Response Hinted To Next Korean Threat

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Surveillance flights will not be stopped by North Korea's missile attack on a U.S. spy plane and the United States may shoot back or launch a counterattack if it happens again, the Reagan administration says. Presidential counselor

Edwin Meese III declined Thursday to detail what steps might be taken in the event of another attack but said firing back is a possibility.

Support aircraft might be assigned to protect spy planes, which also could take action themselves, he said.

"One hypothetical option would be to take out the source of the missile" or launch a counterattack, Meese said at a news conference in Oakland, Calif.

In Santa Barbara, Calif., deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes said Meese was "reflecting the president's policy."

Appearing on NBC's Today show, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger said today, "it's very clear that we will have to take some kind of measures that would discourage a country such as North Korea from firing at our planes when they're in international waters or over South Korea."

Beyond saying "there are a number of different things we could do," Weinberger refused to go into any specific list of actions that would be taken by the United States.

However, under questioning, he appeared to rule out fighter escort of the SR-71s saying, "I think the fighter planes would be a little difficult time keeping up with this plane" which travels at better than 2,000 miles-an-hour.

The Defense Department said a surface-to-air missile from a site in North Korea was fired Wednesday at an Air Force SR-71, a high-altitude "Blackbird" spy plane equipped with very sensitive cameras. The Pentagon said the plane was in South Korean and international airspace.

North Korea today denied it fired a missile at a high-flying U.S. reconnaissance plane on Wednesday, but claimed the spy plane had "infiltrated" its airspace.

"While constantly perpetrating espionage acts against the northern half of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, today the U.S. imperialist aggressors fabricated a lie to slander us and veil their criminal nature," North Korea's official Korean Central News Agency said in Pyongyang's first public comment on the incident.

KCNA described the overflight as an "espionage act" by the United States, and said it was "part of the maneuvers to aggravate tension and start a new war in Korea..."

Weinberger vowed Thursday that the attack would not deter the United States from continuing such flights.

Voyager's Camera Is Still Unreliable

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — As scientists reveled today in the dazzling complexity of Saturn's shining sheets of rings, storming clouds and battered moons, flight engineers said they'll need several days to heal their wounded spaceship.

"We're looking at days, at least," said project manager Esker Davis of his team's efforts to repair — from a billion miles away — the crucial camera-aiming platform. It somehow was knocked out of service as Voyager 2 sailed behind Saturn Tuesday night after taking humanity's best-ever look at the distant world.

But the news, Davis said, is still "a little upbeat and positive," since the troublesome platform no longer is jammed. However, he said, its jerky and unreliable movements mean "we are not yet at the place where we can say we are fixing the problem ... There's a lot of work to do yet."

Voyager was leaving the planet far behind as it raced still deeper into the solar system on a journey of 1.7 billion miles to Uranus. Chief scientist Ed Stone said repairs were being done with special care since "we do not want to take any risks that could in any way keep us from operating the scan platform at Uranus" in 1986.

The malfunction could mean the sacrifice of planned snapshots Sept. 4 of Phoebe, most distant of Saturn's 17 known moons.

Engineers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here were trying today to unlimber the platform with high-torque maneuvers that slowly swivel it short distances back and forth through the "sticky point." Davis said that's about like putting a car in low gear and rocking it forward and back to get unstuck from a mud-hole.

Though the cameras and three other instruments are seeing none of their post-Saturn targets, scientists already have proclaimed the mission a resounding triumph.

Stone said he repeatedly has been asked how successful the tour had been and "now I have a number for you. That number is 200 percent."

A complex experiment to monitor a star as it passed behind the rings, blinking off each time its light hit one of the thousands upon thousands of ringlets, produced "a superb collection of ring data," said Arthur Lane, who headed the investigation.

In one early finding, one of Saturn's three major rings, so spectacularly brilliant they were seen by Galileo through a primitive telescope nearly 400 years ago, was determined to be less than 500 feet thick.

Luxury Liner's Safe Is Surfaced By Salvagers

NEW YORK (AP) — Divers hoping to recover millions of dollars in treasure from the sunken luxury liner Andrea Doria have brought to the surface the first of two safes they hunted for in the murky waters of the Atlantic Ocean.

"We have the safe up here on board covered, soaking in a tank of salt water to preserve it," Kenneth Wilkerson, captain of the support ship Sea Level 11, said early today in a radio-telephone interview.

He described the safe, which was used by the Bank of Rome branch office on the ship, as being "in pretty good shape" but said expedition leaders would not open their safe until they have aired a documentary on why the supposedly unsinkable ship sank 25 years ago. They plan to open the safe on live television following broadcast of the documentary.

Meanwhile, two underwater photographer teams continued to search today for the second safe and a watertight door that expedition leader Peter Gimbel has said could hold the secret of the Doria's demise.

The two safes have been said to contain between $1 million and $4 million in jewels, silver and cash.

"We don't know what's inside, and we really don't care that much," said Wilkerson. "The basic project is the film."

The Italian liner sank 25 years ago after being rammed broadside by the Swedish liner Stockholm, a collision in which 51 people were killed. The Doria now rests on its side in 225 feet of water on the continental shelf, about 40 miles south of Nantucket, Mass.

Gimbel's wife, actress Elga Andersen, said her husband and other divers — using pressurized chambers that permit lengthy dives — spent more than seven hours Thursday inside the wreck.

She said they cut a hole into a ventilator shaft that led them to the main generator room, from where they hoped to reach the site of the watertight door.

There has been speculation the door was either missing or ajar at the time of the collision.

PCC Summer Grads Told To Set Objectives, Find Satisfaction

Associate in Applied Science, Associate in Arts and diplomas were awarded graduates of technical, college transfer and vocational programs in summer graduation exercises for Pitt Community College Thursday night.

The commencement speaker was Dr. Dudley E. Flood, assistant state superintendent for student services, North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Flood told the graduates that they must realize the degree to which they can direct their own future. He reminded them that everyone has special talents and these assets can be developed only through conscientious discipline and hard work.

"Set definite objectives in life and you will find sublime satisfaction as you reach your goals," said Flood.

The speaker noted that everyone will experience some defeats from day to day but that we must treat these situations with the correct attitude. One must meet these problems "head-on" and pick up the pieces and try again.

"Examine your prerogatives for the use of your personal resources," Flood explained. "Everyone has exclusive God-given talents. We must recognize this endowment of ability and nurture it until we finally reach our goals in life."

The speaker admonished the grads to avoid self-imposed barriers which circumvent achievement. "Can't-do" attitudes which are usually self-imposed pave the way to sure defeat before one gets started. The roadblocks to success are brushed aside if our attitude about the situation is healthy. Wise people are those who do not defeat themselves before they get started.

The speaker concluded, "To know yourself is one of the keys to life itself. Success will come much easier through self-discipline and self-understanding." Ms. Jewel L. Lloyd, a graduate in accounting, gave the "graduates' response to the college. She noted that the next few years will be most (Please turn to Page 8)

NEA Official Focuses On Aura Of Negativism

By SUE FERNALD
Reflector Staff Writer

An official of the National Education Association says North Carolina teachers need "strength and unity to fight ... budget cuts and the negativism about schools" as demonstrated by the Legislature and the public.

Mary Futrell, secretary treasurer of the NEA, discussed current NEA policies in a speech and question-and-answer session with North Pitt High School teachers Thursday afternoon. The session ended a series of visits by Ms. Futrell to eastern North Carolina schools.

"The teachers' main concerns were that they did not get a raise this year, the negativism present concerning the school system and their desire to have a voice and be a part of NEA," said Ms. Futrell.

The Legislature's decision to put off action on a pay raise for teachers until this fall was discussed. That action also was noted on a teachers' "Report Card" for the General Assembly.

Ms. Futrell said the report listed five issues presented to the Legislature and each legislator's response to the issue. The issues included:

— Current expense budget. The Legislature voted not to increase salaries and Ms. Futrell said the indications point to a possible increase of class size with no increase in funds for student materials. The Legislature also reduced health benefits for teachers and included initiation of a study of the fair employment and dismissal act.

— An amendment to capital improvement appropriations for two horse show arenas. The Legislature passed this $4 million bill, which was not favorably viewed by educators.

— The gas tax bill. If the legislature had not approved this bill funds for gas increases would have been taken from the General Fund from which schools receive money.

— The bad weather bill. This bill, which passed, permits school employees to take leave or make up days on days when they might have had to report for work when weather does not permit students to attend.

"This bill was greatly appreciated. We felt it was not quite right for teachers to have to report for work when it was too dangerous for the students to go," said Annette McCray, English teacher at North Pitt High School.

GLAD UNIT'S HERE

I want to praise the Greenville Fire-Rescuers and say how thankful I am that there is a unit of this fine group of public servants at the Memorial Drive Station. Without them a man in the western part of town would have died Saturday, I feel sure. He was critically stricken and I don't think he would have lived long enough for the rescuers to arrive, had they had to come all the way from downtown J.A.

GOOD RESPONSE

Response to the recent Hotline appeal for Girl Scout leaders for Pitt County was very good, according to Sandra Shanley, who requested the appeal. Anyone else who is interested is asked to call 756-5877.

Barometer Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — A key national economic barometer fell a slight 0.1 percent in July, the third monthly decline in a row, the government reported today.

The decline lends support to economists' predictions that the economy will continue to weaken in coming months.

The government's index of economic indicators also fell in May and June after rising for two consecutive months, the report said. June's decline was revised upward to 1.0 percent in the new report.

July's decline in the index, which is designed to forecast future trends in the national economy, is in line with most analysts' predictions that there will be little or no economic growth in the current July-September quarter.

National growth, as measured by the inflation-adjusted gross national product, fell at an annual rate of 2.4 percent in the second quarter. It surged ahead at an 8.6 percent rate in the first three months of the year.

Six of the 10 indicators fell in July, the new Commerce Department report said. Those showing the biggest drop were in the money supply and new orders for manufactured consumer goods and materials.

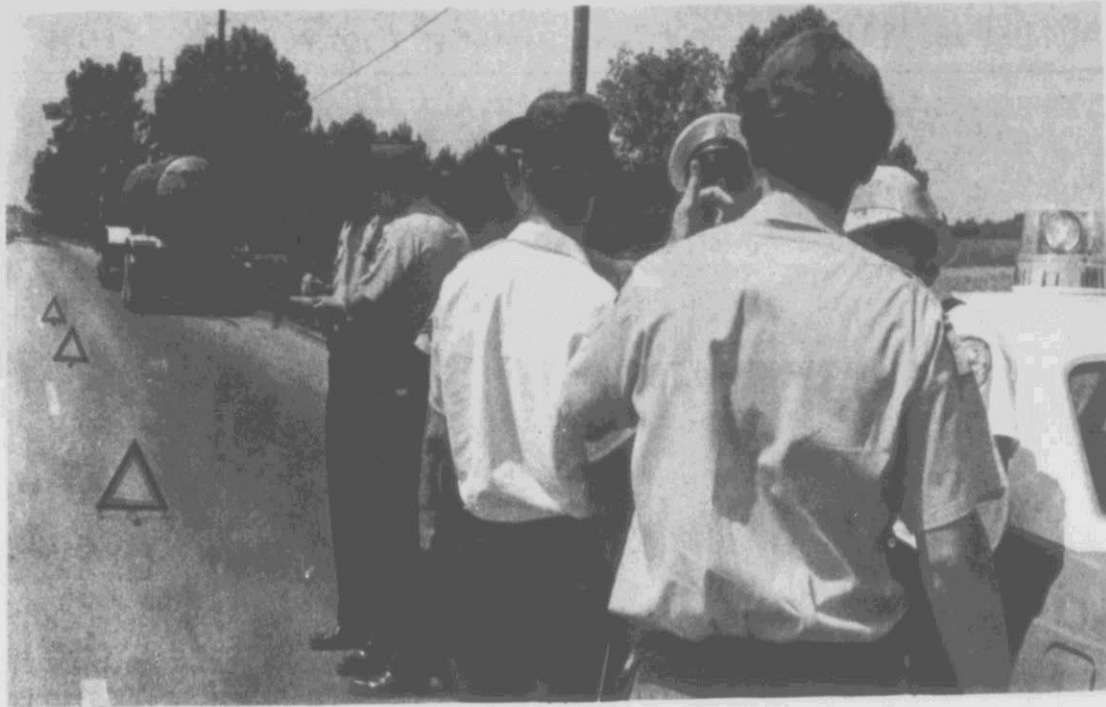

Other indicators that fell in July were average workweek, vendor performance, building permits and stock prices.

Three indicators improved in July — layoff rate, contracts and orders for plant and equipment and change in total liquid assets.

There was no change in sensitive crude materials prices. The index now has reached 133.7 percent of the 1967 base. The index shows monthly increases or decreases based on a 1967 base of 100.

June's decline was previously reported at 1.3 percent but was revised to 1.0 percent in the new report, and the new figure for July is also subject to later revision.

Motorists Slightly Affected By A Chemical Spill Thursday

OFFICIALS AT SPILL SCENE . . . Greenville and Pitt County officials decide on safety precautions after the tanker's relief valve operated, spilling

By TOMMY FORREST
Reflector Staff Writer

Motorists along Greenville Boulevard Thursday were slightly affected by chemical spilled from a tanker enroute to Emelle, Alabama.

