County Gets Extra Half-Cent Sales Tax

Reflector Staff Writer

The Pitt County Board of Commissioners Thursday night adopted a resolution creating a supplemental half-cent sales tax in the county. The new tax will become effective Dec. 1.

The board's action came after a public hearing on the question, attended by 21 people. No opposition to the tax was Eleven persons who voiced their opinion — including Pitt County School Superintendent Eddie West, Greenville school board Chairman Jack Wall, Ayden Town Manager Don Russell and Greenville City Manager Gail Meeks, and D.D. Garrett, president of the Pitt County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People - urged commissioners to adopt the additional sales tax.

The 1983 General Assembly approved legislation allowing the local option tax in an effort to provide local governments an additional source of revenue.

The act also gave county boards their choice of two methods for instituting the tax: commissioners were allowed to establish the tax directly by resolution following a public hearing on the question, or the tax could be put to a vote of

As of Sept. 30, 68 county boards in the state had instituted the tax by resolution, while one county had enosen referendum route.

Man Dies In House Fire

FIRE SCENE ... Fire-damaged furniture is piled in front of the house on 1505 West 14th St. after a blaze claimed the life of Willie David Spellman. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Willie David Spellman of 1505 West 14th St. died of smoke inhalation from a fire that damaged his home about 1:30 a.m.

Greenville Police Officer James Tripp said the dead man and four other persons were in the home when the fire erupted in a room on the second floor. Tripp said Ted Spellman ran upstairs and found one room on fire after Earl Spellman was awakened by smoke in the first floor room The officer quoted Ted Spellman as saying he was unable to put the fire out, so he attempted to wake up everyone in the house, then left to call the fire department.

Fire-Rescue department employees found Willie David Spellman unconscious in a second floor bedroom and took him to Pitt County Memorial Hospital, where physicians were unable to revive him, Tripp said.

Tripp quoted doctors as saying Spellman, who suffered burns to his mouth and throat area, died of cardiac arrest due to the lack of oxygen. The fire is believed to have started. Tripp reported, from a candle left burning in the second floor bedroom.

13-Year-Old Advised "Cool It With Brian"

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a very mature 13-year-old girl in love with a guy who just turned 18. I'll call him "Brian." I asked my parents if I could go out with him, and they said no, right off, so I've been sneaking around to be with Abby, we really love each other, but Brian says he is not a talker, he is a doer. He wants to show me how much he loves me by making love to me. I'm still a virgin, but we have come very, very close to going all the way.

Brian wants me to prove my love by going all the way with him, but something is holding me back. He says it's not wrong to have sex if you are really in love.

What should I do?

BRIAN'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Brian may tell you he is not a "talker," he is a "doer," but he is both, so don't let him talk you into (or out of) anything. That old "prove-your-love" line has been around for a very long time, and it's just as phony today as it was when your grandmother was a girl.

No respectable young man would allow - much less encourage - a 13-year-old girl to sneak around and lie to her parents. I can understand how your young heart throbs when you're near him, but it's not "love" - it's a natural sex desire, which is nothing to be ashamed of. But you are too young, emotionally immature and vulnerable to become

Be wise, young lady, and cool it with Brian before you lose control and find yourself in serious trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Very often you advise your readers to 'consult your clergyman." While there is absolutely nothing wrong with this advice, there is something definitely wrong with your terminology.

Since most major denominations have been ordaining women for quite some time, the proper term is no longer "clergyman." It is either "clergyperson" or "member of the clergy." Only when the individual's sex is known should the terms "clergywoman" or "clergyman" be used. Please sign me . . . THE REV. SUSAN F. Payne-Lamm Wedding Held in Grifton

GRIFTON — The wedding vows of Kathryn Marie Lamm and Charles Greene Payne were said before the Rev. Lloyd Edge during a double-ring ceremony held in the Grifton United Methodist Church Saturday evening, Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Lamm of Grifton and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Payne Jr. of Washington, N.C.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of organza and re-embroidered alencon lace over taffeta. The fitted seed-pearl-adorned lace bodice featured a square neckline outlined with scalloped alencon lace etched with seed pearls, shepherdess sleeves and a natural waist encircled by a tucked organza cummerbund. The floor-length skirt extended into a cathedral train with scalloped alencon lace bordering the hem. Her veil was a waltz-length mantilla of immported illusion accented with lace motifs flowing from an alencon lace caplet etched with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids accented by trailing ivy and stephanotis.

The matron of honor was Jo Ann Lamm, sister-in-law of the bride of Wilson. She wore a floor-length gown of burgundy taffeta designed with a fitted bodice and miniature rolled shoulder straps. A short ruffled longsleeved jacket complemented the gown. She carried a cascade of pinktinged rubrum lilies with miniature carnations and ivy and wore matching rubrum lily in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Carol Lamm, sister-in-law of the bride of Kernersville, and Evelyn Payne, sister of the bridegroom of Washington. They wore dresses like that of the matron of honor

Classics Live Despite Romance Novel Popularity

WASHINGTON (AP) -The huge success of romance novels is not burying sales of good modern literature and older classics, say two English professors at the Catholic University of America here. But the popularity of such material may be a commentary on the values of American society, they add.

"Romantic novels are not keeping anybody from reading 'good literature,'" says Joseph M. Sendry, English department chairman. "These books may even have the salutary effect of at least getting one faction of society reading, keeping minds active and increasing vocabulary. If popular romances weren't available, the people bly wouldn't read anything at David Fite, a writer and an English professor, points out that the high marketability of romantic novels does not indicate that we are living in an impoverished literary

"There are hundreds of very good writers being published," he says. "But the fact that romantic fiction is so popular may be a signal that many people are leading impoverished emotional

The heroine of Gothic romances is usually single, attractive, occasionally plucky and determined. In most novels, she is setting off on an adventure interwoven with mystery and discreetly packaged lust cast in 'romance." Generally her success and her existence depend upon a man, explains

"The novels may provide a form of escape, a type of therapy. I know of some people who read these books voraciously. You could say that romantic novels are the reading equivalent of junk food," says Fite.

