Record High Employment

Jobs Picture Improves

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's civilian jobless rate fell to 7.5 percent in May, the lowest since August 1981, as new hiring by business created 890,000 jobs, the government reported today. Total employment reached 105.3 million, the highest on record.

Last month's rate also matched the 7.5 percent level of January 1981, when President Reagan took office.

The 0.3 percentage point dip from April's seasonally adjusted 7.8 percent civilian jobless rate broke a string of two months of standstill unemployment. The good news notwithstanding, an estimated 8.5 million Americans were still without jobs, the Labor Department said.

But today's report was studied with good news for the labor market as hundreds of thousands of young people prepare to enter the labor force in search of summertime jobs.

Of the more than 105 million working Americans, 42.5 million were women. This represented 50.5 percent of the more than 85 million women in the population, "the first time ever that more than half of all adult women have been employed," the department said.

The overall civilian rate fell even though roughly 558,000 people entered the labor force in search of work. The creation of nearly 900,000 jobs more than accommodated the new job seekers.

The declines in joblessness touched every population group, but was strongest among adult men and women and among blacks.

The average manufacturing workweek fell by 30 minutes from the high April level of 41.2 hours to 40.7 hours, an indication that employers were willing to hire new workers rather than just spread the work among the existing workforce. The 7.5 percent civilian rate was 3.2 percentage points below the post-Depression peak of 10.7 percent recorded in November 1982. Since then, when the ranks of the unemployed topped 12 million, the tally of the jobless has plummeted by 3.4 million.

An alternative unemployment rate, combining the 113.2 million-member civilian labor force with the 1.7 million members of the armed forces stationed in the United States, fell from 7.7 percent to 7.4 percent.

In testimony prepared for the congressional Joint Economic Committee, the commissioner of

Clark Gets PCMH Job

Roy B. Clark Jr. will become vice president for financial services at Pitt County Memorial Hospital, effective July 2.

Clark is now senior vice president for fiscal affairs with the five-hospital Wake County Hospital System Inc. He has worked in this system since 1965, serving in various capacities including comptroller, internal auditor, budget officer and chief accountant.

He has an associate degree in accounting from King's Business College and bachelor's degrees in accounting and business management from N.C. State University. He and his wife have two adult children.

Clark said, "I am looking forward to my new position at Pitt County Memorial. It is a growing and developing system which has tremendous potential. I want to be a part of it."

PCMH Vice President Fred Brown, in announcing Clark's hiring, said, "Roy is well-respected in health-care financial management circles and will be a real asset to our management team."

Manhunt Near Warrenton

Virginia Death Row Escapees Tracked

By JOHN FLESHER
Associated Press Writer
WARRENTON, N.C. (AP) — Authorities used dogs and helicopters as they pressed their search today for six Death Row inmates armed with homemade weapons who overpowered guards at Virginia's maximum security prison and fled to North Carolina.

Ron Hawley, assistant supervisor of the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation, told a news conference that the search was confined to Warren County.

Gov. Jim Hunt said North Carolina and Virginia officials had discussed using National Guard troops as needed to help in the search.

Hawley said the inmates were believed to have attempted to steal several vehicles, including the Davis car and a truck stolen from Paynter Enterprises. Both vehicles were recovered, Hawley said, adding that a third attempt to steal a vehicle was made in the area but failed. Hawley would not elaborate.

He said the search focused on reports of unidentified persons by residents in the area. Hawley said that while a number of reports had come in, the exact location of any of the suspects was unknown.

Hawley urged people living in Warren and Vance counties to "be extremely cautious if approached by strangers." The escapees are not believed to have weapons other than homemade knives and sticks, Hawley said.

About 60 law enforcement officers from nine law enforcement agencies from North Carolina and Virginia, some using bloodhounds, were searching an area about one-fourth of a mile east of Warrenton. Roadblocks were set up on five roads surrounding Warrenton.

Warren County Sheriff's Deputy Bobby Bolton said the inmates attempted to steal a car from Andrew Lee Davis, 20, of Warrenton.

Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Harrison said two men got into Davis' car at a stoplight on main street and asked for a ride. Davis drove the men out of town and said he became suspicious after they "started acting strange."

One of the men pulled a homemade knife, held it to his throat, and "said if he didn't drive, he would kill him," Harrison said.

Davis stopped the car, struggled with his abductors and got away. He said the two men drove the car only about 25 yards before halting and fleeing on foot.

"I guess they were frightened because of the way he (Davis) was hollering and screaming and carrying on, so they just decided to run," said Harrison.

Davis was shaken and had a few cuts and scratches.

About 7 a.m., a Warrenton Police Department spokeswoman said two men who may have been the abductors were spotted by a resident.

Nancy Paschall said there "was no positive proof" that two men seen walking along an unpaved road southeast of Warrenton were the escapees. She said an aerial search of the area would be conducted.

Hurricane 'Season' Opens With 9 Storms Predicted

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Forecasters predict that nine tropical storms, boasting winds of at least 39 mph, will threaten U.S. coastal points during the 1984 Atlantic hurricane season, which began today and runs through November.

William Gray, a professor of atmospheric science at Colorado State University in Fort Collins, says seven of the storms will grow to hurricane strength with winds of at least 74 mph.

The season average is six hurricanes.

Names selected for storms this hurricane season are Arthur, Bertha, Cesar, Diana, Edouard, Fran, Gustav, Hortense, Isidore, Josephine, Klaus, Lili, Marco, Nana, Omar, Paloma, Rene, Sally, Teddy, Vicky and Wilfred.

"There's definitely greater potential for storms this year than the last two years," said Gray, basing his predictions on the interaction of several weather factors this year.

One reason is the demise of a weather phenomenon called El Nino, which has inhibited hurricane development in the Atlantic for the last two years, he said.

In 1982 and 1983, when there were only nine named storms, there was a very strong El Nino, a Pacific Ocean current that affects atmospheric temperatures and therefore global weather.

The 1982 season had five named storms, none of which hit the United States.

The 1983 season was the quietest in 50 years, with four named storms. But one of them was Alicia, which killed 21 people and caused billions of dollars in damage when it slammed into the Texas coast near Galveston in August 1983.

Neil Frank, director of the National Hurricane Center here, says Gray's study is "very interesting," but adds: "Even if we had 11 storms next year, it's really immaterial unless I can predict if one is going to hit you."

A probability system has been developed by the Navy for calculating the odds of a hurricane reaching land.

The system, which was first used by the National Weather Service last year, calculates the odds of a storm approaching within 65 miles of 44 selected major cities on the Gulf and East coasts.

"We trust it will help you make more rational and objective decisions than you've been able to make," Frank said during a recent statewide swing in which he prepared local officials for the upcoming season.

Rouse Asks Court To Order Second Primary In Pitt

Jim Rouse, a candidate for the Greenville Township seat on the Pitt County Board of Commissioners in the May 8 primary, has appealed a decision by the county elections board which would certify incumbent Charles Gaskins as the winner of the Democratic nomination.

Rouse filed a petition Thursday for judicial review with the clerk of Superior Court in Wake County, saying that the Pitt elections board's action in excluding votes for an ineligible candidate in figuring the majority "is not supported by any evidence or competent evidence of record."

Rouse ran second behind Gaskins, in the primary, while Tom Johnson was third.

Frank Grooms, whose name was on the ballot, was disqualified on the day of the primary because he was not a resident of Greenville Township.

The Pitt Board of Elections, in a decision upheld by the State Elections Board, said votes cast for Grooms should not be counted. The board's position was based on an opinion by the state attorney general.

Rouse had asked for a runoff with Gaskins, saying the votes cast for Grooms should be counted in figuring a majority. If Groom's votes were counted, Gaskins would not have a clear majority and Rouse would be entitled to a runoff.

The petition asked that the court order a new primary election for the Greenville Township seat, or that a runoff election be declared, and that certification of Gaskins as the Democratic nominee be stayed until the court reviews the case.

Worker Loses Arm

An employee of Perdue Inc. in Robersonville had his arm virtually severed in two places when it was caught in an auger at the Perdue plant yesterday afternoon.

A trauma team led by Dr. John Hale, a surgeon, was sent from Pitt County Memorial Hospital to extricate Albert Lanier, 28, of Greenville from the machine which severed his arm at the wrist and elbow. The team consisting of Dr. Hale, Dr. Steven Crawshaw and Dr. David McCann amputated Lanier's arm and he was then brought to PCMH where he underwent surgery. He was reported in fair condition at PCMH this morning.

At Thursday's Pizza Party

WINS PIZZA BASH — Elaine Tschetter's food service class at J.H. Rose High School worked on a project in Fleischmann's national program to involve high school students in creating nutritional awareness through direct involvement in the community. Cooperating with Emalynn Colardo from Elmhurst School, the food service students worked with the developmental kindergarten class members to analyze their needs, to plan practical menus for the children and to evaluate what the children learned from their experience. The service project was awarded a second place in national competition and the program received a $1,000 scholarship and funds for a pizza party which was held Thursday. Authoritative Source Is Future Father-In-Law

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old man serving in the U.S. Navy, stationed in the Philippines. After knowing this 22-year-old girl for a year, I recently proposed to her, and she accepted.

Because she is a foreign national, there is much paperwork to be processed before our marriage can take place. One paper needs to be signed by her parents and mine. It states that the parents approve of the marriage. It is a requirement of Philippine law.

My fiancee's father is a pastor of the Church of Christ, and I am of another religion. He will not consent to the marriage unless I convert to their religion. I don't mind converting, but I would like to know more about their religion and their doctrines first.

I would greatly appreciate it if you would send me some information about this religion. I wouldn't have bothered you with this, but I am presently deployed to the Indian Ocean and the chaplains on board do not have the information I need. Thank you.

MICHAEL FROM THE U.S.A.
DEAR MICHAEL: The most authoritative source of information would be your future father-in-law. Write to him.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to comment on the many childless couples who write to you moaning about how miserable they are because they can't have children "of their own."

Don't get me wrong, I'm not unsympathetic toward infertile couples. I am, however, a bit disgusted with childless couples who are so obsessed with reproducing that they speak of little else.

What about each other? Is there so little love and satisfaction in their relationship that it's "empty" without children? Was their only purpose in marrying to produce children?

If the "emptiness" of their lives without children is so intolerable, may I suggest that they take an orphan into their home? It would fill their need to be parents and give the child a wonderful gift—a loving home with parents.

Don't be fooled, Abby. Childless couples are childless by choice. RICHARD G., BRISBANE, CALIF.

DEAR RICHARD: Please don't minimize the heartache and disappointment experienced by couples who desperately want to conceive and bear children and can't. But you make a valid point. No one need be forever childless. Today there are many children growing up in institutions because they are racially mixed, too old to be adopted, or they're physically or mentally handicapped. And there's a special place in heaven for those people who will provide a loving home for such children.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't laugh, but whenever my husband approaches me for sex, I really do get a headache. We've only been married a few months and I need to find a cure real soon because it isn't fair to my husband. Aspirin doesn't help. I was never bothered by headaches before I was married, and I only get them when my husband asks for sex. Please help me. N.J. NEWLYWED

DEAR NEWLYWED: See your doctor and tell him exactly what you have told me. Regardless of the cause, you can be helped, so don't delay.

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of ours drops over nearly every night to visit. It doesn't matter if we have company.

Last Saturday evening we had a few guests for dinner, so this neighbor rang our bell. When I opened the door, she said, "Oh, I see you have company." Then she walked right in, plunked herself down and stayed the whole evening! She is very insensitive, quite argumentative and monopolizes the conversation.

Sheri Howell Honored Friday

Sheri Howell, bride-elect, was honored today at a bridesmaids luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Frank Thompson. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Mark Brinson and Mrs. Frank Steinbeck Jr.

Arrangements of roses in varying colors decorated tables.

Special guests were mothers of the bridal couple, Faye Howell and Ann Singleton, Mrs. F.W. Benton, grandmother of the bride-elect, and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Fred Hill, and Mrs. Frank Collins, aunt of the bridegroom-elect.

The honoree was presented a rose corsage by the hostesses.

Miss Howell was honored at an informal luncheon Thursday at the Sheraton Greenville by Mrs. Jim Ensor and Mrs. Norman Wilkerson.

She was presented a corsage of pink roses and gifts by the hostesses.

My husband and I would like a little privacy, but this nifty neighbor doesn't seem to care. We have been very patient with her, but we have had our fill of her. Must we entertain her even when we have company? US

DEAR US: Yes, you must entertain this woman when you have company, and also when you don't, if she invites herself over and is made to feel welcome. Your alternative is to ask her to please call first and ask if she should come over. But then, if you had the courage to do that, you probably wouldn't have written to me. There are no easy ways to protect oneself against uninvited and unwelcome drop-ins. If you can't tell 'em, you'll have to put up with 'em.

(Every teen-ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 (this includes postage) to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

No Chances

Andrei Sakharov is just one of the Soviet dissidents who was silenced by the Kremlin. The Nobel Prize-winning scientist gets the headlines today because of his international fame and credence; but most of the leadership of human rights activism in the Soviet Union has been silenced.