According to Greenville Police reports, a tanker truck loaded with acetic anhydride and acetone was traveling west on the 264 by-pass. The chemical, police said, was a corrosive and combustible material.

Police began receiving reports from motorists shortly after noon, along US 264, who were feeling dizzy and experienced a burning of the eyes. Reports also said Leo Hinson, of Rt. 2, Farmville, who was also traveling west on Greenville Boulevard, saw a yellow chemical spill from the top rear of the tanker.

Hinson pursued the truck and managed to stop it at the intersection of US 264 Bypass and business. Hinson was transported to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment after complaining of dizziness and having difficulty breathing.

Pitt County Fire Marshal Bobby Joyner said the chemical was loaded cool and the sun apparently heated the tanker causing a relief valve to properly operate relieving pressure inside the tank, releasing fumes and chemical.

Dr. R. F. Ehinger of the Pitt County Health Dept. said the chemical will have no long range effects on persons traveling near the truck. The chemical would cause an irritation of eyes and nose.

The official said he wouldn't worry about the "transit type of exposure".

The driver of the tanker was listed as Herbert Cranger Johnson, Jr., of Beuamy, Ala. and the tanker was reportedly owned by Chemical Waste Management of Emelle, Ala.

Officials said the tanker obtained the chemical from Burroughs Wellcome in Greenville.

No Change Seen In Auto Layoffs

DETROIT (AP) — The number of open-ended layoffs in the U.S. auto industry was virtually unchanged this week, despite an expected 1 percent increase in car production, according to industry reports.

The five major domestic automakers said Thursday they had 159,240 workers on layoff without a recall date, down only slightly from 159,325 indefinite layoffs reported last week. Temporary furloughs rose to 54,625 from last week's 53,770 as plant closings for model changeover continued.

Meanwhile, the industry journal Automotive News said domestic automakers were scheduled to build 108,274 cars this week, up from 107,454 last week and 5.2 percent more than the 102,963 made in the comparable 1980 week.

U.S. truck production was scheduled to reach 15,404 for the week, Automotive News said, a drop of 36 percent from the 23,889 trucks built last week but a 24 percent increase from the 12,464 built in the 1980 week.

General Motors Corp. said it had 73,000 workers on indefinite layoff, unchanged from last week, and 42,100 employees on temporary furlough, up from last week's 38,800. GM has nine car assembly plants and five truck assembly plants closed for model changeover.

Stocks Cited For Work As Sanitarian

A plaque honoring Callie L. Stocks, Pitt County Environmental Health Sanitarian, as Sanitarian of the Year was awarded to him recently by the Northeastern Environmental Health Section.

"It was a complete surprise," said Stocks, "a great honor — not for the plaque itself, but to know that my co-workers have such respect for the job I am doing."

Stocks began his public health career December 1, 1973 at the Pitt County Health Department and was assigned to the food, lodging and institution section. In 1975 he was assigned to the specialty of schools and institutions and did work upgrading the sanitation of these facilities.

Stocks was instrumental in the development of an active infection control committee at Pitt Memorial Hospital and other nursing homes and institutions in Pitt County. As an active member of these committees, he continues to make contributions to the control of infectious diseases in these institutions.

In addition, Stocks teaches the institutional portion of the CDC course required for sanitarians and has been asked to rewrite the institution regulations which are being developed at this time.

After graduation from the Ayden public schools and East Carolina University, Stocks entered the U.S. Navy Training Administrative Reserves. In 1961 he became a member of the U.S. Coast Guard from which he retired with the rank of chief in 1973.

Life As It's Lived

Mischief-Maker Seen And Is Now Identified

By GAIL MICHAELS

The elves have invaded our home. Unlike their shoemaker's elves, they come not to ease the burden of work which this poor housewife shoulders. No, they come to drive her further toward distraction. They come to pit her against her husband in a mutual accusation of incompetence.

They were here just before I walked into my kitchen and felt enough heat radiating from the dishwasher to keep the average department store comfortable on a January day.

"Phillip! Something is wrong with the dishwasher!"

He raced in and gave the machine a cursory examination. "Gail, you called me away from Dan Rather and the Libyan crisis just because you accidentally pushed the Hot Dry cycle."

"I did not. I haven't been near those buttons."

He rolled his eyes. "Yeah, right."

I was again forced to defend myself when the color on the television began to fade in and out like a variation on the Morse code.

"How many times do I have to tell you that you're going to ruin the color on this set if you keep fiddling with the color buttons without releasing this button up here first?" Phillip shouted.

"I haven't even turned the television on today."

"Don't you think you're old enough to take responsibility for your mistakes?"

"Only when I make them!" I shouted back.

The clock radio was the next appliance to cause marital discord. At 2 a.m. it split the silence of the night at full volume with "Elvira...Elvira...My heart's on fire for Elvira."

I dislodged my fingernails from the ceiling and asked as calmly as I could, "When are you going to learn not to try to set the alarm in the dark?"

"The alarm was already set. I just flipped the off-on switch."

"Sure."

"It's true," he protested.

I gave him as much benefit of the doubt as he had seen fit to give me until at last I discovered my elves, though not in the same manner as the cobbler and his wife discovered theirs. I caught mine when I went out to empty the trash and returned to find the door locked. Meg was playing at a friend's house. That meant that Zachary was alone in the house.

I could see him through the window. He was sitting on the floor playing with my keys.

"Zachary," I called without much hope, "Open the door for Mommy."

He looked up and covered his eyes with his hands.

"Peep-eye."

"Zachary, be a good boy and come to the door."

He shook his head vigorously. "Uh-uh."

I started to break the glass in the door, but I decided that there was more likelihood of Zachary's getting hurt if I did that than if I sprinted over to a neighbor's house and phoned Phillip.

"You picked a great day to lock yourself out," he grumbled. "My car's in the shop and I'll have to borrow one to get home."

"I'm sorry, but I keep telling you, it's not my fault. I did not lock that door.

"Well, who did? One of your elves?"

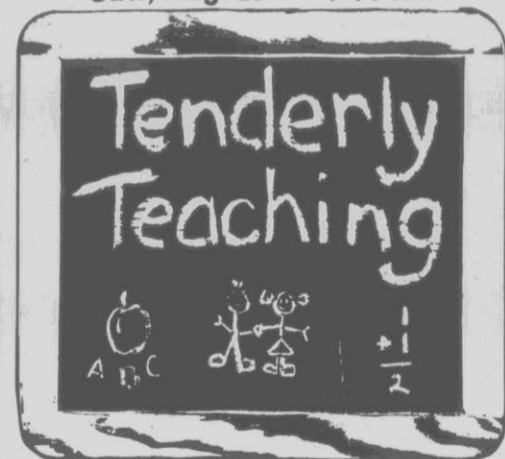

"As a matter of fact, yes."

"Gail, you're not actually going to try to tell me that you've seen an elf."

"I certainly have. He's chubby with three folds at the back of each knee and three ringlets at the nape of his neck. And he acts," I added, "a lot like his father."

Needleworker Gets The Vote

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with DISGUSTED IN YAKIMA, who wrote to you complaining about the woman who did needlework during church services.

The critical one should be paying attention to the services rather than rubbernecking around to see what others in the congregation are doing. It is entirely possible that the needlework lady is getting more out of the service than her critic who is so easily distracted. (One can knit and still listen to what's being said.)

Moreover, the critic appears to be judging her fellow (or sister) worshiper. It's none of her business what others are doing, so long as there is no audible distraction.

I doubt if the minister would be disturbed if he knew there was a needleworker in his congregation. Speaking as a minister myself, I'd much rather have a busily knitting needleworker in church than home among the absentees.

THE REV. C.W. KIRKPATRICK,
UNION CHURCH OF CHRIST, LUDLOW, MASS.

DEAR ABBY: I owe you and your column a debt of gratitude. Because of the letter from DISGUSTED IN YAKIMA, denouncing the young woman who did handwork in church while listening to the sermon, I now understand what Christianity is all about!

Ecclesiastical platitudes such as "Love thy neighbor," "Judge not lest ye be judged" and "Satan finds work for idle hands," not to mention "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass..." no longer have any meaning.

DISGUSTED's signature was off a bit. Since this saintly person has obviously been commissioned by heaven to establish rules of conduct when in church and monitor the department of fellow worshippers rather than pay attention to the sermon, the letter should have been signed, "The Perfect Christian!"

A MERRY OLD SINNER NAMED R.F. BARRY, KEWANEE, ILL.

DEAR SINNER: Hallelujah, brother. And amen.

***

DEAR ABBY: DISGUSTED should tend to her own knitting. I know several women who do handcraft work during church services, and they donate the items to Children's Hospital or the Rescue Mission, or they simply clothe their own children.

It is entirely possible to listen to an entire sermon without dropping a stitch.

Bridal Policy

A black and white glossy five by seven photograph is requested for engagement announcements. For publication in a Sunday edition, the information must be submitted by 12 noon on the preceding Wednesday. Engagement pictures must be released at least three weeks prior to the wedding date. After three weeks, only an announcement will be printed.

Wedding write-ups will be printed through the first week with a five by seven picture. During the second week with a wallet size picture and write-up giving less description and after the second week, just as an announcement. Wedding forms and pictures should be returned to "The Daily Reflector" one week prior to the date of the wedding. All information should be typed or written neatly.

Widespread Failings

There are two submarine-producing boatyards in this country; both have been in the business for decades, so it is with more than a little dismay that for some time we have been reading of the Navy's problem with General Dynamics' Electric Boat yard in Groton, Conn.

Cost overruns, unduly long production times, complaints of workmanship and substandard materials are all part of the structure.

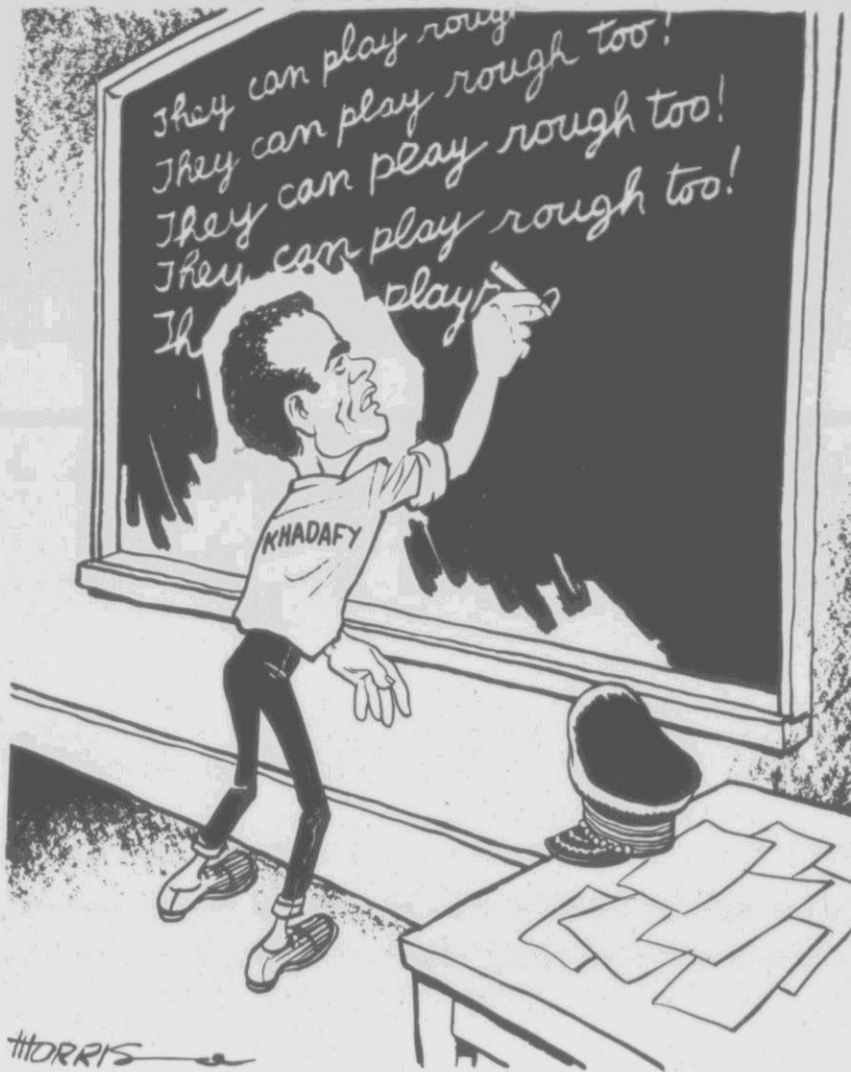

Such complaints are not new to the armed forces. The Army, Navy and Air Force encounter the same old story over and over again.

There is suspicion among many observers that the fault is not only with the systems producers, but that the military itself can claim some of the blame.

Anyone who has ever been associated with the armed services knows full well they are enmeshed in red tape, the inter-office rivalry, inter-branch rivalry, jealousies and indifferent or error-prone functionaries as any large organization in governmental or private sectors.

It is fair to say, we think, the Navy's problem with Electric Boat is symptomatic; the failings are widespread.

