City Council Denies Referendum Request

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer
The City Council last night denied a request by the Greenville Area Chamber of Commerce to call for a referendum on liquor-by-the-drink prior to the November general election. The Council action, which means that a petition must be signed by at least 20 percent of the city's registered voters in order for a referendum to be held, was a minor victory for anti-liquor forces here who preferred the petition route.

In voting on the chamber's request, two members of the Council (Dick McKee and Rev. William Hadden) were absent and the remaining four representatives split on the issue. Louis Clark and Joe Taft Jr. voted in favor of calling for a referendum, while Judy Green and Clarence Gray opposed the motion.

Mayor Don McGlohon, in ruling that the request was denied, explained that a majority of the elected board (numbering seven with the mayor as a voting member) or four votes were required to pass the motion.

The 1980 General Assembly ratified a bill allowing mixed beverage elections in cities where certain conditions are met. Greenville and Gritton voted in favor of mixed beverages in last year's referendum and under the provisions of the statute, a new referendum may be requested by the Council or by petition of 20 percent of the city's registered voters.

The law regulating ABC referendums stipulates that the election can not be held on the day of any biennial election for county offices nor within 45 days of any biennial election for county offices. The county Board of Elections must give at least 30 days public notice of the election before registration books for the referendum are closed, the law provides, and a 30-day interim period between the time the books close and the date of the referendum is also required.

According to the schedule, the latest date the LBD referendum could be held is Friday, Sept. 18. In order for the referendum to be held on that date, legal notices would have to appear in the newspaper on Tuesday, July 15.

Bob Sauter, a spokesman for the local Restaurant Association which supported the chamber effort to request that the Council call for a referendum, said this morning that an active drive is underway here to secure 3,000 eligible names on a petition that will be submitted to the board of elections on Monday, July 14. Meeting that timetable with the required petition (2,702 names represent 20 percent) would hopefully allow for the referendum to be held prior to the November general election, Sauter said.

David Duffus, appearing last night on behalf of the chamber, requested that the Council call for the referendum at least 45 days prior to the general election. Duffus recalled that 60 percent of those who voted here in last year's mixed beverage referendum supported the issue.

Duffus said that he hoped the decision on whether to call for a referendum would not be based now on the merits of liquor by the drink but on the merits of letting the citizens of Greenville decide whether they want mixed beverages or not.

It was emphasized last night that the good or bad points of liquor by the drink were not at issue but whether to call for a referendum.

The Rev. Van Dale Hudson, publicity director for Concerned Citizens of Pitt County, spoke in opposition to the Council calling for a referendum and asked that the governing board deny the chamber request "and make it necessary for the liquor forces to get 20 percent on a petition."

Hudson said that the Council has the responsibility to transact business for the good of the city and he said that if a referendum on the issues passes, it will only add to the alcoholism problems in the city.

The spokesman for the anti-liquor forces said that the county has survived well without liquor-by-the-drink through the years and he asked "if business has to be bought with booze, is it worth having?" He said that a denial of the chamber's request would take the responsibility for calling for a vote off the council. A delay in voting on the issue would give local citizens time to learn of the dangers of liquor-by-the-drink, he suggested, adding that he found in talking with members of the Council a general lack of understanding of the law pertaining to mixed beverages.

Hudson said that his group has "definite plans" to call for a referendum on the ABC system in the county as a whole.

Tim Rosche, also speaking on behalf of the chamber, reminded the Council that the issue of liquor-by-the-drink was not being discussed but rather the matter of having a referendum to give the citizens a choice.

Frank Steinbeck, speaking in opposition, said that he has been told that it will cost the city $50,000 per year if mixed beverage sales are approved. He said that for every dollar that is realized from the sale of whiskey, it would cost $10. Steinbeck added, "If anybody wants to talk about liquor-by-the-drink, I have the figures for them."

Donovan Phillips said the matter is up to the citizens to decide. He said that both sides will have an opportunity to argue for or against mixed beverages after the

Dr. Kenneth Karr Named ECU Athletic Director

NEW ATHLETIC DIRECTOR—Dr. Kenneth Karr was named this morning as the new athletic director at East Carolina University. Promising no early miracles, Karr pointed to a bright future for the university's athletic program. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
Culminating what Chancellor Thomas Brewer called a "nationwide hunt," Dr. Kenneth Karr was named today as the new athletic director for East Carolina University.

Karr's appointment will become effective August 1. He succeeds Bill Cain, who served in the position for the past four and a half years.

Karr comes to East Carolina following a ten-year stint as athletic director at San Diego State University, where he served as the director of the Department of Athletics for the past year.

The new leader of the athletic program promised no miracle cures or quick solutions for the problems faced by the school, but said that, given time, they could be met.

"In 1969, when I was named as athletic director at San Diego," he told a morning press conference, "I was asked what it would take to get the school on its feet with a successful program. I told them it would take ten years of hard work. Then, perhaps, they would have something to judge us on."

"We have before us the same sort of challenge at East Carolina."

Karr praised East Carolina as having a great athletic history, and a fine staff of outstanding coaches. "We want the program to stay on the incline."

Karr said his first priority would be to learn the staff, along with its interests and goals. "We need to see just exactly what our potential is, and how best to exploit it," he said.

The new leader said that a conference alignment would be among the top subjects he would have to tackle. "Without question, East Carolina needs a conference alignment, particularly in basketball and the non-revenue sports. A conference alignment in football may be some years down the road. Obviously the Southern Conference did not meet the goals of the school in football. There are other conference which would be attractive, but which may not be realistic for us."

Noting that a strong overall program would be his aim, Karr said that a conference would help this goal. "It would get us automatic berths, give us more national exposure, and bring in additional money through post-season competition," he pointed out.

Asked about football scheduling, Karr said this would be one of the most difficult jobs. "Earlier I referred to a ten-year period. That's the answer you get when you start knocking on doors. It's the standard answer from those above you in the scheduling pecking order. But we have to make East Carolina attractive to these teams. Maybe we'll just have to take those 1992 dates, and then work from there."

Karr added that it was very difficult to schedule for football, "much more difficult that the people on the street realize." He did say that he wished to continue playing those schools in the area, especially the Big Four schools, along with other major teams in the Eastern part of the country.

"But we don't want to overschedule ourselves. The fans will get tired of having to explain a 2-9 season, so you have to tread carefully in making the schedule. Our future, however, is at the major level."

In reference to the College Football Association (CFA), Karr said that East Carolina should strive to get into this level of competition. "They are supposed to be the top 75 schools in the country in football. Perhaps getting ourselves into this group

The Greenville and Winterville Jaycees will sponsor a Red Cross Bloodmobile visit Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the American Legion Building, St. Andrews Drive, here.

The goal for this visit is 200 pints. Participation by the general public is urged.

Rezoning Requests Are Okayed By City Council

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Public hearings were held by the City Council on three requests for rezoning last night, with approval given by the board on all three items.

The Council approved a request submitted by E. R. Lewis Construction Co. Inc. for rezoning property, located west of the Eastern Bypass and north of the Tar River, from RA-20 to R-6, of property located between Seaboard Coast Line Railroad and Sara Lane. Bobby Roberson, the city's planning director, said that the street patterns have now been developed to the north and south of the property.

The third request, involving rezoning some four acres just west of King's Shopping Center from Office and Institutional to O&I-2, was also approved by the Council after no opposition was expressed at the public

One Hostage Free; Ailing

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Richard Queen, the first American hostage freed from Iran in more than seven months, arrived in Switzerland today and was whisked off to a Zurich hospital for treatment of a reported psychological or neurological problem.

Iran's revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini ordered the 28-year-old vice consul's release because of his illness. But an official in Tehran said this did not mean any change in Iran's attitude toward the 52 Americans who remained behind, in their 251st day of captivity today. A U.S. Embassy spokesman, who reported Queen's arrival, said the freed American would remain at a Zurich hospital for an indefinite time for treatment. A State Department spokesman said his parents would be flown here to join him later today.

Queen, who grew up in Scarsdale, N.Y., was met by the U.S. ambassador to Switzerland, Richard Vine, when the scheduled Swissair jetliner touched down in Zurich at 11:16 a.m. — 6:16 a.m. EDT — after a six-hour flight from Tehran.

The Council opened a public hearing on a request by AJHM for rezoning, from R-9 to O&I-2, of property located at the intersection of NC 11 and Club Pines Drive, but continued the matter until August. The property involves some 1.81 acres.

Two requests for renewal of mobile home permits, submitted by Burroughs Wellcome Co. and Seaton Howell on Airport Road, were approved for one-year renewal periods.

The Council adopted a resolution concerning an affirmative action plan to implement the board's goal of fair and equal employment, and also adopted an ordinance amending the Personnel Policies Ordinance by adding a section relative to affirmative action.

Mayor Don McGlohon said that the affirmative action plan adoption represented an "exciting action" for the Council and he commended the staff for its months of work in putting the plan together.

City Manager Ed Wyatt

said the plan represented a staff effort and the role of legal advisor. Judy Kornegay, in preparation of the document, was emphasized.

Council members voted to deny a request by the Chamber of Commerce that the city approve a contract with the chamber committing $4,000 from the city for services rendered by the chamber for Operation Overcharge. Operation Overcharge was organized in eastern North Carolina to fight electric rates charged by Virginia Electric and Power Co.

David Duffus, speaking on behalf of the chamber, said that the citizens of Greenville stand to benefit from the efforts of Operation Overcharge and the Utilities Commission in fighting the Veeco situation. He said that the city can support the Operation Overcharge movement through the contract with the chamber.

Council member Louis Clark said that he was a chamber member but he had serious questions regarding

United Way's Budget

The Pitt County Board of Directors has approved a budget of $390,000 in preparation for the upcoming United Way Campaign. This is an increase of $38,522.92 over the 1979-80 goal of $351,477.08.

The Board approved the recommendation of the budget committee for 1981 allocation to the following United Way member agencies: American Red Cross, $41,000; Association for the Blind, $3,250; Association for Retarded Citizens / Pitt County, $4,500; Boys Club of Pitt County, $66,000; Boy Scouts, $51,000; Girl Scouts, $23,000; Mental Health Association in Pitt County, $21,378.92; National Cystic Fibrosis, $7,000; N.C. United Way and member agencies, $19,850.37; Pitt County 4-H Council, $4,500; Real Crisis Center, $19,000; Salvation Army, $47,522; Community Services, $15,800; Shrinkage, $13,821.86; United Way Office, $42,876.