We are told there are some groups and individuals who still speak out against government policy, notably nationalists and religious rights activists in the Soviet Baltic republic. Their arrests and trials continue. But the big names in the struggle for human rights of a decade ago, such as Scharansky, Yuri Orlov and Alexander Ginzburg have been jailed, sent to cities closed to foreigners or silenced in other ways.

The Soviet government takes no chances with what they see as a cancer in their social system. Last year their courts were empowered to extend sentences for simple violations of prison rules. The law forbidding "anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda," commonly used against dissidents, has been amended twice; not to relax its impact but to toughen it.

Make no mistake about it. Dissent is not permitted as a matter of government policy. The governed have little or no voice and only those rights that the elite permit.

It makes one wonder if the monstrous structure can long survive; or if it is truly the model social order its builders say is destined to prevail.

The latter thought makes George Orwell a piker by comparison.

Knowledge that the feudal system lasted almost six centuries should dismay those who look to the future.

Hope Reborn

The American preoccupation with lighter-than-air craft dates back many years — from the early days of ballooning into the period of zeppelins and passenger-carrying airships as well as the workhorse blimp.

It was apparent, early-on, the aircraft shared shortcomings as well as points of adaptability for given tasks. Experimentation in the search for roles they could best fulfill has persisted despite partial successes and disappointments.

Perhaps the memory of World War II service as convoy escorts prevailed in the decision of the U.S. Coast Guard to experiment anew with blimps as an arm in the war against drug-smuggling. It is particularly important to North Carolinians — not only in that our coastline is historically a smugglers' haven, but that a blimp-building industry does exist in Elizabeth City.

It is especially remarkable that the fascination with lighter-than-air flight prevails time and again over disappointments of the past to earn renewed research for a role to which they might be especially well suited.

WASHINGTON — House Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill's fear that President Reagan would again make him look weak explains his unannounced intention to postpone House action on moving the U.S. Embassy in Israel from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

The speaker has passed the word quietly to sponsors of the embassy relocation bill to "cool it" at least through the summer. O'Neill fears that Reagan could sustain a veto of any bill ordering the embassy to be moved in accordance with Israel's long-standing desires and the insistence of pro-Israeli leaders in Congress, including California Democrat Rep. Thomas Lantos.

Reagan made O'Neill eat crow recently when the House voted to give the MX missile new financing. O'Neill had publicly predicted the Democratic-controlled House would kill the missile for good. That's enough political punishment for one old Irishman from another and the speaker wants no more humiliation.

The White House apology to Budget Director David Stockman for public criticism of him by Larry Speakes came after an outraged Stockman burst into the West Wing and demanded satisfaction from Chief of Staff James Baker III.

Stockman had leaked stories that the White House was going to take a softer line against Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker after Baker and his lieutenant, Richard Darman, lunched with the budget director.

Baker and Darman put out word to Speakes, the White House spokesman, to knock down the stories.

But Speakes went too far. He told reporters that Stockman was the source of the leak. That was too much for Stockman, who lost his cool and demanded an apology. Rather than risk another public airing of an internal White House feud, Speakes was ordered to apologize and indicate he did not really know the source of the leak.

Behind Walter F. Mondale's demand for a special New Jersey debate before the June 5 primary lies full awareness by his campaign staff that Sen. Gary Hart's strategists want to limit face-to-face confrontations.

Ever since Mondale slaughtered Hart in the New York primary debate in March, their marathon race for the nomination has featured a cat-and-mouse game over debates. Hart aides feel their man won Ohio on May 8, and thereby kept his candidacy alive, because they were able to duck a debate there.

Naturally, the Hart camp also wants to avoid a New Jersey debate and would even like to get out of the nationally televised debate scheduled for June 2. Privately, Hart backers say Mondale's pugnacity intimidates the senator in one-on-one confrontations.

National Republican operatives could not believe their eyes last week when they saw how poorly President Reagan was rated by voters in Illinois, the state of his birth, in secret GOP polls.

The sluggish drop in state unemployment and the stagnant rural economy in normally Republican downstate areas help explain a office. Immediately, all the likely contenders for the 1980 Democratic gubernatorial nomination, people like Attorney General Rufus Edmisten, Insurance Commissioner John Ingram and Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green, had to begin considering a race in 1984 instead.

In four years of covering a campaign, a reporter sees and hears some amusing little things that don't fit in a regular story. Here are a few.

There was the candidate — I can't remember which one — who was working his way through a courthouse, shaking all the hands he could find. Outside of Superior Court, he makes a quick campaign pitch to a nice, but somber-looking family that's sitting on a bench. He moves on and they go back to waiting for the jury to decide if their son is guilty or innocent.

Rufus Edmisten goes into the Catawba County Courthouse during the run-off campaign and actually interprets court proceedings — at prearranged spots — so he can give jury, judge and audience short civics lessons in two different courtrooms. While he's at it, he throws in a pitch for a better victims' compensation program, a favorite issue of his.

Then there was that hot summer's afternoon in Bethel when four teen-aged boys in a Camaro spotted a pretty blonde walking in the parking lot of the grocery store. They stop and she's willing to talk. Unfortunately for Mrs. Eddie Knox, none are old enough to vote for her husband. Still, she talks with them long enough for campaign workers to cover the car with Knox bumper stickers.

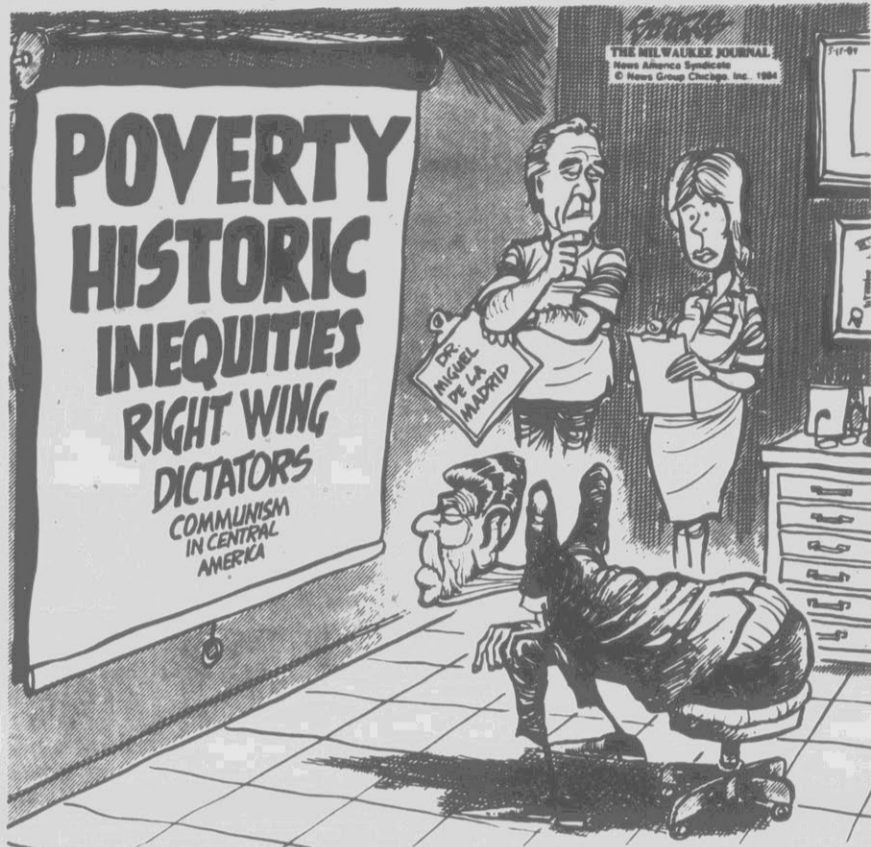

At a fund-raiser in Rocky Mount, a Knox supporter tells me that "If Eddie could just meet every person in this state personally, he'd win easy." In the next three months, at least one person affiliated with each of the six major Democratic candidates and the Republican nominee for governor says exactly the same thing about their candidate.

In Lexington, Lauch Faircloth tells a civic club about the McDonald's restaurant in his hometown of Clinton, "It's the only one in the world that sells Mac-Chitlins."

In Asheville, in October 1983, Edmisten tells Faircloth it will cost him $3 million "to get your name known." As Faircloth tells the story, his retort is, "It's going to cost you $6 million to get yours cleared up." Edmisten apparently "cleared up" his name sufficiently to get Faircloth's endorsement after the first primary.

Glenn Miller, head of the state's Ku Klux Klan and a Democratic candidate for governor, excuses himself from a meeting with reporters in April saying, "I have an appointment at the governor's mansion. I want to make sure the furniture doesn't clash with our uniforms."

Jerry Mobley, Edmisten's press aide, borrows a limo in Asheville and a TV reporter drives him around town. They stop at a middle-aged woman's house, get directions to the Biltmore House and, as they're leaving, the reporter deadpans, "Should I head in that direction, Mr. Rockefeller?" The woman, stunned, shakes Mobley's hand and says, "So nice to meet you, Mr. Rockefeller."

'Pathetic case — can't make out anything past the last three lines!'

Regardless Of Name, MX Is Still There

The first time I heard of the MX was back in 1979 when a friend of mine at the Pentagon called me and said, "What would you think if we came up with a new missile designed to deter the Soviets from launching a first-strike attack against the United States?"

"It sounds good to me," I said. "What makes this missile different from all the other ones we have in stock?"

"It would be based on rails under the deserts of Nevada and Utah. We'll have a hundred of them moving around at all times and the Soviets will never know where they are."

"How much money are we talking about?"

"Would you go for $50 billion?"

"Why not? It's a steal if it will bring the Kremlin to its senses."

He said, "You won't be sorry." I didn't hear any more about it until 1981, when I ran into my friend at a Georgetown party. "How are you doing with the MX missile?"

"You mean the 'Peacekeeper'?"

"Is that what you call it now?"

"That's what President Reagan calls it. We scrapped the race track concept and decided to put them into stationary Titan silos in Wyoming."

"I thought the whole idea behind the weapon was that it would be mobile. If you put them in stationary silos, won't they be vulnerable to attack?"

"Not if we harden the concrete. If the 'Peacekeeper' doesn't make the Russians see the value of arms talks, nothing will."

"How much are we talking about now?"

"We don't want to put a price on it until we get in all the bids from the cement companies."

I was so busy with the placing of the cruise missiles in Europe I didn't have time to think much about the "Peacekeeper" until my friend called me last month and said, "Well, we really think we've got the system worked out now. Instead of placing the 'Peacekeeper' in individual silos we're going to put 100 of them in a 'Dense Pack.' Even if the Soviets knock out 80 we can still launch 20 and that should do the job."

"If you've got it figured out, why are you bothering me?"

"It seems some jerk in the General Accounting Office did a study and said the 'Peacekeeper' can't do the job we said it would, so Congress is balking. They don't want to throw good money after bad money. We thought you might call your friends up on the Hill and persuade them that we need the weapon whether it works or not."

"Why do we need it if it doesn't work?"

"We need it as a chip to get the Soviets back to the arms talks in Geneva. If we scrap the 'Peacekeeper' now it will send a signal to them we're not serious about arms reduction."

"Maybe Congress wants to use the money for other weapons that do work. How can I persuade them to go along with one they're not sure of?"

"Just point out to them that it's an election year, and if they vote against the 'Peacekeeper' the president will accuse them of weakening our defense posture."

"You mean you want me to use the MX as a chip against Congress?"

"Why not? It won't be that hard now that the Russians have pulled out of the Olympics."

I called up all my Democratic friends in Congress and put it to them. If they dumped the "Peacekeeper" now their political futures were in jeopardy. We worked out a compromise. They said they would hold off funding the MX until April, 1985. If the Soviets still refused to resume arms talks we would start production. Then I called back the Pentagon and told my friend about the deal.

He seemed satisfied. "We can use the time to see if we can make the damn thing work."

Strength For Today

We have to like our work if we are going to make a success of it. If it's only carrying a hod, a person has to like to carry bricks in order to be what the boss would call a cheerful and first-class member of the team.

Of course, we can learn to like our work. Many a person has started in a variety of work he abhorred. But whether we always like our work or come at last to like it, like it we must if we are going to be successful in it. The person who will never make an outstanding success at anything is the person who likes one thing about as well as another and no thing with consuming passion.

In a world full of needs to be met by the strong, there is no such thing as a separate category of dignified work. All work is dignified if done by people who have true dignity of soul, and who address themselves to the task at hand with all the effort and enthusiasm they possess.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠.

Looking at the North-South hands, it might seem that, unless diamonds break 3-3, South will need the heart finesse to make his spade slam. But, in the words of the Gershwins, "it ain't necessarily so."

Even though North was a passed hand, South had slam aspirations. He could not use Blackwood because of his two fast losers in diamonds, so he started a cue-bidding sequence. When North cooperated by showing the ace of diamonds, South bounced into slam.