WE HOPE IT'S A LESSON!

BY ART BUCHWALD

You'll Love This Bomb

Despite constant assurances of people very high in the government, there are still some skeptics in this country and Western Europe who are not sold on the argument we need to build a neutron bomb. The fact of the matter is that the United States not only needs it—but it's inconceivable that we could have ever lived without it.

The neutron bomb is the greatest thing to come along since white bread. When set off it produces high levels of radiation, cooking people, but leaving structures and buildings standing. Unlike present atomic weapons where blast and heat do most of the damage the neutron bomb actually penetrates its target, frying anyone inside.

The same people who are always standing in the way of progress are asking "Why do we need a neutron bomb?" The question doesn't deserve a response, but I'll give one anyway. We need one if we hope to fight an integrated war on foreign soil.

The U.S. military's new strategy is to prepare itself for conventional nuclear and chemical war battles.

Because the Soviets outnumber the NATO forces, the neutron bomb will give us the parity we need to deter the Russians from attacking the West.

ART BUCHWALD

You would think the Europeans would be overjoyed that we were going ahead with an enhanced bomb which might kill them but preserve all their beautiful palaces and churches.

The reaction has been just the opposite. Instead of saying "Thank you, Uncle Sam," they have informed us to stuff our neutron bombs in the ground.

I say if that's the way they feel about it we should keep our bombs in Utah and see what kind of conventional nuclear war they can fight without them. If they want to use the second-rate low-yield atomic weapons they now have at their disposal, good luck to them. But when they start crying for the high-yield mini-nukes that can really do a man's job, we'll remind them of the fuss they made when we offered to place the neutron weapon on their soil.

The point that opponents keep missing is that we are not building the bomb to start a war, but to stop one. If the Soviets know we have a neutron bomb ready, they're not going to attack the West, unless, of course, they have a neutron bomb of their own.

By this time we should have our own laser death beam weapon in production, which will deter the Soviets from starting anything with their enhanced weapons.

In an arms war the trick is always to stay one step ahead of the other guy. I don't want anyone to get the idea that the neutron bomb is our ultimate weapon and that we can relax after we get enough stockpiled. The bomb, for all its publicity, is just a nice little option a field commander has at his disposal when the going gets tough. It's not the end-all for killing large segments of the population, but if we can save pieces of valuable real estate from being destroyed it will pay for itself in no time at all.

Interest Is Big Problem

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — High interest rates, called a side-effect of President Reagan's cure for inflation, now are showing signs of becoming the worst economic foe themselves.

The latest quarterly survey conducted for the National Federation of Independent Businesses says inflation, the leading economic enemy of the 1970s, has given way to interest rates as the top problem of companies.

The president of the National Association of Home Builders, whose members have been especially hard hit, complained this week that "exorbitantly high interest rates are replacing inflation as the nation's No. 1 problem."

And the U.S. Chamber of Commerce says it is receiving more calls about interest rates than inflation.

Some economists and politicians suspect consumers also are starting to regard interest rates as the economy's leading problem, particularly people who are unable to buy a house because of record mortgage rates.

Sen. Larry Pressler, D-S.D., said last week that interest rates could be the "sleepier issue" of the 1982 congressional elections unless they come down soon.

"I am very much concerned that we are going to be identified as the party of high interest unless the issue is addressed at a high level by the president," Pressler warned other Republicans.

Reagan acknowledged the concern Thursday night at a California GOP fundraiser but said the government suffers, too, because high interest rates drive up the federal deficit.

"They are hurting us in what we are trying to do as much as they are hurting everyone else," he said.

Worries about interest rates have intensified in the past few months because the cost of borrowing money is persisting at record levels despite a significant decline in the inflation rate.

Inflation is now running just under 10 percent a year, down from 13.3 percent in 1979 and 12.4 percent in 1980. But short-term borrowing rates are sticking at 20 percent or higher and mortgage interest rates have climbed in recent months to a record 17 percent.

Administration economists say the high rates are a painful but necessary side-effect of Reagan's plan to bring inflation down by restricting the growth of the nation's money supply.

This tight-money policy has produced high interest rates, but only temporarily, according to the administration, which insists interest rates are bound to fall sooner or later as inflation continues to recede and as the president's tax cut encourages increased personal savings that can be tapped for lending.

So far, however, high interest rates are persisting longer than the administration had expected, and businesses are starting to hurt.

"High rates are really the dog that has its teeth in a company's legs now," says William C. Dunkelberg, a Purdue University professor who surveys the 500,000 firms that belong to the National Federation of Independent Business.

According to Dunkelberg's July survey, 31 percent of the firms that responded named interest rates as the single most important problem confronting them, while 26 percent named inflation. That marked the first time since the survey began in 1973 that inflation did not top the list of problems.

In many ways, high interest rates are more threatening than inflation, Dunkelberg said. When inflation is high, a company can pass along its increased costs by raising prices. But today, with demand generally weak, a company is unable to raise prices enough to recover its increased cost for borrowing money.

"This is really hitting a company's cash flow," said Dunkelberg, who added that high rates also are forcing companies to postpone expansion.

Strength For Today

INEXHAUSTIBLE
On the island of Trinidad, there is a lake of pitch which is in reality an ancient volcano crater filled with asphalt. Day by day this asphalt is dug up, loaded into trucks and shipped away. But within seventy-two hours the asphalt taken out has been replaced by more of it bubbling up from the depths of the crater.

This process reminds us of the spiritual powers upon which our souls depend every day. We know that there are certain physical powers inherent in the earth which seem to be inexhaustible — or at least immeasurable — but very often we do not realize that we are spiritual beings and that our lives are constantly being supported by inexhaustible spiritual powers.

The greatest of such spiritual powers is what we know as the grace of God. Just as the people who mine asphalt in Trinidad find that what they have used is replaced, so we find that God's grace flows continually into our lives to sustain and strengthen us. — Elisha Douglass

Escaping Is Easy

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — Running away from North Carolina's juvenile training centers is a piece of cake. There are actually more runaways than there are children in the schools each year — statistically. Which obviously means that some youngsters are running away more than once, or even twice.

Last year there were 700 boys and girls admitted to the training and detention system for the first time. Some are in and out in less than a year, which means the average population runs 650 per year.

Last year there were 692 running incidents from the schools or the juvenile diagnostic center, and another 75 who ran away while out of the institution for home visit. That's a total of 767 runaways during 1980. All but 31 were returned.

Population at the training schools has declined sharply since the state law was changed to prohibit sentencing so-called status offenders to the training schools. At one point about half of the children in training schools were there for truancy, running away from home, or other acts not considered criminal. Average population of 1,400 several years ago has now declined to about 650.

Hard Cases
Now, those in the four schools and at the juvenile diagnostic center are typically youngsters who have been before the courts several times, have been in trouble with police several times, and have been convicted of crimes and sentenced to the training schools only after the juvenile court has determined that community based treatment programs have been exhausted or are inappropriate for the particular child.

Staff at the training schools sum up the results this way: youngsters entering the schools are more aggressive, less disciplined, and are more "delinquently oriented" than in the past. They are more assertive and demanding, and not afraid to run away or create other discipline situations because the response is generally not much to be feared.

Running away is easy —

obviously — from all except one of the institutions. C.A. Dillon School is the only facility with a fence; such as it is. It is short and easily climbed, and like most of the institutions, the terrain and scattered buildings make it fairly simple to find a hiding place. Most of the children at Dillon are "problem kids" sent there from other training schools. During 1980 there were 58 runaways from Dillon's population of 108.

At the other schools and the juvenile diagnostic center, the large tracts of land, sprawling pattern of facilities, and general policy make perimeter security non-existent. The runaway patterns demonstrate the ease of escaping: at the juvenile diagnostic center there were 181 new admissions and 185 runaway incidents; at Stonewall Jackson there were 139 new admissions and 150 runaways; at Samarkand Manor there were 200 new admissions and 210 runaways; and at Dobs there were 163 new admissions and 148 runaways.

Why Run
Consultants for the Department of Human Resources analyzed the runaway situation and concluded that a large number of children are sentenced to the training schools as a result of relatively non-violent and not-so-serious crimes against property. Those youngsters tend to

Other Editors Say A Real Need

(The Durham Sun)
The State Personnel Commission should lend a sympathetic ear later this month when Sarah T. Morrow, state secretary of human resources, seeks higher pay for state-employed nurses.

North Carolina must act to stay even remotely competitive with private and university-affiliated hospitals, especially in the Research Triangle area. Otherwise the exodus of nurses from state institutions such as John B. Umstead hospital in Butner will intensify.

Five nurses left Umstead in just one week earlier this month, according to human resources officials. Who can blame them, with the high demand for nurses and the potential for higher pay? Two took jobs at Durham County General Hospital where they can earn a hefty $2,500 more yearly.

Umstead is left with vacancies in about 20 percent of its positions for registered nurses and in almost 10 percent of its jobs for licensed practical nurses.

Like Secretary Morrow, the personnel commission must recognize the power of the law of supply and demand. With demand high and salaries tempting, state nurses are bound to head for the greenest pastures.

For the sale of the patients in state hospitals and other medical facilities, North Carolina cannot afford to stand idly by while that happens.

To the editor:
I would like to state some facts concerning the efforts of the United Steel Workers Union to organize the employees of the Kinston DuPont plant.

The two things that the union can get for the employees are union dues and problems (maybe a strike such as the air controllers).

Compare the above with job security, pay, fringe benefits and concern for employees that DuPont has always demonstrated.

I retired in 1971 with 36 years of service and participated in the startup of the Kinston plant.

I am confident that the Kinston employees will vote NO UNION when the election is held.

Injuries Occur In City Wrecks

Two injuries and heavy damages resulted from a series of wrecks investigated Wednesday night and Thursday by Greenville Police.

Officers said Shirley Temple Payne of 100 N. Bubba Boulevard was injured and taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital as a result of a 5:12 p.m. collision Thursday at the intersection of Washington and 13th Streets.

Cars operated by Shirley Payne and William Linwood Tripp of 1721 Smith Street were involved in the accident and a house at 1225 S. Washington Street was also struck. Damage to the house was estimated at $1,500.

Police, who set damages at $1,500 to the Payne car and $100 to the Tripp vehicle, charged Tripp with stop sign and equipment violations following investigation.

No injuries or charges resulted from a 1:40 p.m. accident Thursday on W.

Second Street just west from Washington Street.

Police said the wreck involved vehicles driven by Larry David Lee of 304 Church Street and Mark Alan Rosenberg of 109 Jones Dorm, East Carolina University. Damages were estimated at $1,500 to the Lee car and $1,000 to the vehicle operated by Rosenberg.

Leslie Anne Hinnant of Riverbluff Road was charged with a safe movement violation following investigation of a 10:40 p.m. accident Wednesday on E. Fourth Street east from Elm Street.

Officers said the accident involved the Hinnant vehicle and a parked car owned by Paul David Hart of 1702 E. Fourth Street. Damages were set at $600 to each vehicle. No injuries were reported.

Muhammed Abdul Ahad of 1900 S. Charles Street was charged with a safe movement violation following investigation of a 12:42 p.m. wreck Thursday on E. Tenth Street at College Hill Drive.

The accident, according to officers, involved vehicles operated by Ahad and Tony Howard Smith of 107-B Howard Circle. No injuries were reported and damages were set at $800 to the Ahad vehicle and $150 to the Smith car.

Officers reported that John Lewis Walston of Rt. 1, Macclesfield was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in a 2:20 p.m. accident Thursday at the corner of Fifth and Washington Streets.

The accident involved cars operated by Walston and Judson Hubert Nicholson of Oakmont Drive. Damages were set at $150 to the Walston car and $100 to the Nicholson vehicle.

No injuries or charges resulted from a 10:30 p.m. accident Thursday on Darden Drive east from Cox Street involving a vehicle operated by Willie James Williams of 1808 W. Conley Street and a parked car owned by James Ray Taylor of 1506 Halifax Street.

Damages were estimated at $300 to the Taylor vehicle and $200 to the Williams car.

A 7:50 p.m. mishap Thursday in a city parking lot on Washington Street near Fourth Street resulted in no charges or injuries. Officers said the mishap involved a car operated by Evelyn Worthington Nichols of Rt. 1, Winterville and a parked vehicle owned by Billie Jean Trevathan of 1908 Fairview Way.

Police said the Trevathan car sustained an estimated $200 in damages, while the Nichols car had $100 in damages and a parking meter pole and bushes owned by the city sustained damages estimated at $200.

Iceland Perfect Guest To N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Iceland is the perfect guest, as far as the city police department is concerned.

Envoys representing Iceland at the United Nations had no unpaid parking tickets in 1980, city authorities said. That record is particularly admirable since the diplomats are immune from having to pay parking tickets.

Cuba was a different story. The Cuban mission used its United Nations diplomatic status to run up 5,888 unpaid parking tickets last year, the most for any mission, authorities said. The runner-up was Nigeria had 4,016, followed by the Soviet Union with 3,968, and Egypt, 2,415.

Some Stress Is Needed By Body

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Our bodies, programmed by evolution to deal with physical threats and hunger, often react with stress to everyday problems where violence or flight is inappropriate.