"On a deeper level, romance novels may be saying something about how we as a society define our roles in life and our sense of being," he adds. "Women's liberation is vocalized, yet in these novels, as in many popular evening television series, women are portrayed as 'powerlessly powerful,' still depending on feminine wiles as a means to an end or to a man. "The contradiction of women's roles, the turbulence of defining gender and the workplace, still exists in books and in reality. There is still the suggestion that psychologically, women desire to be conquered.

The abundance of romantic fiction may in part be attributed to "formula," says Fite, who explains that the mechanisms of the genre were laid out in the 19th century with the birth of the classic Gothics — "Jane Eyre," "Wuthering Heights," "The House of Seven Gables." The modern romances and the classic Gothics contain similar elements and patterns. "Classics are often transformed to become popular fiction," Fite notes.

"The formula makes Gothics both easy and hard to write, because it is difficult to bring any freshness to the style.'

The classics were popular when published and they remain popular today. They meet the test of a novel's literary quality, which answers affirmatively the question, "Does it stand rereading?" says Sendry.

Another difference, Fite says, "is that good fiction examines the metaphors by which we live rather than exploiting them, as much of current fiction does.

"The one difficulty that arises is in the area of publishing. It's difficult to get published today and most publishers will print a Gothic romance that they know will sell, before taking a chance on a new author who may show some potential."

But there's no point in lamenting the production of romantic novels or bemoaning the decline of reading, he adds, emphasizing, "People are reading.

The theme was "Fashions for You" and Susan Roberts was the mistress of ceremonies.

The annual tasting tea will be held March 3, Betsy Little and Sharyn Lennox, chairmen, announced. A yard sale will be held Oct. 15 at the club house. A needy family will be sponsored at Christmas, with Debbie Allen, Ann League and Jane Walker leading the work on the project. Hostesses for the evening were Connie Patton, Marge Zielinski, Emmie Ehinger, Jean Chappell, and Phyllis Caruso.

Agency Finds Homes for Korean Children

Associated Press Writer

INDIANOLA, Iowa (AP) There's not much of a waiting list at the Holt International Children's Services adoption agency here.

While it takes five to seven years for adopting couples to get children through some agencies, Holt manages to place its children within three to six months.

Holt finds homes for Korean children. And in little more than a year, the agency's Iowa office has placed 311 Korean children with families around the state.

The success in finding homes for homeless children is easily seen on an Iowa map studded with red and blue thumbtacks pinpointing where the children live.

"Iowa's an accepting state," said Joanne Walton, coordinator of the Iowa of fice. "The children are welcomed even though they might be the only different ones in the entire community

There's also growing acceptance of adopting foreign children as an alternative to the lengthy wait for Ameri-

The Iowa and other branch offices have sprung up in the last two years because the Korean government ruled that children could only go to states where there was a licensed office.

The organization's services have spread by word of mouth, Mrs. Walton said.

'Most people know someone who has adopted a child from another country or know of someone who knows someone." she said.

She says the couples who come to Holt fall into three broad categories. About half aren't able to have children and don't want to wait for adoption in the United States. The rest want larger families or perhaps children of the

Mrs. Walton warns that adoption can be addictive.

It has come to our attention in other years: but with the naming of Lech Walesa as this year's winner, we are convinced the Peace Prize should be given another title.

Its very name implies the honoree has performed an outstanding feat in behalf of the cause of Peace. That was not Lech Walesa's accomplishment.

As a matter of fact, he and his Solidarity followers came dangerously close to unleashing some kind of blood bath in Poland. For a man of "peace", that has an oddly warlike

True, the Polish organizer with charismatic appeal fought with the only tools at hand for civil liberties unknown within the Soviet orbit. He has not yet won that struggle.

An appropriate Nobel Prize for his efforts might be for attempting to further the cause of human rights or civil liberties. Others have won a Peace Prize for their contributions in those fields, and another won that distinction for her efforts in behalf of the poor and vulnerable; but not for contributions to the cause of peace.) The last true peace-makers to win the award were Anwar Sadat and Menachem Begin in 1978.

The New Pirate Logo

A recent letter to the editor expressed reservations about that new Pirate logo "adopted" by East Carolina University. The author, Mike Long of Greenville, described it as "little more than a theme copy of UNC's puffed up ram in a pirate suit." We might go a little further. It looks more like a cleaned-up version of the old cartoon character, "Snuffy Smith," all dressed up for a costume party

Regardless of how one views it, the new logo barely resembles a pirate. If, indeed, the university is so wedded to this new logo, perhaps it should change the nickname for its

The logo certainly does not put across the image of a competitive football team. In fact, one could say it puts across very little image at all.

The Prenuptial Contract Ritual

The prenuptial contract is getting more and more prevalent, as the divorce rate rises in the country. Since getting married in many cases is not one of those things you do forever, lawyers are advising their clients to make out a contract, specifying who gets what, when love flies out the window and recrimination knocks down the door.

I was the best man at a prenupital legal contract ceremony the other day. The groom to be. Horace Pipeline, was attended by the famed divorce lawyer Roy Bone, and the bride-to-be, the lovely Grace Willowy, was being given away by Stephanie Tuff of the firm Rock, Sock &

The bride and groom sat in the love seat in Mr. Bone's palatial office, which, for the occasion, had been decorated with magnolias and white roses.

Mr. Bone, reading from yellow legal pad, said, "Dearly beloved, we are gathered here today to bring this man and this woman together in a happy prenuptil contract, spelling out the property claims of both parties in case, for reasons we shall not go into here, this

My client, under law, is entitled to 50 percent of all of her husband's property. But we don't want to be greedy about this. We'll settle for $10,000 a month until she gets married

"Alimony is out of the question," Mr. Bone said. "I cannot permit my client to enter the sacred institution of matrimony unless he can get out of it by paying off a lump sum at the dissolution of the marriage. How can we be sure when and if Miss Willowy will get married again?"

"How do you feel about it, Grace?" Miss Tuff asked.

NAZARETH, Israel (AP) - The Arabs are challenging racial segregation in the Jewish half of the town where Christ grew up. and militant Jews are fighting

Friction is mounting as increasing numbers of Arabs move into Jewish Upper Nazareth A group calling itself Mena, which means "prevention" and is the Hebrew acronym for Defenders of Upper Nazareth, is pressuring Jewish apartment owners not to sell to Arabs.