West led the jack of clubs. Declarer won in hand, drew trumps in two rounds, cashed the king of clubs and ruffed dummy's remaining club. It might seem that declarer should now take the diamond finesse, but that has an obvious drawback. If the finesse loses, East will surely shift to a heart. Declarer will then have to decide whether to take the heart finesse or play for a 3-3 diamond division.

After some study, declarer realized that, if West had the king of diamonds, he didn't need the finesse! Declarer led a diamond to the ace and returned a low diamond. Had East played low, declarer would have inserted the queen. If West takes the king, his only safe return is a diamond. Declarer will have time to see if diamonds are 3-3 before his ace of hearts is forced out.

As the cards lie, East must win the second diamond. Declarer wins the heart return, cashes the jack of diamonds, then gets back to his hand with a trump to discard the table's remaining heart on the queen of diamonds. Declarer has succeeded in combining his lines of play without giving up anything.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A military court has convicted two men of spying for the CIA and sentenced them to 12 and 15 years imprisonment, according to Poland's state-run media.

Polish citizen Jacek Jurzak and a Polish-born West German, Norbert Adamaschek, received "lenient sentences" because they "confessed" to accepting money for supplying the CIA with "regular reports on social, political, economic and defense questions in Poland," state-run television reported.

Other people convicted by Polish courts of spying for Western nations have been executed or sentenced to up to 25 years imprisonment.

Knox-Edmisten Set For Debate

By The Associated Press
Strategists for Democratic gubernatorial candidate Eddie Knox hope a debate will be a turning point in the campaign, while Rufus Edmisten's camp hopes to maintain the front runner status.

The candidates will debate tonight at 9 p.m. on the University of North Carolina system's television network.

Edmisten's strategists insisted upon a moderator for the debate because they said they did not want the broadcast to turn into a forum for personal attacks.

Blount said he agreed to a tightly controlled format because "we figured it was the only thing they'd agree to."

Knox said he believed a series of debates, rather than only one, would have had more impact on his campaign.

Meanwhile, Edmisten consulted his media advisor in Washington on the eve of the debate, and Knox criticized his opponent for airing an ad which invited viewers to call Knox office and ask him to stop making negative statements about Edmisten.

Knox called the commercial "one of the oldest, dirtiest tricks in the book." Knox said phones in his Raleigh campaign office were jammed Wednesday after the ad was broadcast.

Also Thursday, the Knox campaign announced that a new North Carolina Educators for Knox Steering Committee had formed. Committee member Dr. Barbara Tapscott said the committee was comprised of about 200 educators.

Meanwhile, the Edmisten campaign announced the formation of a committee of 100 Educators for Edmisten. The committee consists of local presidents and chairmen of the North Carolina Association of Educators and the Political Action Committee for Education, teachers of the year, principals and retired educators.

"Education is my number one priority," Edmisten said in a news release. "These 100 outstanding educators will be in the forefront of my efforts to improve education in North Carolina."

In other political news, Gov. Jim Hunt on Thursday called for Congress to create incentives for states to limit hospital payments and the rate of Medicare increases.

Later in the day, Hunt told about 100 elderly people at the Senior Opportunities Center in Asheville if he had been in the U.S. Senate last year, he would've supported a bipartisan compromise on Social Security.

Hunt criticized his opponent, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., for recommending the Social Security program be replaced with a private investment plan.

"I will go to Washington committed to protect and strengthen Social security and affordable health care for the elderly," Hunt said. "The other candidate, Jesse Helms, has voted against Social Security, voted against important things for Medicare in the past and can be expected to do so in the future."

Claude Allen of the Helms for Senate Committee said Helms proposed the private investment plan for Social Security to strengthen it, rather than end the program. Allen said Helms voted against the bipartisan Social Security plan because he considered it to be like applying "a Band-Aid to a wound that needed major surgery."

Republican Runoff For Lt. Governor Has Sharp Contrast

RALEIGH (AP) — A wealthy manufacturer of crime-fighting equipment faces a little-known retired Army sergeant in next Tuesday's runoff election for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

John Carrington, president of Raleigh-based The Sirchie Group, faces Frank Jordan of Richmond County, who has acknowledged he may have finished first in the May 8 primary because his surname is identical to that of Democratic nominee state Sen. Bob Jordan.

Carrington has spent around $108,000, mostly his own money, and his billboards, posters and television advertisements have appeared from mountains to coast.

Jordan has spent about $20 since the primary, and he's sung gospel tunes as much as he's talked politics during his few campaign appearances.

While officially neutral, the state Republican Party leadership has made little secret of its preference for Carrington. Jordan recently called for the resignation of GOP Chairman David Flaherty, saying he was biased toward Carrington. Flaherty retorted that Jordan was a publicity hound.

The Carrington camp has ignored Jordan, concentrating on building their candidate's name recognition and hoping that Republicans who vote June 5 will have learned the difference between Frank Jordan and Bob Jordan.

"I would hope the voter would be informed before he goes to the polls," said Jim Gocke, a business associate and top Carrington adviser. Carrington did not return several telephone calls this week, and Gocke said he was traveling and unavailable for comment.

Jordan garnered 40,257 votes or 30.7 percent in the first primary. Carrington came in second with 35,106 votes or 26.8 percent and former state Rep. Bill Hiatt of Mount Airy was third with 27,600 votes or 21.1 percent.

Jordan acknowledged on election night that his name might have been a factor in his strong showing. Since then, he has downplayed the connection and denies that most of his supporters confused him with Bob Jordan, who ran a highly publicized campaign that included several TV ads.

Between gospel songs, Jordan promises during his appearances that if elected he'll work to give the governor veto power and repeal the intangibles tax.

Car Hits School Bus, Injures 6

GREENSBORO (AP) — Six people were slightly injured Thursday afternoon when a car involved in a collision was pushed into a school bus, Guilford County school officials said.

Ralph Moran, director of transportation for Guilford County schools, said the school bus was preparing to stop on SR 1007 south of Greensboro when it was struck near the rear bumper.

Moran said a car going in the opposite direction from the bus had started to slow down, but was struck from behind by a second car and pushed into the side of the bus.

"It was my understanding that nobody on the bus was even hurt," Moran said. "The car really only bumped the rear of the bus, near the rear bumper."

A Guilford County emergency medical service spokesman said six people were taken to area hospitals, all with minor injuries.

Educators Say Writing Test Shows More Work Is Needed

CHARLOTTE (AP) — While schools do a good job teaching students grammar, spelling and punctuation, they are not effectively teaching them how to organize and communicate ideas coherently, some educators say.

The new statewide test of writing skills for ninth graders was administered in late January and is part of the N.C. Annual Testing Program. Only 1 percent received the highest possible score while 45.5 percent received the lowest possible score.

"I think the test has put into clear focus something we know and now have more evidence of — we have to do a better job teaching children to communicate, particularly how to communicate in writing," said Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Superintendent Jay Robinson.

One reason for the low scores, he said, is "teachers have had very limited — if any — training in the teaching of writing." Instead, they have been trained in college to teach writing mechanics.

But grammar, spelling and punctuation alone don't make effective writing, said University of North Carolina at Charlotte English Professor Sam Watson.

"The heart of writing is the development of an idea so that it is understandable to the writer and to his audience," said Watson, codirector of the UNCC Writing Project, a special summer program to help teachers improve how they teach writing.

"I think the results say that students in North Carolina need additional opportunities to write, that they need practice and they need teachers who can guide them in that practice," he said. "The irony is that for years public schools nationwide have taught grammar and considered themselves to be teaching writing."

Results show that more than 70 of the ninth graders in Charlotte-Mecklenburg, Gaston County and Salisbury schools demonstrated acceptable usage of punctuation, grammar, spelling and sentence structure. In addition, more than 60 of the ninth graders in seven other Piedmont districts showed good writing mechanics.

For several years, North Carolina students have demonstrated a knowledge of writing mechanics by scoring above the national average on the verbal section of the California Achievement Test (CAT).

But written composition never has been tested statewide, said Barbara Secrest, a research coordinator for North Carolina's southwest education region.

Some educators challenged the test's scientific validity.

"The scoring methods and everything about it are grossly questionable," said Betsy Ross, a teacher of gifted and talented students at Alexander Graham Junior High in Charlotte. "You cannot take one Planning — an important step in Greenville's growth. For information on City planning and zoning requirements, call 752-4137.

writing sample and base any kind of reliable statistics on it," said Ross, who holds two master's degrees and has researched educational testing.

"There are kids that I teach with IQs of 139 that did not score high," she said. "No one should have given this test. It's worse than a street-corner survey."

But Secrest defended the test, saying, "This is not something that has been done whimsically." The N.C. Annual Testing Commission began developing the writing test in 1979 and field-tested it in 18 school districts in spring 1983.

"North Carolina's (writing test) program, as best we can tell, is very good," Secrest said.

Gov. Jim Hunt said he had not seen the results of writing tests administered to ninth graders. But he said the low scores show where the problem areas are.

"That's one of the reasons we put in a writing test," Hunt said, referring to the low scores. "Whatever the tests show that's what we need to get correcting."

Hunt said it may take some seminars to help teachers teach writing better.

NATO Rejecting Concessions For Soviets

By BARRY SCHWEJD
AP Diplomatic Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The NATO allies ended a meeting of 16 foreign ministers here firm in their determination to make no concessions to the Soviet Union to get nuclear arms control talks going again.

The six-month stalemate in negotiations means deployment of a steady stream of U.S. missiles on European soil — and more Soviet weapons trained on the allies.
But in the three-day meeting that ended here Thursday no pressure apparently was brought to bear on the Reagan administration to try a more conciliatory approach toward Moscow.

The Europeans accepted the view of a senior U.S. official that any concession now would be "a sign of weakness."

The Soviets have demanded a rollback of the cruise and Pershing 2 missiles installed in Europe as a condition for reopening negotiations.
The Reagan administration has rejected the proposal, and demanded the Soviets dismantle their SS-20s.

In their windup communique Thursday, the ministers said NATO's policy is "to maintain nuclear weapons at the lowest level possible for effective deterrence."

But since the Soviets did not accept U.S. missile-reduction proposals, the ministers said, the deployment of American cruise and Pershing 2 missiles must keep going under a 1979 NATO decision.
The Soviets suspended the negotiations in late November, blaming the start of the U.S. missile buildup a few weeks later. Parallel talks to curb longer-range U.S. and Soviet nuclear weapons broke down in December.

President Reagan told NATO Thursday that improved U.S.-Soviet relations were essential to maintaining peace. He also said he was willing to meet the Soviets halfway if they returned to the table.

But the offer to be conciliatory and to "negotiate fairly and flexibly without preconditions" depends on the Soviets making the first move back to Geneva.

U.S. and West European officials acknowledged they did not expect the Kremlin to deal with Reagan on nuclear weapons before the election.

(Flexibility is not a new U.S. theme. Reagan, his chief negotiators and other senior officials sounded it even before the talks broke down. But it has not impressed Soviet leaders, and may be aimed at American voters as well as Moscow.)

With the talks halted, and U.S.-Soviet relations at a low ebb, Reagan wants to assure the electorate that the fault is not his, and that he is open to compromise in the interest of reaching an agreement to curb nuclear arms.)

Sir Geoffrey Howe, the British foreign secretary, told reporters "it is now regarded as a fairly strong probability" that Moscow will maintain its current hard line toward the West at least until the U.S. presidential election in November.

Recognizing the "restlessness of democratic societies," the British minister said there was a "tendency to look for a quick result."

But, he said, the allies realized dealing with the Soviets was a "long-haul" proposition.

Reagan and Secretary of State George P. Shultz gave no hint of any new approach to entice the Soviets to bargain again. However, Shultz said he would "personally welcome" a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the fall, when both attend the U.N. General Assembly session.

Shultz last saw Gromyko at a disarmament conference in Stockholm, Sweden, in January. It failed to break the deadlock between their governments, although talks on reducing conventional forces in Central Europe have been resumed.

Air Strike On Refinery Confirmed

By The Associated Press
Iran today confirmed that Iraqi warplanes had attacked an oil refinery 100 miles inside Iranian territory but said its defense forces downed one plane, killing the pilot, and forced the other planes to flee.

The Iranian report was carried by Tehran radio, which also broadcast a threat that Iran would destroy ports and oil pipelines throughout the Persian Gulf region if the United States intervenes in the Iran-Iraq war.

Iraq, in announcing the air raid Thursday, said its warplanes hit both an oil refinery and a pumping station near Tabriz, about 300 miles northwest of Tehran. An Iraqi spokesman, speaking on state television, said one Iraqi jetfighter was downed.

In addition, Iraq said Thursday it would destroy installations at Iran's main oil terminal, Kharg Island, if Iran decides to proceed with an anticipated major offensive.

Neither country gave a clear indication what damage, if any, was inflicted on the targets during the air raid near Tabriz.

Iran's Parliament speaker, Hashemi Rafsanjani, said in a speech Thursday to artillery and air defense personnel that Iran would destroy ports and oil pipelines around the gulf if the United States intervened in the war, which began in September 1980.

