Recount Denied For City Council Race

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

The Pitt County Board of Elections this morning denied a request by City Council candidate Ed Carter for a recount of last Tuesday's voting results, citing an "insufficiency of evidence" to indicate inaccuracies that could affect the final outcome.

The board's decision followed a hearing at the elections office on Carter's formal request for a recount.

Clifton Everett Jr., board chairman, said following the decision that the elections body will certify the results of the municipal elections as published. An official canvass of the votes was conducted last Thursday but the board withheld certification of the council voting pending the hearing results. Percy Cox, however, was certified following the canvass as winning the mayoral election since the recount request did not affect that race.

Everett said that, in deciding not to order a recount, the board did not feel enough evidence was shown in the hearing to justify approval of the request.

The board, after receiving affidavits and statements relative to Carter's request and after hearing comments from several local precinct officials, adjourned the formal hearing to decide on the recount request.

Carter, who fell 20 votes short of a sixth-place finish in the voting, filed a written request with the board prior to the canvass, citing "disorganization" among several precinct voting teams, difficulty encountered by counters in distinguishing between the pronunciation of the last names of candidates Carter and (Louis) Clark, and general doubt in Carter's mind "as to the accuracy of the vote-count in this election."

Carter pointed out in his request that he only finished 30 votes behind the fifth-place candidate in the voting that saw Janice Buck, Judy Greene, Louis Clark, William Hadden, Stuart Shinn and George Pugh receive the top six totals. Six council positions were filled in the balloting.

Carter said he and his campaign manager, Dr. Wiley Hines, "witnessed general disorganization among one team of people counting ballots" at Precinct 7, located at Elm Street Gym. He said in his recount request that, "Disorganization was so obvious among this team that the precinct registrar expressed considerable doubt as to the accuracy of their efforts."

This morning, Earl Brinkley, registrar at Precinct 7, said that, while he had one group that was taking more time to count than he felt necessary, he saw nothing to indicate there were any incorrect tabulations at his precinct. Brinkley said he expressed no doubt on the night of the counting as to the accuracy of the counting.

Thurston Wynne, judge at Precinct 7, said he "noticed nothing unusual" in counting proceedings and he stated that he witnessed no undue confusion.

Carter said he and Hines witnessed difficulties in the Carter-Clark name pronunciations, "leading to a potential error," at Precinct 9 (Gardner Fire Station).

Attorney Kenneth Hite, who said he assisted in the vote counting at Gardner Fire Station, cited "nothing unusual" about the tallying and said he knew of no instances where difficulties were encountered in distinguishing names.

Nancy Singleton, precinct judge at No. 9, also said she witnessed no confusion in the ballot counting or in distinguishing names. Mrs. Singleton said a misnumbering of the poll book, involving two numbers, occurred but was discovered and corrected.

Hines, in an affidavit submitted to the board, pointed to "obvious disorganization of the groups counting ballots" at Elm Street Gym. He said, "The precinct registrar expressed concern with the inexperience of a group counting ballots."

Hines also said, "There were instances in Precinct Three (West Greenville Recreation Center) and Precinct Nine where there was indistinguishable calling of candidates' names which may have led to errors."

In another sworn affidavit, Donovan Phillips said he "witnessed an obvious lack of organization in the counting process" at Precinct 4 (Jaycee's Community Center). He stated in the affidavit that, "Wherein an individual counting votes was obviously under voting age, as indicated by a precinct worker, I was asked and consented to help in the vote counting process."

Robert Lee Cherry also submitted a sworn affidavit and cited "discrepancies in recorders' tallying" at Precinct 6 (main Fire Station), general disorganization at No. 3, and confusion in counting at Precincts 4, 5 (American Legion Building), 9 and 7.

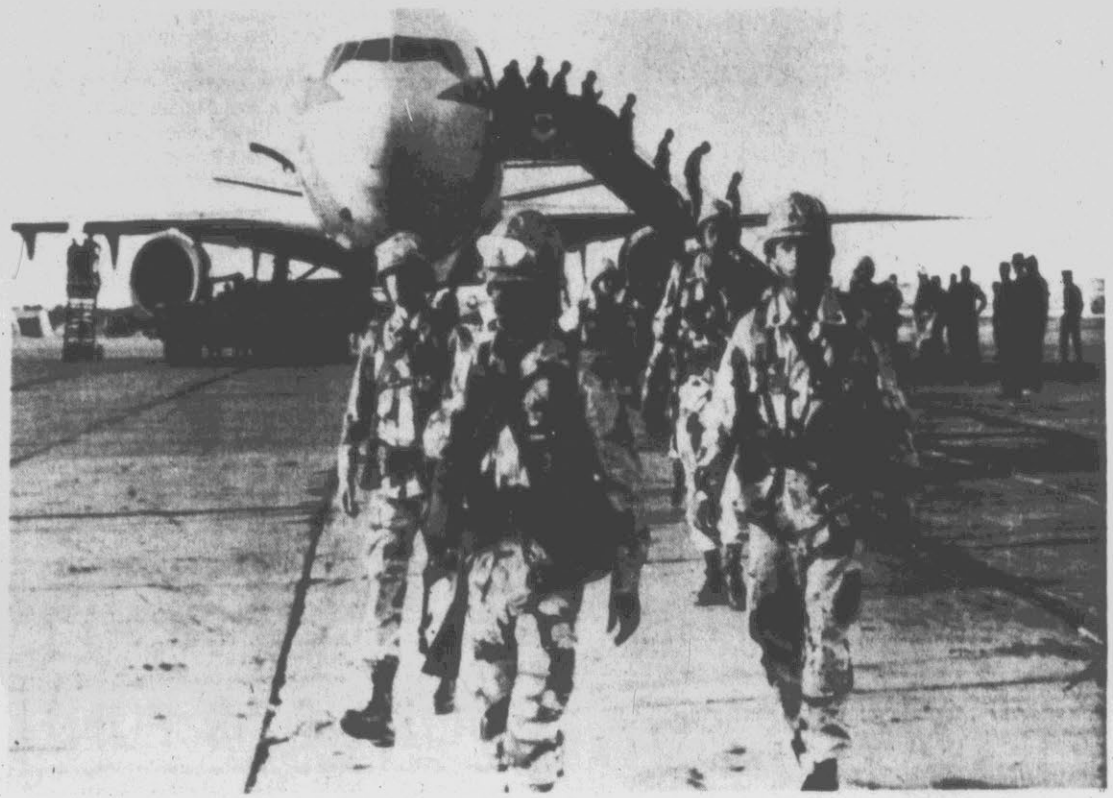

Lily Reid, registrar at Precinct 3, said that a group of tabulators there "got off count" early in the tallying but started over again. Mrs. Reid said there was no confusion or disorganization at the precinct.

Everett pointed out this morning that, as prescribed by law, none of the vote counting is done behind closed doors.

Attorney Richard Powell, representing Carter, this morning cited "strong allegations of discrepancies and differences" in the counting at several precincts and said the matter "shouldn't be put under the table."

Everett said the board did not "intend to put anything under the rug. If we did, we wouldn't be here this morning."

Carter has the option to appeal the Pitt board's decision to the State Board of Elections.

24TH INFANTRY ARRIVES — Members of the 24th Infantry Division from Ft. Stewart, Georgia, deplane from a DC-10 airliner at Cairo West Airbase Monday. The troops will be participating in joint military exercises with Egyptian troops during the exercise known as "Bright Star". At the same time,

U.S. servicemen from Holloman Air Force Base in southern New Mexico were raising general purpose shelters for troops and equipment used in the exercise. Part of the Bright Star operation will include the air-drop of men and material in the Egyptian desert wastes. (AP Laserphoto)

Producer Price Index Up As Economy Is Slowing

By STEVEN P. ROSENFELD
AP Business Writer

Inflation at the wholesale level rose to an annual rate of 6.8 percent in October, the government said today, but the rate for the year still seems certain to be lower than the 11.8 percent wholesale average for 1980.

Higher new car prices were a key force behind the 0.6 percent increase last month in the Producer Price Index — a measure of wholesale prices for finished goods — while food and energy prices fell, the Labor Department said.

Still, the increase in the wholesale index was the largest since the 0.8 percent rise last April. Price boosts at the wholesale level often presage higher consumer prices, which could present more troublesome news for the Reagan administration as it tries to strengthen a national economy apparently in recession.

Indeed, economic activity will continue to deteriorate into 1982, with the final three months of this year being "a real downer," Treasury Secretary Donald Regan said Monday.

One bright spot, however, is that the economy's slowdown has reduced corporate demand for credit, relieving pressure on interest rates.

Major banks adopted a 17 percent prime lending rate Monday, down from 17.5 percent a week earlier and 20.5 percent in September.

Chamber Seeks Help On Award

Nominations are being sought by the Pitt-Greenville Chamber of Commerce for the chamber's prestigious, annual "Citizen of the Year Award," according to PGCC President Ed Walker.

PGCC members and citizens of Greenville are encouraged to send their nominations' names, resumes and reasons for nomination to the PGCC, P.O. Box 894, Greenville, before Dec. 15.

The recipient of the "Citizen of the Year Award," Walker said, should be someone who has made significant contributions to the Greenville-Pitt County area. The nominee, Walker suggested, should be active in civic affairs, should be involved in business for the good of the community, should have a good reputation and should have contributed to the community over a period of years.

Former recipients of the award include Dr. Leo Jenkins, Joe Pou, Walley Howard, Eugene West, Horton Rountree, Bill Speight, Bruce Sugg, Janice Buck, Les Garner, W. M. "Booger" Scales, John Minges, Charles Galkins and Jerry Powell.

Nomination forms or further information may be secured by calling the chamber office at 752-4101.

Saudis Report 'Turning Back' Israeli Planes

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Saudi Arabia accused the Israeli air force of invading its air space, and a U.S. military source said the Israelis do it frequently.

A Saudi communique said "aircraft of the Israeli enemy violated our airspace in the kingdom's northwestern regions. Our fighter jets intercepted them and as a result the enemy planes returned to occupied Arab lands," meaning Israel.

Israel refused to comment. But U.S. officials in Washington said Israeli reconnaissance planes made two flights Monday in the vicinity of Saudi Arabia's Tabuk air base, 130 miles southeast of the southernmost tip of Israel.

"They operate there lots of times," said one American official. "It is common knowledge that the Israelis fly across the border to check things out."

The reports received in Washington made no mention of interception by Saudi planes or of any firing.

"Overflights are not new," said an Arab diplomat in Riyadh who declined to be identified.

Re-Elected

Redevelopment Commissioners, in a brief meeting Monday night, re-elected the current slate of officers to serve until the commission is abolished in January.

