Lt. Gov. Lauds Support For Community College

Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green Sunday afternoon cited the community college system as the backbone of industrial education in North Carolina.

He spoke at Pitt Community College's dedication ceremony for the Vernon E. White Building and the Kathryn V. Whichard Building.

Over 1,000 visitors heard the lieutenant governor commend the accomplishments of Mrs. Whichard and Senator White. Green cited the influence of these two Pitt County citizens upon the advancement and growth of Pitt Community College.

Green noted the community college's educational contribution to the people of North Carolina.

He said, "The purpose of our community college system is to offer comprehensive educational opportunities not otherwise available in the state.

"Our community colleges offer academic, cultural and occupational education and training opportunities from basic education through the two-year associate degree level, at convenient times and places and at a nominal cost to anyone of eligible age who can learn and whose needs can be met by these institutions."

The lieutenant governor pointed out that Vernon White and Kay Whichard were both named as members of the PCC Board of Trustees when it was chartered and designated by the board of education as an industrial education center in March, 1961.

"Under their careful guidance and assistance, the name of the school was changed to Pitt Technical Institute in June, 1964. That same year, the Vernon E. White Building, formerly known as the administration building, was erected. In 1970, a second building, the Robert L. Humber Building, was added and in 1979, a new shop/classroom facility, the Kathryn V. Whichard Building, was completed."

The speaker observed, "I have known Senator White for many years, and have worked closely with him on many projects, and I yield to no one in my respect and admiration for this man and for the depth and breadth of his commitment to Pitt Community College and to the entire community college system."

"Kathryn Whichard is a firm believer in the necessity of vocational and occupational education," said Green. "She has contributed generously of her talent, her time and her resources to ensure the success of Pitt Community College."

The lieutenant governor said he has observed the impact of vocational training upon the lives of the citizens of our state. He acclaimed the community college system to be the very backbone of industrial education in the state.

Green concluded that Senator White and Kay Whichard, as trustees of PCC, have an awesome responsibility in carrying out the goals of the college. "Under their leadership, Pitt Community College has become one of the finest institutions in the 58-member system, which is considered the best in the nation," added Green.

Gun Charge Is Lodged Against A 13-Year-Old

FARMVILLE — A 13-year-old girl was arrested here Thursday afternoon after holding a loaded shotgun on a Farmville police officer.

Police Chief Ron Cooper said his department, at the time, had a report on a missing juvenile and had been searching for her throughout Thursday. He said the department received a call shortly before 3 p. m. saying, "The girls you're looking for are in J-Y. Monk Park," a city recreation area.

He said two police officers were dispatched to the park. Capt. W.G. Barber entered the park from the swimming pool side, while Officer K.W. Godwin entered from the back of the area by a power plant.

He quoted Officer Godwin as saying that, as he walked through the playground area, a 13-year-old, not the person on whom the department had the missing person report, stepped out of a restroom with a 12-gauge double-barrel shotgun pointed at him at stomach level. He said he drew his police handgun and both he and the girl's companion, the girl who had been reported to police as missing, began urging her to put the gun on the ground. She told him if he wanted it he'd have to come and get it, he said.

After an interval, the girl holding the gun turned to speak to her companion and, when she turned the barrels of the gun away from him, the officer rushed her and wrestled away the gun, handcuffed her and placed her under arrest.

The girl was taken to Greenville by Officer Godwin and police dispatcher, Mrs. Betty Taylor. They were met there by a juvenile officer who had a written order from a judge to commit her to the Pitt County Jail.

The charge against the juvenile is assault on the police officer by pointing a gun. The shotgun was found to be loaded with No. 8 birdshot, which Chief Cooper said, at the range involved, could have killed the officer. Found in the girl's pockets were two more No. 8 birdshot shells, a pocket knife and a piece of broken glass.

The girl has been transferred to the Psychiatric Unit of Pitt County Memorial Hospital, Chief Cooper said he has been advised by the Pitt County Sheriff Department.

$12,541,044 Budget For City Is Offered

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

The City Council has received for early consideration from City Manager Ed Wyatt a recommended operating budget package for fiscal year 1981-82 totaling some $12,541,044.

The city governing board met this morning with Wyatt and Gail Meeks, budget and management officer, and received an "overview" of the new financial proposal.

Wyatt emphasized that the recommended budget, which represents an increase from the $9.93 million package adopted for 1980-81, again reflects a "hold the line" attitude, "developed to provide the present level of city services which will be delivered in the most efficient manner."

Included in the package for Council consideration is the recommended Greenville Utilities budget of $49,435,800, up from the $35.81 million GUCO operating total adopted for 1980-81. The total recommended general government and Utilities budget amounts to $61,976,844.

The new financial proposals, submitted some two weeks earlier than usual by the city manager, does not yet contain a tax rate recommendation, according to Mrs. Meeks, because the city is awaiting property valuation revenue figures from Pitt County. Mrs. Meeks said those figures will probably not be available until June.

A tax rate of 77 cents per $100 valuation, reflecting an increase of seven cents from the 1979-80 rate, was adopted last June by the Council.

Wyatt said in his new budget message, "The primary emphasis has been to provide needed funds for replacement of equipment, basic capital improvements, and to maintain the same number of allocated positions but at the same time providing a higher level of public protection by re-allocating positions."

Recommended appropriations for general city government, he reported, include: General, $9,210,969; Revenue Sharing, $647,416; Debt Service, $2,376,530; Public Transportation, $275,329; and Parking Authority, $30,800.

Addressing personnel areas in his message, Wyatt explained, "It is recommended that the total allocation of full-time positions remain at its present level (383). A number of recommendations are included in the proposed budget for re-allocation of full-time positions in order to provide a higher level of public protection in Police Department and Fire-Rescue Department."

The city manager recommended that three city positions be re-allocated to provide three more positions for the Police Uniform Patrol Division. He said the additional positions, "along with the temporary deployment of other police personnel, will provide for an additional patrolman on each shift."

In addition, he recommended that one police cadet and three part-time positions be re-allocated for two police clerk-typists, who "would be employed to work on the two busiest shifts typing reports and performing recordkeeping responsibilities. This should provide a great deal more time for police officers to carry out police work."

Wyatt proposed that two city posts be re-allocated to provide two more positions in the Fire-Rescue Department. He said that by permanently re-allocating a fire prevention officer's position to fire-rescue officer, "this would allow the addition of one person per shift."

Wyatt said in his budget message that the Public Works Department is initially reducing its personnel level by five and it is also anticipated that with increased automation with the addition of lifts on all refuse trucks, other positions may be eliminated in the Sanitation section.

"The major expense of the city is personnel services," Wyatt said in his message, reporting that the cost of personnel services is some 67.5 percent of the total city budget, excluding Utilities debt service. Funds, he reported,

Another Hunger Striker Is Reported Near Death

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Another hunger striker was reported nearing death today in his bid to win political status for IRA prisoners. The British government said he had decided to end the fast last weekend but changed his mind after a visit with his family — a claim the family denied.

Raymond McCreesh, 24, is blind, lapsing into unconsciousness and in "an advanced state of weakness" in his 58th day without food, the Irish Republican Army's political front, Sinn Fein, reported.

Two other guerrillas, Bobby Sands and Francis Hughes, have already died in the confrontation that has reignited Northern Ireland's 11½-year-old sectarian and political conflict and polarized anew the province's feuding Protestants and Roman Catholics.

Anne Morrow, a press officer with Britain's Northern Ireland Office, said "there was an indication McCreesh wished to end his hunger strike" Saturday. She said he later declined nourishment, but she refused to elaborate.

A government source in London said McCreesh asked for food Saturday but changed his mind about ending the fast after his family visited him at the hospital wing of the Maze Prison.

McCreesh's family denied the report, and supporters labeled it "a malicious claim and untrue."

In a statement issued in Belfast through Sinn Fein, the outlawed IRA's political arm, McCreesh's family said they had no knowledge of any request for food.

The family said they visited McCreesh on Saturday and were told by a prison doctor that he had received the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. They said he had not been given water all day, and the doctor said when McCreesh was asked if he wanted milk, he was confused and replied: "I don't know."

McCreesh was hallucinating at the time, moving in and out of consciousness, the family said. "None of us have witnessed him asking for food, and he is clearly determined to continue this hunger strike," they said.

Their statement said, "We believe our son before anyone else and are respecting his wishes not to be revived should he lapse into a coma."

The Northern Ireland Office said his condition "continues to deteriorate." McCreesh is serving a 14-year sentence on convictions for firearms possession and attempted murder following a shootout with British soldiers in June 1976.

Another hunger striker, 24-year-old Patrick O'Hara, also has gone without food for 58 days. But although Sinn Fein reported he was in serious condition, he was not expected to die before McCreesh.

British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has said repeatedly she will not give in to the hunger strikers' demands for special treatment amounting to political status.

She says bowing to the demands would legitimize the overwhelmingly Catholic IRA's violent campaign to oust the British from Northern Ireland and unite it with the neighboring Republic of Ireland, which is 97 percent Catholic. Northern Ireland's million-strong Protestant majority fiercely opposes unification.

But the hunger strike deaths and Mrs. Thatcher's determined stand have given the IRA's "Provisional" wing a powerful worldwide propaganda boost.

Old Land Fill Closing Out Is Agreed Upon

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

The Board of County Commissioners today agreed to close out the old Greenville land fill by the end of September.

Commissioners met with O. W. Strickland, head of the solid and hazardous waste management branch of the N.C. Department of Human Resources' Division of Health Services to discuss the status of the landfill after receiving a letter from Strickland's department setting a June 1 deadline.

The state official told the board, "I'm willing to work with you any way I can to get the job done."

County Manager Reginald Gray noted that the major problem in not having the landfill closed has been the lack of cover material.

Gray reported that several efforts to establish a rescue squad in the Eastern Pines area East of Greenville had failed in the past due to the unavailability of manpower during the day.

Glenn Hardee, president of the Eastern Pines Fire Department noted there is interest in the area and agreed to work toward the establishment of a rescue unit in the area. He said that several area residents are now enrolled in an emergency medical technician course, adding that the necessary manpower might be available in the future.

Earlier this month, the Board of County Commissioners and the Greenville City Council expressed an interest and agreed to cooperate in efforts to establish a rescue squad in the Eastern Pines area.

In other business, commissioners appointed Anthony D. Holland of Fountain to the Pitt County Planning Board, and named Raymond Latham to the Pitt County Development Commission to replace Walter Latham of Bethel who resigned.

The Battle family asks that friends remember Harold with cards and letters of support. His address is Oncology Department, Room 324 South, Johns Hopkins Hospital, 600 North Wolf St., Baltimore, Md. 10205.

Agrees Conspiracy To Kill Pope Seems Remote

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The head of Italy's anti-terrorism police said today there was only a "remote possibility" that an international conspiracy was behind the shooting of Pope John Paul II. He said the would-be assassin may have been "hired" but did not elaborate.

Vatican officials said criminal proceedings of the man accused of shooting Pope John Paul II will not be affected by the pontiff saying he "sincerely pardoned" the would-be assassin, a statement that touched off inquiries to Italian newspapers asking if that meant the suspect would be released.

In Turkey, official sources said a teacher and a former policeman were arrested in connection with the false passport used by Mehmet Ali Agca, the 23-year-old Turkish fugitive charged with wounding the pope and two American women Wednesday. A third man had been arrested earlier in Turkey.

"As for an international plot, it's a very, very remote possibility," Alfredo Lazzarini told The Associated Press. Lazzarini is head of DIGOS, the anti-terrorism arm of Italy's police. He did not elaborate on his statements, including raising the possibility Agca may have been a "hired" killer.

Nicola Simone, chief press spokesman for Rome police, said searches in six Italian cities and investigations by Interpol of Agca's travels in other European cities have not turned up evidence of foreign ties.

Lazzarini asked Italy's newspapers to publish pictures of two Turks believed to have been friends of Agca to help his officers' search for anyone who could place them as having been in Italy prior to the shootings. He did not say whether they were charged with any crime in Italy.

Turkish authorities identified the teacher suspected of helping Agca obtain the passport as Ibrahim Kurt, 29, a former leader of the ultra-nationalist Divine Ideal organization based in Nevsehir, 450 miles southeast of Istanbul.

Kurt is suspected of arranging the identity card in Ozgun's name which was used to have the passport certified by police in the provincial center, Turkish police said. They said Kurt also personally mailed the passport to Agca in Yugoslavia where he was hiding after his escape.

Local Turkish sources contacted by The Associated Press identified the arrested former policeman as Erphan Ender, whose picture appeared in Agca's passport.

The Faruk Ozgun, 28, a textile worker whose name was on the passport Agca used to enter Italy, was arrested Friday.

Lazzarini released two photos to newspapers. They were of Mehmet Fenner, 23, accused in Turkey of giving Agca a gun to kill a journalist in 1979 and Oral Gelic, 23, charged in Turkey in a 1979 murder.