"We shall do so in such a way that they would not be able to rebuild them in the near future," Rafsanjani said. The speech, carried on Tehran radio, was monitored in Bahrain.

The United States has said it would intervene if any attempt was made to close the Strait of Hormuz, the narrow passage at the south end of the gulf through which about 20 percent of the non-communist world's oil passes.

Duarte Takes Oath Of Office

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Jose Napoleon Duarte, once jailed by the army and then sent into exile, takes the oath of office today as El Salvador's first popularly elected civilian president in 53 years.

Duarte will be sworn in at a ceremony attended by U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz and a delegation of U.S. legislators and officials. The two-stage election which he won was conducted with extensive support from the United States.

Duarte will travel in a motorcade down San Salvador's main boulevard today to the Sports Palace, where he is to be draped in the nation's blue and white presidential sash by outgoing President Alvaro Magana.

Shultz heads an 11-member U.S. delegation that includes ultra-conservative Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and liberal Sen. Paul Tongas, D-Mass.

Guatemalan Chief of State Gen. Oscar Humberto Mejia Victores will be the only head of state to attend the inauguration, although several Cabinet-level figures from Europe and Latin America will be there. Representatives from 42 countries will be present.

The Republican Nationalist Alliance, defeated by Duarte in a May 6 presidential election, has threatened to boycott the ceremony.

According to the official tally, Duarte won 53.6 percent of the vote to 46.4 percent for Roberto D'Aubuisson of the Republican Nationalist Alliance. D'Aubuisson claimed the election was fraudulent.

Duarte is the first popularly elected civilian president since Arturo Araujo, who was elected in early 1931 and overthrown less than a year later in a military coup. A series of coups and military regimes followed.

Duarte lost a 1972 presidential election widely said to be fraudulent. After the election, he was badly beaten up by the military and exiled to Venezuela where he spent the next seven years.

'Tony' Show Takes Musical Trend

By MICHAEL KUCHWARA
AP Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tailoring the Tony awards for television requires the ability to entice an audience that probably hasn't seen or even heard of many of the nominees.

Past shows have been built around themes — theatrical superstitions, the plight of the understudy, a history of the Winter Garden Theater. This year's broadcast, Sunday night on CBS, is no exception. It celebrates the music of Stephen Sondheim, Jerry Herman and the team of John Kander and Fred Ebb.

All four have impossible jobs: They make their living writing for the Broadway stage. And all four, not coincidentally, are nominated for Tonys — Broadway's equivalent of the Oscar — this year.

Sondheim's "Sunday in the Park with George," Herman's "La Cage aux folles" and Kander and Ebb's "The Rink" are nominated for best score. "Sunday in the Park" and "La Cage," along with "Baby" and "The Tap Dance Kid" are nominated for best musical.

For best play, Tom Stoppard's tale of a writer looking for love, "The Real Thing," goes up against this year's Pulitzer Prize winner "Glenview Glen" by David Mamet; "Noises Off," the frenzied British farce, and "Play Memory," the story of a woman's remembrance of her alcoholic father.

But viewers of the Tony awards don't usually tune in to root for plays or musicals. They look for recognizable names, and this year they won't find the one name most theater professionals thought would be on the Tony nomination list — Dustin Hoffman.

Hoffman was lavishly praised by the critics for his portrayal of Willy Loman in the revival of "Death of a Salesman," as were several other actors in the show. None received nominations, and that could dampen viewer enthusiasm.

Instead, three classy British actors — Rex Harrison, Ian McKellen and Jeremy Irons — are in competition with newcomer Calvin Levels of the short-lived "Open Admissions" for best actor in a play.

Still there won't be any shortage of big-name stars with impeccable theater credentials. This year's co-hosts are Broadway's Fair Lady, Julie Andrews, and its own Music Man, Robert Preston.

Alexander Cohen, executive producer of the Tony awards show, wouldn't have it any other way. Since the Tonys first were televised in 1967, he's demanded theater respectability from his program hosts.

"They had to have been on the Broadway stage. They have to be of the theater," he said. "It would be wonderful to be able to have great stars that are television artists or terrific draws, but we don't think that it carries the integrity of the theater with it. So we've made it a rule that we won't do that."

He won't have any lack of name talent among the performers, though. Liza Minnelli, Raquel Welch, Carol Channing, Gwen Verdon, Anthony Quinn, Chita Rivera and Tony Randall were scheduled to perform.

But there are difficulties that the other awards shows don't have.

"We are working around performers who are working in the theater," said Cohen. "And they're working eight times a week."

"To make a rehearsal schedule for the Tony awards is the single most difficult operation in show business because it all has to come together in live segments."

There are compensations for all the trouble, of course, especially the box-office boost for the winning shows and enhanced name recognition for the winning performers.

"It's been good for the industry," Cohen said.

Actress Escapes Foreclosure

BEDFORD, N.Y. (AP) — Actress Jennifer O'Neill has escaped foreclosure proceedings by selling her estate in this Westchester County community, a lawyer and a real estate agent said.

A New York City literary agent is buying the 14,000-square-foot stone house for $895,000, said Sally Siano of Sally Siano and Associates Real Estate Agency in Bedford Hills. She would not disclose the buyer's name.

The 9.5-acre estate had been scheduled to be sold at auction in July because the actress was behind in her payments. Steven C. Greene, an attorney for one of the mortgage holders, said Thursday.

Miss O'Neill, 35, and her ex-husband, John Lederer, bought the house in 1981 for $600,000, according to Greene.

British American Festival Set

DURHAM — The British American Festival begins with a folklike weekend Saturday through Monday at Duke University's West Campus. Admission is free. Over 150 folk artists will perform on six stages — singers, musicians, dancers, craftspeople and craft demonstrators.

Representative artists from England, Scotland, Wales, the Caribbean, West Africa, North Carolina and Canada will perform.

Festival director George Hold says special care was taken to identify the artists representing traditional cultures.

The British American Festival is the first of North Carolina's celebrations of the 400th anniversary of the Roanoke voyages. According to Holt, the festival is a look at 400 years of cultural exchange.

On Saturday and Sunday, the Festival will offer clinics in cricket, rugby and soccer. Experts will explain the games and demonstrate techniques.

The British American Festival is co-sponsored by the N.C. Department of Cultural Resources, the Smithsonian Institution and the British Council. For more information, call the Durham Arts Council, 919-682-5519, or the Festival office, 919-733-6073.

Honorary Degree

NEW YORK (AP) — Academy Award-winning actress Shirley MacLaine has another prize to hang on her wall — an honorary degree from Hunter College.

Hunter, part of the City University of New York, recognized Miss MacLaine on Wednesday for her "quest into philosophy and metaphysics... extraordinary talent as an actress... and forays into public affairs."

Eddie Knox — What Are The Real Issues?

In view of your recent campaign tactics, we feel that you are trying to camouflage the real issues in this run-off election.

1. The creation of the medical school at E.C. U. has been a great asset to our state. While out campaigning, you seem to have forgotten that you voted against its creation many times while in the legislature.

2. Also, while in the legislature, you sponsored and voted for a bill to limit the rights of gun owners.

- Your opponent has spoken out for:
  - Improving education in our schools
  - Better pay for teachers
  - Helping agriculture
  - Lower utility rates for consumers
  - Attracting better industry to this state.

These are the real issues.

— Voters Of Greenville and Eastern North Carolina, may we encourage you to vote for our only real choice for governor, Rufus Edmiston.

George McGovern To Hart, Mondale: 'Go Gently'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Go as gently as you can on each other," former Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern admonished Gary Hart and Walter F. Mondale.

For a few brief moments, Hart and Mondale were brought together late Thursday by McGovern, self-appointed peacemaker of the Democratic Party.

Dozens of Hollywood stars including Warren Beatty, Goldie Hawn and O.J. Simpson attracted about 300 persons who paid $250 to help retire McGovern's presidential campaign debt.

Hart and Mondale shook hands and were photographed together but both appeared stiff in each other's presence.

The other presidential rival, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, declined to attend, saying he objected to McGovern's suggestion that there should be a Mondale-Hart ticket to challenge President Reagan this fall.

McGovern said his intention was misunderstood, that he would also support a Hart-Mondale ticket.

"Either would be fine with me," McGovern said.

Or, for that matter, he said, a Hart-Jackson ticket or any one of the three with a woman as a vice presidential candidate was fine too.

The former South Dakota senator, whose 1972 campaign was managed by Hart, said he was sorry that Jackson was not present.

"Jesse said I can no longer be the conscience of the party," McGovern joked. "So I am simply going to relax and have a good time."

McGovern recalled that in the 10 years since winning the party's nomination in 1972 and losing in a landslide to Richard M. Nixon in the general election campaign, he was treated as a failure by party officials.

Now, McGovern said, he feels vindicated, although after losing in the Iowa caucuses and the New Hampshire primary, he found it hard to understand how he had suddenly become "a great statesman" although he did much less well in 1984 than 1972.

As for the surviving candidates, Mondale said that after the battle for the nomination is over, "We will end united behind a platform and a presidential candidate."

For most of the event, which McGovern said completely paid off his debt of $180,000, more than 200 reporters were held behind ropes and not allowed to mingle with the crowd.

CAB Pulls Reversal On Smoking Ban On Short-Distance Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — A majority of the Civil Aeronautics Board wants to ban smoking on short-distance airline flights, but the chairman says the idea is being abandoned because airlines might try to skirt the rules and cause massive scheduling and air traffic problems.

The CAB, which two months ago had rejected a smoking ban, stunned the airline industry Thursday by ordering its staff to prepare a regulation that would prohibit cigarette smoking on all commercial flights of two hours or less.

But within hours, the five-member board reversed that decision and announced that it would not pursue a ban, although three members remained "philosophically" against smoking on short flights.

"The practical realities of the real-life world just clash with the idea" of a ban, CAB Chairman Dan McKinnon said in a telephone interview Thursday night, groping to explain why the board in less than seven hours had twice changed positions on the long-standing, much-debated and controversial issue.

The bizarre sequence of events began during a heated meeting by the board in which McKinnon announced he had changed his mind since last March when he opposed a ban on the short-haul flights. With a proxy vote from one board member, who was absent, and support from a third, McKinnon ordered the staff to prepare a regulation banning smoking on flights of two hours or less.

A final vote was planned for June 14.

Board member James Smith called the abrupt reversal from the board's position last March "temporary insanity" and urged that the issue be reopened for debate before any further action was taken. But the suggestion was rejected.

While the staff members sat silent during the public hearing, CAB officials said they later in private meetings strongly urged McKinnon, who held the swing vote on the matter, to abandon the ban because it could not be administered or enforced.

McKinnon in a telephone interview said that in discussions with the staff he became convinced that the ban, although desirable, was not practical. He denied any outside pressure.

In addition to questions of enforcing the ban, he said the staff told him there were concerns that it would result in "enormous, massive problems" with airline schedules as carriers fearful of losing passengers revamped flights to avoid the two-hour cutoff mark.

"Airlines would change 1 hour and 50 minute flights to 2 hour and 1 minute flights," he said. "Airlines would change the time of the flights, change the length of the trips" causing enormous problems at major airport hubs around the country.

"It just becomes very impractical," McKinnon continued. Unexplained, however, is why those concerns were not taken into

House OK's Pared Defense Funding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House early today approved a $284 billion defense bill which trims $21 billion from President Reagan's original budget and curbs the MX nuclear missile and other weapons in a bid to rekindle arms control talks with the Soviet Union.

Final passage of the spending package — a record despite the cuts — came at 12:30 a.m. on a 298-98 vote.

That tally capped three weeks of often bitter, partisan fighting in which the bulk of the huge Pentagon budget survived intact except for restrictions on atomic and space weapons, rejection for a third year of new nerve gas weapons, and a virtual ban on using U.S. troops to fight in Central America. The bill also ordered changes in the way spare parts are purchased.

The Republican-controlled Senate is expected to begin floor debate next week on a version of the bill which proposes permitting the Pentagon to spend $299 billion in fiscal 1985. Differences between the two measures will be worked out later in a House-Senate conference committee.

As it began more than eight hours of debate, the Democrat-controlled House voted to ban production of nuclear-tipped, sea-launched cruise missiles unless the Soviets test and deploy a similar long-range system.

In four dramatic late-night votes, the House narrowed its limits on the MX by taking away from Reagan any discretion over whether to authorize production of 15 of the giant 10-warhead missiles.

Costly Incentive

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — A high school attendance incentive program worked so well that it will be scrapped next year, say officials who had to scramble to come up with enough money to pay $100 to each student who didn't miss a single day of class all year.

Before Thursday's graduation ceremonies, Richmond High School officials found they were about $2,000 short in funds to pay all 219 students who earned a perfect attendance record during the 1983-84 school year, the first year the incentives were offered.

About one-seventh of the student body — compared with only 37 with perfect attendance in the 1982-83 school year — will receive $100 checks, probably in late June, officials said.