Re-elected were David Gordon as chairman and Lucy Jones as vice chairman, while Joe Laney, who serves as executive director, was re-appointed to serve as secretary-treasurer.

The action took place at the agency's annual elections meeting, held prior to the regular November session.

The City Council, meeting in October, set Jan. 11, 1982, as the date for abolishing the commission, which is in the process of winding up its urban renewal activities.

Laney told commissioners during the brief regular meeting that he is proceeding with condemnation cases involving the commission in an effort to wind up the activities prior to the end of the year.

He added that the agency has delivered the deed and received a check for the sale of a parcel to the Bachelor Benedict Club on Garland Street.

Edmisten To Press ECU Bid-Rigging Indictments

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — State Attorney General Rufus Edmisten said Monday that his office would take a "hard line" in prosecuting nine electrical companies and 10 officials indicted for allegedly rigging bids on an East Carolina University project.

"These indictments are the result of an eight-month investigation into bid rigging in the electrical contracting industry by our antitrust division," Edmisten said. "We will take a hard line position because I just am not going to tolerate North Carolina taxpayers being cheated out of their hard earned money."

The Wilson County Grand Jury's indictments charge that bids for the East Carolina Medical Education Facility in Greenville were rigged in December 1978. The indictments charge the companies with conspiring to commit the felony of false pretenses and with engaging in a combination and conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade.

Two of the companies indicted — Richards and Associates, Inc. of Carrollton, Ga., and Watson Electrical Construction Co. of Wilson — also were indicted for the felony of false pretenses. The indictments stated the defendants determined before bidding that Watson Electrical Construction was to be the low bidder.

But due to an error in Watson's bid bond, the bid was never opened and the project was awarded to Richards and Associates, the indictment said.

Negotiated plea agreements between the state and Watson are scheduled to be entered next month in Wilson Superior Court.

Edmisten said his investigation of the electrical contracting industry will continue and he expects to present further indictments against other contractors in the future. Watson has agreed to cooperate fully with the state in that investigation.

In addition to Watson and Richards, the companies and officials indicted were: Bryant-Durham Electric Co. Inc. of Durham and its president, Robert S. Shackleford; Bryant Electric Co. Inc. of High Point and its vice president, George F. Saunders; and Cooper Electrical Construction Co. of Greensboro and its president J.E. Cooper.

Also indicted were: Darden Electric Co. Inc. of Goldsboro and its vice president, Tommy Lancaster; Elcon Corp. of Hendersonville; Industrotech Constructors Inc. of Atlanta, Ga., and its vice president, William H. Howell; and Starr Electric Co. Inc. of Greensboro and its president, John W. Starr.

Watson company officials named as defendants are T.L. Watson Jr., chairman of the board, and William E. Boyette, president. Named in the indictments from Richards and Associates were Roy Richards, president, and William A. Williamson, electrical division manager.

Little Involved

East Carolina University officials apparently have had little involvement with an investigation that led Monday to the indictment of nine electrical companies and 10 officials for allegedly rigging bids on the ECU School of Medicine's Brody Medical Science Building.

A Wilson County grand jury, acting on information supplied by the antitrust division of the N.C. attorney general's office and the State Bureau of Investig, returned the indictments.

"The only thing I know about the whole mess," ECU Vice Chancellor Cliff Moore said this morning, "is that three months or more ago, somebody from the SBI called and we went through the process followed in opening bids for the project... from advertising to opening bids."

"The state property and construction office awarded the contracts. They were awarded by the office in Raleigh," said Moore, who heads the university's business affairs section.

Although the university's director of plant operations visits the site regularly, and representatives of the property and construction office inspect the progress on the building from time to time, Moore said "the architects and engineers supervise construction. That's what we pay them for."

Moore noted that all of the bids received for construction of the building near Pitt County Memorial Hospital were above estimates and officials negotiated with the low bidders to reduce the cost by deleting or postponing a number of items.

Complaints Rejected By Ayden Elections Board

AYDEN — No action will be taken on complaints filed by two unsuccessful candidates in the municipal elections held here Nov. 3 and no recount will be made, the Ayden Board of Elections ruled Monday night.

William Bonar, who lost his bid for the 2nd Ward seat to incumbent Robert Harris by 359 votes, filed a protest Friday charging that non-qualified voters cast their ballot in the election.

Glenn Bowen Jr., who has run unsuccessfully against Mayor Ross Persinger three times, complained to the election board that Persinger violated election law by repeatedly entering the polling place — a charge Persinger acknowledges.

"In regards to Bonar's protest in which he charged improper procedure, specifically the counting of votes by those not in the city limits and therefore not eligible to vote," said election board Chairman Steve Nobles, "the board decided that the three votes in question would have no effect on the outcome of the election."

"The board plans no further action," he added. Bonar said he was content with the decision. "I am satisfied with the ruling and will not carry it any further," he noted. "I would like to see the county handling the elections in the future, however."

The board also plans no further action on the complaint by Bowen. "Persinger by his own admission went into the community building where the election was conducted at least four times between the hours of 6:30-7:30 p.m.," said

Nobles. "He was told that this was an irregularity." Persinger said he entered the area of the marked-off voting enclosure four times — to vote, to answer a telephone, to get a drink of water and to use a bathroom.

"It should be noted that this board is not a prosecuting board," added Nobles. "Bowen would have to file a legal action to further his complaint against Persinger." Bowen was unavailable for comment as to whether he planned further action against Persinger.

Nobles said an earlier investigation by the board into Bonar's complaint indicated that three persons from an area to be annexed in December had voted, one of whom said that Persinger had encouraged her to vote, saying she was eligible. Persinger, however, told the board in a statement that he had only advised her to check with election officials.

MOBILE HOME DOOR?

I need an exterior door for my 1974 Fairway mobile home. I have checked with every mobile home dealer and repair business in the local area and cannot find one that will work. They all say I'll have to buy the whole door unit, jamb and all and that will cost over $200. I just need the door and don't feel I can spend that much money. Sew Fake Fur — Make Nifty Gifts

With the vast selection of colors and styles of fake fur fabrics now available, home seamstresses can create jackets, vests, crafts and fuzzy toy friends for everyone on their holiday gift lists.

Carole Fantel, education director for White/Elna Sewing Machine Company, offers tips to those who wish to work with fake fur. "This season," she said, "there is a great selection of synthetic furs that closely resemble the look and feel of animal pelts such as seal, mink and raccoon. Coats and jackets fashioned of these fabrics are warm and luxurious and cost considerably less, of course, than real fur."

"Shorter napped fake furs are also available in many colors and are ideal for stuffed animal and toy patterns now being offered by pattern manufacturers."

If the backing fabric on the fur you select is a knit or woven, you should use an all-purpose needle, she said. If the backing is a leather-like vinyl, you should choose a leather or wedge needle. American Numbers 14-16 or European Numbers 90-110 needle sizes are appropriate.

She suggests using a special non-snag presser foot to sew smoothly on fake fur.

"If you don't have this accessory on your machine, you should wrap your standard presser foot with tape so it won't get tangled in the long fibers of the fabric as you are stitching," she said.

When laying out and cutting fake furs, Ms. Fantel suggests that you lay out the pattern on a single thickness of fabric on the wrong side. "Always remember to lay out the pattern pieces with the nap of the fur running in the same direction to ensure that the color and texture of the finished piece are uniform," she reminded, adding that it's best to use a medium-weight cotton thread and to adjust stitch length to a longer-than-average length. A standard tension setting is fine for fake furs, she said.

"Never use glue, buttons or small objects for eyes or noses of stuffed toys," she said. "It's best to sew on felt pieces for these details."

She also reminded that one should be careful to remove all pins from the finished children's toy project. "Pins with brightly colored heads are good when working with fake fur or any napped fabric," she said. "They are easier to see and you're less likely to lose them."

Mothers' March Set For Next Week

The annual Mothers' March for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation will be held in Greenville the week of Nov. 16-22 to continue funding the battle to prevent most serious child health problems.

"Every year more than 250,000 newborns come into the world suffering physical and mental damage due to birth defects," Mrs. Barbara Hall, Mother's March chairman, said. "We are soliciting funds door-to-door and by other means of personal contact as our response to this tragic health reality," she said.

The Mothers' March began in Phoenix, Ariz., in 1950. "Today the volunteer appeal is held every year by more than 800 March of Dimes chapters throughout the country," Mrs. Hall said.

"The Mothers' March is not only a fund-raising event," she explained, "but also an opportunity to acquaint as many people as possible with the tremendously needed work being done by the March of Dimes."

Programs of research, medical services, public and professional health education are major ways in which the March of Dimes is working to prevent birth defects in local communities and nationally as well. "Because birth defects are far more widespread than many people might first think, the Mothers' March offers all of us an opportunity to learn and to do something positive in battling this problem," Mrs. Hall said.

For details about joining the Mothers' March, call Mrs. Hall at 756-0262 or the chapter office, 758-2542.

COOKING IS FUN!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

DEAR CECILY: Can you give a recipe for the French "creme fraiche?" I see it called for in some of today's "gourmet" recipes and would like to try it. Although I resist making puff pastry, layered vegetable mousses, exotic pates and other complicated French dishes, I gather creme fraiche is easy to concoct and has some good uses. —TIME-SAVER.

DEAR TIMESAVER: I know how you feel about some of those time-consuming French recipes. I think they're great for people who look on cooking as a craft and enjoy taking the time to make complicated dishes they can share with others. But you're right about Creme Fraiche — it needs only two ingredients and takes only minutes to assemble; after that it does its own work.

One of the best recipes for Creme Fraiche is in Perla Meyers' "From Market to Kitchen Cookbook" (Harper & Row). As a bonus, I'm including her recipe for carrots with a creme fraiche sauce.

CARROTS WITH CREME FRAICHE
1 cup Creme Fraiche, Recipe follows
1 teaspoon flour
2 to 3 tablespoons finely minced fresh dill
1 1/2 pounds fresh carrots, peeled and cut into 1/4-inch slices
1/4 cup water
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon granulated sugar
Salt and freshly ground white pepper

In a small bowl mix the Creme Fraiche with the flour and dill and stir until well blended. Set aside. Combine the carrots with water, butter, and sugar in a heavy-bottomed saucepan. Season with salt and pepper. Bring to a boil, reduce the heat, and simmer the carrots covered for 8 to 10 minutes, or until barely tender. Uncover the saucepan and spoon off all but 2 tablespoons of the cooking liquid. Increase the heat and add

Dad's Pampering Son In Prison, Mom Feels

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Our 19-year-old son got into trouble with the law — drinking and stealing. He served some time, but I think the judge let him off easy, considering he cussed out a cop and broke probation, and now he's back again. Serves him right. Let him pay for running his smart mouth.