No one here would like his daughter to marry an Arab, or leave his wife and children with Arabs in a bomb shelter while he goes off to the war. said Mena leader Avraham Cohen.

The Arabs say they would prefer not to have to live in the Jewish section. But they claim a shortage of modern housing in their own area leaves them no choice.

Nazareth, the largest city in the Galilee district of northern Israel, is in fact two cities with separate municipal gov-

The original city has 55,000 Arab inhabitants and virtually no Jews. Upper Nazareth, on a hill overlooking the Arab town, has 26,000 people, 13 percent of them Arabs, according to the local government. Mena, which says it has 250 hard-core members, claims the Arab population of Upper Nazareth is 40

Nazareth's Arabs and Jews are both citizens of Israel, enjoy equal rights on paper and were a model of arm's-length coexistence until a few years ago. But Upper Nazareth was built in the 1950s as a major Jewish foothold in predominantly Arab Galilee Most of the apartments were built by the Housing Ministry and were sold at subsidized prices to Jewish immigrants or young couples attracted by the low cost of living and the scenery in Galilee

Prospective residents had to pass the scrutiny of the town council, and for years there were no Arab applicants. Then the Arabs grew affluent under Israeli rule. Their upwardly mobile middle class began trying to escape the crowded squalor of the lower city. They found apartment owners in Upper Nazareth willing to ignore the unwritten taboo on Arab ownership to make a handsome profit.

The Can't-Lose Proposition

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan, who may eventually wind up with an agreement with the Soviet Union lessening the threat of nuclear war, is bound to come out ahead in the arms talks - even if the shifts he has ordered in the U.S. negotiating position fail to break the deadlock.

The fact that he is bound to come out ahead as a peacemaker can't hurt him if he decides to run for re-election in 1984. With the economy turning around, his him a stature that would be hard to beat.

Look at the poor old Soviets trying to compete with Reagan in playing to the world gallery. The best they could muster was a shopworn call for a nuclear weapons freeze while Reagan was proposing a 5 percent annual cutback in the U.S. lead in long range bombers and cruise missiles on the bargaining table.

We want to reduce the weapons of war, pure and simple," Reagan said.

It is awfully hard to quarrel with that policy gesture, although the American freeze

"build-down" would legitimatize the deployment of new and more dangerous S. and Soviet nuclear weapons.

Reagan now has ordered four major shifts in U.S. arms control policy over seven months. He has exhibited the flexibility he urges on the Soviets while accusing them of "stonewalling" in both sets of negotiations — to limit missiles in Europe and globe-girdling ICBMs. bombers and submarines.

The Spirit Of Orville And Wilbur

NAG'S-HEAD, N.C. - Like Moslems making their pilgrimage to the Black Rock of Mecca, thousands of Americans Hawk and a monument built to the Mohammeds of manned flight, the Wright brothers. Eighty years after the first self-propelled flight, only the most jaded take flying for granted.

But the spirit of Wilbur and Orville is alive and well several miles south, on the towering dunes overlooking this windswept Outer Banks village. There, of primitive air pioneers, hang glider contraptions of aluminum, cloth and enthusiasts run against the ocean breeze every day, trying to get off the ground. Modern man and woman may know no or should, last. better, or less restrictive, stimulant.

In a few weeks, however, the supreme machine of unfetted manned flight, the self-propelled ultralight, is expected to return to these parts after a brief run-in with local airport authorities. With the most minimal of restrictions (licenses aren't even required), thousands of Americans have realized their fantasies in the last few years piloting these lawnmower parts. As more people do it. one wonders how long a good thing can.

Since 1980, when the popular Quicksilver model was introducted, more than 10,000 ultralights of various makes and models have been sold annually. More than four dozen firms, many just mom-and-pop operations, sell the aircraft in kit and ready-made form for anywhere from $3,000 to $6,500. The ultralight has attracted a global following, with the British military and Palestine Liberation Organization among its better-known enthusiasts. Yet America's civilian market remains the ultralight's most awe-inspiring. Judging from a reader survey published by Glider Rider, a magazine for ultralight enthusiasts, the average flier is in his or her early 30s. attended but did not complete college, and earns between $20,000 and $40,000 a year. According to the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association's David Higdon, only two-thirds of all ultralight fliers own a pilot's license.

Reckless as it seems. America's flock of bird people is only doing that which the rest of us would could we cast caution to the wind. After all, the movie "To Fly, seen by more than 7 million at the National Air and Space Museum since 1976, is Washington's longest running hit. Even before people began scaling the Matterhorn, skiing down Everest and leaping from planes, they dreamed of defying gravity alone and unemcum-

Ultralights have altered the physics. Their motors help to reassure those who. in a hang glider, fear that first step off a cliff or a windship at 3.000 feet. Their airplane-like design can make one feel more like a pilot than a piece of falcon bait: though more sophisticated than the machine that made Kitty Hawk famous. they generally require no more than a tug on the throttle to achieve liftoff.

Their simplicity has prompted the Federal Aviation Administration to regulate with a light hand. A single page of rules, published only a year ago, stated that ultralights, among other things, not fly faster than 55 miles per hour or near "congested" areas, carry more than five gallons of fuel or weigh more than 254 pounds. Recently, FAA Commissioner J. Lynn Helms said he had no intention of adding rules, contending that the sport should be self-regulating.

But even birds have accidents. About 100 fliers die in ultralight accidents every year, and many more have come close. Exact figures are unavailable even to government authorities since, alas, there's no central system for reporting

With time and increased popularity, more winged men and women will probably be flying themselves into trouble that Wilbur and Orville avoided, such as buildings, power lines and mid-air collisions. As much as its boosters might wave the banner of prudence, the ultralight will invite its share of chaos in the skies. Indeed, airport authorities near here temporarily suspended ultralight flights late last summer after seeing the need for additional safeguards.

That suggests that the days of wholly underregulated flight, however brief. may be numbered. Nothing so simple as an ultralight ever stayed that way. No dream ever went uninterrupted.