The students' unexpected response prompted a bit of a crisis in funding. But with the help of local businesses and a few grass-roots fund-raisers, the school was able to come up with the needed $21,900.

"I think we've found something that worked," Marshall Moore, director of pupil personnel for Richmond schools, said Thursday. "We definitely have changed some habits, and that's what we're trying to do."

Moore, who created the program, defended the cash awards against critics who call them bribes. But he said the excellent response will force the school to find another form of recognition next year — the cash award system "is not the answer," he added.

Virginia Boy Is Spelling Champ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's new spelling champ describes himself as "a typical 13-year-old," but he's getting ready to study calculus and, according to his father, spends 90 percent of his spare time in front of a home computer.

Daniel Greenblatt, a word wizard from Sterling, Va., won the 57th annual National Spelling Bee Thursday by correctly spelling "luge," a small sled used for coasting, to edge out Amy McWhirter, 13, of St. Joseph, Mich.

It took 606 words to spell out the champ this year from among a record 151 contestants. That compared to 574 words last year, when 137 participants made it to the final spell-down.

David Brown, a Davidson County, N.C., seventh-grader finished 10th Thursday when he was stumped by "dermatoglyphics." He had gone through six rounds of competition Wednesday and Thursday morning before being cut Thursday afternoon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — CIA Director William J. Casey, who grudgingly put his investments in a blind trust last October, bought and sold at least $2 million worth of stocks and securities in 1983 before the trust took effect, his financial disclosure form shows.

According to the form, released Thursday, Casey kept trading right up to Oct. 7, when his multimillion-dollar holdings were placed in a blind trust outside his control. In the two weeks before the trust became effective, Casey reported between $690,000 and $1.6 million in transactions.

According to the form released Thursday by the CIA, Casey and his wife sold between $1.2 million and $3.6 million worth of stocks and bonds in 1983, prior to the Oct. 7 creation of the trust, and bought between $1.1 million and $2.6 million worth of stock and securities.

Stock And Market Reports

By The Associated Press
HOGS: Trend is steady at N.C. buying stations. Kinston, Spivey's Corner, Murfreesboro and Robersonville 48.50; Clinton, Fayetteville, Dunn, Pink Hill, Pine Level, Chadborn, Ayden, Laurinburg and Benson 48.25; Wilson 48.25; Rowland 47.00. Sows: (500 pounds up) Wilson 42.00; Fayetteville 41.00; Whiteville unreported; Wallace 41.00; Spivey's Corner unreported, Rowland 42.00.

BROILERS: The North Carolina f.o.b. dock quoted price on broilers for this week's trading was 55 cents, based on full truck load lots of ice pack USDA Grade A sized 2 1/2 to 3 pound birds. Forty percent of the loads offered have been confirmed with a preliminary weighted average is 55.14 cents f.o.b dock or equivalent. The market is steady and the live supply is moderate for a light to mostly moderate demand. Average weights mostly desirable. Estimated slaughter of broilers and fryers in North Carolina Friday was 1,680,000, compared to 1,995,000 last Friday.

HENS: Market steady with a weak undertone. Supply heavy. Demand light. Prices paid per pound for hens over seven pounds at farm for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday slaughter was 16 cents.

GRAIN: No. 2 yellow shelled corn slightly lower at 3.93-4.03 in East and 4.07-4.11 in the Piedmont; No. 1 yellow soybeans sharply lower at 8.48-8.52 in the east and mostly 8.25-8.52 in the Piedmont; (new crop corn 2.93-3.31; soybeans 7.05-7.31, wheat 3.31-3.65).

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices rallied briskly today, aided by some improvement in the battered bond market. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials climbed 7.33 to 1,112.18 in the first half hour. Gainers took a 2-1 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the the stock market's steady showing of late had prompted many traders to believe that it had found a solid "support level" at 1,100 in the Dow Jones industrial average.

Investors also apparently were encouraged by signs of some life in bond prices Thursday and early today.

A rise in bond prices pushes long-term interest rates lower. High and rising interest rates have been cited as a major depressant on stock prices for the past several months.

Today's early prices included Exxon, up 1/8 at 40; Squibb, up 1/2 at 38 1/2; and Uniroval, up 1/4 at 10 1/4.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.26 to 1,104.85.

Advances outpaced declines by about 5 to 4 on the NYSE.

Big Board volume totaled 81.89 million shares, against 105.66 million in the previous session.

The NYSE's composite index gained .25 to 86.71. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 1.63 at 198.63.

Grain Shipments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent rail rate legislation in Canada could mean more grain and feed being sent into U.S. markets, notes the Economic Research Service of the Agriculture Department.

Previously, the United States was considered part of the Canadian domestic market, and Canadian grain and feed shippers were charged full commercial rates for shipments to the United States.

Now, the United States is considered an export market, and some commodities qualify for subsidized rates. This means grain from western Canada can be shipped to Vancouver, B.C., or Thunder Bay, Ontario, cheaply and then on into the United States.

Jobs ...

labor statistics, Janet L. Norwood, noted that "the bulk of the May unemployment decline occurred among adult men," whose jobless rate fell from 6.9 percent to 6.5 percent.

"During the 1981-82 recession, the rate for men, which usually is lower than that for women, rose sharply and, in a number of months, was more than a full percentage point higher than the rate for women," she said.

"Men's joblessness has shown greater improvement during the recovery, however, and the May figures marked the first time since early in the recession that their rate has been significantly below that for women," she added.

Report Says Hunger Deaths Declining

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fewer people in the world are starving to death, a report shows.

Despite a dramatic increase in the world population, some 6,000 fewer people are dying of hunger each day — 35,000 per day compared to 41,000 in 1977, according to a report compiled by the Hunger Project, a charitable research group based in San Francisco.

Some experts say the reason for the decline lies in improved technology and health care; better educational, agricultural and sanitation methods and a greater public awareness that hunger exists all over the world.

"There's a worldwide effort on a thousand fronts," said Allan Henderson, editor of the Hunger Project newspaper that published the report this week. "Famine on the other side of the world is no longer just something we feel sorry for, but something we can do something about."

Roy Prosterman, a law professor at the University of Washington in Seattle who wrote the report, said that in many countries, the production capacity of small farmers has improved.

"The more people in villages realize ways to break the cycle of poverty and death, the more they find it easier to make breakthroughs at the local level," he said in a telephone interview.

The report said hunger takes the lives of between 13 million and 18 million people each year. That compares with an estimate of 15 million to 20 million victims in 1977, the year the Hunger Project was founded and first compiled statistics.

The world population has doubled since World War II to nearly 4.8 billion, and now grows at an annual rate of about 1.7 percent, according to a report issued last month by the private Population Reference Bureau.

Escape ...

Gilbert Miller, a Virginia Department of Corrections spokesman, identified the inmates as Earl Clanton Jr., 29; Derreck Peterson 22; Willie Leroy Jones, 26; Linwood Earl Briley, 30; James David Briley, 24, and Lem Davis Tuggle, 32.

The escape occurred, Miller said, when there was a disturbance on the death row cell block about 9 p.m. Thursday, and corrections officers responded.

"The corrections officers were unaware that the inmates had armed themselves with homemade knives that were formed with door casings and tape," Miller said. "The inmates overpowered and took hostage a number of corrections officers, tying them up and taking the uniforms of some of those officers."

Miller said the inmates "were able to gain control of the command center" which "operates the electronic doors."

Miller said the inmates got outside with the hostages and then commandeered a white 1977 Chevy van about 10:30 p.m. Thursday. None of the officers who were taken hostage were harmed or required treatment. Miller said it looked like about a dozen hostages were involved.

Miller said a call was made to the prison's transportation officer, who was told to bring a van to dispose of an incendiary device. The prisoners disguised a fire extinguisher to look like such a device, Miller said, laid it on a stretcher, loaded it into a van, and then got into the van and drove off.

Another Virginia corrections spokesman, Wayne Farrar, said the inmates could not have obtained guns from the prison because the guards at the Mecklenburg prison do not carry guns.

Farrar said the guards carry "what they call 'stun guns,' which is a combination night stick and also fires a propellant, something similar to a bean bag. It strikes a person with enough force to knock them down."

George Stoddart, a spokesman for Virginia Gov. Charles S. Robb, said the State Police was called in to investigate the escape. Stoddart said Robb was kept informed throughout the night of developments in the escape and has been in contact with Hunt on the matter.

Baird Accepts Post At Auburn

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

Hal Baird, after five seasons as head baseball coach at East Carolina, decided yesterday that there was too much of a challenge to pass up and resigned as the Pirate coach to take a similar position with Auburn University.

Baird's move will reunite him with another former ECU head coach, Pat Dye, who is the football coach and athletic director at Auburn. There had been persistent rumors that Dye would attempt to bring Baird to Auburn at his first opportunity, and that became a fact when the long-time coach there resigned the first of May.

Baird, contacted by Dye at that time and offered the job, finally came to a decision yesterday.

"It's been a great five years," he told the gathered media at a mid-afternoon press conference in the Pirate Club, "and I'll always be a Pirate at heart."

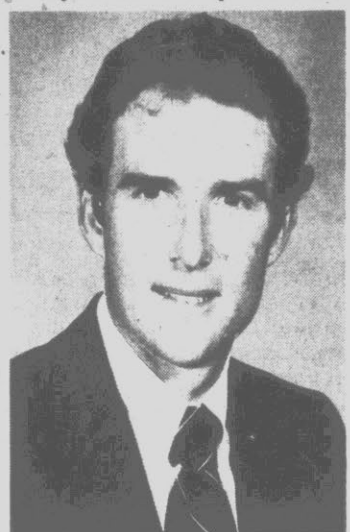

But Baird found the challenge of rebuilding the Auburn program too big to resist. Auburn was 27-24 last year and 8-13 in the western division of the Southeastern Conference. The Tigers finished ninth in the overall combined SEC standings.

Ahead for Baird lies a program with a full number of scholarships as allowed by the NCAA, and a budget that would have "no foreseeable limits" in the future.

East Carolina, meanwhile, currently operates on only a $30,000 budget — less than Auburn's budget for baseball travel in 1984. The Pirates have only about a quarter of the NCAA scholarship limit and the prospects of increase do not seem to be bright at this time.

The school did make a counter offer to Baird, but it wasn't really what he wanted, he related later in the afternoon. "They offered a generous salary, and they made an effort to reduce my class load."

Baird said. He had asked to be totally relieved of teaching duties — something he will not be doing at Auburn. "It was not reduced to the point I was happy with it. As to the budget, there were no adjustments that I could see anytime in the future, just talk about the possibility of adjustments. Perhaps East Carolina feels that it has turned the corner financially because of the recent successes of the football program, but not to the point of adding to the baseball budget."

The ECU program, in the red when Dye left here, has struggled back and is now in the black.

Baird had earlier noted that he has already distributed the scholarship money for the coming year among present players and any recruits will have to be walkons. One of the problems the Pirates are overcoming now is the loss of additional moneys generated through the efforts of former ECU all-American Lou Hallow. That money, which resulted in about $8,000 a year to the program, has expired now, and has not been replaced. Baird said he was given some hope from ECU officials that it would be replaced if it could be raised.

"We have four graduating seniors, and that about covers the difference," Baird said.

The departing coach has recommended that Gary Overton, his assistant, be named as the new coach. "This would follow the traditional pattern that has gone on at East Carolina for as long as I know of," Baird said. The man who coached Baird at ECU during his student days, Earl Smith, moved up in this manner, as did George Williams, Monte Little and Baird himself. Jim Mallory, a former head coach, served one year on an interim basis.

"Gary has worked under five different coaches as a manager, student coach, graduate assistant and full time assistant. He's been able to judge and pick and choose as to what works and what doesn't," Baird said.

Baird's hope is that Overton will be named next week when ECU athletic director Ken Karr returns from the CFA meeting in Dallas. If he opts to open the job for outside applications, it will be at least July 1 before a new coach could be named, and Baird said that while it wouldn't totally whip out any recruiting efforts, it would seriously hamper them. "I think it would tell any prospects that it is unlikely that Gary will get the job and by the time they get back to it, they probably will have signed elsewhere."

Baird's concern with East Carolina's program is that it not only be competitive in the ECAC-South, but among other national programs. "I didn't want to be satisfied with winning the ECAC-South; I wanted to go for the national title, and I saw no reason why it couldn't have been. Right now, I would say that the only team that spends less than we do in the league is probably William & Mary. I'm not sure about American, but they make a southern trip, so I'd have to guess they have more. I know James Madison, Richmond, George Mason and UNC-Wilmington spend more on baseball than we do."

"I think we can be competitive with what we've got. With the freshmen and sophomore players we have, and a couple of good recruits, we could dominate the conference. But you need continuity. You need to bring in a few good people each year so that you don't have to rebuild every year or so, like we've had to do."

Baird was successful three times in his five year career in getting the Pirates into the NCAA Regionals, this year finishing third among six teams in the South I Regional. His teams in 1980 and 1982 also advanced into the regionals.