He provided no further information. According to Rome police, Agca insisted he acted alone. They believe, however, that someone helped him since he escaped from a Turkish prison in 1979, possibly by arranging a passport and paying for his expenses in travels through a half dozen European nations.

Miss Couchman Is Bride

Engagement Announced

BEDIE FLORENCE HESTER, . . . is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hester of Farmville, who announce her engagement to Jeffrey David Jenkins, son of Dr. Leo Warren Jenkins of Pine Knoll Shores and the late Mrs. Lillian Jacobsen Jenkins. The wedding will take place June 14.

The wedding ceremony of Ruth Arlene Couchman and James Paul Kilburn took place Saturday afternoon at one o'clock at Riverside, Tar River Estates.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Couchman of Blackstone, Va. and the Rev. James R. Couchman of Plain View, Va., who performed the double ring ceremony. A program of music was presented by Landy Spain, guitarist, with flute accompaniment.

The bridegroom is the son of Ms. Ayako Kilburn of Fayetteville.

The mother of the bride was honor attendant and the brother of the bridegroom, Richard Kilburn of Fayetteville was best man.

The bride wore an ivory gown fashioned with a sheer chantilly lace yoke, high ruffled neckline and short flounced lace sleeves. It featured a blouson waistline and a flowing A-line skirt. She wore an ivory sheer picture hat trimmed with pearl centered rosettes with a walking length veil. She carried a garland of pink sweetheart roses and pink daisies interspersed with baby's breath and touches of slate blue tied with picot satin ribbon attached to an antique Japanese purse.

MRS. JAMES PAUL KILBURN

Following a reception held at the Tar River Estates Clubhouse, the couple left for a wedding trip to Charleston, S. C.

The bride attended Louisville College and UNC-Wilmington and is employed by the state. The bridegroom attended ECU and owns a local establishment.

NO WILLPOWER IN THE BRONX

DEAR NO WILLPOWER: I rarely give unasked-for advice, but wiring your mouth shut is not the answer. Please locate the Overeaters Anonymous chapter nearest you and go to a meeting! I've attended some of this organization's meetings and found the people there to be an unbelievably loving, supportive group. You need friends who have been through your kind of hell. Please go. Then write again and let me know how you're doing. I care.

DEAR ABBY: I work for an advertising company, selling ads on the phone. I live in Iowa and make phone calls all over the country. Last November I called a man in Texas who had the most wonderful voice I had ever heard! He bought some advertising from me, so I called him back for business reasons. He must have liked my voice too, because we started talking and found we had a lot in common. He asked for my home phone so he could call me in the evenings. We've been talking every night, and now I feel as though I've known him all my life.

Abby, is it possible to fall in love over the phone? I think about this man night and day. We exchanged pictures, and now he wants to come to Iowa to meet me. I'm so afraid if we meet in person this wonderful dream will come to an end. Do you think I'm foolish? Should I let him come? Has anyone else ever fallen in love with a voice on the phone? Please help me.

IN LOVE AT FIRST SOUND

DEAR IN LOVE: I'm sure you aren't the only person who has fallen in love with a voice. If you're both over 21 and free, meet him, and let reality take over from fantasy.

DEAR ABBY: I just hung up from a long-distance call that I must share with you. When I answered my phone, the fellow on the other end said, "Dick, I'm calling to thank you. My wife is pregnant!"

I realized instantly what he meant. Early in February, while I was interviewing him for a story, I had asked routinely if he had any children.

"No," he replied, "but my wife and I have been trying for a long time." So I quipped, "You have got to quit wearing jockey shorts."

That broke him up, of course, and after admitting that he did wear jockey shorts, he asked what his shorts had to do with it.

I said he had obviously missed the Dear Abby column in the Cleveland Plain Dealer in which you stated that jockey shorts reduced a man's sperm count.

I promised to send him a clip of your column, and he said that while it sounded a bit crazy, he and his wife were desperate enough to try almost anything.

In his call today, he said that when his wife learned she was pregnant, they counted back and found that she conceived a month after he switched to boxer shorts! He also said if they have a baby girl, they may name her "Abby."

8 large eggs
½ cup commercial sour cream
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Beat together the eggs, sour cream and salt until blended; stir in the cheese. Pour into a 1½-quart buttered 10 by 6 by 2-inch baking dish. Drizzle with butter. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until puffed and set — about 20 minutes. Tilt dish to distribute butter on top. Makes 6 servings.

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup each peanut butter and firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup honey
1½ cup chopped walnuts
2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup raisins or chopped pitted prunes or dates
2 cups whole bran cereal

In a heavy 3-quart pan, combine butter, peanut butter, brown sugar and honey. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, just until mixture begins to boil. Remove from heat. Add walnuts, cinnamon, vanilla, and salt; stir until blended. Stir in raisins and bran cereal and mix until well coated. Turn mixture into a well-buttered 8- or 9-inch square pan. With a buttered spatula, firmly press mixture into an even layer. Let cool until mixture begins to firm up (about 5 minutes). Cut into bars and let cool thoroughly. Store airtight at room temperature. Makes 16 bars.

Couple Speaks Vows In Evening Ceremony

FOUNTAIN — The Fountain Baptist Church here was the scene of the Saturday afternoon wedding ceremony of Pamela Lynn Bailey and Dr. Franklin Robert Sample Jr. The Rev. Ronnie Vann Hobgood and the Rev. Jimmy R. Rogers performed the double ring and candlelight ceremony at six o'clock.

A program of wedding music was presented by Wyley Yelverton, organist of Fountain. Dr. Sigsbee Duck of Mars Hill, guitarist, also sang "The Wedding Song," "Longer" and "Oh, How I Love You."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bruce Bailey of Fountain are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Virginia Sample of Morehead City and the late Mr. Franklin Robert Sample.

The bride wore a floor length gown with a chapel train of silk chiffon and re-embroidered chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline and Camelot sleeves. Chantilly lace etched with seed pearls adorned the bodice, outlined the neckline and encircled the cuffs of the sleeves. Bridal buttons fastened the sleeves and accented the back of the gown. The full flared chiffon skirt extended into a train. She chose a chapel mantilla of bridal illusion bordered with scalloped chantilly lace with an illusion blusher flowing from a lace cap etched with seed pearls. She carried a colonial nosegay of pink sweetheart roses, mixed greenery and baby's breath accented with white button pom poms, miniature carnations and bridal streamers. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Susan Meredith Sample, sister of the bridegroom of Morehead City, was maid of honor and wore an ivory voile over pink taffeta floor length gown. The slight blouson bodice featured a high neckline accented with ivory lace and cap sleeves. Lace encircled the waistline and paneled each side of the skirt extending to the hemline. Lace also trimmed the V-back of the bodice.

Ms. Josie Bailey of Farmville, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Robert Jones of Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Andrew Kozel of Greenville and Miss Linda Peele of Fountain were bridesmaids. They wore dresses identical to that of the honor attendant. They each carried nosegays of mixed spring flowers with stems of baby's breath and mixed greenery.

Michael Holowiti of Titusville, Fla. was best man and ushers included Dr. Duck, Browning Fields of Asheboro, Douglas Halliday of Newport and Dr. Robert S. Jones Jr.

Winnie Britt of Farmville, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She carried a basket of pink rose petals. Derrick Shirley of Farmville was ringbearer and carried a pillow of satin and lace.

The bride's mother wore a formal gown of mauve polyester knit with an accordion pleated skirt. The mother of the bridegroom chose a formal gown of sapphire blue with a crystal pleated skirt and matching jacket. Both were presented corsages of white orchids.

The bride changed into a beige street length dress with a matching jacket. The couple will be living in Jacksonville, Fla.

The bride graduated from Farmville Central High School and attended Gardner-Webb College. She was previously employed at Pitt Memorial Hospital. The bridegroom is a graduate of the UNC-CH and ECU School of Medicine.

A reception was given by the bride's parents following the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. A rehearsal dinner was given Friday night by the mother of the bridegroom at the Colonial Inn, Farmville.

ESA State Council Convention Held

The 29th annual convention of the North Carolina Council of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International Sorority was held here during the weekend at the Ramada Inn.

The Alpha Omega Chapter of Greenville was the hostess chapter and the convention theme was "Over The Rainbow."

A "Follow the Yellow Brick Road" pig pickin' and mixer party was held at poolside Friday night with entertainment provided by the Farm and Home Country and Western Band.

A ceremony inducting men into the Men of the ESA Chapter was conducted by Carolyn Smith of Wilmington. Stanley Zicherman was inducted during the ceremony joining other inductees Woody Peele, Jim Woods, Raymond Spain, Jack Robinson and Billy Roberts.

Pat Hansen, international representative from Racine, Wis. and Betty Stegall, southeastern regional representative from Surfside Beach, S. C. conducted workshops concerning various aspects of ESA interests.

An "ESA in the Clouds" luncheon honored the 1980 N. C. Woman of ESA and candidates for the 1981 N. C. Women of ESA. The award was made to Iris Stone, Gamma Zeta, Burlington.

The state council provides scholarships to students and teachers in special education. Presented scholarships from Greenville were Cheryl Adams and Pam Robinson, post graduate students at ECU and members of Alpha Omega.

"An Evening in Emerald City" was held Saturday during which state officers

If you are sensible enough to have your eyes checked regularly, are you smart enough to know what that examination should generally include? An examination should include a wide range of tests to facilitate an accurate diagnosis and, if necessary, a prescription. An eye doctor should be concerned with your general health but most specifically, your "visual complaint". It is important to supply your eye doctor with as much information as possible. When a case history is established, he will then have a good idea how your eyes habitually function in everyday life.

If such a checkup reveals the need for corrective eyewear, then you should check out CLEAR VUE OPTICIANS, 1706 6th, Physicians Quadrangle Building A. You will be pleased to find a professionally staffed facility that offers the functional and fashionable eyewear that will meet your needs. Come in today and "see what we mean" when we say we will strive to provide you with the eyewear that is comfortable, fashionable and that provides the vision correction you need. Look your best while seeing your best... come to CLEAR VUE OPTICIANS for your eyewear needs. Tel. 752-1446.

SUPPER FARE
Bratwurst Rigatoni Plus Fresh Fruit Cheese

RIGATONI PLUS
The combination is a new one.
8 ounces rigatoni
1/4 cup (1/2 of a quarter-pound stick) butter
1 large onion, cut in thin strips (1 cup)
1 pound green cabbage, thinly shredded (4 firmly packed cups)
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook rigatoni according to package directions; drain and keep hot. Cook the onion in half the butter until golden brown; add to rigatoni.

Gently cook the cabbage, tightly covered, in the remaining butter, mixing well several times, just until tender-crisp; toss with the rigatoni and onion, salt and pepper. Makes 4 large servings.

Study Plan Carefully

If the Reagan administration recommendations are followed there will be some money saving changes in the Social Security program.

Included will be sharp reductions in benefits for those who choose to retire at age 62; postponing until Oct. 1, rather than July 1, cost of living adjustments; tightening of disability benefits requirements; ending "double dipping" and changes in benefits to children of early retirees.

But the White House also sees a lowering of the Social Security taxes to 12.9 percent of the taxable wage base by 1990. Another benefit would be to allow those 65 and older to earn an unlimited income without cuts in their Social Security benefits.

The administration plan was formulated even as sentiment was growing in Congress for trimming of Social Security benefits to keep the system solvent.

The administration plan has some good features. Certainly something should be done about ending "double dipping," the practice of earning a government pension and then qualifying for Social Security. Near full benefits for early retirement never made a lot of sense and certainly a disability should be bonafide to qualify an applicant.

It all adds up to making more realistic laws for qualifying for benefits and more careful administration in dispensing Social Security benefits.

Nevertheless the administration plan should not be approved without question by Congress. Social Security benefits are universally accepted by Americans now and most of us plan our retirement and disability programs based on what is available from Social Security. Congress should be certain that whatever it does in no way breaks faith with citizens who have accepted that which is available through Social Security in planning for retirement.

The Answer Is Canada

The Defense Department was shaken a few weeks ago when the Mormon Church came out against the MX missile being built in Utah. It should not have come as a surprise as the Mormons own Utah, and while Americans don't have anything personal against the system, no one seems to want the monster built in his own back yard.

Nevada, the home state of Sen. Paul Laxalt, President Reagan's dearest friend, does not want it either. Sen. Barry Goldwater, one of our strongest defense supporters, has no intention of asking for the system to be built in Arizona, particularly since it uses so much water.

So the question is, what place should have the honor of being selected for the MX particularly with senators from the West. Unfortunately everything is now being dumped in New Jersey, and the ground is so full of poisonous wastes that it's doubtful the state's earth could stand another tunnel.

If it weren't for the price of land, California would be a very nice place for the MX system. It's President Reagan's home state, and since he's pressing for it, it would be a wonderful tribute to him to build it underneath his library when he leaves office.

Of course there is the earthquake problem, which cannot be ignored. We could get the missiles all in place, and then a strong quake in Palm Springs might set the damn things off. (For skeptics, I need only remind you a Titan missile in Arkansas was shot out of the ground when a workman dropped a monkey wrench down the hole.)