President Jerry Powell expressed appreciation to the Budget Committee for its work, noting its commitment to assuring sound services for citizens of Pitt County.

Members of the Budget Committee include Don Parrott, chairman; Jerry Fulford, Jerry Powell, Judson Croom, Tim Dail, William C. Glidewell, Jr.; Joe J. Long; Etsil Mason; Ed Rentschler; Gene Taylor; and John Williams.

Gene Taylor, 1980-81 campaign chairman, stressed that the $390,000 is the minimum the agencies. "This goal will be met, I am confident," he said. "The response of the people of Pitt County has always given us successful campaigns."

Judge Larkins Signs Order

NEW BERN — U. S. District Court Senior Judge John D. Larkins has signed an order permanently enjoining R. M. Fountain Jr. of Greenville, individually and doing business as Carriage House, Kinston, and Eastbrook and Village Green Apartments, Greenville, from violating the minimum-wage, overtime-pay and recordkeeping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The order also enjoins Fountain from discharging or discriminating against any employee for exercising his or her rights under the act.

The action against Fountain followed investigations made by the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division.

According to the terms of the judgment, which was agreed to without contest, the Labor Department reported, Fountain is enjoined from continuing to withhold $15,212 in back wages due employees under the act.

Hotline gets things done for you. Call 752-1336 and tell your problem or your sound-off or mail it to Hotline, The Daily Reflector, Box 1967, Greenville, N.C. 27834.

Because of the large numbers received, Hotline can answer and publish only those items considered most pertinent to our readers. Names must be given, but only initials will be used.

TRIBUTE

The members of the Greenville Fire/Rescue Department have asked Hotline to pay tribute to Staton-House Fire Department, Winterville Fire/Rescue Department, Eastern Pines Fire Department, Ayden Fire/Rescue Squad and Farmville Fire/Rescue Squad. The members of these departments gave help to the Greenville Department for several days during the time of loss of a fellow firefighter, spokesmen for the Greenville unit said.

They also asked tribute to friends and neighbors of David Evans Jr., who assisted them, especially to Dr. Bob Deyton, who brought the expertise of the medical profession to the scene of the fire at the Evans home in which one was killed and several were overcome. "It is people like these that make our job worthwhile and rewarding. We would also like to thank the citizens of Greenville for their many kind words of concern," they said.

Miss Everette Is Bride

MARKBORO - The Marlboro Free Will Baptist Church was the scene of the Sunday afternoon wedding of Deborah Lynn Everette, of Rt. 1, Greenville, and Roger Eugene Harris of Greenville. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. H. Overman at three o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Everette of Rt. 1, Farmville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling C. Harris of Morehead City.

A program of wedding music was presented by Ricky Parker, pianist, and Mrs. Johnny Parker, both of Farmville, vocalist, who sang "H. More" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown with a chapel train of chiffon and Venice lace accented with schiffli embroidery. The fitted bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline and full length puffed sleeves. Venice lace adorned the bodice and outlined the neckline while the full length sleeves were cuffed at the wrist with schiffli embroidery accented with a schiffli embroidery flounce over the hand. The full length accordin pleated skirt encircled with schiffli embroidery extended into a chapel train.

She chose a waltz length mantilla bordered with schiffli embroidery with an illusion blusher flowing from a lace capelet. Her bouquet consisted of a traditional cascade of white gardenias, stephanotis and gypsophila with variegated ivy and greenery.

Her maid of honor, Gail Blair of Greenville, wore a floral gown of lavender and huckleberry and carried a round bouquet of sonia roses, pink miniature carnations, purple statice and gypsophila.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Vance Leggett of Oak City, who wore a huckleberry gown and Debbie Pardue of Greenville, who wore a lavender gown. Both carried round bouquets with extending nosegays of mixed summer flowers featuring sterling silver and sonia roses.

The father of the bridegroom served as best man and ushers included Jack Harris of Dunnsville, Va., and Jim Harris of Fredericksburg, Va., brothers of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride chose a coral gown with a lace bodice and flowing skirt and wore a single gardenia.

The mother of the bridegroom wore an aqua gown with a matching jacket and a daisy cluster. The mothers and grandmothers wore white gardenia corsages.

The church was decorated with a seven branch candelabra, nine branch candelabra and single stick candelabum, which marked the mothers' pews with white lace, satin and variegated greenery.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The table was adorned with a white skirt to the floor and a white overlay with a white cut lace cloth. The centerpiece consisted of mixed summer flowers featuring pink and variegated lavender and purple miniature carnations.

Mrs. Lee Cannon and Mrs.

MRS. ROGER EUGENE HARRIS

Billy Yelverton were directors for the wedding.

An after-rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the bridegroom at The Colonial Inn.

Following a wedding trip to Nassau, the couple will reside in Greenville. The bride is employed at Pitt County Memorial Hospital and the bridegroom is employed at A. C. Monk Tobacco Co., Farmville.

After Years Of Working, She Wants To Rest

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband never did any work around the house, primarily because he was never home. He was always involved in running his own place of business. Consequently, the painting (inside and out), window washing, carpet cleaning, housekeeping, cooking, plus all the yard work and gardening, were done by me all our married years. The children helped me when they could, but they have their own homes now, so I have to do everything myself.

We are building a new house, and I just finished painting the interior. (I laid all the brick for the patio.)

We live on a ranch, so feeding and looking after the cattle is my job.

Now my husband wants me to start going to the office with him every day and be a steady office hand. As it is, I take care of all his bookkeeping and do the taxes.

Abby, I'm 59 and would love to take it a little easier now, and just stay home and sew for the grandchildren. Don't you think I have earned a little rest?

PUSHING 60

DEAR PUSHING: Earned it? I'd say you require it! I'm exhausted from just reading your letter, lady.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 35-year-old married woman. I am 5 foot 5, weigh 240 - down from 294 - and after wanting a child for nine years, I find that I am two months pregnant.

I am thrilled, but at the same time I have some fears because of my age and weight.

I understand that you have access to the very best medical advice, so would you please find out what my chances are for having a healthy, normal, full-term baby? Also, what are the risks involved with my own life?

Some of my friends have told me that I'll have a heart attack and never make it through delivery. Others say that women over 35 should not risk having a baby because the older the mother, the higher the risk for an abnormal child.

Please hurry your answer. I have only been to a clinic to confirm my pregnancy, and if you think I should continue this pregnancy, I will go to my own physician. Thank you. OVERAGE, OVERWEIGHT AND OVERJOYED

DEAR OVER: No competent physician would venture an opinion without first examining you. Simply knowing your age and weight is not enough. Don't listen to the tales of your friends. Instead go immediately to your own doctor. Fortunately, today it is possible to determine (by amniocentesis) whether the fetus is normal. Good luck and God bless.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SIOUX CITY SUE: "Mutual orgasm" is when both parties reach a climax during sex relations. It is not an insurance company in Omaha.

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Life As It's Lived

First Yard Sale A True Test For Any Marriage

By GAIL MICHAELS
When I hear about couples who have survived 25 years of marriage and suddenly announce that they're getting a divorce, I can come to only one conclusion: they've just held their first yard sale.

There is nothing more likely to bring out irreconcilable differences. From the moment I put an advertisement in the paper for a yard sale at our address, it became apparent that Phillip and I were incompatible. He is a packrat at heart. I have the soul of a hawk at a medicine show.

I was cleaning out storage spaces with enthusiasm I usually reserve for naps. Phillip, on the other hand, became hostile and withdrawn at the mere mention of the upcoming event. The morning before the yard sale he became so agitated that he retreated to his closet for two hours.

He emerged with six pairs of mildewed shoes.

"Here," he said, "you can sell these."

"That's it? What about that 15-year-old tuxedo that you've worn twice?"

"I might need it again sometime."

"Phillip, it's three inches too short. You look like you're wearing pedal pushers."

"I hear they're in style."

"Sure in Southeast Asia.

What about that nasty old cowboy hat of yours?"

"How can you even suggest that I sell that hat? I wore it to Scout Ranch when I was a kid. It has sentimental value."

"So did Meg's first diaper, but I didn't save that, did I?"

We were still quibbling the day of the sale. He sat glumly on a folding chair while I rushed around boosting the already incredibly brisk sales.

"You wouldn't believe what some people are buying," I panted on the way past him. "Some lady even bought that gold plaster eagle."

"You sold my eagle," he moaned. "My brother made that eagle for me. The next thing you'll tell me is that you've sold my bull and matador."

"I did."

He looked at me in disbelief. "I hate yard sales. Five minutes ago some man tried to yank this chair right out from under me. I tell you these people are berserk, and you are, too."

"How can you say a thing like that?"

"Because every time we get low on stuff out here, you run back into the house and bring out another load. You've sold our dishes..."

"I was tired of them."

"...and our glasses, you'd sell the sofa if you could lift it, and all at ridiculously low prices."

"You're just not getting into the spirit of things."

"Darn right! I keep wondering how we're going to replace this stuff."

"I don't have to take this from a man who saves phone books. You're just having an acute attack of sour grapes."

He sighed and settled back in his chair. "Maybe so, but I do wish you'd take that $10 price tag off of Meg."

Local Building Over $1 Million

Greenville was one of 15 cities in the state of more than 10,000 population issuing building permits in February totaling over $1 million, according to John Brooks, state labor commissioner.

Brooks reported that Greenville's permit total for the month amounted to $1,077,900. Winton-Salem topped the 44 reporting cities with a $18,228,441 permit total.

For the first two months of 1980, Brooks pointed out, permits valued at $3,332,471 were issued in Greenville.

Permit figures for several neighboring cities for February and for the first two months of the year included: Elizabeth City, $694,900; $710,900; Goldsboro, $454,166; $1,372,472; Jacksonville, $126,151; $702,483; Kinston, $796,300; $2,460,871; New Bern, $239,150; $737,007; Roanoke Rapids, $138,002; $660,958; Rocky Mount, $668,794; $1,877,680; Tarboro, $16,575; $55,075; and Wilson, $3,336,240; $4,582,673.

According to the labor commissioner, 2,430 permits were issued in February in the 44 cities, reflecting a value of $68,292,793. The figures represented a 3.3 percent drop in number from the 2,513, valued at $67,333,789, issued in January.