"We don't have bodies that tell the difference," said Asheville psychologist Ann Weber. "If you get a nasty memo on your desk, your body is going to have the same reaction as if it were getting attacked by a saber-tooth tiger."

Without any stress, we would die, said Ms. Weber. But another Asheville psychologist, Benny Goodman, said too much stress can kill.

Goodman, a staff psychologist at the Blue Ridge Mental Health Center, said too much stress can paralyze a person mentally. "It inhibits your ability to think clearly," he said.

He added that stress can be triggered by any event which requires a person to adapt his thinking, whether it is getting married, getting a raise or changing jobs.

Economic conditions, including inflation and high interest rates, also play a role.

Stress can come from too much to do or too little to do. Some people feel stress because they cannot meet their jobs' demands; others feel stress because they are bored with their jobs, said Weber.

Stress often targets people in predictable professions. Air traffic controllers, housewives, factory workers, physicians, teachers, journalists, secretaries, businessmen, police officers and firefighters complain of it.

Symptoms of stress are constant fatigue, insomnia, frequent headaches, back tension, irritability, decrease in appetite and stomach problems.

Preventing too much stress is the key to coping with it. Cutting out luncheon meetings is a typical change. Changing lifestyle habits also can help, such as getting the right kinds of food, enough sleep and regular exercise, the two psychologists suggested.

"It's important to balance it out," Goodman said. "You need to work and you need to play. If you work real hard, you need to play real hard."

rebel against the system and run away more frequently because they think the system is treating them unfairly.

Human Resources Secretary Sarah Morrow describes circumstance differently, however: "Children currently admitted to training schools have generally exhausted the community resources designed to deal with their problems. They are often aggressive children with emotional disturbances. Approximately 30 percent are classified as exceptional children, and the vast majority are committed for felony property offenses. Approximately 15 percent are committed for crimes against persons," Dr. Morrow states.

City Clerk At Seminar

City Clerk Lois Worthington recently attended a legislative update seminar for city and county clerks at the Institute of Government at Chapel Hill.

The seminar provided participants with an overview of the action taken by the 1981 General Assembly affecting local governments. Legislative issues discussed included hazardous waste management act, precious metals regulation, drug paraphernalia, group homes, ABC laws revision, Powell Bill funds, and property tax.

Some 150 municipal and county clerks from across the state attended the session.

Pricy Lessons Intended To Boost SAT Scores

By LEE MITCHELL
AP Education Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stanley Kaplan paces, hands on hips, exhorting in Knute Rockne fashion. "Words! Words! Words! Very important!" he exclaims to a class of 20 high school-age students.

Kaplan runs a special school, one of a growing number of its kind, which caters to a particular desire: improving scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

In this coming school year, some 1.5 million students will take the multiple-choice examination of math and verbal skills as part of their efforts to get into college. It's further estimated that 50,000 to 100,000 of them will pay from $100 to $500 for SAT coaching, ranging from a few hours to several months.

The special schools have no lock on the SAT coaching market, however. In the last three years, hundreds of public and private high schools have begun offering some form of coaching, said Dr. Scott Thomson, executive director of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

WORDS, WORDS, WORDS — Stanley H. Kaplan instructs a class preparing for the Scholastic Aptitude Test in New York. He runs a special school catering to a particular desire: improving scores on the SATs, a multiple choice exam required by many colleges and universities for entrance. (AP Laserphoto)

"I think eventually it will become a standard part of the guidance services high schools offer, and it should be," Thomson said. For a $400 fee, Kaplan's school offers 11 classes of five hours each. Students review SAT-type questions, learn multiple choice "tricks of the trade" and brush up on math and vocabulary.

As Kaplan told his class on a recent weekday morning, much of the focus is on words. A student might learn, for instance, that the word "slub" means a soft, thick imperfection in a strand of yarn.

The spread of SAT coaching was helped by a 1978 Federal Trade Commission report which said that such coaching might be expected to raise math and verbal scores an average of 25 points each. The FTC reiterated those findings last spring.

An unrelated 1980 Ralph Nader report on the Educational Testing Service, which composes the SATs, agreed coaching can help but went beyond the FTC study by studying the implications of coaching. It suggested that the wealthy have an advantage in taking the SATs to start with, and that advantage is increased because the wealthy can afford coaching.

When asked whether any of his students might speak to a reporter, Kaplan said that most of them, and their parents, would shy away from interviews for fear that colleges would disapprove of their taking special SAT tutoring.

But one youngster, who attends a boys' prep school in Massachusetts, said he enrolled in the Kaplan school this summer at his parents' urging because he scored only 530 on his verbal and 520 on his math SATs.

"That's no good if you want to go to an Ivy League school like I do," he said, asking that his name not be used.

What kind of coaching helps, who should take it and whether the SAT even lends itself to such instruction at all are arguments still to be resolved.

There is wide agreement that a student whose basic skills are so poor that he scores in the 200s on the SATs needs more help than most coaching schools can offer. SAT scores range from 200 to 800, the highest possible.

It's also agreed that coaching can definitely help either the overly cautious student or the reckless guesser with multiple choice questions.

And most agree, too, that a few hours of cramming won't do much good. The longer, the more intense the coaching, the more effective it is likely to be.

The coaching schools themselves, while careful to make no promises, say they can help students score phenomenal gains on their SATs.

"The FTC says the average improvement from coaching is 25 points. We usually do a lot better than that," boasts Emmanuel Federbusch, who runs the Higher Achievement Preparation Institute Inc. in New York.

Kaplan says his students average 100-point improvements on their combined math and verbal scores. His claim is challenged, however, by Robert Cameron, an executive director of the College Board, who notes that Kaplan's figure is based only on an informal survey of students.

The ETS has produced SAT exams for the College Board for years. Both organizations have criticized coaching, and in literature distributed to all test-takers, the board says there is "probably not much" a student can do "quickly and immediately" to raise test scores.

duction for NCAE membership dues, which failed to win legislative approval. Other items discussed during the meeting included insurance programs of NEA. According to Ms. Futrell, NEA provides up to $1 million coverage to teachers for work-related accidents as well as other types. Questions about collective bargaining for teachers needs and grievances of the teachers were also answered by Ms. Futrell. "We need strength and unity to fight these budget cuts and the negativism about schools," said Ms. Futrell, who urged more teachers to join the NEA.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It is unconstitutional for the state to lend public school books to parochial or private schools, the California Supreme Court has ruled. At issue were sections of the state Education Code that authorize the superintendent of public instruction to lend textbooks to students attending non-profit, non-public schools. The unanimous decision Thursday said state laws challenged by the California Teachers Association and the American Civil Liberties Union violate two sections of the state Constitution prohibiting the state from spending money in support of sectarian schools.

Report Libyans Shipped Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Libya has shipped new supplies of Soviet-made arms and ammunition to Palestinian guerrillas in southern Lebanon despite the month-long cease-fire in that troubled country, U.S. and Israeli sources say. Administration officials are concerned that the deliveries by Col. Moammar Khadafy's government, which the United States has accused of supporting terrorism and subversion, could undercut the July 24 cease-fire which ended 15 days of bloody battling between Israeli and Palestinian forces.

Yemen and North Yemen, as well as Libya, said the sources, who asked not to be identified. Officials at the Israeli Embassy and the Pentagon said it is difficult to detect the kind of weapons and the exact amount reaching the Palestinians. Israel's estimate is that Libya, beginning in March and until the cease-fire, provided the Palestinians with up to 30 howitzers and up to 30 of the multiple rocket launchers. Syria and other suppliers raised the stockpile to about 40 howitzers and 50

BM21s, sources said. With ranges of 27 and 20 kilometers, respectively, the weapons can reach beyond the Christian buffer enclave to fire on Israeli settlements across the border. Attacks by Palestinian guerrillas helped trigger Israel's retaliatory air strikes in early summer. Libya also equipped the Palestine Liberation Organization with SAM-7 and SAM-9 missiles, according to the Pentagon, and with T-54 and 7-55 tanks. All of these weapons were manufactured in the Soviet Union. "The net result is that the firepower and destructive power of the Palestinians is enhanced tremendously," said an Israeli official, who asked that his name and job not be identified. He said the Libyan airlift resumed immediately after the cease-fire was announced, with planes making daily flights to Syria with Soviet-built field guns and anti-aircraft pieces. From there they were trucked into Lebanon, he said. The official said a major shipload also was delivered about two weeks ago.

Israel does not consider the artillery pieces and field guns as menacing to its settlements near the Lebanese border as the 130mm howitzers and BM21 rocket launchers obtained by the Palestinians before U.S. mediators helped arrange the cease-fire. But they are distressed about the steady buildup. Syria is the gateway for the arms shipments, with most of the equipment moving by land into Lebanon, and the arms come from Eastern Europe, South

The commencement speaker was introduced by Raymond Reddick, member of the PCC Board of Trustees. Dean of Students, Edgar L. Boyd, introduced the candidates, and Clifton W. Everett, Sr., chairman of the Board of Trustees conferred the degrees and diplomas. He was assisted by Joseph E. Downing, assistant dean of instruction for curricular programs at PCC. Dr. William E. Fulford, president of Pitt Community College, made the opening remarks and welcomed the convocation. The Reverend Richard R. Gammon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, pronounced the invocation and the benediction. Mrs. Shirley Moore was organist. A reception followed the graduation exercises, which were held in the Mendenhall Student Center on the ECU campus.

FARMVILLE — The volume of sales on the Farmville Tobacco Market was lower yesterday than on Wednesday. Buying companies continued to pay up to $1.90 per pound and the market average moved up. The demand was up from the previous day and deliveries to the Stabilization Corporation decreased, according to Georgia Willoughby, sales supervisor of the Farmville Tobacco Board of Trade. The Farmville market sold 353,963 pounds of tobacco yesterday for $620,912.92 for an average of $175.42 per 100 pounds. To date the market has sold 12,706,206 pounds of tobacco for $21,409,655.48 for a season average of $168.50. The season average for the same day last year was $144.73.

How's The Weather?

WEATHER FORECAST — Sunny weather is expected in the forecast period until Saturday for most of the country. Cool weather is due in the Northwest, mild weather for the Southeast. Showers are forecast for the Great Lakes. (AP Laserphoto Map)

North Carolina, sandwiched between two rain-producing low pressure systems, should be able to stave off showers at least until Saturday, the National Weather Service said. But the cold front moving in from the Mississippi this morning and a weak low approaching from the Gulf of Mexico were expected to bring an increasing chance of showers this weekend, beginning in the west. Highs Thursday were slightly below normal across the state, ranging from 79 at Cape Hatteras to 89 at Jacksonville. Clear overnight skies dropped temperatures into the upper 50s and 60s east of the mountains with some readings in the lower 50s at higher elevations. The recreational weather outlook called for fair conditions today with an increase ing threat of showers over western parts of the state by Saturday. Temperatures were expected to be in the 80s, dropping into the 60s at night. On the beaches, skies should be partly cloudy through tonight on the south coast, with cloudiness moving north by Saturday. Winds should be east to northeast today, shifting to the south 10 to 15 mph by Saturday.

See S. African Withdrawal

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — South African forces are withdrawing from Angola after five days of fighting, the South African military command said today.

Defense commander Gen. Constand Viljoen said advance South African units had already returned to neighboring South-West Africa after completing a "limited task" in Angola, the South African Press Association reported.

South Africa's domestic news agency quoted him as saying the withdrawal "will be completed soon" provided no further attacks are made on South African forces.

Viljoen's statement was the first detailed South African comment on the military action, which South African defense spokesmen had described as a follow-up operation against Angolan-based black nationalist guerrillas fighting for South-West Africa's independence from South Africa.

The general disputed Angolan claims that tens of thousands of South African troops had entered the Marxist-ruled country, and that Angolan soldiers resisting the assault destroyed a South African tank.

Angop, the official Angolan news agency, said the Angolan Defense Ministry announced that its troops shot down a South African fighter-bomber and a helicopter Thursday during the second day of bombing attacks to soften up the town of Ngiva for a ground assault. The dispatch Thursday from Luanda, the Angolan capital, said a South African armored column was on the outskirts of Ngiva, 20 miles from the border with South-West Africa (Namibia). It said one tank was destroyed in "violent combat."

Angop also reported that South African planes and troops destroyed the town of Xangongo, 62 miles north of the border, and captured a strategic bridge on the road to Huila province.

A spokesman for the South African defense forces refused to comment on the Angolan claims.

A South African newspaper, the Johannesburg Star, said military analysts it did not identify told it the South African forces were attempting to knock out radar installations at the bases in Angola of the South-West African People's Organization, or SWAPO, the army of guerrillas that has been fighting for 15 years to end South African rule in their arid, mineral-rich homeland between South Africa and Angola.

South Africa's white government denied Angola's charge that it sent two armored columns into southern Angola on Monday as the prelude to a large-scale invasion to seize Angolan territory. South Africa said it was a "follow-up operation," like other raids its forces had made in the past to destroy SWAPO bases.

