We're playing in Philly and that makes it a bigger obstacle."

But this year, unlike so many others in their troubled past, the Islanders have vaulted each obstacle cast in their path. Starting Thursday, they have three chances to win one game — no matter where.

"Right now, they're looking at the Stanley Cup and we're looking at the cat's butt," said Flyers center Bobby Clarke. "They did more things better than we did, so I guess they deserved to win."

For the third consecutive game, the winning team took an early two-goal lead. Bossy scored on a power play at 7:23 and Goring at 13:06, with Goring's tally snapping a string of nine New York goals scored during power plays or shorthanded situations.

John Paddock halved the deficit for Philadelphia, setting up the key third period.

Trottier made it 3-1 at 6:06 with a screened 20-foot wrist shot between the legpads of Flyers goalie Pete Peeters, then Ken Linseman brought Philadelphia within a goal at 11:53.

But then the Flyers — pressing for a tying goal that might have shifted the momentum — played reckless, irrational hockey.

"We played our best game tonight," offered Coach Pat Quinn, "but maybe we didn't play with our heads as well as we could have."

Lions 12, Optimists 3

The Lions spotted the Optimists three first inning runs yesterday, then stormed back to gain a 12-3 North State Little League victory. The win boosted the Lion mark to 2-3, while the Optimists fell to 0-5.

After the three first inning runs, the Optimists were silenced, failing to score again. The Lions came back with three in the third, tying it up.

Then, in the fifth, the Lions scored eight to put it away. Tom Moya got the frame started with a solo home run. Michael Duncan singled and Bert Aycock got a hit. Both moved up on an out, and John Richardson singled in Duncan. Alan Mizelle walked and Lindsey Grimes reached on an error, scoring Aycock. Ralph Harper singled in Richardson and Mizelle, and Moya reached on an error, scoring Grimes. Harper and Moya scored when Duncan reached on another error.

The Lions added one more in the sixth.

Harper, Moya and Aycock led the Lion hitting with two each, and no one had more than one for the Optimists.

First Federal 8, Exchange 3

First Federal remained unbeaten in North State Little League play yesterday, gaining an 8-3 victory over the Exchange. First Federal is now 5-0, atop the league, while the Exchange is 2-3.

First Federal got all it needed in the first, scoring four times. Ervin Best singled and Ricky Outlaw got a hit. Brian Joyner walked, and a triple steal scored Best. Chris Meeks singled in Outlaw and Lee Lewis got a hit, scoring Joyner. Meeks then scored on a passed ball.

First Federal added two in the second and two more in the sixth. The Exchange picked up two in the first, both on a homer by Monty Atkinson, and got the other in the third.

Outlaw led the First Federal hitting with three, while Best added two. The Exchange got only one hit off Outlaw's pitching.

S. Pitt Little League

Ald. & S'land 12, Bethel Bombers 1

BETHEL — Aldridge & Sutherland romped to a 12-1 victory over the Bethel Bombers in Southern Pitt Little League play yesterday.

Reggie Stocks got the victory, pitching a two-hitter. Martin Anderson led the A&S hitting with three, getting a double and two triples.

Aldridge & Sutherland is now 5-2 on the year.

Pitt Babe Ruth

Chicod 6, Winterville 4

WINTERVILLE — Chicod gained a 6-4 victory over Winterville in the opening game of the Pitt County Babe Ruth League last night. The game took eight innings to decide.

Mike Gurkins, who hurled the victory, was the leading hitter for Chicod, getting three, all doubles. Chris Buck, Eddie Roberson, Wesley Smith and Robert Carter each added two hits. No one had more than one hit for Winterville.

Chicod is now 1-0, while Winterville is 0-1.

SNOW HILL — Greene Central got its wish, but the Rams may curse their fairy god mother before its over.

The Rams, taking the first step toward a 3-A baseball title with a 4-2 win over Roanoke Monday night, will travel to Jacksonville Thursday to challenge White Oak. The Vikings defeated Greene Central, 4-1, last year in the quarterfinals en route to their second straight state crown.

The Rams have wanted at them ever since.

But come Thursday Greene Central may not like who they see on the mound — Jeff Horne.

Horne, coming off a bout with tendonitis, struck out 12 and walked 10 against the Rams in last year's playoff battle. Since then he has signed with Florida State and is reportedly going to be the Pittsburgh Pirates' first-round draft choice.

All Horne did in the Vikings' 5-0 opening-round win over Pender County was strike out 18 while giving up only one hit. For the season, Horne has 181 strike outs in 80 1/3 innings, an average of over two every inning. He is 10-1 with a 0.17 ERA.