The Pirates were 34-13 this year, winning the ECAC-South title for the second time in three years. Overall, Baird holds a 143-66-1 record.

The coach came to East Carolina in 1970 as a pitcher-outfielder, transferring from Ferrum Junior College. After two highly successful years as a Pirate, he joined the Kansas City Royals organization, twice being named to the club's 40-man spring roster. He played for seven years, mostly in the triple A ranks.

Following his retirement from the pro ranks, he joined the ECU staff as an assistant to Monte Little, moving up to the head position in 1979.

Baird said that he had had other job opportunities in the past, but he now feels that he's gone as far as he can under the current set of circumstances at East Carolina. "I've never had to build a program. I inherited a good program when I came here. The Auburn situation will be different."

Baird was to fly to Auburn today to meet with officials there and begin plans for the future. He said he expects it will be about a month, however, before he moves to Alabama for good.

Late Jacket Surge Eliminates Jaguars

SNOW HILL — Roanoke Rapids scored five times in the top of the seventh inning to pull out an 8-4 victory over Farmville Central in the eastern semifinals of the State 3-A Baseball Playoffs last night at Snow Hill.

The Yellow Jackets, champions of the Northeastern Conference, are now 22-2, and will advance to the eastern finals. If they win there, they will host the western champion for the state title next week.

The game was a scoreless deadlock until the bottom of the fourth when Farmville pushed over the game's first run. Randy Daniels reached on a two-base error and Billy Godley doubled to drive him in.

But in the top of the sixth, a string of 19 scoreless innings hurled by Godley in the playoffs came to an end as Roanoke Rapids scored three times to take the lead. Tant and Edwards both walked. Locaman then reached on an error that allowed Tant to score. G. Wood walked to load the bases and Barber reached on an error, scoring both Edwards and Locaman.

Farmville came back with one in the bottom of the sixth to cut it to 3-2. Nat Norris doubled and scored on a single by Joey Steppe.

But then, in the top of the seventh, the Yellow Jackets came up with five runs and put the game out of reach. Munson singled and Arthur beat out a bunt for a hit. Tant, also trying to sacrifice, beat out another bunt, loading the bases. Barnes then singled in Munson, and an error on Locaman's hit scored Arthur and Tant. Barber followed with a single, scoring Barnes and Locaman.

Farmville rallied for two in the bottom of the seventh, but fell well short of catching up.

Norris had two hits to be the lone hitter in the game with more than one.

The Jaguars close out the season with a 14-7 record.

Pitt Take Win In First Game

Billy Michel hit a two-run homer that closed out the scoring as Pitt County's American Legion baseball team successfully opened its season last night, downing Wilson, 11-4.

Pitt County banded out 16 hits during the evening, including two other extra base knocks, doubles by Doug Coley and Roger Moyer. Coley led the way with four of those hits, driving in three runs.

Coley also hurled the win, scattering ten hits, walking six and striking out seven. He got relief in the final inning from Paul Hill.

Pitt took the lead with a pair of runs in the first inning. Jackie Conway led off with a single and Toby Fischer singled. Coley followed with a double, driving in both runners.

Wilson came back with four runs in the top of the fifth to take a 4-2 lead. Rusty Dail opened with a single and Woody Mercer also got a single. Tommy Boswell loaded the bases with another hit. Davis Allen singled in both Dail and Mercer, tying it up, and Steve Hinnant singled to drive in Boswell. A wild pitch then scored Allen with the fourth run.

But Coley settled down after that, allowing only three more hits the rest of the way, and no more runs.

Pitt quickly came back in the bottom of the inning with a run to cut the lead to 4-3. With one away, Coley singled and Eric Woodworth got a hit. Michel then reached on an error, which allowed Coley to score.

Then, in the sixth, Pitt broke the game open with six runs, forging a 9-4 lead. Moyer opened with a double and Mike Smith singled. Conway reached on a fielder's choice that scored Moyer, but got Smith at second. Fischer reached on a fielder's choice that failed to get anyone, and Coley singled to load them up. Woodworth's grounder to third was errored, scoring Conway, and Michel singled in Fischer. Coley scored on a wild pitch and with two away, Traye Fuqua singled in both Woodworth and Michel with the final runs.

The remaining two runs came in the eighth. Woodworth singled and Michel then lined the ball out of the park near the scoreboard for the final 11-4 edge.

In addition to Coley's four hits, Woodworth had three, and Conway, Michel and Moyer each had two. Dail led Wilson with three, while Mercer had two.

Pitt County plays host to Goldsboro tonight at 8 p.m., then travels to Rocky Mount on Saturday for a 2 p.m. game to be played at N.C. Wesleyan College.

Norman In 2-Shot Lead

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Greg Norman knew he was having problems with his golf game, so he put in a long distance call to his native Australia.

Norman, a long hitter nicknamed The Great White Shark, called his teacher of 12 years in Brisbane, Charlie Earp, last week in an effort to straighten out his problems.

"I didn't know what problems I was having but he was able to pinpoint them," said Norman, the first-round leader of the $400,000 Kemper Open. "I told him what I was doing and he told me what he thought I was doing wrong."

ECU Membership On CFA Agenda

DALLAS (AP) — If the U.S. Supreme Court gives colleges complete freedom in selling television rights to football games, would the schools be smart to put restrictions on themselves?

And if a national television plan is adopted in lieu of the traditional NCAA setup, who will administer it? Those are the essential questions facing delegates to the eighth annual College Football Association convention today. A primary item was to be the unveiling of a national marketing concept to bring the 60 CFA schools and the Pac-10 and Big Ten conferences together under one administrative umbrella for the control of television rights.

The Big Ten and Pac-10 are continuing their refusal to join the CFA, which was founded in 1975 and includes every other major football conference and independent.

Delegates also will vote on admitting three new members and hear panel discussions on drug abuse and player agents. But television, and what the U.S. Supreme Court might do, is certain to dominate the eighth annual meeting.

The high Court is expected to rule this summer in an antitrust suit challenging the NCAA's controls of football rights. Two lower courts have ruled in favor of the plaintiffs, the universities of Oklahoma and Georgia. If those decisions are upheld, the NCAA's television plan and contracts with ABC and CBS totaling $140.5 million for the next two years would be voided.

In addition, schools and conferences will presumably be free to market their football telecasts independently, as they now market basketball. The breakup of NCAA centralized controls is opposed by most schools within the NCAA and CFA. However, in hopes of avoiding chaos in the event of a high court ruling against the NCAA, representatives of the CFA and the Big Ten and Pac-10 have been meeting off and on all spring.

Gene Corrigan, Notre Dame Athletic Director and chairman of the group calling itself the "Football Television Planning Committee, said a tentative marketing plan was worked out this week. It will be submitted to the CFA members in the meeting beginning Friday. Details of the plan, which will also go to Big Ten and Pac-10 schools for approval, will be announced during the CFA meeting.

"The CFA members will discuss the tentative plan and indicate whether the concept is compatible with their views," said Charles M.

Neifas, executive director of the CFA.

"We need to work out some details on that," he said. "It's safe to say the CFA members will be asked this weekend whether they like the plan. But a vote for the plan (at the CFA meeting) does not bind an institution. That will probably be done through a commitment form in the mail."

CFA delegates also will vote on whether to admit East Carolina, Louisville and Cincinnati. The CFA board has endorsed the three, but their admittance will require a two-thirds vote of the membership.

Celtics Rally, Nip Lakers In Overtime By 124-121

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics were struggling feverishly to climb out of a deep hole they had dug for themselves. The Lakers reached in and gave them a hand.

"We let them out of the grave twice," said Los Angeles Coach Pat Riley. "We had a three-point lead in overtime, and also the situation at the end of the game when we wanted to get the last shot."

The Celtics, who squandered a 13-point first-half lead, clawed back to edge the Lakers, 124-121 in overtime Thursday night, and even their National Basketball Association championship series at 1-1.

"You go out there 0-2 and it's going to be tough," said Boston's Scott Wedman, referring to Games 3 and 4 in Los Angeles Sunday and Wednesday.

Thanks to Gerald Henderson's steal and layup that forced overtime and Wedman's game-winning jump shot with 14 seconds remaining, the Celtics held for the West Coast with the series tied.

Boston forward Cedric Maxwell said he thought the Celtics had lost the up-and-down game "two or three times and I thought we won it two or three times."

But, with Los Angeles holding the ball and the lead, 113-111, with 18 seconds to play in regulation time, Laker Earvin "Magic" Johnson was confident his team would become the first in a NBA championship series to win the opening two games on the road.

"I thought we had it and I figured they would foul and we'd make it and win the game," said Johnson, who had 27 points, 10 rebounds and nine assists. "I never thought we'd turn it over. We let it slip out of our hands."

Henderson stole a pass from James Worthy, who made 11 of 12 shots and led all scorers with 29 points, and went in for a game-tying layup with 13 seconds remaining. Johnson kept the ball for most of those 13 seconds, then gave it to Bob McAdoo who couldn't get a shot off before the fourth quarter ended.

"Anytime you're in that situation you have to go for the steal. Worthy just lofted the ball to Byron Scott. There was room for me to step in and I did," Henderson said. "We had to have that steal. We had to have something at that point."

They needed something else in the waning seconds of overtime. McAdoo's 12-foot baseline jumper put the Lakers in front 121-120 with 1:26 to go. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who had 20 points, missed a hook shot with 25 seconds left, and Worthy committed a foul fighting for the rebound, giving the ball to Boston.

The Celtics called timeout to set up their last chance.

"The play was really a screen on each side of the lane for Larry (Bird) to come off one side and me to come off the other," Wedman said. "I knew when the ball was coming to me, the shot was going up. I knew my man was off me. I knew I had time."

Jamesville Gains State 1-A Finals

WHITEVILLE — Jamesville High School scored four runs in the third inning, then held off Williams Township to gain the finals of the State 1-A Baseball Tournament, 5-4.

Jamesville will host western champion Hayesville, in the state finals, which begin Thursday night at 8 p.m. on the Bullet home field.

Jamesville broke into the scoring column in the top of the first inning last night. Greg Hardison singled and stole second. He moved to third on a fly out and then scored when the Williams' pitcher, Jody Sykes, balked.

The Aggies came back to score twice in the bottom of the first to move ahead, 2-1. Jeff Taylor walked and scored on a double by Ricky McPherson. Sykes was then intentionally walked but Rusty Holliday balked them up a base. Ward Stocks followed with a fielder's choice which scored McPherson.

It stayed that way until the third when Jamesville pushed back ahead, this time for good. Holliday led off with a walk and Terry Perry singled. Earl Bowen also got a hit.

loading the bases. Whit Brown walked to force in Holliday and Pee Wee Groover also walked, scoring Perry. Matthew Moore doubled, driving in all three baserunners, but Groover was called out for missing third base, resulting in only two runs scoring on the play.

Nevertheless, it staked the Bullets to a 5-2 lead. Williams rallied for one each in the third and fifth frames, but fell short to catching up.

Hardison, Holliday, Bowen and Groover each had two hits to pace the Jamesville attack. Stocks had two of the five hits allowed by Holliday.

The win boosts the Bullets to 23-1 on the season.

Two Receive UNC Honors

Two Rose High School teammates who continued their career onward to the University of North Carolina in baseball, have been named co-winners of the Walter Rabb Trophy for the 1984 season.

Roger Williams and Gordon Douglas, who pitched Rose into the playoffs during their junior and senior years, share the award presented in honor of the former UNC coach who retired in 1977.

Williams, who finished the regular season with a 9-2 record and a 2.82 era had 71 strikeouts. Douglas, the right-handed ace of the bullpen, recorded a 4-4 mark with seven saves and a 3.49 earned run average.

Williams won one game in the NCAA South II Regional, to up his mark to 10-2 and upped his strikeout mark to 78. His ERA remained unchanged. Douglas, in relief in the tournament, did not change his record, but lowered his ERA to 3.41.

Shop-Eze..... 4

Hendrix & Dail romped to a 15-4 victory over Shop-Eze Foodland last night in the Greenville Prep League.

H&D put the game on ice in the first inning, scoring seven times. Chris Fuqua led off with a walk and Andy Everett also walked. Both stole up and Cam Cox walked to load them up. Darrell Moore eached on a fielder's choice that scored Fuqua and got Everett. Richard Lewis walked, loading the bases. Joe DeLoach reached on an error, scoring Cox, and Wesley Jackson walked to score Moore. Frankie Pugh walked, scoring Lewis and Julius Smith doubled in all three baserunners.

Hendrix & Dail went on to add one in the second, one in the fourth, three in the fifth and three more in the sixth. Shop-Eze picked up three in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Moore had two hits to lead H&D, while no one had more than one hit for Shop-Eze.

Garris-Evans..... 12
First State Bank..... 7

Garris-Evans scored seven runs in the second inning and recorded a 12-7 win over First State Bank in the Prep League last night.