Forget Rhode Island and Delaware. They are too small to accommodate all the tunnels. Washington, D.C., cannot be considered because the senators and congressmen voting for the system spend too much time there, and refuse to be targets of Soviet retaliation.

Where then? The only answer is Canada, though it's imperative we don't tell the Canadians about it. What we must do is announce we've selected Minnesota as the site for the MX. We start digging right next to the Canadian border. But instead of tunneling south — we tunnel north as far as is necessary to accommodate all the hiding places necessary for the system.

We would have to do the (Continued on Page 5)

site? Texas seems like a good state for the underground missile hiding place, but it presents problems. When you start digging in Texas as deep as our missiles have to be placed, you're bound to strike oil. It would be a very difficult problem for the administration to decide whether the country needs the oil more than it does the nuclear weapons shelter.

New York City would also not be a bad spot, since most of its potholes could be used as dummy missile sites to fool the Soviets. But the difficulty is that if you put the MX system underneath the ground using subway tunnels, vandals would start putting graffiti all over them, and scientists would never be able to prove they had developed a clean nuclear weapon.

A $49.5 Million Budget

Greenville Utilities Commission has approved a budget of $49.5 million to be submitted to the City Council for 1981-82.

A large part of the money, of course, will be paid directly to suppliers for electricity and gas purchases. The budget estimates $28 million will be paid during the fiscal year for electricity. Greenville Utilities purchases all the power it distributes, currently from Virginia Electric and Power Co. Some $5.15 million will be spent for the purchase of natural gas which is distributed through the Utilities' system.

The Utilities also expects to turn over to the city government $1.3 million during the fiscal year.

By any standards the proposed budget makes the city-owned Utilities Commission big business in our community.

Disturbing Signals

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — Disturbing signals are causing members of the North Carolina General Assembly to worry as this fiscal year draws to a close.

It is certain that projections of state government income for the current fiscal year ending June 30 will be off base. Overall growth was estimated at 12 percent. That's the foundation of the budget. Actual growth is running just slightly over eight percent. And that is not even keeping pace with inflation.

This means the present year's budget will come out just about even. The State Constitution demands a balanced budget, so some maneuvering room is always built in. That, along with the usual money built up by unfilled jobs will be available.

But this situation also means that there won't be much surplus to carry forward as a beginning point for next fiscal year, and the trend downward in tax revenues which has plagued the Highway Fund is now appearing in general tax areas such as sales, beverages, and even income.

Considerable legislative attention is focused on sales taxes just now, for that is the earliest available dependable weathervane for the general economy. If people aren't spending it, that means they don't have it.

A Major Tax

The sales tax is second only to income taxes as a source of state government revenue. It is projected to yield $735.4 million this year; and, increase to $821.3 million next fiscal year. Growth of 11.7 percent is business — that is, sales are down; but the prices make the dollar totals look like growth is taking place when it is not.

projected in this category. Will it happen? There is no way to say with certainty. But present trends are giving state officials cause for concern.

A report compiled by the N.C. Association of County Commissioners says as many as 16 counties are right now suffering an actual decrease in local sales tax receipts. This means that retail sales are actually declining from the previous year. Till now, the figures have shown sales not growing as fast as predicted. Also, inflation has pushed receipts upward despite what many experts have warned is an actual decline in volume of

To the editor:

As eloquent and uplifting as Pat Houston was in his eulogy of W. W. (Bill) Speight, my tears were not of joy, but of sadness, for I will miss him. Bill was a gentleman, a scholar and a friend.

Occasioned to be in Atlanta (on a mission to HEW) with time on our hands, Bill suggested we visit Stone Mountain. His zest for enjoyment in each event of the day, every day, quietened my anxieties and like two kids, we spent several happy hours together.

It was Bill who frequently supported the Board of Education's request for equal funding for each child in Pitt County and he stressed often the need for children on the north side of the Tar River to receive as good an education as students on the south side. He was always sharing with me in our professional relationship, and I had only my eagerness to learn from him to give in return.

Never, never will I forget our trip home from Raleigh in 1965, after learning that the maximum amount of school bonds which could be voted upon in Pitt County was $7,965,000 and not our advertised $9 million.

"Young man," and for several years he would address me in no other manner, "It is not what you get into that counts but how you get out of it." And how often have I found that to be so very true.

On the wall in my office hangs a picture of Bill which I requested about a year ago. His faithful Margaret secured and framed it as well as another (Judge John D. Larkins in front of whom Bill and I appeared frequently in the U. S. Eastern District Federal Court) to match. The inscription, which I will prize till death reads: "To Ott, my friend and law partner."

Few come our way so willing to give of themselves to others. Yes, Pat, Bill Speight was "a man among men."

To the editor:

Tuesday, May 12, I attended the "Crisis for Children Day" in Raleigh that was sponsored by the North Carolina Association of Educators. It was a rewarding experience. I want to share with the general public one of the many concerns of the day.

To the general public, it was "teachers leaving their jobs" but to the teachers, it was a MUST. It was a must for teachers because someone had to represent the "core" of this educational apple since the teachers, the hard part that holds the seeds, and the children, the seeds, are the core of the apple. We, teachers and children, are the ones who share a "2x4" room 180 days out of the year and know what it is like being in that room elbow to elbow. Since the children are "too young" to express themselves, some part of the core had to be there.

We teachers went to bat to try to convince the legislators that a "2x4" room is simply too small for 33 children and one or two adults. We tried to convince the legislators not to wait until October to reduce class size but to reduce the size NOW so that each child will have his/her own personal space and will not have the pain of leaving a class in the middle of the year so that the school system can be in step with the law. It happens almost every year in one class — next year it may happen in 10!

I urge all of you who have a special interest in this educational apple to go to bat for the core of the apple that holds the seeds of the next harvest. Write ALL legislators to reduce class size NOW!

Smuggling Revenue Aid

By WILLIAM M. WELCH
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) —

Li. Gov. Jimmy Green was recounting last week why he thinks a higher tobacco tax would do terrible things to North Carolina when someone asked him whether, at the least, a higher tax might cut down on illegal cigarette smuggling.

Green, a tobacco warehouse owner who has defended the sacred leaf and battled suggestions of taxing it throughout his 20-year legislative career, seemed astonished at the question posed by a reporter.

"Smuggling? I hadn't heard much about smuggling in the last two or three years," he said. "Is that still going on?"

Indeed, evidence from the state's cigarette tax collections, nationwide statistics and law enforcement suggests that while illegal bootlegging of cigarettes has subsided considerably in North Carolina in the past three years, an awful lot of the smokes sold in this state are being puffed elsewhere.

In fact, legislative staff analysts estimate that as many as one-fourth of the cigarettes sold in North Carolina are purchased for consumption outside the state.

David Crofts, tax specialist for the General Assembly staff, bases his estimate on statistics that show North Carolina's per capita cigarette consumption is 188 packs per person, far above the national average of 133 packs.

If his is an accurate estimate, it means more than $4 million of the $18 million North Carolina will collect in cigarette taxes this year comes from outside buyers.

"It's gone down," Crofts said. "Smuggling sales used to be around 40 percent of our sales, and we were collecting about $21 million a year in cigarette taxes."

Those figures will no doubt be considered by state legislators in coming weeks, as all sorts of proposals to raise the state's cigarette tax are being introduced in both the House and Senate. They are being offered as additions to Gov. Jim Hunt's proposal to raise taxes on gasoline and alcoholic beverages.

The reason for smuggling, of course, is the wide difference in taxes on cigarettes here, where half the nation's cigarettes are manufactured, and in other states. Taxes elsewhere are as high as 21 cents per pack in Florida and 23 cents in New York City.

State and federal law enforcement agents say they feel certain there has been a decrease in large-scale, organized bootlegging operations from North Carolina since the mid-1970s.

The decrease is largely the result of crackdowns in enforcement, particularly with the 1978 federal law that made it a federal violation to transport more than 300 cartons across state lines. Before that, enforcement was largely up to agents in other states, where the actual crime of unpaid taxes took place.

But with North Carolina's tax of 2 cents per pack still the nation's lowest, they say some smuggling no doubt continues.

"As long as a guy can invest $4 here in a carton of cigarettes and get $6 for it in New York or Miami, he's going to try it," says John Westra, special agent in charge of the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms in North Carolina and South Carolina. "You can easily make a dollar a carton with them in Florida now."

Aside from big-time dealers, perhaps more cigarettes are sold to tourists from high-tax states passing through North Carolina. "Anyone knows the traffic on I-95 is just tremendous," notes Westra. "You can go out to those stores any day and see people walking out with 50, 75, 100 cartons."

All of that is entirely within North Carolina law, of course, so long as this state's 2-cent-per-pack tax is paid. Violations occur when the cigarettes reach other states.

In fact, those sales are so built in to this state's tax collection patterns that

Strength For Today

WHAT IS MOST PRECIOUS TO US?

A former fireman tells a grim story about a house that burned several years ago in a town in which he was serving.

It was an old, rambling wooden building converted into several apartments. The people on the third floor managed to get out by letting themselves down to a porch roof on a makeshift rope made of bedsheets tied together. But on the second floor a woman who had come safely down the stairway remembered that she had left some money in the apartment. Back she went for it. And there they found her in the morning when the fire had been put out, remains of half-burned bills still clutched in her dead hands.

This incident amounts to a grim parable about what happens when we allow love of money to dominate our lives.

Everyone gives his life for something. We might ask ourselves what is the most important thing in our lives. Is it something worthwhile, or a handful of ashes? — Elisha Douglass

Co-Ops: United We Can Save

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

A growing number of consumers are trading their time and energy for money in cooperative buying organizations covering everything from food to housing.

Twenty-five percent of the households questioned in a recent survey commissioned by the National Consumer Cooperative Bank said that at least one family member belonged to a co-op. Participation was highest in the West, where 41 percent of the households reported a family member involved in some type of co-op activity.

The survey was conducted by Public Opinion-Market Research of White Plains, N.Y., which interviewed a scientifically selected, nationwide sample of 12,204 adults.

The bank, which was set up by Congress to make loans to co-ops which otherwise might have trouble getting money, says more people would join co-ops if more programs were available.

The bank's survey found that 46 percent of those questioned said they did not belong to a co-op because they did not know of any in their area. Fifteen percent of the people said they didn't know enough about co-ops to join; 13 percent said they didn't see the advantages of co-ops; and 10 percent said they didn't have the time.

Co-op membership was largest in the lowest and highest income groups. Twenty-seven percent of those with incomes of $7,500 or less and 26 percent of those with incomes of $25,000 or more said someone in their family was a member of a co-op. By contrast, only 18 percent of the $7,501 to $15,000 income group and 23 percent of the $15,001 to $25,000 group said their households included a co-op member.

More than half of those questioned — 56 percent — said they were unfamiliar with co-ops. Forty-two percent said they were familiar with the buying plans and 2 percent answered "not sure."

The best-known types of cooperatives are the ones related to food. Thirty-eight percent of those questioned said they were at least somewhat familiar with food co-ops and an equal number said they were familiar with farmer co-ops. Eighteen percent said they knew about housing cooperatives.

Food co-ops also hold the biggest potential appeal for consumers. When asked what type of co-op they would be interested in joining, more than half the people surveyed chose a food co-op. Twenty-seven percent said they would be interested in a health-care co-op.

The biggest plus for co-ops is monetary, according to the survey. Participants were asked: "Regardless of whether or not you have ever heard of the concept of consumer cooperatives ... just from the name and from what you may know about them, what do you feel are the major advantages of belonging to a consumer co-op?" Thirty-four percent of those questioned said "lower prices" and 24 percent said "saving money."

The idea behind cooperatives is simple: individuals pool their talents and efforts to buy goods and services, often in bulk, at a lower price than they would otherwise pay. Members usually manage the operation themselves, eliminating labor costs. The co-ops are non-profit; overhead is minimal; mark-ups, if any, are low.

Cooperatives should not be confused with commercial buying clubs, also known as discount clubs. The buying clubs also offer the prospect of saving through group purchases, but they may involve high membership fees and their prices may be no lower than those at regular discount stores.

The U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs says a 1976 study by the Federal Trade Commission of 239 buying clubs turned up membership fees ranging up to $600; 80 percent of the buying clubs surveyed charged at least $200.

The consumer agency said shoppers "can find good values in some buying clubs," but it warned people to investigate all savings claims before they join.

missioners, says persistently high unemployment, slow labor force growth, and the impact of a bad year in agricultural production combine to spell trouble in many counties.

"Although each of these factors has had some effect on most of the counties in the state, the impact has been more severe in those counties experiencing a decline in sales tax revenues," Regan writes in the lead article of the newspaper published by the association, "County Lines".

Five of the counties identified showed retail sales losses in each of the first three quarters of the fiscal year; while others received less in two of the three quarters.

Another Penny

Local county officials are also keeping close watch on the retail sales figures, because the local penny tax has become a significant factor in local budgets. Legislation is now pending to permit local governments to levy another penny tax, boosting the total sales tax to five cents, with the state keeping three and local governments getting two.