According to construction activity figures for February, 15 single-family units were authorized in Pitt County at a cost of $713,550, while two non-residential units were authorized at a cost of $226,000. Additions or alterations were listed for 43 units at a cost of $147,200. Total construction costs in the county amounted to $1,086,750 for the month.

To Detail Charges Against Union Head

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A state AFL-CIO executive said Thursday he will present detailed charges to the organization's executive board next week calling for the permanent replacement of Wilbur Hobby as its state president.

Raymond B. Stepp of Asheville, a vice president of the labor group, earlier had requested the national AFL-CIO to suspend Hobby and called for an investigation of his administration.

Now, Stepp said in an interview, he will seek Hobby's ouster as president. He has cited as a partial basis for his action Hobby's involvement in state and federal investigations of a company owned by Hobby.

The state auditor's office has challenged the handling of more than $260,000 in federal job training funds by Hobby's Precision Graphics Inc.

Stepp said he would present to the state board a resolution calling for all AFL-CIO officers to divest themselves of any financial interests outside the labor group. He also proposed a plan that would place state officers under the direct control of the executive board.

In a statement released Thursday, Hobby acknowledged that the state AFL-CIO owes about $30,000, but he said "we have fluid assets which we expect to turn into cash in the next few weeks that will clear up our debts."

Stepp, in his letter calling for Hobby's suspension, wrote that Hobby "indicates there to be little or no hope of overcoming such a debt, especially in the face of wholesale withdrawals of formerly affiliated local unions."

Hobby denied there has been any mass withdrawals of unions from the state organization.

In his statement, Hobby also charged that news coverage of the job-training investigation by The News and Observer of Raleigh would prevent a fair trial if the matter ends up in court.

"The News and Observer's vendetta against Wilbur Hobby and the N.C. AFL-CIO has put you in the position of a prosecutor, judge and jury of a case that is now progressing toward what will eventually be a court case," Hobby said.

He did not elaborate on the reference to court action.

Hobby said the newspaper was "anti-labor" and was "hell-bent on destroying not only Wilbur Hobby but also the entire N.C. AFL-CIO organization."

Claude Sitton, editor of the newspaper, said in response: "Our news coverage and editorials speak for themselves."

Colonel Hughes Takes Post

WILMINGTON — Col. Robert K. Hughes assumed command of the Army Corps of Engineers Wilmington District in ceremonies here recently.

As the 40th District Engineer, Hughes is responsible for the Corps' water resource development in North Carolina and southeastern Virginia, an area covering some 53,000 square miles and encompassing six river basins and the coastal area of North Carolina.

Prior to his assignment, Hughes was assistant director of military programs at the office of the Chief of Engineers, Washington, D.C.

Better Methods Needed

Leroy James, Pitt extension chairman, reported on the county's crop outlook to the Pitt Agri-Business Association last week.

He said that there are around 20,000 acres of tobacco raised in Pitt County, making it the world's largest tobacco producing county. Support prices have been increased by nine percent for the year to $1.41 per pound.

There are 35,000 acres of soybeans grown in the county with prices expected to be $6.50 to $7 per bushel.

Corn is expected to be sold for $2.75 to $2.85 per bushel and there are 80,000 acres of this crop grown in the county.

Hogs are expected to sell for 39 to 40 cents per pound until October when the price will drop to 35 cents per pound. Cattle prices will remain about where they are at 70-72 cents per pound.

With that outlook for sales, however, farmers are facing much higher costs. James said that chemical prices are increasing at the rate of 11 percent; interest rates are up 28 percent and farm wages up 29 percent. Cost of oil are up over 50 percent.

It cost 74.2 cents per pound to grow tobacco in 1975, 88 cents in 1976, 94.1 cents in 1977, $1.03 in 1978 and $1.10 in 1979. Cost are expected to increase by 15 to 20 percent.

It all means that farmers are going to have to be sharper businessmen to stay in the field. It will mean better bookkeeping, more careful use of supplies and labor, and the optimum use of the expensive equipment that is required for modern day farming

MORRIS

Promoting 'Hot Summer'

By PHILLIP A. LUCE
In 1964 this nation was rocked by a series of riots that began in Harlem. These riots spread to cities such as Cleveland, Newark and Watts in Los Angeles. Many of these were egged-on, if not inspired, by various Communist organizations. I know this to be a fact because I was then one of the Communists that helped to create an infrastructure in Harlem that expanded the violence once the race riots began. A number of my comrades were later arrested and served prison time as a result of their role in these riots.

Now, 16 years later, we may stand on the precipice of yet another long hot summer. I am not a Cassandra and I pray that this will NOT be the case; but the empirical evidence suggests that riots in various U.S. cities are not only a possibility but a probability. The fact that Miami, Fla. has already experienced turmoil has not been lost on the various Communist parties across the United States. A large scale meeting of diverse Communist groups has taken place in New York City and the various diverse Marxist-Leninist-Maoist parties are all propagandizing their members and followers to expect violence in other U.S. cities.

The violence in Greensboro, N.C. that resulted in the death of 5 Communists, is further evidence of a mounting violence-counterintelligence among the extremist elements of our population. The "Death to the Klan" rally held by the Communist Workers Party in N.C., apparently provoked the Ku Klux Klan to react violently. The fact that the FBI was not permitted to investigate either the Klan or the Communists prior to violence is a result of the ultra-liberal federal courts that have castrated the Bureau's ability to investigate subversive groups.

The national emasculating of our internal security apparatus is obvious even to the casual observer. There is no congressional committee capable of investigating (or even empowered to investigate) political terrorist groups such as the Communists. The FBI is hamstringed and local police have been forced to abolish their internal security operations. In fact, internal security within the United States is less today than it was prior to Pearl Harbor.

Communists in the U.S. are intent upon utilizing this breakdown in internal security for their own purposes. A major consideration of the Communists is to sow racial hatred and advocate racial violence. The riots in Miami have now given them an opportunity to use the economic and political climate to their own advantage.

The economic and political conditions within many of our large cities this summer indicate that there is the potential for violence. Already a number of local police forces have been alerted to the possible danger. The reasons for the potential violence revolve around the economic recession and the economic woes of many inner cities that are exacerbated by the actions of liberal politicians.

Water Plant Is For Future

Greenville Utilities will embark on a major capital improvement program on July 23 when bids are taken for a new water treatment plant.

The plant has been in the planning stage for many months and was made possible with the approval of a bond referendum by Greenville voters in April, 1979.

Over-all cost of the project will be an estimated $12 million.

That is quite an outlay for a city the size of Greenville; yet the water facility is needed for the near- and long-term future.

THIS AFTERNOON

Default Spotlight

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — Now comes the time when the two political parties trot out the dogs and ponies for a show which increasingly of late has become a television production instead of a forum for choosing candidates and staking out positions on critical issues.

Little of excitement or drama remains.

Republicans will choose a running mate for Ronald Reagan.

Democrats will determine just how far to go in liberalizing the platform to satisfy the remaining Kennedy clique.

There will be a great deal of speechmaking as delegates try vainly to work themselves into a lather over something long since decided.

Indeed, the average citizen will know the television reporters better, recognize their names and faces, and listen more closely to what those reporters have to say than they will to the politicians on the platform.

Troublesome
And that development, says a Duke University political science expert, marks a troublesome trend in the nation's political process.

Dr. James David Barber, who has written a book called "The Rhythm of Presidential Election in the 20th Century," contends that "journalism has really taken over from the political parties as the important nominators of presidents."

This results not because the news media sought power or took part in some sinister takeover, but from a host of causes including the decline of political party solidarity and loyalty among the people, emergence of special interest or single interest group politics, proliferation of selection primaries to replace backroom bargaining and power politics, restrictions on fund raising and such. In sum, largely by default of the political process itself.

The system which once sited presidential contenders to produce the leader has faded. The power structure used to do that, presenting a candidate as an accomplished fact. Then the conventions with their noisy demonstrations and wide open power struggles took over.

Then, the rules were changed and changed again until state-by-state primaries and caucuses, and delegation membership rules presented such a complex and indecipherable mess that there was no focus.

But people still need information and advice on how to vote; who to vote for. The party no longer commands that position.

Enter the news media. Barber says that with perhaps 50 candidates who put themselves forward as serious contenders, there is no way for the public to pick and choose.

Picking
It is really impossible for the news media to cover that many candidates. "So...the media must make a decision: Who's worth our print space or our television time?" The list is cut to a dozen or so as media leaders decide who to cover and who to ignore.

Image becomes all important as the media plays up or down the so-called winners in various early primary activities which in reality have little or no significance. Candidates court the media stars seeking attention and blessing, virtually ignoring the live public.

After each primary, candidates rush off to appear live on the television screens

Coffee, Tea Or Talk

WASHINGTON — When it comes to "Truth in Advertising," "Truth in Lending" and "Truth in Consumerism," I am ready to man the barricades to fight for the public's right to know. The only area in which I do not believe people should be informed about anything is when it comes to "Truth in Flying."

In the past, I have criticized airline pilots who insist on getting on the loudspeaker of their planes and giving the passengers a sightseeing tour of the United States.

"Well, folks, we're now flying over Kansas, which you can't see because of the cloud cover, and pretty soon we'll be crossing the Mississippi, which just keeps rolling along, etc., etc."

I thought that was pretty bad, but it's nothing compared to the pilot who feels his passengers are fascinated with the technical aspects of flying.

I was bouncing around the country last week on three different airlines, and I learned more about planes than I ever wanted to know.

We were sitting at the gate at La Guardia, when the pilot said, "I guess you folks are wondering what the hold-up is. We have a lil' old leak in the hydraulic system, and the mechanics are trying to find it, because once you put these big birds into the air, they need all the power they can get. And while we have a backup system, I think I'll let them fix the leak, just so this lil' old red light up here on the panel will go off."

Ten minutes later — "This is the pilot. Well, it wasn't a hydraulic leak after all. It seems to be a lil' old electric short in the black box. They should be able to repair it in a jiffy by going in under the nose wheel, and splicing the wires that control the afterburner gauges. The reason for the delay is that the pilot

Other Editors Say Beyond Reason

(Goldsboro News-Argus)

Can we afford "cradle to the grave" protection from everything?

Virtually everything we buy has a higher price tag because of the additional cost of production resulting from regulations designed to "protect" us.