Garris-Evans took the lead in the first with a pair of runs, then put it away in the second with seven.

Sean Frekle led off the second with a walk and stole second. Brack Williams also walked, as did Andy Miller, loading the bases. Jon Bolen cleared all three with a triple, and Martin Anderson walked. Jon Chambliss also tripled, scoring two more. He scored on a passed ball. Jeff Likosar walked, moved up on an out and Chris Brown walked. A wild pitch scored Likosar with the final run of the inning.

G-E added two in the fourth and one in the seventh.

First State Bank got three in the third and four in the fifth.

Bolen and Chambliss each had three hits for Garris-Evans, while Josh Shepard and Brian Ledford each had two for the Bankers.

Little League

True Value..... 9
Wellcome..... 1

True Value Hardware got only three hits, but managed a 9-1 Tar Heel Little League victory over Wellcome yesterday.

True Value scored twice in the first inning to move ahead for good. With one away, Aaron Tschetter was hit by a pitch and Matthew Cagle reached on an error. Ken Sawyer grounded out, scoring Tschetter and a wild pitch let Cagle score.

True Value added three in the fourth, two in the fifth and two in the sixth.

The lone Wellcome run scored in the fifth.

Blake Stallings was the game's lone player with more than one hit, collecting two for Wellcome.

Sportsworld..... 11
Kiwanis..... 0

Jamie Brewington tossed a one-hitter at the Kiwanis as Sportsworld rolled up an 11-0 victory in their North State Little League game yesterday.

Brewington lost his no-hitter in the sixth as Jamie Hale opened the frame with a single.

Sportsworld got all it needed in the first inning, scoring twice. Jason Wing reached on a fielder's choice and was sacrificed up. Brewington then cracked a two-run homer.

Sportsworld then added five in the second, with Ledowick Johnson hitting a three-run homer; and got four more in the third with Tim Moore hitting a solo shot in the frame.

Moore, Brewington and Kevin Yarrell each had two hits for Sportsworld.

DON'T BE MISLED GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE EDDIE KNOX WHY DON'T YOU

TELL THE GOOD PEOPLE OF EASTERN NORTH CAROLINA THE FULL TRUTH ABOUT YOUR STRONG OPPOSITION AND YOUR SENATE VOTE AGAINST THE ECU MEDICAL SCHOOL.

ON JULY 19, 1971-IN U.S. SENATE-YOU SUPPORTED THE CRIPPLING MECKLENBURG AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL 1207 WHICH, IF APPROVED, WOULD HAVE KILLED THE 4 YEAR ECU MED SCHOOL AND IN ITS PLACE ESTABLISHED A ONE YEAR MED SCHOOL. THE AMENDMENT WAS DEFEATED 26-14.

THEN MR. KNOX YOU TURNED AROUND AND BECAME ONE OF ONLY 6 SENATORS TO VOTE AGAINST THE ECU MED SCHOOL BILL. THE SENATE JOURNAL SHOWS THE 6 OPPOSING SENATORS TO BE BAUGH-MECKLENBURG; CURRIE-DURHAM; FOLGER-SURRY; HARRIS-CLEVELAND; KNOX-MECKLENBURG; MOORE-MECKLENBURG.

WHILE THESE 36 SENATORS VOTED YES ALLEN, ALLSBROOK, BAGNAL, BAILEY, BOWLES, BURNEY, COGGINS, COMBS, CRAWFORD, DEANE, FLAHERTY, FRINK, FUTRELL, GUDGER, HARRINGTON, HENLEY, HORTON, JONES, JOYNER, KILLIAN, KIRK, LARKINS, McGEACHY, MILGROM, MILLS, MURROW, NORTON, PATTERSON, RAUCH, REED, SAUNDERS, SCOTT, STRICKLAND, TAYLOR, WARREN, AND WHITE.—N.C. SENATE JOURNAL-1971-PAGES 895 AND 896.

MR. KNOX WHEN WE EAST CAROLINIANS NEEDED YOU MOST, YOU FAILED US. WHY SHOULD WE EXPECT YOU TO BE DIFFERENT AS GOVERNOR?

MR. KNOX WHEN THIS BILL WAS BEING DEBATED IN THE SENATE IN 1971, WHY DID YOU NOT SAY THEN THAT YOU OPPOSED THE MED SCHOOL BECAUSE MONEY WAS NOT IN THE BILL?

MR. KNOX YOU KNOW AND EVERY LEGISLATOR KNOWS THAT HE OR SHE IS ELECTED FOR ONLY TWO YEARS AND THAT NO LEGISLATURE CAN APPROPRIATE FUNDS BEYOND TWO YEARS.

MR. KNOX YOU KNOW WELL THAT WHEN UNC MED SCHOOL-CHAPEL HILL OR N.C. STATE SCHOOL OF VETERINARY MEDICINE WAS ESTABLISHED—JUST AS ECU MED SCHOOL—THE LEGISLATURE VOTES ON ESTABLISHING SCHOOL AND THE APPROPRIATION COMMITTEE PLACES IN THE BUDGET THE MONEY FOR THE ENSUING TWO YEARS. WHY DID YOU NOT DEBATE THE COST THEN?

MR. KNOX IT IS PAST TIME THAT YOU BEGIN TELLING THE FULL TRUTH ON THIS SUBJECT AND QUIT SKIRTING AROUND THE EDGES.

PAID FOR BY FRIENDS OF ECU MED SCHOOL.

PROVERBS---A WAY OF LIFE!

AMONG THE PEOPLE OF THE BIBLE, THE TEACHINGS FOUND IN THE BOOK OF PROVERBS WERE GIVEN SERIOUS ATTENTION! THE PURPOSE OF THIS BOOK WAS TO INSTRUCT THE PEOPLE IN THE PRACTICE OF WISDOM, THE SANE AND PRUDENT PURSUIT OF THEIR DAILY LIFE, THE ART OF LIVING WELL, AND THE VIRTUES BY WHICH THE GOAL OF HAPPINESS WAS TO BE WON! IT ALSO ADVISED AGAINST THE MANY PITFALLS THAT COULD COME TO A PERSON IN THEIR DAY-TO-DAY LIFE. THE IDEALS OF LIFE ARE ALSO TOUCHED UPON: HONESTY, INDUSTRY, CHASTITY, CONSIDERATION FOR OTHERS, HELPFULNESS, AND MANY OTHER VIRTUES, BUT AGAIN AND AGAIN THE BOOK SEEMS TO CALL TO OUR ATTENTION THE SEARCH FOR WISDOM AND KNOWLEDGE!

Chaplains Say Military Life Offers Strains, But Can Strengthen Faith

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Life in the Armed Forces is charged with religious paradoxes as seen by some of its leaders, involving a clash between humanity's noblest and worst impulses. But it also can build spiritual mettle. Those mingled, sometimes colliding aspects of military life, sharpened in degree by nuclear weaponry, were cited by several chaplains and line officers in recent talks and interviews.

Those mingled, sometimes colliding aspects of military life, sharpened in degree by nuclear weaponry, were cited by several chaplains and line officers in recent talks and interviews.

Women in the Armed Forces, served by 3,408 chaplains — 2,626 Protestant, 707 Catholic, 48 Jewish and 28 Eastern Orthodox.

Whatever the inherent tensions, "no one in the world wants peace more than the military," says Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hessian, a Roman Catholic, 20 years in the Army and its chief of chaplains. "No one is more aware of the awfulness of war than people who have been to war."

Yet the strains of conscience exist between abhorring war and advancing ways to wage it, a problem that Gen. John W. Vessey Jr., chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says may have no clear religious solution.

"There is only a choice among evils," he quotes a British philosopher about moral-theological aspects of nuclear deterrence. Vessey, a Lutheran, says the problem could well apply to "the military profession in general."

They experience the same things, he said, both the thoughtful moments and the anxieties and dangers. "You share their very being."

But he and other devout military career men firmly maintain that their role serves both God, their fellow citizens and nation, a historic conviction of Americans in general, however dreadful the modern means of war.

That also remains the basic position of churches, recognizing the military purpose to uphold rights of faith, justice and nation, but increasingly emphasizing conscientious objection as also a valid effort to do so.

Moreover, both U.S. Catholic bishops and major Protestant bodies have repudiated nuclear warfare as undermining past "just war" rationales, stirring religious questions and sporadic protests about military work.

He said military service generally is a time when the young are forced to "work through whatever values they have" under severe tests and to learn to make disciplined choices.

YOUR DAILY Horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very good day for whatever has to do with an extension of your interests where your home and your family are concerned. It's a good time to fix up your residence.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) See what can be done at home that will please kin more, but tonight steer clear of arguments there.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Early contact those persons who can assist you with some serious problem you may have. Then get all of your affairs straight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to add to your bank account so that you have quite a reserve in case of emergencies later on. Be more frugal in the P. M.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Go after those personal aims that mean much to you and gain them, but tonight build up your health in some way.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Get busy and plan the social activities you like with the aid of a good friend. Then try to please one you love and make this person happier.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can easily bring some wish to yourself if you pursue it wisely. Take time to be with friends you truly like during daytime.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good day to get your activities modernized so they run very smoothly, but tonight keep to yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You know exactly what to do now so that you can develop and become more prosperous. In the evening stay away from the unknown.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Outside affairs can be well handled if you have a meeting with one in business who is interested in your welfare.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have every opportunity to come to a better understanding with associates today, so do so.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try to handle your work more efficiently and then you have greater benefits from it. Be happy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make appointments with those who can assist you to get rid of worries that are plaguing you, and keep them on time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who can sell his or her ideas quickly especially with whatever has to do with commodities. There is a sensitivity here that could ruin this life so teach to be objective

Farm Receipts Fall As Costs Hold On

WASHINGTON (AP) — After seven months of rising or steady prices, farmers are seeing a decline in the amount paid for their products.

Costs for farm supplies and living expenses, however, are remaining steady, according to preliminary figures for May in the Agriculture Department's latest monthly price report.

Farmers experienced a 1.4 percent drop in prices for their crops and livestock in May from April's record high, though they were an average of 5.1 percent above last year at this time. Farmers' costs were unchanged from April, which was 3.1 percent higher than May of 1983.

In terms of the index the department maintains, the prices farmers received were 144 percent of a 1977 base price average used for comparison, down from 146 percent in May. The prices-paid index was 166 percent of the 1977 base.

Prices farmers receive, as shown by the index, rose or remained steady every month since October, when the index was 134 percent, until turning around in May.

Department officials said they did not attach much significance to a single month's report, especially after a string of increases.

Much of the decline was the result of lower prices for eggs, cattle, onions, tomatoes and milk — and higher prices for oranges, soybeans and cotton were not enough to make up for the declines.

Prices for fuel, fertilizer, chemicals and family items all rose during May, but these were offset by lower prices for replacement livestock to leave the prices-paid index unchanged.

Among specific product categories, livestock and livestock product prices fell 4 percent during the month but overall still were 0.7 percent above what they were in May 1983. Crop prices as a whole were up 2.9 percent during May and averaged 12 percent above the year-ago mark.

The poultry and egg index fell 14 percent following a 4 percent increase for April. That left those prices still 20 percent higher than they were a year earlier.

A big part of that decline came in the prices of eggs at the farm, which averaged 68.9 cents per dozen, down 22.5 cents from April.

Vegetables also showed a big drop, with the index 17 percent below the April figure and 20 percent below the May 1983 level. Carrots and sweet corn were, along with onions and tomatoes, pushed down vegetable prices.

Fruit, however, rose for the second straight month, jumping 20 percent in May to leave the index 25 percent ahead of what it was a year earlier. Oranges led the way while lemons and strawberries also commanded higher prices in the market. Grapefruit and pears were lower.

High Water Hits Family's Home For Second Time

WAYNE, N.J. (AP) — When Roger and Roberta Stephens bought a house here last year, they didn't plan on losing it to a flood. Nor did they think a second flood less than two months later would force them to flee the trailer brought in when their home was destroyed.

But an undaunted Mrs. Stephens says she is determined to rebuild. Only this time the first floor of the house will be 8 feet off the ground.

Rains that plagued the Northeast for four days abated Thursday and some rivers began to recede, but the National Weather Service said the danger of flooding remained in some areas. About 1,000 people, like the Stephens, have been displaced by flooding in New Jersey.

The Stephens said it was hard to believe that they and their six children were once again throwing what possessions they could into their truck and fleeing rising waters.

This time, the home the family left was a 60-foot trailer the state had moved to their back yard, and they had fewer belongings to worry about.

"The only things we had is what the Red Cross gave us last time, so we wanted to save that," Mrs. Stephens said Thursday, recalling the evacuation the morning before.

"We also took the same two pictures we saved from the last flood" — a wedding picture of her parents and a photo of the children, she added.

On April 5, the worst flooding in 50 years ravaged their northern New Jersey community, buckling the walls of their house.

This week's rain sent the Pompton River overflowing its banks by more than 5 feet, and the water rose well above the trailer's 3-foot-high door stoop.