Every day he calls up his daddy and puts in his order. It's always two cartons of cigarettes a week. Yesterday he asked for Tang breakfast drink, a big bag of chocolate-chip cookies, a quart of milk, 2 Big Macs and a large order of fries. Today he asked for a bucket of Kentucky Fried Chicken, a bag of Doritos, some beef jerky and some more cookies.

His daddy takes him whatever he asks for and I keep on fighting him about it. All I'd buy the boy is cigarettes. I say, "He put himself in jail — let him live on what they feed him there."

Am I wrong to feel the way I do, Abby? Please send me your advice.

FED-UP MAMA

DEAR FED-UP: I'm on your side. It's a big mistake to pamper him in prison. Most folks don't have it that good on the outside.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you as a last resort. Briefly, I have a fetish about my wife's hair, which she refuses to understand. I have begged and pleaded with her during our three-year marriage to let her hair grow somewhat longer because I absolutely adore long hair, but lately she's been cutting her hair, and I am going crazy. She insists that she is going to wear her hair short no matter what.

She says I am "sick" — that I have to help myself to get over this fetish. I say if she really loves me she will understand my feelings and let her hair grow longer.

I have tried professional help but to no avail. Because of my wife's refusal to cooperate, the problem is getting worse. Abby, please explain to my wife the tremendous pressure I am under. If she doesn't help me, our marriage is doomed.

SICK AND SCARED

DEAR SICK: Some wives will forgo their own preferences in order to accommodate their husbands, but unfortunately for you, your wife isn't one of them.

Having had professional help, you know that fetishism is a pathological displacement of erotic interest and satisfaction. Obviously you are still unwilling to give up this fetish and your wife refuses to give in. Unless you both get to the root of this hairy problem, your marriage is indeed doomed.

DEAR ABBY: Please, please advise brides to sign their thank-you notes properly.

I am a grandmother and send many wedding presents to unknown children and grandchildren of relatives and old friends. Months later I receive a sweet little note signed "Betty" — and I haven't the faintest idea who Betty is!

Please advise brides to sign their notes with their maiden names, plus their married names. Betty Brown, who married Tom Green, should sign her name "Betty Brown the Creme Fraiche mixture. Bring to a boil, reduce the heat, and simmer the carrots until tender and the sauce is thickened.

Season with salt and pepper and serve hot as an accompaniment to roast chicken or sauteed fish fillets.

Serves 4 to 5.

Creme Fraiche: Combine 2 cups heavy cream (not ultra-pasteurized) and 3 tablespoons buttermilk in a glass jar and whisk until well blended. Cover the jar and set aside in a warm, draft-free place until the cream sours and thickens — 8 to 24 hours.

Green" to all but her most intimate friends.
TIED OF GUESSING

DEAR TIRED: Done! And while we're on the subject, when acknowledging a gift, not only should the writer clearly identify himself, he should identify the gift. ("Thank you for the lovely ice bucket, back-scratcher, or Crock Pot.")

DEAR ABBY: Regarding "M's" letter asking how to tell her wealthy date to tip more than $1: If that's all he feels is appropriate, it's his money! Granted, he should be aware that 15 percent is considered "fair," but restaurant prices are inflated enough as it is without handing out 15 percent tips just because it's expected.

My father always tipped like he was supporting the waitress, her five kids and her dog! It's time we start getting what we pay for.

NOT CHEAP BUT FAIR

DEAR NOT: "M" said her escort never tipped more than a dollar. Surely the service couldn't have been substandard everywhere, all the time.

Funny you should mention your father in connection with tipping. I had the same kind of father. I recall his buying coffee for my twin and me at a coffee shop near his theater. In those days, coffee was a nickel a cup and the bill came to 15 cents.

Father gave the waitress a dollar bill and said "Keep the change." In unison we asked, "Daddy, isn't that an awfully big tip?"

"Not for a woman who's working hard to make an honest living," he replied.

Do you have questions about sex, love, drugs and the pain of growing up? Get Abby's new booklet: "What Every Teen-Ager Ought to Know." Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, 12060 Hawthorne Blvd., Suite 5000, Hawthorne, Calif. 90250.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

After years of scientific research, marketing and testing, it has finally been revealed that children can open child-proof caps on medicine bottles faster than adults.

In a significant number of cases, it was confirmed that the child-proof caps could not be opened at all by adults and caused headaches for which there is no known cure.

The message to me is quite clear. "Child-proof" is a fantasy word that was invented to give mothers hope... like "wrinkle-free" and "one-size-fits-all." They're catchy, but they don't mean anything.

The way I figured it out, it's God's way of propagating the species. We need kids. We cannot function in this world without them. As long as there are hermetically sealed combs in packages, children will always be with us.

To them, there is no place in this world that is "out of reach" and no package made that cannot be ripped open by them in 35 seconds.

They can take the bell out of a ball when they are three months, find the end of the toilet tissue roll at six months, and scale the top of the refrigerator by age one.

By age three they can operate a lipstick tube, by age four they can find the beginning of the thread that is pasted under the label, and by five can disconnect the TV and install video games.

The way the world is going, I don't think it's too unrealistic to consider rent-a-kids for people with arthritis who ever want to get sliced bacon out of a package in their lifetime. Or how about a woman with long fingernails who has never been able to use a shopping cart because they are all welded together and can only be separated by a pre-schooler? Women climbing the corporate ladder would do well to rent a kid to take along on business trips if only to open the bag of airline smoked almonds.

Sometimes I feel package manufacturers don't know children at all. If you want to keep children out of something, what do you do? You put a cute little duck on the side of the package and the words, "vitamin enriched." Then the mother puts the bottle or jar within reach of the child with the lid off and says, "There is not a day goes by that I don't want you to have one of these. Help yourself."

Trust me, the bottle will never be touched.

Twice As Many Breast-Fed Now As Were A Decade Ago

More than half (57 percent) of all U.S. babies are now breast-fed.

In 1972 only 25 percent were breast-fed, reflecting a doubling in the past decade. Mothers are also breast-feeding longer — an average of nearly six months now, compared to two to three months in 1972.

Significantly, the increases in breast-feeding are not limited to the higher-income, better-educated mothers who normally set trends. In a recently published position paper on infant feeding, the American Public Health Association (APHA) noted that, "Although the rate of increase in breast-feeding is seen in all socioeconomic classes, lower income groups have experienced the greatest proportional increase."

The overall percentage of mothers in lower-income groups who breast-feed is still lower than that for the general population, APHA and others have pointed out.

Nancy's Beauty Salon Renovated

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Nancy Reagan's White House beauty salon has a new look: more than $8,000 in renovations featuring a hideaway shampoo bowl, a Louis XV lounge chair and a handmade wool rug. All were donated by the beauty industry.

The first lady calls it her "cosmetology room" and says it has been a "big help" in meeting her hectic schedule.

The donations were accepted from beauty salon companies belonging to the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, according to NHCA correspondence and White House officials.

The salon, located in the White House living quarters and used only by the first family, is decorated to resemble a sitting room when not in use. It features a salmon-colored Louis XV lounge chair. Valued at $400 by donor Steven Mittman in New York, the chair sits in a corner.

Also included are a $720 white leather chair and a $230 manicurist stool.

"It's beautiful," said Julius Bengtsson, Mrs. Reagan's favorite hair dresser, whose business brings him from Los Angeles to Washington for one week each month. "It's very tastefully done. It doesn't resemble a beauty salon when you walk in."

Mrs. Reagan's press secretary, Sheila Tate, said the project was totally separate from last spring's campaign that raised more than $1 million for redecorating the White House and buying new state china.

Mrs. Tate said reporters could not view the salon, and the White House would not release pictures of it. But the Associated Press obtained correspondence between the White House and beauty company officials, as well as photos, and donors described the materials and provided retail values.

Features include:
—A white "ecology enameled shampoo bowl," valued at $346.65 by Barbara Boyd, office manager of Belvedere Co. in Belvidere, Ill.

—Two hair dryers, valued at a total of $1,200 by donor Damiano Petruccelli of Flushing, N.Y.

—Green and red draperies and wallcoverings, featuring a miniature Chinese medallion print, which retail at $36 a yard, according to Robin Roberts, owner of Clarence House in New York, which donated 50 yards.

—White-on-white sash curtains, made from dotted Swiss batiste material, valued at $48 a yard, according to Lila Assael of Vise Versa, a New York textile company which donated the material. She said she did not know how many yards were donated.

—A coral-colored, handmade wool rug, valued at about $3,000 by donor Clint V'Soske of New York.

—A white lucite "makeup center," which includes $300 worth of lipsticks, eyeshadows, blushers, eyeliners, creams and makeup bases, according to Rick Morton, a spokesman for Redken Laboratories Inc. in Canoga Park, Calif., which donated the set.

The equipment can be hidden from view by closing closet doors.

Hair dresser Robin Weir, who works closely with Bengtsson and does Mrs. Reagan's hair when he is not in Washington, said that because of frequent public appearances, the first lady sometimes has to have her hair done almost every day. Last week, for instance, "she had a comb-out Monday morning before the arrival ceremony for King Hussein (of Jordan), a wash, set and coloring Monday afternoon before the state dinner, a comb-out Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and streaking, shampoo and set beauty trade association to ask if its members would solicit donations for the White House salon.

Mrs. Reagan wrote to Alexander Nweeia, the association president, last month, thanking him for his "involvement and renovation of the cosmetology room," according to a letter made available to the AP.

"It certainly has proven a big help to me in keeping up with a busy life and meeting schedule deadlines," she wrote.

The White House beauty salon was first designed by Patricia Nixon and has been used by her successors. Rosalynn Carter made extensive plans to renovate it but decided to leave the work for Mrs. Reagan after Carter was defeated in 1980, Mrs. Tate said.

DIET CENTER
"The Natural Way to Lose Weight!"
When you decide to lose weight, COMPARE!