Department, effective today, will begin enforcing the noise ordinance adopted by the City Council last May, Chief Ted Holmes said this morn-

Holmes said the city has waited until now to begin enforcement to allow time to purchase sound measuring equipment and train police officers in its use.

"The primary goal of this department in enforcing the noise ordinance is to obtain compliance with the maximum noise levels established by the council," Holmes said. "We hope that citizens will cooperate with officers investigating noise complaints so that we will not have to issue citations."

The chief said anyone wishing to make a complaint about loud noise in the neighborhood can call the department anytime to register a complaint. Callers will not be required to give their name if they do not want to, and the department will investigate all complaints received, Holmes said.

According to Holmes, the noise ordinance categorizes premissible noise levels on the basis of use occupancy categories. The three categories include residential space, public, commercial or business space (including university property), and manufacturing, industrial or agricultural property.

Permissible noise levels vary depending on the time of day and day of the week.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rejecting protests of pork barrel spending — complete with an oinking opponent wearing a pig snout — the House is sending the Senate a $119 million water project spending bill that the administration has warned may

The House approved legislation Thursday to begin construction of 43 new water development projects, over protests that it short-circuited the usual review process for such projects

The opposition was led by Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., who oinked and grunted during the House debate and talked to reporters wearing a novelty store pig snout and ears. Conte used no congressional gentility in expressing his opposition to

This is the biggest pork barrel bill that ever came down the pike." he said. "They had their schnozzles right in the Conte was supported by the Reagan administration. David Stockman, director of the White House Office of Management and Budget, warned in a letter that "the president's senior advisers could not recommend that she approve the legislation" because of its "serious deficiencies Among the Army Corps of Engineers projects is one for North Carolina, involving Randleman Lake, dealing with water supply and flood control. Opposition to the bill, which passed on voice vote tocused on the fact that 20 of the 43 projects have not received congressional authorization. Under ordinary procedure, such projects go through a two-step process. An authorization committee first considers the merits of the project and approves it subject to a spending ceiling. This action provides no money In a second bill, the appropriations committee looks at authorized projects and divides available money among them, according to its priorities In this case, an authorization bill for 180 water development projects is awaiting floor action. But the appropriations committee got a special waiver to move its spending bill ahead of the authorization bill

Leaders of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of water projects defended their action

Why is the bill here today said Rep. John T. Myers. R-Ind., the panel's ranking Republican. These are very high priority items that simply cannot wait for another year or two years to get started. We cannot just decide we are going to do something one day and start the next. It takes a lot of

But Conte and Rep Bob Edgar, D-Pa, said that was hogwash.

There is no emergency at the Bonneville lock in Oregon. said Edgar. "There is no emergency at the Dade County. Florida, project. There is no emergency on Fisherman's Wharf in California. There is no emergency that I can find in most of these projects.

Edgar offered an amendment to cut the 20 unauthorized projects from the bill, but it was defeated 271-133. Conte said congressmen were atraid to buck the Appropriations Committee because each of them is at the mercy of the panel in seeking money for projects in their districts

They live in fear of that committee, that they're not going to get their project." Conte said "And they the committee play hardball

The bill's detenders argued that money for the unauthorized projects would not actually be provided until their authorization is approved and that the projects would be subject to new cost-sharing requirements being considered by But Conte and Edgar said the measure could commit the federal government to completing the projects. Although the $119 million in the bill for first year construction costs is not high by government standards. Edgar said completing the 20 unauthorized projects would cost the government more than Conte, warning that the Senate is likely to load the bill with pet projects, told the House that "there isn't a Mack truck in the United States that'll be able to carry that bill back here.

He said that would increase the likelihood of a veto, adding, I hope we have enough people with backbone to sustain that

Green Trial Open To Court Cameras

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green's bribery trial will be the first trial covered by television and still photographers under a 1982 state Supreme Court ruling allowing cameras in courtroms Superior Court Judges James Long and James Pou Bailey filed an order Thursday permitting the coverage. Long will preside over the trial and Bailey is senior resident Superior Court judge in Wake County.

Howard Twiggs, an attorney for Green, declined to comment. But special prosecutor James Blackburn said he agreed with the Sallie Ann Dunn, Wake County trial court administrator, said Long had told her he "found no compelling reason to make an exception to the standing rule allowing press coverage.

Three court hearings have been recorded by cameras since the Supreme Court ruling, but never a full trial.

Long and Bailey, saying there is "widespread public interest in this case. stressed that cameras must be behind a partition or booth so people in the courtroom cannot hear or see any equipment or know "when or if such equipment is in operation

Under the 1982 ruling, two television cameras and one still photographer are permitted to cover the proceedings. It will be up to the media to "pool" their coverage to other news organizations outside the courtroom.

Court Challenges For New N.C. Bingo Law out of business while return-

Associated Press Writer RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) -Five days after it took effect. North Carolina's new law imposing tough new regulations on charity bingo games and raffles is facing a court

Wake County Superior Court Judge Robert Farmer issued a temporary restraining order Thursday blocking statewide enforcment of the new law.

Farmer's order came in a civil class-action suit filed by the Durham Council of the Blind and naming as defendants Attorney General Rufus Edmisten, Revenue Secretary Mark Lynch. Durham County Sheriff Roland Leary and local district attorney Ron Stephens.

The Council is challenging the constitutionality of specific portions of the new law which it does not meet and which would prevent it from being licensed to

Building China Plant In Oxford

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) -Lenox China, a subsidiary of Lenox, Inc., will begin construction of a new china manufacturing plant at Oxford next week, state officials announced.