South Africa has administered South-West Africa, or Namibia, as the rest of Africa and the United Nations call it, under a League of Nations mandate given it after World War I. The U.N. Assembly voided the mandate in 1966, but South Africa has refused to give up the territory on its northwest border. The United States, Britain, West Germany, France and Canada have been trying without success to get South Africa and SWAPO to agree on a plan for elections and independence.

Angola's representative at U.N. headquarters in New York delivered a request Thursday for an urgent meeting of the Security Council to demand the withdrawal of all South African forces from Angolan territory.

The message from President Eduardo dos Santos said the situation had taken a "turn for the worse," and South African mechanized units had penetrated more than 60 miles into Angola. This was 33 miles less than Angola claimed on Tuesday, when the Defense Ministry said one South African armored column advanced 93 miles beyond the border and occupied the village of Catequero.

Dos Santos said the South Africans were attacking with 135 tanks, 38 helicopters and 140 transport and "attack cars."

U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim cut short a vacation in Austria and returned to New York, but his office said a date for the council meeting had not been set.

Angop reported that dos Santos also sent a personal message to Cuban President Fidel Castro about the invasion, but it did not report what he said. Cuba has had an estimated 20,000 troops in Angola since it helped the Marxist government win a civil war after the former Portuguese colony got independence in 1975. But there has been no report that the Cubans are involved in the fighting. The British Foreign Office said the Angolan government invited its ambassador in Luanda and the ambassadors of France and West Germany to visit the battlefield.

Perry Como Looks For Privacy In N.C. Home

SALUDA, N.C. (AP) — When singer Perry Como decided several years ago he needed a place to get away from show business once in a while, he picked the tiny mountain village of Saluda for his hideaway.

When his schedule would allow it, Como, 69, would escape to the Western North Carolina mountains to stay with friends, play a few leisurely rounds of golf and enjoy the peace and quiet.

Last year, the popular crooner decided that he wanted his own home in the mountains and he chose what he considered the perfect site for his house: 13 acres in a secluded cove in the Polk County town of Saluda.

"He didn't build a huge, pretentious house. He just built one he could enjoy," said Jack Roberson, Como's neighbor both in Saluda and Jupiter, Fla., where both also have homes. Como stayed with Roberson while his home was being completed this summer.

With the help of a local builder and architect, Como designed a spacious, two-bedroom ranch house with a large basement. The natural siding on the house blends in with the heavily wooded cove. There is no swimming pool or "celebrity things" around the house, Roberson said. Only a heavy fence and round-the-clock security distinguish it from the 14 other homes sprinkled around the cove.

"He's a good neighbor, a good friend and everybody around here treats him like anybody else," Roberson said. "He just wants a little peace and quiet and to get along with the people around here. He doesn't want to be treated like a celebrity."

Como declined to comment on his mountain home, partly because he's afraid tourists will begin showing up at his door to catch a glimpse of him, Roberson said. Several area officials said Como had been asked to attend meetings and dinners but declined the invitations.

"He seems to want to keep to himself," said one Polk County official. "I guess he's afraid he'll be hounded by autograph hunters and the like."

His sense of privacy apparently extends to his home, for he refuses to allow pictures of it to be taken.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE REBUILDER OF A NATION!

NEHEMIAH, OF THE TRIBE OF JUDAH, WAS OFFICIAL CUP-BEARER TO KING ARTAXERES OF PERSIA. THE JEWS, HAVING BEEN TAKEN CAPTIVE OUT OF JUDEA ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS BEFORE BY KING NEBUCHADNEZZAR, HAD RISEN TO HIGH PLACES IN MANY INSTANCES, BECAUSE OF THEIR TALENTS. NEHEMIAH, BORN IN CAPTIVITY, ROSE TO THE LEVEL OF CLOSEST ROYAL ADVISER IN THE ENTIRE KINGDOM. IN 445 B.C., HEARING OF THE DESPERATE PLIGHT OF THE FEW JEWS LEFT IN JERUSALEM—A RUINED CITY OF CRUMBLING WALLS AND BROKEN GATES, COMPLETELY AT THE MERCY OF ROVING BANDS OF CUT-THROATS AND THIEVES WHO TERRIFIED THE COUNTRYSIDE—NEHEMIAH GOT PERMISSION FROM HIS KING TO GO THERE AND TO REBUILD ITS WALLS SO THAT THE INHABITANTS WOULD HAVE PROTECTION AGAINST MARAUDERS. A PERIOD OF TWELVE YEARS ELAPSED, FROM THE TIME HE ARRIVED IN THE CITY, UNTIL THE DEDICATION OF THE REBUILT WALLS (432 B.C.). BUT BEYOND JUST REBUILDING JERUSALEM'S WALLS, NEHEMIAH COMPLETELY RENEWED THE JEWISH NATION AND REVIVED ITS RELIGION, THE TEMPLE, AND ALL THE ANCIENT CUSTOMS AND MOSAIC LAW! AN EXCEEDINGLY DIFFICULT TASK, WHEN ONE CONSIDERS THE MANY STRATEGEMS AND TRICKS EMPLOYED BY NEAR-BY PETTY KINGS TO PREVENT JERUSALEM FROM RISING TO ITS FORMER STATUS—ALL OF WHICH IS EXCITINGLY RELATED IN THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH.

Anti-O'Connor Protest Gathers

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — An extensive coalition of conservative Christian groups is mobilizing a massed protest against abortion and, barring some clear signal that she sides with them, against confirmation of Sandra Day O'Connor to the U.S. Supreme Court.

More than 30 anti-abortion organizations, described as the largest alliance of them ever assembled, is sponsoring a "rally for life" next Thursday in Dallas Convention Center, scene of their pre-election boost to President Reagan.

"Basically, the purpose is to focus attention on a shameful chapter in the nation's history — the killing of 8 million persons before birth since 1973," says the Rev. H. Edward Rowe of Washington D.C.

"This is a serious outrage to increasing numbers of people. We're going to raise a loud and clear public outcry against it. Americans don't like to be in the same league with Nazis and Communists, promoting genocide. We're concerned about God's judgment on America."

Rowe, executive director of Religious Roundtable, one of the rally sponsors, says it appears unlikely the movement could stop Senate confirmation of Reagan's nominee to the high court, but that the question needed aired.

"We are simply raising our voices on what is right and opposing wrong, without regard to any criteria of success," he said in a telephone interview. "We might make fools of ourselves.

"But God has a message for kings and potentates. They did not make the laws of the universe. Kings and potentates who break those laws will be broken by them."

attention of the nation to it."

Mrs. O'Connor, who has been quoted as saying she personally abhors abortion but believes past Supreme Court decisions should be upheld, is accused by pro-life groups of having supported legislation allowing abortion while a member of the Arizona state Senate.

Rowe said if she has a change of mind and renounces the 1973 Supreme Court decision "we'd be delighted" to support her.

In that case, added a letter sent to 236,000 ministers and priests about the rally by Roundtable president Edward E. McAteer of Memphis, "we will turn the rally into a victory celebration and praise the name of our great and wonderful God."

Concern Over Moral Decline

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Four out of five women of the American Lutheran Church are intensely concerned over youths' decline in morals and the success of religious cults in recruiting youths, a study finds.

It involved 1 million women in the denomination and found many troubled about family problems and divided over such issues as equal status for women, mothers working out of the home and abortion.

But nearly all of them, the report says, have found a personally meaningful relationship to God and are ready to be involved in more volunteer activities to aid suffering people.

Merton P. Strommen, president of Search Institute of Minneapolis which made the study, reported on it to a convention of Lutheran women, saying it shows they "form a remarkable resource for service inside the church and beyond."

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a modest rally today, recouping a small part of its recent losses.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 2.28 to 891.36 by noon.

Gainers held a 4-3 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts described the advance as a technical rally. Over the last week the market has taken a steep drop amid concern that large federal budget deficits, a restrictive Federal Reserve credit policy and high interest rates might lead to a serious economic slowdown.

The government today reported a 0.1 percent decline in the index of leading economic indicators for July — the third consecutive drop for the index, which is designed to detect future economic trends.

As on many recent Fridays, analysts said many investors were holding back on large commitments awaiting the Fed's weekly report after the close on bank loans and the money supply.

Superior Oil led the active list, unchanged at 36½. A 200,000-share block traded at 36¼.

The NYSE's composite index gained .28 to 71.95. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 4.53 at 353.22.

Volume on the Big Board totaled 17.66 million shares at noon, against 18.86 million at the same point Thursday.

Raced Car Into U.S. Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — An elderly woman and her son drove their speeding car past Soviet police guarding the U.S. Embassy today and entered the compound, embassy sources said.

The sources, who asked not to be identified, said the woman, 74, and her son, 54, had "personal grievances that they thought they could get a hearing for."

The Americans said without elaboration that the grievances were not political or religious. The sources also said the woman and her son had not asked for asylum or shown any interest in leaving the country.

More than two hours after they entered the compound at about 3 p.m., the woman and her son were meeting with U.S. Embassy officials.

Embassy sources said it appeared there was "nothing we can do about it" if the pair left the embassy and were arrested by authorities. Several Soviet police cars were parked outside the embassy, near the narrow, arched entrance that the woman and her son used to drive into the compound.

Witnesses said the man and woman drove an aging beige Moskvich auto by startled Soviet police who drew their pistols after the vehicle passed.

Appeal Filed By PATCO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The air traffic controllers union has appealed the dismissal of its unfair labor practices complaint against the Federal Aviation Administration.

Alexander T. Graham, Washington regional director of the Federal Labor Relations Authority, had ruled that union charges that the FAA failed to bargain in good faith "cannot be sustained."

In response to Graham's decision, Richard Leighton, an attorney for the Professional Organization of Air Traffic Controllers, filed an appeal Thursday with FLRA general counsel Stephan Gordon.

Leighton said in a telephone interview that PATCO would seek to question whether there was a sufficient investigation of the union's charges before Graham arrived at his decision.

In their appeal, lawyers for the union asserted that the FAA and Transportation Department "insisted that PATCO accept the same offer that was overwhelmingly rejected by the PATCO membership, imposing three unacceptable conditions that made the offer even less valuable than when it was rejected originally."

The Federal Labor Relations Authority handles unfair labor practices charges involving federal unions. Gordon has the final say on the attempt by PATCO to force the FAA to renew contract negotiations with the controllers union, which went on strike Aug. 3.

President Reagan fired nearly 12,000 of the union's members when they refused to obey his order to return to work. The administration based its dismissal notices on oaths controllers signed pledging not to go on strike against the government.

Graham held that the FAA's obligation to bargain was suspended on Aug. 3, "when the union began engaging in an unlawful strike."

Valenzuela Back In April Form Harrell Aids Vike Rally, But Rams Pull Out Win

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

Fernando Valenzuela, already in the running for National League Rookie of the Year, the Cy Young Award and Most Valuable Player, could even make a case for Comeback Player of the Year if that award allowed turnarounds within the same season.

The sensational Mexican left-hander had been mired in a terrible slump after pitching five shutouts and compiling an 8-0 record and a 0.50 earned run average in his first eight starts this year. But in his next eight outings, his figures were 1-4 with a 6.51 ERA.

Now he is pitching again like he did in April, winning his last two starts, including a 6-0, four-hit victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday night. He also had 10 strikeouts, giving him 137 for the season, the most in the majors, as he improved his record to 11-4.

"He was outstanding," said Dodgers catcher Mike

Sciocia. "He had outstanding stuff tonight just like every game he's pitched. A lot of reporters may have wondered (during his slump), but he never lost it."

"I was trying not to waste any pitches and everything I was throwing was working," Valenzuela, the major leagues' first 11-game winner, said through an interpreter. "I probably surprised them, I used more fast balls tonight."

In other NL games, New York edged Houston 3-2, Montreal bombed Cincinnati 12-0, St. Louis nipped San Diego 3-2 in 13 innings and San Francisco trimmed Pittsburgh 5-4 in 13 innings.

Valenzuela may have slumped a bit after his tremendous start, but he never lagged as a drawing card.

Thursday night's game was his eighth start at Dodger Stadium, and his eighth sellout crowd at home, with 48,191 attending. Valenzuela is 5-1 pitching at home.

Ron Cey drove in three runs with a bases-loaded triple in the seventh inning and Steve Garvey, who has seven RBI in two games, knocked in two with a pair of singles.

Randy Martz, 4-6, pitched the first five innings and absorbed the loss.

Valenzuela, allowed only one runner past first in improving his overall ERA to 2.63.

The Dodgers took a 1-0 lead in the second when Bill Russell doubled, took third on the first of Valenzuela's two singles and scored on an infield out.

In the fifth, Garvey singled home two runs after an error by Cubs shortstop Ivan DeJesus.

Mets 3, Astros 2
New York rallied for two runs in the eighth inning on a run-scoring single by Frank Taveras and a game-winning double by Hubie Brooks to beat Houston.

Alex Trevino started the Mets rally with a one-out single off Houston started Joe Niekro, who was replaced by Joe Sambito. Trevino stole second and came home when Taveras singled, tying the game, before Brooks' double.

Tony Scott and Kiko Garcia singled home Houston's runs in the third inning.

Expos 12, Reds 0

Montreal won its third straight over Cincinnati, outscoring the Reds 7-1 in the series, as Ray Burris pitched a one-hitter for eight innings.