The Rams are not without some quality pitchers of their own. Greene Central coach Jim Fulghum will probably start ace Kevin Korpi Thursday night against the Vikings. Korpi allowed only his second earned run in 7 2/3 innings Monday night. And if the left-hander pitches as he did the final six innings of Monday night's game, the quarter-final battle could go on forever.

After allowing three hits and two runs in the first, Korpi, now 11-0, settled down. In the final six innings, Korpi gave up but one hit and did not allow a Yellow Jacket to get past second. He struck out 10 and walked three.

"He had good location on the ball, they were just hitting it in the first inning. They had a couple of seem'-eye hits into right field," Fulghum said.

The Roanoke Rapids bus wasn't even parked and the Yellow Jackets were taking potshots at Korpi.

With one gone in the first Bobby Weisner reached on a throwing error by shortstop Donald Shaw and then went to third on Eric Sigmon's double to right. Mark Phillips followed with single to right to bring home Weisner. Steve Heatherly then singled to score Sigmon and Roanoke Rapids led, 2-0.

"They started out very pesky, just as I thought they would," said Fulghum, whose Rams are in the state playoffs for the third straight season.

"They were making contact and were able to get a whole lot early."

The Rams, stung by the quick scores, rushed back. Greg Holmes doubled and Jabo Fulghum walked to lead off the first. After Al Murray and Shaw struck out, Walt Tyndall doubled, driving home Holmes and David Shirley, who was running for Fulghum, to tie the score at 2-2.

"When we got those two runs in the bottom of the first that gave us something to work from," Fulghum said. "We needed those."

Greene Central needed some more if they were going to win and got all they needed in the third.

After Shirley came in to run for Fulghum, who led off with a walk, Murray singled and Shaw reached on a fielder's choice. Shaw then charged head-first into second to knock the ball loose from Heatherly, allowing Tyndall to reach and Shirley to score. Chip Hardy then singled to drive home Shaw and the Rams led, 4-2.

Neither team threatened again as both pitchers settled down and took control. Neither Korpi nor Roanoke Rapids' Mark Phillips allowed a base runner past second the rest of the game, which ended with Korpi striking out the side.

"Let's face it, when you get this far along you're gonna face good pitching," Fulghum said. "At this point, good pitching is going to dominate good hitting."

And if Korpi and Horne hook up Thursday it could be a long night — for both club's hitters.

Palmer Adds Another Expo Victory

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Montreal Expos have National League teams in the hand of their Palmer.

"I'm picking some good days to pitch, I guess," said David Palmer. "The guys are going out and scoring a lot of runs when I pitch."

On Monday, "the guys" supplied their rifle-arm right-hander with a fistful of runs and the hot Palmer went on to his 11th straight victory as a starting pitcher over two seasons, with an 11-4 decision over the Atlanta Braves.

Actually, Palmer allowed Atlanta only one run and five hits in eight innings before Montreal Manager Dick Williams decided to give his relief pitchers some work in the ninth. The Braves scored seven runs before Woodie Fryman preserved the triumph, Palmer's 13th in 14 decisions as a starter.

"If David still had the shut-out I would have let him pitch the ninth," said Williams. "But I thought with the lead we had, it was a chance for our relievers to get a little work. They almost got more than we bargained for."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1 and Philadelphia Phillies stopped the Cincinnati

Reds 6-4.

Palmer held Atlanta hitless until the fifth inning and scoreless until the eighth. While he was doing that, the Expos were rushing to a 10-4 lead. Home runs by Larry Parrish, Gary Carter and Jerry White helped build the margin.

"He was outstanding," said Atlanta outfielder Dale Murphy, who collected two hits but also struck out twice against Palmer.

Steve Garvey slugged two home runs to back the five-hit pitching of Burt Hooton as Los Angeles defeated St. Louis.

After the Dodgers had taken a 2-0 lead against loser Roy Thomas, 1-1, in the third inning, Garvey hit his seventh homer of the season to lead off the fourth. Garvey, who leads the majors in RBI with 32, hit his eighth homer to lead off the sixth inning.

Hooton, 4-3, shut out St. Louis on two singles through six innings but gave up a one-out homer to George Hendrick in the seventh, his sixth of the year. Hooton walked two and struck out two.

Phillies 6, Reds 4

Bake McBride slammed three hits and drove in two runs as Philadelphia rallied to beat Cincinnati. Loser Frank Pastore, 4-2, led 4-2 and retired the first two batters in the Philadelphia seventh when the Phillies stroked four straight hits for three runs and a 5-4 lead.