According to Lenox China president Harold H. Goucher, the 110.000-square-foot plant will produce such Lenox gifts as handcrafted vases, pitchers, candlesticks and candy dis-

IN THE KING'S NAME

THE ANCIENT KINGS, AS SUCH, WERE VARIED. NEBUCHADNEZZAR OF BABYLON AND ARTAXERXES THE PERSIAN WERE EACH KINGS OVER KINGS (EZRA 7:12, DAN. 2:37, II KINGS 24:17). HOWEVER, THE USUAL MONARCH OFTEN RULED ONLY ONE CITY. SOME OF THEM BEING LESS THAN THE SIZE OF A SMALL VIL-LAGE BY TODAY'S STANDARDS. A MAN BECAME KING OF A NATION OR CITY EITHER BY APPOINTMENT, BY ONE WHO WAS HIGHER IN AUTHORITY (I SAM. - 9:16, 16:1, 13; II KINGS 23:30), OR BY THE POPULAR DEMAND OF THE PEOPLE (I SAM. 18:8; II SAM. 5:1-3; I KINGS 12:20, II KINGS 23:30) OR BY USURPING A THRONE, OR BY INHERITANCE. THE RESTRAINTS UPON A KING WERE THE FEAR OF GOD AND MAN THE POPULAR WILL COULD NOT BE IGNORED! HOWEVER, THE KINGS DID LEAD A SHELTERED AND LUXURIOUS LIFE. IN VIEW OF THE ROYAL DUTIES REQUIRED OF THEM, BOTH PHYSICAL AND MENTAL, THE MORAL REQUIRE-MENTS DEMANDED A HIGH MEASURE OF INTEGRITY TO RULE WELL. MANY THE ATTRIBUTES AND ACCOMP-LISHMENTS ATTRIBUTED TO NUMEROUS RULERS WERE REALLY CARRIED OUT BY A DESIGNATED SURROGATE, WHO DID THE ACTUAL STORMING OF THE BATTLEMENT WALL, OR CHARGED FEARLESSLY INTO AN ENEMY'S CAMP CALL IN THE KING'S NAME!" WHILE A KING REMAINED IN THE LUXURIOUS TRAPPINGS OF HIS PALACE ... HIS APPOINTED SURROGATE, MANY MILES AWAY, MIGHT BE WEARILY APPROACH-ING A BATTLE WHERE HE IS DESTINED TO BRING ... HONOR TO THE KING'S

A Special Poignancy In Cardinal Cooke's Appeal To Respect Life

By GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer

The appeal this time had a special poignancy. It urged a greater, deepened "respect for life" and came from a man about to lose it. In a message written before his death Thursday, Cardinal Terence Cooke, the Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, said his final stretch of living was a particularly "grace-filled time of my life."

In a special message for "Respect Life Month," being observed in Roman Catholic dioceses across the country through October, the

"The 'gift of life,' God's special gift, is no less beautiful when it is accompanied by illness or weakness, hunger or poverty, mental or physical handicaps, loneliness or old age.

"Indeed, at those times, human life gains extra splendor as it requires our special care, concern and reverence. It is in and through the weakness of human vessels that dhe Lord continues to reveal the power of his love. That allusion was to Christian belief in God bending to human form in Christ and dying for humanity in love

Unemployment Is Again Down

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) -The nation's unemployment rate declined to 9.3 percent in September, the lowest level in 17 months, as close to 400,000 jobless Americans found work in the continuing economic recovery, the Labor Department reported

However, 10.4 million Americans were still reported to be looking for jobs but unable to find them, the Labor Department reported.

September's decrease in the overall jobless rate was just 0.2 percentage point from the August seasonally adjusted level of 9.5 percent. But it restored the downward trend that had been interrupted when August's rate held steady at the same rate as in July Unemployment had declined in most months since last December's 10.8 percent, the highest level in 42 years.

Chief White House economist Martin Feldstein, meeting with businessmen in Hot Springs, Va., called today's report "very gratify-And the president himself,

Both government and private analysts have said they expect the rate to continue declining, with companies calling back laid-off workers or hiring people for newly created jobs as the economy expands in its recovery from the 1981-82 recession. But those analysts have also said the improvement is likely to be slow.

Opportunity 'Crossroad'

The recently reunited Pre-sbyterian Church stands at a historical crossroad with a unique opportunity to affect the national life, according to the moderator of the fourth-largest denomination in U.S. Protestantism. The Rev. J. Randolph Taylor said with the new denomination claiming 3.2 million members in the United States and connections in 53 countries, Presbyterians should be "thinking globally and acting locally.' Taylor was the featured speaker Thursday at the 90th convocation of Warren Wilson College in Swannanoa. Multinational corporations and the United States government, with a 'security system that leaves no one secure," are the flip side of the cited equation as they think locally and act globally, he said.

"Along those lines, Presbyterians can write a new chapter in our nation's histo-Taylor said. "In the reunion, I think all Presbyterians feel they nave done a good, faithful and healing thing. We can demonstrate there is still a possibility of building a community in our time.

Simple Formula For His Father

Beddingfield Rips Rose By 33-7

Struggling Ahead

Rose High School's Cyrus Blackwell (24) surges ahead trying for extra yardage against the pull of Beddingfield defenders last night in their

Big East Conference meeting. The Bruins romped to a 33-7 victory over Rose, handing the Rampants their third straight defeat in league play. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Reflector Sports Editor Beddingfield's Ricky Barnes rushed for 176 yards and scored a touchdown to lead the Bruins to a 33-7 rout of Rose their record at 3-3. High School last night in Ficklen Stadium

Barnes, who lugged the ball 24 times in the contest, finished the game with almost as much yardage as the Rampants managed all together. Rose had 108 yards rushing in the game and 86 passing for a 194 yard total.

Quarterback Darren Bynum passed for three touchdowns in the game, twice going to Eric Batts for bombs of 30 and 41 yards, and to David Walston for 20 yards. Barnes' TD run was for 35 yards, while John Smith ran back the second half kickoff 92 yards for the other TD.

Rose's only score came in the final period on a threeyard run by Cyrus Blackwell.

"I'm totally embarrassed for all the people who came out to see us play," Coach Ronald Vincent of Rose said afterwards.

"But I can say one thing: we didn't quit. Mainly because we never started

"We're not aggressive. We don't stay with our blocks, and we don't do many things right at this point in time.'

This point in time is six games into the season. Halfway to this point, the Rampants were 3-0 and ranked fourth in the state in the Associated Press poll. But in their opening Big East game, Northern Nash rolled runs by Barnes moved it to the once more, moving from the final yardage - again wide up a 28-8 victory and things haven't been the same since then as the Rampants have lost three in a row to even

"We just haven't play ball the last three weeks. I don't know whether they've given up since losing to Northern and Rocky Mount, or what. We're using the same personnel and running the same defenses, but they were so wide open on those touchdown passes...