There are hundreds of ways to lose weight. Diet Center suggests that before you start any reducing program, you compare. Consult your doctor. Talk to people who have been on the programs you are considering. Ask yourself if this is a plan you can live with, one that will enable you to keep weight off once you have lost it. If you will do this, we are confident that you will select Diet Center. The following is a basic introduction to the Diet Center Program.

we don't:	we do:
Use shots or drugs to stimulate weight loss. This would not conform to our totally natural approach.	Employ a 100% natural food supplement that stabilizes the blood sugar level and eliminates hunger.
Use prepackaged foods. We know that in order to maintain your weight loss, you must learn to plan your own meals.	Provide a comprehensive education in food selection and preparation techniques from natural sources.
Rely upon ketosis or any other unhealthy, physical state to promote weight loss.	Provide 100% of the daily nutrient requirements as outlined by the U.S. RDA and the 7 U.S. Dietary goals.
Make unrealistic claims as to the speed or effectiveness of our weight-loss program.	Achieve an average weight loss of 17 to 25 pounds in 6 weeks, a rate that can be sustained as needed.
Use computers or group therapy to overcome the uniquely personal problem of excess weight.	Meet daily, in private, with each dieter to determine and solve individual problems and chart progress.
Employ celebrities to present Diet Center in our advertising messages.	Publish unsolicited testimonials from real people who have overcome real weight problems at Diet Center
Charge for any additional services beyond our basic reducing phase of the program.	Provide weekly classes in nutrition and behavior modification and a lifetime maintenance program, free of charge
Require contracts or charge more than a fair price for the honest service that is rendered.	Encourage dieters to remain on the program only as long as they feel they are receiving their money's worth.
Employ high-pressure sales tactics to "sign you up" on our program. When you are ready, we are ready.	Offer a free, introductory consultation to supply you with the information needed to make your own decision.

United Way Over Top

The Pitt United Way has won its spurs. The drive to raise $431,000 was completed last week. It was accomplished in a reasonable time and with little of the agonizing pleas for final donations that have characterized prior years. The UW not only made its goal, it exceeded it with the figure standing at $471,424.96 when the over-the-top luncheon was held last Wednesday. There were still other contributions to be heard from. It is an outstanding effort on the part of our community and the many volunteer workers and contributors who made the success possible. Under the leadership of Jerry Fulford, president; Reid Hooper, campaign chairman and Lou Folger, executive director this year's operation went quite smoothly.

We think it shows that the citizens of the community are now convinced that United Way is the most advantageous way to support the work of multiple agencies which provide valuable service to our community.

QUITE A HELP TO HIM!

BY JAMES J. KILPATRICK

It Wasn't A Mountain

WASHINGTON — Now that the dust has settled over the Great AWACS Debate, let me return to the theme. The story got badly overblown. It may have been stark drama in Washington, but I can tell you this: It didn't play in Youngstown. I know, because I happened to fly to Youngstown on the afternoon of the 5 o'clock vote. I arrived, burning with Potomac fever, and inquired at once of my host: How did it go? He inquired patiently, how did what go? The vote, I cried, the vote! Did Zorinsky and Cohen switch? His eyes glazed over. In a lather of curiosity, I telephoned the city desk of the Vindicator. The gentleman who answered was not in a lather at all. Finally, "52-48," he said. It might have been the score of a high school basketball game. "The sale is approved." Yes, the story was important. It didn't rank with the Panama Canal treaty or the arms limitation treaty, but it was Mr. Reagan's first major test in the field of foreign we silently exhort the gladiators down below: Let's you and him fight. Sic 'em, we cry, and off we go, hounds after fox, baying for blood — anybody's blood. The AWACS issue was surely more than a molehill, but it never was the mountain we made of it. Yet day after day, here in Washington, the story dominated the TV networks and banished news of other events.

JAMES J. KILPATRICK

policy. The White House had gone into battle ill-prepared, and it took some herculean labors for the president to get out of the mess. But the final vote wasn't a be-all and end-all. If Mr. Reagan had lost in a Senate controlled by his own party, he surely would have been embarrassed; a defeat would have made his next negotiations more difficult, but he would not have been "humiliated" or "crippled" or "fatally weakened." Alas, we of the media do tend to hype things up. We are forever hearing a two-minute warning. Sitting in the congressional press galleries,

We are now about to experience an instant replay, on the matter of Saudi Arabia's "eight points" for a Middle East agreement and the president's offhand comment that for the first time the Saudis "had recognized Israel as a nation." One of the eight points appears implicitly to acknowledge that all states in the Middle East have a right to exist, but the language is murky. Ring the bell for round one! The nuance chasers will harry this matter half to death. To be based in Washington is to risk the loss of perspective. The capital tends to get obsessed with personalities and details. Minor disagreements turn into feuds. Skirmishes are seen as battles. Small clouds become harbingers of disaster. "This is a nervous time for the president's Republican supporters," proclaims one of the resident thumb-suckers of the Washington Post. To be sure, "the new nervousness about the Reagan administration is still vague," but this busy analyst nevertheless perceives some kind

Examine Cuts Carefully

There is not much evidence that a Republican administration in Washington is going to listen to a Democratic governor in North Carolina. Nevertheless the Reagan administration should at least consider that Jim Hunt is speaking as a governor first and a politician second when he says further cuts in education and health programs will be harmful. "I think the schools have been cut enough," the governor said in a speech to the National School Volunteer Program.

Hunt said many governors supported the first round of cuts but "many of these cuts have gone as far as they ought to go."

It's sound advice. Most of us were ready for a halt to federal government growth. However, before federal budget cuts are made which may affect education, the elderly and the disabled they should be examined carefully.

THIS AFTERNOON

Waste Reduction

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — Waste reduction is the first, most logical step which North Carolina can take in its struggle to get disposal of solid waste under control.

In the long run, reducing the volume may be the most important priority available. There are other, exotic methods using sophisticated, high technology approaches. But those are far in the future, expensive, and slow to implement even after proved by research.

Meanwhile, industrial expansion and population growth — that combined with our throw-away mentality which produces about the same volume of litter from a grocery bag as edibles — cause waste to expand by leaps and bounds.

Buck O'Shields, picked by Gov. Jim Hunt to head the state's Waste Management Board, sees great potential in the simple expedient of reducing the volume of waste to be disposed of ... through whatever means available whether burning it, drying it out, reprocessing it so that ingredients can be used over.

Too Much
As former chairman of New Hanover County board of commissioners, O'Shields has seen waste problems from the inside for many years, and as past president of the statewide Association of County Commissioners, he has gained a statewide perspective. That knowledge, and the relationships forged with county officials across the state, were instrumental in O'Shields' appointment by Gov. Hunt.

The foundation of the Waste Management Board is to come to grips with disposal of hazardous wastes. But that is not limited just to chemicals or low-level radiation residues. As O'Shields puts it: in coastal areas where the water level is just below the soil, even household garbage is hazardous. The same can be said elsewhere in the state where underground water contamination, or even the shrinking acreages available for the traditional landfill, make a better way to get rid of trash critical.

Reduction, then, will get top billing. As Gov. Hunt puts it simply: we should try to put it in a cigar box instead of a 50-gallon drum.

This doesn't mean that North Carolina must try to put the brakes on growth. Reduction doesn't mean limiting the growth of industry, commerce, or population. Rather, reducing the volume of waste to be finally disposed of.

Perhaps all North Carolinians — corporate and individual — of the future will be following the lead pioneered by Burke County Commissioner Carrol W. Austin who says, "If everyone treated his own garbage like I do, we wouldn't have a solid waste disposal problem."

Reduction
"We sort the newspapers to give to the Boy Scouts ... take the aluminum cans to be recycled ... have a compost hole in our garden for egg shells and coffee grounds and such ... put tin cans in our own private landfill, and paper napkins and such we burn in a closed barrel."

The big battle of disposal is expected to come when efforts are made to locate disposal sites in various parts of the state. Glimmers of the strong resistance has already been seen in the several cases already on record.

But that, says Gov. Hunt, precludes that numerous disposal sites will be needed. Waste reduction procedures can change that. Of course there must be some disposal sites, but not nearly the

Other Editors Say Who Benefits?

(Goldsboro News-Argus)

Back in April, Macon Edwards of the National Cotton Council, recalled in a speech a story by an unknown author. Since then the story has been widely reprinted. W.D. Stedman, chairman of the Stedman Corp. with headquarters in Asheville, recently used it in a piece promoting the free enterprise system.

Here is the story:
A young man attended public school, rode the free bus and participated in the subsidized lunch program. He entered the Army, and then upon discharge retained his national service insurance. He then attended the State University on the GI Bill.

Upon graduation he married a Public Health Nurse and bought a farm with an FHA loan, and then obtained an RFC loan to go into business. A baby was born in the County Hospital.

Later he put part of his land in the soil bank and the payments helped pay for his farm and ranch. His father and mother lived on his ranch on their Social Security. REA lines supplied him with electricity. The government helped clear his land. The County Agent showed him how to terrace it. Then the government built him a fishpond and stocked it with fish.

Books from the Public Library were delivered to his door. He banked his money and a government agency insured it. His children attended Public Schools, rode free school buses, played in the public parks and swam in the public pools.

He was a leader in obtaining the new Federal Building and went to Washington with a group to ask the government to build a great dam. He petitioned the government to give the local air base to the county.

Then one day after hearing that the $500 billion budget for 1980 added up to $2,000 for every man, woman, and child, he wrote his Congressman:

"I wish to protest these excessive governmental expenditures and attendant high taxes. I believe in rugged individualism. I think people should stand on their own two feet without expecting handouts. I am opposed to all socialistic trends and I demand a return to the principles of our Constitution and of State Rights."

Strength For Today

THE DELIVERER
A baby was born two thousand years ago. Not many people realized his significance, but to the few who did, the coming of this baby constituted a great message — God had not forgotten his people. For centuries He had been promising that he would send a Deliverer. To be sure, most people believed that this Deliverer would be — and should be — a great soldier who would release them from their Roman conquerors.

And all they got was a helpless baby, born not in pomp and circumstance but in a stable. Yet two thousand years have passed and now much of the world acknowledges that this baby is the King of Kings. This conqueror's sword is the Spirit. His shield is faith. His battlefield is the heart of man.

To living beings, he came to give more life. "I am come," he told his disciples, "that ye might have life, and might have it more abundantly." — Elisha Douglass

Extremists Out Of Hand

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
BONN, West Germany — The Peace Movement now permeating America's most important ally will shift gears from the massive demonstrations of 1981 to passive resistance in 1982 to forcible occupation of NATO's military installations in 1983.

That is the unsettling agenda that threatens to convulse West German politics and change the course of history. The Peace Movement is a phenomenon bordering on outright pacifism mixed with unease over the Reagan administration. It is not armed neutralism. It was originally stimulated through Moscow's awesome propaganda network across Europe but it has taken on a life of its own, turning out 250,000 demonstrators here last month.

Passive resistance would introduce a new tactic not seen in West Germany since World War II until environmental extremists, known as the Greens, stopped traffic at the Frankfurt railway station Monday night (Nov. 2) to protest a new runway at Frankfurt's airport. The Greens are a major force in the Peace Movement.

The third stage of the Movement's program, officials say privately, will be more dramatic and more dangerous: attempts at forcible occupation of NATO military installations, probably focused on U.S. bases.