Billions of dollars are spent each year by businesses and industries trying to meet governmental regulations and standards bent on providing a perfect environment free of anything that could cause an accident or illness.

Look at what is happening today to Ford Motor Co. After a lawsuit which must have cost millions in direct expenditures and millions more in adverse publicity, Ford finally overcame the courtroom ordeal of the exploding Pinto.

It won the case, but at tremendous cost. Now, with the American automobile industry in serious trouble — Chrysler on the brink of disaster — Ford faces the possibility of the biggest recall of automobiles in history.

Millions of cars covering several years of production could be ordered recalled because of alleged transmission problems. Ford officials insist that the problem is human failure rather than faulty design and construction, and that the incidents are not widespread.

Should the government issue such a sweeping order, the prospects are not that it would save many American lives but that it could destroy Ford Motor Company.

Manufacturers in this country have never hesitated to recall goods when mistakes which pose real threats to health and safety have been discovered.

But it is impossible to create an accident-free anything. The greatest cause of automobile accidents continues to be not minor flaws in transmissions or locations of gas tanks but in the nut behind the wheel. And there is nothing Ford or anyone else can do about that.

Strength For Today

FIRES OF HOPE

Some time ago a new copper smelter was fired up in a backward, depressed area in Zaire. The people of the region were elated by the event, and vowed that this fire, once lighted, would go on for years.

There have been cruel conquerors who have lighted fires which centuries later were burning as a bitter memory in the minds of people whose ancestors were oppressed. The forces of persecution have been burning all over the world since the beginning of history.

There have been foolish persons who have lighted fires of discord and hate in families.

But thank the Lord, there have been brave souls who in seasons of darkness have lighted fires which thrilled men and women with new hope. The Christian martyrs did this centuries ago. There have been fires of glory lighted at periods of our own national history.

There are still noble fires to be lighted, waiting for the courage of gallant men and women to lead the way. — Elisha Douglass

Housing Demand Did Not Fall

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — When mortgage money dried up and interest rates soared, housing prices generally refused to fall, and that has a lot of people disappointed and confused. "Why didn't they?" they ask.

In April, for example, when sales of existing homes plunged to an annual rate of 2.42 million units, lowest in five years, prices rose $900 to $60,400, the highest median ever recorded for resale homes.

Weren't prices supposed to come down when supply exceeded demand? To understand why they did not you must accept as a premise that housing is a unique product. It reacts to a special set of factors.

But the basic factor is that the underlying need for housing hasn't lessened at all. It has increased. What has changed is the supply and cost of credit. They have thwarted demand — but temporarily.

Recognizing this, real estate people say, sellers have held their ground when they could. Rather than lower prices for quick sales they have chosen to delay selling until buyers are able to obtain financing.

Meanwhile, the number of people entering the 25-34 age category swells. It will continue to swell though 1986. More people will become age 30 in the 1980s than in any other decade. They will need houses.

For various other reasons, the supply of housing hasn't kept pace with the need. Builders too have been denied financing, or have been faced with such costly terms they have chosen to withdraw from business.

Rent controls are said to be a cause of reduced supply. Faced with the prospects of rising costs, but with a legal limit on income, builders have refused to commit themselves to construction of apartment houses.

An income dichotomy is sometimes mentioned as supporting the continued increase in median prices. Some researchers claim that while the personal economies of two-thirds of Americans have been in recession for many months, the upper one-third have been able to adjust their incomes or, in some instances, even reduce such expenses as taxes.

That, at least, is one reason advanced for the continued sales of extremely expensive units that, measured in with all other sales, force median or average prices higher. But there are other factors too.

Singles have become home buyers. In 1979, the U.S. League of Savings Associations reports, 22.4 percent of all home buyers were single, up from 17 percent in 1977. Unmarried couples also have taken to buying.

A special factor also is the return to the city. Advance Mortgage Corp., one of the nation's largest mortgage bankers, reports that values in many older city neighborhoods have tripled since 1975.

Donald Hovde, a Madison, Wis. Realtor and former head of the National Association of Realtors, points to still another factor affecting the supply-demand ratio. There is, he claims, a conspiracy against housing.

Throughout the country, he says, towns and cities have restricted housing construction through the use of building codes and so-called environmental restraints, such as in refusing to extend sewer lines. Legitimate environmental concerns have also limited the supply, and in some of the most desirable areas. Water supplies often are limited. And soil in many areas is unable to handle additional sewage demands.

If you ask Jack Carlson, the Realtors executive head, he will tell you that misguided economic policy — fiscal blunders that officials seek to correct by misguided monetary policies — have also limited the supply.

Time after time, and this year too, he says, the burden of inflation control has been placed on monetary policy, which guides money supply and interest rates. Result: Builders cannot afford to build.

The underlying supply-demand position therefore has many private and government housing officials upset. Supply has been limited and may continue to be limited, they say, for months, even years, to come. But, even when under the proper credit conditions is quickly turned into demand, seems almost certain to rise inexorably.

 should be one of our major goals," Karr said.
 As far as bowl competition is concerned, Karr again said there were no easy answers. "At San Diego, we had to form the Holiday Bowl, get into the Western Athletic Conference, and get a chance to win it and play in the game."
 "You have to upgrade your schedule, go 9-2, get attention from the polls, and have a good following of fans who buy tickets when you go on the road. That's what the bowl people look for and that's why so many fourth and fifth place teams in conferences go to bowls."
 A native of Seymour, Ill., Karr earned his B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois—Urbana. During the 1950's, he served as a high school coach at Carrolton and Robinson, Ill., then was an assistant coach at the University of Illinois. From 1958-1964, he was head football and baseball coach at Eastern Montana College, leaving there to take a position as an assistant football coach at Wake Forest University.

 In 1967, he became assistant director of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics at the University of Arizona. Two years later, he was appointed as the new athletic director at San Diego State.
 Under his guidance, the Aztec program grew from Division II to Division I status, joined the Western Athletic Conference, and became a highly successful program.

 potential for innercity crime and violence. Unfortunately, other liberal mayors have taken equally absurd stands this summer.
 The point of this column is not simply to flay the liberals. My concern is that the social, political and economic conditions suggest a strong possibility for violence this summer in the inner cities of the nation. The various Communist newspapers have already begun to suggest that this will indeed become a "long, hot summer". Communist groups such as the Communist Workers Party, the Progressive Labor Party and the Revolutionary Communist Party all advocate the riots in Miami be repeated throughout this country. The terrorist Puerto Rican FALN organization, is, according to captured police reports, intending to create violence in New York during the Democratic Convention.
 Recent years have seen Americans define their "special interests" in terms of race, class, consumerism and other economic subinterests, along with a barrelful of other identifying phrases that isolate people from one another, diminish our common strength and destroy our mutual affection and trust. This fragmentation of our social-civil order denies us our most special common interest — the protection and defense of personal and political integrity.
 In this summer of 1980 it has become vital that as human beings and a nation we fight fear and distrust, and counter the political and social disintegration that provides fertile soil to those whose victories come through political terrorism.

Karr has been a member of a number of NCAA committees, and is currently serving his second term as a member of the Division I Basketball Committee.
 Karr, 52, is married, and the father of two children.
 In announcing his appointment, Dr. Brewer gave praise to former athletic director Bill Cain, calling him a "loyal son who led the university through a period of great growth." He noted that the school has just completed its greatest year in athletics, having winning seasons for 14 of 17 intercollegiate teams.
 "We have come a long way, but we have a long way to go. We are committed to excellence in our athletic program. We spread a nationwide net to find the right person for our program, examining over 65 persons. We feel we have found the best one among them."

 the matter of funding on behalf of the city. He said that he could not, in good conscience, vote to take taxpayers money to pay to support the movement.
 Councilwoman Judy Greene said that she understood other cities have been told it might be illegal to contribute to the movement. She said that attorneys are being paid by the Utilities to fight the Vepco situation.
 Other action taken by the Council included:

— Adoption of a resolution condemning under the law of eminent domain an easement and right-of-way across the lands of L. H. Rountree heirs;

— Expression of concurrence, as requested by Greenville Utilities, in the provision of utility service to Tarwood Subdivision as being consistent with the Council's long range plans for the growth and development of the city;

— Adoption of a resolution authorizing the execution of a contract with Seaboard Coast Lone Railroad covering the installation and maintenance of overhead electrical wire and appurtenances on the railroad's property near the Winterville Substation site;

— Scheduling of public hearings for the Aug. 14 Council meeting on four zoning ordinance and zoning district amendments, and on two rezoning requests;

— Approval of the reduction of right-of-way of Sedgfield Drive across from the Harvey Bradshaw property;

— Authorization given to participate in the N.C. Department of Natural Resources and Community Development's Peer-to-Peer Assistance Program;

— Adoption of an ordinance authorizing the filing of fiscal year 1981 transit assistance applications for administration, operations and planning assistance funds;

— Scheduling of a public hearing for Aug. 14 on an ordinance regulating storm water detention;

— Concurrence in a recommendation by the Recreation and Parks Commission that the new tennis center at Evans Park be named the River Birch Tennis Center;

— Adoption of resolutions approving the sale of four disposal parcels in the Southside Urban Renewal Project and directing that a fifth parcel be readvertised since the high bidder withdrew his accepted offer (the high bidder will lose his bid deposit), and

 — Adoption of resolutions providing for the issuance of $7,500,000 in water bonds, $5,000,000 in electric system bonds, $1,900,000 in Public Works Facility bonds, and $1,000,000 in sanitary sewer bonds.
 A moment of silence was observed prior to the Council session in memory of Lt. Jerry Mills, fire officer with the Greenville Fire-Rescue Department, who died in the line of duty last Sunday morning.

Family Reunion Was Held Here

Relatives from New Jersey, Virginia, Connecticut, Maryland, Washington D.C. and Pennsylvania gathered in Greenville for the first Evans-Fleming family reunion on July fourth and fifth. The event was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Eifil Fleming.

The Bachelor's Benedict Club was the site for Saturday's activities which included: welcome address by Mrs. Ann Fleming Jackson and response by Ms. Elizabeth A. Johnson; invocation by Eifil Fleming; main address by Ms. Jacqui Hawkins; blessing by Raymond E. Fleming. Highlight of the evening was a modern dance performance by Ms. Quanda Boyd.

A cookout and music began the second day's activities. Bowling was the final event of the evening.
 Over 100 family members attended the reunion.