Steve Carlton, who worked seven innings and gave up 10 hits, was credited with his seventh victory in nine decisions. Reliever Ron Reed pitched two scoreless innings to earn his first save for Philadelphia.

Dropping Charges, If He Behaves

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Cocaine possession charges against James Betterson, a former Philadelphia Eagles fullback, will be dropped if he stays clear of the law for the next 13 months.

Superior Court Judge Barry M. Weinberg imposed the probation Monday and dismissed a more serious charge of cocaine possession with intent to deliver after the Camden County Prosecutor's office admitted it had insufficient evidence to support the allegation.

South Korea Military Acted Apparently To Retain Power

By TERRY A. ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's military leaders have taken open control of the country, banned all political activity, closed the schools and universities and arrested at least 26 prominent persons, both pro- and anti-government. Here is an explanation, in question and answer form:

Q. Why did the military commanders extend and enlarge martial law over the entire country?

A. The proclamation early Sunday cited the violent student demonstrations last week demanding an end to martial law and speedy elections, and "North Korean moves" which were not explained and which U.S. military commanders said they knew nothing about.

Political sources said it appeared that the military, the chief power center since 1961, was in danger of losing some of that power. The student demonstrations were big and getting bigger. The National Assembly was to meet on Tuesday, and the opposition New Democratic Party was offering a resolution to lift martial law, declared last Oct. 26 after the assassination of President Park Chung-hee. On Friday, the leader of the pro-government party, the Democratic Republicans, said he also was in favor of lifting martial law and of advancing the elections promised for some time next year.

Q. Is the military now in complete control?

A. Yes. Legally they are still answerable to President Choi Kyu-hah. But he is a career bureaucrat with no political power or strong backing. Many political observers consider him weak and indecisive, with neither the ability nor standing to control the military.

Q. Who is in charge?

A. Nominally, the martial law commander, Gen. Lee Hee-sung. But behind him, and said to be even more powerful, is Lt. Gen. Chun Doo-hwan, the head of the defense security command and chief of the Korean Central Intelligence Agency. Chun and Lee led the group of younger generals who seized control of the military from a group of older, more moderate leaders last December. Both oppose the promised revision of Park's 1972 constitution, which vests sole power in the president.

Q. Why did they arrest pro-government leaders as well as anti?

A. Perhaps to show they were being even-handed and not just cracking down on dissent. But Kim Jong-pil, the leader of the pro-government Democratic Republicans, had been criticizing the new leaders and pushing for reforms. The founder of the KCIA and once very close to President Park, he was trying to change his image in preparation for running for the presidency.

Q. How does the situation compare with Park's 1961 coup?

A. There are many similarities, although the situation in 1961 was much worse. Student-led riots in 1960 brought down President Syngman Rhee, and disturbances continued. Younger military officers staged a coup in the name of restoring normalcy and chose Park to lead them. President Yun Po-sun was retained as a figurehead until he resigned in 1962. But this time it was not necessary to suspend the constitution since Park included provisions for full martial law in the 1972 constitution.

Q. Is there any chance now for restoration of democracy?

A. President Choi said Sunday there will be no change in the government's timetable for moving toward democracy — constitutional revision this year and elections next year. If that happens, Gen. Chun and his associates will probably write the constitutional amendments and pick the presidential candidates.

PUBLIC NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE
The Board of Commissioners of the Town of Grimesland have scheduled a public meeting to be held at 7:00 P.M. on June 10, 1980 at the Grimesland Town Hall for the purpose of discussing the present status of the Grimesland 201 Facilities Plan. In particular, will be a discussion of the existing and future situation assessments as related to publicly owned central sewer service. The public is invited to attend. It is requested that, if possible, all comments, suggestions, and questions be submitted in writing so that accurate records may be maintained.

No Surprises In Official N.C. Primary Results

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — There were no surprises Monday when the state Board of Elections released the official results from the May 6 primary races.

The figures showed Gov. Jim Hunt received 524,844 votes or nearly 70 percent and Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green got 367,964 votes or 52 percent to give the two men the Democratic nomination for re-election.

In the governor's race, the official canvass showed former Gov. Bob Scott, who challenged Hunt for the Democratic nomination, received 211,289 votes, or 24 percent. A third candidate, Harry J. Welsh received 11,551 votes.

On the Republican side, I. Beverly Lake and C.J. Carstens received 119,255 votes and 28,354 votes, respectively, in the race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

House Speaker Carl Stewart, who narrowly lost to Green in the Democratic lieutenant governor's race, got 341,257 votes, or 48 percent and Clyde Pulley received 13,192 votes.