Cincinnati's only hit was a seventh-inning single by Ken Griffey, and Burris went on to his sixth victory in 11 decisions, although Jeff Reardon pitched the ninth.

Rookie Terry Francona knocked in the first three runs of his major league career with two singles, and John Milner hit a two-run homer and Warren Cromartie a two-run single in Montreal's six-run third inning.

Cards 3, Padres 2
George Hendrick gave St. Louis an early lead with a two-run double and then won the game with his 15th homer in the top of the 13th.

Hendrick's climactic homer came off San Diego's John Curtis, 2-6, Jim Kaat, 6-2, pitched the final 21-3 innings for the Cardinals, allowing one hit.

St. Louis had a 2-0 lead and Bob Forsch had a three-hit shutout after seven innings, but the Padres sent the game into extra innings with runs in the eighth and ninth on run-scoring singles by Randy Bass and Broderick Perkins.

Giants 5, Pirates 4

Jack Clark knocked in four runs with a three-run double and a solo homer. The home run won the game in the 13th inning. Clark hit a 3-1 pitch from Don Robinson, 0-2, over the center-field fence for his 11th homer, handing Pittsburgh its fourth straight loss.

Joe Morgan's one-out homer in seventh had snapped a 3-3 tie, but the Pirates tied it in the ninth on Jason Thompson's single, two groundouts and a single by Omar Moreno.

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — What would the Los Angeles Rams be without a quarterback controversy?

The seeds of a new one were planted Thursday night during their 34-31 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in a National Football League exhibition game when reserve quarterback Jeff Rutledge came off the bench to direct three second-half scoring drives.

Rutledge had replace Pat Haden, sidelined by leg cramps in the third quarter, who got his starting slot back after Vince Ferragamo defected to the Canadian Football League following a long debate on which should be No. 1. But Rutledge did not feel he was ready to take Ferragamo's place in the controversy.

"Yes, I enjoyed playing but Haden is the No. 1 quarterback and I'm not ready for any controversy," said Rutledge.

Rams coach Ray Malavasi also was pleased with the performance.

"Rutledge is really coming along. He's not a rookie any longer. He's in his third year and I think he played exceptionally well," Malavasi said.

But he defended Haden, who did not help his case by throwing four interceptions.

"The difference between when Pat Haden was in there and when Jeff Rutledge was in there was that Pat was saddled with a lot of penalties," said Malavasi. "It's pretty hard when they're dropping the flag all the time."

An Anaheim Stadium crowd of 60,141 saw Rutledge, a three-year veteran from Alabama, complete seven of nine passes for 156 yards and two touchdowns as the Rams closed out their preseason with a record of 2-2.

Rutledge fired touchdown passes of 38 yards and 22 yards to Preston Dennard to put the Rams ahead for good.

This was Rutledge's first appearance since receiving a sprained neck in the game with the New England Patriot Aug. 10.

Up to that point, the Vikings had established a 17-7 lead behind the play of linebacker Matt Blair, who returned an interception 99 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter, recovered a fumble in the third to set up another Viking touchdown and blocked a Los Angeles extra-point attempt.

Steve Dils, who replaced starter Tommy Kramer after the Viking quarterback injured his knee, brought the Viking offense to life in the fourth quarter, but the rally fell just short.

Dils hit third-year tight end Bob Bruer with a 5-yard pass to make the score 34-24, and then running back Sam Harrell, former East Carolina running back, drove over from the one to bring the Vikings within three points.

Dils finished the game completing 17 of 34 passes for 195 yards.

Both teams were hampered by penalties in a sloppy exhibition. The Rams were penalized 17 times for 104 yards while the Vikings were hit for 93 yards on 11 penalties.

The Vikings lost one of its last links with their glorious past Wednesday when cornerback Bobby Bryant announced his retirement. The 37-year-old former University of South Carolina player was the last player left on the Vikings roster who was with the club in 1967, Bud Grant's first year as head coach. Now only one player, Ron Yary, remains from Minnesota's first Super Bowl team.

Miami seeks its third unbeaten preseason in the last six years when the Dolphins host the Kansas City Chiefs, 1-2, tonight.

Also tonight, Tampa Bay visits Atlanta, Buffalo travels to San Diego and Baltimore is at Seattle, in a battle of the only two teams who have gone winless in preseason.

Eight games are on tap Saturday night, highlighted by a pair of intrastate rivalries featuring Houston at Dallas and San Francisco at Oakland.

Elsewhere Saturday, the New York Giants are at Pittsburgh, Chicago at St. Louis, Denver at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at the New York Jets, Detroit at New Orleans, and Cleveland is at Green Bay.

The final preseason game of 1981 was Washington playing New England on Sunday afternoon. Both the Patriots and Redskins are undefeated in exhibition action this season.

In other NFL news Thursday, the Bills signed veteran quarterback Matt Robinson, who had been waived by Denver earlier this week, while the Chiefs had a change of heart and re-signed reserve signal-caller Bob Gagliano, whom they had released two days earlier.

New Orleans Coach Bum Phillips disclosed that Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers sprained an ankle and it's uncertain whether the NFL's top draft pick will be able to play on Saturday against the Lions.

Twins, Bosox Teach Lesson On Counting Wins Before Final Out

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

OK students, the lesson for tonight is: there's no such thing as a sure thing.

The Detroit Tigers and Oakland A's learned that the hard way Thursday night and the beneficiaries were the Minnesota Twins and Boston Red Sox.

The Tigers, coasting along behind Dan Petry, leading Minnesota 3-0 heading into the bottom of the ninth, saw the Twins use an awesome attack of three walks, an error, a fielder's choice and a single to score four times and beat the Tigers for the first time in nine tries this season.

The A's built a 5-1 lead at Boston, only to see the Red Sox rally and take a 6-5 victory on Dwight Evans' two-run homer in the eighth.

Elsewhere, it was Cleveland 12, Seattle 2; Texas 5, Milwaukee 1; Baltimore 6, California 2; the Chicago White Sox 3, the New York Yankees 1 in a game called in the bottom of the eighth because of rain, and Kansas City 11, Toronto 5.

Twins 4, Tigers 3

Pete Mackanin delivered a two-out, two-run single to win the game. Petry walked Rob Wilfong leading off the inning. Gary Ward reached on an error by Lou Whitaker and, with a 2-0 count on Sal Butera, Tigers relief ace Kevin Saucier took over and completed the walk, loading the bases.

Saucier then walked Lan Faedo to force in one run and another scored on Dave Engle's fielder's choice. Mackanin singled to right-center off Dan Tobik. Faedo scored easily from second and Engle came all the way around from first, barreling into catcher Bill Fahey.

Fahey held onto the ball and the throw from right fielder Kirk Gibson appeared to be in time but plate umpire Jim Evans said Fahey never actually applied a tag to Engle.

"He never put the ball on the runner," explained Evans. "People assume that when there's contact and the catcher doesn't drop the ball that the runner's out. That's not true."

"The man was laying all over him," argued Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson. "It's impossible that the ball didn't touch him."

Pete Redfern, 4-7, threw a six-hitter to win for the first time since May 3. He had lost six straight.

Gibson homered for Detroit.

Red Sox 6, A's 5
Evans' 15th homer of the season was his third of the year with a 3-0 count. It followed a walk to Jerry Remy.

Oakland scored three runs in the first inning on an RBI single by Cliff Johnson, a fielder's choice grounder and Shooty Babitt's single. The A's added two runs in the fourth on Mike Heath's homer.

Boston's first run came on a triple by Tony Perez and Carl Yastrzemski's infield grounder in the second. With one out in the seventh, Rick Miller singled and took third as Remy singled. Jeff Jones replaced Langford and walked Evans, filling the bases.

Jim Rice scored Miller with a sacrifice fly and Remy scored as Heath threw the ball into right field attempting to pick off Evans. Tony Armas bobbled the ball for a second error on the play as Evans went to second. He scored on Perez's single.

"Evans has done well on

Defensive Minded Williamston Rebuilding After Two 8-2 Years

By RICK SCOPPE
Reflector Sports Writer

WILLIAMSTON — Over the years Williamston has relied heavily on its 4-4 defense for more than one hard-fought victory.

"Most teams start out with offense in practice," Williamston coach Harold Robinson said. "We coach defense first."

Thanks to its defense the Tigers have record two consecutive 8-2 seasons. The chances of a third-straight eight-win season are remote, however. The Tigers are just too inexperienced.

"This is the most inexperienced team I've ever had here," Robinson said. "It's going to take them time to learn."

"I just don't see us as a contender this year," he said. "We're a year away. We're working to be a contender, but being realistic I don't think it'll be this year."

"I'm not being pessimistic. I'm optimistic, more so than in any other year. We've had no problems discipline-wise."

"It's just going to take enthusiasm and patience. The kids have been enthusiastic and the coaches have been patient."

Robinson feels the key to the Tigers' season will be how they perform tonight in their season-opener against at Currituck.

"I feel like we've got to win that first game," Robinson said. "From a coaching standpoint I feel like we've got to win, or at least show improvement."

The Tigers will suit up 29 players Friday night. Of the starting 11 on offense, only three started last season — flanker Vincent Washington, right tackle Tim Hines and tight end Woody Sadler. Sadler moved from split end to tight end this season.

It is nearly the same on defense. Of the front eight, only Hines returns. Two of the Tigers' three defensive backs (Washington and Sadler) return.

Experience is not all the Tigers lack. Looking down the top 20 players, only one (Hines) weighs over 200 pounds. "That makes it tough," Robinson said. "We're having to do things differently this year. We're not using as much power and relying on more traps this season."

Still, the Tigers may be able to make up for the lack of size with their strength. An off-season weight program attracted some 40 players.

"They're not big, but they're strong kids," Robinson said. "And they're strong for their size."

Perhaps the Tigers' greatest asset, however, is their speed. Washington runs a 4.5 40-yard dash, fullback Al Willingham a 4.6 and split end Tony Speller a 4.65.

Still, there remains the lack of experience. But beginning tonight the Tigers begin getting that experience they so sorely need.

Robinson will be counting on Hines (6-1, 270), a two-year starter at right tackle, and Sadler (6-1, 165) to steady an offensive line that includes four first-year starters.

Starting for the first time are senior center Blair Bagley (5-11, 170) junior right guard Marvin Perkins (5-11, 180), senior left guard Ronnie Warren (5-10, 165) and junior left tackle Kent Moore (5-11, 175). Sophomore Egbert Clemmons (5-10, 165) will back up Warren while senior Brian Purvis (6-0, 160) will spell Perkins.

Tony Speller (5-11, 150), a junior, will be at split end while Washington (6-1, 175), a senior, will be at flanker. Washington was recently listed in the top 100 state high school seniors by the Greensboro Daily News and is being looked at by a number of universities as a possible defensive back.

At quarterback will be Jonathan Runion, a 6-1 160 senior who backed up Jim Lilley a year ago. Gray Thomas, a 5-10, 160 junior, will back up Runion.

Three players are vying for the fullback slot: sophomores Donnell Griffin (5-9, 165) and Al Willingham (6-0, 195) and senior James Maye. Willingham has been slowed by a foot injury and Maye will not play tonight because of an ankle injury.

On defense, Hines and Perkins will team at tackles and Purvis and sophomore Rodney Connors (6-0, 160) at the ends. Senior Ronnell Horner (5-11, 165) will back up both Purvis and Connors.

The four linebackers, all of whom are in their first year at the position, are Daniels, Maye, Moore and Griffin. The defensive backfield will have

Langer Clears First Hurdle; In Tie For Golf World Series Lead

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Bernhard Langer concedes his first appearance on the American Tour was unnerving, but he handled it with the talent that has made the West German a world class golfer at the age of 24.

Langer was matched with two of the United States' best players, Masters champion Tom Watson and PGA winner Larry Nelson. The tournament was the $400,000 World Series of Golf and the course was Firestone Country Club South, one of the most feared, most respected layouts in the world.

Langer cleared all of those hurdles. He shot 2-under-par 68 for a share of the first-round lead Thursday with British Open winner Bill Rogers and Hale Irwin, the winner of the Buick Open last week.

Langer beat Nelson by three shots and Watson, the defending champion here, by six.

"I was nervous on the first tee. But you have to play your own game. I enjoy the competition," said Langer, a pro since he was 15 and already the winner of four international tournaments.

An 8-iron shot from a fairway bunker to within two inches of the cup for an opening birdie quieted Langer's nerves, although he said he never shed them completely.

"But it's not bad to be a little nervous," said the first West German ever to play on the PGA Tour. "You concentrate more. I played quite well. I'm not complaining."

Irwin and Rogers, veterans of competition over this 7,173-yard monster, were surprised Firestone did not yield lower scores.

Only five players in the invitational field of 27 could better par of 70. Ed Flori and Curtis Strange had 69s. Just two more, Peter Oosterhuis of England and Jerry Pate, matched par.

Raymond Floyd, Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller and

Australian Greg Norman joined Nelson at 71. David Graham, the U.S. Open champion, settled for 72. Bruce Lietzke shot 74 with Watson, and Lee Trevino had a 78.

"There was no wind," Irwin said. "We didn't have the tremendous rough that we've had here. The greens are holding well. I don't understand why this quality field did not shoot lower."