From Social Democratic chancellor Helmut Schmidt down through the ranks of the political elite, no sure strategy to deal with the movement has been devised. But our talks with leaders of all three parties — the Social Democrats (SPD), their small liberal coalition partner, the Free Democrats (FPD), and the conservative Christian Democrats (CDU) — uncovered this chilling consensus: The Movement that Schmidt once said would peak by September 1980 is gathering enough force to delay and possibly to cancel outright NATO's nuclear modernization program set for 1983.

"The nuclear program will not come in as scheduled," a top authority predicted. That is the Peace Movement's initial goal — block deployment of 572 new missiles on European soil. That also is the grand design of Soviet president Leonid Brezhnev. Brezhnev arrives on a four-day visit later this month to trumpet first-hand his warning against NATO's new nuclear weapons. He will make a meaningless offer to stop deploying his own SS-20 missiles, which already threaten to make Europe a nuclear hostage.

The political force of the Peace Movement has stunned West German politicians of all three parties. It is now backed more or less by roughly 25 percent of Schmidt's SPD deputies in the Parliament. It has forced the CDU into unfamiliar paths. The hard-line party of Konrad Adenauer, though committed to the nuclear program, is talking soothingly about "a new opening" to the Soviet bloc. At its Hamburg party conference this week it went out of its way to invite 500 youths to take part in the debate, only half of them connected to the CDU.

The Free Democrats backed the NATO plan 100 percent in their own 1980 party conference. By this year they had lost 20 percent of the anti-nuclear movement. "We cannot deal with the Peace Movement," the party's secretary general told us. "It is not finite. It is a phenomenon."

The base of the Movement is German youth. To them, the post-war formation of NATO as a bulwark against Soviet expansion is ancient history. They discuss Soviet interventions in Hungary and Czechoslovakia as the pallid equivalent of American intervention in Vietnam. Afghanistan is an unnoticed irrelevance.

Heinz Thusing, a left-wing SPD deputy and one of the party's leading theoreticians in the Movement, told us that its core is 80 to 90 percent of the "politically active" German youth. According to his estimates, that comprises about 40 percent of all the nation's young people.

Its propaganda agents, few of them knowingly tied into the Soviet propaganda campaign, are pacifist teachers and professors, union operatives and media intelligentsia. The mix is reminiscent of the anti-Vietnam movement in the U.S.

If growth estimates prove accurate, the Peace Movement poses the gravest threat to the political establishment here and its uneasy relationship with the Reagan administration. "I sense a revival of something like the old Popular Front that

If You Listen To E.F. Hutton

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — According to the advertisement, when E.F. Hutton talks, people listen. Then the ad goes silent. You listen, and hear not a hint of what's on the mind of E.F. Hutton, the securities firm.

But other sources show E.F. Hutton is worrying, especially about the grim condition of the economy. Of a bad recession, for example. "Yes, even a depression is possible in the current environment," says Edward Yardeni, Hutton's chief economist. That is not his forecast — merely a statement of possibility. But he is worrying. Though falling short of depression, his forecast would make a bear hibernate.

For the current quarter, he foresees a sharp 5.5 percent drop in real final sales. "Automobile sales should barely reach 7.5 million units and housing starts should equal a dismal 800,000." Contrast that with earlier hopes in the industry that sales might exceed 10 million, and with the claim that the nation needs 2 million housing starts a year.

Capital spending — that is, for plants, equipment and technology needed to reindustrialize America —

"should decrease almost 10 percent at an annual rate," in the current quarter of the year, says Yardeni. Yes, despite the new tax incentives designed to spur capital spending.

While his outlook "does not include a depression," Yardeni says his scenario "is perhaps the most optimistic of all the possible ways the economy could go." He concedes that investors might not agree with his optimism. "We sense that many investors are starting to worry about ... depression," he writes in Hutton's Economics Alert letter.

Yardeni foresees the worst of the recession occurring in the current quarter. "We expect a sluggish recovery during the first half of next year," he writes. And "vigorous growth in the second half."

Sluggish growth, as in the first half of the year, would be between 1 percent and 2 percent, he says. And the vigorous growth to follow would send gross national product roaring ahead by 7 percent a year from now.

Three factors, he says, are likely to stimulate the recovery:

1. A sharp decline in interest rates. Yardeni says he expects the prime interest rate, now 17 percent, to fall to 10 percent by February or March.

2. A continued moderation of inflation. "We are forecasting an increase of only 6.5 percent in the gross national product implicit price deflator in 1982 versus about 8.5 percent this year." In the first quarter of 1981 the deflator was as high as 9.8 percent.

3. A boost from Reaganomics. The effect should be felt by mid-1982, and a second round of tax cuts will be initiated at that time, says the E.F. Hutton economist and vice president. "The various savings and investment incentives that are part of the president's economic program should boost business activity once the recovery is fully under way."

Some other specifics of the forecast, which carries a date of October 28:

—Unemployment should peak at 8.1 percent in the first quarter of 1982, falling steadily to 7 percent by the final quarter.

—Housing starts should recover slowly during 1982. After reaching a low of just 800,000 starts in the fourth quarter of this year, the rate should reach 1.5 million units by the fourth quarter of 1982.

—After-tax profits, which have been falling sharply, may begin to show gains by the third quarter of next year, and should surge in the fourth quarter.

—Hourly compensation in non-farm businesses, which gained 11.4 percent in the first quarter of the year (over the previous three months), appears likely to recede to quarterly gains of 8 percent in the first quarter of 1982 and 7 percent by the final quarter of the year.

—However, real disposable personal income — that is, with inflation wrung out of the figures — should gain steadily, from minus 1.2 percent in the current quarter to 5.2 percent in the third quarter of 1982.

—Productivity in non-farm businesses, which had been falling in the second half of 1981, should grow at an annual rate of 3.5 percent in the third quarter of 1982.

There it is, E.F. Hutton's forecast of a brief but bad recession, its worries that things could get worse than forecast, and its expectations of a recovery next year.

Now you know. No longer need you stop eating or talking or doing whatever you are doing in an attempt to overhear what E.F. Hutton is saying. This is it. Are you glad you listened?

"These visitations are a great chance for parents as well as teachers to meet and plan directions to better benefit the student," said Ott Alford, superintendent of Pitt County schools. "We need your input to effectively serve the children of Pitt County.

How's The Weather?

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast for Tuesday along the East Coast from Vermont south to Virginia and in the West for northern Idaho, according to the National Weather Service. Cool air is expected over the Great Lakes region. (AP Laserphoto)

By The Associated Press

A blanket of clouds covered much of the state early today and isolated showers dampened portions of the sandhills and Outer Banks, but skies cleared over the mountains of western North Carolina.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from the mid-30s in the Asheville area to the mid-50s in the southeast.

I'm not suggesting that the view from Youngstown is necessarily better. On many complex issues, the view from Youngstown certainly will be less informed than a view from Washington. But I have a notion that the news judgment of the Youngstown Vindicator, day in and day out, probably is more level-headed than the news judgment of the evening TV news.

I doubt that the situation will ever change. Potomac fever is a highly contagious ailment, and when a communicable disease infects professional communicators, soon you have an epidemic. Take it from a recent traveler to Youngstown, the nation is healthier than its hypertensive capital often seems to be.

O'Shields feels that the first priority of the board which he heads is to educate Tar Heels to the fact that getting rid of waste is essential to continued economic health and growth; that there are logical and sane ways to do this; and that decisions have to be based on reason and fact ... not emotion.

Readings in the 40s were common across the Piedmont.

During the night a weak cold front advanced slowly through the state. Over northern and western counties, winds had become more northerly allowing cooler air to filter into the region. Just before sunrise, the front had yet to reach the southeastern portion of the state. Winds were more westerly and temperatures remained on the warm side in those areas.

The low has been slow to develop and appears to be on a path that will take it further offshore than was indicated yesterday. This movement will lessen the chance of rain over western North Carolina and allow some sunshine there. The best chance of rain is going to be in the extreme eastern part of the state later today and tonight.

On Wednesday, the low will be moving out to sea, allowing high pressure to build over the state. Fair weather will prevail during the latter portion of the week.

Recreational weather outlook: Skies are going to be partly cloudy over western North Carolina today and tonight. The outlook is not quite so good in the east where clouds will persist along with scattered rain. Highs today will be in the 50s and 60s. Lows tonight will dip into the 30s and 40s. Fair weather will be the rule over western sections Wednesday with partly cloudy conditions in the east as the rain diminishes along the coast. Highs Wednesday will be mostly in the 60s.

Epilepsy Month

Mayor Don McGlohn has proclaimed November as "Epilepsy Month" here.

In his proclamation, McGlohn said the Epilepsy Association of North Carolina, an affiliate of the Epilepsy Foundation of America, is conducting a public education campaign to bring the facts about epilepsy to the attention of the community throughout the year and especially during November.

He said some 400 Greenville citizens suffer epilepsy. About 100,000 new cases of epilepsy develop each year in this country, primarily among young people, the mayor said.

Airline Plans Added Flight

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Piedmont Airlines and Eastern Airlines have announced an increase in departures from Charlotte's Douglas Municipal Airport, although the facility's new terminal will not open until May.

Piedmont announced it will boost daily departures from 65 to 70 next month, adding nonstop flights to Orlando, Miami, Pittsburgh, Greensboro, High Point and Winston-Salem.

Eastern officials said the airline's Charlotte flights will increase from 49 to 55. They said service to Detroit would be added, as well as the first nonstop to Boston and an increase in nonstop flights to Pittsburgh and Greensboro.

Also, Eastern will begin using Charlotte as a connecting point for Savannah, Ga., said George Robinette, Charlotte sales and service manager for the airlines. Eastern currently has one daily Charlotte-Savannah flight and will add two on Dec. 1.

Piedmont officials said their increase in departures is just one stage in a continued rise that could push the number of flights from the airport to 100 daily in the spring.

Piedmont overtook Eastern in July as the airline with the most Charlotte departures. For four consecutive months, Piedmont also has led Eastern in passenger boardings. In October, Piedmont boarded 94,552 passengers compared to Eastern's 73,949.

Meanwhile, Eastern Airlines suffered a third-quarter loss, almost double last year's loss, and Chairman Frank Borman blamed the deficit on the air traffic controllers' strike and competitive cut-rate fares.

Eastern's loss was $38.7 million on revenues of $92.1 million.

Funds Available For Lighting A.G. Cox Field

By TOMMY FORREST
 Reflector Staff Writer

Barry Gaskins of the Pitt County Community Schools advised Winterville's Town Board Monday night that funds will be available for lighting the athletic field at A.G. Cox. Gaskins said "red tape" has made federal aid unavailable but that the county would provide the money, which had been promised, on a 50-50 matching basis.