Staff of the County Commission Association has developed a set of categories which they hope will help in forecasting sales tax collections during the economic crisis.

Some counties which are retail trade centers for a broader region; where unemployment is relatively low; and where in-community employment opportunities are many will likely have retail trade above average. Counties with high growth industry and little retail competition from adjoining counties will likely enjoy continued growth. Slow growth will likely occur where higher unemployment exists; and those likely to suffer no growth or actual declines are those adjacent to regional shopping center counties, and with high unemployment rates.

Hunt Revenue Plan Has 30 Co-Signers

By SAM D. BUNDY
N.C. House of Representatives

House Bills now number 1040 and Senate Bills now number 564 for a total of 1,604 for the session so far. The Governor's proposed revenue package was introduced in bill form in both the House and Senate on Thursday, May 14. As I write this column, only about 30 members of the House had co-signed the bill and that is 30 out of 120. The revenue package bills comprise the following items:

- 1) placing revenues from the sales tax on motor vehicle parts and accessories in the Highway Fund ($59 million).
- 2) increase in truck registration fees 25 to 35 percent ($17 million).
- 3) increase in driver's fees work at night, and carry out the dirt in buckets as they do in prison motion pictures. But if enough workers are involved we could tunnel through by 1985.

Some of the counties with sales declines include Anson, Caswell, Clay, Currituck, Graham, Lincoln, Montgomery, Moore, Pamlico, Perquimans, Tyrrell, and Yancey.

Once the tunnels are shored up under Canadian soil, we would give Canada a giant order for wheat. The wheat would be grown on top of the MX system and Prime Minister Trudeau would never be the wiser.

Now, although Canada can't be in on our dirty little secret, it is essential we leak the location of the MX system to the Russians, so in case of a Soviet nuclear first strike, no one in Minnesota will get hurt.

I know it seems unfair to do something like this when the Canadians did so much for our hostages in Iran. But our national security is at stake and we have to build our tunnels somewhere.

Incidentally, I'm embargoing this column from my papers in Canada, so they'll never find out what we're up to.

Welch Col....

Crotts has made estimates of how much the out-of-state sales would decline with each additional penny of tax North Carolina might apply.

"You do have a fall-off in collections with higher taxes, due to the smuggling," he said.

A 2-cent increase, to 4 cents a pack, would cut out one-third of those smuggling sales, he figures. That means doubling the tax wouldn't actually double the collections, and the 2-cent increase would add only about $15.7 million to the $18 million already being brought in by the current tax.

Raise the tax to a nickel a pack and the state collects $18.4 million extra — and ends close to 90 percent of the smuggling sales in the state, he says.

"Above that, we would collect roughly $7 million for each additional penny per pack," he said.

Those figures won't yield the kind of money Hunt is looking for in a gasoline tax. Each extra penny on a gallon of gas brings the state $30 million or so.

And the traditional argument from eastern legislators, like Green, is that a higher tax would hurt the state's tobacco-heavy economy. But lawmakers who aren't entirely happy with Hunt's package are starting to talk about using an additional cigarette tax to supplement it, perhaps lessening the 50 percent increase the governor wants to put on beer, wine and liquor.

"I can see support growing for a cigarette tax from all over," said Rep. Dwight Quinn, chairman of the tax-writing House Finance Committee.

by the License and Theft Division ($54.5 million).

5) increases in other fees charged by the Division of Motor Vehicles ($3.3 million).

6) increase the tax on gasoline by three cents per gallon ($90 million). In addition, savings in highway cost to be $20 million or a total of about $204 million.

The plan also is to give income tax refund for personal driving ($22.50 per person) estimated to be a refund of $12-15 million; however, this would come from the General Fund. This added to the $59 million in Item 1 could result in a loss to the General Fund of $71 million. Later a bill to increase tax on whiskey, beer and wine would be introduced to replenish the General Fund; however, if it were to fail, the General Fund would be left holding the bag.

School Board Meets Tonight

The action meeting of the Greenville City School Board for the month of May will be at 8 p.m. tonight at Eastern Elementary School, Cedar Lane.

Topics on the agenda include personnel resignations and elections, items in budget/finance, policy, and the superintendent's report.

Rural Fire Calls

During April the rural fire departments in Pitt County answered 106 alarms, with 87 fires, County Fire Marshal Bobby Joyner said.

The fires were as follows: 16 houses, three house trailers; 10 buildings, 11 motor vehicles; 22 grass or woods; no commercial; two false alarms; 23 "others" and 19 mutual aids.

There was property valued at $489,325 involved in fires; $2,412,499 exposed; $125,525 lost; and $2,776,299 saved by the rural fire departments.

The Staton House Fire Department had the most fires — 13.

Corn Sales Set To Begin On May 21

Farmers and others will be eligible to purchase corn from the Commodity Credit Corporation beginning May 21, according to W. F. Tyson, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Tyson said unrestricted use sales will be made on a first come, first served basis, at market prices. Prices, however, will not be less than the formula price which is 145 percent of the county loan rate for corn where stored, times 105 percent.

The minimum quantity that will be considered for sale, Tyson noted, is 1,000 bushels, adding that a total of 4.5 million bushels of corn stored in Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee, as well as in North Carolina, are available for sale.

In North Carolina, the amount of corn and the storage locations include: 668,422 bushels at Fred Webb, Inc., Greenville; 100,000 bushels at Cargill, Inc., Washington; 51,000 bushels at Bell Farms, Inc., Pantego; 40,676 bushels at Edges Grain Market, Inc., Whiteville; 100,000 bushels at Cargill, Inc., Kinston; and 2,559 bushels at Johnson Grain Co., Kinston.

"HERE'S SOUTHERN RAILWAY'S ANSWER TO THE ENERGY SHORTAGE FOR THE AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY."

"THE LONG AND..."

The simple fact is, that the way the energy situation is today and, undoubtedly, will be tomorrow, railroads make more sense for long hauls than trucks do. Because railroads are a lot more energy-efficient than trucks.

But does that mean trucks will soon be a thing of the past for the automotive industry? No. We think trucks have a very definite place in the future of transportation.

As long as trucks are used in the right place.

Harold H. Hall, President
Southern Railway System
Washington, D.C. 20013

"...THE SHORT OF IT"

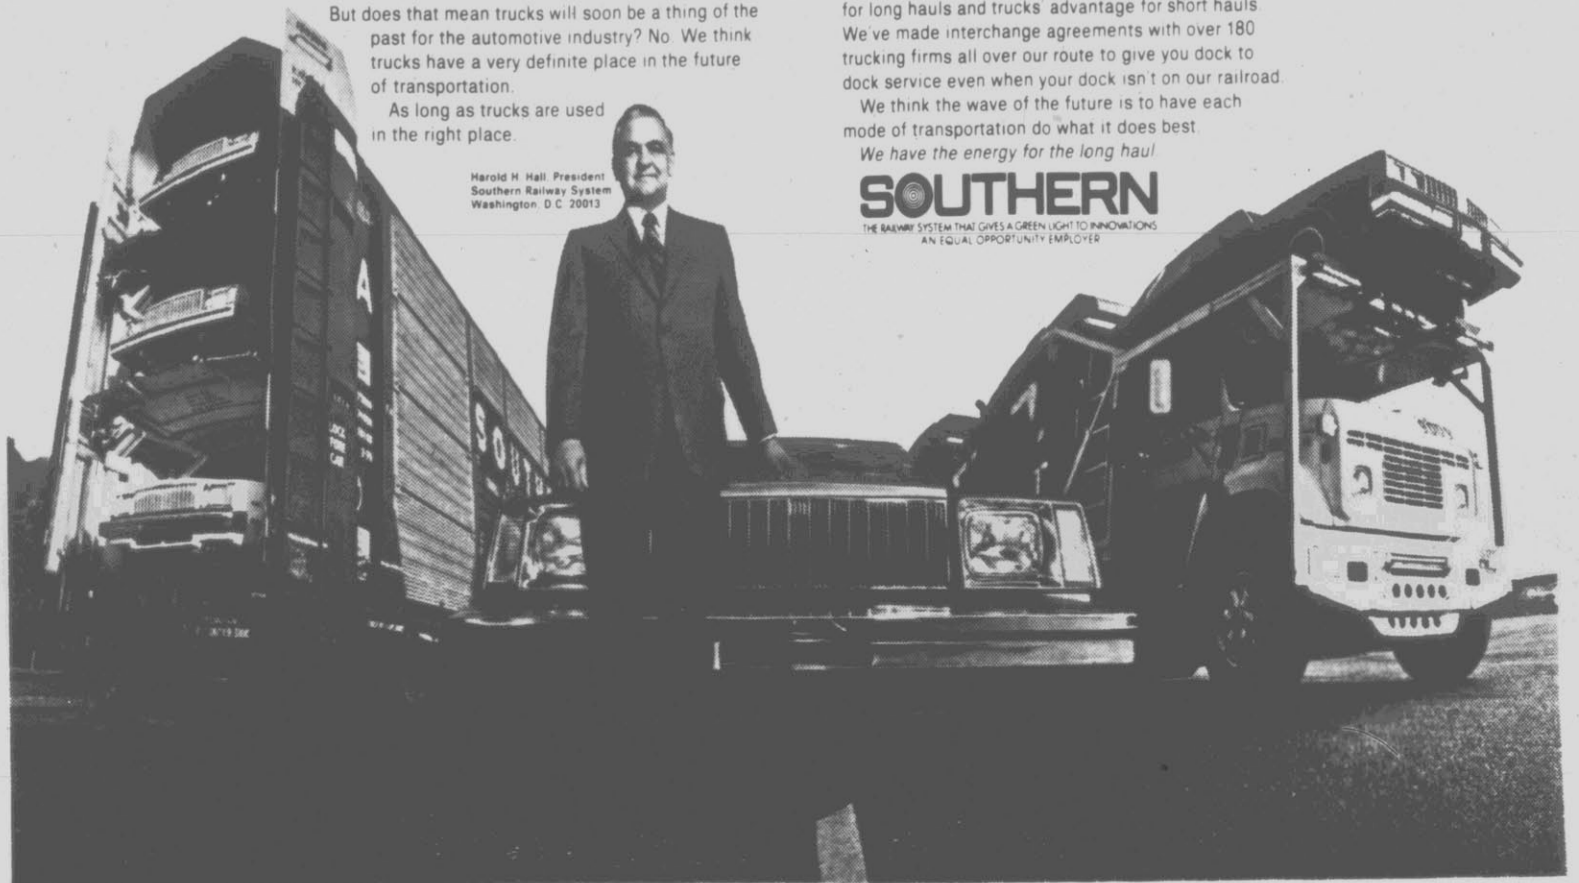

The right job for trucks is the short haul where the railroad begins and ends.

We believe so much in this concept, and its important implications for the future of this country, that we've set up a system to capitalize on our advantage for long hauls and trucks' advantage for short hauls. We've made interchange agreements with over 180 trucking firms all over our route to give you dock to dock service even when your dock isn't on our railroad.

We think the wave of the future is to have each mode of transportation do what it does best.

We have the energy for the long haul.

WEATHER FORECAST - The National Weather Service forecast for Monday until early Tuesday predicts rain for the Pacific coast in Oregon and Washington and showers for parts of Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska.

Rain is also forecast from Missouri and Arkansas to the Atlantic coast, and showers for portions of the South. (AP Laserphoto Map)

By The Associated Press Rain is predicted for North Carolina over the next two days, the National Weather Service reported today.

today with a range on Tuesday from the 60s across the north to around 80 in the southeast.

A rather large low pressure system, located over Oklahoma this morning, will continue to track eastward during the next 24 to 48 hours. The center is expected to move to eastern Kentucky by late Tuesday.

This system will be drawing moisture up from the Gulf of Mexico as well as the south Atlantic, increasing the chances for heavy rain.

Some scattered thunderstorms can also be expected to develop over the west tonight and spread east on Tuesday.

Temperatures will range from the upper 60s to mid-70s today.

MORE WANT OUT WARSAW, Poland (AP) - A police spokesman says the number of passports issued in April of this year was twice as much as the same month in 1980, before serious labor unrest began.

Overnight it was cloudy with the exception of mostly clear skies over the northeast portion of the state. Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 50s to the low 60s. The coolest area was over the northeast where some 40s were noted during the pre-dawn hours.

High pressure, although weak, continues its hold over eastern North Carolina. A center was located along the east coast this morning. This is part of an area of high pressure that covers the Great Lakes region into the mid-Atlantic states.

On Sunday, morning cloudiness thinned out to mostly high level clouds which allowed sunshine to prevail around the state, east of the mountains.

Temperatures leveled off in the mid-70s with the exception of the upper 50s to mid 60s across the mountains where more cloudiness persisted through the day.

Some spotty light rain has already spread over portion of the west and central sections of North Carolina during the night. Most of this has been quite light and rather short in duration.