C. L. Bembry Is Honored

FALKLAND — The family and friends of C. L. Bembry gathered Saturday in the Fellowship Hall of St. John Missionary Baptist Church to honor him with an appreciation-testimonial dinner.

The event was held to recognize Bembry's many years of service to the causes of education, his church and his community.

Dr. Andrew A. Best gave the main address, using the theme, "The Measure of A Man." Other tributes were given by the Rev. Charles Dickens, Mother Louise Gorham, Deacon Charlie Dupree, Matthew Lewis, F. H. Mebane, Willie Morris, Johnny Vines, Leroy Redden and James R. Gorham. Music was furnished by Mrs. Molly Small, Ms. Barbara Battle, the Rev. Anton Wesley and Willie Morris, with Johnny Wooten at the piano.

Bembry expressed his delight and gratitude at being honored by his friends and relatives.

Mrs. Myriam Harris and the Rev. Charles Dickens served as directors of the event.

U.S. Shakeup In Eight Latin America Offices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is shaking up its Latin American diplomatic ranks, changing top-level embassy leadership in eight countries.

The net result of the changes, coming just four months before the presidential election, will be fewer political appointees in leadership roles and more career diplomats.

All the new ambassadors require Senate confirmation. U.S. officials acknowledged Thursday that some of the new appointees might end up serving only a few months if President Carter loses his re-election bid and his successor decides to appoint his own ambassadorial team early next year.

And a Senate source, asking anonymity, called the plans "bizarre." But officials say the shakeup is necessary because of an unusual set of circumstances.

In Guatemala, for example, officials say the administration is removing Ambassador Frank Ortiz as a signal to Guatemalan authorities of unhappiness with their inability to curb political violence.

Ortiz is being replaced after only a year on the job by the U.S. ambassador to Chile, George Landau, whose style, officials say, is "more appropriate" for dealing with the situation.

Landau will be replaced in Chile by John Bushnell, a deputy assistant secretary in the State Department's Latin America bureau, while Ortiz is being reassigned as a diplomatic adviser to the U.S. Southern Command in Panama.

Unforeseen circumstances also prompted a switch in Colombia, where Ambassador Diego Asencio was kidnaped and held hostage with other diplomats for two months earlier this year.

Officials felt Asencio should not return to his post, and he will stay in Washington as assistant secretary for consular affairs.

Possible replacements for Asencio include Samuel Eaton, a deputy assistant secretary of state with long experience in hemispheric affairs.

Buchwald Col...

 you as soon as we're airborne, and if I see any red lights on the panel, you'll be the first to know."
 A few days later, I flew from San Francisco to Chicago. It was a different airline and a different pilot. We were somewhere over Colorado.

"Hi, folks. Well, so far we've had a very pleasant trip, but planes in the area are reporting heavy turbulence ahead. Ordinarily, we'd try to fly around the storms, but in this case they seem to be spread over such a wide area that we're just going to have to go lickety-split right through them. It's going to be a little bumpy, but these planes were built to take it, and could even fly through a tornado if they had to. If you look out the window you can see the lightning and black clouds all around us. You have to expect this kind of weather in the summer in this area, as well as lots of hailstorms. So fasten your seat belts, and maybe you'll all have something to tell your grandchildren about."

The next day, I had the fun of flying from Chicago to Upper Michigan. The pilot hadn't given us much information on how he was doing, and I was starting to get a little worried. But as we were making an approach for a landing at Travis City, he suddenly veered off to the left, gunned his engines and started to climb.

"That was a close one," he said over the loudspeaker. "Those of you on the right side of the aircraft probably saw the little single-engine plane which decided to land at the same time we did. Apparently the people in the tower were asleep, or maybe they thought we would both enjoy landing on the runway at the same time. In any case, I think we'll make another pass and hope this time we can set this thing down without a Piper Cub trying to knock our tail off. I don't want anyone back there to worry because I'm going to report the plane as soon as I get on the ground. I'm going to have a few choice words to say to the tower as well."

I'm certain that there must be passengers aboard our airlines who are grateful for all the news they can get on how the pilot of the plane is faring. But I've yet to meet one. Most of us still believe that "Truth in Flying" is for the birds.

YOUR DAILY Horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning brings all kinds of new activities and interests that can help you gain the progress you desire. Make sure you don't make any mistakes in communicating with others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is best for handling responsibilities and to avoid unpleasant strife in the afternoon. Happiness can be yours.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your surroundings and make long-range plans for improvement. Attend a social function in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have work to do that requires special care, so be precise and gain added benefits. Be happy with loved one.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) It may seem difficult to gain your aims early in the day but conditions are bound to improve later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Good day to reach a fine understanding with your family and to keep any promises you have made. Engage in favorite hobby.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Morning is fine for handling routine chores, but be alert for possible danger in the afternoon. Cooperate more with others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use good judgment in the morning where finances are concerned, but later there are likely to be confusing conditions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Showing others that you are a true friend will gain their added goodwill now. Don't neglect important business matters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Know what your true desires are and how best to attain them. Be more optimistic about the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A good friend can be of help to you today, so accept and get busy on projects. Avoid the social in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Delve into civic matters of importance and gain the assistance of loyal friends. Engage in hobby with congenials.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take a new approach on a matter that has been puzzling you a long time and you solve it wisely. Be alert at all times.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be able to get at the truth of any situation, so direct the education along lines of investigation and there could be much success during lifetime. Your progeny will be very good in sports and could be famous.

When this hand was played at a recent tournament, six clubs was quite a popular contract. The declarers adopted two widely different lines. Strangely enough, both were absolutely correct. It was the opening lead that made the difference.

In response to his partner's demand bid, North elected to treat his hearts like a four-card suit, so he responded in diamonds. After a club preference, South's hearts could not be a natural suit—it had to be a cue-bid. North had nothing further to contribute, and South closed out the auction at six clubs.

If West led a trump, declarer was faced with a certain diamond loser and had to handle the spades as well. Since he could not ruff sufficient losers even if he guessed the location of the king of spades, he decided to play to set up hearts. That needed a 3-3 break, distinctly against the odds.

Declarer won the first trick in his hand, cashed the ace and king of hearts, then crossed to dummy's jack of clubs. He ruffed a heart and, when both opponents followed, Declarer drew trumps, crossed to the ace of diamonds and

Strike Vote Held By Actors' Unions

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of two national actors' unions are voting on whether the show must go on, or whether they should stage a strike against prime-time television and movie producers later this month.

The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) joined the Screen Actors' Guild (SAG) Thursday in moving toward possible strike action. The Eastern Section of the AFTRA National Board voted to direct the union's locals in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco to schedule membership meetings "as soon as possible."

AFTRA Executive Secretary Sanford I. Wolff urged that the 45,000 members of his union authorize strike action against the ABC, CBS and NBC networks and several film producers.

discarded a diamond and a spade on the good hearts. He ended up losing only a spade trick.

When the opening lead was a heart, declarer had a better line—the more so because it now appeared that hearts were not breaking evenly. It depended on losing no spade tricks. To accomplish that, declarer had to guess who held the king of spades.

At the table where we watched, declarer took the winning line. He cashed the ace of spades and led the queen. West did not make declarer's lot easy by covering. He played low, but declarer was committed to discarding from dummy. The low spade was ruffed with a low trump, and declarer had to risk returning to his hand with the king of hearts.

That held, and the rest was easy. A spade ruff with the jack of trumps was followed by a heart ruff to get back to hand. Trumps were drawn, and the ace of diamonds was the twelfth trick.

While seeking power to call a strike on or about July 20 "if satisfactory agreements cannot be achieved in the

Pitt Offices Making Move

The Pitt County administrative offices — the county manager, finance officer, county planner and county engineer — will move from their present location in the court house annex to the new county office building off West Fifth Street, Monday and Tuesday.

County manager Reginald Gray said, "I hope our calls will be down and give us a chance to get organized," however, he emphasized, "we're not going to cut the office off from the public. We're going to be open for business, but might not be as prompt in doing things," while the move is in progress, he noted.

Gray said the telephone numbers for the county administrative offices will remain the same, as will the office hours.

The Board of County Commissioners, which has regular meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month, will in the future, meet at the new office complex, rather than at the court house.

Offices of the Pitt County Board of Education and the Department of Social Services have already moved into the building.

The Agricultural Extension Service offices, now located in the Tucker Building on Third Street, at the Greene Street intersection, will move to the new building in the near future.

The new office complex is located in the old Pitt Memorial Hospital building. About $2.3 million has been spent on renovating the structure.

Rules Mistrial In Mayor's Suit

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — A federal judge declared a mistrial Thursday when a jury failed to reach a verdict after seven hours of deliberations in the trial of a $1.075 million civil lawsuit against Bladenboro Mayor Edgar Evans.

The case will be tried again Aug. 13.

Evans was sued by David Gillespie of Bladenboro, who accused the mayor of framing him in a marijuana case in 1977.

Questioned In Other Holdups

RICHFIELD, N.C. (AP) — The FBI said Thursday three men charged with the robbery of a Richfield bank earlier this week also were being questioned about bank holdups in Guilford and Anson counties.

Two men, Jennings Locklear, 22, of Laurinburg and John D. Locklear, 38, of Hamer, S.C., were charged with the Richfield robbery Wednesday. The third man, Albert Locklear of Laurinburg, was charged Thursday.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices edged upward today, steadying after Thursday's sell-off.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, off 11.35 on Thursday, was up .09 at 886.01 by noon today.

Gainers outnumbered losers by a 6-5 margin in the mid-day tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Thursday's decline marked the end of an unsuccessful bid by the market to push past the 900 level in the Dow.

Analysts were watching today's activity for signs of how quickly it might be able to recover from that setback.

An estimated $11,900 property damage resulted from three traffic mishaps investigated by Greenville police yesterday.

Heaviest damage resulted from a 9:55 a.m. collision on Memorial Drive, 50 feet south of the Farmville Boulevard intersection, involving trucks driven by Linwood Earl Stocks of 304A Darden Dr. — a vehicle owned by the City of Greenville — and Lawrence Edward Watson of Raleigh.

Officers, who estimated damage at $6,000 to the city vehicle and $3,000 to the Watson truck, charged Watson with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

Thomas Earl Sutton of Ayden was charged with hit and run driving and auto larceny following investigation of a 10:13 p.m. collision in the 1900 block of South Pitt Street.