Wide open would be an understatement. On the two passes to Batts, the closest Rampant to the receiver was a good 20 yards away. On the final pass, to Walston, the closest was over ten yards

Beddingfield threatened all five times it had the ball in the first half and scored on three

Taking over at their own 38 following a punt, the Bruins marched in just three plays. Sam Wells ripped off 19 yards on the first play to the Rose 43, and then added three more. Rose was penalized five yards for being offsides on the next play and then Barnes went right up the middle for 35 yards and the first TD. Neal Ferrell kicked the first of three PAT's for a 7-0 lead after just 4:20 of play.

After another Rose punt, the Bruins got it at their own 13. After a penalty against Rose moved it five yards, Bynum hit Walston for a 39-yard gain down to the Rose 43. Three 29, but Beddingfield was then penalized 15 yards for holding.

From the 44, Bynum hit Batts for an 11-yard gain, then Wells ran for ten more to the 23, making it fourth and one. Barnes got the call and barrelled through for two and the first down. On the final play of the quarter, Bynum was thrown for a nine-yard loss on a busted play, putting the ball back to the 30

On the first play on the second period, Bynum hit Batts — wide open — for the 30 yards and the second score. The kick missed, however, leaving it at 13-0 with 11:54 left in the period.

Rose then offered its first threat of the game, moving from the 22 to the Bruin 27 before the drive stalled on downs Beddingfield came back to move from there to the Rose 28 before a 45-yard field goal attempt by Ferrell was blocked by Amos Edwards turning it over on the Rose 41.

Beddingfield got it back four plays later on downs when a fourth and four attempt at the Rampant 47 was fumbled for a six-yard loss.

On the first play after that, Beddingfield ran the same play - to the opposite side as with its last TD, and it worked again, covering 41 yards as Bynum connected with Batts. A two-point try failed and the Bruins held a 19-0 lead with 3:00 left in the

On fourth down, Blackwell dove kick yards out for the score and Bynum Ferrell kick Brian Bridges kick made it

Pirates Out To Snap Jinx

By WOODY PEELE

Reflector Sports Editor The home field advantage hasn't been what it's supposed to be when Southwestern Louisana and East Carolina meet in football. The two Division I-A teams, both struggling to get more respect from their fellow teams in the divison, have clashed four times in the past - each winning on the others' home

They meet again Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Ficklen

There was a little tightening up at the top and a little loosening up at the bottom in our picking panel last week.

Thanks to a fine 8-4 week by our guest Rick Miller, the guests moved into a tie with Vickie Spivey for the lead, while this writer pulled up even with Joe Jenkins for the next spot. Spivey and the guests are now 35-23 on the season, while Jenkins and this writer are 34-24.

Jimmy DuPree moved further away from the basement to up his record to 33-25, while Tom Baines — who says he won't stay there — is all alone and further back at 30-28.

Most of us are picking the same this week, however, so there doesn't seem to be much chance of movement

Our guest for this week is Charles Vincent of the Greenville Recreation and Parks Department. Fortunately the schedule didn't put Charlie on the spot by having his pick the Rose-Beddingfield game. Rose is coached by his brother Ronald.

Our high school picks last week picked up somewhat with an 8-1 record. That brings us to 31-11-2 for the season

All four of our Pitt County high schools are in action against outside opponents this weekend with the spotlight on the meeting between Ayden-Grifton and SouthWest Edgecombe. This has been one of the deciding factors in the Eastern Carolina Conference race for the past two years and doesn't appear to be anything else this year. SouthWest, however, has been awesome except against 4-A Hunt. In this one, we have to go with the Cougars by 28-7.

Farmville Central travels to Greene Central in an old rivalry that promises to produce a good game this year. The Jaguars are smarting from their loss to SouthWest, while the Rams are still reeling from a loss to Charles B. Aycock. We like Farmville in this one, 14-0.

Meanwhile, that same Aycock team visits North Pitt, where the Panthers are looking for their second win of the year. Oddly enough, both teams have beaten Greene Central. In this one, we like the Falcons, however, by 7-6.

Finally, D.H. Conley travels to White Oak, to face one of the Coastal Conference's top teams. The White Oak version of the Vikings have been tough on defense. Aside from their loss to Jacksonville, they've given up only eight points in four wins. It should be no different tonight. We like White Oak, 27-0.

In other games in the area, it'll be Jamesville over Chocowinity, Bertie over Roanoke, and Washington over Ahoskie.

With Rose having played last night, the panel is without a high school game this week, but the Pirates of East Carolina are still there, hosting Southwestern Louisiana.

The Ragin' Cajuns may be 0-3 on the year, but they're 2-0 in Ficklen Stadium, somethat that might make the odds-makers wonder about home field advantage. (In comparison, ECU is 2-0 at

The panel, however, is sold on the Pirates now. There's a 6-0 vote for ECU, with our own personal pick being 42-14.

Our other concensus picks: Clemson over Virginia; N.C. State over Georgia Tech; North Carolina over Wake Forest; Air Force over Navy; Southern Mississippi over Mississippi State; Texas over Oklahoma; Virginia Tech over Duke; Maryland over Syracuse; Florida State and Pittsburgh, a toss-up; Temple and Cincinnati, a toss-up; and Southern California over Washington State.

Phils Look To Break String

The Philadelphia Phillies must find their bats if they hope to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League Championship Series.

The Phillies have scored just 15 runs in 14 games against the Dodgers this season, including one in each of the first two games of the best-of-five playoff, which is tied 1-1

Phillies' Manager Paul Owens was asked if he could pinpoint the Phillies' failure to score against Los Angeles.

"Darn right, good Dodgers pitching," snapped Owens.

hitters took hitting practice Thursday in a voluntary workout for today's third game in the Series, set to start at 3:05 p.m. EDT.

The Dodgers are scheduled to go with right-hander Bob Welch, and Owens will use left-handed hitters Joe Lefebvre and Greg Gross in the outfield in place of right-handers Sixto Lezcano and Garry Maddox.

Owens is optimistic that the hitting which carried the club in its September stretch drive to the NL East title will reappear.

"We hit the ball a lot better Wednesday night than we did Tuesday," Owens said.