Diplomas Go To More Than 14,000 Grads

By The Associated Press
More than 14,000 college graduates across North Carolina received hard-earned diplomas over the weekend as at least two commencement speakers belittled the role of commencement speakers before offering sage advice.

But at St. Andrews Presbyterian College in Laurinburg, former U.S. Sen. George McGovern warned graduates to work to stop the threat of nuclear war.

At the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where more than 5,000 students were graduated Sunday, J. Carlyle Sitterson, Kenan professor of history and chancellor emeritus, spoke about the role of speaker.

Graduating seniors "remember little, if anything, from their commencement speakers," Sitterson said, adding that he had no "invaluable advice" that would assure them "success and happiness in the big world out there."

But he offered these encouraging words: "Be persistent and be patient — above all don't give up."

Quoting author and UNC graduate Thomas Wolfe, Sitterson said: "I think the true discovery of America is before us. I think the true fulfillment of our spirit, or our people, of our mighty and immortal land, is yet to come. I think the true discovery of our own democracy is still before us. And I think that all these things are certain as the morning, as inevitable as noon."

At Gardner-Webb College in Boiling Springs, the Rev. William Tanner, president of the Southern Baptist Convention's home mission board, told 240 graduates Saturday that commencement speakers usually lie.

Vowing not to lie to the students or gloss over the realities they would face in the world, Tanner cited Abscam, Watergate and urban crime to illustrate what he called a decline in ethics.

Harsh scholarship, committed lives and religious conviction are an old solution to the new problems, he said.

"One of the most important things for young people today ... is the ability to distinguish between what is real in life as opposed to the things that are illusory," Tanner said.

McGovern told the 130 St. Andrews students Saturday: "Let us not have it written on our tombstones, 'We knew what happened at Hiroshima but we didn't take a first step.'"

The unsuccessful presidential candidate of 1972 also urged the students "to look as honestly as you can at the challenge ahead of us in America: the nuclear arms race."

McGovern said he now believes a nuclear showdown is more likely than the possibility that the two superpowers will come to a meaningful arms limitation agreement, but he said a showdown is not inevitable.

Also Saturday, more than 3,000 North Carolina State University students were graduated at ceremonies featuring Dr. Frank H.T. Rhodes, president of Cornell University.

Rhodes said the university's faculty and staff "have established North Carolina State's position as one of the nation's major research universities."

At UNC-Charlotte, Chancellor E.K. Fretwell Jr. told 1,750 graduates Saturday that they must learn to live with change.

Citing Alvin Toffler's books "Future Shock" and "The Third Way," Fretwell stressed "the absolute necessity for better understanding on how to live fruitfully with other human beings in an increasingly crowded and competitive setting."

At UNC-Wilmington, Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green told 578 graduates that they have to create their own opportunities.

"Your potential pathways depend almost entirely on the number of assets you have going for you," he said. "Cultivate your assets, create opportunities for yourself and give yourself as many options as possible."

Other colleges with graduation ceremonies Saturday included Peace College in Raleigh with 187 graduates and Wingate College in Wingate with 234 graduates.

At graduation ceremonies Sunday at North Carolina Central University in Durham, board of trustees chairman William A. Clement spoke to 786 graduates.

"Remember there is no future without hope, and no opportunity for success without work," he said.

Other colleges with graduation ceremonies Sunday included Appalachian State University in Boone with 1,593 graduates, Meredith College in Raleigh with 350 graduates, Winston-Salem State College with 275 students, Mars Hill College with 234 students, and St. Augustine's College in Raleigh with 312 graduates.

Mormon Leader Soon On Job

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Mormon Church President Spencer W. Kimball, who underwent surgery this weekend to have a pacemaker implanted in his chest, should be back to his normal schedule within a week, a church spokesman says.

In fact, says spokesman Jerry Cahill, the 86-year-old Kimball plans a trip to South America later this month to conduct church business.

Kimball "was up and about Sunday morning, walking up and down the halls" of LDS Hospital here.

Doctors for the leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints say the pacemaker was implanted Saturday as a precaution because of Kimball's history of heart disease.

Title I Group Meets Tuesday

All representatives from local school councils and all interested people are encouraged to attend.

Historical Places Slide Show Tuesday

The Greenville Area Preservation Association will offer a slide presentation at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Planter's National Bank. The presentation will be on 14 historical Greenville homes, the Cherry Hill Cemetery and the old section of the Pitt County Courthouse.

Robbie Tugwell and Lee Goetz are chairmen of the event.

Dr. Patricia Rice will preside during the meeting. A scrapbook of the association will be presented by Mrs. Bob Swinson. The public is invited to attend.

Arson Attempt Is Investigated

Greenville Police, assisted by agents of the State Bureau of Investigation, are continuing their investigation of an attempted arson at McDonald's restaurant on Memorial Drive early Sunday.

Chief Glenn Cannon said a bottle containing a flammable liquid was apparently set afire beside the restaurant about 2:30 a.m.

He said an employee discovered the blaze after hearing a noise outside the building, and called the fire department.

Only minor smoke damage resulted, the chief said.

ARREST MADE

Greenville Police arrested Charles Ward of 800 East Third St. Friday on charges of possession of marijuana.

Chief Glenn Cannon said Ward was charged after officers confiscated about four pounds of marijuana, valued at an estimated $1,400, from his bedroom.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed in active trading today as several large banks posted increases in their prime lending rates.
 Gainers outnumbered losers by a 4-3 margin in the mid-day tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.
 But the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials slipped .18 to 985.77 by noon.
 Early in the session New York's Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. its prime rate from 19 1/2 to 20 percent, and several other banks around the country swiftly followed suit.
 Analysts noted, however, that the open-market money rates that usually set the future course for the prime had begun to decline in the latter part of last week.
 Thus, they said, hopes persisted that the recent upsurge in interest rates might have just about run its course.
 The $3.1 billion increase in the basic measure of the money supply reported by the Federal Reserve late Friday was smaller than many analysts had feared it might be. That helped calm fears of further credit-tightening by the Fed.
 Dean Witter Reynolds fell 4 1/8 to 31 1/8. The company denied rumors that it might be a takeover target.
 The NYSE's composite index rose .12 to 76.66. At the American Stock Exchange,

Farmville Man Killed

FARMVILLE — A Rt. 2, Farmville man was killed Saturday night when his car overturned on State Road 1245 four miles north of here.
 Investigating officer, Trooper C. R. Taylor said James Lee Davis, 38, was apparently traveling west at a high rate of speed when his car ran off the right side of the pavement, hit a ditch bank, overturned several times and came to rest on its top in a field on the north side of the road near the T intersection of Roads 1245 and 1246.
 Davis, the lone occupant of the car, was thrown from the vehicle and probably died instantly of the head injuries he sustained, Medical Examiner David Hollander said.

 College, said, "Today marks a proud occasion for Pitt Community College. The ceremony we have come to observe is a tribute to two outstanding community leaders who have made dynamic, unselfish, significant contributions to the growth and progress of this institution. Much of the success — in service and stature — is attributable to the efforts of Vernon E. White and Kay V. Whichard," Fulford added.
 The presentation of portraits and plaques was made by Clifton W. Everett Sr., chairman of the board of trustees.
 The unveiling of the Vernon E. White portrait was performed with the assistance of Dawn White, granddaughter of White. The Kathryn V. Whichard portrait was unveiled with assistance from Gina Whichard, daughter of Mrs. Whichard.
 Lt. Gov. Green was introduced by Robert L. Martin, a member of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners.
 The Rev. Clarence Gray, pastor of Triumph Baptist Church, pronounced the invocation.
 After the dedication ceremony, an open house was held as visitors observed demonstrations and exhibits which had been set up on the lawn and in the buildings. Members of the staff, faculty and student body served as hosts.

Pope Observing 61st Birthday

ROME (AP) — Pope John Paul II was moved from the intensive care unit to a general care hospital room today, his 61st birthday. In St. Peter's Basilica, 31 cardinals led prayers in a special birthday Mass for the pope, wounded five days ago.
 Doctors said the pontiff had a restless night and woke up feeling well although running a slight fever.
 "We are steadily approaching the time when we will be able to say there's no longer any danger of infection," said the chief medical staff at the pope's hospital, according to the Italian news agency AGI. "This moment is linked to a number of factors, above all, the disappearance of fever," Dr. Emilio Tresalti was quoted as saying.
 The pope will be watched around the clock, hospital sources said.
 His new, 11th story room at Gemelli Policlinico Hospital has an image of the black Madonna of Czestochowa, the most famous icon of Poland. The pope was born as Karol Wojtyla on May 18, 1920, at Wadowice, near Krakow, Poland.

City Budget....

 have been set aside in order to provide for wage adjustment considerations.
 Discussing city revenues, Wyatt said that the Utilities turnover for this year has been set by GUCO at $1,157,379. Last year, the turnover amounted to $1,126,783, he said.
 Other projected revenues include: intangibles tax (state), $106,224; beer and wine tax (state), $148,758; Powell Bill (state), $394,233 (a decrease of five percent from 1980-81); local option sales tax (state), $940,737; revenue sharing (federal), $599,916; and Urban Mass Transit Administration (federal), $75,000 for operating grant expenses.
 He pointed out that property taxes represent the "major source of local-generated revenues," but he added that since the 1981 valuations have not been received from the county, it is not known how much revenues will be received from property taxes.
 Wyatt recommended some $106,850 in funding for capital improvement projects, including $45,000 for airport expansion; $22,000 for the Swift Creek drainage project; $15,000 for an elevator for the community building; $13,850 for city hall repairs and improvements; $10,000 for drainage district improvements, specifically the Greenfield Terrace area; and $1,000 for the Citizens Bikeway program.
 He said the two drainage district projects and the airport expansion project were approved in February. The elevator mentioned is recommended to be funded by a lease/purchase arrangement, Wyatt explained.
 According to Wyatt, the city is "virtually assured" of receiving a three-year grant for the South Evans Project, with the first allocation of $996,228 expected this fall. A large amount of funds turned over to the city by the Redevelopment Commission will be used for the Community Development program, he reported.
 Wyatt said the Young Adult Conservation Corps (YACC) grant will terminate at the end of September, meaning the loss of several hundred thousand dollars annually and some 20 employees. City costs in the future operation of the Parks Division of the Recreation and Parks Department will be affected, he added.
 The city manager related that, "Tentative recommendations have been made on funding requests from the Sheppard Memorial Library and Pitt-Greenville Airport Authority." He said the county manager will probably not make his recommendations for the two agencies until the end of May.
 "It is suggested that discussions continue with the County Commissioners relative to the county assuming greater funding responsibilities for these activities and emergency medical services," Wyatt stated. "It would be desirable for the county to assume the entire responsibility for the airport since it benefits the entire county. It is also suggested that future library funding from the city be on a supplementary basis based upon greater participation by city residents."
 Wyatt said the library budget is "conservative," with projected operating expenses increased by 4.9 percent. He said the present level of funding is recommended for the Greenville Museum of Arts.
 He reported that the Utilities debt service has increased by $1,046,310, while the city's debt service has jumped $152,004. The increase in the debt service fund from the previous year, it was noted, is "due primarily to increased utilities debt service for the Public Works facility bond issue."
 The GUCO budget package proposes an Electric Fund amounting to $38,755,000; a Water Fund of $2,701,300; a Sewer Fund of $1,561,000; and a Gas Fund of $6,418,500.

Islanders Rally By North Stars, 7-5

New York One Game From Second Straight Stanley Cup

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The New York Islanders turned the Minnesota North Stars every which way but loose Sunday night, clawing back from a two-goal deficit and skating to a 7-5 victory which brought them within one game of their second National Hockey League Stanley Cup championship.

"This is the position to be in," said New York's Bryan Trottier, whose club leads the best-of-seven series 3-0. "Just reach out and grab it."

The youthful North Stars, perhaps a club of the future but not one, it appears, of destiny, lost a game it could not afford to lose and now is in immediate danger of being swept by the awesome Islanders. Game 4 is Tuesday night.

"This was by far our best effort and it still wasn't good enough," said Minnesota Coach Glen Sonmor. "That's as simple as I can put it."

The Islanders, "relentless," as Minnesota's Bobby Smith calls them, had as many heroes Sunday as they had records. The defending Stanley Cup champions allowed the North Stars a 3-1 first-period lead, but came back from so many angles and with so many weapons that they resembled a 20-man meat grinder, with the North Stars as lean hamburger.

"There is so much this hockey team can do," said defenseman Denis Potvin. "This club is hungry."

Mike Bossy, New York's automated goal-scoring machine, had two goals — his 16th and 17th — and two assists to give him 33 playoff points, snapping the record of 29 he shared with Trottier.

Potvin's two assists gave him 25 points in the playoffs, breaking the NHL scoring record of 24 for defenseman previously held by Bobby Orr. Trottier, with an empty-net goal and an assist, scored in his 16th consecutive Stanley Cup game, also a record.

"That's the wrong team to get into a shooting match with," said Minnesota goalie Gilles Meloche. "All their lines can score."