Irwin hit a 6-iron shot around a spruce tree from the rough on the 18th hole to within six inches of the cup for a birdie and a share of the lead.

"That last hole reflected my day," he said. "I hit some bad shots and some fantastic shots in the same round. Rogers played solidly. I was the antithesis of him."

Rogers, firing his fifth straight round in the 60s at Firestone, said, "The really surprising thing is that 68 is leading the tournament. This course was set up to yield lower scores today."

Rogers said his was a solid round.

"I was in position only twice to make bogeys and they were silly," he said. "I'm happy with the way I'm playing. The putts will come if I keep hitting the ball in good position."

Stephenson Is Getting Serious About Her Golf

DENVER (AP) — Once more renowned as the sex symbol of the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, Jan Stephenson has turned serious about her craft, with some eye-opening results.

Two weeks ago, she set an LPGA record with an 18-under-par 198 to win the Mary Kay Classic in Dallas by a whopping 11 strokes. It was Stephenson's second victory of the year and helped boost her into the No. 6 spot on the 1981 money list.

Stephenson moved into position for a third triumph by firing a 4-under-par 68 Thursday to share the first-round lead with Julie Stanger Pyne in the 72-hole, $150,000 Columbia Savings Classic.

They shared a 1-stroke edge over veteran Janet Coles, with eight golfers another shot back at 2-under 70, including Nancy Lopez-Melton and former champions JoAnne Carner and Sandra Haynie.

Donna Caponi, the leading money winner on the tour this year, and runnerup Pat Bradley were among 10 golfers grouped at 71. Defending champion Beth Daniel, suffering a triple-bogey after hitting into water on the par-3 10th hole, had an even-par 72.

Stephenson has been bothered by a back injury, but you wouldn't know it from her recent performances. In the past four tournaments, she owns one victory and two second-place finishes, making her the hottest player on the tour.

"I had a bad back all last year," she explains, referring to a season when she finished a disappointing 34th on the money list. "It's still pinching me a little bit. But I've been doing aerobic dancing three times a week, and that helps keep my back stretched. I'm grouped at 71. Defending seeing a doctor in Dallas and it's been feeling much better."

Pirates Set TV, Radio Shows

Past Carolina University football fans won't be lacking when it comes to radio and television coverage of the games this fall.

Coach Ed Emory will have his usual television show, his two top assistants continue with their show. Pirate highlights will again be shown, and the radio network for play-by-plays will cover all of eastern North Carolina.

The Ed Emory show is scheduled to be shown over six television stations this fall, representing the largest coverage for the coach's show ever.

The show will be seen locally over WITN-TV, Channel 7, Sundays at 12:30 p.m. That station is the originator of the program, with sportscaster John Castleberry as host.

Other stations on the network include WWAY-TV, channel 3, Wilmington, Sundays at 1 p.m.; WKFT-TV, Fayetteville, channel 40, Sundays at 5 p.m.; WGGT-TV, channel 48, Greensboro, Sundays at 7 p.m.; WTVZ-TV, channel 33, Norfolk, Va., Saturdays at 8 a.m. (previous week's game); and WPDE-TV, channel 3, Florence, S.C., Sundays at 1 p.m.

The "Pirate Game Plan" show, featuring assistant coaches Norm Parker and Wright Anderson, will again be shown over WCTI-TV, channel 12 in New Bern. Lee Moore of WCTI will serve as host.

Parker and Anderson are defensive and offensive coordinators, respectively. They will explain the ins and outs of coaching Pirate football—why it worked, why it didn't, how it should work, why certain plays are used.

The show will be carried each Saturday prior to the ABC-TV college football game of the week.

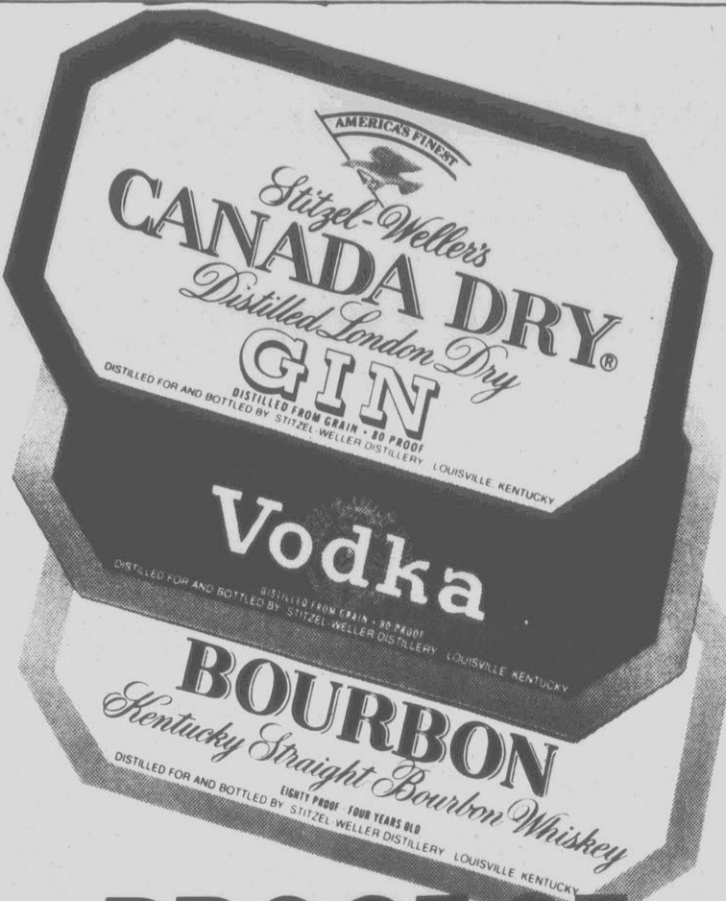

Pirate Game Highlights will be shown again on WITN-TV this fall. It will be seen each Sunday from 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., hosted by Castleberry, with color provided by Dick Jones.

The official voice of the Pirates, the Pirate Sports Network, will be found on the dial from the piedmont to the coast. A major addition to the network this year is WITN-FM of Washington, which will serve as the flagship station for the network. The 10,000 watt station will carry all ECU broadcasts over the next three years.

Pirate football broadcasts will begin 15 minutes prior to kickoff each Saturday, with play-by-play again called by Jim Woods of WNCT-TV, Greenville, and color by Moore, working together for the ninth straight year.

The games are carried in Greenville by WOOW-AM, while WGHB in Farmville also airs the games.

The 1981 football season is here — starting tonight.

Seven of our nine Pitt-Martin-Greene high school teams go into action this evening, with the other two joining in next weekend. East Carolina also is set to kick off the season a week from tomorrow.

That brings us back to our weekly predictions on how the high school games will come out. The panel of experts will join us next Friday in predicting the Rose High, ECU and other college games.

As is usual, the first week of the season involves a lot of guesswork. It's difficult to tell what a team really has until it takes the field against the opposition. What looks good in practice might just not work quite that well against someone other than the second and third teams.

But we'll try anyway. In the only game involving two area teams, Roanoke's Redskins visit the Panthers of North Pitt. Roanoke's pre-season reputation has been that of a conference championship contender, and this will give the Redskins a chance to see just how good they are. North Pitt, meanwhile, is involved in somewhat of a rebuilding year under new coach B.T. Chappell.

One would have to consider it a tough way to get baptised into the coaching world, but we look for Roanoke to roll in this one.

Farmville Central visits West Craven. The Jaguars are also another team with a new coach, Gilbert Carroll. He feels it will be a great help for the Jaguars to win one early. West Craven is coming off a championship season in the Coastal Conference, and is expected to be one of the stronger teams in the league this fall. We'll have to go with West Craven in this one, but it could be close.

Jamesville visits Princeton in a 1-A game. The Bullets have had a rough time with Princeton in the past, but all-everything rusher Mike Atkinson is gone now. Jamesville has more of a veteran team, and might be able to pull it out. However, Princeton is rich in tradition, and we'll have to go with that.

Conley opens his season at Washington, also under a new coach, Gerald Garner. The Vikings are battling off a no-win season, and will be seeking to snap a 13-game losing skid. Washington, under a Bing Mitchell rebuilding program, is making some noises now, and it looks like another brutal baptism. We must go with Washington here.

South Lenoir takes on Greene Central in Snow Hill. The Rams are expected to be somewhat improved over last year's model — and they also have a new coach in Spence Grantham. Generally, South Lenoir is the opener for the Rams, and generally, they manage to come away with a victory. This year should be no different.

Finally, Williamston travels to Currituck. Currituck was one of the tougher 2-A teams in the east last year, while Williamston also proved to be a tough 3-A contingent. This year, Williamston again appears to be strong, and should be able to take this one.

We'll be back next week with the full panel again seeking to battle it out for another season.

Virginia Hopes Defense Can Carry Cavaliers To Bowl Game

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Although Virginia has had only two winning seasons in the last 28, two of the Cavaliers' seniors have a common goal this year — playing in a bowl game.

"I'd like to go 7-4 or 8-3 and go to a bowl game. I definitely want to play 12 games," says Stuart Anderson, the 245-pound defensive star who's been moved to linebacker after playing tackle his first three seasons.

Greg Taylor, the 185-pound flanker who sat out last year with a hamstring injury after three years as a running back, says the Cavaliers' first goal is winning the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

"I don't think anybody in the conference is that much better than anybody else any more," Taylor says. "I also would like to go to a bowl game before I leave here, and this is my last year."

Those may be heady dreams, but Coach Dick Bestwick says "I haven't really felt in the last two years we played anybody we couldn't beat. Of course, a lot of things would have to go our way, and we can't afford injuries, particularly to Anderson and Taylor."

If the Cavaliers are really to challenge anybody, a veteran defense will have to stand the pressure while a young offensive line matures to the point it can be competitive.

Bestwick has gone from a 5-2 to a 4-3 defense this year.

"We want to put as much pressure on the other team as we can. We're going to try to be a very aggressive attacking football team. We may have more big plays broken against us, but we feel like we can make more big plays," Bestwick says.

Anderson is another reason for the change. "First of all, he can go from sideline to sideline at linebacker. In the middle, we can change our defense and hide him. We'll bring him up on the front some. We'll move him around," says Bestwick.

The move to linebacker doesn't bother Anderson. "You've got to be willing to make changes to help the team," he says. He also says his being used a little at fullback on offense has helped him read the other team's offenses better.

Besides, he says, "we have 10 other guys on the field. There are two other guys behind me who could very easily take my job, but they won't because I won't let them."

Taylor admits he was upset last year when he was moved to flanker after running for 1,551 yards his first three seasons, but the injury put him on the sidelines in 1980.

"I think it's good for me because I can use more of my God-given ability," Taylor now says of the move. "I don't think I could take the constant pounding our running backs will take. This year, we hope to open up our offense more."

Twins, Bosox...

3-0," said Boston Manager Ralph Houk "and I had a hunch he might get a good pitch in this ballpark."

Indians 12, Mariners 2
Cleveland took a 2-0 lead against loser Mike Parrott, 3-6, in the first inning on Toby Harrah's two-run triple. The first of Jorge Orta's two-run doubles and Mike Hargrove's RBI single made it 5-0 in the second.

Von Hayes' RBI triple, Tom Verzyer's two-run single, Orta's second two-run double, an RBI double by Hargrove and a Harrah sacrifice fly accounted for a seven-run third for the Indians.

Indians pitcher Bert Blyleven and Seattle's Randy Stein engaged in a series of attempted beanballs in the third and fourth innings. Stein was ejected and Blyleven warned by umpire Terry Cooney.

"After being warned, you go out and keep everything loud and away," said Blyleven, 9-5.

Rangers 5, Brewers 1
Leon Roberts, batting only .163 since the players' strike ended, knocked in four runs on a homer and a double and Danny Darwin, 8-6, pitched a four-hitter. Texas got two runs in the fourth on Roberts' double. A Jim Sundberg single and Roberts' fourth homer made it 5-1 in the sixth.

Orioles 6, Angels 2
In the eighth inning, Doug DeCinces' hit his fifth career grand slam and second this season to blow open a tight game. Scott McGregor, 9-3, notched his eighth straight triumph over California. He allowed five hits, including a pair of solo homers by Bobby Grich.

White Sox 3, Yankees 1
Greg Luzinski blasted a three-run homer in the eighth inning off Ron Davis, then the rains came and the game was called before that inning was completed. Dave Winfield's double had knocked in New York run in the top of the eighth.

Royals 11, Blue Jays 5
Willie Aikens drove in four runs, keying a five-run fourth inning with a two-run homer. Aikens' sixth-inning double plated another run and he singled home George Brett in the eighth.

Pollard In Putt Win

Danny Pollard aced the fourth hole of sudden death to beat Robbie Erhman and David Beacham and win the Thursday Nite Amateur Tournament at the local Putt-Putt Golf Course.

Erhman finished second by aing the next hole. The three players had finished the 36-hole tournament with seven under par 65's.

There was also a three-way tie for fourth with 66's. After sudden death, it was Robbie Moyer, Jake Loftin and Robert Beacham respectively.

Low round of the night went to Mike Mitchell with a scintillating 27, but a string of bogies the second round kept him out of the money.