Police reported a truck driven by Sutton — allegedly taken from Elbert's Place on Deck Street a few minutes before the mishap — collided with a parked car owned by Leslie Robinson Jr. of 1918 South Pitt St., forcing that car into a second auto owned by Robinson.

Damage was estimated at $900 to one of the Robinson cars, $400 to the other, and $600 to the truck driven by Sutton.

Cars driven by Bobbie Smith Williams of Route 3, Greenville, and Sharon Vanhoy Lewis of 103 Hearshide Dr., collided about 8 p.m. at the intersection of Charles Street and Red Banks Road, causing $100 damage to the Williams car and $800 damage to the Lewis auto.

Quarterly Meet This Weekend

U.S. Track Team Begins European Swing Tonight

STUTTGART, West Germany (AP) — The U.S. Olympic track and field team, unable to go to the Moscow Games, inaugurates the first phase of its European swing tonight with a meet against some 30 nations at 80,000-seat Neckar stadium.

The American team has a family theme, with the following family relationships: sisters Sherri and Denean Howard, both in the women's 400-meter dash; Carl and Carol Lewis, both long jumpers, and Colin Anderson, a shot putter, and his wife, Lynne Winbiger-Anderson, a discus thrower.

The Howards are perhaps the most unique among the team's family groups.

They are the first sisters ever to make the United States Olympic team in the same event.

Denean, only 15, is the youngest member of this year's track and field contingent.

And there are two other Howard sisters almost equally as talented.

They are Tina, 17, going into her senior year at Kennedy High School in Granada Hills, Calif., where Denean will be entering her junior year, and Artra, 19, who will be starting at UCLA in September after a year at Pierce Junior College.

At present, the four sisters are hoping to compete as a unit in the 1,600-meter relay in the 1984 games at Los Angeles.

"If all goes well, we'll do it," said Sherri, 18, who also will be a UCLA freshman in the fall. "The way competition has been, with so many young people winning, we could do it. It gives everyone something to look out for in 1984."

"Maybe in 1984, the 1,600-meter relay team could be us," said Denean, who plans to enter UCLA next year, along with Tina.

Last year, the Howards set a national high school record for the mile relay. This season, without Artra, the other three sisters and Kelley Cook, a senior at Granada Hills who lives with the Howards, established a national scholastic 1,600-meter relay record of 3 minutes, 37.98 seconds.

Also in 1980, the sisters, without Artra, but with Cheryl Thompson, who recently graduated from Granada Hills and is going to Bakersfield Junior College, broke the scholastic 440-yard relay mark with a clocking of 45.8.

The highlights of this year, however, for the Howards family were the scintillating performances by Sherri and Denean in the 400 at the Olympic Trials at Eugene, Ore., last month.

Sherri sped across the finish line first in 51.48. Followed by Gwen Gardner in 51.68 and Denean in 51.70.

As Denean completed her race and went over to congratulate her sister, she accidentally spiked Sherri on the left foot, causing it to bleed. "It would have to be my left foot," said Sherri.

She has had trouble with the foot since last December, when she sprained it while playing basketball.

"Everytime it gets better, I injure it again," lamented Sherri.

"I don't think the pain is there when I run. But when I stop, it hurts."

Sherri said that after the two-day Stuttgart meet, the first of a three-stop trip for the Americans (they will be in London Sunday and Oslo, Norway, Tuesday), she plans to return home for treatment on the ankle.

"I like to perform and win," she explained. "I like to let people see what talent I have. I don't want to lose and have to make excuses. I don't like people to have pity on me. I want to perform at 100 percent."

"We've trained very hard to give good performances."

A lot of the Howard's training has been under the supervision of their father, Eugene, 40, a retired Air Force military policeman.

He discovered the athletic talents of his daughters while stationed in Fairbanks, Alaska, and put in for a transfer to California to help the girls' training.

More recently, the running sisters have been tutored by Fred Jones of the L.A. Mercurys and Hilton Nichol森 of the Muhammad Ali track club.

But father Howard still keeps a watchful eye on his daughters.

"He is there when we need him," said Denean.

"He keeps encouraging us," noted Sherri.

He also keeps in good shape by running against his daughters — and beating them most of the time.

"We run about 50 or 60 yards," said Denean. "We just go flat out and run, anywhere and everywhere. When we were younger, he said that if we beat him, we could get some money — but he still beats us most of the time. Sherri has beaten him a couple of times and I did it once, but that's all."

"He's quick out of the blocks, just like Houston McTear," Sherri said with a smile. "He practiced with us. Getting us out of the blocks."

There are two other sisters in the family, Gina, 21, and Darlene, 22, both of whom are lieutenants at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

When the girls were younger, all six formed a performing dance troupe in Fairbanks. With their mother choreographing the routines, they did modern dancing.

"They're not dancing together anymore, but the Howard Sisters still are running — and that act should carry on for at least four more years."

It's proving to be quite a show-stopper.

88 Break Par In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — From 1973, when he spectacularly won the U.S. Open, through 1976, Johnny Miller was a master on the Professional Golfer's Association tour.

He won eight tournaments in 1974, four the next year, and three in 1976, including the British Open.

Then came the slump. It appeared in 1977 and deepened in 1978 to $17,440 and 111th place on the money list.

When he won at Inverrary last March, he walked the final hole to the cheers of thousands of spectators, and his smile returned. It had been missing a longtime.

Was Johnny Miller back at last? Not quite. A tie for 25th was his best in his next three tournaments. Then he had a tenth finish, a tie for 23rd, and finally failed to make the cut in the U.S. Open.

It looked as if he were snapping back with an eighth place finish in the Canadian Open, but his putting started to haunt him again.

"I made only four putts over six feet in the Canadian Open," said Miller, whose four-under-par 68 put him in a pack of par-busters in the first round of the $200,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Thursday.

Miller, though, found himself sharing 18th place with nine other players after par-shattering frolic.

Of 143 starters, 88 broke par 72 on the hilly 7,010-yard Tuckaway Country Club course, whose rough is like a backyard that hasn't been mowed in a week.

Leading the hot-shooting board into Friday's second round was Ron Streck, the 1978 Texas Open titleist, whose 65 included a streak of five birdies.

Breathing down his neck with 66 were Miller Barber, Fred Marti, Barney Thompson, George Cadle, and defending champion Calvin Peete.

Marti fashioned the most spectacular shot of the first round — a double-eagle two with a 226-yard 4-wood.

Eleven players tied at 67. Scott Simpson, fresh from his Western Open victory and trying for a $100,000 bonus if he can win this tournament, which pays a $36,000 first prize, was lost in the pack with 71.

Miller, who missed only one green Thursday, had been so troubled about his putting that he started stroking the ball cross-handed.

This is nothing new among the touring pros. Bruce Litzeke is having good luck with it and Mark Lye is following the practice.

ECU Rained Out

East Carolina University's Summer League baseball game with Louisburg, scheduled for last night, was postponed because of rain.

The contest will be made up at a future date to be decided, if it is necessary to the final standings.

The Pirates are scheduled to travel to Rocky Mount tonight to face N.C. Wesleyan in a single game at 7:30 p.m. They return home Saturday night for a doubleheader against Campbell, set for 6 p.m., then travel to Louisburg for another doubleheader on Sunday. They are back home against Louisburg for a single game on Monday night at 7:30 p.m.

Louisburg, by virtue of sweeping a doubleheader from UNC-Wilmington on Wednesday, moved into first place in the league with a 15-7 record. East Carolina is second at 13-6, followed by Wilmington at 13-8.

Seventh Inning Stretch

New York Mets' third baseman Elliott Maddox manages to lift himself up and throw out the Pittsburgh Pirates' Mike Easler at second base in the seventh inning of Thursday's game at New York's Shea Stadium. Maddox dove for the ball off the bat of Buc's Phil Garner and knocked it down, then managed to throw to second to force Easler. (AP Laserphoto)

Maxwell Headed Elsewhere?

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics plan to make another bid to keep free agent forward Cedric Maxwell, but his agent says the chances that he will re-sign with the National Basketball Association team are "extremely remote."

While acknowledging that "something could change," agent Ron Grinker said Thursday that Maxwell, who has spent all three years of his NBA career with Boston, probably will sign with another team within 10 days.

"I would say that within the next week or 10 days at the very longest he will sign," Grinker said. "At this moment, the likelihood of Max playing in Boston next season is extremely remote."

Asked if he would present a new offer, Auerbach said, "I'm not going to negotiate this in the press. We'll be getting together in a couple of days."

He said he and Maxwell are considering several offers substantially better than what Celtics General Manager Red Auerbach has told him is Boston's final offer. He refused to say who made the offers.

"I haven't talked to Red in two weeks," Grinker said by telephone from his Cincinnati office.

Auerbach, reached at his Washington, D.C., home, said later Thursday, "I've been on vacation and I'll probably talk to him (Grinker) in a day, or so."

Grinker said he believed Auerbach when he said the Celtics had made their last offer.

He said that Maxwell was underpaid the past three years and that it should be made up in a new contract.

Grinker said he didn't think Auerbach had told him the Celtics had made their last offer as a bargaining tool when, in fact, they might offer more.

"I asked Red to tell me what to do if we got an offer that we preferred to his," said Grinker. "He said 'you have to take it.' To me that implies that he can't match it, that I shouldn't call him back. And that's what I intend to do."

SCIROCCO. A FAST ANSWER TO HIGH GAS PRICES.

If high gas prices are stopping you from buying a sportscar, consider this:

A Volkswagen Scirocco gets an EPA estimated 24 MPG 38 MPG highway estimate (Compare these estimates to the estimated MPG of other cars. Actual mileage may vary with weather, speed and trip length. Actual highway mileage will probably be less.)

What's more, the Scirocco's 1.6-liter fuel-injected, overhead cam engine with front-wheel drive will send you hurtling from a dead stop to 50 mph in 7.5 very short seconds.

And its dual diagonally linked disc/drum brakes will bring you safely back to 0.

On top of it all you can get one right now.

Any other questions?

Ayden Golf and Country Club

Two holes-in-one have been recorded recently at the Ayden Golf and Country Club.

Phil Replogle aced the fourth hole, hitting a seven-iron on the 144-yard hole. It was his second ace on the same hole. Playing with him were Jim Howell, Alan Griffin and Lloyd Eichorn.