The lighting project would cost about $16,000, including the lights and the poles, with the town providing the labor. Gaskins said the labor and use of machinery would county as part of the town's share of the cost.

Gaskins had been requested to explain the procedures in which the town could obtain a grant for lights at the athletic field.

No action was taken on the matter by the board at this time.

In additional business heard by the board, a public hearing was held for the installation of stop signs at Jennette Street and Brock Avenue; Ethel Street at Milton Street and Jennette Street; Baines Street at Jennette and Evergreen Drive, and Walter Circle at Jones and Ola Circle at Jones.

There were no public opinions heard during hearing and the board approved the placement of the signs.

A report was read by Mayor Walter Dail saying the total revenue from Greenville Cable TV Inc. for the Winterville area in a six month-period was $20,660, and a check had been received for the town's 3 percent share in the amount of $619.81.

Dail also reported that Barrus Construction said paving on sections of new streets should be completed before Thanksgiving.

Norman Worthington, a local developer, asked the board for permission to get the town to patch potholes on Ragland Road in the Ragland Acres subdivision. Worthington said he would reimburse the town for labor and materials.

The board approved the request.

The board was asked its opinion on a request by Jerry M. Hines for a conditional use permit to place a mobile home on a lot of which part is inside the town and part outside the town. The lot is located next to his mother's home on Sylvania Street. The board took no action pending the outcome of the planning board and board of adjustments meetings.

Carl Dean, town adviser, reported condemnation of the John Henry Murphy heirs property at 305 Blount St. was completed and the Fire Department was given permission to burn the house for a training exercise.

Town Clerk Elwood Nobles reported an organizational meeting of the Town Board and swearing in of new members would be held Nov. 30, at 7 p.m., with the public invited to attend.

Nobles also said town offices will be closed Wednesday in observance of Veteran's Day. Garbage pick-up will be as usual.

Report Gilmore Planning Resign

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)
 — Tom Gilmore will announce today that he plans to resign as deputy secretary of the Department of Human Resources to run for political office, according to a Greensboro newspaper.

The Greensboro Record quoted a Democratic Party spokesman as saying Gilmore planned to announce later that he will run either for a congressional seat or for governor.

The newspaper said Gilmore would reveal his plans at a news conference this morning in Raleigh. The report said Gilmore was expected to step down around the end of the year.

Gilmore declined to comment.

"I think it will be Congress, although Tom doesn't know it yet," the newspaper quoted the source as saying.

During the past year, Gilmore, 44, has been telling friends he wants to run for governor in 1984. But party officials have been trying to persuade the former Guilford representative to challenge Republican incumbent Gene Johnston for the 6th district congressional seat in 1982.

The gubernatorial race is expected to attract a large field in 1984, including Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green, Attorney

The Democratic congressional nomination will likely be Gilmore's for the asking. The only other candidate to express a serious interest is state Sen. Rachel Gray of High Point.

Ms. Gray said Monday she would "definitely step aside" if Gilmore chooses to run. She added that she talked with Gilmore last week but he still had not made up his mind about what office to seek.

"The pressure is on him to run for Congress," Gray said. She believes some of the heat is coming from Hunt and from Secretary of Administration Jane Patterson, who was Guilford Democratic Party chairman much of the time Gilmore was in the legislature.

Cowboys Defeat Buffalo, 27-14 As Another Bites Dust In Dallas

IRVING, Texas (AP) — The Buffalo Bills were sailing along toward a National Football League victory then disappeared in three minutes in a stadium fast becoming the "Bermuda Triangle" of the National Football League.

The Dallas Cowboys, who have won 15 consecutive regular-season games in Texas Stadium, beat the Bills 27-14 Monday night in a game vital to the Eastern divisions of the American and National conferences.

Dallas is 8-2, tied with Philadelphia in the NFC East and Buffalo is 6-4, a game and a half behind Miami in the AFC East.

Buffalo was ahead 14-7 with fewer than 30 seconds left on the clock in the first half when rookie Mike Downs intercepted quarterback Joe Ferguson at the Dallas 12.

On the first play of the second half, quarterback Danny White flipped a short pass to tailback Tony Dorsett, who turned it into a 73-yard pass-and-run touchdown.

With the game tied, rookie cornerback Everson Walls intercepted Ferguson at the Buffalo 44. Two plays later, the Cowboys hoodwinked the Bills on a 37-yard White-to-Tony Hill flea flicker.

Turn out the lights. In less than three minutes the party was over.

"Dorsett's play got us back in the game," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "If I'd been Buffalo I would have come out in the second half pretty confident."

"Dorsett's touchdown shook them up. When things started going our way, their confidence broke down."

"The pass to Tony really got us fired up and back into the game," said White. "He made a great run on a routine play and it gave us a great lift."

"Then when we came back and took the lead it really put us on the road."

"It's one of our standard plays," Dorsett said. "We ran it earlier and the linebacker came over and knocked the heck out of me. So the next time we ran it I saw him coming and hooked inside of him. ... Danny dumped it off and I just started running."

Dorsett, who rushed for 117 yards on 28 carries and joined the 1,000-yard rushing club for the fifth consecutive year, had a big hand in the flea-flicker to Hill.

Dorsett took a handoff from White then turned around and flipped the ball back to him. Hill was wide open for the touchdown pass to give Dallas a 21-14 lead.

Rafael Septien field goals of 47 and 31 yards completed a 20-point outburst in the third quarter.

Ferguson, who threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Butler in the first quarter, was intercepted four times by the young Dallas secondary, twice by Everson Walls, who leads the NFL with 10.

"I've been listening to that...all week about their weak secondary," Ferguson said. "I don't think their secondary is a problem."

"The last thing we need is a game like this. ... They outplayed us and deserved to win."

Buffalo also got a first-half touchdown from halfback Joe Cribbs, who threw nine yards to Curtis Brown.

White hit tight end Doug Cosbie with a 12-yard scoring pass in the first period.

The victory gave the Cowboys a 28-9 edge over AFC teams and dropped Buffalo's record to 14-19-1 against the NFC. Buffalo has failed to defeat the Cowboys in the three games of their brief series.

"I'd say we were hurt by the interception at the end of the first half," said Buffalo Coach Chuck Knox. "We were down there close looking at seven or at least three and they come up with an interception...then follow that with a long pass at the start of the second half."

"Dallas has a helluva football team and played well." Linebacker Phil Villapiano said the 73-yard Dorsett play killed the Bills.

"We had the right coverage and a lock on Dorsett," said Villapiano. "Then he escapes. A play like that can deflate you. It should not have caused any major alarm but it ended up being the biggest play of the game."

"You've got to give the Cowboys credit ... they stuck to their game plan and ended up beating us pretty good."

Dallas is 10-9 on Monday nights now while Buffalo is 3-6.

Top Four Teams Hold Spots As Hawaii Makes Its First Showing

By The Associated Press A measure of stability has settled at the top of the college football rankings, at least for now, but something new took place down near the tail end of the poll.

Pitt, Clemson, Southern California and Georgia held onto the top four spots in the Associated Press college football poll Monday and the University of Hawaii, in its sixth year in Division I, made the major college rankings for the first time.

"We're very pleased about it," said Dick Toney, coach of the 7-0 Rainbows. "It's real recognition for a lot of people who have worked very hard, the coaches, the players, members of their families. We're real grateful."

Pitt, one of four unbeaten-untied teams among the 137 in Division I, received 53 of 68 first-place votes and 1,343 of a possible 1,360 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. The Panthers, the latest of six teams to occupy the No.1 position this season, boosted their record to 8-0 by trouncing Rutgers 47-3.

Clemson also remained unbeaten — the Tigers are 9-0 for the first time in 33 years — by edging North Carolina 10-8, a setback that dropped the Tar Heels from eighth place to 13th. Clemson received seven first-place votes and 1,272 points.

Southern Cal, which defeated California 21-3, received the other eight first-place ballots and 1,232 points. Last week, Pitt led Clemson and USC in first-place votes 49-9-7 and 1,283-1,201-1,178 in points with 65 of the 68 voters participating.

Georgia's defending national champions defeated Florida 26-21 and received 1,129 points to remain in fourth place. However, Texas was held to a 14-14 tie by Houston and slipped from fifth to 10th.

That cleared the way for Penn State and Alabama, which meet this Saturday in State College, Pa., to move up one position each to fifth and sixth place, respectively. Penn State defeated North Carolina State 22-15 and received 1,043 points, while Alabama had a week off. The Crimson Tide totaled 935 points.

Nebraska jumped from 11th to seventh with 793 points following a 54-7 rout of Oklahoma State and Southern Methodist, a 33-12 winner over Rice, climbed from 10th to eighth with 791 points.

Arizona State defeated San Jose State 31-24 and remained in ninth place with 783 points, followed by Texas with 754.

The Second Ten consists of Michigan, Miami of Florida, North Carolina, Southern Mississippi, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Washington State, UCLA, Hawaii and Florida State.

Toney, obviously, was pleased with the recognition but admitted it won't do his team much good next week when Hawaii hosts Brigham Young.

"We'll just have to play hard," he said. "This weekend's game is very important to us, whether we were ranked or not. I don't think being ranked will add to the pressure that was already there."

ECU Sets Two Dates

East Carolina University's men's basketball team will go on display twice prior to the official start of the 1981-82 season on November 28 against Ohio University.

East Carolina has announced that the annual Purple and Gold game will be held on Wednesday, November 18 at 7:30 p.m. at Minges Coliseum. An admission charge of $2 for adults and $1 for children will be made. ECU students will be admitted on their ID cards.

Then, on Monday, Nov. 23, the Pirates will host the Australian National Team at 7:30 p.m. in Minges Coliseum. Admission for this game will be $4 for adults and $2 for children. ECU students again will be admitted on their ID's.

Coach Dave Odum will also hold a public scrimmage session at 12 noon on Saturday, November 14, with no admission charge. This will not be a game-type workout, however.

Indians Improving Over Shaky Start To 1981

The 1981 football season hasn't been an easy one for the Indians of William & Mary, who are assured of another losing season after being downed by Harvard, 23-14, last Saturday.

It marks the third straight losing season for the Indians, and the second in a row under coach Jimmie Laycock.

William & Mary's last winning season was in 1977 when the Williamsburg, Va., school posted a 6-5 record. The following year, the Indians were 5-5-1 — a break-even season.

Following the contest with Harvard at Williamsburg Saturday, the Indians fell to 3-6.

That doesn't mean that William & Mary will roll over and play dead Saturday when the Indians visit Ficklen Stadium on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the final game of the year for East Carolina University's Pirates.

East Carolina will be trying to insure itself of a winning year in the game, coming in with a 5-3 record.