Diane Pollard edged Delphia Beacham to win the women's division with a two-over-par 74 and give the Pollards a sweep of the two divisions.

Green Says He May Fight Fine

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies Manager Dallas Green, still burning over a five-game suspension and $1,000 fine he received for an altercation with an umpire, says he won't appeal the suspension, but will "wait and see" on the fine.

Green said he would see what National League President Chub Feeney does to the umpires involved in a fracas with a television reporter.

"My altercation deserves punishment," said Green before leaving Thursday for a weekend series in Houston. "But so does the umpires for what they did to the media people."

Green referred to a dispute involving two umpires, Nick Colosi and Frank Pulli, in which they allegedly abused a television reporter and caused $18,000 in damage to a $40,000 camera.

Green said as far as the suspension is concerned, "I'll take my medicine, (but) I'll wait and see on the fine."

He still describes Feeney's decision as "ridiculous. The crime and the punishment are not equal. I decided not to appeal the suspension because I'm sick and tired of lawyers running the game."

Green added, however, that if Feeney didn't take action against the umpires, "it means he's telling me it's not okay for me to abuse an umpire, but it is okay for the umpires to abuse others."

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Television Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — Chris Wallace, the man who could be king of morning television, is not thirsting after Tom Brokaw's job on the "Today" show. Get this: He's not even sure he wants it.

"I'm ambivalent. I have my doubts," said the 33-year-old Wallace, whose four-day audition as Brokaw's replacement ended today. "I'm a reporter, and I like being in the street. I'm not sure I want to go into the studio."

Wallace knows that being NBC's morning man is a plum. "It's an exciting prospect to be able to influence 10 hours of TV a week, setting up the agenda, raising issues and bringing people to the public for the first time.

"I wouldn't relish getting up at 4:30. But I do have two small kids, and I'd be home at a regular hour. Of course, I'd have to go to bed the same time as my 6-year-old.

So it's pretty much a wash." Don't construe this uncertainty as a lack of aggressiveness or ambition. CBS correspondent Mike Wallace is his father, and the genes are there. He's also been influenced by his stepfather, Bill Leonard, president of CBS News.

"From my father, I gained a sense of energy, a striving to do the best you can. From my stepfather, I got a sense of the long haul, that it's not a 100-yard dash; it's a marathon, and what counts most is the general quality of your work."

Wallace says he began living with the Leonards when he was 9, but his father was always around. "It wasn't a spicey thing. My mother met Bill after my parents divorced. It was all very civilized. They like and respect each other, and I grew up feeling I had two fathers."

It was almost preordained that he would follow their footsteps. "There was no pressure, but the world of journalism was always around and I guess it would have been impossible not to be affected."

He remembers, as a boy of 16, the invigorating feeling of fetching coffee for Walter Cronkite at the Republican Convention in 1964. "That's when the bug bit. It sure seemed like a terrific way to make a living."

He went to Harvard and worked at the school's radio station. When he was arrested during a campus demonstration, he was allowed one phone call. He made it to his public. "This is Chris Wallace, reporting from custody," he said.

He worked at the Boston Globe and then to WNBC-TV in New York, where he proved his versatility. He did interviews and the local news inserts at 7:25 and 8:25 on the "Today" show. He eventually made the jump to the big network, where he's done lengthy pieces for the "Nightly News" and NBC's magazine show.

He became most visible in the past year, when, 16 years later, he scooped Uncle Walter and broke the story that George Bush was Ronald Reagan's running mate. That was the high; the low came earlier this year when he rushed onto the air to say President Reagan was undergoing open-heart surgery, which was vastly different from the open-chest surgery doctors were performing.

"It was a dumb mistake; that's all it was, a dumb slip of the mind."

The embarrassment has not changed his lust for reporting, which remains Wallace's passion while his bosses consider him as one of Brokaw's possible replacements.

"It's funny. When I was growing up, 'Today' meant it was time to catch the bus."

Offer Hunt A Film Role

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Gov. Jim Hunt says he will consider offers by film director Douglas Trumbull to appear in the upcoming movie "Brainstorm." But first he wants to see the script.

Gary Pearce, Hunt's press secretary, said Hunt "told them he would be willing to do it." But he added that Hunt would examine the role before making his final decision.

"I assure you," Pearce said, "he will not do a nude scene."

The directors want Hunt to play the governor of North Carolina in the film, a role he should be familiar with. They plan to begin shooting the $16-million film soon in the Research Triangle Park.

The movie is a "scientific film but not science fiction," said Paula Weyrich, assistant state film officer. She said it is a "contemporary action drama about a mind-transferring device."

One scene calls for the governor "to appear at a function." But Ms. Weyrich promised that Hunt's mind will not be transferred during the scene.

Observers speculated that if Hunt's debut is successful, he might be able to play himself in such dramas as "The Microelectronic Falcon," about his attempts to lure electronic industries to North Carolina, and "The Threepenny Opera," about his successful campaign to raise the state's gasoline tax by 3 cents a gallon.

Telly Savalas Back To TV

LONDON (AP) — Telly Savalas, who once topped television ratings as tough New York police detective Lt. Theo Kojak on the CBS-TV series, says he has decided to return to the role in a series of specials.

"I'm giving in," Savalas told reporters Thursday before boarding a flight to Los Angeles.

"They have been hammering away at me, and because Kojak was so popular, I have decided to do a series of specials."

Japanese Search Remains Of Kublai Khan's Fleet

KUBLAI KHAN'S TREASURE — Prof. Torso Mozai, right, leader of the salvage expedition, examines an object recovered from the wreckage

By RICHARD BILL, Associated Press Writer
TOKYO (AP) — Seventy-two rotting wooden hulks resting on the sea bottom just off the Japanese coast are "without doubt" the remains of Kublai Khan's ill-fated fleet that tried to invade Japan 700 years ago, says the leader of the salvage expedition.

The find, located near Nagasaki in southern Japan, has already yielded an "enormous quantity of artifacts" and is considered one of the "most important archaeological discoveries" made in Japanese waters, said Torao Mozai, professor emeritus of mercantile marine at Tokai University.

Aided by a $60,000 grant from the Education Ministry, Mozai has for the past year been combing the seabed around Takashima Island with sonar scanners.

He said his team of 20 divers retrieved enough pottery fragments and barnacle-encrusted weaponry "to fill 10 large suitcases."

Mozai said the site was so rich he was forced to leave many objects amid the wreckage until he returns this fall. "We found so many things down there. But we didn't want to sacrifice any of them in our haste," he said.

Everything the team salvages will be donated to the local museum at Imari Bay, Mozai said.

Kublai Khan, grandson of the warrior Genghis Khan and founder of the Mongol dynasty in China, tried to invade Japan in 1274 and again in 1281.

The first try was thwarted by defenders on Kyushu with great loss of life.

In the second attempt, launched from China and Korea, typhoons destroyed 1,000 of the 4,400 invading warships. The Japanese, thanking providence, called the storms "kamikaze," or "divine winds," a term later used by Japan's suicide squadrons in World War II.

Mozai said he started searching the area a year ago, after fishermen began hauling up earthenware and porcelain cups in their nets. That's when he found the 72 ship wrecks sent to the bottom by the kamikaze.

He said he realized he had stumbled across an important find when his divers recovered Mongolian swords, stone pots used for pounding rice cakes and a bronze Buddha that was cast in Korea or China early in the 12th century.

The most stunning find, he said, is that of the personal seal of one of Kublai Khan's top generals. The stamp, made of copper, is in "excellent condition," weighs 726 grams and is engraved in Chinese characters along with a script he believes is phonetic writing.

He said a local farmer, Kuniichi Mukae, found the seal seven years ago while walking along the shore looking for clams. He said the farmer didn't recognize its significance and kept it in a tool box until last month "when I visited the island and told everybody I met what I was doing there."

"He asked me if I wanted to examine it," Mozai continued. "It's priceless. It's a national treasure."

He said the seal had been authenticated by Takashi Okazaki, a Kyushu University professor and noted archaeologist.

Since then, the ocean has yielded two more steel sword blades, one measuring about 12 inches, the other 31 1/2 inches. The relics, which he said were "all in rather good condition," were submerged in mud about 6 1/2 feet below the seabed in waters more than 80 feet deep.

Mozai said he had also recovered iron ingots used for ballast, which probably would have been melted down and made into swords had the invasion succeeded.

He said he also retrieved 145 fragments of pottery and porcelain, some plain, others with a brown glazed design, as well as three complete vases, 15 anchors hewn of stone and two jugs he believes were used to mix gunpowder. Lending support to that theory was the discovery of cloth-covered stone balls that showed traces of oil. These, he said, appeared to be the ancient equivalent of cannon balls.

He discounted any chance of raising the wooden hulks

because they are so fragile. "There's now no doubt we found the remains of Kublai Khan's fleet; all we have to do now is salvage as much as we can, before it is lost forever," he said.

Update Survey

Johnson Publishing Co. is conducting a survey of Greenville residents to obtain current information for an updated city directory, a company spokesman said today.

Jim Henely, a public relations representative for the Loveland, Colo., publishing company, said survey workers will ask residents to provide names and occupations, information about ownership of their homes and other details about families. Businesses also are being contacted.

Information gathered by the survey will be used in the next edition of the directory.

We fired the guy who designs all those dull apartment floorplans.

Who is the guy that makes all apartments look alike? No matter. He didn't even get close to Wedgewood Arms.

We have an honest-to-goodness different type of apartment floorplan. No kidding. Now there's an alternative to dull apartments.

For example, we put the washer and dryer hook-ups (patents). Not a radical departure perhaps. But, at least you won't have to yell across the dinner table when the washing machine starts spinning.

And, at Wedgewood Arms, you won't have to lose weight just to get in the downstairs bathroom. Now, that is different.

There's dozens of other subtle differences, too. Like a fuse box that doesn't need hiding because it's already hidden. There's lots of wall space. And, plenty of well-thought-out storage.

It all adds up to an apartment worth living in. An apartment that really is different. So, come take a look for yourself.

Call us for an appointment today.

Philip Morris Gives Grants

RALEIGH — Philip Morris U.S.A. recently gave grants totaling $80,135 to N.C. State University to support agricultural scholarships, research, and extension work. O. Witcher Dudley III, vice-president of the company's leaf division, presented the checks to NCSU officials.

The largest allocation was a $45,000 grant awarded to the N. C. Tobacco Foundation for continued research and extension work. The company also gave $20,000 to the Philip Morris Extension Fellows Fund and $15,135 for Philip Morris Agricultural Extension Scholarships.

FOCUS

Nature's Way

Dangerous fires like this threaten millions of acres of forest late each summer. But sometimes, humans may actually harm a forest and its wildlife by over-protecting it. Fires caused by lightning and other natural forces keep forests from becoming too thick. Too much shade from trees can kill grass and bushes. Plant-eating animals may then starve. When fires do not clear a forest for many years, fallen trees pile up on the ground. This extra fuel can eventually make a forest fire even harder to control. Although forest rangers work to prevent man-caused fires, they sometimes let a fire run its course, because it's part of nature.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Six of ♠.

Contract bridge is a simple game—it's the players who make it complicated. East posed an unnecessary problem that his partner was unable to solve—at the cost of an opposing game.

We are not unqualified admirers of North's three club opening bid because the hand is too strong and the suit a card short. No one can fault South's decision to bid three no trump, and the final contract was not without merit.

West had to choose between the major suits for his opening lead, and did well when he selected a spade rather than the top of his heart sequence. He reasoned that he had to develop tricks quickly, and he needed only to find his partner with a high spade honor to have a chance to take three tricks in the suit.

East's king of spades won the first trick, and the return of the deuce was won by declarer. When the club finesse lost, East continued with the three of spades, allowing partner to cash two more tricks to complete the defensive book.

We will help make your house payments

It's true. When you buy your newly constructed home from us in BAYTREE, we will pay a portion of your monthly mortgage payment for the first year. It's very simple.

Here's why we're doing this. Many buyers seem to be hesitating, waiting for interest rates to come down. But since construction costs are rising so rapidly, tomorrow's mortgage payment is almost certain to buy less house than you can buy today.

For a limited time, when you come to us to buy your new home in BAYTREE, using conventional financing (which we can help you arrange), we'll pay a portion of your house payment from a special trust account for the first year.

If you are in the market for a home, you owe it to yourself to talk with us about our plan. Call us today for an appointment.

Let us help make your house payments.

DOES $2,000 IN TAX FREE INCOME SOUND GOOD TO YOU?

THEN FOLLOW THE SMART MONEY TO HOME FEDERAL!

The New All Savers Certificate, which Congress has approved, allows tax savings never before available to savers. Beginning October 1, couples filing joint returns can deduct up to $2,000 interest earned by these certificates. A minimum deposit of $500 is required, and interest will be computed at 70% of the current one year treasury bill rate. But it's important to act now. Open your account at a nearby Home Federal Office. We'll give you all the details about this new way to reduce your tax burden, and see that you earn the highest possible interest rate until October 1. Then your deposit will automatically be transferred into an All Savers Certificate for tax free income. So follow the smart money to Home Federal. Where saving is more rewarding than ever.