In the presidential balloting, President Carter and Republican Ronald Reagan were the top vote-getters. Carter received 516,778 votes to top the Democratic ticket, while Reagan got 113,854 to lead the GOP race.

Other Democratic presidential candidates and their total votes were Edmund G. "Jerry" Brown Jr., 21,420, and Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy, 130,684.

Other Republican presidential candidates and total votes received were John B. Anderson with 8,542; Howard Baker, 2,543; George Bush, 36,631; John Connally, 1,107; Philip Crane, 547; and Robert Dole, 629. A total of 4,538 voted no preference.

In other state races:

— Incumbent Thad Eure received 397,782 votes to George Breece's 267,360 in the secretary of state's race.

— Edward Renfrow had 247,993 votes in the state auditor's race, with W.S. Chestnut receiving 172,965, and J.E.B. Davis 157,849.

The votes for Davis were tossed out by the Elections Board, which disqualified Davis as a candidate last week because he was registered as a Republican.

— Keith S. Snyder, an attorney from Asheville, received 72,201 votes in the Republican race for state attorney general, while Nazi leader Harold Covington of Raleigh got 56,017.

— Rep. Walter B. Jones received 66,382 and Joseph B. Hollowell Jr. received 17,170 in the first congressional district race.

— Rep. Charles O. Whitley had 53,337 votes, while challengers Jimmy Hatcher and Larry T. Turlington had 6,578 and 7,127 votes, respectively, in the 3rd District race.

— Rep. Ike Andrews had 58,370 votes. Geoffrey E. Gadsen had 10,008, and Joseph R. Overby had 7,809 in the 4th District race.

— Rep. Richardson Preyer had 44,278 votes, while J.R. Washington Jr. had 11,105 in the 6th District race.

— Rep. Charles G. Rose had 56,749 votes in the 7th District race, while Lynn Batson had 14,029.

— Rep. W. G. Hefner had 45,794 votes, while challengers John E. Gray and Edward Sweet had 5,085 and 11,156, respectively, in the 8th District race.

CONTROL YOUR DEBTS

If your present bills, because of economic pressures, cannot be met by your income, legal relief may be available to you under the provisions of Chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978, which permits individuals to petition the Court for an arrangement allowing a thirty-six month period to discharge indebtednesses, without property repossession or creditor harassment. Attorney's fees, which may be paid in monthly installments, are determined by the Court. There is no fee for an initial conference to discuss your eligibility for a "Wage Earner Plan".

Hits Pay Hike To Legislators

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Republican gubernatorial candidate I. Beverly Lake Jr. had some sharp words Monday for Gov. Jim Hunt's budget recommendations, which included a pay hike for Legislators.

"I'm opposed to the people at the top getting that kind of an increase because they simply don't need it," said Lake, acknowledging that as a state senator in 1978 he had fought for a 25 percent pay hike for legislators.

Lake also was critical of Hunt and the Advisory Budget Commission for not recommending that much of the $358 million in sight for budget increases be used for tax reductions. He said he is sponsoring a bill that would require tax reductions whenever the state has a surplus of more than $20 million.

The GOP candidate said he was not prepared to say what sort of a pay hike he would propose for state workers, but that "we ought to be concerned about the lower-paid state employees. Hunt's budget plan includes a proposal to give state employees a 10 percent across-the-board pay boost.

"Perhaps we won't be able to give them 10 per cent, but with a tax cut and an appropriate pay increase, they will come out better," Lake added.

Lake's comments came as spending recommendations by Hunt and the ABC were unveiled for chairmen and vice chairmen of legislative appropriations committees and subcommittees in preparation for next month's legislative session.

Meanwhile, spokesmen for state workers said the 10 percent raise was not large enough.

"We had hoped to get something closer to the increase in the cost of living," said Emmett Burden, executive director of the State Employees Association.

"Ten percent is a nice raise," said Arch Laney, executive director of the State Governmental Employees Association, which is made up of transportation and correction department workers.

Offer Reward In Killing Case

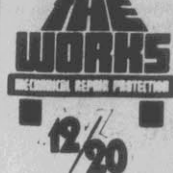

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Gov. Jim Hunt announced Monday that the state has offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the murder of Judy Lynn Boyle of Richmond County.

Ms. Boyle, 21, was shot twice in the back of the head April 2 and found in the basement of Alternatives, a store where she worked.

Wickes' volume buying power allows us to offer great values like these, passing the savings on to you.

Because we cannot predict the ever-changing market, our prices are subject to change, but you can always expect low competitive prices.

Since we purchase from hundreds of nationally known quality suppliers, some products may not appear exactly as illustrated, and even though our advertising is localized, certain stores may not carry all products.