William & Mary has one game remaining after facing ECU, against Richmond on November 21 in Williamsburg.

The Indians got off to a shaky start, bowing in its first four games. Temple rolled to a 42-0 victory over the Pirates, followed by Miami of Ohio, 33-14, Virginia Tech, 47-3, and VMI, 31-14.

But the Indians got things turned around after that, and have won three of their last five. First Dartmouth fell, 12-7, followed by Marshall, 38-7. A defeat to Navy, 27-0, followed that, but the Indians bounced back to roll over James Madison, 31-19 the next weekend. Then followed the loss to Harvard.

Prime weapon in the Indian arsenal is quarterback Chris Garrity. Running from the I-formation, Garrity is one of the better passers the Pirates have seen this year.

After Saturday's Harvard game, Garrity has put the ball up 238 times, completing 127 of those for 1,239 yards and six touchdowns. He's been intercepted 17 times. And while his rushing stats show negative yardage, he isn't opposed to scrambling out of the pocket for big gains.

Garrity's chief targets have been wide receiver Kurt Wrigley (34 for 397, three touchdowns), back-up wide receiver Mike Sutton (22-231-0), split end Jeff Sanders (9-186-2), tailback Bernie Marrazzo (19-133-1) and tight end John Lisella (10-148-0).

Marrazzo leads the Indians in rushing, carrying 112 times for 517 yards and four touchdowns. Back-up tailback Jeff Powell is next with 89 carries for 337 yards and two score.

Overall, the Indians have rushed for 1,122 yards, while allowing 1,815. They have passed for 1,383 yards while giving up 1,766. They've intercepted their opponents 17 times, led by Mark Kelso with five and Guy Crittenden with four, while their foes have picked off 22 W&M passes.

Prior to the Harvard game, Marrazzo was the leading scorer with 30 points, while kicker Laszlo Mike-Mayer, another of the famous kicking brothers, has scored 27, hitting all 12 of his PAT tries and five of nine field goals.

The Indians, despite all, have a tradition of giving the Pirates all they can handle. The Pirates lead the series, however, 9-3-1. The Bucs and Indians tied the first time out 7-7, back in 1966, with ECU winning the next game, 27-7. William & Mary took the next two, 14-0 and 29-10, before East Carolina came back to reel off five straight wins, 21-15, 34-3, 31-10, 20-0, and 30-19.

William & Mary's last win over the Pirates came in 1977, a 21-17 victory in the Oyster Bowl in Norfolk — a win that knocked the Pirates out of the running for a bowl bid that year.

East Carolina has won the last three, 20-3, 38-14, and 31-23.

Berbick In Weird Situation: Beat Ali, So What? Lose, That's It

By EDSCHUYLER JR. AP Sports Writer "I'm giving the man a chance to prove himself."

The statement sounds like an echo from a lot of past Muhammad Ali fights. "The Greatest" used to say things like that about such stalwarts as Jean-Pierre Coopman and Alfredo Evangelista and Chuck Wepper.

But now it was being said about Ali by Trevor Berbick. It's not clear here just what Ali, the former three-time heavyweight champion, has to prove when he fights Berbick Dec. 11 at Nassau, Bahamas. It is hoped that Ali, who will be 40, won't embarrass himself.

The fight will be promoted by Sports International, Ltd., of the Bahamas. It was hoped by some that it wouldn't come off... that Ali would get some up-front money and the Bahamas some publicity, and that would be it. But looks to be for real.

But recently in Los Angeles, it was announced that the bout would be televised by Medallion TV-Select TV and that Thomas Hearns would be on the card, returning to action after his loss to Sugar Ray Leonard, in a middleweight bout against Marcos Geraldo.

Berbick is in the same situation that Larry Holmes was in when he fought Ali, except Holmes' World Boxing Council title was at stake. Beat Ali, and you've beaten an old man, so what? Lose to him, and you're not much because you couldn't beat an old man.

The 28-year-old native of Jamaica, who resides at Halifax, Nova Scotia, is aware of how it may look for him to be fighting Ali. A cynic could say someone who Ali could beat was needed, even though Berbick went 15 rounds against Holmes in a losing title bid last April 11 at Las Vegas. Holmes was an easy winner, getting every round on one card, and most boxing people considered the fight just a prep for Holmes' defense against Leon Spinks.

"As a businessman and prize fighter, I don't let it bother me," says Berbick, who considers a fight with Ali both an investment and an opportunity for career advancement.

"I'm getting good money," he says, adding that it's more than what he got when he fought Holmes. His purse then was reported to be between $100,000 and $200,000.

DUNKEL INDEX COLLEGE FOOTBALL

EXPLANATION - The Dunkel system provides a continuous index to the relative strength of all teams. It reflects average scoring margin combined with average opposition rating, weighted in favor of recent performance. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team against opposition of identical strength. Originated in 1929 by Dick Dunkel.

HUNTER ORIGINAL OLDE TYME CEILING FANS

This was the fan that went 'round the world. These Hunter ceiling fans, the 1903 originals, swirled away heat in the steamy jungles of Africa, in the deserts of Morocco, on the shores of India and in the plantation homes of the South. A lot of people who remember those days still refer to all ceiling fans as "Hunter Fans". Johnny-come-lately's can't fool them—they know Hunter is the original.

Mean Joe And The Kid Now In Movie

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

He was never all that mean to begin with. Joe Greene was nothing more than a victim of his own talent and other people's propensity toward poetry.

His ferocity is reserved for Sundays, when he and the rest of the Pittsburgh Steelers try to recapture what it was that made them the National Football League's team of the '70s.

A few years ago, he became an even greater star, not by stripping the ball away from a runner but by stripping that black-and-gold No. 75 jersey off the top half of his 6-foot-4, 260-pound frame and tossing it to a kid. The Coca-Cola commercial won him a Clio, the advertising world's version of the Oscar or Emmy.

Because of it, Greene has likewise become a marketable commodity. Out of those few commercial seconds has come a made-for-television movie, "The Steeler and the Pittsburgh Kid," to be shown on NBC Sunday night. The kid, by the way, is played by 9-year-old Henry Thomas (5-1, 85 pounds).

In the movie, the kid hears Greene say he wouldn't retire unless he was stripped of his jersey. Believing he might be the cause of the end of Joe's career, he stows away on the team plane and, stranded in Dallas because of a snowstorm, winds up under Greene's wing. Each teaches the other a lesson about life.

Incidentally, he's not the kid who caught Joe's jersey in the Coke commercial. That was Tommy Okon. He's 13 now. And too big for the role. There's a lesson to be learned here, too. Advertising can be crueler than football.

"Joe comes across as a good actor," says Philip Barry, the film's supervising producer. "He is instinctively good. He is used to taking advice and lessons from his coaches."

"I enjoyed the experience and I think acting is a great profession," says Greene, who has done bit parts in several other movies. "If an opportunity came to me, I would do it ... but all I'm thinking about right now is football."

In other words, even though he's got a Clio in his pocket and could find room somewhere for an Emmy or Oscar, he'd rather have "one for the thumb," a fifth Super Bowl ring.

Greene can hand out more than sweaty old jerseys. He can hold out a hand, too. He does just that in another commercial, a public-service spot for the Arthritis Foundation.

He started out as a sports spokesman for the charity, which lists Dr. Joyce Brothers, Melba Moore and Maureen Reagan among its other representatives. Now Greene is the foundation's national chairman.

The public-service spot is part of the foundation's campaign, "It's time we took arthritis seriously." And while it isn't really a parody of the "Hey, kid...here," commercial, the tie-in is obvious. Both were filmed in stadium settings. The soft-drink company put this advertisement together, too. "But there have been a lot of take-offs of the commercial," Greene said, "and Coca-Cola didn't feel comfortable doing one of them, too."

Greene, who looms pretty large when seen by, say, quarterbacks, must seem awesome through the eyes of kids in hospital beds. He's seen his share of them, part of the dues he pays in his position as an athlete and a hero.

"When you come away from something like that, you wonder how you can complain about your little problems," he said. "You give a kid an autograph, maybe a jersey, and talk about football, about what they'd like to do. And you know those things are so small compared to the things they face every day. You feel so helpless, so inadequate."

(Editor's note: Letters should be limited to 300 words. The editor reserves the right to edit longer letters. Anonymous letters will not be used.)

To the Editor:

Your article in Tuesday's Daily Reflector by Rick Scope, dealing with a young man who left the ECU football team, was hardly newsworthy.

Football players, as well as other members of athletic teams are always leaving or quitting teams for one reason or another.

I have been close to ECU football for many years and it disturbs many of us to read negative stories such as this one in Tuesday's sports edition. There have been instances during both Coach Randle's and Dye's tenure that were far more severe in nature than this present situation.

When Coach Emory became the head coach at ECU, he inherited some situations here that would have discouraged most men from seeking the job. However, he didn't cry aloud in public but spent 18 to 19 hours a day working to improve our football program for the university as well as for the player's.

No coach at ECU in the last ten years has been confronted with the adversity that Emory has with regards to tough schedule, lack of funds, etc.... There is a difference in playing Furman as opposed to UNC, Miami, West Virginia, Florida State and the likes.

I feel the majority of supporters want our program to grow in this direction by playing these quality teams, and what is needed now are positive stories about our situation here at ECU and what we're trying to accomplish, rather than an article in the NEGATIVE.

Our players are a group of fine young students athletes who work extremely hard to get ready to play every Saturday and need the support of all of us who love ECU.

While it is the right of everyone to express his or her opinion concerning our program, it is imperative that we all stand together and get behind Emory and the players.

Wilkerson Helps Cleveland Take Home Opener Over Chicago Bulls

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Bobby Wilkerson would have you think his layup that helped the Cleveland Cavaliers beat the Chicago Bulls 102-101 was just all in a day's work.

The Bulls' Ricky Sobers sees it differently.

"He haunted us," Sobers said.

The 6-foot-7 Wilkerson spent last season with the Bulls before signing with Cleveland as a free agent in the off-season.

"I'm just happy with the win, whether it's Chicago or anybody else," Wilkerson said after the home-opener victory for the Cavaliers, in the only NBA game played Monday night.

He scored 18 points — including eight of the Cavaliers' last 10 — and made five steals.

"I want the ball when it gets down there that close," the guard said of his game-winner, which came off a pass from Cavalier forward Kenny Carr.

"We turned the ball over one or two times coming down the stretch," Sloan said. "You can't do that and then expect the last shot to bail you out."

Sobers missed a 22-foot shot at the buzzer as the Bulls record fell to 3-4. Cleveland is now 3-2.

"It was straight, but I didn't have any arch on it," Sobers said of his desperation shot.