"Everything that I could throw in bags, I threw in the truck; the other stuff I put in closets," Mrs. Stephens said.

The Stephens moved into the trailer just three weeks ago, among the last of 875 people to leave emergency shelters set up in high schools and armories during the last flood. This time, the family joined about 30 people in a school classroom being used as a shelter.

Mrs. Stephens, 38, said her children don't seem bothered by the second displacement, but her 45-year-old husband feels discouraged.

"My husband's taking it pretty hard," she said. "He just can't believe it. Who ever hears of it happening again this quick?"

Air Force To Pay For Golf Course

MACDILL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force will pay a $20,000 fine and create six acres of wetlands because it filled other wetlands without state approval to build a golf course, officials say.

Richard Garrity, director of the state Department of Environmental Regulation's Tampa office, said he expects MacDill commanders to sign an agreement within two weeks.

The action follows protests by ManSota-88, a Tampa Bay environmental group, which threatened a lawsuit in February if the golf course project wasn't halted.

"I think the federal government has a responsibility to set the pace so private industry can follow the good example," Garrity said.

A MacDill spokesman, Maj. Bob Lenox, would say only, "We have received a draft agreement and we're reviewing it."

Garrity, however, said MacDill officials have agreed to create 6.4 acres of wetlands to replace 4.2 acres that were filled and pay a $20,000 fine or donate the money toward pollution control and cleanup projects in the Tampa Bay area.

In return, Garrity said, the state will issue two permits enabling the base to use the wetlands for its golf course, the second on the base.

NEXT TUESDAY, JUNE 5, IS NOT JUST ANOTHER ELECTION.
THIS IS THE ELECTION ABOUT NORTH CAROLINA'S NEEDS, PRIORITIES AND FUTURE.

Read this before you vote — it's only right that you do.

THE KNOX GOALS — FOUR YEARS OF PROGRESS

Education . . . make sure our children attend school and are disciplined to behave and learn in the classroom; keep our best teachers by paying them a good salary and test our students early to make sure we are getting good results.

Utility bills . . . repeal the law on construction-work-in-progress (CWIP) and save North Carolina families hundreds of dollars each year on their utility bills.

Better jobs . . . put into motion a new program that will create jobs and recruit new businesses and industries . . . and then spread those jobs evenly around the state.

Build roads . . . rebuild and improve the state's roads, including the rapid completion of I-40 to Wilmington.

Reduce crime . . . take tough actions to cut the state's increased crime rate and stop the accelerating drug traffic.

Help farmers . . . start innovative agricultural programs, develop better markets and support tobacco.

New leadership . . . continue stability and maturity in the governor's office, make state government closer to the people and open, encourage new ideas and fresh approaches to problems and get the best possible people to fill state jobs.

THE KNOX YEARS—PROGRESS FOR NORTH CAROLINA

"IF YOU AGREE WITH MOST OF THESE GOALS, YOU'RE IN GOOD COMPANY."

"THE PEOPLE ARE WITH ME. LET THE OTHER CANDIDATE HAVE THE POLITICIANS."

Solid, Stable, Decisive, Clean-c

June 5 — For North Carolina — A R

cut Leadership — Eddie Knox — A Man of Strength —

Real Choice — A Real Difference —

EDDIE KNOX — THE ONE MAN READY TO BE GOVERNOR

Good governors, like all decisive leaders, are made, not born.
And, effective elected officials get things done by leading the people.
That's the Eddie Knox record—a record of accomplishments.

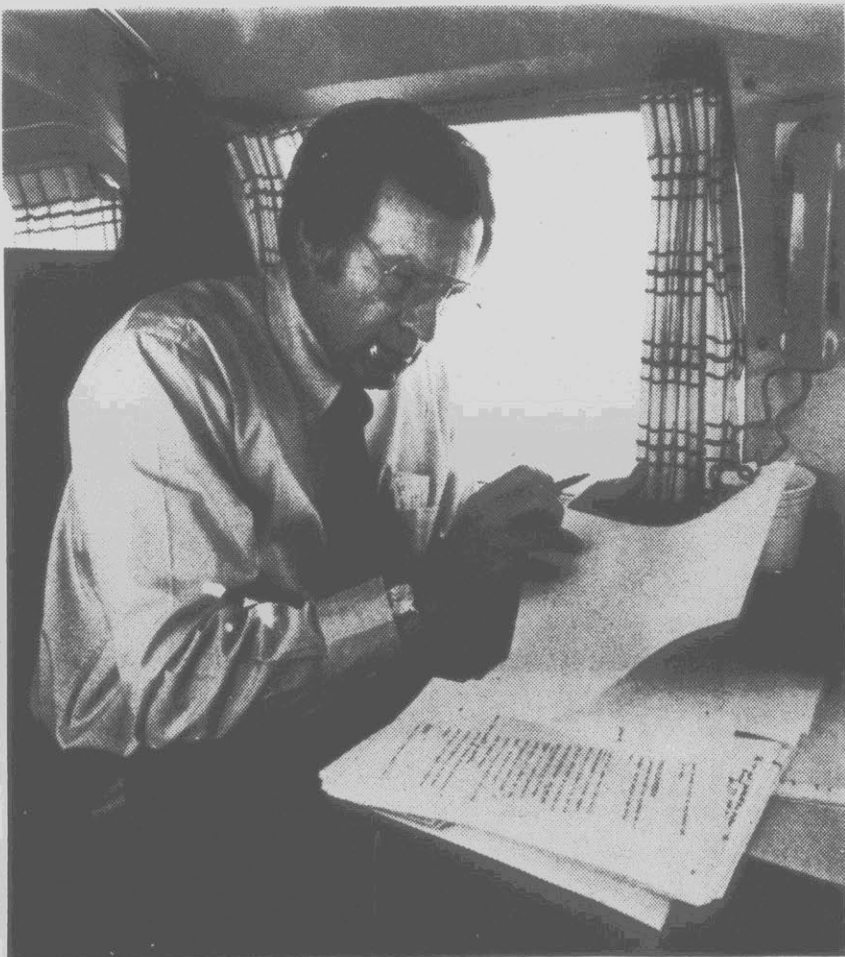

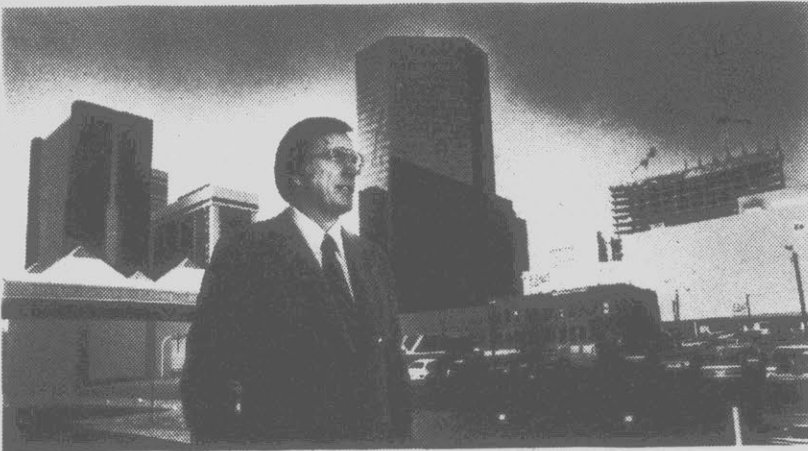

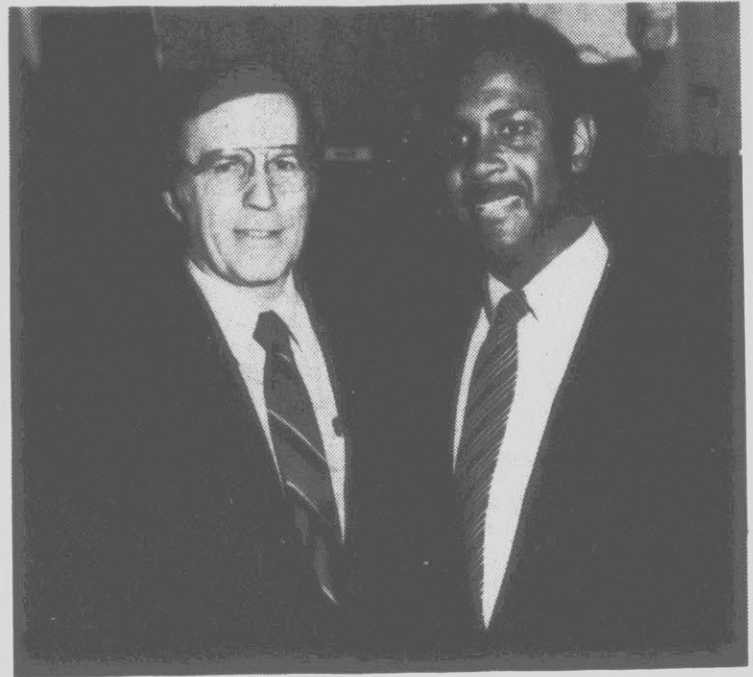

As a State Senator . . . he pushed through the public kindergarten program, helped reduce classroom size and set up new programs and funds for mental health care.

As Chairman of the State Advisory Budget Commission, he saved North Carolina millions of dollars by getting greater control of the budget process and making state government more efficient. He reduced government growth to one percent a year. He pushed for the needed support for the East Carolina University Medical School and the state ports.

As Chairman of the Knox Prison Reform Commission . . . his actions resulted in a fair sentencing law, reduced juvenile crime and improved prisoner management.

And, as Mayor of North Carolina's largest city, he maintained cost efficiency without reducing city services, involved people from all walks of life in an open government process and he gave women and minorities leadership positions. Knox led a citywide crime fight that helped run motorcycle gangs out of town and closed down massage parlors. He brought business and government together in an atmosphere that generated hundreds of new jobs and millions of dollars in private investment . . . thereby revitalizing a decaying section of the downtown.

With a proven record . . . Knox for governor . . . he's ready.

The Only Candidate
With Financial Management Skills

KNOX — ON THE RECORD — THE NEXT FOUR YEARS

EDUCATION

- Work to reduce juvenile delinquency through programs to strengthen the family, school and community
- Bring together leaders in law enforcement who will develop and implement a major war on crime in North Carolina

RIGHT TO POSSESS GUNS

- Strongly support the right of North Carolinians to own and bear arms
- End the cold-blooded murders of store clerks, policemen and others with "Saturday night specials"

ENVIRONMENT

- Oppose interbasin transfer of water
- Encourage the creation of statewide minimum environmental standards rather than relying on federal standards by repealing all statutes which prohibit North Carolina from adopting stricter environmental standards than those of the federal government
- Work to reduce soil sediment deposits in streams and reservoirs by developing and enforcing a performance bond system for transient developers and by toughening inspection and enforcement of the Sedimentation Pollution Control Act
- Seek alternatives to landfilling for toxic chemicals and hazardous wastes
- Support strict liability statutes for hazardous waste generators, transporters and disposers
- Investigate the feasibility of a State Authority to develop and monitor necessary treatment facilities
- Expand and strengthen the Pollution Prevention Pays program
- Identify areas which need protection by nutrient sensitive designation and so designate them
- Provide for better identification for toxics and other non-regulated substances
- Guarantee the rights of workers and communities to know the content of the chemicals and other hazardous materials in the workplace and the community

AGRICULTURE

- Help preserve the family farm
- Take leadership role in supporting tobacco programs
- Upgrade and build cold storage facilities in the state ports
- Pursue cooperative marketing arrangements and seek new markets
- Improve transportation for farm commodities

SENIOR CITIZENS

- Increase the special exemption on home property taxes for senior citizens to $10,000
- Increase special incentives for transportation and education of those over age 65
- Appoint more senior citizens to boards and agencies
- Provide state support for senior citizen activity and recreational centers in each community where needed
- Increase in-home care for senior citizens

DISABLED CITIZENS

- Assure all disabled citizens equality of citizenship

ROADS AND HIGHWAYS

- Consider asking the people to vote on a bond issue to improve state, county and city roads
- Provide for the rapid completion of I-40 to Wilmington
- Give special priority to roads in the state that have been neglected for so long
- Keep intact existing formula for secondary roads

TRAVEL AND TOURISM

- Promote off-season development of major resort areas and eliminate seasonal employment
- Work closely with community colleges and universities to train more people in tourism related fields
- Strengthen public-private sector relations to enhance travel and tourism
- Consider increasing matching funds for local travel promotion fivefold by 1988
- Promote development of new travel and tourism sources within the context of a statewide economic development plan to provide these areas with economic stability
- Bring arts education up to par with other areas of instruction in the public schools
- Insist on high standards for historic preservation
- Place greater emphasis on developing strong arts institutions and programs in local communities using both public and private sector resources
- Coordinate state assistance to individual artists and craftsmen
- Cultivate partnerships with the private sector in management and expansion of the arts statewide

CULTURE

"GIVE THE PEOPLE THE FACTS, TRUST THEM TO MAKE THE DECISIONS."

Abraham Lincoln