Butch Goring, the Islanders' whirling dervish whose 5-foot-9-inch frame barely seems large enough to contain his heavyweight-type energy, was the catalyst, however. Goring scored three goals, including two in the second period.

"To me, Goring has been their best player in the series," said Meloche. "We haven't found a way to stop him, but he's been stopping us."

Minnesota, playing before 15,784 vocal fans at the Met Center, raced to its 3-1 lead in the first period on goals by Steve Christoff, Steve Payne and Smith to overshadow Bossy's 16th goal of the playoffs.

In the second period, Bob Nystrom scored on a tip-in and Goring followed with a power play tally at 7:16 to tie the game at 3-3. At 11:51, Goring notched his second goal of the game when he battled the puck out of the air past the stunned Meloche for a 4-3 edge.

Payne scored at 1:11 of the third period for a 4-4 standoff, but Bossy connected 54 seconds later and Goring took advantage of a bad clearing attempt by Minnesota and scored from directly in front of the North Stars' net at 6:34 for a 6-4 cushion.

"The hat trick is a great feeling, but I was more interested in winning the game," said Goring. "Somebody always comes up big on this team on any given night."

Three months ago, Goring was kept out of one game, Feb. 21 against Chicago. He didn't like it, but now credits the benching with revitalizing himself and the team.

"It did a lot of good for me," he said. "I wasn't playing well and I guess I deserved it, even though I was bitter at the time. A lot of the guys weren't playing well and something had to be done. They decided to start with me. It let me know I had to get into gear."

Valenzuela Goes For 9th Win Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Viva Valenzuela!!!" came the cry from the crowd jammed into the park, but Los Angeles pitching sensation Fernando Valenzuela wasn't hurling his way out of a tight spot at Dodger Stadium — he simply showed up at a baseball clinic in East Los Angeles.

Some 2,000 happy, cheering admirers — young and old — came to the park Saturday in the predominantly Mexican-American neighborhood to see the 20-year-old sensation from Sonora, Mexico, who has a perfect 8-0 record in just eight starts this season.

Tonight, the young left-hander is scheduled to go for his ninth straight victory against the world champion Philadelphia Phillies. The game, as usual when Fernando pitches at home, is a sellout.

A sheriff's helicopter circled City Terrace Park above the well-behaved crowd Saturday as Valenzuela attended the clinic accompanied by dozens of Los Angeles County deputy sheriffs and park security officers.

Manny Mota, the Dodger batting coach and baseball's all-time leading pinch hitter, also took part in the clinic along with three other Dodger stars, but almost all the attention was devoted to the young pitcher who accepted a bouquet of roses from three children.

It was the first off-field public appearance for Valenzuela, who speaks no English, and this time he needed no interpreter.

"He said, 'It's fine to play baseball but not all the time. It's better to study,'" a Spanish-language newspaper (Please turn to page 10)

Third-Quickest Lineup Set To Start 65th Indianapolis 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Paced by the 200 mph runs of pole-winner Bobby Unser and Tom Sneva, the 33 cars that will start next Sunday's Indianapolis 500 qualified at an average 191.3 mph, some 5.7 miles per hour faster than last year and the third-quickest lineup in Indy history.

"The speed probably was the biggest surprise of qualifications," said defending champion Johnny Rutherford, who started from the pole position a year ago but had to settle for a second-row start this time. He qualified 3 mph faster than his pole speed in 1980 but still more than 5 mph slower than Unser.

"Nobody had any idea we'd be running this fast when we got here or even the first few days after practice began," Rutherford said Sunday during the final frantic efforts by some drivers to get into the lineup.

All 11 rows were filled on Saturday, leaving Sunday's windup of time trials for "bumping," while drivers of the slower cars in the lineup waited nervously. The slowest was Bill Whittington, a second-year driver who qualified on Saturday at 184.833 mph.

He was bumped from the lineup Sunday, as he expected, but he jumped into a backup racer and turned in an amazing run at 197.098 mph, fifth-fastest overall.

"I tell you," Whittington said after his rapid ride. "This place is hard. It's not like sports car races, it's not like NASCAR (stock car races,) it's just unbelievable."

"It goes so good and then it just goes so bad so quick," said Whittington, 31, whose older brother, Don, qualified on Saturday at 187.237 mph.

"The crew has been working all month now, night and day, and they really made it possible for me. I just appreciate all the teamwork they put in, and all the other drivers helping us and mechanics giving us a tip now and then," Bill said.

Starting next to Unser on the front row will be veterans Mike Mosley, who qualified at 197.141 mph, and four-time winner A.J. Foyt, who averaged 196.078 for the four laps around the 2½-mile track. Former winner Gordon Johncock will start on the inside of the second row, with Rutherford in the middle and 22-year-old rookie Josele Garza of Mexico on the outside.

Bill Alsop, Wally Dallenbach and Gordon Smiley qualified for the third row, although Dallenbach was subbing for Mario Andretti who will have to start the race in the 33rd spot when he replaces Dallenbach. Andretti was in Belgium for a Grand Prix race.

Rutherford said he didn't think a problem would develop with the fast first-row starters trying to grab the lead going into the first turn at the start of the race.

"Everybody will make a move to get the best spot, but we're all aware of what can happen when you get a crowd of cars in one spot," he said. "Everybody takes care of (Please turn to page 11)

No Mistake, Ridley Captures M-D

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Jody Ridley thought there must have been some mistake on the lap board when it showed his car — No. 90 — in first place for the last 20 miles of the Mason-Dixon 500 stock car race.

But Ridley was a believer by the last lap on the "Monster Mile" at Dover Downs International Speedway, where he took his first Grand National victory Sunday with a 22-second margin over defending champion Bobby Allison.

"I saw the (No.) 90 on the board, thinking they had made a mistake," the 38-year-old racer from Chatsworth, Ga., said. "But I looked again and it (No. 90) was still there. By the last lap I knew I had it won. I don't know. I just couldn't believe it."

After 450 laps, Ridley was in third place and four laps behind leader Neil Bonnett in the 500-mile race. Bonnett held the lead for a total of 403 laps.

But Bonnett blew the engine on his Ford Thunderbird on the backstretch in the 458th lap, giving Cale Yarborough the lead and moving Ridley into the second-place slot but still four laps down.

Then Yarborough, who had been two laps behind Bonnett, blew the engine in his Buick Regal in the first turn after 480 laps, giving Ridley the lead.

"I don't know. Words can't describe the victory," said Ridley, who was NASCAR's 1980 Rookie-of-the-Year.

"The handling wasn't the best in the world, but we got the breaks and just hung in there," Ridley said about his winning drive in a Thunderbird.

The race marked the first time the smaller-sized stock cars were run in the Northeast under rules issued by NASCAR earlier this year. The 40,000 fans in attendance was the largest crowd ever to witness a sporting event in Delaware.

Ridley, who started 11th, took home a $22,810 purse and was asked how it felt to win by "attrition."

"I'm sure they've won a bunch of races like that, so it don't take nothing away from it," he said.

Ridley and Allison, who finished second, were the only drivers to complete 500 laps. They were followed by Dale Earnhardt, D. K. Ulrich and Ricky Rudd.

A's Back On Earth; Indians Now Flying

Cleveland Sweeps Pair From Blue Jays; Leads AL East

By The Associated Press
The Oakland A's have finally come down to earth — now it's the Cleveland Indians who are flying.

Off to the hottest start in major league baseball history with an 11-0 record, the A's have since cooled off, losing their fourth straight game Sunday, 6-2 to the Milwaukee Brewers.

The Indians, meanwhile, are currently playing the best ball in the American League with 17 victories in their last 23 games, including a doubleheader sweep Sunday over the Toronto Blue Jays, 1-0 and 2-1 in 10 innings.

"As long as our pitching stays consistent, even two or three runs is enough for us," said Cleveland right-hander Bert Blyleven of the staff that leads the league with a 2.39 earned run average. "We have the type of pitchers who are competitive, and we know that our hitters are going to bust out pretty soon."

Blyleven was one of the winning pitchers Sunday, scattering seven hits as he went the route in the nightcap. The curvballing right-hander, acquired in an off-season trade with the Pittsburgh Pirates, improved his record to 5-1.

"He's added a lot of poise and instilled a lot of confidence in our pitching staff," said Indians center fielder Rick Manning about Blyleven.

Rick Waits and Sid Monge combined to scatter nine hits and Miguel Dilone drove home the game's only run with a fifth-inning single as the Indians won the first game. Waits, 4-2, gave up all nine Toronto hits, struck out two and walked two in eight innings, before Monge came in to pitch the ninth and record his first save of the season.

Jorge Orta lined a bases-loaded single with none out in the 10th inning to provide the Indians with their second-game victory. Rick Manning opened the 10th with a triple off loser Roy Lee Jackson, 0-2. Jackson then intentionally walked Tom Verzyer and Dilone to load the bases before Orta delivered his game-winning blow off Mike Willis.

Brewers 6, A's 2
Ted Simmons lined a two-run triple to spark a five-run Milwaukee sixth inning, leading the Brewers over Oakland. Loser Rick Langford, 4-4, carried a 2-1 lead into the sixth, but walked Jim Gantner and Charlie Moore with one out. Gantner scored the tying run when second baseman Dave McKay let Cecil Cooper's ground ball skip past him for an error.

Moore reached third and Cooper took second on the play, and an intentional walk to Ben Oglivie loaded the bases. Moore scored on a sacrifice fly by Ross Howell, and Simmons, batting .174, followed with his triple.

The victory gave the Brewers a sweep of a three-game series with the staggering A's.

Angels 7, Tigers 1
Brian Downing's RBI double keyed a three-run first inning and right-hander Ken Forsch pitched a five-hitter as California defeated Detroit. It was the third victory on the road for Forsch, 6-1, who came to the Angels in a spring trade with the Houston Astros of the National League.

"I've just been real lucky. I've had a lot of runs every time I've pitched," said Forsch, who had a 12-13 record with the Astros last year. "When you get a three-run lead in the first inning, you can kind of relax and go out there and just throw strikes and not worry."

"Detroit was taking good swings at them, but they were just hitting it at people."

White Sox 9, Rangers 0
Ross Baumgarten hurled a four-hitter and Wayne Nordhagen and Mike Squires supplied the batting punch to

Wins Colonial Tournament Zoeller Suffers, Survives

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — "Golf's crazy," says Fuzzy Zoeller, who spent a long, turbulent day proving it.

He suffered and survived most of the game's sensations and breezed to a four-shot victory in Sunday's wind-swept 36-hole windup to the $300,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament.

The happy-go-lucky Zoeller gunned down half a dozen challengers with a topsy-turvy 68-70 spiced with strings of bogeys and birdies, highs and lows, ups and downs.

In the end, he stripped three shots from par from the closing seven holes of Colonial's par-70 Trinity River treachery to scuttle all threats and halt a two-year slump dating back to his memorable 1979 Masters triumph.

"Really," he sighed, "it's a great feeling."

His 6-under-par 274 beat runnerup Hale Irwin by four strokes, earned him $54,000, overshadowed his chronic back problem and sent him scurrying off to a champagne celebration.

"I may be sore in the morning ... but who cares?" he said as he grinned and grappled with his 2-year-old daughter, Sunny.

It was Sunny who got off one of the best lines of the week as she helped her dad construct an opening round 67.

"Don't choke," her father quoted he as saying. "Remember, this is how you earn a living, Daddy. Keep it up."

He did, despite several notable lapses.

After Friday's thundershowers necessitated a 36-hole finale, Zoeller began the day at 4-under-par, a stroke ahead of Irwin and two better than Tom Kite and Keith Fergus.

He carted four straight birdies during the morning round, opened up a six-shot lead and appeared en route to a runaway. Just as quickly, he bogeyed three in a row, finished with a third-round 68 and invited a fresh series of challenges with a shaky start on the final 18.

Ray Floyd mounted the most serious threat, reeling off five birdies through seven holes while Zoeller was dropping two more shots to par. They were tied at 4-under at one point.

"There was some doubt in my mind on the second 18," admitted Zoeller, "but I hit an eight-iron on the 12th hole that clinched it, I think."

He laced the shot within inches of the cup, dropped the birdie putt, and swept on past the field, including a faltering Floyd and a frustrated Irwin and Kite.

Floyd fell from contention with a double bogey at the ninth, while Irwin and Kite failed to mount a charge.

It Just Didn't Drop
Hale Irwin lies down on the 15th green in disbelief when a birdie putt lipped around the cup but didn't drop. Irwin shot a par on the hole and finished second in the Colonial National Invitational Tournament with a four-round two-under-par 278. (AP Laserphoto)

Phillies Ready To Face Valenzuela

By The Associated Press

Mike Schmidt of the Philadelphia Phillies says "it sure ain't the World Series," but the attention that will be focused on tonight's meeting with the Los Angeles Dodgers and rookie phenom Fernando Valenzuela might make it seem so.

"We've got everything to gain and nothing to lose," Schmidt said. "The best way to approach a game like this is to not get excited."