'But we hit into three doubleplays and that always takes the wind out of any club. I think we're swinging better than we did earlier against this team.

Owens was happy to get out of Los Angeles with a split.

'You go on the other guy's turf you have to feel fortunate to get out, 1-1. I never thought it would be a sweep. These are two evenly matched clubs. It well could go to a fifth game.

Although the Phillies haven't hit much in the first two games, the Dodgers are nothing to brag about. They averaged .206 to .190 for the Phillies.

Mike Marshall, who con--tributed a nice running catch of a liner by Joe Morgan to save a couple of runs in the sixth inning Wednesday night. has left 10 on base

"Sure I'm frustrated," said Marshall, who hit .300 in the stretch for the Dodgers. "My defense did not make up for it (lack of offense). "I'm like anyone else. I want to get a hit every time I go up." Marshall Marshall said he expected to get a lot of chances to get some hits in Philadelphia.

service points for Greene The Phillies are going with Central, while Bradley had rookie pitcher Charles Hudson

I've got a lot of confidence in him," said Owens. "He's partly responsible for us being here," the manager said of the youngster who posted an 8-8 record after being called up May 31, from Portland in the Pacific Coast League.

Owens isn't concerned that Hudson lost twice to the Dodgers in the regular season. He worked 12 2-3 innings, allowed 11 hits and six runs for a 4.26 earned run average. All the runs were earned. He allowed one home run, struck out 10 and walked three.

Hudson isn't trying to fool anyone. He admits he's nervous. The 24-year-old right-hander said he's trying to treat this as just another

But I know everyone in the nation will be watching,' Hudson observed.

Hudson, who won important games from Montreal and Pittsburgh in the battle for the East title, said the Expos and Pirates had more left-handed

'The Dodgers have more right-handed power and as a right-hander this will be an advantage to me.," Hudson

Hudson's opponent, Welch, probably was the best pitcher for the Dodgers in the stretch. He was 15-12 during the season, beat the Phillies once,

Rampants Kick Goldsboro, 4-0

GOLDSBORO - Rose High School's soccer team bounced back after three straight shutout losses to take a shutout of its own, downing Goldsboro 4-0 yesterday

Jeff Stallings scored at the 14 minute mark off an assist by Carl Wille, and Pedro Gener came back seven minutes later with another Rampant goal with Clark Stallings assisting.

Smith closed out the scoring at the 34 minute mark with an assist by Wille.

For goalie Greg Ward, it was the third shutout of the year. Coach Will Wiberg also cited the play of David Ely. Bruce Thompson and Chip Smith in the contest.

Now 5-3 in the conference and 5-4 overall, Rose plays host to Rocky Mount on Hayes' fourth inning single was the only hit in that 1-0 game. Welch also has league championship experience, appearing in four playoffs. He won game one from the Phillies in 1978. He was 0-0 in three relief stints against Montreal in 1981. Los Angeles Manager Tom Lasorda said knowing that the Dodgers beat the Phillies five of six in Philadelphia gives him a good feeling, but he can't consider the past. "It doesn't matter what you did in the past, we have to go there now and play aggressive baseball, and play good defense," Lasorda said

Defense against the Dodgers has frustrated the Phillies, who made 15 errors to but seven for L.A. during the regular season. The trend has continued in the playoff. The Phillies have made three to two of them led to three unearned runs in the 4-1 second game defeat.

Ironically, the Phillies are supposed to be the team with the tight defense, while the Dodgers are considered one of the poorest defensive teams in the league. But they make the plays against Philadelphia. Third baseman Mike Schmidt and center fielder Garry Maddox have 15 gold gloves between them and each has made an error in this series. Maddox' cost two unearned runs Wednesday when the score was tied, 1-1.

Pete Rose observed, "I wish I could figure it out. They don't ever seem to get a bad hop or anything. Mike Marshall played that ball (Morgan's drive) all wrong (in right field) and comes out smelling like a rose.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) -North Carolina State wide receiver Ricky Wall, injured during practice this week, has been suspended from the team for three weeks, coach Tom Reed announced Thursday.

Reed said in a brief statement that Wall, a junior, had been suspended for the Georgia Tech, North Carolina and Clemson games "as a result of his violating the conduct code pertaining to academic requirements set January 23, 1983, for the N.C. State football squad.

Wall had caught 16 passes for 243 yards and two touchdowns in four games. In the 38-15 victory over Wake Forest, Wall caught five passes for 88 yards.

Orioles Win, 4-0, To Even Playo

BALTIMORE (AP) - Mike Boddicker spent part of his day installing a CB radio in his pickup. Gary Roenicke used the time to play with his children. Then they went to work, and helped the Baltimore Orioles escape a dangerous situation in the American League Championship Series.

Boddicker, a 26-year-old rookie, registered a recordtying 14 strikeouts and Roenicke, a veteran at age 28, hit a two-run homer and scored two other runs Thursday night as the Orioles beat the Chicago White Sox 4-0 to tie the series at one game apiece.

The best-of-five cham- no team has ever dropped the pionship set resumes tonight in Chicago, with Rich Dotson, 22-7, pitching for the White Sox against Baltimore's Mike Flanagan, 12-4, and the situation facing them is drastically different than if the White Sox had won Game No. 2.

Since the league championship series began in 1969, back to win the pennant, a point not lost on either man-

"I feel an awful lot better than I did last night," Baltimore's Joe Altobelli said.

"Am I happy with a split? Not particularly," said Chicago's Tonny LaRussa. Boddicker became the first first two at home and come rookie to hurl a shutout in AL championship play, limiting the White Sox to five hits. His 14 strikeouts were a career high and the most by an American League pitcher this year, but his chief thought after the game was more of of pain than elation.

"All I have in mind right now is ice," he said as he waited for reporters' questions to end so he could soak his tired right armm.

Told he had struck out 14 batters, the Norway, Iowa, resident grimaced and said: 'No wonder my arm hurts."

Boddicker inflicted some pain himself Thursday night, both physically and psychologically.

He tied a championship series record by hitting two batters, Tom Paciorek and Greg Luzinski. And the White Sox conceded that they were constantly out of tempo with his curves and sliders.