The other ace came when Bud Flanner made a one on the 17th hole with a nine-iron. The hole is 148-yards long. He was playing with Rick Milliken, Charles Herring, Pete Harrell and Jim McDermott.

Brook Valley Country Club

Three teams tied for first place in the Brook Valley Country Club's Family Spectacular with 33's. They were the Moyes, including Charles, Charles Jr., Macon, Mike and Simon; the Allen, W.L. Sr., W.L. Jr., and Lee Allen, along with Hubert Bryant and Jim Ward III; and the Douglasses, Dick, Janie, Mark, Gordon and Nancy. The three teams held a putt-off to determine first place, which was then won by the Moyes.

A total of 14 teams participated in the tournament.

Mike Kachmer had his best of the year, a 75. Ron Wink shot his best score ever recently with a 77.

Upcoming events include a Jack and Jill, Sunday, with cocktails following play. Sign up on bulletin board. On Monday, the Ladies Four-Club Invitational Tournament will be held at the club. On Tuesday, the Junior Championship will be held. On Wednesday, a Jack and Jill Twilight Tournament will be held at 5:30 p.m. On Thursday, a Ladies-Junior Captain's Choice tournament is scheduled. On Saturday and Sunday, July 19 and 20, the Member-Member Tournament is scheduled, with signup list on the bulletin board.

Greenville Country Club

The Men's Match Play Tournament at Greenville Country Club has ended with Joe Murad taking the title. He defeated David Nichols, 2-and-0, for the title. Mickey Herrin finished third, followed by Will Hickman.

A "Turkey Convention" event was held recently. Tom Segrave, David Womack, Garry Pegram and Charles White took first place, while Mickey Herrin, Tom Parrish, Cliff Everett Jr., and Bill Mitchum finished in second. Third were Sonny Lea, Dennis Harrington, Danny McNally and Skip Bright. David Nichols, Don McLohan, Alex White and Charles Vincent finished fourth, with Bill Tripp, Cliff Everett Sr., Ed Warren and Bob Dail in fifth.

A Better-Ball-Of-Pair Tournament saw the team of Alex and Harriette White take first place. Howard Waldrop and Alex White teamed to take second place. Tying for third were Tom and Marge Parrish, and Joe and Harriet Wooten. Tying for fourth were Ken Hite and Reg Akin; Connor Merritt and Ken Hite, and Frank Doyle and Ron Thiele. In fifth, Harry and Myrt Leslie; Howard and Gay Waldrop, and Gay Waldrop and Harriette White were all tied.

Upcoming events include the Junior Club Championship for boys and girls on Tuesday. Ages 15-17 will tee off at 9 a.m., ages 12-14 at 10 a.m., and ages 10-11, at 11 a.m. (for nine holes). A $2 entry fee is charged.

The week of July 21-27 is Women's Golfing Week nationally.

July 26-27, a Superball Spectacular will be held. Full handicap may be used. This is for couples, with a $60 entry fee per couple, including a cocktail party, pig-picking and prizes.

On Monday, July 28, the City Junior Championship will be held at Greenville Country Club.

A's Starters Working Long Hours

By The Associated Press

It may not be long before the members of Oakland's bullpen staff start wearing "Work Wanted" signs. A's starters have pitched complete games in 11 of the last 14 games, including both ends of Thursday night's doubleheader split with the California Angels.

Matt Keough went the distance in the opener, giving up four eighth-inning runs and losing a 5-1 decision to Frank Tanana but extending his American League-leading complete game total to 14.

Rick Langford went the route in the nightcap, holding on for a 5-4 triumph that gave him 13 complete games this season and 10 straight, tying the club record he set last season.

The one-run victory helped somewhat in reversing the hard luck Langford has endured this season. During his complete-game streak, the A's have won only three times and suffered six consecutive losses — three of them by one run.

"It may even out in the end, but it hasn't evened out yet," said Langford, now 6-9. "After I lost the shutout (in California's three-run seventh), I was just determined that the tougher they got, the tougher I got."

Oakland Manager Bill Martin says Langford has been tough all season.

"I have a lot of confidence in him," Martin said. "His record should be a lot better. It's a shame we don't get him some runs."

They got him some runs in the nightcap, building a 5-0 lead through five innings and leaving it to Langford to hold on from there.

"I was just trying not to let them score," said Langford, who saw the Angels pull within 5-4 on an eighth-inning run. "Billy has a lot of confidence in me and I don't want to disappoint him."

Right now, the Oakland starting staff is pleasing the manager, but making it awfully difficult for the relief staff to get into a game.

After being stifled on five hits by Tanana in the opener, the A's pounded Don Aase early in the nightcap. They got two first-inning runs on RBI singles by Mike Davis and Dave Revering, added a run in the second when Davis laid down a squeeze bunt to score Rickey Henderson, and made it 5-0 in the fifth on RBI singles by Mitchell Page and Jim Essian.

Don Baylor's two-run homer keyed the four-run, eighth-inning burst that helped the Angels win the opener. Tanana, 4-9, has given up only 12 earned runs in his last 48 innings pitched.

Brewers 2-0, Red Sox 1-7
After Milwaukee had taken the opener on a tie-breaking, eighth-inning single by Gorman Thomas. Boston's Steve Renko and Bob Stanley combined on the five-hitter that handed the Brewers their third shutout in the last five games.

"I kind of think we're not hitting," said Milwaukee Manager George Bamberger, "but I don't want to take anything away from the (opposing) pitchers."

The Brewers have scored six runs over the last five games. Fred Lynn had four RBI in the nightcap with two homers and a sacrifice fly as the Red Sox improved their road record to 26-17. They're 16-20 at home.

Yankees 13, Rangers 5
Reggie Jackson clubbed a two-run double in New York's 10-run first inning and added a two-run homer later in the game to carry the Yankees over the Rangers and raise Ron Guidry's career record against Texas to 7-0.

New York has scored 10 in one inning before. Last July 21, they did it in the fifth inning of a 12-4 victory over Oakland.

Twins 12, Mariners 4

Jose Morales powered a pair of three-run homers and Minnesota strafed three Seattle pitchers for 20 hits to back Jerry Koonsman's eight-hitter and give the veteran left-hander six consecutive victories over the Mariners.

Orioles 9, White Sox 2
Eddie Murray snapped an 0-for-21 slump with two singles, a homer and four RBI in Baltimore's romp.

"Was it 0-for-21? It seemed more like 0-for-30," said Murray who helped Scott McGregor, 9-4, to his eighth victory in the last 10 decisions.

Royals 3, Tigers 2
Willie Mays Aikens hit a double and the game-winning home run to boost Kansas City over Detroit in temperatures that reached 105 degrees at gametime in Kansas City.

Indians 7, Blue Jays 3
Ron Hassey's two-run single keyed the three-run third inning that sparked Cleveland to its victory over Toronto. The Blue Jays' Jim Clancy got himself in trouble with control problems; he walked seven batters and five of them scored.

G'ville Downs Pitt In Prep Playoffs

WASHINGTON — Greenville's Prep League All-Star team downed Pitt County, 4-3, in a nine-inning game at Washington yesterday afternoon in the District Tournament's first round.

Greenville is now scheduled to play Washington in a 6 p.m. game today for the right to move into the finals of the double elimination event which qualifies its winner to the state tournament next week. Pitt will face Greene County in a losers' bracket game, with the loser eliminated from the field.

Greenville scored first, getting a single run in the first inning. Pitt came back, however, to score twice in the second, taking a 2-1 lead. Greenville tied it up with one in the fourth, then fell behind again as Pitt scored in the top of the sixth.

Pitt tied it once more with a run in the sixth and it stayed that way until the ninth, when Greenville pushed over the winning run.

In the ninth, Tyrone Barrett walked, stole second and moved to third on an out. He then bluffed a break for home, and when the Pitt catcher threw to third, he raced home, beating the relay to score the winning run.

Billy Michel hurled the victory for Greenville. In the Babe Ruth League tournament, Pitt County was leading Greenville, 2-0, in the fourth inning when the game was halted by rain. It was to be resumed at 1 p.m. today. Both teams would then play another game later in the day as the tournament attempts to get back on schedule.

The Prep winner advances to the state tournament in New Bern, starting July 18, while the Babe Ruth winner moves into the state tournament in Kinston, beginning July 23.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S MOST DISTINGUISHED CARS NOW HAS A DISTINGUISHED NEW DEALER.

Peugeot has long been known for building superior automobiles. In fact, they built their first car in 1889. And today, you'll find Peugeot's all over the world in over 165 countries. And now you'll find more of them in your area, too.

Because Peugeot Motors of America, Inc. has just appointed us your Peugeot dealer in this area for the new, luxuriously comfortable Peugeot 505, and the impressive line of 505 Gas and Diesel Sedans and suburban wagons.

Besides finding the full line of Peugeots here, you'll also find factory trained mechanics. Plus a completely stocked parts department (and if it should happen that the part you need isn't available, we have 24 hour hot line with Peugeot to get it—fast).

So stop in and test drive any of our fine Peugeots. You'll find that no one builds cars the way Peugeot builds cars. And that no one will do a better job selling and servicing them than we will.

CRYPTOQUIP 7-11

QHXTFSH SRN CFXXW FDN ZFC
ZFCNDKRNH KHQTFSHCW

Yesterday's Cryptoquip — EARWIGS WIGGLE ABLY, BUT NOT IN YOUR EARS.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: D equals U

The Cryptoquip is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words, and words using an apostrophe can give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Found The Remains Of Cornwallis' Ship

GLoucester Point, Va. (AP) — Lord Cornwallis lost his flagship and the battle of Yorktown, not to mention the American colonies, in 1781. England hasn't recovered the colonies, but archaeologists say they've found his flagship.

The Virginia Research Center for Archaeology announced Thursday that the remains of a ship found in the York River is the flagship Charon.

Virginia's chief nautical archaeologist, John Broadwater, said the ship was identified after a six-week exploration at the site by the center and a field class from Texas A&M University.

Broadwater said identification was made by comparing the ship's remains with plans obtained from British Admiralty records.

He said only 5 percent of the 44-gun warship remains.

The ship caught fire near Yorktown, drifted across the York River and sank near Gloucester Point.

Broadwater said the Charon was a new warship at the time and would have been a powerful obstacle at Yorktown had it not been among the first casualties of the siege.