Cleveland led 98-93 with 2:12 left before two David Greenwood foul shots and a pair of Artis Gilmore baskets gave the Bulls a 99-98 advantage with 48 seconds left.

Wilkerson made a driving reverse layup to give Cleveland a 100-99 edge, but Sobers sank two foul shots for a 101-100 Chicago lead with 18 seconds remaining, setting up Wilkerson's final heroics.

Duke Hoping For Bowl Game

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Grayson gained 188 yards on 17 carries and also threw a touchdown pass to wide receiver Ron Frederick.

"This is what it takes to turn around a program. It takes so many little things to make a team a winner," Wilson said.

Last season, Duke rushed for an average of 68 yards per game. Their offense relied mainly on the right arm of quarterback Ben Bennett. But the performance against the Demon Deacons may have broken them of the dependence.

"We are very happy to have a winning record at this point of the season," Duke's Red Wilson said Monday. "It is quite obvious and I think it is very visible that our team has improved throughout the last two years."

The improvement was evident last Saturday when the Blue Devils, primarily a passing team, used the rushing attack to roll up more than 540 yards against Wake Forest. Three runners topped the 100-yard mark, including Atlantic Coast Conference offensive player of the week Mike Grayson.

Believing that two more victories could land them in a bowl game, Duke is approaching Saturday's game with North Carolina State with great anticipation.

After Saturday's 31-10 victory over Wake Forest, the Blue Devils are now 5-4, a record they haven't seen since 1977. They are also 2-2 in the conference.

Player Dies After Injury

By The Associated Press

A Columbia High School football player died from a head injury he received in a Friday night game, a Greenville doctor reported Monday.

Dr. Seymour Bakerman said Tyrone Rouhlac died Sunday from a subdural hematoma — bleeding in the brain. Bakerman said the hematoma was the result of a head injury the junior defensive end received during his team's game Friday against Creswell.

Rouhlac had complained of numbness in his left foot and leg when he left the game during the fourth quarter on a regular substitution. He passed out on the sidelines about 15 minutes after leaving the game, Columbia coach William Moyer said.

Bakerman said Rouhlac, 16, never regained consciousness and was being kept alive by life support systems at Pitt Memorial Hospital in Greenville before his death Sunday at 12:15 p.m.

North had a problem over West's weak two spade opening bid. An overall of three clubs would simply not do justice to North's fine hand, and a jump to four clubs would place too much emphasis on the club suit to the exclusion of other possible denominations. Even though he would have preferred a fourth heart, he elected to make a takeout double—a move which we heartily endorse. South was full value for his jump to four hearts. West led his top spade, won by the ace. Declarer could see more than enough tricks once trumps were drawn, so he crossed to the ace of hearts and finessed the ten. West ducked smoothly!

Flushed with success, declarer entered dummy with a club and repeated the heart finesse. This time, the result was less than pleasing. West won the queen of hearts and cashed three spade tricks for a one-trick set.

Desperate situations demand desperate counter-measures. West produced a pretty bit of deception on this hand from a rubber bridge game, and declarer swallowed the bait.

'10' Devalued By TV Caution

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There's a big cover-up going on at CBS. The hit movie "10" — Bo Derek's theatrical and mathematical success — will be on network television for the first time tonight, and bikinis will be cloaking what moviegoers saw in the flesh. Although sanitizing sex for TV is nothing new, "10" is somewhat unique since it was originally filmed in two different ways: one for the theaters, one for television. So in Mrs. Derek's famous "Bolero" scene, she tells Dudley Moore she likes to make love accompanied by a certain piece of music, while her language in the theaters was much stronger. And when Moore uses his telescope to snoop on his fun-loving neighbor, tonight's women around the pool will be wearing bikinis. It's still very much a sophisticated, adult movie, still very much about sex, and that's what makes "10" so interesting on another level. Talking about sex, scheming to get it and weaving plots around it — even if the on-air sex is toned down a bit — remains a major theme of the new TV season.

While some say that jiggle is out and giggle is in, that assessment is merely superficial. There is network concern over the Coalition for Better Television's threatened boycott because of TV's sexual content, and there is the perception of a more conservative mood in America.

But although "Hill Street Blues" had no explicit sex or exploitative bodies last Thursday, half the story lines were sexually suggestive. Earlier that night, the themes and dialogue were more juvenile in NBC's new sit-com, "Gimme a Break," but they were talking about the same thing.

Sure, the sophisticated Priscilla Barnes is more subtle than Suzanne Somers in "Three's Company," but doesn't every show still revolve around something sex-

Identified Fossil Items

AURORA - During the annual North Carolina Fossil Club meeting held here recently several items in the collection of the Grifton Historical Museum were identified and dated.

Among the items identified were three pieces of whale vertebrae, a piece of whale skull, both dated four and 1/2 million years, from the Yorktown formation, and a sea urchin from the Eocene period 50-60 million years ago.

The bones are on loan from Joe Tripp Jr. of Greenville and the sea urchin belongs to Herman L. Jones and was found near Vanceboro.

The fossil fair provides visiting experts each year who offer knowledge and assistance to anyone having questions about fossils.

Some regard Sun Myung Moon as a charlatan and others as a second Messiah, but all agree he is a wealthy and powerful man. Rejected by his own Presbyterian Church, he was jailed several times — by North Koreans for religious activities and by South Koreans for sexual ones. Eventually forming a cooperative relationship with the South Korean government, this engineer-turned-prophet built an industrial empire in armaments, titanium and tea — with sales of $15 million a year. His Unification Church brings in a tax-exempt $10 million annually and claims over 2 million members. Recent SEC, IRS and Immigration probes of his affairs, however, threaten the regal serenity of Moon's lifestyle.

Dole Expects Reagan To Accept Supports Program

By BOB FICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan probably will accept a new commodity price support program that exceeds his budget request by as much as $500 million, says one of the Senate's top farm bill negotiators.

"I think it could be between $400 million and $500 million over with the emphasis on the $400 million," said Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan.

Dole has played a leading role in trying to find acceptable compromises between the $16.6 billion House farm bill and the $10.6 billion Senate version that Reagan has endorsed. The estimates, issued by the administration, covered the entire life of the four-year bill.

House negotiators have been holding out for higher price support levels than called for in the Senate bill, which has been criticized by many farm organizations as inadequate.

They already have forced their Senate counterparts to accept a dairy support program costing $151 million more than Reagan wants and a rice program exceeding the president's wishes by $24 million. Under Dole's prediction, that leaves the negotiators less than $325 million to work with when work on the bill resumes today.

Meanwhile, the Senate late Monday approved legislation heading off an increase in milk price supports should Congress fail to pass a farm bill by Sunday.

The measure, tacked onto a minor bill dealing with exports, delays until Dec. 31 an increase in milk price supports from the current $13.10 per 100 pounds to $13.49.

The proposal also delays until next year a possible referendum among wheat growers on what kind of price support program they favor. That referendum could cost as much as $4 million.

The proposal, which must still be approved by the House, is necessary because Congress has yet to approve a new farm bill.

During three days of House-Senate negotiations on the farm bill last week, administration officials, including Agriculture Secretary John Block, repeatedly said that any bill costing more than the Senate's could be a candidate for a presidential veto.

The joint conference committee is facing a weekend deadline to finish its work. If no agreement can be reached on the remaining items, the 1949 farm bill will become effective, forcing an immediate and costly increase in dairy price supports.

That law was in effect for about two weeks last month as congressional work on the new farm program dragged on. The higher milk price supports cost the government $1.65 million before Congress suspended the 1949 law's provisions until Nov. 15. Another suspension would have to be approved if the new farm package is not enacted before Sunday.

With a compromise already ironed out on the dairy program, the most expensive of the government support plans, the major issue remaining for the negotiators is price supports for wheat, corn and other feed grains. Those commodities account for much of the farm bill's remaining cost.

"We're working on something, but it's only conversation," Dole said of efforts to find a plan acceptable to both Reagan and the House.

Part of any compromise, Dole said, could be target price levels somewhat higher than the Senate has called for provided that they did not expose the government to huge direct payments to farmers. Under the target price concept, when the average market price falls below the target price level, the government makes up the difference through a direct federal payment to farmers. This year the government expects to pay wheat farmers some $350 million nationwide.

Gov. Hunt Sees Lag In Blacks' Voting

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina has lagged behind most other Southern states in black voting participation, Gov. Jim Hunt told the state Board of Elections Monday.

"In the past, we've not had the obstacles (to black voting) that existed elsewhere, but since the 1965 Voting Rights Act, we've not made the progress (of other Southern states)," he said.

Hunt urged the board to emphasize voter registration for minorities, young people and newcomers to the state to rectify the problem.

"I'm interested in increasing the registration over all," he said.

The 1980 census ranked North Carolina last among the seven Southern states initially covered by the voting rights act. The census reported that 49.2 percent of the state's eligible blacks were registered to vote. The census reported that 63.7 percent of the state's eligible whites were registered.

In his speech, however, Hunt did not call for any specific changes in voting laws or election board rules to increase registration.

Hunt retained Ruth T. Smeashko of Horse Shoe, a Democrat, for another four-year term.

Tax-Exempt Interest. You pay no Federal taxes on the first $1,000 of interest; on the first $2,000 if you file a joint return. A glance at the chart will show you what that could mean to you.

$500 Minimum, 12-Month Term. If you don't have a large amount of money to invest, or you can't afford to tie up your money for a long time, our new All Savers Certificate may be just what you're looking for.

Insured Safety. Your savings are safe, insured by the F.D.I.C. up to $100,000 per depositor, and backed by the financial strength of Wachovia Bank.

The Help of a Personal BankerSM.

A Wachovia Personal Banker can give you all the facts about the All Savers Certificate, so you can make an informed investment decision. Stop by this week.

The Wachovia All Savers yield effective Nov. 2 to Nov. 27 is 10.770%* when interest is left on deposit to maturity. Here's what the tax exemption could mean to you.

If your taxable Income is approximately:	Your tax bracket probably is:	Your All Savers Yield of 10.770% is equivalent to a taxable rate of:
$46,000	44%	19.232%
$36,000	39%	17.656%
$25,000	29%	15.169%
$16,000	22%	13.808%

*The yield of 10.770% is based on an annual rate of 10.272% compounded monthly with interest left on deposit until maturity. To earn $2,000.00 interest on one All Savers Certificate at 10.770% you need to invest about $18,570.00 if you leave interest on deposit to maturity. To earn $1,000.00 in interest on one All Savers Certificate at 10.770% you need to invest about $9,285.00 if you leave interest on deposit to maturity. These tax brackets are based on a married couple filing a joint return. The equivalent taxable rate shown assumes no more than $18,570.00 is invested. Substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal.