"He kept his breaking ball low, and there's nothing you can do with a low breaking ball," said Chicago's slugging left-fielder, Ron Kittle, who had a single and a walk. "If he sees he can get you on it, he'll throw it all night

"He changes speed so well,

Vance Law. "They look good, but by the time you start to swing you know they're not. We weren't patient enough.' Boddicker's 14 strikeouts tied a playoff record set by Detroit's Joe Coleman in 1972 and matched by Pittsburgh's John Candelaria in 1975. But the historic day started like any other, he said.

'A friend came over and we talked about the game. Then I installed a CB in my pickup, said Boddicker, whose citizens band handle is "Trapper."

Until he got to Memorial Stadium, Roenicke's day also was rather routine.

"I have two sons, ages 1 and 4, and I spent the day with them," the left-fielder said. "We went out and bought a toy box, and we watched movies and washed the car.

The idea, Roenicke said, was to take his mind off the game. A platoon player who gives way to left-handed batter John Lowenstein against right-handed pitching, Roenicke sat out Wednesday night's series-opening 2-1 loss to the White Sox and righty LaMarr Hoyt.

The wait was worth it. 'In six years of professional ball, this is the best game I've ever had," Roenicke said. after going 2-for-2.

Roenicke doubled leading off the second inning and scored the game's first run when Law first bobbled Ken Singleton's grounder, then threw it past first baseman Paciorek

He walked with one out in the fourth and came home on Ken Singleton's ground-ball double to left, then finished the scoring with a two-run homer to left-center field following a leadoff double by Cal Ripken in the sixth. LaRussa said Boddicker 'didn't give us much to hit. He pitched well, and Roenicke broke our backs. We beat them yesterday. They outplayed us today.

Boddicker now is 3-0 against the White Sox, and this was his second shutout against

Disney Channel Movie 'Brainstorm' In Inspirational, Timely

Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP) — It's a familiar story told in a new, visually captivating way and just in time for the World

Roy Scheider, an Oscarwinning actor of considerable versatility, plays Billy Young, an aging, fading ballplayer whose success at bat seems to be all that motivates a fatherless city kid named Alex.

'Tiger Town," scheduled to premiere Sunday night, is the first movie made exclusively for The Disney Channel pay-cable TV network. And it's all that you might expect of a family film: heartwarming, hopeful, inspirational, slightly sentimental and, with an important exception, not particularly original.

"If you believe in something, with all your heart. you can make it happen, Buddy, unaware that his hours are numbered, tells his 11-year-old son Alex, played by Justin Henry, an Academy-Award nominee from the movie "Kramer vs. Kramer

Yesterday's Cryptoquip - ACE WATCH SALESMAN ON THE ROAD IS VIEWED AS A TIME TRAVELER. Today's Cryptoquip clue: J equals N.

The Cryptoquip is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words, and words using an apostrophe can give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is accomplished by trial and error

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1983

YOUR DAILY from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is certainly your day to search deeply and investigate whatever you do not understand for your powers of perception are accurate and you can bring forth the information you need.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr. 19) Study your bills and know how much others expect of you now and try to please them and gain prestige and good will

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Partners are working on a plan that you should know about, so ask them what it is. Your ideas can help implement it GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study your work duties carefully and know how to handle them more efficiently You are at your best today. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Cut down on expenses for frivolous affairs. Also avoid someone who causes you to spend money foolishly LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) See what can be done to improve conditions at your home and add to harmony there

Be an understanding mediator. VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Good day to ferret out the truth in any puzzling situations and get rid of confusion

Someone is misleading you LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan how to have a greater income via ethical and obvious ways, and schedule your time wisely. Curb overspending

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Go over your bills and know how much you owe and pay whatever you can so that you can enhance your reputation

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec. 21) Concentrate on what is truly important in your life and endeavor to gain your aims Be direct in personal dealings about some vital affairs, discuss them with a true friend and get right advice. Avoid a jealous person.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) If you have any doubts

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Make sure that you handle any credit matters with precision. This is also true of

PLITT THEATRES

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make that plan for self advancement and then carry through with it meticulously Seek the aid of an expert

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those charming young persons who is capable of penetrating into whatever is mysterious and would do well in investigative work of all kinds, so slant the education along such lines for best results during the lifetime

The Stars impel: they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to you! 1983. The McNaught Syndicate. Inc

Says Warren Landfill 'Safe'

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) Human Resources Public Affairs director Bryant Haskins says Warren County residents shouldn't worry about a PCB landfill affecting their health. Haskins said there is an extremely small accumulation of PCB-contaminated water at the landfill.

'It's a pretty dry landfill. We're really surprised we're finding so little moisture in the landfill," Haskins said. The levels are so low that we're hardly able to measure them.

The five-acre landfill was formally inspected late last summer by both state and Environmental Protection Agency engineers

CHARGE OBSTRUCTION SANTIAGO, Chile AP The mayor of a Santiago suburb has been dismissed from his job and jailed on charges of obstructing the investigation of an antigovernment protester.

Agency Inc. during a regular meeting in Cary, he said the new system severely limited the amount of money that federal plan to restrict money paid to hospitals for treating Medicare and Medicaid patients may force institutions to reject serious illness in favor of those that can be treated more easily says an official of the Uni versity of North Carolina. Dr. James D. Suver. financial management official for the university's School of Public Health, said the plan being put into effect by the Reagan administration was "politically motivated and has nothing to do with health care.

Speaking to members of the Capital Health Systems could be spent on medical

The health systems agency is interested in the new federal plan because it must oversee construction and acquisition of medical facilities in an 11-county region. Its primary purpose is to eliminate duplication of services, which tends to increase medical costs

After nine oranges, she switches to purple, then one more knock-knock. "Who's there?" I say wearily

"Orange you glad I didn't say orange?" she asks.

Tragic Fires

Next week is Fire Prevention Week. It was on October 8, 1871 that two of the worst fires in the nation's history occured. The Peshtigo, Wisconsin fire was responsible for more human deaths than any other fire in U.S. history. It began as a forest fire and eventually swept across six counties, destroying 2 billion trees and killing

1152 people. At the same time, the Great Chicago