He said the Charon was not carrying a full complement of guns, probably because the cannons were taken ashore to help fight George Washington's forces.

SUNDAY SERVICES

The Rock Spring F.W.B. Church will hold an 11 a.m. service Sunday with the pastor, choir, and ushers in charge.

An appreciation service will be held for the pastor at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The public is invited to attend services.

Silence Brings Court Contempt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A newspaper reporter was held in contempt by a federal judge during pre-trial hearings for three city councilmen and an attorney indicted in the FBI's undercover Abscam investigation.

Jan Schaffer, a reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer, and Robert Greene, an associate editor with Newsday on Long Island, N.Y., were subpoenaed to testify Thursday. But Miss Schaffer refused to answer a question and was held in contempt.

Greene declined to identify sources of information about the undercover "sting" operation, but was not cited for contempt.

The defendants are trying to show that the federal government tainted its case against them by leaking details of the inquiry to the press and by selecting their targets in advance of the investigation.

Indicted here May 22 were Philadelphia lawyer Howard Criden and city council members Louis Johanson, George Schwartz and Harry Jannotti. They are accused of conspiracy, racketeering and attempted extortion.

Miss Schaffer, the Inquirer's federal courthouse reporter, took the stand after conferring with her lawyers.

Defense attorney Richard Sprague asked Miss Schaffer if she had a telephone conversation with Peter Vaira, U.S. attorney for eastern Pennsylvania, concerning Abscam on Feb. 2 — the day the news media broke the story.

When she didn't reply, U.S. District Judge John Fullam turned and said, "I have ordered you to answer the question."

"I decline," said Miss Schaffer.

"OK," replied the judge. "I hold you in contempt. I remand you to the custody of the U.S. marshal."

He later amended the ruling, deferring custody to her attorneys, who later filed an appeal in the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Federal judges have broad powers to punish for contempt, including fines and jail terms.

Vaira testified earlier he phoned Miss Schaffer from New York City Feb. 2 to alert her that the story was out. He denied giving her details that went beyond what was being reported that night in New York newspapers and on NBC-TV.

Greene, who has worked at Newsday 26 years, said he would not reveal his sources, but he did answer some questions after it was stipulated they would pertain to information he is collecting for a book about Melvin Weinberg, an acknowledged con man who was a paid government informant in the

Announcing: A New Dealer In Greenville. TOYOTA EAST!

Our Commitment: Your Satisfaction.

Toyota East in Greenville is brand new. And we've started in business with some strong commitments. We're the authorized dealer for Toyota and Mercedes-Benz, and we're committed to represent these fine automobiles in a manner worthy of such great products.

We've also committed ourselves to honesty and professionalism in sales and service; to complete customer satisfaction; to maintaining a plentiful selection; and to a pricing and trade-in policy that will make a Toyota East deal the best you'll ever find!

We have the cars you want in stock!

Toyota East is the newest Toyota dealer in North Carolina. Because of this we've received a special allocation of the Toyota models that people want most, including Terrels and 4x4 pickups! We have 64 vehicles in stock and 28 more on the way!

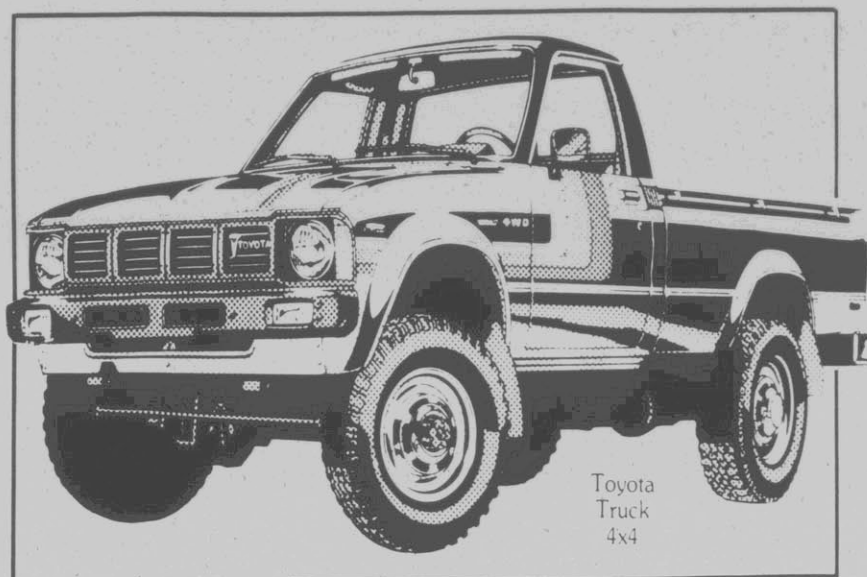

While other dealers are making special deals on cars you don't want—Toyota East, as part of the current "Toyota-Thon," is offering you great prices on the dependable, efficient Toyota cars you do want!

A refreshing change in the automobile business.

Along with our other commitments, we at Toyota East promise not to insult your intelligence with advertising and promotions that are meaningless. If we advertise a special price on a given car, it will represent a real value. . . and we'll have those cars in stock and ready to deliver at that price. If we advertise a sale, it will really be a sale. . . with genuine savings. We won't scream at you, and we will never knowingly mislead you in any way.

We're convinced that this is the kind of merchandising the public wants and will respond to. And it's the kind of merchandising you can count on from Toyota East—the kind of dealership we know you'll enjoy doing business with!

Rumors Of Assault On Religious Beliefs Spread Like A Wildfire

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Once a rumor gets started about some raunchy assault on religious beliefs, it spreads like wild fire. Even if not true, that apparently is what's happening in regard to a supposed "sex film" about Jesus.

Letters, inquiries and petitions to stop it have gone to congressmen, religious institutions, newspapers and especially to a small celebrity "gossip" magazine based in Franklin Park, Ill., Modern People News.

It's being flooded with about 20,000 mailed protests a week, some packed in boxes from churches and communities, plus about 50 telephone calls a day, says the receptionist assigned to handle them, Bernadette Hogan.

But the fact is, she says, that no such film is being made or planned so far as is known, nor even contemplated anymore.

The idea "has been dead for over two years," she said in response to yet another telephone query. In that period, she estimated the magazine has received "close to a million" protests and "they're still coming in."

What apparently set off the deluge was a poll the magazine ran in 1977 asking readers' views of a proposal by Danish producer Jens Jorgen Thorsen for a film on the "sex life of Jesus."

"No," came the overwhelming response of readers of the 300,000-circulation monthly. It reported the reaction, and also a later article on abandonment of the whole project.

But the later information apparently never caught up with the initial word. Once out, it multiplied in that peculiar fashion of such word-of-mouth repetitions, privately and in groups, along with widely circulated petitions.

Some mimeographed sheets and letters said the film, being made in the United States, depicted Jesus as a "swinging homosexual" and also as having a "blatant affair" with Mary Magdalene.

"Such a movie will be an outrage," reads one of the form petitions against it.

The volume of protests has been cyclic, Ms. Hogan said, receding somewhat after the first wave, then starting up again about eight months ago bigger than before, then tapering off a bit lately.

"We don't know who started it or who's behind it," she said, noting that the complaints came from all over the country, sometimes big batches of about 5,000 petitions crated from some communities.

"It's impossible to answer them," she said, adding that just explaining to the daily succession of telephone callers was a big chore by itself. "It gets a little tiresome. We wish it would stop."

Stories about Thorsen's rejected proposals for such a film ran in numerous religious publications in early 1977, the accounts citing refusals of the project in Denmark, Sweden, France, Italy, Israel and England, and his reported dropping of further efforts.

er Madalyn Murray O'Hair to try to force religious programs off radio and television.

As in that case, there's no target for all the fire against a Jesus "sex film," comments the Christian Century, but it adds that "sad to say" there someday might be such a film if somebody sees a profit in it.

Gospel message to fill your soul, thrilling music to lift your spirits. God's word to sustain and strengthen.

Warns Against Political Role

FORTALEZA, Brazil (AP) — Pope John Paul II, in a speech he revised at the last minute, warned the bishops of Brazil on Thursday to avoid anything that might appear to be political partisanship in their efforts to improve conditions in a society beset by serious problems.

His words were a mild rebuff to a recent Brazilian church document that attacked the country's military-backed government and said the current social system encourages racial and economic discrimination.

The revision of his speech was unusual because John Paul normally prepares his foreign-trip proclamations well in advance at the Vatican and almost never deviates from the original text.

The pope went to a convention center here to speak to Brazil's nearly 300 cardinals and bishops who were gathered in this hot northern coastal city for a nationwide religious conference. At the last minute, Vatican officials told reporters they could not have copies of the original speech, that the pope was going into an off-the-record session with the bishops, and that a revised speech text would be available later.

In the changed text the pope admonished the Brazilian prelates: "We are not experts in politics or economics. We are not leaders of any temporal enterprises but rather ministers of the Gospel. You as bishops are forbidden with total clarity from everything that might look like political partisanship or subjection to this or that political ideology or system."

In his altered remarks, the pope urged the bishops to avoid dissent. "Certain pluralism is understandable. But in the end, church documents must reflect consensus," he said.

Once again the pontiff urged caution in church involvement in social and political matters, despite pressing social problems. John Paul acknowledged the large gap between rich and poor in Brazil.

Nevertheless, the pope told the bishops, the way for the church to achieve a more just society is by inspiring people's consciences — not through politics.

It was assumed that the critical "working document" that set down guidelines for debate at the religious conference here did reflect Brazilian church consensus. The paper was signed by CNBB, the national bishops council, and also by the cardinal-archbishop of Fortaleza, Aloisio Lorscheider.

But the rumor mills ground on, producing results somewhat similar to the five-year avalanche of mail to the Federal Communications Commission protesting an unreal "attack" on religious broadcasting.

The complaints to the FCC, still rolling in, object to a non-existent petition supposedly filed by atheist lead-

Gospel Expo Is Planned

York Memorial A. M. E. Zion Church will hold its First Annual Summer Gospel Expo Friday, July 25, at 8 p.m.

On the program will be local and area performers, including two recording artists. Johnny Wooten of York Memorial, program coordinator, said that gospel workshops will be held on directing, solos, lead, improvising, and piano accompaniment. Registration and further details will be announced later, along with names of some of the program participants. Course work will be held during the day of the concert.