Valenzuela, a left-handed screwball pitcher from Mexico, brings an 8-0 record with five shutouts and an 0.50 earned run average into the game at Dodger Stadium. The 20-year-old Valenzuela has yet to face the 1980 World Series champion Phillies, and Schmidt and his teammates would like nothing better than to put the first blemish on his record.

Schmidt cracked his major league-leading 11th home run of the season Sunday to help the Phillies beat San Diego 6-3 and win the rubber match of their three-game series with the Padres on the West Coast.

Phil's right-hander Nino Espinosa tossed a seven-hitter for his first victory since April 19 and second in five decisions.

About the meet with Valenzuela, Schmidt said, "He probably is more anxious to see us than we are to see him."

Dodgers 6, Mets 1

The Dodgers, the hottest team in baseball with seven straight victories and 10 in 11 games, got still another fine pitching performance to beat the Mets. Left-hander Jerry Reuss, 4-1, scattered 12 hits and didn't allow a run until the ninth when Hubie Brooks hit an RBI single.

Ron Cey provided the firepower with his fifth home run in six games. The Dodgers scored all their runs in the fourth off Pat Zachry, 3-5. The inning included doubles by Derrel Thomas, Dusty Baker and Pedro Guerrero and singles by Bill Russell, Reuss and Thomas.

The Mets have lost seven in a row and 22 of 30. Brooks' RBI hit snapped a string of 19 innings in which New York has failed to score.

Reds 4, Pirates 3

Ken Griffey hit a two-run, inside-the-park homer, and Ray Knight hit a solo shot to give Cincinnati a three-game sweep of the Pirates. Mario Soto, 3-5, went the distance for the Reds, scattering seven hits.

In the third inning, Griffey hit a sinking line drive to left field that bounced past John Milner and rolled to the wall.

Griffey raced all the way around the bases for his first home run of the season. Knight's leadoff homer in the seventh was his third.

Cardinals 4, Braves 3

St. Louis scored all its runs in the first inning, two on a single by Ken Oberkfell, and held off the Braves. Oberkfell's hit was the fifth straight single off 41-year-old right-hander Gaylord Perry, 3-3.

Pinch-hitter Bob Porter smacked a two-run double for Atlanta in the eighth to make it 4-3.

Bob Forsch, 3-2, went five innings for St. Louis, holding Atlanta to three hits before his shoulder stiffened.

Astros 6, Cubs 1

Houston left-hander Bob Knepper yielded four hits in 7-1/3 innings to notch his fourth straight victory, and the Astros capitalized on some wildness by Cubs pitchers.

Chicago lefty Mike Kurkow walked six batters in his 21-3 innings as Houston marched to a 4-0 lead. Twice, Krukow, 1-4, walked a man with the bases loaded. Terry Puhl and Craig Reynolds each drove in a pair of runs for the Astros.

Giants 5, Expos 4

Jack Clark cracked a bases-loaded single in the bottom of the 12th inning to help San Francisco hand the slumping Expos their fifth loss in six games. The Giants, meanwhile, have won seven of their past 10.

Mike Sadek led off the San Francisco 12th with a walk off Bill Lee, 1-2. One out later, Enos Cabell singled, sending Sadek to third, and Joe Morgan walked to load the bases for Clark.

San Francisco came up with a run in the ninth on a two-out photographer translated for the media after Valenzuela spoke to several boys wearing baseball uniforms.

Escorted by the four largest coaches in five park leagues, the young pitcher, smiling shyly, moved to another group of seated players — and about half of the autograph-seeking crowd moved with him.

"As old as I am, I came to see him," said Trinidad Alvarez, a 58-year-old grandmother who lives near the park. "I would like to touch him, give him a little kiss. But no one can get very close."

"It was good the way they did it. They put the kids in front so they could see him, with the adults on the hill behind them," she added. "The kids asked how to throw his screwball. He showed them, but he also advised them, 'Don't try it. You might hurt your arm. Wait until you're at least 14 years old.'"

Velasquez Concern Surprises Trainer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jorge Velasquez, rider of Pleasant Colony, says he was worried about Bold Ego for a while in Saturday's Preakness Stakes.

The jockey's statement brought a look of surprise from Pleasant Colony's trainer, Johnny Campo.

"Velasquez only rode this horse twice and maybe he didn't know how good this horse is," said Campo, the self-proclaimed Fat Man. "Now he knows."

The gangly, long-legged Pleasant Colony will win no beauty contests but he is one step from becoming only the 12th thoroughbred Triple Crown winner in history.

That opportunity will come June 6 in the Belmont Stakes, a 1 1/2 mile test at Belmont Park.

"It will be a piece of cake," said Campo after his colt earned $200,800 from the record gross purse of $270,000 by catching Bold Ego in the last 70 yards and scoring a one-length victory over the speedy New Mexico-bred.

"I'll match this horse with any good horse. He's one of the greatest race horses ever to run in the United States." With five victories in 10 career starts, the son of His Majesty-Son Colony now has earned $720,147.

Campo bristles when someone mentions the spotty blotches and the red mark on the colt's flanks.

"Just watch him race," said the 5-foot-7, 250-pounder who took over the Buckland Farm Virginia-bred about two months ago and offers no answers for the colt's bad looks.

As for Pleasant Colony's lack of flesh, Campo pointed out that the colt was a May 4 foal, so that he's still growing and that he didn't actually turn 3-years-old until two days after the Kentucky Derby, first leg of the Triple Crown.

While Pleasant Colony's Derby victory left some doubts as to the colt's ability because of the suicide pace and 21-horse field, the Preakness victory erased them.

Jack Van Berg, trainer of runnerup Bold Ego who set all the pace under Johnny Lively in the 1 3/16 mile race at Pimlico, said, "At the head of the lane I thought we could win by two lengths. I thought we shook him off at the eighth pole, but he just overpowered us. I'm a believer in Johnny's horse now."

Bold Ego, owned by J.D. Barton and Dr. James Kidd, had finished 10th in the Derby after a blistering early pace. In the Preakness, Bold Ego was sent off the second choice at 7-2 behind 8-5 Pleasant Colony.

Pleasant Colony was whipped five times by Velasquez and battled through the stretch with Bold Ego before finally pulling away.

UNC-Syracuse In Lacrosse Opener

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Two regular-season rematches and two first-time encounters will mark Wednesday's four opening-round games in the 11th NCAA Division I lacrosse tournament.

In announcing its seedings and pairings Sunday, the NCAA took issue as usual with the final weekly coaches' poll of the U.S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association.

The NCAA and coaches agreed on the top three teams — three-time defending champion Johns Hopkins, unbeaten North Carolina and Army — and on Navy as the No. 6 team.

Where the coaches ranked Virginia fourth and Massachusetts fifth, the NCAA reversed the order — but Virginia still will play at home because the NCAA said Massachusetts' stadium is not available.

The NCAA dropped Maryland, No. 7 in the coaches' poll, to eighth and gave Syracuse, the No. 10 team in the coaches' poll, the seventh seed. Cornell and Maryland-Baltimore County, ranked eighth and ninth by the coaches, were left out of the NCAA tournament field.

Johns Hopkins, 11-0, will be at home against Maryland, 9-4, and Virginia, 8-3, will entertain Massachusetts, 13-1, in the upper bracket. Johns Hopkins beat Maryland 12-8 during the season, but Virginia and Massachusetts never have played.

In the lower bracket, Army, 10-3, will be at home seeking to repeat an earlier 9-8 decision over Navy, 6-4, and North Carolina, 9-0, will play host to Syracuse, 7-3, for their first-ever meeting.

The highest seeded survivors will be the host teams for Saturday's two semifinal games. The championship game will be played at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 30, at Princeton. Johns Hopkins edged Virginia 9-8 in overtime in last year's title game at Cornell. Navy is the only team which has played in every NCAA tournament. Johns Hopkins and Maryland have played in all but one.

The final poll with season records and poll points:

1. Johns Hopkins, 11-0, 135. 2. North Carolina, 9-0, 126. 3. Army, 10-3, 114. 4. Virginia, 8-3, 104. 5. Massachusetts, 13-1, 100. 6. Navy, 6-4, 95. 7. Maryland, 9-4, 82. 8. Cornell, 8-4, 67. 9. Maryland-Baltimore County, 8-3, 59. 10. Syracuse, 7-3, 58. 11. N.C. State, 7-4, 49. 12. Penn State, 9-2, 39. 13. Washington & Lee, 6-5, 22. 14. Rutgers, 6-6, 13. 15. Princeton, 8-5, 12.

Whitworth Wins 1st Tourney In 2 Years

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth, savoring her first LPGA victory in two years, says she doesn't care that winning the $125,000 Coca Cola Classic is a giant step toward becoming the first female golfer in history to reach $1 million in earnings.

Instead, Whitworth was fighting back tears after a sudden-death playoff at the Ridgewood Country Club that gave her a victory over 26-year-old Alice Ritzman.

"At times last year and the year before, I thought I could never win again," said Whitworth, 41, who frequently finishes in the top 10, but hasn't regained the momentum she enjoyed while dominating the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour in the late 1960s and early 1970s.

"I really had doubts," she said. "I can't talk about what this means to me without getting choked up."

Whitworth's joy was tempered by the recent death of two close friends. Her longtime caddie, Jim Devers, died last December of cancer, and business associate Leo MacNamara passed away suddenly on Thursday.

"I had those two people on my mind," Whitworth said. "I kind of think Leo was up there today, kicking the ball for me."

The $18,750 winning money leaves Whitworth $23,000 short of the million dollar plateau, while the victory puts her one tournament behind Mickey Wright's all-time high of 82. Yet, the numbers didn't impress Whitworth, who is in her 23rd year on the tour.

Chances are Whitworth will be the first millionaire, and soon. Her closest competitor, Donna Caponi, needs $93,392 to reach the mark. While Whitworth hasn't been winning, her game has improved greatly from last year. This season, she had eight top 10 finishes in 13 events, including a playoff loss to Sally Little in the CPC Women's International at Hilton Head, S.C.

"Right now, I don't believe I won. It hasn't hit me yet," she said.

everybody else in those circumstances."

Rutherford said his race strategy might change "a little bit" with a second-row start instead of the first row. "We're going to go for it (the lead), but we're not going to jeopardize the equipment doing it."

Unser, however, a two-time winner who will be starting from the pole for the second time, said there is "nothing different, really," from beginning farther back. "I've been on the pole many times in many different races, and there is nothing special starting there."

Unser qualified at 200.546 mph. The fastest qualifier, however, was Sneva, who averaged 200.691 but was not eligible to win the pole position because his car was not in the original qualification line a week earlier. Danny Ongais was also unable to qualify then because of a bad starter and will start behind Sneva with a 197.694 average.

Rick Mears, Unser's teammate, is right behind Ongais at 194.018 in his backup car. Mears, the 1979 Indy winner, lost a chance for the pole when a bad ignition coil thwarted his first qualification attempt.

Even with fast drivers like Mears, Sneva, Ongais and Andretti charging from the rear, Unser doesn't foresee any problems in the race.

"There's no reason (for starting in the back) to bother people now," Unser said. "If I'm starting in the back, all I have to do is look for traffic problems and stay close. I'll be able to come up (with the leaders) during a yellow (caution)."

"The way it used to be with the pacer light (where every car had to maintain its relative position and distance behind the car in front of it,) starting in front was very important," Unser said.

"But this way, it's more exciting for the fans because every time there's a yellow, it's a new race."

Unser's younger brother, three-time winner Al Unser, will start on the inside of the fourth row, next to veterans Pancho Carter and Gary Bettenhausen.

The slowest car in the field will be driven by Larry Dickson, who qualified at 186.278. Among the starters will be 10 rookie drivers, matching the number who made their initial race in 1980, and four pair of brothers — Tom and Jerry Sneva, the two Whittingtons, Gary and Tony Bettenhausen and the Unsers. Among those bumped from the lineup by faster cars was Tim Richmond, last year's Indy rookie of the year.

Jerry Sneva's appearance in the race is conditional on a protest filed by driver Jerry Karl, who was bumped from the lineup by Sneva and later claimed Sneva's car was illegally tampered with to increase its horsepower. The U.S. Auto Club was to hold a hearing today on the matter.

There were two crashes during Sunday's final session. Rookie Phil Krueger crashed in the third turn, striking the outside wall and careening into the infield. He was hospitalized with a shoulder fracture and dislocation, two fractured ribs and minor facial burns. Veteran Spike Gehlhausen also crashed during his qualification attempt.

lead Chicago over Texas. Baumgarten retired the first 13 batters before Leon Roberts beat out a bunt single with one out in the fifth.

Nordhagen drove in four runs with three singles and Squires had three singles, scored twice and drove in a run.

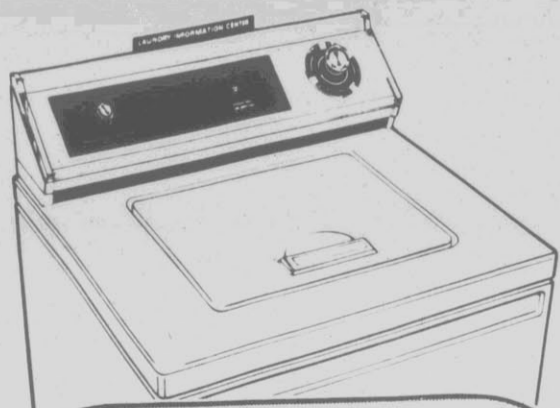

Royals 5, Red Sox 4
RBI singles by U.L. Washington and Willie Aikens in the ninth inning capped a Kansas City comeback that carried the Royals over Boston. Dennis Leonard, 4-4, got the victory despite giving up 15 hits in eight innings. Dan Quisenberry finished up for the Royals.

The Royals rallied after two were out in the ninth. Lee May singled and Cesar Geronimo ran for him. Willie Wilson then singled Geronimo to third before Washington drove in the go-ahead run. Aikens' RBI single provided the eventual winning run as Boston fell one short by scoring a run in the bottom of the ninth.

Orioles 6, Twins 3
Eddie Murray had three hits and Jim Palmer scattered seven hits over 7-3 innings to lead Baltimore over Minnesota. Palmer, 2-1, allowed three runs and was relieved by Tim Stoddard, who earned his first save.

Martiners 1, Yankees 0
Floyd Bannister and two relievers combined on a seven-hitter as Seattle blanked New York. Gary Gray drove in the game's only run with a sixth-inning sacrifice fly against loser Ron Davis. Tom Paciorek and Jeff Burroughs, who had two hits apiece, cracked singles in front of Gray's sacrifice fly.

Man To Watch: ABC's John Severino

DOUBLE-HEADER — Cindy Kerby, Miss California USA, won both the Miss Amity and the Miss Photogenic awards at the Miss USA Pageant on the Mississippi Gulf Coast with Miss USA being chosen May 21 on a live telecast at 8 pm CDT. The 5'8" blue-eyed blonde is from Los Angeles.

By PETER J. BOYER
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — ABC has moved Tony Thomopoulos, its post-Fred Silverman programmer, to Los Angeles in a move billed as a corporate streamlining and a major move up for Thomopoulos.

Oh, really? In a press statement brimming with cheery words for Thomopoulos, ABC President Fred Pierce gave all the good reasons for moving Thomopoulos and ABC Entertainment from New York to Los Angeles (he didn't mention closer proximity to the ABC psychic as being one of them.) Pierce even spoke of added responsibilities that Thomopoulos will assume out here.

What Pierce didn't mention was the future of one John Severino, currently the general manager of ABC's station here, KABC.

Sevarino is much admired by the ABC biggies in New York. The network clearly intends to use Sevarino as its point man in its comeback struggle. Pierce spoke of the Thomopoulos reign is such glowing terms you might have thought these past three seasons had been hunky-dory for ABC.

"During the three years Tony has headed ABC Entertainment, ABC has suffered through a nosebleed decline. When Fred Silverman left ABC for NBC's big bucks, ABC was No. 1 and folks there were very happy. Now ABC is No. 2 in the vital prime time area, and grumpiness prevails. Instead of dogfighting with CBS, ABC's more realistic opponent is third-and-climbing NBC.

Thomopoulos "talented staff of executives," talented as it may be, has provided ABC with television programs that viewers are greeting with indifference. The perception of ABC under Thomopoulos has changed from a powerful network champion to a struggling, hesitant contender on a cold streak.

It was the third marriage for Miss Wagner, 31, known for her starring role in the "Bionic Woman" television series, according to her publicist, Richard Grant. Her former husbands are actor Michael Brandon and music publisher Allan Rider.

Kingi, 37, has had one previous marriage. The Saturday afternoon ceremony was held in the home of Lee Fuller Jones, a close friend of the couple and former wife of singer Jack Jones, Grant said. Country western singer Hoyt Axton was the witness.

Miss Wagner is now appearing in the films "High Risk" and "Night Hawks."

Singer Recovering In Hospital Care

DALLAS (AP) — British pop singer Sheila Rossall not only has gained more than 20 pounds during her stay in a Dallas allergy clinic, but she also has written two songs, says a friend who visited her recently.

The singer has a rare disorder that causes allergic reactions to thousands of manufactured substances, especially chemicals and processed foods. She has been eating organically grown meats, fruits and vegetables and breathes filtered air at Brookhaven Medical Center's environmental control unit.

Ms. Rossall, who had a No. 1 hit in England three years ago, weighed less than 80 pounds when she was admitted to Brookhaven in February. Doctors say she now weighs more than 100 pounds and may be released within three months.

The Dallas allergy clinic is one of only four isolation units in the United States capable of maintaining near-total environmental seclusion.

Doctors try to isolate a patient from manufactured materials and pollutants long enough to allow the body's natural defense mechanisms to recover from toxic reactions suffered prior to admission.

Ms. Rossall once sang with the British Rock group Pickettywitch and had a chart-topping tune in England called "Love Me Just A Little Bit More."

Royal Marriage 'Follows Plot'

NEW YORK (AP) — Lady Diana's forthcoming royal marriage "mirrors my plot lines," says romantic novelist Barbara Cartland, who just happens to be the step-grandmother of Prince Charles' fiancée.

Miss Cartland, whose daughter, Raine, is Lady Diana's stepmother, is the author of 307 books that have sold 197 million copies.

"Di is chaste and chased, just like one of my characters." The 79-year-old author told People magazine. "It (the royal wedding) mirrors my plot lines where a virginal heroine, like Di, falls passionately in love with a man of nobility and rakish, if not raffish, characteristics, like Charles."

Q.1—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q108743 ♥A82 ♦A♠AQ6
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♦ Pass 2 ♦ Pass
2 ♦ Pass 3 ♦ Pass

What action do you take?
A.—You have enough to bid again, and we would not fault you if you chose three no trump—partner should have at least six good diamonds and an outside entry. However, a bid of three hearts might be more flexible. Partner can still bid three no trump over that, but you now give him the chance to show a mild spade preference. If he holds something like J-x of spades, four spades should be the superior game contract.

Q.2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AQJ5 ♥K98 ♦107 ♠AQ76
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 NT Pass Pass Dble.
Pass 2 ♦ Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—By removing you double of one no trump to two diamonds, partner has shown a weak hand and a long diamond suit—with any amount of strength, he would have passed for penalties. You have nowhere to go, and any attempt to improve the contract could lead to disaster. Pass.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠9872 ♥KJ83 ♦J62♠72
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♦ Pass Pass Dble.
Pass 1 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—Even though partner's bid is not forcing and you don't have much of a hand, you should go on to four hearts. Partner has contracted for nine tricks regardless of what you hold. Viewed in that light, your trump honors and doubleton club are quite adequate to undertake game.

Q.4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K97 ♥AQ10976 ♦AQ3♠8
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♦ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Your primary duty is to tell partner about your good hand and fine suit—you can support his suit later. A bid of two hearts doesn't express the value of your hand, nor does three diamonds, and a jump to four diamonds bypasses three no trump. Three hearts solves all your problems.

Q.5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠872 ♥AQJ107 ♦KQ6♠AQ
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♦ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
4 ♦ Pass 4 ♥ Pass

What action do you take?
A.—You have described a very strong hand with your high reverse and subsequent support of partner's suit. Despite that, partner has shown no inclination to proceed past game. It seems you surely have two spade losers on the hand. You could bid five hearts to ask partner for

YOUR DAILY Horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Quick action is needed to put in motion the decisions you've made the past several days. Unexpected conditions arise and you can easily display your talents at this time.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Put those fine ideas to work quickly and gain the aims that mean much to you. Follow your hunches, which are good now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make long-range plans to add to present abundance. Being more cooperative with co-workers brings fine results now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to please associates with whom you've had some difficulty in the past and come to a better understanding.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study how to improve your social standing in your community and gain added prestige. Don't waste time foolishly.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) The fullness of the Moon will give you an opportunity to accomplish a great deal today. Use modern methods at work.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Money matters could be depressing early in the day but clear up later if you use good common sense. Be more confident.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Find out what expectations of close ties are and try to please them more. Plan to spend more time at home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study your monetary affairs well and know how to improve them in the near future. Show that you have ability.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be more concerned with personal problems instead of doing so much for others at this time. Avoid extravagance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Analyze every phase of a new plan you have and then you can make it operate most successfully. Be an optimist.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The planets make it possible for you to be your most gregarious self at this time. You can easily gain your aims.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make allowances for loved one who could be in a bad mood now. The evening can be a most happy one. Don't neglect bills.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will most articulate and should have the education directed along lines where this gift can be used to advantage, such as teaching. Your progeny will study varying philosophies of life and will profit by them.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Victoria Day

Today, Canadians celebrate Victoria Day in honor of Britain's Queen Victoria. Queen Victoria was born on May 24, 1819. She ruled Britain from 1837-1901, the longest reign of any of the British monarchs. Prior to Victoria's rule, Canada was a divided British colony. In 1840, however, Upper and Lower Canada were united and the country became self-governing. Traditionally, the birthday of the ruling monarch has been a patriotic holiday in the British Empire. But because Victoria was especially revered, her birthday took on special meaning. Now Canadians officially commemorate the birthday of the current ruling monarch of England on Victoria Day. Victoria Day is celebrated each year on the Monday prior to May 25.

DO YOU KNOW — Who is Canada's monarch?
FRIDAY'S ANSWER — Marconi invented the radio in 1895.

Prisoner Aid Inadequate

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Six years after a federal judge ordered North Carolina to provide legal assistance for prisoners, an attorney who has helped prisoners gain access to legal books says the aid still isn't adequate.

Barry Nakell of Chapel Hill made the charge in a complaint filed recently in federal court in Raleigh.

In a February ruling, U.S. District Judge Franklin Dupree Jr. ordered the state to submit a plan of how it would train inmates to use legal libraries. Dupree found that only two of the 31 inmates who work in prison law libraries took part in a state-sponsored training program last year.

Three Hurt In Collision

Three persons were reported injured and an estimated $11,300 property damage caused in two traffic collisions investigated here Sunday.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from a pre-dawn collision on Dickinson Avenue, 85 feet west of the Westwood Drive intersection, involving cars driven by Clyde Ray Childers of Raleigh, and Sandra Gail Brann of Farmville.

Investigators, who charged Childers with operating left of center, said both drivers were injured in the 4:15 a.m. mishap.

Damage was estimated at $4,500 to the Childers car and $5,500 to the Brann vehicle, as a result of the head-on collision.

Cars driven by Michael Lavern King of Route 2, Pantego and Rebecca Blair Johnson of Charlotte, collided about 2:59 p.m. at the intersection of Fifth and Cotanche Streets, causing an estimated $775 damage to the King car and $525 damage to the Johnson vehicle.

Police, who charged King with failing to stop for a red light, reported Ms. Johnson was injured in the mishap.

Found Hanging In Lee Jail

SANFORD, N.C. (AP) — A 19-year-old Sanford prisoner was found hanging in his cell Sunday at the Lee County Jail.

Sheriff Harold Thomas said inmate Carl Wayne McIver was found hanging by a shirt tied to a bar about 15 minutes after he made a phone call in an attempt to find someone to pay his $300 bond.

McIver was jailed on an assault charge Friday night and was alone in his cell when he was found.

Arrest Made By Officers

Leonard Robert Stewart of Route 8, Greenville, was arrested on breaking, entering and larceny charges yesterday after Greenville Police found him inside Hatteras Hammocks at 1104 Clark St., about 11 a.m.

Chief Glenn Cannon said entry to the building was gained by prying open a door.

The chief noted that $480 in cash and merchandise were recovered.

GRADUATION
 William Francis Finn Jr. of Greenville was among graduates receiving degrees last week at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Finn, a pre-medical student, received a bachelor's degree in zoology.

COSMETICS "CLINIQUE" Means EXCELLENCE

There are synonyms of course: quality, grace, taste. Women who possess these attributes understand that Clinique cosmetics and fragrances help highlight these qualities. They understand the language of style and the meaning of quality.

We are currently looking for qualified people to help demonstrate and sell Clinique. You must be able to understand the Clinique customer, her point of view, and her sense of fashion.

If you feel you qualify, come in and speak to us. We offer an attractive salary, excellent benefits & liberal employee discount, and most important, a chance to experience excellence.

Taste Bonus!

Research generates consistent proof that low tar
MERIT matches taste of higher tar brands.

Five years ago, low tar MERIT sparked a whole new era in smoking by delivering taste way out of proportion to tar.

Until MERIT, no low tar cigarette had been able to prove it could match the taste of higher tar brands.

Millions Endorse MERIT Taste

Switching studies confirm it. 90% of smokers switching to MERIT are coming directly from higher tar cigarettes.

Fact: Since its introduction, MERIT has gained more smokers than any other low tar brand!

MERIT: Taste Success

MERIT continues to win higher tar smokers with its unique combination of taste, ease of switch, and long-term satisfaction.

A combination that appeals to millions of smokers who have switched to—and stayed with—the first proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking.

The momentum builds: MERIT is changing the future of smoking.
